Election Fraught with Interest

This isn't a dressing cubicle in The Gaiety Theater, but a polling booth in the Neighborhood Club, where voters of the City of Grosse Pointe cast their ballots. The News photographer was distracted by this view as he was taking pictures during the recent primary election. Any local lady recognize her own attractive under-pinnings?

Thursday, August 23
A NAVY PATROL PLANE, with 16 men aboard, is missing after an attack by unidentified aircraft off the Red China coast, and is presumed to have been shot down, it was disclosed by the Navy Department. Naval forces in the Far East began an extensive search for the plane and possible survivors.
There is no available information as to whether the attacked plane fired back at its attackers. A Naval spokesman said that planes patrolling the Formosa area are "capable of defending themselves." Far East Headquarters ordered searching planes to fire back if attacked. The Navy said that the incident, occurred over international waters.
DELEGATES at the Republican National Convention overwhelmingly nominated President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon to run against the Democratic ticket of Stevenson-Kefauver in November. They sang and shouted the Eisenhower-Nixon victory.
Both the President and Vice-President received the unanimous votes of state after state. Harold E. Stassen, who abandoned his campaign to oust Nixon as the president's running mate, spun around and made a speech at the last minute, endorsing Nixon for the number two spot. He seconded the nomination made of Nixon.

Boat Owners Ask to Tell Their Story

Spokesmen for Farms Club Disclose Their Views of Controversy Over Pier Park
Following an exchange of opinions between Fred Runnells, sports editor of the News, and George Bente, on the use of boat hoisting equipment and parking facilities for boat owners at the Farms pier park, a letter has been received from spokesmen for the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat-Owners' Club.
The letter follows in full.
"After the exchange of opinions between Mr. Runnells and Mr. Bente, we believe the aggrieved party, the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat-Owners Club members should be permitted to express their views, and then let the matter drop.
"This organization was formed to encourage safe boating, to promote good-fellowship and for the betterment of the pier."

Desk Work Fails to Dull Ability of Chief Louwers To Ferret Out Criminals

His years behind a desk as a police executive have not dulled the ability of Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers to sense something wrong, and as a result, his "police sense" cracked a juvenile ring of bicycle thieves.
Seven Detroit youngsters, ranging in age from 13 to 15, have been taken into custody, with a possibility of more being arrested later, clearing up a rash of bicycle thefts in the Pointe and Detroit. So far, 10 bikes and a number of parts have been recovered, all of which the boys admitted stealing.
On Tuesday, August 21, Chief Louwers decided to do some scout car patrolling, with the waterfront park as the first area to be covered.
As he entered the park, the chief said, he noticed two boys, 13 and 14 years old, checking over several bicycles in the bike rack and figured it might be something to look into. He approached the boys, who as soon as they spotted the police car, became very interested in a nearby tractor and began to discuss its merits.
Chief Louwers asked the lads what they were doing and they said they were only looking over the tractor. They gave evasive answers to other questions, which the chief found hard to "swallow."
Had Two Companions
Questioned further, the boys admitted they came to the park with two other boys, who at the time were riding bikes at Alter road and Korte.
Ordering the two boys into the police car, the chief put in a call to the station, and another car was dispatched to the area.
Patrolman Don Dean answered the call and was ordered to follow the chief. The officers drove down Barrington and approached Korte, where they saw two other youngsters, one 14, and the other 15 years old, riding up and down the street.
The two boys in the scout car identified them as their friends, and the two cyclists were picked up, but not before they tried to ride away upon sight of the police cars. The four boys and the bikes were given a lift to the station.
Admits Former Trouble
Following an intensive questioning session, a chain of events began to unroll. The 14-year-old picked up on Korte, admitted that he was previously arrested and detained in Juvenile Home and that the bike he was riding was one he had stolen in Detroit. His companion admitted knowledge of the several thefts and said that he was waiting for the two picked up in the park to return with bicycles.
Then one of the youngsters

Parking Meters Installed At Farms Municipal Lot

Free parking in the last two rows of the Farms municipal parking lot is a thing of the past.
On Monday, August 27, 84 new all-day parking meters were installed in the last two rows, making three rows available for parking from 24 minutes to all day. The first two rows permit limited parking.
Acting City Clerk Dawson Nacy said that the 84 meters were purchased at a cost of $5,050.08.
How much additional revenue will be gained from the new meters has not been estimated as yet.
The first three rows, prior to the new installations, brought in a revenue of approximately $150 a week to the Farms.

Early Deadline

Due to the Labor Day holiday on Monday, it is imperative that all news and advertising copy be submitted to the NEWS office as early as possible for next week's issue. Copy received before Friday noon of this week will be doubly appreciated.

Must Serve Sentence for Beating Boy

State Supreme Court Upholds Conviction of Chas. Morley for Vicious Assault
The Michigan Supreme Court upheld the conviction and sentencing of Charles R. Morley, 19, of 123 Lake Shore road, who was tried for the vicious beating of a youth because he "did not like the way he looked at me."
The Supreme Court decision was rendered on Friday, August 24, and on the same day, Recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide cancelled Morley's appeal bond and ordered him to the County Jail to await transportation to the Detroit House of Correction.
Given Year's Sentence
Morley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Morley, was convicted of aggravated assault on Robert Demrose, 16, of 4318 Somerset, Detroit, and was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction and fined $500.
The vicious beating took place on September 16, at East Warren and Chatsworth, Detroit. Demrose suffered fractures of the cheek bone and left jaw. He was hospitalized for eight days.
As a result of the beating, testimony showed, Demrose suffered headaches, impaired vision and inability to concentrate in his classes in 10th grade at Southeastern High School.
Had Been Drinking
On the September date, Morley was returning to a drinking party of Pointers, with a supply of beer, when he saw Demrose standing on the corner. Four teenagers, one of them a girl, were with Morley at the time.
Following his arrest, that same evening, Morley told police that he halted his car and struck Demrose because he did not like the way he looked at him.
However, on the witness stand, Morley changed the story. He testified that the trouble began when Demrose said, "What's the matter with you guys, are you mad or something?"
Then, according to Morley's testimony, Demrose said, "go ahead and hit me." Morley said he swung at the younger boy and hit him.
Morley admitted that he had drunk five bottles of beer and a little wine before the assault.

Residents Object To Proposed Plan For Parking Area

Petition Farms Council Not to Construct Alley in Rear of Muir Road for Development of Enlarged Space
The Farms council on Monday, August 20, was presented a petition bearing the signatures of 17 residents living on Muir and Ridge roads, in which they protested the proposed construction of an alley and parking lot at the rear of their property.
The petitioners are against the project because they felt the proposed development would deprive the community's children of free recreational space.
Will Develop Strip
The protest is centered against a strip of the Gabriel Richard playground leased to the Farms by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, to augment parking facilities in the Kercheval-on-the-Hill parking lot. The city plans to develop this strip, giving additional parking space for approximately 100 cars.
The plans, still in the preliminary stage, call for the development of a 70-foot wide strip of the playground, starting at the alley at the rear of the Muir property line, and will provide egress and ingress from Ridge road.
Want Buffer Strip
The residents ask that a "10-foot land buffer" be maintained, with a fence separating their property and the parking strip. A new fence will also be needed to separate the playground from the project.
The following is a copy of a letter sent to the NEWS, in which the residents registered their protests to the council, with the recommendation of the alternative if the city persists in carrying out its plans:
THE LETTER
To the Grosse Pointe Farms Council:
We the undersigned protest the building of an alley and a parking lot at the rear of our properties. We feel that it is a tragedy that more and more free recreational space is being taken from our children and being made into a business venture.
If in spite of our protest, we are still forced to have this parking lot, we insist that the present high fence remain where it is to protect us against

9500 to 9600 Students Set For Opening

Thursday, September 6, will be first full day of New Term; Barnes to Open
Public school officials have indicated that they expect a record enrollment on the first school day for students, Thursday, September 6. By the end of the first week an estimated 9500-9600 are expected to be enrolled. This figure would be 500 to 600 higher than the initial enrollment of a year ago.
The John R. Barnes Elementary School on Morningside will swing wide its doors to its first classes. The new structure, named for retired Superintendent Barnes, will replace the old Vernier School. Entering the newest school in the system will be some 400 boys and girls.
To be enrolled in kindergarten a child must be five years of age on or before December 1 of the current school year, according to Board of Education policy. Children who will become five between December 2 and January 31 may be tested by the Department of Pupil Personnel to determine readiness for kindergarten, if such service is requested by the parents of these children. Arrangements may be made by calling the Board of Education, TU 5-2000, Extension 33.
Medical Exams Urged
Local school and health officials again urge parents who have not already done so, to have their children examined by their family physicians, especially if they have had any serious illness during the summer months. All school offices and the Board of Education have a printed medical examination form which is available to interested parents.
Students new to Grosse Pointe Public Schools are being enrolled this week at the high school and in all elementary and junior high schools. Parents new to the community may still register their children on Friday afternoon, August 31. Report cards from the school previously attended and birth certificates should be taken to the school. Transfer high school enrollees should have transcripts of credits forwarded to the high school from their former school.
Staff To Meet
The entire professional staff of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools will convene at the Pierce Junior High School auditorium on Tuesday morning, September 4, at 11 o'clock for its first meeting of the year. The announcement was released by Dr. James W. Bushong, Superintendent of Schools.
Presiding at the kickoff meeting will be Miss Virginia Hoelzle, a teacher at Pierce and current president of the Grosse Pointe Teachers' Association, which planned the opening session.
Miss Hoelzle will introduce the Superintendent, who will welcome the staff. The entire seven-member Board of Education is expected to attend.
Featured speaker will be Dr. Ralph Rabinovitch, former director, children's division, Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, University Hospital, Ann Arbor, now director of the new Hawthorne Center at Northville, which is a children's pavilion.
Dr. Rabinovitch is one of the outstanding psychiatrists for children in this country. He is recognized not only for his practice of psychiatry but also for his writing and speaking on the subject. He will be introduced by School Board President Robert Weber.
Following the meeting, staff members new to Grosse Pointe will be guests of the teachers' association at a luncheon to be held in the Pierce cafeteria. An individual hosts and hostesses to the newcomers, special friends called "Help Alongs" will also be served. The "Help Alongs" are veteran staff members who have agreed to help the new members become oriented to Grosse Pointe in their first year.

No More Polio Cases Reported

Another week has passed with no additional reports of cases of infantile paralysis in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Health District. Dr. Thomas Davies, health commissioner, stated on Monday, August 26, that the district still had but one case which was reported during June.
Comparable statistics show that at this same date in 1953, there had been ten cases reported. There had been 28 in the big year of 1954, and six last year.
There was one death from polio reported in the district in 1953 and one in 1954. None was reported last year.
Clubs Big Donors
The tournament has been financed by such generous organizations as the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Optimist Metropolitan Club, American Legion 303 and the Detroit Tennis Patrons. Trophies and other prizes have been purchased for the winners.
In the girls' (under 18) bracket Beline LaHood was seeded number one as was Ricky Champion in the boys' (under 18) bracket. Betty Hansen was number one in the women's singles and Sandy Wiener in the men's singles.
Rick Champion and Bill Bryant are number one in the boys' doubles and Sandy Wiener along with his dad Alex are number one in the men's doubles. Betty Hansen and Sandy are top seeded in the mixed doubles.

Woods Protests Detroit's Proposed Water Rate Hike

The Woods is seeking a possible means to deter a proposed increase in the water rates as set forth by Detroit, from which it purchases its water.
At an adjourned meeting held on Monday, August 27, the Woods council was informed that the Detroit Water Board Commission is demanding an increase of the water rate, by 35 cents, from 65 cents to $1 per thousand cubic feet. The proposed increase aroused members of the council to protest.
The Detroit Water Board pipes its water through Woods mains constructed and paid for by Woods taxpayers. However, by virtue of the fact that Detroit supplies the water, it "owns" these mains and reserves the right to pipe water through them to other suburban cities which are its customers.
The Woods council authorized its city administrator, city attorney and city engineer to meet with representatives of the Shores and Harper Woods, the two other communities effected by the new rates.
It was said that the latter two cities have already agreed to accept the new rates.
The three Woods officials will ask for the meeting with those from the other communities, to see if all three cities could arrive at a reasonable rate which might be acceptable to Detroit.
At the Monday night Woods meeting, it was brought out that the Woods had constructed a water main along Harper avenue, sometime ago at a cost of $55,000. The construction took

Ford Museum Setting Record

Attendance at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village appears headed for the best record in its 27-year history.

Visitors for the first seven months totaled nearly a half million, bettering attendance for the same period last year by 36,000.

With figures for two of the best months—August and September—still to be added, it seems assured the 1956 total will reach 850,000 for the first time, according to Dr. Donald A. Shelley, executive director.

Founded in 1929 by automotive pioneer Henry Ford, the museum and village have become one of the nation's top tourist attractions.

The decorative arts collection includes furniture, clocks, pewter, textiles, ceramics, glass and silver.

The 8-acre main gallery of the museum includes agricultural implements, steam engines, airplanes, fire engines, circus wagons, 175 early automobiles, buggies and 10 steam locomotives...

In the Village, there are nearly 100 famous homes and workshops, transported from their original foundations elsewhere in the United States and reconstructed here.

Thousands of miles of travel would have been required to visit them in their original settings.

Many of them, moreover, would have disappeared by now and hence lost to history.

The homes, many containing original furniture, include those of Henry Ford, George Washington Carver, William Holmes McGuffey, the Wright brothers and Noah Webster.

There also is the Plympton House from Massachusetts, one of the oldest homes in America.

Reminiscent of the times when village greens were the centers of communities, a similar area at Greenfield Village is surrounded by historic buildings including the Logan County, Illinois, courthouse where Lincoln once practiced law.

The chair in which he was seated in Ford's theater in Washington when he was assassinated may be seen there.

Nearby is Menlo Park, a group of buildings associated with inventor Thomas A. Edison during the years he perfected the incandescent lamp.

Most of Edison's inventions are displayed in his restored laboratory, a two-story clapboard structure.

A blacksmith and weaver, potter, tinsmith and glassblower are among the oldtime craftsmen who carry on their bygone trades daily.

On a quiet, circular lagoon at the end of the village, the colorful stern-wheeler, "Suwanee" puffs around carrying the visitors during the summer.

The museum and village are open to the public every day in the year. The hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. During the summer (until Labor Day) the closing hour 6 p.m.

Receipts Rise at Post Office

Grosse receipts at the Detroit Post Office for the first seven months of this year totaling $21,685,083 are reported by Postmaster Edward L. Baker. This represents an increase of $861,615 over the same period in 1955. While increases were noted in nearly all revenue producing items, the largest increase was reported in motored postage which was up from $10,569,664 in 1955 to $11,081,859 this year. Detroiters are sending and receiving more mail than at any time in the history of the Postal Service. Outgoing letter mail increased nearly 21 million pieces during the first seven months of this year and Detroiters mailed 200,000 more parcels in the same period. Postmaster Baker said the Detroit Post Office anticipates total receipts of more than 39 million dollars by the end of this year.

Parking Meters Installed

Soldiers Solve Jaycee Problem

The Grosse Pointe Junior Chamber of Commerce has received assistance from the U. S. Army this year in helping to make the Michigan State Fair a success. The Jaycees wanted to sponsor a booth at the Fair and so they set to work with hammers and nails to build one on a vacant lot in W. Doyle road in Grosse Pointe Woods earlier this week. Transportation of the booth to the Fair Grounds, however, was the big problem — at least it was until the Army stepped in! The 99th AAA Battalion at Essex and Three Mile road in Grosse Pointe Park has offered to transport the big booth and to lend manual assistance in any way they could to the Grosse Pointe Jaycees.

The booth will house a malted milk concession while the State Fair is in progress — from Friday, August 31 to Sunday, September 9

The Tuxis Club of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church is planning a session for Sunday night, September 9, when there will be all kinds of expert advice for students who will become college fresh-

Colonel Allard Back from Camp

Lt. Colonel David W. Allard, Armor, 247 Ridgmont, has changed from uniform to "civvies" again upon his completion of two weeks annual summer active duty training at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin as a member of the staff of the Detroit USAR School, 5906 ARSU.

