

PUT TEETH IN DUTCH ELM LAW

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, December 13
WORLD ATTENTION continues to focus on the "Cuban situation," with statements by the President of the United States and the Premier of the Soviet Union pin-pointing still-existent Caribbean policy differences between the world's two major powers. In Moscow, Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev addressed the Supreme Soviet for two hours and 40 minutes yesterday. His speech covered all aspects of Soviet foreign policy, and he warned the United States that the Cuban crisis is by no means over.

"The Soviet Government is convinced that it is not in the interest of peace to tarry with the completion of the settlement of the Caribbean crisis, and we hope that the Government of the United States understands this too," he said. "We would like to make a clear warning that our commitments will stand so long as the other side stands by this understanding. But if the commitments assumed are not observed by the other side, we shall be compelled to take such action as may be required by the situation."

The "Commitments" referred to by the Soviet Premier include the United States' pledge not to invade Cuba if Soviet offensive weapons are withdrawn from the island, and if their removal is verified by United Nations inspection. President Kennedy, speaking in Washington yesterday, refused to commit the United States to a "no-invasion" policy on Cuba—unless and until the Soviet Union agrees to on-scene United Nations verification of Soviet weapons withdrawal.

Kennedy told newsmen that U. S. and U.S.S.R. negotiators at the United Nations will "probably reach a conclusion of the matter in a few more meetings." Pending this "conclusion," however, the United States will continue its daily watch on Cuba, to prevent rearming, and will give no pledge against invasion.

Friday, December 14
NATIONAL GUARD TROOPS were called up yesterday, to help Michigan fight the worst December snowstorm in its history, and Western Michigan officials asked the Office of Civil Defense to declare a "disaster area" in their portion of the State. Kent and Muskegon Counties sent home approximately 65,000 school children as new snows and low temperatures continued to plague communities still paralyzed by last Thursday's heavy snowfall.

The Weather Bureau predicts only occasional flurries today, but these flurries, expected to be heavier near the Lake Michigan shore line, will be driven by 15 to 20-mile-an-hour winds which, in turn, will cause snow already on the ground to drift considerably. Temperatures throughout Southwestern Michigan are expected to range between 12 and 22 degrees today.

Maire Students Thinking of Others at Christmas Time

Pupils at the Maire School expressed a wish to do something for others to brighten the holidays. They are sending gifts to patients at Eloise, Receiving and Wayne County Hospitals and Evertide Residence for the Aging. Among those taking part in the project are, left to right: ALLAN PEARSALL, SUSAN BROWN, STEVEN BROWN and GREGORY WOELFEL.

Police Warn Parents of Loiterers

Two incidents prompted advice to keep teenagers under watchful eye after school hours.

Two incidents on Wednesday afternoon, December 12, a report that a boy was seen throwing spitballs in a "Village" variety store and a second report, less than half an hour later, of another boy observed shoplifting in the same area, prompted City Police Captain Andrew C. Teetaert to warn parents against allowing their teenage children to loiter in "The Village" for several hours after school.

Thomas Trombly Resigns As City's Superintendent Of Police and Fire Depts.

City Manager Lawrence Savage recommends change in Administration; Teetaert and Poupard to become Chiefs of Their Departments.

Park Faces Gas Station Permit Suit

Accuse Teenager Of Burning Boy

A 15-year-old Park boy will have to undergo psychiatric treatment because he burned the forehead of another boy with a cigarette, it was disclosed by Park Det. Lt. Arnold Hough.

City Planning Consultant Makes Preliminary Report

Scott Bagby, Planning Consultant currently preparing a "comprehensive plan" for Grosse Pointe City, has completed his preliminary report on the City's Park and Recreation facilities.

Fire Damages Park Residence

Park firemen extinguished an attic fire in a two-family flat in Beaconsfield avenue on Thursday, December 13, bringing the fire under control in 20 minutes.

Center's Lecture Series Tickets in Short Supply

Residents who wish to attend the outstanding lecture series which will be presented in the new William H. Fries Auditorium at the War Memorial Center, had better get their tickets right away.

Teen 'Pranksters' Receive Sentences In Reindeer Case

Five on Probation; Must Pay $54.75 Each, Write Essays On Kindness, Obey Curfew; Disciplined by School and Their Families

The five teenage "pranksters" responsible for Grosse Pointe's "Reindeer Incident" have been placed on personal probation to City Judge Douglas Paterson, and are to report to him once a month for the next six months.

The boys, accompanied by their fathers, appeared before the Judge in Grosse Pointe City Justice Court Tuesday evening, December 11. For more than an hour, Judge Paterson lectured them on civic and personal responsibility, telling them that they had spoiled Christmas for many Grosse Pointe residents and shocked an entire community by their act of wanton cruelty.

Must Pay Restitution While on probation the teenagers, ranging in age from 15 to 17, must stay away from each other and refrain from "loitering" in the Grosse Pointe area. Each must repay, out of his own money, the $54.75 his parents gave in restitution, and each was directed to write two essays, one on "Kindness to Animals" and the other on "The Importance of Pets," delivering them to Judge Paterson within a week.

The Judge also imposed a 10 p.m. curfew, exclusive of family Christmas observances, on all five culprits. The curfew will be in effect throughout the first month of their probation.

The boys are all students at Grosse Pointe High School, and Principal Jerry J. Gerich, taking into consideration their good past records, has decided not to suspend them from regular classes. They will be forbidden to attend any athletic activity where they would represent the school, however, and will be restricted from special privileges requiring "mature behavior."

Occurred on Thanksgiving Grosse Pointe's "Reindeer Incident," which attracted widespread publicity, occurred on Thanksgiving night. The five teenagers, after throwing firecrackers at two reindeer locked in an outdoor display pen at Kercheval and St. Clair, released the frightened animals.

Police recaptured one within an hour, but the other was found dead of exposure at the edge of Lake St. Clair near the War Memorial the following morning.

The boys were picked up a few days later on a tip concerning an overheard conversation near the High School. All eventually confessed.

William Cashman, representing the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association which originally set up the reindeer display, attended the session and expressed satisfaction with the Court's decision. The fathers, most of whom had already imposed a number of home disciplines, were described by Judge Paterson as extremely cooperative.

The Judge explained that it had been decided to handle the Reindeer case at a local level, rather than through the Wayne County Juvenile Court, because of the high degree of local concern generated by the Thanksgiving "prank."

Open Hearing To Be Held January 21

Farms Hears Amendment Stipulating Rules and Penalties Covering Spraying

The Farms council on Monday, December 17, set January 21 as the date for a public hearing on an amendment to its Dutch Elm Ordinance.

The amendment puts more "teeth" into the present law, which requires that elms be sprayed to control and eradicate Dutch Elm Disease, and infected trees be destroyed.

Under the present ordinance, it is merely directed that the necessary steps be taken in the fight against the tree blight, under penalty of the law.

Covers Everyone The amendment stipulates that "every person, firm or corporation which owns or has under its control an elm tree located within the city limits is required to have such properly sprayed each year with an insecticide spray."

The type of spray to be used must be approved by the city manager, according to the amendment. The number of sprays each year will be determined by the city council, and all taxpayers will be notified by mail during the month of February of the council's decisions.

It will not be necessary for a tree owner to contract for spraying by a firm hired by the city, but he can avail himself of this service if desired. As an alternative, the owner may engage his own contractor.

Strictly Up to Owner The owner will be required to have the spraying done within the required time, at his own expense and under his own responsibility.

Under these terms, the owner is required to file a spraying statement within 20 days after it has been done, giving the number of trees sprayed and their locations. Failure to comply will be a violation of the ordinance.

Retained unchanged in the present ordinance is the penalty for failing to comply with the law, which makes the offense a misdemeanor. Every day that the ordinance is not complied with constitutes a separate offense.

Penalties Provided The penalty imposed by the law for each offense is a fine of not less than $25, or not more than $100, or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days, or both a fine and jail term.

The ordinance amendment which was drawn up by City Attorney George McKean, is "declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety and is given immediate effect."

County Installs Traffic Lights

New traffic lights have been installed over Mack avenue, facing East Outer drive in Detroit, it was disclosed by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers on Monday, December 17.

The chief said that after a survey by the Wayne County Road Commission, which has jurisdiction on Mack, a county thoroughfare, it was decided that there was too much confusion by motorists coming south from Outer drive and driving into Whittier road in the Park. Whittier is a one-way northbound street.

Where there had been a regular traffic light previously, there is now a two-way green arrow directional signal, which indicates right and left turn only signals.

Chief Louwers said that the new lights should be of help to motorists who are unfamiliar with the neighborhood, and who unintentionally drive into Whittier from Outer drive.

XMAS TRIMMING STOLEN

Mrs. A. C. Lambrock, 16834 St. Paul, informed City police on Tuesday afternoon, December 11, that a Christmas ornament was taken from her back door the previous Saturday, December 8. Mrs. Lambrock requested that police keep a special watch on boys playing in the area.

Mrs. Alger Dies at 84 In Florida

Matriarch of Family That Gave Pointe War Memorial Center had Many Interests

Mrs. Russell A. Alger, member of one of Detroit's most prominent families and a leader in civic, cultural and charitable affairs, died Sunday, December 16, in Boca Grande, Fla. She was 84. She had suffered a stroke a few days before.

Widow of industrialist Russell A. Alger, who died in 1930, Marion Jarves Alger maintained the philanthropic traditions established by her husband's family. One of these customs originated with her husband's father, timber tycoon General Russell Alexander Alger, known as the "patron saint" of Detroit newsboys.

General Alger, a Civil War veteran who served as Governor of Michigan, member of the United States Senate and Secretary of War under President McKinley, presented an annual Christmas donation to the Detroit Newsboys Association. The money was used to buy clothing for needy boys.

Continued Tradition Mrs. Alger continued this tradition for many years, presenting a $500 check to the newsboys every Christmas.

Her husband's family home, the million-dollar Alger House, is currently the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Mrs. Alger dedicated it, in memory of a grandson, Henry E. Chaney, Jr., killed in World War II, in 1949, after first offering it to the Detroit Institute of Arts, which maintained it as a museum branch from 1936 to 1942.

Mrs. Alger was intensely interested in the War Memorial and made many additional contributions in money, time and energy to further its development. She was a perpetual winner of prizes in flower shows and active in garden groups, and saw to it that there were always fresh and attractive arrangements at the Center, and that the famous yew and boxwood gardens there were maintained to perfection.

Helped Start Club She was a charter member of the Neighborhood Club, active in the Thrift Shop, and a charter member of the Women's City Club.

Among her late husband's numerous lumber, financial and automotive interests was the Packard Motor Car Co., which he helped found in 1903.

At the regular meeting of the City Council Monday evening, December 17, two more matters were referred to Bagby for consideration: a request that the Council consider approving an 80-bed convalescent home, to be erected on the Teetaert-Wybo property, at the northeast corner of Mack and Neff; and a communication from Arthur A. Cerre regarding the rezoning of the lot at 893 Notre Dame, known as "Roy's Garage," from residential to local business use.

Both matters were more or less in the nature of informal requests, aimed at "sounding out" the Council rather than getting immediate, formal approval of the projects.

The property where the proposed convalescent home would be located is presently zoned for local business, with a rear portion zoned as public parking area.

Mrs. Alger's Grosse Pointe residence was at 242 Provençal road.

Survivors include one son, Russell A. Alger, Jr., of Florida; two daughters, Mrs. Sidney T. Miller and Mrs. Nils R. Johanson, of New York City; her nephew, Frederick M. Alger, Jr., former Michigan gubernatorial candidate and Ambassador to Belgium; her niece, Mrs. Harold Raymond Boyer; eight grandchildren; and 19 great-grandchildren.

Services are today from the Alger home in Provençal road. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery.

The family has requested that memorial tributes be sent to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

to provide the Fire Department with a head qualified to perform the department's administrative functions. This situation no longer exists.

Praises Capt. Teetaert
"In addition, the logical successor to the Police Chief position, Captain Andrew Teetaert, is a person eminently qualified for police work, being one of only two graduates in the entire Grosse Pointes of the FBI National Police Academy. This training consists of three months of intensive, full-time instruction in the science of police techniques and administration and is entirely unrelated to fire protection and prevention work.

"It is felt that maximum advantage would accrue to the Police Department at this time in permitting this person to function on a full-time basis solely in the police field, particularly in view of present much-improved capabilities in the Fire Department."

Council concurred in the City Manager's recommendation, voting to appoint Captain Teetaert as Police Chief.

George Poupard, who presently holds the position of Fire

Captain, will be appointed Fire Chief, a newly created position.

To Reorganize Department
The City Manager revealed that arrangements are already underway to reorganize the Police Department. The position of "Police Captain" will be changed to "Police Lieutenant," and promotions within the Police Department are being discussed. All promotions and appointments will be made on the basis of merit.

Although these changes will not require any increase in total number of personnel, the City will be obliged to hire one more patrolman as its present personnel moves up through the ranks.

The Council and the Mayor, at Monday's meeting, expressed their regret at the Superintendent's resignation, echoing Councilman David E. Burgess' remark that the City "has been most fortunate in having such an outstanding Chief of Police."

Plans for suitable recognition of Superintendent Trombly's many years of excellent service are currently underway.

City Planning Consultant Makes Preliminary Report

would be directly on a main transportation route, and present preliminary plans call for roughly 20 parking spaces. Probable personnel on the premises at any one time would be between 10 and 12 persons.

Council refused either to encourage or discourage Kifferstein and Sheffman, proposed convalescent home developers, saying that there was not enough information on which to make a determination at the present time, and referred the matter to Bagby for further study in conjunction with his "comprehensive plan."

Cerre's communication was also referred to Bagby. Cerre appeared before the Council, bringing a sketch of a proposed "creative service" shop which would handle "one-of-a-kind" items.

Cerre, if he receives Council approval, plans to remodel the existing Roy's Garage, which has been vacant for over a year, turning it into a "quaint" or residential-type building.

City Manager Lawrence C. Savage gave a brief resume of the history of "Roy's Garage," which has been a bone of contention in the neighborhood for many years.

Built originally in 1926 or '27, it has been, since then, a non-conforming use of residentially-zoned property. In 1941, there was a Court Case which sought to stop operation of the garage, and in 1946 the neighbors petitioned for a cessation of operation. These attempts to prohibit business use of the property were unsuccessful.

According to Police Department records, the garage ceased to operate in the fall of 1961, over a year ago.

City Judge Douglas L. Paterson, who lives next door to "Roy's Garage," appeared before the Council, asking that the property revert to residential use only. The Judge argued that, as no business had been conducted there for over a year, the property has lost all its non-conforming use rights.

Paterson stated that the residents have no desire to see the property used for other than residential purposes.

Council voted to hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, January 21, immediately prior to its regular 8 p.m. meeting, on a proposed zoning ordinance amendment which would allow no alteration or change in a non-conforming use unless the attention or change conforms to the existing zoning rules and has full council approval.

This amendment is designed to give the Council and the City more protection on non-conforming uses.

Council also voted that a public hearing be held, at the same time, regarding prohibition of buildings in excess of three stories in the City of Grosse Pointe.

McBrearty announced that he would take legal action, and filed a writ of mandamus suit in circuit court. He is seeking to show that the lots in Jefferson should be zoned for commercial use, since there are other businesses along both sides of Jefferson.

The Park contends that the entire block is reserved for residential use by zoning ordinance and deed restrictions, and denied the permit on those grounds, as well as because of its civic center plans.

February 5.—Henry Ford, II, Chairman, Ford Motor Company. He will speak on "The Responsibility of the Individual Citizen." The Rev. Bertram Dell Atwood, minister of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, will give the invocation.

Governor-Elect George Romney has told George McMullen, organizer of the lecture series, that he hopes to be able to give the closing lecture on February 12 and he will be here unless some unforeseen situation in the State Legislature makes it necessary for him to remain in Lansing. His subject would be "Michigan and the American Revolution. . . . A Commentary on the Preceding Talks in This Series."

The programs will all start at 8:15 p.m. and last not more than an hour and a half. The lectures themselves are not expected to last more than half an hour, to be followed by question and answer periods. A reception will close each program, when the audience will have an opportunity to meet the speakers.

Maire Students Have Real Spirit

Christmas has a more lasting memory when we give something to someone who really needs the gift or the attention that the gift symbolizes.

The children in Mrs. Parant's room at Maire School have expressed a desire to bring presents, gaily wrapped in Christmas ribbon and paper, for the patients in hospitals. They will bring beautifully wrapped packages containing lovely gifts for lonely and aged men and women who are sick on Christmas Day. The Hospital Corps at the Harbor Light Center will deliver these gifts to the patients at Eloise, Receiving and Wayne County Hospitals and Eventide Residence for the Aging.

Last year, children throughout Maire became so enthusiastic over this worthy project that boys and girls from kindergarten through the sixth grade joined in bringing presents. They delivered 274 packages to the needy last year.

The present given by a Maire School child might well be the only token of love some of these sick receive on Christmas because many of the men in these hospitals are without relatives and are among the world's forgotten people.

The Grosse Pointe boys and girls in Maire like Santa Claus and sleigh bells and Christmas trees too. But they truly enjoy preparing these Yuletide treasures.

Each child will accompany his gift with a well written "Get Well Note" in the hope that someone would be made happy.

Speeder Nabbed By City Police

Michael David Flood, 22600 Hanson, St. Clair Shores, was stopped for speeding on Mack avenue by City Patrolmen William Waldecker, Jr. and Duncan MacEachern, on Friday, December 14, at 7:50 p.m.

The officers discovered that Flood was not only exceeding the speed limit, but had been driving with an expired operator's license.

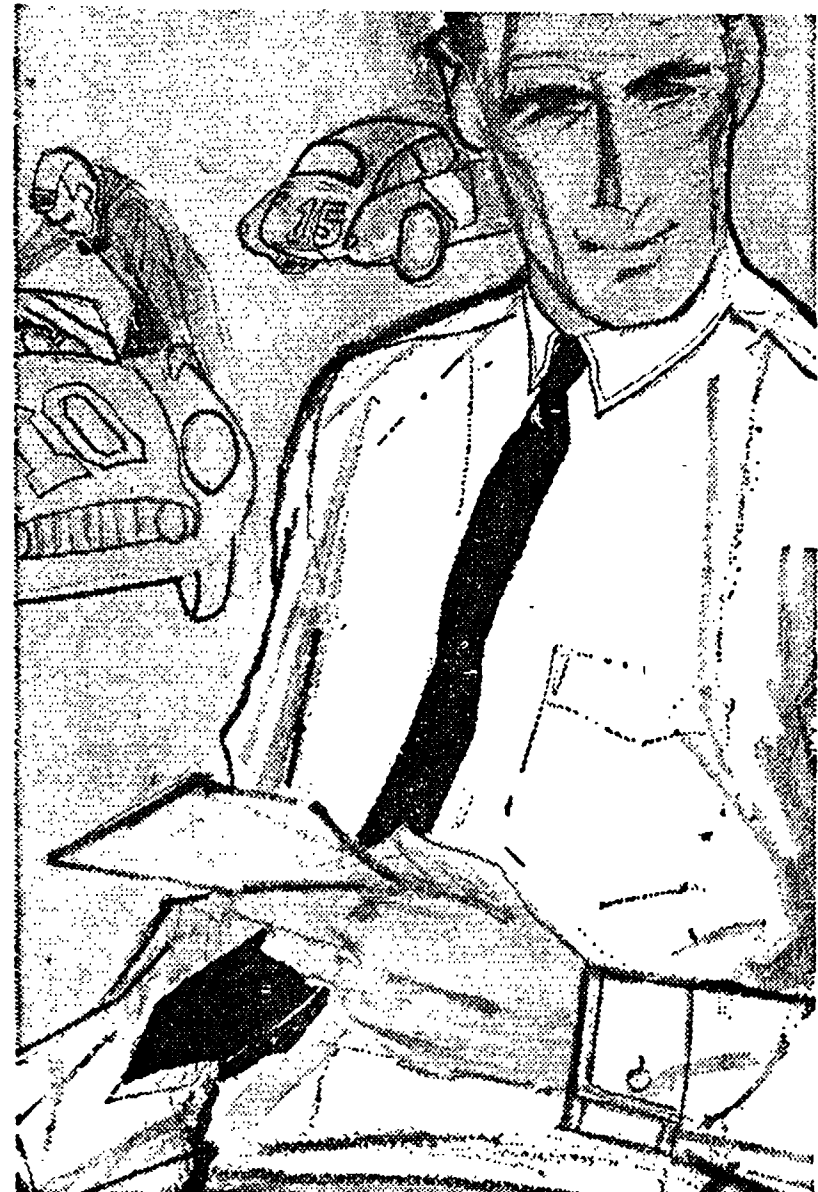

Car and driver were taken to the City police station, where Flood was given two tickets, one for going 40 miles an hour on Mack and one for driving on an expired license. He was then turned over to Detroit police, who wanted him on an outstanding traffic warrant.

Drivers Report Minor Accident

City police received a telephone call reporting a minor accident at the Cadieux-Kercheval intersection late Thursday morning, December 13.

Patrolmen Donald F. Fritz and George Brackx, dispatched to the scene, took reports from Virginia M. Gyurich, 1677 Stanhope, and a 16-year-old boy, drivers of the vehicles involved in the two-car collision.

Mrs. Gyurich, headed east on Kercheval in her '56 Chevrolet, made a left turn onto Cadieux directly in front of the teenager's '53 Ford, headed west on Kercheval. The boy's car struck the woman's, doing minor damage.

Police issued no violations, and both vehicles were driven from the accident scene.

Five Teenagers Arrested; Confess Thefts of 59 Cars

The arrest of five Detroit juveniles by Detroit Youth Bureau authorities on Monday, December 10, cleared one burglary and four automobile thefts in the Woods.

Woods Del. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian said that three of the teenagers were arrested by Patrolman Richard Kroll, youth officer of Jefferson Station, Fifth Precinct. The boys' ages range from 14 to 16 years old.

A 15-year-old and a 14-year-old were the leaders in the December 9 break-in of the residence of Fred H. Ospedale, Jr., 1604 Dorthen. Charges against all of the boys for breaking and entering in the nighttime were filed with Juvenile Authorities.

All five boys were responsible for stealing four cars from the Woods Theater parking lot and city streets, it was said. They all confessed to the thefts, and also to the stealing of 55 motor vehicles in Detroit, according to police. Charges have been filed with Juvenile Authorities on these counts.

On Tuesday, December 11, Kroll appeared at the Woods station to inform O'Dell and Tobian that he had placed two teenagers in the Wayne County Youth Home for having a stolen car in their possession.

The 15-year-old and 14-year-old were arrested on Belle Isle, when their stolen car became stuck in the mud. Belle Isle station police turned the youths over to Kroll, who questioned them. The boys admitted to breaking into the Ospedale home, and then implicated the three other teenagers in the multi-car thefts.

Two rings confiscated by Kroll from the two who were first arrested, were given to O'Dell and Tobian. A check of a list of articles stolen from Ospedale, revealed that the rings were part of the loot.

The boys told the officers that on the night of the burglary, they were using a car stolen in Detroit. In their getaway from the house, they turned onto dead-end Marian court and became stuck in the mud.

They called for a tow truck from a gas station at Mack and Vernier, they said. Having no cash, they gave the gas station attendant a cigaret lighter and a wrist watch, part of the loot, as security.

O'Dell, Tobian and Kroll approached the station owner, who checked his records and verified the towing service. The attendant who hauled the youths out of the mud at the end of the court, told the officers that there were five boys in the car, and that there was another car ahead that he pulled out, too.

The two originally arrested implicated the three other boys, two of them 16 years old, and one 15 years old, and these were arrested by Kroll. They confessed to being in the Ospedale house at the time of the burglary.

All five boys admitted being together in all car thefts. Besides the 55 automobiles they confessed taking in Detroit, the lads admitted taking a car belonging to Paul Jankowski of 20729 Young lane, from in front of 830 South Oxford on May 21; one belonging to James Hymer of 578 Lenox, from the theater lot on October 13.

Also an automobile owned by Michael Feldman of 20854 Walton, St. Clair Shores, from the theater lot on October 26, and

REPORTS MISSING LICENSE

Harold Pearce, 12889 East Outer drive, Detroit, stopped by the City Police Station on Monday, December 10, to report the rear license plate missing from his '62 Dodge Lancer, left parked at the rear of 17051 Kercheval earlier in the afternoon. Police believe the license plate either fell from the car or was stolen.

Warning Issued On Xmas Trees

Christmas tree buying and decorating is fun, but there are certain hazards to be aware of, according to Woods Public Safety Capt. Donald Coats, who had words of warning for Pointe residents.

"When setting up Christmas trees in our homes," he said, "we must remember that we are installing a fire hazard, and proper precautions should be taken to minimize accidents."

He said that there are a number of elementary rules that should be followed where a tree is involved. These are:

1. Buy a freshly cut tree and keep it out of doors standing in water or snow until it is ready to take into the house to be decorated. Before setting up the tree, saw off the trunk at an angle, at least one inch above the original cut. Use a stand that will hold water and fill this, container daily. This will keep the tree green and moist and reduce its flammability.

2. The larger the tree, the greater the danger, so do not get one larger than you need.
3. Place the tree away from doorways so that it will not block an exit, and with enough support so it will not be knocked down.

4. Use lights that have been approved by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. Disconnect the lights when no one is around to watch them. Never overload a circuit, and make sure that wires are in good condition.

5. Use only non-combustible decorations, or, if using combustible material, make sure they are flameproofed.

6. Place gift wrappings in solid boxes. After opening boxes, dispose of the containers as quickly as possible, as they could be fuel for fires.

7. When it's tree becomes dry, dispose of it quickly and safely.

8. Make sure all tree lightings are turned off before retiring or leaving the house.

"There is no reason why, with the proper care and 'ounce of prevention,' Christmas cannot be as safe as other days of the year," Capt. Coats said. "Bear in mind what possible hazards a tree might cause. Remember the accidents and lessons we have learned from the past. And, remember that common sense and good housekeeping are the best fire prevention methods known, or practiced."

REPORTS LARCENY

Clarence Bessert, 31, of 420 Chalfonte, building contractor, complained to Woods police on Friday, December 14, that someone broke into a new house under construction at 24 Woods lane, and stole a still packaged two-fold Louvre door, valued at $39. The house was locked. There was no evidence of forcible entry.

