> Do electric dryers really cost less to buy? Do you really get no-charge service?

The answer, of course, is a rousing YES! Model for model, electric drivers cost from $20 to $40 less than gas drivers. And every electric dryer is backed by Edison's No-Charge repair service. No charge for any electrical parts. No charge for labor. Edison is the only willing company in this area that offers no-charge repair service.

Can you get this kind of worry-free assurance with a gas dryer? Sure-with a manufacturer's repair service policy. But it will cost you

Gas dries a load of clothes for less than 2¢. In fact, you can dry 5 loads in the gas dryer for the cost of drying one in an electric dryer.

Gas dries the clothes faster. Lets you do more of your wash in less time. Saves up to 10 minutes or more on a load. And wait till you see how things come out, especially the new permanent press kind. The dryer irons them for you. They look like they've just come from the cleaners. Neat. Ready to wear.

Maintenance cost? Forget it! An independent survey shows the average cost of maintaining a gas dryer is less than 20 cents a year.

Right now is a good time to buy a gas dryer. Many dealers have them at special savings. Free installation too. And you need no down payment. Easy terms are yours for the asking. Know why 7 out of 10 families owning dryers have gas dryers? It's because they're the very best. Let a gas dryer do your ironing.

so here's an idea to make it a little easier!

Try this one ... Manufacturers Automatic Savings Plan. It's designed to help you save before you spend . . . automatically. To start saving you authorize Manufacturers Bank to transfer funds of $10.00 or more each month from your Checking Account to your Regular Savings Account. You specify whether you want the transfer made on the 5th or the 20th of each month or both days.

Your savings will grow at the rate of 4% (paid and compounded every three months). There's no need to make any trips to the bank or fill out any deposit slips. But most important, you'll be saving regularly. And you'll be surprised how fast the savings and interest mount up.

If you want to start saving automatically, stop in at any of the more than 60 Manufacturers Bank Offices. For your convenience, they're open from 9:30 to 5:00, Monday through Thursday, and until 7:30 Friday.

With the population of the schools approaching 12,000, the speedy construction of additional facilities is imperative. With final plans for the much-needed second high school completed last fall, with the groundbreaking in December and the successful passage of a supplemental bond issue to finance the structure approved in May, Grosse Pointe High School North moves closer to realization.

Growth of another kind has affected and will continue to affect the schools. The explosion of knowledge has created pressure for curriculum change. Plans for instructional innovations laid during 1965 will be executed in 1966 and beyond.

We assume that during 1966-1967 The Grosse Pointe district will strive to maintain its usual high quality programs. In addition, it will continue to provide various educational opportunities for children in the non-public schools. For, under recent state legislation, certain special services are provided and administered by the public schools for the entire community.

With the opening of school, this newspaper takes the opportunity to urge citizens to take an interest in the affairs of public education. The future of an increasingly large segment of our youth is in the hands of the dedicated men and women who comprise the staff of the public schools. But they need your individual support and your collective interest, both so vital to the maintenance of quality public education.

Effective two-way communication seems to us to be the most efficient means of maintaining a public school system responsive to the needs of the community it serves. The schools have sought consistently to provide the necessary communication through a variety of channels and will continue to do so. The Board of Education holds its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. on the second Monday of every months at 389 St. Clair avenue. PTA meetings are held throughout the district on a monthly basis. An individual parent-teacher conference schedule provides for further interchange. The schools all distribute newsletters as does the Board of Education. Grosse Pointe has been recognized repeatedly as a leader in effective school-community communication by the Michigan Education Association.

Beginning this fall the Grosse Pointe News will, as a public service, run a weekly question-and-answer column about the public schools in its editorial pages. Questions may be submitted either to the editor of this newspaper or to the Superintendent of Schools. We, the schools' trustees, the administration, and teachers welcome an opportunity to serve you in this fashion.

We urge all citizens in this community to accept our invitation to find out more about their public schools. In terms of budget and personnel the schools constitute Grosse Pointe's biggest business enterprise.

We are now receiving fall clothing

About 80 per cent of June's Grosse Pointe High School graduates plan on further education this year. This means that about 720 of the 900 students who just removed caps and gowns intend to don freshman beanies fairly soon

"The 80 or cent is a regular percentage; our figures have turned out about that many every year for a long time now," says Guidance Co-ordinator Dr. Robert Hanson.

The Administration at Grosse Pointe University School has grown accustomed to 100 percent of its students continuing their education. This year all 43 graduates said they were going on to college for further education.

At St. Paul's High School, where 91 students recently received diplomas, 89-90 per cent usually continue.

What has become of the students and what should incoming college students expect to find at college?

Only 15 incoming freshmen attended the recent University of Michigan send-off, at which movies about the campus were shown and upper classmen answered questions.

This fact might indicate that quite a few students are rushing into college headfirst with eyes closed.

So, if you are a freshman, you might benefit from some of these upperclass comments about "What I've learned from college:"

Sometimes college leaves students with a wry sense of humor. Bill Lenz, when asked what he learned in college, listed the following: "1. Neve: ever go to a uni-sexual school, (e.g.,
