APOLLO 13 MANEUVERED onto a safe homeward path Wednesday night, setting up the astronauts for a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean Friday afternoon. The fateful moment came at 11:32 EST when spacecraft commander James A. Lovell fired up the engine of the lunar lander, Aquarius, which Apollo has used for three emergency maneuvers since an explosion crippled the command ship Monday night. The burn lasted 15 seconds.

AN ANTI-WAR demonstration in Detroit Wednesday began with a festive march, and an orderly rally then ended in violence and property damage. An estimated 5,000 to 10,000 persons marched and rallied peacefully. Somewhere between 100 and 200 persons caused all the trouble.

A WATCHING world breathed a sigh of relief as three crewmen of Apollo 13, James A. Lovell, John L. Swigert and Fred W. Haise, landed in the Pacific Ocean only four miles off target in their crippled spaceship. The craft landed about 600 miles southeast of Pago Pago. Thousands of specialists on the ground worked around-the-clock to bring the Apollo crew home safely. Following the splashdown, the crew was picked up and taken aboard the aircraft carrier, the USS Iwo Jima, as millions watched on television.

Saturday, April 18

THE APOLLO 13 crew got its first look Friday at the damage from an explosion that scrubbed their scheduled moon landing, and when they told Mission Control what they saw of debris at the space center described it as "unbelievable." "There's a whole side of that spacecraft missing," commander James A. Lovell radioed ground controller Joe Kerwin as the explosion-shattered service module was pettioned shortly before entry.

LYNN E. ABBOTT, a school supply salesman, became Michigan's fourth heart transplant recipient yesterday. The 54-year-old Portage man died in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, eight hours after undergoing an operation which lasted more than 10 hours, the longest of any transplant operations performed there. He had been suffering from coronary heart disease.

THE PUBLICATION OF the Senate Foreign Relations Committee testimony taken at closed hearings on Laos last October revealed that tens of thousands of Americans have engaged in combat activities in the secret war in Laos. Some 400 have been killed or are missing and not accounted for. The United States has spent more than a billion dollars on the war, almost all of it in secret. The testimony Sunday indicated that once again the full story of U. S. involvement in tiny Laos, adjoining Vietnam, has not yet been told. The testimony covers 234 printed pages. The State Department insisted on censoring out at least 10 percent of all that was said and page after page of the testimony shows where material was deleted.

NEARLY 1,000 DELEGATES to the United Auto Workers Union (UAW) convention staged a demonstration Sunday in support of a sweeping early retirement pension plan. Backers of the movement, called "30 and Out," paraded down the boardwalk to Convention Hall in Atlantic City. They plan to make their program the number one demand when the 3,300 delegates convene on Monday.

Tuesday, April 21

PRESIDENT NIXON told the nation Monday night he plans to withdraw 150,000 additional U.S. troops from South Vietnam by May, 1971 and might order further withdrawals if there were progress on the negotiating front. "We finally have in sight the just peace we are seeking," he said in a televised report.

Five Hospitalized When Car Rams Tree

City police rushed five persons to Bon Secours Hospital on Tuesday, April 14, after the quintet was involved in an accident at 9:45 p.m. in front of 17201 Kercheval. The car, driven by Jerry Alexander, 14522 P-omenade, Detroit, was traveling west on Kercheval when the accident occurred. Alexander passed a truck on the right side, hit the curb then lost control of his car and hit a tree. Cpl. Edmond Benthuys, Dale Van Dale and James Cronin took all five to Bon Secours Hospital. Alexander sustained a fractured upper jaw and multiple facial injuries. Douglas Bendarchek, 9250 Hayes, Detroit, sustained multiple injuries and is currently under intensive care at Bon Secours. The other passengers, Andrew Garafola, 14929 Wilfred, Mike O'Brien, 5267 Beaconsfield and Richard Loverde, 9641 Balfour, were treated for minor injuries and released.

Rotary Show Of Antiques Opens Friday

Annual Fund-Raising Event
Will Run Three Days at War Memorial Center

"Rare to Unique" characterizes exhibits at the Grosse Pointe Rotary Antiques Show slated for this weekend at the War Memorial. Many of the exhibitors have just returned from buying trips abroad and from the heartlands of America. They are bringing their "finds" to the Pointe.

Among the displays will be porcelains, statuary, paintings, tapestries, Oriental rugs, jade, ivory, china, dolls and furniture.

A first-time exhibitor in The Pointe, Mrs. Di Clemente of The Antiques Emporium, will show lovely arrangements of dried flowers in antique containers as well as antique graters, molds and other unusual containers. Mrs. Di Clemente will also do custom arrangements to suit any room in your house. Oldtime movies will be shown at no charge to visitors between 5 and 9 o'clock each evening at Fries Auditorium. Food will be available and ample free parking is provided.

Proceeds of the show will go to the Grosse Pointe Rotary Foundation which supports educational and civic benefit projects.

Show hours are from 1 to 10 p.m. Friday through Sunday, April 24, 25, and 26.

Crash Following Blackout Puts Car in Beauty Salon

A Park motorist, who told police that he "blacked out" while returning home from a business meeting, on Thursday, April 16, crashed through the front window of the Grosse Pointe Beauty Salon, 15021 East Jefferson, at Maryland. The vehicle was completely inside the building before it came to a stop.

The driver, Alvin Turney, 51 of 924 Barrington, was traveling west on Jefferson, at 8:52 p.m., and was about to turn onto Barrington when he lost consciousness, according to information given to police. The car swerved right, crossed Jefferson and went through the window of the salon, owned by Ralph Koerber of 693 Port drive, Detroit.

County Supervisor Bryant Hopes to Take Waldron's Place as Representative

Announces Candidacy for Republican Nomination;
Will Kick Off Active Campaign with Meeting
of Large Committee

William R. Bryant, Jr., has announced he is a candidate for State Representative. Bryant, an attorney and a member of the beleaguered Wayne County Board of Supervisors, now Commissioners, will seek the Republican nomination in the First State Representative District, including the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods.

The post is presently occupied by Robert E. Waldron, House Minority Leader who has served in the House since 1954.

"Waldron has agreed to be on my campaign committee," Bryant indicates, "so it is clear he does not intend to run again. I am quite certain he will not change his mind."

One of only two Republicans elected to the 26-man Wayne County Board, Bryant has been a vocal and aggressive opponent of Chairman Albert Zak and of the concept of full time pay for the Board. "I have been constructive in trying to work with Zak but have been open and honest with him and his supporters in fighting them when I felt they were wrong." "Although I won't be on the Board next term, I am going to propose a pay formula, as part of an overall Board reorganization, based on a salary of $5,000 plus a per meeting allowance with a maximum combined compensation of $7,500 per year. The $7,500 figure was the Republican proposal last year and I still believe it is a realistic figure." Bryant says he believes the experience he has gained on the County Board would be of great value to him in the State Legislature. "For one thing," Bryant reflects "I have learned just how petty politics and politicians can be. But also I have Learned an awful lot about Detroit and Wayne County problems, needs and decision-making processes, all of which would be most helpful in making legislative proposals and decisions."

Sees Glaring Fault
"One glaring fault with many of our legislators in Lansing and Washington is that they have had no experience in local government, having to make the gut, local decisions within a local government framework. They just don't know the problems of the probable effects of their decisions."

Bryant sees the 1970's as a decade of great domestic challenge. "In the fields of crime, drugs, education and even environment, the key is going to be the young people. How they act and react to government and society in general may well determine the ultimate destiny of our nation. Most of the crime and drug use is by teenagers. Education must be better meet the varied needs of our young people. Our future environment will depend in great measure on how radical, reasonable or apathetic our young people will be in the fields of population and environment." "I serve on the Air Pollution Committee of the T. B. and Health Society. A year ago I was anxious to create more public interest. Now I am concerned that public opinion may irrationally condemn the free enterprise system. The fact that Wednesday, April 22, was designated "Earth Day" by activist groups should not cause us to forget April 22 is also Lenin's Birthday. I cannot believe this is a matter of mere coincidence." Bryant has also been active in the war on teenage drug abuse in the Pointes and the County. He was recently made a member of the National Addicts Rehabilitation Coordination Organization, N.A.R.C.O. Board of Directors in recognition of his concern and efforts in the field. He has worked with the Grosse Pointe Family Life Education Council, F.L.E.C. and Grosse Pointe and the County Intermediate School Boards in trying to establish comprehensive treatment and education programs.

"Answers to drug abuse are extremely difficult and complex, but government must do more to prevent and treat the

Park to Start Delayed Elm Tree Project

Twice Postponed Program to Get Underway This Week, Weather Permitting; Helicopters to Be Used

After more than a month of delay, the Park will begin its elm tree spraying program, sometime this week, weather permitting, it was disclosed by City Manager Robert Sloine on Monday, April 20.

The spraying, by helicopter, was originally scheduled to start on or about March 17, but was postponed to April 6, because of inclement weather, and postponed a second time because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Sloine said that the weather must be clear and wind velocity must not exceed five miles an hour, if spraying, whether by ground equipment or by air, is to be done properly.

The city manager said that it will take about eight hours of flying time to do the approximately 6,000 public and private elm trees in the city. The program will cost the Park $4,500, including the cost of the city-purchased methoxychlor, which will be mist-sprayed by the helicopters.

