ISRAEL RELAXED TIGHT security guard around Christendom's holy places today so that pilgrims and other visitors could tour them freely Christmas Day.

POLICE BRACED THEMSELVES in Hollywood, Fla. Thursday for the crush of an anticipated 50,000 youths who will be attending the embattled Miami rock festival this weekend. The youths will be joined by Evangelist Billy Graham. County Solicitor James Geiger said he has armed his aides with 10 rubber stamps, each describing a different drug violation, to speed up arrest procedures. An entire floor of the county jail has been tidied up and readied for 150 new prisoners.

THE ALLIES ended their 24-hour Christmas cease-fire and resumed combat operations across South Vietnam Thursday, but no major fighting was reported. A U.S. command spokesman observed: "Things in the field are pretty quiet right now." The command said however, that the allied cease-fire was marred by 79 enemy-initiated incidents, with 58 enemy soldiers killed and two Americans wounded, according to incomplete reports.

POPE PAUL PLEADED in vain Thursday for an extension of the Christmas cease-fire in Vietnam, but within hours after he spoke the allied truce expired and the fighting resumed. In a message to the world crowning the Roman Catholic celebration of Christmas, the pontiff also prayed for an end to the civil war in Nigeria and for an end to the conflict in the Middle East.

PRESIDENT NIXON STRUGGLED with the federal budget on Christmas Day and decided to postpone a holiday season vacation at the western White House in San Clemente, Cal. He was attempting to keep the budget, which he must submit to Congress late next month, below $200 billion.

A MAJOR WINTER STORM swept up the East Coast, stranded Christmas travelers and dumped as much as two feet of snow on some parts of New England Friday. Winds as high as 50 miles an hour whipped snowdrifts to five feet. High tides caused some flooding, and power lines were knocked down.

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT has decided to cut the armed forces by 200,000 to 300,000 men in the next budget year, starting July 1, according to ranking Pentagon officials. The actual number will depend on the pace of troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

FIVE GUNBOATS, built in Cherbourg for Israel and placed under a French arms embargo, were on the high seas Saturday with their final destination shrouded in mystery. The boats left Cherbourg in seemingly clandestine fashion and original reports gave the impression of a commando operation carried out in defiance of the embargo.

DOCTORS IN TUCSON, Ariz. say an infant showed the classic signs of heroin withdrawal less than a day after he was born. The infant, a heroin addict at birth, was born at the Tucson Medical Center. The infant's parents, both Yaqui Indians in their late 20s, became addicts after their fourth child was born three years ago.

THREE SHIPS and a rescue plane searched the mid-Pacific Saturday for 25 American seamen who abandoned their Vietnam bound ammunition ship in 20 foot waves an hour before an explosion tore a hole in her side. The men were seen clinging to life rafts before the sun went down Friday. When dawn broke under a leaden cloud Being hospitalized at Christmas time isn't as bad as it's cracked up to be. At Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe, one special event of the season is the Egg Nog Cart that is travelled throughout the hospital.

Patients, employes, visitors, volunteers—all at Cottage—are invited to share in the "wassail bowl." The unusual idea was initiated three years ago by Cottage's Dietary Department.

Winter Sport Has Tragic End for Pair

Former Pointer Edward Zerbe and Wife Drown When Snowmobile Breaks Through Ice

A holiday outing ended in tragedy for former Pointer Edward D. Zerbe and his wife, Elaine, on Christmas Eve. The couple and a group of friends, were snowmobiling at Presque Isle, Mich. Some five or six snowmobiles were in the party when the vehicle the Zerbes were driving broke through the ice on Grand Lake and submerged, drowning the pair.

The group of snowmobilers did not discover that the Zerbes were missing from the party until they reached shore. They returned to the area, could find no trace of them so immediately called local police and the Alpena Sheriff's office, who sent cars and divers to the scene. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Zerbe were finally recovered after an eight-hour search.

Edward, 37, was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and has lived up North for eight years. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Zerbe of Hillcrest road.

Also surviving the Zerbes are their children, Jennifer, seven, and Vivienne, who is a year old.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, December 27, at Wachterhauser Funeral Home in Alpena.

Drug Usage by Teenagers Top News Story of Year

By Pepper Whitelaw

In The Pointes, 1969 was a year of progress . . . a year of regression . . . a year of dreams fulfilled and dreams shattered . . . BUT it was a year of activity.

It was a year during which the Pointes first became aware of the serious problem of drug abuse among our teenagers. A year during which local groups such as the Family Life Education Council formed action committees to fight the problem.

A year during which the school system joined in the fight by initiating drug education programs and Grosse Pointe Rotary contributed $10,000 to help in the struggle.

It was during 1969 that Grosse Pointe teachers struck for the first time in history. A year when a school millage was de-

Struggle with Broken Water Main Followed by Resentful Reception of Audience to Princeton Triangle Club Show

At 8 a.m. the water main broke and at 8:45 p.m. the floodgates of emotion broke, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Monday, December 29.

That was the day some 500 Rotarians were lurching there . . . staff members worked frantically to draw enough water to cook the food and serve during the luncheon. Then the water was turned off while repairs were being made.

Staff members held their breath, hoping the repairs could be made by that evening, for some 450 people were planning to have dinner there preceding the Princeton Triangle Club Show. Fortunately at 2 p.m. the repairs were made, and held throughout the dinner, but nothing else seemed to hold, including people's tempers.

Booing Begins Early
During the first act booing began, as did the first in a series of walk-outs. It seems the satirical presentation by the Princetonians, which included references to the Vietnam war, the administration, and ultimately the materialization of Jesus Christ on the cross, (indicating that if he were here today he would be a hippie), was considered objectionable by many of those in attendance.

The production, "Call a Spade a Shovel" was the Princeton Triangle Club's 81st annual production.

The NEWS spoke to Alfred Glancy, Jr., Board of Education Trustee and alumnus of Princeton, who said this was the first and only such reaction to the production anywhere in the country. "Elsewhere it has received standing ovations," he said. Mr. Glancy expressed disappointment with the reaction saying that the Triangle shows have always been satires not serious social judgments.

At the second annual "Solstice Festival" held on January 5, 1969, more than 500 citizens participated in the "geburnen."

The custom, which it was hoped would be a tradition in the Farms, has been discontinued because there is no place to burn the trees, due to the improvements at the Municipal Pier-Park, where for the past two seasons, residents got together, and renewed old acquaintances, made new friends and generally had a good time.

The festival was open to all Farms residents, whether they had a tree to burn or not. It was disclosed that because of the new grass and sod in the new area of the pier park, and because of the space taken up by the brand new tennis courts, there is no available space to burn the trees.

Bremer said that it is too bad that "Tannenbaum Geburnen" must be discontinued because the get-together was one way of creating good feeling among the people of the community.

SHOPLIFTING THWARTED
Dan Lafferty, manager of Kresge's, 17101 Kercheval, called City police on Wednesday, December 10, to report he was holding a 15-year-old shoplifter. The youth had taken a $9.95 record album. The boy's parents were notified and the album returned to the store.

Pointe Group Demonstrates Xmas Spirit

Makes Certain War Widow and Eight Children Are Rescued from Bleak Holidays

By Pepper Whitelaw

A pert, warm-hearted Scottish lady with a kind and thoughtful husband, decided that this holiday season they would do something special for a family in the need. The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callan, who managed Grosse Pointe Villas, at 17530 Mack avenue, called the City of Grosse Pointe Fire Department and asked if they knew of anyone in need.

The very next day, the Grosse Pointe Police received a phone call from an ADC worker, Lawrence Light, who told them of a war widow with eight children, who lived in Detroit. He explained that her husband died last year from severe injuries received during World War II. The widow has been working and tending for her family but the going has been pretty rough . . . Christmas looked pretty bleak, until Mr. and Mrs. Callan really went to work. They put notices in the mail-boxes of all the tenants asking them to contribute food and necessities for the family. Mrs. Callan then put a box in each of the lobbies of the eight buildings and prayed.

Her prayers were answered beyond her happiest dreams. For two weeks the boxes were filled with goodies . . . one tenant arranged for the family to receive a volume of encyclopedias and a 20 pound turkey . . . others came through with Christmas treats and canned goods.

Then on Christmas Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Callan collected the items and personally delivered them to the widow.

The children, who range in age from 5 years to 16 years, were thrilled . . . Christmas was Christmas after all . . . thanks to a little Scottish lady, her husband and 52 thoughtful Pointers!

GERBIL BITES AND DIES

Lorie Brown, 530 Notre Dame was bitten by her pet gerbil on Tuesday, December 16. Lorie was playing with the animal when he bit her finger. The gerbil died within minutes and was sent to Herman Kiefer Hospital to be checked. Lorie was treated by her family physician.

Woods and State Reach Agreement On Road Contract

Final Ratification of Details on Widening Vernier Expected with Work Due to Get Started by Middle of March

By Phil Loranger

Final ratification of a contract between the Woods and the Michigan State Highway Commission is expected shortly and work on the widening of a section of Vernier road (M-29) is expected to get underway sometime in mid-March.

Although the Woods City Council at a recent meeting formally approved a joint agreement between the city and the commission to make the improvements on Vernier road from Sunningdale east to the Woods city limits, the contract has not yet been signed because of an expected delay in the actual funding of the project. This delay is expected to be ironed out soon.

The Woods is currently in the process of acquiring right-of-way so the actual work can begin, according to Woods City Attorney George Catlin. To Cost $513,000
The total cost of the project which is expected to be completed by November, 1970, has been placed at approximately $513,000, of which the Woods will pay $252,500 and the Highway Commission will pay out $260,447. About 15 percent of the total cost represents the cost of engineering consultations and planning.

Under the contract, the two parties will not only widen the highway from Sunningdale to the easterly Woods city limits, but will also improve the highway drainage system, including the curbs and gutters.

