HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 9
THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION (FTC) has announced a proposed order against the Coca-Cola Company, asking that the company pay $100 in prize money to each of "a substantial number of contestants" allegedly deceived in a promotional game it was learned Wednesday.

DEPLORING THE PLIGHT of American Indians, President Nixon told Congress Wednesday "the time has come to break decisively with the past" and to allow Indians to assume greater control of federal programs that affect them. If Congress agrees, and legislation will be needed in some cases, more than $400 million a year in federal spending will be thrown open to control by Indians rather than by government bureaucrats.

THE 16-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER of a former Lansing mayor was kidnapped Thursday by a gunman who robbed a gift shop where she was working. The robber pistol-whipped the woman proprietor. A police roadblock, set up within 10 minutes of the kidnapping, failed to trap the gunman. The abducted girl is Laurie Murningham, daughter of former mayor Max E. Murningham.

LAYOFFS of Detroit city employees will be eased by a $1.4 million grant approved by the federal government for removing abandoned cars and cleaning alleys. City Controller Robert P. Rosselle said the grant will permit the city to hire about 100 employees. Priority will be given to some of the 350 employees laid off by Mayor Gribb's economy measure.

NORTH VIETNAM yesterday reported the arrival in Hanoi of an American Marine, John M. Sweeney, who allegedly deserted in South Vietnam as a protest against the war and lived with the Viet Cong for 17 months.

Sunday, July 12
FIGHTER PLANES of the Cambodian air force were attacking the Vietnamese Communists who occupied the town of Kiri Rom after they had earlier overrun a military outpost near the town. The action occurred 56 miles southwest of the capital city.

TWO BOMBS, apparently time devices planted by Arab guerrillas, exploded on a crowded bathing beach on Israel's Mediterranean coast. Police said one woman was injured by the blasts which scattered 2,000 sunbathers.

THE UAW and six conservation groups said the clean-air bill passed by the House is "pitifully weak" and urged Congress to set air pollution control standards so high they would banish the internal combustion engine from cars in five years.

Monday, July 13
TEAR GAS WAS USED to clear a six-block section of Highland Park Sunday night after the second night of disturbances following the fatal shooting of a black by a white bartender. A combined police force of 150 moved in to enforce a curfew ordered into effect Saturday night.

THE UNITED STATES is moving quietly to replace Israel's combat losses of F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers and to provide the means to jam increasingly effective Soviet-built anti-aircraft missiles in Egypt.

Tuesday, July 14
IN AN EFFORT to save $375,000 a month, the City of Detroit is expected to lay off as many as 175 more employees within six weeks. The new cutbacks would bring the total number laid off to about 500, about two per cent of the city's 26,000 workers.

THE HAMTRAMCK CITY COUNCIL approved a $4.6 million budget for the current fiscal year ending the threat of a city shutdown voiced last week by Mayor Raymond J. Wojtowicz.

Woods Safety Record Wins Award

An AAA Award for Excellence was presented to Grosse Pointe Woods for its pedestrian safety record last year, at a special awards breakfast July 7, at the 1970 meeting of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, at Bayne Mountain. The Woods was one of two cities nationally and the only Michigan city to receive the award. Left to right: Arthur C. Gibson, manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan's Safety and Traffic Engineering Division, Donald B. Coats, Director of Public Safety for the Woods; Governor William Milliken, Dean A. Fox, president of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police; and Col. Fredrick Davids of the Michigan State Police.

Gauges Show Rain Varies In GP Area

Shores Instrument Proves June 24 Downpour Hit Village Harder Than Farms

A new official rain gauge from the U.S. Weather Bureau, obtained by the Shores, gives evidence that the rainfall in the Pointe area varies in different sections of the Pointe. The Shores was given its gauge about six weeks ago, at the request of Village officials, since recent heavy downpours have been hitting that area.

By contrast, during the June 24 storm, which saw a small tornado cutting a swath of destruction in the Park, City and Farms, total rainfall as recorded by the official instruments at the Farms Water Filtration Plant, Moross and Grosse Pointe boulevard, showed that 1.04 inches of rain came down on the Farms, whereas, the Village gauge revealed that the downpour in the Shores measured a total of 1.80 inches. With the rainfall the next morning, the Village recorded a total of 2.2 inches.

Add .81 of an inch on June 25, and .44 of an inch on June 26, to the Farms recording, and the three-day total comes to 1.53 inches.

Competent Teachers Fire Students with Enthusiasm In Summer School Classes

Reasons For Attending Vary; Smaller Groups Enable Enrollees To Progress Much Faster Than Is Possible During Regular Term

Why DO children attend summer school classes? Although a number enroll every year in the "strengthening and review" offerings by the Grosse Public School System, (to improve a poor record earned during the regular year), many youngsters are attracted by the opportunity to take "enrichment" classes or for a chance to get a headstart on the new school year.

Using their time during the current six-week session, (which ends July 31), to delve into the mysteries of computer science are a group of lively, interested fifth and sixth graders in Harvey Richardson's course. Offered this year to elementary youngsters for the first time, this is a scaled-down version of the classes introduced by the dynamic Mr. Richardson at South High School.

Other fifth and sixth graders are also using a portion of their vacation to learn more about science. An introduction to laboratory techniques, (focusing on using the microscope), gives children an experience generally outside the scope of the elementary curriculum. Taught by Thomas Neil, who is on the staff at Brownell Middle School, the course provides an excellent background to the special summer class in anatomy offered to seventh and eighth graders.

"The prospect of dissecting worms and sharks and frogs in the interests of scientific investigation really fascinates these middle school kids," the personable Mr. Neil commented. "They are tremendously motivated — they almost have to be thrown out to make room for the next group," he added.

Letter Comforts Soldier's Wife

For a young wife whose husband is serving on the battlefields of a foreign nation, thousands of long miles from home, nothing brings more cheer than a letter, especially when that letter comes from her soldier husband's commanding officer.

Such was the case this week for Mrs. Norman Buckler, of 1952 Lennon, whose husband is a member of the U. S. Army's "A" Battery, 2nd Battalion, 35th Artillery, located at an artillery fire-base south of Danang, in South Vietnam. A letter from Specialist Buckler's commanding officer, Captain George W. McGraw, was received by Mrs. Buckler this week. It read: "Dear Mrs. Buckler: I am writing this letter to express my appreciation of the fine performance put forth by your husband, Norm, since he has been assigned to this battery. "Specialist Buckler has been assigned the duties of Computer in the Fire direction Center of the battery. This is a difficult task involving much responsibility as it entails the issuing of fire commands to the howitzers in conducting fire missions. In performing these duties, Specialist Buckler has done extremely well. "Working for long periods of (Continued on Page 2)

Clean-Up Job Nearing End In Park, City

Residents Warned Not To Store Elm Logs For Firewood; Prohibited by State Law

Repercussions from the small tornado, which struck The Pointe, on Wednesday, June 24, ripping down power and phone lines and smashing hundreds of trees, are still being felt and were responsible this week for official warnings from the City and Park, the communities hardest hit by the vicious storm.

"We are warning residents not to store cut-up elm logs because they are natural breeding places for the dread Dutch Elm Beetle," said City Manager Thomas Kressbach and Robert Slone, Park city manager. Both administrators pointed out that many residents, cleaning up after the storm, may decide to use the logs from elm trees destroyed by the small twister as firewood.

Prohibited by Law "There is a state law prohibiting the storage of elm logs," they noted. "Such logs may be stored only if they have been completely debarked, but that is an exacting job and rarely gets done correctly."

"If people are able to successfully debark the logs, they should only allow them to be stored inside, preferably, in a basement," they added. "The elm logs should never be stored outside nor should they be placed in a garage or on an open porch."

Both men pointed out that, in addition to harboring the Dutch Elm Beetle, log piles are often natural habitats for rodents. Rats especially take to wood piles, they claimed. Clean-up operations of the debris left by the wicked storm continued this week in both the City and Park in what was described as the largest such undertaking in many years.

"We are making good progress," reported Slone. "We estimated it would take a month to complete our clean-up and it now looks like we were right on the nose." Kressbach also claimed that the mopping up of storm damages was nearing completion in the City, but that another wind-filled storm, which struck The Pointe on Sunday, July 12, although nowhere near as destructive as the June 24 blow, still managed to knock limbs off trees, originally damaged by the bigger storm. Search for Rapist Of Six-Year-Old Pressed in Woods

Checking and Re-checking of More Than 300 Tips and Leads Narrows Down Field of Suspects; Police Are Optimistic

By Phil Loranger Woods Public Safety Department detectives this week continued to check and recheck the more than 300 tips and leads received from other police departments and private citizens in the Wednesday, June 17, abduction and rape of a six-year-old Woods youngster.

