MECHANICAL BUGS AND COLD, gusty winds spoiled the U.S. effort to shoot a satellite into space Wednesday night. Hours of tense waiting for the blastoff came to a disappointing end at 10:40 p.m. (Detroit time) when word came that the firing had been "scrubbed."

Zero hour for the shot originally was set for 4 p.m. Then came one postponement after another and finally the decision to put off the attempt.

A RECORD SNOWSTORM, the earliest in years, struck with blinding fury Wednesday, through the Middle Atlantic states as far south as Virginia. Up to 24 inches of snow had fallen in some places, and it was still coming down early this morning.

Thousands of motorists commuting from New York were stranded in colossal traffic jams on state highways north of the city. One was 13 miles long. Another defied a three-hour police effort to crack it. Many of the motorists seemed destined to spend part or all of the night in cars immobilized when vehicles ahead skidded and blocked the highways.

A FREAK RAILWAY crash in a London pea-soup fog wrecked two trains and an overpass bridge at the rush hour peak Wednesday night and killed at least 62 commuters. Many aboard the trains were early Christmas shoppers carrying gifts home-ward.

More than 120 persons were injured seriously by the telescoping of the trains and by the bridge girders tumbling down on the mass of train wreckage. After 7½ hours of toiling in almost impenetrable gloom of night, compounded by fog, rescue workers called off their efforts until daylight—hoping the fog would lift by then.

A third train was derailed just short of disaster and was virtually undamaged as it approached the bridge, but it still hung as something of an added menace over the rescue teams.

A FEDERAL-STATE committee recommended Thursday that the Federal Government kick back to the states 40 percent of its tax on local telephone calls so states can take over certain functions from Uncle Sam.

Federal-aid programs that would be ended under the recommendation include those for most forms of vocational education and construction of municipal waste-treatment plants.

The Federal tax on local calls is 10 percent. It now brings in about 370 million dollars a year. Under the committee proposal, states would get 148 million dollars of this.

AT LEAST 13 persons were killed and about 30 injured in an explosion and fire that leveled half a block in the northwest Georgia town of Villa Rica Thursday.

The blast, which demolished a drugstore, dress shop, dime store, jewelry and florist shop was attributed to a faulty gas line in the basement of the drugstore.

The number of dead could reach 15 or 16. Rescue squads dug through the rubble Thursday night hunting the missing.

THE UNITED STATES failed today in the attempt to launch its first earth satellite. The launching carrier was ignited seconds after 11:45 a.m., Detroit time, but blew up. The rocket did not rise from the ground.

Damage to the rocket and equipment was extensive and it will be another 30 days, some say six weeks, before testings can be renewed. Authorities blame the failure on a mechanical, not design, problem.

Whatever the cause, there is no doubt but that U. S. prestige is at a new low. Friends and foes abroad are deriding

Santa Claus Headquarters in 'The Village'

Located at the corner of Kercheval and St. Clair in the Village, this former pony stable was obtained by City officials who painted and spruced it up to enhance the kiddies' Christmas. Santa Claus holds forth daily from 2-4 p.m. and Saturdays, from noon until 4, talking to the children from his improvised throne. A mailbox, conveniently located in the little house, insures personal delivery to the great supplier of Christmas joy.

$900 Stolen From Mack Avenue Bar

Thief Apparently Hid Inside Until Closing Time, Then Helped Himself To Cash

A robbery which occurred in a Mack avenue bar on Wednesday, December 4, netted the thief or thieves about $900 in cash. Mrs. Wanda Naismith, proprietress of the Merry-Go-Round Lounge at 15402 Mack, called the Park police at 8:20 a.m. to say the bar had been broken into and the safe robbed.

Sgt. Hazen Henning and Patrolman John Trombley found that the bar wasn't broken into at all, but rather broken out of.

Apparently, the person or persons who stole the money, hid in the basement till after closing time, then walked off with the cash.

In addition to the money stolen from the office, also missing were the bar "kitty," which contained coins in various denominations, used for parties, and the waitress' tips, which she had been saving up to buy Christmas presents.

Park Corporal Charles French said that the police already have two men under suspicion, but did not wish to disclose their names until more evidence can be obtained.

Garden Council to Map Tours to Include Finest Christmas Decorations

Representatives of Various Clubs to Cover Community on December 21 and 22 to Select Best Yuletide Lighting Effects.

In the early evening on Saturday, December 21, and Sunday, December 22, groups of women from the Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs will drive around the Grosse Pointe areas selecting outstanding Christmas lighting displays. This committee is composed of representative members from the Windmill Pointe Garden Club, the Garden Club of Michigan, the Grosse Pointe Shores Farm and Garden Club, and the Village Garden Club.

These displays will be arranged as suggested tours in the five municipalities and publicized for the benefit of interested viewers during the holiday season.

Simplest May Be Best In making selections the committee will give consideration to artistry, proportion, balance of decoration, color harmony, shadows created by existing trees or shrubs, simplicity of design, the treatment of the bare branches of a tree or a unified motif. One small perfect setting may better give the feeling and spirit of Christmas, as expressed in the classification of child-appealing, religious, traditional or contemporary themes, than a large area brilliantly lit.

This "Tour" will be the culmination of the Christmas Lighting Project, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, which has endeavored through education and general participation to create in the community not necessarily a brighter Christmas, but a more beautiful one.

Everyone Co-operating

The response from civic groups, businesses, the municipalities, schools and churches has been spontaneous and gratifying. The business areas are already festive and public buildings are carrying out lighting plans.

The church committee for which Mrs. Taylor Seeber, Mrs. Charles Jacobson and Mrs. Edward Roney, Jr., are carrying the responsibility, report that many churches will have lovely displays, some of them for the first time. Among the churches are: St. Paul's on the Lake, Christ Church, Memorial Church, Grosse Pointe Unitarian, Our Lady Star of the Sea, Grosse Pointe Methodist, St. Michael's, St. Clare Parish and Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian.

It now remains for the home owner to bring out the wreaths and flood lamps, the strings of lights and ornaments so all will be ready for December 21 and 22. Names and street numbers will not be used—only the block number and street with a descriptive adjective pointing up the type of display. If every resident will touch the switch at 5 o'clock in the evening the whole community will be united in the Light of Christmas.

BEER STOLEN

Mrs. George Mamer of 2211 E. Eight Mile road, complained to Woods police on Saturday, December 7, that someone broke into her garage and stole eight bottles of beer from a case.

Woods Set For Bond Issue Vote

Residents to Ballot on Badly Needed New Municipal Building On December 16

On Monday, December 16, Woods voters will go to the polls to vote on a $340,000 bond issue for the proposed construction of a new municipal building. Hundreds of interested citizens are contacting their friends and neighbors by letter and telephone to explain the need for a new structure.

After studying the existing facilities, a citizens' committee has recommended the construction.

Sadly Outgrown Among the reasons advanced for constructing a new building was the fact that the present building was built when the Woods had a population of 1,000; it was planned to be adequate for a community of 5,000.

The Woods' present population is approximately 18,000, and eventually, this number will swell to 23,000. The present building is so obsolete and inadequate that it is necessary to store important city records in a

Attempt to Buy Drugs Backfires

Information supplied by Richard Kadlec, proprietor of the Park Pharmacy, at 15324 E. Jefferson, led Detroit police to the home of Lester Sieg, 38, where he was arrested on a narcotics charge.

Kadlec said he became suspicious of Sieg on Monday evening, December 2, when he walked into his store and asked to purchase some highly potent drugs, with a forged prescription.

Knowing the prescription to be phony, the druggist, when asked by the man for 24 tablets, said that he only had 13 of them already made up, and if he could come back again next day, the rest would be waiting for him.

As soon as the man left, Kadlec telephoned the police giving a description of his car, and on the following morning, December 3, Sieg was arrested by the Detroit Police Narcotics Squad at his home at 6338 Island Lake road, in Brighton. Back at police headquarters, Sieg confessed to 40 other dope charges which have been baffling the Detroit Police Narcotics Bureau for the past three weeks.

Schools' Teaching Methods Defended By Superintendent

Dr. James W. Bushong Takes Exception to Publicity Flailing Education in This Country; Explains Pointe System

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the first of a series of articles, intended to inform you, the people, about Grosse Pointe's school system and, specifically, how it answers today's crying need for an improved science-mathematics curriculum.

The NEWS staff is collaborating with the Board of Education and a local housewife and interested citizen, Mrs. James Graves, in presenting these articles to the public. It is hoped that they will serve to answer the national charges of general inadequacy in our school programs—and to effect improvements in same, where necessary.

Dr. James W. Bushong, Superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, came to the defense of the Pointe School System's method of teaching science and mathematics, aroused by recent statements made by a former high Government official.

He took exception to newspapers and periodicals which, following the statements, flailed out at the public schools with articles, and with such blaring headlines as: "High School System is Blamed for Lack of Scientists," "College Staff Blames High Schools for Lag in U.S. Science," and "Wake Up the Educators". Superintendent Bushong, while recognizing that there is always room for improvement, has taken exception to many of the mis-statements of fact and distortion of statistics employed by some of these articles. He, like many qualified persons, feels there is evidence of hysteria and honest misconception of the true situation.

Reports to Board

The Superintendent, in response to the wide interest shown by the community, reported to the Board of Education at its regular December meeting on the situation. He gave a rather comprehensive four-page report on what the Grosse Pointe schools were doing with respect to the teaching of mathematics and science courses. The report was very well received and interested persons may secure copies by calling at the Administrative offices at 329 St. Clair.

In part the report said: "Although the American people are having a righteous concern that an adequate program of mathematics and science is available for all their boys and girls, it would appear that a good program has been in operation in the Grosse Pointe Public School System for some time. Special efforts to improve this program have been under way for three years and we shall continue our efforts to strengthen our offering in these important fields; as well as to increase the number of able students enrolled."

Offered Every Year

It was pointed out that the school system offered mathematics and science every year throughout the 12-year program, and had been doing so for many, many years.

Twenty-five years ago, the High School had established the requirement that one year of science in the senior high school would be necessary for graduation. Twenty years ago, a ninth grade science course was created so that a pupil might have a continuous program of science in every grade. The Superintendent went on to demonstrate in his report

Sell Papers To Give Aid To Needy

Residents Urged to Dig Deep and Give Generously to Carry on Program

The Grosse Pointe Lions Club, and Pointe police and firemen, have set a goal of $10,000 for their annual Goodfellows news-paper sales on Monday, December 16.

The "newsboys" will be on the streets from 7 a.m. to 12 p.m., selling the Grosse Pointe News and the Detroit Free Press, and accepting whatever generous purchasers will give. Funds raised will be used to carry on the charitable program that sees that many needy lack nothing throughout the year.

Schweikarts Co-Chairmen Carl Schweikart, Sr., and Carl, Jr., co-chairmen of this year's Lions Club Goodfellows Sale, expressed hope that collections will reach the set goal, and urge all residents to give generously.

Last year's goal was also $10,000, but the club only garnered $5,200. This was attributed to the fact the Grosse Pointe Woods Lions Club sold papers in its community on its own.

The father and son chairmen said that this year, the Woods club is not expected to sell papers, therefore their club will be active in the Woods.

The Schweikarts said that of the sum collected last year, approximately $5,100 was expended for the needy in the Pointe, and for other projects.

All Cases Investigated They said the names of Pointe families in need are turned over to George Elworthy, Director of Welfare, who investigates the cases and makes recommendations. The paper sale funds are used for Pointe needy and programs only, the Schweikarts added.

The Board of Education and the police and fire departments, through their many contacts with the community, channel many cases to Mr. Elworthy. The Goodfellows Fund is not a giveaway program.

The Goodfellows do more than brighten the holidays of the needy. Their work continues on throughout the year. There are the annual scholarship awards to two graduates of any of the Pointe's public or parochial high schools, based on financial need, character and leadership, and academic standing.

Help Dog League

Traditional beneficiary of the Goodfellows sale is the Leader Dog League for the Blind, to whom has been contributed many Braille watches and Braille typewriters.

Public and private charities, and other organizations also benefit through the annual paper sale.

The Schweikarts presented a breakdown of expenditures from funds collected last year as follows: Scholarships, $2,000; United Foundation, $500; Leader Dog League, $500; cost of taking children to the Shrine Circus, $450; Christmas baskets distributed to the Pointe needy, $1,700; Babe Ruth and Little Baseball Leagues, $450; Little Basketball League at the Neighborhood Club, $100; and donations for Safety Patrol boys' transportation to various outings, $200.

Club Buys Papers

It was pointed out that the cost of the NEWS and FREE PRESS papers used in the annual sale, is paid from the Lions Club own treasury, and not from the sales funds.

Residents are urged to give a little more than usual this year, since the cause is worthy.

President of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club this year is S. Willard Hosking of 1319 Nottingham, vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit.

WAYNE BAND TO PLAY

Wayne State University's Concert Band will present its annual Christmas Concert at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 12, in the large auditorium of the Detroit Institute of Arts. The concert is open to the public without charge.

Tree Lighting Ceremony At Center Set for Dec. 22

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will again be the setting, on Sunday, December 22, for a gathering of all Grosse Pointe families to witness the lighting of the huge Community Tree annually erected in the circle in front of the Center.

The huge tree will be put in place through the courtesy of the Detroit Edison Company and lighted with the lights from the former John S. Newberry mansion.

As traditionally, the Youth Council of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be in charge of the brief ceremony and the family entertainment which will be gaged primarily for the enjoyment of the young.

This Year the Theme of the Tree Lighting Program Will be "Christmas is a Holy Time"

Prayers will be offered by both Protestant and Catholic clergymen and officers of the Youth Council will speak very briefly. Representatives of all the Youth organizations in the Pointes have been invited and when they join hands around the base of the tree, it will be lighted and Santa will appear to greet all his friends with candy canes. Youngsters and adults alike will then be invited into the Center for cocoa or coffee and cookies and to hear carols sung by the Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus. Two special entertainment features are going to be given

Superintendent Bushong Defends Pointe Schools' Teaching Methods

the actual situation was that 90-100% of our graduates had taken two years of mathematics and that over a third had completed three years of these courses.

Nationally, the charge is far from accurate also. It can be demonstrated from the oft quoted U. S. Office of Education reports that about two-thirds of all high school graduates take algebra in the ninth grade, and almost another third of that class have taken higher arithmetic. It can be shown that nearly one-half of the tenth grade class take a second year of mathematics as well.

Panel Aims Criticism
A most capable panel of experts pointed out about a month ago at a local P-T-A meeting that the comparisons being made between the program of study offered students in the USSR and to students in our country were unrealistic.

Dr. Bushong has elaborated on that in his report by pointing out that the Russian program, wherein students are purported to receive five years of training in Physics, does not mean the Russian secondary school student is getting five times as much training as graduates of our one year course.

Even though the Russian school week is six days long, their school year is somewhat shorter than ours, and children go to school only 10 years instead of 12 as do ours. Thus, their program is somewhat condensed as compared to ours and one should exercise care when relating grade levels there and here.

Finally, as the most conclusive point, the U. S. Office of Education report on "Education in the USSR" contains tables wherein the number of class meetings per week for each subject offered are shown. Instead of seven hours per week, as is the case here, where students have double class periods twice a week for laboratory work, the Russian student averages about three hours per week throughout his five-year program. Thus, when total number of hours devoted to the subject are compared with the U. S. total it is found that, instead of five times as much Physics, it is something less than two to one. Similar statistics and results are to be found about other subjects.

Doesn't Minimize Slams.
The Superintendent did not attempt to minimize the importance of this, or other criticisms. He said we must recognize that the Russians were putting greater emphasis on science than were we, but wanted to emphasize that the differences were being greatly exaggerated and were gravely distorting the actual situation.

Superintendent Bushong said that it was important that the public know that the schools were ready to do, and capable of doing, whatever the national interest demanded. The courses are, and have been, in the curriculum. Many of them, in view of the diverse interests and different capabilities of individual students, are elective courses.

In a democracy, this has long been recognized as a good and desirable practice. Most thinking persons would have it no other way. However, being elective and lacking the full and wholehearted endorsement of all whom the student looks to for advice and direction, some of those capable of taking advanced science and mathematics courses pass them up in favor of others which seem to have more popular endorsement.

Templations Cited
The Superintendent stated that as long as we in this country shower with approbation and acclaim and are willing to pay five and six figure

Pierce Junior High School will present their Vespers program Sunday, December 15 beginning at 4 p.m. Mrs. Gwen Behanna is the vocal music instructor and will conduct the program. The Grosse Pointe High School will present its annual Christmas concert Wednesday evening, December 18, at 8:15 p.m. John Finch, teacher of the choral groups will be in charge of the presentation. More detailed descriptions of these programs are to be found elsewhere in this issue of the paper.

incomes to those engaged in activities, vocations, and enterprises hardly to be considered of prime importance to our basic cultural advances, or to our national security, we shall continue to lag in developing our best and fullest potential.

Young students, looking about them to determine upon a career, are all too often deterred from entering fields where the prestige and the rewards are slight, in comparison to others which the public has chosen to reward richly. In this manner, many who could make significant contributions in the struggle to push outward our horizons of knowledge, and who could help advance civilization in many ways, are lost forever from their already undermanned profession. In view of these circumstances, a serious inventory of our sense of values would seem imperative.

All Americans at home, in the community, and at work as well as those of us in the schools, must face up to this situation and determine if adjustments or revisions are in order.

Dr. Bushong concluded with this comment: "Nevertheless, our schools can and should be better; and this includes

Two Killed on Lakeshore

(Continued from Page 1) hips and internal injuries. They also suffered shock. The victims, all Austin High School seniors, were on their way to the Austin-St. Joseph basketball game in the St. Joseph Gymnasium, East Warren and Canyon, Detroit.

