Traffic Violators Fined After Hearings in Shores

Shores Judge John Gillis found Henry C. Pickett of 8794 Concord, Detroit, guilty of being a disorderly person at a hearing on Monday, December 16, and ordered him to pay a fine and court costs of $25.

Lawrence A. Wood of 5637 French road, Detroit, was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore road, and paid a fine of $25.

Cornelius R. Burgess of 2152 Anderdon, Detroit, was ordered to pay a fine and costs of $17.50, or face 10 days in the Wayne County jail, when he was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore. He paid the fine.

Philip D. Badertscher of 10555 Lambs road, Memphis, Mich., paid $10 after he was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore.

Abraham Barkovics of 19858 Braille, Detroit, was given the alternative of paying a fine and costs of $17.50, or 10 days in jail and he chose the former.

George K. Marble of 6121 Swarthout road, Algonac, was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore, and paid a fine and costs of $20.

Charles W. Rabaut of 19820 Alger, St. Clair Shores, accused of speeding on Vernier road, stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered for him.

him. He was found not guilty and the case was dismissed.

Thomas G. Evans of 4160 Lakeview, Detroit, failed to appear on a charge of speeding on Lake Shore and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Also failing to show up in court was Edward F. Kurpicwski of 2474 Grayling, Hamtramck, charged with speeding on Vernier. A warrant was issued against him.

Donnie L. Norton of 3020 Eastlawn, Detroit, charged with speeding on Lake Shore, and having no driver's license, or having ever acquired one, was found guilty and paid a fine and costs of $27.50.

Charles H. Duncan of 26091 Lamour, Mt. Clemens, was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore and paid $30.

James A. Oss of 605 Continental, Detroit, was found guilty of violating the State Drunk Motor Law, and paid a fine and costs of $107.50. He was also placed on probation for one year, to report every Monday night at the police station. His driver's license was suspended for 90 days.

Walter E. Behnke of 22475 Katzman, Mt. Clemens, was found guilty of running a red light at Lake Shore and Vernier and paid a fine of $6.

Helen E. Cassidy of 36 Sunset lane, was found guilty of speeding on Vernier and driving with an expired driver's license. She paid fine of $10.

John M. Williams of 33551 Gates drive, Mt. Clemens, paid a fine and costs totaling $35, on two violation counts, both for speeding on Lake Shore.

William Moore of 865 Drexel, Detroit, was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore, and he paid $25.

James L. Porter of 19310 Eureka, Detroit, paid $25 for speeding on Lake Shore.

Thomas A. Downey of 1650 Alter road, Detroit, was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore and paid a fine and costs of $19.50.

Betty Jane Murphy of 1842 Cass Lakefront, Keego Harbor, Mich., was found guilty of speeding on Vernier, and was assessed $17.50.

Earl C. Knight of 24011 Harrison, Mt. Clemens, paid $19.50 for speeding on Lake Shore.

People always trace the good traits in their ancestors and omit the bad ones.

High School Students Get Voting Lesson

Members of the 11th Grade at the High School held their class election on Tuesday, December 17. Farms city officials cooperated, by sending down three voting machines, which were set up in the foyer of the auditorium-gymnasium. It afforded a fine opportunity for the students to learn how the old folks vote after they become 21.

Richard Wendin Wins Scholastic Honor

Richard H. Wendin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd R. Wendin, of Cloverly road, is one of three seniors at Williston Academy, in Easthampton, Mass., to be named a merit finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

The students are listed among the 7,500 high scorers on the scholarship qualifying test, a nationwide college aptitude examination given in 14,000 high schools on October 22.

The semifinalists named outscored 300,000 fellow seniors and thus moved a step closer to the $4 million in merit scholarships to be awarded in the 1958 program. The merit program is designed to search the nation for those students most able to benefit from a college education, regardless of means.

Next Family Film Night At Library Set for Jan. 3

The Grosse Pointe Public Library will present another in its series of Family Film Nights, on Friday night, January 3, 7:30. Featured on the program are three films of unusual interest, Canoe Country, What is Modern Art?, and Ski Skill. A color cartoon will round out the evening's entertainment.

Canoe Country (13 minutes, color), pictures a Cincinnati family on a canoe trip along the old fur traders' route from Lake Superior to Hudson Bay. It then explains the steps in making a portage and setting up a camp, and shows the family enjoying fishing, swimming, camping, and observing wildlife.

ESTIMATED FIRE LOSSES Estimated fire losses in the United States during November amounted to $75,321,000. This represents a decrease of 6.4 percent from losses of $80,481,000 reported for November, 1956, and a decrease of 3.1 percent from losses of $77,753,000 for October (1957). Losses for the first 11 months of 1957 now total $931,671,000 an increase of 4.4 per cent over the first 11 months of 1956, when they amounted to $892,805,000.

PACKAGES STOLEN Five large packages were stolen from a J. L. Hudson truck on Friday, December 13, while parked in Cupids' parking lot at 13324 Mark. Driver of the truck, Otto Osaer, told Park police that he first noticed the packages missing about 9:30 p.m., as he was pulling out of the parking lot to go on another delivery.

Driver Fined For Drinking

Vernon R. Pritt, 27, 16509 Tacoma, Detroit, charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, and held for investigation of carrying a concealed weapon, was found guilty of the driving charge by Shores Judge John Gillis on Monday, December 16.