"We have received literally hundreds of tips in the case," said Detective Gerald Kensora. "We appreciate the public concern exhibited by not only residents of The Pointe, but also those of many other communities. We're checking into every one of these tips and none are slipping past us."

While Kensora, Thomas Podaszewicz and Joe Plumb, Woods detectives leading the manhunt for the attacker of the small girl, have not yet made an arrest in the bizarre case, they claim the field of suspects has been well narrowed.

Police Are Optimistic Although sex crime experts claim that the chances of finding the criminal in a crime such as this are slim, Woods police are optimistic. A new dimension was added to the case last week, when Dr. Allan J. Canty, a nationally respected sex crime expert, who directed Detroit's Recorder's Court Psychopathic Clinic for 21 years, volunteered his services to Woods detectives.

"We were particularly pleased that Dr. Canty offered to assist us in this matter," said Donald B. Coats, Woods Director of Public Safety. "We feel strongly that his advice has helped us immeasurably."

Dr. Canty, whose research was directly responsible for the solution of a number of sex crimes in the country, last week sifted through all known clues in the attack and reviewed the list of leading suspects with Woods police officials. Was Forced Into Car The youngster was abducted shortly after leaving the final day of regular classes at Ferry School, in Morningside drive, by a long-haired, heavy-set young man, who forced her into a small black car and drove to the Jefferson Beach Marina, in St. Clair Shores.

He dragged her into a dry-docked cruiser, where he raped her and left her lying after the attack. He fled the scene in his automobile and the youngster, battered and crying, was found wandering along Jefferson avenue by a Birmingham resident, who took her to the home of her parents.

She was admitted to St. John Hospital in serious condition, having sustained a number of injuries during the attack. She has since been released. Reaction Comes Fast The kids crowded around the bottle, waiting for the reaction, which was not long in coming. The pressure from the expanding carbon dioxide inside the bottle, blew the container apart with a loud explosion.

Police said that a large piece of the shattered glass cut a deep gash in one of the older boy's cheek, from the jaw to the temple, exposing bone and teeth. Another piece of glass entered the second 12-year-old's cheek, traveled under the skin, came out and barely missed his left eye. Other Two Luckier The girl and the younger boy were luckier, police said. The girl suffered lacerations about the face from pieces of glass, and the lad, lacerations about the arms and legs.

"What these youngsters did was a very dangerous thing," said Det. Collin LaLonde. "Dry ice is deadly, not only to breath because of its carbon dioxide content, but it can cause injury or worse if it is experimented with as did the four children. Parents should alert their offspring regarding the dangers of playing with this stuff."

Doors of Village Manor To Close on August 28

By Phil Loranger The early-American style doors of the Village Manor, which first opened to hungry customers in June 1946, will close for the last time on Friday, August 28, when Richard and Florence Lehman, the husband-wife proprietor team of the establishment, officially begin their retirement.

The restaurant, which served literally thousands of Pointers over the past 24 years, will be converted into an office building by its new owner, the National Bank of Detroit. "We have had many persons ask us why we are going out of business after all of these years," said Florence. "It is simply a case of wanting to retire and enjoy life and do all those things we have always wanted and wanted to do. "My husband and I have been in this business since 1939 and I'm afraid our feet and legs have just had enough," she told the NEWS. "We have loved every minute of it, but it is time to say good-bye. "It was in 1939 that the Lehmans, both students in the (Continued on Page 5)

All Employees Will Receive Wage Boosts

Becomes First Pointe to Settle with All Departments; Agreements Approved by City Council

Contracts with police, fire and DPW personnel, granting increases in annual salaries and fringe benefits, were approved by the Park council on Monday, July 13, making the Park the first Pointe to settle wage negotiations with all departments. The terms of the contracts, effective as of July 1, will remain in force for two years.

Also effective as of July 1, it was disclosed by City Manager Robert Slone, is a straight eight percent hike in pay for all salaried employees of the administrative staff, including heads of Department. This increase is not contracted, but granted by the council, it was added. It is not subject to a further increase next year.

Under the new police contract, patrolmen will receive $11,200 from July 1 through June 30, 1971, and $12,000 from July 1, 1971 through June 30, 1972. Uniform allowances and overtime pay stay the same.

Where it was required under the old contract that a policeman must have worked in the department for 15 years before he is entitled to three weeks vacation, the new contract states that three weeks be given after 10 years, with a gradual increase in vacation time with additional years worked.

Under the terms of the new contract, police officers will no longer be charged sick leave for injuries incurred while on duty. A new clause, negotiated in the recent talks, has been inserted, whereby the city has agreed to pay one half of the hospitalization costs for retirees, between retirement and eligibility for Medicare for all persons who retire after July 1, 1970.

The firemen were given virtually the same package as the policemen, except in salary. The firefighters will receive $10,900 the first year, and $11,900 the second year. New Clause Added Also, a new clause has been added, which, it was said, conforms with the Federal Hutchinson Act, governing unions. Under this clause, the firemen have been granted an agency shop, whereby every fireman, whether he is a member of the union or not, contributes dues to the Grosse Pointe Park Fire Fighters Association. This is binding on all except the fire chief.

Employees of the Department of Public Works who are on hourly rated pay, have been granted an increase of 38 cents an hour from July 1 through June 30, 1971, and an additional 30 cents an hour from July 1, 1971 through June 30, 1972.

Those DPW employees who are on salary, will receive a 10 percent increase in annual pay for the first year, and seven percent more the second year. Hospitalization Clause City Manager Robert Slone pointed out that the hospitalization cost clause for retirees, for both the firemen and DPW personnel, is the same as that for the policemen.

"On ratifying their contract, the firemen, who filed for compulsory arbitration with the State Labor Board, withdrew their petition," the city manager said. "I am glad we settled with all the city employees concerned, and granted raises to the administrative staff. Now that all matters have been taken care of, we can buckle down to harder work, and more production in the best professional manner for the people of the community."

The Corps of Engineers said that the car can be hazardous to deep-draft boats, which are unlikely to venture that close to the shoreline, but it could certainly be hazardous to water skiers.

It was on December 22, 1969, that Marble was seen traveling east on Jefferson at a high rate of speed by two Park patrolmen, who gave chase. They stopped Marble at Jefferson and Cadieux, but when the officers got out of their scout car and walked toward Marble, the motorist stepped on the gas and drove off at a high speed.

The policemen lost sight of the vehicle, but saw two utility poles down on Lake Shore. They checked the area, Lake Shore and Warner, and saw a man swimming to shore. It was Marble, who had overshot the embankment and was thrown free of the car and into the water.

Marble was taken to Bon Secours Hospital with a broken arm and lacerations about the face and body. He told the officers that he had tried to get away because his license had been revoked by a Detroit judge until January, 1971. Also, he said, he was wanted for violation of parole in Detroit on an assault and battery charge and for a number of outstanding traffic warrants.

Farms authorities said that the reason it took so long for Marble's scheduled appearance July 8, which he apparently ignored, is because he was hospitalized as a result of the broken arm and other injuries, after which he served a sentence imposed by the Park court for reckless driving and fleeing police officers. After this, it was found that the arm bone had not knitted properly, and had to be rebroken and reset.

In the meantime, Marble shifted his residence about the Detroit area, and is now in New Baltimore — maybe.

Check for Fire Hazards, Woods Inspector Advises

A check this week of the log books maintained daily by Pointe fire departments revealed that a growing number of Pointers are falling victims to damaging fires, which could have been prevented with a little forethought and some fire prevention education.

Area firefighters are quick to point out that most fires are caused. They rarely just happen. The logbooks seem to indicate that four factors — all human errors — are most common in house fires. Overloaded circuits, improper maintenance of electrical devices, grease and improper storage procedures have been identified as the villains.

"Residents must realize that only so many items can be plugged in on one circuit," said Russ Allard, Woods public safety officer and fire inspector. "It is one thing to overload a circuit in the first place and yet quite another to overload it with items which require a lot of power to operate."

Allard listed large fans, air conditioners, hair dryers, irons, toasters and devices such as humidifiers and vaporizers among the list of electrical appliances which require massive amounts of power to operate.

"Tie a couple of these things into the same electrical line and you can bet you're going to have problems," he said. "We find that the summer months are especially troublesome because so many persons utilize the services of air conditioners and leave large fans on high speed for long periods of time."

Allard also noted that appliances, like any mechanical devices, require care and maintenance. Faulty electrical equipment is a sure bet to cause fire, if it is ignored. Overhead electric motors are the main headache in this area.