Car Catches Fire
A Shores accident report revealed that Patrolman Stanley Otulakowski was cruising south on Lake Shore, when he came upon the car which was on fire against the tree, with the driver dead and the other youths unconscious.

The patrolman attempted to put out the fire with an extinguisher from his scout car, but was not successful. Then he and a motorist, Dennis McLogan of 10490 Lakepointe, Detroit, apparently the only witness to the accident, pulled the boys out of the wrecked car.

The officer put in a call to the station, where a hurried broadcast was made for police and fire ambulances from the Woods and Farms. The Shores' fire truck arrived at the scene and extinguished the fire which had by then ignited the tree.

The Shores' ambulance, with those from the other communities, transported the victims to Bon Secours. Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling said that Schmitt, driving his mother's car, and four of the youths picked up Shell at his home.

McLogan told police that Schmitt turned from Fontana, south onto Lake Shore, and was in the south bound lane, traveling in a normal manner, at about 45 miles an hour.

Grosse Pointe. "I believe that the recent importance placed on our educational system will result in renewed interest on the part of the general public.

The speed limit is 35. The witness said he was driving in the opposite direction, and that there were no other cars traveling on Schmitt's side. Suddenly the car went out of control, leaped onto the island, went 60 feet down the center and crashed into the tree.

Chief Duemling said that the injured boys were in no condition to tell what had happened. He said the accident was caused possibly by the inattention of the driver. There were no marks indicating that the brakes had been applied.

The brakes of the car were checked after the accident, and were found in good order, the chief added.

Borowski was released from the hospital on Monday, December 9; and Shell went under the surgeon's knife for one dislocated and one broken hip, also on Monday.

Order Early... for a Full Year at the Wheel!

The man you see above, talking with his Cadillac dealer, has just done a very wise thing.

For an early order means an early delivery—and an early delivery means a long acquaintance with this finest of Cadillacs!

And how rewarding those virtues are for 1958!

Here, for example, are Cadillac styling and majesty and stature at their brilliant best... Fleetwood coachcrafting and luxury and elegance at their most bountiful... and Cadillac engineering and design at their very finest.

Lucky the man who will enjoy all of these prized Cadillac rewards this year. And doubly blessed the man who will claim them with an early delivery of the car of his dreams.

Remember, then, that time is of the essence!

Whatever your favorite Cadillac model—whether it be the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the fabulous Eldorado Brougham—we urge you to come in soon for a demonstration. And we invite you to place your order at your earliest opportunity.

Scholarship Competition Semi-finalists Announced

Eleven seniors at Grosse Pointe High School have been named semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, according to Scholarship chairman Mrs. Ruth V. Flom.

The local students are listed among the 7,500 high scorers on the Scholarship Qualifying Test, a nationwide college aptitude examination given in 14,000 high schools on October 22.

The semi-finalists named outscored 300,000 fellow seniors, and thus moved a step closer to the $4 million in Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the 1958 program.

The Grosse Pointe High School semi-finalists are: John Schwen, Nancy Nagelkirk, Gary Damon, William Evenden, Richard Grasse, Chester Greiling, Elizabeth Elliott, Richard Wunsch, Nelson Smith, Alan Klein and Michael May.

Merit Scholarships are sponsored by over 60 business and industrial firms, as well as by professional societies, foundations, and even individuals.

The semi-finalists now face a rigorous, three-hour College Board examination, to be given in testing centers throughout the country on January 11. Students whose high scores substantiate their earlier test performance will become finalists in the competition.

At least 7,000 of the semi-finalists are expected to survive this second hurdle, according to John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual competition.

"The finalists' group will be made up of some of the most able youngsters that America has ever produced. We expect to have over 800 scholars available for them—about one for every nine of these superb young people. Our need to identify, and help, as necessary, the scientists, engineers, teachers and other leaders of the future, is more apparent right now than it has ever been. The far-sighted business and industrial companies that are making these awards possible are to be congratulated," declares Mr. Stalnaker.

In the final phase of the competition, the high school grades, extra-curricular attainments, and the leadership and character of the competitors, will be evaluated. About May 1, a fortunate 800 will become the Merit Scholars of 1958.

The other finalists will receive Certificates of Merit, attesting to their high ability; and all colleges and universities will be notified, enabling these students to be considered for thousands of other awards and prizes.

Merit Scholars make their own choice of college and course of study. The value of each of the four-year Merit Scholarships varies with the financial need of each individual student, ranging upward from $100 per year (the minimum) to $2,200 per year or more.

The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars will receive grants-in-aid averaging $2,000 per Merit Scholar to help defray the actual costs of educating the students.

The Merit Scholarship Program is now in its third year. It was established in 1955 through grants of $20.5 million from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The competition is open to any public, private or parochial high school in the United States, Alaska, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands; and any high school senior may enter. The 7,500 semi-finalists named represent one-half of one per cent of the national senior class, and each state is represented according to its high school population.

Also the Center's Children's Theatre will give two performances of "Away in a Manger" both preceding and following the ceremony.

The first puppet show will take place at 4:30 p.m. and the first performance of the play at 5 o'clock. The Tree Lighting service is scheduled at 5:30 p.m. to be followed by refreshments, singing and repeat performances of the shows.

New Church to be Dedicated This Sunday

The First English Ev. Lutheran Church, located on Vernier road at Wedgewood drive, Grosse Pointe Woods, will be dedicated Sunday, December 15. Pastor of the congregation, The Rev. Paul F. Keppler, will conduct the services beginning with the opening of the church at 10:30 a.m.

Handsome Scout Quarters Emerge from Coal Room

Dedication of the new structure for which ground was broken on October 28, 1956, will be at the worship service at 11 a.m. with Rev. Norman A. Menter, D.D., president of the Michigan District of the American Lutheran Church as the preacher.

Erwin Linsenman, president of the congregation, and Chris Hansen, of McKinley avenue, chairman of the building committee will also participate in the service. They will represent the lay leadership of First English that contributed many hours toward the realization of the new church.

From 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. the church will be open for persons interested in seeing it. A Vesper Service at 5 p.m. will conclude the consecration services with the Rev. Lawson Price, D.D., son of the first pastor of First English, preaching. The Rev. Robert Herbon, a son of the congregation, will serve as rector.

The new building is constructed of buff sandstone. It is of a modified Gothic design with contemporary features combining the old with the new in a reverent form.

The interior of the church is built of cinder block and is enriched by a color scheme in beige and green. A feeling of reverence is provided by the high cathedral type ceiling supported by oak trusses which are finished to blend with the pews and church furniture.

The music of the service is conducted from the balcony where a three manual Moeller Pipe Organ will be installed within the next year.

The building also houses the pastor's study, church offices, conference room, working sacristy, Sunday school classes and a nursery. Downstairs there is a Fellowship Hall and a modern stainless steel kitchen. Approximate cost including property was $800,000 complete with furnishings and a 175 car parking lot.

Fathers who deserve much of the credit for the coal-room conversion into a much-needed, well-deserved workroom for the members of the Troop.

The fruits of nearly ten years of time, thought, and troublesome tasks will be ready for harvesting on Sunday, December 15, when Dr. Frank Fitt will conduct the dedication ceremony of the recently-completed Boy Scout room at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Mrs. James Lafer, President of the Women's Association of the Church, will do the honors by cutting the ribbon, immediately following the 11 o'clock service.

It was her group, and the Men's Association, that originally proposed the conversion of the former coal room in the basement, into the practical workroom that is today the sole property of Troop 96—(Although, Sunday School classes are "permitted" to use the space once a week). They have worked tirelessly, and contributed generously, to see their long-term project become a reality.

A major obstacle, that failed to deter optimistic advocates of the plan, was the fact that there was no exterior entrance to the room. The only outlet was a single door which led into the basement, and a network of tunnel-like passages, before depositing entrants in the main portion of the church.

and a nursery. Downstairs there is a Fellowship Hall and a modern stainless steel kitchen. Approximate cost including property was $800,000 complete with furnishings and a 175 car parking lot.

The 60-some members of Troop 96 will use the room to work on various projects for their merit badges. Considerate planners have therefore equipped it with a lathe, saws, drills, jigs, vises, and the like. Because the space is not adequate for all to work at one time, the boys will be divided into patrols and assigned special times in which they can make use of their new workshop.

Incidentally, special mention should be made of this Boy Scout Troop 96, as many other troops have tried to pattern their own meetings after those of 96.

The reason for recognition? Father-interest seems to be the keyword here. Anywhere from 30-45 fathers attend every meeting, along with their Scout sons — and it is these same

Nearly 200 presidents, deans, and faculty members of Michigan colleges attended The University of Michigan's 11th annual Conference on Higher Education.

Pornography Peddler Put Under $500 Bond

Theodore R. Wichman, 57, of 1423 Berkshire, accused of possession of obscene books, pictures, literature and films, stood mute before Woods Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, December 7, and entered a plea of not guilty.

He was freed on $500 bond and was to appear before Judge Goodrow yesterday, December 11, for examination but on Tuesday, Wichman waived the examination and was bound over to Circuit Court. The bond was continued.

Wichman, proprietor of the Empire Gift and Camera Shop, Mack and Hampton, was arrested by Woods police on Friday, November 22, for investigation of possessing pornographic material which was found in a suitcase in his car.

The suitcase and its contents came to light when Sgt. Roland Symons and Patrolman Jack Mast observed Wichman's car parked three feet from the curb in front of the man's store, and stopped to investigate.

When Wichman told the officers the car belonged to him, he was taken to the station, where a search of the suitcase turned up the obscene material.

The authorities confiscated 16 reels of 16 mm films and pornographic literature and other items.

At the time of his arrest, Wichman was on two years probation for a similar offense committed on August 2, 1956.

He was found guilty of the first charge on October 8, 1956, and fined $100 and ordered to pay court costs of $100, plus the probation.

Michigan Shows Healthy Growth

Michigan, the second-fastest growing state since 1950, is expected to have a population of 10,260,000 by 1970, according to a Michigan State University specialist.

Dr. John F. Thaden, a specialist in demography or the statistical study of populations, says the 1970 figure "is not a prediction, but a projection of growth based on the average ratio of Michigan's increase to that of the entire country."

Present Michigan population, estimated at 7,694,000 in 1956 is about 4.57 per cent of the total U.S. population.

California is the only state which has exceeded Michigan in both total and percentage population increase since 1950, Dr. Thaden said. Texas had a larger total increase, but trailed the Wolverine state in percentage of gain.

Michigan's rapid population growth is due to both a high rate of births over deaths and extensive in-migration, Dr. Thaden figures.

"Michigan is experiencing a healthy, and well-balanced growth," he stated. "It is not like any of the five states—Arizona, California, Delaware, Florida and Nevada—in which migration contributed more than natural increase to the state's growth."

This he attributes to Michigan's balanced industrial and agricultural economy and its available large consuming markets.

The bulk of Michigan's growth, the demographer predicts, will be in the metropolitan areas and primarily in the South Central and Southeastern parts of the state.

"Those countries which have shown a decline over the past decade or two probably will continue to do so," he added.

Many Inspect New Pools

As has been mentioned in the NEWS, previously, an Open House was held recently at the Junior High School's swimming pools. About 150 residents of the Grosse Pointe community came to see the Parcells pool and approximately 200 viewed the Pierce pool.

Inasmuch as upwards of 900 parents had already visited each pool at an earlier PTA meeting, and as approximately 1,400 persons are enrolled in the community swim program, it is estimated that over 3,000 residents other than the students have taken advantage of the several opportunities given to inspect the new facilities.

Admiral Jacobi Given Citation

At the Executive Council meeting of the Michigan Department Reserve Officers Association on Saturday, December 7, Rear Admiral Leor J. Jacobi, of Fisher road, Senior Naval Reserve Officer in the State of Michigan, was awarded the Distinguished Service Citation of the Reserve Officers Association for his outstanding accomplishments on behalf of the Reserve forces of the armed services of the United States.

During the course of his 40-year career in the regular Navy and Naval Reserves, Rear Admiral Jacobi has been an outstanding leader both in Michigan and on the national level in Naval Reserve matters.

Upon his graduation in 1920 from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, and following service in the regular Navy, Rear Admiral Jacobi participated actively in the Naval Reserve at Detroit and went to sea in 1940 as Executive Officer of the U. S. S. Dubuque and subsequently as Staff Engineer Officer of the Service Force, Atlantic Fleet.

Following World War II, Rear Admiral Jacobi became Brigade Commander of the Detroit Naval Reserve with 17 drilling divisions, and superintended the rebuilding and modernization of the interior of the Brodhead Naval Armory.

Since World War II, he has served on several selection boards for the promotion of Naval Reserve officers, has also served as president of the Reserve Retention Board and is presently a member of the Reserve Forces Policy Board which advises the Secretary of Defense on Reserve matters.

Rear Admiral Jacobi also served two years ago as Chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee of the Reserve Officers Association.

TOOL SHANTY PILFERED

An extra watch has been set on the tool shanty, on Lakeland near Mack, owned by Frank J. Knight. Workmen confirm that all was in order when they left the shanty at 4 o'clock that afternoon.

December began the most critical traffic accident month of the year.

Employees Given Awards at Cottage Hospital

At the Cottage Hospital annual employees Christmas party held on December 4 in the employe residence, 158 Ridge road, seven employees received recognition for a total of 85 years of service.

Mrs. John B. Warren of the board of trustees, and S. A. Macy, pharmacist, were co-chairmen of the arrangements for the party.

Service pins and checks were presented by Mrs. Richard P. Joy, a trustee of the hospital.

Those who received 10 year awards are Miss L. Anna Youngs, R.N., director of nursing; Mrs. Margaret McIntosh and Mrs. Olive Duncan, nurse aides; Miss Irene Davis, admitting officer; and Mrs. Margaret Cizmas, cook. A 15 year award was received by William Doyle, housekeeping porter, and Miss Mabel Wright, R.N., a head nurse, received a 20 year award.

Alumni of Three Schools Join Interests for GPUS

John Chandler, Jr., Headmaster of the Grosse Pointe University School, announced the formation of a new Alumni Association on December 9. The membership of the new Association is comprised of all former students of the Detroit University School, (familiarly known in the area as D.U.S.), and all former students of the Grosse Pointe Country Day School, and as well all graduates and former students of the Grosse Pointe University School who are no longer enrolled in a secondary school. New Board Elected Mr. Chandler reported that the first Board of Governors of the new Association, which will be known as the Grosse Pointe University School Alumni Association, is as follows: Doris Ann Shover Brucker, Country Day School '47; Nancy Pierson Gard, Country Day School '47; Susin Gillis, G.P.U.S. '55; Earl Heenan, Jr., D.U.S. '37; Theodore R. Hodges, Jr., D.U.S. '40; Mary Gage Parke, Country Day School '35; Otis U. Walker, D.U.S. '23; John B. Watkins, D.U.S. '41; Charles Wright III, Country Day School '31.

Old friends in the Pointes will remember that in 1942 there was a corporate merger of the Detroit University School with Grosse Pointe Country Day School, the former then being located in Cook road and the latter on Grosse Pointe boulevard next to the High School.

In 1954, with the opening of the new combined school buildings on Cook road, the name was changed to Grosse Pointe University School, and the Boulevard properties were transferred to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

Now Fully Coeducational The new school now operates as a fully coeducational institution from nursery school through high school, and, as its name implies, is principally engaged in preparing students for advanced education at colleges of their choice.

Mr. Chandler reports that the membership of the new association totals in excess of 1725 former students of the schools involved. The old Country Day School and D.U.S. Alumni and Alumnae Associations, the merger of which made the new association possible, are currently supporting seven scholarships at the new school, which it is hoped will be not only continued but increased under the new alumni organization.

Cites Honor Students Students holding these honor scholarships at this time are: Anne Collins, David Hodges, Sally Lewis, William Lewis, Frank Munger, Lynne Randall and Richard Strother.

Credit should also be given, according to Mr. Chandler, for the work of the members of the last Board of the D.U.S. Alumni, especially Dexter Ferry, John Hodges and John McNaughton in completing details of the merger.

Further Mr. Chandler reported that only the interest and loyalty of Country Day School Alumnae made it possible to obtain the cooperation necessary to assure full support for the new association. Prominent among these alumnae were Kay Wood Champion, Mary Thurber Galloway, Mary Dickinson Parke, Mary Margaret Lewis Stockard, Mary Behr Standish, Jerry Sweeney Swan and Mary Doughty Templeton.

Representing Country Day School Alumni and lending their support were James M.

French and William C. McMillan.

State Main Purposes The formal purposes of the new Association are to promote fellowship among its members, foster the Grosse Pointe University School spirit and advance the interests and promote the welfare of the Grosse Pointe University School and its students. Alumni of the three schools are proud of the fact that of last year's graduating class 100 percent were admitted to college. In addition, this fall's football team went undefeated and one member was picked for all-state ranking in his class. For the past two years the school has won the state tennis championship in its class.

The first meeting of the new Board of Governors will be held on January 7 next, to elect officers, attend to financial matters and begin arrangements for a general social meeting of the membership to be held at the school in February.

Nuclear powered merchant ships probably will not be economically feasible within ten years, a University of Michigan marine engineer believes.

Parcells Offers Yule Program

The age-old melodies of Christmas will be sung by more than 100 choral students of Parcells Junior High School, at their annual Christmas concert and P.T.A. Meeting to be held at 8 o'clock, on Friday, December 13.

Participating in the program will be members of the A Chorus, the B Chorus, the Girls' Glee Club, and the Mixed Ensemble. These groups are under the direction of Mr. Donald Simmons. The three student accompanists will be Sue Asmus, Sharon Wright, and Sue Lamont. The winner of the Oral Reading Contest, Dale Anderson, will read from the Bible. Accompanying the singers, at the organ, will be Mrs. Thomas D. Given, a member of the Parcells faculty.

