HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 18

THE THREE POWERS meeting in Moscow for nuclear test ban talks announced Wednesday night they were making progress in drafting a partial test ban. A joint communique followed a three-hour 15-minute conference between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, United States negotiator W. Averill Harriman and Britain's Lord Hailsham. The communique revealed that the ban being discussed did not include underground testing, which is the most difficult to police.

WILLIAM L. CARY, chairman of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission, Wednesday sent a bristling report to Congress about the status of Stock Market organization in the country. The report recommended the doing away with personal floor trading, placing of more restrictions on stock specialists and odd-lot traders, and giving of more power to the SEC to regulate the vast over-the-counter stock dealings in the United States. Prices on the New York Stock Exchange slumped badly as soon as the news of the report reached New York. The report was bound in five volumes, weighed 14 pounds, and covered 2,100 pages.

GOVERNOR NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER said Wednesday he is sorry Arizona's Senator Barry Goldwater had refused to meet him in a television debate. Goldwater had rejected earlier in the day an offer from CBS that Rocky and Barry hold a nationally televised debate over the 1964 Presidential campaign. Goldwater said the debate might lead to disunity in GOP ranks. Rockefeller taking the stand that it would help the party rather than hurt it.

TICKERS RAN LATE and prices dropped Thursday on the New York Stock Exchange in response to President Kennedy's surprise message to Congress asking that special taxes be levied on Americans buying foreign stocks and bonds. The aim of the plan was to help stem the flow of U. S. dollars abroad. At 5:30 p.m. the Treasury Department amended the legislation so that it would not include purchases made between now and August 16. The tax would have been retroactive to today. The concession was made, a Treasury spokesman said, "to give the market a chance to adjust to the new tax proposal and to avoid confusion."

AMERICAN FACTORY WORKERS for the first time in history earned over $100 per week, Labor Secretary W. Willard Wertz disclosed Thursday. The June figures also revealed that a record 70 million Americans were at work. Wertz said the figures were indicative of "the continual improvement in the over-all economy," but warned that the unemployment rate has remained above 5 percent since November, 1957, and that the unemployed among youth number 16 percent.

SOURCES IN MOSCOW have revealed that the Big Three nuclear powers meeting in that city see eye-to-eye on the need for making the "nuclear club" an exclusive group. The parties are said to favor an end to nuclear tests by all parties, the curtailment of nuclear weapons aid to France and Red China, and the preservation of the right to test if outside powers jeopardize the national security of the signing nations. The negotiators met for 90 minutes Thursday, and "continued their exchange of views," a communique said.

Saturday, July 20

SOVIET PREMIER Nikita Khrushchev again Friday took the lead of the Soviet delegation at the three-power nuclear test ban talks in progress in Moscow. He again proposed that any nuclear test ban treaty be backed up by a non-aggression pact, and asked for a system of airfield and railway inspections to prevent a surprise attack by either side. He also suggested

"Do Not Enter" says the unfamiliar sign in front of the Neighborhood Club. Residents are still trying to get accustomed to the idea that the doors which welcomed so many over so many years, are closed because the building has been classified unsafe. The club continues to carry on its extensive program of activities with the cooperation of the Pointe Public School System, the War Memorial Association and other organizations.

Last Concert Of Festival This Friday

Two Spectacular Sonatas, French Songs on Program for Last of Popular Music Series

Two spectacular sonatas and a group of frivolous French songs will bring to a close the Grosse Pointe Music Festival this Friday, July 26. The concert will be performed by violinist Gordon Staples, pianist William Dopman, and troubadour Alex Sucek.

This program, like the preceding concerts of this summer's Festival, will be given in the glass-walled ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium at 32 Lakeshore road. The sparkling ballroom, with its outstanding acoustics and view of the lake, has been enthusiastically acclaimed by the audiences and musicians as an ideal setting for the music festival.

Messrs. Staples and Dopman will open the concert with the Debussy Sonata for violin and piano, and they will close the program with the stunning Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven. Both works provide ample opportunity for the two artists to display the virtuosity for which they are justly famous.

A light note will be added by Alex Sucek who is noted for his stylized performance of songs in many languages to his

Shores to Ask Taxpayers For Approval of $225,000 Bond Issue September 10

Council Okays Calling Special Election to Raise Money to Build Swimming Pool and Other Facilities in Municipal Park

Resident-property owners in the Shores will be given an opportunity to vote for a $225,000 bond issue at a special election to be called on Tuesday, September 10, according to information released by Shores officials.

The bond issue and election date was unanimously approved by the Shores council at a regular meeting held on Tuesday, July 16.

The issue will be General Obligation Bonds for the construction and equipping of a swimming pool, wading pool and bathhouse, additional hard surface parking facilities and other necessities for the pool-bathhouse entity in the George Osius Lakefront Park. Officials said that if the bond issue is approved by the people, it will be possible to start some construction on the pool and other facilities this fall.

At a recent meeting, President Jack Williams appointed Trustees Alfred T. Wilson and Benson Ford, chairman and member, respectively, to the Park and Recreation Committee. The duo immediately set up a Special Park Committee to investigate providing the Village with a swimming pool and wading pool.

Wilson and Ford asked Trustee Arnold Fuchs, and Mr. W. Gordon Spoor to serve on the special committee. Thomas Jefferson, village superintendent and treasurer, and Bob Kurvink, park supervisor, were invited to serve as ex-officio members.

The committee then began a study of different swimming pools. Visits were made to the pools at the municipal parks of Park, City and Huntington Woods.

They also visited pools at the Lochmoor Club, the Detroit Boat Club, and the Detroit Yacht Club, and studied details of new pools under construction at Grand Rapids and Farmington, from working drawings provided by pool contractors, or by engineers, or architects, for the pool constructions.

Not the least study made, involved an audit of the lake swimming facilities and the beach along the shoreline. The present low levels of water is of great concern, as is the outlook for better lake levels in the next few years.

Water Purity Tested

Water purity tests were studied by the members of the committee, as was the ever-increasing amount of debris to be found along the shore of Lake St. Clair.

The Shores council went over the studies made by the committee and approved the recommendation that taxpayer-residents be asked to okay the bond issue.

The council voted to retain the firm of Jahr-Anderson Associates, architects and engineers, of Dearborn, for the preparation and specifications for the pools and their location, and the development of the park site for these pools.

Chorus Set For Concert This Evening

Sacred and Secular Music To Be Heard in Fries Auditorium; Two Soloists On Program

The Grosse Pointe Summer Chorus will present a concert of sacred and secular music tonight, July 25, at 8:30 in the Fries Auditorium. The Chorus, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, is in its second season.

Featured soloists will include two of Grosse Pointe's outstanding church musicians, Richard Johns, soloist at the Woods Presbyterian Church will be heard in a French folk song, "There Was a Shepherd Maiden." Solo parts for "Dancing on the Ceiling" will be sung by Robert Choate, soloist at the Congregational Church.

The arrangement of "Dancing on the Ceiling" was prepared especially for the Summer Chorus by Bill Gard, whose style is well known and enjoyed by followers of the Grunyons. Bill, one of the Grunyon founding members, is musical director of that group.

The concert will also include sacred music by Handel, Gibbons, Randall Thompson and Martin Shaw. A cycle of love songs by Robert Schumann, a Revolutionary War marching song by William Billings and Broadway show tunes by Frank Loesser, Richard Rodgers and Meredith Wilson will round out the program. An intermission "sing-along" will involve the audience directly in the fun of the evening.

Donald Simmons, vocal music teacher at Parcels Junior High School and conductor of the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus and Chamber Singers, is conductor of the Chorus. Jerry Hughes is serving the group for the second year as accompanist. Tickets are available from any member of the Chorus or at the War Memorial Office. They will also be available at the box office. Prices are $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students.

Further information may be had by calling TU 4-5964.

School Board Calls Meeting

A special meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education will be held at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, July 29, in the board room at 389 St. Clair. Major item on the agenda is the official election to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Trustee C. Henry Haberkorn and the swearing-in of his replacement, Russell Peebles.

Organism Blamed For Odors, Tastes In Drinking Water

Microscopic Actinomyces Feeds on Plants Exposed Due to Unusually Low Water Levels; Chlorine Doesn't Furnish Cure

We have only Actinomyces to blame for our water troubles, according to Douglas Feben, chief chemist at the Farms Water Works.

Recent odors and tastes in the water taken from Lake St. Clair are due to a microscopic organism belonging to a group with this high sounding name, he said.

The odor is due to a complex organic compound formed by the organism, and is variously described as "earthy," "moldy," "musty," "weedy," or "grassy," depending on who is doing the smelling, Feben said.

Unusually low water levels this year have caused the animals to multiply more profusely because they are exposed more and more to the air. They feed and multiply on the first inch or two of exposed plants. The plants then fall into the water, or the odoriferous material gets washed off by wave action.

Most of this information gleaned about the tiny Actinomyces came in 1960 when Prof. J. K. G. Silvery, Professor of Biology at North Texas State College, did a study for the city of Mt. Clemens. Silvery is regarded as the nation's foremost authority on water plants and animals.

Chlorine Doesn't Work

Feben stressed that chlorine cannot be used to destroy the odors in the water. He said they could be partly removed by the use of huge doses of carbon, but the quantity of carbon needed makes it virtually impossible to use this method.

Furthermore, he said, if carbon were added it would neutralize the chlorine, which is needed to clean out other elements in the water.

How low is the water this year? According to James S. Moore of the United States Lakes Survey division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, it is only six inches above the all time low set in 1934.

The level, he said, is eight inches below last year's, and 16 inches below the average established since 1898. It is pertinent to note, he said, that this spring the lake did not take the normal annual spring rise.

Can't Predict End

Chemist Feben said it is "absolutely impossible" to predict when the water would be rid of the taste and odor noticed recently. He commented, "Though this does create a temporary unpleasantness, it is comforting to know that it is harmless and that the water is safe."

Farms City Manager Sidney DeBoer noted that though complaints of foul taste and odor subsided after the recent dry spell ended July 14, more complaints were being heard as of Monday, July 22.

Water from the Farms station goes to all of the Farms and City.

Farms' Annual Regatta Scheduled for Weekend

This is the big weekend for Grosse Pointe Farms boat owners, parade watchers, and beauty contest oglers; the weekend of the eleventh annual Grosse Pointe Farms Regatta.

The two-day event will feature the traditional boat races, fleet review, selection of a Regatta Queen, and a Saturday night dance. It will also present new dimensions in entertainment, including a pistol demonstration, clowns and a calypso for the children and a Bag Pipe band.

The events scheduled for the two day, admission-free Regatta, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club, unfold as follows:

Saturday, July 27: Boat races for three classes: sailboats and sailfishes at 11:30 a.m.; outboard motor boats at 1 p.m.; and inboards at 1:30 p.m. Boats will circle a course which extends toward the Yacht Club, with the start and finish line immediately in front of the Farms Pier.

Council Vote Approves Aid For Sewers

Will Get $73,000 to Help Pay for Big Project; Opposite Decision

At its regular meeting held on Monday, July 22, the Park council voted to accept a $73,000 Federal Public Works grant, since it had already been approved by the Government, and because it was "in the public interest."

The council accepted the grant, which will be matched by the Park for a relief sewer project, "without reservations or qualifications."

Although appearing to be reluctant in accepting the funds, the vote favoring the grant was unanimously approved because it was felt that the council had a "duty to the people living in the Park."

Voting for the $73,000 were Mayor Kenneth Cunningham, and Councilmen Charles Ives, William Luedders, William Oddy and Kent Zimmerman. Absent were Councilmen Matthew Patterson and John Doelle.

Attorney Gives Opinion

City Attorney Richard Rohr, interpreting the requirements governing the money offered by the Government, told the council that he did not see "anything especially burdensome or inappropriate, in accepting the funds."

He further informed the council that he believed the requirements pertaining to racial identification is merely "for statistical purposes," and is intended by the Government, that contractors be forbidden to discriminate against anyone because of race or color.

He said that when the project is awarded to the successful bidder, the contract will contain a nondiscrimination clause, which he said is what the Government wants.

The council, at its last meeting on July 8, approved a resolution, to be sent to the Housing and Home Agency Office in Chicago, attesting to the fact that the Park has $75,000 on deposit to match the grant.

Contract Awarded

At Monday night's meeting, the council awarded a contract to Raymond International, Incorporated, for soil borings at the locations where the relief sewers will be installed. The firm's bid for the job was $774, which will be paid by the city, and not from money to be received from the Government.

Plans are being drawn by Hubbell, Roth and Clark, city engineers, for the badly needed sewers.

Bids on the project will be taken within a month and work will begin about the latter part

Lightning Hits Woods Homes

Two Woods homes were struck by lightning within five minutes of each other Monday night, July 22. A two-alarm fire resulted at one; damage was minor at the other.

The first reported lightning bolt struck at the home of George Gardner, 921 Canterbury, at approximately 7:20 p.m. The bolt was believed to have struck near a television antenna on the roof, scattering several shingles. One Woods fire truck answered a call, but no fire had erupted.

At the home of Edmund Ruston, 1862 Severn road, lightning struck at approximately 7:25. One Woods fire truck went immediately to the scene; the other arrived about five minutes later from the Canterbury road home.

A blaze had erupted in the attic, and flames issued from a hole in the roof. The Woods placed a mutual aid fire request to the Farms, the City and Harper Woods at approximately 7:33, and all three dispatched one truck to the scene. The Farms and Harper Woods truck aided in fighting the fire, and the City equipment was on the scene in reserve.

The fire was reported completely under control shortly before 8 p.m.

No estimate of damage to either home was immediately available.

Astronomers Get Lucky Just in Time in Quebec

A trip that covered 1,600 miles paid off for three members of the Grosse Pointe Astronomical Society who watched the solar eclipse July 20 at Shawinigan Falls, Quebec.

