Thursday, March 17 VICE PRESIDENT Nixon will have the full support of President Eisenhower for the Republican romination for President and in the November election, Eisenhower announced yesterday. In a news conference, Ike said that he would do anything he could to aid Nixon in his election campaign. He did say that he would not go so far as to appear "too much" a personal patron of the Vice President. He is willing to campaign "in a perfectly proper and restricted" manner, if his services are needed. Mr. Eisenhower's answer to a reporter's question, did he have any personal preference in the upcoming Presidential race, was emphatically "yes."

Farms Asked To Alleviate Earthquake

Two Residents Claim That Passing Buses Cause Their Homes to Shake

Two Farms residents petitioned the Farms council to take measures to eliminate tremors that shake their homes "like small earthquakes" when buses pass on Charlevoix avenue, | $3,858 to cover over expenditure near their houses.

Louis Smith of 249 Kenwood court, and Richard Hasse of 251 Kenwood court, personally appeared before the council on Monday, March 21, to seek city aid in alleviating the condition.

Smith and Hasse stated that this condition has been occurr ing for sometime, and that it was becoming progressively worse. With the passage of each bus, the tremors feel like small earthquakes, they said.

Houses Vibrate

They claimed that bus drivers travel about 40 miles an hour on Charlevoix, and turn on Moran road, but seldom stop there. As these buses pass their houses, Smith and Hasse said, the vibrations are felt in all the rooms in their homes.

City Engineer Murray Smith told the council that this situation could be remedied, either by just recapping the pavement with asphalt, which could or could not be effective, by mudjacking the void that apparently is under the pavement, or by completely removing that portion of the road and rebuilding

Cost About $2,000

The city engineer said that the most it would cost to correct this condition, is about $2,000. The best method, he said is to mud-jack the void, which could be done in about a month or two, and then recapping the McPhillips of St. Paul's on the section with asphalt, which could be done about Jine or

The Pointes expended approximately $24,477.72, for 2,789 tons of salt, and $11,558.18, to pay their respective Department of Public Works personnel, and for the cost of gas and use of city-owned equipment. Each community used its own personnel for snow removal, and the payments received were the normal hourly rates for the time spent on the job.

Each community pays $8.90 a ton for salt, and in cases when it becomes necessary to have the salt hauled by private trucks, an additional cost of $1.50 a ton is added.

Boy Shoplifter Caught in Act

The manager of Cunningham's Drug store in the Village, Paul Saylor, called the ity police, Thursday, March 17, to report that he was holding a boy for shoplifting.

Mr. Saylor said that he had caught the boy, a 15-year-old, taking three magazines from the store.

The youth was taken to the station house by two City officers where he was reprimanded by both Captain Andrew Teetaert and Sgt. Foster Mauck. His mother was notified and told to pick him up at the police station. He was ordered to stay out of the business district unless accompanied by his parents.

"The Council was very interested in the proposed meeting and feels that it is in the best interests of the Grosse Pointe community that this controversial subject be brought into the open for public discussion," said Mrs. Will.

To Educate and Inform "The meeting is not for the purpose of stirring up trouble in this matter. Rather, in view of all of the talk on the subject of DDT and the controversy as to whether or not it is killing bird and animal life in the Pointe, the purpose is to educate and inform the public of all sides of the question,"

Mrs. Will added. A definite time for this meeting has not been set, as yet, due to the fact that to have a good meeting, it is necessary to have speakers who are experts in the arious fields in question.

Center Offers Two Art Classes

Two excellent teachers will offer spring terms in painting for adults at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. They are Professor Marco Nobili of the Society of Arts and Crafts and Professor Gerome Kamrowski of the faculty of the University of Michigan, College of Architectre and Design.

Professor Nobili will hold two classes. An intermediate group will meet on Tuesday afternoons beginning April 5 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. and there will be an evening class for beginners each Tuesday evening from 7:30-9:30 beginning the same date

The course runs for twelve vecks. The charge is $36 for the series of twelve two hour lessons. Classes are limited to 15 pupils each and advance enrollment is requested at the Center, TU 1-7511.

A special class for advanced painting students will be conducted by Professor Kamrowski on Thursday afternoons at the Center beginning April 7th from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

Gerome Kamrowski is a confirmed leader of the abstract school and is in the front rank of surrealists known internationally. His name is always linked with that of Metta Gorki, Pollack, Motherwell and

The luncheon was catered by a local restaurant. The members were given the oppor-tunity to view the Trans-Lux ticker tape and the financial news wire in action. The methods of corporation analytical research were explained in the company's library

After the regular business meeting the group viewed a New York Stock Exchange movie, "Your Share of Tomorrow," which depicted the his-tory of the 165 year old ex-change and explained the role it plays in the present day economy. Also it demonstrated how the public's "buy" and "sell" orders are transacted on the floor of the exchange.

The sometimes mystifying language spoken in investment circles was reduced to everyday terms. The members learned that the expansion of productive capacity has been, to a large extent, financed by investors who purchased shares in companies and thus provide much of the capital necessary for a corporation to grow.

