SCHOOL SITE MEETING MONDAY

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, April 23
AN AGREEMENT in the five-year-old railroad work rules dispute was announced by President Johnson Wednesday night. Mr. Johnson had intervened in the dispute on April 9 to persuade the five operating rail unions and the nation's railroads to postpone a national strike set for midnight that day. Since then, negotiations have been going on night and day. A union spokesman characterized the settlement as "agreement in principle" and subject to the ratification procedures of the five unions.

Friday, April 24
FORD MOTOR CO. said Thursday that its net income for the first three months of 1964 was 19 per cent more than a year ago. The net total was $144,300,000 topping the past first quarter high of $141 million in 1960. In other automotive news, Chrysler president, Lynn A. Townsend announced that his corporation is planning to spend $1 billion for plants and equipment over the next four years.

Saturday, April 25
PRESIDENT JOHNSON made a whirlwind tour of distressed areas Friday that included stops in South Bend, Ind., Pittsburgh, two Eastern Kentucky towns and Huntington, W. Va. In Huntington he discussed poverty problems with the governors of seven Appalachian states. The President's major speech of the day was in Pittsburgh where he told some 1300 delegates to the national convention of the League of Women Voters that women should assume a leading role in the "war on poverty."

Sunday, April 26
IN A SATURDAY afternoon press conference President Johnson said he will ask Congress to approve a multi-billion-dollar aid program for nine Appalachian states. White House aides said that the total cost of the eight-point program envisioned by the President could not be calculated precisely although a figure of $3 billion to $4 billion has been circulated. The main feature is to be a 2,150-mile highway program, costing $840 million.

Monday, April 27
TURKISH CYPRIOTS stoned the UN peace force commander's car Sunday, charging he favored the Greek side in the communal fighting on Cyprus. The commander, Indian Lt. Gen Prem Singh Gyani, riding inside, was unhurt although the Turkish Cypriots pounded on the car with their fists. The outburst came as a possible showdown battle was in the making for control of Kyrenia Pass, north of Nicosia. Meanwhile in Athens, UN mediator Sakari Tuomioja of Finland conferred with Greek Premier George Papandreu in his search for a peaceful solution to the Cyprus crisis.

Tuesday, April 28
MAYOR CAVANAGH is expected to ask the Common Council today to strike from the next budget his proposed property tax cut. The elimination of this tax cut will help to offset an expected $2.8 million loss in income tax revenue. The Common Council will vote also on whether to grant additional pay raises to city employees this year, which includes a $486 annual raise for police and firemen.

Men Invite Ladies of St. James Church Choir to Participate in Program At Center

The Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is giving its annual spring concert at Fries Auditorium on Friday, May 8, at 8 p.m. Admission is $1.

This year's concert promises to be extraordinary. For the first time ladies will appear on stage with the men. They will be members of the St. James Presbyterian Church Choir and they will assist the men in singing the concert version of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore."

In addition, on the program there will be some fine purely male singing. Included will be such numbers as selections from "Oklahoma," "The Drinking Song from the Student Prince," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus is under the direction of Wilber Bezeau, choir director of St. James Presbyterian Church. The officers of the organization working hard selling tickets to make the event a success are: president Jack Taylor, vice president Howard Lewis, secretary Bill Watson, and treasurer Dale Seif.

After the concert everyone will be invited for refreshments in the Crystal Ballroom.

2,817 Donate $50,796 to Center Drive

Hope to Increase Base of Support During Last Month of Annual Family Campaign

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is headed into the final month of its annual drive for funds with a redoubled effort to increase its base support. Campaign results through Monday showed that 2,817 donors have contributed $50,796. This compares to $41,369 received from 2,583 at the same time last year.

"It's beginning to look as though we will reach our monetary goal, if contributions during May come in at the same rate we have been tallying them the last few weeks." That hopeful expression came from Gerald C. Schroeder, president of the association that operates the War Memorial Center.

"But," Mr. Schroeder went on, "our efforts to increase our base of support — to see more people having a part in support of their Center — are not as successful, so far, as we had hoped they would be."

Mr. Schroeder explained that the Center each year loses a few loyal supporters as some residents move from the Grosse Pointe area. Each year there is an effort to replace them with new supporters.

The Center manages a small annual net gain of families who help support it, but, said President Schroeder, "our expenses also go up. Ideally we would have virtually all families in the five Pointes on our list of giv-

Park Cuts Taxes, Ends Debt Levy, Grants Pay Raises

Public Hearing on Recommended Reduced Budget Scheduled for 5 p.m. on May 11; Two Fewer Employees on Payroll Next Year

The Grosse Pointe Park council meeting on Monday, April 27, was highlighted by a report from City Manager Robert Slone, in which the council members were informed that the 1964-65 Fiscal Year budget is less than last year's; the tax rate has been cut; a tax levy on bonded debts of the city is no longer needed; and pay raises will be given full time city employees.

According to the city manager's report, the proposed budget for the fiscal year, beginning July 1, amounts to $1,371,513.20, as compared to $1,374,584.63 for the 1963-64 year, a decrease of $3,068.43.

The present assessed valuation of property in the Park is $50,794,110, an increase of $3,707,220 over 1963, due to the recent re-assessment program that was required by the Wayne County Tax Bureau.

In his report to the council, Slone revealed that it is planned that the real and personal property tax rate be reduced from $16.95 to $15.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation, to compensate for the increase in assessments (Wayne County Equalized Assessments) over 1963. (There is no city tax levy on personal property).

To End Debt Levy
Further, Slone stated, the lowered tax rate is for operating purposes only, and it is contemplated that the debt service levy of 20 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation be discontinued and an appropriation of $20,000 be made from the General Surplus Fund prior to the beginning of the fiscal 1964-65 year, and that this amount be transferred to the Debt Service Fund, which when added to the current balance is sufficient to finance the debt service requirements for the remainder of the outstanding serial bond issue.

The reduction of the tax levy to $15.50 per $1,000 of 1964 assessed valuation, Slone said, will result in a $10,800 reduction in the city tax levy; $9,400 of which represents the elimination of the Debt Service Levy. The remainder, or $1,400, constitutes the net decrease in the city tax levy for the operating expenses under last year, he added.

Fewer Employees
He also disclosed that the

Youthful Burglar Awaits Sentence in Detroit Court

Michael R. Powers, 17, of 1648 Lillibridge, Detroit, pled guilty to larceny from a building, at a hearing before Detroit's Recorder's Judge Frank G. Schemanske on Thursday, April 21. The youth was released on bond pending a presentence investigation.

Powers was arrested by Park police last January 28, when he escaped from Bon Secours Hospital, where he had gone to be treated for a badly cut hand. He suffered the injury when he broke a window of a Detroit business place he had burglarized.

He was arrested by Park Det. James LaPratt, who acted on a hunch. The youth told the officer that he was responsible for five unsolved burglaries of business places in the Park, and also confessed to five breakins of Detroit business es-

Board Slates Open Session At Parcels

Provides Opportunity For Residents to Give Views of Proposed High School Location

For the third time since they reached their unanimous decision to designate a 31.7 acre tract in Grosse Pointe Woods as the site for a proposed second senior high school, trustees and officers of the Board of Education have set an open hearing for public discussion of the matter.

At the request of an "Educational Vigilance Committee" and other residents of Grosse Pointe Woods, the members of the Board of Education have scheduled an open meeting for 7:30 p.m., Monday, May 4, in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School.

Although the Board of Education and the school's administrative staff believe their surveys of existing site possibilities were exhaustive and thoroughly comprehensive, they have indicated their willingness to hear additional proposals to help solve the schools' immediate and long-range housing problem.

Board Matter Offer

The Board of Education has offered the resources of the school system to anyone planning to make a presentation on an alternate site on Monday evening. As this paper went to press on Tuesday evening, no groups of individuals, had called the office of the superintendent of schools for a place on the agenda for the May 4 meeting, or for assistance in planning a presentation.

In addition to public discussion on the site at the meeting of the PTA Council on March 23 and during the Board of Education meeting on April 13, last week the Board of Education circulated an "open letter" to residents of the Grosse Pointe school district. This was printed in the News and was distributed to a variety of civic and municipal organizations for use by their membership.

The five-page letter detailed the various site possibilities considered. It listed the reasons they were ultimately rejected by the Board of Education. In addition, it outlined the advantages of the site chosen, a 31.7 acre tract in Grosse Pointe Woods owned by Edward and Frank Vanderbush and Mr. and Mrs. John Baker.

Others Fall Short

This included a tract of land across the street from the site chosen, the Country Club of Detroit, the Lochmoor Club, the Hunt Club, as well as various estate properties. None of these meets the all criteria of size, cost, location, or access to arterial roads and population centers as well as the Vanderbush-Baker tract.

The site designated by the Board of Education at its special meeting of March 17 is located off Vernier road and is bounded on the south by Morning-side drive and on the west by Hidden lane. It is easily accessible to Vernier road by a 100 foot-wide entrance off Vernier road.

It is improved except for a house and several barns and shed. It is approximately 50 per cent larger than the present high school site in Grosse Pointe Woods. It is a half-mile closer to the farthest residence in the north end of the district than the present high school is from the farthest residence in the south end of the district.

Furthermore, it is located at the mid-point between the north and south boundaries of Grosse Pointe Woods, where a third of the school-age population lives. A new high school built on this site would enroll over 65 per cent of its students from Grosse Pointe Woods.

THEFT COMPLAINT

Farms police recorded a complaint from Thomas Randazzo of 464 Cloverly road, in which he stated that sometime during the night of Monday, April 20, someone broke into his car and stole a box of tools, two pairs of sun glasses, a seat cushion and a four-inch statue of the Infant Jesus of Prague. Total loss was set at $50.

Escape from County Jail Thwarted by Roof Bars

Escape from the Wayne County Jail by two men, one awaiting sentence for a Grosse Pointe Park burglary, was thwarted on Thursday, April 23, when they found the roof of the jail building blocked by iron bars and exit through the lower floors impossible.

Joseph L. Harvarth, 24, of 8694 Carlin, Detroit, who is awaiting the sentence; and Thomas McGrath, 27, of Miami, Fla., who has been waiting trial since March 18 on three robberies, were tossed into solitary confinement when both were found in McGrath's fifth floor cell. It was revealed by Sheriff Peter L. Buback.

The escape attempt was disclosed on Monday, April 27, by the sheriff. The would-be-escapes used a hack saw that McGrath claimed he had concealed in his shoe.

Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Larner of 20895 Anita, is a transfer student from Mackenzie High School in Detroit. There she was a member of the French and Latin clubs, an aide in the school office and language laboratory, and she served as feature editor on the school paper.

At Grosse Pointe High School she is a member of Y-Teens, and is a page editor of the Tower.

Fifth Winner

A fifth Pointe student who has won a Merit Scholarship this year is Michael M. Rothaar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Rothaar of 650 N. Oxford road. He attends Lutheran High School East, in Harper Woods. He has won a Chrysler Corporation Fund Merit Scholarship.

Michael intends to major in pre-theology at Capital University and intends to become a Lutheran minister. He is a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council Christian Growth chairman, 1962-63 member of the Future Pastors Club; editor-in-chief of the school yearbook; member of the Drama Club, delegate to the City of Detroit Boys Day, 1963; member of the school choir, school Fencing Club and Detroit's Salle de Tuscan, 1960-62. His hobbies include photography and reading about psychology.

