Offer Classes In Languages

Language classes for children will be offered this fall at Grosse Pointe War Memorial to supplement the program in the Grosse Pointe schools.

French for children will be offered on Saturday mornings September 12 through November 21. There will be two classes—one at 10 o'clock and the other at 11. The 10 o'clock class will be for beginners; the 11 o'clock sessions for those with a bit more ability.

Both will be taught by Mile Henriette LaCroix who also teaches in the Adult Education program of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The young people will learn French vocabulary, phrases, simple songs and games and progress to beginning conversation. Fee for the children's French course is $15 for 10 lessons.

German for Children will be taught on Saturdays also from 12:30 to noon. It will be taught by John Prost, native of Germany, who is now on the faculty of East Detroit High School.

Boys and girls will learn German through mastery of vocabulary and phrases. They will learn to read simple sentences and will be assisted in pronunciation through records. The fee is $20 for 10 one and one half hour lessons.

St. John Adds Special Unit

Serving as chairman is Dr. Rabhani, staff pediatrician and director of the unit. Other committee members consist of Drs. Ryszewski and Burton, pediatricians, Dr. Vollrad von Berg, surgery, Dr. Panfilo DiLoretto, OB-GYN, Dr. Khosrow Beizai, Anesthesiology, Mrs. Hannah Nowakowski, R.N., Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, R.N., head nurse and Mr. Michael Sussman.

Such a unit is designed to serve infants with critical health problems such as premature infants with a birth weight of less than three pounds, those with respiratory distress syndrome, those whose mothers are afflicted with diabetes, severe toxemia, or in some cases addicted to certain types of narcotics. Other infants to be served by the unit will be those with problems caused by Rh factor incompatibility, those with multiple congenital abnormalities, pre- and post-operative surgical problems, and other severe health and life-threatening difficulties.

The physical specifications of the unit include the Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit nursery area itself—the room measuring 38x17 in diameter, the intermediate nursery, the parents' viewing area, scrub area and restroom facilities. The unit will feature a completely controlled environment with temperature and humidity maintained at a constant level throughout the year. Further, the air in the unit is filtered to remove all airborne contaminants and infectious agents, thus providing the optimum in sterile conditions. To provide an unimpeded work and viewing area, all utilities serving each patient station will descend from reels concealed in the ceiling. These utilities include oxygen, compressed air, suction and electricity. Also located within the unit will be a nursing station and portable medication station. The unit will be initially equipped to serve six infants. Later, it has the capacity to expand to a total of 10 as the need develops.

Among the highly specialized monitoring and life-support equipment within the unit are standard intensive care and transporter isolettes. These very specialized incubators are almost, in effect, artificial wombs for they maintain the temperature and humidity within very precise limits. They are further designed to provide for the use of other specialized life-support monitoring equipment within the isolettes. Transporter models contain their own battery operated power system and will be used for moving the infants from the delivery room and other nurseries, or perhaps even from other hospitals.

Another support unit is known as an infant warmer used to maintain the infant's temperature immediately following birth and during resuscitation and aspiration following exchange transfusion and minor surgical procedures. Continuous oxygen controllers will be used to meter oxygen and monitor its level within the isolette. To precisely control the flow of infusions and transfusions, four Holter and Harvard infusion pumps will be placed in the unit. The monitoring equipment includes apnea monitors which are designed to immediately alert nursing personnel if an infant should cease breathing. Other monitors include those which keep watch on the infant's heart and respiratory rate and temperature. A physiological display oscilloscope will visually display blood pressure, respiration wave forms and EKG for up to four patients.

Other equipment in this nursery area includes phototherapy units, electric scales and assistive devices. The medication station will have a full range of drugs and medications prescribed for the infants together with a "crash cart" for use in cardiac resuscitation. Adjacent to and under the direction of the unit staff is the intermediate nursery. This nursery, which is an integral part of the Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit, is where the infants will be transferred when their health improves to the point where they no longer need constant monitoring and nursing care. The intermediate unit is equipped with incubators, isolettes and other assistive devices and will provide a higher level of care than the regular nurseries. The infants transferred to this unit to insure that on an average the nurse to patient ratio will be two patients per nurse. All nursing personnel assigned to the unit will receive specialized training in neonatology and in the operational procedures of the Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit at Saint John Hospital. The director of the unit, All Rabhani, M.D., staff pediatrician, recently returned from intensive didactic and clinical training in neonatology at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto and will supervise the operations and training occurring in the unit.

The cost to place this unit in operation is approximately $100,000. Of this, $55,000 is for construction, $30,000 for equipment and $15,000 for training and incidental expenses. Further, it is anticipated the capital requirements of the Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit will exceed $15,000 to provide for expansion and the provision of new and improved equipment as it becomes available. In the future, it is anticipated that Saint John Hospital's Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit will become a training center for neonatology to serve those hospitals in this area and perhaps throughout the Midwest as they develop similar units and seek training for their staff.

The unit, to be known as the Mary K. O'Grady Memorial Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit, will be open for the first time on September 1 to receive its first patients. It was made possible by the intensive efforts of the hospital's trustees, administration and medical staff and donations received from hundreds of concerned persons in the community. Even if only one life were to be saved as a result of the creation of this unit, the time, effort and expense will be well justified.

On August 23, Charles Millham, 19947 E. Clairview court, reported a theft had occurred between 10:30 p.m. Saturday, August 22, and 2:30 the next morning.

Millham found his bedroom ransacked and valuables totaling almost $1,000 stolen from different parts of the household. Included among the items missing were a gold watch; two automatic rifles valued at $335; a 12 gauge shotgun valued at $175; a .38 caliber pistol; and a trans-oceanic radio costing $250.