Vernon paid a fine and court costs totaling $100. The weapon, a three and a quarter-inch blade hunting knife, was confiscated by the court, but no charge was made.

Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling said Pritt was seen driving south on Lake Shore road about 3:24 a.m. on the Monday date, by Patrolman Chester Painter, who said Pritt was driving in an erratic manner.

The officer took after the man and arrested him in front of 880 Lake Shore, but not before Pritt's car jumped the island curb and came to a halt.

The patrolman called for assistance, and Patrolman Harry Hamilton and Jack Lietke arrived at the scene. They made a search of Pritt's automobile, and found a car radio and two cameras on the back seat, which were later established as his property, and a bottle of wine.

However, in "shaking" Pritt down, the officers found the knife in a case attached to his belt. Pritt said he used the knife to cut rubber hoses at a gas station where he works.

Pritt was taken to the police station where he was booked on the drunk driving charge and held for the concealed weapon investigation. He admitted he had been drinking.

Tribute to the Police

Christmastime and the approaching end of the year appears to be a fitting time to pay tribute to the police officers who provide a multitude of services for the residents throughout the year.

Letters to the Editor

Before commenting on the editorial which appeared in the December 5th issue of The Grosse Pointe News, I would like to advise that, pursuant to my recent promise, I asked the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in Washington to furnish me with a report on the present status of the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and Disability Insurance Fund.

The year 1957 has brought us a number of promising new authors, but as we enter 1958 we glance backwards with regret at the established writers claimed by death in the last twelve months.

The book world suffers a severe loss with the death of the historical novelist, Kenneth L. Roberts. Mr. Roberts' writing career began almost thirty years ago with his first novel, Arindell.

Another voice silenced last July is Sholem Asch, whose novels, short stories, plays and poems have been translated into many languages.

Juvenile Burglars Admit To Indulging in Night Crime Spree

City police, in checking Len's Barber Shop, at 18020 Mack, on Monday evening, December 16, about 11 o'clock found that the rear window and front door had been broken, and the entire place ransacked. They phoned Len Norris, the owner of the shop, who boarded the window for the remainder of the night. Within an hour the station had a call from Detroit police who were holding two juveniles, aged 14 and 16, in connection with another charge of breaking and entering.

The youths had been caught red-handed in the process of breaking into a Detroit business establishment, thanks to the call of a neighbor who had heard a commotion in the closed building and called the police.

Ship Passes By Each 19 Minutes

The year 1957 was a busy one on the Lakes. Starting with the passage of the Sumatra, upbound at 10:55 a.m., on Thursday, March 21, a total of 10,275 commercial vessels traveled upbound in Lake St. Clair in the navigational season just now closing, while 10,367 ships passed downbound in the same season led by the self-unloading steamer Rogers City going by at 12:55 p.m., on March 22, 1957.

The last steamer downbound from Lake Superior through Lake St. Clair, was the bulk carrier, Wm. H. Wolf, Wednesday, December 18, 1957, en route to Buffalo. The Wolf may load news print at Thorold, Ontario, for return upbound to Chicago. Several vessels are still transiting between Lakes Michigan and Huron and the lower lakes, mostly tankers, crane ships and unloaders.

Foreign trade shipping increased again past here with a total of 366 salt water passages in 1957 through Lake St. Clair as against 333 in 1956 and 314 in 1955. Thus, Grosse Pointers have a reserved front seat to the spectacle of the greatest armada in the world, passing along almost at our doorsteps at the rate of a ship traversing the waters of the lake at the rate of one each 19 minutes the clock around during the 272 days of the 1957 season.

