OUTNUMBERED ten to one, and sustaining heavy casualties, about 150 men of the First Air Cavalry Company fought their way out against a force of North Vietnamese regulars from a tiny landing area at the base of the Chu Pong mountain area Thursday. The American's were aided by Air Force fighter-bombers and aerial artillery from rocket helicopters which kept up an almost steady stream of suppressive fire, while transport planes dropped a continuous flow of parachute flares to keep the area, which is about 210 miles north-northeast of Saigon, illuminated Wednesday night. Although five helicopters were reported shot down, a colonel said later that "everybody who was still alive" was taken out.

DAMAGES amounting to $2.2 million have been filed by the families of 11 victims of the Garden City tuberculosis epidemic against Ziegler Osteopathic Hospital, as owner of Botsford General Hospital, the operator of the Hansel and Gretel Nursery, Dr. John E. Paver, D.O., and Dr. Lee Sheiner, D.O. The hospital is alleged to have allowed the teacher who infected the children to leave after an x-ray taken by Dr. Sheiner indicated she had active TB; the nursery-school owner is alleged to have allowed the teacher to work, although she felt ill, and although she was known to have had TB; and Dr. Paver is alleged to have disregarded evidence to the contrary when he certified she was able to work. The suits ask for $15,000 for each child and $50,000 for each family. Suits filed for two other victims, totaling $325,000 are pending.

STATE HIGHWAY DIRECTOR Howard E. Hill said Wednesday that Telegraph road (US-24) will get $4.7 million for safety features which will include the widening of the road from four to eight lanes with a 60-foot median and turning lanes at its three most dangerous intersections—Maple, where 66 accidents occurred in 1965; Long Lake, with 41; and 12 Mile, with 27. The amount of $500,000 will be spent on improving the Detroit-Toledo freeway, where nine persons have already died this year, eight of them in March. Pavement edges striped with luminous paint, asphalt shoulders, ditches in the medians, and screening of headlights at curves are the improvements planned.

Friday, April 1
THE SMASHING VICTORY of the Labor Party, which gave them at least 303 seats in the House of Parliament, or a majority of 147, ended a stalemate that has plagued British politics for years. The main issue of the campaign was the state of the nation's economy and how to keep the pound sterling from devaluation. Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government is expected to proceed with left-wing policies, possibly the renationalization of the steel industry, and to maintain a continued, close association with the United States.

FOUR PACIFISTS, two from East Lansing, one from Texas and one from New York, who have been held in jail without bond since their conviction on a trespassing charge by Ingham County Circuit Court Judge Marvin Salmon, were released on $100 bond each pending the appeal of their conviction. Their release was apparently triggered by the publicity given the hunger strike conducted on the sidewalk in front of the home of Michigan State University President John A. Hannah, who is chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission. The camp-in started at midnight Tuesday and ended about 8:00 p.m. Thursday with Louise Holmes, daughter of the state selective service director, Col. Arthur Holmes, and Jane Munn, daughter of M.S.U. athletic director Clarence (Biggie) Munn, as two of the original 10 demonstrators.

School Board, Teachers Ratify Master Agreement

A three-year master agreement between the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and the Grosse Pointe Education Association was ratified by both parties early this week. Board president Edward J. Pongraz and GPEA president William Sosnowsky represented the Board of Education and the teachers' association as the school trustees officially adopted the agreement at the Tuesday, April 5 meeting of the Board of Education. One of the first collective bargaining agreements developed by educators in Michigan, negotiations have been under way since November, 1965 when the GPEA won the right to represent Grosse Pointe teachers. Both the Board and the Association expressed great satisfaction with the agreement reached.

The salaries negotiated set the minimum salary for beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree at $5700 for 1966-67. The present salary schedule calls for $5300 at this point. Teachers with the M.A. degree and 14 years experience can qualify for a salary of $10,850, up from the present $10,070. Other benefits include the recognition of intermediate levels of training between the bachelor scale and the master's schedule as well as between the master's and doctor's degree. Eight intermediate levels in all have been established. The Board also agreed to help support a long-term disability insurance program to complete

Patient Surveillance and Hard Work Over Many Weeks Is Climaxed By Arrests of Two Burglars In Act of Robbing Woods Home

Weeks of patient surveillance and picture taking by Woods and Harper Woods police officers, and policemen from other communities, including Royal Oak Township, was climaxed in a dramatic capture of two burglars on Saturday, April 2. Pointe officials called the work involved, "one of the greatest examples of inter-departmental cooperation between law enforcement agencies." The arrest of the burglars, both Negroes, cleared a number of prisoners in the Woods, Harper Woods, Southfield and surrounding communities. Both of the accused men are known dope addicts, and at the time of their arrest, were suffering from a withdrawal, that is, not having their regular injections. They were taken to Detroit General Hospital (Receiving), where they were held as police prisoners and treated. The two spent about $50 a day each, for heroin, Woods Det. Sgt. Jack Mast said. Under arrest on warrants obtained by Woods police, charging breaking and entering an occupied dwelling, are Bernard Vinson, 34, of 1242 Owen; and Robert C. Coates, 32, of 1214 Owen, both of Detroit.

Relief Sewers Now Operating

The following newly-constructed relief sanitary sewers have been inspected and approved by Bruce O. Wanger, City of Grosse Pointe Project Engineer, and are now in operation: Charlevoix — Neff to Lakeland. Lakeland—Charlevoix to St. Paul. Charlevoix — Easement west of Rivard to easement east of Lincoln. Waterloo—Neff to easement east of Lakeland. Kercheval—Neff to easement of Lincoln. St. Paul—Neff to easement east of Lincoln.

Arraigned in Woods

Both were arraigned before Woods Municipal Judge Don Goodrow on Monday, April 4, and both stood mute and demanded an examination. They were remanded to the Wayne County Jail in default of $2,000 bond each, and examination was set for yesterday, April 6.

Two Shores officers, Patrolmen James Jurcak and Douglas Kalish will be recommended for citations for their part in the apprehension of Vinson in the home of the Edward J. Glowes, 576 Anita, according to Shores Village President John Huetteman, who is also police commissioner. He said recommendations for the citations will be presented to the Village Trustees at their next regular meeting.

"These two officers," said Huetteman, "showed exceptional judgment and bravery in the apprehension of a burglar in the home in Grosse Pointe Woods. Their part in the arrest of this man, Bernard Vinson, as far as the Shores is concerned, is in the best tradition of law enforcement, and we are extremely proud that Officers Jurcak and Kalish are members of our Public Safety Department. Approval Assured"

"I have no doubt that the village Trustees will approve the citations, which is also recommended by Chief Thomas Cochill. On behalf of the Village Trustees and the citizens of our community, I want to say that we are proud of all of our policemen and the work they are doing to keep our community safe and free of crime. They are doing a great job."

Vinson and Coates were tripped up when, at 7:55 p.m. Saturday, Vinson went to the home of Leo Huetter, 65 Hawthorne, where he asked if a

Will Appear in Fries Auditorium to Close Out 1965-66 Forum Series on Foreign Policy

Mme. Chiang Kai Shek will appear Tuesday evening, April 19, at 8:15 at Grosse Pointe War Memorial's William Fries Auditorium. She will be the final speaker of the 1965-1966 Fries Forum on Foreign Policy which this year was co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and the School of Government of Detroit.

Mrs. Wilbur M. Brucker's invitation is responsible for Mme. Chiang Kai Shek's appearance at Grosse Pointe War Memorial. While in Detroit she will also address the Economic Club.

While Mme. Chiang Kai Shek's lecture has been sold out for some time, arrangements have been made for a few additional seats where patrons may listen to the lecture over the public address system. These few tickets are $1.50 and must be picked up at the Center's office in advance.

Police Question Visiting Quartet

Four males, one 21 years of age, two minors and one a juvenile, were picked up by an alert City patrolman in the Village shopping area early Sunday morning.

Patrolman Thomas Nankervis observed two of the youths, aged 17 and 18, crossing Kercheval avenue at 2:30 a.m. about 100 feet west of Notre Dame. When questioned, the youths could give no reason for being there.

Investigating further, Patrolman Nankervis found two others of the foursome hiding in a 1935 Buick. No one would claim ownership of the automobile.

Taken to the City station by Cpl. Duncan MacEachern and Patrolman Richard Lanski, it was determined through the Detroit Police department that at least two of the youths had records involving them in burglaries. However, no charges could be made against them in connection with their visit to the City of Grosse Pointe.

Officers reported that the four walked over to Warren and caught a Detroit-bound bus. The car was later picked up by the owner, who claimed to be the grandfather of one of the youths.

Chicago Brothers Visit Four Homes, Spreading Terror

Police of All Pointes Cooperate to Arrest Pair Following Prowler Calls; One Woman Threatened With Shooting

Joseph, alias Floyd, Johnson, 43, and his brother, Thurman, 36, both of 1322 North Sedgwick, Chicago, Ill., were arrested by Farms police and arraigned before Municipal Judge William Connolly on Wednesday, March 30, on separate felony counts. Both entered pleas of not guilty and waived examination.

Joseph is accused of breaking and entering in the nighttime, while armed, and carrying a concealed weapon; Thurman is accused of carrying a concealed weapon.

Judge Connolly set the elder Johnson's bond at $50,000 on the two counts, and his brother's bond was set at $25,000. The brothers were remanded to the Wayne County Jail to await a trial date in Circuit Court.

Officers from the Farms, Woods and Shores, participated in the search for the Johnsons, and police of the other departments were alerted to be on the lookout for the pair when their description was sent over the police radio.

Citizens Praised
Farms Police Chief James Furtan had high praise for the citizens whose homes were invaded, and whose families were terrorized by the brothers. Woods and Shores police were commended for their assistance, during the search and at the time the arrests were made.

The first alert was sounded at 11 p.m. on Tuesday, March 29, by Sidney L. Terry of 58 Moross road, who called police when he discovered that Floyd had entered his house through an unlocked door, claiming he was looking for someone at "No. 13". Terry told Patrolmen Earl Field and James Morgan, that he heard the family dog barking and he looked up to see a dark figure standing in the darkened foyer. The home owner said he went from the living room to the foyer, turned on the lights, and asked the unknown person what he wanted.

The man gave the name of someone unknown to Terry, who was supposed to live at 13 Moross. When informed no one by that name lived in the house, the man turned and walked out.

Notifies Police
Terry told the officers that all he could see was the top of a car, and heard a voice say, "They don't live here." Terry called police. He gave Field and Morgan a description of the intruder and the policemen sent it over the police radio.

At 11:16 p.m., Farms Patrolmen Robert Conn and Francois Belanger, received a prowler run to the home of the James Jaffs, 380 Hillcrest, where Mrs. Jaff told the policemen that she had heard a noise in the back bedroom on the first floor. When she went to investigate, she did not see anyone, she said.

Mrs. Jaff said that she heard a noise on the back porch, and a coffee table that was against the back door was toppled over. The intruder apparently entered through the front door, evidenced by wet footprints through the house, Conn and Belanger said.

