SIX MORE jobless Negroes arrived in New York yesterday, courtesy of the segregationist New Orleans Citizens Council. They had been lured north by handbills advertising "free transportation plus $5 for expenses to any Negro man or woman, or family (no limit to size) who desire to migrate to the Nation's Capital, or any city in the north of their choosing."

The Citizens Council began its "Freedom Bus" campaign more than a week ago. Its purpose is to prove that treatment of Negroes is substantially the same in all sections of the United States, that the South has no monopoly on prejudice and bigotry. The "Freedom Buses" are apparently a direct answer to integrationist-instigated "Freedom Rides," in which northern Whites and Negroes have recently been barnstorming the South, challenging segregation in public facilities. Calling the free trip north a "cerul hoax," N.A.A.C.P. officials warned southern Negroes not to participate in the Citizens Council program, but many colored people, encouraged by the work of unemployed dock worker Louis Boyd, first Negro to accept a free ride, who now has a $100-a-week job in the New York area, are seriously considering the "Freedom Buses."

The Citizens Council is currently engaged in a fund-raising program to finance one-way trips North for approximately 1,000 more Negroes.

SOVIET COSMONAUT TITOV, second man to orbit the earth, met American Astronaut John Glenn yesterday at Washington's National Academy of Sciences, where both went to register for the International Space Conference. Titov, accompanied by his wife, Tamara, arrived at New York's Idlewild Airport last Sunday, and spent the early part of the week touring Manhattan Island. He visited the United Nations as guest of acting Secretary General U. Thant, and made a trip to Wall Street, where he smiled through lusty boozing and a few desultory cheers.

Titov and Glenn spend the major portion of yesterday together. After visiting the Lincoln Memorial and the Capitol Building, they drove to the White House, where they were personally greeted by President Kennedy. Both the President and the American spaceman agree on the probable source of the mysterious "fire-flies" Glenn noted on his orbital flight. Announcing that he, too, had seen the small gleaming particles, Titov said that he and Glenn believe they were simply ejected fuel droplets.

But Titov and Glenn disagree on the question of space information dissemination. The Soviet maintaining that disarmament must precede any pooling of space knowledge, the American noting that the United States already conducts its space experiments in an open manner. Titov mentioned that he had seen a film of Glenn's flight; Glenn could not say the same.

THE UNITED STATES today gave 5 fully-equipped Polaris submarines to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and pledged its entire Atlantic submarine force, all carrying intermediate-range missiles with nuclear warheads, to the NATO alliance. In a closed session of the NATO Council in Athens, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara presented a long and careful explanation of U. S. defense policies, and criticized the other Atlantic powers for failing to satisfy General Lauris Norstad, NATO supreme commander, in regard to non-conventional forces requirements.

McNamara, taking direct aim at British policy, charged that the assumption that only borderline tactical nuclear operations would be necessary in the event of a European war is "unreal." Forty-one vessels will eventually comprise the NATO Atlantic fleet. The five submarines already committed carry

All pupils in the room contributed to the well-planned and intricately done project. 5 Cars Raided By Tire Thieves

Woods police received complaints from five automobile owners on Friday, May 4, all of whom reported the theft of spare tires and wheels from their vehicles, all committed during the night.

Losses were reported by Milton P. LeBlanc, 64, of 1651 Hollywood, from his convertible parked in his driveway; A. John Parker, 29, of 1713 Hollywood, convertible parked in front of his house; John DeLodder, 31, of 1839 Hollywood, station wagon parked in front of his house.

Vernier Pavement Widening Okayed By State Officials

County Also Approves Mack Projects With Brunt of Cost to be Paid by Woods; Total Cost of Programs Estimated at $83,320

The State Highway Department and the Wayne County Road Commission recently disclosed two new road improvement projects that will be done in the Woods, according to information released by City Administrator Chester Petersen. Total cost of the improvements is estimated at $83,320.

Petersen said that the Highway Department approved the widening of Vernier road, from Sunningdale drive to Mack avenue. Plans call for installation of new pavement, with an island in the center of the road.

The island will measure 24 feet wide from taper to about four feet wide tapered-end at Sunningdale. There will be two-lane traffic on each side, it was said. The estimated cost of this project is $80,000, including installation of traffic signals and pedestrian controls.

Should Cut Accidents Director of Public Safety Vern Bailey expressed satisfaction that the State will undertake this program. He said that Vernier and Mack is one of the heaviest traffic accident areas in the city. When the project is completed, it should decrease the accident rate, he added.

Work on the Vernier widening should start sometime in the early part of summer, the director said, although no definite word has been received from State officials. The road is a state trunkline.

The second project pertains to the installation of a traffic signal at the intersection of Mack and Cook road, and removal of an existing traffic signal at the intersection of Mack and Allard.

The Board of County Road Commissioners informed Woods officials that the city must bear half of the estimated cost of $1,420.

Will Remove Crossover The removal of an existing crossover on Mack opposite Allard, the removal of concrete pavement and curbing within the crossover area, and the construction of new curbing along Mack and the final sodding of the area, will be undertaken by the county, at city expense.

The cost to the Woods will be estimated $1,900, according to Russell E. Harrison, engineer of Traffic and Safety for the county.

The new signal light will be installed as soon as the Detroit Edison company can provide the span-wire support, and the work of removing the crossover will follow the signal project, Harrison stated in a letter to Petersen and Bailey.

To Give Awards For Landscaping

The Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society will again give awards for the best landscaped and maintained grounds of business establishments in the community.

Judging is scheduled to begin in mid-May and continue monthly throughout the season. The committee reports that they have the four corners at Kercheval and St. Clair already on their list, and are adding many more every day.

Permit Granted For Class Picnic

The Senior Class of Grosse Pointe High School will have its annual Senior Class picnic at the Grosse Pointe Woods lakefront park on Tuesday, June 5.

Permission for a group permit was given by the Grosse Pointe Woods City Council at their regular meeting on Monday, May 7. The Council members were assured that no participant's other than the Senior class, their own monitors and a few parent-chaperones would enter the park on the group permit.

A few officers from the Woods Department of Public Safety will also be on hand to insure that the 700 students get into no trouble.

It has been an official Woods policy not to allow groups comprised of less than 50 per cent Woods residents to use the Woods recreation facilities, but because of the community nature of the high school, an exception was made even though the majority of the Senior Class students do not live in the Woods.

The picnic will last approximately from 10 in the morning until 3:30 in the afternoon.

JUVENILE TROUBLE

The guidance center at Grosse Pointe High School will provide centralized quarters for the school's ten counselors. Classrooms near the school office will be remodeled to house this function and will provide offices as well as headquarters for the guidance coordinator. Record storage space, group counseling space, and a waiting room for both parents and students will be part of the center. Completion is expected by next fall when classes commence for the new year.

Is Annual Procedure

Bids on a loan of $2,400,000 with which to operate the school system from July 1 to mid-winter when property tax collections, the main source of school revenue, are made, will be received at this meeting.

This has become an annual need inasmuch as state aid payments which formerly sufficed to carry the school system until local taxes were paid are not always paid on schedule and the schools have no other resources with which to meet payroll and other current expenses. Repayment of the loan is scheduled for next spring when funds are available for that purpose.

All bids, construction as well as loan, are due at 8 p. m. May 14. The public is invited to attend all meetings of the Board of Education.

after midnight Friday, when they found Thomas Brent Van Hove, age 24, 6000 Barrett, Detroit, and Mary Ann Termini, age 19, 18175 Fairport, Detroit, prowling around the grounds of the deserted former Alger home.

When questioned, both stated they were looking for the "haunted house."

Cadillac

No place to tell a secret!

Take it from us, you'd better not try to exchange confidences in a new 1962 Cadillac.

For the car is so silent in operation—even at the legal limit of the road—that even a whisper can be heard.

But while that wondrous quiet might make it difficult to trade secrets—it speaks volumes about motor car craftsmanship, quality and goodness.

For the silence of the Cadillac car is as unique as the circumstances that produce it.

Cadillac cars, for instance, are built in only one place—and they are built by men who build nothing else.

They are crafted to unbelievably fine tolerances. Some engine parts must be accurate to within one ten-thousandth of an inch.

They are styled so scientifically that wind noise is reduced to a gentle lullaby—and they are constructed so well and insulated so thoroughly that disturbing outside sounds are virtually eliminated.

They undergo more than 1400 inspections during their manufacture and assembly—and are then subjected to the most authoritative final inspection in the industry.

You ought to visit your Cadillac dealer soon and sample the results for yourself. And while you're at the wheel—listen to the eloquent quiet.

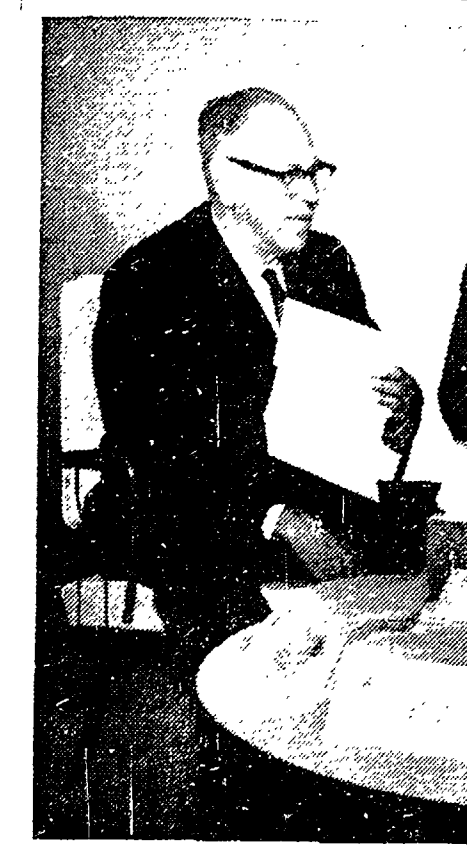

It's one more example of why only a car that's designed like a Cadillac and built like a Cadillac can ride like a Cadillac.