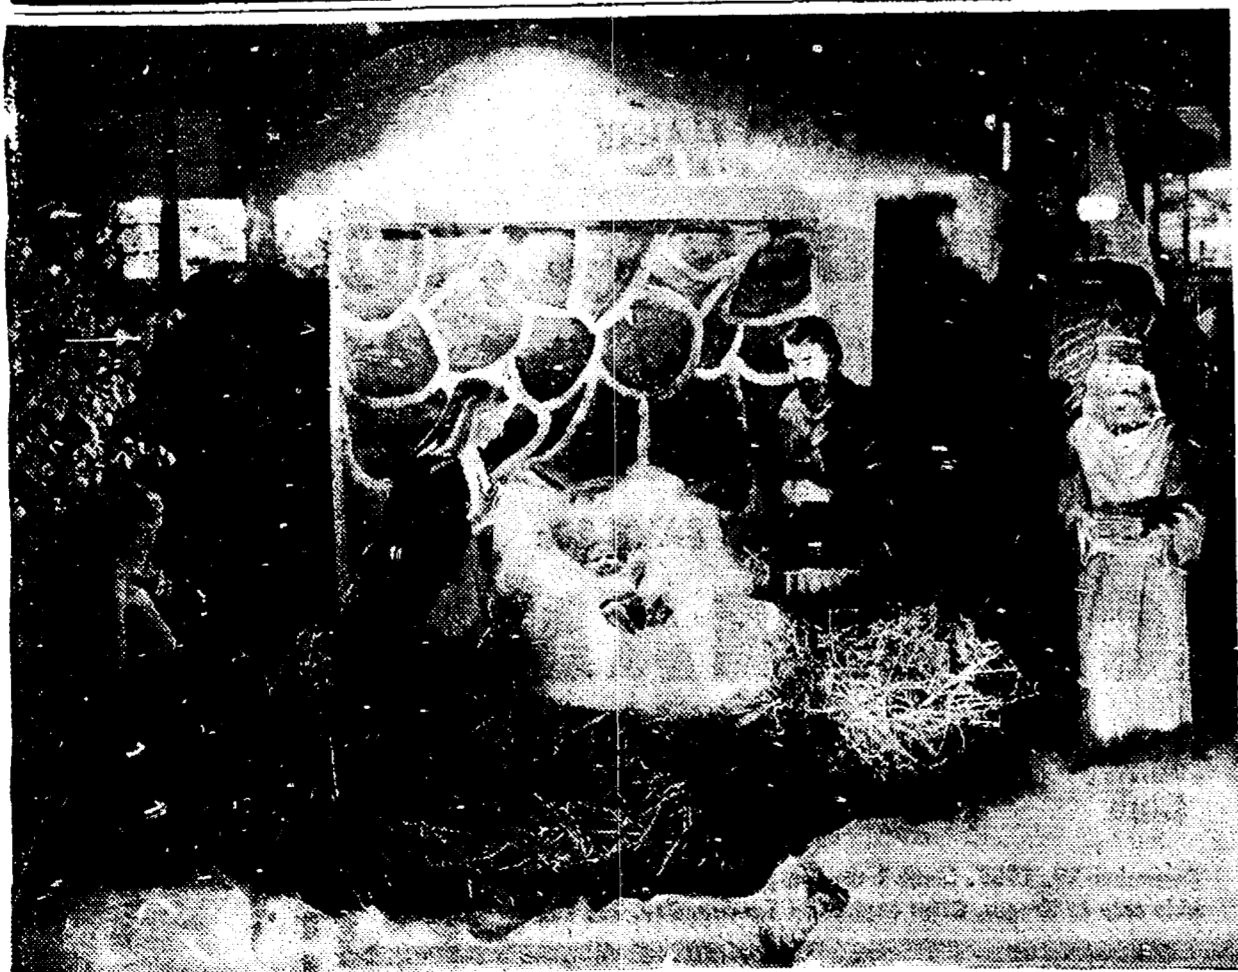

Burglar Also Television Fan

Gerard Gloss, of 867 Nottingham, reported to Park police that someone broke into his home, stole eight dollars in coins from a bank, and departed leaving the television going full-blast.

Gloss, who is office manager for the Adam-Simms agency, said he left town December 14, on business, and when he returned on December 16, noticed muddy footprints and leaves all over the house, so called police.

Information supplied by Park Cpl. Charles French shows that the thief entered the home through an unlocked porch window, closed the window, and after watching television for awhile, left by the front door.

Schools Stress Study of Sciences

(Continued from Page 1) get; on the other hand the high school programs are much better organized in science as a result of a larger measure of agreement among science educators as to what should and needs to be taught.

The elementary school Committee on Science began working over a year surveying the whole field of science, they systematically gleaned out the "scientific concepts" which should be learned in each grade.

Other Areas Covered This was just one of the areas covered—others include: Animal Life, Magnetism and Electricity; Physical Changes and Energy; Weather and Climate; Plant Life; Rocks and Minerals or Exploring the Earth; Machines and Industry—with a breakdown of the "concepts" for each grade through the 6th grade.

Once the scientific concepts which needed to be developed at each grade level was established, the next big job was to prepare bibliographies of books and materials which could be used: films, filmstrips, special equipment needed; suggested activities for the students.

Program Built So, over the last three years, there has been in effect the building of a science program in the Grosse Pointe Elementary Schools—with a continuum in each field of scientific study. This whole program was revised again last spring since modern day science is moving so rapidly that change in some concepts and materials was necessary.

Teacher Is Responsible As always, the problem of motivating learning in the classroom rests with the teacher, but the problem of how a school system is to attract and keep really capable people—who have the imagination and capacities to use the kind of materials already worked out—remains. These of course are questions the community settles for itself in terms of the amount of money it pays teachers, the status and prestige accorded them and of course the most important factor of all, the role of the parent in getting students to produce.

Evidence that we have such elementary teachers was noted in Education in Our Town, published by the Grosse Pointe Schools in a story called "Space Station XL-200"—Mr. Darvill's space-conscious sixth grade scientists at Monteth are working on a year-long project, gradually constructing, after careful research and scaled diagrams and drawings, the component parts of their space station "XL-200" (X—experimental, L—Library, 200—room number). The class works with all conceivable materials: balsa, felt, pipe cleaners, saran wrap, etc., in the construction of this space station. Some of the projects chosen by the children include designing clothes to be worn in the year 2057, a United Universe Building, transportation possibilities, and a futuristic shopping center.

Undoubtedly there are many untold stories in other elementary classes which never even reach the desk of "Education in Our Town."

The basic textbooks in the field of science teaching now used is the Heath Series written by Hermann and Nina Schneider. These books are all in the Adult reading room of the Central Library—they are placed there by the Board of Education so that parents might at any time have a look into them.

The science program in the Grosse Pointe schools was not hastily devised—this was no crash program—but rather one that was carefully developed. To date at least a dozen other schools have asked for copies of the Grosse Pointe Plan for elementary school science. If this has not been a pioneering effort—it can at least be described as "unusual" planning and programming on the level of elementary science teaching.

