AN OPEN FIGHT over the civil-rights plank appears in the offing at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. The fight was promised after a frantic backstage compromise effort to nail a stronger civil rights plank into the Democratic Party's 1956 platform, collapsed. The behind-the-scenes move brought the Convention to a standstill when Southerners refused to amend the plank in a form sought by Northern liberals. The showdown, however, appears to be hours away, being No. 11 on the list scheduled to be read to the delegates. Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams said that he was hoping to get the fight started to strengthen the plank.

THE UNITED STATES and Russia are reported to be in agreement that armed force is not the way to settle the Suez Canal crisis. The agreement was brought about when Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met with Russia's Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov for the first time. The two statesmen conferred for 90 minutes. Dulles said Shepilov stated his country was ready to join in an effort to take the canal dispute out of world politics. However, their talk brought them no nearer firm agreement on what the settlement will be. They were still split over Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's insistence that Egypt must operate the canal and limit any international role to advice.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL was exonerated in the death of a 15-month-old baby, by the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office. The hospital was accused of neglect in the death of James McAbee last week. Deputy Medical Examiner Robert J. Silery declared after an investigation, that the child was suffering from a form of meningitis "and would have died whether or not it had received medical attention." He said his office could find no evidence of negligence on the part of the hospital. The child's mother, Mrs. Caroline McAbee, 27, of 8261 Asbury Park, Herman Gardens, charged her son died in her arms after she had waited vainly more than two hours for medical attention. Dr. Joseph G. Molner, health commissioner, said that he will conduct his own investigation in the matter.

PACKARD MOTORS, the motor car factory in Detroit, was almost silent. Nearly all of its production workers have been laid off or transferred to the Utica plant. It may close its doors for good. No statement was forthcoming from the Curtis-Wright corporation, now in control of Studebaker-Packard. Neither was information available from officials of Local 190 (UAW).

A union official, who spoke as a private worker, said the closing of the plant, located on E. Grand boulevard, is un-called for. He felt that the laid-off men could still handle work on Government contracts. Many of the men laid off fear they are too old to find another job and too young to retire.

EGYPT HURLED defiance at the West and demanded the right of sole control of the Suez Canal. A spokesman for Egyptian President Nasser said that there will be no compromise which interferes with the independence and sovereignty of Egypt. Although the spokesman is in London during the 22-nation conference on the critical situation, he is there only to act on any conference proposal. Egypt is boycotting the talks. The Egyptian spokesman had no comment to make on the question of whether his country will seek Soviet help against any force from the West. Talks on the canal began behind a tight curtain in a peaceful London, far from the clamor and turmoil of the Middle East.

Pointers Grab Spotlight in Silver Cup Race

This year's Silver Cup race turned out to be pretty much of a Pointe event. Owner of the winning boat, "Miss U.S. 11," is GEORGE SIMON, shown filling the replica of the O. J. Mulford Silver Cup which he won. MRS. JOHN W. MULFORD assists, while MR. MULFORD beams approval. The cup was named in memory

Single Polio Case Mars 1956 Record

Report Shows Six Cases at Same Time in 1955; 26 in 1954 and 10 in 1953

The Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Health District had but a single case of infantile paralysis reported up to August 20, according to Dr. Thomas Davies, health commissioner.

On the same date in 1955 there had been a total of 10 cases reported; in 1954, 26 cases; and last year, six cases.

Seven cases accompanied by some paralysis had been reported by August 20 in 1953; 14 in 1954, one last year. The single case reported in the district to date this year, was accompanied by slight paralysis.

There was one death for the disease in 1953 and one in 1954, with none last year.

Totals for the entire season in 1953 were 28 cases; in 1954, 43 cases; last year, 20 cases.

Talkative Crow Cuts into Sleep

A disgruntled Farms housewife with something to crow about, called the police station at 6:40 a.m. Thursday, August 16. She complained of a neighbor's pet crow which came to her home every morning at 6:30 sharp.

She didn't mind the bird until it learned to talk. Now it comes and settles on her roof spilling off the latest words in its repertoire. The woman asked police to instruct the bird's owners to confine it to its own home.

Farms Told It May Own Submerged Land at Pier

The Farms might have a valid argument in its bid for a deed to its Pier-Park property which extends beyond the shoreline into Lake St. Clair, it was brought out by Farms City Attorney Edward P. Wright on Monday, August 20.

Regional Plan Commission Report Reveals Big Gains In Dwellings in Pointes

Shores Has Greatest Growth Percentage-Wise, With Woods Having Biggest Total With Increase of 1,933 Since 1950

The Shores showed the biggest gain, percentage-wise, in dwelling units, as compared to the other Pointes, according to figures released by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

The Commission's information showed that in 1950, the Shores had only 264 homes, and as of July 1 of this year, the figure was 540, a gain of 276, or 104.5 percent.

Woods Gains 1,933 Units

The Woods follows with 2,917 in 1950; climbing to 4,150 by 1956, showing a gain of 1,933 units or 66.3 percent.

In 1950 the Farms counted 2,580 homes; and in 1956 the number was 3,500, a gain of 920, or 35.7 percent; the Park's figure for 1950 was 3,806 units, which by 1956 jumped to 4,450, gaining 644 units, or 16.9 percent; and the City, 1,899 units in 1950; climbing to 2,150 by 1956, making the gain 251, or 13.2 percent.

The commission's report also disclosed that in the first six months of 1956 the Woods-issued 58 dwelling unit construction permits; the Shores, 45; the Farms, 43; the City, 20; and the Park, 19.

17,982 New Homes in Area

The total number of dwelling unit permits issued in the Detroit Metropolitan area is given as 17,982, of which 8,837 were given out in Wayne County; 5,134 in Oakland County; and 4,011 in Macomb County.

The number of building permits issued is compiled from information given to the Regional Planning Commission by building inspectors and clerks of the more than 100 communities in the area.

There were 2,500 less residential building permits issued in the first six months of 1956 than in the first half of 1955. The 1956 total for the standard metropolitan area has already been given. The Regional total, which includes the four eastern townships of Washtenaw County, in addition to the standard metropolitan area, is 18,192.

Reveals National Trend

The decline in the Detroit Region, however, is in line with national residential building in 1956. The Federal Reserve Bulletin issued in May of the year reports a national residential building decline, reflecting a readjustment in dwelling units from peak building in 1955. Construction costs have risen, as the cost of building service facilities for the new communities. The price of developed land has also continued to rise.

Within the Region, home building has been curtailed in some communities in Oakland and Macomb Counties due to inadequate sewer and drainage systems. New home constructions have apparently advanced beyond the existing capacity of sewer drainage facilities while improvements, addition and new facility construction has lagged far behind in too many cases. Current projects are under way to ease the situation in areas where flooding has been most severe. Building has been abandoned where existing systems are inadequate.

Ring Theft Solved in Short Order

Cooperation Between Detroit and City of Grosse Pointe Police Brings Results

Precision coordination between City police detectives and Detroit police, resulted in the 24-hour solution of a grand larceny in Grosse Pointe City last week. So swift and efficient was the work of the police that the culprit was arrested and arraigned before Judge Douglas Paterson, one day after the crime was reported.

On Tuesday, August 14, Mrs. Winifred H. Willard of 409 Rivard boulevard, discovered that two diamond rings were missing. She believed that she might have misplaced them, but questioned her domestic help.

Painter Furnishes Clue

James Terry, a painter employed by the owner of the terrace in which the Willards live, told Mrs. Willard that a cleaning woman was talking about some rings she had pawned.

Mrs. Willard immediately called the police. That was Friday, August 17. Chief Thomas Trombly and Robert Smith of the Detroit pawn detail, went to the shop at 641 Gratiot where the woman pawned the rings. They discovered only one wedding band.

Inside was inscribed the name, "Willard." The proprietor told the officers that a woman came in and said her name

Coburn to Join Staff in Woods

Wallace W. Coburn, 35, of Ann Arbor, Mich., will take up duties as an administrative assistant in the Woods, the fastest growing Pointe community, beginning September 1. Coburn, who is single, was born in Fort Wayne, Ind., on September 14, 1920. He received his bachelor degree in public administration from the University of Miami in 1949, and his master's degree in June 1954, from the University of Michigan.

He was with the Michigan Department of Administration from July 1954 to August 1955, going from there to serve as a staff associate of the Michigan Municipal League, a position he is leaving to accept the post in the Woods.

Firefighting Pact Receives Approval Of Farms Council

Becomes Fifth of Sixth Municipalities Involved to Give Okay to Mutual Aid Plan; City Studying Agreement

The Farms became the fifth community to approve the Mutual Aid Firefighting Agreement by which the five Pointes and Harper Woods will benefit.

The Farms council, on Monday, August 20, authorized Mayor William Connolly and Acting City Clerk Dawson F. Nacy to affix their signatures to the agreement provided the other interested communities also would sign.

Shores Asked Revision

The Shores had requested a slight revision in the agreement, which was discussed and agreed upon by the Pointes and Harper Woods, at a meeting held on August 15.

The revision stipulates that the six cities must agree to have public liability and property damage insurance.

Yet to sign the agreement is the City, which met on Monday, August 20, for a regular council session, and placed the agreement in the hands of a committee for further study.

Would Send Help

The mutual aid pact calls for the help of one or more communities in the event of a big fire, whereby each of the cities involved, if called on, will send needed pieces of firefighting equipment and a given number of men to man them.

The fire chief, in whose city there is a fire, will be in command of the men and equipment.

Sex Offender Given 90 Days

Emil Hommel, 56, who gave his address as the Randolph Hotel in Detroit, was given a 90-day sentence in the Wayne County Jail by Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, August 15, after being found guilty of taking indecent liberties with two small girls.

According to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, Hommel, who sometimes uses the alias James E. Mason, was arrested on August 3, when the parents of the girls, 11 and eight, filed complaints accusing him of molesting the children.

Following his arrest, Hommel protested his innocence, claiming he had never been arrested before on such charges.

Chief Louwers said that a fingerprint check with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, revealed that Hommel had a record of similar offenses in other states.

The chief said that Hommel was walking in Barrington road on July 30, claiming to be looking for work as a gardener, when he met the girls and committed the crime.

When confronted, the arrested man admitted his guilt. Judge Belanger passed the sentence as recommended by the police department, the chief said.

Farms Review and Regatta Proves Terrific Success

Highlighted by the arrival of guest judge Soupy Sales, in a jeep complete with siren, the Fourth Annual Review and Regatta of Grosse Pointe Farms, sponsored and directed by the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Owners Club for the second successive year, staged its most successful spectacular to date, last Sunday.

First came an exhibition of seamanship shown in the sailing races participated in by the Crescent Sail Club, which were run under ideal conditions and brought out full equipment, including spinners.

Following the thrills of this event, the annual Review of decorated craft of all types was the most elaborate and original ever witnessed at the Farms pier. First boat in the review contained Regatta Queen Joy Tesch, and her court of six bathing beauties, Joan Loveless, Barbara Beaupre, Judy Delaney, Melissa Collins, Betty Sheehan, and Sus Schwartz, chosen by the life guards of Farms pier.

The arrival of TV's comic star, Soupy Sales, idol of Detroit's youngest set, heralded a tremendous outburst and Soupy took it all in his stride—autographing feverishly right and left and talking with the queen and her court.

Prior to the scheduled racing, an exhibition speed run by a 266 cu. in. 400 H.P. hydroplane, Miss Chiro, thrilled the crowds with speeds upwards of 80 mph in rough water. This boat was designed and built by Bud James, who operates the James Racing Engine Company of Grosse Pointe Farms, and who pilots his own boat. James is racing in the Riverama 266 Classic on Saturday, August 25.

The scheduled racing followed this exhibition and consisted of five races by various classes of outboards and three inboard races. Excitement again took over the scene in the final race (Continued on Page 2)

Issue to Go On Ballot In November

Farms Council Accedes to Request of Petitioners for Second Advisory Expression

The highly controversial issue of fluoridation will again be placed before the Farms' voters during the election in November.

The Farms council on Monday, August 20, accepted and placed on file a petition bearing the signatures of 355 residents of the city who are proponents of fluoridation. The petition asked only that the issue be placed on the ballot purely as an advisory vote.

Called Only Fair

Inasmuch as the issue was placed before the voters during the spring election on April 4, 1955, at the behest of an anti-fluoridation group, the council felt that it would be only fair to bring the matter before the public again, for "a better expression of opinion," as those who favor fluorine in the water supply put it.

A factor which brought about the idea of fairness, came about when City Attorney Edward P. Wright informed the council that in order to make the issue mandatory, the petition needed the signatures of 25 percent of the city's qualified electors. The opponents of fluoridation lacked the 25 percent last year, too, when they requested the matter be presented to the public. Their petitions bore 803 signatures.

Cites Light Vote

Thomas Rochford of 325 Belanger, who with Harry Carson of 88 Cambridge, headed the drive for the petition, told the council that it was felt that because of the light vote in last year's spring election, it was his opinion, as well as that of others who favored the use of the chemical, that not all the people expressed an opinion on the issue.

He said that because this is a presidential election year, more voters will go to the polls in November, and with the matter before them, a better opinion can be sought.

In the 1955 spring election, approximately 3,100 of the Farms' more than 8,000 qualified electors went to the polls to choose their city officials and to say whether or not they wished to have the city continue the use of fluorine in their water supply. This, too, was an advisory vote, and did not bind the city to discontinue its use.

Public Pressure Felt

When the votes were tallied, it was found that 1,832 did not want the fluorine; and 1,366 were for it. For a while, after the election, the Farms continued the use of the chemical, but public pressure forced the city to discontinue its use in May 1955.

Now, the matter comes up, what voice the residents of the City will have in the matter? As it stands now, Farms citizens alone will decide whether fluoridation will be re-continued, whereas, City residents will have to remain silent.

The City receives all of its water from the Farms and should be given the right to help decide the issue, many residents there have contended.

Tennis Tourney Starts Friday

The first Annual All Grosse Pointe Tennis Tournament will get underway tomorrow, Friday, August 24. First round matches will begin at 10 a.m. on the Grosse Pointe University School's six new courts.

Play will continue everyday with the final matches scheduled for Labor Day. Spectators are invited to watch. There is no admittance charge.

Sponsors of the tournament are the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, the Metropolitan Club, the Hunt Club, the Country Club of Detroit, Grosse Pointe Tennis Club, Grosse Pointe Sport Shop, and Gray's Sport Shop and a number of businessmen and individual residents.

The draw for the tournament was made at the Neighborhood Club on Monday evening, August 20, by the tennis committee.

Firemen Attend Training Center

Captain Harold Rivard and a number of members of the City's fire department attended the Regional Fire School at Mt. Clemens Volunteer Training Center on Saturday, August 18. Those men who could not take the training last Saturday, will do so on August 25. The school is sponsored by the Macomb County Firemen's Association, and classes are conducted by the University of Michigan Extension Service for Firemanship Training. Subjects taught are: Fire pump operations, fire hose practices, ladder evaluation, the use of the mask, ventilation, and first aid.

Scratches Only Results Of Bike and Car Tangle

John R. Huetteman of 340 Ridgmont avenue, went into the Farms police station on Tuesday afternoon, August 14, with young David Looker of 44 McKinley place. Huetteman related that he was driving his Chevrolet convertible north on Kerby road between Lake Shore and Grosse Pointe boulevard. David, who was on his bicycle, was also going in the same direction. The boy cut over from the left lane and ran into the right side of the Huetteman car. The Chevy was not damaged and Dave's bike suffered only a few scratches. He was not injured.

Obituaries

HELEN A. GOULD
Mrs. Gould of 729 Harcourt, wife of Herbert Gould, general manager of the Motors Holding Division, General Motors Corporation, died on Wednesday, August 15.

Memorial services were held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Friday, August 17. Funeral services were held in Philadelphia, Pa., on Saturday, August 18. Burial was in Westminster cemetery in that city.

A native of Philadelphia, Mrs. Gould moved to West Palm Beach, Fla., as a child and lived there until her marriage April 28, 1926, when she returned to Philadelphia with her husband. They moved to New York and were Westernchester County residents for 20 years before moving to the Detroit area seven years ago.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Charles White of Bloomfield Hills; a sister, Miss Laura Fleming of Black Mountain, N.C.; and a brother, Donald, now residing in Saudi Arabia.

