Scouts Make Donation to Children's Hospital

The Boy Scouts of Troop 96 of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church have donated $625 to Children's Hospital for a Bonnet Respirator. The money came from the sale of Christmas wreaths in the Grosse Pointe area last Christmas. Ralph Sandt, troop leader, left, David Russell and Steven Sandt presented the check to Dr. Shirley Austin, head of Anesthesiology on Thursday, June 22. This donation was one of several made by the scouts. They also gave $175 to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for landscaping the church grounds and $200 to the Detroit Area Council of Boy Scouts of America to help pay camp fees for less fortunate boys.

Parents of Young Issued Warning By Police Chiefs

Annual Plea Made To Inform Children About Danger Posed By Sex Deviates; List Of Rules To Be Followed Is Provided

School is out; the warm weather is here and the young children are out in the streets and playgrounds, hoping to crowd in as many hours of happy fun as possible before the summer vacation ends.

This combination prompts an annual warning from the five Pointe police chiefs, which they feel should be repeated over and over again, and that is, parents have a duty to inform their young children to beware of sex deviates, and others who prey on children.

Too often, the chiefs stated, parents allow their children to go out and play, not knowing, and perhaps not caring as long as they are not underfoot, where they might be. When the kids fail to come home at a designated time, the parents then become alarmed and call police to report their offspring missing.

Know Where They Are
The department heads say to all parents, that if their sons and daughters have permission to go to "John's" or "Mary's" house, make sure that it is exactly where they go, and exactly where they stay, if the children decide to leave, with or without another friend, parents should emphasize to their children that they should call and let them know where they are going to visit, or play.

Above all, the chiefs say, mothers and fathers should occasionally look outside, if the children are supposed to be in front of the house, or in the yard, to make sure the kids are still there, and unharmed.

Rules to Follow
Mothers and fathers should impress upon their children these warnings, which bear repeating over and over and over:
1. Don't ever get into a car unless mommy or daddy says "yes."
2. Don't take presents from a stranger.
3. If someone invites you into an empty house, basement, garage (Continued on Page 4)

5,010 Donors Give $79,281 In Campaign

Need About $500 And 54 More Contributors To Shatter Mark Established Last Year

Elated War Memorial officials and those who took part in the Annual Family Participation Campaign, disclosed that contributions are still coming in, and the number of donating families surpasses records of previous years, up to this date.

As of Tuesday, June 27, the last report received, it was disclosed that $79,281 has been contributed by 5,010 families, as compared to $77,761 from 4,978 families during the same period in the 1966 campaign.

Hope for Records
It was revealed that donations are still "dribbling in," but very slowly. It is hoped that a total of at least $80,000 will be received by the end of the year. All contributions are tax deductible, and may be sent in any time during the year.

The goal this year was set at $75,000, but the campaign reached and passed this goal ahead of the Memorial Day target date (on May 22), when 4,802 families gave a total of $76,000.

To December, 1966, figures showed that $79,729 was received from 5,063 donors.

Loot from Car Nets Thief $450

Three persons filed complaints with Farms police on Tuesday, June 20, in which they disclosed that a car containing their belongings had been broken into, and a total of $50 in cash and about $400 worth of jewelry items stolen. The vehicle was parked in the Municipal Pier-Park lot, they said.

Douglas Frey of 355 Washington, driver of the vehicle, informed authorities that the thief, or thieves, took his wallet containing $14 in currency, his operator's license, and personal papers.

Alex Pasquino of 482 LaBelle, lost his wallet to the thief. He told police it held about $30, his license and personal papers.

The third victim, Dennis Adams of 29 Warner, who was with Frey and Pasquino, said his wallet with six dollars, license and personal papers, was taken. Frey also disclosed that the robber took his gold wrist watch and Adams stated that his white gold ring with a blue star sapphire, with two small diamonds on each side of it, and his wrist watch, was taken. The value of each item was not revealed, but a police report set the total value at about $400.

John Lake Home From Hospital

John Lake, director of the War Memorial, was released from Cottage Hospital on Tuesday, June 27, where he was under care for pneumonia with complications, contracted three weeks ago.

He is recuperating at his home, 19601 Lancaster, but makes short visits to the Center, to see how things are coming along, and to visit with the staff.

It is reported that he is anxious to put in a full day's work, but this will have to wait approval by his doctor.

