

Residents Fight School Board on College Proposal

(Continued from Page 1) After Mr. Coulter's statement of the Board, allowed discussion but indicated only Grosse Pointe residents could voice their opinions since at the last meeting he added that the matter would be decided in the court room.

There was no real interest in the community. Almost those opposing the Board of North High and speaking Monday night were Elena Doerr, Victoria Deane, Edith Wilson, Russell Harlan, Nat Connor and Mary Lauro. Among the reasons they gave for their objections were cost to the school system, the fear that Grosse Pointe children would come in contact with an undesirable element, that lab usage would prevent day students from preparing overnight experiments, excessive traffic noise, fear of demonstrations and lack of need for such a facility in the community.

Opposition Attached
Those approving the Board's multiphased action included Jim Rehl, teacher at South High School; Dr. William Craig, principal of North High; Judy Slutz, Mrs. Roy Heuteman, Meg MacIntosh, and Edward Pomgraz, former School Board president. For the first time in this battle, the opposers were asked if the fact that black students attend classes at North was not the real crux of the situation. Mr. Rehl urged those present to become "part of the great Detroit picture" and fill the need of local students taking general courses at the high school.

Mrs. Heuteman asked if the real reason for this opposition was not WCCO would come to Grosse-Pointe rather than all the expressed reasons and asked those present to become part of the total Wayne County community.

Prograce Makes Plea
In a moving speech, Mr. Pomgraz said he attended eight school classes similar to those being offered at WCCO and that although took him 18 years to get his education he was happy to have to opportunity to complete it. He said to WCCO would afford youngsters in the same position to get the education they want and need. He urged Pointers to look at the broad picture and said that this is an opportunity for the community to contribute to something worthwhile in being obliging that it has fallen miserably to assume in the past.

Dr. Craig indicated that as principal of North High School he would not condone or recommend any actions that would interfere with his students, but that renting the facility at night would in no way conflict with the interest of students attending North. He added that many students have often said to him that they have lived in a glass dream house too long.

Racial Implications
Throughout the battle for classrooms an undercurrent of racial implications has existed. Many of the same people who objected to Open Housing and Cops were again out in force at Monday night's meeting. Some actions were, as in the past, rude, dramatic and violent. Shouts and stirring insinuations at administrators and school board members set the tone of the evening's discussion.

Woods Also Angry
While temperatures and temperatures reached a boiling point in South High's gym, the City of Grosse Pointe Woods Council voted unanimously to endorse the Grosse Pointe School District from continued violations of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods zoning ordinance.

The zoning ordinance provides that the school will furnish one parking space for each four students and staff member. Based upon the School Board's estimate of enrollment for the coming school year, the school should have available in excess of 700 parking spaces, whereas in fact it has less than 500. The city seeks to require the School Board to provide adequate off-street parking facilities in accordance with its zoning regulations.

School Contract Talks Resumed

With classes in The Grosse Pointe Public School System scheduled to begin on Thursday, September 4, contract talks with all employe groups have resumed after a three-week recess.

Discussions between the Board of Education and the Grosse Pointe Education Association resumed on August 20. Negotiators cited the fact that relatively few contracts between teachers and boards of education have been settled in the Detroit area this summer.

Board of Education representatives met with the clerical staff on August 14 and August 19, and recent talks with plant personnel have been conducted informally.

Teams of the three employe groups are headed by Willis Brown (teachers), Mrs. Marion

Parking Lots

(Continued from Page 1)vised charges will be 75 cents daily and $7.50 monthly, which averages out to 3 3/4 cents a day.

Raise Metered Areas
Metered parking areas behind Kroger's, between the Village Manor and Fromm's, behind Notre Dame Pharmacy, on Fisher road both sides of Farms Market and behind the businesses on Mack and Rivard will be raised from five cents an hour to 10 cents an hour and the all day rate raised from 25 cents an hour to 50 cents an hour.

All street meters will now be ten cents an hour in an effort to have all the City meters uniform. (The vast majority of meters are presently at that ten cent rate).

Mr. Kressbach estimated the increased rates would produce additional annual revenues of $18,000 for Attendant Lots and $15,000 for Metered Lots. He recommended that a parking meter replacement program be initiated with the purchase of about 135 meters in fiscal 1969-70 and that fines for expired meter violations be revised as follows: payment within the first hour changed from 25 cents to 50 cents; payment within 24 hours, and payment after 24 hours would remain the same, one dollar and two dollars respectively.