Unless notice has been received by the Public Service Department, from Park residents indicating that they had contracted the spraying of elms on their property by their own contractors, elms on private property will be saturated with the chemical, and the owners will be billed for this service, Sloine said.

He said that all streets to be sprayed will be posted with "No Parking" signs and a car with a public address system will go through the area the evening before spraying is scheduled.

It will be the owners' responsibility to remove their automobiles, or other vehicles, and to see that they are placed in the garage, covered, or removed from the area.

Weather permitting, spraying will begin at daybreak, will cease at about 8 a.m. to permit children to get to school, and will resume again at 9 a.m.

Sloine reiterated the following: 1. Park cars and other vehicles in garage, or remove from area. 2. Observe "No Parking" signs posted in advance of spraying. 3. Keep children and pets indoors when your area is sprayed. 4. Remove laundry, lawn furniture, and so forth, from premises to prevent the possibility of spotting with chemicals. The city manager pointed out that under an existing city ordinance, it is required that all American Elm trees, both city and privately owned, be sprayed annually.

Center Campaign Lagging Behind Past Year's Pace

Only $30,206 Received from 1,809 Donors to Date;
Solicitation by Mail Hurt by Strike

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1970 Annual Family Participation Campaign has received just $30,206.50 to date from 1,809 donors as compared with $44,448.50 received from 2,596 families by the fifteenth day of receipts in 1969.

The campaign solicitation was caught in the mail strike this year and many families say they have not received the solicitation and would not have known the campaign was on except for the newspaper articles and advertisements.

Perhaps some Pointers did not realize the rotogravure folder on the Memorial's activities contained the solicitation envelope affixed inside. Whatever the reason, many loyal supporters of the Memorial Center still have not been heard from this year and the Center's Board of Directors hopes this article will remind them to send in their annual gifts as soon as possible.

Repeats, Increases
Contributors heard from have repeated or increased the size of their gifts, which is heartening, and Judge Neal Fitzgerald, president of the Association and William Crout, campaign chairman, feel that the problem of the drive lies in the matter of communication and timing to which they are devoting their every effort and attention.

To further hamper the campaign the combination follow-up solicitation letters and remittance envelopes supposed to have been delivered from Cleveland two weeks ago are still sitting unobtainable in strike-bound trucks in Ohio. Just as soon as these are delivered they will be rushed out to Grosse Pointes. Meanwhile the Center urges supporters to drop their gifts in the mail NOW or bring them to the Center when they come to a class or activity.

Citizens Warned To Avoid Strays

A warning to residents was issued this week by Woods Dog Warden McQueen to avoid attempting to corral stray dogs or cats.

"It seems we have had more stray animals in the community this spring than at any other time in my memory," said McQueen. "Although the animals range in size from small rodents to large dogs, the majority of them have been cats and dogs-at-large."

McQueen said the department of public safety has been swamped with calls, some of which are from residents, who have attempted to play with or capture the animals and have ended up with bites and scratches.

"When you spot a stray dog or cat, don't approach it," warned McQueen. "Too often the animal becomes scared or confused and attacks. Even innocent-looking cats can give you a bad scratch, if they get scared. The best procedure in handling strays is to immediately call the police department and give a full description of the animal and its location." McQueen can point to a number of scratch marks on his arms to verify his claims.

Public Hearing on Gate Produces Behavior Debate

What started out as a public hearing on the merits of making a pedestrian gate a permanent installation at the Woods council meeting on Monday, April 20, resulted in a heated debate on the behavior of school children and ended with the gate still in "temporary" status.

The pedestrian gate, installed in Wedgewood drive last January 20 to provide a convenience for children attending North High School, has been the center of controversy since it was installed. Prior to its installation, residents of the area—those residing in Wedgewood, Hidden Lane and Fairway drive—complained about students kicking in the wooden fence in Wedgewood in order to gain access to a short cut to school. The gate was installed on a temporary basis. The council

Public Service Commission Approval

Faced with the distinct possibility of having to discontinue services and go out of business altogether, Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc., which has been serving the community for nearly 40 years, has decided to hike its fares for the second time in two years.

Walter Schweikart, president of the firm since it was established in November 1932, disclosed the fare increases this week, claiming that the action may well be a last ditch effort to stay in business.

Fares from Detroit to all five Pointe communities will be raised 10 cents, while fares from Detroit to St. Clair Shores, the Deanehurst terminal, the Venice Beach and Crocker blvd. stops in Harrison Township will also be jumped 10 cents.

Approval Awaited
The Mack Avenue to Vernier road to Eastland Center run rates, all local fares and school children fares in all five Pointes and in St. Clair Shores will be hiked five cents. It should be noted that the fare increases will take effect as soon as the rate changes are approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission. Such approval is expected to come shortly.

Officials of the firm claim the increases were necessitated by a continued rise in expenses and a marked decline in revenues.

Compounding the firm's financial troubles, is the fact that the company was required to grant an across-the-board pay raise in February to its employees. Bonuses of $200 annually were also granted.

The company presently employs 50 drivers and 14 mechanics.

Have Lost $16,000
"We have already lost more than $16,000 in the first three months of the year," said Schweikart. "Although we were granted a fare increase in 1969 and instituted rigid measures to economize in every area of operation, we still lose money."

"None of our transportation services are subsidized by the federal government," he pointed out. "Ironically, the only reason we are staying in business is to provide transportation services to the communities until rapid transit can take over in the future. We'll be satisfied just to break even until that time."

Would Break Even
Schweikart said that at the present level of revenues the coach line will sustain a loss of no less than $64,728 in 1970. The fare increase is projected to be bringing in no more than $64,575, leaving the firm a little under the break-even mark for the year.

"We regret that such action has become necessary at this time, however, we are sure the communities will understand that we just cannot keep operating at a loss," said Schweikart. "The fact that our patronage has dropped off makes the move even more of a necessity."

Abortion Laws Forum Subject

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church will hold a Sunday evening forum on May 3, at 8 o'clock, featuring the Michigan Women for Repeal of Abortion Laws (MORAL). The group will discuss the status of the bills before the state legislature and suggest ways for individuals to make their feelings known to legislators.

The public is cordially invited to attend. A question period will follow the forum speakers.

problem. The resultant crime and waste of human resources simply cannot be allowed to continue. As a State Representative I would continue to propose and work to implement attacks on this severe problem."

Problems Are Local

"I believe" Bryant continued "that although answers to many problems may not be possible at the local government level, the problems themselves are local. I belong to the Grosse Pointe Jaycees and Grosse Pointe Rotary. As a Supervisor I have worked with the governments and with groups within my district. I think it is important that I continue to work with the people in my district as a State Representative. I plan to set aside at least one day a week for meeting and consultation with my district. It is all too easy to lose touch with the people and problems of the district."

Bryant, an Honors graduate of Princeton University and of the University of Michigan Law School, lives in Mount Vernon road with his wife, Lois, and their two children. He will kick off his active campaign with a meeting of his Campaign Committee. "We already have about 40 people from all parts of the district who have agreed to be on the Campaign Committee," he said. "We hope to have a few more. I will be going door to door, myself, over the next few months, though I won't be able to get to every door. I think it is important that I meet and talk to as many people as possible. "I will also issue a number of position papers on various topics during the campaign. I am optimistic that the people in the district will know I am sincere in wanting the opportunity to serve them in this new capacity and that I am capable of doing it and will do it well."

The primary election will take place August 4.

parked in private drives, while dropping off youngsters in the vicinity of the gate.

"The students walk across my lawn but I can always fertilize it and get it back into shape," said one angry resident. "They throw their trash behind my convenient hedge, but I can always clean up. They throw cigar butt on my grass, starting small fires, but I can always put them out, if I catch them in time. What bothers me is that they burn the street signs and may injure one of my children with their senseless acts."

"I put up a sign in front of the house, reading: 'Please, stay off the grass,' which I thought was a mild request," he continued. "The most encouraging thing about the sign is that the kids have not kicked it over."

His short speech, which drew a round of applause from many of the those in attendance, was the catalyst for a brief debate on permissiveness, school obligations and the so-called generation gap.

After consulting with Woods Public Safety Officer Steve Petrik, who has conducted a number of studies in the area, the Council forwarded a motion calling for action which would keep the gate in a temporary status, until traffic engineers can report on the feasibility of plans designed to grant pedestrian relief in other areas near the school.

Parcells Middle School In Market for Principal

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, has announced an opening for a middle school principal for the coming year.

"Vincent L. Peterson, who has been principal of Parcells Middle School, 20600 Mack, since it opened in 1951, has asked for a reassignment during his last year prior to his retirement in June, 1971. Therefore, in compliance with his wishes, the Board of Education has authorized a transfer to a counseling position at North High School effective in September," Dr. Anderson said. "We are delighted that Mr.

Peterson will be able to continue to serve the schools and the community in his new capacity. We wish him well in this new phase of his career of service to public education," Superintendent Anderson commented.

Vincent Peterson joined the staff of South High School in 1931 as a teacher of history and civics, and also held posts there as counselor and as assistant principal.

