SENATORS Gaylord Nelson and William Proxmire, and Representative Henry Reuss introduced legislation in Congress Wednesday that would mean paying of an additional federal income tax rebate estimated at $20 million to the American Motors Corporation. The bill would be paid on an annual basis of the corporation's losses of the corporation for its 1967 fiscal year, which ends October 31. The bill significantly reduces the chances of American survival by providing the full $20 million shall be paid at once, during the period when American needs the funds most.

School Board Transacts Much Important Business

Conscientious Observer Not Inspired By Heavenly Production, But Night In Open Isn't Without Compensation

It was described as the "best of the 13 regular annual meteor showers" by the Detroit Free Press. Reading past the headline that proclaimed that last year "A few saw huge fireball meteors that lighted up the countryside as they blazed across the sky," we decided it was our privilege, and our duty, to keep watch on this year's Perseid shower that was to have built to a peak between last Friday at midnight and early Saturday morning, August 12.

"Parking our car for the all night vigil in the driveway of a friend who lives near one of Grosse Pointe's golf courses, we started on our task. We had chosen a golf course as the base of operation because it is one of the few areas in The Pointes where the glare of street lights don't block out a full view of the sky.

Since we felt a little conspicuous headed for a golf course at midnight, carrying a sleeping bag, blankets and a thermos of coffee, we stopped to make a few reassuring remarks to a resident who was leaning on his gatepost gazing into the heavens in the same direction we were headed.

Comfortable Setting

One thing leads to another and we were soon counting meteors from the comfort of one of the hospitable resident's deck chairs on his swimming pool patio. The count was up to 11 by 2 a.m., but they certainly weren't lighting up the countryside. We have to admit

Catch Boys Looting at Car Pound

Pair Caught Following Long Chase in Woods And St. Clair Shores; One Assumes Blame

Patrolman Robert Kokesk, of the Woods Police received a radio report on Sunday, August 6, reporting two boys stripping cars at the Auto Pond at 1200 Parkway. He proceeded to the scene and saw two young boys duck behind a car.

When he reached the fence of the pound he saw the boys scale the fence at Marter and run north on Marter toward St. Clair Shores.

Officer Kokesk gave chase and radioed the pursuit. The two youths then ran west into a field south of St. Joan and in between the houses on St. Joan Converging on the scene were Cpl. Donald Collins, patrolmen Robert Setchell, Martin Trombley, James Farrell and Lt. Alan Selby.

Bolt Is Evidence

The boys continued to run between houses in a northerly direction until they were apprehended by Officers Kokesk, Setchell and Cpl. Collins, in front of 2281 Sunnyside, St. Clair Shores. The boys were taken over to the car and one of them dropped a 3" bolt, which was kept as evidence.

The boys were then taken to the station. Officer Kokesk and Cpl. Collins returned to the auto pound and found a 1955 Chevrolet two-door had been broken into by prying and breaking the left vent window with a jack handle. The bolt was found in the front seat with glass still embedded in it. The tachometer had been tampered with an almost completely disconnected.

One Assumes Blame

The boys were told that they were under arrest for breaking and entering an auto and were advised of their rights.

One of the youths assumed full responsibility for the breaking and entering. He told the officers he broke into the car to take the tachometer. He then phoned his mother.

The other boy's mother was notified. Her son repeated the story the first boy had stated and he was released.

The youth who broke into the car remained in custody.

GP Park Council Asks Cost-Study Of Water Plant

Move Forced By Announced 15 Percent Rate Hike By Detroit; Increase To Become Effective on Nov. 1

An irritated Park council authorized City Manager Robert Slone to begin an extensive study of the cost of construction of a water filtration plant to be located within the city limits, possibly in one of the municipal parks.

The move was sparked by a notice from the Detroit Department of Water Supply, read by City Clerk Charles Heise at a regular meeting of the council of Monday, August 14, in which it was disclosed that the cost of water supplied to the Park will have to be increased 15 percent, to become effective on November 1.

The hike in the water rate, the council was informed, is needed to finance the construction of Detroit's Lake Huron plant, estimated to cost $117,000,000. A $90,000,000 bond issue is anticipated for this project, it was disclosed.

Consumers Must Pay

City Comptroller Nuncio Ortiz told the council that when Detroit's rate increase goes into effect on November 1, it will be reflected in the Park's rates to its resident-consumers. This means that local consumers will be paying 16 cents more per 1,000 cubic feet, he pointed out.

A letter from the Detroit Water Department stated that a Master Water Program, approved in 1959, will assume all communities in the metropolitan area of all the water they need, under the policies and conditions adopted in the program.

In order to carry out this extension of water supply and facilities, it became necessary to build a Lake Huron project, it was stated.

Gerald J. Remus, general manager of the Detroit department, said that when the program was approved, it was established that a 15 percent rate hike would be necessary to properly finance this large expenditure. Although inflationary factors have added to the financing difficulties, Detroit can still do this job according to the present day estimate of $117,000,000.

Work Under Way

"The basic design of the Lake Huron plant is ready; the property has been acquired; and some of the water mains to bring water from Lake Huron have been constructed," Remus stated. "The design experts are working and are under instructions to have this plant design ready so construction can be completed in three years, since the load requirements dictate that this additional capacity will be needed, at the latest, by this time. Contracts for construction must be awarded within approximately four months."

In accordance with the ordinances of Detroit, and the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission's requirements, and to correspond with prior bond issues, it is necessary that "we have 50 percent debt service coverage over and above our normal obligations," Remus added. The rate adjustment is to provide the additional revenue, he continued.

Nab Youths After Theft Of Cash, Car

Juveniles Hold Up Man at Knife-Point in His Home; Police Stake-Out Pays Off

Two 16-year-old Detroit boys were arrested by Park and Detroit police on Tuesday, August 8, following a stake-out of a car the youths had stolen from a man they robbed at knife point in the man's home. The youths had asked for a ride to a destination in Detroit.

The young pair are in the custody of Juvenile Court authorities, and are awaiting a hearing on charges of armed robbery and unlawfully driving away an automobile, according to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Det. Lt. Stanley Enders and Det. James LaPratt, who were assigned to the case, said that they were told by the victim, Edward McGarry of 1235 Maryland, that one of the juveniles grabbed a knife in his house, held it at his throat and demanded money. McGarry said he handed the youths between $90 and $100 from his pocket. They grabbed his car keys and escaped in his auto, the Park resident said.

McGarry told the policemen that he had left a business place at Jefferson and Fairview, and apparently had forgotten where he had parked his car. He was about to call a cab, when he located the vehicle, and was entering, when the juveniles approached and asked for a lift to Alter road and Vernon Highway. They told him that a friend of theirs lived in that neighborhood, McGarry said.

Invited for Coke

At the destination, the youthful pair said they could not locate their "friend", whereupon, McGarry invited them to his house for a coke. When they entered the kitchen, one of the boys grabbed a knife, and demanded the money.

McGarry called Park police as soon as the boys ran out of the house, and a general broadcast was sent to all police agencies. Approximately two hours later, officers of Detroit's Jefferson Station, Fifth Precinct, found the stolen car at Lillibridge and Freud, and notified Park authorities of the find. Enders and LaPratt immediately went to the area, where, with the Detroit policemen who found the automobile, began a stakeout in hopes that the youths would return.

Master Plan Submitted By Experts

Report on Requested Survey Taken Under Advice of Education

A summary report and proposed master plan for meeting facility needs of The Grosse Pointe Public School System for the next two decades was presented to the trustees of the Board of Education at the August meeting, held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Board Room of the Administration Building at 389 St. Clair avenue.

C. Henry Haberkorn III, educational consultant for O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., Birmingham architects, engineers and planners, reported the results of his work. The Board engaged the Birmingham firm in March to conduct the survey and submit a master plan for future needs.

"We are pleased to receive this preliminary report of the five-month study," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, commented. "The school trustees are taking the report under advisement. It merits thorough study before a final administrative recommendation is made," he added.

