

Interviews Hearse Owners

group of young surfers who inhabit Harsens Island in the summer, and who use the combination of channels and currents set up by passing freighters to pursue their hobby.

In the summertime, four "boards" seems to be the capacity of a hearse. (If you are careless about loading fiberglass surfboards, you might cause "dings" in them, we were told.) But in the wintertime you can crowd in 16 youngsters—and guitars.

"I was lucky," said Bart when questioned about how one comes by a hearse. "The day I got my father's O.K., I found one advertised for sale in the Free Press; I don't think there's been one advertised since." Some college students in Toledo whose parents had developed objections to hearse ownership sold it to Bart for $450.

No Real Bargain
A new hearse costs from $10,000 to $18,000, the kids figured, but considering its age—16 years—and because it has no power brakes or steering, Bart feels it was no bargain—as hearses go. It is apparently not popular transportation with other members of his family, each of whom has driven it only once, he said. Bart's father, incidentally, is CKLW's own Bill Kennedy.

The Wicke hearse, purchased by Dr. Wicke from Dennis Distributors in Flint for $550, is more popular. "It's surprisingly easy to drive with its Cadillac engine and power brakes and steering," said Dr. Wickel. "And you can be reasonably sure that a hearse has not been 'hot-rodded.'" Parking a vehicle that is at least four feet longer than the largest car, however, is another matter.

Police Get Suspicious
Five Detroit police cars zoomed in on the Wicke hearse when Glen and Bart ventured over the city limits with it one night. "They stopped us and searched the hearse thoroughly for at least 10 minutes before they let us go on," recalls Glen.

"We've found that even the Pointe police who know us don't appreciate it when we drive around with the blinds pulled up," added Kit. (In a hearse, the blinds pull up.)

The bizarre effect is heightened by signs the kids keep picking up, such as: "No Hunting! Bring 'Em Back Alive! We Want You to Live!" The latter is part of some publicity regarding life insurance put out by an oil firm, to which Glen added: "But We're Ready In Case You Don't!" "Mother won't let us leave any signs up for long," confessed the Wickes. "She said they aren't funny after you've seen them several times."

But the Maltese Cross, the surfer's emblem, stays put on the rear door of the Wicke hearse, proclaiming the original intent of acquiring the machine. Already there are four such vehicles serving the Harsens Island Surf Club members, with more in the planning stage. At least the kids are planning!

Find Stolen Car Without Driver

While checking the doors on Kercheval avenue on Friday, December 30, Sgt. Douglas Altor and officer John Drummond noticed a car, reported as stolen, parked in front of Kroger store in The Village.

The motor was still warm and the keys in the ignition. They checked the area for the driver but to no avail.

They were informed that the car had been stolen from 14948 Jefferson avenue, and turned it over to the police in the Park.

Venetian Women's Club To Aid Flood Victims

The Venetian Women's Club of Detroit has organized a Venetian Flood Relief committee to help some of the destitute victims of the recent floods in Northern Italy. Those interested in the plight of these unfortunate people are asked to send contributions to the Venetian Flood Relief committee, C/O Mrs. Corinne Giacomazzi, 13803 Collingham, Detroit, Michigan 48205. Checks should be made payable to Venetian Flood Relief.

Names and addresses of most needy families are being supplied by Provincial Bishops of towns most ravaged by the floods.

An added fund-raising endeavor will be a benefit card party in Eastland Concourse at Eastland Center on Sunday, January 22, at 2 o'clock. All proceeds from this event will be sent to flood relief.

Whoops! The folks. And earlier than expected. So, you call the neighbor for the roll-away bed you borrowed last time. The butcher for a bigger roast. The girl next door to pick up the children. Three Awarded Commendations

The U.S. Army Tank Automotive Center, in Warren, has announced the awarding of outstanding performance commendations to three Grosse Pointers.

They are: Paul F. Craig, 58, of 1725 Manchester avenue, John R. Storer, 38, of 1601 Roslyn avenue and Raimo L. O. Suon, 34, of 1017 Beaconsfield avenue.

Mr. Storer was responsible for outstanding improvements in organizational structure and alignment of functions and in operational systems and procedures. He has been a civil service employe for eight years.

Mr. Craig, as a member of the Missile Command Ground Support Equipment Committee, assisted the Missile Command in the detailed evaluation of the vehicle portion of proposals and studies of three prime contractors on Surface-to-Air Missiles Developmental.

He also prepared the engineering portion of another new missile system program, the CHAPPARRAL, while keeping abreast of six other missile programs assigned to the Support Vehicle Branch. He has been a government employe for 25 years.

Mr. Suon, a Procurement Analyst in the Procurement and Production Directorate was confronted with very critical and complex procurement situations. He demonstrated a high degree of professional skill in negotiating and filling urgent procurement requirements. His endeavors contributed greatly to the Division in meeting procurement objectives.

