Pass Emergency Ordinance Gives Opinion

(Continued from Page 1) then authorizes the complaint and warrant, and then and only then, does the matter come up for trial. This involves an unnecessary amount of local police time. However, if the city has an existing ordinance the violation can be handled immediately and the monies from the fine reverts to the city rather than the state.

Included among the changes and additions are sections making it illegal to erect or maintain any electric fence or any barbed wire fence to be used as a guard to parking lots, stairways, entrances to buildings or parcels of land except as authorized in writing by the public safety director as essential for the protection of persons or property. It is also illegal to break and enter coin boxes, (this was of particular interest to the NEWS since we've been plagued by vandalism of our newspaper coin boxes), and not making payment for articles or merchandise or services; to possess or attempt to use any credit card or credit identification belonging to another person without permission; to hide knowledge of commission of any offense or conceal knowledge of unlawful act as defined in the code.

Much needed additions and clarifications regarding firearms are also included in the ordinance. It makes it unlawful for anyone except police officers to discharge without injury to any person, any firearm, air rifle, air pistol or bow and arrow intentionally, without malice, aiming at or toward anyone; for any person under the influence of liquor or drugs to carry, possess or control or discharge any firearm, air pistol or bow and arrow; to transport firearms unless they are unloaded and placed in the luggage compartment of the vehicle; to carry a loaded firearm on a public street. These firearm sections are patterned after a section in the City of Detroit code. Several sections of the ordinance were included to deal particularly with teenage abuses. They include prohibiting and carrying of knives and the like; making it illegal for any person not authorized by Michigan State Law to sell, attempt to sell, barter, give away or dispense to any person narcotic or dangerous drug substances; making it illegal to squeal or screech tires; make unnecessary noise with same; makes the sniffing of glue illegal, and prohibits making obscene and harassing phone calls. This too has been a major complaint in the area.

A section dealing with restaurants has been added which should please diners who have been faced with speedway type conditions in local restaurant parking lots. It is now illegal to drive a car on the premises of a restaurant then exit without first parking the car, or seeking service, unless there is no parking space available. Cruising through parking areas and loitering on the premises or in the lot are now unlawful. (Restaurant owners will be asked to post signs indicating this.)

Another section makes it illegal for anyone on restaurant premises, whether in or out of an auto, to drink any intoxicating liquor or to have in his possession any open bottle. It will also be unlawful for any number of persons to congregate for any time whatsoever at any location on the premises of restaurants other than in the building. Any persons so congregating will be guilty of loitering.

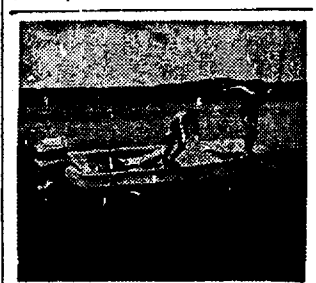

The Woods has had considerable problems in this area and many residents have indicated displeasure over having to wade through a sea of teenagers when visiting local restaurants.

The ordinance was passed as an emergency ordinance and becomes effective when posted.

(Continued from Page 1) useful in such fashion, or if they could be so utilized and their use abandoned or their construction modified at the direction of the Director of Public Safety, the permit will issue.

"The second instance wherein the permit may be denied may be found in section 7 of the ordinance wherein the Director of Public Safety is granted the right to deny a permit if in his judgment the prevailing conditions would pose a serious threat of immediate disturbance of the public safety and harm to the public safety. This judgment, if ever exercised, is reviewable by court order within a short period of time.

"It is therefore my conclusion that the recently enacted ordinance under consideration varies in a substantial degree from the ordinance in the Birmingham case and should, if applied in accordance with its terms, be constitutional."

RETAIL SALES GAIN

Retail sales in Detroit were up two percent for the first half of 1969, while the tri-county metropolitan area recorded a nine percent gain over the first half of last year. The median figures were released by the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, which conducts a monthly survey of a cross-section of retailers through its Retail Merchants Association.

Woods Buying New $11,906 Communication System

The Grosse Pointe Woods Public Safety Department will have the most up-to-date communication system in the five Pointes and Harper Woods according to Chester Petersen, city administrator.

At the regular council meeting on Monday, August 4, the Council awarded the contract to the General Electric Company, the lowest bidder at $11,906. The money for the system was already included in the capitol improvement budget.

The new system, which is slated for completion by the end of this year or the early part of next, is a flexible unit so it can be expanded to fit future needs.

The present control unit is composed of many individual boxes which include various alarm panels, the public address system etc. This new system will combine all the controls and make them readily accessible to the dispatchers.

The present system includes the police, fire and local government radio; the new arrangement adds an inter-city radio system, which gives the Woods direct radio contact with all surrounding police departments.

This is vital when crimes such as bank holdups and chases are in progress, because it permits broadcasting across boundaries which are not presently covered by a radio system.

Also incorporated in this console will be a monitoring panel for monitoring surrounding police and fire departments including Detroit's east side, Detroit Fire Department, Macomb County Fire, and St. Clair Shores Police. This type of monitoring is invaluable during times of state emergencies, as in the summer of 1967, because it keeps local departments appraised of what is happening in neighboring areas.

The new system will have the building's public address system and alarm panels, (from schools and local places of business) incorporated in one panel with a tone radio system to alert fire departments during requests for mutual aid runs.

The center panel unit is the basic radio control for all four radio systems. The right panel contains the tone and coding systems and is used to alert off-duty firemen if the department needs more manpower during an emergency. The system has two complete dispatch positions.