Entry was gained by cutting a porch screen door and, after futile attempts to break a lock, smashing a window with a rock.

Police are making a thorough investigation of the burglaries.

GPA Planning Fall Fund Drive

Miles M. O'Brien, general chairman of the forthcoming Grosse Pointe Academy Fund Drive, has announced that plans are well underway for a one million dollar campaign to begin this fall. Pledges are to be payable over a five-year period and will be used in large part to retire a mortgage covering the school facilities. Mr. O'Brien of 41 Hendrie lane is vice-president and director of the Detroit Insurance Agency.

The Grosse Pointe Academy was formed in January of 1969 to acquire the property and facilities formerly known as the Academy of the Sacred Heart and to conduct a religiously oriented independent school in the community.

The Academy operates as a day school for boys and girls from Montessori Early School through grade eight. Its pupils come from all economic levels and various ethnic and racial groups. About 40 percent are from outside the Grosse Pointe area and 75 percent are Catholic.

The Academy completed the first full year of its new program with an enrollment of 321 students. "Acceptance of approximately 380 students for the 70-71 year is anticipated," said John Poplawski, Headmaster.

One of the outstanding features which the Academy offers is the Montessori system of education from early school through the current second class. The Montessori School, the largest in the State of Michigan, has met with most enthusiastic response.

The affairs of the Academy are managed by a lay board of sixteen members, representing several religious denominations.

Mr. O'Brien said that the formal campaign dates will be from September 15 to October 31, 1970. Presently, Division Chairmen and Team Captains are being enlisted and appointments will be announced as these positions are filled.

Teachers Study During Vacation

Seven members of the professional staff of Grosse Pointe South High School attended summer school classes as part of the program of self-improvement which is encouraged by The Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Miss Jean M. Campbell, counselor, enrolled in a counseling practicum at Wayne State University. Also at Wayne State were Dan T. Cole, physical education instructor, and Charles T. Stephens of the English department. Mr. Cole's course in adolescent psychology is part of a program leading to an MA degree while Mr. Stephens has set a doctorate as his goal.

Two members of the mathematics department at South enrolled at Wayne State for the summer session. Mrs. Cherie Winnicki earned credit toward her MA degree by taking "The Structure of American Education" and "Special Problems in Mathematics Education." Carl Justice was a student in a course entitled "Computer Programming".

Richard H. Beach and B. Val Parzych, two teachers of business education, spent a portion of the summer engaged in study. Mr. Beach earned credit from Central Michigan University for his attendance at the Higgins Lake conservation program. Mr. Parzych continued his professional growth by enrolling for classes at Montana State University. He completed "Instructional Improvement in Vocational Business Education", "Business Education Curriculum" and "Individual Problems".

TIRE TAKEN

James Carne, 288 Merriweather, reported the theft of a tire, wheel and jack from his car which was parked in the driveway of his home between 8:30 p.m. on Monday, August 17, and 8 a.m. on Tuesday, August 18. The thief also damaged the headlight of the vehicle.

CAR RADIO, TIRE STOLEN
 Edward Fleming, 1155 Audubon, told police that on Saturday, August 23, someone had taken a radio and spare tire valued at $50 from the station wagon he had been driving. The unlocked car had been parked at the Windmill Pointe Park from 3:30 to 5:30 that afternoon.

Traffic Court Held in Woods

Traffic court for the city of Grosse Pointe Woods convened Wednesday, August 19, with Judge John D. Goodrow presiding.
 Francis Leysen, 21715 Edgewood, St. Clair Shores, was charged with impaired driving. He was found guilty after entering a guilty plea and fined $150.
 Charged with disobeying a traffic signal, Eugene D'Andrea, 484 Elizabeth court, pleaded not guilty and but was found guilty and fined $14.
 Gregory Watson, 837 Washington, pleaded guilty on a charge of driving on the sidewalk. The court found him guilty and fined him $5.

Two persons were found to be driving with a suspended license. One of them, Constance Saint Dennis, 32600 Holden drive, Warren, was also charged with making an illegal left turn. She pled guilty to both charges, was fined $100 and given a two-day suspended jail sentence for the former, and fined $15 for the latter after being found guilty on the charge.

Classes Offered In Decoupage

Louise Hoyt, nationally prominent decoupage authority, will return to the Grosse Pointe Public Schools Adult Education Program this fall to offer students new and exciting opportunities in the art of decoupage.

Entering her ninth season with the Grosse Pointe Schools, Mrs. Hoyt will conduct her evening and daytime classes in the Community Service Building at 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard. The 346 enrollees of the past season, taking part in 29 classes, will bear testimony to the exceptionally fine quality of instruction offered during the eight-week session.

An outstanding feature of Mrs. Hoyt's classes is the wide range of skills she serves in the many classes where beginners find themselves as comfortably enthused over their class work as easily as the most experienced decoupage artist.

The unusually reasonable fee of $16 has not changed over last year. Those who are interested should call the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 and make a reservation for a class which will be starting during the last week in September.

Inefficiency

The answers were always in the negative. She called Receiving again, and again — the answer was no.

Then at 4:30 that afternoon Lottie's husband, Cleave, an employe at the Ford Motor Company, began checking police stations and Receiving. No one named Lottie Belcher or "Jane Doe" had been admitted. Around 6 p.m. he went to Receiving and asked again, and again was told no one was admitted under his wife's name or as an unidentified person.

In the meantime, Mrs. Simone continued checking. She sat up through the night sure that Lottie had been mugged or was lying in a ditch somewhere. She called Receiving Hospital again and the police again to no avail.

