HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, November 24
A $1.1 BILLION CUTBACK in the federally aided highway program has been ordered by President Johnson. This amounts to a 25 percent cutback. This reduction for the current fiscal year is part of the President's program to cut at least $3 billion from funds appropriated by Congress. The reduction is expected to affect every state in the nation.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Robert S. McNamara announced that he expects a new military manpower cut of about 300,000 less than last year's 900,000. This will apply to both draftees and enlistments. He said that we were reaching a leveling-off point.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT voiced official approval of the auto industry prices. It said that the new 1967 models justified an average $55-a-car increase because of built-in safety features. Taken as a whole, the prices of 1967 autos are only approximately two-tenths of one percent higher than 1966 models after allowance for quality changes.

SIX HOURS after he was knocked unconscious and taken to a Lake Erie cottage and held captive, a Windsor teen-ager escaped from a kidnaper Thursday. Ian Berks, 17, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Berks of 3510 Oulette, freed himself from his bonds while the abductor was resting in an adjoining room. Charged with Berk's abduction was Daniel Snively, 20, of 3510 Maissonneuve, a Windsor laborer. He was held pending a psychiatric examination.

ROBERT S. McNAMARA, Defense Secretary, announced that the United States has "contingency plans" which would cover a possible war with Red China. McNamara told of these plans more than two years ago during a closed hearing before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committee. A heavily censored transcript of the August 6, 1964 hearing has just been made public.

AN AGREEMENT for settling an 11-day machinists' strike against Air Canada was reached by negotiating teams, subject to approval by the union's members. The terms were not disclosed by agreement between the airline and the International Association of Machinists, which has held its 5,200 members in Canada on strike since November 14.

THE UNITED NATIONS Security Council censured Israel for its military action against Jordan 12 days ago. The incident has provoked a wave of violence in Jordan, with rioters calling for arms to fight the Israelis. With New Zealand abstaining, the council voted 14-0 to adopt a resolution warning Israel that "actions of military reprisal cannot be tolerated and that if they are repeated, the Security Council will have to consider further and more effective steps... to insure against repetition."

A "FIRST ALERT" was ordered by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller on Friday to combat the heavily polluted stagnant air over the New York metropolitan area. This alert required residents to use automobiles only when necessary, maintain minimum temperatures in buildings heated by oil or coal, eliminate all open fires and curtail incinerator activity.

Seven Went to Hospital When These Cars Crashed

Police described an accident on East Jefferson avenue between Fisher and Lincoln roads, last Friday night, as "the messiest" they had even seen. These are the cars that figured in the accident. Six passengers in one car and the driver and lone occupant of the other, that caused the collision, were taken to Bon Secours Hospital, where four of them are still patients.

Seven Hurt In Jefferson 3-Car Crash

Head-On Collision Follows Sideswiping; Four Of Injured Still In Bon Secours Hospital

Seven persons were taken to Bon Secours Hospital with injuries on Friday, November 25, following an accident that City Police said was one of the worst they'd ever seen.

The accident, involving three cars, occurred at 7:45 p.m. when Louis Moyaert of 23223 Robert John, St. Clair Shores, lost control of his car and hit another driven by Lena Crapotta, 1025 Balfour. Moyaert was driving west on Jefferson, east of Fisher Road, when he side-swiped a '64 T-bird, owned by John Tracy of 493 Lakeland, going east on Jefferson. Moyaert's car went a full city block before his car hit Mrs. Crapotta's car head on, between Fisher and Lincoln roads.

Driver Badly Hurt
Moyaert suffered extensive injuries including a broken leg, a broken jaw and severe facial lacerations. A tracheotomy was performed on him to facilitate his breathing. He is in serious condition at Bon Secours Hospital.

New High School Project Pretty Close to Schedule, PTA Council Is Informed

Discussion On Middle School And Showing Of Filmstrip Produced At Cornell Also Feature Second Meeting Of Group

The second meeting of the Grosse Pointe PTA Council of the 1966-1967 school year was held Monday evening, November 28. Chaired by president Charles Parcells, the session was scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Exhibition Room of the Central Library.

Main topics of discussion were a progress report on the construction of Grosse Pointe High School North and the development of the middle school concept for grades 6, 7, and 8.

Joe Spagnoli, Assistant Superintendent-Administrative Services of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, said that Monday was the 169th of 700 days allotted for the construction of the community's second senior high school. He indicated that the steel work in the academic wing is practically completed and that the structural steel portions of the gymnasium are in the beginning stages. Mr. Spagnoli reported that the building's foundation is 75 percent complete and that the boilers are in place.

Strike Caused Delay
Mr. Spagnoli said that the carpenters' strike this fall had slowed the job down somewhat, but added that the entire project is "reasonably close to schedule."

The second portion of the evening's meeting was in charge of Millard D. Grell, Curriculum Planning Director for the public schools, and members of the Middle School Committee.

Mr. Grell set the stage for a discussion of the middle school by showing a filmstrip, "Guidelines for Middle School and Junior High School Education," produced by the staff of Cornell University.

Mr. Grell emphasized that the Middle School Committee, the administration, the teaching staff, the Board of Education, and all others concerned with the development of the middle school in Grosse Pointe, are approaching the current study with an open mind. "We want what is best for the boys and girls concerned," he added.

Transition Takes Time
Mr. Grell indicated that neither he nor anyone else in the school system thought that

Chorus Gives Yule Concert This Sunday

To Present Christmas Program In Parcels Auditorium 3:30 O'clock

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus will start the Christmas season Sunday afternoon, December 4, at 3:30 o'clock with its 14th Annual Christmas Program in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School, Mack at Vernier.

Director Richard Johns, accompanist Jerry Hughes and the committee have arranged a program of interest to the entire family with numbers ranging from "Deck the Hall with Boughs of Holly" to "And the Glory of the Lord" from Handel's "The Messiah." One of the numbers, "The Two Kings" by Joseph Clokey will feature the accompaniment of trumpet and trombone with Russell Reed, Gordon Vandusen, Mark Lawrence and Tim Place as the instrumentalists.

Of particular interest in this area is the number "Wynken, Blynken and Nod" which is written by August Maekelbergh and was arranged by him especially for the Community Chorus. Mr. Maekelbergh is a well known Detroit organist, choir director and composer. He has long been active in all musical activities of the area. The soloists in this number are Mabel Webb, Frieda Steininger, James Bungard and Edward Rowdy.

A new feature is being added to this year's program. The Chorus is presenting two promising young musicians from Grosse Pointe High School in Solo performance. One is Carmen Nemeth, violinist who will play the Second Movement of the Concerto in D Major by Mozart. The accompanist will be Barbara MacLennan. The other is Mark Lawrence, trombonist who will play a portion of the Sonata for Trombone by Telemann. He will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lois Lawrence.

Tickets are available from any chorus member or can be obtained at the door. The price is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. After the program there will be a reception in the gymnasium at Parcels and the entire audience is cordially invited to attend.

GP Motion Picture Council Expresses Opinions of Code

Compiles Open Letter to Focus Attention of Residents On Shortcomings of Regulations Imposed By Film Producers

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council has compiled an Open Letter to all residents of The Pointe, expressing its views on the adoption of a new movie code. The letter in full follows.

The Motion Picture Producers Association has adopted a new movie code. Great, you say... now perhaps we'll be able to take the family to the movies again. Not necessarily so! True, the MPPA is one of the few industries to incorporate self-imposed regulations, but, we fear, with ulterior motives. It is evident that, for the most part, this new code's primary purpose is to forestall legislation that would certainly put tighter limits on the distribution of films. At least, it appears that the producers are aware of grassroots movements seeking more meaningful movies than have been available.

Examination of the code reveals that it is far from adequate. They announce that some films will now be labeled, "Suggested for Mature Audiences." If the advertising space is limited, it may be designated only as "SMA." Actually this means little or nothing. How this classification is determined, is not spelled out. The code is rampant with hedging grammar, such as "undue... excessive... with restraint." Interpretation is left to the Administrator of the code who is the judge.

Vandals Raid, Damage Two Park Homes

Cause Wanton Destruction In Living, Dining Rooms And Kitchens

The person, or persons, who broke into the residence of Ira Latimer, 1346 Kensington, did not take a thing, although every room in the house had been completely ransacked, but the culprit did leave a trail of wanton destruction, according to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

A neighbor of the Latimer family called police at 11:15 p.m. on Tuesday, November 22, to report that a rear door had been found open. Police unit crews were dispatched to investigate, and they discovered that entry into the house was gained by breaking the glass of the rear porch and by breaking the kitchen window glass.

Investigating officers said every room in the house had been ransacked, and considerable damage was done on the living and dining rooms and in the kitchen.

In the kitchen, they found that the vandals dumped flour, sugar, and anything they could get their hands on, on the floor and walls.

The couch in the living room was slashed with a sharp instrument, and a table in the dining room was gashed and scarred, also with a sharp instrument.

The officers at the scene said that the damage was the most senseless and most destructive of any home entered over a period of many, many years. It appeared to be the work of juveniles, they added.

The chief said that he is not discounting the possibility that this could have been done by a person who was in the same neighborhood at about 8:29 p.m.

A nearby neighbor of the Latimers was sitting in his bedroom in the darkness, when his front doorbell rang and he went to the door to see who it was. The neighbor told police that a man, standing on the porch, asked for a light for a cigaret. Slamming the door shut, the neighbor called police, who made an unsuccessful search for the suspect.

The unknown man was described as being between 26 and 30 years old, five feet eight or nine inches tall, dark skinned, dark hair, and wearing a three-quarter length jacket, and appeared to be unshaven, although he did not have a full beard.

On Saturday, November 26, police were called to investigate (Continued on Page 11)

Vandals Smash School Windows

Vandals broke 26 windows of the Monteith School sometime between 12:30 p.m. on Friday, November 25, and 3 p.m. on Sunday, November 27, it was reported to Woods police by Charles Castle, school janitor.

Castle, who discovered the broken windows when he arrived at the school Sunday, told police that all the damaged windows faced the west rear playground.

Four 20x24-inch glass on a center door on the west side of the building were smashed, as were seventeen 11x16-inch windows on the south side of the northwest wing; and five 11x16-inch windows on the west side of the wing.

William C. Oddy Resigns As Councilman in GP Park

William C. Oddy of 806 Three Mile drive, resigned from the Park council on Monday, November 28, with the resignation taking effect immediately. He has held this post since 1952.

Oddy, in his letter of resignation, asked that he be relieved of all duties, and cited pressure of personal business. He was mayor pro tem, councilman of finance, and Park representative on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Matthew Patterson, on behalf of the council and the people of the community, accepted the resignation with deep regret, and promptly announced the appointment of Councilman Robert Hutton as mayor pro tem; and Councilman John Doelle, as councilman of finance.

A successor to fill Oddy's unexpired term, which runs to April 1967, is expected to be named by the mayor at the next regular meeting of the city body on December 12. Also to be named at a later date, is the city's new representative on the County Board of Supervisors.

Oddy was first appointed to the council by Mayor Homer Fritsch in 1952, when he was named to succeed A. J. Bloodsworth, who resigned. Oddy sought to be returned to the council in April 1953, but was defeated at the polls.

In June, 1953, he was reappointed again, by Mayor Fritsch, to fill a council seat (Continued on Page 3)

Neighborhood Club Starts New Building

$300,000 Structure To Replace Former Headquarters On Waterloo In City

Ground breaking for the new Neighborhood Club building in Waterloo avenue between Neff and St. Clair, was held at 9:30 Tuesday morning, November 29. The ceremony was attended by City officials, the Board of Trustees of the Neighborhood Club as well as the volunteers and members of the board of the Thrift Shop.

Land given to the Neighborhood Club in 1941 by the late Dexter M. Ferry Jr., and until now used as a parking lot, is the site of the new building. It is scheduled to open in the winter of 1967 and will take the place of the former clubhouse which stood across the street.

