HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 23

THE UNITED STATES will free 88,000 pounds of uranium, worth about one billion dollars, at home and abroad, for the promotion of peaceful uses of atomic energy, it was announced by President Eisenhower. He called the program an "illustration of our faith that the atom can be made a powerful instrument for the promotion of world peace."

The President barred furnishing any part of the supply to Russia or its satellites, or to any nation now producing uranium. The announcement of the donation came more than 24 hours after Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin called on the Red party to use atomic energy to achieve Communist victory.

Friday, February 24

FIVE PERSONS were killed and at least 62 injured when a Pennsylvania Railroad train was derailed about three miles north of Odenton, Md. Engineer Herman Melzer of Point Pleasant, N.J., told police that he was making "normal speed" which is about 80 miles an hour, when the air brakes automatically went off.

Saturday, February 25

THE RUSSIANS are junking their 30-year policy of violence and intolerance, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said. He made this known when he spoke to an overflow audience at a "back-to-bipartisanship" hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Sunday, February 26

THE COMMUNISTS presented the UN command in Korea a list of 2,720 Korean war prisoners not previously accounted for. When asked if any of the prisoners were alive or dead, UN sources said the list will have to be studied thoroughly before a correct answer could be given. The number of prisoners for whom an accounting was demanded by the Allies last July 26.

Monday, February 27

JOHN FOSTER DULLES, Secretary of State, told Congress he will continue to press his fight for a long-range foreign aid program to balk Russia's planned "new economic policy." He is aware of strong Congressional opposition and warned that the U. S. would be taking an unjustified risk if the Administration's program does not go through.

Tuesday, February 28

RUSSIA'S top military man, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, wartime friend of President Eisenhower, was elected as an alternate member of the key 11-man Presidium which carries out Red Party policy. The marshal, who is the defense minister of the Soviet Union, is now in the highest Communist post ever awarded to a military man, an indication that his political star is rising. The election came two days after the Communist Central Committee admitted an unprecedentedly large number of military men to its membership. The Committee also re-elected Nikita S. Khrushchev as the Red Party's first secretary. All 11 members of the Presidium were returned to office.

Wednesday, February 29

THE UNITED STATES, Britain and France approved prompt military action against the aggressor nation in the Egyptian-Israeli war. An informed source said that the Big Three Western powers made this decision during a current discussion in Washington. The talks were held by British Ambassador Sir Roger Makin, U.S. Assistant Secretary of State George Allen and French Ambassador Maurice Coue de Musville. No details of what form of action might be taken was disclosed. Both Prime Minister Anthony Eden and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd have called for strengthening of the UN apparatus as the first step toward a stable peace.

Progress to Change Familiar Scene in The Village

One of the oldest gasoline service stations in the Pointe area, at Kercheval and Cadieux, is being razed to make way for a more modern and far larger establishment doing the same type of business. Three large elms on the property will be felled to make room for the new building, which should be completed by the middle of July.

High School Picked for Experiment

Will Be One of Pilot Institutions in Test Program in Foreign Relations Education

Grosse Pointe High School has been selected as a pilot school by the North Central Association to participate in the development of an experimental program in foreign relations education to be carried out in the nation's secondary schools, J. E. Stonecipher, NCA president, announced.

The NCA, made up of educators from 19 midwestern states, and dedicated to improving education in colleges and secondary schools, has selected 25 high schools in Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, and Illinois to take part in the program.

Representatives from the schools met February 24 in Chicago to discuss the project. Arthur E. Dowell, American foreign policy teacher, represented Grosse Pointe High School.

The objectives of the foreign relations program are: (1) to develop student interest in foreign affairs that will also continue when youngsters leave school, and (2) to help students learn the "ground rules" involved in conducting foreign affairs which will help them to think critically about possible solutions to the nation's foreign policy problems.

607 Residential Building Permits Issued During '55

A recent school report indicates that a total of 607 residential building permits were issued in the Grosse Pointe School District by municipal officers in the calendar year 1955. This number is just 33 short of the 640 permits issued in the same category in 1954.

The report, prepared by Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, Director of the Department of Pupil Personnel of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, states further that the 1955 total is far below the record 1428 residential building permits issued in 1950. These are dwelling permits only, each single home being counted as one permit, each two-family dwelling as two, and so on.

Parking Lot Meters Pay Good Return

Farms Officials Estimate Weekly Income of $160 With Full Use of Site

Since the Farms installed parking meters along the first three rows of the municipal parking, located on the north side of the Kercheval-on-the-Hill business district, it has realized approximately $658.65 in revenue.

City Manager Harry Furton said that the figures released were as of February 19.

$199.85 First Eight Days
He said that from January 21, the date the use of the meters went into effect, through January 29, the city collected a total of $199.85.

The week of February 5 to the date of February 12, it was $153.77, and that of February 19, $164.60.

The parking manager said that as the parking customers of the district use the lot more and more, the meter revenue should average about $160 a week.

For Future Development
The monies collected will be used to help pay for the meters, with some set aside for future development of parking facilities.

It was disclosed that there are 132 meters in the lot alone, with several more, as spares, kept in storage.

The meters cost $65 apiece, Mr. Furton said.

Juvenile Girls' Racket Halted

Two Detroit juvenile girls were apprehended collecting money for a "church" on Wednesday, February 22, by Park police.

The girls, Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said, solicited dimes, which were placed in a cardboard dime folder which had been used many times over.

He said that not only were the youngsters, who are 14 and 12 years old, but they had no authority, but they had no authority to collect funds for the church they named.

The chief said that from the condition of the folder, the girls had used it many times, and diverted the "contributions" to their own use.

Charming Swedish Exchange Student Delights Rotarians

Gunilla Abeleen, Guest Speaker at Weekly Meeting, Tells Her Impressions and Receives Club Banner to Take Home

A charming 17-year-old Swedish lass, with a pleasing smile and lots of personality, was the guest of honor and speaker at the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club luncheon-meeting on Monday, February 27, at the War Memorial Center.

Miss Abeleen, 217 E. 10th St. from a Stockholm, Sweden, suburb, and is an exchange high school student to this country. Miss Abeleen has been in the States since August 1955 and will return to her homeland sometime in July.

We Seem More Religious
The pretty miss spoke on the subject of church attendance, here in this country, as compared to her native land. She said she was amazed at the number of American people who attend their respective churches.

She said she like the teacher-student relationship, prevalent in American schools, whereas back home, this relationship is very formal. She likes the method of studies, pointing out that in Sweden the students must adhere to a certain line of studies, whereas in America, students can pick any field.

Influence of Movies
Among the other things she talked about, was the tremendous influence American movies have on the people of Europe. She said that the people there are inclined to believe that the movies portray actual life in the U.S., especially in regard to juvenile delinquency. Since this is not the true case, as far as she has seen, she will take the information back with her.

Her speech, in perfect English, belied the fact that she was foreign born; she could have easily been picked as a typical American teenager.

Quizzed by Students
Miss Abeleen was flanked, at the speaker's table, by Joyce Bushong and Lorna McGuire, Grosse Pointe High School students, who along with Junior Rotarians of the month, Don Worley and Paul Thompson, also of the high school asked her to compare the teenagers of her country and the United States.

Following the question and answer period, Rotary President Glenn Pratt, presented Miss Abeleen with a Grosse Pointe Rotary banner, to take home to give to the Rotary club in Stockholm.

Movie Council Hears Jurist
The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and TV Council met on February 20 in the Central Library. Members turned in individual reports on the four weeks of the viewing period just ended. The TV bulletins, which will be distributed after Easter vacation, will be a compilation of these reports.

Circuit Court Judge George Edwards was guest speaker at the meeting. Formerly Probate Judge of Juvenile Court, he spoke on the effects of motion pictures and TV on youth as he has seen in them his work.

Lane Blasts Charges in Recent 'Ad'

Landscaping Association Which Placed Ad Claimed Phony

An allegedly phony landscaping organization and its recent advertisement in which it charged the Park was unfair to its taxpayers in the city's proposed elm spraying program, were verbally blasted by Park City Manager Everitt B. Lane on Monday, Feb. 27.

Countercharging that the ad, as written, was "badly represented" to the taxpayers, and among the several reasons he stated was that the figures the company used as the cost of spraying, were the company's own fee, and not what it would cost the city.

Cites Legal Rights

He said that the saving of the elms is the responsibility of the State and its communities, and that these have a legal right to carry out a program to save the trees from the Dutch Elm Disease. Also, the Park has no issue with private contractors, but these firms do have an issue with the city.

Mr. Lane said that in the ad, he was criticized for things that were not true, and that during the entire 12 years of service to the city, he has never misrepresented anything to the citizens.

All Sources Checked

One thing he pointed out was that every source was checked to find out if there was such an organization as the Grosse Pointe Landscaping Association, for which the ad was carried, but no such firm is known to be listed. There was no person present, during the meeting, to dispute this claim, although Mr. Lane said a hearing on the matter had been announced.

He charged that the $4.06, which the alleged landscaping firm said was the actual cost of spraying a tree, was too low for the industry, the cost is "much" higher. He said that the "firm" left out its insurance costs and profit and the costs of maintaining its equipment. Also, the figure quoted by the company is only for one spraying, not the two which are given the trees yearly.

Has Own Equipment

The city does not work for profit, Mr. Lane said. It has its own equipment, which it maintains in excellent condition; it purchases its spraying chemicals, without the usual sales tax which the company cannot do, and city labor is cheaper. He said that cost of labor to the city is 55 cents per tree, which is far below that of the company's.

The landscaping firm charged that it would take 26 gallons of spraying chemical for Park trees measuring at least 50 feet tall.

Mr. Lane challenged anyone to find a 50-foot tree in the city; there are no trees of that height in the community, he said.

To Make Flat Charge

He said it will cost the Park $3.38, including cost of chemicals and labor, per tree, but the city will charge a flat $3. This is for two sprayings, dormant and foliage, not just one.

He said that the city, even at a rapid pace, can only spray about 6,250 trees, both private and public, therefore it is accepting bids for spraying of private trees not taken care of by the city.

He said there are a total of 11,000 elm trees in the Park.

At Monday night's meeting, the council approved the purchase of 200 barrels of standard spray at a cost of about $1,650. Each barrel contains 55 gallons of chemical.

HOSPITAL WORKER ROBBED

Leonard Strutz, 18, of 5248 Gateshead, Detroit, an orderly at Bon Secours Hospital, complained to City police on Wednesday, February 22, that someone had stolen two of his uniforms from a clothes closet in the hospital, valued at $18. He said there was $28 in a pocket of one of the uniforms. An investigation is pending.

