SOVIET PREMIER Nikita S. Khrushchev provisionally accepted Wednesday night the Anglo-American proposal for a summit conference in the United Nations Security Council. He proposed that it be held in New York Monday, with India and the Arab states represented.

Khrushchev specified that the attendance of Nehru was "essential." He added a derisive reference to Nationalist China, which is a permanent member, along with the U.S., Russia, Britain and France. India is not a member, at present, of the 11-nation council.

The Soviet Premier's insistence that "representatives of the Arab countries concerned" be brought to the meeting was revealed Wednesday night by the Soviet Foreign Ministry and broadcast by Radio Moscow.

THE AIR FORCE fired a mouse named Wickie 6,000 miles through space Wednesday. A search for the nose cone in which it rode is under way in the Atlantic off Africa. A Thor-Able rocket propelled the "mouse house" into the skies.

An official announcement on the hunt is expected today, Thursday. The rocket performed satisfactorily, according to the Air Force. It was the third test of a Thor-Able rocket.

Its mission was to drop its elaborately equipped nose cone in a target area where it, and its little passenger, could be recovered. The Air Force wants to know how the nose cone will withstand the fantastic friction heat it will encounter in its plunge from space back into the earth's dense atmosphere.

THE SENATE LABOR RACKETS Committee has asked the United States Marshal to help trace four Detroit men who are wanted for questioning by the committee in Washington. It was learned Wednesday. The Detroit office of the committee in the Federal Building has turned over subpoenas for the four men to the marshal's office.

THE UNITED STATES Government began building its defenses Thursday for the proposed summit meeting at the United Nations. Specifically, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles moved to assure that President Eisenhower would not be placed in an indefensible position by a Security Council agenda limited to Soviet charges of U. S. military action against Lebanon.

For this purpose, after two long sessions with Mr. Eisenhower at the White House, he drafted another letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

FRANCE CLUNG Thursday night to her opposition to a heads-of-government meeting in the United Nations Security Council at New York, but delayed the formulation of her position and possible counter-proposals until Saturday.

Premier Charles de Gaulle still had not discussed whether, if the New York meeting were held, he would or would not attend it.

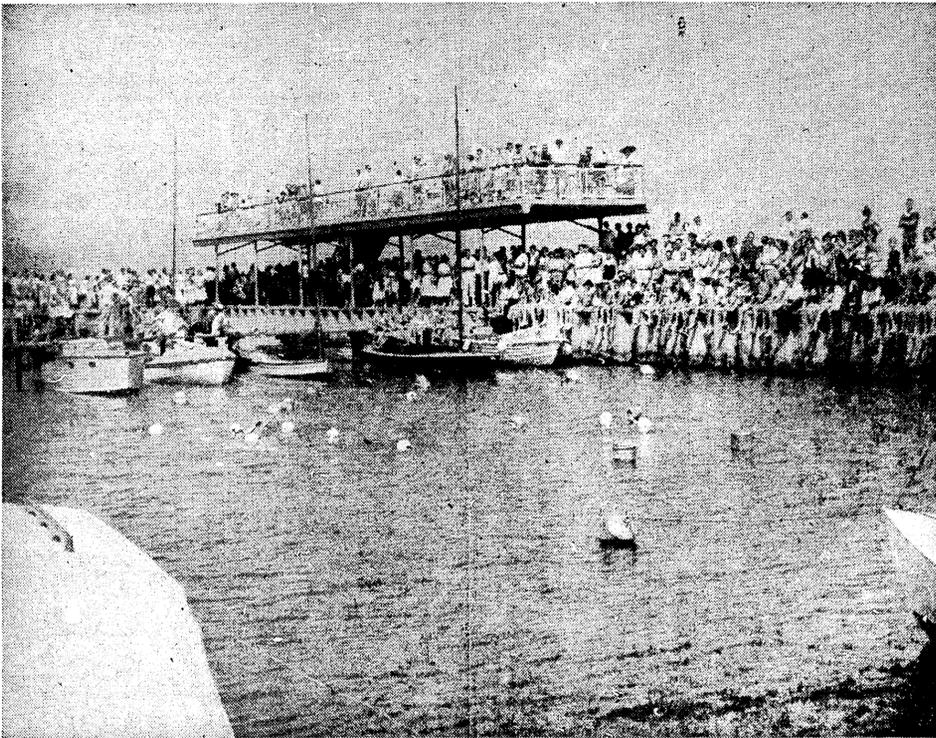

According to Foreign Ministry sources, de Gaulle would not attend the meeting unless normal Security Council procedures were drastically revised to protect the privacy and the "objectivity and serenity" he believes are essential for useful discussions.

A NORTHWEST DETROIT housewife was savagely beaten Thursday afternoon by a man police described as "a sadistic maniac."

Mrs. Jean Lowry, 58, of 15114 Beaverland, was admitted to Receiving Hospital with a cerebral concussion, a possible fractured skull and severe facial bruises. As nearly as can be determined, there was no motive for the brutal assault, which was inflicted by a man who answered a room-

Quite a Few Came to the Party

Grosse Pointe Farms staged its annual fleet review and boat regatta and a few other aquatic events at its municipal pier last Sunday. Dame Nature sent perfect weather, and as the picture shows, a considerable percentage of the city's population turned out. If the swimmers in the foreground are taking part in a race they're a crazy bunch of mixed-up kids.

Drives 110 Trying to Elude Police

Skids 170 Feet, Grazes Car and Lands on Lawn After Futile Attempt To Escape

Verne Bailey, Woods director of public safety, has asked Lansing to revoke the license of a sports car driver seized by Woods police after a 110-mile-an-hour chase along Vernier early July 28.

Fred W. Mosdale, the fugitive, was halted only after he skidded 170 feet into the rear of another auto and then careened onto the lawn of the Peters Fernal Home, Mack and Vernier.

Mosdale, 22, of 20761 W. Thirteen Mile, Southfield Township, was spotted by Woods patrolmen Jack Patterson and Stephen Petrick as he raced east on Vernier toward the lake.

They stopped the sports car at the Shores limits but then, they said, Mosdale made a U-turn and raced back toward Mack.

He was outdistancing the officers when at the Mack intersection he neared a car driven by Mrs. Margaret Macavish, 122900 Goulburn, who was halted for a red light.

Mosdale hit his brakes, grazed the Macavish car and skidded onto the funeral home lawn.

He was released on $100 bond pending a court appearance Aug. 23.

Dr. Frank Fitt to Resign From Pulpit on October 1

By Patricia Talbot
On October 1 of this year members of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will regretfully accept the resignation of Dr. Frank Fitt, for 27 years and nine months the minister of the Presbyterian Church of which had its beginning here in 1865.

Dr. Fitt, who will be 69 this autumn, has served his parish with devotion and great intellectual and spiritual vigor since his arrival here from the Highland Park Presbyterian Church where he served for 12 years.

He has held a leading position in the community, in civic, as well as religious affairs. His tenure as pastor of Memorial Church makes him dean of Protestant ministers in this area. When he

Record Attendance Throngs To Farms Pier for Annual Regatta and Boat Review

Total of 6,559 Residents and Friends on Hand to See Plaque Dedicated to Late Harry Furton And View Events

A total of 6,559 Grosse Pointe Farms residents and their friends, an all-time record attendance, jammed the Farms-Park Pier, at the foot of Moross road, Sunday, to pay tribute to the late Harry S. Furton and to watch the 6th Annual Farms Regatta and Boat Review jointly sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Owners Club and the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

The dedication of the Furton plaque at the Park entrance was attended by the Mayor, Council, and other city officials and dignitaries of the Farms and surrounding communities, mostly intimate friends of the late Village Clerk-City Manager for many years.

The ceremonies were opened by Mayor William Connolly, who introduced the dedication guests. Gerald Fitzgerald, long time friend of Mr. Furton, delivered a eulogy to his memory, followed by Fr. Albert Melvin of St. Paul's who gave the benediction. The plaque was unveiled by Mr. Furton's son, Dennis Furton.

Soupy Sales Is Judge
Festivities for the regatta, which followed, were set off by the arrival of Chief Judge Soupy Sales, TV comic, who was again transported to the reviewing stand by jeep through hundreds of shouting young fry and their parents. Soupy took over the mike, officiating throughout the boat review and synchronized swimming exhibition which followed. Other judges were:

arrived in the Pointe his church had a membership of about 600. Today 3,000 are rolled on the membership lists. A dynamic speaker, tireless worker, great comforter to the sick and spiritually needy, Dr. Fitt has also directed much of the administrative details of this great church. The doors of the manse in McKinley place, where Dr. Fitt and his wife have lived since their arrival and raised their family, have always been open to those seeking help and guidance.

Dr. Fitt has served on many community boards both in the Pointe and Detroit. His sponsorship of Alcoholic Anonymous some 15 years ago was a pioneer effort for churchmen. He was one of the first ministers to invite this non-

Pay Hike Given Park Employees
Full-time employees of Grosse Pointe Park were awarded a general salary increase of 2½ per cent by their Council at Monday evening's meeting.

The pay raise was retroactive to July 1, 1958. It covers staff employees, members of the police and fire departments, and public works officials.

Summer park help and probationary employees were not included in the hike, which was approved by all members of the City Council except Charles Ives. The last wage adjustments for Grosse Pointe Park employees was a 4 per cent increase, granted a year ago.

The Council also approved a contract with the Louis Garavaglia Construction firm for $30,077.86, covering the resurfacing of several Park streets. The winning bid will cover the cost of asphalt and concrete on Whittier road, from Jefferson to Mack; on Grayton, from Kercheval to Mack; and Bishop road, from Vernor to Mack.

An application by Mrs. Amanda Bailey, of 1468 Wayburn avenue, for a building permit which would allow a 1½-story addition to the rear of her dwelling—in direct violation of the existing building and zoning ordinance—was denied by the Board of Appeals.

The Council unanimously accepted the Comptroller's report for June, submitted by Councilman for Finance, William C. Oddy.

Election Day Comes Again Next Tuesday

National, State, County Candidates and Precinct Delegates To Be Selected

Election Day comes around next Tuesday, August 5. All eligible voters of the Pointe are urged to go to the polls and cast their ballots. State, Congressional and county offices are involved in this primary.

Nominees will be selected for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor, United States senator and congressman, state senator and state representative in the legislature. County offices to be completed for the candidates include prosecuting attorney, sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, register of deeds and county drain commissioner.

Hot Fights Seen
Some of the hottest fights promise to be for precinct delegates, which will also be picked at this time. It is the opinion of Norbert Neff, clerk of the City of Grosse Pointe, that the precinct battles are attracting an unprecedented number of requests for absentee ballots in this primary.

One of the bitterest battles has been waged in the second precinct in the City, where Frederick M. Alger, former Secretary of State, candidate for governor and Ambassador to Belgium, is seeking to defeat Richard Durant, twice candidate for Congress, in the race for precinct delegate.

Another Good Battle
Another tough precinct fight has been going on in the farms where Margaret Bonbright is opposing Earl Heenan. Heenan is a brother-in-law of Durant's and Mrs. Bonbright has long been a hard worker for Alger in all of his campaigns.

Can of Hot Tar Falls on Worker
Peter Pecarich, 35, a Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. employe, was treated July 25 for a badly burned shoulder in Bon Secours Hospital.

Pecarich, of 19737 St. Louis, Detroit, told police a can of hot tar toppled on him as he was working in a manhole on Maryland, just north of Jefferson, in the Park.

Elm Disease Kills 32 More Trees in Grosse Pointe City

Death Toll About Same as Last Year, but Experts See Casualties as part of Gradual Process of Elimination

Like death and taxes, the Elm blight has no respect for persons or property—as witness the fact that nearly every street in the City of Grosse Pointe contains a tree that has succumbed to the ravages of the dread disease. (This, despite all known efforts to control the Dutch Elm disease).

City officials, as of the week ending Saturday, July 26, have just finished the first of several continuous spot-checks of both private and public trees. The survey was made simultaneously with the second, (foliage), spray of all Dutch Elms in the square-mile area. The first, (dormant), spray was made the latter part of March and the first of April, just before the trees began to bud.

Experts Have Faith

The mortality rate is about the same as last year's, though both years show a marked increase over the score several years ago. Tree experts stress, however, that they firmly believe this is just a gradual process of elimination which is succeeding in felling the weak sisters, leaving the stronger, healthier stock to propagate the line.

The death toll is figured at 13 privately-owned elms, and 19 city-owned trees. Washington road seems to be most hard hit, with three in the 500 block, 1 in the 700, another in the 800, and 7 in the 900. But nearly every street is listed on the fatality sheets: Fisher, Lincoln, East Jefferson, Rathbone, Lake and Kercheval, University, Rivard—few areas were spared by the crippling disease.

All Cleared Away

The doomed trees have already been felled and cleared away. This is done as soon as it is determined the tree is diseased, so contagious is the bug. City maintenance crews either burn, or bury, the contaminated remnants, they being unhealthy for use as firewood or anything else.

The City will continue its year-long spot checks on all its elm trees, firmly believing that in so doing it is definitely beginning to establish a control over the dread disease. In the meantime it will also continue with its replacement program, using several varieties of trees.

Primarily it is replacing lost trees with Norway maples, Moraine locusts, and Schuedler maples. Experimentally, two Ginkgo trees—the only known plant survivor from the Ice Age—have been planted.

And, to further enhance the natural beauty of Grosse Pointe, plantings of evergreens and clump birch have been placed in front of several local commercial buildings.

Farms Grants Pay Raise To All Full Time Workers

The Farms granted its full time employes a three per cent wage increase, retroactive to July 1, which will cost the city about 23,500 a year, according to information released by City Manager Sidney DeBoer.

