

HIGH SCHOOLS' BOUNDARY SET

Pointe Hosts Special Education Meeting

Members of the Department of Pupil Personnel of The Grosse Pointe Public School System hosted a county-wide special education meeting in the Administration Building at 389 St. Clair avenue on Friday, December 8. A feature of the session was a presentation by Mrs. Ethel Gray, Teacher-Consultant for the Perceptually Handicapped in Grosse Pointe and Mrs. Margaret Naumes, Director of Special Education in Nankin Mills, on instructional materials specifically designed for children with learning disabilities. Shown here seated (left to right) are DR. RACHEL BRAKE, Wayne County Consultant in Elementary Education; MRS. JUNE ENGLAND, Wayne County Consultant in Special Education; MRS. NAUMES, and MRS. GRAY. Standing (left to right) are REGINALD P. SIENKIEWICZ, Director of Pupil Personnel for Grosse Pointe; DR. WILLIAM P. SOSNOWSKY, Chief Psychologist for the local schools; and DR. DELMO DELLA-DORA, Chairman of the Wayne County Steering Committee on Children with Special Learning Disabilities.

State Commission Approves Woods Sewer Bond Sale

Authorizes The Raising Of $1,660,000 For Installation Of New Drains In Eight Areas Of The City Plagued By Floods

State Attorney General Frank J. Kelly, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission, disclosed on Tuesday, December 5, that the Commission approved the sale of drain bonds by the Woods, amounting to $1,660,000, the cost set for the installation of eight relief sewers in the city.

"The proceeds will be used to defray the cost of locating, establishing and constructing the drains in the Woods," Kelly said. "These bonds are payable primarily from the collection of special assessments against the City of Grosse Pointe Woods and Wayne County."

Other members of the Commission are Liaison Green, State treasurer, and Ira Polley, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Woods City Administrator Chester Petersen said that the city has been awaiting action on sale bond approval from the Commission, since the city council approved plans for the program in December 1965.

Eight Different Lines
The system, which will tie in with the Grosse-Gratiot Drain, (collective name of the Black Marsh Drain, Girard Drain and the Milk River Drain,) will consist of eight different lines, designed to serve as "relief sewers" for certain areas in the city.

These areas, the city administrator said, presently have overloaded sewers which cause homeowners to suffer costly damages and inconveniences from flooded basements during heavy rainfalls.

All but two of the new installations will be done by the Wayne County Drain Commission. The city-at-large will construct needed relief sewers between Hawthorne road and Brys drive, immediately east of Mack avenue; and the Grosse Pointe School District will underwrite the cost of the necessary line to serve the Grosse Pointe North High School area at Morningside drive and Vernier road.

Petersen said that the Woods council will have to meet to authorize bids on the sale of the bonds, and that the County Drain Commission will apportion the costs for the sewer program.

Wants Leftover Money
He said that the city is negotiating with the Drain Commission for the release of several hundreds of thousands of dollars, the balance remaining after

Puzzle Provided By Street Signs

To "e" or not to "e"; that is the question that has puzzled us of late with regard to the spelling of the street named Chalfont/Chalfonte.

In the City of Grosse Pointe the street signs drop the "e"; in the Farms the street signs retain the "e". The best answer we've been able to come up with is that one is feminine and one is masculine. Have you any better ideas?

Officials of the City and the Farms are unable to explain the discrepancy.

Gunman Gets $1,100 from Supermarket

Holds Up Food Fair Manager And Escapes With Money From Safe, Cash Registers

An armed bandit held up the Food Fair Supermarket in Mack avenue on Friday, December 8, at approximately 9 p.m., and escaped with a large sum of money taken from the store's safe and from cash register boxes, according to information from Woods police. The gunman escaped with about $1,100.

The manager of the market, Jack Zafarana of 1165 Alletta circle, Warren, told police that the gunman, armed with a .45 caliber automatic, entered the store through the rear exit.

The manager said that he was standing near the store office when the man approached him, ordered him into the office and forced him to open the safe.

Stops Stock Boy
Anthony C. Pettinate, 19, of 1378 Lakeview, Detroit, a stock boy, told Woods Det. Everett Plumb that he was leaving the store through the rear exit, when the hold-up man met him as he was about to walk out. The man placed his hand on his shoulder and pulled out the automatic, and told him to get back into the building, the youth said.

The bandit approached Zafarana and told him to get into the office, after ordering everyone not to move, and then demanded that the manager open the safe. The robber produced a shopping bag from underneath his coat and told Zafarana to put the money in it, bills only, no change.

After the money was stuffed in the bag, the gunman demanded the currency from a cash box in the office, and then ordered Zafarana to go to a cashier stand where a woman employee was working, and bring the currency from that.

Escape Method Unknown
After all the money was placed in the bag, the bandit ordered everyone not to move, and fled through the front door. His method of escape is not known.

Several employees in the store witnessed the hold-up, but were helpless under the watchful eye of the robber.

A woman working in the bakery section of the store, told

Flexible Plan Approved by School Board

Existing Line Between Kerby And Monteith Will Separate Two Attendance Areas

The trustees of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education held their regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, December 11, in the gymnasium of Mair Elementary School, 740 Cadieux road. Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, president, chaired the session.

Main item on the agenda was a decision on the boundary between North and South High Schools. The line between Grosse Pointe North High School and Grosse Pointe High School will be the existing boundary line between the attendance area of Kerby and Monteith elementary schools.

This means that children living on both sides of Moross will attend South High School. The portion of Kerby district that extends north of Moross along the Country Club lane to Provençal road will also attend South High School.

Under the plan each high school would have five elementary schools in its district. Barnes, Ferry, Mason, Monteith and Poupard will be in the north area. Defer, Kirby, Mair, Richard and Trombly will be in the south area.

Plan Is Flexible
Also under the proposed arrangement all elementary and junior high boundaries will remain the same. The plan will permit some flexibility for the renovation of the present high school.

The boundary line is subject to change by the Board of Education. Shifting pupil population may result in re-districting at any time in the future.

Enrollment of the public schools has increased 331 over November of 1966, it was revealed at the meeting. The local public schools are now responsible for the education of 12,615 children from kindergarten through grade 12.

A contract was awarded to the firm of Snyder and McLean for the renovation of the heating plant at Trombly School.

Appointments Made
The members of the Board voted on a number of routine personnel appointments and resignations for regular teachers and full-time substitutes, as well as changes in salary schedule status.

The Board approved the appointment of Mrs. Evelyn Westerville as Assistant Principal-Pupil Service for North High School effective September 1, 1968. The trustees accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Irwin, Assistant Director of the Central Library, effective December 29, 1967.

The half-hour presentation that preceded the business meeting was in charge of the Department of Pupil Personnel. Reginald P. Sienkiewicz, Director, introduced Mrs. Blanche Kergen who spoke on the system's remedial reading program.

Special School Meeting Dec. 18

The trustees of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education have scheduled a special meeting for 6 p.m. on Monday, December 18, at 389 St. Clair avenue.

It is expected that the Board will set the date and amounts of the proposed late winter operational millage election, building and site levy for a long-term capitalization program, and bonding for the expansion of the public libraries.

UNDER FALSE PRETENSES

John D. Donahue, 18138 Mack avenue, reported to City Police on Wednesday, December 6, that a young man about 18 years of age, 5'7" tall, slim and wearing a dark jacket entered his office and told Kathy McKnight, his secretary that he was to pick up $10.35 from Mr. Donahue for hockey jerseys. Miss McKnight gave the youth the money, and later discovered he had obtained it under false pretenses.

Center Holds Xmas Party This Sunday

Youth Council Sponsoring Traditional Event For All The Pointe Youngsters

Santa and Christmas arrive at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Community Center this Sunday, December 17, when the Memorial's Youth Council gives its annual party for all the young children, ages 5-10, in Grosse Pointe.

Santa Claus will be the special guest of honor to greet all boys and girls and listen to their Christmas requests. Then all Santa's helpers give out candy canes, cocoa and cookies. This part of the program is entirely free to everyone.

At 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. the Detroit Art Institute's Theater Division will present the puppet show of "Cinderella," featuring, Dick Meyers of Cleveland and his rod puppets which were starred this year in La Ronde at Expo '67. There is a charge of $1.00 for both adults and children for these performances.

Tickets should be purchased in advance at the Center for these shows as they are very popular.

The 4 o'clock performance announced on the Center's activity card will be given only if there is an overflow from the two earlier performances.

BACKS INTO TROUBLE
City Police issued Mark McAdams, 13019 Marden, a court notice to appear for backslapping around a corner, on Sunday, December 10.

Woods Department Store Employees Confess Thefts

An examination of three former employees of the J. C. Penney Department Store, 19251 Mack avenue, was held before Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow, yesterday, Dec. 13. The trio is charged with larceny from a building.

Accused are John E. Sossi, 19, of 17198 Sioux; Dennis J. Elek, 19, of 4995 Lannoo; and Arthur W. Thomas, 35, of 2242 Bewick, all of Detroit. Clothing and other articles, valued at a total of $534.39, the three were alleged to have taken from the store, were recovered by police.

According to information released by Woods Det. Everett Plumb, who is assigned to the case, the alleged larceny took place on Monday, November 27, and following their apprehension, the three accused men voluntarily signed statements regarding their parts in the theft.

On November 28, warrants against Sossi, Elek and Thomas, were approved by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Morton Goldberg, and the three men were arraigned that same evening. They were released on $500 bond each after examination date was set for yesterday.

Plumb said that on November 27, Robert Redman, an employee of the department store, was returning from supper at about 5:30 p.m., and was parking his car in the lot at the rear of the store, when he observed a car backing up to the delivery dock door at the rear of the building. Redman stopped to see if the driver was a customer making a pickup, and saw the man put

Forum on Open Occupancy Staged by Voters League Attracts Capacity Audience

Rep. Robert Waldron And Orville Sherwood Of Property Owners' Association On Opposite Sides Of Proposed Legislation

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters presented a Forum on Open Occupancy at Pierce Junior High School on Wednesday, December 6. The auditorium was filled to near capacity with over 600 people in attendance.

Speaking in support of Fair Housing Bill No. 2035 was Representative Robert E. Waldron, of University place, who was elected to the State House of Representatives in 1954, served as the Majority Floor leader in the 1963-64 session, who was the Minority Leader in the 1965-66 session and who is currently Speaker of the House.

The speaker opposed to the Open Occupancy legislation was Orville F. Sherwood, Executive Secretary and General Counsel of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association, and presently an attorney in private general practice.

Was Public Service
The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, which has not taken a position on Open Occupancy, presented this Forum as a public service. Mrs. Carl J. Fischer, the League president, opened the Forum, which was programmed by the Voters Service Chairman, Mrs. H. Justin Davidson. The evening was presided over by Moderator, Mrs. Robert D. Warner, of McKinley road.

The audience took an active part in the question and answer period which followed the presentations. Because the majority of the questions were directed to Mr. Waldron the question and answer period was arranged so that each speaker alternately answered a question allowing the other to discuss the question.

Woods Department Store Employees Confess Thefts

Some of the Questions
Among the questions asked were: Would an individual selling his own home be required to accept anyone's offer? Coming so soon after the riots, could the proposed bill not be construed by the rioters as a reward and suggest the use of riots as a further method of gaining more advantages? Since the House Bill #2035 profoundly affects the majority of Michigan residents, why, in all fairness is the issue not put on the ballot so that all of the people could have an equal chance to express their views? Assuming the passage of the bill, will the people have an opportunity for referendum?

Waldron's Statement
The NEWS asked Mr. Waldron if he had a statement following the meeting and he said, "I sincerely hope that the people who are still opposed to this legislation will carefully review it and read the statement that I made at the meeting and try to understand the strategy behind it. The only way this can be done is to listen to the other side, for instance The Michigan Association of Police Chiefs who endorse it. It seems to me that they ought to be listened to and not summarily turned aside. This is what the Legislature has done and these are the types of people we have talked to in making up our minds on the particular bill."

I appreciate the League of Women Voters for sponsoring this meeting at Pierce Junior High. I am disappointed that the meeting did not develop into an adult discussion of the issues involved."

Sherwood's Statement
Mr. Sherwood told the NEWS "It was good to have this dialogue available to the public and I appreciate the opportunity the League of Women Voters gave us. It was unfortunate however that some people became over emotional during the discussion and interrupted Mr. Waldron's remarks."

Both men spoke earlier in the day at Grosse Pointe High School

Tree-Buying Junket Has Seamy Side

Search For Spirit Of Christmas Past Proves Tainted With Modern Commercialism

By Pepper Whitelaw

All this talk of how commercial Christmas has become, set me to thinking that it might be fun to do something special this year something reminiscent of Christmases past.

So when I heard over a local television station that there was a spot where one could select his own tree from a forest of evergreen, have a sleigh ride into the woods and a cup of hot chocolate by a warm fire, I was wildly enthusiastic.

As soon as my husband came home I started to tell him the news, only to have him tell me about this wonderful spot. Needless to say, we decided that this was just what we were looking for this Christmas Season.

Kids Are Tolerant
We bundled up and were off on our adventure, filled with excitement. (At least dad and I were filled with excitement; I think the children came along to humor us).

Burglar Steals Stamp Money

A baker, employed by the La Bonbonniere Bakery, 19487 Mack avenue, was not aware the establishment had been forcibly entered until informed by Woods police.

According to a report, officers, while on routine patrol at about 4:55 a.m., Monday, December 11, observed the front window of the bakery smashed and stopped to check.

On entering the building, the policemen found Albert Boin, 42, who resides at the Hannan YMCA, Jefferson and Garland, Detroit, hard at work preparing pastries for the day. Boin said he had heard nothing and had seen nothing.

When informed that the front window had been broken Boin and the policemen searched the building, and found a postage stamp machine on the counter at the front of the store. The machine had been smashed open with a brick, which was found on the counter, and in the change taken from the coin box.

Police surmised that Boin must have frightened the burglar away when he arrived for work. Nothing else in the bakery appeared to have been touched, it was said.

Both men spoke earlier in the day at Grosse Pointe High School

Store Thefts

a large box in the trunk of the automobile.

