MRS. INDIRA GANDHI, 48, was elected prime minister of India yesterday, the first woman to head a nation the size and importance of India. She is the daughter of the late prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru and first achieved the political spotlight in 1959 when she was chosen president of the National Congress, succeeding her father. In a news conference following her election, she said that in politics she does not consider herself a woman. "I consider myself first as a servant of my country," she stated.

VIOLATING THEIR OWN temporary truce early this morning, the Communist Viet Cong forces made two attacks on the outskirts of Saigon. The truce was called in observance of the Lunar New Year. Meantime, South Vietnam's military government has arrested a number of junior military officers and a former general in a move designed to prevent a coup plot. Informed sources doubted, however, that there had been a serious threat to the nine-month-old government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Friday, January 21

SPEAKING AT CEREMONIES establishing the Harry S. Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace, President Johnson said yesterday that North Vietnam was making a mistake in assuming the United States might "get tired" and pull out of the war in Southeast Asia. Once again he told of the United States' desire to negotiate and blamed the Communists for holding up a peaceful settlement of the war.

Saturday, January 22

K. T. KELLER, 80, automotive pioneer and former president and board chairman of Chrysler Corp., died yesterday in London of a heart attack. He was in London with a group of governors and trustees of Detroit's Institute of Arts on a study tour of British museums and art galleries. While head of Chrysler, Keller also served as a government consultant on national defense and in 1950 was appointed Director of Guided Missiles. Keller worked his way to the top of the automotive field after starting out as a 20-cent-an-hour factory worker and never lost his love of the lathe, calipers and blueprints.

THE BODY of former Nigerian Premier Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa was found yesterday just seven days after the revolt that swept his regime from power. He had been kidnapped on January 15 along with his Finance Minister. It was thought originally that he was being held as a hostage. The Finance Minister had been found shot dead earlier. Meantime, the military government of Major General Johnson T. U. Aguiyi-Ironsi expressed deep regret at the death of "this great son of Nigeria."

TEAMSTERS' PRESIDENT James R. Hoffa has been hospitalized in Washington, it was reported yesterday. Doctors refused to confirm or deny a story that he had suffered serious internal bleeding but said he was responding well to medical treatment. Hoffa is awaiting a Supreme Court decision, which may come today, on his appeal from a conviction that could send him to prison for eight years. His appeal to the Supreme Court is concerned with his conviction on charges of jury tampering.

Tuesday, January 25

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S $12.8 billion Federal budget was presented to Congress yesterday and came in for harsh criticism by many members of that body. A number of Republicans called the financial program extravagant and phony while others termed it basically dishonest. Even Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield predicted it would be cut. Of the total, $58.3 billion will be spent on defense and $3.2 billion on the great Society programs.

Roland Gray Fund At $15,000 Mark, Trustees Disclose

Letters Sent to 1,100 Prospective Contributors Bringing Results; Possible Uses Discussed At Board Meeting

Additional contributors to the Roland Gray Youth Fund were disclosed at a meeting of the board of trustees of the fund, held on January 17 in the Cloverly road home of Frank Boyer, board president. Donations now total $15,000, it was announced.

Nine members of the 14-man board were present at the meeting. There was considerable discussion of uses to which the fund might be put. While no definite decision has yet been made, the majority of the trustees were of the opinion that the fund should be made a perpetual one and the income used to continue the charitable activities for which Mr. Gray was noted during his most useful life.

Covers Wide Range

This would include assistance to sports movements and organizations for youth which are in need of help, individual aid to deserving young people in both athletic and scholastic categories, etc. It was reported that members of the Gray family have disclosed that they too favor using the fund in this manner.

It was also reported that 1,100 letters have been mailed to prospective donors to the fund and responses have been heard from many of the recipients. Anyone desiring to contribute is asked to send the donation to the Roland Gray Youth Fund, care of Cleveland Thurber, Jr., treasurer, Detroit Bank and Trust Company, Detroit 48226. Any questions concerning the fund will be answered if directed either to Frank Boyer, 222 Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe 48236, telephone 881-1377; or Shepherd Norton, TUXedo 2-8251. The next meeting of the board will be held on February 6, at Mr. Boyer's home.

597 Permits Granted by Five Pointes

Woods Leads Again With 123 Residential Construction Projects During Year 1965

Permits for residential, commercial and other, (miscellaneous), construction projects approved by the five Pointe Building Departments during 1965, numbered 597, with the buildings and improvements valued at a total of $7,113,103.

The biggest construction total was reported by the Woods, the fastest growing Pointe community, which still has considerable land area for building.

According to official figures, the Woods Department approved 123 residential construction permits for homes valued at a total of $2,698,500, including a 16-unit housing project valued at $208,000; 127 miscellaneous permits (residential additions, garages, etc.) worth a total of $234,415; nine commercial permits valued at $536,500, including a permit for the construction of a $200,000 science building at Grosse Pointe University School, a private school; three permits for additions to commercial buildings valued at $21,500, a permit for driving of pilings at the Grosse Pointe High School North site, $200,000; and a non-assessable (church) permit, valued at $318,000.

Farms Is Second

The Farms followed with the approval of 111 permits for constructions valued at a total of $1,789,438. The Building Department approved 24 residential permits for homes valued at a total of $1,299,000; one permit for a $45,000 commercial building; 85 miscellaneous permits for construction valued at a total of $275,300; and one permit for a no-assessable building valued at $170,138.