Woods Babe Ruth League Plea Denied By Council

The Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League will not have its own baseball diamond in Ghesquiere Park this year.

At their regular meeting on Monday, May 7, the Woods Council voted to concur in the recommendation of the Recreation Commission that no special diamond be installed at this time, but that everything possible be done to upgrade existing facilities.

Three baseball diamonds at Grosse Pointe University School and two baseball diamonds at Parcels School are now being used by members of the Woods' junior baseball leagues and, ac-ording to Councilman Thomas Leah, there is enough room at Parcels to install one more diamond.

The Recreation Commission feels that the Babe Ruth League has adequate facilities at this time, but suggested that the west side area of Ghesquiere Park be reserved for a diamond if any unforeseen situation should arise and the Babe Ruth League be denied the use of their current facilities.

Councilman Marvin R. Boutin moved that the Council concur in the Recreation Commission recommendation, adding that people in Huntington and Kenmore, streets adjacent to Ghes-quiere Park, who would be directly affected if such a diamond were installed, should be notified if ever the need for such a diamond should arise.

Shores Holding An Open House

The Shores will hold open house for the inspection of its police and fire station during "Police Week," May 13 through 19, it was disclosed by Chief Fred Duemling.

The chief said that the open house will be held from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., including Saturday and Sunday, May 18 and 19, so that the citizens of the Village can have an opportunity to visit the station.

A proclamation that set aside the week to honor police officers of the world, was signed by President Kennedy, and was endorsed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police at its annual conference held in Montreal, last October 5.

Monday, May 14, has been designated as "Peace Officers Memorial Day," to commemorate all policemen who died in the line of duty.

The Shores has an integrated police and fire department, as does the Woods. The Park, City and Farms have separate police and fire services.

The Shores was the only department that disclosed plans for an open house.

Storm Damage Minor in Pointe

The thunder storm that struck the Detroit area Monday evening, April 30, caused little damage in the Pointe, according to official reports.

The damage tally, according to reports received, showed only three trees destroyed and two window panes smashed by the wind.

Herbert Heger, head of the Park Public Works Department, disclosed that only two trees, one in front of 1138 Kensington, on public property, and a private-owned tree at 1032 Harvard, were ruined by the storm. Both trees will have to be removed, he said.

In the City, former Councilman Chester F. Carpenter of 546 Lakeland, reported that lightning knocked down a tree on his property.

In the Woods, the wind smashed a big plate glass window of the J. C. Penney Department Store, 18251 Mack; and a plate glass window of the Grosse Pointe Pharmacy, 19795 Mack, according to information received from Police Lt. Henry Marchand.

There was no damage reported in either the Farms or Shores.

According to official records of the rainfall during the storm, as recorded by instruments at the Farms Pumping Station, Chalfonte and Kerby, the total downpour measured .71 of an inch in the Pointe area.

Cottage Hospital Growth Reported By Administrator

Emergency service for 1,947 people.
Delivery of 750 babies.
Nursing care totalling 37,053 days.

Almost 60,000 laboratory tests performed.

These are only a few of the services rendered by Cottage Hospital last year to the Grosse Pointes and included in an informal report to the community by the hospital to mark National Hospital Week, May 6 through 12.

The report, made by the hospital's administrator, Miss Carolyn M. Wicks, notes that many of the services rendered by the hospital cannot be reduced to specific statistics.

Comments Miss Wicks:—"It is impossible to put into figures the amount of time and effort which members of a hospital staff must spend simply to keep abreast of the development of new drugs, medications and treatments at a time when those now being prescribed were not in use 15 years ago. These drugs, medications and treatments must also be adapted to the individual needs of each patient as prescribed by the medical staff."

The almost revolutionary changes in pharmacology are matched by those taking place in other fields of medicine—in surgery, in patient care and in all phases of the hospital's operations—observes Miss Wicks. Elaborating, Miss Wicks says:

"So much has happened in the medical world since Cottage Hospital was founded in 1919 that it is difficult for the average citizen to fully comprehend the vast variety of services a community hospital such as Cottage renders today."

Miss Wicks cites as one example of these developments the duties of a contemporary registered nurse as contrasted with a nurse in the early days of the hospital, and states:—"A nurse's duties now are much more professional in nature, and the routine services she once performed can be more effectively handled by an aide."

Another important but, perhaps, more easily appreciated example lies in the area of hospital food service, Miss Wicks points out. Where once a patient was given a standard meal served to everyone, today, at Cottage Hospital, more than 50 percent are on therapeutic diets. The dietary department endeavors to adjust the menus to the food preferences of the individual patient.

Having discussed the matter of the services rendered by the hospital to the community, Miss Wicks quickly notes that individual citizens in the community render the hospitals very valuable service as well. This is done in many ways . . . services volunteered, contributions to the Memorial Fund which are used exclusively to buy new equipment, and contributions to a building and expansion fund to help meet the increasing health needs of the community.

Speaking on the importance of new equipment, Miss Wicks says:—"At one time, this was of little importance, but today hospital equipment—costly hospital equipment—can become obsolete in a surprisingly short period of time."

Miss Wicks continues:—"Even an item as basic as a hospital bed can become outmoded in a period of less than ten years."

Beyond occasional financial contributions, Miss Wicks points to the members of Cottage Hospital's Women's Auxiliary as an example of service by some members of a community to the hospital. The tray favors for all patients, and puppets and dolls for child patients made by the Auxiliary's Sunshine Guild, individual and personal service to each patient provided by the Volunteers Guild, the books and magazines provided by the Book Cart Guild, and the equipment provided through money made by the Gift Shop Guild and other auxiliary-sponsored, fund-raising functions are specifically noted.

Praise for the Junior Volunteers who work on holidays and on summer vacation is also mentioned.

Miss Wicks concludes:—"A hospital is something which belongs to a community. It was built by the community and renders a service to it. In this respect, it is quite like the police and fire department standing ready 24 hours of every day to meet individual emergencies. It serves each member of the community although this person may not be aware of how he is being served. A good hospital—like an effective police or fire department—needs a friendly interest and concern for its welfare on the part of every citizen."

Farms Council Lets Contracts

The Farms council on Monday, May 7, awarded contracts to bidding firms for delivery of a truck, truck chassis, and for insurance premium costs on city-owned vehicles.

The city will purchase a load packer truck from the White Motor Company of Detroit, for $17,441.43; and a truck chassis from G.M.C. Truck and Coach, for $5,167.83, for the Department of Public Works.

The Grosse Pointe Insurance Associates agreed to insure city vehicles for a year for $1,395.02.

The load packer truck, with a gross vehicular weight of 46,000 pounds, will replace two older trucks of lesser weight, that the Farms plans to sell.

The body of another DPW truck still in good condition, will be remounted on the new cab and chassis.

According to City Engineer Murray M. Smith, more monies can be realized through the sale of the two old trucks, than by trading them to the firm for their trade-in values.

Herbert Heger, head of the Park Public Works Department, disclosed that only two trees, one in front of 1138 Kensington, on public property, and a private-owned tree at 1032 Harvard, were ruined by the storm. Both trees will have to be removed, he said.

Hospital Experience Here for Study

Anthony J. J. Bourke, Hospital Consultant of York, attended a luncheon meeting at Bon Secours Hospital on May 2 connection with his study of the necessity for alteration of the present hospital facility.

Dr. Bourke stated that a considerable time would be needed before expressing an opinion as to whether this hospital needs more beds.

Dr. Bourke felt that the value of a hospital to expand and the value of such expansion to a community were related problems which could not be separated from each other.

Dr. Bourke was invited to speak to the Medical Staff, Bon Secours Hospital, because of the hospital's sincere desire for a thorough study of hospital facilities in Grosse Pointe.

Writing Awards Won by Students

Grosse Pointe students have won two awards in America's largest creative-writing competition for high school pupils.

The local writing champion captured a second award and commendation in the Scholastic Magazines Writing Awards sponsored by the Sheaffer Pen Co. It was announced in New York City.

Second place winner is Simon Altman, 12, of the 7th grade at Brownell Junior High School in the poetry division.

Commendation winner James Leves, 14, of the 8th grade at Grosse Pointe University School, in the essay division.

Approximately 160,000 entries competed for a total of 424 awards. Represented were students in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and 15 foreign nations. They were judged for writing skill, originality and quality of expression by 27 prominent U.S. authors, educators and literary critics, including two former Pulitzer prize winners—dramatist Tad Mosel and novelist Henry Beetle Hough.

First and second place winners receive cash awards. Sheaffer cartridge pens and gold keys. Honorable mention winners receive keys and pen. Merit certificates are given to winners of commendations.

The Writing Awards competition was established in 1924 to encourage creative writing in high school students. Cash prizes totaling $4,665 are awarded for the best original manuscripts in major categories of writing including short story, poetry, essay and dramatic script.

Maire School Makes Pilgrimage to Washington

The sixth grade at Lewis E. Maire school returned Sunday, May 6, from its ninth annual trip to Washington, D.C. The only school in the Grosse Pointes to take a trip of this kind, the group of 81 students and 28 adults spent two most enjoyable days sight-seeing in the nation's most beautiful and historic city.

Started in 1954 by Mrs. William Adams of University place, the trip has become a tradition, with this year's group being the largest ever to have gone.

