THE ROBINSON FURNITURE COMPANY was hit by fire late Wednesday severely damaging a $250,000 collection of paintings and other art objects, including a rare Picasso collection. The entire first floor was gutted. About 130 firemen were needed to bring the blaze under control. The second floor of the building, which houses the Arwin Galleries, is currently exhibiting a $150,000 collection of Picasso paintings, drawings and ceramics. One Picasso called "Man in Front of Cabln." is valued at $36,000. No persons were inside the building when the fire started.

THE SLEEPING BEAR lake-shore recreation area was approved by the Senate in Washington. Only 10 senators were in attendance to approve the Northwest Michigan resort, but they passed the bill unanimously. Since no one raised the question of the absence of a quorum, such a move is possible. The bill will now go to the House where the Department of the Interior will compare it with a similar bill offered by Republican Robert P. Griffin of Traverse City. Action from the House is not expected until the next session.

Saturday, December 21

A COMPROMISE FOREIGN AID BILL will probably clear the way for the adjournment of Congress in Washington this week. After three sessions of indecision, a bill setting the appropriation at $3 billion and granting the President authority to approve government guarantees of credit for sales of wheat to Communist nations will probably be approved in both the House and Senate. Other major issues will be shelved until Congress reconvenes January 7.

THE LEGISLATURE in Lansing gave up hope of establishing the new State Court of Appeals and adjourned its special session for 1963. A 2½ week meeting called by Governor Romney ended in a 95% accomplishment of the plans desired by the Governor. The lawmakers will convene January 8 for the 1964 session. The delay was caused by disputes over the appellate court and appropriations for the new State Civil Rights Commission.

Sunday, December 22

TIRO 8, a mechanical meteorologist that photographs clouds and storm patterns, was launched into orbit yesterday, representing a major step in global weather forecasting. It has been called "everyman's" satellite because it will be useful to all nations. When the Tiros family is perfected, it will enable weather agencies all over the world to receive instant pictures of weather conditions for immediate analysis.

THE MOURNING PERIOD for the late President Kennedy ends today after 30 days. Flags all over the nation which have been flying at half-mast will be raised to their full height and memorial services will be observed in many places in the country.

At sundown, a torch will be carried from the Kennedy grave in Arlington National Cemetery to the Lincoln Memorial. President Johnson will join in a memorial ceremony at which thousands of candles will be lighted.

Monday, December 23

THE GREEK LINER LAKONIA caught fire in the eastern Atlantic causing 1,000 passengers and crew to abandon the ship. 650 Christmas cruise passengers and a crew of over 300 left the ship, and many were picked up about four hours later by the Swedish or carrier Alta. The British tanker Montcalm was also picking up survivors. The Lakonia was still ablaze but its hull appeared to be intact, the British Admiralty reported. Two U. S. aircraft were enroute to the disaster area carrying droppable life rafts.

Pointe's Tallest Christmas Display

The Nativity scene on the lawn of the George P. Johnson home at 1034 Whittier road is undoubtedly the tallest, as well as one of the most elaborate in the community. It is 65 feet high. The Pointe is as brilliantly decorated this holiday season as it has ever been, and night excursions to see the many beautiful displays are highly recommended.

Firemen Pay Double Visit To Residence

Second Blaze Destroys Library, Painting and Books in Edward Strang Home

Two fires in five hours struck the home of Edward Strang, Jr., 257 Ridge road, December 21. The first was minor, extinguished by the owner, and the second erupted in roaring flames that engulfed the home's library, including valuable paintings and first edition books.

The first fire reportedly began around 9:20 p.m. when Christmas decorations on the mantel of the first floor library caught fire. The resident extinguished the blaze with two pails of water before Farms firemen arrived.

Strang said electric Christmas lights and a lighted candle were both on the mantel, and that one of the two had probably been the cause of the fire.

Second Blaze Starts
The second blaze erupted after the family had retired and was not detected until 1:58 a.m. When the fire was discovered a great part of the paneled library was already aflame.

Farms firemen answered the call with all equipment, and extinguished the blaze with a 1½ inch booster line and about 100 feet of hose. Firemen said the blaze was under control in about 10 minutes, though

High School Girls Irked At Ban on Fancy Clothes

"How long will it be until the administration has us coming to the Prom in skirts and sweaters?" one Grosse Pointe High School senior asked last week.

Her comment reflected a current High School controversy which began when the school's administration issued an appeal to students against turning school dances into dress-up affairs. They recently asked that the upcoming New Year's Eve dance at the High School be kept a distinctly non-formal gathering.

The administration asked that the New Year's Eve fling be kept in the fairly informal range—meaning wool sheaths to cocktail dresses for girls and sport jackets or suits for boys. They appealed to boys not to buy their dates corsages, and not to appear in tuxedos.

Semantics of Resolution On Civil Rights Causes Rejection by Single Vote

Grosse Pointe High School Council Nearly Equally Divided in Ballot, Most Don't Oppose Resolution Itself

A resolution aimed at showing the support of Michigan high school students for civil rights was presented at the December 10 meeting of the Grosse Pointe High School Student Council.

The measure was discussed and voted on, and was rejected by a 38-37 vote of homeroom representatives.

In voting, the representatives were asked to write either yes or no, and to explain why if they voted against the move.

The resolution was drafted by a conference of Student Council leaders from all over the state who met in Ann Arbor last summer. Among those attending were Pointe high school Student Association president Jim Hanna and S. A. secretary Sue Seder, both seniors.

It said, in part, "We the Student Council of Grosse Pointe High School pledge our support to any individual who is legally striving to obtain his civil and moral rights..."

Four Observations
The statement said the resolution was based on four observations. One was "That certain people in this state are being deprived of these rights."

Another point in the resolution said, "...our Nation will never be able to lead the world into a peaceful, democratic society until each man has in actuality his God-given rights."

S. A. president Hanna said the

New Pointe Residents To be Feted

Annual Reception Held at War Memorial Center Jan. 5, 2:30 to 4:30

All families who have moved into any of the five Grosse Pointes during 1963 are cordially invited to a New Residents Reception in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore Road on Sunday, January 5, from 2:30 to 4:30.

Invitations are currently being mailed to everyone the telephone cross index indicates as new this year. There are, however, many perhaps not listed and all are urged to come whether receiving a formal invitation or not. The party welcomes the entire family. Baby sitters are provided for the very young.

On hand to greet the newcomers will be the Center's board of directors and their wives including president George C. Schroeder and Mrs. Schroeder and Mr. Higbie; Theodore H. Mecke, Jr. and Mrs. Mecke; vice-president George C. Cossaboom and Mrs. Cossaboom; Mrs. James A. Lafer, secretary, and Mr. Lafer; William M. Adams, asst. secretary, and Mrs. Adams; treasurer Mark Stevens and Mrs. Stevens; assistant treasurer, George N. Monroe III and Mrs. Monroe; Walter B. Ford II and Mrs. Ford; Mrs. William H. Fries; Mrs. Harley G. Higbie and Mr. Higbie; Thomas H. Munson and Mrs. Munson; H. Lynn Pierson and Mrs. Pierson, Mrs. Harold B. Tyree, Mrs. Frank W. Wylie and Mr. Wylie, and J. Leslie Berry and Mrs. Berry.

Also present to receive the guests will be representatives from all the groups sponsored by or meeting at the Center, all the churches of the community and all other important community groups.

These representatives will be glad to give information about their programs and invite the newcomers to join if they wish. A special chamber music concert will be presented in the auditorium at three o'clock and refreshments will be served throughout the afternoon by the Center's Youth Council.

Important Events of 1963 Culled From News Files

Items of Past Year Recall Memories of Occurrences Pertaining to the Pointe and to Present and Former Residents

The year 1963 is about to close, and as did the years, contains its share of memories, some tinged with happiness and some with sadness. Nevertheless, the last 12 months adds to the fulfillment of life and to personal history, to be locked away until it is recalled to mind.

The following highlights, culled from each issue of the GROSSE POINTE NEWS, are the "memories" recorded in this newspaper:

January 3—Joseph B. Sullivan of 290 Merrilweather, replaced Assistant Attorney General Perry W. Maynard as head of the Criminal Division of the State Attorney General's Office. Sullivan was formerly executive secretary to Detroit's Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, and is a well-known figure in Wayne County politics.

January 10—Dr. George A. Buttrick, one of America's greatest preachers, preached at services in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church (United Presbyterian). He was a former president of the National Council of Churches, and traveled around the world as a Cook Lecturer for the United Presbyterian Church in the Philippines, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Indonesia, India, Pakistan, and parts of Europe, and the Near East.

January 17—Three pieces of firefighting apparatus and 20 firemen from the Farms and City battled a fire in a Pointe historical landmark for more than three hours in freezing weather. The fire damaged the old Trowbridge home, 376 Kercheval, which was being remodeled. The house was vacant. The fire was believed to have been started by a blow torch used by a plumber who was "sweating" new copper tubing pipes.

January 24 — The Grosse Pointe Central Library celebrated its tenth anniversary of service to the community. It has been serving Pointe residents in increasing numbers since it opened its doors in January 1953. Total circulation

Hospital Reports Cocaine Missing

The loss of a vial of cocaine from a narcotics cabinet in Cottage Hospital is being investigated by Farm police.

The vial was reported missing by Mrs. Nancy Glander, director of personnel, who told police that it apparently had been taken sometime between 3:30 p.m. Friday, December 13, and 7 a.m., Saturday, December 14, from a cabinet on the second floor of the hospital, near the operating room.

Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem said that no clues have been uncovered, but a logical suspect, a former employe of the hospital, is being sought for questioning. The cabinet had been broken into, he said.

The vial contained about 37cc of cocaine, it was said.

Shores Ski Hill Boasts Everything Except Size

Who needs Boyne Mountain? Maybe all good skiers would prefer it, but many Shores residents are getting in a few sitzmarks at their own ski hill on Eight Mile about a half a block from the Lake Shore.

The residents who have become enamored of the hill admit it isn't the largest in the world, but they're unwilling to admit that it's the smallest.

The hill was built several years ago from hauled-in dirt from the construction of the Edsel Ford Expressway.

Starting out with a sledging hill, Shores officials purchased a snow making machine and a rope tow.

