COLD CUTS PARK ATTENDANCE

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, August 28

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER advocated a slower pace on racial integration of schools in the South. This was the first time he commented on his private attitude in this sizzling issue. His statement came on the eve of an extraordinary Supreme Court session to determine the pace of school desegregation in Little Rock, Ark.

The Chief Executive denied a report that he wished the Supreme Court had not handed down its decision in 1954. In the meantime, the Arkansas Legislature, with one voice raised in dissent, gave Gov. Orval Faubus power to close the State's schools against forced integration, even in the face of the President's warning that the consequences would be terrible.

FORMOSA WAS CHEERED by the fact that the United States is sending more warships to the battle area in the Formosa Strait. For the sixth straight day Red Chinese artillery blasted at Quemoy from Weitou on the Red China mainland.

Quemoy batteries returned the fire, but the Nationalist Defense Ministry did not disclose any details of the duel. The Nationalists welcomed the news that the American warships, the carrier Essex and four destroyers, were steaming from the Mediterranean to reenforce the Seventh Fleet. The flotilla is expected in about two weeks.

PAUL L. ADAMS, attorney general of Michigan, requested a one-man grand jury to investigate the Kierdorf case. Both Adams and Oakland County Circuit Court for the Grand Jury, to investigate activtiies in Oakland County after the August 3 arson of a Flint dry cleaning store, which police believed killed Teamster official, Frank Kierdorf, 56.

Authorities are studying other criminal activities in the county and Adams pointed out that the original grand jury petition will be amended to include these acts.

ACTION WAS DEFERRED by the United States Supreme Court for two weeks on the Little Rock, Ark. crisis, until further briefs and arguments on the underlying issue can be presented. The issue pertains to the correctness of Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley's order postponing the Little Rock integration program for 2½ years, which technically was not before the high court.

Instead, the question was whether the Supreme Court should vacate a stay granted by the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis suspending its own decision to reverse Judge Lemley. The Little Rock School Board has until September 10 to file a petition asking the high court to review the Appeals Court decision, and all sides concerned must present briefs by the September date and set oral argument for noon September 11.

RED CHINA CALLED on the Nationalist defenders of Quemoy to surrender without a fight. Peiping threatened to invade the island at any moment, claiming the Quemoy garrison was cut off from reinforcements or withdrawals to Formosa. Sporadic artillery fire has been exchanged between the Red China mainland and the defenders on Quemoy for the past several days.

Nationalist Gen. "Tiger" Wang Shu Ming, chief of the General Staff, described the warning as propaganda, such as the Reds have been carrying on all the time. The Red threats ignored the fact that Red China's sea forces are weak and the U. S. Seventh Fleet can control the Formosa Strait. In Washington, officials were concerned, lest the United States become involved in the fighting over

Winners of Farms-City Fishing Rodeo

—Picture by Fred Runnells

As the official time keeper tolled off the remaining seconds of competition in the annual Farms-City Fishing Rodeo, Saturday, August 30, FRED PARENT, left, and LINDA FURTON, second from right, had their winning entries measured by chief measurer HENRY COLLINS, right, as score keeper VIC VERHAEGHE tabulated the results. Parent was the City and overall winner with a 14-inch pickerel and Miss Furton was the Farms winner with a 11¾-inch sheephead.

Methodist Church Opens Big Addition

Expanded Schedules Made Possible by Completion Of $250,000 Project

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will begin its fall schedule of services with worship services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. on Sunday, September 7.

At the 9:30 service the church school will meet from the Nursery through the 9th grade; the Adult Class will also meet at this time. At the 11 service the church school will meet from the Nursery through the High School Department. Thus, at both services there will be a complete church school through the 9th grade; and at the 11 a.m. service there will be a complete church school through the 12th grade.

This new schedule has been made possible by the opening of a new $250,000 addition to the church. The addition includes a social hall, church parlor, youth parlor, pastor's study, church offices, and 20 new classrooms. In addition to this, the church has installed a new and improved parking lot with a one-way entrance and exit on Moross road, suitably marked.

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church began meeting in the Old Kerby School under its present pastor, the Rev. Hugh Clifford White, on September 9, 1945. It has grown until now it has completed this the second unit in an eventual million-dollar construction program.

279 Enthusiastic Anglers Turn Out for 8th Annual Fish Rodeo Despite Rain

All Competitors Get Prizes Regardless of Luck and Skill; Legion Auxiliary Again Furnishes Refreshments

An untimely rainstorm failed to dampen the spirits of 279 youngsters who turned out for the 8th Annual Grosse Pointe Fishing Rodeo held last Saturday morning at the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier. Despite the difficult fishing conditions, the young anglers still managed to haul in 10 prize-winning fish during the hour and a half competition.

Following the contest the young people gathered to await the awarding of prizes for both the Pre-Rodeo contest as well as the Rodeo itself. The big winner in the Pre-Rodeo competition from the City of Grosse Pointe was Todd Pike, while runner-up honors went to Patty Gibbs, Dennis Meathe and Cheryl Parent. George Jurges was announced as the winner of the Farms contest and Russell Procisse, Bob Jurges, John Meilinski were also given recognition for their fine Pre-Rodeo catches.

First Catch Biggest

The first fish caught in the actual Rodeo was a finch pickerel, landed by Fred Parent, of the City. His was the largest catch of the day. Linda Furton, of the Farms, caught the largest fish for the female contingent—and also the most. She landed six of the 10 feminine-snagged fish.

In keeping with the tradition of the past fishing rodeos, all those who competed won a prize, regardless of the size of the catch. Through the generous co-operation of Grosse Pointe merchants, the prizes were the finest in the event's history.

Unable to be on hand, for the first time since the Rodeo's inception, and sorely missed, was Norb Neff for the presentation of the trophy that bears his name.

Legion Plays Host

Following the awards and prizes the contestants, their family and friends, enjoyed the refreshments served by the Ladies American Legion Auxiliary, Post 303. These generous women have lent their services to the Rodeo every year since it began. In addition, there were many members of the various service clubs of Grosse Pointe—all contributing their time to make the event the largest success in its eight-year history.

Three Juveniles Arrested In Bus Coin Box Robbery

Park police arrested three juveniles after responding to a prowler call shortly after midnight on Tuesday, August 26, and a fourth was picked up several hours later at his home, when the first three confessed to larcenics.

Five police officers answered the prowler call to 1222 Beaconsfield, and took the boys into custody after finding them in the rear yard of that address.

At the station, under questioning by Det. Lt. Stanley Enders and Cpl. Charles French, the original three confessed to taking $33 from the bus coin box of John H. Warren, of 810 Clavert, Detroit, while his bus was in the DSR parking lot at Alter road and Jefferson. The money was later recovered.

The fourth boy arrested was involved in stealing a cake from a grocery store at 1009 Maryland. He was also connected with the theft of the money from the DSR driver.

The parents of the boys were called and the lads released to them, Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said.

One of the youths, 16, is from St. Clair Shores, and another, 15, is from Detroit. Both are the actual thieves of the money, the chief said. The other two are 14 years old and are from the Park. The 16-year-old is also charged with stealing the cake.

Chief Louwers said the two older boys have been filed against in Juvenile Court as have the two younger ones who are charged with having knowledge of the thefts and failing to report these to the police.

Woman Loses, But Man Pays

A Farms resident, name withheld so that his "better half" would not find out, paid his wife's overtime parking meter ticket, and deposited it in one of the handy receptacles near Mack avenue and Moross.

The fine is 50 cents, if paid within 24 hours, so the obliging spouse paid it out of his pocket.

On the envelope he wrote this message:

"It's my wife's fault. She thought for two cents she could complete furnishings in the house, clean out Sears and close out Kinsel's. I thought it would take at least a nickel."

WINDOWS SHOT OUT

Farms police took a report from L. V. Messersmith of 232 Fisher road, in which he stated that someone shot BB holes through the glass of two windows of his home, and that a 50-foot garden hose was taken from his rear yard. Identical complaints were made by W. B. Bowman of 228 Fisher.

School Staff Meets Prior To Opening

Prof. John Guy Fowlkes of Univesrity of Wisconsin, Addresses Group

The 1958-59 school year for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools opened with a meeting of the entire school staff Tuesday morning, September 2, at the Parcells school auditorium. Approximately 650 teachers, office workers and plant personnel were present.

The keynote speaker for the occasion was Professor John Guy Fowlkes of the University of Wisconsin. An outstanding authority on school administrative matters such as financial accounting or pupil accounting, Professor Fowlkes recently concluded a two-year stint of service as Educational Adviser to the Ministry of India. His remarks to the Grosse Pointe staff were both highly informative and inspirational.

Introduced by Dougherty

President Franklin D. Dougherty of the Board of Education introduced the main speaker. He prefaced his remarks with greetings from the Board of Education and spoke confidently of the Board's hopes for another successful school year in the Grosse Pointe tradition. Dougherty has been a member of the Board since 1947 and is serving his second term as president.

In welcoming his staff, Superintendent James W. Bushong told the more than 70 newcomers that they were joining a championship team and should find the experience an exhilarating and challenging one. He complimented the veteran teachers on having a philosophy of never being satisfied with the job they had done and of never resting on their laurels. This augured well for the educational future of Grosse Pointe boys and girls, he said.

Gray Arranges Meeting

Grosse Pointe Teachers Association President Lewis Gray was in charge of the arrangements for the opening meeting and served as chairman. Gray, head of the Industrial Arts Department, teaches at the senior high school.

Tuesday and Wednesday were devoted to a series of building and department meettings and planning sessions by all teachers. Many had come to their buildings last week to begin preparations for the first classes today.

Classes at all levels of instruction began at the usual hour this morning (Thursday,

Property Owners In Woods Warned To Fix Sidewalks

Public Hearing to be Held Monday in Connection With Program; Inspectors Report 925 Properties Must Be Repaired

The Woods will hold a public hearing on Monday, September 9, to start off its annual sidewalk repairing program. Letters to approximately 475 property owners were sent by the city, notifying them that sidewalks in front of their homes must be replaced or repaired in the interest of public safety, and that a hearing will be held in the council chambers on Monday.

Home owners will be given a reasonable time to replace badly cracked, or misplaced sidewalk squares, to be done by their own contractors and at their own expense. If this is not done, the city will undertake the work and bill the property holders.

925 Hazards Cited

City inspectors have found that sidewalks in front of about 925 pieces of property have reached a stage where they are hazardous to public safety and must be replaced.

City Administrator William Lange said that the city can have the job done much cheaper than the home owners because of job volume, and it will be to the advantage of the owners if they would let the city take care of the work.

Another advantage, he said, is that if the city handles the job, it is liable for the work and has insurance to cover any injuries that might result to pedestrians. Otherwise, owners will have to bear the responsibility.

Owners Are Responsible

Letters have already been sent to people north of Vernier and east of Mack on the following streets: Aline, Brys drive, North and South Brys, Roslyn, Hampton, Hollywood, Hawthorne, Anita, Goethe, Charlevoix and Marter.

Although sidewalks are public domain, property owners are responsible for their maintenance and repair under Ordinance 37.

It is not known what the total cost of the project will be, but the contractor has agreed to do the work for 35½ cents a square foot for four-inch thick walks. This price is included for replacing walks already torn out, and those that need to be removed.

Youth Innocent In Bike Crash

Ronald W. Delp, 17, of 191 Lothrop, was found not guilty of not having his car under control and running into a young cyclist. The case was heard by Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong on Wednesday, August 27.

The case against Delp was dismissed, when it was found that the cyclist, Ronald Munter, 9, of 286 Mt. Vernon, pedaled through a stop street without stopping and into the path of the car driven by Delp, on July 17.

The nine-year-old suffered minor injuries when he was knocked to the pavement.

Park Starts Waterfront Pool Project

$44,000 Beach Renovation Will Provide Better Swimming

The Park closed its swimming pool at the waterfront park on Tuesday, September 2, and began operations in pumping out about a million gallons of water, preparatory to carrying out improvements.

The project will cost approximately $44,000, with the contract recently awarded to a low bidder by the city council.

Renovation of the pool will include a cement floor, tiling, instructional platform, racing area, and the installation of units for a possible future water filtering plant.

Water Chlorinated

At present, the water is chlorinated, and this method of purifying the water will be maintained until some future date when funds are available for a filtering plant, according to City Manager Robert Slone.

The swimming pool now has a sand floor, and has had one since the cement walls were poured in 1931. The improvements will make the pool a better place to swim in, the city manager said.

When first constructed, the pool was made watertight to prevent water seepage from Lake St. Clair, and possible contamination of the pool.

Will Take Six Weeks

The deepest part of the pool will be about five and a half feet, Mr. Slone said.

He said that about 700 cubic yards of concrete will be poured for the pool floor, and that the entire project should be completed in about six weeks, weather permitting.

RECOVER BICYCLE

Shores police recovered a bicycle on Tuesday, August 26, stolen from John Elling, 16, of 1448 Vernier road, when he left it in front of a Mack avenue business place. The two-wheeler was found near 22 Sunningdale several hours after it was taken.

Senior Loop Championship Captured by Foster Team

Scoring two runs on Russell Gramer's triple, the Foster team from the Woods captured the championship of the Senior Baseball League last Monday, September 1, by downing Stegar 4-3.

The title game of this recently formed baseball league was a thriller from start to finish. Steger took an early 2-0 lead and appeared to have the title situation well in hand until Gramer blasted his three bagger to give the new champions what proved to be the deciding runs.

Steger made a gallant try but fell short by one run as winning pitcher Mike MacDonald locked the door to the throne room. Dick Chouinard was the loser.

Foster qualified for the title game when it beat the Collins Vikings 5-0 behind the shutout hurling of Al Foreka on Sunday, August 31.

Steger nudged into the finals by beating Huntington in a thriller which saw Steger push across three runs in the final inning to win 3-2 behind the fine pitching of Dick Werbeck and the heavy hitting of Dave Keenan, who belted a triple with two mates aboard the bases for the winning runs.

All three games were played on the Grosse Pointe High School diamond.

The Foster team was awarded the Gray's Sport Shop Challenge Trophy following the title game.

In the short space of approximately six weeks this new league has proven its

Labor Day's Figures Far Below Par

Chilly Blasts Keep Beach-Combers at Home; Lake-Front Sites Deserted

The cold spell over the long Labor Day weekend kept the Pointe parks almost empty, according to figures released.

Two parks reported a drop in attendance for both the weekend and for the season. Two others did not have ready figures available for the seasonal attendance, but gave those for the weekend. One park did not have any figures available.

The Park reported only 300 persons showed up to avail themselves of the recreational facilities at the waterfront park. Saturday's figure was set at 700; and that for Sunday, about 1,500.

50 Percent Decrease

The total number of attendance for last year was about 50 percent less.

The City disclosed just 304 persons were at the municipal park on Labor Day. The figure for Saturday was 616; Sunday, 767.

The total attendance for this year was officially set at 71,690, as compared to 76,000 last year. The highest number of persons was on August 10 of this year, which saw 2,074 at the park; the second highest was July 13, figured at 1,928.

Farms Hasn't Totaled

The Farms was unable, for the present, to give its attendance number, for either the weekend or the season.

The Shores reported 426 on September 1; for Saturday, the number was 331; and for Sunday, 407. The overall total for the season is not known.