Plans having been arranged far in advance for teachers, chaperones, and a nurse, the group departed Thursday, May 3, at 6 p.m. on the B & O railroad. After having its picture taken on the lawn of the Capitol at 10 a.m. Friday morning, the group started its tour of buildings at the Capitol and Bureau of Printing and Engraving, stopping at noon for lunch at the Manger-Annapolis Hotel, where it would spend the night. With the colorful azalea bushes and flowering dogwood as a background and temperatures in the eighties the group toured Alexandria, Va., Mt. Vernon, Arlington National Cemetery, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the memorials to Lincoln, Washington, Jefferson, Taft and the Battle of Two Jims.

Highlights of the trip were visits to the F.B.I. and Smithsonian Institute as well as the world's sixth largest, Washington Cathedral, and a trip down Embassy Row.

When Saturday night arrived all regrettably climbed aboard the train feeling that for the children social studies had come alive and that pride in the nation would forever fill their hearts.

The success of the trip can largely be ascribed to the co-chairmen Mrs. T. Jack McCullagh and Mrs. Allan Pearsall and the chaperones who gave their time willingly, as well as Glynn Travel who not only arranged the entire trip but accompanied the group.

Adults with the group as well as the co-chairmen were: Miss Karen Allen and William Mestdagh, sixth grade teachers; Mrs. Herbert Walhausen, nurse; C. E. Day, Glynn Travel; and parents Mrs. Mark Belaire, Mrs. James Burke, Mrs. Albert Cain, Mrs. Ralph Cooper, Mrs. Gregory Flynn, Richard Green, Mrs. Fred Hartwig, Mrs. William Herbert, Mrs. Robert Hogue, Walter Huber, Mrs. James Humphreys, Mrs. Thomas James, Mrs. Robert Lubeck, Mrs. James Odell, William Pankhurst, Mrs. Delmo Paris, Mrs. Roger Preston, Dr. and Mrs. William Quinn, Mrs. Victor Radcliffe, Mrs. Leon Sankar and Robert Williams.

Overhead Signs Will Guide Freeway Drivers

Lane and speed control signals to guide motorists go into effect on Detroit's John Lodge Freeway May 7. Engineers watching the freeway by television can lower the speed to 40 or 25 miles an hour. The green arrows show that lanes are open. Darkened panels beside arrows carry red X's which are flashed on when the lane is blocked ahead. The experimental traffic control system will operate on 3-1/4-miles of the freeway between the Ford and Davison Interchange.

Parcells P.T.A. to Hear Special Student Program

The final meeting of the year for the Parcells Junior High School Parent Teacher Association will feature students and their work accomplishments in all areas of the curriculum. This special program, entitled, "All In Our Year's Work," will be held on Wednesday, May 16, at 8 o'clock.

The first events will be presented in the auditorium. Mr. David Teague will conduct a brief business meeting to elect the slate of officers for next year.

To open the student part of the evening Barbara Stauffer will play Chopin's "Polonaise in C# Minor." Stephen Fuller will play a violin solo, "Variations of the Carnival of Venice," accompanied by Kay Teague. An ensemble of eighth grade girls will sing three selections: "Balm in Gilead," "Down by the Riverside," and "Now the Day is Over." A double quartette of ninth grade boys will add "Aura Lee" and "Stout Hearted Men."

As the final feature of the auditorium program ninth grade girls from three sewing classes will present a fashion show, modelling their own creations. Summer dresses in all colors and styles, for sportswear and for special occasions will be displayed. The narrators for the fashion show will be Deanna Hail, Valerie Slear and Marilyn Pohnl. Their assistants will be Shari Parmalee, Marilyn Hempel and Lynn Buergel.

For the second portion of the program parents will be invited to visit specific classrooms to see displays of the year's accomplishments. In many rooms students will be working on projects and will give informal explanations and demonstrations to visitors. In the metal shop candles will be gleaming in hurricane lamps, and flowers will be blooming in flowerpot holders produced by young craftsmen. Leonard Lee, John Zentgraf, and James Hanson will be hosts, to explain the class work. The wood shop will be bustling with activity as boys file, buff, and bend plastics; demonstrate experiments and motors; and work the lathe.

Upstairs in the junior home-making rooms parents can observe girls at work sewing on their new topplers. Displays of finished products will catch the eyes of many visitors. As a special feature parents will be asked to taste-test and rate brownies prepared in four ways.

Artists will be at work in the art rooms, surrounded by colorful examples of their creative efforts. Clay work, slip molds, mosaics, fashion designs, and mobiles will demonstrate the training in color, form, balance, and design. Early bird artists will be developing transparencies. Other features will include block printing, chalk drawing, oil and water color painting, glass mosaics, metal sculpture, and blown designs. Work shown at the Annual Student Art Show, held recently at Grosse Pointe War Memorial, will be on special display.

In the science rooms there will be a variety of exhibits. In the biology room special projects, many of which were entered in the Detroit Science Fair, will be demonstrated and explained. Richard Camburn will show the results of his experiments testing the effect of thyroid on the metabolism of small animals. Tom Gignac will display graphs of the effects of tranquilizers on frog muscle. A study of the effect of antiseptics on bacteria will be explained by Wayne Thomas. Jack Christenson will display his own equipment and describe his zone electrophoresis experiments. In the physical science room newly acquired apparatus will be demonstrated by students. In other science classrooms typical seventh and eight grade laboratory activities will be shown. In all classrooms student work will be on display and teachers will be available to explain the nature of the program.

After the room visitations there will be a social hour, and refreshments will be served in the gymnasium. Room mothers under the direction of Mrs. Charles French will serve on the Hospitality Committee.

For a comprehensive view of the progress and accomplishments of Parcells students, in all subjects, parents should plan to attend this special evening program.

Woods Refuses Extra Pay Plea

Grosse Pointe Woods City Council has denied for the second time, a request from John Carlo, Inc., claiming extra compensation for materials removed in connection with the paving of Hampton and Roslyn roads.

At the regular Council meeting of Monday, May 7, Joseph E. Mihelich, attorney for John Carlo, Inc., asked additional compensation in the amount of $5,773. Claiming that the contract, drawn up by Pate & Hirm, City Engineers, was ambiguous, Mihelich urged that the Council rectify John Carlo's "honest mistake."

Under the terms of the contract specifications, John Carlo bid a price of $2.45 per cubic yard for removal of 3,877 cubic yards of excavation, not realizing that the contract specified excavation to begin below the existing slab and sub-base of the roadway. It was necessary to remove the slab and sub-base before excavation of the ground under it could begin, adding considerably to the total cubic yardage excavated.

John Carlo, Inc. subcontracted the excavation portion of the contract to Warren Excavating, who actually removed 6,916 cubic yards of material.

Warren Excavating is now demanding payment for all materials excavated, and has commenced suit against John Carlo to enforce its demand. Pate and Hirm, City Engineers, deny that the contract is in any way ambiguous, since it clearly states that payment for excavation is to be made on material taken out below the existing slab and sub-base.

Acting on the City Engineer's recommendation and on the recommendation of the City Attorney as to the legality of the existing contract, the Council denied John Carlo Inc.'s request for additional compensation.

Mason School For Cleanest Place

Stevens T. Mason School, 1840 Vernier road, took first place in the cleanest playground contest sponsored by the Council of Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs as part of the Clean-Up Week campaign.

The playgrounds of all the schools in the Grosse Pointes were judged by a committee of the Men's Garden Club and according to T. A. De Maire, president of the club, the grounds of the Mason School were "exceptionally outstanding."

John Monteith School, 1275 Cook Road, won second place, and Charles Parcells Junior High School, 20600 Mack avenue, took third place. Mr. De Maire said these two schools were exceptional and all factors had to be weighed very carefully to judge between them. "The students and faculty of these schools can be very proud of themselves," he said.

Vlasic Heading Culver Drive

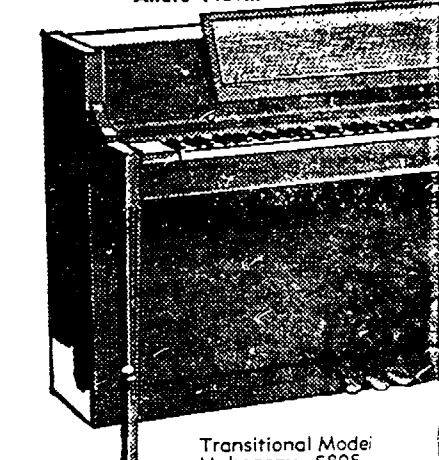

Culver Military Academy alumni and parents met last Tuesday evening at the Detroit Athletic Club to inaugurate "Culver's Program for Excellence," a fund-raising drive aimed at netting $4,995,000 to improve teachers' salaries and expand the number of scholarships available at the Northern Indiana College Preparatory School.

In charge of the meeting, one of a series of kick-off sessions now being held in cities across the country, was Robert Vlasic of South Deerparks road, regional chairman of the drive. His assistants are Messrs. Robert Koebel, Kenneth Kahn, Ray M. Whyte, Jack Campbell, Don Chamberlain, Lester S. Moll, Walter Wood, Robert K. Patterson, Robert H. Patterson, Sterling P. Berry, Dr. Benjamin Stockwell, and Mrs. Ruth P. Fox.

Culver is operated by the non-profit Culver Educational Foundation. During the academic year it serves as a college preparatory school for 850 boys, grades 8 through 12, while summer schools for 1500 boys, ages 9 1/2 to 18, are operated during July and August.

Personal solicitation of funds among Culver people in the area began immediately following the meeting. The drive locally is expected to be concluded within a six-week period.

Mason School Wins Award For Cleanest Playground

Stevens T. Mason School, 1840 Vernier road, took first place in the cleanest playground contest sponsored by the Council of Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs as part of the Clean-Up Week campaign.

