

CITIZENS RALLY TO AID CLUB

Work Started on Addition to Maire School

PRINCIPAL JOHN HAMMEL and veteran fourth grade teacher ANGELA FOWLER examine blueprints for the addition to the Lewis E. Maire Elementary School as ground was broken recently. Miss Fowler has been on the staff there since it opened in 1936. Included in the proposed addition are two classrooms and a stairway to the third floor to replace the present fire escape. Other changes will provide for a kitchen and the use of the gymnasium as a lunch room for pupils. The playground on the third floor will be converted to an instructional materials center. The office will be renovated and a room for a clinic will be provided.

Hospital Addition Backers Cite Civil Defense Argument

Proposed Enlargement Would Provide Shelter For Another 2,445 Persons in the Event of An Atomic Attack, Supporters Claim

Fall-out shelter accommodations for an additional 2,445 Grosse Pointe residents are provided for in Bon Secours Hospital's expansion plan, Frank Couzens, Jr., chairman of the Bon Secours Advisory Board, disclosed today.

The hospital's request for the zoning change and exception required before its expansion program can be started is pending before the Grosse Pointe City Council. An advisory question has been placed on the November 5 ballot by the Council to enable all registered voters to indicate whether they are for or against the proposed expansion.

Bon Secours is one of five shelter areas in the City of Grosse Pointe approved by Wayne County Civil Defense. It now has space for 155 people in the only portion of the basements of the present buildings available for the purpose. If approved by the City, the expansion would enable the hospital to shelter 2,600 people in the event of atomic attack.

Other Approved Locations

Other approved shelters are Jacobson's, with room for 190; the Sewage Pump Station on Neff Road, 65; Maire School, 150; and Walton Pierce Company, 130.

These five shelters have a total of 690 approved fall-out protection spaces, covering about 10 per cent of the city's population. The Bon Secours addition alone, if approved by

Neighborhood Club Needed, Leaders Say

Financial Drive Seems Likely to Rehabilitate Condemned Building on Waterloo

Invited civic leaders, church and organization heads and municipal officials jammed the central meeting hall of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Monday night to discuss the plight of the Neighborhood Club and offer suggestions concerning the future of this important community asset.

The building on the Neighborhood Club property in the City of Grosse Pointe has been condemned as unsafe, and it has been necessary to channel all of the indoor programs into the school buildings and the War Memorial Center. The club board members wanted a representative opinion on whether or not the condemned building should be restored or replaced, and whether the citizens feel that the Neighborhood Club is really needed in the community. They got their answer Monday night.

Plenty of Feeling

The discussion established the fact that there is certainly enough public feeling about the value of the Neighborhood Club to the community to assure that it will be accomplished. Just how this will be accomplished was not definitely resolved during the meeting, but it was clearly established that the club will not die and that the women will be given all the help needed to restore it to its full usefulness.

Police Heard Crash

Police Lt. George LaForest and Jurcak said they were in the station house, Lake Shore and Vernier, when they heard the crash at 2:42 a.m.

Describes Problem

Albert D. Thomas, builder and a member of the club's advisory board, described the damage to the building, caused by soil movements, and said experts agree that it will cost about $100,000 to make the structure safe for continued use. According to him, all the careful checking which went on for months before the building was declared unsafe, shows that the damage is confined to the front wall and immediate adjoining area, and the large rear portion, including the gymnasium, is perfectly sound and safe.

Would Be Difficult

There was considerable discussion as to whether it would be possible for all of the Pointes to get together and finance the project out of municipal funds. Mayor William Connolly of the Farms said he thought it would be most difficult to sell his community on the idea of helping to finance a recreational center such as this, outside of the Farms, when the municipality already had an extensive program and diversified facilities of its own.

Police Defend Residents Named in Crime Probe

A number of Pointe residents named as Mafia leaders by Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards at a recent Senate Investigation Subcommittee hearing in Washington, D. C., are model citizens as far as three Pointe Police Department heads are concerned.

None of those named by Edwards have ever run afoul of the law in the Pointes, at least not in the past 15 years. Prior to that, some may have been arrested and convicted, but not in the Pointe, it was disclosed.

Fireman Helps Nab Hit-Runner

A Park Fire Department lieutenant was instrumental in the arrest of two youths sought for questioning by East Detroit authorities in a hit-and-run injury accident in their community. The youths admitted they were involved.

On Wednesday, October 9, Lt. James Sullivan, while on fire inspection detail, heard a police radio broadcast, asking all police departments to be on the lookout for a car with two persons in it, who were said to be responsible for the accident. The broadcast gave a description of the car and the license number.

The lieutenant saw the car parked in the 1300 block of Beaconsfield, with two males sitting in it, and notified the Park Police Department.

Patrolmen Gary Mitchell and Paul Roek were dispatched to the scene, where Sullivan pointed out the youths, who were walking away from their automobile.

The youths, one 17 years old, and the other 16 years old, were taken into custody. They told the arresting officers that they were in the hit-run car at the time of the East Detroit accident. It was not disclosed which of the two was the driver.

Both boys were released to East Detroit police.

City Election To Be Held November 5

Burgess Unopposed for Mayor; Four Running for Three Vacancies on Council

November 5 is the date of the regular election in Grosse Pointe City. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voting will take place at Maire School instead of the Neighborhood Club where it has been in the past.

Absentee ballots will be available Friday. Application for these may be made until 2 p.m. Saturday, November 2.

Special Question

"The Sisters of Bon Secours Hospital have petitioned to rezone certain property in the City of Grosse Pointe to permit off street automobile parking and also to construct an addition to the present hospital buildings requiring exception to the zoning ordinance of the City. The City Council is of the opinion that its decision in respect to said petition involves a present determination affecting the overall future land use and development of the City of Grosse Pointe and wishes to obtain an advisory opinion of the electorate with respect to granting or denying the said petition of the Sisters of Bon Secours Hospital."

Do you favor granting the petition for the proposed expansion of Bon Secours Hospital as presented and available for inspection at the City offices?"

Alonso C. Allen will not be running for mayor this year. The only petition for that position was made by David E. Burgess.

Four Run for Council

Four men have filed to fill three vacancies for councilmen. They are Lloyd Marentette, incumbent; Walter G. Huber, William Harley, and Ernest B. Kelly Jr.

Mr. Marentette, 389 Notre Dame, is seeking a second four-year term. He was elected for the first time in 1959.

Mr. Huber resides at 365 Notre Dame. His wife's name is Penny and they have two children at Pierce Junior High.

Schools Prefer Teachers Who Continue to Improve Education During Summer

Many Members of Local Staffs Take Courses in All Manner of Subjects at Universities; Survey Cites Typical Examples

"One of our goals in hiring professional personnel to staff the Grosse Pointe Public School System is to attract the continuing learner," Lawrence F. Kennedy, Director of Professional Personnel, said recently. "We seek the person who attempts to keep abreast of new developments in his own subject matter field and grade level, as well as in the larger educational scene throughout the nation," he added.

Statistics compiled by Kennedy's office show that the schools are achieving this desired end to a large measure. It has been ascertained that 241 members of the professional staff of 538 took courses totaling 946½ semester hours during the 1962-63 year and summer recess.

The returns indicate that the continuing learners among teachers and administrators fall roughly into three categories: (1) those taking courses in their own area of specialization; (2) those broadening their general background; (3) those taking courses required to meet requirements for master's degrees or doctorates. The account that follows is a building by building sampling of the activities of some of the teachers who have recently returned to the classroom in a changed role.

Three at Pierce

Of the many staff members at Pierce Junior High School who have recently taken courses, three members of the departments of home economics, social studies and physical education are typical, in range and depth of their work. Sophia Boan completed a course in group guidance. Tom Estes one in adolescent psychology, and Frances Gillis several classes in economics and comparative government, as well as a course in music appreciation.

One of the many instructors at Ferry Elementary School who improved their background knowledge during the past year is Louise Allen, with courses in music and science. James Bowen met his interests in art and gen-

Crash Fatal To Residents Of Woods

Mr. and Mrs. V. Drehmer Killed as Cars Collide on Lakeshore in St. Clair Shores

Two Woods residents were killed in a head-on crash at Lakeshore and Jefferson, St. Clair Shores, on Sunday, October 13. The accident is still under investigation, according to St. Clair Shores police.

Killed were Virgil L. Drehmer, 53, of 1795 Newcastle, and his wife, Mildred E. 50.

The driver of the other car, Lawrence W. Clod, 21, of 12675 Racine, Detroit, was injured, and at the last report was still hospitalized and unable to give police details of what happened.

Mr. Drehmer is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Barbara Maki of the Pointe; a grandson, John; his parents, Leroy and Harriet Drehmer; a sister, Mrs. Virginia Farlin; and a brother, Vernon R.

Besides her daughter and grandson, Mrs. Drehmer is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Ruth and Mrs. Cecelia McCarthy; and a brother, Andrew Rivard.

Classified Ad Turns Up Nice Story About Honesty

It pays to . . . But the story really begins with the recent day when Mrs. Ruth Mihalek, of Lakepointe, and her daughter Debbie, 4, went to a neighborhood dime store to exchange a toy.