Part-time employes have not been considered this year, the city manager said, since they have received pay raises for the past two years.

The pay boost was recently granted by the city council, and the money for this is appropriated in this year's fiscal budget.

Besides the higher pay, Farms employes enjoy fringe benefits, such as hospitalization, insurance, pensions, and the like.

The total amount of increase payments to personnel of the

Three Pointes Study Report On Merging

Citizens Research Council Surveys Consolidating Park, Farms and City

A report on the results of a survey made to determine the feasibility of a consolidation of the cities of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Park and Grosse Pointe Farms has been turned over to officials of these three municipalities.

The survey was made by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, successor to the Bureau of Governmental Research, which was organized in 1916 to give continuous independent attention to governmental affairs. It was requested by the three cities.

Officials of the three cities involved have asked that no publicity be given to details of the report until the separate councils have had an opportunity to study it.

The City of Grosse Pointe Park council held a regular meeting Monday afternoon and went into executive session later, presumably to start preliminary discussions on the report. The City and Farms have not had their meetings since the report has been received, but are expected to take up their discussions at their next regular meetings.

Two Teenagers Confess Thefts

Two 17-year-old Farms boys who admittedly had broken into several homes in search of beer over a six-week period in June and July pleaded guilty to simple larceny July 28.

They were seized with two companions after breaking into the home of Dr. Joseph C. Brisson, 42 Lakecrest, and making off with a case. Dr. Brisson preferred charges after several other victims dropped their complaints.

The pair said their two companions were not involved in the actual robberies and the latter were released.

Farms Municipal Judge Grant Armstrong postponed sentence pending a probation report. Their names are being withheld pending the report and a determination of whether or not they have been involved in other trouble.

Parolee Seized For Stealing Gas

A paroled convict was seized in the Howard Johnson parking lot on Mack by Woods police after Elisha Benton, an employe of the restaurant, complained to police he was siphoning gas from Benton's car.

Held is Penn Forest Naylor, Jr., 22, of 5082 Buckingham. Naylor is on parole with two years to serve on a larceny from a building conviction, according to Woods police.

Group Asks Pointes to Enact Laws

Grass Clippings and Other Rubbish Polluting Waters And Collecting at Moorings

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association will seek passage of ordinances in three Pointes touching on Lake St. Clair, which would make it a local violation to dump grass clippings and other rubbish into the lake, according to Paul R. O. Marden, executive secretary of the group.

There are four Pointes touching on the lake, the Park, City, Farms and Shores. The latter is the only one having an ordinance against dumping in the lake.

The Shores' ordinance strictly prohibits dumping of any type of rubbish or refuse, including grass clippings, under penalty of a $100 fine, or 30 days in jail, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Must Use State Law

The other three Pointes can only resort to a State statute against such dumping. This law spells out what is prohibited, but does not pinpoint anything about grass clippings, which has become a nuisance along the shore, especially in the Park.

Several resident-property owners along the shoreline have complained of the accumulation of grass clippings and rubbish near their homes, which, while being carried down with the current, gather dead fish, refuse and so on, and come to rest against docks and boat wells, thereby polluting the water.

In 1865, the Michigan Legislature passed Act No. 350 as an anti-pollution measure, and in 1907 Amendment No. 333 was enacted. The law was changed again in 1921, Amendment No. 234; and in 1951, Amendment No. 82, was attached to this statute.

Public Act No. 245 of 1929, much in the wording of the law passed in 1865, prohibits dumping from boats.

Appeals to Residents

At a recent Park meeting, Marden requested that the Park, in the interest of the people and the cleanliness of the lake, appeal to all owners of waterfront property to desist from throwing grass, weeds, etc., into the lake.

In a letter to the Park council, Marden said: "This (dumping of grass clippings, etc.) appears to have been a general practice for the past few years, with the result that boat wells in this community have become congested to the point of becoming unusable. Floating masses of cut grass and weeds pick up dead fish and other forms of debris."

He pointed out that the Michigan Department of Conservation informed him of the law and the amendments pertaining thereto, but nowhere is the dumping of grass clippings mentioned.

Want Letters Sent
"As this nuisance has become increasingly worse," he said in the letter, "the Association feels that a special letter from the city to each of the owners of waterfront property, in addition to a Newsletter item, would have the desired effect. We are taking this matter up with the other Pointe communities."

With future developments in mind, he said, this would be a good time to consider a local ordinance to prevent this nuisance.

Parolee Seized For Stealing Gas

A paroled convict was seized in the Howard Johnson parking lot on Mack by Woods police after Elisha Benton, an employe of the restaurant, complained to police he was siphoning gas from Benton's car.

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK
William Edward of 1369 Beaconsfield, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Park police on Tuesday, July 22, when he suffered a heart attack at home.

TOMMY ASCOT HOST AT LITTLE HARRY'S
Tommy Ascot of musical comedy fame and well known to Grosse Pointers is now host during the evening hours at Little Harry's, Detroit.

Law Breakers Pay in Park

Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger found Robert J. Shaver of 1129 Berkshire, guilty of driving without an operator's license, at a hearing on Wednesday, July 23, and ordered him to pay a fine of $50. Shaver was also referred to the Secretary of State for breach of probation.

Shaver paid an additional $20 after being found guilty of speeding on Mack avenue. John J. Flood of Rosemont, Pa., pled guilty to reckless driving on Jefferson and paid a fine of $50.

Gerald H. McCracken of 9328 Pontiac, Detroit, was found guilty of having beer in his car, and he was fined $35. Charles F. Brooks, Jr., of 11353 Broadstreet, Detroit, paid $5 after pleading guilty to running a signal light at Jefferson and Pemberton.

Adonis James of 17523 Maine, Detroit, failed to appear for running a signal light at Jefferson and Pemberton and forfeited a bond of $7.50.

Charles Thomas of 15128 Mack, charged with driving without a valid Michigan driver's license, pled guilty, and was given a suspended sentence on payment of court costs of $5, when he informed the court he had applied for a license.

Lucian Thomas of 4502 Vermont, Detroit, pled guilty to causing an accident at Jefferson and Yorkshire and paid a fine of $15.

Kenneth B. Cagley of 1522 Belvidere, Detroit, forfeited a $10 bond when he failed to show up for speeding on Jefferson.

Evelyn Ann Baich of 478 Algonquin, Detroit, paid a fine of $10 after pleading guilty to speeding on Jefferson.

Harold E. Radford of 15319 E. Jefferson, pled not guilty and was found guilty of causing an accident at Kercheval and Maryland and paid a $25 fine.

Michael Mazzola of 20504 Regent, Detroit, pled guilty to speeding on Kercheval and was fined $20.

Floyd E. Throver of 1302 Pennsylvania, Detroit, paid a fine of $16 for speeding on Charlevoix. His plea was guilty.

Sena Mae Smith of 2597 Lycaste, pled guilty to causing an accident in which city property was damaged. She paid costs of $5, and was placed on probation until the damage was paid for.

Louis Dunn of 1195 Gray, Detroit, pled not guilty and was found guilty of ignoring a signal light at Jefferson and Beaconsfield, and was fined $4.

Book Discussion Group Forming

The Great Books Discussion, (second year), group, will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, September 10, 8 p.m., at the Grosse Pointe Public Library Branch, Fisher and Kercheval.

Anyone interested in joining should contact Walter Gibbs at TU 5-1310 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. week days, and at TU 2-4241 after 6:30 p.m.

Conducting Tests For Kindergarten

A testing program for early admittance to kindergarten is now underway in the Grosse Pointe Public School System. Children who will become five years old after December 1 and before the end of January are eligible for the tests which began July 28 and will be available by appointment through September 30.

School officials emphasize that application for early admittance is entirely optional. For a child to be accepted a number of very specific indications of readiness must be established. Among these are a demonstrated ability of the child to talk in complete sentences which are intelligible to people outside the family and a willingness to separate completely from home and parents for at least a half day.

If these two conditions are met, further testing would be given to see if the necessary social, maturational, and intellectual aptitudes are present upon which to predict a successful experience. Pre and post testing conferences between testing psychologist and parent are a regular part of this procedure.

Parents interested in learning more about the early admittance program should contact the Department of Pupil Personnel of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, 389 St. Clair, telephone TU 5-2000. Office hours during the summer months are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A regular kindergarten program exists for children who will be five on or before December 1. The parents of most such children have already been contacted and instructed by mail concerning enrollment procedures.

Any who have not been so notified should contact either the public school administrative offices (TU 5-2000) or the office of the elementary school in their neighborhood. Advance enrollment of these children will be possible afternoons during the week of August 25-29 at each of the elementary school offices.

Ignored Sign Causes Crash

Lack of respect for the full value of a stop sign taught Jesse James Windham a tough lesson last Monday, July 21. Mr. Windham, of 1776 West Grand Boulevard, failed to stop at the corner of St. Clair and St. Paul and consequently careened into a car driven by Victoria Ann Wehmeier.

Miss Wehmeier, who lives at 1118 Grayton road, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for minor injuries suffered on her right elbow, head and wrist.

Mr. Windham was issued a violation ticket for not having his car under control. Both vehicles had to be towed from the scene of the collision.

Good Drivers Being Honored

"You can judge a driver's record of accidents and violations pretty accurately by following him over Detroit streets for a few miles."

That's the conclusion of two Detroit police officers, Patrolman Alan Eichman, safety officer at Chene Station, after following several hundred drivers in the past two weeks. The officers were searching for good drivers, not bad ones.

"The driver who yielded the right-of-way to pedestrians, who always signalled for turns and who gave other drivers a break would turn out to have a good record when we checked Traffic Court files and the files of the Secretary of State where a master record is kept on each driver who commits violations and accidents," said Patrolman Eichman.

"It was amazing to us," said Patrolman Schroeder. "One of the first questions we would ask the drivers we stopped was: 'Have you ever had any tickets or accidents?' In almost every case, the good driver would reply either that his record was completely clean or that he had received a ticket some time in the past for what we considered a minor offense."

Speeder Caught Doing 70 m.p.h.

Driving at an excessive rate of speed brought a ticket from Woods police to Roger J. Blattel, 21, of 3700 Stolzenfeld, Hazel Park, on Thursday, July 24.

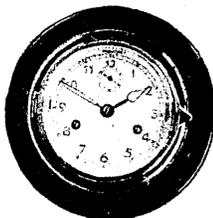

Blattel was seen traveling east on Vernier by Patrolman Jack Patterson, who while in pursuit, clocked the motorist at more than 70 miles an hour. The arrest was made at Vernier and Marter road.

Blattel had been drinking, Patrolman Patterson said.

Burglars Rob School Office

Burglars who forced a small door leading into the book shop, entered Grosse Pointe University School, 1045 Cook road, and took office equipment valued at $1291, according to Woods Detective Sgts. Odell and Tobian.

The loot included three adding machines and one electric typewriter. The robbery took place sometime over the July 26-27 weekend, the officers theorize.

Jaycees to Host Swim Meet For All Pointes August 9

By Milt Boyd

The third annual Grosse Pointe Junior Chamber of Commerce Championship Swimming Meet will be held on Saturday, August 9, at 2 p.m., at the Farms pier.

The event has become increasingly popular with residents of the five Pointes and attendance this year is expected to exceed 700, including 340 entrants.

On Saturday, August 2, a week before the championship, each of the Pointes will have its own meet to determine the winners and runners-up of 26 races. Both boys and girls between 8 and 16 years of age are eligible to compete in the 25-yard swims employing the freestyle, breaststroke and backstroke. Two relays of 100 yards each will round out the program after which the Jaycee team trophy will be presented to the winning city.

Last year, the Grosse Pointe Farms team led with 83 points followed by the Shores team with 68 points. The City and Park tied for third place with 40 points each and the Woods totaled 35 points.

The official Jaycee record for the 25-yard freestyle swim for boys is held by John Bannister of the Shores who churned in at 11.5 seconds. The girl's record for the same event is held by Ann MacDonal, also of the Shores, at 13.5. In the backstroke event, records are held by Jim Carner of the Shores 14.6, and Mary Measel of the Park, 15.9. Jim Carner also claims the breaststroke record of 12.7, while Mary Measel clocked the same event at 14.55.

Enthusiasm for the tournament has run so high, however, that these records are all on the verge of being shattered. Hopes are that this and future tournaments may eventually uncover more possible Olympic talent from this area.

The self-satisfied man has reached the jumping off place.

State's Upper Peninsula Mecca for Many Tourists

Michigan's Upper Peninsula is receiving unprecedented attention from state tourists, reports Harry N. Rogan, Automobile Club of Michigan travel services director.
Requests for touring information at Auto Club offices have increased 50 percent since the opening of the Mackinac Bridge, Rogan says. Among the attractions most asked about are a group which Rogan calls the 10 top tourist spots in the Upper Peninsula. They are:
1. Big Springs
2. Brockway Mountain Drive
3. Fayette
4. Isle Royale National Park
5. Mackinac Island
6. Mines
7. Pictured Rocks
8. Porcupine Mountains

THIEF TAKES HUBCAPS

Frank Adam of Adam Motors in Kercheval avenue, reported the theft of 12 hubcaps from three cars parked in his business lot on Wednesday, July 23. Four of the hubcaps were taken from a car owned by Joseph Tagliava of 3899 Harvard, Detroit. Total loss was set at $169, Farms police said.

LARCENY REPORTED

James Clingan of 1344 Maryland avenue, complained to Park police on Monday, July 21, that someone had broken into his car and stolen its radio knobs and loudspeaker.
Theoretically every man considers himself a good loser, but very few of them care to put it to a practical test.