The entire choral group will sing: "Masters in This Hall," "Angels We Have Heard on High," "Good King Wenceslas," and "Silent Night." The A Chorus will feature two numbers, "Over Bethlehem Town," and "Ring Christmas Bells." The small, but especially talented group, the Mixed Ensemble, will present two of the familiar English carols; "The Holly and the Ivy," and "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen." For their part of the program the Girls' Glee Club will sing: "Christmas Dance of the Shepherds," and a Czechoslovakian carol, "Rocking." Teachers, parents, and concert participants will meet for a social hour after the concert, in the gymnasium. Mrs. John Zolad has been preparing special decorations for the reception. Mrs. Frank Bromley is in charge of preparing refreshments. All the room mothers of the seventh grade will be helping as the hospitality committee. Mrs. Frederick Steiner is in charge of these arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Keith Baldwin.

In a brief business meeting which will be held before the concert, Mr. Donald Strand, President, will describe to the parents a project which the Parcells P.T.A. Executive Council has under consideration. Plans are being made to assist Parcells faculty members, who are interested, in finding positions during the summer vacation. The tentative plans will be explained, and there will be opportunity for discussion of the project in the Community Room at the close of the concert.

The concert is open to the public, and all parents are urged to attend this traditional Christmas program.

Cub Scout Pack Has Inspection

Pack 85 of Cub Scouts, wound up the first half of the year with the monthly meeting at Monteith, Tuesday evening, December 3. Every Cub Scout was at his finest, in appearance, as well as deportment, for this was annual inspection night, contesting for the cup awarded the Den whose members are neatest in appearance, wearing uniforms as prescribed, shoes shined, etc.

This year's Den 6 was declared the winner by the judges, who were Marshall Jamison, Principal of Monteith, Charles Hayner, Neighborhood Commission of Boy Scouts and Anthony Jossyns, Boy Scout Leader of Troop 85. Den 6 is composed of Jimmy Churchill, Jeff Cornelius, Richard Comfort, Dale Dietrich, Tommy Dobbie, Tommy Lee and Jimmy Stoetzer.

They are led by Mrs. Gerald Stoetzer, Den Mother. The first half of this year's activities has been co-ordinated by chairman, Jack Train, and has experienced a smooth changeover in Cub Masters. Jack Uner, retiring after several years of devoted work, turned over the Cub Master job to Walt Hammer, who has taken over with enthusiasm.

This year also has seen the membership increase by nearly 50 new Cubs, affording an opportunity for the mothers and dads to lend a hand to a hardworking committee that, without reward or a pat on the back, does so much for these youngsters during these important years.

Youth Guilty Of Vandalism

Theodore J. Pongracz, 17, of 782 Notre Dame, was found guilty of malicious destruction on Saturday, December 7, by Woods Judge Don Goodrow, who ordered the youth to pay a fine of $100, and court costs of $100.

The judge placed the youth on one year probation, during which Pongracz must earn the money for the fine and costs, and prove to the court that the money was earned. He cannot accept money from his parents, or anyone else, to pay the penalties.

Pongracz was arrested by Woods police on November 15, when he was seen acting suspiciously in the Woods Theater parking lot by off-duty Patrolman William Duster, who stopped Patrolman Kenneth Metcalf and Thomas Kerving cruising by in a scout car.

As the officers approached the youth, they saw him throw something under a parked car. They checked and found three side view mirrors, which they said had been taken off cars.

The policemen said they also found four more mirrors on the boy's person, and 20 more, plus a loud speaker from a drive-in theater, in Pongracz' car which was in the lot.

When asked by authorities why he had done what he did, Pongracz replied, "Just for something to do."

PROWLER VANISHES

A call was made to Park police December 4, by Garnet Dickson, who reported that prowlers were tapping on the window of his home at 1008 Whittier. Investigation of the area showed that whoever it was, had left.

Pierce School Vespers Dec. 15

Christmas music has filled the air at Pierce School for the past few weeks. This is the time of year when the choruses and glee clubs are getting in tune for the traditional Christmas Vesper program held annually.

Next Sunday, December 15 at 4 p.m. Mrs. Gwendolyn Behanna will use her baton to direct the 200 voices in song. Kenneth Cook will accompany on the organ.

The exquisite decor of holiday decoration and the beautiful tableaux will set the mood for the program. Mike Balan and Dennis Daniels are chairman of the decorating committee. They are sponsored by Mr. John Mason and have the following students as assistants: Grant Leitch, Ken Hansen, Mary Kay Waindle, Frances Hynes, Ron Johnston, Fred Swartz, Sandra Boyle, Bill Purcell, Vicki Zain, Marilyn Grigsby, Jean Huestis, Gloria Guill, Jack Edelen, Sally Harris, Nancy Coulter, Nancy Bohn, Emily Wallace, Marilyn Self, Ann Huber, Karen Schmidt, Jenny Lungershausen, Alan Andrews, George Baer, Stan Kurtz, Eugene Hawthorne, Diane Hubbard, Dodie Schreiber, Wayne Wilner, Melita Miculs, Elizabeth Blair, Jack Lindquist, Wilson Bell, Brooks Bock, Judy Maynard, Joanne Phillips, Mary Short, Karen Russell, Barb Worzniak and Chris Perkins.

Among the many effects donated by the Parent Teachers Association as sponsor, are the appropriate costumes for the tableaux which are inter-

2,400 Students to Hear Dr. Ian Stuart on Dec. 13

Approximately 2,400 students will gather in a special assembly on December 13 at the Grosse Pointe High School to hear Dr. Ian Stuart speak on "The Miracle of America." Dr. Stuart is community relations director of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, and is acclaimed by the press as "one of the most sought-after inspirational speakers in America."

On behalf of FTD, whose national headquarters are in Detroit, Dr. Stuart annually travels over 60,000 miles by air to address all types of conventions and associations. During the past five years he has addressed half a million students and is often tagged "The Flying Schoolmaster."

Born in Ireland, Ian Stuart is a naturalized American. He is probably the only man who has held executive school posts in three countries—Ireland, England and the United States. He graduated from the University of Dublin with high honors in history, political science and economic history. He is a member of many select societies and the author of several books, including the Simplified Shakespeare Series, the inspirational book, "Thoughts for Johnny," and "Matriculation British History."

A sports enthusiast, Dr. Stuart is one of the few British athletes who holds the equivalent of our All-American in two sports, track and rugby football. Regarded for several years as the outstanding track and rugby football coach in Britain, he introduced rugby football to Harrow School and was selected for the British rugby team which toured South Africa.

Pedestrian Injured By Car

A 76-year-old Woods pedestrian who was hit by a car on Monday, December 9, while crossing Mack avenue at Hampton road, was taken to St. John Hospital with a skull fracture and a small cut on the leg.
Injured was David G. Bradley of 1835 Aline, whom doctors said has a good chance of recovering.
Russell S. Defer, 44, of 38691 Hazel, Mt. Clemens, father of 13 children, and driver of the car, was exonerated after making a statement to Assistant Prosecutor McLellan Manley.
A Woods police report disclosed that Bradley did not cross at the crosswalk, that he crossed the street from between a truck and car at the curb.
Bradley was dropped off on the east side of Mack by his son, Dr. Del Bradley of St. Clair Shores, so he would not have to cross, but the elder Bradley walked to the opposite side of the street to purchase a package of cigars.
Helen Cross of 1624 Brys drive, an employee of the store where Bradley bought the cigars, said she did not see the accident, but heard a thud and when she turned to look, saw the man lying in the street.
Defer said that he was on his way to work at the Ford Motor Company plant in River Rouge, and saw the victim standing between the two parked vehicles, and blew his horn in warning, Bradley, he said, apparently did not hear, and stepped into the path of the car.
Defer said he applied his brakes, but could not stop in time.
Bradley was taken to the hospital by Sgt. Wilbert LeDuke and Patrolman Al Abend.

TANGLE IN PARKING LOT
Elizabeth Brown, of 504 Neff road, smacked into William F. Austin's car in backing out of her meter space last Thursday, December 5, damaging his left rear fender. Mr. Austin, who lives at 15848 Windmill Pointe drive, settled with Mrs. Brown, and there was no issue for a ticket.

GP Yacht Club Holds Election

Charles L. Jacobson, vice-president of dealer relations, Chrysler Corporation, was chosen commodore of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club at the club's annual election Dec. 3.
Mr. Jacobson, of 809 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, was elevated from vice commodore to become GPYC's 25th commodore. He will serve in the top office for the year 1958, succeeding Stark Hickey.
Other officers elected were: Robert F. Weber, vice commodore; William A. Ternes, rear commodore; John R. Wilt, secretary; and Paul I. Moreland, treasurer.
Four directors were chosen to serve for three-year terms: Mr. Ternes and George C. Cossaboom, who were re-elected; Dr. Harold E. Cross, and J. Earl Fraser.
A complimentary dinner for members preceded the 8 o'clock annual meeting.

Library Friends Offering Movies

The Grosse Pointe Public Library, in cooperation with the friends of the Library, will present a film program of interest to all residents of the community, on Friday, December 20 at 8 p.m. The two films which will comprise the program will be the technicolor cartoon from England, "On the Twelfth Day," and the award-winning "Helen Keller in Her Story."

"On the Twelfth Day," a gay and sparkling color short brings the traditional English folk song ("On the First Day of Christmas/My true love sent to me/A partridge in a pear tree") to life in a manner that has enchanted audiences everywhere, from Venice and Edinburgh (where it won honors at their film festivals) to the Plaza Theatre in New York (where it ran for twelve weeks.) Truelove, his girl, the pipers, drummers, doves, geese, hens, and assorted livestock were collectively nominated for an Oscar.

"On the Twelfth Day" was one of the films shown at the Royal Command Performance in 1955.

"Helen Keller in Her Story," as narrated by Miss Katherine Cornell, is a simple, honest, tremendously moving film, in bringing it into being, Miss Cornell, Martha Graham, Gladys Swarthout, and President Eisenhower, gave freely of their time and talents. Helen Keller, playing her own role, surpasses even the greatest actress, as she evokes the personal drama of her unique and dramatic story of courage, faith, perseverance, and hope.

The film traces the astonishing career of Miss Keller from birth until her present age of 77, showing in dramatic detail how the blind, deaf, and mute woman overcame insuperable handicaps to become one of the great world figures. Perhaps nothing better illustrates the power and eloquence of this remarkable film than one passage, haltingly spoken by Miss Keller in her partially developed voice: "It is not blindness or deafness that brings me my darkest hours. It is the acute disappointment of not being able to speak normally. Longingly I feel how much more good I could have done if I had acquired normal speech. But out of this dark experience I understand more fully all human strivings, thwarted ambitions, and the infinite capacity of hope."

Of "Helen Keller in Her Story," actress Mary Martin said at the film's premiere, "Never have I left the theatre with such a feeling of happy excitement."

The two films will be shown in the Meeting Room of the Central Library, located at Kercheval and Fisher. Admission is free, and the program is open to the public.

Adult Education Enrollment High
Adult Education activities have reached a new high in enrollments covering the October-November classes, according to Superintendent Bushong's monthly school report.
Ninety-three classes per week are in operation, with individual enrollments of 2465. These figures do not include bi-monthly Traffic School or "Hot Rod" club meetings.
Adult enrollments at this time last year were 2400 students representing an increase of 65 persons in this semester classes. 83 subjects were offered on the Fall-Winter program.
Several class sections which had been scheduled and partially enrolled had to be cancelled due to the flu epidemic.
The University of Michigan Extension Service served more than 23,000 individuals in 1956-57.

CAP Military Ball Set for Saturday

Pointe Squadron Holding Second Annual Event In Social Room at Ford Auditorium; Queen Will be Selected

Grosse Pointe Squadron 6365 has completed plans for its Second Annual Civil Air Patrol Military Ball to be held Saturday at 8:30 o'clock in the Social Room at the Ford Auditorium, E. Jefferson at Woodward.

Dancing to Fred Netting's Orchestra, listening to Janie Palmer entertain with her lovely songs, winning door prizes, waiting for the mystery guest to appear and enjoying light refreshments are only part of the evening's activities. At 10 o'clock the winner of the Queen's Contest will be revealed and after being officially crowned and presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses, courtesy of Allied Florist's Association, and a $25.00 gift certificate, the lady of the evening will lead the grand march, escorted by "Bobbin with Robin" Seymour of Radio Station WKMH.

The queen will be chosen from among Civil Air Patrol members between the ages of 15 and 21 and while beauty, poise, neatness and personality will be important factors in the selection, the ability to converse intelligently about the history, purpose, goal and activities of Civil Air Patrol is also requisite.

Judges for the contest the night of the ball will be Mr. Norbert Neff, city manager of the City of Grosse Pointe; Col. Robert J. Anderson, Exec. Officer, Wing Headquarters; Capt. James O. Schiller, U.S. A.F.; Jerry Bell, Sales Mgr. of Havelt Advertising Services; and Sgt. 1st Class George Durkee, R.O.T.C. Instructor at Cass Tech. High School.

Chaperons for the evening will be Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Dobrei, Wing Headquarters; Lt. and Mrs. Clayton J. Perry of Grosse Pointe, the local squadron's Chaplain; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott, formerly of Grosse Pointe.

Civil Air Patrol Cadets, as well as all teen-agers in the metropolitan area, have been invited to join Grosse Pointe Squadron in a gala evening celebrating C.A.P.'s Sixteenth Anniversary. Tickets are $3.00 per couple and may be purchased at the door the night of the ball or by calling TU 2-7424.

More Traffic Tickets Issued

Detroit police have stepped up their issuance of traffic tickets nine per cent in the past eight weeks, following a directive from Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins that they redouble their efforts to keep down traffic accidents in this most dangerous accident period of the year.

Detroit police issued 84,179 moving and pedestrian violation tickets in the period between October 10 and December 1 this year, according to figures released by Deputy Superintendent Miles Furlong. It was on October 10 that Commissioner Piggins issued his directive.

In the eight-week period prior to October 10, police handed out 77,575 tickets, Furlong said. From October 10 to December 1, 1956, police issued 76,510 tickets or 7,669 tickets fewer, he added.

"In this most critical accident period of the year, our enforcement efforts have gone up impressively following the Commissioner's directive," Furlong said. "Our officers are being urged to continue and even step up their efforts in December, which is the worst accident month of the year. It is well known that as enforcement goes up, accidents come down."

Detroit fatal accidents this year are about six per cent lower than in 1956, when Detroit established its best record since accurate records were started 33 years previously.

On another traffic enforcement front, Traffic Judges George T. Murphy and John D. Watts issued their annual Christmas holiday warning that "Drunk Drivers Go To Jail."

"Traffic Court throughout the year deals sternly with motorists convicted of drunken driving, as well as with other flagrant violators," they said. "During the Christmas season, however, when drinking reaches its peak and other accident factors become most critical, we feel that a much more severe penalty is required for the motorist who drinks to excess and then drives."

"Accordingly, all drivers convicted of drunken driving during the holiday season will receive straight jail sentences, without the alternative of paying a fine. Such persons, under State law, also automatically lose their license for 90 days and must establish financial responsibility before they can get them back," they said.

"In other violations where drinking is a factor, those convicted can be certain their sentences will be more severe than if no drinking was involved," the judges concluded.

TO ENLARGE HOSPITAL,

Mercy Hall, Detroit's 26-year-old charitable hospital, today announced plans for converting the Sacred Heart convent and academy building on Woodrow Wilson into the state's largest hospital dedicated to the chronically ill at a cost of nearly $3 Million. Miss Lorettamary Gibson, co-founder and administrator of Mercy Hall, 269 Mack, said purchase of the four-acre convent property has been completed and that remodeling will begin at the end of the school year in June.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Swept-Wing '58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in looks. Some of them are "almost" going to fins, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sway-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Torsion-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Swept-Wing '58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

This is the second consecutive year that Kerby has achieved the distinction and Principal Homeier reported last week that the freedom from traffic accidents period then extended over 912 days. Letter Carriers 'Given Mailsters'

In the event that any of you are wondering what the funny little car is that has been passing your home for the past few days, it is the Post Office's brand new delivery car, "The Mailster."
At the unveiling ceremony at the Grosse Pointe Post Office last Monday, Leland Lindow, station superintendent, and Leonard Hepp, superintendent of delivery, said there are 35 vehicles of this type now in operation, 14 of which are at the Grosse Pointe Station.
The Mailster, (or Mighty-Midget, as it is sometimes called), is a three-wheeler car, and is equipped with a 1 cylinder, 4 cycle engine, capable of getting anywhere from 35 to 40 miles per gallon of gas.
The car measures 100 inches in length, is 50 inches wide, and can complete a 180 degree turn in the short space of 8 feet.
According to Edward L. Baker, Postmaster for Detroit, this is just one more of the many steps by the Post Office to speed up delivery, thus giving better service to all, while helping the carriers.