While waiting at the exchange counter, Mrs. Mihalek became interested when a porter, from the store, stepped up to the clerk, placed a bracelet on her desk.

"If this isn't claimed, it belongs to me," he smiled, explaining he'd found it on the floor a few minutes before. It was a pretty bracelet and Mrs. Mihalek thought how honest of the porter to turn it in; was pleased to note that a floor manager was called. The manager said he'd let the porter know if its owner didn't call for it. He added he'd also have the bracelet appraised.

The story resumes two days later when Mrs. Mihalek, settled at home with a cup of coffee, was reading her Grosse Pointe News which just had arrived.

One of her favorite sections is "classified" and she never misses a look at the Lost and Found columns. The very first listing under that heading caught her eye:

"LOST — Bracelet, antique silver rose design, set with matched moonstones. Reward, TUxedo X-XXXX."

Speeder Nabbed Following Chase

A Detroit Motorist Who Sought to Elude Woods Police in a 60-Mile an Hour Chase Early Saturday Morning, October 12, Was Captured When He Turned onto a Dead End Street.

Arrested and charged with reckless driving was Ronald E. Kathrein, 23, of 3512 Courville. He was taken to the station, where, after being booked and ticketed, he was released after posting a bond of $100.

Kathrein is scheduled to appear before Woods Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, October 19.

The motorist was arrested by Patrolmen Norman Handley and Thomas Kerving, who quoted Kathrein as saying, at the time he was stopped, "I'm not drunk, I'm just feeling good."

The policemen said that they observed Kathrein driving north on Mack avenue at a very high speed. They paced him at 60 miles an hour, they said.

At Vernier road, the officers said, Kathrein turned off his car lights and made a right turn onto Vernier, from Vernier he made a right turn onto Sunningdale park, drove to Sunningdale drive and made a 50-mile an hour left turn toward Wedgewood.

At Wedgewood, Kathrein made a left turn and was forced to come to a stop at the dead-end.

Handley and Kerving said that Kathrein ignored stop street signs at the intersections of Holiday and Fairway drive.

Best Teachers Continue Their Studies

eral elementary curriculum courses. The relatively heavy load of graduate courses carried by Jean Harris included Introduction to Linguistic Science and Introduction to Primitive Cultures, as well as two other classes in anthropology.

At the High School, Robert Welch of the English department completed a course in contemporary American literature at Wayne State University, and Doris Trott enrolled in two workshops this past summer in the British Isles. She took a course in Shakespeare at the University of Liverpool, and another in the history of Scotland at St. Andrews University.

Does Research at MSU

Loren Houtman, one of many continuing learners in the mathematics department, did research at Michigan State University. Bernard Parzych of business education, carried an extensive graduate load at the University of Michigan.

Robert Kinnear, who is assigned to biology and coaching duties, completed a course in music appreciation. Cecil Vogt, driver education teacher, pursued courses in conservation and European geography of Europe. At Kerby Elementary School, kindergarten teacher Evelyn Kyzivat found her interest guiding her to a political science offering, Communism versus the Western World. Martha Quigley took a course in biology during the summer at Central Michigan University. Nancy Dilloway pursued a course entitled Geography of the Western United States. Rita Flaherty, on the same upper grade cycle, attended the University of Delaware for educational tests and measurements, as well as American literature this past summer.

At Poupard Elementary School, first grade teacher Diane Winter completed University of Michigan courses in psychology and in the methods of teaching, reading, writing and spelling. Courses at the Detroit Institute of Art have drawn the interest of another first grade teacher, Danuta Stypinski. And teacher of sixth graders, Charles Stewart, has a new course in children's literature to his credit. Music instructor William Ferry enrolled in a course in the geography of Latin America.

She Took Russian

At Parcels Junior High School, Helen Fildew, Latin and French instructor, increased her linguistic knowledge by completing a course in conversational Russian. Margaret Graham completed her master's degree in June, 1963. Susan Boynton of the English department, attended Exeter College of Oxford University this past summer for a course in Milton and another in the history of 17th century England.

At Maire Elementary School, sixth grade teacher Jean Snell enrolled in classes in psychology and science. Dorothy Rieven, instructor in French, took Italian during her spare time. And Guido Sabella, fifth grade, took an opportunity to build upon his background in science.

Among the teachers at Brownell Junior High School who have been pursuing graduate studies, Laura Gregory has taken depth courses in linguistics and literature. And librarian Virginia Hoffhines completed courses in literature for older children and in the history of books. John Tousley of the music department, did research and final work on his master's essay. Marilyn Krueger, art, has continued her interest in weaving, printmaking, oil and watercolor painting.

Patricia Crowley, fourth grade teacher at Defer, enrolled in a University of Michigan course dealing with Russian history dating from 1815. And of the same staff, Mary Louise Hess, another fourth grade instructor, attended a reading clinic at Syracuse University. Jim Lewis, on the fifth and sixth grade cycle, completed, among other courses, one in safety education.

Among those at the schools' administrative offices completing courses are Ray MacArthur, Director of Business and Finance, who took a refresher in the form of four hours in intermediate accounting. Chief accountant Emma Bichter of the same office completed two offerings in economics at the University of Detroit. And Joe Spagnoli, curriculum coordinator, recently completed a course in the learning process at Wayne State University.

Principal Brushes Up

Principal Frank Welchenbach of Trombly School brushed up this summer with a survey of issues in elementary education and other staff members took a variety of paths to improved backgrounds for teaching. Marianne Concilio completed an offering in the structure of American society, Elaine Bryden took creative arts, and Shirley Corfis completed her master's degree. Moving far afield, sixth grade teacher Anne Wallace attended two workshops in Great Britain, one in the British Economy at Bristol University, the other in Modern Theater, at Sheffield University.

At Mason School, Diane McCullough took a series of courses at the University of Michigan, ranging from political science through child development and philosophy of education. Marilyn Ralph enrolled at Wayne State University for surveys of Italian and Spanish literature. Mary Rogers took a heavy load of graduate courses at Michigan State University.

On the Richard staff Jesse Lowther carried a full graduate program at Michigan this past summer. And Ernest Alden has returned from a year's study at Michigan State University. First grade teacher Mary Elizabeth Edwards completed her MA degree.

Does Master's Essay

On the Monteith staff Richard Olds completed his master's essay in the spring, and Earl Penno enrolled for classes in Michigan geography, psychology and guidance. Olga Matheef is working on a master's degree and Donald K. Keith, in physical education there, recently finished his master's essay at Wayne State University.

Among the Barnes teachers who have chosen to continue their education are Henry Reynolds, Ronald Ferguson and Frank Bozarth who enrolled for more work in science, Ellen Lauppe who did research, and Don Schrom, who completed a heavy program in watercolor painting and Problems in American Art History at Bowling Green State University. Dr. Winnifred Fenton, elementary music consultant, took a course in humanities at Wayne State this summer.

From this sampling of the recent activities of the personnel of the ten elementary schools, three junior high schools and the senior high school, it is clear that the professional staff of the Grosse Pointe Public School System is hard at work to become better teachers of the boys and girls and youth of the community.

Errant Driver Accused on Two Counts

Two Farms policemen recognized a motorist who was driving in violation of restrictions shortly after midnight, Monday, October 7, and issued him two tickets.

Ticketed for driving on a restricted license and for having bad car brakes, was Gilbert C. Vandermarlier, 23, of 213 Muir road.

Patrolmen Otto Glanert and Donald Herbert, the arresting officers, said they were cruising north on Moross road when they observed Vandermarlier going east on Mack avenue, at about 1 a.m.

The officers said they recognized the motorist and knew he had a restricted license because the previous evening they answered a trouble call at Mack and Warren. This was a Detroit police jurisdiction, but the Farms policemen remained to assist Detroit policemen in dispersing a group of boys.

Glanert and Herbert said that Vandermarlier presented the Detroit patrolmen his operator's license as identification and it showed that he was forbidden to drive, except to and from work.

The Farms officers said that the last time Vandermarlier was giving a break for a traffic violation, he drag-raced in the Shores at 100 miles an hour. This was on Lake Shore drive, they said.

Vandermarlier's car was impounded by the Farms police-ment for bad brakes, and the tickets. He is scheduled for motorist was issued the two court on October 30.

Cadillac

LOOK WHAT CADILLAC DID FOR AN ENCORE!

If ever there was a time when a car could have rested on its laurels—it would surely be Cadillac today.

For this magnificent automobile—beautiful to behold and fine in performance—has just finished its year of greatest public acceptance in more than six decades.

And yet—just look what Cadillac did for an encore in 1964!

It introduced a full new measure of automotive beauty and elegance . . . brilliant and luxurious new interiors . . . magnificent new performance and handling . . . and a whole new concept of interior comfort.

Cadillac's new styling is by far the most elegant in its history—from its new divided grille to its dramatically new rear lighting assembly.

There are new fabrics and leathers . . . and new appointments that add pleasure to every journey. Exclusive new Comfort Control* allows you to pre-set interior temperature exactly to your liking and it will stay there winter and summer—while at the same time controlling humidity level.