Driver Accuser On Two Counts

Johnnie Keener of 1601 Blaine, Detroit, was arrested in the Farms on Friday, December 30, and charged with two counts of traffic violation.

Keener was stopped by Patrolman Otto Glanert, who said that while he was cruising on Lake Shore, he observed the motorist driving in an erratic manner west on Lake Shore, and then make a turn onto Moran without signaling, after which he drove left of the center of the road and stalled.

Glanert said Keener started up again and continued on, and was stopped at the Grosse Pointe boulevard intersection. The officer said the driver did not have a valid operator's license on his person, but did have a limited driver's permit and an application for financial responsibility insurance which had expired last July 20.

Keener was taken to the station where he was issued a ticket for driving without a valid Michigan license, and another for failing to signal when making a right turn.

The motorist was held and released to Detroit authorities who wanted him on a warrant for a traffic violation in their city.

Ignores Advice; Receives Ticket

Joseph P. Murray, 37, of 10081 Nottingham, Detroit, did not heed a warning from Woods police on Monday, January 2, not to drive while in an intoxicated condition, and was arrested for the offense.

The arresting officers, Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Patrolman Leroy Tobian, said they were dispatched by police radio operator to the 1600 block of Hawthorne, to investigate a person reported as being drunk.

At the scene, the policemen saw Murray, who was not in his car, and who claimed he was looking for a woman friend in the neighborhood. Murray's car was parked at the curb, and he was warned not to drive, but to have someone do it for him.

O'Dell and Tobian said they left, and a short time later, they observed Murray in his car on an island in Mack avenue. They said they saw the man start up from the island and make a turn onto southbound Mack, going from curb to curb, and stopped him at the Vernier road intersection and placed him under arrest.

Taken to the station, Murray was given a violation ticket for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Later he was released after he posted a $150 bond to guarantee his appearance in court on Saturday, January 14.

Women Helping Policemen

 Carol continued. Women's voices have actually proved easier to understand on the police radio.

The trend toward the use of civilian employes in police work is a growing one. Los Angeles started this practice 10 years ago. But the Woods is the first of the Pointes to use them on a full time basis. For the last 25 years the City has used women employes on the desk on a relief basis. Dorothy Chapel, chief secretary for the department for the last five years has been doing even more dispatch work but still on a part time basis. The Park has been using two women employes, Betty Calvin and Veronica Fodell, for occasional relief work during the day.

Harper Woods had a woman on their desk doing relief work

And they learned one more lesson the hard way: When Carol came in for the midnight shift Christmas Eve, the girl going off duty said to her, "If any other joker calls up and says there's a man on her roof, don't send out a squad car like I did!"

No Complaints Yet
 Asked if the night work interfered with dating, pretty Carol said there had been no complaints, but she thought it would be hard for a girl to work the rotating shifts if she were married. She admitted she might consider marrying a policeman, but not one working on the Detroit force, and unfortunately, all the Woods officers are already married.

Did the girls work over the recent holidays? Yes, indeed!

Cinema League Slates Program

"Let's Go To Paris!" and "The Romantic Road of Germany," sound-color films by Pierre and Elfrida Palmentier, will be presented at the Thursday, January 12, meeting of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League, at 8 o'clock.

The films will be shown in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, and are open to the Grosse Pointe public and guests, free of charge.

The French film includes a rooftop panorama of Paris and many of the beautiful parks and gardens in the "City of Light." It features the Luxembourg Palace, the Palais Royal, the Tuileries and a visit to the Jeu de Paume, which houses works of the famous impressionist painters.

A typical morning street market and bird market are shown, and unusual pictures have been captured of the Seine river and the famous buildings which line its banks. The camera wanders about the winding streets of Montmartre and stops at the Artists market to concentrate on some painters.

By means of a rented car, the camera takes many short trips to points of interest in the vicinity of Paris. A few of the places shown are beautiful Malmaison and the palace and gardens of Fontainebleau, built in the 12th century by Francis I.

The Chateau at Rambouillet, now the summer residence of the presidents of France, has housed such historic persons as Marie Antoinette, Henry IV and Marie de Medici, and contains the room where Napoleon spent his last night before going into exile at St. Helena.

The audience will see famous cathedrals and exquisite stained-glass windows in the beautiful cities of Chartres, Metz and Sens.

The second feature, "The Romantic Road of Germany," takes viewers down a picturesque highway which starts at the River Main and terminates in the Alps.

After a brief stop at Heidelberg and the beautiful health resort of Bad Dürkheim, where the largest wine festival in Germany is held each year, there is a visit to lovely Bad Mergentheim, with its Renaissance buildings, timbered houses and castle. This city was a center for Teutonic knights from 1525 to 1809, and became a fashionable health resort when mineral springs were discovered early in the 19th century. Many views of the Kurpark are shown in the film.