Park Gamblers Found Guilty

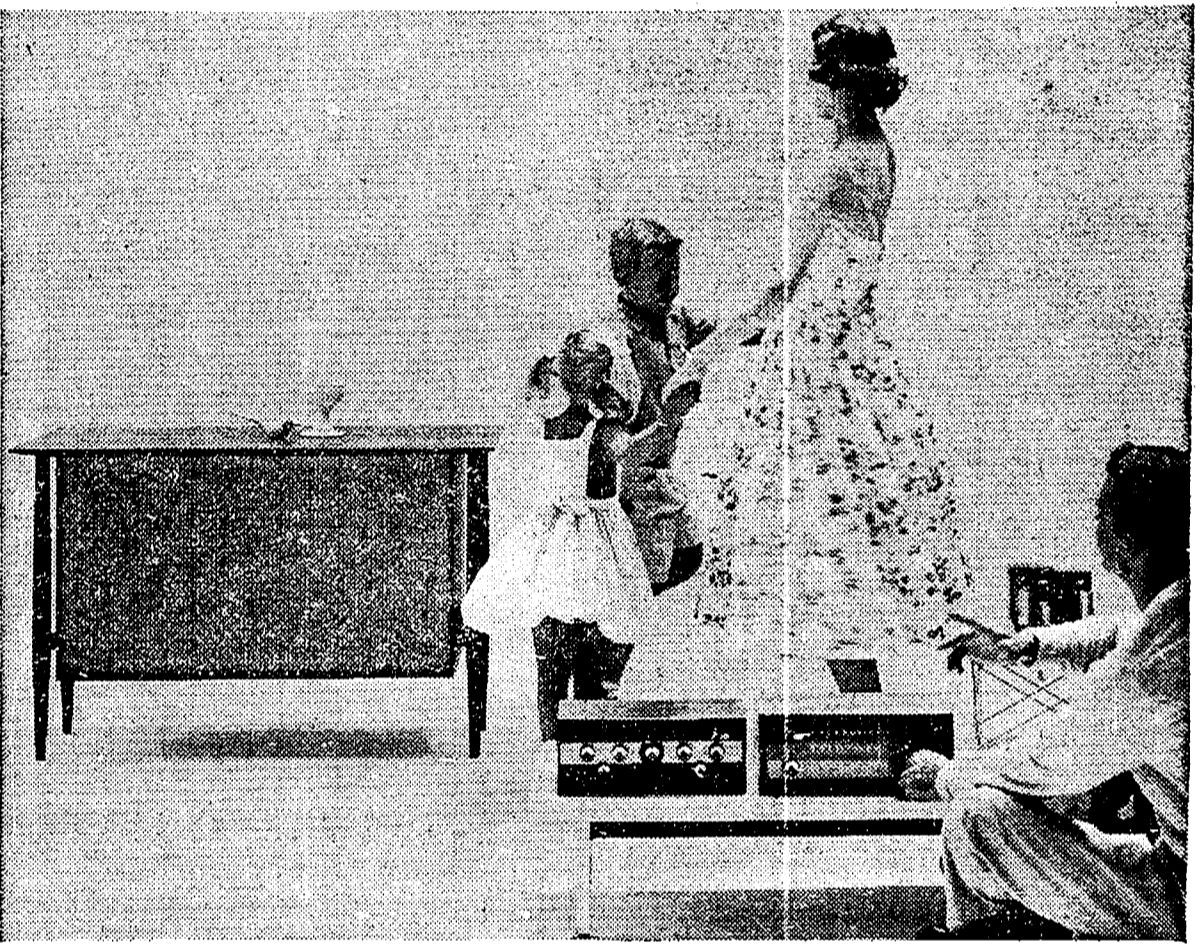

Two employees of a Park beer store were found guilty of gambling by City Judge Douglas Paterson on Wednesday, December 4, and were fined $100 each, with an alternative of 10 days in the Wayne County Jail.
The judge presided in the absence of Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger.
Found guilty of violating the State gambling laws were, Arthur Backus, 41, of 2527 Newport, Detroit; and Jack Lowe, 41, of 1014 Beaconsfield.
James N. McNally, attorney for the two men, filed an appeal, and said he will petition the case be heard in the Wayne County Circuit Court.
Arrest of Backus and Lowe was made on November 8, by Park policemen, who heard horse racing bets being placed over the phone while they were in the place.
The officers confiscated gambling paraphernalia and two telephones, and took the two men to the station and charged them with being disorderly persons and engaging in an illegal occupation.
If the conviction stands, the owner of the store, Casimir Marzekko of St. Clair Shores, although not aware of what was going on, will be cited before the Liquor Control Commission because the liquor license is in his name, police said.

Look for Seal Before Buying

Look for the seal of approval before buying appliances or other merchandise operated by electricity or gas, the Michigan Department of Health recommended today.

The Underwriters' Laboratories seal of approval can be used with safety, the department said. The seal indicates there is no danger of electrical shock in normal use.

Cooking stoves, space heaters and other gas devices which carry the approval of the American Gas Association can be used with safety, the department added.

The seals of both the Underwriters' Laboratories and the American Gas Association indicate, the health department said, that the item approved has been rigorously examined by an independent testing laboratory and has been found safe.

Holidays Bring More Accidents

Santa Claus does not want to bring accidents but—statistics of nationwide accident records show that you are 42 per cent more likely to be injured during December and the Christmas-New Year season than during any other month of the year.

Christmas shopping. Shop with more leisure and less rush. Carefully inspect all gifts before purchasing, especially for children. Are they safety approved? Are they such that they cannot cause injury?

Will teen-agers home for the holidays handle the car sensibly? Will the driver remain sober when the car is used for attending parties? Will extra care and caution be taken when driving in bad weather? Have fun at family and social gatherings, but get enough sleep and rest between parties. Finally, if you are planning a hospital visit, make sure that you go for the purpose of cheering up other patients, not as an injury victim yourself.

Saints are sinners who keep on trying.

The Institute for Safer Living lists the following reasons why injuries resulting from accidents increase during the holiday season: (1) Increased physical fatigue due to shopping, house cleaning, decorating, and holiday parties. (2) More people driving on congested roads, often in bad weather, or having a few drinks. (3) Use of flammable or otherwise unsafe decorations. (4) Failure to select safe toys for children. (5) A general carefree spirit that often causes potential accident victims to let their guard down.

The build-up to a holiday accident often starts two to three weeks before Christmas, according to the institute. It is then that the fevered rush to welcome the jolly gentleman with the white whiskers really begins.

Following are some suggestions which will help you to reduce holiday accidents: Get an early start with your

Give your house and premises a thorough safety inspection before the holidays start. Eliminate all possible sources of trouble such as loose steps, protruding nails, defective furniture, and accumulations of rubbish. Plan your Christmas decorations for rooms and trees. Have a safe step ladder handy for reaching high places. Give some serious thought to safe use of the family car.

Center to Fete New Residents

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will repeat its custom of inviting all who have recently come to the Pointes from foreign shores to be entertained by the Center at a Nationality Party and Supper. Any persons who have just recently arrived in the community from abroad are welcome, this Sunday, December 15, from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Robert H. Patterson as in the past will be general chairman of the affair. Assisting her will be Mrs. Robert Sucek and her son Alex, Mrs. John H. Marshall, and Suzanne Souder and a group from the Memorial's Center Club including Ann Brown, Audrey Moss, George Malcolmson and John Logan.

The guests will be entertained by games, movies in color of the growth of Detroit shown by Pierre Palmentier, musical selections, a festive candlelit supper, and the singing of Christmas Carols around the Center's big tree.

G.P.U.S. News Notes

In last Friday night's successful presentation of the operetta, "The Twelve Dancing Princesses," at Grosse Pointe University School, here are some of the people who made things "tick" backstage: Bruce Gillis, stage manager; stage set: Bruce Pharis, Chip Munger, and Bud Lott; lights: Bill Turner, Noel Savignac, and Tom Whyte; sound: John Evans; in charge of cast: Don Owens; set design: Marcia Macdonald, Elizabeth Leach, and Penny Langston; makeup: Anne Collins, Joyce Green, Patti Dockson, Lynn Hallett, Elizabeth Leach, Ann Pongrace, Julie Schneck, Carolyn Jacobson, Jane Peirce, and Robin Harris.

Ushers were Laura Ford, Susan Ford, Betty Webber, Laura Denison, Dodo Whitehead, Happy Endjott, Mary Barr and Nancy Fisher.

Anne Collins designed the cover for the program and Mrs. Harold E. Walton directed the work of a group of mothers who helped produce many of the costumes used by the 7th and 8th graders who were the actors and actresses.

For the second consecutive year, the Hamtramck High School Choir presented a program of Christmas music on Tuesday, December 3, before an assembly of Upper School students. The more than 80 young singers were led by Mr. Robert Braman, Director of Music at Hamtramck High. They were applauded enthusiastically by a very attentive G.P.U.S. audience. The choristers sing before many groups during the Christmas season and will perform this year at the County Building. The program was arranged through the courtesy of Mr. Henry Collins, Principal of Hamtramck High School at G.P.U.S., and their daughter, Anne, is in the senior class.

Glynn Conley of the 11th grade has been elected secretary of the Junior Round Table of Metropolitan Detroit. This is a city-wide organization of high school students from public, parochial, and independent schools. As an affiliate of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the Round Table seeks to further inter-group will in all phases of American life.

Dr. James M. Fisher, school physician at G.P.U.S., addressed an Upper School assembly recently and described necessary basic attitudes toward good health.

The 9th grade girls presented a chapel program on Friday, December 6, in addition to readings appropriate for the Christmas season, the whole class sang hymns under the direction of Mr. David Arner and with Miss Mary Perkins as accompanist. Those who gave readings were Cindy Beeman, Susan Daume, Polly Kammer, and Jean Templeton. Miss Elizabeth Ferguson aided the class in planning the program.

Mr. John Mumford, a 1922 graduate of Detroit University School, addressed an Upper School assembly at G.P.U.S. last week.

Mr. Mulford, who was captain of the varsity football team when he attended D.U.S., illustrated his remarks by a motion picture dealing with Central America and its volcanoes.

Mr. Mulford attributed his interest in volcanoes, which have been his continuing and eagerly pursued avocation since his school days, to the enthusiasm engendered for the subject by his D.U.S. teacher of science, Mr. Donald McNeil.

The varsity basketball team opened its season last Friday by winning 39-33 over Thurston. The reserve squad lost a close game, 27-24. The high spot of the afternoon was in the energetic cheering in evidence from the spectators supporting both teams. The enthusiasm that began with G.P.U.S.'s undefeated football season this fall seems to have caught on permanently.

Mrs. Jennifer Pethick, who is on the staff of the Nursery School, is also offering instruction to Upper School girls and to the girls of grades 4, 5, and 6 in creative dancing. The process of listening intelligently to music and of then interpreting it in the dance is Mrs. Pethick's goal. She has already been working in this field with the little children of the Nursery School.

Hotel Elevator Imprisons Dozen

Several Grosse Pointers suffered an ordeal last Friday night when they were trapped in an elevator, stopped between floors in the Park Sheraton hotel.

Enroute to a reception being held on an upper floor, three men and nine women spent 20 minutes waiting for the hotel engineer to find a way to restore power to the crippled lift.

In an area not over six feet square, with no ventilation the occupants soon began to feel faint, but a former Girl Scout leader in the group produced a small bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia—a good deed, indeed. All removed their coats and, had the ordeal lasted much longer, a strip-tease might have been in order.

Finally a door was opened from the outside, on the floor above, a small step-ladder stool was lowered, and with a bit of ticklish gymnastics for the older victims, and a tight squeeze on the part of all through a small opening, each one, in turn, climbed to safety—and fresh air.

Happily, there was no panic at any time in the group—though, certainly, the experi-

Death Car Driver Arrested Again

Donald Eugene Marble, the man who hit and killed Margaret Wade at the corner of Jefferson and Roosevelt two years ago, was picked up by City police early last Friday morning. He had run into two parked cars while driving east on Mack avenue. He had been drinking, the police report. Both automobiles are owned by Edmond Van Biervliet, 17465 Mack avenue. Marble was ticked on two accounts — for reckless driving and for driving without an operator's permit. His old one had expired. He was released on $100 bond and was to appear before Judge Patterson Tuesday night in Traffic Court.

Do It the Easy Way

We took in Men's Night in "The Village" Monday and were glad once again that we live in the Pointe. It is doubtful whether any other community in the country does as much to make shopping not only easy, but extremely pleasant. And in setting aside this special occasion for the males, the shops are really doing the women a favor too. Loads of the men get their gift-buying over with, or the bulk of it completed on this night, leaving the stores far less cluttered for the ladies during the remainder of the usually frantic pre-Christmas period.

The yuletide knights turned out in droves Monday night, but all the stores were ready for them and there was no confusion. Extra sales personnel and professional gift wrappers saw to it that the men got what they were looking for in a hurry, and beautifully packaged ready to place under the tree.

Music filled the air and the stores never looked quite as gay, inside and out. There were free cigars and coffee and many samples were being handed out, and there was even a whale of an automobile show thrown in. The entire three blocks of Kercheval avenue in the shopping district had been roped off. New cars of every make and model were wheeled in and lined up on both sides of the street, allowing the men a close view of Motordom's entire offering for 1958.

While we were wandering around, visiting with friends and getting a lot of shopping out of the way, we couldn't help but think of the poor souls who are faced with the terrifying prospect of having to get their gift purchasing done in New York. With the subway strike on, Manhattan has indeed become more Madhattan than ever. Some of our friends went east last week, for a "shopping spree." They happened to choose Wednesday to fly to New York, at 9:30 a.m.

Of course it snowed and it snowed that day, all through the east. So the plane circled and circled and finally put down at Allentown, Pa., 75 miles from Gotham Town. A Drive-It-Yourself was hired there and the gay shoppers set off. It only took nine and a half hours to make those 75 miles, driving under the worst possible conditions and passing literally thousands of cars that were stuck in the drifts. The merry party arrived at 10:30 that night, utterly exhausted and anything but prepared to tackle the crowded stores the following day.

What a far cry from the pleasures derived Monday night while checking off the gift list right here at home in a spirit of camaraderie and relaxation. It's fun to shop any day in any of the Pointe business areas. Within minutes of one's home there is ample parking space close by all the stores, great stocks of gifts from which to choose, familiar faces all around. And the purchases arrive where they are wanted on time, avoiding those last minute moments of agony when counted-on packages get snarled up in the mail, or a distressing note informs one that the supply of this or that particular item has been exhausted... even as you.

Letters to the Editor

December 6, 1957 To the Editor: I wish to commend you for publishing the report by Dan Smoot on our "Social Security's Insecurity" as it appeared in the Dec. 5 issue of the Grosse Pointe News. It is encouraging to find our local paper attempting to alert the citizenry to this matter which vitally affects our future economy. The plan offered by Individuals For Freedom should be given serious consideration by our Congressmen. Mrs. Jacob Wenzel

Grosse- Exaggerations A. PRYOR

"I was so chill, and overworn and sad, To be a lady was the only joy I had, I walked the street as silent as a mouse, Buying fine clothes, and fittings for the house. But since I saw my love I wear a simple dress, And happily I move, Forgetting weariness."

(Anna Wickham)

This is strictly for Civic workers, Lady Club members, Board members et al. A woman who is on more Boards than one can shake a stick at... had quite a few of the "lady board members" at her own house for meetings this past year... thereby teaching her ten year old daughter a thing or two when that little moppet happened to eavesdrop on the gatherings.

Our heroine happened to arrive home one late afternoon when her pig-tailer was entertaining a group of neighborhood companions. Mother overheard her say: "Now we will play board meeting. The one who can write the best will be the secretary; the one who can add the best will be the treasurer... and the rest of us who don't know anything can be President or vice-president."

A number of Grosse Pointers went through a harrowing experience last week at a downtown hotel. We suggest if you have claustrophobia, that you skip this paragraph! Twelve people were stuck in an elevator between the fifth and sixth floors for at least 20 minutes. The stealthy feeling of panic began to develop when the elevator operator kept pressing buttons and looking paler by the minute, as nothing happened.

The heroine of the piece happened to be an elderly woman from the Pointe who just happened to have a bottle of Aromatic Spirits of Ammonia in her handbag. The air became stifling and still no action. Finally one woman said: "I believe I'm going to faint!" This fainted Madame of her ammonia... which she passed around to everyone thus saving the situation. During the sniffling of the "spirits"... our local gal kept a running commentary on things designed to make people smile... until FINALLY the elevator managed to rise about 2 feet above the sixth floor.

Subsequently a small step ladder was squeezed between the shallow opening and all hands crawled out to safety. The part we like (and if this ain't old pioneer stock, we'll eat the G.P. News)... is the elderly lady who has to walk with a cane... insisted that the others get out first! She stayed until the last and made no sound as she was painfully helped through the aperture... cane, game leg and all. Our topper is off to this woman whose fortitude we'd give a lot to possess.

This little story touched our hearts, and seemed to embody the true spirit of Christmas, all too absent in our present interpretation of the Yule season. Hope you feel the same way...

It seems the day Santa Claus was to make his original appearance at his new Headquarters, down in "The Village," word had spread far and wide, for children flowed in from all five Pointes to form a lengthy line in anticipation of the great man.

A local policeman and city official enroute to witness the heartwarming scene, spotted a crippled child making his way as fast as his little crutches could carry him toward the merry mecca. The two men picked the little boy up in the scout car and when Santa arrived at his house there was Wee Willie, perched high on the big throne, and nearly bursting at the prospect of his private interview. It's hard to say who was more thrilled with this wonderful experience—the child, Santa Claus—or the men who made it possible.

Ford to Repeat Teeners' Parley

The National Teen-Age Press Conference, held this year on an experimental basis, will be sponsored again next fall by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company, Henry Ford II, president, announced.

Mr. Ford said the division had decided to sponsor the event again because of the enthusiasm shown by the youths and the participating newspapers. The conference was attended by 135 youths, each representing a major U.S. newspaper. Most newspapers selected their representatives through a local contest designed to single out a teen-ager demonstrating outstanding aptitude for a newspaper career.

Once the young reporters arrived in Detroit, they were given the same editorial freedom enjoyed by the 200 adult press members who also attended. The conference was held in conjunction with the 1958 Ford Press Preview.

A competition was held among the youths attending the conference with five, as selected by three newspaper publishers, winning awards ranging from a full four-year college scholarship down to an $800 college scholarship for fifth place. First place was won by Miss Frances Brown, 17, representing the Los Angeles Herald and Express.