The Woods came up with a total of 136,000 for the entire season as compared to 141,000 for last year.

On Labor Day, 795 persons were at the lakefront park; Saturday, the number was 1,537; and Sunday, 1,352.

Weather Too Nice

The seasonal picture appears to indicate that the weather has simply been too nice in the Pointe this summer to make beach attendance spectacular. Very hot spells drive thousands to the cooling waters of Lake St. Clair. There have been many days during the season that have been too cool to swim.

Homes have remained comfortable and it has been easier for the residents to enjoy the quiet of their own back yards and gardens with the conveniences of their own houses, than to pack picnic lunches and suppers and take themselves to the lakefront recreation sites.

Judge Paterson Hears 4 Cases

City Judge Douglas Paterson, at a hearing held on Wednesday, August 27, found John D. Reese of 2463 Beals, Detroit, guilty of being disorderly (larceny) and ordered him to pay a fine of $25 or serve 10 days in the Wayne County Jail.

Reese spent a day and a half in the local lockup until a relative paid the fine.

The case against Mary Ann Lindquist of 1467 Hampton, charged with not having her car under control and causing an accident, was dismissed by the judge on the grounds that the matter was not under the court's jurisdiction because the accident occurred in the Park. Therefore the city police department has sent the entire report to the Park for further dispensation of the case.

An identical charge against Mary E. Dossin of 787 Berkshire, was also dismissed on the same grounds.

David L. Rigsby of 4160 Lakeview, Detroit, pled not guilty and was found guilty of reckless driving and paid a fine of $25 and was put on six months probation, to drive only in connection with his work.

Verheyden Honored on Business Group's Anniversary

Nine of the 12 original founders of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association are shown here celebrating their 10th anniversary with a luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The program included a surprise tribute to one of their number, Charles Verheyden, whose funeral establishment, Chas. Verheyden, Inc., is observing its Golden Jubilee Year. A flaming 50-candle cake was ushered in as the group arose and sang Happy Anniversary to break the surprise. Verheyden was also presented with a beautifully ingrossed Greeting containing the signatures of all 12 Founders. Special guests were David McCarron, incumbent president of the association and Russel Harkness and Raymond Huetteman, past presidents; George DeClerk, President of the Belgian American Business Men's Association, a friend of Mr. Verheyden, and Clayton Alandt and Joseph Miller of the Verheyden firm. In the photo, left to right, on the far side of the table, are: MATTHEW M. GOEBEL, HUETTEMAN, ALBERT DeRIEMAKER, CLAUDE JORGENSEN, HARKNESS, VERHEYDEN, DeCLERK, A. J. MEYER and JOHN HANNAN. In the foreground at right are: MILLER, McCARRON, RICHARD MAXON, WILLIAM MOIR, and TOMMY ASCOTT, evening manager-host at Little Harry's, who entertained and sang anniversary and other songs. Standing, left to right: ROBERT O'NEILL and ALANDT. Speakers who touched on the high spots in the association's first decade were past presidents Hannan, Moir and Harkness and Secretary O'Neill. President McCarron spoke on the association's present and future plans. The three absent Founders were Fred Kopp, Willard Hosking and Cyril Paye. The latter, now a resident of California, wired best wishes and greetings. Some two hundred of Grosse Pointe's merchants are now members of the association.

September 4). Secondary students who are attending school in a new (to them) building were given a brief orientation Wednesday afternoon in their respective buildings, however.

Official enrollment figures will not be available until Friday but school officials believe their original estimate of 10,300 is still a good one. Approximately 6,000 elementary school children are expected to enroll in the ten elementary school buildings.

About 2,300 junior high school age pupils are anticipated and will be rather evenly divided between Brownell, Parcells, and Pierce. Close to 2,000 senior high school students will be housed in the Fisher road unit.

New Director of Music Takes Over at High School

"Leading authorities have long recognized the cultural and esthetic values of orchestral training for the youth of our communities," Superintendent James W. Bushong of the Grosse Pointe Public School System said. "We have had an outstanding string program in our elementary schools and in our junior highs for some time. Now, we hope to continue our growth in this area at the senior high school."

Dr. Bushong stated that the Pointe schools were fortunate to have obtained an outstanding replacement for Director of Instrumental Music Dewey Kalember in the person of Richard H. Snook. "With Mr. Kalember's transfer to the new Brownell High School after 20 years at the high school, a tremendous gap in our high school staff needed filling," he said. "We believe Mr. Snook has the qualifications and background to accomplish this task in excellent fashion."

A native of Illinois, Snook is a graduate of the Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills High School. He holds both a bachelors and masters degree in music from Michigan State University. His teaching experience includes several years in the Battle Creek system and the past eight years as Director of Music for the East Lansing Schools.

Active in State Music Educational circles, Snook served as president of the South Central Band and Orchestra Association as well as vice president and State Music Chairman of the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association. In 1954 he was elected to the American School Band Director's Association.

Bands and orchestras under Snook's direction have been very active and successful in district and state competition. In the last eight years his units have won 21 first division "Superior" ratings in all. These are the highest possible ratings attainable in the State of Michigan.

"Our high school bands and choral groups have enjoyed the same sort of success in state competition over the years," Superintendent Bushong remarked. "Many parents have expressed an interest in the development of the high school orchestra in a similar fashion. Under Mr. Snook's leadership further efforts to expand and enlarge the organization will be made. We are hopeful that enough students will enroll in orchestra this fall to enable us to balance the traditional triangle formed by the music department's three groups—the band, the vocal groups, and the symphony orchestra."

Students interested in playing in the orchestra are instructed to contact Mr. Snook or members of the high school administrative staff at their earliest convenience.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

George A. DeSloover of 14486 Spring Garden, Detroit, reported the theft of his car to Park police on Tuesday, August 12, from in front of 15300 Mack avenue. The vehicle was recovered by Patrolmen Arthur Conlan and Rodney Wedding in an alley at the rear of 15127 Kercheval the following day.

TB CASES INCREASE

More cases of infectious tuberculosis are being found in Detroit and Michigan this year, the TB and Health Society reports. This reverses a trend toward decline starting in 1954. To August 14, the Detroit Dept. of Health reported 1,466 new TB cases, compared to 1,371 cases for the same period of 1957.

The little dog with the big trophy is a Miniature Dachshund by the name of CINNAMON. He and his proud master, LOUIS J. SCHAUDT of 21200 Kenmore are displaying the handsome trophy which they won for the Grosse Pointe Community Service class.

This award is offered every year by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, which conducts Obedience Training classes under the Adult Education programs in the schools of suburban Detroit. This permanent trophy is now on display at the Community Services office.

It was won in Obedience competition with the other eight schools which offer Owner-Dog Training classes. They are: Bloomfield Hills, Pontiac, Waterford, Royal Oak, Berkley, Ferndale, Mt. Clemens and East Detroit. The 19 top dogs at the graduations of the spring classes from these schools competed for this honor. Cinnamon won with a score of 196½ out of a possible 200 under regular American Kennel Club rules.

The fall class of the Owner-Dog Training Course starts Tuesday, September 30, at the Grosse Pointe High School at 7:30 o'clock. Persons who may wish to enter this course are asked to report in the High School Auditorium for the first meeting without their dogs. There will be a brief explanation of the work, a demonstration by former students, and enrollment by those who are seriously interested and have made advance reservation with the Department of Community Services.

Instruction is provided by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, whose member instructors have all had the experience of training their own dogs, and make a hobby of instructing others in their proven techniques.

Based on exercises approved by the American Kennel Club, the degree of success attained in the training of a dog depends entirely on the handler's interest and willingness to follow instructions and to practice faithfully. With this in mind, only those people who are seriously interested in following through the 10 weeks of required daily practice and class work should apply.

Head instructor will be Fred T. Moran who will have four assistant instructors, all local, representing S.M.O.T.C.

Registration may be made for any dog six months or older, regardless of ancestry or pedigree. This course is primarily for adults, however, children 12 years or over may enroll if their parents will assist in their guidance.

Classes are limited in enrollment and advance registration is required. Further information and class reservation may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services, TU. 5-3808 or TU. 5-0271.

LOSES CHANGE PURSE

Bobbie Longyear, 8, of 552 Cadieux road, informed City police on Tuesday, August 26, that she lost her plastic purse containing $8 in change, between a dime store on Kercheval and 801 Grosse Pointe court.

7 Cases Heard By Farms Judge

Clifford T. Tobin of 20703 Fleetwood, Harper Woods, arrested while driving on Mack avenue, was found guilty of drunk driving by Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong at a hearing on Wednesday, August 20.

Tobin was ordered to pay a fine of $100, or face seven days in the Wayne County Jail. He paid the fine. His driver's license was taken away from him and forwarded to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing.

Michael J. Ruen of 125 Stephens road, pled guilty to knowingly having alcoholic beverages under his control in a motor vehicle, being a minor. He was placed on probation for one year, during which he must work and pay a $50 fine from his earnings.

Joseph W. Clarke of Muir road pled guilty to tossing bottles into streets and driveways (disorderly conduct), causing them to break and shatter. He was given one year probation, during which he must earn and pay a $50 fine.

Harry Kavanaugh of 22000 Blackburn, St. Clair Shores, paid a fine of $30 and court costs of $3, after he was found guilty of not having his car under control and causing an accident. The alternative to the fine was seven days in jail.

James A. Ward of 14274 Chelsea, Detroit, pled guilty to failing to have his car under control and hitting a utility pole on Moross near Ridge, and paid a fine of $25 and $3 costs rather than serve five days in jail.

On Wednesday, August 27, Lawrence P. Attard of 16069 Lappin, Detroit, pled guilty to reckless driving and his operator's license was suspended for a period of 90 days.

Ronald W. Delp of 191 Lothrop road, pled not guilty and was found not guilty of not having his car under control and causing an accident, and his case was dismissed.

Some people think they were given a conscience so they could detect the faults of their next door neighbor.

Center Offering Travel Pictures

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is inaugurating its "Meet the Travellers" series, a group of fine programs consisting of slides or movies with accompanying commentary on some of the most interesting parts of the world, on Wednesday, September 17, at 8:15 p.m.

The programs will be held monthly and the public is invited free of charge.

Sidney D. Gamble of New York will be the first guest to be featured. On the evening of September 17 Mr. Gamble will show his excellent colored slides of "India" which have won prizes in New York. Mr. Gamble will also give much information concerning India—its place in the new Asia, its transitional civilization, its people, its customs and the land itself.

Mr. Gamble, father of David L. Gamble of Renaud road, has for years been a world traveller and paid many visits of lengthy duration in Asia's sub-continent where his daughter and her husband were for years on duty for the State Department. Often Mr. Gamble was official representative for various international organizations such as the International Board of the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Gamble's pictures will take his audience to all parts of India and to Pakistan and Ceylon. Both his slides and his commentary will offer a rare insight into this land which may well hold the answer to Asia's future.

Money is of no value to the man without experience, so a great many get the experience while earning the money.

The Farms will open bids on Tuesday, September 12, for pavement, sidewalk and curb repairing which will complete street and sidewalk improvements for the year.

The city finished its last phase of street asphalt recapping in its present program, when Kerby road recapping was completed yesterday, September 6.

The recapping of Kerby, Kercheval and Fisher cost the Farms approximately $36,000, in addition, residential streets throughout the city were re-sealed for another $40,000.

The bids to be opened Tuesday, will be for the repairing of streets, curbs and sidewalks on a number of residential streets in various parts of the city, which will cost an estimated $11,000, according to City Engineer Murray M. Smith.

HELEN PARKER

Mrs. Arthur M. Parker, 86, the former Helen Pitts, died on Saturday, August 30, at her home, 40 Oldbrook lane.

An author and a playwright, she was prominent for nearly three quarters of a century in artistic, cultural and patriotic activities of Detroit. She was a member of one of Detroit's earliest families.

Until her death, Mrs. Parker remembered the horse-and-carriage days of Detroit before the auto era.

Her former residence at 8115 E. Jefferson and her later residence in Oldbrook lane, were the scenes of frequent gatherings of Detroiters interested in civic betterment, creative and historical work.

Her grandfather, Thomas Pitts, came to Detroit from New England in 1932. She was born in the family home in Fort street, opposite the present Detroit Club.

Educated in Europe, she made her debut from a red brick house in Jefferson avenue, where the portraits of her ancestors, including Lendall Pitts of the Boston Tea Party, hung.

Widowed early in life, Mrs. Parker spent 12 years in the 1920's and 1930's in Paris with her artist-brother, Lendall Pitts, and his wife. While there, she studied playwrighting and the theater became her first love.

On her return to America, she began writing plays, winning prizes in local and national contests. Her one-act plays used to be an annual event of the Theater Arts Glub. One, "The Raveled Sleeve," won a New York Drama Critics' plaque as the best one-act play in the United States that year.

Mrs. Parker was one of the founders of the Detroit Chapter of the American Red Cross, and she was the last surviving charter member of the Louisa St. Clair Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She was twice president of the Detroit Historic Memorials Society.

She was a member of the Colonial Dames of America, the Descendants of the Colonial Governors, the Huguenot Society of Michigan, the Society of Mayflower Descendants and the Daughters of Colonial Wars.

She was also a member of the Detroit Historical Society, the Detroit Museum of Arts Founders Society and the Society of New England Women.

She was a past president of the Detroit Women Writers' Club, and also held membership in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Women's Association, the Fine Arts Society, the Theater Arts Club, Pro Musica, and the Society of Arts and Crafts.

Among her survivors are nephews, Henry R. Parker and Edward C. Parker of Metamora, and nieces, Mrs. George Fagar of Greenwich, Conn.; and Mrs. Julia Parker Brown of New York City.

Mrs. Parker was a life-long member of Christ Church, 976 E. Jefferson, where funeral services were held on Tuesday, September 2. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery.

Juvenile Driver Leads iWld Chase

A 15-year-old teenager who took his father's car without permission, led Woods police a chase at a speed of up to 80 miles an hour in a residential area, and then escaped after ditching the car behind a Mack avenue business place.

The juvenile was seen by Police Sgt. Roland Symons at Beaufait and Mack early in the evening of Monday, September 1. Two younger boys were in the car with the youth.

The sergeant said that the driver was going south on Beaufait, and when he saw the police car, made a U turn to Mack and headed north, before he (Symons) could stop the boy for questioning. The boy looked rather young to be driving, the officer said.

The boy turned onto Mack toward Vernier, turned east on Vernier to Charleviox, north on Charlevoix to Hampton, and west on Hampton to Mack where the car was abandoned.

Sgt. Symons said that he did not clock the speed of the car, but estimated that the boy was going at least 80 miles an hour.

After abandoning the car, the 15-year-old and his two companions, one 12 years old and the other 13 years old, escaped on foot.

The 13-year-old, a Woods boy, was captured by the sergeant before he got very far, and taken to the station and held for questioning.

The older boy and the younger one, both from Harper Woods were later brought to the station by their parents after the car license was traced, and questioned. The older boy said he took his father's car without his parent's knowledge. He said he tried to get away from Sgt. Symons because he did not have a driver's license and was afraid of the consequences from both the law and his parents.