Honor Bestowed On 'Ty' Tyson

"Ty" Tyson, dean of Detroit sports commentators, received an American Legion Distinguished Service Citation from the Detroit Districts Association, Sunday, December 15, at Olympia Stadium.

Presented during half-time of the Detroit Pistons-New York Knickerbockers game, the award highlighted official "Legion Night" ceremonies at the stadium.

The citation to Tyson was in recognition of his activities on behalf of the hospitalized veterans at the Marine Hospital at Windmill Pointe, Detroit.

Some men's idea of reform is that they suggest it—others do it.

Driver Tagged For Speeding

Shores police pursued Charles E. Boening, 20, of 29000 Jefferson, St. Clair Shores, into the Park before he was stopped for speeding on Thursday, December 19.

At Bedford and Jefferson, in the Park, he finally contacted his station, and Sgt. Harold Zeeb, at the desk, called for assistance to the Park police station. By this time, the other car had escaped, but Boening was stopped at Jefferson and Nottingham, with the help of Park authorities.

Boening was taken back to the Shores station, where he was issued a ticket for speeding 55 miles an hour through the Shores. Painter said that when crossing the Shores-Farms line, he pursued the driver at speeds up to 75 miles an hour.

Boening said he was driving along Lake Shore, when the driver of the other car threw something at his car and he tried to catch the man.

Three Accidents Reported in City

Grosse Pointe City police began cracking down on reckless drivers last week-end, with a series of tickets issued just in time for a holiday warning.

Joseph Henry Balow, of 2371 Allard road, was ticketed for not having his car under control at Mack and Cadieux on Friday, December 20, and running into a DSR bus. The bus driver was Dominic Carl Ludido, of 22827 Carolina, in St. Clair Shores.

On Saturday, December 20, William Roger Forsyth, of 1383 Cadillac, was issued a ticket for not having his car under control and causing an accident at the corner of Charlevoix and St. Clair.

Police found Van Hull near his car, with a compound fracture of the left arm, and with a bad cut over his eye.

Driver Hurt In LS Crash

Edward Van Hull, 37, of 20904 Yale boulevard, St. Clair Shores, who was seriously hurt when his car smashed into a tree on Lakeshore road on Wednesday, December 18, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital, where his wife was in the maternity ward.

Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling said that a passing motorist, Sam Serra of 22516 Trombly, St. Clair Shores, stopped in the station to report that there had been an accident in front of 1017 Lake Shore, and that a man was unconscious on the ground.

Chief Duemling said Van Hull told officers that he possibly fell asleep at the wheel before the crash. The impact threw him out of the car.

Mrs. Van Hull gave birth to a nine-pound, one and three-quarter-ounce girl on Monday, December 16, and left the hospital on December 18.

GP Metro Club Elects Officers

The Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club held its annual election of officers during a regular meeting on Wednesday, December 18.

The first meeting of 1958 will be held at the American Legion Post hall, 20916 Mack avenue, on Thursday, January 9.

Top Events of 1957 in Pointe told in Review

February 7—Hungarian Olympic champion fencers and gymnasts held two performances in the Grosse Pointe High School gymnasium to raise money for Free Hungary. The event, known as the Hungarian Freedom Tour, was sponsored by Sports Illustrated for the two-fold purpose of fund raising and to give Americans the opportunity to cheer the Hungarians in their fight against Red oppression and to welcome them as prospective American citizens. The fencers competed against a team of Michigan's top fencers; and the gymnasts staged an exhibition of their winning skills.

February 14—The Gabriel Richard School Improvement Association was again successful in seeking a postponement in its delaying action battle with the Farms and the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, to prevent the Farms from developing the parking strip at the rear of the Muir property line. The city negotiated a reciprocal lease with the Board, agreeing that in exchange for a 65-foot wide strip, the Board will be allowed to use the Municipal Pier-Park for its driver training program. The lease would run for five years and could be terminated by either party. The Association opposed the development for a number of reasons, including it would depreciate property values and more cars in the area would endanger neighborhood children.

February 21—The Woods awarded $150,137.80 worth of contracts, to low bidders, for the improvement of its lakefront park. The amount was $35,137 above the $115,000 bond issue voted for by the Woods electors more than a year ago. The awarding of the contract climaxed many months of delay, through legal battles and red tape, for needed improvements in the park. The largest bid, $112,720.80, was for a new swimming pool filtering system; $35,770 was for a new bathhouse; $1,403 for a six-inch concrete roadway to the bathhouse; $1,403 for a six-stilles in the building. The work on improvements followed the recently granted title to the submerged land from the State Conservation Department.

February 28—The cornerstone for the new church in the Pointe, the First English Ev. Lutheran Church, Vernier road and Wedgwood drive, was laid. Completion of the edifice is scheduled for the end of this year, and it will cost $560,000. The church is planned to accommodate more than 600 worshippers, with adequate facilities provided for educational and social needs. A member of the American Lutheran Church, First English moved to the Pointe from Mt. Elliott, and Mack avenues in Detroit, where it was located for more than 60 years. Rev. Paul Keppler is the pastor. Herb McClure of Hollywood road is superintendent of the Sunday School.

March 7—The Grosse Pointe Board of Education's request for a 4-mill tax levy increase was approved by the voters of the School District by a vote of 3,425 to 2,274. All electors voted in the elementary school serving their particular district. Final tabulations were made known two hours after the polls closed. Percentage-wise, the figure runs 59.8 per cent in favor, and 39.7 against. (Continued on Page 15)

Miss Reeves Weds James A. Lafer, Jr.