All right-of-way necessary for the construction of the project will be acquired by the Woods at its sole cost and expense, but the actual construction work will be done by the Highway Commission crews and engineers.

Will Maintain Records
The Commission will maintain accurate records and accounts relative to the project and, upon its completion and the payment of all costs, the Commission will make a final accounting to the Woods.

The Woods may provide, at its own expense, a competent inspector to assist the field representative of the Commission in completing the project. The inspector will have the right to reject any portion of work which is not executed pursuant to the actual plans and specifications.

The Woods has agreed that, upon final completion of the work on Vernier road, it will accept all legal jurisdiction for that portion of the highway which lies within the corporate limits of the community.

The Woods is presently awaiting word from its consulting traffic engineers on further road improvements on Sunningdale, which would be undertaken at the same time as the work on Vernier road.

TREE WIRING CUT

Mrs. H. H. Zeder, 522 St. Clair, reported to City police on Friday, December 26, that persons unknown cut the wiring to her outdoor Christmas decorations sometime between 8 p.m. and 11 p.m. on Christmas night.

Rescue Motorist on Lake Ice; Two Policemen Dunked

Two Park police officers were pulled from the waters of Lake St. Clair on Friday, December 26, when they went through the ice while rescuing a Detroit motorist who had driven onto the ice of Fox Creek, at the foot of Ashland, and traveled beyond the creek mouth, which empties into the lake.

Patrolmen Collin Lalonde, Ralph Moore and Edward Janostak, were dispatched to the creek area, when a guard at the Windmill Pointe Park called the station to report the car on the ice.

The Park policemen arrived at the scene a scant few minutes before officers from Detroit's Jefferson Station, Fifth Precinct, the creek abuts the park and is in Detroit.

The Park patrolmen said when they arrived they saw a 1970 Oldsmobile sports coupe,

Much Money Expended to Help Citizens

Sewers, Streets, Walks, Parks, Lighting, Parking Facilities Among Projects

By Pepper Whitelaw

The beginning of a new year is usually the time to look over the past year's accomplishments. In an effort to show just what a capital improvements were made in 1969 the NEWS asked the city managers of the five Pointes to list their cities' achievements.

In Woods, City Manager Chester Petersen listed some 20 major improvements which include:

1. Completion of $1,600,000 relief storm sewer program.
2. Completion of a $1,750,000 street and alley lighting program. Every street and alley within the corporate limits, excepting Vernier road, east of Sunningdale drive, meets or exceeds the minimum standards of the National Society for Street Illumination.
3. Reached agreement with the Michigan State Highway Commission for the widening and other improvements to Vernier road from Sunningdale drive to east city limits. Total project cost, including a re-alignment of the Morningside drive intersection at Vernier road is estimated to cost in excess of $750,000. Bids to be taken in March, 1970 with a completion date by November, 1970.
4. $110,000 street repair and street re-surfacing program.
5. $100,000 additional sheet piling installed at City's Lake Front Park.
6. $60,000 sidewalk repair program in progress.
7. Replacement of various vehicles and/or equipment — $50,000.
8. Construction of two new off-street parking lots, located at Anita and Mack and at Ridgemont and Mack. Available on-street and off-street parking spaces have increased from a total of 428 in 1968 to a current total of 815. Parking spaces have therefore almost been doubled within the last eight years. No tax monies are utilized for the expansion of the parking system. All improvements and additional parking lots are financed from revenues received from the system.
9. Two permanent meter maids employed to enforce parking regulations after previous summer trial periods indicated the feasibility of same.
10. Traffic accidents are reduced for the third consecutive year whereas almost every other city in the nation has been experiencing an increase in traffic accidents. This fine record is attributed to the city's strict and rigid enforcement program.
11. Received an award for excellence from AAA for Pedestrian Protection.
12. In cooperation with the Wayne County Road Commission updated and modernized all of the traffic signals located on Mack Avenue. Cooperated with the Michigan State Highway Commission on the installation of a traffic signal at the entrance to Grosse Pointe High School North.
13. Construction of a new Little League baseball diamond in Ghesquiere Park at a cost of $23,000.
14. Let contract with the General Electric Communications Corporation for the installation of complete new and modern communications system for the Department of Public Safety.
15. Completed installation of a new Burroughs Electronic Data Processing Machine costing approximately $40,000.
16. Remodeled and improved Torrey Road Storm Water Pumping Station.
17. Constructed additional underground gasoline storage facilities at the Department of Public Works site, bringing the gasoline storage capacity to 12,000 gallons.
18. Purchased microfilm reading equipment.
19. Adopted or amended the following Ordinances of special interest:
 - a. Requiring uniformed guards for parking lots.
 - b. 1969 Uniform Traffic Code.
 - c. Violations Bureau and new fee schedule.

Police Display Sense of Humor

Woods police displayed a good sense of humor and made a tough situation less unpleasant for a Woods resident last week, who reported to police that heads were missing from two of the Christmas carolers on her front lawn.

Although the complainant, Mrs. Glen Nelson, of 19981 Doyle place west, said she doubted that the missing heads could be replaced, she told the officers she hoped "Santa would be able to pull them out of his bag of tricks."

After further investigation, the officers told Mrs. Nelson not to worry, but to remember that, since she still had two carolers with heads, certainly two heads were better than one.

Back at the station, the officers entered the information into the police log and made a note to the Detective Bureau, which read: "Marie Antoinette may be a good suspect." The detectives referred the matter to the missing persons division.

(Continued from Page 1) land, LaLonde, Moore and Janostak, and the other policemen slowly moved back, hanging on tightly to each other. All the officers reached safely, except LaLonde and Moore. The ice gave way beneath them, just before they touched land and they went into the water. Their colleagues hauled them out fast.

The wet and shivering Park policemen were sent home, where they changed their uniforms and reported back to finish their tour of duty, none the worse for the experience. Singleton was released to Detroit authorities, for further questioning and investigation in the matter. It was not revealed what his physical condition was prior to his driving on the ice.

The Park watchman said that several children skating in the rink at Windmill Pointe Park, saw the car Singleton was driving, trying to go over the natural ice barrier bordering the creek, and finally succeeding at Ashland and Essex. The driver was doing approximately 40 to 45 miles an hour, on the road and on ice.

The motorist backed up the vehicle, which had skidded a distance beyond the mouth of the creek, then came to a complete stop, and the driver was seen to slump over the wheel. The children notified him, the guard said, and he called the station.

At the last report, the Olds was still out under the lake—or under its water.

ELECTRIC AUTOS may come sooner than you'd suspect.

There's much to be said about a battery operated car that runs without fuel. It's smokeless, noiseless, economical and practically maintenance free . . . Recharging batteries requires overnight plugging into an electric outlet. And this cost is trivial—about one fourth the cost of gasoline.

Surprisingly, they are not new. They're the cars of the late 1800's! The first taxis were electric and Passenger-electrics have been around 60 years or more . . . At present, over a hundred thousand of them are rolling smoothly along the world's highways—noiselessly, and exhaust-free.

Pair Accused of Burglary Awaiting Further Hearing

Two Detroiters accused in the December 20 burglary of a Park home, were given a preliminary hearing before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer on Monday, December 22.

Judge Speer set examination date for December 31 for J. Harold Norris, 27, and Donald R. Carmack, 24, both of 1293 Hillger, Detroit. The pair were unable to post bonds of $10,000 each and were remanded to the custody of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department until the examination.

The pair were arrested December 20 because a citizen, a neighbor of Mrs. Mary Reilly of 572 Barrington, saw them and a third man back a panel truck into the garage on the Reilly property, and 20 minutes later, saw them leave. The third suspect is still being sought.

The neighbor trained a pair of binoculars on the truck and took down the license plate number, and when Mrs. Reilly returned home, gave her the number. Mrs. Reilly in turn gave the number to police, who traced it to the Hillger address.

Park Dets. Robert Salfyrd and Charles Petrie, who made the arrests, took the two men to the station, where the pair were thoroughly searched. The officers found each had several aluminum foil packages, suspected of being heroin, and each had needles and syringes.

Norris and Carmack both admitted to being drug users, and have been using heroin for two months. They said they were going to use the money from their loot to buy drugs.

Carmack, it was disclosed by Det. Sgt. James LaPratt, was free on bond on a murder charge in Detroit.

Salfyrd and Petrie, armed with a search warrant, returned to the Hillger address, and recovered two rifles and a shotgun, and all the jewelry items except two watches, taken from the Reillys. Also still missing was a portable television set taken from the Reilly residence.

The woman neighbor, who made it her business to be involved, received high praise from the police. She was given credit for the apprehension of the suspects, since it was her information that led to their arrests.

Detroit Police Find Stolen Car

City Police received a report on Wednesday, December 24, of a car theft from the Village Standard Service Station, 16821 Kercheval, sometime between Tuesday, December 23 and that date.

The owner, Richard Dirkson, 502 St. Clair had left the car for repair on Tuesday, and when he returned on Wednesday the theft was discovered.

The station owner told police the car was locked and the key held in the station office. An employee, who closed the station the previous night, said the car was on the premises when he left.

City police sent out an all-points broadcast and later the vehicle was found in running condition by Detroit Police at Eight Mile and Gratiot.

MR. HUMIDIFIER

Looking for a Humidifier? Here's Why It's a Good Idea to Buy from Williams!

by ROBERT A. "DOC" WILLIAMS

We can think of quite a few reasons why many homeowners are interested in purchasing a humidifier for their family. Surely the health factor in itself is important at this time of year.