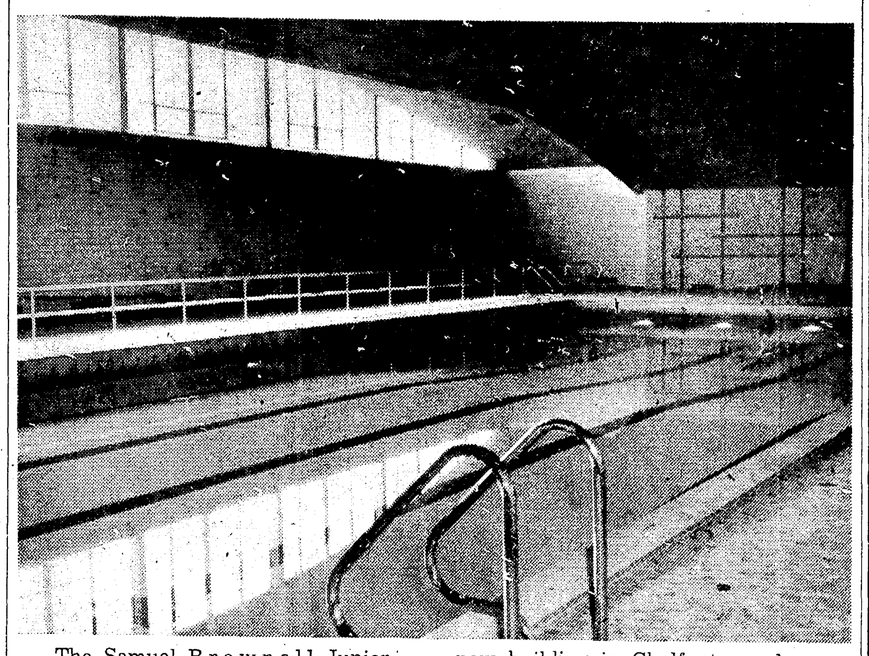

The 13-year-old said he was not aware that the car was taken without the older boy's parents' knowledge. The younger lad said he knew.

Charges against the teenage driver will be filed with Juvenile authorities, Sgt. Symons said. The two younger boys were released after they were given a lecture.

Trotters and Baseball Are His Loves

Sparkling eyes of TOM GAHAGAN (seated), 82-year-old dean of America's harness racing writers, tell how much he is enjoying the film story of the 1958 Merchants and Manufacturers trot. And his nieces, AGNES GAHAGAN (left), director of the Harness Hall of Fame in Goshen, N.Y., and GERTRUDE GAHAGAN get a big bang out of the movies which are being shown at their home in Grosse Pointe by Promotional Director DON RIDLER, of Wolverine Harness Raceway.

Tom Gahagan, 82-year-old dean of America's harness racing writers, couldn't make it to the 1958 renewal, of the historic Merchants and Manufacturers trot—so Don Ridler, promotional director of Wolverine Harness Raceway, took the race to Tom.

That is figuratively speaking for the smiling, always obliging Ridler took the official race films with the voice of announcer Jack Riggs, and ran it over and over for the ailing Gahagan.

Tom, who witnessed every running of the rich event since 1900, has been missing from the scene in each of the past two years. He expressed a hope to get out this year but his health wouldn't permit. So Ridler took films, cameras and all necessary equipment to 676 University place in Grosse Pointe where Tom resides with his niece, Gertrude Gahagan, and gave him the treat of his life.

"Sure wish I could have been there," commented the sage of the sulky sport, "I would have liked to have seen that filly, Annette Sue close up. She looks like one of the best I have seen in a long time but then I was watching movies and they are never as good as a first hand inspection.

"But the way in which she made the remainder of the starters eat her dust in her two winning dashes convinces me that Driver Charles King has one of the real good trotters. I'd stake my life that she'd better two minutes if he took her to Lexington for races on that fast mile strip."

Tom recalled some of the races of the past and rates Mabel Tryax, who won the 1915 renewal in 2:03, as the best M&M winner of the early days.

"Shucks," he said, "That mare would have trotted in 2:02 or better if she was in competition today. There's a great deal more speed in harness racing today than there was in the early days. Tracks are much better, equipment has improved and I believe the drivers get a little bit more out of a horse."

And then going back in his memory, which is as sharp today as it was in 1900 despite his 82 years, Tom ran over another list of past champions and finally stopped with the 1954 winner—Scotch Valley of the Brown Valley Farm.

"That Scotland horse is the best I have seen since the stake was revived by Wolverin Raceway," he stated, "I don't believe I have ever seen a finer trotter and he certainly must have been near his best that night.

"I told the driver that he could go close to 2:00 if he took Scotch Valley to Lexington. He did and the horse went in 2:00 1/5. I just missed by a fifth of a second. Then the next year he bettered 2:00. So I guess you'd say I wasn't too far off."

Harness racing was always a business with Tom but baseball is the sport he loves best. Nothing suits him more than to watch the Tigers on television or listen to a game on radio.

"Never miss a broadcast or telecast," he smiled, "I'd sure like to be able to get down there for every home game. I can remember as a boy when I saw the Tigers (then a member of the Western League) play on the Field avenue diamond near Belle Isle in 1895. Then a year later they moved to the old Haymarket site. I guess I'll never get my fill of baseball."

Theater Casting Tonight For 'Solid Gold Cadillac'

The Grosse Pointe Community Theater will hold the second and third casting tryouts tonight, (Thursday, Sept. 4) and Sunday, Sept. 7, for its season-opening production of "The Solid Gold Cadillac," President Bob Koebel, 28 Hawthorne, announced.

While initial try outs for the held from 7:30 to 10:30 at the Central branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, 10 Kercheval, and Sunday's final tryouts will be from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

While initial tryIouts for the comedy by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman were held Tuesday night at the Library, Koebel said that David Kludt, chosen to direct the two-acter by the GPCT board, would give every applicant an opportunity to read for the play before making final casting decisions.

Kludt said he is seeking 11 men and 6 women with a flair for comedy and regardless of age for the "Solid Gold Cadillac." The play will be produced on two successive Friday and Saturday nights, October 17, 18, 24 and 25, at the Grosse Pointe High School. Charles "Chuck" Carson has been chosen as producer of the show.

Koebel said that the Grosse Pointe Community Theater, in addition to "The Solid Gold Cadillac," plans to present four other plays during its 1958-59 season. The plays and the tentative dates are: Caine Mutiny Court Martial, Dec. 5 and 6; "Happy Time," Feb. 6, 7, 13 and 14, 1959; "The Rainmaker," April 10 and 11, 1959; and "The Tender Trap," June 9, 20, 26 and 27. All but the "Tender Trap" are planned for the Grosse Pointe High School.

For those planning to try out for the "Solid Gold Cadillac", Kludt said the 11 male roles include Edward L. McKeever, a Big Businessman in Washington T. John Blessington, Alfred Metcalf, Warren Gillie and Clifford Snell, four big business executives; Mark Jenkins, a handsome young mail carrier; two newscasters, a narrator and three newspapermen.

The six female roles include Mrs. Partridge, played by Judy Holliday in the movie and Josephine Hull on the stage (Kludt will interview both types); Miss Shotgraven and Miss Logan, two off-beat secretaries; Miss L'Arriere, a beautiful model; Estelle Evans, a newscaster; and "a little old lady".

Newcomers wishing to try out for the initial play or to join the GPCT are invited to come to the auditions or to the first general membership meeting this season of the GPCT, which will be held next Monday (Sept. 8) at 8:15 p.m. in the Veterans Room at the Grosse Pointe area who is interested in any phase of the dramatic arts, including acting, directing, producing, costumers, publicity, props, lighting, make-up, stage designing, etc. The GPCT meets the second Monday of each month at the War Memorial.

In addition to its full-scale productions, the GPCT develops talent through its monthly workshop presentations under the chairmanship of Phyllis Webb, 19613 Salisbury, St. Clair Shores. The workshop production for next Monday's meeting will be a scene from one of last year's GPCT hits, "Born Yesterday", recreated under the direction of Joan Hall, 333 Washington.

A scene from a Greek drama, to be directed by Lorine Reid, 2530 Second Avenue, Detroit, will be the October workshop, and a scene from the musical "Anything Goes", will be directed by Mr. Carson in November. Tryouts for the October and November workshops will be held next Thursday, Sept. 11, from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Cannon Memorial Playground, E. Warren near Cadieux, Detroit.

Fairweather Sailors Miss Particularly Lively Regatta

There are at least 96 skippers and their crews who aren't afraid to sail in any kind of weather. They proved this last Saturday, August 30, in the Edison Boat Club's forty-fourth annual regatta on Lake St. Clair.

An early morning thunderstorm and threatening skies scared away the fairweather sailors from the livcliest regatta of the season. Actually had they come out they undoubtedly would have lost their collective shirts to those who braved the storm-tossed lake.

There is at least one skipper who probably wishes he had left his big cutter tied to the dock. That was Hans Warnke, owner of the controversial steel yacht "Great Lakes" which has experienced nothing but misfortune since her launching a month prior to the Bayview-Mackinac race last July.

"Great Lakes" latest mishap occurred on the first leg of the fifteen-mile triangular course in the Edison regatta when her 87-foot wood spar snapped six feet above the deck.

Tow Splintered Spar

No one was injured when the tremendous spar crashed into the lumpy sea. The crew managed to clear away the wreckage and fasten a line to the splintered spar and skipper Warnke towed it to the Detroit Boat Basin in the Detroit River. Compression appeared to be the cause of the mast failure as a close inspection of the rigging revealed no shroud or fitting failure.

"Great Lakes" first experienced trouble in her career when she was launched. A track of the marine railway collapsed causing the yacht to nearly capsize on dry land. This was averted and she touched the water for the first time in the Clinton River which also caused no end of concern because of its shallowness. The ship was virtually dragged through the mud to deep water in the lake.

Was Unmanageable

Nearly three weeks of around the clock fitting out work readied the "Great Lakes" for her first trial run. This is where skipper Warnke suffered his greatest heartbreak. The big ship proved unmanageable under sail and Warnke was forced to withdraw from the Mackinac race, something he had set his heart on.

Although Hans was disappointed he hauled his ship out of water and set about making structural changes in the ship. She first saw competition in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club regatta, the club whose colors she flies. Although she finished second in the "A" fleet corrected time dropped her down to fifth place. The Crescent Sail Yacht Club regatta, a light air affair like the Grosse Pointe Y. C. regatta, was not kind to the "Great Lakes" which placed last in the "A" fleet.

Skipper Warnke felt that if his ship had a good breeze of wind she would show her transom to her rivals. The Edison regatta offered a 24 mile an hour easterly but five miles of windward work proved the undoing of the "Great Lakes" and disproved skipper Warnke's theory.

Skipper Undaunted

In face of all these mishaps Hans Warnke is a strong willed man. Mishaps will not stop him. He will meet the challenge and the "Great Lakes" will sail again. Maybe there will be more mishaps but Hans will not stop until the ship proves itself.

In the Edison regatta the Junior sailors were denied the right to sail as the Judges wisely flew the "O" (cancelation) flag for the first time this year.

Lynn Stedman, Jr., organizer of the Cruising "D" class became a "Bride" with his "Lurer" when she beat Ivan Taylor's "Belladonna" by a minute and 36 seconds, on corrected time, and Howard Hyatt's black hulled "Ev-Tide" liked the heavy going to place third.

Shadow of Fire Haunts Woods

Take forest recreational areas and trees from reforestation projects, add careless people, throw in a dry summer, and you'll have the ingredients for a red-hot forest fire, says a University of Michigan forester.

Last year 3,400,000 acres valued at nearly $100 million went up in smoke because of forest fires throughout the U.S. Almost as important were recreational, water and scenic losses, says Prof. Kenneth Davis, head of the U-M's Department of Forestry.

Fortunately, Michigan's 1957 record was one of the best in the nation—only 8,000 acres were lost because of fire. Some of the worst fires in U.S. history occurred in this state before the turn of the century.

"Just because Michigan has a good record doesn't mean we can relax," says Davis. "We always have the shadow of a possible big fire lurking over us and we should never forget it."

Forestation and general building up of the natural forest has had a great impact on the forest fire picture for two reasons: It serves as a new source of fuel for fires and it attracts more people who want to build "a little cabin in the woods," says Professor Davis.

Better forestry in the Lakes for instance, has produced 20 per cent more fuel for forest fires—much of it in fine red pine plantations. The new stands, like those trees before them, are potential fire hazards as well as timber producers.

"The public as a whole is fire conscious, but with more and more people building homes in and near forests the danger of fire is still very much around," says Davis.

Pointers Candidates For Brown U. Eleven

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Two Grosse Pointe residents are among the 55 candidates invited to participate in preseason football drills at Brown University.

They are sophomore backs Hank Cashen and Perry Penz.

The Bears assemble September 1 to prepare for a nine game schedule which includes seven Ivy League foes plus Colgate and Rhode Island.

Thirteen lettermen, headed by quarterback Frank Finney, of Royal Oak, and Captain Don Warburton, All-Ivy center, return to form the nucleus for Coach Alva E. Kelley's eighth Brown squad. Finney, an established star in Ivy grid circles, ranked third in the league's total offense figures last year as Brown posted a 5-4 record and finished in a tie for fourth place in the league race.

Cashen, who prepped at Cheshire Academy, Cheshire, Conn., is considered one of the top sophomore backfield prospects. He was a starter for the freshman team last year, and his throwing ability makes him extremely dangerous on the pass-run option.

Penz was a reserve fullback for the freshman team.

Cashen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cashen, 933 Lincoln road.

Penz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry A. Penz, 1373 Harvard road.

Boat Banter

Who ever got the idea for the Power Squadron organization should be given a medal of honor. And the men who belong to the 247 Squadrons throughout the nation should be given a rising vote of thanks for making the idea the success it is today.

What with the crowded boating conditions getting worse by the day, boat sales increasing and more and more novice skippers finding their ways to the water, the waterways of the State of Michigan are becoming almost, if not as dangerous, as the highways.

This is where the United States Power Squadrons and the Coast Guard Auxiliary is stepping in to try and curb the often senseless operation of motorboats. In past years the Power Squadrons and CG Auxiliary have offered classes of various categories in connection with boats and water safety. This year the effort is being doubled and the Detroit Power Squadron, one of the largest of the 247 squadrons in the United States, is getting an early start.

The DPS has set up the following registration dates and sites for their classes:

Pasic Seamanship—For all boaters. September 5, Brodhead Naval Armory, East Jefferson near the Belle Isle bridge.

PILOTING — An advanced course. September 9, St. Clair Yacht Club, foot of Meadowbrook.

JUNIOR NAVIGATION — An advanced class. September 9, Detroit Boat Club.

NAVIGATION— September 10, Detroit Yacht Club.

ENGINE MAINTENANCE— September 8, Crescent Sail Yacht Club.

SAILING — September 10, Crescent Sail Yacht Club.

The registration for each class will be from 7:30 to 10 p.m. on the dates and sites.

The instructors will be members of the Detroit Power Squadron and the Auxiliary who volunteer their time and get nothing but the satisfaction of knowing they have contributed worthwhile knowledge which, if absorbed by the students, will make the recreation of boating a safe sport.

All courses are free at each center but it is amazing the number of boat owners who refuse to take the time to avail themselves of these classes which in the long run is just like taking out a life insurance policy. It is the skipper of any boat, big or small, who is solely responsible for himself and his guests on his boat.