Couple Speak Vows Saturday Afternoon in Old Christ Church; Following a Reception at the Detroit Club The Newlyweds Left for Williamsburg, Va.

At an afternoon ceremony Saturday in Old Christ Church Margaret Elizabeth Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Griswold Reeves, of McKinley avenue, was married to James Alfred Lafer, Jr.

For the rites the bride chose antique ivory satin fashioned along princess lines. Fourth generation heirloom lace accented the sabrina neckline. A Juliet cap of heirloom rosepointe lace held her illusion veil. She carried stephanotis and holly centered with a white orchid.

The bridal attendants wore deep green satin cocktail length gowns and white fur headbands. Their white fur muffs were trimmed with holly.

Mrs. H. Roberston Brinker was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Anne Elizabeth Murphy, Judith Virginia Richards, Dianne Kerley Duncan, and Maxine Beth Goss, of Oil City Pa. The bride's cousin, Sarah Ann Murray, came from Rocky River, O., to be a junior bridesmaid and she wore deep green velvet.

William B. Lafer was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the James Alfred Lafers, of Oxford road.

Ushering were John Edward Lafer, Terrence Edward Adderley, Robert Wentworth Morgan, Charles William Stevenson, Richard W. Lambrecht, Jr., and Harry M. Jewett. The bride's brother, William Peters Reeves, was a junior usher.

Mrs. Reeves greeted guests at the reception in the Detroit Club wearing a pink silk organza gown, trimmed with Belgium lace and pink satin and a matching hat.

Mrs. Lafer was in blue satin brocade with a matching hat. Both mothers wore white orchids.

WHAT'S WITH WARM-UP?

You've probably heard a variety of opinions on how your car should be warmed up in cold weather. Some people think the longer you let your engine idle before starting, the safer you are. Others have different opinions. The latest word is that you can prevent engine wear by avoiding long periods of warm-up. They tell us that in cold weather you shouldn't sit "warming up" your car engine, but should drive off evenly as soon as the engine has been started and the oil pressure is up to normal. This usually takes about ten seconds. You will actually shorten the time it takes for the temperature to come up to normal and this is quite important because warm-up accounts for about 90 per cent of engine wear every day.

Stephen Smith to Take Bride

The engagement of Miss Judith Carol Crawford to Stephen Worthington Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Yates G. Smith of Edgemont Park, was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fowle Crawford, at a tea on December 22 at their home in Chicago. They will be married in September.

Miss Crawford is a graduate of the Faulkner School for Girls in Chicago and will graduate from Connecticut College for Women in New London, Connecticut, in June. Mr. Smith is a graduate of Taft School, Watertown, Connecticut, and in June will graduate from Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., where he is a member of Psi Upsilon Fraternity. He served in the U. S. Army from 1953 to 1955. Accompanying the Smiths to Chicago for the engagement party were Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Eric W. Stroh, Gordon T. Ford, E. Rust Muirhead, Howard B. Knaggs, Jr., and Frank H. Boos, III.

The other attendants, carrying muffs with red poinsettias, were Susan Howe, of Saginaw; Nancy Hay, of Birmingham; and Janice James, of Chicago. David Pfaff came from Chicago to be best man for the bridegroom who is the son of the Murray Monroe Smiths, of Hillcrest road.

Ushering were Deat Lind, of Rockford, Ill.; Ken Vesey, of Ottawa Lake, Mich.; James McDonagh, of Saginaw, and Alan Berger.

Following a wedding trip to Northern Michigan the newlyweds will be at home in East Lansing.

Mr. Huebner, son of Mrs. Julius F. B. Huebner, of Rivard boulevard, and the late Mr. Huebner, attended the University of Washington. A spring wedding is planned.

Betrothal Revealed At Christmas Party

Engagement of Lauren G. Edgar and Benjamin G. Chapman, III, Disclosed at Saturday Evening Gathering of Friends

Lauren, Gay, Alden and Robert G. Edgar sent out invitations bidding their friends to a Christmas cocktail party Saturday evening in their Washington road home, but when the guests arrived they read the real news from special issues of the Grosse Pointe News in stands by the front door.

The announcement was made of the engagement of Lauren Grinnell Edgar and Benjamin Gaines Chapman III. Miss Edgar is the daughter of Mrs. Fredrick William Parker, Jr., of Washington road, and Robert Bone Edgar, of Lincoln road.

The bride-elect greeted guests in a black velvet frock accented with printed red velvet on the bodice and forming an apron effect on the full skirt.

She was graduated from the Grosse Pointe Country Day School and Bennett Junior College. She was presented to society during the June season in 1955.

She is a member of Tau Beta and a provisional member of the Junior League.

Mr. Chapman, son of the Charles Goodman Chapmans, of Lakeshore road, is an alumnus of Taft School and Yale University.

Mr. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster of Harbor Hill, attended the Portsmouth Priory in Rhode Island and graduated cum laude from Georgetown University with the Class of 1954.

He served with the Intelligence Corps of the Army, and works in Chicago.

A July wedding is planned.

Smith-Drew Rites Read

At a recent afternoon ceremony in All Saints Episcopal Church, Lansing, Mich., Marcia Upton Drew, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. William B. Drew, of East Lansing, was married to Murray Monroe Smith Jr.