The funds for all Merit Scholarships come from private sources. The 1964 sponsors include about 220 business and industrial corporations of all sizes, as well as foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, and individuals.

Each sponsor determines the name of his Merit Scholarship. The standard maximum expenditure on a given award is $6,000. The average scholarship is expected to amount to a $4,000 expenditure by the sponsor. Actual costs per scholarship will be greater to some, less to others, depending upon the exact requirements of the students each is helping and upon the amount of the college grant accompanying each scholarship.

No Commitments

Neither a scholar nor a sponsor has an employment commitment with the other.

Corliss Cumberly's scholarship is provided by Michigan State University; Mark Kieren's by Detroit Edison; Robert Hoerberling's by the Upjohn Company; Kathy Larner's by the United States Army.

The ninth annual Merit Program began in March of 1963 when 700,645 students in 16,577 schools took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST). The examination is a three-hour test of educational development, specially designed for the Merit Program by Science Research Associates. The NMQST, which is revised annually, covers five areas: English usage, social studies reading, natural sciences reading, mathematics usage, and word usage.

The top scorers in each state are named Semifinalists in September of the senior year. About 13,000 students became Semifinalists in the ninth program. The number in each state is determined by a representative system based on the number of high school graduating seniors in that state.

Takes Second Exam

Each Semifinalist is asked to take another examination—the three-hour Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board—and to file a record of extracurricular activities, special achievements and interests, academic or other honors, and so forth. On the same form, the student's school submits the individual's academic record and an evaluation by the principal or a counselor. The school also is asked to indicate whether it endorses the student for a Merit Scholarship.

Each Semifinalist is asked also to file with NMSC a Financial Information Form of the type used by most colleges. This information, which is kept confidential, amounts to a complete report of the family's financial condition. The data are used later to help determine the scholarship stipends of the eventual winners. A family which states it can finance the education of the student concerned is not required to file the financial data.

Every Merit Scholarship stipend is individually determined and designed to provide the difference between a winner's ability to pay and the cost of attending the college of his choice. Most Merit Scholarships also include supplementary grants to the colleges.

Two Designations

All Merit Scholars are selected from the Finalist group. They are designated in two ways: National Merit Scholars and sponsored Merit Scholars. National Merit Scholarships are financed by NMSC out of funds provided in its founding grants. Sponsored Merit Scholarships are supported by business corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, professional associations, trusts and individuals; these scholarships usually bear the name of the sponsor.

All National Merit Scholars and many sponsored Merit Scholars are chosen by a Selection Committee, a panel of experts in academic selection.

National Merit Scholars are chosen without regard to preferential criteria of any kind. In making their judgments, committee members evaluate test scores, high school grades, creative achievements outside the classroom, qualities of leadership, school and community citizenship, extracurricular activities, high school officials' endorsements, and similar data made available by school officials. Financial need is determined after the committee has made its selections. In the case of National Merit Scholars, an allocated number of selections are made separately for each state.

total number of full time employees during the fiscal year will be 96, as compared to 98 last year, 107 in 1958, and 112 in 1956.

Sloane said that a thorough study had been made, and recommended that a new salary schedule, as provided in the proposed budget, include:

1. A three percent increase in salary for all full time city employees;
2. Special adjustments for 10 employees amounting to a total of $1,795;
3. Differential pay to members of the Police Department who are assigned a work schedule that would include the hours from 8 p.m. to 4 a.m. (Intense police activity period). The differential pay would be based at 10 cents an hour from 8 p.m. until 12 midnight; and 15 cents an hour from 12 midnight to 4 a.m. And 4. Veteran's Day be recognized as an official holiday for all city employees and to be considered the same as the six holidays now in effect, making a total of seven.

Improvement Program

The proposed budget, Sloane said, includes the recommended improvement program for the coming fiscal year, along with a five-year projection. In addition to the Capital Improvement Program, as taken from the Improvement Reserve Fund, it is planned that with the Public Works employees, the city will continue extensive curb repair, sewer cleaning and sewer manhole construction during the year.

He said that the Capital improvement Program does not include major improvements to the Waterfront or Three Mile Drive Parks this year. However, they are included in the five-year projection, he pointed out. After hearing the report, the council accepted the proposed budget to be filed, and approved a public hearing on the budget, May 11, at 5 p.m., to be held in the council chambers. The council also approved appropriation of the $20,000 from the General Surplus Fund, and that it be transferred to the Debt Service Fund.

 Harvath was arrested last December 11 by Park police, after an 80-mile chase through Park streets. With him, at the time, was Donald Asher, 22, of 4103 Cicotte, Detroit.
 The pair were arrested by Patrolman Gustave Boone and Bobby McAlister, who gave chase after spotting them speeding in their car.

 As the get-away car approached Essex, on Westchester, the driver lost control and the right tire struck the curb and blew out, forcing the vehicle to come to a stop. Other police cars arrived at the scene to block off possible escape.
 Boone and McAlister, with revolvers drawn, ordered Harvath and Asher out of their car with hands up. The policemen found a telephone in the pair's car, that had been ripped from a construction shack at St. Clare School, in Audubon road, where a new addition is going up.

Headquarters Established For Child Guidance Clinic

Headquarters for the North-eastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic to provide psychiatric, psychological and social-work services for the children of northeast Detroit, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointes have been established at 18424 Mack avenue.
 Announcement of the headquarters' location was made at the Clinic's first community report meeting Monday, April 27, in Grosse Pointe War Memorial Fries Auditorium.
 Mrs. Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., president of the Clinic, disclosed that a five-room modern professional office facility had been made available to the Clinic through the generosity of Dr. Rosemary Dykema and Dr. Mary Dickson.

$10,600—in order to open our door in September."
 Mrs. Glancy emphasized that the efforts to raise money through voluntary memberships in the Clinic "are a kind of catalyst to provide an interim establishment fund. For the Clinic to fulfill its rightful service to the community, it is essential that it eventually receive financial aid from the State, through legislative appropriation. And a pre-requisite of such state assistance is the obtaining of local tax support, to ensure the continuity of the Clinic's program. In this way, the local community and the State of Michigan—in partnership—provide this most valuable, needed service for our children."

The area to be served by the Clinic includes 70 public, Catholic, Lutheran and other private schools. Relative to the child population of 81,000 individuals—from birth to 17 years of age—it was pointed out that "competent surveys made in Michigan and other states show that one out of ten children are in need of psychiatric help of some kind, before reaching adulthood."
 Urging individual and organization support of the Clinic, Mr. Prescott said, "Child guidance clinics are the first line of defense against serious mental illness, which is now costing the State of Michigan in the neighborhood of $81 million yearly. In mental health, an ounce of prevention is really worth thousands of dollars of later costly cures. It costs the State approximately $5,000 to hospitalize one child for a year." Besides proposing that individuals "sell" their friends and neighbors on taking memberships in the Clinic, Mr. Prescott suggested that organizations in the community send letters of endorsement to the Clinic Board of Directors and "adopt the Clinic as their service project for a time."

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, Director of Hawthorne Center, stressed the need for clinics to serve "the troubled child." John Prescott, a member of the Clinic's Board of Directors, said, "The first thing an individual can do to help the Clinic is to buy a membership. This is money well invested." Andrew W. L. Brown, a Board member, served as meeting chairman.
 "We now have some 700 general members" and the Clinic has raised $8,000—most of it through sponsorship of a special preview of the Flower and Garden Show last February, Mrs. Glancy reported. But before the Clinic can open its doors, she said, "We will need to raise an additional $10,600—at least—before we can take the next step of forming the nucleus of a clinic team. This minimum budget," she said, "would enable the Clinic to pay the salaries of a full-time psychiatrically trained social worker and a secretary, and provide funds for maintenance of the headquarters."

"Since the Clinic will operate as a branch of the Children's Center of Wayne County," Mrs. Glancy explained, "the Center has offered to provide the part-time services of a psychiatrist and a psychologist, thus fulfilling the State's requirements for a clinic team in its initial stages."
 "Professional staff and services," she said, "will be extended as additional funds become available. It is evident that one psychiatric-social-worker cannot hope to serve a total child population of 81,000 individuals—and that is the total child population in the area to be served. However, before we can achieve our ultimate goal, we must first of all secure this

Brownell School Having Concert

Rather than traditional May Day baskets of flowers, bouquets of music will be presented on Friday evening, May 1, to parents and friends by Brownell Junior High School instrumental music students. Beginning at eight o'clock two bands, under the direction of Dewey Kalember, will present their annual spring concert in the school's auditorium-gym.
 Included in the selections to be played by the 50-piece seventh grade band are "La Sorella," Prayer from "Hansel and Gretel," and "The Lost Chord."
 Featured soloist with the 80-piece Concert Band will be Bruce Teague, ninth grader and second member of his family to participate in band, orchestra, and swing band. His mother, Mrs. Ruth Teague, also a musician and a member of the Brownell faculty, will accompany him.
 Among the great variety of musical numbers, most challenging is an arrangement of Henry Mancini's "Mr. Lucky," which, according to Director Kalember,

"would challenge most high school bands."
 An added attraction this year will be the appearance of a Dixieland Group, consisting of Dave Fernstrum (trumpet), Don Moore and Sue Keever (clarinet), Bob Jacobi and Willard Swenson (trombone), Bill Bogan (tenor sax), Linda Eichelbarger. Tickets will be available at the door on the night of the performance.

Safety Patrols See Ball Game

Approximately 520 Safety Patrol Boys and Safety Girls from schools in the Pointe were treated to their annual baseball game at Tiger Stadium on Friday, April 17. Thirty-four adults went along to supervise the event, in 25 buses.

Safety Patrol boys and girls from the Woods schools were not taken to the game. No reason was given.
 The youngsters watched as Los Angeles beat Detroit, 8-3, but had a good time, nevertheless, gorging on hot dogs and pop and other good things to eat, all paid for by themselves.

Park Police Lt. Gerard Kesteloot, who was in charge of the Park contingent, disclosed that 240 children and 15 adults from St. Clare, St. Ambrose, Christian Day School, Pierce Junior High, Defer and Trombley Schools, went.

Farms Patrolmen Joseph Miller and City Sgt. Douglas Allor, school safety officials for their respective communities, said that because there is only Maire School in the City, they pooled their transportation and supervising adults.

Other schools involved besides St. Paul and Maire, were Kerby and Richard Schools and Brownell Junior High School.
 Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers arranged for the chartering of the buses, but because of lack of funds, each school had to pay its own cost of transportation.

"Last year we had gifts from about one-fourth of the families in the communities we serve. This year we're pushing for one-third. And we think we can make it if — and it's a big if — we can remind enough of those who've just forgotten to give or neglected to carry out their intention to contribute."

All Urged To Give
Mr. Schroeder urged each family that had not yet contributed to send its gift to the Association at 32 Lake Shore Road, Grosse Pointe.
"Gifts are tax-deductible and the Center receives neither tax funds nor United Foundation money," he said.

The goal in the fund drive is $80,000, roughly a fourth of the Center's total annual budget. The balance comes from income at the Center.
The fund drive ends on Memorial Day and officially it does wind up then. But there always is a follow-up period in which the last dollars necessary to balance the budget are rounded up.

Burglar Awaits Sentence

burglaries committed after his seventeenth birthday.