You can never learn too much about the water so why not make a note of these dates and times and register in one of the classes which will do you the most good.

DPS Commander George Cooper said "My Squadron will also have the educational facilities of the J. L. Hudson Company's Eastland Shopping Center." This is in addition to the facilities offered by The Detroit Y. C., Crescent Sail Y. C., Windmill Point Y. C., Detroit Boat Club, Edison Boat Club, St. Clair Y. C.

Wyandotte and Dearborn Power Squadron will also conduct similar courses in their community centers.

* * *

Power Squadron members at the Detroit Yacht Club will hold a sail and power boat piloting contest, Saturday, September 6, at the club. Trophies will be awarded to the top three skippers in each division.

According to reports from the East, Hurricane Daisy threatened to play hob with the America's Cup elimination trails. In preparation for Daisy's possible appearance (and Eastern sailors haven't forgotten the one that nearly wiped out the fleet a few years back), the big 12 meter yachts were snugged in real good. "Columbia" and "Vim" were in dry dock while Charlie Hovey's "Easterner" sweated it out at anchor at her regular mooring in Brenton Cove. "Weatherly" and "Sceptre," the English challenger, took their chances at the end of 65-foot anchor rodes in Still Basin at Melville, which is seven miles north of Newport, Rhode Island.

Now while it isn't necessary to explain why such great care is being taken of these yachts, especially "Sceptre" because if she was wrecked there would be no America's Cup race this year, a thought occurred to us —Why are these yachts called the thoroughbreds of sailing yachts?

We recall when the 12 meters were just another class that took its chances along with all other yachts, big and small. They weren't singled out as thoroughbreds before the British issued a challenge for the America's Cup.

Sure we agree they are wonderful racing machines and that this sudden interest in 12 meters this year is a boon to the class and will revive competition among them for the next few years on the East coast. But what of other class yachts? You have the greatest one design class in the world in the Star class. It's the oldest (45 years), and still growing and is international. Then you have the Raven class which just completed its Nationals, at Noroton, Conn. And you cannot overlook the huge Lightning class that numbers nearly 7,000 boats since it started about 12 years ago. The Snipe class is still one of the biggest and hottest and there are other classes coming up.

Yes, all of these classes mentioned are small boats. But what can't be decided in small boats that can be determined in 12 meters? Absolutely nothing except the fact on the 12 meters more crew must be trained.

You don't see the 12 meters or any other big yacht class competing in the Olympics. But you do see the Stars and 5.5 meters and six meter yachts plus some other small class boats that are foreign to this country.

Nope, I don't understand why the 12 meters are referred to as the "thoroughbreds" of sail yachts. Of course if you consider the money spent in constructing a yacht then the 12 meters are the "thoroughbreds" of the windwagons.

I still say the Englishmen are going to win and my choice is strictly sentimental — after 107 years something's gotta give.

Ed Pongracz Scores Slam In Long Distance Swims

Ed. Pongracz, 19-year old Grosse Pointe City lifeguard, has scored a slam in Grosse Pointe long distance swimming. Pongracz won his second title of the year last Sunday, defeating 20 other contestants in the Second Annual Grosse Point Farms Two-Mile Swim.

His time of 48:32 knocked nearly two and a half minutes off the old record. John Chase, who held the old mark of 50:59, and had defeated Pongracz by three minutes last year, did not defend his title this year.

Swimming in his first long distance swim, Chuck Babcock, 17-year old June Grosse Pointe High School graduate, won second place honors. His time was 51:29.

Jerry Mehl, also a Grosse Pointe City lifeguard, was third in 53:41 and Harvard-bound Jay Hayden was fourth.

Rounding out the five early finishers in what one spectator termed "a private race" was Harvard swim team Captain John Hammond.

The nearest contestant behind these first five finishers finished 18 minutes later. He was 14 year old Norbert Olzmann who won the first place trophy in the Junior Division 15 years and under. His time was 75:21, establishing the record for his class.

Bob Sherwood finished next. The 14-year old Grosse Pointe Park swimmer claimed the second place Junior Trophy, finishing 7th overall. Third place in the Juniors went to Harold Riegle, also 14, who was competing in his first long distance event.

The first girl finisher was Anne MacDonald who covered the distance in 79:48. Mary Graves was the second girl to finish and Sally Champion was third.

All swimmers who completed the whole distance were presented with a trophy by Farms Fire Chief Bill Mason in award ceremonies following the swim.

One of the things which made the event so enjoyable for everyone was the spirit shown by all. Many competitors were swimming just for the fun of it, including 64-year old Fred Slater who finished 17th.

Twenty of the twenty-one swimmers who answered starter Bud Kurvink's shot finished. Their ages ranged from 13 to 64 years.

Rough water Saturday had forced postponement of the event for 24 hours. At race time an offshore breeze of about 25 miles made the course a bit choppy and tried the ability of the 21 boatmen who accompanied each of the swimmers.

A crowd of over 300 fans was on hand to watch the finish. The event was sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club.

GPUS Gridders Start Practice

As Grosse Pointe University School gridders swung into practice sessions all appeared hopeful that the 1959 season could be another successful campaign like 1958 which brought an undefeated seven game record.

Although the Black Knights have such larger schools as Oak Park, Lutheran East and Harper Woods, all Class B schools, on their schedule they appear unafraid.

Opening practice commences September 4 and two a day sessions will be held until September 8 when school officially opens. Head Coach Dick Trim and Line Coach Graham Cragg were not disappointed at the expected large turnout.

The Knights face a substantial rebuilding job from tackle to tackle. The backfield of last season is entact except for one member.

In 1957 the Knights placed four of its members on the All State Class C-D teams.

The Knights also earned the honor of being named the fourth best team in the final State C-D ratings.

Hannan Fortniters Club Plans September Events

A trip to Cranbrook by the Hannan Fortniters Club is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 7. The group will meet at the "Y" at 12:30 p.m. sharp and leave by auto for the outing.

According to Miss Ruth Ludwig, 788 Notre Dame avenue, an outing to the Detroit Zoological Park has been planned for a group of orphans on Sunday, September 21. A good time is promised for the kiddies by the club that day.

For more information call VA. 2-7200.

Charley Maxwell of the Detroit Tigers set a major league record by playing 193 errorless games in 1957 and 1958.

Junior Sailors Seeking Titles

The Detroit River Yachting Association's Boys' and Girls' sailing championships will be up for grabs on Sunday, September 7, when the DRYA holds its first annual Junior championships on Lake St. Clair.

According to Lynn Stedman, DRYA Junior chairman, a five race round robin series will be held in each division to determine the 1958 champions. The races will be held off the Grosse Pointe Club which is the host for the event.

The official DRYA fiber glass training boats, the 18-foot Interlake sloop, will be used. The Boys' will be allowed to use spinnakers but the girls will use only the regular working sails.

Chuck Fitzsimon, past Junior Chairman at the Detroit Boat Club will be the race chairman and Dave Davenport, highly respected and efficient DRYA official will be chairman of the Judges committee.

Actually this is the second time an event like this has been staged. The first time being when this writer organized the series and the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club played host last year. BUT when we called that one the first annual Junior Championships DRYA flag officers wagged a finger and said "You shouldn't have done it, we didn't give the official OK." But that is beside the point. Last years series was so successful and the DRYA saw the merits of the event SO this year its their show. And that's as it should be.

Crescent Sail Yacht Club, Grosse Pointe Club, Bayview Yacht Club, Detroit Yacht Club and Detroit Boat Club finished in that order last year and these same clubs will enter crews in both divisions.

The Junior Championships will be the official end of scheduled Junior competition however, during the remainder of the month the clubs mentioned have scheduled home and home series amongst themselves.

For the most part the Junior sailing as taken great strides over last year which was considered the greatest year for the young sailors.

The most outstanding event on the 1958 calendar was the first annual DRYA Sears Cup quarterfinals. This was outstanding because it marked the end of Inter Lake Yachting Association forcing the Detroit River Yachting Association to send its Junior crews to Put In Bay in order to qualify for the Sears Semi-finals. Under the new setup the DRYA junior crews are not subjected to bad officiating which has become a hallmark of ILYA race committees.

This year, bad officiating existed at the Bay again. In the not too distant future we can foresee the ILYA, DRYA, Lake Michigan Yachting and Inland Lakes Yachting Associations being required to hold their own separate quarterfinals to select a representative crew to compete in a semi-final series on one of the lakes these associations represent. If this comes to pass the Junior representatives will travel each year as the Sears regional semi-finals rotate.

As Junior chairman Stedman said, "this would be good for the kids as they would be competing against other youngsters who in the future will be the sailors of the Great Lakes and quite probably participate in the Mackinac races. They should form fast friendships for life."

Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote of the Detroit Lions have combined for 2,890 completions,, good for 30,172 yards and 229 touchdowns during their careers in the National Football League.

John Henry Johnson of the Detroit Lions is taking voice lessons in preparation for a five-minute daily sports show he will broadcast in the Detroit area.

Commodore's Corner

By Vice Comm. Fred C. Jensen
Detroit Yacht Club

On Saturday, September 6, the member clubs of the Detroit River Yachting Association will compete in the Detroit Yach Club's 61st Annual Sweepstakes Regatta, and will be racing for some of the oldest perpetual trophies on the Great Lakes.

Most of the trophies have an interesting history, and while the deeds of gift have remained the same, in most instances, the courses sailed have changed over the long period of years.

From the standpoint of age the Brewers Trophy is probably the oldest, having been competed for first on Decoration Day in 1888. A committee of citizens was organized to hold an annual sailing race on that day. They put the "bite" on several Detroit breweries for the cost of the trophy, which came to approximately eight hundred dollars, a larget sum in those days. The course was to be from the foot of Joseph Campau to 24th street and return, twice around.

The trophy was awarded to the yacht making the fastest time around the course. On that Decoration Day in '88 the winner was the yacht "Lulu B." Later winners were: "Josephine," 1889; the Alice Enright, 1892; and Shamrock, 1893, sailed by the late DYC Com. Harry C. Kendall.

Today the trophy is awarded to the yacht in Cruising "A" Class for the fastest "corrected time" on the DRYA course in Lake St. Clair. A few of the more recent winners include: "Spookie," "Red Head," "Apache" and "Vitesse." The defending champion is "Revelry" sailed by Norm Sarns.

Another old trophy being sailed for is the Hazen S. Pingree Punch Bowl for the Yawl, Schooner or Ketch making the best "corrected time" on the course sailed that day. This bowl was donated many years ago by Mr. Pingree, then Mayor of the City of Detroit. It was to be awarded to the yacht making the fastest time over the course from the foot of McDougall around the St. Clair Lightship (now St. Clair Light) and return. The "Shamrock" sailed by the late Com. Harry Kendall, DYC, won the first race in 189[illegible] and repeated in '95. In 1896 and '97 Alex J. Groesbeck won with the "City of the Straits" and George Wilds of Toledo with "Viking" in 1898. No more races were held for the "Bowl" and two of the trustees died in the meantime. Upon the death of the third trustee Mr. Pingree's son Gilbert Pingree took possession of the bowl. When Mr. Groesbeck was elected governor Gil Pingree presented the trophy to him. In 1927, at the suggestion of Com. Kendall, the governor agreed to put the "Bowl" back in combeen misplaced. A search of the governor's home, office and yacht failed to locate the bowl. After several months the governor's secretary said she felt sure that the trophy had been sent to some jeweler for storage. A search was made of the firms with which the governor did business and the bowl was located at the warehouse of Sallan & Co.

Thus the Pingree Punch Bowl was brought back in competition. Some of the winners engraved on the bowl include "Mingo," "Squall," "Calypso," "Four Winds," "Estrellita" and "Malabar VI." The defending champion this year is "Fleetwood" skippered by Bob Ford.

Attic May Hold Gems of History

Browsing through the trunks in your attic for old letters or dairies may help throw light on Michigan's historical heritage.

"The University of Michigan Historical Collection welcomes letters, dairies, scrapbooks, account books, maps, record books of schools, business organizations, and churches, pamphlets, and other materials as indispensable sources of information for historians," Prof. Lewis G. Vander Velde, director of the Collections, says.

Established in 1938, the Michigan Historical Collections contain research materials on all phases of the history of Michigan, its people, and its institutions.

The Collections include over 20,000 volumes of books and pamphlets, 1,400 maps, and more than 1,000,000 letters, diaries, account books and other manuscript materials.

Some of the manuscript collections reflect the careers of men and women who have been prominent leaders in their chosen fields. Other collections contain letters and diaries written by men and women who were unknown beyond their communities, but their papers, too, are useful sources of information about social, political, and economic activities.

A trained staff sorts, cleans, repairs, catalogs, and files papers and books so they may be used for research. "Anyone who is interested in the history of Michigan or of his own community is welcome to use them in our reading room in the Rackham Building here in Ann Arbor," Professor Vander Velde says.

"If you have papers like these, of if you know someone who has, we would appreciate having you write or phone the Michigan Historical Collections."

Address your letters to: Prof. Lewis G. Vander Velde, Director, Michigan Historical Collections, Rackham Building, Ann Arbor, Michigan. Or telephone: NOrmany 3-1511, Ext. 2734.

Detroit Tiger outfielder Charley Maxwell holds the team home run record for left handed hitters. He had 28 in 1956.

All children are encouraged to time their arrival at school so they receive the protection of the police and safety patrol.

Following are the school hours:

TROMBLY SCHOOL

The past few weeks have been a busy time at Trombly School, as it is in all Grosse Pointe Public Schools, in readying the "schoolhouse" for the children. During the summer weeks the building was thoroughly cleaned to provide an inviting, efficient, healthful school environment for the boys and girls.

The floors in all the rooms, gym, playroom, auditorium, and halls, were scrubbed and waxed; classroom walls, pupil furniture, lighting fixtures, and lockers were washed; tables and desks were varnished as needed; Kindergarten pianos were painted while other pianos were refinished; other painting jobs included equipment cabinets in the classrooms, the dado in the kitchen, and touching-up of "peels" in the upper and lower halls.

Numerous repair jobs were given expert attention; to name a few — steam valves, pipe replacement on hot and cold water lines, replacement of thermostats in the hot air tunnels, replacement of safety valve on hot water tank, piano casters, locker handles, and desk adjustments. The boilers were turbined, cleaned, fire pots relined, officially inspected, and pronounced in A-1 condition.

Further progress was also made in the long range improvement program. The installation of acoustic tile in the library, one classroom, and the kitchen completes the building ceiling and fluorescent lighting modernization program. Pupil furniture replacement program started several years ago witnessed the inclusion of the fourth grade this summer; two fourth grade rooms were equipped with new pupil furniture. Room 104 was equipped with plastic drapes for visual aids instructional purposes.

The music room and three classrooms (Rooms 209-211-216) were painted a pleasant shade of sunburst yellow; this color was selected not only for its inviting warmth but but also because its light reflectivity is in the upper range recommended for schoolrooms. The book storage room, the receiving room, and the gymnasium ceiling were also painted.

The cement walk leading from Beaconsfield to the North Entrance was replaced. The trees in the front "schoolyard" were given a thorough high trim. Through funds allocated by the Trombly PTA and with a major assist from the school budget, the Teachers' room is being refurnished.