Dr. Anderson said that candidates for the principalship should advise the schools' Department of Personnel on or before April 30, 1970. Screening and selection procedures will be conducted after that time, with the replacement named by mid-May.

Monahan, who is president of Edward V. Monahan, Inc., general contractors, has been a director of the Builders Exchange for two years and in 1968 was the organization's treasurer.

Candidates for the position must have at least a master's degree with emphasis upon secondary school administration and supervision and courses in guidance and curriculum development.

Will Dedicate Church Organ

Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church will be dedicating its new Tellers Pipe Organ on Sunday night, April 26, at 7:30 o'clock. The featured recitalist will be Dr. Alexander Boggs Ryan, who is Associate Professor of Music at Western Michigan University and Director of Music and Organist at the Episcopal Cathedral in Kalamazoo.

Dr. Ryan is a graduate of North Texas State University and the University of Michigan. Dr. Ryan was also coached by the famous French organist Marcel Dupre. Ryan has played recently at the National Cathedral in Washington, Rockefeller Memorial Chapel (Chicago), and Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

As a special attraction of this recital, the Youth and Chancel Choirs of the church will sing under the direction of Dr. Gordon Young, Organist-Choirmaster of First Presbyterian Church, Detroit. Dr. Young is a composer of international fame, and a member of ASCAP.

The recent purchase of the new Tellers Organ in the church was accomplished through the guidance of The Reverend Perry A. Thomas, minister of the church, Dr. Robert Ambrose, Chairman of the Music Committee, and Mrs. Robert Sutton of Elmira, N.Y., (former Organist-Choirmaster). The installation of the organ was supervised by Jack E. Ellis, Organist-Choirmaster.

Open House Set At GP Academy

Montessori schools are generating interest among educators and parents, today. Through their success with special children and the slum young of Rome, Dr. Maria Montessori developed principles and an approach to learning that is producing wonders in the average child.

To honor the works of this gifted educator, Montessorians throughout the world are sponsoring centennial year celebrations. The Michigan Montessori Society Member Schools are featuring open house programs on Montessori Day, Sunday, April 26. Here in the Grosse Pointe area, The Grosse Pointe Academy Montessori School will hold an open house, Sunday, April 26, from 1 to 4 p.m. All are welcome to attend. Admission is free.

Dr. Montessori believed that in order to develop the physical, intellectual, and spiritual powers to the fullest, the child must have freedom — a freedom to be achieved through order and self-discipline. From the chaotic world of the child, he must gradually create order, and provides a framework in which intellectual and social discipline go hand in hand.

Many public, private, and parochial elementary and secondary schools are now utilizing the Montessori approach.

Woods Ordinance Unconstitutional

The much-discussed and debated City of Grosse Pointe Woods ordinance 295, which regulates public demonstrations, parades and picketing in that city and passed by the Council on July 7, 1969, was ruled unconstitutional by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Joseph A. Moynihan on April 7.

The ordinance states, "no person shall picket in any public place within the city limits without first procuring a permit from the director of public safety nor shall five or more persons parade or demonstrate in public places within the city limits without first procuring a permit from the director" (24 hours prior to the picketing, demonstration or parade).

The ordinance was tested by Robert T. Smith and Ernest Hoffman when they were arrested by Woods police officers on July 29, after they ignored warnings to stop an unauthorized picket in front of the Wrigley's Supermarket at 18231 Mack. They were part of a group of over 25 persons involved in an area grape boycott.

The two were issued ordinance violations and found guilty in their appearance before Judge Don J. Goodrow, but were released pending Moynihan's decision.

The decision was many months in coming. Moynihan said "The court is of the opinion that the ordinance here in question clearly violates the constitutionally guaranteed right of every individual citizen to convey his ideas and principles to the community not only by the spoken and written word alone, but by peaceful picketing."

"It is a principle that has been well settled for over 30 years that an individual or group of individuals have a constitutional right to articulate by means of peaceful picketing."

The ordinance became a major issue during the recent Woods Council race when Perry Lewis, who failed in his bid for a council seat, declared the ordinance "blatantly unconstitutional, and that gave the director of public safety control over the constitutional rights of the citizenry."

Thieves Hit It Rich in Woods

Thieves limited their search for goods to the first floor of the home of Lewis Moikalan, of 1729 Huntington, on Friday, April 17, but they came away far from empty-handed.

Woods public safety officers were notified of the burglary shortly before 9 p.m. on the day of the incident by the owner, who said the breaking and entering had occurred at some time between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. that day.

Investigation revealed that the culprits had first attempted to gain entry into the home by prying open a door on the east side. Thwarted in this effort, they moved to the rear of the home, where a porch door had been left open. At this point they smashed a window and gained entry.

The bandits ransacked only the rooms on the ground floor, took many valuables and left by way of the rear porch.

Stolen from the home was a black and white, portable television, a 20-gauge, over-and-under shotgun, a .22-caliber Winchester rifle, a polaroid camera, a 35mm camera, an AM-FM clock radio and a coin bank, containing about $5 in change. Total loss was estimated at $1,046.

Worry kills energy, purpose, vitality—and produces nothing.

One That Didn't 'Get Away'

When 17-year-old Joe Metes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Metes, of 62 Webber place, decides to hook a fish, he doesn't fool around, as evidenced by this 10-foot, 7-inch, 258-pound Blue Marlin, which the North High School senior landed during an Easter holiday trip to Acapulco. Metes, who is a member of the Norsemen's varsity tennis team, battled the huge fish for one and one-half hours and claimed he was "just plain exhausted" at the end of the tug-of-war. The fish struck his line only 10 minutes out of the harbor.

Judge Goodrow Clears Docket

Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow on Wednesday, April 15, cleared a court docket of 40 matters, four of which involved minors charged with possession of alcoholic beverages. They were all found guilty and each was fined $10. Daniel J. Bush, of 17955 Peters, Roseville, was found guilty of careless driving and was fined $25. He was also ordered not to drive for 30 days. Leonard G. Bertin, of 1658 Anita, pleaded guilty to the charge of driving too fast for conditions and causing an accident. He was fined $20. Carl T. Steinfeldt, of 5069 Audubon, Detroit, was fined $35, after being found guilty of driving while never having acquired a driver's license in the state. Michael N. Sankovich, of 135 Muir, was found guilty of speeding and fined $15, while Roddy Howard Cranford, of 1587 Anita, paid a fine of $10 for failure to have 1970 license plates. Both Jeffrey P. David, of 1355 Hawthorne, and Timothy A. Yuergens, of 8049 Patton, Detroit, were found guilty of speeding. David paid a $20 fine and Yuergens paid a fine of $25. Ronald R. Morris, of 16235 Maddlein, Detroit, pleaded guilty to driving left of the center line and was fined $10. Eicke Bodo Corzilius, of 654 Westchester, was found guilty of improper backing, but his sentence was suspended, while Michael H. Kaiser, of 25720 Pennsylvania, Dearborn Heights, forfeited a bond of $100 and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest on a charge of driving with a suspended license. In addition, Judge Goodrow dismissed nine cases, adjourned three more and issued bench warrants for 14 persons failing to answer earlier summons.

Woods, School Officials Explain Rocket Situation

By Phil Loranger
In this fast-moving era, dubbed by some as the Age of Aquarius, changes are being wrought daily by a progressive society in all areas and many of our traditional practices are being cast away. These upheavals have even influenced a turnabout in hobbies, causing a few headaches to public officials and hobbyists alike, according to Russell J. Allard, Woods fire inspector, and Ben Zenn, director of administrative services for the Public School System.

"It appears that model rocketry is, to an extent, replacing the old hobby of model airplane flying," said Allard. "With the country's attention focused on the Apollo moon landings and the launching of so many test-data satellites, it is only natural that youngsters and adults alike want to switch their sport and participate in a modern version of their hobby."

"Requests to launch these missiles are made to our department on an ever-increasing basis," he continued. "We would like to give these people the go-ahead to send them up, but, unfortunately, we cannot."

Both Allard and Zenn emphasized that the community and the school system are heartily in favor of model rocketry and wish they could be of some assistance in the area, but, both feel that there are simple no open areas in the Pointe, capable of safely serving as a launching site, under the state statutes governing model rocket practices.

"The Woods does not have a specific model rocket ordinance," claimed Allard. "We operate under the Michigan laws in this field."

"Those regulations specify that the flight areas must contain at least 5,000 square yards of open space and that they must be located in places that will not create a hazard to persons and property in the vicinity," said Allard. "These flight areas cannot contain or be located adjacent to a high-voltage power line, major highways, multi-story building or other obstacle."

It is the fact that these regulations exist that throws the burden onto the shoulders of the school system. No such available flight areas are present in the Woods except on school property and even those areas are highly questionable.

If the school system does have space suitable to the launching of model rockets, why is it opposed to permitting hobbyists to engage in their sport on school property?

"I want to make it clear that the school system is not opposed to the hobby and that we actually would like to help these people out in any way we can," said Zenn. "Unfortunately, there are two obstacles which make it necessary for us to deny permission to model rocketeers."

"Our chief concerns are control and liability," he pointed out. "Our concern is the responsibility we would have to assume if anything went wrong with one of these missiles. In case of an accident, we would be faced with a liability suit."