John Gonzaga, Detroit Lions offensive tackle had this wry comment about guard play after filling in at offensive guard against the Minnesota Vikings. "I don't know how those guards live so long. I got the devil kicked out of me."

Fatality Driver Awaits Sentence

On Monday, December 10, a jury found Thomas B. Piche, 24, of 445 Moross road, guilty of leaving the scene of a fatal injury accident.

The jury trial was heard before Circuit Court Judge Nathan Kaufman, who referred the case over to the Wayne County Probation Department for investigation before passing sentence. The sentence date was not set.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that Piche could receive up to five years in Jackson Prison, the maximum set by law. Piche was found guilty of the fatal accident last January 29, that cost the life of Alfred Straus, 59, of 3161 Lenox, Detroit. Straus died in Bon Secours Hospital, two hours after he was struck by a car driven by Piche.

Straus was hit while crossing from the north side of Mack, near Beaconsfield, to the south side, his body landing 142 feet from the point of impact.

Police who arrived at the scene, said that Piche tried to leave the scene. He continued to drive away after hitting the man, but was forced to stop by an unidentified motorist who witnessed the accident.

Chief Louwers has an extensive record of convictions for violation of traffic laws. Straus was the first 1962 Pointe traffic fatality.

Shores Woman Traffic Victim

Mrs. Catherine Finlayson, 70, of 626 Lake Shore road, suffered a broken hip on Thursday, December 13, when she was struck by an automobile as she was crossing Lake Shore, opposite her home.

Driver of the car that hit the elderly woman was Anne M. Rushmer, 17, of 614 Rivard. She was released without blame, after she and witnesses made statements to Shores police.

Mrs. Finlayson was transported to Bon Secours Hospital by Patrolman Frank Mustazza, who was dispatched to the scene of the accident.

According to statements given to police, Mrs. Finlayson was standing back of the island curb and started to cross, then appeared to have changed her mind and stepped back. Then she ran across the road.

Miss Rushmer saw the woman at a distance of 60 feet, and when she drove to within 40 feet, Mrs. Finlayson dashed across the road and was hit. There was a dense fog over the road and the pavement was wet, it was said.

Mustazza said that when he arrived at the scene, Mrs. Finlayson was lying in the middle of the road.

Adult Education Attracts 3,115

Three thousand, one hundred and fifteen persons registered for the October-November adult education classes in Grosse Pointe, according to a recent report by Director of Community Services Forrest Geary.

One hundred and twelve class sections, not including the monthly Traffic School sponsored by the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods, were in operation during this period. Last year's corresponding totals were 2,467 persons and 104 sections.

The Community Service Center provided facilities for 51 evening and 17 day sections, while 20 evening sections met in Grosse Pointe High School, six evening sections in Brownell, seven evening sections in Parcels, and five evening sections in Pierce.

Kerby School hosted two evening sections, and one section each met at Ferry, the Main Library, Barnes and Monteith.

Entirely new adult classes, or those which did not operate during the 1961-62 school year but are currently meeting, include: Acting for Beginners; Blue Print Reading (Machine and Construction); Biology (Modern Concepts); Psychology for You; Business and Real Estate Law; China Painting; English for New Americans; Flower Arrangement; Square Dancing; Woodshop; Style and Poise; Real Estate Management; Mosaic Tile; Mathematics; and Geology (Saturday Field Trips).

Park Firefighters Rescue Man and Wife from Blaze

Park firefighters rescued a man and woman from the second-story back porch of their home Sunday morning, December 16, when they could not escape from their smoke-filled house. A resident of the first floor was taken to a hospital for treatment of abrasion about the legs.

Capt. William Graul said that the resident of the lower flat, Monte Reitz, 983 Harcourt, called the Detroit Fire Department, in his excitement when a davenport in his living room caught fire at 2:11 a.m.

The Detroit Fire Dispatcher calmly questioned Reitz and received the approximate location of the house, but not the correct house number. The dispatcher then relayed all available information to the Park Department.

Park Fire Lt. Henry DeClerck, who was in command of the shift, said the personnel of his department went to Harcourt and Jefferson with all available equipment, and although the house number was not given, there was no difficulty in locating the house because of the dense smoke.

Firemen used an aerial ladder to rescue Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Nuziard, residents of the upper flat, 985 Harcourt, who were forced to retreat to their back porch because of the density of the smoke.

The Nuziards told firemen that they tried to leave by the front stairway, but the smoke was so thick it was impossible. They went to the back to await firemen.

Reitz, who stumbled in the smoke, skinned his legs, and was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment and released.

Lt. DeClerck said that the fire was brought under control in about five minutes.

The davenport was completely destroyed, and fire ate through the living room floor and floor joist, the fire lieutenant said, in his report of the damage. Smoke damage in all the rooms of the two-flat building was heavy, he stated.

A carelessly discarded cigarette was blamed for the fire, it was said.

Footprints Trap Young Burglar

An alert Park woman brought about the arrest of a 15-year-old boy on Saturday, December 15, when she called police regarding footprints under a window of a neighbor's house. The boy admitted committing about seven burglaries in the Park.

Mrs. Hazel Olson of 958 Beaconsfield phoned police when she noticed the footprints under the window of a next door neighbor's house.

Police Cpl. Henry Coonce and Patrolman William Furtaw followed the prints in the fresh snow to an alley near Nottingham, where they observed a group of boys. The officers checked the boys' shoes with the prints in the snow, and the 15-year-old's matched.

The officers took the boy to the station where they questioned him. The boy confessed that since last Halloween, he walked through the alleys behind Beaconsfield, between Jefferson and Essex, peeping through windows and trying doors of homes.

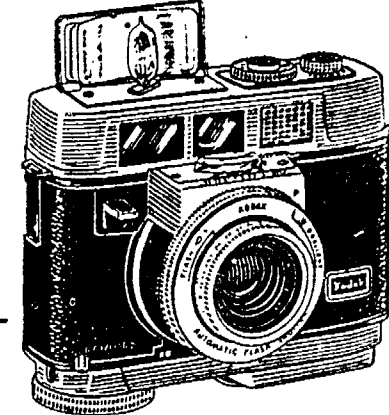

If he found a door unlocked he said, he entered the house and searched it, looking for money or anything that could be easily taken. He said he entered into seven homes in this manner. It was not disclosed if he found any loot. The matter is still being investigated by Det. Lt. Stanley Enders, who filed charges against the boy with Juvenile Court. The boy was released to his father.

Park Warns Dog Owners

An annual reminder from the Park Police Department is given to dog owners in the city, pointing out that their pets' licenses expire on the last day of this month.

Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that all dog licenses expire on December 31 of each calendar year. New licenses can now be obtained at the Police Station at the rear of the Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson, second floor, Room III.

He said that persons who have owned dogs for any length of time should know the law, but to those who have newly acquired pets, he states the following:

1. Dogs four months of age or older must be licensed;
2. Dogs six months of age or older must be vaccinated;
3. To obtain a license, the vaccination slip must be brought. Bring the slip with you when applying for a tag for your pet.

Chief Louwers said that owners will have through January to comply with the law, after that, tickets will be issued citing them for court.

He said that approximately 1,100 dog licenses were issued during 1962, and urged pet owners to obtain tags early, not to delay and cause personnel to be swamped with work at the last minute.

The chief also warned owners about permitting their animals to run at large. This, he said, is a violation of the Dog Ordinance. Dogs should be confined in fenced-in yards, or when taken for walks should be on a leash and in full control of the person walking it.

All dogs at large, whether licensed or not, will be impounded in the city pound. Owners whose animal has been picked up will be required to pay a $5 pound fee and a $2 board bill, the first day, and a $2 board bill for each day it is kept in the pound.

St. James Plans Special Services

St. James Lutheran Church, McMillan at Kercheval, will have a Christmas Eve Candlelight Service beginning at 11 p.m. on Monday, December 24.

Pastor George E. Kurz will offer a meditation as the midnight hour approaches. The Chancel Choir, under the direction of Carl Muzel, will beautify the service with selections of music. Among the selections will be "Glory to God" by G. Kessler, "Silent Night" by Gruber-Wetzel, "On This Good Christmas Morn" by Cain, "Gloria, Sing Gloria," "While by Our Sleeping Flock" by J. M. Christianson with the alto solo by Mrs. R. Scharfberg, Mrs. William Heller will sing "O Holy Night" by Adam.

On Christmas Day there will be a Family Service beginning at 11 a.m. A family can find no finer way of keeping Christmas than to come as a family to worship the King. The Chapel Choir, composed of high school youth, will sing "Let Us Go to Bethlehem" by Ringwald. Sunday School children make up the Junior Choir and they will sing the duet "Silent Night" by Gruber. "Above the Silent Hills" by Wilson will be sung by Joyce Adams.

REPORTS LOST WALLET
Howard Hogan, 3970 Garland, Detroit, an employee at O'Leary Cadillac, 17153 Jefferson, reported the loss of his billfold to City police on Tuesday, December 11. Hogan stated he lost the billfold, which contained a driver's license but no money, on Friday, December 7, while at work.

Swimming Coach at MSUO Solves Mystery at Pool

Solved: The Mystery of the Night Divers and the Phantom of the Pool.

Maybe. Holle Lepley hopes so, anyway. He's the master detective at Michigan State University Oakland who thinks he has cracked this baffling case after two weeks of nighttime stake-outs in and near MSUO's new $1,500,000 Intramural sports and Recreation Building.

Seems that the building, which won't be completed and opened for use for about a month, has been in use for weeks.

Lepley, who otherwise is director of physical education, has spent that long time trying to figure out how groups of students—almost 100 at a time—were getting into the building and making full use of the Olympic pool.

Along with a volunteer Watson from the construction company, Lepley checked every possible means of getting into the building and, when it became obvious that the students still were outsmarting him, he changed all of the brand new locks for brand newer ones.

But this didn't help, and he heard that one night he heard them in the building but couldn't find them.

So Lepley tried another approach and attempted to establish a line of communications by sending a memorandum to MSUO's 200 resident students.

"To The Phantom and The Night Divers:

"Please clue me in! "Let's consider postponing night activities in the Intramural Sports Building until it is completed.

"The pool water still is under treatment. Exposure to the water at this time might possibly cause a certain amount of discomfort.

"The general welfare and safety of participants should be of primary importance around a swimming area. From all reports you have been most resourceful in this respect."

There were, indeed, a few unconfirmed reports of skin irritations. Well, a campus wag has suggested to Lepley that when the building does open, he let the Night Divers run it.

Whispered stories making the rounds of the student body include a report that before the Night Divers ever used the pool, the chemistry majors among them ran an analysis of the water. The laboratory tests showed the water to be "a couple of points above standard, but safe."

The students also set up an efficient lifeguard system, and had a technical crew, among whose responsibilities was control of mechanical equipment, including electrical circuits to which switches had not yet been connected.

But one point missing from all the stories was the one Lepley needed most of all—how did 75 and more students get into a building that was completely sealed?

Well, it wasn't. And Lepley, a former University of Nebraska swimming coach learned, finally, of a remarkable new way of getting into a pool.

Just climb down a dry drainage well and do an Australian crawl from down under and through a horizontal conduit which carries pipes into the boiler room and there you are.

Admit Robbing Gray's Sports

Two 17-year-old boys arrested by Royal Oak Police on Tuesday, December 11, for investigation of breaking and entering in the nighttime, confessed to the November 24 burglary of Gray's Sports Shop, 106 Kercheval.

Held on a charge of burglary are William Scroggs of 6388 Carrie, Detroit, and Larry Botstford of 3330 East Outer drive, Detroit, both of whom admitted breaking into the sports shop, according to Farms Det. Sgts. George Van Tiem and Jack Paisley.

The detectives were notified of the youth's arrest by Royal Oak authorities, and questioned the boys at the Oakland County Jail.

Van Tiem and Paisley said the teenagers confessed to talking about $26 in cash from the cash register and two parkas, flashlights and flashlight batteries, and other items. Total amount of the thefts was set at about $206.

A larger amount of cash, $300, was reported missing by Roland Gray, shop owner, but Scroggs and Botstford admitted to only taking the amount they confessed to, the detectives said.

The Farms complaint will be compiled with Royal Oak's, the officers said.

Find Purchase of Cigarets No Problem for Students

Continuing their "expose" of student smoking, reporters from Grosse Pointe High School's student newspaper, "The Tower," recently conducted a survey of 11 stores in the area. Nine journalism students, ranging in age from 15 to 17, set out to determine precisely how easy it is for teenagers to purchase cigarettes in Grosse Pointe. They found out that it is very easy indeed. At nine of the stores, selected at random and covering a wide area from Cadieux to slightly beyond Eight Mile, the students were able to buy cigarettes unquestioned. In one shop, according to the "Tower" article, a clerk not only asked one of the students if she would like to purchase matches, but urged her to buy two packs of cigarettes for 57

Dies When Fire Sweeps Cottage

Mrs. Elenore Shackelford, wife of retired Detroit oral surgeon, Dr. John H. Shackelford, died Thursday night, December 13, when fire destroyed her family's year-round Lake Erie cottage at Cedar Beach, near Kingsville, Ont.

She was found lying on a bed by firemen, who arrived in response to her telephoned report that the house was filled with smoke. John, her husband, was in Detroit at the time, preparing to deliver a lecture at Receiving Hospital; where he has continued to teach since his retirement. The family residence is at 17217 Jefferson avenue east.

Survivors include, besides her husband, her mother, Mrs. George W. Smith; a daughter, Mrs. Elenore Parkinson; a son, John H. Shackelford, Jr.; a sister, Jane V. Smith; and three brothers, George W. Smith, Jr., John A. and Robert B. Smith.

Services were Monday, December 17, at the Verheyden Funeral Home and St. Clare of Montefalco Church. Burial was in White Chapel.

Art Institute Awards Honors

Resolutions of appreciation to Robert H. Tannahill and K. T. Keller, previously passed by the Detroit Arts Commission, were formally issued in the form of leather-bound calligraphic certificates at the December 13 commission meeting in the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Mr. Tannahill, of Lee Gate, Grosse Pointe, who served on the Arts Commission for 30 years and resigned from the post of commission president last July because of ill health, was cited for "extremely distinguished services to the Commission."

The citation he received said in part: "His uncompromising standards, his deep knowledge of art history, his unflinching taste, have won him the respect and admiration of the staff and have largely contributed, within one generation, to place Detroit Institute of Arts among the great museums of this country."

Mr. Keller joined the Commission in 1942, and served as president from 1953 to 1960. His citation states:

"The years during which he has been president have been notably constructive years in the history of our museum. Great improvements have been made in our building to render it more efficient both in its public and its storage and service areas. The collections have been safeguarded by the installation of air conditioning. The Great Hall and other galleries which he has given himself, or been influential in bringing to the museum."

Law Catches Up With Fast Kids

City Police Captain Andrew C. Teetaert, cruising on Lakeland at Maumee Saturday afternoon, December 15, observed a group of young teenagers making a left turn in a jeep station wagon at a high rate of speed.

Captain Teetaert turned and gave chase, finally catching up with the juveniles at Washington and Kercheval. Assisted by Patrolmen George Brackx and William Waldecker, Jr., he brought the car and its occupants, five 15-year-old boys, back to the station.

The young driver was issued two tickets, one for reckless driving at a high rate of speed and one for driving without ever having acquired an operator's license.

Both the car and its driver were held at the station until the boy's mother came to pick them up.

Symposium Held At Bon Secours

By Dr. Rivard Connelly
Detergents, insecticides, iodine, antibiotics, and endocrine secretions came under study as possible factors in the increased incidence of thyroiditis in a symposium held at Bon Secours Hospital Wednesday, December 5.

A team of scientists which has been investigating the problem at Wayne State University College of Medicine reported their findings to the attending staff of the Hospital and visitors.

Dr. Nelson Taylor was moderator of the symposium and led the discussion by the panelists — Dr. Allen Hennes, Dr. Morris Goodman, Dr. Norman Naumoff and Dr. Alfred Large. Dr. Taylor and Dr. Hennes discussed the problem from the clinical standpoint and Dr. Large from the surgical viewpoint.

Dr. Goodman reported on his work in the biochemistry of the cells of the thyroid and Dr. Naumoff on his use of radioisotopes in diagnosis and treatment.

The panelists believe that the auto-immune bodies are derived from thyroid cells and stored thyroid hormone as a result of changes in cell membrane. Inflammation, enlargement and soreness of the thyroid gland are evidences of thyroiditis. Auto-immune bodies occur in rheumatoid arthritis, lupus erythematosus and other conditions but those found in thyroid disorders are organ specific. The tendency to form auto-immune bodies may be an inherited factor, but environmental conditions may well play a role in their production.

The fact that thyroiditis is known to occur more frequently now and is found more commonly in women raises many questions regarding exposure to detergents, insecticides, antibiotics, chlorine and iodine. The role of cyclic changes in endocrine secretions in women was discussed. All of these areas are under study by this and other groups of investigators.

Cases Heard In City Court

Although most of the Tuesday, December 11, Justice Court session in Grosse Pointe City was devoted to the unofficial case of the five boys involved in Grosse Pointe's "Reinder Incident," Judge Douglas L. Paterson found time to rule on three other cases.

Dennis Michael LaRue, 849 Neff, charged with loitering, and Joseph H. Buschmole, 21321 St. Gertrude, St. Clair Shores, charged with reckless driving, were found not guilty.

The judge reduced the charge against a third person, Marguerite E. Dalton, 4184 Balfour, Detroit, who appeared before him that same evening. Originally charged with reckless driving, she stood mute, and was fined $5 and given a suspended sentence when found guilty of interfering with moving traffic.

Swim Program Proves Popular

Grosse Pointe's Community Swimming Program, operated by the Public School System through the Department of Community Services, has registered a total of 1,221 individuals to date—105 adults and 1,116 school-age children. These figures are for Instruction Classes only, exclusive of Family Nights or Open Family Swimming activities, and do not include Private and Parochial School pool usage.

St. Paul High School (boys and girls), Austin High School, St. Ambrose High School and Our Lady Star of the Sea High School all use the pools after day-school hours. Approximately 90 girls and 40 boys from St. Paul's attend weekly swimming classes, another estimated 40 girls come from St. Ambrose, and 60 pupils each from Austin and Our Lady Star of the Sea, making a total of 320 Private-Parochial swimmers at the Public School pools.

Enrollment in the Beginners Class for Boys and Girls ages 7-11, with 14 sections meeting at Brownell, Pierce, Parcels and the High School, stands at 681, and an additional 327 are enrolled in the Intermediate Boys and Girls Classes (ages 8-12), with nine sections meeting at the same schools.

Thirty-four girls have enrolled in Brownell's Junior Life Saving Class, 74 boys and girls meet at Brownell for two classes in Preparation for Competitive Swimming, and 28 women have enrolled in a Beginners Swimming Class which also meets at Brownell.

An additional 28 women are participating in an Advanced Class at Brownell, and 49 men are enrolled in the High School's Optional Instruction Class.

Blue Devil Cagers Whip East Detroit, Wyandotte

By Bill Hagman

On Tuesday night, December 12, and last Friday night, December 15, the Grosse Pointe High School Blue Devils ran wild as they downed East Detroit 77-57 and routed Wyandotte 88-55 in two basketball games. These two victories run the Devils' string to five without a loss.

In the Tuesday night encounter against East Detroit, the Devils used balanced scoring and good defense to embarrass the home team. The first quarter ended with the Pointers holding a commanding 23-9 lead. The Devils poured it on in the second quarter and left the foe at halftime with a safe 50-26 advantage.

Uses Many Substitutes
Coach Hollors substituted freely in the second half but that didn't have much effect upon the scoring. At the end of three periods the Devils led 67-40. The last quarter was the only one in which the Shamrocks outscored the visiting Pointers but by that time it was too late for the young East Detroiters.

Gary Spade and Bob Hadley each gathered 12 points while Vie Dhooge and Marc Lonesk each tossed in 11. Lonesk picked off seven rebounds and Hadley six to lead the Pointers in that department.

Last Friday night at Wyandotte the Devils crushed the Bears 88-55. Gary Spade and Marc Lonesk were the big guns for the Devils as they won their fifth straight game. It was the Devils' second BCL win. Spade pumped in 24 points while Lonesk added 23.

The game started fast and continued fast until the final quarter. The Pointers fell behind at first but then fought to a 25-17 lead at the end of the first quarter. All Wyandotte hopes of an upset as the Devils outscored them 24-12 to take a 49-29 halftime lead.

Austin Keeps Slate Clean

Austin Prep school cagers completed the Knights of Salesian last Friday, 78-24, with a balanced, effective offense that showed an unexpected depth. Twelve Austin cagers scored as Coach Ed Carroll experimented with his bench.

Two boys, Jack Sweeney and Mike Kingsley, were given their first starting assignments, making a unexpeced depth. Sweeney scored as Coach Ed Carroll experimented with his bench. There was no doubt about the outcome as soon as Rick Pine, moved to center to make room for Kingsley, tipped the opening tip-off to Sam McKnight who sank a long jumper from the corner, after less than eight seconds of play.

Never in Running
From then on, the Knights were out of the game. They didn't score their first field goal until 13 minutes of play had passed. The revamped starting five, however, didn't really click until Coach Carroll put back in Doug Winkworth and Greg Hojnacki midway in the first quarter, which ended with the score 18-4.

The second and third quarters went much the same as the first. The first-string played well, as the underclassmen and reserves got experience for later in the season. At halftime, the score was 35-9, at the end of the third quarter, 56-15.

The final stanza saw some fine basketball by reserves Charles Pfeiffer and seven points each in the 22-quarter.

Show Good Balance
Again, Austin showed good balance in their attack. Doug Winkworth was high with 13 points. Sam McKnight tallied 12 and Greg Hojnacki scored 10. Nine other Friars hit the scoring column.

The victory was the Friars' third without a loss. Last Monday, Austin played tough Hamtramck in a non-league contest, but the game was played too late to make this issue.

Tomorrow the Friars will meet their first real obstacle on the path to the Central League crown. Catholic Ridge, a three-and-a-half year basketball winning streak over Austin, will have the big home-court advantage in this battle-between the two pre-season picks for the championship.

Ten members of the Detroit Lions starting units, five on offense and five on defense, came to Detroit via the trade or waiver route.

The ranks of the Detroit Lions bachelors will be decreased by two soon after the '62 season ends, as tackle Roger Brown and center Bob Whitlow join the married ranks.

U-M Swimmers, Divers To Stage Exhibition Here

The U. of M. Alumni Club of Grosse Pointe completed the arrangements for holding a swimming and diving exhibition at the Brownell Junior High School Swimming Pool, 260 Chalfont, on Tuesday, January 8.

Club President George Cherpeles announced that the exhibition will be put on by Dick Kimball and eight members of the swimming and diving squad from the University.

The tremendous interest shown in past swimming events, particularly among the students in the Grosse Pointe area, has made two performances necessary. The first performance will be held at 7 p.m. and the second at 8:30 p.m. Cherpeles stated that the program will be varied with exhibition and comedy diving, serious and comedy swimming routines, including work on the trampoline. The program promises to be entertaining as well as educational. A special ticket price of 50 cents has been set for adults, 25 cents for students.

Young Hockey Players Tangle

The Grosse Pointe Division of the Grosse Pointe Hockey League played the 4th game at the Gordie Howe Ice land on Saturday, December 15.

The first contest saw Merollis Chevrolet and the Marine City Raiders meeting for the first time this season. Merollis Chevrolet started the first period with a quick goal which led the spectators to believe the Vikings were a shoo-in again.

Marine City was not to be denied and ended the period with pressure and control of the game. Continuing the pressure into the second period, Merollis then went into man-to-man defense which at first looked to be a Merollis advantage when they stole the disc and rushed for a score.

The second period started much as the second period ended, hard checking and aggressive rushing but the Raiders had found the solution, scoring 3 more goals to Merollis's one, dumping previously placed Merollis into second place in the League standings.

Lakeview High School played host to the Blackhawks in the second game of the day. With exceptionally fine passing and solid back-checking, Lakeview had little trouble in setting the Blackhawks down 6-1 to remain unbeaten and the sole possessor of first place.

St. Clair Shores played host to the Fitzsimmons Manufacturing Company in the afternoon's third contest. St. Clair Shores jumped into the scoring column early in the first period on a fine solo rush by Hank Evans. In the waning seconds of the first period, St. Clair Shores scored again on a picture play given Tom Christman no chance of making a save.

Fitzsimmons came on the ice for the second period an inspired club, with Steve Backley finding the twine on a fine pass from Mike Hendrie. Once on the scoreboard, Fitzsimmons, with new life, came on like tigers, controlling the puck and putting the pressure on St. Clair Shores. However, the period ended 2-1, St. Clair Shores.

Steve Backley opened the final period with a perfect shot into the lower right corner of the Shores net. A new game, but not for long as St. Clair Shores stole the blue line. Det in their zest to score, the Fitzsimmons Club brought the game inside the Shores blue line. The defense were drawn in and St. Clair Shores shot the disc out of their zone to a floating center who made a fine solo score to end the game 4-2.

Stars Stretch Lead in Hockey

Two games played Saturday morning at Ice Flair in the Grosse Pointe Hockey League. Pee Wee division saw the unbeaten Stars widen their lead to three points in the four team race.

In the opener the Bruins came back to tie the Wolves 2 to 2 after the Wolves' Matt Devine had bagged two quick goals. Devine scored from Art Gulliani in the first frame and from John and Davy Hoag in the second; but Bob Browning of the Bruins got one back on a pass from Dick Lehman and Jim Praught evens it up in the last period on a fine shot after a pass from Rino Booth as the Wolves wilted under pressure. Playing strongly throughout were Bob Nutter of the Wolves and Mike Kelly of the Bruins.

The second game saw the unbeaten Wings with only seven players scored jump off to a two goal lead on passes by Steve McIntyre and improving Bill McIntyre and hang on till late in the game due largely to sensational work in the nets by Gene Whately playing his first game in goal. However, superior firepower of the Stars front line told in the late stages as Steve Cuba batted in a loose puck. John O'Brien scored on John Walsh's relay and finally league scoring leader Walsh dumped in two unassisted goals from face offs near the net to enable the Stars to keep off with a 2 to 2 win and stretch their undefeated record intact. O'Brien and Walsh were outstanding for the visitors while Bill McIntyre of the Wings was a constant threat.

Saturday's doubleheader matches the Wings and Bruins while the Stars take on the Wolves in the second feature.

The 1962 Detroit Lions won seven straight home games during the 1962 season, marking the first time in history the team has completed its home schedule without a loss or a tie.