Colonel Allard served as Operations and Training Officer in the school which presented Command and General Staff training to 235 reserve officers from throughout the Fifth, First, Third and Sixth Army areas.

Embracing all aspects of combined arms training and higher command and staff responsibilities, the course was prepared by the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and is designed to implement the regular academic reserve training held from fall through spring in the Army Reserve Schools.

With his annual tour of duty behind him, Colonel Allard finds himself better qualified to continue his reserve training and keep constantly "trained and ready" in the reserve program of our national defense.

Stern-Wheeler Tourist Favorite

Yearning for a ride on the historic steamboat "Suwanee" is this youngster and he'll likely find it easy persuading the family to go along too, since it's a popular attraction at Greenfield Village in Dearborn. The colorful woodburning stern-wheeler, which puffs around its own picturesque lagoon, is one of several historic exhibits brought from many sections of the country by Henry Ford and re-erected in a picturesque village setting. This outdoor museum contains nearly 100 famous homes and workshops where oldtime craftsmen ply by-gone trades. Nearby is Henry Ford Museum with comprehensive collections of Americana, stressing the decorative and industrial arts. Both the village and museum, among the nation's top tourist attractions are located 15 miles from downtown Detroit and are open daily all year around.

Martins Hosts To 50 Guests

Dr. and Mrs. Lyndle R. Martin entertained some 50 guests Saturday for cocktails and buffet supper at their home in Middlesex road.

The party served as a sendoff for Dr. Martin and Dr. Hoyt Wipple, a physicist on the University of Rochester Staff and a director of the National Atomic Energy Commission, who left Sunday on a western tour.

Guests were also treated to their first view of the Martins' newly lighted gardens. Cocktails were served on the rear terrace, and at dusk, Mrs. Martin flicked a switch to turn on the 30 lights which effectively illuminate gardens in the front and rear of the house.

The Martins got the idea for their project from the lighted gardens at Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, where they vacation every summer.

Their guests from the block—it was the fourth such block party this summer—included Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kroha, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adam, the William Blakeslees, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neis, the Arthur Willsons, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kannel, Dr. and Mrs. Mark Maun, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ryenga, the John Linsenmeyers, Mr. William Ross, and the William Baldwins, who recently moved to Middlesex road from Chicago.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hanigan, Mr. and Mrs. James Ogden, the Clarence Horns, Mr. and Mrs. George DeVos, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick

Price, the David Lowes, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Carbone, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Graham, Mrs. Robert Tapert, and Dr. Paul Derlieth, of Pleasant Ridge.

Explorer Scouts To Hold Parley

Local Council Explorers will be conducting the Council's first annual "Citizens Now" Conference at beautiful Cranbrook School, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 30, 31 and September 1.

The title "Citizens Now" indicates that young men of Explorer age (14 and over), are ready and willing to participate actively as citizens in their home and community.

The "Citizens Now" Conference will present several outstanding educators and youth experts as speakers including: Dr. William E. Stirton, Vice-President, University of Michigan; Amos R. Shields, Scout Executive, Detroit Area Council; Probate Judge Nathan J. Kaufman, Wayne County Juvenile Court; and C. Allen Harlan, Scout Council Board member and President of Harlan Electric Company. The final challenge will be given by Dr. William W. Whitehouse, President of Albion College.

Subjects to be presented for discussion include "Use of the Family Car," "Mutual Understanding With Parents," "Dating," "Personal Appearance," "Vandalism and Mob Action," "Church Obligation and Religious Freedom," "Getting An Education," "Community (Civic) Service" and "Helping Others."

These various topics will be recorded during the various sessions and discussion secretaries will prepare summaries for future action.

The whole project has been conceived and guided by a group of local Explorers who were assigned as chairmen of various committees such as Arrangements, Discussions, Activities, Speakers, and Publicity.

As would naturally be expected of a group of young men, the social emphases of the conference were not forgotten and some 100 selected young ladies are being invited to a Social Evening on Friday, August 31.

All physical facilities of Cranbrook are being made available—including gymnasiums, bowling alleys, swimming pool, dormitories and dining hall. Special tours of the Institute of Science, Planetarium and other areas will be made.

An experimental "Citizens Now" Conference, held in June at the University of Illinois, was attended by the 5 committee chairmen who are managing the Cranbrook affair. They are Roger Herrington (General Chairman); Al Landeck (Arrangements and Registration); Ronald Peterson (Discussion Leader); Fred Burian (Speakers) and Arthur Woodford (Publicity).

It is estimated that over 200 young men will attend the 3 day affair.

For the instruction and guidance of students new to Grosse Pointe High School, the principal, Walter R. Clemenson, has announced special orientation meetings to be held on Wednesday, September 5.

At 1 p.m., all 9B's, 10B's, and new students, grades 9B-12A, who will be at Grosse Pointe High School this fall will report to their home rooms. Each has been mailed a card giving the room number where he is to report. It is exceedingly important that he have this card with him, or a memo of the room number, when he comes for this meeting.

"He will meet his home room teacher and, of course, members of the home room. Lockers will be assigned and practices and policies of the school will be explained. Further, there will be a tour of the rooms where classes will meet so that school opening Thursday, September 6, will run more smoothly for these new students," said Mr. Clemenson. "Also included will be a meeting in the auditorium at which the counselors and administrative staff will receive the new students."

The deans have enrolled many new students this week. They will be available again tomorrow afternoon, Friday, August 31, after which they will not be available to enroll new students again until 9 a.m., Thursday, September 6.

All staff members will attend faculty meetings and the new student orientation meetings Tuesday and Wednesday, September 4 and 5.

The book store will be open for all high school students from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., August 27 to September 5.

A student wishing to make a schedule change should present his parent's written request to his counselor between 2 and 4 p.m., Wednesday, September 5.

Classes will begin at 8:30 a.m., Thursday, September 6.

Busy Year Planned By Woman's Club

Varied Programs Listed for Meetings Scheduled for the Third Wednesday of Each Month

Under the leadership of Mrs. T. W. Huebenthal, president of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club, the members are forming plans for a most active year. They meet the third Wednesday of each month at the War Memorial Center. Mrs. Warren C. Dilloway, first vice-president, has formulated the following program for the monthly meetings:

In September Mrs. Stanley Kenn will introduce Phyllis Cowles speaking on "Poise and Polish in Public Speaking."
 The October meeting will find Mrs. Earl Meyer introducing Miss M. Eddy with "Color Comes Calling," an interior decorating topic.

A bit of travel through Spain, Sicily, and Italy" with Mrs. Samuel Dean, will be the November interest with Mrs. Daniel Schallberger as the program chairman of the day.

Mrs. W. G. Brownson, at the December meeting, will introduce Mrs. Walter Byrd, speaking on "Picture Tables for the Holy-Days," a topic much appreciated at that time.

The January program will be "Current Broadway Plays," with Mrs. Sterling Sanford as speaker, introduced by Mrs. Russell E. Smith.

The next month, members will travel west with Mrs. R. P. Keim, who will use "Apache Town" as her topic. Mrs. Lawrence Ruby will be program chairman of the day.

On March 20, Mrs. John G. Seales will introduce Esther Benson, giving several lyrical satires.

"Hats and Hobbies" with Mrs. Joseph J. Cucchi, presented by the day's chairman, Mrs. Alfred Mitschke, should prove interesting and instructive in April.

The club members showed great talent in their presentation of a one act play last year, and will present another one in May. Mrs. Murray Young, a club member, will be the director.

The annual luncheon, bringing the year's activities to a close, is scheduled for June 5, at the Lochmoor Country Club. Mrs. W. H. Bundeson will be chairman for this event, and Mrs. Earl Meyer will be program chairman.

The Grosse Pointe Woman's Club has many and varied activities. The Service Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Funk, will have 12 months of aiding the Red Cross in a Blood Bank unit, besides several other service duties.

The Bridge Committee, with Mrs. Charles Park chairman, sponsors meetings the first Wednesday of each month at the War Memorial Center. In place of the usual bridge in October they are having a Benefit Card Party on October 3, hoping to raise a considerable sum for the club's annual award to a Grosse Pointe High School graduate.

Mrs. J. L. Thompson, chairman of the Discussion Group, which meets each second Wednesday, announces an interesting year ahead, beginning with a Town Hall type meeting in October. On March 13, they will sponsor a President's Day Book Review with Mrs. Hugh White of Grosse Pointe as speaker.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. T. W. Huebenthal, president; Mrs. Warren Dilloway, first vice-president; Mrs. L. H. Orebough, second vice-president; Mrs. Ernest Rushmer, recording secretary; Mrs. Kennard Jones, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Stanley Piopa, treasurer.

On Honeymoon In New England

Judith Grace Hofstra, daughter of the John G. Hofstras of East Detroit, and William Winkler Jr., were married at a 4 o'clock service August 25 in St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Rev. Henry O. Yoder, of the Lutheran Student Center at Ann Arbor, read the double ring rites, assisted by the Rev. Charles Sandrock.

The bride wore a ballerina length white embroidered organza gown, matching pearl-trimmed cap and short illusion veil. An orchid centered her colonial bouquet.

Her trio of attendants, Cynthia Hobart, Janet Mabrac and Carolyn Piotrowski, were identically attired in white dotted Swiss over mint green and matching green picture hats.

White carnations, and ivy formed their colonial bouquets.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Winkler of Fisher road, asked James V. Bates, of Farmington, to be best man. Ushers included Frank Adams, of Ottawa, Ont., C. Bayard Johnson and John M. Chase.

After a reception in the church parlors, the newlyweds left on a 10-day trip to New England.

Club to Repeat Tots' Program

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club will again have a pre-school program for four year olds beginning in late September. This program offers four year olds an opportunity to have a pre-school experience in which children play with others of their own age under supervision and guidance of volunteer leaders.

Through the pre-school program, children have an opportunity to share in the give and take of group activities; mothers will be serving as assistant leaders on a rotating basis serving approximately one morning per month. Mothers will be expected to attend the orientation sessions to be offered in mid-September.

There will be a fee for this pre-school service. Children will be enrolled in groups of 15 and will meet one day each week.

For further information regarding the pre-school program, call the Community Club, Tuxedo 4-2050. Registrations are limited and interested parents are urged to enroll their children early.

Hats Fashioned After Paintings

Jacobson's, in Grosse Pointe, is presenting a collection of children's millinery fashioned after hats worn by little misses in masterpieces of such master painter as Renoir, Monet, Picasso, Davis and Collegero.

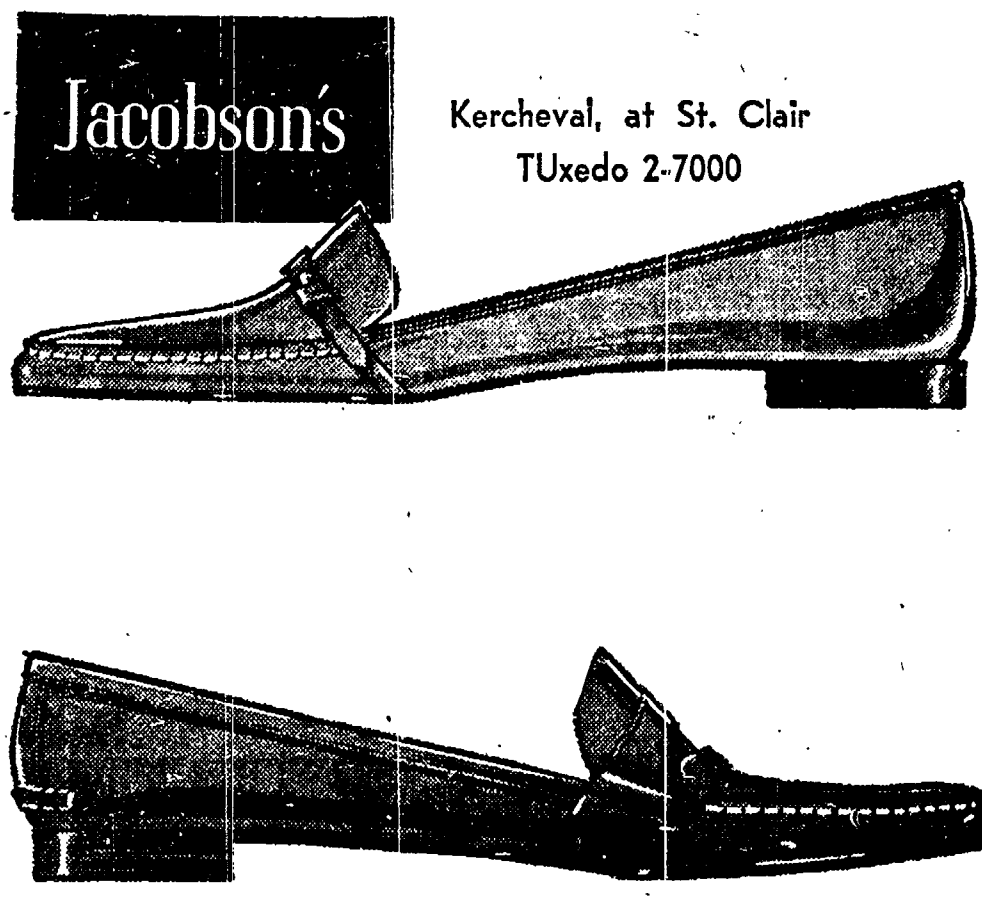

The designs were cleverly adapted and artfully fashioned by John Frederics, another master of design.

This is one more instance of Jacobson's efforts to bring to the Grosse Pointe the ultimate and unusual in fashions.

ROOKIE INITIATION

Part of a rookie players indoctrination in the Detroit Lions camp is to stand on a chair, with hand over heart, and sing his school song. After one such performance by Bob Lusk of William and Mary, one veteran commented, "He'd better be able to play football better than he sings or he's a dead duck."

Harry Gilmer of the Detroit Lions attempted 122 passes during the 1955 season and had only four intercepted.

1,052 Pointe Girls and Women Used YWCA During Last Year

The Young Women's Christian Association, a Torch Drive agency, provided fun, friendship and inexpensive recreation to 1,052 Grosse Pointe girls and women last year.

They were among 34,614 members served through the four branches and one center operated by the YWCA in the Detroit area.

The YWCA was founded in London in 1855. It was brought to Detroit 64 years ago. Its purpose, then and now, is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

Today, the YWCA carries out this purpose through its facilities, service and program in all communities of Metropolitan Detroit in which the Torch Drive is conducted. During the years it has adjusted its program and shifted its staff to meet the needs of young wives and mothers for relaxation, of families for inexpensive recreation, of youth for wholesome fun, of employed young people for education, of the lonely girl for friends, of all people for a growing religious faith.

The program of the YWCA is concerned with work and leisure, home life, school, citizenship, and faith.

The work and leisure activities of 22,275 people were involved in clubs, classes, interest groups, camps, special activities for children and teen-agers, employed adults, YW-wives, couples and co-eds, and families with a total attendance of 196,878 last year. Swimming was the most popular activity offered in nearly 1,000 classes, which included instruction in such activities as knitting and dancing. The "Y" is "home" to several hundred girls the year round. A majority of them are girls between the ages of 17 and 24 who are employed in clerical positions in downtown Detroit. Food service, and facilities for preparing their own meals help girls feel even more at home.

The YWCA also offers a program for YW-wives, parents and families. This includes homemakers' clubs and "Ladies Day Out," when mothers may leave their youngsters at the "Y" while they go shopping or take part in "Y" activities. In some of the branches, entire families participate in "Y" affairs.

The YWCA conducts intensive programs in many high schools and Wayne State University in the Detroit area. Y-Teen clubs, sponsored by the YWCA, meet in the high schools in which they are organized. The "Y" strives to stimulate an awareness among its members of what is happening to other people and create a desire to take responsible action. Its Public Affairs program offers a means for the wholesome exchange of differing points of view on social issues.

The YWCA opens its doors to many groups outside of its membership which find it a convenient and friendly place for meetings. Last year, 2,816 meetings of community groups were held in "Y" buildings in Detroit, attended by 115,630 persons.

Motivation behind all YW activities is the Christian faith, which plays an important part in its activities. Devotional periods, worship services and ceremonies, Bible study groups, discussion groups, and short seminars on religious subjects, all are important parts of the YWCA program.