Both skiers and sledgers are

Low Water Could Mean Big Trouble

Lakefront Parks Threatened as Lake St. Clair Promises to Fall to Low Level

Possible near record low water levels in Lake St. Clair may force Pointe lakefront parks to dredge boat wells and channels to accommodate the '64 boating season.

Officials in the Farms, Park, City and Woods expressed concern last week over the low levels predicted for next season. The situation in the Farms appeared critical, according to John Defoe, assistant city engineer.

Boat wells and channels were "just barely passable" in the Farms last year, according to Defoe. He said a crew of Farms city employes had taken about 150 soundings in the harbor last week and had not found them encouraging.

WORSE NEXT YEAR
Defoe said his office was in the process of analyzing the soundings, but has already determined that next year's levels would be "considerably lower" than last year's.

The harbor was last dredged in the Farms in 1954, during an extensive expansion and remodeling operation.

Defoe said the low water level would necessitate additional dredging in the swimming and diving areas as well. He said it is an annual practice to dredge the diving area.

Woods director of Parks and Recreation Donald Hallman commented, "We might have to do some dredging in our harbor area if the present trend continues."

He said the boat wells themselves are "in pretty good shape."

In the City, city manager Lawrence C. Savage said no definite decision had been reached as to whether dredging would be necessary.

"But if the level doesn't go up, we might be in deep trouble," he said.

Savage said he has spoken with officials in other Pointes regarding the possibility of a jointly arranged dredging operation.

Park officials said they had been studying government lake surveys and feared that "a few wells might be in trouble."

The government report, issued by the U. S. Army Engineers District Lake Survey,

Pedestrians Killed by Car, Truck

Aged Resident Dies Crossing Kercheval in Village; Woman Struck on Mack

An 82-year-old Pointe man and a 68-year-old Detroit woman were killed in two separate pedestrian auto accidents in the Pointe, both occurring on December 21.

The Pointe man was Frank Jewell, 82, of 564 Notre Dame. Mr. Jewell was crossing Kercheval avenue from the southeast corner of Notre Dame when he was struck by a truck making a left turn from Notre Dame onto Kercheval.

He was reported dead on arrival at Bon Secours Hospital shortly after the accident occurred at about 9:32 a.m.

In the other fatality, a Detroit woman, Olga Millicent Asmus, 68, of 3635 Three Mile drive, was struck by an auto while crossing Mack avenue east of Three Mile drive in Grosse Pointe Park.

Had Gotten Off Bus

The accident occurred at 6:26 p.m. The victim had gotten off a bus on the south side of Mack avenue, and was making her way home.

She was taken to Bon Secours hospital suffering from a severe concussion, fractured pelvis, and severe fracture of the left leg.

She died shortly after being admitted.

Mr. Jewell was a native of England, and a member of the Eastern Horticultural Society.

He was the husband of Bertha, father of Mrs. Grace Swindlehurst, grandfather of George Swindlehurst, great-grandfather of John and brother of Sam and Mrs. Emily Senior.

The funeral was Tuesday, December 24 in Verheyden Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Truck Driver Released

In the first accident, the driver of the truck was identified as Joseph La Rocca, of 11456 Wayburn avenue, Detroit. He was driving a truck leased to the United Beverage Co. La Rocca was taken to the Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor's office to make a statement, and released pending further action.

In the later accident, the driver of the car heading east on Mack avenue that struck Mrs. Asmus was named as Harry Anthony Dudzinski, 46, of 6005 Cadieux road, Detroit.

Park police issued no violation to Dudzinski, but turned his case over to the Wayne County Prosecutor's office for further investigation.

The Park Police report that Dudzinski's breath indicated he had been drinking, but did not say his driving was definitely impaired.

Besides the fatal accident, Park police listed an unusually high tally of non-injury and minor auto accidents. Four such accidents occurred on December 20, six on December 21, and three on December 22.

Pushes Auto Into Parked Car

An accident occurred on Washington road just north of Kercheval on December 17 at 8:20 a.m., when Stanley Plopa of 796 Washington was pushing a car driven by his daughter, Helen Plopa.

Mr. Plopa pushed his daughter's car into a parked car owned by Clara Covington of Petersburg, Mich. Miss Plopa was injured about the mouth and was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by her father. No tickets were issued.

Newsboy Robbed By Three Youths

Newsboy Thomas O'Brien, 13, of 1184 Marlboro, Detroit, told Park police that three teenagers had robbed him of $2.50 on December 20.

O'Brien said the three boys, described as 16 to 18 years old, approached him in front of 1240 Lakepointe. The three displayed no weapons, but O'Brien said one claimed to have a gun.

of all items in 1963 stood at 148,650; a decade later, 358,520. During its 10 years of service, almost two million items have been borrowed from the Central Library.

January 31—The Grosse Pointe High School Band traveled to Grand Rapids as the specially invited guests of a suburban community there to present a full-length concert. Approximately 85 members of the band, led by Director Richard H. Snook, made the two-day trip. Each year, Rockford, Mich., invites an outstanding band in the State to stage a concert. Grosse Pointe is the first Class AA school to participate.

February 7—John Chandler, Jr., headmaster of the Grosse Pointe University School since 1949, resigned to become president of the National Association of Independent Schools, with headquarters in Boston, Mass. His decision to resign was accepted by the GPUS Board of Trustees "with extreme regret." H. Gordon Wood, president of the Board, said Chandler would finish the school year and remain on into the summer.

February 14—A Pointe attorney, George N. Bashara, Jr., was among three Republicans appointed by Gov. Romney to replace three Democrats on the Michigan Unemployment Security Commission Appeal Board. The attorney, who lives at 462 McKinley, is the son of Lebanese Consul and Mrs. George Bashara, Sr., of 689 Peach Tree Lane.

February 21—Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen disclosed that the city reorganized its Public Safety Department and Public Works Department for more efficient service to the taxpayers and for better economy. The former does not cost extra to the taxpayers, although two men have been added to the department; the latter is expected to save the city an estimated $35,000 through the combining of various departments.

February 28—The Community Facilities Administration in Washington, D.C., gave the Woods the go ahead to build additions to the Municipal Building and Public Works Garage. Approved were $146,300 for a Public Safety headquarters addition to the City Hall and $35,520 for the garage addition. The total estimated cost of the two bills is $363,640.

Mr. Strang said seven oil paintings (one Irish, one English and the remaining French), had been destroyed in the fire. An extensive book collection, including several valuable first editions, among them a prized edition of Mark Twain, had been destroyed.

An estimate of total damage was not available.

Low Water

Indicates a steady drop in water level since 1952. Comparing depths for December of each year, the report shows that the level recorded for this month is nearly 10 inches less than that for December a year ago.

NEAR RECORD LOW
This month's level is about a foot above the modern low record in 1926, and a full four feet below the record high in 1952.

Park officials said they were going ahead with the construction of a new 27 boat well area for boats from 35 to 50 feet in length.

Construction was scheduled to begin on this project late in the winter, and the $33,000 steel and concrete walls are scheduled to be finished by May 1, 1964.

Police Perform Mercy Errand

Shores police officers performed an errand of mercy on Sunday, December 22, when they answered a summons for help after a delivery man was late in bringing a supply of oxygen to a heart attack victim.

Police Sgt. Charles Wenrich responded to the call for help, while on his beat at about 1:25 a.m. to the home of the heart victim, Harold Strickland, 71 Claireview. Patrolman Harry Hamilton and Melvin Yacks arrived with the police ambulance and a tank of oxygen.

The driver of the oxygen firm was late in coming, the officers said, so they administered the oxygen to Strickland, who suffered a heart attack on Thursday, December 19. When the delivery driver finally arrived at 3:30 a.m., he explained that he had lost his way.

It turned out that the driver had brought the wrong type of gauge and mask, and he had to return to the plant office in James Couzens Highway in Detroit, for the proper equipment, and returned at 4:20 a.m.

Yacks returned to the station with the ambulance, while Wenrich and Hamilton remained giving him oxygen until the company driver came back with the needed apparatus.

Center Offers Art Classes

A variety of art classes will be offered by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning with the New Year. All will be under the direction of very capable, high ranking and popular teachers.

On Friday, January 3, Professor Robert Wilbert of Wayne State University will begin both a morning and an afternoon series of Oil Painting classes each lasting for twelve successive weeks on Fridays. The morning session will be from 9:30 to 12:30, the afternoon classes from 1 to 4 o'clock. Twelve three-hour lessons are offered in each session for an enrollment fee of $36.

Monday, January 6, will mark the start of Steve Davis' evening painting classes which will be in session each Monday evening for a period of 12 weeks between the hours of 7:30 and 10:30. In this class specially scheduled for those employed or too busy to attend during the day.

A class in basic drawing and painting will be taught by Mr. Davis on Wednesday afternoon for 12 weeks from 1 to 4 o'clock. Here he will teach the basic principles of design and color and also emphasize the sketching of the human figure and the elements of portraiture.

All Mr. Davis' classes are offered in series of 12 three-hour sessions for $33. Enrollments should be made now at the Center office.

City Assessment Roll Available

The 1964 Real Property Assessment Roll is now complete and will be available for public inspection at the City of Grosse Pointe Municipal Office, 17147 Maumee from December 26 through January 17, 1964.

The office will be open during the hours of 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays.

addresses and for boys of buying corsages.

She said she felt that a large, formal prom-type dance cost more than it is worth, and would probably scare elements of the student body away to private parties and other dances.

"We'd rather have a casual dress affair that would attract a lot of students than a semi-formal affair for a few couples," she said.

But students reacted differently. The High School student council informally polled the student body and found that almost three-fourths favored semi-formal affair over a less formal one. They agreed that semi-formal would not involve boys donning tuxedos, but saw nothing wrong with sending corsages if they desired to.

The council also produced a complex list of the definitions of the levels of "dressiness" at school functions, ranging from casual (slacks, bermudas, kilts) to formal (tuxedos and formal dresses, strapless permitted).

Girls interviewed generally said the same thing: "We should be able to wear what we want to; we're old enough to know what's right."

Most of the boys questioned welcomed the anti-corsage decision, however. "Corsages are just another expense. We're glad to see them go," said one.

Both Gerich and Mrs. Flom commented on the rising trend in high school dances towards more formality. They appealed that consideration be made of the High School students who do not have the means to finance such a venture more than once a year.