Five Persons, Four Cars Figure in Park Accident

Five persons were injured or shaken up in a four-car collision at Mack and Whittier on Sunday, February 26, it was revealed in a Park police accident report.

The driver responsible for the crackups, William Spear, 33, of 22637 O'Connor, St. Clair Shores, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and placed under a $100 bond, pending an appearance in court.

According to the report, Michael Chirco of 4139 Wayburn, Detroit, going east on Mack, had stopped for the light at the Whittier intersection, when his car was struck in the rear by Spear's vehicle.

Chirco's car was forced over the yellow line, striking a car driven by John Armstrong of 3717 Buckingham, Detroit, who attempted to get out of the way. He was faced in the opposite direction. In the meantime, Spear continued east on Mack, striking a car driven by Andy Bisschop of 3600 Maryland, Detroit.

Two women passengers in Chirco's car, Ruby Yasychuk, 24, of 4819 Maxwell, Detroit; and Shirley Barr, 22, of 16495 State Fair, Detroit, were taken to St. John Hospital, where the first woman was X-rayed and the other was treated for shock.

Councils Hold Joint Meeting

The city councils of the Farms and Grosse Pointe City got together at an informal dinner Tuesday evening at the Country Club.

The Farms invited their neighbors with the idea that after an early dinner the two groups would have some time to discuss informally the mutual traffic problems of the adjacent communities.

Remembering the highly successful results of meetings of the two councils which precipitated the increased water supply project, it is hoped that informal meetings like the Tuesday dinner will also help to solve other mutual problems.

Building Drive Launched By Augustinian Fathers

A capitol building fund drive has been organized by the Augustinian Fathers at Austin Catholic High School, located on 18300 East Warren in Detroit.

A minimum need of $300,000 has been established to help defray costs of a Friary that will be constructed on the present school site adjacent to the western property line on Warren avenue.

The announcement of the drive came from the office of the school Rector, Rev. John F. Galloway, O.S.A., who will serve the drive as campaign moderator.

The proposed Friary will be a one-story court-plan type dwelling, consisting of a private chapel, community room, living quarters, dining room and visitors' parlors.

The architecture of this ground level plan will be in harmony with the present school building and will provide adequate living facilities for the Augustinian Fathers who staff the school.

The new residence will have accommodations for 25 priests with residential suites for the administrative and spiritual head of the Augustinian Community.

The entire construction will be enclosed by an attractive garden type brick wall, offering a proper amount of privacy and seclusion with an interesting series of courts and gardens linking the important units.

The cost of the proposed structure has been estimated at $325,000, exclusive of furnishings. The building has been designed by the architectural firm of Yamaski and Leinweber and associates of Royal Oak, Michigan.

Preparations for the initial Memorial Phase of the drive are moving rapidly ahead under the leadership of Rev. John F. Galloway, O.S.A. Initial campaign organization meetings have been held and a committee of outstanding laymen have banded together to assist in this undertaking.

Father Galloway, O.S.A., has announced the selection of leaders who will spearhead the campaign. The approaching Memorial Phase will be headed by Thomas V. LoCicero, attorney, and Richard Distel, manufacturing executive. Both reside in the Grosse Pointe area.

The Memorial Phase of the drive has swung into action. The new Friary will provide a select number of distinctive units and items which may be designated as memorials.

These memorial opportunities will be offered to people wishing to honor their families or the memory of deceased relatives and friends.

Ask Veterans For Tax Data

A large percentage of annual income questionnaires which were mailed to Michigan veterans in January have not been returned, according to a statement made today by Lloyd H. Jameson, VA's Regional Manager for Michigan.

Mr. Jameson urged all those who received questionnaires and have not yet filled them out and returned them to the VA Regional Office, 310 East Jefferson, Detroit 31, Mich., to do so as soon as possible. Properly filled-out questionnaires must be returned to VA by February 16, or pension payments are subject to termination.

Questionnaires are mailed yearly because non-service connected disability pensions are subject to annual income limitations. The current questionnaires request data on 1955 annual income and anticipated 1956 income.

Pensions are payable to certain eligible veterans of World War I, World War II and Korea who are permanently and totally disabled from service not connected with their service in the armed forces. The annual income of those receiving pension must not exceed $1,400, without dependents, or $2,700 with dependents.

Cinema League Offering Around the World Films

Movies showing a Mongoose-Cobra fight and an acrobatic Yogi in India, a Geisha Girl style parade in Japan and a camel race in Egypt, to mention but a few of the highlights, will be shown at the Grosse Pointe Cinema League in the War Memorial Center Thursday, March 8, at 8 p.m.

This movie "Around the World with Wally Temple," was taken last summer by Mr. Temple, an attorney by profession and by hobby one of Grosse Pointe's more popular travel-movie enthusiasts.

The picture was shown to a packed audience at the local high school last fall and was a sellout at Wayne in February. The program at the War Memorial Center is open to the public and without charge.

Mr. Temple, who is a member of the local cinema league, is known for movies that take the audience off the beaten paths of travelogues featuring native life and natives themselves going about their everyday business.

In India, where 90 per cent of the people live in small native villages, the Temples—Mr. and Mrs. Temple and their daughter Karen—stayed in many of these villages studying and photographing how the people live and work.

In one of these they recorded on film a fight to death between a Mongoose and a King Cobra snake. Also in India he found an acrobatic Yogi, who incidentally is trying to get to heaven by developing muscular control.

The Yogi sits on the ground, pinned there by two men standing on his hands and then he spins between them like a windmill. The story of the current village improvement program is pictured too.

Egyptian scenes include a camel race on the Sahara Desert with famous pyramids for background and a ride with Egyptian natives on a Felucca, ancient sailing vessel, up the Nile to the Sacred Valley of the Kings.

In Siam, viewers will see a beautiful Siamese dancing girl in a colorful costume doing a

Council Agrees To Tax Refunds

The Park council conceded to the demands of the State Tax Commission that refunds be made to two Park property owners.

On Monday, February 27, the council agreed to abide by the decision of the Commission, which ordered the city to refund about $30 to C. G. Katros of 1000 Devonshire; and about $116 to Dr. Julius C. Tapert of 1128 Devonshire.

Both appealed to the Commission some time ago, that their tax assessment was excessive, and asked that their cases be reviewed.

Adair Heading Nephrosis Drive

Childhood Nephrosis Month, an annual observance sponsored by the National Nephrosis Foundation, starts on March 1. President J. Douglas Adair, of Colonial road, of the Michigan Chapter, National Nephrosis Foundation, announced that his organization will spearhead an intensive drive all during March.

Childhood Nephrosis Month is a fund-raising period during which each affiliate of the National Nephrosis Foundation solicits contributions for the support of one or more clinics and research projects in its own area. The Michigan Chapter aims to help support Childhood Nephrosis Clinics and research programs in several Michigan hospitals.

Childhood Nephrosis, one of the most common chronic diseases that attack children, is a serious kidney ailment, which remains a mystery to medical science. The cause is unknown, and there is no known cure. Fifty per cent of all victims do not survive.

Contributions for clinical care and research locally may be sent to William Botsford, 5-105 General Motors Building. Checks should be made payable to the Michigan Chapter, National Nephrosis Foundation.

Italian Class Offered Adults

In addition to the classes in Conversational French and Spanish now being offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, a new language course has been added to the program with the offering of Conversational Italian.

New books, new techniques, and modern audio-visual aids make progress rapid and interesting, and gear the classes to the requirements of the adult. Travel is probably the main purpose of the course, but many other goals may be satisfied in the study of Italian.

Perhaps you speak Italian rather well and would like to keep it up. Whatever your purpose, your progress will be enjoyable in a group where each person receives individual attention, and the use of the language is the key to each class meeting.

The instructor, Armand De Gaetano, B.S.S., M.A., Ph.D., was born in Italy and served in the Military Intelligence during World War II. He has taught adults in New York City and Stamford, Connecticut, and has been teaching Italian at Wayne University for the past seven years as well as teaching courses in Italian Conversation in adult programs in Detroit.

The class will meet for the first time on Thursday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. Class registration and further information may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services, 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, at TUxedo 5-3808.

Traffic Victim

Mailman Ward Alkema of 1151 Wayburn discovered that there is more than rain, snow, sleet, mist, and mischievous dogs to stay the courier from making his appointed rounds.

Last Saturday morning Alkema was crossing the street during his daily delivery when he was struck by a car driven by Elsie Scherer of 1130 Berkshire.

The Scherer car had turned off St. Clair onto Waterloo when it grazed Alkema. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital and released after it was determined that there were no serious injuries.

It is possible for a man to get along with very little work if he has sense enough to know what not to do.

Theater Offers French Comedy

When a comical trio of petty thieves masquerade as Spanish noblemen and meet two young and very bored heiresses at a carnival in France, the result is a delightfully mad and fast-paced comedy called "Thieves' Carnival."

The Grosse Pointe Community Theatre is presenting the stage hit at the Cannon Auditorium on Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17, at 8:30 in the evening.

"Thieves' Carnival" was written by Jean Anouilh, who is also the author of "The Lark," the successful production presently on Broadway.

"Peterbano," disguised leader of the bombing thieves, manages to be mistaken for the "Duke of Miraflores," an old acquaintance of the wealthy "Lady Hurl." Complications abound when the young thieves fall in love with the lady's nieces and decide to carry them off along with the family jewels and silver. A pair of ludicrous fortune-hunters suspect their plans and conspire to expose them, but somehow become the villains of the piece themselves.

A merry round of adventures befall the rascals as they whip in and out of disguises, make love to pretty girls, fill their pockets with loot, and try to evade the local police. What happens when they are found out is as funny and fanciful as only a French comedy could be.

If there is any moral to this light-hearted play it must be: "If you must lead a life of crime—at least be charming and gay about it. No one wants to have his pockets picked by a grouch!"

Playing leading roles in the play are Al Montag, Gerry Leone, and Al Berteel, as the three thieves. Phyllis Reeve has the role of "Lady Hurl" and Lloyd Jewell is "Lord Edgard." The heiresses are portrayed by Eileen Adelsperger and Joan Lennon. Bill Shearer and Tom Stein will be seen as the fortune-hunters, "Dupont-Dufort Jr. & Sr." Others in the cast are Cathy Girard, John Butterfield, Arthur Bull, Russell Dexter, John Nelson, and Marcia Songe.

The play is being directed by Donald Collins.

Tickets at $1.25 may be purchased from Grosse Pointe Community Theatre members or at Cannon Auditorium, E. Warren and Cadieux, on play nights.