Redman told Plumb that he started to walk toward the car at the rear of the store, and recognized Sossi, an employee.
Redman said that he requested Sossi to open the trunk, and when this was complied with,
Redman said he discovered a box containing suits, coats and other articles of clothing valued at a total of $351.55.

Redman took Sossi to the office of Frank Galda, 49, of 405
Calvin, general manager, and released him to Galda, who called police. Redman then went outside to look around the rear lot, and his search was rewarded when he found another box containing articles valued at a total of $184.84. He said the box was in the area where trash is usually kept.

Sossi was placed under arrest
by Plumb and taken to the station, where he told the detective that Elek and Thomas were implicated with him. The latter two were also store employees.

Sossi said that on Sunday, November 26, he and Elek came to work at 7 a.m. to mop the floors and to clean up the building.
When he and Elek arrived, Sos-si said, Thomas was already working. At 12:30 p.m., they all went to lunch during which they plotted to take some loot.

When they returned to work,
Sossi said, they changed their minds, but later decided to go through with their plans, and began stuffing the articles in two separate boxes, which were carried to the basement by Thomas and Elek and stored with the rubbish to be carted out for pickup on the 27th. At 4:30 p.m., Thomas took the boxes outside for Sossi and Elek to recover.

Plumb said that the trio agreed that the second box was to be divided between Sossi and Elek, and those two were to deliver the other box to Thomas, at the intersection of Vernor and Huribut, Detroit.

The Woods detective said that officers of Detroit's Jefferson Station Fifth Precinct, Jefferson and St. Jean, were contacted, and Detroit Patrolmen Walter Spagnoli and Robert McAvey were assigned to stake out the area, with Woods Patrolman Martin Trombley, well in advance of the meeting of the three accused men.

In the meantime, Plumb and Patrolman Thomas Podeszwick, after supervising the box being placed in Sossi's car, by Sossi and Elek, who had been arrested in the store, followed the vehicle to the assigned destination, and Thomas was taken into custody when he took possession of the loot.

Woods Sewer Bond Sale

The Grosse-Gratiot Drain was completed several years ago, and have this money applied to the present sewer system program, in order to reduce the city tax levy to a bare minimum. There will be a meeting of the city's attorneys and the Drain Commission, to finalize a program to utilize this surplus fund, Petersen added.

The Woods officials contend that the surplus fund could, and should be used for the present program because the new sewers will tie in with the Grosse-Gratiot Drain. There are some legal points to be debated, it was said.

It was disclosed that the Vernier Drain; Girard Drain, Section No. 1; Black Marsh Drain, Section No. 1. Drainage District, all intra-county drains, will be paid for through special assessments against the Woods and Wayne County.

Special Assessment

The cost of construction of the Grosse Pointe Woods Internal Relief Drains Nos. 1, 2 and 3, also intra-county drains, will be paid for through special assessment against the city.

The amount of bond sales for the drainage districts, as approved by the Municipal Finance Commission, are: Vernier Drain,
$233,000; Girard Drain, $135,
000; Black Marsh Drain, $750, 000; Grosse Pointe Woods Internal Relief Drain No. 1, $260,000;
No. 2, $142,000; and No. 3, $50, 000.

The following areas are included in the project: area 1—
Mack avenue northerly between Faircourt and Torrey road; Tor-rey road easterly between Mack avenue and Elford court.

Area 2—Eastbourne road northerly between Tournemout road and Stanhope avenue;
Area 3—Fairway drive easterly between Cook road and Fairholme road; Area 4—Lochmoor boulevard easterly between Holiday road and Wedgewood drive; Wedgewood drive northerly between South Oxford road and Sunningdale drive.

Area 5—Hollywood avenue easterly between Marter road and Wedgewood drive; Area 6—Brys drive easterly between

Marter road and River road;
Area 7—Goethe avenue westerly between Vernier road and Brys drive; and Area 8—Grosse Pointe North High School site.

All work on the drains will begin at about the same time by the contractors, as soon as the bonds are sold, it was revealed.

It is hoped that when this program is completed, most of the city's flooding conditions will be alleviated, Petersen said.

Christmas Programs Keep Public Schools Engrossed

The Holiday Season brings a lot of activity to local schools. The halls are bedecked with Christmas decorations (made by the students), the classroom parties are being planned and all the schools are having the traditional Christmas tree.

At Ferry School, Mrs. Helen Harmon and Mrs. Jeanne Zech are cooperating on a Christmas Sing for the boys and girls to be presented twice on December 22. Classroom Christmas parties are planned. Donations to worthy causes will be stressed during this season in lieu of the gift exchange.

Mason's third grade classes will terminate a study of customs of children in Mexico on Friday, December 22. On that day they will have a typical Mexican pinata, providing the children with an experience that boys and girls their own age from another country are having.

On December 12, Carolyn Harwood's second graders presented a Christmas Carol Serenade to the elderly at Georgian East Convalescent Home.

Plan Tasting Party
The fourth grade classes of Mrs. Norma Priest and Mrs. Audrey Burchett will have a food tasting party with favorite Christmas treats from around the world. Parents of the children in the classes will furnish the treats of their countries... this on December 18.

Mr. Behr's sixth graders, who are just completing a course on economics, have used this holiday season to go into business... they are selling shares of stock and earning a profit through the sale of Christmas corsages.

Trembly School's three sixth grade classes are combining talents and plan to present a Christmas program in the auditorium for parents and schoolmates entitled "Holidays Around the World."

The school itself is filled with distinctive and creative touches both in the halls and in the classrooms. Murals include Santa's Workshop, Christmas Choir, Christmas Tidings, Three Wise Men, Christmas Morning and Stained Glass Windows. Many special projects, just for the Christmas season are being planned in individual classrooms.

Monteith Open House
Monteith School will once again hold its Open House for parents and children, on Monday evening, December 18. The family can walk through the rooms and building and see the beautiful Christmas work of the children.

As last year, songs of Christmas are recorded on tape by the music teachers and art work, appropriate to the song, are photographed and made into slides by Marvin Rants. The slides and tapes are synchronized and shown continuously in the gym that night. The artwork is done by the students themselves.

The students will have a Christmas Assembly much like the program in the gym for Open House except the songs and readings are done live with the slides.

To Give Play at Maire
Maire School's sixth graders in Mrs. Joyce Waalkes classroom are going to present a play with music on December 21 for the students, entitled "Merry, Merry, Merry." The students made the properties and costumes for the play themselves. Of course Maire will have the traditional Christmas parties with all the trimmings. Poupard School will feature Christmas filmstrips for their students, including "Story of Silent Night," "Safe Christmas with the Reeds," "Santa Claus and Other Traditions," "Night Before Christmas," and many others. Strips are available with a Christmas theme at all grade levels.

Two types of assemblies will be presented on December 21 and December 22. The first type features a Christmas theme film, the second is a grade group vocal participation assembly. This is for students K through 4. Fifth and sixth grade students assembly will feature caroling by members of the sixth grade chorus and showing of a film. Christmas classroom parties are also in the offing.

Do you wish Christmas meant more to you?

There are some who think that the Christmas story no longer has any meaning.

But the coming of the Christ is not just an isolated event that took place 2,000 years ago. For many, the joy and the inspiration of the Christ spirit come daily to help and to heal.

If you would like to know what Christmas can really mean to you, you will find some very good answers in the Christian Science Reading Room.

There you may read about the birth and the life of Jesus in the Bible. And there you may find a book that illumines his teachings and shows you how they can inspire and uplift you today. It is called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Won't you come in and spend a few minutes of quiet study and prayer?

Tree Buying Junket Has Seamy Side

We figured it was about 50 miles away... it turned out to be 80... yes, that's right, 160 miles to get a tree, but 160 miles isn't far to help revive that old feeling of Christmas.

When we arrived we knew immediately that this was the spot... not because we heard the horses whinny or gay jingle bells, but because there was an unbelievable traffic jam not unlike the kind you find at your favorite super market on a Saturday. We finally found a parking place about a mile down the road.

That Sleigh Ride

Gayly my husband and I hopped out of the car. (The children were beginning to look embarrassed). I could hardly wait for the sleigh ride. Of course I knew that today it would have to have wheels but I was sure the horse wouldn't mind... and equally as sure that we all would love it.

Much to my chagrin what I saw advancing upon us was not a horse drawn vehicle but a huge mechanized monster with straw scattered on a flat platform and tractor wheels.—This was the touch of Christmas past?

Still refusing to be daunted, or at least not willing to admit to the children that dad and I had made a monumental boo boo, we hopped merrily on the "monster"... I started to hum Jingle Bells but stopped after a few surly passengers looked at me as if I lost my few remaining marbles.

Slogging Through Mud

The ride was something I'll never forget... five minutes or so of slogging through mud, at least eight inches deep, on a determined tractor. We were deposited with the parting words that when we found a tree we were to yell "cutter" and someone would promptly cut our tree.

Still unbelieving, we wandered through the trees and found just the right one that made this long trip worthwhile. There it stood, over six feet tall, regal and very green. Quickly we yelled "cutter" and out from behind a tree sprang a robust

THEFT AT GAS STATION

Robert Curtiss, an employee of the Village Standard Station, at 16821 Kercheval, reported to City Police on Sunday, December 10, that when he arrived at work that morning he found the soft drink machine door standing open and the metal coin box and cash gone. Cpl. George George Brackx and officer Virgil G. Beaupre reported that there were no marks indicating forced entry.

young man who had the tree down in what seemed like seconds.

As I walked over to the tree the children called out, "Mom, the tree is sprayed green." I couldn't believe my ears. Incredulously I looked at our "special tree" and to my horror, yes it had been sprayed.

They Even Wrap Them

As we picked up our tree to make our exit, the youth asked if we wanted it wrapped. "Wrapped?" my husband said, unbelievably. There behind us were two huge machines, shaped something like large megaphones, with what looked like plastic fencing material on one end.

The youth took our "special tree" shoved it through—and it came out the other end looking just like a Christmas sausage!

After this experience I am willing to grant that commercialism is as much a part of Christmas today as the Christmas carols. Feeling cheated we piled into the car and headed for home in silence.

But this story ends on a happy note. We got our taste of Christmases past anyway. We popped popcorn for the tree and strung it as garlands... we now had our "special tree" after all!

Give your husband a Gas range for Christmas.

You know how much he likes good cooking. And he deserves to have his meals prepared on the best there is.

You know how dollar conscious he is. And a Gas range costs about 1/2 as much to cook on as an electric stove.

You know how he likes to plan ahead. Gas ranges help. With automatic ovens that cook entire meals while you're out. Burners-with-a-brain. Smokeless broiling. Even timers to turn your oven on or off—or down to "warm"—while you're miles away.

You know how much he loves a bargain. And right now, at your appliance dealer's and in our showrooms, there's a great selection of new Gas ranges at bargain prices. And on easy terms.

So easy, in fact, he won't even have to pay for the new Gas range you give him until next year. And by then, he'll have rediscovered what a great cook you really are.

Woods Is Pecking Away At Auto Parking Problem

A common problem in almost every community today is adequate parking. The City of Grosse Pointe Woods has methodically gone about solving this problem. Within the last five years the Woods has been increasing the number of parking spaces available to Woods shoppers.

In June of 1963 there were 396 metered spaces for both on and off street parking. Today there are 689 metered spaces available. That is a 74 percent increase in a five year period. These additional spaces were made possible through the use of parking meter revenue and did not involve any general tax fund monies.

Most of the spots have been acquired through the construction of parking bays on side streets off of Mack avenue.

When adding this additional parking the City Council and City Manager Chester A. Peterson have had to keep business and service interests compatible with the interests of home owners, which has made this a doubly difficult problem.

Mr. Peterson has been working on a two year study to present to the Council which incorporates many of the recommendations of the City Council and the City Traffic Engineer who have also been studying the parking problem and which will recommend initial construction of additional off-street parking spaces that will accommodate approximately 150 more automobiles and 1200 more spaces over a long range period. These too will be financed out of existing funds and require no tax monies. If the Council approves Mr. Peterson's recommendation, bids can be taken in early spring of '68 and work completed by this summer.

The Woods currently has three types of parking meters. The red, 12-minute express meters, which are found in heavy turnover areas, the bronze meters that are for one or two-hour parking and the newest, color-coated apple green, and used in the bay areas. The bay spots are ideal for all day shoppers. There one can park for ten hours for just 25 cents, for two hours for five cents and for four hours for ten cents.

Hold-Up

Plumb said she saw the bandit, but assumed that he was a private detective who had apprehended a youth who had committed a wrong and had taken him to the manager's office. She said she did not see the gun in the man's hand.

Plumb said that the description of the gunman fits that of a man who has been committing a series of hold-ups in the Detroit area, specializing in supermarkets and drug stores, within the past few weeks.

The bandit is described as being about 45 years old, six feet two inches tall, weighing about 250 pounds, having gray hair, medium, ruddy complexion, oval face, heavy chin, heavy build, but does not appear to be excessively fat, and icy-blue eyes. He was wearing a black dress coat, black hat, and black trousers and shoes, and possibly wearing a gray flannel, or woolen shirt, with possibly red stripes.

Disorderly Boys Nabbed in City

Officer John Drummond reported on Wednesday, December 6, that six or seven boys were interfering with traffic on Kercheval between St. Clair and Notre Dame.

When he called to them they ran north on St. Clair, cut through a parking lot to the rear of the Neighborhood Club then to Waterloo, where a car picked up two of the youths. The other boys were apprehended trying to catch up with the car and taken to the station. The car and its occupants were also apprehended and taken to the station, by Richard Lanski and Virgil G. Beaupre.

Apprehended were: Milton J. Stout, 470 Fisher; Timothy A. O'Dowd, 1065 Wayburn; Marshall T. Omans, 458 McKinley; Gregory Atkin, 499 Sunningdale; William Howe, 1536 S. Renaud; and David Ebbeler, 2127 Fleet.

All the boys were issued court notices to appear as disorderly persons and released. Alcoholic beverages were confiscated from the automobile. The car was held at the station.

MISPLACED BOMB

City Police picked up an excavation light bomb which someone had lit and placed in front of Doubleday, at 17116 Kercheval, and took it to the station on Wednesday, December 6.