Smith, Hague and Co. opened their Grosse Pointe branch last August. This is the fourth branch of this pioneer brokerage firm. Its opening marked the first time the facilities of a complete brokerage office were available in this area. The residents and business people seem to find it convenient to make their investment transactions in this well equiped

Feathers in Their Hats

Longer ago than we care to remember, we competed with several hundred other students in our state for the National Merit Scholarship Awards. The date has not been so long ago, however, that we can forget the almost unbearable pressure and the devilishly difficult questions that comprised this examination.

After it was all over, a number of students literally has been pulled through a wringer, flailed a few hundred times, twisted and then given a return trip through a wringing contraption. This examination, for those of you who have not had the experience, is a grueling affair play, the lace curtains fell into place again and the men where the men, academically, are separated from the boys. It is no great embarrassment to not be among those who qualify for the final awards and, consequently, we report with no urging that we didn't make it.

It is with a great deal of pleasure, however, and with a lasting if failing memory of this competition that we salute 10 seniors from our own Grosse Pointe High School who are currently among the finalists in this World Series of high school examinations. These 10 seniors are among the 10,000 from the entire country who have been awarded Certificates of Merit and who now will go on to the next plateau, if this quiz expression is still acceptable. There were some 550,000 this year who tackled this examination in the United States and to say that Grosse Pointe High again is singled out as an exceptional educational institution by virtue of placing 10 students in this elite group of 10,000 who survived is hardly necessary.

This is a remarkable record for the school and a great personal achievement for 10 very fine young friends, Bill E. Allen, Holmes Brown, Carol Lou Carbone, Diane Churley, Vicki Elmer, Fred Gilson, Karen Holvick, Susan Harkonen, Charles Watts and Roger

We wish them all the very best in the final round of the competition, somewhat aware of what they face but knowing that however they place they can take great pride in knowing that they are among the finest examples of this younger generation of ours which, despite critics from more adult levels, is probably the best our country has ever known.

The Leaky Faucet

At a major political strategy meeting not long ago, one party leader allowed as how his particular efforts would not include organization work in suburban areas because "those people haven't had an original thought since Calvin Coolidge."

The first inclination is to dismiss this as typical political twaddle and the disgruntled words of a ward heeler not very familiar with subject. However, a closer look at political activity as it exists today in most comfortable suburbs lends some credence to this off-hand

Too many, who have every reason in the world to be concerned about who represents them in Lansing or Washington, total their complete political activity by the vote they cast (with some irregularity at that), by the dearly for their brief hitch. The name they place on a petition or by the check they turn over to a more ambitious friend. These maneuvers all too often falsely satisfy the obligation we all know we have to constructive political activity.

To say that we are complacent in this respect is certainly an understatement. To say that we don't care about who represents us politically is just as certainly not true. We do care, but like a leaky faucet in the house, we don't do much about it until we have to.

We are moving into the midst of what promises to be one of the more interesting and significant political campaigns-both locally and nationally-in many years. No one has ever questioned our right to bitterly complain about the mess "those fellows in Lansing" or "those dullards in Washington" get us into. But there is every reason to question our lackadaisical efforts in doing something about these situations that set our ulcers churning.

Editorial Note: Here are the further girlhood reminiscences of Mrs. W. Colburn Standish of the days when Detroit society was a tight knit group before World War 1.

"About this time (1890's) Lillian Russell came to visit some cousins on Stimson place. I am too unsure of their names to say who they were, but I do remember the excitement her visit caused. All of the men made excuses to be late at the office, all the ladies spent the hour before her arrival, peeking out from the lace curtains which covered their windows. Not knowing who Lillian Russell was but keenly sensing the excitement, all of the children in the block, a goodly number, ran up and down the sidewalk. Reporters and photographers appeared and the latter began to take pictures of some of the children while they waited."

For a younger generation Lillian Russell was the great Broadway musical comedy star of her day and the epitome of beauty in that age.

'Cordelia Birdsell (Mrs. Lyle Devlin), Isabelle Bradbeer, (Mrs. Charles B. DuCharme) and my little sister Dorothy (Mrs. McPherson Browning) were all there. Some of them had been chewing merrily on licorice sticks bought at Torrey's candy shop on Woodward. Their faces were smeared with black. I just pretended I had never seen them before."

"A carriage turned into Stimson from Cass Avenue. Everybody froze with excitement. Lillian was helped tenderly out on the sidewalk by several swains. All we collasped from the tension of the ordeal. Our reaction these many years ago was much like that of one who these many years ago was much like that of one who bystanders; paused graciously for the newspapers and then saying how exhausted she was disappeared into whichever house she was to visit. It was all over and a terrible let-down to the children. We went back to our finally went to their offices. Fame was very fleeting on Stimson place as it is everywhere."

> At about the turn of the century Mrs. Standish was a member of a memorable house party in Grosse Pointe.

.. "A group of young girls went up to the W. K. Anderson summer home in Grosse Pointe. It was on the corner of Lakeshore road and Moran, just where the Harley Higbie house is now. Almost no one spent the winter in Grosse Pointe but we were sure that a houseparty up there would be fun in cold weather and it was. We were chaperoned by one of Mrs. Anderson's maids but we did the cooking and kept warm by donning plus fours and trousers left in the house by Mr. Anderson and Mr. James T. Shaw. We thought we were very daring to wear 'trousers' and I can hear Catherine Anderson still saying we just can't go out in PANTS - even if it is dark and there isn't anyone around.'"