The doors of the house were not locked, and the lights were out, excepting that from a tele-

Bids on New High School Staggering

Would Cost $3 Million More Than Authorized by Voters on March 22, 1965

Monday evening's meeting of the Grosse Pointe PTA Council, held at the Central Library, provided the first opportunity for a public discussion of the bids received by the Board of Education on March 30 for the construction of Grosse Pointe High School North.

Spiraling costs of labor and materials in the construction industry throughout the nation, and especially in the Detroit metropolitan area, have posed serious economic problems for the trustees of the Board of Education, Edward J. Pongraz, president, said.

He indicated that the bids for the proposed Grosse Pointe High School North amounted to approximately $3 million more than was authorized by the election of March 22, 1965. He stated that although the matter is under continuing study by the Board and the administration, it appears highly likely that the property-owning taxpayers in the school district will be asked to approve the sale of bonds for the additional funds in conjunction with the Wayne County Community College election on May 9.

He emphasized the importance of a successful outcome of such an election to the entire school district.

"The construction of a single building will relieve the tremendous pressure currently being felt at all levels of instruction throughout the school district," he said. "As soon as possible, the system will reorganize on a modified 5-3-4 plan instead of the existing 6-3-3. When the new high school opens, both senior high schools will contain four-year programs, and the sixth grades from the most crowded elementary buildings will be moved to the junior high schools."

In recent months, when it became apparent that the construction industry was experiencing an unprecedented price rise, the school trustees requested that 14 features of the building, originally planned as integral parts, be put into the bidding documents.

This included the use of asbestos tile instead of terrazzo floors and the substitution of a wooden floor to replace the spring-type wooden floor in the gymnasium.

Other Changes Studied
The alteration of certain instructional areas was also considered, as were changes in the communications and ventilation system.

Dr. Frank H. Parcels, vice-president of the Board, said, "Bidding a redesigned building at a later date would not result in savings. All economic indications point to a continued price rise. The members of the Board of Education are convinced that an election is the only possible course of action to be taken."

"In a rising market, any efforts at redesign would simply

Incumbents Win In Woods Voting

Kenneth R. McLeod ran unopposed for mayor in the Grosse Pointe Woods elections held Monday, April 4.

Incumbents William F. Huetteman, with 2,067 votes, and Marvin Boutin, with 1,385 votes, were returned to the City Council. Donald Cook, 1,410 votes, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the change of address of the Council's only woman member, Mrs. Joanne Hendricks, from the Woods to the Farms.

Losers in the election to the Council were Lathrop P. Morse (1,179) and Frank Condino (519). Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow was re-elected with 1,499 votes to opponent Frederick Maddock's 1,089.

The charter amendment to increase city employee pensions passed 1,543 to 709.

The light vote prediction of City Clerk Leona D. Liddle was accurate. Out of 11,757 qualified voters in the Woods, only 2,647 went to the polls.

Detroit Admits Robbery Is Hoax; Given Jail Term

Samuel Sanders, 22, of 3740 Monroe, Detroit, almost, but not quite, convinced Woods police that he had been physically beaten and robbed on Wednesday, March 23, after making a delivery of fish to the Woods Kitchen, 19261 Mack avenue. He had been beaten, police said, but at a dice game.

With his bleeding mouth and feigned unconsciousness, investigating officers were inclined to believe his story that he had been robbed of $400 belonging to his employer, and his delivery truck stolen.

Det. Sgt. Jack Mast said that after intensive questioning, by himself and Det. Steven Petrick, discrepancies appeared in Sanders' relation of what had happened. Sanders was found on the floor of a rear room of the Woods Kitchen, by police officers, and bleeding at the mouth. Sanders claimed he had gone to the restaurant, seeking aid.

He said he had made a delivery of fish to the restaurant, and was leaving, when he was stopped by a man who asked him for a match. When he reached for one, Sanders said, the man pulled out a gun and ordered him to "Come with me."

Sanders claimed that a short distance away they were met by a second man, who struck him in the face and knocked him to the ground and began kicking him. He said he must have lost consciousness because he did not remember what had happened. He said he discovered his employer's $400 and de-maid named "Ruby," worked in the Huetter residence. By sheer coincidence, there was a maid named Ruby working for the Huetters, but she told her employer that she did not know Vinson. Huetter, becoming suspicious, called police.

This method of approach has been pulled by Vinson many times in other cities, including the Woods, where Det. Sgt. Jack Mast, who had worked many hours tracking the man down, finally obtained a police "mug shot" of Vinson.

Had Received Bulletin
Shores Sgt. Charles Wenrich and Jurcak, in a scout car, were dispatched to the Huetter residence by Desk Officer Richard Polen. Wenrich and Jurcak, when given a description of the man and his car, realized that this fitted the description of a bulletin sent to all departments by Mast.

Wenrich requested that Polen rebroadcast the description to area scout cars and stations, and told the desk officer to call all available off-duty officers for unmarked scout car duty.

Woods Police Lt. Henry Marchand, who was at the Woods station when the broadcast came over the air, dispatched the Vinson mug shot to the Shores home, and Huetter identified Vinson as the man who came to the door and asked for "Ruby."
The two Shores officers began scouring the area, and while patrolling east on Anita, spotted the wanted car in front of the Glowe home. The car appeared to be unoccupied, and the Shores officers sent out a request for all available units, to seal off the area.

Many Cars Sent
Cars were dispatched from the Woods, Farms, Shores and Harper Woods, and the entire block was sealed tight. Jurcak stayed at the scene, several houses away, while Wenrich drove the scout car to the furthest corner, to direct radio operations.
Jurcak said that as he was watching the vehicle, he saw a man, Vinson, walking from the driveway of the Glowe property to the car, and saw another man, Coates, sit up in the vehicle. Coates had been laying across the front seat, the officer said.

At this time, Coates started up the car, and backed into the driveway alongside the Glowe residence.
About this time, Jurcak saw Kalish in an unmarked police car, and stopped him, and requested him to radio the Shores station on the progress of the operation.

Jurcak and Kalish approached the Glowe home on foot, and observed Vinson and Coates coming out of the house, carrying a console television from the residence.
Jurcak said that on spotting the pair, he shouted "Halt! Police Officers!" and Kalish flashed a light on the two men, both of whom dropped the television set and dashed back into the house.

Shoots Blast in Air
Jurcak fired a blast from his shotgun into the air, and ran to the rear of the house, in time to see Coates jumping the rear fence of the property. The officer said he aimed at the fleeing figure and pulled the trigger, but the gun jammed.

Knowing another man was still in the house, Jurcak entered through the rear door, to find Vinson in the custody of Kalish and Marchand.

Kalish, while Jurcak was running to the rear of the building, accompanied by Marchand, tried the front of the house and found it locked.

Kalish, a karate and judo expert, kicked in the door and somersaulted into the front room, and saw a figure running to a couch in the room. Kalish, with Marchand directly behind him, trained his flashlight on the figure, laying on the couch. The officers, trained their guns on the man and ordered him to his feet.

The man, Vinson, was searched and taken into custody by the Woods lieutenant, and taken to the station.
The policemen said that when they burst into the room, Vinson screamed, "Please don't shoot me, I'm unarmed! I'm unarmed!"

Hiding in Bushes
Because the block was sealed off, Coates could not get very far. A search was begun, and Coates was found hiding in bushes at the rear of 87 Hawthorne, and arrested, by Woods Patrolmen Lee Cochill and Peter Thomas.

At the station, Vinson and Coates were fingerprinted and booked for breaking and entering in the nighttime.
Sgt. Jack Mast said that Vinson and Coates had been sought for investigation of burglary by a number of police agencies since February.

The sergeant was instrumental in establishing the identity of Vinson when Vinson, unknown at the time, was responsible for the burglary of 834 Anita on February 18. A neighbor spotted the car, and part of the license plate number, and alerted police. She said the burglar was a Negro.

The neighbor, name not given, told police that the car was a 1961, 1962, or 1963 Buick, and that she was able to obtain only the first letters and digits of the license plate number, BR 72.

Makes Thorough Check
Mast said he checked with the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing and requested all Buicks with license number in the BR series. He spent an hour and a half on the phone to obtain information, it was disclosed.

The sergeant said that the SOS revealed that there were only 12 Buicks with the BR registration, of which seven belonged to Negroes. Of this number, four of the car owners had police records.

Out of the four, Mast patiently waited and took pictures of their cars while the vehicles were parked at the homes of the suspects. And of the four cars, two had taillights answering the description of the car described as being at the scene of the February 18 burglary.

Of the two cars checked, Mast said, it was found that Vinson was the only one to have a burglary record.

Worked for Dodge
Mast said that he obtained information that Vinson was working at Dodge Main, in Hamtramck, and from that time, Vinson was kept under constant surveillance.

The detective said he obtained a "mug shot" of Vinson from Detroit police, and compiled a bulletin, giving a complete description of Vinson's car, with the mug shot, and sent one to all law enforcement agencies in the area.

The Woods and Harper Woods Detective Bureaus had as many as 10 men in unmarked police cars carrying a 24-hour watch on Vinson's activities. Many weeks and hundreds of sleepless manhours were spent in stakeouts, Mast said. Det. Lt. Willard Weiss commanded the Harper Woods contingent.

Vinson was hard to follow, the sergeant said, and sometime the officers would lose him, but after a patient search, would relocate the suspect, and the vigilance would begin all over again.

Met Resentment
Mast said that most of the surveillance was conducted in Negro neighborhoods, and residents of these neighborhoods expressed resentment at the officers' presence in their midst.

This was surmounted, the sergeant said, by the help of two Negro detectives from the Royal Oak Township Police Department, whose valuable help in carrying on the surveillance, undetected, was a big aid in capturing Vinson and Coates, Mast said.

Mast said that the Royal Oak Township detectives disclosed on Saturday, April 2, that they had uncovered information that Vinson and Coates were on the prowl. Mast alerted all the departments in the area.

He said that without the cooperation of the many police agencies in the area, including Harper Woods and Southfield, the arrest of the suspects could not have taken place.

Clear Many Burglaries
Mast said that the pair cleared several burglaries in the Woods, as well as a number in Southfield, Harper Woods, Shores, and other surrounding communities.

Woods Director of Public Safety Allen Andrews lauded Mast and the other officers of his department who participated in the work that led to the arrest of Vinson and Coates. He also had high praise for the police officers of the Pointes and other communities, who aided in carrying on the surveillance and other work involved.

"This is one of the tremendous advantages resulting from the cooperation between police agencies," Andrews said. "We had an excellent example of what can be accomplished by law enforcement officers working together. I am very proud of my men, and the vital part they played in this investigation and capture."

It was revealed by Mast, that Coates had at one time been sentenced to death at San Quentin, Calif., for murder, but the charge was reduced to manslaughter, and the sentence commuted. He was granted a pardon by the governor of the state.

