

Pointe Youths Survivors Of Doria-Stockholm Crash

Three sons of prominent Windmill Pointe residents in the Park were among some 2,000 passengers miraculously rescued from the ill-fated ships, the Andrea Doria and Stockholm when they collided off Martha's Vineyard on Wednesday, July 25.

They were: Peter McKee, 18, son of the Miles McKees of 860 Pemberton; Robert McDonald, 19, son of the Elton McDonalds, of 15324 Windmill Pointe Drive and Lawrence Fitzpatrick, 18, of 781 Lakepointe.

En route home from a two-month tour of the Continent, the trip was a graduation present for the trio. All three were mid-term graduates of the Grosse Pointe High School.

Mrs. McKee, spokesman for the three parents, said: "We didn't sleep a wink that night.

Our big worry was that the boys might have been among those injured."

Last May, McKee, whose father is secretary of the Sand Products Company, and Helin, whose father manufactures the widely known line of Helin baits and tackle, were involved in a brush with the Tijuana, Mexico, police.

Falsely arrested, they were charged with dope smuggling and attempts were made to make them sign trumped up confessions. An appeal to the American consul led to their release.

Valuable Space Going to Waste at Farms Beach

This huge paved area is known at the Farms Municipal Park as the "recreational area" and is primarily for children's games. There are shuffle board courts, badminton courts and basketball facilities, but for the amount of use these facilities get, the space is being wasted. On hot days the kids want to be in the water, and besides the pavement is too hot to play on. On cloudy days they seldom frequent the park. In the background can be seen the expensive electric boat hoist boat owners cannot use except for two hours, 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. each day, because the area is reserved for the kids who never seem to be interested in games.

Drivers Fined In City Court

Judge Douglas Paterson heard nine cases in a regularly scheduled traffic court held in the City municipal offices, Tuesday evening, July 24.

Charles Dunaway of Mt. Elliot, Detroit, pleaded guilty to a stop law violation. He was fined $10.

Harry Kafalos, 1032 Vernier, stood mute to a charge of reckless driving causing an accident. He was found guilty and fined $50.

William Henry Edwards, Rivard street, Detroit, pleaded not guilty to not having his car under control and causing an accident. He was found guilty and fined $20.

Joseph Lesley of St. Clair Shores preferred to stand mute to a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol. He was fined $35.

George B. Morgan, Commonwealth, Detroit, was fined $15 after being found guilty of reckless driving which caused an accident.

Found guilty of the same charge was Edward E. Gerstenschlager, Marsilles, Detroit. He was fined $20.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Alva Leroy Ries of St. Clair Shores. He was found guilty of reckless driving and causing an accident. The fine: $25.

Mildred Christoff of Esper, Detroit, received a suspended sentence after being found guilty of causing an accident when she failed to keep her car under control. She paid $12 for damages to the car she hit.

Voters in Woods Told of Shifts

The City of Grosse Pointe Woods has sent notice to all its residents concerning the re-districting of voting precincts for the coming State primaries.

The necessity of the action was due to a state statute passed in 1955 allowing 1,400 ballots per machine district. The Woods recently converted all precincts from the old paper ballots to the new machine operated booths.

"The city has grown so much in the past few years that we found we had to up the precincts from nine to 11," said the City manager.

In letters sent to the residents this was explained and in cases where precincts were altered, notification of the change and the new location of the new voting place were made.

Also contained in the letter was a new registration card to be filled out by the resident. "There has been a little mix-up concerning these cards," the administrator said. He explained that the cards require only the voter's name and the precinct number contained in the accompanying letter.

It is up to the residents whether they carry the card or not. "It is for their convenience only," it was explained. No voter is allowed to vote on the strength of the card alone.

Boat Owners Miffed Over Hoist Rules

By Fred Runnells
From Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe Farms municipal park is a beautiful sight. Almost everyone will agree the half million dollars spent over the past couple of years has done wonders to the property.

About three years ago the city fathers were real big hearted and installed an expensive boat hoist and then went a step farther and added electric hoists to the massive steel boom.

For two years the boat owners were able to launch and remove their boats at anytime. Everything was peachy—this was a boat owner's dream. Owners of little fishing craft were able to use the hoist at anytime during the day and most of the evening.