Engineer Herbert Schwartz, Custodian - Engineer Thomas Needham, Custodian Hector Beauprez, Nelson Sherbourne, and the school system maintenance staff deserves a vote of commendation for their thorough workmanship in cleaning and caring for the many work details toward readying the schoolhouse for the 1958-1959 school year and thus setting the stage for the primary function of the school staff to provide quality learning experiences for boys and girls.

We count these services, facilities, and learning tools and especially the many people who made them a reality among our blessings.

OCD Formulates Evacuation Plan

An evacuation plan for the City of Detroit and surrounding municipalities including Grosse Pointe, was to be discussed by Civil Defense officials at a meeting in Detroit headquarters on Wednesday night.

George Elworthy, Pointe director for OCD, planned to attend the meeting.

C. E. Dougherty, OCD director for all of Wayne County, called the meeting. He stated that the plan would not be submitted to the state organization until all the communities involved had a chance to discuss it and concur and join in making adjustments.

Charge Youths As Disorderly

City police arrested seven teenagers on Monday, August 25, and charged them with being disorderly.

The authorities went to the home of one of the teenagers, in Lincoln road, when a neighbor complained that the youths were creating a disturbance by being noisy and throwing and smashing bottles.

Two bottles of whiskey and a bottle of beer were confiscated, and the youths taken to the station and booked as disorderly persons.

The boys were turned over to their parents pending a court date, according to City Police Chief Thomas Trombly.

Unitarians Set For 20th Season

Opening services of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church at the beginning of its twentieth year, will be held September 7. The schedule of activities includes the Forum at 10, Sunday School at 10:30, Morning Services at 11 and the Coffee Hour at 12:15.

Rev. William D. Hammond opens his ninth season as minister of the church and will conduct the morning service. He will speak on "Religion At Its Best", and will discuss the development of a religious concept adequate in depth for the needs of modern man.

The Coffee Hour after the service will give members and visitors and opportunity to renew old friendships and form new ones. Mrs. Pauline Roddy is serving as Coffee Hour chairman, and Mrs. Daniel Moak is in charge of the first Coffee Hour.

Sunday School this year will be conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Josephine Fisher, as Director of Religious Education, and Mrs. George Clifford as chairman of the Religious Education Committee. A great deal of planning and thought has gone into the development of a program that will stimulate the mental growth of the children.

Newest of the regular church activities is the Forum, which presents outstanding speakers discussing current questions of general interest. Under the leadership of Mrs. James Graves, this unusual institution has aroused a great deal of comment since its inception last season. Mrs. Graves will speak at the opening session and will discuss some of the ideas and impressions she received as a discussion leader at the Midwest Unitarian Conference held this summer at College Camp, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin.

During this conference, a psychiatrist, a theologian, a politician, a physiologist and a psychologist each spoke on one phase of the development of the individual. These lectures and the subsequent discussions proved very stimulating.

Stanley W. Smith, of Chalfonte road, president of the congregation for the coming year, extends a cordial welcome to everyone interested in liberal religion, to visit any service of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

Frank-Herbert Wedding Sept. 20

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Herbert, of Saginaw, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Jean, to Wesley Allen Frank, son of the Elmore W. Franks, of Fisher road.

The bride-elect majored in music at Michigan State University and was affiliated with Delta Omicron. Mr. Frank served with the Armed Force in Korea and is an alumni of the Michigan State University School of Landscape Architecture.

The couple plan a September 20 wedding in Saginaw and will make their home in Albany, N. Y.

Expert on School Lunches

Getting ready for school, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company home service instructor, GEORGIANNE BAKER, shows an easy way to prepare childrens lunch boxes.

To pack a really good lunch day after day is a big order and one that takes time and planning.

The school lunch must be easy to carry, keep well, tempt the appetite, taste good and above all, it must be nutritious, says the food expert.

Sandwiches with lots of filling spread clear to the edges are always good, Miss Barth points out. There are many types of extra tasty breads to choose from such as nut, boston brown, rye, pumpernickle, cornmeal, quick bran, raisin and cracked wheat.

Salads carry beautifully in covered paper containers or tightly covered jars. Piping hot soup in a thermos is especially tasty on a cold day. It's a good natured food—goes well with most any menu, she says.

Raw vegetables that add crispness as well as more vitamins to the diet such as carrots, celery sticks, green pepper rings and radishes are good crunchers. Find room in the lunch box for a juicy tomato, red apple, crisp pear, orange or banana.

A cup of milk pudding is good in cold weather. Baked fruit or mixed fresh fruit pack nicely in tight jars, Miss Barth reminds.

Cookies rate tops for dessert most anytime and milk (or cocoa kept hot in a thermos) can't be beat for the beverage. Tuck in an extra napkin or two, why not a colored one, and that school lunch is ready to go.

Here are some suggestions frustrated mothers may clip out and paste inside the cupboard door for easy reference:

Monday

Cream of Pea Soup (thermos), Cream Cheese and Chopped Olive Sandwich, or, Ground Ham or Beef with Relish Sandwich; Apple & Cheese Salad (cut in small cubes), Milk, Banana and Cookies.

Tuesday

Baked Beah and Catsup Sandwich or Liverwurst and Lettuce Sandwich, Raw Cabbage and Carrot Salad, Milk, Creamy Rice Pudding.

Cream of Pea Soup (thermos), Cream Cheese and Chopped Olive Sandwich or Ground Ham or Beef with Relish Sandwich, Apple & Cheese Salad (cut in small cubes), Milk, Banana and Cookies.

Wednesday

Egg Salad Sandwich or Peanut Butter with Chopped Raisins and Celery Sandwich, Peach Slices and Coconut Flake Salad, Milk, Apple Brown Betty.

Thursday

Tomato Soup (thermos), Tuna Salad Sandwich or Ground Corned Beef with Mustard Sandwich, Orange and Cottage Cheese Salad, Milk, Butterscotch Tapioca.

Friday

Sliced Swiss Cheese Sandwich or Date and Nut Sandwich, Chopped Celery, Apple, Raisin Salad, Milk, Chocolate Pudding with Wafers.

More than 500 gifts were given The University of Michigan Historical Collections last year.

As the Bells Toll

The tolling of the bells which signifies the opening of another school year on Thursday will stir up mixed emotions among the more than 10,000 young people enrolled in the Pointe's public school system, to say nothing of the older generations involved.

There will be the starry-eyed and the teary-eyed among the tiniest tots who are just starting kindergarten as they take this first important step in the art of growing up. There will also be lumps in the throats of many a parent as they consign their darlings for the first time to the care of a teacher, thus breaking the home-ties. There will also be many a mother who will breathe a deep sigh of relief as the youngsters go back on regular schedules that will keep them out from underfoot for a large portion of five days each week.

Among the pupils themselves there will be many who welcome the return to classes and the continuation of their education. There will be those to whom book learning is a bore and a nuisance which must be tolerated and gotten over with as quickly as possible. And there will be those for whom the extra-curricular activities and social contacts are far more important than the three Rs, or literature and science.

Pointers can take great pride in the fact that no matter what the proclivities of the youngsters are, they, as tax-paying residents have provided their children with as fine educational opportunities as exist anywhere. There have been those who have grumbled at bond issues and voted against new buildings and swimming pools and gymnasiums, but with the physical plant of the system now practically completed, it is doubtful if there are many citizens who do not share this pride. The opening of the beautiful new Samuel Brownell Junior High School has been hailed as the final step in construction as far as entire new buildings are concerned. It may be that additions will have to be made to one or two of the existing structures, such as the Ferry School, but the school authorities are of the belief that this is all that might be required to take care of all foreseeable needs in the system.

The Pointe can be extremely grateful also that the system has been in such capable hands for so long. This includes both the school boards and the staffs under whose guidance the local system has come to be recognized as one of the nation's finest. Whenever the need arises for a new teacher or administrator, competition is keen to get the Pointe assignment. The records made year after year by students who go from here to colleges and universities all over the country, are proof that anyone who is willing to take advantage of the opportunities offered, can be assured of the finest of elementary and secondary educations in Pointe schools.

As the pupils, teachers and administrators go back to work for another year, they should have the blessing of all the residents and any cooperation that can be given them.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

In regard to the article "Farms Police Chief to Retire," in the August 21 issue, I found prejudice and bias on the part of the Farms council's decision.

The Farms council should have been proud to extend Chief Hoyt's petition for an extension of service. After serving the Grosse Pointe public for 30 years, he certainly deserves all of that.

Even without sufficient reason, it should have been an honor for the council to approve Chief Hoyt's request.

"Wake up Farms council, and manifest some courtesy, as Chief Walter R. Hoyt HAS done to the residents of Grosse Pointe.

Native Grosse Pointer.

Police Ticket Hit-Run Driver

Kenneth L. Clark, 64, of 8100 E. Jefferson, Detroit, was ticketed by Farms police on Monday, August 25, for leaving the scene of an accident.

Clark was driving south on Kerby, according to a police report, when he ran into the rear of a car parked at the curb in front of number 407, belonging to Frank A. Annetta of 120 W. Golden Gate, Detroit.

A cruising scout car policeman who witnessed the accident, arrested Clark at Kerby and Kercheval, when the errant driver failed to stop.

Damage to Clark's car was estimated at about $50. Damage to the rear bumper of the other car was about $10.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor.

"I believe the most stirring moment in the experience of a parent comes on the day he leaves the child in school for the first time," writes Harry Golden in his recent book, "Only in America." "I remember leaving one of mine there," says Mr. Golden, "all starched up with a look of bewilderment on his face such as I never want to witness again. I held his little hand and got him registered. As we walked through the yard and corridors of the school, he never took his eyes off me, and never said a word. Then came the moment to put him in a line and leave him. I tried to be nonchalant as I walked away . . . There was no law that forced me to keep watching him. I turned my back and started out slowly, and then I practically ran out the door. You have to make a break!"

Since Mr. Golden is no longer a young man, all this happened no doubt before the advent of modern psychology to ease the way out of difficult situations. However, despite Gesell, Spock et al, many parents, the country over, in this first week of September, will experience emotions similar to those of Harry Golden. "You have to make a break"—and the chances are it is just as difficult in 1958 as it was some forty years ago.

We approached "Only in America" with something less than enthusiasm, thinking to read a sampling here and there, and we found ourselves reading on and on with both interest and delight. Harry Golden was born in New York's East Side of immigrant parents. For 15 years he has been editing the Carolina Israelite, a newspaper which he writes entirely himself, and been publishing monthly from Charlotte North Carolina. In this personal journal he puts to use the results of almost 45 years of uninterrupted reading. In his introduction he explains that the paper is printed entirely in English, and that more than half its subscribers are non-Jews. The publisher points out that Harry Golden's fans range from housewives to scientists in outer space, and include such notables as Thomas Dewey, William Faulkner, Adlai Stevenson, Earl Warren and Carl Sandburg.

"I print no 'news,'" says Mr. Golden, "no personals, socials or press releases, and my last obituary was on the assassination of Julius Caesar in 44 B. C."

Carl Sandburg at his own request, has written a foreword for the book. "Whatever is human interests Harry Golden," comments Mr. Sandburg. "Honest men, crooks, knuckleheads, particularly anybody out of the ordinary if even a half-wit, any of them is in his line. He writes about them. He drops the sheets of writing in a barrel. Comes the time of the month to get out his paper, he digs itno the barrel and finds copy. As you go along in this book or in copies of his paper, you may be saying, 'That fellow doesn't miss anything—he has ears to hear and a pencil to write it down.'"

It is difficult to say what it is about these unrelated bits of writing some short, some long, about great people and small, that has so much appeal. The author has the ability to preach without appearing to do so, and without platitudes. There is a flavor of Bill Nye, Mark Twain, and occasionally perhaps of Will Rogers in the writings. This is America at its grass roots, and it would be difficult to read this book and retain a trace of anti-semitism.

Publishers' Weekly reports that the first printing of Golden's book sold out by publication, July 18. A fourth printing came off the press early in August, making some 60,000 copies in print, and it appeared on the New York Times Best Seller list, August 3rd.

Adlai Stevenson says of it, "Harry Golden could only happen in America! This heavy thinker with a light heart is one of America's secret weapons, and I commend this book, "Only in America" to all who seek light and joy."

VANDALISM REPORTED

Edwin H. Chamberlain of 430 Lakeland, told Farms police on Friday, August 29, that while they were attending a movie at the Punch and Judy Theater with his wife, the family car was parked in the Gabriel Richard School playground. On returning, they found two left side tires flat, the side view mirror broken and the front seat slashed in a number of places. The glove compartment was ransacked and the contents scattered. Nothing was taken, it was said.

Watch for Kids As Schools Open

More than 300,000 Detroit youngsters are returning to school this week, their lives in the hands of the automobile drivers who travel the city's streets daily.

"It is tragic that the children's return to school is generally marred by fatal and injury accidents," said Lieutenant Reynlear Staats, commanding officer of the Detroit police officers who work on child safety.

"Many of the children will be going to school for the first time and may become confused and excited and dash into the street," he said. "Others who have gone to school only for a year or two and are still young children may forget the safety lessons they have learned."

Staats offered some cogent advice for drivers, for parents and for the children themselves.

"If you are driving in a school area, be particularly cautious," he pointed out. "That is where the children will be congregated and where the greatest danger will lie. Whenever you see a group of children on the sidewalk or near the street, look on them as a danger signal and expect one of them to dart into the path of your car. If you are driving too fast, you may not be able to stop in time.

"Parents should take their kindergarten children to school the first few days, instructing them as to what route to use to school and reminding them that they must stop at the curb before crossing the street," he continued. "Parents should also remind their older children of these same instructions.

HE MAY BE AN INDUSTRIAL PROSPECT

The visitor to your town or to the lakes and streams of your area is an important person.

But he may be more important than you think; more important, that is, to the future of your town. He may be the executive of a manufacturing company which could consider your town as the location for its expansion, now or in the future.

Talk to him about your town as a good place for industry to locate and prosper. At the slightest indication that he might someday be an industrial prospect, or that he could lead your town to one, call in a representative of your industrial development committee for detailed discussion with him. A town on its toes always looks good.

Almost always you'll find that a company's interest in a town began when somebody visited the town and liked it.

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

Two British teen-agers are having a whirl in the Pointe this month before they fly back to their respective schools late in September.

The visitors are David and Janet Easton, children of Sir James and Lady Easton, Great Britain's Consul and his wife, who took up their Detroit post a few months ago.

The Eastons moved into the consular quarters in Lakeland avenue straight from a post in London while their children were in school in England. David is at Stowe in Buckinghamshire and Janet at St. Margaret's in Hartfordshire and they will return for the fall term, hoping to renew Pointe friendships at Christmas.

While they are here they have been swimming at the A. D. Wilkinson's Lakeshore road pool almost daily, water skiing and playing tennis at the Little Club. The Frank Donovans entertained for the two British youngsters and many parties have introduced them to the local teen aged set.

The Eastons will be escorting the children to Canada next week-end but just before they fly to England the young Eastons hope to return all the hospitality they have received with a party in the Lakeland avenue home.

Upon their flight home the decorators and carpenters will take over refurbishing the consul's quarters.