The Shores, which is strictly a residential community, did not break down permits approved for last year, but did disclose that the numbers of permits for residential construction, additions, improvements, etc., was 41 having a total valuation of $1,200,000.

10 New City Homes

The City gave a breakdown, to the extent that 10 residential, one commercial and 44 miscellaneous permits were approved in 1965, with the over all total valuation set at $716,400.

The Park, like the Shores, lumped its number of permits together, with the disclosure that a total of 90 permits of all types, valued at a total of $398,350, were approved during the year.

Brownell School Holding Concert

The two largest instrumental groups in Brownell Junior High School's history will perform Friday evening, January 28, when 75 eighth and ninth grade students and eighty seventh graders present their annual Winter Concert.

Beginning at 8:00 o'clock in the school's auditorium-gym, the beginning band will demonstrate their prowess as an organized instrumental group with three selections by Akers: "Allegro", "Adagio", and "Alleluia"; followed by a medley of spirituals. A "first" for the seventh grade band, of which the school's music director Dewey D. Kalember is especially proud, is the large flute section. As a result, that section of 25 flutes will play a special number arranged solely for them.

The second half of the evening's concert includes numbers covering a wide range of style and difficulty. Handel's "Prelude" and "Fughetta" and Noble's "Gloriose Overture" represent the more traditional type of program material, while three recent publications by John Cacavus, an outstanding American composer, round out the evening in contemporary style: "Rhapsodie Essay", "La Bella Roma", and "Days of Glory".

Ushers are: Shannon Darragh, Marcy Gould, Linda Holdredge, Marion Russell, Diane Toolin and Rochelle Wilson.

The Grosse Pointe University School and the University School Skating Club announce that the Francis J. McCann Rink will be dedicated Thursday evening, January 27, at 8 o'clock.

The donors, Mrs. Allan Sheldon, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sheldon, III, and members of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. and Mrs. McCann will be present. The Rev. Franklin Bennett of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will participate in the dedication service.

The final figure skating demonstrations will be by Mrs. Ernest Bauer and William Martin. Mrs. Bauer teaches at the University School Skating Club and Mr. Martin is president of the Detroit Skating Club. They will demonstrate the 14 steps.

At the conclusion of the figure skating there will be a brief hockey contest by youngsters who play regularly under the guidance of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association.

Mr. McCann, to whom the rink is being dedicated, came to the school from Boston in 1919 and has been a devoted teacher and friend of the school.

Park Council Slows Down; Misses Shortest Meeting Record by Single Minute

Scanty Agenda Includes Purchase of Equipment And Letter Concerning Proposed Widening Of Mack and Jefferson Avenues

The Monday, January 24, meeting of the Park council appears to have presented a moral; never trust a short business agenda. The meeting exceeded by one minute the record 17-minute session on November 8, at which time more business was discussed.

Monday's meeting was called to order at 5 p.m., Councilman William Oddy, mayor pro tem, who presided in the absence of Mayor Matthew Patterson, who was out of the city. The session was concluded and adjourned at 5:18 p.m.

Burglar Steals Cash, Revolver

The burglar who broke into the home of Mrs. Evelyn Esperti, 244 McKinley avenue, on Friday, January 21, got away with a sizable amount of cash and a revolver, according to information received from Farms police.

A neighbor, who discovered the break-in, called the authorities, and Patrolmen Charles Bingham and Thomas Kelly responded. They said they contacted Mrs. Esperti, who was not at home at the time, and notified her of the burglary.

Mrs. Esperti checked her house and informed the police officers that the burglar had taken $300 in cash and a .32 caliber, six-shot revolver from a bedroom dresser drawer. Also taken, was a man's white gold pocket watch, no value given; and three bottles of liquor.

There were eight items on the November 8 agenda, whereas, the Monday agenda contained only six items.

Buy Truck, Tractor

Monday's order of business was: call to order by Oddy; roll call; approval of the minutes of the January 10 meeting; approve the purchase of a three-quarter ton pick-up truck for the Public Works Garage and Electrical Department; approve the purchase of a backhoe tractor for the Water Department; and the reading of a letter from the Board of Wayne County Road Commission.

A big part of the meeting was taken up by a descriptive discussion of the tractor for the Water Department, in which such questions as to weight of the machine were asked.

The council accepted the low bid of Alfred F. Steiner company, to sell the Park the three-quarter ton truck for the sum of $1,839.63; and the acceptance of the low bid of the Pontiac Farm and Industrial Tractor Company for the tractor. The latter's price for the machine was $8,125. The tractor has a loader bucket and backhoe, and weighs 4,300 pounds.

Will Schedule Meeting

City Manager Robert Stone read the letter from the County Road Commission, in which the commission agreed to set a date with Park officials to discuss the widening of Mack avenue, from Somerset to Cadieux; and the widening of Jefferson avenue, from Somerset to Cadieux.

The city manager pointed out that the widening of Mack will have priority over that of Jefferson. Both thoroughfares are county streets.

REPORTS THEFT

Mrs. M. V. Sales of 1033 Aubouon, informed Woods police on Saturday, January 22, that while she was putting on her skates at the McCann Skating Rink, someone took her wallet and pass case from her purse. The pass case contained her driver's license, car registration and credit cards; the wallet held $50 in cash and a gold signet ring valued at $20, she said.

High School Concert Set For Sunday

Band, Concert Band and Orchestra to Be Heard in Program in Parcels

The program for the Winter Concert of the Symphony Orchestra of Grosse Pointe High School has been announced by Russell D. Reed, Director. Scheduled for 4 p.m. on Sunday, January 30, the concert will take place in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School.