Then it happened—last year to be specific—the city fathers decided the old parking lot near the old bath house should be paved and made into a recreational area for the youngsters. Once this was done the boat owners were deprived of the convenience of dropping their gear off and then parking their automobiles.

Even though the newly formed Boat Owners Club requested permission at a council meeting, they were flatly turned down. The city fathers lost sight of the fact the boat owners provide one of the major sources of income through the rental of boat wells.

While the Farms officials were closing off the area near the boat hoist, which cost approximately $2,000, they were installing a hand-operated cheap hoist, which cost approximately $100 at the south end of the new parking lot. Once installed, rules were made. The expensive boat hoist could be "used" only between the hours of 8 and 10 a.m., between June 10 and Labor Day. However, the cheap hoist could be used at anytime.

Through recent personal experience we discovered many faults with the cheap hoist the boat owners have been forced to use while the expensive hoist lays idle 22-hours a day.

The cheap manually operated hoist is located near unprotected waters and the slightest wave action makes it extremely difficult to launch or remove the smallest of boats. This piece of equipment is improperly installed and owners complained that after using it their boats were badly scarred from the steel retaining wall.

It is high time the city officials, in charge of the operation of one of the best if not the best park in Grosse Pointe, got on the ball and changed a few rules to help the boat owners. Probably the best thing for them to do is take the time to come to the park and see for themselves.

Incidentally, at the same time, they might take the trouble to look at the nice paved area called the "recreation area" and see how many of the youngsters are using it. Maybe they will go away with a more favorable impression towards granting the boat owners their former request to the council.

St. Clair Shores Blocks Woods Again in Park Issue

(Continued from Page 1) that he has riparian rights over the underwater land reclaimed by the Woods. Riparian rights means the rights to claim land under adjacent waters. Previously, Southard had asked the Woods for certain corrections plus two thousand dollars in damages, though none of these were in writing. His requests were: that the lights around the pool be shielded, that the speaker volume on the Park public address system be dampened, that the pine trees boarding the park be limited in height and that his Milk River shore line be policed for dead fish and rubbish from the park. To all this the Woods agreed with the added stipulation that they would process any of Southard's claims through the proper channels. Say View Is Hampered Southard also claims that his view of the bay and lake have been cut off by the Park. The greater part of Southard's shoreline faces the Milk River. He contends that he has lake frontage. The Woods land fill lies out into the bay formed by the Ford Estate and Gaukler Pointe.

but because of the bay, there is less visible channel line than actual shore line. It is the Woods' contention that their reclaim lies on land that is legally theirs under the riparian rights. The point then in court, will undoubtedly center about the legality of the counter-claimant's riparian rights. No Contamination So Far At the present, the Board of Health has taken no action to close the Park, thus far clear of contamination. It is mere speculation as to how long these two situations will continue, despite daily biological checks of the pool water by the city. The board has made it clear that they want a filter put on the pool. At present, the park is suffering from the lack of the filter. Many of the children's mothers will not allow them to swim in the pool because there is no filter." City Manager William Lange said.

One Polio Case Reported to Date

The Pointe continues to keep its almost perfect polio slate as the figures were released from the offices of Grosse Pointe Harper Woods Board of Health offices this week. There have been no new cases since last week, when only one had been reported for the season to date. A composite of the last four years shows remarkable gains, due mainly to the Salk Polio vaccine, according to Dr. Thomas Davies. As of July 30, four cases were reported in 1953, 13 in 1954, four in '55 against only one to date this year. Respectively, out of the cases reported in those years, three, nine, one and one were paralytic. This year's single case, though crippling, is not of the most serious nature, however. Dr. Davies also announces that contrary to previously received information, the immunization age was one to 44 and not one to nine as stated. This means that all children within this age group may obtain the vaccine by one of three methods; through the state program, from their doctor or through certain, but limited retail outlets. Because of the increased susceptibility of expectant mothers, they too are eligible under this program.