The walled city of Rothenburg on the Tauber is a photographer's paradise, with its lovely old fountains and picturesque streets. The tranquil town of Dinkelsbühl on the Wörnitz River has been preserved with ancient walls and a water-filled moat on which swans glide peacefully.

The 15th century "Golden Rose," still a popular hotel on the cathedral square, has housed many famous rulers, including Queen Victoria of England, Empress Catherine of Russia and King Otto of Greece.

The film takes the audience to many places rarely visited by tourists, including the beautiful baroque city of Eichstatt, originally a Roman station, founded as a bishopric by Boniface in 745, and the 14th century castle, Wilibaldsburg, now a museum of prehistoric remains excavated in the area.

Of special interest is the village of Royal Castles, Hohenschwangau, in a lovely Alpine setting. The "fairy-tale" castle of Neuschwanstein, built by Ludwig II of Bavaria, was used as the background for the Cinerama production, "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm."

There are also delightful views from Hohenschwangau Castle, erected in the 12th century. The film progresses through lovely cities bordering on the Lake of Constance and through the picturesque Black Forest to the old cathedral town of Freiburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmentier were among the small group who gathered in the library of the War Memorial's Alger House on November 4, 1954, and founded the Grosse Pointe Cinema League, which has entertained thousands of area residents with delightful film showings during its 12 years of existence.

William J. Kirby served as first president of this energetic organization, followed by Pierre and Elfrida Palmentier, as second and third presidents. Dr. Elizabeth Downie, who heads this active group of cinematographers at the present time, cordially welcomes the Grosse Pointe public to this full evening of entertainment.

Slate Pear Tree Quester Meeting

The Pear Tree Chapter of Questers will meet next Thursday, January 12, at 10 o'clock in the morning, at the Hamilton road home of Mrs. Burke W. Arehart, who will display and speak on her collection of rare books. Mrs. Roland Blank, of Lakeland avenue, will be co-hostess.

Members are invited to bring their own old books for display and discussion. Mrs. Arehart, a former Pear Tree member, is also an authority on past jewelry.

Methodists Plan Special Services

The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will observe Dedication of Talents and Services on Sunday, January 8.

The Commission of Membership under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Roddewig, has prepared a talents and services inventory which is being mailed to all the membership of the church.

The inventories are to be brought to the church services on next Sunday. The inventories will be dedicated using elements from the historic covenant services of John Wesley. This service was traditionally used at the New Year season. First inaugurated in 1747 at Spitalfields, England; it has proved to be fruitful and a source of blessing to Methodism across the ages.

The Commission on Membership also announces the beginning of four seminar sessions for new members. These will be held on January 8, 15, 22, and 29, at 4 p.m. The sessions will be one and a half hours in length and will be conducted by the pastors of the church.

A membership reception will be conducted on Sunday, February 5.

College Editor Describes His Experiences in Russia

Robert Wells, graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, is now executive editor of The Daily Princetonian, Princeton University's daily newspaper. In a recent issue of this publication, Bob described his visit to Russia in the summer of '66 when he journeyed there with a group of students from all over the United States.

Bob said it wasn't difficult to meet Russians in the three big cities he visited — Kiev, Moscow and Leningrad. He found two distinct types of Russian youth.

The first he describes as "The American Cult" — a good size group that gathers at spots where they can, at some political risk to themselves, get acquainted with foreigners. They are dressed in the uniform of the cult. The boys wear strange-looking Russian suits and sometimes button-down shirts purchased from tourists and the girls appear wearing tight sweaters and skirts with heavy black eye make-up and teased hair, smoking long filter cigarettes.

Many Questions
 They are a group fairly bursting with questions on the American way of life. They ask, "What state do you live in? Where does your father work? What kind of car? How many rooms in your house? What about the slums? Do you beat Negroes?"

Then Bob said, "Came the testaments. We listen to the BBC and Voice of America faithfully. We buy Beatles' records from tourists and sometimes record them ourselves from the short-wave radio. We have read Doctor Zhivago. We are going to work hard and save money so that some day we can visit the West."

"The Temple of the 'American Cult' isn't very large. It extends perhaps two blocks around the large tourist hotels, an area reportedly swarming with secret police agents."

Seek Other Types
 Bob's group soon ventured beyond the confines of the "Temple" to meet more typically Russian youths. He found them in cafes, parks and museums. These real Russian youths, unlike the "beatniks" who find their country boring, are full of pride over their country, their leaders and their culture.

What was a real revelation to Bob was how knowledgeable these young people were. One of them, a twenty-year old girl with only a high school education and a tightrope walker in the Kiev circus, was so well versed on Russian history, literature and even the Marxist philosophy that it was startling. A factory worker, twenty-one years old, told how he spent his spare time "reading about politics and worrying about the prospects of war."

Worship Kennedy
 A common feeling to both the "American Cult" and the real Russian type youth, was Kennedy worship (no one could understand the Kennedy assassination) and a general dislike for Lyndon B. Johnson (they view him as a millionaire manipulator nursing a vast personal fortune). As to the Vietnam war, they believe it to be "Johnson's personal crusade."