Home Care for Mental Patients

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

Fortunately society is beginning to recognize mental patients for what they are, persons suffering from a serious illness. Doctors realize that these patients need the interest and attention of others as well as medical treatment. Because mental hospitals are so crowded many mental patients must be cared for at home. If the family learns something of the patient's illness from the doctor and tries to be helpful and considerate life is easier for all concerned. For all medicine prescribed by your doctor rely on a skilled, experienced pharmacist.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

If you like books with an American background, a recent publication, American Panorama edited by Eric Larabee, offers some excellent suggestions for your reading program. This lists 530 books which deal with the United States in its many aspects, both past and present.

There are no actual excerpts from the books mentioned but rather, short, one-page descriptive and critical essays about each book by fifteen American critics, Jacques Barzun, Carl Carmer, Clifton Fadiman, Mark Van Doren et al. These are written to stimulate interest in the books themselves, and in most cases achieve this purpose.

This project was undertaken by the Carnegie Corporation to provide a picture of present-day American civilization and its origins. While the list itself was originally intended for outside the United States, to promote understanding of this country, it can be used here as a basis for reading courses, for the home library or for individual guidance.

The President of the Carnegie Corporation says in his foreword, "We sought a list of three to four hundred books illustrative not only of good American writing but the entire range of American thought and behavior, books which taken together would present a kind of portrait of America—its past and its present, its daily life and its dreams, its avenues and its alleys, its economy and its art."

Everyone comes to an occasional impasse in his reading when the modern things and the old favorites too seem to pall. Perhaps that's the time to forget about the printed page for a period and come back later refreshed and eager again, or perhaps your literary taste buds need just the stimulation this book suggests.

We have found it an interesting volume to leaf through, and we think you will too. There is infinite variety in the books mentioned, biography, history, music, art, poetry, fiction, the old with the new. You are bound to say, of course, "Why did they include this?"—and "How did they come to omit that?" That's half the fun of this sort of thing. However, if you would like to do some guided reading about our American culture, you'll find this an excellent springboard.

In the children's record collection at the Library are several recordings appropriate for this season of the year.

A well-adapted dramatization of "Dickens's Christmas Carol" stars Basil Rathbone as Scrooge.

Menotti's opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors"—the mischievous halving of a little lame boy, and his meeting the Three Wise Men—will delight the entire family.

The album, "Music at Christmas Time," includes 19 Christmas songs and choruses with orchestral accompaniment.

"The Story of the Music Box," which contains some music, Fred Waring's interpretation of "The Night Before Christmas" and "Carols from the Long Christmas" are also fun to use at holiday time.

These records circulate free of charge for a seven day period.

Pointer Elected Governor As Youth Take Over State

By TOM WELLS Press Secretary of Detroit Metropolitan Area Last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the State Capitol at Lansing was taken over by more than 300 boys and girls representing the tenth annual Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y legislature. The purpose of this mock legislature is to teach democracy and let every generation have a chance to practice it.

The activities began Thursday night, December 5, with the election of a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Speaker of the House, chosen by the representatives and senators.

In the nine preceding legislatures, only one candidate from the metropolitan Detroit area has been elected to the office of Governor, a boy attending Grosse Pointe High eight years ago. This year, John Davidson, 16 year old Junior attending Grosse Pointe High School, achieved that same honor.

Beating out three other candidates, John, now named "Sudsy", was elected by merit of an excellent extemporaneous speech.

A junior from Cadillac, Melissa Tournberg, was the only girl candidate and was chosen for the office of Lieutenant Governor. Ronald Gervais, a Lansing junior, was elected to the office of Speaker of the House.

The three elected officers were then given the oath of office by Supreme Court Justice of the State of Michigan Leland Carr.

Friday morning the legislature opened with a speech by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, in which he urged the boys and girls to act seriously and commended them on their work so far.

Each Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y club presented a bill upon which the two houses acted. All day Friday and Saturday morning were spent on the passing and "pigeon holing" of the 64 bills presented. Only three bills passed both houses, and all three were signed by Governor Davidson.

One of these bills was presented by Blue Hi-Y of Grosse Pointe High. It was to raise the age for obtaining a driver's license for a motor scooter to 16.

The second bill was presented by the Lansing Hi-Y of the school for the blind. It made it mandatory to have a registered optometrist, ophthalmologist or oculist to buy a pair of glasses.

The third bill was to make all people renewing their driver's license take a driver's test similar to the one given to people applying for a new license.

Although these three bills passed quickly, much debate centered around a bill to set up a three level academic system in each grade and a bill to abolish labor unions.

When the House of Representatives and Senate were in session, no matter how heated the arguments became, every representative and senator acted with decorum and according to the rules of parliamentary procedure, even though it seemed at times as if their life depended on the passage of their bill.

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the presiding ended with a final word from Governor Davidson. Everyone left the Capitol a better informed student of our democratic system.

BACKS INTO STORE

No aspersions about women drivers, please, but—Mr. Wilcox the Manager of the Himeloch Bros. store in the village, reported to City police last week that a motorist had backed out of a parking lot, and into the store's plate glass window—smashing same into smithereens. Mrs. Helen G. Bell, of 214 McKinley avenue, is wearing the red face—and her insurance company is handling the rest.

Class Predicts Pointe Growth

A recent article predicting Michigan's population for 1970 has inspired the 8B-12 Mathematics class of Parcels Junior High School to try to do some predicting about the population of the Grosse Pointe community.

Graphing statistics have led the class to prepare graphs of the populations of all five Grosse Pointes from 1920 to 1950. From a study of these graphs they have extended the trend line so that they can read probable population for 1958 and 1960.

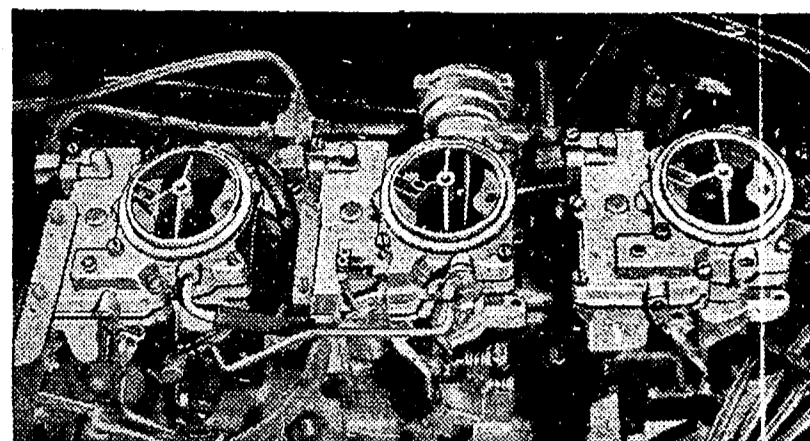

One of the aids in the work has been the Board of Education's school census figures for the past seven years.

According to the facts and figures, the class predicts a population for 1960 of around 60,000. The present population is 55,396.

The 1958 population prediction is 57,500 which the class will be able to verify in June when the next school census is taken.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

There are just two week-ends left to cram in all the parties and convivial spirits that abound before Christmas. All sorts of holly and mistletoe decking is going on in homes about the Pointe with generous hosts trimming mantel and hearth before the great day and inviting friends in to share the spectacle.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. White have chosen the Yule season for their first big party in the Provencal home they moved into last March. The house was formerly owned by the Richard P. Joys, Jr., and this will be the Whites' first holiday in the lovely mansion.

They have invited a huge host for cocktails on that most sought after date on the Christmas calendar . . . Saturday, the 21st. Many a wassail will be poured that eve and many a turkey carved for guests, a great number of whom will go on to the traditional Yale dance at the Chum Club.

The Whites will serve supper to those who can stay and later there will be dancing to their fabulous hi-fi music, which is piped throughout the house.

Small Hospital Patients Cheered

Along with their own gift shopping and party going Sigma Gamma members have taken time out to prepare some Yuletide cheer for the children who are patients at the Orthopedic Hospital.

Last Saturday the group gathered to decorate the tree, wrap presents and address cards under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Gordon Weller and Mrs. Arthur H. Davis. Yesterday and next Wednesday the gifts will be handed to the small patients when they make their weekly trips to the hospital. Mrs. George E. Brand, Jr., and Mrs. Peter P. Thurber are other Sigma Gamma members who helped with the Christmas project.

Mrs. John B. Ford III, who handles all the Sigma Gamma public relations and called to relate the news of the hospital party, has a birthday in December. She and Mr. Ford took off for New York last week to celebrate the anniversary and also to do some last minute gift searching.

Another pair in the Big City to mark an anniversary, their 15th wedded year, were Mr. and Mrs. James N. Mitschall. They shopped and did the theater before returning to Christmas at Kenwood court.

A Welcoming Hand

Welcoming new neighbors is all part of the Christmas spirit, believes Mrs. William R. Witherell, Jr. The Witherells moved last summer from their Roosevelt place home to a new address in Rivard and their former home is being occupied by the Albert Tiptons.

The Tiptons are a fascinating pair, he playing first flute with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Mrs. T. being a pianist of note. They summer in Aspen, Colo., where they have a small orchestra too.

Today Mrs. Witherell has invited a group to a kaffee klatch to meet Mrs. Tipton. And on December 17 Mrs. Witherell will again entertain for someone else . . .

Symphony to Do Berlioz

Hector Berlioz' Sacred Trilogy "L'Enfance du Christ" ("The Infant Christ") will make up the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's entire program Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Ford auditorium. Paul Paray will conduct.

Berlioz drew his subject material for the great choral work from the Second Chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, relating the story in his own words. The 300-voice Rackham Symphony Choir, trained by Maynard Klein, will be featured in the performance.

The orchestra will present the original television cast in a staged production of Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" Sunday, December 15, at 3:30 p.m. in the Ford auditorium. Valter Poole will conduct the program which includes Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro," Humperdinck's Dream, Pantomime from "Hansel and Gretel," and Dukas' Sorcerer's Apprentice.

"Amahl" has become a tradition for television at Christmas time since its premiere in 1951. The cast appearing in Detroit will be the same as for the scheduled television offering Christmas Eve this year and includes Kirk Jordan as Amahl, Rosemary Kuhman as his mother, Andrew McKinley as King Melchior, David Aiken as King Gaspar, and Leon Lishner as King Balthazar.

The cast will be augmented by three dancers trained by Detroit's Sandra Severo and 16 voices from the Rackham Symphony Choir trained by Kenneth Jewell.

Sweeney to Conduct Memorial Concert

Will Honor his Former Friend and Mentor, Victor Kolar When He Directs Detroit Women's Symphony This Saturday

A farewell to his friend, teacher and mentor will be conducted by John Sweeney, of Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods, when he directs the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra Saturday, December 14, in a program dedicated to the late Victor Kolar.

Conducting Mr. Kolar's compositions from his own manuscripts, Mr. Sweeney will also use his former teacher's baton and the cufflinks he wore at all his concerts.

Mr. Kolar, a musician of international reputation and a prominent figure in Detroit's musical life for over 30 years, died last June at the age of 69. He had been the only conductor to direct the Women's Symphony, composed of Detroit's leading women musicians, during its 10 years of existence.

Mr. Sweeney, permanent conductor of the Mount Clemens Symphony Orchestra and the International Symphony Orchestra of Sarnia-Port Huron, was chosen as the first guest conductor to appear with the Women's Symphony for this special memorial program.

The concert, which features Miss Eleanor Lipkin, pianist, as guest soloist, will be given at 8:30 p.m. in the main auditorium of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The baton and cufflinks were given to Mr. Sweeney shortly after Mr. Kolar's death by his widow. The cufflinks, which Mr. Kolar never failed to wear at each concert for 20 years, were, in turn, given to him by Ossip Gabrilowitsch, former conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Sweeney will conduct from Mr. Kolar's own manuscript a work entitled "In Memory of a Friend," which he wrote in 1924 following the death of Victor Herbert.

He will also perform one of Mr. Kolar's last compositions, "Portrait of a Lady," dedicated to Mr. Kolar's wife, Lillian, who will be present in the audience.

Pieces long associated with Victor Kolar, such as the "Children's Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel," theme song of the Ford Sunday Evening Hour, which Mr. Kolar conducted for many years, will be included in the program.

Other works, Haydn's "London" Symphony and Komzak's rarely heard "Bad'ner Mad'l'n" Waltz, were chosen for Women's Symphony concerts by Mr. Kolar shortly before his death.

Miss Lipkin, noted Detroit pianist who was so enthusiastically received this fall in recital at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, will play Mendelssohn's G minor piano concerto.

Yale University alumni are moving into high gear with plans for the 11th annual dance to be held December 21 at the Country Club.

To Have Dance At Lakepointe

A nine piece New York orchestra will be flown here this weekend to supply the music for Lakepointe Golf Club's Pre-Christmas dinner dance, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Gene Charles is chairman of the entertainment committee.

The committee assisting Mrs. Charles includes Mrs. W. Clyde Nau, Mrs. J. Pearson Stanley and Mrs. Arthur Davis who are busy this week directing the decorations of the clubhouse in Masonic Blvd., St. Clair Shores.

The orchestra is known as the Sax-O-Tones and produces music of the famous Glenn Miller variety. Dinner for the evening will be served buffet style.

Weekend Roundup

The coming week-end is packed with parties, too. On Saturday the Charles H. Fleethers, Jr., of Rivard boulevard, have bid friends to cocktails. That same evening the Herman Wecklers will give a dinner dance at the Hunt Club.

And on Sunday the bachelors will be host in the famous Shang-ri-la annex at a cocktail party. The quartet responsible for mixing the grog are Phil Schnell, Reg Weller, Skip Weymouth and John Cooper.

The holiday and a wedding anniversary are the reasons for a party fast becoming a tradition in the James E. Gibson home in Lincoln road. They will mark both occasions with a tree-trimming party on Thursday, December 19. That same evening they will light the lovely star on the top of the tallest evergreen on their lawn, a gracious and heartwarming Yule custom that began in the days when Murray Sales owned the property.

Next Saturday the Charles McFeelys will give a dinner in their lakeshore road home before the Yale dance and this is their last party of the season. Two days after Christmas they will all leave (they have three sons and a daughter) for Del Ray, Fla. where they will stay for two weeks with Mrs. McFeely's parents, the W. C. Mudgetts, formerly of Pittsburg, who now make their home in Florida.

Last Minute Calendar Notes

Continuing the party marathon on Sunday, the 22nd, Mrs. Sterling Dockson will have a luncheon at the Hunt Club and later on that day Mr. and Mrs. John Lord will be cocktail hosts in their Touraine road home. Sunday is the date of the Little Club's Teen age dance at the Little Club, too.

On Monday, December 23 the David Wallaces will leave their Lewiston road home bound for Charlottesville, Va., where they will be the Christmas guests of the Leigh Middleitches. From Virginia the Wallaces will go directly to their Del Ray, Fla., winter home.

Wedding, Anniversary and Reunion

When Bert H. Wicking, Jr., learned that his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Pittman Blackmon were coming home for Christmas from Montgomery, Ala., he made up his mind that a family reunion was the time for a wedding.

Bert and his fiancée, Janet Hoelzer, daughter of the E. John Hoelzers, of Clinton, Mich., have decided December 28 is the perfect day for this is also the fourth anniversary of the Blackmons' wedding.

They will be married at a quiet afternoon ceremony in the First Congregational Church of Clinton. Also present for the wedding will be the prospective bridegroom's other brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Webster B. Knight III, of Barrington road; Mr. Wicking is the son of the Bert Harrison Wickings, of Trombley road.

New Nursery Opened At Calvary Lutheran

Calvary Lutheran Church, Gateshead at Mack avenue, has opened a nursery for children to six years of age in the recreation room of the parsonage, 5060 Gateshead at Frankfort.

Institute Gets New Collection

A treasury of works of the medieval, renaissance and later periods from the famed William Randolph Hearst collection has been purchased for the Detroit Institute of Arts. Donors of $35,000 for the purchase are members of the A-T Commission, Mrs. Edsel B. Ford, K. T. Keller and James S. Whitcomb. William T. Bostick, Institute secretary, said the objects purchased were valued at about $100,000 and that the Institute was grateful for the reasonable price from the Hearst Foundation.

Among the 50 to 60 objects are three ancient French stone and marble doorways, a number of stained glass windows, a 15th century Moorish ceiling from Spain and elaborately carved cupboards, tables and other pieces of furniture.

Already installed are several examples of stained glass on each side of the entrance to the Great Hall and a large carved cupboard.

Seven thousand dollars will be required for insurance and freight to ship all this material to Detroit. A portion of this has already been allocated by the Common Council from the budgets of other Art Institute departments.

Two more vanloads are expected shortly from New York but their arrival times have not been determined.

The objects will be displayed in galleries appropriate to their periods. They date from the 13th to 16th centuries and come from France, England, Spain, Germany and other western European countries.

Plan Yule Tea At City Club

This year's Christmas Tea at the Women's City Club is planned for the afternoon of Friday, December 20—at which time members will gather between 3 and 6 o'clock in the beautifully decorated fourth floor lounge and card room.

Candle-lit tables, soft, sweet music in the background, delicious Christmas cakes and cookies, blended with happy talk as friends meet for cheery bits of conversation—all of this makes the annual Christmas Tea the loveliest of Club traditions.

Mrs. Benjamin C. Addison of Neff road, a member of the social affairs committee, is chairman for this event and is planning the arrangements.

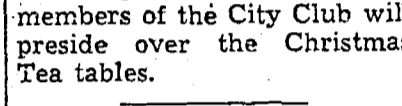

She has stressed the importance of this festive holiday affair, as the City Club's own Christmas greeting to its members. Traditionally the Christmas Tea is reserved for members of the City Club only and there is no charge.

Mrs. Addison is being assisted by Mrs. Chester A. Doty and Mrs. H. Glenn Bixby. Members of the social affairs committee will serve as hostesses. A talented pianist, Mrs. Addison will provide a background of Christmas music during the afternoon.

Past presidents and board members of the City Club will preside over the Christmas Tea tables.

A $500,000 civil defense and disaster training center will be built next year on The University of Michigan North Campus.

