In the mothers race only four were willing to admit to being over 30 and Mary Hicks got the judge's nod. A spectacular underwater exhibition by the world famous Japanese breath control artist, Furihisi Denio, thrilled the crowd by swimming underwater for five minutes without coming to the surface. Arrangements have been completed to have him give a repeat performance at the August 10 meet.

Theater Group Makes Awards

Awards were presented by Grosse Pointe Community Theater for the best work in acting, direction and production during the past year, at a dinner-dance held at Lakepointe Country Club on the evening of Saturday, July 27.

Grosse Pointers Marcia Songe, for her performance in "Anastasia," William Mehegan for his performance in "Born Yesterday," and Mrs. George Tait Hall, for her direction of the same play, received Clarendons. A Clarence is a glittering gold-covered statuette, about 13 inches high, a little man in harlequin costume—mask and ruffled collar and all—symbolizing the long descent of the acting art and the history of the theater. They are awarded for the most memorable performances by an actress and actor in a leading role and for the best directing; in short, the GPCT equivalent of Hollywood's Oscars.

They are so called because Booth Tarkington's "Clarence" was the first play presented by the theater, back in 1948. The statuette was designed and executed by Mrs. Clifford V. Dulan of St. Clair Shores, especially for the Grosse Pointe group, after much research. The best actress and actor in supporting roles, and production personnel, received scrolls hand-engraved in gold and colors by Audrey LaRouche. All awards were given by vote of the theater members. Grosse Pointers receiving scrolls were: Supporting actress: Mady Correll for the dowager empress in "Anastasia" (professional, now at WillowWay). Supporting actor: Dean Erskine for Linus Sr. in "Sabrina Fair". Produced: Mrs. Ernest Kratzet, "Ten Little Indians." Stage manager: Mrs. James A. Scharder for "Stalag 17." Lights: John Butterfield, Sabrina Fair. Set design: Thomas Stein, "Stalag 17." Workshop: Mrs. George Tait Hall, "Elizabeth and Essex." Also receiving scrolls were Mrs. Richard B. Roney, Ronald Johnson, Mrs. Eugene Nicolai, Dorothy Watson, William Shearer and Lynn Girard, for various aspects of production work.

Guests of honor were Gilbert Odem, director of Theater Arts at Detroit Institute of Arts, and Jean Scrymgeour.

Losses for the first six months of 1957 now total $550,155,000, an increase of 6.3 percent over the first six months of 1956, when they amounted to $517,403,000.

Farms Retires Captain Barton

After 34 years in the City of Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department, Capt. Joseph A. Barton of 190 Lakeview road, was officially retired on Sunday, July 28.

Capt. Barton was hired by the Farms on April 18, 1923, and promoted to lieutenant on October 31, 1946. He was promoted to captain of the Fire Department on December 1, 1952.

Born in Macomb County, Capt. Barton moved to the Pointe when he was seven years old in 1904. A widower, he was married to the former Bessie Robarts, who died last year. He now makes his home with his daughter, Joyce. Six other Barton children are married.

"I know I've left things in good hands at the fire department," said Capt. Barton, commenting on his retirement. "I hope to do some gardening, and of course, some hunting and fishing."

The man who keeps everlastingly at it is apt to accomplish a lot of things that are not worth the effort.

Arrest California Youths

Two California youths were arrested by Woods police on Wednesday, July 24, and turned over to the FBI on charges of violating the Dyer Act.

Patrick M. Patterson, 17, of 15848 Van Owen; and Michael A. Lovette, 19, same address, both of Van Nuys, Calif., were arrested by Patrolmen Allan Selby and Kenneth Metcalf, who observed the youths sleeping in a car with an outstate license parked at N. Renaud and Morningside.

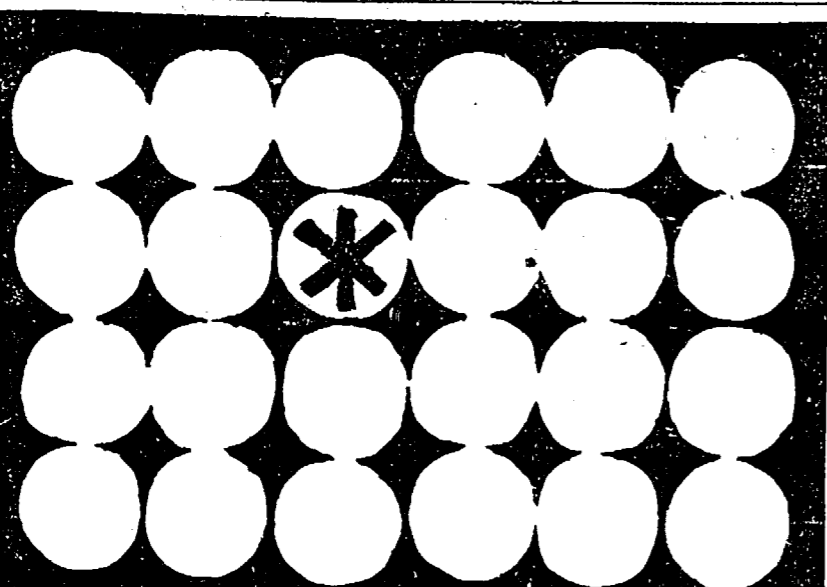

The officers decided to investigate. They woke the boys and questioned them, and when the youths could not produce registration or title to the car, the officers took them to the station.