On the January date, Powers applied for treatment of his badly cut hand, but fled the hospital when he heard doctors calling police to report the incident. He was picked up at Kercheval and Notre Dame, by City Patrolman Edward Benthuis, after a broadcast giving the boy's description was given over the police radio.

The officer took Powers back to the hospital, where 17 stitches were needed to close the wound in the boy's hand.

Benthuis questioned the youth regarding the injury, and was informed that it was received while trying to get away from a man living in the Park. The officers relayed this information to Park authorities.
Park Police Sgt. Thomas Martin and Patrolman Robert Salfyrd picked up Powers from the hospital for questioning. The youth told such a fantastic story that it was "a thousand to one" against its being true, it was said.

An investigation was made and it was found that the youth's story was a phony, but since no report had been received that a felony had been committed, Powers was released and sent home.

The following morning, the case was assigned to LaPratt, for a final check, after reading the report on Powers, instinctively felt that the youth was trying to cover up something.

The detective went to Powers' home and picked him up for further questioning, and had Powers repeat his story about the man he had escaped from. LaPratt called the youth's story "pure fantasy" and persisted in his quest for the truth.

After extensive and relentless questioning by the detective, Powers finally confessed he had cut his hand while committing one of three burglaries in Warren avenue in Detroit, the night before.

Powers was released to Detroit authorities after signing a confession that he had committed the crimes.

Police Checking Missing Items

Several valuable items have been missed from his basement since January 1, according to a report made to Farms police on Tuesday, April 21, by Joseph Haney, 40, of 525 Saddle lane.

Haney told police that he had moved into his Saddle lane home on the January date, and discovered the items missing on the day he made the report.

Missing from his basement, Haney said, were a dark brown satchel with straps, valued at $45; a Bearcat Ruger pistol, valued at $41; a Winchester Model 100-243 shotgun, worth $286; a case for the gun, valued at $20; and a Weatherby rifle scope, that was in the case, valued at $90. Total value, $482.

Haney told police that he did not know who could have taken the things.

The matter has been assigned to Det. Sgts. George Van Tien and Jack Paisley.

Nab Girl Truants As Car Thieves

Two teenage Grosse Pointe High School girls skipped school on Wednesday, April 22, and stole a car from the High School lot, to go joyriding. Charges were filed against the girls with Juvenile Court authorities, according to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

The chief said that the girls, one 16 years old, and the other 15 years old, will be given a hearing at the next session in Juvenile Court.

The girls confessed to taking the car from the High School lot. The 16-year-old was taken to the Wayne County Youth Home, where she was picked up by her parents, and the younger girl was released to her parents, who came to the station for her.

The stolen car was returned to the owner, Rod Crawford of 1251 Paget court, a student at the High School.

Educators Hold Annual Banquet Fire Damages Shores Home

The annual dinner meeting of the Grosse Pointe Education Association was held in the banquet room of the Fries Auditorium on Thursday evening. With 150 members and special guests in attendance, the featured speaker was Durward B. Varner, Chancellor of Oakland University. His topic was "The Pleasure and the Pain of Creating a New University in the 1960's."

Mr. Varner provided the audience with an insight into the challenges he and his staff have met since 1956, problems they face at the present time, and those they anticipate.

He said that in establishing a new institution, he had a "clean slate" in theory only. Delving into a variety of constraints governing the organization of Oakland University, he included traditional community expectations of a university, as well as patterns already set by high schools and graduate schools.

Leaders in industry, consulted during the early planning stages, urged a strong background in Liberal Arts as the most beneficial training to people entering business. They warned against a vocationally oriented undergraduate program because there is no way for anyone to guess what skills students will require in the future.

In discussing the curriculum, Mr. Varner said that if a college could instill an urge to learn, the attitude of an inquiring mind enables learning to become a lifelong process. He commented that students skilled in reading and writing possess a foundation for all learning to follow.

Speaking upon the specifics of the curriculum at Oakland

University, Chancellor Varner mentioned the school's foreign language requirement, the introductory course to non-Western culture, the semester of music and art, the attention to social science and natural science.

Of Oakland's trimester plan, Chancellor Varner said, "No matter what a university's calendar, another plan of organization always looks better."

With the institution's yearly calendar of three 15-week semesters, a student is able to finish his formal education in two and two-thirds years. Citing drawbacks to the intensive pace required of students at Oakland, he also said that this imposes a burden on the faculty and the administration. "There is not enough merit in year-round education at the secondary level at the present time," he said in an aside.

A unique feature of the Oakland plan is the university's continuing responsibility for its graduates. An Alumni Education office maintains a steady professional contact with graduates.

In summary, Mr. Varner said, "Institutions of higher learning need to define their targets; we can't all be everything to everybody. There is a need for colleges and universities to clarify their individual purposes."

In commenting upon the local schools, Mr. Varner termed the Grosse Pointe Public School System "one of the greatest in Michigan, if not in the country."

Special guests of the Grosse Pointe Education Association included officers and trustees of the Board of Education, representatives of various civic organizations, as well as officials from several of the Grosse Pointe communities.

In her brief message to the group, retiring president Frances Gillis spoke of the partnership between professional educators and municipal officials in helping to maintain "Grosse Pointe as a community outstanding in all respects." Following her review of the year's activities, she introduced president-elect Howard Lawrence and other officers for the coming year: John Corbin, president-elect; Virginia Downs, secretary; and Jim Bowen, treasurer.

An interlude of musical entertainment was provided by the "Fishmarket Four," staff quartette from Poupard School composed of Bill Ferry, Justin Parrott, Don Brenner, and Scott Fleming.

Fire Damages Shores Home

An alert young Shores teenager turned in a fire alarm on Monday, April 20, when he heard glass breaking and saw smoke coming out of a neighbor's home.

All men and equipment were dispatched to the home of the Stanley Maples, 44 Fontana lane, where firefighters found the entire kitchen in flames; and smoke pouring out of the kitchen windows.

The alarm was called in by Robert Balsler, 16, of 49 Greenbriar, who heard the breaking glass, caused by the heat pressure, and saw the smoke.

Shores Chief Fred Duemling said that the fire, confined to the kitchen, was brought under control in about eight minutes after the firefighters arrived.

The chief said that all appliances, doors, windows and cupboards in the kitchen were burned and charred. There was heavy smoke damage throughout the house, he said. He estimated total damage at more than $5,000.

Preserving Pointe For Ideal Living Calls for Planning

Planners' Report to City Follows Lengthy Study of Necessary Steps to Guard Against Deterioration of Area

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles concerning a report prepared by Scott Bagby and Associates of Grand Rapids, City Planners, for the City of Grosse Pointe, in relation to the planning needs of the entire Grosse Pointe community, and a long range guide for community action, present and future. The following is the second part of Trends and Targets.)
Development Factors: One of the main reasons so many communities decline in value and desirability is the fact that serious mistakes are being made because of faulty but firmly established misconceptions. It will be essential that every thinking person in the Pointe recognize that many of the commonly accepted axioms are extremely dangerous.

One of the most common misconceptions concerns the cost of public education. Everyone has heard the statement that each new home has two children and it costs $500 a year to educate a child and that therefore, the new home paying less than $1,000 in taxes is a liability. This is completely erroneous, the city planners said.
Public education, like insurance, works on the law of averages, and in the Pointe School District, there are 31 elementary school pupils and 25 upper grade pupils for each 100 dwelling units.

Enhance Homes' Value
This means that even if business property had no benefit from or responsibility for public education, the average home in the Pointes would have to pay half the cost of educating a child to completely pay its own way, the report pointed out. Actually, no home in the community would have nearly its present resale value without the public school nearby.

Another misconception is that taxes are high in the suburban residential area because there is no industrial tax base to help pay costs. The actual fact is that if the Pointes were a part of Detroit, with all its industrial tax base, Pointe taxes would not be lower, since any excess in taxes paid by Detroit business and industry has been more than used up in the necessary subsidy to deteriorating and blighted areas which cannot pay for their own cost of services.
Increases Each Year
Actually, this subsidy is so great that business and industrial taxes cannot pay it all and this subsidy increases every year, Bagby and Associates revealed.

The community value of any property is more directly related to where it is located than to what it is, it was disclosed. Average homes, compactly and economically located, as in the Pointes, may pay for their cost of services at a reasonable tax rate, while the same number and value of homes spread over four times as much area would have to pay three or four times as much in taxes for the same services.
Still another misconception, according to information in the city planners' report, is the idea that because new apartments rarely accept families with children, apartments are a major tax asset. Actually, during the expected 60-year life of a building, an apartment which can only compete with later, newer apartments by reducing its rentals and standards, will send 20 children to school, while a single family home will send 30 children to school during its expected life.

Has Some Advantages
The apartment has a few economic advantages because it is more concentrated in area, but these are more than offset by its heavier utility and traffic demands, and, more important, depreciation of apartment valuations and tax return is more rapid than home and business tax depreciation.
Actually, the firm pointed out, the real cost of running a community is the cost of serving the average family, whether in a home, or in an apartment.
But probably the most damaging idea, far too prevalent today, is that local taxes are a penalty of some kind. Actually, it was pointed out by the Grand Rapids firm, the local tax dollar buys more value than any other dollar we spend. Local taxes are a savings, the city planners stressed.

By pooling together, a community can buy services and protections which would be prohibitively expensive if purchased separately. No home in the Pointes would be sold for anything like its present value without public water, public sewer and public administrative services.
Taxes Are Investment
Insurance rates would be higher than local taxes without adequate police and fire protections. When enough people realize that an extra $10 or $20 a year in taxes might prevent a $5,000 or $10,000 loss in actual value of their home, local taxes will be considered an investment needed to maintain or increase existing values.

Bagby and Associates stated that the idea that city officials alone can do the job of maintaining the kind of city everyone would prefer, is also a dangerous and damaging misconception. Many of the things the city need cannot be done within the legal confines imposed upon all cities.
It will be necessary to have active citizen organizations and active citizen financing to tackle problems beyond the reach of local officials. The city of Grosse Pointe has the strength now to generate citizen action. It may not be able to muster this kind of strength if we wait too long for the positive planned action.
(Next week, the series will continue with "Targets and Goals".)

GPHS Musicians To Give Concert

Area residents will have the opportunity to hear Grosse Pointe High School's prize-winning Concert Band and Symphony Orchestra during their annual Spring Concert on Sunday, May 10. Scheduled for 4 p.m. in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School, both groups will be directed by Richard H. Snook.

The band and orchestra have recently been judged by impartial authorities throughout the state. For the sixth consecutive year all 16 judges who have rated the groups have classified them in the First Division "Superior" category.

They were first judged at the District Competition Festival held on March 7 and 14, and received a Superior rating. This made them eligible to participate in the State Competition Festivals held on April 18 in Lansing. Here again, the band and orchestra members distinguished themselves by obtaining for the sixth straight year another First Division "Superior" rating.