Gerich said that towards the end of last week, the sale of tickets for the New Year's dance was below normal. He said he feared a misunder-

Lawrence Beausoleil, 415 Lakeland avenue, was backing out of a driveway at 629 University place December 19 at 7:43 p.m. and ran into a parked car owned by Frank La Piccolo of 14813 Mayfield, Detroit. The parties settled the damage between themselves and no tickets were issued.

As the end of this year draws near, we pause to look back with grateful remembrance on all that was good in the past and we look forward to the future with faith and confidence. The progress we have experienced during the past six years has been most significant. From a one-man operation in 1957, we have grown into an agency employing a full time staff of 12. These agents have put in force $28,488,200 of life insurance, resulting in a yearly payroll of more than $140,300, most of which stays in the Grosse Pointe communities.

We like to believe that our policy of service has been responsible for our growth.

With this deep sense of gratitude on behalf of my staff, I extend to you and yours the sincere hope that the New Year brings you HEALTH, HAPPINESS AND PROSPERITY.

Sincerely,
Max L. Henry

Nab Shoplifters At Jacobson's

The manager of Jacobson's Store in "The Village" reported to City Police December 20 that there was a shoplifter in the store.

Two women and a child came into the store and stole an item from the children's department. They were immediately observed by store personnel and watched. In the meantime, the police were notified.

When the threesome attempted to leave the store, they were apprehended by the police. Store officials had every reason to believe that the shoplifters came from the other side of town for the express purpose of stealing merchandise.

Apprehended was Irene Janik of 5826 Elmer, Detroit. She was issued a court notice. The other woman's name was not revealed as it has not been determined yet if she will also be charged. Jacobson's officials stated that they pursue a firm policy toward shoplifting and will prosecute in every instance.

Sale of Cards Aids Foundation

Over 60,000 cards were sold this year in the annual Christmas card sales of the Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children.

One of the chief sources of operating expenses for the Foundation, the card sales have been growing every year in its half dozen years of operation.

The traditional cards display a free form scene of an angel, lamb and star of Bethlehem, done in either blue and white or red and white, designed by Mrs. Cass Pieronek, a commercial artist who donated her work to the Foundation.

This year's card project was directed by Mrs. Richard J. Lane and Mrs. Douglas Turnbull. The proceeds will go directly to the operation of the Foundation, a school for retarded children, located behind Christ Church.

Man Accused of Larceny Of $280 Released on Bond

Ernest S. Griffith, 35, of 19021 Revere, Detroit, stood mute at his examination before Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong on Wednesday, December 18, on a charge of larceny from a building.

Judge Armstrong found sufficient cause for a trial and released Griffith on $2,500, to await a hearing date in Wayne County Circuit Court.

A woman companion of Griffith, arrested by Park police two miles from the scene of the robbery, was released by Farms authorities because of lack of evidence.

Griffith was accused of taking $280 in currency from a metal box under a rear counter of the Farms Delicatessen, 18660 Mack avenue. He was apprehended by the proprietor of the delicatessen, and a passing mailman, who saw Griffith running from the store and hide in a parked car near by.

Griffith was arrested by Farms Patrolmen Joseph Miller and John Farley for investigation of robbery unarmed, and taken to the station for questioning by Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Officer Miller, who is working temporarily in the Detective Bureau.

Police said that Patricia Crocker, 32, of 5071 Martindale, Detroit, who was with Griffith, was sitting in a parked car, and when she observed Griffith being chased, drove away.

Another mailman, who observed his colleague, and the owner of the store, George Marshall of 10819 East Outer Drive, Detroit, chasing Griffith, also saw the woman drive away in her car, and took down the license plate number. He gave the number to Farms police, who sent out a general broadcast.

Mrs. Crocker was stopped at Mack and Devonshire by Park Police Sgt. Charles French and Patrolman Walter Paton, and taken to the Park station and later released to Farms authorities.

A warrant charging Griffith with larceny from a building, was recommended by Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Robert Sage. A warrant against the woman was denied because of lack of evidence and she was released.

Both Griffith and Mrs. Crocker denied being involved in the larceny, police said. Mrs. Crocker stated that she had gone with Griffith to the Farms, where he said he was going to look for employment.

Marshall told Van Tiem and Miller that he was going out the front door of his establishment, when he observed Griffith standing at the side door.

Marshall said that when he returned to the store he saw Griffith leaving by the side door, and then noticed that a green metal box, which had contained the $280, was empty.

To Give Brunch For Alpha Phis

Mrs. James Quello is again hosting the annual Alpha Phi Christmas brunch. It is being held Friday, December 27 at her Berkshire road home, and the time is from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

Members of her committee include Mrs. Alan Devine Jr., Mrs. Floyd Nixon Jr., Mrs. Richard Heglin, Mrs. Samuel Ulmer, and Mrs. Stuart Fraser. As always, her home will be illuminated in the true holiday spirit, with decorations in every room.

Collegiate chapter members from all schools have been invited, and we are looking forward to a grand turnout. The local area alumni are looking forward to meeting the girls now attending college.

Peggy Comly Wins Honors

Peggy Comly, a nearly all-A senior at Grosse Pointe High School, is one of 19 state finalists in the annual competition sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Seven other Michigan high school students besides Peggy are winners, 11 are runners-up.

The only other Detroit area winners are a boy from Mumford H. S. and a girl from Our Lady of Mercy H. S.

Awards in this competition are considered by educators to be one of the best criteria of high school scholastic achievement. They stress ability to write clearly and thoughtfully. Of those picked as finalists, 90 percent have been accepted by the college of their choice in the past.

Out of 6,800 students nominated by high schools in the nation, 860 winners and runners-up survived the judges' inspection of compositions, test scores, and recommendations.

Peggy and the other winners will receive a scroll and a recommendation for scholarship aid. Last year 90 percent of the state finalists who applied for colleges received them.

One week last May, Peggy, along with four other high school students, took three tests after school on different days. Two tests were objective, dealing with grammar, word usage, and vocabulary. The third test was an essay on one of six topics.

Peggy wrote her essay on the question of how man's search for true knowledge has been expressed in literature. She cited examples from three works of literature.

TO THE 1,185,000 FAMILIES SERVED BY DETROIT EDISON

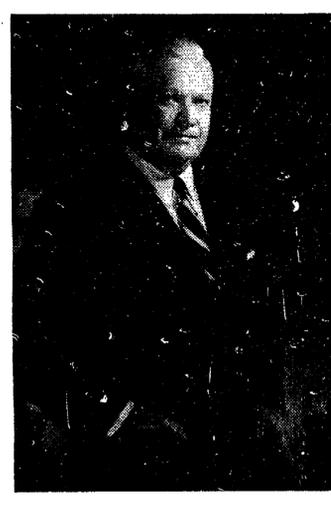

People often ask if Detroit Edison is a part of any other electric company which has "Edison" in its name. The answer is no. Years ago, Thomas Edison licensed a number of newly formed companies to use his patented devices to generate and distribute electric power. In each agreement was a clause—long since expired—which stated that his name be a part of every company name. We are proud to continue this historic tie.

Detroit Edison serves Southeastern Michigan only. This being so, we are always deeply interested in the progress of the area. Edison employees are your neighbors and their concerns, as good citizens, are the same as yours.

About 110,000 individuals and organizations are Detroit Edison shareowners. Their dollars, working for the company, earn dividends at the current rate of about four per cent of the market value of the shares.

Nearly 73,000 Edison shareowners live in Michigan. Of this number, 63,000 are also Detroit Edison customers. So our company is very much a part of Michigan. Many insurance companies and retirement funds own Edison shares too. Thus other Americans, here and elsewhere, are indirect owners of the company.

Investor ownership is basic to the American way of life and is largely responsible for the economic progress of the nation. Ours is an economic system which, more than any other in the world, supports and enlarges personal freedom. And it is an appropriate time, as an eventful and historic year draws to a close, to pledge ourselves anew to the cause of freedom.

May I, on behalf of my associates and myself, wish you a Happy New Year!

Sincerely,
Walker L. Cisler

Rapid Recovery Party Planned

The first Friday of the new year, January 3, has been designated by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Club as the date for their annual "Rapid Recovery Party."

This group made up of young single business and professional men and women in the Grosse Pointe area feels that the week-end after New Year's will be something of a letdown unless there is some activity to spark it.

All of them feel that being young they can make a rapid recovery from the holidays and that they will be ready to enjoy themselves again on the third. The party is in general a non-date affair though those wishing to make dates ahead of time are welcome to do so.

The dance time is 9 o'clock and the setting is the Crystal Ballroom which will still be handsomely decorated from the holidays. Refreshments will be served at candlelit tables overlooking the lake.

Receive Degrees At Wayne State

A total of 1,284 candidates were awarded degrees at Wayne State University's midyear commencement exercises Sunday, December 15, in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Those from the Grosse Pointes are Gwendolyn Mae Bashara, Anne Katharine Baubie, Gail Shaw Biederman, Gordon Albert Creeger, William Duane Darby, Margaret Rivers Eastman, Kathleen Mary Endres and John Essington.

Others are Virginia May Gamble, Paula Philipson Gordon, Ruth Ann Hoberling, Lillian Beam House, Donald Charles Huss, Karen Frances Isaacson, Margot Ann Kahl, Robert Timothy Jameson, Jr., Arthur Camiel Kesteloot, Maureen Marie Murphy, Robert Paul Patterson, Bertha Lindholm Rumora and Judith A. Sattler.

Trade Stories Of Dartmouth

Dartmouth students home for the holidays like to stick together. Meeting for a luncheon at the Harmonie Club last Thursday, Detroit area Dartmouth undergrads talked over the fall term's academic, social and athletic highlights with the alumni members of the Dartmouth Club of Detroit.

Among Pointers attending were freshmen Bill Lenz, of Moran road, and Tom Thompson, of Greyton road. Bill is in pre-med and rowed on the freshman crew squad, and Tom, a liberal arts student, played first string halfback and earned his numerals on the freshman football squad.

Other Pointers present were Ron Schram of Severn road, a senior in economics and junior Phil Beta Kappa member; Greg McGregor of Bishop road, a sophomore in English and a member of the Dartmouth ski patrol; and Tony Lott of Grayton, a senior majoring in chemistry.

Also present were Marshall Noecker of Handy road, a senior in engineering at Hanover and alumnus Jim Flom '52, of Mt. Vernon road, a local Dartmouth alumni representative.

The boys will return to New Hampshire during the first week of January.