At the station, Patterson and Lovette told Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian that they had taken the car from a used car lot in Van Nuys on July 21, drove to their home to pick up some clothing, and then started to drive to New York. They said they changed their minds and came to Detroit instead.

The detectives said both youths were on parole to Edgar M. Gerlach, parole officer in California's Department of Youth Authority in Los Angeles.

O'Dell and Tobian said both boys had served time for several car thefts and for running away.

The case was turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the Dyer Act charge.

Farms Lifeguards Defeat Rivals in Annual Contest

Anyone wishing to prove that the Grosse Pointe area is a spawning ground for fine swimmers would have to look no further than the Farms Pier last Saturday for exhibit "A." In the annual affair with the impressive name of the Grosse Pointe Intercommunity Lifeguard Swimming Meet, the Farms guards emerged victorious for the third straight year.

But the Farms had no monopoly on first places; swimmers from four of the five parks scored victories.

Harry Huffaker gave the Park an early lead with a close win in the 50-yard free style over Stu Smith of the Shores.

The Farms' John Hammond and Jim Ketzler churned in first and fourth in the 50-yard butterfly respectively, while the Park's Fletemeyer grabbed second to create an eight-all tie for the lead.

Jerry Mehl won the 200-yard free style for the City by two yards over Mike Collins of the Farms. Collins' three points put the Farms out in front alone, where they remained by a narrow margin for most of the rest of the meet.

Les Cutler streaked to victory for the Woods with a 28.5 in the 50-yard backstroke. Fletemeyer of the Park won the hotly contested 100 and former Blue Devil star Harry Huffaker scored his second victory of the morning with a 34.2 in the 50-yard orthodox breaststroke.

John Hammond won the 150-yard individual medley by 10 yards over Les Cutler. Collins' fourth place point in the event assured the Farms of victory putting them nine points in front with only the team relay to go. But the Farms' team of Dan Goodnow, Don Worley, Jerry Radloff and Hammond splashed in first in a thrilling duel with the City. The Woods was awarded third place, after the Park and Shores were disqualified for crossing over in the lanes.

Final scores: Farms, 35; Woods, 21; City and Park tied with 18, and the Shores, 3.

Norb Neff, Grosse Pointe City Clerk and Sid DeBoer, Farms City Manager, awarded the Roland Gray Perpetual trophy to Captain John Hammond of the winning team. The trophy will remain in possession of the winning team for one year at which time it will be placed in competition again.

The directors of all the municipal parks competing were high in their praise of starter Bill Reaume, Judges Walter Collins, Lon Backman, Harry Collins and Timer Dan Reaume.

50-yard backstroke: 1. Les Cutler, Woods; 2. Tom Katzler, Farms; 3. George Swindlehurst, City; 5. Larry Sutton, Woods. Time: 2:22.0.

50-yard butterfly: 1. John Hammond, Farms; 2. Fletemeyer, Park; 3. Paul Alcott, City; 4. Jerry Radloff, Farms. Time: 58.9.

50-yard orthodox breaststroke: 1. Harry Huffaker, Park; 2. Jim Ketzler, Farms; Bill Hoffa, City; 4. Gene Sunderman, Woods. Time: 34.2.

100-yard freestyle: 1. Fletemeyer, Park; 2. Dan Goodnow, Farms; 3. Paul Alcott, City; 4. Jerry Radloff, Farms. Time: 1:41.5.

200-yard freestyle relay: 1. Farms (Dan Goodnow, Don Worley, Jerry Radloff, John Hammond); 2. City; 3. Woods. Time: 1:51.3.

(City, Park disqualified.) Team scores: 1. Farms, 35; 2. Woods, 21; 3. Park and city, 18; 5. Shores, 3.

TAS Service Aids Pointers

The Travelers Aid Society of Detroit, Inc., a Torch Drive service, reported today that it helped 35 Grosse Pointe residents to solve travel problems last year.

They were among 50,042 persons who used the services of the Society during 1956. Of these, 39,556 were helped by receiving information and direction. The others were helped when they found themselves in unpredictable situations which would have been more serious were it not for the friendly hand of Travelers Aid.

Seven days a week, from 7 a.m. until 10:30 at night, staff workers and volunteers are available to serve the public at railroad stations and the bus terminal.

The services which they provide may be almost anything. Travelers Aid arranged for protection at change points and destination for children traveling. Elderly people are helped to change trains in Chicago. Sometimes relatives coming from Europe speak no English, so arrangements are made with Travelers Aid to help them through customs and immigration formalities and to see that they get on the train bound for Detroit.

A young man who finds the fifth grade boring may decide to take off for Disneyland without notifying parents. Travelers Aid helps locate him and bring him back home.

Travelers Aid can be a big help when a vacationer's pocket is picked when he is far from home. In such cases, it's not only the money, but the identification that poses a problem. Travelers Aid in the city where he is stranded gets in touch with Detroit Travelers Aid, and arrangements are made to provide the necessary funds.

People helped last year included the little woman in the bus station who planned to spend the night there with her two children and three grandchildren all under five, with no money and one can of soup for food. Then there was the young serviceman who would be AWOL if he didn't catch the train, but had no money for the necessary seat reservation.