Some of the Russians spoke of the Communist Utopia which is to come in 40-50 years. This Utopia will be one where "work will not be a responsibility or an unpleasantness. It will be a joy and a moral satisfaction." Some feel that it is already beginning, with old selfish motives forgotten and purely collective efforts considered.

All or Nothing
 In Leningrad, Bob found the Russians believing that "Communism will either exist throughout the world or not at all."

These are just a few of the thoughts Bob brought back to the States with him about Russian youth and the current feelings in Russia today. For Bob it was an experience he will never forget!

He is the son of Mrs. Daniel L. Wells of Kerby road, and has spent several vacations working as a writer for the Grosse Pointe News.

Save time where you can, but don't spend it recklessly

Driver Ticketed Following Crash

Charles Leland Angell of 780 Neff road was given a court notice to appear for reckless driving that resulted in an accident on Saturday, December 31.

Angell hit the car of Edward Minkaba which was parked in front of his house at 893 Rivard boulevard. The car was unoccupied at the time. Angell said he did not see the parked car until point of impact.

There was damage to the front grill, hood and fenders of the Angell car. Minkaba's car had damage to the rear, the trunk, the rear fenders and the rear bumper.

Driver Training School Gets Car

Grosse Pointe High School's driver education department will receive a new 1967 Dodge Coronet from Canfield Motor Sales.

These cars are among the more than 4,000 fully-equipped automobiles supplied by Dodge dealers at no cost to more than 2,000 high schools throughout the country.

Byron Nichols, General Manager, Dodge Division, called the dealer's participation in the safety program "one of the best investments ever made in highway safety."

"As more and more of our young people reach driving age, the all-out cooperation of the automobile industry and its dealers is needed to supply the growing need for Driver Education vehicles. We and our dealers believe that an improved and expanded program of driver education for high school students will greatly reduce their high accident rates. All evidence available indicates that a young driver will acquire better driving habits, and better driving skills if he learns to drive in new cars with a specially-qualified teacher in his high school," Nichols said.

The new Dodges will be special models fully-equipped with all standard safety features.

Library Offers Family Movies

The fourth program of the 1967 Family Film Night Series will be presented Friday, January 6, at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the Central Library Exhibition Room. Family Film Nights are held on the first Friday night in each month, October through April. Families are urged to attend these showings as a group. Each program has been designed to include something of interest and enrichment for boys and girls as well as adults.

The program for January 6, follows: THE ENCHANTED RIVER — 11 minutes, color — Simon the honest woodsman had his choice of a silver axe or a golden axe. He chose neither, and asked only for his own plain axe. Adapted from the Aesop fable of "Mercury and the Woodsman."

WHITE WILDERNESS—POLAR BEARS — 28 minutes, color — The King of the Arctic and the mortal enemy of the walrus tribe is the polar bear, the largest and most ferocious carnivore in this wilderness. Polar bear cubs are shown at play, and a section is devoted to the antics of the walrus (Disney).

PETER AND THE WOLF — 14 minutes, color—Young Peter escapes from his protective grandfather and sets out to capture the wolf. He is joined by Sasha, the bird; Sonia, the duck; and Ivan, the cat. They have many exciting and dangerous meetings with the wolf before being rescued by three hunters. Clever animation. Prokofiev's use of musical instruments to represent each character is explained (Disney).

Adults and children accompanied by adults are cordially invited.

The next Friends Film Forum offering will be ALIKI, MY LOVE on January 20 at 9:15 p.m. More on this in the future.

Martha Rossmann Wed In St. Paul's

Newlywed Mr. And Mrs. Joseph William Louisell, Jr., To Make Their Home In Grayton Road When They Return From Nassau Vacation

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the Saturday morning wedding of Martha Lynne Rossmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Frank Rossmann, of Merriweather road, and Joseph William Louisell, Jr.

Monsignor Frank McPhillips officiated at the 11 o'clock rites, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore.

The bride's gown of ivory peau de soie was fashioned with a bateau neckline, shaped A line skirt and detachable Watteau train. A fan-shaped design of Alencon lace applied with seed pearls accented her Empire bodice and skirt.

A circle of French bows topped by a cluster of Alencon lace motifs held her Cathedral length veil of French silk illusion. She carried an arrangement of white camellias, stephanotis and white ivy.

Her attendants wore floor length frocks or ruby velvet, styled with flounced sleeves and controlled skirts. Satin cording circled their Empire waistlines and formed back streamers.

Their headpieces were crowns of green ivy and pink tea roses, intertwined with ruby velvet ribbon, and they carried matching ivy and rose bouquets.

Matron of honor was Mrs.

John Mirikoski. Bridesmaids were Marie Alberty, Mrs. John J. Faxon, III, the bridegroom's sister, Julie and Mary Jo Louisell, two more sisters of the bridegroom, Elaine Gravelle, Mrs. John H. Miller, Mrs. William P. Rossman and Anne Marie Schulte.