And performance? Just wait till you drive this one! There's a new engine, a remarkably improved Hydra-Matic, and on some models, a new Turbo Hydra-Matic. Both transmissions assure amazing agility and a new over-all standard of performance.

All in all, Cadillac for 1964 is more than a hundred ways new. And the total result is the most tempting automotive creation of all time.

Why not schedule a demonstration drive?

VOTE YES OCT. 28

"X" marks the spot on the ballot where Grosse Pointe voters can show how much they appreciate their fine school system. Monday, October 28 is the day. All registered voters may vote, whether or not they own property.

If you are a voting parent, you already know that the education of your child is at stake. Half of the school budget will come from the millage on which we're voting. Your YES vote does more, of course. It will help retain and attract the good teachers that a top-quality system must have to do the kind of job you want. It will also help meet other rising costs that all educational systems face.

Even though you may not have children in school you gain because a good school system is a community asset. It keeps property values high and continues to make Grosse Pointe one of the most admired, most desirable places to live.

Basically, the school millage proposal is a renewal of the amount you now support, plus a modest increase*. The questions and answers at the right will show you why a YES vote is in your own best personal interest. So . . . on the alert, Grosse Pointers! Vote Monday, October 28. Vote YES to maintain your excellent school system. Vote YES to maintain your property values. Vote YES to keep Grosse Pointe a better place to live!

*Net increase sought is two mills. Voted tax rate expiring is 12 mills (11.25 for operation, 0.75 mill for capital improvement). Latter fractional mill renewal not being requested. The 14 mills sought will, therefore, provide an additional 2.75 mills for operation.

Q. Why is the millage increase necessary?

A. Three reasons. First, our present rate cannot support current expenses beyond this year. An increase is needed just to maintain present salary schedules and meet our other rising costs. Second, growing enrollments point to a need for additional teachers if our present standards are to be maintained. Third, our salary schedules are not fully competitive and must be improved if we are to attract and retain the outstanding teachers a quality school system must have.

Q. What does the increase mean in dollar cost?

A. It amounts to two dollars for each thousand dollars of state-equalized valuation on property. Example: A home with a market value of $15,000 will usually be assessed at about $6,000, or about 40% of real value. On this home, the increase would be $12, or one dollar per month.

Q. How long will the voted millage be in effect?

A. The Board of Education is asking your approval for a six-year period, 1964 to 1969 inclusive.

Q. Where do we go to cast our votes?

A. Vote at the elementary school in your neighborhood. Polls will be open 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., Monday, Oct. 28.

Q. What does the millage mean to Grosse Pointe schools?

A. Right now, over 45% of your school budget is supplied by voted millage. Under the proposed 14-mill program, slightly over 50% of the total operating budget will be provided. Thoughtful citizens can appreciate the importance of the coming referendum.

HERE'S WHAT YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS ARE SAYING . . .

Blair Moody, Jr.
We all must invest to insure the full development of our most valuable natural resource—our children's future knowledge.

William E. Bokram
The additional millage is a small price to pay for the adequate education of our children.

Louis J. Asmus
A continued, sound educational policy today assures greater light for tomorrow.

Leonard Woodcock, International Vice. Pres. UAW
For the survival of the individual—and of America—a first-rate school system is indispensable.

Kenneth Smith
I urge everyone to vote "Yes" on this proposal. It is to the benefit of everyone.

H. H. Sadler
There is no question that we must continue to support all educational growth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McQueen
We consider any investment in education the best possible investment.

Mrs. Stirling Loud
The future of our democratic way of life depends on well educated and enlightened leaders of tomorrow.

William Q. Newman
I intend to support the millage proposal.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Law
(Past Pres. of Mothers' Club)
Our fine Grosse Pointe schools are one of our best community assets.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Stoetzer
(Past Pres. of Brownell & Monteith PTA's)
Adequate education is a prerequisite for successful living—our outstanding school system merits the whole-hearted financial support of the Grosse Pointe community.

Richard E. Noyes
(Grosse Pointe Wds. Boat Club)
I think we owe it to our community and the children of our community to continue our support of the program of the Grosse Pointe School System by voting for the millage proposal on October 28, 1963.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Mertz
The result of this bond issue will reflect on us. Are we seriously concerned about our children's education, and our property value? Vote Yes!

William F. Connelly, Jr.
(Mayor—City of Grosse Pointe Farms)
The G.P.S.S. is the finest and we as citizens should keep it on TOP.

Dr. Louis Alcorta
I moved to G.P. because of the quality of its school system. A desire for quality bears with it the need to accept the financial responsibility for its attainment and maintenance.

Dr. Wm. Bowles
The G.P. schools have a high academic rating which is the direct result of a top quality staff. Part of the 2 mill increase is necessary to keep salaries competitive with those of other systems.

Thomas Candler (Pres. Ferry PTA)
Nowhere is your dollar better spent than in supporting and maintaining the fine educational facilities found in G.P. Vote October 28!

Dr. Louis Carbone
Grosse Pointe Public Schools should remain a community asset.

Edward C. Chase, Jr.
Any analysis of our school system services and expenditures will demonstrate justification for this financial support.

Dr. Hunter H. Comly
(Director, Children's Center of Wayne County)
Loss of needed revenue now would deplete the system, lead to inefficiency, undermine confidence and deprive future citizens their rightful opportunities.

Frederick Conit (PTA—Poupard)
I heartily approve of the Grosse Pointe School System as it operates today and in the past, and will vote yes on the millage increase.

Warren D. Couger
I believe the 14 mill levy is necessary to maintain the present high standards in our school system.

Jac. D. Ducat
I would certainly like to see the children in our community continue to receive top quality teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric E. Erikson
We endorse the proposed millage election on Oct. 28, 1963. We agree that the 14 mill levy the Board of Education seeks is a valid need.

Mrs. Louise Erickson
There is a need for retaining the superior teachers who are leaving Grosse Pointe High.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fortunski, P.E.
Unlike Industrial automation, a high standard of education was, is, and always will be dependent upon human factor of quality teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gandelot
Our school system has wide repute for its high scholastic standing. Even those of us whose sons and daughters now are graduates, owe it to our community to help maintain this excellent reputation by voting for a two-tenths of a cent increase in our school tax.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert G. Goebel
Grosse Pointers have realized the importance of good schools and have supported them financially so that today they have an enviable reputation for excellence. Now it is imperative that the voters support the millage referendum on Oct. 28 so that this excellence can be maintained and our young people assured of the quality education which they so justly deserve.

Dr. Armin Grams
The quality of a community's educational efforts are a direct reflection of the stature of its citizens.

Crossan Hays
In view of the conditions abroad and at home, we can do nothing better than to give our children the best education possible.

she had checked the store shortly after she discovered the loss but nothing had been turned in.

She thanked Mrs. Mihalek and asked if she could have her name and phone number, just to let her know if the bracelet proved to be hers.

Now events moved faster. Mrs. Distin went back to the dime store. This time another manager was on duty and remembered the bracelet.

About 10 days had passed between its loss and this inquiry. The porter, in the meantime, had been given the bracelet since it hadn't been claimed.

The porter was summoned. His girl friend, to whom he had given it, unclasped the attractive jewel from her arm and said she was glad its owner had been found—but she had been happy wearing it.

Since the antique silver and moonstone bracelet had been a gift from Mr. Distin to his wife there was much sentiment attached to it.

Happy that the ad in the Lost and Found column of Grosse Pointe News was so effective Mrs. Distin rewarded the porter, thanked the dime store manager and to Mrs. Mihalek there was a remembrance and this note:

"Thank you so much for your thoughtfulness. It was due to you that we were able to trace my bracelet. I am ever so grateful. Sincerely—Helen Distin."

So—it pays to advertise and to coin another phrase, "All's Well That Ends Well."

there's no room... even for doubt!

A few well-intentioned citizens are opposed to the expansion of Bon Secours Hospital. Their opposition is respected and their interest in our community can only be commended.

Others are in doubt, because in the heat of argument issues become confused and facts are abandoned. We are in a season of doubt.

Doubt, however, does not run a hospital. There is no room for doubt, when a human being needs care. The real issue, then, is Need:

- ... At Bon Secours seven beds are crowded into a single pediatrics ward. There isn't even a playroom.
- ... The laboratory, which should be centralized, is now divided into four locations.
- ... Three resident doctors must share a single room when on duty.
- ... Expectant fathers, families, even new patients must all sit in the same crowded waiting room.
- ... A single, small office handles all new admissions, with no privacy during interviews.
- ... The Post-operative Recovery Room is one-fourth the recommended size.
- ... Offices are in hallways.
- ... One waiting room, little larger than a closet, has to serve families waiting for patients in surgery.
- ... Seriously-ill patients all too frequently find no beds available.

Yes, the real issue is need. If you have any doubts, don't wait until you are a patient to make up your mind.

Real Estate Arguments Studied by Park Council

A public hearing requested by the Michigan Bank for a permit to demolish a home at 976 Barrington road, for a proposed parking lot for its branch office at Jefferson and Barrington, was postponed to December 9.