A man who had a heart attack on the train had to be helped to get immediate medical care. An 18-year-old girl who escaped from a mental hospital in another state had arrived in Detroit bewildered and frightened.

Then there are always families who are sure there must be jobs in Detroit and arrive without money or a place to stay.

The Detroit Travelers Aid is one of more than 100 similar organizations throughout the country. More than half, or 54 per cent of the people helped here last year were residents of the Detroit metropolitan area. The other 46 per cent were travelers from other places who found themselves in trouble while visiting Detroit.

The work of the Travelers Aid Society of Detroit is made possible by contributions to the Torch Drive. It is one of 195 health and community services which share in the money given by generous Detroit-area residents in the annual "give once for all" campaign, to be held this year from October 15 through November 7.

Jeffers' Dodge had to be towed from the scene.

The charge was reduced to reckless driving with a fine of $150 or 15 days in Wayne County Jail. Thompson paid the fine.

Salem Church Holding School

Salem Memorial Lutheran Church, 21230 Moross Road at Chester, is making preparations for the largest enrollment in the history of its Vacation Bible School from August 5 through 16. Classes will be held from 9:30 until 12 noon for boys and girls from four through 13 years of age.

An experienced staff of teachers, helpers, handicraft directors, and music leaders has been set up for this large enrollment in the newly enlarged facilities of Salem Memorial. "The Lord's Prayer" will be the special subject of the lessons, handicraft, and music of the school.

"Beansies" are being presented to all those who enroll for these summer Bible School classes prior to its opening. Stop at the church office, 21230 Moross road, between 9:30 and 3 to enroll your children. Mothers are reminded that here is an opportunity to provide a worthwhile two weeks for children who are anxious to have a variety in the summer's activities.

Faces Charges For Bad Checks

James D. Visnack, 31, of 16568 Waddingham, Detroit, was arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Friday, July 26, for a hearing on an uttering and publishing charge.

Judge Belanger placed Visnack under a $1,000 bond, pending a date for examination.

The man was arrested by Highland Park police on Thursday, July 25, while he was in their city, and held for Ferrandale authorities. He was detained in the Oakland County Jail, when Ferrandale could not prove anything against him, and held for Park police.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said Visnack is accused of passing two $20 checks at a gas station at 15200 Kercheval, without having sufficient funds to back them up.

Justified Howl Raised by Dog

When Farms police investigated a typical complaint of a dog barking in the neighborhood, they discovered that there was very good reason for the pup's boisterousness.

In a yard adjacent to the home from which the yelps were coming, police discovered three boys playing with BB guns. The guns were confiscated and the boys were warned of the city ordinance forbidding shooting in the Farms. An hour later, one of the women who had complained of the dog, reported that a window was broken by a BB pellet in her home on Lewiston. Police questioned the boys again, and one confessed to shooting at the house. Another admitted that he had bounced a few pellets off the dog's hide.

The lads were turned over to their parents for punishment.

Rescued Pooch Shows Thanks

A dog owner in Roosevelt place, asked the City police to help her locate her dog on Sunday, July 28. The woman stated that she could hear the dog yelping in the yard but when she called it wouldn't come in the house.

An officer found the dog trapped in a neighbor's fish pond. The exhausted pup was rescued from the pond. It thanked the officer by shaking water all over him, then ran home.

Model A Club To Hold Meet

The once-popular Ford Model A successor to the fabulous Model T, will relive its glory era for three days at Greenfield Village.

The occasion is the biennial meet of the Model A Restorers Club, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 6, 7 and 8.

The convention will bring together more than 100 of the 30-year-old vehicles and their owners. States to send entries are California, Texas, Missouri, Georgia, Louisiana, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan. One also has registered from The Netherlands.

The Ford Model A made its appearance in late 1927. Only 4,186 units were made that year, but production jumped to nearly a half million in 1928 and reached more than a million in each of the next two years. Production continued until March, 1932.

The Model A's three-speed standard transmission was regarded as a great improvement over the three-pedal, one-hand-level system. In addition, the A's peppy, 40 h.p. engine—twice the horsepower of the Model T—meant acceleration from five to 25 miles an hour in 85 seconds. It also was equipped with four-wheel brakes and shock absorbers and such luxuries as a shatter-proof windshield, easier steering and smooth, vibration-free riding.

Founded in 1952 in West Hartford, Conn., as a non-profit organization, the Model A Restorers Club's objective is to assist members to restore and preserve these vehicles. The club has nearly 2,000 members.

The first day of the Greenfield Village meeting is set aside for arrival and registration. On Wednesday, the members will make a bus tour of Ford Motor Company plants, including the Ford Engineering and Research Center and the Dearborn test track. Preliminary judging of members' cars will take place during the day. A club business session is scheduled in the Henry Ford Museum theater that night.

More business discussions are scheduled for Thursday morning, followed by a parade through Greenfield Village at 1 p.m. Final judging will be held that afternoon. Michigan Governor G. Mennen Williams will present awards to the winners at a dinner Thursday night in Greenfield Village's Lovett Hall, winding up the convention.

Besides the parade, the cars will be on display to the public during the preliminary judging on Thursday and the final judging Friday.

