

POINTE TO BE 'BOMBED' FRIDAY

HEADLINES

of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 4

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON made a poor effort to conceal its glee in the Russian purge of a powerful bloc of Stalinist oppositionists. Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist Party boss, won a smashing victory when he expelled Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, Dmitri Shepilov and L. M. Kaganovich from their high posts in the Red Party.

Friday, July 5

THREE SUBURBS of Detroit were hit by tornado winds which inflicted heavy damages. No casualties were reported. Hit were Hazel Park, Huntington Woods and Royal Oak. The storm, which police called a "small tornado," first struck Huntington Woods, then jumped across Woodward avenue and slammed through Royal Oak.

A tornado funnel tore the roof off two factories in Hazel Park. Damage throughout South Oakland County was heavy. Royal Oak police said damage was confined to the southern section of the city.

Saturday, July 6

WARSAW CIRCLES said the four top Red Party members purged several days ago confessed to a plot to oust Nikita S. Khrushchev. The reported confessions climaxed a 35-hour debate in the Soviet Communist Party's Central Committee. Khrushchev is said to have sent representatives to Poland, Red China, and to the sensitive Soviet Republic of Georgia, Stalin's birthplace, to explain what had taken place and why.

On June 28, V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov, before their purge, admitted they consciously or subconsciously tried to take over power by anti-party methods.

Sunday, July 7

GEORGI M. MALENKOV, ex-premier and ex-deputy premier of the Soviet Union, might possibly face new charges and be put on trial for his life, reliable sources said. In further Soviet developments, Nikita Khrushchev, Red Party boss, charged Malenkov with helping to plot the death of several top Communist officials in Leningrad in 1949. The accusation is the most serious leveled at any of the Red leaders who were swept from office last week.

Monday, July 8

THE WEST IS HOPING that the purge which made Nikita Khrushchev undisputed strongman of Russia would bring about a Soviet peace gesture. Western diplomats are speculating cautiously for improved dealings with Moscow. Several disarmament negotiators in London felt the Russian shakeup would lead to greater Soviet flexibility in the London talks and make a compromise easier.

Tuesday, July 9

THE WORST RAIN on record fell on Detroit and the suburban areas snarling traffic and hindering communications. The raging rainstorm swept down in a vicious pre-dawn assault. The official rainfall was set at 2.25 inches, but in some areas it was six inches. Thousands of home basements were flooded, and streets and highways were turned into impassable canals. Rubber boats had to be utilized to rescue passengers from busses stalled in flooded underpasses. In some of the lower spots of the Detroit area, cars were completely submerged under water.

Wednesday, July 10

RUSSIAN SOURCES hinted that the way is being cleared to oust three former top Russians from the Communist Party. The three were deposed as deputy premiers about a week ago from the Soviet Union's ruling body. Facing expulsion from the party are V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich. Malenkov, it was said, might possibly face a death sentence. He succeeded to the premiership of the Soviet Union on the death of Stalin. The three are charged with plotting against the party's "monolithic unity."

Mackinac Champions Instruct Bayview Junior Sailors

Bayview Y.C. Junior Sailing Club members are fortunate youngsters in this locale because they have the opportunity to learn sailing from some of the best sailors in the world. This quartet from left, BOBBY BENKERT, JOHN CALDER, KEN CALDER and SUSAN BRIDGE, are getting some pointers about big yachts from NORMAN SARNS and DAVE SLOSS, background. Both are Mackinac race champions. Sarms won both the 1955 Port Huron and Chicago-Mackinac race with his "Revelry" and Sloss is the only man to win five Mackinac titles with his own boats. The youngsters are members of Bayview Yacht Club's newly formed Junior Sailing Club which provides sailing instruction during the summer months and a social program during the winter months.

18-Year-Old Arrested in Stolen Car

State Police Find .38 Automatic in Jacket Pocket When They Nab Youth Asleep

An 18-year-old youth, who at the last report, refused to identify himself, was arrested by Michigan State police on Saturday, July 6, in Algonac after being found asleep in a car he is said to have stolen from a Grosse Pointe Park resident.

The car, owned by Peter Pilarski of 1050 Maryland, was reported stolen from in front of Pilarski's home on Friday, July 5.

Youth Was Sleeping
State police of the St. Clair Post, came upon the car in Algonac as it was parked along the road. They arrested the occupant who was sleeping in the vehicle.

The youth had no identification and refused to tell authorities his name and place of residence.

In searching the young man and the car, police found a jacket belonging to the youth, and in one of the pockets was a .38 caliber automatic.

Car Returned to Owner
Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said the State Police are charging the unknown lad with carrying a concealed weapon. The car has been returned to the owner, he said.

Boat Ride Ends in Tragedy As Cruiser Rams Outboard

A boat ride on Lake St. Clair ended in tragedy Sunday morning, when Richard S. Towar, of Roseville, drowned after being thrown from his outboard, which was run over by a 22-foot cruiser about a half-mile off shore from 10 Mile road.

Charles Kraft, owner and pilot of the cruiser which collided with Towar's small boat, said he never saw the outboard, although both boats were carrying running lights.

Towar had taken two friends for a ride Saturday evening and they were returning to a pier at 10-Mile road when the crash occurred. Kraft and his wife were entertaining another couple on their boat. After the impact the two men jumped into the water and rescued Rich-

Bert Wicking Again Heads School Board

Succeeds Robert F. Weber To Serve His Seventh Term as President

Bert H. Wicking was named president of the seven-member Grosse Pointe Board of Education at its annual election held July 1.

He succeeds Robert F. Weber, who was elected treasurer after having served as president the past year. Chief Sampson was re-elected secretary, an office which he had held since July a year ago.

His Seventh Term
Mr. Wicking has the longest tenure of any member of the present board. He was first elected to the board in 1943 and has served continuously since. This is his seventh term as president, his previous experience occurring in 1947-1949 and 1951-1955.

Great Growth Noted
Mr. Wicking now heads a $213,000,000 assessed valuation school district. He has seen the growth and development in the district from an enrollment of 5,127 to 9,456, and still growing.

The demand for elementary schools has been so great Mr. Wicking has seen the building of the new Kerby School and its addition, the Monteith School, (Continued on Page 2)

Pedestrian Hurt In Park Traffic

Edwin Maischen, 73, of 3440 Yorkshire, Detroit, suffered a broken leg when he was struck by a car at Mack avenue and Kensington on Saturday, July 6.

Ticketed for the mishap was Yee Quock Zee, 21, of 7637 W. McNichols, Detroit, who is charged with making an improper turn and interfering with a pedestrian and causing an accident.

Maischen, Park police said, has just alighted from a bus at Mack and Kensington, and in crossing Mack was waiting in the center of the street for traffic to clear, when Zee made a left turn from Kensington and hit the aged man.

Maischen was knocked to the pavement and his left leg was broken below the knee. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment.

Zee claimed he had looked both ways for oncoming traffic and when traffic was clear, he made his turn. He said he did not see Maischen in the middle of the street.

School District's Building Program Making Progress

Construction Projects Practically on Schedule; Brownell School to Open in Fall of 1958

All construction projects being undertaken by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, are progressing according to schedule, it was announced by Harold Husband, director of Administrative Services.

The biggest single construction, the Samuel M. Brownell Junior High School, Chalfonte and Lothrop, is shaping up well, and all indications are that the new edifice will be ready for the opening of the school year in 1958, as planned.

Roof Almost Completed
The roof of the two-story building is almost completed, and partitioning is underway for the classrooms. The shops, offices and boiler room are about 80 per cent completed.

The work on the service tunnel, for wires, pipes and other various utilities are about 85 per cent finished, Husband said. The bottom slab for the school's swimming pool has already been poured, and the walls are ready for pouring. The balancing tank, to maintain the level of the pool, is about ready for installation.

All on Schedule
The installation of plumbing, heating, and electrical equipment is in keeping with the schedule.

In the Grosse Pointe High School, the old boilers have been removed, and new foundations are in place to receive two new gas burner type boilers, with oil standby.