Family Movies Set for Friday

"Nature's Half Acre," one of the outstanding of the more recent films in its field, will be the feature attraction on the March Family Film night showing at the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Scheduled for this Friday, March 2, the program will run for an hour beginning at 7:30 p. m. in the meeting room of the Central Library which is in Kercheval at Fisher road.

One of the outstanding wild life series which Walt Disney has produced in recent years, "Nature's Half Acre" deals with the world of nature in both broad and specific terms.

Showing the means by which nature retains a balance by the struggle for existence, the film illustrates its point by picturing the plant, animal and insect life likely to be found in any garden, field or woodland. It features some excellent examples of the use of magnified close-ups and time-lapse photography to bring into a brief viewing time natural processes which take hours to complete in the outdoors.

Filed in technicolor, with excellent camera work and commentary, "Nature's Half Acre" promises an outstanding 35 minutes viewing for the nature lover, the gardener, or the photography fan.

The second feature film will also deal with a nature topic but with a distinctly Michigan slant. "Meet the Waterfowl," which is being shown through the cooperation of the State Department of Conservation, will show 18 species of the state's waterfowl, in color and with many close-up shots for identification. A pair of sequences showing duck and goose hunting scenes will complete the film.

The program will be lightened for children's interest by a brief special short. The Library welcomes children in company of a parent or other adult at these Family Film programs.

When the room thermostat calls for heat, it turns the burner on, but the blower can't blow warm air into your home until the furnace gets hot. When the room thermostat is satisfied, it turns the burner and blower off at the same time (result—perfect temperature control in your home; overheating is impossible.)

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

When Mrs. Paul H. Sutherland blows a goodbye kiss to her Colonial road home on March 7, she'll board a plane for her first trip to the west coast . . . but she will be greeting Pointe folks and former Pointers on almost every lap of her two-month journey.

First stop will be a 10-day breather at Jokake Inn in Phoenix, Ariz., and then Mrs. S. will go on to Palm Springs. She will next meet Mr. and Mrs. William F. Arnoldy, former Pointers, who are just about to move into their new Santa Ana home.

Local informants tell us that the Arnoldys will scarcely be settled in time to receive visits from members of their family, including their son-in-law and daughter, the Charles R. Butlers, who have a sabbatical leave from the Philippines coming up soon.

Laguna Beach Reunion

From her headquarters at the Rancho Santa Fe Inn, Mrs. Sutherland expects to consort with the Wendell Wheelocks (who moved west in December), and Gilbert Curries (who built their home out there about a year ago). April plans call for quite a Pointe reunion on the coast, when Dr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hosmer of Bedford road will be traveling out that way . . . and most of the group will hold a dinner get-together, probably at the Laguna Beach winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Powers of Bedford road.

"Out there," Mrs. Sutherland reports, "they seem to think nothing of driving 100 miles just to have dinner together."

Next, she plans a short visit to Santa Barbara, where she hopes to see the Douglas Andersons. Then, Mrs. Sutherland will gradually reach San Francisco, where she'll see the sights before catching that homeward-bound plane.

'Oklahoma' Party

University Club members have slated an "Oklahoma" evening for Thursday, March 8. Eighty couples will have buffet dinner at the club before boarding buses to attend the evening performance of the musical movie at the United Artists.

Entertainment committee chairman James W. Standart is making arrangements for the party. His assistants are Lawrence Gofredson, Jr., Jerome DuCharme, Kenneth Drake, Rockwell T. Gust, Jr., Robert R. Ferguson and James P. Chapman.

They Follow the Sun

By now, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuhn of McKinley place are nicely started on their three-weeks' cruise to the West Indies. Their schedule called for them to sail from New York on the Homeric yesterday.

In Curacao, they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henriquez, parents of Nina Henriquez, who's a classmate of daughter Airiella at Wellesley. They plan to see Mrs. Kuhn's cousins, the John B. Lees, in Haiti.

After they dock in New York, the Kuhns will head for warm climes once again . . . flying to Bal Harbour, Fla. Airielle will join her parents around March 26 for the Easter holidays, after which she'll return to classes and they will report back in the Pointe.

Discussions Close Lectures at Center

Response to Series of Friday Events So Great That Similar Program Will Probably Be Scheduled for Next Year

A full swing wind-up of the "Women in a Changing World" lecture series took place at the War Memorial Center last Friday with round-table discussion meetings.

Mrs. Morgan J. Sherman, chairman of the Grosse Pointe American Association of University of Women group who originated the series, said: "The response of the community in subscribing to the meetings was astonishing, and this program may well be repeated."

Replies to the question of whether participating members wanted a similar program next year showed a large majority in favor of it.

At the last sessions, the balance of the 19 co-sponsoring organizations were in charge of the meetings, and introduced speakers for the workshops.

The mothers who chose to attend the discussion on raising pre-school children heard Keith Osborne, of the early childhood education department of Merrill-Palmer School, and himself a father, lead the discussion. He was introduced by Mrs. Albert Cooper, president of the Grosse Pointe Mothers Health and Education Council.

Heading the discussion group on Elementary School Children, was Dr. Mildred Peters, associate professor in the College of Education, Wayne University. She was presented by Mrs. Thomas Munson, representing the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and TV Council. Mrs. Oscar B. Marx, Jr., represented the Parent-Teachers Council at the meeting.

Discussing Teenagers was Dr. Marie Rasey, professor of Educational and Social Psychology in the College of Education, Wayne University. She was presented to her workshop by Mrs. Miles McKie, president of the Mothers' Club of Grosse Pointe High School.

The problems of the mature woman was the topic for a large round table group under the leadership of Mrs. Marie Guiney, director of the Committee on Aging for the United Community Services. She was introduced by Mrs. Donald Stevenson, representing the Grosse Pointe Garden Center.

Two Wayne University professors with a wide range of experience covered the topic of Jobs Outside the Home for women. Dr. Stephen Mamchur, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology, who teaches courses in social psychology, national problems, the family and human migration, was joined by Merland Kopka, who is in charge of full time placement of graduating students at Wayne.

These two panel leaders were introduced by Mrs. Marcelline Hemingway Sanford, representing the Grosse Pointe Friends of the Library.

Many Pointers Lured to South

Warmer climes are luring a large number of Pointers away these days. Mrs. Harry N. Torrey left Lake Shore road just last weekend for her Georgia winter home on Ossabaw Island.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Merkel of East Jefferson avenue leave today for Bermuda, where they've taken Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Jones "Inwood," for two months.

The Renville Wheats of Touraine road have departed for Man'O'War Cay, north of Nassau. Today is departure day for Mr. and Mrs. Frederic M. Sibley Jr., of Vendome road. They'll go from the Virgin Islands to Haiti to Jamaica.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson W. McCormick of Cambridge road spent some time in Miami, then moved on to Jamaica and Casa Blanca.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Johnson of Washington road have taken a house for the month at Fiesta Key near Sarasota, Fla. They will turn homeward around mid-April, stopping en route to visit Mrs. Johnson's brother-in-law and sister, the George M. MacMahons, at Cherry Valley Farm near Covington, Ky.

Dancing Club Has Birthday

Sets in Order, a square dance club meeting ordinarily once a month at the Kerby school, last Friday celebrated the fifth anniversary of its organization with a Birthday Party at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The members of the original board, headed by Dr. and Mrs. Kennard Jones, comprised the dance committee for the evening. The calling was provided by Wes Rea assisted by his wife, Julie, both charter members of the group.

Wooden nut dishes for each person present carried out the theme of the fifth anniversary, and each couple in addition received an African violet plant that had been decorating their table.

When dinner was finished, Dr. Jones named the rest of the committee: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kenn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Luss, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Meyer, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sharrer, Past chairmen of the board were also honored. Mr. and Mrs. Luss served the second year; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Squires served as co-chairmen the third year; and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coughlin the fourth year.

Methodist Women Plan Lenten Dinner

Inspirational Event Commemorating Christ's Last Supper To Be Held at 12:45 p.m. on March 6; Special Services Scheduled

The women of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church have an unusual and inspirational experience in store for them at their next general Woman's Society meeting on March 6, at 12:45 p.m., at the church in Moross road.

In keeping with the Lenten season, they will participate in a service called "The Meal in the Upper Room," commemorating the Last Supper which Christ ate with His Disciples the evening before His Crucifixion.

The menu will consist of food like that served at the time of Christ. Chairman of the event, Mrs. Morgan Johnson, and vice-chairman, Mrs. Paul Youngdahl, have done a great deal of research on the Last Supper and have planned a menu of lamb, rice, cheese, spinach, olives, dates, figs, nuts, oranges, grapes, unleavened bread, and communion wine.

These foods will be served in the utensils of the times—wooden bowls and brass plates, on tables with wood-simulated coverings. The only table decoration will be a brass seven-branch candelabra, which is symbolic in the Jewish faith. The meal will be eaten by candlelight.

The ladies will first gather in the Church Sanctuary. Mrs. Hugh C. White will conduct a brief preparatory service, giving the Biblical background for participation in the meal, and establishing a devotional atmosphere.

After this service the women will go to the community room to be seated, and will remain in complete silence throughout the meal. To insure an uninterrupted religious atmosphere, no one will be admitted after the service has begun, and the food they will be ready on the tables, eliminating all serving and kitchen activities.

During the hour, two men of the congregation will read from the Scriptures. Interspersed with these readings will be recorded religious music and chants pertaining to the Lenten season. An actual communion service will be conducted at the table by the Rev. Hugh C. White.

Because of the religious nature of the meal, no admission will be charged, but an offering will be taken to offset the cost of the food. A nursery will be provided for the convenience of mothers with young children. Those wishing to take part in this service may call Mrs. Fred Krutz, TU. 4-1398.

Garden Clubs Plan Luncheon

The Grosse Pointe Park Club and the Windmill Pointe Garden Club are combining their efforts for an Easter luncheon and program to be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Thursday, March 15, at 12:15.

After the luncheon a talk will be given on "Flowers of the Bible" by Mrs. John P. Carritte, Jr. former president of the Women's City Club, now chairman of Public Educational Service for the American Cancer Society and a member of the Pleasant Ridge Garden Club.

Mrs. Carritte, an old Detroit whose father was Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, and the first Rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, has traveled extensively abroad making a study of flowers.

Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained by calling Mrs. Howard Poppin, TU 4-5498 or Mrs. Ralph Dewey, TU 1-1561. Reservations are limited.