For judging, the cars will be divided into three groups, 1928-29, 1930-31 and commercial, with each of these broken into two categories, restored and modified. Authenticity and appearance will be the prime factors in the restored category, while cars in the modified class will be judged on the quality of workmanship and overall design. Only first-place winners in the restored class are eligible for the grand prize.

Bail Jumper Nabbed Again

Edward E. Saylor, 35, of 4439 County Line road, Richmond, was arrested as a bail jumper by State Police of St. Clair Post on Tuesday, July 16, and turned over to Park police on Thursday, July 25.

According to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, Saylor was arrested by his department in October 1951, on a charge of gross indecency, and placed under $1,000 bond to await trial in Wayne County Circuit Court in January 1952.

Saylor jumped bail and disappeared, the chief said, and nothing more was heard of him until his arrest by state police. The bail jumper was arrested by Port Huron police on an assault and battery charge, and routine fingerprinting brought his old charge to light.

The Park police picked up Saylor from Port Huron and brought him back and turned him over to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office to await a new trial date on the sex charge.

Know How State Got Nickname?

Never wonder how Michigan got nicknamed the Wolverine State? Says Professor William H. Burt, curator of mammals at The University of Michigan.

"Michigan probably became known as the Wolverine state because of the great number of wolverine skins in these shipments. Most of the wolverines probably came from the northern Great Lakes area but they were assembled in Detroit, and the men who received them in the East had no way of knowing where the animals were caught," says Professor Burt.

The University professor describes the wolverine as having massive and powerful limbs and feet. The general color, he says, is dark brown, paler on the cheeks and head, and two broad yellowish stripes extend from the shoulder region back along the sides and meet above the base of the bushy tail.

Did the wolverines ever live in Michigan? According to Professor Burt, "The animal was probably formerly present in most of the state, but is now extinct. There is no Michigan-born specimen in any museum."

Experience is one thing no man has to look for—just let nature take its course.

Northern Lights Expected To Give Repeat Displays

If you missed the brilliant display of Northern Lights visible in Michigan and many other parts of the country on the night of June 30, you are likely to have another chance to see them during the rest of the year, according to Dr. James Stokley, associate professor at Michigan State University.

Displays of these lights, known to scientists as the aurora, have long been known to be associated with activity on the Sun, and this varies over a cycle of about 11 years, he pointed out. At present solar activity is at a maximum, so many more auroral displays are likely. As one feature of an active Sun, there are vast whirlwinds in the gaseous solar surface, often many times as big as the Earth, he said.

"The cause of the aurora is not fully understood," stated Dr. Stokley, "but it is believed that streams of electrified atomic particles are shot at us from the Sun, particularly from the spot. Some enter our atmosphere. As they hit atoms of oxygen and nitrogen at heights of 85 miles or more, they cause these gases to glow."

Police to Add Skin Divers

The Michigan State Police will add a new technique to their operations with the instruction of a group of officers in skin diving to aid in the recovery of criminal evidence and the bodies of drowning victims.

So far as known, it is the first state police department in the country to have its own men trained in this art. The 50-hour school will open August 12 at East Lansing headquarters.

Instruction will be by qualified members of the department, members of the Capitol City Skin Diving club of Lansing and representatives of manufacturers of skin diving equipment.

Each of the department's eight districts will send a two-man team to the school. Team selections will be made from officers rated as life saving instructors.

At present the plan is regarded as an experimental stage and equipment will be issued only to the teams in the first district, East Lansing, second district, Detroit, and eighth district, Marquette.

magnetic poles, both north and south, he said. In the northern hemisphere they occur most often above a line that runs along the north coast of Alaska, across the Yukon and the Northwest Territories of Canada, Hudson Bay and Labrador. Then the line goes over the North Atlantic, south of Greenland and Iceland. It skirts the north tip of Scandinavia and then goes over the Arctic Ocean just north of Europe and Siberia.

Aurorae have many different forms. A common one, he explained, is a pale green arch, low in the northern sky. This is really a sheet of glowing gases, about 65 miles high, which curves with the Earth's surface. Seen on edge from a more southerly point, it has the appearance of an arch. Sometimes such arches climb higher into the sky, and they may seem to pulsate.

Many different colors have been observed in the aurora, but greenish-yellow predominates, says Dr. Stokley. Reds, blues and violets may also occur.

One of the major areas of study of the International Geophysical Year, now engaging the attention of thousands of scientists in many parts of the world, is concerned with the aurora and similar effects, he added. When fully analyzed, these observations, from both Arctic and Antarctic observing posts, will doubtless give the answers to many puzzles now presented by the aurora, he believes.

Dr. Stokley teaches science writing in the MSU School of Journalism. He is the author of several books, on astronomy, electronics and atomic energy; and he was formerly director of the Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia.

Kids Plaguing Pool Owners

During the past two weeks all the Pointe police departments have been receiving numerous calls from residents with private swimming pools, complaining that youngsters are sneaking into their yards at night for a late dip.

In most cases the young nators hop the fence and take a quick plunge, then hightail it over the fence and are gone. Usually all they leave behind is a slight ripple on the water, but Farms police are wondering how a bathing suit got left at the edge of a pool on Ridge road last week.

Some pool owners are particularly concerned about the quick diving swimmers, because they often empty their pools for cleaning. So far, no one has jumped into a dry tank.