Renovation of the school's boilers was started in the Annex boiler room last May. From there trenches were dug toward the Auditorium-Gymnasium tunnel; feed and return steam pipes installed, insulated and ditches filled.

The renovation is now in the High School boiler room itself. The modernizing of the high school's offices is going according to schedule.

Pool To Be Ready
The Parcels Junior High School's 35 by 75 yd. swimming pool, is practically finished. The pool, in the new ell of the building, is certain to be ready by this fall, Husband said.

Not faring so well, is the third swimming pool, located at the Pierce Junior High School. The pool, measuring 30 by 60 yards, might be ready by fall, but this is doubtful.

Complications made it necessary to dig new service tunnels and relocate mechanical and electrical equipment. However, ceramic tiling within the pool itself and locker, shower and toilet rooms, have already been started and should be completed within six weeks.

The entire construction project is being financed by the $3,475,000 bond levy approved by the voters of the School District on January 24, 1956.

SHRUBBERY STOLEN

Gordon Spoor of 1150 Oxford road, a building contractor, reported to Shores police on Tuesday, July 2, that two evergreen shrubs in front of a home he is building at 64 Raymond, were stolen.

Vandals Completely Ruin Truck at Construction Site

Farms police detectives are investigating one of the worst cases of malicious destruction to be reported in that city in many years. Sometime during the night of July 5, or the morning of July 6, vandals completely wrecked a panel truck owned by the construction company that is building the Brownell school at Chalfonte and Manor road.

Albert Rondeau, a foreman for the Charles R. Beltz Co., reported the damage shortly after he reported for work Saturday morning. When detective sergeant Jack Paisley arrived at the school site, Rondeau showed him the 1951 Dodge truck which had been turned over and then battered on its side with a front end loader tractor.

The vandals drove the tractor about 300 feet from where it was parked to where the truck was standing. They placed the lift loader under the side of the Dodge and flipped it over. Not content with their job, they then lifted the heavy loader over the truck and dropped it, battering it to a wad of scrap metal.

Civil Defense Conducting Big Exercise

Operation Alert 1957 to Be Outstanding Test of Nation's Readiness in Emergency

Hypothetically, Grosse Pointe will be devastated by a "nuclear attack" tomorrow morning, July 12. During Operation Alert 1957, approximately 125 cities will be hit by one or more bombs with a megatonnage far in excess of any previous national training exercises.

State and target city civil defense directors will not know in advance what cities are to be attacked or what the bomb yields will be for their respective areas. Sealed envelopes will reach them a few hours before the tactical alert is to be simulated tomorrow morning. Only then will they know what their survival problems will be for this year's training exercise.

To Inject Realism
Realism is being injected into the radiological defense actions with actual weather of the forenoon of July 12, to be used in estimating the area to be evacuated or to receive "take cover" instructions because of the drift of radioactive fallout.

The purpose of "Operation Alert 1957" is to improve the readiness of the Nation to meet promptly and effectively emergency situations resulting from enemy action, to test communications facilities at all echelons of government, to continue public education, and to test the performance of federal agencies in their immediate essential wartime functions.

The first man in Grosse Pointe to learn of the nature of tomorrow's attack will be George Elworthy, Director of Civil Defense for the Grosse Pointe Communities and Harper Woods. He will notify his staff to meet immediately at the Neighborhood Club. The club's five trunk lines will be used to alert all police, fire, and hospitals in the area. This job will take approximately four minutes. Each department has its own list of persons to alert.

2,000 Nurses Here
In the case of an actual disaster, all doctors and nurses would be called upon to report to hospitals and first aid stations. Mr. Elworthy stated that the Pointe was blessed by having over 2,000 Registered Nurses living in its five cities. Most of these are not practicing but could be called on in an emergency.

The Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods Civil Defense System includes many departments, each headed by men whose professions would enable them to meet problems anticipated in the event of a disaster. Dr. Alonzo Rogers is chairman of (Continued on Page 2)

Incinerator Sets Awning Ablaze

The Farms fire department had only one call over the long Fourth of July weekend.

On the morning of July 5, a pumper was sent to the John S. Hammond home at 70 Cambridge road. An awning on a rear window was set afire by sparks from an incinerator.

The blaze was extinguished before it could do any further damage.

Residents Flock To Beach Parks

Fourth of July crowds flocked to the Pointe's five municipal parks breaking attendance records over the four day weekend.

The Park reported the largest turnout, with 7588 using the park at the end of Windmill Pointe on July 4. Total for the weekend including the Fourth, was 14,962. The fireworks display, canceled because of rain, will be presented on August 3.

In the Woods, 5531 residents and their guests used the park on Thursday. Six more thousand came on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

In the Farms early morning crowds on the Fourth indicated that all attendance records would be broken, but the afternoon clouds evidently deterred many more from coming to the pier park. The day's total was 4145. Over 11,000 visited the park over the long weekend.

The City's park on the Lake at the foot of University place, played host to 5000 swimmers, picnickers, and boaters. Sixteen hundred used the park on the Fourth. In the Shores attendance was double what had been anticipated. More than 1200 went to the park on July 4, and another 3000 visited on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Have Special Jobs
Alfred J. Meyer would be responsible for the dissemination of drugs in case of an emergency. Bill Moir keeps an account of approximately how much food stuff is kept on hand at all the local grocery stores. Certain foods might have to be confiscated in the event of a disaster.

—AND WHILE YOU'RE AT IT... SEE MICHIGAN FIRST THIS YEAR YOURSELF!

With a record breaking summer tourist season forecast for Michigan, it was announced today that the annual screening program to locate industrial prospects among hundreds of thousands of visitors in the state will be intensified.

This program, sponsored by the Michigan Economic Development Department and Michigan communities to find industrial executives among summer visitors and acquaint them with industrial advantages of the area, was started in 1950 and has resulted in a number of new industries, especially in resort centers.

According to Lee Uhl, chief of the area development division of the Economic Development Department, experience has proven that many summer visitors who enjoy the recreational advantages of Michigan have selected a site near their favorite vacation spot for manufacturing or other business operations.

"We know that among the vacationists there are industrialists who might be interested in Michigan as a location for a branch plant or for a new location for present operations," Mr. Uhl said, "During the summer tourist season our program is designed to locate these individuals and let them know all about the industrial resources and advantages we have."

"There isn't any reason why many industrialists can't carry on their operations in a place where they like to live and play. In many Michigan communities boating and fishing are literally at the factory door," Mr. Uhl continued. "The combination and favorable plant location factors has resulted in several good industries for Michigan communities. The purpose of the tourist screening program is to induce more industries to consider locations in our state."

Spending Holiday Teaching Experts

Dr. H. Leroy Selmeier, Director of Instruction for the Grosse Pointe Public School System, is on a busman's holiday. The well known expert in the field of curriculum, who works with teachers throughout the school year, is teaching two short-term education courses at the University of Maine this month during his vacation time.

The three-weeks courses are on elementary and secondary curriculum construction. Only a few advanced graduate students, mostly experienced teachers and administrators, were permitted to enroll.

"I have spent my vacation this way before," said Dr. Selmeier. "In fact, this is my second such trip to the Maine campus. In 1954 I taught a three-weeks course for graduate students in education. And in 1952 I used my vacation to teach a similar short course at San Jose State in California. It's a good way to learn first-hand what's going on in other school systems," Selmeier declared.

The Grosse Pointe school official has his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Michigan and his Ph.D. from Yale University. He is national-

Noisy Muffler Marks Joy Ride

A young boy received a reprimand from City police and then another from his father on July 4. About 5 a.m. Thursday, the lad sneaked his father's car out of the garage and took it for a joy ride around the block. The tipoff was a neighbor who called police complaining of a noisy muffler in the area. A squad car crew picked up the boy minutes later.

Balloon Launching Huge Success

—Picture by Fred Runnels. The balloon launching at the Neighborhood Club on Monday, July 1, was a huge success as can be verified by the many Day Campers who have received replies from the finders of the balloons which had the youngsters' names and addresses on a return postcard attached to them.