This week-end she will go to the Chagrin Valley Horse Show outside Cleveland to compete in an all amateur show. With her will go her parents, the Alfred R. Glancys, Jr., of Lakeshore road. They will come home in time for Krys to prepare for GPUS classes.

VIRGINIA CLAIRE MONTAGUE (Jinx) McLUCAS has been spending the summer in Hawaii with her mother. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Edward H. K. Baldwin, of Ulupalakua, Maui, Hawaii, and the late Mr. Baldwin.

Miss McLucas attended Grosse Pointe Country Day School and Foxcroft School in Middleboro, Va. Upon graduation from Foxcroft she finished her education with a year's study in Europe. She was presented to society in June, 1957 at a ball at the Country Club.

Her fiance, following a family tradition, studied at Thatcher School and was graduated from Yale University, where he was a member of Fence Club and Book and Snake Club and captain of the polo team.

The couple plan to be married December 6 in Christ Church. Following a wedding trip to Mexico they will make their home in Maui where Mr. Baldwin is manager of his family's ranch.

All through the summer Sigma Gamma members have been working for their first Fair, scheduled for Saturday, September 13 from 1 to 4 o'clock at the Alfred Glancy's of 735 Lakeshore road. The younger members organized the many booths and games while the older members were enlisted to knit mittens, baby garments, and sew aprons and put together fancy stuffed animals.

Everyone, young and old alike, is invited to take a whirl on the merry-go-round or join the lawn races. The baked goods will be particularly yummy, of the French gourmet variety. White elephants will be sold in the Paris Flee Market, while stuffed animals will be straight from African jungles.

With an eye to the future, those who attend will be able to secure beautiful Christmas stockings and candles, plus fancy angel Christmas cards. A Chinese auction, music, balloons and clowns will add to the color of this big event.

Nancy Jane Bruneau Weds Mr. Roberts

Pair Speak Vows Saturday in Our Lady Star of the Sea With a Reception Following at the Whittier; After Trip East Will Live in Ann Arbor

A reception at the Whittier followed the Saturday wedding of Nancy Jane Bruneau, daughter of the Richard D. Bruneaus, of Champine place, and Richard Henry Roberts in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The bride wore a taffeta gown made with Swiss lace and seed pearls appliqued on the bodice and a chapel train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Planned Parenthood League Plans Drive

Many Pointers Serve on Committee to Raise Goal of $36,000; Kickoff Luncheon Set for September 10 At Veterans Memorial

The Detroit League for Planned Parenthood will open its 1958 campaign for funds with a luncheon September 10 at noon in the River Room of the Veterans Memorial. The luncheon speaker will be Mel J. Ravitz, director of community organization for the Detroit City Plan Commission. His topic will be "Planning for People in Today's World".

Besides his post with the Plan Commission, Dr. Ratitz fills many other important positions in the life of our city. He holds a doctor's degree in sociology from the University of Michigan and is an assistant professor in sociology at Wayne State University.

He is also director of the WSU summer workshop in human relations (1957 and 1958); chairman of the Citizens' Relocation Advisory Committee of the Detroit Housing Commission; a member of the School Advisory Committee, west district; a member of the Planning Committee for Services to Groups and the Adult Education Committee of United Community Services; a member of the executive boards of the Co-ordinating Council on Human Relations and the Federation of Community Councils; member of the community services committee of the Detroit Urban League; member of the community relations committee of the Detroit Jewish Community Council; member of the Michigan regional advisory board of the Anti-Defamation League; and a member of the research committee of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

He is married and has four children.

This year's campaign goal is $36,000. From this must come support for the Planned Parenthood education program and for the four clinics maintained by Planned Parenthood. These clinics are available to any married woman in the area, and fees are based upon ability to pay. With so many Detroiters unemployed in past months, a great deal of clinic service has been given free.

Honorary campaign chairman is Emory M. Ford. Co-chairmen of solicitation are Mrs. John W. Coe and Mrs. Richard B. Marsh. Their corps of captains includes Mrs. Theodore R. Buttrick, Jr., Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., Mrs. John L. Kenower, Mrs. Maurice Klein, Mrs. Arman Simone, Mrs. Victor A. Rapport, Mrs. Yates G. Smith, Mrs. William C. Tost, Mrs. Ross T. Wilkins, Jd., and Mrs. Thatcher W. Rea, Jr. Each captain will, in turn, enlist a team of helpers for person-to-person campaign solicitation.

The Detroit League for Planned Parenthood is a recognized well-established health agency, affiliated with the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, and endorsed by the Detroit Council of Churches. It offers clinic service and information on birth control to any married woman who seeks such assistance. It does not aim to impose any system of family planning upon persons who do not desire it, or who are opposed to it on religious grounds.

Facts about Permanent Waving
BERNARD hair stylists

We feel that a toast is in order to the manufacturers of permanent waving. Their untiring efforts, research and development have today brought the methods of permanent waving to a real science.
Today we no longer tolerate such results as dried hair, frizziness, fuzz and straw-like type. These results are the fault of the beautician and not of whatever the method. That beautician has failed to take advantage of expert scientific post graduate training available today. The essential knowledge of hair, its elasticity, porosity, control of chemicals, the know how and the flexibility of the hands of the beautician is a rare ability found only in a very few establishments. We proudly boast of this rare distinction.

Molthrop of Toledo, Ohio, executive secretary of the Committee on State Sovereignty, will be the guest speaker at the September meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe which will be held at 12:30 on Thursday, September 11, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. His subject will be right to work laws, and how they operate in the 18 states which have adopted them.

A native of Chicago, Mr. Molthrop attended Knox College, University of Chicago, John B. Stetson University and DePaul University. He has been employed by the Unemployment Compensation Division of Illinois, the U. S. Steel Corporation, U. S. Gypsum, the Richardson Company, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Anderson Company, American Fair Trade Council, National Patent Council, Northwestern Ohio Industrial Council and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Mr. Molthrop has a national reputation in presenting the view of industry on the guaranteed annual wage and right-to-work and has debated the subject with many union spokesmen. He has written articles used by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Bureau of National Affairs, Business Week, Reader's Digest and Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Molthrop possesses considerable experience in the practical politics of right-to-work legislation. In 1956 he served as managing director of the Nevada Citizens Committee, traveled 25,000 miles, made 125 speeches, visited 20,000 voters personally and 5,000 by phone, to defeat the AFL-CIO on the two right-to-work questions on the ballot.

Mr. Molthrop will speak in the library following luncheon in the main reception room. Luncheon reservations must be made by noon of Tuesday, September 9, by telephoning Mrs. Fred Kaess at TU 4-5373 or Mrs. Henry Bodman at TU 1-6511. All Republican women are invited.

Center Starting Dance Classes

The very popular ballroom dancing classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will begin again Friday, September 12, for young people in grades five through nine.

Young teens in these enjoyable groups learn far more than just the basic and current dance steps. They learn to be at home with their contemporaries, develop a natural social sense, and practice manners that are more than surface politeness and are essential to good behavior.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson, as for the past several seasons, will be the instructors for the Center's classes. The Memorial and Grosse Pointe are very fortunate to have the services of the Wilsons. Known as "Aunt Marge" and "Uncle Bill" to thousands of the young Grosse Pointe set, they make every class fun and a very special event. The Wilsons are cruise directors and world travellers during the rest of the year and always have something new up their sleeves to spark their classes.

Center ballroom classes are limited to 50 each and advance enrollment confirmed by check is advised to prevent disappointment. Students are enrolled for fifteen weeks for $15. The term ends with a gala orchestra party for the combined classes.

Ballroom classes of one hour each are scheduled at the Center as follows:

Fridays (beginning September 12):
4:30 for grades 5 and 6
5:30 for grades 5 and 6

HOUSEHOLD HINT

How many fresh peaches can you use? Let this help you decide . . . 2 pounds of peaches will make four half-cup servings sliced, and one 8-inch (square) upside-down cake, or one 8- to 9-inch pie. 1 bushel of peaches will make . . . 32 to 48 pints, canned or frozen. The number of pints you get depends on: quality and size of peaches, whether peaches are halved, or sliced, how closely you pack the peaches in the containers.

Only way to get along with some people is to get along without them.

Mrs. Michael Sullivan

Before her August 23 marriage to the son of Mrs. Michael Sullivan of Audubon road and the late Dr. Sullivan, the bride was DIANE HOWELL, daughter of the Edward Howells of Balfour road.

* * *

The Rev. Richard Preston, O.S.T., read a Papal blessing Saturday, August 23, at the nuptial mass at which Diane Howell and Michael Sullivan were married.

The pair, whose parents are the Edward Howells of Balfour road and Mrs. Michael Sullivan of Audubon road and the late Dr. Sullivan, exchanged vows in St. Clare of Montefalco Church.

The bride was attired in white embroidered antique silk with seed pearl coronet holding her veil of illusion. She carried an orchid atop her white prayerbook.

Joanne Sipsock, honor maid, and bridesmaids Lorry Vardon and Anna Mae Feist wore identical Ming blue and white frocks. They carried white sweetheart roses and shattered carnations.

Dr. Thomas Sullivan flew from Los Angeles to be best man for his brother. Ushers were Dick Howell, brother of the bride, Tom Madigan, Michael Luberto and Benedict Leone.

Mrs. Howell chose turquoise embroidered organza and a cymbidium orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Sullivan donned a chantilly lace sheath of champagne and gold and pinned an orchid to her purse.

For traveling to Mackinac Island, the bride changed to a plaid sheath dress with beige accessories. They will reside in Wade avenue.

More than 750 students of The University of Michigan were recommended for teaching certificates in 1956-57.

Center to Hold Teens' Dance

The Youth Council of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will hold the first back to school post-vacation dance of the season for public, private and parochial students in grades 9-12, Saturday evening, September 13, at 9 o'clock.

The dance will be held both indoors and on the terrace by the lake, weather permitting. Al Ross' orchestra will provide the music for the affair which will feature student entertainment and light refreshments.

The dance is open to couples only. The dress is informal, but coats and ties are requested for the boys and dresses and heels for the girls.

Boys and girls in any of the Pointes' secondary schools are cordially invited to join the Center's Youth Council which meets every other week on Sunday. It is a wonderful way for young people in different schools throughout the community to get to know each other and work together.

Besides the parties and recreation the Council plans for the Teens and the Pointes, the Youth Council assists with community projects such as visits of the bloodmobile, the Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony, welfare work throughout greater Detroit and Center sponsored special programs for citizens of all ages.

Dr. von Braun Tells Benefit Talk Topic

Will Speak on "The Three S's - Science, Study and Selection"" on September 22 at Masonic Temple For Seven Eastern Women's Colleges, Inc.

The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges, Inc., long familiar with the three R's of learning, are intrigued to learn that Dr. Wernher von Braun has chosen for his talk at Masonic Temple the evening of September 22 the subject "The Three S's — Science, Study and Selection."

Speaking under the auspices of the college alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley, the proceeds from the world-famed rocket expert's performance at 8:30 o'clock will be used for general educational purposes and to provide scholarships to send Michigan girls to the seven colleges.

Dr. von Braun will discuss present day science, its importance to the country if we are to advance as a nation into interplanetary travel. The study and selection of students and personnel in the sciences will be covered, as well as problems of the space age.

Von Braun has been engaged in rocketry since the age of 15 when he first read about the stars and outer space. At 46, he directs the activities of about 3,500 engineers, technicians and researchers at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Alabama, and as development chief of the U. S. Army Ballistic Missile Agency his division has been responsible for developing the JUPITER C Missile and the launching of the Free World's first scientific earth satellite EXPLORER I.

Along with his tireless devotion to the task of perfecting better guided missiles and membership in numerous scientific organizations, the energetic von Braun serves on the editorial boards of several technical publications and has even found time in the past four years to become an accomplished skin-diver and to help teach his beautiful wife, Maria, to fly a plane.

Tickets for the lecture are $2.00 and are on sale at Grinnell's (Detroit and Birmingham) and at the Masonic box office. They can also be obtained by writing to Mrs. Walter Crow, 784 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe 30.

Mrs. E. Osborne Coates, Jr. is general chairman of this year's committee and Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr. is vice-chairman. A Grosse Pointe committee member not previously announced is Mrs. Paul Witzel, 813 Harcourt road, who is the Wellesley College ticket chairman.

Crosby To Talk At Town Hall

John Crosby, witty television critic, has been booked to appear at Detroit Town Hall in Ford Auditorium this season as one of the 12 attractions to be offered by the 30 year old forum.

Crosby, speaking on the subject, "What Ails Television?" will replace Dr. Edward Stieglitz, expert on geriatrics, who passed away this summer.

The new series presenting programs on alternate Wednesdays at 11 p.m., will open October 8 with Vincent Price, famous actor, talking on his favorite subject, "Appreciation of Great Art."

Another name added recently to the season's list is Martin Caidin, space travel authority. He will lecture, January 21, on "War for the Moon."

Other speakers and their subjects on the fall and winter agenda are: October 22, Joyce Brothers, "Ten Keys to a Successful Memory;" November 5, Dr. Bergen Evans, "On Being Funny;" November 19, Eddy Gilmore, "Report from Europe and the Middle East;" January 7, Judge Harold Kessinger, "The Sunny Side of Main Street;" February 18, Eddie Dowling in lecture recital, "From Shakespeare to Saroyan;" March 4, John Crosby; March 17, Curtis Nagel with color movies of Italy.

By popular demand, Varel and Bailly with Les Chanteurs de Paris will return for a repeat performance, February 4, with an entirely new program. Also listed under "entertainment" is J. Fred Coots, popular song writer with a novelty program at the piano, December 3.

A complete Town Hall program will be furnished upon request at Detroit Town Hall, 1613 Kales Bldg., Detroit, 26, WO. 3-5617.

The man who wakes up and finds himself famous can never be accused of day dreaming.

Young Bowlers Set for Season

The Third District Veterans of Foreign Wars' Small Fry Bowling League will bowl their first game of the '58-'59 season the first Saturday in October.

There are 25 VFW Posts within the Third District and a part of the teams, if not all, will be sponsored by the VFW Post.

This is the fifth year for the Small Fry League. It was started five years ago as a mixed league with just six all-boy teams. It grew to 14 teams in 1956 and last year there were 18 all-boy teams. It was under the sponsorship of Alger Post 995 VFW of Grosse Pointe with VFW Posts, local organizations and businessmen sponsoring the individual teams. Every active member receives a bowling shirt.

Howard Wood, Past Commander of Alger Post 995 and present Third District Senior Vice Commander, has worked with the League since its beginning and has managed the League for the past two years with Howard Bendure of the Hoffman Post 116, serving in the capacity of coach.

This year's registration fee will be $1.00 plus a $1.00 weekly to bowl. This money is used for prizes throughout the season. Additional team and individual trophies and prizes are presented at the bowling party in April.

Team captains are picked by the manager and coach as to their ability to keep score and lead their teams.

If your boy would like to bowl, see that he is present at the Grosse Pointe Woods Bowling Alley, Fleetwood and Mack at 8:30 a.m., Saturday, October 4.

Grosse Pointe students from a good share of the many fine universities across the country are expected to attend the affair, which will get under way at 9 o'clock in the evening and draw to a close around midnight.

