BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60

BRAKES HATE HEAT!

Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy-terrific heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using fin-cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cost more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

Sanctioned Bird Slaughter

With the time rapidly approaching when it will again be necessary to spray our trees in the continuous fight against the dread Dutch Elm disease, we recall the campaign carried on last spring by the Grosse Pointe Garden Council, aimed at abolishing the use of DDT in this area. Considerable evidence was turned up which showed that an alarming number of birds were being killed by the widespread use of this insecticide.

As a result of this campaign the City of Grosse Pointe and the Farms eliminated the second foliage spraying which they had normally done in past years. The Park had previously decided that the one spraving was sufficient. The Woods and Shores went right ahead as usual and gave all the municipally-owned elms in their towns a second dousing with DDT.

A canvass of the various municipal offices now indicates that the fight waged by the Garden Council to protect our birds made little impression on Pointe officialdom. All of the five Pointes are preparing to once again use DDT for the spraying which will be done shortly.

During the arguments of last spring a great deal of testimony was offered that indicated that Methoxychlor would do just as good a job as DDT in fighting the Dutch Elm disease while eliminating much of the danger to the birds. One prominent Pointe landscape gardener, Cal Fleming, flatly announced that the evidence was sufficient to convince him and that he would not again use DDT on any of the work for which he contracted

About the only argument against Methoxychlor was that it cost slightly more than DDT. There were those who argued that the main part of the spraying costs were in labor and the added cost of the ingredient used would be slight. It seemed to us that the least the city councils could do before another spraying season came around would be to get bids on both DDT and Methoxychlor, but quite obviously they couldn't be bothered.

We're still on the side of the birds, which kill far more insects than any chemical ever invented. We hope we're not going to have another season of finding our grounds strewn with the bodies of feathered friends who have been needlessly killed. We think the Pointe solons have been very remiss in not carrying on a thorough study during the months which have passed since so many citizens expressed their concern over the situation. The residents were entitled to such a probe and should have been furnished with information regarding the findings.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

The Tuxis Club of Memorial Church has recently had two programs which centered on the problems raised for Christian gestions: faith by the hydrogen bomb. In the first, 170 young people, members of the Tuxis Club, were presented the pacifist position by the Rev. James Bristah, Executive Secretary of the Commission on Social Relations for the Methodist Church.

In the second, small discussion groups met in homes around Grosse Pointe to discuss the whole problem of hydrogen warfare. Each group formulated answers to three specific questions which are brought together in the following statement:-"What is the purpose of of war? War is usually the last stage of a long economic or political dispute, in which arbitration has lost out and in testing: Senators Pat McNamara which each party attempts to further its own aims, "What do you think should be the Christian attitude toward the use of the H-bomb?

Our discussion assumed that global war would mean the end of life as we know it. The majority of members think that pacifism is the ideal answer and that as Christians we should not use the H-Bomb. In line with this most of us think that the New Testament supports the pacifist position.

"Nevertheless the majority of To the Editor: us feel that pacifism is impractical. We would rather die than lose our freedom under Communist domination,

That the danger of nuclear war is lessened through programs which promote trust among nations such as cultural exchanges, increased trade, relaxation of borders, and nonpartisan economic aid to underdeveloped countries.

That the first step in lessening the danger is to understand the nature of the threat and the issues involved. In line with that we feel that public discussion of the problem is terribly important. For this reason we are writing the following representatives asking them to make public their positions on hydrogen warfare and bomb and Philip A. Hart, Congressman Louis P. Rabaut and State Representative Robert Waldron

We hope that this statement will help stir up discussion in Grosse Pointe and hope that the newspaper can become a medium of that discussion.

Respectfully submitted, Bob Winter,

What Goes On Your Library

by Jean Taylor

"What do you read, my lord?"

"Words, words, words," an-

has changed considerably. It is vitalized constantly, one of the reasons perhaps, that the study of words, their use, their derivation, their meaning, makes a fascinating pastime.