While amateur and professional astronomers from as far away as the Netherlands, stationed within a few miles of them, had their view of the eclipse obscured by clouds, the Pointers held their breaths, and the cloud cover opened at the last minute.

"We just happened to hit a hole in the clouds," said Bob Kimball, of 878 Neff road. He said it was cloudy most of the day of the eclipse, but just minutes before 'totality,' the 65 seconds of darkness when the moon covers the sun, the cloud cover dispersed.

A Dutch expedition a mile and a half away had to throw out much of their planned measurements because of the clouds.

The three sun-struck Pointers were Kimball, Mike Olshausen, of 2049 Van Antwerp, and Fred Steinheiser, of 226 McKinley. Bob and Fred are freshman and sophomore, respectively, at the University of Michigan, and Mike is a senior at Grosse Pointe High School.

All three were able to take photos during the seconds of totality. Kimball took a ten-second time exposure intended to catch the outer corona and also the planets Mercury and Venus.

Parents also helped out. Mrs. George C. Olshausen recorded a rare measurement of the "direction of shadow band," which appears for only one second just before totality.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Steinheiser took motion picture and Polaroid pictures of the sun, and of their surroundings.

Kimball says his group is now eagerly working out the details of their next solar eclipse expedition—in 1970!

Libraries Offer Film Programs

The Grosse Pointe Public Library's Summer Film Program for boys and girls will present a different program this week at the Woods showing from that at the Park and Central branches.

The Park branch will show two color films, "Niok" and "Bird Island" at 10:30 a.m. today. The Central branch will show the same features at 2 p.m. today. Total time is 57 minutes.

Tomorrow, Friday, the Woods branch will show the following features in the Parcels Auditorium at 10 a.m.: "Niok," "Stowaway," and "Steadfast Tin Soldier," all in color, total time, 59 minutes.

"BIRD ISLAND" is a suspenseful adventure story filmed off the Bay of Biscayne in France. Two children meet on a sandbank to explore a man-of-war long grounded on the beach. They encounter what seem to be smugglers, who capture the boy Jacky. The girl Hermine in turn rescues him. There ensues a wild chase and all ends well in a happy spirit of comradeship.

"NIOK" shows how a group of Cambodian boys capture a baby elephant and use their ingenuity to feed him. Pictures the growing friendship between the boy Ayot and the elephant Niok until an elder decides to sell Niok. Dramatizes Ayot's successful attempt to rescue Niok and his subsequent decision to let Niok return to the other elephants.

In "THE STEADFAST TIN SOLDIER" puppets enact the famous story of Hans Christian Andersen about a one-legged tin soldier who falls in love with a ballet doll perched on one leg. The quaint and colorful toys, the delightful musical score, and the unsentimental narration make an ideal presentation of the familiar story.

"STOWAWAY" is a story about a young Nova Scotian lad who steals away on his own father's fishing schooner and learns all about sea life.

The August 1-2 presentations are the following, seen at all three branches at the times listed above:

"BOY OF THE SEMINOLES" (Indians of the Everglades), which shows the living habits and activities of a teen-age Seminole Indian boy and his family in Florida. It describes the movement of the Seminoles from Georgia to the Florida Everglades. It presents some of the Everglades country in which the family lives and follows the young boy as he finds a baby alligator which he eventually returns to the stream.

"THE MAGIC FIDDLE," a gay folk tale, expertly performed in its entirety by the Norwegian Ballet, about an enchanted fiddler who can compel everyone in earshot to dance unrestrainedly.

"TALE OF THE FJORDS" (a story to see and hear), portrays the secret yearnings of a little girl, Ragnhild, at her family's summer home high on a mountain in the Norwegian fjords. It shows the scenery of the mountains as Ragnhild leaves the milking of goats to explore the vicinity and to look for the hidden valley of dreams mentioned by her grandfather in a legend of the fjords. It shows her returning home and ends with Ragnhild and her brother eating wild strawberries as they drift in a small boat on the placid waters.

Accept Grant

Last week, the Farms council voted to reject three grants totaling $149,500, because they objected to conditions attached to the grants, including one which requires that contractors indicate the race of the project workers.

Farms Changes Mind
 Although the Farms council applied for the grants last fall, the councilmen stated that they had time to think the matter over and decided not to accept Federal aid because it "represents creeping socialism."

They said that acceptance of the funds would tend to destroy "the individuality, independence and sovereignty" of the Farms as a city.

The vote was unanimous in rejecting a $63,000 grant for additions and alterations to the Municipal Building, 90 Kerby road; and 6-1 favoring the rejection of $61,000 for the construction of a concrete underground water reservoir at the Water Filtration Plant, Maross and Lake Shore; and $25,000 for a roof over the Department of Public Works garage, Chalfont and Kerby.

These coquettish ditties, known as Bergerettes, date from the time of Marie Antoinette and recall the French Queen's fondness for dressing as a shepherdess and carrying on flirtations in the forest of Versailles.

A reception with refreshments will follow the concert to mark the conclusion of this sixth annual festival. All members of the audience are invited. Tickets for the performance, which begins at 8:20 p.m., will be available at the door.

Wandering Gaze Cause of Crash

A violation ticket for reckless driving was issued to William P. Dennes, 21, of 202 Fisher road, after he was involved in an accident July 8.

Dennes was driving south on Lakeland avenue, when he said he took his eyes off the road, and struck a car going north on Lakeland, driven by Elizabeth F. Anderson, of 17845 E. Jefferson. The accident occurred in front of 603 Lakeland.

After the collision, Dennes veered west, went over the curb, and hit a tree.

Both cars could be driven away from the accident.

INJURED IN FALL

Shores police took Mrs. Betty Hughes, 47, of 37 Kerby road, to Bon Secours Hospital on Sunday, July 21, when she tripped on the sidewalk at the rear of 870 Lake Shore drive. She suffered a deep gash on the leg. She was treated and released.

Farms' Annual Regatta

Barbara Herrick and Annette Urso of the Farms swimming staff. Farms Patrolman Arnold "Babe" Parsons will give a pistol shoot demonstration at 3 p.m.

At 4 the awards will be made for competitors in boat racing and the fleet review.

Judges at Saturday night's beauty contest will be Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen, Circuit Judge Carl Weideman and Mrs. Weideman, Mr. and Mrs. John Mazer, Marie Bird, Mrs. Paul Hykes, Mrs. Claire Stephenson, Mrs. Albert

Law, and hair stylist, Leon. Finalists in the contest are Joyce Adams, Lynn Schuch, Pat O'Lehney, Beth Backman, Pat Schuch and Susan Mitchell. The regatta is being coordinated by Robert German, Farms Boat Club commodore, Lloyd Jones, Regatta chairman, Jack Klick, beauty contest coordinator, and many others.

Witness Sees Hit-Run Crash

A witness saw a red Ford or Thunderbird convertible, top down, crash into a car parked on Mack avenue between Neff and Lakeland, back up, and speed on.

The hit-and-run occurred outside Priem's Bar, at about 2:35 a.m. on the morning of July 19. Owner of the struck car was Herbert A. Swartwood, of 1069 Cambridge, Berkeley.

BATTERY STOLEN

Park police recorded a report from Warren Hart of 832 Balfour, in which he stated that someone had stolen a 12-volt battery from his car parked in front of his house. The value of the item was not given. The complaint was made on Sunday, July 21.

Woman Resident Conned From Roof to Basement

Woods police are on the lookout for a man who is believed to have stolen $240 from a woman for whom he was supposed to be working.

Mrs. Ivan Cameron, of 1513 Roslyn road, told police on Thursday, July 18, that the man, who called himself Raymond Jones, no address given, came to her house several weeks ago and stated he was looking for work.

"Jones" did some cement work for Mrs. Cameron, and then informed her that she needed ventilators for the roof, which would cost about $140. She gave him the money.

Mrs. Cameron said that the man left and did not return until the Thursday date, and that he claimed he was in Indiana, visiting a relative who had been injured in a traffic accident.

Jones said that he wanted more money, but Mrs. Cameron refused to give it to him, whereupon, Jones directed a young man who was with him to show Mrs. Cameron what kind of work must be done in the basement.

The woman said that when she returned from the basement, she heard Jones coming down the stairs and when he left the house with his companion, she found her purse had been rifled and $100 in currency missing. Also missing were six blank checks from a desk drawer, numbers 121 through 126, from the Manufacturers National Bank, with her name printed on them.

Mrs. Cameron could give the police only a meager description of both men. She said they were driving an old, dark red coupe.

Students Enjoy Science Course

"Is that the teacher's blood on the slide?" asked the visitor. "No," laughed ninth grader Christine Steyer, "he didn't contribute it and neither did anybody in the class. We got it from a chemical supply house."

She and the others at her table again peered through their microscopes at the red smears on the slides. The tall young teacher moved from group to group to help the youngsters identify the structures under scrutiny.

"Physiology, anatomy, embryology—the course is a combination of many things that interest these students," says teacher Robert Arthur of the summer school science course at Brownell. "This may seem like a hodge-podge of topics, but actually there is some method in our madness. We are doing a kind of comparative study of plant and animal structure. Since our group is composed of junior high school students, we de-emphasize the areas that are generally included in the seventh and eighth grade physical science course or in ninth grade biology.

"We are attempting to promote some simple research activities as well as to develop a sound attitude toward scientific inquiry. For example," he continued, "the same principles and methods applied to the study of blood could be used in analyzing other kinds of organic materials."

The informal six week session has ranged through a number of topics, from osmosis and plant respiration to chlorophyll extraction and chromatography. This summer's offering is part of a special series begun three years ago by Bruce Westling, Pierce science coordinator. The major topic of the 1961 curriculum was radiobiology, the 1962 session presented protozoology and the scope of the current course differs again.

Enrollment has increased each year, with the 1963 total of seventy, eighth and ninth graders reaching 54 in three morning classes taught by Arthur and a Pierce scientist-colleague, Richard Folden. Primarily a laboratory course scheduled for two hours daily in A-6 and A-7 of Brownell, the group has gone as far afield as Kensington Park, where 49 students spent a day of nature study.

No textbook is used in the non-credit class, but the course of study, which was outlined by the two Pierce staff teachers, touches some topics which are generally included as introductory college material. While student interest guides the content of the course to some extent, the teachers draw upon their own libraries of laboratory manuals and experiences in special National Defense Education workshops. Films and slides have been utilized where appropriate. Available in the classroom is a quantity of reference material from the school library and the students' projects have taken them to libraries in the area.

Folden remarked, "What I like about teaching this class is that the students are learning by doing. We don't stand over them all the time; they have the chance to figure things out for themselves."

This special-interest kind of summer learning activity is scheduled with the backing of the science departments of the three junior high schools of the Grosse Pointe Public School System. Those who enroll are

'Girl Chaser' Receives Ticket

William H. Siebenrock, Jr., 23, of 507 Central avenue, Brookville, Pa., arrested for speeding on Lake Shore drive on Sunday, July 21, told Shore police that he was trying to catch some girl in a car ahead of him.

The arresting officer, Patrolman James Jurack, said he was patrolling north on Lake Shore, and was near the municipal park, when he saw Siebenrock take off at a high rate of speed when the traffic light changed to green.

Jurack gave chase and paced the motorist at 55 miles an hour. The policeman said that Siebenrock was cutting in and out of traffic, which was heavy at the time.

The patrolman said that his scout car was blocked by another vehicle at Moorland, and turned on his flasher and siren to clear his right of way. Siebenrock was forced to the curb in front of 1020 Lake Shore.

When asked for his reason for speeding, Siebenrock told the policeman that he was trying to catch a girl in another car.

The motorist was taken to Cadets Christopher V. Kimball, 20, son of Mrs. Eleanor M. Kimball of 454 Rivard boulevard, William B. McIntyre, Jr., 21, whose parents, Dr. and Mrs. William B. McIntyre, live at 1233 Audubon road, and Thomas K. Kahn, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Kahn, 143 Lewiston road, F. Arms, are scheduled to complete six weeks of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) summer camp at Fort Riley, Kan., July 26.

During the encampment they and other future Army officers receive intensive infantry field training under supervision of combat experienced officers and non-commissioned officers.

Kahn is active in the ROTC program at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

A member of Psi Upsilon fraternity, he was graduated from Austin Catholic Preparatory School, Detroit, in 1960.

McIntyre is active in the ROTC program at the University of Notre Dame, Ind. He was graduated from Austin Catholic Preparatory School, Detroit, in 1960.

students who are pursuing a special interior.

Commenting on the experience, Dr. Owen B. Middleton, principal of the summer session said, "This kind of course reminds me of a remark made recently by Francis Keppel, U.S. Commissioner of Education. He said that "the educational process must cause young people to become self-propelled in their learning, their growth, their mastery of a profession." As I look in on these bright boys and girls proceeding so earnestly with their individual experiments, I can't help thinking that we have some of that self-propulsion this summer at work at Brownell.

It's a great year for Chrysler Corporation all over. We've already sold over 200,000 more cars and trucks than we did in '62. And, on June 21st the millionth vehicle produced by Chrysler Corporation in North America rolled off the assembly line.

Now there's no stopping the 60,000 of us who work in the 38 Chrysler Corporation plants in and around Detroit, the automobile capital of the world. And our home town.

*Your authorized Chrysler Motors Corporation Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Chrysler Motors Corporation Certified Car Care schedule. ### Pickpockets Set To Promote Play

"The Village" and "The Hill" will be overrun with pickpockets on Saturday, July 27. The College Players, who will be presenting "The Thieves' Carnival," by Jean Anouilh, on August 2 and 3 in the Fries Auditorium at the War Memorial Center, will give shoppers a free sample of their dramatic talents.

In return they hope to receive, without having to resort to pickpocketing the 90-cent ticket donation which will enable a patron to attend the performance. Profits from these ticket sales will be donated to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The enacting of skits from the play will be preceded by a parade beginning around 1 o'clock at Bishop and Kercheval, and passing through both "The Village" and "The Hill." Players will all be in costume and will ride in convertibles or walk at the side with banners and posters. The parade will then return to "The Village" where a crowd will be attracted and the skits will begin.