Law Violators Pay in Shores

Shores Judge John Gillis accepted a plea of guilty to reckless driving from Thomas A. Martin of 8696 Dumbarton, Detroit, at a court hearing held on Wednesday, December 18. The original charge was drunk driving, for which Martin was arrested while driving on Lake Shore drive. The fine was $100.

William J. Taper of 19891 West Doyle place, accused of reckless driving on Lake Shore, was found guilty and fined $10. Eugene M. Zlezeniewski of 8587 Christine, Warren, accused of leaving the scene of a property damage accident on Lake Shore, had the charge dismissed.

John S. McCarver of 22436 Revere, St. Clair Shores, was found guilty of driving 45 miles an hour on Lake Shore, and paid court costs of $7.50. William G. Therrien of 475 Allard, arrested on Lake Shore, and charged with driving without acquiring a valid Michigan operator's license, was found guilty and paid court costs of $7.50.

Harvey F. LaValley of 24009 Talbot, St. Clair Shores, charged with driving without ever acquiring a valid Michigan operator's license, was found guilty and assessed $7.50 court costs.

Richard W. Chojnacki of 5719 Chene, Detroit, was found guilty of reckless driving on Vernier road, speeding 60 miles an hour, and it cost him $50.

Thomas G. Shammami of 610 Blaine, Detroit, pled guilty to speeding 50 miles an hour on Lake Shore, reduced from 70 miles an hour, and paid a fine of $25. Vincent F. Murphy, 19, of 2045 Hollywood, was found guilty of illegal possession of alcoholic beverages, and paid a fine of $15.

Craig J. Oster of 24721 Harmon, St. Clair Shores, was found guilty of speeding 45 miles an hour on Lake Shore and was fined $10.

To Hold Dance For Collegians

A truly wonderful opportunity for a gala New Year's Eve is offered the college and young adult set at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Beginning at 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 31, Mark Otis, orchestra will play for dancing in the beautifully decorated Crystal Ballroom. Popular records will be played at intermission times.

The crowd is asked to dress up but couples need not be truly formally dressed. Young men who do not have dinner jackets will feel perfectly comfortable in dark suits.

As midnight nears there will be a grand march and everyone will be given horns or other noise makers and fancy hats. At the stroke of the New Year the band will play Auld Lang Syne and the lights will be dimmed so that couples may greet the New Year in traditional fashion.

Then buffet tables will open service and guests will be served a plentiful ham and turkey buffet complete with all the trimmings. They will dine at candlelit tables placed around the ballroom. In the foyer, and also the lower lobby, dancing will continue till 1:30.

Invitations to this party were sent out, but it was impossible to send cards to all the Collegians in Grosse Pointe and it is hoped that this article will serve as a blanket invitation. Paid reservations at $5 per couple are requested at the Center as soon as possible. There is a limit of 250.

Family Film Night Jan. 3

The Family Film Night program scheduled for January 3 at 7:30 o'clock at the Central Library Meeting Room will consist of four films.

A CHAIRY TALE presents a legend in the animated style of Norman McLaren. BETWEEN THE TIDES, filmed off the coast of Great Britain, displays plant and animal life found at the edge of the sea.

PALLE ALONE IN THE WORLD, is the delightful fantasy of a little boy, and CARROT NOSE a little detective story involving a snow man.

Adults, and children accompanied by adults, are cordially invited. Admission is free.

Traffic Tied Up By Drunk Driver

A Shores police officer had to use caution on Monday, December 23, in stopping a Detroit motorist driving on Lake Shore drive in such a manner that it was unsafe for the policeman to use normal means to force the motorist to come to a stop.

Patrolman Harry Hamilton said that he arrested Morris Baber, 44, of 2950 Nebraska, and took him to the station where he gave Baber a ticket for driving while under the influence of liquor.

The policeman said that he was cruising north on Lake Shore, when he noticed Baber near Vernier road, blocking traffic. Approximately 20 cars were behind Baber, Hamilton said, and a number of motorists were blowing horns, in an attempt to get Baber to move to another lane, or come to a stop.

Hamilton said that the other drivers appeared to be reluctant to pass Baber because of the manner in which he was driving.

The officer said that he got behind Baber, who was weaving badly from side to side on the road, and at South Edgewood, turned on his red flasher and siren. Hamilton said that it was impossible to get alongside Baber's car because of the man's erratic driving.

Hamilton said that he turned on the police car spot light and flashed it back and forth through the man's rear window in an effort to signal him to stop. Finally pulling up alongside Baber, the patrolman motioned him to the curb.

The policeman said that he had to repeat an order several times for Baber to get out of the car before he was obeyed, and when Baber did leave his

WINDSHIELD DAMAGED
James H. Farrell of 1895 Huntington, complained to Woods police on Sunday, December 22, that while his car was parked in front of his house during the night, someone broke the windshield, with either a stone or BB shot.

Baber was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and was given a violation ticket. He was locked in a cell until he sobered up, after which he was released on $100 bond, to appear in court on January 8.

Happy New Year and Thanks

The final issue of the year seems to be an appropriate medium for conveying our greetings and thanks to the many who have helped us in 1963 and through all the years since our first issue in 1940.

Every paper is dependent on help in many forms from individuals and groups outside of the staff, and this is particularly true of a weekly with relatively few employees. So much goes on in a place of this size that it is impossible to cover all activities. With the peculiar setup of five municipalities in what is actually one tightly-knit community, there are often three or four council meetings being held simultaneously. It is necessary to keep in close contact with five city halls and five police and fire departments, and without the cooperation of all the municipal officials and employees we would miss much important news.

Students are of tremendous help in covering athletic events and school activities, and teachers and administrators of the public, parochial and independent systems provide inestimable assistance. Publicity chairmen of the hundreds of local organizations earn our eternal thanks for keeping a steady flow of news coming into the office. We greatly appreciate the calls and letters we get from individuals apprising us of their doings.

We have enjoyed a tremendously satisfying relationship with readers and advertisers through the years, and of course we must say a special thank you to the latter, who furnish the bulk of the revenue which makes printing a paper possible. It has been most gratifying to watch our circulation growth keep pace with the increasing population of the Pointe and we have been happy with the many manifestations of how well our paper is read.

We shall continue to make every effort to improve our product and to serve the community to the best of our ability. We shall hope for the continued cooperation we have been afforded. To all, we express our deep appreciation and extend sincere wishes for all good things in the years ahead.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: I protest vehemently against the Business Men's Association which is displaying these miserable reindeer for our children's pleasure.

To what end are we bringing our children when we serve them to look upon two reindeer bedded in cold soggy straw in six foot pens? Are we teaching kindness to animals or consideration for something that cannot speak for itself? Granted these animals are accustomed to cold weather, but they are also accustomed to a place where they can exercise and keep warm.

If these animals are to be displayed they should have, at the very least, a twenty foot run, where they could walk up and down, and a covered shelter at the end of the run with clean dry straw which is changed each day where they can lie sheltered and dry.

I do not protest the exhibition of the reindeer under proper conditions. They should be guarded better during the night, however. I do not begrudge the children the pleasure of seeing the reindeer. But this exhibition is a heart sickening sight and serves no good.

If this exhibition is "The Spirit of Christmas" let's forget the whole thing, for then Christmas has lost its meaning.

Very early in my life, I was taught a verse by my grandmother and I believe it is worth repeating.

"So many gods— so many creeds— So many paths that wind and wind, While just the art of being kind Is all this sad world needs."

Edna Merrett Harrington (Mrs. H. D.) 16761 East Jefferson Ave.

Books Honoring Walter Irving

Because of Walter Irving's death during the past month, there will be no gala holiday celebration at Northville State Hospital, where in previous Christmases thousands of patients were Mr. Irving's guests at a traditional party.

Instead, a Walter Irving Memorial Library, including volumes from the nationally famed couturier's own personal library, books given in his memory by his friends, and 2,000 volumes donated by Norman and Louise Wexler's old fashioned Big Book Store, has been set up and dedicated in recognition of his charity.

Mrs. John W. Davis, who managed the Irving Shop in East Adams during her father's illness and is now director of the salon, received the Wexlers' donation, representing all fields of literature, for Dr. Philip Brown, Northville superintendent, and Miss Carolyn Siefeld, of the hospital staff.

Deborah Diane and Faith Elizabeth Davis, Mr. Irving's 4½-year-old granddaughters, also participated in the presentation. A bronze plaque will be placed at the library entrance in Northville's main building, recording the Irving bequest.

Mrs. Davis has announced that next year, with mourning over the traditional party will be resumed with all the customary Irving features and those among his friends who always took an active part in the affair.

The hospital will be happy to receive any books Pointers, many of whom were among Walter Irving's clientele, may wish to add to the collection.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Do you like animals? If you don't, you might just as well stop reading, as it is to those of us who feel a great affection for our four-footed friends and remember with nostalgia our childhood pets, as well as the many books we have read about this subject, that this column is beamed. And I suspect our number is legion.

Speaking personally, I can still see the illustrations of my copy of JOHNNY CROW'S GARDEN (Leonard Brooke), shudder over the fate of THE THREE LITTLE PIGS, vicariously travel in fantasy with ALICE in her ADVENTURES IN WONDERLAND and THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS (Lewis Carroll) as he coped with a wonderful bevy of both animals and people. Did you ever envy, as I did, DR. DOOLITTLE'S marvelous ability to communicate with his household of pets? There are so many others that come to mind: Kenneth Grahame's WIND IN THE WILLOWS, with its fine humor, perception and poetic feeling; the entire gallery of Beatrix Potter from the famous Flopsy bunnies to Gemima Puddleduck. E. B. White has indelibly etched in my mind the figure of Wilbur, the pig, and wise Charlotte, the spider, in his unforgettable CHARLOTTE'S WEB. Oh I know there are many others, and you are waiting for me to pause for breath so you can tell me about the wonderful children's books that you remember!

I think we all owe a debt of gratitude to Walt Disney, also, for his sympathetic portrayal, both in cartoon medium and straight film, of many animals and many animal stories. But we must move on, as I want to cover some fairly recent adult books, both fiction and non-fiction, which deal with the subject at hand.