Decorations for the "College Hitch-Hike" are being handled by Lois Rupp, June, '58, while Sally Whittingham and Sue McKee, graduates of the class of January, '58, are planning the refreshments.

CARGO SHIP OF TOMORROW—Although it looks like something taken from a story by Jules Verne, the sleek craft shown in this artist's sketch may soon take shape in reality. It's an underwater cargo vessel and the Aerojet-General Corp. is under contract to the U.S. Maritime Administration to explore the commercial feasibility of such a craft. The submerged torpedo-shaped body would carry freight and cargo. The thin strut supports a gondola-shaped structure which would house the crew and navigation equipment. The propulsion jet exhaust in shown together with the circumferential intake. The eventual use of nuclear power is planned, thereby permitting the vessel to run completely submerged.

SURFS 'EM RIGHT—Members of what might be termed the "wet" generation, Parisian Existentialists prance in the surf at Sorrento, Italy. As the band plays on, dancers go through the intricate steps of a mambo whose chief characteristic is that it must be danced in the sea.

DEAD END FOR TWO WORLDS—This shattered bridge at Hof, West Germany, stands as a symbol of the division of Germany. Once a vital bridge over the Salle River, it was dynamited by German troops in the last days of World War II. Communist East Germany (in background) has blocked its reconstruction.

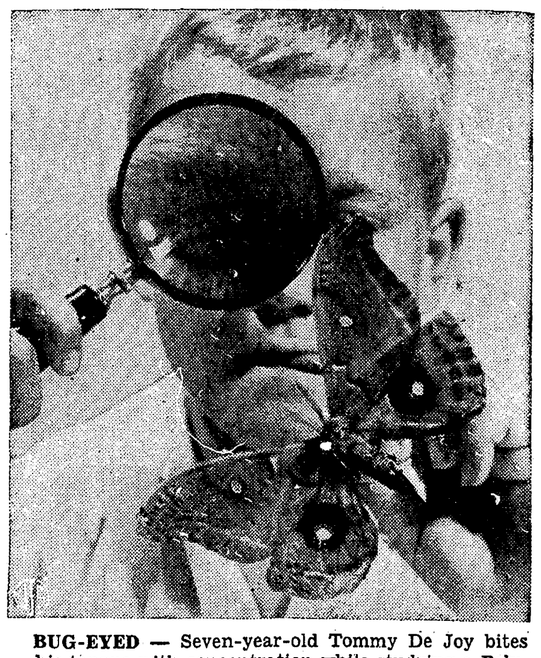

THEIR ECONOMY IS ROCKY—The people on the South Sea Island of Yap may not have a hard-money policy, but probably have the hardest money in the world. According to the National Geographic Society, Yapmen have and use U.S. currency, but their real treasure is a collection of stone money. This young man is leaning up against a two-ton piece of change, while standing on other, smaller pieces of money. The stone collection is a little like the gold in Fort Knox; the people don't spend it, they just have it. One advantage to this kind of money is that it is hard to steal; not every thief is able to cart away a two-ton hunk of rock.

SETTING SAIL—Just like Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer, these kids in Frankfurt, Germany, go sailing on a raft in a flooded gravel pit. Their boat is an air mattress, and the sail works fine until the human mast gets tired.

RABBIT HOUND — Nuschi, five-year-old long-haired dachshund, hovers over three of her five adopted rabbits in Dusseldorf, West Germany. She took over the rabbits, who here munch on lettuce, when they were found abandoned.

BUG-EYED — Seven-year-old Tommy De Joy bites his tongue with concentration while studying a Polyphemus Moth with a five-inch wingspread at the Tackapausha Museum in Massapequa, Long Island, N.Y.

PRIDEFUL PUFFER — Mrs. Louisa Jackson celebrates her 106th birthday by smoking her pipe at Thornton, Colo. Arteriosclerosis and complications forced the amputation of one of Mrs. Jackson's legs when she was 99; the other leg was amputated when she was 102.

STRIPES HAVE IT — Youngsters can look as up-to-date as mother in this striped chemise designed in a fabric woven of acetate. The crisp look is heightened by unpressed pleats that fall gently away from the hipline.

PANEL SHOW — Secret panels add an air of mystery to Ben Reig's black silk crepe dress for fall. Attached at the neckline, the twin panels fall loosely over a slim dress with three - quarter - length sleeves.

SKIING IS BELIEVING — Twirling her beads with gay abandon, aquamaid Joan Gay Binette steps out in spirited style at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The sight of this chemise-clad cutie on skis is enough to make any flapper of the '20s flip.

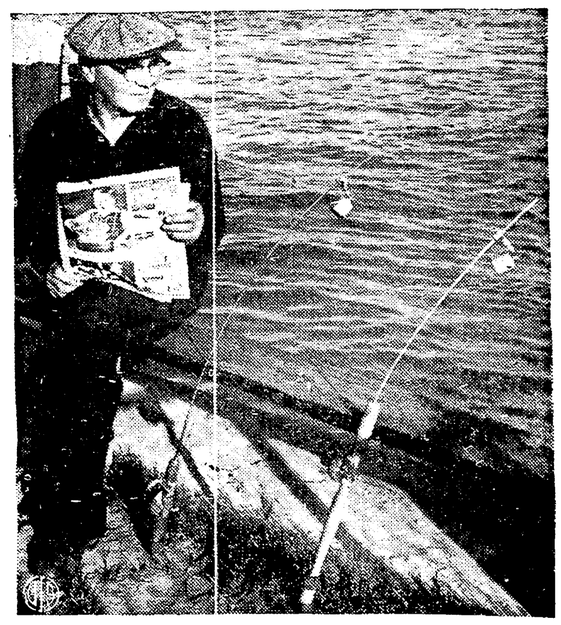

SITTING PRETTY—Lovely Carol Christensen, Miss New York Summer Festival, waves as she leaves La Guardia Airport in New York for Detroit, where she will do modeling.

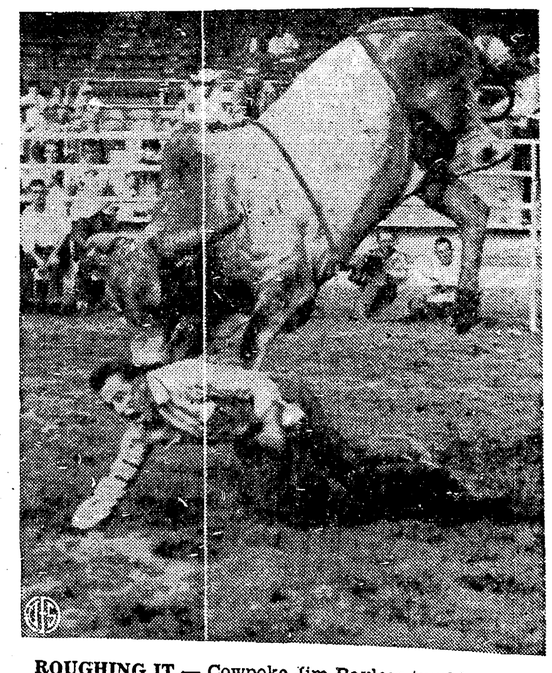

DEATH WATCH — Macabre is the word for this strange piece of sculpture, fashioned from gnarled tree roots, tree limbs and the like in Frankfurt, Germany. Created by 53-year-old locksmith Karl Bacher, it depicts the grinning skull of death watching over the "Big Four" statesmen. The political figures represented, from top to bottom, are: President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Macmillan, French Premier De Gaulle, and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

A COUPLE OF DOLLS — Wearing identical expressions and ponytails, Toni Kay Brougher, 5, and her rag doll Annie stop off at a street fountain in Great Bend, Kan. While Toni quenches her thirst, Annie can't seem to wait for her turn at the water.

HOOK, LINE AND TINKLER — Fisherman Ben Evanaff of Detroit has equipped his two poles with bells that ring whenever he gets a bite. Evanaff then pulls in the catch, drops it back into the water on a chain fastened to the rod holder, and goes back to reading.

ROUGHING IT — Cowpoke Jim Bayless tumbles from a raging Brahma bull at the 18th annual Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo in Colorado Springs, Colo. Agile rodeo clowns kept the angry bull from goring Bayless after he bit the dust.

Tomatoes ripen best at temperatures of 60 to 75 degrees F., according to Detroit Consumer Marketing Information agent. If the thermometer reads 85 degrees F. or higher, they will turn yellow instead of red. You'll get the best results if you ripen them at room temperature in a place where they'll get plenty of light.

Tomatoes should be mature—full size and ready to turn color—to ripen successfully. This is also the stage in which they offer the most vitamin value. You'l find mature green or partially-ripe, sound tomatoes better buys than red ones that are overripe, soft or bruised.

SIXTY-TWO PERSONS ESCAPED alive when a Northwest Airlines DC-6B crashed into a field near Minneapolis in the misty pre-dawn gloom and burst into flames. All escaped quickly through gaps broken into the fuselage and through the emergency exit. Flames engulfed the plane minutes after everyone ran to a safe distance.

Forty-nine persons, including Rep. Don Magnuson (D., Wash.) and four crew members were given hospital care. Three of the passengers were in serious condition. The four-engine plane was enroute from Washington to Portland, Ore. There were eight Michigan residents aboard.

THE SOVIET UNION REVOKED its ban on atomic tests, but agreed to meet with the United States and Britain in Geneva on October 31 for talks on ending further nuclear testing, reliable sources disclosed. Word of the Soviet action was made personally by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, shortly after an announcement from Washington which stated that the U. S. would conduct 10 more atomic-test explosions in Nevada before October 31. Britain is still conducting her tests in the Pacific. Khrushchev said that the United States and Britain were "plainly utilizing the ending of nuclear tests by the Soviet Union in order to gain military advantages for themselves." He said his country will not let its security interests be prejudiced by such actions.

SEVEN PERSONS WERE ARRESTED in a series of raids by Michigan State Police which smashed a king-sized gambling ring in Pontiac. Local police and Oakland County authorities joined in the crackdown. The seven people arrested included the deputy city treasurer of Pontiac, LaRue Gullett, 41, and his wife, Gladys. Alleged kingpin of the ring is Basil Burke, who had powerful help from Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley in winning a parole in 1952 from Jackson prison.

The bookmakers operated under the noses of local police, it was said, with headquarters in a hotel three blocks from the Pontiac Police Headquarters. A coffee shop adjoining the hotel is a popular gathering place for Pontiac policemen. Chief Straley said he did not know of the raids until they had been made. The ring grossed more than $90,000 a month.

WEST GERMANY CONVICTED 10 former members of the Nazi "extermination" squads and sentenced them to from three to 15 years for the mass murder of 5,000 Lithuanian Jews in 1941. Judge Edmund Wentzel rejected the convicted men's pleas that they were acting on "superior orders."

The judge denounced Adolph Hitler as a murderer, also. He said there was no doubt that the order was simply a measure of extermination by the leaders of the state and that it had not the slightest legal basis, and that the defendants, at the time, were aware that the orders were illegal. Furthermore, the judge said, some of the defendants were proud of their work and had pictures of themselves taken the corpses of the slain Jews, and celebrated with money taken from the murdered people.

CARGO PLANES and a jet fighter squadron are flying in to buld up American air power in the Far East, following United States official concern that Red China's threat of an invasion of the Quemoy Islands in the Formosa Straits might involve America in the fighting.

Some authorities suggested that the Reds might pick the long Labor Day weekend as the best possible time to strike. United States and Nationalist Chinese strategists discussed the defense of Quemoy while Red mainland shore guns continued their relentless pounding of the Nationalist bastion, marking the eighth day of an artillery war across five miles of water. America is committed to help the Nationalists defend Formosa and the Pescadores Islands.

ICELAND, IN DEFIANCE of British gunboats, went ahead with plans to uphold her no fishing ban in waters 12 miles off its rocky shores. Icelanders were confident that there will be no shooting, as the ban went into effect. Somewhere at sea, more than 100 British trawlers, angling for the codfish in Iceland's waters, were approaching Iceland under the protection of an armed Royal Navy fishery protection squadron. The skippers of the trawlers have orders to offer passive resistance if they are approached by the Icelanders, and to ignore any attempt to interfere with their fishing. They were told to refuse to take in their nets if told to do so, and in no way facilitate any Icelandic boarding attempts.

AMERICAN FORCES will not be asked to immediately withdraw from Lebanon, American diplomats were informed by Lebanese President-elect Maj. Gen. Fuad Chehab. Cairo Radio has insisted that American Marines will be withdrawn from Beirut when Chehab assumes his duties as head of the Lebanese nation on September 23. The president-elect said no. The American officials, including Ambassador Robert McClintock, showed no concern over the comments of Cairo. They have been in frequent touch with Chehab since he was elected last month. They describe him as moderate, methodical and intent on securing his position before the troops leave. The U. S. officials said that Cairo was indulging in "wishful thinking" if it believed Chehab will yield to United Arab Republic pressure on the troop situation.

PONTIAC'S million-dollar-a-year horse betting racket was linked to the international Mafia - dominated gambling syndicate, according to State Police detectives. The tie-up was discovered in the race-result service possessed by the Pontiac racket leader, Basil Burke, an ex-convict.

At least five persons, including LaRue Gillett, deputy city treasurer of Pontiac, who was suspended from his duties when he was arrested at the city hall last Friday, were involved. Possible Federal prosecution of the five developed when it became known they had failed to purchase the required Federal gambling license stamps. Raphael I. Nixon, Detroit District Director of Internal Revenue, said that his department will conduct an investigation of the failure to buy the stamps and also check into income declarations from the million-dollar ring.

TINY ICELAND CHALLENGED British naval might at the stroke of midnight Sunday, when Iceland's 12-mile ocean boundary became official. The two countries, North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners, began a fantastic fishing fight, when Britain defied an Icelandic decree banning foreign trawlers from fishing within the 12-mile limit.

Three squadrons of British trawlers, protected by Royal Navy gunboats, were reported across the boundary line at midnight. Arrayed against this armada were six Icelandic coast guard vessels and two planes, all armed. The British defied the ban in the face of warnings the action might knock a strategic hole in NATO. Iceland imposed its ban on the claim that hundreds of foreign trawlers are working the waters near its shores, thereby ruining its fishing grounds, upon which the national economy depends.

RUSSIA WARNED the United States that if America aids the Nationalist Chinese against Red China, then she (Russia) will help Red China. This is believed to be the toughest and most specific challenge to the United States since the Far Eastern crisis began brewing over Formosa and China's off-shore islands. Pravda, official Soviet newspaper, warned that such a clash will likely spread to other areas, in other words, into a world war. The warning was linked to charges that the U. S. is plotting aggression against the Red China mainland. It made plain that any American interference in the "liberation" of Formosa and the islands will be regarded by Moscow as an interference in the internal affairs of the Chinese people.

THE SIX-MAN Little Rock School Board met in closed session Monday night and bowed to the United States Supreme Court by voting to set back to Sept. 15 the opening of Central High School, keystone of the South's battle against integration.

The problem faced by the board members resulted from the Supreme Court's action in delaying a decision on whether the school must continue a plan of gradual desegregation.

The justices ordered further argument in the case Sept. 11, after school board attorneys informed them that a bill sponsored in the special session of the Arkansas Legislature by Gov. Orval E. Faubus would put off the opening until Sept. 15.