Ceremony Held Saturday Afternoon in Memorial Church; Reception Follows at War Memorial Center

Carol Louise Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watson I. Ford of McKinley avenue, and Richard Scott Davidson, were wed at 5 o'clock rites Saturday afternoon in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The princess style gown of white peau de soie, made by the bride, was fashioned with an empire bodice. Chantilly lace, which her parents had brought from Paris, was used for the bodice, sleeves and applique.

The full skirt extended into a chapel train, and a circlet of iridescent sequins and seed pearls held her silk illusion veil. Fleurs d'amour, scattered carnations and staphenotis formed her bouquet.

Mrs. John F. Beyer, Jr., journeyed from Pittsburgh to be matron of honor for her sister, Susan Senft, Jean Willoughby, Elizabeth Muir, of East Grand Rapids, and Jane Griffith, of Battle Creek, also attended the bride.

The quintet wore powder blue lace frocks, and carried white fuji mums surrounded by blue and white mums and purple asters. Barbara and Susan Schrotzberger were flower girls.

Donald Devereaux, of East Lansing, served as best man for the son of Prof. James A. Davidson, of Okemos, Mich., and the late Mrs. Davidson.

Ushering were James Peters, of East Lansing; George Rockwell, of Birmingham; Douglas Davidson, of Okemos, brother of the bridegroom, and Andrew Samosuk.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Mrs. Ford donned a pink peau de soie dress with corsage of tiny matching rosebuds.

Miss Dorothy Scott, aunt of the bridegroom, wore a beige lace dress and rosebud corsage.

When the couple left on a three weeks' wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula and the East, the new Mrs. Davidson changed to a grey cotton and silk frock trimmed in white and black accessories.

Family Heirlooms In Wedding Roles

Ring and Bridal Gown Are Sentimental Parts of Ceremony Uniting Elizabeth Leonard and Leo Fitzpatrick, II

Two cherished family heirlooms played an important part in the Saturday wedding of Elizabeth Clark Leonard and Leo James Fitzpatrick II at a noon ceremony in St. Paul's Church on the lakeshore.

The ring which Mr. Fitzpatrick gave his bride was the one used in the marriage of his paternal grandparents two generations ago, and the beautiful antique veil which Elizabeth wore was a lovely legacy in lace from many generations of brides in her own family.

The bride, daughter of the Lawrence Clark Leonards, of Cleveland Heights, O., used the delicate Duchesse lace veil which had been worn by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Rust Pierce; her mother, Mrs. Leonard; her aunts, Mrs. John Huntington and Mrs. Walter James Sears, and by her cousin, Mrs. Charles Casgrain Williams.

A tiny Juliet cap edged in orange blossoms clasped the veil. Her princess gown of ivory satin had a full cathedral train. An overlay of fine lace encircled the shoulder line, extending in two deep panels to the front hemline of the skirt. White garters and stephanotis were in her bridal bouquet.

Seven attendants in vibrant bottle green taffeta, carrying bouquets of Hibbard roses, preceded the bride to the altar. Eileen Leonard was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included two of the bride's cousins, Barbara Leonard, of the Pointe, and Chrissie Sears, of Washington, D.C., and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William C. Hester.

Marcia Charles, of Cleveland Heights; Joan MacKinnon, of Shaker Heights; and Barbara Stringer, of Meriden, Conn., were other bridesmaids. Small Frances Sears attended as her cousin's flower girl.

The bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo James Fitzpatrick of Cloverly road, asked Lawrence D. Buhl Jr., to serve as best man. Gordon T. Ford, Nicholas Ruwe, Robert Hownstein, William C. Hester, Thomas Whitehead, of Cleveland, and Fenton Remick were other groomsmen.

Mrs. Leonard chose a fawn-colored chiffon gown for her daughter's wedding with a narrow band of topaz colored stones set into a small self-belt. Her small velvet hat was in deeper toned bronze and she attached delicate green orchids to her prayer book.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick wore a gown of thin paper taffeta in pale autumn tints of brown, with small matching hat and brown orchids.

A reception followed in the Beverly road home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rust Pierce, with whom she made her home when she attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart.

Father and Daughter To Mark Birthdays

Terry Phelan and her father, James J. Phelan Jr., of Moross road, will mark their birthdays together on September 2.

The Phelan family have invited 60 friends to help them celebrate at cocktails, followed by supper and dancing, in their Metamora home. It will be Terry's 21st birthday.

Mrs. Phelan, with Terry and her sister, Anne, has just returned from the Republican convention in San Francisco.

Mrs. Leo James Fitzpatrick, II

ELIZABETH CLARK LEONARD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clark Leonard, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, formerly of Grosse Pointe, married the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo James Fitzpatrick of Cloverly road on Saturday at St. Paul's Church on the lakeshore.

Mrs. John R. Gustafson

Before her August 25 marriage to the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gustafson, of Chicago, the bride was MARGARET ANNE STAPLETON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stapleton of Hidden lane. They recited their vows in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

A garden reception at the Hidden lane home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stapleton followed the August 25 marriage of their daughter, Margaret Anne, to John Robert Gustafson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gustafson, of Chicago.

The pair, who pledged their vows at a 4 o'clock service in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, will live in East Lansing until the bride completes her studies at Michigan State University. They will then embark on a Caribbean trip as a belated honeymoon.

James H. Quello of Berkshire road is chairman of the meeting for the third year, and while the menfolk are convening, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Quello, co-chairmen of women's activities, will provide a variety of entertainment for the wives. The Quellos will take time out on September 14 to mark their 19th wedding anniversary.

And that lass from Ecuador, Patsy Butler, who spent the last year with her uncle and aunt, the Quellos, and her junior year at Grosse Pointe High, has left for Arlington, Va. Vacationers Head Home

Mrs. James E. Scripps III is back in Bedford road with youngsters, Anne, Jimmy and Mary, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gibbs at their Hillcrest Heights summer home on Lake Huron. This past week, the trio have alternated spending a few days each with their grandmother, Mrs. Lester F. Ruwe of Willow lane.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Hilliard Hicks of Harvard road are still taking excursions to nearby points aboard their "Errant," but the month-long vacation trip to Georgian Bay is behind them. At Harbor Island, they picked up Dr. and Mrs. Lyle G. Waggoner of Lakeview court and sailed with them to Okeechobee at the entrance to the Bay of Fin.

Some Luncheon Meetings

French travel posters of Versailles and Paris lent a continental touch about the premises last week when Mrs. Henry deSegur Lauve entertained her French Club at luncheon in Sunningdale drive. This was the first "fall" meeting for the group, who last year started weekly get-togethers, at which they listen to Linguaphone records. All have a basic knowledge of French, and they take turns reading with the records to improve their French conversation and pronunciation.

The linguists, who alternate having the gatherings in their homes, include Mrs. Frank Donovan, Mrs. Thomas Morrow, Mrs. A. D. Mack, Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, Jr., Mrs. William A. Day and Mrs. Karl O. Van Leuven.

Mrs. James P. Neville gave a "welcome home" luncheon on Thursday in her LaBelle road home for Mrs. Charles Ross of Eastlawn avenue, who had just returned from a Caribbean cruise. Guests who listened to the traveler's discourse included Mrs. Leonard Jennings, Mrs. George F. Killeen, and Mrs. John J. Louisignau.

HOUSEHOLD HINT
Consider the dry cleaning costs of that new fashionable car coat that may lure you with its low purchase price, suggest M. S. U. clothing specialists. Some coats made of leather are lined with a paisley print, metallic-stripe taffeta, wool or alpaca. Such combinations create a cleaning problem. Coats made of water-repellent materials have to be re-treated after dry cleaning to restore the finish.

Election Fever Gains Spotlight

An exhibit entitled "Once Every Four for Freedom" is currently an exhibit at the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby and continues through Nov. 6.

The exhibit is concerned with presidential election procedures and campaign techniques and follows the three steps through which any individual running for office must pass.

First, he must be nominated and in conjunction with this is displayed various convention scenes, badges, posters and banners. The second phase deals directly with the campaign and features the clothing worn during the early part of the century when campaigning was done with burning torches and parades.

Air Pollution Being Tested

The degree of air pollution in Michigan and its possible effect on health will be determined from samples taken at stations now being set up in a number of cities in the state.

The taking of samples is part of a five-year national program carried out since 1953 by the U. S. Public Health Service.

According to present plans, new stations will be set up at Grand Rapids and at three other points in the state.

Since 1953, air sampling stations have been set up in most of the states and now stretch from Anchorage, Alaska, to Boston.

The number of stations in Michigan probably will be increased to 12 in 1957, according to Michigan Department of Health officials.

At each station, a 24-hour sample of air is taken once each week, or every two weeks. The sampling consists of pumping air through an 8 x 10-inch fiber-glass filter.

After the sample is taken, the filter is then mailed to the Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center at Cincinnati for analysis by U.S. Public Health Service personnel.

There the sample is tested with the latest scientific equipment and procedures for all known air pollutants, including radioactivity.

Results of the samplings in this state will be made available quarterly to the Michigan Department of Health and to health officials where sampling stations are located.

Results also will be studied to see if there is a link between air pollution and the rates of disease and death.

Since last July 15, the Michigan Department of Health and Wayne State University have been surveying industries in the Detroit metropolitan area as part of a joint U.S.-Canada air pollution study project.

Jewel Thief Remanded To Jail to Await Trial

Edna Blanton of 1925 W. Alexandrine, Detroit, charged with stealing two valuable rings from a home in which she was employed as cleaning woman, waived examination before City Judge Douglas Patterson on Friday, August 24, and was remanded to the Wayne County Jail.

Bond of $2,500 was continued until her appearance in Circuit Court. The bond was not met. On Tuesday, August 14, Mrs. Winifred H. Willard of 409 Rivard boulevard, made the discovery that the rings, valued at a total of $2,500, were missing.

A search of the premises and questioning of the help failed to turn up the missing items. A lead was furnished by a painter employed by the owner of the home in which the Willards lived, in which it was disclosed that the cleaning woman talked about some rings she had pawned.

On Friday, August 17, Mrs. Willard called police, and upon receipt of the information, City Chief Thomas Trombly and Detroit Det. Lt. Robert Smith of the Pawn Detail, following leads, went to a pawn shop at 641 Gratiot, where it was said the woman had pawned the jewelry bearing the inscription "Willard," was found.

The proprietor claimed that the woman, who gave her last name as Willard, pawned the item for $20. The officers obtained a thumb print from the pawn ticket.

The print is a requirement by state law, whereby, anyone pawning jewelry must place his or her print on the pawn ticket.

Armed with this, Chief Trombly and Lt. Smith made a check of the print and turned up the woman's identity and went to her home, where they arrested her. She denied any knowledge of the theft, but when confronted with the print, she admitted her guilt.

The second ring, worth $2,000, was recovered from Edna's boy friend, Ernest Parker, of 628 Philadelphia, to whom she had sold it for $125. The ring went through several hands before it was traced to a jeweler in the Kales Building in Detroit. Parker denied knowing the ring had been stolen.

The jeweler, who had cut the expensive platinum mounting, preparatory to melting it down, also denied knowledge of the theft. He told the two officers that he had already set the two stones in two other rings.

Chief Trombly praised the cooperation of Lt. Smith in helping to solve the case.

Everyone learns to live, but those who live the fastest don't always learn the most.

Sign Vanishes From Convent

The Farms police are looking for a brass and copper name-plate sign stolen from the Sacred Heart Convent lawn.

The sign is valued at $400, and weighs about 50 or 60 pounds.

Mother Superior Mary Tierney told police that the sign was removed from two pieces of pipe in the ground, located about 30 feet from the sidewalk on Lake Shore road. The thief unscrewed the bolts which held the sign to the pipes.

Police are questioning a number of construction workmen who had been working in the area about the time the sign was first missed.

Investigating officers found a twisted iron rod several feet from the scene of the theft.

Any one having any knowledge of the person who took the sign, or who knows where the sign might be located, please contact the Farms police, TU 5-2100.

A Step in the Right Direction

It was reported at the council meeting of the City of Grosse Pointe last week that an official representative, a councilman of that municipality, had met with the mayor and two councilmen of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms to discuss the possibility of making a study to determine the feasibility of a merger of the two.

The Farms council also held a meeting the same night, but no disclosure was made at that session to the public that such a meeting had taken place. The following day one of the Farms councilmen who had attended the joint meeting said it would be reported on at the next session of his council.

This might be the start of a movement that has been advocated by this paper ever since its inception in 1940. At the time the suggestion was first made, it met with considerable opposition, particularly from the full-time employees of the various municipalities who feared such a merger would cost them their jobs. As the years have passed, more and more of the administrative heads of the individual Pointes have acknowledged that such a merger is inevitable in the interest of greater efficiency, coupled with increased economy.

For some years there have been members of the City council who have made no secret of the fact that they believed such a merger would bring great benefits. Because their businesses have qualified them as experts in municipal financing and operations, their voices carried more than usual authority.

There have also been members of the Park's official family who have believed that a study should be made to determine the possible advantages of such a proposed merger.

But the large majority of the councilmen of the three Pointes mentioned have evaded the issue and taken the attitude that they were perfectly satisfied to continue to run their own municipalities as they saw fit, and had no interest in getting involved with any other Pointe, nor in making any effort to find out if benefits could be derived from a merger.

It was stated at the City meeting last week that at least one Farms councilman has now declared that he feels his governmental body owes it to the residents to find out if there are gains which could be made by a consolidation of two or more of the Pointes. This is progress.

It is to be hoped that action will now be taken which will institute a serious study to determine the exact measure of such suggested advantages or detriments, whichever they might be.

There are agencies such as the Michigan Municipal League, which are eminently qualified to make such studies and report factually. We agree with the councilmen who feel that they owe it to the residents to find out the facts. Let's have some action before the matter is sidetracked once again.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir—

I'm sure the proponents of Fluoridation would be disappointed if the opponents of the great project of Fluoridation laid down their pens. I for one will not disappoint them.

Seems as if they fell far shy of the 25% of the voters that we did. Maybe this is in our favor. We admit there is not much we can do about an advisory vote again, except at the polls.

Don't ask our opponents how we won at the council meeting—the decision was made to discontinue Fluoridation, for they would never admit that our photostatic copy of 83 doctors signatures, who opposed this great boon to mankind, helped our Councilmen to decide. We are ready to present it again if necessary.

You poor citizens in the City. I'm sorry to say, will have no way to voice your opinions, except through the goodness of the Grosse Pointe News. But let your voices be heard!

The Council of Grosse Pointe Farms and your own Council will tell you that if you want to purchase water from the Farms, you'll have to take it or lump it!

Neighbors, I appeal to you, how can you vote for the continuance of Fluoridation, when it is unconstitutional? Why should you force me to take "artificial fluoride" internally against my will? Shouldn't that be left up to me voluntarily? We are living in a free country.

Ask for statistics showing tests on adults in a fluoridated community. Why do Doctors and Dentists disagree on this subject? Why did the Wayne Medical Society rescind their approval of Fluoridation? Ask yourselves these questions and decide for yourselves.

Dear Sirs: I am a teenager, eighteen years old. Tonight I attended a wonderful party, one with great potential at least. It was made up of a varied age group from about fifteen to twenty. As usually happens at a big party there was a great percentage of party "crashers". They were not entirely to blame for what happened, but at least partially.

Beer and other alcoholic beverages were soon brought forth and destructive damage began. Why must so many teenagers drink? Many drink to such lengths that they are actually in a stupor. I do not consider myself a square but I am definitely in the minority. Nine out of ten Grosse Pointe teenagers, boys mostly, drink frequently to an excess.

I wish to stress that the "brawl" was no fault of the host and hostess. They were wonderful people who served nothing alcoholic and were quite upset about the whole affair. Can you blame them? What must people think of us teenagers today? I am ashamed to admit the condition of the situation. I have no solution, but sincerely wish I could offer one.

I hope you see fit to print this letter. Maybe it will shock some parents and set some of my fellow teenagers to wondering.

Sincerely, J. P.