Covers Wide Area

The report covered educational facilities as well as public library needs. The educational facilities, based on enrollment growth, educational program development and obsolescence of existing Grosse Pointe facilities, were expressed in a plan for additions or changes to school buildings to meet the projected needs.

The recommended course of action in the master plan for preparing schools and libraries for space needs through 1975 would cost an estimated $7,828,215. To ready the school system for space and related facilities needed in these areas through 1980 would cost an estimated $11,715,935, according to the report.

Enrollment Projections

Enrollment projections were based on new residence construction and changes in family units in all of the Pointes, as well as changes in parochial and private school capacities, rules regulating acceptance of children in apartments and other salient points.

More Pupils Per Home

"A very definite trend has been experienced in The Grosse Pointe Public School System for the past decade toward a larger number of enrolled public school students per residence unit," Haberkorn reported. "Grosse Pointe has historically been a community of a low ratio of children per residence, a national characteristic of an affluent community. In addition, the Pointes have been served by a substantial independent school capacity."

Evidence of changes was found in many trends, some of which are physically visible and some of which are statistically evident," he said.

Haberkorn noted that "the new houses of four and five bedrooms, while in many cases are not larger than older counterparts, are designed for more children."

He also noted that a trend toward more children per residence is supported statistically and that as older homes change hands and younger families acquire them, the trend will become increasingly evident.

"The socio-economic situation in the metropolitan Detroit area is enabling younger families to move into the Pointe area where previously this was not possible," Haberkorn said. "Based on the factors considered in our study, it is our opinion that Grosse Pointe will grow younger in population make-up and the 0-4 year-old ratio will also grow."

Many Meetings Held

During the course of the study, many meetings were held with principals of individual schools and school administrators to consider educational program needs as a factor in the total report. Recommendations were made in several pertinent areas of elementary facilities and in boundary considerations.

He also noted that a trend toward more children per residence is supported statistically and that as older homes change hands and younger families acquire them, the trend will become increasingly evident.

"The socio-economic situation in the metropolitan Detroit area is enabling younger families to move into the Pointe area where previously this was not possible," Haberkorn said. "Based on the factors considered in our study, it is our opinion that Grosse Pointe will grow younger in population make-up and the 0-4 year-old ratio will also grow."

Many Meetings Held

During the course of the study, many meetings were held with principals of individual schools and school administrators to consider educational program needs as a factor in the total report. Recommendations were made in several pertinent areas of elementary facilities and in boundary considerations.

Report on Requested Survey Taken Under Advice of Education

A summary report and proposed master plan for meeting facility needs of The Grosse Pointe Public School System for the next two decades was presented to the trustees of the Board of Education at the August meeting, held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Board Room of the Administration Building at 389 St. Clair avenue.

C. Henry Haberkorn III, educational consultant for O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., Birmingham architects, engineers and planners, reported the results of his work. The Board engaged the Birmingham firm in March to conduct the survey and submit a master plan for future needs.

"We are pleased to receive this preliminary report of the five-month study," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, commented. "The school trustees are taking the report under advisement. It merits thorough study before a final administrative recommendation is made," he added.

Covers Wide Area

The report covered educational facilities as well as public library needs. The educational facilities, based on enrollment growth, educational program development and obsolescence of existing Grosse Pointe facilities, were expressed in a plan for additions or changes to school buildings to meet the projected needs.

The recommended course of action in the master plan for preparing schools and libraries for space needs through 1975 would cost an estimated $7,828,215. To ready the school system for space and related facilities needed in these areas through 1980 would cost an estimated $11,715,935, according to the report.

Enrollment Projections

Enrollment projections were based on new residence construction and changes in family units in all of the Pointes, as well as changes in parochial and private school capacities, rules regulating acceptance of children in apartments and other salient points.

More Pupils Per Home

"A very definite trend has been experienced in The Grosse Pointe Public School System for the past decade toward a larger number of enrolled public school students per residence unit," Haberkorn reported. "Grosse Pointe has historically been a community of a low ratio of children per residence, a national characteristic of an affluent community. In addition, the Pointes have been served by a substantial independent school capacity."

Evidence of changes was found in many trends, some of which are physically visible and some of which are statistically evident," he said.

Haberkorn noted that "the new houses of four and five bedrooms, while in many cases are not larger than older counterparts, are designed for more children."

He also noted that a trend toward more children per residence is supported statistically and that as older homes change hands and younger families acquire them, the trend will become increasingly evident.

Park Water Plant Study

He said that the Board of Water Commissioners approved the rate increase on July 31, to take effect on November 1, and that it is to be applied uniformly to all users.

Ortiz told the Park council that the present rate that Detroit charges the city is as follows: first 10,000 cubic feet, $1.38 per 1,000 cubic feet; next 90,000 cubic feet, $1.17 per 1,000 cubic feet; and all over 100,000 cubic feet, $1.02 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Beginning the first day of November, the cost will be $1.59 per 1,000 cubic feet, for the first 10,000 consumed, an increase of 21 cents; $1.35 for the next 90,000, an increase of 18 cents; and $1.17 for all over 100,000 cubic feet, an increase of 15 cents.

Consumers Pay $2.19 The Park, the comptroller said, is presently billing its consumers at the rate of $2.19 per 1,000 cubic feet, which includes sewage disposal. If the increase is passed on to the

that the officers saw a youth about to enter the car, and placed him under arrest. The suspect was taken to the Fifth Precinct and registered, then released to Enders and LaPratt, who conveyed the youth to the Park station for interrogation and further investigation.

Puts Finger on Pal The detectives said that the youth gave information that led to the arrest of his companion in crime. Both teenagers were placed in custody of Juvenile Court authorities, and charges of armed robbery and car theft were filed against them. They are still in the County Youth Home in Forest avenue, it was said.

The Park officers said that they recovered about $40 of the money taken from McGarry. One of the accused told the policemen that he had rented a motorcycle for about $10, paid off a five-dollar debt he had outstanding, and that he and his companion had a nice, hot breakfast with the stolen money.

CONTRACT AWARDED On Monday, August 14, the Park council awarded a contract to the W. D. Forsythe company, to paint the exterior of the Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson. The firm offered to do the job for $1,810, the lowest of six bids submitted.

consumers, the rate will have to be adjusted by 16 cents, resulting in a new cost of $2.35 per 1,000 cubic feet, he added.

The members of the council were reluctant to approve the hike, but had no alternative but to agree that it be passed on to local consumers.

Mayor Matthew Patterson said that several communities purchasing water from Detroit are of the opinion that rate increases and decreases should be under the control of the State, since water is a utility, and that he is inclined to agree with this. At this point, he recommended, and the council approved, that Slone be authorized to delve into the cost of constructing a municipally-owned filtration plant, and to make a report to the city body as soon as possible.

The only Pointes not affected by the Detroit action are the Farms and City. The Farms has its own filtration plant at 29 Moross road, in co-ownership with Highland Park, and sells water directly to the City, its only customer.

Major Bingham Wins Medals

Army Major Ellis D. Bingham, son of Mrs. Lela F. Bingham, 1309 Somerset Road, received the Air Medal and the Army Commendation Medal, both for heroism, and his third through 13th awards of the Air Medal during July 14 ceremonies near An Khe, Vietnam. The major earned the Commendation Medal, his fourth award of it, last February 27 while with command and control group during a search and destroy mission near the village of Tan An, Vietnam.

His helicopter landed in a landing zone which was under intense hostile fire from enemy snipers. Ignoring the heavy fire, the major ran several hundred meters across open ground to effect coordination with a company commander.

He organized the insertion of reinforcements into the area to encircle the enemy force and prevent its escape. Major Bingham, whose wife, Joanne, lives at 408 N. College, Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., earned the Air Medal for his heroism March 18 while on a reconnaissance flight near Bong Son during a battle.

He flew over a popular forces camp, which the enemy had just taken over, surprising them. As they tried to flee, he attacked them from the 'copter. On five occasions he landed to pick up wounded soldiers. As a direct result of the major's actions, three enemy were killed, the force was driven out of the camp, and 15 wounded were rescued.