JENNIE E. CROWLEY
Mrs. Crowley, 86, of 243 Lakeland, widow of Joseph J. Crowley, one of the founders of Crowley, Milner and company, was buried on Tuesday, August 21, in Mt. Elliot cemetery, following a Requiem Mass in Sts. Peter and Paul Jesuit Church.

A native of Detroit, she died on Saturday, August 18, in Harper Hospital, after only a month's illness. She was the former Jennie Flynn. She married Mr. Crowley in 1896.

Since the death of her husband in 1925, Mrs. Crowley was senior member of the store's board of directors and executor of the J. J. Crowley estate, which holds controlling interest in the firm.

She leaves a son, Daniel J. Crowley, president of Crowley Milner's; daughters, Mrs. DeHull Travis, a vice-president of the firm; Mrs. David Standard and Mrs. John Keyes; a sister, Mrs. William W. Cooney; and four grandchildren, Richard and Joseph Keyes, and JoAnn and Patricia Standard.

LIFE PRESERVERS STOLEN
Dr. L. H. Williams of 818 Bishop road, complained to Park police that two life preservers were stolen from his boat at the waterfront park on Tuesday, August 14.

Ring Theft

Park Patrolmen Henry Coonce, John Carroll and Charles Clear recently completed one week of intensive motorcycle training under the instructors of the Detroit Police Department's Motor Division, according to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Chief Louwers said that the training consisted of all type of operations in all kinds of weather. He said that most of the riding took place on rough terrain through irregular ground levels, which contained mud and water.

"Learning to run a cycle in its most difficult operations," he said, "provides the officers with the skill necessary to do a good traffic enforcement job."

Following their graduation, the officers were assigned to regular enforcement and as their knowledge and familiarity with the machine increases, their individual traffic enforcement should be a definite deterrent to the violator, the chief added.

He said that he is grateful to the Detroit Police Department for the training given to his officers.

Training for motorcycle duty was severe, the three officers said, but they agreed that the effort expended provided each with the know-how to do a more effective job.

SPRINKLER STOLEN
Dr. Henry J. Kehoe of 91 Renaud, reported to Woods police on Tuesday, August 14, that someone had cut a hose on his lawn and stolen his automatic lawn sprinkler which he valued at $35.

Edna Blanton was arrested Friday afternoon on suspicion of grand larceny. She was arraigned the same evening, the day after Mrs. Willard came to the police, asking their help. She was ordered to court for examination on August 22.

The American Red Cross last year issued 202,100 certificates to persons completing its home nursing courses.

Arrested in Store
The two officers felt confident that they were on the right track. They arrested Edna Blanton, the "cleaning" woman, in a neighborhood grocery store.

She denied knowing anything about the rings, but when police reminded her that they had her thumb print on a pawn ticket, she changed her story.

The second ring, which was worth $2000, was sold to a boy friend, Ernest Parker of 628 Philadelphia. Edna said she got $125 for the ring. Police then picked up Parker. He denied any knowledge that the ring was stolen property. He then sold the ring to Willie Lee Kilpatrick of 8049 Woodrow Wilson. Kilpatrick paid Parker $150 for the ring. Three more men handled the ring that afternoon before it finally reached a jeweler in the Kales building.

The jeweler had cut up the expensive platinum setting and was planning to melt it down when Chief Trombly and Detective Smith arrived. He had already set the two stones in two other rings. He also denied knowing that the original ring was stolen.

The Right Decision—at the Right Time!

There is good reason why the man sitting in the beautiful motor car above looks so pleased and happy. He has just decided to make the move to Cadillac!

This, to be sure, is cause for great satisfaction in itself. For the wisdom of selecting Cadillac is undeniable. In beauty, in luxury, in performance, in everything that makes a motor car good and wonderful—Cadillac stands uniquely alone.

But not only does this gentleman know he has made the wisest possible choice of a motor car—he knows that he has made it at the wisest possible time.

For coming, as he did, at this season of the year, he was able to take advantage of some very favorable circumstances.

To begin with, he will be able to obtain delivery of his Cadillac after only the shortest waiting period. In fact, it is entirely possible that he will actually be able to drive home the model of his choice.

And, even more importantly, he discovered that Cadillac ownership has become more attractive and economical than ever before. Because of low used-car inventory—and as a result of an effort to broaden the base of Cadillac ownership—it is currently possible to receive an unusually generous trade-in allowance.

Little wonder, then, that this gentleman looks so pleased and happy—just as we know you will when you get the full, wonderful facts about Cadillac today!

In fact, we should like to suggest that you come in and hear them for yourself. You'll agree that the right decision is for Cadillac—and the right time is now!

Have Thriving Business at College

ALICE McELVENNY, left, of Cloverly road, has an enterprising business going on the Vassar campus. Photographed in "They Earn While They Learn" in the September issue of WOMAN'S DAY, the A&P magazine, Alice is shown with her business partner, ANN HUFFER, delivering cakes in their little red wagon.

Their flair for cake decorating has turned their unusual venture into quite a business. Parents order the cakes to boost morale at exam time, for birthdays or just for a surprise. Alice and Ann then buy the cakes, decorate and deliver them by hand.

Now netting about $250 a semester, the girls can look forward to more business as their fame spreads. Orders are now coming in from Princeton and Williams.

Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny.

Draperies Theft Laid to Drunks

Two men, described as "young and drunk," broke the window of a Park cleaning establishment and made off with two drapes. An eye-witness, John Troester of 1220 Lakepointe, told police, that on Sunday, August 19, he saw the men as they broke a small window of the Belding Cleaners, 15139 Kercheval, reach in and remove two heavy gray draperies, and put them in their car parked at the curb on Kercheval. As he approached to investigate, he said, the two leaped into their car and drove off.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that Troester described the men as being young and that they appeared drunk. The value of the draperies was not known.

FAIR TO HAVE AIR SHOW
For the first time in its 107 year history the Michigan State Fair will present an aviation show, August 31 through September 9. A large portion of the grounds has been set aside for both civilian and military aircraft.

Center to Show Men's Fashions

"Man about Town and Country" night will take place at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Thursday night at 8 p.m., September 6, on the Memorial Terrace.

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial in conjunction with leading men's haberdashers and Sports Illustrated magazine will present men's fashions for small youngsters through school years, college, the young married set and the business man plus new styles in formal wear. In addition to the fashions shown, entertainment will be furnished by the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre.

The seven Grosse Pointe stores participating are E. J. Hickey, Liebolds, Youngs, Kilgore-Hurd, Higgins and Frank, Grosse Pointe Sport Shop and Stein's. All the stores have obtained the service of volunteer local models. Some of the models already chosen are Mrs. Forber Howard, Rocky Gust, Mrs. David Jansen, Mrs. Edwin R. Stroh and Howard O'Leary.

Fred R. Smith, associate fashion editor of Sports Illustrated, will do the commentary for the fashion show. Mr. Smith has traveled more than 50,000 miles in less than two years, reporting for Sports Illustrated's "Sporting Look" feature. During this time he has reported on new trends, innovations, and the spectator fashions from most fashionable sporting events.

In addition to visiting California more than five times, he has been to Mexico and the Caribbean and has just recently returned from Europe.

Farms Police Halt Drag Race

Two youths picked the wrong street for a drag race Monday night, August 20, when they sped by a parked Farms patrol car.

About 11:30 that evening, officers Peters and Field were parked on Mack avenue near Maison road. They heard, then saw two drag racers approaching from Moross road.

A green Ford station wagon and a 1953 Ford convertible flashed by the parked police car. They had begun their race at the signal light at Mack and Moross.

The convertible turned onto Bournmouth and was apprehended there by the police. Arrested was Thomas Bernard Piche or 445 Moross road. He was taken to the Farms station-house when the police officers could not find any registration for the car.

There it was discovered that the Ford had defective brakes, the right door latch was broken and the door was tied shut to a seat. The speedometer was not working, and the rear plastic window was so cloudy it was opaque.

The car was impounded until it is made safely drivable. Piche was issued a ticket for drag racing from a traffic signal.

Capt. George A. Coury Linguist Team Member

CAMP GRAYLING, August 16—A Grosse Pointe Park resident, George A. Coury, is in training here at Grayling with the 46th Infantry Division Michigan National Guard.

A member of the Army Reserve, Captain Coury heads the Arabic linguist team who are working with the combat intelligence officer of the 46th Infantry Division, Lt. Col. Limer C. Braman of East Lansing.

In regards to information obtained through interrogation of prisoners of war Capt. Coury said: "Information gathered by interrogators reduce to a minimum all uncertainties regarding the strength of the aggressor force during field exercises and aid regimental combat commanders in employing their defense against an attack."

Capt. Coury resides at 805 Pemberton road in Grosse Pointe Park.

Accident Driver Given Ticket by Park Police

William M. Perrett, Jr., 25, of 1127 Kensington, was ticketed on Tuesday, August 14, for not having his car under control and causing an accident at Wayburn and Jefferson.

A Park police report disclosed that Perrett was going west on Jefferson when he ran into the rear of a car driven by Ralph R. Genter, 42, who had stopped for a red light.

Many New Records Set By Goodwill Industries

"Detroit is not only the dynamic city," but is a city with a heart. It is a city that is composed of people who continuously think of others. That is why it is one of the nicest cities in the United States," said Harold H. McKinnon, executive secretary of Goodwill Industries.

McKinnon proves this with figures from Goodwill Industries which show new records in every department since the founding of Goodwill in 1921. The earned income to date this year is $711,986. There were 487 employees served since January. These handicapped people are paid through moneys received from sales in Goodwill stores. They amounted to $412,401, plus salvage, of $172,395, which is material in a condition that cannot be repaired and sold profitably, and through sub-contracts between Goodwill and private industries, which amounted to $110,558.

All of these figures represent new records at Goodwill Industries. If the same pace is set during the next five months, the Detroit Goodwill Industries will be able to hire more handicapped workers from a waiting list of nearly 400 people. It should pass Los Angeles as the No. 1 Goodwill Industry in earned income in the country. Although Goodwill is very thankful and cognizant of the fact that both the radio stations and the Detroit Newspapers have played a great part in bringing in material for the handicapped people to work with, McKinnon gives great credit to the employees, the staff, and the Board of Directors, who are composed of Detroit businessmen, for Goodwill's success.

In many instances, Goodwill Industries has not been able to give the prompt service that has made them the most efficient organization of its kind in Michigan during the past year. This situation was due, according to McKinnon, because Goodwill did not have the usual let-down in the receiving of discharges during June and July that had become a pattern over previous years. Trucks were scarce. Drivers and helpers were scarce. Facilities for handling materials were probably not as good as they would have been a year ago. This situation was actually no fault of the Goodwill Industries' sound business principles established over the years. It is being corrected as rapidly as possible, and today a contributor again can get fast, courteous service.

The handicapped people of Goodwill will need all your usable discards. They would otherwise be thrown away or wasted. At Goodwill they mean jobs, an opportunity of survival, an opportunity for new dignity; in fact, an opportunity for a "design for living" for those handicapped through either disease or accident needing rehabilitation. It is quite generally understood by social workers that there can be no complete rehabilitation without a job. This is what Goodwill offers each employee. Although figures sometimes lie the barest statistics released today by Detroit Goodwill can have only meaning, and that is that Detroit Goodwill Industries is doing a good job toward completing the last and most important part of rehabilitation for the handicapped.

McKinnon did stress, however, that the only way more persons who are handicapped in this area can receive the benefits offered at Goodwill are through the contributions of usable discards, and he suggests that at this time when summer is nearing a close, all of us call TRINITY 3-3600 and give our outgrown clothing, or clothing that will be out of date or too small next year.

Youngblood's Cleaners Opens Pointe Branch

Youngblood's, one of Detroit's oldest and finest quality cleaners, has opened a new Grosse Pointe branch for the convenience of its customers. This company has been giving fine service since the year 1910. Youngblood Cleaners has a reputation for quality cleaning and excellent shirt laundering and their new branch at 18435 Mack, at Canyon, should prove a boon to Grosse Pointers who appreciate perfection in service. During the opening week of the new Grosse Pointe branch money-saving specials will be offered.

AAA Battery A Leaving Pointe

Battery A of the 99th AAA Battalion is in the process of moving camp. The four-gun battery has been situated in Chalfonte road since October, 1952, when the Army leased the property from the Board of Education. This month the lease expires and a new junior high school will be built on the property.

The first bids to be let on the proposed new school building were all much higher than the architect's estimate. These bids were scrapped and announcement was made by the Board that new bids would be taken. The date for the reading of these bids will be August 29. It is hoped that construction will start the middle of September.

In the almost four years while the Army occupied the site, over 500 men have served with Battery A. The operational strength of the installation is about 100 men. This figure includes crews and officers for the guns and radar units.

The four radar controlled 90 mm anti-aircraft guns are still highly effective against low and medium altitude flying planes. These guns and their crews will be moved to a new site in the Highland Park area.

Two Pointers Complete Army Medical Course

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Tex.—Army First Lieutenants David S. Thompson and Robert A. Petersen of Grosse Pointe, Mich., recently were graduated from the military medical orientation course at the Army Medical Service School, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

The class was composed of newly commissioned officers. The course stressed medical service in combat. Lieutenant Thompson, son of Mrs. Willis S. Thompson, 1346 Somerset, entered the Army last month. A member of Delta Sigma Delta fraternity, the lieutenant received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Michigan in 1951 and his doctor of dentistry degree from the university's School of Dentistry in 1956.

Lieutenant Petersen, whose wife, Sally, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Petersen, live at 276 Fisher, entered the Army last month. A member of Delta Sigma Delta fraternity, the lieutenant was graduated from the University of Michigan this year.

BIG GRAPE CROP

The first of Michigan's grape crop, which promises to be nearly two and a half times larger than last year's tiny harvest and about one and a half times the average crop of the past five years, is beginning to reach local markets. Aug. 1 estimates by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service place Michigan's 1956 grape harvest at 57,000 tons. Last year's harvest was drastically reduced by bad weather at the start of the growing season and amounted to only 23,500 tons.

It's possible to serve the other fellow best by lending a hand rather than advice.

End Active Duty At Camp McCoy

Col. Webster L. Bowler of 414 Belanger, and Lt. Col. Robert H. Hahn of 1198 Anita avenue, have changed to "civies" from uniform again after having completed two weeks of annual active summer duty training at Camp McCoy, Wis.

They joined with scores of other officers throughout Fifth Army Area, to complete a course of instruction on the Command and General Staff level. This course, taught by top-flight instructors, was conducted by the Detroit USAR School, 5906 ARSU Detroit, Michigan.

Pointers Serve On 'Aquarama'

Three college students from Grosse Pointe are spending the summer as part of the 187 man crew of the $8,000,000 S. B. Aquarama now in Detroit for the Riverama civic celebration.

Marjorie A. Pattee, 18, of 1031 Nottingham, is a counter girl aboard the block-long ship.

A member of the National Honor Society in high school, Marjorie will enter Michigan State University this fall.

Beatrice Burrows, 19, of 1274 Vernier Road, is earning her tuition as a cashier in one of the ship's cafeterias. A junior at Michigan State, she is majoring in art education. Beatrice has served on her school's homecoming and water carnival committees and is affiliated with Chi Omega sorority.

Wayne Stavoe, 21, of 1923 Hunt Club drive, serves the ship as its assistant purser, helping to manage the Aquarama's sales and payroll accounts. He has attended the University of Cincinnati and is majoring in industrial design and business administration. Active in school affairs, Wayne is a member of the Sophomore Society, the varsity baseball and swimming teams, and of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

The luxury liner is now completing a Great Lakes good will tour which took it to 11 cities in five states as a salute to the progress they have made in improving their port facilities for the eventual opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway. While visiting these cities the Aquarama, which will be put into daily service as a passenger and automobile ferry between Detroit and Cleveland next year, made four hour lake cruises twice daily.

The Aquarama will be in Chicago August 29 through September 3, leaving Navy Pier at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. each day.

Urge Enrollment Of New Students

"New students entering Grosse Pointe High School have been enrolling for several weeks" announced Walter R. Cleminson, principal. "New students transferring to Grosse Pointe High School from schools other than Pierce or Parcels Junior High Schools should enroll before Saturday, September 1."

The dean of girls and the dean of boys will be in their offices to enroll new students next week, 1 p.m.-3:30 p.m. Monday, August 27, to Friday, August 31. New students should have their school last attended send an official transcript of their complete record to Grosse Pointe High School.