St. Paul Basketball Team Fights to Overtime Win

St. Paul, before one of the largest home game basketball crowds in its history, Friday, December 14, fought to an exciting and dramatic overtime victory against St. Thomas, 49-47.

The game was sent into overtime by a sensational 20-foot jump shot by forward Brian Schick. With three seconds in the game remaining and St. Thomas leading 45-43, St. Paul called a time out. Upon resumption of play Schick took the pass out from Barry Trombly and then looped his shot which banked in off the backboard just before the buzzer sounded.

The overtime period saw Barry Trombly score first on an easy lay-up only to have the Blue Streaks tie it on a basket by Don Dziuk, 47-47. Then with just 15 seconds of the three minute overtime quarter remaining, Jim Brigham calmly stepped to the charity line and pumped in two free throws. This proved to be enough as the Lakers walked off with their fifth straight victory over St. Thomas.

The first three quarters of the game were typical of these arch rivals. The Lakers took a 11-6 first quarter advantage which turned out to be the only quarter in which St. Paul led in scoring outside of the overtime session.

In the second quarter the Lakers kept the lead throughout, despite both teams scoring 11 points and the half time score being 22-17. The second Stravinsky's starkly barbaric ballet music "Le Sacre du Printemps" ("The Rite of Spring") will be the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's major offering Thursday and Saturday, December 27-29, at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium. Sixteen Ehrling, noted for his interpretation of the ritualistic work, will conduct.

The program will include Rossini's Overture to "L'Italiana in Algeri," Mozart's Symphony No. 39 (K. 543), and Smetana's "The Moldau."

Saturday, December 29, at 11 a.m. Valtor Poole will conduct the orchestra's second Fathers and Sons concert. The featured "soloist" will be Stuart Hampe, cartoonist, who will sketch at breakneck speed the story of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" Suite.

The program will include Bach's "Little Fugue" in G minor, Ibert's "Divertissement," and Sousa's "Semper Fidelis." The orchestra's battery of percussion will be augmented by three young military drummers from Redford High School for the Sousa work. They are Richard Cranston, David Wolfe and Richard Barber.

Chairmen for the "For Men Only" Symphony day are Richard P. Barnard and Vic Wertz and their sons.

Teachers Defeat Seniors In Rollicking Cage Game

By Bill Hagman

Saturday night, December 15, was Senior Night at Grosse Pointe High School. All seniors were invited to come and a good majority did. On the program was a basketball game, movie and a dance.

The basketball game was between male teachers and seniors picked by Reed Burke and Charlie Renney. The players couldn't be on varsity basketball.

The players were Gary Andersen, George Short, Woody Perryman, Al Donnell, Tom Peebles, Larry Duke, Bob Gierman, Tom Wallace, Tom Kennedy, Steve Lumshe, Tom Ravea, Gary Salach, Reed Burke, Gary Landless and Jay Yeckley. Charlie Renney didn't play in the game. The referees were Gary Spade and Bob Hadley. Many seniors felt that the referees were pro-teacher.

The game was closely contested in the first half as the seniors had to weather the highly questionable tactics of the teachers and the referees. The half ended with the seniors holding a slim 17-14 lead. During the halftime Mr. Lippert returned to Senior Night where students and faculty alike were relieved to know that he was all right.

The second half was all faculty as they controlled both the offensive and defensive boards. The seniors blew many scoring chances and were a little lax on defense. Some consolation to the referees called three fouls on varsity basketball coach Chuck Hollors. As the referees are both varsity basketball players we expect them to warm the bench for the rest of the season. This would suit the senior players who felt that they were being persecuted all evening.

Tom Wallace topped the senior scoring with five points while Reed Burke and Bob Gierman each contributed four apiece. Mr. Don Zysk, Mr. Bill Coates and Mr. Jim Coates played solid ball for the victorious teachers.

After the game a movie was shown of Grosse Pointe High School in the 1930's and 1940's. Following the film a dance was held in the gym. The dance and Senior Night came to a close at 11:30 for the vanquished but not glum seniors.

The following 1962 Senior Night for the class of '63 possible: John Zimmerman, Jo MacDonald, Jay Yeckley, Aryllynn Hennessy, Jan Bamberger, Kathy Munson, Mary Ellen McLean, Bill Tyler, Brooke Tilly and Nancy Young.

Playboy Lounge Opens to Public

The new Playboy Lounge, big, sumptuous and colorful, opened for business this week at 17569 E. Warren at Hereford.

The building was handled by Rudy Palombi, Grosse Pointe builder. It is of brick and terra cotta with a decorative front of frame lattice work. It is large and has a unique interior. At the right as one enters is the big foyer and grand cocktail lounge. At the left is the family dining room for weddings, parties and banquets. It is spacious and beautifully equipped. Folding partitions make smaller rooms, for clubs and organization meetings.

The large kitchen and pantry facilities, which include a walk-in refrigerator, are located far enough from the main dining room to insure quietness and only the voices of the gay diners can be heard. It is serving on weekdays and Sundays.

Six business men joined with Rita Van Houten in buying the land and remodeling and refurbishing the building. Rita, who is the genial hostess, has earned a reputation for herself through the years with large establishments of the same nature in the immediate area.

DRIVER ARRESTED

Thomas J. Asmus, 21, of 558 Lochmoor, was arrested by Shores police on Sunday, December 16, and charged with reckless driving on Lake Shore road. He was released to his father until his scheduled court appearance on January 7.

Being Briefed for Gigantic Move

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company employees who will work on the utility's move to its new building this weekend get last minute instructions from E. G. Reynolds, of Grosse Pointe Woods, who has been in charge of planning the huge transfer of operations.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company will begin to move some of its offices into its new building Friday night, December 21, but all offices dealing directly with customers will remain at the present headquarters at Clifford and Bagley.

Ralph T. McElvenny, president of the company, said it will be about March 1 before the public areas of the new building at One Woodward avenue, are finished.

Until then, he said, customers who wish to pay bills, discuss their accounts, purchase gas appliances, apply for service, etc., will continue to use the Clifford and Bagley office in the old Gas Company building.

Employment offices, the Home Service Department, and the model gas kitchens will also remain at the Clifford and Bagley building, he said.

"Customers having business with the company should continue to come to branch offices or to the Clifford and Bagley office," McElvenny said. "There will be no customer services available at the new building until further notice."

"For safety reasons we cannot open the new building to

Neighborhood Club News

The Neighborhood Club announces new activities which will begin the first week of January. Registrations are now being accepted for these groups. Girls, ages 5 through 19, will have Baton Twirling Class on Fridays from 6 to 7 p.m. Batons may be ordered from the instructor, Mrs. Lee Dust, and they must be measured according to the individual. Measurements will be taken at the first class session on January 4. Class fee is $50 cents per lesson and batons will cost $4.

The new Tap Dancing Class for boys and girls ages 7 through 12, will also be instructed by Mrs. Dust. These classes will meet Saturday mornings, the girls from 10 to 11 and the boys from 11 to 12 noon. Classes will begin January 5 and the fee is $15 for 20 sessions.

Gymnastic groups will begin another 10-week session on Saturday, January 5, under the instruction of Harry Warnken, formerly with Detroit-Turners. Boys and girls, ages 7 through 12, learn the basic gymnastic skills in the Tumbling and Acrobatic Class which meets from 9 to 10 and features practice on the trampoline.

Girls gymnastics for ages 9 through 18 meet next from 10 to 11:30 and offers more advanced gymnastic skills. The Boys Gymnastics Class, for ages 12 through 20, rounds out the program, meeting from 11:30 to 1. Fees for these classes are $7.50 for one child and $5 for each additional child in the family. Enrollments are accepted throughout the term on a pro-rated basis.

For further information on any or all of these activities, please contact the Neighborhood Club, TUxedo 5-4600.

the public until construction work on the lobby and second floor is completed," he said.

The two-month task of moving will involve transfer of thousands of items of equipment and supplies, and 1,500 employees into the new building.

The move this Friday night and Saturday involves 900 employees who will occupy floors three through 12. The following Friday, night another 400 employees of Michigan Consolidated and its affiliates, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, American Louisiana Pipe Line Company and American Natural Gas Service Company will move to floors 18 through 23.

The remaining 250 employees will move in as their floors are completed. The 24th and 25th floors, which will include some executive offices are unfinished and will not be occupied for some time. Work is continuing also on the 14th floor cafeteria and 26th floor "Top of the Flame" restaurant. The 13th, 15th, 16th and 17th floors are being leased to private firms.

The job of moving from the company's present locations in seven downtown office buildings involves some 14,500 items of equipment, furniture and (Continued on Page 22)

Spirit of Christmas

"Are we willing to forget what we have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for us;

"To ignore what the world owes us, and to think what we owe the world;

"To put our rights in the background, and our chances to do a little more than our duty in the foreground;

"To admit that probably the only good reason for our existence is not what we are going to get out of life but what we are going to give to life;

"To close our book of complaints against the Management of the universe, and look around for a place to sow a few seeds of happiness?"

"And if we are willing to do these things even for a day, why not always?"

"And if nations — as well as individuals — would adopt the principle of WHAT is right instead of WHO is right, then Christmas would indeed bring — PEACE ON EARTH, GOOD WILL TO MEN."

—By Henry Van Dyke

To the Editor:

Several acts of wanton destruction of public property have recently been committed by some Grosse Pointe High School students. Much has been said about this shocking matter, recourse has been taken in the law of our community, and further solutions have been sought to prevent future such behavior.

However, little has been said about the possible causes of this destructive behavior. We feel that the word "responsibility" is the bynote of the problem. Why do some teenagers, who are certainly old enough in years, have such a poorly-developed sense of responsibility to themselves, their parents, and their community? Do they stop to think what their world would be like if, like savages, everybody destroyed anything at hand their careless impulses suggested to them?

Hearings before a Congressional committee in Washington under chairmanship of Congressman Kenneth A. Roberts brought forth case after case. Dogs housed in a windowless basement in cages so small they can't turn around; cats in cages with floors of wire mesh. The mesh so widely separated they can't walk, stand or lie down normally; monkeys chained by the neck in steel cages so small the animals could hardly move. Animals left unattended after surgery! Cases of neglect and starvation.

A very sincere effort will be made when Congress convenes in January to enact legislation to protect laboratory animals from cruelty. Please write your congressman and senators immediately requesting them to support this protective legislation.

The legislation does not hamper research. Its intent is to insure better housing and humane treatment.

And this is their world — theirs to make something or nothing of, as they mature. Laws have been evolved through the centuries for the protection of person and property. When man discovered that "No man is an island," he made rules to live by so that he could survive as a group. This is civilization. Man is called Homo Sapiens — "thinking man." Teen-agers who act as these recent members of our community, are neither civilized nor thinking, and they as well as their community will suffer as a result. The barrel of apples rots from even one bad piece of fruit. We feel that our contemporaries responsible for the recent lawlessness should pause, think hard, and assess the present and future prospects of a world of savages.

I wish to commend you for the splendid editorial regarding the incredible deer episode.

Daily headlines in the press remind us of the alarming increase in juvenile crimes.

In spite of efforts of educational, civic and humane groups to provide a solution, our youth is daily subjected via television to programs depicting crime, violence and cruelty. Rodeos and westerns are the worst offenders.

Rodeo shows are cowardly and degrading and nothing can be said in their defense but that every spectator is the worse for being one, a little harder and more reconciled to injustice and cruelty.

Among the spectators are many children who carry the impressions they have seen throughout their lives. Many go away to imitate the hard and cruel things they have seen.

Mercy to all living creatures is but an aspect of that larger Kindness without which mercy to man is incomplete.

The average spectator is unaware that a horse or steer bucks only because he is goaded by cruel bits and spurs and tortured by the rope or flank strap cutting into his sensitive loins.

Practice performances are shockingly cruel.

Helen G. Ferguson

(Former Humane Director Oakland County)

There is one final comment we would like to make. There are sins of omission as well as those of commission. It is not possible to adopt an attitude of laissez-faire towards our associates who behave in an antisocial fashion lest they pull us down with them to their low level.

The non-thinking teen-agers who condone such behavior are just as guilty as if they had participated. To the law they are "accessories after the fact." It is as much their responsibility as it is that of their elders, to protect their laws. If they therefore do all in their power to work in their community with those in authority, they will do much towards eradicating this menace.

Respectfully,
Some Students of GPHS's Class of '63.

To the Editor:

It is a sad commentary on the American public that it has been largely unaware until recently of the incredibly cruel and inhumane treatment of its research animals. And of the fact no federal legislation exists to protect them.

1,000 Freeway Miles in Use

Opening of the 1,000th mile of Michigan freeway on Wednesday December 12, makes it possible for motorists to drive those thousand miles three times as safely, and in two-thirds the time required on the roads they replaced. Automobile Club of Michigan said today.

"This is a milestone in Michigan highway building comparable to the first mile of concrete road in the United States, or our first 5-year, $50,000,000 road building program, adopted in 1919, aimed at getting the state out of the mud," said Fred N. Rehm, Auto Club General Manager.

"The first mile of concrete highway poured in this country was on Woodward, avenue, in Detroit, between Six and Seven Mile Roads, and was completed in 1909."

"These freeways now make it possible to drive from Detroit to Muskegon in less than three hours, a trip formerly consuming at least four hours. The trip from Detroit to New Buffalo has been cut from five to 3½ hours, and the drive from the Michigan-Ohio boundary to Mackinaw City has been reduced from eight to 5½ hours."

"The other links in the freeway network have cut driving times between other points in the state by similar margins."

What this means, said Rehm, is that motorists now have easy access to the entire state, something that will spur the economic and tourist development of Michigan as have few other single things in the past.

"Unquestionably there will be some local dislocations of business because of the new routes and limited access to and from them," said Rehm, "but this should be temporary in nature. 'The tourist industry and the development of the state as a whole was made possible because the public was enabled to move about freely and rapidly, and this will continue as the public finds greater mobility on these freeways.'

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Once again this fall, we must report the departure of a staff member of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. After 33 years of service, Mrs. Helen Finster, Chief of Processing and First Assistant of the Library, is retiring.

Thirty-three years is a long time, dating back to the days of service in the Park Municipal basement. In 1939 Mrs. Finster moved with the library into Pierce Junior High School (now the Park Branch), and then again to the Central Branch when it opened in 1953. She has seen the Library grow from a collection of 3,000 books to one of over 100,000 volumes.

It is with considerable regret that we see her leave. She has given long and valuable service to our Library, creating a vacancy that will be hard to fill. We are happy to know that she intends to remain on St. Paul and so will still be a patron of ours. We understand, however, that her interests will be varied, including bridge, travel, reading—possibly some volunteer work. There is even talk of a post-Christmas trip to Arizona.

We feel that if leisure-time reading becomes one of her interests, it will certainly lead her to our doorstep frequently. Somehow, we have no great fears for her free time, judging by the reports we get on Jean Taylor's activities. Rumor has it that this recent retiree is so very busy she wonders how she ever found time to work! She's thinking of scheduling herself a "free day" in order to get the vitally necessary things done!

To replace Mrs. Finster as Chief of Processing, we are indeed happy to welcome to the fold Robert C. Farris. Mr. Farris holds a Master's Degree from the Columbia University Library School, his undergraduate work having been done at the University of North Carolina.

During World War II, he served for three years as a pilot of a B24 bomber, flying 26 missions over Austria, Southern Germany and Northern Italy.

The new Chief of Processing comes to us from the Detroit Public Library, where he has acquired six years of experience as First Assistant of the Lothrop Branch, a professional assistant in the Cataloging Department, and for the past year has been Head of the Book Receiving Department.

Mr. Farris, with his wife and six year old daughter, Nancy, are presently living in Allen Park, but are house-hunting, we understand, in Grosse Pointe, so should become members of our community in the near future.

We are pleased to announce that Miss Melitta Roemer, Chief of the Central Library during the past ten years, has been appointed First Assistant to the Director. With 31 years of experience with our library behind her, we are sure she is well qualified to handle this increased responsibility. Both to her and to Mr. Farris go our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Monoxide Warning Issued

The recent "close call" of a Lansing family with the silent killer, carbon monoxide, has prompted State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis to once again issue a warning to Michigan residents to be alert to this danger.

"We are right in the middle of the carbon monoxide season," Dr. Heustis said. "When cold weather is with us, the house is buttoned up tight and the furnace is turned up." Unless the furnace and chimney are in good repair, the chance of a down draft forcing carbon monoxide fumes into the living room quarters is a constant threat," he said.

In the Lansing area alone, within the past year, two people have died from carbon monoxide and two other families have been overcome by fumes and narrowly escaped death.

"I can't emphasize too strongly the importance of having the heating system of a home inspected periodically by qualified heating contractors," he said.

Michigan Department of Health engineers warn that excessive moisture in the house and the pungent odor of aldehydes and other combustion products which may produce a burning sensation in the eyes should be reason enough to suspect a malfunctioning heating system and call in someone to investigate. However, carbon monoxide itself is completely odorless.

Whenever there is the slightest doubt, it is best to ask for help from a heating contractor, public utility company, or local heating inspector.

A common misconception concerning carbon monoxide exposures, according to the health department engineers, is that the furnace or smoldering fire in the fireplace "burns" up the oxygen in the house—in effect, suffocating victims. This is not the case, say the engineers. Whenever people are "overcome" it is invariably the work of carbon monoxide fumes leaking into the house from a defective heating system or chimney down draft.

"Whenever an entire family simultaneously comes down with 'similar symptoms of illness,' this should be sufficient cause to suspect carbon monoxide poisoning and take action to get the family into fresh air," Dr. Heustis said.

He also warned against the practice of using charcoal briquets indoors in the fireplace, as they are "very high" producers of carbon monoxide, and even with a window open can quickly build up a lethal concentration of fumes.

"With the advent of cold weather, we can fully expect a continuing report of carbon monoxide deaths until the day that everyone is made to understand the potential danger of carbon monoxide and be constantly on the alert for it—in the home, riding in the car, vacationing in a cabin or house trailer, or staying overnight in a motel or resort."

Service to the community

By FRED KOPP, R. Ph.

A colleague of ours tells this one. On Saturdays he sells dimes (10c each). Seems the neighborhood movie is next door. The kids stop in before the show for dimes—for the vending machines in the theatre. A lot of our business is like this—service to the community. Glad to do it. Because we're conveniently located and open long hours, we're a handy place to pick up change or a bottle of aspirin. But a pharmacist's true service to his community is to be a quick, reliable source of the drugs and medications your physician prescribes. That's the real reason we're here. And we are always pleased to serve you.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

It will be a real old fashioned Christmas at the Frank Lynch home in Hall place next Tuesday, with every nook and cranny filled with returning prodigals.

Four of the Lynch offspring will be home from college and the Lynches' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Downes II, of Plainville, Conn., will be on hand with their children, Patrick and Maribeth.

Son Jerry Lynch will drive down from Michigan State University; daughter Susie and son Michael will come in from the West. Michael is at the US Air Force Academy in Colorado and Susie is a student at Barat College, Lake Forest, Ill. Patrick Lynch will be joining the reunion from Alabama's St. Bernard College.

Back From Europe

Last Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knight with young Timothy marked the Yule in Denmark, where Mr. K., was with the Danish Royal Architectural Firm for a year.

This Christmas they will join their families, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Sheaffer, of Audubon road, and Mrs. Richard Knight, of Yorkshire road.

Families Brighten Yule with Reunions

Andersons Home from Italy to Welcome Relatives; Mrs. Richard P. Joy to Entertain Clan; Dr. and Mrs. Merkel to Have Guests

Christmas would lose much of its meaning without a gathering of families around the traditional hearth and many Pointe families will be greeting relatives not seen for many a month this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson II, of East Jefferson avenue, have returned from 10 weeks in Milan, Italy, to be hosts at a noon Christmas day dinner.

Joining them will be Mrs. Anderson's daughter, Carole Kincaid, from Westover Academy, Middleburg, Conn., and Mr. Anderson's sons, John Wendell III and Christopher, of New York. The boys will spend the holiday week with Mrs. Wendell Anderson, of Vendome road and then go on to Vermont for some skiing.

Franny Merkel, who has been working in New York, will be home Saturday to celebrate Christmas with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Merkel, of East Jefferson avenue.

Mrs. Merkel's son, Paul G. Brown, of Boston, will arrive Christmas Eve, and her other son, David G. Brown, will join the group Christmas morning from Miami.

Artist Peter Hunt, of Orleans, Mass., arrived Saturday to spend four days with the Merckels, who entertained for him Saturday and Monday at two small dinners.

Mrs. Merkel's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Sherer, Jr., of Ridge road, honored Mr. Hunt with a cocktail party Saturday.

Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr., will entertain the whole Joy family at Christmas dinner in her Lakeshore road home. On December 30 her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Moore Joy, of St. Clair, will entertain at a luncheon at the Little Club to honor Mr. Joy's 50th birthday.

Christmas Eve the Frederic M. Sibleys, Jr., of Vendome road, will entertain their family, which includes Mrs. Frederic M. Sibley, of the Whittier, the Albert Tietigs and Mrs. T. Latta McCray with Christopher and Melanie, of Cincinnati, and the Herbert W. Masons, Jr., of Greenwich, Conn., with Merrill and Sibley.

Joining this clan will be Mrs. Sibley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Powers, of Whittier road, with their sons, Robert, coming from San Diego State College in California, and Roger, from the University of Colorado.

daughter of the DONALD R. FLINTERMANN, of Lakeshore road.

BRUCE E. WALKER, a Junior at Kimball Union Academy, in Meriden, N.H., is home for the Christmas vacation with his parents, MR. and MRS. FRANKLIN WALKER of Lincoln road. Bruce was awarded his varsity football letter as manager at the annual Fall Sports Banquet on December 10.

MRS. ROBERT T. BARRETT and children, TODD and WENDY, are visiting her parents, MR. and MRS. GORDON N. CAMERON, of Hampton road, while CAPTAIN BARRETT is completing an assignment in Southeast Asia. Also expected home for the holidays is NICK CAMERON, a senior in Business Administration at Western Michigan University.

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN F. FRANKLIN, JR. became commander of the 4th Armored Division in ceremonies held in Goepfingen, Germany, on December 1. General Franklin, the nephew of MRS. E. P. HAMMOND, and MRS. JULIUS C. PETER, of Grosse Pointe, replaced Major General James H. Folk, who has been reassigned as commander of the U. S.

Army's Berlin Command.

The new 4th Armored commander was last assigned at Headquarters Allied Forces Central Europe, a NATO headquarters at Fontainebleau, France, as deputy chief of staff for logistics and organization.

A 51-year-old veteran soldier who saw combat in the South Pacific during World War II and in Korea with the 3d Infantry Division, General Franklin was born in Manila, Philippine Islands, the son of an Army officer. He was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, in 1934.

MRS. GEORGE A. SCHEMM, of Maumee avenue, will entertain this Friday at a small bridge luncheon in her home to honor her mother, MRS. LUMAN W. GOODENOUGH, of Farmington. Next Friday the Schemms will give their annual cocktail party.

Home for the holidays is SKIPPER DuCHARME, son of the JEROME C. DuCHARMES, of West Wind lane, who has been attending DeVeaux School, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

The ROBERT P. SCHERERS, JR., of Lochmoor boulevard, will entertain at cocktails Saturday.

Miss Beltz Feted Before Dec. 29 Rites

Will Wed John Manning Hatch, of Fairfax, Va., in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church with Reception Following at Country Club; Has 8 Attendants

Bonnie Beltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beltz, of Lakeland avenue, has chosen December 29 for her wedding to John Manning Hatch, son of the Worth Hatches, of Fairfax, Va.

The wedding will be in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church with the reception following at the Country Club.

Carol Beltz will be her sister's maid of honor and the attendants include Ruth Ann Bowers, of Pleasant Ridge; Mrs. Robert Beltz, of Flint; Mrs. Kenneth Stanley, of Grand Forks, N. D.; Judy Henry, Jane Hodgins, of Milford; Mrs. Jerry Yeric, of Cleveland, O., and Joy Beltz, the bride's sister.

Mr. Hatch will be his son's best man and the usher corps includes Capt. Kenneth Stanley, the bridegroom's brother-in-law; Robert Beltz, of Flint, the bride's brother; Skip and Tom Beltz, the bride's brothers; Joseph Garrison, Daniel Telep and Mike King.

Bonnie will be honored with a kitchen shower on December 27 by Mrs. Leo Bowers and her daughter, Ruth Ann. On December 28 Janet Collinson and Judy Henry will give a linen shower at the former's Westchester road home.

On December 26 the couple will be entertained at a dinner at the Golf Club by Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Pederson and Mrs. Edmund Hanavan.

Mrs. Thomas Munson, Mrs.

Center to Hold Ball for Teens

The Christmas Snow Ball in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's new, Fries Auditorium, Friday, December 21, will celebrate Grosse Pointe's high school population getting out of school for Christmas and launch the holiday social season for teens.

Don Law of Grosse Pointe High School is chairman of this party being put on by the Center's Youth Council and chaperoned by their parents. All couples in grades 9-12 of the Pointe's public, private and parochial schools are cordially invited to this dance. The party will begin at 8:30 and the more that attend the later the dance will last with 12:30 being the latest possible hour.

Roston Clark's Orchestra, a favorite for many years at the High School's New Year's Eve Dance, will furnish the music for the evening. Young ladies are asked to wear wool sheaths and the young men suits.

The Crystal Ballroom with its silver Christmas Tree and the illuminated snow covered formal gardens outside will provide a glittering setting for this party. Refreshments will be served at tables around the dance floor in night club fashion. The lights will be dim and the music sweet. The cost is a nominal $1 per person including refreshments.

Postage is to be upped soon and the old-fashioned nickel will again come into its own.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Siegel, of Moran road, announce the engagement of their daughter, BARBARA AMANDA, to Robert George Rankin, of London, Ont., son of the Robert Rankins, of St. Thomas, Ont.

The bride-elect is an alumna of the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Sigma Kappa.

Carrico-Coppin Troth Revealed in Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Carrico, of Maplewood Park, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Rhea, to John S. Coppin, son of the William F. Coppins, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., formerly of Grosse Pointe Park.

The wedding will take place February 23 in Ft. Lauderdale.

From Another Pointe of View

After a year in Copenhagen they toured Europe returning home on a Swedish freighter. They landed in New York on November 28 and have been spending some time with Mr. Knight's sister, Mrs. Robert Ingham. While in Copenhagen they met Mrs. John Lyly, formerly Beverly Kippenhan, and spent many hours reminiscing of Pointe school days.