Do you remember Hal Borland's delightful THE DOG WHO CAME TO STAY? For canine lovers, here is a true dog story about Pat, a stray dog, who, along with a younger companion stray dog, appeared one winter night at the country home of the author in the Berkshire Hills. Both Sheila Burnford and Walt Disney have immortalized man's best friend again in THE INCREDIBLE JOURNEY. This concerns a young yellow Labrador retriever who sets out with two companions, a Siamese cat and an old bull terrier, on a 250-mile trek through the Canadian wilderness. Together these staunch assorted friends battle starvation, exposure, bobcats and bears in a truly remarkable tale. It is both worth reading and viewing.

A current best-seller is Sterling North's RASCAL. Here, the author adopted a baby raccoon who lived with him and young Sterling for a year—until the mating season drew high. This is written in fine, crystal prose and is complete with beautiful woodcuts. The reader finds not only a superb animal story but also a nostalgic picture of Wisconsin in the World War I era of 1918.

I am sure no one can forget the Joy Adamson trio: BORN FREE, LIVING FREE, and finally, FOREVER FREE. Here we are dealing with lions in Kenya. More specifically, we are following the life story of Elsa, one of three lion cubs originally rescued by the author's husband, who was obliged to shoot their mother in self defense. In the first book, we are introduced to young Elsa, her early development, and her almost-human characteristics. The second is a continuation, taking Elsa and her three cubs up to the order of their removal from the game reserve. And finally, there is the story of the raising of the cubs, Elsa's death, and the resettlement of her children in the great game preserve of Serengeti in Tanganyika. All are told with simplicity, affection and appeal.

Gavin Maxwell's fine RING OF BRIGHT WATER has very recently been followed up by THE ROCKS REMAIN. Both deal with otters. The first detailed the story of Mijbil and Edal, the two pet otters who became household pets. Further, the reader was given a self-portrait of an animal lover and an account of the author's romance with the flora and fauna of his shore retreat in the Scottish Highlands. We suspect that this latest book: THE ROCKS REMAIN, will rival the best-selling qualities of Maxwell's first. But here the author strikes a more somber note in viewing the inevitable encroachment of civilization on his Eden, as well as the increasingly unpredictable disposition of his star performer, Edal. However, the author still writes with charm, intelligence and humor, and we certainly recommend it to all other aficionados!

Calling all cat-lovers! Even the Gordons have succumbed in a light-hearted whodunit — UNDERCOVER CAT—concerning a cat who became an FBI informant — nay, agent — and who can top that?

League Displays Christmas Cards

Many Pointers took advantage of a pre-Christmas display of holiday greetings cards maintained this year by the Junior League of Detroit at the War Memorial Center.

The display featured Christmas cards being sold by over 20 charitable organizations. Although no cards were sold at the display itself, each organization provided blanks by which cards could be ordered directly.

The display has been an annual function of the active Detroit Junior League chapter. Co-chairmen Mrs. Peter Dow and Mrs. Daniel H. Buell report that more and more charities have been taking advantage of the opportunity to display their cards.

Mrs. Edith Seidel, who answered questions and phone queries at the League's War Memorial office, said the display had been "quite a tremendous operation."

Set up by Mrs. Dow and Mrs. Buell, with the help of other League members, the display included samples of cards from each group mounted on a large board, along with ordering information.

The most popular cards this year, according to Mrs. Dow, were those of the American Cancer Society, the Christ Child Society, UNICEF, and the Foundation for Exceptional Children.

Close to 200 order forms were taken for the UNICEF and American Cancer Society cards alone, Mrs. Dow reported.

The display, which brings the Junior League no remuneration, will probably be continued in future years as a service to Grosse Pointers and all charities wishing to display cards.

How to swallow a bitter pill

By FRED KOPP, R.Ph.

First, find a bitter pill. There are so few nowadays. It all started because children, bless 'em, are so good at resisting bad-tasting medicine. You can medicate their chins or hair, but getting the stuff in them is beyond the ken of science. Kids can spit a country mile. So pharmacists began a sugar-coating pills, putting medication in capsules, or mixing with sweet syrup. And we soon found that adults, too, like medicine the easy way. So now, most of our prescriptions are quite pleasant to take. If you should run into one of the few bitter ones, believe us, there are good medical reasons for it.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Some Pointers do their skiing in Aspen, some fly to Switzerland, and a few even try New Zealand in July and August, (mid-winter south of the equator), but Anne Homer is the first we've heard of who chose Czechoslovakian slopes.

The daughter of the Charles LeB. Homers, of Touraine road, currently living with a French family in Paris under the Academic Year Abroad program, elected to spend her holidays at a mountain village in the East European country.

Anne has been in Europe since September, spent the first six weeks in Montpelier, brushing up her French, then toured Spain for five days before arriving October 15 in the City of Lights.

In Paris, she has a varied program, including classes at the Sorbonne, learning to cook French style, (an important science and major art in the gastronomic capital of the world), and painting lessons.

One of 70 AYA-ers based in Paris, Anne was given the choice of skiing in Switzerland or skiing in Czechoslovakia over New Year's, preferred the more unusual locale, and will visit Prague for a few days before heading into the mountains.

Meanwhile, back in the Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Homer have welcomed their daughter, Bicky, and son, Chuck, home from Westover and Winchendon Schools respectively for the holidays. The Homers entertained friends at a pre-Christmas cocktail party last Monday night.

Mount Holyoke Christs Tea

Mrs. Robert B. Powers, of Whittier road, will open her home next Thursday, January 2, for the annual Christmas tea sponsored by the Mount Holyoke Club of Detroit.

Planned especially to interest undergraduates, prospective students and their mothers, the program will feature four girls currently on campus giving impressions of day-to-day life at Mount Holyoke.

Among those planning to attend is Joan Vermuelen, of Balfour road, Mount Holyoke student, and three Pointe officers of the local college club, first vice president Mrs. Leonard I. Winter, second vice president Mrs. Kenneth McCoy and treasurer Mrs. William King.

Mrs. Powers has asked two of her classmates, Mrs. Kenneth E. Chamberlin, of Lincoln road, and Mrs. Robert B. Rutherford, of Glastonbury road, to pour the afternoon of the tea.

On The Twelfth Day of Christmas

Good cheer, good fellowship and wassail are Dr. and Mrs. George W. Christiansens' prescription for a perfect end-of-holidays party.

As they have done almost every year since they moved into their Vendome road home more than a decade ago, the Christiansens are inviting old, close friends to celebrate the last day of Christmas at a Twelfth Night Party.

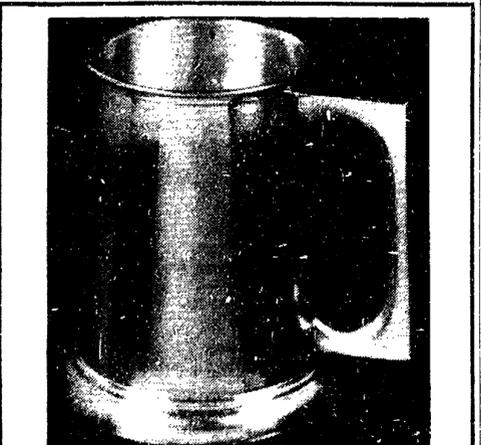

Between 40 and 50 guests will gather Sunday afternoon, January 5, for traditional winter refreshments, including eggnogg, and relaxed conversation around the Christiansens' Wassail Bowl.

Mrs. Romney to Be Keynote Speaker

Mrs. George Romney, wife of the Governor of Michigan, will give the keynote address at this year's Regional Meeting of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, Region IV, convening January 6 through 8 at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

A crowded schedule of meetings, workshops and parties, including dinner at the Country Club of Detroit, preceded by cocktails at the Lakeshore road home of Mrs. Edsel B. Ford, is sure to keep delegates, observers, the Detroit Board of Directors and the Regional

Y., presented a special Christmas Carol concert December 15, benefitting the student assistant fund at the college. CHERYL FISHER, daughter of MR. and MRS. THOMAS K. FISHER, is business manager of the choral groups.

RALPH MCKENNEY, son of the RALPH W. MCKENNEYS, of Newberry place, arrived home from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to spend Christmas with his parents, his sister, SALLY, and his younger brother, PAUL.

SHARON SWEENEY directed two of the medieval mystery plays presented by the Chapel Sophs at Wellesley College early this month. The daughter of DR. and MRS. DONALD N. SWEENEY, JR., of Three Mile drive, is a junior at Wellesley and the advisor to the Chapel Sophs, elected representatives from dormitories to the non-denominational Wellesley College Community Chapel. A history major, Sharon has been active in several campus organizations and is the present secretary of the Carillon Society. She was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School.

SHEILA SUE JORDAN, daughter of DR. and MRS. R. GERALD JORDAN, of Blairmore court, has been elected a representative to the House Council of South Hall at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo.

JANE EVENEDEN, daughter of MR. and MRS. E. G. EVENEDEN of Rivard boulevard, has recently been elected and installed to the office of Rush Chairman of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority at the University of Colorado in Boulder. Miss Evenden is a Sophomore at the university majoring in Russian.

KRISTINA MARIE SEGERLUND, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Segerlund, of Bedford road, became the bride of Mr. Maharry at a Saturday evening ceremony in St. Columba Episcopal Church. He is the son of Mrs. William A. Maharry, of Delaware, O., and the late Mr. Maharry.

Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., late in November.

During the course Lieutenant Trader received instruction in the duties and responsibilities of a newly commissioned medical service corps officer.

He is a 1959 graduate of St. Johns Military Academy, Delaware, Wis., and received his bachelor's degree in 1963 from Ripon (Wis.) College. The lieutenant is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

MISS ROBIN MICHAEL has pledged to Chi Omega sorority at Hillsdale College this semester. Robin is the daughter of MR. and MRS. DONALD W. MICHAEL, of Nottingham road.

DR. and MRS. STEVEN E. STARYK returned recently from New York City, where they attended a week-long convention of the New York Society of Anesthetists.

Former Pointers MR. and MRS. RICHARD S. CAMPBELL (Cheryl Reberdy), with their sons SCOTT and BLAIR and daughter HEATHER, are spending their first Christmas in sunny California, where they have recently moved.

Home for the holidays is PAULA ROTH, daughter of MR. and MRS. PAUL ROTH, of Neff road. Paula is a senior at Rosarion Academy, West Palm Beach, Fla.

The 1964 Republican Mock Convention of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, has recently announced the appointment of STEPHEN D. LANDERS as chairman of the California Delegation. Steve is the son of DR. and MRS. M. B. LANDERS of Lincoln road. He was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School.