"Among the girls at the house party were Marion Thurber (Mrs. Edwin Denby), Kathleen Comstock (Mrs. Chester King), Mabel Holliday (the late Mrs. Charles S Pike), Catherine Anderson (Mrs. Carl Frederick) and myself. We looked like tramps but we had such fun frying potatoes in a cold summer kitchen. It sounds orrible now."

How to Lose a Lot of Weight Safely

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Maybe you've been in our pharmacy and noticed all the ways there are to lose weight. Pills, tablets capsules — all kinds. Most are designed to reduce your appetite — and thus, you. All well and good, but if you have a serious weight problem, there is only one sensible thing to do. See your physician. He will prescribe a diet, tailored to your condition, with proper drugs and nutritive supplements to make it safe and sure. We, as pharmacists, dispense these more potent drugs only at his direction — a practice which exists for one reason -to protect your health,

What's New on THE HILL By ROBERTA

A CHAP named John Ward said, "Just as the soaring flight of the fungo fly is the first sign of Spring to untold Americans, so the brush slap of a baseball into the catchers mitt is the first lovely sound of it." This all leads to baseball shoes and stuff . . . all available at Gray's Sport Shop, on the hill.

DEBUT-ING: Spring AND the Comet. It's the family car . . . the fun car . . . the economy car rolled into one. To see it is to appreciate it's fashionable size and lines . . . its roominess . . . its ruggedness. If you browse through Frank Adam, Inc., on the hill, you you will see what we mean!

WATCH IT GO everywhere . . . the imported Italian all weather men's raincoat. It's supremely styled with leather buttonholes . . . brass buckled straps on the sleeves . . . patch pockets . . . yoked-lined with the breezy comfort of all cotton mesh... box shoulders. Length? The new shorter length. The color? Clay natural. Discovered this gem at Carl Sterr's, on the hill.

THERE'S NO BUSINESS like shoe business. especially in the Spring. And why not? The kids will love the new patch saddle shoes blithely trimmed in patches of various hues of blue. Ditto the smoked elk for boys . . . and the vanilla ice for little boys and girls. All wise and wonderful investments from Clyde Hornung's, on the hill.

THE SIGN OF THE MERMAID now carrys Erickson Handwrought sterling silver flatware patterns in Traditional and Contemporary styles. Other patterns by leading manufacturers in both sterling and plated silver are available, too. Good to know.

oÓo EASTER IS SO MANY THINGS. Here Easter is a soft yellow duckling ... a zany chicken dressed in a cowboy hat . . . or a furry long earred rabbit in a basket. At any rate they have everything for the Easter baskets at Punch and Judy Toyland.

oΟo LAST WEEK we extoled the absolutely terrific wrap around for men that sold for a song . . . so useful at home or while traveling . . . however, we did not tell you that you could find it at Kilgore and Hurd's . . . specialists in gentlemen's attire, on the hill.

oOo THERE IS ALWAYS the satisfaction that comes with ownership . . . and there is nothing quite like the personalized attention that each individual owner is happy to give each of his customers. We're referring to the shops on the hill. You agree, don't WHERE VALUES grow as thick as Spring flowers ... where there is always a big, big bunch of savings, they are dressing up . . . saluting Spring with a new glorious decor. Where? Wrigley's, on the hill.

COLOR IS BIG news in little boy and girl fashions this season. Brimming over with Easter duds, and typically Young Clothes, are the fashionable, charming, tasteful Merry Mite clothes. Here are two exclusive for instances: for boys, a soft willow green suit, short pants and jacket with a print shirt; for girls, a willow green jumper with a soft print blouse. All impeccably tailored. 110 Kercheval.

EVEN IF IT IS snowing inches this week we can look forward to Spring and sailing. We found a sailor's watch that's so easy to read complete with a large safety card . . . all for thirty-five dollars. It's the finest and can be purchased at Pongracz Jewelers, on the hill.

THE NECKLINE is the big talking point for Spring blouses all designed to complement suits. As the important blouse season approaches, Margaret Rice is currently showing the jewelry neckline . . . the silk tie . . . and a variety of other styles. Many can be monogrammed in their workrooms. Your initials please, madame?

THE OLD Hitchcock Chair Factory on the Farmington River in Connecticut is again producing genuine Hitchcock chairs, and other furniture, true in every detail to their famous and valued predecessors of more than a century ago. You'll love the authentic decorative stencils . . . the finishes . . . black with gold . . . antique maple with gold . . . and antique mahogany with gold. They are showing these famous pieces in the Dants window this week. 98 Kercheval, on the hill.

Planting Enhances Effect

Good landscaping increases the value of the home. Here the formal lines of the house are 'softened', and ennanced by well-planned lovely plantings.