David E. Burgess, Mayor of the City of Grosse Pointe, commented: "When the Neighborhood Club was forced to move, it carried on its recreational activities in the schools and churches and realized the need of a central club house for our teen youth. I am delighted that now the City of Grosse Pointe will have a Center comparable to those in other communities."

Contemporary Structure

Since the sale of the old clubhouse and play field to the Board of Education, Mrs. James F. McClelland Jr. and the Building Committee have been working on drawings with the architect, A. O. Schmidt.

Plans call for a contemporary styled building containing two large recreation rooms, each 40 by 60 feet, a lobby, offices and the Thrift Shop.

John H. Kressbach, Manager of the City of Grosse Pointe, is "extremely pleased" the Neighborhood Club is providing a Drop-in-Center for the use and enjoyment of the youth in the community.

The contract for the new club house was awarded to the firm of Albert D. Thomas, Jr., Inc. the low bidder, and the cost is estimated at $300,000. Funds for this have come principally from the sale of the old property, the endowment fund and income from the Thrift Shop.

Furnishing this building in a practical and attractive way has not been included in the above estimate. The Neighborhood Club is anticipating and hoping for the continued interest from their friends in supporting this part of the project.

Serves Many Residents

Mrs. W. Warren Sheldon, president, and members of the board of trustees of the Neighborhood Club have spent the past several years in planning the best approach to continue the needed activities in the community. A total attendance of 85,000 persons for all activities in 1966 was anticipated. The recreational activities are self-supporting from memberships, dues and Thrift Shop donations. The Social Service Program is subsidized by the United Community Service.

J. Harold Husband, acting Superintendent of Grosse Pointe's public schools, expressed the sentiments of many people when he said: "We are most fortunate that the generous gift of the Helen Newberry Joy Foundation has provided a large play field and made possible the building of a TeenCenter by the Neighborhood Club for the use of all the Pointes."

BITTEN BY GUINEA PIG

The Wayne County Board of Health called City Police to report that Mrs. Mary Berger, 789 Loraine, had been bitten by a guinea pig. Officer W 1111 a m Plumb took the report, which stated that Mrs. Berger was bitten on the left index finger while feeding the guinea pig on Wednesday, November 23. The guinea pig died and his body was taken to Herman Kiefer Hospital for a rabies diagnosis. Mrs. Berger was treated at Bon Secours Hospital. Micro tests were negative.

BOY INJURED

Christopher Spada, 11, of 1127 Kensington, was conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital by Park police on Thursday, November 25, when he fell against the front porch of his house while playing. He suffered a fractured knee.

Hit-Run Driver Receives Ticket

Russell H. Nutter Jr., 263 Cloverly, was traveling east on Waterloo on Friday, November 25, when a Plymouth going north on Notre Dame failed to stop at the stop sign on Waterloo.

The two cars collided. The Plymouth backed up to clear the intersection and kept going, even after a passenger in Nutter's car tried to detain him. Witnesses took the license number of the car and it was found to belong to Michael D. Dowling, 14434 Rosemont.

City police contacted Dowling and asked him to report to the station. He readily admitted the involvement in the accident. He was issued a ticket for leaving the scene of an accident.

Juveniles Damage 66 Cars In Park Streets, Garages

Three Park juveniles who had gone up and down side streets and into garages and senselessly damaged car equipment, "just for something to do," were arrested by Park police on Wednesday, November 23.

The juveniles, all boys, two of whom are 13 years old, and the third, 12 years old, have been filed against with Juvenile Court authorities on charges of malicious destruction of property. It was revealed by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

The chief said that the boys had caused damage to approximately 66 cars within a short space of time. The youngsters were released to their parents, until a hearing date in Juvenile Court.

Amnesia Victim Aided by Police

A report was made to the City Police on Thursday, November 24, that a teenage girl was lying on the ground on the corner of Cadieux and Jefferson. Officer Donald Ludlow reported to the scene and found the young girl suffering from temporary amnesia. Ludlow escorted the girl to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment.

The girl was discovered to be an epileptic and apparently had suffered a seizure. Upon coming to, she stated that she had been visiting her father on Dickerson avenue in Detroit. She had stepped outside to catch a breath of fresh air and then did not recall anything until coming to the hospital. She is an Alabama resident.

She was released to her aunt after treatment.

ERRANT DRIVER

Louis A. Zeig, 47, of 4121 Harvard, ticketed on Sunday, November 27, by Woods police for driving through a red light at the Mack-Bournemout intersection, was given a second ticket for driving without a valid Michigan operator's license. The license he showed the arresting officer had expired on August 14, 1965.

DAMAGE COMPLAINT

Farms police recorded a complaint received from Mrs. Frances Bono of 484 Elizabeth court, on Thursday, November 24, in which she stated that while her car was parked in front of 462 Bournemout, where she was visiting, someone threw an unknown object that smashed her windshield.

he had seen tampering with his automobile parked in front of his house.
Police car crews were dispatched to the area to search for the juveniles.
Det. James LaPratt came upon two of the youngsters, who fled when the officer approached. One boy climbed over a fence and into an alley behind a Beaconsfield property, and escaped. The second boy did not quite make it because he was apprehended by the detective.

At the Park station, where he was questioned by LaPratt, the arrested boy confessed to his part in the property destruction, and gave the detective the names of the lads who had been with him. The boys' companions were picked up at their homes. All three admitted they were responsible for the wanton destruction, "because they wanted something to do."
"The three boys are lucky they were not shot by one of the home owners," Chief Louwers said. "The two boys are also lucky they were not shot at while climbing over the fence."

"Of the number of cars damaged by the youngsters, only one owner called the police," Chief Louwers said. "It was only through a search of the area, and by the boys' confession, that it was made known how many cars were involved. The parents of the boys are responsible for the actions of their children under State Law, and therefore must make restitution," he added.

Movie Council Raps Code

responsibility should be assumed by the movie people for those who lack parental supervision, for the guidance of young adults, the uneducated, etc., all of whom "buy" their product. We have social guardians to check where parents may be neglectful, i.e., drinking and driving regulations, health standard requirements. Certainly, mental and emotional health is affected, to the detriment of society many times, by a constant diet of violence, sex, crime and obscenity via movies, books or magazines.

Don't Want Legislation
We do not propose censorship by legislation. It is better, of course, to exercise discretion and moral courage by choice. We encourage creativity with good taste and sensitivity.

The apparent box office success of recently sensational, profane films should frighten us. Buying a ticket to a questionable movie supports it. We will probably get more films of this kind. How abject has our way of life become? Is this what we, the public, really want to see in our leisure time?

In our own Grosse Pointe area, there is a declining availability of matinees for children. Two local theater managers have told us that they do not care to appeal to juvenile audiences. We have been informed that when a first-run movie is booked, the manager must show it at all performances. He may not substitute with a film more suitable for youngsters or he will be unable to secure first-run films. Thus, the distributors pressure the theater managers to show what they want, not what the neighborhood which they serve may want!

Center Is Helping!
To fill the void of matinees, the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is co-sponsoring a daytime movie for youngsters in our community. On Wednesday, December 23, "The Outlaw Stallion" plus cartoons will be shown at the Fries Auditorium at 10, 1 and 3 p.m. Ticket donation of 50c will help defray expenses. If this pilot venture is successful more matinees will be forthcoming. The 33 area schools and churches who comprise the Motion Picture Council are dedicated to stimulating interest in better films.

The Code of the Motion Picture Association states that it "is designed to keep in closer harmony with the mores, the culture, the moral sense and the expectations of our society." We commend this declaration, but it is only the beginning. With inherent restrictions in enforcing the Code, it will be difficult for this group to make an impact on the industry as a whole. Let us hope these major producers, by showing integrity

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

Used Car 2 1/2 / 50 Power Train Warranty

The factory-backed warranty will cover your purchase of any used 1964, 1965 or 1966 Ford Motor Company car that has been certified and registered by a participating dealer.

Here's what we mean by it being good for 2 years or a total of 50,000 miles of operation. Say you buy a car with 30,000 miles. Then you're covered for another 20,000 miles. For a total of 50,000 miles. But maybe you don't drive that much. Maybe it would take you several years to run up a total of 50,000 miles. If so, we measure your warranty period in time. That's where the "2 years" part comes in. Two years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. With this unique factory-backed warranty . . . you never have to pay more than $25 for any single repair that's covered.

Only one more thing to know. Warranty coverage stops 5 years after the car was made.

Ford Motor Company warrants to Purchaser of used 1-, 2- or 3-year-old Ford-built cars certified and registered by an authorized Dealer, that the Dealer, using genuine new Ford or Ford Authorized Reconditioned parts, will repair, free of charge including related labor, any Power Train part which fails in normal use and service within (1) 24 months from the termination of the New Car Warranty (or from the date the Used Car Warranty is registered, if that is later) or (2) 5 years from the date of production, or (3) 50,000 miles of total operation, whichever comes first.

The Purchaser will pay only the first $25 of the total warranty repair bill and must present his Owner Card or Warranty Certificate.

Power train parts include: engine block, head, and all internal engine parts, oil pan and gaskets, water pump, intake manifold, transmission and all internal transmission parts, torque converter, driveshaft, universal joints, rear axle, and all rear axle internal parts, and rear wheel bearings; but exclude related items such as ignition, electrical, cooling and fuel systems, engine or transmission controls or linkages, manual gearshift lever, clutch or brake assemblies or wheels, tires or tubes.

The Warranty is not transferable and does not apply to failures caused by abuse, neglect or inadequate maintenance.* repairs attempted by non-authorized dealers, accidents or other casualty.

*Every 6 months/6,000 miles: engine oil and filter should be changed, breather cap and air filter cleaned and transmission and axle fluid levels checked. Every 12 months/12,000 miles: air filter (closed ventilation system) emission control valve, thermostat filter and oil breather cap (1964 models) should be replaced, and emission system and carburetor spacer cleaned. Every 36 months/36,000 miles: air filter (open ventilation system) should be replaced, and universal joints (1964-65 models) repacked. (On 1964-65 Lincolns, manifold to water valve hose and choke hose should be replaced every 24 months/30,000 miles. On 1965-66 8-cyl. Mercurys and Comets with air-conditioning, and all 1966 Lincolns, manifold to water valve hose should be replaced, and in all models, engine coolant should be changed every 24 months/36,000 miles.)

Honored at Scout Banquet

CURT LIEBBRAND, left, and HARRISON SPAIN received Scouting's highest ranking, the Eagle Award, when Richard School Boy Scout Troop 74 held its annual banquet and Court of Honor on Monday evening, November 21, at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Over 100 guests watched as 34 boys received their awards. Also honored at the dinner were Scoutmaster and Mrs. Gerald Webster of Rivard boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beever of Fairholm drive, Richard School Principal Ted Jacobs and his wife, and Ray Phebus, the BSA Neighborhood Commissioner.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Eagle Award to Liebbbrand and Spain. Both boys are in the ninth grade at Brownell Junior High School. Curt, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Liebbbrand of Fisher road, is the scribe for the troop. Mr. Beever, former scoutmaster of the troop, returned to present Harrison Spain's award. This is the third time a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Spain of Washington road has received the Eagle award from Troop 74. Harrison, Nick and Bill now share this honor with their father who is also an Eagle Scout. Harrison serves as the Quartermaster.

Rick Rigney and Jim Thomas were advanced to Life Scouts. Star scout rank was awarded to Bob Heels, Mike McGillen and Steve Sarvis. Recruiter awards were won by Rick Linden, Mike Read, Steve Sarvis and Gernot Simon. Jib Bolz became a Second Class scout.

Of the 19 Tenderfoot awards given, 12 also attained Second Class rank. These boys are: Robbie Batten, Bill Cullingford, Jr., Jim Gardner, Rick Hackett, Todd Liebbbrand, Rick Linden, Dave Mooney, Cliff Peabody, Mike Read, Jon Rigney, Mike Stevenson and Greg Wicklund.