As chairman of the California Delegation, Steve is participating in the nation's oldest and most widely recognized political Mock Convention. Oberlin's first Mock Convention was held in 1880 when Abraham Lincoln was nominated.

Susan Fisher Bows at Ball

The first debutante of the Christmas season, Susan Briggs Fisher, was presented to society last Thursday evening, at a sparkling holiday ball.

Susan and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everell Edward Fisher, received guests at the Little Club, decorated in blue and green. Two tall juniper trees, glittering with tiny Italian lights and satin Christmas balls, flanked the entrance, and a miniature juniper tree, accented by blue hurricane lamps, stood on a front hall table.

Susan's floor length ballgown was of white slipper satin, cut high in front but dipping to a low back. White velvet roses trimmed the gown. She carried blue Vanda orchids in a cascade spray, and wore her father's gift, a double strand of pearls.

Mrs. Fisher chose a gown of heavy silk moire in pale blue, its floor length bell skirt shot with silver. For the pre-ball dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, Jr., and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., the deb's mother wore a short dress of white silk brocade, patterned with gold scroll bowknots.

Susan's dinner dress was of sapphire blue satin, designed with classic simplicity, its bodice defined by three bows at the back. All four gowns, from Walton-Pierce Co., were designed by Clara Ray.

Thomas Wilson, of Washington, D.C., escorted the debutante. Her cousin, Walter Briggs Fisher, was head usher, and other ushers, wearing sprigs of holly with red berries, included her brother Peter Fisher; Clyde P. Craine, III, James H. Kemp, Jr., Hanley Dawson, III and Robert Kuras.

Among guests dancing to the music of Lester Lanin and his society orchestra was Spanish Princess Immaculada Pia Habsburg, who lives with her mother and stepfather, concert pianist Gyorgy Sendai, in Ann Arbor. The Princess, guest of honor at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Donovan before the ball, made her own debut at the Spanish Embassy in Washington, D.C., last New Year's Day.

Coming from out-of-town for the party was Judy Reddington, of Rochester, N. Y., the deb's roommate at Barat College in Lake Forest, Ill.; Mary Ann Porsche, of Milwaukee, Wis.; and Mary David Maloney, of Louisville, Ky.

coln is stationed at Fort Lee, Va. He and his wife, the former Janice Twedde, expect to leave in January for a three year stay in Italy. While in the Pointe, they plan to visit Lt. Lincoln's uncle, JUDGE JAMES LINCOLN, of Detroit.

Among varsity football team members at Central Michigan University who received major awards after the current season is Pointer JEFF KARR. Another Pointer, JOHN RODGE, was singled out for his performance on CMU's freshman football squad.

DR. and MRS. EDWARD K. ISBEY, of Sheldon road, are entertaining their son and daughter-in-law, DR. and MRS. EDWARD K. ISBEY, JR., who came from Asheville, N.C., to spend Christmas in the Pointe. The junior Isbeys brought their four children,

Maharry-Segerlund Vows Exchanged

Reception in Parish House Follows Saturday Evening Ceremony in St. Columba Episcopal Church; Couple to Live in Ferndale

In St. Columba Episcopal Church Saturday evening, Kristina Marie Segerlund spoke her marriage vows to William Axline Maharry.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Segerlund, of Bedford road. She wore a gown of imported ivory brocade, and a matching brocade crown caught her illusion veil.

Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations and small white orchids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Tomas Johnstone, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jean Segerlund and Kathleen Munro, both cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Michael Maharry. Two other cousins of the bride, Elizabeth and Martha Bangs, served as junior bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of deep turquoise satin with short bell skirts and matching headpieces, and carried cascades of white pom poms. The matron of honor's bouquet was tied with variegated ivy, the bridesmaids' bouquets were tied with green ivy, and the junior bridesmaids' bouquets were miniatures of the senior attendants' flowers.

Michael Maharry served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. William A. Maharry, of Delaware, O., and the late Mr. Maharry. Ushers were Tomas Johnstone, Karl Lundquist and John Tinetti.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Segerlund chose a pale turquoise wool sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Maharry's sheath was of green brocade, and her accessories were gold. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Following a reception in the Church Parish House, the couple left on a tour of the West. They will make their home in Ferndale.

Bride Wears Empire Gown for Rites Friday in Christ Episcopal Church; Reception at Detroit Yacht Club Follows Ceremony

Joal Grundy, daughter of Albert John Grundy, of Neff road, and the late Mrs. Grundy, became the bride of George Leon Peugeot, Jr., at a candlelight ceremony in Christ Episcopal Church Friday.

The Rev. Erville B. Maynard officiated at the evening ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of empire design in silk ottoman and a mantilla of Pointe de Leon lace. She carried a nosegay of miniature gardenias and holly.

Her only attendant, Mrs. Peter Schuyler Vrooman, of Bethel Park, Pa., formerly of Grosse Pointe, wore a short gown of green silk. Her flowers were holly berries and white buttercups with holly leaves.

Mr. Peugeot, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leon Peugeot, of New Haven, Conn., asked George Gerbstadt, of Wayne, Mich., to serve as his best man. A reception at the Detroit Yacht Club followed the ceremony.

The couple are traveling to New York and Florida, and will make their home in Ravine street, Birmingham, upon their return.

Coming from Fayetteville, N.C., to spend Christmas week with her parents, MR. and MRS. GORDON N. CAMERON, of Hampton road, are MR. and MRS. ROBERT T. BARRETT, with their children, TODD and WENDY. NICK CAMERON was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in January, 1959, and from Western Michigan University last June, arrived from Newport, R.I., where he is attending the United States Naval Officer Candidate School, to spend his two weeks' leave in the Pointe.

Miss Suor Marries Clyde R. Pearson

Reception at Lochmoor Club Follows Candlelight Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Pair to Live in Pueblo, Colo.

At a candlelight ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Saturday evening Barbara Leigh Suor becomes the bride of Clyde Ray Pearson.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Suor, of Lincoln road. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Pearson, of Pueblo, Colo.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white peau de soie, fashioned in Victorian style with a full chapel train. Swirls of bugle beads highlighted the bodice and sleeves.

Her French illusion veil fell from a crown of Belgian crystal and, in honor of the season, she carried a cascade of Christmas red carnations, variegated holly and ivy.

Dressed in a floor length gown of red satin was the maid of honor, Barbara Herrick. She wore a pill box of white fur and carried a fur muff trimmed with variegated holly.

In identical gowns were the bridesmaids, Barbara Knost, Barbara Brandt, Judith Standish and Mrs. Stephen Suor, of New York City, sister-in-law of the bride.

Robert Williams, of Pueblo, Colo., was best man. Ushering were Joseph Waples and Ronald Sweeney, both of Pueblo.

bio; Robert Zuehke, and Stephen Suor.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Suor greeted guests at the Lochmoor Club, in a dress of turquoise silk with a beaded bodice. Mrs. Pearson chose a gown of candlelight brocade with contrasting accessories. Both mothers wore white orchids.

When the newlyweds left for Colorado, the bride was wearing an Oxford gray suit with red accessories. The couple will make their home in Pueblo.

Detroit Sorosis To Meet With Mrs. Vernon Johnson

A Post-Holiday Present

The Henry deSegur Laues have one Christmas present still to come—the very nicest kind, neither boxed nor packaged but certain to be enjoyed.

This Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Laue, with sons John and James, fly to New York, first stop on a trip down the East Coast, with Puerto Rico their eventual destination.

The boys are both at the University of Michigan, currently on a tri-semester system, and do not have to return to classes until mid-January, so this is the family's perfect opportunity for a mid-winter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Laue plan to stop off in Miami to visit friends before returning to their Sunningdale drive home.

Ring Out The Old, Ring In The New . . .

. . . at the Country Club of Detroit where, after a five year hiatus, the traditional New Year's Eve Dance will be revived next Tuesday night.

Beginning around 10 o'clock, couples will dance to the music of Al Navarro in the Great Hall, decorated in traditional New Year's fashion.

Though the black tie party has been planned more as a walk-in late evening gathering than a dinner dance, the club will serve dinner as usual from 6 to 9 o'clock. Heading the dance committee are Mr. and Mrs. James Standish, III, assisted by co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. F. Sibley Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Mathews, III, Roger Hall and many others.

The following day, at the annual New Year's open house, members of the club's Board of Directors will greet old and new members alike from 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

Suzanne Phelps Weds in Chicago

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cronon Phelps Weds John Charles Sellers in Fourth Presbyterian Church Saturday

Suzanne Claire Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cronon Phelps, of Glenview, Ill., formerly of Grosse Pointe, and John Charles Sellers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lincoln Sellers, of Bloomfield Hills, exchanged marriage vows Saturday in the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Chicago.

The Rev. Paul S. Allen, Jr., officiated at the afternoon ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Edgewater Beach Hotel.

The bride's gown was fashioned of antique peau de soie, its scoop neckline defined by Alencon lace and hand made peau de soie roses. Her bell shaped skirt with panel detailing of Alencon lace and roses ended in a chapel train.

A pearl and lace headpiece held her imported illusion fountain veil, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and amaranthus.

Matron of honor Mrs. William L. Hoppe, of Bethlehem, Pa., and maid of honor Gail Smith, of Saginaw, wore long empire gowns of Christmas red with satin detailing.

In identical dresses were the bridesmaids, Joan Zimmerman, of St. Louis, Mo., and Diane Randall, of New Canaan, Conn., a cousin of the bride. Their headpieces were pill boxes of crepe and satin with bouffant veils, and they carried holly wreaths.

Robert Bernard Sellers was his brother's best man, and in the usher corps were Thomas Dale Sellers, another brother;

Will Wed

At a tea in her home last Sunday, Mrs. Andrew B. White, of Ridgmont road, announced the engagement of her daughter, FRANCES, to William Alan Ewbank, of Yateley, Hampshire, England.

She is chairman of the Department of English of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Mr. Ewbank, son of Mrs. V. L. W. Ewbank and the late Brig. Gen. W. Ewbank, teaches mathematics at Yateley Manor Preparatory School for boys and is the Associate Editor of "Practical Christianity," official publication of the Officers' Christian Union.

Plans are being made for a late summer wedding in the Old Parish Church of Farnborough, England.