"No matter how well supervised a launching, something can go wrong," he noted. "The recent Apollo shot bears witness to that fact. We do not and should not have insurance programs geared towards this area."

Zenn told the NEWS that the school system's posture has been one of prevention and its policy has been a strict denial of launchings.

"Although we have not had an incident in which anybody was injured, we don't want to let ourselves in for any such trouble and the likelihood of a misfire does exist," said Zenn. "We are not in the recreation business per se, although we necessarily do get involved because of the nature of our business."

Although some of the school fields do meet the yardage requirements of the state statutes, most, if not all, are bordered by school sites and homes, making it doubtful that any of the fields are suited for the hobby.

Zenn pointed out that the school system makes it mandatory for the Kiwanis Club to take out an activities insurance policy for its annual July 4 fireworks display at Parcels School. The Woods requires the same thing. Both require that the policy free completely the school system and the community from any liability in case of accident. Last year, a rather serious accident did take place, when one of the rockets failed to detonate in the air, landing and exploding on top of a car.

"In addition to the liability factor, the matter of adequately controlling and supervising this hobby is one which we cannot meet nor justify," Zenn said. "The area would have to be made a restricted site, denying other persons from playing ball or even using the swings and other recreational items."

Allard noted that the number of reported incidents of rockets being fired illegally and causing damage to property and homes is on the rise.

"We have received at least three complaints recently from persons stating that rockets had ripped into their roofs or car tops," he said. "Let's face it. These rockets can really be dangerous."

"Upon launch, the rocket, even if it is one of the small ones, can reach a velocity exceeding 500 miles per hour," he pointed out. "If these missiles go astray, they can cause some real damage and pose a threat to life itself. After all, they could easily be compared to a bazooka, if you placed the rocket launcher parallel to the ground. There is little difference."

That is the model rocket situation in the community as it now stands.

Nobody is against model rocketry, but there is simply no adequate launching site available that would guarantee the safety and well-being of all concerned.

South High Choir Rated 'Superior'

For the first time in the history of Grosse Pointe South High School's A Cappella Choir, ratings of "superior" were awarded at the Michigan School Vocal Association District Choral Festival held at Brablec High School in Roseville on March 21.

The choir under the direction of Leonard Riccinto entered the festival with groups from 32 other high schools. The 73 musicians were rated by three judges on tone, intonation, diction, technique, balance, interpretation, artistry, discipline, and appearance.

The choir may be heard at their concert on Sunday, April 20, at the Performing Arts Center, North High School at 4:00 p.m.

Austin Players Doing 'Oliver'

The final major production of the Austin Players' 12th season will be the Broadway Musical "Oliver!" The play is based on Charles Dickens' famous 19th century novel "Oliver Twist." It is the story of Oliver Twist, a workhouse orphan, who finds his way to London, only to become involved in a ring of juvenile pick-pockets led by the sly and miserly Fagin.

The Austin production is the musical version of this story. It is under the direction of Thomas E. Bailey. Assisting him with the music will be James Vestudo and Gerald Bachorowski. Daniel Ballinger is in charge of choreography; Pat Chester is in charge of sets.

Among the cast and crew of over 100, will be Bruce Grubb as Fagin, Bill McCarthy as Oliver, Vicki Morgan as Nancy, Dennis Bailey as the Artful Dodger, Tony Arnone as Bill Sykes, Tino Altese as Mr. Bumble, George Shea as Charlie Bates, Jim Zakem and Marilyn Odyke as Mr. and Mrs. Sowerberry, and Joe Telman as Mr. Brownlow. Derek Tate will head the stage crew, assisted by Joel Bonamy on the lighting, and Jeff Vaughan on props. John Knox will provide the piano accompaniment.

Performances will be at Pierce Middle School Auditorium on Saturday, April 25, at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. and Sunday, April 26, at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available from members of the cast, from the school, or at the door, for $1.25. Individual tickets or group rates can be obtained by calling 881-5531.

There's just one thing wrong with this dandelion

It doesn't like to live alone. Generally, if you find one dandelion, you'll find a whole mess of them. And, that's exactly what they make your lawn look like -- a mess. So even if dandelions aren't a problem yet, be ready for them when they start to bloom. Scotts PLUS-2 is the sure, easy way to get rid of dandelions. PLUS-2 penetrates to the roots and dandelions soon begin to fade away. It also clears out a couple dozen other non-grass weeds and it full-feeds your lawn at the same time. Pick up your PLUS-2 this week end, and apply it after dandelions are in bloom.

Park Records Second 1970
Traffic Death Within Month

The Park recorded its second traffic fatality in less than a month when a Canadian citizen died in Bon Secours Hospital at 7:50 p.m. on Wednesday, April 15, of injuries received in an auto accident that occurred on Thursday, April 9.

Dead is Frederick R. M. Mitchell, 56, of 82 Concession, Tillson, Ont., who suffered shock, a broken right leg, and a bad puncture wound in the lower left back. He sustained the injuries when a car driven by his son, Gerald, 29, of the Ontario address, lost control of the vehicle while traveling east on Jefferson avenue, at 3:33 a.m., and crashed into a tree at the Bedford intersection.

The younger Mitchell, who also gave the address of 1389 Kingsly, Mt. Clemens, was found about 10 feet from the car, doubled up on the ground, suffering from a badly cut face and shock. Police said all of his front teeth had been knocked out.

At the scene, and at the hospital where both father and son were taken by Fire Department ambulance, young Mitchell kept mumbling about a driver in a black 1968 Buick Electra convertible, who forced him off the road. He said the other motorist suddenly pulled out in front of him, and he applied his brakes, and lost control and smashed into the tree.

Officers who investigated the accident, said they could find no skid mark on the pavement, and were unable to determine what caused Gerald to lose control. The young adult refused to make a statement at the time.

An official police report revealed that both the father and son had been drinking, and when the son was queried, he admitted to having four whiskey shots and two beers, but did not disclose what, if anything, his father had consumed. Gerald told investigators of icers, according to the police report, that he was a horse trainer at the Hazel Park Race Track, but that he was not employed at the present time.

The officers investigating the accident, Patrolmen Edward Serwach and Larry Rice, said there were no actual witnesses, but they gave Gerald a ticket for having no operator's license on his person, and another for careless driving. His court date has been scheduled for May 6.

The Park marked its first traffic death on March 22, when Robert G. Kaitch, 23, of 10100 Woodlawn, Detroit, was killed when his car left the road and smashed into an Edison pole at Jefferson and Bishop. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Bon Secours Hospital.

Kraitich was traveling alone in his car, ahead of a group of friends in another vehicle, when he lost control and hit the pole.

The force of impact tossed the young man out of the car, and his friends pulled him away only brief seconds before the smashed auto burst into flames. Firemen put out the fire, but before the car was reduced to a blackened hulk.

Kraitich and the elder Mitchell are the Park's and the Pointe's first and second fatalities of 1970.

Woods Stresses
Bicycle Safety

Keeping in tune with the spring increase of young bicycle riders, the Woods department of public safety is stepping up its bicycle safety and inspection programs to help assure a safe and pleasant summer for Woods bike riders.

Public Safety Officer Steve Petrik predicted that the department will safety check thousands of two-wheelers this spring, during the inspection phase of the program, which he directs.

"We want our youngsters to have the freedom of riding their bicycles, but to truly enjoy this freedom, they must remember a few simple rules," said Petrik, who will personally inspect more than 900 bikes at Ferry School alone.

Before listing the safe-biking rules laid down by the Citizens' Traffic Safety Commission and the Department of Public Safety, Petrik claimed that cycling is fun and can be an asset to good health because of the exercise.

"All bike-riders must have a bicycle license, which can be picked up right at the police station," said Petrik. "In addition, every bike must have a white light in the front and a red light or reflector on the rear. Riders should remember to keep both lights clean at all times."

"Bicyclists must follow the same rules of the road as do motorists," he warned. "It is against the law to ride others on the handlebars or fenders. All riders must stay off the streets, highways or alleys, unless they are at least 12 years of age and have the consent of their parents."

Petrik advised all riders to maintain a straight line, when underway, and refuse to carry packages or bundles, which might interfere with keeping the bike under strict control at all times.

He also said the wise bike-riders will always park his bicycle where it is out of the way of cars and pedestrians. If there is a bike rack, it should be used.

"These are simple tips, but, if youngsters and adults hope to make cycling a safe and pleasant experience, they will obey them all," said Petrik.

League Holding Annual Cleanup

Farms parents and Little Leaguers are urged to participate in the second annual cleanup of the Kerby, Brownell and South High School fields this Saturday, April 25. They are asked to bring rakes and meet at Kerby Field at 10 o'clock.

Later in the afternoon, volunteers are needed to distribute fund solicitation letters to all Farms residents since there will be no candy sale this year. Funds donated will be used to defer League expenses not covered by registration fees.

A BURGLAR - FIRE ALARM SYSTEM THAT
EVERY HOMEOWNER
CAN AFFORD!

Afraid of intrusion by vandals, cat burglars, dope addicts, muggers, or worse? Then read this

New low cost system

For many years only the very wealthy could afford to buy complex electronic security equipment. Now, Resident Sentry Alarms, Inc. has developed a foolproof burglar-fire alarm that every householder or small business can afford to own. Recent developments in solid state, space-age circuitry has made it possible for Resident Sentry to offer a completely wireless system priced below wired alarm systems. Installation is simple. You save the difference.