Jack Louisell served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Louisell, of Three Mile drive.

Seating the guests were Thomas Cusack, Walter Czarnicki, Donald Gill, James Kennedy, Paul Louisell, another brother of the bridegroom, Thomas Quilter, Terrence Rossmann and William Rossmann, the bride's brothers.

Mrs. Rossmann, mother of the bride, wore a dress and matching coat of pale aqua silk, and a matching pearl-trimmed silk hat.

Mrs. Louisell, the bridegroom's mother, chose a dress and coat ensemble of turquoise starron, and a champagne rose-petal hat.

Both mothers pinned white orchid corsages to their purses. Upon their return from a vacation in Nassau, the newlyweds will make their home in Grayton road.

A few words to the point are better than a long speech.

Peterson-Joseph Rites Celebrated

Exchanging wedding vows at a 4:30 o'clock ceremony Thursday, December 29, in the Easter Chapel of St. Clement's Episcopal Church, El Paso, Tex., were Karen Jouree Joseph and Lieutenant Joel Gregory Peterson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. Earle Joseph, of El Paso, and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Peterson, of Prestwick road.

The Reverend H. Eugene Myrick officiated at the family ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of candlelight silk alpaca, fashioned in tunic style, with a portrait neckline, and petal-hemmed over re-embroidered Alencon lace.

Matching lace edged her Court length mantilla of candlelight silk illusion. She carried a Victorian bouquet of lily-of-the-valley and fluted petals of white gladioli, centered with mystery gardenias.

Jill Joseph, maid of honor and sister of the bride, and bridesmaid Penelope Lyn Peterson, the bridegroom's sister, wore identical floor length gowns of Italian spruce green velvet, styled with bateau necklines, long sleeves and bell-shaped skirts.

They wore matching green mantillas and carried Colonial arrangements of white rosebuds and blue forget-me-nots circled with blue and gold leather-leaf fern.

William Gerald Peterson acted as his brother's best man, and Randall Ware Lake ushered.

The mother of the bride wore a silk-and-worsted costume suit in mint green, with harmonizing accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of rust cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother chose a cafe-au-lait silk suit, with matching accessories, and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Oren Stigler, of El Paso, wore a Wedgwood blue silk dress and chose a corsage of white phalaenopsis orchids.

Andrea Segovia With Symphony

Spanish guitarist Andres Segovia will make his second appearance with Sixten Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Thursday and Saturday, January 12 and 14, at 8:30 p.m., in Ford Auditorium.

Segovia will perform the Boccherini Concerto for Guitar and Orchestra. This is a transcription of the 18th century composer's E-major Cello Concerto, made by the eminent cellist and friend of Segovia, Gaspar Cassado.

The Orchestra will also perform Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6: "Pathetique," and Respighi's "The Pines of Rome." Segovia, who recently returned from his annual European tour, during which he played 70 times in 11 countries, has been concertizing in the United States since 1928.

He has done more than any other musician to establish the guitar as a respected concert instrument. In addition to numerous transcriptions for guitar by himself and others, Segovia has inspired much music to be written. Among the many composers who have written for the guitar in tribute to Segovia's musicianship are Manuel De Falla, Manuel Ponce, Joaquin Turina, Federico Torroba, Jacques Ibert, Albert Roussel, Alexander Tanianman, Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco, Alfredo Casella, Cyril Scott, and Heitor Villa-Lobos.

Since Segovia made his first concert appearance in 1907, at the age of 14, he has lived out the truth of the remark made to him by Igor Stravinsky, "The sound of the guitar is not strong but goes far."

The Orchestra and Ehrling will make a three-week concert tour of the western United States beginning on Monday, January 16. They will return to Ford Auditorium for an open rehearsal on the afternoon of February 8 and a pair of subscription concerts on February 9 and 11, at which violinist Charles Treger will be soloist.

Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Louisell, Jr., To Make Their Home In Grayton Road When They Return From Nassau Vacation

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the Saturday morning wedding of Martha Lynne Rossmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Frank Rossmann, of Merriweather road, and Joseph William Louisell, Jr.

Monsignor Frank McPhillips officiated at the 11 o'clock rites, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore.

The bride's gown of ivory peau de soie was fashioned with a bateau neckline, shaped A line skirt and detachable Watteau train. A fan-shaped design of Alencon lace appliqued with seed pearls accented her Empire bodice and skirt.

A circle of French bows topped by a cluster of Alencon lace motifs held her Cathedral length veil of French silk illusion. She carried an arrangement of white camellias, stephanotis and white ivy.

Her attendants wore floor length frocks or ruby velvet, styled with flounced sleeves and controlled skirts. Satin cording circled their Empire waistlines and formed back streamers.