Mr. Kressbach said the proposed rates would provide proper financing for improvements such as resurfacing of present lots and expansion of the parking area across from the Village Manor Restaurant.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE S. LaFOREST, of Vernier road, recently visited the American Museum of Atomic Energy, (Oak Ridge Hall of Science), Oak Ridge, Tenn., which features demonstrations and displays on peaceful uses of the atom.

Spider mites:—Dormant oil, Kelthane, Tedian.
 Spruce gall aphids:—Liquid lime sulfur.
 Taxus mealybug:—Dormant oil, Malathion.

Vegetable Garden Pests
 All purpose insecticide—fungicide spray mixture for vegetables include: Fixed copper, Maneb, Zineb, Malathion, Methoxychlor, Rotenone, Pyrethrum. Fixed copper is sold under the following trade names: Tri-Basic Copper Sulfate, Copper A, Basicop, Cocs, Ortho Copper. Maneb trade names include Manzate or Manzate D and Dithnae M-22 or M-22 Special. Zineb trade names include Forzate, Dithane Z-78, Ortho Zineb.

Kitchen Pests
 Cockroaches and larder beetles:—Malathion, Pyrethrum with Piperonyl Butoxide, Ronnel.
 Silver Fish:—Methoxychlor, Pyrethrum.
 Ants:—Malathion.

Other Household Pests
 Fleas:—Malathion, Methoxychlor, Pyrethrum, Rotenone.
 Carpet beetles:—Malathion.
 Bedbugs:—Malathion, Methoxychlor, Pyrethrum.

Biting Insects
 Mosquito wigglers:—Abate, Malthion, Pyrethrum.
 Adult mosquitoes:—Malathion, Methoxychlor.
 Fogs for mosquitoes:—Malathion.
 Mist sprays for mosquitoes:—Malathion, Naled (Dibrom).

All of the commercial varieties of skin repellants are effective against mosquitoes, flies, and other biting insects. They are also generally less expensive and in some instances work better than yard and house sprays.

No-see-ums, punkies, sand flies:—Malathion, Methoxychlor, Naled (Dibrom).

Black flies are very difficult to control. Repellants applied to the skin are probably the best general protection. The same chemicals used against adult mosquitoes are recommended for black flies, where control conditions are favorable. But black flies and mosquitoes migrate, and control in one location is no assurance of effective control.

House flies:—Diazinon, Malathion, Methoxychlor, Naled (Dibrom), Pyrethrum with Piperonyl Butoxide, Ronnel (Karlan).

Fruit, pomace, or vinegar flies:—Methoxychlor, Pyrethrum with Piperonyl Butoxide.

For weed control for vegetable, fruit, flowers, yards, ornamentals, many chemicals are available and nearly all of them are acceptable. As a group, most weed-controlling chemicals operate as growth hormones on specific plants. When sprayed on the plant, they over-stimulate the foliage to grow rapidly. The roots then die in the attempt to keep up with this sudden demand of the foliage for food and growth. If not over-applied, these chemicals are soon used up and do not appear to be dangerous to the long range future of various wildlife species. However, some are mixed with Chlordane or DDT to avoid, as they are an important cause of song bird loss.

The All-State enrollment totaled 980 Michigan students. Students were taught, supervised and housed by a faculty and staff of 936 members.

The National Music Camp, known today as the "World's Foremost Proving Ground for Youthful Talent," was established in 1928 by the late music educator, Dr. Joseph E. Maddy. After Dr. Maddy's death in 1966, Dr. Karl Haas, director of Fine Arts at radio station WJR, became president. Interlochen offers an intensive study in the arts and group living guidance by a distinguished staff and faculty of high accomplishment and understanding. In addition to a comprehensive study of music are courses in dance, drama and the visual arts. Also offered is a complete recreational program.

Along with their studies, the students have experienced participation in various musical groups, performances and exhibits. Weekly schedules are filled with student and faculty concerts, exhibits and various activities.

The faculty concerts included appearances by Detroit's "First Lady of the Piano" Gizi Szanto. Miss Szanto will be performing for the third time with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra this coming season. Felix Resnick will be conducting.

Exciting moments filled the camp as famous guest artists arrived. Their attraction also brought visitors from far and near.