"We have been made aware recently that a great number of fires are being caused by hot grease," Allard continued. "The grease fires can be particularly vexing because they are difficult to extinguish and spread easily."

"When cooking with anything that is grease-oriented, persons should never leave the range," he pointed out. "Grease flares quickly and it has a tendency to stick to surfaces. Do not make the mistake of throwing water on a grease fire because this only spreads the burning grease to other areas of the room. If you run into a grease fire, throw flour or baking soda on it. This cuts off the oxygen and smothers the fire. It is most advisable to always keep fire extinguishers handy for just such purposes."

The improper storage of clothing, boxes and rags was also cited by Allard as a potential fire hazard.

"When combustible items are left in such a condition that no air can circulate around them, fire is a real possibility," he said. "Prior to storing items in a hot attic area, check to make sure that some type of ventilation device is present. Heat build-up in an attic or similar storage area can really cause trouble."

Allard also pointed out that space heaters and fireplaces are often the birthplaces of fires. He urged all residents to seek education into the prevention of fires, calling on them to contact their fire department.

"We would rather instruct persons so that fires can be prevented, than answer fire alarms and witnessing the loss of valuable property or even lives," said Allard.

Learns Lesson The Hard Way

Chris L. Willis, 20, of 815/2ween Mack and Charlevoix, he was stopped for another violation by a Park police officer. Willis was taken to the Park station and charged with operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

Judge Speer, on learning the circumstances resulting in the suspension of Willis' license, sentenced the youth to a term in DeHoCo. There was no fine.

Willis was arraigned in Detroit for a traffic violation which was serious enough to warrant having his operator's license suspended for 30 days. Besides, he was ordered to pay a fine of $50, or serve 10 days in the Detroit lockup. He paid the fine.

CHURCH FOR SALE
ONLY THE RICH NEED APPLY
When Jesus came his message was to the poor and underprivileged.
And yet our Old parishes, churches, schools and centers in the city, empty real estate without life, force us to ask the question—Why would such a needed message not be heard? ... Perhaps it is not there.
Perhaps our churches long ago sold themselves to the rich and lost the purpose of their existence ... the Hope Message of Jesus to the poor.
How can you tell? By the fruit of course.

Thieves Ransack Woods Residence

Thieves ransacked the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers, of 1053 Moorland, on Sunday, July 12, while the couple was vacationing, in a robbery reported to Woods public safety officers by a neighbor.

The neighbor became concerned when she noticed a number of open windows, which had earlier been closed. She told police she knew the Rogers were away and that nobody had been authorized to enter the house.

Police officers found a screen ripped off a window in the southeast section of the home. The thieves had gained entry by sliding open the window.

Investigation revealed that the entire first floor of the home had been ransacked and that the intruders had torn down a set of draperies in gaining their entry.

A metal box containing insurance papers had been pried open by the bandits and a number of other items, including a jewelry box, had been disturbed. Two portable television sets and a rifle were bynassed by the thieves.

A list of missing items will be compiled when the vacationing couple returns, according to Woods detectives.

If your wallet's fat with the wrong things, think First.

You know the story only too well. The pictures of the wife and kids, your driver's license, a library card don't cost you anything. But those wonderful pieces of colored plastic called credit cards — they not only take up a lot of room in your wallet. They also crowd the family budget. An open invitation to impulsive buying. And they make saving money very hard, if not impossible. Maybe that's why so many people with fat wallets have old wallets.

How to get the right things.
It might take some attitude changes on your part. If you really want to save, you'll try taking a couple of those charge cards out of your wallet and putting a little cash in. It's always harder to part with the real thing.

The trick, of course, is getting the cash. And there is an alternative to plastic I.O.U.s. It's called savings. True, it's getting harder all the time. Maybe you're saving in a passbook now, but, perhaps, you've been neglecting your account. Bring us your passbook. We'll help get it active again.

Where to put it when you've got it.
Put it in First Federal Savings of Detroit. Not just because we're nice guys. But because there are good reasons why you should.

The main one, of course, is that we can pay a higher rate of interest. We're allowed to, by law. And we give you our Daily Interest from date of deposit to date of withdrawal. (You don't have to wait for a quarter to begin to start making money, or wait for a quarter to be over to get your money without giving up interest.)

Last year we paid over 30 million dollars in interest to over 200,000 customers. We're the largest savings institution in Michigan — so we've had a lot of experience helping people save money. How can you get started? At First Federal

Savings of Detroit, you can open a regular passbook account for just a dollar. From there, we'll help tailor-make a realistic savings program for you. Or you can save in a Fixed Amount account that encourages you to think of your savings as a bill you pay to yourself every month. (There's a reward for keeping up with your account and we make it easy to with our Save-by-Mail kit.)

We pay you, you don't pay us.
You know what happens when you over-use your charge cards. If you can't quite cover the bills you ran up one month, you pay for the privilege of extending these bills over more months — sort of writing yourself a series of small, but expensive, loans. And that interest goes to someone else. That's silly. At First Federal Savings of Detroit, we pay you. So take a look in your wallet. Is any of that plastic helping you to save? Our paper passbook will.

We can do more for you if you'll think First.

using summer school to get a headstart on next year are eighth graders in the ninth grade civics class taught by Jack Coury.

"Because some want to take a heavier-than-normal schedule in high school, perhaps including band, an extra foreign language, or to concentrate on science, many enroll for the required civics course in the summer," he said.

Mr. Coury, who has been on the schools' staff since 1964, has an undergraduate major in political science and an MA in world history. He is enthusiastic about the progress that his students make.

Has Many Advantages
"I love summer school! With such a small group we get to know each other sooner and we have the advantage of less competition for library materials — and the help of the librarian — when it is needed," he commented.

Mr. Coury said that since the youngsters are taking only one subject, they are "literally married to civics." With all their school time riveted on a single course, (and without the pressure of assignments, tests, readings, and reports in other subjects), the youngsters often accomplish in the large block of time, (four hours), on a single day what it would take four days to cover in the regular year.

The students get individualized, personal attention in class, and under Mr. Coury's direction, engage in a wide range of activities designed to challenge each other. "Students enjoy the 'game' approach," he concluded.

Teaches U.S. History
Another member of the Department of Social Studies who has a summer school assignment along similar lines is Robert Bradley, also of the South High staff. His course, United States History, a required course for eleventh graders, attracts students with motivations similar to those of Mr. Coury's group.

"The year's work has to be more concentrated in the six-week session than during the year," Mr. Bradley said. He added that he employs a seminar method, much independent study, and considerable library work to assist his students, (whom he describes as "highly motivated"), in accomplishing the goals of the course.

A far cry from the traditional chronological approach often used in teaching history, Mr. Bradley organizes the subject around six meaningful themes: Political and Social Democracy, Political Parties, Cultural History, Foreign Policy, Economic History, and Ideologies.

Likes Experiments
As flexible in his approach to his subject as he is well-qualified, he is a staunch advocate of exploring new avenues of instruction. As if to demonstrate his philosophy, he said, "I throw away my lesson plan book at the end of every year. A fresh start always provides me with new insights that I think improve my teaching," he said.

Mr. Bradley, a Grosse Pointe teacher since 1958, is also highly qualified for his assignment. With many hours of university credit beyond his MA in history, he spent a year in Denmark on a Fulbright teaching program in a University preparatory school. His regular load at South includes Humanities and history.

Whatever a youngster's goal might be in the summer program offered this year by The Grosse Pointe Public School System, he has undoubtedly found well-organized courses taught by highly competent and professionally dedicated teachers in all areas.

BATTERY DISAPPEARS

Mrs. Thomas Sullivan contacted Woods Public Safety Officers on Wednesday, July 8, to report that somebody had stolen a battery from the family car, which was parked overnight in the driveway of her home, at 987 Sunningdale drive. The battery was discovered missing in the early morning hours.

Thief Picks Up Jewelry, Bicycle

Mrs. Anna P. Norris, 237 Lakeland, called City police on Wednesday, July 8, to report the theft of jewelry from her home on Tuesday, July 7.

On that date, Mrs. Norris left the house in the morning leaving her laundress in charge of her small child and the house. As she left, Mrs. Norris left the back door ajar. The laundress was working in the basement. Apparently during that time, thieves entered the home, went to Mrs. Norris' upstairs bedroom and removed a travel case, one yellow sports watch, valued at $200, two pairs of yellow gold earrings, valued at $150, one yellow gold wedding band, valued at $75, on yellow gold domed ring, valued at $125 and a gold bracelet valued at $75. Mrs. Norris told officers she noticed the jewelry was missing when she arrived home the evening of July 8. Also missing was a child's large-wheeled bicycle.