LITTLE VISITOR BITTEN

Two year old Judith Shine of 4234 Newport in Detroit was bitten in the left side of the face just above the temple Sunday, July 25, by a bird dog owned by Roy Vogan of 1129 Wayburn. Judy was visiting her grandparents at the time of the accident. According to the Park police report, she was taking the dog some bones when he bit her. The owner said that the dog, still a pup, had not been vaccinated. Judy was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where she was treated. The dog is under observation.

FBI Graduates Holding Parley

On August 1, 2, and 3 graduates of the Michigan Chapter of the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy are meeting at Haven Hill Lodge, Highland Recreation Area, Milford, Michigan, for the 5th annual retraining session for this select group of law enforcement officers. The academy was established on July 29, 1935, by J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and offered the facilities of the Bureau to train outstanding officers to function more efficiently as executives and administrators in their own departments upon graduation. The program has done much to raise the standards of law enforcement throughout the United States and its territories. Over 3,100 officers have graduated from the academy to date. The graduates themselves are keenly aware of the necessity of continuous study and welcome the opportunity of meeting each year for retraining, discussion of their problems and exchanging ideas. Among those attending was Chief of Police Arthur E. Lowers of Grosse Pointe Park. A reformer feels superior because he compares himself with the worst of mankind, rather than the best.

Babe Ruth League to Hold Award Banquet August 8

The Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe, Inc., will hold an award banquet at Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Wednesday, August 8, at 5:30 p.m. C. M. Individual trophies will be awarded to players on the Tigers and Phillies teams as well as to players on the Washington Nationals, the minor league champions. There will also be a number of special awards and prizes. President Neal Nyland announced there will be a number of Detroit Tiger ball players at the banquet to assist in the program as well as several sport celebrities. All major and minor league players and their fathers are urged to attend as well as the 12-year-old graduates from the Park, City, and Farms Little League and their fathers. The tickets are $2.75 each and include a full course dinner. Space is limited and reservations will be honored in order of receipt. An unidentified car was involved in a hit-run case that turned up in the Woods Saturday, July 28.

The car, while backing out of the Mack alley onto Stanhope, plowed into the rear of a car owned by Mrs. A. Merrit of 2369 Stanhope. The car was parked in front of her home at the time of the accident.

A full investigation is underway.

'Nate' Goodnow Asks Support

Nathan B. "Nate" Goodnow, immediate past president of the Detroit Bar Association and active in perfecting the Detroit legal referral system as a national model, is a Republican candidate in the primary election Tuesday for Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County.

Mr. Goodnow lives in Handy Lane, in Grosse Pointe Farms, and his closest approach to a "political" career before he became a candidate for Prosecutor was president of the Gabriel Richard School Parent-Teachers Association, and later president of the Grosse Pointe High School Dads' Club.

He has long been active in the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, American Institute of Management, Detroit Historical Society and the University of Detroit "D" Club, which he once served as president.

Mr. Goodnow majored in business administration at the University of Detroit, Commerce and Finance School. Later, as a student in the University of Detroit law school, Mr. Goodnow was president of his class every year. He was elected to membership in the Jesuit Honor Society and was president of the University of Detroit Student Union. He also received the coveted Scallen award as the scholar-athlete of the University.

Some years ago he was voted a place on the all-time University of Detroit football team.

About his candidacy, Mr. Goodnow revealed how he got into the field of politics as a candidate: "I am a tremendous admirer of President Eisenhower and Mayor Cobo. Several weeks ago a group of Republicans I respect—lawyers, civic leaders and businessmen—told me I could help by making the county ticket stronger. I don't know if they are correct at all in that assumption. But when they put it that way I did not see how I could refuse and still consider myself a good American citizen."

A Detroit newspaper made this observation about his candidacy: "Being a good competitor, Goodnow will give it all he has."

Park Gets Motorcycle

The Grosse Pointe Park Police Department has a brand new motorcycle. It is equipped with the latest in safety devices and is in constant communication with headquarters via two-way radio. One hundred forty-four students at Michigan State University will be honored in October for achieving all "A" academic averages during the spring term at the university.

Among those to be honored is Marvel June Allard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Allard of 1833 Hawthorne road.

To Crack Down On Bad Drivers

Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins has directed his top command to step up enforcement against bad drivers and has made an appeal to good drivers to join the Detroit Police Department in a program designed to cut the city's traffic accidents.