The written word has come to is essential in every business, industry and profession, How far can you go each day without being confronted with something written which must be read, or with the necessity of writing something yourself if it's nothing more than a note to your landlord about a faulty drain?

There are many books on your library shelves which will help you to use words wisely and to interpret them correctly. stories.

Perhaps the best known and most widely distributed guide to the use of the English language is Fowler's "Dictionary of Modern English Usage." This indispensable tool for writers since its publication in 1926 has gone through many printings, and sold half a million copies around the world. It's author, Henry Fowler, died in 1933, but his book has gone on living.

"Plain Words: Their A B C" by Sir Ernest Gowers, has been termed a condensed up-to-date Fowler. In the main this is the reconstruction of two previous books, "Plain Words" and "A B C of Plain Words."

We are enthusiastic about this little book, and have found it clear, precise and helpful.

One of the most entertaining books on this subject which we have read is Theodore Bernstein's "Watch Your Language." The author is assistant managing editor of the New York Times, and much of the material in his recent book was taken from issues of a bulletin "Winners and Sinners" written Times news staff.

We liked particularly the chapter on "Words that need watching." One of the examples he cites is "wise." "Salewise, Since Shakespeare wrote this wise. "Salewise, the new candies are doing very well." "Slapping the "Slapping the suffix famous tragedy, our language 'wise' onto words promiscuously events leading up to the Cross and needlessly is, at the mombeing expanded, remade and re- ent, a fad," says Mr. Bernstein, "Help stamp it out."

We'll watch it, Mr. Bernstein. We know we have been guilty! Another book which lends Itself to browsing is "Words: Tricks and Traditions" by J. be such an integral part of daily Newton Friend. It is an enterliving that some knowledge of taining discussion of such word as Drama, History, Art, Music, this method of communication games and curiosities as anagrams, rebuses, boners, spoonerisms and crossword puzzles.

"Words and phrases are like persons," says Webb B. Garriwhile others are very good company indeed." This volume consists of entertaining explanations of commonly used expressions, and the compilation is limited to words and phrases whose histories make good George Bernard Shaw expressed himself frequently on the use of words and also on their spelling. He was long discontented with the English alphabet's inadequacy and once complained that the word "fish" might as well be spelled "gh" as in enough, "o" as in women, and "ti" as in nation. As a result of pondering on such matters, Mr. Shaw stipulated in his will that most of his estate be used to develop an improved English alphabet of 40 letters, in which every sound "can be written with one graphic and easily written symbol.'

After six years of court dispute, the office of the Public Trustee in England announced an alphabetical contest. The first-prize winner will receive $1,400 and the privilege of spelling out an edition of "Androcles and the Lion" with his new alphabet. The edition will then be distributed free to British and American libraries. We are indebted to Lee Segal of primarily for the New York the Louisville Courier for this tidbit.

Who Takes All Those Pills?

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph. This is often the question

when a customer sees the shelves in our pharmacy. Row on row on row of bottles, boxes, canisters, tubes, vials, jars . . . about 2,000 items in all. Good question. Who are they for? The answer, of course, is you. Say you go to a physician and he writes a prescription which you bring to us to be filled. We can't tell what the ailment will be - there are thousands, and we don't know what medication the doctor will prescribe. To provide prompt pharmaceutical service we have to be ready for just about anything.

Woods Officials | Math Courses File Petitions

Two Woods officials filed petitions in their bids to seek return to office in the April election, according to information released by City Clerk Leona Liddle.

Petitions were filed by Mayor Kenneth Koppin and Councilman Benjamin Pinkos on Monday, February 15.

Two other councilmen whose terms will expire in April, have not filed or announced their intentions as yet, according to Mrs. Liddle.

A provision in the Woods City Charter stipulates that petitions for election to public office must be submitted by prospective candidates between February 1 and March 1, before the April 4 city election.

The tenure of office for both the mayor and councilmen in the Woods is two years, with councilmanic terms staggered.

The other three councilmen, Rex Johnston, J. Henry Canfield and Marvin Boutin still have another year to serve. Councilman Pinkos will seek a full term in his own rgiht.