Change of weather like we've had in the past week is often conducive to colds and respiratory infection. Dry air inside your home caused by the artificial heating process can help bacteria along. When the mucous membranes in the nose and throat are moist they are a natural preventive barrier against bacteria; but not so when dry air makes them parched. With a humidifier, however, moisture is supplied in an adequate amount to keep these membranes moist, thereby helping to prevent infection.

adequate moisture controls 24 hours a day. It has a humidistat to allow you to control the amount of moisture needed right in your living quarters. A drain to carry away mineral deposits naturally found in water that can cause dust in the air and clogging is provided. And, it is installed easily on your furnace system.

Second, Williams is probably the most experienced dealer in this area in forced humidification. We have installed thousands of Carrier humidifiers in the Detroit area over the past years; most probably one in your neighborhood. Our installation and engineering crews know how to give your home just the right size and how to custom fit the Carrier to your needs.

Chances are if you are looking for a humidifier, you know this plus the fact that proper humidity also helps to preserve your furnishings, plants, rugs, and drapes and prevent annoying static electricity. But, you're probably wondering who to buy a humidifier from.

Naturally, we're going to suggest that you buy from us, Williams Refrigeration and Heating Co., but we have good reasons.

First, the humidifier we carry is known in the industry as one of the best available. It has more than enough capacity to give your home

These same reasons also experienced in installing top performance furnaces if you're in need of a new furnace system. And, you can't go wrong with Carrier known for its quality performance, long life, and lower fuel bills. 10, 20, and 25 years warranties are available in a size and style we can custom design for your home. Mayor Butler Impressed By His Visit to Israel

"Israel is the most exciting country I have ever visited," said William G. Butler, Mayor of Grosse Pointe Farms, who has just returned from a trip to the Jewish State.

Mayor Butler purchased $1,000 in Israel Bonds after witnessing

News Staffer Teaches Course

A completely new class—Creative Writing and Journalism—will be offered this year at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, starting on Wednesday, January 14.

Philip J. Loranger, a member of the editorial staff of the Grosse Pointe NEWS, will instruct a detailed course in the history and mechanics of journalism and the actual techniques of journalistic writing as they apply to newspaper reporting, public relations, advertising and free-lance writing.

Loranger claims there are too few qualified writers in the field of mass media today and yet there has never been such a crying need for journalists.

The first term of six weeks will be open to both adults and serious-minded high school seniors and the fee is $15. The classroom sessions will be held each Wednesday, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Prior to joining the NEWS staff, Loranger served as public relations director for the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit, was a moderator for interview shows on Radio Stations WEXL and WQTE, was the assistant managing editor of the Detroit American and assistant city editor of the Macomb Daily, in Mount Clemens.

first hand, what Israel Bond funds have done for the development of the country.

"The accomplishments of the absolutely sensational," Mayor Butler stated, "My most lasting impression is the degree of dedication of the people of Israel and their determination that the country shall live. The children are attractive, alert and devoted to their land. I was also greatly impressed by the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, which is the crossroads of the world, with students from the four corners of the globe."

"I found the people intelligent and aware of the problems and the dangers facing them. All had suffered from three wars in less than 21 years. But they were determined that never again would the Jewish people be confronted with gas chambers or death camps. They want to live at peace with their neighbors."

Mayor Butler toured Israel from the Biblical "Dan to Beer-sheba," drove into Gaza with a military escort, visited a Bedouin tribe, met the Mayor of Nazareth, and saw the holy sites, drove over the Heights of Golan all the way to Kuneitra, saw Capernaum and Tiberias, on the Sea of Galilee, drove through the West Bank of the Jordan, visiting Nablus, (the Biblical Shechem) and Jericho, spent several days in Jerusalem, Tel-Aviv and Haifa, swam in the Dead Sea, inspected the Qumram Caves where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found, visiting Rache's Tomb and the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem.

Mr. Butler is a former chairman of the Board of Trustees of Merrill Palmer Institute, of which he is a trustee. He is a Trustee of the Detroit Historical Society, a member of the Society of Mayor Descendants and a Trustee of the Metropolitan Society for the Blind and a member of the Abraham Lincoln Civil War Roundtable.

He is a graduate of Yale and received his law degree from Harvard Law School and spent four years with the U.S. Air Force in World War II.

Remember—the busiest man is always the happiest man.

Firemen Douse Park Home Fire

Park firemen extinguished a blaze in the third floor living quarters of Mrs. James Turcotte, 780 Trombley road, on Tuesday, December 23. The fire was believed to have been started by a lighted candle that had been placed on the floor.

According to fire officials, when equipment and personnel arrived at the residence, the fire had already crept up the wall and to the ceiling of the room. The fire, which was put out in about 20 minutes, was confined to the one room, it was said.

It was disclosed that the blaze could have been accidentally started when a lighted candle was placed on the floor, and possibly too close to window curtains. Damaged besides the wall and ceiling, were the room carpet and flooring. There was considerable smoke damage, also, it was said.

The residence is owned by Peter Wagoner, of the Trombley address, who lives on the first floor.

Teen Sentenced On Gun Charge

Frank Hudgins, 17, of 289 Ashland, Detroit, at a hearing held before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer, on Saturday, December 27, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of possession of a BB hand gun by a minor, a misdemeanor.

Det. Sgt. James LaPratt said that a warrant charging Hudgins while carrying a concealed weapon was denied by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Judge Speer accepted the youth's guilty plea, and placed him on probation for one year.

Police were dispatched to the Dobbs House, 15412 East Jefferson, a restaurant, when a citizen reported that a man was in the place and had a gun on his person.

When the officers arrived at the eatery, Hudgins had left with several friends, and was at the rear of the establishment. The policemen went to the rear lot and found Hudgins, who was holding a plastic toy pistol in his hand.

The officers were skeptical about the toy, since the complaining citizen said that the gun seen resembled a German Luger. Hudgins finally admitted that he did not have the gun, that he had placed it in a plastic bag and had hidden it among bushes on the property adjacent to the restaurant. The policemen found the weapon where the youth said he had placed it, and confiscated it and took the lad to the station for further questioning.

The youth did not disclose why he was carrying the gun, a CO2 pellet pistol.

A Michigan State Law classifies a hand gun, which fires pellets by either forced air or gas, as the same as regular hand guns. Permits must be obtained to purchase them, and owners must register them. They CANNOT be carried on the person, or concealed, except as specified by law, without a concealed weapons permit, the same as pistols, revolvers and other hand weapons.

Workshops for Retarded Turn Out Proud Product

By Pepper Whitelaw
The young man's step was a little jauntier as he walked to the bus stop heading for home after working at a Detroit enameling firm. He felt good. Today he had received his very first paycheck. Money he had earned all by himself. For him, who is a trainable retarded young adult of 23, this was a real accomplishment.

As he alit from the bus, he hustled to the front door of his home in Canterbury road, burst into the house and called to his parents. With an impish smile he handed the check to them. With pride his parents stared happily at the check. Their son had come a long way since that day when it was suggested that he might be permanently institutionalized. Yes, a long way. He has now become a vital part of the tax paying community. He is a contributor . . . not a tax burden.

The lad is one of the many in Detroit and The Pointe area who are alumni of the Detroit Association for Retarded Children-Hancock Center. Prior to attending Hancock Center, he participated in the public school program for trainable retarded children. However, when he reached the age of 21 and was no longer eligible for the trainable program, he went to Hancock Center where he was trained to handle work tasks and learn good work habits. It was through Hancock that he got his job, and the training necessary to function on the job. His employer is delighted with his performance.

If the story could end here it would indeed be a happy one, but it doesn't.

There are very few of these sheltered workshops in the Detroit area . . . none in Grosse Pointe. In order to attend workshop sessions these young adults must take the bus or be driven.

Then what of the hours after work? Where do these young adults go for recreation? Unfortunately, too many of them go the television set because recreational facilities are limited for them. One answer would be a recreational facility of their very own, properly supervised. Of course, the ideal answer would be integrating these youngsters in our regular young adult program . . . however, is the public willing to accept them?

Another question on the minds of this youth's parents is, "What happens to him when we are no longer here to provide a home for him?" For years he has lived in the community as a contributing individual, now must he face institutionalization. What then? Hopefully, someday soon living facilities will be provided for these youngsters. Facilities where they can return after a day's work and live and relax.

The answer to these questions are not easy to come by. In the past few years educators and legislators activated by interested parents have made some progress in helping the trainable retarded. Working to find some of these answers are members of the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children.

These Pointe mothers and fathers are approaching the whole question of the trainable retarded through a variety of avenues which include informing the general public, promoting legislation that will help these youngsters and by seeking professionals who can set up more comprehensive programs for their children.

1969 Was Big Sports Year; New Rivalry Is Highlight

By Phil Loranger
The year that was in Pointe-area sports has come and gone, leaving in its wake a number of prominent "firsts," heralding the start of a new intra-community sports rivalry and launching a crew of young athletes into collegiate careers.

Perhaps the highlight of the 1969 Pointe sports year was the establishment of an all sports rivalry between South

High's Blue Devils and the Norsemen of North High.

The first athletic encounter between the "old" and "new" occurred in late fall, when the football teams of both schools clashed in a classic battle on the turf of Grosse Pointe South Field, climaxed an intense week of student rallies and hard-hitting practices.

Fittingly enough, Tom Reghanti's first high school touchdown and Jack Gardner's extra point conversion gave South a 7-6 win and at least one-year possession of the coveted Grosse Pointe NEWS trophy, presented for the first time this year.

The traveling trophy will be displayed in the showcase of the winning school until the teams meet again.

There were other prominent sports events, beginning in the short days of winter.

The St. Paul Catholic High School Lakers swept through 13 straight basketball games en route to a perfect season under the guidance of the master of Grosse Pointe basketball, Ed Lauer. In the post-season contests the Paulite eagles knocked off four more rivals, gaining a berth in the State Class C finals in East Lansing.

