HEADLINES of the WEEK

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S year-long honeymoon with Congress appears to be over. The Chief Executive had requested a new Cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs be created, headed by present Housing Administrator Robert Weaver, a Negro. The House Rules committee, by a vote of 9-6, yesterday afternoon repudiated Mr. Kennedy, rejecting a bill to establish such a department. Five Republicans and four Southern Democrats voted against the measure; only the six Northern Democrats on the powerful Rules committee voiced their support of the President's proposed Urban Affairs Department, planned to deal with the problems of America's big cities. On hearing the committee's decision, Kennedy announced plans to submit his proposal directly to Congress in the form of a reorganization plan; such a plan becomes effective unless specifically voted down on Capitol Hill.

DETROIT'S MAYOR CAVANAGH yesterday told the Michigan State Legislature that financially-crippled cities should be allowed to enact an additional income tax to solve their monetary problems, and requested that counties be given the power to tax incomes—provided there are no statewide income tax plans on the horizon. Cavanagh, in his first appearance before Democratic and Republican Legislative leaders, described the fiscal situation in Detroit as "critical." The Mayor noted that only by solving Wayne County's financial problems can Detroit's situation be improved. Gov. Swainson later met in closed session with Cavanagh; the two agreed that a tax reform program, including a State income tax, should be given top priority.

THE OAS, rightist French Secret Army Organization, yesterday called a general strike which paralyzed Algiers; and its supporters, in a further defiant show of strength, exploded seven bombs in Paris. No one was injured in the bombings, but one European died and at least six were wounded as terrorist activity continued to run rampant throughout Algeria. Reproduction of Secret Army communiqués and broadcasts has been banned by the French Government. President Charles de Gaulle will address the nation by radio and television on February 5; his broadcast will also be heard in Algeria.

ACCORDING TO A COPY-RIGHTED dispatch in Newsday, Nelson A. Rockefeller will have to initiate action for a divorce from his wife of 31 years, Mary Rockefeller, if he wants the divorce immediately, and he will have to forfeit the New York governorship to do it. Basing its story largely on an interview with Mrs. Rockefeller's brother, Philadelphia attorney John Clark, the Long Island newspaper stated that the governor's wife would be happy to resume the marriage.

Clark, reached in Philadelphia, denied the accuracy of the dispatch and declined further comment. Newsday reported that Mrs. Rockefeller will not seek an out-of-state divorce; if the governor were to go outside New York and establish residence in another state preparatory to filing for divorce, he would automatically forfeit his governorship. At the time of the separation, it was announced that Mrs. Rockefeller would obtain an out-of-state divorce. According to a family spokesman, there has been "no change whatsoever" in her plans.

THE UNITED STATES launched Ranger 3, a 727-pound moonshot equipped to broadcast television pictures detailing the lunar surface, late today. If the flight goes according to plans, an instrumental package built by Ford Motor Co.'s Aeronautics Division will hit the moon about 66 hours after takeoff and immediately begin transmitting details of moon composition back to earth.

Water Main Break Drops Roslyn Road

Supply Cut Off for Hour; Total Repair Job Takes Nine Hours

A water main break in front of 1989 Roslyn road, caused a 60-foot cave-in of the pavement on Tuesday, January 23, and residents in the road, west of Mack, were without water for about an hour while a new main section was installed.

Tony Guaresimo, superintendent of the Water Department was notified of the break at 5:03 p.m. by the Police Department, and he immediately dispatched a repair crew to the scene.

Guaresimo said that the south half of the road had caved in, and the north half had a large crack in the pavement. Damaged residents were without water for about an hour when the water was shut off while the pipe was being repaired. The complete job took about nine hours, Guaresimo said.

A temporary patch was placed over the damaged area and the road was opened to vehicular traffic. A new pavement over the spot will be laid as soon as warm weather sets in, Guaresimo said.

ELECTION TURNOUT

Shores officials boasted that 525 registered voters, or 39.4 percent, of 1,333 on its qualified list, went to the polls in the special 14th Congressional District election on Tuesday, January 23. Officials had expected that no more than 25 or 30 percent would take the trouble to cast their ballots.

Police Unravel Complicated Gun Sale; Arrest Juveniles

Farms and Parkville filed charges with juvenile authorities against three teenage boys on Tuesday, January 23, for illegal purchase and possession of a firearm.

The firearm, a .32 caliber, six-shot revolver was confiscated and is being held as evidence. Bullets fired from the gun were sent to Detroit and Cincinnati, O., police, from whose city the gun was said to have been originally obtained and also to the FBI Laboratory in Washington, D.C., and to Michigan and Ohio State Police.

Unitarian Church Selects Leaders to Conduct Drive To Raise Building Funds

Mrs. Standish Backus Accepts Post of Honorary General Chairman; Stanley Smith Heads Active Workers in Campaign

Mrs. Standish Backus of Lake Shore road has accepted the post of Honorary General Chairman of the Building Committee of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. The campaign now under way has been organized to raise funds for the construction of a permanent home for the congregation in Maumee avenue.

"In urging her to accept this position of honor, the committee has expressed its recognition and appreciation of Mrs. Backus' long-standing interest in the permanent building plans of the church," says the announcement of her acceptance.

"Over 20 years ago Mrs. Backus took a leading role in the establishment of the original Building Fund of the Church; and her interest in it, and support of it, has been constant ever since. It is most fitting that her name stand at the head of the roster of the present committee."

Vandals Paint Car, Alarm Box

Julie Will, 17517 Maumee, reported to City police on Friday, January 26, that some time during the previous night a person or persons sprayed blue paint on the hood, rear window and both sides of her '55 Pontiac convertible.

The stop sign and fire alarm box at Lakeland and St. Paul were later discovered to have also been painted blue.

City police are looking for the vandals.

LaPratt and Van Tien went to the school to question the boy. The lad was arrested on his way out of the school building after classes, and taken to the Farms station, where the boy admitted carrying the gun, but did not remember on what date.

The young student told the officers that he had purchased the revolver from a 16-year-old

Center Blood Bank Empty; Seek Donors

Red Cross Sending Two Complete Mobile Units Here for Collection Next Wednesday

The American Red Cross for the first time is sending two complete bloodmobile units to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to facilitate collection of blood in the Grosse Pointe area. The date is Wednesday, Feb. 7.

Appointments may be made as early as 9 a.m. and all day and evening through 9:30. In this way it is hoped that donors such as the fire, police, mailmen and teachers have been scheduled at hours when there is minimum traffic from households and business people.

Bank Is Empty
Everyone who is able to give blood is urged to do so. The Center's Grosse Pointe Community Blood Bank upon which Grosse Pointers draw free of charge in case of emergency is completely empty. The public school employee's bank is also very low. Donors may contribute at any blood bank for any individual they wish.

All are asked if possible to make appointments to donate either by calling the Center, TU 1-7511, or by filling out cards which will be available in most churches prior to Blood Bank day. This will greatly facilitate the handling of donors. Of course walk-ins who have not made appointments in advance will be gratefully received.

Any one in need of transportation to reach the Memorial may secure it by calling TU 1-7511, and there will be baby sitters on duty to relieve mothers of small children.

This collection of blood at the Center, 32 Lake Shore road, by the Red Cross is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council representatives of nearly all the church, service, business men's and veterans groups in the area. This is a vitally needed gift which you can give without harm to yourself and it may well mean life to someone else.

STRUCK IN REAR
James W. Pelzer, 22436 Stephens, St. Clair Shores, was driving his '59 Ford station wagon west on Jefferson Tuesday, January 23, when he stopped for a red light at Cadillac and was struck in the rear by a '59 Chevy station wagon driven by Clark Avery Reed, 21605 Barton, St. Clair Shores.

Both cars were damaged, the Chevrolet so badly that it had to be towed away, but no violations were issued.

Nominations Won By Waldron, Ryan In Congress Race

Will Oppose Each Other at Polls on February 13 to Determine Who Will Be Elected to Fill Vacancy Caused by Rabaut's Death

Democrat Harold M. Ryan and Republican Robert E. Waldron will be pitted against each other in a special runoff election Tuesday, February 13, to fill the Congressional seat left vacant last November by the death of veteran Rep. Louis C. Rabaut.

Waldron and Ryan, each backed by their respective parties, were victors in the Fourteenth District's special primary election Tuesday, January 23. They led the field from the first vote tabulations early in the evening.

Only 45,926 of the District's 250,151 registered voters bothered to cast ballots. Detroit Wards 17, 19 and 21 accounted for 34,960 votes; residents of the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods cast 10,966 ballots.

Heavier Than Predicted
Even such a small turnout was heavier than the professional politicians expected.

State Senator Ryan, endorsed by the UAW and the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, collected 12,754 votes. His closest rival, Louis Rabaut, Jr., received 5,357. None of the seven other Democratic candidates was even close.

Waldron, a State representative, defeated his only rival, stockbroker Donald F. O'Keefe, by a 6-1 margin, collecting 12,008 votes to O'Keefe's 2,007.

O'Keefe, contending Waldron was too conservative to be a successful candidate in the District-wide race, had challenged the GOP organization's attempts to present a united front behind the State representative.

Both Ryan and Waldron, veteran officeholders, were making campaign speeches before the first returns were counted Tuesday night. Each had directed his primary campaign to members of his own party with records of voting in such elections.

Ryan Given Edge
Ryan entered the race with a definite edge. The Fourteenth District normally is considered safely Democratic; Rabaut collected 60 to 70 percent of the vote in election after election.

Republicans believe, however, that they stand their best chance of winning since 1946, the GOP boom year when the late Rep. Rabaut suffered his only defeat. They base their hopes partly on the fact that the name Rabaut is off the ticket.

Ryan, of 3610 Bedford, and Waldron, of 532 University, Grosse Pointe, are both lawyers. The 50-year-old State Senator and the 41-year-old State representative are regarded by members of their respective parties as loyal, able men and legislators.

Ryan, married, with five children, is in his seventh term as State Senator. He has been minority leader since 1955.

Waldron, serving his fourth term in the House, is chairman of the Labor Committee. He also is married, and has three children.