Bruce Westling Takes Course in Radiation

Bruce Westling, a teacher at Pierce Junior High School, has recently completed a five-week institute in Radiation Biology at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.
The National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission sponsored and financed the institute to improve the quality of teaching.
Mr. Westling will be available for conducting teacher-education inservice or extension courses in radiation biology. He will also be available for lecturing to service and other community organizations.
Each of the participants of the institute has been provided a 22-item kit of equipment worth more than $700 for measuring radiation. The kit is to be used in the classroom and for demonstration before community organizations.
Highlights of the institute included field trips to the food preserving radiation installation at Dugway Proving Grounds, Utah, a nuclear reactor, and cancer research laboratories in Salt Lake City. Prominent scientists from across the nation lectured at the institute. Each of the participants used their Geiger counters in the determination of radioisotope distribution in rats.
Mr. Westling lives at 19305 Kenosha, Harper Woods.

(The new bridge qualifies as one of the leading attractions but both peninsulas share its ownership.)
1. Big Springs or Kitchitiki-pi as the Indians called it, is situated in Palms Book State Park near Manistique. Its crystal clear water enables visitors to see the spring's bottom 40 feet below where fish and other marine life exist.
2. Brockway Mountain Drive in the Copper Country combines vistas of woods, highlands and Lake Superior shoreline with attractions like Fort Wilkins, a restored military installation steeped in historic lore.
3. Fayette overlooking Bay De Noc is a lumber-era ghost town in the midst of outstanding woodlands and waterways. Rumors of a nearby buried treasure add spice to the ruined town.
4. Isle Royale, Michigan's only national park, is one of America's last true wilderness areas. It is reached by boat from Houghton, Hancock or Copper Harbor.
5. Mackinac Island in the Straits is geographically part of the U-old fort, exclusive horse and carriage transportation and other attractions have made it world famous.
6. Mather Mine between Ishpeming and Negaunee is the world's longest underground iron mine. Arcadian Mines near Copper Harbor has tours during which visitors can actually dig their own copper.
7. Pictured Rocks stretching 15 miles on Lake Superior near Munising are fantastically shaped and colored and may be viewed on frequent boat trips.
8. Porcupine Mountains are Michigan's tallest and are set in a primitive and beautiful landscape including the Lake of the Clouds. This area in the extreme western portion of the peninsula has recently become the center of controversy over a private firm's trying to obtain mining rights in the area.
9. The Sault Locks are the world's busiest, carrying more annual tonnage than the Suez,

A man without a woman, the ship without the sail—both must be like Jimmy Bavinger's bicycle without its wheel! There were no immediate clues to the identity of the culprit—but an investigation is pending in the Grosse Pointe City Police Department.

Among Top Tourist Attractions in State

TAHQUAMENON FALLS (No. 10 on map), the second largest cataract east of the Mississippi River, ranks as one of 10 top tourist attractions in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Others chosen to the list by Harry N. Rogan, Automobile Club of Michigan travel director and UP tourist officials are: 1. Big Springs; 2. Brockway Mountain Drive; 3. Fayette; 4. Isle Royle; 5. Mackinac Island; 6. Mather and Arcadian Mines; 7. Pictured Rocks; 8. Porcupine Mountains and 9. Sault Locks.

Earn All-'A' Grades at U-M

All-"A" grades were earned by 148 University of Michigan students during the 1957-58 spring semester, the Office of Registration and Records reports.

This total is six more than the 142 figure set by students in the 1957-58 fall semester. The records are based on grades earned by students who elected 12 or more credit hours during the semester.

Following is the number of students receiving the highest marks in seven of the 16 schools and colleges at the U-M:

College of Architecture and Design, three; School of Business Administration, five; School of Education, 26; College of Literature, Science and the Arts, 100; School of Music, 10; School of Natural Resources, one; and School of Nursing, three.

The 148 all-"A" students were among over 22,000 enrolled in Ann Arbor campus courses for the U-M spring semester.

Pointe students on the list include: Susan Jane Evely, 11 Lake Shore lane; Elizabeth Henderson, 599 Washington road, and Elsie Louise Scherer, 1130 Berkshire.

Second thoughts are all right, but don't spend too much time on the job.

Firemen Handle Two Emergencies

The Grosse Pointe City Fire Department kept active over the past week-end, although both alarms received were relatively minor affairs.

The first of the couplet came at 11:50 p.m. Friday, July 25, from the A. C. Dickson residence, at 383 Washington road. Both trucks were on call for an over-heated motor in an electric fan, in the attic. Firemen solved the problem and were back at the station house, on call, within 21 minutes.

Sunday evening, July 27, at 7 o'clock the City's Department received an urgent call from the Village Manor restaurant, located on St. Clair avenue, off Kercheval. Fire fighters discovered a safety control on the instantaneous hot water heater had become defective and, with the rise in temperature, the solder on the copper piping had weakened, allowing the control to blow out, and in so doing, released the pressure.

Both gas and water supplies were consequently shut off. Firemen had the situation under control and back to normal, within half an hour.

GREENS GIVE VITAMINS

Salad greens and cooking greens are coming to town. You may have a set idea of which greens you like in the salad bowl and which greens you'd prefer cooked. "Greens" refer to the green leaves and stems of plants we usually cook—such as kale, beet tops, spinach, and Swiss chard. This is in contrast to "salad plants" which we usually eat raw—such as lettuce, watercress, and escarole. Dark green vegetables have more Vitamin

A and Vitamin C and iron than the lighter green ones. Dandelion greens, mustard greens and beet greens are among these dark green vegetables. There's no time like the present to get acquainted.

Consolidation Report Received

Residents of the Park, Farms and City should be awaiting with intense interest disclosure of the details of a report which has been submitted to officials of these three cities on a survey made to determine the feasibility of consolidating the three into one municipality.

This idea of a merger has been kicked around for a good many years. This paper, since its inception nearly 18 years ago, has been a strong advocate of such a move in the interests of greater economy and efficiency. This is the first tangible effort to obtain actual facts on what could be accomplished along these lines.

We aren't supposed to know any of the details of the report until the three interested councils have had a chance to go over it in private sessions and submit it to discussion among themselves. But we're going to be greatly surprised if the Research Council of Michigan, which made the survey, doesn't indicate that great savings can be effected for the taxpayers without curtailing any of the services we now enjoy.

One of the chief sprags in making progress towards such a merger has been a fear on the part of the municipal employes that many of them would lose their jobs in the streamlining process. Of course, this need not be true at all. Many of the employes are approaching retirement age, and unnecessary replacements would not have to be made under a merger plan, thus gradually shrivelling up the public payroll.

It is interesting to note that many of the directors and trustees of the Citizens Research Council are among the most prominent residents of the three cities involved. Their familiarity with the situation existing here should lend extra weight to their opinions expressed in the report.

All five Pointers have been operating under a single school system for many years, with great success and unquestioned savings to the residents. The inter-city police and fire radio system is another example of the increased efficiency and economy which consolidation can bring. Each year there are more and more problems common to each of the cities. It has always seemed to us that a complete merger made so much sense that it was inevitable. It has been surprising that it has taken so long to get the plan into action. We hope the report which has now been submitted will speed up the accomplishment.

Preserve Porcupine Mountains

Porcupine State Park, last wilderness in Michigan and located in the western tip of the Upper Peninsula, has become the center of a considerable controversy. A proposal has been made for the state to allow private copper interests to operate in the park. The decision seems to be up to the Michigan Conservation Commission, whose members are divided in their opinions to date.

We must side with the many who are unalterably opposed to the granting of any such permission. The 58,000 acres of this park were purchased by the state in 1944 for $1,800,000, "to preserve this virgin forest for all eternity." The Grand Rapids Press carried a comment at the time, written by Ben East, which summed up the purchase as follows:—"Here is a forest shrine that Michigan has decided to keep. Here is a cathedral of trees that is to remain a cathedral. Here is a vast area of forest-cloistered lanes and foaming, brawling mountain rivers that are to be left in their wild setting. For that the people of Michigan may be grateful and future generations of Americans will remember this state with gratitude."

The mining interests say that it will take five years to define the ore body and 20 to bring it into production. The federal government pays 50 percent of exploration costs, which would mean this portion would come out of the taxpayers. The government is now stock-piling $82,500,000 of domestic copper to support prices. If the project didn't work out, it could be written off as a tax loss by the private interests.

The result of such a project would be to lay waste a large portion of this magnificent wilderness on the shores of Lake Superior, and accompanying possible damage to adjacent fish-breeding waters and the water supply for cities.

The residents can do themselves and other citizens a great service by letting the powers-that-be in Lansing know they have no patience with such a proposal.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor
At Democratic and Republican State Conventions in Michigan in 1960 there will be elected delegates to the respective National conventions. These delegates will nominate candidates for President and Vice President of the United States.
The delegates to State conventions will be drawn from County and Congressional District conventions of 1960 and from other party workers. In the Fourteenth Congressional District, we will be represented by precinct delegates to be elected at the Primary on Tuesday, August 5, 1958.
During the following week, the District conventions of the two parties will be held. At these conventions will be elected the statutory District committees in which the leadership of the respective parties will be vested for two years. If you do not know who your present delegate is, you can find out from your District headquarters. This delegate is your direct link with your party, its policies and activities.

This year's election of delegates is especially important. Remember that, as to delegates, the election at the primary will be final.
Respectively,

Grosse- Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"How goes the money? . . . Sure, I wish the ways were something fewer; It goes for wages, taxes, debts; It goes for presents, goes for bets, For paint, pommade, and eau de rose, . . . And that's the way the Money goes!" (John G. Saxe)

HABITS

We got into a discussion about habits the other day . . . not the common thing such as smoking or taking dope! . . . but the foibles of people that have become habits. A little research was in order, so we started with bathing. One woman told us her husband could not sit down to his dinner without first taking a bath! No matter what the hour or how rushed or who he keeps waiting . . . he HAS to bathe or he can't eat!

Another told us her husband would sooner go out in public in his underwear than skip his morning shower. EVERY morning, no matter what. If they arrive back in town on a morning train, he rushes home to shower before going to his office. On the other hand, his wife, who is a "warm bath before going to bed" type . . . thinks her husband is off his rocker . . . as well as anyone else who bathes in the morning. Her contention is that the time to bathe is at night when you have accumulated the day's "dust", shall we say. Then you get into bed CLEAN . . . and obviously do not pick up any dirt in the night so the morning bath is unnecessary.

From that we went on to teeth brushing habits. These are not exactly amusing. For the most part, everyone brushes his or her teeth night and morning. However, one woman told us her husband, who is a positive fanatic about cleaning his teeth before going to bed, GETS into bed after brushing . . . and munches on candy while reading! No, he doesn't re-brush them.

It seems the husbands win in the habit department. Another gal said her's can't sleep at night unless he is sure his bedroom slippers are facing just the way he wants them and side by side. She added that she had actually seen him turn on the light and get out of bed to be sure they were in the right place. Madame has toyed with getting up quietly and moving them after he is asleep . . . just to see what would happen . . . but she's afraid he'd divorce her! So much for the foibles.

POLITICS

In the mailbag, a letter from a reader in New England, who tells the following true story . . . since it happened to a friend of hers. It seems an enthusiastic young man in this small town, decided not too long ago, to go into politics. He did very well right from the start and probably now has his eye on the White House. In any case, prepping for a primary recently, seeking the nomination for a local office . . . our hero started on his doorbell ringing trek . . . meeting the folks and asking them to vote for him.

At about the tenth house he hit . . . all went well and he seemed to impress the lady of the house . . . but made one teeny weeny slip just before taking his leave. He bade her a courteous farewell, then called back: "Sure you know where the City Hall is?" Madame merely nodded in affirmation. It so happens that her husband is the Mayor of the town!

Well, that's TWO votes down the drain, anyway.

Just heard this quicky and thought we'd pass it on. A woman on the hunt for a new stove was asked by the salesman: "Do you cook electrically?" She replied, "No . . . Ghastly!"

Reminiscing the other day on buildings in general, we recalled that a well known theatre in town was completely finished with a play scheduled to open the place, when the owners realized the architects had forgotten to put in any dressing rooms.

Someone also told us that in one of the bigger office buildings in New York . . . the job was almost completed when they discovered there was no mail slot planned.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Guest Columnist:
IRENE B. MISCHLER

With summer well along, many young people are realizing that in a few short weeks that eagerly awaited summer vacation will be a thing of the past, and are, therefore, taking advantage of the time remaining by catching up on some back reading. During the month of July there has been a sharp increase in requests for "hammock type reading" such as mystery, romance and adventure.

One of the most popular novels of masterly suspense is Helen MacInnes' "North From Rome." Miss MacInnes, a Scottish-American novelist, is well-known for her novels of intrigue. Her latest novel set in Italy concerns an American playwright who comes to Rome when his fiancée throws him over for an Italian count. A charming heroine and an attractive hero make this a swift paced story of smuggling, kidnapping and sudden death. Another first-class novel that unfolds with the ingenuity and suspense of a mystery story is "The Greengate Summer" by Rumer Godden. This is the story of five native English children thrown on their own in a little town in France, who later become the center of mysterious activities and mounting tensions.

Stories of romance are always in demand. If this is your preference, then you will want to read the love story of "Victoria and Albert" by Eva Stephens. Set against a background of English domestic and diplomatic affairs, the author reveals Victoria's amazing grasp of politics and her devotion to her Prince Consort who was the only person she ever loved. Romance mingled with a close-up portrait of Alaska is the new novel by Edna Ferber, entitled "Ice Palace." Miss Ferber's novels cover the panorama of America, and her latest is no exception. Here is presented the case for Alaskan statehood, and the story of two grandfathers and their struggle to control the future of their beautiful and headstrong granddaughter. Interest in adventure stories never seems to waver. Those who like adventure in history will not want to miss "13 Days to Glory", by Lon Tinkle, a colorful close up of the siege of the Alamo. Here is the account of one of the most exciting, inspiring moments in American history. Here are glimpses of the men behind our native myths—Jim Bowie, Davy Crockett, Santa Anna and others connected with Texas history.