Five Youngsters Captured After Chase in Stolen Car

A crackup of a stolen car ended a speed chase in the Woods and the apprehension of five juveniles who were riding in the vehicle. One had attempted to escape, but was captured following a foot chase, in which two warning shots were fired into the ground by a pursuing policeman.

According to a police report, Sgt. Thomas Kane and Patrolman Theodore Hinz were patrolling north on Mack avenue, at about 1:28 a.m., on Thursday, June 22, when they noticed a 1965 maroon-colored Chevrolet traveling south on the avenue. All five occupants kept glancing at the police car, which aroused the suspicions of the officers, who decided to follow the vehicle with the juveniles. Kane and Hinz said that as they approached, the driver of

Italian Consul Luigi Lauriola, Chicago Residents, Hospitalized After Cars Crash

Luigi Lauriola, 36, Italian consul, whose Detroit address is given as the Whittier Hotel, 415 Burns drive, suffered serious facial injuries in an accident at the Jefferson-Bishop intersection, on Tuesday, June 20, when his car was struck by another.

The consul was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Park police ambulance, and was released on Tuesday, June 27, according to word received from an official of the Italian Consulate, 1929 First National Building, in Downtown Detroit.

Park police said that Lauriola suffered severe cuts across the forehead and across the eyelids and the bridge of the nose when his head hit the windshield of his car, shattering the glass. Many stitches were required to close the wound, according to authorities who checked with the hospital.

Released Tuesday

On the June 27 date, an official at the Italian Consulate said that Lauriola was released from the hospital that morning, but whether he will be able to return to his duties at once, is another matter.

A police accident report revealed Lauriola was traveling west on Jefferson, and the driver of the other vehicle, Leon R. Rubin, 55, of 749 Essex avenue, Chicago, Ill., was going east. At Bishop road, Rubin started a left turn onto Bishop in front of the consul's automobile, and the cars collided head on.

Rubin suffered facial cuts and an injured leg, the extent of which was not disclosed. His wife, Lillian, 55, a passenger in the front seat, also suffered facial cuts and a broken left ankle, and possibly other injuries, police said.

Request Transfer

The authorities said that after receiving treatment at Bon Secours Hospital, Rubin and his wife asked to be transferred to a hospital in Chicago, and are there now. At the last report, Mrs. Rubin is receiving special care, and is still hospitalized, police added.

Lt. Gerald Kesteloot said that a tentative court date for a hearing in the matter has been set for Wednesday, July 12, with the possibility that the hearing might be postponed until all parties concerned are able to appear in court.

'Relaxing' Band Players Warned

City Police received a report from a Fisher road resident on Sunday, June 25, that five boys were parked in a white truck next to his residence in a dirt lot. He stated the boys got out of the truck and crossed Fisher to the High School.

Officers Edmond Benthuyts and John Drummond were dispatched to the scene and upon arrival found that Farms police had apprehended the five on Grosse Pointe boulevard near Beverly.

Upon checking the truck Benthuyts found two road construction barricades in the rear. The signs belonged to Michigan Barricading Company. The youths and truck were taken to the City Police station. The boys stated that they were part of a band and had just finished playing at the Hunt Club and were just relaxing. They were warned to stay out of the area and released. The barricades were held at the station for the owner.

Five Youngsters Captured

 Shores, then crossed Eight Mile road, crossed the limits back into the Woods, and drove south onto the parking lot of the Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, sped to the rear of the lot, and turned east toward Goethe, continued east on the lot and drove over the curb, then continued on into a field between the lot and Goethe.

The car sped onto Blairmoor, still going east, and through stop signs at the Charlevoix and Marter intersections. At the end of Blairmoor, the young driver drove in a circle and tried to head west, causing him to lose control of the vehicle and hit an Edison pole head on.
 The driver, a 15-year-old Detroit boy, jumped out of the car and began to run. Hinz gave chase on foot. In the meantime, Woods Lt. Harry Duross and Cpl. Bernard Kelly arrived at the scene, and aided in taking the four boys, who had been ordered to remain where they were, into custody. Arrested were two 16-year-olds, one 15-year-old, and a 12-year-old, all boys.
 Hinz continued the foot chase, shouting repeatedly for the fleeing youngster to stop. When his commands went unheeded, the policeman fired two shots into the ground from his service pistol.
 On Marter, the boy sped south on Edmunton and stepped into a mud hole, tripped and fell and was captured by his pursuer.