Police are investigating.

Doors to Close Last Time

(Continued from Page 1) Lehmans feel that their rigorous schedule — the restaurant operates seven days a week and is closed only two days a year — is simply too much for them to continue handling. "We averaged serving about 500 customers daily in our two dining rooms," Florence pointed out. "In fact, on Sunday, July 12, we served 664 meals." Most of the meals served at the Manor came from Florence's own recipe book and many became traditional among Pointers. The Lehmans pointed out that the restaurant had a staff of 65 employees, most of whom will remain in the business at other establishments, and that the carry-out service located in the lobby was responsible for nearly a third of the business. "Our main concern throughout our 24 wonderful years here was to be of service to the community," said Florence. "We wanted to serve meals that were as close to 'home-style' as possible and we think we accomplished that goal. "We stayed quite active in community affairs and we were loyal members of the Grosse Pointe Civic and Commerce Association," she continued. "We have really made a lot of close friends through the restaurant and have met some wonderful persons. In fact, on a recent trip through the Orient, we met 11 persons who were steady customers. "We are sad that we have to close down, but, on the other hand, we are looking forward to buying a trailer and playing the role of gypsies, traveling through the country at a leisurely pace, coming and going as we please." Come the 28th day of August, countless Pointers will begin missing an old friend and, somehow, the community just won't be the same without the Village Manor.

Burglars Visit Service Station

City officers, making a night routine check of business places on Sunday, July 12, discovered that Joe's Service Station, 17800 Mack avenue, had been entered and burglarized. Patrolmen Richard Lanski and Virgil Beaupre said while checking doors during the dark hours of the night, they found the glass of the left-front overhead door of the gas station broken, and checked the interior of the building. They discovered that the place had been ransacked. The owner of the station, Joseph Ferris of 22416 Euclid, St. Clair Shores, was called, and he arrived to take inventory. Ferris said that all he could detect was missing was a green cloth, zippered bag containing $93. Usually the things that seem too good to be true are not.

Meeting Slated By School Board

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education will meet in special session at 8 p.m. on Monday, July 20, in the Board Room of the schools' Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue. The trustees are expected to approve account payable and to act on routine personnel recommendations of Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools. Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, president of the Board of Education, will chair the meeting. Interested citizens are invited to attend.

Students up to and including collegians are welcome at the classic film comedy series at Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Friends Auditorium Thursday, July 16, and July 23 at a special student price of $1. On July 16, a top collection of Chaplin, Keaton, Laurel and Hardy, Langdon and Turpin will be shown along with two W. C. Fields greats — "California Bound" and "The Great McGonigle". July 23 will be all W. C. Fields classics made for Mack Sennett including "The Barber-shop", "The Pharmacist", "The Fatal Glass of Beer", "The Golf Specialist" and "The Dentist". Collegians may gather from 10 to 11:30 at the free coffee house in the basement of Alger House following the flicks for refreshment, music and companionship. The film comedies are open to everyone of all ages.

PURSE SNATCHED Karen Van Buskirk, of 1976 Anita, told Woods public safety officers on Tuesday, June 1, that somebody had taken her purse from her unlocked car while it was parked in the lot at the Onassis Concy Island Restaurant. The purse contained $8.

Casey Accepts Top Drive Post

E. Paul Casey of Rathbone place, president and chief operating officer of McCord Corp., has been appointed to a top post in the 1970 Torch Drive.

He will serve as chairman of the general manufacturing unit, one of six major chapter groups which traditionally account for more than 90 percent of the total raised in the annual United Foundation drive.

Casey was appointed by the newly named chapter campaigns chairman, Gilbert P. Richards, of Bloomfield Hills, president and general manager of the Budd Co.'s Automotive Division.

"I am pleased this outstandingly able leader will assume a most vital campaign assignment," Richards said. "His knowledge and experience will be invaluable."

Casey, who is married and has five daughters, is a group chairman of the general manufacturing unit in the 1969 UP campaign.

He followed a family tradition when he joined Davidson Rubber Co., a McCord division, in 1955. His mother was the company chief executive from 1928 to 1961 succeeding her father, A. M. Paul, who acquired the business in 1905.

A native of Boston, Casey is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and holds a bachelor of arts degree from Yale University and a master's from Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

He moved into his present position with McCord in 1965 after serving as vice president and later president of Davidson.

He is a director of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, the Engineering Society of Detroit, the Michigan United Fund and the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair.

He is a trustee of the Traffic Safety for Michigan and Miss Hall's School, Pittsfield, Mass., and a member of the Young Presidents of America, the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Automotive Engineers Council of the Motor and Equipment Manufacturers Association.

SELF-HONESTY

It's better to be mistaken and own up than it is to blindly continue on the same course.

Father Defends Leo Miserendino

Leo Miserendino was serving as an intern trainee with the Education Office, of the U.S. Government's Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) until Saturday, July 11. Now he is looking for a new job.

It seems that Leo, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Miserendino, of 822 Cantorbury, was fired from his position after he showed slides described as "revolutionary and atrociously obscene" to a group of 250 summer interns, during a regular weekly program. The slides received their "revolutionary" and "obscene" labels in articles carried by Detroit's two major daily newspapers.

"That just wasn't the case," said Leo's father. "The true story of what happened was carried in full by the Washington Post newspaper and made the firing incident appear to be rather petty."

The elder Miserendino claimed that his son presented a combined film-slide documentary to the interns, which included a series of slides showing groups of youthful protestors marching in front of the White House in recent Washington, D.C. demonstration, opposing the Vietnam War.

"One of the slides showed students carrying placards, which bore messages directed at President Nixon and his daughter, Tricia," he said. "The placards bore their names and a four-letter word in front of each. The show was by no means revolutionary or atrociously obscene. I sincerely doubt that Leo even knew about those slides."

"He didn't screen them prior to showing them to the interns and, if his superiors screened them as they should have done, they failed to notice the message on the placards or just let them go through," he claimed.

The papers made the younger Miserendino appear to be serving in an executive position, which is not true, the father claimed.

"He only made $110 per week and he didn't even take the slides that were shown," he said. "In fact, HEW released the entire film-slide documentary. Perhaps, if Leo had knowledge of the slides, he exercised poor judgment in showing them, but he is not a revolutionary in any sense of the word."

Leo, an English major at Oakland University, carries an above-average mark in his grades and was recommended for the position by the University along with another student. He got the job.

In addition to his work with the U.S. Office of Education, he has also been working on a study, assigned by Oakland University, on the equal opportunity of women in government.

"I feel that Leo has been made a scapegoat for somebody else," said Miserendino. "No matter what happened, the Detroit papers pre-judged the case and I feel that many readers may have done the same thing. It's a shame."

Terms for Fraud Youth Gets Jail

Michael Shammass, 17, of 653 Middlesex, was found guilty of larceny by conversion of less than $100, following a hearing held before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer, on Monday, July 6. The youth was sentenced to 10 days in the Wayne County Jail, and to six months probation, during which time he is to pay court costs of $25.

Shammass, according to authorities, was in the Dobb House, an eating place at Jefferson and Westchester on Saturday, July 4, where he is fairly regular patron, when he overheard a waitress mention the need of more change in the cash register.

The young man volunteered his services, and the woman gave him $15 in currency to convert into change from an adjacent gas station. Shammass took the bills and never returned. Police were called.

Another patron in the place at the time Shammass was handed the money, who knew the youth, gave officers Shammass' name and home address.

On Sunday, July 5, Shammass was seen and recognized at the Windmill Pointe Park, and taken into custody by Park policemen and held for arraignment before Judge Speer on a larceny warrant.