Paulites and Instructor Plan to Study in Europe

By Sister Marie Jude, O.P.
The French department at St. Paul High has only one topic of conversation these days... summer study in France. Already 12 members of the French classes have applied for passports, selected passport pictures, and planned the itinerary for a European trip that will take them to France, England, and Belgium plus a month's study at the University of Rouen.

The European trip, sponsored by the American Education International of Washington, D.C., has already attracted a deluge of phone calls and letters from interested organizations as far ranging as the Dutch Airlines and the English Restoration Theater.

Twelve St. Paul students plan to take the jaunt. They include Christine Kraimer, Bill Hyde, Kathleen Hurley, Charles Robert, Larry Reha, Nick Robert, Sue Cormier, Julie Phillip, Fred Schmerheim, Mary Ann Igna, Mary Wakely, and Janet Klump. Two other area students, Judy Barrett and Patricia Hudson, will round out the number to 14.

Guiding force behind the European trip is Sister Helen Anthony, O.P., moderator of the French department at St. Paul's. Sister will accompany the students and provide linguistic assistance should the French idioms prove too baffling.

High point of the preparations came on Wednesday, April 6, at 9:30 a.m. in St. Paul's gymnasium when Mr. Jean LeDreac, the French consul resident of Detroit, addressed the convocation of the Societe Honoraire de Francais. After the ceremony, the consul spoke to the French travelers and gave them a few pointers on travel in Europe.

The French Honors Assembly gave St. Paul's French students an opportunity to display their facility in French. For this occasion they sketched out an imaginary encounter on the sidewalks of Paris, presented a few current French songs dubbed in a French conversation by two students viewing the Eiffel Tower for the first time. The closing ceremony was the passing of the torch by the newly elected members while repeating in French: "A man who knows two languages is worth two men."

Cinema League Meets April 14

The Grosse Pointe public is invited to the next meeting of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League which will be held April 14, in the Library of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. This will be the second members' night this year.

Among those showing films will be Paul Kolvoord, whose film of the GROSSE POINTE ROSE SOCIETY SHOW will be of special interest to gardeners and rose enthusiasts. Another special feature will be Moses Joseph's film "24 HOUR CHALLENGE." This unusual film shows the auto races at Indianapolis. Other films shown will be of particular interest to photographers.

The world does owe you a living, but by the time you collect you'll be an old man. Those engaged in a heated argument pay very little attention to danger signals.

Brothers Spread Terror

vision set in the master bedroom, where Mrs. Jaff was listening to TV.
Third Prowler Call
At 11:35 p.m., Conn and Belanger received a prowler run to the home of Stanley Dolega, 366 Moross road. Mrs. Dolega told the officers that she was in the bedroom on the first floor, when she heard someone trying to open the front door. She went to investigate and turned on the outside flood lights.

Mrs. Dolega said she saw a man in a three-quarter length coat and dark hat walking around the southwest corner of her house. All the doors were locked and there were no lights in the house, except that of the television set.

At 12:10 a.m., at the home of J. H. Munchausen, 323 Moross road, Mrs. Munchausen was relaxed on theavenport in the living room, watching television. No house lights were on, she told Morgan and Field. She said she heard a noise, and thinking it was her husband coming home, she got up. She saw a figure standing in the living room, and walked toward it.

Puts Gun to Temple
The figure suddenly stepped forward and clamped a hand over Mrs. Munchausen's mouth, and pressed a gun to her head and said, "Keep your mouth shut and I won't hurt you." The woman sought to let out a scream, and the intruder pressed the gun to her temple and said, "Shut up, or I still might do it."

Mrs. Munchausen bit down hard on the hand on over her mouth, and when the intruder jerked away the hand, Mrs. Munchausen let out a lusty scream that woke up her four small children. On hearing running feet on the stairway, the burglar fled through the kitchen and through a side door.

A call to the Farms Police Department, and the resulting radio alert brought every departmental car in the area cruising the streets, looking for the man, whose description was known to the scout car crews.

Spot Illinois Car
At 12:15 a.m., Field, Morgan, Conn and Belanger, almost simultaneously spotted a 1963 Chevrolet with Illinois license plates, at Hillcrest and Williams, heading north on Hillcrest. There were two occupants in the vehicle.

The car had a broken windshield, that seemed to be obstructing the driver's view. The officers said. The car also had a broken right tail light, they said.

The car proceeded north on Hillcrest to Chalfonte, made a right turn onto Chalfonte without signaling and was stopped at Moross road.

The officers surrounded the vehicle, when they observed that its occupants fitted the description of the men they were searching for, and placed the pair under arrest. The two identified themselves as Floyd and Thurman Johnson.

Find Loaded Revolver
Woods Patrolman Peter Thomas, who arrived at the scene, searched the Johnsons' car, and found a loaded Smith and Wesson .38 caliber revolver under the front seat.

A further search by Shores Patrolman Gordon Schwartz produced a short mink jacket from the trunk of the car, bearing the name, "Helen W." with the label of a Detroit fur store. Thomas and his partner, Patrolman Adrian Meerhaeghe, assisted the Farms officers in transporting the suspects to the Farms station.

Joseph alias Floyd Johnson, was identified in a Police Line-up at Detroit's Police Headquarters, St. Antoine and Beaubien, by Terry and Mrs. Munchausen, as the man who was in their homes.

Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Det. Joseph Miller said that the Johnson brothers have long criminal records. They are Negroes.

Stolen Stole Identified
The mink stole was later identified as the property of Mrs. Helen Williams of 61 Fairford, into whose home the Johnson brothers first entered. No one was at home at the time, according to Shores Chief Thomas Cochill.

The search for the Chicago pair actually started in the Shores, when Mrs. Philip Kearns of 55 Fairford called police and disclosed that someone had tried to enter her house. She said she saw the rear door of her home opening slowly and she slammed it shut, which apparently scared away the intruder.

Patrolmen James Jurcak and Ronald Klotz were initially dispatched to investigate Mrs. Kearns' complaint. It was then discovered that the Williams home had been entered. The lock of the rear door had been forced. A relative identified the fur piece as belonging to Mrs. Williams.

Assigned to Search
Jurcak and Klotz, a short time later, were assigned to assist Farms and Woods police in the search for the brothers. The officers were at Hillcrest and Williams when Mrs. Edward Zerbe of 335 Hillcrest, told Klotz, who was searching on foot, that someone had left the rear of her house, after trying the back door. She said she saw a man walking toward a white car parked on Mack.

Klotz saw the car speeding past on Moross and called to Jurcak, and the officers took up pursuit; they arrived at the scene where the brothers had been brought to a stop by other police officers.

Sgt. Charles Wenrich, at the desk, called up off duty policemen, and sent them to aid in the search of the Johnson brothers. Ordered to converge in the search were these Shores policemen: Patrolmen Gordon Swartz, Donald Fronczak and Douglas Kalish, on the regular midnight shift; Sgts. Donald Jacob and Joseph Vitale, Dets. Frank Mustazza and William Marshall, and Patrolman Daniel Healy, all of whom were off duty.

Jacob, Vitale and Jurcak, accompanied by Detroit Det. Sgt. John Yakush of the Robbery-Burglary Bureau Squad, went to the Johnson brothers room at the Tuller Hotel, armed with a search warrant, but were unable to find anything.

Admits Robbery Is Hoax

The truck was found about 10 minutes later by Shores Patrolmen Thomas Zoia and Stanley Otulakowski, at Baldok Park, Mack and Warren, in Detroit.

At the Woods station, Sanders was questioned by Petrik, and gave a convincing repeat of his story, but as the questioning progressed, the detective noted discrepancies in Sander's tale.

Petrik called Mast at his home, and the sergeant arrived at the station to further question Sanders. Both officers realized that Sanders must be lying, and suggested that he take a lie detector test. Sanders agreed.

On Thursday, March 31, Petrik took Sanders to the Detroit State Police Post, where Sanders was given three tests, all of which he failed miserably, the detective said.

Sanders was returned to the Woods station, where Mast informed him of his constitutional rights, and of his right to use the phone to call his lawyer. Sanders declined the use of the phone and agreed to talk.

Sanders confessed that his report of the robbery was a hoax, and that he had lost his employers money in a crap game with several acquaintances he met along his delivery route. He said he invented the robbery story to cover up the loss of the money.

He told Mast and Petrik he received the bloody mouth, when one of the dice players struck him, when he suddenly realized that he had lost the money, and tried to grab it from the pile.

When he realized how hopeless the situation was, he hit on the idea of the robbery, Sanders said. He drove the truck to Baldok Park, abandoned it, and ran to the Woods Kitchen, where he fell to the floor and feigned unconsciousness.

Mast obtained a warrant against Sanders, approved by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Dale Devlin, charging Sanders with falsifying a felony report to police.

Thursday evening, Sanders was arraigned before Woods Municipal Judge Don Goodrow and pled guilty as charged. He was sentenced to five days in the County Jail, and placed on probation to the Wayne County Probation Department for six months. Mast said that Sanders, under questioning, told him that he had no criminal record. A check with Detroit police files showed that Sanders has a record of eight convictions, and is presently awaiting trial on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Two Residences Entered in City

Reports of two homes being entered were received by City police over the week-end.

Every room from basement to attic was searched in the George P. Craighthead residence, 740 Lincoln road, as evidenced by drawers left pulled out, but nothing could be ascertained to have been taken. Entry was gained sometime between the hours of 2 and 8 p.m. on Saturday, April 2, apparently through an unlocked door.

Early the next morning, Sunday, April 3, Robert Brown, 763 Rivard, reported that between 5:15 Saturday afternoon and approximately 1:30 Sunday morning his house had been entered after the locked rear door had been pried open, and two upstairs bedrooms had been ransacked.

Reported missing are a Brownie camera, a yellow and white gold wedding band, a costume jewelry ring, and an antique gold and garnet necklace and earring set valued at $310. Police are still investigating the incidents.

Donald C. Hassigan On Active Navy Duty

Aviation Machinist's Mate Second Class Donald C. Hassigan, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Hassigan of 19792 Ida lane, has been serving his annual two weeks of active duty for training with the Naval Air Reserve at the Naval Air Station, Alameda, Calif.

He and other "Weekend Warriors" from Transport Squadron 731, who drill monthly at the Naval Air Station, Grosse Ile, Mich., left there February 16 in three C-54 "Skymaster" aircraft. While in California, they trained with Pacific Fleet based pilots and crewmen in the latest techniques of "over-water" flying. Part of their training included flying cargo and passengers to the Far East in support of U.S. operations in Vietnam.

Their mission was to provide airlift assistance to the Navy's regular fleet tactical support squadrons.

Burglars Shift Robbery Goal

Burglars who attempted to go through a wall of a Woods Chinese restaurant on Monday, March 28, to loot a next door jewelry shop, took time out to steal $136 dollars from the restaurant, Wan Kow, 20922 Mack avenue. The thieves failed to enter the jewelry store, police said.

The burglary of the restaurant was discovered by the owner, Young Yee, 48, of 20456 Lennon, Harper Woods, who told investigating officers that he found the front door of the place open, and a key on the inside lock of the door, when he opened for business at 10:45 a.m.