8% PAID ON YOUR MONEY HERE IS HOW

Business professor said, "Your dollars are your own. Don't let them loaf on the job at only 5% per year. Make them earn at least 8%. Here is an opportunity for you to do this. Place $1,000 with us. We own a 25-family apartment building in Detroit near beautiful Grosse Pointe on St. Clair which pays 8% per year regularly. Your money would start earning 8% right from the day you invest. No waiting. $2,000 is the minimum investment. We now have about a dozen investors who have invested, and, of course, they are all happy with their 8% investment. Every once in a while someone wants to use his money for some other purpose. So all one needs to do is ask for the money and they will be paid back the full amount of the money they have invested, plus what interest their money has earned for them—just as if they had banked it. We do business with the National Bank of Detroit. They are our reference. So if you too want to have your own money earn 8% per year, call telephone 821-8985 for more details. Open any evening from 6-10.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The Junior Bunnies led by the clutch hitting of Pam Cain, Gail Cox and Kathy McBrien defeated the Snoopy Sockers 13 to 12 for the Championship of the Neighborhood Club Girls' Little League Softball on June 8 at Brownell Junior High field.

Pam Cain led the attack with 5 RBIs on a double and a home run. Circuit clouts were also hit by Gail Cox, to open the scoring of the game in the bottom of the first inning, and Kathy McBrien's round tripper in the bottom of the sixth proved to be the deciding run of the game.

The winning battery for the Bunnies was Sue Berres pitching and Pam Cain catching. It was Sue Berres' second win over the Snoopy Sockers as she ended the season with a record of 5 won-1 lost, which was also the team record in the standings.

It was an exciting game all the way with the Snoopy Sockers making up an eight-run deficit with 10 runs in the fourth inning which gave them a two-run lead. The Bunnies came right back in their half of the fourth for four runs to regain the lead by the score of 12 to 10. The Snoopy Sockers added single runs in the fifth and sixth innings to knot the score at 12 all.

Lt. Kenneth E. Lucas Serves Off Vietnam

Lieutenant Kenneth E. Lucas, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Lucas of 19586 W. Williams court, took part in an amphibious assault near the "demilitarized zone" (DMZ) which divides North and South Vietnam, while serving aboard the command ship USS St. Paul.

As part of an operation named "Beau Charger," his ship helped put a special landing force of U. S. Marines into the southern buffer area of the "DMZ," for a search and destroy sweep through the free zone just south of the Ben Hai River. The Marines were landed by small boat as well as by helicopter.

The Leathernecks who made the sweep are Marines of the First Battalion, Third Marine Regiment, who first evacuated the South Vietnamese civilians from the area before beginning the sweep.

While "Beau Charger" was underway, pilots from U. S. aircraft carriers in the South China Sea and Tonkin Gulf flew air strikers over the area, and attacked targets indicated by the ground forces below.

Retarded Granted Woods Pool Use

The Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods has approved a request for use of the swimming pool and other facilities of Lake Front Park in connection with an eight-week summer recreation program for retarded children conducted by the Department of Pupil Personnel of The Grosse Pointe Public School System.

On a total of 15 Fridays and Mondays between June 23 and August 11 planned outdoor activities will be conducted at the Park between 9:30 a.m. and 12 noon.

The initial request for use of the facilities was made by Joe Spagnoli, Assistant Superintendent — Administrative Services for The Grosse Pointe Public School System. The Woods Council trustees took unanimous action at the regular June 19 meeting.

You may already own half an electric central air conditioning system.

If you have a forced air heat system, you have ductwork and a furnace blower. So you're already moving and filtering air; that's a big part of electric central air conditioning. All you have to do is cool the air and wring the steamy dampness out. To do so, just add two compact units—cooling coil and condenser—and your heating system becomes a cooling system. Electric air conditioning costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate than the flame type.—Electric cooling works efficiently like your refrigerator to cool a 1,200-sq.-ft. house for an estimated $24.00 per season. So, you see, it's well within your reach. Get more information on how easy and economical it is to cool, clean, dehumidify and quiet your home with central electric air conditioning. In Detroit, call 962-2100. Elsewhere, call your local EDISON Edison office.