GROSSE POINTE FARMS Majors
In a previously unreported game, on June, Monday, 29, the Reds defeated the Giants 5-1, in a well pitched game by Brian Cammett, who fanned 10 and added a double and a single to his team's cause. Boydell had a double for the Giants.
On Saturday, July 4, the American League managed by John Case, overpowered the Nationals managed by Raoul Palffy. The 8-4 score indicates the strong 12-hit attack of the Americans' 12-year-olds. The Nationals got only six hits. Part of the difference was that the Nationals were saving their three outstanding pitchers for the championship playoffs to follow. The hitters for the Americans included Bob Trombly, Tom Griffith, Russ Viet, Tim Corbett, Mark Osborn, Chuck Murphy, Dave Case, Jim Adams and Brad McKee. Griffith, Corbett, Osborn and McKee had doubles and McKee added a triple. Murphy and Osborn had two for two, and McKee two in three trips. Dick Borland had two for four and Brian Cammett had three doubles in four at bats, for the Nationals. Rick Speer had a single.
The battery of Case and Murphy allowed the Nationals two hits and no runs and had seven strikeouts. Dave Case was the striking pitcher. Jeff Thiede pitched to Curt Pruett giving up only one hit and one run, striking out six in three innings. Russ Viet and his catcher Murphy allowed three hits and three runs in two innings. Tom Griffith and Murphy shut out the Nationals in the ninth. Bob Boydell allowed four hits and one run and was tagged with the loss. His catcher was John Langel. Jim Marshall allowed six hits and seven runs in his stint. Joe Ferry and catcher Karl Carolyn gave up two hits, but held the Americans scoreless for three innings. The Americans pitcher's 22 strikeouts and the teams 378 hitting clip was the difference today. It was a great finale.
On Monday, July 6, the Giants and Reds met in the Major League Championship Playoff. The Giants came out hitting and scored three times in the top of the first. The Reds evened the score at three all, but the Giants took the lead again to stay. The final score was 9-5. The game featured two homers

The Park World Series opened with the Giants' pitcher, Patzer, opposing Oriole pitcher, Lauth. The final score was 11-3 Orioles. The Orioles broke a close, well-played game wide open in the fourth inning, sending 10 batters to the plate and scoring six runs on a double by Matthews, a homer by Gough and a two run homer by Joe George. They threatened again in the fifth, but an unassisted double play kept them off the score board. They added four more in the sixth to end the scoring. Other Oriole hits were by Peterson, Matthews, Wyborski and Van Tongeren. Patzer and Forbes and a double by Michaels, Howard relieved Patzer in the sixth and struck out both batters he faced.
The second game saw the game with a single by Kiska, followed by a home run by Pollina, off Oriole starting pitcher Gough. The Oriole's came back with one run, on a walk to Fikany off pitcher Chaplow, and a single by Herndon, off pitcher Michaels. The Giants picked up three more in the fourth and it looked like a tied series until the bottom of the sixth, when the Orioles scored four runs on singles by Wyborski and Peterson a double by Lauth and a single by Fikany to tie the score and send the game into extra innings.
Matthews, pitching for the Orioles, gave up four runs to the Giants on singles by Forbes and Patzer and again it looked like they had the game well in hand, but in the bottom of the seventh with Giant pitcher Owens on the mound, two runs in, one out and two men on base, on an error and a single by Nihem, Dave Lauth hit a booming home run over the left field fence to give the Orioles a 10-9 win and the World Series crown, ending a tense exciting game.

D'you Know That?

According to the dictionary, the word CROOK has two meanings. One is defined as the "Twisted part of a thing," the other as, "Any one of the criminal class—a swindler."

The latter definition comes to us from a word coined by the Chicago Tribune in 1879. It was meant to compare a criminal to the links of twisted rail-fences, popular at that time.

The term caught on, but the meaning escaped us. Today we straighten out crooks by just letting them be. When they get rich enough—they'll straighten out on their own.

Public Schools in Focus

Having devoted recent columns to a review of student honors and recognition for 1969-70, I would like to bring residents' attention to other activities of their public schools for the year we have just ended.

Significant Events: North High School was dedicated on February 22 with a speech by Governor William Milliken. The Performing Arts Center, completed last fall, began serving its purpose as a cultural center for the School System and the community. A two-year contract was settled with the teaching staff in October.

A chapter of the National Honor Society has been established at North High School. Grosse Pointe Schools assisted in the first year of operation of the Wayne County Community College by leasing 10 rooms at North High for use in the evening. A comprehensive self-study involving the entire staff and administration of South High led to accreditation being renewed by the North Central Association. The Drug Survey conducted by the Department of Instruction gained wide recognition and has led to improvement of drug education programs throughout the system.

Building Improvements: At South High School, replacement of the building's original lockers and floor covering will continue on the second floor. Mairre School boilers were replaced at a cost of approximately $95,000. Richard boilers will be replaced this summer.

Instruction Area: The elementary schools have begun responding to the need of a formalized reading program in grades 4, 5, and 6. Mairre School parents have been privileged to receive a detailed newsletter from their principal, The Curriculum Communicator, describing practices and innovative programs in their school. Among programs described was Mairre's kindergarten program which provides individualized instruction.

Flexibility and individualized instruction have increased in the Middle Schools. Parcels completed an experiment using the language laboratory in the teaching of spelling. The program of English electives available at the high school level is a highly significant addition to the curriculum.

Interdisciplinary teaching has characterized the Humanities courses; for example, science teachers at South High School have worked in concert with the Humanities instructors. The Drug Survey has led to the development of a program of drug education in cooperation with other community agencies. The computer math program has been extended to North High School. An experimental program in computer math is offered this summer for children in grades 5-8.

Concern for ecology has been reflected in countless instructional activities. The Department of Instruction has developed a series of in-service training courses for teachers which are taught by our own teachers and which give participating staff members professional credit. The Department of Pupil Personnel sponsored workshops on drug abuse and on language disorders.

But these items tell only part of the story. Even this incomplete summary will indicate to the taxpayers of Grosse Pointe at least a small measure of the progress that we have made in 1969-70 in the public schools.

Letters to the Editor

July 9, 1970
 Dear Mr. Edgar:
 I would like to thank you and especially Mrs. Whitelaw for the recent article (June 25) regarding the new Occupational Educational Program being offered at North High School.

Mrs. Whitelaw did an excellent job in explaining the program to the readers.

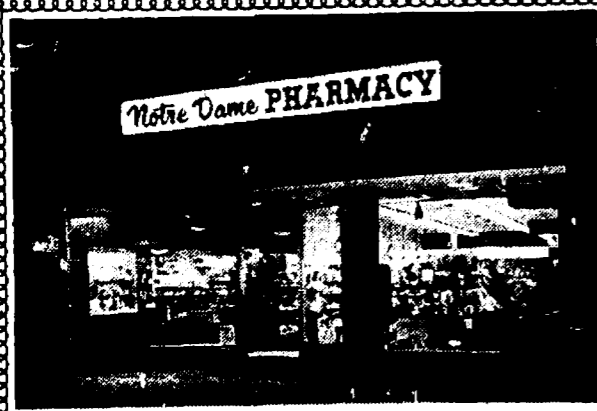

We are hoping that the community will come forward in support of a long-needed program, which will be of much service to the students, the school and the whole community.

Thank you,
 Sincerely yours,
 Tony Spadafora,

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Webster's dictionary defines "ecology" as follows: "Biology dealing with the mutual relations between organisms and their environment; bionomics." President Nixon's pledge to dedicate the decade of the 70's to wiping out environmental pollution, has certainly increased interest in everyone concerning this subject. And what better way to keep up than to read the newspapers, periodicals and books which contain material on ecology and which are proliferating almost faster than one can keep up.

One of the most recent volumes is THE ENVIRONMENTAL HANDBOOK, edited by Garrett de Bell, and prepared for the first National Environmental Teach-In. Since the 1970's seems to be our last chance for a future that makes ecological sense, this handbook, (a collection of articles), is important in that it focuses on some of the major problems of our deteriorating environment, explains the nature of ecology, and — most importantly — suggests action that can be taken right now in any community, by any individual.

Here is its opening paragraph: "In 1969 the United States woke up to the fact that the richest country in the world is in the middle of an environmental crisis. We said good-bye to pelicans, realized that the ubiquitous automobile was the cause of smog and of the Santa Barbara oil slick, and meditated on the fact that our burgeoning multiplicity of air conditioners, clothes dryers and other aids to gracious living meant another ugly power plant. Mother's milk, we were told, wasn't fit to drink."

Another paperback is ECOTACTICS, a Sierra Club handbook for environmental activists and containing an introduction by Ralph Nader. Most of the contributors to this survey are young and speak with vigor on the immediate need to develop "a science of arranging forces in action against enemies of the earth." (This quotation represents, according to the editor, the definition for "ecotactics.")

Another book on air pollution is WITH EVERY BREATH YOU TAKE by Howard Lewis (1965). It discusses the poisons of air pollution, how they are injuring our health, and what we must do about them and is strikingly illustrated with photographs. (Other volumes on this subject would be THIS VITAL AIR, THIS VITAL WATER, by Thomas Aylesworth and is in our Juvenile collection, as well as Lucy Kavalier's DANGEROUS AIR.)