With the wind out of the northwest, the 200 balloons floated out over Lake St. Clair and were found by people in Belle River, Riverside, Woodlee and Leamington, Ontario. Three of the balloons soared as far as Barberton, Medina and Grafton, Ohio.

Farms Joining Football Loop

The deadline for the return cards to be mailed back has been set for the end of Summer Day Camp on July 26, at which time the child whose valloon floated the furthest, will receive a prize.

The representation of the Grosse Pointes in the All-America Little Football League will expand to three teams for the 1957 season when the newly formed Farms Packers join the veteran City Rams and the Park Lions.

The launching was in conjunction with the opening of the Geophysical Year and was directed by Pauline Masak the tireless camp director.

Fielding the Packers will be the Grosse Pointe Farms Little Footballers, Incorporated, who recently elected the following officers: president, Robert S. Black; vice-president, John L. Drummy; treasurer, Edward J. Schoenherr; secretary, Arthur L. Watts, Jr.

Summer Day Campers, ages 6 to 11, number 200, meet every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from June 24 through July 26, and are divided into four groups:—the Jupiter Jets, Venus Rockets, Mar Meteors and Saturn Comets. The activities include a hard and soft ball league, a Newcombe (volleyball) League, handicraft, scientific research, dramatics, choral singing, track events and dancing. The co-chairmen of committees listed will welcome volunteers to assist in the rather formidable task of launching this new football squad. If you have talents that are suited to work on any of these committees contact the following: field arrangements, W. J. MacLeod and P. B. Day; registrars, W. H. Schervish and W. Murnaw; financial, J. L. Drummy and E. J. Schoenherr; equipment, W. B. Briscoe and J. E. Coyle; publicity, P. H. Haller. Team physicians are J. E. Coyle, M. D. and M. W. Haisten, M.D.

Neighbor's Dog Nips Youngster

The Board of Health was notified or a dog bite in the Farms on July 5. Seventeen-month-old James Adams of 455 Moran, was nipped on his right cheek by a female Springer Spaniel owned by Robert L. Benkert of 452 Moran. Young James was crawling on his neighbor's front porch when the dog bit him. Mr. Benkert was asked to keep his dog under observation for the 10-day quarantine period. People find it very easy to keep in touch with society if they have money to lend.

LAWN MOWER STOLEN
Mrs. A. F. Wall of 1051 Devonshire complained to Park police on Tuesday, July 2, that some one broke into her garage during the night and stole a power lawn mower.

Hollywood Glamor Pleases Girls on Sampson Tours

By DEE DICKEY
Cries of "Now ride it all the way in," "Oh, it's huge!" "Watch out, here it comes!" fill the air as a big-crested wave thunders and boils down to a stop at Laguna Beach, California. We have now reached the Pacific Ocean.

Folks stop and stare, as they invariably do, anywhere the caravan goes, as the invasion of 76 water-hungry girls (and 16 hungry drivers) starts. Fresh salt water is quite an experience, and after taking a tumble or two in the breakers, most retire to work on their suntans. A few stay in, though, bound and determined to master the art of riding the waves.

The ocean wasn't the only attraction, because the city is also known as an artists' colony. Hundreds of little shops, filled with budding artists' work, line the streets. One will be filled with sculpture, another with oils, another with ceramics.

Our resting place at Laguna Beach was the lawn of the Festival of Arts. The second trip this summer will see this famous event. During our stay, the booths for the festival were being put up and painted, and a choir had started its rehearsals. At the Festival, famous works of art will be reproduced with live models. "The Lord of the Rings" is the most famous one, we are told.

Twenty-four hours were spent at Laguna, and then we were off, first for Disneyland, and then for Hollywood.

Disneyland is as magical as Cinderella's fairy godmother. Bright lights and gaily-colored settings create the moods of Fantasyland, Frontierland, Adventureland, and Tomorrowland. "Slue-Foot Sue," presides over the Golden Horseshoe Saloon (where only Pepsi is served). Sleeping Beauty lies peacefully, waiting for her lover, for all to see. Davy Crockett and Tom Sawyer live again in Frontierland (and Tom's Island is full of pirates).

We alternately took a trip to the moon, paddled canoes up rivers infested with Indians, travelled up a jungle river complete with alligators, rode mules through a western desert.

Turn kids of all ages loose in that setting for six hours and see what you end up with. Let's see, we had countless hats, balloons, huge suckers, postcards, bubble gum, bags of candy, and, incidentally, empty wallets. Man, those cars were stuffed that night (and not just with happy kids, either.) We had feasted also on southern-fried chicken at the Plantation Inn, a restaurant overlooking the Mississippi River.

After we had calmed down from Disneyland, one consuming desire inflamed us into near frenzy. Beds! Beds! Beds!

Only one more night of sleeping bags. Is it, can it really be true? I don't think any of us did much sleeping that night, just thinking what it would be like. So by the next day when we checked into the Hollywood Algers hotel with REAL beds in it; the first thing we did was to run to our rooms and go mad over those things with mattresses and springs. Beds, wow, real beds!

We were highly perceptive that day for some reason. That's how we discovered the large pool right outside our doors. Second reaction: pool, wow, real pool! Hey, wait a minute, don't go in with all your clothes on. Can't wait? Well—

As one by one we drifted back to our rooms after giving the hotel the once-over, we saw them through different eyes. There were other things in them besides beds. One room to every two girls, and they had bathroom facilities, another thing we stared dumbly at for a while, more than adequate furniture, and nice roomy closets. And what's more, there was a telephone, something most of us had gotten out of the habit of using. It didn't take long to get back.

By this time we were completely reacted out, so there was nothing to do but lovingly store our sleeping bags away in the closet, and settle down to enjoy a life of luxury and Chet's program of glamorous activities.

After changing into fancy clothes which had been mailed out to us, we started out that very day by taking a tour of MGM Studios. Bing Crosby had arranged a tour by both our group, and the one coming out later in the summer. The biggest sound stage in the world is there. They even build entire ranches inside these buildings. All the settings are made of a wood frame and plaster covering.

After seeing many of the indoor and outdoor sets for "The Brothers Karamazov" (to star Yul Brenner), and the "Rain-haven street scene for "Rain-tree Country" (to star Elizabeth Taylor and Monty Clift), you simply cannot distinguish between the real and the fake. Esther Williams' pool is there, and so is Mrs. Miniver's house, complete with river. In another lot, they have street settings from France, England, China, and the New York tenement district. In fact, we saw so many of the sets that are packed into the four lots of MGM, that it moved one of our drivers to composition. He said, "All these sets are like people—lots of false fronts." The old philosopher. Wonder what ailed him!

Our evenings provided a great variety of things to do: "The Drunkard" — an old-fashioned melodrammer where we hissed the villain; the Moulin Rouge featuring a show by Liberace; the Greek Theater, starring Judy Garland; Grauman's Chinese Theater, famous for its star-studded sidewalks, and any number of other shows. During our stay, most of us managed to take in at least two of them.

The next day was chock-full of things to do. We first went to CBS Television City, and there saw Art Linkletter's House Party where we were interviewed. (Were you watching, folks?) After a tour of the facilities, we next saw the Bob Crosby show, and again a nation-wide audience heard of Chet's famous tours. (Did you watch that, too?)

For lunch, we went out in style to the Bit of Sweden Restaurant, where we had as our guests for Smorgasbord, Jeff Hunter, Nancy Gates, and Bill Hayes. We had an informal interview with them after lunch. One question was: "Jeff, since you changed your name from Hank McKinnies to Jeff Hunter, what change could you suggest for a name like Baxter Melanger Hart Wrighton, III?" (One of our drivers). That stumped him.

After lunch, we took off for Gene Autry's ranch where the Wyatt Earp series is being shot. Gene's ranch sports a complete western town set with all the trimmings. Several scenes were shot while we were there, and in between takes, Hugh O'Brian talked to the group about the series and gave the background on what they were doing.