This communication control

Halt Pickets

demonstrated in front of a number of Pointe supermarkets.

After observing the illegal picket line at the store, the officers asked the pair to leave the area and advised them of the new ordinance.

When the two men failed to heed the police advice and continued to picket the store, they were placed under arrest and taken to the Woods police station, where they were issued a ticket for violation of the ordinance.

The new ordinance allows the Woods to provide for the orderly regulation of public demonstrations, parades and picketing within the community and makes it a requirement to obtain a permit of approval from the city at least 24 hours in advance of any planned demonstration.

Gave No Trouble
"The law is clear," said Kensora. "They had not gained approval from the city to picket and we were forced to arrest them. Actually, they gave us no trouble and told us they wanted to be arrested in order to test the legality of the ordinance."

More than 35 pickets had gathered at the same store on Sunday, July 28, to test the law, but their hopes were dashed, when police informed them they would not be arrested at that time because they had not had adequate time to apply for a permit.

Scuffs at Police
During the July 28 picket, Tom McGraw, leader of the boycotting group, had attempted to bait Woods Police by shouting to the small crowd of spectators that the "police cannot even enforce the laws of their own community." The police stood by untruffled.

The pair were slated to appear before Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow on Wednesday, August 6, on charges of violating a city ordinance.

If convicted of the charge, a misdemeanor, both could receive a maximum fine of $500 and 90 days in jail.

Center Benefit Offers 'Oliver'

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will be host at its own party Friday and Saturday, August 15 and 16, when the Buskin Players will present "Oliver" in a special two-day benefit performance at Fries Auditorium.

"Oliver" has been acclaimed as one of the outstanding new shows of the year, and the Buskin Players' performance is eagerly awaited by the many loyal fans who have seen them in their previous appearances here.

Theater patrons attending either of these two performances of "Oliver" in the beautiful air conditioned auditorium will enjoy an evening of unsurpassed entertainment and deserve an extra bonus in knowing that they are helping support the War Memorial Center, whose many community services make it a focal point for all ages. All profits from the two evenings of "Oliver" will be for the benefit of the War Memorial Center.

Theater parties are welcomed, and tickets at $5 each are available at the War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore road, or by mail from "Oliver" Benefit, 319 Touraine road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., 48236.

PLAN BLOCK PARTY

The Woods Council on Monday, August 4, granted the residents of Beaufait avenue permission to resurrect the block party. The Council agreed to suspend vehicle traffic on Beaufait from Helen to the western city limits, a distance of about eight houses, for the special event. A date for the party has not been set.

Offers Teens Wide Choice of Programs

are so over-loaded that they know they can get away with a lot of things these days," he said.

Both Blair and Parsons claim that police begin to lose the respect of children after they start to attend junior high school.

"When they get out of grammar school, they are with us 100 percent," said Parsons. "But, by the time they enter junior high school, they come under the influence of older kids and some bad propaganda and, although they would like to support us, they feel it just isn't the thing to do."

Lack of Manpower
"Counseling and more vigilant enforcement of the law are the two vehicles we use to get through to teens in trouble," said Lt. Robert Van Tiem, an 18-year veteran of the City police department. "It is more difficult for a smaller department like ours to attempt any large-scale programs because of the lack of manpower."

"We have found that August usually brings a lot more teenage trouble because kids are winding up their vacations and are at wits end by that time," Van Tiem noted. "We attempt to keep them busy and show them the errors of their ways, if they get into trouble with the law."

After reviewing a school-police program adopted 11 years ago in Flint, the Grosse Pointe Woods police established a school liaison officer program in its area of responsibility, which has produced results.

Improves Relations
"The program is designed to better the relationship between the schools and the police," said Donald B. Coats, director of Public Safety for the Woods. "The liaison officer serves in the role of a counselor."

The program, which has been in effect for one year, has been met with enthusiasm by school officials, police and the students.

"Although we don't know how you can measure prevention, the program is a success so far," claim the Woods police.

The department hopes to broaden the scope of the program in the near future, because the officers feel it is an effective avenue for communication, according to Coats, who praised the school officials for their whole-hearted cooperation. The Woods police feel the program is a "must" because they estimate that well over 50 percent of all their crime is committed by young persons.

Shores Juvenile Officers Sgt. Don Jacobs and Det. Frank Mustazza have put a real dent in the teenage problem in their community.

System Takes Time
"Frank places these young offenders on probation, making them report directly to him each week," said Jacobs. "He has been successful in getting them to raise their school marks and establishing better rapport with their parents. It really works, but Frank has to work many long hours to keep the system going."

One of the finest methods of tackling teenage crime is to keep the youngsters busy at those activities which they like, according to the Pointe's city officials.

Although the Neighborhood Club, which has been active in providing myriad programs for youngsters since 1911, and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, which offers hundreds of teen-oriented activities, have been bulwarks in interesting, entertaining and helping youngsters, each of the five Pointe communities and the schools have also been busy.

Keep Facilities in Use
"We try to make facilities easily available for any wholesome, worthwhile activity," claimed Thomas Kressbach, city manager for the City. "Our basic response in combatting teenage crime is the provision of recreational facilities."

"We place most of our emphasis on the summer months, when the kids are out of school, but the programs are conducted on a year-round basis, he said.

"The City operates a recreational program at the George Elworthy field and maintains a summer recreational program at Neff Memorial Park, where Tom Gaupke and his staff are teaching swimming," said Kressbach.