Christmas Concert Dec. 14 At Brownell Junior High

Over 400 Brownell Junior High school students will perform tomorrow evening in the school's tenth annual Christmas concert. Beginning at 8 o'clock in the auditorium-gym, the program will consist of a variety of choral selections from many countries, with the school's 65-piece symphony orchestra adding its part as well.

Dewey D. Kalember, instrumental music instructor, will open the program by conducting the mass chorus and orchestra in the old Welsh carol "Deck Halls," a French-English carol "Angels We Have Heard on High," and Mendelssohn's "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing."

This will be followed by 200 seventh grade students singing the light and lilting "Jingle Bells" and "It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas." Following will be the 60-member ninth grade Chorus in "O Come Let Us Sing" and "I Believe," assisted by the Double Quartet. (This group, consisting of Wendy Nelson, Debbie Fleming, Connie Clark, Karen Larson, Tom Wilson, Greg Swenson, Jim Van Eman and Russ Schnurr, has also prepared its own show-piece—"A Christmas Wish.")

Other choral groups consisting of students with outstanding vocal ability include the girls' A Capella Choir, who 100 members have rehearsed diligently on "Carol of the Bells," "Star of Bethlehem," "Falling Snow on Christmas Day," and "Snow Beautiful Snow."

The Boys' Glee Club, also with 100 singers, will present "Jubilate Deo," "Caribbean Carol" (a West Indian Christmas spiritual), and "Christmas in Killarney," accompanied by drums and flute.

Both groups together, known as the Brownell Choir, will join forces in two lovely five-part harmonic numbers—"Mary's Baby" and "Sing Gloria."

The Select Girls' Ensemble has prepared "Who Is This in Manger Sleeping," with flute accompaniment by Debbie Fisher, and "In Bethlehem," a traditional modal melody. These girls are: Debbie Fisher, Debbie Fleming, Kathy Mast, Wendy Nelson, Robyn Mullinger and Sandy Gandolfi. More are: Connie Walker, Sherry Neuder, Roberta Cianciolo, Karen Larson and Helen Cotzias. Also included are: Debbie Wegner, Beth McNally, Connie Clark, Chris Boruta and Judy Jasper.

Special orchestral numbers will include Purcell's "Rondo," Bach's "Bourree," and Berlioz's "Shepherd's Farewell to the Holy Family." As a special feature, the entire string section of 32 instrumentalists will play Berger's "Short Overture for Strings." This is the number which the group performed in combination with the Grosse Pointe High School string section a week ago in a school assembly.

The festive evening's music will end with mass chorus and orchestra performing "Silent Night," under choral instructor Daniel Evola.

Accompanists include: Debbie Fisher, Wendy Nelson, Kathy Mast, Linda Crandall, Mark Olesko, Don Daher, and Terry Farrell.

Hope may be listed as an asset, but it's responsible for a lot of wasted time.

Park Employees Paid Tribute

Ten present Park employees and six who retired this year were presented awards by the city council on Monday, December 11, for their years of faithful service to the community.

The total years on the job for the honorees still working comes to 230; and for the retirees, 176 years.

Service awards, a pin commemorating the number of years on the job, were presented to the following by Mayor Matthew Patterson:

Patrolman Gustave Boone, who has been with the Police Department for 40 years; Frank De Bets, a Public Works Department employee for 30 years; James King, also with the department 30 years.

Patrolman Donald Dean, 25 years; Police Lt. Gerald J. Kesteloot, 25 years; Patrolman William Crandall, 20 years; Leonard Parnes, Public Works, 15 years; Police Sgt. Henry Coonce, 15 years; John O'Brien, Public Service Department, 15 years; and Alice Haas, who was assistant city treasurer, and promoted to city treasurer on retirement of Charles Heise, 15 years.

Retirement awards were presented to Octave Van Fleteren, who retired from the Public Works Department after 13 years, and who received an all-weather barometer.

Engraved gold watches were given to: Patrolman Arthur Conlan, who retired after 23 years of service; Cyril (Butch) Korle, who left the Water Department after 32 years; Det. Lt. Stanley Enders, 32 years; Patrolman Adhemar Mouton, 32 years; and Charles Heise, City Clerk-Treasurer, 42 years.

All those honored were congratulated by the mayor and members of the council, after which refreshments were served in the lobby of the Municipal Building.

Pvt. David C. Wells At Camp Pendleton

Marine Private David C. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark T. Wells of 96 Handy road, completed two weeks of training under simulated combat conditions in the fundamentals of day and night patrolling, employment of infantry weapons, survival methods and assault tactics at the Marine Corps base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

This individual combat training is given every Marine after his graduation from recruit training. Taught by combat experienced non-commissioned officers of the infantry training regiment here, it prepares the young Leatherneck to become part of the Marine air-ground combat team.

While in the field he was taught how to use hand grenades, a compass and the principles of map reading and land navigation. He learned how to detect and disarm mines and booby traps and, while being exposed to live machine gun fire, he learned to advance safely from one point to another.

From this course, he is scheduled to go on to more advanced training before being assigned to his permanent unit.

Pointe Police Chiefs Issue Crime Increase Warnings

The holiday season is the time of year when the crime rate seems to increase, which prompts the following warnings from the police chiefs of the Pointe, regarding safeguards against burglars and purse snatchers.

It was pointed out that this is the season, short days and long nights, that provides the burglar with the element most beneficial to his operations.

It is recommended that Pointe residents become a little bit more than occupants of a house, or home owners, or what have you. To combat crime in your neighborhood, the chiefs said, to reduce the possibility of the loss of valuables, chance of injury, malicious destruction of property, it becomes important for local police to be given every cooperation.

This does not mean, the chiefs said, that a citizen must conduct an investigation, make arrests, or expose their person to danger. It means that residents should become the eyes and ears of their neighbors, and to note anything suspicious that might be witnessed.

Whenever a stranger is seen in your property, or that of a neighbor, call your local police immediately. In all probability, a stranger might be a burglar, a wanted man, is carrying a concealed weapon, or possibly the tools to force an entry into a house. However, do not determine this for yourself, but call police and let them check it out.

Too often, the police heads said, a citizen, on sighting a stranger on their, or a neighbor's property, summarize that the suspicious person "is just a kid," or "a young fellow," or he is too well dressed."

It is well to remember that burglars in the majority range from 14 to 18 years of age, and certainly many are older, and that not a single one will carry a sign identifying himself, or his profession.

Have a standing agreement with your neighbor, that when you or he leaves the house, that the one staying home will keep an eye on the absent one's residence.

Too, it is well to remember the following: 1. Leave a few lights burning in the home. This has some insurance value; 2. Your shades, drapes, lights, etc., upon your return home should be exactly as you left them. If not, do not stop, but go to your neighbor's house and call police immediately. Don't investigate on your own, even if you find the door open.

And finally, do not leave valuables around the house. Do keep good descriptions of your valuable property.

In the area of purse snatching, while this is not a big problem in the Pointe, it will certainly increase during the Christmas season, the chiefs said. It will pay dividends if the following instruction is heeded.

1. Keep your purse in possession at all times, with the arm through the strap and the purse under the arm; 2. When examining merchandise, DO NOT lay down your purse; 3. If possible, do not keep your wallet in the purse, place it inside your clothing. The greatest loss to a victim is usually the wallet content, money, driver's license, and valuable papers, many of which cannot be duplicated.

4. Don't enter strange neighborhoods. 5. If you doubt the intention of a stranger, walk into the nearest home. 6. Watch out for the coasting automobile that stops adjacent to you, or the youth who walks in your direction; and 7. Maintain control of your purse—use the loop through and underarm grip.

While on the subject of Christmas, the police chiefs have this to say to parents who purchase BB rifles for their children as gifts:

Remember that there are local ordinances prohibiting the firing of such guns, or any kind of weapons, within city limits. BB pellet rifles are only to be used in the basement of the house, or at regulation rifle ranges, if permission is obtained.

Uncounted numbers of BB rifles are dumped into Lake St. Clair, after they are confiscated for illegal uses, such as breaking windows, smashing street lights, etc. Parents, under the law, are responsible for any damages caused by their offspring.

Above all, any hand gun, which fires a pellet by either the gas or forced air, cannot under

State Law, be purchased outright. Like regular sidearms, such as revolvers, an authorization must be obtained from your local police to purchase, after which the weapon must be registered. No such weapon can be carried without a concealed weapons permit.

Nab Teen Driver After Fast Chase

Woods Patrolman Ronald Hayden pursued a 16-year-old youth through several city streets on Thursday, November 30, before apprehending him, and taking him to the station, where charges were formally filed.

The officer said he charged the teenager with reckless driving and fleeing traffic arrest.

Hayden said he was on patrol, going north on Morningside, when he glanced into the mirror and observe an approaching automobile that appeared to be traveling at faster than the legal speed limit. At Lochmoor boulevard, the driver of the car made a U turn, and started driving south on Morningside.

The policeman said he gave chase, and clocked the errant young driver at 50 miles an hour. The youth turned west onto North Renaud, and between Morningside and Wedgewood, Hayden said he turned on his flasher and siren, which was ignored by the 16-year-old.

The youth ran through a stop sign at Wedgewood and North Renaud, then turned north on Wedgewood, then east on Lochmoor, and rolled through a stop street at the Morningside intersection, turned south on Wedgewood toward North Oxford, turned west onto this street then turned left, onto South Oxford, making the turn at 30 miles an hour.

The young driver drove onto a driveway alongside 1311 South Oxford, and turned off his lights. Hayden arrested him. The youth was taken to the station with the assistance of Patrolman Thomas Podeszwick, who arrived on a radio call for help in the chase by Hayden.

At the station, the juvenile was booked and issued two traffic violation tickets one for reckless driving and another for fleeing arrest, and his parents were called. He was released to his mother.

The youth is awaiting a hearing at the next session of the Juvenile Court.

Restoration of Dollhouse Takes Patience, Talent, and Love

By Pepper Whitelaw

We've just visited some tiny people, in their tiny house, on the tiny streets of Center and Main, in Nantucket. They were all busy with their chores. The cook was on the back porch sheeling peas, nanny was tending baby. Momma and papa were talking to sister and out in the barn Jed was chopping wood. Amanda was scrubbing clothes in an old wooden wash basin, horses, chickens and other farm animals were waiting to be fed.

Who are these people you ask? Why they are the "family" and "help" that live in the Nantucket doll house in the home of Mrs. Charles Fletcher of Lee Gate lane.

The house has been completely remodeled. Originally it was a Victorian house designed by Mrs. Fletcher's father, John R. Van Campen, around 1904, for Mrs. Fletcher and her sister Elizabeth. Through the years the doll house was all but forgotten up in the family attic in Elmira, N.Y.

Recalls Her Own

Then when Mrs. Fletcher was helping renovate a doll house that the Historical Museum was displaying at Christ Church, she remembered her old doll house and asked her mother to send it to her.

Then Mrs. Fletcher's work began . . . or as Mrs. Fletcher thinks of it . . . the fun began. "I shingled the exterior, painted the trim, added a stairway, a third floor and porches, changed the windows, and added a widow's walk. (This is where ladies of the day waited for their men to return from their ships).

All the "family" in the house are antique . . . made of porcelain and lovingly dressed by Mrs. Fletcher. Some of them, such as baby, are no more than an inch long!

Since Pointers love house tours, let's go on a tour of this lovely Nantucket home.

Start at the Top

We'll start at the top, on the third floor in nanny's room, where we find a washstand, minute pitcher and basin and drawers that really work, a bed, a chair with a whale design on the back, (a duplicate of one Mrs. Fletcher saw in a Nantucket home), a chest, a knitting basket and on the mantel a candle holder made from an old collar button. Most of the furniture in this room, as in most of the house, was made by Mrs. Fletcher, although there are many pieces of antiques from all over the country.

The room next to nanny's naturally is the nursery complete with cradle, a Windsor chair, antique toys, a rocker, (miniature of one in Mrs. Fletcher's sitting room), and a little red rocking horse. The tiny toys are less than an inch long.

Has Weaving Room

Next to baby's room is the weaving room with a loom (fashioned by Mrs. Fletcher), a chest, a yarn wheel, a ladder to the roof, a little stove ("after all they had to have heat," adds Mrs. Fletcher), and mirrored sconces, replicas of ones in the Fletcher entry hall.

The hall-sitting room is cozy and inviting. There is a secretary, incredibly small spectacles on the desk, Hitchcock chairs, a Boston rocker, an artist's easel, (bedecked with a one-inch square painting by Mrs. Fletcher), a palette, tiny tubes of paint, a fireplace complete with an intricately-made screen, an antique clock and a bookcase. A canopy bed with hand-em-looks as though the man of the house just came home from a night on the town . . . for there on the table is his top hat and cane. A handsome grandfather clock, a barometer and crossed swords complete the decor in the front hall. (All of these items were fashioned by Mrs. Fletcher . . . the clock actually opens and has weights).

broidered spread and tester, a bedside table (with bible), needlepointe a chest desk and tiny tapers, complete the daughter's room.

Complete Dressing Room

Adjoining this is the dressing room in which is hung a "Fletcher-made bonnet." Tiny towels were tucked neatly in the drawers of the towel cupboard and a washstand with all the necessities was ready and waiting.

The front hall is carpeted and and white keys are entirely separate.

Fine Dining Room

The dining room is beautiful . . . overhead gleams a crystal chandelier that Mrs. Fletcher made from beads and an old watch fob. The corner cupboards are filled with delicate china and sterling as if waiting for the family to enter for dinner. This room was perfect even to the little kitten stretched out in front of the fireplace trying to keep warm.

The kitchen is a delight. The floor is of clay, (made by Mrs. Fletcher). Dainty shutters cover the windows, the table is laid with dishes made of clay by Mrs. Fletcher. There is a clay fireplace, a bread tray in the corner, a candle mold, a hutch filled with pewter, a dutch door and a gun rack.

Beautiful Grounds

The grounds are as beautiful as the house itself. The backyard has a porch, a butter table, a churn and the old-fashioned swing up doors that lead to the cellar, a well, (designed of clay by Mrs. Fletcher), trees and dozens of pots with tiny beautiful flowers in them.