The postponement was agreed to on Monday, October 14 by the Park council, which also set its next regular meeting date, Monday, October 28, at 5 p.m., for a hearing on the proposed development of several vacant lots opposite the Park Municipal Building in Jefferson avenue.

A petition bearing 254 signatures of residents living in the Windmill Pointe Subdivision, was presented to the council by Orville Sherwood, executive secretary of the Grosse Pointe Property Association.

The petition requested that the council hear plans, similar to those approved and submitted by the Park Planning Commission last year, for developing the lots into a park with adjacent parking facilities.

Samuel L. Travis of 26039 York, Huntington Woods, attorney for the bank, said that the bank had purchased the Barrington home to make way for parking facilities for its customers.

However, he said, the bank did not wish to conflict with the wishes of subdivision residents, and therefore, bank officials are willing to postpone its request for the parking lot.

Travis said that if adequate parking facilities are provided on Jefferson avenue, to accommodate customers, the bank is more than willing to leave the building it purchased as a single residence. The bank does not wish to park on a side street if this would inconvenience residents.

At its last meeting held on September 23, the Park council, against the wishes of subdivision residents, approved a permit for the construction of a parking lot at the southwest corner of Jefferson, at Lakepointe. The entire council, except one councilman, who was absent, voted to grant the permit.

Methodist Hear Forum Speakers

A prominent business leader and a labor official have agreed here that business has positive responsibilities in the "changing city" — but they differed on how to achieve these.

"Only as business demonstrates its ability to meet the needs of people can it continue to merit public support," said George Gullen, vice-president, Industrial relations for the American Motors Corp. "The security of the community where the business is located has a direct relationship to the health of the business."

"Business and industry are involved in the larger question of the health of the economy as a whole," said Woodrow Ginsberg, director of research for the United Automobile, Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers International Union. "Production and technological techniques are being improved so rapidly that people are being displaced in employment much faster than we can provide jobs."

Both speakers highlighted the first forum on "Business and the Changing City" of the Commissions of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, 211 Morass rd. Approximately 60 members of the church and the public attended the Monday night session at the church whose pastor is the Rev. James D. Nixon.

Another "Changing City" forum — this one covering the church's role in the changing community — will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday night at the Grosse Pointe church.

Pointe Theater To Do Classic

The Grosse Pointe Community Theater is opening the new season with "The Teahouse of the August Moon" November 8 at the Fries Theatre, 32 Lake Shore road.

In New York "Teahouse of the August Moon" scored a run of 128 weeks (over 29 months) from October 15, 1953 to March 24, 1956, or a total of 1,028 performances—the 20th longest run in the history of the Broadway stage.

The show ran up similar records for popularity everywhere running more than 30 weeks in Chicago. Particularly did "Teahouse" become a favorite in foreign countries. Germany and Austria gave it a kind of popularity no previous play had ever had in those countries. London, Paris, Amsterdam, Stockholm, Rome—all European capitals thronged to the version of the play brought to them.

Productions staged by the U.S. Army in Japan and in Okinawa itself drew world-wide attention. Foreign theater-goers had a special relish for a play that showed that Pentagon-made plans, devised without accounting for local manners, customs and prejudices, must be amended by people on the ground, in order to work.

In the season of its original Broadway production, "Teahouse" made a clean sweep of every prize for theatrical excellence. It captured The Pulitzer Prize, N.Y. Drama Critics Award, The Donaldson Award, The Theatre Club Award, The Aegis Theatre Club Award, The American Theatre Wing's Antoinette Perry Award. This was only the fifth play in theatre history to win both the Pulitzer Prize and the N.Y. Critics' Award.

Starring in the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre's production will be Dick Bauhof of Rivard road as Sakini and Arthur Brownell of Washington road as Captain Fisby. The play will run Friday and Saturday, November 8, 9, 15 and 16. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available by calling TU 4-2710.

Paid Honor by Church

The REV. and MRS. ANDREW F. RAUTH are presented with a check and a color TV set in appreciation for their 20 years of dedicated leadership and service. Making the October 13 presentation on behalf of members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church is HUGH McTAVISH, right, a charter member of the church and chairman of the first building committee.

Several hundred members attended the tea held in the Lounge of the church at Mack and Torrey.

Mr. Rauth was installed as pastor on October 10, 1943, when services were held in the Mason School auditorium. There were 123 charter members. The present enrollment of 1,900 members attests to the growth Mr. Rauth's leadership has inspired.

The cornerstone of the present church house was laid July 27, 1947 and dedication ceremonies were held May 23, 1948. The addition of a chapel, church school and recreation rooms was dedicated June 3, 1956. The enlarged sanctuary was dedicated December 18, 1960.

Mr. Rauth was called to the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church from a pastorate at the Dansville (N.Y.) Presbyterian Church which he had served from 1937 to 1943. Previously, he had been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Gales, N.Y., 1928-36, and the First Presbyterian Church of Lodi, Wis., 1926-28.

He graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, in 1926 and was ordained to "The Gospel Ministry" at Hyde Park Presbyterian Church in Chicago on April 28, 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Rauth were married by the bride's father, the Rev. William Bauer, on August 9, 1927, in Syracuse, N.Y.

Mr. Rauth received an A.B. degree from the University of Rochester in 1931, and an A.M. degree from the same university three years later.

He attended the World Conference of Protestant Churches at Oxford, England, in 1937, as an associate delegate, and the North American Ecumenical Conference in Toronto, in 1941. He was a commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, USA, at Des Moines last spring. He is serving on committees of the Detroit Presbytery and the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches.

Hospital Taught To Fight Fires

Cottage Hospital observed Fire Prevention Week by sponsoring a fire safety program October 8 in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department.

The program was held on the grounds of the "hospital on the hill" and provided members of staff with information on the latest techniques in the use of fire extinguishers. Under the guidance of firemen and a representative of a Detroit fire equipment supply firm, a number of the hospital's employees participated in the demonstration of the use of the fire extinguishers.

A series of different types of fire were staged and extinguished by these employees.

A fire engine stood by in the hospital parking lot during the program.

In commenting on the program, Miss Carolyn Wicks, administrator of Cottage Hospital, noted:

"This is one in a series of periodic fire safety programs planned for our staff. These programs are intended to keep all of us at the hospital advised of the most recent information on fire safety and to provide the maximum in protection for our patients."

Miss Wicks revealed that copies of literature on fire protection would be enclosed in the pay envelopes of all Cottage Hospital employees to give further emphasis to the observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Arrangements for the program were made by C. D. Honkanen, assistant administrator of the hospital, and Chief M. William Mason of the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department.

To Show African Film at Center

Some of the most exciting film footage ever made is contained in "Adventure In Africa" which will be shown and personally narrated by Muri Deusing in Fries Auditorium on Thursday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock.

Presented by the Center's Cinema League, the showing is free of charge to the Grosse Pointe public and their guests. Muri and Mildred Deusing visited strange places with strange names—Egulu in the heart of the Congo, the Kasinga Channel in Uganda, the Serengeti Plains of Tanganyika, Amboseli Lake in the shadow of Mt. Kilimanjaro, the Addo bush in the Cape of Good Hope, the Hluhluwe Reserve in Zululand and the famous Kruger Park in the Transvaal.

The Deusingans ran the gamut of wildlife adventure. They visited the famous training school for elephants and the collecting station for the rare okapi in the Congo. On the Serengeti Plains they covered the epic story of the migration of vast herds of wildebeests and for many days they lived with a pride of 11 lions recording their day-to-day activities.

With the famous wild animal collector Willie DeBeer they ran down and captured giraffe and zebra and recorded the voice of the giraffe, rarely heard. They made extreme closeup studies of wild elephants feeding and bathing. They dug into a termite mound to film the story of these strange insects with their giant queen capable of laying 6,000 eggs a day. They visited the fascinating Snake Park at Port Elizabeth to get closeups of poisonous puff adders and the spitting cobra in action. They faced the mad elephants of Addo and got closeups of a black rhino with a forty inch horn and filmed the rare white rhino as well.

one home every minute!

Losses in lives and property continue to mount higher and higher almost every year. Over 75% of these fires are caused by carelessness. It is not enough to depend on fire protection alone when the potentials for and exposures to fire can be found anywhere, anytime. An earnest effort to prevent fires is equally important since protection and prevention go hand-in-hand.

Monroe Trojans Conquer Devils in Close Contest

The Monroe Trojans made a first period touchdown hold up for a 7 to 6 victory over the Grosse Pointe Blue Devil football team Saturday at GPHS field. The Devils, valiant in defeat, scored with 58 seconds to go in the game, but the extra point attempt was blocked and the Trojan touchdown held up.

The game opened with a quick Monroe touchdown. After Grosse Pointe's Joe Reed punted to the Monroe 24, the Trojans drove 76 yards in 15 plays, with halfback Curtus Garratt carrying nine times and fullback John Peterson plunging for the score. Late in the fourth quarter Ed Glanz intercepted a desperate lateral by quarterback Darrell Myers of Monroe. Lou Carr moved the team to the Trojan 44 and then passed 32 yards to Ron Crampton. With fourth and three on the five, the Trojans were penalized for offside, and from the two-and-a-half John Reynolds is plunged for the first Devil touchdown in three games.

