THE STATE OF GEORGIA and the city of Chicago were threatened on Wednesday with legal action by the Nixon Administration if the two did not submit plans for the immediate integration of their schools. Georgia Governor Lester Maddox said that he would rather close down the schools than bow to federal demands. It is the first time that the Justice Department has taken action against an entire state.

THE RUSSIANS announced Sunday that they launched an unmanned Russian Moonshot Luna 15, on Saturday, and that it would make unspecified tests "on-board systems" and would be aimed at "scientific exploration of the moon and the space near the moon." This statement would seem to indicate a try at a "soft landing" on the moon's surface. Unofficially many experts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration think the flight is Russia's long-rumored attempt to land an unmanned 'moon scoop'' machine and bring home the world's first moon samples.

Above us are the far wealthier industrial suburbs. And around us are the weary local taxpayers, whose exasperation may well be caused by federal personality, intelligence, charm spending, but who can say "no" in the voting booth only to Grosse Pointe children. In recent years we have been

Expansion to Include Re-moval of 170 Feet of Island in City; Project Expected to Start in Fall

Proposed plans for the widening of Mack from Harvard to Cadieux roads, in the Park and Detroit, and the elimination of approximately 170 feet of an island extending into the City, from Cadieux, were presented to the Park council on Monday, July 14, by George Zemaian, representing the County Road Commission's Department of Traffic Engineering, presented two plans, the proposed widening of Mack from Harvard to Cadieux, and that of widening of Mack from Somer set to Cadieux.

The estimated cost of the latter plan is $692,000, he pointed out, which will have to be paid for by the county, Park and Detroit, on a 60-40 basis.

we ask that local effort above a State base figure always be ncouraged.

We believe that there should be a gradual decrease in the property tax as the source of local school operational financing, but its retention as the proper source of funding for capital improvement. A good school plant is a valuable community asset and a long-range investment. It should be a fountain of community pride. Its funding, which is long-range in nature, cheaper and less affected by fluctuations in the financial climate than school operation, would be no great burden if the property taxpayer were relieved of a large part of school operation costs.

Since Grosse Pointe is a relatively high valuation district, newal time. we have been forced to look to A study i the goodwill of local taxpayers for around 80 percent of our budget. And believing as we do in local responsibility and lo-cal control, several ideas which follow are submitted in the belief that they would enhance the ability of districts such as ours to solve some of our own financial woes. We suggest that your Comnission recommended enabling legislation for a local school income tax (probably flat rate, possibly optional). All monies local referendum should be retained by the local district.

We would promote a philosophy of increased authority for local Boards of Education to levy taxes for public education without referendum. Legislative precedent for this is already well established.

The State's responsibility for education is clearly to the pub-lic schools. With this constitutional mandate yet unmet with any degree of adequacy, there can be no justification for the consideration of granting tax monies to private schools. While our school system would survive, we question whether those of some cities could withstand the financial and philosophical undermining inherent in such legislation.

We urge legislative changes aimed at improving the quality of instruction and at the prevention of work stoppage. We hope that your Commission will put its prestige behind such re-

Specifically, we support Senate Bill 937, but with an amendment to Section 25 to require (not merely permit) courts to restrain violations; and we would suggest a further amendment to make it unlawful for a Board of Education to pay employes for strike days, plus a limit of perhaps two weeks on making up days lost on strike. Regarding quality of instruction: we have long felt that the Tenure Act is incompatible with the fact that schools exist for the benefit of students. And indeed many teachers' spokesmen are questioning whether the Tenure Act is necessary or ven consistent with the newer employe legislation. It is obvious to us that the right to reward teacher excellence and the power to eliminate inferior teachers are vital factors in the improvement of Michigan's schools. Both areas will require concerted effort at every level of government, extensive citizen involvement and the encouragement of your Commission if results are to be We believe that the tradition-

A study is needed to determine the proper use of industrial property taxes in school financing.

Consideration might well be given to the possible use of assessment of student achievement (once assessing tech-niques are perfected) to determine the proper degree of State pressure toward consolidation.

To eliminate one annual cause of delay in state aid enactment, there is a need for formalized policy on state aid to "receiving" districts in reorganization cases when debt is involved. Senate Bill 22 offers one possible solution.

We appreciate very much the oppportunity to appear before you and hope the case for the residential non-industrial school district has been presented with some clarity.

We have touched upon only two of the areas outlined in Governor Milliken's Charge to this Commission. The Governor's recognition of all facets of the educational problem is apparent in the inclusiveness of his Charge to you.

Although each item merits serious consideration, we feel that because of their magnitude and because both involve legislation, the problems of finance and of quality of instruction must be emphasized at this time. We urge that study of the other five areas be extended beyond the October deadline.

She went to the house earlier in the evening and left the side door open so the other teenagers could gain admittance for the party that evening. The girl denied any knowledge of the suspicious material.

Chief Teetaert and patrolman Lanski returned to the Martin residence and found a package of suspicious material wrapped in foil and a plastic bag. Three other boys were questioned by Chief Testaert on Tuesday, July 15. The trio was driven to the party by one of the boy's mothers but were rushed off by the mother when she observed the police car at the Lincoln residence.