After the drama, two booths in "The Village" and one on "The Hill" will open up and remain open for the rest of the afternoon as well as the following weekend, for the sale of tickets.

Parade chairman, Miss Mimi Anderson, 138 Moran, has promised authorities that she'll do her best to keep the thieves under control but should any unfamiliar watches, wallets, or purses be found, she'll turn them over immediately to the police.

Fish Flies Have Inspired Both Poetry and Curses

By Bob Wells

A significant summertime inhabitant of this community is the Ephemera, aliases Mayfly, Lake Fly, Fish Fly. Due to his undeniable insectivity, he does not have the stature or the reputation to qualify him as a "Pointer of Interest." However, anyone so much discussed and cursed deserves some mention at this time. After all, is there any reputable "Pointer of Interest" who has been able to make his presence so undeniably felt?

We gained our closest contact with this unique order of un-mouthed insect a few weeks ago, shortly after viewing a movie at the Punch and Judy theater. We emerged from the theater shortly after midnight, and made our way to the car, which we had parked in the first space next to the Farms Drugs at Fisher and Kercheval. An uncountable number of fish flies waited for us; they crammed the outside of the car: standing room only.

We had foolishly parked under a streetlight in early July, and we had more foolishly left a window open. They sat placidly in the front seat, above the seat, on the windows. One clung to the steering wheel. There was nothing to do but to seize a broom and swing wildly, and after 10 minutes we climbed shakily into the car and fled the scene.

Some consolation came from knowing that we were not alone in our suffering. Some of the worst hit residents are boat and swimming pool owners, and anyone who happens to live in a well-lit home with large windows. A week ago the creatures lined the front windows of the Central Library (one librarian said she could hardly see out, but might have spoken in a moment of panic). The fish fly is hated by the home-owner and the shop keeper, dreaded by window washers, street cleaners and barefoot children.

But the contempt that has been bred by our familiarity is not in keeping with the accepted line on the Fish Fly. Insect lovers view him as both a beauty and a blessing. They view the "dainty, dancing May Fly" as "the nearest thing to a fairy in all the animal kingdom." "Our Insect Friends and Foes" gives us the most poetic description of its origin and life span:

"One moment an ugly creature of the mud, the next, as though by the gesture of a magic wand, it is off, radiant as an oriole, with a shimmer of new-found wings, fragile as the gossamer of a spider's web, with its streaming three thread-like tails, twice as long as its body, making time to its fitful, up-and-down, joyous flight."

The unique thing about this creature is that it eats nothing from birth to death. It is un-mouthed, and "goes its way with never a thought of food." It emerges from the water, dances around, uses up what little vitality it ever had, and dies.

It lives, eats, and bears its young as a nymph in the water, changes into an air breathing creature, flies off to land . . . Our book of insects is, at one point, consoling. The Fish Fly should be a delight to fishermen, because it provides sustenance for half the fish in the lakes it inhabits. The book concedes that they can at times be a nuisance, but assures, "They become a nuisance, but a nuisance so short-lived not to be a great hardship."

ened residents of Atlantic City, Niagara Falls, Natchez, Geneva, Switzerland, Bagdad, Cleveland, or Grosse Pointe who may be, at this moment, losing their respect for the harmless, short-lived Ephemera.

Ignored Light Causes Crash
Two Woods police officers were their own witnesses to a traffic accident at Vernier and Mack during the early morning hours of Sunday, July 21.
Patrolmen Donald Sabel and George Kasper were patrolling Mack avenue at about 2:35 a.m., when they saw Pierre J. Goyette, 23, of 20101 Rowe, Detroit, who was driving west on Vernier road, ignore a red traffic signal.
Goyette drove his car in front of one driven by Allen L. Verbrugge, 30, of 883 St. Clair, who was stopped, facing south, waiting for Vernier traffic to clear.
Verbrugge started up just as Goyette went through the light, and hit Goyette's car broadside. No injuries were reported.
Sabel and Kasper gave Goyette a ticket for disobeying a red light and causing an accident. Court date was set for September 21.

This culmination of the students' projects is scheduled from 9 a.m. to noon, weather permitting.

Shores Police Accuse Driver
Clifford C. Welch, 34, of 118 Pilgrim, Highland Park, was arrested by Shores police on Thursday July 18, and charged with drunk driving on Lake Shore drive.
Welch was arrested by Patrolman James Jurcak, who observed the motorist about 50 feet in front of him, waiting for a red light to change at Lake Shore and Vernier.
The officer said that when the light turned green, Welch started up, veering from side to side, and cutting in front of another vehicle to his right, and then turning his wheel sharply to the left.
Jurcak turned on his scout car flasher and blew his horn, whereupon, Welch obediently

Eclipse Watched By Science Club
The Grosse Pointe High School Science Club and friends, watching from the home of Frank L. Havel, Jr., at 1376 Harvard road, observed and photographed the 83 percent eclipse of the sun July 20.
Frank, who is the club's secretary, had the distinction of having seen an almost identical eclipse in Japan in 1958. His father, then Lt. Col. Frank Havel, was stationed in Yokohama. Frank, Jr., had already become quite interested in astronomy, and studied an eclipse that was almost identical to the one witnessed last week.
Photographs of the eclipse were made from Frank's four-inch reflector telescope, by James Myers, high school student. A thorough search was made for sunspots and solar flares, but no outstanding prominences were found.
Also observing were Michael Cooper, club president; Larry Jordan, vice-president; and Eleanor Waters, treasurer. Others present were Jack Gajewski, Jim Myers, Norman Grenzek, Dianne Hassig, and David Haugan. All present are honor students at Grosse Pointe High School.
The Science Club is planning to observe and photograph the Total Lunar Eclipse on December 30, 1963. This eclipse begins at 3 in the morning and ends at 7 a.m.
Havel's military father, now a full Colonel, is Project Manager of the Army's Detroit Arsenal.

Youth Hostel To Wash Cars
A car wash to earn membership fees will be held on Saturday, August 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the parking lot of the Neighborhood Club located on Waterloo between St. Clair and Neff.
The cost for washing the exterior and carefully cleaning the interior is only a dollar. This is a good chance to meet the high school youth of this area involved in a constructive enterprise, who wish to finance A.Y.H. memberships for Grosse Pointe youths.
In addition to the car wash, American Youth Hostel in co-operation with Neighborhood Club, has planned a hayride on July 28 and a horseback ride on August 9.
Any high school student interested in joining and participating in these A.Y.H. activities may call the Neighborhood Club at TU 5-4600. All activities are led by adult sponsors. Participants share the cost of transportation.

Children's Fair Great Success
"We like fairs," said Elaine Haas, of 1730 Littlestone road. So she and Patricia Dushane, who are both 10, decided to have one.
And it went off fairly well. Over 180 children from up and down Littlestone and nearby blocks stormed the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. William Haas, on July 18, and they spent over $50.
The girls have decided to give all the money to charity—half to the Dr. Tom Dooley Fund and the other half to Our Lady of Providence School in Northville.
Other carnivalists from the neighborhood who helped plan the event were Richard Kennedy, 14, Tom Haas, 14, Mark Rohrig, 13, Pamela Davis, 11, Carol Hines, 11, and Michael Esselink, 12, Marthy Mahoney, 14, and Gail Garceau, 14.
The first thing Patricia and Elaine did was to march door to door on Mack avenue asking Merchants to help with the carnival. Thirty establishments, ranging from dime stores to a shoe store to a candy store to a Fuller Brush man responded with donations. Stephen Gyurich, a self-employed portrait painter who lives at 1877 Stanhope, painted "Carnival" signs.
The Carnival lasted from 12 to 3 in the afternoon, and included a Wheel of Chance, a Fish Pond, a Bean Toss, a Penny Toss, Horse Shoes, and a White Elephant Sale.
Mothers who helped out included Mrs. Milton Garceau, Mrs. William Haas, and Mrs. Walker R. Dushane.

Little League Results

FARMS
By Bill Stuck
 Major League-Little League 1963 is now history and the winners of 1962, the Giants, reposed again in 1963. The Giants won the first half, the Yanks the second and the Giants took the last in the two out of three playoffs.

On Monday the Giants took the first, 5 to 4, over the Yanks. Pete Wittstock was winning pitcher as Tim Bigham was declared loser. This was a game of home runs. For the Giants Pete Wittstock a homer with one on; Danny Griffin a homer, none on; and Tim Allard a homer with one on—total—five runs.

For the Yanks it was a homer by Mike Butler with two on and then a double by Jack Critchfield with one on. Glenn Hillger had a fine single for the Yanks. Glenn incidentally came on in relief for Bigham in pitching for the Yanks.

Following the game everyone adjourned to dinner and the Farms Council meeting for a lively session.

On Tuesday it was those Yanks right back in there taking the Giants by an 11 to 4 score with George Hodges going the full stretch and being named winning pitcher. For the Giants Danny Griffin started and then was relieved by Dave Bouafait.

The Giant sluggers were out but it just was not enough. Pete Wittstock had a home run as did Danny Griffin with one on. For the Yanks, Curt Mumaw had a beauty of a double that due to the help of the fielder's throw, developed into a home run with Jack Critchfield running full steam ahead. Final score Yanks 11 runs 9 hits and Giants 4 runs and 6 hits.

As this game as at the first the attendance by the parents was most appreciated by the boys and the rooting really made the games almost like Tiger stadium . . . in the old days that is.

On Wednesday night the Giants took the game and series with an 11 to 3 score, almost the reverse of their Tuesday loss. Tim Allard was the winning pitcher backed by some very excellent fielding . . . "they could do no wrong."

The Yanks put in another 11-year-old for his first full stint at pitching, Steve Hess. He performed excellently but his support was definitely not good. He held the Giants per the official scorer to only 5 hits versus his own team getting, 7 from Allard but the 5 errors on the part of the Yanks were too much, Jack Critchfield came in on the last of the sixth to relieve Steve.

Congratulations to the winning Giants and Manager Dick Borland and Coaches Art Wittstock and Ted Trefzer and to the losing Yankees and Manager Fred Critchfield and Coaches Ted Hodges and Fred Hillger for providing the Farms folks with three exciting and thrilling nights in a row of baseball.

With the looks of the 10 and 11-year-old boys we saw these last three nights, 1964 should be even better. Before we forget, thanks too to Jim Iretson for the "official statistics" on the series.

On Thursday night the Farms met the Park in the first of the National Little League Series. The Park took the Farms in a beautiful pitching game with Bill Bailey of the Park pitching a no-hitter. Final score, Park 5 runs 4 hits, and Farms, no runs and no hits. Losing pitcher was Tom Tompkins.

The batteries for each team: Park, Bill Bailey, pitching; Bob Tscholl catching the entire game; Farms, Tom Tompkins pitching, relieved by Bob Lehman, and Jack Critchfield catching, relieved by Hal Messacar in the fifth. Conley of the Park had a home run with one on in the fourth when the score was 3 to 0 to just about settle the issue.

In this closing article for the 1963 season, your writer would like to express his appreciation for the assistance given him in this "fun job" . . . particularly to those who assisted in providing data for the past two years, Kay Sepic and Ginny Hooper in 1962 and 1963 Major Minors and Class "C" and John Lehman and "Doc" Joe Perry for the Majors in 1962 and 1963. Also my thanks to the Grosse Pointe News for use of the material. As this completes my tour with Little League . . . children do grow, you know . . . my thanks also to the many readers and their comments that have been passed along.

WOODS-SHORES
By Mel Snyder
 The Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Little League World Series was won by the San Francisco Giants as they defeated the Kansas City Athletics by the close score of 1-0 in the exciting one-game playoff at Ghesquiere Park before a big turnout of Little League fans.

Mike Ferrell pitched a brilliant one-hit shutout for the Giants while Tom Grattopp hit in the winning run. Paul Saffran pitched a fine four-hitter in losing for the Athletics and Ron Deneweth got their lone hit.

Both shortstops made the outstanding fielding plays of the game, Gary Bennett for the Giants and Garry Turner for the Athletics. This game ran

Legion Foiled In Tourney Bid

By Fred Kaines
 The Grosse Pointe American Legion Baseball team lost the privilege of playing in the Regional Tournament when they failed to win one game in four starts this past week. The combination of poor fielding and the lack of hitting allowed the opposition to score 31 runs to 303's 9. Of the 31 runs scored only 6 were earned.

Last Tuesday G.P. led the East Division of the Detroit District American Legion League by a full game with a 15-4 record, followed by Learned at 14-5-1 and Faust 13-7-1.

That evening G.P. lost to Northwest Post 7-3 and dropped to a one-half game lead. Wednesday 303 played Edison Post and literally handed them the game by allowing eight unearned runs and losing 11-5. Meanwhile, Learned won their game to move into first place, and Faust continued to win. Thursday both Learned and Faust had to play make-up games and both won. Learned downing Livonia 10-5 and Faust by a forfeit over Hamtramck.

Saturday morning Learned met GP at Kerby Field to play the game that had been postponed the previous Sunday. A win would have tied the two for first place and a tournament bid for both.

GP scored first but Learned came back to score three unearned runs and went on to win 7-1. Bob Critchfield pitched well but his teammates could give no support and he dropped his only game of the season. The records then had L. earned in first place with a 17-5 record and Faust and 303 tied with identical 15-7 slates.

This tie necessitated a playoff game to see who would be the second representative of the East Side in the District Tournament. This game was played at Belle Isle on Sunday and Faust won 6-0.

Again shoddy fielding and the lack of the base hit in the clutch were GP's downfall. They committed seven errors and left 15 men on base, five on third alone. The team averaged only 1.5 errors over the first 16 games but going down the stretch they committed 52 in only seven games.

All things considered the season was a successful one for they did much better than the "experts" thought they would, and the entire team is eligible to play again next year.

