HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, September 4

TEACHERS ARE ON STRIKE in 19 of the Michigan school systems and have been locked out by school boards in seven others. The 26 school districts enroll a total of 165,570 students and employ 6,492.

Friday, September 5
TERRORISTS THURSDAY KIDNAPPED U.S. Ambassador to Brazil C. Burke Elbrick and said they would kill him unless the Brazil government released 15 political prisoners within 48 hours. Elbrick, 61, was abducted from his limousine while on his way to work.

THE FOOD AND DRUG Administration reports that birth control pills being taken by millions of American women are "safe" but that there is a definite cause and effect relationship between use of the pill and blood-clotting deaths.

Saturday, September 6
PREMIER CHOU ENLAI of Red China and his delegation to President Ho Chi Minh's funeral left Hanoi Thursday evening to return to Peking, the new China News Agency reported Friday. No reason was given for his departure before the funeral, but it is believed he did not wish to encounter Russian Premier Kosygin, due to arrive in Hanoi by plane via Pakistan.

Sunday, September 7
PAMELA ANN ELDRED of West Bloomfield Township was crowned Miss America Saturday night. Pamela, a 21-year-old Mercy College senior, burst into tears as she roared went up from the crowd when her name was announced.

DETROIT VOTERS will nominate two candidates for mayor Tuesday in a primary election in which four major candidates have emerged from a field of 28. They are Wayne County Auditor Richard N. Austin, 56, the city's first serious black mayoral contender; Councilman Mary V. Beck, 61, a law and order candidate; Sheriff Roman S. Gribbs, 43; Walter C. Shamie, 48, a business executive who ran far behind Mayor Cavanagh in 1965. It is believed that Austin and Gribbs will be the primary winners.

Monday, September 8
EVERETT MCKINLEY DIRKSEN of Illinois, leader of the Republicans in the Senate and one of the most colorful members of that body, died Sunday, September 7, at the age of 73. He had undergone surgery at Walter Reed Army Hospital last Tuesday, September 1, for lung cancer.

JAMES A. PIKE, former Episcopal bishop of California, was found Sunday on a ledge where he had apparently fallen in the sun-baked Judean desert. An autopsy indicated exhaustion killed the 58-year-old Pike as he tried to climb out of a deep canyon near the shores of the Dead Sea.

Tuesday, September 9
ALLIED FORCES sharply reduced offensive operations Monday, the first day of a 72-hour cease-fire declared by the Vietcong to mark the death of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh. Several enemy violations were reported, including the mining of a train and a bus and scattered ambushes.

HURRICANE GERDA howled northward parallel to the coast of the eastern United States Monday and the U.S. Weather Bureau warned that it might threaten New York and New England. The National Hurricane Center ordered a hurricane watch posted from Cape Hatteras, N.C. northward to Cape Cod. This includes New York, New Jersey and Long Island.

Police Make Safety Plea For Children

Parents, Drivers, Students Warned of Increased Dangers with Schools Open Again

By Phil Loranger
For most Pointe youngsters the school bell for a new educational year has rung and the daily routine of grabbing books and running or pedaling off to classes has begun again, but Pointe police are warning parents and children alike to take it easy in traffic now that school is underway.

Although the Pointe has annually maintained a good child safety record, too many youngsters forget their safety habits over the course of a long summer and, in the rush to get school-oriented again, they place themselves in danger in traffic, according to all five Pointe law enforcement agencies.

Plea to Drivers
School Safety Officers Sgt. George Blair, of the Park, Sgt. Arnold Parsons, of the Farms, Sgt. Doug Allor and Sgt. Duncan MacEachern, of the City, Patrolman Steve Petrik, of the Woods, and the officers of the Shores police department, are calling for increased awareness by drivers to the fact that many youngsters do get careless in their anxiety to get to school or time and in their rush to return home in the afternoon.

"Although we have few problems here in the Park, I'm afraid some parents are setting a poor example for their children in traffic," said Blair. "If

Pointe Police Urge Return Of Traffic Signs, Meters; Parents Condone Thievery

Protective Adults Asked to Search Their Children's Rooms and Return Stolen Property and Punish Youngsters

Somewhere in a number of homes in the Pointe, permissive parents are not doing anything about some of the items, primarily street stop signs and other public property, decorating the rooms of their offspring.

It seems that a certain group of young people consider it very "chic" to have "Stop" and "No Parking" signs, etc., hanging on the walls of bedrooms and dens, and occasionally, according to the five Pointe police chiefs, parking meters are added to the decor.

What are the parents doing about this matter? It appears that they are not doing a thing, even if they know that their children obtained these items illegally, or to put it more bluntly, stole them, or know they were stolen.

At any rate, the chiefs said, their respective cities did not sell these items to anyone, and would like to have them returned.

The signs are not that valuable, monetarily-wise, that is, but are valuable in the controlling of vehicular traffic, especially the "Stop" signs, it was pointed out.

Endangers Motorists
The theft of a "Stop" sign deprives a motorist of a warning that he must come to a complete stop at an intersection, otherwise, he might drive through and possibly become involved in a serious accident resulting in injuries, or even death.

Farms Police Sgt. Ignatius Backman, sanctioned by Lt. Vernon Sylvester, disclosed that

High School Gridders Set For Openers

Six Teams Face Moment of Truth in Weekend Clashes Launching Another Season

By Phil Loranger
The moment of truth for the football teams of all six Pointe area high schools arrives this weekend, when the kickoff of the 1969 Pigskin Parade gets underway, heralding the start of a new football season.

Since August 25, the gridders of Grosse Pointe North, Grosse Pointe South, Austin, St. Paul, University-Liggett and St. Ambrose High Schools have been pounding away on dusty football fields, trying to smooth out the kinks in their offensive and defensive patterns prior to their first encounters with the squads of rival schools.

GROSSE POINTE NORTH, entering its second campaign in the tough Bi-County League, may boast the best set of offensive running backs in the league.

Coached by Jim Krucki, a 32-year-old Albion college graduate, who is currently in his first year at the helm, the Norsemen have good size and above-average team speed, two assets which may take them all the way to the league title, barring injuries to key personnel.

Co-Captain Glen Hillger, a six-foot, 170-pound senior, who is the team's leading kicker, leads the talented backfield. Hillger is a halfback for the quartet, which also will see 170-pound Lenny Constantine, a junior, calling the signals for the Norsemen, and Steve Schleicher, a junior fullback, who tips the scales at 165 pounds, operating out of the fullback slot. Senior Bruce Jodar or junior Chris Truhan, waging a personal duel for a starting backfield position, will be at the other half.

"Our other Co-Captain, Bob Pogue, a 6-foot-1, 185-pound senior, is our leading lineman at the guard position in a really scrappy front wall, said Krucki. "We have excellent depth in the backfield, but, outside of the first-string line, we can't reach to the bench for too much help on the line."

Krucki said the Norsemen plan to operate out of a multiple offense formation, running the ball as much as possible. The team has reached its final cut and 41 boys are being carried on the varsity squad. North clashes with Livonia Churchill in its season opener. (Continued on Page 10)

Study Commission Volunteers Sought By School Board

Group of 50 Suggested to Probe Moral, Ethical and Religious Contributions of Community's Educational Program

At Monday night's meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, announced the creation of a Moral, Ethical, and Religious Study Commission. Dr. Anderson said that Lee H. Allen, treasurer of the Board, had suggested the Commission.

The Superintendent of Schools urged residents interested in serving on it, within the limitations of the various designated categories, to contact his office. The text of the complete statement prepared by Dr. Anderson follows:

"The Board of Education is very much concerned about the contributions of the educational program concerning the proper development of moral and spiritual values and, in addition, what may be described as the democratic heritage of the proper understanding of and appreciation for the American way of life. For this reason it is requesting a Community Study Committee to study and react to the following questions:

Questions for Study
1. How may the public schools change its curricular content and emphasis to improve its effectiveness in the teaching of moral, ethical and religious values? These values do not include the teaching of religion per se but may include teaching about religions and about the areas of complete agreement contained in all Christian-Hebraic principles or beliefs. Examples of these values are: human personality, the basic value; moral responsibility; institutions as the servants of man; common consent; devotion to truth; respect for excellence; moral equality; brotherhood; the pursuit of happiness; and spiritual enrichment.

2. What are the avenues for cooperative efforts of the home, the church and the school to agree upon the common objectives and to more diligently combine its forces for improvement in these areas?

3. What avenues of cooperation should there be between: public-parochial schools; public education-religious education?

4. As the separation of church and state is a basic principle accepted in the American way of life are there recommendations as to what should not be pursued?

5. What are the best ways to improve upon the teaching of the American way of life or the democratic heritage?

Suggested Personnel
The committee should consist of citizens from the community, professional staff members, high school students, members of the clergy representing many religious faiths, Board of Education and administration. A committee of this kind should not exceed 50 members and should be representative of the communities' thinking, as follows:

Board of Education; 2. Administration; 2. Professional Staff; 3. Students (3 from each High School); 6. Clergy or (Continued on Page 8)

October 11 Hearing Set In Woods-Schools Suit

By Pepper Whitelaw
Thomas Coulter, attorney for the Board of Education, announced on Monday, September 8, that a court date has been set on the suit instituted by the City of Grosse Pointe Woods against the Board of Education, with regard to parking at Grosse Pointe North High School.

The hearing has been slated for Friday, October 11, at 11 o'clock in the old County Building.

Will Ballot On Millage November 11

Many Other Matters Discussed at Hectic Session of Board of Education at South High

By Pepper Whitelaw

The School Board meetings continue to be the biggest show in town. Last Monday night some 150 persons crowded into South High's auditorium to discuss millage, school dress code, sex education, board members' ethics in presenting information . . . it was a mixed bag of topics of vital interest to everyone in the community.

The millage issue, by far the most important matter on the agenda, was outlined. The date for the special election was set for Tuesday, November 11, at the regularly designated election precincts in the school district. Polls will be open from 7 o'clock until 8 o'clock.

Governor's Program
Secretary Barbara Thompson discussed Governor Milliken's educational reform program. She indicated that because the program contained many highly controversial issues it is not likely to be passed quickly by the legislature. She also pointed out that in the past Grosse Pointe has not benefited greatly from any state aid programs.

