

HURT AT PLAY
Shores police took David Williams, 12, of 305 Grosse Pointe boulevard, to Jon Se-cours Hospital on Tuesday, where he was a guest.

July 24, for treatment of a deep gash on his right knee. He suffered the injury while playing in the Shores Municipal Park, where he was a guest.

Joins Disposal Authority

will be added, making a grand total of 80,952.
According to the Agreement, other communities will be contacted and encouraged to join the Authority, either as constituent members, or as contracting communities.

The proposed location of the incinerator is directly opposite the present dumping grounds used by the Park, Farms and City, at Quinn and Fourteen and a Half Mile roads, between Gratiot and Harper avenues, Clinton Township, in Macomb County.

The present dumping ground, comprising eight acres, is jointly owned by the Park and Farms, and has been in use for a number of years.

Farms Holds Option
The Farms has an option to purchase the 75-acre site proposed as the incinerator site and owned by the Hartman Estate.

The Township council recently rezoned the property from residential to heavy industry, to clear the way for the proposed incinerator.

The Farms city engineer said that the Hartman Estate property is an ideal location for the incinerator.

He said that there are 35 acres of gravel pits, some with reservoirs of water approximately 60 feet deep; 40 acres of flat land; and 10 acres of wooded area.

The wooded area will contain the incinerator plant, with the trees completely hiding the building, except for stub-stacks (chimneys) that will barely be seen above the tree tops, Smith said. High stacks have been tabooed by the Township, he said.

The proposed incinerator will have a burning capacity of 300 tons daily, with resulting fly-ash being dumped in the empty pits and hosed down with water from the reservoirs.

Good for Many Years
Smith said that the pits could be used as land fills for a period of 50 to 100 years, depending on the number of communities using the incinerator and the tonnage that is burned.

Water from the reservoirs will be used to filter the smoke from the burning rubbish and garbage, thus eliminating a pall over the area. The water will also be used for cleaning purposes and other sanitary requirements, he said.

According to the agreement between the Pointes and the Township, the present land-fill site title will be given to the Township when the site has been completely filled, to be used for public purposes.

It is understood that if the properties are sold by the Township, the funds received will be divided, one-third to the Township and a third each to the Park and Farms.

If the present site is filled before the incinerator is built, the Authority has the right to use the Hartman property as a land-fill until the incinerator is in operation.

Goes Back Long Way
The idea of an Authority-owned incinerator was first proposed by former Park City Manager Everett B. Lane, the late Grosse Pointe City Clerk Norbert Neff, and Murray Smith, in the latter part of 1952. The Hartman property was chosen as an ideal spot.

After numerous meetings with succeeding Township councils, the hopes of the Pointe officials were raised, only to be dashed by newcomers to the council, who at election time made the matter a political issue.

When the current council had become favorably inclined to grant a permit to build the incinerator, its members would be unseated, and the newcomers would oppose such a building. Then the process of persuasion would begin all over again.

Public Hearing Held
At least two public hearings were held in the Township council chambers during the interim period, during which Township residents jammed the meetings to protest such a construction.

The present Township council realized that under its present urban renewal program, an incinerator would be a big advantage to the community, and negotiated with Pointe officials and finally smoothed the way that created the Clinton-Pointe Refuse Disposal Authority.

Township residents, informed of the community's future need of such a facility, raised no further protests.

Poachers

Farms Boat Club) and, despite a dull, cloudy day, a good percentage of swimmers.

The Pier was "comfortably crowded" rather than jammed. The general atmosphere was festive and friendly. Six bagpipers, members of the Moslem Temple "Highlanders," strolled the grounds, and a clown sent groups of wriggling children into squeals of laughter.

"It's our park," said Vince Famularo, 265 Kirby road, "just like a private club, the finest in the state." Mr. Famularo, goes to the Pier often, can think of only one way to improve present facilities—add a swimming pool.

J. J. Smith, 279 Beaupre, who uses the Pier regularly, likes its "community spirit," and Ralph Lawrence, 473 Cloverly, has no complaints. Mr. Lawrence visits the park "mostly on weekends," is delighted with its picnic facilities, says "just make it larger" when asked how it could be improved.

Mrs. Richard Lehmann, 448 Fisher, was one of a party of 20 spending a "day by the water." She is another regular Pier visitor, quite content with the present facilities, although she thinks slips for larger boats might be an improvement.

According to Ed Lauer, Pier Superintendent, non-resident "sneak-ins" have been no problem this year. Most people who enter the Pier illegally do so at night, are discovered quickly and shown the gate.

From personal observation, this reporter is inclined to believe Mr. Lauer. The strangers she talked with all turned out to be Farms residents, and many of the picknickers, swimmers and boaters were personal friends who she knows for a fact live in the Farms.

Granted, last Sunday was a special "Community Day," and the weekend weather has been rather disappointing this year, (often cloudy and not too hot), but the problem of non-residents using Farms municipal facilities seems to be under control.

According to its Superintendent, the Farms Pier is the best place around for Farms residents to spend summer afternoons and evenings. It is THEIR park—and they are encouraged to use it.

Next Saturday night, a dance has been scheduled, for teenagers, at the Pier. Only residents and their legally punched-in guests will be admitted.

Romney

August 15, when the District party convention meets to elect District officers.

Durant, following Romney on the speaker's platform, confined his brief remarks to a plea for party unity and reiterated his endorsement of Romney as GOP gubernatorial candidate. He made no direct reference to the plea that he resign, observing only that "the spectacle of Republicans quarreling among themselves distresses me."

A spokesman for Romney stated that he (Romney) plans no further meetings with Durant.

The 14th District, of which Durant is vice-chairman and undisputed boss, includes three east side Detroit wards, the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods.

Jeffries, Anthony Romeo and Philip Studzinski.
County Clerk—Lawrence O. Hinkle; County Treasurer—Darrel E. Berry; County Register of Deeds—Noel E. Craig; County Drain Commissioner—A. L. Meredith.

Names of candidates seeking precinct nomination as delegates to the County Convention, will be listed on ballots at their respective precincts. Selection of the Republican delegates will be one of the highlights of Tuesday's election as George Romney battles Richard Durant's bid for continued power in the 14th Congressional District. Romney has asked Durant to resign his district office, which Durant has refused to do unless he can pick a successor. Romney will not compromise.

Wild Car Chase Halted by Tree

A former Pointer, now a California resident, crashed his car into a tree when he lost control while trying to escape a pursuing Woods policeman Friday morning, July 27.

Theodore L. Provencher, 26, of 14804 Mansel, Lawndale, suffered cuts about the mouth and was taken to St. John Hospital for treatment by Patrolman Everett Plumb. A passenger in Provencher's car, Charles Thorn, 26, of 331 Mt. Vernon, was not injured.

Plumb said that he was patrolling north on Mack avenue at 2:25 a.m., when he spotted Provencher speeding south on Mack, and turned his scout car around to give chase.