For her wedding she chose chiffon taffeta accented with Alecion lace. A half cap of rose points lace held her illusion veil.

Sally Smith Lind, of Rockford, Ill., and Terry Drew were the honor attendants in iridescent green taffeta with green nylon stoles. They carried white muffs with white poinsettias.

The other attendants, carrying muffs with red poinsettias, were Susan Howe, of Saginaw; Nancy Hay, of Birmingham; and Janice James, of Chicago.

David Pfaff came from Chicago to be best man for the bridegroom who is the son of the Murray Monroe Smiths, of Hillcrest road.

Satellites to Whirl At Lochmoor Club

It Will Be An "Out of This World" New Year's Eve Party at the Club With Sputniks and Rockets Starting in the Decor; Dinner Will Be Served at 10 O'Clock With Dancing to Follow

Undaunted in the face of the furor created by the current and potential launchings of space ships, guided missiles and rockets to the moon, Lochmoor Club is prepared to stage its own "OUT OF THIS WORLD" stellar extravaganza Tuesday, December 31, the occasion being the club's formal New Year's Eve party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cunningham are party co-chairmen and are being assisted with the star-studded details by Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Woodbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowles; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stack, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wozniak; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kurtz and Mr. and Mrs. William Fricker.

Providing their arrival is on schedule, it has been rumored that two stalwart "Martians" resplendent in brilliantly colored space suits will be stationed at the club entrance to greet the arriving guests, setting the proper party mood.

In the ballroom one will get a veritable glimpse of the constellation. In the sky overhead spinning flying saucers, planets and asteroids intermingled with hundreds of glittering stars will focus their lustrous light on a giant "SATELLITE". The antennas projecting from the absolutely unscientific missile will be tipped with smaller white spheres. Upon closer scrutiny they may even prove to be golf balls.

Working behind closed doors to these many weeks the ingenious committee members have devoted many hours of sketching and assembling the satellite, preparatory to the New Year's Eve launching of their completely mad creation. They have even wittingly dubbed it "The Golfnik" (Honest!)

A blazing rocket will be seen racing across one wall of the cocktail lounge amidst a burst of fire and flame. (E.B.C., that is. Even Before Cocktails). Blue and white colors have been chosen for table decorations and additional trimmings throughout the club house.

Dinner is scheduled for 10 o'clock and music for dancing will be provided by Rey Brandt and his orchestra. For the late stayers-on a buffet breakfast will be served starting at 1:00 a.m.

A capacity crowd is indicated with Lochmoor president Gordon D. Skinner and Mrs. Skinner heading the list of reservations. They will be seated at a table for twelve which includes Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. Lance Skinner.

A group planning to meet early at the club for cocktails will be Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeHayes, Jr., and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Chester Janowski; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cytacki; Mr. and Mrs. John Giles; Mr. and Mrs. William Sigsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vander Voort and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ashman.

Still another large group who will share a subscription table are: Mr. and Mrs. H. Bon Orr, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Huffaker; Mr. and Mrs. William Hennessy; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pogue; Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Atkins; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schaltenbrand; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutan and Dr. and Mrs. John Kraus. For Dr. and Mrs. Kraus the club party will serve a dual purpose. The stroke of midnight will signal also a celebration of another wedding anniversary for them.

Still others are Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Bock at a table for 22; Mr. and Mrs. Knox Hearne; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Godin; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wagner; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wulz; Mr. and Mrs. F. Clayton Miles; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Link.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holidge; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Harvey; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Nimz; Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Powers; Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler; Mr. and Mrs. George Maghielse at a table for 20; Mr. George West, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Shultz also have reservations.

At a Saturday holiday cocktail party Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan, of Moross road, announced the engagement of their daughter, ANNE BARRY, to George Daniel Flynn Lamborn, son of the John Warren Lamborns, of Montclair, N.J., and Chilmark, Mass.

Anne was graduated from Georgetown Visitation College, attended Briarcliff Junior College and is a member of Sigma Gamma. She made her debut in December, 1955.

Mr. Lamborn is an alumnus of Portsmouth Priory School and attended Brown University.

Girls to Rule Center Dance

All girls attending public, private or parochial schools in grades 9-12 have the opportunity of inviting their favorite beau to a holiday dance at Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Saturday, December 28, at 9 p.m. Freddy Warren's orchestra will play for the festive occasion.

Robin Harris is chairman for the dance with Jane Price in charge of decorations. Stevie Gregory heads the door committee while Bonnie Brown and Jerrette Kulaya are inviting the chaperones.

Sue McKee is in charge of publicity assisted by Sally Chessman and Karen Hubbard.

In keeping with the holidays dress will be suits for the boys and wool dresses for the girls. It is a couples only affair.

Don't judge a man's ability by what he gets, but what he earns.

GPYC Plans Events For Sub-Deb Crowd

Teen Age Set to Gather at Club Friday Night for Dance With Many Dinners Beforehand; Children's Party Saturday at Club Introduced Santa Claus

Members of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's teen-age set are in a final flurry of getting their groups together for the Junior Prom to take place this coming Friday evening, December 27, in the club's ballroom lounge.

It's been rush, rush, rush for the sons and daughters — many arrived from boarding schools only in time for brief "hellos" to pals before Christmas—the Prom will be a real reunion. Dancing to Phil Girard's

TV orchestra from 8 o'clock to midnight will be preceded by a number of dinner parties in the main dining room.