At a meeting with all commanding officers, the Commissioner stressed that police give special attention to speeders and reckless drivers.

"Detroit unfortunately has its share of bad drivers—drivers who flagrantly, deliberately and selfishly violate traffic laws, thereby endangering others' lives as well as their own. We intend to do our best to apprehend these violators before they harm innocent victims," he said.

Commissioner Piggins urged all good drivers to join with the police in signing a pledge to drive safely and to place a safe driving pledge sticker on their cars where it can serve as an example to other drivers, as well as a reminder to themselves.

"Most Detroit drivers are good citizens who make a sincere effort to observe all traffic laws simply because it is the decent thing to do," he said. "However, all of us are inclined to grow careless at times and it is in such moments of carelessness that we get into trouble."

"It is precisely for this reason that we are urging all well-

Abandon Boat At City's Pier

City police are holding a 14-foot runabout with a large outboard motor at the City's municipal pier. The boat was picked up Sunday afternoon, July 29, when it was found empty, anchored 100 feet off the end of Lakeland avenue.

The boat is painted white and has a natural finish interior. City lifeguards noticed the boat anchored on the lake on Saturday. When it was still there Sunday, they notified police.

Authorities have checked with Detroit police to see if any persons had been reported missing on the lake during the weekend. None had.

The boat and motor will be moored at the pier until claimed by their rightful owner.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

If you are one of the many Pointers who viewed with wonder the transformation of the old stucco home at 16935 Maumee avenue about two years ago, perhaps you have already recognized its "before and after" photos on the cover of the August "remodeling" issue of The American Home magazine.

The publication's lead article, "We Made a New Home at the Old Address," was written by Nancy Tisdale and described the trials and tribulations that the Tisdales underwent to re-do the eight-room house and make it the attractive landmark which it is today.

The Larry Tisdales moved into the house 3 1/2 years ago with their two sons, set up a remodeling plan of operation and carried it out during their first two years. It was their fourth such remodeling feat. Mr. T. is in the advertising field and they had previously done over homes in New Orleans, La., Paris, Ill., (14 rooms and 125 years old), and Maplewood, N. J.

In the Ponite home of their choice, the Tisdales went over every single room—painting, papering and remodeling, replacing plumbing fixtures, and tiling floors—before tackling the exterior where they also did a masterful job.

They face-lifted the front porch, painted the house Colonial yellow, trimmed in white with green shutters and added some new shrubbery. Result: an entirely different picture home.

Mrs. Tisdale wouldn't recommend her overall remodeling program to anyone who "doesn't really like it." "You have to keep your eye on your goal and not mind the mess it's necessary to go through to reach it," she points out.

"We're inclined to think that American Home editors would be aghast if they knew Mrs. Tisdale's concluding message when our interview ended. "We've just found another old house in Grosse Pointe," said she happily, "so this one is now up for sale!"

Helps Husband Campaign

MRS. ROCKWELL T. GUST, JR. (right), wife of a candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress in the 14th District, distributes "Gust for Congress" campaign literature as she prepares to care for the children of mothers who have volunteered to canvass their neighborhoods in support of Mr. Gust.

Gust's Campaign In Stretch Drive

Supporters of Rockwell T. "Rocky" Gust, Jr., candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 14th District, are spending the last days of the primary campaign in intensive house-to-house canvassing in support of their candidate.

Spurred by Mr. Gust's appeal to all residents to vote in the primary election next Tuesday, the volunteer workers are redoubling their efforts to convince Republican voters in the District that "Rocky" is the best qualified man to win the Congressional seat now held by a Democrat.

As part of their over-all activity, volunteer Gust-for-Congress workers have organized themselves into "Flying Squads" to make evening door-to-door visits throughout the large District.

Assignments for the "Flying Squads" are made at the Gust Drive-In campaign headquarters at Mack and Buckingham. The unique campaign headquarters, where voters may get campaign literature and meet the candidate without leaving their cars, attracted the attention of the producers of the CBS news program featuring Douglas Edwards, and a camera crew recently spent the afternoon filming the headquarters for use on the network television program.

The drive-in headquarters is being operated in cooperation with Albert R. "Al" D'Eath, Republican candidate for State Senator in the first Senatorial District, who owns the property.