Junior Red Cross Yule Project Put on Display

Dr. Paul T. Rankin, chairman of Detroit Junior Red Cross, announced that the annual Junior Red Cross Christmas gift-project is being completed in the schools and gifts will be on display at the chapter headquarters, 153 East Elizabeth (at John R.), from December 12 through December 20, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. "The Junior Red Cross Christmas project in parochial, public and private schools gives students of all ages an opportunity to have the thrill of making gifts to be distributed to the children of servicemen or veterans and other needy children, and patients in government hospitals.

Teachers of art, homemaking and industrial arts in 525 Wayne County schools help in the project in which some 20,000 items have been made since last Christmas. The students themselves have provided many of the materials, others were purchased from JRC funds. "School administrators welcome this Junior Red Cross project which provides incentive for students to make gifts which will be joyfully received by some child from whom the student-craftsman will never receive a direct thank you. Students develop true Christmas spirit working on gifts to be distributed through Junior Red Cross," Rankin said.

Christenings Add To Holiday Scene

Edward L. Mays Bring Son From Cleveland for Ceremony Sunday in Christ Church; William Beardlees' Daughter Also Baptized

Christmas adds a special sentiment to the christening ceremonies that abound this December and several small sons and daughters have been to the baptismal font in the past weeks.

Christ Church was the scene of a ceremony last Sunday at which Thornton Albert May was christened. He is the son of the Edward L. Mays, of Cleveland, O., who brought him for a visit to his maternal grandparents, the Thorton E. Waterfalls, of Lincoln road.

Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Endicott and Nancy Lindsay May, who was absent as her studies at Welles College. Westlake Goehring, Mr. May's cousin, came from Western Reserve University to make the responses for the other godfather, Arthur T. Waterfall II, who is at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Joining the family group for the party at the Waterfalls after the ceremony were the paternal grandparents, the Albert C. Mays, of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. George M. Endicott with their daughter, Happy.

Sunday was also the day chosen by the William C. Beardlee, of Vernier road, for the christening of their daughter, Lindsay Van Cleff Beardlee.

Barnes School Dinner Tonight

Tonight you may eat your fill of pancakes at the Barnes School's second annual dinner. Serving will begin at 5:30 o'clock.

On the menu, and you may eat all you can, will be featured pancakes, sausages, applesauce, syrup, butter, ice cream, milk and coffee. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children.

The entertainment will be movies in the kindergarten room. So many people attended last year that facilities for serving have been doubled this year so that guests may be served rapidly.

Tickets may be obtained at the school (20090 Morningside drive) or from any Barnes School child.

ter, Lindsay Van Cleff Beardlee.

She wore the gown sewn by her great-grandmother, Mrs. L. Lindsay, who was present for the christening, for her daughter, Mrs. Robert P. Scherer, of Lakeshore road.

The Beardlees entertained at a family party after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence B. Higbie, of Rivard boulevard had their new daughter, Kim Walker, christened last Sunday in Christ Church also.

This Sunday four cousins will be baptized together at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The Clayton C. Purdys, Jr., of Radnor circle, and the Henry M. Kuhlmanns, of Hampton road are the parents of the four children.

Mrs. Purdy and Mr. Kuhlman are brother and sister and the cousins are Clayton Calvin Purdy III, Catherine Craig Purdy, Sarah Elizabeth Kuhlman and Henry Nelson Kuhlman.

LEARN THE HARD WAY

Arthur John Chabott, of 1023 Philip in Detroit, has learned a lesson, the hard way. He's found one can't afford to take his eyes off the road while driving, as he did last Sunday. Result: one damaged automobile, scarred tree, and cut upper lip. And a ticket for not having his car under control.

Bride-elect

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cotter, of Neff road, announce the engagement of their daughter, COLLEEN ORIANA, to William Thomas O'Byrne, son of the John E. O'Byrnes, of Champaign, Ill. They plan to be married in September.

Holding Party For Bachelors

This Friday night, December 13, is bound to be an especially lucky night for all bachelor boys and girls throughout Grosse Pointe.

The minute the orchestra begins they will be ushered into a pre-Christmas wonderland abounding in mistletoe traps at the Memorial Center.

The Center's indoor and outdoor trees will have just arrived in time for the occasion and at the mid-point of the evening Christmas carols will be sung in the candlelight to the accompaniment of roaring fires in the Center's walk-in fireplaces.

All single Pointers in their twenties and thirties are cordially invited to attend. Each Pointer has the privilege of bringing a guest who may or may not reside in the Pointe.

A committee of the inner circle of the Center Club is playing host to the Nationality group on Sunday organizing games and entertainment for them and helping to serve their supper.

Heart Association Offers Classes for Homemakers

Women with heart disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic heart disease and other circulatory ailments can now register for free "Heart of the Home" classes to be held in Detroit starting January 8.

The work-simplification classes are conducted by the Michigan Heart Association in cooperation with Wayne State University and are designed to show the homemaker how to conserve her time and energy while doing her various household tasks.

Lectures, demonstrations and slides are presented to show homemakers how they can simplify work in the preparation of meals, washing and ironing, bed making, and other daily housework.

Each homemaker attends four (two-hour) lecture-demonstration classes which will be held on January 8, 15, 22 and 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and will meet at the Cannon Memorial Recreation Center, 5103 Guilford, corner Warren and Cadieux, Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. Hannah R. Pretzer of the Wayne State University Department of Home Economics conducts the classes. She indicates that the classes are designed to benefit any economic level and that it is not necessary to remodel a home in order to conserve the homemaker's time and energy.

The course is available to every woman in Detroit although those with a heart or blood vessel ailment will be given first listing. Homemakers may register for the free classes by calling or writing the Cannon Memorial Recreation Center at TU 1-8467 or by calling the Michigan Heart Association at TE 1-8550 for complete details. Homemakers are urged to register this week in order that they may attend the first class on January 8.

No medical advice, diagnosis, treatment, or examination is given in the "Heart of the Home" classes.

The Wayne County Medical Society has endorsed the entire program and Doctors of Medicine will be urged to refer their patients to the classes.

The "Heart of the Home" Program is made possible by the Michigan Heart Association through funds received from the United Foundation Torch Drive.

Christmas goodies from many a Trombly household will be on sale—specialties to delight family and holiday guests.

The Christmas Open Schoolhouse is under the direction of Mrs. James Beyster and Mrs. Walter Pflaummer, ways and means chairman, and Mrs. George Baer and Mrs. Peter Kirsten, social chairman, with the able working assistance of room mothers and members of the association.

Parents, families, friends and neighbors are cordially invited.

Winter Arrives On December 21

If you long for the sultry days of summer, the place for you right now is the southern hemisphere, says a University of Michigan astronomer.

Official beginning of winter in the northern hemisphere comes at 9:49 p.m. Saturday, December 21, according to Prof. Hazel M. Losh of the U-M Department of Astronomy. This is the time of the Sun's turning point, or solstice, when it reaches the most southerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth.

"On that day," she says, "the Sun will swing its shortest daily arc across our southern sky, and we in the northern hemisphere will have our shortest day, about nine hours, and longest night, around 15 hours. After this time, the Sun will start its longest days of June.

"Conversely, in the southern hemisphere the summer season will be starting at the same instant as our winter, for the seasons are reversed in the two halves of the globe."

Contrary to common beliefs, the seasons do not depend primarily upon the variation of the earth's distance from the Sun, but rather on the 23 1/2 degree tilt of the earth's axis. During the winter, the earth's north pole is shining at a more oblique angle in the northern hemisphere, Professor Losh explains.

On the other hand, the south pole is turned 23 1/2° toward the Sun, and as a result the southern hemisphere is getting its greatest heat of the year. "However," she continues, "we in the north benefit by the fact that at this time of year the earth is about three million miles closer to the Sun than during our summer. This tends to make our winter a little milder and the southern a little hotter."

Dominican Sisters To Hold Open House

Friends and Guests of the Sisters of the Sick Poor Invited to Party Sunday From 2 to 6 O'clock to Assist Work of Aiding City's Needy During Holidays

Festive preparations for Christmas time are being made in most Detroit homes now. But in some homes there would be little cheer if it were not for the Dominican Sisters of The Sick Poor. And the Sisters this year are handing out large doses of happiness as they set up handsome Christmas trees and nativity scenes for their patients.

While the Sisters-Nurses carry on their work among the sick poor of our city, distributing food and clothing and medicinal supplies to their patients throughout the year, at Christmas time they endeavor to include a few special treats to brighten the dull days of many an ill and aged person, or often times a child who has never known a well day.

To help with this work, once again the Dominican Sisters of The Sick Poor Auxiliary are planning their annual Christmas open House for Sunday, December 15 from 2 to 6 o'clock.

On that afternoon the doors of the former Walter O. Briggs home, now St. Ann's convent, at 700 W. Boston Blvd., will be opened wide to welcome friends and benefactors.

Arrangements are in the capable hands of the Auxiliary's Board of Directors with President Mrs. Jerry T. Flanigan serving as general chairman. They have mailed 5,500 invitations to friends, extending a special welcome to the menfolk and daughters, to join in assisting the Sister-Nurses by attending the benefit, as well as participating as a Patron Donor.

A musical program has been planned for the afternoon's entertainment. The Dominicanette Choral group will sing carols, while Miss Rosemary McGann, an accomplished vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Robert J. Cahill, Mr. Frank Gillen and Miss Josephine Carolin, well known pianists, will provide seasonal music.

There will be the traditional tree and many surprises when Mrs. Edward J. Charron completes the decorations. Mrs. Charles J. McCabe and Mrs. Eugene I. VanAntwerp are extending invitations to preside at the refreshment table to Mesdames. Cyril J. Burke, Emmett E. Tracy, Charles T. Fisher Jr., John Molschall and W. Dean Robinson.

There will be the usual Christmas goodies prepared in the kitchens of the members served during the afternoon. Cheery conversation with friends old and new will be the highlights of this traditional open house—a most pleasant way in which to aid the sick poor.

Among many Grosse Pointes assisting with arrangements are Mesdames. Walter A. Bayer, Arthur G. Kirchner, Raymond Peters, Miss Margaret Bradford, also Mesdames. Bert Lindquist, L. Verne Ansel, Harold Groff, John M. VanLoon, Henry W. Jones, Jeremiah Bresnahan, Arthur Martz, William E. Keane, and Frank X. Meier.

Others are Mesdames Elmer Gagnier, George L. Van Antwerp, Harry Dunn, Joseph F. Seward, J. C. Cornelle, Thomas Burke, C. Joseph Burke, Robert Gotfredson, Arthur Godin, Clifford Godin, John Hastings, Marvin Keller, S. John Moroun, Roy H. Curtis, C. Joseph Belanger, Lawrence Britt, Frank C. Cook, Nelsen W. Everything in Proper Place

Frigidaire's new 1958 14.4-cubic-foot refrigerator with large separate food freezer below is extremely versatile when it comes to food storage. Homemakers will find "a place for everything, and everything in its place." Full-width shelves roll out for easy food selection, the "picture window" fresh vegetable storage unit swings down out of the door, and there are separate shelves and compartments for eggs, dairy products, butter and even bulky half-gallon containers. A "flowing cold" refrigeration system chills food quickly and effectively regardless of where it is stored.

Center Plans Teens' Dance

The War Memorial's Youth Council is holding a Holiday Hag dance during Christmas vacation on Saturday, December 28, at 9 p.m.

This will give the girls a chance to thank their favorite beau for his Christmas gift.

The music will be furnished by Freddie Warren's orchestra. It will be a somewhat dress-up affair in keeping with the holiday season.

Chesbrough

Mrs. Matland has already given a tea for her daughter-in-law to be.

Mrs. Richard F. Barnum will open her Yorkshire road home Saturday for a brunch and kitchen shower. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Percy K. Loud, of Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. Maitland's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Wisbropp, of Kenwood court have chosen that same day for a dinner party honoring the bridal pair.

On Friday, December 20, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dodds, of Cloverly road, will give a cocktail party and the following day Dr. and Mrs. Howard B. Barker and their daughter, Barbara, will give a dinner in Bloomfield Hills.

On Sunday, December 22, Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Dwight Wilson will be hosts at a cocktail party in their South Oxford road home.

Barbara Leonard, Mrs. James D. Standish III, and Jeanne Whittaker will give the spinster dinner on Thursday, December 26. Another bridesmaid, Sally Schemm, has already entertained with her mother, Mrs. George A. Schemm.

Dr. and Mrs. Maitland will give the rehearsal dinner Friday, December 27 at the Detroit Boat Club. There will be a brunch on the day of the wedding for the bridal party and the out-of-town guests at the Country Club. Hosts for this party will be Mrs. John O. Huse, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Prince and Mr. and Mrs. Philip I. Worcester.

When children have to stay in bed they'll be able to entertain themselves if they have a lap board or bed table to play on. The flat surface gives them a place to play with small toys, blocks, books or coloring materials.

Children Smart About Music

Children can be duped by musical fads like rock-and-roll, but not for very long, a University of Michigan music educator says.

"The songs children adopt and that really stay with them are those of long-proven value," declares Assistant Prof. Edythe M. Albert. "Children actually have a better sense of basic music values than most parents realize."

Miss Albert has cause to know. For four years she has taught vocal music to the largest "classroom" in the state of Michigan, possibly the largest in the nation. More than 50,000 grade-school children in cities and rural areas of Michigan study vocal music in their classrooms through her radio series, "Festival of Song."

She believes children can sense the inherent values of a song, through they don't bother to analyze what those values are. They can be attracted by the melody, rhythm or words of a song. Children in primary grades like songs about themselves, their home, family and animals.

Mercy Students Keep Busy

Several Pointe girls who are students at Mercy College are busy with holiday activities before Christmas vacation begins.

Mary Anne Demeke, sophomore, daughter of the Gerald P. Demeke, of Bishop road, and Virginia Blessing, freshman daughter of the T. A. Blessings, of Lewiston road, are members of Mercy's Christmas choral group.

They will sing at the three day music festival on the college campus this week-end, on television, December 16 and the following day at the Ford Rotunda. Vacation begins on December 18. Barbara Netschke, daughter of the George A. Netschkes, of Harvard road, and Ruthanne Dinnell, daughter of the Samuel H. Dinnells, of Wayburn avenue, both freshmen, have helped with the college's charity work.

On Saturday they escorted 40 children from St. Dominic's parish to the Ford Rotunda exhibit and to dinner at the Stockholm as guests of Mr. Netschke.

Smart-Ramey Vows Exchanged in East

Richard L. Smart Married Helen Irene Ramey in Clearfield, Pa.; After Wedding Trip in Pennsylvania Couple to Make Home on Balfour Road

In a recent ceremony in the Trinity Methodist Church, Clearfield, Pa., Helen Irene Ramey, daughter of the W. Albert Rameys, of Clearfield, was married to Richard L. Smart, son of the Douglas Smarts, of Westchester road.

For her wedding the bride chose a princess dress of light ivory peau de soie fashioned with an off shoulder neckline accented with Alencon lace, short sleeves and a buttoned back. There were appliques of the lace on the sides of her skirt which deepened into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught by a half cap of lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley with her prayer book.

Mrs. John M. Kloap, of Pompton Plains, N. J., was her sister's matron of honor in a ballerina gown of green satin. The bridesmaids, Mrs. James P. Steele, Jr., another sister, of Bloomington, Ind., and Mrs. Robert Ryan, of Clearfield, wore imperial green chiffon accented with velvet on the waist.

All the attendants wore bands of green velvet leaves in their hair and carried cascade bouquets of golden daisy caryanthemums and ivy.

Addison Smart, of Detroit, was his brother's best man. Ushering were Lawrence McMillen, of Detroit; John Kloap, of Pompton Plains, N. J., and James P. Steele, Jr., of Bloomington, Ind.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the church parlors and the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Split Rock, Pa. They will live on Balfour road.

Colorful Gifts from Kitchen

During the holiday season, nothing is more satisfying than preparing gifts in your own kitchen for friends and neighbors. It is often the unexpected and thoughtful gift that brings pleasure to others.

For youngsters, the Cookie Tree is fun. The tree itself is cut from a square of white plastic foam which you can get at the variety store or florist shop. First, cut a flat tree shape, then two half trees. These halves can be attached to the flat tree shape with rounded toothpicks to form a four-sided tree. The base is a five-inch circle of foam. Attach the assembled tree to the base with toothpicks. Put glitter on the edges of the branches with white plastic glue.

Use your favorite cookie mixes or recipes and make the cookies about two inches across or less. Wrap them in transparent plastic wrap, attach a small piece of colorful ribbon to the back of the wrapped cookie with a bit of cellulose tape. Then arrange cookies on the tree with small pins. The cookies can be removed for eating, yet replacements can be easily attached. The plastic wrap will protect the cookies while they are on the tree and give them a holiday sparkle.

Candies can be attractively packaged in small plastic berry boxes. Place a plastic foam snowflake on top, then overwrap the box with plastic wrap.

Small fruit cakes can be baked in muffin cups and garnished with candied fruit. When these are wrapped they glisten and give a festive look to your gift.

Dance Classes To Hold Party

The nearly 300 students of the Center's six Ballroom Dancing Classes will all congregate at 7:30 p.m. at the Memorial the night of December 18 to enjoy dancing to the music of Gary Fryer's orchestra.

Aunt Marge and Uncle Bill Wilson will host the party with lots of fun, games and novelty dances. A committee of hard working mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. David C. Crawford, are decorating the Center's main floor for the occasion and will help to serve at refreshment time.

Fancy hats, favors and balloons will make the affair a real gala.

Consumer Marketing Information Agents say that now's a good time to include more butter in your cooking. Wholesale prices have come down 3 to 4 cents the past few weeks and you'll probably find this popular spread a better buy at food stores.

Ford Rouge Plant Still Greatest Single Industry

Ford Motor Company's giant manufacturing plant on the banks of the Rouge river is the largest concentration of closely knit, integrated factories owned by its company in America. It is in its 40th year.