M. S. U. Thespians to Present "Cinderella" Twice Saturday

Usherettes wearing ballroom gowns—but without glass slippers—will escort the youthful audience to their seats Saturday to see a glamorous production of "Cinderella."

The play will be presented at Parcels Junior High School auditorium, Mack and Vernier, by the Michigan State University Children's Theater, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Under the direction of Mrs. John H. Marshall, chairman of the ushering committee, are the following girls: Bonnie Beltz, Janet Carlson, Alice Crane, Sue Cumberworth, Donna Day, Fran Emerson, Sue Harper, Sharron Janals, Sue Macdonald, Jan Macdonald, Nada McClenahan, Beth Perry, Marietta Pillsbeam, Judy Porritt, Lois Ann Rupp, Mary Lou Rydall, Sue Slick, Ann Ware, Marge Wible and Bonnie Zimmerman.

These girls also acted in last week's successful Tuxis Club revue.

The MSU Children's Theater is sponsored in Grosse Pointe by the American Association of University Women, which has brought previously such successful plays as "Heidi," "Rumpelstiltskin" and "Beauty and the Beast." Mrs. Walter Kingsley is chairman of the AAUW Children's Theater committee.

Tickets, at 60 cents, are available at Fromm's Hardware, in the Village; Punch and Judy Toyland, on the hill in the Farms, and Harkness Pharmacy, 20315 Mack, Grosse Pointe Woods.

They also will be on sale at the box office before each performance, under the direction of Mrs. Alfred F. Taylor and Mrs. Alex M. Stirling, of the box office committee.

The MSU players have lavished extra care on the casting, staging and lighting effects of "Cinderella." It was written by the late Charlotte Choppening, author of some of the best and most popular plays for children, and the MSU group regards the current production as a memorial to the author.

One of the highlights of the performance will be the romantic "Prince's Dance," performed by Jo Anne Stamper, of Royal Oak, who plays Cinderella, and Reg Mason, of Holt, Mich., the Prince, to the music of Ravel's "Pavanne for a Dead Princess." The choreography is by Marvin Phillips, of the MSU Theater faculty, who has had wide experience and background in dancing techniques.

Another featured number is a comic dance, by Cinderella's sisters and two men friends, in which one of the men slides the length of the stage on his stomach.

Humor, quite absent from the original story, is written into this stage production through the characters of Galaftron and Curdkin, two courtiers who try to make trouble for the Prince.

Cinderella, retaining all the beauty and delicacy of the original character, is given added qualities of persistence and courage. In her scenes with the Fairy Godmother, it is she who brings about the miraculous transformation from scullery maid to beautiful girl; and it is not surprising that she could win the Prince.

Cinderella's mother and two sisters undergo the greatest change from the original fairy tale. Instead of being frightening, they are funny, and their impossible hopes are in decided contrast to Cinderella's high ideals.

One of the finest casts in recent years has been assembled by the MSU Children's Theater to bring these familiar characters to the stage in all their wonder and charm.

William G. Siebert of Touraine road. They departed Sunday to spend a month at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. . . . On Friday last, Mrs. John A. Graffius flew to Vero Beach, Fla., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Hamlin of Neff road, at their winter headquarters.

Not such good news in the travel department is the announcement that German Vice Consul to Detroit Wilhelm Fabricius has been transferred to the German embassy in Washington, D. C. This, of course, means that charming Rosemarie Fabricius, her son Christian, and very new baby daughter Talitha, will be accompanying him to the capitol in a few short weeks. Mr. Fabricius leaves March 1; his family will move from their Lakeland avenue home to join him in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Jackson of McMillan road learned from their son Dick, via the U. S. mail, that he had taken a brief time out from his medical studies at the University of Munich to attend the 7th Winter Olympic Games in Cortina D'Ompezzo, Italy. He and Dr. Wolf Truemback, of Munich, were guests at the Cortina villa of Dick's friends, the Count and Countess von Niemeyer, during the games.

Mrs. Sidney T. Miller, Jr., said hello and goodbye to her sister, Mrs. Nils R. Johanson, in less than a week. Mrs. Johanson came in from New York for a Tuesday-to-Saturday visit with Mrs. Miller in her Irvine lane home last week. Mrs. Johanson was Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas before her late January marriage to Nils Johanson, of New York, and Stockholm, Sweden.

Bonus of her brief visit was a "quickie" reunion with her son, Alger Chaney. Mr. Chaney, who was in Chicago on business from his home in Portland, Ore., made an overnight trip to Detroit to see his mother. The Johansons will be back later in the spring to visit Mrs. J.'s mother, Mrs. Russell A. Alger, after the latter's return from Boca Grand, Fla., to her Provencal road home.

Parents Form Study Group

Parents of children attending Grosse Pointe University School and others from the Community Centers have formed a Study Group.

Dog Training Class Offered

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System announces the spring training session of the owner-handler dog obedience course which will be held at Grosse Pointe High School.

The first class will assemble on Tuesday, March 13, without dogs, in the auditorium promptly at 7:30 p.m., for preliminary instruction and registration. At 8 o'clock the group will adjourn to the gymnasium for a demonstration of the obedience work they will be taught during the course of instruction.

This program offers dog owners in the Grosse Pointe School District an opportunity to learn how to teach their dogs to be better canine citizens.

Instruction is provided by the Southern Obedience Training Club, composed of people who make a hobby of instructing others to train their dogs. All serve without pay, and have had the experience of training their own dogs.

Grosse Pointe has the distinction of being the first community to incorporate this training in the adult Education courses. Since that time, eight years ago, similar classes have been initiated in Pontiac, Berkley, East Detroit, Ferndale, Redford and Bloomfield Hills.

Head instructor is Donald M. Carson, who will be assisted by Mrs. Carson, and Elwood Riemer, Charles Murphy and Ralph Dubois.

Only those people who are seriously interested in following through with the ten weeks of required daily practice, in addition to the class work, should apply. The course is based on exercises approved by the American Kennel Club, and the successful training of a dog depends entirely on the handler's interest and willingness to follow instructions and practice faithfully.

This instruction will teach people how to train their dogs to walk quietly beside them in the "heel" position under any condition. They will also learn to teach their dogs to stay in one place on command and to come when called.

Hundreds of owners, and their dogs too, can testify that an obedience-trained dog is not only a happier and more satisfied pet, but also a better citizen of the community.

Owners may enroll for training if their dogs are six months or older, regardless of the pedigree or ancestry of the dog. While this course is primarily for adults, children not less than 12 years of age may enroll if their parents will assist in their guidance.

All classes are limited in enrollment, and advanced enrollment is required. Class reservation and further information may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services at TUxedo 5-3808.

Was Only Taking His Own Battery

Two Farms police officers thought they had caught a car looter in the act last Friday night.

While cruising behind some stores on Mack avenue they noticed a man removing the battery from a Ford truck parked at the rear entrance of a cleaning establishment.

Investigation revealed the battery was being repossessed for nonpayment.

A peck of trouble looks like a bushel to the man who is backed up against the wall.

Public Library Announces New Film Acquisitions

The Grosse Pointe Public Library announces its last monthly consignment of new films for the 1955-56 winter season. The new titles will be available from the Central Library at Fisher and Kercheval for the month of March. Beginning in April and continuing through the summer the library will have available its permanent collection of films, with the special monthly additions scheduled for resumption in the early fall.

The March additions, all of which are available for home or club use without charge to adult patrons of the library, include:

AIR CREW, 45 minutes, color. This is a new film showing the lengthy training and preparation which a modern pilot must undergo in gaining the skills which present day aircraft demand. While the Royal Canadian Air Force is used as the example, the film has interest for anyone who is cognizant of the complex skills the modern air defender must master.

ART AND MOTION, 17 minutes, color. Movement in nature is here illustrated with scenes of stars and splashing water. By showing paintings by Kandinsky and Van Gogh, and mobiles by Calder and Usher, the film discusses motion as an art form and summarizes the main concepts and relates them to one another.

ALEXIS TREMBLEY, HABITANT, 38 minutes, color. An account of a French-Canadian farmer's year in a village on the St. Lawrence River, Alexis Trembley, French-Canadian habitant, cultivates his 300-year-old farm as his ancestors did before him. Through the changing seasons, he and his family perform their traditional tasks—soapmaking, harvesting, weaving, hauling wood in winter—and take part in a lively party at the New Year.

FAMILY OUTING, 17 minutes, color. A family vacation in the public camping grounds of Banff National Park. Pitching a tent preludes happy, healthful days in the mountains, with wildlife dallying nearby and a background of superb scenery. The Park's many facilities enable holiday-makers to combine living conveniences with freedom to enjoy the activities that most appeal—fishing, boating, swimming, climbing, golfing, riding, or just relaxing in the sunshine.

To Pave Fisher Road in Spring

Fisher road, from Jefferson to Mack, is scheduled to be paved—sometime in April, or as soon as the weather permits.

Bids on the paving project, at least as far as the Farms is concerned, will be taken during the latter part of March, it was said by City Manager Harry Furton. The estimate on the cost has not been determined yet.

The Farms and the City will undertake the paving jointly, inasmuch as Fisher is the borderline between the two communities.

In the meantime, temporary repairs have been made to fill chuck holes and cracks, but with unsatisfactory results because of the cold weather, Mr. Furton said.

In order to effect permanent repairs or do a complete job of paving, he added, warm weather is essential.

FACE BIG ROAD BILL

It will cost $1,800,000,000 to build the county roads of Michigan up to acceptable standards within the next 20 years, according to engineers of the Automotive Safety Foundation who recently completed an 18-month study, "Modern Highways for Michigan" for the Legislature.

We Can Hardly Wait

Barely three more weeks to spring, and we can hardly wait. The astronomers tell us it will arrive early this year, 18 hours ahead of its usual entrance, with the official bow scheduled for 10:21 a.m. on March 20. We are holding our breath.

Somehow we seem to have been subjected to more of the indignities of winter than in past years. The snows seem to have been more frequent and heavier; there has been a superfluity of slush and fog and damp and continued cold and dark days. Possibly that's just a natural reaction which sets in at this time of the year, but we have the definite opinion that we have earned this anticipation of a repeat performance of the glorious pageant that is springtime in this region.

Not that everything will be magically and instantaneously changed three weeks from now. It will take at least another month after that for the full glory to burst upon us, but it will be some comfort to be able to look at the calendar and know that at least officially the period of nature's rebirth is at hand.

Then the lilac buds will start to swell and the tulip and daffodil and narcissus shoots will pop above ground and the first new green grass will begin to brighten the winter-seared lawns.