Many Records Shattered In Farms Swim Meet

Records fell like ten-pins as Grosse Pointe Farms' best young swimmers competed for honors in the 14th Annual meet held last Saturday at the Pier. Half the events were given new records as the youngsters set 15 new marks out of 30 events.

The boys were roughest in the record book as they were responsible for 10 new marks while the girls lowered five former standards, keeping Karen Koerber and Margaret Krother busy recording them. The winners and runners-up in each event not only won ribbons and honors as the top swimmers in the Farms, but they also won a place on the Farms team which will compete in the Inter-City Championships Saturday, August 3 at the Wood Waterfront Park.

As a family unit, it was the Simon girls, Ann, Eeky and Laurie who won individual events. Ann started the ball rolling by capturing top honors in the eight year and under 25 yd. freestyle event. Becky followed with a win in the girls 10 and under 25 yd. freestyle and Laurie climaxed a great afternoon by swimming the 10 and under 25 yd. backstroke.

The Rutan family featuring Kathy and Mary Ellen gathered in the most blue ribbons when each one of the sisters won two races each. Older sister Mary Ellen, a star on the Star of the Sea High swimming team, set the pace by winning the 50 yd. freestyle and 50 yd. butterfly for girls 16 and under and setting a new record in each instance. Kathy wasn't far behind as she won the 50 yd. freestyle and 25 yd. butterfly for girls 12 years and under, setting a new record in the butterfly event.

Judy Barlow was the other double winner for the girls as she won both the 25 yd. freestyle and 25 yd. butterfly for 14 years and under.

Sheila Cassidy in one of the closest races of the afternoon just touched out Cynthia Hassig in the 25 yd. breaststroke for girls 12 years and under. Sheila set a new record in the event with her astounding effort. Other winners of the girls' events were Arne Cottrell, 25 yd. backstroke for 12 years and under, Judy Briedau, 50 yd. freestyle for 14 years and under, and Joan Dooley, 25 yd. breaststroke for 14 years and under.

Mrs. Ambrogio was the only entrant in the traditional mothers' race so she swam alone to win all the available prizes awarded to entries in this event.

Ron Richards was the outstanding boy to participate in the meet as he won two events. Ron broke the old record in the 50 yd. freestyle for 12 and under by more than two full seconds and in the 25 yd. backstroke he lowered the mark by more than three seconds.

Charlie Trowbridge gave a strong performance as he won both the 50 yd. freestyle for 14 years and under and the 25 yd. butterfly for 14 years and under.

By J. Tscholl and J. Present
 In the World Series between the first place teams in the American and National Leagues the American League Indians again captured the crown in three games from the Dodgers in an exact duplicate of their 1962 three game series.

In the first game the Indians' Robin Jacobs, and Danny O'Keefe combined to pitch a no-hitter as they scalped the Dodgers 11-0. Bob Tscholl and Bill Edmunds slammed three-run homers for the victors. Bill also made three beautiful pickups at shortstop. Although their hitting faltered, the Dodger fielding was at times superb. Their infield made a neat double play on a grounder to the shortstop. Terry Griffin also made a beautiful catch at the fence to rob Bob Tscholl of a home run.

In the second game the Dodgers evened the count with a 4-3 victory. In one of the most dramatic games in Park history Rick Royer, the losing pitcher, pitched five innings of near perfect ball, allowing only two hits. In the sixth inning David Schur slugged a grand slam home run to pull the game out for the Dodgers. The Indians made two superb fielding plays. The first one was an unassisted double grounder going from Robin Roberts at third to short to first.

In the third and final game the Indians captured the second World Series in a row with a 7-5 victory in a very well pitched game. Bill Edmunds and Danny O'Keefe paced the Indians' attack with doubles. Robin Jacobs was the winning pitcher. Danny O'Keefe pitched three innings of scoreless ball in relief as the Indians depth in pitching represented their margin of victory.

In the Minor League Championship game Minnesota defeated Michigan 9-3. Pete Schrage had a triple and double for Minnesota. Michigan's doubles were hit by Brian Kingsley, Jack Gardner and Jim Owen. Bruce Black was the winning pitcher.

PARK ALL STARS
 Bill Bailey pitched a magnificent no-hitter as the Park All-Stars downed the Farm All-Stars 5-0. He had brilliant fielding support from third baseman, Jeremy Read. After three runs in the first inning a two run homer by Rick Comly in the fifth put the game safely out of reach.

Hamtramck edged the Park National League All-Stars 7-5. "The victors" attack was led by Gerald Cook who had a double. Mike Reno had a homer, Tom Hummel a triple, Jim Colby a double and Dave Schur two singles to lead the losers' assault.

CITY
 On Saturday, July 20, the Grosse Pointe City Little League Dodgers saw their undefeated season and 19-game winning streak come to an end. In the district playoffs they were defeated by a fired up Clintondale team 3-2.

In the first inning of this game Mike McMillin hit a two-run home-run, (Bill Doyle was on base), and it appeared that this would be enough. However, Dick Ramsey of Clintondale then put on quite a demonstration of pitching and hitting. After the first inning he gave the Dodgers just two hits, (a single by Jay Renouf and a double by Skip Bancroft), and also drove in all three of Clintondale's runs.

The big blow of the game came in the top of the sixth inning when he hit a two-run home-run. Bill Doyle and Mike McMillin pitched for the Dodgers.

Basketball Fans Promised Treat

East Side basketball fans are in for a treat next Monday evening, July 29, when the Detroit Pistons stage a clinic at Austin High School, East Warren and Cadieux, starting at 7:30.

The public—especially school-boy players—is invited. There will be no charge for admission for the clinic which will be held in conjunction with the summer basketball school being directed at Austin High by Chuck Holroyd, the former coach there and now college mentor at Grosse Pointe High.

Charley Wolf, the new Pistons' coach who himself will make his home on Detroit's East Side when he moves his family from Covington, Ky., in late August, will be in charge of the clinic at Austin.

"We think we will offer those who attend the clinic at Austin a very enjoyable and profitable evening," said Wolf. "We will use our players to demonstrate the various important moves and shots so necessary to make a winning team in basketball.

"And, after our discussions are over, we'll permit the players in the audience to scrimmage against the Pistons."

Wolf will bring to Austin several of his veterans and newcomers who will be in Detroit next week to participate in the Pistons' first summer camp at Cobo Arena.

Such stars as Ray Scott, Don Ohl and Willie Jones have indicated they'll be on deck for the clinic and camp. So will Kevin Loughery, Bob Ferry and Johnny Egan, other Piston veterans.

The new faces will be led by Eddie Miles of Seattle University, the Pistons' No. 1 draft choice, and Jerry Smith of Furman, who was selected No. 2. Both, incidentally, have signed their 1963-64 contracts with the Pistons.

Any basketball enthusiast who misses the Monday session at Austin won't be a complete loser. He'll have a chance to catch the Pistons in a city-wide clinic slated for Cobo Arena on Saturday, August 3, when they wrap up their week's work in Detroit.

The fall training schedule opens on September 15 for the Pistons with the first game of the regular season booked for October 16 at Cobo Arena.

GPUS Day Camp Great Success

By Al Bixit
 As its first season nears conclusion, the Grosse Pointe University School Day Camp has been adjudged an unqualified success by Muriel Brock, director, and William Hndle, co-director.

The first of its kind in the area, the camp provides a comprehensive program of activities for children of ages four through 12. Located at 1045 Cook road the camp uses the many fine facilities of Grosse Pointe University School. The 43-acre campus of woods, lawns and playing fields provides for a wide variety of outdoor activities. Two gymnasiums, six tennis courts, baseball diamonds, a cinder track and a beautiful new swimming pool are used to provide the most profitable and enjoyable use of youngsters' time.

The 105 campers are divided into three main groups. Four and five year-olds belong to the Junior Camp and attend a half day session from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The Junior campers have their own rooms and outdoor playground area. The intermediate camp is for children entering grades one, two and three next fall. Each child is assigned to a group of about ten according to his or her level of maturity, interest and ability thus assuring personal instruction and close supervision at all times. The senior camp is designed for boys and girls entering the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades. Transportation is provided on request, to and from the camp.

The camp day is planned to provide a healthful balance and an interesting variety of activities. Arts and crafts are taught by Don Schrom, an instructor in the Grosse Pointe Public School System. Tennis is learned under the expert guidance of Ron Burns of the University of Michigan tennis team. Archery, nature and camp craft, instructional swimming and through a special arrangement with the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, horseback riding are among the activities which campers are exposed to, perhaps for the first time.

One of the prime purposes of the camp is to prepare young people for the day when they will attend a camp which will take them far from home, again perhaps for the first time. It provides a chance for children to learn what fun camp can be. To aid in this, overnight camps out in the Ortonville State Recreation Area are held regularly. Also, special trips are planned to meet children's interests, to such places as the Detroit and Children's Zoos and Metropolitan Beach.

Both Miss Brock and Mr. Hndle are gratified by the public response to the camp and feel sure that next year's camp will be an even bigger success.

Will Display Tut's Treasures

Fabled treasures from the tomb of King Tut, never before exhibited outside Egypt, will be on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts during the month of August.

These relics from the tomb of Tutankhamun include priceless gold daggers, miniature gold coffins, scarabs and jewelry. Dr. M. Abdul-Quader Mohammed, a curator from the Egyptian Museum, is traveling with the exhibit.

The boy king Tutankhamun lived 1300 years before Christ. His tomb treasures will be on public display beginning August 1, part of an Egyptian Government project to increase international interest in a program to remove the Nubian temples before they are flooded by the Aswan Dam.

The United Arab Republic agreed to allow King Tut's great art treasures to be exhibited in the United States, and the Detroit Institute of Arts was selected as one of the museums for exhibition of this collection, another indication of the growing importance of Detroit as an art center.

They were so enthusiastic about the dinner and Mike Matthews' organ playing that they took time to pose for this picture.

BB-Shots Cause Broken Windows

Broken windows were reported in two adjacent homes on Lothrop road and at Brownell Junior High last week. Farms police have not traced down the owner of the BB-gun used.

George Wilson of 278 Lothrop told police he thought he heard a noise about 10 p.m. on the night of July 15. The next morning he found an eight by 18-inch window broken on the front door of his home. It was a one-way glass window, estimate of damage not given.

That same night BB-shots were fired through two windows at the northeast entrance of Brownell Junior High School, causing damage estimated at $130.

The third shooting was reported by George Simon of 274 Lothrop, who reported two windows in the front of his home and one in the rear were broken. He told police he thought the shots were fired after 10 p.m. July 16. Simon lives two houses away from Wilson, whose house was shot at the previous night. The windows in Simon's home were of the large "Thermopane" variety.

Never put off a sure thing today for the uncertainty that tomorrow may bring.

Answer Expressway Question

A question that has been asked many times by residents of the Pointe and of Eastside Detroit, is answered this week in a communication received from Congressman Harold M. Ryan. The representative from the 14th District, which includes the Pointes, had contacted State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, asking for an explanation of the lack of progress on the construction of the Edsel Ford Expressway (I-94), from 8 Mile road north.

It has been a long time now since the expressway was halted abruptly at the Vernier road, (Eight Mile) exit, and the thousands of motorists who use it have been wondering when the extension would be opened. Mr. Mackie has written a lengthy letter to Congressman Ryan in reply to his request, and we reprint it here in full.

Dear Harold: This will acknowledge receipt of your correspondence of July 2, relative to construction of the Edsel Ford expressway, I-94 from 8 Mile Road northerly to Macomb County. The reason for the delay in construction of this section of the Edsel Ford is the lack of external drainage only. The right of way is all acquired, and construction plans are in the status where the projects could be advertised at any time that external drainage from the expressway to Lake St. Clair could be provided.

As you are well aware, a big problem in this particular section of the State of Michigan is the handling of the external drainage to a suitable outlet. The State Highway Department has complete plans for carrying its own drainage to Lake St. Clair. However, the Macomb County Drain Commissioner, through what is known as a Chapter 20 Drain Code enacted by the Michigan Legislature, is also proposing a huge drainage project in the same area. As highway drainage is considered to be a part of his jurisdiction, the external drainage of all trunklines is included in his plans, and assessments to cover the cost of construction of the Chapter 20 drains are pro-rated among the various governmental units within the drainage districts.

Because of the method and amount of assessments against this Department, we were forced to resort to Supreme Court action as a protest against what we considered an exorbitant apportionment on several of the drains. On two of the drains the Supreme Court has ruled against the State Highway Department, and we have since cooperated with the Drain Commissioner on what is known as the 8 1/2 Mile and Stephens drains and have programmed our construction with the Bureau of Public Roads. We have advised the Drain Commissioner that as far as we are concerned he could advertise for two of the drains.

There are two additional drains known as the 1 1/2 Mile and the Lake Boulevard, that are still being the subject of Court action, and I understand now that a citizens group in the area has filed suit in Federal Court challenging the legality of Chapter 20 of the Michigan Drain Code, under which legislation the Drain Commissioner is operating. Due to the variations in soil conditions in the area, it is important that outlets for drainage of our cut sections be provided at the time we start excavation. It is impossible for us to even temporarily assign the construction water to local drainage because there is no capacity in the local drainage system for any water that might be encountered of a subsurface nature. As of this moment everything hinges on the action of the Drain Commissioner, his success in putting his projects under contract, and the successful completion of those parts of his facility that we could use.

Sincerely, John

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir: I believe a spokesman for Farms Council claims it rejected the federal grants because they are immoral. If the grants are immoral now, they were certainly immoral when the council petitioned for the funds in the first place. Un-moral, yes. Immoral, no.

Subsidies to farmers, oil companies, mining companies, etc., certainly are not new and are subject to rules and regulations to the same extent as the grants under consideration here. There is nothing illegal in accepting congressional grants. Additional paper-work is no excuse. I don't approve of the prevalent government policy of giveaways but it is not an immoral one. Also, I have no objection to council members crusading against subsidies, so long as they do so on their own time and at their own expense. In this case, however, they overstepped the bounds of propriety when they let their personal and political feelings interfere with their official obligation to the taxpayers of Grosse Pointe Farms.