"It is extremely important that new students enroll before September 1," Mr. Cleminson stated.

The High School bookstore will be open all of next week and also Tuesday and Wednesday, September 4 and 5, hours 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Paul Ernest Wright

The former JEAN ANN KIMBRELL, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. Kimbrell of Washington, was married on August 18 to the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wright of Rochester, Pa.

Jean Kimbrell Speaks Vows

Wedding vows were solemnized by Jean Ann Kimbrell and Paul E. Wright Saturday evening before the Rev. Paul Ketchum.

A French silk gown trimmed with yoke of Duchesse lace was worn by the bride, who carried white orchids and stephanotis in her bouquet.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. Kimbrell of Washington road. Shirley Guite, Ann Burton, Sue Gillespie and Mrs. Marion Hill attended the bride.

Mr. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wright, of Rochester, Pa., asked Robert McClean, Donald Trepanier, William Gould and Paul Getty to be groomsmen.

In 1955, the American Red Cross gave $13,394,100 in financial assistance to servicemen, veterans and their dependents.

Report Submitted By Farms Chief

Walter R. Hoyt, chief of police for the Farms, submitted his department's monthly report to Farms councilmen on Monday, August 20.

Twenty-one violators who came to court paid $160 in fines, in July. Ninety other violations contributed another $315. Parking offenses by 212 drivers added $290 dollars to the Farms' coffers.

Four adults and five juveniles had their operator's licenses suspended.

Nineteen traffic accidents involved $2,891 in damages and personal injury to six people.

Only one hold-up netted two thugs $50 when they strong-armed a taxi driver.

There were no cases of breaking and entering and no suicides.

Five simple larceny cases amounted to $119.50 in losses, but $85 of this figure was recovered. The one case of grand larceny when $200 of property was stolen, has not been solved yet.

All five missing persons on the police blotter either returned home or were picked up by officers.

Operators' licenses were issued to 294 persons. Chauffeurs got another 12 licenses.

Of the 19 adults arrested, four were golden rule drunks, and three were boys under 21 with beer in their car. Two men went to court for throwing firecrackers. Three other young men were turned over to an Army Provost Marshall for larceny.

Ten juveniles arrested included five youngsters for throwing firecrackers. Four others were released to their parents after police officers discovered beer in their car. Another youth had his sling shot confiscated after he shot out a neighbor's window.

Fractures Leg In Cycle Crash

A motorcycle and car accident on Wednesday, August 15, resulted in serious injury to the driver of the cycle and a few bumps and bruises for his passenger.

David Butler, 16, of 8120 E. Jefferson, Detroit, was riding east on Waterloo with friend Ronald Kelpin of 5356 Frankfort, on the back of the motorcycle.

James L. Dies, of 13318 St. Andrews street, Detroit, was also going east in his Plymouth sedan. He proceeded to make a right turn onto Notre Dame when the cycle struck his car.

Butler and Kelpin were thrown to the pavement by the force of the impact. When police arrived they were told by young Butler, "Take your time. It's already broken." He was referring to his right leg. He had a double compound fracture. Kelpin suffered a bruised chin and neck.

Both boys were taken to Bon Secours Hospital.

Girl Uninjured In Truck Mishap

A four-year-old Park girl escaped injury when she ran into the side of a panel truck backing out of a driveway on Tuesday, August 14.

The child, Lisa Shirk, of 977 Nottingham, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by the driver of the truck, Donald C. Heidrich, 16, of 2009 Country Club, who then called Park police to report the accident.

Heidrich said he was backing out from a driveway at 968 Westchester, when Lisa ran into his truck.

X-rays taken at the hospital disclosed that the child was not injured in any way.

Heidrich was not ticketed or held by the authorities.

Smack dab in the middle of a pre-nuptial party whirl is Carol Ann Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Cooper of McMillan road.

She will marry Paul Haefner, of Birmingham, at a September 15 afternoon ceremony in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church. A small reception in the Cooper home will follow the family wedding.

On Tuesday, Mrs. James Rouleau gave a kitchen shower for Carol, and Sunday will find guests gathering in Jean Schultz Lakeview avenue home for a miscellaneous shower. Shirley Martin of S. Oxford road will be luncheon hostess on September 2, and Mrs. Robert Striker has planned the spinster dinner for September 12 in her Alter road residence.

Jean Cooper will be her sister's honor maid and another sister, Susan, will attend as bridesmaid. Best man, Calvin Bamford, of Chicago, has scheduled a September 7 bachelor dinner honoring the bridegroom, whose parents are the Daniel Haefners, of Jackson, Mich. Charles Storm will usher.

Mrs. Frederick Jahn is planning a luncheon and shower the first week of September in her Notre Dame avenue home. The rehearsal dinner is set for September 14, in the Detroit Boat Club, with the bridegroom's parents as hosts.

Next Saturday's Bride

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Beyer, Jr., arrived last weekend end from Pittsburgh, and are house guests of the senior John F. Beyers of Hollywood road. Mrs. Beyer is to be honor matron on Saturday when her sister, Carol Louise Ford, exchanges vows with Richard Scott Davidson at 5 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Watson I. Ford of McKinley avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Prof. James Davidson, of Okemos, Mich., and the late Mrs. Davidson.

Carol's bridesmaids include Susan Senff, Betty Jo Muir, of East Grand Rapids; Jane Griffith, of Battle Creek, and Jean Willoughby. Don Devereux, of East Lansing, is to be best man; Jim Peters will also come from East Lansing to serve as head usher.

George Rockwell, of Birmingham; Doug Davidson, of Okemos, brother of the bridegroom-elect, and Andy Samosuk, will be other esquire attendants. Incidentally, the prospective bridegroom was graduated from the University of Michigan on August 18. Barbara and Susan Schrotzberger will attend as flower girls.

Hostesses at parties for Carol have been Mrs. Clarence Maguire of Lochmoor boulevard, Mrs. Howard Bredt of Devonshire road and Miss Senff of Lincoln road. Mrs. John Temple of East Outer drive gave a miscellaneous shower, assisted by Mrs. Frank Willson and Mrs. John Keller. Mrs. Cecil Watson and her daughter, Ann, a fall bride-elect, entertained at a luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

Mrs. Robert Jackson Smith

Before her August 18 marriage in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Mrs. Smith was RONALIE JEAN KELLY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Eugene Kelly of Whittier road. Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Smith of N. Renaud road are the parents of the bridegroom.

At "Mt. View House" in Whitefield, N. H., are MR. and MRS. OWEN R. SKELTON of Ridge road. Early next month they'll come home by way of Maine, Quebec and Ontario, arriving around September 15.

Home after spending a recent weekend in Lima, O., where they looked for antiques are MRS. L. ROTHE FARR, MRS. HARRY W. FROST and MRS. ANGUS GOETZ. Mrs. Farr has double reason for her search since she is vice-chairman of the antiques committee for the November 15 Christmas Fair of Christ Church Grosse Pointe.

With sons, GEORGE, STEVE and BILL, the GEORGE N. MONROS III have returned to Woodland place following their three weeks at the Huron Mountain Club.

Getting settled in their Simsbury, Conn., quarters is the current project of MR. and MRS. W. HOWIE MUIR (ANN MAYO HARTZELL). Home from their Bermuda wedding trip, they stopped for a short visit with the bride's parents, DR. and MRS. JOHN B. HARTZELL of Ridge road, and left for the East. The bridegroom is assistant dean of admissions at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

MRS. DAVID A. WALLACE of Lewiston road left for New York City over the weekend to join MRS. C. HASCALL BLISS for a cruise aboard the Bliss yacht, "Maid Marian."

The SIDNEY T. MILLERS III, back from their European jaunt, are gathering up their two youngsters from the Huron Mountain home of MRS. SIDNEY T. MILLER, JR., of Irvine lane. The young Millers will mark their fifth wedding anniversary on September 1 in New Haven, Conn., where they're living while Mr. M. completes his studies at the Yale School of Architecture.

GRAY WILLIAMS, JR., will be here from Chappaqua, N. Y., on August 31 for a 10-day visit with his bride-elect, MARIAN FERRY, and her parents, MR. and MRS. DEYER FERRY of Notre Dame avenue. Before Marian heads back for her senior year at Vassar, she will be the guest of the senior MR. and MRS. GRAY WILLIAMS at Chappaqua.

The THEODORE H. FUGERS, JR., are spending the month in Metamora, he having just completed his navy tour of duty in Japan. They will leave for Ann Arbor soon, where Ted plans to enroll in the University of Michigan School of Business Administration.

Collegians BILL CURTIS, who is a Yale sophomore, and JIMMY JOY, a Trinity College sophomore student, have spent the summer driving their respective Jaguar and Triumph sports cars across the country. Recent reports indicated they planned stops in Los Angeles and Mexico before coming home.

Recent vacationers at The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., have included MR. and MRS. EDWARD M. BURSICK of Harbor hill.

MARILYN BROWN, daughter of MR. and MRS. ROBERT E. BROWN, of Merriweather road, is now a qualified dietitian. Marilyn, a graduate of Michigan State University, took her year of internship at Indiana University Medical Center.

REVA ANN BECK has returned to her home in Hughson, California, after spending the summer with her aunt and uncle, DR. and MRS. E. O. JODAR of Berkshire road. Reva Ann worked for Dr. Jodar during her stay.

A daughter, HOLLY HANNAH, was born to MR. and MRS. FREDERICK L. HONbrother-in-law and sister, Secretary of the Army WILBER M. BRUCKER. Before returning to their home, the Kuhns will spend some time with friends and relatives in Los Angeles.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE M. FRISCHKORN of Lake Shore road have been vacationing in Northern Michigan.

In Phoenix, Ariz., MR. and MRS. DONALD M. JOHNSON (ELIZABETH JONES, of Grosse Pointe) announce the July 27 birth of a son, ERIC DAVIDSON.

The WALKER L. CISLERS of Devonshire road spent the weekend in Westchester, Pa., as the guests of Mr. Cislser's sister, MRS. WILLIAM NOLTE. Mrs. Cislser visited her mother, MRS. JOHN DEMUTH, in Fairfield, Conn., the previous week, while her husband was in New York on business.

Expected today from Chevy Chase, Md., are MR. and MRS. W. JAMES SEARS JR., their daughter, CHRISSIE, and son, WALLIE. They are to be guests in the Rivard boulevard home of MR. and MRS. CHARLES B. JOHNSON Jr. The visitors will attend the Saturday wedding of Mrs. Sears' niece, ELIZABETH LEONARD, to JIM FITZPATRICK.

On Sunday, the Johnsons are giving a picnic supper for their guests. On the homeward trip, the Sears family will stop to see another daughter, BARBARA, at Camp Aloha Hive, in Elizabeth, Vt.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM H. SHEPPARD of McMillan road are at home after spending two months in their summer home on Lake Erie, near Kingsville, Ontario.

Ronalie Jean Kelly Weds Robert Smith

Couple Speak Vows at Afternoon Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Honeymooning in Canada

Ronalie Jean Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Eugene Kelly of Whittier road, became Mrs. Robert Jackson Smith on August 18 at a 4:30 o'clock ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, with the Rev. Paul F. Ketchum officiating.

The bride walked up the aisle wearing a gown of white Swiss eyelet embroidered organza with scalloped V-neck. The princess paneled front was drawn back into a Victorian bustle made of embroidered ruffles and the skirt extended into a court train.

A matching crown held her veil of silk illusion, and orchids and Stephanotis formed her cascade bouquet.

Janet Poppen was honor maid. Jeanette Cameron, JoAnne Nederlof, Jane Robey and Linda Worboys were bridesmaids.

The honor attendant wore a white cotton lace sheath over mint green taffeta with green cummerbund and bustle bow. Matching sheaths over yellow taffeta were worn by the bridesmaids.

Their white horsehair picture hats were ribbon-trimmed to match their frocks and they carried baskets of yellow daisy mums.

Richard Smith served as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Smith of N. Renaud road.

David Johnson, Richard Hestwood, Glen Burger, and James Kelly, brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Mrs. Kelly donned a toast Italian silk sheath with brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom wore a cocoa brown lace sheath with matching accessories. Both mothers pinned cymbidium spray orchids to their purses.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the pair left on a Canadian wedding trip.

Howard-Clark Wedding Sept. 8

Woodley Green, Lake Shore road home of Emory W. Clark, will be the scene of a September 8 wedding reception, following the marriage of Mr. Clark's granddaughter, Carolyn Cooper Clark, to Graeme Howard Jr., in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Parents of the pair are the William Reeve Clarks, of Metamora, and the Graeme Howards, of Norfolk, Conn.

The bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Evans Howard (Suzette Alger), will come from Far Hills, N.J., to be in the wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Murphy of Bedford road feted the couple at a Sunday dinner party.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Charles G. Chapman and her daughter, Mrs. Milton Henkel, gave a luncheon and kitchen shower for the bride-elect at the Chapman home in Provencal road.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Black Jr., of Touraine road have reserved August 29 for a cocktail party honoring the pair.

Even if a man starts on the right road he won't get far unless he keeps moving.

Nuptial Vows Said By Suzanne Hurley

Becomes Bride of Edward George Kane at Ceremony in St. Paul's Church on Saturday, August 18

The marriage of Suzanne Elizabeth Hurley and Edward George Kane was solemnized on Saturday, August 18, at 11 o'clock in St. Paul's Church on the lakeshore. The Rev. Robert C. Rohlman offered the nuptial mass.

Miss Hurley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bedford Hurley of Rivard boulevard. Mr. Kane's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kane, of Dearborn.

Handmade Renaissance lace trimmed the neckline of the bridal gown, fashioned of Italian peau de soie with tight-fitting bodice and full skirt extending into a chapel length train.

A cap of matching design secured the illusion veil which fell beyond her train. White orchids and stephanotis were in her bouquet.

Ballerina length dresses of light blue crystalline silk were worn by the four attendants. Matching veiled bands formed their headpieces, and they carried cascade arrangements of white carnations.

Marie Louise Hurley was her sister's maid of honor. Diane Bachle, Betsy Burnett and Carole Jatkoe attended as bridesmaids.

Lawrence Kane, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Seating the guests were Chet Lawrence, Charles Hatcher, Vincent Bielecki and Robert Amato.

Mrs. Hurley wore steel blue peau de soie, matching shoes, pink velvet hat trimmed with iridescent beads and a corsage of pink rubrum lilies. The bridegroom's mother chose a brown silk suit with beige accessories and white orchid corsage.

A wedding breakfast and reception were held at the University Club, after which the couple left for Northern Michigan. They will reside in Milwaukee, where Mr. Kane is completing his studies in the dental school at Marquette University.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Clara Dean, of Oceanlake, Ore., the bride's great-aunt, and Mrs. Michael W. Hackett, of Montreal, Canada, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Edward George Kane

SUZANNE ELIZABETH HURLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bedford Hurley of Rivard boulevard, married the son of the John J. Kanes, of Dearborn, on August 18 in St. Paul's Church on the lakeshore.

Mrs. Richard Ruckman Finch

Saturday rites at St. Paul's Church on the lakeshore united in marriage BARBARA ANN FITZGERALD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Fitzgerald of Moran road, and Mr. Richard Ruckman Finch, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Finch of Cadieux road.

Lake Placid Picked As Honeymoon Site

Barbara Ann Fitzgerald Weds Richard Ruckman Finch at Ceremony on Saturday in St. Paul's Church

Honeymooning at Lake Placid and in the Adirondacks are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ruckman Finch, who were married on Saturday, August 18. The Rev. Robert Rohlman officiated at the noon wedding at St. Paul's Church on the lakeshore.

The bride was formerly Barbara Ann Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Fitzgerald of Moran road. She was gowned in princess style Italian silk with neckline of scalloped lace studded with seed pearls and a chapel train.

A matching pearl-trimmed lace cap held her three-tiered illusion veil, and white gardenias were in her bouquet.

Honor maid Eugenie Salman and bridesmaids Mrs. Paul Williams, Barbara Strauss, Mary Allard and Mary Estes wore identical short frocks of white eyelet over pink silk.

Pink daisy wreaths formed their headpieces and they carried round bouquets of pink daisies and roses.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Finch of Cadieux road, asked John Finch to be his best man. Ushers included William Neat, Dr. Robert Skau, Thomas Finch and Gerald Fitzgerald Jr.