Their headpieces were crowns of green ivy and pink tea roses, intertwined with ruby velvet ribbon, and they carried matching ivy and rose bouquets.

Matron of honor was Mrs.

John Mirikoski. Bridesmaids were Marie Alberty, Mrs. John J. Fannon, III, the bridegroom's sister, Julie and Mary Jo Louisell, two more sisters of the bridegroom. Elaine Gravelle, Mrs. John H. Miller, Mrs. William P. Rossmann and Anne Marie Schulte.

Jack Louisell served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Louisell, of Three Mile drive.

Seating the guests were Thomas Cusack, Walter Czarnecki, Donald Gill, James Kennedy, Paul Louisell, another brother of the bridegroom, Thomas Quilter, Terrence Rossmann and William Rossmann, the bride's brothers.

Mrs. Rossmann, mother of the bride, wore a dress and matching coat of pale aqua silk, and a matching pearl-trimmed silk hat.

Mrs. Louisell, the bridegroom's mother, chose a dress and coat ensemble of turquoise staron, and a champagne rose-petal hat.

Both mothers pinned white orchid corsages to their purses. Upon their return from a vacation in Nassau, the newlyweds will make their home in Grayton road.

A few words to the point are better than a long speech.

Peterson-Joseph Rites Celebrated

Exchanging wedding vows at a 4:30 o'clock ceremony Thursday, December 29, in the Easter Chapel of St. Clement's Episcopal Church, El Paso, Tex., were Karen Jouree Joseph and Lieutenant Joel Gregory Peterson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. Earle Joseph, of El Paso, and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Peterson, of Prestwick road.

The Reverend H. Eugene Myrick officiated at the family ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of candlelight silk alpaca, fashioned in tunic style, with a portrait neckline, and petal-hemmed over re-embroidered Alencon lace.

Matching lace edged her Court length mantilla of candlelight silk illusion. She carried a Victorian bouquet of lily-of-the-valley and fluted petals of white gladioli, centered with mystery gardenias.

Jill Joseph, maid of honor and sister of the bride, and bridesmaid Penelope Lyn Peterson, the bridegroom's sister, wore identical floor length gowns of Italian spruce green velvet, styled with bateau necklines, long sleeves and bell-shaped skirts.

They wore matching green mantillas and carried Colonial arrangements of white rosebuds and blue forget-me-nots circled with blue and gold leather-leaf fern.

William Gerald Peterson acted as his brother's best man, and Randall Ware Lake ushered.

The mother of the bride wore a silk-and-worsted costume suit in mint green, with harmonizing accessories. Her corsage was fashioned of rust cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother chose a cafe-au-lait silk suit, with matching accessories, and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Oren Stigler, of El Paso, wore a Wedgwood blue silk dress and chose a corsage of white phalaenopsis orchids.

A Capital Party For Bonnie Barit

Bonnie Barit, debutante daughter of Mrs. Stirling Loud, of Trombley road, was honored at a dinner dance in Washington, D.C., on Thursday, December 29.

The party was given by her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burling, Jr., at the Georgetown City Tavern.

Bonnie was introduced to her family's friends in Washington last June, at a tea in the Georgetown home of Mr. and Mrs. Burling.

The Christmas party was for the younger set. Joining the festivities from Grosse Pointe was Tracy Heenan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Heenan. Tracy and Bonnie are roommates this year at Connecticut College for Women.

Also accompanying the family to Washington for the holiday festivities were Bonnie's two brothers, Robert, a senior at Michigan State, and Bruce, a junior at Grosse Pointe University School.

Bonnie will be presented to society in Detroit next June. Bonnie's mother, the former Margherita Stirling, and her grandmother, Mrs. Tillman Stirling, made their debuts in Washington where the family has lived since Mrs. Stirling's grandfather, Johann Cornelius Kondrup, came to head Denmark's diplomatic mission to Washington during the administration of President Abraham Lincoln.

Andrea Segovia With Symphony

Spanish guitarist Andres Segovia will make his second appearance with Sixten Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Thursday and Saturday, January 12 and 14, at 8:30 p.m., in Ford Auditorium.

Segovia will perform the Boccherini Concerto for Guitar and Orchestra. This is a transcription of the 18th century composer's E-major Cello Concerto, made by the eminent cellist and friend of Segovia, Gaspar Cassado.

The Orchestra will also perform Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6: "Pathetique," and Respighi's "The Pines of Rome."

Segovia, who recently returned from his annual European tour, during which he played 70 times in 11 countries, has been concertizing in the United States since 1928.

He has done more than any other musician to establish the guitar as a respected concert instrument. In addition to numerous transcriptions for guitar by himself and others, Segovia has inspired much music to be written. Among the many composers who have written for the guitar in tribute to Segovia's musicianship are Manuel De Falla, Manuel Ponce, Joaquin Turina, Federico Torroba, Jacques Ibert, Albert Roussel, Alexander Tan s man, Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco, Alfredo Casella, Cyril Scott, and Heitor Villa-Lobos.