The playgrounds of all the schools in the Grosse Pointes were judged by a committee of the Men's Garden Club and according to T. A. DeMaier, president of the club, the grounds of the Mason School were "exceptionally outstanding."

John Monteith School, 1275 Cook Road, won second place, and Charles Parcels Junior High School, 20600 Mack avenue, took third place. Mr. DeMaier said these two schools were exceptional and all factors had to be weighed very carefully to judge between them. "The students and faculty of these schools can be very proud of themselves," he said.

A Lawrence Gagnon is principal of the Mason School and he gave credit to James A. Claycomb, the head engineer, who takes a great deal of interest and pride in the school grounds.

Marshall C. Jameson is principal of the Monteith School and Vincent L. Peerson, principal of Parcels.

J. Arthur Shimmin, Charles L. Cooke, and Abe Bodycombe represented the Men's Garden Club, and Mrs. Emil Leidich and Mrs. Pierre V. Heffler, the Garden Club Council, when the prizes, Viburnum Tomentosum Maresi shrubs, were presented to the schools.

Miss Christine Edwards, Mrs. Clarence Maguire, Mrs. Glenn Gessell, Mrs. David Gillis, and Mrs. Heffler, president of the Council, were the committee for the Clean-Up campaign and wish to thank the schools, school organizations, stores and press for the fine cooperation which made this year's Clean-Up campaign a great success.

Trucker Clears His Conscience

A truck driver, name withheld for obvious reasons, was rewarded for finding a woman's purse in the Shores, then a twinge of conscience made him return a wallet he had taken containing a sum of money.

Mrs. Helen Jenkins, of 28 Hampton road, called Shores police on Friday, April 27, to report the loss of the wallet.

She told Lt. George LaForest that she was driving on Roslyn road in the Woods, when her purse, which she put on the rear of the car, fell off. She said she put the purse on the car while putting some things in the vehicle in front of her home.

The truck driver saw the purse fall, retrieved it, and stopped Mrs. Jenkins at Mack avenue, and gave her her lost property. After receiving a small reward, the trucker drove off.

Mrs. Jenkins checked the contents of the purse and found the wallet, containing $60, and a change purse missing. She retraced her route on Roslyn and found the change purse, but no wallet.

While LaForest was taking Mrs. Jenkins' report, the truck driver phoned the station and stated that he had the wallet and money and that he would return them to Mrs. Jenkins. The man said it was hard to return the cash when he needed it so badly.

The lieutenant thanked the man for his honesty and cooperation. Mrs. Jenkins received her wallet with contents intact, a short time later.

Students Win Speech Honors

Grosse Pointe High School students distinguished themselves in the Regional Spring Speech Contest held at Hamtramck High School last week. First places were won in three of the five categories in which competition was held, a really outstanding accomplishment by the local high school.

Sally Lichtenstein topped the field with her declamation. A first in Interpretative Reading was won by Ann Hock. Leading the way in Humorous Reading was Diane Menendez, who enjoyed her fourth regional success of this nature. In earlier years she had won honors in oratory, declamation, and interpretative reading demonstrating conclusively her great virtuosity as a speaker.

The contest was entered by 30 students from a number of high schools in the area. All had won either a first or second place in their district speech contests. Grosse Pointe sent a contingent of four students who had achieved in this fashion.

In winning her first place banner, Diane's selection for the contest was "The Third's the Easiest", a chapter from "Life Among the Savages" by Shirley Jackson. Sallie used a prize-winning college oration entitled "The Shadow of the Primitive" for her event. Ann drew her selection an hour before the contest and with this limited time to polish her interpretation won with a reading from "The Man With a Hoe" by Edwin Markham.

In tribute, each of Pack 290's five dens presented special handcrafted gifts and the Pack Committee headed by its new AKELA, Mr. George Hartemayer, presented an engraved plaque to Mr. McKenna.

A song written especially for the tribute was sung by Cubs and their parents.

Mr. McKenna expressed the need for every adult citizen in the community to participate in organized youth activities that are designed to help young citizens develop into strong and responsible men and women.

The following achievement awards were presented: Bob Cat Badges to Daniel Holmes and Bobby Hamilton; Wolf Badge to William York, Mark Czopek and Jamie Cummings; Bear Badge to Rene Garascia; Lion Badge to Richard Mast; Recruiter Badge to Bobby Pepper.

Young Shopper Loses Shoes Enroute Home

H. Monty Gage, age 7, bought a new pair of black oxfords, size 3, at Ryon's Shoe Store, 16914 Kercheval, on Thursday, April 26.

He went shopping alone, and instead of immediately returning home with his purchase, stopped off at the Mairie School playground for a few minutes, then went to Sander's.

He left his bicycle, with the new shoes beside it, at the playground. When he returned for the bike, the shoes were gone.

The boy's father, Henry T. Gage, 587 University, reported the theft to City police, who are investigating the matter. Value of the oxfords is $12.95.

To determine good soil structure use a trowel: loams when lifted will fall apart in small crumbs; sandy soils break up into individual particles; clay soils can be broken apart only by force, and then only into clods.

Check Points When Buying Annual Flats

What Appears Bargain May Not Always Provide One

While the dyed-in-the-wool gardener prefers always to grow his own plants of annuals from seeds, so that he can have the exact varieties he wishes, it sometimes happens that circumstances prevent. Then it may be necessary to buy plants already started by a local greenhouse.

Such plants are usually available in flats or similar containers of treated paper, containing from 72 to a mere dozen plants.

Naturally the size container or number of plants you buy will depend on the amount of space you wish to fill, but whether you buy few plants or many, the pitfalls are the same. Plants that have grown large and tall are the kind to avoid. They can be depended on to wilt when you transplant them. Look for short, stocky plants and buy those, whether you are buying vegetables or flowers.

Seek One Bloom

Avoid buying plants in full bloom—they will have a severe setback when transplanted. Instead, look for a container in which just one plant has started to flower. If you are buying flowers, this one will tell you the color of the variety in the container.

Unless plants are available in peat, clay, or paper pots, and can thus be moved without root loss, all flowers and buds showing color should be nipped off with thumb and finger before transplanting. This greatly increases the chances of the plant to reestablish quickly.

Don't buy plants that look wilted, even if you are told that they were watered a few hours before. Wilted plants are signs of a careless grower. Other things may be wrong with them.

Roots Hampered

Never buy a large flat in which plants are crowded and which gives you "more for your money".

Actually, it gives you less for your money because plants in it are too crowded for good

The Pointe at Its Best in Springtime

Hoses Produce May Flowers

The adage "April Showers Brings May Flowers" because "Hose Sprinkling Brings May Flowers" because of the unusual low precipitation last month. Householders in the Pointe area had to give April an assist.

According to official records kept at the Farms Water Filtration Pumping Station, Moross and Lake Shore roads, the total rainfall last month was only 1.70 inches, as compared to 5.35 inches during April, 1961.

Water usage last month in the Farms and City also jumped according to information released by Wendell Baker, plant operator, who disclosed that the pumpage last month was 76 million gallons, whereas the total water consumption during April 1961, was 68.74 million gallons.

The maximum precipitation during any one day in April, 1961, was on the 25th, when the total rainfall was 1.62 inches; the minimum, was on April 12 and 29, when only .02 of an inch was recorded.

The maximum precipitation last month occurred on the last day, Monday, April 30, when the rainfall was .72 of an inch, and according to the records, the least precipitation was on April 19, when a mere .01 of an inch came down.

The highest number of gallons of water pumped during any one day during April, 1961, at the filtration plant, was on the 24th, and that was 2.44 million gallons; the lowest was on April 2, when the consumption was 1.67 million gallons.

On the 29th of last month, water consumption was the highest, 4.79 million gallons; April 1, was the lowest, 2.11 million gallons, the records revealed.

When planted too close in flats, allowed to wilt because they are not watered, grown too long in the restricted soil of a pot or flat, plants are not good buys and don't YOU buy them.

Making New Lawn? Follow These Steps

There are four important steps in preparing for a perfect lawn. The first and most important of these is preparation of the bed, which will determine how many years a lawn will remain good. Dig deeply, turn thoroughly.

The steps after this are to rake well to destroy clods and smooth the surface so the seeds will come into close con-

Fire Blight Needs Your Attention Now

Now as the leaves begin to open is the time to take steps against fire blight, that spring scourge of specimen fruit trees and some shade trees.

Leaf Disease

The bacterial pest can be controlled by spraying with a weakened Bordeaux mixture or with an antibiotic such as streptomycin, when the temperature is 65 degrees F. or above. Two sprays are needed, the first when one-fourth of the blossoms have opened, the second spray about one week later.

The Once Lovely Daylily Comes Into Its Own in Border With New Strains

The Old 'Lemon Lily' Now Sports Every Color of the Rainbow; New Japanese Iris is an Excellent Companion

Perennials have come a long way since Grandma first planted her plot of bleeding hearts, "flags" and Canterbury bells and affectionately called it her perennial border.

Contemporary gardeners still enjoy the permanence, dependability and minimum cost and care that perennials afford. Now, however, they seek and find a lot more in beauty and variety.

New developments in hardy flowers are revolutionizing some old garden standards.

A careful selection of daylilies, for example, provides height and varied color splashes from spring through early fall. Once regarded as just another yellow flower, the daylily has taken on a whole new look, with practically every color represented except blue and white.

The newer blends, bicolors and self colors, plus improved branching and blooming habits, make it one of today's most desirable garden subjects.

No Help Needed
Hemerocallis, or daylilies as they are commonly called, are truly a "lady's flower" and once planted they take care of themselves.

Their amazing ability to perform under adverse soil and weather conditions has boosted their popularity among all types of gardeners, green thumb or otherwise.