In 1958, he was appointed to the council to fill a vacancy

Accelerated

Some 40 Grosse Pointe High School sophomores, presently enrolled in an accelerated mathematics section, will have completed the equivalent of a year of college calculus by the time they graduate in 1962.

The High School has been working on this new mathematics program for some time and it is presently in affect This is just one phase of the program that has been designed with the idea of challenging the more capable math students and offering them the opportunity to gain advanced standing in mathematics at the college of their choice. The high school math program operates on three levels, regular, honors and accelerated. This year's accelerated sophomores are currently taking Math IV (or ac-under Donald Yerkes. The Pointe Junior high schools are presently selecting students who are proving them selves capable of beginning accelerated classes after completing seventh grade. The plan is to complete the equivalent of algebra !, II, and III by the end of ninth grade; geometry I, II, and III, by the end of the tenth grade: advanced algebra trigonometry and some analytical geometry by the end of the junior year; and senior year take a course in calculus that will be as comprehensive as the course offered in college.

The students who complete the four years of accelerated study will be given advanced placement tests which will enable them to either skip the first year of college mathematics and go on to higher courses, or at least be granted advanced standing in math, depending upon in which college or university they enroll. It is hoped that eventually the advanced placement tests will not even be required for advanced standing.

Some of the juniors and seniors at the high school are taking honors courses in mathematics now. They will not have the opportunity to go quite as far as the sophomores now enrolled in the accelerated courses, however. The seniors are now using as a supplementary text book, "Elements of Mathematical Analysis," and will be given six to eight weeks of calculus before they are finished. The juniors have now had solld geometry and will finish algebra III and IV by the end of this semster. "Our aim is not to overload students, but to give them better problems and more enrichment in mathematics," said Miss Bertha Schermer, department head. The honors classes cover the same work as do the regular classes, but the students are given more challenging problems and delve deeper into the subject that is being studied.

According to Miss Schermer, students are selected for these courses on the basis of intelligence, teacher's recommendato learn, especially in the field of mathematics.

In anticipation of spring, when ladies will be too busy gardening and cleaning to play bridge, the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital has planned its annual Telephone Bridge for March 18.

This annual fund raising effort of the Auxiliary, (which is always busy with some scheme or other for aiding the hospital), is held in the homes of the various

Mrs. Donald Martin is chairman of the afternoon and will be assisted in her home by Mrs. David Lowe, Mrs. Adam Cook and Mrs. Frank Berli.

Among those opening their homes for this event are Mrs. Henry Bokram, Mrs. Joseph Eskridge, Mrs. Eugene Moriarty, Mrs. Wayne Osborn, Mrs. William E. Browne, Mrs. Henry Weidler, Mrs. Cameron Waterman, Mrs. R. E. Ashbury, Mrs. George Grenske and Mrs. M. D. Vokes.

Ski Reports

Drivers and snow shovelers may be cursing the weather but the skilers have come into their own. Every week-end a great group travels to nearby slopes for the favorite sport.

Last Sunday Mt. Christy attracted the George Ferns, the Dwight P. Blacks, the Eric Strohs, John Rindlaub, (his wife was baby sitting), and Alan Legge, (his wife was visiting in warmer Baltimore).

Not all the ski fans were willing to take a chance on the local snow. Kirk Walsh, George McKean, Butch Edgar and Fred Fisher have flown to Aspen for skiing. They will meet George's sister, Mary McKean, who has a a job in Denver, for a few days in Colorado.

"We had the incentive to win the big one and our kids came through with a great team effort" said Blue Devil Coach John Thursby as he unashamedly brushed a tear of happiness from the tip of his nose amid the uproad of the Devil's dressing room following the 75-62 victory over Highland Park on the local court, Friday, February 26.

Grosse Pointe pulled out all the stops going into the last

Coach Thursby had every cheers from the huge Devil crowd. The full court press right to be proud and happy because his team had given him a championship in his first year as head coach of the proud Pointers. Thursby can recall the two years he was the reserve mentor and his teams posted an enviable record of 23 wins in 24 starts over that period.