Industrial and Fine Arts Given Emphasis at GPHS

By Pepper Whitelaw

The room was resplendent with lovely woods... maples, mahoganies, walnuts, all creatively designed into tables, desks, lamps, letter boxes, contemporary dishes, wooden-handled utensils, intermingled with wrought-iron tables and chairs, beautiful oil, watercolors, pencil sketches and collages.

A furniture store you ask? No, just Cleminson Hall in Grosse Pointe High School and a display of the students' work in industrial and fine arts.

House plans were also an integral part of the display. All of these works looked professional. The furniture and paintings were items that anyone would be proud to have in his own home.

The art work on display was the work of the students of General Art Teachers Julia Meighan, Marion Lampman and of Graphic Arts Teacher, Gary Souther. The students in their classes are select students who have had either a General Art Course or Ninth Grade Art in Junior High.

Teachers Guide Talents
 The teachers work with and guide the natural talents of their students. In the first year courses a good deal of time is spent working outdoors on perspective. The students also learn basic principles of art, figure drawing, portraits, watercolor, oil painting (starting with still life drawings and eventually doing "creations" of their own).

Before the end of the year these students are working and creating their own projects.

Another important facet of their training is observation... they are taught to observe nature objects such as weeds and draw pen and ink or pencil drawings of them. Then they take a small portion of these drawings and from them make abstract designs with poster paints.

The second and third year students create their own projects with suggestions from their teachers. Some of the students this year had fun experimenting with the new acrylic plastic paints.

To Increase Art Staff
 Next year the art staff will be increased to five instructors so we can look forward to more of these impressive displays by our children.

Because of the professional quality of the Industrial Arts Department's work we thought we'd look into the philosophy of that department. They believe that Industrial Arts is an essential phase of the modern program of comprehension education that stimulates continuous growth within the students area of interest.

The specific area program develops the attitudes and skills that strengthens the individual creative powers and encourage participation in the wholesome use of leisure time.

Industrial Arts makes the student confident of his abilities and aware of his limitations. He finds an opportunity to learn the exactness demanded of him in mastering and applying the various techniques and procedures used in industry. The curriculum also provides for experiences that develop the appreciations, understandings, abilities and habits needed in working alone or together successfully. This requires that he think objectively and train himself to meet problems of social interaction.

Encourage Self Reliance
 The Industrial Arts teacher gives the student guidance in personal and group relationships. He helps the student to realize individual responsibility, encouraging self-discipline and self reliance.

Included in this category of Industrial Arts are woodworking, metal shop, machine and architectural drafting. In metal shop the students are taught the use of the machinery and a background of metals. The architectural drafting students actually make house plans, the woodworking students learn about woods and the use of machines in woodworking.

The results of the training these students received from their fine instructors; Lewis Gray, Leslie Reames, Morris Alpervitz and Eugene Wolonick, were all around us as we stood in Cleminson Hall... the students had learned their crafts well.

Michael Beaupre Wins Promotion

Farms Fire Lt. Michael Beaupre, 47, of 22729 Carolina, St. Clair Shores, will officially assume the position of second in command of the Farms Fire Department on Saturday, July 1, succeeding Capt. Raymond Snay, who retired on June 11 after more than 37 years as a firefighter.

The new captain was appointed to the department on July 5, 1946, and promoted to lieutenant on December 1, 1958. He is the son of the late Michael C. Beaupre, who was village president, when the Farms was still a village, from 1930 to 1932.

Beaupre is a native of the Farms, and is a 1937 graduate of St. Paul Catholic High School.

He is a veteran of World War II. He joined the Michigan National Guard on November 4, 1940. When the United States became a participant in the great conflict, the Guard was made part of the U. S. Army.

Most of Beaupre's army service was spent in the Aleutian Islands, where he served with the Army anti-aircraft unit. He was honorably discharged with the rating of staff sergeant on October 1, 1945. A few months later, he joined the Farms Department.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Why do you read books? You don't really have to, you know. Many people don't. They spend their lives quite productively, and, apparently, happily performing their daily tasks, going to work, playing bridge and other card games, gardening, engaging in all sorts of sports, winter and summer, doing housework, playing musical instruments, sewing, doing-it-yourself in basements, traveling, caring for pets, children and spouses — and never opening a book.