The drive-in headquarters was also the scene last Saturday of "Meet Rocky Gust" day, a 12-hour drive to get as many voters as possible down to meet Mr. Gust and to hear him discuss his "Yardstick" for measuring proposed legislation. Under the "Yardstick system," Mr. Gust promises that, if nominated and elected, he will measure every law to be sure it gives every citizen equal opportunities and protection, and does not favor any special group.

In other primary campaign innovations, Mrs. Ann Gust, wife of the candidate, has cared for the children of mothers who have volunteered to canvass 14th District residents during the day.

Robert E. Waldron, Mr. Gust's campaign manager, said "All this activity by volunteer workers interested in good government indicates a strong pro-Gust sentiment in the 14th District. It shows a great many citizens are convinced that Mr. Gust is the best candidate the Republican party could have."

Mr. Waldron, State Legislator from the 13th State Representative District, pointed out that he was devoting all his time to the Gust campaign because he is "convinced our fighting candidate will do an outstanding job for the District—and for our country—in Congress."

He added his appeal to that of Mr. Gust for a large turnout at the polls on Primary Election Day.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

A minor traffic accident at the corner of Maumee and Notre Dame, Tuesday, July 24, resulted in damage to two cars, but none of the passengers was injured.

In the early afternoon, Robert Sketch of 692 Ashland, in Detroit, failed to stop his 1952 Ford at the corner of Maumee. His car continued through the intersection and into a 1955 Dodge driven by Kenneth Savage, of 206 Fisher road.

Sketch was ticketed for reckless driving and not having his car under control.

Faith is a firm belief that the impossible is going to happen.

Post to be Given Awards By Ground Observer Corps

Arthur Coleridge, 1075 Waburn, Grosse Pointe Park, will receive a bar for 750 hours of observation at the Saratoga Hospital Post of the Ground Observer Corps on August 8th at Cannon Memorial Auditorium.

Each member of the post is required to serve two hours per week, either during the day or night, and many of the members have donated necessary equipment to the post out of their own pockets.

Weather equipment, binoculars, barometers, etc., are some of the items personally provided by Post members. Besides watching for possible sneak attacks, Ground Observer Corps members also warn of approaching tornados, and bad wind storms.

Additional awards to be given out at the meeting are a 1500 Hour Bar, 750 Hour Bar, 500 Hour Bar and twelve 250 Hour Bars. Eighteen members who have completed their 150 hours of voluntary service will receive merit badges, 64 will be awarded training certificates, 25 Identification Cards will be given to new members, and two junior members will receive their wings for completing their preliminary course.

After presentation of awards by Post Supervisor, Abe Kooman, members will see "One Plane, One Bomb," a film of a simulated attack on New York City and the results.

Through the generosity of various merchants and business men, the Post has received various pieces of furniture, including a straight chair and desk, filing cabinet, linoleum, and paint. However, the Post still needs an electric heater, preferably with fan, for the coming winter nights, a comfortable chair, and a hotplate for making coffee at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. Anyone interested in donating furniture or articles useful to the Post, please contact Mrs. Kooman, V.A. 3-2393.

The August 8 meeting, to be held at 7:30, will be open to the public and anyone who would like to be active in this civilian service to their country may obtain all the necessary information from Mr. and Mrs. Kooman either at the meeting or by phone.

Dog Chews Leg Instead of Bone

Young Gloria Baldwin ran into a bit of trouble, Wednesday, July 25, leading from a slight case of mistaken identity. She was nipped on the leg by a dog, who, according to the Park police report was "chewing on a bone". It was not disclosed just whose bone it was, but Gloria was not in serious trouble. She was treated by the Park police and instructed to see her family physician. She is the daughter of the M. D. Baldwins of Bedford road.

Park to Hold Own Fish Rodeo

At a meeting at the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club Monday, July 30, plans for the annual Fishing Rodeo, August 18, were formulated under the direction of Farms Park supervisor Ed Lauer.

The activity will be known as the Grosse Pointe Boys and Girls Fishing Rodeo and is part of the Boy and Girl National Better Fishing Program sponsored by Better Fishing, Inc.