Friday night the Blue Devils journeyed downriver to Wyandotte for a game with the second place Bears. Wyandotte battled to a 7-7 tie with Royal Oak last Friday after having upset Fordson 19-7 in their first league contest. Monroe will clash with Fordson while the Devils are in Wyandotte. The Trojans appear headed for their second straight Border Cities League crown. The standings:

Wyandotte	1	0	1
Fordson	1	1	0
Royal Oak	1	1	1
Grosse Pointe	0	3	0

Champs Defend Tennis Title

Joe Kristufek and Walter Cavanaugh, both of the Pointe, captured the top honors in the Second Annual John Felling Memorial Tennis Tournament held at the Indian Village Tennis Club over the weekend. They were the defending champions. They defeated Conrad Sailad and Karl Dieckmann by the score of 6-1, 6-4.

Kristufek and Cavanaugh also won the Detroit Veterans Doubles tennis championship recently.

GPUS Eleven Gets Big Win

Saturday night Grosse Pointe University School upset Pontiac Christian, 20-18.

Grosse Pointe expected this game to be the toughest of the season since Pontiac had a state rating in class C-D. GPUS is a class D school.

Pontiac scored quickly the first time it had the ball. However, Charlie McFeely ran 6 yards for the equalizing touchdown, as GPUS scored the first time they had the ball.

McFeely scored twice more on 28 and 56 yard runs to give him 42 points for the season and 129 yards for the game. George Perrin booted two extra points to give Grosse Pointe their 20 point total. Pontiac tallied on 6, 17, and 65 yard plays. Ralph Windgate, the Pontiac star, scoring on the 17-yard play.

This victory was definitely the most impressive of the season for GPUS, despite their earlier 53-6 win over St. Fredericks, since Pontiac was a highly rated school in the state. This upset evened Grosse Pointe's record at 2-2 and broke Pontiac Christian's 9-game winning streak.

Pony Leaguers Still Unbeaten

The Pony League players of the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Spartans remain undefeated. A blocked punt by Barry Kieren, a 25-yard run by Chip DeClaire, a 30-yard run by Scott Burns, a recovered fumble by David Moxley and a touchdown dash by Joseph Parise, on the last play of the game, made the score 6 to 0. The time playing of all the boys proved to be more than Farmington could overcome.

The Junior Varsity was victorious over Farmington by a score of 7 to 0. Due to the fine playing of both teams it was not till the closing minutes of the fourth quarter that Danny Clem scored the winning touchdown and Terry Budderan off right tackle for the extra point.

The Varsity made it a clean sweep by winning over Farmington, 12 to 7. The game was well played by all and the two touchdowns were scored by Chris Malafouris.

On Saturday afternoon, October 19, the Spartans will play the Dearborn T-Birds at Edison Jr. High located at Elmdale and Edison.

Every day of the year, a few men join the whiskey rebellion—they stop buying their whiskey by habit.

They join the ranks of the discriminating people who buy by choice. Bellows Partners Choice. They hear from someone that Partners Choice is gentle on the tongue. And it is. There's a good reason. It's made with more gentle premium whiskies blended with finest grain neutral spirits. They hear, too, that it's gentle on the pocket (only $4.35 4/5 Quart). In fact, Partners Choice is the gentle taste in whiskey. Don't wait till someone tells you . . . be a rebel yourself. Tonight.

Instead of habit...make it "Choice," the gentle whiskey from Bellows.

Fascinating Reconstruction At Fort Michilimackinac

Visitors to Ford Michilimackinac at Mackinac City, Michigan this fall were suddenly whisked 200 years into the past as history unfolded before their eyes.

As they enter the palisaded compound, the visitors come upon a building project which, this year, is one of the most unusual in America, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Working at an unhurried pace, carpenters are meticulously putting together a building. But these are no ordinary workmen, nor is this an ordinary building.

The carpenters are attired in 18th century clothing—from their silver-buckled shoes to their black, tri-corner cocked hats.

Remarks of one of the carpenters, Arnold Morse of Mackinac City, "I don't know those fellows ever managed to bend over. These breeches are pretty tight in the knees."

The architecture is French. Outside beams running vertically as supports consist of hewn 10"x10" pine timbers spaced about one foot apart.

During early excavation, the foundations for two huge fireplaces were uncovered which prompted the construction of two handsome, back-to-back double fireplaces.

The huge timbers are held in place by pegging and spiking. To add to the authenticity—so important to all restoration at the fort—square-headed, square-cut nails are used.

Completion of the Rogers House is expected late this fall, but the carpenters will be working in costume through late September.

Several historical accounts refer to billiard games played at the Commander's home, so the house will be fitted with an 18th century, "rec room," complete with a billiard table of the period.

Dr. Petersen estimated that, when finished, the Commander's quarters alone will cost about $30,000 to be recovered from admission fees.

The Rogers house will not be the last building reconstructed at the fort. Plans call for beginning the restoration of the Fort Michilimackinac church next year.

What happens beyond that will be determined by what is found through additional digging and excavation. Present indications are that the area is rich in artifacts.

Ask for Street Light on Cook

A petition was received by the Woods City Council for a street light on the corner of Cook road and Thorn Tree lane.

Because of weather conditions, it is doubtful if Detroit Edison will be able to complete this year's street lighting program.

Lights were scheduled for Thorn Tree lane in 1962 but inasmuch as the residents installed gas lights, installation was postponed until 1968.

Shores Judge Hears 3 Cases

Santo J. Ciraulo of 21238 Universal, East Detroit, was found guilty of being a disorderly person and fined $25 by Shores Judge John Gillis, after a hearing held on Monday, October 7.

The judge ordered Ciraulo to pay the fine at the rate of three dollars a month, and placed him on probation for one year, during which Ciraulo must seek psychiatric treatment.

Also found guilty of being a disorderly person was Joseph W. Kopezyk of 5650 Proctor, Detroit, who paid a similar fine and was placed on one year probation, during which he must take psychiatric treatment.

After the treatment, Kopezyk will have to present a letter from the psychiatrist, showing he had acquired his services.

Judge Gillis heard a charge against Peter G. Begle of 14337 Harbor Island, Detroit, who was accused of speeding 45 miles an hour on Lake Shore.

The judge accepted a plea to a lesser charge, causing excessive noise, and levied a fine of $15 against Begle.

Friends projects include the collection of original paintings by local artists, available at the Central Library for both rental and purchase, and the Friends Film Forum, showing notable films at the Central Library throughout the winter season.

End of An Era

I should be most remiss if I failed to add my lament to the miasma of commiseration which has engulfed the office with the approaching permanent departure from our midst of Patricia Talbot Davis.

Our society and feature editor is many persons, none of whom can be taken lightly. Janet Mueller has done a masterful job in her Pointers of interest this week, telling of some of Pat's many activities and interests and foibles, but the excitement of working under the varying conditions that permeate a newspaper office, with a female such as this, defies descriptive writing.

As a working newspaper woman Miss Talbot is thorough, resourceful, intense and dedicated. She is a marvelous researcher, an omnivorous reader, an intellectually hungry student of all that goes on about her.

As a member of the staff for these eight years, Pat has been invaluable. Her contributions, especially through the columns she has either carried on or initiated, have had much to do with the readership this paper has enjoyed.

So, where Pat goes there also goes a considerable hunk of all that we in this oft times screwy business, hold very dear. And among all the good wishes we send with her, one might detect a bit of jealousy, engendered by the knowledge that the good people of Philadelphia and environs will now be the recipients of all the wonderful things we have shared through a most treasured association.

Letters to the Editor

October 11, 1963 To the Editor:

I wonder why unidentified "Grosse Pointe Farms Resident" concluded from my letter regarding Bishop Emrich's column that I was advocating race prejudice, since I indicated a wish that the Church could do away with it.

Race prejudice has been hard for the real estate man to take. He has no wish to "nature or perpetuate" it. Moderates recognize him as a middle man in a basic issue with right and wrong in it.

I'm for the petitions because they would offer the people of Michigan a chance to vote for or against forced open occupancy. To me, this seems fair enough and in the tradition of this country.

Paul Maxon

To the Editor:

Your news columns have given very good coverage to the current millage proposal for Grosse Pointe schools. In addition, many other efforts have been made also to reach all registered voters in the school district. I would like to reemphasize some of this information in answer to questions I have heard at PTA meetings.

1. Why is the requested 14 mills called an "increase?" Under state law the millage voted directly by the residents of a school district is an "increase" over that allotted by the County. The "actual" increase requested is 2.75 mills over the 11.25 mills for operations previously approved by the voters. This 11.25 mills expires June 30, 1964.

2. How is the school budget developed and approved? All expenditures for the current year have been budgeted by the Superintendent with the approval in a public meeting by the School Board. Each month the actual expenditures and the approved budget are carefully compared and adjustments made to insure completion of the year within the budget.