The lone loss came in the last game and was administered by Highland Park. So his most recent win over the Parkers was sweet revenge in more ways than one. By winning in his first year he matches Coach Ed Wernet who captured the BCL title in the first year he directed the Devils' cage fortunes back in 1946.

, For All The Marbles There could be no doubt in anyone's mind that Friday's game was for all the marbles. Tension began to build a full half hour before the varsity teams took the floor. It was a house divided down the middle, Highland Park's large following matched cheer for cheer with the Devil followers and they both yelled at every opportunity.

Highland Park drew first blood and pushed to a 4-0 lead before the Devils canned two free throws and a field goal to tied the count. But each time the Pointers knotted the score Highland Park came right back to go out in front again by two. All through the first period it was a hind chase for the Pointers and the teams were knotted at 14-14 at the end of the first eight minutes. Grosse Pointe stayed on the Parkers' heels mainly through their accuracy from the foul

Early in the second period the Devils moved out in front never relinguished the lead thereafter. They held a 32-26 halftime margin. This also was made possible from the foul line with the Pointers canning 14 foul shots as compared to the Parkers' 2 in the first half. At that point High- Harper land Park had outshot the Devils 12 to 8 from the floor.

Coach Has Complaint At one point in the second quarter Parker Coach Eldon Rouse complained to referee Earl Meyer. At first it was thought the protest was over the seemingly excessive calling of personal fouls against the Parkers. Fifteen were called against the defending champions in the first half as compared to the five against Grosse Pointe. As it turned out Coach Rouse wasn't complaining about the fouls but the numerous pennies being thrown on the court after every foul called against the Parkers which made for dangerous footing for the players of both teams.

Highland Park changed tac tics opening the third period and employed a full court press in an effort to steal the ball. Guards Ronnie Harper, who was the scoring star of the game with 23 points, and Al 'Yogi" Lang, who was second high for the Pointers with 14. deftly moved the ball up court

St. Paul Tankers Defeat Salesian

The St. Paul tankers returned to their winning ways last week overwhelming hapless Salesian, 55-41, in their pool on Monday, February 22, and then slipping past Assumption of Windsor, 45-41, on Thursday, February 25, at Grosse Pointe High,

The Lakers' overall record for the season now stands at wins in 10 contests with two dual meets remaining before the Championship meet, Jerry Chouinard led the at tack against Salesian by capturing both the 40 yard and 100 yard freestyle races. Bob Lauer avenged an earlier season defeat by Larry Ceresko as he swam right away from him to easily win the 100 yard butterfly.

In the 200 yard freestyle, John Senese continued his mastery over Salesian's Tony Ceresko beating Tony for the fifth consecutive time since losing the first meeting last year. Other Laker winners were Neil Endres in the 100 yard backstroke, Terry O'Toole in the diving and the speed relay combination of Fred and Frank Kotcher, John Senese and Bill Taylor.

. The Assumption affair was another one of those thrillers that St. Paul rans are becoming familiar with as the Lakers trailed 41-38 going into the final relay but won the meet by pulling out the pressure

Excluding the diving, which Don Dansbury and Terry O'Tool slammed, the only Laker able to win an individual swimming event was Bob Lauer and he came through to win both the 100 yard butterfly and the 160 yard individual medley. By winning as he did, Bob became week, 55-32. The victory over important third places, losing and took over as St. Paul's high the meet's only double winner point scorer of the season, having amassed a total of 69.

In the two closets races of the evening Laker swimmers were touched out but set St. Paul records just the same. At the halfway point of the meet, St. Paul trailed by 10 points, 32-22. However, the Lakers aided by the diving and individual medley came back and going into the two relays, scored 7-0 in accordance with Canadian rules, found them selves in a position where a win

Blue Devil Swim Team Takes Border Cities Crown

It was more or less a foregone conclusion that Coach Paul Wheeler's Blue Devil swimming team would win the Border Cities League championship as far back as a month ago. The only question was by how much.