Like Jeff Hunter and the other personalities we met, Hugh O'Brian is an associate of Chet's in several of his Hollywood motion picture activities. We heard all about a Western film they plan to shoot in August. Maybe the next tour will get a part in the picture. Boys, start letting your hair grow long!

All the movie personalities the group met, showed themselves to be real, everyday people, the same as you'd find back home. Sort of renewed our faith in Hollywood.

The last full day in Hollywood started out wonderfully because we got to "sleep in." By this time, of course, we were used to beds again, and it sure felt good. Lunch at Farmer's Market proved to be one of the highlights of the trip.

The most unusual thing, however, was the string of restaurants down the middle of the market. A good many of them feature foods from different countries like Mexico, Italy, China, etc., while others sell salads, deserts, and beverages.

You pick up a tray and just follow your nose. Never mind if you end up with a combination of tamales, coke, chop suey, a small piece of pizza, Hawaiian pineapple salad, and blueberry pie to wash it all down. Ummm! Good! Ohhh, the stomach aches the next day.

Lunch was followed by a visit to 20th Century Fox Studios. (Probably the most colossal sets. Probably set up to influence

To Get College Credits by TV

A unique plan offering college credit courses on television will be detailed starting Sunday on a series of four-times-a-week radio broadcasts on three stations.

The plan starts at the University of Detroit in September. Students attend lectures in their homes via television, afterwards or evenings, then come to the campus weekly for quizzes, discussion, and counseling and exams.

The complete freshman curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences is offered in this series over WTVS, Channel 58, Detroit's educational television station.

It will be explained in detail on "This Is TV College!" the radio program to be broadcast at 9 p.m. Saturdays on WEXL; 11:45 a.m. Tuesdays on WJLB; and at 9:15 p.m. Sundays and 1 a.m. Wednesdays on WJBK. The radio programs will continue through the last week in August.

They will give academic and technical details of the TV courses; feature interviews with professors who will teach the courses, and samples of the classes themselves; and provide information on the general nature of education by television.

"This U. of D. credit TV plan is of immeasurable importance to the community," said Dale Stevenson, U. of D. staff member directing the program.

"Not only can it ease the strain that will be imposed, both financially and physically, when universities are faced with doubled enrollments in the near future; but it can provide evening students with more time for study."

Stevenson, U. of D. professor of radio and television, is a resident of Grosse Pointe.

BOY BITTEN BY DOG

The only animal bite reported in the City within the week took place in the driveway entrance to the Oren Scotten estate at 17500 E. Jefferson, on July 4.

Joseph G. Fluery of 13763 Hendrics in Detroit, was riding his bicycle on the driveway, when he was bitten on the right ankle by a German Shepherd owned by the Scottens.

The bite was treated at Cottage Hospital, and the dog was taken to a local veterinarian.

LITTLE LEAGUE

WOODS-SHORES

As the season gets closer to the end so does the race for top position. The Indianapolis and the Louisville teams are running one-two, with Toledo and St. Paul coming up fast. The star attraction of the week was the Louisville - Indianapolis game in which both managers, Egan and Tamblin used all the strategy they could muster. It was anybody's ball game right up to the last inning when Rusinow picked up a hot liner and calmly threw to his first baseman for the final out. Both teams were great on offense and defense. Kennedy looked like Hank Greenberg playing first base; Jerry Hancock tended right field and picked off flies that looked impossible, and Garry Kaiser at second robbed his opponents of one humdinger when he ran a city block to pull down a liner. Better baseball has never been played in the Little League than was played this day.

Charleston split with two wins in four tries this week behind some real nice pitching by Heidish, who had to get 11 strike-outs on his first try and ten on the second, to chalk up his first two wins. That's a lot of strike-outs in this league.

Toledo came up with three wins in as many tries behind Schneider, Moreau, and Ebbers. Schneider had to get 15 strike outs for his win, and Ebbers had to bat his own winning run in for his win.

St. Paul went down fighting this week—what we can't understand is how Keller can pitch such a wonderful ballgame as he did against Indianapolis and still lose it. Not only did he pitch with all he had, but he also snared all batted balls within 15 feet of the mound. Batted the ball real hard at the plate but there was always someone's glove right there waiting.

Omaha bounced back with two for four but had to go hard for all of them. Dietrich had to lay them on the line and get 11 strike-outs and two timely hits to make the win column. Both winning pitchers had some real good backing from their team-mates on the

GROSSE POINTE FARMS

The activity in the American Division of the Farms Little League started last week with a boom when the Tigers humiliated the Indians by a score of 7 to 2.

Brydges of the Tigers struck out only five batters and walked nine, but brilliant fielding by his teammates kept him out of trouble. Conversely, DePlace of the Indians struck out 10, but five walks in the second inning coupled with two errors allowed all seven runs to score. Lawitzke and Kolojeski of the Tigers teamed up for two double plays.

The Tigers again showed their independent spirit on July 4 by combining Firth's excellent pitching with a good batting attack to overwhelm the Red Sox 8 to 1. Another display of superior fielding by the Tigers was seen.

The Indians and Yankees went eight innings in their half of the double header when two solid hits by Handlos and Randall sewed up the game for the Yankees.

It was evident in this game that the Indian hitting is continuing to fall off (shades of former sluggers), but also evident that the Yankees' Tom Carl, has developed into a fine pitcher.

The final score was Yankees 5, Indians 3.

Over in the National League on Monday the Giants clobbered the Reds 9 to 1 with heavy hitting by Hiener and Blackburn combined with Moxley's perfect day at the plate. Spalding's fine play for the Reds couldn't stave off this defeat.

The next night the Pirates came to life and cashed in on the Phillies' mistakes to dig out a victory, 6 to 1. Rentenbach was the winning pitcher.

On July 4 the Phillies bounced back into the win column behind Maertens' fine pitching. He struck down 14 of the Reds on mikes and allowed them only two hits. The score was Phillies 11; Reds 2.

A sizzling pace still continues in the City Little League. The Cards are still continuing their winning ways and have jumped from last place to a tie for second with the Braves.

The Braves caught up to the league-leading Cubs and were tied for first, but the Braves could not hang on and dropped down to second. None of the coaches are making any serious predictions in this very tight race.

Only July 1, the Braves started the fireworks early in their game with the Dodgers. For the past two weeks the Braves and the Dodgers were tied for second and this was the big game.

Haller took the mound for the Braves to oppose Morrison of the Dodgers. Haller was throwing a sizzling fast ball from the first inning to the sixth. The Dodgers just could not get close to the ball. In the six innings, 21 men faced Haller and he struck out 13 Dodgers. Only three men walked and it was as close to a perfectly pitched game as one will see for a long time. Haller was as fresh on his last pitch as he was on his first one.

At the plate, Haller led his team-mates with a single his first time at bat and his team backed him with 13 runs. Two Dodgers scored but Haller had a NO-HITTER to his credit.

Final Score:
Dodgers 13
Braves 2

On July 2, the Cards took on the league-leading Cubs. A fierce pitchers' duel immediately developed between Sachs of the Cubs and Schmatz of the Cards. Sachs gave up three hits

Two Regattas Over Holiday Keep Skippers Plenty Busy

Two regattas over the long Fourth of July weekend kept local sailors plenty busy and probably some of them lost many honor points with the little woman for staying away from home so long.

Windmill Pointe Y. C. held its third annual regatta on the Fourth with 143 boats hitting the starting line under sunny skies and light air. But before most of the fleet got back to the finish line in front of the host club downriver Mother Nature whistled up ominous storm clouds and an increasing 20-25 southwesterly wind that forced some of the smaller craft to lower their mainsails to keep from capsizing.

Little Club Regatta
Grosse Pointe (Little) Club held its regatta two days later, Saturday, July 6, in a strong westerly that sent the fleet of 132 boats dancing around the DRYA triangular courses in jig time.

The start of the Grosse Pointe Club regatta was postponed a half hour and it wasn't until that night at the dandy party at the club that the sailors discovered the reason when race chairmen Bobby Ford and Pete Stroh explained.