Both Candidates Jubilant
Both candidates voiced their jubilation at being selected by voters in the primary election

Car Breaks Through Ice; 6 Youths Dunked in Lake

Six Pointe youths took a dunking in the icy waters of Lake St. Clair on Saturday, January 27, when their station wagon went through the ice a half mile from shore.

The boys told Shores police that they were watching an ice-boat race, when it was decided that they take a ride on the ice. A half mile from Ford's Point, the weight of the automobile cracked the ice and the front end went through, and the front half of the car was submerged in the water.

Tom Laughlin of 1100 Lake Shore road, called Shores police and told them that six boys had walked ashore after the incident, and that they were all wet. No one was injured.

Shores police arrived at the scene, and found officers from

Board Issues Statement Of Position

Opposition Only Against Proposed Location of New Building Which Would Cut Play

Following the disclosure last week that some opposition was being raised to building a structure on the Neighborhood Club property to house the Foundation for Exceptional Children, the board of trustees of the club has issued a statement concerning its position in the proposed project.

It has been learned that the club officials made the decision favoring this project last June. Why or how the plans were kept so secret has not been explained.

Not Against Foundation
Opposition to the proposal is not against the Foundation itself. Everyone is in agreement that it is doing a very fine service and is greatly needed.

The objections are all against the proposed location of the new building. The Neighborhood Club property is one of the few in the City of Grosse Pointe large enough to provide recreational facilities such as baseball and football fields, tennis courts, etc. Fear has been expressed that by eliminating part of this playing area the sports schedule will have to be curtailed.

Some have expressed the opinion that it would be a happier solution if the Board of Education would take over the Foundation and provide land for the new building on some of the property under its jurisdiction.

The City of Grosse Pointe officials take the stand that they have no right to interfere with the Club's decision unless the proposed building should fail to meet its code requirements.

The stand of the Club is made clear in the statement which the trustees issued Monday of this week.

Club Statement
The Mutual Aid and Neighborhood Club of Grosse Pointe has agreed to lease to the Foundation for Exceptional Children, of Grosse Pointe, a parcel of land on the northwestern corner of the Neighborhood Club property, for the purpose of a building, with an adjoining playground, to be occupied by the School for Exceptional

Motorist Slides Into Police Car

Herbert J. Smith, 43, of 1331 South Oxford, picked the wrong car to run into on Saturday, January 27—a police cruiser.

Smith was driving south on Mack avenue when at Lochmoor boulevard he saw a flashing dome light, and a flickering turn signal, both on the police car. He tried to stop, but his automobile slid and crashed into the rear of a Woods police car.

In the cruiser were Patrolmen Jack Patterson and Kenneth Metcalf, and Ida Caramagna, 44, of 19847 Ida lane; and Forman S. Johnston, Jr., 30, of 763 Notre Dame. The latter two were in the police vehicle giving the officers a report of an accident.

Patterson, who was behind the wheel, stated in his report that he heard a noise and looked back through the rear window of the cruiser and saw Smith's car sliding at a good rate of speed and then crash into the rear of the department vehicle.

Patterson and Metcalf suffered snapped necks for which they were treated by Dr. Clarence Candler, Woods City Physician. They lost a day's work because of the injuries. The others in the police car somehow escaped being hurt.

Patterson and Metcalf said that after Smith's car rammed into theirs, the motorist's auto bounced off and skidded on the pavement and came to rest against the curb 20 feet in front.

Patterson gave Smith a ticket, charging him with not having his car under control and causing an accident. Court date was set for February 24.

Police Probe Gun Sale

(Continued from Page 1) they talked to the lad and his parents. When asked about the gun, the boy left the room momentarily and returned with it, and gave it to the policeman. The gun was never registered with Michigan State Police. The youth said that he told the first boy that he wanted the gun for target shooting, and purchased it from him for $10. The first lad, the 15-year-old, was asked by LaPratt and Van Tiem to explain how the gun originally came into his possession, and he said that he bought it from a 16-year-old Woods boy for $15 last September. The Woods boy, in turn, had obtained the gun from a 15-year-old boy, also a Woods resident.

Decision in Park Fight Postponed

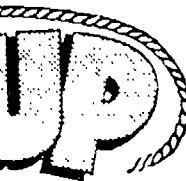

The Park Council, sitting as a Board of Appeals during a public hearing held on Friday, January 26, reserved a final decision on whether to permit a Park couple to retain a six-foot fence, or order it lowered to the height required by city ordinance. The final decision will be rendered when the Board of Appeals studies Circuit Court records pertaining to a ruling rendered by Judge Nathan Kaufman, who on November 30, upheld the constitutionality of the Park's Fence Ordinance. The validity of the ordinance was contested by Mr. and Mrs. John Fannon, Jr., of 780 Grand Marais, who constructed a swimming pool on their property, and then applied for a permit to erect a four-foot fence around the pool. After obtaining the permit, the Fannons constructed a six-foot habit fence, which Park officials contended was in violation of the ordinance, and sought to have the Fannons lower the barrier to the required four feet. The Fannons were represented by Joseph Louisell, an attorney and Park resident, who said that since the court had ruled on the validity of the ordinance, his clients accepted the decision. Louisell asked the Board to allow the fence to remain at its present height, for the health, welfare and safety of the public. He cited a provision in the ordinance which allows the city to permit erection of fences of more than four feet in height to a maximum of six feet, if the council so decrees, provided sufficient and valid reasons are given. There was a question on whether Judge Kaufman rendered a consent decree, or a contested decree in the validity of the city law. Louisell asked the Board to allow the fence to remain, since it was already constructed, but this brought an interpretation of Kaufman's ruling by City Attorney Pierre Heffler, who contended that the court ruling implied that the Fannons should come before the Board of Appeals "with clean hands." Prior to the court ruling, Louisell were well-nanced, a two-foot fence erected. This order, which the ordinance required, was from the Board of Appeals. Decision in Park Fence Fight Postponed By Council

The Park Council, sitting as a Board of Appeals during a public hearing held on Friday, January 26, reserved a final decision on whether to permit a Park couple to retain a six-foot fence, or order it lowered to the height required by city ordinance.

The final decision will be rendered when the Board of Appeals studies Circuit Court records pertaining to a ruling rendered by Judge Nathan Kaufman, who on November 30, upheld the constitutionality of the Park's Fence Ordinance.

The validity of the ordinance was contested by Mr. and Mrs. John Fannon, Jr., of 780 Grand Marais, who constructed a swimming pool on their property, and then applied for a permit to erect a four-foot fence around the pool.

After obtaining the permit, the Fannons constructed a six-foot habitat fence, which Park officials contended was in violation of the ordinance, and sought to have the Fannons lower the barrier to the required four feet.

The Fannons were represented by Joseph Louisell, an attorney and Park resident, who said that since the court had ruled on the validity of the ordinance, his clients accepted the decision.

Louisell asked the Board to allow the fence to remain at its present height, for the health, welfare and safety of the public. He cited a provision in the ordinance which allows the city to permit erection of fences of more than four feet in height, to a maximum of six feet, if the council so decides, provided sufficient and valid reasons are given.

There was a question on whether Judge Kaufman rendered a consent decree, or a contested decree in the validity of the city law.

Louisell asked the Board to allow the fence to remain, since it was already constructed, but this brought an interpretation of Kaufman's ruling by City Attorney Pierre Heffler, who contended that the court ruling implied that the Fannons should come before the Board of Appeals "with clean hands."

Since the court ordered the Park to grant a rehearing in the matter, the city attorney said, then that means that although the fence is already constructed, the Fannons should appeal for construction of a six foot fence as though it did not exist.

There was much to-do about the notice of the public hearing being sent to residents within 300 feet of the Fannon home, as required by law.

Louisell contended that the notice was worded in such a way that those who received it, were confused as to the issue involved.

The wording of the notice, sent to the interested property owners by City Clerk Charles Heisse, was upheld by Heffler and the attorney who representing the Park at the court hearing, Fred Schumann.

The Fannons' attorney presented John Ruskin, assistant engineer of the Detroit Health Department, who spoke in favor of retaining the six-foot fence. Ruskin stated that the Fannon fence should remain, if only for reasons of protection of the public.

Ruskin cited a number of cities in the United States that required six-foot fences around pools, including Detroit. He conceded, however, that about 25 percent of the cities permit fences at this height, and others allow less than six feet.

Louisell pointed out to the Board that the Park had no ordinance governing pools, however, if the Park forbade the six-foot fence, it would be the first city in the country to do so.

After much more discussion, the Board left the council chambers for an executive session, returning in about 20 minutes to disclose that a final decision will be presented at a future meeting, after the court records have been studied further.

Prior to adjourning, during the course of the hearing, Louisell claimed that there were ways to by-pass the ordinance, one way is to build a two-foot mound of earth and erect a fence on that.

This was challenged by Heffler, who quoted a portion of the ordinance which stated that a fence construction must start from the ground level.

Show Teachers' Art at Center

The Art teachers of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools together with other talented faculty members are exhibiting their works of art at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in the 2nd floor display rooms during the month of February.

The exhibit will open with a tea to which the Grosse Pointe public is cordially invited on Saturday afternoon, February 3, between 3 and 5 p.m.

This exhibit is far from the work of amateurs, many of the exhibitors having displayed their works professionally in the Michigan Artists Show and similar professional exhibitions. A wide variety of art work and allied crafts will be on display including oils, water colors, Tempera paintings, work in mixed media (a combination of paint and wax resist), fine hand made jewelry, ceramics and even some items of hand made furniture.

Robert Rathbun is in charge of the publicity and Esther Mel-drum and Marilyn Kreuger are handling the opening tea. For those unable to make the opening exhibit may be viewed through February from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on week days; 12 noon to 5 p.m. on Sundays. However, it is wise to call the Center TU 1-7511 before visiting the galleries for the rooms are sometimes occupied by meetings.

Offer Course In Astronomy

News reports indicate that certain groups in India, who see omens in the stars, are deeply concerned about the multiple conjunction of the Sun, Moon and planets which takes place on February 3. What is actually happening on that date? How rare an occurrence is it? What is the scientific evaluation of it?

These questions will come up for discussion in the course in Popular Astronomy offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, beginning on Tuesday evening, February 6.