Tenderfoot awards went to Dean Freiwald, Jim Gibbs, Jeff Gomley, Todd Hughes, Gernot Simon, Mike Sullivan and Mike Zinn.

Merit Badges were presented to Bill Chosy, Bruce Fralick, Bob Heels, Chris Hughes, Gary Hughes, John Jensen, Rick Koerner, Lincoln Lee, Curt Liebbbrand, Mike McGillen, Rick

Rigney, Steve Sarvis, Harrison Spain, and Jim Thomas. Curt and Harrison earned 11 badges each.

Helping Scoutmaster Gerald Webster are Mr. Don Jones and Mr. Leonard Jensen who serve as assistants. The Junior Leaders in addition to Curt and Harrison, are Bob Knudson, Senior Patrol Leader; Jed Mooney, Quartermaster; John Jensen, Lincoln Lee and Byron Stuck, Instructors; and Joseph P. Thompson, Jr., the Jr. Assistant Scoutmaster.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Troop Committee Chairman Eugene Chosy who introduced the treasurer, Richard Fox; Camping Chairman, John F. Fralick; Advancement, William House; Merit Badges, Don Jones; and Advisors to the troop, Jack Beever and John Spain.

Troop 74 is very proud of the advancements and honors earned by the boys — but it measures its success even more by the number of boys it serves. Last year the troop had 33 boys on the roster. This year 44 boys are registered. They meet every Monday night in the Richard School gym.

"We are sorry to see you leave the council, but we know you have good reasons for this," Mayor Patterson said. "You have served the community well and have given of your time and knowledge for the betterment of the city. The people appreciate what you have done for them."

Oddy, a retired financier, expressed his thanks to the mayor and councilmen, stating that it was a privilege to serve with them, and a greater privilege to have been of service to the residents of the Park.

A resolution that a plaque, properly worded, be prepared and presented to the retired councilman was unanimously approved by Oddy's colleagues.

'Happening' at U-D Leaves Uninitiated Viewer Confused

By Elizabeth Stephens
With a grinding roar from the loud speakers, the flickering of a film deliberately mistfocussed to be broken up by the rafters of a gymnasium, and the slow revolutions of wheeled platform upon which rested sheeted objects of various sizes and shapes, A Happening began.

The occasion was the first presentation in Detroit of a new art form, the place was the University of Detroit and the time was 9 a.m. Sunday, November 20.

For roughly an hour one platform after another was uncovered until all the spectators were mixing, separating, mixing around each other like the ingredients in a slowly stirred pie. Additional flavor was added by almost continuous sound from the loud speakers that blared rock and roll, patriotic songs and sometimes just noise and three cameras from the projection booth showing war pictures, some backwards, and biological studies.

A Happening, like the Bossa Nova, is still too new on the scene to be readily definable. No one impression was permitted the audience who must keep on the move between the circling stages to avoid a collision, especially with several platforms using "live" paint. The concepts, often garish but sometimes clever, showed much originality.

The script was written and acted by members of the Architectural School under the direction of John Patrick Kenney, a young teacher of Architecture at U. of D. and Fine Arts at Wayne State University.

The four foot high platform set on large wheels were slowly propelled around the room by students under the platforms and hardly noticeable in the erratic lighting. One by one Director Kenney uncovered the concepts:

Sex was represented by a group of pretty girls dressed as if for an adagio, who propositioned other male students. It was hard at this point to tell the actors from the audience, which was made of approximately 100 young people. The victims in this pantomime always escaped through a hole in the center of this stage with the loss of perhaps a necktie or shirt.

Medicine was three physicians who callously left their patient on the operating table and joined the throng of spectators. The patient, therefore, performed his own operation with iodine and band-aids.

Politics was depicted by a huge poster of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy that one figure continually whitewashed while another figure played solitaire in apparent disinterest.

Also circling the dimly lit cavernous room was a "pop" funeral. Beatniks made tuneless music at the wake of what was apparently a fallen angel — at least it had feathered wings and long gold hair. Candles and incense were burning and the angel looked deader than dead.

A ghoulish young man held up a live chicken at his "uncovering." By what we were relieved to learn later was a sleight of hand trick, he substituted a dead chicken which he proceeded to de-feather through the whole hour. At the end he was tearing on the bloody entrails. An even more complex form of perversion, if both can be so classified, was the depiction of a carnival barker buying babies for trading stamps — by the pound. These were handed to a solemn young man dressed in a long black soutane who stirred a large soup pot. One of the scattering of adults present, a young mother, confessed to having to leave the room after contemplating this.

A magician impassively sawed on a screaming victim, then with tender concern, tended his caged live rabbits and watered his flowers. In between sawings, he sat reading the newspaper.

The closest to humor was the plight of the young man who painted himself into a corner. He solved this dilemma by simply covering himself with a coat of the same paint.

At the end of an hour the stages stopped revolving and lined up against the wall of the room through which the audience had entered. With an American flag unfurled on the center platform and the strains of "We Shall Overcome" piped through the loud speaker, the line, which exactly spanned the room, moved forward. Like it or not, while the projectors flashed soldiers and bombers and fawns and violets on the walls, the audience was ignominiously squeezed out of the room through the passageway that led past the projection booths, and it was finished.

A discussion period was held afterwards, at which the audience and cast sat down together, for those seeking clarification. Director Kenney stated his opinion that much greater understanding was possible for those who had attended Friday and Saturday evenings' related, but not identical, performances.

They sounded more like A Career than A Happening to us, but you couldn't catch even the third act of this new art form without being intrigued, stimulated, confused—and impressed.

City Posts Filled By Park Council

Three re-appointments to city posts recommended by Mayor Matthew Patterson, were approved by the Park Council on Monday, November 28. Two were for seats on the Merit Board and one on the Board of Review.

Re-appointed to serve another four years as the representative of the council and city administration on the Merit Board was Kenneth B. Hollidge of 1051 Audubon.

Selected, again, to represent Park employees on the Board, by the employees themselves and backed by the mayor, was John F. Dodge of 1035 Yorkshire. The term is also for four years.

Named to another three-year term on the Board of Review was Earl R. Perkins of 760 Grand Marais boulevard.

The terms of all three representatives expire on January 1, 1967.

Officials for the posts are recommended by the mayor and must receive approval of the city council, under a provision of the Park City Charter.

The Merit Board hears and rules on grievances submitted by city employees; the Board of Review meets once or twice a year, to review tax assessment complaints.

There are five members on the Merit Board, four of whom are appointed by the council for four-year terms, and a fifth, elected by the Board from the city-at-large, who serves for two years. The latter must be a resident-taxpayer.

The Board of Review is comprised of three Park residents, all of whom must be approved by the council, and all of whom serve a three-year tenure.

Sales up, profits rising...

But will his business outlive him?

One of those days when your phone means so much

Whoops!
The folks.
And earlier than expected.
So, you call the neighbor for the roll-away bed you borrowed last time.
The butcher for a bigger roast.
The girl next door to pick up the children.
Five calls to cancel the Neighborhood Mothers' meeting.
And finally, you call your sister-in-law to tell her that they've arrived.
What else in your home does so much for you, and costs so little?

A well-established business is one of the most productive and satisfying forms of wealth a man can create.

And perhaps the most perishable.

To endure, a family business must have sound successor management, must withstand the impact of estate taxes.

And because a business requires exceptionally able, alert handling during estate administration, particular attention should be given to the choice of an Executor.

Successful businessmen have found it highly productive to discuss these vital matters with their attorneys and a trust officer from the National Bank of Detroit.

If a business belongs in your family's future, we invite you to arrange an early appointment. Write or phone Edgar B. Galloway, Vice President (965-6000, ext. 2182).

Mrs. John Huntington thought there should be a clock in the Village for shoppers and business people. She made the suggestion to her mother, Mrs. William Rust Pierce. The result is the new clock on the Walton-Pierce building, corner of Kercheval and St. Clair. It is 4' x 4', encased in stainless steel. The face is white translucent, illuminated plexiglas with dark blue numerals.

Pointers Had Lead Roles In Torch Drive Success

Residents in the Eastern Wayne area, including the Grosse Pointes, contributed a total of $413,326 to the 1966 Torch Drive in the house-to-house canvass. This figure represented 104.8 percent of quota.

Small businesses contributed $56,651 or 126.1 percent of quota.

Total drive collections soared to an all-time high of $27,435,045, largest amount ever collected by any united fund in the world. The total represents 110 percent of the $24.95 million goal.

The money raised in the tri-county (Wayne, Oakland and Macomb) area will underwrite the 1967 budgets of 54 health and medical services, 68 character building services, 32 child care agencies and 25 health research services.

In 18 successful campaigns, the United Foundation has raised more than $310 million for the voluntary support of health and community services.

Torch Drive General Chairman Ben D. Mills, vice-president, purchasing, Ford Motor Co., said:

"This drive succeeded far beyond what I believed possible. It reflects the fact the UP has built on solid ground and also demonstrates the affection this community holds for the UP and its agencies."

He paid tribute to this year's 130,000 hard-working volunteers, the news media, labor, management and contributors.

"The contributors of this community are the most concerned, best informed and most generous in the world," he declared.

"It is obvious they appreciate the UP, believe in its objectives, trust it, and put their money where their trust is."

UP President Wendell W. Anderson Jr., of Grosse Pointe, presented Mills, a Bloomfield Hills resident, with a silver plaque "as token of affection and admiration expressing the gratitude of the volunteer workers and contributors as well as the thousands who will benefit from his untiring efforts."

The Benson Ford Trophy, presented annually to the unit achieving the highest percentage of quota, was awarded Ben C. Maibach Jr., chairman of the Torch Drive building and transportation unit which attained 111 percent of quota. President of Barton-Malow Co., Maibach lives in Redford Township.

The presentation was made by Ford, honorary chairman of the UP board of directors and chairman of the 1955 campaign. Under his direction that year the Torch Drive passed the $15 million mark and moved to the top as the world's leading united campaign. A Grosse Pointe, Ford is vice president of Ford Motor Co.

The 1965 Torch Drive under the chairmanship of Joseph L. Hudson Jr., another Grosse Pointe resident, raised $25,778,441.

WELL EARNED REWARD

Charles Thompson, crossing guard at Kercheval avenue and Cadieux road walked into the City Police station and requested permission to give chocolate bars on Fridays to the three patrol boys who help at his crossing. He said "they're such nice, hard working kids, I just wanted to do something for them."

Potter is unequaled in the "38 Doors" area.

The name is mother of pearl inlaid in black lacquer.

Originally a desk plaque, Mr. Potter decided to use the exotic sign as the inside designation of his office when the firm of Beauchamp, Potter and Louisell was dissolved, and he moved from Detroit to the Pointe location. It was the gift of Joseph A. Gillis, who recently ran for Judge of Recorders Court.

A long-time collector of Oriental art, Judge Gillis sent the gift to Mr. Potter, in whose Detroit office he served his first apprenticeship, when he was in Okinawa serving as an administrative officer for the air base during World War II.

Lacquer work, especially the Raden — inlaid shell and metal — is a disappearing art today. Shell fishing was destroyed in the shallow waters off Okinawa by the sinking of hundreds of large ships during that war and in a typhoon immediately after, with the contamination of the waters from stores of fuel and gasoline aboard the vessels. The use of lacquer for boxes of every kind, sake cups, trays, sword scabbards, writing materials, and the small medicine cases worn at the belt, reached its peak of style and technique at the end of the 16th century in Japan.

Lac is made of the sap of the Rhus vernicifera tree and similar species. Applied to seasoned soft-grained wood, or sometimes metal, and dried not by heat but in damp airtight cabinets, lacquer that has been repeatedly applied and dried may be ground to any fineness and given a brilliant polish. Thus treated, surfaces become extremely hard, impervious to heat or acid, and will last centuries.

"The S.S. Nile, returning the Japanese exhibits displayed at the Vienna Exhibition of 1873, was wrecked, but when the cargo was salvaged 17 months afterward, the wonderfully lacquered cabinets and stands were found to be unharmed by their immersion in seawater."