Lochmoor Plans Gala On New Year's Eve

Club Members will Welcome 1964 at a "Winter Wonderland" Dance; Hundreds of Balloons to be Released on the Stroke of Twelve

Mr. and Mrs. T. Jack McCullagh and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Walton, chairmen for Lochmoor Club's New Year's Eve celebration have made extensive plans for a fun-packed evening for club members and their guests.

The party will start at 10 o'clock with dancing to Jack Qualey's orchestra.

The ballroom will be transformed to a "Winter Wonderland" with white branches entwined with twinkling fairy lights, held close to the ceiling but bowing at the archways and windows.

Hot hors d'oeuvres will be served a la Lochmoor style. Midnight will bring the release of three balloon bags and hundreds of balloons will float until captured. Some of the balloons will have lucky numbers and this will entitle the winner to a bottle of champagne.

Breakfast will be served from 1 until 4 in the morning, with the usual menu. Club manager Mr. Emil is going to bring out Lochmoor's big old griddles however, so that pancakes can be made to order, "57 Varieties."

Some of the early reservations are: Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Teetzel, Mr. and Mrs. John F. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold E. Hofmann, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Maghiese.

Center Holding Teens' Dance

The main floor of Alger House has been chosen by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Youth Council as the setting for their Holiday Record Hop on Saturday evening, December 28, from 9 to 12.

They have decided to make it an informal affair and desert the ballroom and dress-up clothes in favor of a more home-like atmosphere and slacks.

A new public address system is being donated to the Center so that the young people can enjoy recorded music in Alger House as well as the new Fris Building. John Clarke, whose parents are making this very fine and generous gift is in charge of the music for this party and is gathering records from teens throughout the community.

Couples attending the party will find the old mansion beautifully decorated for the Christmas Season and there will be plenty of snacks to keep them going and mistletoe for them to have fun with.

This party will be the first scheduled at the Center for teens in two months, since their November dance was cancelled due to the President's death.

The parental chaperones are prepared to receive a large crowd and because there will be no school on Monday, they are going to permit the dance to last until midnight instead of the usual 11:30 closing.

Dominican Mothers Club Meets Early Next Month

The Mothers Club of Dominican High School will hold its next monthly meeting January 8, at 8 o'clock, in the school cafeteria.

This meeting is planned with the special interests of homemakers in mind. Featured speaker will be Mrs. William (Mary Lou) Hayduk, interior decorator.

Mrs. Hayduk, a 1954 graduate of Dominican, will give an illustrated lecture on "New Trends in Decorating."

Mr. Fitzgerald To Claim Bride
At a family dinner on Christmas Eve, announcement was made of the engagement of Gwenevere Phyllis Hartung, daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Hartung and the late Urban Hartung, of Indian Village, to Edward Thomas Fitzgerald, Jr., son of Edward Thomas Fitzgerald, Sr. and the late Mrs. Ruby Fitzgerald, of the Parkstone, formerly of Grosse Pointe.
Miss Hartung was graduated from the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe, attended Barat College in Lake Forest and was graduated from the University of Detroit.
Mr. Fitzgerald is attending the University of Detroit Law School.
A July wedding is planned.

Lynda Bennett Is Second Deb
At a reception Friday evening in the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Lynda Bennett was presented to society by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Navarre Gordon Bennett.
The second debutante of the Christmas season wore a short gown of pale green with a draped skirt, scoop neckline and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and ivy tendrils, her father's gift.
Lynda and her parents received guests in the Venetian Room overlooking Lake St. Clair. Mrs. Bennett's sheath gown was of mist green silk brocade, with a matching jacket.
Tea roses were the motif of the afternoon coming-out party. An antique silver bowl filled with the delicate flowers centered the buffet table, covered with a cloth of pale green satin, and bowls of the roses were scattered throughout the club.

Pointe Lawyers' Wives Attend Regional Meeting
At the recent Regional Meeting of Lawyers' Wives of Michigan, sponsored by the Public Relations Committee and held at Rochester, Mich., the Grosse Pointe Branch was represented by its president, Mrs. Frank McDonald.
Other representatives from the Pointe organization were Mrs. Edward S. Piggins, vice president; Mrs. Anthony Vermuelen, public relations chairman; and Mrs. Alfred E. Lindbloom, publicity chairman.
The meeting served the dual purpose of exchanging ideas and fulfilling one of the organization's objectives: "To promote good fellowship among the families of the legal profession."

Congregational Church Collegians Hold Party
Keeping together the college crowd isn't an easy task. Collegial members of the Congregational Church and their friends renewed old acquaintances at a party last Sunday following the 11 o'clock service. Many past members of the church's choir, Sunday School, and the Pilgrim Fellowship youth group attended.

OBITUARIES

HORACE E. DODGE, JR.

Horace E. Dodge, Jr. died at the age of 63 in Jennings Hospital. Heir to a multi-million dollar automotive fortune, Mr. Dodge died after a nine day illness prior to which he had been in failing health and confined to his home at 17840 East Jefferson.

He was the only son of Horace Elgin Dodge, Sr., who with his brother John Francis Dodge, founded the Dodge Motor Company. The company built Ford's first engines.

Mr. Dodge was a racing boat sportsman and was active along with Gar Wood in the Harmsworth and Gold Cup races. He owned the former Dodge Boat Works in Detroit.

Survivors include his wife, Dora Fjelstad (Gregg Sherwood); their son, John Francis; his mother, Mrs. Horace E. (Anna Thompson) Dodge; two daughters, Mrs. Robert J. (Delphine) Petz and Diana; and two sons, Horace E. III and David.

DR. STEPHEN WILSON

Dr. Stephen Wilson, 59, dean of the College of Pharmacy at Wayne State University, collapsed and died of a heart attack Tuesday, December 19, in his home at 594 Washington road.

Taking over the post of dean at WSU in October, 1963, Dr. Wilson left the University of Pittsburgh where for several years he had served as vice dean of the School of Pharmacy and professor of pharmacy and pharmacy administration.

Educated at the University of Pittsburgh, he won degrees of Ph.D. (graduate in pharmacy), Ph.C. (pharmaceuticals) chemist and a B.S., M.A. and Ph.D.

His past posts while teaching included first and second vice presidencies of the American Pharmaceutical Association of which he also had served as chairman of the Social and Economic Relations Committee.

Dr. Wilson also was a past president of the Pittsburgh and Michigan branches of the American Pharmaceutical Association and a past president of the Michigan Academy of Pharmacy.

Last February, Dr. Wilson was awarded an honorary Pharmacist's Registration for life by the Michigan Board of Pharmacy.

In June, 1963, he was honored with a Distinguished Alumnus Award by the faculty of the School of Pharmacy at the University of Pittsburgh for "his pioneering work in the establishment of pharmacy administration as one of the five areas in the study of pharmacy in America."

Dr. Wilson authored three books including "Food and Drug Regulations," and had written more than 100 articles for pharmaceutical publications. He is listed in "Who's Who in America," "Who's Who in Education," and "American Men in Science."

He held memberships in several pharmacy societies and fraternities.

A native of Newcastle-On-Tyne, England, he grew up in Newcastle, Pa., where his mother still lives.

Other survivors include his wife, Helengrace, and a son, Stephen L., a student at Wayne State.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Friday in the Verheyden Funeral Home, 16300 Mack.

Burial was in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery in Troy.

MARTIN H. HOFFMAN, M.D.

Dr. Hoffman died December 18 at Harper Hospital at the age of 65. He lived at 40 Clairview road, Born in Dubuque, Ia., he graduated from the University of Iowa in 1922. He was medical director at St. Joseph's Retreat from 1945 to 1962; cofounder and past president of the Guild of Catholic Psychiatrists; past president of the Central Neuropsychiatric Association; charter member of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health; past clinical director of the psychiatric division at Eloise Hospital; past president of the Michigan Society of Neurology and Psychiatry; cofounder and incorporator of the Michigan Society of Mental Hygiene; present commander of the Cadillac Post No. 333 of the American Legion; a member of the Detroit Athletic Club, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, and the Players.

Dr. Hoffman was the husband of Margaret (nee Bosley); father of Mrs. Raymond R. (Isabel) Flynn; and Mrs. Herbert I. (Maureen) Buhler; brother of Mrs. Michael Grace and Alois M.

The funeral was from the Verheyden Funeral home Saturday, December 21, and Our Lady Star of the Sea. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

EMERY B. HATCH

Mr. Hatch, of 298 Rivard boulevard, died Saturday, December 21 in Bon Secours Hospital at the age of 59. He was a retired investment broker and former general manager and vice-president of the Georgian Bay Line. He retired six years ago as a partner in Farrand, Newcomb and Hatch.

Born in Boston, Mr. Hatch graduated from the Peekskill (N. Y.) Military Academy and attended the University of Michigan. He belonged to the Old Club and the University Club and served as a commander in the Navy in World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Jean M.; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Price; two sons, Emery and Robert S.; and five grandchildren.

Mr. Hatch was at the William R. Hamilton Funeral Company until the funeral which was at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Monday, December 23. Burial was in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington.

NORMAN H. HILGENDORF

Services were held at the R. G. and G. R. Harris Funeral Home Saturday, December 21, for Mr. Hilgendorf, 56, of 338 Ridge road who died at his residence December 19.

He was the husband of Mary L.; father of Norma, Jean and Harvey W. Hilgendorf; step-father of Mrs. Dorothy Socia and Mrs. Phoebe Jacklyn; son of the late Marceline and William Hilgendorf; brother of the late Earl and Russell; Ralph Alonzo, Sidney, Mrs. Lillian Frazier, Mrs. Cora Domine and Mrs. Frances Socia; also survived by five grandchildren.

Mr. Hilgendorf worked for the City of Grosse Pointe Farms. Burial was in Gethsemane Cemetery.

CATHERINE E. BEAUPRE

Mrs. Beaupre, (nee Beaufait), died December 18 at her residence at 274 Kerby road. She was 82 years old. She was the wife of Albert E.; mother of Waldo J., Mrs. Rav (Bernadine) Grimmer, Mrs. James (Francis) Claycomb, Marvin E., Mrs. (Leona) Davison, Albert D., Laverne P., and Kenneth; sister of Mrs. Matilda Trinity, Mrs. Veva Trombler, Mrs. E. E. Verellen and Joseph E. Beaufait.