The campus' Kresge Auditorium was filled to capacity as pianist Van Cliburn made his annual benefit concert appearance with Interlochen's World Youth Symphony Orchestra.

Boris Goldovsky, opera coach for the Metropolitan Opera singers, was presented in "An Evening with Boris Goldovsky."

Alexander Schneider, former violinist of the world famed Budapest String Quartet, conducted the camp's University Chamber Orchestra.

Lt.-Col. William Santelmann, retired director of the United States Marine Corps Band, conducted the National Music Camp High School Symphony Band.

The World Youth Symphony Orchestra concert programs also included: Stephen Kates, cellist, silver medal winner of the 1966 Tchaikovsky award; Nielsen Quach, Saigon born Chinese conductor; Dr. A. Clyde Roller, associate conductor of the Houston Symphony Orchestra; and Sixten Ehrling, conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

BEFORE AFTER CHIMNEY SERVICE. Rebuilt-Repaired-Chimney Covers-Insulators Screens-Violations Corrected-Trust Pointing-Advance Maintenance 882-3339

Several Grosse Pointers were present on the Sunday evening of Mr. Ehrling's appearance with the orchestra. (A standing ovation echoed among the pine tree tops). Among these were:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Frohlich and their two young sons, John and Robert of Preston place. Mr. Frohlich is a Grosse Pointe Symphony Society board member and serves on the Center's Board of Trustees.

Mr. and Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, of Hidden lane. Mrs. Baynert is also a Grosse Pointe Symphony board member.

Mrs. Alfred D. Moran and daughter Rox of Prestwick road. Mrs. Moran is former board member of G.P. Symphony Society.

Kathy McMahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McMahon of Torrey road.

The center also consists of the Interlochen Arts Academy, a coeducational college preparatory boarding school for students in grades 9 through 12 (Sept. to June). A proposed Interlochen College of Creative Arts is now projected to open in the fall of 1973.

So — with a summer well spent, the "Interlochen way," changes are that instrumentalists will be getting closer to that first chair position etc. as "back-to-school" and community activities resume in Grosse Pointe.

A train of thought is useless unless a man can work up enough steam to operate it.

Grosse Pointe Academy will open its doors Tuesday, September 9, with some 340-350 students enrolled. The official change-over from the Academy of the Sacred Heart to Grosse Pointe Academy was affected Monday, August 18, at a ceremony in Sacred Heart Academy-Bloomfield.

The newly-elected Board of Directors includes Mrs. Miles O'Brien, Sr., president; Mrs. Walter Robinson, vice-president; Sister Lewerly, secretary-treasurer. Chairman of committees include Mrs. Robert M. Mr. Poplawski said the school is evolving a program of religious activities recognizing and respecting the different religions. "I feel this type of program will make Catholics better Catholics, Protestants better Protestants and students better citizens."

All of the students will wear uniforms. Mr. Poplawski said "I feel the wearing of uniforms equates the student body. It is very important to do this in a school such as ours, whose student body encompasses people from the entire economic scale."

Montessori girls ages three through five, will wear navy, yellow and green plaid jumpers with yellow blouses, navy blue socks or navy blue tights.

The Montessori boys will wear short or long pants, white turtleneck shirts and navy pull-over sweaters. If they wear short pants they must wear navy knee socks.

Lower School girls will wear the same outfits as Montessori girls but they will be permitted to wear navy blue opaques. The Lower School boys will wear long trousers in gray, powder blue shirts and ties and navy v-necked sweaters.

Middle School girls grades five through eight will wear washable wool knits in the same navy plaid, blue blazers and yellow blouses. Middle School boys will wear powder blue shirts, blue blazers, gray pants and ties.

No skirts can be shorter than two inches above the knees.

The academic program will emphasize the fundamentals — reading, writing, speaking, creative expression, all of the communication arts math science, foreign languages, gymnastics, music and art. In other words, an in-depth study of the world, its past, its present and future, and man's relations to his fellow man and his Maker.

Courses in math and science have been increased due to the enrollment of boys in the Lower and Middle Schools.

Grosse Pointe Academy will offer French, Montessori through grade eight. Latin and Spanish will be offered from grades five through eight.

The Academy is an excellent facility with large, well-equipped classrooms, a 12,000 plus volume library, science and language labs, gymnasium, a chapel learning centers and an infirmary.