BEAU BROADWAY: The ticket brokers (the best judges in the biz) figure the three top musicals of this season will be Judy Holliday's "The Belles Are Ringing", Rox Russell's "Auntie Mame" and Ethel Merzian's "Happy Hunting." They're gobbling up seats of tickets. . . . The Four Lads are currently playing the Copa. Personally, we can take 'em or leave 'em, with a slight tendency toward the latter. . . . Milton Berle will get paid a mere $70,000 for the month he plays Miami's Eden Roc hotel. (January) . . . Poor Budd Schulberg. He authored "The Waterfront" The picture made a fortune. Everyone's collected their dough except him. Every cent is tied up by a lawsuit for $2,000,000 brought against him by a New Jerseyite who claims it's his life story. Schulberg can't touch a dime of it till the case is settled.

FRANKIE BOY: The town's been pretty dead this summer. Only shock treatment we've had is Frank Sinatra's personal appearance at the Paramount Theater with his picture "Johnny Concho." . . . Sinatra's a strange one. The first day he was so thrilled over the fabulous business he did that he could hardly talk about it. The next day he was bored to death. . . . Lots of celebs showed up to see him. Jackie Gleason broke up one performance by suddenly racing down the aisle clad in western boots, ten-gallon hat and drawn pistols (loaded with blanks) with which he shot up Sinatra Johnny Concho style. . . . Jack E. Leonard was called onstage by Frank. Leonard looked around at the packed house, a tribute to Sinatra's return in glory, looked at Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey's band onstage and said, "Well, Frank, it's certainly good to see you working for your old boss again." . . . Wonder if Frank remembers what he sobbed to a certain reporter a few years back: "I'll never play the Paramount again. 'Too tough a grind. They lock the door on you and shove the food under." That was after his last appearance when no one came to see him. He feels different, now.

TAXIGABBING: Sure wish Deborah Kerr would come back here and do another B'way show. . . . Darryl Zanuck's dropping: "Don't you believe those stories about me quitting a lot of gambling down in Cannes. Actually I only lost about twelve million francs." . . . Ed Murrow was so thrilled about doing the prologue for "Around World In 80 Days" that he did it for free. . . . Went to the world premiere of "War & Peace" starring Audrey Hepburn, Mel Ferrer and Henry Fonda. Don't miss it if you have to walk a mile on a camel. Fonda is sensational, Hepburn's in a class by herself, Ferrer is excellent. The picture (it lasts three and a half hours) is one of the most exciting and beautiful we've ever seen. We're thrilled that someday we'll tell our grandchildren that we saw it first. And, that a big plug for us to give. As you know, we usually believe if you can't say something nasty don't say anything!

PENNY ARCADE: If you order champagne in a Broadway dive make sure you see them open the bottle. Otherwise you're likely to get a few drops of dry vermouth in quinine water. . . . DiMaggio's become a big disc fan. Bought a hi-fi set and about 100 albums right off the bat (if you got 'em). . . . With all the publicity Warner Bros. have been getting on the late James Dean (to plug his final picture "Giant") it's a shock they haven't announced that he'll be at the premier. . . . Local show girls' new fad is sky blue hair. (fad heads!!!) . . . Bette Davis is getting kinda plumpy and dumpy. . . . Recently got a box of Atlantic City salt water taffy from NBC with a card, "Munch on this while watching our spectacular 'Atlantic City.'" Obvious joke: When're ya doin' "The Solid Gold Cadillac"?

Teahouse of the August Moon is expected to be the Radio City Music Hall's Xmas feature. It's not definite yet. . . . This fellow was stranded on a desert island for ten years. Finally a giant-sized Coke bottle got washed ashore. "Good hevvin's," he groaned, "I must've shrunk!"

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

During the school year, it has supplied books for book reports, material on radio script writing and acting, lumbering in Michigan, marine flora and fauna, and a dozen other varied topics. For the past two years, it has even supplied the auditorium teachers at his school with suitable plays for the annual Christmas programs. I need not stress again that in addition to satisfying the questions or problems at hand, all of this material has also served to stimulate an interest in either related topics or unthought-of ramifications of the same subject. I have a husband whose age was, charitably, shall not mention. For him, I have carried home books, periodicals, and pamphlet material on subjects ranging from the Abominable Snow Man to Zuni's. His hobby is Hi-Fi and the library has offered him much material on this subject. Currently he is reading and enjoying a new book entitled "Skid Row, U. S. A." by Sara Harris. At income tax time, being a CPA, he is in need of any new material on that subject.

"How long is an ant mile?" We may never find the answer to that particular question, and actually that, in itself, is not so important. The important thing is to give the library a chance. A large percentage of questions will be answered, new interests will be discovered, and life should become, as a result, pleasanter and much more interesting.

Detroit Awaits Dr. Brownell

Detroit will greet a new superintendent of schools come September 1. Dr. S. M. Brownell, recently resigned United States Commissioner of Education, becomes the tenth superintendent to fill the Detroit post since the schools incorporation, February 17, 1842.

Prior to Dr. Brownell's service with the United States Office of Education, he was president of the New Haven (Connecticut) Teachers' College and a professor in the Graduate School, Yale University. His earlier work included that of superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

A native of Nebraska, Dr. Brownell is a graduate of the schools of that state and holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska. He completed work for the master and doctorate degrees at Yale.

Included in the professional work of Dr. Brownell is his participation in a large number of school surveys in school communities throughout the nation. He has done considerable in the field of educational research and as a speaker on education.

As Dr. Brownell assumes the duties of superintendent in Detroit he faces one of the biggest tasks in the history of this city's schools. As the current millage issue of 1954 faces expiration in 1959, the schools must make early preparation for a campaign to replenish the treasury for purposes of additional buildings and the addition of teachers to staff the new buildings.

The schools are growing much faster than the city's ability to house the young pupil population with the funds available through the limitation financial amendment long in force, says Herman Browne, Acting Superintendent.

Dr. Brownell has already indicated his interest in more education for more people and in vocational education, as well as making the schools more attractive for the employment of teachers.

The new superintendent will be the most highly qualified to be introduced to Detroit's teachers and administrative staff at a general meeting September 4. The public schools will be open for work with students Wednesday, September 5.

Community Club Needs Volunteers

What do you plan to do with your free time this fall? Do you wish to do something constructive, worthwhile, and receive satisfaction from knowing that you have helped the young people in your community?

If you do, then call the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, TUxedo 4-2050, and learn about the variety of volunteer positions which are available in the fall and winter programs.

The Community Club offers recreational and group activities for children in the community in the age range of four year olds through teen-age. Opportunities to volunteers are available in mornings, afternoons and some evenings.

People with experience in group leadership or people with special skills such as craft, story telling, games, sports, ceramics, cooking, special hobbies, and photography can be used and are needed. Those without previous experience can serve also as aides or assistants. The important requirements for volunteer leadership are a willingness to work with children and an interest and liking for them. The staff provides training and supervision for the volunteer worker.

The Community Club is a United Foundation agency. In offering its services to the community the Club depends heavily upon community volunteers for its leadership. The program of the Community Club is as varied as are the backgrounds and interests of the volunteers who are serving. The fall program begins in late September. A training and orientation course will be provided in mid-September.

Join a host of college students, mothers, fathers, and other interested adults in the community in making youth activities available to the youngsters.

The annual Grosse Pointe Club regatta will be held at the club on Lake St. Clair this Saturday, September 1.

A buffet dinner and dancing open to crews of the participating yachts will follow the sail races. Jack Qualey and his orchestra will play.

Anemia Occurs in Pregnancy

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph. One of the reasons medical attention is so important in the early stages of pregnancy is to make certain that the mother's health remains consistently good.

More than a third of all pregnant women suffer some degree of anemia. By prescribing additional blood-building foods or drugs a doctor can correct the condition.

Certain drugs do a remarkable job of building blood in a very short time. Have prescriptions filled by a pharmacist who can be relied on for quality products and service.

TAX DEFERATION

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How to Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

over the island by planes and jeeps, but even as this was being done, EOKA underground replied with leaflets of their own.
The EOKA leaflets were signed, "Dighenis," the name used by the underground leader, who is believed to be George Grivas, a British-trained Greek army colonel. Many Greek-Cypriot officials said no terms would be discussed until the British agree to return Archbishop Makarios, the island's spiritual and civil leader.

FRENCHMEN by the thousands are planning to leave Egypt, engulfed in a wave of pessimism brought by the Suez Canal crisis. A French Embassy spokesman in Cairo, said that his government advice had been renewed to French nationals, urging them to quit Egypt unless they had "a compelling reason" to stay. The British Embassy said that no warnings had been issued to Britons.

Saturday, August 25
THE BODY of one of the 16 crew members of the Navy plane reported shot down off the coast of Red China has been recovered, it was announced by the Navy. The body was identified as that of Aviation Electronics Technician 1/c Albert P. Mattin, whose wife lives at the Naval Air Station at Iwakuni, Japan.

It was also announced that plane wreckage had been found in international waters about 300 miles north-northeast of Formosa. Meanwhile, Communist China is complaining the United States, airmen were velaying her territory in the search for the missing airman. The complaint was made over the Peiping Radio, U.S. Naval authorities have no comment on the broadcast.

THE UNITED NATIONS fired a Russian in its employ, when the Federal Bureau of Investigation disclosed facts that the Russian was trying to obtain "information vital to the security of the United States." UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced that dismissal of Viktor Ivanovich Petrov on the basis of information furnished by the FBI.

Petrov, a Soviet national, was employed as a translator in the language and meetings section of the Department of Conference Services. A State Department spokesman said the Russian tried to get classified information from an aircraft worker who turned him in to the FBI. The worker was not identified.

RUSSIA WARNED that if the West tries to block Egypt's hold on the Suez Canal, serious consequences might result in the Middle East. A five-nation committee, appointed by the 22-nation conference on the canal, is being sent to propose international control of the Suez to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Soviet Foreign Minister Demitri Shepilov, addressing a news conference at the Soviet Embassy in London, charged that military preparations during the Suez crisis were "flagrant violation of the UN charter."
Another warning came from British Prime Minister Selwyn Lloyd—this one to Egypt. He told a TV listening audience that if Egypt rejects international control of the canal, it would be a very serious matter.

there is little chance of a shooting war over the crisis.

HUNDREDS OF MINERS were reported trapped in a flaming mine in Upper Silesia, Poland. Rescue teams worked frantically for hours trying to free the trapped men. The fire broke out early Saturday in the "Chorsov" mine in Koenigsuette. A phone call from Berlin to that community confirmed an earlier report made by travelers from that area of the tragedy.

A Polish official in Koenigsuette denied the travelers' report that the fire was so great that the mine was sealed off and rescue work abandoned. He said rescue work is going on around the clock. Less than three weeks ago, 263 miners died in a fire at Belgium's "Bitter Heart" mine near Marcinelle.

VIRGINIA B. JASPER, 33, daughter of a New Haven, Conn., political leader, was arrested by New Haven police on the charge of beating and shaking two infants to death. A pediatric nurse, she said sometimes children "get on my nerves." Coroner James J. Corrigan said the 6-foot, 260-pound woman also admitted that she injured two other babies. Last year she broke the leg of a three-month-old girl. The coroner said. He disclosed that the woman killed an 11-day-old baby on Thursday, because it refused to take its formula. Miss Jasper admitted shaking a three-month-old baby to death in 1948; and another baby, the same way, "four or five years ago."

JORDAN'S chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nuwar, asserted that if war comes between Britain and Egypt, the Arab world will join in an alliance with Russia. He said that it is something the Arabs would hate, but it would have to be accepted because the Arabs have no alternative. He said that the Suez Canal situation is pushing the whole Arab world towards Communism. He said the crisis is a test of the entire Arab world, not just Egypt, and "if we do not stick together, we cannot be strong," and that "if we do not help our neighbors, we too might stand alone some day."

THE BUDGET BUREAU in Washington ordered heads of departments to check carefully before filling vacancies resulting from retirements, in a move to trim the Federal payroll. The request for the slash in personnel, where needed, came from Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, who sent brief statements to that effect to heads of all Government departments. Meanwhile, Senator Johnston (D., S. C.) said that he is creating a special study group to explore the need for another pay boost for Federal employes.

Monday, August 27
PRESIDENT EISENHOWER disclosed that Russia exploded a nuclear weapon in Southwestern Siberia last Friday. He made the disclosure in a White House statement, contrasting the secret of Soviet bomb experiments with the "responsible" advance warning and information policy of the U. S. Government. The statement said the Soviet proving grounds is in Southwestern Siberia, north of the Indian subcontinent and west of the China border.

This appears to be the first official confirmation of the Soviet nuclear proving grounds. The Russian test is the first reported in nearly five months, and the sixth in a period of eight months. The size of the weapon exploded was relatively small, equal to less than a million tons of TNT.

EGYPT'S President, Gamal Abdel Nasser has decided to meet with the five-nation committee, set up by the London Suez conference, on his home rounds. Sources close to Nasser said he will meet with the committee in Cairo, but will insist that the entire problem be explored, rather than just have the majority plan for international control.

The Egyptian cabinet met with Nasser and reached a decision on the reply to the committee, but what this reply is was not disclosed. In London, there was a feeling that the dispute had reached a critical state. The feeling in Egypt—by the officials and public—is that the British and French mean business about the possible use of force, although Russia thinks charges. The arrests signaled a crackdown on British citizens in an anti-British move. British authorities said the arrests might touch off a new wave of departures among the 13,000 British subjects, including 4,000 from the United Kingdom.

Jailed on charges of "operating a dangerous spy ring," were James Swinburn, business manager of the Arab News Agency; and Charles Pittuck, assistant manager of the British-owned Marconi Radio and Telegraph company. The Egyptian government claimed that both signed a written confession. The spy ring allegations further strained Anglo-Egyptian relations.

They will then be formally presented to President W. W. Whitehouse of Albion by Dr. Sebastian S. Kresge, donor.

MSU Expecting 18,500 to Enroll

A record enrollment of 18,500 students on campus is expected when Michigan State University's fall term begins next month.

"Welcome Week" and alphabetical registration of students is scheduled Sunday through Friday, Sept. 16-21. Classes will begin Monday, Sept. 24.

This year's expected enrollment will be more than 1,300 above the 1955 fall term registration, according to Kermit H. Smith, registrar. Enrollment of graduate students—those working toward advanced degrees—is expected to be up 25 per cent over last year. In all, students will be enrolled in 152 courses (Continued on Page 21)

IT'S GONE TO HER HEAD — Lovely Aquamaid Jo Tapley hasn't been out in the sun too long—the much-fringed beach hat is merely good for laughs and a little attention-getting on the sands at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The hat really has something to offer, however, in addition to the ornaments on top—there is a handy drink holder which can quench Jo's thirst at a flick of the wrist.

WON'T MOON OVER LOST HONEYMOON—Fame has its price and in the case of movie star Leslie Caron and her new husband, stage director Peter Hall, it's a honeymoonless wedding. After the couple's surprise wedding at Marylebone Town Hall, they returned to the New Theater in London where Miss Caron is starring in "Gigi" and Hall is performing stage director duties. They said a honeymoon will have to wait until after the show closes.

JACK AND THE BEAN-STALK? — Twelve-year-old Wayne Othick gazes up at the awe-inspiring corn stalk that stands 13 feet high. Holding the big stalk is Wayne's father, Elmer Othick, who raised the corn on his farm three miles south of Winchester, Kansas. About 25 acres of corn topped the 12-foot mark, with many of them reaching the 13-foot level. The corn was not fertilized, so "more than adequate" moisture is the explanation for the tall crop, says Othick.

SKYDIVERS BEFORE THE JUMP — U. S. entrants in the World Competition for Parachutists are nearing a tense moment over Moscow's Tushino Airport in this dramatic shot. The men are getting ready to jump from a Soviet AN-2 plane which carried them aloft.

TOMORROW'S TV-PHONE — The phone of the future will fit in the palm of the hand and enable a caller to hear and see the other party in color and 3-D. That's the concept of Harold S. Osborne, retired chief engineer of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., as pictured and described in the September issue of Mechanix Illustrated Magazine. On the other side of the pocket watch-sized videophone are buttons which Osborne says the caller of tomorrow will push to talk to anyone anywhere on earth. The device may be carried in pocket or purse, or worn as a locket, Osborne says.