Park Rangers Do Great Job

Millions of American owe their safety and the enjoyment of our national parks to a small band of dedicated men. Some 360 National Park Rangers, with the help of 600 seasonal Rangers, are protecting 23 million acres and about 54 million visitors annually.

Don Wharton reports on the Rangers in an August Reader's Digest article titled, "The Rugged Rangers of Our National Parks," condensed from Travel. Rangers are stationed from Hawaii to Maine and from the tropical Everglades to sub-arctic Mount McKinley in Alaska.

The average Ranger is 41 years old, a college graduate and has spent several summers as a seasonal Ranger before receiving a permanent appointment. His shoulder patch showing the outlines of a mountain, a tree and a buffalo is a symbol of his proficiency as an emergency mountain-climber, trained fire-fighter and expert tracker.

Many mountain climbers owe their lives to Rangers. In 1955 four Rangers rescued a badly hurt young woman who'd fallen 60 feet while climbing the Yosemite's steep Washington Column.

Fire Damages Woods Home

A couch fire in the home of Carl Raab, 1651 Anita, caused extensive damage to a den and its furnishings, it was disclosed by Woods Sgt. Roland Symons.

The fire, on Thursday, July 25, brought out the firefighting equipment in a hurry and fast action by the firefighters brought the blaze under control within a few minutes, Sgt. Symons said.

Most of the damage, the sergeant said, was caused by heat and smoke.

Mrs. Raab told Symons that she thought the fire might have been caused by her small son, who was playing with matches in the den, at the rear of the house.

Bray Teaching At Arkansas

Glenn H. Bray, Grosse Pointe High School Physics teacher well known in Michigan for his use of the project method of teaching physics, is a visiting member of the University of Arkansas physics staff this summer.

Mr. Bray is assisting Dr. Paul Sharrah, chairman of the physics Department at the University of Arkansas, teach a class of 52 science teachers from Arkansas and 16 other states. The course, entitled "Laboratory and Classroom Practices in Physics," is part of the Science Institute offered by the University of Arkansas under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation.

Mr. Bray has many of his Grosse Pointe pupil projects with him to demonstrate what is possible for high school youths to do to show their understanding of the principles of physics.

Mr. Bray has presented papers at the physics-chemistry section of Schoolmasters Club at Ann Arbor and at the National meeting of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers. He has published articles in "School Science and Mathematics" and "Metropolitan Detroit Science Club Journal" describing his use of projects in the teaching of physics.

Mr. Bray recently has served as chairman of the science section, Region 2, of the Michigan Educational Association Teachers Institute, and as chairman of the Physics, Chemistry, and Astronomy section of the School Masters Club held at Ann Arbor each spring.

Continue Fight On Jap Beetles

Nearly 9,000 traps have been set in southern Michigan, especially in areas bordering Indiana and Ohio which have a high beetle population, in an attempt by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's plant industry division to stamp out Japanese beetle infestation.

In Michigan, the beetles emerge in July from the ground where as grubs they have remained for 10 months feeding on the roots of plants. The beetles feed on 250 or more types of plants. In heavily infested Atlantic coast areas as many as 1,000 Japanese beetles have been counted on a single hybrid tea rose plant, and in fruit regions as many as 40 on a single peach.

Because of its control and eradication program Michigan has never been quarantined for Japanese beetle, but Department of Agriculture officials point out that only by constant work can they be assured there will be no spread of infestation.

The Japanese beetle is slightly larger than a fly. It has a metallic appearing bronze body and a metallic green head. Under its wing coverings it has three white dots on each side of its body.

While Japanese beetles become imprisoned in the yellow traps placed in many areas in southern Michigan, the control program does not depend on this means of destroying them. The purpose of the traps is to determine the presence of the insect. Then adjacent areas are soil treated with chemicals which destroy the grubs which do so much damage to plant roots below the ground.

Since Japanese beetles are known to be great hitch-hikers and travel from place to place in vehicles of all kinds, the Michigan Department's plant industry men also check produce at railroad and truck terminals, airports and public markets.

Young Graduates Sought by Banks

This summer almost two million young graduates from the nation's high schools, colleges and universities, both men and women, face the biggest decision of their lives—how to make their own way in the world. For those with ability, the answer may lie in a banking career.

Young people "shooting for the top" will find there is "gold" in banking today in the form of a real chance to advance. Says the American Bankers Association. And it points to the fact that nation's 15,000 banks need 1,000 new presidents and 4,000 other new officers every year. What's more, it emphasizes banks are pretty well committed to the policy of promotion from within the ranks.

To the ambitious, such opportunities are equalled only by the widely diversified careers open in banking itself. Banks in recent years, the ABA explains, have had to greatly expand their services and activities to keep pace with the nation's growing economy. This, in turn, means the industry today offers a much wider diversity of bank jobs than even a few years ago.

For example, a young person entering banking today can specialize in any number of different fields ranging all the way from research and investment to advertising and public relations, from small business development to corporation finance, from the management of money and securities to mortgage lending and personnel administration, to name just a few.

High among modern banking's attractions are its financial and material rewards, the ABA reports. Starting salaries compare with those in other professions and industries for similar work, and young people entering banking in the larger cities and towns can reasonably expect to earn from $8,000 to $15,000 a year once they reach officer levels. Later, they can look forward to substantially higher incomes on achieving senior officer status. A Time Magazine survey revealed that college graduates who enter banking do better financially after the first few years than those entering virtually any other business.