REPORTS THEFT

Marvin L. Keller, 44, of 577 Sheldon road, informed Woods police on Friday, August 11, that his watch was stolen from a golf cart parked in front of the Lochmoor Golf Club building. Several golf balls were also taken, he said. The cart is owned by Dr. Nicholas Rove of 871 Renaud. Value of the stolen items was not disclosed.

School Board Meeting

3. All buildings will open for the registration of new pupils on August 28. An all-administrative staff meeting is scheduled for August 29. All staff members will report to their buildings on Tuesday, September 5. At 10:15 that morning, the all-system meeting will be held in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High school. Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday will be devoted to meetings. All students will report for a regular school day on Thursday morning, September 7.

4. A gain in circulation for the Grosse Pointe Public Library has been recorded for the fiscal year ending June 30. A significant gain was noted also in records, films, tapes, tools, and use of the library. The summer film program has again been a success, with 5,269 children attending 24 showings through July 28.

5. A complete report on the community use of buildings for the past year is available. During 1966-1967 use amounted to 15,531 hours. Receipts for auditorium and gymnasium rental for the same period amounted to $12,999.35 and disbursements $10,974. Balance in the account as of June 30, 1967 is $23,694.98.

The trustees acted on a variety of routine personnel recommendations, including the employment of 25 new teachers for the 1967-1968 year. A full-time substitute appointment was made for the coming year.

In addition, 22 changes in salary schedule status were approved, as was the assignment of Robert Welch, Assistant Principal-Instruction of Grosse Pointe High School South, to a similar position at Grosse Pointe High School North.

The Board of Education also approved two two-year requests for maternity leaves of absence. The trustees acted on 14 professional resignations, including that of Dr. H. Leroy Selmeier, Assistant Superintendent-Instruction, who has completed 33 years of devoted service to the local schools. (See related story.)

The members of the Board approved change orders in the construction of Grosse Pointe High School North and they approved the awarding of a contract to the J. D. Armstrong Landscape Company for the development of the playground at Maire School.

After much discussion the school trustees approved the establishment of the Grosse Pointe Family Life Education Council. Functions of the organization are to:

1. Convene with representatives from institutions and agencies within the Grosse Pointe school district whose primary purposes are of an educational nature and directed toward the strengthening of the family unit.
 2. Provide a forum for identification of social problems, opportunity for joint study, coordination of program and projects, exchanging of ideas and resources, and formulation of recommendations to participating organizations.
- The trustees approved the local school's participation in principle in Title III of the National Defense Education Act, as they have done for the past nine years. The legislation provides modest financial support to schools for the strengthening of social problems.

Theft Attempted At Drug Store

The manager of Revco Drug, 17027 Kercheval, reported to City Police on Tuesday, August 8, that some unknown person had attempted to break into the stock room at the rear of the building.

The bell alarm on the stock room went off, when he went to check it, he found that the lock had been pried off the door with a screw driver. When the would-be-thief pushed open the door the alarm went off, and apparently frightened him away.

Keep up your courage and your courage will keep you up.

Car Damage from Accident Puts Finger on Hit-Runner

Lee Van Sickle, 22, of 2205 Shakespeare, East Detroit, was arrested for not having an operator's license on his car on Monday, August 7, when it was held for the scene of a hit and run accident.

Van Sickle was first observed by Cpl. Donald Collins of the Harper Woods police driving west on Harper. His car was making scraping noises. Cpl. Collins pulled alongside of Van Sickle and Van Sickle asked if he was dragging.

The officer noticed that the driver of the car was scraping the ground as if it had been in a collision. Another scout was called and the officer was called and the officer Van Sickle for his operator's license and was told he was in his other pants. He was placed under arrest and his passenger searched and his rights were read.

In the meantime the Harper Woods police had sent out a broadcast describing a car involved in a hit and run accident. Van Sickle's car fit that description. The Woods Police contacted the Harper Woods police and verified that the Van Sickle car was the wanted car. Both men were taken to the station. The passenger was released after a warrant and a record check with both Warren and Detroit police revealed he was clear.

Van Sickle was turned over to the Harper Woods police to be identified by witnesses of the accident.

He was then returned to the Woods station and held on the charge of never having acquired an operator's license. His bond was set for $100. Van Sickle was advised of his rights and then after being confronted with the evidence by Harper Woods police admitted he had hit a woman's car and left the scene.

The owner of the car Van Sickle was driving, William Johnson, 1175 Hibbard, Detroit, was unaware that Van Sickle did not have an operator's license.

On August 9, Van Sickle was arraigned before Judge Don J. Goodrow on the charge of never having acquired an operator's license. He pled guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or two days in jail. He was unable to pay the fine. He then was turned over to the Harper Woods Police on the charge of leaving the scene of an accident, hit and run.

Young Vendors Prey of Thieves

Young boys were robbed of $20 they earned selling popcorn in front of 100 Harper road, on Wednesday, August 9. They reported to police that two boys, one riding a blue Stingray bicycle, the other riding a black, speed bicycle stopped to get refreshments and then removed a bag containing $20. They fled south on Harper.

BOAT REPORTED STOLEN
A green and white Sport Yac, last seen on August 6, was reported missing from the City Park, on Sunday, August 13. The boat was locked and chained. Police are investigating.

Electric Guitar Taken from Car

A Woods Police car was stopped on Mack avenue on Tuesday, August 8, by some boys in a station wagon who reported that while they were in Blazo's Restaurant between 10:45 and 11:30 p.m., someone had taken an electric Hagstrom guitar, in a sunburst color and a guitar case from their car.

The driver of the car Joseph Ignazio, said he had locked the doors. He believed someone had forced the window on the passenger side. There were no visible pry marks but the window would not roll up. The guitar was valued at $285 and the case was valued at $35.

Accuse Motorist As Sex Offender

John H. Rodgers, 27, of 38853 Lake Shore road, Mt. Clemens, stood mute at his arraignment in Farms Municipal Court on Monday, August 14, on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a minor child. The hearing was held before Judge Robert Pytell.

The judge entered a plea of innocent for the accused man, and set bond at $5,000, and when this could not be posted, ordered that Rodgers be confined to the Wayne County Jail until examination date, set for Wednesday, August 23.

Farms Det. Joseph Miller, who arrested Rodgers at his home, said a warrant, charging Rodgers with taking indecent liberties with a child under 16 years of age, was approved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office a few hours prior to the arraignment.

The detective said the man is accused of taking liberties with one of two 13-year-old boy-hitchhikers whom he picked up at Moross and Beaupre on Friday, August 11, at about 3:05 p.m. The youngsters asked to be dropped off at Kercheval and Hall place, it was said.

En route to this destination, according to the boys, Rodgers made advances to one of them, and they demanded to be let out of the car. The lads left the car at Kercheval and Kenwood, where they took down the license plate number of the vehicle and without delay went to the nearest phone and called police.

Miller said that Rodgers, who is on probation in Macomb County for a similar offense, was identified through a St. Clair Shores Police mug shot. The youngsters picked him out from a group of pictures placed before them, the officer said.

Farms Police Chief Jack F. Roh lauded the courage of the two young teenagers and their good judgement and presence of mind in jotting down the license number of the car in which they had been riding. Especially, he praised the pair for calling authorities in the matter.

"I cannot emphasize strongly enough, the dangers youngsters expose themselves to when they hitchhike a ride," the chief said. "There are many, many drivers who are decent people, who out of the goodness of their hearts, give youngsters a lift, but the thing is, it is not known who is decent and who isn't. Hitchhiking is a potential danger to both hitchhikers and to those who pick them up because harm can be inflicted either way."