Mr. Belcher went to the Main Police Station and again inquired if anyone had any information on his wife. It was then a police officer said, "I think we have a detective working on that." Mr. Belcher then was told that his wife's body had just been identified and that she had died at 8 p.m.

Lottie Belcher, diligent worker, wife, died alone and was just a number at the morgue, yet she had two types of identification on her person... her insurance card and social security card. Why?

Mrs. Simone is angry. "This could happen to any of us; after all if you collapse in Detroit you end up at Receiving. Lack of funds has nothing to do with this, it's sheer inefficiency."

Mrs. Simone called Receiving to find out why there was no record of Lottie's admittance to the hospital. She was directed to the head of the Emergency Room who switched her over to an administrative assistant. Mrs. Simone arranged to go down to Receiving and speak with her. After two hours the matter was still not clarified to Mrs. Simone's satisfaction.

Mrs. Simone returned home and thought the matter over for a day, and realized that unless she pursued the matter it would be placed in a file and forgotten. She talked to Councilman David Eberhard, who agreed that she should continue her search for the answer and speak with the commissioner of hospitals, Herman J. Glass, but this too proved unenlightening.

Mrs. Simone hopes that by telling the story of now Lottie Belcher died, alone and unidentified, that public sentiment will be aroused enough to force administrators of public institutions into taking some kind of concrete action to increase their efficiency. "We as private citizens must demand better services from all public institutions, and demand it now!"

Orientation for Students At North High Scheduled

The orientation for students at Grosse Pointe North High School was announced this week by G. Bruce Feighner, Principal. Seniors are to report on Monday, August 31, Juniors on Tuesday, September 1, and Sophomores on Wednesday, September 2.

Mr. Feighner has said that regardless of the day, students in the three classes are asked to report at the building according to the following schedule of last names:

A-D 9 - 10 a.m.
E-I 10 - 11 a.m.
J-M 11 - 12 Noon
N-Q 12 - 1 p.m.
R-U 1 - 2 p.m.
V-Z 2 - 3 p.m.

Thursday, September 3, and Friday, September 4 have been designated by Mr. Feighner and his staff as the orientation period for freshmen and other students who are new to North High according to the following alphabetical schedule of their last names.

Thursday, September 3
9 - 10 a.m. A-B
10 - 11 a.m. C-D
11 - 12 a.m. E-F
12 - 1 p.m. G-H
1 - 2 p.m. I-K
2 - 3 p.m. L-M

Friday, September 4
9 - 10 a.m. X-Z
10 - 11 a.m. V-W
11 - 12 a.m. T-U
12 - 1 p.m. S
1 - 2 p.m. P-R
2 - 3 p.m. N-O

During the time set for their orientation, all students are asked to have their picture taken for the new Student Identification Card in the audiovisual office on the second floor of the school. James H. Cooper, Assistant Principal, said that a student's library card is included as part of the identification card, which will be used for admittance to many school and community functions.

"Each student will need his identification card to pick up his class schedule", Mr. Cooper emphasized. He added that students must follow the prescribed orientation procedures in order to facilitate the handling of hundreds to be processed during the week.

The next step for students is to pick up class schedule cards, locker card (seniors, freshmen and new students only), and student handbooks in the counselling office on the first floor.

The third step students are to follow is to pick up basic textbooks in rooms B-131, 133, and 135 on the first floor.

Next, they are advised to make their optional purchase of an Athletic Pass Booklet in room B-110. Mr. Cooper said that for $6 a student would receive a $17.25 value ticket that would enable him to be admitted to all home athletic contests.

Juniors and seniors are then permitted to purchase their parking sticker for one dollar from the Student Association office on the first floor.

The bookstore at North High will be open from August 31 through September 9 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Pupils should make every effort to pick up basic classroom books during this time. However, students may not pick up books until they have their class schedule card. Students may also return books that they have purchased for the 1970-71 school year during the week of August 31-September 4 only. Students returning books must be taking the course during 1970-71 for which the book was intended.

Due to a recent State Supreme Court ruling, this year there will be no special required fees and no charge for basic textbooks. Students who so desire may voluntarily purchase their own supplies.

can be matched with a licensed owner reporting a theft or loss. "We must be very careful that we don't auction off any bicycles that can be claimed," Kesteloot said.

Auctions of 30 to 40 bikes are held once a year in the Park with the proceeds going to the city. The next auction is scheduled for some time within the next two or three months.

Bicycles stolen from playgrounds, parks, store fronts, house fronts, and garages are sometimes found to be the result of a wholesale operation.

Det. Sgt. Frank Mustazza of the Shores police said that not too long ago there had been a group of youths who would ride into Grosse Pointe on buses from Detroit, steal bicycles wherever they could find them, and then pedal back to Detroit. Orders were taken for certain bikes wanted on the open market even before they were stolen.

Mustazza said that if a person is going to invest $40 to $100 on a bicycle, he should take the precaution of buying a good lock and using it.

Some cyclists lock their bike through the front wheel only. It is safer to lock the bicycle frame rather than the wheel to some stationary object.

Kesteloot said that although most of the bicycle thefts can only be stopped through the owners' prevention, Park police still try to keep an eye out for suspicious activity. Sometimes two persons riding one bike is an indication that they're out looking for a free bicycle. Other times, Kesteloot said, a rider will try to switch an old bicycle with a new one. If a rider does not look like he belongs on a newer bike, he will be stopped and questioned.

Bicycle thefts are investigated much more thoroughly

GETS HOLE-IN-ONE

Monday, August 17, was a memorable day for Raleigh Grabke, 1159 South Brys. On that day, he picked up a six iron at the second hole of Plum Brook Golf Course, stepped up to the tee and drove the ball 162 yards to score a hole-in-one.