These are just a few of the many books which make for good reading, that are available at the Grosse-Pointe Public Libraries this summer.

College ahead? If so, don't fail to read the book by the same title, written by Eugene Wilson and Charles Bucher. Here is a calm, sensible guide to help high school students and their parents who are troubled about a problem that is growing increasingly difficult each year—how to get into college. Other books offering helpful information for the would-be college student which have been added to the library recently include two books by New York Times Education Editor, Benjamin Fine, entitled, "How to be Accepted by the College of Your Choice" and "American College Counselor and Guide."

Another recalled the story of the couple who built a large house in the country and forgot to put in a bathroom. Oh, well.

If you're looking for something different to gift-give, there is a record out called "Songs of Couch and Consultation" . . . that can't exactly be described in a column . . . that is why you won't be hearing it on the radio! Katie Lee does the singing . . . on the Dorothy Shay type . . . and very good she is. The musical "score" is out of this world but the lyrics are killing.

If you've ever been to a psychiatrist or had contemplated going to one or think you know someone who NEEDS one . . . this is your record. Some of the titles of the ditties are: Shrinker Man, The Guilty Rag, Stay as Sick as You Are, Repressed Hostility Blues, etc. etc. ANYONE would enjoy it but the real sophisticate will eat it up. Think it can be had at Doubledays. Our's was a gift from a lawyer friend who doesn't need a psychiatrist! Apparently he doesn't need any advertising either . . . because he asked us not to mention his name!

 The woman, Mrs. Rose Hurley, 65, of 5273 Cadieux, Detroit, was floundering helplessly in three feet of water when spotted by Weaver and the sailor.
 Weaver was treated for a minor knee injury suffered when he leaped off the embankment. Mrs. Hurley said she lost her balance while strolling along the wall.

sectarian group which aids those suffering from a drinking problem, to use his church's facilities.

Three years ago he invited members of Recovery Incorp., a therapy group helping those disturbed by nervous problems, to meet at Memorial Church. To both these organizations he has offered help and encouragement. For many years he has visited the AA meetings where he admits he has felt unusually strong spiritual faith. He has published a pamphlet in praise of the work of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Dr. Fitt is a prolific writer, many of his essays being published in church publications and scholarly works. He is a great admirer of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, the famed missionary doctor of Africa, and of Winston Churchill.

Dr. Fitt was born in Southern Ireland of English parents and came to this country in his early childhood. He received his education at Williams College and Union Theological Seminary. His first assignment was mission work in the hat factories of Orange, N. J.

In 1918 he married Harriet Bradley in Lake George, N.Y., prior to his appointment to the Highland Park Presbyterian Church. He came here in January, 1931. Two years ago in celebration of his 25th anniversary members of the Memorial parish gave Dr. and Mrs. Fitt a trip to the Near East and the Mediterranean countries.

The Fitts have two children, Alfred B. Fitt, who lives with his wife, the former Patricia Hewitt, and children in East Lansing where he is legal advisor to Gov. G. Mennen Williams; and a daughter, Mrs. Gerald McCarthy and her husband and children, who live in Ypsilanti.

Dr. Fitt was a leading force in persuading his parish members to assist in the establishment of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, and just two years ago his was the dedicated drive which caused Memorial to aid the foundation of the Faith Presbyterian Church in St. Clair Shores.

Retiring because of hypertension, he will continue to live in the Detroit area where they can be near their children, grandchildren and many friends.

The Fitts are currently on vacation, the church being in the able hands of associate ministers, the Rev. Paul Ketchum and the Rev. Ben Tallman. Dr. Fitt will resume preaching in September when there will be a formal acceptance by the congregation of his resignation. A replacement for Dr. Fitt has not yet been announced.

Members of his church and citizens of the Pointe will be losing a fine spiritual guide, an intellectual mentor, a comforter of the sick and shut-in, an inspired speaker, a great church administrator, an example to our youth, and most of all, a good friend.

His absence will be most keenly felt by members who studied in the Sunday School, were married by him, brought their children for his baptismal blessing and whose enjoyed his influence. The gratitude and the best wishes of his parish and his community go with him and Mrs. Fitt into their new life.

Two Cars Stolen At Park Beach

Thieves made off with two cars in less than an hour the afternoon of Saturday, July 26, from Waterfront Park in the Park.

The thefts were reported by Mrs. Virginia Sheridan, of 1452 Bishop, and Mrs. Kathryn MacKay, of 859 Bishop.

Mrs. Sheridan's car, a 1955 Chevrolet, was recovered in the parking lot annex, 200 yards from the main lot in which she left it. Detective L.L. Stanley Enders said the thieves may have been boys who took it for a short joyride or else might have become faint hearted once behind the wheel.

Mrs. MacKay's car, a 1953 Chevrolet, is still unrecovered. It had been taken from the annex.

Deanna Boerner Weds Mr. Cotton

Speak Vows in First Lutheran Church with Reception Following at Kenmore Drive Home of Bride's Parents, the Warren Boerners

At a recent ceremony in the First Lutheran Church Deanna Boerner, daughter of the Warren Boerners, of Kenmore drive, was married to David Cotton.

For the wedding the bride chose a ballerina princess gown fashioned with a skirt of tissue taffeta and a bodice of Alencon lace. A seed pearl crown held her elbow length veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis, rosebuds and carnations.

Sharon Mason was maid of honor in pale blue lace with a matching veiled headband. Her nosegay was of pink carnations and white rosebuds.

Linda Boerner was her sister's junior attendant in pale blue silk organza and her bouquet was the same as the honor maid's.

The bridegroom, son of the Edgar Hoops, of Cadieux road, asked Dale McCleary to be his best man. Arthur Neff, Jr., and Warren Boerner, Jr., seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding and the home reception which followed, Mrs. Boerner wore a dusty pink silk organza sheath applied in satin with a matching velvet and net hat. Her accessories were pink and her flowers were pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Hooe wore a white yellow and green silk organza print with green accessories and green orchids.

When the couple left for St. Clair Inn the bride was wearing a white arnel monogrammed sheath and blue flowered sweater. They will live in Houston avenue.

Discards Needed Urgently By Goodwill Industries

Several years ago President Dwight D. Eisenhower asked the public to put a fourth equality in their hearts—the equality of opportunity for physically handicapped persons.

The President stressed the fact that through war, accident and disease the number of these people was growing rapidly. He stressed the fact that following medical rehabilitation it was of utmost importance for a person to take his normal place in society.

More recently he commended Goodwill Industries for its work in this direction.

In recalling the President's words today, Harold H. McKinnon, executive secretary of Goodwill Industries of Detroit, said:

"With the increase in the number of physically handicapped people there comes an increase in individual problems. Opportunities for rehabilitation and for jobs are less. The problem snowballs still further. Society as a whole is faced with an economic and social condition that is staggering.

"Goodwill Industries of America, with the help of the public, has made strides in aiding this situation that have been heart-warming.

"By collecting, renovating and selling discards, Goodwill Industries has managed to give job opportunities and on-the-job rehabilitation in this area to thousands since its founding here in 1921.

"This year, however, Goodwill Industries is feeling the effects of the unemployment in the area, as are so many others. It is of utmost importance to the physically handicapped that those who are able to do so send their discards to Goodwill to keep the handicapped people employed.

"The discards when reconditioned are sold in Goodwill stores at a cost price. This allows many unemployed people to purchase items they would otherwise be denied," McKinnon said.

Nearly 35,000 handicapped men and women receive training, employment and rehabilitation each year through the Goodwill Industries of America.

Nearly 800 of these are served by Goodwill Industries of Detroit, second largest unit in the world. These people depend on repairable discards for their work and training.

During the first six months of this year, over 19 percent of the total wages paid in the 121 Goodwill units comprising Goodwill Industries of America was paid to handicapped people through Goodwill Industries of Detroit.

This was made possible through the repair and sale of usable discards contributed by householders.

Did you know that besides jobs and training that your usable discards have given hundreds of physically handicapped persons at Goodwill Industries, they have also made possible free medical service and free prescription medicine?

Free medicine alone has amounted to nearly $2,000 for the first six months of this year.

Your discards mean health, jobs and happiness to the physically handicapped at Goodwill Industries.

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

This, briefly, is Bob Waldron's political philosophy.

- I believe that the business of government is the business of us all; that none of us can afford not to have the time for it.
- I believe that government begins with the individual; he delegates some of his duties to those in the government, he does not delegate his responsibility; if he does, then he abdicates his birthright.
- I believe that human beings can govern themselves; I believe that socialism or planned economy denies this.
- I believe that our form of government is the political expression of Christianity which puts the highest value on individual worth and dignity.
- I believe that politics is the selling of a philosophy of government by practical application of that philosophy.
- I believe that today the Republican Party most closely expresses and applies the philosophy upon which we as a nation can go forward toward greater strength, dignity and happiness.

PLATFORM

Here, in brief, are Bob Waldron's ideas on some major topics:

- Michigan's tax structure must maintain and enhance the state's competitive position for business and jobs.
- The rights of the workingman must be protected against political and economic dictatorship. The older worker and the handicapped should be allowed sufficient freedom of contract to compete for jobs.
- The state's budget must be honestly balanced.
- A clear distinction should be drawn between employment security and welfare. Forcing business to bear the brunt of welfare payments will only hasten its departure from the state.
- Government stability can be enhanced by more executive freedom on methods of administration only if coupled with more legislative means to investigate and audit executive performance.
- There must be a clear line between state and local education responsibilities. Uniform assessment practices are vital. Local control should be maintained.
- Research and study must be encouraged in the fields of mental health and corrections to continue the downward trend in the state's institutional populations.

Bites Tongue During Crash

Ronald P. Sossi, 18, of 16341 Gordon, Fraser, cut his tongue with his teeth, during an accident on Monday, July 21, in which he ran into a parked truck at Mack avenue and Brys drive.

He was ticketed by Woods police for not having his car under control and causing an accident, and then taken to St. John Hospital for treatment of his injury.

An accident report revealed that Sossi was going north on Mack when he lost control of his vehicle and smashed into the rear of a truck owned by Harry J. Doyle of 1784 Alvine. The impact sent the truck over the curb and onto the sidewalk.

Court date was set for August 23.

Plan Ball League For Older Boys

Several fathers whose sons are 15 or older are banding together in hopes enough interest will be shown to start a senior baseball league next year.

On Saturday, August 2, at 1:00 p.m., all boys 15 through 17 interested in playing senior ball should attend a meeting at the Neighborhood Club. It is hoped enough boys will turn out to form four teams and that games will begin the following week at the High School diamond and will run for four weeks.

If this senior ball attracts enough interest this month, a league like Little League and Babe Ruth will be in full force next summer in all the Grosse Pointes for the older boys.

Anyone seeking information about the Senior League should call either Frank Robert at VA. 1-3233 or Bob Beltz at TU. 2-6234.

Gordon McCarty of 4251 Yorkshire, reported the theft of a new tire and wheel from the trunk of his car. He told Woods police that the larceny took place in the Woods Theater parking lot on Thursday, July 24. He valued his loss at $50.

Rabaut Injured In Capital Crash

Representative Louis C. Rabaut, 72, who maintains a residence on Three Mile drive, sometimes referred to as "dean of Michigan Democrats in Congress," was in an automobile accident Wednesday night, July 23, while driving to his (Washington, D. C.) home, from his office.

He was treated at Bethesda Naval Medical Center for a broken wrist, cracked rib, and a bruised kneecap suffered when his car slammed into the rear of a taxicab—when a butterfly flew into his face and distracted him.

Mrs. Rabaut, who was with her husband, was uninjured, though thrown to the floor of the car at the time of the crash.

Historical Museum Has Seventh Birthday

July 24, marked the 7th birthday of the Detroit Historical Museum. The seven, successful years provide a record attendance as reported by Henry D. Brown, museum director. 2,816,358 people have enjoyed the Museum facilities since 1951.

Two major exhibitions are featured as a birthday presentation. The first, occupying the entire main floor area, is entitled, WHEELS ON OUR STREETS, and clearly illustrates the significant development of transportation. From Conestoga Wagon to modern autos and sports cars, not forgetting the carriages, pony carts, baby buggies, delivery wagons and bicycles, the display dramatically informs the visitor about the history of "wheels."

MUSIC IN THE AIR, the second birthday presentation, occupies the entire ground floor area. Incorporating 16 major musical boxes, loaned by Arch L. Rankin of Grosse Pointe, prominent midwest collector, the display boasts a Belgian Street Fair organ, brought to this country in 1902. It remained in the Copper Country of Michigan at Calumet, until purchased by Mr. Rankin in 1956. It has been completely reconditioned and set in perfect working order. A flute, organ, piano, violin, castanets, drums and other instruments compose the major working of this rare item. Also included are an Edison Cylinder Juke Box, one of the first automatic selecting machines, and a Regina music box, which is the oldest known, hand-made box in the world.

Both exhibitions will continue through September 30. The museum is open Tuesday through Sunday from 1 to 10 p.m. Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Closed Mondays — Admission free.

William G. Taylor Taking Army Course

William G. Taylor, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of 30 Beacon Hill, left last Saturday, July 26, to fulfill his military obligations.

He will report to the U.S. Army base at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, for a six-months ROTC training program. Bill is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, and attended the University of Detroit for two years.