If you want to keep up with what's going on in the world, or be entertained, you need only to turn on the ubiquitous radio or television (and the latter now can give you what you want, without too much extra cost, in color!). Radio and TV give you quite a gamut of choices — news, soap dramas, big stars, educational programs, book reviews, music, dramatic presentations, sports, politics, comedy, tragedy, whodunits, westerns, religion — every field is presented if you can sit still and watch and listen long enough. Nor are you necessarily completely passive during all these oral-audio marathons. Some programs may set you to thinking, may spur you into taking up new hobbies, new activities, may even teach some things you never knew before. Intelligent and judicious use of both media may make you a more interesting and enlightened person.

Then there are also lecture courses in many fields, book reviews which give you the meat of the volume in capsule form, thus making it unnecessary to read the book itself.

So why bother with this latter item? It may have a gay dust jacket or an attractive cover. But many volumes we have around the house, in the library, or in book stores are old, frayed, well-thumbed, marked, rebound, stained and puppy-chewed. From the outside, they really aren't very attractive. Let's open them up. Each contains page after page after page of black print, usually rather small. They all read from left to right, going from the top of the page to the bottom. Monotonous, isn't it? Some have pictures (usually black and white, but if you're lucky, you might find a few colored plates). The format of poetry and drama varies the tedium a little, but it's still black and white print. So why do we bother with printed material, unimaginative, and sometimes shoddy, as it may appear? Why do newspapers and magazines stay in business? How does it happen that book stores, all types of libraries and many private homes are filled with this sort of material? And the publishing industry continues to grow each year.

Let me tell you what, in my opinion, a book can do. It can be a great teacher, especially if it was written by one. It can be a new, and become an old, friend and companion. It can be read and reread, and each time it will have a new or added meaning — a new depth and dimension. No wonder it becomes worn and ink-stained! After all, pencilled notes represent the only way you can react to the author! It can supplement and complement something you have learned or experienced through another media such as television. But best of all, it can give you the wonderful opportunity to interpret, envision and translate the printed word as you see fit. And your imagined enactment of HAMILLET may be different and even finer than the interpretation presented by TV or the motion picture. Let us also not forget an author's style, vocabulary and imagery — they can best be presented, savored and appreciated through the medium of a book. There is no other person in the world exactly like you, and so your visualization of any imaginative work will be unique.

If you are reading factual material, this information in printed form can be ingested rapidly or slowly. You can go back and reread forgotten or hard-to-understand passages. If it's biography you're reading, you end up with a new friend, enemy or acquaintance. At any rate, you know him better. When a radio or television program is ended, it's over. When you finish reading a book you can go back to it any time.

So think with proper awe of the power the printed page has had over the centuries. Many people can live without books, but I like to think that those of us who read, in addition to doing our daily chores and participating in our regular amusements, are infinitely richer.

No matter how busy we are, we can usually find time to snatch a few minutes here and there to read. Carry a paperback around with you, stay up an extra half-hour, read on the bus, consume a chapter while waiting for tardy friends, take a book with you in the bathtub — but read! Remember how mighty is the pen!

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

It's been quite an "old home" week for Mrs. Edward J. Radnor circle. On Sunday, Mrs. T., a New Zealander by birth, her husband, and the George A. Radnor, Jr., entertained at luncheon in the Nicholson's road home, a reunion of the "Kiwi," (that's New Zealand's national bird, by the way), Group which has been around the world with the English Speaking Detroit Branch, earlier in the year.

Members came from all over the Metropolitan Detroit area and up from Ohio, for the party, many bringing with them and photograph albums of the trip with them and everyone settled down for a quick slide show in the Nicholson's living room — the picture that drew most applause was a shot of Mrs. Tutag's mother, who lived in New Zealand.

Mrs. Tutag, at last, had a chance to satisfy her curiosity "in the flesh" the people Ed's been talking about for the past few months. . . . She was unable to join the Nicholson's on the February-March

New Zealand Consul-General Speaks

At the last evening, at the annual meeting of the English Speaking Union, a dinner was held at the Country Club, special guests were the Consul-General of New Zealand, The Honorable Basil Taylor, and Mrs. Taylor.

During dinner, Mr. Taylor, appointed New Zealand Consul-General in New York in June, 1965, (his jurisdiction extends over 30 states, as far west as Alaska, as far south as Louisiana), spoke on "New Zealand After 100 Years."