How your Resident Sentry system operates

A burglar or intruder hasn't got a chance with your Resident Sentry standing guard. Just let a prowler disturb one of the delicate "sensors" placed at either a door or window. In a fraction of a second, your Control Unit picks up the signal and sets off an ear-splitting alarm that could be heard by all your neighbors. At the same instant your Control Unit can turn on additional lights in the house. No burglar is going to wait around for the police to arrive.

Easy to install, easy to maintain

Your Resident Sentry Alarm System is so easy to install that your RS distributor will do the job in a matter of minutes. He'll even be happy to show you how to relocate the system should you decide to move to another home. Resident Sentry equipment is fully guaranteed for both parts and labor, for a whole year.

D'you Know That?!

by Paul Schweltzer

Here's an oddity on men's garments... It's about the curious fashion of making men's jackets with a SLIT IN THE LAPEL.

The slit has no purpose. But its origin is traced to antiquity with deeper meaning than is generally supposed.

Originally the slit in the lapel was a sign of mourning. At the death of a loved one, the mourner would cut a slit on his coat to serve as a permanent reminder of his loss.

The clothing industry retained the slit — perhaps without ever knowing of its somber meaning.

Big Band Sound Will Live Again

The big band sound of the Forties will come alive once again when the combined music departments of Grosse Pointe North and Grosse Pointe South High Schools present their annual Cabaret Party, 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., Saturday, May 2, at North High School. A Stage Band from each school will present some of the old standard swing tunes as well as more modern selections in a program designed for listening and dancing.

The Cabaret is planned and presented by the students of the two schools for the purpose of raising scholarship funds to send deserving students to summer music camp. Each year several scholarships are awarded to promising young Grosse Pointe musicians.

Tickets are available from any North or South instrumental student or his parents. Cost is $3 per couple. Refreshments will be served.

Farms Prepares Repair Program

At its regular meeting held on Monday, April 20, the Farms council authorized the taking of bids for the city's 1970 street asphalt recapping and sidewalk repair programs.

It was disclosed that recapping the streets, and the repairing of sidewalks on city property, will cost an estimated $61,500. The payment of repair costs of sidewalks in front of private properties is the responsibility of the property owners, it was pointed out.

The Farms' 1970 sidewalk repair program calls for the repairing of sidewalks, where needed, along the following streets (tied in with the recapping):

Kerby, from Mack to Chal-forte; Moross place; Cambridge; Kenwood, from Grosse Pointe boulevard to Kercheval; Touraine, from Charlevoix to School; Touraine court; Williams, from Belanger to Lothrop; Hall place; Moross, from Kercheval to St. Paul Cemetery; Mack Avenue Business District; and the Ker-cheval Business District. John A. DeFoe, public service director, said that the city will advertise for bids on the sidewalk repair on Saturday, April 25, and the council should award the contract by May 7.

Between May 11 through May 15, he said, work orders with the legal description, cost of repairs and the names and addresses of the property owners typed on the orders, will be prepared.

DeFoe said that on May 18, the work orders will be sent to the property owners, and on July 16, a resurvey of all unfinished work will be made. This must be done within 60 days after the orders have been received.

On July 23, notices and publications of a public hearing will be sent out; on August 3, the public hearing will be held, and the following day, the sidewalks not repaired by the property owners, will be done under contract by the city, and the owners assessed the cost.

Hospital Work Tempts Teens

As part of an "experiment in free form education" girls from Dominican High School spent four days at Cottage Hospital recently to learn if they might want careers in the hospital and health field.

Among the total student body at Dominican, girls visited social agencies, day care centers, schools for handicapped children, the Dow Chemical Co. in Midland, Mich., and took "crash" courses ranging from interior decorating to black history to Polish grammar.

The 13 girls who decided to investigate hospital careers at Cottage Hospital — during the four days—were under the supervision of Mrs. Nancy Ruehlen, R.N., the hospital's In-Service Training Coordinator. After taking them on a tour of the hospital and its various departments, she assigned them to hospital personnel. They helped nurses, ran errands, filed reports, helped in transferring patients, and observed the work of doctors, x-ray and laboratory technicians and pharmacists.

"They were so enthusiastic about their experience that five of them asked to enroll in our Junior Volunteer course," Mrs. Ruehlen said.

Award Contract To Protect Pool

The Farms council awarded a contract to the Paddock Pools, Incorporated, on Monday, April 20, for the refinishing of the Pier-Park swimming pool, and to prevent the pool's "floating" above the present grade level.

City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., told the council that the firm, which constructed the pool, has the ability to guarantee the successful conclusion of the project. The company offered to do the job for $11,960.

Bremer said that the nature of this work poses a definite problem in hydrostatic pressures, that could cause an emptied pool to "float" above grade levels. He pointed out that because of the location of the pool, which is near an open body of water (Lake St. Clair), it is virtually impossible to avoid the problem, since water seeps through the ground from the lake.

He said that the company, since it constructed the pool and accompanying water drainage system, has the ability to minimize the "floating" possibility because of its familiarity with the pool.

Bremer told the council that damage could approach $150,000, plus the loss of the facility for a lengthy period of time, should "floating" occur.

Acting on Bremer's recommendation, the council awarded the contract to the company.

Deer Lake Four-Seasons Beach Club to serve golfers, swimmers, boaters and fishermen whose beautiful white beach and private club house with dining and locker room facilities offers the ultimate in lakeside fun. The prime sandy beach, much of which shelves out of a gentle slope as far as 300 yards before youngsters can get chin-deep, is the lake's chief allure. Water is crystal-clear and, because the half-mile wide lake is nestled like a jewel in a bowl of hills, waves are never so high that a fisherman would become endangered by high winds. It also has a good lee shore, regardless of wind direction, for water skiing at any time of the day.

Deer Lake has long been noted as a bass and pike angling lake and abounds with bluegills, sunfish, and perch for the neophyte angler just learning to handle a fly rod. What's more, several small trout streams flow through the Deer Lake area just south of the lake and are readily accessible by good roads. A fleet of rental boats and sailing craft will be available to guests—and a launching ramp will be provided for club members desiring to bring their own. A private road connects the Boyne County Four-Seasons Beach Club with Boynestadt just a mile away to the eastward.

Boynestadt is only minutes of easy access to a resort complex which offers you 10,000 acres of pleasure—skiing, golf, salmon and trout fishing, sailing, motorboating, deer and small game hunting, swimming, waterskiing, horseback riding, retirement living, investment opportunities—all in one recreational administrative organization.

Candidates Told When to File

Ray MacArthur, Director of Elections for the Grosse Pointe Public School System, announced that nomination petitions for the post of trustee of the local Board of Education must be filed no later than 4 p.m. on Monday, May 11.

Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, who will complete her second four-year term as trustee on June 30, has indicated that she will not seek re-election. Her post is the only vacancy this year.

To be a candidate for a trusteeship, a citizen must be a registered voter and a property owner or the spouse of a property owner.

Nomination petitions must be signed by registered voters and must be filed with the Secretary of the Board of Education. Completed petitions may be turned in to Mr. MacArthur, in the Department of Business and Finance, in the schools' Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue. The minimum number of signatures required by law is 43, the maximum is 170. Mr. MacArthur suggests the filing of petitions with from 75 to 100 signatures.

Mr. MacArthur said that the term of office for a trustee is four years, beginning July 1, 1970 and ending on June 30, 1974. Trustees receive no pay for their position, but receive $400 per year for expenses incurred.

The last date for withdrawal as a candidate, which must be filed by written notice with the Secretary of the Board of Education, is 4 p.m. on Thursday, May 14.

Any citizen wishing further urged to call Mr. MacArthur information on the election is at 885-2000.

GPCE Appoints Two Chairmen

Mrs. John Fillon and William C. Porter have been named co-chairmen of the Candidate Evaluation Committee of Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education.

This is the third year that such a committee has been formed. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for Grosse Pointe citizens, any of whom were eligible to join upon payment of 1970 dues, to examine the qualifications of candidates for the vacancy which will occur in June on the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

After interviewing and studying all candidates, the committee will make a weighted recommendation to the CFE Board of Directors, which will then present a final recommendation to be voted upon by the general membership.

Other officers of the Candidate Evaluation Committee are Mrs. Kenneth Cook, recording secretary, and Mrs. William Porter, corresponding secretary. James Cameron is chairman of procedures, and Mrs. Perry Lewis, written questionnaire.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wood are in charge of candidate liaison, which includes the seeking out of possible qualified persons in the Grosse Pointe community. Any one who feels himself to be qualified and who might consider running for the Board of Education is invited to call them at 894-7823.

President of Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education is Mrs. Edward C. Hanpeter. Liaison between the Candidate Evaluation Committee and the CFE Board of Directors will be handled by Board member W. James Mast.

Thief Has Liking For Red VWs

A car thief, believed to have stolen two automobiles in the Farms in one day, apparently had a penchant for red Volkswagens, but certainly was a "lousy driver", according to Farms police. The vehicles were reported stolen on Tuesday, April 14, and both were recovered, extensively damaged.