As the days grow longer and the sun warmer, we shall uncover the flower beds while we listen to the stirrings of earth awakening from its long sleep. The ice will vanish from the lake and the last snow meltings will seep away.

The forsythia will burst in a golden glow while over-eager gardeners rush to get the first seeds in the ground. The lawn rollers and fertilizing carts will be in evidence everywhere and the hardware stores will be bursting at the seams with enthusiastic horticulturists of every degree.

While the daffodils are gracefully nodding their yellow heads, the tulips will be frantically forming their line of march for the brilliant parade they stage each spring. The dogwood and the lilacs will be displaying their unmatched finery above and the emerald lawns will twinkle with a million dandelions.

The trees will be unobtrusively pushing forth their new leaves to make the perfect backdrop for this colorful production, and the flowering shrubs will be adding their bursts of splendor to the show.

All of the birds will be back, and the shrill, hungry noises we heard during the bleak winter months will be replaced with full-throated songs of joy for another fruition.

Heavy coats will be shed and the hardy young will be racing about in shorts long before the lingering chill is out of the air. There will be evidences of spring house-cleaning everywhere as the annual airing process goes on through the bright days, and the winter draperies will once again go into hiding.

Among the happiest welcomers of spring will be the motorists, when the street repair crews get down to serious business and heal the myriad potholes which the ravishes of winter have produced. This can't happen soon enough to please those of us who drive. Many of our thoroughfares are now in a deplorable condition.

Fresh beauty, cleanliness and smooth riding... spring! Always a time to remember, it becomes annually a time to be eagerly anticipated. Put her in Coach. Let us at least TRY to rush the season.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

'The half alive, the half alive, They seem to live, they seem to thrive. They fight for causes (or nearly fight) With rather more than half their might. They kiss in corners, fearing love, And swear half oaths by gods above, But even their gods are only demi, And their enthusiasms, semi. So shun the half alive in fear, They'll mourn for you with half a tear; And all I ask for you and me Is either to be or not to be.'

(Robert Abrahams)

In case you care about any conversation that took place between Lady Godiva and her husband... and we are SURE you DO want to know... the only thing on record came from LORD Godiva... who said, when his wife returned from her famous horseback ride: "Where have you been? Your horse has been home for hours."

Someone told us Oscar Levant is on a new panel program which apparently we don't get in Detroit. Those of you who remember his cutting sarcasm and biting wit, will no doubt appreciate this. On his initial appearance on the show, he complained like mad because he wasn't allowed to smoke while performing. Since he is a chain smoker... this is understandable!

BUT he talked about it so much... how he had been allowed to do it on such and such a show, etc., that a good deal of time was spent in discussing his smoking habits while the script of the show went to pot. The harassed moderator finally got it over to Oscar that he just couldn't smoke because of the fire laws of the state... so the great pianist calmed down and played a selection... after announcing that he had NEVER felt so degraded! Must have been QUITE a program!

If you have nothing else to do this Friday at five p.m., there will appear a movie on channel 2 called "Two Lost Worlds." We have seen it and it contains everything but the kitchen sink. It looks as if the producer bought stock shots from other features and tried to get them ALL in this one. Prehistoric monsters, horses, fight scenes, great fire scenes, desert shots, fighting ships and burning vessels. In one shot, we could swear we saw Victor Mature's head while swimming in an upstream "take"...

This is a MUST for anyone who likes action... as long as they don't care how they get it! The reason we sat through the thing is that one of the bigger parts is played by our favorite BILL KENNEDY of ye old "Hollywood Host" fame here in Detroit. WHY he isn't back here on that program will always remain a mystery to us. We dare say he'd rather be... than wandering around in Two Lost Worlds!

This is a true story and we think a pretty funny one. Two girls who were roommates at some fancy college eventually married, one moving out west where her husband was a gentleman farmer, and the other settling in a swank apartment in New York. The girls corresponded through the years but chance never brought them together until many years later when they both had teen aged children. Some reunion or other was taking place in New York, so the Eastern gal invited her old friend to stay with her... adding that she would send her chauffeur to the station to meet the train, because she would like to have a few friends in to meet the guest and would have to be at home. So much for that.

The Western woman, whose sense of humor knows no bounds, decided to give her old school tie a shock. The fact that she lived on a farm didn't exactly mean she was a laboring farmer. Her house was large and beautiful and the domestic help was abundant; also her clothes came from the finest shops in the country, and she was considered a very chic woman and charming hostess. HOWEVER, to make the trip east Madame borrowed a dress from one of her maids that was much too big for her; she also borrowed a rather seedy looking coat from someone... one that was far too short in length and sleeves; she then rummaged around in the attic and found an old hat she'd worn years ago to a costume party. Garbed in all this and a pair of run-down shoes, our heroine boarded the train carrying, besides a suitcase, a dead chicken in a paper bag... with its feet sticking out at the top.

The looks she got from her fellow passengers were a good indication of how her friend was going to react, except that react is not exactly a strong enough word! When she arrived in New York, the chauffeur took one look at her and turned pale... but our girl was undaunted. On arriving at the apartment, she burst into the livingroom, where the hostess sat nibbling tea with three or four well-dressed acquaintances, and called out: "MARY, Oh, I'm so GLAD to see you and LOOK I brought you a chicken right from the farm!"

No one said anything. They just stared open-mouthed at Mary's classmate as if they were looking at a horror movie. Finally Mary came to and embraced her pal... then the ice was broken and our fun-woman explained her attire and everyone heaved a sigh of relief.

May Share Cost Of Guards' Pay

The Park will negotiate with the City on the proposal that the two communities share expenses in the retaining of school guards on Cadieux at Kercheval and Vernor.

On Monday, February 27, the Park council was informed that the City had been experimenting with school crossing guards at the two intersections and found that they are needed. Consequently, the Park was asked to share, on a 50-50 basis, the paying of the guards.

Because it was pointed out that a good number of children attending Maire School were from Park homes, City Manager Everitt B. Lane was authorized to work out an arrangement with the City. Maire is the only school within the City boundaries.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Guest Columnist Virginia Leonard

It is reasonable to suppose that when the first Cro-Magnon man pulled up a boulder for a desk, pounded for a female counterpart to fulfill the duties of secretary, and found a contemporary with whom to barter, the embryology of modern business began.

Since that time, many thousands of years have passed, but human nature has remained the same. The urge to out-wit and under-sell competitors is a basic one, and the emerging finalists in such contests have become our modern day American business men, who can build or destroy huge industrial companies, trample or be trampled by their adversaries. Their importance in modern day society is becoming more and more apparent.

In Howard R. Bowen's Social Responsibilities of the Business Man, the author says in his introduction—"The business man occupies a strategic role in American life. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that he is the central figure in American society..."

It is only natural that with this rise to prominence, these business men, whose types and personalities are various, should have fascinated the imagination of many of our American writers of fiction.

One of our earliest writers to portray the business man was Sinclair Lewis, whose power of exaggeration and caricature made his characters outstanding, but certainly not representative of our business men of today.

Reckoning back as far as 1922, we first call to mind this well-known Babbitt, the story of a middle-class, conventional business man. Lewis' mushrooming caricature of the "booster"—the back-slapper—the "joiner," made George F. Babbitt's name a national symbol.

In Dodsworth, we find Sam Dodsworth, a rich automobile manufacturer and a sincere and likeable chap, taking a well-earned European vacation. His ensuing domestic complications only make him a more mature and appreciative individual.

Moving on to 1946, we find the foibles of the radio advertising game being shown up bitterly and tensely in Frederic Wakeman's The Hucksters. His cynicism is compelling in this first fast-moving story of Victor Norman, who is almost ground down to size to fit into the frantic business of writing commercials and radio shows for the Beatee Soap Company. Cameron Hawley would seem to be a man who knows the workings of business from the inside as evidenced first in a 1952 novel—Executive Suite, dealing with competition among various second-level executives to fill the shoes of the fabulous Avery Bullard, who, until a fatal heart attack, was president of the Treadway Corporation. The resultant machinations, conflicting loyalties and contrast of personalities show up American business life intelligently and in detail.

Another more recent novel of Hawley's in the field of business is Cash McCall. Here he is dealing with heads of organizations, all of whom are made to seem relatively amateurish when dealing with a Big Operator such as Cash McCall, who buys and sells companies at a profit and whose Superman qualities, combined with impeccable business acumen, make him unbeatable and at times, unbelievable.

The milk of human kindness has been completely extracted in a 1955 portrait of a modern business man Willis Wayde. Known primarily as a satirist of Beacon Hill Manners, J. P. Marquand has finally succumbed to the lure of the tycoon category in Sincerely, Willis Wayde.

A modern day Uriah Heep, Willis tries, in his rise from menial to mogul, to emulate his early benefactor, Henri Harcourt, but only succeeds outwardly and artificially because he has no past experiences with which to evaluate the present.

Marquand, essentially admires the true business man who combines the shrewd business sense with ethics and social responsibility. He shows the contrast through his sinister portrayal of Willis Wayde, whom neither he or the reader respects, and Henri Harcourt, a true gentleman.

He has drawn earlier business figures: Harry Fulham (H. N. Fulham, Esq.) is an investment counselor, and Charley Gray (Point of No Return) a trust officer. In B. F.'s Daughter we find a self-made industrialist as the father of Polly Fulton, the unhappy heroine who is maladjusted basically because she is nouveau riche rather than Main Liner.

But what of the solid gray-flannel citizen who works for moguls? Sloan Wilson has drawn us a picture of a typical business man on a lower stratum in The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit. This post-war, middle-of-the-road man has his business problem similar to that of Victor Norman. Again it is a question whether he should sacrifice his integrity for big money and a lush way of living.

Four Educators in Discussion

When it comes to the "Education of Women," expert opinion seems united in the view that the fault is not in our stars but in ourselves that we are underlings.

This was the consensus of a panel of four educators speaking in the lecture series under the general topic "Women in a Changing World" at the War Memorial Center on February 17.

A summary of the findings of the speakers in the four previous lectures was given by Mrs. Morgan J. Sherman, chairman of the Status of Women committee of the local branch of American Association of University Women, under whose study the lectures originated.

Mrs. Watson Ford, program chairman of the War Memorial Center, which co-sponsors the series along with 18 other community organizations, introduced the speakers.

Irma Gross, the moderator for the panel, is widely known as professor and head of the department of home management and child development at Michigan State University since 1934.

Sister Honora, president of Marygrove College since 1937 and selected as one of Detroit's Women of Achievement for the past four years, opened the talks by saying a woman must be essentially a woman to follow a career.