For her daughter's wedding and the breakfast at the Detroit Boat Club, Mrs. Fitzgerald donned a Wedgewood blue silk peau de soie dress with matching accessories and pinned orchids to her handbag.

Mrs. Finch wore beige Italian silk taffeta, matching accessories and white orchid corsage.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Finch changed to a mink brown silk faille dress and beige accessories. They will reside in Lake Shore Village.

Fair to Benefit Home for Aged

When the Summer Fair unfolds at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, 4900 Cadieux road, everything, including the chairman, Mrs. Abram van der Zee, and her committee will be in pink and white.

The St. Joseph's Carmelite Guild will sponsor the fair and dinner which will be held on the beautiful grounds of the Home on Sunday, August 26, from 1 to 6 o'clock.

A delicious turkey dinner will be served in the dining room. The price is $1.50 for adults and 75c for children.

Mrs. H. Dee McCullough is co-chairman and among the other workers are Mrs. Glenn Burgham, kitchen; Mrs. Leo Bonomy, baked goods; Mrs. Arthur J. Ferland, religious articles; Miss Mabel Moseck, supplies; Mrs. William Mauer, dolls; special events, Mrs. Philip Popriefka.

The proceeds from this undertaking will be used to help until a much needed infirmary for the aged at the home.

Summer Seafood Party

The annual "Lobster Pot Party" is set for Friday, August 24, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. Seafood will be prepared outdoors and served at tables around the swimming pool.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mulford will come in from the Old Club for the affair, bringing a party of 20 with them. Party reservations have also been made by the Henry R. Kleins, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Verdier, the Robert Hammons, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ostus, the William M. Walkers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McFeely, Jr., the A. H. Moorhans, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Wurzer, the Vincent Butterlys, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scharer and the Hugh C. Dalys.

Four September Buds

Mrs. Donald M. Woodruff of Lewiston road has planned a small dinner dance at the Country Club on September 5 to introduce her daughter, Ann, to society and open the autumn debutante season. Guests have been requested to appear in ingenious and fancy headdresses for the affair. Miss Woodruff will return to Bennett Junior college shortly for her sophomore year.

At a September 11 cocktail and dinner party, Dr. and Mrs. Delmar F. Weaver of Bishop road will present their daughter, Jane. The same party will introduce Patricia Anne Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred John Dalton of Maumee avenue.

A small dance at the Country Club, immediately following the Weaver-Thomas debut, will be given by Mr. and Mrs. David A. Wallace of Lewiston road, at which their niece, Sue Johnson, is to make her bow.

Parties Honor Mary Verbiest

Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Marcellus Verbiest and Alan Rochford Devine, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Devine of Romeo, have set September 22 as their wedding date.

Mary has asked her sister, Beth, to be her maid of honor. Bridesmaids include her sister, Mrs. Richard Kelly, the bridegroom-to-be's sisters, Jerry and Margaret Ann Devine, Sue Harris, Alberta Jacob and Connie Gildner.

Alan has asked his brother, Jim, to be his best man. Ushers include his brothers, Ted and Dan, Vincent Brennan, Jack Moore, Marvin Galvin and the bride-to-be's brother, Tom.

Mary's aunts, Mrs. Raymond Lenfesty and Mrs. Frank Flinchum, started the whirl of parties with a luncheon and bathroom shower. Mrs. Arthur Dieckrich entertained at a garden luncheon and round-the-clock shower in her Yorkshire road home.

Mary's aunt, Mrs. Joseph Schrage, Jr., gave a luncheon and kitchen shower in her home in Tourain road. Mrs. Daniel Sullivan of Neff road will honor Mary at a table top shower and in the evening, Mary Jane Wiggins will entertain for cocktails and buffet dinner at a bar shower.

Nancy Ann Hodges Exchanges Vows

Becomes Bride of Charles Stratten Barthlow at Ceremony Held Friday in Congregational Church

The Rev. Donn M. Coddington came from Edina, Minn., to officiate at the marriage of his sister-in-law, Nancy Ann Hodges, to Charles Stratten Barthlow. Vows were exchanged Friday evening in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

The bride wore the gown of imported chantilly lace and satin which her sister, Mrs. Coddington, had worn at her wedding. A Juliet cap of satin and lace held her silk illusion fingertip veil, and her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by ivy and staphanotis.

Mrs. Donn Coddington was matron of honor for her sister. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jackson Hodges of McKinley avenue.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Clare Sober Jr., Mrs. George Cherpelis and Mrs. Hazen Schumacher Jr.

Their waltz length gowns of aqua silk organza were fashioned with sashes of deeper aqua and they carried bouquets of pale yellow fuji mums.

Master Sgt. L. R. Williams, of Caseyville, Ill., served as best man for the bridegroom, whose parents are Mrs. John Fender and Thomas E. Barthlow, of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Escorting guests to their places were Clare Sober Jr., George Cherpelis and Hazen Schumacher Jr.

For her daughter's wedding,

To Give Party For Symphony

The Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will take over Alfonsi's Restaurant Saturday, August 25, at 8 p.m., for a cabaret style dinner-dance staged in the Italian manner.

These accomplished party-givers, whose Symphony Ball early in the year was the last word in elegant formality, will offer a complete change of pace for the evening. The party is for association members and friends and will benefit the Detroit Symphony.

Plans call for spaghetti, steak, checked tablecloths, candles and strolling Neopolitan singers. The plush supper club will be made bright and gay with decorations in black, white and red.

Mrs. Joseph E. Cavanaugh, party chairman, will add a final note of authenticity to the Italian theme with a special new Roman haircut.

Co-chairman of the party is Mrs. Herbert S. Epstein. Committee heads are Mesdames Albert J. Herres, Robert D. Danforth, Raymond J. Duffy, Jr., Frank B. Dunford, Richard E. Freeh, Frank X. Martel, Jr., James O. Nordlie, Homer B. Pharis, Leonard R. West and Weldon O. Yeager.

The list of committee members includes Mesdames Thomas E. Armstrong, William P. Curtiss, Robert C. Lewis, H. Stanley Maxon, Jr., Harry A. McDonald, Jr., Earl W. McNeil, Jr., George F. Renaud, Barbara Shapero and Willard W. Wicklund.

Most people would have to work overtime if they practiced half of what they preached.

Mrs. Charles Stratten Barthlow

At August 17 rites in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, NANCY ANN HODGES became the bride of Mr. Barthlow. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale-Jackson Hodges of McKinley avenue, and Mrs. John Fender and Thomas E. Barthlow, of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Party to Honor A. D. Wilkinsons

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong of McMillan road have scheduled a September 1 bon voyage dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilkinson, who will leave Lake Shore road on September 7 for a Spanish jaunt.

The Wilkinsons will attend several days of the National Tennis Matches in New York, before boarding their plane for Paris.

From there, they go to Lisbon, Portugal, to meet son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Wilkinsons, of Rumson, N.J., who will accompany them on part of the trip through Spain.

The senior Wilkinsons expect to spend a month exploring the Spanish peninsula.

R. B. Fischer to Marry Marie Louise Jennings

Mrs. Oscar Jennings of Violet avenue has announced the betrothal of her daughter, Marie Louise, to Reinhold B. Fischer of Kercheval avenue.

The prospective bride is the daughter of the late Mr. Jennings.

Gloria Winters Bride-Elect

The engagement of their daughter, Gloria Grace, to Geoffrey O'Brien is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Winters of Moran road.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien, of San Francisco, are the parents of the prospective bridegroom.

The pair will exchange vows on October 20 in San Francisco, where Miss Winters is now making her home.

Patricia Mistele Speaks Vows

A recent bride was Patricia Mistele, who married Walter Herzog, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Herzog, of St. Clair Shores.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben W. Mistele of Moran road. Vows were solemnized in Gratiot Baptist Church.

Last year, 20,500 veterans and dependents of veterans and the American Red Cross power of attorney to represent them before the Veterans Administration.

Daneen Brill Wed To Rick O. Geer

At a candlelight double ring ceremony in Peace Lutheran Church on Saturday, August 18, Daneen Mafilyn Brill became the bride of Rick O. Geer, son of the Clayton O. Geers, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Brill of Neff road, chose an antique white taffeta gown, with scoop neckline edged in lace, and a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a seed pearl and sequin-trimmed headpiece. She carried staphanotis, white roses and a white orchid in a cascade arrangement.

Joan K. Connell, maid of honor, wore a delicate aqua ballerina length taffeta gown with scoop neck and full skirt. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink and white carnations.

Identically gowned were bridesmaids JoAnne Callies, Patricia Beaugard and Kaye Mortenson, of Flint. Their cascade bouquets were of pink carnations.

Marcia Ann McDonell, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a petite white nylon dress over an aqua slip and carried a basket of pink carnations.

Mr. Geer asked Harry Roe, of Kalamazoo, to be his best man. Ushering were the bride's brothers-in-law, Ralph D. McIntyre, of Roseville, and Thomas W. McDonell, and William Wood, of Flint.

A toast lace sheath with dusty pink accessories and an orchid corsage were worn by Mrs. Brill. The bridegroom's mother selected a toast lace full-skirted dress, contrasting accessories and orchid corsage.

After a reception at Deppretter's Ballroom, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon near Lake Michigan. Upon their return, they will make their home in Kalamazoo, where the bridegroom attends Western Michigan College.

Jane Joachim Wed To Richard Schacht

Exchange Vows at Candlelight Ceremony in Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church on Saturday Evening

Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church was the scene of the Saturday evening candlelight ceremony at which Jane Hammond Joachim and Richard Henry Schacht repeated their nuptial vows before the Rev. Allan A. Zuan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Otto Joachim of Hawthorne road, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Schacht of Rockford, Illinois are the bridegroom's parents.

A regal gown of Etoile silk taffeta in antique ivory was worn by the bride. The bodice was designed with deeply rounded décolletage and bouffant skirt flared from the waistline in Watteau pleats, spreading into a chapel train. Heirloom Chantilly lace formed a princess cap and flowed in three panels to formal length beyond her train. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy centered with Amazon lilies.

Mrs. Walter O. Joachim Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James C. Minge, sister of the bridegroom from Wichita, Kansas; Julia Ann Sullivan of Warren, Ohio; Janet Ewart and Emily Harding of Grosse Pointe. Jane and Karen Schacht nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

Frosted mint green gowns of silk taffeta were worn by the five bridesmaids. They had matching net hats trimmed in pink veivet and carried cascade arrangements of pink glamelias and lemon leaves. The two flower girls wore petal pink taffeta gowns with matching bonnets and carried baskets of pink and white sweet peas.

The bridegroom's brother, Carl H. Schacht of Kewanee, Illinois, performed the duties of best man. Ushering were Walter O. Joachim, Jr. brother of the bride of Cincinnati, Ohio; William Meyer of Davenport, Iowa; William McNamara of Rockford, Illinois; John D. Boyles of Grand Rapids and Dale R. Ewart of Grosse Pointe.

For the reception following at Grosse Pointe Memorial Center, Mrs. Joachim chose a mauve silk organza dress trimmed with sequins and a matching sequined hat. She pinned a corsage of cymbidium orchids to her purse. Beige lace with matching velvet hat was worn by Mrs. Schacht. She also had a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

For going away the new Mrs. Schacht donned a beige suit with russet accessories. After a northern Michigan honeymoon the couple will live in Ann Arbor.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. William F. Hulse and Miss Sally Hulse of Lakewood, Ohio; Robert Schach, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warden of Urbana, Ohio; Mrs. William E. Jurgens and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold L. Meyer, Davenport, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Schacht of Columbus, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. John Ralson, Stanton Burgoon, Mrs. Eugene Huffman, Bruce Lantow, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Galloway of Rockford, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Meyer of Madison, Wisconsin and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. deVries of Lansing.

Mrs. Richard Henry Schacht

The former JANE HAMMOND JOACHIM, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Otto Joachim of Hawthorne road, was married on Saturday, August 18, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Schacht of Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. Rick O. Geer

The former DANEEN MARILYN BRILL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Brill of Neff road, was married in Peace Lutheran Church on Saturday, August 18, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton O. Geer of Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Y-Teen Leaders At Conference

Officers of Y-Teen clubs in 32 senior high schools will represent Detroit Y-Teens at the annual Y-Teen Leadership Conference at Camp Cavell, Aug. 26-31.

"The YWCA—an Ever-Widening Circle" will be the conference theme.

Mady Correll Has Part In Will-O-Way Theater

Mady Correll of 1335 Aline drive, Grosse Pointe Woods, is currently being seen in the part of Ruth Wely in Mary Chase's play "Bernardine" at the Will-O-Way Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills.

Mady has come to Grosse Pointe Woods from New York City, where she has done considerable work on the New York stage. Before coming to Michigan she had just finished playing in "Point of No Return" with Henry Fonda.

She has also played in "Present Laughter" opposite Edward E. Horton, "Missouri Legend" with Dean Jagger and "First Apple" opposite Conrad Nagel. She was under contract to Paramount Motion Pictures for two years and has also made films for RKO, Universal and Republic. Her last film was "M. Verdoux" opposite Charles Chaplin.

Miss Correll has been very active at Will-O-Way this season. She has been seen in "The Happy Time," "For Love or Money" and currently in "Bernardine." The part Miss Correll portrays is that of a widowed mother of a somewhat mixed-up teen-age boy. The measures that she takes to bring him under control make a very amusing and touching comedy.

Community Theater Buys Simians' Stage Properties

The Grosse Pointe Community Theatre announced this week that it had purchased the sets, props, lights, costumes and other properties formerly belonging to the Simians, well-known Grosse Pointe Summer theatre group which has disbanded on the conclusion of its tenth season.

Specifically excluded from the sale was an ancient Egyptian mummy case, believed to have been built in 1953 for the Simian version of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

In announcing the equipment purchase, Dean Erskine, Grosse Pointe Community Theatre vice-president and technical chairman said, "The Simians had some excellent stage gear. Added to what we already have, it will put us in good shape for our season this fall which will include five major productions."

GPCT President Bill Witherell said, "The passing of the Simians leaves a void in the community's summer activities which will be hard to fill. Their productions "under the stars" on the lawn of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be long remembered as a feature of the summer season."

"The GPCT 1956-57 program, however, will be ambitious and large enough to include any and all interested Simians and we are hoping to offer at least one of our productions during the summer months."

TYPHOID CASES RISE

Typhoid fever cases in Michigan are now greater in number than in any time in the last 10 years, and the cause of the increase may be hidden in today's complex and widespread food distribution system. Total number of cases in Michigan from January through August 10 was 39, an increase of 24 over the same period in 1955 and highest since 1947.

Missing Fisherman Sought After Lakefront Argument

Farms police detectives had they fell asleep. This was Ray Mathews. Police checked over the area where the men were fishing and found gear for three persons. The boys said there were only the two men they found sleeping.

A teletype alarm was put on the wires with a description of Ray Mathews: 50 years, white, 5 feet 6 inches tall, 140 pounds, brown eyes, black curly hair, last seen wearing a blue shirt and pants.

A check revealed that Mathews had not returned to his hotel room. On Tuesday police searched the lake shore breakwall thinking it possible that Mathews might have fallen in the lake and drowned.

BULLETIN

Lt. James Furton of the Farms police department called the News office Tuesday afternoon, to report that the body of Ray Mathews had been found. C. H. Haberkorn, Jr., of 70 Lake Shore road, called the stationhouse saying a body was floating in front of his home.

Detective Harold Seelow and Harold Beaupre, along with Officer Russell Roland picked up and identified the body. The county coroner was summoned.

Men's Garden Club Enjoys Passanante Garden Party

Hospitality Night was everything implied at 'El Rancho Passanante,' 1022 Buckingham road, on Thursday, August 16, with 50 members of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe taking advantage of the event.

Host for the evening was James "Jim" Passanante, who threw open his beautiful gardens for an informal, get-acquainted gathering of members of the club.

Each of those present toured the garden, viewing and commenting on the wonders created by their host. A spouting fountain at the foot of the garden emitted a fine spray, accented by a light in the middle of the spout.

Soft music filled the air, coming from a "wishing well" in the center of the garden just a few feet from the fountain. The well, not quite completed, contained a loud speaker through which recorded music from Passanante's home was beamed. A number of loudspeakers were scattered about the grounds, so that no matter where one went, music strains followed.

At the rear of the garden is an outdoor kitchen, containing a sink with hot and cold running water and refrigerator housed in a structure made of pine, redwood and cedar. The sink is enclosed with matching wood, and the refrigerator was made to blend with its surroundings.