The officer said the motorist made every attempt to out-run him. He said Provencher made a quick turn west on Littlestone, still at high speed, ran a stop street at Craig, made a left turn onto Craig, heading south to Broadstone, where he tried to turn left and lost control.

The car knocked down a stop street sign and crashed into a tree on the corner.

Plumb said that Provencher told him that the car belonged to his stepfather, with whom he once lived, at 1082 Hampton.

When asked why he tried to escape, Provencher told Plumb that his Michigan operator's license had been revoked, and although he had a valid California license, he feared that he would be jailed.

Provencher was taken to the station where he was issued a ticket for reckless driving and released after he posted a bond of $100, pending a court appearance before Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, August 4.

Nope! It's Not a Cell Block

Ticket Drivers After Accident

City police ticketed both drivers involved in a two-car collision in front of 801 Lakeland on Saturday evening, July 28.

Charged with making an improper left turn was John O'Dell Ledyard, 35 Dyar lane. Ledyard, who had been traveling north on Lakeland, attempted to pull his '62 Buick into the driveway at the above address. He neglected to make any "turn" signal, however, and the car behind him on Lakeland, a '61 Chevrolet driven by Ernest J. Du Mouchelle, 465 Lakeland, also traveling north, speeded up in an attempt to pass.

Du Mouchelle's car struck the other vehicle when it was still a few feet from the driveway. No one was injured, and damages were not severe enough to interfere with the driving apparatus of either vehicle.

Du Mouchelle received a ticket for reckless driving and causing an accident.

Census Lists Gain of 700 During Year; Now 64,824

Population growth in the Grosse Pointe School District has shown a slight increase according to the 1962 school census figures just released. A gain of more than 700 persons residing in the district was recorded this year as compared to a gain of approximately 500 a year ago and less than 400 noted in the 1960 census. The official tally found 64,824 residents in the school district this year.

School officials also noted increased activity in the construction of new residences. The number of homes being built as the census was taken in May was 101 or nearly double the 1961 total of 56. Only 55 were noted in 1960.

Most of the current building activity is to be found in the north end of the school district near the Ferry Elementary School in Roslyn Road. A new six-room addition to this school was opened last year in anticipation of such growth.

Woods Stays Ahead

Grosse Pointe Woods continues to rank as the largest of the Pointe with a population of 19,767, a gain of nearly 500 over last year. Grosse Pointe Park ranks second with 15,976, down 21 from 1961. The Farms recorded a loss also, 12,574 residents being found there as compared to 12,583 last year. Grosse Pointe City lost a net of two residents with 6,957 being tallied currently. The Shores gained 50 to show a total of 2,527. The fraction of Harper Woods included in the school district registered a net gain of about 200 to total 7,023 persons resident in the Grosse Pointe School District.

School-age children (5-19 years) in the district continued to increase although pre-school children declined in number. Of the former, some 19,187 were recorded compared to 18,797 a year ago. Of the 0-4 year group, a total of 4,514 were tabulated compared to 4,771 in 1961 and 5,533 in 1958, the peak year for this group.

More 15-Year-Olds

In other break-downs, school authorities listed the most substantial gain as being in 15 year old youngsters. An increase of 281 to 1,390 of this age group was listed. Eighty-five fewer 1-year olds were found this year as compared to last, they said. Over-all, 106 more elementary school age children were found residing here now over last year; 25 fewer junior high school age pupils; and 261 more senior high school age pupils. Losses and gains in pre and post-school age boys and girls gave the district a net gain of 133 in the 0-19 year group which now totals 23,701 persons.

Other tables in the census report, which is conducted under the supervision of the Department of Public Personnel of the local public school system, showed the number of residences, persons per residence, vacant residences and more. A total of 19,104 residences was recorded, 505 of which were vacant. On the average, each residence contained 1.24 children and 2.15 adults, or a total of 3.39 persons per home. The range was from 3.60 persons per residence in Harper Woods to 3.00 persons per home in Grosse Pointe City.

Three Districts Drop

All of the elementary school districts, a total of 10 within the main district, showed a gain of school-age children except Mason, Richard and Monteith. Both Mason and Monteith have 15 fewer boys and girls in their respective neighborhoods now as compared to last year while Richard is down 23 pupils.

A measure of further growth in the school district is taken by the school system in its study of dwelling permits issued by the various municipalities. Greatly increased activity is to be noted with the first half of 1962 showing 266 permits issued compared to 112 in the corresponding part of 1961, 107 in 1960, 91 in 1959, and 51 in 1958. More than half of the current total was issued in Harper Woods where 140 permits were noted. Grosse Pointe Woods totalled 100. The method of tabulation used by school officials is to count 1 permit for each single family dwelling, two for each two family unit, and so forth.

- Biggest Since 1957
When comparing entire years it was noted that 1961 was the strongest year since 1957 with 324 permits being issued in the (Continued on Page 6)

Census Discloses Growth

(Continued from Page 5) valuations as a result of the school district. This was more than double the 1958 total and 75-80% better than the 1959 and 1960 totals.

Tax rolls will show an increase of about $4 1/2 million in the home building authorized so far this year. $1,815,300 of this belongs to Grosse Pointe Woods while Harper Woods' valuations increased $1,441,100. Other than home building totalled $571,680 in the district as a whole for a grand total of $4,802,080 more property assessed for taxation.

Final Concerts At Fairgrounds

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will play free concerts next Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in its ninth and final week at the Michigan State Fairgrounds Music Shell. Valter Poole will conduct.