Trustee Arnold Fuchs made a lengthy statement urging voters to remember two main points when considering operational millage: that we want the best possible education for our children and that we retain local control of our school district. He urged voters not to take out any dissatisfaction they might have with the school system in the wrong place, because if we did so we would be hurting our children and playing into the hands of those who would like to consolidate school districts and put them under regional or complete state control.

Pointers will vote on three proposals. The first will provide educational program renewal. All the school system's voted operational millage which expires in June of 1970. The increase from 18.50 to 25.45 mills is needed to meet the costs of increased enrollments and the rising cost of goods and services required to operate public schools in a period of serious inflation.

Committee Recommendation
Proposal No. 2—funds for the improvement of the public school's instructional program will be financed through the request for .75 of a mill to carry out the recommendations of the year-long 50-member representative community wide Millage Study Committee. Included will be additional personnel in special education and curriculum development.

A Bonding proposal in the amount of $8,850,000 will be used to carry out the recommendations of the South High School committee which met during the 1968-69 year and which was composed of 50 representative citizens. Part of the plan is for the replacement of the Annex. A master plan will be available from the Birmingham architectural firm of Linn-Smith by October 13, giving citizens nearly a month to study the proposal before the election on November 11. Anyone who has attended board meetings at South High School can attest to the need for improvements there.

After the agenda matters were taken care of trustee Arnold Fuchs asked that a motion which had been tabled in May of this year regarding sex education be removed from the table. The motion stated that before any film, lecture or anything that could be construed as sex education be given to the students their parents should be notified so they could have the option of removing their youngster from the class if they so desire in accordance with the state law.

Sparks Start to Fly
At this point sparks flew when Mrs. Hykes asked board attorney Thomas Coulter if Mr. Fuchs wasn't out of order. Mr. Coulter indicated that he was. However, Mr. Fuchs stated that according to Roberts Rules of Parliamentary Procedure his ac-

Educators Seek to Solve Teen Drug Abuse Problem

By Pepper Whitelaw
The ever-increasing problem of teenage drug abuse has resulted in education at both local and national levels taking positive action toward combating a problem that has hit the nation by storm. More teenagers are experimenting with drugs daily. Very few teenagers are aware what experimenting with drugs can do to their lives.

How does an otherwise average teenager get involved with drugs in the first place? Sometimes to be "in" with their peers. Sometimes because home and school pressures become too much for them. Sometimes as an escape from the realities of life. Sometimes in emulation of their parents, who have become part of the American pill-popping society.

Fortunately, local educators were alert enough to the problem when it first developed, to set the wheels in action for exhaustive studies on just what they could do to help students faced with the temptations of drugs.

The school system recognized the need for an educational program to combat the problem and accepted its responsibility to the welfare of the youth of the community.

A professional study committee commissioned a group of teachers to prepare resources to enable the faculty of each school to plan and present such a program. The committee's major objective was to make possible presentation of objective, factual programs dealing tion was perfectly proper. Fuchs indicated that Mr. Coulter had overstepped his position in dressing him down.

Mrs. Hykes then asked that the board's bylaws be read aloud by Mrs. Thompson. Prior to the reading she indicated that both Mr. Fuchs and vice-president Calvin Sandberg had previously requested that the bylaws be changed to assure board members that matters to be discussed at the regular meetings were previously discussed with members of the board.

Fuchs Thwarted, Again Another attempt by Mr. Fuchs was thwarted when he asked that the board go along with recent state legislation and declare a moratorium on sex education programs until guidelines were passed both by the state and our own school system.

Richard Kay, head of the schools negotiating team, reported to the board that teachers and representatives of the administration are slated to meet with a fact-finder on Saturday, September 13, in an effort to complete teacher negotiations.

The prime concern of most of those in attendance, however, appeared to be the school dress code. Some 75 students were in attendance, many of whom expressed their views on the code. The consensus of opinion appeared to be that they felt they did not have enough voice in the final formulation of the code.

Two Mothers Object Two mothers present also expressed dissatisfaction over the code. One mother indicated that what was considered proper school attire last year is not longer proper, causing undue financial hardship to parents who must replace entire wardrobes with this new code.

A father in the audience reminded the youngsters that when they went into the world of industry they would have rules they must follow and they should get used to following rules now.

A moment of comic relief was offered when board president Hykes recognizing a student said "the girl in the second row," only to discover the girl was a boy with long blond hair. The general attitude of the students was that the dress code did not allow them to express themselves in the styles popular today.

Some Requests Granted Board members pointed out that they had given the code serious consideration before passage and that they had incorporated some of the students' requests in the code.

A highlight of Monday night's meeting was a new look in Board presentations made by assistant-to-the-superintendent, George T. Eddington. This was an attempt to provide a more positive image of local public education activities than an observer might gain from attending these normally emotion-packed, tedious meetings often devoted to peripheral issues.

Monday's report covered behind the scenes summer preparation for the opening of schools, teacher orientation, and recent student activities. The presentation was very well received by the audience.

TO LANDSCAPE COURTS The Farms Council, at a meeting held on Monday, September 8, authorized City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., to accept bids for a landscaping program at the Municipal Pier-Park. The project calls for beautifying the area around the tennis courts which were recently installed in the new section of the park. Estimated cost of the job is set at about $3,250.

Teen Drug Abuse Problem

with the nature of the consequences of abuse.

Upon completion of the study, the committee found that the answer to the drug problem was one of communication... the teenagers needed to know the dangers and consequences of drug abuse. It was decided that each individual school could best plan its own programs in relation to the needs of its students and the unique qualifications of its own faculty.

Last year throughout the system panel discussions were held, movies were shown and an interchange of ideas began.

Recently Wayne State University offered a special program on Drugs for school personnel. Pointers participating included Ed Krattli of the Youth Assistance Committee of Family Life Education Council, Jean Campbell, Counselor at South High School, and Thomas Buyze of Pafellis Middle School.

The Institute provided an opportunity for school personnel to obtain the most current information regarding drugs as well as to explore methods and attitudes involved in the counseling of students regarding drug usage. The program covered topics ranging from what youths say about drugs and the drug problem, drug facts, medical and psychiatric perspective and implications, philosophical approach to drug education, curriculum development and perspectives in drug education, research regarding marijuana and dangerous drugs, counseling and treatment aspects of drug use, law enforcement, legal questions on drug use, community action programs and the role of the change agent.

Participants in the course reported that they became more intimately acquainted with the facts about drugs, and learned more about attitudes and behavior of young people involved in the drug scene. They felt more competent and secure in helping set up drug programs in schools and in providing more effective counseling.

These participants will now be excellent resource persons for helping other faculty members provide accurate information to students in classrooms as well as helping faculty members develop attitudes which are more effective in discussing the drug problem with students.

Next week we will have some of the impressions the three local institute participants gleaned from this program and more on the local programs.

The Woods is asking the court to compel the Board to utilize and construct off-street-parking facilities at the site of North High or on the recently acquired five acres adjoining the site to comply with the city's zoning ordinance or reduce the enrollment of North by transferring sufficient number of students to other facilities in order to restore the enrollment to 1,800 students and 125 staff members.

The city charges because of the increased enrollment and the increase in the size of the staff, the Board should be compelled to comply with the presently existing zoning requirements. Students and staff should be required to have available 719 permanent off-street-parking spaces, where in fact the Board has less than the announced 467 spaces upon which the original approval was granted.

The Woods also charges that since the opening, the main assembly unit has had its seating capacity increased by the installation of 746 temporary seats which would require an additional 186 off-street-parking

Good Replacements Fill 110 Teaching Vacancies

Lawrence F. Kennedy, Assistant Superintendent — Personnel for the Grosse Pointe Public School System, has provided background information on the 110 vacancies that were filled by his office for the 1969-70 year.

"Grosse Pointe regularly looks for as well-experienced replacements as are available. This recruiting season we were successful in employing (or having return) 78 experienced teachers out of 110," he said. "An overall average experience of 5.0 years is represented by this group. This compares to 3.5 years of experience which has been the average in several preceding years," he added.

Training of the replacements and additions, (exclusive of those returning from leave), took place in 10 states other than Michigan, according to Mr. Kennedy. He said that 21 teachers earned their degrees in 18 out-of-state institutions. Sixteen Michigan institutions granted highest degrees to 89 teachers employed this year.

"Level of training is another important criterion in the quality of a teaching staff," Mr. Kennedy said. "This year we were able to employ 49 or 44.5 per cent with a master's degree or higher. This is higher than usual as the pattern is generally about in three. Overall, the staff in 1968-69 was composed of 40.2 per cent with bachelor's degrees and 59.8 per cent with the master's," he added.

Mr. Kennedy's tabulation reveals that 35 per cent of the elementary teachers have a master's degree or higher, 56 per cent of those at the middle school level are in this category, and 51 per cent of the newcomers in the senior high schools have a MA or better.

Kennedy also released details on the staffing of the local schools for the 1969-70 year.

"Our search is an extensive one," he said, "ranging in terms of personal visitations to 67 college campuses from Massachusetts to Colorado and from North Dakota to Southern Ohio — an activity that begins in January and runs throughout the balance of the school year."

Mr. Kennedy said that the schools have an MA or better. ers from six major sources, including computer files maintained by ASCUS (what does this stand for?) and the National Education Association, referrals from staff members, contacts at conferences, responses to literature placed in 300 colleges and universities, and from teachers or residents who know us and who wish to enter or re-enter the teaching field.

"As school opens this fall, the number of professional positions staffed will approximate 747, including the public library. This represents an increase of approximately 20 positions over the 1968-69 staff," Mr. Kennedy said. "By and large we can report that the 110, newcomers to the faculty represent quality replacements and additions, most of whom will make important contributions to education in our town," he added.

Assistant Superintendent Kennedy said that nearly a thousand written applications for teaching positions for the fall of 1969 were received in the Personnel Office. About 623 of these were for secondary school opportunities, 307 for elementary school positions, and 51 for special education posts.

Mr. Kennedy added that the applications that were processed were the result of contacts made with more than 3000 prospective candidates during the spring and summer. From 500 to 700 were interviewed on 67 campuses but not all made written application.

"The positions most heavily sought after were social studies, English, foreign language, and boys' physical education. Scarcities were noted in mathematics, science, girls' physical education, and the practical arts," Mr. Kennedy commented.