Plant divisions of daylilies may be transplanted any time, but the recommended times are in early spring or mid-fall.

A New Iris
Another rewarding perennial plant is the Marigold iris, a vastly improved strain of Japanese iris hybridized by Walter Marx Gardens in Oregon. For a most striking effect, a grouping of blue or purple Marigolds near yellow or orange daylilies is suggested.

Japanese iris are moisture-loving plants which require an acid soil, easily attained with the generous use of peat moss. They start blooming in June after the tall bearded iris and continue through July.

Marigold iris produce blooms up to 11 inches in diameter on tall, graceful spikes that make real showpieces in the garden or in bouquets.

Little Work, Big Return: That's Corn

Just Remember These Two Rules to Reap Good Eating

Corn is the vegetable everyone wants to grow because everyone wants to eat it fresh from the garden. No wonder, for it loses its sweetness and flavor fast when picked ahead of time and shipped to market.

The way to insure utmost freshness is to set a pot of water over a flame on the stove and then pick the corn from your garden. By the time you have removed the husks the water will be boiling. In goes the corn, and in ten minutes you'll be sitting down to a dish fit for a king.

Corn is an easy vegetable to grow if you remember that it is a "heavy feeder" and wind is the pollinating agent. Both these statements need amplification.

PICK RICH SOIL
Corn produces best when well fed, so plant it in good, rich soil and, as soon as it is well up, spread extra fertilizer down the side of each row.

Because wind pollinates corn, blowing pollen from the tassels onto the silk, corn should be planted in blocks of short rows spaced three feet apart. This concentrated planting assures good pollination and plenty of "roastin' ears."

Plant corn seed two inches deep if your soil is sandy, only an inch deep in clay. If you plant the seeds thicker than you intend the plants to stand, you can pull out the weaker plants after they are a few inches high and leave only the strongest, spaced 10 inches apart.

A warm weather crop, corn should be planted after soil and air have warmed.

WEED PROBLEM
Once plants are up, weeds must be kept out. Cultivating between rows or mulching with black plastic if you do not wish to cultivate are both satisfactory.

Corn attracts two chief insect pests, both highly destructive. The corn earworm is a caterpillar that burrows through the silk and feeds on the kernels at the tip of the ear. To control it, spray the silk until they are wet with a mixture of 1/2-cup of 25 per cent DDT emulsifiable concentrate in a gallon of water. Do this 1, 4 and 7 days after the silks appear.

European corn borer, another caterpillar, feeds in both stalks and ears and may enter the ear from any direction. One tablespoonful of the same DDT concentrate mentioned above in a gallon of water, sprayed onto the ear shoots and the center of the leaf whorls at first sign of borers, then repeated 3 times at 5-day intervals, will control this pest.

Nature's Little Helpers Can Give You a Big Hand In Making a Better Garden

Get Tired Using a Shovel? The Earthworm Works Harder and Likes to Do It; Meet Some Other Unknown Friends

Get a lot of satisfaction out of seeing your lawn grow green and healthy, your flowers produce "show case" blossoms? Well, don't be too proud—the credit isn't all yours! Most of it belongs to millions of Nature's creatures, hard at work in your yard the year around!

For instance, your topsoil is literally alive with tiny creatures whose activity aerates the soil, and whose wastes enrich it. A mere thimbleful of topsoil contains millions of microscopic plants and animals, each contributing to the soil's fertility.

Many break down humus and free the minerals needed to support new garden growth.

Live Cultivators
Take the earthworms. They spend their whole lives (not just weekends) cultivating for you. Believe it or not, those wriggly fellows can turn over as much as 18 tons of soil an acre in one year. At the end of your shovel handle, that would be work.

If weeds, such as crabgrass and ragweed, are troublesome, do you know the "naturalistic" way of controlling them? Some of the poison controls, which won't harm worms, may kill birds which eat the worms. These birds thrive on plant-killing insects in the garden, so it pays to keep them healthy.

The outdoors is marvelously intricate once you learn to understand some of it. Knowing more about the "natural principles of land use" will make gardening more fun. The National Audubon Society's summer camps may be just the place for you to get this type of introduction to the world around you.

At the 333-acre island that is the Audubon Camp of Maine in the cold, clean waters of Moscongus Bay, a lot of details can be absorbed about the make-up of the North Woods in addition to the basic principles of what makes Nature tick. Only one hour's drive from New York City is the Audubon Camp of Connecticut, and in the lovely lake country near Sarona, is the Audubon Camp of Wisconsin.

Scientists Instructors
At the Audubon camps the students, all adults, spend most of the time in the out-of-doors, learning in nature's own laboratory under scientist-instructors who are also expert field naturalists. For more information about program and field trips, write to National Audubon Society, Camp Division, 1130 Fifth Avenue, New York 28, N. Y.

The earth is an island in time. Living on it is a challenge in co-operation. What makes your garden grow? Your own intelligent work backed by the activities of millions of unseen

Shady Accents Year to Year

There are not too many flowers needing little attention that will bloom throughout the summer in full shade, but the old-fashioned impatiens is one of the best. And although it dies at frost, once you have planted you need never buy again.

The most widely used form is the Garden Balsam, with its double blooms on upright stems. But the form Sultana is even more showy and easily raised year after year from cuttings off the original plants.

It is not only excellent for edging, but makes a wonderful accent among the evergreens in a northside planting, where the rosy red single flowers grow in number as the season advances.

To have plenty of these little gems each year, make cuttings from the tops of the strongest stems a little before frost, stand them in water for a couple of weeks to form roots, and pot for use in an indoor window, where full-sized plants will develop before spring. Two to three weeks before tender-species planting time, make all the cuttings you can use, each two to three inches long, and stand separately in small glasses or baby-food jars.

They'll have complete root systems in time for setting out after all danger of frost has passed. Root separately to prevent root systems from tangling. They can be ready earlier by potting in small pots, but this raises a danger of damping off and direct planting in the ground results in little loss.

BELLS THAT AREN'T

Exotic green bells that may be used fresh or dried for winter use, are yours when you grow Bells of Ireland in your garden. Each "bell" is actually a modified leaf, with a tiny flower inside it, but the effect is that of bell-shaped flowers.

All-Time Great Rose Now Ready for All

The new Jackson & Perkins rose, the orange red hybrid tea, TROPICANA, is the first rose in history to win 13 international awards—all prior to its introduction. Its latest triumph is the All-American Rose Award for 1963.

For the first time in history... rose is making its debut... the amazing background of... international awards.

The latest prize in its triumph... sweep through country... country is the coveted... of the All-America Rose... selection committee.

Developed by the famous... hybridist, Mathias... Tropicana literally... the boards when it won... awards in nine countries before... getting the All-America... distinction.

The previous all-time international award winner was the floribunda rose, Fashion, developed by E. S. Boerner, plant research director and secretary of the Jackson & Perkins Company. It won eight top awards between its 1949 introduction and 1954.

A fountain of sparkling mass and fragrance, enormous masses of the mist disease resistant foliage yet developed by plant breeders, exuberant growth all too rarely seen in garden roses today — characterize this, the most monumental rose creation of our time.

Not only has Tropicana won the major European and American awards but rose hybridists, the men who vie with each other for greater excellence in America's favorite flower, universally acclaim it as the rose world's dream plant.

This vibrant orange-red beauty—the result of a cross between a Peace seedling and an Alpine Glow seedling—far exceeds its forebears in vigor, hardiness, disease resistance and brilliance of color.

Its color—brand new in the rose world—is equally remarkable in its intensity, brilliance and durability. There is virtually no change in the hue of each flower from the moment the blossom bursts open until the spent flower drops off cleanly. Furthermore, the blooms withstand the severest weather and will last up to two weeks without blemish.

When cut for indoor use, blooms have an average vase life of one week. In fact, this variety is already well known among the commercial growers who produce flowers for the florist trade.

The 4 1/2 to 5 inch blossoms are produced in unusual abundance since nearly every cane bears several long stemmed flowers of classical exhibition quality and size.

The plant itself is remarkable. It grows from three feet in the more temperate areas to five and six feet in warmer climates. Each plant is heavily branched and well clothed with the most rugged foliage to be found on any rose. It is perfectly adaptable to all parts of the country, from Minnesota, New York and Maine to California, Texas and Florida.

In constant activity throughout the growing season, Tropicana is a variety to delight the amateur—as it has already captivated the professional rose growers. As one official Jackson & Perkins rose tester declared: "This is the most arresting, ravishing thing in the rose world." Never has there been a variety so disease immune or so widely acclaimed throughout America as the ideal home garden rose.

Marygrove to Give Mothers Day Party

The burgeoning May spring-time will blossom into a pretty party at Marygrove College on Sunday, May 13.

Appropriately, Mothers' Day has been chosen for the Mother-Daughter breakfast sponsored annually by the Marygrove Mothers' Guild. Mrs. Harry Seitz, guild president, has asked Mrs. Paul P. Galvin, of Lathrop Village, to act as chairman.

Serving with her as co-chairman are Mrs. Alfred Pelham, of Oakman Boulevard, and Mrs. Peter Wayne, of Yorkshire Road.

Mrs. George Kessel, of Dearborn, social chairman of the guild for the year, has invited mothers of freshmen students at Marygrove to act as hostesses for the day.