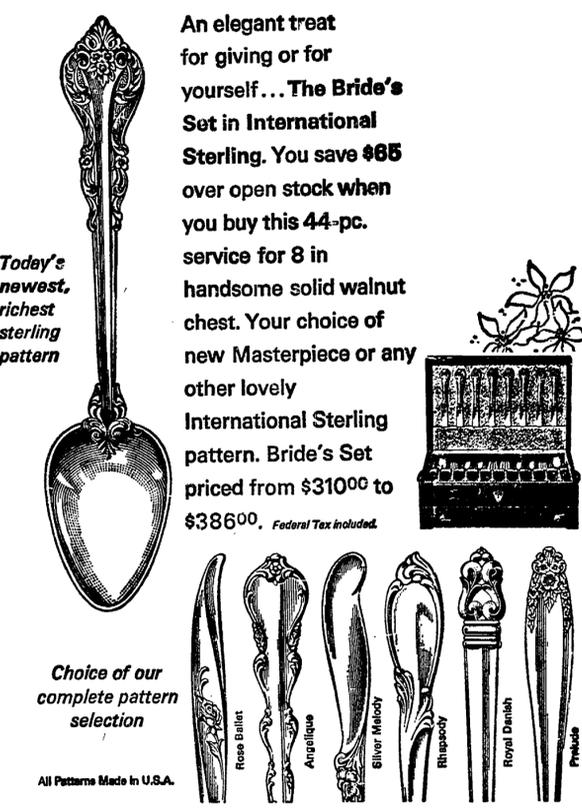

During the April 18 competitions for the coveted First Division rating they were compared to some 200 other of the finest bands and orchestras in the state of Michigan. The Grosse Pointe band competed against 26 other class AA bands and the orchestra competed against 13 other class AA orchestras.

In judging the Grosse Pointe High School Symphony Orchestra, Elizabeth Green of the University of Michigan said, "Here is exciting music, brilliantly played with the ability and enthusiasm it takes to make it sound. This is an orchestra of which Grosse Pointe can be justly proud. Why don't they send you on a tour? You can quote me."
Louis Potter (Michigan State University) said, "A brilliant, well conceived performance."
About the concert band, Harold Geerdes said, "This was a remarkable display of technique and musicianship for a high school band. Really quite an achievement."
Larry Teal (University of Michigan) commented "this is a virtuoso type band."

Both groups first gave a thirty minute concert before three adjudicators. Afterwards, they had to sight read two selections but both Grosse Pointe groups received a First Division rating from all judges.
Therefore, residents of Grosse Pointe have a treat in store on May 10 when they hear Grosse Pointe High School's instrumental groups in concert.

Church Choirs Giving Concert

The combined senior choirs of Faith Lutheran and First English Lutheran, of approximately 60 voices, will present a service of sacred music at First Lutheran Church, Vernier road at Wedgewood drive, on Sunday, May 3, at 7 p.m.

A short sacred cantata based upon the German choral, Jesu, meine Freude, (Jesus, Joy and Treasure) by the great seventeenth-century composer, Buxtehude, will open the service with Lorraine Lang, soprano soloist, and Russell Smith, bass soloist. Assisting the continuo (organ) will be two violinists, Larry Engelhart and Lorraine Messich.

The main work will be the performance of the festive cantata, Una Sancta, (One Holy Church) by Paul J. Christiansen. This cantata was first performed April 24, 1960, at the convention of the American Lutheran Church in Minneapolis. The Rev. Robert E. Snyder will conduct and James F. Hunt will be the organist. Assisting will be The Rev. Paul W. Sherer, as narrator, Russell Smith, bass soloist, and the pastor, Rev. Paul F. Keppler.

The congregation will participate in this cantata by singing the three representative chorales of each of the merging bodies which formed the new American Lutheran Church at the 1960 convention.

A coffee-hour will follow in the Fellowship Hall to which everyone is invited.

Hunt Missing Diamond Pin

Woods police are investigating the loss of a valuable, multi-diamond lavalier pin, reported missing from her home by Mrs. Jane F. Totzke of 970 Shoreham. The information was given to authorities on Friday, April 24.

Mrs. Totzke told police that the last time she saw the pin, valued at $1,400, was on January 11. She said that she had removed it from a safety deposit box in her bank, and placed the pin on an evening dress, but did not go out that night.

She said she left for California and returned home on Tuesday, April 14. Later, she discovered the pin missing. The matter was assigned to Dets. Albert Abend and Gaylord Golding.

Students Travel to Cranbrook

The two sections of the Fifth Grade at Our Lady Star of the Sea School made their annual field trip to Cranbrook Institute of Science on Monday and Tuesday, April 13 and 14.

Each day, 50 students, under the supervision of teacher Mrs. Hazel Stewart and several mothers, departed by chartered bus for this excursion.

The itinerary included an extensive tour of the Institute with emphasis on natural history exhibits and mathematical and physical science displays, and a half hour "journey among the stars" in the excellent Planetarium.

The trip home was spent discussing all the wonderful things seen and heard, and comparing notes on crystal specimens and various collections which the children had purchased at the Institute. The children will be required to make a report on their observations.

Abandoned Baby Squirrel Given New Lease on Life

What do you do with a squirrel that's afraid of the outside world?

Two weeks ago, Paul Pokorny, 11, and his two friends, Fred Roha and Jeb Redman, found an abandoned baby squirrel near Paul's home in Devonshire road. The tiny, bedraggled animal was so young its eyes had not yet opened.

The squirrel had apparently fallen from its nest. Its leg was injured, and it looked—to the three boys—as if it needed help.

So Paul took the animal home. His mother, Mrs. Donald Pokorny, was not exactly anxious to play nursemaid to a squirrel. On the other hand, she couldn't very well turn away a helpless baby animal . . .

So the squirrel stayed. The boys fed it with an eye dropper at first, gradually, (and messily), progressing to saucer training. The squirrel thrived. It loved Paul and Fred and Jeb; it loved Dr. and Mrs. Pokorny; it loved its new home.

In fact, the only thing it DIDN'T love was the out-of-doors. "As the twig is bent, so grows the tree" . . . and this squirrel had had an insecure early childhood. It was not about to try life, alone, in the cold, cruel world. It decided to be a house squirrel.

All well and good—except that Mrs. Pokorny neither wanted nor needed a house squirrel. But she couldn't very well cast out something she had nursed through infancy . . .

And so matters stood, until Mrs. Pokorny heard of The White House on Belle Isle, where a squirrel cage was being built to accommodate three tiny squirrel waifs. Mrs. Pokorny called Belle Isle, explained her situation, and asked if the proposed squirrel cage could POSSIBLY be expanded to make room for a fourth squirrel.

The squirrel cage could be expanded. The White House would be happy to provide a home for the Pokorny squirrel. Belle Isle Zoo officials strongly disapproved of unhappy, neurotic squirrels wandering about in Detroit's suburbs, (or anywhere else, for that matter).

So Paul Pokorny's squirrel will live—happily ever after, we hope—in The White House, and Paul Pokorny's mother will have a squirrel-free home. End of sentence, end of paragraph, end of a pleasant story.

Trombly PTA Plans Election

Dad's Night will be observed in conjunction with the annual election meeting of the Trombly PTA on Monday, May 4. Prior to the general meeting at 8:15 o'clock, parents are invited to visit in the classrooms.

Dr. H. Leroy Selmeier, Assistant Superintendent-Instruction, is the guest speaker of the evening. Dr. Selmeier will discuss the nature of elementary schooling highlighting his remarks with "here and now" illustrations concerning Grosse Pointe elementary schools.

As an added feature to fully acquaint parents with "their school business," all announced candidates seeking a post on the Board of Education in the coming June School Election are being invited to the meeting. Each candidate will be asked to introduce himself and tell his aspirations as a School Board Trustee.

Dr. Raymond Mellinger, chairman, Mrs. W. James Moore, Mrs. Walter Jensen, Richard Miller, and Robert Peebles, members of the nominating committee, present the following slate of officers for 1964-1965: president, Thomas Coulter; first vice-president, Dr. W. Pierce Smith; second vice-president, Mrs. Martha Graham; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Ross Bush; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jerome

Driscoll; and treasurer, John Shorter.

Room fathers and male members of the P.T.A. executive board are hosts during the classroom open house and the social hour following the general meeting. Mrs. Alexander Black and Mrs. John Purcell, Social Chairmen, together with Mrs. Frank Calcaterra and Mrs.

Arnold Hughes are planning the Dad's Night Social Hour.

Since this meeting marks the transition period of another very active P.T.A. year, parents and teachers join in expressing recognition and appreciation to the outgoing officers, committee chairmen, and room parents for their spirited contribution and leadership.

give him the legacy of land.

What would you be worth today, if your parents had bought land in Orlando, Florida as a present for your fifth birthday? It wasn't many years ago that a lot on Conomial Drive in Orlando would have sold for three or four thousand dollars . . . yet today, that lot might sell for three or four thousand dollars a front foot!

What about the youngster or grandchild of yours? Doesn't he deserve the bright future that your foresight can give him? Of course, you can't find the ground-floor opportunities of twenty years ago in downtown Orlando today — but you can find other opportunities for the future in this same booming area, where space age industry has spurred economic and population growth beyond the dreams of any investor just two decades ago.

Where? In Rocket City— at the heart of the Orlando-Cape Kennedy area. Here is land that is already growing, from within, reaching out to meet Orlando's own growth . . . which is predicted to increase by more than 50% within the next decade. This is the legacy you can offer that young man—and you can do so well within your means.

Call 886-3900 today, and get the facts—with no obligation—about Rocket City's sound monthly land investment program.

Warn Shores Dog Owners

Grosse Pointe Shores dog owners are reminded that the 1964 license tags must be purchased by Friday, May 1, according to the Village Ordinance. The reminder was given by Police Chief Fred Duemling.

The chief said that the tags are available, now, at the police station, located in the Village Hall, 795 Lake Shore road, at Vernier road.

Before they can purchase the tags for their pets, the chief said, owners must present a current vaccination slip from a veterinarian, attesting that the animals have received their rabies shots.

The chief also issued a reminder that there is an ordinance against dogs running at large. When owners take their pets out for a walk, they must have them on a leash and under control at all times.

Failure to comply with the law will result in the owners receiving violation tickets, and possibly cited in court, the chief said.

HS Graduation Speakers Picked

Nancy Brown and Bob Brammer, seniors at Grosse Pointe High School, were chosen by a board of judges to deliver the commencement speeches at the high school on June 11.

They will work with Mrs. Geraldine Bertovick, speech teacher, on their addresses.

Jim Hanna was chosen as alternate speaker. The seven other seniors competing were: Charlie Nicholl, Dick Hagman, Greg Theokas, Sue Seder, Sue O'Connell, Sallie Lichenstein and Diane Stewart.

Self-appraisal and personal opinions count for nothing—the world expects proof.

Law Day Hath Charms

PETITE THEA ROSSI, a senior at the University of Detroit Law School, and graduate of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe, who was selected Miss Detroit Law Day, USA, is presented with the symbols of her future career—a gavel and Black's Law Dictionary—by left to right: DENNIS BOYLE, president, Detroit Bar Association; NATHAN B. GOODNOW, 75 Handy place, president, State Bar of Michigan; and A.D. RUEGSEGER, 1055 Balfour road, chairman, Detroit Law Day Committee. Miss Detroit Law Day will act as official hostess of the metropolitan Detroit patriotic program observing Law Day, Friday, May 1, at the Masonic Temple Auditorium at 8 p.m., when the Honorable Clifford O'Sullivan, judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit will make the principal address. Free tickets to the public observance, the entertainment portion of which will feature Shirley Booth and Don De Fore, can be obtained at Grinnell's at the Masonic Temple.

Nabbed Speeder Posts $50 Bond

Bernard Krause, Jr., of 23018 Saxony, East Detroit, was arrested and jailed in the early hours of April 25, according to City Police.