The instructor, William D. Hammond, has planned a course consisting of 10 two-hour lectures plus a class trip to Cranbrook Planetarium. Mr. Hammond emphasizes that this is not a technical study, but a course designed to give the average layman a clearer understanding of the nature and scope of the stary universe in which we live.

Those interested in enrolling in this course may make reservation by calling the Department of Community Services, 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, at TUxedo 5-3808 or TUxedo 5-0271.

Movie Council Members Quiz Theater Managers

"First of all, Hollywood must make them," said Frank Kruger, manager of the Punch and Judy Theater at the general January meeting of the Grosse Pointe Television and Movie Council at the Mair Library in answer to the Council's plea for better pictures, especially for teenagers.
He met in a panel discussion with other local movie operators to promote more sympathetic understanding of the many questions received by the Council from the general public as to the quality of offerings and safety of youthful patronage at their theaters. Calvin Collard spoke for the Woods Theater, and Mrs. Irene Bien for the Esquire.

"The type of business we did with 'The Parent Trap,' for example," continued Mr. Kruger, "makes us wish we could play it seven days a week. Unfortunately, there are few movies so good." Mrs. Bien and Mr. Collard agreed with this opinion, both adding that not only the shortage of pictures in general, but also the booking system left them powerless to improve their showings.
Under the booking system, Mrs. Bien explained, an operator must accept pictures "in the slot," that is, a "marriage" of a double feature that has proven itself as a drawing card in other parts of the country. Regrettably, then, to show an "A" picture, one must also accept a "B" grade. Often, she said, as an independent operator, she prefers to show two "B's" together and then two "A's", finding that such combination makes a great difference in patronage.

While we also call the parents," Mr. Collard said, "on Friday nights and Sunday afternoon when a youngster's behavior is in question, we must have two policemen and six or seven ushers to patrol the aisles. We have two more teen-agers who come just to visit with each other and act to as to jeopardize the safety and pleasure of others who really have come to see the pictures."
In addition, all operators stated that they follow exactly the Detroit and Grosse Pointe ordinances as to hours of attendance according to age. Mr. Kruger said that Grosse Pointe Farms has not stated ordinance as yet, but that he has never sold a child's ticket on a week unless the child was accompanied by an adult.

To a final question, Mr. Collard of the Woods as well as Mrs. Bien and Mr. Kruger described fully their precautions regarding adults, especially a man alone, who might attend their theaters at times of large youthful audiences and who might have immoral motives. None could recall an example of such happening, but said that should a man alone attend a matinee, leave his seat more than once or start to roam, he would be asked to leave the theater. Rest rooms are constantly checked as a matter of routine.

Singers Asked To Join Chorus

Grosse Pointe Community Chorus, preparing for its tenth Annual Spring Concert, will hold a registration for members and a rehearsal at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, February 6, at Parcels Junior High School, Mack at Eight-Mile.

Men and women who enjoy singing in a large choral group, (membership is limited to 110 voices), and who are over high school age, are invited to join the Chorus and should be on hand promptly for registration as indicated above.

The Chorus is a non-profit organization, founded in 1953, and is co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Department of Community Services, and the directors of the Chorus. Tuition-registration for the spring concert season is $4.50—there are no other costs. Auditions are not required, just a love for choral singing and ability to regularly attend the weekly rehearsals.

The coming spring concert will be presented April 29 and for the first time will be an "All American" presentation, the entire program being by American composers, including one number by a member of the Chorus, and another by a Detroit musician.

Further information on the Chorus and its work may be obtained by phoning the chorus conductor, Don Simmons, at TUXedo 4-5964.

First Men Elected to Cottage Hospital Board

People who fly into a rage always make a bad landing.

The board of trustees of the Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe elected new officers at its recently held annual meeting and announced that it had broken with a 44-year-old tradition by naming three men to the board for the first time.

In relinquishing her post as president of the board of trustees to Mrs. Andrew W. Barr at the annual meeting, Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl, Jr. referred in her report to the hospital's accomplishments of the past year and the many challenges which will keep it going forward.

Declaring that the year 1961 "has seen a number of important changes at the Hospital-On-The-Hill," Mrs. Buhl added:

"For the first time in the history of the hospital, the trustees have elected men to the board. We are pleased to announce that Messrs. John N. McNaughton, B. Courtney Rankin and Paul R. Trigg, Jr. were elected to fill the vacancies on the board, and have entered enthusiastically into the activities of the hospital."

The first men trustees are prominent in the professional and business life of the Detroit area. Mr. Rankin is a partner in the law firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, and Mr. Trigg, Jr. is a partner in the law firm of Dykema, Wheat, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg. Mr. McNaughton is a vice president of the National Bank of Detroit. All are residents of the Grosse Pointe community.

In addition to the election of Mrs. Barr as the new president, the other newly elected officers are Mrs. Nelson Holland, first vice-president; Mrs. H. Gordon Wood, second vice-president; Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. John Garlinghouse, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Truman Brown, recording secretary; Mrs. Burdette E. Ford, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Cameron Waterman, III, assistant corresponding secretary. Mrs. Buhl was elected to the post of assistant recording secretary.

Re-elected to three-year terms on the board of trustees, in addition to Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Waterman, III, were Mrs. George R. Pink, Mrs. Carl B. Graw, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. Longyear Palmer and Mrs. John B. Warren.

In her annual report, Miss Carolyn M. Wicks, the hospital's administrator, stated that the growth and development during 1961 was within the organization rather than in the physical plant of the hospital.

"In retrospect one of the points of growth which stands out is the continuing development of the Medical Education program which has been approved for Resident Training in General Practice," Miss Wicks stated. "Related to this was the very successful Clinic Day in which the Medical Staff, and, in fact, practically all departments of the hospital cooperated." Cottage Hospital's Clinic Day was held in association with the University of Michigan Medical Center last October 11.

Harold E. Cross, M.D., retiring president of the medical staff, said "1961 marked an era

Both Mrs. Buhl, Jr. and Dr. Cross mentioned the death in 1961 of Dr. Kenneth M. McColl, a member of the active medical staff since 1935, as a great loss to the hospital and everyone connected with it. Dr. Cross said a portrait of Dr. McColl would be placed in the new Medical Library Reading Room.

DAC Gives Spanish Dinner Wednesday

Pointe Travelers to Spain Turn out for Gourmet Dinner and Music by Bill Snyder; Dr. and Mrs. George Rieveschl, Albert C. Dicksons, hosts

Big poster scenes of Spain and the rhythmic click of castanets set the atmosphere for Detroit Athletic Club's "Night in Spain" Wednesday, January 31, beginning at 6 o'clock with dinner in the Main Dining and Georgian Rooms and dancing in the connecting Pontchartrain Room.

The "Spanish" evening, one in the club's series of International Dinners, was sparked by singalongs to the music of Bill Snyder and his orchestra. On each table were song sheets with words of "Granada," "In a Little Spanish Town," "Valencia," "Lady of Spain," as well as pairs of castanets for each individual.

Entrees had been especially selected by the DAC's chef Louis Moresi. They were chosen on the basis of being native and authentic to Spain, and each dish is prepared as it would be in the small restaurants and back-street cantinas.

The dinner was especially interesting to Dr. and Mrs. George Rieveschl and their party — they'd practically all been to Spain and all liked authentic Spanish food. In the group were Harry J. Loynd and his daughter, Sandra; the Carl Johnsons, the Charles Erdmanns and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burrows.

With the Albert C. Dicksons were Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Buell; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Conlisk were hosts to their son-in-law and daughter, the Arthur L. Bruces; and the John Benfields were with the Horace Prunks of Dearborn and the Edward S. Wellocks of Bloomfield Hills.

The E. Quimby Smiths entertained their son and daughter-in-law, the Walter Smiths, and their daughter and son-in-law, the Arthur E. Engstroms, and this was a family fete to celebrate Walter Smith's birthday anniversary.

In Mr. and Mrs. George L. Cassidy's sixsome were Dr. and Mrs. Horton Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Bower; Mrs. Norman P. Lasca, Miss Jean Campbell, Dr. Joseph Hourihan and Frederick Nelson were a foursome; with the Carl A. Noltes were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Daher; the Robert Griffins were guests of the Leslie T.

COLD WAR

Waldron knows we must take the initiative away from the Communists—and face Communist threats everywhere with a firm, no-retreat policy! This must include an immediate end to any subsidy for Communist-dominated governments!

AID TO EDUCATION

Education must remain under local control. And freedom of choice must be maintained. To guarantee this, Waldron proposes a system of income-tax credits for tuition paid to any non-public primary or secondary school, and any college or university—so you can support the school of your choice without undue hardship.

HELP FOR THE EAST SIDE

Stop the migration of young families to the suburbs, and bring new families in, by ending present FHA discrimination against buyers and sellers of older homes. Waldron's plan also will mean more customers for hard-pressed East Side small business.

Waldron's record includes 7 years of outstanding service in the Michigan Legislature

GPHS Debaters In Second Place

Grosse Pointe High School's debating team has placed second in the Detroit Metropolitan Debate League competition, only five points behind this year's winner, Rosary.

The High School team earned a school achievement plaque from the Detroit Free Press last week by tying Hazel Park 3-3 and besting Ferndale 4-2 in two rounds of debate at Grosse Pointe.

Debate coach Mrs. Geraldine Bertovick congratulated her students on their hard work, saying she expects even better performances in the rest of this year's competition.

Mrs. Bertovick pointed out that much work remains for the Grosse Pointe debaters, due to the somewhat complicated Michigan debate setup, in which teams compete in the General State Debate League as well as local leagues.

Grosse Pointe has four more debates in the state organization, after which there is the District Debate Tournament in February, with teams drawn from each district regardless of success in either local leagues or General State competition.

Winner of this tournament will compete in regional and possibly quarter- and semi-final competition. The two top teams meet in the state debate finals this April.

Last year, Grosse Pointe's hopes for the district championship were dashed in the last round.

Tickets on Sale For Tuxis Show

Tickets for the 14th annual Tuxis Show, "Dial University 88947," to be presented February 22, 23 and 24 are now on sale.

They can be purchased from 10th grade ticket chairman Buzz Bartholomew and Judy Cudja, 11th graders Ben Henderson and Margo Tompkins, and seniors John Snyder and George Lewis.