In addition to the beauty of this example of an ancient

Next we visit the great stone circle of Amesbury, which is one of the most important megalithic monuments in Europe. We will view the white stone horses cut in the downs of Wiltshire county.

Wales produces a country animal fair for us as we head towards Aberystwyth, best known Wales resort.

craft, Mr. Potter's name has been etched in Korean below the inlaid letters by the artist, Benjo of Naha, Okinawa.

Heading north to Scotland, we will walk along Hadrian's wall (74 miles in length and dating back to 122 A.D.). We will see the highland countryside with its castles and long haired cattle. In Edinburgh, we visit the great castle and see the Tattoo with its spectaculars. Did you ever see a king penguin parade? It happens every day at the Edinburgh zoo.

Farmed Loch Lomond is our next destination. We will cruise to the Hebrides with a look at the historic island of Iona where Scottish, Irish and Norwegian kings lie buried in the 13th century cemetery. Staffa, Isle of Pillars, is another stop to film Fingal's cave. In Aberdeen we will see docks clogged with fishing vessels and loads of fish for auction.

We cross over to Ireland—the country of castles, abbeys and cemeteries—with their celtic crosses. A jaunting car will carry us around the Killarney lakes and on to Blarney castle to kiss the famous Blarney stone. Picturesque scenes of peat bogs, thatched houses and stone fences and hedges line the roads. We will go to Galway and take a boat to the Aran Islands where we load on sheep and cattle, watching them being floated out to our boat in unique tarred canvas boats.

The Moher cliffs make up a spectacular coast line with berak-taking views looking down to the sea. We will stop to see the weavers in Donegal's Tweed mills and then go on north to the Giants Causeway, where great columns of rock have been forced upright to form a legendary forest of five sided stepping stones.

Movie lovers who have seen any of Mr. Zwickey's other fine films will surely not want to miss his current presentation.

Students at Marie School Make Annual Pilgrimage to Nation's Capital

Eighty-five children and 38 adults tired and happy people returned from the Marie School's 14th annual sixth grade tour to Washington, D.C., Sunday night, November 5. This trip, sponsored by the Marie Elementary PTA is the only of its kind in the Grosse Pointe School system.

The group departed at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, November 3, from the Fort Street Station in the midst of a snow storm and arrived in Washington Friday morning amid blue skies and warm sunshine. They proceeded to the Capitol Building for the official picture taking, then toured the Capitol.

After lunch the group visited the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, where currency is minted, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Archives Building where they saw the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, and other priceless historical documents. The tour group stopped for dinner at the Manger Annapolis Hotel, then climaxed their first day with a night tour of Washington, which included a stop at the Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, and ascension of the Washington Monument where they saw the breath-taking sight of Washington at night.

Saturday began with a special conducted tour of the White House, prior to public visiting hours. This tour, arranged by Lucien Nedzi, included the private library, the china room, and other rooms not usually open to the public. The next

David Ehlerl and Miss Margaret Watkins of the Monteith faculty helped the committee select books for the Fair.

Everyone is invited to come, look over and purchase books for children from the excellent collection at the Book Fair.

stop was Arlington National Cemetery where they saw the statue of flag raising at Iwo Jima, the impressive viewing of the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and paid their respects at the Kennedy gravesite.

They finished the morning with a bus tour through the streets of historic Alexandria, Va., and a visit to Mount Vernon. After lunch the group visited the Space Center at the Smithsonian Institute where they saw John Glenn's capsule, followed by a visit to the Institute of History and Technology at the Smithsonian. After a short drive past the various embassies, a tired but happy band boarded the train for the return trip, back to the land of snow.

The tour was organized and supervised enroute by co-chairmen Mrs. Philip Dickinson and Mrs. John Dodge. Travel arrangements were made by G. W. Lindstrom, who accompanied the group and whose experience was an invaluable asset in making the trip a success.

Reckless Driver Nabbed in Woods

Michael J. Downey, 28, of 20217 Valera, St. Clair Shores, was arrested by Woods police on Wednesday, November 15, and charged with driving under the influence of liquor.

The arresting officer, Patrolman Theodore Hinz, said while patrolling Mack avenue, he observed Downey traveling north on the avenue, and going through a red signal light at high speed, and then drive in an erratic manner. Hinz gave chase.

At Fairholme, Downey turned east onto the street, at which time he lost control and the car "fish-tailed," and the driver brought it to a stop, with the vehicle facing north-south. The street is east-west.

The officer said that in trying to straighten out the car, Downey drove over the south curb, and then drove down and over to the north side of the street, and then from curb-to-curb, narrowly missing a parked automobile in front of 1455 Fairholme, but bounced off a curb in front of it.

Hinz said Downey sped through a stop street at Holiday at 40 miles an hour, then drove left of center and into the path of a car traveling west, forcing the driver to veer to avoid a collision.

The policeman said he stopped Downey between Ghesquiere court and Berns court, and placed him under arrest. A passenger in the car was released.

Downey was taken to the station, where he was given a violation ticket for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was later released on $150 bond, pending a court appearance.

Accuse Motorist Of Drunk Driving

A Detroit motorist who nearly collided with a Park police car while speeding east on Mack avenue Saturday evening, November 26, was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated.

Patrolmen Charles Petrie and Gary Mitchell reported that they were cruising east on the avenue when they observed Edward F. Darlak, 44, of 2951 Heade, Detroit, crossing over the double yellow line, at the Balfour intersection, and into the path of oncoming traffic.

In swerving back to the proper lane, Darlak nearly collided with their scout car, as he cut in front of them, the officer said.

Darlak was paced at 40 miles an hour and was stopped at Three Mile drive. He was placed under arrest and taken to the station, where he was booked and charged.

The motorist was given a violation ticket for driving while under the influence of liquor, and later released on $150 bond. His court appearance was scheduled for yesterday, November 30, before Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger.

Burglar Visits Farms Residence

A burglar forcibly entered the home of the Kenneth Teitzes, 2185 Beaufort, on Sunday, November 27, and escaped with approximately $400 in cash and several items, the values of which were not given.

Thomas Teitze, 26, who discovered the break-in, told police that he was the last to leave the house, and before leaving, at 8:10 p.m., Saturday, he turned on the light in the family room. When he returned at 12:30 a.m. Sunday, he said he found the house in darkness and three upstairs bedrooms in complete disorder.

He said he checked his bedroom to see if anything was missing, and found $80 he had placed atop his bedroom dresser gone.

His father, Kenneth, 51, who came home shortly after, told police that the thief took $130 from his dresser drawer, plus his wallet containing $80 in currency and credit cards, and a paper bag with approximately $30 in change.

His wife told police that missing from the front bedroom was $100 in cash, a walker, and a gold colored travel clock.

Also taken from the house, the Teitzes said, was a blue shark skin suit belonging to the elder Teitze, an undetermined amount of liquor from the upstairs closet, and a tape recorder. The burglar entered the house by prying open the door at the east side of the house.

Monteith P-TA Meeting Dec. 6

The second P-TA meeting of Monteith School will be held Tuesday evening, December 6, at 8 o'clock. In conjunction with the P-TA meeting will be a Book Fair beginning at 7:30 o'clock December 6.

The Fair will be open for the rest of that week from 12 noon to 8 every evening. The books will be displayed in the foyer at Monteith School, (this is an excellent opportunity for you to purchase attractive books as Christmas presents for children).

"Your Public Libraries in Action" will be presented by Robert M. Orr, director of Grosse Pointe Public Libraries. Assisting Mr. Orr will be Miss Harriet Helms, chief of Children's Services; Mrs. Vincent Leonard, chief of Processing; Mrs. Robert Booth, acting chief of the Central Library; James Titterton, Audio-Visual Department head; Mrs. Jay McCormick, Circulation Department head; Mrs. Donald Seifert, Woods Branch librarian; and Miss Gerda Bielitz, Park Branch librarian. They will pictorially present the work of the departments.

The presentation has been prepared as an official report to the Board of Education on the work of the Public Library. While the Public Library staff firmly believes in the importance of the printed word, they also realize there is truth in the adage "A picture is worth a thousand words."

Mr. Orr states that the many groups which have seen the presentation have been very much impressed with the scope of the services available at the public library, and especially the emphasis given to non-book materials. Use of the public libraries' films, records, tape music, tools and framed art prints, for example, has been booming.

The Monteith P-TA cordially invited everyone to attend the Book Fair and look over the excellent collection of approximately 800 children's books which have been assembled for purchase.

Vandals

The burglary and vandalism were discovered by the Drolshagens' son, Leo, Jr., who resides next door to his parents. The younger Drolshagen told police that no one had been in the house from 4 p.m. Friday, November 25, to about 5:17 p.m. Saturday, at which time he discovered what had taken place.

Entry into the house was made by breaking the glass of the French doors at the rear of the house. The house was completely ransacked.

Det. Lt. Arnold Hough said that there is no doubt that the Latimer and Drolshagen burglaries were by the same person, or persons, apparently looking only for money. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

Probably because of frustration, the burglar slashed the living room sofa and chair seats, and gouged other furniture, besides scattering flour, sugar and other ingredients throughout the kitchens of both homes, the detective said.

PTA at Ferry Meets Dec. 6

The Tuesday night, December 6, meeting of the Ferry School P.T.A. will take on an international flair through the attendance and program presented by the eight foreign exchange students who are attending Grosse Pointe High School as members of the Senior Class.

There are seven countries represented by the eight students; four under the American Field Service program, and four affiliated with the Youth For Understanding program.

The four AFS students are Feride Alp from Turkey, Lee Johnson from South Africa, Pauline Loong from Malaysia and Kurt Stefaner from Germany. The four YFU students are Margareta Nyberg from Sweden, Susanne Stallman from Germany, Velkko Nurminen from Finland, and Masashi Tachibana from Japan.

The students will each have an opportunity to talk before the members of the PTA about the various Christmas customs and traditions of their native land. It will be one of the first appearances of the group before an audience since they started to school here this fall and with the theme of "Christmas in My Country," the program should be one that everyone will enjoy.

Before coming to the school gymnasium for the program, parents will have a chance to visit their children's rooms. These visits will start at 7:30. After the program, which is scheduled to take place right after the short business meeting at 8:15, the parents, teachers and guests are invited to the Activities Room for refreshments. Co-chairman for the social hour are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pickford and serving on their committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rice.

Kalvelage Stars As Chiefs Win

By William A. Gill
The Grosse Pointe Chiefs beat the Mt. Clemens hockey team by the score of 9 to 2 in a game played at Gord Howe Hockeyland Sunday night.

Doug Kavelage scored three goals, which in hockey jargon is known as the "Hat Trick". This is Doug's first year in the juvenile division and he is playing like an old pro.

His first goal was at 2:07 of the first period on fine passing from George Mercer and Tom Buckman. The second score was at 2:51 of the second period on another good passing job from George Mercer and George Griffin. The third goal was on a break-away at the 1:05 mark of the last period. This scoring spree makes Doug the highest scorer the Chiefs have with 4 goals and 3 assists.

The undefeated Chiefs wasted no time in scoring. They scored in the first minute of play when Tom Buckman took a pass from George Mercer and slammed the puck into the net. Fifteen seconds later Tom Buckman scored again on a pass out from Doug Kavelage.

The Grosse Pointers just rolled over the Mount Clemens team with goals by Greg Carpenter, Adam Perkowski, Tom Bradley and George Mercer.

The next game for the Grosse Pointe Chiefs will be played at Gord Howe Hockeyland at 10 p.m. Sunday, December 4, against Warren.

Adult Ski Club Sets Gatherings

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Adult Grosse Pointe Ski Club is planning a conditioning get together Monday evening, December 5, at 8 o'clock in Fries Ballroom.

Personnel from Head Skis and the Grosse Pointe Ski Shop will be in charge of the program which will feature group participation and conditioning for the slope.