When the POINTE was growing up...

The last Newberry mansion along the lakeshore is gone. There is a lovely street which commemorates the name on the site of the original family summer property, but the last Newberry heir has moved away, to the East.

The Newberry name is an important one in the Pointe's story. John S. Newberry came here from Romeo, Mich. in the 1840's, studied law and was admitted to the bar.

Immediately he rose to industrial prominence, with James McMillan in the Michigan Car Company. He was married to Harriet Robinson, of Buffalo in 1855. The Newberrys were originally from New York and they had a son, Harry R. Newberry, but the young bride and mother died within the year.

Mr. Newberry married Helen Parmalee Handy in 1859. She was the mother of Truman H. and John S. Newberry, Jr., and Helen Handy Newberry, who became Mrs. Henry B. Joy. A picture of Mrs. Newberry hangs in the dining room of Mrs. Joy's home on the lakeshore along with the other family portraits. She is pictured as a small delicate woman epitomizing the dignity and grace of the 1860's. She must have been a great addition to Washington society when her husband went to Congress as a Republican representative from 1879-1881.

The Newberry and McMillan summer estates built in the 1870's on adjoining property and known as "Lake Terrace" were landmarks. Both John, Jr. and Truman built summer homes on lakefront property in their turn. It was John's fabulous mansion, at one time filled with rare tapestries, art works and paintings, which was just torn down this past summer.

He was the Cornell graduate who served in the Navy on the Yosemite during the Spanish-American War and during World War I. His brother Truman served in Congress on the Republican ticket and won a hotly contested election in 1918.

His mansion "Drybrook" was torn down some years back. The chandelier in the Alfred R. Glancy's main hall once hung in the Truman Newberry home, the center of gay activity in the 1920's. Daughter Carol Newberry, on a European tour, met an English lord who reputedly followed her here on his yacht which he moored in Lake St. Clair. But she married Oliver Brooks, a hometown boy instead.

who, where and whatnot

by whoosis

For several seasons, past an anonymous lady in McKinley avenue has been a gift giver of magnitude to the Richard School children who pass by her door and her neighbors feel a wealth of gratitude for her unselfish service to the tots.

Mrs. Arthur Vorwald not only passes out small Christmas boxes to the children who troop by her door at Christmas time, but at every holiday she remembers them with some token appropriate to the season. At Halloween it was tiny pumpkins which were piled high in her front yard, a brave sight, for the small spooks to carry home.

Off times to light a gray day she will deck a surprise tree in her yard for no reason except she likes to see the joy and thankfulness on the kiddies faces. A great hand of thanks to Mrs. V., who observed the holiday spirit of love for others all year 'round.

Some of the best presents this year in Pointe homes were the Christmas tree itself. Mrs. John Pival is delighted with her turquoise pine which is decorated with gold and turquoise, accented with sequins and beads. The tree, which complements the contemporary decor of the Pivals' beige, turquoise and blue Fairway drive home, was made right here in the Pointe.

Mrs. William L. Johnson, of Neff lane, says hats off to her husband who created a stunning tiered village beneath their tree. The tree itself revolves slowly on its base and is a thing of beauty, but the village is a real masterpiece with an electric trolley car and a Christmas light in each small house. There is snow on the sidewalks, people chatting in the streets, cars moving down the miniature highways and the whole creation was made just for this holiday.

Mrs. R. Sidney Sinclair is delighted that she won third prize in the Ruth Alden Dress Drive for her delicate stitching of hand made frocks. This is her fourth year of competing in the contest to provide a new dress for little girls about the city whose parents cannot buy one. Mrs. S. is to be congratulated that during her own busy holiday she had time to consider some small less fortunate.

PILFERINGS

A nine year-old-boy won his first literary prize for the following composition says H. Allen Smith:

Manners
I have good manners. I say good night and good morning and hello and goodbye, and when I see dead things lying around the house I bury them.

And a twelve-year-old wrote this:
My Mother
The most dainty butterflies
Are not as dainty as you!
When it comes to opening stuck things
You are right there too.

Did you hear about the cannibal that went to a psychiatrist because he was fed up with people.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. FRANCIS E. BROSSY, OF KERBY ROAD

This gracious lady is Mrs. Francis E. Brossy. If you have had a debutante daughter in the past six years or been a mother of the bride, you know her well.

Her job as arbitrator of Detroit society combines the tireless energy of a teen ager with the efficiency of an IBM machine and the practiced tact and charm of a diplomat.

Nowadays there are few parties at home where the mode of entertaining is more informal. Most parties are given at clubs. The debutante and her mother contact Mrs. Brossy. If hers is a family where the debut is a tradition she is of course acceptable. The choice is not entirely Mrs. Brossy's. She is assisted by a committee which always remains anonymous.

After a date during June or the smaller fall or Christmas holiday season is decided upon, and the type of party chosen (tea, ball dance, reception, dinner, ball) the debutante submits her guest list. Mrs. Brossy has her own list of stags as there should be at least two boys to every girl at a dance. Today's parties are smaller than those of twenty seasons back when 1500 was not an unusual number invited to a ball at the old Book-Cadillac hotel.

The Country Club is the scene of most balls, where two of the three big holiday dances will be given, and holds at the most, 800. Invitations go out under Mrs. Brossy's direction from two to three weeks before the party, to the current debutantes and the honored bud's friends.