He has been general manager for his father's firm, Tom Taylor Buick, at 13033 Gratiot, which position he will resume upon completion of his military service.

Schools Need New Climate

"Many classrooms today contain children who cannot possibly benefit from the instruction because of their emotional and social deviation," says William C. Morse, professor of educational psychology at The University of Michigan.

"By law they are required to stay in school. They are captive clientele but they are not about to learn," he states.

Professor Morse stresses the need to study what is appropriate for particular types of children. It is quite possible that special attention to such needs would give the classroom a new lease on learning."

He points out that the classroom has lost status as the rightful center for learning. "It has been run down as being merely an arena for socialization, an amorphous mass, an irreconcilable range from imbeciles to geniuses, and an operation infested with milk money collections and the reading of notices.

"We arrange special provisions for the dull, but we ignore the fact that classrooms can become clogged with other pupils having no readiness for learning. Some have attitudinal defects which block investment in school tasks. They conduct the cold war campaigns against education. Many act out their problems in the classroom.

"Reluctance to segregate them is destroying the school's basic tool, classrooms for school learning. The problem thus imposed is literally wearing out many a sensitive career teacher. The majority of class members are shortchanged while the teacher tries to cope with the maladjusted.

"Teachers themselves become frustrated and demonstrate unhygienic behavior which is difficult for the normal youngster to accept. For every year of teaching they put in, they must have twice the time invested in pseudo-therapeutic attempts to help the wayward ones. A rethinking of this basic issue would be a boon to the maladjusted pupil, the teacher, and the group," he maintains. "But it would do more toward improving education than all the conferences on education for the space age."

Branigin Seeks Return to Office

Edgar M. Branigin, a candidate for nomination as county clerk on the Democratic ticket at the 5th of August primary, has held the office of county clerk since his appointment in 1947 by the Wayne Circuit Judges, and his subsequent election in 1948, 1950, and 1952, and 1956.

On each occasion that he has been a candidate for the office he has received solid labor support, from the Wayne County Council UAW CIO, the American Federation of Labor, and other labor unions, as well as the preferred rating of the Detroit Citizens' league.

Branigin was born on July 1st, 1900, in Franklin, Indiana, where he attended Franklin high school four years as well as four years in Franklin college. First coming to Detroit in 1919, he later attended the Detroit College of Law night school while working as a reporter on a metropolitan newspaper, and has been a lawyer since 1937.

Youths Pay $15 For Stolen Swim

A sextet of Detroit youths, who recently treated themselves to a delinquent dip in the Horace Dodge swimming pool, on the estate at 17840 East Jefferson, paid heavily for their few moments of privacy. POLISH CHARMER — Ilena Drowaska, "Miss Poland," has a smile for cameras as she departs from LaGuardia Airport, New York, for Boston via American Airlines. After a short visit to New England, Ilena will fly to the coast to compete in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif.

WHAT! EVEN HERE?—Pretty Florida mermaid Betty Frazee seems surprised to find an American Heritage Foundation poster underwater at Silver Springs. The posters, urging Americans not to abandon the financial support of the nation's two-party system to "selfish interests," are going up all over the country this month.

UNDERGROUND FOR THE BIRDS—Believe it or not, every one of these holes houses a pair of bank swallows. Thousands of the birds nest in the banks near Okawville, Ill. The strange thing is that these birds, unlike people who sometimes get the wrong house in a housing development, never make a mistake. The 20th Century cliff dwellers fly along at full speed and zoom right into their tunneled nests. They never miss, which is a good thing, since a miss here would mean an awful headache.

BREEZY TYPE—Ready for business in a tiny newsstand at 46th Street and Broadway, New York City, Mrs. Anita Pisarz keeps cool even though hot news and hot weather may be breaking. She and her husband have managed to outfit their tiny cubicle with an air conditioner (behind her). Mrs. Pisarz has partial sight. Her husband is blind.

CLOSE FIT FOR FALL—Designed by Mr. John, this boutique hat is fashioned of white frost swan feathers on black velvet, the perfect compliment for any ensemble for afternoon, cocktails or evening.

NOT SO HEALTHY ANY MORE—Though it looks like a long, skinny house, this is Warren, a real oldster now retired from the railroad business. The car was made into a public health exhibit in the early 1900s, but now no one can figure out what to do with it. Looking over the crumbling car is Orville Whitbread, 13, of Topeka, Kan.

OUT OF GLASS — Pretty as the pattern on his new car's back window is, Andrew Forsythe of Massapequa, N. Y., would just as soon do without it. It seems the hot weather proved to be too much for the window to take, and it cracked and broke. Forsythe doesn't mind that the cracks cut down his visibility, but the Motor Vehicle Bureau prefers plain glass, so he will have to get a new rear window.

ALL DECKED OUT—Robert Elsasser, 3, and brother William, 5, of Ames, Iowa, greet New York in their Tyrolean togs on arrival aboard the liner Atlantic. The Alpine attire is a gift to the boys from their father, George, whom they visited at his U.S. Army post in Darmstadt, Germany.

TWO ON A SKI—Making quite a splash in the calm waters at Cypress Gardens, Fla., Mary Lou Rhodes and Buster MacCalla find one ski is enough, when two people are close enough. Even their shadows are close friends.

QUEEN'S PRESS SECRETARY — A line-up of covers from the magazine, "The Young Elizabethans," forms the backdrop for Anne Hawkins, 30, in her office in London. Miss Hawkins will leave her job as editorial assistant on the magazine in September to take over the post of Queen Elizabeth II's press secretary.

KINGDOM FOR A HORSE—Breakfast in bed is served by three-year-old Suzanne Pellett to Spunky, a pampered pony who is the youngster's house pet in Stouffville, Ontario, Canada. The pony faced death by starvation after his mother disowned him shortly after birth. But Suzanne and her mother took him in, and he's thrived on bottle feeding and the luxury of mattress, sheets and blankets. When he's not sleeping, Spunky likes to frolic with Suzanne and the family cat.

SEE, SEE, SENORITAS—Still going strong after 41 years in show business, the famed Duncan Sisters, Vivian (left) and Rosetta, look for new worlds to conquer in Mexico City. The stars, who first clicked with their song and comedy routine back in 1918, now live in Los Angeles, Calif., but still go on the road. They've spotted something from the 42nd floor observation tower of the Latino Americana Building, tallest in Latin America. But they're keeping whatever they've seen under their Mexican hats.

SEA LEGS — Fraulein Karen Volkert, West German movie starlet, climbs alongside the funnel of the Hanseatic to get a sea-bird's-eye view of the 28,500-ton liner as it is made ready in a Hamburg shipyard for sailing on the maiden voyage of her new Hamburg-New York service.

HOT DOG STAND — This dog is one who firmly believes that "When in Rome, etc.," despite his fears. Jack wasn't really very happy about drinking with that scary looking fellow looking over his shoulder, but he couldn't stand being a hot dog any longer in the Eternal City.

KITTY CART—These three Persian kittens are all set to go traveling as they take over a flower basket in Memphis, Tenn. Maybe they think they're pussy willows. They're being raised by three sisters, Mildred, Gertrude and Ethel Scrivener, who'll be able to devote more time to their hobbies of cats and flowers now that they're retiring from teaching after a total of 136 years in the Memphis school system.

HARVEST BOUNTY—A fabulous flow of wheat, part of U.S.'s largest harvest since 1947 and second largest on record, pours into a river barge at the Cargill elevator in St. Louis, Mo. The barge matches the capacity of more than 50 rail cars. It will go down the Mississippi to be exported from Baton Rouge, La.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

A goodly group seem to be following our editor's advice and spending summer at the beaches and parks our community has so thoughtfully provided.

A day at the Farms pier proves that many have decided to spend their vacations right at the home shores of Lake St. Clair.

Mrs. William Hibbard, Mrs. Gerald Millar, Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, Mrs. George Renaud and Mrs. William Chase band together weekly to take their children for swimming lessons provided by the Farms.

Among them they chauffeured 17 children last week for a swim and picnic. This will be Mrs. Chase's farewell appearance in our midst. Tuesday night she and her husband gave a goodbye party in their Hillcrest road garden. They are leaving for St. Petersburg, Fla., to make their home.

The Hibbards won't have many more days on our local sandy beaches. They will be off for a gathering of the clan at Torch Lake.

There they will see Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Hibbard, formerly of the Pointe, now of Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hibbard III, of Indianapolis, Ind. En route the William Hibbards will pick up son, Jack, who has been camping at Alpena.

Report from the Pier

Great spot to gather news is the beach, where everyone convenes after an early morning at the market.

Glimpsed Mrs. James Harland, in a Hawaiian blue print swim suit, chatting with Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips, she of the Madonna-like coiffure. Mrs. P. was giving her small son his first taste of sand and sun.

Meadow lane is always well represented. The William Mulkeys take their two daughters daily and also see the Jack Barlows. The Milton Volkens of that friendly street always can find a neighbor to help launch their canoe, which they keep at the park.

Mrs. Carl Scott was sunning last week-end completely done in from a party she had given for son, Stephen. This eight year old wanted an evening event with supper and a movie for his pals.

Mrs. Jack Cudlip brings her two sons late in the afternoon for a dip. She will be welcoming her brother-in-law and sister, the Richard Franzens, of Cincinnati, O., this week-end. The Franzens will be stopping over just for a day en route to a cottage they have taken at Pointe aux Barques.

Stephanie Fink, who will wed Charles Potter this Saturday in Grand Bend, Ont., was writing her thank you notes at the Farms beach looking very fetching in pig tails and a blue and white swim suit. She has been staying with the Alexander L. Wieners, of Woodland place, while she catches up on wedding details and left (Continued on Page 13)

Helen Eigemann, daughter of the William Eigemanns, of Cloverly road, was married recently in St. Joan of Arc Church to Gilbert Graham, son of Mrs. Thomas Rose, of East Detroit.

For the rites the bride wore a gown of silk bombazine fashioned with a scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and sleeves of lace. Lace and pearl insets accented the full skirt which fell into a chapel train.

A pearl trimmed crown held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried Amazon lilies and stephanotis with her prayer book.

Rose Marie Carr was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Elsie Eigemann, and Joan Hamerle. They were gowned alike in polished pink cotton ballerina frocks and matching picture hats. Their bouquets were pink roses and mums.

William Howard was the bridegroom's best man and ushering were William Hartwick and Robert Laban, of Lansing.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Mrs. Eigemann wore a sheer aqua silk gown and aqua carnations. Mrs. Rose was in yellow chiffon with matching carnations.

When the newlyweds left for a Northern Michigan trip the bride was wearing a beige suit with matching accessories. They will live in Detroit.

Harrisses Join Actress in East

The Pointe's own Julie Harris, Broadway star, will tour the country in her new play, "The Warm Peninsula" this winter before the production opens in New York.

This summer the actress, who has been appearing with the Abbey Players in Dublin, Ireland, is vacationing at Truro, Cape Cod, Mass., with her son, Peter.

Her husband, Manning Guran, is spending most of the summer commuting to New York, where he is arranging for the new production and for the star's fall television appearance in "Johnny Belinda."

Julie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Harris, Jr., of El-lair place, are currently in Truro visiting their daughter and grandson. They will be home briefly before going on to their summer home at the Huron Mountain Club.

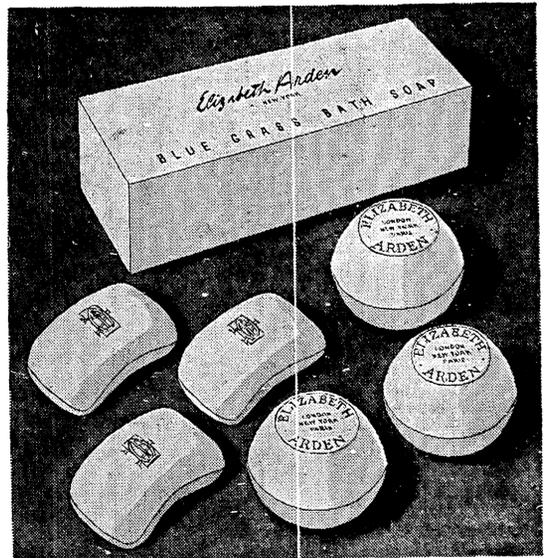

The actress' brother, Richard Harris, and his wife will arrive from Germany in mid-August to spend some time in the Pointe. They will then go on to the University of Indiana where Mr. Harris will be speech and drama instructor next semester.

MARbled STEAK BEST

For broiling over a charcoal fire, says Detroit Consumer Marketing Information Agent, select a well-marbled steak. By marbling they mean streaks of fat interspersed within the lean. A well-marbled steak will usually be tender and juicy when broiled, if it came from a young beef animal.

Barbara Unti, daughter of the Frank Untis, of Hampton road, spoke her marriage vows Saturday in St. Joan of Arc Church to James Shine, son of the Patrick Shines, of Wayburn avenue.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of silk taffeta with a bodice of Alencon lace. The belifront skirt of the gown deepened into a chapel train.

A cap of Alencon lace accented with teardrop pearls held her veil of silk illusion and she carried white carnations and stephanotis.

Lynn Van Tiem was maid of honor in a beige polished cotton sheath with an overskirt and a flowered headband. Her flowers were shrimp colored carnations.

Richard Unti and Raymond Vallez.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Whittier Mrs. Unti wore green lace over taffeta. Mrs. Shine was in blue silk organza. Both mothers wore white orchids.

When the pair left for Northern Michigan the bride was wearing a pink cotton jacket dress and white accessories.

They will make their home in Utica, Mich.