Library Offers Yule Movies

The special Christmas Film Programs will be held at Central Library in the Exhibition Room on December 2 at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. The same program will be repeated on Saturday, December 3, at 10:30 a.m. at the Woods Branch and at 2:30 p.m. at the Park Branch. The film program has been especially planned to add to the excitement and enchantment of the holiday season for both children and adults.

SANTA AND THE FAIRY SNOW QUEEN — The Fairy Snow Queen gives life to Santa's dolls on Christmas Eve. Jack-in-the-box, toy soldier, musical doll, and other dolls dance and sing for Santa. Musical background: Tchaikowsky's "Nutteracker Suite."

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS, NEAR AND FAR — Origins of many of our Christmas customs, Children of German, Swedish, Mexican, Italian and Chinese descent enact typical Christmas celebrations of those countries.

SANTA CLAUS SUIT — Experiences of one who would not believe in Santa Claus without seeing him in person. An unsuccessful attempt to fool him with a Santa Claus suit; a surprising climax awakens him to true Christmas spirit.

The evening program is for children accompanied by adults; the two daytime programs on December 3 are for adults and children too but may be attended by children unaccompanied by adults.

The Grosse Pointe Public Library has Christmas records and tapes available for the holiday season. These items are listed by title and composer in special drawers at the general public catalog in each building.

Brownell Pupils Plan for Future

High school may still be 10 months away by the calendar for Brownell Junior High School's ninth grade students, but planning for future study is beginning right now. Tonight, Thursday, December 1, at 8 o'clock all ninth graders and their parents are invited to an informational meeting with counselors to learn of basic course requirements for graduation from Grosse Pointe High School. Brownell Counselors Robert Clark, Neil Curtis, and Mrs. Mary Wernet will be assisted by counselors from the high school who will answer questions on specific courses as well as college and university requirements.

Basic preparation for the three-year plan of high school studies is being made in Brownell's ninth grade guidance classes using profiles of the recently administered Kuder Interest Inventory and percentile scores from the Differential Aptitude Tests, which were taken last year. In addition, achievement test scores in math and reading will be furnished students by their counselors, enabling them to plan realistically with parents for specific high school courses.

Individual appointments will be made during January and February so that parents, students, and counselors may finalize the three-year plan.

Pointers Get Sports Awards at DePauw

Greencastle, Ind. (Spl.) — Rick Tomkinson and Bruce Fox of Grosse Pointe have earned varsity athletic awards at DePauw University, where they are sophomores.

Tomkinson picked up his first varsity letter as a starter on DePauw's first intercollegiate soccer team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Tomkinson, 86 Moran road. He attended Western Reserve Academy.

Fox earned a varsity "D" sweater for his work on the college's varsity cross country team. Fox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fox, 11 Radnor circle. He attended Grosse Pointe High School.

St. Paul High's Cage Teams Win

By Jim Brunson
Last year's East Side runner-up, St. Paul High opened the regular basketball season on November 25 by toppling the defending champ, St. Ladislaus, on their own floor, 61-46.

Coach Ed Lauer started juniors Jeff Ploen and Doug Dzuiba at the guardposts, and seniors Mark Smolenski, Pat Corcoran and Dan Sutherland at the center and forward positions.

The Lakers were never behind and encountered only minor difficulty in the third quarter when Smolenski and Sutherland fouled out in quick succession.

The JV's coached by Craig Morris, also won their game by a score of 61-35.

Students Cavort At Talent Show

By Charles Robert
Broadway found a new home in the St. Paul gym-auditorium Sunday evening, November 20. Approximately 180 students displayed their talents to their parents and friends.

The Talent Show, sponsored by the St. Paul Sodality, moderated by Sister Mary Gael, was presented to gain funds for the purchase of turkeys for needy families. Besides raising funds, the Talent Show also gave students an excellent opportunity to use their talents in grasping the true meaning of Thanksgiving.

The agenda for the show was jam-packed with a variety of acts. Each class had its own individual skit, with the senior class presenting a scene from "Oliver," the juniors presenting a segment from "West Side Story," the sophomores showing a portion of "Sound of Music," and the freshmen, coached by Sister Catherine Camille, singing a medley of songs.

Individual presentations ranging from piano to vocal and dance numbers were also presented.

One out of every seven families in this country changes its residence each year.

Ice Team Gives Coach Present

The Grosse Pointe Warriors Juvenile Hockey team celebrated their coach Larry Cournoyer's birthday by defeating the Warren hockey team by a score of 2 to 1.

This hard-hitting, fast moving game was scoreless at the end of the first period. The tie was broken, however, at the 3:31 mark of the second period when Jim Bahnke scored his second goal of the season. He was assisted by Art Renny.

The second goal came at 6:03 when Mike Shaw fired a hot shot in the upper right hand corner, which came from a pass well executed by Jim Allen.

Warren scored at 10:24. Bill Harlan was at his best and only allowed the one goal to score.

The Warriors' defense headed by Capt. Paul Barker, along with Mike Stahl, Roy Dobson, Don Ulmer, Jeff Graybiel and Roger Giza, kept the pressure on the Warren team with their outstanding playing.

The next game for the Warriors will be at McCann Rink on Saturday, December 3, at 6 p.m. against St. Clair Shores.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

There are so many wonderful things happening right now, we hardly know where to begin telling you about them . . .

First off, let's mention two balls, one nicknamed "White Christmas," the other "Snowflake," (how are THOSE for seasonable names?).

The White Christmas Ball is a really BIG party, an annual event sponsored by the Fontbonne Auxiliary of St. John Hospital. It will be held this year December 10, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The Snowflake Ball is slightly more intimate, but no less delightful: It's the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital's annual "Thank You," (to all Cottage volunteers and their friends), dinner-dance.

Just For Fun

Throughout the year, the Auxiliary sponsors many fund-raising projects, benefitting the Hospital, but this one evening is dedicated to just plain fun.

Saturday's table centerpieces at Lochmoor Club will be fashioned of gold fruits, nuts and leaves, and gold candles will illuminate the party scene.

Styrofoam snowflakes will be suspended from the rafters in Lochmoor's main rooms.

Cocktails, served at 7 o'clock, will be followed by dinner and lots of dancing to the music of Herbie Ross' Orchestra.

Dance co-chairmen are Mrs. David W. Hines and Mrs. Edward A. Smith, Jr. Mrs. Ernest G. Moeller is in charge of reservations.

Put On Your Walking Shoes

Let your dancing slippers rest in the closet and put on your walking shoes next Thursday. It's time to tour seven holiday-decorated Pointe homes.

This annual Christmas Walk, sponsored by the Junior Womens' Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is a holiday "must," whatever the weather, (and some years, it's left a good deal to be desired!).

Opening their houses for The 1966 Pointe Walk are Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fisher, III, The Honorable and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, the Walter Schweikarts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Sladen, Jr., the Edgar L. Finks, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight M. Nelson, Jr., and Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman.

Tickets may be obtained at any of these homes, (Continued on Page 19)

Short and to The Pointe

JOHN DALTON PEACOCK, 18, son of MR. and MRS. JOHN D. PEACOCK of University Place, and a senior student at Saint Francis Preparatory School, Spring Grove, Penn., has secured one of the four leading roles in The Prep's annual drama production to be presented December 8. This season's play, "Mr. Roberts," will be performed by the members of the senior, junior and sophomore classes. John will have the role of the "Captain" aboard a Navy cargo ship in the Pacific during WW II.

He is in his fourth year of studies at the prep and will graduate on May 28, 1967. John has won a varsity letter in football, the Intramural League award and honor certificates for his work with the Knights of the Altar. Last year he won a special plaque for his work as a school sacristan in care of the chapel. This year John is co-captain of the cheerleaders, assistant business manager of the annual yearbook, "The Boxwood," school sacristan, and a member of the Intramural League.

Two Grosse Pointe residents have been pledged to a social sorority at the University of Denver. The University's eight sororities pledged 190 at the close of the recent Fall Rush period. Delta Gamma tapped Coral Hollerbach and Julia MacPherson. Miss Hollerbach is the daughter of Mr. N. H. Hollerbach, of Lewiston road. She is a 1966 graduate of St. Paul High School. Miss MacPherson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. MacPherson, of Woodland place, was graduated from Rogers Hall, Howell, Mass.

is one of eight Colgate University students who have been chosen to join the University's Special Studies Project in Madrid during January. Robert L. Hathaway, instructor in the Romance Languages, will accompany the group and direct their studies in contemporary Spanish theater or history of Spanish culture and civilization.

The group will fly by Iberia Airlines, leaving January 3 following Christmas recess, and will remain in Madrid until January 24. Gorey, a freshman at Colgate, intends to major in Spanish. He is a 1966 graduate of the Grosse Pointe University School.

MARCIA LINDLEY, a senior at Alma College, has been selected for inclusion in the 1966-67 volume of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Marcia is the daughter of MRS. Miss Graney Wed To Joseph G. Feutz

Alencon Lace Accents Bride's Ivory Peau de Soie Gown; Attendants Wear Lace-Trimmed Red Velvet Empire Frocks

Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Graney entertained at a reception in their Buckingham road home following the Saturday ceremony at which their daughter, Suzanne Marie Graney, and Joseph Gerald Feutz exchanged marriage vows.

Officiating at the 1 o'clock rites, in St. Clare de Montefalco Church, was The Reverend Norman H. Van Sile, of San Antonio, Tex., a friend of the bride's family.

For her wedding, the former Miss Graney chose an ivory peau de soie gown. Alencon lace accented her natural waistline and formed a deep border on her sheath skirt, and matching lace appliques trimmed her Colonial cuffed sleeves and Chapel train.

Her illusion veil fell from a high lace pillbox, and she carried a bouquet of white and red roses.

Her attendants wore floor length, Empire gowns of red velvet, trimmed with ecru lace, and matching red velvet head circlets. Their bouquets were fashioned of pale yellow mums and wheat.

Acting as her sister's maid of honor was Elizabeth Joan Graney. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Stanley Bydalek, of Grand Rapids, the bridegroom's sister, Kathleen Donovan, of Kalamazoo, and Patricia Graney, sister of the bride.

Junior bridesmaid was Mary Margaret Graney, another sister of the bride, and ring bearer was Jerry Graney, the bride's brother.

William A. Feutz, of Kalamazoo, served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Feutz, of Grand Rapids.

Ushering were John Owens, of Kalamazoo, David Calver, of Birmingham, and Paul M. Graney and Edward J. Graney, the bride's brothers.

A pale pink brocaded jacket dress and a pink-shaded flowered hat were chosen by Mrs. Graney for her daughter's wedding and the reception. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua mist ensemble, and a matching hat.

Both mothers pinned Sweetheart rose corsages to their handbags.

The newlyweds, vacationing in Western Michigan, will be making their home in Norfolk, Va., after December 3.

Committee members will be hostesses on the festive evening.

This is the third event honoring the museum's Patron members, in keeping with Founders Society president William M. Day's belief that Patron members should receive special recognition acknowledging their support of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The Committee hopes to enroll a number of new Patron members in the Founders Society, in order to make them eligible to attend the evening event December 12. Patron members contribute $100 annual membership dues to the Founders Society. Interested individuals are invited to contact the membership office at 831-0360.

Some 600 invitations are in the mail for what sounds like a truly fascinating evening, the Junior Council of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts dinner-symposium, "Insights Into Collecting," scheduled Friday, December 9, in the Sculpture Court of the Museum's South Wing.

Following cocktails and dinner, Mrs. Barnett Malbin, (who has made collecting a personal endeavor), and Albert Landry, (who has made it his profession), will speak and answer questions.

Hostess chairman for the evening Mrs. Walter Robinson will have as her assistants the Mesdames Robert H. Kanzler, Hayes Cottrell, Stanley R. Day, John Jennings, Harry Jewett, II, Robert Scherer, Jr., S. Robert Scott, Henry M. Woodhouse, Thomas O. Muer and Harvey C. Fruehauf, Jr., (Pointers all, including Mrs. Robinson).