"I urge all parents to warn their children, both boys and girls, about the practice of 'thumbing' a ride. Motorist have been known to rob those to whom they give a lift, or even commit worse crimes, and vice versa," Chief Roh said. "Hitchhiking should be discouraged."

men Women, Bryn Mawr College, will appear at Liggett's Kresge Auditorium between 10 and 11 o'clock on three fall mornings. Teachers Use Vacations Well

The summer recess from their teaching duties in The Grosse Pointe Public School System has provided junior high school staff members with an opportunity to broaden their professional backgrounds through enrolling in a variety of university courses.

For example, four teachers at Brownell Junior High School became students again. Mrs. Mary Wernet, a counselor, worked toward a master's degree at Wayne State University through the completion of a course in group guidance and another in the structure of American education.

Mrs. Marjorie A. Stechschulte, an English teacher, enrolled at Marygrove College for classes in psychology and remedial reading. William Mitchell, also in the English department, studied at the University of Michigan for work in administration and education leading to a master's degree.

Miss Saraloe Pearl, art instructor, chose Michigan State University to study painting and art history.

Representing Parcels Junior High School on campus this summer were Donald R. McNew, instrumental music instructor; Miss Janet Bolton, Latin and English teacher; James H. Haskell of the mathematics department; and Mrs. Ann Ransford in English.

Mr. McNew took work in clinical psychology at Wayne State and Miss Bolton studied Victorian literature. Mr. Haskegl, pursuing a master's degree, took courses in the teaching of mathematics and guidance. Mrs. Ransford, finishing a master's degree, completed a Shakespeare course.

The staff of Pierce Junior High School was represented by eight teachers who returned to college during the summer.

Three members of the mathematics department enrolled for advanced training. Russell P. Lutinen, working on a master's degree, attended Michigan State University. Herbert C. Ladd attended the conservation camp workshop sponsored by Central Michigan University and Justin O. Parrott enrolled for a workshop conducted by Syracuse University.

Donald E. Richards, industrial arts teacher, studied at Wayne State University. Mrs. Patricia Panzer of the science department was also on the Detroit campus working on a master's degree.

James E. Hunt, who teaches Latin and English, broadened his language background by enrollment for a course in Russian at Illinois State University. Miss Helen A. Van Loo, also in English, spent a week at the Higgins Lake Conservation Camp, as did John Carik of the staff of the physical education department.

Fascinating Shows Produced In Swimming Pool Settings

By Pepper Whitelaw

Swimming and sunning are as natural as brushing teeth here in The Pointe where we have such wonderful facilities. So it naturally follows that the pools and environment are filled with sun worshippers and swimmers. They come in all shapes, sizes, ages, and temperaments.

There's the gal who just loves to have "that summer glow" but hates to tan unevenly. She can be seen in the strangest positions in her attempt to get an all-over-tan. She's the pretzel-like form smack dab in the middle of the sunning area.

The swimmer just loves the water but hates the sun. She's the one sitting in the shade looking like Omar the Tent Maker... complete with towel and oversized hat.

The "preparations gal" just can't let nature take its course. She uses everything that has come on the market in the last year... all quick tanning solutions. She best can be distinguished by that all over nicotine-stained look.

The gal who looks like she's ready to take off for outer space is the one with the reflector. She sits with a folded foil contrivance in front of her face frowning (after all, she can see every blemish on her face when staring into that thing, so who could blame her?)

Now the swim suit is a dead giveaway as to the type of swimmer you are. The gal with the two-piece, lacy suit and over-sized, flowered swim cap, is the Betty Boop type. The kinds that sneaks gradually into the water and "boop de doops" as the water hits her bare midriff.

The gal in the tank suit is a no-nonsense swimmer. In her plain rubber bathing cap she walks over to the high diving board and just dives in, and that's the last you see of her until she's ready to go home.

Then we have the mother-types. These fall into two categories. The mothers of the very young, who are laden down with floating kangaroos, baby lotion, diapers, plastic panties, baby bottles and strollers.

Here are the real blue ribbon winners. These gals should use a moving van, instead of the traditional station wagon, to get their equipment to the pool, not to mention four or five extra hands to handle the small fry.

Mom never gets to sit and chat or lie in the sun. She is either chasing Myrtle, who loves the water and isn't the slightest bit wary of it, or comforting Horace, who screams every time he looks into the pool.

This creates quite a problem for her, since she has to watch both of her children. The result is that mom usually comes home with a headache. Horace usually gets too much sun and is up half the night and Myrtle throws a tantrum because she wanted just one more swim.

Then there's the mother who is too accommodating. She takes all the neighborhood children along. When it's time to go home she can be seen scanning the horizon for the eight and nine-year-olds who came with her. She has spent the entire afternoon doling out nickels and blowing up rafts.

The business gal, who came to get some sun on her day off is the scowling gal in the corner of the pool area. She has spent the entire day trying to read a novel that has been splashed so often it looks like a soggy noodle. She isn't used to all the confusion generated by the many enthusiastic children and she feels completely "out of it." Besides, she has been getting some rather hard glances from her neighbors who envy her solitude.

The group that really has a ball at the swimming pool are the children, who are oblivious to any of the petty irritations of which we adults are so aware. They swim, sun and laugh most of the day... come to think of it, isn't that what going to the pool should mean to all of us?

Fishing Rodeo Set for Aug. 26

By Brenda Stout
Grosse Pointe Farms and the City of Grosse Pointe are again sponsoring the Annual Fishing Rodeo to be held on Saturday, August 26, at 9 a.m. at the Farms Park.

Preceding the Rodeo is the pre-rodeo fishing contest in which youngsters up to 17 years of age can vie for honors. The larger fish caught in either the pre-rodeo or rodeo will be the winner.

Youngsters interested in entering the pre-rodeo contest, who live in the Farms and City, can still pick up the Fish Rodeo entry forms at either of the parks' checkrooms.

Those interested in participating on Rodeo Day need only appear at the Farms Park at 9 a.m.

To date the fishing has been unusually good. Children have been entering an average of six fish a day. Bob Taylor has caught the largest fish to date, a 27-inch Sheephead. Michael Ochalek caught the first fish, a 6-inch Rock Bass. Drew Miller has caught the most fish, far, 17.

Farms, Police, Firemen, Get Extra Pay, Citations

Personnel of the Farms Police Department will be given time and one-half overtime pay for the many hours accumulated during the recent civil disorder in Detroit, and each member of the department will receive a city council Citation for Meritorious Service, it was disclosed by Police Chief Jack F. Roh, on Monday, August 14.

The city's firemen, too, are in line for the pay and awards for their outstanding job during the crisis, it was said.

Chief Roh said that during the days of the riot, local police officers, every single one of them, were on duty, ready to protect the lives and property of Farms residents. Also, a number of the policemen, at various times, were assigned to assist Detroit police, during this time of trouble, but in no case was the Farms left without adequate protection, the chief added.

During the height of the disorder, he said, eight Federal soldiers were assigned to the Farms station, to aid local law officers if needed.

Chief Roh said that barricades, with a Farms policeman and a Federal trooper at each barricade, were located at these strategic locations: Lake Shore and Fisher road; Lake Shore and the Farms Shores limits, with Shores police; Kercheval and Fisher; Mack and Fisher; Mack and Warren; Mack and Moross; and Mack and Cook road in the Woods, in conjunction with Woods authorities. Police and soldiers were on duty around the clock, the chief said.

In addition, Farms police officers were assigned to guard local firemen and apparatus, when the Farms firemen were dispatched to assist Detroit firefighters in the hopeless fight against the hundreds of fires started by arsonists.

Chief Roh, who was profound in the praise of the men of his department, said that at all times during the riot, the local policemen and firemen were given the unanimous support of Farms civil officials.

He said that a meeting of personnel will be called sometime next week, at which time each officer will be presented a citation, expressing the thanks of city officials, for themselves, and in behalf of the citizens of the Farms.

Inter-City Swim Meet Scheduled

The Grosse Pointe City Park will host the Inter-City Swim Meet this year.

The preliminaries will begin at 10 Friday morning and the finals will be held on Saturday evening at 6:30.

Medals and ribbons will be given for the swimmers who place in the top six of each event. Spectators are welcome.