Of the 623 secondary school applicants in all subject matter fields or about 9.6 per cent were employed. At the elementary school level, 44 teachers or about 14 per cent were hired from the 307 applicants. Six of 51 applicants, or 12 per cent were employed for special education positions.

Unitarians Set
Fall Schedule

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee, begins its fall schedule of services at 10:30 a.m., Sunday September 14. Goals of the church will be the sermon topic for Dr. Harp Meserve.

Registration and the fall term of Sunday School will also begin September 14. Children are to be registered at the Sunday School office according to Mrs. Birnie-Visscher.

Coffee and discussion will follow the service. Visitors are welcome.

Many Pointers
Apply At WCCC

Preliminary applications for the Wayne County Community College classes to be held at North High School were "most revealing."

Of the 116 applicants 106 are Pointers, two are from Windsor and the remainder from Harper Woods and Zone 24 (this is the area bounded by Seven Mile, Harper, Alter and Mack).

Some 83 housewives have applied, 84 applicants have never attended college before and 29 are entering into second year courses.

It appears as though Pointers are anxious to reap the benefits of WCCC courses on their own grounds.

Thief Removes $31 from Purse

The thief entered the kitchen and removed $31 from Mrs. Remick's purse, which was on the kitchen table.

Nothing else was missing from the house. Footprints were found in a flower bed near the porch door.

Bet a lot of people will agree, a better term for INCOME TAX would be "Capital Punishment"

Do you know when the first Income-Tax Law was passed? Surprisingly it was over 100 years ago. In 1862, Abraham Lincoln signed the first bill into law; but it was repealed 10 years later.

Another attempt was made in 1894 under Grover Cleveland... This time it was declared unconstitutional.

Finally, in 1913, during Woodrow Wilson Administration, the 16th amendment was adopted and Income Tax came here to stay.

Since then, constant revisions in policy are causes of worry—especially in the Real Estate field. Safety Plea youngsters see their parents cheating a little, they get the idea they can cheat a bit too, and this leads to some serious problems."

Blair claimed that traffic safety education has to start at home and that most of the children in the Park are supervised to and from school, but not after school, when they tend to forget their safety lessons and play too near the streets.

Parents Must Help
"Parents have to realize that they must not leave correctional measures to the police and teachers," said Blair. "Good examples by parents at home and on the road are the answer to most problems."

Woods School Safety Officer Steve Petrik is proud of the community's safety record, but hasn't let up in his efforts to maintain it.

"We haven't had a pedestrian death in the Woods in more than a decade," he said. "This means the police, parents and teachers are working hard to teach traffic safety."

The Woods has seven grammar schools, one middle school and four high schools which require constant safety supervision, according to Petrik, who conducts a regular safety program in the pre-school classes and in the first three grades of the grammar schools.

Should Map Routes
"Parents should actually map out the safest route to and from school for their children," said Petrik. "They should tell their children not to linger around the school unnecessarily and encourage them to go right home."

Parsons, Allor and MacEachren, all three of whom conduct safety sessions in their schools, placed emphasis on constantly reminding children of the danger of traffic.

Among those practices which they attempt to discourage are plying too near the streets, crossing in mid-block or from between parked cars, bounding from parked cars without looking, and riding their bikes in the streets against the law.

Motorists Warned
All five police agencies warn motorists that darkness is arriving earlier these days, requiring more attention on the part of drivers in residential areas.

Those youngsters who drive to school are urged to "take it easy in traffic" and remember that their automobiles are not playthings, but, if used in a reckless manner, they can maim as surely as a shotgun, according to police.

Flight Training Class to Start

A fall course in pre-flight training will begin at the War Memorial on Monday evening, September 15 at 7 o'clock.

Under the direction of no nonsense instructors W. E. Coche and Connie Earl, the course covers all phases of pre-flight training including meteorology, navigation and FAA regulations. The final session is an examination given by the FAA which is necessary to receive a private pilot's license.

The course is offered for $25. Arrangements may be made for an in-flight lesson at an additional $5. Enrollments are now being taken in the Centers of office.

PARK OKAYS PURCHASE

At a meeting held Monday, September 8, the Park Council authorized City Manager Robert Slone to purchase a three-quarter ton stake body truck, and a three-quarter ton pickup truck, for the low bids of $2,704 and $2,114, respectively, from the Raynal Brothers Company of Detroit. The trucks are for use by the Department of Public Works.

Arrest Five in Dope Raid

James Beyer Lewis, 24, of 265 Williams.

Participating in the raid, besides a squad of State policemen, were Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt and Dets. Charles Petrie and Robert Seifryd.

Director Ellenberg said that James Sweet has been a pusher of the weed for possibly quite some time, but that his activities came to the attention of the authorities approximately four months ago, when numerous bits of information disclosed that the youth was engaged in the illegal business.

The director said that during the course of the investigation, it was found that Sweet was responsible for a major share of sales of marijuana in the Pointe

Put Finger on Self

Ellenberg also explained that Watson's arrest was a "bonus", in that police were armed with a warrant for the arrest of Sweet, only. The undercover agent made a purchase from Sweet and indicated that he would like to buy more of the weed. Watson disclosed that he had the stuff and sold it to the agent, after which the agent gave a prearranged signal and police converged on the Somerset residence.

"The State policemen and Sgt. LaPratt and Dets. Petrie and Saifryd are to be highly commended for doing a tremendous job of police work in breaking the case," Director Ellenberg stated. "They spent many hours over a period of months, on and off duty, in conducting their surveillance, and sifting out information in this matter.

"I am proud that the detectives of our department participated in the case, working with a fine group of State police officers, and that they were able to gather enough evidence to make arrests, and in some measure help to dry up the filthy stuff. All these officers are fine dedicated public servants."

Many a man works fast just to save a little time that he can spend recklessly.

Driver Trapped in Car Impaled on Light Pole

A power failure in the streetlights along Lakeshore road and the sound of an impact led Shores police on Saturday, September 6, to the scene of a spectacular accident on Lake Shore road.
 Patrolmen Robert Bensinger and Donald Fronczak were on routine patrol shortly before 12:30 a.m. along Lakeshore road, when they observed the streetlights blink a number of times and finally go out. At about the same time they heard the impact of what they thought was a vehicle hitting a tree.
 After radioing the Shores police station, where Sgt. Charles Wenrich advised them to call for an ambulance, the officers proceeded to Lakeshore and Locmoor boulevard, where they saw a late model automobile impaled on a light pole.
 The officers found the driver of the car, 23-year old John Scott, of 12061 Vaughn, Detroit, trapped in the car and they were unable to remove him without proper equipment.

The Woods Department of Public Safety responded to their requests for cutting equipment and sent a snorkel fire-fighting vehicle to the scene of the accident, under the direction of Woods Lt. Allen Selby.
 The Woods officers used a wire-cutter to separate the car from the Edison pole and used a saw to extricate the driver from the pile of smashed steel.
 Shores police estimate the vehicle was traveling in excess of 90 miles per hour, when it left the road's surface, knocked down two trees near Colonial and struck the light pole.
 After freeing Scott from the wreckage, Bensinger and Fronczak, with the assistance of Patrolmen Gordon Schwartz, conveyed the driver to Bon Secours Hospital, where he was reported in good condition.

In the aftermath of the accident, police were forced to wash gas from the highway and clear the area of parts of the smashed vehicle, which were strewn over a wide area.
 Police are continuing their investigation into the cause of the accident.

City Asks Help On Leaf Pickups

City of Grosse Pointe Public Works Superintendent, Doug Collinson reminds residents that leaves and grass clippings should be placed in proper containers such as bushel baskets and plastic bags for pickup by the City.
 Mr. Collinson indicated that some residents are placing leaves and grass clippings in loose piles between the curb and sidewalk. This type of pickup is difficult and time-consuming and the public works department is not staffed man-power-wise to handle such collections. All leaves and grass placed in containers are picked up as part of the regular scheduled rubbish collection.
 Mr. Collins stated that during the special fall leaf pickup season, residents may rake their leaves into windrow piles along the curb where they will be picked up by the City with its vacuum truck. This is the only time during the year when loose leaves and grass clippings are picked up by the City. The special fall leaf pickup program is scheduled to start October 1.

Sign Thieves

(Continued from Page 1) lem in the Park," he said, "but it does occur. If the youngsters responsible for the thefts, or their parents, return the missing signs, consideration will be given regarding what steps to take in each case."

City Police Chief Andrew Teetaert said the City loses about three or four signs a year. Occasionally the signs are recovered.

"Our biggest problem so far this year, is the loss of parking meters," the chief said. "The number removed was six. Often, the taking of a meter is just a prank. The meter is generally recovered, at another location."

Thief Did Neat Job
"However, we did have a theft of a double-head meter in Fisher road, opposite the High School, where the thief used a pipe-cutter to remove both the post and the meters. These thefts are the fault of permissive parents who allow their children to do these things."

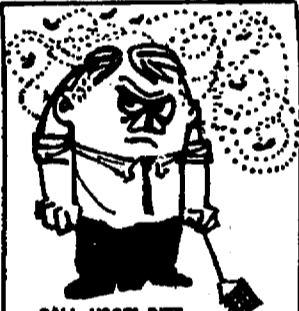

Woods Director of Public Safety Donald Coats said that an occasional report is received regarding a missing sign, but generally, the signs are found, sometimes in the road, and sometimes in vacant lots. He said that in the past month, two directional arrow signs were stolen and have not yet been recovered. The Woods has lost about two "No Parking" signs within the past year, he added.

In the Shores, in the absence of Police Chief Thomas Cochill, Det. Frank Mustazza, said that there has been no great loss of street signs. The department receives about 10 reports a year. "A few of the youngsters want the signs to decorate their bedrooms, and parents, it seems, allow them to do this," Mustazza said. "These parents should know that these signs were obtained illegally, but they do nothing about it."

"Naturally, we would like to get these items back, and it is up to the ones who took them, or their parents, to return these signs," the detective added. The police chiefs urge all parents to check their children's rooms, and if they find these traffic signs to return them to their respective police departments.

Driver Deliberately Aimed Car to Run Down Policeman

A Farms police officer narrowly escaped injury when a speeding driver deliberately tried to run him down on the Grosse Pointe Academy grounds on Thursday, September 4. The policeman leaped out of the way and tossed his flashlight at the vehicle as it sped past, smashing the left front window.