ENGINE GONE

Sam Farris, 17800 Mack, called City police on Tuesday, August 18, to report persons unknown had removed a Crosley engine from a homemade frame which was parked at that address. The theft occurred sometime between the August 17 and August 18.

SCIENCE STRICKEN

The only man who brags about his honesty is the one who suspects that he is suspected.

Revenge has a way of dealing from the bottom of the deck.

than many realize. Pointe police are aware of the trends of bicycle stealing and sometimes are able to find a stolen bike the same day it is reported lost.

To quote an old saying in g. though: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure"—it'll also make the policeman's job a lot easier.

Pointe Kids Well Educated

Grosse Pointe's listing of "human resources" includes such variable factors for 1968-69, (the last year for which complete statistics were available when the test was administered in January), as a pupil teacher ratio of 20.6, teachers with an average of 12 years of experience, 54 percent of the teachers possessing an MA or higher, and an average teacher's salary of $10,497.

The district's "financial resources" for 1968-69 show that State Equalized Valuation was $29,150 per pupil, with local revenue expanded per pupil pegged at $883, and state school aid at $863, and state school expense per pupil for that year was $690, with the total current operating expenditures at $918.

Varied Comparisons

As a result of the school's participation in the state assessment project, local officials are able to compare the achievement of Grosse Pointe's 4th and 7th graders not only on a building by building basis within the system, but also with districts of various kinds across the state, with districts in the three-county Detroit area, as well as with the entire state.

Dr. Anderson indicated that because educators have expressed some dissatisfaction with the validity of portions of the test instrument covering students' optional subjective determination of their socioeconomic status along with their attitudes and aspirations, those portions of the test data were not being released.

Each of four state-wide regions has been subdivided into five sections to enable the comparisons to be made on as equal a basis as possible: (1) Metropolitan Core Cities; (2) Cities;

(3) Towns, (4) Urban Fringe; and (5) Rural. Grosse Pointe's public schools are in "Region 1" (Macomb, Oakland, and Wayne Counties), and are located in the "Urban Fringe", (included in a listing of 61 school districts beginning with Allen Park and ending with Wyandotte).

Three Major Purposes

Three major purposes guided the design and operation of the 1969-70 Michigan Assessment Program:

1. To gather data which would show the levels of educational performance and the levels of certain factors related to performance within Michigan's geographic regions and community types;

2. To gather data which indicate the ways in which educational performance and certain factors related to performance are distributed in Michigan; and

3. To provide local school district officials with information regarding their own school district and its schools.

The Michigan Assessment Program was initiated by the State Board of Education, supported by the Governor, and funded by the Legislature through enactment of Public Law 307 in August 1969. Its goal is to provide educators and citizens with information regarding the status and progress of Michigan's educational system so that they may make more informed decisions about education.

CAR ANTENNAS BROKEN

While on routine patrol, patrolman William Duster of the Woods police noticed eight Grosse Pointe North High driver training cars with their antennas either broken or bent. Observing the cars Friday, August 21, at 12:30 p.m., Duster reported all but one of the cars had their antennas snapped off completely.

HAND-IN-HAND

History proves that the high speed of living has something to do with the high cost.

D'you Know That?™

Do you know how the story of George Washington cutting down the CHERRY TREE got started?

It first appeared in "Life of Washington," a biography written by Mason L. Weems; who referred to himself as the "former rector of Mt. Vernon Parish."

But "Parson" Weems was not above animating a report with a bit of fiction . . . In fact, even his claim to the position of "former Rector of Mt. Vernon Parish" has been disputed—the Parish has never been known to have existed.

NBD to Provide Loan to Schools

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education on Monday, August 24, accepted the bid on its Tax Anticipation Loans, (monies which operate the school system prior to collection of taxes), to the National Bank of Detroit in the amount of four and a half million dollars at the rate of 3.84 percent interest.

A total of four bids were received, two more than last year. Bids came from Manufacturers Bank and Trust, 4.86 percent; Continental Illinois Bank, 4.54 percent; and Michigan Banking Association, 4.40 percent.

Center Offering Yoga and Karate

Two forms of exercise and self discipline will be offered at Grosse Pointe War Memorial this fall—Yoga and Karate. Yoga will be taught on Tuesday mornings for women from 10 to 11 o'clock beginning September 8. Mrs. Norma Cheff, SRF, will be the instructor.

There will be two classes taught for both men and women on Wednesday evenings starting September 9 with instructor Charles Friday, SRF. There is a 7 o'clock class and an 8 o'clock class to avoid overcrowding.

In Yoga, students learn to achieve peace of mind and body through exercises, postures and mental disciplines designed to relax nerves, improve circulation and encourage proper breathing. The basic organs are toned and body fatigue and tensions disappear. One enrolls in Yoga for a fee of $20 for eight weeks. Students are requested to wear loose exercise clothing and to bring mats.

Korean Karate, the "Art of the Open Hand" known as Tae Kwan Do, develops one's alertness, discipline, one's responses and teaches one through concentration to make full use of the powers built into one's body and to capitalize on the weakness of an attacker. Korean Karate was introduced into this country by Sang Kyu Shim who formed the clubs in this area. The Grosse Pointe group is taught by black belt holders trained by him. As one advances in Karate, one achieves different colored belts as marks of recognition, with the black belt being the highest award.