Tickets will also be on sale at the Village store on the Hill and at the Campus Shop in the Village. Wednesdays and Fridays from 3:30 to 5 and on Saturdays from 2 to 5.

The cost is $1.00 for students, $1.25 for adults, and $1.50 for reserved seats.

Proceeds from Thursday night's performance will go to the School for Exceptional Children in Grosse Pointe. The proceeds from Friday and Saturday nights will be divided between Unicef and Save the Children Federation.

Twenty-six acts, including a cast of about 200, will comprise the show whose theme is based around college life. "88947" spells Tuxis when converted to letters on a telephone dial.

Have you wondered why your social security deduction has increased by 1/8 of 1 per cent effective January 1, 1962? Congress, in changing the law last year (1961), wanted to be certain that the increased costs of the 1961 amendments would in no way affect the financial stability of the program.

Musical Opening to Aid Bon Secours

The opening night of the Broadway hit "Do Re Mi" starring Phil Silvers will benefit Bon Secours Hospital. The hospital Assistance League is sponsoring the theater party on February 26 at the Fisher Theater with three of the Fisher family, Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., Mrs. Louis A. Fisher and Mrs. John A. Drummy, honorary chairmen.

Launch Drive For Hospital

With its first 75 years tucked into last year's pocket, the Board of Trustees of Children's Hospital is now embarking on one of the most exciting periods of its history . . . the planning and building of a new, eight million dollar pediatric facility, in the Detroit Medical Center.

At its annual meeting on January 23, Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, president, announced the appointment of campaign fund chairman, Russel A. Swaney, who will head up a team of unit chairmen and their various committees. Mr. Swaney, vice-president in charge of the Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, will have Mrs. Slattery and William M. Day as campaign co-chairmen. Mr. Day is president of Michigan Bell.

According to Swaney, the major phases of Children's campaign for its new Hospital will be conducted during the next six months, with special emphasis on individuals and organizations who have long been interested in the hospital's important role in the community. He made it clear that no firms or foundations who are already contributors to the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund would be contacted, for they are already represented in the $1,840,000 which the Fund has allocated to Children's for its new property. The annual meeting at Children's also featured a special program by its medical and surgical staffs, who pointed up new techniques and treatments and demonstrated some of the new equipment used in their various fields.

Election of officers for the board of trustees brought all present incumbents in for another year's term:

President, Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery; 1st vice president, William M. Day; 2nd vice president,

A. C. Ledyard; 3rd vice president, Sheldon F. Hall; treasurer, John W. McEachren; assistant treasurer, William G. McClintock; secretary, Mrs. Henry T. Bodman; assistant secretary, Eugene J. Amfeld; executive vice president, Hugo V. Hullerman, M.D.

League to See Fishing Movie

Charles Helin, well-known Grosse Pointe world-traveler and photographer, will show a color movie entitled "Fishing" at the next meeting of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League on Thursday, February 8, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Center.

Mr. Helin, who is a member of the Circumnavigators Club, has traveled and filmed movies in 52 countries. "Fishing" is a movie made at several lakes in the Canadian wilderness, accessible only by seaplane. Mr.

Helin's companion on the trip was George Pierrot.

The audience will see how fish strike artificial lures on the surface and under water, and will thrill to the catching and landing of many fine fish, principally black bass and pike. The movie also includes numerous beautiful wilderness scenes.

The Cinema League is a Center-sponsored organization, and any Grosse Pointe resident interested in photography is welcome to be a guest at this meeting.

Paul Henry Travel Service Plans Jet Tour to Hawaii

The seventh annual tour to Hawaii by the Paul Henry Travel Service will leave Detroit March 10. For the first time, members of this popular spring-time tour will fly direct to Honolulu in Jet planes.

It will be the special-rate tour which the Paul Henry Agency offers once a year. The tour, a 15-day junket, will again be directed by Leo G. Henry, well-known among local people, having conducted hundreds of Michigan folks on special tours for the past quarter of a century.

A longer stay in Hawaii this year has been made available to those who wish to extend their vacation. On the return, stopovers in Los Angeles and San Francisco will be permitted without extra cost.

Mr. Henry announces many interesting features in connection with the annual trip. Sight-seeing trips will include an all-day circle tour of the island of Oahu, a fascinating jaunt to Mt.

LEO G. HENRY

dinner at the Princess Kaiulani. Of all tourist attractions Paul Henry has visited throughout the world he reports inquiries on Hawaii heads the list this year. He attributes this to the great interest in Hawaii since it has become our fiftieth state. The tour group will be limited in size. It is necessary to obtain reservations early as the hotels are anticipating a heavy spring season.

Information regarding the tour can be had by contacting the Paul Henry Travel Service, Inc., 208 Washington boulevard building, or by phoning WOODWARD 1-7075.

GPUS News Notes

Dr. Richard Komisaruk was the guest speaker at the parents meeting Tuesday evening, January 9 at Grosse Pointe University Nursery School. Dr. Komisaruk talked about learning difficulties, a field in which he has had broad experience because he is director of the Wayne County Hospital and consultant for the Grand Rapids Child Guidance Clinic.

Dr. Komisaruk's daughter, Susan, is in the third-year group. Parents have always enjoyed hearing a talk given by another parent who has similar problems; this evening was no exception.

Dr. Komisaruk emphasized these points in his talk: a. The four to six-year-old period is a difficult time for children to learn formally because they are burdened with a great deal of emotional growth and fantasy. Growing along these lines involves their energy so that it is best that they learn through play rather than formally, e.g. alphabet.

b. Parents and teachers who give children poor controls handicap the child greatly. It is very difficult for the permissive child to gain the mastery over his impulses required by the learning process. It is important to help children towards self-discipline. Parents, many times, block learning in their own children, e.g. by dominating or by constantly anticipating their child's behavior. The compulsive non-learners with whom Dr. Komisaruk has worked are afraid of their own behavior, afraid of their own ability to learn. Controls are imposed by children themselves when they fear what is about to happen.

c. Seven- and eight-year-olds are more concerned with destructive thoughts, but at the same time are idealistic and impractical.

d. It is important to set up a common framework of behavior with the child and not to be too detailed in explanations. In discussing things with them we can be brief, clear, and admit when we ourselves are concerned rather than trying constantly to convince our adult concerns.

e. T.V. fantasy limits child's imagination and often has traumatic effects on them. Seeing a great deal of T.V. sedates the child, stifles his creativity and eagerness to be a participant.

Mrs. Ivan Dunlap showed films that she had taken of the children during the first days of school, during cooking experiments with girls from South Lake High School assisting, and pictures of play throughout the nursery school day. Jane Werneken will be working with Mrs. Dunlap to edit these pictures and plan the taking of the sequences necessary to complete the movie, which contrasts the play of three and four-year-olds, and emphasizes the importance of play in the development of the child. Dr. Komisaruk offered to give Mrs. Werneken additional material on the differences in fantasy play between three and four.

This material she will add to the film.

The Grosse Pointe University School Proscenium Society very successfully presented its annual winter show Friday and Saturday nights, January 26 and 27, at the school auditorium. Entitled "Heroes Just Happen," the play was under the direction of Mrs. Carol

YOUTH ARRESTED Following Chase

Woods police arrested a 17-year-old Woods boy on Friday, January 28, after a 70-mile an hour chase, and gave him a ticket for reckless driving.

Patrolmen Edward Geatches and Norman Handley said they were patrolling north on Mack avenue when they saw two cars drag racing. They were only able to arrest one driver, but then only after a wild chase.

Arrested was John C. Albert of 1426 Lochmoor boulevard, who, the officers said, ignored signals to stop and tried to avoid capture by driving at speeds up to 70 miles an hour with his car lights out.

Geatches and Handley said they chased Albert, flasher and siren on, east on Hollywood, then south on Goeth, east on Anita, and finally forced him to the curb at Charlevoix.

Albert was taken to the station where he was given the ticket, and released to his parents after a bond of $100 was posted.

Two officers said that there were two other boys and three girls in Albert's car, during the drag racing, and were the chase was on. They were not held.

To Show Films Of Old Mexico

A delightful color travelogue covering last season's Mardi Gras festivities in New Orleans and a trip through romantic Old Mexico will be given at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore Road, the evening of Tuesday, February 6, at 8 o'clock by Col. Edwin Hebb, U.S. Air Force retired, who is now a professional in the field of travel movies. A nominal 50c admission will be charged.

Col. Hebb will begin with last February's colorful Mardi Gras in New Orleans with its spectacular floats and gay street crowds. Then it will be on to Mexico City with its broad boulevards, monuments, ultra modern university gardens and former palaces.

There is, of course, the popularity of the film ring too. The gardens of Xochimilco and the pyramids of Teotihuacan will be included as highlights of any Mexican tour. Family Movies Set for Friday

Four films make up the film fare for tomorrow evening. "Curious George Hides a Bike" is a new film in the library's permanent film collection and is based on the very popular children's picture book by Rex. This comic monkey has many adventures and the humor and warmth of this story is captured here on color film. "Little Red Riding Hood," an adaptation of the old folk-tale, will also be shown, along with "The Three Little Bruins in the Woods," a story about three real live baby bears and their coveting.

To round out the program will be a Swedish color film entitled "Stephan on Sunday." This film gives a good picture about life in a small Swedish village on Sunday and what happens to a young boy who lives there.

Plan to attend and bring your friends to this film showing, another service of your Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Driver Arrested Following Crash

Vernon A. Seese, 67, of 32425 Birkshire, St. Clair Shores, was arrested on Sunday, January 28, by Shores police, and charged with violating the State Drunk Motor Law. He will have to appear in court on February 5.

The motorist was arrested by Shores Patrolman Melvin Yacks, on complaint of Farms Patrolman William Elworthy, who witnessed Seese ramming his car into an Edison pole on Lake Shore and Vernier roads, near the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club property.

Elworthy saw Seese back away and drive north on Lake Shore, and relayed the information to Yacks, who was patrolling the road.

Yacks stopped Seese at Hampton road. The officer said that the man appeared very intoxicated, and took him to the station. Yacks said that the right front bumper and fender of Seese's car were scraping against the tree, which had blown by the force of the impact against the pole.