Opposite the kitchen is a huge barbeque grill, constructed of cut stone and lumber, to match the other facilities, over which sets a fiber-glass roof.

Approximately 3,000 feet of neoprene (synthetic rubber) insulated wire, has been laid under the ground furnishing electricity for the number of lights and loudspeakers about the grounds.

Cemented bricks and tree trunks serve as a floor in this area of the garden.

Passanante said that construction on his garden has been going on since 1951, and that he has been working on beautifying the premises in his spare time—and he has the callouses to prove it.

In its present state, the garden is a beautiful sight to see, and when completed, it gives promise of being one of the garden show spots of the Pointe.

Following their tour of inspection, members of the club settled down to enjoy hickory-tanged hamburgers, prepared by Chef Passanante, after which they were shown slides taken by Ben Beyer of 70 Lochmoor boulevard, while on a recent South American tour.

The club holds these informal outdoor gatherings during July and August every year, at the home of a member who wants to give it.

The organization holds regular evening meetings on the third Thursday of each month at the War Memorial Center.

In May, 1953, the club organized with only a handful of men; today, there are 125 members, all area residents.

The purpose of the organization is to promote the full appreciation of gardening and of landscape architecture, to cultivate higher ideals among garden lovers, to participate in civic improvements, to develop enduring friendships and to make the average man garden minded.

They have a full calendar of meeting devoted to educational, scientific or social subjects of horticultural interest tending to increase the knowledge and to improve the skill of members, plus many other activities.

Membership is open to all male residents of the Pointe and vicinity. Dues are $5 a year. There is no initiation fee.

Cobwebs Relate Thief's Failure

On August 16, Dr. M. P. Lipson called Farms police to tell them of an attempted breaking and entering at his home at 443 Moross place.

Detectives found two windows had been smashed and the screen was carefully cut away from a rear door. They could ascertain that entrance was not gained because heavy cobwebs were still around the broken windows and the out screen.

They awakened the men and told them to clear out. The boys then walked the two across the street to Lakecrest where both Hern and Waldrop parked their cars. When they arrived they found that three tires on Hern's Chevrolet had been punctured and two tires on Waldrop's Plymouth were slashed. The men accused the boys of this act, but they denied knowing anything about it.

Hern and Waldrop said a third man was with them when a vacant lot next to his home. When a squad car reported to the scene they found Joseph Palms of 78 Lake Shore road, with five of his friends.

These boys were having words with Elias E. Hern of 3126 Park, Detroit, and Louis Waldrop of 857 Drexel. Palms told police his sister, Mary, had called him from a party saying there were some men fishing near the house. When he arrived with his friends they discovered Hern and Waldrop asleep in a vacant lot on the lake. There was evidence that they had been drinking.

It seems queer to us that with so many radio and tv stations carrying both conventions . . . how much so many people really miss. There were two or three very funny cracks made during the Dems convention and we can't find one person who heard any of them.

The best was an "aside" by some commentator who was talking about how one party would light on anything that could against the other party and make something of it . . . even though it might be ridiculous. He cited as an example that when Landon was running for President, his party was in accord about running Styles Bridges with him as vice-president . . . that is until some bright character came up with the idea that the Democrats would probably use as their theme song: "Landon-Bridges Falling Down," sung to the tune of the same (or reasonably same) name!

Now that the tumult and shouting has almost died down, we can get back to normalcy and think of such important things as how we are going to wear our hair this Fall and Winter! Most magazine pictures show a wild looking page boy style that "boops" out at the sides and is reminiscent of the "rat" granddad used to wear in her hair just over the forehead. Which reminds us . . . about 15 years ago, the page boy, real long, was in vogue with the front of the hair built up rather high. If you had thick hair, okay, but the skimpy haired gals were out of luck. We happened to be in Palm Beach that year and since everything is MORE everything down there . . . quite a few women built this front-piece up with ye old rat.

One woman, bent or outdoing all others, had the biggest pompadour this side (or the other) of Madame herself. She was seen every place since her hair literally towered over all other females. BUT very few people saw or heard her the early morning we had a table next to her's at one of those all night eateries. She was bowed down with likker and grief as she poured her heart out to an equally inebriated gent . . . her only companion at the table.

During one of those peculiar silences when the whole world seems to stand still, we heard her say: "I left the party because he was making fun of my 'rat.'" Her escort breathed (alcoholically) "WHAT rat, baby?" To which she replied, "HERE . . . the rat in my hair!" Without even looking at her hair, he murmured, "I want to be the only rat in your hair, baby."

As it turned out . . . he WAS . . . or rather he was the only rat in her husband's hair . . . which was (naturally) sparse! Ah, the good old days!

Another shaggy dog story: "A kangaroo went into a swanky bar in New York and ordered a scotch and soda . . . plunking down a dollar bill on the bar. The bartender informed him that the charge THERE was a dollar and a quarter. The kangaroo reached in his pouch, drew out a quarter and slapped it down on the bar. As he was drinking his highball, the bartender said: "You know you're the first kangaroo we've ever had in here." To which the latter replied: "Yes and I'll be the LAST, at these prices!"

We see Bill Kennedy is doing all right by himself and his fans. He is now on CKLW tv Monday through Friday . . . and last Sunday he was in two movies . . . Death Valley Days on channel 4 and a Mark Saber picture in the evening on channel 2. What's with channel SEVEN??? Anyway, Kennedy has a good spot on channel 9. They have always had the best movies and now they have a good line-up of first runs dated earlier than ten years ago. Take a look-see, eh?

There are times when the postmen have things to complain about and we can hardly blame them. Right now we are speaking of the thousands of ads that flood the mails, to say nothing of those danged magazine subscription blanks and announcements in general.

Just the other day we got THREE of the same brochure in one mail and there is one magazine we have stopped taking because we are tired of getting three letters from them . . . all the same . . . and in one mail . . . every time they want us to subscribe, which seems like every other day.

We asked our postman about this and he said we wouldn't BELIEVE the unnecessary junk he has to cart around. As a ferinstance, he told us that four times a year he delivers two or three brochures to a certain house in the Pointe . . . thick booklets that come from a children's outfitting company in the East.

The family DID have children but they are now about thirty years old. That doesn't matter to the store in question, however. We think it would be smart if some of these shops looked over the situation once every ten years.

We know a woman who keeps getting letters from a jeweler in Chicago . . . asking why she doesn't purchase jewelry from them as she used to. They miss her. Goody, goody. The letters are meant for her grandmother who used to buy jewels there when she was alive about 25 years ago! The woman in question is glad she can pay the rent, buy food and keep her children dressed without going to Chicago to buy jools yet! Soch, a business.

waiting list for these wells. So if you plan on owning a boat and keeping it at the Farms park I would suggest you place your name on the waiting list—RIGHT NOW.

There are numerous Farms residents who are in that very same situation now. They have boats but no place to put them. Most of them keep their boats on trailers at home until they wish to use them. But isn't it a shame that when they wish to launch them they have to use the cheap boat hoist located near usually rough water and take a chance of scuffing the boat during launching, while the expensive mechanized boat hoist sits idle 22 hours of each day.

These are the people I had in mind when I wrote the article and I had no selfish interest. I am just trying to give these people a break, who are paying as much on the bond issue as you and other non-boat owners.

I hope this letter clarifies the situation for you and relieves your mind that NO ONE is looking for special favors or "GRABS," as you put it, by "small and selfish interests."

Sincerely yours,
FRED RANNELLS,
Sports Editor

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

With the approach of Labor Day and the resulting change in seasons, many of us may be reminded of those contemplated changes around the house. A change in interior decoration perhaps, maybe home improvements, or even more exciting, an entire new home may be in the offing.

If you are planning any of these things, or if you like to imagine how they can be made, the Grosse Pointe Public Library has books, pamphlets and magazines which will be of interest to you.

"Decorate Your Home for Better Living" by Mary Brandt has profuse illustrations and tells how to plan and arrange rooms, what to look for in buying furniture, and the fundamentals of color harmony. 175 examples of quality home interiors can be found in Katherine Ford and Thomas Creighton's book "Designs for Living."

Popular magazines also publish books on this subject. The editors of "House and Garden" have given us a practical and authoritative encyclopedia of ideas for decorating rooms of all sizes in their book "New Complete Guide to Interior Decoration."

"The Ladies' Home Journal's" "Book of Interior Decoration" is a practical how-to-do-it book. "Better Homes and Gardens" announces their "Decorating Book" to be published at the end of this month. It will cover every aspect of home decorating including color schemes, floors, kitchens, etc.

The library regularly subscribes to the above mentioned magazines plus such other periodicals as "Interiors," "House Beautiful," "American Home," "Good Housekeeping," "Homecraft," "Architectural Record," and others. All copies except the current issue may be circulated for seven days.

"Home Improvements You Can Do," a Fawcett publication, is a pamphlet the library has just added to its Vertical File. Information includes insulation, painting, garden pools, room dividers, fences, etc.

Better Homes and Gardens "Handyman Ideas" also comes from the Vertical File, and has 126 do-it-yourself home improvement tips. Pamphlets circulate for four weeks.

Books such as "Planning and Building Your Patio," by Shan Stewart, "The Week-End Builder" by Walter Fischman, and R. R. Hawkins "The Kitchen Book of Planning and Remodeling" are examples of titles on home improvements the library has for you.

For those contemplating a new home, let us suggest the book "82 Distinctive Houses Form Architectural Record." John Callender has written "Before You Buy a House" which will aid in your judging, evaluating, and deciding upon "The House." "The American House Today" has 85 notable examples of houses selected by Ford and Creighton.

In the Vertical File, you will also find material to aid you with your new home as well as the pamphlets on home improvements mentioned above. There, among many others, you will find home plans from the Detroit Free Press, Detroit

Times and the Detroit News. House and Garden's "Book of Building" with 30 houses and plans is a popular pamphlet. So, if a change of scene is in order, do let us show you these materials, and others at the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

State Pays Out Gasoline Taxes

The State Highway Department has begun the distribution of $8,628,722.71 in weight and gasoline taxes collected during the second quarter of the calendar year 1956 under Act 87 of the 1955 regular-session of the Legislature, of which the Pointe's share will be $5,965.02.

The distribution was announced by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

Wayne County's share of the monies collected will be $314,989.42.

The following is a breakdown of the distribution of the shares the Pointes will receive: Park, $1,751.06; City, $871.94; Farms, $1,421.97; Shores, $189.89; and the Woods, $1,730.86.

Act 87, provided for an increase in certain weight taxes on certain types of trucks and raised the state gasoline tax from 4 1/2 to 6 cents a gallon, effective June 1, 1955. The 1 1/2 cents a gallon gas tax and additional weight tax collected under this statute, known as the Highway Finance Act of 1955, are placed in a new "Highway Construction Fund" so as to be kept separate from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund set up by the 1951 act, which also increased weight taxes, increased the gas tax from 3 to 4 1/2 cents a gallon and set up a new formula for distribution of these monies.

Under the act, the amount raised by the extra 1 1/2 cent gas tax and the additional weight taxes levied under its provisions is divided on the basis of 75 per cent to the State Highway Department and 25 per cent to the counties, cities and incorporated villages. It further specifies that the county-city-village 25 percent share be split as follows: thirty-seven/fifty-sixths to the counties and nineteen/fifty-sixths to the cities and incorporated villages.

The act also requires the Highway Department's share be spent on the interstate highway system and certain designated sections of US-27, US-127, US-24, US-223, US-31, US-131, M-21, M-53, and M-78.

The State Highway Department has received $6,471,542.03 from the 1956 Second Quarter Act 87 monies. The cities and incorporated villages will receive $731,900.59 and the counties, $1,425,280.09.

For Parents Of Adolescents

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Development during the period of adolescence is rapid and the boy or girl needs ten or more hours sleep each night and often a nap during the day. Posture must be carefully watched. Youngsters who spring up in height quickly have a tendency to slouch and unless corrected may never develop good posture.

Parents of the adolescent are constantly faced with problems they are not certain how to solve. Here again your doctor can be of valuable assistance. He understands the physical and mental changes at this age. His counsel will prove most reassuring.

117 Youngsters Attracted To Fishing Rodeo in Park

Grosse Pointe Park chalked up another record last Saturday, August 18, when 117 boys and girls participated in the annual Fishing Rodeo. Officials attributed the biggest turnout of anglers to the fact the youngsters were fishing off their own dock and no transportation difficulties were involved as in past years when the Park kids fished off Grosse Pointe Farms dock.

Mayor Homer Fritsch beamed from ear to ear as he awarded the huge bundle of prizes gathered together by Rodger Pelletiere, Henry Feys, George Hoffman and Joseph Craig.

Two Grand Prize Winners
Judges Mrs. George Hoffman, Mrs. Charles Johnston Jr., and Miss Marilyn Axford announced the grand prize winners as eleven-year-old Jimmy Stuart of 1250 Bishop and five-year-old Nancy Court of 830 Barrington. Jimmy hooked a 10 and three quarter inch, 10 ounce silver bass and Nancy enticed a 13 and one quarter inch, one and a quarter pound sheephead on to her line.

Virginia Feys had the judges scratching their collective heads when she produced a half pound, five and a half inch CLAM. Virginia was happy when the judges gave her a prize—after all she did catch something and that was better than most contestants did.

Third grand prize went to 12 year old Mark Marsh of 15008 Windmill Pointe, and fourth grand prize was awarded to 13 year old John Thomas of 1079 Maryland.

Other Prize Winners
Others who received prizes were: Ronnie Johnston, Bill Court, Bob Patyn, Richard Giroux, Jim Costello, Tom Daid, Tom Carver, Richard Salikowski, Richard Bohle and Steve Koerner.

Fishing was not too good that day, as only 15 finny characters were landed.

Henry Feys was general chairman and popular Forrest Geary played the part of master of ceremonies.

Thomas Cusomano donated 1000 minnows and 500 worms and the kids succeeded in drowning the major portion of the bait.

The pier supervision was under the direction of Charles Todd and the police and firemen assisted with the food, along with Face Peters, and safety precaution on the pier during the event.

Meal Provides PA
The group was kept well informed on the proceedings over the PA system provided by George Measel.

The craft director of the Park displayed her handiwork with informative posters and the Park life guards were vigilant during the event.

Park supervisor Dave Beauvais was quick to point out that "because our kids aren't fishing with the youngsters from the City and Farms as in past years doesn't mean we are splitting with them. We still are very much a part of the fishing rodeo in the Pointe but we felt that if we didn't have the transportation problem we would attract more kids to the water's edge. Our record entry bears out our thought."

Park-City Little Football League Begins Practice

Little Football League players gather around COACH MURRAY ROBERTSON during the opening practice session at Defer Field, Monday, August 20, as he explains the basic functions of the 'quarterback position. The Park-City Little Leaguers will play in the newly formed All American league and will play seven league games starting September 15.

Things have been happening on the water around these parts and the waterways are going to get even busier in the next two weeks as Detroit's second annual Riverama continues to roll.

Detroit Yacht Club got the aquatic program underway with the running of the Silver Cup race for the unlimited Gold Cup boats on Saturday, August 18.

Next on the program will be what chairman Ed Bodkin hopes, the biggest marine parade ever held on the Detroit River next Friday, August 24. Upwards of 600 private yachts will pass in review at the Civic Center in downtown Detroit.

The Harnsworth race between Canada's "Miss Superbest" and an American defender, yet to be named, will start on Saturday, August 25. The second 15 mile heat will be held on Monday, August 27, and the third on the following day if it is necessary.

There will be a limited in-board regatta in conjunction with the Harnsworth opening day.

The small yachts will stage a full blown regatta in the shadows of the Civic Center on Sunday, August 26. The little boats will take their starts between 11 a.m. and noon. At 3 p.m. the bigger Cruising A.B.C. and Schooner-Ketch classes will race. These are the Mackinac type boats. The course will be between the Belle Isle Bridge and the Ambassador Bridge with the start and finish in front of the Veterans Memorial Building.

Boating activity will be climaxed with the running of the Gold Cup regatta, Saturday, September 1.