The Symphony Orchestra will open the varied and interesting program with "Sinfonia Piccola" by Heikki Suolahti, to be followed by the first movement of Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 3."

Nolte Is Soloist

George Nolte, clarinet soloist, will perform the first movement of Mozart's "Clarinet Concerto in A Major." A senior at Grosse Pointe High School, he is principal clarinetist of the High School Orchestra and concert master of the High School Band. He studies clarinet privately with Vincent Melidon, clarinetist and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. George has also played varsity football at Grosse Pointe High School during the past two years, in addition to his musical activities.

Concluding the first half of the program the Symphony Orchestra will play Giannini's "Symphony No. 2."

Following the intermission the Concert Band will render three selections: "Allied Honor March" by K. L. King; "Pageant" by Vincent Persichetti; and "Overture for Winds" by Charles Carter.

The Symphony Band will conclude the afternoon program by playing five numbers. They will begin with "Procession of Nobles" by Rimsky-Korsakov. Also included are "Allerseelen" by Richard Strauss, "Toccatto and Fuge in D Minor" by Bach, and "Symphonic Suite" by Clifton Williams. Fillmore's "His Honor March" will be the concluding number.

The Symphony Orchestra numbers 69, the Concert Band 43, and the Symphony Band 76 students.

Vandal Damages Car, Takes Lunch

Aaron F. Lingsman, 17, of 1109 Wayburn, doesn't think much of the vandal who damaged the lights on his car on Thursday, January 20.

Lingsman reported to Farms police that he had parked his car on Fisher road, near the Grosse Pointe High School tennis courts, and when he returned to it at lunch time, he discovered that someone had smashed the glass of all four front headlights.

Adding insult to injury, he said, whoever was responsible for the damage, broke into the vehicle and ate his (Lingsman's) lunch, leaving the interior of the car in a mess.

It Took Time to Apprehend Alleged Hit-Run Motorist

Woods police went through quite a bit of trouble trying to locate an alleged hit-and-run driver on Sunday, January 23, and took him into custody when he was stopped by Detroit authorities.

At 8:50 p.m., Woods police received a call from Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. MacWhirter of 23156 Doremus, St. Clair Shores, who stated that their car had been struck by a hit-and-run motorist, whose license number they had taken down. The incident occurred at Morningside and Cook road.

A be-on-the-lookout broadcast was sent over the police radio to all points. Patrolmen William Duster and Lee Cochill were dispatched to the accident scene, where they were given the license number of the hit-runner. The number was from

The five Pointe Police Departments recorded a total of 1,447 traffic accidents within their jurisdictions in 1965, in which two persons lost their lives and 532 individuals sustained some form of injury, according to official reports.

The fatalities were reported by the Shores and the Park, one each.

The first to die in Pointe traffic was John R. Zielinski, 26, of 1868 Strasburg, Detroit, who was killed on April 22, when he lost control of his car and crashed into a tree in front of 900 Lake Shores road, at Blairmoor. He died instantly.

Hit Moving Van

The Park's fatality was John J. Thompson, 20, of 19389 Beaconsfield, who on November 26, crashed head-on with a large moving van at Mack avenue and Three Mile drive. He was dead on arrival at Bon Secours Hospital. The driver of the van was exonerated of blame.

Alleged Hit-Runner Tracked Down

At 9:45 p.m., Farms Police Sgt. Eugene Boylan called the Woods station and disclosed that a person by the name of Norman Edelmann was on file as having had his operator's license made out in the Farms station. The man had given his address as 170 Lakeview, the sergeant said.

Duster and Cochill, accompanied by Farms Patrolmen Earl Field and Otto Glanert, went to the address, only to find that a new house was under construction at that location. The four policemen checked with neighbors, and found that a man who fitted the description of the alleged hit-and-run driver lived at 180 Lakeview.

At 10:25 p.m., a call was received from Detroit authorities, disclosing that Detroit police officers were holding a man who had been involved in an accident, and the arresting officers were interested in finding out if there had been an accident in the Woods involving the same car and driver. The description of the car and driver and the car license number were similar to that sent out by the Woods police.

At 10:35 p.m., Sgt. Thomas Kane and Duster went to Cadieux and Mack avenues, where they found Edelmann in custody of Detroit Patrolman Richard Browder.

The Woods officers took Edelmann to the Woods station, where at 10:55 p.m., the MacWhirters were called and they arrived to identify Edelmann as the driver of the car that ran into theirs, and then leaving the scene of the accident.

At 11:12 p.m., Edelmann was issued a traffic violation ticket, charging him with leaving the scene of an accident. He is scheduled to appear before Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow, who convenes his court at 9 a.m. Saturday, January 29.

Longest Mothers' March Gets Underway Thursday

What could be the longest Mothers' March in history will take place in Detroit and other Wayne County communities starting Thursday, January 27, and ending Tuesday, February 1.

Some 22,000 Marchers will visit Wayne County homes during the next six days on behalf of the March of Dimes.

"We really ought to call it the 'March for Children,'" said Mrs. Joseph G. Molner, co-chairman of the Detroit Mothers' March Against Birth Defects.

"The Mothers' March always has been for children," she explained. "In the beginning, it was to make it possible for them to live free from the fear of polio; now, to secure for them the best chance for normal development from even before the time they are born."

"This week many mothers, concerned about birth defects and the tragedy it brings to families, will be calling at homes. They will be seeking contributions to speed the work against the nation's largest killer and crippler of children. But they will also carry a message of hope, of significant progress in the fight against birth defects.