At the station, Seese voluntarily took a drunk-o-meter test, and cooperated in every way, it was said. However, it appeared he was at a loss in trying to describe the accident. He did not know what had happened, nor did he know where the accident took place, police said.

Seese posted a bond of $125 to guarantee his appearance in court.

Youth Arrested Following Chase

Woods police arrested a 17-year-old Woods boy on Friday, January 28, after a 70-mile an hour chase, and gave him a ticket for reckless driving.

Patrolmen Edward Geatches and Norman Handley said they were patrolling north on Mack avenue when they saw two cars drag racing. They were only able to arrest one driver, but then only after a wild chase.

Arrested was John C. Albert of 1426 Lochmoor boulevard, who, the officers said, ignored signals to stop and tried to avoid capture by driving at speeds up to 70 miles an hour with his car lights out.

Geatches and Handley said they chased Albert, flasher and siren on, east on Hollywood, then south on Goeth, east on Anita, and finally forced him to the curb at Charlevoix.

Albert was taken to the station where he was given the ticket, and released to his parents after a bond of $100 was posted.

Two officers said that there were two other boys and three girls in Albert's car, during the drag racing, and were the chase was on. They were not held.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Travel agencies and airlines are flooded with Pointers yearning to roam now that February's lowering days are upon us.

Off to Mexico last week went Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick W. Parker, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raymond Boyer, Jr. flew to Palm Beach where they will stay for a while with Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison and then take an apartment. Mr. and Mrs. Len Winter left Sunday evening for a three week tour of the Virgin Islands.

It will be her first plane flight and Mrs. Walter Cleminson is feeling slightly queasy about crossing the broad Pacific even though she will be seeing her twin granddaughters for the first time.

Mrs. Cleminson and her daughter, Nancy, will leave April 30 for San Francisco and then four days in Hawaii. Then it will be on to Yokosuka, a suburb of Tokyo, to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Frederick H. McClintock and their year old twins, Linda and Carolyn. Mrs. Cleminson and Nancy will be away until about June 30.

Planning a mid-February cruise to South America are Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Gildner. Their daughter, Connie, is visiting in San Francisco.

Decorator To Talk

For stay-at-homes who are bored with their living room decor the Celebrity Series offers a lift Thursday, February 8.

At the Esquire Theater that morning famed decorator William Pahlmann will share some of his secrets. Mr. P. has designed the interiors for the Forum of the Twelve Caesars, several floors of Tiffany's and the lobbies of some of New York's smartest apartment buildings.

But for those humble souls who have to make do with Aunt Minnie's canopy beds and whatever grandmother's attic yields he has clever ideas, too.

Garden Center Series

Garden Center members are anticipating the first in the annual spring lecture series starring the Pointe's own Mrs. Ivor David Harris, who will talk on "The Floral Ancestry of Medicine" February 6 at the War Memorial.

Mrs. Harris' love of flowers is inherited from her mother, Mrs. John David Duke, who has some 250 varieties of camellias in her Georgia gardens and at 70 is still busily cross breeding these varieties to produce new strains. Dr. and Mrs. Harris' charming Provencal road home was inspired by Jefferson's Monticello, which Garden Center House Tour guests enjoyed some seasons ago.

Grosse Pointers' young single business and professional set will be treated to a Roman evening in the Italian Renaissance splendor of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 32 Lake Shore road, this Friday evening, February 2 at 7 o'clock.

The evening will begin with a pizza and spaghetti supper served at candlelit cafe-tables. Special consideration will be given to patrons requiring a meatless diet on Friday. Their pizza and spaghetti will be meatless.

After supper, Alex Sucek, troubadour with guitar, will stroll among the tables singing Italian cabaret songs and ballads in faultless Italian.

The party will then turn to the dance floor, also candlelit, where an orchestra will play for dancing pleasure throughout the evening.

A pleasant interlude will be a showing of excellent color films of Italy during intermission.

All single Grosse Pointers in their twenties and thirties and their guests will be welcomed by Dottie De Young and Sandy Malcolmson, new co-chairmen of the Center Club who plan to announce a terrific new program of activities for the group.

CBS News Ace At Town Hall

Richard C. Hottelet, ace CBS news correspondent, will discuss "Latin America—Cold War Battleground" when he appears at Detroit Town Hall Wednesday, February 7.

The 1 a.m. lecture in the Fisher Theatre will be followed by a speakers luncheon at the Detroit Boat Club.

After more than 20 years of reporting both at home and abroad, Richard Hottelet has established himself in the front ranks of news analysts and political observers.

In 1938 he joined United Press in Berlin to cover the German march into Czechoslovakia and the assault on Poland which triggered World War II. Too outspoken in his opposition to the Nazi, he was tossed into prison. Released in exchange for a Nazi newsman, he transferred to CBS in London in 1941.

He has traveled widely since the war and has been in Latin America often the past few years to witness first hand the Communist takeover in Cuba.

TENT'S MOMENTS—Scenes like this are the order of the day at Cocoa Beach, Fla., Cape Canaveral's neighbor, where everybody's got a grandstand seat for the orbit blastoff. Those legs belong to Vicki Spurgeon of Toronto, Ont. Her husband is one of the newsmen at the cape.

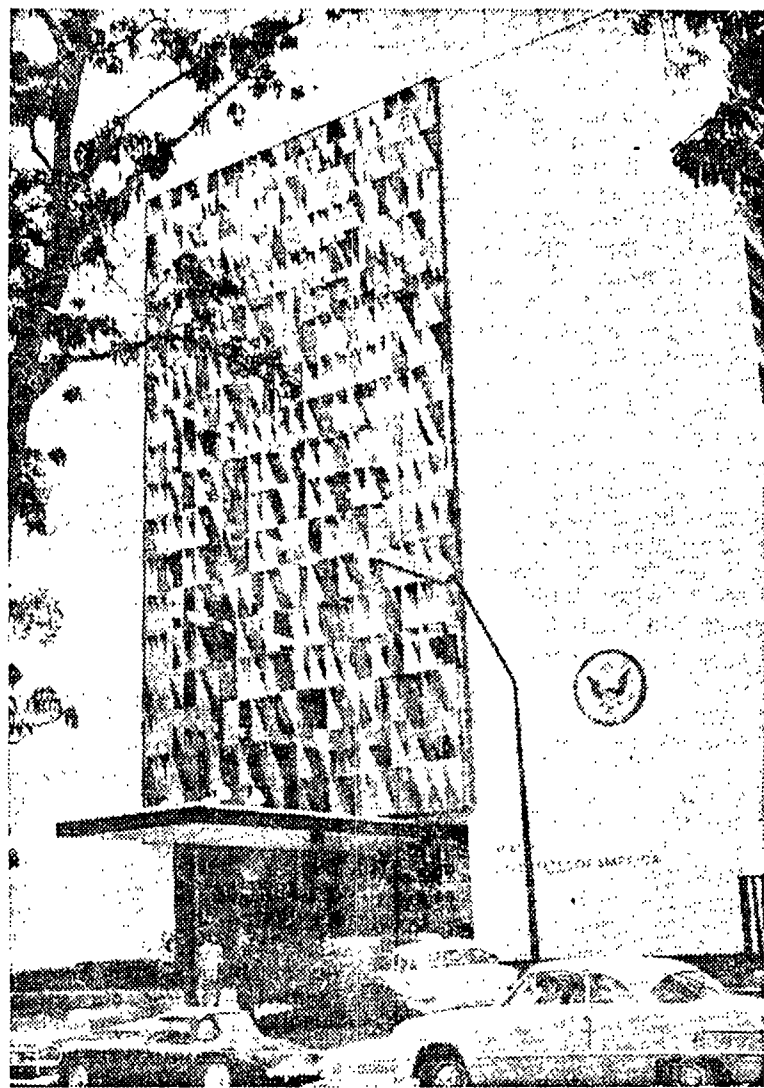

NEW TECHNIQUE—Practicing on the River Cam at Cambridge, England, the Cambridge boat race crew uses a new technique. Instead of rowing with oars alternating on either side of the boat, numbers 3 and 4 are rowing on the port side and 5 and 6 on the starboard. The other four are keeping their normal sides. Cambridge borrowed this technique from the Italian crew which used the same method to win the European championship last year.

BURNED UP OVER TAX INCREASE—Holding his grandson, Matt Reilly of Lanesboro, Mass., smiles as his house burns. He burned the 200-year-old structure as a protest against an increase in assessment, after paying 50 cents for a permit to "burn something." The house reputedly once was occupied by the noted humorist, Josh Billings.