Best Materials Least Expensive

In home construction and improvement, as in other things, the best is usually the cheapest. Using materials such as copper plumbing, seasoned lumber and genuine ceramic tile may cost a little more initially, but in the long run the saving is going to be substan-

In many cases, first-rate materials never have to be replaced during the entire life of the home, while, in addition, maintenance costs are kept to

Ceramic tile on floors, walls, counter tops and elsewhere such as are to be seen in many modern homes, is virtually indestructible; ft never needs paint or other protective coatings and it requires no periodic special cleaning or re-surfac-

In relation to the total cost the difference between really fine materials and cheaper sub stitutes is often negligible.

Vintage Autos

The Sixth annual Veteran Motor Car Club Album exhibit is now on display in the John Hall of Industry of the Detroit | Pointe News building. Historical Museum.

Among the automobiles on the display will be a 1911 Empire roadster owned by Ed Skae of 217 Lakeshore road and a 1925 Flint touring car owned by Harold Emmons, Jr., of 8 Radnor circle.

The Museum will also have on display some autos just recently acquired, including a 1914 Detroit Electric presented by Henry B. Joy, Jr., of 274 Provencal road and a 1924 Cadillac Cloverleaf Roadster from John N. Lord of 239 Touraine

The exhibit, sponsored by the Detroit Chapter of the Veteran Motor Car Club, will be open until April 8. The Museum are: Tuesday through Sunday, 1 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; closed Mondays. Admission is free.

In addition to the automobiles, there are several special exhibits, Since 1960 marks the 50th anniversary of the Michigan automobile license plate, there will be an exhibit of the Michigan plates from 1910 to

Also on hand will be the leather plates required by the City of Detroit prior to 1910 and several registered vehicle tags which were issued by the State prior to that date.

Two automobile pioneers will be honored in exhibits. William G. Wagenhals, who invented the three wheeled Wagenhals delivery truck which he produced in Detroit from about 1910 to 1916, and, Joseph M. Sullivan, who at the age of 17, built one of the first, if not the first, gasoline propelled vehicles in Detroit. Mr. Sullivan recalls that he built in in 1895 for his

Collard, who is the manager of the theater, was cited for his encouraging support of the school safety program in 'the city's schools by rewarding Safety Patrol Boys and Safety Service Squad Girls, for their outstanding work through the school year.

Patrolman Mast said that; where the Safety Patrol Boys see to the safety of the school children outside of the schools, the Safety Service Squad does an equally fine job in seeing to the safety of children in the school buildings.

The officer said that Collard has taken a special interest in the boys and girls of the Patrol and Squad, and each year contributes passes to movies in his theater.

Last year, Mast said, Collard donated approximately 600 passes for distribution to these boys and girls.

Driver of the Year!

In behalf of the trucking industry—and the people of Michigan whose needs the industry serves—we salute Lawrence E. Durham, the Wolverine State's 1959 Driver of the Year! Mr. Durham, who drives for White Star Trucking, Inc., of Lincoln Park, has driven over 2,000,000 miles without a single chargeable accident-and half of this congested city driving . . . Married, the father of one son-who is also a truck driver-Mr. Durham has driven trucks for 30 years. He and eleven other truck drivers who competed for the number one honor have spent a combined total of 245 years driving 13,893,000 miles with only one very minor chargeable accident . . . No wonder they call, them professional truck drivers!.

The announcement of the year completely on his own in Newbery and Caldecott awards the Catskill Mountains. is always news in the children's book world.

Almost four decades have passed since the Newbery award was established in 1921. This recognition of the best in books for children was inspired by Frederick G. Melcher, for many years editor of Publisher's Weekly, and began its ascent up the ladder shortly after World War I. At that time only two publishers, Doubleday and Macmillan, had special editors for children's books. Now almost every publishing house of any importance has its children's editor.

In searching for a name for this award, Mr. Melcher decided upon John Newberry, whose bookshop in London in 1744 was the first to give a place to books for children, Up to this time there were no books designed to give children pleasure without attempting to instruct or improve.

Fifteen years after the initial Newberry award came in additional medal, the Caldecott, to honor the picture-book artist. Mr. Melcher chose for this award the name of Randolph Caldecott, an English artist. Mr. Melcher chose for this award the name of Randolph Caldecott, an English artist whose work came to the fore in the

In a Caldecott picture book, each picture tells a story, and one of the reasons for Mr. Melcher's choice was his belief that, although the interest of Caldecott's work lay chiefly in the pictures, yet in no book of his was the test inconsequential. In keeping with this thinking. the judges today are primarily concerned with the pictures for the Caldecott award, but the text must be worthy of the Joseph Krumgold's "Onion John" has just been awarded the Newbery award for the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children in 1959.

This is the story of a boy's growing up, of his friendship with a lovable old eccentric, the town character Onion John, and of the understanding not without conflict, that exists between 12-year-old Andy and his father.

It is a warm, moving story of family life in a small town, with excellent characterization and fine writing. Published in late 1959, we have not yet had time to discover the ehildren's reactions. We believe young people, particularly boys, from 10 to 13 years, will like it, and we think it will have a more general appeal than the author's earlier book "And Now Miguel," which received the Newbery in 1954, and also won a prize as a film

The Caldecott medal went. this year to Marie Hall Ets for her pictures in "Nine Days to Christmas." Mrs. Ets is also co-author of this book with Aurora Labastida.