Mr. Poplawski and his family will live on campus as well as six members of the religious order of the Sacred Heart.

The Convent Building will be used for meetings of organizations associated with the Society of the Sacred Heart, adult education groups and as a religious center for the community.

The 19-acre of wooded grounds on Lake St. Clair include tennis courts, athletic fields, playgrounds, an orchard, a vineyard and a greenhouse.

The present Montessori Building is currently being renovated. Montessori students will be housed in the main building until early 1970.

According to Mr. Poplawski, Grosse Pointe Academy is designed to educate the whole child, to consider and develop all aspects of the person; the academic or intellectual; the social, the moral, the religious and the physical.

city to set up some new operating procedures in the Department of Public Works," noted Petersen. "Whereas a man would still get credit for an eight-hour collection day, he could possibly finish his work in six hours and get paid overtime for the other hours of work. This could prove to be an immense incentive plan."

The proposed ordinance would require the use of disposable plastic bags by "every owner, occupant, tenant or lessee, occupying any building structure, property or premises within the city limits" for the disposal of rubbish and refuse. No bag shall weigh more than 50 pounds, when filled.

Commercial firms would also be required to utilize the plastic bags. If any business or commercial establishment requires more than the proposed once-a-week pickup service, or if their business makes the use of plastic bags non-feasible, it shall be required to use steel containers with tightly closed lids and contract a private firm for additional pickup service.

"If the Council adopts this ordinance, we shall have the most economical solid waste collection function of any city in the midwest," claimed Petersen.

Thieves Steal Power Mower

At least one woman was seen leaving the garage on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vinci, 44 Lakecrest lane, during the evening of Friday, August 15. Later the Vincis discovered a power mower missing.

The couple told Farms police that Friday evening they heard a noise coming from the garage, and looked out of their upstairs bedroom window. They said they saw two persons, one of whom appeared to be a middle-aged woman entering a car parked at the curb.

The Vincis said that the trunk lid of the vehicle was up, and they saw something in the trunk.

They said that the next morning when they entered the garage, they discovered their 22-inch power reel mower, valued at $125, missing.

GARAGE ENTERED

Jeff Frye, 14, 670 Washington, called City Police on Thursday, August 14, to report that persons unknown had broken the combination lock on the garage of Jack Rowe, 676 Washington, sometime between August 11 and August 14, and removed a bicycle. Jeff was checking the house for the Rowes who were vacationing. Upon his return, Mr. Rowe described the missing bike as a green 26 inch, English Robin Hood.

ness and attending conferences until September 13. He will continue his activities with the International Association of Police Chiefs.

Deplores Drug Apathy

In an interview with the NEWS Chief Roh, who has spent 22 years in police work, said "One of the most disturbing things I have encountered since I have been here is the overwhelming narcotics problem and the apathy of some people to accept this fact. I believe that much of our vandalism, larcenies and burglaries have a direct relationship with narcotics."

When queried as to how to solve this narcotics problem, Chief Roh said, "more parental supervision . . . the commercial on television kind of says it . . . you know the one. 'Do you know where your children are—do you know where your parents are?' I have always believed in that old 'if more fathers and sons, mothers and daughters, hunt, fish, play and pray together we wouldn't have these problems.'"

"I do want to thank the citizens of Grosse Pointe Farms for their fine cooperation . . . it is a very fine community. I only hope these fine people raise their children to be as fine citizens as they are."

City Manager Bremer told the NEWS that no appointment to replace Chief Roh has been made to date.

Memorial Tree Program Lags

Interest in the Citizens Memorial Tree Program at the Farms Municipal Pier - Park seems to be lacking, but this is attributed to the possibility that many residents are away on vacation, according to City Clerk Peter Caputo.

A number of citizens have contacted the city clerk and expressed definite interest in the project.

The program, which was announced earlier this year, was backed by the late William G. Kirby, councilman and mayor pro tem, who died on August 4, while vacationing at his summer home in Grand Haven, Mich., after a group of residents suggested planting of trees in the new area of the municipal park, at the foot of Moross road, to commemorate deceased relatives and friends.

As a result of the suggestions, and when the program was finalized, an artist's rendition of the park area and a scale plan were prepared for inspection by those who wanted to know more about the program, so that they could select the site and tree they would like planted. A bronze plaque bearing the name of the person, or family to be remembered, will be placed in front of the tree. The plaque will be included in the total cost, the maximum of which will depend on the type of tree planted.