Robert Slone, Park City manager, claims his community is making an all-out effort to keep the youngsters of the city occupied.

"We have a full-time recreation director, Don Guinan, who works round the clock in many areas," Slone pointed out. "He even uses the school gymnasiums in the winter months. More than 1,000 youngsters went through the Park swimming classes this year."

Year-Round Program
Shores City Manager Thomas Jefferis said his community conducts a comprehensive recreational program all through the year.

"Although we have learned that you cannot regiment youngsters, we try to offer those activities which experience has shown they enjoy," Jefferis related. "In addition to our regular municipal park summer program, we also operate the Ski Hill in the winter and even make artificial snow for the kids."

"One of the finest things we can do is to set a good example for the younger persons of the community," said Jefferis. Perhaps, that is as important as providing them with entertainment."

Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer outlined the recreational programs at both the Farms Pier and at Kerby Field.

"We do as much as we possibly can to please the children and their parents," said Bremer. "We feel strongly that our activities program is strong and solid. It reaches children of all age levels and offers a wide variety of activities."

Program in Woods
Chester Peterson, Woods city manager, lauded his community's recreational areas and talked about a summer employment program in the Woods.

"For the past two summers we have made a real effort to try to employ as many high school and college students as possible," he said. "We make jobs available at the city park and with the Public Works Department. We have experienced a better than 50 percent expansion in the usage of youth workers with the city."

"The Woods feels that most youngsters will work, if they are offered the opportunity," he said. "These kids really do a good job, when their energies are channeled in the right direction."

A Woods city official claimed that, although he thinks the Pointe offers excellent teen-tion—it's a waste of time to back up and start over again.

CLIMBERS CAUGHT
Two juveniles were caught attempting to climb up onto the roof of 12 Elmsleigh court on Friday, August 1 by City police. They were using a step-ladder in their attempt. Prior to climbing the roof the duo had entered the residence through the milk chute. They were taken to the station and released to their parents after having been put on unofficial probation to the police department.

oriented facilities, not enough is being done in some important areas.

"What these kids really need is a place to call their own," he said. "A place where they can play billiards, ping-pong and even bowl. They could even elect their own board of directors."

Schools Have Program
The Grosse Pointe Public School System has spent a great deal of time and effort in establishing a summer program in the elementary, middle and senior high school areas and a well-rounded recreational summer program.

"The summer school program offers education in the arts and crafts, sciences, languages, music, reading, spelling, home-economics and college preparatory courses," said George Eddington, assistant to the Superintendent.

Special education classes, activity programs for trainable retarded children and a summer basketball program, headed by Chuck Hollosy, head coach at Grosse Pointe South High School, are also offered by the Schools.

In addition to all these efforts, the Central branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library offers a special summer film program and has established a book club, which meets every Tuesday.

Churches Contribute
Churches also make a solid contribution to the teen crime fight by providing spiritual guidance and organizing active teen clubs.

Church-sponsored athletic leagues, Bible schools, and planned teen activities are an important part of the programs of all Pointe churches.

Perhaps, that group which makes the greatest impact on teenagers is their parents. To them falls the hardest task. They must continually advise, counsel, comfort and care for their children. They must sacrifice time and money in many cases in order to make sure their children get ahead.

It is the Pointe parents who shoulder the burden of the responsibility for preventing teenage defiance of the law.

Unfortunately, some Pointe parents have fallen down on the job. Their kids are in trouble and the police are busy.

Theater Nights Set by Institute

Trombley Takes Course on Drugs

Detective Martin E. Trombley of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police recently completed a two-week course in narcotics and drug law enforcement in Detroit. He was one of 100 to graduate from the special training school conducted by the Department of Justice's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. The Bureau was created last year when the former Bureau of Narcotics and Bureau of Drug Abuse Control were merged and placed under the Justice Department. The Bureau is responsible for enforcing existing Federal narcotics and dangerous drug laws and aiding State and local law enforcement agencies in cracking down on illegal drug trade as well as spearheading education aimed at reducing use of narcotics and the abuse of drugs.

While at the Training School Det. Trombley learned the latest methods used to control narcotics and dangerous drug abuse. The highly specialized instruction included lectures, seminars, and discussions on such subjects as: identification of various narcotics, stimulants, depressants, and hallucinogenic drugs and their effects; methods of curbing illicit drug and narcotic traffic; and techniques of investigation for suspected violations.

The Training School, as part of the Bureau's overall program, emphasizes the need for continued cooperation between the Federal, State and local enforcement agencies in the struggle to end drug abuse and narcotic addiction.

Tennis Courts Dedicated

CLEVELAND THURBER, JR., left, presented a check to Farms Mayor WILLIAM BUTLER, on behalf of the Roland Gray Youth Fund, for construction costs of the four new tennis courts, which were dedicated to the memory of the late Roland Gray. SHEPHERD E. NORTON, Roland Gray Youth Fund secretary, and FR. LEONARD WALLACE, assistant pastor of St. Paul's-On-The-Lakeshore, smile their appreciation of the occasion.

Open for little more than a week, the four new tennis courts have been receiving heavy play since the first netters stepped on their green surfaces shortly after the impressive dedication ceremonies.

The $19,300 courts are dedicated to the memory of the late Roland H. Gray, a longtime Grosse Pointe sports figure, who operated Gray's Sport Shop, at 106 Kercheval, for nearly 20 years and was the Country Club of Detroit tennis pro from 1929 to 1947.