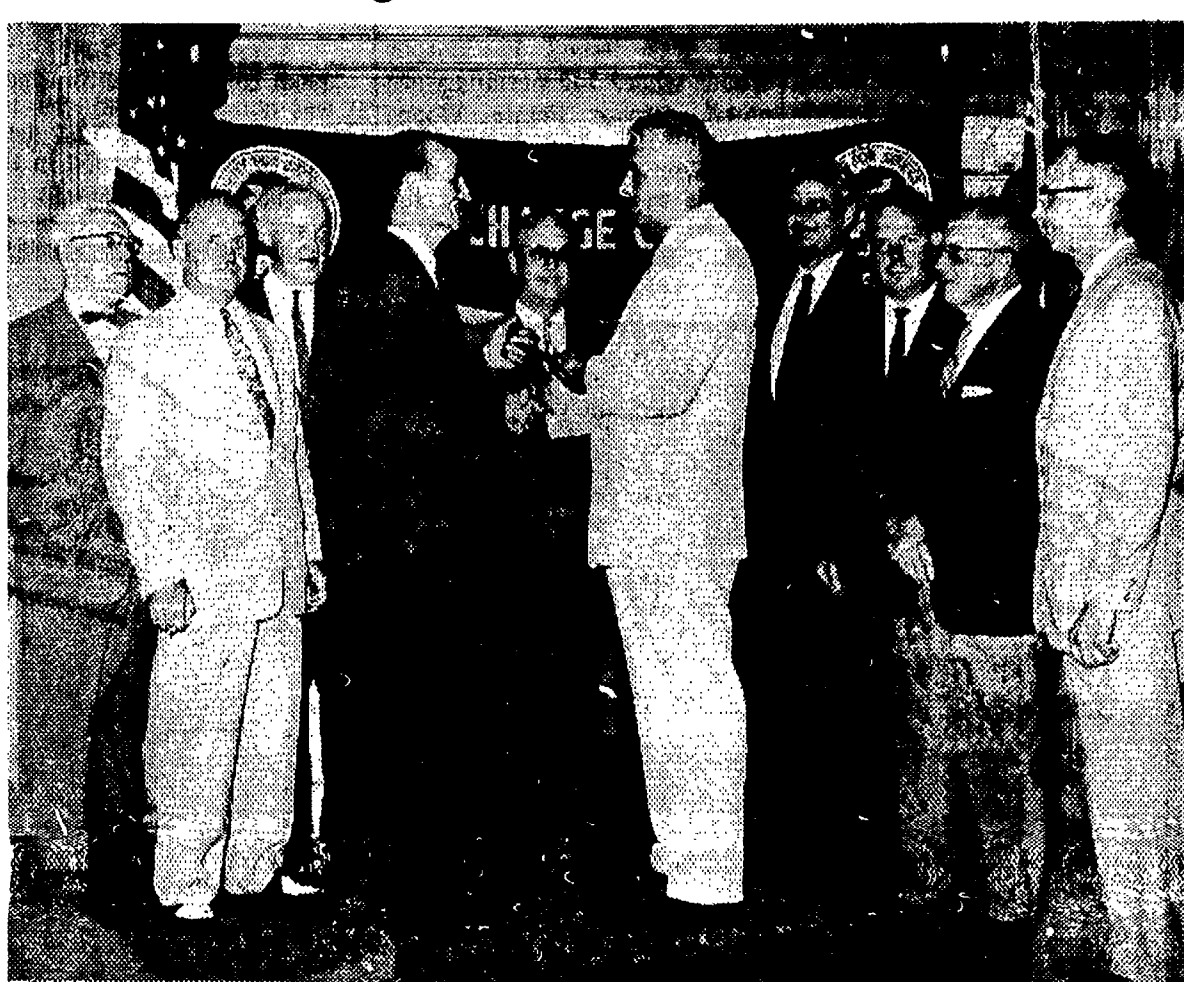

The 27 program series has been presented for the tenth consecutive year as a public service by the Detroit Edison Company, National Bank of Detroit, and the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries on recommendation by the Detroit Federation of Musicians. More than a quarter million have attended.

Next week the orchestra will move to the Jerome H. Rerrick Memorial Shell on Belle Isle to begin a three-week, nine-concert series sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation.

This coming Tuesday, August 7, at the Fairgrounds the soloist will be Muriel Greenspon, noted Michigan born mezzo-soprano, singing arias by Rossini and Bizet.

Next Thursday night's concert will include Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 in C minor. It will be dedicated to the Friends of Polish Art of Detroit.

Exchange Club Installs Officers

Newly elected officers of the Exchange Club of Grosse Pointe participate in formal installation ceremonies. At center, Metropolitan Exchange President ROBERT J. PRINS presents the president's gavel to Grosse Pointe Exchange President CHARLES R. REINOWSKI. Officers from left to right are:—H. HENNING FREDEN, KENNETH W. CARTER, ALFRED E. LINDBLOOM, C. REINOWSKI, ERVIN J. WILEE, R. PRINS, WILLIAM T. CLEMENT, ROBERT H. HAWKINS, GORDON W. ROEGLIN, and ROBERT W. SCOVILLE.

Plans were also made for the annual Exchange Club Toothbrush Sale to be held in September. William T. Clement has been appointed co-ordinator for the drive, with Robert H. Taylor, and John J. Zolad serving as publicity co-chairmen.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

A ticket for reckless driving and causing an accident was issued to Dawn L. Smith, 17, 21160 Lennon, Harper Woods, following a two-car collision at the Charlevoix-St. Clair intersection shortly after 1 p.m. on Tuesday, July 24.

Miss Smith, in a '62 Oldsmobile convertible, pulled out of a stop street directly into the path of a '50 Chrysler going east on Charlevoix. The Chrysler's driver was Stanley W. Russell, 1599 St. Clair, Detroit.

No injuries were reported, but both vehicles were damaged, the Chrysler in its left side and front, the Oldsmobile in its front end. Damages were severe enough to make the cars undrivable, and both had to be towed away.

PRESENT BRIDGE PRIZES
Midsummer duplicate bridge trophies were presented at Eastland Auditorium last Friday, July 20. Winners in the Limited Pairs competition were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Banta and in the Unlimited Pairs Robert Ruhl and Frank Williams.

The National Exchange Convention will be held on September 4-7, in Atlantic City. Grosse Pointe delegates will be William M. Berno, and H. Henning Freden.

National Golf Tourney

(Continued from Page 1) Saturday morning at 9:30 the four winners of Friday afternoon's matches will tee off again and the finals for the last two survivors will be held at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

The public is invited to see the tournament. There is no charge for admittance.

First Birthday

My birthday arrived,
Somehow I survived.
I'll tell you the facts;
My brain was taxed.
I'm one year old,
Don't have much gold.
I now have a sister
And she's a blister.
She presses your clothes
From your head to toes.
Pants only cost twenty,
I'm sure you'll find many.
Do you have little dresses?
Aren't they big messes?
You pay twenty-five,
They become alive.
I'm not a poet
and, believe me, I know it.
Wish me good luck,
I may win a Buick.