Marchers will wear official green, blue and white identification tags. They will distribute a pamphlet called Happy Birth Day which includes important information for young people about to be married or who are expecting a baby.

Last year's Mothers' March in Wayne County raised $192,513.85. The goal this year is $200,000, half of the total $400,000 Wayne County goal. The other half is expected to be raised through mail appeal, tag days, the annual bowling tournament, the annual Teen Dance and other activities.

Library Offers Family Movies

The fifth program of the 1935-1966 Family Film Night Series will be presented Friday, February 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the Meeting Room of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. Family Film Nights are held the first Friday night each month, October through April.

The program for February 4 will prove interesting for the entire family. Films to be shown include: ANATOLE; Anatole was the happiest, most contented mouse in all France — until the night he overheard, "They are a disgrace to all France. To be a mouse is to be a villain." A delightful story, 9 minutes, color.

ISLAND OF THE SEA — The tortoise, elephant seal, Skua gull, Gentoo penguin and albatross are only a few of the strange cast of characters who inhabit the remote islands of the Galapagos, the Falklands and the Midway group, and whose story makes this a fascinating film. 29 minutes, color.

GOLDEN FISH — a little boy wins a gold fish as a prize at a carnival. Overjoyed, he goes home where he hopes the fish will become friends with his pet canary. A catastrophe nearly develops when an alley cat unexpectedly stalks the fish and bird. The approach to the subject is unusual. 20 minutes, color.

Adults, and children accompanied by adults, are cordially invited. Come early for a good seat.

If you have gas heat, let 'the Joneses' keep up with you.

You're entitled to feel smug as well as comfortable if you heat with gas. That's why, where gas is available, practically everyone gets it. In the areas we serve, some 700,000 families heat with gas. And thousands more are being added.

Gas forced air heat is filtered heat, free of dust and pollen. It's circulated uniformly through your home. You're free of that stuffy "vacuum bottle" feeling. Smoke and odors slip away. And gas is healthfully humid, not bone-dry.

Gas is easy on your budget. It costs only about a fourth as much as you'd pay for electric heat. And you have even comfort throughout your home—even in the basement.

Gas is reliable. It comes to you in underground pipes. You can't run out of it. Maintenance? You can practically forget it. The silent blue flame of a gas burner just can't wear out. Pity about "the Joneses," isn't it? But they can have gas heat, too. It only takes about four hours to convert most heating systems. And virtually every new home built has gas heat.

About the only thing that beats gas heating is a gas heating/air-conditioning system. It means year-round comfort. Year-round economy, too. Because there's a special low rate for heating/cooling customers. And you can add gas air conditioning now, or install the entire heating/cooling system, and make no regular payments till June, 1966.

Get with it, "Joneses." Heat and cool with one fuel... gas.

Volunteers Plan Boy Scout Sustaining Member Drive

At a general meeting, to be held on Saturday morning, January 29, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, volunteer workers will be given information and enrollment forms to be used in soliciting contributions for the 1966 Boy Scout Sustaining Member Drive.

Robert Hackathorn, chairman of the drive for the Grosse Pointe area, expects some 200 salesmen to attend the Kick-off meeting.

The Scouting movement in the entire Detroit Metropolitan area benefits from contributions made during this annual drive. The Grosse Pointe area's goal has been set at $16,000. These funds will be turned over to the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council Headquarters, to be used in support of many worthy Scouting activities.

Mr. Hackathorn reported that many Detroit troops are in need of adult leadership. These funds can be used by the Detroit Area Council to hire qualified men for troops in need of leadership.

The sustaining member donation is $10. Many generous contributions have been made, in the past, in excess of this amount. Such donations help support a continuing organization of professional leaders administer Sustaining member funds as part of a total budget, heavily supported by the United Foundation. Approximately 78 per cent of the Council budget comes from the UF.

In addition to leadership training, scout program aids and equipment, funds are used to operate four splendid scout camps located in Michigan.

Youth guidance leaders recognize the strong influence the Scouting program has on boys who participate. There are over 300,000 boys in the Detroit Metropolitan area eligible for Scouting. Generosity during this Sustaining Member drive will permit expansion of the program to include more boys.

Mothers have a better chance to rest while on vacation if they can get away from the rest.

Robbery Shrinks To Total $3 Loss

W. H. Gmeiner, Jr., 22, of 30344 Georgetown, Berkley, disclosed to Farms police on Saturday, January 22, that while he was playing basketball in the Brownell Junior High School gymnasium, someone broke into the locker assigned to him and stole items valued at a total of $73.

The basketball player told investigating officers that he had his clothing, wallet, and other items in a blue canvas bag locked in the locker. The locker had been broken into and the bag was missing.

Work Trailer Guttered by Fire

Woods public safety officers used booster lines to put out a fire in a trailer on the site of the Grosse Pointe High School North, Vernier and Morning-side, on Monday, January 17.

The trailer, 8 feet by 20 feet, was being used by construction workers who are driving steel pilings for the new high school building.

Public safety officials said the fire originated inside the mobile unit, and was caused by a bottle-gas space heater used to heat the trailer. No one was in the trailer when the fire started, it was said.

The amount of damage was not given, but it was disclosed that the interior of the unit was completely destroyed, including clothing and lunches of the work crew.