With just 51 seconds remaining in the contest against Saginaw St. Stephens and St. Paul holding a 43-42 lead, up jumped the devil in the form of a scrappy St. Stephen's guard, who stole the ball three times in an unbelievable display and scored three lay-ups, sending the shocked Lakers to a 48-43 defeat.

In the spring, North High School announced the resignation of football coach Joe Caruthers and the appointment of Jim Krucki as his replacement. Krucki revamped the entire offensive and defensive tactics of the Norsemen and led his rebuilt unit to a five season.

The Blue Devil natators swam their way to an amazing 30 straight victories, climaxing their season by stinging Fordson 67-38 to lay claim to the Border Cities League Swimming championship for the eighth time in the past nine years. They went on to finish sixth in the state finals.

Also at South, Chuck Holley's eagles put together a 15-game winning streak to win the Border Cities League crown, before getting upset by an under-rated Bishop Gallagher squad in the regional play-offs and finishing the season with a 17-1 record.

South High netters won the regional tennis tournament and the school sent three men to the State Finals. In addition to these athletic laurels, the Blue Devil football team, rated low on the pole by the experts in the pre-season, came on strong in the latter half of the season to give Coach Russ Hopper a winning season and the Border Cities Championship.

Cross-country star Rick Schott, of North High, became the State Two-Mile Champion and the Norsemen harriers ran over every opponent in sight.

The Crescent Sail Yacht Club's Junior Sailing team walked away with the J. Otto Scherer Trophy in the 5th Annual Junior Sailing Championship Races and the Grosse Pointe Sail Club gained nationwide prestige with its Tuesday Night Sailing Regattas in the waters off the Park marinas.

University School Athletic Director Bob Wood teamed with Mrs. William (Betty) Kohr to win the George R. McMullen Memorial Trophy in the 3rd Annual Tennis and Crumpets Tournament at the Country Club of Detroit, in which more than 600 tennis buffs participated.

The Grosse Pointe NEWS selected an All-Pointe gridiron squad for the first time in its 28-year history and also awarded Coach of the Year honors to University School's head mentor, Tom Taber.

The St. Paul Lakers stumbled through one of the school's worst football seasons, but salvaged a measure of pride and satisfaction by exploding for a 51-0 victory over tough St. Hedwig, when halfback Mike Nally rumbled into the endzone four times. Ironically, the Laker grade school team turned in the first undefeated untied season in the school's history under coach John Garvin.

All-State honors in basketball went to University School's fabulous Dale McCarthy. Austin's Rick Woodbury and South's Larry Ulmer, Don Lennox and Marty Weiczorek, of University School, were named to the All-State. Class D, football team and Paul Hayner, of St. Amrose, was selected to the first-team All-State gridiron squad.

More than a dozen Pointe football players received athletic scholarships this year after tremendous high school careers.

North High School fielded a wrestling team for the first time and, under the tutelage of coach Jim Grammatico, they made more progress than anybody expected, firmly establishing the sport as a major athletic activity at the school.

The wrestlers of University School ended a seven-year winless drought by defeating Cranbrook for the first victory in the school's history and the proud coach was none other than this honest, but of course humble, sports writer.

It's all over and the dust has settled, but the thunder of Pointe athletes will be heard just as loud and as successfully in the New Year. The NEWS wishes all of them the best of luck.

Scoring the Pointes

By Phil Loranger
I take it all back, but I refuse to take all the blame for a bad prediction.

It was just a few short weeks ago that I claimed the Lake St. Clair ice would not freeze over and become sturdy enough to support ice skaters until at least the second week of January. Strike One! I also predicted that the Lake would not freeze from shoreline USA to shoreline Canada until the last days of January. Strike Two! This past weekend I personally observed at least 200 skaters cutting circles on the surface of the Lake, which was not only some of the hardest ice I've seen this early in the year, but it also stretched as far as the eye could see. Strike Three!

My predictions may not have been able to hold much water... perhaps, I should say ice... but I refuse to shoulder all the burden of harassment. I'm going to shove some of the blame onto the Ice and Snow Project members of the U.S. Lake Survey team for the Army Corps of Engineers. I claim they misled me. They took me for a ride.

"Don't sweat it," they said. "This old lake hasn't got an iceberg's chance in Hades to freeze over much before mid-January. You can bet on that!" Thank goodness, I didn't.

Speaking of those ice skaters, it would seem to me that the lure of the ice is as great today as it ever has been. There were youngsters and adults on the ice in great numbers as early as 8:00 a.m. and most were still there when the sun called it a day. Obviously, skates were a hot item for Christmas shoppers this year and more than a few recipients were anxious to try them out.

With the early ice came indications that the annual winter arrival of "Shantytown" residents is not far off. The first of what will probably be many ice shanties sat all by its lonesome that lovely ice fisherman had a few words of wisdom for the gang of youthful skaters who insisted on using his little hut as a backdrop for their hockey game. Not only were the dents beginning to mount on the side of his small shanty, but I'll bet the noise inside that thin-walled shell was deafening.

I guess it's just been a tough week all around. I took Dallas over Cleveland and then that ice showed up.

McCarthy Sets Scoring Record

There seems to be very little opponents can do to stop University School's All-State case star, Dale McCarthy, short of tying him up with a rope or banning him from their gymnasiums. The six-foot guard proved that the other night in Yale, Michigan.

Attempting to salvage a third-place finish in Yale's third annual holiday tournament, Coach Bob Wood's Knights ran all over Memphis High, drubbing their outclassed opponents to the tune of an 100-68 score. To say that McCarthy played a hand in the win is an understatement.

The amazing guard scored 42 points, establishing a new school record, by pouring in 20 points in the first quarter, six in the second, six more in the third, and 10 in the final period. McCarthy also converted 10 of his 12 shots from the charity stripes, pulled down 17 rebounds and added eight assists.

By hitting on 57 per cent of his floor shots and 83 per cent of his foul throws, McCarthy broke his own 41-point scoring record. The team's century mark in total points for the game, fell just three points short of another school record.

All but one of McCarthy's 10 buckets in the first quarter came on shots from more than 15 feet from the rim.

McCarthy was named to the All-Tournament team, based on his fine, all-around play and his 83 total points in the three-day tourney. Ralph Kulek, who added 26 points to the victory total, finished the meet with 63 total points.

The Knights now stand 4-3 for the season and tie on power-house Cranbrook in a January 10 contest.

PURSE PILFERED

Thief Helms Self To Xmas Gifts

Mr. and Mrs. John M. White, of 938 S. Renaud, called Woods police on Wednesday, December 24, to report a burglary at the family home.

White told Woods Public Safety Officer, Bruce Marone, that the family was unwrapping Christmas gifts that evening, when they became aware that some gifts were missing.

The family discovered that the milk chute was open, but none of them could remember letting it stand open. White theorized that the culprit had gained entry into the home by reaching through the chute and unlocking a door.

Missing from the home was a shirt, a sweater and two pairs of trousers. Police are investigating the burglary.

Youthful Driver Arrested In City

A 14-year-old youth was apprehended by City patrolman Richard Lanski on Sunday, December 28, for driving without a license and reckless driving.

The youth was first observed on Washington between Goethe and Charlevoix driving a '67 Cadillac. Officer Lanski thought the boy looked too young to be driving and decided to investigate. As his car approached the Cadillac, the youth accelerated, went through a stop sign at Washington and Charlevoix and fled east on Charlevoix, then north on Fisher. He made a left turn into the drive of 681 Fisher. The youth lost control of the car and went over the lawn of 685 Fisher then hit a house at 681 Fisher.

There were two juvenile girls in the car. All three were taken to the City station and their parents notified. The boy was issued two violations and given a date to appear in Juvenile Court. All parties were released to their parents.

FINAL PAYMENT
The Park council approved a final payment of $7,375.53 to the Cooke Contracting company, for asphalt paving of the parking lots at the Three Mile Drive and Windmill Pointe Parks, and the resurfacing of various city streets. Total cost of the over all program for 1969, was $48,439.68, of which $17,948.35 was expended for the streets and $30,491.33 for the park lots.

Knight Cagers Split A Pair

The University School Knights up-ended Capac in the opening round of the third annual Yale holiday basketball tournament on Friday, December 26, but fell before the powerful Crosswell-Lexington squad's rush the next night, losing a chance to become the new tourney champion.

All-State guard Dale McCarthy tossed in 20 points against defending champion Capac, most of them coming in the second half, and Ralph Kulek added 13 points. Mike Getz hit for 12 more points toward the final 64-57 victory margin.

"I thought we played well, but we seemed to be colder from the floor than I thought we should have been," said Coach Bob Wood, who is coaching one of his greener teams of the past few years. "Capac came at us hard in the latter stages of the ball game, but we still hung on to win."

It was a different story the next night as the Knights took on mighty Cross-Lex, who overpowered Memphis the first night by a count of 61-28, and found the northerners just too much to handle.

Despite the fact that Ralph Kulek poured in 24 points and McCarthy added another 22, the Knights bowed 69-57. "We just came up flat in this game and Cross-Lex hit on an amazing 62 per cent of its shots from the floor," said Wood. "Whenever you find a team scoring at a pace like that, you know you're in trouble."

Ironically, the Knights hit on 15 of 20 shots from the charity stripes against Cross-Lex and only converted six of 16 in their win over Capac. McCarthy scored 20 points in the second half, after being held to only two in the opening two frames.

Aliens Required To Make Report

Walter A. Sahli, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the Attorney General within the near future.

All aliens, with few exceptions, who are in the United States on January 1 each year must report their addresses by the end of that month. Only the following classes of aliens are excused from the requirement: (1) Accredited Diplomats; and (2) Persons accredited to certain international organizations.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained from any Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office during the month of January.

Mr. Sahli said that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement.