PRIMARY ELECTION TUESDAY AUGUST 7th

SUPPORT ROMNEY
— DEFEAT DURANT

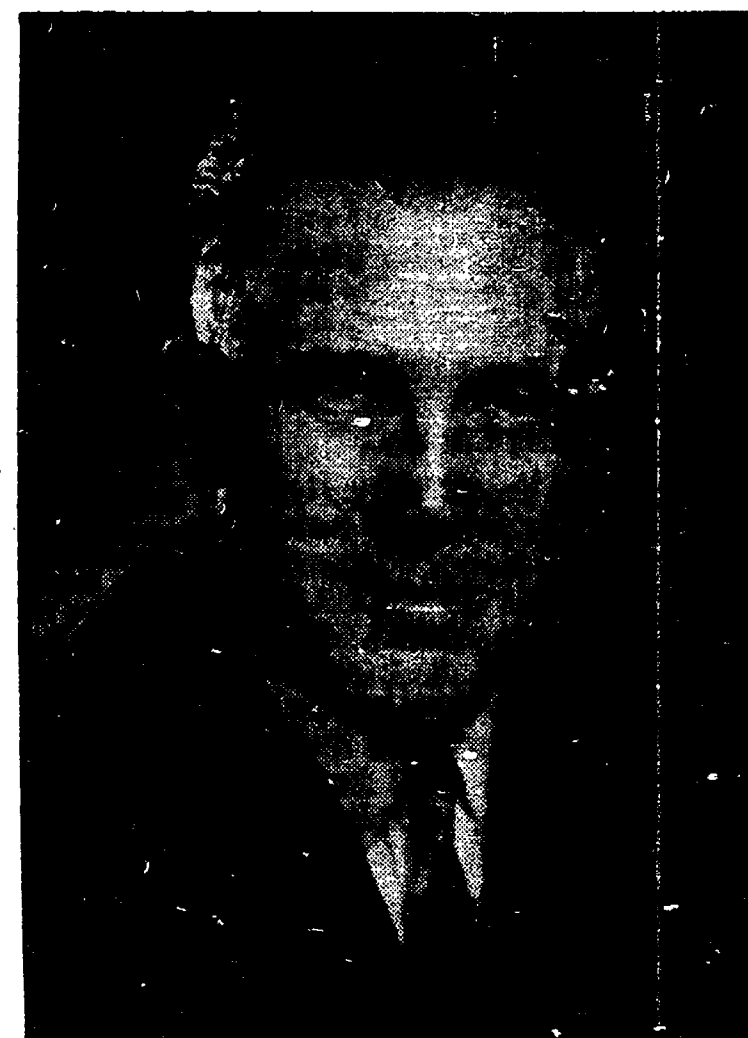

YOUR VOTE for delegate to the County Convention in the primary election on Tuesday, August 7, will decide whether George Romney will have

THE NEW aggressive leadership team that he wants in this key 14th district

OR

THE OLD repudiated, defeatist team running on its no-win record and its "Me-First, Romney-Second" policy

THE CHOICE IS UP TO YOU!

IF YOU WANT a winner in November, give your candidate the means to wage a successful campaign now. On Tuesday, August 7, elect the Romney delegate in your precinct. Vote for the men and women who are pledged to replace the present defeatist leadership in the 14th District with a winning combination.

KNOW YOUR CANDIDATE FOR DELEGATE . . . don't be misled by people who wear the Romney button in their lapels but who actually represent the leadership whose resignation Romney has demanded. Allowing the present leadership to stay in office could cost the support of thousands of uncommitted voters who, in November, can make the difference between a Romney victory and a Romney defeat.

WHEN YOU VOTE for delegate on Tuesday, August 7, remember what George Romney said at the Grosse Pointe War
Memorial breakfast meeting of candidates on Saturday, July 28.
Remember his warning that re-election of the present 14th District leadership will mean only that "You Have Repudiated Me."
It's time for a change . . . not only in Lansing, but in the leadership in the 14th District. YOU can make this change if you vote for the Romney candidate for delegate in your precinct next Tuesday.

We are the candidates for Delegate pledged to support
Romney — pledged to remove Durant from leadership.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

For the third summer the Carl Lanzes, of Chalfont road, have opened their home to a student sponsored by the Experiment in International Living.

This past month they have been entertaining Hidekazu Utsunomiya, of Tokyo, who will go from the Pointe to another family in Meadville, Pa., before entering Yale University in the fall for graduate work. The Lanzes and their four sons welcomed their first student, Jean Pierre Stenger, of Nancy, France, in 1958 and so successful was his visit that last summer they asked for another student and Ramachandra Naik, of Baroda, India, was their guest.

Several Pointe students have participated in the Experiment which has its home office in Putney, Vt. Participating families are urged to consider the student as a member of the family for a month rather than a guest. The Experiment has proved helpful in promoting understanding as well as knowledge in the young people of America and their counterparts abroad.

Mexican Fiesta

It will be a Mexican fiesta for the members of the Circumnavigators and their ladies this Sunday at the Birmingham road home of J. D. Richardson.

President George Pierrot will be on hand to introduce guests from the New York Chapter. Circumnavigators is a club for those intrepid travelers who have girdled the globe, and the honorary president is General Douglas MacArthur.

J. Leslie Berry and Fred L. Shaw are in charge of arrangements for this year's festivities for the club. On Sunday members will meet by the Richardson's pool for cocktails and tacos about 4:30 o'clock. There will be two exclusive short films on Mexico and dancing to a Latin American band after dinner.

Among those with reservations are Louis M. Baze, Dr. Walter G. Bernard, Mr. Berry, George C. Cossaboom, Lester M. Elliott, Leo Fitzpatrick, M. A. Powers, Robert B. Powers, Remington J. Purdy and Walter V. Stewart.

Luuu on Rivard

The setting was Hawaiian at the party given by the Harry E. Hoffmesters last Friday evening in their Rivard boulevard home.

The menu starred such island favorites as passion fruit, papaya, roast blue boar, Kibbe diamond head, coconuts, macadamia nuts and Queen Liliuokalani cake, baked by Mrs. Frank Terry.

Decorations for the luau were shipped from the islands, including orchids for the ladies and the whole house was transformed into a South Sea island setting.

Camping in the Northwest

Firt the first time in their lives the Rev. Richard Mitchell with his wife and Suzanne, Arthur and Ricky will spend their vacation camping.

The Mitchells set out from their McKinley avenue home Sunday bound for the Seattle World's Fair with a tent and all the equipment for their adventure in the great Northwest.

They intend to visit all the tourist spots such as the Tetons and Yellowstone as well as the Fair and hope to

DYC Venetian Days Set for Aug. 10-11

Formal Italian Decor to Transform Lawns of Club and Dance Floor; Younger Set to Enjoy Carnival on August 10 with Senior's Gala the Following Evening

The Detroit Yacht Club's annual "Venetian Days" are slated for August 10 and 11. This year's glamorous summer event promises to be one of the most beautiful ever staged at the DYC. The riverside of the Clubhouse will be decorated with alternate strings of Signal Flags and gay colored lights extended from the fourth floor tower.

The Main Dock decor will include the traditional red carpet and colored floodlights will surround the entire building and the new outdoor swimming pool. The skippers of the six Club docks are planning their own decoration theme.

The Club's West Lawn and Starlite Circle will be transformed into a formal Venetian garden, with ivy covered lattice fences, four foot high trees, classic columns and urns containing greens sparkling with twinkling lights. There'll be thousands of miniature lights twinkling above Starlite Circle—the outdoor dance floor.

On August 10th, from 1 to 5 p.m. the activities are for the younger set and teens. A carnival complete with merry-go-round, pony and airplane rides, games, foot and swimming races, and their favorite refreshments.

The Junior Dance on Starlite Circle at 9 p.m. will be semi-formal. Bob Durant's orchestra "The Merryman" will provide the music featuring comedian, Paul Lennon.

Honored at the August 11 festivities will be Commodore and Mrs. Paul Roth, who will review the fleet of cruisers and sail yachts from the flagship, (Commodore and Mrs. Alfred F. Steiners "Aloha") moored outside the Club Harbor.

At 11:30 a.m., Fleet Captain and Mrs. Franklin Miller aboard their Galavant II will lead the fleet to the head of Belle Isle, then circle to the bridge and return to anchor next to the flagship for the review. The cruisers and sail yachts with their dress flags and decorations passing in review will receive the traditional gun salute from Commodore Paul Roth, Vice Commodore Carl Schweikart and Rear Commodore John Carter.