50 Golden Christmases

On Christmas Eve the Frank Quails, who lived on Balfour road for 34 years, will mark their golden wedding anniversary in their Holly, Mich., home.

Their three daughters will have an open house for the pair in Holly. Mrs. George H. Cushing, of Lincoln road, Mrs. Burdette Gray, of Benton Harbor, (a bride of a month), and Virginia Quail have bid friends to celebrate the anniversary of their parents. The whole Quail family will gather for Christmas dinner the next day in Holly.

Yule in Northland

Log cabin cottages designed for summer vacationing have a great appeal for winter vacationers and a goodly group will spend their Christmas holidays in the winter wonderland of the North.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Mesritz with George and Anne will have their gift giving Christmas Eve at home in Lothrop road and then leave Christmas morning for their lodge on Big Lake near Gaylord to stay until New Year's Day.

Also up north for Christmas festivities will be the co-owners of Playhouse 20 near Gaylord, among them the Charles B. Johnsons, Jr., the Joseph L. Hickeys, the Arthur Cerres and the William Bavingers with all their offspring, who number 30.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Blain III also plan a Christmas trek to their cottage near Gaylord at Partridge Springs.

Home Is Best

Home from the Orient, with a Kashmir rug which is their mutual Christmas gift, are Dr. and Mrs. Windsor S. Davies, savoring the peace of a Pointe holiday after their rugged weeks in crisis-torn India.

Mrs. D. reports that she spent a few hours with Nehru, thought he looked very care worn, but never lost his impenetrable calm.

Dr. and Mrs. Davies had a tense time in Pakistan, were warned not to travel into India in Bombay, and had a difficult time getting out of Ceylon.

This will be their last Christmas in the Audubon road home for they are building a house in the new Preston subdivision which used to be the Miles O'Brien estate. Home for the holidays will be Windsor Davies from Staatsburg, N. Y., and Teresa Davies, who is a student at the Pines in Chatham, Ont. The house will be filled with relatives from Chicago, too.

Champagne Fountain

A champagne fountain will bubble for New Year's Eve revelers at the Detroit Boat Club. Intimate cafe tables will surround the fountain and the dance floor where members and guests will dance amid the glittering Yule decor to Jack Qualey's band.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Meyer are chairmen for the party at which a midnight supper will be served. Also on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Leland W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Nagel, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt.

Holiday Round-Up

It will be pot luck New Year's Eve at the Wilber M. Bruckers, Jr. home, a repeat of last year's gathering. The F. Rankin Weisgerbers will be holding their annual last night of the year open house in Lincoln road.

The Alfred R. Glancys Jr., have bid hundreds to their Lakeshore road home on December 28 and 29 to view the gigantic electric train setup which has delighted Pointe juniors and their parents for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Pearce, Jr. will entertain at cocktails on December 30. On New Year's Eve the Sidney Terrys will have a group in to mark the coming of 1963. The Joseph L. Hudsons are giving a tea dance December 30.

Oarsmen's Ball Has Pan-Am Theme

Annual Dance at Detroit Boat Club Saturday Evening Will Have Pan Am Games for Background; Club Team to Go to Sao Paulo in March

The IV Pan American Games to be held next March in Sao Paulo, Brazil, furnishes the theme for the Annual Oarsmen's Ball to be held at the Boat Club Saturday, December 22.

This is the first time the Oarsmen have been able to have a Saturday night party, and all are looking forward to the most successful one they have ever sponsored.

The Pan American Games featured attraction for this Red, White and Blue Ball. The dancing will start at 9 o'clock. Fifteen hundred invitations have been issued to all members of the Detroit Boat Club and all past and present Oarsmen, and all are urged to attend.

The chairman for this annual affair are Scot McDuffee and Bill Smoke and working with these Oarsmen as committeemen are: Warren Boerner, Butch Foust, Edward Burbank and Dick Bell.

Plan Yule Party For Children

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will open the doors of the William Fries Auditorium to the families of Grosse Pointe on Sunday afternoon, December 23, at 3 o'clock when a program especially designed for children will be offered in the little theater.

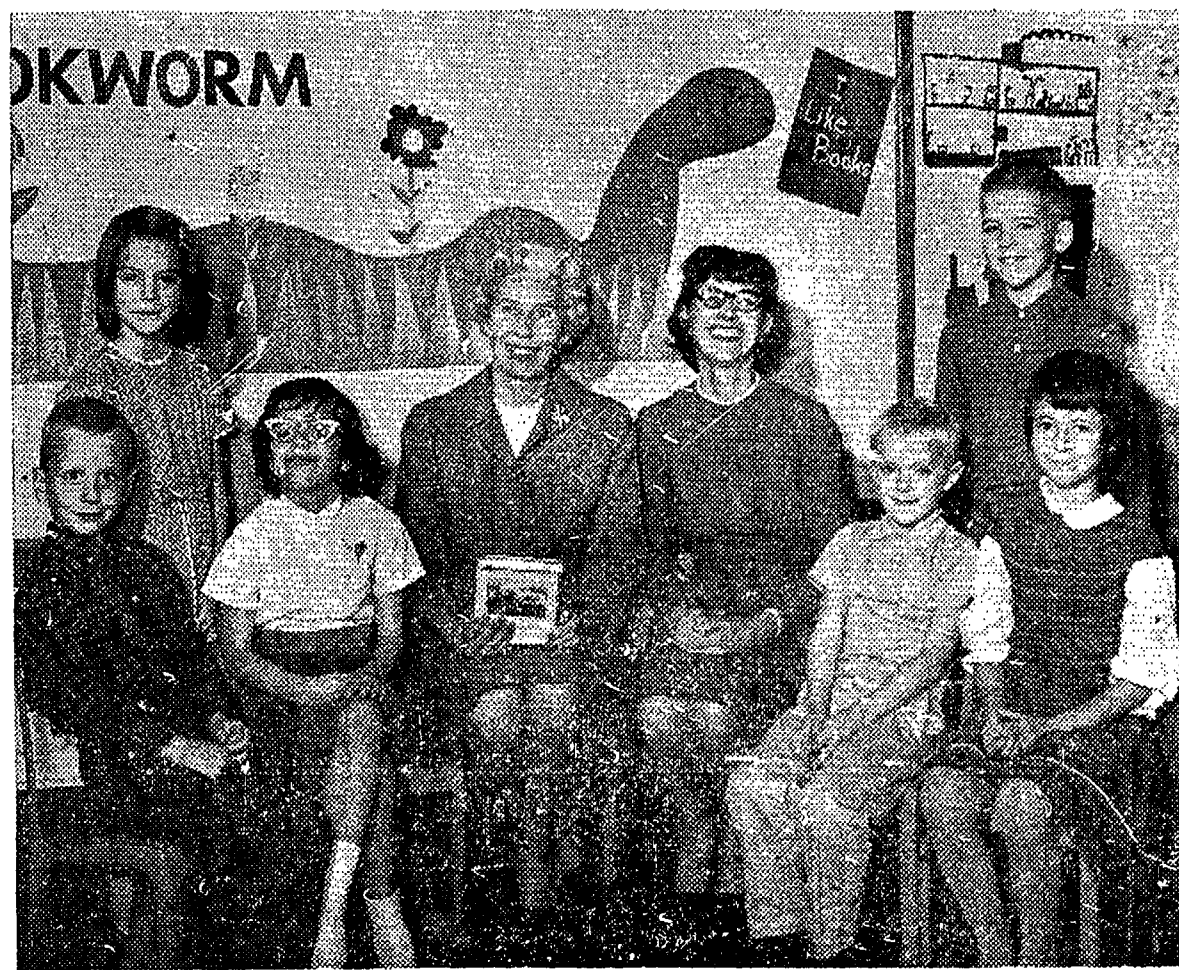

Included will be dances by the Children's Ballet Troup, plays by the Children's Theater and a professional puppet show with a Christmas theme.

The Center's Youth Council who always previously staged the Community Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony at the Memorial will be in charge of this program which takes its place. The Youth Council's officers will welcome everyone and give a brief message on the Spirit of Christmas. Prayers for the Blessed Season will be offered by both Catholic and Protestant clergymen.

After the performance everyone will be invited up into the banquet ballroom for refreshments and for the young people to be greeted by Santa Claus and given candy canes by his helpers.

Families planning to come to this Christmas program are asked to pick up free tickets for the event in the Center's office in advance so that the Memorial's staff will be able to plan for the proper numbers.

Author Pays Visit to Classroom

Marygrove Plans Holiday Giving

On December 24, Santa will stop at 40 homes he would have missed, if Marygrove College students had not prodded him a bit.

Three children will have real shoes to replace those made of cardboard and old rubbers. Coals will glow again to warm five little ones who "put on lots of clothes during the day" and "sleep all together at night" to keep warm. There'll be snug blankets for others.

A family with five children and a food budget of $15.00 per month will have shelves stocked with staples. Ten wee ones who "get along on what the family eats," will have a chance to really grow on several months' supply of baby-food. Five mothers who didn't want to face this Christmas are smiling again. Though they have lost their husbands and providers, there will be Christmas for the children.

These and many other things are made possible through the 1962 Christmas Drive at Marygrove. Begun back in depression days as a Christmas Charity Crusade, the drive is now an established Marygrove tradition. For 31 years the project has meant Christmas for anywhere from 25 to 60 families yearly. The register for 1962 indicates 40 families totaling 318 persons—255 children, 63 adults. Over three decades, the annual drive has cared for approximately 1,240 families or 8,933 persons.

But statistics are cold, black and white, objective things. The drive is warm and red and spicy and personal. While merchants are stocking Christmas merchandise and eyeing the calendar to plot the "Shopping Days 'Til Xmas," Marygrove sociology majors are putting their know-how to work. Teaming up, they go in pairs to visit needy families. While interviewing parents and playing with children, they observe conditions in the home.

Back at the college they turn in professional reports on the families assigned them. The cases are evaluated. Before the forms are finally processed and filed, pertinent information—age, sex, clothing and shoe sizes, special needs—are listed on individual family charts. No family name is listed or published. Only on delivery day are addresses given to drivers.

George Pierrot, founder of the World Adventure Series and travel raconteur, was the special guest of the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club last Tuesday evening at the War Memorial.

Dick Beach and Dave Fairless introduced Mr. Pierrot to the 74 guests and the speaker was later made an honorary member of Kiwanis.

Kiwanis will hold an installation party January at the Chateau Bleu, Maier at Jefferson. The new Lieut. Governor, Vern Bailey, will preside.

Meetings on December 26 and January 2 will be held at the Legion Hall on Mack in place of the War Memorial.

Pointer To Head TB Society

Mrs. A. R. Pfannenschmidt, long-time member of the Women's Committee of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, has been elected president of the organization for 1963.

Mrs. Pfannenschmidt, of Virginia Lane, has been a member of the Women's Committee for 11 years. She served as treasurer for seven years, a tenure that was broken for a three year period starting in 1955 when she and her husband were stationed in Europe.

The Women's Committee, responsible for the Cinderella Ball each year, works in close cooperation with the Society. Its most recent project was the (December 19) Children's Party at Maybury Sanatorium where the youngsters afflicted with TB were presented more than 300 gifts of pajamas, underwear, socks, and toys.

To make the party more vivid, the Women's Committee furnished a new tree, new ornaments and new lights.

Mrs. Edith Blumberg was chairman of the Children's Christmas Party and worked with Mrs. Pfannenschmidt to make it a success.

The many gifts were wrapped at the home of Mrs. William Schmidt, of Clairview Road. The wrapping bee followed a Christmas Seal tea at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wrock, of Windmill Pointe Drive, Grosse Pointe.

About 25 members of the committee attended a luncheon at the Lakeshore road home of Mrs. Joseph Schoenith before attending the Children's Party.

Other Pointe members of the society board are Mrs. Frederick Cody, Mrs. Arthur Wrock, Mrs. Edward Lee, Mrs. James H. Quello, Mrs. Jack A. Tompkins, Mrs. Carl A. Zimmer and Mrs. Oscar Olson.

Center Having College Dance

Fries Auditorium will be the setting this year for the Memorial Center's Annual New Year's Eve Party for the college set. Invitations are being mailed to as many college students in the area as possible but the Center's list of Pointers of college age is far from complete and all in this group and their guests are cordially invited to attend whether they have received a card or not.

The evening is Monday, December 31, and the party will begin with Johnny DiCicco's orchestra playing at 9:30. Toward midnight, fancy hats and noise makers will be given out and a grand march will terminate with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne".

There will follow a turkey and ham buffet supper with all the trimmings at which couples will dine at candlelit tables around the ballroom. Dance music will continue till 1:30.

The charge will be $2.50 per person (couples only), including the dance, supper, noise makers, and favors. Attendance, however, must be limited due to the amount of parking and space available. Only 250 couples may be accommodated so that paid reservations are being requested at the Center's office in advance. Get your tickets early and avoid disappointment.

Tickets will be sold at the door only if not paid for in advance.

This party will definitely be dressy with cocktail or evening gowns being worn by the young ladies. Dinner jackets will be perfectly proper for the men are not required. Dark suits will be very acceptable.

Don't get the idea you have accomplished something because you managed to cover up a mistake.

Debutante Calendar

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Dunwoode, of University place, announce the engagement of their daughter, CAROL JEAN, to Charles Edward Mohr, son of the Russell E. Mohr, of Lakepointe avenue.

The bride-elect is a senior at Albion College, where she is affiliated with Kappa Delta Sorority. Her fiance attends Michigan State University.

DAC Dance Pupils Party

A real fun party at the DAC last Monday, December 17, was the dinner-dance at which members of the club's dance class joined to mark the completion of their fall dance course and bow to the Yuletide season as well.

The party took place in the Ponchartrain Room where cocktails preceded dinner. Tables were arranged at the sides of the room to allow a spacious dance area.

The party brought together DAC members who have become close friends while learning the latest terpsichorean steps and putting them into practice at the club.

At the festivity were the John Coleys, Judge and Mrs. Carl Weideman, the W. Harold Lightbodies, the Thomas Coupers, the William F. Drevants, the Harold Meloches, the Lester Downies, the George B. Martins, Mrs. L. G. Jentgen, the Edward F. Sammut, John F. Breens, Norman Bolzes, Paul Travises, Mrs. Fred D. Lorimer.

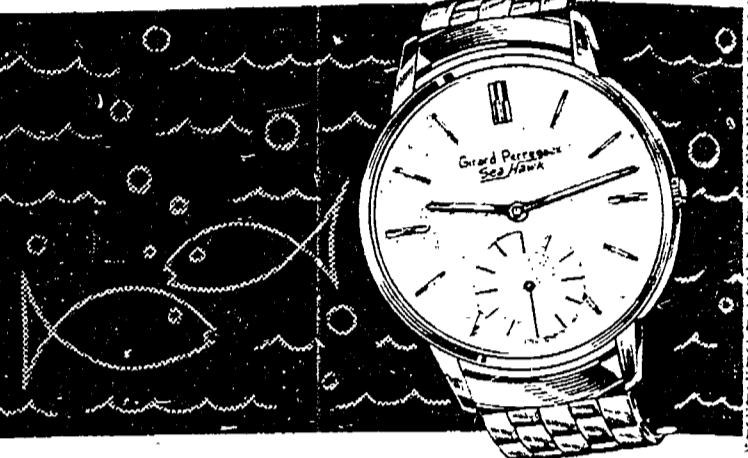

More were Joseph A. Braun, the George McKnight, Malcolm Denises, John W. Hoffmann, John Moores, Tracy Ogletrees, John T. Redmons, Ralph Spresters, Charles Stiles, Dr. and Mrs. E. Stephen Gurdjian, Dr. and Mrs. David Lindner, Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Richardson, the W. H. Baughns and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Schwartz and the Donald Krussells.

Parties Honor Miss Hammer

On December 28 Barbara Elaine Hammer, daughter of Mrs. Walter A. Hammer, of Cadieux road, and the late Mr. Hammer, will become the bride of Robert Durand Potter, son of Mrs. Kermit Potter, of Kenmore drive, and the late Mr. Potter, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The bride-to-be had been entertained at miscellaneous showers given by Mrs. James Ryan, of Severn road, Sherian Williams, of Dearborn, and Ann Potter, the bridegroom's sister. A kitchen shower and luncheon was given by Kathryn Wolf, of Brys Drive, who will be maid of honor in the wedding, and another miscellaneous shower will be given by the bride's aunts, Mrs. Hal Klie-mann and Miss Ruth Vender-bush.

Three Holiday Events at NYC

Yuletide holidays will be celebrated at the Detroit Yacht Club with three exciting events. David Sherwood, Jr., the club's new entertainment chairman, and members of his committee are in charge of the arrangements.

Silvery trees and gay holiday decorations in greens and reds will set the scene for the parties.

The second event is the Christmas Coffee Hour on Sunday, December 23, in the East Lounge from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Carl Schweikart, wife of the NYC commodore, will head the list of wives of flag officers and board of directors who will pour. The NYC choir will offer a group of appropriately festive songs.

The University Night Dance, for the college set and their guests, is slated for Friday evening, December 28, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The affair will be informal. There will be dancing to the tunes of Bud Durant and his orchestra.

Good Literature Council Meets

The December meeting of the Grosse Pointe Council on Better Literature for "outh was held in the newly built home of the President Mrs. Richard E. Jones in Canterbury road, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

This was an informal pre-Christmas luncheon meeting and included the officers and board of directors and several guests: Mrs. Carl Nolte, Mrs. Harry W. Cowan, Mrs. Mark K. Edgar and Mrs. William E. Hawkins.

Membership in the Council is growing steadily as groups and individuals become more familiar with the aims and objectives of the Council, which is a non-sectarian group devoted to promoting habits of good reading in the youth of today, as well as discouraging that which it considers undesirable and unwholesome.

A well known psychiatrist in Detroit made the statement at a recent luncheon meeting that the American child of today is like an orphan with both parents living—so little restraint is placed upon what he reads or does.

Information on membership in the Council for both individuals or groups may be obtained by calling Mrs. Jones, TU 6-0863, or Mrs. Clifford G. Johnston, TU 4-2289. Speakers or panel discussions which are most interesting and informative can also be arranged without charge for any occasion.

Miss Butler To Be Married

Beverly Butler will be the first bride to hold her wedding reception in the Banquet-Ballroom of the new Fries Auditorium at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Beverly, daughter of Mrs. Salomon Butler, of Audubon road, and Gilbert Butler, of Beaconsfield avenue, plans to marry Michael Vanden Branden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felicien Vanden Branden, of Lakeland avenue, in St. Clare of Montefalco Church December 29.

Her reception will be held in the Fries Building, named after Mr. Butler's headmaster at the old Detroit University School.

Mrs. Michael Sullivan, a neighbor who helped write Beverly's birth announcements, is addressing the wedding invitations.

MR. and MRS. JACK W. HOOPER returned to their Lakeside lane home last Tuesday, after a pre-holiday vacation at Dorado Beach Hotel, Puerto Rico.

JUDY LOMAX, daughter of MR. and MRS. ALLEN M. LOMAX, of Ridge road, arrived home this week from Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass. to spend the holidays.

At Kenyon College, Gambier, O., ROBERT E. DAVIS, son of MR. and MRS. PHILIP C. DAVIS, of University place, has pledged Sigma Pi. Also at Kenyon, DWIGHT D. STANLEY, son of the EDWARD C. STANLEYS, of Merriweather road, has pledged Delta Phi.

DEAN OSGOOD, of Washington road, is on the committee planning the annual New Year's Eve party at the International Institute.

DR. and MRS. CLIFFORD D. BENSON, of Renaud road, will welcome their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. JAMES L. COLLINS, of Greenview, Conn., with LLOYD and LESLIE, for the holidays.

ROBERT BOYD HUNTER, son of the ROBERT HUNTERS, formerly of Handy road, and now of Lafayette, Calif., is coming from his classes at Yale to spend the Christmas Holidays as a guest of his former friends. Bob will be staying at the J. H. MEECH residence in Hawthorne road when he first arrives. MARILYNN is planning to entertain some of the original Children's Theatre Group while Bob is in town. Marilynn and Bob were in the first classes when SALLY REYNOLDS organized Children's Theatre and both have gone on to study theatre in their university work. Bob is best remembered for his original score for the "Wizard of Oz" which was a most successful Children's Theatre presentation.

The HAFORD KERBAWYS, of Yorkshire road, will welcome daughter, STEFANIE, and son, KRIS, home from their studies for the Christmas holidays. Stefanie is returning to the Pointe from the University of Michigan, Kris from Staunton Military Academy.

JIM FRASER, son of the J. EARL FRASERS, of South Deeplands road, is returning from Gow School, South Wales, N.Y., to celebrate Christmas with his family.

PATRICIA ELKINS, a junior at the University of Michigan, has been selected as one of the four winners of a Campus Marketing project sponsored by Mademoiselle magazine and the Emba Mink Breeders Association.

As a student representative for the magazine, Miss Elkins was responsible for contacting the young women on her campus and reporting on their opinions and reactions to mink. Her excellent presentation and detailed report, as well as her enthusiastic participation in this project won her a prize of an Autumn Haze Emba mink circlet.

Miss Elkins is the daughter of MR. and MRS. MASON ELKINS, of Bedford road.

MISS GAYL BLOINK, daughter of MR. and MRS. JAMES BLOINK, of Merriweather road, was elected treasurer of her Freshman Class at Immaculate Junior College, Washington, D. C. Miss Bloink, who is a legal secretarial studies major, served on the Freshman Council at Immaculate prior to her election.

GEORGE C. ROBINSON, son of MRS. LEWIS ROBINSON, of Dyer lane, and a sophomore at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., is a member of a student drive to sell symbolic bricks over the holidays to raise funds for the construction of a Fine Arts Center on the campus.

Mr. Robinson will solicit the gifts from relatives, family and friends interested in the arts and education. The donations are in the form of symbolic bricks at $5.00 each, which is the cost of a cartload of real bricks. The student-organized and initiated project to aid the college in raising funds for the proposed $1,600,000 Arts Center has resulted in nearly all of Trinity's 1,046 undergraduates pledging to sell bricks over the Christmas recess which began December 18.

MR. and MRS. A. J. CHRISTIE of North Oxford road have just returned from a month's vacation throughout the Caribbean. They flew down to Caracas, Venezuela and visited the islands of the Dutch and British and French West Indies as well as the Virgin Islands and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Home from Europe for Christmas and a holiday wedding are MR. and MRS. AUGUSTUS C. LEDYARD, of Lochmoor boulevard. Their daughter, ALICE MARY, will marry ROBERT RICKARD, son of the WILLIAM RICKARDS, of Bridgeton, Mo., on December 28 in Old Christ Church with a reception at the Country Club.

MARION POLIZZI, daughter of the SAMUEL L. POLIZZIS, of Anita avenue, sang in the Christmas program presented by St. Mary of the Woods College in Illinois last week-end. She will be home for Christmas.

New additions to the Pointe are MR. and MRS. JAMES A. SULLIVAN, HELEN, MARY LOUISE and JULIANA, of Chicago, Ill., who have bought a home in Yorkshire road. They will move at Christmas with the help of son JAMES, home from St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind.

MARION FARWELL, of Lake

Forest, Ill., will arrive to spend the holidays from Sweet Briar College with her grandparents, the DOUGLAS CAMPBELLS, of Rathbone place. She will make her debut in June in Lake Forest at a dance.

The JOHN S. ALBERTS, of Elm court, will have a family reunion over the holidays.

The LANSING M. PITTMANS, of Renaud road, will leave after New Year's on an extended cruise of the South Seas.

On Sunday, MR. and MRS. ARTHUR R. HOFFMAN, of Windmill Pointe drive, will entertain their daughter, MRS. BETTY CHAPMAN and her four children for an early Christmas dinner. The next day they will fly to Palm Beach to spend Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter, the JEROME C. EARLS.

Home from her job with the United Nations in New York is JANIE EVANS, daughter of the ROBERT B. EVANSES, of Lakeshore road. Her parents will leave January 2 for Palm Beach.

On Sunday MR. and MRS. RAY WHYTE, of Oxford road, will have a cocktail party. They will also give a dinner before the ball for debutante, PATTY PETZOLD, this Friday.

DR. and MRS. JOHN MITCHELL LESENE (Ann Kamper), of Oxford road, announce the birth of a son, JOHN MITCHELL LESENE, JR., last Sunday, December 16.

The EDWIN R. STROHS, JR., of Merriweather road, will entertain at cocktails Sunday for MR. and MRS. THOMAS DEARDORFF, of San Gabriel,

1962 Social Review Full of Highlights

Opening of "No Strings" in January Signal for Many Benefits; All Months Crowded with Gay and Charitable Activities

As hostesses and guests put away their well-filled calendars for 1962 they take a nostalgic look through the months crowded with parties, fairs, benefits, lectures and meetings.

January
In spite of a surfeit of holiday gaiety some Pointe hostesses feel January is the perfect month for the big party. The Eugene A. Cassarolis, of Elm court, gave a dinner dance at the GPYC for 125 friends at which the Pointe's own diva, Maria Roumell, sang.
Richard Rodgers new musical, "No Strings" debuted at the Fisher before its Broadway opening and was the reason for a spate of benefits.
Detroit Yacht Club members gathered to honor the new commodore Paul Roth and his lady at a ball marking the 93rd year of the club.
Skiers were trekking north, west and to Switzerland all through the month. The junior high schools founded a ski club which brought in as many as 300 junior sports fans.
Donald Lescohier cut a cake with 63 candles to mark the birthday of the University Club. Tau Beta held its annual dinner meeting at the Hunt Club with "chicken cordor bleu" on the menu.

February

The Boat Club, closed throughout January as usual, opened with a Crystal Ball for teenagers and a Snow Ball for their parents on two successive evenings.
Junior League sponsored a "strictly for fun" dinner dance at the Country Club. The Garden Center opened a series of lectures with Mrs. Ivor D. Harris talking on "The Floral Artistry of Medicine."

Mrs. G. Mennen Williams was in town to give an expert's report on Africa, where she accompanied her husband, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs.
The Grosse Pointe Symphony held its giant fashion show and

Martha Parker Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Parker, Jr. of Lewiston road, will announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to R. Guy Chamberlin, Saturday at a cocktail party in their home.