It is a charming Christmas story about a little Mexican girl who, after her fifth birthday, is promised a part in the posados, the Mexican fiestas celebrated each of the nine nights before Christmas. We believe children from five to eight will enjoy this, but it arrived too late to be used with children during the 1959 Christmas season.

Mrs. Ets has written and iliustrated a number of wellliked books for small children. "Mr. Penny," "Play With Me,"
"In the Forest," et al.

Two recent books about which we are enthusiastic were runners-up for the Newbery award. 'America Is Born" by Gerald W. Johnson, the first of a three volume history of the United States, is a dramatic and beautiful book written especially for the author's grandson, Peter.
"My Side of the Mountain" by ean George is an unusual story of a young boy who spends a

Peattie-Halbrook Vows Solemnized

Pair Traveling to Florida After Ceremony Saturday in Central Methodist Church and Reception at Women's City Club; to Live Here

Virginia Grace Halbrook, daughter of the Robert LeRoy Halbrooks, of Lakepointe avenue, was married Saturday in Central Methodist Church to William Wilson Peattie.

For the rites the bride wore a crystal white peau de soie gown with Alencon lace accenting the bouffant bell shaped skirt. A crown of seed pearls caught her illusion veil and she carried white roses and ivy.

Nancy June Gordon was maid of honor in a lavendar tissue linen frock with a wreath of ivy. Her bouquet was of ivy and Dressed like the honor maid were the attendants Marcia Elaine Murphy, Mrs. Charles Insley and Mrs. Robert Halbrook, Jr.

Charles Insley was best man for Mr. Peattie, son of the William W. Peatties, of Touraine road. Ushering were David Marentette, Richard Johnson and Robert Halbrook, Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Halbrook chose a beige lace gown and Mrs. Peattie wore a blue print chiffon. Both mothers wore cymbidum or-

Jane Addams Dinner Monday

To honor the memory of Jane Addams, social worker of Hull House fame, and founder, in 1915, of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom Detroit Branch of WIL will celebrate at a Jane Addams centennial dinner Monday, March 28.

With Helen Gahagan Douglas as featured speaker, the occasion will mark the 45th anriversary year of the league, as well as the 100th anniversary of the birth of Miss Addams, first American woman to receive the Nobel Peace Prize, Similar salutes will be staged during the centennial year throughout the United States. Topic of the dinner-lecture will be "Approaches to Peace".

Mrs. Douglas, former stage, opera, screen and concert personality, is currently lecturing on foreign affairs. As a member of the House of Representatives, she served on the Foreign Affairs Committee and worked for some of the most vital and far-reaching legislation passed by Congress. Married to actor Melvyn Douglas, she has an active family life. The Douglases have two chlidren, Peter and Mary and one grandchild, William.

Mrs. Douglas was named as 'among Washington's 10 most powerful women", by Doris Fleeson, in an article in Mc-Call's. An editor's poll selected her as "one of the 12 smartest vomen in the world"

Mrs. George A. Schemm is chairman of the centennial dinner committee and Mrs. B. R. Donaldson will serve as master of ceremonies. The affair will be staged at 6:30 p.m. in the Crystal room of the Masonic Temple.

Dinner tickets are $5.00 and patron tickets, at $10 each or $15 for a couple, will help swell the national WIL fund for support of four special projects.

The are: Maintenance of a refugee house for 32 families in Spittal, Austria (the UN is closing all remaining refugee camps in Europe by the end of 1960); dissolving the Jane Addams House mortgage in Philadelphia and building of an emergency peace project. Work of the Jane Addams Peace Association, to finance educational and non-political programs, will also be continued.

Friday, March 18, for dancing from 9 o'clock on, and the delicious breakfast served buffet fashion in the DAC kitchen after midnight.

Quite a few groups came for dinner before the party started; the evening was delightfully informal because everyone seemed to know everyone else (they came from Grosse Pointe, Birmingham, Bloomfield and Detroit). Art Lowry's band pleased the entire crowd with its dance tunes; highlight was the singing and playing by talented amateurs to the accom-paniment of the orchestra.

The party was built around there also was a most cordial invitation to the club's young bachelor members to attend with a date. Nor are any age limits defined as to the "young marrieds"

Contemporary works are also included on 'the program; such as the Sonata for Cello and Harpsichord composed for Paul Olefsky by Robert Evett in 1955. This number is included in the program of March 30.

The program Wednesday night will also include works by Gailliard, Scarlatti, Mozart, Handel and Bach.

It is interesting to note that the harpsichord is regarded as present day composers and is treated so by them. A great number of contemporary works are in existence for the instrument, both as solos and combinations.

The Detroit Baroque Ensemble is the only musical group of this type in the Detroit area. Tickets for the performance are $2.50 ($1.00 for students) and are available at Grinell's.

Plays Friday | At GPYC Draws Crowd

At curtain time on Friday, March 25, more than fifty students of dramatics at Parcells Junior High School will be ready to present their semi-annual Evening of Plays.