SOPORIFIC EARFUL—Sleeping pills? Not for young Gene White of Murfreesboro, Tenn. When it's time to say good night, Gene just calls for father's pocket watch, and, with the timepieces atop his ear, slumber comes easily. His advice to the sleepless: tuck in with ticker.

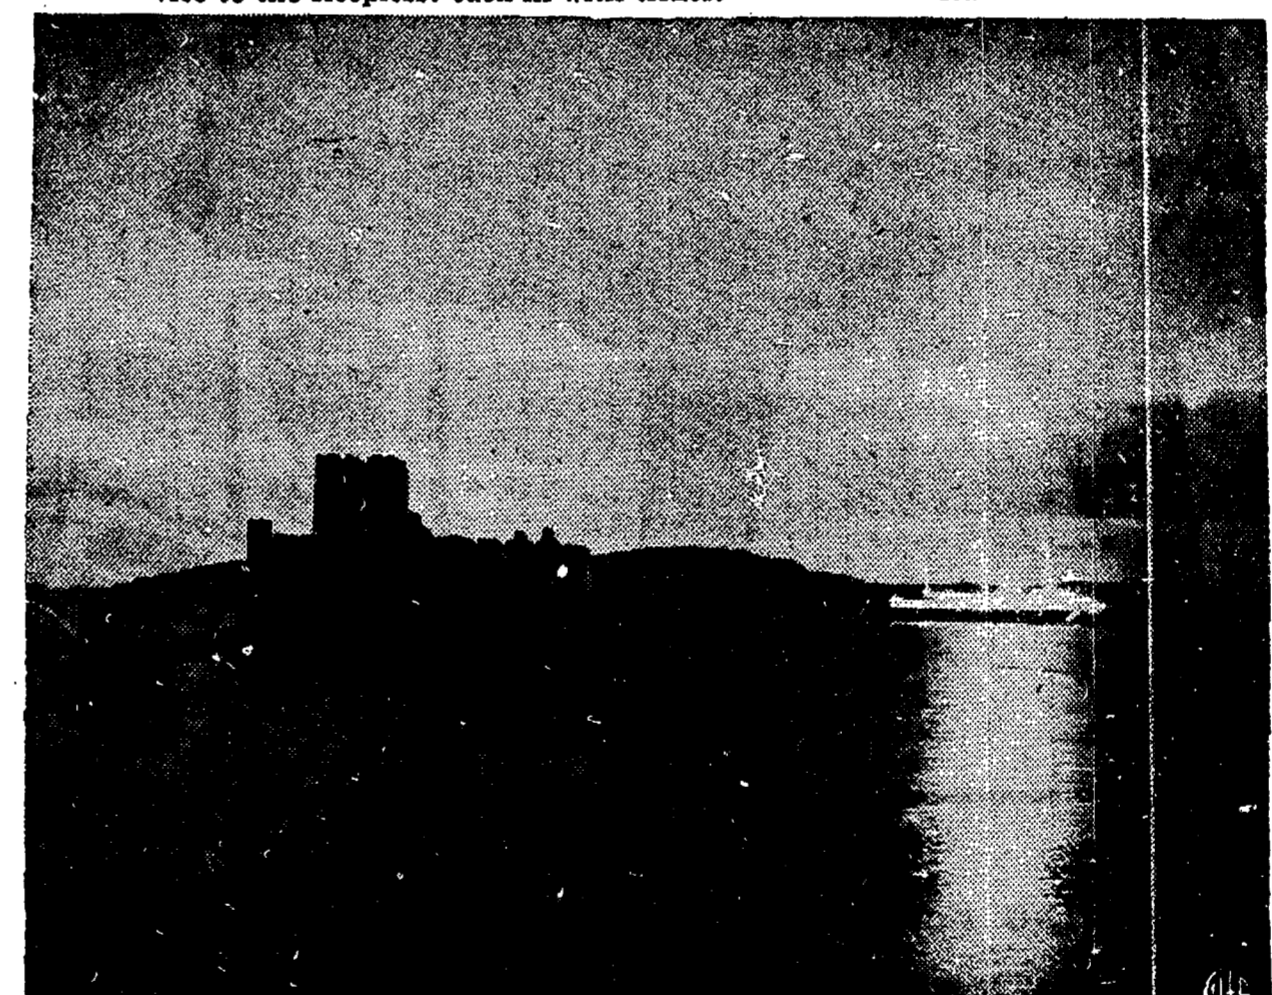

REGAL OUTFIT — Looking every inch a queen, actress Helen Hayes has the finishing touches put on her dress by designer Rene Hubert (left) and Charlotte Mortimer of the House of Worth, who made the dress. Miss Hayes will wear the regal costume for her role as the Dowager Empress of Russia in the forthcoming motion picture, "Anastasia."

WIRED FOR ACTION—Appearing perfectly at ease on the 36-foot long wire stretched between two trees, 14-year-old Goeran Andersson managed to balance himself on his bicycle on the wire for a world record time of six hours and 40 minutes. The youngster, who broke a long-standing German record during his wily feat at Norrby, Sweden, used an ordinary bicycle and drove directly on the rims. The amateur performer has been invited to appear at a festival in Moscow next year where he will attempt to repeat his wire act.

END OF A MANHATTAN LANDMARK—As spectators look on in the foreground, a crane dismantles the burned-out shell of the old Wanamaker department store building in New York. The street sign at right indicates the location of the scene of destruction — Broadway and East 9th Street. The demolition of the old building marks the end of an old Manhattan landmark.

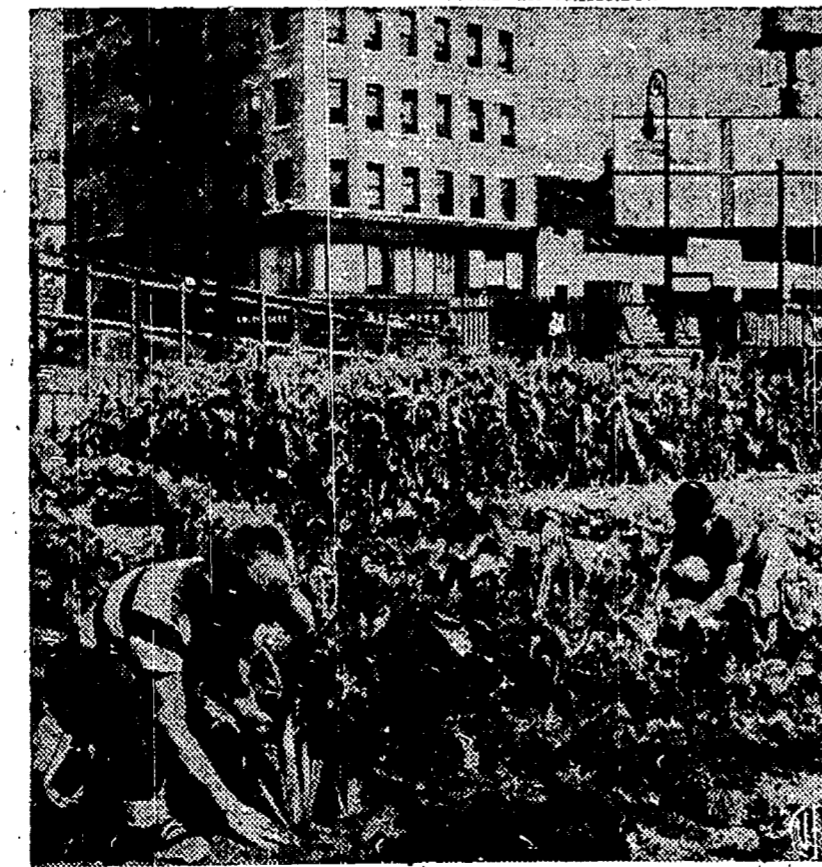

NIGHT BEAUTY—Gleaming across the dark waters of Scotland's Western Isles is the brightly-illuminated Royal yacht Britannia, moored for the night off Castelbar, on the island of Barra. The vessel presents a striking contrast to the shadowy outline of an ancient castle at left. Queen Elizabeth II and her family are touring the Isles aboard the Britannia.

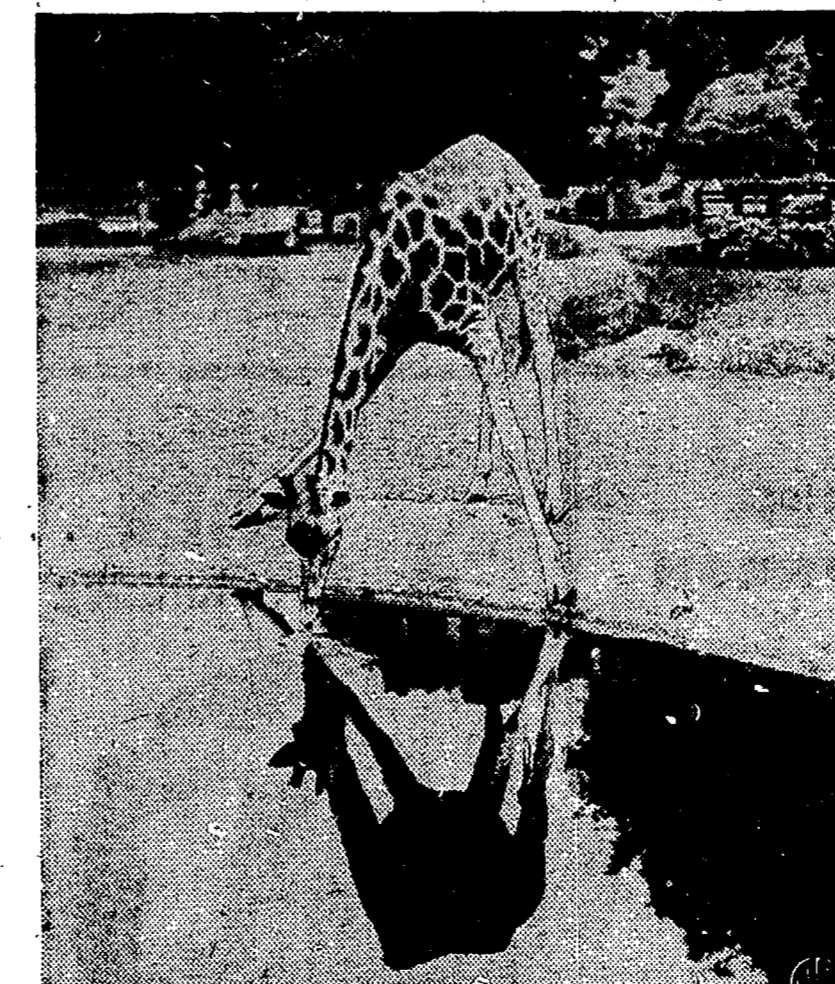

"LOOK, MA, NO HANDS!" — Demonstrating the effectiveness of a new "hands free" telephone booth, Hazel Mayhue, Illinois Bell Telephone Company's "Voice With a Smile," has no difficulty making a call although she's loaded down with packages and an umbrella. The experimental booth contains a recessed speaker and microphone in its soundproof walls and the person using the booth can speak and hear without holding an instrument.

COLD-HEARTED LOVERS—Taking a pretty cool view of the whole situation, an amorous pair of parakeets perch on a bowl of ice cubes as they whisper sweet nothings to each other. The birds' resistance to the cold was lower than their warm affection for in a few seconds they flew to a nearby sunny window sill to continue their discussion.

EAST SIDE EDEN—Joe Schianes, 10 (left), and John Russo, 11, schoolboys turned gardeners, take their job seriously in their little "Garden of Eden" next to Manhattan Bridge on New York's lower East Side. They are two out of a covey of eager students who transformed a quarter-acre of a former rubbish heap into a thriving garden. Beets, corn and a variety of vegetables are grown on this fertile piece of ground under the supervision of the children's school teacher, Mrs. Rose Becker, aided and supported by the New York Board of Education. In one month the children were able to take home 360 pounds of produce. "They enjoy it and it keeps them out of trouble," says Mrs. Becker proudly.

REFLECTED GLORY—Betty, the young giraffe at the Vincennes Zoo in Paris, spends many an hour walking along the pool and watching her reflection in the water. She would not gaze so often at her image in the water if she knew the story of Narcissus. According to Greek mythology, Narcissus killed himself after falling in love with his own reflection in the water of a stream. But how much Greek mythology can a young giraffe know?

ODYSSEY ODDITY—The strange contraption on which he has traveled some 71,000 miles is displayed at Rustington, England, by Bobby McCarthy, 31, of Port Arthur, Ontario. The vehicle is 23 feet long and weighs approximately half a ton. During the past ten years, he has traveled through Mexico, the U. S., Britain, France, Holland, Germany, Spain, Australia. McCarthy says he wears out 17 pairs of pants, 15 bike chains, and 27 tires, and has been hospitalized 39 times suffering from exhaustion. The trailer serves as sleeping quarters and as a kitchen in wet weather.

Crescent Sail Yacht Club Regatta Draws Big Entry

The Crescent Sail Y. C. annual regatta was sailed under near perfect conditions last Saturday, August 25, which featured smooth water and a light but honest easterly breeze, which lasted until the last of 150 yachts crossed the finish line in front of the club.

Nubby Sarns, currently leader in the DRYA Cruising A class season standings moved a step closer to repeating in this class when he slipped his "Revelry" over the line, flying a billowing spinnaker, well ahead of his closest rival, Clare Jacob's "Falcon." John Warnke's "Tamara" took third on corrected time and was followed by Sempiner's "Great Bear," Gil Pingree's "Red Head" and Frank White's "Tigris."

Querida, minus one of her co-owners, Carter Sales, under the hand of Skip Grew bested the Cruising B fleet handily beating John Detwiler's "Vashti," John Miller's "Valiant," Don Zorn's "Maxitrol" and the syndicate Coe-Robinson "Aquit" in that order.

Nearly 10,000 Drivers Jailed

One of every three drivers tried in Detroit Traffic Court on State misdemeanor charges during the past five years was given a straight jail sentence without the alternative of paying a fine.

The number jailed totaled nearly 10,000 drivers. This fact stands out in an analysis made by the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit in its monthly Bulletin just published of the record of the Detroit Traffic Court for the past five years.

Three facts bulk most importantly in the analysis: 1. Thirty-five per cent of the defendants received straight jail sentences. 2. Fifty-two per cent paid fines, averaging $48.15. 3. Another six per cent served jail sentences because they could not pay the fines imposed by the judges.

In the complete breakdown of the 28,090 State misdemeanor cases tried during this five-year period, another four per cent were found guilty and either placed on probation or their sentences were suspended. The remainder, or 3.1 per cent to be exact, were acquitted or charges against them were withdrawn.

The TSA Bulletin said that sentences of this firmness through the years have constituted one of the basic factors in the success of Detroit's traffic accident prevention program that has made Detroit again the safest large city in the nation during the first six months of 1956.

Judge George T. Murphy and Judge John D. Watts are the two Traffic Court judges. Judge Murphy has sat continuously on the Traffic Court bench since 1935, Judge Watts since 1945. The record of the two judges in giving drunken drivers straight jail sentences is considerably higher than in other violations, reflecting the flagrant nature of the violation. Six out of ten drunken drivers receive straight jail sentences.

(Continued from Page 1) Park in general. Membership is open to any resident of Grosse Pointe Farms, whether a boat owner or not, including Mr. Bente, who is undoubtedly very sincere, but misinformed.

"Let us present a few FACTS to refute any claims of selfish interests. "Although only two hundred boats are berthed at the Pier, we accommodate between two and three thousand patrons of the park as our guests during the course of a season.

"We have, at great personal risk and expense, provided entertainment for thousands at our Annual Fleet Review and Regatta, and at the Teen-Age dance which followed it on the paved recreation area.

"In response to over three hundred signatures from parents and teenagers, we are sponsoring and chaperoning another such dance, to be held Saturday, September 1, from 7:30 till 10:30. We hope to make this a monthly affair next year, as we believe our children are safer at the Park.

"Many of the officials at the Boys and Girls Annual Fishing Rodeo were members of the Boat Owners Club.

"It was through a recommendation of the Boat Owners Club, that the sign was installed in the day between our swimming area and Crescent Sail Club, prohibiting cruisers and limiting boat speeds to three miles per hour. This was to prevent unwanted debris from entering our beach, and to protect our bathers.