Men Gardeners Given Warning

A timely warning to gardeners and householders on the hazards involved in careless use of insecticides and fungicides was sounded at last week's meeting of Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe at War Memorial Center. Leonard L. Jensen, toxicologist with Ford Motor Company, graphically set forth the fact that materials used in various trade-named insecticides can be damaging to humans as well as to the bugs they are used to kill.

He listed types of toxic materials with emphasis on the degrees of hazard they involved. Special stress was placed on keeping from breathing the dusts or vapors and preventing their getting in contact with the flesh. Some of the most hazardous, ordinarily used only by professionals, should be avoided entirely by home gardeners, unless they are prepared to be dressed entirely in a rubber suit while using them, he said.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

How long has it been since you've read any of the novels of Thomas Wolfe? Of John Steinbeck? Of John Dos Passos? Of William Faulkner? An author whom I read recently classifies these men, along with several others familiar to you, as writers of the so-called "novel of violence" or "novel of destiny".

In this type of fiction, the hero quite often finds himself in a predicament where the only possible solution to his situation is to inflict physical harm on one of his fellow-men. And, frequently, in doing so, he also finds the way to his own destruction. But the protagonist accepts this way of violence, because life, as he sees it, is like that, and destruction thus becomes man's fate. However, the reader becomes a participant, rather than a spectator, and in empathizing, experiences concomitant emotions.

With some authors, their work is largely autobiographical, (as with Thomas Wolfe), and often the emotions felt are not recalled with tranquility. Both Wolfe and Dos Passos reminisce, and are preoccupied with the passage of the years, but the latter usually remains the more detached. He is an observer of the American scene. He attempts to re-create a fragment of past time, to follow the fortunes of a group of unrelated characters at once, to hold the whole structure together with continuous emotional tension, and to probe some of the frustrations of the American people.

This sense of frustration also appears in Thomas Wolfe — even his titles reflect the strain: LOOK HOMEWARD, ANGEL; OF TIME AND THE RIVER; YOU CAN'T GO HOME AGAIN. James Farrell's style is more documentary — there is more detachment and reportage. His formula seems to be to show the precise content of life in environments such as those described in a certain book. For example, what does poverty mean intimately to those who must live under these conditions? His method is extremely sociological; and Farrell remains with you. Have you ever really forgotten Studs Lonigan or Danny O'Neill?

Many of Robert Penn Warren's novels teem with violent action; frequently it is caused by the domination of urban culture, with treachery being the rule. His regionalist, agrarian heroes become frustrated, fugitive — sometimes criminal.

In John Steinbeck we see both an angry man, full of tensions, and a gifted humorist. In stories such as CANNERY ROW and TORTILLA FLAT his characters have no great commitments to society, but if you take them out of their comfortable atmosphere, put the squeeze of economic necessity on them, they can become the migrants of Highway 66 as in GRAPES OF WRATH.

William Faulkner's characters, in most cases, seem to be driven by obscure obsessive neuroses and tortured by certain anxieties and by a universe with which they cannot seem to cope. And even if a catastrophe is not made to become an actuality, it is usually imminent. Here is indeed one of the best examples of the novelist of destiny.

Ernest Hemingway was a man who was stirred by violence — by pain and killing — by bull-fighting and war — by big game hunting and fishing. We certainly see it in such works as FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS, THE SUN ALSO RISES, DEATH IN THE AFTERNOON and THE OLD MAN AND THE SEA. He is both actor and beholder in his actions of turbulence. At times Hemingway seems less concerned with the relations between human beings than with the relations between himself and a somewhat alien universe in which there is much upheaval, suffering and death.

The authors and work on whom and on which I have been concentrating fall roughly between the years 1920 and 1950. Much tends to be written currently on the best sellers, the very contemporary outpourings, or the classics. Sometimes I think it is interesting to stop a moment and reflect on a less publicized period of writing. It has been many years since I read STUDS LONIGAN, OF TIME AND THE RIVER, CANNERY ROW or DEATH IN THE AFTERNOON. But it is well not to forget them. These authors represent a trend — a way of life and of thinking; they mirror an important period in American literature and American history.

Cub Pack 290 Holds Meeting

Cub Pack 290 of Mason School, held its January Pack Meeting at Mason School with a large turnout of families and friends. Cubmaster Frank Jerger, Jr., and Committee Chairman Lowell Bird conducted the program for the evening. Cub Scouts of Den #2 greeted the families and friends as they arrived at the school gym. Den #7 conducted the Flag Ceremony and the audience participated in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Den 10 was selected the best den at inspection and each Cub in this den received a pass to the Woods Theatre.

Everyone is looking forward to the Blue and Gold Banquet which will be held during Scout Week in February. Tickets are available now and attendance is not confined to parents of Cub Scouts alone! Details are as follows: date, Thursday — February 10; time, 6:30 p.m.; place, Roma Hall, Gratiot near 10 Mile road; cost, $1.25 for children and $1.50 for adults.

The theme for January was Transportation and each den presented a skit. Den 2 showed the difference in speeds of transportation using a ship, train, car and plane as models. Den #7 depicted the Cave man's progress to the use of the wheel. In the process, they showed the use of man's back, beasts of burden, rolling objects on logs and finally the wheel itself. Den #10 showed the confusion of the Ford Expressway at the Rush Hour. Den #9 showed different types of transportation using the Cave Man Wheel, a helium balloon and basket, the automobile and a jet plane.

A chariot race was next on the agenda and the audience laughed so hard that many handkerchiefs came out of pockets! Army blankets were the chariots, two cubs were the horses and pulled a third Cub on the blanket, who was the driver of the chariot.