Mr. Minge, who called police, said that the family feft on Friday, July 11, at 1 p.m., and returned on Sunday, July 13, at 9:15 p.m., at which time they discovered the breaking and entering.

Police said that the burglar, or burglars entered the building to NASA's Manned Spacecraft by cutting the wire mesh of the screen door of the porch at the the second stage of the Saturn south side of the house, and then prying the house door open with a screw driver. The thieves entered every room in the house, including the basement.

The master bedroom was completely ransacked, it was said. Missing from the bedroom was an 18-inch black and white television set. Also taken were an unknown amount of half dollars Pointe High School and earned and an antique pocket watch with a 12-inch chain.

A 14-inch color television set was removed from the family room, the Minges informed po-

Boats Are Target Of Thirsty Thief

Farms police are investigating three breaking and entering reports, all involving boats and all occurring at the Farms Pier.

Sometime between Monday, July 7, and Wednesday, July 9, the 31-foot Chris Craft owned by Gilbert Groehn, 274 Lothrop, was entered. A leg was broken off a deck table and used to force entry into the boat's interior. Three fifths of liquor and a case of beer were stolen.

A similar robbery occurred on the 30-foot Chris Craft owned by Gerald Malooly, of 457 McKinley. He showed investigating officers where the intruder had broken into his boat through a sliding window on the port side. A fifth of whisky was missing.

Sometime between the hours of noon on Tuesday, July 8, and 3 p.m. the next afternoon, a boat owned by Joseph Maurer, 361 Belanger, was broken into. Taken was a fifth of liquor and 14 bottles of beer. The thief had gained entry to the vessel by removing the canvas from the rear deck, stepping inside and then kicking open the upper portion of a two-section door.

A little trouble looks like a mountain to the man who is backed up against the wall.

At the Woods, a test drive is a taste drive. When you get behind the wheel of a new Volkswagen, BMW or Mercedes-Benz, you know it's going to ride smoothly, effortlessly...because you already know the reputation of these fine imported automobiles for quality, engineering and craftsmanship. But what you feel when you first drive one is that flush of pride that goes with knowing that you're driving a "classic"...a car created to reflect your own good taste. The captain entered the garage and took out hinge pins from the inside door, and removed the barrier.

'All the officers entered the house for a room-to-room search and found everything in order, including the basement.

Schmaltz went into the master bedroom, where it appeared nothing was touched, yet he seemed to sense that something was not right. As he approached the closet, he glanced up and observed the trap door leading into the attic, and on the floor, he noticed particles of fiberglass insulation.

Quietly Schmaltz left the room and informed the other policemen, then went to the basement and brought up a ladder. Marchand climbed up and flached a light around the attic, but did not see anyone.

Schmaliz climbed through the attic opening and walked on the rafters, looking the area over. Approximately 15 feet, in an area toward the front of the house, the policeman spied a large pile of insulation between the beams, and underneath, what looked like a white pair of trousers. The witness had stated the prowler was wearing white pants.

The patrolman drew his service revolver and told the figure under the pile that if he moved too quickly he would be shot. The man, Dwyer, begged the officer not to shoot, that he was unarmed. Dwyer was adviséd to raise his hands above his head, and he complied.

Lt. Selby entered the attic and assisted in helping Dwyer through the opening and into the hands of the other policemen in the room.

When the officers left the house, they left a note for the owner, Henry V. Denolf, explaining the circumstance, and requesting that he get in touch with the authorities.

At the station, Dwyer was searched and on his person police found a number of coins, including a coll of half dollars, but it was not misclosed if he half taken the money from the Denolf residence:

Under questioning, Dwyer as-serted that he had no home, and that his last home was in Grand Rapids. He said that he was "more or less bumming around."

What Goes On Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries

With the completion of the Public Library's 40th year of some of the year's highlights.

A year and a half after defeat of the Public Library Expansion Program, the need continues to grow as the cost. of the Program skyrockets, but the Staff is making the most of the main reading rooms so that all of our limited book collection is easily available. The Processing Department has been moved to the second floor area at Central, and the Audio-Visual Department is now in the former Processing room, behind the Charging Desk. These moves utilize every foot of floor space available, but take all of our storage space, as well as requiring constant climbing of the long, long stairway to reach Processing. I will be happy to give a personally conducted tour to all interested

While the past year showed a slight decline in use of the Public Libraries, especially in circulation of books and in registered users, it is encouraging to report that use of non-book materials increased, and Public Library and Friends sponsored Program were well attended. Although childrens circulation has fallen off, Grosse Pointe boys and girls continue to make substantial use of all three Public Libraries, and to participate in the extensive programs spon-sored by our Children's Depart-ment. Their Board of Directors held eight regular monthly meetings, serving as an Advisory Board which supplemented the Board of Education, the Public Library's Official Board. Two public meetings were held, in addition to the Annual Dinner Meeting at the War Memorial.