Pointers Attend DAC Mid-Season Party

Foster Winters Honor Newlywed Son and Daughter-in-Law, the William N. Wallings, Jr. and James B. Ogdens Also Fete Family at Buffet

There was visible proof at Detroit Athletic Club July 22 that midsummer in town is NOT dull by any means. Grosse Pointers joined with others of the metropolitan area at the club's Tuesday buffet dinner, each group or foursome sparked by some special reason, it seemed.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Winters feted their newly-wedded son-in-law and daughter, the William N. Wallings, Jr., who were just back from their Bermuda honeymoon trip. The family eightsome, including the Foster Winters II and the Allan McPhersons of Birmingham, dined early, then moved on to Music Hall for the "Search for Paradise" Cinema show.

The James B. Ogdens' dinner was in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, the Henry Navarre Peabodys, of Louisville, Ky., and in the party were the other daughters, Barbara and Mary Ogden; Richard Loyer, and the hostess' sister, Mrs. Clarence Gerrish. The visitors with their seven-months-old son, James Ogden Peabody, will return home August 2 after a fine two weeks at the Ogden home on Balfour Road.

The Frederick K. Codys, Mark Beltaires, and C. Allison Monroes were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hills at 8 o'clock dinner and there was much fun at that table. Noted nearby were Dr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Eisman and their daughter, Mrs. Priscilla E. Meyers.

The night ballgame was the post-dinner lure for many that evening. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Payne brought their visiting daughter, Mrs. William Stanke, of Pacific Palisades, Calif., and their nephew, Sherman Rice—they and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dubois, along with the Herbert O. McNierneys, dined early, then took off for Briggs Stadium and the game between the New York Yankees and the Tigers (too bad: Detroit was badly trounced).

The John E. Brennans, their daughter, Patricia, and Mrs. Norman Purdy were a dining and ballgame foursome — 14-year-old Pat, a real Tiger fan, thrilled at DAC's array of desserts but must have been devastated when her idols were clobbered by the Yanks.

More who chose luscious dishes from the buffet and later whipped off to Briggs Stadium were the Al Frasers and guests, including their son, David, the Mervyn G. Gaskins and David Gaskin, and the William Beysters.

The Paul W. Reids and their long-time friends, the Robert H. Bockstieglers of Cincinnati, visited over dinner while the Bockstiegel sons, Wesley and Douglas, went to the game.

Grosse Pointers Dr. and Mrs. Neil J. Whalen were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader of Bloomfield Hills, and the Philip C. Bakers were in the Henry E. Wengers' party to honor the Kirke Connors of Santa Barbara, Calif. Again it was dinner and the ballgame for both groups.

On the next night, July 23, Donald O'Keefe was feted on his birthday by his brother and sister-in-law, the Robert E. O'Keefes. Present were Mrs. Donald O'Keefe and the other brother and sister-in-law, the Brian O'Keefes. After dinner, highlighted by a birthday cake, the sixsome went on to Briggs Stadium for the night game.

From Another Pointe of View

Quick Decision

Within half an hour last week-end Mrs. Fieldon Carden, of Lincoln road, decided on a Western tour. She packed up in a flash and drove off to Colorado with son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cramp-ton, of Moross place.

Their destination was Colorado Springs to visit Mrs. Carden's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Townsend (she's the former Linda Carden, wed last fall).

Coming home from a sojourn in Castle Park next week will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Ives, of Merri-weather road.

And leaving this week for a vacation in Ojibaw are Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Thurber, of Edgemere road. They had to wait until Little League season was over to take their summer hiatus.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Witherell, Jr., of Rivard boulevard, will be motoring East about August 10 with their three offspring and they have an ideal destination.

Mr. Witherell's parents, the senior Witherells have a dairy farm in North Adams, Mass., which is a great place for the grandchildren to vacation.

Harmonie Choruses Celebrate at Dinner

Pointers Participate in Musical Program Following Dinner in Clubhouse Last Friday; Albert A. Schlorff Chairman of Gala

In place of the time-honored annual picnic, Harmonie's men's chorus staged a dinner and dance, further enlivened by entertainment from their own ranks. It was held last Friday in the second floor ballroom of the clubhouse, East Grand River avenue—guests including many club members and members of the women's chorus.

Grosse Pointer Albert A. Schlorff, chairman, introduced Harmonie's recently elected president, Earl J. Sayer, who complimented the choruses on their concerts—given at intervals during the year—an wishing them continued success. Mr. Schlorff also presented Otto C. Krohn, retiring chorus president and Jack Miller of Utica, the newly elected head.

Participants in the musical program who are residents of Grosse Pointe were Mr. and Mrs. Krohn (they won warm applause for their popular song duets); Richard (Dick) Fisher and Harold White, who delighted the audience with solos; and daughter Nedra White, who contributed a tap dance routine.

Mr. and Mrs. White and Mrs. Schlorff, Otto Krohn, Wilburn E. Hielscher and John Stinson were in the orchestra that played for the dancing. And supplementing them was Johnny Lester with his accordion.

The men's chorus, of which Frank Murch is director, also sang two rollicking numbers. Other Grosse Pointe members of the men's chorus are J. Willard Carpenter, William Lelicken, Karl Streck, and Dr. Richard W. Blaser.

Cleveland Indians Capture Woods Little League Crown

The Cleveland Indians were crowned champions of the Woods-Shores Little League Friday, July 25, when they defeated the Giants 8-4 at Ghesquiere Park.

The Woods champs then played the Yankees, champions of the Farms, July 29, in the first round of the district tournament which will decide the over-all champion of Little League for the Grosse Pointes. Results of the first round games were not available prior to this paper's deadline.

Doug Wright paced the Indians' attack with two hits and contributed two sparkling defensive plays at second base. Jimmy Lyle, right fielder, made several good catches, one a spectacular shoe-tops grab of a hard hit ball, to aid the Indians' cause. Alert base running and taking full advantage of defensive lapses by all of the Indians played an important part in the outcome of the game.

Danny Paul won his ninth victory of the season as he set the Giants down with four hits. He walked only two batters and struck out nine. Four Giants were stranded on the base paths as the Indians gave their pitcher fine support.

Rae led the Giants with a double and a single as his team jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the early innings. However, the Indians tied it up in the third and pulled steadily away as they scored in every inning thereafter. Some pitching wildness and several throwing errors hurt the Giants' cause.

The losing pitcher was Carl Rae who relieved starter Tom Read at the beginning of the fourth inning. Read allowed two hits and walked two batters while giving up two runs. Rae gave up three runs in the two innings he worked, allowing two hits, walking one, and hitting two batsmen. Withing pitched the last inning for the Giants and gave up one hit and three runs. He walked three. Altogether, the Giant pitchers struck out five Indians.

The play-off marked the fourth appearance of the Giants, under the leadership of Manager Vern Dumas, in the city finals. The Indians, managed by Jack Tamblin in his first year in this league, appeared as finalists for the first time.

Woods-Shores Babe Ruthers In Tourney for State Title

American League All-Stars of the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League will play the Port Huron Reds in the quarter finals of the Babe Ruth State Tournament at Ypsilanti Friday, August 1.

The Nationals' pitcher, Jim Gilmour, allowed only four hits. The winning pitcher, Craig Anderson, gave up eight.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday and the state championship game is scheduled for Sunday.

The Nationals drew a bye on Friday, but beat the Berkeley Nationals Saturday, 4 to 1, with Ted Buda pitching, to meet the Woods-Shores Americans in the district climax.

The Woods-Shores American Leaguers won their way into tournament play last weekend with three one-run victories in District 2 play at Berkeley.

The Americans leveled it up in the fifth, when Ron Bartalucci hit a ground-rule double after LeBlond and Gramer walked.

The score was still tied after the regulation seven innings. But in the eighth, John Chown weakened, and the Giants scored four runs. But with darkness falling, the Giants faced the prospect of losing that advantage and seeing the score revert to a tie unless the second half of the inning was completed.

Little League Baseball

The Giants, champions of the National League, won the right to represent the Grosse Pointe Park Little League in the play-offs with other Grosse Pointe communities by downing the Orioles, American League leaders, in two straight games.

At that point, the winners' strategists decided that it was prudent for the Giants to retire themselves by the quickest possible means—by deliberately grounding out and striking out. The Orioles efforts to produce a rally, in the bottom of the seventh, were fruitless.

The score of the deciding game fails to give a true picture of the closeness of the contest which ended in semi-darkness on a mildly controversial note.

The first game between the two teams was a one-hit shut-out for Giants' Pitcher Durdard Decavite, in which the Orioles never presented a serious threat. The losers lone hit was a sharp single off the bat of Ronnie Gutow.

The Giants' attack was limited to five hits by Pitchers Mike Kingsley, who was the loser, and Mitch Simon. Pacing the winners' offense was Third Baseman Tom Conroy, who singled sharply to center field three times, and Catcher Terry Marris, who contributed the other two hits.

After retiring the Giants in the top half of the sixth, the Orioles seemed to have a victory within their grasp. With men on first and second and nobody out, Giants Relief Pitcher Dave Hall regained control of the situation, and two forceouts at third base and a high fly ended the Orioles threat.

Losses for the first five months of 1958, now total $491,187,000, an increase of 2.2 percent over the first five months of 1957, when they amounted to $480,445,000.

Carl Westhoff provided a thrill for the All-Stars by striking out his father, Wrede, Fischer, Westhoff and Becker all pitched for the All-Stars.

On Thursday night Cincinnati won a close one against Washington 11 to 10. The last out against Washington was made on a double play as a player was trying to steal home with bases loaded. Kramer was the winning pitcher. Friday night the National League All-Stars beat the American League All-Stars in a beautiful errorless game 2 to 0.

Little League Tennis Launched

Little League tennis opened in the Grosse Pointe area last week with four matches involving eight teams.

The girls' league inaugurated action when the DuPonts, coached by Mrs. Chris Stillwell defeated the "Broughs," (pronounced "Brough") whose mentor is George Nicholson assisted by Mrs. J. J. Newcomb.

Judy Frutig led the way in the 3 to 1 "DuPont" victory by downing Beth Nicholson 6-0. Ann Leach for the losers won a close 6-4 match over Natalie Lund. In a set of service breaks Sue Akers finally held service as she and her No. 1 doubles partner, Sue Foster, overcame the "Brough" combination of Wendie Wilner and Kate Zozel 6 games to 4.

In the other girls' match Ruth Ploen's "Fry" team conquered the strong "Hart" club tutored by Connie Ebberts and Virginia Cavanaugh. The "Frys" built up a 4 to 1 victory on singles victories by Montie Newcomb, Robin David and Dorothy Humphries over Debbie Jehle, Sharon Wybo and Pat Foster, respectively. Kathy Stillwell gained a 6-1 win, taking the set from L. Donaldson.

The Gonzales team defeated the Hoads' 4 1/2 to 0, but the score could almost as easily have been 2 1/2 to 2 in favor of the Hoads'. Two very close matches won it for the victors. Bob Hudson edged Phil Angell 7-5 and the Dick Stillwell-Bob Stanny doubles team outlasted Rocky Tyus and Bob Wanke 8-6.

Bill Connolly defeated Jon Cavallo 6-1 and Tommy Beltz beat Bruce Klott 6-1 as the "Kramers" rolled over the "Traberts" 4-1. Mark Sturtevant and Billy David won a long match against Billy Klott and Bob Lund 6-3, Denny Cavanaugh and Mike Cerre downed Ted Pratt and Alan Frank, 6-0.

Boys coaches are Bill Pattyn-Hoad; Doug MacKenzie Gonzales; Rex Ploen and J. Humphries-Trabert; Larry Tisdale-Kramer.

Eight matches remain to round out the first half of the schedule which will end August 8. Twelve matches will be played in the second half of the schedule which will get underway on August 14.

Each of the four teams in both the boys' and girls' leagues have a home court where home and home matches are played. Grosse Pointe Park's Waterfront Park has only a boys' team which is Hoad.

At the Neighborhood Club the girls' teams are Brough and Fry and the boys' team is Kramer.

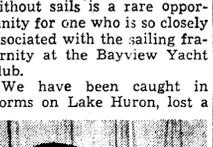

At Grosse Pointe High the DuPonts is the girls team and the Traberts are the boys. The girls' Hart team and the boys' Gonzales teams play at Grosse Pointe University School.

Matches are scheduled for Thursdays for the girls and Fridays for the boys matches.

The Commodore's Corner

By J. Ivan Fiscus Rear Commodore, Bayview Y. C.

COMMODORE FISCUS

Spinning a yarn about boats without sails is a rare opportunity for one who is so closely associated with the sailing fraternity at the Bayview Yacht Club.

We have been caught in storms on Lake Huron, lost a rudder between Mackinac Island and Detour Passage, had a fire in the galley on the North Channel and rescued boats on Lake St. Clair, but somehow these incidents do not quite compare or seem important as are the yarns spun by the sailors along the riverfront, particularly at Bayview.

I am the skipper of the good ship "ROUNDER," and thinking over any great deeds this old girl has had, her one bid for glory would be that she can find the Thames River Light. In fact, she has sat by this well known mark for many years as a stake boat in the annual Bayview Long Distance Night Race and has seen many interesting things happen, with sail boats converging on her from all points of the compass.

I remember vividly one dark, windy and overcast night we heard a roaring sound like a train of cars coming down the line. We figured the Canadian-National was running better make a move. Suddenly we saw her, Wendell Anderson's ESCAPADE, with everything hung out including Clark Swart's underwear. The wind was whistling through her rigging and she was bearing down on our port. Had that "Gold-Plated" crew not spotted our position just right I shudder to think of what a beautiful "Figure-Head" the ROUNDER would have made on her bowsprit. As she came about off wind, we could hear the whine of spinning winches and the flapping of sails being lowered and others raised and muffled voices of command. As the sails filled, she majestically disappeared into the night on the way to Huron Point. Quite a sight.