Women had a long struggle first to be recognized; then they had an equally difficult time competing with men in jobs outside the home; but the idea that woman is inadequate has been fairly well eradicated. Now, women are on their own, though it was a long, slow struggle.

The speaker said there is some evidence that women are educated inadequately to meet the problems of adult life, to help them work together on the economic front with their husbands or to face the social side of being a wife and mother, squarely.

In a survey made among Marygrove graduates of all ages, Sister Honora pointed out a high percentage of alumnae felt that college had not given them particular habits of thought nor an intellectual approach to problems.

The school should emphasize "formation" in teaching—in selecting material they teach and giving the student a goal which is transmitted by the educators and which the student herself arrives at from experience while she is learning.

Sister Honora believes strongly that college students should do field work while they are still in college, and that women should have some experience in working not only with men but with other women. Also they should be given social experience with women of all ages.

Dr. Helen Dodson, associate professor of astronomy in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts at the University of Michigan, with a particular assignment to the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, came to the U. of M. in 1948 and has worked in solar physics.

Dr. Dodson said: "There is apparently a general feeling that there exists at the present time a 'problem' with respect to higher education. It seems to refer to education in general and to the education of women in particular."

The particular criticism of current higher education centers around a question of the suitability of the usual liberal arts curriculum as preparation for adult life in the world of today.

"Dante and the calculus are felt to contribute little or nothing at all to the problems encountered in the dishpan," she said, "whereas courses in design or ceramics are thought to provide a real and needed skill for the homemaker."

Dr. Katharine Greene, the next speaker, is a psychologist and educator, and mother of four children who has been Wayne County marriage counselor with the Circuit Court, salvaging cases before they reach the divorce courts. She was the first such counselor to have been appointed by a court.

To Give Talk About Theater

Kathryn Turney Garten returns to Detroit Town Hall by popular request to tell what's new in theatre this season. Her subject, "Broadway in Review," will be presented at 11 a.m. Wednesday, March 7, in the Fisher Theatre.

Miss Garten is a perennial favorite with Town Hallers for her ability as a clever monologist and trained actress. She inherited her flair for story telling from her minister father, who was famed in Indiana for his cleverness as a speaker.

Each season she spends weeks in New York seeing the new plays and meeting old and new stage celebrities. Tickets are available at Grinnell's, WO. 2-1124, or at the theatre the day of the performance.

2,600,000 TAXPAYERS
In the state of Michigan alone, 2,600,000 people are expected to file income tax returns this year by April 16, according to District Director A. M. Menninger of the Internal Revenue Service.

HOW TO PROFIT THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION
With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.
If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Birthday Party Planned By Goodwill Industries

The Detroit Goodwill Industries will be 35 years old on March 1.

Plans are now completed for the largest celebration in Goodwill's history with an Open House and Smorgasbord Dinner featuring the program. Several awards will be given, including one to the "Goodwill Worker of the Year" which last year was won by Evelyn Herrala.

She went on to win the national competition against those selected from 108 Goodwill Industries throughout the country.

Other awards will include those to the oldest employee, to the truck driver with the best safety record and to the founder of the Detroit Goodwill Industries, Dr. John Martin, retired.

Goodwill Industries of Detroit, which started in the basement of a church in Delray with an annual payroll of little over $1,000, has grown with the city and today has an annual payroll of well over three-quarters of a million dollars and does a gross business of over one million dollars.

Detroit Goodwill, although starting out as a church-sponsored charity, has developed into a non-sectarian organization. It is a paradox, being a charity that is not a charity. The people are not asked for money or time, merely discards which would otherwise be wasted.

These discards are renovated by handicapped employees and sold in six Goodwill retail stores. Store sales go toward paying the salaries of over 400 handicapped employees.

During the past five years, the Detroit Goodwill Industries has made the most remarkable record in growth of any Goodwill in the country, doing two and a half times the business today that they did in 1951.

During 1955, Goodwill employed 634 people, 425 of whom were on the payroll during the month of December. The others had received rehabilitation and job tolerance and had gone into private industry as efficient, self-supporting workers.

Goodwill Industries' primary purpose is the rehabilitation of the handicapped person. Unlike the majority of private industries, where profit is the primary aim, Goodwill as a non-profit organization, has the individual's interest as an indicator of a successful operation.

The only requisite in acquiring a job at Goodwill Industries is to have a handicap. It does not matter what type of handicap the person has, what race, color or creed he is, or what his previous job record is, if any, has been. Goodwill is only interested in rehabilitating a person with a handicap so that he can take his place in society and be an asset to the community.

This is the story that will be told in Goodwill's 35th Anniversary Celebration.

Records Smashed As Devil Swimmers Beat Wyandotte

In its last home meet of the 1955-56 season, the Grosse Pointe Blue Devil swimming team concentrated on school and pool records and placed two new ones in the book as the Pointers swamped winless Wyandotte, 66-21, last Friday, February 24, in the local pool.

Scoring slams in seven of nine events, Coach Frank Banach's purposely weakened Blue Devils virtually swam circles around Wyandotte before a huge standing room only partisan crowd.

Cutler Lowers Mark
Highlighting the meet, backstroker Les Cutler erased Don Adamski's 100-yard backstroke school and pool mark, set in 1953, and tied by Cutler a week ago, when he splashed to a lopsided victory over teammate Tom Ketzler to a new mark of 60.9. The old mark was 1:01.6. Cutler was pummeled by his teammates as a standing ovation was accorded him by the crowd. Butler's victory also gave the Pointers a commanding 32-4 lead.

Holding an unsurmountable 58-17 lead going into the last event, the Devils' 160-yard speed relay team of Bill Wachter, Carl Anderson, Harry Huffaker and Dan Goodnow, concentrated on breaking their own school and pool mark of 1:16.1, established against Monroe a week ago. Winning by a length of the pool this combination posted a new mark of 1:15.5.

Takes Pity on Opponents
Had Coach Banach so desired he could have packed the lineup and the Devils very easily could have chalked up a perfect meet. But the veteran coach isn't the type to "pour it on" a weaker foe just for the sake of humiliating an opponent when he knows he can weaken his lineup and still make a contest of it.

Right from the first event, the 40-yard free style, the outcome was never in doubt. Dan Goodnow and Bill Wachter slammed the opening event to give the Pointers an 8-1 lead which they never relinquished. Bob Gale and Dave Gauss followed suit and slammed the 100-yard breast stroke and Eddie Pongraz and Neil Georgi did likewise in the 200-yard free style.

Huffaker Wins 100
Wyandotte's Don Weier cracked the Blue Devil monopoly when he barely squeezed out freshman Dick Adams in the 100-yard free style which was won handily by Harry Huffaker to give the Devils a 38-7 margin.

Dave Duncan, Wyandotte's lit-

Cagers Win 13 Straight

Grosse Pointe's red hot reserve basketball team notched a pair of victories last week to run its undefeated streak to 13 and remain the winningest team in the Border Cities League.

Ferndale, which had won 13 straight games prior to meeting the Devils on Tuesday, February 21, became the Pointers' twelfth victim on their own floor, 42-32.

Led at Half
This was a carefully played game throughout the first half which saw the Devils hold a 15-11 lead at halftime. Neither team wished to risk its winning streak on race horse basketball, which resulted in a lusterless first half.

Taking the court at the start of the third period Coach John Thursty issued the order to "go out and get 'em" and that's just what the Devils did. Pete Wade and Jack Medley spearheaded the Pointers' third quarter attack and quickly broke the Rail-splitters' back with four quick baskets. From those on in, it was all Grosse Pointe as the Devils ran their rivals into the ground with a fast break attack.

High Scorers
Wade paced the Pointers' attack with 14 points, which enabled him to share individual scoring honors with Ferndale's Rodwink.

Fresh from their non-league victory three nights earlier the Devils tackled Wyandotte on the latter's home court on Friday, February 24, and had little trouble chalking up their thirteenth win of the season.

Right from the opening whistle the Blue Devils waltzed into a lead and held a comfortable 30-14 lead at halftime and coasted to a 54-32 triumph.

Wade Again Stars
Pete Wade again paced the Devils' attack with 16 points, which gave him individual honors ahead of his teammate Tod Price, who notched 13. Besides being a standout on attack, Wade turned in a brilliant performance on the boards, grabbing 15 rebounds.

Todd Price turned in his best performance of the season and teamed well with Wade to give the Devils control of both boards throughout the contest. Both are excellent team players which is a rarity in today's brand of high scoring basketball. Wade, on numerous occasions, has been seen to pass off to a teammate despite the fact he could make the shot just as easily. Despite this Wade has continually been high scorer for the Pointers since he cracked the lineup about halfway through the season.

Two More Games
The Devils have two more games remaining on their schedule. They met the Monroe Trojans on Tuesday, February 27, on the Trojan's court. Originally this game was to have been played Friday, February 17, but was postponed because of bad road conditions and foggy weather.

The Blue Devils will meet Highland Park in the final game of the season on Friday, March 2. The Pointers tripped the Polar Bears on the latter's court in the first meeting, 45-42.

With the Devils playing on their home court they will be favorites to finish the season undefeated which will mark the first time a Devil reserve team has done this, in many, many years.

Austin Strategy Fails in Final

AUSTIN COACH CHUCK HOLLOS, center, discusses strategy with his starting Austin five before the Parochial City Championship game which the Friars lost, 64-54, to St. Andrew at U of D gym before 3,200 fans on Sunday, February 26. The Friars will enter the State Regional tourney which begins on March 13 and will play in one of the toughest tourneys in the state when they will be bracketed with such powers as Highland Park, Hamtramck and Grosse Pointe. Standing left to right: KIP ANDERSON, LEON FEL-CYN and DAVE DEBUSSCHERE. Kneeling, left to right: TOM STUMB, COACH HOLLOS and DON MESSING.

St. Austin Friars Beaten In League Tourney Contest

The meteoric rise of Austin High came to a sudden and grinding halt but not until the Friar basketball players had swept through undefeated to the Central Division championship and qualified for the Parochial City Championship tournament in their first year of league competition.

The Friars' first stumbling block was the veteran St. Andrew's team, which won its tenth title in its 13-year history of cage wars when it turned back a determined Austin quintet last Sunday, February 26, on the U of D court, 64-54, in the championship game. The winner automatically qualified to meet the Metropolitan League champion next Friday, March 2, for the All-City title.

Put Up Good Fight
The Friars didn't give up without a fight and until the final minutes of the last quarter were right in the thick of the battle. Trailing by a scant 29-27 margin at halftime intermission, Austin grabbed a 40-38 lead late in the third stanza on two free throws by Tom Stumb and 3,200 fans were struck dumb.