Better Fishing, Inc., is a non-profit organization of sportsmen interested in helping children under 17 to become better fishermen and better Americans.

More than 4,000,000 boys and girls from 48 states take part in the national program.

Where the Farms, City, and Park kids formerly got together on Fish Rodeo day and all fished from the Farms dock, this year only the youngsters from the Farms and City will angle at the Farms Park.

Grosse Pointe Park youngsters prefer to fish at their own park and the Park will stage its own Rodeo. Park supervisor Dave Beauvais was quick to point out that "We are not breaking away from the Farms and City, but we are going along with our kids' wishes."

Car Rams Tree On Kercheval

A corner proved too much for driver Clifford Mullas of Southfield Township. Mullas was driving north on Three Mile drive on Friday, July 27.

He stopped at the Kercheval intersection, started to turn left onto Kercheval and lost control. It jumped the curb and rammed a tree on the parking.

Mullas received head contusions and an unidentified passenger was cut, but both refused medical attention. He was issued a ticket for not having his car under control. The car was towed to a service station.

The new division president started with A & P in 1929 and the following year was named operating superintendent of the Cincinnati Unit. Later, he served the Indianapolis and Detroit units in a similar capacity.

Mr. Bucher was appointed division director of operation in 1941 and elected vice president in charge of the Detroit Unit in 1952.

Hurls No-Hitter In Minors Game

Mike Wallace, 22 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace of 1332 Bedford, pitched a no-hit, no-run game last Tuesday, July 17, for the Mattoon team, a class C Philadelphia Phillies farm club in the Midwest west League.

It was the first perfect game a Mattoon pitcher had turned in since the team joined the league in 1947.

In fashioning his masterpiece Wallace walked only seven batters and after the game claimed it wasn't the best game he had ever pitched but his luckiest.

The closest thing to a hit came on a line drive back to the pitcher in the seventh inning. Wallace claimed this was his lucky break because he just threw his glove up for protection and the ball stuck. Said Mike "If it had been a couple of inches either way it would have been a sure hit."

The no-hitter gave Mike a season record of 10 wins and 6 losses which makes him the leading pitcher of the Mattoon mound corps and the seventh best in the league.

Mike was graduated from Grosse Pointe High, where the closest he got to a ball game was as score keeper. He played CYO and Federation ball in Detroit and in 1954 pitched a no-hitter for the CYO title. In the same season he tossed a one-hitter to win the Class C Federation crown.

Seventy cents out of every dollar spent on disaster relief by the American Red Cross, is used for long-term help to the victims, including the repairing and rebuilding of homes and small businesses, the replacing of household furnishings, and extended medical aid. This is in addition to the money spent during the actual emergency period.

other whenever they got the chance. And although the winning records of these two great competitors were never put down in black and white, if they had been, both would have an equal number of winning guns to their credit. As a matter of fact neither cared too much about winning the race just as long as they beat each other.

There was the time Russ and Joe were having a red hot duel on Lake St. Clair when a heavy, blinding fog rolled in as their two yachts were sneaking along the Canadian shore. Space was valuable—the first one to tack would almost surely lose the race. Cagney Pouliot tricked Snay into tacking when he called out in a French-Canadian dialect "Hey Pierre, where's the punty?" Snay, hearing this, thought he was too close to shore and tacked immediately, and lost the race.

Joe got even with Russ a few days later when he discovered the trick Russ was grabbing a couple of "forty winks" on the porch of the old Bayview Yacht Club when Joe spotted him. Sneaking up behind him Joe yelled "Fire." With that the nimble Pouliot jumped up, and fell over the porch railing into the river.

It was stuff like that that made life interesting for these two great sailors. As a matter of fact they matched wits aboard some of the finest yachts around here. No matter what class, R boats, Eight meters and the big racing cruising boats, you would always find Joe and Russ calling the shots for the owners who got the glory for winning the race, but always giving credit where credit was due—to Russ and Joe.

Had Russ cared for worldly goods he could have gained fame and fortune designing boats. But Russ never cared for anything except to design, build and race fine yachts. His greatest masterpiece was Russell Alger's yawl "Baccarat." Under Alger and Pouliot the "Baccarat" became the first and only yacht to win four consecutive Port Huron to Mackinac races. Her first victory came in her first year, 1933, and she was the Queen of the Mackinac fleet for the next three years. In 1934 Alger took her East for the Bermuda race and won this classic. After this race Russ said "She did pretty good for a back yard boat, eh?"