The Michigan Consolidated Gas Company is going to give its users a rebate for overcharges in gas rates. You might consider these grants as a rebate for all the taxes we have paid to the government for past subsidies. It is simply a return of capital not a free hand-out. Very truly yours, Roy A. Moxley

Dear Sir: Why the rush by the Council of Grosse Pointe Farms in turning down Federal Government grants of $149,500 on the basis of arguments presented by Councilman Bodman in the course of a single evening? The Council should have taken time to hear arguments other than those of the protagonist. In small matters like the height of a local fence, hearings will be continued for weeks. Yet in the instance of Federal grants involving tens of thousands of dollars the Council acts in the course of a single evening. Yours very truly, Mrs. Hugh H. Dobbins 306 Kerby Road

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Chicago—the windy city, with a range of gold-coast to slum, Chicago—the site of the 1963 American Library Association Annual Conference (its 82nd) from July 14-20.

Just what do you know about the American Library Association? Its duties and purposes are certainly many and varied. Its object, of course, is to extend and improve library service and librarianship in the United States. To further this objective, its aim is to make books and ideas vital forces in American life, to make libraries easily accessible, to improve professional standards, and to create and publish professional literature. The American Library Association establishes standards of service, support, educational qualifications and welfare for librarians, and promotes the adoption of such standards. It safeguards the professional status of librarians through the accreditation of library schools, and provides leadership for recruiting competent personnel. And finally, it promotes understanding and public acceptance of the value of library service.

After 87 years, the Association is especially proud this summer to welcome convention guests to its new headquarters building on East Huron street in Chicago. Looking backward, the first ALA offices were established in the Boston Athenaeum in Massachusetts, where the Association was first chartered. In 1909, offices were opened in space provided by the Chicago Public Library. In 1924, it occupied a part of the John Crerar Library. The need for larger quarters necessitated the renting of offices at 520 North Michigan avenue in 1929. Again, in 1945, a move was necessary—this time to an old mansion between Rush street and Wash-burn avenue on East Huron street. This was property which dated from the 1870's and had belonged to the McCormick family for years.

It was hard to crowd everything interesting into my two-day stay at the ALA Convention this year. So many meetings sounded provocative, promising—really a must. But I did manage to sandwich in a flying trip to this new headquarters building, where a trim and well-informed girl guide took me over all five floors—from the International Relations Office on the top floor to the mail room down below. I was impressed by its attractive appearance, both outside and inside. Now the organization seems much closer to me, and I was filled with its wide variety of fields of interest and activities. Now, when I read the Booklist or the Subscription Books Bulletin I can visualize their reading and publishing area. I can see one of the readers at work at her desk; the Association and its procedures have become personalized for me.

One came away feeling that ALA richly deserved and needed such a fine building, for here we have the oldest and largest national library association in the world, with 13 divisions, 54 state, regional, and territorial chapters, and eight affiliated organizations. It now has a membership of over 25,000 librarians, libraries, library trustees and Friends of libraries. And now back to the Convention. In retrospect, it was a most rewarding experience. Chicago is always fun to visit. Fellow-colleagues from all parts of the United States are rubbing elbows with you. New friends are made; old acquaintances are renewed. Perhaps an old buddy from Library School sits next to you at a meeting—a former friend you probably haven't seen for many years. Then there is a lot of "catching up" to be done. By now, he may be working in southern Texas, perhaps is married and has six children! You never know! The meetings themselves cover so many topics—your horizons just can't help but be broadened when you leave.

Yes, in retrospect, it was great fun. Now I wish I could have stayed for the whole week!

How to add years to your life By Fred Kopp, R. Ph. 100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years. Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being a "longer" if you eat properly and get proper medical care. This means periodic check-ups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're so conscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years. How about you? ## From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Memories will be the order of the day when a group of Grosse Pointe's younger matrons gather in Provencal road next Tuesday afternoon to celebrate the 10th reunion of their graduating class at the Academy of the Sacred Heart.

Mrs. James Duncan Farley, president of the Class of '53, has scheduled the luncheon-reunion just prior to her return to Buenos Aires.

For the past few months, Mrs. Farley has been spending part of her husband's leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy. The Farleys live in Argentina, where Mr. Farley is connected with the First National City Bank of New York in Buenos Aires, but every few years they are allotted a long vacation in the States.

Business activities keep Mr. Farley fairly well occupied during his stay in North America, so Mrs. Farley spends a portion of her time with him, the rest divided between her parents' homes in Provencal road and Harbor Pointe.

Franny and Jimmy Farley, ages two and one respectively, become the property of their delighted grandparents for the duration. Currently, Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Tracy, and the children are in Northern Michigan, but they plan to return to the Pointe a few days before the reunion.

Former classmates invited to reminisce with "The President" include Mrs. J. Daniel Hitchens, Mrs. William Andrew Fisher II, Mrs. Frank M. Clements, Jr., Mrs. Mary Conlisk Bruce, Mrs. Robert F. Roney, Mrs. Bruce R. Bartsch, Mrs. Lawrence B. Kelly, Mrs. Eugene Kornmeier III, Mrs. Willis Stephens, Mrs. William Kemp, Mrs. James J. Sylvain and Mrs. George S. Lilly.

Opening Night Benefit

Christ Child Society is sponsoring the opening night performance of "Here's Love," Meredith Wilson's new musical debuting July 29 at the Fisher Theater.

Following the world premier, Mrs. F. Mullen Barrett, of Touraine road, general chairman of the benefit, has scheduled an "Afterglow" party at the Red Mill.

Among those with reservations are Pointers Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Freitas, Dr. and Mrs. John Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Breidenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Currier, Mr. and Mrs. James Lemhagen, Mrs. Nelson Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Goethem and Mr. and Mrs. George Simon.

"Clarence" Awards

Grosse Pointe Community Theater members will don "rings and things and fine array" next Saturday evening.

Celebrating a very successful season, their first in Fries Auditorium, the local dramatic group's traditional "Command Performance" begins with cocktails at 6:30 o'clock in the St. Clair Shores Recreation Center.

Dinner is at 7:30, and "Clarences" — gilt statuettes bearing a marked resemblance to the better known, though certainly not more difficult to attain, "Oscars" — will be awarded at 8:30, with dancing scheduled to follow the awards presentation.

As usual, "Clarence" winners' names are kept a complete secret until award night, and cast and crew members responsible for "Kiss Me Kate," "Write Me A Murder," "Send Me No Flowers," and "The Crucible" — Grosse Pointe Community Theater's four 1962-63 productions — will be rooting for their special favorites.

Mrs. Ted Potthoff, of Belanger road, is chairman of the Theater's annual dinner dance and awards party.

Serving on her committee are Dr. and Mrs. Donald White, Mrs. Arthur Brownell, Thomas Stein, Mrs. Dean Erskine, Elizabeth Elias and Mrs. Roger Shepard.

Mississippi Showboat at GPYC

And still another party . . . Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's traditional Commodore's Review and Showboat, scheduled for Saturday, August 3.

Festivities start at 6 o'clock, with Commodore J. Earl Fraser, Vice-Commodore Edward J. Schoenherr, Rear-Commodore Harold E. Cross, M.D., and other Fleet Officers reviewing the parade of members' beautifully decorated boats.

Best decorated sail boat and best decorated power boat each receive a trophy; a fresco dinner follows the

Courtney-Mower Rites Observed

Marcia Vernor Mower Weds David Walter Courtney in Ironton Congregational Church Near Charlevoix; Pair Travel to Sea Island, Ga.

At an afternoon ceremony in the Ironton Congregational Church near Charlevoix, Mich., last Saturday, Marcia Vernor Mower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Vernor Mower, of Roosevelt place, was married to David Walter Courtney, son of the David LaVerne Courtneys, of Royal Oak.

A garden ceremony at the Mowers' summer home on Lake Charlevoix followed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of alabaster white, baroque textured pique, its camisole bodice topped by a contoured jacket designed with high neckline and mid-length sleeves. A court bow of matching fabric caught her multi-tiered veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white delphinium and ivy.

Lisa Mower was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Wayne Wiswedel, of Syracuse, N.Y., another sister, and Nini Lofstrom, formerly of Grosse Pointe, now living in San Francisco, Cal. They wore bright pink silk linen sleeveless dresses and carried pink and white geraniums and ivy.

Dr. Richard Courtney served as his brother's best man, and the ushers were Donald Burrell and Robert Rixom.

The new Mrs. Courtney was wearing a cornflower blue linen suit with white patent leather accessories when the couple left on their wedding trip to Sea Island, Ga. They will make their home in Gary Lane, Lake Shore Village.

Teacher Enjoys Her Experiment

When Letrice Petree left Grosse Pointe for her summer appointment on the staff of the Education Department, Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, the second grade teacher at Richard knew that she would be an instructor in reading and arithmetic. But she did not realize that she would be able to fulfill an old ambition.

"I had long wanted to experiment more with Dr. Montessori's method of teaching and my summer in Oxford afforded me the opportunity," remarked Mrs. Petree.

The legacy of Maria Montessori, a famed Italian educator born in Rome in 1870, is a system of training and instruction for children from three to six years of age. Features of this method are free physical activity, informal and individual instruction, early development of writing and reading, and extended sensory and motor training.

Meeting her group of six boys (four of whom were her grandsons) each morning from 8 to 10:30, five days a week, for a fortnight in June, Mrs. Petree worked in a garage and in a nearby yard. "This was an ideal place for the school. We were close to nature."

In discussing a major project of the class, Mrs. Petree stated, "The boys each built a bird house which they are to place in their yards at home. A year from now they are each to write a letter to me telling me about the houses and their occupants."

Other items on the program included finger painting, plaster of Paris molding, poster painting, watercolor painting, clay modeling, work with papier mache and soap carving.

Commenting upon the schedule of activities Mrs. Petree said, "At the beginning of the school day I would read a story to the boys. Then I would ask them what they thought the main character would be like. They were free to draw a picture of him if they wished, choosing their own materials. Nothing was pushed. Any medium that did not hold their interest was dropped. Seldom did any of the six work in any one medium at the same time."

Although the two week workshop was devoid of the teaching of reading, Mrs. Petree added, "I read stories to the children and they told stories to me. We then developed these stories through our senses."

Later in the summer, Mrs. Petree plans to invite her "alums" to a demonstration for students in her college classes at Miami University. In evaluating her experience with the children, the Grosse Pointe teacher stated, "we made a lesson out of everything. I was challenged every minute."

And pupil reaction to this form of learning may perhaps be summarized in the question asked by a little boy after attending several sessions. He queried, "When is school going to start, Mrs. Petree?"

See Race Start On Strang Boat

For the first summer in several years, Edward P. Strang, Jr., did not race in the Bayview Yacht Club Port Huron to Mackinac sailing classic.

Mr. Strang and his bride, the former Melodie Trembore, daughter of the Max R. Trembours, of Van Antwerp road, spent the early part of the summer in Europe following their June 7 wedding in New York's Riverside Church.

In July, they took up residence in Mr. Strang's Ridge road home, and a few days prior to the race traveled to Cleveland to bring up "Stranger VI."

Last Saturday, as boats began to leave their berths in Port Huron's Black River, Mr. and Mrs. Strang were hosts at an all-day party aboard the "Stranger." Then they and other stay-at-homes returned to the Pointe to await the outcome of the 1963 race.

MR. and MRS. HUGH ROBERTSON, of Harvard road, announce the adoption of a son, ROSS ALEXANDER. The baby arrived home with the Robertsons June 3, and was welcomed by the Robertsons' two other children, daughter PAM, 14, and son, DUFF, 6.

Back in their Pointe homes after a short trip to Copenhagen, Denmark, are MRS. JOSEPH G. STANDART, JR., of Ridge road, and her sister, MRS. BURT E. TAYLOR, JR., of Kenwood road. Mrs. Standart and Mrs. Taylor visited their mother, MRS. H. L. WESSEL, of Elm court, who summers in Denmark.

Miss McNally Says Vows to Mr. Garms

Bride Wears White Silk Organza for Rites Saturday in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church and Reception at War Memorial

In Our Lady Star of the Sea Church Saturday, Shari Joan McNally, daughter of Mrs. Paul F. McNally, Sr., of Hidden lane, and the late Mr. McNally, spoke her marriage vows to Michael F. Garms.

A reception and breakfast in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial followed the morning ceremony.

Father George J. Schrouder officiated, assisted by Msgr. Jerome MacEachin, of Michigan State University. Altar boys were the bride's nephews, Gerard J. and Joseph F. Marks, of Washington, D.C.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Paul F. McNally, of Mt. Clemens. She chose a gown of silk organza with a crescent neckline of re-embroidered Alencon lace.

Her chapel train, falling from a fitted bodice, was accented by two embroidered butterflies, decorated with seed pearls, and her bouffant illusion veil fell from a small pillbox of tiered organza topped by two butterflies. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Joseph F. Labbanz, of Okemos, Mich., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and

Club to Stage Teens' Dance

Another innovation of the Neighborhood Club's summer program is the Under the Stars Record Hop for teenagers on Thursday evening, August 1.

With no building available, the teens are going to dance outdoors on the tennis courts (no spike heels please) in a gala evening of under-the-stars entertainment. The hours are from 8 until 11 and the dance is open to Junior and Senior High teens from the Grosse Pointes. Admission is free and guests may dress in casual clothes.

Spinning the records will be one of Detroit's most popular disc jockeys, John Lynker, of Station WWJ. He has invited the Teen-Hop Committee to come to the studio this week to help select the records.

Soft drink machines will be placed adjacent to the dance floor and a special invitation has been extended to the Good Humor Man to be parked nearby.

Speaking of parking, the Grosse Pointe police have been asked to take charge of both the Neighborhood Club lot and space on adjoining streets. Guests are asked to check with officers on duty as to available parking in otherwise restricted areas.