The officer, Patrolman John Kraiza, said that he and his partner, Patrolman John Farley, were on routine patrol at about 2:30 a.m., when they heard the sound of a racing motor in the area of St. Paul School and the Academy grounds, and they drove onto the Academy land to investigate.

Kraiza said that he and Farley drove to the garage and tool shed sans car lights, and waited for the motor sound to resume. Shortly after, the other car approached at a fast clip, still on the school grounds.

Kraiza, who was driving, said that he was unable to turn the police car around fast enough to give chase, and he decided to exit on Moran road. He stopped near Lake Shore road, and tried to pick up the sound of the racing motor.

The policeman said he was standing about three feet from the curb on Moran, when he saw the vehicle, a 1964 bronze-colored Plymouth, two-door hardtop approaching on Lake Shore.

Kraiza said he turned his flashlight in the direction of the on-coming auto, then flashed it on himself, so the driver could see him, and then again at the car.

The driver of the vehicle slowed to 20 miles an hour, Kraiza and Farley stated in their report, then the motorist stepped on the gas to a speed of about 40 miles an hour, and deliberately aimed the vehicle at Kraiza, who was forced to leap out of the way.

As the driver sped past, Kraiza threw his flashlight at him. The flashlight struck the left front window, shattering it, spattering glass fragments on the man behind the wheel, and his passenger, whom the officers just noticed.

Farley radioed an alert to all stations, after which all hospitals were notified to call the Farms station in the event anyone should apply for treatment for possible injuries, in case they were cut by the glass.

Kraiza said that he could not identify the felonious driver or his companion because of the darkness. Too, the officer said, he was unable to get the license plate number of the auto.

This nation was built on faith—only yours will preserve it.

Driver Accused Of Being Drunk

A Detroit motorist was arrested in the Farms station and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. The arrest followed an accident that took place at Kercheval and Vendome on Friday, September 5.

According to an official police report, Donald G. Szelag, 31, of 10069 Morley, ran into a parked car, causing damage amounting to $200 to his vehicle and approximately $300 to the other.

Patrolman Philip Miglio said that when he arrived at the accident scene, Szelag was not in the car. A public utility man, who was working in the area, heard the sound of the police siren, and ran to Kercheval and Vendome.

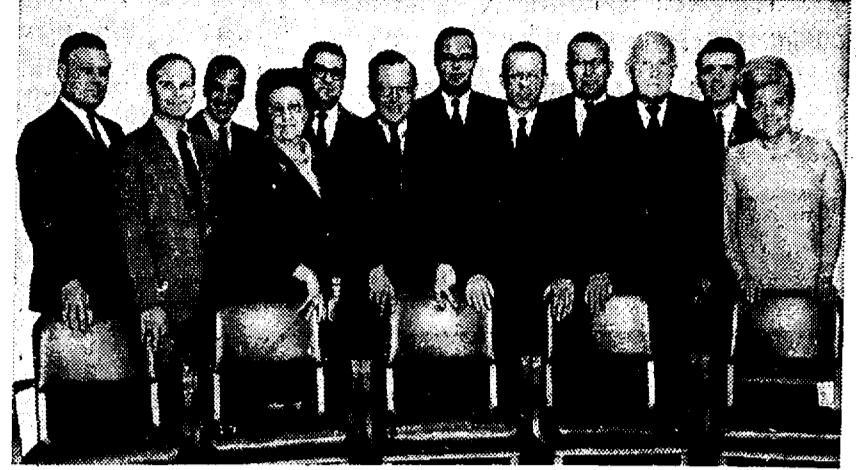

The witness identified Szelag's auto as the one he had seen being driven in an erratic manner on the streets.

The utility man said that at about 11:30 a.m., he observed the car going on Lake Shore road to Provençal road, make a wide right turn onto Provençal, hitting the west curb, then drove north toward Kercheval at a moderate speed. Szelag, said the witness, was driving from one side of the road to the other, almost striking a parked car.

Szelag turned left onto Kercheval, going west, and drove through a red traffic signal at Moross road, forcing another driver to stop to allow him to pass.

The witness said he stopped at the Lakeview intersection to make a service call, when he heard the siren, and ran to the scene, where he recognized Szelag's vehicle.

Miglio went to the station, where he found Szelag, and placed him under arrest.

Hospital Opens New Facility

Saint John Hospital will officially open its new Emergency-Outpatient Support Facility on Friday, September 12. This new facility will be on display during an open house to which the public is invited from 2:30-6 p.m. on that day.

This facility contains a modern laboratory, a fully equipped x-ray department and an electrocardiogram unit. It is designed to provide all diagnostic support services required by the emergency and outpatient departments of the Hospital.

The construction of this facility, part of a two-phase expansion program, had become necessary because of the dramatic increase in the use of the emergency and outpatient departments. In the past five years, the use of hospital emergency services has doubled to a current rate of 50,000 cases a year.

The second phase of this expansion program will double the size of the emergency services department through the construction of a new building adjacent to the present emergency department. Scheduled for completion in 1970, this new building will also contain a new research facility.

This expansion program has been made possible through funds raised by the Men's Guild and Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital.

Ray Fleming, M.F.A. graduate of the Cranbrook Academy of Fine Arts who is now on the faculty of Cranbrook's Kingswood School after serving on the Mercy College faculty, will spend all day Tuesday and Tuesday evening teaching at Grosse Pointe War Memorial as he has done for the past several years with great success.

Beginning Oil Painting will be taught by Mr. Fleming on Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 12:30 starting September 16. Beginning the same date, he will hold a Life class with model from 1 to 4 p.m. and there will be an evening class for those employed through the day from 7 to 10 where class members may work from either still life or live models. Fee for any of Mr. Fleming's classes is $50 for a 10 week term of three hour classes.

Water Color will be taught for the first time in some seasons by Donald Schrom M.F.A. of Bowling Green and Wayne State University. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Water Color Society and on the faculty of Grosse Pointe University School. His water color class will be held at the center Wednesday evenings at 7:30 starting September 17. The fee for the Water Color course is $35 for 10 weeks instruction.

A special class in Figure Drawing will be held for Senior High School students Wednesday afternoons from 4 to 6 p.m. also starting September 17. These will be taught by Robert Rathbun, very popular art instructor at High School North who recently spent a year's advanced study in Florence, Italy. The fee for this class is $25 for 10 two-hour weekly lessons.

Portrait Painting with New York Art Students League scholarship winner Joseph Maniscalco begins Wednesday morning, September 17, from 9:30 to noon. Ten weeks instruction is offered for $35.

Advance enrollments for these classes at the Center's office is suggested and would be appreciated.

Saturday, September 13, at home.

Although the Norsemen turned in a three-win, five-loss record last year, they may prove to be the toughest match for any Bi-County League school this fall and could pick up the title in their second year as a league member. The NEWS thinks they will.

OVER AT AUSTIN CATHOLIC High School, Head Coach Larry Rancilio is faced with one of the toughest schedules he has had to cope with as head mentor of the Friars.

Austin, a member of the football-conscious Catholic League Central Division, opens its 1969 grid season against Royal Oak Shrine, Saturday, September 13.

The 38-man squad will be running from a Winged-T formation, with a split end. Sporting the look of a team with big backs and an above-average sized line, Austin hopes to make an early impression on its Catholic League opponents.

Rancilio claimed that although Rick Woodbury, the Friars' split end, stands only 5-foot-10 and weighs slightly over 160 pounds, he has good speed, quick moves and a sure pair of hands.

Co-Captains Mike Varty and Pat Kawa lend credence to Rancilio's claim that the Friars are big. Varty is a 6-foot-3, 198-pound offensive end and Kawa stands 6-foot-1 and weighs in at nearly 190 pounds. Kawa plays offensive guard and defensive linebacker. Both boys are seniors.

"I look for good seasons from John Yacobelli, Paul Misiewicz and Dick Rancilio," said the coach. "There's not a doubt in my mind that we'll compile a much better record than our three-win five-loss showing of last year."

The NEWS thinks that Austin has all the horses to make a good showing in the Central Division and, with a few breaks, that the Friars might grab league honors. No matter, wins will be more numerous than losses at Austin Catholic High in 1969.

UNIVERSITY-LIGGETT School will be sporting an I-Formation on offense this fall as Head Coach Tim Taber pulls out all the stops in an effort to show the eight rival schools on his 1969 grid schedule that the Knights know what to do with the Vikings when they get their hands on it.

Taber, a former professional griddier now in his second year as head coach at the school, likes the attitude of his team.

"We have a small squad, both in numbers and weight, but these kids are really fired up," claimed Taber. "They have looked tough in the pre-season scrimmages and I think they are beginning to get some real confidence in themselves."

The Knights open their eight-game slate against Southern Thumb League member, Almont, Friday, September 12, at 4 p.m. on their home field. Taber thinks the first two games may set the pace for the entire season.

"Our passing attack has pleased me and our running game seems fairly sound," Taber pointed out. "However, I would consider the overall team speed as just average."

University-Liggett School ran up a five-win, three-loss record in 1968, showing an amazingly strong defense in the latter half of the season, when it whitewashed its final four opponents.

All-State basketball star, Dale McCarthy, will open the season as the Knights' first-string signal-caller in a backfield which also includes George Finkenstadt, Larry Scott and Mark Kulek.

Mark's brother, Ralph, one of the finest receivers in the area, will operate at end for the Knights. Although he was injured early in the pre-season practice sessions, Taber claims he will be ready for the team's opener.

Among those players upon whom Taber is placing his hopes for a fine season are senior offensive center and defensive middle guard, Jim Perry, linebacker Don Lenox, defensive end Doug Weiss, defensive halfback Chuck Shreve, safety Mike Goetz and blocking back Marty Wieceorek, one of the school's best "crackback" blockers.

Senior Gary Burke, who Taber claims could be an All-Stater by the season's end, plays both ways at the tackle post and Mike Oberski, a junior letterman, and senior Bill Schnell should give the Knights some real talent up front.

"You might compare us to the old-time teams," said Taber. "Instead of doing a lot of platooning, we'll be using many 60-minute ballplayers this year."

The NEWS likes the attitude and passing of the Knights and predicts a better record this fall for the University-Liggett School gridders. Possibly their toughest ball game will take place on Saturday, September 27, when they journey to Culver Military Academy for an encounter with the always strong cadets.