Krause was driving west on East Jefferson at 80 m.p.h. While one patrol car pursued the car, another one cut off the speeder at Nottingham and Jefferson.

Charged with reckless driving, excessive speed, Krause posted $50 bond and is scheduled to appear in court May 12.

An inside-outside car wash, at the bargain price of $1, will be available this Saturday afternoon, May 2, from 11 to 3 o'clock, at the Richard School parking lot.

St. James Youth is sponsoring the project, and members of the Lutheran Youth Group, armed with hoses, buckets and sponges, will do the washing themselves. Among those "manning the mops" will be Barbara Ruthven, Chris Morrow, Sandra Kackly and Bill and Bob Langbauer.

Proceeds will be used to help finance a Youth Retreat weekend for St. James boys and girls, scheduled the end of May.

PTA at Mason Meets May 7

The Mason school Parent Teachers Association will have its next meeting on Thursday evening, May 7, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School.

This is the last P.T.A. meeting of the year, and Mason will be having its annual musical program.

Children in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades will be participating in the program, which will total approximately 214 students. This year for the first time, all the boys and girls will remain on stage together, performing together and performing as individual classes. There will be beginning and advanced groups in orchestra and band.

Selections for the program will be varied, covering many different musical times in our history. The program is under the direction of Edward Behr.

At the start of the program, there will be a short business meeting, during which the members of next year's P.T.A. Executive Board will be elected. Following the conclusion of the Musical, refreshments will be served.

Blue Devil Nine Divides Two Tilts with Lakeview

By Jim Blackburn

The Grosse Pointe High School baseball team began the season by splitting a home-and-home series with Lakeview.

On Tuesday, April 14, the Devils played the Huskies on the Grosse Pointe field and came out with a 5-0 victory. Junior Bob Critchfield was the star, pitching his team to victory. In the process he walked only three, gave up four hits and struck out 10 batters.

Critchfield got better as the game progressed and pitched himself out of several jams. In the first inning an error and a single put runners on first and second with one out, but Bob struck out the next two Huskies to escape unhurt. He struck out two more in the second after a lead-off walk and fanned another in the third with two out after a walk and a single.

In the fourth, with one out, Critchfield gave up a single and a walk then struck out the next batter and picked the runner off second base. He struck out the first and last batters in the fifth and one each in the sixth and seventh innings. The last seven Huskies went out in order.

Batters Tend Help
The Devils backed him up with three runs in the fourth and two more in the sixth. In the fourth, after John Reynolds grounded out, Terry Kasiborski and Sam Thompson walked. Mike Johnson's grounder skipped past the second baseman scoring Kasiborski and putting runners on second and third.

The second baseman then fielded Mike Ballew's grounder and fired to the plate. Thompson beat the throw and it was 2-0. When Ballew started for second the pitcher turned toward first, stopped, and instead threw to second. Johnson had already scored and Ballew was awarded second when a balk was called. The rally ended when Ron Irwin struck out and Critchfield bounced to the pitcher.

After going out in order in the fifth, the Devils opened the sixth with Kasiborski's walk. Sam Thompson then crashed a triple down the right field line and scored on Johnson's sacrifice fly to center.

The Devils had a scoring opportunity in the second but failed to cash in on the chance. After Kasiborski fled to right, Thompson walked. But he was called out when he tossed his batting helmet toward the bench. Johnson singled and moved to second on a passed ball but he was thrown out when he tried to score on Ballew's single.

Tables Are Turned
On Friday the Devils journeyed to the Lakeview park where they were defeated 10-3. Mike Van de Ginste started for the Devils but gave up a walk, a single and a home run to the first three Huskies after his teammates had given him a 2-0 lead in the first half of the first inning.

In the second Van de Ginste got the first batter as senior right-fielder Bill Hermann made a beautiful diving catch of a hard line drive. The next hitter singled and Ed Wernet Jr., son of Grosse Pointe football coach Ed Wernet, smashed a long home run far over left fielder Kasiborski's head. Jack Conley came on but gave up a single. The next hitter got on on second baseman Gary Johns' error, and when the third batter walked junior Dick Stricker replaced Conley.

A double scored two runs and a walk filled the bases. A fielder's choice play scored another run and a double scored the sixth and last run of the inning. Except for a home run in the fifth Stricker silenced the Lakeview bats from the third inning on.

Bill Hermann was the batting star for the Devils, getting three hits in four chances and driving in two runs. Mike Ballew and Mike Nolan, both seniors, began the first with singles, John Reynolds advanced the runners with a bunt. The third baseman, trying for a play at the plate, bobbled Kasiborski's grounder. Hermann then blasted a single off the pitcher's foot, scoring Nolan, and the Devils had a short-lived 2-0 lead. In the third John Reynolds opened with a single and alertly advanced when the centerfielder bobbled the ball. He moved to third on Kasiborski's grounder and scored on Hermann's single. This ended the Devil scoring although Nolan tripled to lead off the seventh.

REPORTS THEFT
A walkie-talkie, valued at $13, was stolen from his side drive on Sunday, April 19, Harold Anderson of 1027 Bedford, informed Park police. The item was apparently left and forgotten by one of his children, who was playing with it, police said.

Blue Devil Nine Beats Wyandotte

By JIM BLACKBURN

Bob Critchfield outpitched Nick Radacovic of Wyandotte and the Grosse Pointe High School Blue Devils came out with a hard-earned 3-0 baseball victory last Thursday.

While the Devils touched Radacovic for three first-inning runs Critchfield pitched flawless baseball. He gave up only one hit, a second inning single by Radacovic, and only one harmless walk. Neither baserunner got beyond first base as Critchfield struck out four and received errorless support from his infielders—seniors Terry Kasiborski, first base; Ron Irwin, second base; and Mike Nolan, shortstop; junior Mike Johnson, third base; and his outfielders—seniors Bill Hermann and Mike Ballew in right and center; and junior Sam Thompson in left.

In the first inning Mike Nolan led off with a single off Radacovic. Mike Ballew hit a long fly down the right field line and after a long run the right fielder dropped the ball. Junior catcher John Reynolds moved the runners along with a bunt and Terry Kasiborski walked. Bill Hermann grounded to the first baseman but Nolan beat the throw to the plate. Sam Thompson walked and the bases were loaded again. Mike Johnson then came through with a clutch double, scoring two runs, and the score was 3-0. From then on Radacovic matched Critchfield pitch for pitch, but the damage had been done.

Yesterday the Devils played East Detroit in a game that was rained out the week before. Today Grosse Pointe entertains Royal Oak in their second league game. Tomorrow the Devils journey to Port Huron for a game that was rained out Monday. Next Monday Fordson will visit Grosse Pointe for another league game and Thursday the Devils will journey to Monroe.

While registrations have been slow, 65 American League and 45 National League boys have registered. The American League runs from the east Farms city limits to the east side of Rivard and the National League runs from the west side of Rivard to the Park city limits.

The home diamonds are Kerby for the American League and Neighborhood Club, "all newly done over" for the National League. The 1964 schedule calls for a few games at the High School diamond. The season opens on Saturday, May 9.

McElvenny, MacKay Win Tennis House Tourney Title

Ralph T. McElvenny and Donald MacKay are the 1963-64 champions of The Tennis House, beating John Reindel and Ted Petersen, 6-3, 6-4, in the finals of the annual tournament at the popular club at the foot of Mottelle place.

This was the 15th year for the event which closes the season at the Tennis House. The names of the winners will be the 1st engraved on the plaque which now hangs in the spectators' gallery overlooking the court. It will be "full-up" and a new plaque will be acquired next year to start a new list of champs.

The names of the two winners this year are not appearing on the used-up trophy for the first time. Both have shared the title more than once in the past, but never as partners.

Mr. McElvenny, popular and versatile president of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, first shared the honors with Roland Folk in 1952. He repeated in 1953 with Frank Singelyn as his partner. Then again in 1956 he and Walter B. Ford, II carried the crowns and accompanying hardware home.

It might be mentioned incidentally that Mr. McElvenny was well prepared for his local triumphs on the courts. He was an inter-collegiate tennis champion while wielding his racket for the love of dear old Stanford University back in the late 1920s. He has never forsaken the game and continues to be one of the outstanding doubles players in the Detroit area.

Don MacKay, a former tennis captain at the University of Michigan, remains at the top of the list of those playing in the district. He shared the Tennis House title with Walter R. Cavanaugh four times previously, in 1955, 1957, 1958 and 1959.

John Reindel is a member of the family that captured city, county and state tennis titles for years. He was on the varsity tennis team at the University of Michigan and he and his brother, George Reindel, Jr. were also holders of the Tennis House crown back in 1951, the second year of the tournament.

Ted Petersen played on the varsity tennis team at Northwestern University and was selected on the All Big Ten team while a student there. He has played in the annual exhibition matches at the Grosse Pointe Club for a number of years. He also has shared the Tennis House title twice, with Jack Chapin as his partner, in 1960 and again in 1962.

The finals produced some of the finest tennis seen through all the 15 years of the tournament. An enthusiastic capacity audience was on hand for all of the later matches in the event. While the finals were won in two straight sets, the match lasted an hour and a half. McElvenny and MacKay reached the finals by beating Charles Wright and Frank Ware, 6-1, 6-3; George Reindel, III and

YOU NEVER HAD IT SO DRY!

George Parker, Jr. 6-0, 6-1; Walter Cavanaugh and Henry Gage, 6-1, 6-2.

Reindel and Petersen got into the finals by whipping Emmet Eagen and Joe Hudson 6-1, 7-5; Ted Hodges and Dan Simmons 8-6, 6-0; and Dr. John Lazdre and Norman Sprock 8-6, 6-4.

Dr. Lazdre and Sprock were the defending champions, having won the title for the 1962-63 season last April.

In preliminary matches Bob Lazdre and Sprock defeated Lodz Mottschall and A. I. Lewis, 6-2, 6-1; Dr. Robert Behan and George McMullen beat William Black and Allison Monroe 6-1, 6-2; Hodges and Simmons beat Gen. Alden K. Sibley and Thomas Morrow 6-2, 6-1; Cavanaugh and William McBrearty conquered Dr. E. O. Coates and Al Mackey 6-1, 6-1; Henry Gage and Harold Love beat Dr. Ross Hume and Dr. John Lesesne 6-1, 6-2; George Reindel, III and George Parker, Jr. beat Robert B. Edgar and Robert G. Edgar 6-4, 6-3.

Luzdre and Sprock eliminated Behan and McMullen 6-4, 6-2 before being beaten by Petersen and Reindel. McBrearty and Love had to default from the tournament and their partners, Cavanaugh and Gage, paired up to play an exhibition match with McElvenny and MacKay before the finals.

Tobey Hanser, professional, and most popular pilot at the Tennis House since its inception, organized and supervised the tournament and received a standing ovation from all the contestants except the losers.

2 Tennis Titles Won by Devils

by Jim Blackburn
The Grosse Pointe High School tennis squad opened the season with two lopsided victories over Wyandotte and Cranbrook 7-0 and 6-1.

Against Wyandotte Thursday, seeking their second straight outright Border Cities League title, the Devils swept all four singles matches and all three doubles contests. Only one match was dropped at Wyandotte.

This afternoon the Devils host Royal Oak in their second league meet of the season. Monday Fordson will come here for a meet and next Thursday the Devil racquet-men travel to Monroe for another league meet.