That's where the "Baccarat" was built—in Russ' back yard and although we were too young to remember, the stories we have heard from the old timers about the building of the yacht, it was a happy and fantastic adventure for all who took part. It seemed like everyone had a hand. It was the biggest thing Russ had attempted to design and build, 54 feet overall, and all his friends were interested. They would stop to see the progress and before you knew it were following Russ' instructions and working like beavers.

Boats, boats, boats and more boats was the story of Pouliot's life. If he wasn't building or designing them he was talking boats. His wife, Nora, has known nothing but boats all the years she has shared the joys and sorrows with Russ. There were good times, like when Russ was the president of the Pouliot Boat Works where the mastery of his touch molded rough timbers into beautiful yachts. Russ had no peer and there never will be another to take his place—at least around these parts.

He was always one to help a sailor who showed he had enthusiasm for the sport of yacht racing. We have seen him stop an important job and offer his help for free when he saw a sailor struggling with a knotty problem. "No, no, that's not the way to do it, let me show you," and Russ would pitch in and finish the job in jig time.

On these occasions Russ would never accept money for his help but would accept a beer and sit down and talk boats with his appreciative new friend.

The Port Huron-Mackinac race will always be a memorial to Russ Pouliot who, with his life long friend Perc Williamson, inaugurated the classic which has become famous the world around.

Russ sailed his last Mackinac race in 1953 but this year felt well enough to go aboard Commodore Ted Werthmann's big yawl "Algonkin", which was the judges' boat, to watch the start of the race. Every skipper and crew in the 62-boat fleet waved a greeting to Russ. You just knew there was a celebrity aboard the "Algonkin." All the competing yachts made sure they sailed close to the judges' boat just to say hello to one of the greatest sailors, designers, and boat builders to sail the Great Lakes.

Russ slipped away for the cruise to the sailors' Yalhallia while the rest of us were asleep on Sunday, July 23, which was the way Russ always did things. He wasn't the type to seek attention.

The Detroit Riverama Aquatic Committee GOOFED, again. Consequently, the second annual Riverama program will be minus one of its most spectacular events—the Stock Outboard races.

Last year, the first of the Riverama, mistakes were expected in the organizing and running of a spectacle of such magnitude. We, naturally, were interested in the Aquatic program and it was in this department the committee fouled up the works by the numbers. That is until someone smartened up and tossed out the original committee and replaced it with men like Len Thompson, Ed Bodkin and Ben Ford, to name just a few of the many Pointers who were on the second committee. Once this committee straightened out the mess it got something really constructive in the mill, although it had a scant six weeks before the opening of the Riverama program.

The first thing this committee did was ask the Belle Isle

Outboard Club to stage a Closed Course regatta on the Detroit River above the Belle Isle Bridge.

Because of the late request Commodore Nick Kern and the BIOC members turned to and in whirlwind fashion produced one of the outstanding features of the 1956 Riverama week.

Because the Riverama program had already been established the BIOC accepted an "OFF" day, Friday, but still drew 130 Stock Outboard drivers from five states and Canada to run in the first Closed Course outboard race held on the river in 25 years.

These guys, most of whom were teen-agers, put on a great show that drew rave notices from the press and public. Even the City fathers said, "it was an outstanding YOUTH program and should be given 'top drawer' priority for the 1956 Riverama program."

What a difference a year makes—these same city fathers have forgotten already. That "top drawer" stuff was so much bilge wash.

Here's where the 1956 Riverama committee goofed. Instead of giving Commodore Kerns and his club the go-ahead signal early enough to obtain an APBA sanctioned date they just picked a date out of the blue and told the BIOC when the Stock Outboards must run. It just so happens the City of Toledo is staging a civic event of its own and had requested APBA sanction for an outboard regatta the same day the Riverama had tardily chosen. Toledo got its sanction last February. Riverama didn't pick its date until this June.

So as not to conflict with Toledo's regatta Commodore Kerns requested Monday, Aug-