Martha attended Grosse Pointe University School, Mary A. Burnham School, Northampton, Mass., the University of Colorado and the New York School of Interior Design. She made her debut in 1960.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chamberlin, of Short Hills, N.J., attended Pingry School, Hillside, N.J., and St. Lawrence University, Canton, N.Y. A spring wedding is planned.

At the War Memorial there was a waiting list for the fourth annual gourmet cooking lesson series headed by chefs from Detroit's most elegant restaurants.
A cast of 200 senior high students was seen in Tuxis' 14th annual show at Parcels for three nights, the variety show playing to packed houses.

March
The Archives of American Art sponsored another LUNDI Gras party at the London Chop House before Lent began.
Detroit's Symphony Orchestra was the beneficiary of funds raised by a two-day fashion show sponsored by the Women's Association.
Fine Arts Society produced its annual musical, "Paint Your Wagon" at the Players with Bill Dennis, Joan LeGro and Don Bliss in the starring roles.

George P. Caulkins, Jr., claimed Eleanor Newman, of South Orange, N. J., as his bride in the English Church, Zermatt, Switzerland. The newlyweds returned to the Pointe for congratulations before moving to their new home in Denver.

Friends of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial gathered to launch the Center's annual drive, drink coffee, and inspect progress on the new addition.

Cocoa Almond Pie Makes Hit

When it's time for a party at your house, "Cocoa Almond Party Pie" will guarantee its success. The creamy chocolate filling floats on a bed of finely-chopped almonds in this elegant chilled dessert. To give it extra flair, you might top the pie with dollops of whipped cream encrusted with crisp toasted almond halves.

Whether chopped, halved, diced, sliced or whole, crunch almonds always provide unique flavor and texture. Use them in poultry stuffings, soups, sandwich fillings and sauces for meat, fish and vegetables.

Cocoa-Almond Party Pie

- |                                |                                  |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup finely-chopped almonds | 1/2 cup unsweetened sifted cocoa |
| 1 baked 8-inch pastry shell    | 1 cup sifted powdered sugar      |
| 1 envelope plain gelatin       | 1 pint whipping cream            |
| 1/4 cup cold water             | 1 teaspoon vanilla               |
- Sprinkle almonds into bottom of pastry shell. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Remove from heat. Combine cocoa, powdered sugar, whipping cream and vanilla. Beat until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in dissolved gelatin. When mixture forms stiff peaks, turn into pastry shell. Refrigerate several hours before serving. If desired, garnish with dollops of whipped cream and toasted almond halves.
Makes 1 (8-inch) pie.

Eastside Delta Zetas Brighten Nursing Home

The Eastside Chapter of Delta Zeta under the direction of Mrs. Philip C. Ramdell, president, has used the proceeds from a recent white elephant sale to brighten the holidays of the patients of the Mary L. Nursing Home, 8311 East Jefferson.

Each patient received a card, and tiny favors and decorations were donated. The sorority also sent a box of warm clothing to the Navajo Indians. Gifts and money were sent to patients at Carville, La. Toys were given to the nursery at the Wayne County Medical Hospital and trays favor to the Dearborn Veterans Hospital. Delta Zetas are also making dolls and kits for CWVS during the year.

go on sale in November at their biennial fair.

Society's big evening was the opening of the Metropolitan Opera Company's week stay at the Masonic Temple with Mrs. George Romney this year's chairman.

Nine of the Pointe's most attractive gardens were opened to tour patrons by the Garden Center. May was a big month for gardeners with the Central Zone meeting of the Garden Club of Michigan held here. Among the hostesses for the attendant festivities were the Walter B. Fords II, the Allan Sheldens III and the Alger Sheldens.

Tennis star Bill Talbert was here for the annual exhibition match at the Little Club toward the end of the month.

The Protestant Children's home on Cook road marked its 126th anniversary with tea and skits by the children.

Mary Andrea Malott and Charles R. Berger traveled to Hawaii after their rites in Memorial Church.

In St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Milwaukee, Dr. John Mayo Hartzell claimed Stewart Claire Kellogg as his bride. The pair will live in Rochester.

Party Planned By Foundation

The Foundation for Exceptional Children will have a Christmas Party for the children, who will gather around the Christmas Tree in Miller Hall at Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe boulevard, on Friday, December 21, at 11:30 a.m.

The Soroptimist Club of Grosse Pointe will see to it that Santa arrives on time to present the gifts from beneath the tree and also to present the gift of the Soroptimist Club—educational toys for the children.

The Foundation for Exceptional Children is but one of the service projects of the Grosse Pointe Soroptimists. Another local service is the annual provision at Christmas time of several months' supply of groceries for a family in which the father has been permanently disabled for a number of years.

Bridge Club Lists Winners

Grosse Pointe Memorial Bridge Club winners have been announced.

December 10: North and South, Elsie Novy and Ellen Walrand; Mary Wood and Elsa Reddaway.

East and West: Ruth Arbury and Fanny Barrows; Adele Beauty and Marge Van.

The Junior Women's Association of the Detroit Symphony played bridge by telephone to raise funds for the orchestra's maintenance.

Divas Eleanor Steber, soloist with the Symphony, was honored at a Pointe reception by the Howard Harringtons.

Pastel kites decked the GPYC ballroom for a "swing into spring" ball at which guests danced to Al Navarro's band.

April
Spring was a little late this year, but not the events usually heralding this most welcome season.

Junior League members met their regional, Mrs. Carter Smith, of Perryburg, O., at a giant meeting at the Country Club.

Irene Matland, of Rivard boulevard, Michigan's cherry blossom queen, was sent to Washington for the annual blooming festivities and greeted by 14th district's newly elected Congressman, Harold Ryan.

The Seven Eastern Colleges, who traditionally bring the man of the hour to lecture at the Ford Auditorium to aid their scholarship funds, met to choose a speaker.

Lester Lanin's popular band appeared at the Country Club for a one night stand. Charlotte and Ann Ford, home from the East, gave an Easter Eve party in their Lakeshore road home.

Easter, coming late this year, was a bright sunny day, perfect for the parade of the bright bonnets traditional to the Sunday celebration.

May
Carnations transformed the Little Club into a pink bower for the Junior Women's Association ball preceded by a candlelight dinner.

Liggett School alumnae gathered at the Country Club on Founders' Day to hear a report on the drive to move the school to a new site in Grosse Pointe Woods.

American Field Service, which brings foreign students to Pointe schools, held a benefit with a film of Tibet at Parcels Junior High School.

Several exceptional Pointe kitchens were on the tour sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital, an annual fund raising affair.

Voters' League Presents Articles on Constitution

Prepared by the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe (The League of Women Voters is a national, nonpartisan organization whose purpose is to promote informed and active participation of citizens in government.)

House Apportionment
Much of the discussion on the new constitution has centered on the question, "How important should population be in the formula for each house?"

At present, apportionment in both the house and senate take into account population and area, but the house gives more weight to population.

The house consists now of 110 members. In setting up districts, the population of the state (7,823,194) is divided by 100 to get the "ratio of representation" (78,232). This would be the number of persons each representative would have in his district if there were 100 representatives (as there used to be) and if districts were of equal size.

But the biggest district is now five times the size of the smallest. Why?

One reason is the "moiety" clause which allows a representative to each district which has a population of at least half of a ratio of representation, thus providing consideration of area. Another reason is that county lines are used to set up districts in the old constitution and the new. This introduces a proportion of more than 5 to 1 in the largest district.

Districts with a population of less than 39,116 are entitled to one representative. Districts with a population of more than 39,116 are entitled to two representatives.

To count as a representative, a person must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, and have lived in the district for at least one year before the election.

The new constitution provides that the number of representatives shall be determined by the ratio of representation, but that no district shall have more than one representative.

Voters' League Prepares Articles on Constitution

Prepared by the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe (The League of Women Voters is a national, nonpartisan organization whose purpose is to promote informed and active participation of citizens in government.)

House Apportionment Much of the discussion on the new constitution has centered on the question, "How important should population be in the formula for each house?"

The population of the state (7,823,194) is divided by 100 to get the "ratio of representation" (78,232). This would be the number of persons each representative would have in his district if there were 100 representatives (as there used to be) and if districts were of equal size.

But the biggest district is now five times the size of the smallest. Why?

One reason is the "moiety" clause which allows a representative to each district which has a population of at least half of a ratio of representation, thus providing consideration of area. Another reason is that county lines are used to set up districts in the old constitution and the new. This introduces a large element of inequality because our population is distributed so unevenly among the counties. Even the plan designed to reflect straight population submitted by the Democratic minority on the Convention's reapportionment committee showed the biggest district with twice the population of the smallest.

County lines were used because our political parties and elections are organized by counties.

In the new constitution, the house of representatives is almost completely on a population basis. Every county with at least seven-tenths of one percent of the state's population becomes a representative district and is given one representative initially. Then the smaller counties are grouped into districts of the same size and are each given a representative. About 40 representatives are allocated in this way. The remaining 70 are given to the bigger counties according to a formula known as equal proportions (a precise method of mathematical measurement), which is the one found most equitable by the U. S. Congress in giving representatives to the states.

Districts are to be single member districts in contrast with the present situation where the large cities have districts with two or three representatives. This will tend to result in the representation for political minority groups within the city to a larger extent than at present.

Districts must also be compact, convenient, and contiguous by land, thus preventing two counties from being considered contiguous because they both border on Lake Superior, as is now the case.

To evaluate the effect of the new provisions on the house, consider the state's four areas: (1) The upper peninsula, which now has 7 representatives, receives 5 under the new formula and would get 4 under straight population. (2) The upper half of the lower peninsula now has 11 representatives, gets 8 under the new formula and would get 7 on straight population. (3) The five big counties now have 58, will be given 52, and would receive 63 under straight population. (4) The rest of the lower peninsula now has 36, will get 35, and would get 36 under straight population.

It can be seen that the new constitution is just two seats out of 110 away from straight population. One of these seats is given to the upper peninsula, one to the upper half of the lower peninsula. One of the

Brownies Go Glamorous

Welcome afternoon or after-dinner guests with this gorgeous dessert in company with hot coffee. Gala though it looks, this treat is a quick trick, if you use the convenient new fudgy brownie mix which even chops the walnuts for you—a generous portion of nuts comes right in the mix. The results are sure to please your guests—everyone likes brownies. Especially when they're baked in a pie-pan and made so festive and lush with a Nesselrode topping. This is one recipe you'll want to repeat many times!

Nesselrode Brownie Pie Prepare 1 package Pillsbury Fudge Brownie Mix with Walnuts and Real Chocolate as directed on package. Spread in well-greased 9-inch piepan. Bake at 350° for 35 to 40 minutes; cool.

Beat 1½ cups whipping cream until thickened. Add ½ cup powdered sugar and 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice and continue beating until spreading consistency. Fold in ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon rum flavor, ¼ cup chopped candied fruit and 2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries. Spoon onto brownie crust. Garnish with candied fruit pieces. Chill 2 to 3 hours before serving. Cut into wedges. Serves 8.

*On a bake in 8 or 9-inch square is directed on package; serve, cut in squares. Serves 9.

Christmas Star Stays Mystery

The Star of Bethlehem still remains an astronomical mystery.

"Popular interest in astronomy reaches its peak this month with the symbol of the Christmas Star, but astronomers are continually reminded that any satisfactory explanation or time of the Star of Bethlehem's appearance is out of the question," says University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

Perhaps the thing to do is pick out the symbol in the sky that you like best and make it your own Christmas Star, Professor Losh suggests.

She says the date of Christmas has been believed to bear a real relation to the sun and winter solstice which occurs at 3:15 a.m., December 22, this year.

"It is thought that this Christian celebration was set up to agree with the earlier pagan festival, attendant upon the rejoicing in the turning northward of the sun at the winter solstice." When the sun reaches the

Top Hosting Honors Taken By New Zealand Family

The Orbell family, of Invercargill, New Zealand, will welcome another Grosse Pointe High School student this January. Carol Cruickshank, GPHS junior whose brother, Jim, was the Orbell's "guest" under the American Field Service student exchange program in 1960, will leave the States in late December or early January for New Zealand.

Carol is the third Grosse Pointe to take advantage of the Orbell's hospitality. Her brother was the first, and his visit was so successful that the Orbells requested another GPHS student the following year.

Sherry Bockstanz went to winter solstice, it comes to the most southerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth.

Says Professor Losh, "Although the narrative about the Star is too incomplete and the date of its appearance and the early calendar too uncertain to give a basis for astronomical explanation, the bright planets (such as Venus, Jupiter, Saturn) are always promising."

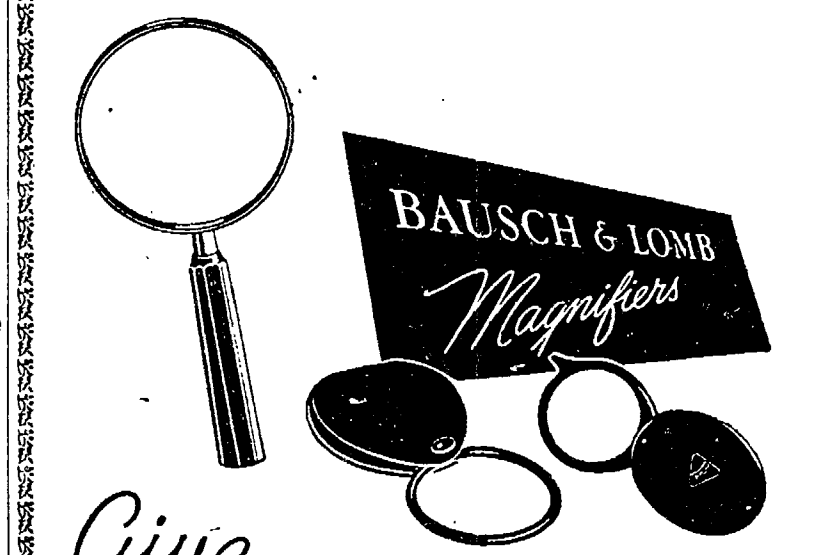

live with them in 1961, one year after Jim, and last summer the Orbells came to America to visit both the Cruickshanks and the Bockstanzes.

Meeting Carol, they invited her to stay with them in New Zealand, where she will be their "only child" for the next six months. The Orbells have four children of their own, but the youngest will be leaving for college at approximately the same time Carol arrives.

Carol plans to attend the James Hargest high school, as Sherry did before her, and her credits will be accepted at Grosse Pointe High—provided she passes her New Zealand examinations.

Some time during her stay in New Zealand, Carol plans a reunion with brother, Jim, whose first visit to the "Land of the Long White Cloud" proved so unforgettable he is planning a return trip.

Jim, now a sophomore at the University of Michigan, leaves the States in February, and will spend a year studying in Dunedin, a mere 100 miles from Invercargill.

Gas Company Makes Move

cartons of office supplies. This will be done by John F. Ivory Storage Company.
An additional 7,000 pieces of new furniture and other supplies have been going into the new furniture and other supplies.
Of the furniture and equipment being removed from present offices, one company will truck about 100 van loads—some 7,000 items of old furnishings which Michigan Consolidated has donated to Goodwill Industries—to a warehouse at Livernois and Warren. The remaining 7,500 items will be collected from the seven downtown buildings the company presently occupies. About 60 to 80 van loads will go to the new building and 14 to the company's branch and outstate district offices.

The head of the moving firm said that Michigan Consolidated's transfer will be among the largest ever undertaken in downtown Detroit, and the most complicated. "With seven pickup points in occupied office buildings and a number of destinations, we have quite a job on our hands," he said.

He said between 80 and 90 pieces of motor equipment and between 200 and 300 men will be required to make the move. As far as possible, the moving will be confined to the night hours to avoid traffic congestion and interference with normal operations of the company.

Planning the move has been like plotting a battle campaign. General of the operation is E. G. Reynolds, vice president and secretary of Michigan Consolidated. He heads a group of 20 employees, borrowed from around the company, who have worked out the thousands of details involved.

Working with W. B. Ford Design Associates, in charge of space planning, they charted the exact location of every piece of furniture and equipment on maps of the individual floors. These had to be juggled several times, as last minute changes were made. Masking tape identifying each piece of furniture by number was placed in the spot on the floor of the new building so the movers know what goes where.

Reynolds' staff also recruited over 100 department coordinators and floor captains who were charged with labeling every piece of furniture and equipment, packing office supplies and seeing that it gets headed for the proper destination and arrives there ready for use when employees arrive for work Monday morning.

McElvenny said he believes the company has done everything it can to avoid any inconvenience to customers and the general public during the move. "We have examined the experience of other large companies which have moved and learned the pitfalls of such a large undertaking. I hope we can avoid them, but should there be any hitches, I'm sure our customers will show us a little patience."

"It is unfortunate that the building will not be open to the public as soon as we move in, but this delay is beyond our control," he added.

Michigan Consolidated's new building is 32 stories high, including a four story crown which houses natural gas operated boilers and air conditioning equipment and cooling tower.

The building was designed by Minoru Yamasaki with Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates as architectural engineers. General contractor was Bryant and Detwiler Company.

Plans for the new Michigan Consolidated building were first announced in November, 1958, and ground was broken and foundation work began April 11, 1960.

Orthodontists Honor Coleman

Dr. Robert E. Coleman, of 69 Webber, Grosse Pointe, was named president-elect for 1962 as the Great Lakes Society of Orthodontists wound up its 33rd annual meeting Wednesday at the Statler Hilton Hotel.
The new president of the group, for 1963, also was installed. He is Dr. J. Thomas Crouch, of Toronto, Ontario, Canada. Retiring president of the society is Dr. George S. Harris, of Detroit.

Dr. Coleman, who was born and raised in Detroit, was first graduate of the University of Detroit dental school. He also received a master's degree in orthodontics from the University of Michigan and is a diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics and a fellow of the American College of Dentists.

He is department head of orthodontics—the correction and prevention of malposition of teeth—at the University of Detroit School of Dentistry.
Dr. Coleman is a member of several professional and fraternal associations, and is a 25-year member of the Detroit District Dental Society.

Dr. Crouch, the incoming president, was educated at the University of Toronto and the University of Michigan, and holds a number of offices in Canadian professional groups.
The Orthodontists Wednesday also approved that the next meeting of the society will be

Dodge Agent

Announcement was made during the past week of the appointment of KARL HOSTEN, 15205 E. Jefferson, near Beaconsfield as an authorized Dodge dealer for Grosse Pointe. He is also dealer for the Mercedes Benz.

Hosten Opens Dodge Agency

Karl Hosten Motor Sales, Inc., at 15205 East Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, has been announced as Dodge's newest eastside Detroit automobile dealership, according to Karl Hosten, president.

The newly franchised agency, considered to be ideally situated on a major thoroughfare, is located between Lakepointe and Beaconsfield, occupying a well-known landmark building specially designed for car and truck sales and service.

In 25,000 square feet, the site houses a fronting 80-foot new car salon, administrative offices, an extensive parts department and modern, fully equipped servicing facilities, and includes an immediately adjacent spacious used vehicle area.

A native of Grosse Pointe and a veteran in the automobile business here, Hosten had previously operated a dealership for another manufacturer elsewhere on the eastside since 1953 before moving into his present site in 1956. Prior to 1953 he had been sales manager since 1945 at another make eastside dealership.

He is actively engaged in the business personally as general manager, supervising a staff of 20. Department heads include Ralph Griffin, sales manager; Kay Cargo, office manager; Lowell Wright, parts manager; and Fred Weissel, used car manager; and veteran expert George Oeftger, service manager. The latter, a well-known local figure, previously headed the former Chrysler Corporation service department in Woodward avenue.

Dual Services Christmas Eve

Christmas will be observed at St. Paul Ev. Lutheran Church, Chalfonte and Lothrop, at two services on Christmas Eve. A service will be conducted at 6:30 with families particularly in mind. The junior choir will sing at this service. A second service will be held at 11:30, at which the senior choir will sing. There will be no service on Christmas Day.

All departments of the Sunday School will participate in a program at 6:30 next Sunday. There will be the usual recitations and dialogues, plus a film-strip presentation by the little children of the Beginners' Department, who have been photographed in color in the traditional Christmas sense. The young people of the Intermediate Department will provide the scriptural background in a verse-speaking choir.

The young people of the Luther League will carol for shut-in members of the parish followed by a party in the Youth Room on Friday evening.

held October 6-9, 1963, at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto.

Economy in the home is another thing which is a lot easier to talk about than to practice.

Success is just a matter of planning—the self-made man is a combination of dollars and sense.

Joyful bells ring out... the holiday season is here. We greet you with all good wishes.

through State-wide fiscal reform. The Mayor told the businessmen that Governor-elect George Romney and his Republican-dominated Legislature have it in their power to solve the tax problem once and for all, and blamed previous Legislatures' inaction for forcing debt-riddled Detroit into a situation where it had no choice but to adopt its own tax. "We must, however, give our State Government another chance," Cavanagh stated. "We have the pledges and the promises. Now we await genuine fiscal reform."

The Mayor, maintaining that "fairminded" suburbanites consider Detroit's one percent levy on all who work in the city an equitable assessment, poked fun at the Vigilance Tax Committee's planned re-enactment of the Boston Tea Party, scheduled to take place today on the Detroit River. Cavanagh termed the Vigilantes' proposed dramatization "consistent with their other actions thus far in refusing to face reality," adding that: "I think it is time we return to the 20th Century rather than break lances with the suburbs' Don Quixotes."

Urging cooperation as opposed to warfare in attempting to solve Metropolitan Detroit communities' money problems, Detroit's Mayor said: "We must recognize that we are—for better or worse—bound together in a kind of metropolitan matrimony. The social, economic and political matrix of our relations makes cooperation an imperative of urban life. There is no escape from the fact that we must make common cause. . . . There is no silken curtain along Eight Mile Road."

Sunday, December 16

THE NORTH ATLANTIC Treaty Organization ministerial council, in a communique issued yesterday at the end of a three-day Paris session, pledged to "respond appropriately" to any hostile action directed against the United States or its Atlantic allies. The Western Nations were careful, however, to reserve the possibility of eventual negotiations with Russia. Maintaining that a TREMENDOUS gales battered Western Europe and the North Atlantic Ocean yesterday. Dozens of ships sent out distress signals, and the 3,218-ton German freighter Natilus, sank in the North Sea only minutes after broadcasting an SOS. Only one of her 24 crew members was saved. Rescue ships, responding to the Natilus' plea for help despite gigantic waves and winds, picked up the bodies of 18 others, several of whom were wearing life jackets. Another vessel, the Greek steamer Aristoteles, was abandoned 275 miles off the southern coast of Portugal, and is reported sinking. Her 27 crew members were taken aboard the Hydroussa, also a Greek ship.

A Norwegian vessel, the 5,700-ton Black Eagle, grounded near Antwerp, and the 10,000-ton Custes Woods, a United States freighter, was reported aground in Ceuta Harbor off Morocco's north coast. Ulyssespaegel, a Belgian "pirate" radio ship which broadcasts popular music and commercials outside Belgian territorial waters, (Belgium has a state radio monopoly and forbids commercial radio), ran aground on the Dutch coast and was eventually abandoned by its 10-man crew. Also grounded in the Lowlands was the 5,408-ton Brazilian freighter Honduras, which had been bound for Antwerp. She is reported in no immediate danger.

Three ships are standing by off the English coast, near Sharpnose Point, where the 399-ton Dutch coaster Nimrod is in danger of being driven ashore, and in Liverpool the 25,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner Empress of England smashed through her moorings and swung into an adjoining vessel. Inland, the storm tore roofs off houses, uprooted trees, and blew cars off roads. Blizzards and floods are reported in France, seven persons are dead in England, and Norway's

Feature Page

Christmas meant sharing their considerable bounty with others for prominent Pointers before World War I, just as it does now.

Six patronesses sponsored the annual Christmas Charity Ball of 1911 at Strasburg's Academy downtown. The father of the present Paul Strasburg was then teaching dancing to society's heirs and heiresses, just as his son conducted classes for two generations until last year.

The 1911 ball was under the aegis of Mrs. David Whitney, Jr., Mrs. John N. Bagley, Mrs. Sidney T. Miller, Mrs. Henry D. Shelden, Mrs. Russell A. Alger, Jr., and Mrs. Franklin H. Walker. Funds raised by the ball were donated to Women's Hospital.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy was in charge of a giant picture pageant at the Detroit Opera House, put on by the DAR and other patriotic societies.

Sigma Gamma's annual fair aided the Holiday House for the Girls Friendly Society. A large group of members traveling in Dresden, Germany over the Yule season sent novelties for the mart. Among those who sold at the fair were Helen Palms, Frederika Swift, Helen Hunt and Mildred Sibley. Marjorie Muir handled a bridge tourney for 400 which brought in more money.

The First Presbyterian Church, downtown, parent church to Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian, which in its turn sent members to the Pointe to form Memorial gave a bazaar to dedicate its new church house.

Mrs. Harold B. Phelps and Mrs. William D. Farland sold linens; Mrs. Bethune Duffield and Mrs. F. W. Hodges sold aprons and Mrs. Charles Kanter was a flower venduse.

While all this charitable work was underway a gay season of parties also sparked the Christmas of 1911. Debutante balls, teas and lunches, theater parties, dinners for returning college students studied the calendar as they do this week, and many of the hostesses of 1911 were the mothers of today's party givers.

Mrs. Charles Larned gave a luncheon for the debutantes of 1911 and the striking decorative notes were bluebirds, strung above the table on telephone wire. Green monk's cloth created a spring lawn scene for the luncheon guests and across the table were small fences, rocks, a thicket of buttercups and rosebushes to carry out the theme.

Among the buds who lunched among the bluebirds and then appropriately went to a matinee of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" at the Detroit Opera House were Mary Hinchman, Cordelia Birdsall, Eloise Standish, Rebekah Farrand, Adele Canfield and Stephanie and Elise Moran.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Christmas comes outdoors as well as in to the decorating householders at this season, and the Pointe's displays are always exciting. This year the residents of Marford court have a neighborhood exhibit, designed by one of the court homeowners, Jack Gibson. In the island of the court, roped off by greens is a giant red greeting card inscribed with seasonal sentiments and all the neighbor's names. At night the card is lighted for all passersby to see.

Each mail brings a spate of greetings, and always several from those clever ones who design their own cards. Mrs. Stirling Loud, one of the Pointe's most talented artists, has done a striking Oriental mosque, a pen sketch, on blue-gray paper to bring her seasonal wishes... Mrs. Lyman Stookey has used a broad black ink design on onion skin paper to greet friends with a merry holiday wish.