Since Segovia made his first concert appearance in 1907, at the age of 14, he has lived out the truth of the remark made to him by Igor Stravinsky, "The sound of the guitar is not strong but goes far."

The Orchestra and Ehrling will make a three-week concert tour of the western United States beginning on Monday, January 16. They will return to Ford Auditorium for an open rehearsal on the afternoon of February 8 and a pair of subscription concerts on February 9 and 11, at which violinist Charles Treger will be soloist.

Clark Woman's Club To Meet January 8

Clark Woman's Club will meet at Christ Methodist Church January 8, at 1 o'clock, for tea and a social hour followed by a business meeting. The program for the day will be a book review by Mrs. Herbert Arbogast.

Ritchie-Salkowski Vows Are Spoken

Gown Of Delustered Brocade Is Bride's Wedding Choice; Attendants' Frocks Are Fashioned Of Cranberry Quilted Brocade

St. Ambrose Church was the setting for the noon ceremony Saturday at which Mary Ann Salkowski and Thomas Russell Ritchie exchanged marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Salkowski, of Oxford road. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ritchie, of Gladwin.

For her marriage, the former Miss Salkowski chose an A line gown of delustered brocade, fashioned with a modified bateau neckline, Kabuki sleeves and Watteau train, falling from her shoulders.

Her triple-tiered French silk illusion veil was fingertip length and fell from a petalled Juliet cap. She carried the heirloom prayerbook her mother and sister had carried at their weddings, covered with a cascade of camellias accented with greens and holly.

Margaret Salkowski served as her sister's honor attendant, and bridesmaids were another of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Gerald Valken, Mrs. Gerry Salkowski and Mrs. Vincent LoCicero.

They were dressed alike in sleeveless, floor length frocks of cranberry quilted brocade, styled with A line skirts. Each carried a cluster of pale pink Fuji mums on a single, long velvet stem.

Lawrence Zalut was the bridegroom's best man. Ushering were Gerry, Richard and Donald Salkowski, brothers of the bride, Gerald Valken and Vincent LoCicero.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, following the rites, at the Sheraton Inn, Mrs. Salkowski, the bride's mother, selected a grey knit dress and matching full length coat.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ritchie, wore a peach colored ensemble with brown accessories.

Both chose camellia corsages.

The newlyweds, vacationing on the East Coast, will return to make their home in Detroit.

To err may be human, but it's a mighty poor excuse.

Mary Katherine Valentine Chooses Gown Of Candlelight Satin And Alencon Lace For December 22 Ceremony

Making their home in Maine while he serves at the Air Base are Mr. and Mrs. Clair Leslie Smith, who were married December 22, at an evening ceremony at St. Paul's on the Lakeshore.

A reception in the War Memorial's Fries Ballroom followed the 7 o'clock rites, which The Reverend William J. Downey officiated. The bride, the former Mary Katherine Valentine, daughter of Mrs. Harry Freeman Valentine of McKinley avenue, and late Mr. Valentine, was joined in marriage by her brother, John David Valentine.

The bride wore a candlelight satin gown, fashioned with an Empire waist and a full skirt of lace and satin headpiece. She carried a bouquet of gerberas and stephanotis. Her attendant Sandra Rieker and bridesmaids Nancy Carter and Nicole DeBaeke wore identical brocaded frocks in pastel shades, with shocking pink velvet headbands matching ribbon outlining their Embroideries. They carried coordinated round bouquets.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair James Smith, of Irvington, N.Y., asked John M. McKee, III, of Denver, Col., to act as best man. Ushers were R. Peter Hurd, of Scarborough, N.Y., and Steven Himborg.

The mother of the bride chose, for the wedding and reception, a gold silk evening suit with matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a blue silk ribbon suit with matching accessories.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frederick William Parker, of Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., the bride's cousin, Sally Peterson, of New York, two of the bride's Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y., classmates, Patricia Rodgers, of New York City, and Mary Lynda Reardon, of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Henry G. Bevans of Minneapolis, Minn. Sending best wishes but un-

The car wash often takes four or five times as long as it takes to wash a car. It happens to wash back at her to her. The best action getter is the whistle. If you are one of the lucky ones who can whistle! But here you are whistled right back at your own. It doesn't accomplish your purpose.

Hard on Battery
Then there is the "light flasher" - on and off, on and off, only to later discover that your battery is run down and you are no closer to getting that son or daughter's attention than you were before.

The most comical act is the "hug caller approach" - this is when you throw caution and your voice to the winds and just shout your child's name, loud and clear - only to have it echoed ten-fold by playful teenagers or else you discover, too late, that the teenagers are at least 10 other boys in the school named Egbert.

Finally you decide the best approach is to retreat in silence and hope that the teenager can distinguish between mothers, better than the mother can distinguish between the teenagers. Although, as I glimpsed around to see if this was feasible, I realized with a start that with our simple hair-dos and casual attire, we weren't much easier to spot than the teenagers themselves!