Added to the lure of good pay are a host of "fringe benefits." These benefits include life and accident insurance, pensions, hospitalization insurance and participation in profit-sharing plans. Banks as a group offer more "fringe benefits" than any other industry, according to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Bank employees today receive an average of $30.00 in non-wage payments for each $100 in salary.

The tremendous opportunities open in present day banking are due to the fact banks themselves have been growing so fast. Since 1940, the number of accounts in commercial banks has doubled

Driving Costly For This Youth

Shores police picked up a young driver for speeding on Lake Shore road Monday morning, July 29. The man has been driving just three years and already has eight convictions of moving violations on his record, and has been involved in two traffic accidents. One accident, for which he was blamed, resulted in personal injuries to three persons.

Jack Brogan, 19, of 5966 Maryland, was arrested by patrolman Joseph Vitale for traveling 45 m.p.h. in a 35 m.p.h. zone. Brogan was released after posting a $150 bond. His trial will come up August 19.

When Brogan was arrested Monday morning, he did not have a driver's license. It had been suspended.

Plan Concerts On Belle Isle

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will move its summer concert-base of operation from the Fairgrounds to Belle Isle next week for a series of nine free concerts sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation.

The open air programs are scheduled Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays beginning August 13 and extending through September 1 at 8:15 p.m. in the Jerome H. Remick Memorial Shell. Valter Poole will conduct.

The soloist at Tuesday's opening program on August 13, will be Shirley Love, mezzo-soprano. Miss Love, winner of the 13th annual vocal auditions conducted by the Department of Parks and Recreation, will sing two Wagner songs, "Schmerzen" and "Traume," Voi che sapete from Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," and Amour! Viens aider from Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delila."

Thursday's program will be orchestral and include the Dvorak Symphony No. 5 in E minor, "From the New World." Mrs. Walter R. O'Hair, a member of the Parks and Recreation Commission, will speak after intermission.

Next Sunday Arturo Amato, violinist, and Lane Wardrop, English horn player, will play the solo lines of the Ippolitov-Ivanov "Caucasian Sketches."

The Department of Parks and Recreation of Detroit has received national recognition for the civic leadership displayed through the presentation of the free three-week concert series on Belle Isle.

All Is Lost By Poor Toss

When a young boy found a can of ginger ale in the parking lot near the Maire School in the Village last week, he was vexed with the problem of how to open the can.

As he passed the school he got the idea that he could split the can by throwing it against the building. His aim was not as reliable as it might have been. It sailed through a window and into a classroom.

The lad reported the damage to the janitor and was reprimanded by a police officer.

Colombia Offers Cheap Luxuries

One of the richest countries in the Western Hemisphere is still a land where the U. S. traveler can live comfortably—even luxuriously—on ten dollars a day.

Colombia, less than seven hours from the U. S. by air, is fabulously wealthy in natural resources. Yet, the dollar-spending tourist will find that he can buy more food, fun and souvenirs for his money than in any other country in the Western Hemisphere.

This is a land where sixteen cents will take you across the city in a modern taxi—no tip expected—or will buy a giant orchid corsage for milady. Three cents is the price of a cross-town bus ride or the morning paper.

In contrast, this country is the world's second largest producer of coffee, the principal source of the world's emerald supply and the second supplier of petroleum in South America. The country is rich in minerals, the land fertile and the forest untapped in their vast supplies of rubber, dyewoods, gums and balsams.

U. S. tourists are just discovering the advantages of Colombia where a travel budget is considered. In the capital of Bogota, or in the Atlantic port cities of Barranquilla or Cartagena, a single room in a luxury hotel is about five dollars. A full course dinner with wine and filet mignon is modest over $1.75. At more modest establishments, prices are much lower and the beef just as tasty, for Colombia is also a big cattle producing country.

Favorite time for movie-goers in Colombia is 6 p.m. because the dinner hour usually begins around 9 p.m. Tickets average between 25 and 40 cents to the best theatres where first-run U. S. color features in wide screen compete with choice European films.

Antique hunters have a shoppers paradise in Bogota because many of the 15th and 16th century treasures from colonial Spain are to be found in the city's antique shops.

"Silversmiths Row" is a favorite shopping area with tourists, for the country has long been noted for its workmanship in fine silver. Again, for the dollar-spending tourist, prices of the goblets, service set and bowls are much less than for comparable goods in the U. S.

Woolen clothes are also a good buy in this rich sheep-raising land. Men's woolen slacks are about six dollars, and a woman's individually tailored woolen coat can be found for about twenty dollars. There are many small shops where, in the continental fashion, women's clothes are designed in high couturier styles.

One of the most typical Colombian products is the wool "ruana" or poncho. It is worn in the city, although it originated in the rural areas of the country. The plainly cut ruana in natural or brilliant colors is about six dollars, while the dressier, hooded one for town wear is about twice that price.

A rich emerald lode which the Indians first showed to the Spaniards over four hundred years ago still produces the world's main supply of the dark green gems. The only other known source of the lustrous "esmeralda" is in Kussia.