They called for the postponement to allow Dave Sloss to get to the starting line after his "Kathmar III" had become involved in an accident with a fishing boat that ran across his boat without warning. Neither fisherman was injured but were visibly shaking from their unexpected swim. As it was Sloss was about ten minutes late for his start in Cruising A division. But the race committee feared a storm was brewing and couldn't delay any longer for fear of endangering the rest of the fleet with a squall that was threatening but never hit.

Some new faces were seen in the winners' circle. For example Susie Fisher's Pilot sloop "Old Rarity" which not only topped the red hot Cruising C division but won overall honors in the Windmill Pointe Y. C. regatta. Then there was Bobby Ford's "Fleetwood", which won Cruising B honors beating Hank Burkard's "Meteor III" by 56 seconds. Llywd Ecclestone's "Bikini" with her new mast-head rig finally got her feet on the ground and placed third.

Hard Work Pays Off
It certainly is nice to see "Bikini" placing in the money and it proves that hard work pays off. Young Llywd and his crew have been working all winter and spring re-rigging the yacht. When she first came here she was supposed to be a world beater but never quite made it. Now it appears she is on her way.

Andy Langhammer's "Rambler X" crew figured they had a sure first place in the schooner-ketch class when they did not see Bob Neesley's schooner "Malabar VI" at the starting line. But their dreams went down the well when Judge Art Sempliner brought out his ketch "Great Bear" to win the prize in that class on corrected time.

Toot Gmeiner had been looking for a first place in Cruising A ever since the start of the season, but each time ran into a hole and finished out of the money. Not so was the case in the Grosse Pointe (Little) Club regatta. "Apache" came from behind on the last leg in a good buck to weather to take the prize in that class for the first time this year.

Oscar Carlson Wins
Oscar Carlson enlisted the aid of a couple "OLD C" boaters, Joe Matte III and Nils Jorgenson, to win his first race in the Privateer class since buying "Spindrift". These two OLD sailors were in virtual retirement and resting on their past laurels, but came out just once more to try their hand at this game of boating.

They did a terrific job in showing the regular Privateer skippers a thing or two about sailing small boats. Hopes that Matte and Jorgo will come out to play again were exploded when both went back into retirement immediately after the race. Could it be they figure they should quit while they are ahead?

Winners of the Windmill Pointe Y. C. Regatta are as follows:
CRUISING A — "Tigris", Frank White; "Last Straw", Baker - Clements; "Tamara", May-Donlon; "Falcon", clare Jacobs; "Merry Maiden", Wilfred McGuire; "Nordic", Arvid Lundell.

CRUISING B — "Fleetwood", Bob Ford; "Bikini", Llywd Ecclestone; "Spray", Bill Maul; "Tzigane", Al Wilson.

CRUISING C — "Old Rarity", Susie Fisher; "Dauntless", Tom

field and at the plate. Bob Anderson, Minneapolis hurler, does a real nice job on the mound but can't overcome the errors behind him.

Denver didn't fare so well, dropping all three games, but not because they weren't in there fighting. They just didn't get the hits at the right time. In the three games, pitchers Jerger and Christenson only allowed their opponents a total of 28 runs. Denver hit real good and looked good on the field but not at the right time.

Baseball, the national pastime, is never played with greater enthusiasm nor more from the heart than when played in Little League. In Little League anything can happen and usually does, where a dribble down the first base line can mean a three-bagger or a hot liner can be a double-play, where an easy outfield fly is played the hard way—the on the hop. It's all from the heart though, every out, every run and every hit of every inning.

Twice each week, 540 boys, from the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Little League march out to the diamonds and give their all for six innings. Behind the youngsters are the managers and coaches who give freely of their time to help build the boys into better men. The star attraction and a good example of the fine spirit displayed was the game played this week between the American Association's Louisville and Indianapolis clubs. This was a game to decide first place as both teams having played and won the same amount of games. Manager Jack Tamblin played more baseball and worked harder from the bench than anyone of the boys on the team.

He used strategy that even Casey Stengel hasn't thought of yet, but to no avail, as his team went down to defeat 10 to 7. Manager Leo Egan sent in, his ace hurler, Tom Rusinow, a four foot, nine-year-old dynamo, who kept the Indianapolis team handcuffed in all but two innings, when two hits and a couple of errors allowed the winning runs to score.

Not unusual, there were tears at the game, the Louisville first baseman missed an easy chance and burst into tears because he thought he had his team-mates down, likewise, the little lad sent up to pinch hit in the final inning, rolled an easy one Moral: It doesn't cost a penny more . . . put your money on tomorrow!

Poor Sam! The same money he invested in an outmoded car could have put him in the driver's seat of a really-new Swept-Wing Dodge. For the same money he could have enjoyed such advances as Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes—to say nothing of that dashing-low style. CITY (Minors) The Giants of Grosse Pointe City's Little League Minors won both of their games last week to retain a commanding lead in the standings.

The only hit off Giant pitching was a single by Jimmy Greene. Final scores were: Giants 6, Senators 1; Giants 16, Phillies 0.

On Saturday, July 6, the Senators won a 7-inning game from the Grosse Pointers, 11-4. Senator pitchers Both, Crane and Miller gave up hits to Johnson, Beltz, McMillan, Dobbins and Wilson of the Grosse Pointers, with Grissman and Klodt getting two hits each from Grosse Pointer pitchers Beltz, McMillan, Wilson, Dowdy and Sturdevant. Schurr of the Senators starred with a home run.

Big Storm Proves Wisdom Of Building New Sewers

The vast amount of money the Pointe communities have expended in the past three years to improve storm relief sewers and pumping stations, proved funds well spent, according to reports from the various city halls.

During the deluge which poured down on the Detroit area on Monday, July 8, home basements and streets in Detroit and many of its suburbs were flooded several feet deep. Traffic was snarled, and in some places, cars were completely covered by water, caused by the worst rain flood on record.

The Pointe, however, took the rainfall, officially recorded at 2.25 inches, in stride. Where basement floodings occurred, the trouble was found to be local.

The Park reported that a number of calls were received from residents complaining of flooded basements, but investigations proved them to be local.

Only three street intersections in the Park were said to have been flooded, due to debris-covered catch basins.

Only six or eight calls came into the City's office concerning flooded basements, and these too, proved local. Several streets were flooded up to the curb, but the water receded rapidly when the storm ended.

The Farms office said got a single call was received complaining of water in the basement. A few streets were flooded, but this was blamed on the debris which covered catch basins.

The new sewer system installed by the Shores and recently completed, proved its worth. No flooding of any kind was reported.

Two flooded basement reports were received in the Woods, both attributed to local trouble.

Streets were flooded, but this was deliberately done by checks placed on street catch basins to retard water recession and thus prevent water pouring into basements.

The Woods' pumping stations of water into the Milk River, causing the banks of the stream, but the objective, to prevent water entering basements, was accomplished.

The Woods' neighbors, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores were plagued with hundreds of calls from their citizens complaining of water in their basements up to several feet deep.

Accident Blamed On Wet Brakes

The heavy rains of Monday morning did relatively little damage in the Pointe, although one traffic accident in the Farms can be directly attributed to the storm.

Josephine Howard of 1351 Fairholme, drove her 1951 Chevrolet into the path of a 1955 Chrysler owned and operated by Peter LeFleur of 20 S. Edgewood. Miss Howard was driving east on Beaupre and her brakes failed as she approached the intersection at Moross. The car continued into Moross where it was struck in the right side by LaFleur's Chrysler.

The police report stated the brakes were soaked and this accounted for their failing to operate. They warn motorists to test their brakes after driving through deep puddles.

Estimated damage was $200 to each car.

LaFave Hurls No-Hit Opener

The Pointers, composed of 13 and 14-year-old boys from Grosse Pointe Farms, got off to a great start in the Class B baseball league at Balduck Park last Friday, July 5, when Marty LaFave hurled a no-hitter to beat the Rookies team, 10-2.