A DEFECTIVE aerial bomb exploded in the Labor Day audience watching the "Rouge Days" aerial display at Great Lakes Athletic Field in River Rouge Monday night.

Nineteen persons were injured, according to the police report. Injuries were mostly from concussion and shock, with a few people burned.

Witnesses said the bomb, designed to explode twice in the air, parachuted down and exploded once. Failing to fire the second time, it dropped into the bleachers where part of the 8,000-person crowd was gathered, and exploded in its midst.

BRITISH FISHERMAN used axes and other weapons Tuesday to repel an Icelandic coast guard party that tried to board a British trawler inside the 12-mile fishing limit around the island of Reykjavik.

Earlier, other Icelandic coast guardsmen boarded another British trawler in the same area. Within hours, a British Royal Navy frigate in turn took the boarders off the trawler.

FOOD NEWS

You can't find a "better buy" at the meat counter than one pound of liver says the Detroit Consumer Marketing Information agent. You can eat the whole pound of meat—not a bit of bone or waste anywhere. You can't find more nutrition at the meat counter than in that pound of liver—protein, vitamins, minerals. You can choose different kinds of liver. With economy as guide, you'll choose pork liver, about 35 to 39 cents a pound. Beef liver comes higher, closer to 60 cents a pound. About a dollar and a half a pound is the price for calves liver—delicate in flavor, light in supply. Broil the calves liver and the baby beef liver. Braise with liquid the older beef liver and pork liver.

Advice is cheap—and it's usually appreciated in accordance with what it costs.

2,000 Years Old—But What Was It Used For?

(See Answer Below)

The large wood "toothbrush" is neither a toothbrush nor a backscratcher. It's the key to the massive teakwood Egyptian gate lock shown below from the famous Schlage antique lock collection.

Measuring 4" thick by 15" long, this lock was carved before the birth of Christ. Note below how the ancient key is inserted in the lock to depress the tumblers, thus releasing the catch.

Believe it or not, its principle is the same as that used in the beautifully styled modern lock shown here, created by Walter Schlage, inventor of the cylindrical lock which is installed, simply, by drilling two intersecting holes.

Union Workers Fail to Share

Approximately 17,000 eligible General Motors hourly rated employes will receive a one-cent upward adjustment in their cost-of-living allowance as the result of an increase in the nation's cost-of-living index.

Of this total, approximately 10,000 hourly rate employes are not represented by unions while the remaining 7,000 are represented by 11 unions which have reached agreement with General Motors for two-year extension of their collective bargaining agreements.

Some 250,000 employes represented by the UAW and IUE which have not reached agreement with General Motors on a new contract, will not receive the cost-of-living allowance. These unions had rejected an earlier offer of General Motors to extend then existing agreements and the GM wage formula for a two-year period. The wage formula provided for quarterly adjustments in cost-of-living allowances for hourly rated employes in line with changes in the Consumer Price Index of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The BLS Index for mid-July is 123.9 compared with 123.5 for mid-April, the date upon which the cost-of-living allowance for eligible hourly-rate employes during the last quarter was based.

Approximately 94,000 eligible salaried employes also will receive an equivalent increase in their quarterly cost-of-living allowance of $5. Thus, their total cost-of-living allowance for the three-month period will be $125.

Art Institute Gets Rare Gifts

On view now in the air-conditioned galleries of the Detroit Institute of Arts are numerous recent gifts, ranging from the 15th century before Christ to the present.

Probably most interesting is the painting "Hunting Party in the Courtyard of a Country House" by Ludolph de Jongh, painter of genre (daily life) scenes during the greatest era for that type of picture. Dutch, he worked in Rotterdam, The Netherlands. Dates (1616-1679).

"This picture further increases the value of our 17th century Dutch and Flemish collection and further illuminates the contributions of the Whitcomb and Scripps families through whom we have received many of our most famed works by old masters over more than half a century," said Dr. Edgar P. Richardson, Art Institute Director.

This painting is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. James Scripps Whitcomb.

A water color, "Queen Anne's Lace" by contemporary American artist Charles Burchfield, is the gift of John S. Newberry, Honorary Curator of Graphic Arts.

Several extremely ancient objects have been acquired: a bronze roe deer about four inches high, Greek Hellenistic period, about second century B.C., found in Southern France and purchased through the Sarah Bacon Hill Fund; a helmet and a pair of greaves (leg protectors) in bronze, Etruscan, from between the 6th and 15th centuries B.C., gift of the estate of the late Dr. Jacob Hirsch of New York City; a silver vase said to have been found in the Iron Gates area of the River Danube, gift of the William H. Murphy Fund; a scepter, fit for a king or a queen, of silver with a rock crystal knob, of Egyptian workmanship (Mameluke), last half of the 15th century A.D., gift of the Sarah Bacon Hill Fund; a small Korean waterpot, 14 to 15th century A.D., gift of George Tolbert.

Drivers Warned To Check Speed

More than 400 traffic safety posters, advising drivers to check their speed, are now up on street-side standards in Detroit and another 1,500 are being erected throughout Michigan in a campaign aimed at Detroit and Michigan's greatest traffic killer—too much speed.

Prepared by the Traffic Safety Association, the poster shows a picture of a Detroit Police Department motorcycle officers, Patrolman John F. Lilleeng, a seven-year-veteran of the department's Motor Traffic Bureau. For many years the picture used on similar posters was that of the recently-appointed Director of Traffic William Polkinghorn.

Over the years too much speed has been responsible for one-third of the fatal accidents in Detroit in which drivers were at fault. And in Michigan as a whole too much speed has caused as high as 47 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Recent figures developed by Detroit's Accident Prevention Bureau reveal that exceeding a safe speed or exceeding the posted limit leads all other accident causes, being responsible for one-fourth of all motor vehicle accidents.

"It should be emphasized also that speed is a secondary factor in many accidents listed under other primary causes," said Traffic Director Polkinghorn. "In fact, many traffic safety authorities hold that speed is a contributing factor in virtually every accident. And it certainly increases the severity of any accident."

Pointers Stage Parade At Little Harbor Club

Members of the Detroit Committee handled a special Michigan Water Wonderland parade recently at the Little Harbor Club, Harbor Springs, awarding prizes for the best decorated boats.

Judges included Frederick S. Ford Jr., Harry Howenstein, Addison Holton, Ernest Breech, Charles Hollerith, Sherman FitzSimons and Emmet E. Tracy.

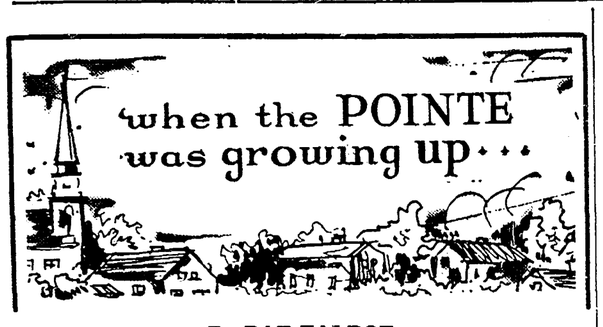

Senior committee members were Mrs. Lawrence Buhl, Mrs. William M. Joy, Mrs. Edward A. Skae and Mesdames Breech, FitzSimons, Howenstein, Ford and Tracy.

David FitzSimons, Denice and Tom Tracy, JoJo Joy, Ann and Judy Skae and Pat and Mike McGovern composed the junior committee.

Probably no family connected with this city has contributed more to its growth industrially and civically than the descendants of Captain John B. Ford, designer of two stacked Mississippi steamboats and the father of the first plate glass factory in this country.

Captain Ford was born in Danville, Ky., in 1811 and died in Creighton, Pa., in 1903. His descendants include Frederick Sloan Ford, John Battice Ford, Ford Ballantyne, Elmer David Speck, Emory Moran Ford, Mrs. Harry Norton Torrey, and Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman to name just a few.

The redoubtable old capitalist grew up on the Kentucky frontier, ran away from home (a vineyard farm) to Indiana at an early age because he found his apprentice job to a saddle and harness maker not to his taste.

He landed in Greenville, Indiana, took over a saddler's shop, learned reading, writing and ciphering from Mary Bower, five years his senior, whom he eventually married and with whom he lived until her death 66 years later.

At 30 years of age he sold out his shop for a store, a step up the social ladder. By now he was the father of Emory Low Ford, Edward Ford, Charles Ford, John Ford, Henry Ford, Harriet Ford, Mary Ford. Only two of these children survived to have issue, Edward and Emory.

John B. Ford was a man whose life began at 40 when he sold the store and bought a flour mill. He was on his way to greatness. By 1854 he had $40,000 and a reputation as a successful business man. He moved to New Albany and drifted into the iron and foundry business. From there it was just a step to shipbuilding to carry his products up and down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

General Grant crossed the river at Vicksburg during the Civil War in a Ford-built boat. In 1869 seeing the ravaged South and the eventual decline in shipping along the river Capt. Ford sold out for $150,000. His son, Emory L., graduated from college, began a small glass business near New Albany and as his father saw his wealth slipping away he moved his desk to his son's office.

He soon saw that plate glass was not manufactured in this country and brought some English workers over here to begin production, At 70 his money was gone and he was forced to begin again. By 80 he was a millionaire and the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company was a big concern. His was the first sheet of plate glass manufactured in America.

But the Captain, even at 80, had an eye to the future. This brought him to Wyandotte where on the river shore he found huge salt deposits and persuaded his son Edward to open a chemical factory. Thus the Fords came to Detroit, to found a huge industry, to build mansions along Grosse Pointe's lakefront and to claim the prominent role in society and civic affairs in which their descendants continue today.

(Editorial note: Much of this information came from "Salt of the Earth" by Arthur Pound, published in 1940 on the 50th Anniversary of the Michigan Alkali Company.)

Hula hoops are the new craze for the young set and quite a sight they are swiveling the gaily colored plastic hoops. Mary and Julie Kirby have perfected the art and can keep the hoops going for ten or 15 minutes at a stretch but the sisters modestly admit that several of their neighbors on Handy road have hula hooped for an hour. Could this replace Frisbee?

Pointer of Interest

MRS. DAN LEE JOHNSON, OF MORAN ROAD

—Picture by Fred Runnells

By Patricia Talbot

When the Junior League was searching for a chairman to head the annual fashion show they looked for a young woman of good taste, natural style sense and efficient executive ability. In Mrs. Dan L. Johnson they found the answer.

Mrs. Johnson has had quite a career in Junior League, serving as corresponding secretary, second vice-president, magazine and placement chairman. All in all, Mrs. J. has served seven years on the Junior League board showing her devotion to this community effort.

The Junior League was founded in 1914 to foster interest among its members in the social, economic, educational, cultural and civic conditions of the community. It is a training school for young women to become community leaders and board members of civic and social agencies.

Fashion Show Dates

Mrs. Johnson, who is coordinating all the details for the annual fashion show which will be held September 16 and 17 at 2:30 o'clock in the J. L. Hudson Auditorium, is typical of modern League members.

She runs her charming Colonial home with great efficiency, supervises the school work of Danny, 13, and Chrissie, nine, entertains with a flair, and does more than her part toward improving her community.

Schoolhouse Chatelaine

The attractive, brunette Mrs. Johnson is equally at home in a stunning cocktail frock feting guests in her lovely Wedgwood blue antique furnished living room or playing tennis in smart Bermuda shorts. Tennis and golf are favorite sports and recently she has become a skier.

The Johnsons are one of the couples owning the famous remodeled school house near Gaylord which has attracted much attention. They ski there in the winter and last season had a Sun Valley vacation to perfect their skill with the salom.

All the minute details in planning, inviting patronnesses, selling tickets, liaison with Hudson's, connected with a Fashion Show as large as this annual League effort pass under Mrs. J.'s scrutiny. Over 6,500 invitations were mailed for the Show and members hope to sell 2,000 tickets. After the Labor Day hiatus many vacationing Leaguers will return to aid in the big push to put the ticket sale over the top.

Senior Center to Benefit

All money raised by the style parade will go to the League-sponsored Senior Center, in East Grand Boulevard. This recreational center for oldsters is the League's present pilot project for the community. All types of activity are offered by the Center—painting, needlework, cooking for fun, movies, library, gardening, wood working, ceramics, service guild, to name just a few.

League members assist the professional director in all this activity. The Center is just one in a long list of such projects, Pioneer House, League for the Handicapepd, Blind Cottage, sponsored by the League to bring these unrealized needs of citizens into the community spotlight.

When Mrs. Johnson finishes her arduous job of directing the Fashion Show she will take a breather and then plunge back into community work. She is a tireless worker for the Torch Drive and the Republican party, and this fall will be a dedicated member of the group designing Christmas decorations for the Christ Church Fair in November.

Knitting and Needlepoint

Mrs. Johnson's leisure time is well filled with constant knitting and needlepoint work. She is thinking about beginning an intricate eagle in needlepoint design to be framed for her upstairs hall. But all this is postponed till after the show which she hopes will net over $7,000, last year's profit from the fall style showing.

The trim and chic Mrs. J., is filing her reports and lists temporarily this week to shop for an exciting outfit in which to preside at the Fashion Show and tea.

She takes a dim view of the sack and rather favors the trapeze look, or shaped shaft as fashion experts call it this season. But any outfit she buys will have to serve many purposes for this stunning matron who could easily model couturier clothes herself if she weren't so busy with a host of family and community efforts.

Patrolman Jack Mast Takes Traffic Course

It was conducted by the School of Police Administration and Public Safety, the Highway Traffic Safety Center and Continuing Education Service at M. S. U.

POTATOES IN THE DOUBLE BOILER

Potatoes
Milk or cream
Sharp cheese

Peel and slice raw potatoes and place in the top of a double boiler. Season well and add milk or cream to cover. Add the sharp cheese, grated or cut into fine pieces. Cook until tender. This dish may be made early in the day and reheated at dinner time.

BARBECUE HINT

Broiler-fryer size chickens are a natural for charcoal broiling out-of-doors. Allow ½ chicken for adults and ¼ chicken for smaller children, say Michigan State University home economists. For best results select 1½ to 2½ pound ready-to-cook sizes. Split the bird in half lengthwise and place on grill with the bone side nearest, the hot coals. Seven to ten inches away from the coals is a good rule for slow cooking—plan about an hour. A slight twist on the drumstick will tell whether or noet the meat is done. If it resists turning it is not yet ready to eat. Turn and baste bird often with butter or sauce.

Goodwill Needs Old Clothing

If you have a dress or coat in your closet that you haven't worn in a year, chances are you never will wear it again.

This item appeared recently on the news wires advising women to clean their closets, not use them as a catch-all or a catch-moth room.

Harold H. McKinnon, executive secretary of Goodwill Industries of Detroit added to the story:

"When you get rid of it, be sure you don't just throw it away. This is waste.

"Remember instead that handicapped men and women at Goodwill take your dress or coat, clean it, repair it and resell it at a low price to someone who needs it.

"Your thoughtfulness in this matter will help Goodwill workers earn a living. It will help someone in a low income bracket or in the large unemployed group have necessary clothing.

"In difficult times, we realize how much we depend on one another. Goodwill Industries is the link between those who have and those who have not. A contribution of discards to Goodwill strengthens the hope and dignity of others. It does not destroy the inner man, as charity often does."