Park Firemen Help Brighten Detroit Family's Christmas

Park firemen had only to hear that a family was about to have a bleak and dismal Christmas, and they went into action, talking baskets of food and toys, and a Christmas tree with all the decorations, to help brighten the family's Yule.

Fire Sgt. David Taylor, while watching television in the station heard a news commentator on December 24, mention the plight of the family of James Swendrewk of 123 Canfield, Detroit, who were faced with a sad holiday.

Swendrewk, the newscaster said, had a serious back injury and was unemployed, and has two sons, six and seven years old, both retarded, and a three and a half year-old daughter.

Taylor imparted this information to his colleagues at the fire station, after which he, Fire Sgt. Paul Warnet and Fireman

William Hunt, approached the Grosse Pointe Lions Club, Goodfellows, and obtained two full baskets of food, including a large turkey, toys for the kids, finagled a Christmas tree from a good-hearted tree seller, got some decorations, and went to the Swendrewk residence. The firefighters, along with a number of other people in the Detroit area, went to the stricken family's home, and gave them gifts, presents, food and good wishes poured in from all sections of the Detroit area.

Not only did the Park firemen decorate the tree, they also gave the family $10 collected from the men who were on fire duty at the time. Topping this off, Dennis McLain, Tiger baseball great, called Swendrewk, and offered the grateful father a job for as long as he wanted it. Offers of other work were also received from area employers, but Swendrewk accepted that from McLain.

Metropolitan Opera Co. To Make Annual May Visit

The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York will make its twelfth annual visit to the Masonic Temple Auditorium, in Detroit, and offer six evening performances from May 25 to May 30 and a Saturday matinee on the latter date, according to Wilber H. Mack, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, sponsor of the opera season.

Mrs. Ernest A. Jones, of Bloomfield Hills, general chairman of the 1970 opera season, stated, "In spite of the uncertainty caused by the recent New York strike, the Metropolitan will offer Detroit a truly exceptional season with three new productions, two Detroit premieres, and several important operatic and conducting Detroit Metropolitan debuts."

Mack continued, "Letters requesting contributions for the Detroit Grand Opera Association maintenance fund have recently been mailed. A favorable response is essential to the financial stability of the Association because of the heavy commitment that must be made to bring the Metropolitan to Detroit."

As in past seasons, the opening night will be a benefit performance, the beneficiaries being the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Inc., and the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

On Monday evening the performance will be new productions of a popular double bill: Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" with Fiorenza Cossotto and Placido Domingo, both in their Detroit Metropolitan debuts; and Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" with Edda Moser, James McCracken, Cornell MacNeil, and William Walker. Thomas Schippers will conduct both performances.

Tuesday, Pilar Lorengar will sing the role of Violetta in Verdi's "La Traviata", with Richard Tucker as Alfredo and Robert Merrill as Germont. Francesco Molinari-Pradelli will conduct.

Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be presented on Wednesday, with Anna Moffo, Sandor Konya, Mario Sereni, and Raymond Michalski. The conductor will be announced later.

The Detroit premiere of Bellini's "Norma", another new production, with Joan Sutherland, is the Thursday performance. Marilyn Horne, mezzo-soprano, and Richard Bonynge, conductor, will both make their Detroit Metropolitan debuts.

Richard Tucker will sing the title role in Giordano's "Andrea Chenier" Friday evening, with Martina Arroyo, in her Detroit Metropolitan debut, and Robert Merrill. The conductor is to be announced.

The Saturday matinee performance of Puccini's "Tosca" will be sung by Gabriella Tucci, Bruno Pravedi, and Cornell MacNeil. Francesco Molinari-Pradelli will again conduct.

The other Detroit premiere will be Mozart's "Die Zauberflote", ("The Magic Flute"), on Saturday evening. The lead roles will be sung by Pilar Lorengar, Colette Boky, George Shirley, Theodore Uppman, and John Macurdy. Stanislaw Skrowaczewski will make his Detroit Metropolitan conducting debut.

Because of some casting uncertainty caused by the suspension of the New York season until this month, it is possible that substitutions may be made in some performances.

Mail orders for the 1970 Metropolitan performances and the hours and places of the box office sales will be announced at later dates, according to Henry Ledyard, general manager of the Association.

Prey of Thieves In Nightly Walk

Philip Davis, 774 University, was the victim of an armed robbery on Monday, December 22, at the corner of Washington and Goethe. Mr. Davis told police he was taking his usual night time walk when two Negro males jumped out of a car, relieved him of his wallet containing $15, personal papers, drivers' license, credit cards and a handkerchief. The pair threatened him with a small handgun and pocket knife. Two other Negro males were in the car.

After relieving Mr. Davis of his money the foursome fled south on Washington in a yellow Ford with a black vinyl top.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools
 As we reflect on the 1960's and anticipate the 1970's, we expect that the future will resemble the past in that it will be equally challenging. In education, we are informed on all sides that changes are overdue. Anyone who has attempted innovation in education (or in any other field), knows that the breakthroughs we read about will come about only through painful adjustment and much hard work. Breaking established patterns has never been easy.
 For example, we learn that the United States Office of Education is attempting to involve agencies other than colleges and universities in teacher training to a greater extent. This would include the local school district, the state department of education, the local school faculties, and the community. A commendable approach, certainly, one worth attempting.
 And what of the school's role in attempting to give guidance and direction to students' personal problems? A recent study showed that it's smart not to smoke cigarettes: 60 percent of high school students polled with D's or lower are smokers, while only 8 percent of A students are. The study showed that parental influence and example are strong factors in teen-age smoking. How much influence does the school exert in the matter of smoking?
 As to marijuana, another recent study says that it is easy to predict which youngsters are likely to become users. Frequent users "tend toward narcissism, self-aggrandizement, and overconcern with personal pleasure and diversion." How does the school deal with the problem?
 One mildly encouraging note is contained in the results of a poll conducted by the National Education Association. According to its study, last year more than 67 percent of the teachers said they believed strikes were justifiable, (under extreme conditions), with only 23 percent saying that teachers should never strike. This year, those in the pro-strike corner had dropped to 60 percent and those totally opposed had risen to 30 percent. Perhaps professional negotiations and collective bargaining will take a different turn in the future.
 And what of the current issue of the "Illinois School Board Journal", that public schools don't "concentrate on education"? The alternative would move the extracurricular programs out of the schools and into a town center separately funded and controlled.
 Unfortunately, in the future it is unlikely that the schools will be any more able to provide instant remedies for the ills of society than they are today. But looking back on our past record, I am sure that we shall continue to try.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
 On Christmas morning we had occasion to call on the City of Grosse Pointe Police Department for emergency service.
 They responded promptly, capably and efficiently and they were exceedingly kind.
 We feel that all "Pointers" should realize how more than fortunate we are to be served by that type of men.
 We have already told them of our appreciation.

Headlines of the Week

Monday, December 29
 PARTS OF NEW ENGLAND and upstate New York were paralyzed Sunday in the aftermath of one of the worst snowstorms ever to strike the area. Vermont Governor Deane Davis declared the state a disaster area. The National Guard and Civil Defense agencies provided emergency relief services. Many skiers were stranded at resorts. The 44 inches of snow was the most ever to fall in Vermont according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.
 U.S. AIR POWER and artillery sent North Vietnamese forces reeling Sunday in a battle in the jungles northeast of Saigon not far from where the enemy had been handed another defeat the day before. Field reports said the fighting broke out 15 miles northeast of the provincial capital of Song Be, 90 miles northeast of Saigon, and U.S. forces counted 46 North Vietnamese dead. No U.S. casualties were reported.
Tuesday, December 30
 MAJOR U.S. WEAPONS systems are costing at least $20 million more than original estimates and no one knows the total number of systems being acquired or their costs, Congress was told Monday.
 A NOISY ANTI-AMERICAN demonstration marked by the throwing of small explosive devices marred a generally friendly welcome Monday night as vice-president Spiro T. Agnew launched a 10-nation Asian tour, sounding the theme of U.S.-Philippines friendship.
 PRESIDENT NIXON SIGNED legislation Monday requiring cities to replace homes razed by urban renewal. Federal funds would be provided for the program. The requirement was contained in a $4.8 billion authorization measure extending for one year existing public housing under federal home insurance programs. The measure included several other new provisions, including a plan to allow federal mortgage insurance for mobile homes.

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Virginia Leonard

Happy New Year! Have you made your New Year's resolutions? If you've been too tired to get around to it yet, I'd like to suggest some for you.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often because I haven't been doing enough reading and, now that the holidays are over (thank goodness!), I should find more time to take care of this deficiency.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often because I am in need of tapes, records and other AV materials. I certainly could use some background music while I'm reading my books, or it might help me in that music appreciation course that I'm thinking of taking.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often to admire the many and varied fine displays that all three of our ingenious agencies put up week after week. They certainly should give me ideas for reading in other fields.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often to see what new books are on the market. I keep reading of this and that best seller or provocative title, but I should keep an account of what's going on in this area. How can I discuss these new volumes at social gatherings if I haven't read the book? And if the book isn't in, either as a rental or in the free collection, I can always leave a reserve for it.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often because I have a do-it-yourself family that is forever mislaying tools or needing some that we don't own, and I can then borrow whatever my amateur carpenter needs.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often, and will bring or send my children. It is time they did more reading, and with such understanding children's librarians to help them in their selections, I should be taking better advantage of this opportunity. I also must not forget the story hours, both pre-school and school age.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often to track down several of those illusive reference questions that no one in the family can answer. After I consult the books I know of and think might contain the answers, I resolve to ask for help from the librarian in charge. I am aware that many questions can be answered over the phone and I hope to make better use of this service during 1970, also!
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often and take out an art print more frequently to brighten up one of my rooms. I've just had the study redecorated, and haven't made up my mind what sort of pictures should be hung there. What better way to experiment than by using the library art prints?
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often—and take out a library card! It is incredible that I've spent all this time just browsing and reading in the library and haven't taken any books out!
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often and ask for advice on certain types of books to read. There may be books in certain areas I've never heard of—or books in related areas I haven't thought of. If I get to know the public service personnel better, and they get to know me, they'll be able to suggest books that will suit my reading tastes, and guide me into new fields which I will find extremely interesting and which will make me a better informed person.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often and read the newspapers and periodicals that I don't have in my home. How can I keep up with world events, relevant issues and current problems if I don't branch out and do more of this type of reading? Certainly I can let the floor go unscrubbed this week and spend that time getting educated.
 Resolved: That I will come into my public library more often in 1970!