Police said that entry into the restaurant was made through a roof air vent, which is large enough for a man to pass through. The vent is over the cook stove in the kitchen. The cover was removed by snapping the hasp and taking off the lock.

Yee said that the thieves took $36 in currency from a counter cash register, and $100 in rolled silver from a cash box in the rear room of the building.

Police said that the apparent goal of the burglars was the Lochmoor Jewelry Shop, which shares the same building as Yee's place, and is separated by a cinder block and plaster wall.

What caused the burglars to cease their labors in trying to enter the jewelry store, is not known, police said.

Life goes better for people who take things as they come.

How much hot water did you use today?

Now you can see why it pays you to have a Gas water heater.

The average family of four uses up to 100 gallons of hot water daily. And it costs far less to heat it with gas. You only need a heater half as big, because gas heats water faster, replaces the hot water you use quicker. How come? The heat is a direct flame. An electric unit takes longer. The heat must go through a coil.

And remember—when you already have gas in your home, a gas water heater costs less to install than an electric one. See the newest, money-saving gas water heaters at dealer, plumber or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

GROSSE POINTE WAR MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN IS UNDER WAY

We wish we had room to list the many, many activities and benefits proceeding from the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. We know you are aware of most of them and probably take part in a few yourself. That's why we are counting on a simple REMINDER of the once-a-year Family Participation Campaign to do the work of a long plea for the 1/4 of the Center's running expenses you are being asked to contribute. (The remaining 3/4 of the expenses are self-generating.)

We are counting again this year on the spontaneous generosity of the Grosse Pointe community for support of their own recreational, cultural, social and educational fountainhead. Give all you can; and remember — your contributions help the Center to serve YOU!

Four Years and 1,053,168 Customers Later
 THE ORIGINAL PANCAKE HOUSE opened its doors to the public on Monday April 2, 1962. Now, four years and 1,053,168 customers later, this well known restaurant can fairly be said to have become a Grosse Pointe institution. When interviewed on the fourth anniversary, John Tom, manager, asked, first of all, he be given the opportunity to thank all the residents of the area for the wonderful support given this venture from the day of its inception. Mr. Tom also stated that the Original Pancake House was renewing its pledge to the public to serve only the finest of foods at reasonable prices.

William McBride Has Second Book
 William McBride, formerly of Harvard road, has recently published his second book of photographs.

"Adenauer, ein Portrait" contains many interesting portraits of the former chancellor of West Germany with a text in German. Graf Finck Von Kinkenstein collaborated on the book with "Will."
 "For Marion Lampman—Thanks for the training in seeing" is inscribed on the last page in tribute to his former art teacher at GPHS. The murals that this talented graduate of 1946 painted under Miss Lampman's guidance can still be seen on the wall of the art room.
 His first book was a photographic commentary on life in West Berlin done while he was attending the American University there.

Police Break Up Hospital Fight
 An argument and fist fight in the Emergency Room at Bon Secours Hospital on Tuesday evening, March 29, prompted hospital authorities to request assistance from City Police.

Patrolmen John Erskine, Richard Lanski, and Edmond Benthuy arrested Joseph A. Parisi, 14727 Mack Avenue, Detroit, who had brought his three-year-old stepson into the hospital with injuries and then become involved in an argument and fight with his father-in-law, Raymond Middlestead, 553 Dickerson, Detroit, according to police.
 Parisi was locked up at the City station until bond of $110 was furnished. Disposition of the case was handed over to Detroit authorities.

Personality Pup Finds Self Home
 St. Patrick's Day evening, a Beagle puppy, apparently lonely, tried to gain admittance to the Grosse Pointe Valet Cleaners at Mack avenue near Washington, where owner, Paul Russo, was working late.
 Because the friendly dog resembled one owned by Sgt. Severn Bliss of the City Fire Department, Russo took him to Bliss' home on St. Clair avenue when he closed the building.
 The sergeant took him to the station with him the next day. "His first meal was goulash"—that's how the men traced back to the day he arrived. "We bought him some dog food, but all he would eat was table scraps."
 The puppy's endorsement of the care and attention at the fire station lasted five days, where he spent much of the time dozing on a folded blanket in a chair behind the engine. Not even the sound of the fire bell seemed to disturb him, although its racket and the commotion it produces has been reported to panic the occasional visitor who accidentally sets it off.
 Police and fireman hoped the owner would claim the dog, until Monday, March 21, when he settled matters himself by accompanying some young friends to nearby Maire School.
 Telephone inquiries between the school and station establishing his availability, the puppy went home that evening with a teacher, Ray Mestdagh, of Grosse Pointe Woods, and to all reports is living happily ever after.

Rapalee Takes Part In Gemini Project
 Radarman Second Class Raymond N. Rapalee, USN, son of Mrs. Ernest W. Rapalee of 534 Neff Lane, participated in the Project Gemini GFA-8 flight of astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott while serving aboard the destroyer USS George McKenzie, an alternate recovery ship of Task Force 130 in the Western Pacific.
 Special equipment was installed on the vessel to facilitate handling of the spacecraft during recovery if the capsule had landed in the destroyer's area of the Pacific. Since the ship was selected as an alternate recovery vessel, her crew underwent extensive training in spacecraft recovery techniques.

Unitarians Plan Special Service

There will be a Good Friday Service at the Grose Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Mauve avenue on Friday evening, April 8, at 8 o'clock. Members of all faiths are welcome. Dr. H. C. Meserve, Minister of the Church elaborated on this service by a liberal religious faith as follows:

"Good Friday marks the crucifixion and death of Jesus of Nazareth. It might also mark the great company of heroic men and women who have given their lives for sake of their faith and fellowmen. Because of their courage and fidelity, all of our lives are enlarged and deepened.

"It seems appropriate that the liberal church remember and honor the great tradition of heroism and martyrdom in every age and place. We are secure because there are those who have dared to risk their lives for the values we believe in."

A family quarrel always allows a lot of truth to leak out.

Find Live Bomb In Vacant Home

A live four-inch bomb, found by two young Woods brothers, while helping a neighbor clean out a vacant house, was taken to the Woods police station and picked up by a demolition expert from Selfridge Air Force Base.

On Tuesday, March 28, Dennis Hurley, 14, and his brother, George, 12, of 1746 Manchester, carried the bomb between them to the police station. It was turned over to Patrolman Russell Allard, fire inspector.

Allard said that it is believed that the bomb, which still had the firing pins in it, was owned by a U. S. Navy man, known only as Lee, who left the deadly item behind when he was transferred to duty on Guam.

Allard said he first contacted the Detroit Police Bomb Squad, but was advised to call Selfridge Air Base.

Herbert Baptist, Sp. 6, E.O.D., arrived from the air base, and picked up the bomb, which he said was of the type used by the Navy. He said the bomb was alive. It was four inches in diameter and 15 inches long. One pin was set for shallow water bombing.

It is not known how long the bomb was in the basement of the house, 1740 Manchester, before it was found by Dennis and George.

Services Set At St. James

Special Holy Week services, enhanced by inspirational music and meditations, are planned by St. James Lutheran Church.

The Maundy Thursday vespers tonight at 7:45 will have the traditional Holy Communion service. Pastor George E. Kurz will be the Celebrant with Vicar Roger M. Goetz serving as Narrator to explain the dynamics of the Communion liturgy.

The narrative-type sermon adventure will be distributed throughout the service. Following each section of the liturgy, explained by Vicar Goetz, Pastor Kurz will lead the congregation in its enactment. The Chancel Choir will sing "Lamp of God" by Jeep.

Good Friday services from 1 to 2 p.m. on April 8 will have the Junior Choir singing "There is a Green Hill Far Away" by Zananeli; a solo by Karen Heller, "Before the Crucifixion" by La Forge; and Wolff's, "O Perfect Love," by the Chapel Choir. Vicar Goetz will base his sermon on John 19:30, "It is finished." There will be a nursery available for small children at this service.

There will be three services on Easter Sunday at 6:30, 9:30 and 11 a.m. to proclaim the glorious Easter message. The Sunrise Service will be sponsored by the youth of St. James. They will present a Chancel Drama, "Easter Dawn," by Alfred J. Wiegner. Holy Communion will be celebrated at this service. "O Sons and Daughters Let Us Sing," by Ringold, will be the anthem sung by the Chapel Choir.

The Junior Choir will sing during the 9:30 a.m. service. Their offering is Zananeli's, "Come Christians, Join to Sing." Soloist, Mrs. William Heller, will offer "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" from Handel's "Messiah" at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services.

Pastor Kurz will preach at the 9:30, and at the 11:00 Festival service, basing his sermon on John 14:19, "Because I live you shall live also." The Chancel Choir will glorify our Lord with Pelz, "Crown Him With Many Crowns", "Christ is Arisen", by Hirsch, and "Christ is Risen."

An Easter pancake breakfast will be served by the Senior Youth Group from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock in the Green Room to accommodate those persons attending the first two Easter services. There will be a nursery for small children for the above-mentioned two services.

Motorist Facing Hearing in Court

James W. Walker, 32, of 319 Elmhurst, Detroit, was arrested by Woods police on Saturday, March 26, and charged with driving without an operator's license.

According to Patrolman James Davidson, the arresting officer, Walker was seen traveling south on Mack avenue, and appeared to be weaving in his lane. An attempt to stop the motorist failed, the officer said.

Davidson said he pulled up alongside Walker's car and motioned the man to the curb. The signal was ignored. Walker was finally stopped at Mack and Lannoo, in Detroit.

The officer said that he saw a passenger in the front seat and another in the rear seat. Also, Davidson said, when Walker stopped, he (Walker), climbed over the front seat and sat in the right rear of the car. When instructed to get out of the vehicle, Walker claimed he had not been driving, but that he had been a passenger in the front seat.

The Woods policeman said when he asked Walker for his operator's license, the man claimed he did not have one, and gave no reason why. Walker was taken to the station where he was issued a violation ticket for driving without a license. The accused was released on $100 bond, and will appear in the Woods Municipal Court on April 9.

Bids on New High School Staggering

Dr. Parcels said that if the proposition is defeated, the trustees would have to wait for six months to go back to the voters to request the same building. If they were to reject all current bids, it would also require six months to redesign the building.

Cites Costly Delays

Dr. Robert K. Whiteley, former Board President reminded the audience of the costly delays imposed on the Board of Education by citizen groups during the site selection.

He cited examples of the trend in construction by stating that Children's Hospital in Detroit, designed as a $14,000,000 structure, was bid over $21,000,000, for a 51 percent increase. Dr. Whiteley said that the construction of the Dental School at the University of Michigan will cost nearly 40 percent over the architectural estimate.

"We will not cut anything out of the building or redesign the structure unless the community turns down the election. We simply do not feel that we would gain anything by further delays. In fact, we would lose more than we would gain," he commented.

19 Bids Received

Low bid on general construction, $5,814,000, was submitted by the J. A. Ferguson Construction Company. The John E. Green Plumbing and Heating Company, Inc., was low bidder on mechanical work at $2,442,000.