ST. AMBROSE is a team to be reckoned with in the Catholic League's Double A Division. The Cavaliers, a perennial powerhouse, will be striking at their opponents from a varied, pro-type offense this year under the tutelage of Head Coach Joe D'Angelo.

Although the Cavaliers are not an exceptionally heavy outfit for 1969, they are tall and possess some good speed throughout the backfield and in the line. D'Angelo also has them in good shape.

"I think we are playing the toughest schedule of any league school," said D'Angelo. "One thing that pleases me is the fact that we have moved all our home games to Grosse Pointe South's home field."

The Cavaliers have a big and quick quartet of backs, one of whom already is being tailed by Big Ten football scouts.

Senior Fullback Paul Hayner, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound battering ram, is being watched closely this season by both the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, but these scouts may have to keep an eye on a few other St. Ambrose ballplayers.

Mark Sopoligi, a 180-pound junior, will be quarterbacking the Cavaliers and Joe Bommarito, another 180-pound junior, will be running at one half, while fleet 175-pound Ron Mele, a senior, will be filling the remaining backfield slot.

Two other boys upon whom D'Angelo is counting heavily, are tight end Chris Horvath, a 195-pound senior, who is also an honor student, and 6-foot-3, 215-pound senior, Jim Higgins, a tackle, who is also being greedily eyed by Big Ten scouts.

The Cavaliers get their season under way on Sunday, September 14, against the U of D High Cubs, a powerhouse group in the Central Division last year.

The NEWS feel that St. Ambrose, if they stay healthy and get a few breaks, could be one of the finest teams in their class in the state, when the final gun for the 1969 season has sounded.

ST. PAUL'S HIGH SCHOOL will field a small team this season, but one which opponents will have to watch closely. Those who follow the Lakers each season know they are never to be underestimated.

High School Gridders Set

leading kicker. "We may be small, but we've got some really old-fashioned, heads-up ball players," claimed Sahadi.

One of those is senior offensive and defensive end, Terry Allard, the Lakers' captain this season. Allard has good moves and is rugged on defense, the greatest strength of the 1969 Laker gridders.

Two other skilled performers are Dennis and Mike Nally, a brother combination, who would be tough in any league. Dennis is a senior fullback, while his brother plays guard. Football talent runs in the Nally family. The boys' oldest brother, Tom, is in his first year at Tulsa, where he is on a four-year athletic scholarship and a defensive halfback.

Lennie MacEachern, a senior halfback, who weighs 160 pounds, is one of the fastest backs on the squad and could prove to be a real sparkplug.

The Lakers open their season on Sunday, September 14, against St. David at Grosse Pointe South field.

Although the Lakers may not grab league honors this season in the Catholic League's Second Division East, the NEWS thinks they will at least prove themselves to be 'spoilers' and, with a few good bounces of the pigskin, Sahadi's gridders might fool the experts and take it all.

GROSSE POINTE SOUTH High School's gridders have been termed "young and green" by Head Coach Russ Hepner, a graduate of Bowling Green University, where he was an offensive halfback.

"We have 53 boys on the varsity," said Hepner. "Although our team speed is really good, we will be hurting, if we have to reach for any help from the bench."

Of the first three units, 17 juniors will find themselves holding down spots in the front wall on both offense and defense. The backfield is in much better shape and has had some experience.

Operating out of the Winged-T, with some pre-set formations, the Blue Devils plan to rely offensively much of the time on the passing arm of senior signal-caller and co-captain, Tom Reghanti, a 6-foot-2, 185-pounder.

The team will also count on Co-Captain and offensive end, Skip Shirar, a 5-foot-11, 185-pound senior for help as well as returning lettermen, Jim Parker, an offensive and defensive end, Chris Penoyer, an offensive fullback, and Bill Ehrlich, a talented halfback.

"We'll have about eight boys who will be forced to go both ways this season," said Hepner. "Many of our lads have not been 'under fire' yet, but time will heal a lot of our problems."

The 1969 Blue Devils get under way Saturday, September 13, against powerful Ann Arbor High, rated third in the state last year, in a home game.

Although the Blue Devils may not have the experience, the NEWS looks for them to be well coached and predicts a fine

Boutique Seeks Zoning Variance

At a Public Hearing in the City of Grosse Pointe on Monday, August 18, the Board of Zoning Appeals heard a variance request from Irene Moses, owner of Michelle's Boutique, 17864 Mack avenue. Mrs. Moses requested that the city permit erection of an 18 by 18 foot single story addition to the rear of the existing building and reduce the off-street parking space requirement from seven to two spaces.

A petition bearing 28 signatures, representing 16 parcels of property, opposed the variance. The opposers indicated that they were concerned that the variance would contribute to the traffic problem. They also stated that it would mean an added accumulation of unsightly trash.

Mrs. Moses' architect Robert Rooney, indicated that the trash situation would be improved because the owners would box their trash. As to the traffic situation they said most of Michelle's customers were clientele of Leon's and would be using the parking valet service. They also said the addition would improve the view of the back area.

Mrs. Moses said she would look into the parking situation and report back to the Board.

The Board took the matter under advisement pending a report from Mrs. Moses.

Check Presented By First Society

A check for $2,000 was turned over to the Michigan Kidney Foundation last week by the First Society of Detroit at a Luncheon at Jim's Garage.

The money represents proceeds from a benefit party staged August 10 at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club by the First Society for more than 400 young single persons from throughout the Detroit metropolitan area.

First Society President Larry P. Miller said the $2,000 will go toward purchase and maintenance of an artificial kidney machine at the Receiving Branch of Detroit General Hospital. Accepting the check for the Michigan Kidney Foundation was its president, Charles E. Monahan.

This latest contribution by the First Society brings to nearly $40,000 the amount donated by the all-singles group to a variety of Detroit-area charities since its founding in 1963.

A 15-member executive committee plans and stages three First Society benefits each year to raise the money.

Set Occupational Education Programs at North High

New occupational education programs in Distributive Education and Office Education will be offered in Grosse Pointe North High School this September, according to Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools.

Distributive Education is an occupational program of vocational instruction in the fields of marketing, merchandising, and management which prepares students for occupations in marketing or merchandising of goods or services.

Office Education is an occupational program of vocational instruction in the field of office occupations. It prepares students for such occupations as executive secretaries, office supervisors, receptionists, and employees engaged in other related jobs.

Both the Distributive Education and Office Education Programs operate on a cooperative plan developed between the school and the community. In the morning students take a regular program, including their related Distributive Education or Office Education class.

In the afternoon, students report to their training stations in various businesses in the community.

At North High, Charles Hitch has been selected as the Distributive Education Teacher-Coordinator and Paul Pierron has been appointed as Office Education Teacher-Coordinator.

Grosse Pointe South High School has had a program of cooperative education for 10 years. Maynard Leigh, Distributive Education Teacher-Coordinator and Mrs. Dorothy Holcomb, Office Education Teacher-Coordinator will join Mr. Hitch and Mr. Pierron in contacting local businessmen to locate suitable placements.

For more detailed information, businessmen and other potential employers are urged to contact the Grosse Pointe North Business Education Department (phone 886-8100) or the Grosse Pointe South Business Education Department (phone 884-3200).

Supreme Court Revives Old Suit

A libel suit brought by supporters of conservative Republican leader Richard Durant against some of his political opponents and the Detroit News is back in Wayne County Circuit Court where it began some six years ago.

The Michigan Supreme Court ruled unanimously Wednesday, September 3, that Wayne Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid and the State Court of Appeals should have heard factual arguments instead of dismissing the case on the strength of the defendant's assurance that malice was not intended.

The suit actually is a consolidation of six cases centering around a May 10, 1962 letter from former Senator John Stahlin to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in which it was charged that Durant of Grosse Pointe, (14th District Republican Chairman) and right-wing elements were trying to take over the state GOP.

Named as defendants were the Evening News Association, publisher of the Detroit News; Martin S. Hayden, editor of the Detroit News; candidate for governor, Paul Bagwell, and Stahlin, a candidate for 1962 GOP lieutenant governor nomination. Stahlin is currently an unpaid assistant to Governor Milliken.

Former Governor George Romney was named in a closely related suit but the complaint was dismissed.

Says Abandoned Car Was Stolen

Richard Lanski, City patrolman, was on routine patrol on Thursday, September 4, when he observed a car traveling north on Fisher from Maumee, squealing tires. He ordered the driver to pull over to the curb.

As Lanski was turning around the youth ran from the car. Lanski impounded the automobile. Later that same day a 16-year-old youth entered the station and reported the vehicle Lanski impounded, as stolen.

Lanski was called to the station and identified the young man as the one who fled after being stopped. The youth was issued a violation for making excessive noise with his tires and another for a defective muffler. The car was held at the station until the youth's father arrived and guaranteed to replace the muffler.

Burglar Visits Florist's Shop

A young burglar, who broke into the Paselk Florist Shop, 73 Kercheval avenue, was seen getting into a waiting automobile with two other youths. The breakin took place on Thursday, September 4, according to Farms police.

Patrolmen John Kraiza and John Farley, dispatched to the shop, said they found a three by five-foot window broken from inside, and a one-foot 11-inch glass broken from the greenhouse roof, through which it is surmised the thief entered.

A man walking his dog at about 11 p.m., told the officers that as he neared St. James Lutheran Church in McMillan, he heard the sound of breaking glass, and saw a young man, who appeared to be in his teens, approach a parked car in the alley and get in. Two other teenagers were in the vehicle, the witness said.

He could not describe the burglar's companions, but said the one who entered the car was about five feet seven inches tall, had dark bushy hair, and was dark complected.

William L. Best of 15116 Kercheval, manager of the shop, was called by the officers. He looked over the premises and said that all he could determine to be missing was about $20 in silver change. However, he said, an inventory will be taken to find out if anything else had been stolen.

The driver of the get-away car drove toward Kercheval, turned right and out of sight, the witness said.

Adult Education Classes Starting

Adult education is about to play its prominent part in the fall season as both young people and their elders find their way back to the classrooms.

Last year there were approximately 6,000 registrants for the 86 different kinds of classes offered to adults by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System. This year promises to bring the same kind of excitement to those who participate.