The tree species and the estimated costs, (with the plaque), are: Norway Maple, $150; Pin Oak, $165; Austrian Pine, $85; Flowering Crab, $75; Flowering Plum, $85, and Flowering Cherry, $85.

Citizens wishing more information regarding the proposed program, are asked to contact Caputo at the Municipal Building, 90 Kerby road, or call him at TUxedo 5-6600.

PURSE PILFERED

Rosemary D'Hondt, 1189 Brys drive, called City police on Thursday, August 14, to report the theft of her purse from a convertible which was parked in front of 488 University on that date. Miss D'Hondt had left the purse on the seat while she was visiting a friend for about 20 minutes, upon her return the purse was missing. She described the purse as a straw basket type with a butterfly and monogram on the side. A transistor radio, valued at $28, a wallet, containing $8, and personal papers were in the purse.

$14,468,936 School Budget increases that resulted from negotiations by employee groups) made in November amounted to $252,647.

The largest single item in the schools' budget for 1969-70 has been earmarked for instruction, with $9,833,121 in this category. Funds needed for operation account for $1,364,123, and $529,950 is earmarked for maintenance.

School officials said that each year an increasing amount of money to operate the public schools comes from local sources. They have estimated that 73.7 per cent of the 1969-70 operating budget will be provided from local property taxes and 15.6 per cent from the State of Michigan. Miscellaneous sources provide the balance. Federal assistance is virtually negligible.

Using the State School Aid formula contained in Senate Bill 101, the local schools will receive $141.81 per pupil for 1969-70, compared to $144.19 for 1968-69, a decrease of $2.38 per pupil.

"This situation underlines dramatically one fact that we have been attempting to get across to the people of this community for a long time: with our level of State equalized Valuation we can no longer look to the State to help us finance public education in Grosse Pointe," Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, Secretary of the Board of Education and Board Legislative Chairman, has said.

"We may expect further pressure emanating from the deliberations of Governor Milikin's Educational Reform Commission to eliminate or to reduce financial aid to our district, and others like ours, this fall. If this were to happen, we would be obliged to raise almost $2 million more locally," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, said Monday.

Currently the local public schools receive an allocation of 8.90 mills from the county. Excess voted millage for operational purposes amounts to 18.50 mills, for a total of 27.40, or $27.40 per thousand dollars of State Equalized Valuation.

St. Clair Level Reported Lower

By Phil Löranger

Lake St. Clair, the heart-shaped watery playground of thousands of Grosse Pointers each summer, has been working overtime this year, according to Robert Goodnough, assistant supervisor of the Water Level Section, of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Lake Survey team.

"The lake currently stands at more than 13 inches above the August survey of last year," said Goodnough. "Oddly enough, this is an inch less than the level of July, but the lake waters seem to be following the normal pattern of recession."

Goodnough claims the lake reached its all-time high in 1952, the year in which the Lake Survey team, a division of the Corps of Engineers, installed water level gauging stations at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and at the Park's Windmill Pointe Park.

"Few persons are aware that we have received lake level readings from the Yacht Club since 1892 and from Windmill Pointe Park since 1893," related Goodnough. "We used to have a fellow, who recorded the Yacht Club figures thrice daily."

The Lake Survey team operates water gauging stations along the Great Lakes, rivers and Lake St. Clair, from New York to Minnesota. They've been in business with 55 stations along the American shoreline for the past 120 years.

"Although Lake St. Clair is far above normal levels this year along the Pointe shoreline, Pointe residents should have no fear of trouble because the lake is receding and our rainfall should begin to slacken," claimed Goodnough.

"Many persons believe that the lake rises and falls on a regular cycle," he said. "We have not found this to be the case. It all depends on the amount of precipitation each year."

Goodnough pointed out that the Lake Survey team also maps out and prints sailing charts for Lake St. Clair sailors and supplies the Grosse Pointe sailing clubs with these maps for their regattas.

Driver Cheats Death in Crash

A spectacular accident in which the driver of a small sports car miraculously escaped serious injury climaxed a mile-long police chase on Wednesday, August 13, in the Shores.