WATCH STOLEN IN SHOP

Winners in the Grosse Pointe Park Junior Championship Golf Tournament were Leonard Singer, 15 years old, and Steve Katsoror, 14 years old, with the scores of 39; Shirley Szady, 15 years old, who scored 48; and 10 year old Mary Magee, whose score of 54 won her a trophy as "The Most Promising Girl Golfer."

The tournament was held at Harper Metro Golf Course on Tuesday, August 8, under the supervision of Jack Rice, recreational director for Grosse Pointe Park.

Report B and E At Neff Address

City Police received a call from Mrs. Jane Palmer, of 899 Neff road, on Friday, August 11, reporting a breaking and entry at that address.

Upon investigating officers discovered that the door of the vestibule leading into the apartments had been forced open.

The molding on one of the apartment doors had been removed and the lock worked on unsuccessfully.

The apartment of Burt Ballard had been entered and ransacked but an inventory revealed nothing was missing. The lock on the door of that apartment had been jimmied.

Attempt to Buy Beer Backfires

The Farms Police received a report on Monday, August 7, from the S and M Market at 19210 Mack, that a minor was attempting to purchase beer with false identification.

The youth, Raymond Craig 21169 Lancaster, Harper Woods, presented identification belonging to Ronald Vernier, 997 Lakeshore road.

Craig had Vernier's Michigan driver's license, student registration from Ohio State University, birth certificate, social security card and baptismal record. Craig said Vernier gave him the identification at a gathering in Ridge road.

The owner of the Ridge road residence was on vacation and a sitter was in charge. When the officers checked the residence they found several couples leaving and suggested to the sitter that since there was no adult present she should clear the house of the remaining three guests. The request was complied with immediately.

Since Craig could not produce registration for the car he was driving, it was placed in the police garage.

Craig was released on personal bond to a family guardian, Mrs. Dorothy Muncio, 10060 Connor. His court date was set for August 16.

HELMETS STOLEN

Clifford Taylor, 452 Colonial, reported to Farms Police the theft of two crash helmets from his garage, some time between 6 and 10 p.m. on Wednesday, August 9. He described the helmets as one BUCO size 7 1/2 colored white and the other a red helmet with SMI in the back.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir—

The annexed letter has been mailed this date to the Chiefs of Police of the five Grosse Pointe communities.

In our opinion, the letter is sufficiently timely and of such community interest that it justifies being printed in your Letters to the Editor.

Very truly yours, ORVILLE F. SHERWOOD, Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association

August 14, 1967 SUBJECT: Civil Disturbance Emergencies

TO: Allen H. Andrews, Jr., Director of Public Safety, City of Grosse Pointe Woods; Thomas R. Cochill, Chief of Police and Fire, Village of Grosse Pointe Park; Arthur E. Louwers, Chief of Police, City of Grosse Pointe Park; Jack F. Roh, Chief of Police, City of Grosse Pointe Farms; Andrew C. Teetart, Chief of Police, City of Grosse Pointe Gentlemen:

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association is justifiably proud of the Grosse Pointe police departments and the great contribution they have made to making Grosse Pointe a safe and pleasant place to live.

Particularly, the Grosse Pointe police reserve commendation for their services during the recent riot in Detroit. Historically, Grosse Pointe enjoyed a natural immunity to such disasters by being a sparsely populated, isolated suburban community. However, Grosse Pointe itself is now built up and surrounded by densely populated areas.

Its natural immunity is gone. Its open exposure offers a standing invitation to invasion for violence and arson. Moreover, the real or self-appointed spokesmen for the violent activists have openly and repeatedly stated that the recent riot was merely a "rehearsal" for future operations to be aimed at public utilities, centers of communication, and the suburbs.

It is elementary, but apparently bears repeating, that the protection of life and property is the first responsibility of government. Public officials, elected or appointed, who neglect or refuse to use the full legal means at their disposal to protect life and property are guilty of non-feasance. For years many high public officials of Detroit and Michigan have not only condoned the incubation of violence but also have openly aided and abetted the sponsors of public disorder by extending to them immunity, favor, encouragement, support and even the prestige of personal endorsement. Detroit had adequate warning of the impending disaster but deliberately did nothing. It has paid the penalty.

Grosse Pointe has now had its grim warning and several important lessons should have been learned. FIRST, if a future disorder involves both Detroit and the suburbs, Grosse Pointe will have to depend upon its own resources for at least 48 hours. Detroit would have no police or fire equipment to divert. The Michigan National Guard might not be available until after Grosse Pointe had suffered irreparable damage and severe casualties. SECOND, Federal troops might or might not be available. The further reduction of regular Army reserve forces in the continental U. S. and simultaneous outbreaks in several major cities might preclude any Federal assistance. In any event, Federal troops would not arrive until Grosse Pointe had suffered irreparable damage and severe casualties. THIRD, regardless of the real dedication, high degree of training, and personal valor of the Grosse Pointe police, they would be unable to protect Grosse Pointe from destruction and violence in the event of an armed invasion of major proportions because they would be overwhelmed simply by geography and sheer weight of numbers.

For example, in addition to 7 miles of shoreline, there are approximately 100 streets which enter Grosse Pointe. It would be physically impossible for the present number of police to keep mass invaders out, let alone contain them after they had entered Grosse Pointe in any sizeable numbers. Further, the Grosse Pointe police stations are vulnerable to seizure by relatively small groups of armed men which would result in loss of communications and control. There are no facilities for the detention of the large numbers of persons who reasonably might have to be removed from critical areas and temporarily impounded. Fortunately, Grosse Pointe was not a target in the recent riot. Effective planning and implementation can prevent future tragedy. Consequently, the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association is giving this problem top priority. It offers its full support to the Grosse Pointe police in obtaining such additional equipment, facilities, resources, and specialized training as they may deem necessary to ensure the future protection of the Grosse Pointe communities.

THERE REMAINS, HOWEVER, THE ESSENTIAL PROBLEM OF HAVING A SUFFICIENTLY LARGE NUMBER OF TRAINED PERSONNEL IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE TO PREVENT THE RIOTS FROM REACHING GROSSE POINTE IN THE FIRST PLACE. Addressing this problem, Representative William A. Ryan of Detroit, Democratic House minority leader, has submitted a resolution to create a special legislative committee to explore the idea and make specific recommendations to the Legislature this fall regarding the formation of neighborhood deputy police corps which would correspond roughly to special sheriff's deputies and auxiliary local police organized in some outstate communities. The corps, an extension of regular police agencies, would enlist and train public-spirited persons at public expense to nip threats to community peace at their inception. (DETROIT FREE PRESS, August 3, 1967.)

We propose the formation of such deputy police corps in the Grosse Pointe communities. Grosse Pointe has hundreds of public-spirited, sober, mature, disciplined, and responsible residents with the benefit of previous military service who would volunteer to serve. The assistance they could render the police is obvious. The volunteers would constitute a professionally trained, strictly disciplined, and highly effective auxiliary force available to the Chiefs of Police in an emergency. Their ultimate usefulness would depend, of course, upon the training given them by the police departments.

The natural objections and usual problems connected with civilian involvement in police functions can be obviated by strict delineation of duties. The volunteers should not perform any of the legal functions of the regular police officers. But in an emergency, under the direction and control of the Chiefs of Police, the auxiliaries could protect police stations and communications, block avenues of approach to Grosse Pointe, cord off critical areas, patrol and report essential information, enforce traffic and curfew regulations, protect and assist firemen engaged in fire-fighting, suppress snipers, guard arrested rioters in temporary detention, and, in general, remain available to perform their legal police duties.

MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL, THEIR TIMELY EMPLOYMENT COULD EFFECTIVELY PREVENT FUTURE RIOTS FROM REACHING GROSSE POINTE IN THE FIRST PLACE. A copy of this letter is being mailed to the members of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association with a questionnaire to determine the interest of our membership in the program. Current statutes and pending legislation remain to be studied to determine legal authority and the sources and availability of funds. Your observations, suggestions, and reactions as Police Chiefs will be appreciated. We are available for a personal discussion of particulars at your convenience and to render such possible assistance to your Police Departments as may be requested. Sincerely yours, ORVILLE F. SHERWOOD Executive Secretary.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Do you have a cache of favorite books by your bedside. Or a shelf of well-thumbed tomes in your den? Ideally, this collection should include ones you've read many times, those you've acquired and just not had time to read, titles you've read once and liked so much you want them around so you can reread them sometime.

This selection will probably be varied — its range quite vast. One look at my own large bookcase in my bedroom confirms this. Let me tell you about some of the books I have constantly at my beck and call.

The one closest to me, as I sit typing, is EUROPE ON 5 DOLLARS A DAY by Arthur Frommer, bespeaking my earlier preparations for my recent European jaunt. The next one is THE SITUATION IN FLUSHING by Edmond Love. Someone whose opinion I respect recommended it to me. I dipped into it once, was interrupted, and have never finished it, but someday I shall; I liked what I read.

Knowing my interest in psychiatry and allied fields, no one will be surprised to find such titles as SELF-REALIZATION AND SELF-DEFEAT by Samuel J. Warner, THE WEEKENDERS by Max Gunther, NORMAL NEUROSIOS by the Putneys, THE HEALING PARTNERSHIP by Bernard Steiner and THE ART OF EXISTENTIAL COUNSELING by Van Kaam rubbing elbows. NORMAL NEUROSIOS is probably my favorite, and I'm looking forward to the one by Van Kaam as it is quite new and is supposed to represent a new perspective in psychotherapy. Perhaps this weekend I'll get to it!

I'm sure my readers won't be surprised to find a copy (well-marked and somewhat worn) of UP THE DOWN STAIRCASE by Bel Kaufman occupying a prominent place on my shelves. I wonder how many times I've read it and reviewed it! Running a close second would be THE SECRET OF SANTA VITORIA by Robert Crichton — that was my favorite last year. Another was MADAM SARAH by Cornelia Otis Skinner. I've even got THE LIVES AND TIMES OF ARCHY & MEHITABEL by Don Marquis sitting close to the bed, as sometimes a few pages of this before turning out the light will put me in a happy and relaxed mood. Betty Friedan's FEMININE MYSTIQUE is on the bottom shelf and is consulted occasionally when I need justification for being a so-called "career woman." With one adolescent left in the family, I'm frequently calmed by rereading parts of "WHERE DID YOU GO?" "OUT." "WHAT DID YOU DO?" "NOTHING," by the irrepressible Robert Paul Smith.

Some other titles that have various and varied appeals are THE TENANTS OF MOONBLOOM by Wallant, Dorothy Parker's poems, VERSUS by Ogden Nash, LEAVEN OF MALICE by Robertson Davies, Saul Bellow's HERZOG (how many times have I read that book?), CAPTAIN NEWMAN, M.D. by Leo Rosten, (which I recently reread on a hot night when I couldn't sleep), even an old Horatio Alger which I picked up at a second hand book store, Albert Camus' THE STRANGER, THE PLAGUE and THE MYTH OF SISYPHUS. Oh yes, I forgot Steinbeck's TRAVELS WITH CHARLEY, and Mary McCarthy's books, some in hard cover and some in paperback.

Then there are the transients — the ones that come home with me one day and are returned to the library a week or so hence. Perhaps they are new books, such as the Van Kaam book I mentioned earlier, or the new novel by Wallace Stegner — ALL THE LITTLE LIVE THINGS, or a very funny book for dog lovers, entitled DOWN BOY, DOWN BLAST YOU! by Charlton Ogburn, Jr. Another group that is momentarily living with me consists of books I'm considering discussing in my column next week.

So you can see — it's a motley crew, my collection of books. And it expands and contracts as my interests grow and change. I bring home new books, I collect old ones from the upstairs shelves which I suddenly yearn to have near me. Perhaps some of the existing ones will be retired to another room for a while. After all, bookcases can't hold so many books!

It's always fun to haunt second hand book stores and used book sales where you almost always find an old, forgotten friend that you can buy for practically nothing. With the advent of the paperback, very few titles are verboten — you can afford almost anything! Both my sons are paperback addicts and their upstairs room over the past 10 years has become virtually lined with these moderately priced little volumes. I've become so hooked that I find myself wondering if I shouldn't perhaps add one more small bookcase to my room, (where I would put it I'll never know), for the paperbacks I seem to be accumulating in spite of myself. Aren't books wonderful?

Nab Boys Trying to Sell Colorizer Stolen in Riot

The Grosse Pointe Woods police received a call on Wednesday, August 9, reporting that persons were attempting to sell stolen merchandise at Studio Camera Shop, 20229 Mack.

Upon arrival, officers William Cramer and Richard Priezt were met by Roy B. Roberts, a salesman in the store, who identified the boys, and the merchandise, an Eastman Kodak Colorizer, valued at $480. Mr. Roberts said he informed the boys at the time that the colorizer they were attempting to sell had been stolen from the Eastman Kodak Store, Inc., 2140 Grand River, Detroit. The boys, Daniel Murphy, 4216 Cadieux and John Francis Kelly, both of Detroit, were placed under arrest for possession of stolen property. They were advised of their constitutional rights, and taken to the station. Both of them waived their rights and agreed to interviews. One of the youths said he purchased the Colorizer from one Thomas Steinfield, of Audubon, Detroit for $20. He said he had no idea of the value of the merchandise.

Det. Lt. Henry Marchand spoke to the manager of Eastman Kodak and verified that the Colorizer was stolen from the store during the Detroit riot.

Something New is happening in Grosse Pointe this year, if the committee planning the event has anything to say about it, this Something New will go on and on, year after year, as an annual event...

But it's always exciting to be in at the beginning of something...

This Something New is a "Tennis and Crumpets" tournament, scheduled September 16, 17 and 23. The whole of events for the 23rd will consist of finals, an exhibition match and a buffet dance—all held at the Country Club.

The preliminary tournament matches will be played, "all over," on courts at the Little Club, the Club, the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, private courts and even some school courts.

The tournament is a "fun" event rather than a test. It will be played in mix doubles; six couples, primarily husband and wife, of specific "classes," and will be "classified" according to their ability. They will be assigned to a round robin elimination on each court. They will play six games with each other five couples.

The team winning the greatest number of games in other winners in its class the following day. Matches in each class will be held Saturday, September 23, and will be followed by an exhibition buffet dance, from 5 until 10 o'clock, with live music providing the music.

Tournament proceeds will benefit Children's Hospital. Funds will be used to finance a room in the Children's Hospital—to be called (naturally!) The Tennis and Crumpets Room, (sounds delightful, doesn't it like a nursery rhyme...).

Chairman of Tennis and Crumpets—1967 is Mrs. George Summers. Treasurer is Mrs. George McMullen. Committees are being handled by Mrs. David Hudson, Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr.

Other committee members are Mrs. Douglas Roby, Mrs. Walter Howell, Mrs. George McKean, Mrs. Edna Lath, Mrs. Francis Winas, Mrs. Phillip Rahm, Mrs. Edward Marsh, Mrs. William Cunningham, Mrs. E. J. Norris, Mrs. Miles O'Brien, Jr., and Mrs. Alfred Fisher, III.

Soroptimists Hold Convention

"Towards Understanding" was the theme of the Eighth International Convention of SIA, (Soroptimist International Association), held in Toronto, Canada, July 23 to 28.

The Soroptimist International Association has met every four years since 1928, except during World War II, and had its first meeting in Washington, D.C. The Association is made up of three Federations: The European Federation, The Federation of Great Britain and Ireland and The Federation of The Americas, Inc.

Attending the Convention were 1,500 executive and professional women from 26 of the 43 countries in which Soroptimism has 48,000 members. The new president, installed at the convention, is Mrs. Marion Stallard, a lawyer from Barnstable, England.

These projects are carried out on the local level through the classified service clubs of which the Grosse Pointe Soroptimist Club is one.