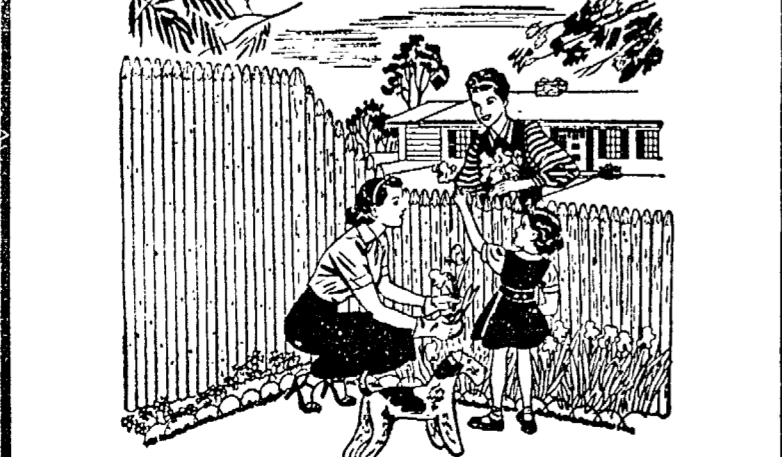

A low mass at 10:30 a.m. in the Liberal Arts Chapel will precede the breakfast at which the Rev. Arthur M. Schaffran, a teacher at Sacred Heart Seminary, will speak. Father Schaffran is known for participation as a speaker at Day of Recollection and Cana Conferences.

What to Group In Pot Planting

Growers and florists are making it easier for homemakers to choose more varied and interesting color combinations in potted plants for both indoor and outdoor decoration.

In scientific plant growing techniques, each season brings a growing abundance of plants suitable for combining either in a single large clay pot or in boxes and planters. But spring, as always, provides a greater variety of flowering plants to blend pleasingly with year-round foliage or green plants.

You can create your own pot-plant color arrangements by selecting both flowering and green foliage plants in individual clay pots. The porosity of clay containers safeguards their health and prolongs your enjoyment. Such spring favorites as hyacinths, tulips, narcissus, crocuses, begonias, ferns, fuschia, geraniums, petunias, and ivy can be arranged in boxes or planters to suit yourself. In shaping the symmetry of your own box displays, it's wise to place taller, long-stemmed plants in the rear and spot the lower, fuller and more colorful plants in front.

If you're seeking the right color combinations for an individual clay pot, it's wise to buy the professionally grown product. Growers know from experience just what types of plants—and how many—will fit comfortably into a single clay container. Unless you're a thoroughly experienced pot planter, you may try and crowd too many varieties into a single pot and the results could be unfortunate.

One of the many spring assortments generally available in one clay pot includes a combination of cyclamens, kalanchoes, hyacinths, tulips, marigolds and coleus. Blends of this type are particularly desirable because they provide bright, cheerful colors, varied with contrasting hues of green.

A man who is dead broke seldom has little life left in him.

How To Keep Indoor, Outdoor Colors Mobile

A good way to brighten both indoor and outdoor living with portable color schemes is to keep a good part of your clay-potted house-plant collection in planters with rollers or casters.

This will allow you to change locations to accommodate plants' preferences for sun or shade, and you can more easily shift your mobile gardens around to provide "instant" decor for living rooms, porches, patios or terraces.

Don't throw sand in your own eyes by blaming your mistakes on someone else.

Police Seeking Messy Children

City police are keeping a special watch in the 600 block on Rivard, searching for children who discovered a messy pre-Easter use for eggs.

A. E. Taylor, 686 Rivard, returned to his home on Tuesday, April 24, after spending 10 days out of town. He found remains of eggs that had been thrown at the front of his house, a jam sandwich stuck on the back screen, and pieces of broken pop bottles littering the driveway.

Border Disputes Won't Exist When There's a Theme

Strive for Unity In Those Perennial Beds; Best Approach is Through Dominance by One of the Showier Flowers

Signs of growth in the perennial border are anticipated with as much pleasure as the appearance of the first flowers. Since these plants bloom year after year and give color throughout the summer, they generally form the major part of the garden scene.

A common fault with perennial borders is that they lack a central idea. Stressing one of the showier perennials—peonies, daylilies, Oriental poppies, phlox or whatever is preferred—will give the planting an integrated and restful appearance. When the central theme is determined, some of the following perennials might be chosen for edging and fillers, as well as to increase the period of bloom.

For early color along a border dominated by any of the important perennials, rock cress (Arabis albidia or A. alpina) may be used in quantity, since it takes up little space. Both single and double kinds are white with silvery foliage.

Among blue perennials for the foreground are the forget-me-nots, such as improved Indigo Blue Gem or the familiar M. palustris semperflorens. Ground ivy (Nepeta mussini), another useful small plant, has silvery foliage topped with spikes of minute lavender-blue flowers. The dwarf early veronica (V. amethystina and V. incana), with woolly leaves and spikes of intense blue, and Lavender Mist, an improved meadow rue, help to round out the list of edging plants in this prized tone.

The Balloon Flower
Platycodon (balloon flower) are long-lived perennials that combine well with phlox or daylilies. P. mariesii, only 12 inches high, has deep blue flowers, while taller sorts are found in shades of pink and white as well. Recent introductions include doubles: Bristol Blue Bird, white Bristol Bride, lavender Bristol Belle and faint pink Bristol Blush. These are exquisite in texture and grow to medium height. From Philadelphia northward, balloon flower is dependable.

Where borders are in full sun and well drained, perennial candytuft (Iberis) will put on a show in May, and perhaps intermittently in summer. Little Gem and Snowflake are dazzling white, while Gibraltarica, not as well known, is lilac blue. The common English cowslip or primrose, is also a cheerful yellow. The large-flowered hybrid primulas, in many colors, may be transplanted after blooming or set out in early spring or fall. Leopardbane (Doronicum caucasicum or Mme. Mason) produces yellow daisy-like flowers when tulips are in bloom, and is effective combined with them. Though fleeting border plants, columbines are dainty and colorful. The liability of short lives is easily overcome by starting a few from seed each year.

Something Old
In June, dianthus (old-fashioned "pinks") lend grace and color as secondary perennials in a phlox or daylily border. The frosty foliage is decorative throughout the year. Plants can be set out in fall or early spring, and transplanted after blooming.

Distinctly a novelty—and a fine one—is astilbe Fanal, a perennial spirea that adds spice and color with its red, fernlike foliage and red flower spikes. The leaves turn to bronze green in late summer. Corabella (heuchera), while not particularly showy, more than pay their way.

White shasta daisies are fine buffers. A few have proved temperamental—scant in bloom and short in life span—but Mount Shasta we recommend heartily. It grows sturdily and produces quantities of white flowers.

Baptisia and thermopsis are easy to establish, but their spires do not last as long as the daisies. Baptisia (false indigo) has spikes of navy blue, pea-like flowers followed by metallic seedpods that are valued for winter bouquets. Thermopsis caroliniana, taller still, has spires of bright yellow blossoms.

Some Long Blooms
Oriental poppies, among the earliest perennials strong enough to dominate a border, can be useful for interplanting too. Supplying six or seven weeks of bloom, their main liability is dying back to leave large gaps in the bed. They are sometimes combined with phlox, peonies and daylilies.

Peonies will also give six or seven weeks of bloom in the early summer. Since their foliage remains relatively attractive, they will not be as difficult to use, either for dominant flowers or for interplanting. The rounded heads contrast interestingly with spires of bloom. Daylilies and phlox may be chosen by variety to flower from May to September. Abundant blooms in soft colors make them equally adaptable for one-plant borders, for dominant flowers with other perennials or for subordinate interest.

How to Grow A Bird's House

Bird houses are only one of many things that can be made of gourds. So put large-size gourds on the list you give mother of seeds you'd like to plant this spring.

Soak the seeds overnight in water and plant them in a sunny place in the best soil you have. Give them plenty of water whenever it does not rain for a week. Sprinkle fertilizer around the plants once a month so they will have larger fruits for larger bird houses.

You can wait until after frost to harvest big gourds or even until next spring. When you cut them off the vines, leave an inch or so of stem attached to each gourd. Tie string around this stem so you can hang the gourd in a dry, airy place to cure. With a soft cloth wrung out of cool water whenever it does not rain for a week, sprinkle fertilizer around the plants once a month so they will have larger fruits for larger bird houses.

After gourds are so dry the seeds rattle when you shake them, drill a small hole in one side, shake out the seeds and then saw a hole the right size for the bird you want to use the house. For wrens, make the hole just the size of a quarter dollar.

Drill two little holes, one on each side of the top of the gourd, and through these push a piece of copper wire long enough to go over the branch of a tree and twist on itself several times. This wire holder will make it easy for you to hang up your bird house when it is finished.

THRIVE ON 'ABUSE'

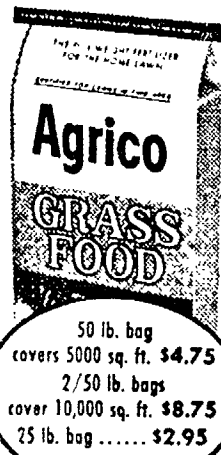

Pick those summer squash when they are small and keep right on picking them. Production of the plants is greatly reduced when the first fruits are allowed to grow too large.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

This sudden summer weather has brought Pointe Gardens to full spring bloom in a rush and all the garden clubs are in a fever of activity.

The Central Zone meeting of the Garden Club of America is being held in Detroit on May 23 and 24 and the Garden Club of Michigan is the hostess group with Mrs. Gaylord W. Gillis, Jr., as chairman.

On Tuesday, May 22 there will be a lighted garden tour from 8:30 until 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. Alvan McCauley, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Ford II, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sheldon III and Mr. and Mrs. Alger Sheldon opening their magnificent gardens for the evening visits. The Allan Sheldens will give a dinner in their home preceding the Tuesday tour for visitors.

Garden Club of Michigan members and their husbands will join Mrs. Howard Smith for cocktails in her Provincial road home before dining at the Country Club on Wednesday, May 23.