While on patrol along Lakeshore road, Shores Patrolmen Donald Lupro and William Marshall spotted a vehicle moving at a high rate of speed east on Lakeshore.

After making a turn the officers pursued the speeding vehicle to Vernier road, where they began to lose it because of the heavy traffic. Although the officers had their sirens and flashing lights on at this time, the driver of the vehicle ignored them and increased his speed to about 75 miles per hour.

As the officers prepared to radio for help in stopping the speeding driver, they noticed him losing control of his vehicle on a curve in the road near Renaud. Police estimate the automobile was moving at 90 miles per hour, when the driver lost control.

The vehicle jumped over the curb of the island in front of 677 Lakeshore, careened for nearly 40 feet across, a cross-over, plunged back across the road and struck a tree.

At this point, police say the car was flung into the air for nearly 40 feet and landed on the front lawn of a residence at 665 Lakeshore, doing considerable damage to the yard.

When Lupro and Marshall arrived at the scene, they found the driver, 22-year old Mark G. Jarrett, of St. Clair Shores, dazed and bruised, but not seriously injured. His 1962 M.G. roadster was demolished.

He was arrested for reckless driving and taken to the station, where he posted $125 personal bond and was released until his September 23 court date.

Although Shores police abhorred the young man's actions in traffic, they pointed out that Jarrett arrived at the home at 665 Lakeshore the morning after the accident, apologized for the damage to the lawn and arranged to pay for the damages, with no prompting.

Sewer Clean-Up Job Criticized

Some residents of Fairway drive were in attendance at the Woods Council meeting on Monday, August 18, with a petition regarding the clean-up job being done in the area by Don Gargaro Company who completed sewer work in that area of the City.

The major complaint dealt with the poor condition of GPUS field. Henry C. Hollister and the business manager of GPUS both informed the Council that Gargaro had restored the athletic field with hard clay and grass seed which was not in accordance with the City's original agreement with the firm. The original agreement specified that resodding would be done in those areas where grass had been removed. The Council voted unanimously that Gargaro must resod and restore as originally specified.

Residents in attendance agreed that Gargaro is working in good faith although more slowly than they would like.

The company is currently repairing Fairway road and will restore it to its natural concrete condition. After this road work is completed it will repair the walkways. Gargaro has already repaired the GPUS fence.

Memories of success and failure help guide many along the difficult path to the future.

Stolen Statue Returned Intact

The 200-pound, bronze statue of a woman, which was removed from the front lawn of a home at 22 Clairview a little more than two weeks ago, has been returned intact.

"Kudos to the NEWS," said William F. McDonnell, from whose home the valuable bronze sculpture was taken during the night hours of August 3. "The lady" was returned the day after the NEWS printed the story of my plight.

"I was almost convinced that the statue would never be returned," continued McDonnell. "I'm sure the felons must have read the NEWS article and it struck fear in their hearts or gnawed at their consciences. I am still astounded at the speed of its return."

The sculpture was a gift to McDonnell from his son, internationally known sculptor, Joseph Anthony McDonnell, who designed the masterpiece in Florence in 1964.

"I can only express my heartfelt appreciation to the NEWS for its help towards the recovery," said McDonnell.

GAS UP AND GO

Scott Dillon, an attendant at the Village Standard Station, 18821 Kercheval, called City police on Saturday, August 9, to report two white males who had defrauded the station out of gasoline. The pair entered the station, requested $3 worth of gas, then fled without paying for same.

Vandals Visit Barnes School

Woods Police reported Wednesday, August 13, that unknown persons vandalized the Barnes School, at 20090 Morningdrive, smearing paint on a number of the doorway entrances of the facility and writing obscenities on the south wall with black spray paint.

More than $80 worth of windows were also smashed during the attack on the school.

Agree to Help In Torch Drive

Two Grosse Pointe Farms residents and members of the downtown Detroit business community have accepted leadership positions on the advance gifts committee for the 1969 Torch Drive. Robert H. Kanzler, who has offices in the Club Exchange Building, will serve as chairman of the committee which solicits campaign contributions from select individuals and foundations to the drive. His appointment was announced by the 1969 campaign general chairman, William S. Blakeslee, vice president and group executive of defense-space, Chrysler Corp. As his vice chairman for men's teams, Kanzler has appointed Cleveland Thurber, Jr., vice president, Detroit Bank & Trust Co.