Others aboard the flagship will include Mrs. Schweikart, Mrs. Carter and Commodore and Mrs. Paul Roth's guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keppen, the M. P. Williams, the Joseph Van Deweghes and Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Balcerski.

Also guests of the Roths will be aboard R. H. Veitch's "Ginny Gal III," the George Keyes "Albumar," Mr. and Mrs. John Uznis "Evelyn U" and the George Brundages "Sun Aqua." Others aboard the flagship will be the Wilfred Steiners and the Lewis Novaks. Highlight of the afternoon will be the presentation of prizes by Commodore Roth to the 12 skippers for the best dressed yachts in the fleet review.

Commodore and Mrs. Paul Roth's guests for the formal cocktail party and dinner in the Harmsworth Room at 6:30 p.m. will include flag officers Vice Com. Carl Schweikart, Rear Com. John Carter, Secretary George Waincott, Treasurer George Levette, Fleet Surgeon Edward Gates, M.D. and Fleet Measurer Lester McIntosh and their wives.

Others are board of directors, Com. C. Joseph Belanger, Com. Alfred F. Steiner, William Cohan, Robert Dodd, Duncan James, Clarence Wormuth, Nelson Bell, Jr., Charles Dameron, Wilfred Gmeiner, Kenneth Gunsolus, Eric C. Irvine and their wives.

There'll be an outdoor "Venetian Poolside Cocktail Party" from 6:30 p.m. and dancing in the main dining room for members and their guests.

Next comes dancing on Starlite Circle from 9 til 1:30 a.m. Alternating will be Warney Ruhl's orchestra with vocalist and Feby Carr's orchestra with vocalist.

In charge of all this is entertainment chairman Edward Dahmer and committee members George L. Petersen, Edwin Joswick, David Sherwood, Jr., Dr. John M. Tracey, John H. Welch, Thomas Pearsall, Harvey LaDouccur, Jr. Charles McInery, Leland Shinar, Kenneth Gunsolus, Walter Kurtz, Alex Mathieson, Patrick Keating, Perry Deakin and their ladies.

Reunion Held By Grunyons
Grosse Pointe's own male singing group is having a partial reunion up at Leland this month. Among the Grunyons gathered at the resort are Lawrence J. Verdier, Dr. Ellis Van Slyck and Bill Gard.

Charles A. Parcels, Jr., joined the group for some harmony recently while he and his family were touring Michigan in their converted bus.

The Gards expect their cottage to be completed this week-end.

Job-Sullivan Vows Exchanged Saturday

Wears Silk Organza and Alencon Lace for Rites in St. Joan of Arc Church; When the Newlyweds Return from Canada They Will Make Their Home in Detroit

In St. Joan of Arc Church Saturday Barbara Mary Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Sullivan, of Roslyn road, was married to Charles R. Job, son of the Rollin Jobs, of Mt. Clemens.

For the rites the bride wore a white silk organza gown with a Bertha collar of Alencon lace and a chapel train. A crown of pearls caught her fingertip veil and she carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Beverly Morrill was her sister's matron of honor in a white silk organza frock accented with a blue cummerbund and a blue whimsy. She carried a basket of blue and white daisies.

Mrs. William Stewart, of Kalamazoo; Sharon Deegan, of St. Clair Shores, the attendants, were dressed like the matron of honor. Heidi DeVries was flower girl in a white organdy over blue taffeta frock with a crown of ivy.

Dr. William K. Stewart was best man and ushering were Lloyd Job, the bridegroom's

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sullivan wore a blue silk chiffon sheath and rubrum lilies. Mrs. Job was in a lilac silk linen sheath and rubrum lilies.

Following a reception at Chateau Bleu Hall the couple left for Canada. The bride wore a black linen dress with white accessories. They will live in Newport avenue.

Fleet at DYC Off for Toledo

Detroit Yacht Club members plan a two-day Power Boat Festival for their Toledo Yacht Club rendezvous August 4 and 5.

Saturday afternoon a fleet of 35 cruisers will arrive at the Toledo Yacht Club where there will be a cocktail party and dinner dance.

Party chairman is Bernard Farnell and his co-chairmen are: George W. Brundage, Richard S. Daley, C. V. Estabrook, Menor Hewitt, Frank Houghton, Richard Kaitz, Larry Messersmith, Dr. L. N. Vickers, Eric C. Irvine and Mrs. Fred Ripsam.

The thing the world needs most is a little time to think it over.

Self-confidence has always been the first secret of success.

At the Ringside

The Henry T. Ewalds, Jr., escorted 16 of their friends to the Graystone Ballroom Saturday night to watch the fights. Two of the heavyweights, Sonny Banks and Kody Jones, are partially sponsored by Mr. E., and Mrs. E. maintains that Sonny has a great future in the ring, might even be the Joe Louis of this era.

After the fights, which both Banks and Jones won, the Ewalds served dinner to their guests in their Moross road home.

The Ewalds are recently home from a five week trip to Europe where they vacationed with Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Simms.

To Study Auto Plants

Here to peek at Detroit's auto plants and the effects of automation is Jacques Henry, a 19 year old engineering scholar from Reims, France. Recently he has been the house guest of the Paul Marcos of Oxford road, and is now staying with M. and Mme Alain Chailous, the French Consul and his wife.

Barbara Marco is spending the summer working at the French Consulate downtown after an exciting nine months in Europe where she took French courses at the University of Geneva and spent her spare hours on the ski slopes.

She is an alumnus of the University of Colorado and the University of Michigan and will return to Ann Arbor in the fall to finish work on her master's degree.

Corp. R. E. Gouin At Helicopter School

SANTA ANA, Calif. (FHTNC)—Marine Lance Corporal Ronald E. Gouin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gouin of 424 Belanger, Grosse Pointe, Mich., is attending the Naval Air Helicopter Maintenance Training School at the Marine Corps Air Facility, Santa Ana, Calif., as part of his annual two-week summer training.

The Marine air reservists, members of Marine Helicopter Squadron 773, spend one week-end a month training throughout the year and 15 days during the summer training in their military specialty.

mer training the reservists return to their local reserve unit for duty.

MINOR ACCIDENT No violations were issued following a two-car collision at the St. Paul-St. Clair intersection Friday afternoon, July 20. The minor accident occurred a little after 3 p.m. when Lillian M. Suealla, 1070 Roslyn, failed to stop her '62 Corvair at St. Paul and continued into the intersection, striking a '55 Oldsmobile driven by John H. Bethea, 279 Kenwood. Damage was slight, and no one was injured.

Charles Eldridge Symphony Aids Claims Bride Meets at Lake

Charles David Eldridge III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eldridge, of Pemberton road, claimed Sandra Lynn Jenkins, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Elwood Jenkins, of Seminole avenue, as his bride Saturday in the Iroquois Avenue Christ Lutheran Church.