The low electrical bid was $1,100,400 from the E. R. Switzer Electric Company. Royal School Laboratories' bid of $124,469 was the lowest for supplementary equipment. The George F. Young Nursery's bid of $292,923 was the lowest in landscaping.

Four firms bid on the general construction, seven on the mechanical and five on the electrical work. In addition, three landscaping bids were received and five on the project's supplementary work.

The exact amount of millage to be sought will be determined in consultation with bonding authorities after a further scrutiny of the bids. A decision is expected within a week.

The first portion of the meeting was devoted to a presentation by Norman Stockmeyer, president of the Wayne County Board of Education, who addressed the group on the county-wide community college election scheduled for May 9.

A number of PTA leaders, including Gino Cioe of Maire and Ralph Burton of Richard, indicated increasing dissatisfaction in their districts with growing class size. They urged prompt action by the Board of Education to alleviate overcrowding.

The PTA Council meeting was chaired by Charles Parcels, Jr., vice-president, acting in the absence of president Walter Seyffert.

Hockey Chiefs Lose Last Two

By Cindy Tew

The Grosse Pointe Chiefs terminated their hockey season last week with two consecutive losses in their playoff games. "St. Clair Shores outplayed and outskated the Grosse Pointe team," commented Coach Bill Gill.

Tuesday night Doug Boyer couldn't seem to stay out of the penalty box, sitting out a total of four penalties. The rest of the Grosse Pointe team had equally as bad luck. Five

List Services At Memorial

The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church (Presbyterian) will celebrate Maundy Thursday with special music by the Adult Choir of 100 voices singing "Christ Jesus Lay in Death's Strong Bonds," a cantata by Johann Kuhnann (1660-1772) who was Bach's predecessor at Leipzig. This is the first English rendering of the work, and there will be an instrumental accompaniment. Mr. Atwood will preach on "Servants of the World, Unite."

Holy Communion will be celebrated, and all are invited to partake if they are members of a branch of Christ's Universal Church. The Offerings during Lent have been for One Great Hour of Sharing — for refugees and chaplaincy program—and tonight will be the last occasion to give.

Good Friday Services will begin with the annual children's Service at 10 a.m. in Fellowship Hall. The Junior Choir will sing and the well-known moving picture of the trial and death of Christ will be shown, "I Beheld His Glory."

From 1 till 3 p.m. there will be meditations on the Last Seven Words given by the four ministers. The Senior High Choir will sing the following four anthems under the direction of Marian Johns, Director of Youth Choirs: "Behold, the Lamb of God"—Willan; "O Saviour Mine, What Agony"—Bach; "Lord, Our Spirit is Bowled Down"—Graun; "In Tears of Grief"—Bach.

Easter morning services will begin with Holy Communion in Barbour Chapel with the Reverend Ben L. Tallman preaching on "Communion and Koinonia." The Senior High Choir will sing. Three identical Festival Services will follow at 8:15, 9:30, and 11:15 a.m., with the Reverend Bertram deHeus Atwood preaching on "Dead Men Tell Lies."

The Chancel Choir under the direction of Malcolm Johns, Organist and Choirmaster will sing a Prelude of Carols: Brahms' "Magdalena," "Easter Eggs," a Russian Carol; Praetorius' "Christ is Risen"; "Love is Come Again," an old French Carol; "Hilariter," an old German Carol; "The World Itself Keeps Easter Day," an old Italian Carol.

The Junior Choir, at 8:15 a.m., will sing "This Joyful Easteride," an old English Carol; at 11:15 the Junior High Choir will sing "Tell It With a Joyful Voice, He is Risen," by Cope; at 9:30 Jeane Zech, soprano, will sing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel.

Cosmopolitan magazine for April describes the music at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church as "professional and enthusiastic" and the preaching as "fine, slightly off-beat." The Church is one of about 30 throughout the country suggested by Cosmopolitan to visit at Easter.

minutes of the second period saw St. Clair Shores pile up three goals. The scoreboard showed a 5-2 score as the buzzer sounded to end the game.

Only John Huize, assisted by Bob Schmitt, and George Mercer with the help of Jerry Schindler and Jay Gill, could penetrate the St. Clair Shores defense, scoring Grosse Pointe's two goals.

St. Clair Shores accumulated five goals during the first day's game. Facing the possibility of a shutout, Grosse Pointe turned on the steam, and rallied for two goals in the final period.

Jay Gill scored first after receiving the puck off the stick of Mercer. Then, with only 11 seconds of play left in the game, Wally Thursam drove the puck into the St. Clair Shores goal unassisted.

But we would like to remind you that the engineering know-how that makes our racing Hemi so great goes into every '66 Plymouth you can buy off your Plymouth Dealer's showroom floor.

If you don't need a machine like the racing Hemi, try the Belvedere

Ride to Remember

Dinner was a delightful diversion night. Trans World Airlines provided a three-hour demonstration of the ultimate in high altitude entertaining and the lucky guests were wined and dined in fabulous fashion during a 1000-mile flight, the equivalent of a hop to Phoenix, Ariz.

TWA moved its facilities from Willow Run to Metropolitan Airport last weekend and inaugurated its Nonstop California Service on Tuesday. The special Starstream flight with Royal Ambassador Gourmet Dinner was given in honor of these latest steps in the never-ending program of improvement in services.

Taking off from Metro shortly after 7 o'clock, the huge, spanking new 707 Fanjet left the runway in an incredibly short distance and roared upward through the heavy overcast to pick up a magnificent sunset above the clouds. Leveling off at 41,000 feet and heading west, the speed of the giant skyliner prolonged the beauty of the dying sun until Chicago had been skirted over the lower tip of Lake Michigan and the craft swung north over Milwaukee and Green Bay. Then the moon, one evening short of full, filled the night with its own special glory.

Metropolitan attention had been paid to every detail that could add to the enjoyment of the guests aboard. Bars with extravagant assortments of drinks were wheeled through the wide aisles. The coach section was made even more comfortable than the first class by only putting two passengers in the three seats in each row, leaving the center one empty, with loads of extra room for elbows and legs. The hors d'oeuvres were delicious and copious and the dinner as advertised... one for gourmets. There was champagne for those who wished it, but we chose the fine red wine to better complement the filet mignon. Six stewardesses and at least that many attractive male members of the TWA organization made the service flawless. The captain, first officer and flight engineer kept us supplied with information about our location and the capabilities of the ship. A superb radio with nine channels furnished (through earphones), the widest selection of music, or the sound track for the Sophia Loren color movie shown during the latter part of the trip.

The clouds vanished rather early, probably around North Bay, and as the flight progressed we could see the beautiful patterns of light afforded by Toronto, Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Sandusky, Toledo. We came in low over Detroit and the sprawling metropolis was a sight lovelier than a million Christmas trees.

It was an evening to remember. We've done our share of flying through the years, but we never cease to marvel at the wondrous strides the industry is constantly making. It is a far cry from the old days of the DC 3's.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: Yesterday I was given a copy of an article appearing in the Grosse Pointe News on March 31, entitled "Park Authorizes Spending $6,500 to Beautify Lots."

The piece was factually inaccurate in several particulars. And, since it is my belief, that, if inaccuracies are pointed out, you will publish this letter, showing the inaccuracies in your next edition (in comparable space).

First, the article stated "On Monday, March 28th the Park Council approved appropriation of $6,500 for the 'now' beautification of lots 481 and 482 between Lakepointe and Pemberton." The article stated that "the lots are part of the proposed civic center development which included depressed off-street parking facilities."

I am informed that at the present time the Common Council of Grosse Pointe Park do not intend to convert their City owned lots into parking lots because the cost is too high.

Secondly, the article stated that the Brandau family of Detroit, (whom I represent), owner of lot 354 immediately East of the Michigan Bank are "awaiting the outcome of a Court suit to determine further steps in the negotiations with the bank on a proposed purchase of lot 354 (Southwest corner of Pemberton and East Jefferson.)"

These negotiations according to the article, are being "held up because of Court litigation in which the McBrearty family of Detroit is suing to have the Court declare a section of the park's zoning ordinance unconstitutional."

It is factually untrue that there are, or ever have been, "negotiations" between the Frandaus and the Michigan Bank for the acquisition of the Pemberton corner lot. It is true the Bank once expressed an interest in acquiring the lot next to their bank, but an "interest" only. No offer of purchase was ever made.

It was further stated that the McBrearty family of Detroit "hoped to force the City to issue a permit for the construction of a gasoline service station on property it owns at Jefferson and Westchester." The McBrearty family owns no property at Jefferson and Westchester, nor is there any thought of anyone putting up a gasoline station at that corner. The McBrearty family do own two lots at the Southeast corner of East Jefferson and Lakepointe (and by the way, the McBrearty family of Detroit owns only one-half of this property. William McBrearty Jr. and his wife, of the City of Grosse Pointe Park own the other half.)

As previously said, the article stated that the McBrearty family has petitioned the Court to declare that portion of the Grosse Pointe Park zoning ordinance unconstitutional which limits lots in a commercial district to residential use. This is half true. The principal litigants are the Brandau family, who own and have paid taxes on four lots in the City of Grosse Pointe Park, since 1919 the one previously mentioned next to the Michigan Bank and the other three on Westchester, next to the Toddle House.

Dear Grand-Editor: When we turned to our favorite newspaper last Thursday, we were surprised to find that we had been placed editorially in the same police lineup with a thoughtless group of glass smashers, including several bearded go-go dancers with goblet particles clinging to their leotards and a particularly offensive person who mumbled about the added versatility of his dual-purpose wedge.

After a tricycle trip to Chief Teetaert's office to insure that our name did not appear on his blotter, we stand ready, with glass-tight alibis, to proclaim innocence concerning the famous asbray incident of last week.

Although we must admit to some skill at the destruction of asbrays, during our weekend visits we are usually attracted less by glass and more by those other plates which have the funny sounding names on the back, such as Limoges, Royal Crown Derby, Lowestoft, Guiltless Grandchildren

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Have you read any of the notable books of 1965? I am referring to a reading list, selected by the Notable Books Council of the Adult Services Division, American Library Association, assisted by 31 libraries from all sections of the United States. This Council believes that these titles "have made a contribution to literature and general knowledge through their informational value, literary excellence, perception, and sincerity of presentation." The current roster has just been published; our library has the majority of the volumes in its collection. Let me mention a few of these titles to you—they may spark your interest, or give you a feeling of pride if you have already read some of them.

In the field of fiction, we would like to mention Giorgio Bassani's GARDEN OF THE FINZI-CONTINIS. This is Bassani's first full-length novel, and is a fair sample of his sphere of interest and style. He tells, with a sort of probing tenderness, a true story of sensitive and vulnerable youth in a somber decade. Another is Heinrich Boll's THE CLOWN. This is the tale of Hans Schnier, a twenty-seven-year-old unsuccessful clown and mime; it is also, in reality, a book-length monologue. The setting is stark, but there is a leavening of gentleness and the comic spirit. A third is Peter Matthiessen's AT PLAY IN THE FIELDS OF THE LORD. Here, four fundamentalist American missionaries are sent to the Amazon jungle in Oriente province to convert the primitive Kiuruna Indians. The author knows the South American jungles and people, and the elements of a good adventure story. This is a compassionate and perceptive picture of persons under stress.