Clothing Is Uniform
You also find at this time that the clothing departments must have had a field day selling Navy blue jackets with names on the back and sheep-trimmed suede jackets for boys. I counted 24 sheep-trimmed jackets and 15 monogrammed.

Hockey Chiefs Beat Warriors

By William A. Gill
The Grosse Pointe Hockey Chiefs started the New Year off with a 4 to 0 victory over the Grosse Pointe Warriors. This makes six straight victories for the Chiefs.

The game started off very slowly but with six minutes left in the first period Adam Perkowski scored his second goal of the season with a slap shot from the blue line, assisted by Doug Kalvelage and Tom Buckman.

At the 18-minute mark Randy Nell set up the next goal by carrying the puck the length of the ice and passing to Sal LaMilla, who flicked the puck to Bill Acker, who slipped the puck past Warrior goalie Bill Harlan.

The third goal was scored by Jay Gill assisted by Greg Carpenter and Adam Perkowski with three minutes left in the period.

In the last period Doug Kalvelage scored his seventh goal of the season with assists from Sam Orlando and Don Clough. Both teams played good hockey but the Chiefs were apparently more fired up to win.

The Chiefs' next game will be played at McCann Rink on Saturday, January 7, at 8 p.m., against Lathrup.

Manufacturers starts off paying a five percent interest on time accounts. From there on, the interest yield actually grows. Here's how. Manufacturers pays and compounds interest quarterly. So after the quarterly date you start earning interest on your interest as well as your original deposit. And the longer your money stays in the account, the more your yield grows.

Manufacturers Five Percent Time Accounts are available in Certificates of Deposit or handy passbook form with initial deposits of $1,000 or more. Start earning "the incredible growing interest" today. Earn five percent, the highest rate banks pay. Open your account at the Manufacturers Office near you.

Deposits are insured to $10,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

All believers in civil liberties can take heart in the advertised assertion of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board that its members impose no restrictions (Grosse Pointe News, Dec. 22, 1966).

Somewhat less clear is their opposition in a subsequent paragraph to groups which have been established to provide assistance to members of minority groups who seek housing in Grosse Pointe. It is unlikely that "prejudice" as an abstract entity could be stentily reduced in an entirely homogeneous community. It is equally unrealistic to establish this as a precondition for permitting minority group families to purchase property here. Frequently segregation is the cause of prejudice rather than the cure for it.

Many people in this community are coming to believe that in order to continue to have a stable society, the possibility of upward mobility in housing as well as jobs must be preserved for all sectors of society.

Leaving these matters to a vast array of gradually changing attitudes has not thus far been successful. There is evidence that the lines between various social groups are actually hardening in recent years.

I would, therefore, commend to the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board a position of neutrality in this matter. No one should be charged with the responsibility of integrating this community. They should, therefore, avoid appearing to take the position that the community should be segregated for a few more years in order to reduce prejudice.

B. W. Steinhauer, M.D. NO XMAS SPIRIT Mr. and Mrs. James R. Darnold of 63 Radnor circle, phoned Farms police on Wednesday, December 28, and disclosed that sometime during the night, someone stole a six and one-half foot Santa Claus from the front storm door of their house. They agreed that the thief lacked the Christmas spirit.

Dear Mr. Edgars: On behalf of the patients of the Grosse Pointe Nursing Home I would like to express our appreciation to the community and various groups who contributed so much to the pleasure and holiday spirit of our Home.

The beautiful wreaths for our doors furnished by the Beta Sigma Y-Teen of Grosse Pointe High, the lovely corsages which were made by the members of the Garden Study Club, the individually chosen gifts which were so carefully chosen and wrapped by the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Circle, as well as all the attractive trays favors and other gifts which were presented to us by the various scout troops from Richard School were among the many outstanding gifts. We also were visited by many groups of carolers in addition to the high school boys from the Memorial Church, the group from St. James Lutheran Church and Vicar Klein, who played and sang so beautifully; Marie of St. Paul's School, as well as many others who did not leave their names but whose generosity at this season of the year is nonetheless appreciated.

It is most gratifying to know that our patients are remembered by many in the community, and none can possibly understand how much it means to them. The gifts are wrapped in the joyful spirit of the season and the good wishes they live on among the folks who are unable to get out in the community but treasure evidences that the community has not forgotten them. Please extend our thanks to all concerned through your fine paper and accept our good wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

Cordially yours, GROSSE POINTE NURSING HOME, INC. JOSEPH NASII, Executive Director.

QUESTIONS From time to time I hear about it. Can you understand what it is? ANSWER Many people with children in grades one and two in the Grosse Pointe Public School System have been asking the same question lately. In fact, interest in your plan has led to the formation of a special adult education class sponsored by the schools' Department of Community Services. The letters I find stand for them too rich for me to write.