Jets Continue To Lead League

The Frank Hayden Jets, with 15 returning veterans continued to dominate play as of the second round of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association Squirt Division opened on December 20 at McCann Rink. In the two games played, the Jets overwhelmed the Wolves—7-0 while the Pros and Comets played to a 1-1 tie.
 The Jets, appearing to most observers as the finest Squirt House team ever assembled, received their usual fine performance from Pete Logan, Bob Fraser and Ken Hayden, who contributed to most of the second and now rank first, second and third in the overall league scoring statistics. Seven-year-old George Hogan of the Wolves gave notice that he will be one of the stars of the future as he continued to improve with every game.
 The Pros-Comets contest was as even as the score indicated, all of the scoring coming in the first period. The Pros opened with a goal by Jon Wardwell, assisted by Dave Buhl at the 5:15 mark of the first period. Exactly two minutes later Steve Levick of the Comets scored on a beautiful unassisted dash the length of the ice.
 The chilled crowd was particularly impressed by the work of Referee Jack Hoag, who handled the opening game and Referee Randy Sides who presided over the 9 a.m. contest. Although no penalties were called, both men appeared in much better condition this season. As past presidents of the Hockey Association and Squirt Division Directors, work of Messers Sides and Hoag over the years has been greatly appreciated.

Guests arrived via a red carpet stretching from the Club's entrance to the Green Room where the young ladies, flanked in turn by pairs of fathers, received.

Traditional Christmas garlands, holly and mistletoe sprays and wreaths festooned the Great Hall with its large Christmas Tree where Jack Qualey's Orchestra alternated traditional melodies with the "mod" sounds of a rock group, The Tea.

Breakfast was served in the Mixed Grill where a caricaturist captured personalities and strolling folk singers entertained. Earlier the Men's Grill was the scene of a pre-party dinner given by the debs' grandparents: The John S. Sweeneys, the Kendrick Browns, Raymond K. Dykema and the Mesdames Frederick Evans, Charles DeLong, Clifford Taylor, John R. Watkins, Frederick Hughes and Henry T. Ewald.

Guests included the debutantes and their escorts, Earl Heenan, James McNaughton, Jim and Bob Martin, Teddy Eaton, John B. Ford, IV, Bill Swan, Scotty McKay, Mark Ehrig, III, John Ballantyne, Harry Campbell, Peter Renchard, Gary Brooks, Dick Turner, Jerry Vaughan and Rick Tompkinson.

Others were parents, brothers and sisters and out-of-town friends, here especially for the dance—and, of course, the dinner arrangements' coordinator, Mary Dykema's aunt Mrs. Laurie Dickson, Jr.

Miss Anderson Bows Dec. 26

This season's final deb, Lindsay Anderson, daughter of the Wendell W. Andersons, Jr., of Preston place, made her bow to society at a day-after-Christmas reception at the Grosse Pointe Club given by Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson, of Lewiston road.

Spring flowers, tulips, daffodils and forsythia, filled the Little Club, replacing the traditional holiday greens.

Lindsay returned from her studies in Italy for Christmas-at-home and the party with guests including her friends and friends of her parents.

Among them was Mrs. Anderson, Sr.'s houseguest, Mrs. Francis W. Benson, of New Haven, Conn., here for a week's visit.

Providing background music for the large party was Jack Qualey's Orchestra.

Lindsay, tall, blond and blue-eyed, was graduated last June from the Westover School, Middlebury, Conn. She'll return to Italy to resume her Art studies in Florence.

From Another Pointe of View

David, of course, attended Grosse Pointe University School and Dartmouth College. He's a recent graduate of the Columbia University Business School.

George Haggarty traveled from Grosse Pointe to Boulder to act as best man; Mrs. Peter Ellsworth, of Denver, attended the bride, and Marshal Templeton flew out to give the Rehearsal Dinner at the Denver Club December 28 after spending Christmas week in New York with his daughters, Mrs. John Wiser-Pratte, of Pound Ridge; and Mrs. William B. Slater, Jr., of Chappaqua, and their families.

And by the way, the new Mrs. Templeton has married into a most distinguished Old Detroit family.

On his mother's side (Mary Rumney Doughty), David's a fifth generation Detroit, member of the Doughty, Rumney and Pittman clans.

The Templetons arrived a bit later, at the end of the last century.

But they immediately began to make up for lost time, founding banks and financial institutions.

What's Going On At Harvard?

And what are YOU going to be doing the Day After New Year's?

Members of the Harvard Club of Eastern Michigan will be examining the current situation at their Alma Mater.

"What's going on at Harvard" is the topic for tomorrow's luncheon meeting in the Indian Village home of Donald K. Barnes, vice-president of the Club.

Harvard students home for the holidays and high school students interested in attending Harvard have been invited by Donald Hocevar, Schools Committee chairman, to meet and "communicate" with the older generation.

Club president Allen Lomax, of Ridge road, hopes that Harvard senior Erick Hanson, whose home is in Saginaw, will be able to attend.

Erick's just been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship for two years' study at Oxford.

About Last Night . . .

And where were YOU at midnight? At home, (yours or someone else's), greeting the New Year with friends . . . or perhaps, as is customary with so many Pointers, at a Club party? . . .

Over at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club the Leo Radkes headed a committee masterminding the traditional happy celebration welcoming a New Year—and a New Decade. The fun stretched from dinner through breakfast, with lots of dancing during and in between.

Maeve Burns Wed To Frank Erbecker

Reception at Cranford Lane Home of Her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Burns, Follows Tuesday Evening Rites

Maeve Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Burns, and Frank J. Erbecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Erbecker, of Whittier road, were married Tuesday evening, December 30, at a nuptial mass celebrated by The Very Reverend Nicholas Maestrini in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

After a reception in the Burns' Cranford lane home the newlyweds left for a trip East, the bride wearing a dress of deep brown wool piped in satin, a dark brown seal coat and matching accessories.

They will return to make their home in Neff road.

For her marriage the former Miss Burns selected a gown of deep antique ivory peau de soie fashioned with a full skirt and sheer bodice and cap sleeves of re-embroidered Alencon lace.

The lace motif was repeated on her skirt and Cathedral train. Her Brussels lace man-tilla fell the length of the train and she carried an arrangement of stephanotis, holly and white heather.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Lyle LaLonge, of Amherstburg, Ont., whose long, sleeveless dress of ivory ribbed faille featured a high neckline accented by a band of holly green velvet.

Matching velvet ribbon formed her back half-belt with long streamers falling from a waistline bow. She carried a Biedermeier bouquet of English holly and greens.

Michael Carey, of Mount Pleasant, was best man and James Jones, of Utica, ushered.

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting for the Tuesday evening, December 30, wedding of MAEVE BURNS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Burns, of Cranford lane, and Mr. Erbecker, son of the Frank M. Erbeckers, of Whittier road.

Tickets for either performance are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office (961-0700), all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores.

Al Belknap studied with Otto Schmeisser, first trumpet with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and Adolph Herseth. He was an instructor at the Navy School of Music, Washington, D.C., soloed with the Navy Band and was first trumpet and soloist with the Great Lakes Navy Band.

Salvatore Rabbio has been a Detroit Symphony Orchestra member since September of 1958, coming from the Boston "Pops" Orchestra where he often performed as soloist. He teaches timpani/percussion at Meadow Brook School, Oakland University, and Wayne State University where he is also director of the Percussion Ensemble.

A harpsichordist and pianist as well as a composer he appears several times each season in recital.

Parris wrote an earlier concerto for kettle-drums that received great acclaim from Time Magazine, The New Republic and The Washington Post when it premiered in that city. His new concerto for kettle-drums, "The Phoenix," promises to be as outstanding.

Each kettle-drum to be used is equipped with a tuning pedal which alters the tension of the drum head, thus changing its pitch and increasing its flexibility. "The Phoenix" calls for four of these drums, plus a hand-tuned (high) drum.

Symphony Sets Concerto Nights

Four members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be featured in solo roles, one of them in conjunction with the premiere of a Symphony-commissioned work, at the Orchestra's traditional "Concerto Night" concerts this Friday, January 2, and Saturday, January 3.

Both performances will be given in Ford Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock.

The Friday concert will take the place of one previously scheduled for Thursday, New Year's Day. The change was made to accommodate the many concert patrons who want to view the late-afternoon telecast of the Michigan-Southern California Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day.

13—REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

House hunting suggestions for 1970, from Purdy & Edgar, starting with a solid, Old English in the Park, boasting six bedrooms and three full baths. For leisure time, there's a den and a family room, and the lady of the house will certainly enjoy the new "Country Kitchen."

A ample room size throughout this almost new Southern Colonial is just one of its many qualities. Situated on a secluded street, with a not-too-large, but beautifully landscaped yard. Four bedrooms, with three bathrooms, and a tastefully done family room.

Pleasing decorative touches are found in every room of this two year old Colonial in the Woods. The first floor features a charming family room AND a den. A circular staircase leads to four good sized bedrooms and two baths. Large land contract may be assumed.

Pretentious is the word for our French Country House on Lincoln, with fireplaces in the living room, dining room, library, and morning room. Upstairs there are four large bedrooms—two with natural fireplaces—and four maid's bedrooms, with a total of five bathrooms.