Books in the non-fiction area are quite varied. Nikos Kazantzakis earned a piece on this list with his REPORT TO GRECO—memoirs of the late novelist, summing up his hopes, visions, and creative achievements. This is a rich mixture of reminiscences and digressions into meditative prose-poetry. THE PEACEMAKERS, by Richard Morris is also included. Here, the author delineates the intricacies of European international diplomacy during the negotiations for the Treaty of Paris that resolved the Revolutionary War. This is indeed a monumental job of scholarly research.

Jan Myrdal's REPORT FROM A CHINESE VILLAGE treats all aspects of life as it is lived in Liu Ling today. This is an exemplar in the study of peoples—a composite portrait of a village. It tells how the Communists took over, and goes into great detail in enumerating the happenings of the day, the week, the year. For biography, there is Alan Paton's SOUTH AFRICAN TRAGEDY, subtitled: "the life and times of Jan Hofmeyr." Hofmeyr was a remarkable man of influence. He entered politics in 1924 as a junior to Smuts; he died in 1948. He became a spokesman for equality and the common man. A final timely book is Robert Shaplen's THE LOST REVOLUTION. The subtitle explains a great deal: "the story of 20 years of neglected opportunities in Vietnam, and of America's failure to foster democracy there." The author, a former Far East correspondent for NEWSWEEK, traces America's course through both the military and diplomatic jungles.

It is interesting to note that both of the current books on Kennedy made the list. I refer, of course, to A THOUSAND DAYS by Arthur Schlesinger and KENNEDY by Theodore Sorensen. A final sampling—YESTERDAY'S PEOPLE, by Jack Wellner. Here, again, the subtitle is helpful: "life in contemporary Appalachia." This book comes out of a minister's thirteen years as a missionary to churches in the Southern Appalachians. He has tried to give us an accounting of the personality and attitudes of the Appalachian "common man." The author deals with the people as they are, rather than the complex forces which shaped them.

The Forbes Books for last year include 51 titles. The range, both in fiction and non-fiction, is interesting and wide; some items included seem surprising until one has read reviews—or the books themselves—done a bit of reflecting, and then the choice seems quite appropriate. The year 1965 has made a fine contribution to the shelves of our libraries.

Matron of honor Mrs. Robert Paterson's frock was fashioned with a pale yellow chiffon skirt and mint green lace bodice.

In gowns identical to that of the honor attendant, but with bodices of gold lace, were bridesmaid Kathryn Newak and junior bridesmaid Nancy LeRoy, the bride's cousin.

They carried arrangements of yellow carnations and ivy.

Spode Valencia

Throughout history the grapevine has been an important decorative motif. Nowhere has it been treated more delicately than in the work of the late 18th Century English silversmiths and Spode artists. In old Spode blue, painted with an early green, this grape border of Valencia adds interest to the flutings and basket weave embossing of the Chelsea Wicker shape. Valencia is an 18th Century design with modern simplicity and is correct for any period.

Symphony Sets Two Programs

Mischa Mischkoff will appear twice as soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Sixten Ehrling, on Thursday evening, April 7, in Ford Auditorium.

The famed concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony will be heard in Mozart's Violin Concerto No. 3 in G major (K. 216) and Saint-Saens' Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso (Opus 28).

Two orchestral works on the same program will be newcomers to the Detroit Symphony repertory: Schubert's Symphony No. 2 in B-flat major and Shostakovich's Symphony No. 9.

Of the former, Detroit Symphony program annotator Robert Holmes writes that Schubert composed the symphony at the age of 18—"a year of inspiration," Holmes writes, "perhaps without parallel in the history of music." Despite Schubert's heavy teaching schedule, "during that year his creative production included three operettas, five sacred choral songs, a string quartet, four major piano compositions, around 150 songs, several unaccompanied vocal compositions, and his second and third symphonies."

Shostakovich's ninth symphony, written in 1945, has been referred to by the composer as "a merry little piece," and it is the shortest and lightest of his symphonies.

Mischa Mischkoff was named concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in 1952 and has appeared on many occasions as soloist with the Orchestra. He has been concertmaster of one orchestra or another for more than 50 years, including the New York Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra, Chicago Symphony and NBC Symphony. He has never missed a concert in his entire career.

The Detroit Severo Ballet Company will be featured in its own new production, "Madeline," at the Symphony's final Young Peoples' Concerts of the season on Saturday, April 9, at 11 and 2 o'clock in Ford Auditorium. Valter Poole will conduct.

"Madeline" is adapted from Ludwig Bemelman's book of the same name and is based on music by Shostakovich. The choreography is by Sandra Severo.

The ballet will be presented in two acts, between which the well-known "Sorcerer's Apprentice" by Paul Dukas will be performed by the Orchestra.

Raphael, of Renaud road will be the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church/Chairman of the Day Tuesday, April 12, when the subject for discussion, "Mission in the New America," will be presented by the Reverend Richard Bauer, director of National Missions, Synod of Michigan.

The meeting, which begins at 10:30 o'clock will be followed by luncheon at 12:15 o'clock.

The Book Review Group has invited Don Blakely, candidate for a doctorate in Speech at Wayne University, teacher and theater director at Purdue University, to speak on Friday, April 15. His subject will be "The Many Moods of Shakespeare."

Tea will be served at 1 o'clock, with Mrs. Fredrick Adams as hostess. Mrs. Ben Tallman will lead the devotions.

The Evening Group's sewing meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Jacobson, of Merriweather road.

Slate Lectures On Adolescents

Are teenagers different today (than they were 20 years ago)? Have you ever experienced a sudden tension when a couple of teens joined your adult gathering?

Are you concerned about what sexual knowledge your children have—is it sufficient or is it too much? Does youth today have the opportunity to try out and experiment with adult roles?

These are but a few of the concerns that will be discussed in the lecture series for adults, "The World of the Adolescent." The series will be held on four consecutive Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Grosse Pointe High School. There is no admission charge.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Church Religious Education Council and the Neighborhood Club.

The Council has brought to the community in the past superb programs such as Dr. Aaron Rutledge's series, "The Christian and Contemporary Values." Other stimulating lectures and training sessions have been given by Reverend Reuel Howe, Dr. Fritz Redl, Reverend Hoyt and Miss Marjorie Sanger.

Churches participating in the Council are: Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe Congregational, Grosse Pointe Memorial, Grosse Pointe Methodist, Grosse Pointe Unitarian, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian, St. Michael's Episcopal, St. James Lutheran and St. Paul's Lutheran.

The Neighborhood Club is serving as a co-sponsor of this series because of its longstanding interest in serving adolescents through recreational and educational programs. The lectures are:

April 19—"The Transitional Years," Armin Grams, Ph.D.—The Merrill Palmer Institute.

April 26—"Growing Towards Independence," Eli Rubin, Ph.D.—Lafayette Clinic.

May 3—"Talking to Teens about Sex," John McDermott, M.D.—Children's Psychiatric Hospital.

May 10—"The Search for Identity," Richard Cutler, Ph.D., vice president—University of Michigan.

What questions do you have? If you wish careful thought given them, send them in ahead of time. This will enable the speakers to address themselves to the real concerns of parents and educators.

Mrs. Thomas W. Kneisel

In St. Paul's Lutheran Church Saturday evening, MAUREEN ELIZABETH COLLINS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil J. Collins, of Van K drive, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Kneisel, son of the Walter V. Kneisels, of Sunset lane.

Council Holding Hoot'n Dance

A spring vacation Hootenanny and Dance will be held at Grosse Pointe War Memorial under the auspices of the Center's Youth Council on Thursday, April 14 at 8 o'clock in Fries Auditorium. Alex Sucek, director of the Memorial's guitar classes will be in charge of the "Hoot."

A final rehearsal for those taking part in the Hootenanny will be held at the Center this Saturday morning, April 9, from 10 to 12 o'clock. Anyone in the community who would still like to try out at this time may arrange to do so through the Center's office.

The "Hoot" annually features both vocalists and instrumentalists in solo or group acts. The participants range in age from senior high school to adult. All are chosen on the basis of auditions open to the community. Of course, in the spirit of a Hootenanny, the audience will be invited to join in many of the number.

Following the Hootenanny an informal non date dance will be held in the ballroom with the Nightcrawlers band furnishing the music.

Admission to the Hootenanny and Dance is $1 by ticket purchased in advance at the Center's office. Adults as well as young people are welcome to the "Hoot."

Prejudice has always been the greatest obstacle to progress.

Reception at Whittier Follows Candlelight Rites: Newlyweds Vacationing In Florida; To Live In Detroit

Maureen Elizabeth Collins chose a silk Empire gown, fashioned with an A line skirt and Court train, with lace accents, for her marriage Saturday to Thomas Walter Kneisel.

A floral headpiece caught her bouffant silk illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of white roses and greens.

The Reverend Charles Sandrock officiated at the candlelight ceremony, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. A reception at The Whittier Hotel followed the 7 o'clock rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil J. Collins, of Van K drive. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Kneisel, of Sunset lane.

Honor attendant was Sally Ann Palumbo, and bridesmaids were Lynne Collins, the bride's sister, Mrs. Frederick Schwartz and Nina Kneisel, the bridegroom's sisters.

They wore floor length sheaths of pale blue crepe, trimmed with moss green ribbon, and blue crepe Dior headbows, and carried baskets of white and yellow daisies.

Flower girl Martha Mary Belanger's frock was fashioned of yellow silk organza over taffeta.

Frederick Schwartz was the bridegroom's best man. In the usher corps were Carl Hartman, Ernest Mueller and Ernest Kurschat.

Mrs. Collins chose, for her daughter's wedding and the reception, a floor length pink crepe gown with a beaded bodice. The bridegroom's mother wore a pastel green and blue print floor length dress.

The newlyweds are vacationing in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They will make their home in Detroit.

Hats Are A History Lesson

Women's clothes are SAID to reflect the temper of the times—Whether you believe this or not, it's fascinating to follow the function and style of a particular article of apparel through several decades, (most people who DO, wind up "believers"). The Mothers' Club of Dominican High School, at its fourth annual luncheon and fashion show April 19, in Fries Auditorium, will take a light-hearted look at "Hats and History."

Previewing some of the bonnets they'll be modeling are, (left to right), Mrs. NEIL PATTERSON, of Harvard road, general chairman of the party, MRS. JOHN FALLON, of Yorkshire road, MRS. The nine-week session, to be conducted in specially designated high school laboratories conveniently located for scholarship winners selected from Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe county high schools, and in the research facilities of the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research, a division of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, will begin June 27, according to E. Students with particular aptitude and interest in the fields of scientific research are selected by biology instructors, and the applicants are further screened and finally selected by the medical and scientific research committee of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Great Britain Group to Tour

Mrs. Frederick W. Campbell, 41 Beverly road, and Mrs. Alexander L. Weiner, 6 Woodland place, will be among more than 75 persons from 23 states who will tour Great Britain for three weeks beginning April 11.