One never tires of watching and waiting to record the fleet as it rounds the mark and wondering what boat will be next. We see a lot of time gained and lost and we have seen a lot of class feuds going on making the turn. As this is usually the first leg of the race the boats are more closely bunched than at the other marks. One year the boats made the turn so fast that Joe Mattie fell!

If you haven't watched the annual center tournament of the Detroit News Novice Tennis Tournament begins August 5 at the Neighborhood Club.

There will be both a Junior and a Senior division. Juniors are boys and girls who have not reached their 15th birthday by January 1, 1958. Seniors are all those over 15 years of age.

Remember that this is a novice tournament. In order to be eligible a player may NOT have been a quarter finalist in a tournament of over 16 players or a semi-finalist in a tournament of less than 16 players. High school and college letter winners are NOT eligible.

Trophies and medals will be awarded to the winners and runners-up. For further information call the Neighborhood Club TU 5-4600. Entries close August 2.

Farms Holding Swimming Meet
Saturday, August 2 is the big day for swimmers at the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier. At 2:30 p.m. the annual Grosse Pointe Farms swimming meet will be underway with all contestants competing for the honor of representing the Farms Park in the Annual Inter-City Meet to be held the following Saturday.

fleet approaching at twilight or after dark, coming about, hearing orders shouted in that universal language not taught in our schools, recording the names and numbers on the sails with the proper time on rounding, then mast lights fading away into nothing, you have missed a great spectacle.

Maybe you wonder how one gets to be a Stake-Boat. Well, of course you have to be invited by the chairman of the race committee and you must be willing to sit out the race, fair weather or foul. If you record all the boats properly and do not interfere with the fleet you will probably have the opportunity to repeat as often as you are willing to serve.

One year the boys ran out of air and we were still looking for customers the next day, Sunday, at noon. We caught a few fish in the interim and managed a swim for all hands.

Each year we have a small jack-pot as to what time the first boat will round the Thames River Light. This pot is started as soon as the first spar is sighted. With all my experience as a stake-boat skipper I am still looking for "Pot A" but always the one guest who just came along for the ride wins. The only answer for this is that he does not know sailing and boats as well as the rest of us.

In earlier years we never knew for sure if all the boats had been recorded or just how many had actually started until we arrived back at the club. Now it is much better as we have a list of all starters and with radio communication we can talk with the skipper of the other stake-boat as well as the committee at the finish line. However, we still have waited hours for the "ships that never come in."

I dare not mention names or put a sailing friend on the spot, but every year one well known contestant develops compass trouble and instead of rounding the Thames Light finds himself smack in front of the Michigan State St. Clair river. As it is too late to go back, he, of course, must tie up to make the necessary repairs and adjustments. The boat's name is taken from the display of Northern Lights but other than this I remain mum.

In last year's race many of the boats went aground in what is laughingly referred to as "Operation Mud Bank". This, of course, was no reflection on the abilities of the sailors. It just happened that on this particular night some one opened the gates and let too much water out of the lake. Also on this particular night the light at the river just about ran out of gas. Fortunately the range lights stayed put and some of the boats were saved by the seat of their pants found us and the "Rounder" and made the corner OK. There was plenty of rhubarb passed around on this one.

This year we could be of great service and install one of those great search-lights that the super-markets use on "Sale Day" and we could have a "SAIL-DAY" that night on the lake.

Better still I should wait to see if we will be invited this year. A fellow can lose his popularity fast writing stuff like this. In fact, a fellow can get notoriety just forgetting to put the starting cannons aboard the judges' boat for the start of the race. This, of course, is another story.

Bloomfield's Famed Kingsley Inn... Since Coach Days... Now in New Home!

The new Kingsley Inn shown here stands next to the original inn which served residents of Bloomfield Hills and travelers from far and wide continuously since Michigan's stage coach days.

nature, the new Kingsley Inn is many times larger than its predecessor, having eight delightful dining, banquet and beverage rooms, each so designed as to serve with distinction.

the inn. Innkeeper F. N. Takis, whose background includes service in the famed Shepherd's Inn in Cairo as well as in many of New York's leading hotels, and who has been Kingsley Inn's host for nearly a quarter of a century, is greeting new and old friends and patrons with a smile that bespeaks his rightful pride, for the new Kingsley Inn is not alone a credit to Bloomfield Hills but to all of Michigan. It is magnificent!

Gratitude is not only the memory but the homage of the heart—rendered to God for his goodness.

Headlines of the Week

er's ad in the Lowry household.

Saturday, July 26

THE SECURITY COUNCIL is expected to meet next week to build the foundation for a United Nations summit meeting on the Middle East crisis. This was reported by Western sources Friday as President Eisenhower sent a note to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev stressing that summit arrangements must be left to the Council.

These informants expressed belief that Khrushchev will accept and the summit meeting can open at UN headquarters in New York August 11. The 11-nation Council will be summoned to consider details as to participants, the place and the opening day of the meeting.

Officials in Paris said the French reply to the latest Khrushchev letter was expected Saturday. France may suggest that the summit meeting be held in some city other than New York.

MORE THAN 280 MILLION DOLLARS in additional Federal assistance to the States for aid to the aged, blind, disabled and dependent children was voted Friday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee also voted increased assistance for State maternal and child welfare programs, and new benefits for dependents of disabled workers. All were put into a bill increasing social security benefits generally.

The committee completed action on the bill, which will be introduced in the House Monday and brought to the floor expected passage later next week. The main feature of the bill is an increase in social security retirement payments, and a boost in social security payroll taxes and the taxable wage base.

SECRETARY OF STATE John Foster Dulles took off for Bonn and London Friday for three days of intensive talks prior to the summit meeting at the United Nations on the Middle East.

Car's Mileage Up to Driver

The way you drive your car can determine its gasoline mileage, according to W. M. Spencer, Director of Service at Dodge.

Spencer cites the following 10 ways to get the maximum number of miles per gallon of gas:

- 1. Use moderate speeds. Gas mileage is 52 per cent less at 80 m.p.h. than at 30 m.p.h.
2. Avoid unnecessary stops. Acceleration from stops takes one gallon in three.
3. Avoid fast starts. A "jack rabbit" start uses twice the gas of an easy acceleration.
4. Shift quickly out of low gear. Low at 20 m.p.h. gives 34 per cent less economy than High at the same speed.
5. Maintain steady speeds. A steady 50 m.p.h. is 25 per cent more economical than varying from 30 to 70 m.p.h.
6. Keep brakes adjusted. Dragging brakes can cost you five miles per gallon in mileage.
7. Check tire inflation. Under-inflated tires act like dragging brakes.
8. Avoid rough roads. Sand and mud resist tires, takes 15 per cent more fuel.
9. Keep your engine in tune. An improperly tuned engine could use twice the fuel it should.
10. Use proper lubricants. Too-heavy oils can cost you half the mileage you should be getting during the first 10 miles of every drive.
"These 10 points," says Spencer, "are the same methods used by Economy Run drivers to achieve the most miles per gallon of gasoline."

CONCEITED

Many a self-made man is so busy being good to himself that he can't even be decent to others.

Monday, July 28

THREE MEN were arrested Sunday in a car practically upholstered with $340,000 worth of marijuana in one-pound bags. Agents from the Detroit Narcotics Bureau, State Police, and the United States Customs captured the men and confiscated the dope after a 36-hour vigil on four main highways leading into Detroit.

None of the three arrested couriers had ever had any connection with narcotics before. It is supposed they work for a larger outfit, perhaps located in Mexico. Narcotics detectives said they had no idea where the drug was to have been delivered in Detroit.

LT. GEN. CLAIRE LEE CHENNAULT, whose Flying Tigers helped sweep Japanese aircraft from China skies in World War II, died Sunday after a long battle with cancer, at the age of 67.

Death came to the flying leader two weeks after Congress hurried through a bill making Chennault a lieutenant general. It received unanimous approval in both the House and Senate on July 18 and was signed by President Eisenhower that night.

The general was in better spirits after the July 11 visit of his long-time friend, Madame Chiang Kai Shek, and the bedside reunion of his six sons and two daughters, their first in 21 years—but the following week his condition had taken a turn for the worse.

DEFENSE SECRETARY NEIL H. McELROY has informed Congress that some of America's nuclear weapons have been altered in a way that increases death-dealing radioactive fallout over a local area.

But McElroy, in a letter made public Sunday, hastened to add that increased fallout is only a by-product of the alteration. Its main purpose is to equip nuclear weapons for surface and low-level bursts.

SOVIET PREMIER NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV Monday rejected British-American proposals for a United Nations Security Council meeting in New York to arrange a summit conference on the Middle East crisis.

He urged that five-power talks among heads of government be held in some European city, perhaps Moscow. In sharply-worded letters to Secretary Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Khrushchev accused them of trying to scuttle a summit meeting with protracted procedural discussions.

(An immediate prevailing view at UN headquarters in New York was that Khrushchev's latest letter all but killed chances for a summit meeting now.)

IRAQI REVOLUTIONISTS have been holding 43 members of the United States Air Force in "protective custody" since the July 14 uprising, it was disclosed Monday night.

The group includes five officers and 38 men who flew to the country June 17 to train Iraqis in the use of F-86-F Sabrejets. When the uprising occurred the Americans suddenly found themselves restricted to the air base area, surrounded by Iraqi guards.

More than 1,100 British Royal Air Force personnel and families are also confined to the base, a huge desert airfield about 55 miles west of Baghdad.

FORTY-TWO FORD, Chevrolet and Oldsmobile dealers in the Washington area were indicted Monday on charges of conspiring to fix artificially high prices on new cars and parts. The Justice Department, which obtained the indictments in Federal District Court, has other car pricing investigations under way in New York, San Francisco, Cleveland and Detroit.

ASSASSINS Tuesday tried to kill Lebanese Premier Sami Solh by mining the road over which his official car was passing, and then blasting the sidetracked vehicle with gunfire. Solh was uninjured. The attempt was foiled by a private car driving to Beirut slightly ahead of the prime minister's car. The hidden mine exploded under the first vehicle, killing its four occupants and a motorcycle trooper guarding Solh.

WATER SAFETY SHOW

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority is conducting, in co-operation with the Detroit Red Cross Chapter, Water Safety Services, a "Sportsmen's Aquatic Safety" show, on Thursday, July 31, at 8 p.m. The show will be given at the Lower Huron Metropolitan Pool. The park is reached by the Willow Run Expressway, then south on Hannan Road to a point east of Belleville, or north on Hannan from Flat Rock and New Boston.

Big Reduction In Polio Cases

There is a marked reduction in polio cases reported so far this year, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Detroit commissioner of health, states. From January 1 through July 21, there have been 10 polio cases and no deaths reported compared with 27 cases and no death the same period last year.

Of this year's ten cases, eight are children, the youngest 20 months and the oldest 12 years. Two are classified as adults, one 16 and the other 27 years old.

Dr. Molner attributes most of the improvement to the protection of children and young adults with Salk vaccine. It is estimated that 70 per cent of the children in Detroit have had Salk vaccine. He says the cool summer may have some bearing on the lower number of cases.

There has been a sharp reduction in polio cases here since the first Salk vaccine protection was given. In 1954 there were 549 cases and 25 deaths; in 1955, 240 cases and two deaths; in 1956, 151 cases and one death and in 1957, 179 cases and two deaths.

It is recommended that the first Salk treatment be given when the baby is three months old, the second at four months and the third when he is a year old.

Everyone should be protected against polio by having Salk vaccine shots. The first two, a month apart, and the third about eight months later. This is particularly important for people under 40.

It is necessary for parents to keep a record of the time each child was given Salk vaccine and every other treatment to protect him against catching diseases.

617,731 Receive Chest X-Rays

The number of chest X-rays taken in health department facilities in Wayne County rose 22 per cent in 1957 over the previous year according to a survey taken by the Tuberculosis and Health Society.

A total of 393,467 people had free chest X-rays in 1957 at Dearborn, Hamtramck, Detroit and Wayne County clinics and mobile X-ray buses of the Southeastern Michigan TB Detection project. In the previous year there were 308, 198 examinations made by the same agencies.

In its survey of public and private hospitals, clinics and industry, the Society found that 617,731 people stepped before the X-ray camera to determine whether or not they had tuberculosis. This is 47,000 more than in 1956.

X-rays taken by industries fell sharply from 94,243 to 61,251 in keeping with the drop in employment in the Wayne County area. X-ray examinations in the 20 public and private hospitals surveyed dropped to 142,983 from 146,082.

The increase in the total number of people who obtained chest X-rays indicates the growing acceptance that a periodic chest examination is a "must" for good health, the Society points out. It also indicates that people are realizing their responsibility to the members of their family to make sure that they are not unknowingly passing the disease along.

Detroit and Wayne County reported a total of 2,993 new cases of tuberculosis in 1957 and 254 people died from the disease. In 1956 there were 288 deaths and 2,013 new cases discovered.

The increase in the number of new cases discovered last year among the larger number of people X-rayed indicates that there is a reservoir of TB infection among the approximately 75 per cent of people who did not have chest examinations, the Society stated.

GRATEFUL PARENTS

Relatives of little Carol Worbois, of Ridge Road, wish to publicly thank the unknown angel(s) of mercy who helped her when she badly lacerated her foot last Wednesday, July 23, at the Farms Pier. The child stepped on a coffee can and had a cut which required 19 stitches to close the wound. She told her family "some nice people" held the injured leg, apparently on a pressure point, until hospital authorities took over.

Auto Accidents Studied In Medical Investigation

The same kind of medical investigation that conquered such once-dreaded epidemic diseases as typhoid fever, malaria and bubonic plague is now being directed against a modern epidemic disease—injuries received in automobile accidents.