Membership in the Junior Council is open to young married and single individuals who would like to participate in a variety of activities as a means of increasing their familiarity with the Detroit Institute of Arts. The only prerequisite is membership in the museum's Founder's Society.

Welcome Home!

So far, we've concentrated on wonderful things about-to-happen—but we'd like to take a moment to tell you about a wonderful, and very personal, thing that DID happen:

Marine Private First Class Daniel L. McCarthy was wounded in Vietnam last August, evacuated to The Philippines and then to the military hospital at Great Lakes, Ill.

This Thanksgiving weekend, he arrived at the Audubon road home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. McCarthy, for his first hospital leave . . . and all the neighbors turned out, bearing American flags and good wishes, to welcome him home!

Now that's a nice kind of upbeat note on which to end a column . . .

Slate Dominican Moms' Meeting

The Dominican High Mothers' Club will hold its monthly meeting in the school cafeteria at 8 o'clock, with president Mrs. Neil Patterson presiding, next Wednesday evening, December 7.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Kenneth Cummins, sophomore vice president, and present a special program of Christmas music under the guidance of Sr. Francis Alice, O.P., in the school auditorium following the Mothers' business session.

The Dominican High Senior Choral Group is scheduled to present a special program of

Garden Clubbers Fete Husbands

Last December, the ladies of the Deeplands Garden Club entertained their husbands at a buffet dinner — and it was such a success they decided to make it an annual affair.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Murray MacDonald and co-hostesses Mrs. Stuart E. Davidson and Mrs. John A. Demorest, members and their husbands will enter Lochmoor Club next Thursday, December 8, after a cocktail hour at the Demorest home in Sunningdale drive.

Among those present will be Dr. and Mrs. John R. Birch, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart E. Davidson, Dr. and Mrs. Windsor S. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Demorest, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hosbein, Mr. and Mrs.

More will be Mr. and Mrs. Murray L. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Munson, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Palmentier, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Thoma, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Weber and Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Whittington.

The following Monday, December 12, the ladies will gather again, sans husbands, for their monthly meeting. This will be a workshop project beginning at 10:30 o'clock, an earlier hour than the usual noon.

The Nutcracker To Be Presented

The Detroit Severo Ballet Company will be featured with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Valter Poole conducting, in a presentation of Tchaikovsky's ballet "The Nutcracker" on Saturday, December 10, in Ford Auditorium.

Performances will be at 11 and 2 o'clock, opening the 14th consecutive season of the Orchestra's Young People's Concerts.

These performances mark the 16th appearance of the Detroit Severo Ballet with the Orchestra, an association which began in 1955 and which introduced youngsters to such ballets as "Swan Lake," "Sleeping Beauty," "Les Sylphides," "Les Patineurs" and "Maddeline."

The three remaining Detroit Symphony Young People's Concerts are scheduled for Saturdays in 1967.

Slate Polish Aid Party-Boutique

The Polish Aid Society's annual dinner party and Boutique Shoppe evening will be held Sunday, December 4, at the Polish Century Club, East Outer drive, north of Seven Mile road, Detroit.

Mrs. Richard J. Gamalski, of Warren, general chairman, and her co-chairman Mrs. John W. Worzniak, of Berkshire road, will greet guests as they enter the dining room, decorated with Christmas trees, twinkling lights and a wall hanging, "Partridge In A Pear Tree," creation of the chairman.

The traditional Opatek, (Christmas Wafer), which is equivalent to breaking bread and wishing friends good tidings for the coming holidays, will again be offered at festive tables centered with emerald green Italian hand-blown mugs filled with mistletoe, greens and a draping of green grapes, tied with red velvet ribbon.

The Boutique Shoppe has been well-stocked with original creations. Among them is a candelabra, its base made of a baluster post shaft painted gold, antiqued in burnt umber, holding a large Christmas Candle. Circling it is a wreath made of boxwood, baby holly and artificial fruit ornaments, purple plums and natural color nuts, and gracefully draped are six clusters of grapes laced with green ivy.

Also to be featured is a child's red-handled broom on whose bristles a plastic foam head, complete with eyes, nose and smiling felt mouth, has been attached. A red felt wide-brimmed hat and a matching red stole draped over the bristles complete the outfit.

Nylon lint brushes, pretty and yet practical to use, are a combination of three colors of shirred nylon net, pinks, purples, golds and greens, mounted on dowels and shaped to clothes-brush size.

The Shoppe will also have traditional dolls dressed in Krakowiaki, (native costumes), holiday aprons, jeweled ornamental balls, Christmas tree skirts, and topiary trees of greens and gold balls.

Among the many working for the December 4 affair are Mrs. Eugene Schultz, of Oxford road; Mrs. Stanley Formanik, of Lakeshore lane; Mrs. Henry Shell, of Fontana road; Mrs. Stanley J. Tutag, of Cloverly road; Mrs. Henry Fytell, of Lothrop road; Mrs. Frank Worzniak, of Lennon road, and Mrs. Frank G. Schemanske.

Like the rest of Georgian East...

Even Our Door Is The Finest!

Georgian East's doorway has excited admiration. It was inspired by an elegant English example created in 1708 by Sir Christopher Wren. It was designed by Gerald R. Watland, specialist in 18th Century American architecture.

Georgian East's doorway is notable for its strength and purity, its richness of detail. The Corinthian columns, topped by the traditional acanthus capitals, are hand-carved in perfect pine. The exquisite fan light, the classic architrave that swoops up to a carved Georgian urn, the curved cornice enriched by bracket-like modillions—these are but some of the many authentic details that make up Georgian East's exceptional doorway.

True, the design of its doorway is not the most important thing about a convalescent-nursing residence. But our doorway is important because it is typical of Georgian East, where the care provided patient-guests meets only one standard: The best.

We would be pleased to have you inspect our facilities. Please telephone or visit us at your convenience.

New Cookbook Available Free

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's Holiday Cookbook is now available to the public in all company branch offices, according to Mrs. Peggy Thompson, director of home service. "All recipes in this year's edition have been carefully selected and tested to help our customers enjoy a happier holiday season," she said. Graduate home economists have been working nearly a year in advance; sorting countless recipes, thoroughly testing them, and carefully choosing the ones selected for publication. Centering around the "Twelve Days of Christmas" theme, this year's recipe collection contains many new recipes as well as some old favorites. Included are recipes for holiday appetizers, beverages, yeast and quick breads, cookies, cakes, a delightful recipe for Tennessee Fruitcake, main dishes, vegetables, salads, and desserts. There is also a poultry chart showing time required for roasting poultry of various kinds and sizes. Mrs. Thompson points out that these holiday cookbooks are available free, and may be picked up at any company branch office, or at the main office, One Woodward avenue.

Center to Hold English Evening on December 3

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's annual pre-holiday "Evening in Britain" will take place in the Center's Crystal Ballroom and Fries Auditorium the evening of Tuesday, December 13, at 7 o'clock.

For the first time the Center's Christmas lights will be turned on and its big Christmas Trees be up and trimmed.

Adding to the glamor of the occasion will be the Grosse Pointe Chamber singers directed by William Y. Gard. They will appear in Elizabethan costume and will begin the dinner with the traditional boar's head procession.

Following dinner they will be heard in a concert of traditional English airs in Fries Theater, which concert will be concluded with guests joining in singing a round of carols.

Color movies of Britain will be shown to complete the evening's entertainment.

Dinner fare will be roast beef and Yorkshire pudding with all trimmings. The meal will be concluded with holly-decked, flaming plum pudding.

Banquet, concert and movie are all included for $4 (no tax or service added). Paid reservations are requested at the Center by December 10.

GIBB'S WORLD-WIDE-WINES IMPORTED & AMERICAN WINES, CHAMPAGNES, BEER & CIGARS
With Christmas holidays here again, gift buying for your friends and entertaining become the most important thoughts in our minds. Most folks like wines, and this can be an easy gift to buy and always welcome. The first step would be to set a price for each gift of wine. For folks who use wine with the main course of dinner, dry wines would be right. A combination, some whites like, Chablis, Pinot-Chardonay, White Burgundy, German Rhine & Mosel, etc., all these are on the dry side. Then the reds, like French Burgundies, Bordeaux, Beaujolais, Rhone, etc. California Varietal reds like, Cabernet-Sauvignon, Pinot-Noir, Zinfandel, etc., all on the dry side. Champagne makes an excellent gift, there are Semi-Sweet, Extra-Dry, Brut (generally very dry), Pink, Cold-Duck, Sparkling-Burgundy, etc., in all sizes.
We specialize in fine wines from all over the world such as, from Germany, France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, Israel, Greece, Yugoslavia, Chile, Argentina, Australia, Japan, Ireland, Austria, Hungary, Cyprus, England, Poland, and others. Many of these fine wines are inexpensive, others as high as you wish to pay. We have many rare old wines available in many old vintages. These all make fine gifts.
Wines offer many fascinating interests. The labels picturesque, as well as informative. For the bottles decorative, each colour and shape informative as for the wine, tall long neck and brown, Moselle the same shape but green in colour. Bordeaux its own shape and its neck short, white glass for the whites, dark green for the reds. Burgundy bottles are all different shades of light transparent green, the same for the white and red wines. Burgundy bottles have larger bottoms, with gently tapered top half and neck. Then the colour of the wine, Sauternes many shades of yellow and gold. Bordeaux Clarets from light to ruby red and many shades in between. Burgundies from ruby red to deep purple. Then the Bouquet, from the first scent of the fresh drawn cork to the last sip left in the glass, always pleasing to the nose.
Then the taste of the thousands of fine wines, each one with its own individual taste. Most folks start off with sweet wines, then gradually change to semi-sweet wines, then later to dry. There's a wine to please every one. Your wine dealer should know the taste and quality of the wines he sells. Our qualified personnel can answer your questions, and help you with your wine selections.
So with these thoughts in mind, wine really makes a pleasing gift at any time for any friend that cares for wines, and the good things in life. These fine wines are all available here at Gibb's World-Wide-Wines, the shop that brings the best to you in wines.

A SMALLER HOUSE in the center of the Farms, has just been reduced in price to $44,500. When you consider that this new price is far less than the average market value of every other house in the block, you will understand why we call it the "best buy" in the Pointe. Perfect for the couple or small family who require two bedrooms but want large demonstrated rooms.

ALSO IN the Farms but located on a deadend street, this farm colonial offers five bedrooms and three baths up, with maid's room and bath on the first. There are two extra rooms for family fun and entertaining, plus the large living and dining rooms. Located within easy walking distance to Kerby, Brownell and St. Paul's schools.

LIKE TO REVEL among large rooms with high ceilings, fireplaces, and enough bedrooms and baths to accommodate a scout troop? Then this could be the place. Located south of Jefferson just two minutes from the City's lakefront park, and settled nicely on a lot big enough for a tennis court, swimming pool, a small orchard, and a few large dogs. Priced to be picked up pronto by a new proud owner.

FOUR FLOORS of comfortable living in this town house terrace located on Cranford lane. A basement room has been done over so well that it conveys the impression that you are in the family room. The large living room has a natural fireplace, and there is a separate dining room off the center hall. One bath serves the second floor and there is another bedroom and bath on the third floor. We should have mentioned that there is a lavatory on the first floor and that the kitchen has been updated.

The owner of the store, who attended the Council meeting was most cooperative with the Council and requested that the Sign Company and the City Manager confer as to the erection of a proper sign.

The Council stated that if the sign contractors would appraise themselves of the City requirements before constructing the signs many problems would be eliminated. In many cases owners of stores pay for the signs to discover that they do not meet the City requirements.

THE CITY OF GROSE POINTE Council rejected the request of Vanadia Sign Company for the erection of a sign on the rear of the Peter Pan Store at 17015 Kercheval. Upon review the Council found that the proposed sign did not conform with requirements of the ordinance in that it contains advertising rather than just identifying the business and further that the character of the proposed sign does not conform to the character of signs in the neighborhood.