Bride's Princess Style Gown of Ivory Silk-Velvet Designed by Bergdorf-Goodman for Bridegroom's Mother; Veil is Heirloom Lace

A reception at the Country Club of Detroit followed the Saturday evening wedding of Barbara Joan Ogden and William J. Denler, II.

The Reverend Bertram deH. Atwood officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

A Bergdorf-Goodman designed gown of ivory silk-velvet, designed for the bridegroom's mother, was the former Miss Ogden's choice for her own wedding. It is fashioned on princess lines, with long, fitted sleeves ending in mid-hand points, and a Cathedral train.

Her deeply scalloped veil of rosepoint lace matched the train. The new Mrs. Denler is the eighth bride to wear the veil; among the others were the bridegroom's mother and his sister, Mrs. Edmund Marshall Murray, Jr., of Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Joseph Stillman Ogden, of Seattle, Wash., the bride's sister-in-law and former college roommate, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dale Stepp Helmer, of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Peter Eugene O'Neill, of Cleveland, O., another of the bride's former college roommates. Janet Parkin, of New Providence, N.J., the bride's cousin, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Murray.

Their floor length, Princess frocks were fashioned of ruby red silk-velvet. They carried white fur muffs, accented with single red roses and ivy, and wore headpieces of roses, ivy and Stephanotis.

Robert William Emerick, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., served as the bridegroom's best man.

Ushering were Kendrick Jon deKoning, of Ann Arbor, Lawrence B. Kelly, Frederick Ollison, III, Edmund Marshall Murray, Jr., and Joseph Stillman Ogden.

For the candlelight, formal ceremony and the reception, Mrs. Ogden, the bride's mother, chose a floor length gown of pale and deep rose satin. She pinned a corsage of pink orchids to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Denler, wore a floor length gown of apple green Italian silk and pinned green orchids to her purse.

Jaycees Honor Linda Shumaker

Linda Joy Shumaker, a 17-year-old senior at Grosse Pointe High School will represent Detroit in the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant on January 28 and 29 at the Pontiac (Mich.) Northern High School.

Linda was selected among seven other Detroit area high school seniors by the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce (Jaycees) who sponsor the event in the Detroit area. The state pageant is sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees. The state winner will represent Michigan in Mobile, Alabama in March in America's Junior Miss Pageant.

Linda Shumaker is an honor student at Grosse Pointe High School and plans to attend Western Michigan University to study Elementary Education.

Asked why she wanted to follow a career in Elementary Education, Linda said: "My primary reason was because I have patience with small children and enjoy helping them. My second reason was a family. Teaching is very versatile and allows a close family life."

Detroit's Junior Miss is very talented, too. Linda designs and knits her own sweaters.

The Junior Miss Pageant considers five categories in determining a winner: (1) Judges Conference and Mental Alertness, (2) Poise and Appearance, (3) Scholastic Achievement, (4) Youth Fitness and (5) Creative and Performing Arts. The goal is to select the ideal senior high school girl.

The Junior Women's Detroit Symphony Association will sponsor a trip for fifth graders at Richard School to the Ford Auditorium to see the dress rehearsal performance of "The Firebird Suite" by the Nolle Fisher Ballet Company of New York City, on Friday, January 28.

In preparation for this activity the three classroom teachers, Miss Christine Mitchell, Mrs. Carla Gutow, and Mr. Ernest Alden, have worked with the building's music instructor, Mrs. Patricia Birch, in preparing the boys and girls for the afternoon's program. All four have been working to provide an exciting and meaningful learning experience for the boys and girls.

One activity in which the children have participated is interpreting their thoughts of the ballet in art work. Samples of the Richard pupils' work will be on display at the Ford Auditorium during the length of the ballet company's stay in Detroit.

Mrs. Margaret McBride is chairman of the Richard project. Mrs. Patricia Birch has been coordinating the activity within the building, and Mrs. Hugh Harness is president of the Junior Women's Detroit Symphony Association.

THE MOST DIFFICULT type of house to find in Grosse Pointe is a compact but deluxe home located in a neighborhood of much larger properties. This is one of those scarce houses and is located on a 100-foot lot near Jefferson. A family room in the rear overlooks the lovely landscaping and sunken garden, while a small den off the center hall provides additional privacy. The 21-foot master bedroom has its own luxury bathroom, with a second bath serving the other bedroom plus a guest lavatory. $41,500. Hurry.

CLOVERLY, $22,500 is a rare price for a house providing 5 bedrooms and 2 full baths. Located near transportation, Kerby and Brownell schools. Gas heat, full dining room, early occupancy. Take advantage of the extra space you get in an older home.

PEMBERTON, Styled in ever popular Colonial architecture, this recently decorated home has the charm and fine quality of an older home, yet has been equipped with many features found in new homes, such as an automatic garage door, aluminum storms and screens, and attic fan. Den, 4 bedrooms plus a large studio, playroom or 5th bedroom, 2 1/2 baths, 75' lot, near schools. $37,900.

742 SUNNINGDALE Custom built semi-ranch with the elegance of Georgian design. Spacious rooms. Fireplaces in living room, library and bedroom. Terms are flexible.

644 PEMBERTON Center entrance Colonial in choice location. Kitchen has good eating space. 3 bedrooms and 2 baths.

A special preview . . . of "archy and mehtabel," to be presented in conjunction with Truman Capote's "Children on their Birthdays" at Fries Auditorium as a benefit for the Grosse Pointe Symphony, delighted officers and committee chairmen of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee at their recent meeting in the Sheldon road home of Mrs. Lester A. McIntosh. Gail Bilto (mehtabel) and Will Young (archy, the theater cat), members of the Court Players of the Detroit Institute of Arts who will appear in the February 11 performance, did a skit just for the local ladies, who can't wait to see the whole show.