A check for $12,000 from the Roland Gray Youth Fund, created shortly after his death in 1965, was presented to Mayor Butler. The city is paying for the balance of the costs.

"It is fitting that the tennis courts be located at the Farms Pier because this was Roland's first love," said Norton, in speaking of Gray, who sponsored and supported school and summertime athletic activities for thousands of youths for years throughout the Pointes. "He lived in the Farms and it was his place of business."

Norton pointed out that the Roland Gray Youth Fund was recently put to use to furnish the senior lounge at the Neighborhood Club and annually sponsors the Roland Gray Tennis Tournament at the Club. "We also help sponsor the Babe Ruth League summer baseball program and are presently planning a recreational program for the Woods and Shores, plans of which are still on the drawing board," said Norton.

Ed Lauer, director of the Farms Pier, said that tennis lessons are available daily on the new courts and that numerous tournaments are scheduled for the future.

Breaks The Law On Stolen Bike

While on routine patrol on Monday, July 21, officer Edward Miller of the City of Grosse Pointe Police Department, observed a juvenile boy riding a mini-bike on the sidewalk in front of his Rivard residence. He informed the youth that it was illegal to operate a mini-bike on the streets and sidewalks of the city.

The boy told the officer that he had just purchased the vehicle and would abide by the law in the future and only ride it in his backyard.

Upon returning to the station Miller was informed that a radio report had been issued regarding the theft of a mini-bike belonging to Erwin Schmiel, 281 University, from his garage the previous night.

Miller returned to Rivard and questioned the 14-year-old, who said the mini-bike was locked in his garage at the rear of the house. Both fenders had been removed.

The boy was arrested and turned over to Juvenile authorities. The mini-bike, valued at $225 was returned to its owner.

Hit-Run Driver Nabbed in Farms

Farms police arrested a 26-year-old Mount Clemens man on Thursday, July 31, after charging him with two violations of the traffic code.

Alan Lee Busselman, of 19430 Stafford, Mount Clemens, was charged with hit-run (leaving the scene of an accident) and reckless driving, according to Sgt. Eugene Boylan, of the Farms Police Department.

Boylan said that the driver of a 1968 Chrysler struck a parked car in front of 370 McMillan during the early morning hours of July 31, according to statements taken from a witness of the accident.

The witness told police the driver of the car, dressed in blue jeans and a yellow t-shirt, got out of his vehicle, surveyed the damage to the parked car, and hastily left the scene.

Shortly after police received the report, Farms Patrolmen Thomas Kelly and Joe Belanger observed a car, matching the description of the hit-run vehicle, driving in an erratic manner on Grosse Pointe boulevard.

After pulling the driver over to the curb at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Kerby road, the officers ascertained that the man matched the description given by the witness in the hit-run case. They warned him of his rights and placed him under arrest.

Busselman was released on $50 personal bond.

Juveniles Face Double Trouble

The alertness and prompt action of local citizens led to the apprehension of two juveniles in possession of a stolen car, Friday, August 2, by City police.

On that date police were informed by a St. Clair avenue resident that a suspicious car was parked at the rear of the vacant O'Leary Cadillac building, 17153 East Jefferson.

City Police Chief Andrew C. Teetaert went immediately to the scene and checked out the vehicle. He found it to be one that had been stolen from The Country Club of Detroit on that date. The vehicle belonged to Mrs. Shirley Jean Reed, 448 Lincoln.

Witnesses gave police a description of the two juveniles. Later the same day the youths were spotted in their own car sitting in terrace apartments on St. Clair. Chief Teetaert and Officer Edmund Benthuis were immediately notified by a female resident, who pointed out the youths' vehicle to officers. They pursued the pair and stopped them on Maumee and Ward.

One of the boys had several "marijuana butts" in a gum wrapper in his pocket. Both were charged with possession of a stolen car. The one was charged with possession of marijuana as well. They were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Carrier's round condensing unit goes into hiding every year. The round one sends the hot air up, not out to the sides like the square units.

Shrubs can grow up around it. You can forget it.

Chef's Beef Wellington is on our flights to the West Coast.

Send your compliments to the chef too.

The only difference between eating in one of the great dining houses of Europe and eating on our new Chef's Gourmet Flight is 35,000 feet straight up.

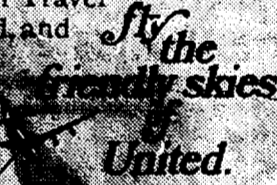

The reason? Our staff of European-trained chefs thought the whole thing up.

No more miniature bottles, but cocktails mixed the way you like them from full-size bottles. An elegant appetizer of Glazed Chinook Salmon, Famed Caesar Salad, and Chef Schwarzer's Beef Wellington, whole tenderloin wrapped in tender pastry. Austrian pastries. Liqueurs and wines. That's our First Class menu.

And the service is as impeccable as the food. One of our chefs will actually be aboard selected flights. Any suggestions? You can chat with him about it.

The Chef's Gourmet—another way United Air Lines invites you to "Come fly with me."

Just call your Travel Agent or United and say the magic words: "Chef's Gourmet."

Hold Services
At Hospitals

Dedicated laymen from Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and the Second Baptist Church of Detroit have been escorting hospital patients to worship services at Detroit General and Herman Kiefer Hospitals under the direction of the Rev. Merrel P. Booker, new Chaplain at Detroit General under the auspices of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Each Sunday churches are asked to engage the services of people who would like to provide this help for hospitalized patients who feel the need of a worship service. The hospital staff as well as churchmen are aware of the role faith can play in healing and in facing death.