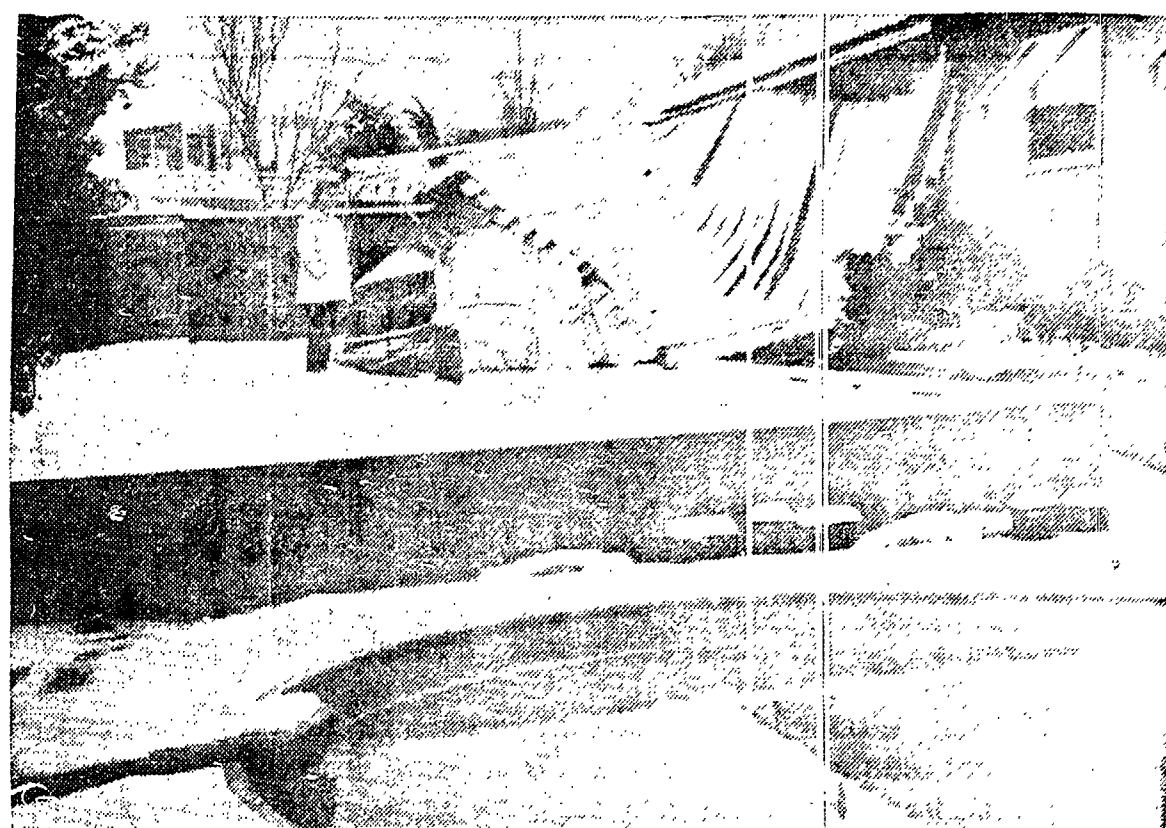

GETS CONGO POST—Robert K. A. Gardiner of Ghana (above) is new top United Nations official in The Congo, succeeding Dr. Sture Linnér of Sweden, who asked to be relieved after serving since July, 1960.

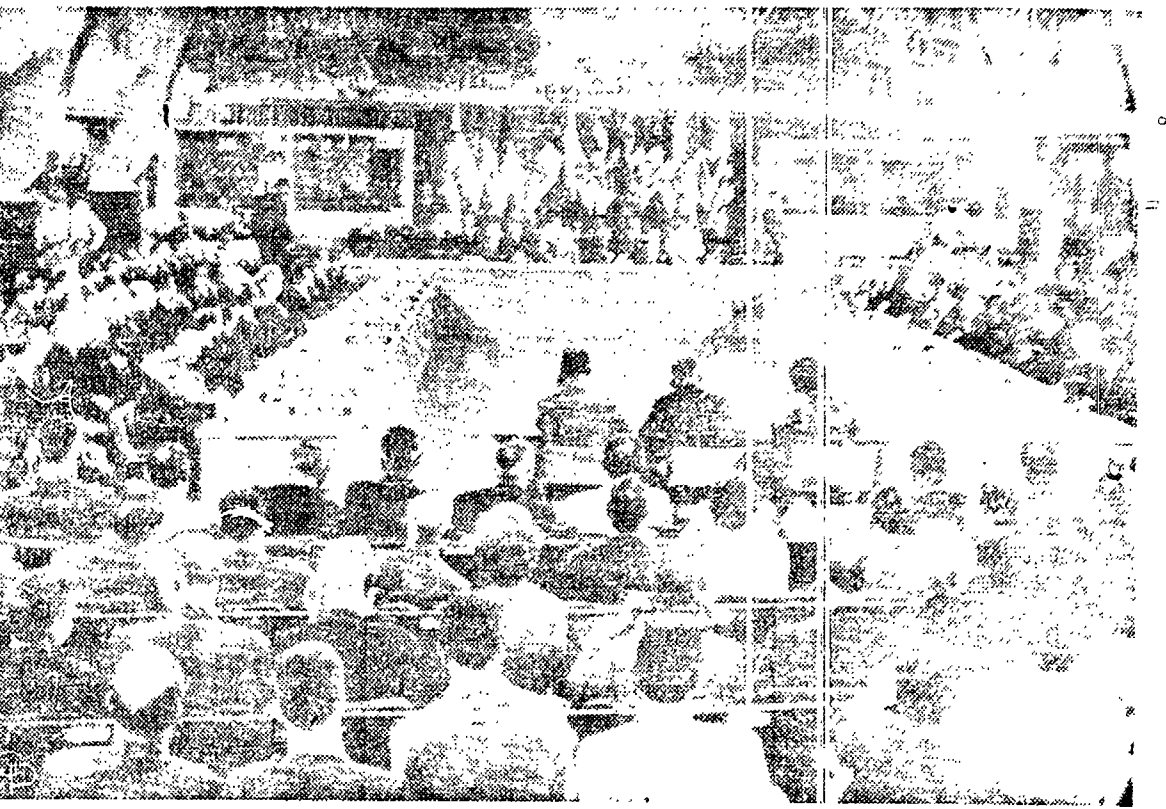

U. S. EMBASSY BLASTED—Tommygun-armed soldiers were placed on guard around the U. S. embassy (above) in Caracas, Venezuelan capital, after an explosion blasted out all four walls of a washroom 50 feet from office of Ambassador C. Allan Stewart on the seventh floor. The blast occurred during a day of pro-Castro demonstrations.

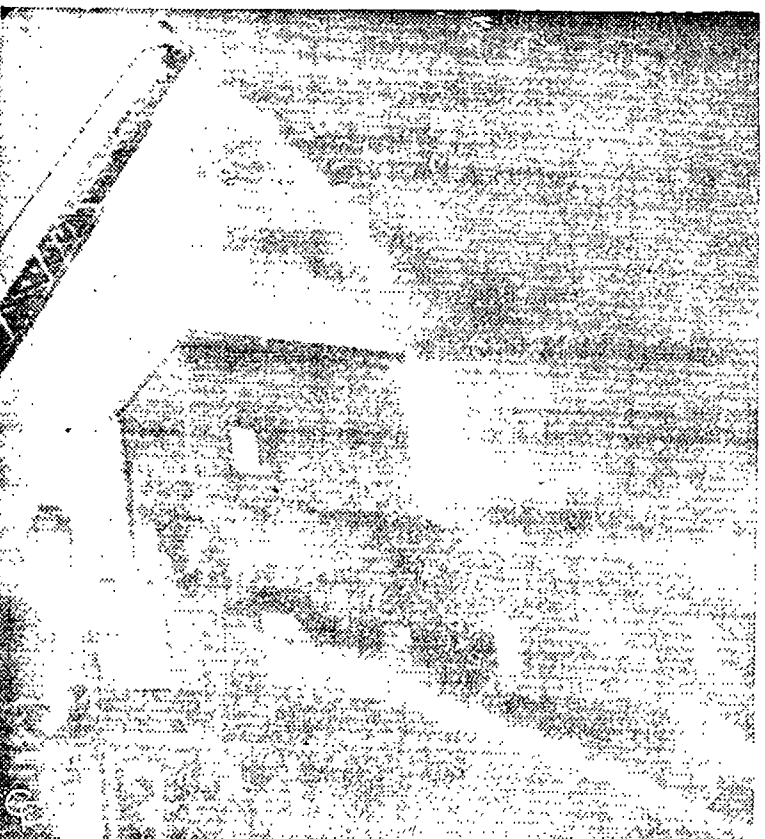

AIMING FOR DUTCH NEW GUINEA—Indonesian soldiers train their rifles through a barbed wire fence during preparation for "liberation" of Dutch New Guinea.

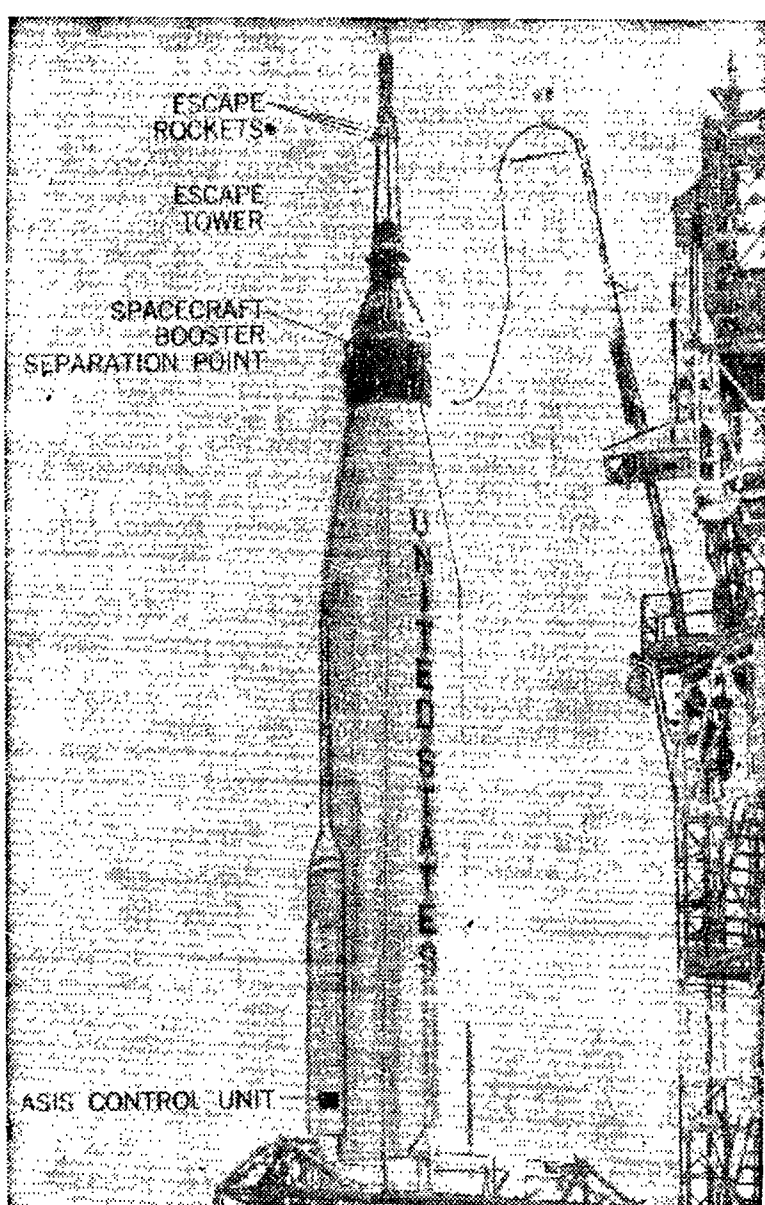

CALIFORNIA SHIVERS UNDER SNOW BLANKET—Heavy snow accompanying a sudden onset of wintry weather in southern California collapsed a light patio roof on the home of Mrs. Marvin Putnam in suburban Los Angeles. Swimming pools were frozen over in the area.