Six Cases Heard In City Court

The City Municipal Court convened on Tuesday, November 22, with Judges Douglas L. Paterson and Malcolm Sutherland presiding. The following cases were heard:

Edward Myers, 28409 Roy, St. Clair Shores, was charged with reckless driving and causing an accident. He pled not guilty but was found guilty of the reduced charge of car not under control.

Frank Baker, 369 Rivard, was charged with letting his dog run at large. The case was dismissed with a warning due to extenuating circumstances. A serviceman had left the door ajar. The complainant was not in court.

Dennis Lynch, 20660 Fairway lane was charged as a disorderly person. He pled guilty and was found guilty. He was fined $25 plus 10 percent state fee. He was put on probation for six months with the Wayne County Probation Office.

John Stoppelkamp, 1643 Anta; Benjamin Bailey, 1879 Prestwick, and Daniel Fix, 915 Cook were charged as disorderly persons. The case was dismissed because it was outside the jurisdiction of the City police.

Thomas Sankovitch, 6189 Marvin, Taylor Township, was charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny therein. A warrant was returned on July 29. He was examined on September 3 and reappeared before the judge September 14. A probation report was ordered. He was fined $50 plus 10 percent state fee. The jail sentence was suspended. The fine is to be paid by December 10.

Douglas Lobb, 19433 Ryan, Detroit, was charged as a disorderly person. He pled guilty and was found guilty. Preliminary probation report was ordered on August 23. He was fined $100 plus 10 percent state fee. In accordance with the probation report he was put on one year probation.

Congratulating Book Fair Poster Winners

Monteith School Principal JOHN HAMMEL congratulates (left to right) JILL PALNAU, MICHAEL MURPHY and MARY ELLEN WARNER, first, second and third place winners, respectively, in the student poster contest to publicize Monteith's Book Fair, sponsored by the school's P-TA, which opens at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday, December 6, and will remain open, in the Monteith foyer, from 12 noon until 8 o'clock the rest of the week. Some 600 books, from kindergarten through junior high levels, will be included in the display.

Headlines of The Week

Sunday, November 27 VIETNAMESE COMMUNISTS SAID they would observe a 48-hour truce in the Vietnamese War on both Christmas and New Year's out of deference to Americans protesting Johnson administration policy. Our own State Department had no immediate comment on the cease-fires. The Texas White House said discussions with the Saigon government were underway about possible holiday truces. The U.S., although receptive to lulls in the fighting, is anxious to avoid being pressured into a new suspension of its air attacks on North Vietnam without a matching move toward peace by Hanoi.

A 22-YEAR-OLD former kindergarten teacher and her husband, a law student, became the parents of quintuplet girls born prematurely on Saturday. A spokesman at Magee Women's Hospital in Pittsburgh said the babies' chances of survival were "about 10 percent, one in 10." The quintz were born 2 1/2 months prematurely to Mrs. Patti Aranson.

PRIME MINISTER HAROLD HOLT and his coalition government were returned to office with increased majorities in both the House and Senate by an overwhelming vote of approval by Australian voters. Holt said the results were a confirmation of Australia's strong support for U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Monday, November 28 THE BODIES of two men who have been identified by the police as Allen J. Forster, 21, and his brother-in-law, Douglas Ward, 20, both of 9981 Archdale, were found shortly after dawn on Sunday on the floor of their burning car. They had been shot repeatedly in the face and chest and left in Forster's car. Two prime suspects in this double slaying were picked up in a raid on a blind pig and narcotics den on Detroit's east side. Both suspects were under the influence of narcotics. The raid was made after police received a tip from two women who stated that they had seen the murder victims in the apartment with the two suspects. The identities of the two suspects were withheld pending further investigation.

AN OPPOSITION movement was building up among West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's Socialists against a proposed coalition government with the dominant Christian Democratic Party. Indications were that Socialist leaders would weather the storm and that the unprecedented coalition of West Germany's two largest parties would become a reality. Under this new plan, Christian Democrat Kurt George Kiesinger would probably replace Ludwig Erhard as chancellor. Brandt was expected to become vice-chancellor, and rumor has it that he would become foreign minister.

Tuesday, November 29 A LETTER DATED December 21, 1964, written by Governor Romney and never published before, revealed that Romney had not supported the national Republican ticket because the Goldwater campaign had a "southern-rural-white orientation." Romney told Goldwater that he had not attempted to unify the party and had left "many vital things" in the campaign "almost entirely up to others."

RICHARD LUBY, 20, one of the young artists presented in Detroit by the Music Study Club, reported the loss of a $16,500 Guadagnini violin. Luby states that he placed the violin in its case on top of his car to say goodbye to a friend after the recital. He then entered the car, completely forgetting that the violin was on top. He said he recalls hearing a bump on the trunk as he rounded Corner and East Jefferson. He discovered the violin missing when he arrived home at the River House, and notified the police. The instrument is insured. A reward is offered for its return.

HUNDREDS OF MOTORISTS got an unwanted taste Monday night on Detroit's freeways, of the blizzard which hit northern Michigan and stranded hundreds of motorists in the Upper Peninsula. Conditions were to become worse on Tuesday with a possibility of a four-inch snowfall overnight. Cars were stalled on ice covered ramps leading from the Ford to Chrysler Freeway, sealing Chrysler off completely. The Ford Freeway was closed for a three-mile stretch from the Chrysler interchange to Van Dyke on the east and from the Van Dyke to the interchange on the west. Traffic piled up from 9:30 p.m. clear into the night.

St. Paul Girl Scouts Have Busy Schedule

Cadette Troop 405, St. Paul School, went tent-unit camping at Camp Metamora on September 30. Their activities included a day hike with trail lunch, and a campfire with another tent unit. (Troop 405 had inadvertently taken the others camping site). This, the second camping outing of the year, was the troop's final activity.

Junior Troop 1378 took off for Camp Rotary on October 21. Because the girls did their camping chores so well, there was time for fun and relaxation. Friday night, an Alpine hike preceded a campfire. Saturday, energies were spent on a two-hour hike. That evening, another campfire was followed by a birthday and Halloween party.

Brownie Troop 1722 had its investiture ceremony in the School's All-Purpose Room November 16. Parents, Principals of the two schools and the first, second and third grade teachers were on the guest list. The sixth grade Juniors performed the Flag Ceremony, and acted as hostesses at refreshment time. Movies of the ceremony, taken by a father, will be shown at a later date. The Troop's plans include a visit to the Children's Museum and a trip to the City Airport in the near future.

PAYMENT OKAYED An appropriation to pay $36,013 to the International Harvester company, for two rubbish trucks already received and in operation, was approved by the Park council on Monday, November 28.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sirs: May an ex-Grosse Pointer defend your splendid community? I was shocked to read this morning in my San Francisco Chronicle of Grosse Pointe described as a "Middle Class Ghetto" by some religious and educational leaders back there.

We left Grosse Pointe almost three years ago, mainly for health reasons. California's dry climate, sunshine and outdoor living keep us well and happy. No more sinus flu, asthma or, so far, no more allergies to growing things. But we left a very fine area to accomplish this, as well as our families and friends.

Too many people in our country must be getting an erroneous impression. The critics of Grosse Pointe act as if every resident is a rich man or woman. They overlook the many fine people of somewhat limited means who live in the small houses. They don't write about the very good libraries and wonderful parks. How I miss the swimming facilities you all have! The pools here are privately owned or used by high school students. The ocean is very cold and not very safe in this area. The critics of Grosse Pointe never mention the many worthwhile activities that go on at the War Memorial, or that a new Neighborhood Club will be built. They pass over the really friendly relationship between Grosse Pointe sales people and customers. The helpful Police are ignored, except that I read of them in your paper. And your schools; they're wonderful!

When we left, February 1, 1964, our twins had completed the first half of the 6th grade at Mairie. In southern California they found themselves ahead of the class for months. Besides missing friends and familiar surroundings, they had two real adjustments to make. One, the realization that they had left a superior school behind and that their former classmates were now ahead of them. The other was an adjustment to a heavily racially mixed school. Their Spanish class was a fiasco because the Mexican American boys made it impossible for the teacher to be heard. This was our children's first experience at a teacher's problems. I heard the principal of their school say that he wished it were not California law to teach Spanish as so many students didn't even read English well. I do not agree with the prediction that "When your children move out of here, they're going to suffer a profound shock." Or that "their faith in their family will be shaken." All of our eyes were opened by our experiences. Children adjust better than some give them credit for. I have seen no evidence of shaken faith, just the teen age wish for more freedom. We now live below San Francisco, and the twins find high school much more demanding.

Grosse Pointe critics should feel ashamed of themselves just opening your November 10 issue, showing the members of the Board of Education laying the cornerstone for the new high school.

Hats off to Mr. Vincent Peterson, my former history teacher, for understanding that Grosse Pointe does not consist of unfeeling, alcoholic millionaires!

Sincerely, Cynthia Allington Leidich

Brave Editor At Town Hall

Hazel Brannon Smith, crusading editor and publisher of the Lexington Advertiser and three other Mississippi weeklies, discussed "A Mississippi Editor looks at Human Rights" at her Detroit Town Hall appearance in Fisher Theater, Wednesday, November 30.

Mrs. Smith, who has been losing white advertisers steadily since her battles began with local White Citizens Councils, is 1965 Pulitzer Prize winner for "editorial excellence." Speaking out regularly on her front pages against violence and fear has cost her husband, a county hospital administrator, his job; vandals have damaged her home, a cross was burned on her lawn, and an office was bombed.

In recent months, however, local Negroes collected $2,852 and presented it to her at an Editor's Appreciation Day. The president of All-Negro Saints Junior College also suggested that day that Negroes start boycotting businesses that wouldn't advertise in The Advertiser.

Did you know that . . . among the hors d'oeuvres Circumnavigators Club members and guests will be nibbling at their Salute to Canada banquet tomorrow evening, in the Sheraton-Cadillac's Grand Ballroom, is Hudson Bay White Whale? Another item on the menu is Arctic Char, (we're not even going to try to GUESS what that is . . .).

Just about the most charming . . . children's story we've read all year is Robert Allen McBride's "The Cat That Went Woof," (it's perfect for reading-aloud), now available at Mr. Sheridan Books, (there'll be a Meet-the-Author autographing party there this Saturday afternoon, from 2 until 5 o'clock), and in the Juvenile Fiction Section of the Main Branch Grosse Pointe Public Library. It's the tale of a non-conformist cat named Puffy, illustrated by Arthur Taylor, written originally for the author's two sons, Bob, almost six, and Derek, age four. Mrs. McBride, the former Colleen "Jill" Kennedy, a longtime Pointer, is credited by her husband with contributing many fine ideas to the manuscript . . . The McBrides live in Mount Vernon road. He is the son of Mrs. Nelson McBride, of Sunningdale drive, grew up in The Pointe, attended St. Paul High School and the University of Detroit Law School, is presently an advertising agency associate director for television and radio. His hobbies are writing, special interest cars and "playing Green Hornet with my sons."

With we were as talented . . . as Linda Charvat, Grosse Pointe High School Class of 1967, whose trio of round-mouthed carollers serves as frontispiece for invitations to today's GPHS Mother's Club Christmas Tea.

"The day was nice and sunny . . . and there was an inch of snow on the ground." So wrote Ledger Louis Trombley, recording his marriage to Josephine Julian 55 years ago November 21. On that day, bride and bridegroom rose well before dawn to make the long, slow trip to St. Paul's on the Lakeshore by horse and buggy from the bride's home at Townsend and Kercheval avenue. Mass was celebrated at 7 o'clock in the morning by Father Alonzo H. B. Nacy . . . On the Sunday before Thanksgiving, the Trombleys' five married sons and daughters, 25 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren gathered at the Anniversary Couple's home in Beaconsfield avenue to commemorate the Golden Wedding-plus-Five. The day was nice and sunny. Nobody missed the snow.