The formal gardens on the front side of the house are all separate layouts made by Mrs. Fletcher. Off of the formal gardens is an area for the family to play croquet and undoubtedly one of the smallest croquet sets in the world.

Schedule Party For Handicapped

The fifth annual Christmas round-up for several hundred handicapped children who attended the summer day camp of the Detroit Society for Crippled Children is slated for Wednesday, December 20, at the American Legion Northwest Post No. 190 in Greenfield street, Detroit, from 7 to 9:30 o'clock.

Also invited to attend the festivities are all the youngsters who are students at the Oakman, Leland and White Schools, 14 years or under.

The cooperative effort of the Detroit Society with the American Legion Post and Northwest Kiwanis has grown to such proportion that more than 300 are expected to attend.

June Davis OTR, occupational therapists at the Detroit Society Therapy Center, are coordinating activities with Glenn Dingee, chairman of child welfare for the Legion Post, and Robert Hauswirth, party chairman for Northwest Kiwanis.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be The Reverend Father Nicholas Fedetz, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Russian Orthodox Church, Dearborn.

Legionnaire Art Schremser and other clowns from Moslem Temple's Shrine as well as members of the "40 and Eight" will be all over the place, blowing up balloons, pouring pop and generally making fun for all of the youngsters.

Santa will be there with a pack of holiday gifts. Helping him with candies and goodies will be members of the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

For entertainment, the Temple Israel Youth group will raise voices in song; there will be a magic clown act and a group of pipers.

Grown-ups won't be forgotten, either. Parents are invited to have a spot of coffee and watch a film, presented under auspices of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Austin Parents To Fete Faculty

The Austin Prep School Mothers and Dads will take time from their busy schedule to honor the school faculty with a cocktail party on Monday, December 18, in the Austin Gym, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

The holiday mood will reign in a Christmas atmosphere of holly-decked halls and dancing to the tunes of Phil Skillman's Orchestra. The band has promised to find a few arrangements of modern-day songs and dances for the young at heart.

The finale of the evening will be the presentation of a Gift Check: A token of appreciation from the Mothers and Dads of Austin Boys. Chairmen of the affair are Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Marentette, of Yorkshire road.

VAN DAMAGES LAWN

Steve Van Tien, 607 St. Clair, reported to City Police on Tuesday, December 5, that a moving van that was moving the upstairs residents, tore up his lawn between the curb and the sidewalk. Mr. Van Tien was told to report the incident to the moving company. The driver said he would also notify his employer and take care of the damage.

Stingray, registered to Grace when he encountered Peter Licavoli, Jr., of 1154 Balfour, who was driving a 1966 Corvette Licavoli of 8906 Calle Pasto, Tucson, Ariz.

Schulte and Licavoli agreed to switch vehicles. Licavoli was unaware that Schulte's license had been revoked.

While Licavoli sat on the cycle in front of St. Paul High School, Schulte, with Palazzolo in the front seat beside him, began a speed ride, which Farms police said was at least 100 miles an hour, on the boulevard.

Schulte was traveling at a terrific speed west on the boulevard, when he dropped the shift gear from fourth to second rear wheels of the vehicle, and position, which action froze the at the McKinley place intersection, the car went out of control.

The automobile skidded 288 feet, turned partially around, jumped the curb and its rear end hit a tree on the property of John Spargo, 44 Beverly. The car bounced off the tree, and smashed sideways into a stone pillar on Spargo's land, shearing the pillar from its base and knocking down a section of an iron wrought fence.

Another person, Dr. R. B. Fahim of 1005 Bishop, who was waiting for a red traffic signal to change at Fisher and the boulevard, also heard the crash and drove to the scene. He is credited with saving the life of Palazzolo, by pulling the youth out of the car and taking measures to prevent Palazzolo from drowning in his own blood which was gushing into his mouth.

The Licavoli car was a total loss.

Pierce School Concert Dec. 20

The annual Christmas Concert, regularly performed by students at Pierce Junior High School, will be presented this year at 8 o'clock on Wednesday, December 20. Six different vocal groups will sing, under the direction of Miss Harriett Marsh.

The Girls' Glee Club will begin the evening with four selections, including "Christmas Dance of the Shepherds," with Chris Haddad, now a student at Grosse Pointe High School, as guest flutist. The Eighth Grade Chorus will follow with five carols, among them "Bring the Torch, Jeanette, Isabella" from the French, and "Deck the Halls" from the Welch.

Featured with the Boys' Glee Club will be Brad Purcell, Jim Cioe, and Bill Stewart, singing "We Three Kings." The Seventh Grade Chorus offerings will range from "He Shall Feed His Flock" from "THE MESSIAH" to the contemporary "Before the Paling of the Stars." The Pointe Chorale will perform three numbers, among them "The Christmas Song," with Julie O'Brien as the soloist.

Closing the program, members of the Ninth Grade Chorus will offer four selections, including a Bach Chorale, "Jesu, Priceless Treasure," and two German melodies, "While By Our Sleeping Flock We Lay" and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones."

During the evening the groups will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Barbara Bailey and three students, Lily Mularkey, Eric Smith, and Barb Beebe. Sheila Abbs on the bells and Vanessa Helin on the finger cymbals will accompany the Seventh Grade Chorus in "Ding Dong Join a Merry Chime."

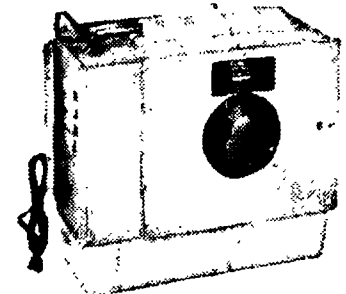

A portion of the performance will be enhanced by visual stimulation provided by students' hand-made slides projected on a large screen. Soft singing will be accompanied by tints of color and graceful line, while in contrast, forceful numbers will be joined with the harmony of bold, bright colors and dynamic lines. Mrs. Emily Scott, art teacher, calls the presentation "An Experiment in Sound and Sight."

The entire community is invited to attend the evening's concert. There is no admission charge.

Pair Sentenced In Farms Court

At a hearing held before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell, on Wednesday, December 6, Clyde Sturgis, 42, of 5060 Lawton, Detroit, was found guilty of two traffic violations, but not guilty of carrying a concealed weapon.

After hearing all the testimony, the judge found Sturgis guilty of driving a motor vehicle without ever acquiring a valid Michigan operator's license, (for which he was fined $25), and also found him guilty of driving a motor vehicle with defective lights, for which Sturgis was given a suspended sentence.

Sturgis entered a plea of not guilty to the carrying a concealed weapon charge, (a loaded snub-nosed 38 caliber revolver found in the car he was driving), and was found not guilty.

However, Leon Regular, 23, of 5056 Lawton, who was in Sturgis' car on the date of the arrest, November 13, pled guilty to the concealed weapon charge. He was fined $75 and placed on one-year probation and given a 30-day suspended sentence.

Judge Pytell warned Regular that if at any time during the probation period he is involved in a law violation, other than traffic, he will automatically serve 30 days in the Wayne County Jail.

On the November date, when Sturgis was stopped for faulty tail lights, he voluntarily told the arresting police officers that he did not have, nor had he ever acquired a driver's license, and he was promptly placed under arrest.

When Sturgis was placed in the police car to be taken to the station, Regular, himself got out of the Sturgis, vehicle and sat himself in the scout car, after which he told the police men that he had placed his father's revolver under the front seat on the passenger's side. The weapon was confiscated, and Regular was formally charged.

Skiers Poised For Big Year

Grosse Pointe War Memorial is beginning to closely resemble the lodges at Boyne and Aspen. Nearly 1,000 skiers young and more mature are stomping around the premises of 32 Lake Shore crashing skis and scanning the skies for snow.

This past Sunday, the Twenties "Group" gathered around the fire and Christmas tree of Alger House to share a giant pot of fondue, see pictures of their new lodge up north, and sign up for weekends there.

This coming Saturday, December 16, at 8 p.m. the Ski Hi Club for students in grades 9-12 plan to gather at the Center for an all-day trip to Pine Knob led by their advisor, High School teacher Gary Souter.

Tonight, Thursday, December 14, before 9 o'clock is the absolutely last chance to reserve and make payments for the Adult Ski Club's 3 and 4-day New Year's trips to Boyne. These are all-inclusive packages featuring charter busses with bar and biffy, lodging right at the slopes, tow tickets to all Boyne-operated ski areas with free shuttle service, meals, free cocktail parties at both the lodge and on the slopes, use of heated pool and sauna, nightly dances with live bands, and a gala complimentary New Year's Eve party. $85.00 pays for everything for the 3-day week-end. $20 more is required for the 4 days.

The Ski Hi is going nearly 200-strong with 10 chaperones to Boyne Country, December 26-29. The trip is filled, but boys and girls are being accepted on a waiting list in case more can be squeezed in. This trip includes charter busses, lodging and meals at Wolverine and insurance. Skiing is promised at Boyne Highlands, Boyne Mt., and possibly Thunder Mt. Nightly trips to the Ponytail Night Club at Harbor Springs are optional.

As of this writing, two or three places remain open for Ski Hi's fabulous week-long ski trip to Vail, Colo. via jet staying at the brand new Holiday Inn from Christmas over New Year's. Cost is $165 plus meals and towns. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McBride, Jr. are the trip leaders. Anyone interested in snapping up the last places should call the Center, TU 1-7511, at once.

Previous Olympic Medals Owned by 26 Michiganians

With the 1968 Olympics nearing, the hearts of 26 Michiganians who own a total of 34 Olympic gold, silver, or bronze medals must quicken at the mere thought of the games and the competition.

The Michigan list embraces seven sports and includes the Winter Games—to be held in Grenoble, France—and the Summer Games—to be hosted by Mexico City in October.

Oldest Michigan medal winner is Detroit's Jam Handy who won his bronze for third place in 1904 in the quarter-mile breaststroke.

Possessor of the most medals is weight-lifter Norb Schemansky of Dearborn who won a silver in 1948, a gold in 1952, and bronzes in 1960 and 1964 and who plans to try for the team again in 1968.

Ten of the winners claimed their medals in 1964, but swimmer Cynthia Goyette appears to be the lone person ready to try again. The Wayne State University coed faces a tough fight at the "old" swimming age of 21 (she'll be 22 by the Summer Games) in trying to make the team. She won her gold medal in the medley relay in world record time.

Skater Terry McDermott of Essexville hasn't spoken up yet and it is uncertain if Michigan State swimmer Gary Diley can keep on until the Games. Both claimed gold medals.

Other 1964 members—all with gold medals—include the retired track and field greats like Hayes Jones, Rex Cavley and Henry Carr, boxer Ron Harris, basketball whiz Terry Dischinger and rower Emery Clark of Metamora.

Jones also won a bronze medal in 1960. Other 1960 winners are Royal Oak swimmer Dave Gillanders and diver Bob Webster of Ann Arbor who were awarded bronze and gold medals respectively.

Rowers B. P. Costello, Jr., John D. McKinley, Arthur McKinley, James McIntosh and John Welchli won a silver in 1956, Michigan's only awards that year.

Clark Scholes, a Grosse Pointe, took a gold award in swimming in 1952. Lorenzo Wright was a gold medal winner in 1948 in the 400-meter relay in track.

Winners in 1936 included Dick Degener in diving, James Christy, Raymond Kaye in swimming and John W. Loaring (now of Windsor) in track and field.

Degener and Christy won awards in 1932 while Ed Gordon won the long jump gold medal. The deceased Eddie Tolan was Michigan's only double winner by winning the 100- and 200-meters.

Last but not least, on the list (Mrs. Harvey Campbell) who took the 1928 platform dive gold medal, coached by her late husband.

All of these people treasure their awards highly and like Hayes Jones speak strongly of the Olympic movement. Their monetary value is low, but their championship value and memory value far outweigh other considerations.

Many have already been contacted for appearances around the State of Michigan in support of Olympic fund-raising drives. They seldom refuse.

Injured Dog's Owner Ticketed

Mrs. Harry Foulkrod, 44 S. Deane, went to the City Police station on Thursday, December 7, and reported that while she was driving on East Jefferson at Elmsleigh a small dog darted out in front of her car and she struck the dog.

Cpl. George Brackx and officer Virgil G. Beupre picked up the dog, a Beagle, and took it to Harvey Animal Hospital for treatment.

A ticket was issued to the dog's owner, Don Longyear, 754 Grand Marais, for dog running at large.

SPOILS SYSTEM

Helpers Feted By Red Cross

"For Men Only" signs are not only seen in department stores this month. There was one hanging over the canteen door at Red Cross, 153 E. Elizabeth on Thursday, December 7, between 12 noon and 1:30. Thirty-five men were recognized for their contributions as volunteers during this past year at a luncheon held in their honor.

These volunteers have donated many hours in hospitals, the chapter's blood program, Service to Military Families and driving Red Cross station wagons, as well as representing the chapter on its Board of Directors.

There is plenty of room for more men in Red Cross volunteer service. Next year at the recognition luncheon we hope to have at least twice as many present," said Chester E. Blanton, chairman of the chapter's Executive Committee.

Among those honored were Elmore W. Frank of Fisher road, Joseph Hickey of Edgemont Park and James Alexis of McKinley avenue.

BOMBS DAMAGE STREET

A Notre Dame resident reported to City Police on Saturday, December 9, that the lighted bombs used when the street is under repair had been overturned in front of 610 Notre Dame. Upon investigation officer Donald Steckman found that the fire from the bombs had damaged the street.

'Tiny Miracle' Celebrates Her Healthy First Birthday

By Pepper Whitelaw

Bon Secours Hospital's "Miracle Baby," Theresa Marie Genna, celebrated her first birthday last Monday, December 11. Theresa Marie or T.M. (tiny miracle is what we labeled her), weighed only one pound, seven ounces at birth. She was immediately put into an isolette (an incubator for premature infants that is designed to provide controlled temperature, humidity and oxygen supply and to permit feeding and care under a septic condition with a minimum amount of handling). She took all her food through a tube. The entire staff watched as her intake was increased from one third of an ounce to one and finally to two ounces every three hours. She became the pet of the nursery.

T.M. thrived under the tender loving care and medical know-how of the staff in Bon Secours. In late February, weighing five pounds, T.M. joined her family the Angelo Gennas, in their Canberra avenue home in Roseville.