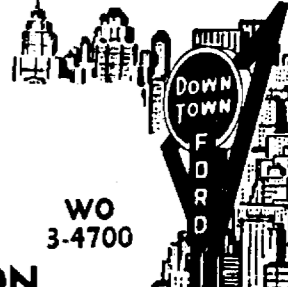

Karate classes are held at Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. Beginners and more advanced students convene together to allow more practice time for each. Karate is open to both sexes, teens and adults and even whole families. The fee is $15 for eight sessions.

ROBERT J. MAURER has been appointed Vice President for Administration and a Trustee of Saint John Hospital, it was announced today by Mr. James T. Farley, president. In making the appointment, Mr. Farley stated, "We are most fortunate to obtain a man of Mr. Maurer's character, experience and qualifications for this key position."

"This appointment," Mr. Farley continued, "is part of the continuing development of a 'corporate type' staff structure to guide the hospital's development into a comprehensive community health care center."

In his newly created position, Mr. Maurer will assume responsibility for administration, nursing, and patient services. He will play a major role in planning the long-range expansion and development of the hospital.

Prior to accepting this position, Mr. Maurer served for two years as the Administrator of Bon Secours Hospital in Grosse Pointe.

Mr. Maurer is a graduate of Duquesne University and holds a master's degree in hospital administration from the University of Pittsburgh. He served his administrative residency at Washington Hospital and then became the Assistant Administrator at Lee Hospital, Johnstown, Pa. Prior to coming to Detroit in 1968, Mr. Maurer served as Administrator at St. Anthony Hospital in Rockford, Ill. for four years. He is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Mr. Maurer is married to the former Annabelle M. Lee of Pittsburgh. Together with his wife and five children, Paul, Robert, Jr., Thomas, Daniel and Kathleen Ann the Maurers reside at 1025 Devonshire road.

Scholarship Won By Top Student

Mary M. Tenbusch, who was the top student in her graduating class at St. Paul High School, has been awarded a four-year General Motors college scholarship by Marygrove College.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Tenbusch, 871 Fisher road. She plans to pursue a liberal arts course and hopes eventually to become an interpreter in overseas business organizations.

Mary's demonstrated leadership qualities and scholastic achievement in high school were instrumental in her selection by Marygrove College for the coveted GM award.

The scholarship is one of 293 to be awarded this year by over 200 colleges and universities throughout the country as part of GM's overall program of support for higher education.

In all, nearly 1,200 students are attending colleges with GM assistance. Each scholarship is valued at from $200 to $2,000 a year, depending on the need of the student. All private colleges participating in the program also receive an annual grants-in-aid from GM of $500 to $800 per scholarship, based on tuition costs.

In addition to her scholastic achievements, Mary was active in community projects and was a counsellor in the Sacred Heart Enrichment Program. She also was president of the Bon Secours Hospital Junior Aide Guide and is listed in "Who's Who among High School Students."

HOOD DAMAGED

Rubin Goldstein, 16844 Kercheval, called City police on Saturday, August 22, to report persons unknown had damaged the front hood of his automobile while attempting to remove the battery from the vehicle which was parked at Maire School between 9:30 a.m. and 6:05 p.m. on that date.

Harvest Brings Fine Cash Crop

By Greg Boyd

There is no truer example of enterprising capitalism than that displayed by three North High Students who are raising eyebrows—and money—by selling vegetables and corn they have harvested themselves.

Tom Clem, 2174 Hawthorne, Dave Palmer, 658 Blairmoor Court, and Jim Whipple, 1501 Oxford, got together with a friend, Dale Buss, whom Dave knew from his hockey playing days. Together they leased 20 acres of planted farm land near 21 mile and Romeo Plank road.

There they are, every morning at 6 o'clock, harvesting as much as 110 dozen ears of corn a day. The vegetables are shipped in, as arranged by Buss, and by 10 everything is ready to be sold from their stand on Mack and Oxford.

Inside of an hour, the trio has marketed as much as 15 dozen ears of corn, not to mention the peaches, plums, tomatoes, green peppers, honey rock melons, and cucumbers. By 6 p.m., the volume of turnover is tremendous.

Actually, all this courageous mercantilism came about on a trial and error basis. The boys, all 16, had first started peddling their wares on a house-to-house basis. One of the three station wagons owned by the boys' parents was used to carry the produce while they knocked on doors. This proved to be time consuming and not very productive.

Eventually the Woods police received a call complaining about the legality of the solicitors and the boys were asked to report to the station.

Mrs. Leona Liddle, Woods City Clerk, heard their plight and issued a temporary permit to them on the understanding that they would present their "case" at the next City Council meeting.

Along came the day of reckoning and the council, pleased with the youths' initiative, voted unanimously to issue a permanent license. Councilman Hueltgen said that he was delighted to see high schoolers involved in constructive and enterprising endeavors.

The boys then faced with the problem of finding a place to set up a vegetable stand were finally, after checking several agencies, able to find a realtor, Arthur Scully, who could offer a prominent location for lease.

The stand has been a huge success and you can still find it on Mack and Oxford displaying vegetables and fruit that is fresher than that found at the supermarket.

The boys, now in the middle of football practice sessions, said they would get replacements to keep their stand open as long as possible. It's turning out to be a real money-maker.

If your wallet's fat with the wrong things, think First.

You know the story only too well.

The pictures of the wife and kids, your driver's license, a library card don't cost you anything. But those wonderful pieces of colored plastic called credit cards—they not only take up a lot of room in your wallet. They also crowd the family budget. An open invitation to impulse buying. And they make saving money very hard, if not impossible.

Maybe that's why so many people with fat wallets have old wallets.

How to get the right things.

It might take some attitude changes on your part.

If you really want to save, you'll try taking a couple of those charge cards out of your wallet and putting a little cash in. It's always harder to part with the real thing.