On Wednesday a meet will be held at Grosse Pointe pitting the Devils against Hamtramck, always a great team. This meet, along with a return match at Hamtramck, should be the toughest of the season for the Devils.

Youth Looks at Sex

Charges of a moral deterioration on the part of our young people are periodically hurled, and have been for years. There are frequent allusions, often veiled, of scandalous goings-on among the youth of high school age.

For some months now Rick Mills has been writing a column for our Feature Page which he calls Canteen Conversation. He pokes provocative questions at members of this age group to which he belongs, and gives us weekly insights into how they are ticking.

This week he has tackled sex and has come up with an article far too long for its usual position among the features. We think it merits the attention of our readers and are happy to give it the necessary space here.

Canteen Conversation

By Rick Mills

Teenage morality. Has it changed at all over the past years? Is sex education handled differently now than it was 40 years ago? Have books and movies of the present day changed the moral beliefs of today's teens?

A report released by the New York Academy of Medicine reveals that current increased sexual promiscuity in New York City among teenagers stems from a "relaxing of moral and cultural values in present-day society; the elevation of sex to a status of glamour, success and happiness; salacious literature directed at youth; and the breakdown in home and family life."

Is this true in other cities in the United States? Do teens look at the world around them and see sex as a popular pastime with "glamour, success and happiness," their rewards? Are families unable to discuss sex openly and clarify its true meaning? Grosse Pointe teenagers were asked these questions and others. Here are their replies.

Has sex education changed over the years, and how should this education be handled? Teens answer:

"Yes, sex education has become much more liberal. Today it is centered on outside sources such as other kids or books. Parents should be able to talk over any question that may be asked and answer it as honestly as they possibly can. It is up to the parents to show teens the true meaning of sex."

"Sex education needs to be a balance between the home, school and church. At home parents can answer many of the common questions. At school the "facts of life" are learned. Church should influence sexual behavior according to the individual religious beliefs. Personally, I didn't receive much information from my parents. Most of my knowledge came from books, and from other kids. It is difficult to say where we learn about sex because there are so many contributing sources."

"Sex education has changed. Unfortunately, most of what you learn in school classes on sex is already common knowledge. I learned most of what I know from my parents, other teens and a little from school classes. Sex should be taught by the parents, to the teen. I don't think schools should have any part in sex education."

What effect do books and movies have on a teen's image of sex?

"These should not have any real influence on teens, but sometimes they do. Teens should base their ideas on real life and not on glamorized movies or books."

"Movies and books do affect our ideas, but they do so in two ways. Some books and movies glamorize sex but show only the physical aspect. Others, however, show the problems of sex indulgence and the effects it can have on your later life."

"The teen decides for himself what he believes. If he sees sex as it is portrayed in many salacious books and movies, then he will read the books and see the movies. If he doesn't see sex in this light, he will not be affected by these movies or literature."

Have moral values changed in recent years? "No, basically they are the same. People do, however, take part in more activities that are considered wrong because not enough stress is put upon the things that are right.

"Moral values have changed. Today there is much more opportunity for teenagers to become involved in trouble."

Can you discuss sex openly with your parents? (All but one teen answered "yes"). "No, I can't really talk with them. This must be due to my individual personality because another member of my family can talk openly with them. It isn't my parents; it is my own, independent personality."

Do you talk about sex with other teens your age? "Not much, I only join the conversation if someone else brings it up."

"Yes, discussions with other teens help clear up many questions."

What is the general attitude of most teenagers toward sex? "When we first hear the word 'sex' we almost naturally think of something 'dirty'. Most teens think only of the physical part of sex with no love connected with it. Love and sex seem to be two entirely different words."

"It is difficult to generalize what most teens think about sex. The word involves many questions, some of which are not answered. Sex seems to be classified as a 'behind closed doors' or 'in a parked car' sort of idea rather than what God intended."

"Sex means many things to teenagers. I believe that God intended man to use his body as an expression of the love and affection he holds for another."

We have heard a few frank answers from Grosse Pointe teens. What they have said may or may not voice the opinions you have on this subject. They are, however, the ideas held by many teenagers today. Everyone asked said that parents should answer all questions asked them by their teenage sons or daughters. Parents should answer honestly and freely and not make the conversation awkward by being embarrassed by some particular topic. When a teen starts asking questions about sex, it is essential that the parents can talk with him and give him the true answers. If the parents cannot be called upon to answer these important questions, the teen will seek elsewhere and he may not get the right answers. Then his whole image of sex may be distorted, communications with his parents are broken, and the opportunity for trouble is created.

Sex is a topic that cannot be avoided and should not be shunned! Only by communication between parents and teens can it be put into its proper place. Sex is a wonderful gift and the person who does not truly understand this marvelous. God given, relationship between a man and a woman, can never know how beautiful life really is.

Letters to the Editor

April 23, 1964

To the Editor:

The residents of Grosse Pointe have the opportunity every June to vote for candidates for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. I haven't any statistics, but my memory tells me the percentage of eligible voters who do vote is very small.

Another point, I feel that only a dedicated public spirited individual would consider running for the School Board, for it is a matter of record that while there are few jobs more worthwhile, it is a most thankless and time consuming job, for the public is never satisfied and never says thanks for a job well done, and is always the first to object if there is any suggestion of change or major decision to be made.

I would like to express a public thank-you to our Board of Education for the many, many hours spent on behalf of Grosse Pointe children. I don't understand how there can be residents who don't believe that every consideration and approach hasn't been thoroughly analyzed and studied and finally a decision made that the Board feels is in the best interests of the total community.

These Board members were elected by those who cared enough to vote, and we elected them to do these things for us—to face the issue, then study the facts and then decide what is the best solution. They have nothing to gain by making a poor recommendation, and I am sure it would be much easier for the Board to ignore the whole situation of growth, for realizing human nature being what it is, they cannot satisfy everyone. They have to put the needs of the children of this community first.

If Grosse Pointe hadn't always had intelligent, dedicated people to volunteer for the headaches of the School Board, would we have the nationally recognized school system we have? I say thank-you to the members of the Board of Education and to the Administration.

I think the Board's open letter in today's Grosse Pointe News is excellent in its coverage of the many facets of the problem, and it proves my point that I am sure all angles of the situation have been studied, considered, and then a recommendation made.

Sincerely, Betty Coddington (Mrs. Wm. H.) 646 Lincoln road

April 24, 1964

To the Editor:

April 20th, in Boston, Richard Cardinal Cushing declared that he would prefer imprisonment and death to membership in the John Birch Society. "I could not in conscience endorse this organization or be affiliated with it in any way," stated the Cardinal over radio on station WNAC.

April 23rd, the Grosse Pointe News had a news article on page one, reporting on "The 1964 Annual Family Participation Campaign" requesting money from Grosse Pointers to continue the operation of the Center.

April 23rd, the Grosse Pointe News on page 10, under "Memorial Center Schedule" lists the following: "Thursday, April 23—7:30 p.m.—John Birch Society Meeting."

As a public service would you please enlighten me on this matter?

GROSSE POINTE PARENT (Editor's note: When the Pointe members of the John Birch Society sought permission to meet at the War Memorial Center, the Board of Directors of the War Memorial Association could find no valid reason for refusing use of the facilities to the group, when a similar privilege had already been granted to Republicans and Democrats and other organizations. As Voltaire is reported to have stated: "I may not agree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it.")

Mr. Editor:

There are not at present or in the planning stage sufficient hospital beds in this area to enable a physician to practice medicine as befits the needs of sick people.

Have you, as yet, been sent back home because your hospital reservation was cancelled by an overnight emergency? Has a seriously ill member of your family, as yet, been kept home until a hospital bed became available? Have you, as yet, been denied a bed for a loved one in the terminal stages of cancer because acute illnesses have priority at the hospital? Have you, as yet, been subjected to office surgery because a hospital was not available? Well, you will unless the local hospitals are permitted to expand their facilities.

Shall Grosse Pointe hospitals serve only Grosse Pointers? This is a new low in the Grosse Pointe image. J. F. WENZEL, M.D.

Little Leaguers Staging Parade

The Farms' Little League will open its 1964 season with a parade on Saturday, May 2, which will originate at Kerby Field.

The procession will go down Kerby road at 10 a.m., turn left on Kercheval until it reaches Fisher. Then it will move up Fisher to Chalfonte, thence to Moran and onto Mack avenue. The parade will proceed to Moross and return to Kerby Field via Chalfonte.

The official ceremonies will begin following the march and prizes will be awarded for the best decorated float, with a prize going to each boy on the "winning team."

Each of the teams will be represented by a car, truck or station wagon decorated with the team colors in various motifs. Members participating in the parade are asked to assemble promptly at Kerby Field at 9 that morning.

Why are some drugs like "ecstasy sauce?"

By FRED KOPP, R.Ph.

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one ham-mus alabamus (Salomey) until just one single, solitary delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Often hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and re-processed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

From Another Pointe of View

Expressways, and fast, fast automobiles, have revolutionized Pointers' outlooks during the past few years. Nowadays, one is likely to find one's neighbor, (address: Grosse Pointe boulevard), ANYWHERE in the metropolitan area.

Downtown Detroit has been "re-discovered;" families and friends from one side of town visit families and friends from another; church organizations, hospital and charitable guilds draw volunteers from all sections of the city.

In the next few weeks especially, Pointers will be popping up all around the town, wherever things are happening . . .

Fairlane, home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, will be transformed into a Treasure Mart next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, as women from Detroit's four corners gather for a shopping spree at special booths set up, on two floors of the lovely old house, by more than 20 specialty shops.

Mrs. Frederick S. Ford and Mrs. Andrew B. Harper, Jr., plan to spend their nights at Dearborn Inn, their days behind the counter of "The Santa Claus Shop," selling and taking orders.

Founded by Mrs. Ford a decade ago, to provide an outlet for handmade articles fashioned by women in the Gaylor, Mich., area, The Santa Claus Shop is "open" only two or three times a year, for special marts and sales.

Representing Christ Child Society's Top Drawer boutique will be Mrs. James Lemhagen, Mrs. Elmer O'Berski, Mrs. John Schaefer and Mrs. Donald Currier, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Spire, Mrs. Charles Schmidt, Barbara Lemhagen, Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, Mrs. Stanley Evats, Mrs. David Turner, Mrs. John Ryan, Mrs. Donald Pokorny, Mrs. Richard Seski, Mrs. John Gormley and Mrs. Joseph Vieson.

The Treasure Mart is sponsored by the Women's Association of the Dearborn Orchestral Society. Proceeds will benefit the Dearborn Orchestra and help maintain

Play Presented By Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts of Troop 846 of Maire School finished five years of troop activity by presenting the play, "The King's Cream-puffs," in an atmosphere of medieval splendor. Two performances of the play were given on April 22.

To provide a glamorous throne setting, the scouts and their mothers worked with a wealth of donated furs, feathers, satins and velvets, plus discarded ball gowns. Mrs. Robert Seeber was head costumer, putting to good use her broad experience from Boat Club fashion shows.

Two satin covered thrones were concocted by Mrs. Arthur Voigt in charge of props. Her scout helpers ornamented many army surplus weather flags to drape the castle walls.

Miss Hoffmann Says Vows To Mr. Garthe

In Our Lady Queen of Peace Church April 11, Anne Marie Hoffmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffmann of Allard avenue, became the bride of Sp. 4 John C. Garthe, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Garthe, of Traverse City, Mich.