The "Rouge" was the first and remains the only plant on the continent where raw iron ore is unloaded on the docks, smelted into iron, converted into steel and, within a matter of days, transformed into engines, frames, bodies and parts and, finally, completed automobiles.

This huge symbol of productive genius is now beginning its fifth decade—an industrial center still unrivalled anywhere in the world as a tourist attraction.

Over the years it has had its share of colorful names, but to Ford people and to the millions of visitors who have watched in awe while the colossal flexed its muscles, it is simply "the Rouge."

60,000 Work There

In area, the Rouge is one and one-half miles long and more than a mile wide, and in this teeming, 1,200-acre strip of river bottomland is a miracle of manufacturing so vast and complex that few of the 60,000 men and women who work here daily have a full conception of its real magnitude.

It was the late Henry Ford

Calls Sputnik Healthy Shock

Some "benefit" for America from the launching of Sputnik I and II is seen by an expert on the Soviet Union, Dr. Alfred G. Meyer of Michigan State University.

"The thought that the country we have always considered backward might be beating our American Scientists is a healthy shock," said the M.S.U. political scientist.

"The shock," he added, is awakening in American policy makers more respect for learning and the sciences. The Soviet educational system is geared to bringing out the latent talent in all the population and we have known for some time that the Russians have been producing more and better engineers than we are."

The higher the grade average in Russia, the more scholarship money the student gets, Dr. Meyer stated.

The M.S.U. political scientist has made an extensive study of the Soviet Union and is author of the books "Leninism" and "Marxism" published by the Harvard University Press.

who envisioned a wholly independent, self-contained manufacturing unit where every part needed for an automobile could be produced, machined, finished and assembled into a completed car ready for the road.

The plan was so revolutionary in 1917 that some of Mr. Ford's friendliest critics were skeptical. His enemies said he was crazy.

Congressmen fought him when he sought government approval for deepening and widening the Rouge river channel to accommodate sea-going ships. Stockholders fought him because they wanted the company's profits paid out of dividends, now plowed back into a big expansion program. Landowners boosted the price tags on their acreage along the river to fantastic levels.

Construction Starts

But in November of 1917, construction of unloading docks and storage bins for raw materials was well under way. Excavation for the big blast furnaces went forward rapidly, and on January 4, 1918, construction would start on the first manufacturing building.

Work slowed to a snail's pace during World War I, picked up tempo quickly after the Armistice and went forward at an almost frantic pace until Mr. Ford got what he wanted: a manufacturing unit almost entirely independent of outside suppliers.

So far as he was concerned, his idea was vindicated completely throughout the era of the fabulous Model T and up to the very end of the roaring Twenties.

Ironically, it was the popularity of the very car the Rouge produced which caused its productive capacity eventually to fall far behind the demand.

In its heyday, the Rouge turned out nearly every component needed for the Model T. Today, it is only one of many Ford Motor Company manufacturing and assembling facilities, and a considerable portion of the parts which go into a modern car is supplied by independent manufacturers.

Even so, the Rouge is unique in American industry.

Boats Bring Materials

Its fleet of ore boats plies the upper Great Lakes from early spring until late fall, bringing in nearly 5,000,000 tons of iron ore, coal, limestone and other raw materials every year.

Three blast furnaces smelter 3,200 tons of iron a day; 10 open hearth furnaces and the steel mill daily turn out nearly 4,000 tons of steel for frames, bodies, transmissions and parts.

The Rouge generates its own electricity and consumes enough every day to light the homes in a city of 1,000,000 people. It manufactures its own coke for the smelting process, generates its own oxygen and nitrogen for the blast furnaces and steel mill operations.

It burns enough coal to supply the domestic heating needs of a city as big as Des Moines, Iowa.

Within the Rouge are the largest production foundry in America, an engine plant, tool and die plant, stamping plant and transmission and radiator plants. Every 24 hours, the glass plant turns out a ribbon of plate glass 102 inches wide and nearly four miles long.

New Car Per Minute

New cars are driven away from one end of the final assembly line at the rate of about one per minute.

The 105 miles of standard gauge track and 19 diesel locomotives in the Rouge comprise the largest industrial railroad network in America. Seven principal outside railroads connect with the system and 250,000 freight cars move in and out of the area annually.

There are 15 miles of paved roads, 1 1/3 miles of unloading docks and 81 miles of conveyors.

In a single 24-hour period, 6,800 trucks, 40,000 automobiles and 150,000 pedestrians pass through the gates of the Rouge plant.

Seven company buses operating on a 10-minute schedule shuttle from building to building, carrying more than 5,000 employe passengers a day on business errands.

$1,000,000 Per Day

As the time approaches for the morning work shift, some 24,000 workers' cars from every point of the compass—and some from 70 miles or more away—pour into the 135-acre parking lot. The payroll in the Rouge is well over $1,000,000 a day.

The Rouge has its own fire department, its uniformed plant protection force and its own modern hospital with staff doctors and nurses.

In 1956, nearly 200,000 people from the 48 states, U.S. possessions and 86 foreign countries toured the area as guests of the company.

It has been visited by American presidents, foreign dignitaries, Argentine gauchos and barefoot Fiji Island tribesmen in flowing white robes.

The towering silhouette of its giant smokestacks and seven-story-high blast furnaces is as awe-inspiring to the traveler at dusk as the Manhattan skyline, the Golden Gate bridge or the roaring falls of Niagara.

In the sweeping, forward rush of industrial progress, the Rouge still stands as the biggest permanent symbol of the greatest single industry ever created by man.

Bond Issue

broom closet, and in a building a half mile away. Fire and police facilities, in the same building, are considered dangerously inadequate for a community the size of the Woods.

The Citizens' Committee has pointed out that it is impractical to attempt to expand the present city hall because of its location in a business area. Piecemeal construction of needed facilities would be extremely expensive and inefficient.

The proposed new building would be constructed in Ghesquiere Park, which was purchased for this purpose in 1947. It is believed that this more central location will shorten the time it takes fire and police vehicles to reach most of the homes in the Woods.

Through letters and phone calls to their neighbors, interested citizens are pointing out that the proposed new building would not be merely a city hall, but would be the operational center of the police and fire departments, as well as for administrative activities for the city.

The Committee hopes that a large number of Woods residents will take time from their busy Christmas schedule to come out and vote for the badly needed edifice. This proposal will be the only issue on the ballot on December 16. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Grosse Pointe High Cagers Beat Dearborn in Opener

The Dearborn Pioneers undoubtedly are getting a bit weary of starting off their cage season with a defeat at the hands of the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils. Last Friday, December 6, the Devils dumped them 64-40 in a non-league opener behind the whirlwind play of co-captain Tommy Woodruff, who chalked up 24 points for scoring honors.

It was the third consecutive opening game defeat suffered at the hands of the Devils. Bob Handworth netted 17 (nine free throws) for the losers but that didn't save the hurt Coach Howard MacAdam and his fast moving Blue Devils inflicted on the Pioneers' hopes for an unbeaten season.

Boardman, Purdy Star
Co-captain Bruce Boardman was second high for the Devils with 11 points and his defensive play was outstanding. As was center Rem Purdy's, who gained 14 rebounds to give the Devils almost unlimited shooting chances.

Only in the first quarter did the Pioneers appear to be in the game. They trailed 15 to 12 at the end of the first period but from that point on wilted before the powerful on-again off-again Blue Devil fast break. Sometimes it worked to perfection and on other occasions it backfired as the Devil attackers jammed together near the keyhole slot.

The Devils outshot Dearborn from the floor 27 to 12 foul shooting department. The Pioneers cashed in 16 of 23 free throws for a 76 per cent average while the Devils collected only 10 of 19 for 53 per cent.

In the first half, the Devils hit 51 per cent of their shots while the Pioneers managed only 24 per cent. In the second half the Devils clicked on 60 percent and Dearborn had a miserable 14 percent from the floor.

Rem Purdy touched off the Devils' scoring fuse when he hit two quick buckets to give the Pointers a lead they never relinquished. The Devils held a comfortable 35-21 lead at halftime which they built to a commanding 53-33 lead at the end of the third period. This enabled Coach MacAdam to substitute freely and 13 boys saw action.

Grosse Pointe will see its first Border Cities League league action when it meets Royal Oak on the Acorns' home court, Friday, December 13.

Court Leagues Need Coaches

The Giant and Midget Basketball Leagues are almost ready to initiate action on the courts of the Neighborhood Club, however, if they begin this year depends on several volunteers coming forth to offer their services as coaches.

At this time seven coaches are needed for the two leagues. Five coaches are needed for the Midget League and two for the Giant League. These leagues have been very successful for several years and will fold this year if parents or interested individuals do not step forward to undertake this very important responsibility.

The situation is very serious. Lack of coaches is the major reason for a late start in the organization of the leagues this year.

Any father or interested person over the age of 18 is asked to call the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club for additional information. The telephone number is TU. 5-4600.

Registration and tryouts for the Midget League will be conducted on the following dates:

Austin Cagers Win First Two

By TOM LOICIERO, Senior Austin

Austin Catholic served notice last week that it has no intention of allowing its domination of the Catholic League's Central Division to end this year.

After warming up with a 48-33 non-league win over Servite in the season opener the Friars flew by the Bluejays from St. Joseph 73 to 35 in the league opener for both teams last Friday, December 6. The victory was Austin's nineteenth straight league win.

The Friars haven't lost since they entered the Central Division two years ago. Led by their illustrious captain, Dave DeBuschere, and directed by their mastermind mentor, Charles Hollosy, the Friars made it strictly "no contest" in trouncing St. Joe's.

The game's highlight for Friar fans was the improvement in balance and team play shown by the Black and White. While DeBuschere, with 30 points, came through with his usual great performance his teammates did a much better job of backing his efforts than they did against Servite.

Six foot-three Russ Schoenherer was particularly outstanding as he popped in 17 points and rebounded brilliantly. Garry Wagner was high for the Bluejays with 15 markers.

Under the circumstances, Austin put on a satisfying show against Servite's Panthers, Tuesday, December 3. Servite, always tough in its own gym, used a pressing defense and a stall and weave type offense to give the Friars a hard time for awhile. However, DeBuschere's ability and the stabilizing effect he has on his mates kept Austin in a 10 to 15 point lead throughout.

DeBuschere, although battered from all sides by a "four man zone," flipped in 24 points. Tom Mahfiet led the losers with 10. Austin guard Paul Miller (5'9") did a fine job of driving both the end line and the keyhole for eight points.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

Last week was a busy one for the local sailors. Grosse Pointe Sail Club opened the activity with its annual election-award dinner at the Detroit Yacht Club, Wednesday, December 4. Elected to lead the little club, which has its headquarters at the Grosse Pointe Park municipal beach, were Bill Toussaint, vice commodore; Charles Todd, Jr., vice commodore; William Patrick Connolly, vice commodore. Elevated to the board of governors was Earl Blohm and Bill McGraw. Horace Craig and Dave Beauvais are the holdover directors.

Trophies were awarded in both sail and power boat events. Duke Huber won the Frostbite trophy for the third time and Bill McGraw became the new season champion. Pete Van Ryn and Ray Boylston followed in that order for the season championship. Earl Blohm was declared the winner of the powerboat contest with Leo Cowling and Chuck Todd taking second and third place honors.

Retiring Commodore Bob Connolly was presented with a beautiful ice bucket as a token of appreciation from the club members.

Detroit River Yachting Association had its inning two nights later at St. Clair Yacht Club, Friday, December 6, when it held its annual election meeting. As reported in this column a week ago of Grosse Ile Y. C., Vice Com. John DeWitler of Grosse Pointe Club and Rear Com. Art Rautenburg of Crescent Sail Y. C. was elected unanimously. It was no contest as Com. Merlyn Gaskin of the Grosse Pointe Y. C., who had been nominated to oppose Rautenburg, withdrew on his doctors' order.

There was much discussion on a new sail course due to the dredging operations for the St. Lawrence Seaway project in Lake St. Clair. Gil Pingree, course and marks committee chairman, proposed a new course which would bring the starting line closer in to Peche Island. This would aid the smaller boats—but not much.

The bigger boats of the Mackinaw type racers would still a diamond shaped course which at times could be a beautiful schooner race if the wind blew from either the north or south. Under these conditions there would be no weather work. It was suggested Pingree get together with the race chairmen of the various DRYA clubs for further discussion and a better solution to the problem, to be presented at the annual Gripe Meeting in January.

Bayview Yacht Club carried off most of the DRYA perpetual trophies again this year. Nubs Sarns (Reverley) received the J. A. Summerville trophy for Cruising A; Henry Burkard (Meteor III) got the Thomas Hardware trophy for Cruising B and the WJR trophy as overall winner of all cruising classes; Tomm; Hanson (Dauntless II) won the H. C. McGregor trophy for Cruising C. But Commodore Lynn Stedman, Jr., was proudest of all when he accepted the Commodore Jack Sutton trophy which is awarded annually to the club having the best Junior Sailing program. It marked the first time Bayview had ever won the honor and it did

Recreation Pin Team Holds Lead

By Fred Runnells

With only three bowling nights left before the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's League reaches the halfway mark, G.P. Recreation is being hard pressed to cling to its lead in the 10 team league.

Last Friday, December 6, the Recreation Keglers saw their lead pared to a mere point and a half as they managed only one point over fifth place Larry's. It was in this match that some of the hottest bowling of the season was seen as Jim De Smedt paced Larry's with games of 231, 204 and 236 for a 671 series which established a new individual three-game record.

Meanwhile back at the ranch second place Goebel split its match with Adam Simms to gain a point on the leader and third place Revere dropped three points to the sixth place Cox and Baker and dropped into a two-way tie for third place when Wigle grabbed three points from Woods.

Two hundred plus scores were cheaper by the dozen and that's just the number that were posted. As stated Jim De Smedt led the select circle with 231, 204 and 236; Len Johnston followed with 223 and 201; Ange Petracci 225; Wally Buehler 217; Andy Carroll 205; Bob Nash 201 and John Blough and Carl Lentry had even 200's.

on Friday, December 13, when they meet the Royal Oak Acorns on the latter's home floor. The Pointers are "unofficial" BCL reserve defending champions and will be out to try and match the 1956-57 squad which lost only one game in 16 starts. The only loss came at the end of the 1956-57 season and was administered by Highland Park. It was the first reserve loss in 32 starts.

St. Paul Lakers Defeat St. Philip in First Game

The St. Paul Lakers, defending champions of the East Side Second Division Parochial League, stormed to an impressive 64-22 victory over St. Philip last Friday, December 6, in their 1957-58 season debut on the Grosse Pointe High court.

Shooting with amazing accuracy for so early in the season, the Lakers roared to an 18-5 lead in the first period and held a commanding 37-7 halftime lead. From that point on it was just a question as to how high Coach Eddie Lauer would allow the score to go. Using every boy on the squad he experimented with different combinations and 9 of the 13 boys used hit the scoring column.

The Lakers' floor work showed a definite improvement over last year's championship team. The passing was sharp and accurate and kept St. Philip chasing around in circles in an attempt to gain possession of the ball. Senior guard Russ Beauvais and senior center Gary Anderson paced the Lakers with 14 points each. Ron Chinchilla led the losers with 8.

The victory enabled the Lakers to move into a four-way first place tie with St. Elizabeth, St. Thomas and St. Bernard. They all won their opening games. The Lakers will tackle the Annunciation Cougars on Friday, December 13, at Grosse Pointe High. The varsity game at 8:15 p.m. will be preceded by the reserve contest at 7 p.m.

Jim's Keglers Take Pin Lead

Everyone likes a winner but everyone likes to take a crack at them too. That's just what happened last Friday, December 6, in the Grosse Pointe Bowling League when Fox, the early season resident of the cellar, rose up and smacked league-leading Beaupre for 3 points and knocked them down to second place.

Jim's was waiting right on the threshold and moved into the lead with a 3-point victory over Stapleton. Piche had an excellent chance to move up at least a tie for second place but could manage only one point over ninth place J. C. Music and wound up in a two-way third place tie with Kopp's who took two points from Custom Two.

GPUS Defeats Thurston Five

Grosse Pointe University School stepped out of its C-D class and squeezed past Class A Thurston 39-33 in the opening game of the season last Friday afternoon, December 6. Thurston will have a chance for revenge when GPUS helps Thurston open its home season next Friday, December 13.

Grabbing an 8-6 first quarter lead GPUS moved to what appeared to be a comfortable 23-14 margin at halftime behind the sharp shooting of Bob Wood who gained individual scoring honors with 17 points. Thurston came storming back in the third stanza to nearly deadlock the score at the end of the third period but missed by a single point 27-26.

Oddly, both teams had boys named Bob Wood and it was these two boys who provided most of the scoring action in the final period. Both collected three field goals in the closing minutes. Foul shooting, such as it was, was the important factor in the final score. GPUS tossed in 9 of 33 charity caskets while Thurston could manage only 3 of 18 attempts. Both teams hit for 15 field goals.

Mike Krieg (6-2) was outstanding for GPUS grabbing 15 rebounds and Gordon O'Brien (5-8) chipped in his share of defensive duties

Heidi moved from ninth to seventh with a three-point win over cellar dweller Custom One. Ed Piche paced the 200-plus bowlers with a sparkling 233 and was followed by Fred De Buscher 215; Russ Vogel, Nick Schubek and Bill Kopp all with 213's and Jim Burgess and Jim Beaupre had 202's.

Flushed with its championship success in CYO football, the St. Paul 78ers, a product of the St. Paul Dad's Club, are busy preparing for the coming CYO Grade 8, School League season which will get underway shortly.

The team will be entered and sponsored by the Dad's Club and will be coached by Ed Dooley who is a member of the Dad's Club and former cage star at St. Peter's College in Jersey City, New Jersey.