Wes Weidrick sailed his "Wee Lightning Squadron's" annual championship series held off Crescent Sail Y.C. last Saturday and Sunday, August 18 and 19. Weidrick came from behind in the four race series to overtake Hank Cavthra who was leading in points going into the final race. Wes took the final race to annex 55 1/2 points to Cavthra's 53 1/2. Jim Schudel placed third with 51 points and Ralph O'Hara finished fourth with Burt Jones, Don Fairchild and Meryl Amo following in that order in the first division of the 14 boat fleet.

Meryl Amo, an old hotshot Star boat sailor was sailing his brand new Lightning for the first time. He had just completed it and put it in the water on Saturday.

Pete Bayer, the Rollicking Rollo of the waterfront, got his first taste of red hot competition in this series with his rebuilt boat. He finished last.

North Star Club sailors have been going at it hammer and tongs since the first of the month. On August 14 it was the Thames River race which was won by Rear Commodore

Ray De Blaere's yawl "Jo-Dee," "Happy" Harmon's "Argyle" and Bob Janeway's "White Cloud" followed in that order of finish.

On August 11 Jack Vallad romped around the short course to Gaukler Pointe in forty-two minutes in his sloop "Sea Play" and was followed closely over the line by Russ Baude and Eldon Shorek.

North Star's Bluenose regatta is scheduled for Sunday, August 23. This is always a jolly event because after the race the sailors join their families at the club for an old fashioned corn roast, fleet review and a dinghy rowing contest for the small fry.

Nick Kerns, Belle Outboard Club commodore was chosen by popular demand to be the Driver's Safety Representative. It was Nick who steadfastly insisted on more rigid safety measures for sanctioned outboard races hereabouts. Even he insists an ambulance be standing by and that all drivers wear approved jacket-type life vests while in their boats.

Detroit Yacht Club officials and entertainment chairman Al Wilson have everything in readiness for the annual Venetian Night next Friday, August 24. This is the DY's top summer social function and they don't forget the kids either. On Thursday, August 23, the Juniors have the club for their own Venetian Night, the under 12 small fry in the afternoon and the teenagers in the evening.

This year the fleet review will be the kickoff when the yachts from the fleet review at 1 p.m. on Friday. From the club the fleet will travel downriver and join the Riverama yachts for that review and then return to the club to pass before the reviewing stand which will contain such notables as Commodore Clyde Palmer, vice commodore Howard Cook and rear commodore Charles S. "Tommy" Tompkins.

St. Paul's Grid Team Gets Call

First football practice for the teams in St. Paul's High School are scheduled for 10 a.m. on Monday, August 27. Uniforms will be given out on Friday, August 24, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

It's even possible for the fellow who thinks he knows it all to profit by experience.

Fishing Rodeo at Farms Pier Draws 300 Entrants

Climaxing an intense month of pre-rodeo fishing, the 6th annual rodeo competition held last Saturday morning at the Farms Pier produced a record catch of 32 fish.

Five of the nearly 300 who entered, caught two fish during the 90-minute session and a City lifeguard, one of a bevy of guards posted in boats to help unsnap lines, even presented a fish he had speared by hand.

Everyone agreed that from all standpoints this year's event handled jointly by William Cavanaugh of the Farms and Cliff Ashton of the City was tops. As always, the two popular pier directors Ed Lauer of the Farms and Jess Lawther of the City also worked hard to bring in the entries and give help wherever it was needed.

The biggest news of the morning was made by young two-year-old Blair David Parsons of 412 Touraine road in the Farms. Blair caught three fish and his first two, both over nine inches were the longest caught.

Also getting in on the fun was little John Lund, age four, of 452 Roland road, who proudly ran his rock bass to the judges and learned he had the third best catch of the morning. Measuring the fish kept judges Martin Minicky, Joseph Rem, and Vic Verharghe with their hands full.

A sound car kept the crowd informed of events and was especially important in co-ordinating the handing out of 290 prizes. Roland Gray contributed a grand prize trophy that Blair Parsons won for the longest fish, and a beautiful tackle box to head the list of prizes.

City Police Chief Tom Trombly; City Manager Norbert Neff, Hank Collins, Farms Councilman George Lang, Farms Engineer Murray Smith, and Acting City Manager, Sid DeBoer of the Farms did a marvelous job of distributing the prizes and seeing that each contestant got some prize.

All the while, various service groups were doing a magnificent job of keeping the party in high gear. The American Legion Auxiliary of Post 308 sent Mrs. Hanzel Allor, Mrs. Rowena Weaver and Mrs. Marge Carlson to deliver some mighty tasty hot dogs. Police Chief Tex Hoyt and his crew ran a 40 and eight train that the kids patiently lined up to ride, getting a stick as a ticket of admission from Ray the clown.

Other groups who did yeoman's service were the Sea Scouts, the VFW, American Legion Post 303, and many un-

Alee Chapman is Winner Of North Channel Race

Alee "The Navigator" Chapman, past commodore of the North Star Sail Club, had a scant 30 second edge on Guy McNaron in Bayview Yacht Club's annual North Channel race last Saturday, August 18.

Despite the early date of the race (usually it's held late in September or early October), the fleet had a fast ride over the steeply choppy course up through the North Channel to the Russell Island lighted buoy and back down the south channel and across the lake to the finish line in the Detroit River.

New Start Necessary
Starting at the Little Club at 8:30 a.m. (it should have been 8:15 a.m. but a trigger happy official fired the canon too early and a new start had to be made) the fleet set spinnakers and ghosted up the lake and into the North Channel. From there it was a sleigh ride—close and full reaches all the way to the Russell light.

A good buck to weather greeted the fleet down the south channel and part of the way across the lake, where the wind shifted and sent the boats scurrying for the finish under storm clouds and a withering westerly. The order of finish is as follows:

Boy Has Lucky Break When Struck by Car

Wayne Byrd, an employe at Miller's Gas Station at the corner of Cadieux and Kercheval, called the City police station on Thursday, August 16, to report a young boy had been struck by a car in the alley behind the gas station.

Officer Duncan MacEachern reported immediately to the scene. He was told that Dorothy M. Boerner of 513 Pemberton road, was driving a 1956 Chrysler in the alley, when 12-year-old John Irvin of 1343 Buckingham, came out of the driveway on his bicycle in front of the car.

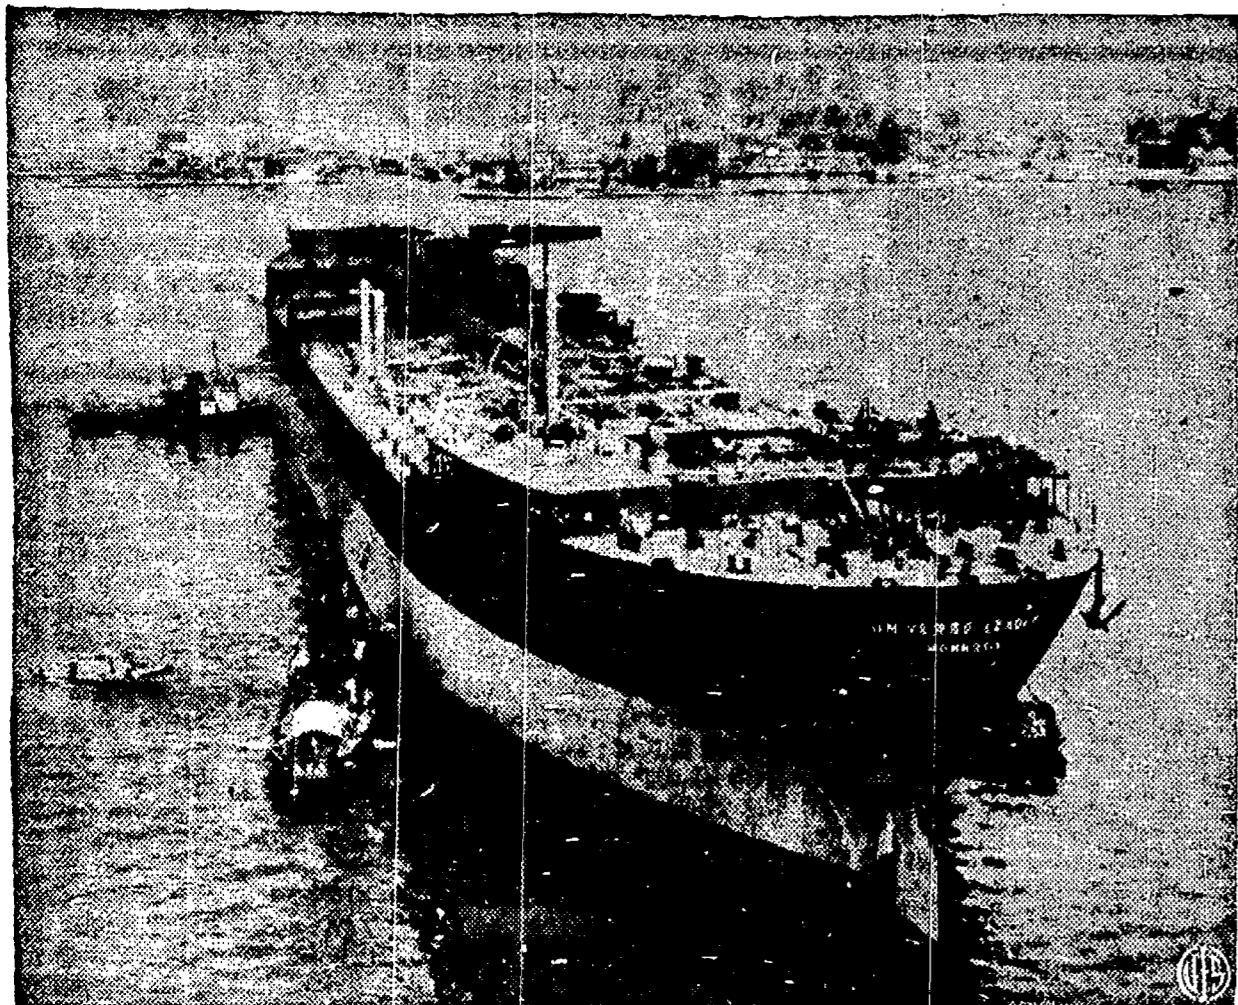

Fortunately Mrs. Boerner was going very slowly when her car struck the boy. He was shaken up but not hurt. Officer MacEachern took him to Bon Secours Hospital for a routine check.

WORLD'S LARGEST TANKER — The 84,730-ton "Universe Leader," the world's largest tanker, hits the water at the Kure dockyard in Japan. The mammoth tanker, expected to be completed in October, will be placed on the Iran-North America run under Liberian registration. The American vessel cost more than ten million dollars to build.

NECKLACE IN THE NIGHT — The majestic $100 million Mackinac Bridge appears all lighted up like a Christmas tree in this photo, made at dusk from the St. Ignace, Michigan, side of the Straits of Mackinac. Lights are on every night on the world's longest suspension bridge for several reasons. They are there so that workmen on duty around the clock can see what they're doing, so that ships passing through the straits won't crash into the structure, and so that aircraft won't hit any of the 552-foot high main towers. The five-mile bridge, which will link Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas, is scheduled to be completed in November of 1957.

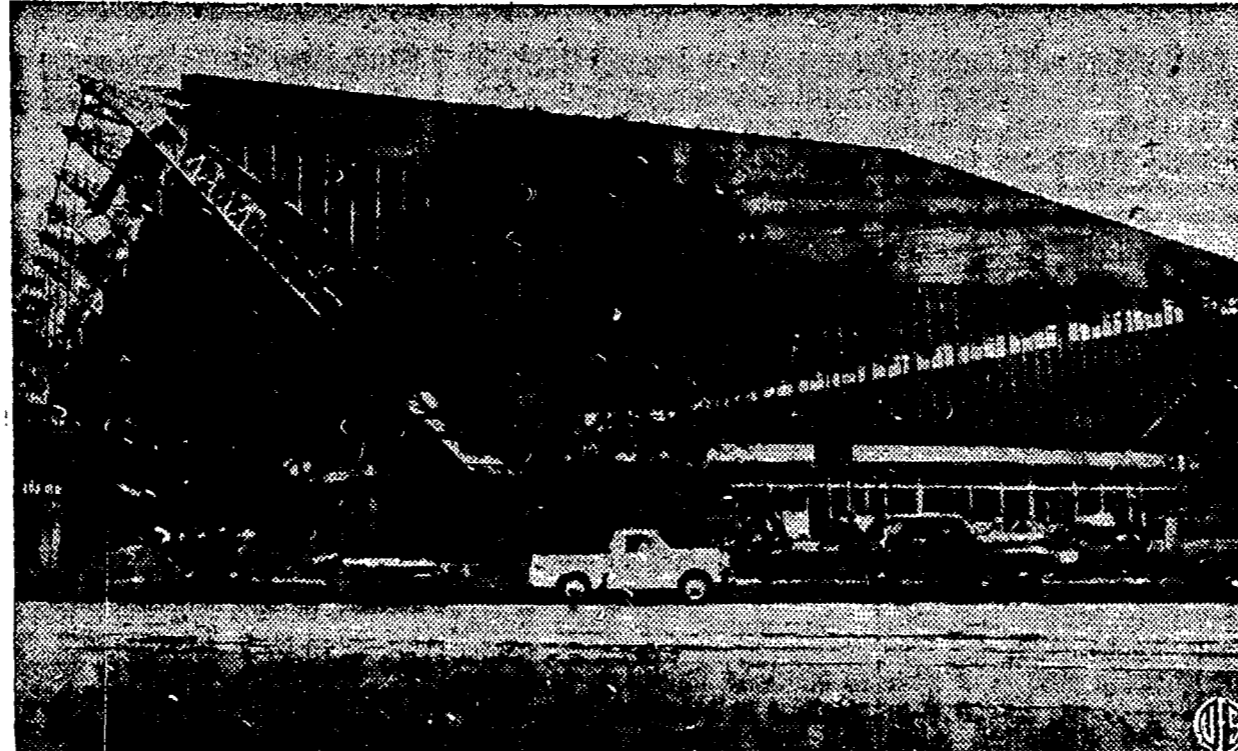

Stern-wheeler Is Tourist Favorite

LONG STORY — Richard Cole tells fashion's story for fall 1956, in a slim red wool Jersey sheath. The long, lean Empire look is borne out by the slender lines of the sheath and the high-placed belt and buttons.

YEARNING FOR A RIDE on the historic steamboat "Suwanee" is this youngster and he'll likely find it easy persuading the family to go along too, since it's a popular attraction at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Michigan. The colorful woodburning stern-wheeler, which puffs around its own picturesque lagoon, is one of several historic exhibits brought from many sections of the country by Henry Ford and re-erected in a picturesque village setting. This outdoor museum contains nearly 100 famous homes and workshops where oldtime craftsmen ply bygone trades. Nearby is Henry Ford Museum with comprehensive collections of Americana, stressing the decorative and industrial arts. Both the village and museum, among the nation's top tourist attractions, are located 15 miles from downtown Detroit and are open daily all year round.

TO HOUSE OLYMPIC SWIMMERS AND DIVERS—This is an exterior view of Melbourne's spectacular swimming and diving stadium built for the first Olympic Games ever to be celebrated in the Southern Hemisphere. The roofed stadium, designed to hold 5,500 persons, is completely glassed at both ends. The water temperature is controlled and specially chlorinated while the water itself is supplied from the nearby River Yarra. The stadium is located at Olympic Park, a multi-purpose sports center featuring in addition to the swimming stadium a soccer field, cinder training track, a cycling velodrome and a hockey field.

TURKISH DELIGHT—Steamed up over her new portable Turkish bath is pretty London Model Susan Flynn, 20. It consists of a slotted plastic sheet with rubber suction cups that turn an ordinary home bathtub into a steam cabinet. The zip-up sheet, called a "Turkobath," comes in its own sponge bag and is being marketed for its health and beauty value. The inventor, physiotherapist Jack Faint, claims the Turkobath is ideal for slimming and has a high therapeutic value.

WHAT'S MY LINEAGE? — Looking like something created by the brush of a modernistic artist, this rare animal, the newest addition to the Frankfurt Zoo, goes by the title of Gerenuk or Giraffegazelle. Almost six feet tall when standing on its hind legs, the odd animal eats the leaves from trees and bushes in giraffe style. The unusual beast is a fugitive from East Africa.

AUDIENCE REACTION—A spellbound audience of German youngsters registers extreme emotions at a Punch and Judy show in West Berlin. In foreground, a young boy comforts his sister, who hides her eyes and ears from the puppet drama. At left, a captivated boy clutches his seat and clenches his jaw in terrified expectation of the worst. Few toys or TV shows can equal the thrills afforded modern children by the good old Punch shows.