The Friends co-sponsored five Great Books Discussion Groups as well as the monthly Friends Film Forum. In addition, the Junior League contributed $116 through the Friends for purchase of special books. Many local organizations and

Spanish Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Miguel Diez, of Madrid, and their two children, Miguel and Marisina, are here for a threeweeks' visit with Mrs. Diez' mother, Mrs. Harold Davis, of Harcourt road.

They arrived Sunday and plan to divide their time between The Pointe and Ann Arbor where Mrs. Diez' sister, Mrs. Hazen Schumacher, and her family make a Miss and returned a Mrs. It took her two trips though: Her first Spanish sojourn was as a member of a Smith College Junior Year Abroad Group.

Sherry fell in love with Iberia—so much so that she returned there at the first opportunity, working for the United States Air Force . . . And it so happened that Miguel Diez was the Spanish advisor to the United States Forces on the Base to which Sherry was assigned . .

This isn't Sherry's first trip back to The States since her marriage in Spain 10 years ago.

She and Miguel spant two years in New York while he studied on a Fulbright Scholarship.

And Mrs. Davis is no stranger to her Spanish grandchildren: She heads for Madrid usually once, sometimes twice, a year.

Happy 75th, Mr. Roney!

When they were planning Edward C. Roney's 75th bands and wives, (where applicable: Sister Rosemary Roney R.S.C.J., needless to say, is not married), decided down to her husband: "Walter, don't you know it's 11 there was only one way to handle the Grandchildren o'clock at night? . . . 11:30? . . . 12? . . .

So, because this was to be an adult party, they decreed that those of Mr. Roney's 36 grandchildren who a day (night?).

Mr. Faust will decide to call it a day (night?).

The Albrechts live in Roney's 11, and Sandy, 9. are high school age and over could come-and the Younger Set would just have to sit this one out.

Still there were plenty of Roneys and Roney descen-dants on hand to wish Father-Grandfather a "Happy Walter F 75th" at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Sunday afternoon. And there were plenty of friends, some 80 of them,

Most of the party-planning, including the collection and disposition on the Yacht Club walls of a dozen Guest-of-Honor "blow-ups," (Mr. Roney as an Army Sergeant during World War I, complete with handlebar mustache . . . as a Law School graduate . . . on his 25th wedding anniversary, with Mrs. Roney, coming out of church . . .), was, of necessity, done by Pointe-based members of the Roney clan: The Edward C. Roneys, Jr., Daniel J. Tindalls, Jr., Robert L. Thibodéaus, Thomas

J. Roneys and Robert F. Roneys.

But they received COMPLETE long-distance cooperation from the out-of-town Roney contingent, all of whom came to town for the party, (nothing short of a natural disaster could have PREVENTED them from coming!)

Here from their home in Phoenix, Ariz., were the David T. Roneys. Sister Roney came from Washington, D.C. and the James P. Byrnes from Winnetka, Ill.

It was, in short, a grand, gay gathering of old good friends and all the clan.

And it's been recorded for posterity via an album of Polaroid candids, taken during the afternoon and presented to Mr. Roney, Sr., at the end of the party.

Walter Faust, retired two years ago—although he's still chairman of the Board of Keystone Machine and Tool Company, the business he founded and served as president of until his retirement-has found his avocation.

He's a clockmaker, a master clockmaker, creator - from scratch—of grandfather clocks, repairer and restorer of antique shelf clocks, wooden clocks, any clocks at all . . . as .long as they interest him.

Pendulum Ones Best Mostly, the clocks that interest him are older clocks. Invariably, they're pendulum clocks, the ones that work by weights.

"The pendulum clock," explains, "is the most intricate of all clocks. Its weight must be perfectly balanced . . . It's a whole lot different from a spring-wound clock . . .

By now, Mr. Faust's so well known at his favorite lumberyards that he goes right in and helps himself, picking out materials and paying for them at the counter. He knows just what to look for, where to look.

And Louise Faust, whose part it was to sit in the car while Walter conducted his early searches through the thenunknown lumberyards of lower Michigan, doesn't mind the minimization of this automobile waiting time. The Fausts built their home in Lakepointe avenue in 1938, when "you could count the cars that went down the street (Lakepointe) in one day."

All GPHS Graduates Their three children were brought up here and all were graduated from Grosse Pointe High School.

Eldest daughter Barbara (Mrs. Keith) Counsell, after 14 years of marriage and three children, Michele, 13, Mark, 9, and Melinda, 7, decided to go hack to school and get a Masters degree.

Bobbie, who swore she'd never teach-she was more interested in the glamorous life, and spent three-and-a-half years before she was married at the American Embassy in Bonn, Germany - is now substituting in schools near the Counsell home

Walter's first three clocks went to his son and daughter-inlaw, his daughters and their husbands, his fourth to Louise. The clocks were distributed via a unique system.

"At Christmas time," he explains, "the 'outlaws' - that's what we call them-were all here and I took out a deck of cards and told them to cut for high card. I didn't tell them what they were cutting for."

High card was, of course, Clock Number One, second high Clock Number Two, third high Clock Number Three. Number Four went automatically to Louise-but not because she's unlucky. Louise didn't pick a