Now a year later, T.M. is 25 inches long (she was just 12 1/2 inches long at birth) and tips the scales at 15 pounds. With her curly black hair and snapping black eyes, she is a joy to mom, dad and her older sister, Kim. She crawls, lifts herself up, takes steps while hanging on to furniture and says hi and dadda.

T.M. is a wonderful example of the progress medical science has made in the care of premature babies!

We at the NEWS felt that this Christmas season was a perfect time to wish a tiny miracle a HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Chalks Up Big Win in Hurry

Dan Gurney, left, famed race driver, and Oscar L. (Ozzie) Olson, prominent Detroit industrialist and sportsman, are shown with the Olsonite Eagle at the Riverside (Calif.) International Raceway.

Still pondering the good fortune that made him a winner in a major big car race less than two weeks after he decided to enter the sport as an owner, Oscar L. (Ozzie) Olson, of Renaud road, prominent industrialist and sportsman, has already begun laying plans for an assault on the Indianapolis 500 next Memorial Day.

He plans to enter the same car, the Olsonite Eagle, with the same driver, Dan Gurney, and the same pit crew that made such a phenomenal showing in the Rex Mays 300 over the 4.01 mile 2.6 mile road course at Riverside (Calif.) International Raceway last Sunday.

Gurney, driving the Olsonite Eagle made in his own All-American Racers, Inc. shop at Santa Ana, Calif., bested the finest drivers and cars in the world in speeding to victory in the Rex Mays 300.

In winning, he had to outpace and outlast such big names on the big car circuit as Mario Andretti, who finished third; Bobby Unser, who came in second; A. J. Foyt, who placed fourth; and Jimmy Clark, who was a close second for 25 laps before his car cooked out.

Only the day before the race, Gurney had won the pole position in the race with a record-breaking qualifying lap of 1 minute 19.5 seconds, or an average speed of 117.735 m.p.h. This knocked Clark, who had turned a lap in 1:15.841 m.p.h. the day before, off the pole.

Has Ford Engine
The Olsonite Eagle, equipped with a 305 cu. in. Ford stock block engine, refined by Gurney to pull 325 h.p., was still purring like a kitten after the race.

Presiding as toastmaster for the evening was Ernest A. Jones, Jr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson were general co-chairmen of the contest and shared the program with Mr. Jones and Mrs. Sixten Ehring, chairman of the jury.

Marvin R. Anderson, president of the Detroit-Swedish Council, made the welcoming address. Mrs. Ehring presented the six Lucia candidates.

Each girl gave a two-minute talk on "The Meaning of Light to Me," and the Lucia Queen was then chosen by the jury. Serving on the jury were Mrs.

gripping 300 mile run over the hilly, curving road course, the Rex Mays 300, inaugurated this year in memory of the late California race driver who was indeed to grab such a plum in his first outing as a race car owner. Many car owners have been pouring money into entries at Indianapolis and other stops.

Next to the Indianapolis 500, the Rex Mays 300, inaugurated this year in memory of the late California race driver who was indeed to grab such a plum in his first outing as a race car owner. Many car owners have been pouring money into entries at Indianapolis and other stops.

Capturing the second biggest prize in the big car racing circuit, and with it a winner's prompting members of Gurney's crew to predict, "We could have won at Indy today."

Was Sweet Victory
But for Olson, it was sweet indeed to grab such a plum in his first outing as a race car owner. Many car owners have been pouring money into entries at Indianapolis and other stops.

The highlight of the evening occurred when the new Lucia and her Court entered the banquet room. Lights were dimmed. The room hushed as the new Lucia appeared with a candle-light crown upon her head followed by the five other girls, garbed in white, carrying lighted candles and singing "Santa Lucia."

Awards were given each of the candidates by Mrs. Ehring and Mr. Johnson. As part of her honor in being selected the Michigan Lucia, Miss Ardelson will be flown to Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

In Stockholm she will be a guest at the annual Lucia Banquet in the Town Hall, where she will be joined by other Lucias from throughout the world in Sweden's great Lucia celebration.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on the thinking contained in the December 7 letter to the Editor from the President of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council as well as in that organization's full page advertisement.

First of all, I would urge everyone to clearly understand that "fair housing" is not primarily a problem concerning race — race enters into it only secondarily. The point at issue is the destruction of the right to dispose of private property as the owner sees fit — regardless of the wisdom of his decision. The destruction of this right extends to ALL people, whatever their color or religion. The proposed legislation attacks an integral part of one of the most basic of human rights — the freedom to own, use, and dispose of property — without which there can be no liberty.

In admitting that the bill would limit the property owner's right to sell or lease, Mr. Meserve calls this "fair enough." It is not only not fair, it is thoroughly immoral. It is using the coercive power of government, (as it is used in so many other areas today), to accomplish that which would be a crime if enacted by an individual.

Suppose a colored person were discriminated against in the sale of a house. Suppose he produced a pistol, aimed it at the property owner, and forced him, under threat of violence, to sign a contract. The law in this case would be on the side of the victim of violence.

But suppose this same immoral objective were clothed in legality and applied to the same property owner. This time the law itself would threaten him with violence (arrest, jail, fine) if he refused to submit. Thus it becomes clear that "fair housing," which is being presented to the public in terms having every appearance of being desirable, is to be attained by immoral MEANS. By relying on political action to achieve their ends, the Human Relations Council people are forced to use means which are undeniably immoral when measured by the code which is binding upon individuals. That which is immoral when it is illegal, is still immoral even after majority vote has made it lawful. Need it be said that bad means cannot achieve good ends?

Let us all see clearly that there is only one right being violated in the above situation — and that is the natural right of the property owner to freely dispose of his property to a person of his own choice. No one has any "right" to buy or lease someone else's property without a mutually voluntary agreement. On the other hand, everyone has the right to ATTEMPT to buy or lease, and this right has always been, and is now, available in Grosse Pointe to persons of any color or creed. The plain fact of the matter is that the absence of Negroes in Grosse Pointe is due solely to the fact that property owners have exercised their right of free choice as to whom they will sell. No organization, no individual, no "point system" is responsible for the present situation — it is the decision of the property owners. If the HUMAN Relations Council people wish to do something about this decision, there are avenues and means open to them other than the use of governmental coercion which destroys everyone's liberty.

In speaking of recent "racial reforms," Bishop Emrich says that "We now look back with pride on all these reforms and know they were right." He is quite mistaken. Great numbers of us see just as clearly now as we did in 1964 that enforced equality in public accommodations is as morally wrong as forced housing. Furthermore, it is unconstitutional. We agree with Senator Goldwater's statement that there is "no constitutional basis for the exercise of federal regulatory authority in the area of public accommodations; and the attempted usurpation of such power is a grave threat to the very essence of our basic system of government, namely, that of a constitutional republic in which 50 sovereign states have reserved to themselves and to the people those powers not specifically granted to the Federal Government. To ignore the Constitution and the fundamental concepts of our governmental system is to act in a manner which could ultimately destroy the freedom of all American citizens, including the freedoms of the very persons whose feelings and liberties are the major subject of this legislation."

It could not be said more clearly that we abridge our basic rights and abolish constitutional restrictions on the authority of government at our own grave peril. The real question involved in the "fair housing" bill is whether or not the lengthening arm of the total state will take over still another one of our fast-diminishing liberties. In this direction lies servility, an evil far more to be feared and loathed than discriminatory decisions in housing. Each time political intervention and control increases, we move another step closer to the omnipotent state and the extinction of liberty. This eventuality is not being forced upon the American people. They are doing it to themselves, largely in ignorance of what it is they are really doing.

JANE INGRAHAM

Dear Sir:

The writer read the article in your November 30 issue about the steel pilings on my property. I am writing to tell you that part of it is erroneous though it may be through no fault of yours. You stated that City Manager, Slone, tried to arrange talks with me since early summer, but as yet I had done nothing about it.

Please be advised if he reported this to you, he is merely passing the buck because he has never contacted me. The writer has written the City regarding this matter, called them and been down to see them. Slone has never contacted me in this regard. I called him yesterday and his comment to me was: "I had discussed this with our City attorney about a meeting with you."

This is for your information. Very truly yours,
Earle R. Milner,
15650 Windmill Pointe Drive,
Grosse Pointe Park,

To the Editor:

On Wednesday, December 6, I attended the discussion concerning the proposed Fair Housing Act of 1967. The majority of the people attending were extremely boisterous and inconsiderate to one of the speakers concerning his beliefs.

My intention for attending the meeting was to listen to both sides of the issue and formulate my own individual opinions after each man had finished stating his views. There was much booing, yelling and heckling directed at one of the speakers, which was not only distasteful but very distracting. Up until Wednesday, I had much respect for all adults and their authority in our community, but after seeing some adults act like children or rather like blind sheep following a bell-wether or two, I unfortunately am becoming prejudiced against some of them. I guess that prejudice is all a part of growing up to play the role of being adult.

One of the speakers who had been heckled for a long period of time while trying to speak, finally told those obtuse people in the audience to be quiet only with language more fitting and appropriate to their level of understanding. A few of these individuals in the audience had the gall to ask for an apology; so he said, "Well, then I apologize." I admire this man for sticking to his convictions throughout the one-sided attack by such an unruly and undemocratic group and think that a good many "adults" of this community owe him an apology. Contrary to this "adult discussion" the one carried on at Grosse Pointe High School was carried on with sincerity and courtesy throughout the entire program.

Margaret Odell,
A member of the younger generation

December 6, 1967

Dear Sir:

Upon attending an open forum on the present open housing problem in Lansing, the only thing that I can say is that I am ashamed to be a Grosse Pointer.

Whether or not you are for the bill, the actions displayed at the meeting were anything but in the democratic system that we are supposed to follow. The way in which many people acted was anything but proper. When Mr. Waldron was introduced, he was greeted with the kind of reception that is anything but proper for a man of his position. Throughout his speech and for the rest of the night he was booed and antagonized by constant outbursts from a number of people. This is the exact type of thing you tell your children not to do. The meeting was not called to belittle a man's character. This is a reflection on the kind of people YOU vote for. If you don't like the way he represents you, the place to do something about it is in a voting booth and not blurring out objections from the floor.

I helped organize the assembly at Grosse Pointe High School and also gave the suggestion to the League of Women Voters to have a meeting of this type. At that time, I had no idea that the things that happened last Wednesday would happen. At the meeting in school, nothing got out of hand at all. We even had questions from the floor which we were advised not to do for fear of the meeting getting out of hand. This did not happen because students acted more mature than their parents.

If these actions continue to happen, teenagers and young adults will have no example to follow and the depletion of mature standards will start with older generation.

Respectfully,
ALAN FORTUNSKI

To the Editor:

It was gratifying to read the coverage provided by the GROSSE POINTE NEWS of the presentation to the Grosse Pointe Farms city council of a petition by residents concerned with safer school crossing along Chalfonte.

This problem, at least five years old, has reached a peak of concerted action. So many families with children attending Kerby school cross Chalfonte during periods motor vehicle traffic is greatest and most threatening.

The fact, confirmed by police, school, and resident observation, is that it requires about 10 seconds for a child to cross

Chalfonte. During peak traffic periods, one can every six seconds, traverses Chalfonte between Madison and Moran!

Children are well-taught in school to cross with extreme caution. Any moving vehicle in sight keeps most children from attempting to cross. There is little opportunity when there are insufficient breaks in traffic flow.

Timing breaks in flow with time necessary to cross is impossible for elementary school children. Long waits, up to 15 minutes, are common. Fear of school tardiness and fore-shortened lunches result.

Crossing at Brownell junior high school for elementary school children only intensifies already existing problems. This is particularly acute when parents' cars further clog traffic flow. Walking all the way to Kerby road to the next stop-light adds to the distance by one-half!

Patrol boys cannot be expected to function so far from school, and particularly not without a traffic control device to protect them. Furthermore, they are too young for this responsibility.

Citizens' concern is growing as they become aware of this problem, to which your news report contributed. Everyone is sympathetic to children's safety problems, and now more people than ever are intent on obtaining action.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John C. Krato
(For the Committee)
215 Chalfonte Avenue

To the Editor:

It was to our disgust to see the adults of Grosse Pointe handled themselves at the Open Housing debate at Pierce Junior High school, on Wednesday, December 6. Now we have finally learned the meaning of the term "ugly American."

We, as students were ashamed to hear our "so called adults" booing and hissing before Mr. Waldron had ever begun his speech. We had always thought that people were to have the common courtesy to listen politely to someone speak, but it seems we have been misled. They seemed to be more interested in taking out their emotions on Mr. Waldron on a personal basis, rather than listening to his viewpoints on open housing.

It is frightening to think that these are the people we are supposed to look up to and respect when they can not even respect their contemporaries.

If the raw forms of rude actions witnessed on December 6 are signs of maturity, we hope never to reach that point.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

It's that time of year—that time of month—when I panic. My Christmas shopping is by no means done. I'm trying to wind up an anthropology course. I have various library deadlines to meet. My Christmas cards sit staring me reproachfully. I'll never make it! And I have this column to write!

Well, first of all, let us think of the impact of the newspaper strike in our area. Have you missed the Detroit newspapers? If so, what are you doing to fill in the gap? What about some extra magazines or books? How about a stroll down to your corner library to do some extracurriculum reading? If you're all caught up on Christmas shopping and preparations, you should be in the market for reading some of those books you've been putting off for—several years?

Thought number two. I just returned from an all-day junket to Flint to see how their public library operated. Each time I return from such a trip—whether it be just a library visit or a conference, I marvel at how insular we can all become in any line of work. A visit to a neighboring locality can point up many things. It can give us new ideas. It can show us how other people operate and cope with their problems. It can show us that they, too, have problems. It can bring us into closer rapport with our fellow workers and give us added enthusiasm to move always onwards and upwards. It's really like a shot in the arm.

In spite of all my December pressures, I have read a couple of new books which you might like. The first is a new George Simenon, entitled THE CAT, and deals with deadly, understated intensity, with an elderly couple, whose hatred of each other has reached such a level that they only communicate via notes. Did she kill his cat? Did he really kill her parrot? Read the book and form your own opinion.