Mrs. Brossy always attends these functions herself and, as she loves parties, this is one of the most pleasant parts of her job.

Another tradition of the Detroit debutante reception line is: Burney Smith who announces the guests' names to the parents and their debutantes. He knows Detroit society as no other, as he has seen most of this season's girls' mothers pass through similar receiving lines. His manner is perfection and his place unrivaled in society's affections.

The three debutante seasons are short because most of the girls, who are freshmen in college, must return to their studies. This holiday, all the parties will be over before the New Year. This week is the climax of the season. After January 1, Mrs. Brossy begins to plan the June season, which is the most crowded and longest. She usually takes her own vacation in Lent for during the summer there are many weddings which need her attention.

Debutantes recall their seasons as the gayest era of their lives. Many of them meet their future husbands in the stag lines. Of course the season is good training for the social responsibilities they will assume, but most of all it is fun. Gorgeous frocks, a calendar crowded with dates, the center of the spotlight, all these belong to the debutante.

Need Clearing House Without Mrs. Brossy there would be no clearing house for this glamorous coming of age. Dates would conflict and where would mothers find all those boys to give their daughters the whirl so indispensable of the deb's success?

Mrs. Brossy manages her difficult role with charm and dignity. Her manner is a fine combination of reserve and friendliness. Once a mother has delivered her daughter's debutants or wedding plan into Mrs. Brossy's hands she can rest assured that the affair will be handled with efficiency and good taste.

As long as the debutante season endures, as long as brides want pomp and circumstance with their wedding, social consultants will have their jobs. Detroit is fortunate to have Mrs. Brossy and knows it.

PACKAGE STOLEN

Mrs. N. L. DeNise, of 15429 Essex, reported to City police that some packages were stolen from her car while parked in the lot at Kercheval and St. Clair. The total value was $7. They were stolen between 2 and 3 p.m. on Thursday, December 19.

Favorite Recipe FRUIT CAKE

Contributed by Mrs. John McCartney

1 can Eagle Brand condensed milk
2 packages of pitted dates
3 slices of candied pineapple, cut up
½ cup candied cherries
1 cup pecans chopped, not too small
1 can moist coconut

This recipe does not call for flour and may be made a few days before eating. Chop all ingredients and moisten with milk. Pour into greased and floured loaf pan. Bake at 275 degrees for 1 hour and 15 minutes.

College Crowd Bid to Dance

Again the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be entirely turned over to the Collegians of the Pointes for New Year's Eve. Tickets should be purchased at the Center in advance. The fee has not been raised since 1949 and remains at $5 per couple for dancing from 9:30 p.m. till 2 a.m., noise makers, favors, and a ham and turkey buffet after midnight.

Cards of invitation have been mailed to nearly 1500 young men and women in the Pointe area. Since there is a 250 couple limit, all are advised to get their tickets early.

Dress for the occasion, in keeping with New Year's tradition, is on the formal side, but no one should feel at all out of place in a dark suit or simple party dress. Corsages are in no way necessary or encouraged.

Any Grosse Pointe may bring a non-resident as his guest if he or she so desires.

Everyone is bound to see a host of old friends. The party is really "For Auld Lang Syne". At midnight with lights dimmed, everyone will welcome 1958 in appropriate fashion. Noise making follows and then couples relax over the buffet.

Resolved... to be lovelier in the New Year. Begin with good beauty habits... like a relaxing scented bath, using Arden's Blue Grass Bath Salts that dissolve the instant they touch water... releasing the familiar fragrance. Available in a decorative shaker decanter... one pound for five dollars at Trail Pharmacy.

Women drivers... put a STOP to cold hands with cozy driving gloves from Jacobson's. They're a comfortable combination of lambs wool and raccoon with weerskin palms. The colors are... just, natural and palmiano... the very welcome price... just four dollars.

Any place that June exists in January is the perfect setting for Margaret Rice resort wear. If your thoughts are gravitating southward... her collection of new linen daytime and evening dresses carry a soft southern accent that is delightfully feminine. Her cashmere coordinates take their fashionable choice of remaining north or going south... because they are so well suited to both.

Ski trails beckon him... his hand knit cable stitched sweater from Norway answers the call for warmth and style! Available in white, gray, navy blue, red and yellow at Proper's. Special news... this sweater buttons down the front.

Hold on to fashion! Elegant evening bags from D. J. Healy place glamour right in your hands. Highlights in the group include jeweled toned satin envelopes... soft velvet clutches... beaded black beauties from France and navy satin bags, abloom with sterling silver rose bud clasps. All have wonderful party manners.

Start the New Year with a gracious compliment... send flowers... because a gift of pure beauty is a precious thing. Charvat the Florist... suggests orchids or camellias for corsages... long stemmed roses or prearranged nosegay... for milady's home.

At home for the Holidays! Right in the middle of all the fun... a perfectly brilliant cocktail table! Very helpful too! This, from Wanamaker's Studio on Mack Avenue. Other conversation pieces in a wide selection of period and modern.

"Hostess with the mostess"... wearing a glitter sprinkled hostess coat, a splash with giant blossom print... thirty dollars. For chic lounging by the hearth... the leopard look tops sleek black trousers... about thirteen dollars. Care-free relaxation comes easily to a terry duster and the drip dry travel robe of arnel tricot. These and more from a beautiful array of robes at Jacobson's.