Hilary Whittaker, who forsook her traveling last winter to join Governor-elect George Romney's staff, has been given two weeks vacation by her boss before the Inaugural festivities, for which she will do all the decorations. Hilary, who hasn't been out of Michigan for 10 months, decided to spend her holidays in Australia, was all set to fly to Melbourne Monday. At the last minute she cancelled her bookings because she couldn't bear the idea of Christmas away from home. For the past three years she has celebrated the season in North Africa or France and wanted an old fashioned family Yule.

Santa's mailbox is always filled with poignant notes from the very junior set but this plea for his usual visit is among the best reminders that Christmas really belongs to the very young. The three-year-old dictated the letter and Mother testifies she took it down verbatim. When asked how he wanted the note signed, he said: "I want my big name."

Dear Santa: I don't wet my pants and I'm a good boy! Santa, will you please bring me Kingsaur the Dinosaur—he bites and he gets a gun and you shoot him.

Kristy wants a little toy rabbit. She eats nicely and she's good, Santa.

Mommy and Daddy want some electric toothbrushes. They're good because they always love me!

Flash wants a new one but she hasn't been too good lately. You decide if you want to bring her one. There's some snow for your sleigh. Watch out for the ice.

I love you, Cameron Parker Gordon 801 University-place New York, Michigan editorial note: the rather unusual address notifies Santa that young Cam is so accustomed to his father's frequent business trips to New York he believes he lives there too!

PILFERINGS

England was merry England, when Old Christmas brought his sports again. 'Twas Christmas broach'd the mightiest ale; 'Twas Christmas told the merriest tale; A Christmas gambol oft could cheer The poor man's heart through half the year. Still linger, in our northern clime, Some remnants of the good old time. —Sir Walter Scott

At Christmas play and make good cheer, for Christmas comes but once a year... The Farmer's Daily Diet.

Pointer of Interest

by Patricia Talbot

Tradition enfolds this season of peace and goodwill as closely as the blanket of snow which whitens the trees and lawns of our town. At Christmas few feel sophisticated, cynical or world weary. There is a spirit of hope abroad in the land.

For most Pointers the shopping, the parties, the family reunions and sending of cards and exchanging of gifts assume a ritual which each passing year endears. No one wants Christmas to be novel and different.

At no other season do so many do so much for others. Christmas giving and celebrations in Grosse Pointe have assumed a much-loved pattern, which begins even before Thanksgiving. There are the countless church fairs to which hundreds of women cheerfully donate their talents, knitting sweaters, designing decoupage, baking cookies, creating Yule decorations, all to raise money for missions and church charitable projects.

Many Dinners Served There are the turkey dinners served by Junior Leaguers, board members at Williams House, the Thompson Home, the Neighborhood, Settlement house. Junior Sigma Gammas trim a tree for the patients at the Detroit Orthopedic Clinic. Women's Auxiliaries for all the hospitals give extra time to insure that Christmas trays for bed bound patients will be commemorative.

Bon Secours volunteers have a fair and St. John Hospital benefits from a White Christmas Ball.

Few Go Modern Occasionally a housewife will raise a white tree decked with fuschia balls, send a cartoon greeting card, lead the family to Florida's sunshine for Christmas but these are exceptions to the traditions which have come to mean so much as the holidays roll around again.

This week Boy Scouts are delivering pine wreaths for doors which will be hospitably open to welcome friends and neighbors all next week. Egg nog is mixed, cookies baked, presents wrapped in gay paper and hidden away. The youngsters are aglow with promises made during the early visit to Santa Claus. Shoppers, tired and harassed by chores still undone, have yet time for a merry greeting or a welcome home.

Many Manifestations Debutantes are trying on white gowns, college students arriving with dirty laundry and high spirits from all parts of the nation, fathers are lugging home the pine and spruce, chestnuts are awaiting the holiday turkey, mailmen are laden with packages and cards. All is again in readiness for the season which brings hope, renewal, joy and thanksgiving.

It will be a merry, merry Christmas in our town and from all of us spread good wishes and good fellowship, enough holiday happiness to last throughout the year.

Williams House Marks Holiday

Williams House, home for girls, on East Grand boulevard, is in the midst of holiday celebrations. The girls have been prepared for Christmas by a well known Detroit hairdresser and one, Bonnie Mitchell, won a special visit to his downtown salon.

The Junior Board of Williams House held its annual luncheon and gift wrapping party in the Merrivue weather party home of Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr.

The gifts were given to the girls on December 13 at the annual party at Williams House. The Grunions entertained at the December 13 party.

GPHS Students Given Honors

Frank Bowles, Grosse Pointe High School Student Association president, has been declared a winner in the National Council of Teachers of English competition to determine the most outstanding high school English students in the country.

Another GPHS senior, Kathy Munson, was named runner-up in the same competition. Frank and Kathy are among 38 Michigan NCTE finalists chosen on the basis of three compositions—an autobiographical sketch, an impromptu and an out-of-class paper—plus the results of a standardized literary competence test and supporting letters written by a teacher and an administrator.

Of the more than 6,000 students nominated for the NCTE Achievement Awards citation, only 870 were chosen as finalists. Participating schools, located throughout the United States, are allowed to name one student for every 500 enrolled.

NCTE winners will be recommended for scholarships to colleges and universities. In recent years, a record 99 percent of the award winners were admitted to the colleges of their choice, and approximately 80 percent of those applying received financial assistance.

Frank, who spent two weeks last summer in a University of Michigan creative writing class, and Kathy, who ranks fourth in senior class scholarship, are both outstanding students. Kathy was represented in the GPHS literary magazine "Prom" last spring. Her story and her essay were both published.

Cynthia Gilliatt, Grosse Pointe High's sole NCTE winner last year, is currently studying at Duke University in Durham, N. C.

Dick LeBeau of the Detroit Lions scored a career "first" by tallying two touchdowns against Minnesota during the 1962 season, one on a 26-yard fumble return and the other on a 31-yard pass interception.

Just Four More... shopping days till Christmas! At Walton-Pierce there are still some handsome handbags that make mighty welcome gifts! Especially the Italian imports... soft leather with unusual frames for sports... fine suedes and fabrics for evening... plus alligator handbags, petit point and beaded or satin evening styles.

She'll Believe In Santa... because of the gift of beauty beneath her tree. It won't stay there long... because it is a fine Masterpiece wig from Leon's, 17888 Mack Avenue that she has wanted for ever so long! It is one of the very finest wigs made and comes in a good looking wig case that travels well. Why don't you write your Dear Santa Letter now? Perhaps he'll take a hint in time for the busy holiday season... you'll wonder how you ever did without it!

Heaven... for Christmas shoppers is just one flight up at 17007 Kercheval Avenue in the Village at The Top Drawer. There is a shopful of unusual gifts but this time we would like to tell you about The Children's Room. For infants there are hand knits... including the cutest little booties. For older sister... there are colorful handmade jumpers trimmed with a big friendly ladybug. For the closets... whimsical and practical hangers... for play time... a wonderful world of wonderful toys... and for something nice to think about... remember... proceeds benefit Christ Child Society... all year through.

Home For The Holidays... the cooking is easier and fun... in your newly designed Mutschler Kitchen. This, because of the step saving... time cutting... blueprint planning by experts. Consult them at Mutschler, 20489 Mack Avenue. Drop by and see the models... contemporary, French Provencal and Early American.

Good Gifting Scents... bowed, belled... beautifully wrapped... for under the tree or to tuck into stockings... are to be found at The Notre Dame Pharmacy... there's a happy choice and a wide price range... in perfume, sachet, toilet water, soap, lotions... also, handsome grooming kits for men.

GALLERY GAZING... at Les Galleries de Renee, 14944 East Jefferson helped us with our Christmas list... and will with yours. Think what wonderful gift prints make... or to have refinished an old family painting... with a resculpturing of the frame... and for stocking treasures... the little sleek animals made of wood... are a perfect surprise!

Christmas Baskets... from The Village Wine Shop are welcome indeed! This is because they are assembled for you and include your selection of cocktail goodies, spirits, sauces, sweets, cooking and bar accessories and beautiful glasses... that you know are favorites. One stop at The Village Wine Shop, 15228 East Jefferson will have you a lot of running around... and is sure to please the most discriminating gourmet.

of the WEEK

Thursday, December 20
MICHIGAN pharmaceutical firms have contributed over a million dollars worth of drugs, earmarked for the ransom of some 1,000 Cuban prisoners-of-war. Delta, Eastern and Northwest Airlines are flying the medicines, without charge, to Florida. "Well over a million dollars worth of antibiotics and pharmaceuticals" have been donated by Parke, Davis & Co., according to vice-president Carl Johnson, and Kalamazoo's Upjohn Co. revealed Wednesday that it has contributed $250,000 worth of drugs. Upjohn is prepared, if necessary, to give $1.5 million toward the Bay of Pigs POW ransom.

The United States Government, repudiating any official connection with a private citizens' committee currently negotiating the prisoners' release, has nonetheless acted as a more-than-welcome "silent partner" throughout ransom negotiations. Only last night, the Internal Revenue Service ruled that persons or firms donating medicines or food in the Cuban exchange may list the value of their donations as charity tax deductions.

Castro is reportedly willing to swap his 1,113 prisoners for $62 million in drugs and food ($25 million at the wholesale rate), and drug manufacturers will be permitted to write off the 1961 invasion captives as released.

James Donovan, one of the negotiators for the privately-financed Cuban Families Committee, flew from Havana to Miami last night, presumably with Castro's answer to the drug-prisoner exchange proposal. The Cuban Premier had originally demanded his $62 million in cash, but the Committee's alternative food-and-medicine proposal is apparently receiving serious consideration. Donovan and other negotiators met with Castro and high Cuban officials Tuesday night, and Donovan reports the Cubans are studying the plan.

PROCEEDINGS in the James R. Hoffa conspiracy trial took a new turn yesterday, with a secret hearing called by Federal Judge William E. Miller just before the million-dollar case was to go to the jury. Judge Miller ordered the Nashville, Tenn., courtroom cleared for an hour, allowing Government lawyers time and opportunity to present a hush-hush motion. At a similar hearing two weeks before, the judge ruled that a member of the jury, wife of a $395-a-month Tennessee State Trooper, should be dismissed. It was later learned that someone had attempted to approach the woman jury.

Before the trial opened, at least three prospective jurors were disqualified after receiving strange telephone calls. Two alternative jurors have sat through the nine weeks of the trial, and are ready to be pressed into service if the judge rules to dismiss other jurors. Neither side's lawyers would discuss the secret motion. Hoffa, seen through a rear window of the courtroom during the private hearing, first read a long government document, then conferred in whispers with his lawyers. After a quarter of an hour, one of the Teamster President's five attorneys, Daniel Maher, began to argue with the judge.

A second Hoffa attorney, William Bufalino, joined in the debate, and Chief Prosecutor James F. Neal, with other Justice Department attorneys, could be seen arguing. Earlier, the Hoffa attorneys had made their final appeal to the jury, with lawyer Z. T. Osborn, Jr., of Nashville, describing the Government's case as "a tissue of half truths and distortion," and attorney James Haggerty, Sr., of Detroit, terming Hoffa "an absolutely dedicated man" who "unfortunately has created enemies."

Legislators Pay Visit to Public Schools

To get first hand information about educational matters in the Pointe, this group of political leaders visited a number of the schools recently. Looking on as Monteith 6th grade students sing Christmas carols, are, left to right: PRINCIPAL MARSHALL JAMES, CONGRESSMAN HAROLD RYAN, STATE SENATOR CHARLES YOUNGBLOOD, JR., SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT CHARLES WILSON and STATE REPRESENTATIVE ROBERT WALDRON.

Pooch Plays Hero's Role In Hot Scene

Awakens Family Trying to Tug Burning Seat Cushion Towards Front Door

The pet dog of Mrs. Dorothy Healy of 1637 Bournmouth, woke up the Healy family at 5:40 a.m., on Friday, December 21, when a cushion in an upholstered chair caught fire. The dog was a Collie.

Woods public safety officers arrived in time to put out the blaze with about two gallons of water.

Mrs. Healy told the officers that she heard her dog barking on the first floor of the house, and got up to see what was the matter. She said she went downstairs and saw the pet struggling with a burning seat cushion.

The animal had the seat in its teeth, and was dragging it toward the front door, letting it go at intervals to let out a few loud barks.

Mrs. Healy said that she and her daughter shoved the chair out doors, and waited for the firefighters.

The source of the blaze is not known.

CAR DAMAGED

Francis Labadie of 309 Morross called Farms police on Thursday, December 20, and informed them that an unknown hit-and-run driver ran into the left rear of his car parked in front of his house. Damage was estimated at $75.

Tragedy Halts Family's Holiday Vacation in South

The Prete family had planned to celebrate Christmas in Florida this year.

Samuel J. Prete, 52, of 1205 Three Mile drive, his 38-year-old wife, Londa, his stepchildren, Arline Malolo, 16, and 17-year-old William Malolo, and his and Londa's son, Marco, 7, were enroute south Wednesday evening, December 19.

Mrs. Prete was behind the wheel of the family car driving on US-27, a few miles north of Lexington, Ky. She pulled out to pass a truck, then veered back into the right-hand lane.

Describing the accident to Fayette County police, Mrs. Prete told how she suddenly lost control of the car, crashed off the highway, and slammed through a wooden fence and into a tree.

The tree, uprooted, fell across the top of the car, kill-

Important Events of 1962 Culled From Files of News For Edification of Readers

Items of Past Year Recall Memories of Occurrences Pertaining to the Pointe and to Present and Former Residents

The years seem to pass rapidly for some people, and to others they seem to go by slowly, but they still leave memories that are recalled, and 1962 is no exception. The NEWS has compiled the most important story from each of its issues of the past year. Remember:

January 4—Mrs. Theodore DeLong Buhl (Anastasia Reilly), president of the company which publishes the Grosse Pointe News, died after a six-month losing battle against cancer. As Anastasia Reilly, she was one of the most famous showgirls in the history of the American Theater. At the age of eight, she began a career that took her into vaudeville houses and brought her a starring role in the Ziegfeld Follies. She met her husband through the late Florenz Ziegfeld, his uncle, who introduced the pair in his office after a show. The Buhls were married in October, 1927. She was one of the founders of the NEWS.

January 11 — Two multi-alarm fires struck in the Farms, which completely destroyed Al Green's-on-the-Hill, 123 Ker-cheval; and the Beaupre Hardware, 366 Kercheval, and Sidney Cleaners, 368 Kercheval. The fire scenes were a mile apart and the fires occurred within 30 minutes of each other. Thirteen pieces of firefighting equipment and about 100 firemen from the five Pointes, Harper Woods and Detroit fought the blazes for hours. It was the first time in Farms history two major conflagrations occurred at the same time.

January 18—The new officers of St. James Lutheran Church, McMillan at Kercheval, were installed before the altar by the Rev. George E. Kurz, pastor of the church. They are: Roland Blank, president; Marvin Asmus, Jr., vice president; Richard Albrecht, recording secretary; Roy Hartmann, financial secretary; Tom Couser, treasurer; John Jamieson, trustee; Dr. James Kackley, elder for three-year term; Edwin Trinklein, elder for one-year term; and Bert Freiber, Sunday School superintendent. ## 3-Car Accident Injures Woman Woods police ticketed two motorists involved in a three-car accident at Mack and Lochmor on Saturday, December 22. One person suffered an injured back.

According to a police report, Preston W. Paris, Jr., 21, of 21120 Halstead road, Northville, was stopped in a traffic lane on Mack, preparatory to making a left turn, when his car was hit in the rear by a car driven by James R. Bowsher, 24, of 38222 South Julian, Mt. Clemens.

Bowsher was hit in the rear by a car driven by Richard C. Vincent, 38, of 22978 Clairwood, St. Clair Shores, and pushed into the rear of Paris' vehicle.

Jeanne Rau, 20, of 11691 Lakepointe, Detroit, a passenger in Bowsher's car, claimed to have injured her back, and was transported to Saratoga Hospital for treatment. She was taken by police ambulance.

Police gave Bowsher and Vincent violation tickets for not having their cars under control and causing an accident.

The charges are scheduled to be aired in court on January 26.

Center Plans Tea to Fete New Pointers

Annual Reception to Honor Residents Who Have Recently Moved Here Set for January 6

Making full use of the new facilities in the Fries Auditorium, the officers and board of directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association will receive all Grosse Pointe's new residents at a reception which begins at 3 p.m. Sunday, January 6.

At 4 p.m. those present are invited to enjoy a concert by the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Players in the little theatre of the new auditorium.

The New Residents Reception is an annual festive occasion given by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association for all new neighbors on the Sunday following New Year's Day. This year the Center looks forward to a bigger turnout than ever, for the Center's staff has made a concerted effort to get not only the names of those moving into the Pointes in 1962 but all those they have missed over the past few years. More than 2,000 invitations will be mailed, but there is still a possibility of missing certain families—and these are urged to consider this article a cordial invitation to come.

Receiving guests will be President and Mrs. Thomas L. Munson; vice president and Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Jr.; vice president and Mrs. George C. Cossaboom; treasurer and Mrs. Gerald C. Schroeder; secretary Mrs. James A. Lafer and Mr. Lafer, assistant treasurer Mark Stevens and Mrs. Stevens, assistant secretary Mrs. John N. McNaughton and Mr. McNaughton; J. Leslie Berry and Mrs. Berry; Walter B. Ford, II, and Mrs. Ford; Mrs. William H. Fries; Thomas E. Groehn and Mrs. Groehn; Theodore H. Meeks, Jr., and Mrs. Meeks; Lynn Pierson and Mrs. Pierson; Mrs. Harold B. Tyree, and Mrs. Frank W. Wylie and Mr. Wylie.

In addition to the board of directors of the Center, guests will be greeted by representatives of all of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's family of groups, all of the service organizations in the Pointe, all of the Pointe Churches and all of Grosse Pointe's other institutions serving the public. Guests will be informed about their activities and be invited to join in them. This is a wonderful way to get to know Grosse Pointe, and become an active member of the community.

Political Leaders Spend Day Paying Visit to Schools

Congressman Ryan, State Senator Youngblood and State Legislator Waldron Tour Public System with Superintendent Wilson

Three east-side legislators joined with Grosse Pointe school officials last week in a tour of the local school system as part of a statewide program to establish better communications between state houses and school houses. Congressman Harold Ryan of the 14th District, State Senator Charles Youngblood, Jr., and Representative Robert Waldron visited five Grosse Pointe schools to learn first-hand what the educational programs were at the various grade levels.

"We invited these political leaders," Superintendent Charles H. Wilson said, "to spend a day with us so that they might become better informed about the public schools. Such experience cannot be but helpful as legislation related to education comes before them in the next sessions of the Congress and the state legislature."

"Mutually Profitable"

"Conversely," Dr. Wilson stated, "we of the school system had the opportunity to learn how our elected representatives view us and the job we are doing. The day was mutually profitable I can assure you. We were greatly impressed at the willingness of these distinguished gentlemen to devote so much of their valuable time to this project."

The legislators visited Richard and Monteith elementary schools, Parcels Junior High School, Central Library, and Grosse Pointe High School. They were joined by several members of the Board of Education at the High School for a discussion period. President Robert F. Weber headed the board delegation which included trustees Ruth H. Goebel, Edward J. Pongracz, and Dr. Robert K. Whiteley.

In each building, the principal greeted the visitors and outlined briefly salient facts about the particular unit. An especial interest of Congressman Ryan's concerning exceptional children led to a visit to one of Monteith School's special education rooms. Here the principal, Dr. Jameson, and the teacher explained in some detail

Burglars Rob Jeffries Home

A thief, or thieves, entered the unlocked home of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jeffries, 1010 Harvard, and took a large sum in cash and some underclothing on Tuesday, December 25.

Dr. Jeffries and his wife, Virginia, told Park police that they had left the house at about 1 p.m. and returned at 11 p.m. to find they had been robbed.

Mrs. Jeffries told officers that the thief, or thieves took between $230 and $280 from her purse left on the dining room table. Several items of underclothing were also taken from a second floor bedroom, she said. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

The home was entered through an unlocked side door, according to Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

U-M Swimming Stars To Give Exhibition Here

Eight members of the University of Michigan Swimming Team will perform here Tuesday, January 8, at Brownell Junior High School, 260 Chal-fonte. They will stage two shows—one at 7 p.m. and the second at 8:30 p.m. The shows will last one hour and consist of comedy diving, novelty swimming, and trompoling.

The team comes under the direction of Coach Gus Stager and diving Coach Dick Kimball. Under Stager's steadfast direction the Wolverines have won seven Big Ten and NCAA titles during the past seven seasons. He is cautiously optimistic about the coming season. Sophomores hold the key and if they live up to their potential and his veterans pick up where they left off, the Wolverines will again be in the thick of

Milk Depot Held Up By Lone Gunman

Police Given Good Description and Numbers On License plate used in Getaway

A lone gunman held up the Johnson Milk Depot, 18534 Mack avenue, at 5:45 p.m. on Saturday, December 22, and escaped with a small sum of money grabbed from the cash register.

By sheer coincidence, a witness who saw the man running, was the same person who witnessed two bandits leaving the milk depot after a $40-holdup on January 6, 1961. The bandits, two Harper Woods youths, were arrested by police about seven days later. Police acted on a description the witness gave.

Want Names Withheld
Both the holdup victim and the witness requested that their names be withheld because of fear of possible reprisals. The last depot clerk had received threatening and crank calls.

The latest victim called Farms police immediately after the holdup, and Patrolman Earl Field, at the desk, dispatched Patrolman John Krukowski and William Elworthy to the scene.

The woman told the officers that the holdup man entered the store and flashed a snub-nosed silver revolver for a brief moment, then hid the gun under his coat. He ordered her to "Hand over the money," the woman said.

When she opened the cash register, the clerk said, the man reached in and grabbed a hand full of currency, approximately $70, then turned and walked to the door.

Given Final Warning
The woman said that when he reached the door, the robber turned and said, "Don't stick your head out of this door. I have a friend in a car and he'll blow your head off!"

The witness, who was walking on Touraine, near his home, with packages in his arms, said he saw a man coming east from Mack onto Touraine and run south on the street to a parked car, facing south. The man drove toward Webster, the witness said.

The witness told Det. Sgts. George Van Tiem and Jack Paisley that he thought the getaway car was either a 1949 or 1948 Chevrolet.

Woods Plans Referendum On April 1

Harper Woods Joins in Fight to Prevent Use of Chemicals in Water Supplied by Detroit

Officials of three Pointes and Harper Woods are opposed to Detroit's proposed water fluoridation program. Against fluoridated water, besides Harper Woods, are the Park, Shores and Woods, all customers of Detroit.

Detroit's proposed fluoridation program is opposed in a recent Harper Woods resolution as "an additional exercise of power over our inhabitants, who are without voice or vote thereon."

The three Pointes have long standing resolutions against the use of the chemical in water, and have not amended them despite the Detroit Council's recent vote to fluoridate its water supply.

To Be Put to Vote
The Woods plans to put the issue before its voters in a referendum vote in conjunction with a regular city election on April 1. The referendum received unanimous support at a Council meeting held on December 17.

However, Councilman Frederick Maddock, an attorney, requested a reconsideration of the proposed referendum, for the first meeting of the council in January. He called for further Council study of the matter and of the legal implications of a possible negative vote in April.

The Farms pumps its own water from Lake St. Clair, and supplies the City, its only customer.

Discontinued by Farms
In 1951, the Farms started to fluoridate its water, but discontinued this in 1955, following a referendum advisory vote by its residents. Although a majority favored the use of the chemical, the city council decided the vote was not large enough to serve as a mandate for the continuation of fluoridation.

City residents had no voice in the matter, and were not asked to vote on the issue.

Farms City Manager Sidney DeBoer said on Monday, December 24, that the fluoridation debate has never been revived on a serious scale, and it appears to be almost a dead issue.

Hit Run Driver Halted by Victim

A hit-and-run driver was chased and stopped by his victim and arrested by Woods police on Sunday, December 23, and turned over to Farms authorities in whose jurisdiction the accident occurred.

Farms police gave Patrick E. Callan, Jr., of 105 Muir road, a ticket for leaving the scene of an accident. His car collided with one driven by James S. Fazio of 4516 Grayton, Detroit, at Moross and Chalfonte.

Fazio was stopped on Moross, waiting for a traffic light to change, when Callan ran into the rear of his car.

Callan failed to stop to identify himself. He drove north on Moross, turned toward Mack, then drove east on Mack, with Fazio in pursuit. Fazio stopped Callan at Mack and Hawthorne, and called Woods police, who arrested Callan and held him for Farms police.

Fazio and a passenger in his car, George Solomon of 429 Cloverly, were taken to St. John Hospital, where Fazio was treated for knee and shoulder injuries, and Solomon was treated for an injured neck. Callan was not hurt.

Callan told Farms police that he did not see Fazio's car, and when he did, it was too late to stop in time on the slippery pavement to avoid a collision. He did not say why he did not stop.

Police estimated damage to both cars at about $150 each.

INJURED IN FALL

Lawrence Ahee, 8, of 205 Muir road, fell on the ice in the Gabriel Richard School ground on Friday, December 21. He was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms police where he was treated for a cut over the left eye.

program at the High School, advanced placement courses and school drop-outs. Considerable discussion revolved around the threatened engulfment of colleges and universities by increasing enrollments also. Community colleges and junior colleges were suggested as possibly the best means of relieving some of the pressure the degree granting institutions faced.

Concerning financial problems facing school districts and colleges, Representative Waldron indicated that he foresaw the need arising soon for additional revenues to be made available to education. "A flat-rate income tax is permitted by the proposed new state constitution," he stated, "and this may well be the way school districts will have to raise the necessary funds. County-wide taxing units are to be preferred over smaller units such as those the size of one of the Grosse Pointes."

Mr. Waldron also remarked on the need for more financial resources at the college level. However, he said that tuition rates reflect rising costs to a certain extent. College loan funds were mentioned as a resource for those whose college opportunities might be ruled out by high tuition costs. Better use of existing facilities was mentioned as still another way of holding costs down.

The fall offensive is in full swing—first down and 10 to go.

The holdup victim told the officers that the bandit was a white man, about 40 years old, about five feet 10 inches tall, weighing 185 pounds, medium build, ruddy complexion, clean shaven, wearing dark horn-rimmed glasses, a brown Fedora hat, light green zipper jacket and brown trousers.