The Devils nailed Highland Park 53-43 in their own pool, Friday, February 26, for their tenth straight league win which gave the Pointers a two meet bulge over second place Monroe and four meets ahead of gave them a 12-2 overall dual meet season record.

The Pointers didn't extend themselves any more than they had too. They were just as good as they had to be to win. This was in evidence in the final tabulation of individual events where the Devils won only three of eight. They took no chance with the relay events and won both handily.

Only Lead Once Only once did the Parkers hold the lead and that came in the opening 40-yard freestyle event which was won by Parker Phil Bradford with Eric Kinsman taking third for a 6-3 lead. Chris Kimball and Joel Spitzley stammed the 100-yard butterfly and co-captain Lauren Bowler and Angus McGarvah did the same in the 200-yard freestyle which put the Pointthe opening 40-yard freestyle

The Devils' last first place in the individual events was annexed by Don Haynor in the 100-yard backstroke, Haynor is the most improved swimmer on third place Wyandotte. Three times he has erased his own pool record this year and should figure prominently in the Devils' bid for honors in the forthcoming State meet to be held at Ann Arbor, Friday and Saturday, March 12-13.

(Editorial note: Mrs. Theodore Henry Hinchman has kindly given us permission to reprint here some of the recollections of her husband's grandmother, Louisa Chapin Hinchman, an early Detroiter. The Hinchmans were among the first Pointers settling here in 1865 in a summer home on the site of the present War Manageral) of the present War Memorial.)

Louisa Chapin Hinchman was the daughter of a prominent Detroit doctor, who also owned a pharmacy. She married Mr. Hinchman, who later took over the drug business and expanded it. Her early memories concern the city's Infant School, run by some prominent ladies in the old Fort barracks, which were not torn down until 1834 or 35.

"There was a large stockade around the Fort which consisted of Tamarac trees driven into the ground six or eight feet and leaving about eight feet above the ground. A gate at each side well protected secured the entrance and all who could make or call the "counter-sign", (which was a word provided and changed daily by the commanding officer), were allowed entrance. It was a relief to the citizens to have a "City of Refuge" to flee to in case of Indian or British invasion. Although peace had been proclaimed nine years before my birth, there was constant trouble with the Indians stealing and frightening citizens."

I can remember the names of Fred Sibley, Fred Trowbridge, Elisabeth Jones, the Mullet children, Kerchevals and many others. These children, (some of them), lived on the banks of the river, where were lovely surroundings of land and water. The banks were terraced and laid out with great care. Our home was on Woodbridge St., then the fashionable street of the town. There was no Fort St., Cass, Shelby and Wayne Streets, also Griswold St. had only been contemplated.'

"After the demolition of the Fort, the march of improvement went on more rapidly. The first was the sale of the Fort Grounds or Government lands. They extended from the Cass farm on the West of Griswold St. east; where was what was cailed "The Common". Here (since my recollection) wolves and sometimes bears were driven by hunger to invade civilization in the winter. Citizens as a rule went armed afer dark. The Indians were long a bugbear to frighten children, and until at least 1830 were a pest and a nuisance every spring and fall when they assembled to receive their money from Government for sale of lands. They often invaded the houses, demanding bread and a place to spread their blankets. No doubt they were already primed with "Fire-

"My father bought from the United States Government a piece of land 1/2 acre or more on which he built the house now cwned by Dr. T. A. McGraw. It was considered a fine house and the last one on the street going west. It shows how little land was valued, that it was sold at Auction. Solomon Davis offered one hundred dollars for the lot. PILFERINGS

The instructor in a basic-training course asked a sleepy private, "If you were on night sentry duty and saw a figure crawling toward camp, what procedure would you follow?"

"Well, sir," the private answered, "I'd help the officer to his quarters.'

The only exercise some people get is jumping at conclusions, running down their friends, side-stepping responsibilities and pushing their luck.