Rev. Booker, certified to supervise and teach theological students, plans a lay training program for those who want to help in visiting the sick, an in-service counseling training program for ministers, a full-time training program for seminarians and regular Sunday morning worship services at Detroit General and Herman Kiefer.

In order to reach patients confined to the hospital's prison ward, the Chaplain would like to record the worship services on tape to play back to the patient-inmates who desire to worship. To meet this need, Rev. Booker hopes to raise $100 for the purchase of a Sony Cassette Recorder.

Concerned laymen interested in assisting with the Chaplaincy program may contact William Morse at 885-9206.

PRICE TAG

The age-old offer of something for nothing is a smoke-screen—it's a good time to figure the price will be too high.

Arrest Follows
80 mph Chase

A high-speed chase last week on Lakeshore road by Grosse Pointe Shores police, resulted in the arrest of a Grosse Isle man, wanted in Lincoln Park for a felony.

Patrolman Bruce Darlington arrested 23-year-old William J. Cunningham, of 9264 Whitall lane, Grosse Isle, Thursday, July 30, after chasing his speeding vehicle at speeds in excess of 80 miles per hour through heavy traffic. He was charged with possession of a stolen vehicle.

Darlington stopped Cunningham at Lakeshore and Whitcomb, where he asked him for his driver's license and vehicle registration.

Cunningham produced his license, but said he was unable to show the officer the vehicle registration because he had borrowed the car from a friend to go to Metropolitan Beach.

After telling Cunningham to check for the car's registration in the glove box, Darlington radioed the Shores Police station and requested a check on the suspect's car.

Cpl. James Jurcak informed Darlington that the car had been reported stolen in Lincoln Park by that community's law enforcement agency by means of the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN).

At this time, Darlington asked for assistance from Grosse Pointe Farms police and Farms Patrolmen Samuel Cardella and Gordon Evans arrived at the scene.

After informing him of his rights, Darlington placed Cunningham in handcuffs and escorted him to the Shores Police station, from which he was later transferred to the Wayne County Jail.

Vehicle Stripped
To Tune of $500

Patrick G. Ballew reported to Farms police on Wednesday, July 30, that thieves had stripped his car nearly down to the frame, while he was visiting a friend.

Ballew, of 1145 Elford court, reported to Sgt. Alfred Martin, of the Farms police, that he left his 1969 Camaro parked at the curb in front of a residence at 488 Bournemouth around 10 p.m., on July 30.

When he returned to his vehicle four hours later, he found all four wheels, tires and radiator cap missing.

Further investigation revealed in addition to these items, also stolen from the car were the air filter, chrome-plated accelerator pedal, head rests, radio knobs and tachometer.

Police estimated the value of the stolen articles at around $500.

Lochmoor Club Golfer Wins 1969 Invitational

Lochmoor Golfer Don Dykstra wrapped his birthday present up with a 30-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole Sunday, August 3, clinching the 1969 Lochmoor Club Invitational Championship.

"My birthday was last week," said Dykstra, after his putt gave him and his partner, Glenn Johnson, of the Detroit Golf Club a 2-1 victory over Dr. Walter Promack, another Lochmoor member, and 21-year-old John Grace, a University of Houston golfer from the Country Club of Detroit.

"We were originally scheduled to battle Dr. Promack and Grace on my birthday, but the rains came and we were forced to delay the 1969 finals for one week," smiled Dykstra. "I'm not complaining about it at all."

Although Dykstra's second birdie putt of the day was the decisive shot of the best-ball match, his partner's spectacular pitch shot on the par three 16th hole was the real key shot in the match and a real thriller.

Lying in deep grass 30 yards from the green with a trap to shoot over and only 15 feet of green to the pin, Johnson used a sand wedge and a full shot to set the ball on the green only five feet from the pin.

After both Dr. Promack and Grace failed in their tries for a birdie putt, Johnson holed the five-footer for a par to maintain the one-up advantage and set the scene for Dykstra's clincher on number 17.

Both groups will be entertained and briefed at the same time. Those who have not picked up their final itineraries and flight bags will also receive them at this time.

Then it's on to Athens by air and trips around the Greek mainland and Peloponnes before boarding ship in Piraeus for a full week's cruise to Crete, Rhodes, Mykenos, Delos, Santorini, Asia Minor and through the Dardenelles and Bosphorus to Istanbul. The travelers will return in mid September.

Nab Teen Trio In Stolen Car

Woods Patrolman Theodore Hinz, while searching the area around North Rosedale for possible suspects in a reported breaking and entering on Sunday, July 13, was credited with the arrest of three 14-year-old Livonia boys riding in a stolen car.

Hinz said that he was cruising around the vicinity where the burglary had been reported, when he observed the car traveling south on Morningside road, and a driver who appeared to be extremely young looking to be operating a motor vehicle. One of the two passengers in the vehicle, seemed to be crouching down to avoid detection, the policeman said.

The patrolman said that he took down the license plate number of the auto, after the driver drove onto the driveway of 652 Moorland. Hinz said he continued to Canterbury, then turned around to keep an eye on the car and its occupants. The officer asked for a check on the car.

He said he saw the youthful driver get out of the vehicle, then re-enter it, and drive away. The driver drove south on Morningside, then east on Woods lane. At about this time, Hinz received a radio message that the automobile had been reported stolen in Livonia.