Might Have Been Toy Van Ties and Paisley said that it is possible that the bandit used a toy pistol, but the woman could not tell because of the rapidity of the gunman's movement in showing the gun.

They said that the depot clerk was taken to Detroit Police Headquarters, where she spent hours looking over "mug shots," and came up with one possible suspect.

The Farms detectives ask NEWS readers, who might possibly know of a person answering the gunman's description, or any model car with the license numbers 3727, to either call Farms police, TUxedo 5-2100, or their own police.

Calling in of the license numbers, the detectives said, will save a great deal and will help time in searching through license book files for owners whose cars have such numbers.

Drive by FOP Raises $11,500

The children's and adults' Christmas parties given by the Grosse Pointe Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge No. 102, were termed very successful by Lodge officials.

The children's party was held in Harper Hall, Harper and Lennon, in Harper Woods on Sunday, December 16, and the adult party was held in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Monday evening, December 17.

Approximately 280 youngsters, ranging in age from one to 12 years old, children of regular and associate members, attended the affair at the hall.

The kids had pop, potato chips, and other good things to eat. Before the party was over, each child was given a Christmas stocking filled with candy and a toy.

Santa Claus was Woods Patrolman Kenneth Metcalf, who made a premature entrance when one of the children accidentally tripped a siren signal, the cue to making his presence known.

Special guests included police chiefs and city managers from the Pointe and Harper Woods, and officials of the State Fraternal Order of Police.

Dance music was by the Joe Vitale Orchestra. Other entertainment was given by Carroll Fox, comedian; and Dr. Zee, hypnotist.

The party concluded a fund-raising drive by Lodge 102, comprised of members from the Pointe and Harper Woods. The drive was a tremendous success, according to Woods Patrolman Stephen Petrik, president; and Woods Patrolman Bruce Cross, treasurer.

Petrik and Cross stated that the drive netted the organization about $11,500 for the Widows and Orphans Fund. The money is to be used to financially assist wives and children of deceased police members of the Lodge.

Part of the money raised will go into a scholarship fund to help children of deceased members who desire a college education, but are unable to get one because of financial difficulties.

Other fund-raising projects, will be carried out during the year, it was said.

Don't trouble your conscience and it won't trouble you.

Romney's Secretary Says Slap at Durant Intentional

Richard Durant is still waiting for an invitation to Governor-elect George Romney's inauguration.

The conservative Republican, chairman of the 14th Congressional District's GOP organization, believes he is the only district chairman in the State who did not receive a summons to the January 1 inaugural ceremonies in Lansing, but thinks this was merely an "oversight."

Durant claims he has sent "intermediaries" to Romney, seeking to bridge the ideological gap between himself and the governor-elect, but Romney denies any contact with either Durant or his intermediaries, and Richard Millman, Romney's press secretary, says Durant's lack of an invitation is most definitely not an oversight.

The governor-elect and the 14th District boss clashed publicly last summer, with Romney's demand that Durant resign from the controversial, ultra-conservative John Birch Society taken by Durant at its face value.

Durant resigned, later revealing that he could not change his beliefs overnight and still privately support the Birchers, and Romney retaliated by publicly denouncing the Birch Society a few weeks later, at the State GOP convention.

At the conclusion of Romney's successful campaign for the governorship, Durant received a telegram thanking him for his help and congratulating the 14th

District organization. The telegram came from Romney campaign headquarters, and Durant thought Romney had extended "the olive branch"—until Arthur G. Elliott, Jr., Romney's campaign manager, explained that it was all a mistake, and Durant's name should have been removed from the list of those receiving congratulatory messages.

Durant, who does not think it wise to continue inter-party squabbles, said the election results prove just how hard 14th District Republicans worked for Romney's election. Of the six districts in Wayne County, the 14th was the only one in which the GOP Secretary of State candidate got a larger percentage of the vote than in 1960, and Romney's vote percentage was 11.2 percent larger than that of Paul D. Bagwell, Republican gubernatorial candidate in 1960, Durant maintains.

Durant cites the 15th District, which describes itself as the most "liberal" Republican organization in Wayne County, as having the poorest results in the recent gubernatorial election.

The 14th District GOP organization aims to show the district's voters which is the party that really cares about the people, says Durant, who revealed on Wednesday, December 19, that the organization had hired a staff man to work full time at helping unemployed workers in the district find jobs.

Late Accident Report All Good

City Patrolmen Edmond Ben-thus, James Cronin and Blair A. Martin, responding to a car-bicycle accident report shortly before 2 p.m. on Sunday, December 23, hurried to the Kercheval-Neff area. The officers checked the intersection and surrounding streets but found no one around.

A routine hospital check also yielded no clues, and police were somewhat at a loss when, at 2:15 p.m., three teenagers walked into the station.

The boys, Jerome Jeeves, 19, 571 Lincoln, Thomas Custance, 17, 18621 Capital, Southfield, and Peter Smith, 18, 390 Rivard, had come to report the collision.

Jeeves was at the wheel, headed west on Kercheval in a '56 Oldsmobile, with Custance and Smith as passengers, when he saw a boy on a bicycle in the middle of the road. Jeeves honked, and the boy, apparently misunderstanding the summons to "move over," started to pull into a traffic lane immediately in front of the moving automobile.

Jeeves, who had been traveling at approximately 20 miles per hour, slammed on his brakes. He was not quick enough to avoid hitting the bicycle, however, and the car's impact knocked off its young rider, throwing him into a pool of slush at the side of the street.

Jeeves stopped at once, and all three boys ran to the youngster's assistance. They found 12-year-old Thomas Adler, 304 University, dazed and with a bruised foot, but otherwise unhurt.

Thomas stated he had been traveling west on the north side of Kercheval, thought he ought to be on the south side, and crossed over. He heard a noise, turned back, and was struck.

Two witnesses to the accident stated that it was in no way the driver's fault.

Jeeves and his companions put the boy and his bicycle into their car and drove to the Adler home, where they talked with the boy's parents before going on to the police station to make their report.

Vandals Rip Public Phone

Vandals ripped the public telephone from its mounting at Lincoln and Mack sometime during the night of Thursday, December 20. City Patrolmen Richard G. Elworthy and Thomas McLaughlin, Jr., discovered the damage at 6 a.m. Friday morning, December 21.

There were pry marks on the telephone hook box, but the culprits had been unable to force it open and the cash was intact.

Police notified the Telephone Co. The matter is under investigation.

So many people are bent financially that it should be easy to make both ends meet. Thrift is still a virtue—even though it does pay off its reward in inflated dollars.

Safety Group Submits Report

Four persons died in the Pointe-Harper Woods area traffic from January 1 through November 30, according to a monthly report from the Grosse Pointe Safety and Traffic Committee.

One death each was reported by the Park, Woods, Shores and Harper Woods.

The report disclosed that to the November date, there were 252 non-fatal accidents (injuries) in the area traffic, and a total of 1,044 property damage accidents.

Of the non-fatal traffic accidents, the Park reported 82; Harper Woods, 56; City, 49; Farms, 43; Woods, 37; and Shores, 15.

Property damage accidents, Harper Woods reported 285; Farms, 229; Park, 220; Woods, 139; City, 129; and Shores, 42.

During November, there were 38 non-fatal accidents, and 83 property damage accidents.

Last month the Park disclosed 12 non-fatal; Harper Woods, eight; City, seven; Woods, five; Shores, three; and Farms, two.

Property damage statistics showed that Harper Woods reported 20; the Park, 19; Farms, 17; City, 12; Woods, 10; and Shores, five.

There were no fatalities during November, according to the report.

Church Erecting New Building

Another milestone was reached in the history of Christ the King Lutheran Church when ground was broken for the construction of a new church building on the corner of Mack and Lothrop in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Inadequate facilities of the present chapel moved the congregation to initiate plans that will double its capacity to serve the community. In addition to the new edifice alterations in the present chapel will furnish room for an expanded Sunday School, library, lounge and offices.

The James B. Morison firm of architects has drawn the plans and specifications for the project, and the William F. Demske Company has the contract for construction. Completion of the contract is expected within the year.

Assisting the Pastor, Walter J. Geffert in ground breaking ceremonies were Messrs. Charles Kretschmer, Clyde Gross, Eugene Timm, Gay Theuerkorn, Jack Ladendorff, George Buchhaupt, Jack Hermes.

Construction will begin in the near future.

Warn Residents About Magazine

Many persons are reported killed or seriously wounded by the handling of "unloaded" guns, and in some cases are maimed for life. Newspapers carry these stories almost daily, it was stated by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

He said that during the course of 1962, a good number of accidental shootings have occurred, all totally unnecessary, if parents and gun owners had taken proper precautions.

He submitted these points in the interest of safety and compliance with Michigan's Gun Law:

1. Revolvers: Swing out the cylinder and place a good lock over the strap. This will prevent closing the cylinder.
2. Automatics: Remove the magazine.

He submitted these points in the interest of safety and compliance with Michigan's Gun Law:

1. Revolvers: Swing out the cylinder and place a good lock over the strap. This will prevent closing the cylinder.

2. Automatics: Remove the magazine and place it in a location inaccessible to children. Rack and remove the shell from the chamber or barrel. Place all cartridges in a locked metal box.

3. If you sense trouble within your area of residence, call your police department. Your officers are equipped to handle any problem, and if necessary, will use their service revolvers. Unless you are in immediate danger, don't try to be a "hero" and use your firearm. Handling a gun is a serious thing.

4. Pellet Hand Guns: Under a recently enacted State Law, all such guns must be registered with your local police department. To purchase one, you must secure a permit from your police department, just as you would for any regular side-arm. A permit is necessary whether you secure a gun from a friend, or buy one from a dealer.

5. Most cities have ordinances prohibiting the shooting of BB guns within city limits. This means that you are not allowed to shoot these guns, even in your own back yard.

Brownell Students Help Underprivileged

"Christmas was meant for children"—and last week Brownell Junior High School students showed that they recognize this by successfully carrying on their annual toy project for underprivileged children. Principal Charles Saltzer and Brownell Eighth Grader Sybil Moran inspect the gifts collected for distribution.

As a result of a suggestion to the Student Association two years ago, many Brownell students donated a large number of good used toys and games—beautifully wrapped and labeled—for less fortunate youngsters at the Franklin Settlement House on Detroit's east side. For the third consecutive year the student body agreed to repeat the project. To increase the number of gifts, they also agreed to set the price of admission to the last Teen Hi as one wrapped toy. During the week of December 10 to 14, over 450 gaily wrapped packages began to pour in—spilling over the dozen tables set up in the counselor's waiting room and overflowing the window ledges and chairs.

On Saturday, December 15, Student Association officers Sue Axson, Mary Lou Jennings, and Carol Curtis, assisted by faculty members William Prosser and Al Schaefer, loaded station wagons with the attractive parcels and delivered them to the Franklin Settlement. In previous years, according to officials there, gifts from the Points children have been the only ones received by those youngsters. Needless to say, they have learned to anticipate the thoughtfulness of Brownell Junior High School students—who have learned anew the true lesson of Christmas—thinking of others.

Rash of Minor Traffic Mishaps

Grosse Pointe City suffered an epidemic of minor traffic accidents the early part of last week, with police uncertain whether to place the blame on poor conditions, careless driving, or end-of-December attacks of "holiday nerves."

The outbreak began Monday morning, December 17, when Irene E. Parthum, 1129 Nottingham, headed south on Lincoln in her '58 Chevrolet, struck a '61 Buick driven by Raymond M. Foley, 383 Lincoln, as Foley was about to make a right turn into his driveway. Both cars were damaged, the Chevrolet so severely that it had to be towed away, but no tickets were issued.

Monday afternoon, at 4 p.m., George Cureton Elder, 1198 Merrick, Detroit, came to the City police station to report that an unknown vehicle had scraped the left side of his '58 Oldsmobile, left parked on Neff just north of Waterloo between 7:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., and a few minutes later there was a telephone call reporting a minor accident at University and Mack.

Patrolman George Brackx, sent to investigate, took a report from Alice Harris MacMechan, 745 Lincoln, who backed her '61 Mercedes into a parked '55 Pontiac owned by Steve Fotenas, 2912 Springdale. Mrs. MacMechan had been attempting to ease out of a parking space in the lot behind 17646 Mack. Damage was slight and she was not ticketed.

The following day, Tuesday, December 18, Brackx and Officer Donald F. Fritz investigated another collision involving a moving vehicle and a parked car. Mollie Dorothy Hofer, 141 Muir, traveling north on Notre Dame in her '58 Rambler, ran into the rear of a '53 Chevrolet parked near the Notre Dame-Kercheval intersection.

The Chevrolet, owned by Joseph Jarosz, 13304 Rosello drive, Warren Woods, Mich., was being driven by Tom Varnas, 8358 Townsend, Detroit. Again, damage was minor, and there were no tickets.

A telephone call informed police of still another accident at 9:56 p.m. Tuesday evening. Elaine Adalia King, 17440 Maunee, had run her '58 Chrysler into the rear of a '60 Ford parked on Waterloo, 103 feet east of the Lincoln-Waterloo intersection.

W. H. Connor, 600 Lincoln, was using the Ford, owned by an Insurance Co. Both vehicles were damaged, and the Chrysler had to be towed away. Police issued no tickets. A ticket was issued, however, Wednesday evening, December

Passenger Hurt In Car Collision

One person was injured in a two-car collision at Moros and Chalfonte, on Saturday, December 22, according to a Farms police report.

John Thompson, 21, of 126 Kerby, a passenger in a car driven by James G. Ropes, 20, of 213 McKinley, was conveyed to St. John Hospital by police. Thompson suffered several fractured ribs.

Ropes, and the driver of the other vehicle, Terrence K. Carmichael, 19, of 88 Weber, were both ticketed for not having their cars under control and causing an accident.

Happy New Year and Thanks

The final issue of the year seems to be an appropriate medium for conveying our greetings and thanks to the many who have helped us in 1962 and through all the years since our first issue in 1940.

Every paper is dependent on help in many forms from individuals and groups outside of the staff, and this is particularly true of a weekly with relatively few employees. So much goes on in a place of this size that it is impossible to cover all activities.

Students are of tremendous help in covering athletic events and school activities, and teachers and administrators of the public, parochial and independent systems provide inestimable assistance.

We have enjoyed a tremendously satisfying relationship with readers and advertisers through the years, and of course we must say a special thank you to the latter, who furnish the bulk of the revenue which makes printing a paper possible.

We shall continue to make every effort to improve our product and to serve the community to the best of our ability. We shall hope for the continued cooperation we have been afforded.

Letters to the Editor

Editor: In answer to your open letter on teenagers: I have two teens, and one getting close to it. They have had their ups and downs which sometimes we wondered if we could survive.

day we met at Schettlers (E. Jefferson at Rivard). We went dancing at Eastwood with name bands. Where do these kids have to go? I feel if older people were more tolerant the kids would cooperate—after all, they want to live too.

What Goes On at Your Library

What is America reading these days? Do the books at the top of the best-seller list in any way show a trend or reflect the problems and interests of contemporary society?

A SHADE OF DIFFERENCE, by Allen Drury a sequel to ADVISE AND CONSENT explores the labyrinth of international politics, involving the United Nations and racial problems.

SILENT SPRING, by Rachel Carson, is concerned with the indiscriminate use of chemical insecticides and weed killers, questioning whether or not it is seriously affecting our environment.

In the fiction field, we certainly have a sustained interest in current problems of national and international politics, and survival and defense in our nuclear age.

This is the picture for 1962. One wonders, what books were being read ten years ago—in 1952? To generalize, we can say that we find books by well-established authors, such as Thomas Costain (THE SILVER CHALICE), Daphne du Maurier (MY COUSIN RACHEL), Edna Ferber (GIANT), Frances Parkinson Keyes (STEAMBOAT GOTHIC) and Ernest Hemingway (THE OLD MAN AND THE SEA).

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Parties and more parties star this holiday week-end, the last of 1962. Now that the gifts have been exchanged, the turkey eaten, everyone is awaiting the celebration of the new year.

There will be a spate of home soirees on Monday evening. The Gordon Fords are entertaining and so are the Hal H. Smiths III. There will be an auld lang syne gathering at the John Denlers too.

The Joseph Caskeys invited a group to drop in the day after Christmas and this Thursday the Robert Webers are holding open house after 8 o'clock to view their tree.

This Thursday, too, Ed Strang is entertaining at a cocktail-buffet. On Friday the Bill Scotts have planned a cocktail pour.

Mrs. Phelps Newberry will be hostess at a luncheon this Sunday.

Here from Geneva

Home from Geneva, Switzerland, to celebrate Christmas with his father, C. Henry Buhl and his mother, Mrs. Thomas Morrison is Henry Buhl. He will fly back to Geneva late in January.

The Morrisons left Wednesday for New York after spending Christmas here and will leave there this Thursday for their Palm Beach home.

At Ski Chalet

Last summer three Pointe families, anticipating the winter, built a ski chalet on Walloon Hill. Now they are enjoying the lodge which sleeps over 20 and is roomy enough for all three families and their ten children.

Off the day after Christmas to stay in the chalet and ski until the New Year were the Tom Zurschmeides, the John Brackens and Dr. and Mrs. Ross Hume.

Holidays in Nassau

The William H. Bundesens, of Lincoln road, are spending the holidays in Nassau. They left last week for (Continued on Page 8)

Short and to the Pointe

Just back from a week in Chicago are MR. and MRS. W. JAMES MAST, of McMillan road. Mr. Mast was attending the National Association of Home Builders' Convention while Mrs. Mast shopped and visited friends at the Alpha Phi Executive House in Evanston. Mrs. Mast is president of the Detroit-Grosse Pointe Alumnae of Alpha Phi.

MR. and MRS. THOMAS WILLIAMS, of Young lane, announce the birth of a daughter, ALLYSON LEIGH, on December 16. Mrs. Williams is the former PATTY NELSON, daughter of the RALPH NELSONS, of Van Antwerp road. The paternal grandmother is MRS. ARTHUR WILLIAMS, of Essex boulevard.

MR. and MRS. WILLIS HOMER and their four daughters are spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, DR. and MRS. CHARLES EWING, of University place.

A daughter, SARA JANE, was born December 7 in Detroit to former Pointers MR. and MRS. KNEELAND M. WELCH. Mrs. Welch is the former MARY LEIGH HUGHES, and the Welches are spending the holidays with her mother, MRS. L. L. HUGHES, of the Garden court.

Returning home the day after Christmas were MR. and MRS. HAROLD A. BEATTY, of McKinley avenue, who spent the holiday with their son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. GEORGE W. BEATTY, of Washington, D.C., and their son

Mrs. Norman J. Kost

MARY ANNE McCORMICK, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Gerard McCormick, of Rivard boulevard, and the late Mr. McCormick, was married Wednesday in St. Paul's on the lakeshore to Mr. Kost, son of the Paul Alfred Kosts, of Hillcrest road.

Two Debs Bow On Yule Eve

Anne Wood and Betsy Semple were presented to society by their parents Christmas Eve at a tea dance at the Little Club. Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon Wood, of Touraine road, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Semple, of University place, received with their daughters in a traditional holly and ivy setting.

Tall spruce trees with glowing lights greeted guests at the club entrance and there were two huge snowmen in the entrance way. The club pillars were chimneys decked with holly and more holly banked the fireplace and the wall where the debs and their parents received.

Anne's gown was of eggshell peau de soie and Betsy wore gold brocade. They carried their father's bouquets of tiny Christmas roses.

Gold brocade was the choice of both Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Semple for their gowns.

The ushers, who wore tiny snowmen in their lapels, included Anne's brother, Bob, Lance Godfredson, John Lambrecht, George Haggarty, Chris Wilkins, Peter Monroe, Sanford White, Bruce Burgbauer, Nat and Bill Semple, Bob Jr., and Lloyd Semple, John Bowers, John Butler, Neil Brown, Henry Cashin and McKelvey Walker, of Bethlehem, Pa.

Big snowmen candles lit the small tables covered with green cloths at which supper was served. Jack Qualey provided the music.

ARD A. SHAW, of Harbor hill, are vacationing this Christmas from Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass.

Crowned Christmas Queen at Defiance College, Defiance, O., was DONNA HARPER, of Lakepointe avenue.

MRS. ABRAM VANDERZEE, of South Deeplands road, gave a luncheon and bridge party the day after Christmas in her home.

Among those entertaining Friday evening before the debuts of ANGE BAYNE and LYNN GOREY will be MR. and MRS. K. JAMES GRAM, of Moran road. The Grams will also give a small cocktail party January 3 for daughter, TINA, who attends the University of Colorado, and will make her debut in June.

The CLARENCE KRAMERS, of Sheldon road, will be hosts at a cocktail-buffet in their home Sunday. Mrs. Kramer will entertain again on January 4 at luncheon and cards.

The JEREMIAH V. JENKS, of University place, will hold open house New Year's day from 2 until 8 o'clock.

CHARLES C. FOX, son of MR. ARTHUR H. WRGCK of Windmill Pointe drive, has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Babson Institute in Wellesley Hills, Mass. He was a 1959 graduate of Culver Military Academy.

CARTER WILKERSON, son of MR. and MRS. C. C. WILKERSON of Vernier road, is home from Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Mich., visiting his parents for the holidays. He is a freshman major in Education. He will return to classes on January 3.

MR. and MRS. WARREN SISMAN, JR. of Lake Forest, Ill., and their children, arrive in the Pointe tomorrow to spend the remainder of the holidays with his parents, the SENIOR SISMAN'S, of Yorkshire road.

MR. and MRS. HARVEY F. LINGEMAN, of Beaconsfield road, welcomed their daughter, JOAN, home for the Christmas holidays this week. Joan is visiting from Sacramento, Calif., where she is an instructor in American River Junior College business division.

Home for Christmas from the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., are THOMAS J. SWARTZ, son of MRS. BEATRICE M. SWARTZ, of West Wind lane; RICHARD M. ORTWEIN, son

Miss McCormick Marries Mr. Kost

Pair Exchange Vows Wednesday in St. Paul's On the Lakeshore with Reception Following at University Club; Will Live in Ann Arbor

In St. Paul's on the lakeshore Wednesday Mary Anne McCormick, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Gerard McCormick, of Rivard boulevard, and the late Mr. McCormick, was married to Norman Joseph Kost.

For the rites she wore an ivory brocade gown fashioned with a high neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a balled skirt. Ivory petals caught her bouffant veil of illusion and she carried stephanotis and ivy.

Teresa Nolan McCormick was her sister's maid of honor in a magenta peau de soie frock and a wreath of ivy. She carried white carnations and ivy.

Richard Paul Kost was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Paul A. Kosts, of Hillcrest road. Ushering were Ronald Linclau and Thomas Gordon.

For her daughter's wedding and reception at the University Club Mrs. McCormick wore a gray silk suit with matching hat. Mrs. Kost was in navy blue silk.

of the MARVIN H. ORTWEINS, of Moran road, and JACK W. STEPHENSON, JR., son of the SENIOR STEPHENSONS, of Fisher road.

Among those accepted on the early decision plan by Manhattanville College, Purchase, N.Y., is ROSEMARY PEELER, daughter of the EARL A. PEELERS, of Cadieux road.

One of eight freshman candidates for "Greek Goddess" at Albion College is JEAN DOUGHERTY, 18, who has light brown hair and blue eyes and is a Zeta Tau Alpha sorority pledge. A 1962 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, she is the daughter of MR. and MRS. FRANKLIN DOUGHERTY, of Country Club drive.

DOROTHY KOTCHER, daughter of MR. and MRS. CHARLES KOTCHER of Stephens road, was recently elected secretary of the newly formed University of Detroit Coad Bowling Team. A junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, Miss Kotcher is majoring in English. She is a member of the Student Council and Theta Phi Alpha, national social sorority. She is a 1960 graduate of the Academy of the Sacred Heart.

The 1963 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" has listed three Grosse Pointe University of Detroit students. They are: DAVID DEGIUSTINO, BRIAN MOLLOY, and MICHAEL WHITTY.

DeGiustino, son of DR. and MRS. CAESAR DEGIUSTINO of Berkshire road, is a junior majoring in history. He served as general chairman of the 1962 Model UN held at the U. of D.

Molloy, son of MR. and MRS. BRIAN J. MOLLOY of Berkshire road, is a senior majoring in accounting. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, national social fraternity.

Whitty, son of MR. and MRS. ROBERT WHITTY of Whittier road, is a junior majoring in history. He is historian of Tau Kappa Epsilon, national social fraternity, and a member of the Young Democrats Club.

"Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" is the annual publication listing students who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, cooperation and leadership in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship, and promise of further usefulness. Thirty-eight U. of D. students are listed in the new edition.

NANCY FORSYTHE, daughter of MR. and MRS. GEORGE O. FORSYTHE of Hampton road, was initiated into the Western Michigan University Chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary society for sophomore women. She is a 1961 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. All members of the society must have 3.5 grade average or better for their freshman year. She is a sophomore in the secretarial curriculum.

Wedding Trip to Canada Follows Saturday Rites in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church; Couple Will Make Their Home in Mt. Pleasant

Seniors at Central Michigan University Nancy Alice Mizer and Keith Ross Speiran were married Saturday in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church and will finish their year at the college in Mt. Pleasant when they return from a trip to Canada.

The bride is the daughter of the Donald Mizers, of Country Club drive, and her husband is the son of the Ross Speirans, of Bridgeport, Mich.

Jean Mizer was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. Thomas Thompson, the bridegroom's

Patty Petzold Bows at Ball

The Country Club was transformed into a "gay 90's" setting for the ball at which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Petzold of Edgemont Park presented their daughter, Patty, last Friday evening.

A backdrop of a New York street at the turn of the century greeted guests in the club foyer and the long corridor of the club was decorated as an old fashioned garden. White wrought iron furniture, evergreens and pink rose bushes set the scene.

The grill room became a saloon with a shirt sleeved piano player, red and white checked tables and beer steins. The bar was filled with Victorian gilt, gold draperies and pink roses.

In the turquoise draped ballroom Mr. and Mrs. Petzold received with their daughter who wore a Henri Bendel gown of white delicately embroidered with pink. She carried pink camellias. Mrs. Petzold's gown was lemon yellow peau de soie.

The ushers wore red vests and derby hats. They included Patty's escort, Peter Keber, of Glen Rock, N. J., and head usher, William Petzold, the deb's brother.