The pronouncement of "No Final Exams—No Report Cards—No Failures" seems to highlight the philosophy of a program designed to put the student at ease in a stimulating learning atmosphere. Grosse Pointe adults will be able, once again, to enter their excellent school facilities at a time when the young people are not there, and put these facilities to full use. Typing equipment, home economic rooms, gymnasiums, swimming pools, stages, shops, and classrooms of all descriptions are kept active during the evening hours for adult classes of all descriptions.

Self improvement courses range from typing to transcription, from foreign languages to English for New Americans, from creative writing to investment procedures. Adults' special interests are served in such classes as bridge, auto mechanics (for ladies, too), photography, power squadron. The music and dance offerings go from instruction to play a banjo to participation in a symphony orchestra. All types of sewing and cooking are available with expert instruction. The arts and crafts offer opportunity for the novice and the expert alike in anything from lapidary to decoupage. Men and women can find fun-filled classes in many forms of sports and exercises and all levels of participation.

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools has announced this adult education program as one that has something to offer every Grosse Pointe adult citizen. Further information concerning a reservation in classes scheduled to begin during the last week in September may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271.

Young Bicyclist Killed in Woods

A bicycle-riding Woods youngster was struck and killed by a young motorist on Wednesday, September 3, in an accident which Woods police are still investigating.

Robert Santi, 7, of 21400 Van K, was struck at 7:08 p.m. and died in the early morning hours of Thursday, September 4, at St. John Hospital, where he had been conveyed by Woods ambulance shortly after the accident.

The youngster was hit by a vehicle, northbound in front of 21420 Van K., according to police, who said the child's Stingray bicycle was dragged approximately 85 feet from the point of impact.

The 16-year-old driver of the automobile, a 1968 Pontiac, was charged with negligent homicide, but police officials said final charges in the case will not be made until an extensive investigation is completed. Police said they have received a number of conflicting statements from various witnesses to the accident.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools At the September 8 meeting of the Board of Education I reported to the trustees and to those in the audience the latest enrollment figures for the beginning of the 1969-70 year and I discussed summer school enrollment. Because both of these subjects contain long-range implications, I wish to comment upon them.

and increasing tuition in all three levels. If the total enrollment of elections for the average of the two-year period preceding the establishment of the policy to attempt to make the summer school self-supporting (1966-67) is compared to the two-year period of higher tuition (1968-69), there is a decrease of 27 per cent. Furthermore, there is a decrease of 14 per cent in 1969 compared to 1968.

It was our prediction that the decrease in enrollment had stabilized in 1968, the year when tuition was increased up to 67 per cent, and that further moderate tuition increases would not result in a significant decrease in enrollment. The failure to predict the 14 per cent enrollment drop during the second year of the self-sustaining policy accounts for the net loss in the financial report.

No changing trends are evident in the ratio of students in the public school system and those not in the system with the possible exception of the 1969 elementary school enrollment, when fewer non-public students enrolled than in any other year in the five-year period.

Changing trends in the ratio of elections in enrichment and strengthening courses are due, to a significant extent, to curriculum planning. Nevertheless, it appears that increases in tuition had a greater effect on enrollment in enrichment courses than in strengthening courses.

As to the second topic, a five-year study of summer school enrollment trends, we note there is a very clear relationship between decreasing enrollment

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Gerda E. Bleilitz

Everybody — well, ALMOST everybody — knows the Central Library; but do you know your Branches? Do you use them? Your Grosse Pointe Public Library card entitles you to borrow from all three Grosse Pointe Public Libraries: Central, Park, and Woods.

It's PARK BRANCH I want to talk about. Since it is located in a wing of Pierce Middle School, adults sometimes assume it is a school library, oriented toward student use primarily. Not so. We are a Public Library with a well balanced and current collection of books, periodicals, pamphlets, and phonograph records suitable for all ages. In the near future, through a generous gift of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, you will also find available a collection of four-track stereo tapes.

If you will visit PARK BRANCH this month, you will be greeted in the entrance lobby by a display of Interior Decorating books. Summer is nearing its end and your thoughts will be turning toward home again, and toward planning to catch up with repainting that kitchen, upholstering Dad's favorite chair, or replacing those worn and tired-looking drapes. PARK BRANCH offers a variety of books on the subject to stimulate your ideas.

Inside, you will notice a display by the Grosse Pointe Braille Club. While the Wayne County Library is the seat for Talking Books for the Blind, PARK BRANCH has a collection of Large-Print books for eyes which find the average print difficult to see.

On the "JUST ARRIVED" shelf your reading appetite and curiosity may be whetted by titles such as EXECUTIVE JOBS UNLIMITED (Boll); BEST PLACES TO LIVE WHEN YOU RETIRE, a directory (Heusinkveld and Musson); THE STRATEGY OF PUTS AND CALLS (Dadekian); THE BOOK OF PEARLS (Dickinson); THE SHAKESPEARE SONG BOOK (Chambers); GOLDEN AGE EXERCISES, physical conditioning for men and women over 60 (King and Hertz); and THE DRUG DI-LEMMA (Cohen).

The record shelves hold such diverse items as: Shakespeare's ROMEO AND JULIET; Artur Schnabel playing Schubert Sonata in B flat major; Poulenc's STABAT MATER; THE BEGGAR'S OPERA; David Oistrakh in MENDELSSOHN'S VIOLIN CONCERTO; Paul Paray and the DETROIT SYMPHONY playing Ravel and Debussy; original soundtrack of THE LION IN WINTER; international collection of FOLKSONGS; GUITAR MUSIC; Al Hirt in THE HAPPY TRUMPET; THE (Vic) DAMONE THING; and SHORT-HAND DICTATION.

During October and November school-age and pre-school story time sessions will be held by the Children's Librarian, Mrs. Neff. At that time the writer will entertain mothers and other interested adults with booktalks about old and new titles.

If you get lost among the magazines, ask any of our Student Assistants for that back issue. When checking out your "finds" chat a little with Mrs. Maxon, Mrs. Anderson or Mrs. Dobbins.

Come to PARK BRANCH and browse, bring your reference questions, copy that birth certificate on our Coronastat, or register your child for pre-school story time! Try us!

What's New on THE HILL...

Here Goes... the alphabetical sketches of shops and services which make Kercheval On-the-Hill a block of distinction. A... is for Frank Adam, Inc., Lincoln-Mercury, 130 Kercheval. We can speak from personal experience, having recently bought a Cougar there. Our salesman made the buying experience a very pleasant one. When our Cougar needed a trip to the service department for some adjustment, we received courteous attention and got our favorite transportation back (actually a half hour before it was promised). It is very important for people on-the-go to have convenience and service. Specially for a woman, there's nothing like a care-free car.

It's Crystal Clear... but it is lucite which holds captive colorful rocks to form a design for the handsome book ends which are thirty dollars at The League Shop. Other lucite book ends form large wheat heads. Lucite blocks show pennies and one has ensnared a beautiful colorful Canada goose. For the desk there is an "almighty dollar" desk pen set for sixteen dollars.

Hamlin's Has... by request, gotten from Hidden Valley Ranch in Santa Barbara, California, a supply of their famous dry salad dressing. You mix two quarts. It's delectable with salads, potatoes or meats... seventy-five cents at 89 Kercheval... TUXedo 5-8400.

A New Line... at The Mermaid is furniture from Hickory Chair Company. You'll admire the occasional tables which combine wicker, glass and bamboo style mahogany finish wood.

Gifts Galore... are being unpacked at Trail Apothecary. Glimpsed... a rainbow of brightest most colorful alarm clocks for the campus crowd. They're seven fifty at 121 Kercheval.

Interview With Margaret Rice... "I have often been asked why bring a collection? There are two very good reasons. 1. To better acquaint the customer with the season's fashion trends. 2. To give the customer the opportunity to make her very own selection.

Why four collections rather than just one? Because what may be the right look for one individual, may not be right for the other. Our last showing for Fall '69 will be here Thursday and Friday September 18th and 19th. It is a very handsome collection well worth seeing. It has been a joy to bring you these many beautiful clothes. I am very grateful for your marvelous acceptance."

Bravo!... A new shipment of Piccolino knits has just arrived at Young Clothes, 110 Kercheval. These fine Italian knits are favorites of young fashionables. There are two very new models and the color combinations are navy with red, navy with tan and navy with gold and white.

Into Each Month... a little rain must fall. Be fashionably prepared with gay rain styles from Touch of Elegance in the Colonial Federal Building. There's a water repellent leopard print, shirt type coat dress which is belted in leather and buckled with a lion's head... ninety-five dollars. A three piece navy cotton twill, rain pantsuit includes a jacket, pants and a long over blouse for ninety dollars.

The Back Door Sale... at Virginia Williams, 79 Kercheval, is scheduled for Sunday, September 14 from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Come to the back door. (The front door will be locked.) Find extravagant reductions. Some items have been marked way below cost... TUXedo 1-3680.

Heaven Sent... the new selection of knits at Angel's, 115 Kercheval. The down-to-earth prices for dresses range from thirty-three dollars to sixty dollars. The style range is from sport-basic to dress-up. The sky's the limit for color.

An Owl... is perched atop a clear glass 9 1/2 inch decanter. His silver head has wise amber eyes... just for fun! This entertaining piece is eight dollars at The Card Rack, 93 Kercheval... 886-8826.

The Grosse Pointe Studio... 119 Kercheval, is presenting a Two Man Show, through September 27. Paintings and etchings are by Lennon and metal sculpture is by Sottile. The studio will be closed Saturday, September 13 because Bobbie Vance is going to the Grosse Pointe Artists Association Fall Festival at the War Memorial. Do join her... 886-6694.

The Bronze Door... 123 Kercheval, is working hard to bring you the finest food and service. Reservations will be taken Monday through Thursday. However, guests must be seated by 7:30 p.m. On Friday and Saturday, due to limited seating capacity, the Bronze Door can only receive reservations for guests who'll be seated no later than seven. Guests arriving later, will be seated on a "walk-in" basis... 886-1932.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir: Another Parent Makes a Plea. In my role as a parent of a boy scheduled to go to Grosse Pointe North High School in September. I resent the statement of the "silent majority." My silence in Grosse Pointe school affairs to this point does not mean that I want a closed system for my child.

tem can contribute to the further education of students like the majority of fine young people I see coming to the Wayne State Campus, then we are doing our bit to live in the reality of 1969 and the impending 70's. Sincerely yours, Mrs. Betty Rusnack, ACSW 1779 Littlestone Road

September 4, 1969 To The Editor: Recently we experienced one of those too numerous accidents that happen to pre-schoolers. Within five minutes after calling the City Police for assistance, mother and convulsing child were on their way to the hospital for needed medication. Our experience, thankfully, was not an extremely serious one. However, we are certain that there are many more young families which have faced similar situations and could join us in saying thank you publicly to the Pointe policemen.