Farms Patrolman Gordon Evans, while taking a report of a stolen red Volkswagen, owned by Ernest K. Breuer of 11406 Roxbury, Detroit, found a second red Volkswagen, which had been reported missing.

Evans said that the second car was found in the parking lot at the rear of Moross and Mack.

The first report was received from Lynn Onofry of 22719 Dorinus, St. Clair Shores, a student at St. Paul High School, who stated that she parked her father's car in front of the high school at 8 a.m. and returned for it at 3 p.m. to find it gone.

At 2:47 p.m., dispatched to the parking lot, Evans, while taking a report from Breuer, located the Onofry auto in the lot, within brief minutes after a broadcast, apparently left there by the thief.

Breuer said he and his wife went into Sears, to eat a bite at the lunch counter, and were gone only half an hour.

A short time later, Detroit police called the Farms authorities to reveal that the Breuer car was recovered, and that it had been found in front of 5929 Audubon.

When recovered, the Onofry vehicle was found to have been damaged on the right side, and the right rear bumper. The left vent window was broken, apparently done to enter the auto.

Breuer's car, Detroit police said, was heavily damaged in the rear. The bumper, both rear fenders and the exhaust system were smashed in.

Police Accuse Farms Resident

A Farms policeman, while on routine patrol, arrested a 28-year-old Farms resident, and charged him with being in possession of a stolen car, and carrying a dangerous weapon in a motor vehicle.

Patrolman Guy Lyford said he was patrolling west on Chalfonte, near Moross road, on Wednesday, April 15, when he observed a driver behind the wheel of a 1968 Cadillac make a right turn onto Moross, without giving a signal.

Lyford said that he signaled the driver, Joseph A. Frontiera of 379 Chalfonte to the curb, in front of 444 Moross.

The officer said that while Frontiera was looking for his operator's license, he (Lyford) noticed a set of license plates on the rear floor of the stopped vehicle and broken glass and radioed the station, giving the number of the plates. The return call revealed that the plates and the car, had been reported stolen earlier.

At the time that the information was being received, Lyford said, he saw Frontiera reach into his right hand pocket and remove a .25 caliber Browning automatic, sans the clip, but the officer said, with one shell in the chamber. The weapon was confiscated and the man arrested and taken to the station.

Frontiera was arraigned for a preliminary hearing before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell, on warrants accusing him of the two charges. The man was released on personal recognizance bond of $5,000, and examination date set for May 6.

WSU 'Earth Day' Winds Up Today

Wayne State University's Biological Society, 300 members strong, has run into a bit of a problem, according to Lee Carrick, of 16708 E. Jefferson, who this week appealed to the NEWS for a little help.

"We are helping in the university's two-day environmental teach-in," said Lee, a graduate student seeking his doctorate in biology. "It seems we had a public information breakdown somewhere along the line and few persons are aware of the Wayne State University 'Earth Day' activities."

Although Carrick said the events started yesterday, he claimed that many of the important phases of the program are being held today and he has extended an invitation to all those interested in ecological problems to attend. It is a day-long agenda.

Scout Refuses Good Turn Pay

Don Bassett, Principal of Malmre Elementary School, 740 Cadieux road, reports an event which he thinks should give everyone renewed faith in youth.

Recently, patrol boy Albert Pettit, a fifth grader, happened to notice two Malmre kindergarten girls standing in front of the school crying. It was after school hours and their mother had not arrived to give the girls their ride home. Albert brought the girls back into the building, call the missing parent, and then waited with the girls until she arrived. She thanked Albert for his thoughtfulness, and later sent him a thank-you note with a dollar enclosed. Albert returned the dollar with this letter:

"Thank you very much for the nice letter you gave me. I like it and my teacher read it to the class. I liked the dollar, but one Boy Scout rule is 'to do a good turn a day and not take tips.' I hope you understand what I mean.

"Sincerely yours,
Albert Pettit"

Letters to the Editor

If you think this article could help the cause, and if you think it would be interesting to the readers, and if you want to print it, please be my guest.

Dorothy White, 289 Rivard Boulevard

Spring Time, Summer Time, Park Time and Swimming Time all add up to BICYCLE TIME. In Grosse Pointe that means a hoard of bicycles with vigorous young riders taking to the sidewalks.

To the poor unsuspecting pedestrian, the by-product of this exciting, exhilarating sport, could mean serious injury and months of inactivity just lying there knitting broken bones.

SO, to avoid this unpleasantness and to keep our young happy, here is my BICYCLE PLAN.

On all streets leading to Jefferson, north and south such as Washington, Lincoln, Rivard, Lakeland, Neff, St. Clair, cars should be parked on one side of the street only. Paint a double line on the other side of the street, six feet from the curb, indicating the bicycle lane. All children could ride up and down this lane in safety.

Then the pedestrian could safely use the sidewalk which is, after all, their haven. I believe this plan would be a precautionary measure for people going into the National Bank at Rivard and Jefferson, as well as for the children, due to the great amount of traffic going into the Bank Parking lot. This plan would be in effect only during the spring and summer months. It also should be mandatory for all children crossing Jefferson to use the crossing light at Lakeland.

LET'S GIVE THIS SERIOUS THOUGHT- FIRST THE CITY BE THE LEFT OF THE POINTS TO HAVE A BICYCLE PLAN! ACT NOW!

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

On Saturday, April 11, we lost one of our best-known, contemporary authors - John O'Hara, at the age of 65.

O'Hara was born in Pottsville, Pa., which became the "Gibbsville" of his novels. He was one of eight children, son of a prosperous doctor, and had planned on Yale from preparatory school to going to Harvard. His father died when he was 19 and this changed all of his plans. Instead, he worked for a while on a newspaper, traveled out West, worked on a steamer, took various other jobs, and eventually came to New York to work on newspapers and magazines, such as TIME, THE NEW YORKER and THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE.

This was in the 20's, when he also developed quite a reputation as a prodigious drinker. By 1929 the first of his short stories started appearing in THE NEW YORKER. Four years later, with some literary reputation behind him, he decided to find out if novel writing was really his métier, so he took a room in a Manhattan hotel and, using the bed as a desk, wrote all night, slept all day, kept himself going with coffee, and wrote APPOINTMENT IN SAMARA. When he was down to his last three dollars he sent Harcourt, Brace some of the chapters of this book. They liked it and from then on paid him $50 a week for six months until he had finished his first novel. It was a great success when published, telling of the three-day slide to self-destruction of a young man, named Julian English. Here, as he would so frequently do later, he portrayed the family life, social life, drinking habits and sexual habits of Gibbsville's upper-class.

Between 1944 and 1955, his writing was pretty much limited to stories of the NEW YORKER variety. Then he began a great outburst of activity, averaging about one book a year, until his death.

John O'Hara was always rather sensitive about the fact that he won few awards. He did win the National Book Award in 1956 for his TEN NORTH FREDERICK. At that time, he was criticized for his overemphasis on sex. Now, some 14 years later his "daring" seems quite tame in view of the sex that permeates many of today's novels! Mr. O'Hara also won an award for his musical play PAY JOEY, and a gold medal of merit from the American Academy of Arts and Letters in 1964. But no Pulitzer or Nobel Prize!

After his success with APPOINTMENT IN SAMARRA, there followed other well-known novels such as BUTTERFIELD 8, A RAGE TO LIVE and FROM THE TERRACE. He was always noted for his scrupulousness for detail, so that his small Pennsylvania towns became microcosms of American society.

O'Hara fitged to the age of F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway and Sinclair Lewis. He was never in tune with authors of the '60s such as Norman Mailer, Bernard Malamud and William Styron. But the younger writers admired O'Hara and admitted his genius. Perhaps his most recent criticism came from those who felt that he had a preoccupation with portraying the upper middle class, and thus, in current writing, he no longer seemed relevant. Yet, longevity seems to me relative. Why shouldn't someone preserve for us, once and for all, this upper middle class Gibbsville - and O'Hara did a good job.

John O'Hara's novels always sold well and were successful. It is estimated that he made more than $100,000 a year, including rights for many movie and theater adaptations. Many people this week have paid tribute in their own way to John O'Hara. Bennett Cerf said he was a "thorny guy," who, although a bit put out at not being invited to send his 70th birthday party, did send him 70 American Beauty roses. E. B. White paid tribute to O'Hara "terrifically good ear, his gift for the language, his eye for details and his love for accuracy."

An interesting appraisal is given of O'Hara in the NEW YORK TIMES by Christopher Lehmann-Haupt, who felt that O'Hara never fulfilled his high promise of his first novel, but this never seemed to bother him and each year he churned out novels and short stories. At his death, he had completed a new novel THE EWINGS, scheduled for publication in February, 1971, and was even working on its sequel at his death!

I have been asked to bring to your attention that until July 1, 1970, the two Branch Libraries of the Grosse Pointe Public Library System will be open on Saturdays. There is one exception, May 30, which is a legal holiday, Memorial Day.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller and Margaret Burns

It's time again for the PIME fashion show, that every-spring special event sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Pontifical Institute for Foreign Missions.

This year's party date is Thursday, May 7; place is the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; theme is — we think — TERRIFIC!