Yonder, by the lake, we call your attention to a six year old New Orleans Colonial, where the master bedroom has its own dressing room and bath. Three more bedrooms, first floor utility room, family room, and a heated swimming pool are but a few of its outstanding qualities.

Noteworthy about this offering in the Park is the fact that there are five bedrooms, a formal dining room, fine recreation room with fireplace, large breakfast room, and three-car garage—and it's priced in the forties! Available on a land contract too.

Enrich the lives of your family in the coming year by moving into this six year old Colonial in the Woods. Three big bedrooms and two baths upstairs, while the first floor has a beautiful family room and a den. The whole house is in excellent condition and ready for you.

Wondrous, for an older home, is the family room you'll see in this four bedroom house on Yorkshire. After you've arranged for a personal inspection, we think you'll agree it's a "lot of house" to be priced in the forty thousand dollar range.

Yuletide 1970 will be a warm experience for the person living in this charming four bedroom house on Lincoln, in one of Grosse Pointes most popular areas. The price tag reads a shade under forty thousand dollars, and it's well worth seeing.

Explore the possibilities of our six bedroom house on Washington. With some decorating, the potential is here for a fine home for the large family, especially when you consider that your initial investment would be less than fifty thousand.

Aquiesce to your desire to find a three bedroom home in the Farms for about thirty thousand dollars. We have it for you, on Reliance, and it's just the right size for a retired couple, or newlyweds. It's a story and a half, and in very good condition.

Recapitulate the above information. Then call us for more particulars on the house, or houses, that seem to suit your needs best. Many thanks for making 1969 our most successful year.

World New Year Celebrations Vary

While you may plan to raise your glass of champagne from France and sing "Auld Lang Syne" when the clock strikes 12 on New Year's Eve, your Japanese counterpart may envision sipping cola from America while singing "Otanjobi Omedeto Gozaimasu" (Happy Birthday To You) — for in Japan the stroke of midnight means it's everyone's birthday!

In ancient China, people took a different approach to the First Day. They cleaned house, paid debts and closed their shops. Then they shot off firecrackers — and who can ever forget a New Year's in China-town of any big American city, with its colorful procession of paper dragons breathing good cheer to everyone!

Three-Day Event In old Japan, New Year's was a time for everybody to don new clothes, take three days off from work and visit their friends. Each gatepost would be adorned with green pines and bamboo. And over each door would hang red lobsters, crabs and tangerines, standing for long life and happiness.

Gypsies in Spain used to marry on New Year's Eve. The 18th century writer George Borrow tells us that a main feature of the bridal ceremony was the feasting associated with it. Once the gypsy couple took their vows, guests swirled down sherry and ate and sang and danced throughout the night and day.

In Italy Not to be outdone, Italians consider January 1 part of their yuletide festival, and so they revel until Twelfth Night, 12 days after Christmas.

In France, New Year's Day is so singular that adults let Christmas pass by and exchange presents on the first day of January. The ancient Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians began their year at the autumnal equinox (September 21) and the Greeks, until the fifth century B.C., at the winter solstice (December 21). The ancient Romans once celebrated the beginning of the year on December 21, but Caesar by the adoption of the Julian calendar postponed it to January 1.

Though wining, dining and merry-making have been traditional ways to celebrate New Year's, each country has its own technique. In Switzerland, not only people get all fired up, but also cannon; the peaceful Swiss shoot off all their cannon at midnight.

Shaking and breaking is a popular technique in Italy, where New Year's is welcomed not only with dancing, but also by throwing old china into the fireplace.

On the other side of the ocean, however, rites marking the beginning of the new year were also practiced by many North American Indian groups, but the time for such ceremonies varied. For the Seneca, an Iroquois group of the Eastern Woodland, the New Year begins in February; for the Eskimo, in the fall; for the Northwest California tribes, late in July; for the Hopi, in November; and for other Pueblo Indians, at the winter solstice.

Strange Customs New Year's observances among the Indians vary from area to area. The Seneca rites, for instance, last a total of seven to eight days. On the first day all fires are put out and the ashes scattered. New fire is made and a white dog is strangled and hung up. During the next day, people in masquerade rush from house to house, boys steal food, people ask for interpretations of their dreams, and women sprinkle water on passers-by.

On other days sins are publicly confessed, and the white dog is carried on a slab of bark to an altar and burned. There are speeches, songs, prayers and offerings of tobacco.

American 'Oddities' These New Year's observances may seem strange. To denizens of other countries, however, current American customs may also seem peculiar. To quote one source on New Year's customs: "Many Occidental countries mark the passing of the old year and the arrival of the new by elaborate balls, drinking and generally immoderate behavior in which, at midnight, everybody blows horns, rings bells, shouts, throws confetti, sings 'Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot,' drinks traditional toasts that are usually not needed, and, as an important part of the ritual, tries to kiss all the prettiest girls in the party, who offer enthusiastic collaboration."

Pair Arrested For Possession

City of Grosse Pointe police arrested two men on Tuesday, December 23, in the Neighborhood Club parking lot, 17150 Waterloo, as disorderly persons in possession of marijuana.

The pair, John Drake, 27, of 3580 Bluehill, Detroit, and Isaac Lounsbury, 21, 1056 Balfour, were arrested after being found in Drake's car with four 10-gram packages of marijuana.

They were taken to the City station and arraigned the following morning before Judge Douglas L. Patterson. Their trial date was set for Tuesday, January 13.

The suspicious material was analyzed by the State Crime Laboratory and found to be Cannabis sativa (marijuana).

Had your fill . . . of holidays? Ready now to relax? Here's a suggestion for a lovely, unhectic, not-too-short, not-to-long evening, an hour or so in which you can simply settle back, in the company of friends and neighbors, and listen, and watch . . .

. . . Pierre and Elfrida Palmentier . . . of Fair court, are presenting their sound-color film "Let's Go To New England!" at next Thursday's, (that's January 8), meeting of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League . . . Now the Palmentiers' taste, as you know, is exquisite . . . So their movie of course is too . . .

It will be narrated . . . by Elfrida, beginning at 8 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium . . . The program, as are all Cinema League presentations, is open to all Pointers and guests, free of charge . . .

Scenic and historic . . . areas of Maine and Massachusetts are featured. The Maine sequence includes visits to Bar Harbor, Camden and Ogunquit . . . the picturesque little harbor of Perkins Cove with its converted fishermen's shacks and colorful shops . . . views of the "rocky coast" photographed on a boat trip in the Atlantic . . . Kennebec, once a leading New England shipbuilding town, with its stately sea captains' homes . . . the historic town of York, settled in 1630 . . .

The Massachusetts' portion . . . focuses on Marblehead . . . Rockport . . . Salem . . . bustling Provincetown at the tip of Cape Cod, where the Pilgrims first landed in 1620, its narrow streets crowded now with tourists . . .

There's a colorful . . . series of scenes at Chatham: Views of fishermen unloading their catch at the busy harbor and the conveying of the huge fish to the packing house . . .

The thousands of visitors . . . who vacation on Cape Cod each year are offered a variety of entertainment, but one of the most popular annual attractions is the Hyannis' visit of the Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers tent circus . . . The Palmentiers have photographed the complete process of the setting up of the circus, from the unloading of the wild animals, (they travel via truck), to the unrolling of the huge Big Top canvas—it covers an area the size of a football field! . . .

There are charming sequences . . . on the sleepy town of Sandwich, with its old millpond, Christopher Wren church and famous glass museum, (you can be sure Elfrida Palmentier spent a good deal of time at this latter spot: What Queter can resist a really GOOD museum?—and Mrs. Palmentier is, as all Grosse Pointe knows, a "Queters' Queter") . . .

The Palmentiers were present . . . at the reenactment of an old Pilgrim sheep-washing ceremony on the banks of Shawme Lake . . . toured the newly opened Heritage Plantation at which is displayed the Josiah K. Lilly, Jr., collection of antique automobiles, toy soldiers and firearms, (you didn't get Elfrida through THERE in a hurry, either!) . . . dropped in at Falmouth for the annual Strawberry Festival . . . then journeyed to the nearby waterfront estate of the Websters for a walk through some truly magnificent formal gardens . . .

They shot film . . . on Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket before returning to the Massachusetts mainland to view Edaville, a museum—there's that motif again!—of narrow gauge railroads located in the cranberry bogs of South Carver . . .

And they visited friends . . . former localites Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodward, who now reside in an historic Colonial farm home, (it was built in 1713), near Carlisle, Mass. . . . then headed back to Grosse Pointe via the Mohawk Trail, brilliant in its autumn color, with a stop at turned-off Niagara Falls . . .

The Palmentiers . . . as we're sure you're aware, were two of the founders of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League—which has, as again we're sure you're aware, entertained thousands of area residents with delightful, informative film showings during its 15 years of existence . . . Pierre and Elfrida were the organization's second and third presidents . . .

Ruth Saur . . . present head of this enthusiastic group of local cinematographers, extends the League's invitation to all Pointers to join members at Pierre and Elfrida's program next Thursday.

PILFERINGS

While vacationing on Cape Cod we stopped at a small wayside stand and bought some tomatoes. When I commented that they were small the proprietor's reply was, "Ay-up."

Returning a day or two later, I mentioned that the tomatoes had not been very flavorful. The old gentleman nodded and said, "Lucky they was small, ain't it?" —Peter Gray, "Reader's Digest"

Fare Cut Boosts Big Mac Traffic

The 60 percent slash in fares and the increase in traffic stimulated by it were the outstanding events at the Mackinac Bridge during 1969, according to Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

"When passenger car rates were cut from $3.75 to $1.50 on January 1, 1969, with proportionate reductions in other classes of vehicles, it marked a milestone in the modern history of Mackinac Straits automobile traffic which began soon after the turn of the century, when the railroad ferries started transporting gas buggies for about $1 per passage," said Chairman Brown.