The bride wore a silk chiffon sheath designed with a Chantilly lace jacket fashioned with a sabrina neckline and elbow length sleeves. Streamers caught the back of the skirt which fell into a chapel train.

A pillbox of matching lace and silk roses caught her silk illusion veil and she carried glameillas.

Mercilee Jenkins was her sister's maid of honor in a bell shaped white linen frock trimmed in turquoise with a matching headband. She carried turquoise flowers and ivy.

Dressed like the honor maid were the bridesmaids Mrs. Robert Brown, Sandra Wilson, Judy Hassel, Myrna Moxley, Beverly Wartena and Mrs. Gerald Myers, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Loyal A. Eldridge II was his brother's best man and the ushers were William Eldridge, William Yates, Paul Wehmeier, Robert Welke, Stephen Howard and Robert LaChappelle, Jr., of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Jenkins greeted guests at the reception at the Detroit Boat Club in a beige chiffon sheath trimmed in lace and a matching hat. Mrs. Eldridge was in a royal blue sheath with an overskirt and matching accessories. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids.

When the couple return from Northern Michigan they will live in Ann Arbor.

TRESPASSERS NABBED

Art Champine, watchman at the City Park, observed three young boys entering the deserted Alger home in East Jefferson avenue on Wednesday morning, July 18. Champine called City police, who caught the youngsters aged nine, 10, and 12, respectively, warned them against trespassing, and turned them over to their parents.

Green Lake in Oakland County was chosen by the officers of the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra Auxiliary for their luncheon and meeting at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Norbert Bittlich on Wednesday.

"The Enchanted Barn" is the name chosen for the cottage because it was once an old apple barn before it was converted into its present living quarters.

It dates back to the days when Green Lake was owned entirely by the Flanders Automotive Company, makers of the old Flanders cars. Detroit society will recall Green Lake as a place where they once went to the old Aviation Country Club on grand social occasions.

The Bittlich cottage is furnished with very early antiques such as old tavern tables and hand painted brass and copper. The guests will be served hot rolls from an early glass bread tray once owned by President Grover Cleveland.

Plans will be announced during the business meeting for the September 12 invitational tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Andrew L. Malott of 18 Oxford Road, for the purpose of recruiting new Auxiliary members.

The first 100 acceptances to the Auxiliary's initial social event of the year will be honored. The tea co-ordinator, Mrs. Oscar Onstad, and her committee, Mrs. L. M. Hopping and Mrs. George Sona will be in charge.

Also to be discussed is the benefit card and game party planned by the ways and means chairman, Mrs. Edward P. Frohlich on October 10 at her home, 486 Kercheval.

Assisting Mrs. Frohlich with the project are Mrs. Thomas LoCicero, Mrs. Ben Salon, Mrs. Philip A. Streich, and Mrs. Edward A. Baumann, Sr.

Presiding at the meeting will be the new Auxiliary president, Mrs. Sol Q. Kester.

Have principles to live by, but don't expect too much profit.

"FLIP" SHIP—It's Navy's FLIP (Floating Instrument Platform) ship, being tested at Da-bob Bay, Wash. Upper left: The stern begins to sink and the bow rises. Lower left: A Navy helicopter hovers overhead for study. Right: Bow up, at 90 degrees. The craft is designed to serve as a manned buoy for study of ocean depths. The 355-foot craft is the creation of a team of marine scientists at UCLA's Scripps Institute of Oceanography.

FLYING SAUCER—A flying saucer is taking shape in Geel, Belgium, at the hands of inventor Alphonse De Joncker (right) and some volunteer helpers (upper).
Two Porsche engines power
the craft, which is 14.5 feet across, five feet high in center. It is expected to be able to lift its own weight. Its rotors will operate in funnels, thus eliminating the long rotor space a helicopter requires. De Joncker thinks such a craft will be useful in fire and police work, construction, military, etc. It will fly 180 miles an hour, has a ceiling of 9,840 feet due to oxygen need of the engines.
De Joncker thinks the oxygen factor can be eliminated in bigger craft later.

SASKATCHEWAN SETTLEMENT—Dr. J. G. Clarkson (left), College of Physicians and Surgeons spokesman, announces in Saskatoon that an agreement has been reached in the Saskatchewan doctor strike against the province's new socialized medicine plan. A key point is a provision that non-profit health insurance organizations will participate "in association with the government" in administering the plan.
A key mediator in settlement of the strike was Lord Taylor (right), British peer who had much to do with Britain's plan.

Farms Regatta Successful; Races, Dance This Saturday

The 10th Annual Farms Boat Club Regatta has reached the half-way point with the holding of the Fleet Review and Parade at the Farms Pier last Sunday. The festivities wind up this Saturday with the races beginning at 2 followed in the evening by the awarding of prizes and the dance at 7:30.

The suspense as to who won the various classes in the decorated boat competition will continue to build until Saturday evening when the winners are announced. Judges Charles Verheyden, John DeFoe and Larry Savage are the only ones who know the results and they aren't talking.

Some of the strong contenders for honors include Joe Meier's entry "Noah's Ark," Carol Grundlach's "Peppermint Lounge," Bill Heels' "Bill's Harem," and Pete Holmes' "Pirate Pete."

Bob Dargel drew the pleasant assignment of transporting queen Jessica Markley and her court consisting of Kim MacLeod, Therese Schutte, Elaine Dooley, Joyce Poppen, and Kitty Snyder. The queen and her court will reign over the races, awarding of prizes and dance this Saturday.

After the parade had ended the crowd was treated to a fine water ballet show by pupils under the direction of Barbara Herrick. Performing to the tune "Hands Across the Table" were Janice Burchenal, Chris Famularo, Janice Rotole, Linda Crea, Barb Bane and last but not least, Mary Beth Nienstedt. The quartet of Chicky Malinaro, Nancy McDonald, Sue Cushman and Pat Crea performed to the tune "March of the Siamese Children" and finally Chicky Molinaro and Pat Crea swam to "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning."

One of the most popular attractions of the day proved to be the Moslem Scotch Highlanders, a group of bagpipe ex-

Physics Prize Honors Dr. Harry Hammond

The "Harry E. Hammond Prize in Physics" was recently established at the University of Missouri by the widow of Dr. Harry E. Hammond, a member of the University faculty from 1920 until his death in 1961. The prize will be awarded annually to a graduate student who has made or is making the most significant contribution to the undergraduate teaching program in physics.

Immediately after his death, Professor Hammond's family and friends donated money for an award to be given in his honor, and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hammond, 611 S. Fourth street, Columbia, Mo., established the $50 prize in honor of her husband. The award is to be made each spring and the recipient nominated by the physics department faculty.

A native of Michigan, Professor Hammond attended the state university here and, after being appointed an instructor at the University of Missouri, studied for and received a Ph.D. degree in 1929. He became professor emeritus of physics upon his retirement in 1955.

One of his sons, the Rev. William D. Hammond, is pastor of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

When the POINTE was growing up...