The regular monthly meeting of the Garden Club of Michigan will be held May 24 in the lecture hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts with Myron Sutton, of the National Park Services, as speaker. Luncheon will be served in the Kresge court of the museum before the meeting.

More Garden Gleanings

Mrs. Elmore Frank drew our attention to a mistake in the list of garden tours sponsored May 27 and 28 by the Detroit Garden Center. The ninth garden on the tour was reported as that of Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman when the garden in question should be that of Mrs. Standish Backus.

The Franks will be leaving this week-end for a garden vacation. Mr. F. is just as much of a gardening addict as his wife. She will be a delegate to the national convention of State Federated Garden Club in Los Angeles, May 13-14.

Then the couple will visit San Francisco and the Seattle World's Fair. Mr. and Mrs. Frank will also travel to Seaside, Oregon, to pick up some tips from renowned hybrid lily grower Jan de Graaf before coming home.

Severo Ballet Set For Closing Event

Highlight of Season to Be Staged in Ford Auditorium Saturday Night; Symphony Members to Be Conducted by Wayne Dunlap

Severo Ballet, Inc., will present the closing performance of its 1961-62 season Saturday, May 12, at 8:30 p.m., in Ford Auditorium. This event, with Wayne Dunlap conducting members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will mark the most ambitious endeavor of the company in its 18-year history.

A highlight of the evening will be the Detroit premiere of "Fiesta," a ballet of South American rhythms set to the music of Morton Gould's "Latin-American Symphonette." Choreography, decor and costumes by Enrique Martinez, Assistant Ballet Master of American Ballet Theater.

Included in the program will be "Serenade," a dance interpretation of Brahms' "Serenade No. 2 in A Major," and "Night Reflections," a dramatic ballet in modern idiom to Benjamin Britten's "Variations on a Theme of Frank Bridge." Both ballets were created by Sandra Severo, artistic director of Severo Ballet.

The fourth work to be presented will be "Rhapsody," a mood ballet set to the musical works of three contemporary American composers: Wayne Barlow, Bernard Rogers and Howard Hanson. Choreography by David McLain, assistant to the artistic director of Severo Ballet.

Costumes and decor for "Serenade," "Night Reflections" and "Rhapsody" were designed by Wilmer Weiss of New York. Helen Markovitch, wardrobe

Shores Garden Club to Meet

The annual meeting of the Grosse Pointe Shores Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Maguire, of Lochmoor boulevard this Friday, May 11.

Mrs. Maguire will be assisted by Mrs. Ben W. Beyer, Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. M. K. Zwolinski.

mistress of the company, executed the designs of all the costumes.

Severo Ballet, Inc., was able to commission Mr. Martinez to stage "Fiesta" here in Detroit, because of the highly successful outcome of its current season's fund raising drive which was undertaken by the organization's Women's Committee headed by Mrs. William M. Day. The Pointe women raised the largest percentage of the $17,000 which was realized in this year's campaign, the most successful in the history of the ballet.

This performance marks the first time Severo Ballet has been able to present four such diversified, newly commissioned ballets in one season.

Tickets for the May 12 performance are available at Ford Auditorium, Grinnell's Downtown, Marwil's Northland and Eastland.

Library Friends Dinner May 16

The major event of the year for Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library—the annual dinner and meeting—will be held next Wednesday, May 16, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Harry G. Salsinger, education editor of the Detroit News, is to be guest speaker. He will discuss "Some New Ideas in Education" in Michigan and throughout the country.

More than 100 members of the Friends and of the Library staff are expected at the 7 p.m. dinner, said W. Howard T. Snyder, president of the Friends.

Members are urged to make reservations for the dinner by Friday, May 11, with the Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

Following the meal there will be a short business session, at which five persons are to be elected to the board of directors.

The chairman, will report for the nominating committee, and other committee chairmen will make their annual reports.

After the meeting the directors will meet to elect officers for the coming year. Salsinger has been an editorial staff member of the Detroit News 14 years, and education editor for the past four years. He said he will describe the new theories of education which have been proposed, and some of which have been put into practice in various parts of the country.

"I will try to analyze some of these new ideas and point out whether they have been helpful," Salsinger said. "I will explain, too, that some of the so-called new ideas are not really new."

"In my work we try not to take sides on these issues. Instead, we try to point out what the issues are so that the people may decide them. There is one point on which I feel strongly, however. That is the belief that the schools should be run by the people, and not by the educators alone."

Salsinger said he hopes for a lively question and answer period at the conclusion of his talk. Others who will assist on the committee, are: Mmes. Robert C. Weber, Philip Kidder, Harold Kupfer, Charles Talbot, Arthur Powers, Frank Geisler, Russell O'Heron, John Ritterdorf, Thomas Flynn, Lawrence Nagle, Clarence Gleeson, Edward Cole, Raymond Bergen, Jerry Armstrong, S. J. Tesaura and Walter Hyatt.

Guild Planning Dinner Benefit

Some groups, in the spirit of spring, strive to inspire others to beautify the exterior of homes, and gardens and things, while others try to brighten up things indoors.

The St. Francis Guild is numbered among the latter. The group is busy at St. Francis Home for Boys, preparing for a Buffet Dinner to be served at the Home, 2701 Fenkell avenue, Detroit, on Saturday, May 12, at 7 p.m.

The dinner will be an elaborate affair. It will be held to raise funds to "freshen up and dress up" and completely refurbish the Boys' playroom, and to replace worn-out furniture and broken games.

A short program will follow, in which the Most Rev. Charles L. Nelligan, D.D., will be the guest speaker.

Among the members of the committee are Mrs. James F. McDonnell, Jr., of Provincial road, and Mrs. John Edd Peel of Roland road.

Mrs. Albert J. Steiner, guild president, is chairman of the event, and Mrs. Clem Glavin, co-chairman.

Youth Council Holding Dance

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Youth Council is brightening their long weekend, while the teachers are at conference, with a Match-Me Record Hop, Saturday evening, May 12, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

Bill Taylor, chairman of the dance, explains that a "Match-Me Hop" means that couples should match each other in color and type of outfit worn such as each with grey Bermudas and white sweaters, etc.

Jim Tadd, Grosse Pointe High School senior, will act as disc jockey with favorite record albums collected by Midge Garvey. Highlight of the evening will be a limbo contest with prizes going to the couple able to dance under the lowest bar.

The party will take place both on the Center's main floor and on the lakeside terrace, weather permitting, with plans to serve refreshments both in and outdoors.

This will probably be the last party of the season for the prep and high school set except for a summer semi-formal after school is out. All students in grades 9-12 of Grosse Pointes' public, private and parochial schools are invited. It is an informal couples only affair with an admission of $1 per person including refreshments.

Rival Art Show At Scarab Club

Michigan painters who believe that what they put on canvas should have a resemblance to the objective world as seen by the ordinary mortal, are to have their day.

This year's Michigan Artists' Show, one of the big art events of the year at the Detroit Institute of Arts, is all set to open. The paintings have been judged and the selections are 99 percent abstract art.

The Salon des Refuses at the Scarab Club will be seen through May 15, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. It will contain the works of a number of Michigan artists who have won top prizes from their works at the Michigan Artists' Show in other years when the "abstract academy" was not the dominant style.

Cancer pad sewing will begin at 11 a.m. and luncheon will be served at 12:30. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Allen Sweeney, TU 1-8562 or Mrs. Frederick Hughes, TU 1-4838.

New officers for the coming year will be installed. Mrs. B. F. Martin, of Hawthorne road, will head the group as president and other officers from the Pointe area are Mrs. Byron Phillips, Mrs. O. C. Williams, Mrs. James Streicher, Mrs. Donald E. Shaw, Mrs. Patrick J. Burke, and Mrs. Richard Schmitz.

Church Women to Hold Parley

St. Paul Lutheran Church, Grosse Pointe, will be the host church to the Second Convention of the Detroit East Conference of the American Lutheran Church Women, May 15. Two identical sessions will be held to enable all the women to hear the speaker, Rev. Harold H. Martinson, after 12:45 p. m.—Evening 7:45 p. m.

Rev. Harold H. Martinson, a missionary of The American Lutheran Church, is currently home on furlough from his work in Hong Kong, where he has been serving as president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary.

He was born in China, the son of pioneer missionaries and has lived most of his life among the Chinese. Following his education in this country, he returned as a missionary to China in 1930. In 1946, he became a professor at Lutheran Theological Seminary in Central China. Because of the Communist invasion in 1948, the institution was moved to Hong Kong, and they are serving to the present time.

Largely due to the transfer to Hong Kong, Lutheran mission work was begun among the thousands of refugees pouring out of Communist China, and today a flourishing church with about 40 congregations and 12,000 souls has been established. Over 100 students have been graduated from the Seminary during its stay in Hong Kong and they are serving the church throughout Southeast Asia.

Besides being president of the Seminary, Rev. Martinson during his past term has served as vice president of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Hong Kong and chairman of the Lutheran missions, having representatives from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Germany, and Lutheran churches in the U.S.A. Rev. Martinson has made a special study of the rise and development of Communism in China and Southeast Asia.

He is the author of "Red Dragon Over China" and "Under The Red Dragon."

At the present time, Rev. and Mrs. Martinson (nee Charlotte Rosendahl) are making their home in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Luncheon at 12 noon will be preceded by a cocktail hour. All reservations must be made by Tuesday noon, May 15, to Mrs. E. J. Hookanson, TU 4-9544, or Mrs. Arthur Seder, TU 6-1549.

Hospital Sponsors Kitchen Tour May 24

Seven Pointe Kitchens Will Go On Display to Benefit Cottage Hospital; Tea and Pantry Sale to Follow Tour in Nurses Residence

If kitchens are your penchant, seven of Grosse Pointe's newest and loveliest will be opened for visitors Thursday, May 24, from 1 to 5 o'clock.