Others were B. A. Seymour, Jr., John M. Murphy, Jr., Michael Lynch, Thomas Whyte, Roy D. Chapin III, Charles T. Cudlip, Danforth French, Emory Ford, Jr., George Robinson and Eugene Gargara, Jr.

Shell Expert To Talk Here

The author of the book "The Romance of Shells In Nature and Art," Louise Allderice Travers, is making a special trip from New York to Grosse Pointe to give two days of instruction at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in the rare art of Shell De Coupage which she originated. The classes will be held Monday and Tuesday, January 7 and 8, from 10 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon.

Sandwiches and coffee will be available at the Center. Only 15 may study with the author. The fee is $20 for the two full days instruction and paid reservations are requested now at the Center.

Shell de coupage involves making graceful flower arrangements with shells which are then handsomely framed under glass. Shell collections were started as early as the time of Aristotle and decorative shell motifs have recurred in architecture for centuries. To quote Louise Travers, "In Europe among the most extraordinary feats of baroque and rococo decor are shell rooms and grottoes encrusted with designs made of real shells."

Mrs. Travers began making shell pictures for her own pleasure and as gifts for her friends. Then she became besieged by would-be buyers and others who wished to learn the process themselves. So now she brings to students wonderful collections of shells of all sizes, material for the leaves, and a shadow box for the completed arrangement and instructs her students in the delicate assembling.

Mrs. Travers is well known to many Grosse Pointers with whom she went to school at Dobbs Ferry. Everyone remembers her for her artistry.

CORNET MISSING

Charles Kreidler, 11, of 2029 Hollywood, Mason School safety patrolboy, informed Woods police on Wednesday, December 19, that he left his cornet horn in a black and gray case, on the corner of Hawthorne and Mack, and forgot about it. When he was dismissed from school for the day, he remembered the horn, but it was gone.

Club to Stage Ski Weekend

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Grosse Pointe Ski Club is swinging into action with a ski weekend to Canada over New Year's. A chartered bus will leave the War Memorial at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Hot box suppers will be served and then the group will head for Collingwood, Canada, for four days skiing, while staying at the Mountain View Hotel in Collingwood. Bus service will be provided to and from the slopes and all tow charges paid.

The Grosse Pointe Ski Club membership and all Grosse Pointe skiers interested in joining and getting in on their many activities are invited to a meeting program and coffee at the Center, 32 Lake Shore Road, the evening of Monday, January 7, at 8 o'clock.

At this meeting, plans for forthcoming midweek evening trips and the February European Ski Trip will be discussed and films of skiing to be enjoyed by the group in Europe will be shown.

The first is an all day trip to the new ski area, Pine Knob. This will take place on Saturday, January 12, beginning with breakfast at the Center at 9 a.m. A chartered bus will take skiers to Pine Knob, returning at seven in the evening. The charge is $3 for breakfast and round trip bus transportation for members, $4 for guests.

The weekend of January 18-20 the Club will go to Caberfe staying at Lost Pines Lodge. Round trip Greyhound Transportation, shuttle service to and from the slopes, lodging, five meals and a dance are included at $35 per person for Club members, $38 for guests. (Club Membership is only $3).

January 30 the Club will have a midweek evening trip to Alpine with hot box supper and round trip bus transportation furnished for $3 or $4 for guests. Reservations are being taken for these ski activities at the Center now: TU 1-7511.

Guest from Dusseldorf

Enjoying an American Christmas is Inge Fritsch, of Dusseldorf, Germany, who has been staying with the Owen Bakers, of Rivard boulevard, for the past three months.

The German fraulein came to the United States last summer, has been sightseeing from coast to coast before she came to stay with the Bakers.

Reunions This Week

There is a real family reunion at the John H. Conway home in Pine court this week.

Here for Christmas are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Vanderzee II, of Warwick, R. I., and Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Cushman, of Farmington, Conn.

Mrs. Frank Guenther, of Sheboygan, Wis., is staying with her son and daughter-in-law, the Valentine Guenthers, of Kerby road, and joining them are the Frank Miller Guenthers, of Dallas, Tex.

Here from Florida is Mrs. Henry Steinbach with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Charles Dickson, Jr., of Ridge road.

Christmas Stop in Beirut

The Ernest Kanzlers marked Christmas Day in Beirut, en route around the world. They began their trip in Hawaii, have already toured India and after a stop in their villa on the French Riviera will be home in about a month. Then they will go to their Hobe Sound, Fla., home.

They missed the annual gathering of the family for Christmas night dinner, usually given by Mrs. Edsel Ford in her Lakeshore road home.

Wagon Load of Carolers

Beginning a tradition are the neighbors of Crescent lane. On Labor Day they had an exciting block party and Sunday evening they decided to repeat the gathering.

At twilight they grouped together for a caroling round of the street. No tramping through the snow, the carolers were driven on their round in an old fashioned wagon, pulled by two horses. For accompaniment they had a guitar and an accordion.

Twelfth Night Ball Planned

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Center Club is planning a Twelfth Night Ball for all Grosse Pointe's young single set in their 20s and 30s. The gala will be their first dance in the Crystal Ballroom of the new William Fries Auditorium. It will held from 9 to 12 o'clock on Friday evening, January 4. A brand new combo will be featured and refreshments will be served as usual.

On hand to entertain at the piano will be Susan Armstrong who will play for the guests' pleasure at intermission. Guests are also invited to tour the building at their leisure.

It is not necessary to receive a notice in the mail for young people to come to the dance. Any single young people who would like to come are welcome. With constantly changing addresses sometimes people fail to receive a notice. The new ballroom is adjacent to the War Memorial overlooking Lake St. Clair.

The function will be dressy but not formal. Couples are welcome but dates are not necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuhn, of McKinley place, announce the engagement of their daughter, AIRIELLE CAROLINE, to Alexander Charles Sucek, of Rivard boulevard, son of Mrs. Robert Sucek, of Fisher road, and the late Mr. Sucek.

Miss Kuhn was graduated from Grosse Pointe Country Day School and Wellesley College and received a master's degree in German from the University of Michigan. She made her debut at a tea dance at the Country Club of Detroit in June, 1953.

Mr. Sucek is an alumnus of Detroit University School and Harvard University. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Pro Music, Founder and coordinator of the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival, he is secretary-treasurer of Festivals, Inc., of Michigan. No wedding date has been set.

Bride-Elect

At a family dinner on Christmas Day Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Price, of Westchester road, announced the engagement of their daughter, PATRICIA ANN, to James K. Robinson II, son of Dr. and Mrs. James K. Robinson of Milwaukee, Wis.

The bride-elect is an alumna of Denison University and next month receives a degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education from the University of Michigan. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Mr. Robinson is an alumnus of Kenyon College, where he was affiliated with Delta Tau Delta. He is at present in his second year of medicine in Kirksville, Mo.

Happy Endicott Is Presented

Candy land of pink bon bons was the setting of Elizabeth "Happy" Endicott's debut ball Saturday night at Country Club. She was introduced by her parents, the George M. Endicott's, of Merriweather road.

Two pink and white striped candy canes, 14 feet tall, held a "Happy Christmas" banner and candy colors of pink, lime, apple green, lilac and turquoise were used throughout the club.

Tall French street lights, in pink, flanked the entrance of the French room where the deb and her parents received by a bank of smilax and pink carnations.

Happy wore a white silk gros de Londres gown designed by Detroit's Ruth Joyce. The gown had motifs of snow beads on the bodice and drifting down the skirt. The deb carried small lime green orchids.

Mrs. Endicott's gown and matching coat were of gold silver and paisley brocade.

The huge ceiling of the ballroom was swathed in dull pink satin and tall cut-out impressionistic Christmas trees lined the room where Lester Lanin's orchestra played. The chandeliers were covered with pink ribbons and crystal ornaments and pink louvered windows and trees with pink Italian lights were other decorative notes.

The ushers included Charles M. Endicott, the deb's brother; her escort, Harry Vance Ryerson, William C. Rands III, Michael T. Krag, Robert Wood, Stephen Parks, John Lambrecht, William Wilson and John Evans.

Preceding the Endicott debut was the dinner at the Hunt Club at which Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Janis, of Handy road, introduced their daughter, Brooke.

Brooke wore a deep pink silk floral patterned gown with a high neckline and a pink, gold and crystal belt. She carried a white velvet muff covered with stephanotis and white baby orchids.

Mrs. Janis was in a short sleeveless brocade sheath. The guests were seated at dinner tables for 10 which were centered with hurricane lamps on a base of holly and flanked by red and green candles.

The YATES SMITHS, of Edgemont park, will have a small New Year's Eve party.

Organize Rose Society Here

Anyone living in Grosse Pointe who is interested in learning more about the care and upkeep of their rose garden is invited to attend the first organizational meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society.

This will be held on January 9, at 8 p.m. in Room B-58, Community Service Center, (Old Country Day School), 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The purpose of this group is to help and encourage both the novice and experienced grower by providing excellent speakers on all phases of rose culture. This will include soil preparation, planting, pruning, disease control, etc.

Membership is limited to residents of the five Grosse Pointe municipalities and is open to both men and women.

For further information please call Elmore W. Frank, 863 Fisher road, 885-3564.

DIANA GROSS, daughter of the WALTER GROSSES, of Lakeland avenue, had received notification of her early acceptance at Endicott Junior College, Beverly, Mass.

MRS. JOSEPH B. SCHLOTMAN, of Lakeshore road, spent Christmas with her son-in-law and daughter, the JAMES H. CARMELS, of Bloomfield Hills.

Dear Friend

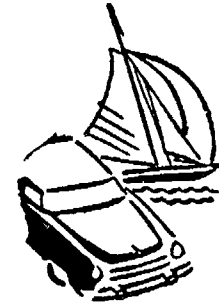

And now it is time to travel, to seek sunshine and fun. You're probably south bound, and we are "collection" ready "as never before."

Revisit clothes, more beautiful than ever, start with white and pastel knits, Italian imports and famous Daltons. Charming dresses in silks and cottons include our new Mc Mullens. Wonderful slacks, shorts and tops await you sports participants, wonderful go everywhere dresses, costumes and their accessories for southern days or nights.

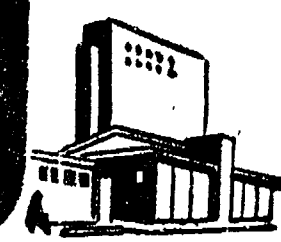

You're invited to see these clothes, ready now.

Sincerely
Margaret Rice

P.S. Thank you for our most successful Christmas season ever!

up a nuclear-armed bomber force inside the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Preparations for this NATO nuclear air arm will begin immediately, and present plans call for a force of Polaris submarines, under NATO control, by 1970.

Kennedy and Macmillan immediately invited French President Charles de Gaulle to become a third partner in this historic agreement, designed to achieve Allied unity in the nuclear weapons field. Kennedy sent de Gaulle a letter, offering to provide France with Polaris missiles under the same conditions as the U.S.-British Nassau agreement, but American officials have had, as yet, no firm indication as to how the French president is reacting to the offer.

The United States will supply the missiles to Britain at cost. Britain, in turn, will pay for the weapons, fit them with nuclear warheads, and build her own submarines to carry them. Cost of the program, including development of a British nuclear-powered submarine, is expected to be staggering, and Macmillan faces a battle at home over the increased taxes necessary to implement the Nassau agreement.

U.S. officials underlined the fact that the United States does not plan to place its major nuclear weapons, including intercontinental, intermediate, medium-range and other missiles as well as a fast-growing fleet of Polaris-armed submarines, under NATO control, but will allocate some of its strategic nuclear bombers and some of the "tactical nuclear forces" now in Europe to the Atlantic Alliance. Britain will do the same.

Sunday, December 23 DESPITE AN ELEVENTH HOUR successful testing of the controversial Skybolt missile, Defense Department sources predicted yesterday that President Kennedy will insist on a discontinuance of the $2.5 billion Skybolt project. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed in Nassau to discard the Skybolt, and the President's Press Secretary, Pierre Salinger, speaking in Palm Beach, Fla., where the First Family is vacationing, stated categorically: "There is no question that the Nassau agreement providing Polaris (missiles) has given the best possible defense for the West, not only for the 1960s, but for the 1970s."

Mike Mansfield of Montana, State Democratic Leader, warmly seconded the President's decision to abandon Skybolt. "One swallow does not make a summer," Mansfield said, referring to Saturday's successful Skybolt test at Cape Canaveral, Fla. "I am supporting the decision of the President, who has access to the facts." The five-ton Skybolt, described only 10 months ago as the "missile of the future," soared 900 miles across the Atlantic yesterday. It was launched on schedule, from a high-flying U.S. jet bomber. But the rocket's success had apparently come too late, for Kennedy and Macmillan, discouraged by five straight Skybolt failures, had agreed already to scrap the complicated missile in favor of the proven submarine-launched Polaris.

Defense Department officials hastened to point out that the five unsuccessful tests were but one factor in the United States' decision to drop Skybolt. Other reasons include the fact that bombers assigned to carry the missiles are becoming increasingly vulnerable to anti-aircraft weapons, whereas nuclear-powered submarines are still able to patrol the seas in comparative safety.

Monday, December 24 CUBAN PRISONERS - OF-WAR, survivors of the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion, began pouring into the United States yesterday. The first freedom flight, a DC-6 supplied by Pan American World Airways, put down at 6:06 p.m. (Detroit time) in Miami; the second landed 54 minutes later; the third arrived at 7:28 p.m., and the fourth at 8:55 p.m. One hundred and eight men were aboard the first plane, 106 and 104 aboard the second and third flights, respectively, and an additional 106 former captives disembarked from the fourth aircraft. "Ransom Shuttle" flights continued throughout the night, bringing hundreds of men waiting at San Antonio de los Baños military airport, 25 miles southwest of

Crash Drivers Given Tickets

Tickets for reckless driving and causing an accident were issued to Dale James Miller, 17, 404 Cloverly, and Carlin A. Guerrero, 759 Washington, on Saturday evening, December 22.

Miller and Guerrero were drivers of vehicles involved in a two-car collision in front of 870 Washington. Miller's car, headed south on Washington, struck Guerrero's car, headed north. Both vehicles sustained damages in their left front ends, and had to be towed away.

There were no injuries.

Havana, to Miami and freedom. The POWs had been ransomed, in a deal negotiated by James B. Donovan, New York lawyer acting on behalf of the Cuban Families Committee, and Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, for $53 million worth of food and drugs, and the airlift will continue until 11,113 Bay of Pigs captives reach the States. Friends and relatives, themselves exiles, waited in Dinner Key Auditorium for a first glimpse of the liberated men. Approximately 20,000 of Miami's 150,000 Cuban refugees are closely related to Bay of Pigs survivors.

The first plane of POWs was delayed nine hours, as the Cubans insisted on checking the $11 million food and drug cargo of the ocean freighter African Pilot before permitting "Ransom Shuttle" to go into operation. African Pilot, with its down payment on the ransom, arrive din Havana harbor at 2:05 p.m., and three hours later the first freedom flight took off.

Tuesday, December 25 MANUEL ARTIME, leader of the 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners, has vowed to return to Cuba. "We are not here to receive honors, not to cry over failure," Artime told a mass Christmas Day rally of freed POWs and their families in Miami. "We have come to call you with the voices of the number of our dead to war again in the name of the mothers who gave their sons. Today we want no tears. We call everybody to war!"

at 8:00 P.M., for the purpose of hearing any taxpayers, residents or citizens of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms on the following proposed Amendment to the Dutch Elm Disease Ordinance:

An ordinance to amend Section 1 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the control and eradication of Dutch Elm Disease: to provide for the spraying of elm trees and the destruction of elm trees infected with Dutch Elm Disease and to declare such infected Elms a public nuisance, and to provide penalties for the violation of this ordinance," being Ordinance No. 125.

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms ordains: Section 1. Section 1 of Ordinance No. 125, entitled "An Ordinance to Provide for the Control and Eradication of Dutch Elm Disease: to Provide for the Spraying of Elm Trees and the Destruction of Elm Trees Infected with Dutch Elm Disease and to Declare such Infected Elms a Public Nuisance, and to Provide Penalties for the Violation of this Ordinance" is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 1. Every person, firm or corporation which owns or has under its control any elm tree located within the city limits is required to have such properly sprayed each year with an insecticide spray. The type of spray to be used shall be one approved by the City Manager and a list of such will be available in his office. The required number of sprays during each year and the time periods in which such are to be completed shall be determined by the City Council and all tax payers shall be notified by first class mail during the month of February concerning the council's determination. The city may arrange with a private contractor to offer a spray service for privately owned elm trees and shall so advise in such notice. If the owner or person in control desires to make use of such service, he shall so advise the city by the date set forth in the notice and shall accept such service at his sole cost, expense and responsibility. In the alternative, such owner or person in control may use his own contractor to do such spraying, and it shall be his responsibility to see that such work is completed within the required time period. In the latter instance the owner or person in control is required to file with the City Manager, within 20 days after such spraying, a statement from his contractor describing the number and location of the elm trees which were sprayed for such owner or person in control and failure to so file such statement shall constitute a violation of this ordinance.

This ordinance is declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety and is given immediate effect.

This notice is given pursuant to direction of the City Council, in accordance with said ordinances and the statutes in such case made and provided.

DAWSON F. NACY, City Clerk

Fancy dress balls excited Detroiters in the 1850's and the old National Hotel, off the Campus Martius, was the setting for most of these gay evenings. The hotel was run by Thomas Chase, retired British Army Officer and hardware merchant, grandfather of the Casgrains.

The elite Brady Guards held their balls at the National, which in later years became the Russell Hotel. Firemen's balls were another festivity much anticipated by the local belles and beaux.

Gentlemen in those days enjoyed dressing in costume and at one memorable cotillion Theodore H. Hinchman appeared as Hamlet; T. D. Wilkins and A. J. Fraser, as Italian brigands; Henry P. Sanger as the Duke of Richmond; William Biddle as Mercutio from "Romeo and Juliet"; John Rumney as a Spanish courtier; Capt. S. Williams, as a French regimental officer; Samuel Lewis as a Korean, "who looked very odd", and Mrs. Alex J. Fraser as a Grecian maiden in a white silk short shift with a blue tunic and a white plume in her hair.

Mr. Chase, the proprietor of the National, had a daughter, Charlotte, who married Dr. Charles Casgrain, founder of the Detroit branch of this family. The first Casgrain came to Canada in 1756 and various members allied with the Babys and the Desnoyers as well as other old French families. Dr. Casgrain practised in Detroit for some years then moved to Canada and it was there, at Sandwich, where his son, Charles William Casgrain, was born in 1859.

Young Charles was educated at Assumption College and then studied law. He eventually crossed the river and entered the law office of Don Dickinson before opening his own firm. He was later appointed clerk of recorder's court by Judge Wilkins. Active in politics he served as a delegate to the Democratic Convention in Chicago in 1892 which nominated Grover Cleveland.

Charles William Casgrain married Annie Hammond and the couple had four children, Charlotte, Adelaide, Hammond and Wilfred. Today there are two Casgrain families in Grosse Pointe, the Wilfred Casgrains (she was Josephine Palms), of Stephens road, and the Charles W. Casgrains II, (Elizabeth Merrill Canfield), of Merriweather road.

It's been a bad Christmas for reindeer. The latest casualty was the deer atop the Colonial Federal Savings and Loan Building on Mack avenue. During a week-end blow the deer toppled to the street, was rescued by policemen and is now back on his perch, more securely anchored.

Halloween has come to the ski slopes. Knitted face masks, with holes for eyes, nose and mouth have been designed in weird shapes, some resembling space spooks, to protect the sportsmen from the icy blasts. The fad has now been adopted by the very young. Douglas DuPerow and his GPUS pals have masks which make them look like Martians. Tremendous idea for safety patrol boys on these icy winter mornings.

A holiday tradition of many years standing took place at Christ Church Christmas Eve... the residents of Meadow lane met for a roast beef dinner, an entirely co-operative affair with punch and movies for the youngsters, climaxed by caroling and the clean-up... everyone was home by 7:30 for family festivities... the Meadow lane dinner was the idea of Mrs. Morgan Sherman, one of the street's early residents who now lives, in Neff road and Florida.

The long ball gown is here to stay... and very elegant the dancers looked at the week-end debuts... At Patti Petzold's ball Jamie Ecclestone, wore a stunning blue green crepe with an eye catching black drape... Dennie Tracy and Judy Fisher, two of the prettiest blond young things, Dennie in Christmas red, Judy in turquoise... Mrs. Miles O'Brien, Jr., chose shocking pink, belled to the floor... At Happy Endicott's lavish bon bon ball Mrs. Robert Weber drifted about in a holiday clear green satin... Mrs. John Benfield's sand colored ball gown was girdled with multi-colored beads which matched her brief jacket... Mrs. Rankin Weisgerber's champagne gown was accented with colored embroidered threads.

Sir Ralph Richardson, who is starring in "School for Scandal" at the Fisher spent Boxing Day (the British always celebrate the day after Christmas) playing tennis with Tobey Hansen at the Tennis House and after the evening performance gave a party for his cast at Topinka's.

PILFERINGS

"My New Year's Eve couldn't have been duller if I were Adam"... Walter Winchell.

Woebegone husband, loser in battle with his wife: "We got two cars, two television sets, two bathrooms! How come we can't have two opinions around here?"

Matronly woman on skis at top of steep hill: "It seems like an awful lot to go through, just for hot buttered rum."

Catholic Club To Hold Dance

Four Pointers will act as hosts at a holiday dance to be held in the Starlite Room 10235 Woodward avenue, Detroit, on Friday, December 28, sponsored by the Catholic University Club of Detroit.

Hosting the affair will be Rosemary Lemke, Nora Marek, Georgette Zahar and Joseph Zahar.

Stan Kielnarz, publicity chairman, disclosed that all single college graduates are invited to attend the dance.

The Catholic University Club plans to continue the club's religious, social, cultural and community activities; to expand membership and to carry on support of the national Catholic alumni movement.

The organization was founded in 1957 and is a member of the National Association of Catholic Alumni Groups which has affiliates with similar programs in 16 metropolitan areas from New York to Honolulu.

THOMAS V. TROMBLY, of Notre Dame Avenue

By Patricia Talbot

Christmas Eve Thomas V. Trombly bundled the last of a collection of letters and photographs together, cleared up his desk and walked out of the Grosse Pointe Police Station where he has served for 38 years, 26 of those as chief.

Chief Trombly will miss his work, particularly the residents of the city. "It's a good town with good people," he declares. He will miss his officers. Some of them he has known all his life, like Jim Cronin who played in the station yard when it was across the street in the old city offices on Maumee and St. Clair.

In his 38 years Chief Trombly never shot a man or was shot himself, but he has a reputation as a crack marksman, for many years was high pistol shot in the Grosse Pointe team which meets at the Neighborhood Club.

Model T and a Bike

The City of Grosse Pointe has changed a great deal in his years on the force. The first police car was a model T Ford, and in the winter so cold that the officers often parked the car and walked their beats to keep warm. This was in the days before police radio. Occasionally in the summer months he toured his beat on a bicycle.

Tom Trombly was born on his grandfather's farm on the site of the present city airport, land which had been in his family since the 18th century. His father then moved to Mack and Beaconsfield, where he ran a small truck farm. Tom attended St. Paul's School and Eastern High School, but he finally won his high school diploma after six hard years at night school.

He was one of the few young men who wanted to be a policeman when he was a boy and never lost that ambition. He attended criminal law school downtown and when he first went with the City force worked seven days a week. The force had 23 members then to serve a population of 3,000, now has 17 for almost 9,000 residents. "But methods are more efficient today and better work is done," says Chief Trombly.

Only once did he consider leaving the City police department during his 38 years. He signed up to work on the Dodge yacht, which was planning a cruise of the Mediterranean, but the trip was cancelled so Tom Trombly stayed home and eventually became chief.

"It was a bad law" he says about prohibition. He recalls the rum runners who nightly

Tina Macpherson First Yule Deb

The first debutante of the brief holiday season was Justice (Tina) Macpherson, who was presented last Friday at a reception in her Woodland place home by her parents, the James Grant Macphersons II.

Tall candelabra with white tapers flanked the entrance of the house which was decked with garlands of greenery accented with pink Italian lights. The deb and her parents received in a bower of pink and red carnations in the living room.

Tina wore a white sleeveless silk cocktail frock and carried sweetheart roses and gardenias. Her mother chose a blue silk sheath accented with cut velvet roses.

Pointer of Interest

The case was a long, involved one, many arrests were made, even some on school property, but the numbers were finally abolished from the Pointe.

Chief Trombly believes that teenagers today are far better behaved than a generation ago, praises the school officials for their cooperation with the police.

Last week Tom Trombly drove to Lansing to a final meeting of a police radio organization where members toasted him farewell. The day after Christmas he drove with his wife to Marquette where they will visit their son and daughter-in-law, the John Tromblys, who are expecting a new baby. John has followed in his father's footsteps, is a member of the State Police. The Tromblys, who have been married 32 years, have three other children, a married daughter, Patricia, who lives in Grand Rapids; Tom, at college at Detroit Institute of Technology, and Barry, a star athlete at St. Paul's.

Chief Trombly may be retired from the force but not from work. He hopes to find another job, but will save some time for hunting, his favorite sport. Every morning he will miss that walk from his home nearby to the station and to his chief's desk. But Tom Trombly will neither forget, nor be forgotten by the officers he worked with, nor the citizens he served.

ONIONS BRAZILIAN

Contributed by Mrs. Robert Lewis

- 1 cup fresh bread crumbs
- 8 large flat onions
- turkey liver
- 2 Tb. melted butter
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 egg beaten
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 Tb. butter

Parboil onions until tender, about 20-25 minutes. Force out centers and chop. Make forcemeat of turkey liver, which has been cooked 30 minutes in roaster with turkey. Combine with melted butter, bread crumbs, salt and pepper, and centers of onions. Stuff shells. Brush tops and bottoms of onions with beaten egg to glaze them so stuffing will not fall out. Put in buttered baking dish, sprinkle with brown sugar, dot well with butter and bake in moderate, 375 degree oven for 20 minutes, or until butter and sugar caramelize to golden brown. These onions are easy to serve and grand for buffet service. Serves eight.

Callahans, Maschmeyers Give Daughters Dance

The John A. Callahans, of Kenwood road, and the Troy Maschmeyers, of Renaud road, gave a dance for their daughters, Debbie Callahan and Kathy Maschmeyer.

The party was Sunday evening and the place the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. That same day the Callahans gave a brunch for 35 in their home.