AT PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguayan spa, the conference of western hemisphere foreign ministers presents this scene as delegates discuss Cuba, Castro, Communism. (Radiophoto)

THREE DIE IN FEED PLANT BLAST—St. Louis firemen battle a roaring blaze following an explosion that ripped the Ralston Purina feed plant, leaving three persons dead and 37 other workers injured. One of the dead was Fire Capt. Roy Simpson, victim of a heart seizure.

WHOA! DEVICE—A thing called an Abort Sensing and Implementation System (which see indicated) is what calls a halt to whooshing an astronaut into orbit if anything is wrong. It is housed in a pod outside the rocket. The ASIS, developed by General Dynamics in San Diego, Calif., senses a malfunction, determines whether the spacecraft should be ejected, and commands the ejection, all in 30 to 50 thousandths of a second. The spacecraft, or capsule, can be seen atop the Atlas at Cape Canaveral, Fla., between sections marked Escape Tower and Spacecraft Booster Separation.

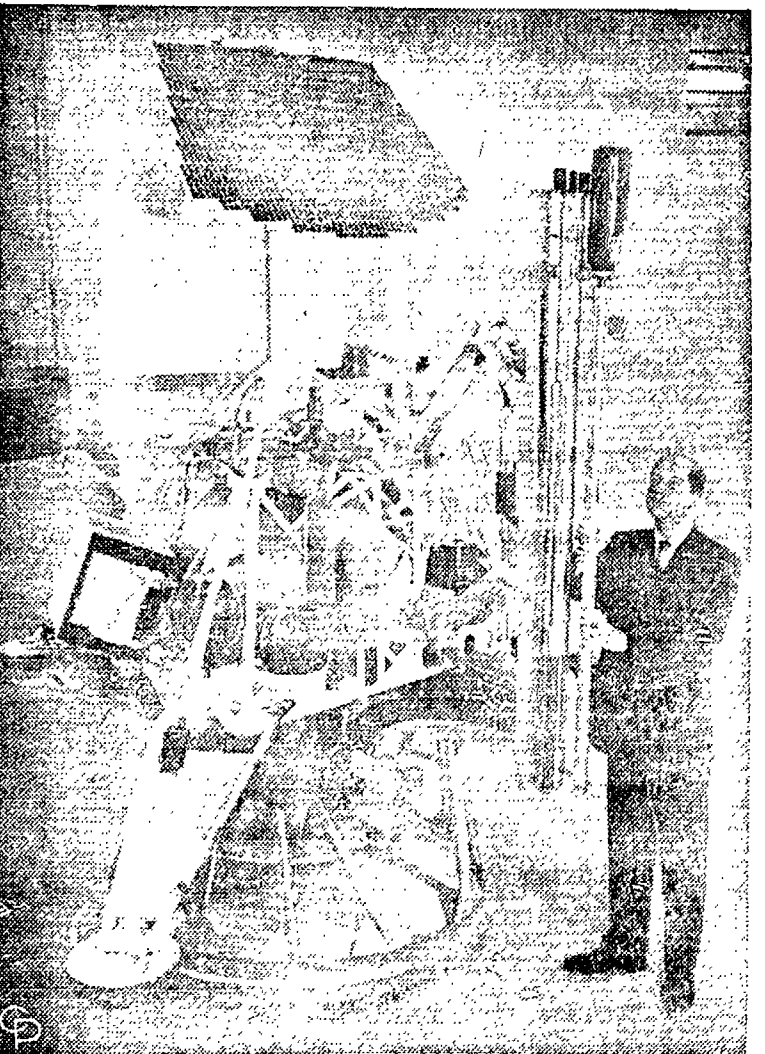

DOG TAGGED—Kathy Miller, 3, hugs Juno after her narrow escape from wanderlust in Corte Madera, Calif. Mrs. Norman W. Eaton noticed Kathy, in pajamas and slippers, and the dog out in the cold. She coaxed them both inside, but Kathy couldn't remember her name. Juno's license tag provided a link, and a bit of telephoning located Kathy's home a mile away. Her mother, Mrs. Ellsworth Miller, thought the wanderer was in bed.

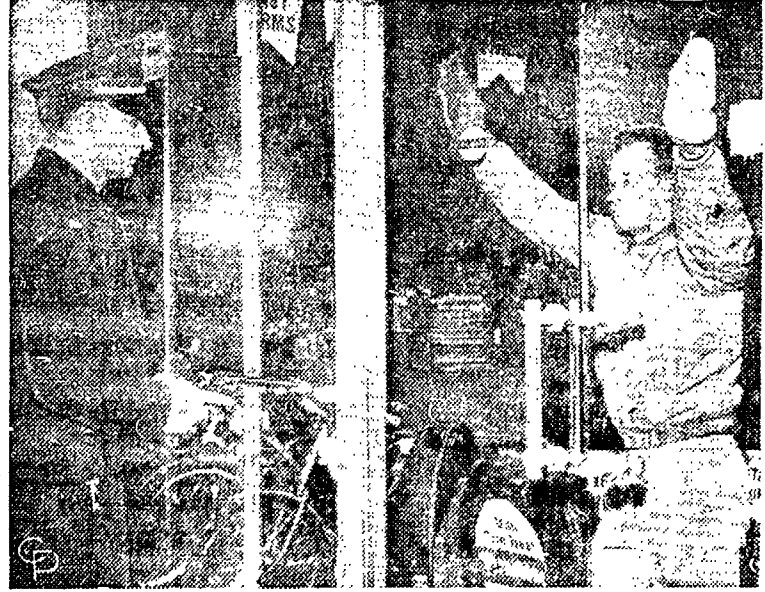

NIGHTCLUB DEBUT—Making her nightclub debut at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., actress Mamie Van Doren did everything except act. She wore five different hats and slipped in and out of four different dresses and this flesh-colored leotard as she sang and danced her way through nine numbers.

MOON VISITOR MODEL—Dr. Fred P. Adler, manager of the space systems division of Hughes Aircraft Co., Culver City, Calif., shows a full-scale model of the Surveyor space craft that will make a soft landing on the moon late this year. Seven of the vehicles are being built for NASA's Caltech Jet Propulsion Laboratory. Dr. Adler is examining the probe that will measure the moon's surface characteristics.

CAUGHT IN STORE—Arrested by sign language, burglary suspect Wayne Ward Southard, 29, is held at bay through the glass door of an auto supply store in West Los Angeles by Lt. Robert Jackson. Southard was held this way until other officers could get into the store.

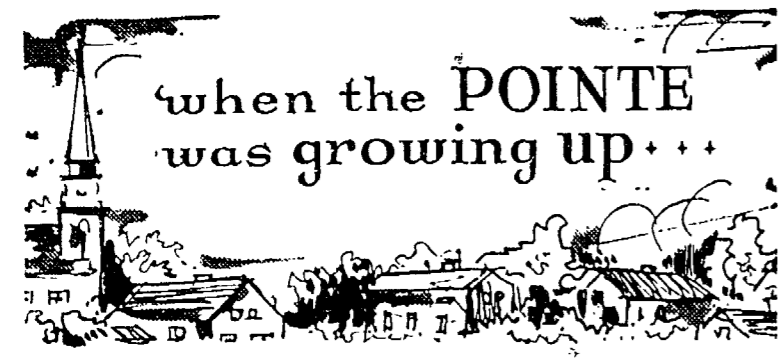

SPACE SUITED—Recent studies indicate astronauts working outside their space ships will not have to wear robot-like, action-impeding suits which some persons have considered necessary to survive in the hostile environment of space. New, flexible, form-fitting suits were described by Norman Belasco, General Electric missile and space vehicles department engineer, to the Institute of the Aerospace Sciences meeting in New York. BEATING THE COLD—A cold cut takes advantage of a heat lamp used to warm a litter of baby pigs on the John Musick farm near Lawrence, Kan.

When the POINTE was growing up

By Pat Talbot

Several Michigan fortunes were built on the lumber wrested from the pine lands in the north of the state in the days before conservation laws forced tycoons to replace the state's natural resources.

Among the state's wealthiest lumber barons was Henry Stephens, son of an Irish immigrant, and "bound out" as a nine year old boy to a neighboring farmer in Kingston, Ont.

Henry was born in Dublin March 14, 1823, and came to Canada seven years later. His father, Robert, a man in moderate circumstances, was forced to bind out his son for work on the farm and as a clerk in a country store near the Canadian town which became their home. Henry's life was further darkened by his father's death at sea when Mr. Stephens was returning to Ireland on a visit.

When he came of age he decided that his career would brighten considerably if he came to the United States. He arrived in Romeo with $300 and started a general merchandise business which prospered so well that he was able to open a branch in Almont. In 1856 he came to Detroit but was forced to return to Almont a few years later. During the panic of 1857 he tried to help his brother, a Detroit merchant, and his own business failed.

In 1861 the Almont business was doing well and Henry had time to devote to his chief philanthropy, the Underground Railway. An ardent abolitionist, he was among the first to help runaway slaves escape into Canada. The cellar of his Almont home was a well known stop on the railway which sent the slaves to freedom. A fervent Republican he attended the historic meeting under the elms at Jackson when the GOP was formed.

During the Civil War he speculated in cotton goods and nails, laying the foundations of his fortune. He early realized the value of Michigan's virgin pine lands and in 1868 bought land in Tuscola County, the Saginaw Valley and around Roscommon.

By 1882 he was employing 3-5,000 men and using 500 horses a year to take out the timber from the forest. In his mills at St. Helen's he produced 125,000 feet of lumber in one year.