LaFave's no-hitter was saved in the first inning by a spectacular catch by right fielder Ted Trefzer after a long run to rob

Jim Fox of a sure hit. For the rest of the seven inning game LaFave's teammates backed him up with air-tight fielding to give him his no-hitter in his first start of the season.
 In addition to LaFave's exceptional hurling he also paced the Pointer's thirteen-hit attack with a home run and a single. John Butler blasted three consecutive singles and Ron Kasperek belted a double and triple which accounted for four runs.
 LaFave tired near the end of the game and was plagued by wildness, which cost him a shut-out.

Oldsters Set For Ball Game

All-star teams made up of managers, coaches, and directors of the Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe will meet in their second annual game Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Neighborhood Field.
 One team will represent the National Division from the City and Park, and the other team represents the American Division from Grosse Pointe Farms.

The American Division, is predicted.
 The Little Bucket rests in the trophy case at the Neighborhood Club and the National Leaguers have been setting up a strong squad to assure their Division's name being placed on the cup for 1957.
 The regularly scheduled games of the League for Sunday, July 14, will start at 1:30 p.m. instead of 2 o'clock.

Elaine Craig Kihen, daughter of the Edward F. Kihens, of Kensington road, spoke her marriage vows Saturday afternoon in Christ Church to John Cousins Calvin, son of the Benjamin W. Calvins, of Bay City.

For her wedding the bride wore a white silk taffeta gown fashioned with a sabrina neckline accented with imported Chantilly lace with more of the lace repeated in a wide band on the bouffant skirt which deepened into a chapel train.

A small cap of seed pearls and lace held her short French illusion veil. She wore lace mitts and carried stephanotis, white orchids and ivy.

Joan Merrill was maid of honor and the other attendants were Mrs. Fred Hertel, Mrs. Benjamin W. Calvin, Jr., of Bay City; Mrs. Warren W. Johnson, the bridegroom's sister, of Kalamazoo, and Mrs. Clayton C. Purdy.

They were gowned in white taffeta ballerina frocks accented with violet draped cummerbunds forming a slight bustle. The maid of honor carried white and deep purple delphinium bouquets and the attendants' bouquets were of the purple fleur-de-lis.

The best man was Ben W. Calvin, Jr., of Bay City, the bridegroom's brother. The ushers were Boyd N. Shertzer, Jr., of Ann Arbor; Alan Ruterbusch, of Bay City; Roy Schiller of Bay City, and Warren W. Johnson, of Kalamazoo.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Detroit Boat Club Mrs. Kihen chose a dusty pink silk crepe sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Calvin was beige and both mothers wore orchids.

When the newlyweds left for Bermuda the bride was wearing a black cotton princess dress with Eton jacket and white accessories. They will live in Bay City.

Naval Ordnance Laboratory scientists at Silver Springs, Md., are developing an instrument called the "Derry," a more accurate thermostat than those now used to regulate home heating plants. The heat of a match 10 feet away will make the sensitive electro-chemical instrument work.

Last week we told you about our "Mrs. S." and how she had been in already to buy the best on her own sweet (and clever) shopping schedule. Our July Sale had been going on then only three days, but "Mrs. Sales" had been in on THE VERY FIRST DAY and had found everything she was hoping to find very quickly. Most of it has been delivered to her by this time, but "Mrs. S." is an old hand at our sales and she's back today to pick up a few more things and have a fitting on the suit she chose. FURTHERMORE she just happened to take the time last week to pick out something special for her daughter-in-law's birthday and to glance over the sale things in her daughter's size. As a result of this foresight "Mrs. Sales" will have an opportunity to discover whether that print gown she looked at last week and didn't take might still be available! "Mrs. Sales" has the most brilliant philosophy about sales. She says, "Generally speaking, the smartest possible time to go to a good sale is at the beginning. On the other hand there can be advantages to going the second week. Then too, if you'll wait just a little longer you might find more! Oh! The BEST way is to go EVERY week. Can't tell what you'll find!"

As we said last week, "Mrs. Sales" is one of the smartest women we know, and apparently it runs in the family!

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Washington they will make their home in South Carolina where the bridegroom is stationed with the Air Force.

IN DOUBLE TROUBLE

D. B. Starnes of 22614 Ridgeway, St. Clair Shores, found himself in double trouble on Sunday, June 30. He was arrested by Woods police for a traffic violation while driving on Mack avenue. A check of his record showed he was wanted by Shores police who have a warrant for his arrest for a traffic violation in that community. He posted a $25 bond with Shores authorities and will appear in court on August 19.

It's next to impossible to make any headway against a man who claims to know it all.

Y to Sponsor Stratford Trip

A trip to Stratford, Ontario, to see a matinee performance of "Twelfth Night" presented by the Stratford Shakespearean Festival, will be sponsored by the YWCA Saturday, July 20.

"Twelfth Night," being presented in a beautiful new theatre, is the second production of this summer's Festival and has been described by drama critics as being "superbly done." The YWCA group will leave Central Branch YW, 2230 Withereil St. at Montclair, by chartered bus at 7:30 a.m. July 20. Members of the group will take box lunches and will have dinner in Stratford before returning to Detroit by approximately 11 p.m.

Cost of the trip is $9.25, which includes both transportation and a $2.50 theatre ticket.

Headline for reservations is July 15, Miss McCall said. Reservations may be made by calling the Adult Activities Dept., Central Branch YW, WO 1-9220.

Jenkins-McKibbin Vows Solemnized

Newlyweds Travel to New York After Marriage in St. Philomena Church and Reception at Hawthorne House; to Make Home in Lansing in Fall

A wedding trip to New York followed the recent marriage of Mary Lou McKibbin and Edward W. Jenkins in St. Philomena's Church.

The bride, daughter of the James M. McKibbins, of Fisher road, wore a white embroidered organdy gown, ballerina length, and a flowered cap held her short veil. She carried staphanoids and ivy.

Margaret Ann McKibbin was her sister's maid of honor in a light blue organdy gown and she carried small pink roses and white carnations.

Mr. Jenkins asked his brother, Daniel Jenkins, to be best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jenkins, of Williamsville, N. Y.

Ushering were Wilfred Ross and Clarence W. Jenkins.

For her daughter's wedding and the breakfast reception at the Hawthorne House Mrs. McKibbin chose a mocha silk sheath. Mrs. Jenkins was in orchid silk with pink accessories.

The couple left on a wedding trip to New York and will make their home in Buffalo until fall when the bridegroom will return to Michigan State University to complete his studies.

There are too many people in this busy world who have a continual open season devoted to killing time.

Charred Toast Good Antidote

Charred toast is a highly effective antidote against common household poisonings, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

Because of the increased use of chemical preparations in the home, accidental home poisonings are on the increase, the department said. Last year 27 Michigan persons died in accidental home poisonings. The department said each home should be equipped with emergency antidotes.

The charred toast antidote can be prepared by burning a piece of toast, crumbling it into a juice glass or glass jar, and storing in the kitchen or bathroom. When needed, the charred crumbs can be mixed with water or milk.

An antidote of this type could save a life or prevent serious injury by being administered while the doctor is being called. It also can be used when the exact nature of the poison swallowed is unknown.

To reduce accidental poisonings in the home, the state health department recommended:

- 1—Keep all drugs, poisons and other household chemicals out of the reach of children and away from food. Lock up flavored aspirin and other preparations which children might mistake for candy.
- 2—Read all labels and follow the instructions carefully.
- 3—Don't contaminate food or food utensils when using insect sprays, aerosol mists, weed killers, rat poisons, or cleaning agents.
- 4—Don't store poisonous substances in food or beverage containers.
- 5—Don't take or give medicines in the dark.
- 6—Date all drug supplies when you buy them and discard when outdated.

Take a five or ten minute break from farm work between 10 and 11 a.m. and about 2 or 2:30 in the afternoon. Chances for accidents resulting from fatigue or boredom are highest at these times.

Mrs. Edward W. Jenkins

At a recent ceremony in St. Philomena's Church, MARY LOU MCKIBBIN, daughter of the James M. McKibbins, of Fisher road, was married to Mr. Jenkins, son of the A. E. Jenkinses, of Williamsville, N. Y.