"Traffic for 1969 (last days estimated) is up 21.6 percent over last year, from 1,506,789 to 1,832,188 crossings, an increase of 325,397 vehicles.

"Revenues are up nine-tenths of one percent from $6,658,725 to $6,721,602, an increase of $62,877. Included in 1969 revenues is a Legislative appropriation of $3,500,000 to subsidize revenue losses due to the fare reduction.

"The Authority's net revenues for 1969 have been more than adequate to cover all requirements under its contract with the bondholders. In fact, during 1969, $5,005,000 of outstanding bonds at par value were purchased in the open market at a cost of $4,160,830, a savings of $844,370. Had these bonds been called instead of purchased in the open market, their call price would have been 4 percent over par. Thus, another $202,000 may be added to the savings achieved.

"Since the Authority began retiring bonds in 1965, $10,992,000 have been purchased in the open market. The premiums on these bonds, had they been called, would have been $499,500, making their total price $11,491,500. Actually, they were of one percent from $6,658,725 to $6,721,602, an increase of $62,877. Included in 1969 revenues is a Legislative appropriation of $68,808,000. Purchases during

Pointer of Interest

THE REVEREND ARNOLD A. FENTON, RECTOR OF CHRIST CHURCH, GROSSE POINTE

By Janet Mueller

You call him Mr. Fenton or Father Fenton—NEVER Reverend Fenton. This may seem a small point, but it's Point A. You start, to know a man, with his name and, if title. Then comes the visual survey—tall? short? blue eyes? brown?—the few seconds' first meeting physical appraisal we all make of one another.

Then the social survey. Polite conversation — "you tell me about yourself and I tell you about me." Throw out a few ideas and attitudes to see how well they are received . . . Then finally, both deciding "I can talk?", each begins to begin to comprehend the other person . . .

Back to Point A. Father Fenton took care of that one in his let-me-introduce-myself Dear Parishioner letter last September:

Answers Inquiries

"Some of you (he wrote) have been gracious enough to inquire about my preference in titles. Alas, I am not bright enough to have earned a doctorate or accomplished enough to have been awarded one so 'Dr. Fenton' is out. 'Reverend Fenton' is grammatically incorrect in the same way that 'Honorable Jones' for a judge is incorrect. Jesus says call no man 'Mister' or 'Father.' This does seem to narrow the field to the Christian (first) names which is fine with me."

"Actually in the Episcopal Church either Father or Mister is correct. I have no strong preference one way or the other. For the past 16 years I have been called 'Father' and found it of some psychological advantage in ministering to children and young people. I do however want you to use the title or name with which you feel most comfortable. Just take your pick."

Sixteen years is a long time; we'll opt, in this article, for "Father."

Point B: Physical Survey. He is very, very tall. Or maybe, because he is thin, he just SEEMS very, very tall.

Anyway, we'd begin any physical description of Father Fenton with: "He is a TALL man . . ."

Point C: Social Survey. Sub-

heading at: "You tell me about yourself."

His Personal History

Son and grandson of Episcopal clergymen, Father Fenton was born March 28, 1927, in Westfield, N.J., graduated from Hopkins Grammar School, New Haven, Conn., in 1945, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Lafayette College in 1948 and his Bachelor of Sacred Theology from General Theological Seminary in 1951.

He served as Curate of Christ Church Cathedral, Springfield, Mass., from 1951 to 1953, as Chaplain with the United States Navy on active duty from 1953

1970 should be about the same or better than last year, depending on the general rise and fall in bond prices," said Brown.

Passenger cars, which comprise about 77 percent of all bridge traffic, showed an increase of 20 percent over last year. Passenger cars with trailers, which make up 17.4 percent of all traffic, had the largest increase of any vehicle class, up 28.5 percent. Next largest class, 7.5 percent of all traffic, is the 2 axle 4 tire truck, mostly pickups. This class was up 28.4 percent.

"The summer of 1969 saw the completion of the first full repainting of the bridge, which began in 1965 with the repainting of the towers, cables, and suspension ropes. Complete paint coverage may not be required again for several years. However, bridge crews work from May until October constantly scraping and retouching steel where the paint has broken down.

Chris, 14, likes football, golf, history — "and the church in small doses."

Kimberly, eight, loves everything and everybody. And she fully expects to be loved back. When the Fentons first arrived in Grosse Pointe, Kimberly hopped on her bicycle and went out to find some friends. She located a few, . . . but a few, to Kimberly, are too few.

So, for the next three weeks, Kimberly stationed herself in front of Christ Church and announced to all and sundry: "Do you know who I am? I'm Mr. Fenton's daughter and I want to be your friend."

Four months later Kimberly has LOTS of friends.

Family Pet Replaced

She also has the only Fenton family pet, a new guinea pig, successor to the guinea pig who survived 101 degree heat in North Dakota on the Fentons' trip East only to die in Grosse Pointe a week after their arrival.

Point C: Social Survey. Sub-heading b: Throw out a few ideas and attitudes . . .

Father Fenton operates on a team ministry basis. He brought two members of his Tacoma Team with him to The Pointe: Father Morris Hauge, who succeeds Franklin Bennett as assistant minister, and Mrs. Nancy Hilton, the new Parish secretary.

Father Fenton believes in change. With continuance. "I think," he says, "the Church is increasingly going to have to provide options to people. For the spectrum of people who come is so great that no monochromatic, homogenous program can serve them."

"I hope to see the continuation of a lot of the significant things the Parish has done in the past. I'd like to see it become more experimental in the areas of worship and education."

Christ Church already has had its first Folk Mass. The Parish is beginning to expand its Youth Program, doing more in the area of Christian education. It's an area in which Father Fenton has a special interest. He particularly enjoys working with young people.

Admits Generation Gap. Despite the Generation Gap. In which he most definitely believes.

"Of course there's a Generation Gap! I think it's phony to say there isn't."

"But if you ask me who speaks for youth today, what can I say? It's like asking, 'Who speaks for the Black Community?' The answer of course is that the Black Community is fragmented; it speaks with many voices. The same is true of youth."

"Now, if you have a couple of hours, we can discuss it . . ."

Father Fenton's no Simple Solutionist.

"I know," he says, "the very process of turning some people on is the act of turning others off. The trick is to turn on the young people without turning off the older ones."

"I'm interested in liturgical reform and renewal. I think the Church does not innovate. It simply does the things it's done in the past in a different way."

"Also there are some very basic, fundamental things that are not changeable, that never vary. Personal concerns, questions — 'Does life make any sense?'"

Point D: The Real Starting Point. The beginnings of personal comprehension.

Which is, of course, our Stopping Point.

Point D's the prerogative of private conversation. With no paper in between.

Robert Morris Exhibit Slated

Works of one of the most difficult — and exciting — young sculptors in the United States will go on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts Friday, January 9 for four weeks.

The 38-year-old iconoclast is Robert Morris, and five galleries of the South Wing will show the development of his work during the past 10 years.

The simplified shapes and forms executed in brute materials take the art of sculpture as far from the past as almost any other sculptor at this time, in the opinion of Samuel Wagstaff, curator of Contemporary Art, who will install the show with the help of the artist himself.

Morris, visiting Detroit from New York for the exhibition, is one of the leaders in minimal sculpture, a recent American breakthrough in form that also embraces Tony Smith, Don Judd, Ron Bladen, Larry Bell, John Chamberlain, and Dan Flavin.

Wagstaff emphasized that Robert Morris' influence and activity goes beyond sculpture: Morris teacher, theoretician, writer and producer of avant-garde dance events.

This first major museum retrospective for Morris will trace the development of his work from early paintings, drawings and wall reliefs through primary sculptures of plywood, fiberglass, aluminum and steel to "soft works" produced between 1967-1969—felt pieces already recognized by the Art Institute's 1969 addition of a 15-foot high felt sculpture, presented by the Friends of Modern Art. This piece is currently on loan to the Metropolitan Museum's contemporary exhibition.

Among large current works in the retrospective are some recently shown at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.—steel and aluminum mesh sculptures, mirror cubes, and cotton waste pieces that cover the floor of one gallery.

A comprehensive catalogue of the show, with an essay by Annette Michelson will be available from the Museum Shop.

The versatility of Robert Morris will be further demonstrated with the display of a suite of 10 lithographs collectively titled "Earth Works." These dramatic plans for treating earth as sculptural material have been printed in an edition of 125 signed and numbered sets. Commissioned by the museum's Friends of Modern Art, they were printed by Aris Koutroulis and Theo Wujcik at the Detroit Workshop.

The 22"x30" impressions will be displayed in the South Wing during the Morris exhibition and are offered for sale at $1,500 for the suite of ten, boxed; $175 for single lithographs. The Friends of Modern Art will use the profits from this aesthetic venture for museum acquisitions. Information on the lithographs, with special discounts to Founders Society members and the Friends of Modern Art, can be obtained from Mrs. Susanne Hillberry at 831-0360, ext. 46.

The Robert Morris Retrospective will be at the Detroit Institute of Arts from Friday, January 9 through Sunday, February 8 during regular museum hours: 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesdays; 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday.

Visiting her parents, MR. and MRS. WALTER W. FULLER, of Trombley road, for the long Christmas weekend were MR. and MRS. SANFORD M. MORSE, JR., of Arlington, Va.

Mrs. Morse, the former JANET E. FULLER, is a graduate of both Liggett School, and Michigan State University. After receiving his Master's Degree at Michigan State, Mr. Morse studied law during a three-year post-graduate course at Georgetown University, Washington, received a Doctor of Jurisprudence Degree, and will enter the Judge Advocate's Corps early in March. He is a native of Ithaca, N. Y.