JOHN MERRIFIELD
Master of Ceremonies for Farm Fun Frolics at the Michigan State Fair will be John Merrifield, WWJ and WWJ-TV farm editor. This all-farm show in the Coliseum is scheduled for Sept. 4, 5 and 6, in the middle of the State Fair at Detroit, August 31 through September 2.

SOLD OUT—Walter Bird, owner of an antique dealer's shop in Kensington, London, indicates a sign telling of his recent sale of the entire stock of the shop to an American buyer. All of the items in the small shop were purchased by George Gottfried of New York for an undisclosed sum. (It was believed to be in the region of several thousand pounds.) The unusual transaction occurred during a recent visit to the shop by Gottfried. After spending about 100 pounds, he suddenly asked Bird if he could buy everything in the shop. The owner agreed and now arrangements for shipment of the antiques (including 30 chandeliers) are being made.

SKY TUB—Like space men in a bathtub, two Navy officers in special cold weather clothing sit in a balloon basket that will serve as a "space" laboratory in the Naval research stratolab program. LCDR M. L. Lewis, USN (left), and LCDR M. D. Ross, USNR, are attired in suits designed to protect against the extreme temperatures anticipated in manning the space lab to conduct meteorological experiments. The fiberglass basket will be carried aloft by a plastic balloon. Objective of the stratolab program is to provide a laboratory in the stratosphere for observers to conduct research that cannot be done by other means. The program is an outgrowth of ten years of "skyhook" research by the Office of Naval Research.

Veterans Going to School On GI Bill Urged to Apply

Michigan veterans planning to start school under the Korean GI Bill this fall are urged by Veterans Administration to send their applications in now to beat the last-minute rush next month when schools open their doors.

Lloyd H. Jameson, VA's regional manager for Michigan predicted that there will be an enrollment of 24,000 Korean GI veteran-trainees in Michigan schools and universities this fall.

By filing applications early, veterans will help prevent delay in processing their papers, Mr. Jameson said.

Application forms may be obtained at any VA office. The completed application along with a photostat or certified copy of the veteran's separation paper, should be sent to the Detroit VA Regional Office, 310 E. Jefferson Avenue. The papers should not be sent to VA headquarters in Washington, D.C.

To help school-going veterans make their arrangements in advance, VA issued a check-list of steps that must be taken before enrollment time.

The first item is the choice of a goal, and of a training program that will lead to that goal. Mr. Jameson explained that since the law allows a veteran only one change of program, he should make sure he chooses correctly the first time. The second item is to be certain the course has been approved for Korean GI training by the State in which the school is located. This information is available either at the school offering the course or at the VA Regional Office. It is not available at VA headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The third point is for veterans to complete arrangements for admittance to the school of their choice before filing applications with VA. This step, Mr. Jameson explained, will save time and trouble, since veterans must know beforehand whether they can meet a school's requirements for admission.

Compile Survey On Wild Ducks

Did you know that from 100,000 to 150,000 wild ducks stay in the southeastern part of Michigan during the winter?

These and other figures are being compiled at the University of Michigan in a joint research project with the State Conservation Department. The project, "Causes of Waterfowl Mortality in the Detroit River," is being conducted by George S. Hunt, lecturer in Natural Resources at the U-M.

The project hopes to determine why the ducks die in the river area and what can be done about lowering the death rate.

The study area is an approximate nine square mile region of the Detroit River which includes the island of Grosse Ile. About 5,000 wild ducks live in this region during the winter, Hunt says, and an estimated 500 die every year from starvation, pollution, exposure and lead poisoning.

Cause of death is determined by autopsy, which is performed on ducks found dead in the study area.

The biggest death dealing blow to the ducks is the freeze up of a major portion of the river, he notes. There is plenty of food in the river, Hunt explains, but the ducks can't reach it during this period.

Over 30,000 ducks have been "banded" since 1948, he says. The bands, he explains, keep track of what happens to the ducks for the researchers. "Like a doctor, we want to keep track of our patients," he says.

In 1948 an estimated 10,000 ducks died in the area that is now being studied, Hunt explains. This caused a step-up in the project. Some of the ducks that have been banded since this time have been found as far away as the Bahamas, California, and Alaska.

Wayne Purchases Famed Theater

Purchase of the theatre building at 3424 Woodward by Wayne State University has now been completed, it is announced by Leonard Leone, University Theatre director. Rented since 1951 to house the University Theatre, its purchase by the historic Bonstelle Playhouse, prominent both in the cultural history of Detroit and in the history of the American theatre.

Jessie Bonstelle, managing director of the famous Bonstelle Players, moved into this building, the former Temple Beth El, redesigned as a theatre, in October, 1924, and started production on January 1, 1925. Reorganized in 1928 as the Detroit Civic Theatre, it continued through the season of 1931-32. Miss Bonstelle died October 14, 1932.

In eight years she had averaged 27 1/2 productions a year; her longest season, 1926-27, saw 35 plays. Known as the "maker of stars," Miss Bonstelle employed in her company many who have become famous, such as Katherine Cornell, William Powell, George Seaton, Melvyn Douglas, Gale Sondergaard, and Jessie Royce Landis. Her musical director was Nicholas Gargusi, later first violinist for the Detroit and New York Symphony Orchestras, and her dance director was Mme. Casan, the only person authorized by Pavlova to teach her method. During this period she made her theatre a focal point of activity for schools, churches, commercial establishments, and clubs in the community. Church services, speeches and concerts were held in the theatre. She and her theatre were known throughout the country and she was highly respected by many prominent people in the profession.

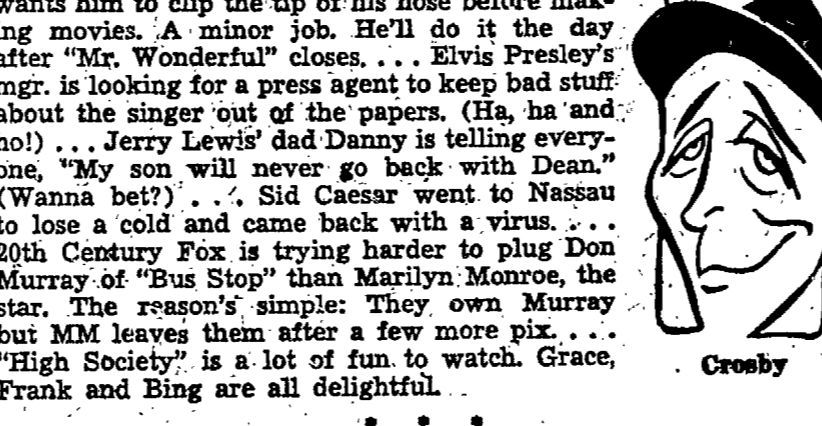

Following Miss Bonstelle's death, the theatre was renamed the Bonstelle Civic Theatre, and opened its ninth season as she had planned. It closed during the depression, however, and later housed the Mayfair motion picture theatre.

Since the University Theatre's occupancy began in 1951, it has presented 35 plays on its major seasons, plus annual touring children's productions, two touring productions for adults, innumerable student produced plays, and several plays for such organizations as the Michigan Society for Mental Health. It also presented the pre-Broadway premiere of Robert Whitehead and the Playwrights' Company production of George Tabori's "The Emperor's Clothes" starring Lee J. Cobb. During these five seasons there has been a continuous audience growth.

With the purchase of the building, the University is planning extensive renovations, including the installation of a new electronic switchboard.

Burt Boyar IN NEW YORK

OFF THE RECORD: Ava Gardner will file for divorce from Frank Sinatra in Nevada this fall when she finishes "The Little Hut" in Europe. . . . Sammy Davis, Jr.'s movie studio, wants him to clip the tip of his nose before making movies. A minor job. He'll do it the day after "Mr. Wonderful" closes. . . . Elvis Presley's mgr. is looking for a press agent to keep bad stuff about the singer out of the papers. (Ha, ha and ho!) . . . Jerry Lewis' dad Danny is telling every one "Wanna bet?" . . . Sid Caesar went to Nassau to lose a cold and came back with a virus. . . . 20th Century Fox is trying harder to plug Don Murray of "Bus Stop" than Marilyn Monroe, the star. The reason's simple: They own Murray but MM leaves them after a few more pix. . . . "High Society" is a lot of fun to watch. Grace, Frank and Bing are all delightful.

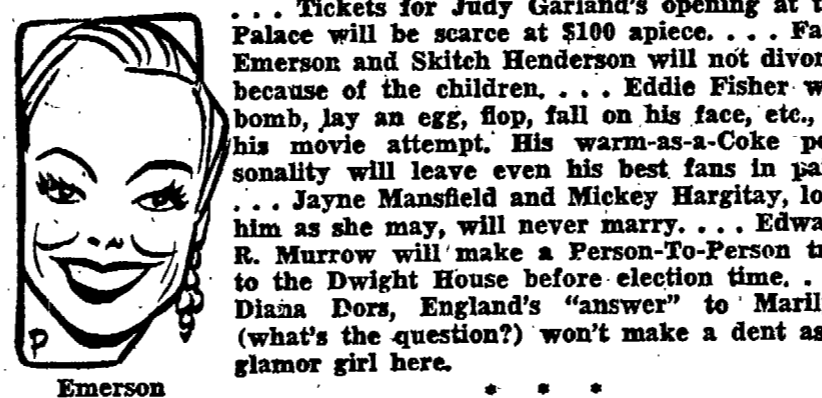

Crosby

PARAGRAPHIC: Nina Foch and her husband TV actor Jim Lipton have had tremendously tough schedules recently. Nina's been rehearsing and playing in "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Stratford Shakespeare Festival while Jim's been in New York doing TV shows, etc. They've barely seen each other for two months. Nina told us, "I saw Jim for dinner last night, and he's really very nice. . . ."

BEAU BROADWAY: Maurice Evans' next play (as a producer) will probably be a musical. Most people don't know that he played in musical comedies in London before he became a Shakespearean actor. . . . They're saying Rex Harrison will au revoir "My Fair Lady" when his contract runs out next year, so hurry, hurry, hurry. . . . It's so quiet around town, now, that the only noise in nightclubs is the sound of the waiters yawning. . . . Roz Russell will do 20 costume changes in "Auntie Mame" which bows October 31. . . . Jo Sullivan, of "Most Happy Fella" settled down for a long winter's stay. Painted her dressing room blue and white, put in a private phone, TV set, record player and small refrigerator.

TIL BETCHA: Martin & Lewis team up again for night club work within a year. . . . Frank Sinatra will be married within six months. . . . Tickets for Judy Garland's opening at the Palace will be scarce at $100 apiece. . . . Faye Emerson and Skitch Henderson will not divorce because of the children. . . . Eddie Fisher will bomb, lay an egg, flop, fall on his face, etc. in his movie attempt. His warm-as-a-Coke personality will leave even his best fans in pain. . . . Jayne Mansfield and Mickey Hargitay, love him as she may, will never marry. . . . Edward Murrow will make a Person-to-Person trip to the Dwight House before election time. . . . Diana Dors, England's "answer" to Marilyn (what's the question?) won't make a dent as a glamor girl here.

Emerson

PRINTS OF PLAYERS: Jack Palance, who knows his rough looks have made him rich, wishes he looked like a matinee idol. . . . Tony Bennett would have his beak tweaked by a plastic surgeon but he fears it might change the sounds he makes. . . . Cyd Charisse wants Tony Martin to build her a swimming pool shaped, not like a piano or a kidney, but like a girl.

PERSON-TO-PERSON: Called Dinah Shore who was in town for some TV appearances. "Hey," she said, "how come you didn't send me that story you wrote about me last time I was here?" I told her, "But I did. I thought you'd received it because I didn't get it back in the mail. I lost your California address, so I just addressed it to Dinah Shore, Hollywood, California." She seemed surprised that it didn't arrive. "I never got it," she said. "And that's surprising because I've gotten them with no name or address written on them. One had just a picture of a dinosaur. Another one had a picture of a dining car with the waves lapping alongside of it on the beach. I've got that one framed. Inside the man wrote, 'Well, I just wanted to see if they'd be stupid enough to figure out who this is. Hooryay for the Post Office.'"

C'EST LA TVIE: Steve Allen went into a department store, bought a tie and some shirts and said "Charge it!" The clerk took his name and address and asked Allen for some identification. The TV star had none on him. Allen explained he was on television. "I'm sorry said the clerk, but I don't recognize you. I don't watch television." Allen was in a rush to get back to the studio with the shirts. "Do you have a newspaper?" he asked. The clerk handed him one. Allen thumbed through to the TV section, found a picture of himself and handed it to the clerk. "Okay?" he asked. "The clerk looked at it. "Okay," he said handing over the shirts.

EXPERTS HAVE predicted doubling of demand for electricity by 1965 and further doubling of demand by 1975. Such a rise in electric power use would require 460 million tons of coal for this single purpose 20 years hence.

P-D Promotes Dr. Moersch

Dr. George W. Moersch, 41, of 92 Mapleton, will soon leave for Pittsburgh, Pa., where he will succeed Dr. Alexander M. Moore as administrative fellow in charge of the Parke-Davis fellowship in medicinal chemistry at Mellon Institute.

The transfer, which was announced by Dr. Leon A. Sweet, vice president of the firm's research division, becomes effective on September 1.

Dr. Moersch was born July 1915, in Escanaba, Mich., and obtained his B.A. degree in chemistry from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., in 1937. He continued his studies at Pennsylvania State University, received an M.S. in organic chemistry in 1940, and two years later was awarded a Ph.D. in the same field.

Prior to joining Parke-Davis, Dr. Moersch served as instructor of organic chemistry at both the University of Idaho and Pennsylvania State University. He joined Parke-Davis in April, 1946, as a senior research chemist and in January, 1952, was named a research leader.

Dr. Moersch, a member of the Parke-Davis research group which synthesized the well-known antibiotic, Chloromycetin, is past chairman of the Detroit section of the American Chemical Society. He also is a member of the medicinal chemistry and organic chemistry divisions of the national ACS organization. He and Mrs. Moersch have a two-year-old son, William.

The trouble with a man in a hurry is that he usually bypasses the train of thought.

Coach Ed Wernet Issues Grid Call

Grosse Pointe High School Football Coach Ed Wernet announced that members of the high school varsity must take their physical examination and be fitted for uniforms on Friday, August 24, at 9:30 a.m.

Coach Wernet said that official practice will begin on Monday, August 27, at 9:30 a.m. "There will be two practice sessions a day, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon, he added.

Approximately 80 members of the varsity are expected to be on hand and will be greeted by men of the coaching staff, including a new coach not yet met by Wernet, who will put the squads through their drills.

Wernet said that the examination and drills are for the varsity only.

Headlines of the Week

(Continued from Page 1) victorious in the Democratic National Convention. He was selected as presidential candidate with a smashing first ballot victory. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's opponent, went down in a stunning but expected defeat. Stevenson broke a precedent by throwing open the race for the Democratic Vice-Presidential nomination. He could, if he had so chosen, picked any one for his running mate, but decided to leave it up to the convention delegates.

The race for the number two spot will be between Senators Estes Kefauver and Hubert Humphrey. Kefauvers a heavy favorite with Northern delegates, but it is doubtful he is with the South.

Saturday, August 18 ADLAI E. STEVENSON, nominated for the second time as the Democratic candidate for president, delivered an acceptance speech to a cheering hall of National Convention delegates. His speech was interspersed with wry humor with the bulk of it made into a deadly serious assault against the Eisenhower Administration. He called for a "new era," and said that he will take a whack at everything that is wrong with the President's office and Administration.

Senator Estes Kefauver, who was swept to victory as Stevenson's running mate, said he found out the hard way that the Democratic presidential candidate was a hard and untiring fighter. While he was at it, he took a swing at the past campaign tactics of Vice-President Richard Nixon, tactics which riled the Democrats.