This ever popular tour is sponsored annually by the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital. Tickets are priced at $1.25 and may be obtained by calling general ticket chairman, Mrs. Arthur Watts, TU 5-8058. They are also available at the office of Cottage Hospital and at three kitchen remodeling agencies; Curtis-Mower, Mutschler, and Pointe Kitchens.

General chairman of the tour is Mrs. George P. Johnson Jr. who has appointed the following committee to assist her. In charge of patroness tickets is Mrs. Watson Beach, hostess chairman, Mrs. Charles Grant; pantry shop, Mrs. C. L. Yone; flag chairman, Mrs. Frank J. Berl; and tea chairman, Mrs. J. Paul Kennedy.

The George DeClerk home is one of the newer kitchens to be shown on the tour. Located at 744 Sheldon Road, this ultra-modern kitchen features under cabinet lights, food and plate warmers, white spindrift countertops and beige terrazzo flooring.

The breakfast area affords a magnificent view of Lake St. Clair. Burnt orange Italian woven table mats, stainless steel and Finnish pottery table settings are used to complement the northern maple and walnut tones in the cupboards and the natural brick walls. This kitchen has been aptly named "Functional Living in a Space Age."

Second on the list of impressive kitchens is the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Whitney McCutcheon of 878 Lochmoor. This kitchen deserves its title of "Efficient Highlight" by having a stove island in the center which makes it possible to reach the oven, sink and dishwasher with just one step.

A formal table setting with organdy mats, Spode pattern Blenheim reproduction china, and antique crystal and bronze candelabra complete the decor.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Mashmeyer of 590 Renaud enjoy "Turquoise Tranquility" in their lovely kitchen, which overlooks the magnificent pool and outdoor terracing. Terra Cotta walls, turquoise louvered cupboards and beige terrazzo flooring enhance the beautiful open fireplace and unique bar, which opens from the kitchen into the activities room.

Next, guests will delight in seeing how compatibly "3 Generations Live" in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spitzley, of 740 South Oxford road. This cheery kitchen decorated in pink and white has a sliding bottle glass cupboard with matching ceiling light. One of the items to be noted here is the trap door for cans which empties to the outside. The family room connects the kitchen and is casually accented with a copper chafing dish and wooden accessories; a formal setting in the dining room will include Spode Goldenvine on a natural linen cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Farr of 436 Roland road with their "Compact Carousel" kitchen have a sparkling combination of pumpkin and beige accented by fruitwood provincial cupboards. Imperia glass in bottle green, and limes match the charming canopy ceiling and pumpkin snowflakes on the wallpaper.

Next on the tour will be Earl court. This "Bonus Stop" will include several newly finished homes built by Richard Kimbrough. His own Early American kitchen opens into a family room with a nautical air. Natural grass place mats will grace the table with Spode pattern china called Tradewinds Lowestoft. Note the various sailing vessels on each plate.

Also featured in Earl court is the kitchen of Mrs. Muir Hotchkiss and Mrs. John H. Potter, who enjoy having occasional supper trays. These are set up in bright red and white stripes to contrast with the green garden and red geraniums. A formal dining room table draped in Alencon lace will have white china with a feather treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schnur of 1108 Audubon have just recently completed their "Cozy Country Kitchen." This warm and friendly kitchen is decorated in soft turquoise complemented by pine cupboards. The place mats of matching pine finish are enhanced by American Stoneware to complete the country feeling of this most delightful room.

Tour guests are urged to attend the attractive pantry shop sale and tea which follows the tour at the nurses' home in Ridge road. This sale includes some of the Pointe's outstanding gourmet recipes as well as the ever popular celery seed dressing and sweet and sour bean relish.

League Holding State Council

Two members of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe will attend the Bi-annual State Council in Ypsilanti, May 16-17, Mrs. Leonard Slowin, their president, announced.

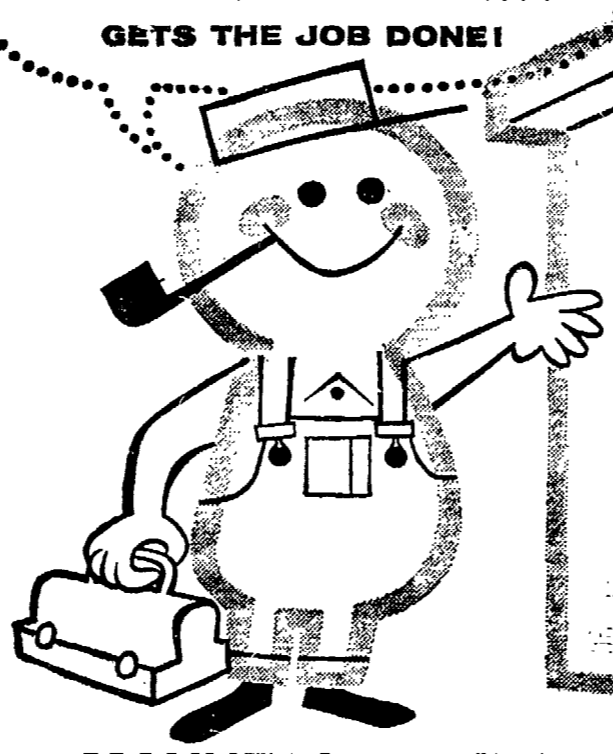

Official delegates to Council from the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters will be Mrs. Edward D. Cox, 1314 Bedford road, Voters Service; and Mrs. Slowin.

"After hearing a Council recap of the work of the Michigan Constitutional Convention, our current State Item I project," Mrs. Slowin said, "Delegates from 33 Michigan Leagues will block out next year's work on Con Con." Delegates will also make plans for State Item II—a year's study of present and needed state laws covering home rule for local and metropolitan units of government, mergers of local units of government, and township powers.

The ladies will hear an address, "Local Government, Metropolitan Super-government and the State," by Arthur W. Bromage, Ph. D., following a banquet Wednesday evening, May 16, in the Wolverine Room of the Huron Hotel. Dr. Bromage, well-known author, consultant and lecturer on local government, is professor of political science at the University of Michigan.

Michigan League members will also hear a report on the state of the League, given by their state president, Mrs. Thomas Snelham of Birmingham. The LWV of the United States, with 132,000 members, is a non-partisan organization dedicated to increasing public un-

Consuls' Wives Feted by AAUW

"Grosse Pointe is a friendly, beautiful suburb," was the consensus expressed by wives of consular officials at a recent coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Raymond Wertz of Balfour road.

The get-together was arranged by the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women as a get acquainted session prior to the appearance of the consular wives at a panel discussion before the May 17 luncheon meeting of AAUW at the War Memorial.

The world-traveled ladies included Mrs. Giuseppe Della Croce, wife of the Italian Consul, who lives in Grand Marais boulevard; Mrs. E. P. Waring, whose husband is British Vice-Consul, and who lives in Nottingham road; Mrs. Blair Birkett, wife of the Canadian Consul, of Three Mile drive and Mrs. Edward Johansson of Detroit whose husband is Honorary Consul from Sweden.

Mrs. Giuseppe Della Croce is the mother of twin girls and two boys ranging in ages from seven to nine, and all attend St. Clair de Montefalco School.

Mrs. E. P. Waring has two sons attending Defer School and another son, the youngest attends Grosse Pointe Nursery. Mrs. Waring reports that her oldest son, 9, has remained very British but the two youngest are very much American.

Mrs. Blair Birkett of Ottawa is also very cosmopolitan. Her four children are living in as many countries: Canada, U.S., Uruguay and Argentina.

The fourth guest at the early morning get together, Mrs. Edward Johansson, has lived in Detroit for 11 years and she and her husband are now U.S. citizens. They have four children and love Michigan because parts of it remind them of their native Sweden.

All four consular wives plus two other ladies, Mrs. Alain Chailous, wife of the French Consul and Mrs. Estabon Merzalles, wife of the Consul from Mexico, will be part of the panel at the AAUW general meeting next Thursday, May 17.

In addition to the special international panel at this next meeting of AAUW, Mrs. Frank Thompson will present the president's annual report which will be followed by installation of officers, Songs by the Choral Group will also be featured.

Reservations for this May general meeting are due by May 15. Mrs. Donald K. Pokorny, ED 1-9915, or Mrs. Oswald M. Robbins, VA 2-6304, are the members to call for reservations. Hostesses are Mrs. C. Q. Swenson and Mrs. Charles Leavitt. The meeting is being sponsored by AAUW's Status of Women Group.

DBC to Show New Fashions

At the Detroit Boat Club on Saturday, May 12, mothers and daughters will get together for "Summer a la Mode."

Mrs. Frank W. Hausmann, Jr., her co-chairman Mrs. John Deener with the cooperation of their committee which includes Mrs. Larry Wheeler, Mrs. James W. Surbrook, Mrs. Arthur H. Engstrom, Mrs. Stanley M. Huestis, Mrs. Jarvis J. Schmidt, Mrs. Robert P. Seeber and Mrs. Allan Neef have arranged a luncheon and showing of summer garments by The Village Store and Young Clothes — Kercheval on the Hill.

Americana fashions featuring calico, chambray, denim, pique and bandanna prints in a new, fascinating and sophisticated way as well as this old-fashioned, new fashion approach for the younger set will be shown.

Among the mothers, moppets and teen agers who will model will be Mrs. Thomas C. Stirling, Jr., Mrs. Richard E. Hinks, Mrs. Wilton L. Henderson, Lanier Gray, Cathy Burke, Sue O'Connell, Bev Ponder, Sherrill Palmer, Nancy Neef and Diane Seeber.