The Record Hop has been planned and publicized by a committee of Club teens as follows: Trudy Pentecost, Mary Ann Miller, Sue Wilson, Joe Moran, Dave Whitehouse, Vince Barresi and Chris Sadler.

It is hoped that this may be the first in a series of Teen Dances for the Grosse Pointes. If this event proves popular the Neighborhood Club intends to continue them on a year-round schedule.

Plan to Attend Garden Parley

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore W. Frank, of Fisher road, are leaving the latter part of July to attend the national convention of Men's Garden Clubs of America in Rockford, Ill.

Mr. Frank, a past president of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe, is attending as a delegate of his club. He and his wife will visit friends in Glen Ellyn, Ill., before returning to the Pointe.

Earlier in the month, the Franks welcomed their son, Wesley, his wife and two small children, who came from their home in Albany, N. Y., for a week's vacation. Family parties included a reunion and outdoor supper.

Newlywed Mastersons Honeymoon in Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Masterson are traveling in Canada. The couple were married Tuesday, July 2, at a candlelight ceremony in Bethany Lutheran Church.

The bride is the former Claudia Irene Rideout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rideout, of Lennon road. Her husband's parents are the Clarence Reginald Mastersons, of Detroit.

When they return from their wedding trip, the newlyweds will reside in Detroit.

Even an efficiency expert gets all tangled up when he tries to master the art of eating spaghetti.

Mrs. Michael F. Garms

SHARI JOAN McNALLY, daughter of Mrs. Paul F. McNally, Sr., of Hidden lane, and the late Mr. McNally, was married to Mr. Garms Saturday in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garms, of Dearborn.

Making Survey Of Pollution

The Community Service Committee of the Women's Auxiliary to the Macomb County Medical Society is donating its services to help the Macomb County Health Department conduct a survey on water pollution. Mrs. Charles Lapp, of Utica, chairman of the committee, is in charge.

The survey will be conducted throughout the summer and will include interviews with the owners of water craft. Assisting Mrs. Lapp in this work will be president of the Auxiliary Mrs. John Corbett, of Lochmoor boulevard; Mrs. Francis S. Gerbasi, also of Lochmoor boulevard; Mrs. Seymour Ekelman, of Mt. Clemens; Mrs. Joseph Stepka, of Utica; Mrs. Earl Rinkenberger, of New Baltimore; Mrs. Adolph Suksta, of St. Clair

Invite Juniors On Show Boat

Grosse Pointe juniors are invited to eat, drink and be merry aboard the Mississippi Showboat, docking Friday night, August 2, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The Showboat's first night in town is strictly for teens (adults will be welcomed aboard Saturday), dress is semi-formal, and entertainment will be provided by the Catalinas from WXYZ and The Treblemakers.

Mrs. Emmett McNamara heads the committee for the 8 to 12 o'clock interclub dance, with Mea Rutan and Cathy Cross serving as poster and ticket chairman, respectively.

On the general committee are Grosse Pointe Yacht Club juniors Buzz Bartholomew, Cathy Bott, Bill Gehrke, Mike Granger, Tony Greiner, Jinzie DeHayes, John DeHayes, Marilyn Lundy, Suzy Mueller and Pam Thompson.

Peggy McKinley and Sue Zuchke are handling arrangements for the Showboat party at the Detroit Yacht Club; Renee Cavanaugh represents the Hunt Club juniors, and Lochmoor representatives are Kim Anderson, Bill Cunningham, Bill Demorest and Rick Rutan.

Friends Feted At Hootenanny

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ciavola, of Devonshire road, folk song aficionados, decided to try the "Hootenanny" approach to summertime entertaining last Saturday evening.

Guests arrived to find the Ciavolas' garden glittering with candles, while Alex Sucek, Grosse Pointe's own troubadour, strummed a guitar accompaniment to folk songs gathered from all corners of the world.

Eddie Matuszewski played the popular folk music of America, and everyone was encouraged to sing along as the "Hootenanny" continued, in true "Hootenanny" fashion, in the small hours of the morning.

Tour Includes Majorca Visit

Majorca, largest of the Balearic Isles, is the first stop in Lufthansa Airlines' Mediterranean Holiday, a three-week tour of the Riviera region departing Detroit October 11 and returning November 1.

Known for its beauty, its beaches, its traditions and the hospitality of its inhabitants, Majorca is a year-round playground with an ideal climate, both winter and summer.

Palma, the capital situated in a bay on the island's west coast, is a small, picturesque city built on a low hill. Mediterranean Holiday travelers will stay in a hotel fronting directly on the beach during the three-day stop-over, only one full-day excursion has been planned—to Formentor, famed for its fantastic panoramic view—the balance of the time is free for sun bathing, exploring, or simply rambling through streets, shops and countryside.

Keynote of this Mediterranean Holiday, escorted by G.P. News staff writer Janet Mueller, is leisure; at Palma, as at every other stop along the magnificent Southern European Coast, there will be time to do whatever strikes one's fancy.

Don't bank too much on your neighbors and friends—they may be banking on you.

Sight-Seeing in Washington

Ten-year-old Caren Cardoze will be back in the Pointe next week, but for Caren, daughter of Mrs. Donald E. Cardoze, of Bishop road, the end of the summer may be a bit anti-climactic. What can compare to the one's first trip to the nation's capital?

As guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Connelly, who recently moved from the Pointe to Bethesda, Md., Caren has spent the past three weeks touring Washington, D.C. Hot weather proved little more than an inconvenience, as both Caren and her aunt were determined to see all historic sites in the area, from Gettysburg to the Lincoln Memorial.

Mr. and Mrs. Connelly, with their son, Campbell, plan to return to the Pointe for a short visit with her mother, Mrs. C. Blount Slade, of Edgemore road, and has parents, Dr. and Mrs. Richard C. Connelly, of Three Mile drive, at the beginning of August.

Others on the move: Dr. and Mrs. Francis S. Gerbasi, and their son, John, of Lochmoor boulevard, who have just returned from a visit with Mrs. Gerbasi's cousin, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, in Canada's capital city, Ottawa. . . Patricia Talbot, who returns from a month's vacation in the South to resume her duties at the NEWS next week.

Carolyn Benzin Weds Mr. Totte

Reception at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Follows Rites Saturday in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church; Pair to Live in St. Clair Shores

A tiny gold crown imported from Sweden secured the veil worn by Carolyn Louise Benzin when she became the bride of Tymon Clarence Totte at a noon Saturday ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elmer A. Benzin, of Lochmoor boulevard, and the late Mr. Benzin, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Otto Lundell and the late Mr. Lundell. Her husband's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Totte, of Hampton road.

She wore a sheath gown of Brussels lace, its detachable train of peau de soie accented with appliques of matching lace. The gold crown, traditional head-dress of brides in Sweden, caught an elbow-length bouffant illusion veil, and she carried Amazon lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

Matrons of honor were Mrs. William D. Earle and Mrs. Hira M. Herrington, sister of the bride. They wore gowns of pink organza over taffeta with side-draped controlled skirts and flower appliques, and carried bouquets of deep pink carnations with ivy.

In identical gowns were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Harry T.

Echlin, Mrs. Rodger Hasty, Christine Ernst, Barbara Wood and Martha Brown.

Walter W. Phillip served as Mr. Totte's best man, and in the usher corps were Hira M. Herrington, Harry T. Echlin, Richard C. Mertz, Jr., Robert B. McQueen, Robert J. Bloink, Ralph F. Marco and Richard W. Jeffries.

The bride's nephew, Hira B. Herrington, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Mrs. Benzin chose an aqua chiffon sheath jeweled at the neckline and hemline, with a basket-weave bolero jacket jeweled to match, and a small chiffon hat.

Mrs. Totte was in turquoise chiffon with matching accessories, and a pillbox hat of rosebuds. Both mothers wore eschmuidium orchid corsages.

For traveling to the East Coast, the bride chose a peacock blue costume suit with matching accessories, and a corsage of Amazon lilies. The couple will make their home in St. Clair Shores.

Film Festival Closes Monday

The third and final motion picture to be presented at the Fries Auditorium in the Grosse Pointe Foreign Film Festival is the French comedy-mystery, "Man in A Raincoat," starring the great Gallic actor, Fernandel.

Scheduled for 8 p.m., Monday, July 29, the program will have as its honored guests, M. Alain Chailous, French Consul General in Detroit, and Mme. Chailous. Tickets for this performance are on sale at the door, priced at $1.50.

Fernandel is undoubtedly the Gallic comic best known to U.S. audiences. His toothy grin and broad grimaces are familiar even to Americans who have as yet to see their first French film.

He has been a favorite in France for three decades and a contender on the international entertainment scene for almost as long.

Since his cinema debut in Marc Allegret's "Le Blanc et Le Noir" in 1931, he has appeared in well over 100 vehicles, and through sheer talent, has brought spirit and fun to millions of viewers throughout the world.

Among his happiest moments, where star, script and director have been more or less worthy of one another, have been "Angele," "The Well Digger's Daughter," "Harvest," "The Red Inn," "The Little World of Don Camillo" and "The Sheep Has Five Legs."

"Man in A Raincoat," a sort

Mrs. Tymon C. Totte

In Our Lady Star of the Sea Church Saturday, CAROLYN LOUISE BENZIN, daughter of Mrs. Elmer Benzin, of Lochmoor boulevard, and the late Mr. Benzin, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Totte, son of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Totte, of Hampton road.

of Gallic "Arsenic and Old Lace," in which the comic is seen as an innocent clarinetist involved in an unwieldy number of murders, has established itself in France as one of his most successful efforts of recent years, both critically and financially. It was one of the French film industry's selections for its French Film Week in San Francisco.

Both a comic and serious actor, Fernandel also can sing, a talent he rarely uses today but which was on display in a film musical "Honore de Marseille" last year.

The son of a Marseille singer, he began his theatrical career warbling in the music halls. Only after his first few pictures did it become clear that it was not his vocal chords but his amazing face, a face which can magnify an ordinary emotion to the point of absurdity, which was to be the real source of his fame and fortune.

For the great comedy star and Duvivier, equally noted in his field as a director, it is the third association. A few years ago they teamed to make "The Little World of Don Camillo." Later they fused their talents once again to make the sequel to that film "The Return of Don Camillo." Up to that time, Fernandel had never worked with a director as frequently as with Marcel Pagnol.

Parties Honor Engaged Couple

For Jack Luedtke and Sallie Wilson, who will be married August 3 in Rochester, Minn., the early part of this summer has been exceptionally hectic.

Jack, who lives in Beverly road, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin G. Luedtke, of Flossmoor, Ill. Sallie teaches at Percelle's Junior High School. Her parents are Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Wilson, of Rochester.

Parties for the bride-elect and her fiancé were scheduled in Rochester and Chicago, as well as in Grosse Pointe. Locally, Edward P. Strang, Jr., feted the engaged couple at his Ridge road home in May, prior to his own marriage June 7 to the former Melodie Trembour, daughter of the Max R. Trembours, of Van Antwerp road.

Last Thursday, Sallie flew into town for a large cocktail and buffet party given by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Robertson, Robert G. Edgar and Robert Haydon, at the Robertsons' Middlesex road home. Sallie and Jack then went north, to Charlevoix, for the Saturday wedding of Marcia Vernor Mower and David Walter Courtney. Currently, Sallie is at her parents' home in Rochester, making final preparations for the wedding.

To Salute Romney At Theater Party

Date for Preview of Mary Martin's Show Delayed Two Days Until September 7 Because of Unusual Size of Settings Being Used

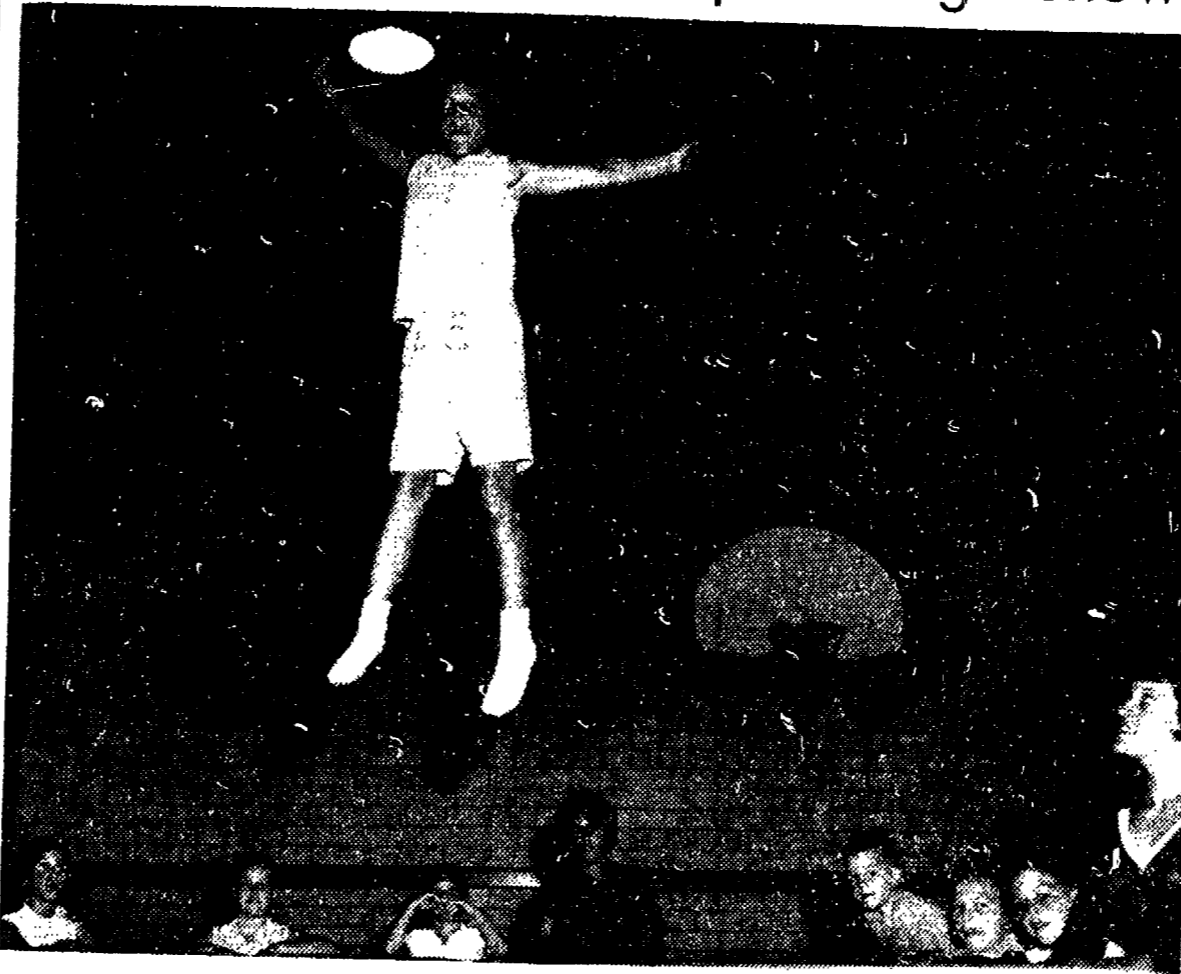

When Mary Martin comes to Detroit this fall with her new musical "Jennie," she's bringing such big companions that the special preview saluting Gov. and Mrs. George Romney has had to be delayed two days.