Then we also have the problem of water pollution. One book in this category is Donald Barr's DEATH OF THE SWEET WATERS (1966). Here, a chemical consultant on petroleum refining processes discusses the water problem in the United States, with particular reference to pollution. Another, by Frank Graham is DISASTER BY DEFAULT: POLITICS AND WATER POLLUTION. The author cites the ingredients in the situation which permits Americans to obtain their drinking water from rivers and streams into which people dump their waste. You might also want to read PETER BRIGGS' WATER: THE VITAL ESSENCE, or WATER CRISIS (1967) edited by George Nikolaief.

"How Decorators Live" . . . was a very interesting article by Anita Porter in June McCall's. It featured Jack Tarpley who has been with William Denler & Company for twelve years. Miss Porter writes "As the seasons change in Grosse Pointe, Michigan, so does his home. He plans this sort of dual decor for his clients, too. Tarpley doesn't simply concentrate on how the way a house or room should and will look . . . he plans the area for its livability, too. This time of year he changes from his winter entertaining scheme to his summer one. He abandons his formal dining room and Julia Child's cookbook, and switches to the back yard patio (there's a hooded spit hidden away behind a cluster of plants) and James Beard's 'Outdoor Cooking.' It's obvious that in entertaining, as well as decorating, Jack Tarpley is Detroit's man for all seasons."

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Feel a sudden mid-July spurt of energy? How about cleaning out the library—and DON'T throw all those unwanted books away!

You may not want them . . . but the Grosse Pointe Branch, American Association of University Women, does.

Books, books and more books, paperbacks and hardcovers, out-of-date atlases, records, games, sheet music and magazines urgently needed by Pointe AAUW for its Eighth Annual Used Book Sale.

The Sale's not 'til fall of course, slated to open to the public Tuesday, October 13, and continue through Friday, the 16th—for the fourth consecutive year it will be presented at the Unitarian Church Annex in Maumee avenue—but summer's an awfully good time for sorters and pricers to get busy "doing their thing."

Besides, come autumn, we'll all be too busy doing a multitude of things to even THINK ABOUT cleaning out the library.

So let's all get just a little busy now . . . "We need every kind of book," says Mrs. Leo P. Hardwick, of University place, general Sale chairman, "fiction and non-fiction, children's stories, travel and reference volumes, texts . . ."

"No donation is too big or too small," echo collection chairmen Mrs. Robert E. Baton, of Brys drive, Mrs. Donald Hunter, of Willow Tree place, and Mrs. James Zick, of St. Clair Shores.

The books will be collected all summer long, in any quantity, from donors' doors, at donors' convenience. Numbers to call for pick-up are 884-6113, 886-1891, 777-2856 or 886-0707.

Among Pointe AAUW members already at work collecting and sorting donated materials are Mrs. John MacKav, Mrs. Charles S. Stroad, Mrs. David C. Neal, Mrs. Norman W. Gehlhar, Mrs. Edward R. Hahn, Mrs. Robert F. Bogau, Mrs. Russell Sears, Mrs. John Moran, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Fred E. Rector and Mrs. Arthur T. Bersey.

This sale, by the way, is a double-benefit project, offering excellent reading to Pointers at greatly reduced prices and—more importantly—support to the AAUW Fellowship Fund which provides monetary aid for college women engaged in graduate studies and research.

Center Slates 'Movie-Rock'

The next Monday night Movie Rock staged by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Youth Council on July 20 in air conditioned Fries Auditorium features a very timely film "The Poppy is Also a Flower" with Angie Dickenson, E. G. Marshall and Trevor Howard. The movie will begin at 7:30.

Again, students who do not want to give their attention to the movie are asked not to come until 9:15 at which time people are admitted to the ballroom for the rock 'n roll dance. This way, those truly interested in the movie can enjoy it without interference.

At the rock 'n roll dance beginning at 9:30 in the ballroom following the movie, two great bands will play. The feature band is one brand new to the community but with a great name from Pointers who've heard them. It is "Ever Lon—Never More". The break band will be the popular local "Sun Kist".

The entire evening including full length feature film and two great bands for dancing afterward is offered for just $1.25 by tickets purchased in advance at the Center's office. Admission is 25c more at the door. ID is required both at time of ticket purchase and when coming to the Movie Rock.

Symphony in February of 1968 and recorded shortly afterward. Miss Dobbs and Mr. Justus will sing selections from the works of Rossini, Verdi, Puccini, Gershwin and Romberg.

of Christ Church is another group that has already turned its thoughts toward fall activities. In fact, the joint council of the two organizations has planned enough varied meetings to keep members busy this month marking their calendars.

On Tuesday, September 15, the ECW and YEW gals will catch up on each other's summer news at a tea in the Lakecrest lane home of Mrs. Anthony Vinci. A bus trip through the city on October 20 will allow the members to visit several places which they support through money made at the traditional Christ Church Fair. The latter, by the way, is set to take place Thursday, November 19, and is guaranteed to keep the Christ Church women on the go for the month. On December 15 they will relax a bit at a Christmas party and carol sing.

State Senator Lorraine Beebe will speak before the two groups on January 12 and on February 16 United States Representative Martha Griffiths will talk on the relationship of Grosse Pointe to the city of Detroit. A Lenten program will be conducted March 16 by the Reverend Mr. Arnold Fenton . . . and although programs are being planned for April 20 and May 17 the program council is working on the final items before it announces their details.

The busy details, by the way, who've been plotting the coming year's course for the ECW and YEW are: Mrs. Anthony Vinci, Mrs. Richard Beadle, Mrs. Albi Ricca, Mrs. Richard Childress and Mrs. Boyd Horne.

Guests attending the 6 to 9 o'clock party will stroll about the beautiful lawn at Ranger House, dance on the terrace overlooking Lake St. Clair, and enjoy gourmet delicacies.

Mrs. William F. Dreva is chairman of the July Jubilee and her co-chairman is Mrs. Florence E. Sisman. Among those planning to attend are: Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colombo, Mr. and Mrs. William Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Januarius A. Mullen, Mr. and Mrs. Terry W. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Hester and Mr. and Mrs. David Gamble. Come rain or come shine, Friday evening's party is bound to be a jubilant one on the Grosse Pointe Symphony a grateful beneficiary.

For the 11 o'clock rites at which Father John E. Nader C.S.S.P. officiated the bride selected a floor length gown of white organza accented with Venise lace bands.

A small band of matching lace with stephanotis accents caught her silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet, designed by her mother, of lillies, baby's breath, stephanotis and ivy.

Honor maid Mary Niederost, the bridegroom's sister, and bridesmaids Susan Meier and Mary Anne Clare, the bride's cousin, wore sleeveless frocks of brown voile, their necklines and hems bordered with white schiffli embroidery, and pink Sweetheart roses in their hair.

They carried baskets filled with pink Sweetheart roses, pink miniature carnations and baby's-breath. Best man was Thomas Bishop. Ushering were Charles Gums, Frederick Wirth, Richard Murray and Bruce Clare, the bride's cousin.

The mother of the bride selected a dress and coat ensemble of white schiffli embroidery on pink nylon and an Amazon lily corsage accented with pink ribbon.

The bridegroom's mother chose a pale yellow nylon costume and an Amazon lily corsage with yellow ribbon. MR. and MRS. WILLIAM J. 21st Annual UF Meeting Pays Tribute to Reuther

The United Foundation dedicated its recent 21st annual meeting to the memory of Walter P. Reuther, UAW International Union president who died in a plane crash early in May.

Nearly 500 captains of business and industry gathered in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel Ballroom for the meeting honoring the labor leader who served continuously as a UF vice president and director after helping found the world's foremost fund-raising organization in 1949.

It was the first time in UF history that a meeting had been dedicated to anyone's memory, according to Wendell W. Anterson Jr., of Preston place, board chairman, who read the tribute prepared by UF officers.

"The UF could not have been born nor would it have thrived as it has without the support of Mr. Reuther and the membership of the UAW," the resolution stated.

It listed the UF as "one of the countless living monuments" left by the UAW president and termed his 21-year service to the fund raising organization as "constructive, devoted, vital and dedicated."

Anderson, president of Bundy Corp., presided at the meeting at which the UF re-elected its top officers and named two vice presidents, 12 directors, 16 advisory board members, four executive committee members and six to the Capital Fund Division.

Anderson also introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Charles W. Nick, director of the national program on drug dependence and abuse of the American Social Health Association, a Torch Drive service.

The speaker served as a consultant on narcotics to the U.S. Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency and research director of the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Narcotics. He also is a founding director of the National Advisory Council on Narcotics.

In his message, UF President Thomas F. Morrow, of Vendome road, Chrysler Corp. group vice president, lauded the 1969 Torch Drive team headed by William S. Blakeslee, of Warner road, for raising the world record total of $30.6 million for the nearly 200 UF services.