By Pat Talbot

When the H. T. Keppelmans moved into their home at 346 Moran road from Philadelphia a few years ago the long arm of history, reaching back 180 years, brought them into contact with a Scotch naval officer, colleague of the Pointe's fabulous Commodore Alexander Grant, who once owned the property which is now theirs.

The naval officer was Mrs. Keppelman's great great grandfather, Alexander Harrow, lieutenant to Grant, commander of the sloop "Welcome" which patrolled from Detroit to Mackinac in the late eighteenth century.

Harrow was born in Newburgh, Scotland in 1755 and at the age of 20 came to Canada, leaving behind three children and his young wife's grave. He served in the defence of Quebec from 1775-76 as a naval officer, although he was educated to be a lawyer. He then came on to Detroit where he joined Grant, commander of the Great Lakes for Great Britain. As skipper of the Welcome he sailed with a crew of 11 men to Mackinac often, with such passengers as Detroit's commandant De Peyster and the Chippewa chief Musqueash. His log of these arduous voyages may be read at the Burton Historical Collection, the thin, fine Spencerian hand telling of hard winds, snow, trouble with the rigging and masts, illness among the crew, the long snowed in winters up north, in perfectly legible script.

In 1794 Harrow was in charge of several cannon at the Battle of Fallen Timbers, where Grant's friend Tecumseh, the great Indian chief fell with his dreams of an Indian federation. Harrow was awarded land on the Canadian side of the river by a grateful government but he settled around Algonac on land bought from one of the Macombs. There he enlarged and built a big house, called Newburgh, from his boyhood home, and ran a prosperous distillery. He had married sometime during his naval career, Kitty Edelmont, who had been a captive of the Indians since she was five. He bought her freedom from the Indians for a barrel of rum and they were married at an Indian ceremony and later by a minister at Malden, Ont. The couple had five children whose descendants lived around Algonac until 1955 when the last Harrow sold the property.

Harrow was a close friend of John Askin, whom he wrote from Grant's castle in the Pointe in February, 1799 to tell him he had cut and stacked his hay and was cutting his pine at a cost of 12 pounds. He wanted to be paid half in money and half in goods from Askin's Detroit trading post. Askin insisted that Harrow be named colonel of the Detroit militia in 1807 over Major Parent, "a most illiterate, good man that could not speak a word of English." Harrow was active in Detroit affairs, is recorded as donating 10 pounds to the support of Rev. George Mitchell, an Anglican pastor newly arrived in the city. At his Algonac home he entertained both General Mad Anthony Wayne, the hero of the Battle of Fallen Timber, and Col. Hamtramck.

He died in his Algonac home in 1811 leaving his heirs beside property and the brick distillery, 11 guns, 2 swords, pieces of silver and pewter, 41 books (including the works of Swift, Burns and Sterne) and a collection of surveying and nautical instruments.

Mrs. Keppelman has become intrigued with the romance of her great-great grandfather and will make a trip to Algonac to delve more deeply into this exciting naval officer's romantic story.

If you are tired of the decor in your den, playroom, family room or what have you, have a party and your guests may be inveigled into changing the interior. This was Mrs. Lillian Hicks' idea when she entertained at a recent cocktail-dinner soiree. After dessert the guests all fell to at the paint pots and several hours later she had a very colorful French mural.

For the past few weeks the R. K. Ballantines have been sadly aware that they would never enjoy this season's corn crop growing in their backyard. But it took their Hillcrest road neighbors, the Fred Harts, to find the corn culprits. The other evening the Harts spied two raccoons mincing down the garage roof at the Ballantines. The Harts are old hands with animals, having had at one time 40 snakes and a few monkeys on the premises. Mr. Hart called the Humane Society and they have promised to carefully smoke out the raccoons with ammonia gas and a net. It seems a local zoo is panting for some new raccoons.

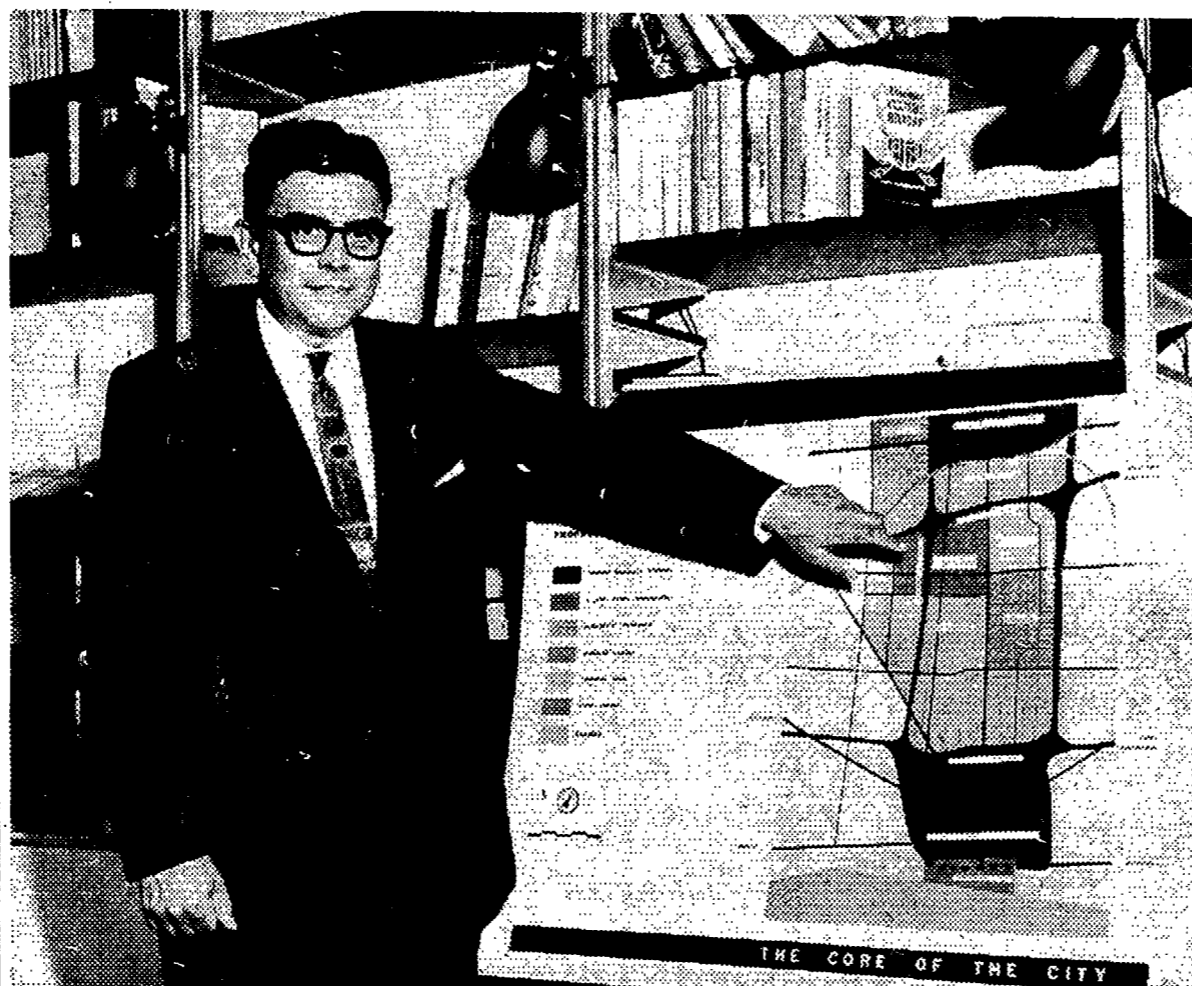

Peter and Donna Ziegenfuss have not only found a baby robin, no mean feat these days in the Pointe, but have trained the bird to fly and return to a nest they have built of burlap bags in the garage of their Country Club drive home. The brother and sister found the baby without its mother about two weeks ago and now it has become so attached to its new home it has settled down for the summer.