A topic which he's more than slightly familiar. His own great-grandfather, an Englishman, came to New Zealand way back in 1838.

While we're on the subject of Wellesley . . . let's say "hello" to three of its newest alumnae, Patricia Kerber, Patricia Stillwell and Lindsay Gilmore. graduation exercises, received their Bachelor of Arts degrees earlier this month.

Barbara, a Science major, will be on the research staff in the laboratories of the Harvard Medical School in Boston. Pat, who specialized in English, will enter the University of Michigan for Education courses leading to a teaching certificate.

Lindsay, who was graduated with honors in Political Science and also was designated a Wellesley College Scholar at commencement, will work toward a Masters degree at Columbia University's Graduate School of Law and Government.

A Wonderful Way To Go

Some 100 Justin Morrill College students from Michigan State University—including Margaret Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, of Lakepointe avenue, and Jill Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Newkirk, of Ridgmont road—are seeing foreign countries this summer the way few tourists ever do.

Instead of peering at the sights from a tour bus or limousine, they're a part of the landscape other American visitors ogle, some living with families in host countries while performing volunteer work in hospitals, homes for the aged, city parks and interracial day camps, others studying and living in student dormitories at major universities, others pursuing independent research projects.

And they're all earning 12 college credits during their 10 weeks abroad. Summer headquarters for Margaret is France. Jill's base of operations is Quebec, Canada.

Christa Maria Mueller, of Hampton road, received her Master of Education degree from Boston University's School of Education June 18—at commencement ceremonies held at the University of Heidelberg, Germany!

Seems a bit far to travel for a B.U. degree? Well... Christa was already THERE, teaching at a United States military base in Europe; she earned her M.A. via the University's overseas program, taking courses offered by Boston professors at university centers in Germany.

FLASH!

The Meadow Brook Music Festival bus, leaving from the War Memorial Friday evening, will make a RE-scheduled cocktail stop before heading on to Rochester... Mrs. R. E. Danaher, of Lakeshore road, who was to have had the bus group in for a pre-concert party, had to cancel as hostess because of illness—but the Russell Bauers, also of Lakeshore road, immediately offered to substitute... Cheers for the Bauers!

We herewith present two brief . . . Word Portraits of two local ladies who are tackling two Big Jobs for the 1967 United Foundation Torch Drive:

Mrs. Perry L. TeWalt . . . of Lincoln road, is the Torch Drive's 1967 Eastern Wayne Recruitment Chairman. She was named to the post a few days ago by another Pointer, Mrs. Robert F. Sullivan, of Neff road, United Foundation Recruitment Corps General Chairman.

. . . Mrs. TeWalt has worked in the annual "Give Once for All" drive since starting as a solicitor in the community business campaign 12 years ago. She was chairman of the Eastern Wayne residential campaign for three consecutive years, is a member of the United Foundation Advisory Board and a board member of the Women for the United Foundation (WUF . . .

. . . A Smith College graduate who studied at the University of Chicago School of Social Work, she devoted time to Detroit Industrial School, Travelers Aid Society of Detroit, (she's currently serving as chairman of Travelers Aid's 1967 convention), the YWCA, Children's Center of Wayne County, Camp Happy Hollow and the Seven Eastern Colleges, is president of the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers Club, volunteer coordinator for the Neighborhood Club and a Detroit Artists Market volunteer . . .

. . . She and her husband have two daughters, Ellen, 17, and Jessa, 20.

Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard, III . . . of Lothrop road, believes: "You must give of yourself to feel part of a community." Eastern Wayne's 1967 Torch Drive Residential Campaign Chairman cites herself as an example to prove her point . . .

"I've lived in cities from New York to California, but I never felt so much a part of any as I do Detroit," Mrs. Hubbard says. "I love Detroit, I think, because I've given so much of myself to it. I never really contributed to any other community . . ."

. . . Marianne Hubbard has worked in four previous Torch Drives, serving as area, division and regional chairman. She's also active volunteer with Detroit Artists Market, the Junior League of Detroit, Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, (she's a Tuxis Club advisor), Planned Parenthood League and the Cornell Club. For her plunge into volunteer work, Marianne credits the Junior League, which she joined here in 1962, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard, II, a former Pointer now living in Villanova, Pa. . .