Mrs. Ronald Samuel

The Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Woodward avenue was the setting for the Saturday August 12 wedding of GWENDOLYN MAE BASHARA, daughter of the George N. Basharas, of Balfour road, and Mr. Samuel, son of Mrs. Edwin Porter, of San Francisco, Calif.

Miss Bashara Bride Of Ronald G. Samuel

Apostolic Blessing Of Paul Peter Cardinal Meuchi, Maronite Patriarch Of Antioch And All The East, Bestowed Upon Couple

Gwendolyn Mae Bashara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Bashara, of Balfour road, spoke her wedding vows to Ronald George Samuel, son of Mrs. Edwin Porter, of San Francisco, Calif., at an afternoon ceremony Saturday, August 12, in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Woodward avenue.

Mrs. Bashara's cousin, The Reverend Deacon John Shalhoup, came from Toledo, O., to assist the Very Reverend Thomas Ruffin, who officiated at the double rite Syrian Orthodox service. Serving at the altar was the bride's cousin, Rick Bashara.

An Apostolic Blessing from Paul Peter Cardinal Meuchi, Maronite Patriarch of Antioch and All the East, was bestowed upon the couple.

The bride's Empire gown of pale ivory silk organza was styled with a Chapel train. Appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace outlined with seed pearls accented her bodice and skirt.

Her illusion veil fell from a matching lace headpiece, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and ivy centered with white orchids and Sweetheart roses.

She was attended by her sister, Barbara Jean Bashara, who served as honor maid, two other sisters, Judy and Carol Bashara, Mrs. George N. Bashara, Jr., and a cousin, Mrs. Michael S. Skaff, of Santa Monica, Calif.

Their floor length frocks were fashioned with mint green silk crepe skirts and Empire bodices of grass green Venetian lace. They wore matching lace headpieces and carried cascades of yellow carnations and ivy. Flower girl Laura Ann Bashara, the bride's niece, wore a full-skirted pink Chantilly lace and tulle dress and carried a basket of pink Sweetheart roses.

Carrying the rings on a white satin and lace pillow, fashioned by the bride's mother, was ring bearer Joseph Shalhoup, of North Andover, Mass., the bride's cousin.

Raul Balderas, of Encino, Calif., was best man, and George N. Bashara, Jr., the bride's brother, Alexander G. Ferris, of Nashua, N.H., Richard Bashara, Dr. Joseph Ellis and Kenneth Ellis, both of Grand Rapids, and Dr. George Courie, of Bethesda, Md., seated the guests. Junior usher was Robert Bashara, the bride's nephew.

Mrs. Bashara chose a floor length gown of pink silk and beaded organza for her daughter's wedding and the reception in the Coach Room and Crystal Ballroom of The Whittier Hotel following the ceremony. She pinned a corsage of pale pink Sweetheart roses to her purse.

The newlyweds, motoring through the Rocky Mountains to Carmel, Calif., will be making their home in Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Miss Stettin Married To Ross Hafferkamp

Twin Is Sister's Maid Of Honor; Bridegroom's Two Sisters Are Bridesmaids; Newlyweds Vacation In Upper Peninsula

Mr. and Mrs. Carlis Joseph Stettin entertained at a reception in their University place home for the bridal party and members of the immediate families following the Saturday evening wedding, August 12, of their daughter, Carla, and Ross Hafferkamp.

Officiating at the candle-light service in St. James Lutheran Church was The Reverend George E. Kurz.

The bride's floor length Empire gown of white pinfeather was accented with Venice lace, and she fashioned a lace petal headpiece to hold her tiered illusion veil. She carried a stephanotis cascade.

Sandra Stettin served as her twin sister's honor attendant. Fay Hafferkamp was bridesmaid and Gail Hafferkamp was junior bridesmaid. They are both sisters of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore identical Empire gowns of mint green silk linen and carried bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lartz Hafferkamp, of Royal Oak, asked William Proctor Storer to act as best man.

Seating the guests were Giles Hafferkamp, brother of the bridegroom; Kenneth Jay McCormick, of Clawson, and Jack W. Landon, cousins of the bridegroom, and Noel Mazade.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of ice-qua French silk and pinned a gardenia corsage to her matching purse. The bridegroom's mother chose a floor length gown of gold French lace over lemon bisque Alaskine and pinned a yellow-tinted Amazon lily to her matching handbag.

The newlyweds, vacationing in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, will make their home in Fair Haven.

the late Kenton Pangborn. Seating the guests were Michael Cottler, Lee McDowell, John Goddard and Robert Kraft, Bruce McDougall, Jr., the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

at which Pastor Charles Sandrock presided, Mrs. McDougall chose a pale yellow silk dress and coat ensemble. Mrs. McDonald, the bridegroom's mother, wore an ice blue costume, with a jeweled neckline.

Elvenny and Mrs. Gerard Slattery comprise the Advisory committee.

The committee hopes to make the tournament an annual fund-raising event, and to eventually involve the whole of greater Metropolitan Detroit . . . but, this year, in order to work out "inauguration" snags and study possibilities, "Tennis and Crumpets" will limit itself to The Pointe area . . .

As we said before: It's exciting to be in at the beginning of something . . .

Family Visitors

'Tis the season for family visitors, so we thought we'd call your attention to a pair of recent, locally-celebrated, relative reunions:

From across the Atlantic came Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Bahn's houseguests, Dr. and Mrs. James S. Tait, of London, England. Mrs. Tait is Mrs. Bahn's sister; Dr. Tait is Vice-Chancellor of the City University of London. They're all happily renewing "auld acquaintance" at the Bahn home in Grayton road.

The Edward F. Lambrechts, of Lakeshore road, have said good-bye to their trio of houseguests, (augmented, each weekend, to a quartet). Mrs. David C. Siphron, the former Susan Lambrecht, of New York City, and her two children, three-year-old Peter and month-old Anne Palmer Siphron, spent three wonderful midsummer weeks with the Lambrechts, with Mr. Siphron flying in each weekend from Manhattan to complete the family party.

"Hello" From Tokyo

Remember The Reverend Paul Ketchum, a not-so-long-ago minister at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church? Well, he passed through town last June on his way to Korea, making his headquarters with old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stetekluh, of Handy road. Since then, Mr. Ketchum, pastor of Eliot Presbyterian Church, Lowell, Mass., has been teaching Korean English teachers in a special Summer Institute at Keimyung Christian College, Taegu.

"There were 72 of them (the English teachers) in one class," he reports in a recent letter to the Stetekluhs, "which was much too large. But we struggled through . . ."

"At the end they gave me a beautiful inlaid Korean tray."

Mr. Ketchum's letter was postmarked Tokyo, where he stopped on his way home for a bit of sight-seeing, including an all-day bus trip to Mount Fuji, (he was lucky enough to see the top of the mountain break through the clouds), and a dinner rendezvous with the parents of Miho Sakakura, graduated this year from Cranbrook Academy of Art.

For several years, while she studied at Cranbrook, Miho has been a frequent visitor at the Stetekluhs'; she was at their home during Mr. Ketchum's June visit, and asked him to be sure to look up her mother and father when he was in the Japanese capital.

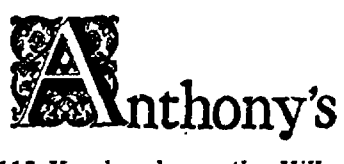

Which, being Mr. Ketchum, he did . . .

Pointer of Interest

CHERIE MOORE OF BALFOUR ROAD

By Janet Mueller

Last August, the day before she was due to return to The States after a summer-long tour of Europe, Cherie Moore called her mother from London. She'd decided, Cherie explained, to stay abroad for a while . . . after all, she had nothing definite to return to America FOR, she'd completed her undergraduate education, receiving her Bachelors degree in History from the University of Michigan that spring, she had no definite job lined up for the fall . . .

This July, after 14 full months aboard, Cherie Moore finally—and, it must be admitted, a bit reluctantly—came home.