John A. Bernard Takes Training at Fort Riley

FORT RILEY, Kan. (AHTNC) John A. Bernard, son of Walter V. Bernard, 1383 Devonshire, Grosse Pointe, Mich., is receiving six weeks of ROTC summer training at Fort Riley, Kan., with members of the University of Notre Dame, cadet program.

Cadet Bernard, an accounting major at the university, is scheduled to complete the training August 3. He was graduated from the University of Detroit High School in 1954.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Spring and summer rains create a problem in cleaning when mud splashes and stains clothing. Here are suggestions from the textile specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture on removing the mudstains from clothing. Brush off all loose dry mud first. Then rinse the mud-stained fabric several times in cold water to take out all particles of soil lodged in the yarns. Don't plunge mud-stained fabrics into hot soapsuds because some red and yellow dyes make a stain like ironrust that may be set by hot soapsuds. When no more mud can be rinsed out in cool water, wash in warm soapsuds, using several washings if necessary.

Betrothal Told

The engagement of INGER ANNE WOLD, daughter of Mrs. Brynhild Wold, of 16935 Village lane, and Mr. O. Wold, Peru, Ind., has been announced to Burton T. Spurrier, son of Dr. and Mrs. Eitelbert Spurrier, of Kenwood court.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Indiana University where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Spurrier is an alumnus of Michigan State College where he belonged to Beta Theta Pi fraternity. The couple plan a late summer wedding and will make their home in Toledo, Ohio.

Over 900 Taking Summer Study

Over 900 students are taking work at Grosse Pointe High School this summer, it was disclosed by Walter R. Clemenson, principal. There are 631 enrolled in the regular six weeks program, grades 7-12, in courses in English, Mathematics, Social Studies, and Typing.

Of these 631 students, 62 are also signed up for Driver Training this summer. The total number of students enrolled for Driver Training is 334. In main, they are from parochial and private schools.

The Driver Training program is made up of three classroom sessions—June 17-July 5, July 8-July 26, and July 29-August 16. There are four two-hour classes daily, the first beginning at 8:00 a.m. and the last finishing at 5:30 p.m. In addition to the thirty hours of class room instruction, each student receives eight and one-half hours of behind-the-wheel instruction.

Eighteen teachers are assigned to the regular six weeks academic session. In the Driver Training program there are three instructors. All twenty-one teachers are regular staff members of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Donald R. Campbell, assistant principal of Grosse Pointe High School, announces that he may have a few openings for Driver Training due to enrollment cancellations for the third room session, July 29-August 16.

Will Bear Down On Fast Drivers

Detroit traffic safety authorities this week directed their efforts to the prevention of accidents caused by speeding drivers.

Deputy Superintendent Miles Furlong, of the Detroit Police Department, directed all officers to be alert for the speeders. He pointed out that police records show that too much speed is the cause of one-third of the fatal accidents where drivers are at fault.

The Traffic Safety Association prepared 1,300 posters for placement in the Detroit area this week, carrying the caption "Are You Driving Too Fast?" In addition to the 1,300 used in Detroit and the Metropolitan area, another 1,200 are being erected in outstate communities and on state highways.

Deputy Superintendent Furlong said that, while records show speeding to be the cause in one-third of fatalities where drivers are at fault, some veteran police officers believe the percentage is much higher. Everyone agrees, he said, that speed increases the severity of any accident.

A recent National Safety Council survey taken of holiday and vacation highway traffic accidents supports this. The NSC survey showed that speed was a factor in 71 percent of the accidents over a recent holiday.

The Traffic Safety Association pointed out that the speed limit in Detroit was 25 miles per hour unless otherwise posted. The highway limit is 65 during the day and 55 at night.

Goodwill Needs Your Discards

Every summer the majority of adults discover they have put on a little more weight here and there during the winter months. Parents discover their children have far outgrown last year's summer clothes. Children grow up.

All this tends to make us a little sad, yet a little glad. One of the problems it brings is the necessity that new clothes have to be purchased in spite of the fact that last year's attire is in good condition or could be in good condition with a little fixing.

Goodwill Industries has a solution that will lift your spirits, help handicapped people and help others who need larger sizes in clothing, but find it difficult to pay the top dollar.

Outgrown clothing or repairable clothing is renovated by handicapped people at Goodwill and then placed on sale at moderate prices in seven retail stores. The clothes are completely repaired, cleaned and pressed and placed in nearly new condition.

Goodwill points out that the contributor helps in three ways without costing the person time or money. First, he receives a moral uplift in the knowledge that he has helped his neighbor, one less fortunate than himself; second, over 450 handicapped persons are kept working at self-supporting jobs; third, those who would go without, if it weren't for Goodwill's moderate prices, can buy and have a happy summer.

An old fashioned insane asylum, straight from the pages of Dickens with iron barred windows and chains, a real snake pit, was once neighbor to the Pointe's first Country Club.

The Bell Sanatorium, or Lakeland Hospital, was a little west of the club which was then located on the Dodge property near Memorial Church. The hospital, operating in the early 1900's, stood at the foot of Lakeland Avenue and the lake. It was a red two story building with a wide veranda across the south and west sides. Two modest signs announced its name.

Beyond the neat clean reception rooms lay all the horrors associated with former mental institutions. Starvation, abuse, isolation, filth, these were the daily fare of the patients according to reports in the old Detroit Journal.

Dr. Samuel Bell, although rarely in residence, ran the hospital and accepted patients for $50 a month. Frightening rumors were accentuated by reports of exciting escapes from the hospital.

William Powers Griffith ran all the way to Mt. Clemens in the dead of winter and refused to return, claiming the hospital help had stolen his savings of $1,800.

One young woman ran away and was brought back under protest. Later she was discharged as cured and was married. The next summer she drowned herself in Lake Albion.

Most prominent case to focus the public's attention on the Lakeland Hospital was the death of William Zillman. He hung himself in the cellar of the building. Dr. Bell said on the death certificate he died of melancholia, which was difficult for the county physician to accept.

The Journal quotes this report from a woman who kept a bake shop and cigar store within a few feet of the hospital.

"I saw the Saxe boy when he ran away. Mr. Fisher, agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., of Detroit, was in my store when the boy came down the road. He tried to get Mr. Fisher to let him ride to the city in his buggy. Then he ran over to Mrs. Hunter's summer house, and hid beneath the steps, frightening Mrs. Hunter. Dr. Mogk came running after him and caught him."

Of this poor patient another young man in the hospital said: "Glenard Saxe? Why yes, he used to be punched all over. Someone used to pull his hair, and I frequently heard him cry when he was punished."

Such odium attached to the Bell hospital it was finally sold to a road house proprietor and then was torn down when the era of the gaudy pleasure palaces passed.

who, where and whatnot

When Hans Becherer, who is making the Grand Tour of the Continent, arrived in Paris for the christening of his new nephew, Thomas Chartier, he brought a traditional gift for such French ceremonies all the way from the Pointe.

Comtesse de Rostang had given Hans an antique box of the First Empire period. The star shaped, glass studded container holds pastel colored candy coated almonds, traditional confection at French christenings.

Sunny skies blessed the tenth wedding anniversary of the Henry Kleins last week when they marked the event with a lovely garden party at their Touraine road home.

Hostess Mrs. K. was radiant in white chiffon beaded in silver and proudly displaying her anniversary gift, a solid gold charm bracelet dangling a baby carriage, (the latest of the quintet of Klein daughters was born this past year), and a replica of their cottage in Kingsville, Ont., encribed minutely with "God Bless Our Home."

Tables with hurricane lamps dotted the lawn and there was dancing to the trio of strolling players with Mrs. K. leading some intricate harmony in her inimitable way. Mrs. Louis Asmus was a vision in a white silk, printed with javish aqua and royal blue flowers and accented with a cummerbund. Tithian haired Mrs. Ralph Fisher topped her tangerine silk sheath with a pale blue jacket cuffed regally in white fox.

