Thursday, August 4 THE HARDEST fought gubernatorial contest in years will begin shortly between Republican candidate Paul D. Bagwell and Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, who outlasted his two party foes, Secretary of State James M. Hare and Detroit Councilman Edward Conner, to win the Democratic nomination.

Swainson, 35-year-old protege of Gov. Williams and friend of labor, scored a surprise victory over the other two candidates for the Democratic nomination.

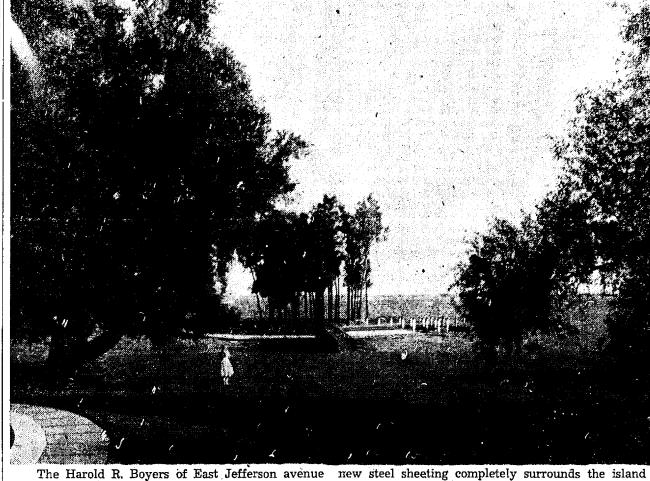

Swainson beat Hare by a margin of over 70,000 votes.

Friday, August 5 THE DEMOCRATIC Party's hopes for solid Southern support in the November Presiden. tial election were raised Thursday when Senator Estes Kefauver won an unexpectedly one sided victory over a state's rights segregationalist in the Democratic primary.

Kefauver's margin of over 180,000 votes was seen as an endorsement of his liberal vot-Ing record and a reaffirmation of the traditionally moderate approach of Tennesseeans to radical issues. * * *

A Woods motorist, driving Saturday morning, August 6, lost control of his car and rammed into and tore down part of the fence of the Lochmoor Golf Club.

A Woods police report disclosed that George Jerome, 22, of 40 Renaud, was traveling on Sunningdale 'about 2:30 a.m., when he lost control. His car skidded on the pavement, jumped the curb about 2,000 feet south of Vernier road, knocked down a "No Parking" sign, and plowed into the fence, leveling about 90 feet of it.

Jerome was given a ticket for not having his car under control and causing a property damage accident. The car was driveable in spite of the mishap, police said.

JA Conference Delegates Named

Eighty-nine official delegates will represent southeastern Michigan at the 7th annual National Junior Achievers Conference to be held at Indiana University August 21 thru 26. The announcement was made by the president of the southeastern Michigan JA board John E. Brennan. Brennan announced the youthful business leaders will discuss business problems and enter contests for business acumen. They will also discuss ways of improving the perfornance of their duties in Junior Achievement companies.

Brennan stated that the young executives will join with over one thousand other Achievers from coast to coast for the five day conference, recognized as the only teenage trade association of its kind.

There will be nominating speeches-sometimes made by the candidates themselves banners, favors and publicity sheets proclaiming a candidate's qualificati ns.

Political excitement such as was witnessed in both party conventions recently and backroom strategy will play a decided role at the business conference.

As one business executive put it, "in this age of political and business naivete by some teenagers, this national JA convention in effect teaches them a great deal about both."

Named by Mr. Brennan, who is a vice-president of Chrysler Corporation and director of corporate manufacturing staff and services, was Richard Salkowski, 17, of 567 Middlesex boulevard, Grosse Pointe president of Chryco sponsored by Chrysler Corporation.

Most Everyone Goes To School

Those who think of our public school buildings as being structures used exclusively for educating our children, should be interested in an item which appears in the August report of Dr. James Bushong, superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Under the heading "Building Rental and Usage,' there is offered a summary of the number of hours the buildings have been used by non-public school groups during the past year and three preceding years. In 1956-57 the hours totaled 10,192. The following years. In 1990-ure jumped to 13,600 hours. In 1958-59 the buildings were used by such groups for 15,912 hours and the 1959-60 season saw them used for 15,304 hours.

Receipts for rentals, to cover operating expenses, wages, etc., amounted to $15,651 for the 1959-60 year. During that period the buildings were used by some 70 outside groups including Boy and Girl Scout troops, square dance enthusiasts, religious organizations, many civic organizations and a multitude of other groups with water. varied interests.

There can be no question but that the entire community is deriving extensive year round use from the fine facilities which our school system provides, other than for the strictly academic purposes for which they were designated.

What an unusual way things are handled in Grosse Pointe Woods. At a most unpublicized public hearing held on Tuesday, July 26, the City Planning Commission considered a proposed zoning ordinance amendment to allow the building of a 4-story co-op apartment for 80 families.

One resident asked why no public notice of the hearing appeared in the Grosse Pointe News. The question was unanswered. Several residents from Anita avenue who live within 300 ft. of the proposed building site asked why they weren't sent the required notification of the hearing. Their questions also went unanswered.

During the testimony of a resident, who had been given permission to speak, a Woods councilman shouted, "A a h,, shut up and sit down!" to the astonished resident. Two Woods policemen were then summoned to prevent further outbursts.

When the voting began, the Planning Commission members voiced their votes, with one member abstaining. How do we read prescriptions? By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

According to some of our cus. tomers, prescriptions aren't written-they're doodles. Yet your pharmacist looks at the cryptic scribbles and calmly reaches for a bottle. The right bottle. Prescriptions are written in a special international language known to physicians and pharma-cists . . . a kind of universal, standardized shorthand that's grammar- and penmanship-proof. It exists so any registered pharmacist anywhere can fill your prescription accurately. That's how we're always able to give you just the drug your physician pre. scribes, and why the directions are always correct. We are pleased to serve you whenever prescription medication is required.

EN ROUTE FROM KYOTO

The George A. Schemms of Maumee avenue are doing a good bit of family entertaining these days. Their sister-in-law, Mrs. F. R. Schemm, stopped in Thursday for an extended weekend stay, after spending the past year teaching at a girl's school in Kyoto, Japan on a Fulbright fellowship. The visitor has continued on to Aurora, N.Y., where she'll return to teaching her English classes at Wells College.

Also in town last week (this week they're at the Schemm summer home at Pointe aux Barques) were the Schemm's son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. John F. McDermott Jr. They came in from Florida, where the doctor had been serving in the U.S. Navy Medical Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Maitland of Lincoln road were dinner hosts Thursday night to the McDermotts, his brother, Ted McDermott, and Mr. and Mrs. Schemm. Next week, the junior McDermotts will motor east to spend a fortnight with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. John F. McDermott, at West Harwich on the Cape. Then, they'll return to the Pointe while they make the move into their apartment in Ann Arbor, where the doctor will take his final year residency in psychiatry.

'SPICE OF LIFE'

Variety is sure to be the keynote when Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Martin of Peachtree lane do any entertaining. Friday eve last, with the Richard Cliftons of Maple lane as their guests, they boarded the Martins' fourpassenger Bonanza at City Airport, flew to Marshall, Mich., for dinner at Schulers, on to Chicago for an evening of "doing the town," and then back again . . arriving home no later than many another party-goer in the Pointe.