"Is there some way" . . . writes Ruth (Mrs. John) McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the Grosse Pointe Braille Club, "we could thank the people who made contributions at the Braille Club's Holly Tea in December? We'd like to gratefully acknowledge the contributions that have been sent in since the tea was held, too . . ." Mrs. McNamara was able to write thank-you notes to those who sent checks, but couldn't contact the many cash-on-the-line donors. All contributors, consider yourselves thanked!

The "bell" has been passed . . . and Suburbia Garden Club has a new president, Mrs. Emory Wickline. Suburbia is the only club we know of whose meetings are called to order by the ringing of a bell instead of the pounding of a gavel. The tradition was started 12 years ago, when Suburbia's founder Mrs. William Beckenhauer and honorary member Mrs. Robert VanderPyl purchased a lovely brass bell at a local antique show. The ladies thought bell-ringing would be more forceful—and more feminine—than gavel pounding. Club members agreed, and the bell quickly became a symbol of the presidency. All of Suburbia's past chief executives' names are engraved on its surface.

As we promised a few weeks ago, here's the name of the winner of Sigma Gamma Association's Laura Butler Higbie Memorial Award: Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips. Among Mrs. Phillips' distinguished services to the Association are terms as Sigma Gamma president and president of the Board of Trustees of the Detroit Orthopedic Clinic. She is currently a trustee of the Sigma Gamma Foundation . . . Recipients of the Association's Board of Directors Awards were Mrs. Theodore McGraw and Miss Carole Williams.

Donor of the lovely "Eros and Psyche" . . . by Niccolo dell'Abbate, currently on display in Gallery 10 of The Detroit Institute of Arts, is Pointer Robert H. Tannahill, a Major Benefactor of the museum who has for more than 30 years taken an active interest in The Detroit Institute of Arts, both in providing distinguished acquisitions in every department and in the tasteful presentation of exhibitions and displays. Mr. Tannahill is Honorary Curator of American Art on the museum staff and has been a trustee of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts since 1931. The 16th century oil "Eros and Psyche" is the only painting in the United States definitely attributed to dell'Abbate.

A fitting memorial . . . to the late Paul Militello, regional director of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., is the Paul Militello Campers Award. Mr. Militello founded the MDA camp at Lexington, Mich., one of three in the country. The evening of January 21, at the Detroit Memorial Hospital, W. Gil Pewitt, president of MDA's Executive Committee, presented a testimonial "In Memoriam" to Mrs. Militello, of Crestwood drive, establishing the Award, to be presented annually to a muscular dystrophy afflicted child on the basis of being a "good camper."

PILFERINGS

A college freshman class in English composition was assigned a short theme on "Why I Went To College." One student's composition contained this sentence: "Entrance requirements have gone so high today that no one can get into college, and the reason that nobody can get in is that everybody is going." —Catholic Digest

The late Ernie Byfield, famous host of the Pump Room in Chicago, was once asked what made caviar so expensive. "Well, after all," he said, "it's a year's work for a sturgeon."

The policeman presiding over the traffic from his tower at Harvard Square in Cambridge was shouting instructions to pedestrians and motorists over a loud-speaker. The driver of a car with Missouri plates, trying to navigate the maze of one-way signs and flashing lights, started to turn the wrong way into a one-way street. "You can't turn that way, lady," boomed the officer.

She rolled the window down and called desperately, "But how will I ever get back to that street?"

Back came the answer: "The world is round, lady. The world is round." —Reader's Digest

Pointer of Interest

MRS. DAVID HADDEN, OF MEADOW LANE

By Janet Mueller

There's something special about Mrs. David Hadden. She glitters when she talks. Perhaps it's her dramatic training—she's been interested and active in theatrical work since grade school—perhaps it's simply the fact that she can't help expressing her joy in life . . . whatever the cause, the sparkle is there.

Loris, ("It's an unusual name, I know; it doesn't lend itself to nicknames") Hadden finds a great deal of pleasure in everything she does, from working, in a variety of capacities, for the Grosse Pointe Community Theater, to knitting for her three children.

Her oldest boy, David, Jr., is 18 and a freshman at Williams. Jeff, 16, is in the eleventh grade at Grosse Pointe University School, and 13-year-old Ann is an eighth grader at Liggett.

The Hadden family have been Grosse Pointers for a little more than five years. They lived first in Cloverly road, moved a year ago last June to Meadow Lane, acquired the latest member of their menage, a spaniel named Terry, last year.

Love Meadow Lane They're pretty much settled now, and Loris would like them to stay that way—at least for a while. She's "crazy about Meadow Lane" and feels she's done her share of moving, although she never really "minded" it.

"Moving is something you learn. The first move is the hardest . . . When you're new in a community, you can't sit home and wait for people to come to you. You have to get out, get into things—but you can't be 'pushy' . . ."

Born in Denver, brought up in Rochester, N.Y., Loris began her travels a few months after she and David were married. His work took him first to Flint, then to Saginaw for six months, then to Buffalo for four years, finally to Grosse Pointe.