Mrs. Semon E. Knudsen, co-chairman of the women's committee staging the "Romney Salute" at the Fisher Theater, appealed to more than 1,000 persons who have already ordered tickets for the preview—originally announced for Thursday, September 5—to circle instead Saturday evening, September 7.

She explained that Miss Martin's "big friends" include a waterfall, a huge construction crane, a portion of a railroad and the ledge of a building. The energetic Miss Martin in her role as "queen of the early melodramas" will successively plunge over, climb up, be tied in front of a speeding train and hang precariously from.

"Since the show has gone into rehearsal, its producers believe it will have the heaviest amount of scenery in any traveling production in the history of the theater," Mrs. Knudsen said.

Neighborhood Club Campers Stage Show

Candyland, the Neighborhood Club's Summer Day Camp, held its exhibition for parents and friends Friday afternoon, July 19, in the Pierce Junior High School gym. Among the performers was DONNA GRUNE-WALD on the trampoline. SHARI STRACHAN, instructor, is on the right. More than 300 attended the camp under the direction of Miss Pauline Masak.

Woods Resident Fights Own Fire

James O. Gamberlin of 1120 North Renaud, was his own fireman on Wednesday, July 17, when he doused a stack of papers that had ignited in his basement. He had the flames out before Woods firemen arrived.

Gamberlin told fire officials that he had taken a five-gallon can of gasoline to the garage to put in an outboard motor. As he was returning to the house, he saw the flames in the basement and grabbed a hand extinguisher and put out the blaze.

The small fire was believed to have been started when the hot water tank went on, and the burner ignited lingering gas and oil fumes, with the burst of flames touching the pile of paper.

Smoke damage to the basement was minor, it was said.

Holiday Junket in Iran Noisier Than Our Fourth

Major and Mrs. Mason Rumney, with their three children, Mason, 16, John Charles, 14, and Susie, 12, have arrived in Teheran, where the Major will be stationed with the U.S. Army for the next two years.

In a recent letter to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard K. Amerson, of Moran road, Mrs. Rumney describes some of the trials and tribulations of an American family making its adjustment to life abroad, including this hilarious account of a Fourth of July excursion in the Iranian countryside.

"Last Thursday the Fourth we decided to ride donkeys up into the mountains to investigate the lovely waterfall we can see from the hotel window. We drove to the base of the mountain.

"Several bedraggled males of nondescript ages gathered about the car as we alighted. The hagline began over whose donkeys we would hire. No animals were in sight, as they were hidden by some houses of the little village which clung to the hillside.

"Mase (Major Rumney), our driver, and a skinny old man finally came to an agreement. We were led up a pathway and into an alley which was about 300 feet long and five feet wide with high walled sides. We had reached about the middle of the alley when 12 donkeys with 15 boys came around the corner, racing too late.

"It was too late to beat a hasty retreat, as they surrounded us before we knew what hit us. A rival wished to beat the old man's time, and wanted us to climb aboard his animals.

"So there we were, the men and boys yelling, the donkeys braying and kicking, the bells jingling, and we in the middle, slightly crushed. The shoving, pushing and smells were incidental when some creature grabbed Susie.

"He was only trying to put her on a donkey, but Father snatched her back, and finally by sheer belittling obtained enough quiet for us to mount up. I was never so grateful to escape from such a confined place in my life! Mase complimented us later for not panicking. What an understatement! What else could we do but stand there? We were packed too tight ever to fall down, and

Motorcycle, Car Figure in Crash

A passenger on a motorcycle was injured in an accident which occurred July 16 on Moross road between Grosse Pointe boulevard and the Lake Shore.

The collision occurred when Neil E. Kocsis, of 98 Mapleton, headed south on Moross, attempted a left turn onto Carter road. While making the turn he was struck in the rear left fender by a motorcycle driven by John W. Lanbrecht, of 34 Beacon Hill.

Lanbrecht told police that Kocsis made no indication he was going to turn. Lanbrecht said he was attempting to pass the car when it suddenly made the turn.

Michael S. Mitchell, 18, of 62 Cloverly, a passenger on the motorcycle, was taken by Farms police to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment for cuts and bruises.

Damage to Kocsis' car was estimated at $125 and damage to Lanbrecht's motorcycle, a 1962 Triumph, was listed as about $100.

Kocsis was issued a ticket for failing to signal for a turn, and Lanbrecht was ticketed for failing to have his motorcycle under control.

Kocsis complained of injuries to his shoulder and face, but refused to be taken to the hospital for examination.

SECRETARY OF LABOR W. Willard Wirtz made another effort Saturday to avoid compulsory arbitration in the railroad work rules dispute that may cause a nationwide strike at the end of the month. He talked with both union and railroad officials to explore the chances for a voluntary settlement this weekend before the President submits emergency legislation to Congress Monday. A White House fact finding board found no progress in the key issue of the conflict: the dismissal of firemen from Diesel locomotives.

Monday, July 22 LABOR SECRETARY W. Willard Wirtz weekend talks with railroad and union leaders ended Sunday with no progress reported, and President Kennedy summoned union and management to a White House meeting Monday morning. Secretary Wirtz and other officials gave no clue as to what steps President Kennedy would ask Congress to take if last minute bargaining failed. He could ask for legislation requiring further mediation and arbitration, or seek more drastic steps, such as government seizure of the railroads.

A CONFERENCE COMMITTEE on Federal-State relations at the National Governors' Conference in Miami Beach unanimously endorsed a resolution accusing "certain Federal agencies" of overstepping their authority in administration of Federal aid programs. Cited specifically was the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which last spring refused to allocate funds to Michigan on the ground that the state's newly enacted Aid to Dependent Children program discriminated against certain jobless workers. Governor George Romney told the conference committee that some Federal departments "continue to assert authoritarian demands for 'conformity' without regard for statutory authority."

Tuesday, July 23 AT TWO MINUTES and ten seconds of the first round of the Heavyweight Championship bout in Las Vegas Monday night, glowing Sonny Liston flattened out his heavy-floyed Patterson. It has been only four seconds longer than it had in their first fight at Chicago last September 25. Patterson was floored three times, and couldn't make it up from the third one. In one of the most humiliating fights in history, Liston walked from the ring hardly perspiring.

Liston said after the fight he would defend his heavyweight championship in September against fast-talking Cassius Marcellus Clay. Clay, 21, told reporters, "I'll knock the big bum out in eight rounds."

American Families Flock To Riviera

More and more American tourists are flying to Nice which, after Paris, has become the second most popular travel destination in France. A sea resort long frequented by royalty and movie stars, today the Cote d'Azur is readily accessible to families from all over the United States.

The Riviera's variety of holiday pleasures appeal to American families. The best of many worlds enchants those who seek scenic and historic wonders, sports in the sun, elegant night-life, museums, as well as pottery, perfume and craft centers.

French families from Paris and elsewhere in France return year after year to the Riviera, taking their children along. Budget-conscious, like most travelers, they often stay at smaller hotels or "pensions" where rates are reasonable, meals are served with less formality, and children are more than welcome. A practical tip for U.S. traveling families: Ask for a child's bed in your double room. It's an accepted custom and costs but a few additional francs.

A timesaver for those traveling with children is the direct Air France service, New York-Paris-Nice, without change of plane. Flying time aboard the French airline's Intercontinental jets is eight hours and five minutes.

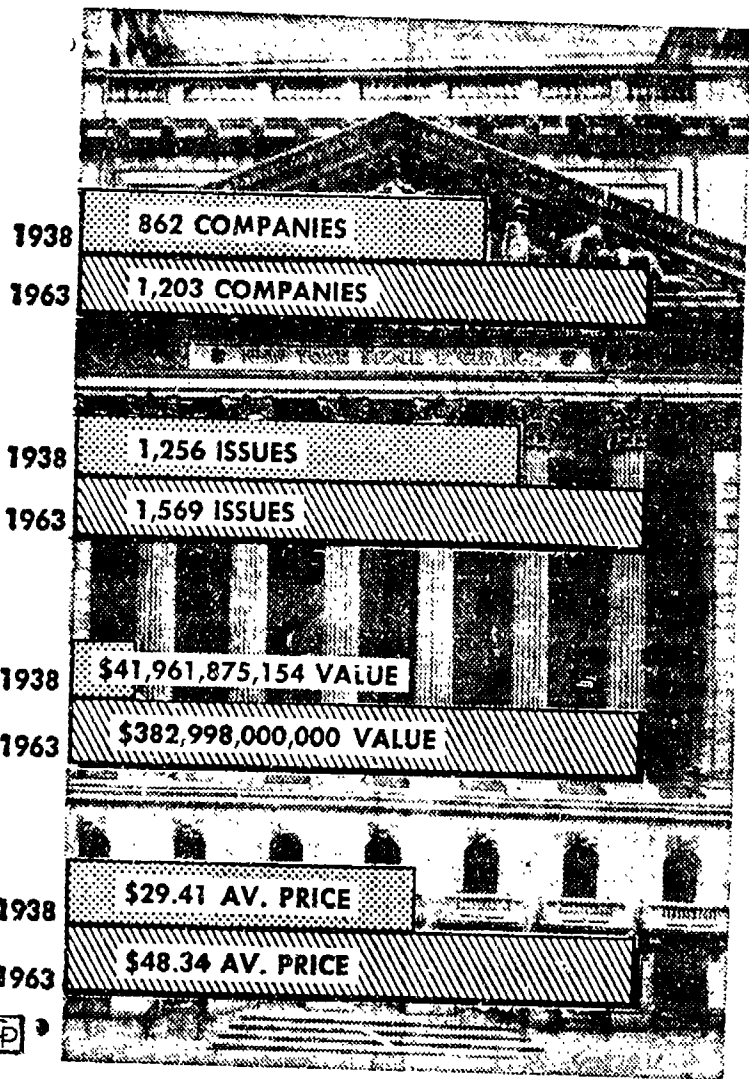

Comprehensive information about the French Riviera is gathered in a 44-page illustrated booklet entitled "You on the Riviera," and is available without charge at all Air France offices throughout the United States and Canada.

who, where and whatnot

Water skiing is a popular Pointe pastime (random thought on this subject: Pointers on water skis HAVE to be good; if they fall, they land in Lake St. Clair, and who wants to land in Lake St. Clair? . . . also at random: did you know the teenagers have taken to calling our waterfront "Normandy Beach?"). Among local "aces" at this particular sport are the three Staryk brothers, Mike, Jip and Jon, who spend most of their summers at the family cottage on Elizabeth Lake near Pontiac. The Staryks are all champion water skiers. Mike, a student at Florida Southern College, is on his school's water ski team and has placed in numerous Michigan and Florida meets. Jon, a Brownell Junior High School pupil, placed first in the country in the junior boys division water skiing championships in 1961, won a third place last year, and hopes to be first again in 1963. Jip, graduated from Grosse Pointe High School this June, is last year's Michigan State water skiing champion. (boys 17 and under division), plans to compete this summer in the State Tournament, the International Invitational, the Buckeye Open and the Midwest regional. For amateur skiers, discouraged at their first slalom efforts, Jip offers these words of encouragement: "You'll fall a lot for a while. But you'll get used to falling."

Most provocative boat name we've come across in years: the John J. Wetzels' cabin cruiser, christened "Angry Wife."

Comes the revolution, with next year's hairdos scheduled to be long, straight, UN-teased . . . and last Thursday night, Pointe matrons were, as usual, in the vanguard of style. Female party-goers arrived at the Bob-Lo boat, scene of Bon Secours Assistance League's annual "Calypso Afloat," their heads bubbled, ballooned and braced by hair spray. A few hours later, the "loose, casual" look had replaced the "careful coiffure," style change courtesy of our local weatherman. By the end of a hot, humid evening, Madame Calypso Cruiser, her straight locks swinging in the breeze, was the chicest lady in town.

Persons interested in learning the limbo are advised to contact Nicholas Kelley, Jr., of La Salle place. Mr. K. passes the Caribbean physical fitness test with flying colors.

Charley Toepel, of Moross road, a freshman at Washington and Lee University in the fall and a Grosse Pointe High School June graduate, is working this summer at the Colonial Inn, Martha's Vineyard, Mass. Among guests he has served already is Senator Ted Kennedy.

Another provocative boat name: Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Wood's "Bounty" (do they perhaps anticipate a mutiny?).

PILFERINGS

Two young boys were discussing their experiences in the children's ward of a large hospital.

"Are you medical or surgical?" one of them asked the other.