The tour is sponsored by Washington National Cathedral in Washington, D.C., and all participants are members of the National Cathedral Association (NCA), an international fellowship of Cathedral friends.

The trip is part of the Cathedral's continuing program of friendship with the Anglican Church. As part of this program, the NCA members will visit 20 major English cathedrals and abbeys, including famous Westminster Abbey which is observing its 900th anniversary this year. The visit will occur at the same time the Cathedral's Choir of Men and Boys is singing for services at the Abbey.

Tour participants will gather in Washington at the Cathedral on Easter afternoon, April 10, to attend evensong. Immediately following the service, they and 50 choir members will board a chartered jet airliner at Dulles Airport and fly to England.

While the choir stays at the Abbey in London, the NCA members will begin their 15-day privately escorted tour of the churches and abbeys. The itinerary will also include such famous historic sites as the Tower of London, Cambridge University, the Royal Shakespeare Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon, the ancient ruin at Stonehenge, and Battle Abbey near Hastings where William the Conqueror defeated King Harold in 1066.

Between April 25 and May 1, no scheduled events have been arranged, and each NCA member will be free to travel individually through the British Isles or on the Continent.

All participants will gather again in London on Sunday, May 1, to attend matins at Westminster Abbey. The Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, Jr., dean of Washington National Cathedral, will preach the sermon for the service. The Cathedral choir will also end its stay at the Abbey that day.

On Monday, May 2, the group will return with the choir to Washington in time for the opening of the annual four-day NCA meeting that begins May 3 at the Cathedral. Many of the tour participants are expected to attend the meeting and spend some time sight-seeing in the Nation's Capital.

Planning to attend the 43rd annual Wellesley College Alumnae Council meeting in the campus in Wellesley, Mass., April 13 through 15 is MRS. HERBERT P. BARTLETT, of Ridgemont road.

Rose Society Meets April 13

The monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society will be held at the Grosse Pointe Public Library, on Wednesday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m.

The program theme will feature "Roses and the Eyes, Ears, Nose and Throat." The Eye part will involve a contest to recognize specimens of the better known roses, which will be furnished by Mihelich Nurseries.

The Ear part of the program will involve descriptions of well known roses from leading catalogues. The object is to recognize the rose by the description.

The Nose part will be roses in a perforated box, which will be passed around and the participants will be allowed to smell. Can they recognize the leading roses by their odor?

Throat?—well, the throat will be involved when the participants try to justify and rationalize their selections.

All members and their friends are urged to attend this strictly-for-fun meeting to test their real involvement with La Rose!

Zeta Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity at Indiana University has announced the recent initiation of M. A. R. K. ROBERT WEBER, son of the R. F. WEBERS, of Lakeshore road.

A movie party featuring "Escapade In Japan" will be held Tuesday, April 12, in the big Auditorium at St. Clare de Montefalco Church, Mack at Audubon road. "Escapade" tells the adventures of two lost boys, one American and one Japanese, in their search through post-war Japan for their parents.

The program is sponsored by the Cadette Girl Scout Troops of St. Clare, who are raising money for their spring trip to Washington, D.C. There will be three cartoons in addition to the movie, which will have two showings, at 10 and 2 o'clock. All neighborhood children are invited to attend.

The tickets are 35c and can be purchased from a Cadette, at the door or by calling Mrs. Ralph Naumann, 832-6851. There will also be a snack bar, offering refreshments for sale.

Introducing New Teachers

When the doors of Richard Elementary School opened in September, Principal Richard W. Kay welcomed three newcomers to the teaching staff. They are Miss Christine Mitchell, grade 5; Miss Annette Urso, kindergarten; and Mr. James Ham, grade 6.

After Miss Mitchell received her degree from Wayne State University, she taught in a special education program for deaf children in Miami, Florida. Quite naturally, therefore, Miss Mitchell's professional memberships include the Council for Exceptional Children.

Her interests embrace painting and drawing, sports, dancing, culinary arts and dramatics.

About education, she stated recently, "My primary function is to assist a child in adjusting to the circumstances in which he finds himself and in developing the power to mold that environment to improve the conditions of life."

Mr. Ham, a 1963 graduate of Wayne State University, joined the Richard staff after five years with the Detroit Recreation Department as a swimming coach and playground director. His out-of-school activities include swimming, volleyball and reading military history. The Hams are residents of Detroit.

Miss Urso, a resident of Grosse Pointe Farms, holds a BA degree from Michigan State University and an MA from the University of Michigan. In addition, she has studied at Wayne State University and at the Merrill Palmer Institute.

Prior to joining the staff of Richard, Miss Urso taught kindergarten in St. Clair Shores and has been affiliated with a private nursery school in Ann Arbor. Her memberships range from her sorority, Pi Beta Phi to the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

Painting, ceramics, photography, golf and water sports are among her extra-curricular interests, as are politics and attending the symphony and the theatre. Her travels have taken her on an extensive tour of Europe as well as through many parts of the United States.

Of the three who were added to the Richard staff this year, Mr. Kay commented, "Each of the new teachers has been a welcome addition to the staff. Each has done a fine job for our boys and girls. I have been pleased to have them join us at Richard," he concluded.

Pointe Officials Attend Meeting

Two Pointe city managers presented discussions on combined police and fire department operation, at an annual Region III of the Michigan Municipal League meeting held in Livonia on Thursday, March 24. A record number of 115 mayors, councilmen and other elected officials attended the meeting, according to information released on Wednesday, March 30.

Park Councilman William Oddy, Region III vice chairman for 1965-66, was succeeded by Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield, who was elected to serve during the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Region III of the MML is composed of the incorporated cities and villages in Wayne County.

At the business meeting, the following were elected to serve for one year: Harper Woods Mayor Ray R. Jasin, chairman; Canfield, vice chairman; and Woodhaven City Clerk Edith M. Sanders, secretary.

The afternoon meeting opened with a discussion of combined police and fire department operation.

Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas K. Kressbach described a recent administrative study of the Saginaw Police and Fire Departments which considered consolidation into an integrated system.

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, and Oak Park Director of Public Safety Glenford S. Leonard, whose communities have integrated police and fire departments, then describe activities and experiences with existing combined departments in their cities.

Regional meetings have been held by the MML for the past 12 years in each of the 10 separate regions in Michigan. They serve to bring the 434 member cities and villages into closer contact with the League and provide opportunity for the exchange of ideas and cooperative action on matters of mutual concern.

Airport Project Really Big Job

Earth excavated in site-development work at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport would fill a 300-foot hole, ten stories deep, the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners was told recently.

James M. Davey, managing director of the Commission which operates the airport, said this total 599,168 cubic yards, was on field development alone and did not include earth moved in connection with construction of building in the airport's $50-million expansion program.

LIKE EVERYONE else, Purdy & Edgar has something new to show off for Easter. Located on Neff Road, this is the only two-family flat that we know of that may be purchased for less than 35,000 dollars. Three bedrooms in each apartment, and redone kitchens. Make like a rapid rabbit and hop to it, before someone else does.

FOR SOMEONE who doesn't want to put all his eggs in one basket, this modestly priced ranch house with low maintenance could be the answer. Two bedrooms with two baths, and a large living area with access to a screened terrace is all a couple really needs. After buying this one you'll have plenty of lettuce left over for your salad years.

THREE AND ONE-HALF acres should be enough territory in which to hold a dandy Easter egg hunt. Well, we can't move you into this estate by Sunday, but you might have jolts by the pool by Darby Day. The grounds of this Provincial Road offering are spacious enough to hold your own grand prix, and you can garage at least eight entries in the carriage house. Room for the largest of families if you'll pardon an understatement.

COLOR THIS one Georgian colonial, red with white trim. Inside you may wish to use your own palette, although we think the rooms have been done beautifully. Plenty of bedrooms for an expanding family. On the first floor are two extra rooms, one an authentic colonial tavern, circa 1710. Exquisite detailing throughout with only the best of materials makes this house impossible to reproduce today at any price.

BEST EXAMPLE of a farm colonial offered in the Pointe today.

This meticulously maintained beauty comes completely air conditioned, and its air of charm is certain to put you in a buying condition. Within are four family bedrooms and two more over the attached garage. In case yours requires more space for bike, auto, boat or lawn accoutrements, there is an extra detached garage for your whatall and whatever. Decorated by one of the town's leading houses, this is ready to move into.

YOU'LL THANK your heavenly stars you called on this Georgian colonial, because you could have scanned the area and still this six bedroom house would offer the most value. There are three full baths on the second floor, and first floor library in addition to the living and dining rooms. If you're excited about this one, $44,500 will put you in orbit.

"PUT ALL your eggs in one basket, then watch that basket."

who, where and whatnot

by wboozit

Mrs. Frederick K. Cody . . . is FINALLY appearing in our Pointer of Interest column, and no one—not even Rosemary Cody's many friends, who've been taking us aside for years now, asking WHY we haven't "done" Rosemary as a "Pointer"—is more delighted . . . or more relieved . . . than we are. You see, we had Mrs. Cody all written up a full month ago, were just about ready to insert the article in the paper when news of the Meadow Brook Festival cancellation broke! Since, about one-fourth of Mrs. Cody's interview was devoted to the Festival, her current "major" project, we were in a bit of a quandary: Should we re-write the article? Should we run it as it stood, with an Editor's Note explaining that Rosemary had been interviewed before the Festival was cancelled? . . . A bit of quick checking brought us the information that everybody hoped the Festival would soon be "on" again—could we please hold the story for a while? All right, we said, and we held—and hoped!—until last week, when true to our informant's predictions, all Festival systems were "go" once again . . .

We'd like a maid . . . just like the maid who works for Mrs. Don T. Galvin, Jr. Seems that before Mary Fran Galvin took off for the south, she promised Theatre Arts some "properties" from her home for the drama club's March 25 production, "Fool's Paradise." A day or so before the show, Theatre Arts volunteers arrived at the Galvins' McKinley place home to pick up the furniture—only to be told by the maid that she had no authorization from Mrs. Galvin to let anything go out of the house! . . . The volunteers explained who they were, and what they wanted the furniture for, but the maid was adamant . . . The volunteers called Mary Fran's aunt, Mrs. Otis U. Walker, who took the 'phone and gave HER permission to release the furniture, but the maid still was adamant . . . Finally, Theatre Arts placed a call to Florida, got through to Mrs. Galvin's mother, Mrs. H. VerLinden Peez, who gave HER permission to release the furniture, (Mary Fran was on the golf course), but the maid STILL wouldn't budge . . . until someone contacted Mrs. G., who put down her clubs, left the course, came to the 'phone and said, "Yes, it's all right to let the furniture go . . ."