If you read the regular Erma Bombeck column in the Detroit FREE PRESS (when published), you will greet with loud cries of enthusiasm her new book, AT WIT'S END. It's hard to find a really funny book, but here it is—and if you are a housewife with youngsters, it will have a special appeal.

I'll finish out this non-sequitur column with a poem, just to confuse you completely. It could be entitled: FAMOUS IMPRUDENTS.

I can't believe That Adam and Eve,
Really thought very far ahead.
It would have been easier
On Julius Caesar
On the Ides, if he'd stayed in bed.
And did Macbeth—
On second breath—
"Think through" the advice
from the Sisters?
Juliet, we know,
And her Romeo,
Should not have been underground trysts.
And young Candide,
Would have profited, indeed,
If he'd cultivated his garden.
Esau and his hunger,
Led to a blunder,
Which God would hardly pardon.
Achilles, oh spare us!
Might have won against Paris,
If he'd taken care of his heel.
The flight of Icarus,
Too high and too vigorous,
Turned him into a drowned
schlemiel.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

When the Yale Glee Club comes to town, it's always a occasion for rejoicing . . . and the Glee Club will be this Saturday evening, in Grosse Pointe.

The 80-member male chorus will present a concert in the Junior High School Auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Their appearance in The Pointe is sponsored by the Yale Alumni Association of Michigan. The concert will be followed by a formal dance at the Country Club.

Concert Parties

As always, this "Yale Evening" will begin early and end late. Among the larger pre-concert dinner parties on the YE agenda is a subscription dinner for 100, being hosted by the Howard Smiths and the B. Fords at the Country Club.

A second subscription dinner, (100 persons), has been planned by the Leonard W. Smiths, setting for party, too, will be the Country Club, and busses transport guests from the Club to Parcels and back again after the concert.

William Y. Gard, (he's general co-chairman, with Leonard Smith, of the Yale concert-dance program), his wife, Nancy, will be dining out that evening.

They'll join present and past members of "The Grays" at the Cloverly road home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Parcels, Jr.

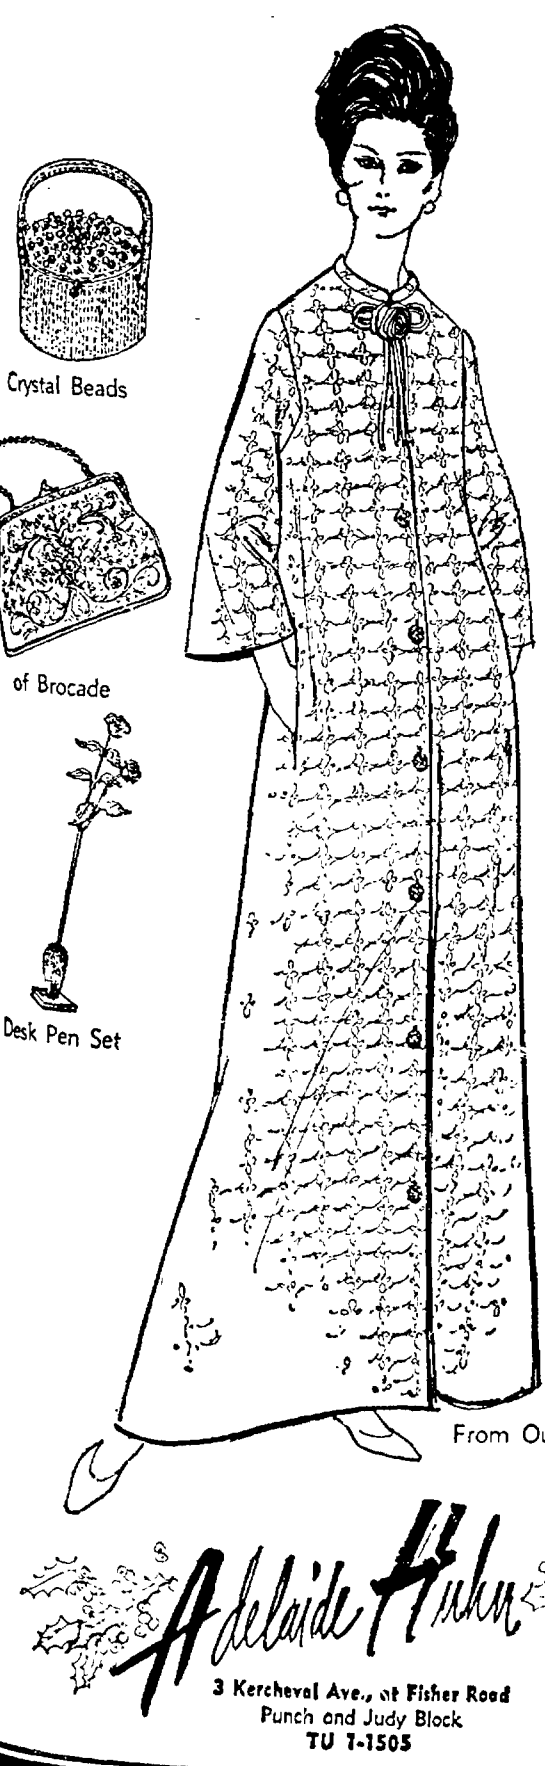

This gathering of local "singing types" is a Pointe tradition. There'll be music in the Grays' home, and the Grays' piano will be the Grays' piano. The Grays' piano will be the Grays' piano. The Grays' piano will be the Grays' piano.

Very Special Ushers

A Very Special Group of Ushers, including two of our Christmas debutantes, Jane White and Ann Miller, has been recruited to show concert-goers to seats.

Among other local young ladies passing out programs will be Barbara Kennedy, Bethine Whitney, Jane Smith, Elizabeth Goodenough, Susan Jenks, Carol Mason and Jinna Ives.

Inside The Mothers' Club

By Mrs. J. O. Reed

The December 4 meeting of the Executive Board of the G.P.H.S. Mothers Club was held at 12:45 p.m. in the Board of Education Building with Mrs. William Ludwig, president, presiding.

In presenting her report, Mrs. Ludwig mentioned attending various activities during the month of November and complimented Mrs. Edward Devine for managing the Christmas Tea so successfully. She announced that John Lake, of Grosse Pointe War Memorial, has asked us to help promote the New Year's Eve Dance for young people.

The Youth Council is sponsoring this event, which will be held from 9:30 to 1:30. The charge is $5 per couple, which will cover dancing, favors, and buffet supper.

Mrs. Robert Brines, president-elect of Grosse Pointe North High School, reported that the tours conducted through the building on December 3 were very well attended. The general opinion of the visitors was that the school is well planned and equipped, with no extraneous frills. The academic building is expected to be finished and furnished by March. Mrs. Brines also announced that the school colors chosen were green and gold.

Treasurer Mrs. Leland Symons, reported the following balances in the treasury:—commercial account, $3,171.46; scholarship fund, $3,106.52; sinking fund, $772.60.

Discussing the short-skirt problem, Faculty Representative Mrs. Benson McClure hopes that the instant sewing class plan will solve some of the immediate crises. The possible staggering of unit tests was discussed and Mrs. McClure advised that there are policies established regarding this and the problem of study hours in classes.

Hospitality chairman Mrs. Gordon Sorenson, reported that pizza and pop were served to 80 members of the Pointe Players after the performance on November 16.

Membership in the Mothers Club is currently 1,021, with paid dues amounting to $2,042.00. This is 174 fewer members than last year. This trend has been general the last few years and some discussion followed regarding a drive for more members.

Mrs. P. N. Buckminster, chairman of Neighborhood Groups, reported total dues received from 320 group members amount to $641.00. Last year at this time, 326 members had paid a total of $984.00. Eight discussion groups used speakers from the high school in November. Two speakers are scheduled for December.

Tickets sold for the scholarship fund benefit performance by the Pointe Players grossed $1,515.75. Chairman, Mrs. C. R. Randall, reported contributions still being received.

Social chairman Mrs. Alton Donnell reported serving approximately 1,475 parents on Back-to-School Night. Reports were also submitted by PTA Council delegate, Mrs. Warren Moore, and Mrs. Arthur Sherman, Board of Education delegate.

Dr. William Craig, Principal of Grosse Pointe North High School, spoke briefly about the school and answered questions most enthusiastically. He mentioned his interest in using student aids in volunteer programs, and hopes to foster interest in service clubs to help in school affairs. Both high schools will be coordinated in parallel study programs, and special facilities and programs will be shared.

PROPER NICHE

There is plenty of room for everybody in this world, but we can't all have front rooms.

Church Women To Climax Year

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will climax a year of fellowship with a candlelight buffet Tuesday evening, December 19.

Members and their husbands will gather at 6:30 o'clock in the church lounge to begin the evening with punch and hors d'oeuvres.

Beef tenderloin a la Bordelaise will be featured among the many dishes gracing the buffet table.

The entire culinary effort will be supervised by Mrs. Wray Donaldson, who will be assisted by members of Group III.

Christmas decorations for the dining tables will be provided by Mrs. Ernest Bauer.

Mrs. Ralph Kimble, program chairman, has arranged for the Chapel and Chancel Choirs of the church, under the direction of Henry Klein, to present a program of seasonal music following the dinner.

Reservations are available through the church office.

Add to the list of "new" Pointers the names of KEVIN and ANNE McGARRY, who, with their five children, recently moved from the Minneapolis area to Meadow Lane.

The Holiday Season means parties, and parties mean gay, festive and different food ideas. The NEWS thought the best person to ask for such ideas was Helen M. Blair, manager of The House and Catering at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Here are some of her suggestions:

Mince-meat Fritters with Honey
1 C. Aunt Jemima pancake mix
1/2 C. milk
1 egg
1 tsp. butter or oil
1/2 C. Brandied Mince-meat

Mix well all ingredients. If mixture seems a bit too stiff, add more milk. Spoon out into hot fat and cook until golden brown. Check to see if center of fritter is done. Spoon honey over fritters while hot. (For a change at Christmas use whole cranberry sauce instead of honey.) Will serve 12.

Italian Green Beans
1 pkg. Italian Green Beans
Salt and pepper to taste
1/4 C. heavy rich white sauce

1/2 C. Sour cream
2 tsp. chopped pimientos
Cook green beans until still crunchy. Drain off liquid and add salt and pepper. Add White sauce to which the sour cream and chopped pimientos have been added. (For variety add 1/2 C. fresh sautéed mushrooms.) Allow beans to cool slightly to prevent curdling.

Christmas Wassail
1 tsp. ground ginger
1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg
1 tsp. allspice
2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. ground cloves
1/4 C. hot water
4 quarts Claret
1 C. sugar
14 eggs (separated)
Stir spices in the hot water and boil 1/2 minute. Add to the wine and heat but do not boil. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Beat egg yolks and whites separately and fold yolks into the whites. Pour into a punch bowl and add the heated wine. Whip with a French whip until frothy. For an added decorative touch place the punch bowl in a bed of Holly leaves. Makes 40 servings.

Quickly Charlotte Russe, Christmas Style
1/2 C. cold milk
1 pkg. Whip 'N Chill Water (cold)
1/4 C. Brandy
1/2 C. diced, candied pineapple
1/2 C. candied cherries (cut in half)
1/2 C. walnut pieces
Dream Whip (whipped)

Mandarin oranges
Toasted almonds
In small bowl thoroughly blend Whip 'N Chill mixture at low speed with 1/2 C. cold milk. Then whip at high speed for one minute. Blend in 1/4 C. cold water and brandy at low speed. Whip at high speed for about two minutes. Add pineapple, cherries, walnut pieces and fold in 1/2 C. whipped Dream Whip. Place three slices of Mandarin oranges in each dessert dish. Spoon in the Charlotte Russe and top with whipped Dream Whip. Garnish with four slices of Mandarin oranges and toasted almonds. Chill about one hour. Approximately 10 average servings.

We hope you'll try some of this "fun ideas" for one of your parties!

Seeger to Play At 'Other Side'

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Youth Council is staging the Super "Other Side" Saturday evening, December 23, from 8 to 12 o'clock. All Grosse Pointe students in grades 9-12 are invited. The Super will occupy both the theater and ballroom of Fries Auditorium.

Plan Music Season At Meadow Brook

Preparations For 1968 Fifth Anniversary Series Well Underway; Chairmen And Committee Heads Are Named

Oakland University's musical marvel, the Meadow Brook Festival, must surely be high on the list of area blessings we may count.

With four smashing seasons under its belt, it took the race riots of last summer to throw even a slight dampener on this trend-setting local success story, plans are already underway to make the Festival's 1968 Fifth Anniversary Series the best yet.

The Festival has always attracted those dynamic leaders Metropolitan Detroit produces in such abundance, and the newly announced Executive committee for next year is no exception.

Heading the high-powered husband-wife group will be Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Boyd. The Harold G. Warners will be vice-chairmen.

Already at work marshalling

60 district chairmen and 350 ticket committee members are general area chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cody, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Dawson, the Francis C. McMaths, Walter F. Skinners and Harry N. Wietings.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Wilson will be Finance chairmen for next summer's half-million dollar annual event. They'll be raising huge amounts to make sure the admission prices are kept at a comfortable minimum.

Similar quality programs — Tanglewood and Saratoga, for instance — charge more than twice the Meadow Brook rate.

Other chairmen include Mr. and Mrs. John S. Judd, program advertising, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Standart, Jr., promotion.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. John Elias, of Renaud road, announced the engagement of their daughter, GAYLE RAE, to Dr. James J. Boutros at a party given in their honor recently in the Elias home.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and Powers Finishing School, attended Hillsdale College and Thomas Secretarial College, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Her fiancé, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Boutros, of Birmingham, was graduated from Catholic Central High School, the University of Notre Dame and the Stritch School of Medicine of Loyola University. He is a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity and Alpha Chi pre-professional honor society.

An early spring wedding is being planned.

Men Gardeners Will Hold Party

The annual Christmas party and Ladies' Night of the Grosse Pointe Men's Garden club will be held Thursday evening, December 21, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Featuring holiday refreshments and entertainment, the program will be highlighted by a talk on holiday lighting by William Johnson, a member of the Westinghouse Corporation staff. His subject will be "Trends, Moods and Themes of Holiday Illumination."