"The Junior League really got me started, but my mother-in-law deserves credit for having set such a fine example of community service," Mrs. Hubbard explains. "She had been president of Cottage Hospital Auxiliary and Planned Parenthood, served on the board of Harper Hospital and helped run the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Fair. When I married and came here to live, she was moving away. I felt I should try to continue some of the work she had undertaken . . ."

. . . Marianne, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in American Studies from Cornell University, where she met her husband, considers organization and rigid scheduling essential to combining volunteer activities with maintaining a household and caring for a husband and youngsters who are seven, five and two years old. "I'm a volunteer during regular business hours — never at night," she says. "Fortunately, the housework and dishes wait for me . . ."

. . . She feels her new Torch Drive job, supervising the organization and training of thousands of Eastern Wayne volunteers for the campaign scheduled October 17 through November 9, will utilize her education and experience, both as a volunteer and in the business world. She worked in market and consumer research in Greenwich, Conn., before her marriage and was engaged for a while in media and market research in Detroit.

VIRGINIA LEONARD, OF THE GROSSE POINTE PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Janet Mueller

Ever wondered what column NEWS staff members turn to first, before the phones begin to ring on Thursday morning? It's "What Goes On At Your Library," a permanent feature of our Editorial Page, and we never cease to be amazed at the inventiveness, style and wit of its author, Virginia Leonard.

Now, Mrs. Leonard is a "contributing" columnist, one who does not work at our office. Columnizing is, in fact, her avocation, something she does, because she loves it, in spare minutes snatched from her full-time job as Chief of Processing, Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Her copy is generally delivered to our office by messenger, placed on the editor's desk, pre-publication read by members of the Editorial Staff, who REFUSE to wait until Thursday morning to find out what Virginia's done this week.

It's seldom edited, changed by even a word. It seldom needs editing; Mrs. Leonard has the gift of choosing the Only Possible words.

With Us Four Years

For years now, (four, to be exact, since she took over column authorship from Jean Taylor upon her—Miss Taylor's—retirement from the Library), we've admired Virginia's writing, and for years we've been meaning to "walk down the hill" to the Central Library Branch, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road, and meet Mrs. Leonard in person—but somehow or other, we never did. We had no idea what she looked like, we wouldn't have known her if we'd passed her in the street . . . until a few days ago, when we finally took that short downhill walk.

We felt, (we'll admit it now), just a trifle uneasy. So often people who sparkle on paper turn out to be conversational duds. Five minutes with Mrs. Leonard, and we couldn't remember what being uneasy felt like . . . She talks as she writes, only MORE SO . . . We never spent a more enjoyable hour.

So—What's Virginia Leonard REALLY LIKE, anyway . . . ? A Happy Family

She's very happily married to Vincent C. Leonard, a Certified Public Accountant who works for the City of Detroit, Auditor-General's Department.

They have two sons, Tom, 22, a graduate of the University of Michigan just completing a year's Fellowship at Queen's University, Belfast, Ireland, recipient of an honorary Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and planning to go off to Berkeley next year to work toward his M.A. and Ph.D. on a five-year National Defense Education Act grant, (he wants to teach History), and Tim, 17, a student at Finney High School, Detroit, scheduled to be editor of Finney's first student newspaper next year and co-editor of the Finney yearbook.

Her hobbies are reading — naturally! — bicycling, (she and Vince bicycle every day), and creative writing. "I've thought of writing short stories, novels . . . I'm especially interested in light verse, Ogden Nash, Phyllis McGinley sort of things . . . but, except for the column, I never seem to get around to creative writing . . .

"I always say, 'I have no time'—but that's a ridiculous statement! You FIND time for the things you REALLY want to do . . ."

Autored Two Articles

She's "found time" to do two recent articles for the American Library Association Bulletin, one, appearing in June, 1966, on the Book Selection System in Grosse Pointe, where public, private and parochial school librarians advise the public library; another, appearing last April, on "The Library Newspaper Column: Its Format and Function."

As for her light verse penchant; Anyone who's read one of her "Mother Goose Revisits . . ."

when his parents arrived home after their vacation, (they'd left him alone in the house, with neighbors "looking in" to see how he got along), Tim reported, "It was great! For three weeks, nobody said to me, 'Pick up your clothes', 'You're drinking too many cokes' . . . When are you going again? . . ."

