A JAMAICAN TRAIN loaded with 1,500 persons homebound from a Sunday outing, was derailed, with 175 persons reported killed. News of the tragedy was just received. It is estimated that about 400 persons were injured in the accidents. It is the worst railway disaster in the history of Jamaica, and it saw whole families wiped out as nine cars jumped the rails and plunged into a ravine.

A competent orchestra for the school is the aim of Sr. Cecilia, O. P., who will head the music department. She has been at Aquinas for the past ten years, working with the orchestra and training many of the students for participation in the Arch-diocesan Festival orchestra. Sr. Ann Patricia, O. P., who holds a master's degree in English from Loyola University, Chicago, has just completed six years as principal of Adrian Catholic Central High School.

This summer she received a Certificate in Theological Studies at the Providence College School of Theology, Providence, R. I. Particularly interested in ana-yzing the extensive testing program carried on last spring at St. Paul, is Sr. Ruth Albert, O. P. In June Sister received the deversity of America, Washington, D. C., with school administra-tion and guidance as her fields of concentration.

Miss Ruth Yost, a faculty member at Cass Technical High School for a number of years, will assist in the mathematics and science departments at St. Paul this fall. Miss Yost holds master's degrees in these subjects from Columbia University and the University of Michigan, and a bachelor of law degree from the University of Detroit. She has further enriched her background by extensive European travel.

Motorists driving up Lakeshore road on a hot August Sunday afternoon watching the billowing sails of countless pleasure craft in Lake St. Clair may wonder what old time lake sailors mean when they talk about the "Vanished Fleets."

Each year more weekend sailors throng the busy waters, but when veterans of Great Lakes sigh over the old days on the lakes they are remembering the schooners and scows which served the Pointe's earlier commercial needs.

Before 1900 these craft, one hundred feet in over-all length, rigged with a top mast, carried timber, milled lumber and marsh hay. Most traffic was local about the familiar waters from Grand Marais to Gaukler Point.

These little ships seldom carried a crew of more than five men and in the summer local Huck Finns could get a berth aboard the schooners provided they were strong swimmers.

For casualties among these ships were fairly frequent, the ice being a hazard and floods caused by heavy spring rains always a threat along with violent storms and mooring accidents.

By 1900 most of the scow-schooners were carrying sand to be used on the long stretches of seawalls along the Pointe's shoreline.

One of the last of these ships to be built was constructed from native timber on the grounds of the owner above where the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club stands today. The ship was launched on the Fourth of July 1900 with great ceremony and feasting. The Allard family owned the schooner for many years.

When the Alger home, now the War Memorial, was being built in 1912, some of the last of these sailing schooner brought the sand across the lake for the sea wall.

With the advent of the automobile and the improved hard surfaced roads the doom of this interesting colorful fleet was cast and by 1915 the last scow schooner had departed from Lake St. Clair.

M Club Plans Frosh Party

The third annual "Get Together Send-Off" party for University of Michigan freshmen from the Grosse Pointe area will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, September' 11, i was announced by A. D. Ruegsegger, of Balfour road, president of the University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe, which sponsors the event.

The program will be featured by a sound color moving picture of the University, "Decade of Achievement", and by an informal discussion led by students from all classes at the University. Panelists will endeavor to answer all questions a freshman has about the University, from incidental day-today matters to major campus problems.