3. What is the effect of the new income tax proposal and the new constitution on school revenue?

These effects will not be known until details of the income tax plan are published and then, if ever, become law. The new constitution is not believed to really change the school revenue and prudent judgment requires 14 mills be approved.

4. Why does the school system borrow for short periods?

The school fiscal year starts July 1 but local tax revenues are not received until the following December and January. Many school districts borrow to cover their operating expenses in the first months of the school year.

If there is anything I can do to help answer the questions of your readers, a call to my home at 881-8723 will have my full attention.

Arthur G. Sherman, Jr. President, Grosse Pointe P.T.A. Council

To the Editor: The present Superintendent and Board members of The Grosse Pointe Public School System have built up a propaganda tax millage arsenal, which contains many half-truths, innuendoes and inaccuracies.

In the past few weeks they have been making many speeches at numerous PTA meetings attempting to create a new crisis psychology and frighten the people into voting favorably on October 28, 1963, for a blank check of $3,500,000 per year, or a total of $21,000,000 for the six years term of the increased millage. The approximate $3,500,000 money revenue per year was given by Trustee Weber at the October 9th meeting at Barnes School.

First of all let's examine the actual ballot you will vote on, a sample of which is contained in their propaganda tax kit. It states that the increase "... ($14.00 for each $1,000.00 of the assessed valuation, as equalized, ... be used to meet general operating expenses ...

In other words they can spend the money as they see fit, because it is not earmarked. Handling other people's money demands exactitude, caution and not yielding to selfish interests of pressure groups.

Too many people know too little about what is going on in the Grosse Pointe Public School System so far as the handling of funds is concerned. Do you know for example that at the August 12 meeting they borrowed $2,400,000.00 from the Manufacturers National Bank at a low interest rate of 1.74%.

Let's take a look at the record and see how they spend, and are still spending through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964, the last batch of excess (Continued on Page 18)

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

October is a month of hot and cold - burning leaves - Halloween pranks - World Series games - football contests - preparation for winter. It also has its share of "Week" observances, such as Fire Prevention Week, National Newspaper Week, and National Bible Week.

In this nuclear age of cold war, atomic threat of complete annihilation, and consuming greed of nations, it is well to pause a long moment to observe yet another Week - United Nations Week - starting October 20. If, during your time of reflection, you should feel the need of doing some extra reading on this subject, our Library can supply you with quite a few recent books, in addition to periodical articles and pamphlet material.

To begin with, there is the YEARBOOK OF THE UNITED NATIONS, running from 1947 to 1961, summarizing the activities and achievements of the UN along with other good reference material. In Ernest Gross' THE UNITED NATIONS, we have the first volume of a new series: Policy Books, sponsored by the Council on Foreign Relations.

The author, a former United States ambassador of the UN, discusses the role of the Organization in current world politics and its potential for constructive action toward a more stable and just world order. B. V. Cohen's UNITED NATIONS consists of three Oliver Wendell Holmes lectures delivered at Harvard University in 1961. The first interprets the Charter powers; the second considers the responsibilities of the Member States; the third views the future.

THE UN AND ITS FUTURE, by R. A. Theobald, is one of the Reference Shelf series and deals mainly with issues confronting the members of the Organization. Charles Malik, in MAN IN THE STRUGGLE FOR PEACE, is concerned with the West's combat against international communism.

In addition to this general material, there are books of a more specialized nature, such as biographies. For example, A. L. Gavshon's THE MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF DAG HAMMARSKJOLD, reviews the so-called mystery surrounding his airplane crash, in addition to giving a personal portrait of the man. J. P. Lash's DAG HAMMARSKJOLD is a biography (not definitive) of the late Secretary-General of the United Nations.

Could you guess what's good about a headache?

By FRED KNOPP, R. PH.

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong ... perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom - valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin - but even that's worth knowing.

Liggett Fair To Show Art

A major innovation at the Liggett School Fair this year is the Art Gallery. The fair will be held on Friday, October 25, at the school, 2555 Burns, from 1:30 until 7:30 p.m. One of the main attractions will be the Art Gallery in the school library. It will show for sale the original works of Detroit artists — oils, water-colors, graphics, etchings and sculpture.

Mrs. John D. Bayne, of University Place, chairman of the gallery, announced that her committee is hard at work contacting artists, collecting the works of art at a central intake point, jurying them, and arranging for transport to the school and assembly of the gallery on fair day.

Busy committee members include: Mrs. Frank Cotter, of Merriweather road; Mrs. Fred T. Moran, of Hampton road; Mrs. John N. McNaughton, of Edgemont Park; Mrs. Frank B. Ware, of Washington road; Mrs. Kirkland Alexander, director of the Detroit Artists Market, of Rivard boulevard; Mrs. William J. Dennes, of Fisher road; and Mrs. Henry Kohring, of Touraine road. These last three women comprise the jury which will judge the applying works of art prior to fair day. Another assistant is Mrs. Sam Coburn, 7713 E. Jefferson avenue, art teacher at Liggett.

Salesladies in the gallery on the day of the fair will be the entire Associate Alumnae Board of the School. (The gallery is a special project of the alumnae as their part in the success of the fair.)

Members of the Associate Alumnae Board are: president, Mrs. E. James Howard, Jr., of Lothrop road; Mrs. Edward N. Hartwick, of Trombley road; Mrs. Charles W. Adams, of Grosse Pointe boulevard; Mrs. B. Courtney Rankin, of Ridge road; Mrs. Hazen H. Carroll, of Birmingham; Mrs. John L. Kenower, of Village lane; Mrs. Robert J. Mauk, of Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Bayne and Mrs. Cotter.

Mrs. Bayne has announced that the pictures and other works will be moderate in size and in price, for it is the hope to build the gallery over the years into one of the fine annual features of the fair.

A special part of the gallery this year will be the display, not for sale, of a new portrait of Miss Katharine Ogden. Miss Ogden has been headmistress of the Liggett School for 35 years. This portrait was commissioned by the graduating class of 1962, and was done by a well-known Detroit artist, Pat Burnett. The portrait will not be hung until the event of Miss Ogden's retirement, but she has graciously consented to let it be shown in the new gallery.

Three paintings done by "Mr. Ed" Liggett, brother of the two founders, "Miss Ella" and "Miss Jeanette" Liggett, will be for sale at the gallery. Two are oils, one a landscape and one a seascape, and the other is a watercolor portrait of a French fisherman.

Woods Church To Hear Judge

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church is planning an interesting and informative evening meeting Tuesday, October 22, at 8 o'clock at the church. All members of the church, as well as all interested persons in the community are invited.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Municipal Judge Keith J. Leenhouts of the Royal Oak Municipal Court. Judge Leenhouts is well-known for his outstanding work in the Probation Department, and his work with youth and their problems.

This work started back in 1959, when nine business and professional men decided to do something about the youthful offender. Judge Leenhouts will tell about the progress made in Royal Oak in a new type of probation program, its success and its growth.

A group of women and men will do dramatic dialogue for the devotions preceding the speaker. After the speaker, the women will then have their monthly association meeting, with Mrs. Gerald C. Schroeder, president, presiding.

The new slate of officers for the following year, as well as the budget will be voted upon. During the meeting, the men will adjourn to the dining room for refreshments and a social hour.

Goodbye

For the past eight years this editor has been reporting the comings and goings, the parties, the benefits, the debuts and other galas of Pointers. Now she must bid goodbye to the columns and the Grosse Pointe News.

It is with real regret that we leave the newspaper and the community in which we have lived all our lives. In our new home in Haverford, Pa., outside Philadelphia, we will still follow our friends through the News as do so many immigrating Pointers.

The columns will become the responsibility of Janet Mueller, who has been on the News staff for two years, and we know she will fulfill the duties of society and feature editor in the future with skill and talent.

AAUW Sponsors 'Cinderella'

"Cinderella" will be presented in play form this Saturday, October 19th at Pierce Junior High School Auditorium by the Traveling Playhouse from New York City.

In addition it gives the children of the community an opportunity to see live professional theater.

The Traveling Playhouse is an adult professional company performing especially for children and is now in its fifteenth year of traveling throughout the Eastern half of the United States. A grant from the Rockefeller Foundation originally enabled the Playhouse to initiate its current program of presenting plays for children from five to twelve years of age.

Cushing-Kozara Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund J. Kozara, of Harper Woods, announce the engagement of their daughter, Andre' Marie, to Frederick R. Cushing, son of Mrs. Russell Cushing, of Grosse Pointe Woods, and the late Dr. Cushing.

Miss Kozara is a graduate of Mercy College of Detroit. Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Detroit, and is presently a senior at Wayne State University College of Medicine. A February wedding is planned.

PROFIT ANGLE

The bonds of friendship mean nothing to some people unless they pay dividends.

Correspondent At Town Hall

Martin Agronsky, ace Washington correspondent for NBC's "Today" Show, will discuss the latest news in the Capital, when he appears at Detroit Town Hall Wednesday, October 23, at 11 a.m. in Fisher Theater. Agronsky's interviews with leading Administration officials, and with almost anyone who is making the headlines these days, are spiced with humor and persistence. But few commentators can boast Agronsky's wide experience in world reporting. After graduating from Rutgers University in 1936, he joined the Palestine Post, Israel's English-language daily. From there he moved through Europe on a free-lance basis, then joined INS in Paris to report the last days of the Spanish Civil War.