Now why didn't anyone ever think of a newspaper fashion fete motif before?

It lends itself perfectly: Clothes by B. Siegel will be displayed in "sections," e.g. Sports, Travel, Entertainment, Features . . .

Color scheme of course is black-and-white, with the traditional geraniums adding a bright rotogravure touch.

Chairman Mrs. Frank A. Germack, Jr., of Perrien place, has planned everything with Mrs. Clement Pennell, president of the PIME Guild, and co-chairmen Mrs. Chilton Drysdale and Mrs. George P. Shmmas.

Credit the unusual decor to Mrs. William Taylor. Mrs. Frank Hilton's handling tickets. Mrs. Claude A. Greiner's in charge of hostesses, Mrs. Oscar Keller of advertising, Mrs. Mark Valente of patrons and Mrs. Roland Rinke of prizes.

All monies raised via the fashion show go to the PIME Missionaries who operate exclusively in remote, distressed areas of the world.

Their work includes supplying food, clothing, medicine and education necessary to alleviate human suffering.

Through their efforts a tangible link has been formed between the people of the United States and 6,000 orphans to whom PIME has already provided the necessities of life they so desperately need.

Hope—ing For A Good Turnout

Officers of the Hope Ship League are indeed hoping that there will be a great gathering at the League's membership meeting to be held Friday evening, April 24, at 8 o'clock in the Georgian Inn. They've planned a full program of activity and they don't want a single member to be left out.

To start things off Roger Bailey of Fisher road, president of the League, will introduce Dr. Robert Nixon, chief of Ford Hospital's second medical division. He will speak about his experiences while aboard the

Carol Ann Kalkman Wed To Mr. Fraser

Swiss Lace Accents Bride's Ivory Peau de Soie Gown; Attendants Wear Apricot Chiffon with Lace-Edged Bertha Collars

At an evening ceremony Friday, April 17, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church Carol Ann Kalkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Kalkman, of Fisher road, and James Earl Fraser, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Fraser, of South Deeplands road, were married.

The 6 o'clock rites were followed by a reception at Chateau Rouge after which the newlyweds left for a vacation in New Orleans. They will return to make their home in King's Pointe Apartments.

The bride's Victorian gown of ivory peau de soie featured a Watteau train and accents of Swiss tucked lace. Her headpiece, an Alencon lace Camelot cap, caught a Cathedral length illusion veil.

She carried an arrangement of fresh spring flowers in a halo of baby's-breath.

She was attended by honor maid Mary Beth Kirchner and bridesmaids Mrs. Christopher Carson, of Jackson, Sue Sankovich, Mary and Joanne Fraser, sisters of the bridegroom, and Laurie Kalkman, her sister. Sadie Hawkins Dance at NHS

By Maureen Curran

It looks as if Grosse Pointe North is going to resemble Dogpatch, U.S.A., hometown of Al Capp's 'Lil Abner, on Friday April 24, when the Sophomore Class will hold the second annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

This is one dance of the year when the girls can ask the boys. Couples attending the dance are dressed in outlandish hillbilly garb. There has been talk of getting someone to be "Marryin' Sam," and issuing marriage certificates that are valid until the end of the dance, and even getting a cow for the different couples to sit on during the "ceremony" while their pictures are taken.

Music for the dance will be provided by "Wesselfox" and the "Established Few."

Tickets are limited to North students, and are $1 in advance; $1.25 at the door.

Hope Roberts, sophomore class sponsor, has assisted class officers Phil Frame, Nancy Randall, Jo Hulverson, and Kay Kapaz in setting up the different dance committees. The committees and their chairmen are: Promotion—Craig Person; Tickets—Sherril Rudolph; Decorations—Nancy Randall; and Refreshments—Mike Knoff.

The day of the dance will be "Slave Day," a day girls are expected to return the simple courtesies the boys supposedly extend them the other 364 days.

All in all, the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance is "shore gonna be interestin'!"

Named to the Grand Valley State College Dean's List for winter term high academic achievement is senior Political Science major JONATHAN C. MACKENZIE, son of MR. and MRS. DON MACKENZIE, of Lakepointe avenue.

Simply stated, we know of no other house in this category which is being offered for sale in The Pointe today, which has such charm and has been so meticulously maintained that all a new buyer requires prior to moving in is a dust cloth. Each of four master bedrooms has its own connecting bath and two of the bedrooms have fireplaces. On the main floor are two living rooms, one formal and other for lounging. A charming room beyond the informal living room has a built-in bar and access to a secluded patio for summer entertaining. The spacious kitchen is spanking new and sure to be the highlight of any kitchen tour. A carriage house on the property, relatively low taxes and easy financing make this one worth looking into.

SOME STAIGHT TALK ON AN EXCEPTIONAL GROSSE POINTE FARMS ESTATE:

First, let's discuss quality; Frank Wilberding custom-built this Masterpiece in 1963 on a prime site overlooking the lake. So now we've covered location and modern conveniences too. How about the condition and decor? In a word . . . Breathtaking. But don't take our word for it, decide for yourself. There are six family bedrooms, four full baths, carriage house apartment, central Air conditioning, three car garage, and about a page of other extras you would expect—plus many others you will appreciate. The price is $197,500 and you are invited to see why its worth every penny of it.

Something New Under The Sun . . . is at Walton-Pierce. It's a two-piece swimsuit you can buy to really fit because the top comes in bra sizes and the bikini comes S, M, L. You select your size top and then select the bikini that fits, because they are sized separately. You also have a choice of a green print or a brown and yellow paisley. The latter, we thought looked just great on our hostess while swimming and sunning last week in Arizona.

From Arizona . . . we brought back recharged energy, a terrific tan and a head of hair we took first thing to Leon's. They reconditioned and toned it, snipped off the ends and restyled it with a new young bounce. If you've had fun in the sun, it has gone to your head. Be sure you head for Leon's, 17888 Mack Avenue, for care and flair, TUxedo 4-9393.

From Sweden . . . to Mitchell's Boutique, 17864 Mack Avenue, have come all-weather cotton jacket and pants ensembles in white or navy for seventy dollars. They rival sunshine and brighten up a rainy day. Mitchell's is open Thursday evenings until 8:30.

A Mutschler Kitchen . . . there's one to suit every woman. Individually designed, a kitchen is fashioned to fit her work habits as well as her taste in decor, whether it be colonial, contemporary or provincial. Just stop in and talk with Mr. Mozena, president of Mutschler, and see the handsome models at 20227 Mack Avenue.

In Martha's Closet . . . 373 Fisher Road, you'll see a fashion story in black and white. Daytime and cocktail dresses by your favorite designers Arkin, Oscar de la Renta, Ric McClintock and Studio Six are in sophisticated travel, tight black and white.

Boutique-ing . . . at The Sphere, 19849 Mack Avenue, we found a world of accessories . . . Tano and Caprice summer handbags, links of pearls and chains, accent ear rings, in-stead fashion scarves . . . are all displayed in a new bright setting of shocking pink and chartreuse.

The Happy Time . . . Is usually the time when Valentine's comes to the scene. Most people call for advice about the correct wedding attire. Of course, the opera, the gala, the prom or a cruise are also occasions when Valentine is called on to provide the fashions. Call TUxedo 6-5330 or stop by 17904 Mack to see the up-to-the minute collection.

Those Folks At Mr. Q . . . say now is the time to think Florida. It's a great family travel bargain. They know spots which are really great buys. Give them a call for information . . . 886-0500.

MRS. JOHN MILTON WHITE, OF WEST BALLANTYNE COURT

By Janet Mueller

Want to catch Helen White in? Try calling between 8:30 and 8:30 o'clock—in the morning! Don't worry about waking her up; Helen's never been a slug-a-bed. And she wakes up "bright," ready to discuss details, to deal with specifics.

After 8:30, you lose. Helen's usually out the door by then. She's got a lot of living to do. "I never walk," she admits. "I'm always running."

Like her mother, a tiny fireball, a whiz of a woman, widowed now, who lives alone in Pennsylvania and is "the most marvelous cook in the world."

Some day Helen's going to collect all the recipes her mother has stored in her memory and make a Hungarian cookbook.

"I love to cook and bake. I love to entertain. My favorite party is a Sunday champagne brunch; we do that quite a bit."

She makes a delicious apple strudel, but is proudest of her fan-tailed shrimp, deep-fried and served with a hot white sauce.

Even if it's NOT Classic Hungarian Cuisine.

Parents from Hungary
Helen's father—"the world's only red-haired, freckle-faced Hungarian"—and mother crossed the Atlantic to settle in the United States.

They remained in the East. Helen's from Pittsburgh.

But there's still a definite westward family trend. Helen's daughter Linda, 21, has just become a Californian.

John, sales manager for National Broach and Machine Company, has a daughter too. And a son.

Joan White Mancell and her husband Bob, both University of Michigan graduates, are back in the Ann Arbor area—back teaching at Eastern Michigan University while he works on his Ph.D.

Joan received her Masters degree in Library Science from the University of Wisconsin. She and Bob taught at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, O.

Have First Grandchild
Last November 13 they produced the first White grandchild, a son.

Daniel White, graduated from Eastern Michigan, finished with his Army service, is now a J. L. Hudson Company Junior Executive Trainee.