Sunday, August 19 EGYPT'S PRESIDENT Nasser rejected the West's plan to internationalize the Suez Canal. He said that under no circumstances could his Government accept the plan as set forth by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the 22-nation conference in London. He added, however, that his country would consider discussion of proposals for a consultative committee of maritime powers using the canal. He reaffirmed his government's determination to fight in the event of seizure of the canal. Meanwhile, Panama set off a flood of speculation in Cairo that it might link the question

Wednesday, August 22 PRESIDENT EISENHOWER flew to San Francisco to take charge of the Republican National Convention, and to enforce his call for a "free and open" vice presidential contest. He will arrive at the GOP convention to find that the delegates are overwhelmingly behind Vice President Richard Nixon as a second-term running mate. Meanwhile Republican platform makers pledged the nation new tax cuts, particularly as it applies to low and middle income families. This platform is expected to win the approval of the delegates. It calls for the tax cuts insofar as they are "consistent with a balanced budget." The plank steered clear of making any specific tax cut pledge—as did the Democrats, who promised to raise tax exemptions from $600 to $800.

RUSSIA'S Foreign Minister Shepilov turned thumbs down on the United States' plan to internationalize the Suez Canal, and backed India's proposal which called for leaving Egypt in control. He made a 45-minute speech to this effect after Secretary of State Dulles won the backing of 10 more nations to support the West's formula. Delegates to the 22-nation conference in London said that Shepilov did not offer any new proposals. Russia and India announced earlier that they would not sign any declaration which might support international control, thereby killing any hope for a unanimous agreement on a plan.

Almost daily swimmers at the Detroit Boat Club are well-known MR. and MRS. JAMISON HANDY . . . he perfected that magnificent crawl stroke, y'know. And if Mr. H. isn't swimming, he has a small sailfish on which he whisks around the river waters.

When MR. and MRS. O. B. BUTLER left on a recent Maine vacation, their parakeet, "Heathcliffe," remained behind with their Cranford lane neighbors, the THEODORE TEMPLETONS.

As parakeets so often do, Heathcliffe somehow managed to escape from the Templeton household. They reported the bird's loss to police, but lost hope after two rainy days passed with no word at all. And then, a police car pulled up to the door bearing the officers who had plucked the parakeet from a lawn in the Pointe. The Templetons are in a state of pleasant shock and the Butlers are happy indeed to have Heathcliffe once more in the bosom of their family. Where the bird spent the intervening two days, no one knows . . . only Heathcliffe himself wears a smug and knowing look!

Cute brown-haired MRS. JOHN N. BOCKSTANZ . . . wears becomingly . . . a simple two piece cotton knit dress in pale green with bloused waist and softly pleated skirt.

PILFERINGS

Ogden Nash has the following "Definition of Marriage":
Just as I know that there are two Hagens, Walter and Copen,

I know that marriage is a legal and religious alliance entered into by a man who can't sleep with the window shut and a woman who can't sleep with the window open;

Also he can't sleep until he has read the last hundred pages to find out whether his suspicions of the murdered eccentric recluse's avaricious secretary were right; Moreover, just as I am unsure of the difference between flora and fauna, and flotsam and jetsam,

I am quite sure that marriage is the alliance of two people, one of whom never remembers birthdays and the other never forgets;

And the one refuses to believe there is a leak in the water pipe or the gas pipe, and the other is convinced she is about to asphyxiate or drown;

And the other says, "Quick, get up and get my hairbrushes off the window sill; it's raining in," and the one replies, "Oh, they're all right; it's only raining straight down."

That is why marriage is so much more interesting than divorce,

Because it's the only known example of the happy meeting of the immovable object and the irresistible force.

So I hope husbands and wives will continue to debate and combat over everything debatable and combatable,

Because I believe a little incompatibility is the spice of life, particularly if he has income and she is patable.

A taxi was creeping slowly through the New York rush-hour traffic and the passenger was in a hurry. "Please," he said to the driver, "can't you go any faster?"

"Sure I can," the cabbie replied. "But I ain't allowed to leave the taxi."

The late John Barrymore, watching a tense football game, was distracted by the man next to him, who bragged, "When I was in college I helped Harvard beat Yale three times in succession."

"That so?" snapped Barrymore. "Which team were you playing on?"

Spike Jones likes to tell about the irate wife of a movie star who had gone off fishing and left her alone. Asked where her husband might be, she replied: "Just go down to the bridge and look around until you find a pole with a worm on each end!"

Rosemary and Stephen Vincent Benet dedicated "A Book of Americans" to their children thus: "To Stephanie, Thomas and Rachel, our other works in collaboration."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. RUSSELL H. LUCAS OF EAST JEFFERSON AVENUE SURROUNDED BY HER GRANDCHILDREN

By Kitty Marriot

"I like writing better than anything else since I brought up my children—which I liked best," says Mrs. Russell H. Lucas, whose 13 grandchildren are a rapt audience for her poetry geared to the young in heart.

Mrs. Lucas, who has always loved to scribe old poems for children—and some prose too—published her first book, "Rhymes for Robin," two years ago. She is now assembling a collection of her poems for a second book.

"Rhymes for Robin," written and illustrated by Carolyn Parcells Lucas, is dedicated to her uncle, the late William Lyon Phelps. Proceeds from the book go to Mrs. Lucas' pet project, the William Lyon Phelps Foundation, which was organized in 1946 by her late husband, Charles A. Parcells.

Museum on Lake

At Huron City, Mich., on Lake Huron, where Dr. Phelps and his wife spent 40 summers, the foundation maintains the William Lyon Phelps Museum, the Memorial Church and the Hubbard Woods Camp for Boy Scouts. As a child, Mrs. Lucas spent many happy hours visiting her uncle and aunt at their summer home; she recalls, in particular, playing on the Phelps' front veranda overlooking the lake.

Dr. Phelps, whose permanent home was in New Haven, Conn., was Lamson Professor of English literature at Yale University until he reached the age of 65. The nationally known writer and lecturer named his big mid-Victorian summer residence "The House of Seven Gables," after the Hawthorne classic.

Spends Summers There. "Seven Gables," built by Mrs. Lucas' grandfather, Langdon Hubbard, when he came to the north country as a lumber pioneer in 1850, is now her summer headquarters. Here, she maintains the buildings dedicated to her "Uncle Billy's" memory, and here too her grandchildren visit her during the summer months. The estate, one of Michigan's centennial farms, owned by the same family for 100 or more years, includes besides the farm-land and "Seven Gables," an old inn in which the lumbermen lived, a general store, a one-room schoolhouse, the church in which Dr. Phelps preached every summer when he wasn't in Europe (and which Mr. Hubbard built in 1881), and the museum which Mrs. Lucas had built three years ago.

Grandchildren Love It

The second-floor library of the big house is still full of Prof. Phelps' books. The small two-room museum, visited by hundreds of tourists during the summer months, contains many of "Uncle Billy's" belongings as well as pioneer articles of a century ago.

Mrs. Lucas' grandchildren look forward eagerly to their summer sojourns at "Seven Gables" and are interested in all of the foundation projects. They assist her in keeping the museum open for two hours each day.

Cabin Holds Antiques

The big house is the third which Mrs. L.'s grandfather built on the same site, after forest fires destroyed the first two. A 150-year-old cabin on the tract of land, which contains many of Mrs. Phelps' antiques and old kitchen utensils, was untouched by the early fires. It to, is under renovation and will be added to the foundation displays.

Mrs. Lucas has two sons and two daughters and 13 living grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arms, of Cleveland, are parents of Mike, David and Carol, who is named for her grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parcells, Jr., of Stephens road have Charles II, Ann, Beisy and Freddie. Another son, Billy, who died, is still a favorite in his grandmother's thoughts.

Son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wagoner, live in Princeton, N. J., with youngsters Walter, Jr., Lynda and Diane. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Parcells of Buckingham road have Jeffrey, Steven and Gretchen.

Old-Fashioned Toys

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas spend most of the year in the lovely big old-fashioned home in East Jefferson avenue, whose lawns meet the waters of Lake St. Clair, and where Mrs. Lucas' mother, Elizabeth Lockland Hubbard, lived for 50 years.

Their family frequently joins them on Sundays, and the youngsters play for hours with the old-fashioned toys which sit about the spacious rooms. Dolls that have been handled by several generations of children sit expectantly in small rockers in the entrance hall and living room.

Another never-ending attraction for the grandchildren is the old-time open cage type elevator which goes to the second floor of the house and which they love to manipulate.

Writes for Young

Mrs. Lucas attends writing class downtown and is a member of the Junior League Scribblers. Through the years, her children and grandchildren have been her principal interest.

Her verses are geared to the youthful mind because she feels that children may be intrigued to read poetry if they can read things that they are able to understand.

Woods Garden Club to Meet

The Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club has scheduled the first fall meeting and luncheon on Wednesday, September 5, at 12:30 p. m. in the Detroit Boat Club.

Following luncheon members will visit the dahlia show and the White House on Belle Isle.

FLARE STARTS FIRE

Peter Reno of 598 Notre Dame avenue, called City police Wednesday evening, August 15, to report that some boards placed over a hole had caught on fire. The excavation was marked by a flare, which was moved too close to the wood covering. A fire truck reported and extinguished the blaze.

CHEESE DREAMS

Contributed by Mrs. Walter J. Graham

Pastry: 1 - 3 oz. cake Philadelphia cream cheese

1/4 lb. butter

2 T. sweet cream

1 c. flour

Filling: grind together 1/4 c. raisins and 1/2 c. pecans add 1/4 c. sugar and 1/2 t. cinnamon.

Method: Cream butter with hand. Add cheese and sweet cream. Mix well and add flour. Let stand overnight in refrigerator.

Roll pastry thin, a small amount at a time. Cut with small round cutter; cover half of round with filling and fold over pastry, pinching edges together.

Brush each half-circle with beaten egg white and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Bake for 10 minutes in 400° oven.

Among those who entertained the bride-elect were Carol Lundgren at a miscellaneous shower; Linda Herman, who gave a personal shower in Ann Arbor; Nancy Macdonald, who gave a bathroom shower at the City Club and Mrs. Raymond Smith, who was hostess at a tea and linen shower in her home in Fairway drive.

Plan Luncheon For Ann Watson

Terminating parties for Ann Watson who will marry Thomas Singer of South Bend, Indiana on Wednesday, August 29, will be a luncheon in the Country Club on the day of the wedding with Mrs. Edna Lee Root as hostess.

Patio Garden Luncheon To Benefit Sick Poor

The beautiful gardens and patio of the new St. Ann Convent at 700 West Boston boulevard will be the scene of the third luncheon and card party sponsored this summer by the Sick Poor Auxiliary, "Friends of the Sick Poor," on Wednesday, August 29, at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harold L. Groff, chairman, and Mrs. George L. VanAntwerp, co-chairman, are being assisted with the arrangements by the Grosse Pointe and eastside members. (The Suburbanites charmaned the June party and the Northwest members the July party.)

All Auxiliary members and friends are invited. Attendance will aid the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor in carrying on the social service and nursing work among metropolitan Detroit's poor.

Reservations are being taken by chairman Mrs. Harold L. Groff, TU, 2-9962; Mrs. George L. VanAntwerp, TU, 2-5501; and auxiliary president Mrs. Jerry T. Flanagan, UN, 2-7630.

Pointe Counter Points

by Roberta Isley

The clothes from the house of Hannah Troy (she a citizen of New York . . . an honored guest of Italy) are clothes that move well and adjust to many occasions. She is recognized as the first to cut clothes in what is known as the "diminutive" or "petite" size range. The costume look is achieved here in a grey lined jersey of Frostman's wool with Mrs. Troy's waist length jacket . . . the dress itself is simplicity . . . jewelry neckline and has fully pleated skirt. Then right in the middle of all this fashion are more clothes . . . but, by Oleg Cassini, Molly Parnis, Branel, Ann Fogarty, and a honey of a reddish tweed topped with a navy cashmere by designer David Goodstein. A couple of Ann Fogarty's lend themselves superbly to monogramming. These are from the Margaret Rice collection, 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

Moms and daughters alike . . . here where the air is crisp and the clothes casual . . . love the neatly carefree KILT SKIRTS. The real news is the size range . . . 3 to 6 . . . 7 to 14 . . . and pre-teen sizes. They're even more practical than you think . . . for these are WASHABLE wools, Mom, McKay and Stuart Ancient plaids are featured. No arguments about socks at Young Clothes, Inc., on the hill, because the new knee-socks to match the Kilts are here, at 110 Kercheval, on the hill.

This week marks the fall fashion opening at Walton-Pierce. You know it . . . their custom collection . . . their fabulous furs . . . are being ignited to new brilliancies. This season expect to find the glitter of jewels in a new department at Walton-Pierce. We promise that each piece is sure to be a glowing wardrobe accessory, my fair ladies! Walton-Pierce, Kercheval at St. Clair, in the village.

Love of a campus coat is now as laws, the traditional Boy Coat. These are so reasonable here in the Pointe at D. J. Healy's, in the village . . . tag reads forty-five dollars! The selection is great . . . the black watch . . . and navy are one hundred per cent wool and millium lined. Then there's the Camalane in camel or navy . . . interlined. Ditto the price.

Does YOUR school girl dig a bead bristling with bobby pins? No? Consider this. Why not have it scissored to capture a bouffant look . . . that's the new look to the old page-boy favorite . . . or she might like the Ivy League . . . even the fair lady type . . . the one that appeals to the ribbons and ruffles in her soul. In any case, here at the Lockwood Salon of Beauty, they have one thing in mind . . . to give a smooth soft permanent wave . . . SO e-e-r-y natural looking. Our fair lady is sure to have one. 20355 Mack, in the woods. TU 1-7252.

And we speak in beguiling terms of the fall fur collection at Irving's, on the hill. Irving's versatile fur creations are just as much at home in the tropics as in breezy Grosse Pointe, you'll find.

Scheduled here in the Pointe at London East, Thursday, September 13 is Irving's first fall fashion show. It's shaping up . . . and fast. We feel that it promises to be more like a lavish production. The models are already in training. The first presentation begins promptly at 12:45 p. m., the second 2 p. m. Reservations can be made only thru London East. Newest fashion creations will be shown every Thursday from this date on. See you there.

Suits are as handsome in August or September as they were in May. If you don't believe it, add THESE to your list of "must-sees". They are ready in Irving's windows on the hill. A charcoal grey wool suit with a wonderful dushiness. The jacket is not quite fingertip length. Jackets this season, we cut off at a new and crucial moment. The crossed back belt enhances the suit's fine detailing . . . tagged fifty-five dollars. Prettiest instance for daytime into evening wear . . . handsome charcoal black wool suit . . . trimmed with a petite white mink collar. Doreen Liebert's knitted creation done in shades of grey is here in this window of pure fall fashion.

Brown tones . . . green tones . . . color-keyed to resemble fall foliage and (just possibly) the pennant colors of a certain someone's school. True the pennants in the window at 92 Kercheval add just the right atmosphere . . . but one of the real good-looking fashions for the male contingent was the olive green corduroy jacket with matching trousers. Most of the fashions shown from the dark striped button-down shirts, to the socks, will rate A for school, sports, dates, AND good looks. Kilgore and Hurd, specialists in men's attire.

Have you seen the NEW Grosse Pointe Views of the Memorial Center . . . the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club . . . the High School and Country Club. They're on picture post cards at the Camera Center, in the village. Part with five coppers for each of these.

"College Town" designs THE sport jackets for D. J. Healy's, in the village. They're really emblem classics because each jacket is impeccably tailored . . . emblazoned with a glittering pocket crest . . . pure white flannel . . . sizes 10 to 18 and for eighteen dollars and ninety-eight cents. Navy, too, for fourteen ninety-eight.

Lots of warmth to this little wool tweed boxy cardigan . . . and a run-around the neck, down the front of knitted wool ribbing. News is, it's a sweater's fall replacement . . . allied with skirts as closely as salt and pepper. In predominantly brown, black or gold tweed, rayon satin lined. Outdoor Sport Shop, Second Floor, Margaret Rice's, on the hill.

Volunteers Ask For Discards

A pre-school fall cleanup service for household discards is being offered by the Volunteers of America, it is announced by Col. W. G. Boswell, Detroit post commander. It will continue through September 8. The campaign will be called "Discards for Charity." Items to be picked up by Volunteers trucks at the home in Detroit and Wayne County include used furniture, clothing, appliances, bedding, scrap iron, paper and magazines. The public may call Woodward 2-8810 for the pickup service.

Founded here in 1897, the Volunteers are now in their 60th year of service to Detroit and Michigan. Other posts in the state are located at Lansing, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Battle Creek, and Adrian. National headquarters are in New York City and other posts offer charitable services in cities from coast to coast.