The trick, of course, is getting the cash. And there is an alternative to plastic I.O.U.s. It's called savings. True, it's getting harder all the time. Maybe you're saving in a passbook now, but, perhaps, you're neglecting your account. Bring us your passbook. We'll help get it active again.

Where to put it when you've got it.

Put it in First Federal Savings of Detroit. Not just because we're nice guys. But because there are good reasons why you should.

The main one, of course, is that we can pay a higher rate of interest. We're allowed to, by law. And we give you our Daily Interest from date of deposit to date of withdrawal. (You don't have to wait for a quarter to begin to start making money, or wait for a quarter to be over to get your money without giving up interest.)

Last year we paid over 30 million dollars in interest to over 200,000 customers. We're the largest savings institution in Michigan—so we've had a lot of experience helping people save money.

How can you get started? At First Federal Savings of Detroit, you can open a regular passbook account for just a dollar. From there, we'll help tailor-make a realistic savings program for you.

Or you can save in a Fixed Amount account that encourages you to think of your savings as a bill you pay to yourself every month. (There's a reward for keeping up with your account and we make it easy to with our Save-by-Mail kit.)

We pay you, you don't pay us.

You know what happens when you over-use your charge cards. If you can't quite cover the bills you ran up one month, you pay for the privilege of extending these bills over more months—sort of writing yourself a series of small, but expensive, loans. And that interest goes to someone else.

That's silly.

At First Federal Savings of Detroit, we pay you.

So take a look in your wallet. Is any of that plastic helping you to save? Our paper passbook will.

We can do more for you if you'll think First.

Many Changes Disclosed For Barnes School Pupils

Jack McMahon, Principal of Barnes Elementary School, has announced his plans for organizing the building, the staff, and student body, for more effective instructional purposes in 1970-71.

"The main objective of the proposed changes is to make instruction more meaningful to students in a planned sequential manner," he said. "Organizing a school for effective instruction at all grade levels is a complex development, and during the past two years I have met with the Barnes School staff to formulate changes which we believe will be more beneficial to the children," he added.

Principal McMahon said that he hoped to elaborate upon his plans for improvements from kindergarten through grade six at the first meeting of the Barnes School PTA in September.

Mr. McMahon said that changes in the kindergarten program have been made to reflect maturity changes in five-year olds noted by the staff: a high percentage of kindergarten children have had previous nursery school experience; they have a much stronger than average verbal ability; pre-school travel experience has been extensive; and they all have been exposed to "X" number of hours of television. "For these reasons and more, we have altered our kindergarten curriculum to make it more meaningful to children. While art, music, and socialization activities remain as main areas within our curriculum, we have less and less of rest time, milk and cookies, and fun and games," Mr. McMahon said.

"We have expanded our curriculum, particularly during the second semester, with a greater emphasis on science and social studies activities appropriate for young children. In addition, we have expanded reading readiness activities. While we do not believe in teaching a formal reading program in kindergarten, we do believe in offering a very enriching curriculum that has a multitude of readiness activities in preparation for the first grade," Mr. McMahon commented.

At Barnes School the grade 1-2 cycle is the only grade level where the teacher will stay with a class for a two-year period. Mr. McMahon said this would be done for two reasons: (1) to guarantee that reading continuity is maintained between the first and second grade and (2) to provide the necessary guidance for young children by the classroom teacher.

Both the more traditional reading program and the i.t.a. reading program will be continued at Barnes. "No claim is made that one reading plan is superior to another. Research and experience have taught us that there are several effective ways to teach reading," Mr. McMahon said.

Mr. McMahon said that starting this year pupils at Barnes will have a different teacher in the fourth grade than they had in the third grade. One of the main concepts in making several curriculum organizational changes at Barnes School is that children will be associated with many teachers rather than limited to a few on the two-year cycle in the past.

Mr. McMahon said that in 1970-71 some major changes will occur in the 5-6 curriculum organization. Children will have more than one teacher each year. Each child will have his homeroom teacher in the morning who will be responsible for social studies, English, spelling, and handwriting. Each afternoon, a child will go to a special teacher, (one of whom will be his homeroom teacher), for instruction in reading, science-health, and arithmetic.

Instrumental music, taught only to children in grade 6, will be taught during the noon hour.

Principal McMahon reiterated that the curriculum improvements were the outgrowth of staff discussions conducted for the past two years. "I believe the changes outlined will make our total curriculum offering more effective and meaningful to pupils. We are, however, not so committed to any one plan of operation that it is considered final, and we are constantly in search of better methods," Mr. McMahon concluded.

In 1970-71 there will be no special art teacher at Barnes because of the personnel reduction caused by last year's mileage failure. Each classroom teacher will be responsible for his own art instruction.

Mr. McMahon said that children will have two physical education classes per week and two vocal music classes per week.

Schedule Listed For South High

Although classes do not begin until September 10, all students attending Grosse Pointe South High School have been asked by Jerry J. Gerich, Principal, to report according to a pre-arranged schedule during the week beginning August 31 to obtain their new identification cards.

Students will be photographed for an identification card, pick up schedule cards, textbooks, and other school supplies. All students must obtain new identification cards for 1970-71, which will be required when they pick up their class schedules, and when they obtain textbooks and school supplies.

Students whose last name starts with A or B will report from 8 to 12 a.m. on Monday, August 31. Those whose name starts with C or D will report from 1 to 3:30 the same day. Those having last names the first letter of which is E, F or G are asked to report from 8 to 12 on Tuesday, September 1. The H and I group will report from 1 to 3:30 the same day.

The J, K and L students will go to the morning session on Wednesday with those having names starting with M or N attending in the afternoon. Thursday has been assigned to the O and P names in the morning and the Q and R students in the afternoon.