"In regard to the parking issue. We did ask for parking on the paved recreation area, but our request was for GENERAL parking, BEFORE June 10 and AFTER closing of swimming facilities. This, the City Council deferred for one year for consideration.

"We are at present working on plans, to be presented to the City Council at a later date, for the installation of suitable launching facilities at the South end of the parking area, which would eliminate need for driving through the park, and also to accommodate who have boats on trailers, and cannot secure dockage at the present time.

"Hoping this clarifies and settles the issue, we are, Sincerely yours, William J. Cavanaugh 62 Hall Place Joseph T. Rem 478 Belanger

Pointers Miss In Nationals

Lack of experience in national outdoor competition dealt a telling blow to Grosse Pointe's two representatives, Skip Forcier and Gene Hawthorne, in the National Outdoor regatta held last Sunday, August 26, at Cambridge, Maryland.

Although Forcier and Hawthorne suffered bad luck they picked up enough points to place in the national point standings and Forcier finished fifth in D Utility division.

Hawthorne raced in both B and C Utility classes and finished second in the first heat of the B Utility class before flipping his boat in the B final and in the C first heat.

Forcier discovered prior to the start of the regatta his motor had a stripped spark plug port and was forced to borrow a motor. With the (Continued on Page 21)

Boat Banter

By Fred Rummels

Jim Mog is just about as happy as a kid with peanuts and popcorn at a circus these days. Last Saturday, August 25, Jim took delivery on his new yacht. Its a lapstroke 25 foot sloop called a "Volksboat" from Sweden.

The die-hard C Boat sailor, (he kept the C class alive far beyond their popularity, but finally gave up on a losing cause), took lots of ribbing from his friends when he stepped the spar. Said one wag "Why don't you call her 'Knotty Pine'?"

Another remarked: "A coat of paint will cover up the knots." And so it went, but Jim paid no heed—at least he didn't show it outwardly.

However, on Sunday when he and young Jim Jr. took mother for a sail, Jim was wagging his head as he scanned the book of instructions trying to figure out how to rig the halyards and sheets.

And the markings on the sail bags certainly confused one and all—they were marked in Swedish. For a moment Jim thought his problems were solved when Bobby Roadstrum, of Swedish extraction, offered to take a crack at decoding the markings.

When he gave up, so did the Mog man, but they went sailing anyway and liked the new boat's performance. Mother Mog didn't like it a little bit when the main boom banged down on her hand when the topping lift broke.

Jim says there will be four or five Volksboats here by next year and when they form a class the first thing that will be discussed will be a changed of sail plan and rigging. It's a nice little boat. The main cabin sleeps two and is spacious for a boat of her size—but the two bunks in the forepeak must have been designed for a couple of midgets. She has an outboard rudder which is a godsend because if the tiller were in the cockpit it would make it too cozy. There is just room for four people to sit and even then they would have to be real good friends or like to play knessies. The joiner work is fine—those Swedes are certainly good carpenters.

Jim, who is 62 years old, said he liked the boat because it is a lot more comfortable than his old C boat—but what boat isn't more comfortable than those flush deck buckets—which, incidentally, Bill Nagel, Irv Jorgensen and Joe Matte love.

That trio sailed them for years and complained bitterly because they were so wet. But now in their advancing years, they tell one and all what wonderful boats the C boats are as they sip cool refreshments from their chairs on the lawn of Bayview Y. C. or from a good vantage point on a big comfortable cruising boat.

You know the type just as well as we do. We have always said there is nothing that sails as well as a Star boat and we sailed Stars for almost 10 years before we got into the bigger boats. But do you think we would be crazy enough to try acrobatics on a Star again—huh—it was fun at the time but not now.

So to Jim Mog, one of our very favorite people, lots of luck with the new boat which we understand you have named "Freyja". Wadidee say?

Holiday Weekend Feature Studded

A feature-studded Labor Day weekend is in the offing for Michigan residents.

A calendar released by the Michigan Tourist Council lists seven popular events to be held in different parts of the state during the long holiday weekend of September 1-3. Residents taking advantage of them can add variety to their Labor Day outings with a minimum of travel.

Starting off the series in Detroit on August 31 is the Michigan State Fair, oldest in the nation. This year marks its 107th birthday. The fair will continue through September 9 and will feature a galaxy of stars from the entertainment world as well as thousands of industrial and agricultural exhibits.

Also in the Detroit area, boating fans can witness the thril-packed Gold Cup race to be held on the Detroit river September 1 in conjunction with the city's Riverama celebration.

A short distance north of Detroit on M-53, the community of Romeo will stage its annual Peach Festival, September 1-3. The colorful event begins with a "Queen's Ball" and features parades, displays, concerts and other attractions.

Farther north, on Michigan's popular Au Sable river, visitors may witness the midwest's canoe classic—the 10th Annual Michigan Canoe Marathon, September 1-3. Top-notch canoeists from throughout the midwest

Park Conducts Casting Contest

Dave Beauvais, head of recreation at the Park's beach site, announced the winners of the plug casting contest held in the park on Sunday, August 26.

There were only three winners in the Junior Class, Tom McDonnell, who took first place by piling up 298 points; followed by Ronald Johnston III, with 260 points; and R. Keller, with 260 points.

In the Senior Class, C. Ronald Johnston, Jr., was first with his 309 points. Trailing was John Kolberg who was second with 297 points; followed by Conlin Fisher, with 292 points; Roger Pelletier, 291; Bert Larkins, 287; George Hofman, 284; Roy Fisher, 263; Richard Craig, 256; and Gus Keller, who came out ninth best with 220 points.

Prizes were presented to the winners by Mayor Homer Fritch. Hank Feys, president of the Casting Club, who did not participate in the contest, was head scorer. He was assisted by Life-guards Peter Koenig and Barry VanTiem.

Preceding the plug casting contest, a barrage of balloons was released, in which the contestant tried to break as many balloons as possible, for added fun.

St. Ambrose Students At School in Chicago

Eight St. Ambrose High School students are attending the annual Summer School of Catholic Action in Chicago, which began on Monday, August 27, lasting through Saturday, September 1.

The theme for the SSSA for 1956 is "Educate the Whole Man for Citizenship in Time and Eternity." Attending the summer school are: Margaret DeWinter, Maureen Reilly, Norine Bulgarelli, Marie Lestage, Terry Weber, Mary Frances Conlan, Sam Marino and Peter Orlando.

Riverama Gives Viewers Comprehensive Boat Show

With Detroit's second annual Riverama in its second week, the aquatic program of the spectacle has provided plenty of action for the spectators and those who like to "go down to the sea in ships."

The Riverama opened with the running of the Detroit Y.C. annual Silver Cup regatta which saw Don Wilson driving Pointer George Simon's new "Miss U.S. II" to victory with the large fleet of Gold Cup type boats conking out in regular fashion throughout the elimination heats. Only Pointe-owned boats were around at the finish for a two boat race in the final between "Miss U.S." and Bud Sallee's "Miss Wayne."

Horace Dodge's "My Sweetie" provided the chilly thrill when she flipped throwing her driver clear. He is reported to be all right now. The boat has not been located yet.

The first heat of the Harmsworth race followed a week later, Saturday, August 25, and proved to be a disappointment to racing fans, when the coughing Canadian challenger "Miss Superest" swallowed the rooster tail of Bill Waggoner's red hot "Shanty" as the west coast U.S. defender drew the admiration of the meager gathering of spectators lining the river bank.

The first really successful power boat race was provided by the little outboards which raced on a closed course at the foot of Parkview. Although the river was choppy, these plucky drivers whizzed their little boats around the course in grand fashion, much to the delight of the fans. Three boats flipped but without injury to the drivers.

Don Rueher, of Tonawanda, Ohio, Bob Christie, of Farmington, Mich., and Jack McMullen, of Flint, Mich., took the unexpected duckings.

Winners were: Dennis Martin, Jackson, Class A Hydro; Walt Gabbard, Capac, Mich., Class B Hydro; Harry Demski, Midland, Mich., C Service Runabout; Jack McMullen, Flint, Mich., C Racing Runabout; Frank Pavolich, Cleveland, C Service Runabout; Ed Dunn, New York, C and F Service Hydro and John Dertinger, Hamilton, Ontario, C and F Hydro.

On the same day the wind-wagon boys went down river to stage a full blown regatta and the wind gods were good to them, up to a point, again this year. The wind out of the west made for some good sailing and was strong enough to move the sail yachts up against the current on spinnaker runs to the first mark just below Belle Isle.

This also made for a good buck to weather the second mark just above the Ambassador Bridge before spinnakers were put back to work for the run to the finish line in front of the Civic Center.

Bill Nagel, past commodore of Bayview Y.C., kept more than a thousand spectators well informed as to what was taking place. Many said they learned more about sail yacht racing from the running commentary than they ever knew before.

Place winners in the small boat regatta held in the morning were: A UNIVERSAL—"Pintail" Cliff Gray, "Neagha" Marvin Umsted. UNIVERSAL B—"Kismet" Gerhard Lorenz, "Agnes M" Jim McCarty. CRESCENT—"We Do" Dick Hill, "Manon" Jerry Jenkins, "Francis" Lynn Bobcock. L CLASS—"Gael" George McCormick, "Escape" Freddie Jensen, "Rogue" Ed Dilks. PRIVATEERS—"Wind Toy" Fred Rummels, "Indian Drum" Sid Marsh, "L'Allegre" Bill Howard.

This was the only class that could boast of three Pointers placing in the money in one class. LIGHTNINGS—"Tich" Jim Schudel, Burt Jones, "Wee Dee" Wes Weidrick. Crescent Sail Y.C., the biggest Lightning fleet locally, failed to send a contestant down for the races. K CLASS—Fred Meno III, Duke Huber, Bud Wellman. CK FREE-FOR-ALL These 12 will lock horns in other elimination heats the day of the race to determine the six fastest boats for the final heat. The Gold Cup, we have been told, will be on television. This event will close out the aquatic program of Detroit's second annual Riverama spectacle.

WAYNE GRID CALL ISSUED
Wayne State Football Coach Herb Smith has issued the first call for the 65 griders expected to report when Wayne opens football practice on Wednesday, Sept. 12. The figure is more than double the 31 that reported last season. Wayne State's first in the President's Athletic Conference. The total represents 17 returning lettermen, nine minor award winners last year and 20 who saw service on the 1955 freshman squad.

DIAPER EXPERT—Winner of Tokyo's first international diaper derby, pretty Pan American Airlines stewardess Dee Volk shares honors with her baby partner, 11-month-old Pamela Layne Bingham. Presenting the prizes is Mrs. Shigeko Higashikuni, eldest daughter of Emperor Hirohito of Japan, who was head judge of the contest. Competing with five other airline stewardesses, Miss Volk took only seven seconds to wrap the baby in the diaper.

PARIS IN RUINS?—Appearing to be the lone survivor of an atomic attack, the Eiffel Tower keeps a lonely vigil over the ravished terrain in the foreground. Paris is still the same, however, and the scene is actually the site of the excavation for an underground passageway which will soon be completed and only green trees and bushes will once more appear in the shadows of the famed tower.

SHOWING THEIR COLORS—Woman volunteers form part of Egypt's new liberation army which was established following the seizure of Suez Canal operations by the Egyptian government. Here, two such volunteers display the army's flag at the opening of training for enlisting housewives.

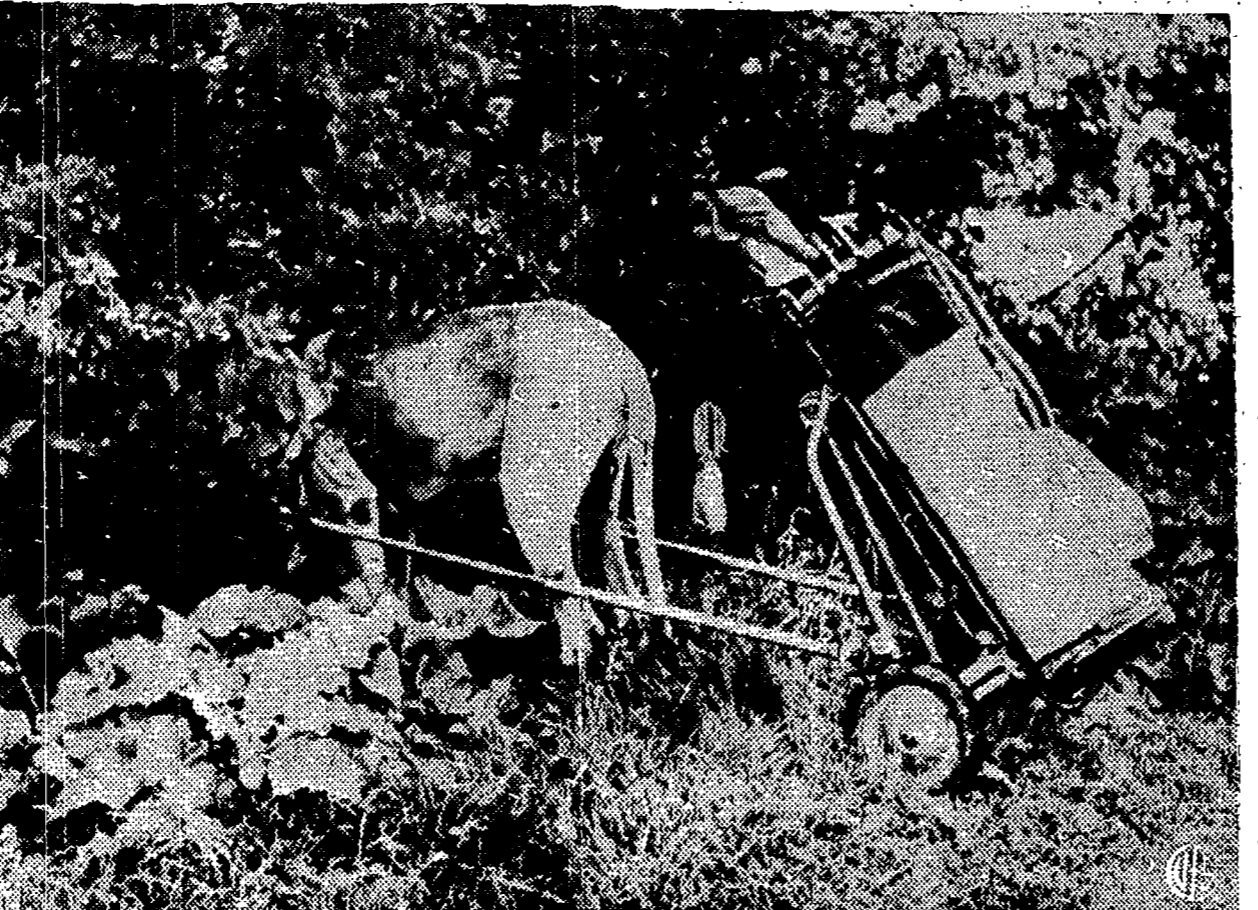

MANHATTAN MOUNTAINEERS—Scaling peaks in the heart of New York City is enjoyed by this group of adventurous boys. Tall rocks, in the shadow of towering apartment hotels (background), have been left untouched in Manhattan's Central Park, despite the man-made peaks that cover most of the rest of New York. An oasis of greenery in the heart of the concrete jungle, Central Park is a summer playground for school children on vacation.

SKY TUB—Like space men in a bathtub, two Navy officers in special cold weather clothing sit in a balloon basket that will serve as a "space" laboratory in the Naval research stratolab program. LCDR M. L. Lewis, USN (left), and LCDR M. D. Ross, USN, are attired in suits designed to protect against the extreme temperatures anticipated in manning the space lab to conduct meteorological experiments. The fiberglass basket will be carried aloft by a plastic balloon. Objective of the stratolab program is to provide a laboratory in the stratosphere for observers to conduct research that cannot be done by other means. The program is an outgrowth of ten years of "skyhook" research by the Office of Naval Research.