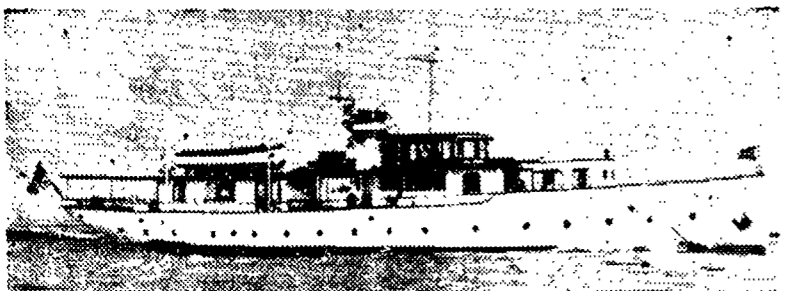

"I don't know what you mean," his friend replied.

The first child, who had been a patient for some weeks, regarded the second with scorn. "I mean," he explained carefully, "were you sick when you came in, or did they make you sick after you got here?"

If men talked about only what they understood, the silence would become unbearable.

Herbert Hoover, on Fishing: "When you are full up of telephone bells, church bells, office boys, columnists, pieces of paper and the household chores, you get that urge to go away. Going fishing is the only explanation in the world that even skeptics will accept."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. PAUL KELLER, JR., OF S. EDGEWOOD DRIVE

By Janet Mueller

Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., believes "There's always time." A tall, vivacious blue-eyed blond, chairman of this year's Junior League Fashion Show, Mrs. Keller is a busy woman—with a leisurely attitude.

"I seem to be interested in everything," she remarks. "Everything," for Mrs. Keller, includes Chinese Tomb Art, dramatics, work with juvenile delinquents, shift sewing . . . and, this summer's priority project, the 11th Annual "Fashionscope" to be presented September 10 and 11 in the downtown auditorium of the J. L. Hudson Company.

Viewed against the cool blue and white background of her living room in S. Edgewood drive, Imogene Keller looks hardly old enough to be the mother of an 18-year-old son. She resembles a high fashion model—but with more sparkle than genuine ultra-chic mannequins are generally allowed to display.

Was Born in Texas

She was born in Texas, has lived in Boston, Kansas, and La Jolla, Calif., considers Detroit a wonderfully stimulating city too often taken for granted by those who live in its environs.

Trained as a bacteriologist at the University of Michigan, she worked in research at Scripps College in California before her marriage; but despite this scientific background, she has always been interested in the arts.

For the past two years, Mrs. Keller has been active in the Art to the Schools program sponsored by the Junior League in cooperation with the Detroit Institute of Arts. She took as many art courses as she could cram into a heavily-loaded scientific schedule at the U. of M., realized on a recent European trip how much she still had to learn, and returned just as the Art to the Schools program was about to begin.

Teams Visit Schools

Two-woman teams of Junior League volunteers, trained by museum staff members, travel to schools in the Detroit area, delivering slide lectures on various artistic periods or topics. Each team receives a specific assignment, and Mrs. Keller, always fond of Far Eastern painting and sculpture, was given "Chinese Tomb Art."

In order to lecture, she had to learn her subject—an illustration of what Mrs. Keller considers one of the Junior League's major benefits, as far as members are concerned: the opportunity for education.

Starting as a provisional member when her children were young, Mrs. Keller has worked on such League projects as Children's Theater and the League Shop. She has studied community and state problems in the fields of health, education and welfare, and served as chairman of the Juvenile Court Citizens Advisory Committee, a Detroit outgrowth of the first White House Conference on Juvenile Delinquency during the Eisenhower Administration.

Have Choice of Services

The wonderful thing about Junior League, Mrs. Keller feels, is that every member can find a service to fit herself, her needs, her time, her talents. And the League teaches citizenship, enables members to learn their city, adds a new dimension to members' lives, the Fashion Show chairman states.

For the past 18 summers, Mr. and Mrs. Keller with their growing family, Paul, now 18, Arthur, 15, and Joey, 6, have vacationed at the family cottage on Crystal Lake.

This summer, Mrs. Keller may not be able to get away. Her work for the 1963 "Fashionscope" will keep her busy until mid-September.

Appointed chairman in March, Mrs. Keller began preparing for the '63 Show three weeks ahead of schedule. Helped by a "marvelously enthusiastic" committee, she oversees all phases of the "Fashionscope" presentation, from ushering to tea table decorations.

To Preview Styles

"Fashionscope," a copy-written name, will be a complete preview of this year's styles. The J. L. Hudson Company's Fashion Show co-ordinator, Madelyn Coe, is currently in Paris, checking and selecting gowns for the September benefit.

All proceeds from the Show are returned to the community through the League's various service projects, which have in the past included Detroit League for the Handicapped, Home Education for Crippled Children, Needle and Loom Guild for Foreign Born Women, Training Cottage for Blind Children, Pioneer House for Disturbed Boys, and many others.

In keeping with the chairman's philosophy that enthusiasm, enjoyment, and just plain "fun" are essential to the successful completion of a volunteer project, most of the Fashion Show committee's business meetings, scheduled at two-week intervals throughout the summer, are planned as "parties."

Two Parties Held

Mrs. Keller decided, in the very beginning, to do away with such things as training sessions for ticket sellers. Instead, she opened the '63 Fashion Show campaign with a publicity party at the Ted Ewalds', and scheduled similar parties-cum-business meetings, such as the recent session around Mrs. Robert Kanzler's swimming pool.

Invitations were mailed early this year, and Mrs. Keller already has over $1,000 in advance reservations. Her particular problem in promoting the Show revolves around the fact that, during the summer, people are constantly coming and going and everyone relaxes to a certain extent.

Mrs. Keller has, herself, just returned from a trip to Nassau with her husband, flying first to Dallas for the annual house party given by a friend of her family, then on to Florida and the Bahamas.

Will Visit Parents

In October, with "Fashionscope" behind her, she plans a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Kincaide, at their new penthouse apartment in Wichita, Kan. Mr. Kincaide is an art collector, and the Kellers' living room was planned around a glowing winter scene he gave his son-in-law and daughter several years ago.

Mrs. Kincaide is an artist, and four scenes—two of the ocean at the Kincaide's former summer home in La Jolla, an Arizona desert panorama, and a tidy Kansas farm vista—occupy places of honor above the Kellers' blue-and-white sofa.

Besides her Junior League work, Mrs. Keller is active in the Ibox Club, interested in amateur dramatics, and an avid reader, preferring the classics and poetry to today's "realistic" writing.

She once heard an Episcopal priest describe modern theater and books as "today's real sermons," and thinks the phrase particularly apt, but feels that the pendulum has swung too far towards "shock for shock's sake" in the works of such authors as Edward Albee and Tennessee Williams.

Isn't Ever Bored

She enjoys traveling, but is quite happy at home—not, as it first appears, a contradiction, but simply the feeling of a woman who cannot conceivably be bored anywhere.

For the past two years, she has been a full-time Sunday School teacher at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Keller "loves keeping house," although she feels every woman, to be interesting and stimulating, should have an outside interest.

Currently, she is busy designing shifts in the gay, bright, colors and patterns she loves, with her latest efforts a vivid strawberry pattern on white (for herself), and a brown-on-white design with two huge brown bumblebees on one side (for

Revolt Against Fancy Hairdos

is the Head-Line story in the current issue of "LOOK!"

If you have been reading my copy regularly you know that in our Salon at 117 Kercheval we heartily agree with "Look" when they say, "The era of exaggerated hairdos is ending, and simplicity is back. This 'New-Wave' of Natural looking hair means feminine emancipation from over-teasing and la c u e r after five years of enslavement. New styles for short, medium and long hair all depend on the right cut and shaping . . . can be maintained with a minimum of care."

Three cheers for the return of lively, lustrous hair . . . and for the staff at "Look" for devoting ten pages to an important message to women everywhere! My bet is that most men will agree.

OLD FASHIONED LENTIL SOUP UP-DATED

Contributed by Mrs. Daniel Lennox Wells

- Ham bone (with at least 1 lb. ham attached)
- 2 cups lentils (1 lb.)
- 2 quarts water (include any vegetable juices you have saved)
- 1 pt. tomato juice (or canned tomatoes, chopped)
- ½ tsp. salt (remember, ham is salty)
- 1 T. sharp barbecue sauce
- 1 tsp. Accent (pinch garlic salt, optional)
- 1 medium onion, chopped fine
- 3 stalks celery (and leaves, minced)
- 6 medium-sized carrots, diced
- ¼ cup green pepper, diced (optional)

The secret of this soup's tastiness and heartiness lies in being generous with the ham. Remove all skin and MOST of the fat. Pour liquids over ham bone in large kettle (4 qt. or more).

Wash lentils thoroughly in colander. Add lentils, seasonings and onion to kettle. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils, reduce heat and simmer 1 hour; if any scum forms, remove it. Stir occasionally to avoid sticking.

Add remaining vegetables and cook over low-medium heat for no longer than ½ hour. Remove ham bone. Cut ham into bite size pieces and return to soup. Serve with croutons, if desired.

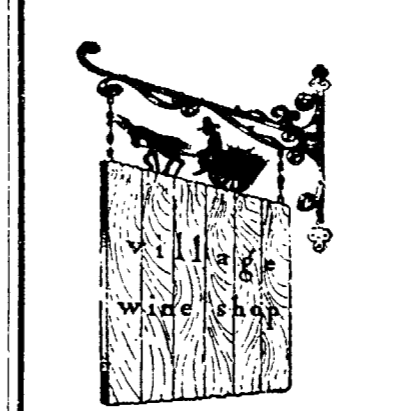

This recipe makes enough soup for 12 or more persons; it can be stored in the refrigerator and re-heated in small batches for as long as it lasts.

a friend who has "beautiful brown eyes but thinks she can't wear brown!"

Enthusiastic—but unruffled; relaxed—but active; Mrs. Keller is one of the "doers" of this world.

Ask her how she finds time for all these activities.

"Time!" laughs Imogene Keller. "There's always time!"

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

Hurry . . . it's worth a trip to see the new additions that have been added to the fabulous fashion values at Walton-Pierce's Final Sale!

WIGMAKING . . . is one of the oldest arts. Through the centuries, as today, fine wigs were made of natural hair . . . by hand. At Leon's 17888 Mack Avenue wigs are cared for by expert hands. They are repaired by hand and streaks are carefully woven into them . . . such is the case with hairpieces, too. Call for an appointment to try on a wig or hairpiece and see the advantages of a naturally beautiful one.

Seeing Is Believing . . . take a look at the seven kitchen models at 30489 Mack Avenue. Mutschler Decorator Service also offers seventy combinations. They present their samples in a coordinated brochure and they used the very best sources for ceiling, counter tops, floor covering and drapery fabrics. You can be sure the results will be enduring and beautiful.

So Popular . . . have been the grooming preparations made for The Notre Dame Pharmacy that many re-orders have been put through and eagerly awaited. For example, the soothing Pre-shave, one of the newest products in the line is very much in demand. We like and have tried the following: Hand and Body Lotion, Refillable Hair Spray, Hand Cream, Spray Deodorant Bath Oil and Shampoo. Start with any one . . . and we know you'll be sending for more.

For The Romantic . . . a combination of two hurricane lamps that slip on the umbrella post . . . to add a subtle glow to evening in the garden. As a practical suggestion, Mrs. Woodbridge says she uses bug repellent candles. By the way, she is leaving August fourth to see The Gift Show in Chicago to find unique serving accessories and gift ideas for The Village Wine Shop, 15338 East Jefferson, where the umbrella lights sell for seven dollars.

Gallery Gazing . . . we watched Renee starting a dry mount of an original water color. It was a tiger lily. She had selected a black bevel, a pumpkin mat and a mottled wood frame. This was a custom order. The finished presentation should be stunning. Then we went upstairs to see the gallery that is now hung for six weeks. Many of the works are done in mixed media which proves to be a very interesting show. See it at Les Galeries de Renee, 14944 East Jefferson.

The Official Opening . . . of Hunter's Pharmacy and Coins was an adventure for us. Mr. Hunter showed us the coin collection and explained that it is not only an adjunct to history but can be a wonderful way of investing. His son had sold him his collection for seven hundred and twenty-five dollars . . . a tidy savings for a young man who could have spent his money on trivia. We also met Mrs. Howard, her collection of Early American coins is widely admired and is insured for over one hundred thousand dollars. It is kept in a bank and viewed about twice a year as a whole . . . but parts of it are taken out and used for instruction and the interest of young collectors. We were shown the pharmacy with the latest systems and we'll tell you more about this another day. All in all, Hunter's Pharmacy and Coins, 19603 Mack will prove to be a regular stop for us . . . as it will for many other Pointers.

From Hong Kong . . . come large good looking and very useful bampers . . . in three sizes . . . from twenty to thirty-five dollars. They are at the top of the stairs at 17007 Kercheval in the Village and as you know by now that is the address of The Top Drawer . . . a delightful gift shop! You also know about the VALUES offered during their Christmas in July SALE . . . because we've been telling you about the Madame Alexander and Marlon dolls . . . the toys and the beautiful clothing for children that so many people are buying now . . . putting away for under the tree gifts.

Being Fashionable . . . can mean being comfortable. Especially when you wear Roman Walks . . . a soft . . . cushioned leather thong sandal in go-with-everything colors. Two forty-nine at The Grosse Pointe Shoe Repair, 397 Fisher Road.

The Early Morning Blooming . . . of pretty new hair-dos created and cultivated at D-J Beauty Salon, 405 Fisher Road . . . adds much to the a.m. scenery in Grosse Pointe . . . appointments by request at seven thirty . . . which proves that beauties are never lazy!

This 'N That for Pets . . . 19443 Mack has all the accessories the best dressed yachting dog could want. Fun sailor collars, captain's caps . . . practical no-scratch deck boots and life preservers in all sizes . . . more about the boutique . . . next time.