The residents of this community, especially the City, are most fortunate to have men of this caliber in our Police Department. Mrs. Fredrick M. Miller.

Dear Sir: In the issue of August 30 on page seven you ran a brief article about "Pointers Robbed on Detroit Tour" and your last paragraph read, "Detroit police told the victims that it was very unwise for people living in the suburbs to come into Detroit."

Really now! To hear the mayoral candidates speak I was under the impression they had great things to offer us, and welcomed us, and hoped to tax us more for these great advantages!

Surely this needs a fuller explanation. I hope you might see fit to editorialize on it.

Yours truly, Mrs. Edwin R. 406 Lexington Road

From Another Pointe of View

There'll be features to interest every garden lover at the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's annual Horticulture and Bonsai Show. There always are.

The Show, open to all Pointers and their friends, is next Tuesday, from 2 until 5 o'clock, in the War Memorial's Fries Ballroom. Those entering competition will arrive earlier, of course, bringing their very best specimens of annuals, perennials, vegetables, fruits, house plants and Bonsai, (there's a limit of 10 specimens per person).

The entries must be placed between 9 and 11 o'clock so the judges, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold R. Smith, may award ribbons.

A new exhibit this year will be some fine examples of garden sculpture selected, loaned and arranged in the Lakeside end of the Ballroom by James Farquhar from the collection of Grosse Pointe Florists.

Among them is Robert Amendola's lead figure symbolic of all growing things and a stone figure, both bird bath and feeder, by Ann Kopper. Mrs. Ivor D. Harris is in charge of the sculpture display.

Mrs. C. Bayard Johnson, Show chairman, has asked Garden Center Board members to serve as hostesses. She especially invites new Pointe residents to attend and become acquainted with the Center which maintains headquarters in the War Memorial's Alger House where it offers a comprehensive library of gardening books.

Mrs. Harold W. Bailey, Mrs. Harley G. Higbie and Mrs. Monte J. Edelen, chairmen of the Bonsai committee that sponsored last year's successful series of workshops in the art of creating miniature trees, will stage the Bonsai Show.

It will feature exhibits by the three ladies themselves and will be open to all Pointers who care to submit their own amateur specimens for judging! And, advise the Mesdames Bailey, Higbie and Edelen, even if an exhibitor's Bonsai isn't perfect she is urged to enter it—there will be a Clinic to explain how to improve it and how to get the trees through the winter.

A limited number of Bonsai specimens and some materials will be available for sale. The chairmen will

Center Offering Demonstrations

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Artists Association presents free of charge to the interested public a demonstration of Portrait Painting by Joseph Maniscalco Monday evening, September 15 at 8 o'clock and a demonstration of Sculpture Techniques by Ferenc Varga on Thursday evening, September 18, at the same hour.

Mr. Maniscalco is well known for his portraits of important figures on the Detroit business and political scene. He studied for four years on scholarship with the Arts Student League in New York. He maintains a studio at the Scarab Club and is chairman of the Fine Arts committee for the Fine Arts Society.

Ferenc Varga is a native of Hungary where he attended the Karoly Academy in Budapest and was a pupil of Jenő Bory. He was awarded the Lord Rothermere award for his statue "Eva" and given an assistant professorship at the Academy.

Next he won a prize for the Piskei War Memorial and was given a scholarship to study in Rome. More prizes and awards resulted in a year's scholarship in Paris. He continued memorial and church sculpture until emigrating to the United States via Belgium and Canada.

Mr. Varga is now a member of the National Sculpture Society of New York and has commissions in Buffalo, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Lansing, Toledo, Toronto and Washington. Perhaps Mr. Varga's finest achievement in this country is the Fort Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

Following the demonstrations, classes will begin at the Center taught by these two artists. Portrait painting with Mr. Maniscalco will be held for 10 consecutive Wednesday mornings 9:30 to noon starting September 17. The fee is $35 plus a small collection for the model. Sculpture class with Mr. Varga will be held Monday evenings at 8 p.m. starting September 22. Students will work in clay, plasticine and wax and will learn to make castings for bronze or plaster figures for the home or garden. The fee is $40 for 10 lessons.

MIKE JENNINGS, of Emory court, was a member of the three-man crew from Huron Portage Yacht Club that placed third in the Sears Cup Finals held August 26 through 29 in Jacksonville, Fla. The Sears Cup is a junior sailing event for youths under 18; 2,500 North American participants go through district eliminations to reach the finals each year.

It's easy to avoid worry—just cultivate a poor memory.

Open Houses

PACK A LUNCH Sunday afternoon and drive the circuit of five houses hosted open by five of our congenial salesforce.

AT 2132 ROSLYN you'll find one of the few three bedroom houses for sale in the Pointe, which can be purchased for less than twenty thousand dollars. All aluminum siding, which also includes the garage. Full basement and a redone kitchen and bath.

COME TOO TO 1060 North Oxford if you are seeking a four bedroom colonial priced far below fifty thousand. First floor den and attached garage. This one is waiting for your furniture.

AT 1113 BEDFORD, near St. Paul, we can show you an English style home with six honest-sized bedrooms on the second floor. There is a den and screened porch on the first floor to complement the living and dining rooms. Hefty mortgage balance at 5 1/2% should make this one worth more than the $54,900 price tag.

THE ONLY condominium for sale in the Pointe today, is this beautifully decorated three bedroom, two bath at 16850 St. Paul. New kitchen and carpeting throughout, underground parking, and all just one short block to The Village.

ACROSS THE LINE at 3447 Courville, is offered a four bedroom colonial with that all important extra room on the first floor. At $28,500 you shouldn't overlook this one if four bedrooms are a must.

By Appointment

IF YOU'VE BEEN looking for a newer house near the water, we'd strongly suggest an inspection of this interesting multi-level in the Windmill Pointe section of the Park. Master bedroom suite, youngsters bedrooms, and guest quarters on separate levels, plus den, family room, rec room, music room and a lovely sunken patio, surrounded by a large yard. 40,000 dollar assumable mortgage at only 5 1/2% per cent. Call to learn about the many other special features.

509 LINCOLN

You'll enjoy the comfort of four bedrooms, two and a half baths and a friendly family room done with barn wood siding. The kitchen is only one year older than our trip to the moon.

489 SADDLE LANE is the address of this almost new colonial with three bedrooms and two full baths on the second floor. There is a generously proportioned family room to complement the living and dining rooms.

TUCKED AWAY on a cul-de-sac just a few minutes from everything in Grosse Pointe Farms. See this ever popular 3 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath ranch, plus garden room and den. Walking distance to schools. St. Paul's Parish. All ready for early occupancy.

UNIQUE SPANISH with spacious rooms adapted from the Latin way of living. Mediterranean kitchen, 3 twin size bedrooms, 2 baths, on a beautifully landscaped lot. Again, in the popular price.

 Re the Horticulture Division: Judges' chairman Mrs. Smith offers some tips on how to win ribbons... Pick the flowers and condition them by putting them into deep, cool water. Roses should be shown either two-thirds or three-fourths open, not full-blown. Make a note of the variety of flower or plant being shown, be sure the foliage is clean—no spray residue—remove any leaves with insect holes and do not have pollen dripping on the flowers. Show some foliage with your flowers. Remember: It is not always the largest flowers or vegetables that win. Sometimes the largest are too old.
Keep Your Eyes Open
 We know you're going to the Jesuit Seminary Association's Champagne Tea at Clarabelle and George Van Lokeren's Windmill Pointe drive home this Sunday afternoon, and we know you'll be absolutely fascinated by the huge Georgian Colonial mansion, former residence of the Frederick S. Fords who built it in Indian Village then had it moved in its entirety to its present location.
 But we don't want you to be so dazzled by the Whole that your eyes are blinded to details... So be sure to peer closely at the fireplaces: Each is a hand-carved original. And don't think of that "antique" Garland gas stove, complete with giant black hood, as a "prop"—the thing really works! And look up: Aren't those chandeliers magnificent?
 Happy ogling!

Beginning Of A Golden Year

 And the cocktail hour begins at 11:30 o'clock in the Yacht Club's Gold Room.
 Mrs. John J. Shada will speak on "The Wonderful World of Women." Bridge will follow luncheon, or those who wish are invited to attend the afternoon groundbreaking ceremonies for Cottage's new addition.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

The Beautiful Beenes . . . have arrived at Walton-Pierce. Geoffrey Beene's look is young but sophisticated and is the favorite of so many fashionables. One delectable navy light weight wool dress is iced with white satin on the V neck. Black wool is multi-seamed high under the bosom and accented with tiny self buttons. The seaming runs below the waist and then releases graceful fullness for the skirt. These are but two from Beene's bag of distinctive designs. Come see the new collection at Walton-Pierce.

Fitting A Fashion Show . . . this week we noticed how many models rely on the new "brush wig" to look always well groomed and for instant change-about-styling. These new short stretch wigs are of natural hair. They do not have to be set. You put them on and brush a flattering style. Some models are wearing them curly but most brush a straight sleek look. Off comes the wig and there's the long hair you knew was not cut short. At Leon's most colors are forty dollars . . . forty-five dollars for streaks and blondes. The "brush wig" is also great for traveling because it packs in a suitcase . . . no block . . . no extra baggage needed . . . TUxdo 4-9393.

Wrap-up . . . the pantsuit scene with a long striped scarf which matches the striped top of a lengthened jacket and pants ensemble. All four pieces are hundred twenty-five dollars in Michelle's Boutique at Leon, 17888 Mack Avenue.

Beauty Treatment . . . for your kitchen begins with Mutschler skill and design. Even planting arrangements are built into the plan. The finish of the cabinet is baked on for lasting quality. The decorator tile is color co-ordinated and hand fired. See samples at 20227 Mack Ave.