The funeral was from the Verheyden Funeral Home and St. Paul's Church, Saturday, December 21. Interment was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

University Nite Dance at DYC

Detroit Yacht Club juniors will host a "University Nite" dance Saturday, December 28, beginning at 8 o'clock.

College pennants will be added to the holiday decor in the Ballroom and East Lounge.

Sons and daughters of other area clubs have been invited to participate, with invitations sent to the young set at the Detroit Boat Club, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Lochmoor Country Club, Detroit Country Club, Birmingham Country Club, Oakland Hills Country Club and the Dearborn Country Club.

There'll be dancing to the music of Herbie Ross and his orchestra, with entertainment by The Chantones, well known singing trio.

Junior members on Perry Deakins' "University Nite" committee are Paula Roth, Pat Parker, Joan Daniels, Michael Irvine, Neal Stoneback and G. Ray McPherson, III.

City of Grosse Pointe PUBLIC NOTICE

1964 Real Property Assessment Roll

The 1964 REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENT ROLL IS now complete and will be available for public inspection at our Municipal Office, 17147 Maumee on DECEMBER 26, 1963 through JANUARY 17, 1964 (Saturdays & Sundays excluded) during the hours of 9:00 A.M. to 11:00 A.M. and 2:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M.

Since the OFFICIAL MANUAL OF THE MICHIGAN STATE TAX COMMISSION, (as directed by legislation enacted in 1962) has been used in computing the 1964 REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENT, all individual 1964 REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENT will reflect a change from that of prior years.

These new values have placed our local level of property assessments at acceptable Wayne County Standards.

Within this inspection period, any person may file IN WRITING with the CITY CLERK a complaint of any assessment, STATING SPECIFICALLY the grounds of the complaint.

All complaints will be considered by the BOARD OF REVIEW which will convene on MONDAY, JANUARY 20, 1964.

Now that the actual DAY is over, Pointers will have a chance to relax, take a second look at presents, try out their new skates and try on their new skis. Traditionally, the day after Christmas (today) is devoted to eating cold turkey sandwiches and leafing through cards, opened in haste during the preceding week or so, dropped in a bowl or platter on the hall table, kept to be read again and enjoyed in the Quiet Time after Christmas Day . . .

. . . Madonnas and Nativity Scenes were favored reproductions on Pointe holiday cards again this year. The George Herbert Zimmermans, of Kenwood road, sent an elegant gold greeting, showing Mary and the Child receiving gifts from the Magi, and Mrs. H. VerLinden Peez, of Neff road, chose a warm-toned French import, picturing the Flight into Egypt . . .

. . . A modern Mary, with swirling veil, carried holiday greetings from Mr. and Mrs. James W. Kinucan, of Newberry place. The Thomas J. Fitzgeralds, of Lewiston road, picked a stylized Madonna and Child, the Virgin's blue robe ending in a blaze of multicolored stars, while Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fisher, II, newly moved from Fairford road to Elm court, sent a semi-impressionist Nativity Scene, in light gold, brown and white with touches of blue . . .

. . . "The Nativity," a 13th Century French fresco from Provence, was reproduced on the card chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Goodrich, of Handy road. Mrs. Elmer A. Benzin, of Lochmoor boulevard, sent a slim gold Madonna on a vivid red background, and the Three Little Braves, Heidi, Joseph and Wallace, who live in Ballantyne road, mailed their very own card, small angels gathered around a sleeping Child in a bright, light forest clearing . . .

. . . Many Pointers donated Christmas card money to charities, sending cards provided by the charity of their choice. The Raymond C. Eisenharts, of Grosse Pointe boulevard, chose a UNICEF greeting. Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Maguire's Christmas message benefitted the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan, and the George Hoopers' blue, white and gold card carried a holiday wish from the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children, Inc. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Whitley were among many sending the red and gold greeting of the Michigan Cancer Foundation . . .

. . . From Japan came the delicately tinted cards sent by Mr. and Mrs. Otis U. Walker, of Balfour road, and Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. P. Loranger, of Lakeshore road. Mrs. Loranger and Mrs. Walker picked out their holiday cards last spring, while traveling around the world with the English Speaking Union . . .

. . . Five carolling choirboys march across the card chosen by the Edmund M. Bradys, of Sunningdale drive. The Victor Wertzes sent a befuddled Santa Claus batter, ready to slam a Christmas tree ornament into the bleachers. (or smash it to smithereens): the Richard Degeners picked a contemporary card, showing two bashful reindeer and a pixie Santa Claus about to "have their picture took" by a third reindeer . . .

. . . Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martin chose a traditional snow scene, a gold holiday coach climbing toward a gold church, with a star shining in the background. And the Paul Marcos' magnificently simple card, with the word "Pax" inscribed in gold on a blue and white background, symbolized the wishes of everyone in this holiday season.

PILFERINGS

FAA regulation, applicable to jet transports: "The takeoff distance shall not be greater than the length of the runway."

Thought for New Year's Eve: "The smaller the drink, the clearer the head." (William Penn).

Sign over mailbox at a farm home: "Police dogs for sale. Will eat anything. Very fond of children."

Wife to husband: "If you really loved me, you would have married someone else!"

Canteen Conversation

By Rick Mills

Another year is coming to an end. Three hundred sixty five days will have soon passed and many events have taken place all over the world. But what about me as an individual? What have I accomplished? Sure, I've gone to school or work and done everyday things, but what have I done that really betters myself and others? I can make a list a mile long of the things I have done with my life this past year, but what have I done that's really significant.

This thought makes a drastic cut in the list. I am on this earth for a reason. Not just to sit back and take what I want as it passes by, but to give the limit on each subject for home work so that I can get all the rest of the world what I have to give. Unfortunately all human beings have an irresistible force in them that is called selfishness. Everyone wants to be better than he is. This drive causes us to take much more than we are able or willing to give. Giving does take place and the more giving there is, the closer we come to fulfilling our purpose in life.

Each year there is a good way to start on the road to giving new year's resolutions. Here are some Grosse Pointe teenagers' resolutions for the year 1964.

John Vanderpool: "To try to be more tolerant and understanding with my elders"

Mary Thorne: "Not to be such a terrible procrastinator with my resolutions like I was last year."

Lynn Cooper: "To set a time work done."

Mike Cooper: "To try to join in more after-school activities and also, the proverbial resolution, to get more studying done for each school subject."

Seconds pass and we can't stop them. There is nothing we can do to save the time that has already gone by. But we can try to make better use of the time we have left in this world.

New Year's resolutions help to bring to mind past mistakes that we can try to correct in the coming year. Think what a wonderful world it would be if everyone suddenly gave up thinking about themselves and started to think of others. Heaven on earth you say? No, that seems impossible, but each time an individual gives of himself he comes a little closer to "the impossible."

Pointers of Interest

THE HOLIDAY CHILDREN

By Janet Mueller

These are children's days. From December 25 until New Year's, boys and girls live in a special world, a world of lights, toys and bright new snow.

This is "the best time of all the year," when everything is magic.

Grosse Pointe is a family community. Children are wanted here, parents move to the Pointe because of its good schools, lakeside parks, homes large enough for more than one baby. Children are important here. Children are loved.

As children all over the world are wanted, and important, and loved . . . Sometimes, in the image of "our town" presented to the public, children have been forgotten. Grosse Pointe is variously represented as a bastion of bigotry, a refuge for criminals, the last outpost of the idle rich.

And in each of these descriptive phrases there is a grain of truth. But only a grain.

The same things could be said of any community, size for size, shape for shape, in the United States; they would be true statements, but they would not tell the whole story. Not even half of the whole story.

People Make The Town

Because, basically, our town and every town is a place where people live—all kinds of people, rich, poor, friendly, snobbish, ugly, beautiful, intelligent, stupid.

We who have elected to live here happen to believe the friendly, beautiful, intelligent people predominate, and that the rich-poor designation does not matter, to us or to anyone else.

We live in Grosse Pointe because we like it, because it is a good place in which to live, a good place in which to bring up children.

And children are wanted here, children are loved.

As children all over the world are wanted, and important, and loved . . .

Especially at holidays, Pointers are conscious of the miraculous wonderment in every child, the joy of being, the absolute conviction that living is its own delight.

A child sees a lighted tree, his eyes widen, his mouth forms the single syllable "Oh!" expressing all the gladness on earth, and everything on earth is suddenly RIGHT!

It was all worth while—the shopping and the decorating and the making sure the Christmas cards were mailed on time, the Christmas tree that was taller than the living room and had to be cut off on top, so now the Star tilts drunkenly too far left and is in imminent danger of falling into the fireplace.

The train that you spent half the night, (time out to replace a broken fuse), getting to run forwards instead of backwards, is describing a perfect circle on the carpet, and the crybaby doll cries real tears.

The presents are unwrapped and enjoyed.

A present is a symbol really. Holiday Children do not particularly care what is inside, sensing these particular gifts are boxed and decorated and given in lieu of a tangible package of good wishes.

What is important, to the child, is mood, the temper of the days, the feeling that this is a special time, a time for children.

The children know they are important, they are wanted, they are loved.

As children all over the world are important, and wanted and loved . . .

To single out the children of one community, even if it is our own community, as being "of interest" at this season is impossible.

These are ALL children's days, celebrated in commemoration of the birth of a Child

Prowler Scared In Park Home

A prowler escaped out the back door of a home at 1265 Yorkshire as its inhabitant, Mrs. Donald Newall, entered the front door December 22.

Returning home shortly before 9 p.m. Mrs. Newall said she heard running footsteps in the house and heard someone flee out the back door. She summoned police, who found the area clear upon their arrival.

Police found that the prowler had gained entrance through the milk chute, and was going through the second floor when she approached.

Nothing was reported missing.

Everyone has a promising future—only a few catch up with it

CARROT LOAF

Contributed by Winifred Eliason

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon flour
- pinch of salt

Make a sauce of above ingredients by melting butter, stirring in flour, adding milk gradually and cooking slowly until thickened. Let cool.

- 1 quart chopped carrots
- 1 1/2 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 1/2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 1/4 cups dry bread crumbs
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 4 egg yolks
- pinch of nutmeg

Scrape carrots and chop fine. Steam for 20 minutes. Combine carrots with melted butter, chopped parsley, dry bread crumbs, seasonings, cold cream sauce and slightly beaten egg yolks. Pack in buttered loaf pan and steam one hour. Serve with either cream or mushroom sauce. Serves 6.