The Haddens like The Pointe. They enjoy their proximity to the lake, and spend a good deal of their summer time sailing—all except Loris, who "sits on the shore and waves"; a bad ear keeps her well away from the water.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadden, having "gone through all the Leagues with the boys," are very knowledgeable about baseball, basketball and soccer game spectators. "Ann got a bit tired of all these 'games,'" her mother admits, "but now that she's interested in volleyball, she insists we come to see her play, too."

Likes to Use Hands Loris likes to do things with her hands, sews and knits a great deal—"I sometimes think I'm in the business; the kids are always saying, 'When you're finished with that sweater, mother, I'd like one in this color' . . ."

Occasionally, she goes on a Reading Kick: "It's fatal for me to start a book the first thing in the morning. I let EVERYTHING slide!" She prefers biographies and non-fiction, and devours mystery stories—"The library knows me very well."

David and Loris Hadden both come from big families, so they usually spend vacations visiting relatives.

"Sometimes the children complain: 'Couldn't we go some place alone, just OUR family?' With so many relatives, there's a great deal of coming and going, but we really do have a wonderful time together . . . I like to travel myself, only not as a 'tourist'; I like to go where I know someone, where I have a contact . . ."

Loris has been active in Christ Church affairs ever since the Haddens settled in The Pointe. She was chairman of the Church Women's Association Visiting committee, and is presently co-ordinator of Programming for the Church Women.

She's also active in Kappa Kappa Gamma, her college

Her first little theater work was as an actress. She has always concentrated more on character parts than others, appeared twice in "Uncle Harry," as the ingenue in Rochester and as the old lady in Flint: "I aged a lot in a very few years—on stage!"

In Flint, she had her first taste of directing: "I was asked to read 'Angel Street,' ('Gaslight' in the movies), loved it and agreed to direct it. My only previous training as a director was in the classroom at Cornell, but I was young and 'the young have no fear.' I jumped in and directed the play . . . and I've been directing ever since."

David Hadden, who served as technical director for the Community Theater's first show of the 1965-66 season and will be stage manager for the next show, has had nothing to do with "Inherit The Wind"—"It's his turn to sit home," Loris explains.

Requires Much Energy She finds directing takes a tremendous amount of energy.

"The main thing a director does is 'interpret' a play. He must help his actors develop their roles, but not be dictatorial . . . He must have technical knowledge, be familiar with sets and lighting techniques, know how to stage a production, see that his actors 'build' to their climaxes, sustain the audience's interest . . ."

"And a community theater director should make it his business to see that rehearsals are not drudgery. Little theater groups should be 'fun'; amateur actors are willing to work hard, anxious to do the best they can, but they want to enjoy themselves, too. They have every right to enjoy themselves . . ."

Loris found "Inherit The Wind" an extremely interesting play to direct. "It's really a three-man drama, a duel between the two lawyers with the Townspeople as the 'third person' reacting to the lawyers' arguments and personalities."

Together, the Haddens captured a "Clarence," (the GPCT equivalent of an "Oscar"), for Best Producers of the first musical they ever did, "Kiss Me Kate." Clarences are awarded every summer, at a special Grosse Pointe Community Theater dinner and presentation ceremony, during which plays for the new season are announced and new officers installed.

Last summer, for the first time, Loris directed a children's group, the Children's Summer Theater of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. She discovered that children are much shyer than adults—"They think they are 'silly'; they're afraid everyone will laugh at them. Adults figure they are just playing a part."

And she had to keep on her toes with the youngsters: "You really must be ahead of them. They have to be stimulated . . . and you must remember to explain things to them in words they understand, to show them. You can say to adults, 'You know what I mean,' and they DO know. Children don't."

The Hadden boys couldn't care less about dramatics, but Ann has begun to be interested in the theater. She's helped build sets for the GPCT, and is ushering at "Inherit The Wind" performances.

Found Signature Ann's greatest claim to fame right now is her discovery that the picture of her great-great-grandfather David Hadden, a large canvas dominating the family living room, is signed.

The Meadow Lane Haddens inherited the portrait because Mr. Hadden is the namesake of this rather stern-looking ancestor, a Scot who arrived in New

CHICKEN SOUR CREAM ASPIC

Contributed by Mrs. Victor Wehmeir

3½ cups cooked diced chicken
 1 cup chopped celery
 ½ cup chopped roasted almonds
 1 tsp. onion juice
 ½ cup sour cream
 3 tbsp. lemon juice
 1 tsp. dry mustard
 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
 ½ cup cold water
 2 cups hot chicken stock (½ tsp. curry, optional)

Soak gelatine in cold water. Add onion juice and lemon juice and mustard to hot chicken stock—add gelatine mixture to hot stock and stir until dissolved. Let cool for a while and mix sour cream in well. Let cool again (in refrigerator) until it starts to thicken, then add chicken, celery and nuts. May be made in individual moulds or one large one. Refrigerate until aspic is firm. Serves about eight.

York in 1820, sired numerous progeny, and had his picture painted against a Hudson river background complete with a steamer floating a disproportionately large American flag—great-great-grandfather David wanted no one to think that HE had Tory sympathies!

Loris' husband is the first David Hadden to live past infancy since the original American David Hadden, (the present David Hadden, Sr.'s grand-mother was reduced to tears when she discovered he'd been named "David"—fortunately, he broke the death-in-infancy tradition).

The family all thought the portrait was unsigned . . . until Ann noticed a faintly traced signature on the left side of the picture. No one has been able to make out just whose signature it is yet, but Loris Hadden keeps hoping some sharp-eyed visitor will solve the riddle.

In the meantime—Loris loves a mystery.