Promptly at eight o'clock the Parcells Concert Orchestra, directed by Mr. Donald McNew will provide a musical overture for the dramatics program. Their three selections will include, "Woodshed Cor "Buttons," and "Beguine." "Woodshed Conga,"

The first of the plays presented will be Wilbur Faces Life, given by seventh grade actors and actresses under the of Mrs. Frances direction

Wilbur, played by John Kendall, causes much worry to his family when he develops a sudden interest in girls. While in the process of "facing life's problems" he has many amusing adventures.

Others in the cast are: Martha May, Landa Shaffer, Alex Miller, Jan Carlon, Jill Goodman, Sharon Constantino, and David Bahr. Assisting behind the scenes will be student director Sharon Jacobs, and three prompters: Julie Holden, Pat Fleming, and Michael Thomp-

Between plays there will be two skits performed in pantomime. When the daughter of a wealthy family falls in love with a plumber, Trouble in the Cellar develops.

The seventh graders in this pantomime, under the direction of Miss Lanie Fead, are Judy Warner, Marsha Garrison, Sharon Jacobs, Eileen Biddling- followed by the evening's siar meier, Karen Schippert, and Edna Cheetham. Martha Bartos will be the narrator, and Don Breil and Darrel Rosander are in charge of properties and art second skit, entitled given by ninth graders directed by Mr. Roger O'Connor.

For the last attraction of the evening the familiar stage settings will be transformed to the cactus-filled badlands of the wild and wooly West. In the eighth and ninth grade dramatic production, directed by Miss Shirley Lewis, when a party of travelers are surrounded by Apaches somewhere in the Southwest Territory, it is necessary to Hold Back the Redskins.

Church, to Hear Consul on Camus Henry Earle of 390 Washing- | Wayne, Oakland and Macomb

A commemorative program on the life and work of Albert Camus, French philosopher and novelist, will be held at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on Sunday evening, March 27, at 8 o'clock.

Speakers of the evening will be M. Jean Desparmet, French Consul General in Detroit, who will speak on "Camus as a Compatriot Saw Him" and Rev. Karel F. Botermans, Unitarian minister from Flint, Michigan, who will speak on "Camus' Revolt as an Affirmation."

Albert Camus received the Nobel Prize for Literature, in 1957, just as intellectuals the world over were beginning to recognize the power and promise in his approach to the prob-lem of "the human predica-

Interest in his work and anticipation of his next major opus were great and widespread when his life came to a shattering end in an auto crash this

Unitarians have always evinced a particularly strong interest in Camus, so it seemed appropriate for a Unitarian Church to organize a Commemorative Program as a tribute to him.

This interest has been particularly strong in the case of Rev. Botermans, who has made an intensive study of Camus over a period of many years. Rev. Botermans first became interested in Camus during the last war. At this time Camus was a leader of the French Underground, and was serving as editor of the Underground paper "Combat."

Rev. Botermans was then a teen-ager, serving with the Dutch Underground, and was attracted and interested in the personality of Camus.

M. Desparmet acquired a collection of some twenty photographs of Camus during a recent trip to Paris. He has generously loaned these for display, as a supplement to the program.

Interested individuals are cordially invited to attend, provided they obtain tickets. These are available at no charge, but are limited in number. They may be obtained by calling the church office, TU 1-0420. This procedure is necessary, since the capacity of the chapel hall is somewhat limited.

Warrant Denied In Burglary

A warrant charging Edward Jezierski, alies Jack Thompson, 42, with breaking and entering, was denied by the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, it was disclosed by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

on Monday, March 14, after Lucienne Hill. trying to break into the home of Phillip Leon, 15637 Windmili Pointe drive, was declared mentally incompetent, and returned to the Ypsilanti State Hospital, from where he was on convalescent leave, the chief said. The warrant was refused on those grounds, the chief added.

Police Cpl. Thomas Martin, and Patrolmen Adhemar Mouton and Donald DelPlace, pursued Jezlerski from Three Mile drive, down Korte, to about three-quarters of a mile out on Lake St. Clair ice.

. The officers remained at the shoreline, and witnessed Jezierski falling through the ice up to his armpits, just this side of the channel bank. He pulled himself out. A few steps further and the man would have plunged into about 20 feet of water, it was said. When Jezierski failed to heed the officers' shouts to return to shore. Patrolman Nouton drew his service revolver and fired a warning shot into the air. Startled, Jezierski, again fell through the ice, and after climbing out of the water, came toward the shore and meekly surrendered.

At the station, where he was questioned, Jezierski admitted he tried to break into the Leon home, and also tried to get into two other homes in Pemberton.

Willelma Greenlee, he took a was refused, the chief said.

Brilliant Cast Booked By Cass

One of the outstanding casts of the season will be seen at the Cass beginning March 28 when Shirley Booth, Jean Pierre Aumont, Nina Foch and Cathleen Nesbitt will be starred in the late Colette's "La Seconde" which has been adapted from Jezierski, who was arrested her novel of the same name by

The engagement is for two weeks and will be presented by Leonard Sillman and Carroll and Harris Masterson who will take the comedy-drama to New York the week of April 18.