Well on his way to a promising musical career . . . is 18-year-old Grosse Pointe High School senior Mark Lawrence, St. Clair Shores Symphony's first trombonist, who has played with GPHS Stage Band, (a 17-member ensemble which provides music for the School's sporting events), is president of the GPHS Band, Orchestra and Concert Band, a member of the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe, and last summer held second position in the five-man trombone section of the Detroit Concert Band, which performs during the Warm Months on Belle Isle, (at 17, Mark was the youngest member of the Detroit Concert Band) . . . He started studying trombone in the fifth grade; his teachers have included Carlos Rivera and, more recently, Allen Chase, first trombonist with the Detroit Symphony; he's attended the Michigan State University Summer Music Camp at East Lansing, (a three-week August session), for two summers, the second year on a scholarship which accompanies the Band Citizenship Award, voted to him by fellow students at Grosse Pointe High . . .

As a result of his performance at the Michigan State Band and Orchestra Association's Sole and Ensemble Festival, held this year at Jackson, Mark was one of 50 students selected to go to Lansing for further competition. There, before a group of 30 judges, the field was narrowed to 20, then to 10 finalists — of whom Mark was the only brass instrumentalist. The 10 finalists then soloed, as part of Michigan Youth Week, with the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra. Mark played the Handel Trombone Concerto in F minor . . . These honors performances are attended by music teachers who "scout" for universities. On the basis of his playing, Mark was offered a scholarship to the University of Michigan. He plans to enter next fall as a Music major . . . although he admits he's strongly attracted to Pre-Law, too . . . He hopes to continue with the Detroit Concert Band every summer vacation, and thus help finance his way through college . . .

Music is an interest Mark shares with all the other members of his family. His mother, Lois, is concertmistress of the St. Clair Shores Symphony and director of the Stringed Instrument program in the Lakeview School System. His younger brother, Raymon, 14, plays cello with the St. Clair Shores and Grosse Pointe Symphonies, (both boys have performed for the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe and the Detroit Chamber Music Workshop). His father, Howard Lawrence, teacher of World History at Grosse Pointe High School, occasionally lends a tenor voice to the family music circle . . .

In addition to his musical interests, Mark confesses to being a Civil War buff, with a growing collection of books about the War Between The States. A trip to Gettysburg last summer gave him a chance to reconnoiter the battlefield terrain personally.

MRS. BERTHOLD A. TREIBER, OF WHITTIER ROAD

By Janet Mueller

"I've giggled a lot in the last few months," Terry Treiber, up to her ears in Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Souvenir Program, work, and imminently expecting the arrival of her second child, admits, smiling.

"I knew I was pregnant last May, when I agreed to take on this year's Souvenir Program co-chairmanship — but I didn't know we were going to go out and buy a farm!"

The Treibers found their farm, an 80-acre spread three miles south of Port Sanilac, just a half-mile from Lake Huron, this summer, decided it was exactly what they had been looking for, bought it and immediately started a farmhouse remodeling program.

"Bert grew up on a farm," Terry explains, "and we both feel children need plenty of 'running space.' We started subscribing to a local newspaper in a farming community, looking for property . . . When we found 'our' farm, we knew we had to buy it."

Busy Summer Weekends So busy they did—and spent the summer weekends painting walls, knocking down walls, panelling, staining, wallpapering.

They "officially" moved in the end of October. "We plan to use the farm on weekends, maybe live up there in the summers," Terry explains. "Eventually, perhaps, we'll try to raise things—corn, wheat, beans—no animals, of course; animals require every day care . . ."

Besides the house, they have several other farm buildings: A barn, an "enormous" chicken coop, a small stone structure the Treibers think originally might have been used as a smokehouse.

It's a grand place for exploring, just roaming about, as 22-month-old Chris Treiber, ("His full name is Berthold Christian, but we're not going to tell him about it until he's old enough to cope"), will begin to discover in the next year or so.

Farming may be "old hat" to Bert, but it's a relatively new experience for Terry, who's lived in Grosse Pointe all her life. Bert's mother makes her home in Unionville, a small Michigan town. His brother runs the family farm.

Sex Makes No Difference Terry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Terry W. Kuhn, of Lochmoor boulevard. "Terry" is a family name. (Not short for anything," Terry Treiber explains), already assigned to the newest Treiber: "Boy or girl, it'll be named Terry . . ."

Bert, a partner in Custom Ceilings, Inc., and Terry attended the University of Michigan at the same time, but didn't meet until later, through mutual friends, aboard a sailboat.

"We had both lost our shoes," Terry recalls. "It made an immediate bond between us . . ."

They lived in Lakeshore Village after they were married, moved into their present home in Whittier road seven years ago last May.

Terry began her marriage as a Working Wife, continued to work, by choice, until she became pregnant with Chris.

Had Ideal Set-Up "I ended up with sort of an ideal set-up," she says of her job with a publishing firm. "I worked full-time right after I was married, then quit for a while."

"I was taking some courses at Wayne State University when my former boss called and asked if I would come back. I agreed—but only if I could work not more than a total of 20 hours each week."

It was a good arrangement—I only hope this type of schedule becomes more usual for women. I went into the office every day, sometimes spent all day there, sometimes just a few hours, depending upon the work to be done."

Bert thoroughly approved of his wife's business career—although he did once tell her boss he thought it was "interesting" that she managed to do all the work she'd previously done in 40 hours in the agreed-upon 20 hours!

Terry would like to return to a full- or part-time job some time in the future, when her children no longer demand all-day attention. Right now, Chris is a full-time job in himself, and the Souvenir Program . . .

"When I was first approached about the Souvenir Program chairmanship, I said, 'No, thank you, I'm awfully sorry, but I'm having this baby' . . ."

Split Up Duties

"Then, a few weeks later, I got a second call. The chairmanship has been 'split,' instead of having one general Souvenir Program chairman, as the Junior Woman have had in past years, there were now going to be two co-chairmen, one basically concerned with collecting advertising, the other basically concerned with the layout and makeup of the book."

"Well . . . I still wasn't too anxious to serve as even a half-chairman, especially since the advertising deadline this year is today, December 1, and Terry is due to arrive in a week or two, but I finally said 'All right'—with the understanding that I would use my area chairman more than they had ever been used before, that I might 'flake out' at any time, and that I couldn't be expected to run around as much as someone who wasn't carrying 20 extra pounds of awkward flesh."

So far, Terry hasn't 'flaked out' even a little bit. And those 20 extra pounds may have prevented her from running around physically, but they haven't stopped her mental perambulations, or kept her from traveling by telephone all over the metropolitan Detroit area.

Is Big Operation The Souvenir Program is one of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestras' major annual fund-raising projects. It has grown from a $3,500 to a more than $27,000 operation, ("This year," Terry observes drily, "we set our goal at $40,000, then timed this new, high goal to coincide with a slight recession. We thought it was very clever of us . . ."). Net proceeds are donated to the Symphony's Maintenance Fund.

The program will be distributed at the Symphony's January 14 concert, featuring Andrea Segovia. "Segovia is notoriously a sellout," Terry says, "and we were delighted to get him for our Program concert, even though it meant pushing our Program date ahead two months, (in past years, the Program has been distributed at an early spring concert)."

To Hold Afterglow Plans are afoot for a Junior Women's-sponsored Afterglow following the January 14 concert, too, a really "fun" mid-night supper, (reservations will be taken by tables), and dancing party at The Whittier.

Terry Treiber is the Program's advertising co-chairman, the person ultimately responsible for the Program's "fatness." Her job, and that of her area co-chairmen, Virginia, (Mrs. William) Peattie, of Moran road, for the Grosse Pointe area, Donna, (Mrs. Gould) Flagg, for the Birmingham area, and Justice, (Mrs. Thomas A.) Loewe, for the Detroit-DeARBorn area, technically ends today.

"But there's still time to give our patron chairman, Mrs. John D. Fife, of Bishop road, TUxedo 4-7044, a call, and have names listed in the Program. Patron donation is only $15," co-chairman Treiber, working right up to the wire, announces, (this is the lady who was going to 'flake out' if things got to be too much?)."

Stepped Into Breach Terry's opposite number, Program layout co-chairman, is Ann (Mrs. W. Gerald) Warren, of Saddle lane, who stepped magnificently into the breach when the original Layout co-chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Busse, announced that her husband had been transferred to Chicago, (and that she, of course, was moving to the Windy City with him—there's a point at which loyalty to an organization MUST take second place).

"This, (the Busses' departure), is the sort of thing that's always happening in volunteer organizations," Terry observes, "but then, Ann's stepping forward to take charge—and doing a beautiful job—is the sort of thing that's always happening, too."

As a Working Wife, Terry admits she was slightly prejudiced against "club women;" now she believes she was prejudiced against a stereotype.

"I'm surprised at the number of people who truly CARE about the organizations occupying their volunteer time," she says. "I've found people are more than willing to give tremendous help—and they're darn good workers, too!"

Terry Treiber doesn't believe in spreading herself too thin. She wants time alone, ("I was born in May, and I'm convinced I'm a true split personality Gemini"), she smiles. "Part of me likes nothing better than lazing in bed, reading magazines, papers, anything—even the Sears catalogue! Still, when I'm involved in something, have a job to do, I want to get it at, get it done . . ."

Have Skiing Weekends She makes sure she is available for skiing weekends with her husband, for play-times with Chris. She has a house to keep, meals to cook. She won't join any organization just to join it; she insists on being "active."

Consequently, she's only involved in one large volunteer organization: The Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Terry "kind of fell into" the Symphony Juniors' group. She likes music, (she and Bert both fool around with the piano, but neither claims piano-playing as an accomplishment — "We buy pianos for our friends to play," they say).

She had friends who were Junior Women's Association members. "It seemed like the sort of group I could be involved in without totally committing myself," Terry reminisces.

It proved to be just that—and Terry found her Junior Women's "partial commitment" fascinating.

Conductor Valter Poole and violinist Mischa Mischakoff, two of the most influential figures in Detroit's musical life, will be featured at the Detroit Symphony concert Thursday evening, December 8, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Poole, the Symphony's associate conductor, will introduce to local audiences the American composer Charles Ives' complete "Three Places in New England." Poole had conducted a portion of the work here with the Detroit Symphony in 1959. He also will conduct the Haydn Symphony No. 101 ("The Clock").

Mischakoff, concertmaster of the Symphony, will be soloist in the Beethoven Violin Concerto.

Introducing an orchestral work previously unheard in Detroit is no novelty for Poole. He led the first local hearings of Shostakovich's first, third and fifth symphonies, Prokofiev's suites "The Love of Three Oranges" and "Lieutenant Kijij," William Grant Still's "African American Symphony," Charles Griffes' "The Pleasure Dome of Kubla Khan" and "Roman Sketches" and Aaron Copland's "El Salon Mexico," among other works.

Mischakoff will be making his 19th appearance as soloist on the Symphony's annual winter subscription series, though he has made dozens of solo appearances with the Orchestra on tour and in special concerts at home.

Both Poole and Mischakoff were named to their current Symphony posts in 1952. Poole had been a violinist with the Orchestra since 1927. Mischakoff was a newcomer, however, and had just completed a 15-year tenure as concertmaster of the NBC Symphony under Toscanini.

Poole is an especially familiar figure to thousands of Detroit students and to summer music audiences. Each year he conducts the Symphony Young People's Concerts, numerous concerts for metropolitan area school children, and the Orchestra's summer programs at the Michigan State Fairgrounds and Belle Isle park.

He also conducts special concerts by the Orchestra in Ford Auditorium and on tour. Poole is the Symphony's educational director and is a professor of music at Wayne State University.

Mischa Mischakoff is widely regarded as the foremost concertmaster and most famous orchestra player in the world today. Since the age of 10, when he served as concertmaster of a student orchestra in Russia conducted by fellow-student Serge Prokofiev, Mischakoff has spent a lifetime as concertmaster of the world's great orchestras.