In Martha's Closet . . . 373 Fisher Road, you'll find cocktail dresses by Gino Charles. One sky blue crepe is sleeveless with a band of silver, crystals and pearls encircling the neck and waist . . . and a flounce of a skirt . . . one hundred dollars. Those familiar with Gino Charles style give him a fashion plus and collect his day and evening clothes for their chic young wardrobes.

See The Sign . . . at Jackson's then follow it to the special new Pierre Cardin room (past the designer salon). Here you'll see his news-making colorful fashions on display. RAYMOND P. ROBBINS, HEADMASTER OF UNIVERSITY-LIGGETT SCHOOL

By Pepper Whitelaw

Captain of his high school basketball, football and baseball teams . . . high school valedictorian . . . student government president . . . winner of a full scholarship to Dartmouth College . . . member of Phi Beta Kappa . . . cum laude college graduate . . . commissioned officer in the United States Navy . . . Do these sound like the credentials of the perfect All-American Boy? They're just some of the early successes of Raymond P. Robbins, new headmaster of University-Liggett School.

Ray spent two years as an officer on a minesweeper assigned to the Mediterranean area, home-based in Charleston, S.C. There he met Lenita Scott Foster, daughter of an Army officer. Ray laughs as he says, "We were married by a Marine chaplain. I'd say that's the closest the services ever came to unification."

After discharge from the Navy in 1960 Ray took a research position with a chemical firm.

But "after two months of industrial research I was convinced that I needed the responsibility and challenge that could only come from working directly with people," he says. "So I made application to the Harvard Graduate School of Education and was granted a full scholarship."

"In September of that year I received my Masters degree in the field of Secondary School Science Teaching and in the process was fortunate enough to be elected to Phi Delta Kappa, education's professional honor society."

Cycled Through Europe The Robbins left immediately after graduation for Switzerland. Prior to embarking for their careers at The American School there, Ray and Lenita bicycled through most of Europe.

"We used a pup tent and two sleeping bags, which much to our dismay turned out to be junior size. But the entire experience was unforgettable. I became an expert on traveling in Europe on $5 a day for two people," he laughs.

Ray also has traveled through the Middle East, North Africa and extensively through the U.S.S.R.

Both of the Robbins' children, Kristin, six, and Heather, four, were born in Lugano, Switzerland. Both were back-packed across glaciers before they could walk, and both did extensive hiking high in the Alps before they were five years old!

The fifth member of the Robbins family is a small poodle who, according to Ray, has been to the finest restaurants in Europe and to La Scala. "She's having a little difficulty

Today's girl has to stand before a mirror while dressing so she can see what's going on.

"As an independent school, conscious of the needs of the community that we serve, we are able to encourage, as we deem reasonable, certain attitudes and standards of behavior to our students."

We profess our intent to strive for strength of character, as well as strength of intellect. We wish for our students the maturity, the understanding and the sense of values that will help them achieve success in college and in life. We admit to an unshakable faith in the rational process by which reasonable people confront challenge and change; in this process we wish for our students to also have faith.

"We do not profess to have many sure answers, and we know all too well that the goals to which we aspire are not easily attained."

"As an independent school dedicated to excellence, we pledge our best efforts in the search of new and better ways to achieve our worthy ends."

Insist On Cooperation "Finally, as an independent school, we can and do insist that the faculty, students, parents and staff evidence that kind of cooperation and openness that will contribute to the attainment of our goals."

"I place considerable importance upon educational experiences beyond those of the traditional classroom. The desirability of interplay between learning and doing, or relating studies to the needs and problems of the world, has brought me to believe in the value of off-campus educational experience and the bringing of the outside world to the campus."

"I believe that such programs, preferably correlated with formal studies, can contribute to a sense of perspective and further one's understanding of oneself in relation to society."

"In my mind, the need is probably greatest in a suburban school where of necessity there is less than the desired diversity in origins of the student body."

"I think that even more can be done to broaden the experiences of our students by the creation of the kind of program to which I refer. In short, I believe that by increasing our students' opportunities to relate their education to the world outside of the classroom we will heighten their appreciation for the relevance of their education to their futures as responsible members of society."

"I also believe that each student is important in his own way, and each must taste success in his own way . . . and we as educators should help them find that success."

This is what greeted Sergeant Nick Shock, Jr., 24, when he arrived home recently after serving four years with the United States Marine Corps.

Nick, son of the senior Shocks, of Three Mile drive, was graduated from Austin Prep. He enlisted in the Marines in 1965. He was sent to Vietnam in '66 and returned to the states in April of '67. Since then he has been stationed with Marine Security in Fort Mead, Md.

Carl's Corner

At first I was indignant about giving a minimum wage—but as I reflect on the billions we give rich farmers (Congressmen included) for not growing plants—the billions we give to the oil companies with the 27 1/2% allowance—the billions we use to subsidize the ship owners—the billions we use to subsidize the airlines—the billions we give to foreign countries to keep them in the manner to which we have accustomed them—the thousands of unnecessary jobs in our ballooning bureaucracy, well, shucks, maybe the poor should have a share.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Now that we're "caught up" . . . on brides after one of the busiest summer Nuptial Seasons we can remember here, we thought it might be nice to take a leisurely glance backward—in the midst of the early September Wedding Rush—and pick out a few highlights from June-July Pointe Marriage Celebrations 1969 . . .

Without doubt . . . June 20-22, (because we're dealing with brides, we'll "stretch" our weekends to include Fridays, in some instances even begin them on Thursday evenings), was Grosse Pointe's Big Wedding Weekend this year . . . Cheryl Fisher was married in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore to Rene J. Coudert Friday, Carole Kincaid became John O. Wroldsen, Jr.'s bride at a Christ Church ceremony Saturday . . .

Here's an interesting thing: . . . It's the second time the NEWS has printed a description of the wedding gown worn by Elizabeth Coddington for her July 12 wedding in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Marvin L. King . . . We described the gown some years back when Mrs. William H. Coddington, (that's this year's bride's mother), wore it at HER Pointe wedding . . . now if the new Mr. and Mrs. King should have a daughter . . .

Another Gown With a Family History . . . was worn at another July 12 Pointe wedding . . . Anne Stillwell Frost walked down the aisle of Christ Church to become Michael J. Paterson's bride, dressed in a charming period frock of ivory mousseline de soie and Brussels lace first worn by her late paternal grandmother, Jessie Stillwell Gore, for her wedding in Baltimore, Md., on April 25, 1907, to Aaron Vail Frost . . .

And speaking of family heirlooms . . . Elsie Caulkins NATURALLY wore the McMillan family heirloom veil of Rosepointe lace at her June 26 Grosse Pointe Memorial Church wedding to Samuel Wadley Childs . . .

For many of this summer's newlyweds . . . it's back-to-school after the ceremony . . . The Terence B. McCaffreys, (she was Marilyn Ann Lundy), will live in St. Louis, Mo., while he completes work toward his Masters degree . . . The Gerald Schwalliers (Susan Leigh Mathews) are both resuming studies at Western Michigan University . . . The Richard Joseph Jablonskis (Linda Louise Campbell) are returning from a vacation in San Francisco and Hawaii to make their home in Midland for a year while he completes studies at Northwood . . .

Others' immediate destinations . . . are determined by the bridegrooms' military commitments . . . Lieutenant and Mrs. Peter Jennings Schweizer (Patricia Ann Daly) have deferred their wedding trip to Round Hill, Jamaica, until December; in the interim they're living in Enid, Okla., where he is stationed with the Air Force . . . Captain and Mrs. Thomas Eugene White (Susan Elizabeth Adams) are making their home at Fort Meade, Laurel, Md. . . .

A most unique method . . . of reception-to-airport transportation was used by the Paul Russell Frerers . . . Mr. Frerer and his bride, the former Susan Ann Sanders, took off via helicopter from the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club lawn at the close of the reception following their June 13 wedding in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore . . . Their destination was Metropolitan Airport, from where they departed for a Bahama vacation the following morning . . .

Traveling farther afield . . . on their wedding trip were the Edward William Pettigrews (Marna Kathryn Lynch), whose destination following their June 21 exchange of vows in St. Peter's Church, was Scotland . . . In the fall the Pettigrews will make their home in the vicinity of Pennsylvania's Lincoln University where he teaches . . .

Glimpses from family albums: . . . Dale E. Heikkinen playing the organ for the July 5 wedding of his sister, Carolyn Lucia Heikkinen, and James Charles McCandless in St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church . . . Stephanie Weber as flower girl and her brothers, Richard Weber, II, and Craig Weber as ring bearers at the June 21 wedding of their father, Richard David Weber, and Mary Ellen Kotcher in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore . . . Katherine Wunsch serving as only attendant for her sister, Elizabeth Ellis Wunsch, as she speaks her marriage vows to Ralph Dearing Gordon in Christ Church July 19 . . .

The Country Club . . . was just about the busiest place in town June 28, setting for the receptions following the weddings of Stephanie Petri and Richard Stanton Lord in Christ Church and Paula Fisher and Lieutenant Neil Burgess Hayes, Jr., in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore . . .

And The Reverend Edgar Yeoman of St. Michael's Episcopal Church was among the proudest of proud fathers June 28 as he officiated at the wedding, in St. Michael's, of his daughter, Mary Marsh Yeoman, and Daniel Walter Plantz . . .

Charm Course Being Offered

A course entitled "Fulfilling Your Potential" is being offered at Grosse Pointe War Memorial, provided especially for mature women who find they have abilities they are not putting to full use, on Thursday afternoons from 1 to 3 o'clock beginning September 18 and continuing through October 23.

Returning to the Center to teach the course is Dr. John E. Hoskins, certified consulting psychologist and instructor at Wayne State University. The six-week series will cover exploration of personality, personal inventory and assessment of attitudes. Those enrolled in the course last spring at the Center were lavish in their praise of the course and its instructor.

Dr. Hoskins will point out why intelligence is both important and yet sometimes overstressed.

Individual differences are often dependent on and affected by environment. It is important to choose the area of endeavor which brings out your potential best, both in kindness to yourself and in doing a good job for others.

A whole battery of tests will be administered in this program. The true value of the course lies in the summary and assessment of their results as guide posts to specific endeavor. Today's society cries for competent women to handle both volunteer and remunerative positions. This is a challenge to women in our area and one they are certainly ready to meet as children grow up and leave, or as widows or single women, they seek fulfillment.

Registration for the course including testing is $42.50. Advance enrollment will be appreciated.