Several vacationing co-eds returned to Ann Arbor last week to the street art fair and discovered the delightful water colors of Mrs. Harry T. Lee, of Anita avenue, whose pictures have gained a sudden popularity among the U of M student collectors.

As a change from their normal duties Officers Virgil Beaupre and Richard G. Elworthy, of the City Police Dept., have been spending their leisure hours in the depths of Lake St. Clair and surrounding water. The two policemen are scuba divers, belong to the Detroit Aqua Divers, who spent the pre season cleaning up Detroit beaches for the Dept. of Parks and Recreation and Recreation and lending a hand with some rescue work beneath the deep.

Two thousand sales of a weighty law book is quite an accomplishment and Prof. John S. Abbott, of the Detroit College of Law, has this to his credit. The 400 page book, "Organizing Small Michigan Business Enterprises" has been published by the University of Michigan. Prof. Abbott's parents are the Arthur J. Abbotts, of Cranford lane, and very proud of their son, author of the first book by a Michigan lawyer for Michigan lawyers on Michigan law, and a best seller at that.

Pointer of Interest

DR. RANDALL M. WHALEY, OF BERKSHIRE ROAD

By Patricia Talbot

A practising physicist who worked with cosmic rays, high energy accelerators and semi conductor devices, Dr. Randall M. Whaley left practical science behind him when he left Purdue University to become vice-president for graduate studies and research at Wayne State University.

Such an imposing title fails to awe Dr. Whaley, a dark, stocky man with the energy of a dynamo. He believes research does little good unless it is tied to the whole academic structure and this is his job.

In the changing, growing atomic world Dr. Whaley is devoted to the ideal that "our current complex problems demand more sophisticated, highly trained individuals to grapple with such a variety of problems on their own or in the company of others."

Wayne's Growth Exciting

He is thrilled with the growth of Wayne which ten years ago barely had a graduate school except for medicine and has now entered the graduate-research field in many subjects. He believes the urban university must grow in a society which has changed in this country in 60 years from a rural to an urban environment.

Like all those who have taught in a classroom he misses the contact with the students but his involvement with administrators, faculty and community leaders in his new job keeps him so busy he rarely has time to miss the quiet of the laboratory or blackboard.

He Chose Education

Dr. Whaley dreamed as a boy of being a civil engineer. He grew up in Kansas, Colorado and California, taking his undergraduate work at Indiana University and receiving his B.A. from the University of Colorado where he also was awarded a master's. After a few years in industry, unlike many modern scientists he felt that education had more to offer and returned to the university, to receive his doctoral degree in physics from Purdue.

He stayed at Purdue, climbing the academic ladder from assistant professor to associate dean and finally acting research director until he went to Washington as executive director of the National Academy of Science and then to Wayne.

Before Sputnik

Like many scientists he was well aware of the nation's lag in the scientific classroom education long before the sputnik scare. In Washington he was instrumental in pushing forward a new plan for science instruction at all academic levels, a plan which is accelerated every month. In the course of his work he has traveled widely, with several trips behind the Iron Curtain.

He does not minimize Russia's excellence in the scientific field but he insists that "the Soviet's peaks of quality are fewer, and the broad base of knowledge not so secure, particularly in the fields of biology and medicine."

Opportunities for advancement and increased salary and prestige are greater for scientists in the Soviet Union than in America where there are so many fields open to the enterprising and well educated. He believes that the freer flow of communication between Russia and the western countries, now to be increased through such media as Tel-Star, will further the Soviet's citizen's urge toward more consumer goods, the material comforts of living. The race in space he feels is a healthy one.

Pointe's Attractions

The Whaleys chose Grosse Pointe for their home because they like living near the water. "I like to drive to work with the sun at my back," explains Dr. Whaley, who also believes the Pointe is closer to the inner city than any comparable residential area.

The Whaleys were impressed by the Pointe's aura of dignity and quietness, and they like the people. Wayne has now quite a colony of faculty and administrators living in our town. Dr. Whaley's only complaint seems to be the elm blight and the controversy over the spray. He feels as a scientist there must be some way to save the elms and the birds, and perhaps his research department may yet find it.

Dr. and Mrs. Whaley have three children; Suzanne, an art major at Indiana U.; Lisbeth, a student at Wayne and a devotee of the ballet, (she is staying in Detroit to study with Severo), and Joseph, who will be a senior at GPHS. They all like the water, enjoy the family boat which they keep at the Park. Dr. Whaley is quite an amateur photographer, loves to travel, will go to Poland this fall, and India next winter on academic assignments. He favors Copenhagen over all foreign cities.

In spite of the detail concerned with the administrative work in his job, Dr. Whaley is convinced of the creativity of what he is doing to help Wayne State University grow with the city and the nation, fulfilling the demands put upon it by the new world of science and progress.

Erika's Fabulous Chocolate Mousse

Contributed by Mrs. Harold A. Beatty, of McKinley avenue

- 1 cup light cream
- 2 Tbs. milk
- small package of chocolate chip bits
- 1 square bitter chocolate
- 4 egg yolks

Scald cup of cream to which has been added two tablespoons of milk. Melt chocolate chip bits and bitter chocolate square in separate pan. In blender combine milk and chocolate and then add beaten egg yolks. Blend thoroughly. Will be quite thin. Pour into cut glass bowl and let stand at least six hours. When serving add dollops of whipped cream with addition of coffee or rum flavoring.

Angler, Fish Both Hooked

William G. Cooley, 29, of 3111 Drexel, Detroit, caught a muskie in Lake St. Clair on Tuesday, July 24, and suffered a painful aftermath.

Cooley was driving a fast clip on Lake Shore road, when he was stopped by Shores Patrolman Joseph Vitale who was on radar patrol.

The motorist held up a bleeding thumb with a fish hook that was deeply imbedded in the flesh. He was given an escort to St. John Hospital by the officer.

Cooley told the officer that after he caught the fish, he tried to remove the hook from the finny creature and the barb pierced his thumb.

The hook was removed at the hospital and Cooley was treated and released.