Mr. Johnson is known as an expert in his field. A graduate of Bryant College, Providence, R.I., with a Science Bachelors degree, he has also studied at Wayne State University.

Among many personal activities, he is area governor of the Toastmaster's Club and president of Pierce Junior High School P.T.A. His talk will be illustrated with slides and specimens.

Members, their ladies and guests, are invited to attend the affair, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Shady reputations are due to the casting of reflections.

'Brothers' Meet 'Sisters' Party

"Minnie Skirts" and "Mighty Men" met at the home of Carol Harrison in Balfour road for a post-Thanksgiving Open House November 25.

Carol, a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority at Western Michigan University, invited all her sorority sisters to the party, and Jim Bellinger, of Detroit, a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, invited all his fraternity brothers to come to Carol's house to meet the "sisters."

Dr. J. W. Harrison, Carol's father, put his Sigma Chi pin on and joined the group. He had a true tale to tell the younger generation: The real story behind the popular song, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," written by Dudley Vernor, a member of the Alpha Pi Chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity at Albion College in 1914.

Many of the guests were from out-of-state but all are currently attending Western Michigan University.

Kris Falk, of Grosse Pointe, president of the WMU Alpha Chi Omega group, came with Bob Mirman whose home town is Bethesda, Md.

Bob Dinehart, president of Sigma Chi at WMU, is from Somerville, N. J. He came with Joy Lehr, of South Bend, Ind.

Marilyn Smith, of Grosse Pointe, brought as her guest William Baker, a student at the University of Michigan, Carol's sister, Elaine, who is a June graduate of Michigan State University and also a member of State's chapter of Alpha Chi Omega, came with Roger Naurt, a graduate of Michigan State, now attending Northwestern Law School. He is from St. Louis, Mo.

John W. Harrison, Carol's

brother and a graduate of Central Michigan University, escorted Sandra Maslowski. John at the present time is studying medicine at Kansas City, Mo.

Among the many guests were: Kathy Bradner, Tom Borgeld, Nancy Foley, Ron Iles, Joyce Poppin, Mike Rice, Carol Otwell, Jim Take, Marcia Tomoezeuski, Dan Drobnich, Karen Howie, John Yeoman, Sheri Crass, Chuck Poulos, Judi Fuhrwerk, Darrell Davies, Beth Holbrook, Tony Shelton, Fred Keier, Lynn Osborne, Suzi Keyte, Richard Skelton, Kaye Christopher, Jerry Vacek, Sandra Long, Bob Vengoni, Kathy Williams, Diana Bryant, Ty Jolien, Robert M. Padula, Alan Suffel and Liz Bartz.

Carol's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Konitsney, were chaperones.

Ideas are always worthless until harnessed to industry.

Six Young Pointers Plan Holiday Bows

Teas, Dances And A Reception Highlight Christmas '67 Debutante Calendar; Parties Will Begin Next Monday

It's to be a short but festive Christmas Debut Season this year, as six young Pointers make their bows to society between December 18 and December 23. And, as a delightful "postscript" to the pre-Christmas party series, a seventh young lady, presented formally by her parents during last June's Season, will be honored by her grandmother at a "lady tea."

The first of the Christmas bows will be a "lady tea," Mrs. Ward A. Detwiler, of Three Mile drive, will give a tea for her granddaughter, Ann Lockwood Detwiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Detwiler, of Kenwood court.

And, on December 20, Mrs. George L. Renaud, of Cadieux road, will give a tea for her granddaughter, Deborah Renaud, at the Grosse Pointe Little Club. Miss Renaud is the daughter of the George F. Renauds, of Harvard road.

The Charles M. Whites will present their daughter, Jane, to society at a tea dance in their Provencal road home December 21.

December 22 is the "Big Day" of the Christmas 1967 Season. In the afternoon, the Wilcox-Wotherspoons, of Tonnant place, are hosting a reception at the Little Club for their daughter, Mary Adams Wotherspoon.

That evening, Merrill Casperson will be honored at a dinner given by her uncles and aunts. Mr. and Mrs. William B. Canfield, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelly, Jr., preceding the dance being given in her honor at the Country Club by her parents, the Charles Caspersons, II, of Merriweather road.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Egan, of Provencal road, are giving a dance at the Grosse Pointe Little Club December 23, for their daughter, Lynne.

The final party of the Season to be held the day after Christmas, December 26, will be a tea given by Mrs. Delfino Cinelli in honor of her granddaughter, Catherine Anne Cinelli, at the Voltaire place home of Cathy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hartz Cinelli.

Miss Cinelli was presented to society last June 13, at a dance at which the Ferdinand Cinellis transformed their home into a replica of the piazza of Rome, Italy, at the time of the annual summer races.

Miss Schueler received her Bachelor of Science degree in Child Development and Teaching from Michigan State University, and is presently teaching kindergarten in Chicago, Ill.

Her fiancé received his Bachelor of Science degree from Wayne State University and is currently working towards a Masters degree in Municipal Administration at the University of Iowa.

Junior League Plans Xmas Dinner Projects

The Junior League of Detroit will again serve its traditional turkey dinner with all the trimmings to a record crowd of 450 people who are helped by the Detroit League for the Handicapped on Tuesday, December 19, at 12 o'clock.

The party will be held at Detroit League for the Handicapped headquarters in Ash street.

The Junior League founded the Detroit League for the Handicapped in 1922 and has since turned it over to the community. It is a Torch Drive agency today.

The Junior League, through contributions it solicits from its members, pays for the turkey dinner, the rental of linens, the Christmas tree and other necessary items.

The League rounds up volunteers to act as waitresses and solicits all the corsages, favors, prizes and gifts.

Assisting the waitresses this year will be volunteers from the Service Guild, Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, B'nai B'rith Women's Council of Metropolitan Detroit, Board of Trustees of the Detroit League for the Handicapped, St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church of Birmingham and the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

The corsages this year will be made by the Windmill Pointe Garden Club, Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club, Grosse Pointe Garden Club and the Osage Branch Farm and Garden Club.

Many gifts and table favors have been donated by interested members of Detroit's business community.

Mrs. John D. Durno, chairman of the party, has announced that a real highlight of the day will be the appearance of the Joe Vitale Trio, whose services will be donated by the Detroit Federation of Musicians, Local No. 5 A. F. of M.

The Junior League Glee Club will sing some of their favorite selections as part of the entertainment.

Assisting Mrs. Durno with the party are Mrs. Richard W. Budinger, Mrs. Lewis H. Echlin, III, Mrs. Fenton Remick and Mrs. Alfred Reuther, Jr.

Coming from Endicott Junior College to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, MR. and MRS. JAMES T. BARNES, of Lakeshore road, is CHRIS BARNES.

Home from Michigan State University for the Christmas holidays are JOHN O'GORMAN, JR., and his sister, MISSY, whose parents are MR. and MRS. JOHN M. O'GORMAN, of Washington road.

MARTHA JEN WATKINS, 21, of Cloverly road, has been selected to appear in the 1967 edition of "Outstanding Young Women Of America," an annual biographical compilation of 6,000 women between the ages of 21 and 35 who have distinguished themselves in civic and professional activities. The listees are chosen from nominees submitted by local women's clubs, by a Board of Advisory Editors headed by MRS. DEX-TER OTIS ARNOLD, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Flying down to Mexico for a tropical Christmas vacation holiday are the GEORGE D. DINGTONS, of Fisher road.

Engaged

At a party Monday evening, December 4, in their Anita avenue home, Mr. and Mrs. Michel De Backer announced the engagement of their daughter, SANDRA, to William Michael Caloia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Caloia, of Roslyn road. The bride-elect was graduated from Detroit Practical Nursing Center. Her fiancé is completing his senior year at Wayne State University, where he is majoring in the French language. He plans to teach.

Children's Party Set at City Club

Magician Arthur Whelpley, ventriloquist Donna Clark, a "Balloon Man" and, of course Santa Claus himself will highlight festivities at the Women's City Club's Children's Christmas party, to begin at 1:30 o'clock this Saturday afternoon, December 16.

New this year, and sure to delight the boys and girls, will be a shopping department where children may purchase small, inexpensive gifts. This Children's Treasure Chest, sponsored by the Club's Mini-Fair committee, will be open immediately following the party proper.

Preceding the party, at 11:30 o'clock, there will be a special children's menu luncheon featured in the Club's Pewabic Room.

The Children's Christmas party is sponsored by the Club's program committee, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph L. Young. Chairmen of hostesses are Mrs. G. Sam Zilly and Mrs. J. Edward Sauble.

OKAY PAYMENT

The J. J. Barney company petitioned the Park council on Monday, December 11, for payment of $27,254.94, the balance due on the curb and sidewalk replacement program for 1967. The firm was previously paid the sum of $29,585.12 on the first installment.

Quiz Women On Food Facts

It is an economic fact that money spent in the grocery store is for non-food items. This quiz showed that most women recognized that all of their grocery money was not for food.

Our changing patterns of eating was the topic for other questions. Consumption of cheese, poultry, meat and beef are rising each year. Fresh vegetable consumption is going down, though, and few women seemed to realize this.

On other issues, ones that encompass more basic economic knowledge, important for a complete understanding of food prices, the women fell down!

Consider meat for instance: The average family spends about 32 percent of its food dollar on meat, poultry and fish. A surprisingly low percentage of only 30 percent of the women recognized this fact.

Many women also did not understand the purpose of grading meat. When asked if the grade on meat had anything to do with tenderness, many indicated that it did not. Forty percent of the homemakers quizzed indicated the grading was for the purpose of assuring the wholesomeness of the product rather than quality.

Really, a very small percentage of our after-tax income goes for food . . . only 18 percent.

About 23 percent of the for food . . . only 18 percent.

Women consistently chose a much higher percentage as an average figure for food expenditures.

Only about half of the consumers completing the quiz knew that food expenditures averaged 18 percent of their disposable income last year.

Marketing our nation's food involves many services, including processing, packaging, transportation, distribution and wholesaling. A food is a long way from the raw product on the farm to the cleaned, packaged one on our kitchen tables.

We pay for the services that come with our foods. In fact, we spend 60 cents out of each food dollar for marketing costs.

To evaluate the average consumer's knowledge of marketing costs, we asked what part of the dollar she thought was spent on food. Only one in four consumers knew that 60 percent of their food dollar goes to pay the marketing cost.

How did the Detroit girls do overall in their food shopping quiz? Two were letter perfect.

Twenty percent of the group missed 10 or more questions.

This does bring up the point that many consumers could benefit from a more extensive consumer education program in food buying—a great deal more knowledge, as they start down the super market aisle.

Arriving for a Christmas visit with his parents, the ALEXANDER L. WEINERS, of Woodland place, will be the EDWARD MACINTOSH WEINERS, of Elmhurst, Ill.

Children's Theater To Present Musical

New Version Of "Sleeping Beauty" Will Be Performed In Fries Auditorium During Holidays By War Memorial-Sponsored Troup

A fairy too fat to fly and one with the unlikely name of "Treakle" are but two of the characters in "Sing Ho For a Prince," the musical version of "Sleeping Beauty," to be given by the Grosse Pointe Children's Theater at two successive performances Friday, December 29, and Saturday, December 30, at 1 o'clock.

The production, a Grosse Pointe War Memorial-sponsored activity, is being given at the War Memorial's William Fries Auditorium in Lakeshore road.

Children in the performances live in Grosse Pointe and the surrounding areas and are directed by Mrs. Sydney Reynolds, now in her 14th year as director of the Children's Theater.

Among the young players are Suzie Wightman, Charlene Frant, Pat Krauzmann, Linda Marsh, Cindy Reynolds and Tommie Tocco. Others are Terry Dooley, Penny Wartian, Lisa Ralph, Margaret Shook, Kim Kotowski and Colleen Schleicher.

Lance Potter and Frank Waindle, in alternate performances, portray the boy sprite who would rather eat than fly, while Ellen Kennary plays the part of Sleeping Beauty with Bob Genter as her Prince Valor.

Other young actors include Robert Duker, Tom Hennes, Debra McGovern, Craig McConachie and Arnye Latenberg. "Sleeping Beauty," one of the most delightful and whimsical of Grimm's fairy tales, appeals to both elementary and preschool children.

The production will run an hour and a half, and tickets may be purchased in advance at Punch and Judy Toyland or Peter Pan Clothes, both in Kercheval avenue.

Student tickets are priced at $.50, adults at $1. Special party rates for 15 youngsters or more can be obtained by calling TU 5-6219.

Refreshments will be served, and tickets, if available, may also be purchased at the door.

Jenny Lind Club Sets Lucia Party

The annual Christmas Lucia dinner-dance, sponsored by the Jenny Lind Club of Detroit, will be held tomorrow evening, Friday, December 15, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Co-chairmen of the festivities are Mrs. Dwight M. Nelson, Jr., Mrs. R. M. Wahlberg and Mrs. Pehr Wingardh. The latter lady, who arrived from Sweden just about a year ago, is the newest member of the Club. She is the wife of the Swedish Trade Commissioner for Michigan.

Assisting the three co-chairmen are committee members Mrs. George J. Baer, Mrs. Charles D. K. Brown, Mrs. Charles J. Koebel, Mrs. W. W. Wood and the Club's president, Mrs. Robert S. Peebles.

The committee is preparing many dishes for the evening's smorgasbord including herring, (pickled and in other forms), "Wingardh's Famous Kottbullar" and "Johnson's Temptation."

The buffet will also feature many different kinds of cheeses and various "surprises."

A special highlight following dinner will be the appearance of "Lucia," the Swedish Christmas Saint-of-Light, a young girl selected from Club membership families. She will serve the traditional buns and cookies to the guests.

To Be Wed

The engagement of SUSAN SCHNEIDER and Lieutenant Henry L. Ritter USA has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Schneider, of Berns court.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mrs. Roland Ritter, of Chalfonte avenue, and the late Mr. Ritter, attended the University of Notre Dame and pursued graduate studies in Civil Engineering.

A May wedding is planned.

This year's Lucia is Carol Anderson. Her attendants will be her brothers, Robert and John. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Anderson, of Harbor Hill.