Doctors, hospital workers, policemen and public health workers in Michigan and 15 other states are assembling facts that are expected to show how the highway injury toll can be reduced.

In Michigan, the study is being made by physicians, the Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan State Police with the endorsement and co-operation of the Michigan State Medical Society and the Michigan Hospital Association. Only passenger car accidents investigated by state police are included in the study.

Dr. George Agate, epidemiologist for the state health department, describes the study and its purpose as follows:

"In searching for the cause of any disease, it is necessary to gather a significant amount of data about the disease. From these facts, meaningful correlations can be established between the host who has the disease, the agent which produces the disease, and the environment in which the disease is acquired.

"In the case of passenger car accidents, the host is the occupant of the car, the agents are the items in the interior of the car, and the environment is the highway or street where the accident occurs.

"Once the correlations are known, steps can be taken to change or control the agent or environment so the host is less vulnerable. In automobiles, this can be done by re-designing the car interiors."

Accident statistics are collected on two report forms. The state police officer who investigates the accident fills out a four-page form dealing mainly with interior parts of the car that were damaged. These parts are also photographed by the officer.

The officer sends his report and photographs to state police headquarters in East Lansing and from there they are forwarded to the Michigan Department of Health in Lansing.

At the time of investigation, the state police officer furnishes the hospital or attending physician with an injury form for each person killed or injured. These forms are filled out by a physician and then sent direct to the Michigan Department of Health, where the injury form is matched with the corresponding accident forms and photographs. The state health department is authorized by law to compile confidential information of this type for research purposes.

The state health department, after collating the forms, forwards them to the Automotive Crash Injury Research project in the Department of Public Health and Preventive Medicine at Cornell University Medical College in New York City. There the information is placed on IBM cards, analyzed and studied along with reports from other states taking part in the study.

Conclusions drawn at Cornell are aimed at showing what specific types of injuries are caused by bodily contact with specific objects. This distinguishes the study from other investigations looking into the cause of the accident itself.

Michigan has been participating in the study since June 15, 1957, but the project has been underway in other states since September, 1955, and already has shown the value of seat belts, padded instrument panels, spring-proof door latches and other safety features.

Accidents in four different areas of Michigan will be studied, with the area changing every six months. Reports are now being made

U. S. Navy Band To Play at Fair

The world famous 70-piece official United States Navy Band has been signed for 19 free concerts at the Music Shell during the Michigan State Fair, August 29 through September 7.

This is the fifth year that a top military band will have performed at the State Fair. In previous years the U. S. Army Band, the U. S. Air Force Band and the U. S. Army WAC Band have participated.

Concerts will be held daily at 4 p.m. and 8:30 p.m., General Manager Donald L. Swanson announces.

The 70-piece unit, well known for its colorful appearance as well as its outstanding musical abilities, was established on Inauguration Day, March 4, 1925, when President Coolidge signed a special act of Congress bringing into being the permanent official band of the United States Navy. On that day the name was changed from the Washington Navy Yard Band to its present title, the United States Navy Band.

Thus honored, the band discarded its bell-bottom trousers and adopted the smart looking regulation uniform of the Navy's Chief Petty Officer. Although its fame extends all over the world, the Navy Band finds its greatest pleasure in playing for Americans in their cities and towns throughout the country.

Advice Offered Vets Selling Their Homes

A veteran selling his home and GI mortgage should first contact the Veterans' Administration if he wishes to be released from liability to the Government on his GI loan.

Such a release protects the veteran in the event of the new purchaser defaulting in payments. Lloyd H. Jameson, manager of the VA Regional Office in Detroit, said.

Mr. Jameson explained that a 1956 law allows veterans to be released from liability to the Government, provided the new purchaser meets credit requirements and assumes the veteran's obligations to the Government on the GI loan.

The new purchaser need not be a veteran, Mr. Jameson pointed out, and the Government's guaranty of the loan is not affected by releasing the veteran from his liability.

In most states the only cost of obtaining the release is a small fee, usually not more than $5, for a credit report on the proposed buyer, he said.

Release of the veteran from liability to the Government does not automatically release him from liability to the lender.

However, Mr. Jameson, emphasized, VA will furnish the prospective buyer's credit report to the lender, and otherwise assist any veteran who wishes to seek his lender's release.

That shining symbol of automobile luxury, for decades rolling along our lanes, most often chauffeur-driven, will be no more. This fall Studebaker-Packard Corp. has announced that the opulent Packard car will not be manufactured.

The name Packard, remembered by many for its long sleek lines, its conservative glitter and silver wire wheels, has long been associated with prominent Pointers, among them the late Henry B. Joy.

Mr. Joy, who began his fabulous industrial career as a railway man under his father, James F. Joy's tutelage, was the one man responsible for bringing the Packard car to Detroit.

In 1903 the automobile was made in Warren, O., by the New York and Ohio Company. It had been designed by J. W. and W. D. Packard and Mr. Joy saw that the car was not enjoying the full marketing and production advantages Detroit could offer.

He became the first president of the Packard Motor Car Company when it moved here in 1905 and stayed in that dominant position until 1916 when World War I called him.

In 1903 models sold for $7,500 and 250 cars were made. By 1928, 50,000 cars were produced at about $3,500, still very much the rich man's automobile. Last year only 1,600 Packards were delivered to dealers.

Many illustrious Pointers invested money in the original company. Among the first financial backers were Russell A. Alger, Jr., James McMillan, Frederick M. Alger, Truman H. Newberry, C. A. DuCharme, Joseph Boyer and D. M. Ferry.

Gar Wood, with Packard marine engines in his boat, won the Harmsworth Trophy in his Miss America VII in 1928, the pinnacle of Packard's power.

Mr. Joy drove the car coast to coast when he was interested in the Lincoln Highway Association. Other Pointers joined him in this plan for a roadway stretching across the nation, but he was the moving spirit. Among the men who sponsored the plan were R. D. Chapin, Emory Clark and Paul Deming.

In 1916 Mr. Joy, who served aboard the "Yosemite" as a young mn in the Spanish-American War re-enlisted. He served overseas as a colonel in the Signal Corps.

Along with the Packard Henry B. Joy left another great monument for his fellow capitalists to enjoy. He was one of the founders of the Detroit Athletic Club. Many a Pointer drove to that solid club in the 20's in their black limousines.

"Ask the Man Who Owns One" was the advertising slogan of the day. The Packard is gone but the man who owned one will long remember the car which held a prominent place in Detroit's auto building saga and the man, Henry B. Joy, who brought it here.

The lovely Mrs. John Denler has been nostalgically enjoying Princess Margaret's visit to Canada. Mrs. D., who was born in Scotland, not too far from the Balmoral summer place of Great Britain's Royal Family remembers Queen Elizabeth and her vivacious sister when they used to come as small girls for summer vacations.

Mrs. Denler, who was then Heather Stuart-MacDonald, would see the two Princesses riding by in their pony cart, and she says they looked so pleasant she often wanted to ask them to stop and play.

The Douglas Adairs were thrilled last week-end at the delightful party Mr. and Mrs. William Ternes gave for their 18th anniversary. Instead of showing home movies the Terneses rolled the cameras as the Adairs were opening their gifts. Future party excuse will be to show the films to all the guests.

Mrs. Edgar L. Fink, dashing about as befits the mother of a bride, (daughter Stephanie will be married to Charles Potter this Saturday), stopped for a chat at the butcher's counter and was regaling the gathered group with a quite a dog story. It seems her grandmother owned a very particular Airdale. This pooch would only eat calves' liver sauted in butter; if he smelled bacon fat up went the nose and away he stalked. He would be on a starvation diet during these high-priced beef markets.

And more about mothers of the brides. As though they didn't have enough problems, several sources have been bruiting it about that Emily Post-trained toney society families have been very negligent about answering invitations. Prominent names lead the group who don't bother to send a yay or a nay to the frantic parents of the bride.

Vigorous activity has been going on behind scenes for GPYC's outdoor Show Boat Party this Saturday. The outdoor pool will have a surprise decor and an electric calliope will welcome guests at the club entrance. Troy Browning provided the barge for mounting the show boat superstructure which will be moored at the harbor seawall and there will be stunning show boat replicas for all to view. Responsible for this display are William M. Schmidt, Haford Kerbawy, Eugene A. Casaroll, J. Earl Fraser, George L. Cassidy and Russell D. VanHouten.

PILFERINGS

Lord Beaverbrook's servants, it appears, do not refer to him as "his Lordship" or "Lord Beaverbrook" but as "the Lord." When Randolph Churchill called at Arlington House, he was told by the butler, "I am sorry, sir, but the Lord is walking in the park."

"Oh," said Randolph. "On the lake, I presume?"

At a reception in Paris where there were many titled guests, the wife of an American general stepped up to the cocktail table. "Looking for something?" asked another guest.

"Yes, a bourbon." With a courtly bow, he asked, "Would a Hapsburg do?"

LT. COL. AND MRS. H. A. DECK, OF LOCHMOOR BOULEVARD

By Patricia Talbot

When you are open-hearted Westerners and moving about the country at the Air Corps' direction there is nothing like square dancing to acquaint you with a new community say Lt. Col. and Mrs. H. A. Deck.

The Decks are Oklahomans by birth and Texans by choice. It was in the Lone Star State that they first became interested in square dancing. In 1949 they were stationed in San Antonio after several years in Germany when a friend invited them to a square dance.

The sociability, hospitality and colorfulness of the party impressed them and they were sold. Soon they were dancing twice a week and one night they gave an exhibition on demand.

A year later they were transferred to Washington and began to teach square dancing there. It was in Texas that the colonel got his nickname, a good one for a square dance caller, "Decko". Now everyone calls him that. Lou and Decko organized several square dance groups in the nation's capital, calling them "Sashayers".

Dancing Around Country
After Washington, where they danced with Ricky Holden, nationally famed square dancer, they moved on to new triumphs in Alabama then on to Ottawa where our Canadian neighbors took enthusiastically to square dancing.

They had been asked to a dance in Detroit several years ago, Decko to call the sets, and Lou to lead them, so when they were sent here by the Air Force they had a nucleus for a new group of Sashayers.

Universal Appeal
Square dancing has great appeal to the young middle-aged, (most dancers average 45 years old) for it is inexpensive recreation that a married couple can do together. Mrs. Deck claims square dancing has saved several marriages from the divorce court.

Few dances cost more than $2.50 and that is cheap entertainment these days. The ladies love dressing in the colorful bouffant skirts and gay blouses and the Western gear is a comfortable change for their partners who have been wearing drab gray flannels all week.

The Decks have a big group meeting twice a week in Royal Oak and once a month they gather at Branes School to give the fundamentals of the Texas Star, Three Ladies Chain, Wagon-Wheel and Cross Trail sets to Pointers. Square dancing is a good excuse for shy couples to get together. In the course of an evening over 100 pairs can meet and that's a larger group than most hostesses can entertain.

Dancing Vacations
Square dancing is the Deck's main hobby. They plan their vacations around it. They operate a five day square dancing camp in the Muskoka Lakes district in August and organized the first week-end square dancing camp in Michigan near Ludington. During their long holiday they go on

Naumans Mark His Birthday
The Arthur P. Naumans, of Moran road, delayed their usual summer vacation to the West for a very important party last week-end.

Last Saturday Mr. Nauman celebrated his 60th birthday and in his honor Mrs. Nauman invited a group of friends for cocktails and supper in the garden.

Tuesday the Naumans were hosts at a family dinner. They left Wednesday for the A-Bar-A Ranch in Encampment, Wyo.

tour in the East calling dances by invitation.

The Decks believe square dancing is an important part of our American heritage and is growing in popularity. The great center of the skill is in California. Most of the dances originated in the West around pioneer camp fires on the wagon trail and in the new settlements where it served to introduce new neighbors in the friendly informal life many Americans were beginning on the frontier.

Originates Sets
The colonel not only is a caller but a choreographer, designing new squares and sets in a modern theme. The Decks' two children take a tolerant view of their parents' absorbing hobby but they are more for rock and roll.

With the Near East crisis paramount in Air Force families minds right now the Decks can be called away from square dancing. The colonel could be sent on short notice to the trouble spot, but until Uncle Sam calls he will go on calling dances, and his wife will continue to lead do-see-does. The Army is their career but square dancing is their way of life.

EARLY PEACH HARVEST

Because earlier and better colored varieties of peaches have replaced once popular late maturing varieties in Michigan, the state's peach harvest could reach its peak just before Labor Day this year. Usually the peak comes after Labor Day.

Michigan is expected to have a peach crop totaling 2,900,000 bushels, the Michigan Department of Agriculture says. This is just slightly under the 1957 volume. The national peach crop, according to most recent estimates, will be about 75 million bushels, about 12 1/2 million bushels more than last year.

Tom Parrish, the caretaker on the Dodge estate, summoned City police to the grounds on Tuesday evening, July 15, about 11 p.m. Caught "wet-handed" were six Detroit youths—having a beautiful time in the swimming pool. All were ticketed for trespassing in private property, and given a notice to appear in court to account for their delinquent dip.

Robert Waldron Listed Preferred

State Representative Robert E. Waldron was again this year named a preferred candidate for the office of state representative by the "Civic Searchlight"—the candidate review published by the Detroit Citizens League, a non-partisan organization designed to aid citizens in their effort toward good government.

Further, Waldron, working with the 14th Congressional District Republican Committee, had charge of urging good candidates to run in the other state representative districts within the 14th Congressional District. Of the five candidates living in the 14th Congressional District who were urged to run by the official committee, and who are engaged in primary contests, all were Pierrong.