Colette is best known to American theatergoers for her brilliant "Gigi" which was published during the last war when she had reached the age of seventy. As a book, a film and as a play, in France and the United States, "Gigi" proved to be the biggest success of her career.

In "La Seconde" Colette introduces us to a connubial household, typical of the great French authoress' vast imagination. The wife, a beauty, lavishes her affections on husband and son. The husband, a celebrated playwright, is devoted to his profession, his family-and his secretary.

Nevertheless, we have a picture of blissful happiness despite constant rumors as to the extra-marital affairs of the man. In the play, as in the novel, the same light touch prevails.

Babe Ruth League Invites Lads and Dads to Rally

Boys interested in playing baseball in the Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe are invited to attend the annual rally at Grosse Pointe High School April 4 league officials announce. An evening of fun and information for lads and dads is promised.

The rally is a preliminary to the opening of the 1960 season of play for about 300 boys, ages 13 to 15 inclusive, who reside in the Park, City and Farms. Some 18 teams are being planned.

Opening day is set for Saturday, May 14. The season, ineluding play-offs and championship rounds, will run until late in July. Every boy will be uniformed and assigned to a regular team which plays a full schedule of games.

A film, "Tigertown," scheduled for showing in the High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., will be a feature of the April 4 rally. In color and narrated by Van Patrick it pictures the 59 training season of the Tigers and should have much to offer the budding Cobbs, New housers, Kalines, and Gehringers of Grosse Pointe. League President Elmer Van Tiem will conduct the meeting and introduce the sports celebrities being invited to participate in the rally.

An opportunity to register will be given at the rally to those boys who have not yet March 20. done so. Most have been contacted by mail and have already responded to Secretary George Spaulding. Those who haven't and who would like to do so before the rally may contact Mr. Spaulding at his residence, 467 Touraine or secure information by telephoning TU

Fund raising activities for the league are in full swing. A budget of some $7,000 has been established by the Board of Directors as necessary to carry on the program. Major expense items other than uniforms include umpiring fees, balls and bats, accident and liability insurance and field maintenance. Many loyal patrons, businessmen-sponsors and parents traditionally join to support the league. Director Harold Andersen, 1027 Bedford, is heading the drive for funds and will be happy to hear from potential contributors.

Jr. Badminton

The fourth annual Grosse Pointe Junior Badminton tournament will be held at Grosse Pointe High, Saturday and Sunday, April 2 and 3.

The Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe is headed by a nine man board of directors, They have been meeting regularly all winter laying plans for the oncoming season. Considerable thought and discussion goes into making preparations for a program of this scope.

Organizational procedures and policies must be established that will insure a smooth-functioning league. Physical needs such as score boards, and official scorer's tables also must be constructed and made ready for the three fields-Neighborhood club, Kerby Field and Grosse Pointe High Schoolwhere the games are played.

Other members of the board of directors include Jerry Hughes, vice president; John Bielawski, treasurer; Paul Blackburn, minor league co-ordinator; Leonard Link, major eague 'co-ordinator; Russell Peebles, grounds; and Lawrence Kennedy, special events. Any one interested in assisting in the program is invited to contact a member of the board.

Highland Park won the tip-off to start the second period, but Bill Hodgman stole the ball and raced down the court, dropped in a layup, to come within a point of the Parkers The second period was played on an even basis and left the Parkers ahead, 22-20, at halftimee.

The Parkers seemed to be moving steadily toward an easy point lead with three minutes in Austin's side the entire evening. Mapp sandwiched a free throw by Austin's Bill Fitzgerstepped to the free throw line with 90 seconds remaining. Walt sank the first and missed the bonus shot of a one-and-one call to give Austin a two-point lead over Highland Park, Friar Paul Zosel's errant pass went to Parker Bill Sarver, who went in for the tying lay-up.

Fitzgerald missed a jumper from the corner and Bob Brinkman a tip. Mapp took the ball off the board the second time, passed it off and went to midcourt. The ball was given back to him there and he waited for his play to be set up. Then he heaved a pass toward the base line, where no one was waiting, and landed in the fourth row of the bleachers. Austin called time out, automatically bringing the ball to midcourt. Bill Fitzgerald was fouled on his way in for a lay-up and he calmly dunked the winning two points from the free-throw line to notch the all-important win and the trip to Lansing.

In the semifinals for the third time in four years, the Austinites got off to an impressive start. They led by as many as six points in the first half. But couldn't hold the Pontiac Chiefs who fought back to a 33-33 halftime tie.

The Chiefs seemed to have this one in the palm of their Thus Austin had only a one hands during the third period point lead when Walt Connolly as they jumped to a 49-44 lead.

But another Austin comeback tied the game at 59-all. With 42 seconds remaining in the last quarter the Friars worked leave the Chiefs time to score. There were only seven seconds remaining when Walt Connolly et a jumper go, but it bounced off the edge of the rim and the game went into overtime.

The Chiefs won the tip-off and then grabbed five consecupoints with a bucket and a charlast two. So the Chiefs went to the finals on a hard-fought 66defending state champion Lansing Sexton, 60-56.