At Independence Day doings for the tots at Lochmoor Club, scores of gold fish were dumped into the baby pool and the youngsters had a whirl diving for the wiggly marine life.

Somewhat embarrassed was a local matron, not too handy with her needle, when a neighbor arrived to borrow a cup of flour and found her husband stitching away at a slipcover. His wife found the sewing beyond her and was about to hire the work done at a fee which astounded this provider. He whipped up a stunning cover, too, with very tiny, neat stitches, and his mate will never hear the last of this feat, we wager.

Jack Barlow, who for some years has been an advertising man, modestly admitted to friends gathered about the portable the other day and bewailing the fate of the Tigers, that he had had his fling at professional baseball as a catcher. He reached the Triple A League and played in the Tiger farm system before enlisting as a pilot in the RCAF in World War II. Played with Freddie Hutchinson and many of today's major leaguers.

PILFERINGS

"I figure there are more good people in the world than bad ones. I don't mind if a gent scratches a match on my furniture so long as he's careful to go with the grain." ... Eddie Cantor.

In Chicago, a determined old dowager sailed into the Carson, Pirie and Scott book department and demanded a complete set of Dickens and a complete set of Scott. "I don't care about the bindings and I don't care about the price; just find me the cheapest sets you can," she told the astonished clerk. "You see, I have to have them. I've left them to my grandchild in my will."

Here is some dialogue between a father and son while sightseeing in Washington:

"That man, son? He's Chaplain of the Senate."

"Does he pray for the members, dad?"

"No, son. He looks at the members and prays for the country."

You can't have your cake and somebody else's cookie, too.

PENNY LONDES OF HARCOURT ROAD

by Patricia Talbot

A well rounded education is what every mother wants for her daughter and this nineteen year old miss has just that. Not only has she had an extensive academic career but she has followed her studious bent around the world.

Penny is the youngest of five daughters and when she was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School three years ago she hadn't decided what her life's work would be. Her father, Nick Londes, the sports car dealer that travel was the ticket for Penny. After a short stint selling at the Clothesline, she flew off to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. James Marshall, who were living in England.

First Stop Cambridge Dr. Marshall was on duty as an Air Force medic in Cambridge and Penny took to University life like a Phi Beta Kappa. She arrived in March and attended summer classes at this traditional seat of British learning. Penny fell in love with England and admits she would leave for her dream country tomorrow and live there contently.

She journeyed throughout the island and attended the music festival in Edinburgh that summer. Late in August her mother came over and escorted her to France, mostly through art museums, as this is the young lady's chief interest.

Penny's father emigrated from Greece when he was a teen-ager and he was most anxious for his daughter to study in Athens and meet his family. So in September, she enrolled in the American College in the city of ancient culture.

Athens Was Strict An all-American girl, Penny was in for a big surprise as the only American born boarder in a girl's school with 75 residents and over 400 day students. She studied Greek, of course, which she admits is quite a puzzle. But the big surprise was the strict supervision she found behind the high walls of the school, which corresponded academically, and in no other way, to a junior college in the USA.

After she had been there a few months the trouble over Cyprus came to a head and feeling was intense. She was not allowed out of the school as there were riots and demonstrations by university students in the streets. Anyone as pro-British as Penny, felt out of sympathy with the political situation and she soon flew off to England again.

There were tours of the Aegean islands, Turkey, Italy and the European capitals with her parents and then back to Athens and more school. She spent quite a time at the Louvre in Paris, but she says her impression is mostly of her severe headache because you can't cram six months of viewing masterpieces in a few afternoons, and she tried.

Pastry and Footwear In Athens she enjoyed meeting the girls from the Greek provinces. She learned a great deal about Greece from them. Every other store in the city seemed to be a pastry shop or a shoemaker. She gained 15 pounds on the delectables and bought pointed shoes two years ahead of the styles here.

Greece is a poor country, not commercialized for tourists as its more wealthy neighbors, Italy and France. That great antiquity, the Acropolis, is free most days to the viewer. On the week-ends and holidays it costs 2 dracmas to see the Acropolis; that's about 2 cents in American money. But Penny says the best time to wander about in the ancient ruin is about five in the morning.

An American Co-ed When she returned last year from Athens she enrolled in the University of Michigan summer school and was glad to enjoy the privileges of an American co-ed. This fall she will be continuing as an art education major at Eastern Michigan College where she is a Tri Sigma.

Back from a short jaunt to New York she is anticipating a trip to Quebec with her mother, to soak up some French Canadian culture, for Mrs. Londes, in this internationally-minded family, is a Montreal girl. Penny may return to Athens in August with her father for a flying visit.

She is hesitating about making the trip and admits that if London were the landing spot she'd be off in a minute. An experienced traveller by this time, she knows how to pack all those nylons for flying luggage requirements, but insists this takes some doing when it's 120 degrees in Athens in the summer and 40 degrees in merry old England.

After Penny completes her studies as an art major she would like to work at commercial art, but if her father suggests a few months of graduate work at a university abroad, you can bet this young lady would pack up immediately to continue her campus 'round the world career.

Park's Tennis Tournay Delayed The Grosse Pointe Park postponed annual tennis tournament, originally scheduled for Saturday, July 6, has been rescheduled for Saturday, July 20.

The reason for the postponement was due to the construction of the new courts which delayed the start of tennis at the park this summer. Entry blanks may be obtained at the Park beach gate and deadline for filing entries has been set for Thursday, July 18.

There will be competition in Men's singles and doubles; Women's singles; mixed doubles; Junior boys' and girls' under-18 singles. Entry fee is 35 cents. The annual swimming meet has been set for Sunday, August 4. Entry blanks may be obtained at the gate of the Park.

BUM STEER Very often the man who sets the pace is found to be traveling in the wrong direction.

Hogs are moving to market earlier in the summer months than they were five years ago. Farmers have been aiming for the high price point that was formerly in August. The summer high is now in June.

Take Out Food Service Growing

The take-out food department of the Village Manor restaurant, 685 St. Clair avenue, in the Village is the subject of a three-page feature story in the July issue of "Institution." This national magazine is of the "Ladies Home Journal" size, and is devoted to the restaurant, hotel and institution fields.

The article is accompanied by seven photographs depicting the different handling stages from preparing the food through to delivery and ranging from snacks to complete dinners.

Growth of the restaurant's take-out food service through the years is pointed up by the magazine. It also treats, with the innovations the Richard Lehmans, the owners of their restaurant, have put into practice in developing the service here in Grosse Pointe where many garden, and patio events as well as dinners and teas call for the serving of food.

Pointe Counter Points

BY PAT ROUSSEAU

Cooler than a cucumber... lighter than air are the handsome, white batiste madras shirts at Proper's. Tissue-weight Oxford cloth, also shares honors in a man's summer wardrobe. Sheer... but not transparent... perfectly poised and contrived for maximum comfort. Choose regular or button down collar... short or long sleeves... about six dollars.

"Come and Get It"... It's all there... atop the beach hat of the same name. A real can opener surrounded by make-believe fried eggs, hot dogs, a pretzel and a little dinner bell to summon the gay gourmet... all this whimsy for about twelve dollars. "Pour le Sport" is nicely nautical. This cool green straw... fish netted and coral scattered is the perfect foil for the bottled ship... sophisticated sea fare... at ten dollars. Stumbled on what could be the beauty scoop of the year. Promised not to release it yet. It's a NEW technique, now in use at Marie Bird's Salon... on the Hill. It would really take an entire column to tell the complete story. Very specialized and individual, it's a short cut to new beauty for naturally curly hair. Call Marie Bird... TUxedo 1-6833 for an appointment. This may be just right for you.

On the ball with black! The little black dress is BIG in the fashion picture this year be it crepe or cotton... flowing skirted or a sheath. Every woman loves a sale. Yesterday, I discovered some very special purchases on seasonal wear... with as much as fifty per cent reduction on some items at Higgins and Frank, the mens' store, where women shop for men. Here's a good chance to round out this summer wardrobe at a savings.