Although prices are much lower than in the U. S., an emerald bought in Colombia is not cheap. Cost depends on depth of color and cut, but a small stone set in a modest gold ring can be found for as little as 25 dollars. A very lovely square cut stone ranges from one to three hundred dollars and five hundred will buy a beautiful piece of jewelry worth three times that value in the U. S.

Gail Garvey Bride Of Gerald Marnell

Eight of 10 Garvey Children in Wedding Party as Ceremony Is Performed in St. Clare de Montefalco Church

Eight of Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Garvey's ten children were members of the wedding party on Saturday, July 27, when their daughter, Gail Elizabeth Garvey became the bride of Gerald Marnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Marnell of West Six Mile road. The Garveys reside in Bishop road.

Fr. John Graham, O.S.A., officiated at the 10 o'clock double ring ceremony which preceded the nuptial high mass in St. Clare de Montefalco Church.

The bride's floor length gown of embroidered organdy had a Sabrina neckline and tiers of ruffles at the neckline on either side of the skirt.

A Swedish crown clasped her illusion veil, and she carried a white orchid, stephanotis and ivy in her bouquet.

Mary Kay Garvey was her sister's maid of honor. Two more sisters, Sharron and Phyllis Garvey, and Catherine Riccobono attended as bridesmaids.

Two of their white organdy frocks were worn over pale pink underskirts and the other two over pale yellow with cummerbunds and bustle back in matching color.

Braided velvet ribbon which matched their respective gowns trimmed the bridesmaids' crownless headpieces of pleated organdy. They carried cascade bouquets of garden flowers and ivy.

The bride's small sister and brother served as flower girl and ring bearer. Christine Garvey wore a white organdy-frock over yellow and carried assorted garden flowers in her basket. Tim Garvey was attired in white linen suit for his role in the wedding.

Gary Sanders performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Charles Scheffek, John Grosfield and Bernard Stuart. Another brother of the bride, Tom Garvey, was a server at the mass with his cousin, John Guillaumin, and Terry Garvey was in the choir of six boys who sang for his sister's wedding.

Robbie Garvey, 8, escorted his mother down the church aisle. Two-year-old Brian was the only member of the family who did not attend the wedding.

For her daughter's wedding and the breakfast reception which followed at The Plantation, Mrs. Garvey wore an iridescent green nylon organza gown with pale yellow accessories and pale yellow baby sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Marnell chose a beige organza dress embroidered in white, beige and white accessories, and corsage of pink baby sweetheart roses.

The newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Marnell are honeymooning in Northern Michigan.

HOUSEHOLD HINT
Sloped ceiling and dormers, often a decorating problem, can be pleasantly disguised by using the same wallpaper pattern on walls and ceilings. The pattern used should be a scattered, stylized flower, dot or check with no particular direction to it.
The future is bound to come, but you won't enjoy it unless you are ready for it.

Detroit Boats Hold Own In Two Mackinac Classics

Fewer young men are taking Horace Greeley's advice to 'go West' and instead are 'going down to the sea in ships'...

It's Mackinac in Bayview's race and Mackinac in Chicago's classic but they both end up at the saw place, that little turtled-necked island nestled in the Straits of Mackinac...

Chicago Breaks Record

These two new marks went by the boards when the Chicago Y. C. staged its 50th anniversary 333-mile classic on Lake Michigan...

In the Bayview classic Detroit boats managed to take seven of the 12 winners' flags in four cruising classes but missed the two biggest prizes that of 'first boat to finish' and the 'over-all corrected time prize'.

Roman Brotz' big 87-foot yawl 'Sabre' reached the island first but was ineligible for the overall prize as she was sailing in the racing class and not the cruising class...

Clayton Ewing's new seven-week-end experimental aluminum hulled 57-foot 'Dyna' followed 'Sabre' over the finish line at the island to win Class A and save her time to win the over-all time prize.

This was the first major race for Ewing's new black beauty and she performed beautifully in the light breeze that prevailed for the major portion of the race.

Two Canadian yachts, John Kent Cook's 'Pompador' placed second in 'A' and Ray Ewing's 'Ivanhoe' took third. Both flew the Royal Canadian Yacht Club burgee.

This was Cook's first race and his beautiful 'Pompador', which was Adolph Schickelgruber's private yacht 'Bremea', proved to be a slippery if not lucky contestant.

The only recourse the 'Ivanhoe' crew had was to recall the 1955 race when they won Class A and missed by a few minutes of winning over-all when Jimmy Carlin took the big prize with his little 35-foot 'Pilot' sloop.

To prove how exasperating the wind was take for example 'Hilaria', Dave Sloss' 'Kathmar III', Charley Kotovic's 'Copperhead' and 'Merry Maiden'.

Nubby Sarns, representing Bayview, salvaged a measure of prestige for the Detroit yachts when his 1956 Class B champion 'Revelry' repeated by beating Dave Hatcher's surprising 'Nimbus'. Clarence 'Moon' Baker and Jerry Clements placed third with their sloop 'Last Straw' out of the Detroit Yacht Club.

Rowland Becker's 'Interlude', out of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, muffled some of the Detroit thunder when he won Class C by beating Bobby Ford's 'Fleetwood' and Hank Burkard's 'Meteor III' who followed in that order.

The New York 32 shoops, like Toot Gmainer's 'Apache', Pat Collins' 'Vitesse', Frank White's 'Tigris' and Clare Jacobs' 'Falcon' along with Nubs Sarns' 'Revelry' and Moon Baker's and Jerry Clements' 'Last Straw' reported raildown breeze that forced them to shorten sail to ride it out.