Carol, Robert and John Anderson will be the first three children from the same family ever to participate in a single Jenny Lind Club Lucia ceremony.

"Will I Be Able To Get A Mortgage?"

Many househunters, discouraged by the current news reports of a scarcity of mortgage money and high interest rates, are asking if they will be unable to obtain financing. Sellers, too, are wondering if the difficulty in obtaining mortgages will hinder the sale of their properties.

While these fears are well-founded in many areas, Grosse Pointers can rest assured that most lending institutions continue to give preference to the Pointe in the allocation of loans, thereby providing a plentiful supply of funds. Their term for most houses in the Pointe is "prime property," and they welcome the opportunity to secure their loans with property located in an area in which the values are more stable.

For this reason, we also enjoy an advantage in interest rates, often obtaining 1/4 or 1/2 per cent less than other areas.

TIPS FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

By Professor A. H. Easton
Director, Motor Vehicle Research Laboratory
University of Wisconsin

1. Get the "feel" of the road by accelerating carefully to see if wheels spin; or brake gently to see if they skid. Increase speed accordingly.

2. Increase your following distance. It takes three to five times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement.

3. "Pump" your brakes to slow or stop—don't jam them. An intermittent pumping action three to five times per second keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control.

4. Have good tires with good treads. Better yet, use snow tires which provide half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Studded snow tires offer more help on icy surfaces.

5. Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car for use during severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to seven times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires.

6. Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades gone dead from exposure to sun, wind and oily road film. Be sure that your windshield washer solution contains adequate anti-freeze.

You must see danger to avoid it."

who, where and whatnot

by wboozit

Those Grosse Pointe Symphony . . . Women's Committee Board members REALLY had something to celebrate at their First Annual Members' Tea in the Alger House of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial last Monday afternoon. In less than 11 months, since the first of the year, the Committee's membership-on-record has DOUBLED . . . Incidentally, we think that Grosse Pointe Symphony trio providing background music for the party was a very nice, appropriate touch . . .

And speaking of "appropriate touches" . . . Have you seen William Clay Ford's Christmas card? The one on which the Lion, (if you wonder, "Why a Lion as an 'appropriate touch'?", all we can say is, "Where have you been for the past few years?"), is lying down with the Lamb . . .

And speaking of Christmas cards . . . One of the ones we always look forward to most arrived "first" this year: Its senders are the Gari Kerstens, of McKinley avenue, "Pointers of Interest" four years ago when their twin daughters were little more than babies . . . Kimberly and Karen, with young Master Kersten between them, (he wasn't even AROUND four years ago), smile their holiday greeting from one side of the card, (my, how BIG those girls have grown!) . . .

And speaking of Christmas . . . If this week's "Pointer of Interest," Ruth Drennan, is on your Christmas Gift List, and you can't think of a thing to get her, we'll pass along this clue: Mrs. D. is absolutely crazy about owls! We're sure she's welcome an addition to her collection of owl figures . . . If you can't find an owl, any other bird figure will do; Ruth has a very nice collection of other-than-owl bird figures, too . . .

And, still speaking of Christmas . . . Didn't you enjoy the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra-sponsored Grosse Pointe Christmas Walk last Thursday? Everyone seemed to find the way to every house on the tour, despite the fog . . . We were particularly fascinated by the "mobile" Christmas tree in the brand-new home of the William F. Bakers, in Fordcroft road . . . and by the Greek shield standing beside the fireplace in the charming remodeled carriage house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Campbell, in Elmsleigh lane, (we understand it took eight months for the shield to reach the United States, because permission to "import" it had to be granted by the Greek Archeological Society) . . .

And, still speaking of the Christmas Walk . . . We rather like Dottie (Mrs. Henry E. II) Bodman's description of the Bodman family's new home in Winthrop place: Its style, says Dottie, is "Bodman Georgian," (it's a perfectly delightful style, by the way) . . .

And, STILL speaking of the Christmas Walk . . . Our nomination for the most magnificent house on this year's tour is split between the George Simons' Vendome road residence and that of the Carl E. Larsons, in Windmill Pointe drive . . . The Simons' home was pictured and described in detail in last week's NEWS . . . The Larsons' Norman chateau was designed by Albert Kahn, was under construction for three years, and features an English pub, complete with paneled walls, a red ceiling with indirect lighting and red bar stools with baby calf seats . . .

This is rather an abrupt change in mood . . . but we've just received a poem from Carolyn Hubbard Lucas that strikes us so forcefully we feel we MUST print it:

DEATH OF A YOUNG SOLDIER

Nineteen — and dying in a foreign land —
Life was too short for him to know its worth,
Yet while he lived he loved it; hand in hand
With hope and joy he trod his magic earth.
Youth was his prize — but surely not the gain
He might have had in all the later years,
Still he is spared the emptiness and pain
That often follows glory, bringing tears.
He goes in innocence. Life is his friend
And makes his death triumphant at the end.

PILFERINGS

A cold drizzle darkened the streets. To keep her tiny dog warm, a woman put him under her coat, letting only his alert little head protrude from the opening between two buttons near her waistline.

While they were waiting at a bus stop, a small boy, who had been looking her over for some time, finally went up to the woman and asked, "Are you a kangaroo?"

—Reader's Digest

Red Skelton loves everyone and everything. Not too long ago he adopted a little dog, pure mongrel, thing, mangy, half-terrier and maybe half-poodle. Skelton was walking the little mutt along Beverly boulevard in Hollywood when a lady on in years approached him and, not recognizing the comedian, said, "What kind of dog you got there?"

Red smiled. "He's a police dog."

The lady was mystified. "He certainly doesn't look like a police dog."

Skelton put his index finger up to his lips, looked furtively from one side to another, motioned the woman close to him, then whispered, "He's not supposed to look like a police dog. He's on the vice squad."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. SHELDON DRENNAN, OF LAKECREST LANE

By Janet Mueller

Ask Ruth Drennan how she manages to accomplish everything she sets out to accomplish, to organize her time, to honor her commitments—all with apparently NO effort at all . . . "I just keep going along at my own pace," she muses. "As Sheldon says: It's better to do a job WELL, and do it RIGHT, than just to do it faster than anyone else . . ."

Ruth's not exactly a slouch in the Speed Department, either. Assuming chairmanship of the Detroit Boat Club Women's Committee last month, she's already prepared an outline of DBC's Women's Committee activities for the coming year. Almost all the dates are "finalized," all the individual party-activity chairmen named.

She Cheated a Little

Actually, Ruth "cheated" a little on preparation time for the 1967-68 Calendar of Events. "We have a 40-member Women's Committee at the Boat Club," she explains. "You can be on it two years; then you have to be off at least two years before you can serve again."

"I was vice-chairman last year of her two-year stint, and invariably 'moves up' to the chairmanship during the second year of her two-year stint and we really pulled the Calendar together before I officially became chairman."

Now that kind of "cheating," we'll have to admit, is just good management . . .

Ruth comes by her organizational ability honestly: Her father, member of the University of Michigan faculty in Ann Arbor for more than 50 years, was in charge of classifications at the University, responsible for correlating rooms, courses and instructors, and Ruth used to help him.

"Dad was always very methodical," she recalls. "Perhaps that's why I like to get things down in black and white."

Two Degrees, Romance

Ruth earned her Bachelors and Masters degrees at the University of Michigan—and met Sheldon there, too, when he was studying for his degree in Electrical Engineering (he later went into the family Real Estate business, and finds his Engineering background very helpful in appraisal work).

She taught at Grosse Pointe High School for three years before they were married.

"It (Grosse Pointe High) was a big school even then," she observes, "because six grades, the seventh through the twelfth, were all taught there."

Marriage brought "retirement," (from teaching), and motherhood. Daughter Nancy is married herself now, to Gordon ("Nick") Cameron, Jr., son of the senior Camerons, of Hampton road.

Nick's just out of the Navy; he and Nancy recently moved into a home in Colonial court. He's working at a Detroit bank; she's teaching sixth grade at Poupart School.

Nancy recently distinguished herself, in the eyes of her parents, in-laws and husband, by cooking a magnificent Thanksgiving dinner for the whole family.

Talented Seamstress

Currently, she's busy with her Christmas project: Making all the draperies for her living room. A talented seamstress, she's had a bit of experience in this particular line of work. She made all the draperies for the Drennans' boat, a 36-foot cabin cruiser, "Nan-Ru-Shel, II," ("We had the name picked out long before we got our first boat," Ruth smiles), that sleeps six and is moored all summer long, (except, of course, when it's out on the lake), at the Boat Club.

"I don't do any sewing," Ruth Drennan says, "that's Nancy's field . . ." But it's not difficult to discover where Nancy got her talented hands.

Just about anything except dresses and draperies that clever fingers can create, Ruth's create.

She's worked in the jewelry section for several Grosse Pointe Memorial Church fairs, fashioning tiny, exquisite Christmas tree pins, bug brooches, rings, sitting by the hour with a magnifying glass, tweezers, glue . . .

Good with Flowers

She loves flower arranging. (She was chairman of the Boat Club's Flower Committee a while back), and has made a group of handsome pine cone Christmas wreaths . . .

Last year, for Christmas presents, she created a collection of holiday "pyramid" decorations.

Photography is one of Sheldon's great interests. When the Drennans travel—and they travel whenever they get the chance—Ruth observes, "Sheldon's the camera; I'm always 'carrying' (photographic equipment), an extra camera . . ."

They've made their own Christmas cards, using one of Sheldon's family photographs, (Ruth hand-letters the message) for years. Sheldon used to do the developing himself.

He had a completely equipped darkroom in the Drennans' first Grosse Pointe home in Merriweather road, (they lived there for 15 years, moved to their present home some 13 years ago), and still does a good deal of developing in the Lakecrest lane house basement, but now lets a professional company produce his color Christmas prints.

Well-Traveled Family

The Drennans' most recent trip, this past summer, was to Scandinavia. They visited Norway, Denmark, Sweden . . . "But we didn't get any really good Christmas card-type pictures there," Ruth mourns.

She did, however, find some lovely examples of Swedish glass, several porcelain figures, hand-carved wooden figures . . .

Ruth Drennan is a collector by nature, treasures the things she has "picked up" on her travels. Each brings back a memory.

"I suppose you could say travel is our prime hobby," she muses. "I visited every state in the Union with my family; we did a lot of 'repeats' with Nancy . . . The summer before her senior year in college, we took her to Hawaii for two months, sort of a 'last-time-all-the-family-will-be-together' vacation . . ."

"We went to Europe with a Boat Club group one year; the Club took over two shells and a team for the Henley Races. While the team practiced, we toured Southern Europe . . ."

Presidencies In Family

Presidencies, like teaching (Sheldon's and Ruth's mothers were teachers, Ruth's sister is one, and then there's Nancy: She became engaged to Nick while she was teaching in Denver and he was stationed with the Navy on the East Coast—they flew into town for their engagement party and then flew back to their respective "jobs" several thousand miles apart—and continued teaching in Norfolk, Va., after she and Nick were married, while he was still in the Navy), run in the Drennan family.

Sheldon is a past president of the Boat Club and a past president of the Detroit Real Estate Board.

Ruth has served as President of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women, (it was under her aegis that the Pointe AAUW Branch revived what has successful projects: The Annual Used Book Sale), and president of her P.E.O. group.

Booster for Education

She's still active in both AAUW and P.E.O. work. Her most recent AAUW assignment was as a member of the State Fellowships Committee.

"Both AAUW and P.E.O. are always 'pushing' education," she explains her interest in these organizations. "I feel that's our prime need in the world today: Education . . ."

Of course, when Nancy was growing up, Ruth worked her way through Brownies, Girl Scouts, Y-Teens . . .

She served on the Board of the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' Club, ("That," she recalls, "was just about the biggest job of organizing I was ever involved in—but I got to know a lot of delightful people through the Mothers' Club . . .")

There are many other groups in which she's an active, interested member but of which she says, "I haven't done too much with them . . ."

She belongs to the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries, firmly believes in and supports Goodwill's work of helping people educate, (there's that word again!), themselves to make a living.

Gardens and Music

She's a member of the Grand Marais Garden Club, her Tri Delta Alumnae group, Tuesday Musicians, ("I go to the performances, but I don't play"), Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

She likes working with people, in any capacity. "There are a lot of good organizations," she believes. If every woman does her share, it all helps . . .

She's not afraid of tackling a large job or heading a large committee, but she won't handle more than one major project at a time. "Right now," she says, "I'm putting all Boat Club things first!"

She takes all the help she can get, most gratefully.

"I'm not one to do it all myself," she admits. "I suppose I've been very lucky: I've always found the people I've asked to do things most willing . . . I've found that if you get a good committee, give them the reins, divided up the work, everyone's happy—and everything gets done!

In her capacity as chairman of the Detroit Boat Club Women's Committee, Ruth Drennan's first consideration was to make sure the Committee contained a cross-section of different age, area and interest members.

Among Her "Secrets"

It's one of her "secrets" as an organizer: To bring people with different viewpoints, different attitudes, together, to have them react against each other and to use their reactions in planning activities that will appeal (hopefully!) to everyone.

About 25 dates on the Boat Club's 1967-68 Women's Committee Calendar are "definite." These range from a March bridge luncheon, (theme for this party has already been chosen: it's to be called "Birds and Bees"), through a series of teen activities, (at the Boat Club, teen parties are under the direction of the Women's Committee), to an August 21 "Poolside Luncheon," (something new this year—"We thought," says Ruth, "that since everyone's always 'around' the pool all summer long, we might as well have something around the pool . . ."), and the Club's big Fall Fashion Show, scheduled September 18.

Another New Program

Also "new-this-year" for Boat Club women are the spring and fall Hobby Craft programs. ("The women have indicated they'd be interested in trying something other than flower arranging"), And Ruth and her Committee members are exploring the member-suggested possibility of a lecture series, or a pre-lecture luncheon series . . .

The Committee has scheduled a full, ambitious program for the year ahead. It "reads" like a good one—and we have a hunch it will prove very successful.

After all, Ruth Drennan is its General Director, And Ruth has a gift for accomplishing everything she sets out to accomplish—DESPITE the fact that she APPEARS to be doing so with NO effort at all . . .