The schedule will wind up Friday with the S, T, U and V students going in the morning and the W, X, Y and Z group in the afternoon. The morning and afternoon hours are the same for all five days.

All students should have their textbooks and other school material when they report for classes on Thursday, September 10. They will report directly to their first period classes at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday.

Students new to South should familiarize themselves with the location of their classrooms and other school facilities during the week of August 31-September 4. Guides will be available to assist them.

Late summer evening in a garden at sunset . . . wine and cheese and pleasant companions . . . Mireille Wilkinson, blond hair up, skirt length—ah, Mireille has begged the question and is wearing at-home patio pants and a loose, bright shirt . . .

The Warren S. Wilkinsons have invited members of the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe over to meet their directors, and each other, and everything's going beautifully, everyone's smiling, there are conversations in French, in English, in "half-and-half" . . .

Everything's going SO beautifully in fact that Mireille manages to snatch a minute for a last-minute touch-up. There she goes, down the far side of the garden, bug-bomb in hand, carefully spraying the legs of chairs on which guests will sit later to view a 15-minute film on France.

And there wasn't a bug-bitten ankle in the bunch . . .

Home in Charlottesville, Va., Awaits Pair Who Are Vacationing In Michigan's Upper Peninsula After Saturday Rites

A reception at the Windmill Pointe drive home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Domzalski followed the Saturday morning, August 22, wedding of their daughter, Deborah Ann, and Peter Michael Curl in St. Ambrose Church.

For the 11 o'clock rites the bride selected a gown of sculptured white cotton styled with a paneled front of pleated white organza and a short train. Her matching cap caught a long silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of Eucharis lilies and ivy.

The newlyweds, vacationing in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, will make their home in Charlottesville, Va.

Attending the bride were honor maid Nancy Ward and bridesmaids Catherine Champion, Marlene Grosse, Lisa Curl, the bridegroom's sister, and Patricia and Judith Domzalski, sisters of the bride.

They wore white crocheted hats and summer print frocks featuring yellow and green figures on a white background, the bridesmaids' styled with inverted back pleats trimmed with yellow satin, the honor maid's with a green satin-trimmed back pleat, and carried casual bouquets of white and yellow daisies.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Curl, Jr., of Deeplands road, asked Benson Ford, Jr., to act as best man.

In the usher corps were Steve Jones, John A. Tompkins, Jr., and the bridegroom's University of Virginia fraternity brothers Jeffrey Miller, of Charleston, W. Va., Thomas Brown, of Oak Hill, W. Va., and Peter Dinehart, of New York.

Mrs. Domzalski chose a dress of beige lace over melon taffeta for her daughter's wedding, the bridegroom's mother a pale avocado chiffon ensemble. Both mothers chose glamellia corsages matching their costumes.

The bride's brother, Henry Michael Domzalski, II, recited the readings during the ceremony and her brothers Timothy and Alan Domzalski were in attendance while her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moulton, of Jackson, were among the out-of-town guests.

Unable to attend were the bridegroom's brother, First Lieutenant Louis J. Curl, III, and his wife. Lieutenant Curl is stationed in West Berlin, Germany.

Mr. Boyer Weds Beatrice Boyle

Douglas Mitchell Boyer claimed Beatrice Katherine Boyle as his bride Saturday, August 22, in a morning ceremony at St. Matthew Church with The Reverend Albert J. Hildebrand O.S.A. presiding.

After the 10:30 o'clock service a reception was held at the Detroit Yacht Club where the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel Boyle, of Bishop road, Detroit, had greeted guests at their wedding reception.

The wedding party traveled to the DYC in two boats, one belonging to the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Palms Boyer, of Cloverly road, and the other to the bride's uncle, Dr. Frederick James Boyle.

For her marriage the former Miss Boyle selected a gown of imported dotted swiss, its Empire bodice edged in Schiffl embroidery. Tiny organza ruffles and embroidery formed her puffed sleeves and the embroidery organza motif was repeated on her Chapel train.

Flower-trimmed streamers fell from the back of her matching pillbox which secured a Chapel length illusion veil.

In sleeveless A line turquoise dotted linen frocks styled with ruffle-necked Empire bodices and ruffled hems, with matching pillbox hats, were honor attendants Denise Elizabeth Rouleau and Mrs. Walter Joseph Dossin, the bridegroom's sister, and bridesmaids Alesia Grace Bicknell, Ellen J. Winckler, the bride's cousin, and Mary Carleton Sloan, of Cleveland Heights, O.

Charles William Casgrain, III, served as his cousin's best man. Ushers were Martin and Michael Wills Boyer, the bridegroom's brothers, Richard M. Gridley, of Elmira, N.Y., and William J. Dorais, of Wabash, Ind.

Mrs. Boyle selected a white daisy-embossed turquoise coat and dress costume. She carried white gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a white-trimmed dress and jacket of hot pink Italian cotton and carried small pink tea roses.

The bridegroom's wedding ring belonged to his grandfather, Joseph Boyer, Jr., famed racing car driver and winner of the Indianapolis 500.

The newlyweds, vacationing in the west, will make their home in Midland while the bridegroom completes his studies at Northwood Institute.

All Play Profits Go to Cottage

They found the play, "The House Is Haunted," in a library book and it gave them an idea: Why not use some of their summer "play" time for a purpose?

Why not give a "benefit performance" for Cottage Hospital?

And so they did, last Thursday, August 20, the first at Nancy Stewart's home in Kenwood court, the second at Nancy

Kirk's in Lincoln road, both very good performances according to parents and friends whose donations admitted them to the audience.