Blakeslee is a Chrysler vice president and group executive.

President Morrow also praised the work of the UF special study committee headed by Joseph L. Hudson Jr., of Ridge road, president of the J. L. Hudson Co.

"Its overall goal," he said, "is to appraise and improve the relationships between the UF and its contributors, its agencies and those who benefit most directly from the agency services."

Morrow said the committee expects to complete its report by the end of this year and offer recommendations relating to three subcommittees, priorities, fund raising and geographical expansion.

Other speakers included the 1970 Torch Drive general chairman, John J. Nevin, vice president, marketing, Ford Motor Co. and UF Executive Vice President Jacques Cousin.

Cousin credited the UF with being a unifying and stabilizing force in the community.

"Make no mistake," he said, "Your UF is still the object of nationwide praise and envy, not only for dollars raised, but for its imagination and initiative."

But, he said, the UF must be increasingly aware of developing needs, new aspirations and new ways of doing things.

"I hope, however," Cousin continued, "that we will never lose touch of the need to care about results and that we will always try to spend the contributor's dollar as wisely as we know how."

"In the world of social work some problems are hard to define; progress in some areas is very difficult to measure; emotionalism is easily generated, and there's never enough money."

"Establishing priorities is a difficult and thankless task where the variables depend on so many factors beyond our control," Cousin added, "and I see the tendency of some to scrap old programs, junk existing institutions and generally raise hell without substituting a sound alternative."

Cousin called the UF "a complex human machine" which, to remain healthy and flourish, depends on the active participation of top corporate officials, labor officials and the "vibrant and insistent new leadership with which this town is blessed."

Officers re-elected with Anderson and Morrow include Max M. Fisher, financier, and Bonson Ford, of Lakeshore road, vice-president and chairman of Dealer Policy Board, Ford Motor Co., honorary chairman of the board.

Also, Edward N. Cole, president, General Motors Corp., and Ralph T. McElvenny, of Cloverly road, president, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Newly elected UF vice presidents are Richard H. Austin, vice chairman, Wayne County Board of Auditors, and Oscar A. Lundin, executive vice president, finance, General Motors Corp.

Named to the board of directors are Earl R. Bramblett, vice president, personnel, General Motors; Frank A. Colombo, vice president and general manager, the J. L. Hudson Co.; Malcolm L. Denise, vice president, labor relations, Ford Motor Co.; G. R. Elges, vice president and general manager, Cadillac Motor Car Division, General Motors.

Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs; Lundin; Samuel E. McArthur, president and board chairman, Federal Mogul; Donald H. Parsons, board chairman, Bank of the Commonwealth; Irving Rose, president, Advance Mortgage; R. L. Terrell, group vice president, General Motors; Kenneth J. Whalen, president, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and Mrs. Delford G. Williams Jr., of Detroit.

Additions to the advisory board include Jay W. Allen, vice president and secretary, Allen Industries; Mrs. Eugene J. Arnfeld, of Detroit; Warren Mayor Ted Bates; Jerome P. Cavanagh, former Detroit mayor; Ed Davis, president, Ed Davis Inc.; Don F. DeGroot, general manager, WWJ Radio and Television Stations; Mrs. Esther Edwards, vice president, Motown Records.

Edward J. Giblin, president, Ex-Cell-O Corp.; David Harper, president, First Independence National Bank; Robert H. Kresge, of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Paul E. Krause, Detroit; John B. Olson, general manager, the Detroit Free Press; Charles H. Park Jr., vice president, Radio Station WBBB; Fred W. Parker Jr., president, North American Rockwell Corp.; Mrs. Robert F. Sullivan, of Grosse Pointe, and Dr. Charles H. Wright, Detroit physician.

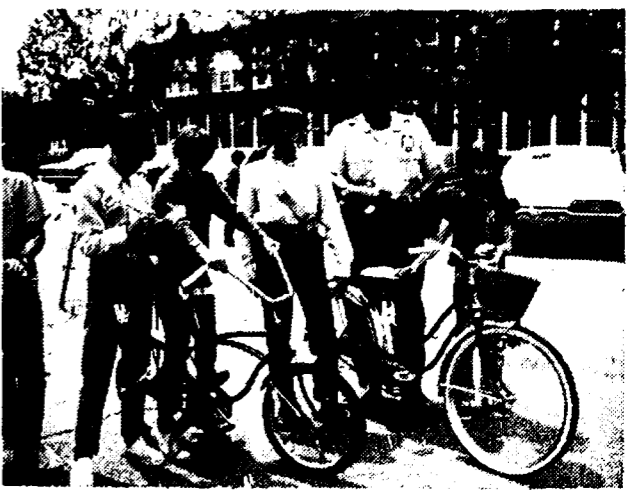

New board members Lundin and Mrs. Williams were added to the executive committee with Roland A. Mewhort, board chairman, Manufacturers National Bank, and Dr. Austin Smith, president and board chairman, Parke-Davis & Co.

Appointed to the Capital Fund Division Committee were Lundin; MacArthur; Harry B. Cunningham, president and board chairman, S. S. Kresge Co.; Charles T. Fisher III, executive vice president, National Bank of Detroit; U.S. Court of Appeals Judge Wade H. McCree Jr., and Alan E. Schwartz, Honigman, Miller, Schwartz & Cohn.

Bicycle Check for Safety

Safety Patrol boys at Montith School assisted Woods School Safety Officer Steve Petrik recently in the final stages of the Woods police department's annual bicycle safety inspection program, which was conducted at schools throughout the community. Petrik and fellow officers, Russ Allard and Dave McQueen, checked nearly 2,000 of the two-wheelers and gave out 426 new bike licenses. In addition to the actual inspections, the officers showed safety films and reviewed the Woods bicycle ordinance with the youngsters. They also gave away 110 special prizes during the inspection program, most of which were donated by the Kiwanis Club and the Woods Lions organization.

The total state and local government payroll is more than $187,275,000 each month in Michigan.

The net total of bank assets in Michigan exceeds $10,660,000,000, placing it seventh in the country.

Farms Has 1970 Census Blanks

Farms residents who have not filled out their 1970 Federal census forms, for one reason or another, can still do so by picking up a census blank from the Farms Municipal Building, 90 Kerby road, it was disclosed by City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr.

Their poetry was selected by Lee Bennett Hopkins, editor of Children's Scholastic News Explorer from a number of poems submitted to him on big city topics and published as a hard-bound book entitled "City Talk."

Why Marstiller, Pepper and Timm may one day become as popular as Stein and Browning. Read their poetry and see if you don't agree.

Disposable Heart Pump

A simple, inexpensive plastic heart pump which can be used once during surgery and thrown away was demonstrated by its inventor recently at the American Medical Association annual meeting in Chicago.

Engineer Bert C. Prisk, of 776 South Rosedale, Grosse Pointe Woods, of the General Motors Research Laboratories in Warren, Mich., added a blood pump section to a standard plastic bubble oxygenator, which is a device that takes over the function of the lungs during an operation.

This was accomplished by heat-sealing two additional thermoplastic sheets to the arterial return conduit of the oxygenator. This modification forms a pumping chamber with valves at opposite ends to prevent the backward flow of blood.

Pulses of compressed air collapse the chamber walls, thus "milking" blood rhythmically from the chamber and into the patient in a manner similar to that of normal heart action, according to Mr. Prisk.

A principal advantage of the device is its reduction of blood priming volume due to the elimination of an external heart pump. In addition, the attending technician easily can adjust pumping volume and rate.

Animal tests at Michigan State University indicate that GM's pump sharply reduces damage to blood cells and is more compatible with the vascular system than conventional heart pumps.

With Mr. Prisk at the AMA's Scientific Exhibit were Dr. Aran S. Johnson, of 642 Blairmoor, a Detroit heart surgeon, and Dr. George E. Eyster, and Dr. John Dickason, on the staff of Michigan State University. All three assisted in the development and testing of the

Pointe Horse Show A Winner This Year

Nene Henkel Outrides 75 Competitors to Take American Horse Show Association Hunter Seat Medal Class

Eddie, the resident goat at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, never had it so good. Recently he played host to some of the country's handsomest and most expensive horseflesh and to some of its most competent riders, (including scores of lean, tanned young ladies), at the 59th Annual Grosse Pointe Horse Show. And Mr. Ed got in a few licks to prove he loved them all.

Wednesday, June 17, first day of the show, was a rouser. Storms hit twice in the afternoon, with mthball-size hail, psychedelic lightning, super rock and roll thunder.

There were two lightning strikes on the grounds and show steward Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., was jarred by one of them. Ed Peabody, another show official, took off his shoes, rolled his pants to the knees and waded into the deepening flood to keep an important drain open with his big toe.