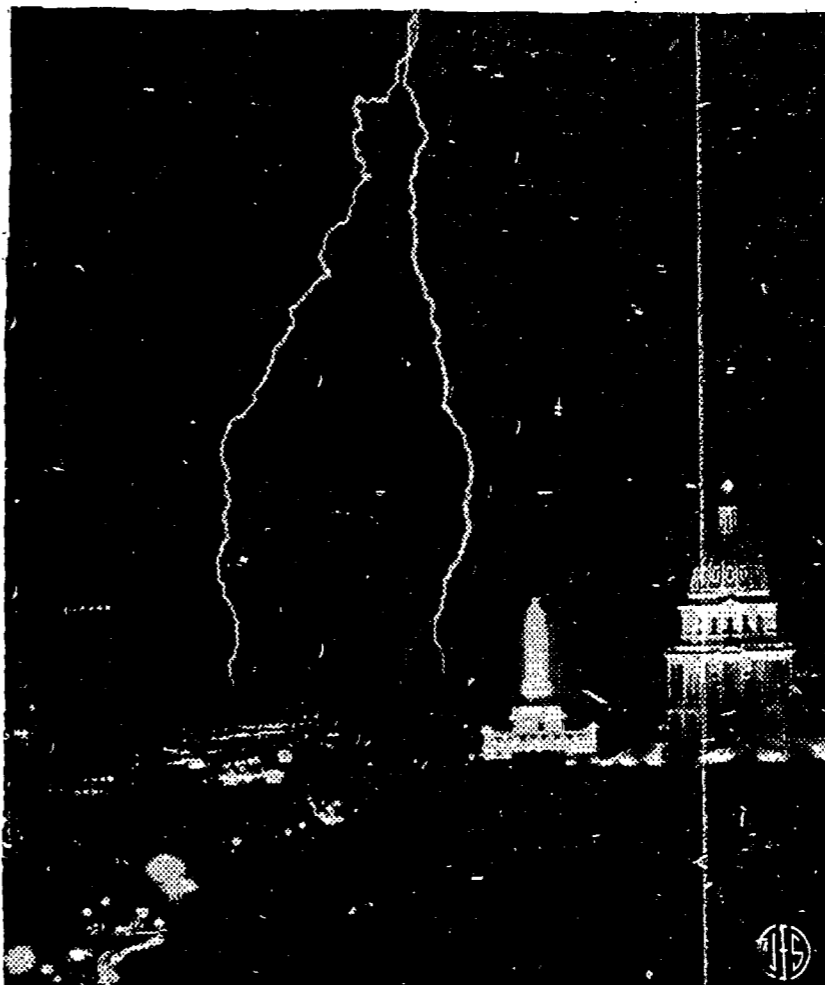

DOGGONE DIFFICULT—It's rough going for this canine caddy as he searches for a wild ball in the bushes at Northbrook, Ill. As if hauling the golf bag around were not enough, the dog must retrieve stray balls as well. The Great Dane, owned by Domirtek Colucci, was getting in practice for the First National Dog Caddy Contest to be held in connection with the Fifth Annual Chicago Printing Industry Championship Golf Tournament.

A HELPFUL LOAN—Ragge Lundberg, Swedish champion pole jumper, performs brilliantly for one special spectator, his wife Jinni. A convalescent home "loaned" Mrs. Lundberg, a polio patient, to her husband for two weeks, provided he learned the gymnastics program his wife has to go through every morning. Having learned everything about massage and anatomy within two days, Ragge is now able to teach Jinni how to move again, while he keeps on training for the forthcoming Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia. They encourage each other to reach their goals; his to jump higher, hers to walk again.

THE BURDEN OF KNOWLEDGE—To Thomas E. Milton, 6, of Martinsville, Va., knowledge is something to lean on right now. But to think that there are 42 books in the pile for him to be studied in the next 12 years doesn't seem to make Thomas very happy. He is starting school this year and from the look on his face he isn't sure he is going to like all the subjects in those books.

STRIKING VIEW—Lightning crackles spectacularly over the lighted dome of Colorado's capitol at Denver, brightly veining a dark, stormy sky. The brilliant cone of light at left of the dome is the Farmer's Union weather tower. The electrifying photo, a 15-minute time exposure, was made by local news cameraman Bill Perry.

PUT THIS DRINK ON MY BILL—This wise bird "parrots" his human friends by sipping a cool drink to offset some of the current heat wave in Bologna. With the mercury soaring past the 100-mark throughout Italy, this "last straw" effort was just the "human thing to do."

IT'S A BREEZE—Getting her kicks, lovely Diane Paul finds jumping in the air at Daytona Beach, Fla., a real breeze. Diane hasn't been out in the sun too long—it's just that the combination of perfect weather, lush scenery and great bathing made her leap for joy.

HAYLIFT—A farm worker is lifted easily from a hay cart by a helicopter of the British Fleet air arm in a stunt during the special air show at Lee-On-Solent and Gosport. Forty helicopters participated in the "At Home" exhibition of the HMS Daedalus, one of the largest shows of its kind ever held in Britain.

HALF BACK—For back interest and added protection against wintry winds, Serge Kogan adds a false "bolero" to the back of a light grey tweed coat and buttons a low-slung half-belt beneath it. This is one of the models from Kogan's fall and winter collection which was made available for pictures in advance of the regular Paris fashion photo releases.

ONLY A ROSE—Looking at fall with rose-colored glasses, Digby Morton creates a romantic velvet coat in a rich shade of old rose. The full-cut coat, with neckline interest in the form of a stand-away collar and matching satin bow tie, falls in flattering folds to a point just above the ankle.

U-M Scientists Studying Lakes from Bottom Up

A group of scientists at the University of Michigan Biological Station, 20 miles south of Cheboygan, have begun research on the Great Lakes and several smaller lakes from the bottom up.

In their basic research to "see what makes the lakes tick" they are scooping up chunks of the lake bottoms and analyzing the samples for percentages of sand, clay, silt, and organic matter.

This information, coupled with that gleaned from studies of water temperature currents, and primary productivity (such as the production of chlorophyll) will give the group and other researchers a much clearer picture of what goes on in the lakes.

The research group, headed by David C. Chandler, professor of zoology, and John C. Ayres, associate professor of zoology, is part of the Great Lakes Research Institute of the U-M.

"One reason for our concentration on the fundamentals," said Professor Ayres, "is the coming of the St. Lawrence Seaway." He explained that the information collected by the group could well be of great use during the building boom that is expected to follow the opening of the seaway.

An example, he said, is in the matter of water pollution by a planned industrial plant. Because of the research being done now the group would be able to tell engineers what would happen to polluted water entering the lake at a certain point.

The study will actually cover a period of years and will be interrupted occasionally by other projects.

One of these, said Professor Ayres, will occur next summer when the Great Lakes group will begin a study of the seiche, or so-called "tidal waves" such as that which swept in on Chicago's waterfront last year and destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property.

When the wind blows toward an area of the lake over which there is a high pressure area, the water level will rise there and go down in another area. When the wind ceases or when the high pressure area moves on (or both) the higher water will sweep back into the area of lower level. If the change is sudden the result could be a very large wave, or seiche.

Ayres calls the action the "slop effect" and compares it to sweeping your arm through a tub of water and piling the water more deeply in one end of the tub.

One thing known about a players, who may enter the eight-round competition for $8. Entries are being accepted by Sylvan Zaff, 18623 Greenlawn, Detroit 21, Mich. Entry fee for high-school students is $4. Spectators will be able to visit the tournament all four days for $1.

Besides the $500, the winner of the tournament will receive a trophy and a high point rating in the rankings of the U.S. Chess Federation. Trophies also will be awarded to the Class B champion, the best-scoring champion and the best-scoring junior. Cash prizes for players finishing second and third in the overall standings are planned.

The tournament is named for the late Savielly G. Tartakower, whose death this year in Paris removed from the chess world one of the last links to the world chess champions of the 1920's and 1930's—Emmanuel Lasker, Jose Capablanca and Alexander Alekhine.

A sponsoring group for the Labor Day tournament is the Tartakower Chess Club of Detroit, Bernard and Pvt. Sol Sylvan, charter members of the club, are donors of the $500 tournament first prize.

Other sponsors of the tournament are the Michigan Chess Assn. and the chess clubs of the University of Detroit, the University of Michigan, Extension Service, Wayne State University and the Detroit International Institute.

State Police Cross Fingers

The Michigan State Police are crossing their fingers and fervently hoping that the improved traffic record since April 1 will continue over the Labor Day week end and have made preparations to keep it that way.

They will have 922 officers on duty assisted by 217 National Guardsmen. Another 122 Guardsmen will be assigned to sheriffs.

Because the use of Guardsmen has become the practice on holidays, they have been receiving training in traffic work at schools conducted at their armories by State Police officers.

Each has also been provided with a training manual compiled from courses taught at the State Police recruit school. Included are such subjects as traffic patrol procedures, accident investigation, law of arrest and courtesy. The Guardsmen, however, do not have the power of arrest, but may assist a State Police officer in making one.

Pass days of all State Police officers have been cancelled from noon Friday until midnight Monday. The Guardsmen will work with them during this period as the second man in a patrol car or on point control.

The department will use seven airplanes and two helicopters for traffic observation. The Guard will furnish the helicopters and two planes. The other five planes will include two from the department of aeronautics, one from the conservation department and the two State Police ships.

Traffic is expected to reach its peak for the year. This will be the first and only long week end holiday of the year and the last summer vacation trip for many persons. Thousands of others will be returning from vacations in time for the start of school.

"Contrary to the rising death total throughout the nation, Michigan has reduced deaths in each of the last four months and so far in August as compared to the same months in 1955," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. "We are certainly hoping this continues."

"Up to August 19 there were 1,031 persons killed. In the same period last year the total was 1,164. The decrease of 133 deaths is despite the fact that during January, February and March of this year there were 65 more persons killed than in the same months of 1955."

According to State Police records, a total of 129 persons were killed during the last five Labor Day week ends. The lowest number was in 1951 with 14, the highest in 1952 and 1953, when 32 died each week end. Last year 25 were killed.

Six persons were killed on Memorial Day this year and nine on the Fourth of July. Both holidays fell on Wednesday, and the traffic toll was computed beginning with 6 p.m. Tuesday, a 30-hour period.

"Drivers should try hard to keep up the present trend," Childs said.

Scotch Tattoo Set for Sept. 8

There'll be the skirling of bagpipes, clashing of cymbals and flashing of claymores when St. Andrew's Society presents its spectacular 1956 Scottish Tattoo and Band Competition in the University of Detroit Stadium, Saturday evening, September 8th.

More than 1,000 performers will take part in the brilliant pageant. There will be pipe bands, brass bands, military bands, valve trumpet bands and bugle corps. Troupes of dancers will perform Highland flings, Scottish reels and sword dances. There will be a massed chorus singing the songs of Caledonia and hymns from the highlands.

Among the more than twenty-five bands taking part will be the pipes and drums of the Royal Canadian Air Force of Ottawa's Rockcliffe Station; the Canadian Guards from Toronto; the General Motors Kilby Band, from Oshawa, Stock Yards Kiltie Band of Chicago, and Windsor's own Essex and Kent Scottish Regiment.

Tattoos are military pageants that had their origins in the Crimean War and have grown in significance through the years. Most notable are the White City Tattoo and the performance held during the annual Edinburgh Festival. More than 20,000 spectators of Scottish descent and their friends from all over Michigan and Western Ontario, are expected to be present at the U. of D. show.

Among guests will be the British and Canadian Consuls, Mayor Albert E. Cobo and Governor G. Mennen Williams. Flobert Carruthers is General Chairman and Thomas D. Leadbetter, co-chairman. Morion Allan is secretary-treasurer. Graeme Gillies is director of the massed chorus which is made up of soloists from a number of leading churches and organizations.

Although the Tattoo begins at eight in the evening, there will be piping contests throughout the morning in the stadium and band competitions in the afternoon. Andrew Baird is field marshal, Judge David C. Vokes, announcer and James Russell program director.

Police Commissioner Edward S. Figgins and the Mounted Police Division will lead a parade of killed bands through downtown Detroit on the day of the Tattoo. The parade will start from the foot of Woodward Avenue at 1:30 p.m. and will proceed up Woodward to Grand Circus Park.

Information and tickets can be obtained from Grinnell Brothers Box Office, WO. 2-1124, or at the Stadium, University 2-6000. Tickets are also on sale at Heinzman's in Windsor.

"A Scottish Tattoo," says Chairman Carruthers, "is always a thrilling, spine-tingling event. The performance in the U. of D. stadium will be one of the most important and largest gatherings of the clans and their friends in more than a quarter-century."

Proceeds from the performance are used by the St. Andrew's Society in its benevolent work. St. Andrew's is the oldest Scottish organization in the middle-west having been formed 107 years ago with headquarters in a club house at the foot of Griswold Street. Many noted Detroiters have headed the group.

Two Helicopters Assigned To Army's Antiaircraft

SELFRIDGE AFB, Mich.—After forty years of background and training to shoot down aircraft, the Army's Antiaircraft in the greater Detroit area has the new task of keeping them flying; their own, of course.

Two helicopters have been assigned to the 28th Antiaircraft Artillery Group (Army). The announcement was made by Defense Commander Colonel Lee J. Davis.

There are over 1,000 square miles of territory in the Detroit AA defense area. The new aircraft will be primarily for the use of Colonel Davis and his staff. They will furnish a rapid means of transportation from the ALA headquarters at Selfridge Air Force Base to the score or more NIKÉ guided missile and 90 millimeter gun units comprising Davis' command. Landing areas have already been established at many of the locations.

The use of helicopters will result in a considerable saving in tax dollars. Heretofore a single circuit of all sites by automobile required three full work days. In other words, one circuit allowing no time out for sleep or meals required twenty four hours. Even then not more than ten minutes could be spent at each site.

The Hiller H-23 can carry the pilot plus two passengers. They cruise at about 65 miles per hour. Pilot and passengers sit side by side in a plexiglass bubble at the nose of the aircraft which has a cruising range of about 150 miles.

1st Lieutenant Wilson C. Parker of San Antonio, Texas is the Group aviation officer. He holds a pilot's rating in both fixed wing aircraft and helicopters and has had about two years experience in this field.

Chess Masters To Test Skill

Chess masters of international fame will gather in Detroit over Labor Day weekend to participate in a major chess tournament.

United States Open Champion Arthur Bisguier, of New York, will lead a field of more than 100 chess players in the Tartakower Memorial Chess Tournament, to be played August 31-September 3 at the Wayne State University Student Center.

Other noted chess masters who have agreed to compete for the Tartakower Tournament's $500 first prize are Donald Byrne, of Ann Arbor, U.S. Open champion in 1953, and Stephen Popel, a recent emigrant to Detroit, who was Paris champion in 1954 and British Open champion in 1954 and 1955.

Every active chess organization in the Detroit area has joined in sponsorship of the tournament, according to Phillip LeCornu, tournament director and former Michigan co-champion.

LeCornu emphasized that the tournament is open to all chess

Continuing With the Frolics

Continuing with the frolics of Casey Stengel when he managed the former Daffy Dodgers in the National League, Ott Case would sometimes go to extremes to prove a point.

Once, in the days before artificially lighted ball parks, the Dodgers were leading by a slender margin and it was getting dark. Casey wanted the umpire to call the game. The Dodgers, of course, would be declared winners of the abbreviated contest.

The umpire refused. So the very next inning Ott Case trudged from the dugout with a flashlight in his hand, searching for his place in the third base coaching box.

Dressed for the Occasion Then there was the time Stengel wanted the game called because it was raining. Again his team was leading, a custom he enjoyed only occasionally in those days. Again the ump refused.

This time the irritated Mr. Stengel took to the field in hip boots, raincoat and rain hat in an attempt to prove his point. Nowadays, of course, Casey doesn't have to resort to such antics. He manages a team that has a habit of winning.

Who's Got the Ball? Around Boston, they still talk of the time early this season when one of the Tigers smashed a hard line drive to Billy Klaus at third. Klaus stopped the ball but it suddenly disappeared.

He looked all over in utter bewilderment as the runner safely reached first on what should have been a routine out. Finally he found the ball had somehow popped inside his shirt.

Early Wynn, the Cleveland pitcher, was accidentally struck in the face by a ball thrown by Jose Valdeviso in Washington and wound up with 21 stitches. Shortly thereafter a friend gave Wynn a fencing mask and he wore it while warming up along the sidelines before a game.