Casting, directing, producing . . . the young fund-raisers did it all, absorbing all costs so all profits could go directly to Cottage.

Historic House To Be Opened

Visitors to the Michigan State Fair scheduled Friday, August 28, through Sunday, September 6, will have an opportunity to tour the historic Ulysses S. Grant House which is located on the fairgrounds.

The residence was occupied by President Grant when he lived in Detroit with his wife, Julia Dent. At that time he was a lieutenant assigned as Company Officer and Quartermaster of the Detroit Barracks. He resided in the home from 1849 to 1850. The house was located at 253 East Fort Street.

The Grant House will be open to the public from 11 to 8 o'clock. There is no admission charge.

A recent grant to the Detroit Historical Society by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America in Michigan, spearheaded by its historical activities chairman Mrs. John B. Watkins, of Cloverly road, has made possible the complete rebuilding of the interior walls and ceilings and the re-installation of a fireplace in the living room area.

Members of the Colonial Dames have volunteered to research and install appropriate exterior plantings in keeping with the mid-19th century period of the house. Actively engaged in this work are Painters Mrs. Robert Hamilton and Mrs. Robert C. Winter.

The home is furnished in the style prevalent during the period of Grant's occupancy of the house — and many items are directly associated with General Grant himself.

French Consul General Jacques Dirks-Dilly who, with Mme. Dirks-Dilly, was smiling and talking, in French or English depending upon the group-of-the-moment, at the Wilkinsons' East Jefferson avenue home last Friday.

Also there were vice-presidents Henry de Segur Lauve and Guillemette (Mrs. Charles) Bachrach. A short conversation with Mary Lauve revealed that she and Henry will be in Paris this fall. Guillemette, of course, is back from a summer trip to France. The Bachrach's gave a debut party for daughter Janet at Guillemette's family's Chateau de Gros Censay a few weeks ago.

Janet and her sister Annie Lory (Mrs. Patrick) Griffin were among the Wilkinsons' Friday evening guests too, and like the Grosse Pointe Alliance's charming young secretary Maryvonne Ghibeaux their skirt lengths remain above the knee . . .

(But after all it's still summer, and warm . . . We'll check in again with the Alliance later in the season, sometime after the first Moment of Truth, and report on what lengths Grosse Pointe's chick Francophiles are going to . . .)

Treasurer of the new group is Rene Robert. Besides Guillemette, Maryvonne and the Messieurs Lauve and Wilkinson, Jacques Bajer, Lenore Marshall (like Mireille she chose pants for this first Alliance get-together), Thirza Morrow and Nicole Stroh serve on the board of directors.

They've planned a something-for-everyone first-year Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe agenda, including wine tasting parties, a French film with English subtitles, a program by Thomas Morrow on the French contribution to the Apollo moon shots and a "Soiree au Cabaret" with James Ollivier, French guitarist and poet.

And a benefit bridge tournament, first activity of their first season. It's scheduled for Friday evening, September 11, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium.

Under The Southern Cross

What happens when United States high school juniors and seniors suddenly find themselves in a foreign country surrounded by non-English speaking people, strange food and different customs?

That was the situation for the 64 members of the 1970 Youth for Understanding Chorale June 22 when they arrived in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, first stop on their seven-week summer tour of South America.

Barbara J. Waggett, of Lincoln road, Phyllis Gore, of Westchester road, and Gary B. Morrison, of Whittier road, are among those whose apprehensions began to fade within a few hours.

The Chorale members found that many of their host families had had children in the Youth for Understanding Exchange Program who had gone to school in The States. In Rio most of the Portuguese-speaking hosts had studied a little English and were delighted to "try it out" on their guests.

And the boys and girls from the Northern Hemisphere soon found themselves picking up bits and pieces of Portuguese from their Brazilian families.

The Chorale members are home now after performances in Brazilia and Porto Alegre as well as Rio in Brazil, Montevideo, Uruguay, Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Santiago, Chile.

It wasn't all work and no play, of course: There was time for the beach, an all-day boat trip, a soccer match, sightseeing and touring . . .

All in all, a fabulous experience.

The Youth for Understanding Chorale is a mixed ensemble of high school juniors and seniors from Michigan and Ohio area schools. Each singer is recommended by the Music Department of his own high school. The Chorale began weekly rehearsals last November.

Its purpose is to interpret America to people of other countries through music.

ALEXANDER BLAIN, IV, of Williams road, who received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Washington and Jefferson College in 1968 and served with the United States Army for three years before joining Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, Inc., this past May as district manager has been appointed Southeastern Michigan JA public relations director.

Thea Werner Says Vows On Thursday

Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Arthur William Waters Will Both Be Attending University of Michigan Graduate School

Exchanging marriage vows at an evening ceremony Thursday, August 20, in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church were Thea Irene Werner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Werner, of Severn road, and Arthur William Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Waters, of Lakeland avenue.

The Reverend Robert Wurm officiated at the rites which were followed by a reception and dinner at the Village Manor.

The former Miss Werner who wore a wedding gown of ivory silk organza chose to be married on her father's birthday. Her Cathedral length mantilla was edged in Alencon lace and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

She designed and made her attendants' Empire frocks of pink cotton with embroidered rosebuds, featuring small puffed sleeves and matching ribbon sashes. Pink rosebuds and ivy formed their bouquets.

Darby Werner was her sister's honor maid and bridesmaids were two other sisters, Jo and Mary Ellen Werner.

Best man was Mark Lovese, of San Antonio, Tex. Ushering were Craig Colin, of Cleveland, O., Lawrence Garzel, of Ann Arbor, and Theodore F. Werner.