A breakfast and evening reception at the Allard House, Harper Woods, followed the 11 o'clock ceremony.

The bride chose an Empire waisted gown of white organdy over taffeta, fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, long sleeves, and a train falling from a high midriff, accented with a bow.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a pearl and aurora tiara, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

The attendant's gowns, matching the bride's but designed without trains, were fashioned in pastel shades. Maid of honor Mary Lou Karpen wore lavender, and carried a cascade of white and lavender tipped carnations. Bridesmaids were Carol Reardon, Genevieve Deihl and Karen Hessen, in blue, pink and green gowns respectively. Their flowers were white carnations.

Daniel McCormick, of Traverse City, served as the bridegroom's best man. In the usher corps were Richard Vezina, of Traverse City, Victor Pasque, of East Detroit and John Giblin, of Washington, D.C.

The mother of the bride wore an aqua sheath with matching accessories, and a white cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Garthe chose a beige sheath with brown accessories and a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage.

The bride donned a blue redingote dress with bone colored accessories for traveling to the Pocono Mountains.

The newlyweds will make their home in Washington, D.C.

Pair Travel to Portugal and Spain; Bride Wears White Peau de Soie Gown and Illusion Veil For Saturday Ceremony

In St. Clare de Montefalco Church Saturday morning, Pamela Aileen Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Francis Putnam, of Loraine road, spoke her marriage vows to Robert Thomas Bernstein.

The Rev. Robert Allen, cousin of the bridegroom, officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a breakfast reception at The Whittier Hotel.

The bride chose a gown of peau de soie, designed with a chapel train and short ruffled sleeves. A matching rosette headpiece caught her shoulder length illusion veil, and she carried white roses.

Mrs. Charles Francis Yost was her sister's matron of honor, in a floor length gown of lime green silk with avocado trimming and a detachable train.

Dressed identically were the bridesmaids, Mary Bernstein, sister of the bridegroom, and Virginia Besker and Bonita Bertaux, sorority sisters of the bride. They carried yellow daisies and snapdragons in natural straw baskets.

Joseph Bernstein served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bernstein, of Chicago, Ill. Ushers were David Hoolahan, Robert Isbell and Francis Naphau.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, Mrs. Putnam chose a dusty rose silk sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Bernstein wore a lime silk print dress with a lime wool coat, and matching accessories. Both mothers carried white cymbidium orchids.

When they return from their wedding trip to Portugal and Spain, via New York, the newlyweds will live in Chicago.

Polish Aid Plans Annual Party

Mrs. Henry Shell, of Fontana lane, president of the Polish Aid Society, has extended a cordial invitation to Society members and friends to attend the annual spring luncheon and card party, to be held Tuesday, May 5, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens.

Mrs. Frank Worzniak, of Lenon road, Mrs. Woodrow Woody, of Bournemouth avenue, and Mrs. Albert Bonczak, of East Outer drive, are in charge of the party, which will benefit the Golden Ager's, a continuing program designed for Senior Citizens who meet regularly with volunteers and chairman Mrs. Andrew Gadowski at the Harper Community House in Detroit.

Mrs. Philip Grawleski, of Lakeshore road, Mrs. Stanley Formaniak, of Lakeshore lane, Miss Camille Paradzinski, of Neff road, and Mrs. Edward Katulski, of Detroit, all members of the decorating committee, are busy arranging fresh lilacs, tulips and greenery in natural wicker garden baskets, to hang from the ceiling at Hillcrest.

It has become a tradition to gather the lilacs and tulips for the annual party from Society members' gardens, and the decorating committee hopes the weatherman will cooperate again this year, so the beautiful spring hats worn by the guests will have an appropriate spring-like background.

Party hostesses are Mrs. Stanley J. Tutag, of Cloverly road, Mrs. Alphonse Sawicki, of Detroit, and Mrs. Henry Pytell, of Lothrop road. They will seat guests at tables for four, centered with bright red potted geraniums.

Mrs. Robert Pytell, of Mt. Vernon road, is taking reservations, and Mrs. John Worzniak, of Berkshire road, is ticket chairman.

Big U-D Show Opening May 1

Pianist Peter Nero and his trio, and The Four Saints, will headline the annual University of Detroit Spring Carnival Show which starts at 8:30 Friday evening, May 1, in the U. of D. Memorial Building.

The Show kicks off the three-day Carnival on the McNichols Campus, Friday through Sun-day, May 1, 2 and 3. More than three-score rides, tent shows, games and other attrac-tions will cover the football practice field immediately west of the Memorial Building.

Midway hours are from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. Friday, noon to 1 a.m. Saturday, and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Nero, 29, has been described as a "a flawless and imaginative artist who has bridged the gap between technical perfection and entertainment magic." He blends classical music and jazz in all his selections.

He started playing the piano when seven, and by the time he had reached 14 had knocked off awards, played at symphony halls, and held a Juilliard schol-arship.

He toured with Paul White-man, appeared on TV and in concert at the age of 20. Since then he has played nightclubs, for recordings, and on the concert as well as the show stage.

He appears with his trio, de-scribed by Jean Johnson of the University of Washington Daily as "A drummer with a mus-tache, a bass player who keeps time with his head, and a piano player with a sense of humor."

The Four Saints, the comedy singing group appearing with Nero, spoof current and past musical vogues.

Their routines are apt to in-clude such widely varied sub-jects as "The Flintstones," "A Bach Fugue, or an anthropologi-cal commentary.

They are: Jerry Du Chene, Bob Erickson, Doug Evans and John Howell. All were educa-ted in various aspects of the musical arts. Howell plays 16 instruments. "But, he says, "not all at once."

Once again, for the second year, the Spring Carney will be built under canvas, a series of connected tents around the open air rides, pop corn wagons and cotton candy stands.

The various attractions spon-sored by campus organizations will be conceived and built by students, some 1,200 of them, working on various schedules, some of which started last sum-mer.

Saturday evening, May 2, Ralph Marterie and his orches-tra will play for the annual Carnival Ball in the U. of D. Memorial Building. Dancing is from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Flower Fixing Course Offered

The month of May tradition-ally brings bursts of blooms to everyone's gardens. This makes it a perfect time to take a flower arranging class for there is a wealth of natural beauty at everyone's hand.

Mrs. Richard T. Gerathy, in-structor of the Flower Arrang-ing Classes at the War Mem-orial Center, thinks this is the perfect time of the year to study.

Flower arranging is an art which allows a great deal of self-expression. It also is ap-preciated by family, friends, and organizations which constantly depend upon a member's touch for decorations.

Flower arranging at the Center is offered in two ses-sions, both given on Fridays. The morning session is from 10 until 12 and the afternoon session from 1 until 3. Both are offered in a series of 6 two-hour sessions beginning Friday, May 1. The fee is $15. Those interested in joining are en-couraged to enroll as soon as possible as the classes are limited.

The instructor, Miss Stephanie Prychitko, will in-struct her students in proper stance and handling of the racquet for service, forehand and backhand, as well as many other important elements of tennis.

Since this class is limited to only 20 women, it is important that all interested women con-tact the Department of Com-munity Services, TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271 as quickly as pos-sible, to insure enrollment in the class.

DANIEL BARRETT, JR., Grosse Pointe area Ball chair-man, and MRS. FOLEY KATZENMEYER. The ladies have already chosen the gowns they will wear at the black tie affair, to be held May 9, at Oakland Hills Country Club.

Inside the Mothers' Club

The Executive Board of the Mothers' Club was called to order in the Teacher's Dining Room at the High School at 1:15 p.m., April 6 by Mrs. Kennard Jones, president.

The plans for the Spring Card Party and Tea on May 8 are in full swing, according to Mrs. Jones. During the month of March she attended the deco-rating committee meeting at the home of Mrs. George Sherman; a prize committee meeting at Mrs. Max Gardner's and Tea Committee meeting at Mrs. George Koury's. March 23 she met in Mrs. Kenneth Locke's home with the Grade Chairman, and with the Tables and Card committee at the home of Mrs. George Russell Moore.

In addition to these she re-ported attending the Board of Education meeting on March 9, at which time she received the schedule for next year's school calendar; and a Mother's Health Council meeting and P.T.A. meeting on March 25.

Mrs. Arthur Sherman stated that 17 applications for fi-nancial grants have been re-ceived. Six students have been interviewed.

A Hawaiian theme has been decided upon for the after- commencement party by Mrs. Harold Schall and her Senior Activities Committee.

The Board of Education and Administrative staff discussed their efforts in obtaining a site for the proposed second High School in the Grosse Pointe School district. It is the plan of the Board to buy the land under the 2 per cent bonding power authorized by the State Constitution of Michigan. Voter approval will be required to construct the building roughly estimated at $4,500,000. This was stated by Mrs. Gordon Cook, P.T.A. Council Repre-sentative. She also said, that Arthur Sherman, Council Presi-dent, discussed plans for a Polio immunization clinic scheduled for local elementary schools on April 19 and June 14. The Wayne County Medical Society has spearheaded the organiza-tional Oral doses of Trivalent vaccine to interested residents. Each elementary school will be asked to furnish 20 volunteers to work from 10 o'clock until 4:30 o'clock.

The Scholastic Writing Con-Test Awards were the big topic of our Board of Education re-port by Mrs. James Subbrook. Of 1126 awards given, 68 were won by Grosse Pointe students. Students representing Grosse Pointe High School were victo-rious for the second year in a row on the radio show, "Quiz 'Em On the Air," and won a television set for the school. The Board was notified by Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge that the Grosse Pointe High School Tower has been awarded the George Washington medal for its editorial, "Newspapers Make All The Difference."

This is the fifth George Wash-ington medal won by the Tower editorials, the first of which was awarded in 1953.

The Guidance Department has completed its study of the 1963 graduating class and re-ports that 78 per cent are en-rolled in College, Junior Col-lege, or a special school for ad-vanced training.

Mrs. George Crockett, Motion Picture and TV Council Repre-sentative, attended the Council meeting on March 16 at the Central Library. Two officers were elected—Mrs. Daniel Mat-thews, vice-president; and Mrs. Fred Donahue, recording secretary.

All Board members were urged by Mrs. Kennard Jones to submit their annual reports in as brief a form as possible at the next meeting, May 4.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Although we've already de-voted a column to National Lib-rary Week and its varied cele-brations in our three Libraries, we feel compelled, now that the smoke has cleared and our feet are rested, to present a bit of aftermath.

First of all, did you put in an appearance? Did you come to our CARNIVAL OF BOOKS on Saturday, April 18? Did you have a good time? Maybe you were even a winner in the Sweepstakes! You were if your name was one of the following: Sue Tusa, 67 Radnor circle, a 7th grade student, was the win-ner at Central with a guess of 3,700 (the correct figure being 3,704); John Williams, 1002 Ken-sington road, was the winner at the Park Branch, with an esti-mate of 1,846 (the correct num-ber this time being 1,833); Mary Griffith, 1737 Roslyn road, a 4th grade student was the lucky one at the Woods with a guess of 2,679 (the actual figure be-ing 2,660). Congratulations to all three!

Many guesses were made; this indeed was a popular item on the week's agenda as far as the children and young adults were concerned—this was particu-larly noted at the Woods Branch. It was most unfortunate that many estimates had to be dis-carded because no names or ad-dresses had been filled in, and in some instances, these figures were close to the actual cir-culation figures. Next time, please fill out the entire entry and perhaps you will win!