Meanwhile 'back at the ranch', 'Merry Maiden' was having a comfortable Sunday afternoon sail, flying everything but Monday's wash and standing on her feet so well that cook Johnny Nicol could fry eggs for breakfast and broil steaks for dinner.

It wasn't until late Sunday night that the 'Maiden' got a decent breeze for about three hours, which brought Thunder Bay light aboard at midnight. At 1:30 a.m. Monday we were flying alone under five pieces of canvas logging 9 knots on the kenyon (speedometer to you landlubbers) and anticipating

LITTLE LEAGUE

CITY (Minors) Ed Devine's Giants took the Grosse Pointe City Little League minors pennant Saturday, July 27, with a 9-7 win over the Grosse Pointers.

Louisville threatened all the way, getting boys on the bases but was only able to push three of them across the plate.

Eddie Smith's two-run single clinched the game for Toronto. Members of the 1956 championship team are: Pete Steiner, Barry Knoll, Ron Wallace, Ed Smith, Timmy Sinclair, Rod Crawford, Ray Steffes, Steve Hardop, Bud Snowe, Jim Getschman, Dick Heated, Bill Mahoney, Posch, and Tom McCafferty.

Grosse Pointe City Little League has three champions this year. The closest race in Little League history ended this week, July 28, with a three-way tie for first place between the Cubs, Cards and Braves.

In the final week it looked like the Cubs or Cards might wind up on top. But the Braves - last year's Champions - started a tremendous drive that put them within striking distance of a tie for the crown.

WOODS (MAJORS) For the fourth year in succession the Tigers captured the Grosse Pointe Woods Little League championship when they beat the Giants in a thriller 3 to 2 before a crowd of 500 spectators.

The Tigers opened their scoring in the second inning on singles by Phillips and Stay and a walk to Dave Mann which loaded the bases. Giant pitcher Reed then walked Mike Johnson forcing in the run.

Had it not been for the stellar play of the Giants third baseman George Pfeffer the Tigers could have won by a wider margin.

Woods (Minors) Toronto captured the single game World Series to win the Woods Minor League crown by beating Louisville 6-3 in an exciting six-inning contest over the weekend.

Two mishaps occurred during the squall on Sunday afternoon. John Pierpont's 'Siskiwit' lost her spar near Sleeping Bear and 'Pandora', a little chime sloop that resembled an oversized Star boat, lost her rudder.

Six boats failed to finish but it was not because of loss of rigging or gear. Every Toronto player had a route, but with vastly different results. Dowdell gave away only one run, two hits and scored three strikeouts. He walked three. Stanley matched him in walks given, but let Boston's hitters score six runs, make nine hits, but struck out six men.

In the sixth inning they tied, and in the seventh inning they scored two more runs to cinch both game and the 1957 World Series honors, 7 to 5.

Sunday's pitchers were Dowdell for Boston and Stanley for the Braves, each going the full

SAN DIEGO - Now that the was 49 feet by Charles Sligh, Jr., Grand Rapids furniture manufacturer and recent president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who set it in 1947.

By 1954, Alfred Mendoza of Acapulco, Mexico, who, incidentally, won the 1956 title at 117 feet, had edged up to the 100-foot barrier with a 99-foot leap. Dick Binette (102 feet) and Rosenberg (103 feet) both crashed into three figures in the 1954 nationals with Warren Witherrill of Bolton Landing, N. Y., going 106 later in the New England championships.

Then the lads figured out a new technique with which Rosenberg flew 125 feet on his third and final attempt at the Lake-and, Fla., nationals in 1955. Instead of following the tow boat in a straight line, they worked out a cricle-the-whip maneuver that provides greater accelerated speed at the ramp.

Walter Hoover Wins at Henley Pointer Walter Hoover, representing the Detroit Boat Club, captured the senior 155 pound singles championship at the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta held at St. Catharines, Ontario, over the weekend.

Hoover captured the crown by beating Tom Diamond of the Philadelphia Bachelor's Barge Club by three open lengths. A veteran of the 1952 and 1956 Olympics, Walter is the son of a former diamond scull winner, Walter Hoover, Sr.

The Detroit Boat Club also won the Canadian Senior Fours with coxswain championship by beating the veteran Buffalo West Side four by one open length to spare.

Rowing by the Boat Club was fundamentally the same crew which represented the United States at the Olympic games in Australia last year.

The Boat Club also won the junior doubles with Ivan Dibos and Bob Hopman beating Whane and Wintz of the Philadelphia Vespers by a half open length.

Inter-Lake Yachting Association introduces a new long distance race to commemorate Commodore Perry's victory in "The Battle of Lake Erie". This will give to Lake Erie a race similar in caliber to the famous Port Huron to Mackinac race in Lake Huron and the Chicago to Mackinaw in Lake Michigan.

The course, as laid out and checked by the Detroit Office of District Engineers, United States Lake Survey, measures 160.79 Nautical Miles.

The course will be patrolled by the United States Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary. They have requested that all contestants display a fixed white masthead light during the hours of darkness and/or fog, so that they may be easily picked out during conditions of poor visibility and danger of mishap thereby avoided.