He had married the daughter of a Macomb county pioneer doctor, Catherine Leet, in 1853 and the couple had three children, Albert and Henry, who joined their father in the lumber business and Catherine. Albert branched into a business of his own, sticky fly paper, and married the daughter of a doctor, Frances Harvey. They had one daughter, Marjorie. Henry married Sarah Miller and was the father of Gail, Jacqueline and Henry, who now lives in Grosse Pointe. He became a big stockholder in a Detroit tobacco concern and half owner of the now defunct "Detroit Journal."

Sixth grader Louisa Bowen, daughter of the Lem Bowns, of Elm court, has an answer for hostesses who despair of carpet stains. At a recent slumber party for young misses a bottle of orange pop created a casualty on the gray rug. Louisa with great presence of mind remembered that in her house when such accidents happened her mother used soda water (the kind you mix with whiskey) to sponge out the mark. That's our household tip of the week!

And here's an hors d'oeuvres suggestion for hostesses with jaded palates. The William Tostis serve Danish shrimp with cocktail sauce on cooked artichoke leaves.

Mr. Machine is to the toddler set what Bobbie Darin is to their teen age brothers and sisters. This robot toy is so entrancing that George Detwiler, who has a mechanical bent, not only bought one for his offspring, but bought an extra Mr. Machine so he could take it apart and put it together in his leisure time.

When Col. John Glenn failed to orbit in his space flight over the week-end Paul McKenney and Matthew Rumora, 13 year old pseudo scientists, decided they would send their own representative into space. Their passenger was Ladybird, a pet white rat. Rigging up a space capsule and a parachute, the boys launched ladybird from a tree in Paul's Newberry place backyard. Ladybird survived the flight and is the picture of health!

PILFERINGS

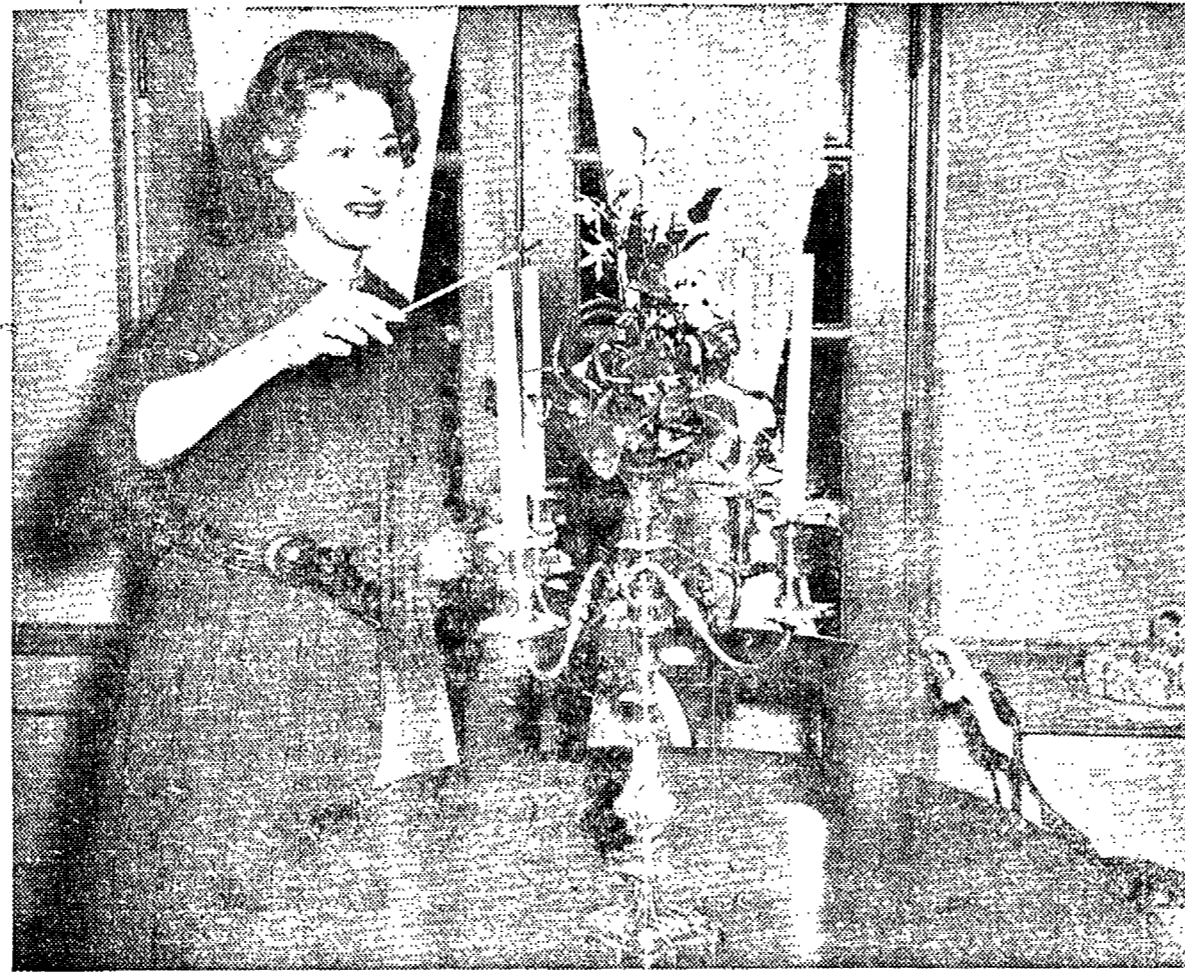

A woman was boasting to her neighbor about her highly successful son. "He lives in a beautiful apartment and wears $100 suits, and he goes to Europe every year. Not only that, he goes to a fancy doctor—he lies on a couch and talks to him for an hour and pays him $25 a visit."

The friend was impressed. "Twenty-five dollars a visit! What on earth do they talk about?" "About ME," was the proud reply.

MRS. BERNARD WHITLEY, OF RADNOR CIRCLE

By Patricia Talbot

Although she doesn't play a note of music for nine years Mrs. Bernard Whitley has been of the Grosse Pointe Symphony's most enthusiastic boosters.

Her husband has played second violin with the Symphony since its beginning days but Mrs. W. says, "He's the artist of the family." Her devotion to the symphony inspired her to head the committee for the fashion show benefit set for St. Valentine's Day at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

She hopes to raise about $3,200 which means she must sell about 90 patroness and 450 regular tickets, a man sized job in a community where benefits abound.

But Mrs. W. is well up to her chore, keeps the telephone wires busy spurring her committee on to their task. The Symphony has grown amazingly in the past decade; the last concert played to standing room only.

Gourmet Cook

When she is not selling benefit tickets the slender blond Mrs. Whitley is adapting gourmet recipes from her foreign travels. An intelligent and well informed traveler, she has been to the Continent four times and last spring the Whitneys vacationed in the Middle East. She travels with one bag, two stout pairs of walking shoes and a real curiosity about the country. Not the type of tourist who must have rare steak in Lebanon and martinis on the isles of Greece, she can adapt herself to the primitive plumbing in Alexandria and enjoy octopus stew in Portofino. On the agenda for next year is a trip to the Orient, which the Whitneys have yet to visit.

Hospital Volunteer

Here at home the benefit chairman spends every Monday morning working as a volunteer at Cottage Hospital, two Tuesdays a month participating in a book review group, has joined an investment club and is an officer in the Shores Garden Club. Gardening is high on her

HS Musicians Set for Concert

The award winning Grosse Pointe High School Concert Band and Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Richard H. Snook, will present their Annual Winter Concert this coming Sunday afternoon, February 4, at 4, in the Parcels Junior High School Auditorium.

The orchestra will be making its first appearance in the new uniforms which consist of dark navy blue jackets, gray skirts and trousers. The program will open with the Franz Schubert "Overture in D Major" and will be followed by Ase's Death from the "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg, the first movement of the Karl Stamitz Symphony in E Major.

Senior William Wright will then take over the spotlight as he plays LeRoy Anderson's "Trumpeter's Lullaby." Wright has been in both the band and orchestra for three years, and has been the first chair soloist for the past two years. Twelve violins will then perform together and in unison "Perpetual Motion" by Carl Bohm, with the entire orchestra closing the program with the Farandole movement from the "L'Arlesienne Suite" by Bizet. John Bruce, faculty member at Grosse Pointe High School, will be featured during the band program as he acts as narrator for "The Carnival of the Animals" by Saint-Saens. In addition to this, the band will perform Verdi's "Overture to the Opera Nabucco," a modern composition by Clifton Williams entitled "The Sinfonians" and the "3rd Movement from Symphony No. 6" (Pathetic) by Tschaiakowsky.

CONSCIENTIOUSLY YOURS

The prescription your doctor writes may call for numerous ingredients. These must be compounded precisely—measured, weighed, powdered, sometimes heated, sometimes chilled and ultimately blended into a medicine. Your pharmacist must be exactly right with his grams, cubic centimeters, percentages and other scientific guideposts. During the process, to the exclusion of all else, we are in every way—conscientiously your servant.

ALMOND ICE BOX CAKE

Contributed by the Women's City Club

- 1 cup butter, unsalted
1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
3 whole eggs
3 eggs, separated
1/2 lb. blanched and grated almonds
1 pint cream, whipped
1/4 cup confectioner's sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
30 macaroons
18 lady fingers
1 wine glass of sherry

Line bottom of spring form with stout waxed paper. Separate and place lady fingers close together on the sides of the pan, rounded ends cut off, the rounded side toward pan. Lay the macaroons close together on the bottom, flat side down and fill in the small spaces with lady finger ends.

Cream butter and sugar, add three whole eggs, one at a time and stir well. Add yolks of three remaining eggs, well beaten, then the nuts and lastly fold in the beaten whites of eggs. When cool add wine glass of sherry.

Take one half of this mixture and cover the macaroons, add another layer of macaroons, then the rest of the mixture. Place in the refrigerator for 30 hours to harden.

When ready to serve, remove rim of cake pan, slip cake onto platter, leaving cake tin on bottom, and cover top with whipped cream to which 1/4 cup of confectioner's sugar and vanilla have been added. Decorate with candied cherries or pistachio nuts, cut up.

Note: This recipe taken from the Women's City Club Cookbook was contributed to it by the late Mrs. John B. Ford, founder and first president of the club.