Possibly the most colorful and exciting element of the week was the appearance of the bal-loons—each bearing the cap-tion: CARNIVAL OF BOOKS—GROSSE POINTE PUBLIC LIBRARY. They rose in multi-tudinous clusters all over the main reading room, lending gaiety and zest to the entire Central Library. From my position be-hind the helium tank, where it seemed to me we blew up mil-lions of balloons, it was incon-ceivable that there could be that many children in Grosse Pointe! But it was all fun and the children loved it. One little boy, wandering in, took a look at one 12-hour-old balloon, no longer in its prime, slowly de-flating and settling from the ceiling to the floor, and re-marked: "There goes a dead one!"

And while we are speaking of verve and color, we must mention with pride the wonder-ful kiosks, conceived and ex-ecuted by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, and cleverly advertising, in ad-dition to National Library Week, such services as our tool collection, art prints, period-icals, films, records and tapes. At the moment of writing, this display still stands, surrounded by flowering plants, in the middle of our main reading room, a vivid reminder of last week's festivities.

Woods Branch reports much interest in this year's slogan of National Library Week: READ-ING IS THE KEY! In distribut-ing posters prior to the week, this branch found one real es-tate company who planned to keep the large poster in its win-dow all year, since a key is a prominent feature in their or-ganization. Woods also tells us that they had no trouble distrib-uting their balloons, in spite of heavy competition from Dumbo balloons being featur-ed at Parcels, advertising the mo-tion picture of the same name which was being sponsored by the Girl Scouts.

Getting back to the Central Library and the Saturday ac-tivities. All day long children and adults wandered in and out, balloons bobbed happily over-head (many to the despair of the small fry, as they had been inadvertently released and were irretrievable from their far-distant position on the ceil-ing!), displays were looked at, art prints on easels were ad-mired. The main display cases near the rear entrance featur-ed books and pictures from the Special Collections and the Grosse Pointe Historical Society in the Friends Room. Guided tours were in effect, including behind-the-scenes glimpses. Spe-cial talks and programs, with appeal to both youngsters and oldsters, were scheduled at al-most hourly intervals.

Aside from balloons, the burn-ing questions in the hearts of the younger generation were: When will the punch be served—are you having any cookies? One little boy asked: "Where's the popcorn?" Another an-nounced proudly that he had consumed six glasses of punch! With two boys of my own I could be sympathetic—children are always hungry!

And so the day came to an end at 6, and we were all very tired, but rather proud, because in spite of uncoop-erative weather we felt that our Carnival had been a success. The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library are in-deed to be congratulated—they produced a day that was a fit-ting climax to National Library Week.

Spring Beauty: Mrs. Paul P. Fischer, of Lakeland avenue, in a Daffodil yellow wool suit, exact match for her short, curly Daffodil yellow hair.

Facts concerning the Convent and Academy of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road, gleaned while browsing through "The Society of the Sacred Heart in North America," a history of the work of Sacred Heart nuns on this continent, by Mother Louise Callan, A.M., Ph.D., (published 1937): The Society, established in Detroit in 1851, has been connected with the Pointe for almost 100 years. The Society acquired 43 acres of land in the Pointe in 1867—the property had a frontage of 400 feet on the lake and extended inland about a mile in meadow and farmland. For the next 15 years, girls from the Detroit Academy used the Pointe site as a holiday picnic grounds. In 1871, avenues of shade trees were planted, and in 1883 foundations of the present building, overlooking the lake, were begun. The edifice under construction was blessed by the Bishop in 1884, and in September, 1885, Reverend Mother Victoire Van Dyke opened the Academy, the Bishop coming to offer Mass in the new school . . .

Picture of a Perfect Young Lady: Connie Molloy, daughter of the Brian J. Molloy, of Berkshire road, a beautifully mannered subdeb, in a two-piece pink and white sleeveless dress, and matching pink shoes . . . wonderful colors to show off her Florida tan.

More about the Lakeshore Convent and Academy: For many years, the Religious of the Sacred Heart maintained a parochial school connected with St. Paul's, in addition to the private school. This parochial school work was begun in 1887, in a building erected on the Convent grounds. By 1911 a new parochial school building was necessary, to accommodate increasing numbers of children. Parish administration changes in the early '30s brought the school to other quarters, and under the direction of another group of nuns . . . The Academy remained small in enrollments for several decades. The Chapel, erected at the close of the century, was solemnly consecrated in May, 1900—in 1930, the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs donated funds for Chapel enlargement and redecoration . . .

Well-hatted: Mrs. Beardslee Barrows, of Maumee avenue, who favors large, vivid, beautiful headpieces—and has the poise and the personality to wear them!

Last notes on the Convent-Academy (and a tip-of-the-hat to Pat Davis, in Haverford, Pa., Pointe historian whose interest in the beginnings of "our" town rubbed off on her friends and associates, most of whom became, through her influence, post-congenitally incapable of passing up the chance to look through historical books and records): Extension of the electric car line from downtown Detroit to Grosse Pointe, and increasing use of the automobile, resulted in an Academy enrollments upsurge; by 1926, 140 pupils were "crowding beyond endurance" the quarters that had comfortably housed 50 pupils of former days. Congestion on Lakeshore road eventually brought about the opening of Grosse Pointe boulevard, cutting through the Convent farm land. The Religious sold their property on "the other side" of Grosse Pointe boulevard, using the proceeds to erect the present Academy building, a Tudor Gothic style edifice facing the boulevard, opened in October, 1929.

Two women were stretched out on adjacent beds in a Red Cross blood center. The nurse congratulated one of them, a tired-looking young housewife, on contributing her eighth pint, making her a Gallon Donor. "Do you come here often?" the other woman asked her neighbor. Pointer of Interest

MRS. DONALD T. HUGHES, OF PEMBERTON ROAD

By Janet Mueller

Two years ago, a fire at Mrs. Donald Hughes' home would have spelled disaster for the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' Club Spring Tea and Card Party. Mrs. Hughes was chairman of the Spring Tea decorating committee; her house was filled with hundreds of gaily colored paper tulips; a single spark might have sent her home—and the party—up in smoke.

Two weeks ago, fire engines clanged to a stop in front of the Hughes' Pemberton road residence. Grey, billowing fumes, pouring from the windows into the early morning air, were traced to a smoldering candle that had fallen behind the dining room buffet and was just about to flare up into a real blaze.

Luckily (?), Mrs. Hughes had graduated to general chairmanship of the Mothers' Club Spring Tea. This year's decorations were safely stored in somebody else's house, and Billie Hughes faced "only" personal clean-up problems, the after-the-smoke-has-cleared-inconveniences of rug and drapery cleaning, wall washing, replacement of a dining room mural and general airing-out of rooms and clothes.

The house itself, built by Mr. and Mrs. Hughes 13 years ago to the specifications of their growing family, suffered little actual fire damage. The living room, light, bright and comfortable, with a nest of blue chairs, (Billie Hughes' favorite color), drawn up to a round, wide coffee table, seems completely untouched, even by smoke . . . until one realizes the windows are bare; the blue and grey print draperies have been sent to the cleaners for smudge-removal.

Four Sons Sketched Sketches of the Hughes' four sons, hung in a row above the fireplace, are a focal point in the living room. The two oldest, Don, 23, married and living in Detroit while he attends Wayne State University, and Tom, 21, who will be graduated from Michigan State University this June, are both Grosse Pointe High School graduates.

Eighteen-year-old Randy is a senior at GPHS, (with Tom and Randy both due to graduate this June, the Hugheses are holding their breath, hoping for at least a day's grace between Lansing and Pointe commencement exercises), and Gary, 12, is in the seventh grade at Pierce.

A family with four boys naturally acquires a dog; the Hughes household's canine member is Archie, a friendly, curious animal who loves people and hates to be shut in the den when "company comes."

Plan Trip to Holland "If I were really rich, I'd have flowers in every room of my house all the time and clean sheets on the beds every night," Mrs. Hughes says. Her sheets may not be changed EVERY night, but fresh flowers are a Billie Hughes "must." Very active in Suburbia Garden Club, she is looking forward to a trip to the Holland, Mich., Tulip Festival, ("My first trip to Holland"), with several other garden club members "as soon as the party is over."

"The Party," scheduled Friday, May 8, from 1 to 4 o'clock, in the High School Gymnasium, occupies first place in Billie Hughes' thoughts these days. It is a gigantic undertaking, involving roughly 300 "planners," mothers who work on various organizing committees or sub-committees.

The Tea chairman alone has 100 women on her committee; there will be 20 tea tables—which means that 40 women are needed to pour during the afternoon. Mothers' Club volunteers bring all the cookies and sandwiches, (they are usually home made); between 12 and 14,000 of these cookies and sandwiches are provided—and consumed—at the Spring Tea. The Beverage chairman is responsible for 3,000 cups of tea, (this year's chairman, astounded at the total, had visions of her kitchen awash in tea, in inch thick carpet of tea leaves covering her floor; she was reassured when told the tea would be made at the High School kitchens, not "brought in").

All in all, some 900 women contribute directly, donating time, energy or baked goods, to a successful High School Mothers' Club Spring Tea. Four thousand tickets are printed, between three and four thousand tickets are sold, and about two thousand women actually attend the party.

Decorations are a major job, on a tight time schedule. The Spring Tea has become famous as the Pointe's prettiest-party-of-the-year, so the Decorating committee, with a tradition of past excellence behind it, feels obligated to do "just a little bit better this time."

Has Southern Theme 1964 Tea theme is "Southern Hospitality is the Pointe," with a sub-slogan of "Vive le Scholar." Decorations will have a southern, French Quarter flavor, with the stage transformed into a Dixie plantation scene. Thirteen mothers and two teenage girls have been recruited as models for an informal fashion show; they will come out onto the stage, cross a bridge, overhanging with wisteria and Spanish moss, to the main floor, and wander among the bridge players, each of whom is to be provided with a program describing gowns and giving prices.

The Decorating committee starts its work the Wednesday before the party, after school, hanging baskets of geraniums from a sky blue drop ceiling. Gym classes are held as usual Thursday, and on Thursday night the mothers begin to move in earnest, setting up tables and centerpieces.

These decorations serve a double purpose; the High School Junior Prom is held in conjunction with the Tea, and sons and daughters who helped arrange the afternoon party will be dancing "down South" that night.

Mrs. Hughes began to contact her 25 major chairmen in November. The Decorating Committee began fashioning paper geraniums in January.

Few Refuse to Work Few mothers asked to work refused, and Billie Hughes, her blue-green eyes sparkling, states positively that she has "loved" her own job. She honestly likes to work—and work hard—but rations herself to one major project at a time.

Knitting is her avocation, ("I knit all the time!"); she has just finished a coat and is making a sweater for her husband, a hi-fi enthusiast whose "hobby" pipes music into every room of the Hughes house.

She has begun a non-partisan Practical Politics course, (perfect election-year timing), is looking forward to a busy summer culminating in a Tussock August marriage, and hopes to snatch a few long weekends in Northern Michigan, at Mullet Lake, where she has vacationed with her family "for years and years."

Last year, Tom taught tennis and swimming at Old Mission, in the heart of the cherry country near Traverse City, so the family vacationed near him; Billie Hughes regrets that, as the boys grow older, it is harder to get the family together for a vacation away from home . . . but she adds that her Pointe house, so near the lake, "feels like a summer home" in July and August.