She brought with her a most impressive diploma from the Sorbonne, certifying that she had successfully completed the two-semester, (mid-October to February and mid-February to mid-May), course in French Civilization offered, in French, by the Sorbonne to foreign students.

Sixth-Floor Walkup

She brought with her memories of life in a sixth-floor walkup room in a Paris apartment, a room she occupied free-of-charge in exchange for supervising the music practice and baths of the children of the family to whom it belonged, memories of sitting by the hour in sidewalk cafes, sipping strong black coffee, (which she grew to love AFTER she learned to put sugar in it), and talking, talking, talking . . .

She brought with her as many books as she could carry—and is waiting for the three cartons of books she had sent, to arrive. Her mother met her in New York. Together, they spent a week in Manhattan, during which Mrs. Moore took her eldest daughter to dinner at no less than three French restaurants. "Mother wanted to detach me from France gradually," Cherie laughs.

Wants To Go Back

It didn't work. Currently, Cherie is writing to New York, contacting travel agencies, embassies, publishers, hoping to find a job in which her knowledge of the French language will be an asset. After a year or so, when she's earned enough money, she'd like to go back to France . . .

"I have a very strong attachment to my own country, my own family," she observes, "but I can even imagine myself living over there (in France) . . . I suppose I'm spoiled; I don't want to settle down . . . I suppose I'll HAVE to come down off my cloud sometime . . ."

Well . . . some people live all their lives on clouds, and are happier for it; certainly, Cherie would have missed more than one opportunity if she'd been content to remain earth-bound.

The eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Moore, (her sister Andrea 20, will be a senior at the University of Michigan this fall; her sister: Juliet, 16—"the only one who changed during the year I was away—she grew up"—is still at Grosse Pointe High School), was born into a traveling family.

Made Many Moves

"I've moved around all my life," Cherie admits. Born in Toledo, she lived in Buffalo, Saginaw, Toledo again before Mr. Moore was finally transferred to Detroit and the family settled into their present home in Balfour road.

Cherie arrived in Grosse Pointe when she was a high school junior, slipped easily and immediately into the local "scene." Perhaps because she was brought up "on the move," she had then—and still has, wherever she finds herself—few adjustment problems.

don't think of Europe in terms of countries, but of people, and there are no "best" people, only "different" ones . . .

Is Expert Sailor

She was born into a family of sailors. The Moores' 45-foot sloop, "The Revelry," is the family's second home during the summer. Cherie's in her element on smaller sailboats, too; all three Moore girls race for the Detroit Yacht Club and, in 1965, Cherie was named Detroit River Women's Sailing Champion.

She didn't lose her sailor's touch during her sojourn overseas, either—a few weeks ago, racing for the first time in a year-and-a-half, she collected a Third Place Trophy.

Cherie Moore's first European experience was literally a dream-come-true. In 1965, as the first "Michigan Lucia," selected by the Detroit-Swedish Council to represent Michigan's young women of Scandinavian descent in the North European pre-Christmas Lucia, (Queen of Light), festivities, she spent two weeks in the four Scandinavian capitals: Helsinki, Stockholm, Oslo and Copenhagen.

Had Royal Treatment

"It was a beautiful, beautiful trip, almost an excursion to fantasy land," she recalls. "I love the North European countries—I've found since that they're very different from the South European countries—and, as the Michigan Lucia, I really had the Royal Treatment, something I certainly didn't have THIS LAST TIME abroad . . ."

There's something to be said for going both ways: Perhaps, as in the case of people, there are no "best" modes of travel, only "different" ones . . .

Cherie Moore and a friend set out a year ago last June 1, in a rented car, for a classic Young Americans Abroad post-graduation tour of Europe.

They had a marvelous classic Young Americans Abroad time, meandering through England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Denmark, this last the only country Cherie had visited before.

They wound up their excursion in London, where they had started it—and here the classic pattern of Cherie Moore's summer vacation in Europe began to fall apart.

Rewrote The Book

According to the book, Cherie should have come home at the end of her travels. She didn't do that. Still according to the book, if she DID decide to stay a while, she should have had something definite to stay FOR, some definite place to go. She had neither.

All she knew, for certain, when she made that phone call to her mother from London, was that she wanted to go back to Paris and live there, for at least a year. The "how" and "where" and "going what" she was playing by ear . . .

She caught a ride back to the City of Lights via Amsterdam with some people she had met during the summer. She checked into student programs at both the Alliance Francaise and the Sorbonne, finally decided "Le Cours de Civilisation Francaise a la Sorbonne" was her best bet and enrolled immediately in a concentrated French Review program, (she was by no means fluent in the language), attending review classes five hours per day throughout September.

Her first three weeks in Paris, ("when I didn't know anybody"), she lived in university housing. At the end of the third week, an acquaintance about to take a two-week vacation in Spain offered the use of her apartment to Cherie for the two-week period.

A Fair Exchange

The day before the apartment's permanent tenant was due back, Cherie found, through the university, a French family willing to put a roof over the head of a student in exchange for some supervisory help with their children.

Professor and Mme. Maurice Marois, (he taught at the School of Medicine, University of Paris, and his wife did research there), their four-year-old son and seven- and 10-year-old daughters lived in an apartment on the Boulevard St. Michel, in the heart of the Latin Quarter.

Cherie devoted nine hours per week to the children, ("they were darling, darling kids"), in exchange for her room and two meals, the large family

DATE-NUT TORTE

Contributed by Mrs. Kenneth M. Reichle

1 cup sugar
5 Tbsp. graham cracker crumbs (about four crackers)
1 tsp. baking powder
9 dates, sliced
1 cup chopped nuts
3 eggs, separated.
Mix sugar, graham cracker crumbs, baking powder, dates and nuts together; stir in three beaten egg yolks. Fold mixture into three stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into greased 8-in. square pan. Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes, until fairly firm and brown. Serve cold, with whipped cream. Serves eight.

"Sunday" meal and one other. She took most of her remaining meals at student restaurants.

"It's amazing how cheaply one can live over there," she recalls. "I would eat—and eat well!—in a student restaurant for about 70c per day."

Had Part-Time Job

She also had a small, part-time job delivering American Express Credit Card publicity to the big "tourist" night clubs in the Champs Elysees area, the only chance she got to see the insides of these famous clubs, ("I came in the mornings, with the cleaning women . . .), except once, when some friends of her parents, visiting Paris, took her with them to the Lido.

Several other friends of her parents had homes outside Paris, and Cherie was delighted to be invited to visit them. "The French," she explains, "are a very proud people; the Parisians are very reserved. You have to get to know a Parisian before he will open up to you . . . To be invited to dinner in a Parisian's home is a very rare thing, almost a privilege . . ."

Using the money she earned plus the money she had "left over" from her summer budget, Cherie even managed to finance a few short vacations. She spent Christmas in Zermatt, staying with a Swiss family for whom one of her girl friends was working, took a spring holiday in Barcelona and on the Costa Brava . . .

But most of her time was spent in Paris, and it is Paris that she still loves:

"I used to go exploring . . . I would love to get out and just walk, all over the city."

Its Own Museum

"Every quarter is so different! I liked to wander through the outdoor markets, go up and down little streets, see all the 'old things' . . . Every building, every bridge, has an 'antique' look . . . I made it a point, made a conscious effort, to go to museums and monuments, but the thing I liked best was just to walk through Paris: The city is its own monument, its own museum . . ."

"And everything is so clean! Food is so fresh! Almost every one shops every day; there's always a little market around the corner, within reach, a little bakery across the street . . . You always see people walking along, carrying big, long baguettes of fresh bread . . ."

"I want to go back so much!" She probably will. Cherie Moore is still obviously up there on her cloud, and clouds have a way of traveling . . . Sometimes, farther than anyone thinks possible . . .

We're making no predictions . . . but, knowing Cherie, we wouldn't be surprised if Mrs. Moore picked up the telephone one day and heard her daughter's voice float gently over the wire—

"Mother, I'm in Samarkand, and I have this MARVELOUS opportunity . . ."