After all weren't they seeing an upset in the making? St. Andrew, for years a cage power and one time state title holder, realized at this point a first year upstart was threatening to chip some of the glitter from its cage glory. Two field goals by Bob Hojnacki and two more by Larry Skora gave St. Andrew a 46-40 lead which the newcomers were unable to overcome as the final minutes ticked away.

Hard Road to Hoe
It wasn't an easy road to hoe for the Friars to get into the final. As a matter of fact Austin had its hands full in the semi-final, Friday, February 24, against another veteran team in Lourdes.

Paced by Tom Stumb, the smallest player on the Friars' team, Austin outlasted Lourdes in a shooting duel. Stumb led the attack with 18 points to give his team a 62-54 victory. This was by far the most exciting game of the tourney.

The lead changed hands no less than 15 times in the first

Leader Tumbled In Bowling Loop

League-leading Stober got caught on an off night and was tumbled from the lead in the Pointers Bowling League when it dropped three points to third place Youngblood. The victory moved Youngblood up to second place just one point out of first place.

Redwood took advantage of Stober's humpty-dumpty tumble and clipped 3 points from Custom behind the sharpshooting of Mertz who rolled a sparkling 567 series.

Fifth place Piche moved up a notch in the standings by taking two points from Lusch while fourth place Kennametal was losing three to Rosati which dropped Kennametal one place in the standings.

Robert Beebe in Charge Of College Ski Events

WILLIAMSTON, Mass.—Robert A. Beebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan P. Beebe, 103 Merriweather, Grosse Pointe, was in charge of the slalom, and downhill events at the annual Williams College Winter Carnival.

In addition to being a member of the Williams Outing Club, which sponsored the weekend, and the ski team, Beebe is an active participant in the College Chapel and Yacht Club organizations.

Devils Score Impressive Victory Over Wyandotte

Grosse Pointe preserved its third place in the Border Cities League standings with an impressive 69-40 victory over Wyandotte last Friday, February 24, behind the sharpshooting of Bill Leonard, who notched 16 points for individual honors.

Playing on Wyandotte's dimly lighted court, the Devils had no trouble finding the basket and surged to a 36-17 lead at halftime. Holding this comfortable margin Coach Howard MacAdam was able to clear his bench during the second half with all 11 members of the squad seeing some action.

Sandy Smith Stars
It was Leonard, 14, Sandy Smith 8, and Captain Hal Sommerschield, 6, who provided the Blue Devils' first half scoring surge. Smith was particularly impressive with his defensive play around both backboards. Leonard's high point total was impressive in the fact that he got his points in the first 18 minutes of play before retiring to the bench, voluntarily, shortly after the start of the third period.

Team mate Smith tied for runner-up honors with Wyandotte's Gylvas. Both collected 12 points.

The win gave the Pointers an even split in the eight league games played to date and assured them of nothing less than a tie for third place, even if they lose their remaining two games.

Also Beat Ferndale
Three days earlier, Tuesday, February 21, the Devils chalked up another victory, 43-34, over Ferndale on the latter's home court. This coupled with the Wyandotte win gives the Devils an overall mark of 8 wins and 4 losses in 12 starts.

Non-league Ferndale held the Pointers to a 17-17 tie in the first half which featured bad passing, sloppy ball handling and loose basketballs bouncing all over the court.

Bill Leonard and Ken MacDonald began finding the range in the third period and along with Sandy Smith moved the Devils out in front to a fairly comfortable lead, which they never relinquished.

Leonard collected 16 points for honors with Ferndale's Granzon getting 14 for runner-up honors.

May Whip Parkers
On the Pointers' latest winning streak many are picking the Devils to beat Highland Park in the final BCL game of the season on Friday, March 2. A Grosse Pointe victory would deny the Parkers their sixth straight BCL title as Fordson is tied with the Polar Bears for the lead at the present time and shows no indication of weakening in its finale.

The Blue Devils are hungry for a win over Highland Park as they have been on the short meetings with the Parkers.

May Be Dark Horse
A Grosse Pointe victory would give the Devils a terrific boost in the coming Regional tourney in which they are paired with such other powers as Austin, Hamtramck and Highland Park in the Class A bracket at Ferndale.

Coach MacAdam feels his team is finally finding itself and could be a dark horse in the Regional tourney which begins March 13.

Babe Ruth Loop Seeks Players

A pre-season rally to enlist players for the 1956 season of the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 3, at Parcels Junior High School.

Highlight of the program will be a showing of color and sound movies of last year's Babe Ruth World Series in Austin Tex., which was won by the Terre Haute, Ind., team.

Terre Haute defeated Northwest Detroit in the regional competition to become eligible for the World Series. Northwest Detroit defeated the Woods-Shores team in the State play-off to move into the regional.

The rally will give full details on plans for the 1956 season, according to Vincent E. Butterly, league president.

"Everyone who has any interest in juvenile baseball is invited to attend," Butterly said. "This includes fathers and mothers of players in both the Babe Ruth and Little Leagues."

Midget Basketball League Seeing Plenty of Action

There was plenty of action in the Neighborhood Club Midget Basketball League over the past week. The biggest surprise of the eight games played was the upset victory of the winless Metro quintet over sixth place Kiwanis.

The winning basket didn't come until the last 15 seconds of an action-packed contest and was provided by Jack Stephenson to give Metro a 21-19 win. Bill Lee paced the Metro attack with eight points, which was good for runner-up honors behind Mike Rahaley's 10 for Kiwanis.

The first game on Tuesday, February 21, saw the league leading Optimists continue along the unbeaten trail to the throne room with a crushing 25-9 win over Post 303. Frank Kelly led the Optimist quintet with eight points for honors, and Larry Englehard topped the losers with six.

The Giant League game that night saw the Lakers fight off a last quarter Eagle rally which was cut short by one point, by the clock, and gave the Lakers a thrilling, 37-35, win. Rem Purdy provided the big scoring punch for the Lakers with 20 points for honors. Bill Nolte took runner-up honors for the Eagles with 16.

Rotary surprised Post 303 in a thriller in the first game of a Monday, February 27, triple header program, when it scored a 24-22 sudden death win. Rotary trailed until the fading seconds of the regulation time when it tied the count at 20-all.

Both teams connected for a field goal in the first two minute overtime to force the sudden death overtime. Teddy Binneau provided the winning score for Rotary after one minute and 12 seconds of play. Bonneau also notched individual scoring honors with 16 points with Larry Englehard pacing the losers with 14.

VFW had little trouble with a determined but outmanned Metro quintet which fell by the wayside, 37-23. Joe Kramer was high for the winners with 13 and Bill Lee of Metro tied for scoring honors with a like amount.

The Lakers continued hot on the trail of the league leading Falcons by beating the Celtics 49-31 behind the sharpshooting of Rem Purdy who collected 19 points. Len Carnaghi paced the losers with 16 in the final game of the night.

Church League Race Tied Up

Both the Senior and Junior division races in the Grosse Pointe Inter-Church Basketball League remained unchanged after last Saturday, February 25.

As expected, the leaders in both divisions won their games and currently Woods Presbyterian and the Memorial Diesels are tied for the lead in the senior division. Memorial Juniors locked up the Junior division title a week ago but continued to run rampant over all rivals.

Memorial Juniors humiliated the Methodist Mustangs, 55-4, in one of the most lopsided contests seen in the league this season. A score such as this is entirely uncalled for, especially as far as the Memorial team is concerned.

The Memorial team never should have been allowed to enter the Junior division at the outset of the season. They are just too big for the rest of the teams. For a coach to allow his team to humiliate a rival like this is unpardonable and doesn't make for good sportsmanship no matter how you look at it.

St. Paul Panthers and Christ Church Tigers staged a rip snorter which saw the Panthers finally emerge the winner, 23-21. Terry MacDonald provided the winning basket just in the nick of time. His shot was soaring through the air as the final whistle blew.

League leading Woods Presbyterian tripped the Woods Celtics 57-15, to remain tied with the Memorial Diesels, who tumbled St. James, 52-27. In the final Senior division game the St. Paul Longhorns tripped the Christ Church Lions, 33-27.

Barlow is a junior at Michigan Tech and is majoring in engineering physics. Turkey Shoot Big Success

Fifty-one members competed in the first turkey shoot of the Farms Trapshooting Club last Sunday. Over 90 percent of those members who were eligible competed and ten men awarded prizes.

For the 99 members to become eligible competed and ten were scores registered at the club this season so their handicap could be computed. They were then grouped according to handicaps into three flights and everyone tried to break his 25 targets.

George Lang and 15 year old Ed Cooper, tied for honors in the first flight with 24.75 birds and the shoot officials awarded them both turkeys.

Frank Kerbrat, Farms police officer and club assistant secretary-treasurer won the turkey in the second flight with a 29.75 white Lou Desser took the third flight turkey with a 31. Lou returned to prep school in the east Monday with a promise from his mother to forward his prize stuffed and cooked, on to him later.

Everyone else competed for the other prizes without regard to flights. Art Stringari won a brace of wild ducks, eleven year old George Swanson received eight antelope chops, and Jim Weaver took home four deer steaks.

An interesting sidelight of the shoot was the obvious results of the instruction available to members' sons every Saturday.

At least three sons outshot their fathers while a few more are crowding them a little too close for comfort — of that father, that is.

Another turkey shoot will be held at the close of the present season, sometime in May.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

April will be an exciting month in the life of JUDY JEEVES, who attends George Washington University in Washington, D. C. Backed as a candidate by one of the school fraternities, Judy has been elected a princess to reign during the 29th annual Apple Blossom Festival in the Shenandoah Valley.

Needless to say, MR. and MRS. W. R. JEEVES of Lincoln road will go to Winchester, Va., for the two-day festival, April 26-27, in which their daughter will play such an important role.

The Pointe Leddy with the lovely collection of original gowns in Oriental brocades of matchless color and charm is Mrs. LEON J. JACOBI, seamstress extraordinary . . . who purchased bolts of exotic Japanese and Chinese silk brocades on a trip to the Far East two years ago . . . and dreams up a new costume at the slightest provocation.

Just one of many ensembles she has made is a sheath with Chinese insignia print against a rich blue background. The gold-lined jacket has three-quarter sleeves and enhances the Oriental tone with black and gold Chinese frog buttons.

Biggest item before cutting any Japanese or Chinese material, Mrs. Jacobi says, is to look it over from every conceivable angle to decide which of the printed figures in the intricate pattern predominates. One wrong cut, and all could be lost!