During World War II he worked for NBC in Geneva, the Balkans, then flew with the RAF on bombing raids over Italy. He was in Singapore when the Japanese attacked, and was one of the first U.S. war correspondents with General MacArthur in Australia. In 1953 he won radio's top award, the Peabody Award, for outstanding reporting.

Tickets are available in Town Hall office, 872-7530, or at Fisher Theater box office.

Some people have no time to take advice—they're busy selling it.

Letters to the Editor

(Continued from Page 12) voted money you gave them, according to minutes of the School Board meetings and information obtained from their offices, the last millage election was held on October 26, 1959, and was 3.00 mills only and for four years (not 14 mills as they are now seeking plus extended time of 6 years). This excess voted millage, now in effect, is slated to produce in money approximately $3,258,362.00 by June 30, 1964. It was earmarked as follows:

1.75 Salaries and wages	$1,944,000.00
50 Operation (Fuel, utilities, etc.)	556,000.00
.75 Building and site	758,362.00
Total	$3,258,362.00

If you are interested in how they spend the (3/4 of a mill .75) for Building and site the table below may help you in understandable fashion:

4 Year Building Program
Industrial Arts	$213,566.00
Ferry Additional Classrooms	$203,000.00
Ferry Library Music	$19,985.00
High School Guidance Center	$28,250.00
High School Library	$257,000.00
Brownell Choral and Band Room	$115,000.00
Maintenance of additions, remodeling, original estimate	$766,500.00
Bids of $131,467.00 were rejected at August 12 meeting "as they were considerably higher than anticipated" from minutes of minutes. Then by a never completely revealed process, at the September 9 meeting, this action was rescinded. The School Board reversed itself, and bids from the General Contractor, Mechanical Contractors and Electrical Contractors were awarded in the same total amount of $131,467.00, which is $54,967.00 over the original estimated figure, which leaves

Letters to the Editor

You will be further interested to know that the 1963-64 budget of the Grosse Pointe District was passed at a special "hush hush" meeting on June 26 or 27, 1963, of $7,048,978.00 or $3,311,166.00 higher than 1962-63. About $278,179.00 of this increase represents an increase in salaries. Furthermore there is considerable talk in Lansing and in the newspapers about a proposed 1% state income tax, all of which will go directly to the schools. Another factor is that the state will be operating under a new constitution on January 1, which may also benefit school revenue.

This whole millage deal calls for cold, hard, complete and impartial review of all the facts. Pushing the panic button now, when the extra millage voted on in the election of October 26, 1959, does not expire until June 30, 1964, may not be in the best interest of all concerned.

FREAK FALL KILLS SEVEN—This is the wreck in which five persons were killed when three rolls of sheet steel fell on it from a tractor trailer on a curve near East Liverpool, O. The sudden weight shift caused the tractor to run out of control and it slammed into another car, killing two more persons.

HONDURAS OVERTHROW—The Honduran reins of government seem to be in the hands of Col. Osvaldo Lopez (left), army chief, with overthrow of President Ramon Villeda Morales (middle). Meanwhile, in Washington, Honduran Ambassador Celso Davila makes an impassioned plea (right) to the Organization of American States for condemnation of the coup d'etat. Honduras was to have held a presidential election Oct. 13, but the government candidate, Modesto Rodas Alvarado, landed on the out list with Villeda Morales.

HOMECOMING HEROES—Pitchers Sandy Koufax (left) and Johnny Podres, fresh from their World Series victories over the Yankees in New York, find Los Angeles even warmer than the weather forecast indicates.

DAMP, THAT PAN-AM HIGHWAY—Tire-like Roll-Tankers sash through the residue of Panama's 300-inches-a-year rainfall as work progresses on the last 500 miles of the Pan-American Highway. This is jungle wasteland, and it took eight years just to survey the route. The highway building probably will run another eight, and cost maybe $100 million. The crews transport their fuel in these 500-gallon Roll-Tankers.

SELASSIE REGISTERS AT LIBERTY BELL—Before leaving Philadelphia for talks with President Kennedy in Washington, Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie signs the register at the Liberty Bell at Independence Hall. Military affairs were to be discussed during the three-day Washington visit.

COSA NOSTRA RITUAL—Joseph Valachi, the lifer who is telling the Senate Investigations Subcommittee about organized crime, demonstrates in Washington a secret rite of Cosa Nostra. He said he was given a piece of paper (upper) and burned it, passing it from hand to hand (lower) while repeating in Italian, "This is the way I burn if I expose this organization." He's exposing it.

OUTSIDE THE SOUTH VIET NAM EMBASSY in Paris, young South Vietnamese carry their country's flag draped in black in a demonstration against Mme. Nhu. (Radphoto)

BACKIN' JACK—Mrs. Barbara Weis, an attorney, got in line early to get that license number PT 109 in Dallas, Tex. The sign on her car tells why. The number '4' is the number of the PT boat President Kennedy commanded in World War II.

KOUFAX POPULAR IN NEW YORK, TOO—Slated to start the first game of the World Series for the Los Angeles Dodgers against the New York Yankees, ace pitcher Sandy Koufax signs autographs for Eric Kranz (center) and Jeff Zverling, both of West Hempstead, N. Y.

GRATITUDE—Chrysanthemis Papacolis, 12, the Greek girl who underwent a heart operation in the U.S. in 1961 through intercession of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, presents the First Lady with a small gift in Athens. (Radphoto)

WELL, NOW—The scene is the Interior Department in Washington, not the White House, and in the rocker is Secretary Stewart Udall, not you-know-who. Maybe it's the spirit of the New Frontier. The other gent is Gov. John Connally of Texas, and the subject of discussion is oil imports.

PEPPER FATAL—Mrs. Beverly Adkins, 28, hangs her head in remorse in Cleveland on being charged with first degree manslaughter in the death of her 3-year-old daughter, Kimberly. She poured black pepper in the girl's mouth as punishment, and the pepper suffocated her. (Radphoto)

COURTESY CALL IN SAIGON—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor (second from right), Joint Chiefs of Staff chairman, and Gen. Paul Harkins (right), top U.S. military man in South Vietnam, watch port activities in Saigon with Ho Than Quyen, South Viet Nam navy commandant. Taylor and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara went to the guerrilla-beleaguered country to investigate progress against the Reds.

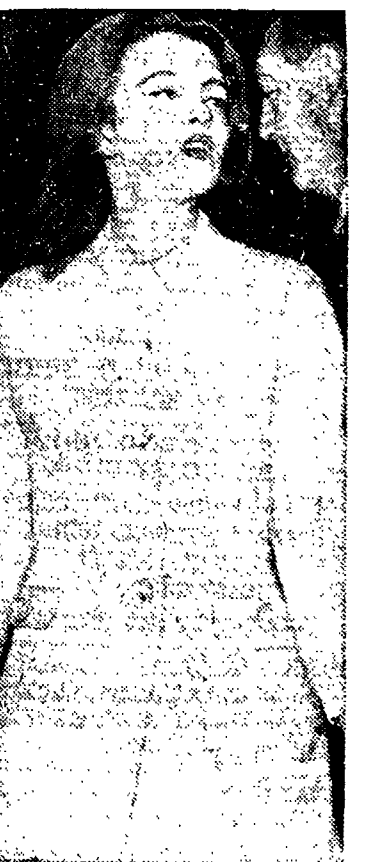

"DIFFICULT POSITION"—Admitting that bad weather has put Soviet agricultural production in a "rather difficult position," Premier Nikita Khrushchev holds two ears of corn on a farm in central Russia as he continues his trouble-shooting tour of state-run farms.

PLAN NAZI WEDDING—Francoise Dior, 31, niece of the late Paris fashion designer, and British neo-Nazi leader Colin Jordan, 40, announced they will be married in a Nazi "blood-mixing" ceremony in London. She is the divorced wife of French Count de Gaumont la Force.

PEPPER FATAL—Mrs. Beverly Adkins, 28, hangs her head in remorse in Cleveland on being charged with first degree manslaughter in the death of her 3-year-old daughter, Kimberly. She poured black pepper in the girl's mouth as punishment, and the pepper suffocated her. (Radphoto)

NERVOUS—Christine Keeler, 21, looks glamorous as she arrives at court in London for a pre-trial hearing session on charges of conspiracy and perjury. In court she seemed nervous.

Then let us pleasantly surprise you by showing off this fine listing in a prime location. Why having a second car would be an unnecessary extravagance 'cause this walk is just a minute's place to everything.

COMMANDER'S Your immediate attention, if you are seriously interested in moving into a center hall colonial which has that paneled den and a large screened porch. The lot is immense with plenty of play area even though there is a two-car garage. Priced in the mid-twenties.

Like the accessibility of schools, the pier park, and far enough but not too far from the bus? Like you should see this one if you are considering spending in the middle thirties for your next home.