City To Review Ecclestone Plea

The City of Grosse Pointe Council at its regular meeting on Monday, August 18, granted E. Llywd Ecclestone, Jr. and James T. Barnes, Jr. a hearing on rezoning of the former O'Leary-Cadillac property and adjacent parcels to residential terrace, to be held on Monday, September 22, at 8 o'clock, with the site of the meeting to be announced at a later date.

Ecclestone and Barnes submitted this new request after having been denied by a vote of 5-2 last July 28. At that time the Bon Secours expansion request was also on the agenda and both Ecclestone and Barnes felt that their petition was denied mainly due to the consideration of Bon Secours' petition. They said that the feel in the City both for and against the Bon Secours request was very strong and that both sides were concerned that approval or disapproval of the Ecclestone-Barnes petition would adversely affect their positions on Bon Secours.

MOWER STOLEN

Ralph Stevenson, 365 Roosevelt, called City police on Monday, August 11, and reported the theft of a 20-inch Sears power motor from his garage on that date.

Home in Ann Arbor Awaits Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Mark Roy Bendure Upon their Return from Traverse City Vacation

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church was the setting for the Saturday, August 16, marriage of Carol Jean Ruthven and Mark Roy Bendure.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert N. Ruthven, of Newberry place, the newlyweds left for a vacation in Traverse City.

For her 5:30 o'clock wedding at which The Reverend Ben Tallman officiated the bride wore a light-colored organza gown accented with Venice lace at her bodice, sleeves and waistband.

This is a hairdresser looking at your face.

In other words, this is a hairdresser that cares. He doesn't consider his clients faceless ladies in shapeless robes. He considers them interesting individuals. Which is why he studies their faces and clothes and asks about the lives they lead and the way they really see themselves. It's also why he gets the most beautiful results. This kind of hairdresser isn't easy to come by. But if you come by our place, you'll find quite a few. You see, it's the only kind of hairdresser we believe in.

THEY'VE ARRIVED

DEAR PAT,

At the moment everything is frolic and hysterical. Now that the bans have been posted, Mickey and I can't speed to our respective mail boxes fast enough to find out daily salutations for the prospective "young" bride and groom. We'd both forgotten the alacrity with which the mail-order merchants latch on to the betrothed. Mickey, who privately considers me the Julia child of the midwest is especially eager for me to receive 30 well planned menus to start the bride off on a junket of culinary successes via the Betty Crocker-Dromendary mix route. Also included was a generous offer to attend a "tuppertap Party" affording me the opportunity to purchase cook-ware at vast savings. (No more the shiny copper bottomed pans with the Minuteman forged in the century Circa 1950.) Our larger department stores would be happy to include my name and pattern preferences to their Bridal Registries. Not one of them has suggested a thrifty solution to the problem of "What to do when all your finest linen and silver is engraved with a spectacular K and you now want more than anything to be an M. A few of the "we want to be of service" renderings to the groom are about as "hairy" as Oh Calcutta. Of the milder of these is his gift to her sort of thing to remind her of his lecherous devotion—the day of the week is machine stitched on each.

While we're in that neighborhood (distantly) let's linger on lingerie for a bit. Any bride, ingenue or vintage, will be enchanted with our collection of gowns, robes and at home wear. The selection runs the gamut from cuddly soft to frothy sheer. A very particular favorite is a long precision but at home patterned in a chevron motif giving a zig-zag stripe effect ($70.00.) Another special, special in this group is a nylon jersey Monk's robe that folds rather bewitchingly around a chain encircled figure ($36.00.) One tiny wisp of a love that will demand next to no space in my luggage shortly is a three piece pink penguin, gown and panty—mini short—executed in so simple a design that the most important ingredient is the girl wears it ($18.00.) My nomination for absolutely any age is the quilted coachman, ming embossed robe. The revers and lining are in bright pink to contrast with the softness of the body hue ($40.00.)

With more of everything arriving every day we'll have nothing but excitement in this area. Great time to begin Christmas lists.

Mickey just phoned terribly anxious to share our latest windfall—without feeling pressured or under any duress to rush—should our heir arrive before Papa is 24 and before Mama is 22 he can amass a fortune in insurance benefits by the time he's some ridiculous age. The good doctor wrote back informing them that the dolls on top of his wedding cake are easily 21 going on 109.

Best Love,

JO