Butchkie, a wire-haired Scotch terrier whose formal name is Cignon Fiju—that's "Gypsy Boy" in Hungarian—shares the house in West Ballantyne court with Helen and John.

Small-boned, delicate in appearance, Helen White looks like a model. She's been one, both fashion (showing clothes for Jacobson's), and artist's.

That pensive young lady on rollerskates on the far wall of the Whites' living room is Helen. It's one of the three portraits done of her by a Pittsburgh artist the year after she was graduated from high school.

The paintings hung in exhibitions at the Carnegie Institute and New York's Metropolitan Museum. Helen lost sight of them for a while, then was lucky enough to find this one. Luckily, too, it was for sale.

She's Ex-Tomboy
In the pictures, in the flesh, she doesn't look like an ex-tomboy.

But for Helen, growing up, no tree was too tall to climb, no diving board too high to jump from.

She played softball. She still likes, as a spectator, hockey and baseball. She's fond of golf, "but I'm a duffer."

And she and John love to dance.

Duplicate bridge is one of her personal passions, as is travel. But here Helen admits she limits herself. She does not like to fly.

"I HAAVE flown," she ac-last July, calling back in January to see if everyone was still willing to work on the project. Everyone was.

The party is a sell-out, all 570 seats taken within 10 days of its announcement. There is a waiting list however, in case of last-minute cancellations.

But most of those licky enough to have tickets are holding on to them for dear life!

Because it promises to be such a good party: Clothes and models from Saks Fifth Avenue, an exhibit of gems and fashion jewelry by Sidney Krandall and Sons, Phil Skillman and his orchestra playing in the background, a delicious hot lunch . . .

Trust Helen White and Sally Kazmarek to insist on that last item.

The theme, of course, is French.

Which is one reason why we posed Helen White between a pair of 1879 prints depicting Parisian fashions of the day.

Prints Are Heirlooms

The other reason is personal. The prints are White family heirlooms. Joan's grandmother played with them as a girl and his sisters had them matted and framed as their wedding present when Helen and John were married.

Take a good look at those skirt lengths. A shade longer than today's newest mid-calf look, but still short enough to show a well-turned ankle. Bustles look awkward . . . Still, we learned how to handle the beehive hairdo, (slept with heads rigid, wrapped in tissue paper—if you were Very Careful and sort of patted the thing into place each morning, you MIGHT make it through a full week without once having to reconstruct. Remember?)

Who knows? We could be previewing the Look of the (19)80's.

Take a good look at Helen White.

It's mid-afternoon and she's "in," at rest, not running.

You don't often get a chance to see Helen that way.

Not Really Resting

Of course she isn't EXACTLY at rest: She's being interviewed, in connection with her current project, Fontbonne's spring benefit. There's a reporter off-camera, a photographer behind it.

Before they arrived she baked a wonderful custardy-topped cake to serve with coffee. And gave Butchkie his off-to-the-kenel tranquilizer.

Later in the afternoon Helen will take him away, then come back to finish people-packing. She and John leave for a Florida vacation tomorrow . . .

Traveling surface, naturally. Now why is it that Helen White, traveling surface, seems to be flying?

Pointe Pucksters End Fine Season

By Phil Loranger

Although it's been a while since the Grosse Pointe Juvenile Hockey team scaled the heights of glory to finish number two in the Michigan Juvenile Hockey Championships at Muskegon, it's never too late to give them a much deserved pat on the back.

Hampered first by a postal strike and then a mix-up in relocating their news copy, it seemed like the Juveniles would never get a chance to publicize their hockey achievements, the finest ever turned in by a Pointe ice team. They're getting their chance this week and the NEWS wants to be first to congratulate them on their fine showing for the community.

Under the guidance of Head Coach Harold Neil, of 19973 Doyle place west, the Pointe Juveniles, sporting the blue and white colors of East Side Sporting Goods, rambled through opponent after opponent during the regular season play, prior to entering the single-knockout district playoffs, in which 10 local teams squared off.

The Pointers defeated St. Clair Shores, Southfield and Warren to wrap up the district crown and gain a chance to take all the marbles in the State Championships.

The outlook was far from favorable after their first contest, when Muskegon, higher than a kite on a spring day, out-shot, outskated and outscored the local contingent in gaining a 6-0 victory.

It must have taken a real pep talk from Neil and Bill Gill, manager and assistant coach, to turn the Pointers around, but turn they did, as they stung six straight opponents, including a big victory over Muskegon by a count of 4-2, to gain the last slot in the tournament's finals.

With a packed house going wild on every shot, the Juveniles played a fine game, but Detroit's Burton Title had just a little bit more talent for a grueling two days and the Detroiters came out on the long end of a 4-2 score to win the crown and leave the state runner-up title for the Pointe Juveniles.

"I think the kids were pretty well bushed after playing six games in 32 hours over a two-day period," claimed Gill. "We took to the ice at 6:30 a.m. the first day and finished up at 2:30 p.m. the next day in the finals."

The 16-man team gave it everything, but weary legs and a hot Detroit team won out in the end. The NEWS salutes the Pointe Juveniles for their gallant efforts and thanks them for bringing the community into the state hockey limelight for the first time.

If you expect to rise up in the world, don't give the world cause to get down on you.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Last week . . . we took the story of the "hockey-swinging" Wayne F. Austin, of Prestwick road, whose three young sons went from never-had-skates-on-in-their-lives to Ice Aces in just two years, up to today, and an ice hockey season that finds one or another of the boys playing somewhere, from Port Huron to Toronto to Grosse Pointe, six nights a week . . . And now we conclude their tale . . .

"Each place" . . . says Mrs. Austin, "is a new experience and we meet wonderful people who are interested in what their children are doing . . . We enjoy having out-of-towners as houseguests overnight and our boys look forward to being guests as well . . ."

Business trips . . . don't keep Mr. Austin away from any games if he can help it. It's from their airport to the rink many times . . . Only on one occasion were there two major games scheduled at one time—and then mother and dad tossed a coin, so everyone was happy . . . A cooperative pick-up and delivery service among team parents proves a boon, too . . .

Wednesday night's . . . free of games—so where, on Wednesdays, are the Austin boys? . . . At the rink for open skating! Teasy David, the 11-year-old, claims his big brother Dennis, 12, only goes to show off in front of the girls . . . "But not me," he adds. "I go for pleasure!" . . .

"Some people" . . . Mrs. Austin admits, "can't understand why we keep such a pace . . . I'd be the first to admit our social life is quite limited . . . and I couldn't begin to count the number of hot dog meals at the rinks . . ."

"House chores . . . get put aside. And I could mention added expenses . . . but who needs a new wardrobe? . . . Our necessities are a pair of Long Johns, a heavy coat and boots, because ice rinks are COLD . . ."

Why, then, do they do it? . . . "Our answer is a very simple one. We are having a BALL! . . . When Dennis digs out the puck and passes it up . . . or David stick-handles the puck toward the net . . . or Danny's out there trying and learning—thank goodness an early start will save him the embarrassment his older brothers felt—it's all worth the effort for that wonderful feeling of having fun together . . ."

"And, oh yes . . . we offer rewards: A stop at the doughnut shop to fill orders of six for an assist . . . and a dozen for a goal!" . . .

Sportsmanship . . . maintaining your health and realizing there is always someone better than yourself, so you keep trying to improve, is the Austin family's definition of Hockey . . . "We consider the game," says Mrs. Austin, "and what it involves, as we consider making good grades in school, which comes first in our house, as lessons in living which we feel will better prepare our children to cope with life as they grow older" . . .

On the ice the boys . . . must make their own decisions. They've no time to consult . . . And this decision-making habit carries over into other fields . . . Mrs. Austin recalls her 12-year-old's choice, with no parental prodding, (he told mother and father about it afterwards), to decline a party invitation issued by another 12-year-old when he learned there might be smoking and drinking . . .

His decision was . . . "I'm not going to take a chance on wrecking my body . . . and besides, just being there would involve me" . . .

"My husband and I" . . . observes Mrs. Austin, "feel that parents can't start too soon to have fun with their children, to try to guide them and keep them occupied, in sports or otherwise—especially these days" . . .

The first weekend of April . . . found the Austins hopping, with SEVEN tournament and play-off games scheduled in Detroit, Windsor and Port Huron . . . Their teams weren't tournament champions . . . but the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association, which cites the three best players on each team, named BOTH Dennis and David Three Star Award winners . . .

Austin family sports . . . don't end with the hockey season. Spring is here, and so is baseball . . . Father manages a Little League Team . . . Dennis (first base) and David (pitcher and shortstop) have played for him for the past two years; this year Dennis moves up to Babe Ruth League . . . His Little League spot's ready for first-time-around Danny . . .

All the boys . . . swim and enjoy water-skiing . . . When the weather turns warmer the Austin boat will roll out of the garage, down to the lake . . . Dennis obtained his Safe Boating Certificate last year . . . David is now taking the course . . .

And there are guppies to care for . . . and Charlie-the-Turtle . . . and Fifi-the-Siamese Cat . . . and Susie-the-Choice-Multiple-Breed-Dog . . . One thing about those Austins: There's very little "What will we do now, mom?" at their house!