"Fun" at First Wynn might have become somewhat "gun shy" from his injury, for he intensely dislikes balls being hit through the box. In fact, once when a sizzling liner went through him, he reacted with dispatch.

With the batter on first, Wynn called his first baseman over and confessed, "I'm going to throw the ball to first but don't you catch it. I want that guy to feel what it's like to have a ball whizzing by his head."

Earl Torgeson pulled what Minnie Minoos thought was a dirty trick, although it was perfectly legal and smart thinking. Minoos had reached base in a swirl of dust on a single. Torgy told him to get off for a moment so he could dust off the bag. The unsuspecting Minoos raised his foot and Earl tagged him with the ball he had hidden in his glove.

New Pipe Line In Operation

The new American Louisiana Pipe Line from southern Louisiana to Detroit is in full operation and is delivering 200 million cubic feet of natural gas a day to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, it was announced.

At the same time Michigan Consolidated filed a petition with the Michigan Public Service Commission requesting authority to resume unrestricted sales of gas to industries which desire to purchase gas on an interruptible basis. In its petition the Company pointed out that it is now able to supply its customers with all the gas they desire for home heating and other uses.

Interruptible gas is sold with the understanding that it may be discontinued if the gas is required by other firm customers. Those who purchase interruptible gas must be able to switch to other fuels.

In its petition Michigan Consolidated pointed out that on August 3 the M.P.S.C. had authorized the Company to sell interruptible gas to 27 industries which had been receiving service under this schedule on October 19, 1953. The Company stated that it has contracts with 38 other firms which desire to purchase interruptible gas.

"A situation now exists in which those who desire interruptible gas are being deprived of this service while it is being made available to their competitors," the Company said. "Thus, some industries served by the Company are receiving an unfair advantage over others."

The 1,200-mile American Louisiana project which has increased Michigan Consolidated's supply by 70 percent, was completed in less than a year at a cost of $130,000,000. The pipe line, which is 30 inches in diameter, brings gas to Michigan from the prolific fields of southern Louisiana and the offshore Gulf Coast.

The new pipe line crosses eight states and nine major rivers and lakes. An estimated 1,000 men were employed in its construction in addition to hundreds of others needed to plan, design and supervise the work. Some four trillion cubic feet of gas reserves have been dedicated to the pipe line and additional reserves are being purchased in the gas-rich areas of Louisiana. Michigan Consolidated receives 200 million cubic feet daily of the initial capacity of the pipe line and Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, another supplier of Michigan Consolidated, buys 100 million feet. Although the line has just been completed, American Louisiana has already been authorized by the FPC to increase this capacity by 60 million cubic feet a day and work is progressing rapidly on new compressor facilities to move greater volumes of gas through the pipe line.

Michigan Consolidated will receive an additional 27 million cubic feet of gas a day from this expansion starting January 1, 1957. A further increase in supply is anticipated about July 1, 1957 when American Louisiana expects to increase its capacity 40 million cubic feet to a total of 400 million a day.

American Louisiana is a subsidiary of the American Natural Gas Company an affiliate of Michigan Consolidated and Michigan Wisconsin.

The new aircraft, painted in the Army standard olive drab color stand out alongside the sleek grey Air Force jet interceptors at Selfridge Air Force Base. With the cooperation characteristic among the armed services in this area, the base will furnish hangar space, many services and other facilities to the army. It is anticipated however, that major maintenance and overhaul will be performed on a contract basis by commercial firms in the Detroit area. Antiaircraft officers state that the helicopters will contribute to keeping the Defense at peak effectiveness through the greater accessibility of sites created by this fast transportation.

With her sports clothes, MRS. CHARLES B. WARREN, JR., likes to wear a pretty natural straw gondolier's hat, which is banded and streamered with red ribbon . . . and on the golf course, she dons a light straw replica of an African cork-lined pith helmet.

A real starter in the hat departments (she has had people stop her on the street and in restaurants to mention it) is one of MRS. JAMES QUELLO's own creations . . . a large open brimmed black wired hat, the wiring covered with black velvet ribbon and trimmed at intervals with tiny bunches of multi-colored forget-me-nots.

Missie Q. dreamed up the confection to wear with an all-over black and white print frock trimmed in black velvet that "it was very difficult to find a hat for."

M. JEAN-PAUL DESPARET, French consul to Detroit, awarded an "Officer d'Academie" decoration to MADAME LOUISE BERTRAND of Maryland avenue for "services rendered to French culture" at a ceremony and reception held this month in the French consulate. Mme. Bertrand formerly taught at Liggett.

With her artistic bent, it seems most appropriate that MRS. WILLIAM M. OARD should choose to wear with a simple navy outfit, white pearl earrings designed in shapes of small palettes topped with gold brushes and minute splashes of red, green, yellow and blue.

PILFERINGS

"For ten long, lean years," the author told the producer, "I've been writing this drama, working on it till my fingers were cramped and aching, my brain and body weary."

"Too bad," the producer murmured. "All work—and no play."

At a warm-up of the Quiz Kids radio show, somebody asked, "Can you think of any proverb that helps you in your relations with your father?"

One angel-faced moppet shot up her hand and piped, "There's no fool like an old fool."

A man who had wanted a parrot for years, according to Clarence Budington Kelland, was walking along a street and noticed a sign on a pet shop—BANKRUPTCY SALE. Here, he thought, is my chance to get a parrot cheap. He entered and sure enough, there was a gorgeous parrot in a cage. When the auctioneer put it up for sale he began bidding; higher and higher went the bids, but finally the parrot was his.

Bursting with pride of ownership, he walked out of the shop carrying the parrot in its shiny cage, when suddenly it occurred to him that perhaps the parrot couldn't talk. Back he ran and, holding the cage up to the auctioneer, demanded, "Say, does this bird talk?"

"Whothell do you think was bidding against you all the time?" asked the parrot.

Bernard Shaw one day received an invitation from a celebrity hunter: "Lady X will be at home Thursday between four and six."

The author returned the card; underneath he had written: "Mr. Bernard Shaw likewise."

West Point's drawing department, explains Kendall Banning, in "West Point Today," is intended to teach young officers-to-be engineering drawing, map reading, and photo reading, but every so often some cadet attempts to express a sprightly artistic originality.

On one occasion, a cadet, required to make a drawing over a rural stream, playfully sketched in a couple of children sitting on the bridge rail. Naturally this did not meet with the approval of his instructor who sharply directed him to "take those children off the bridge."

The next time the instructor made his rounds, he found that his orders had been obeyed to the letter—the children had been transferred to riverbank. "No, no!" he protested. "Get rid of them!"

On the third trip the instructor found that the children had indeed been done away with. In their place stood two pathetic little tombstones.

MISS BETTY WALL OF GROSSE POINTE COURT

By Kitty Marriott

It is difficult to say whether Betty Wall prefers foreign travel or collecting foreign spoons. Since her first trip to Europe with her grandmother, at the age of 15, she has gathered lovely spoons that caught her fancy.

Betty, who made her first tour of the Orient early this summer, has been abroad four times; twice, trips were to Europe including visits with her father's family in Norway. "I have gotten so much pleasure out of my collection," Betty says. "I choose spoons that appeal to me, more for beauty than just to complete a collection."

Wall Spoonholder

A wooden spoonholder purchased in Canada hangs on Betty's wall and is an ideal setting for her spoons. Two small vases, native pottery from Barcelona, Spain, stand on small projections in the center of the spoonholder and lend additional color.

Betty comes by her hobby naturally, for both her late grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Weber, and her mother, Mrs. Andrew N. Wall, collected silver spoons. An interesting and early item in her collection is the baby spoon, unusual with its long curved handle, dating back to 1885, which was used by her mother, her brother and Betty herself.

Gold-Plated Sterling

Two small matching silver infant spoons were given to Betty in 1936 when she visited her father's relatives in Norway. Four sterling demi-tasse spoons, the handles colorfully enameled—one each in yellow, red, blue and green—are gold-plated over the sterling, a type of work which is done only in Norway.

Betty's Norwegian jam spoon has the same type of gold plating with a lovely figured red handle. Climatic conditions here, Miss Wall explained, remove the gold after a short time.

Dainty little olive and pickle forks in her collection are also gold-plated with enameled handles.

As Pointe travelers to the Scandinavian countries undoubtedly know, the dampness in Norway results in lump sugar only being used. Betty has one of the fascinating mechanical Norwegian sugar clamps with blue enameled tip.

Souvenir Spoons

She has many souvenir spoons, and these are a bit smaller than ordinary teaspoons. The handle tip of one such spoon bears the small blue and silver crest of the city of Oslo.

Of heavier sterling are Betty's salad fork and spoon with six Norwegian symbols enameled in a beautiful shade of blue on the handle. Also from Oslo is a huge heavy pewter spoon with a Viking warrior worked into the bowl and a dragon's head gracing the handle tip.

Her wide souvenir spoon from Copenhagen has a Viking ship at the tip of the blue enamel handle. The spoon with handle representing a totem pole Betty picked up in Skagway, Alaska, during a 1941 summer vacation.

From Many Lands

The colorful family crest of the House of Genoa graces the spoon which she purchased in Genoa, Italy; another from Holland has a blue and white China Dutch shoe at the handle's end.

Her souvenir spoon from Damascus, Syria, boasts a small camel; just as a Chinese symbol is poised at the handle tip of the one which Betty found in Penang off the China coast.

One of the few spoons in Betty's collection that is not sterling silver, is the silver-plated specimen topped by a good luck symbol which she selected in Hong Kong; sterling is not made there, she explains.

Collects Jewelry

In addition to spoons, Betty has collected jewelry from some 15 countries during her travels. A few of the trinkets even match her spoons.

She has a pair of jade green earrings from Alaska; a Dutch pin and earrings of painted porcelain, and a handsome green enameled link bracelet of gold-plated sterling from Oslo.

A traditional Norwegian bride's lapel pin of filigree sterling with dangling gold-plated spangles is one of her favorite pieces. Betty has the matching earrings too.

Wears Jewelry

She utilizes all of her jewelry, collecting it according to taste and use. In Athens, Betty obtained an antique gold necklace and earrings ornamented with Grecian enamel work, a light blue enamel worked in small dots.

From Spain comes Betty's heavy wide bracelet of gold-covered Toledo steel wherein the small links are of rich black filigree work.

An interesting brown and orange fruitseed necklace and bracelet came with the Fiji Islands during World War II, and Betty was able to obtain matching earrings in Hawaii. A long shell necklace is another souvenir of her Hawaiian visit.

Eastern Influence Betty bought ivory earrings with dangle good luck symbol while in China. She brought back from Japan an unusual pearl necklace of small cultured pearls.

In Kyoto, Betty watched in fascination while the artists sat cross-legged and painstakingly worked inlaid sterling designs onto black lightweight metal. Needless to say, she brought back some sample pieces, a handsome clasp bracelet and earrings.

She has, in addition, jewelry from Brazil, Mexico, Peru, Germany, Egypt and North Africa. To date, Betty has not set foot on Australian or South African soil. But there's plenty of travel time ahead, and without a doubt the day will come when she adds either spoons or jewelry from those lands to her collection.

Pointe Counter Points

By Roebria Isley

Now they are HERE. Treasured pieces from D. J. Healy's fabulous Fine Arts Department. This week we found decor chairs . . . delightfully styled . . . so much so, that you would expect to part with many more coins. They are mahogany framed and have a fruitwood finish. Choose from exciting textured fabrics . . . figured boucle, damask, matelasse with tapestry weave. In shades, too, that are sure to blend with your decor . . . eggshell, ivory, pink, celadon green, gold and sand. They are shown in the D. J. Healy Shop, in the village, and are tagged at two for one hundred and fifty-five dollars or one for seventy-nine ninety-five.

Black beauties in good wool coats. Two from a collection display an easy line . . . they look slim . . . have a controlled back fullness. Typical of both . . . small round collars . . . push up sleeves . . . milium linings . . . and the cost of each nominal . . . one seventy-nine ninety-five . . . another eighty-nine ninety-five. These from the complete coat collection at Irving's, on the hill. Their coat collection runs the gamut . . . from raincoats to the fabulous mink, you know.

The graceful steps of growing girls lead to fall AND to Clyde Hornung's, on the hill. Fashion's a-foot here in Spaulding saddles (one of the more well-known shoe cobblers . . . in fact, Mother wore Spauldings). Navy and gray suede loafers . . . blue or brown calf loafer types with the elastic vamp are sure fits. Big sister . . . little sister . . . big brother . . . little brother . . . makes no difference . . . all can be fitted, and expertly, at Hornung's, on the hill.

A bolt of cloth and two seams just doesn't make a dress anymore. This fall, clothes have more cut. Maybe it's a sash or a bit of belt under the bosom of a flying panel. Its own jacket. Often it has a bloused top. Bloused-back shirtdresses are seen, too. And here is a wonderful couture story . . . Ann Klein of Jr. Sophisticates has highlighted this new bloused look in exciting textures . . . and here in town, Margaret Rice, has a collection of dresses bloused lazily over the belts. 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

He has a casual manner, enthusiastic grin. He carries two or three books under his arm. He's that friendly good-looking college man. He's cautious when it comes to choosing clothes . . . that's why on campus he is prepared for his casual life with a couple of these English Shetland wool crew neck sweaters . . . they give long luxurious wear . . . and there are thirty colors to choose from . . . sometimes gentle, sometimes vibrant . . . each wonderful. Kilgore and Hurd, 92 Kercheval, on the hill.

The big story for little boys. Active school fashions for little boys four to seven. We choose this complete outfit . . . plaid jacket of combed cotton . . . with plain trousers to match, because they are wonderfully washable . . . and, oh, so many times wearable. Liked it, too, because it's water repellent, spot resistant and machine washable. Expect to find smart pay for themselves in the saving of costly dry-cleaning expense. Tagged at around fourteen dollars. All these at Young Clothes, Inc., 110 Kercheval, on the hill.

Have you heard about Lip Smooth? Formulated to keep lips soft . . . no more dry lips . . . little bottles of this potent stuff are at Trail Pharmacy, on the hill.

People who relish the well organized life will find the new and colorful burlap photograph albums the most. Red, beige, pink and turquoise. There is a lavish assortment of leather and plastic albums, also, at the Camera Center, in the village.

Fashion news: The inside story . . . surprize linings. The Village Store, on the hill, is showing "The Villager" . . . a cashmere and wool blend, polo coat . . . PAISLEY LINED . . . fifty-five dollars. 98 Kercheval.

Do you have a bright eye for current events? Such as fashion's new matched cashmeres . . . a sweater and skirt combination. Rich, vibrant trim shines through the deep texture of the skirt . . . the same trim is picked up on the collar and tabs of the sweater. They come in charcoal and beige with brown. Their small collars are destined to make them classics. Tagged . . . forty-nine ninety-eight at D. J. Healy's, in the village.

The little black basic dress is back. It might be pitch black or black with white. The black basics we found at Irving's, on the hill, this week, are putting the pastels of summer in the shade. One black basic fallie was tagged at forty-nine ninety-five. Another honey . . . black velvet with blue trim was sixty-nine ninety-five. Yes, these dresses are daughters to the little black crepe dress that was the mark of a chic woman perhaps a dozen years ago.

The fashion for boys might be here, there, and everywhere . . . but it's the Village Shop of the S. Stein & Co. that has the flair that compounds real excitement. Here in one big complete department are the clothes from p.j.'s to raincoats . . . from socks to shirts . . . AND even more important there are the autumn clothes for boys of ALL ages! Good reasons for shopping for the boys at the Village Shop, in the village.

We're boosting a flag for the Restor nail treatment . . . prevents peeling and cracking of nails . . . softens and removes cuticles . . . strengthens nails . . . little bottles of this formula are at Trail Pharmacy, 121 Kercheval, on the hill.

All hail to Henri Bendel! Hail the revival of the fashion-wise silk, shirtwaist dress . . . sports unpressed pleats at skirt sides . . . bodice gently bloused . . . pointed collar . . . fabric buttons . . . and elf belt. Color? Peacan. Around fifty dollars at Margaret Rice, 76 Kercheval, on the hill.