Carolyn Hubbard Lucas . . . who's been having a wonderful time in California, visiting, sightseeing and enjoying the delightful West Coast weather, sends her love, and a special Easter verse, written from "Andy's" point of view, (Mrs. Lucas is author of that charming children's book, "Understanding Andy"), to all Grosse Pointers:

EASTER BONNET

*My mother has bought a spring bonnet of straw
With a wreath of white daisies around it.
It's as pretty a bonnet as ever I saw,
But I don't know where she could have found it.
For most hats look to me much too large or too tight
And they don't seem to suit or become them—
Yet I s'pose each one thinks that HER hat is just right,
Tho' there's hardly a 'sweet one' among them!*

That pretty, pretty party . . . the Carnation Ball, sponsored by The Junior Women's Association for The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is scheduled April 30, at the Detroit Golf Club . . .

We'd advise earmuffs . . . for everyone participating in the Women's City Club Holland, (Mich.), Tulip Festival Tour May 12. We understand that THIRTY-SIX Klompen Dancers will perform at glamorous Point West, situated high on a sand dune between Lake Michigan and Lake Macatawa, while the City Clubbers dine after their day of tip-toeing around and through the tulips—and we can't help but observe that 36 pairs of wooden shoes should provide a LOT of "klompen" . . .

PILFERINGS

Middle age is when you have a choice of two temptations and choose the one that will get you home earlier. —Dan Bennett, Saturday Evening Post

A cocktail party is where you meet people who drink so much you can't remember their names. —Changing Times

Whenever I am inclined to shout in frustration at one of my brood, I remember the calm approach my fifth-grade teacher always took. She was a firm disciplinarian, but a kind and understanding woman. One day she had to punish a boy named Andrew by keeping him in at recess. He was determined to have the last word, so he scrawled across the top of his arithmetic paper: "Miss Van Hoover is a damned old crow!"

By the time our teacher came down the aisle to collect the papers, Andrew had passed his contribution around for his classmates to admire. We sat in excited silence, waiting for the ax to fall. But we were in for a surprise. Without batting an eyelash, Miss Van Hoover read the childish scrawl.

"Why, Andrew," she exclaimed, "this is marvelous! You haven't misspelled a single word!" —Mrs. C. E. Mahanay, Reader's Digest

Troop 61 Holds Court of Honor

Eight Boy Scouts were formally advanced in rank last week at the Spring Court of Honor held by Troop 61, Boy Scouts of America. In addition, a total of eight Merit Badges were awarded to Scouts who had met all requirements for those Badges.

Scouts David D'Hondt and Guy Willetts advanced in rank from Tenderfoot to Second Class. Five Scouts made the step upward from Second Class rank to First Class. Those Scouts were David Eagan, John Murray, Mark Collinson, Jeffrey Collinson and Chris Wilson. Scout Al Pennington advanced from First Class to the rank of Star Scout.

Scout David Eagan received Swimming and Coin Collecting Merit Badges, while Reading Merit Badge was awarded to Scouts Patrick Roney and Jeffrey Collinson. Scout Leroy Temrowski had earned Citizenship in the Home Merit Badge and Pets Merit Badge. Scout John Murray received Swimming Merit Badge and Scout Al Pennington, the Badge for Nature.

newly elected Troop officers. Scout Al Pennington was named Senior Patrol Leader, with Scout Mark Collinson chosen Assistant Senior Patrol Leader. Scout Leroy Temrowski was named Troop Instructor, and Scout John Cottrell was made Scribe. Named as Patrol Leaders were Scouts Chris Wilson, Jeffrey Collinson, and Ken Schmuckle.

The Court of Honor, held at St. Paul's School Wednesday night, March 16, was presided over by Leonard Baun, chairman of the Troop Committee. Douglas Collinson served as acting chairman of the Board of Review. A special guest of the Court of Honor was the Reverend Leonard P. Wallace, of St. Paul's Parish. Father Wallace delivered the Invocation and gave a short inspirational talk on the benefits of Scouting.

Troop 61 is sponsored by St. Paul's School and meets Wednesday nights at 7:30 at the School. Membership is open to all interested boys in the area who have reached their eleventh birthday, according to Scoutmaster Howard Pennington.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. FREDERICK K. CODY, OF STRATFORD PLACE

By Joyce Cronenweth

"Decoupage is my 'afternoon of bridge,'" explains Mrs. Frederick Cody, "and the other activities are my 'going to the office.'" Some people fold under the pressure of responsibility—Rosemary Cody thrives. Her bright blue eyes sparkle as she says with a smile, "I just don't know where the days go."

Busying herself as a director here and a director there, a charity worker here and a charity worker there, Mrs. Cody still finds time to attend beautifully to four children, her husband and their lovely new home in Stratford place.

The youngest Cody, Angela, 14, is a student at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road. Fred, 17, is a senior at Austin, looking forward to his freshman year at Michigan State University.

Another daughter, Ricky, 18, is finishing her first year at Marquette University. (She hasn't decided yet whether to major in Elementary or Special Education.)

"I think," observes Mrs. Cody practically, "that it's better if children don't go to the same college. When they are together, there can be too much child to child comparison."

"Each child is different in personality, and each succeeds in different ways."

Have One Grandchild

The eldest Cody daughter, Mary Lou (Mrs. Daniel) Miller, lives with her husband in Wabeno, Wis. Whenever 11-month-old Danny Miller arrives at Stratford place, he becomes his proud grandparents' center of attention.

Mary Lou has a degree in Education from Maryville College, St. Louis, Mo. "It is only a coincidence," Rosemary explains, "that Lou went to school in St. Louis, where I was born. She had no connections there, and by the time she arrived, my family had moved elsewhere."

Mary Lou now lives an interesting life as the wife of a U.S. Sigma Kappa Alumnae To Meet Wednesday

The regular meeting of the Grosse Pointe Alumnae of Sigma Kappa sorority will be held Wednesday evening, April 13, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Melvin Pavalik in Warren.

Mrs. James Overfield and Mrs. Joan Dentz will assist the hostess.

Sigma Kappas will work on a philanthropic project for Receiving Hospital under the auspices of College Women's Volunteer Service. Mr. Webster Bowler, of Belanger road, is chairman of the project.

Lt. Earl W. Walke Aboard Repair Ship

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) Earl W. Walke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Walke, Sr. of 1857 Severn road, is serving on the staff of the Commander, Service Group Three, deployed to the Western Pacific aboard the repair ship USS Ajax, currently operating out of Subic Bay, Philippine Islands.

The ships and units of the group provide underway replenishment services for the Seventh Fleet. Food, fuel, ammunition, spare parts and supplies are transferred at sea from ships of Service Group Three to fleet ships-of-the-line, enabling the combat ships to remain at sea for extended periods.

Ajax provides repairs to any mechanical equipment, from delicate watch and optical parts to heavy machinery, electronic equipment and hull repairs.

INFLUENTIAL

A successful man has the knack of making others accept him at his own valuation.

first Ball was held, in 1961, and she's been "around" at each succeeding Ball.

Currently, along with a paddle tennis group which meets each Monday, her "day" at Bon Secours and her Investment Group, ("We're rich at the moment," she says with delight), Mrs. Cody is most concerned with the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

The Festival runs for six regular weeks, beginning June 30 and lasting through August 7, plus a seventh and eighth week of special concert events. It is held at Oakland University, on the beautiful estate of Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson.

Father Is Athlete

Fred Cody, Sr., is the athlete of the family. The year he was graduated from the University of Michigan, he captained the U. of M. swimming team.

Mainly a backstroke, Mr. Cody was all set for the Olympic Games in Tokyo—when along came World War II. The Games were cancelled, of course, and Fred Cody, with a slight sigh of regret, (it would have been nice to have participated in the Olympics . . .), settled down to winning at-home swimming laurels.

Among his trophies is a silver cigarette box, decorated with bronze and silver medals from National Collegiate Athletic Association meets, Western Conference Championships . . . and a Detroit Athletic Club Beaver's pin.

Mr. Cody is with Cowles Communications, Inc. Along with his duties as family bread winner, he is a director of the United Foundation, American Red Cross, Carmel Hall, Boys' Clubs of Detroit, the Detroit Olympic Committee and many, many other organizations.

Mrs. Cody, the former Rosemary Brennan went to the Good Samaritan School of Nursing, Mount St. Joseph. After graduation, she accompanied her family on their second move, to Detroit.

She worked at Providence Hospital, then at Mount Carmel—mostly in pediatrics.

Now, Rosemary Cody has substituted the busy life of a wife, mother and committee-woman for the busy life of a nurse.

She is on the board of the League of Catholic Women, serving as its fourth vice president. The League of Catholic Women, an organization of 20,000 women from the metropolitan Detroit area, receives support from the United Foundation.

The League operates two community houses, Casa Maria and St. Peter, (these are essentially play centers for children, but also offer adult classes such as housekeeping and tailoring), St. Peter Claver Nursery School for inner-city children and Barat House for girls.

In addition, the League publishes a magazine, "The Catholic Woman," of which Mrs. Cody is vice president in charge.

By no means the least of the League's projects is its Bargain Counter, a resale shop which deals in donated clothing.

The Laurel Ball, honoring the Sacred Heart Academy graduating class each year, is another of Rosemary Cody's continuing interests. Although she will not accept full credit for this lovely June event, she will delicately admit to being around when the Numerous purses have been made, and there are many more to come. For Christmas Mr. Cody was given, for his office, a rectangular shaped piece of wood decouped with different pictures of his grandson . . . and smiling grandfather is pictured in the middle, holding Danny. Like many other "gifts for the office," this one never quite made the spot for which it was intended. It is prominently hanging in the Cody's Stratford place den.

Mrs. Cody has also been busy embellishing her home via her artistic talents. Taking on the man-sized job of refinishing furniture, she has antiqued a chest of drawers in blue and is about to start another piece. Even this won't quench the thirst for varnish and sandpaper. Standing, puzzled, in Angela's lavender bedroom, she muses: "I just don't know what color to do her dresser."

The Cody home is tastefully decorated. Mrs. Cody does not show any color partiality, and seems to enjoy playing with different color ranges. Upstairs, the gold hall carpeting is met by turquoise, blue and lavender rugs coming from different bedrooms.

It's a "welcoming" house, a cheerful and very personal house, one that greets visitors with warmth—as does its tall, attractive mistress, Rosemary Cody.

Classes in Art Begin April 13

A new spring term of drawing and painting classes will begin at Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Tuesday, April 13. Instructor will be Ray Fleming of the Mercy College faculty.

Holder of a Masters Degree in Fine Arts from Cranbrook, Mr. Fleming is a native of Georgia, who now is making a studio in the mews of the old Briggs estate in Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. Fleming will offer both an afternoon class from 1:30 to 4 and an evening class from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Each will be open to beginning as well as more advanced students. The fee is $25 for the series of 10 weekly two and one-half hour lessons.

Mr. Fleming insists that every student learn the principles of line and composition before delving into problems of color. From still lifes, students may progress to life studies if they wish.

All interested in enrolling in either day or evening classes should call the Center TU 1-7511 as soon as possible.