Bill Hodgman earned laurels particularly in the last two games. The co-captain guard who started on last year's varsity was an unsung hero during the regular season. But the sixfooter was more conspicuous when he took scoring honors. He was a point behind highscorer Fitzgerald, who scored 13 points in the Parker game and 17 points in the Pontiac game, while Fitz had 11 and Connolly 10. As the junior, who saw the most action on last year's squad, he can't be called the most improved player, but if there were a "player-in-need" award it would be Hodgman.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

According to the calendar Spring arrived last Sunday and it was greeted with varying de-grees of enthusiasm along the river front.

At the Detroit Yacht Club atboat chairman John McHugh became so excited he sent out a sailing release announcing the start of the 1960 season for Saturday, April 2. Connie Ott will defend his 1959 Club championship in a series of races which will be held between the Club and the Detroit shore each weekend through May. For the first time the series will be sailed in the new fiberglass Flying Scot sloops which are gradually replacing the old Luedtke catboats at DYC, Edison Boat Club and Detroit Boat Club. A couple bits of scuttlebutt bouncing around over the week-end could make for some real exciting news if the scuttlebutt comes true. Two new boats could be added to the fleet and the famous name "Blitzen" was dropped, accidently.

The Detroit River Yachting Association officers believed the calendar. Commodore Arthur Rautenberg has called the SPRING meeting for this Fri-day, March 25, at Crescent Sail Yacht Club at 8:00 p.m. It appears this will be a fast moving meeting. At the Gripe Meeting at Bayview in February there appeared to be a knot in the egatta dates.

St. Clair Yacht Club request-ed the return of the Thames River race which was co-sponsored by Grosse Pointe Club and the Cruising Club of Detroit last year when St. Clair was forced to postpone the big-

Race chairman George Skirtch has agreed the race finish will be out in the lake instead of down river in front of his club. There is every possibility that Commodore Ford will offer the dock facilities of his club for the finish line like it was last year.

Commodore Ted Barbier also agreed it was Spring. He had to, he called the Inter Lake Yachting Association Spring meeting for Saturday, March 26, at the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel. Wayne State University FM adio station (101.9 mc) WDET launched its new "Michigan to start the overtime period Afloat" series, Friday, March 11 at 6:00 p.m. Dr. John B. tive offensive rebounds before Ellery, WSU Director of Radio-Booker Hunter dropped in the TV Research and a veteran sixth attempt. Leon Prentis seaman, will be the host on pushed the Chiefs' lead to five this Friday evening series. It is designed to present marine ity toss. George Fed scored the news, long-range weather forecasting, information on the operation and maintenance of 59 victory. There they lost to boats and equipment and rules of navigation and water safety.

Jack Grenard and Jack Leverenz, young publishers of the Detroit Yachtsman, are on the airways every Saturday with their General Boat Show over CKLW. The publishers are their own talent and chat about boats and boating for five five minute programs starting at 11:00 a.m. The other follow at noon, one, two and three p.m. Grenard said "As soon as the boating season gets underway we'll tape our shows on the spot aboard boats."

Al D'Eath, long active in the American Powerboat A sociation, has resigned as chairman of Region Six and will move to Guntersville, Alabama, where he will open a marina, Bernadette Harper also dropped out of the APBA picture when she resigned as Executive Secretary. It is possible that if an easterner is named to fill the vacancy the National headquarters may move from De-

The Detroit International Racing Association will negotiate with City of Detroit officials on the possibility of leasing property at the foot of Parkview, Burns and Waterworks Park for the erection and sale of bleacher seats for the Detroit Memorial and Silver Cup regattas this summer.

People may have reasons for trying to deceive others, but it's still a mystery why they should try to deceive them-

Our Southern neighbors are not as well prepared as we hardly Michiganders for these snowy blasts. David Burgess, the City councilman, enjoyed his Florida stay but on the way home ran into a tremendous wintery blizzard and his car was stuck for hours . . . in Kentucky.

And speaking of the South, one local matron was watching the kaleidoscopic scene at the Miami Airport saw an Amish couple, the gentlemen in long black frock coat, tall hat and beard, his wife in pioneer sun bonnet and shoe touching skirts about to board a jet, and behind them a white haired goateed Southern colonel in a purple raw silk jacket and pale saffron pants carrying a bamboo cane bludgeon size.

Dr. Carroll Kennedy, who played in the orchestra for Fine Arts' week-end performances of "Guys and Dolls" is an old hand at this type of music . . . used to be a member of Guy Lombardo's band.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Huvaere heard an eye witness report on Russia last week, and from an expert, dinner hostess Mrs. Jules Lederer, of Chicago. Mrs. L., better known as columnist Ann Landers, will be the first speaker on next fall's Celebrity Series roster at the Esquire Theater to benefit Bon Secours Hospital.

Since the Pointe's bird population is becoming scarce visitors to feeders are closely studied and appreciated . . . one bird lover carefully puts out goodies for the winter birds in the feeder and peanuts (in the shell) for the squirrels. How contrary is nature! The squirrels eat the bird feed, and a quartet of blue jays peck away at the peanuts.