IF YOU'VE BEEN PEEKING around at four bedrooms in the Farms, but haven't come up with the right house, then may we suggest you peek in this newer home on Country Club Drive. Not really a large home, but just enough house to stretch out in, and new enough to have all the gadgets you have been reading about.

WANT A NEWER house in the heart of the City, and with a family room which boasts its own fireplace? Do you want the convenience of having the kitchen and dining room both accessible to the family room? The owner of just such a home has recently been transferred after completing a masterful re-decorating program. Priced under $35,000.

When the POINTE was growing up...

By Patricia Talbot

(Editorial note: With this issue this column will come to an end. We wish to thank the many Pointers who have been so generous in sharing deeds, old diaries and scrapbooks and their memories with the writer. Without their co-operation and interest this study of the Pointe's early days would have been impossible.)

In looking back over 250 years of Pointe history the evolution of our town from a primitive fishing and farming village to a fashionable suburb has involved scores of families who still make this their home.

French pioneers, who followed in the train of Cadillac, established their ribbon farms in a deep forest. Their acres, or arpents, had to be wrested from the woods and they were always in danger from Indians, crop failures and warring governments. Their contribution cannot be minimized. Such families as Trombley, Moran, Cadieux, Rivard, Piche and Gouin were the first to claim the Pointe as home and many of them still do. Their log cabins set on the edge of the lake were the first homes. Frenchmen built the first roads, mere tracks through the forests, established trading posts, built the first St. Paul's Church and the first schools.

After a mere 30 years their flag was lowered and the British took over the Pointe when they won Detroit from the French. British merchants and traders also saw the charm of Grosse Pointe. Commodore Alexander Grant, the Pointe's first mansion builder, who lived in Moran road, was the leader among his countrymen to build and develop an impressive farm and a home which was the gathering place for Indians, soldiers, traders and government officials.

Frenchmen and Englishmen lived amicably with the Americans when they in turn moved in after the Revolution and the War of 1812. It was the Victorian entrepreneur, making a fortune in real estate, railroads, merchant goods, who developed the Pointe as a summer resort. Edmund A. Brush built his summer cottage in the midst of the 19th century and he was followed by McMillans, Newberrys, Duffields and Woodbridges. They in turn admitted lumber barons and stove manufacturers to the ranks of summer resorters, built the first country club, explored Lake St. Clair with their yachts and established the Protestant Church.

Before World War I the frame summer homes started to give way to stone mansions in the grand manner, built by the Algiers, Muirs, Joys, followed by the early automobile magnates, Chapin, Macaulay and Edsel Ford. These tycoons bought their land from the first French settlers and their arrival meant the subdividing of more land for the more modest homes of junior executives. The Pointe lost its village quality and became five burgeoning towns. In 1800 there were half a hundred people living here.

Today there are more than 60,000. No longer a small town, the Pointe has suffered many growing pains which progress brings, and will suffer more.

But the heritage, the flavor, the unique quality which has attracted its proud residents will never fade and the Pointe's future is as bright today as when the first Trombley paddled his family in his canoe from Ontario to take up a new life here.

This Friday Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman will open her home for the annual Donation Tea sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital. She will greet guests in the Music Room. This is a rare opportunity to see one of the Pointe's great mansions, built in 1914. The woodwork and panelling of the entire first floor is imported English oak and at the time the house was built was over 100 years old. Paintings by Turner, Constable, Rousseau, Mauve and Jacques will delight art connoisseurs. Of special interest is Mrs. Schlotman's own work, an intricate tapestry of "Stonehurst," the house itself done in needlepoint which hangs in the lower hall.

Film star Maureen O'Hara drew a winning ticket for Mrs. John F. Matthew, of Prestwick road, in a recent nation-wide contest sponsored by a laundry starch company. Mrs. Matthew is now the owner of a complete high fashion wardrobe.

A real eye stopper is William Hoose's red driveway in Allard road, but his back garden is even more spectacular. Instead of dirt about his garden beds Mr. Hoose uses chipped marble to accent his mums, geraniums, hydrangeas and evergreens. White French garden furniture carries out the theme and the whole is shaded by a giant blue spruce.

In last week's issue we erroneously reported that the Detroit Boat Club toasted their president and his lady, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Taylor last Saturday night. The gala is still to come and will take place this Saturday evening.

Noted at the opening of the Bon Secours Assistance League Celebrity Series last Thursday morning: dark haired, dark eyed Mrs. Eugene Fisher, League president, in a bright red wool dress and nubby matching jacket with three strawberries embroidered on the side seated next to speaker, Jim Bishop, at luncheon after the lecture. "Kelly" Bishop, the celebrity's blond, fine-boned wife, wore a beige suit with black accessories and charmed the luncheon guests.

Pointers of Interest

MR. and MRS. B. DALE DAVIS, of LINCOLN ROAD

By Janet Mueller

Take two people, B. Dale and Patricia Talbot Davis. Add two cats, three daughters, two careers, several hundred friends, and a dash (large) of "outside interests." Mix well.

The result is a spicy, simmering salmagundi, an unlikely mixture of this, that and the other thing that is the Davises' marriage.

Pat and Dale Davis leave the Pointe at the end of this month. Dale, assistant managing editor of the Detroit Free Press, has accepted a position as Sunday and Feature editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin; they have bought a rambling, English-style home in Haverford, on the Main Line; their children, Claudia, Hillary and Melissa, are ready to make the mid-term school jump.

Not Without Regrets

This is Patricia Talbot's last week after eight years as society feature editor of the Grosse Pointe News. Dale's last month after an 18-year association with the Free Press. Both are excited about the move East; both have a few understandable regrets as the time to actually pack up and go draws nearer.

Pat Talbot Davis was born in Detroit, graduated from Liggett School, took her B.A. degree from Rockford College in Illinois, and returned to Detroit to work in the Women's Department of the Detroit Free Press. Dale Davis, a native of Bethesda, O., came to the Free Press as a reporter in April, 1945, after graduation from Ohio State University and a stint on the editorial staff of the Lima (Ohio) News.

They have been married 17 years. Pat continued to work at the Free Press until their first child, Claudia, was born, tried the "housewife-mother" role, decided she needed a further outlet for her creative energies, and sat down at the typewriter again—on a regular basis—before her two younger girls were ready for school.

Have Unique Formula

Through the years, the Davises have worked out a unique marriage formula: a personal solution to the career and/or family dilemma so many educated, talented American women face today. The fact that they are both in the same field, journalism, enables them to understand the problems and pressures of each other's work.

At the NEWS, Pat Davis is only a few blocks from her own home. She can dash off to fix lunch for Hillary and Melissa, pick up groceries on her way home, be "right there" when a household crisis develops.

Invertebrate theater-goers, the Davises are stock figures in Detroit's first-night audience. The assistant managing editor of a major daily newspaper entertains and is entertained a great deal; Pat and Dale attend many functions together, many separately, keep constantly alert to the feelings and happenings in the community.

Both Are Authors

As a contributing author to "Do You Belong in Journalism?" a textbook used in high schools and colleges throughout the country, Dale sympathizes with Pat's struggles on her first book, a history of Grosse Pointe, and past president of the Grosse Pointe Parent-Teachers Association. Pat saw service as a public school "room mother." One of Liggett's most loyal alumnae, she would have liked her daughters to graduate from the same school, has made arrangements for Claudia to transfer directly from Liggett to a private school outside Philadelphia.

The book grew out of Pat's popular history column, "When the Pointe Was Growing Up," which, in turn, grew out of her lifelong interest in history per se. She majored in history at Rockford, is a member of the Detroit and Grosse Pointe Historical Societies, and enjoys tramping about in Canadian graveyards, checking dates on tombstones, or browsing through dusty records in the Burton Historical Collection at Detroit's main library.

Dale, who majored in political science and English at OSU, is more interested in current problems. Pro-integration, his desire to see the situation in America's southern states this summer led him to make a slight detour in the Davis family's vacation itinerary.

Took First Hand Look

On their way home from three weeks in Naples, Fla., the Davises made a "race relations" tour of the South. Dale observed conditions below the Mason-Dixon line, dodged a bomb in Savannah, Ga., and remained convinced of the necessity for quick, non-violent integration throughout the United States.

These family vacations are an important part of the Davises' life together, but Pat and Dale travel independently at times. Within the past few years Dale, representing the Free Press, has gone to West Berlin, Paris, the Riviera and Monaco.

Pat, not to be outdone, recently spent three weeks touring England. The most vociferous Anglophile in Grosse Pointe before her trip abroad, Mrs. Davis came back to the States completely convinced that the Declaration of Independence was a ghastly mistake.

The colonists, she maintains, should have been patient, tried to bear with "that fat German George" (even the English in England didn't like him much), and paid their extra penny for stamps and tea.

Church is Important

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has been a focal point in Pat and Dale's local activities. Dale, whose hobby is Theology, is an elder, former superintendent of Memorial's Junior High Church School and member of the Board of Directors of the Church Men's Association. He and Pat have both taught Sunday School.

Like all parents, they are vitally interested in their community's educational facilities.

Dale is chairman of the Dads for Liggett School Committee