The driver and his companions were stopped at Woods lane and Van K, and placed under arrest. The trio was taken to the station, where the boy who had been behind the wheel, confessed that he alone was responsible for the car theft.

The auto, a 1962 Buick, white and gray, was reported as stolen by Gerald H. Boyd of 17241 Rougeway, Livonia, from the front of his house.

The three teenage youths were released to Livonia authorities and Boyd arrived in the Woods to pick up his property.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Margaret Burns

Pink and blue invitations bidding prospective participants to soar Up, Up and Away with Tennis and Crumpets 1969 go in the mail this weekend.

The annual athletic benefit for Children's Hospital is a "young" project, celebrating its third birthday this fall—but it's a mighty healthy, glowing, growing youngster.

Mrs. David S. Summers, of Whittier road, is president of the Tennis and Crumpets organization. Mrs. William W. Cunningham, of Cloverly road, is benefit chairman.

Mrs. Walter B. Ford, II, of Provencal road, is honorary chairman . . . and we can think of no better way to let those who may not know exactly what Tennis and Crumpets IS just what the project is all about than to quote from Dodie Ford's early summer patron letter . . .

"Tennis and Crumpets is an organization started three years ago by a group of enthusiastic tennis players anxious to direct some of their energy to the good of the community.

"Realistically, we started in a small way, and pledged ourselves to providing a playroom for the new Children's Hospital at a cost of $20,000. In providing a two weekend Round Robin tournament in the month of September, followed by a dinner dance, we have been able to raise thus far some $10,000 towards our goal. Last year we had 350 entries in the tournament and a highly successful party on the eve of the final day.

"As we progressed, we found that we were promoting tennis, by opening the tournament to beginners as well as more experienced players, all of whom wished to participate in helping our cause. Thus it was that we decided to incorporate in the fall of 1968 with the express purpose of completing our commitment to the proposed new Children's Hospital" . . .

This year's Tournament dates are Saturday and Sunday, September 13 and 14, for the Mixed Doubles, and Saturday, September 20, for the Tennis Finals and Exhibition Match.

The Mixed Doubles are played all over town, on private and club courts, by all sorts of players, from "which-end-of-the-racket-do-I-hit-the-ball-with?" tyros to local professional caliber netters.

Participants are matched according to ability, of course, so the tyros can flub happily all over their courts while the pro-calibers settle down to serious playing.

The Women's Committee of the Grosse Pointe Symphony has scheduled a benefit luncheon and fashion show at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Friday, September 5. Designer originals, maxi-coats, furs, casual, daytime, cocktail and formal costumes for fall and winter will be presented by Bonwit Teller.

Profits go, of course, to the Pointe's own symphony which provides so much pleasure for local lovers of classical music.

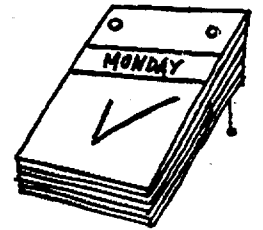

The Women's Committee thoughtfully decided on this early September date in order to give Pointers a panoramic early-bird view of the "in" fashions for the busy social and volunteer season ahead.

Mrs. J. C. Hurley and Mrs. Richard H. Campbell are general co-chairmen of the event. Other committee heads are Mrs. Winfield S. Jewell, Jr., patronesses; Mrs. Clarence J. Williams and Mrs. Edward H. Fromm, reservations; Mrs. Joseph J. Marshall, publicity; Mrs. George A. Kappas, prizes; Mrs. Dwight M. Nelson, Jr., prizes; Mrs. William H. Bundesen, decorations; Mrs. Albert Law and Mrs. Elden C. Baumgarten, ways and means; and Mrs. Rudy Speersneider, invitations.

Others working on the project are Mrs. Norman A. Bolz, Mrs. Harvey A. Fischer, Mrs. Joseph H. Ryall, Mrs. Francis M. Dewey, Mrs. C. H. Koebbe, Mrs. John W. Nelson, Mrs. Angus MacLeod, Mrs. Carl M. Weideman, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Roger C. Hubbard, Mrs. John J. Devers, Mrs. Lewis L. Smart, Jr., Mrs. Leo J. Schulte, Mrs. Bernard Whitley, Mrs. William Cressman, Mrs. Harry Hauschild and Mrs. Frank S. Perkin.

Luncheon will be in the Fries building at noon; the fashion show will be held in the auditorium. Tickets are $5.

This is a nice quiet day.

A lovely day to change the color of your hair. Or have a permanent. Or a straightening. Or that nice long scalp treatment you've been postponing too long. Most especially, Monday (Tuesday too) is a lovely day to look into the whole thing of wigs, falls, etc. We're more leisurely then. We have time to talk out whatever problems you may have and work out prettifying solutions. Don't misunderstand. We love having you any day of the week. We just love doing big things for you when things aren't so buzz-buzz-buzz.

Nina Kneisel Speaks Vows On Saturday

Bride's Sister Serves as Honor Matron; Newlyweds, Vacationing on Mackinac Island, Will Make their Home in Ohio

Exchanging marriage vows Saturday, August 2, in St. James Lutheran Church were Nina Drum Kneisel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Kneisel, of Sunset lane, and Michael Floyd VanDeGinste, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. VanDeGinste, of Nottingham road.

Following the candle-light rites, at which Pastor Allan Harre officiated, and a reception in the Pompeian Room of The Whittier Hotel the newlyweds left for a vacation on Mackinac Island. They will make their home in Athens, O.