Eighteen boys are battling for positions on the squad, fixed both in height and speed. Although it is too early to name the starting lineup Coach Dooley feels Tom Moxley, Steve Handlose, Jack Wachter, John Kolojeski and Gary Schick, all stars on the 78ers football team, are the boys who have the inside track for starting berths.

The 78er squad is strengthened by the addition of "graduates" from the St. Paul sixth grade team which won the Detroit City championship last year under the direction of coach Tim Bigham.

Park Postpones Council Meeting

The Park council postponed its Monday, December 9, meeting to Monday, December 16.

The action was taken because of the absence of Mayor Kenneth Cunningham, and three of the councilmen, all of whom did not show up because of business reasons.

It is hoped that all council business will be cleared at next Monday's meeting, so that it will not be necessary to hold another on December 23, just before Christmas.

Devils Leading In Hockey Race

With the first two weeks of competition in the books, hockey teams in the Ice Rink winter league are just beginning to hit their stride. A tight race finds the undefeated Blue Devils holding first place by two points. Close on their heels are the second-place Rockets with two victories in three tries.

The Blue Devils have combined a rock-ribbed defense built around goalie Chuck Harris (four goals in three games) and a high-powered offense which includes three of the league's top scorers who are Dave Cook, Dick Kost and Ron Gouin.

The Rockets, who were trounced 8-2 in a meeting with the Devils last week, are in the runner-up spot mainly on the efforts of forwards Bill Cook and John Montgomery, who have tallied nine goals between them in the first three games.

The two newest entries in the circuit, yet to choose a team name, battled to a 3-3 tie Sunday, December 8, and moved into a fifth-place tie in front of the winless Warriors.

Next Sunday's December 15, action will find the Blue Devils tangling with the Rockets and the Warriors each taking on one of the new teams, who are expected to offer rugged resistance under their belts.

Manager Frank Kurz announced that although Adel-hoch's Bakery is presently sponsoring the Warriors, an additional five sponsors are needed for the remaining teams in the league. The players on these teams have provided their own financial support for uniforms and game fees to date.

State Traffic Deaths Drop

Michigan traffic deaths this year have totaled 1,394 as compared with 1,617 in the same period of 1956, a reduction of 223 or 13.8 per cent, according to provisional figures compiled by the Michigan State Police.

While these figures are subject to readjustment downward with the receipt of delayed reports for November and the first five days of December, the reduction is well ahead of the 1957 goal to save 174 lives, or 10 per cent under the death toll of 1,747 last year.

Provisional figures for November show 129 deaths compared with 145 in the same month last year, a saving of 16.

Final figures subject only to minor revision list 136 persons killed in October, a reduction of eight, or five per cent under 144 in the same month of 1956. Injuries totaled 4,480, also five per cent, or 234 less than 4,714 in October last year. There were 14,418 accidents, a decrease of 299, or two per cent.

The accumulated final record for the first 10 months of the year shows 1,226 persons killed and 47,549 injured in 1957, 100 accidents. These are reductions under last year of 15, two and three per cent, respectively.

Injury and accident figures for November and the early part of December are not yet available.

Estimated travel for the first nine months, the latest figure compiled, is 22 billion miles, an increase of four per cent over the same period a year ago. The death rate of 5.0 per 100 million miles of travel was down 18 per cent.

Christmas Tree Can Be Hazard

A Christmas tree can be a serious fire hazard to your home if not handled properly, the state health department reminded Michigan residents today.

The department said at least three things can be done to reduce the danger of indoors Christmas tree fires:

- 1—Set the tree in a container of water and keep the container filled. This will keep the tree from drying out. A dry tree burns with explosive suddenness.
- 2—Keep open flames, such as candles, away from the tree. Also make sure that lights and electrical devices used in decorating the tree are in good repair and aren't shorting or overheating.
- 3—Spray the tree with one of the new chemical fire re-

Saturday, December 7 THE POWERFUL but embattled Teamsters' Union was voted out of the AFL-CIO Friday. By a 5-1 margin the AFL-CIO convention expelled the scandal-ridden Teamsters, largest union in the country.

A THIEVES' QUARREL and a kick at a pile of leaves led Friday to the solution of Detroit's biggest jewel robbery.

Police got their first break on the November 19 holdup theft with tear gas of $500,000 worth of diamonds last Thursday, when the mastermind of the theft came to them because he feared for his safety.

Police said three amateur thieves confessed to planning and staging the robbery—and then to bungling efforts to dispose of the loot.

Sunday, December 8 GOV. WILLIAMS announced to Democratic legislators Saturday that he was backing away from a corporations profits tax against Michigan industry.

Although he has demanded enactment of this type of levy since he took office in 1949, the governor said: "I still believe in a corporations profit tax, but it is questionable whether this is the time to try again to promote it."

COUNCIL PRESIDENT Mary V. Beck said Saturday she will propose a new style of milk dating for Detroit shortly after January 1. She also said she might ask for a new city ordinance to require dating of other dairy products.

Miss Beck said she already had held three private meetings with the milk industry and plans to resume the talks in the near future.

Tuesday, December 10 THE NEW YORK subway strike snowballed Monday night when 23,000 other underground workers joined a band of rebel motormen in the system's second walkout in 18 months.

The strike began at 5 a.m. Monday with about 300 members of the 2,600-man independent Motormen's Benevolent Association. It was joined Monday night by 400 trolley men, who operate signals and switches, 2,600 conductors in charge of trains, 700 signal maintenance men and The American Transport Union representing 13,000 workers.

An MBA spokesman predicted the growing strike "will completely paralyze the city tomorrow morning," today, and it certainly snarled up city traffic yesterday when the scramble for transportation assumed terrifying proportions.

DETROIT'S FIRST major diphtheria outbreak of the winter, involving 22 cases, was reported Monday by Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City health commissioner. The outbreak is concentrated in the area of Tilden School, west of the Lodge Expressway and south of W. Grand Blvd. Fourteen of the cases were found in three families living in the same building, at 5203 Lincoln.

weather forecast is cloudy and colder, with temperatures dropping to 20 and 25 degrees below zero along the Canadian border. Snow squalls are expected to continue through today, creating a generally dangerous traffic situation. Drivers are urged to use extra caution.

From log cabin to White House is the American dream, and General Russell A. Alger almost made it. He never became president but rose to great heights in the service of his country and in the early Michigan industrial struggle.

Left an orphan at 12 in Ohio where he had been born to a pioneer family in the 1840's, he migrated to Michigan in 1859 and was among the first to enlist in the Union Army when war came. He was a captain by 1861 and a colonel when he led the Fifth Michigan cavalry in the charge at Gettysburg. He roamed the Shenandoah Valley with General Phil Sheridan until Appomattox and was retired as a general himself.

After the war he came to Detroit and founded a lumber company which reaped a fortune from the untapped forest upstate. In 1892 he was a presidential candidate at the Republican Convention which nominated McKinley, under whom he served as Secretary of War during the Spanish-American War. In 1902 he was appointed to fill the Senate vacancy left by the death of the Pointe's James McMillan. He was repeatedly returned to that body until his own death in 1907.

Gen. Russell A. Alger not only founded a fortune in lumber but he founded a dynasty. His children, Mrs. Henry D. Sheldon (Caroline Annette Alger), Russell A. Alger, Jr. and Frederick M. Alger continued to place their family name high in civic and national affairs.

The junior Alger built the lavish mansion we know as the War Memorial Center after it first served a term as part of the Detroit Art Institute. The home which cost one million dollars to build in 1910 could not be replaced today for three million.

The general's son owned the first airplane in the city and the first motorcycle, helped found the Wright Co. in New York, and was a friend of the inventors. He was director and vice president of the Packard Motor Company from 1903 and founded the organization which gave aid to needy newsmen at Christmas, which is today's Goodfellows Association.

His brother, Frederick, was a colonel in World War I, fought against the Volstead Act (prohibition) and prized his decoration of the French Legion of Honor. Mrs. Sheldon was an early pioneer in the founding of garden societies and her own lawns were show gardens. Her children united with the Warren, Duffield, Stackpole and Clark families to continue to be prominent in Pointe and city affairs.

The general was a controversial figure but a great one. The Pointe is proud to claim the Algiers as their own although they continue to serve the greater national scene as well as the local one.

Friendly Frank Webb, of the GP's own busline, continues to serve his riders with that extra mite of courtesy and thoughtfulness which has endeared him to many commuters on his route for the past quarter of a century.

Last week a matron, downtown-bound for that seasonal shopping, boarded the bus with her two dimes clutched in hand and having paid her fare sat down. A few minutes later she leaped up in alarm. She'd forgotten her purse.

Frank of course sympathized with her failing and let her off. As she was preparing to trudge the ten blocks back home he stopped her and held out two more dimes. "Don't walk all that way, lady. Take the next bus back. You can repay the fare to me some other day." The coach lines own! Santa is Frank Webb at a time of year that would make a Scrooge of a lesser man!

Who says a woman can't keep a secret? The whole eighth grade at the Grosse Pointe Academy of the Sacred Heart can be entrusted with your favorite Christmas surprises. These lasses co-operated and kept the news of a special birthday party from classmate Cynthia Buttery. Surprisingly escorted for a tour of the Hunt Club swimming trophies was she taken back to discover all her fellow students gathered about a festive board shouting "Happy Birthday." Not one had breathed an advance word to the birthday girl!

The Grunions and their gals gathered last week to honor two of their members who are still bachelors. Murray Dodge and Barney Brogan have set up house-keeping in the Crouse garage apartment in Provencal and in tribute all the married Grunions (that famous male singing chorus) gave the two lads a "shower." Understand high on the list of gifts to help the boys settle down to domesticity was a mousetrap! Gives one pause.

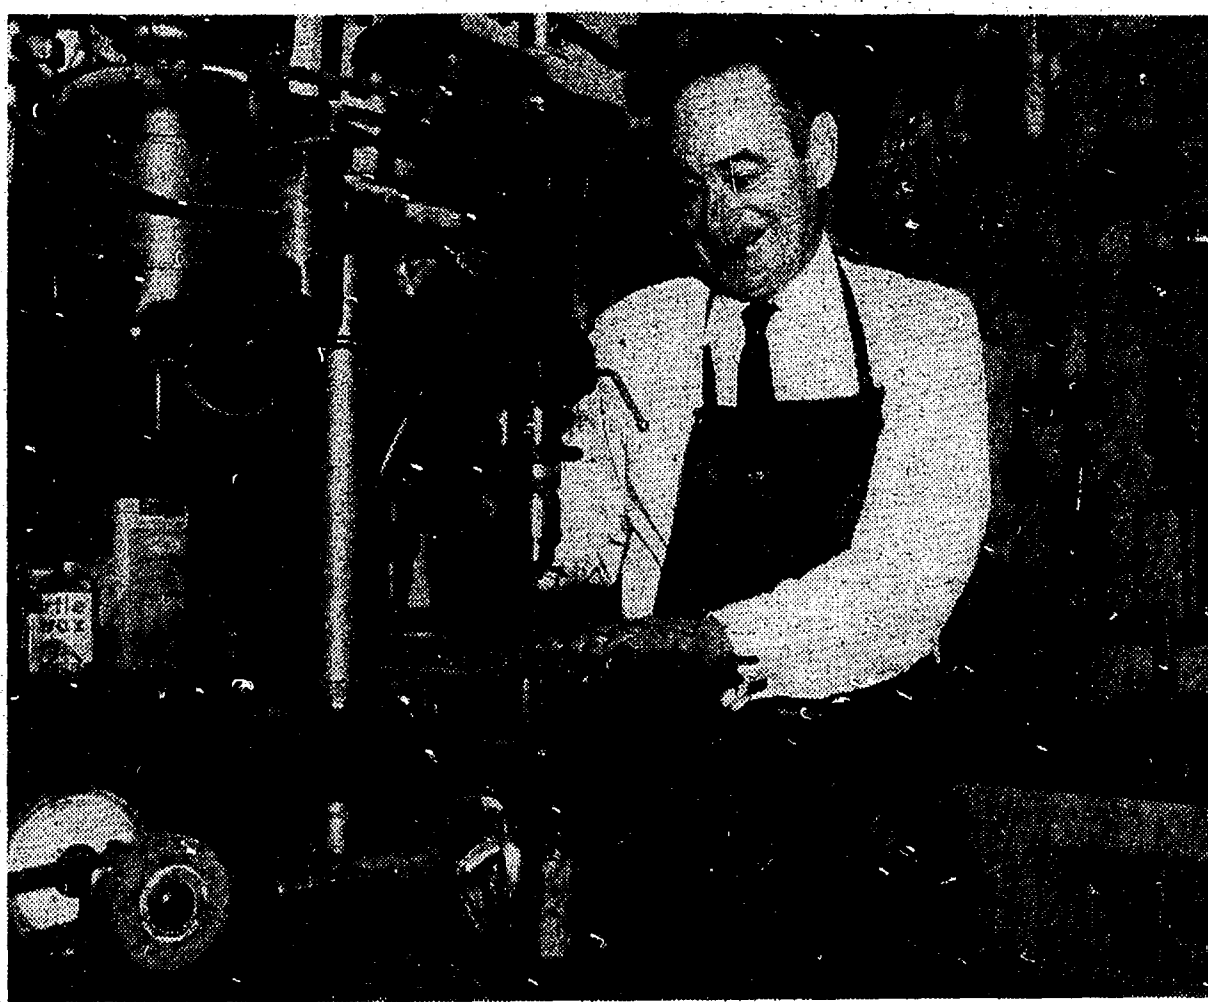

One distraught mother apprehended her three year old crayoning on the pastel bathroom linoleum last week and reprimanded her severely. In a wail mama queried that age old question of mommies, "Why do you do these things?" Said unrepentent tot "But everybody does."

And more mother despairing stories concern Mrs. Richard Turner who had the unenviable task of taking her three small sons shopping in a Yule decked toy store for a Birthday Present for someone else. A haggard making chore!

PILFERINGS

On the twelfth day of Christmas my true love sent me twelve drummers drumming, eleven pipers piping, ten lords a-leaping, nine ladies dancing, eight maids a-milking, seven swans a-swimming, six geese a-laying, five gold rings, four calling birds, three French hens, two turtle doves and a partridge in a pear tree.

HARVEY FOCHEY, OF MARLBOROUGH AVENUE

Picture by Fred Runnells

By Patricia Talbot

For the twenty-fourth Christmas Harvey Fouchey will be delivering the greetings and party invitations which herald the Yule season to the residents of Rivard, Washington, Lincoln and Fisher roads.

The time of the year that tries many a mailman's temper and his aching feet is a real delight to this veteran of the US Postoffice service. The gawky and kindness which seem to abound more at Christmas are everyday experiences to Harvey. "People aren't any different at Christmas. They are pretty wonderful all year long," says this philosopher.

Delivery of the mail is a source of real pride with this weather-beaten man with the twinkling eyes behind rimmed glasses. He has become a real friend to the residents of his route who treasure their daily chat with Harvey.

He was one of the first to have a route in the Pointe, working from the old Fox Creek station in 1926. There was only one delivery beyond him in those days, the Lake-shore mail routes were being covered by rural delivery. He has seen lots of vacant lots disappear, children grow up, marry and send their tots to the door with a greeting for the mailman.

But some of those first Pointers still welcome Harvey as he makes his rounds. Mrs. Cameron B. Waterman, Mrs. Harold E. Baker, Mrs. C. Edmund Delbos, Mrs. John V. Redfield . . . they were all on Harvey's route, a quarter of a century ago and are still there today. But many are gone, the Wendell Andersons have moved into Zone 36, Murray Sales is no longer in his big square brick mansion on Jefferson and Lincoln and Harvey has to look when he crosses the street now. In other years traffic was at a minimum.

A real traditionalist, Harvey was pleased to learn the Gibbons, who now live in the Sales' house, will place the star on the topmost branch of the giant evergreen in their yard. This custom for years meant the Christmas season had really begun in the Pointe, and when the Sales' star was twinkling in the crisp night residents for blocks around felt an answering glow in their hearts.

Dogs, usually the mailman's nemesis, like children, adore Harvey. He remembers nostalgically Nipper, the Joseph Dodges' cocker spaniel who used to trot companionably behind him as he made his rounds. The William Palmers had a setter, "Freckles" who liked to escort Harvey down the street, too.

Beginning this week the tremendous volume of mail begins to climb toward its Christmas crest. Harvey now has two helpers and his mail cart to make the job easier, but he says he has never found it a chore for he never has trouble with his feet, and all the kind words along the way lift his spirits. Nowadays, too, there is no more working on Christmas Eve so Harvey can check in at the Kercheval station and walk the half block to his home to spend the holiday with his wife.

It's Mrs. Fouchey who does most of the Christmas shopping and card addressing in their household. The couple have three daughters, two in a convent and one married with children to brighten the Foucheys' holiday. Harvey walks to work, but he takes the bus to his route after reporting at the station at 6 in the morning and is usually all done by 2:30 in the afternoon. But beginning today the tempo increases and mailmen put in a 10 to 12 hour day seeing that you get every card and gift on time. Tots who slip Harvey that precious letter to Santa know that he'll see it gets to its proper destination. Every Christmas Harvey gets three or four of these communications and he knows how to reassure his small excited friends.

No recession is in sight for 1958, a University of Michigan business forecaster maintains. At home he likes to disappear into the basement and putter in his workshop. He anticipates that long five-week vacation every summer, too, when he and his wife roam the state on camping trips. Harvey would miss and be missed by everyone on his route and he has no intention of retiring until he has to, which won't be for many years yet, he insists, in a sprightly tone. His job may have hours of loneliness, discomfort, tedium, but he would change it for no other. At this season of the year Harvey, and all those like him, deserve an extra measure of gratitude for their unselfish and unstinting service done with so much consideration and good humor.