First European Trip

It was Mr. and Mrs. Leonard's first time in Europe, although both their sons are fairly seasoned travelers. Tim belongs to a YMCA group which takes a trip every summer; he's been to Alaska and will go this summer to Expo '67.

Tom earned the money for a bicycle trip through Europe when he was 19—"And everything he's done since then, he's done on his own money," his proud mother reports.

But all Virginia's traveling had been done in The States, visiting relatives in Florida, vacationing in New England. She'd never been across the Atlantic, never been west of Chicago . . .

Then, last month, she and Vince spent 21 days with Tom, driving through Ireland and England, staying at Bed and Breakfast houses, flying over to Paris, where Virginia discovered her French had more than withstood the test of time, for a whole wonderful week . . .

"My idea of traveling is NOT to go on a tour, to go as much as you can on your own, by buses, trains, taxis, to mingle with the people, find out what they're like, what they think," Virginia says.

Now on West Coast

The Leonards arrived back in The States May 29, Virginia returned to work June 1—but last Sunday, she and Vince were off again, flying to the West Coast, where Virginia is currently attending the American Library Association Convention in San Francisco while Vince "explores the city."

They'll spend next week motoring down the California coast to Los Angeles, visiting friends along the way. "We're very lucky," Virginia laughs. "Most of our close friends who've moved out of town have been intelligent enough to settle in interesting places . . ."

The Leonards are lucky, too, in each other: They like the same things, the theater, symphony, travel, but their interests and talents are complementary rather than similar. Vince's mind is more technically-oriented than Virginia's.

"It was wonderful when the boys were growing up," Virginia reminisces. "Vince could help them with their math homework; I'd help them with their English . . ."

The Leonards continue to keep each other informed on developments in their different fields of interest, and Vince is a great source of column " fodder" for Virginia.

Next Trip Planned

A taste of "real" travel seems to have whetted her appetite for more. "I've got my next European trip all planned," she says. "I want to drive through rural France, take in a few Alps, head down into Italy, sail to some islands . . ."

There's something else she wants to do, too: "I'd like to write a successful book. 'Successful' to me, I mean; I'm not interested in doing a 'Valley of the Dolls' . . ."

And she wants to continue at the Grosse Pointe Public Library. ("I'm working with wonderful people, in a department where I've had much experience"), continue "What Goes On At the Library." ("It's a marvelous outlet for creative energies").

"You know," says Virginia Leonard, "I've always pitied

Experimenters Going Abroad

The Experiment in International Living is well represented in the Grosse Pointe area. A number of young people will be spending this summer abroad as Experimenters. Their purpose will be to "learn to live together by living together."

They will have homestays in their countries followed by a trip with the "brothers" and "sisters" from the families with whom they have been living.

Mark Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barlow, will be going to Norway. Mark is already quite familiar with the Experiment; Mr. Barlow is the treasurer for the Metropolitan Detroit Council. The Barlows reside in Stephens road.

Rosemary Rogier, Manchester boulevard, will be going to Holland. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cyriel Rogier.

Joseph Black will be leaving McKinley avenue to spend the summer in Mexico. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Black, Jr.

Also going abroad is Nels Olson. He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Olson, live in Renaud road.

Mr. and Mrs. James French are excited for their daughter, Rebecca; she will be in Japan this summer. The Frenchs live in Ridge road.

Jill Hart will finish her classes at Michigan State University and head for Montreal. Her mother is Mrs. Richard Newkirk, Ridgemoor road.

Sarah Elston, daughter of the Wilbur Elstons, of Provençal road will be in Besancon, France.

Jane Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of Berkshire road will spend her summer in England.

Junior Music Group Meets

The Grosse Pointe Junior Federated Music Club of Michigan held its final meeting of the year at the Grosse Pointe University School June 4.

Elected president during the session was Ann Mary Hayes. Vice-president is Joanne Fisher, corresponding secretary is Karen Lorentzen, recording secretary is Cheryl Rose, treasurer is Colleen Kerr and program chairman is Ruth Neville.

The newly formed "Metronome Club" is a "first" in this area. Its purpose is to give musically gifted young people a chance to develop their talents.

A tea, with parents and prospective members as guests, followed the regular musical program and meeting.

people whose cup is never more than half-full. I think they're missing so much . . . Virginia's cup is brim-full; as far as she's concerned, everything's a "happening." It comes across in her column.