For the 7 o'clock ceremony the bride selected an Empire gown of embroidered organza. A coronet appliqued with embroidered flowers caught her Cathedral length illusion veil and she carried a free-form bouquet of white mixed flowers.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. F. C. Schwartz, who served as matron of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. James U. Pattee, of East Lansing; Ann Dutcher, Paula VanDeGinste, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Thomas W. Kneisel.

Their dresses were fashioned with jousquil yellow linen bodices and narrow-striped yellow and white floor length skirts. White embroidered flowers accented the streamers falling from their velvet headbows. They carried mixed bouquets of yellow and white garden flowers.

Best man was James U. Pattee and Thomas W. Kneisel, brother of the bride; F. C. Schwartz, Randall Wallace, of Oregon, O., and Don Lindow seated the guests.

The bride's mother selected a floor length gown of satin-trimmed yellow chiffon styled with a tucked bodice and long, full sleeves. The bridegroom's mother chose a floor length gown of mint green chantastic, also styled with long, full sleeves and featuring a jewel neckline. Both mothers' corsages were fashioned of ivory cymbidium orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, former Pointer Mrs. V. R. Drum, who now makes her home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the John Drums, of Saginaw, and the Clay Andersons, of Fostoria, O.

Miss Hart Wed. To Mr. Cooper

A reception in the Hart home followed the 3 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Edward Beatty, of the First Congregational Church, Madison, officiated.

The newlyweds, vacationing in Eastern Canada and New England, will be at home after August 25 in Madison.

For her wedding the former Miss Hart selected a gown fashioned with an acru lace bodice and a green crepe skirt with a matching satin bow. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white and yellow flowers.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. John P. O'Connor, of Madison, who wore a green crepe sheath accented with a matching lace cummerbund. Her bouquet of yellow and white flowers complimented that of the bride.

Edward H. Cooper, of Minneapolis, Minn., served as his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Frank Edward Cooper, of Merriweather road, and the late Mr. Cooper.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue sheath accented with a corsage of white and yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother flounced sheath featured a shocking pink paisley pattern on a bone background. Her corsage was fashioned of pink and white flowers.

Traveling to Madison for the wedding was Pointer William L. Cooper, another brother of the bridegroom. Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Hayes, of

THEY'VE ARRIVED

DEAR PAT,

Tenderly enclosed between foams of cotton batten is a color snap of me. I would dearly enjoy something current of you in return. With all the market hopping we're doing we seldom seem to light in the same state at the same time. I'm finding it difficult to garner up a mental image of you. Our ships could have passed in the night on Sunday but I don't imagine the incoming from New York travels the same air route as the outgoing to San Francisco. (My sense of direction is not necessarily my long underwear, or whatever that saying is.)

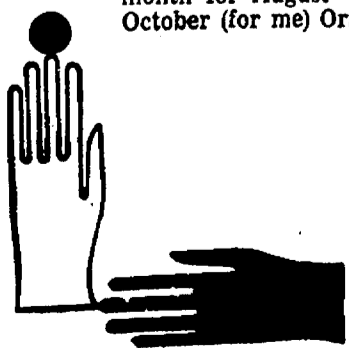

I was fully prepared to regale you with a usual fashion critique of the 7th Ave. action only to find that my position has been usurped by a newcomer to this particular field. In any event, I'm delighted to find that all the predictions I prophesied to you last year have been verified verbatim by one of the esteemed in our industry. I might have coined a newer 1970 glossary of descriptions but as we've all learned—when walking on eggs wear your old tennis shoes. So for now let's continue with adjectives like FLUID—GRACEFUL—FEMININE—as noted and I repeat this year's Women's fashion remain an individual "Her thing." This phenomena is evinced in the collection already in our shop emphasizing the look of fall. Transitions herald the mood with woven cotton or polyester knits charming us into the nipper days of Autumn.

I'll punch this all up in future missives with some nirthful metaphacs and sparkling similes (I can never manage to squeek in onomatopocia and I just love that word).

I have some horticulture news items for you. Flower of the month for August—Poppy; for September—Morning Glory; for October (for me) Orange Blossoms.

Best Love

Island Summer Ends For Myron

Myron Everett Ranney, son of the Ralph R. Ranneys, of South Renaud road, returned late Saturday evening from Honolulu where he attended Summer Session at the University of Hawaii.

A graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and holder of Bachelors and Masters degrees from Michigan State University, Myron is now an instructor at the Stone School in Ann Arbor after teaching four years in the Department of Defense Overseas Dependents' Schools.

While on Oahu he enjoyed several interesting University activities at the East-West Center and the Philosophers' Conference headed by Dr. Abraham Kaplan of the University of Michigan.

He was fascinated too with the Kamehameha Schools, headed by former Grosse Pointe Public Schools Superintendent Dr. James W. Bushong. Arthur Darvill, former Defer School principal now associated with the Schools, was the guide who showed Myron's University of Hawaii class in School Administration through the beautiful Kamehameha campus overlooking Honolulu.

On his way home Myron stopped for a visit with his cousin, Robert G. Stevenson, of Moraga, Calif., who has recently been promoted to Captain with American Air Lines—and Saturday evening Myron flew from the West Coast to Chicago with his aunt, Mrs. George A. Stevenson, on a 707 jet with Captain Stevenson at the controls.