Then, in deference to the Chinese sheath, Chinese bolts are only 27 inches wide . . . this contrasted to the customary 36-inch width . . . which makes sewing with their materials a real work of art!

MRS. MARK C. STEVENS and BETSY are a good-looking duo (did I hear you ask, "Which one is the daughter?"), both choosing wool suits for this chilly weather . . . Betsy in pretty blue, Mama in gold . . . and both voting for brown alligator pumps.

PILFERINGS

A New Hampshire farmer* had been urged to attend the funeral of his neighbor's third wife. "But I'm not going," he announced to his wife.

"Goodness sakes, why not?" she asked.

"Well, Mary, I'm beginnin' to feel kind awkward about goin' so often without anything of the sort to ask him back to."

About three weeks before an annual college club dinner, a member received a letter from the club president, asking him to serve on the reception committee and be there at 7 o'clock sharp. A scarlet ribbon marked RECEPTION COMMITTEE was enclosed. He hadn't meant to go. The dinners were usually a bore. But since he had been asked to be on the committee . . .

By the time he arrived, almost all 800 members of the club were there, each wearing a scarlet ribbon marked RECEPTION COMMITTEE.

Said the two ladies to the air line pilot: "Now don't start traveling faster than sound. We want to talk."

During San Antonio's Fiesta Week, when curbside vantage points for the parade are at a premium, a school teacher, surrounded by some 20 small children, marched down the main street and came to a halt before a vacant parking space. Herding her charges into the small space, she made sure of their safety by passing a stout rope around the group, then dropped a nickel into the parking meter, and settled back to wait. An irate policeman charged over and ordered them back to the sidewalk.

"Parking is allowed on this side of the street," the young teacher replied firmly. "The law doesn't say what KIND of parking. I've paid my nickel and we're going to stay!"

The policeman walked off, grinning, amid shrill cheers from the fifth grade.

JA Fund Drive Goes Over Top

John F. Gordon, General Motors Corp. vice-president and director, and General Chairman of Junior Achievement's $230,000 fund drive announced the drive's success to 500 campaign workers at a victory luncheon in the Statler hotel.

"This luncheon climaxes a wonderful job done by every worker in the campaign," he said. "For the first time, this JA area has reached and passed its fund goal."

Sharing honors with Gordon in the drive's success were the three co-chairmen who headed up the drive's divisions:

Carl J. Snyder, Chrysler Corp. vice president, who reported $98,700 for the advance gifts.

Robert Semple, president of Wyandotte Chemicals Corp., who reported $58,230 for the suburban unit.

Richard Krafve, general manager of the Special Products Div. of the Ford Motor Co., who reported his General Detroit unit raised $75,305 to date.

Cash on hand was reported at $232,190 and outstanding pledges from hundreds of contributors are to be turned in later this week, further surpassing the goal.

The funds will be used for enlarging the JA program in Southeastern Michigan, according to Gordon. Currently, nearly 5,000 boys and girls operate 274 JA firms in the area at 14 JA centers.

Pointers of Interest

DR. and MRS. J. HILLIARD HICKS OF HARVARD ROAD

By Kitty Marriott

"We're both wharf rats at heart," Mrs. J. Hilliard Hicks says, in reference to sailing, which is a year-round hobby for Dr. and Mrs. Hicks.

Warm weather means sailing season to the Hickses, who have cruised the Great Lakes in their ocean-going ketch, the "Errant." Although they work on the boat through the summer, painting, ("I have painted in my hair from June 1 until the first of October," are Mrs. Hicks' words), and repairing it constantly, there is still plenty of work left to carry them through the winter.

The Hicks basement is never without a steering wheel or some other portion of boat anatomy, which the sailing couple are polishing, varnishing or improving in some way. Handsome framed photographs of the "Errant" in their lovely home also show where their interests lie.

Varnish Decks

Varnishing the "Errant's" decks has been a yearly—and joint—proposition for the Pointe orthodontist and his wife. Last Christmas, Dr. Hicks surprised his spouse by giving her the due bill showing that he was having the decks done by a firm this year.

The doctor, a native of Chatham, Ont., was raised on the river and has always loved boating. Mrs. Hicks has learned to be a sailor since her marriage, until she is as great a sailing addict as her husband.

"Great Scott! How can the two of you handle a boat that large?" is probably the most frequent exclamation that Dr. and Mrs. Hicks hear.

Like Georgian Bay

They do make quite an unusual picture manning the boat—he a tall, broad-shouldered man and she, a tiny dark-haired thing, pretty as a picture. But still they have sailed it alone, up and down the Great Lakes. Georgian Bay is their favorite spot, and summer isn't complete without one long sailing excursion which takes them to the north channel.

It's not really difficult at all for two people to manage, Mrs. Hicks confides. "Lazy jacks," which take a lot of time to attach at the beginning of the season, enable them to pull in the sails quickly when a big wind comes up.

Have they run into any bad storms on the lakes? A few, Mrs. Hicks admits, but looking back they seem like nothing after their experience a year ago January—riding out the mountainous waves caused by winds on the fringe of a hurri-

SHOE FITTING

TRUSTED TO EXPERTS

"There's no question about it; fitters who are accustomed to filling shoe prescriptions are the most competent to fit normal feet as well," declared Willard Keenan, assistant manager of the Hack Shoe Co. at 16833 E. Warren. "That's why it's a pleasure to be associated with Hack's where we have only full-time shoe fitters and no part-time or after school extras. All of our people are career shoe men, dedicated to their work, and parents sense the difference in our store," he continued.

"They work with us in seeking what is best for the individual child in the long run; we don't have to 'sell'—we can concentrate on fitting and that makes our work interesting and rewarding," Keenan concluded.

Theatre Arts member and appeared last in their presentation of Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief." Able Seamstress

Talented Mrs. Hicks, who appeared in the road show of "Oklahoma" in and around New York, is also a capable seamstress, makes many of her own outfits, and recently enrolled in a tailoring course to brush up on the fine points.

Mrs. Hicks' favorite musical affiliation is a nameless club—the 15 members are bound by no constitution or rules and they present monthly programs for their mutual enjoyment.

At present, Mrs. Hicks is taking guitar lessons . . . and she finds that guitar playing fits in nicely with sailing, so now the guitar accompanies the sailing Hickses on their travels over the water.

GRAPEFRUIT PIE

Contributed by Mrs. Edward J. Savage

1 large grapefruit
5 T. corn starch
1 c. sugar
2 eggs, separated
Baked pie shell
Boiling water

Take a heavy grapefruit—the heaviest have the most juice, and russets are the sweetest. Halve grapefruit; remove pulp, discard membrane, and save all the juice.

Mix smoothly in top of double boiler sugar and corn starch (yes, its 5 tablespoons!) with part of the ½ c. of pulp and juice which the grapefruit should have yielded. Place over low fire, stirring constantly.

Add ¼ c. boiling water and a pinch of salt, and stir until thick and smooth. Cook 10 minutes more, then add remainder of pulp and juice, stirring until smooth again, for about 2 minutes.

Remove from double boiler and pour into previously baked crust. Cover with meringue made from 2 egg whites, 5 T. granulated sugar, ¼ t. of baking powder and a few drops of vanilla. Brown lightly in medium oven, 350 degrees.

Dinner Honors British Peer

British Consul Theodore H. St. George Moss and Mrs. Moss entertained Monday evening at cocktails and dinner in their home in Lakeland avenue.

Their party honored Sir Pierson Dixon, the United Kingdom's permanent delegate to the United Nations, and Lady Dixon. Sir Pierson lectured Monday evening on "Great Britain and the United Nations" at the War Memorial Center.

'Tis true. Spring is peeking out. From fantasy land . . . and for Spring surprises are the cutest bunnies, giraffes, elephants and donkies . . . dressed from tip to toe in Spring couture fashions, if you please. Flowers and miniature birds are perched on top their chic hats. The color blended costumes are so right . . . beige to brown dresses the prim bunnies . . . orchid to pale pink . . . gray to blue . . . and blue and white decorate others. Incidentally, these are all in a sitting position. Featured at The Dants, 88 Kercheval, on the hill.

One good investment for Spring should be an outer garment that doesn't give a hang about the weather. That is true of the new poplin raincoats now at Young Clothes, Inc., on the hill. Truly they are as fresh and immaculate looking as Lake Shore Drive will be in April. These all-weather fashions are water-repellant, and come in yellow and blue. Natural, too. The size range is good, too . . . 3 to 6x and 7 to 14 AND pre-teens. 110 Kercheval.

Maxim's of Paris came through with six superlative frozen French dishes. Now they have given us something more useful, versatile . . . and inexpensive. These WONDERS are five basic frozen sauces for meat and fish. They are now available at Farms Market for less than one dollar for eight ounces . . . enough for four people. A recipe booklet comes with each sauce. Heed its suggestions and sauce variations. You will find red wine, Madeira, cognac lend overtones to the basic sauce flavor. Try to cook a minute steak in butter, rinse out the pan with cognac and add these juices plus black pepper to the sauce. Find uses for them, too, on vegetables, in appetizers . . . even in soups. Prompt delivery service every day and four trunk lines serve Grosse Pointe from Farms Market, 335 Fisher Road, TU. 2-5100.

Over a beautiful simple toast colored shantung sheath dress is a lightweight oatmeal wool tweed coat . . . the coat is completely lined with the same material as the dress. The dress AND coat costs around seventy dollars. We found this practical Spring costume from a collection of costume dresses and suits at Margaret Rice's, 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

"Cinderella and the Silver Skates" . . . Clyde Beatty's "Animal Thrills," and many new cartoons and comedies have recently been added to the famous Movie Rental Library at the Camera Center, in the village. They have been very popular for birthday parties and other celebrations. Good to know that those of you who use this service regularly will have a host of new ones to choose from. Not only can you rent the film . . . but the movie camera, also.

Conversation pieces take the form of glassware and plates at Kilgore and Hurd's gift department. On each glass is a typical Historical American Uniform . . . for example . . . the Richmond Light Infantry. The plates, in addition to the pictures have a history of the uniform imprinted on the plate. Clevah . . . and practical gifts for weddings or showers. 82 Kercheval, on the hill.

The whole spring blouse story is evident at Margaret Rice's this season. Famous McMullen Classics with the little flat Peter Pan collar in the most modern prints and plain. Ilene suit blouses and Sydney Heller's incomparable styled ones are here. All are washable, all are deftly detailed. And most literally scream . . . "Have ME monogrammed." And you can because the busy fingers in Margaret Rice's monogramming department are ALWAYS busy.