The cocktail party for exhibitors and committee was held by candlelight Wednesday evening at the Clubhouse—electric power had been knocked out by the storm. Those who stayed on for dinner ate from paper plates: No power, no dishwasher.

Mrs. Harold S. Rounds was one of the happier grandmothers around as she watched granddaughter Nene Henkel, age 18, outride 75 competitors from the midwest and east to take the AHSA (American Horse Show Association) Hunter Seat Medal Class, a really big blue for a fine junior rider.

Nene's picture was in a recent edition of the "Chronicle," national horse magazine, for winning the ASPCA class at the spring Bloomfield show.

Another happy blue winner was Miss Peggy Flinn, of Newberry place, whose "Lady Kiev" was ridden to glory in the Second Year Green Working Hunter Class by Betty Queen, of Metamora.

The Grosse Pointe Show is always a magnet for former junior riders

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB TENNIS INSTRUCTOR STEPHANIE PRYCHITKO

By Janet Mueller

The third time they act up she tells them to go home. Come back, she advises, tomorrow — if you're ready to play tennis.

Miss P would. Here's a lady who expects a lot from kids, whose expectations include, besides performance, self-discipline and good manners.

Here's a lady who gets what she expects. "I think," she says, "kids today are really very good, much better than they were even two or three years ago."

Stephanie Prychitko refuses to underestimate the younger generation. "It's because you're concerned about them that you discipline them, not because you don't like them. And they know that."

Have Fun Learning But FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE don't get the idea that Miss P's tennis classes are something out of a World War II prison camp movie. This is summer, the Tennis Clinic's a voluntary activity, the boys and girls, (and men and women: Adults have their Tennis Clinic classes too — and none of them has EVER been sent home), are out there on the courts because they want to learn to play tennis AND because they're having a good time learning.

Otherwise, why go? Fact is: You can't stop them coming and learning and having fun learning. You couldn't stop Stephanie either. She's one of Jean Hoxie's girls. She was a pupil at Hamtramck's Pulaski School, where Miss Hoxie taught. And after school...

"I started (playing tennis) at 12. There were three of us, all friends. We would go from Pulaski School to the park, about a mile away, daily, the whole year around.

"We were probably Miss Hoxie's second group of girls. One of us eventually dropped out but Jo Smilka and I continued. Miss Hoxie entered us in tournaments all around the city so we could get as much experience as possible — I remember once she changed our names to Steve and Joe so she could enter us in a Men's Tournament!"

From in-city tournaments Stephanie progressed to tournaments all around the state and country.

Won Both Big Ones The two big junior tennis competitions in this area were the Michigan State Inter-Scholastic, held each May in Hamtramck, and the Michigan State Open.

Stephanie won the first three times running, capping her last year's Inter-Scholastic victory by winning the Open that year too. That same year she played in the Nationals, reaching the quarter finals.

Ranked seventh nationally in junior tennis she was named a member of the honorary National Junior Wrightman Cup Squad, just before the Nationals was one of five junior players selected to represent the Western Area in the United States Lawn Tennis Association Inter-Sectional Matches.

In the Inter-Sectional Matches she remembers playing against a girl from California, ranked fourth in the nation. The Californian had Stephanie, six-love, four-love — and Stephanie went on to beat her.

When Miss P tells her classes "You're never down!" she's speaking from experience. Miss P earned her Bachelor's and Masters degrees at Western Michigan University. Winters she's a Physical Education instructor at Grosse Pointe South High. She teaches two adult classes there too, men and women, 25 in each class, under

The only prerequisite for Tennis Clinic participation is Neighborhood Club membership. There's a $2 registration fee for all age groups EXCEPT senior high.

Due to the condition of the courts at Elworthy Field, (they're not "buckling" — they've buckled!), the Clinic's being held this summer on South High's courts. Miss P, who's played during her career on every surface from grass to clay to linoleum to cement, prefers not to conduct classes on cracks. A child might trip, a leg or ankle might be broken...

But that's ALL that's been switched. The calibre of instruction remains the same: Very high. So do Miss P's standards for her pupils.

She KNOWS tennis, she'll teach you how to play and she'll make a good job of it: You'll learn and you'll enjoy learning.

And your children will learn not only tennis but how to behave, on and off the court. That's what Jean Hoxie taught Stephanie Prychitko.

"I appreciate it now," says Miss P. So apparently do those boys and girls who, third time out, come back next day, ready to play tennis.

Nobody's FORCING them to come back. Nobody's INSISTING... Still, they show up. Now, who would have thought it?

Miss P would. Here's a point to ponder: Ever give a "nice" nickname to a teacher you didn't like?

Many Clinic Veterans Many of the tournament participants will of course be Tennis Clinic veterans. That Clinic's grown a bit since Miss P took it over seven or eight years ago.

Then she had a staff of three and worked right with them, staff and chief instructor taking classes on a rotating basis.

Now she supervises a staff of six including Lynn Coddington, a Grosse Pointe South graduate who'll begin her sophomore year of college in the fall, Peg Van Eckoute, just graduated from South where she was Number Two on the Tennis Team, Chris McNaughton, Grosse Pointe University School graduate about to begin her sophomore college year, Tom Van Lokeren, returning to South in the fall, Curt Leibbrand, just graduated from South, and Bill Campbell, who attends University-Liggett School.

When Stephanie first took charge of the Clinic its young people's beginners' classes were divided into two hour and a-half sessions, one for nine through 12-year-olds, the other for 13 through 16-year-olds, with about 100 boys and girls in the first group, 60 in the second.

"Look," said Miss P, after that first year, "there's a big difference in skill and ability between a nine and a 12-year-old. Let's split the groups into three sessions, (nine to 10, 11 to 12 and 13 to 16), of an hour each."

The three groups, each limited in size to 65, (all classes except the 13 to 16 were filled two months in advance incidentally), have been meeting Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings since June 29 and will continue through July 31 this year.

Adults Not Neglected Adults aren't neglected. Their Clinic days are Tuesdays and Thursdays, with 9 to 10:30 o'clock sessions for beginner and intermediate players, (there are 40 of these this year), and 10:30 to noon reserved for the 30 advanced players of all ages who work with Miss P on play and strategy.

Miss P's procedure for all her classes, except the advanced, is the same. "We go through all the strokes: Basic forehand, backhand and reverse." In the advanced classes the first few sessions are devoted to a review of the strokes; from then on it's all play and strategy.

Carl's Corner

With ghastly traffic jams all over the city Detroit is the only major city I know that does not have left turn signals or a signal light that gives one enough time to go through—Why?

One of the nicest things... about midsummer is that it's a "time enough" time... the time when we have time enough to do all the things we didn't have time for in June and won't have time for in September...

Guest columnists... this week are some of last year's Barnes Elementary School students... including Paul Warkowski, Grade Three, who had an interesting idea on the origin of ANIMALS Once there was a big fat cat laid a big fat dog. The big fat dog laid a big fat egg. From the egg came a big fat bird.

Susan Hohl... also in Grade Three, had a wonderful time last year when she went to WATCH THE LIPIZZIN HORSES Watch the Lipizzin horses, Watch them do their tricks. Watch them jump without a thump Over a hurdle of bricks.

These horse (the pride of Vienna) are capable of a jump, to clear a man on horseback, and land without a thump!!! SO WATCH THE LIPIZZIN HORSES!

As boys and girls... grow older they begin to look at the world around them with more critical, sophisticated eyes, to see its problems as well as its delights...

POLLUTION Every story that I've heard With kings and things like that, Has beautiful lands with flowerpots: Not like ours with rats!

Sunny days and gayish ways Make up their life so long; But muddy seas and sickly trees — Isn't that all wrong? People live in magic life To keep their land that way, If only it were that I could live Like Kings, Queens and Fays... Clearing air in their land Is a fairy tale: There's no such thing As dirty water, air they cannot see... And pretty soon if this keeps up There won't be you or me.

Too, when you're in... Grade Six you become capable of judging other people with humor, affection—and accuracy... Consider Judy Curtis' portrait of MY LITTLE SISTER My little sister Is like a fragile little blister! She cries and she cries 'Til you think she will die! Then she'll cool down With a great big frown!

The physical world... intrigued Dwight Klett, Grade Five, who didn't title his poem—but then, it doesn't really need any title!

Thunder! Lightning! Raint Hail! I see also feel That tills the air? A destructive rain? Ah! It goes! It comes! It's gone!

Thank you... Paul, Susan, Maria, Judy and Dwight, for a delightful midsummer curria.