Guibord-Hebert Rites Are Read

They will make their home in Hunt Club drive, Harper Woods, and the bride will resume her work as a Remedial Reading teacher serving Barnes and St. Peter's in the fall while the bridegroom returns to his position as teacher-assistant principal at St. Peter's.

For the 7 o'clock rites the former Miss Hebert, given in marriage by her brother, Terry Hebert, of Rochester, Minn., selected an Italian lace-trimmed gown fashioned with a plain yoke, background for her grandmother's gold cross.

Matching lace accented the high pillbox which caught her fingertip illusion veil and she carried a Colonial arrangement of roses and stephanotis.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Edward Hebert, of Detroit, and the late Mr. Hebert. The bridegroom is the son of Eudore Guibord, of Detroit, and the late Mrs. Guibord.

D'you Know That?
BY PAUL SCHWEITZER

This business of ours isn't at all the grim and dull job you might imagine!

On the contrary, there's real fun and excitement in our daily contacts with people.

Dealing with them is as instructive as it is entertaining. We listen. We learn. We react. We comment. . . . And since today's people have become better informed than at any other time in history, we find that, in order to get in step with them, our own interests become varied and sharpened.

In the weeks to come, (perhaps to prove that we read more than the comics), we are going to bring you some of the questions that people ask people . . . Little things that amuse, annoy or gripe them. . . . Answers to questions on hundreds of subjects that perhaps at some time may have even stumped you.

John Neumans Tour In Upper Michigan

War Memorial Reception Follows Ceremony in Messiah Lutheran Church; Couple to Live in Aline Drive

Married Saturday noon, August 2 in Messiah Lutheran Church were Kathleen Arnold, daughter of the Jay Arnolds, of Oxford road, and John Neuman.

The newlyweds, who are vacationing in Northern Michigan, will make their home in Aline Drive.

For her wedding at which the Reverend Richard Bieber presided, the bride wore an A-line linen gown with a Wat-teau train falling from the shoulders, and accented with Venice lace appliques. A forehead spray of petals trimmed with pearls caught her pouf illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white daisies circled with white rosebuds.

Maid of honor Pamela Ladd, of St. Clair Shores, and bridesmaid Mrs. Donald Gibb, of Portage Lake, the bridegroom's sister, were in yellow linen skimmers accented with floral appliques on the sleeves. They wore matching yellow Dior headbows and carried bouquets of yellow daisies.

The bridegroom asked his brother Richard Neuman to be his best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Neuman, of Detroit. Donald Gibb, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and James Crandall, of Royal Oak, were ushers.

For the wedding and reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, the bride's mother wore a yellow alaskine dress. The Empire waist was accented with yellow beads, crystals and rhinestones. She had a spray of petals tied with a yellow velvet bow in her hair. The bridegroom's mother chose an Aline dress of light turquoise with a yolk of Venice lace accented with pearl beading. She wore a Dior bow in her hair. Both mothers had cymbidium orchid corsages.

Mrs. John Neuman

Speaking their marriage vows Saturday, August 2, in Messiah Lutheran Church were KATHLEEN ARNOLD and Mr. Neuman. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Arnold, of Oxford road. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Neuman, of Detroit.

Betrothed

At a cocktail party in their Washington road home Sunday, July 27, Mr. and Mrs. Santo Palazzolo announced the engagement of their daughter, JO ELLEN, to Thomas G. Maertens, son of Mrs. Charlotte Mertens, of Mack avenue, and the late John C. Maertens.

The bride-elect is a junior at the University of Michigan where she is majoring in Classical Studies and affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. Her fiancé is a senior majoring in Marketing at John Carroll University. His fraternity is Chi Sigma Phi.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES R. MENAGH, of Blairmoor court, together with their children, KIM, CLAY and JASON, recently returned from a trip to Yellowstone National Park, the Tetons and Glacier National Park. They are planning a future trip to Gettysburg and the countryside. Accompanying them on their travels is Mrs. Menagh's mother, MRS. JOHN FANKOW, of Chalfonte avenue.

Showers Given For Bride-Elect

Parties for bride-elect Jacqueline Lee Vaughn began in early June, in Pittsburgh, Pa., with a miscellaneous shower given for her by friends of the prospective bridegroom's family.

The daughter of the Joseph John Vaughns, of Deepplands court, will speak her marriage vows to Robert Theodore Aumer, son of the Joseph Aumers, of Pittsburgh, at a nuptial mass this Saturday, August 9, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The parties continued in Grosse Pointe with a round-the-clock dinner shower given by Mrs. Robert Burchett, Mrs. Stanley Kramer and Mrs. Stanley Renauf at Mrs. Burchett's home in Pear Tree lane in mid-July.

Also in mid-July Mrs. Gilbert Klein, of Birmingham, entertained at a kitchen shower while Mrs. Robert Roy, of Crestwood drive, and Mrs. David E. Hopp, of University place, were hostesses at a luncheon shower and patio party July 29. Party scene was Mrs. Roy's home.

Mrs. Michael Applegate, who makes her home in the Ann Arbor area, honored the bride-elect with a personal shower and tea a few weeks ago.

Jackie was one of three neighborhood girls, all of whom grew up together, all of whom will be married within a few weeks of one another this summer, to be feted at a combined shower by the J. J. Gormans, of South Deepplands road.

Other honorees were Marilyn Lundy, now Mrs. Terrence McCaffery, and Susan Hood, who will become Jim Sullivan's bride August 23.

Susan entertained at a party for Marilyn and Jackie earlier in the summer; guests were the three brides' young neighborhood friends.
