HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, August 27
NEARLY 800 YOUTHS hurled fire bombs, rockets and firecrackers at police at the border of Royal Oak and Birmingham Wednesday in the third consecutive night of violence after the closing of Royal Oak's Memorial Park.

THE LADIES of Women's Liberation observed their day in Detroit Wednesday with a "wet-in" at the City-County Building, a street theater in Kennedy Square and seminars at the Downtown YWCA. The women were celebrating the 50th anniversary of women's suffrage.

Friday, August 28
VICE-PRESIDENT Spiro T. Agnew flew to Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Friday for an early afternoon meeting with Premier Lon Nol. The Phnom Penh airport was closed to all commercial traffic Friday morning as a security measure to guarantee Agnew's safety. He is the highest ranking American official to visit Cambodia since the Lon Nol government ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Saturday, August 29
JOHN NORMAN COLLINS began serving a life prison term Friday for a crime he said he did not commit. As Collins became his sentence, law enforcement officials for the first time publicly linked him to six other area murders. In his first public statement since his arrest, Collins maintained he never knew a girl named Karen Sue Beiseman or took her life. The brief statement came as Wash-tenaw County Circuit Judge John W. Conlin formally sentenced Collins to life imprisonment for the murder of Miss Beiseman, an 18-year-old Eastern Michigan University freshman.

MICHIGAN BLUE CROSS and Blue Shield will request an average rate increase of five percent Monday. It would be the fifth increase this year for Blue Shield and the fourth for Blue Cross. If the Michigan Insurance Bureau approves the increases, Blue Shield rates will have gone up 54.2 percent since January 1.

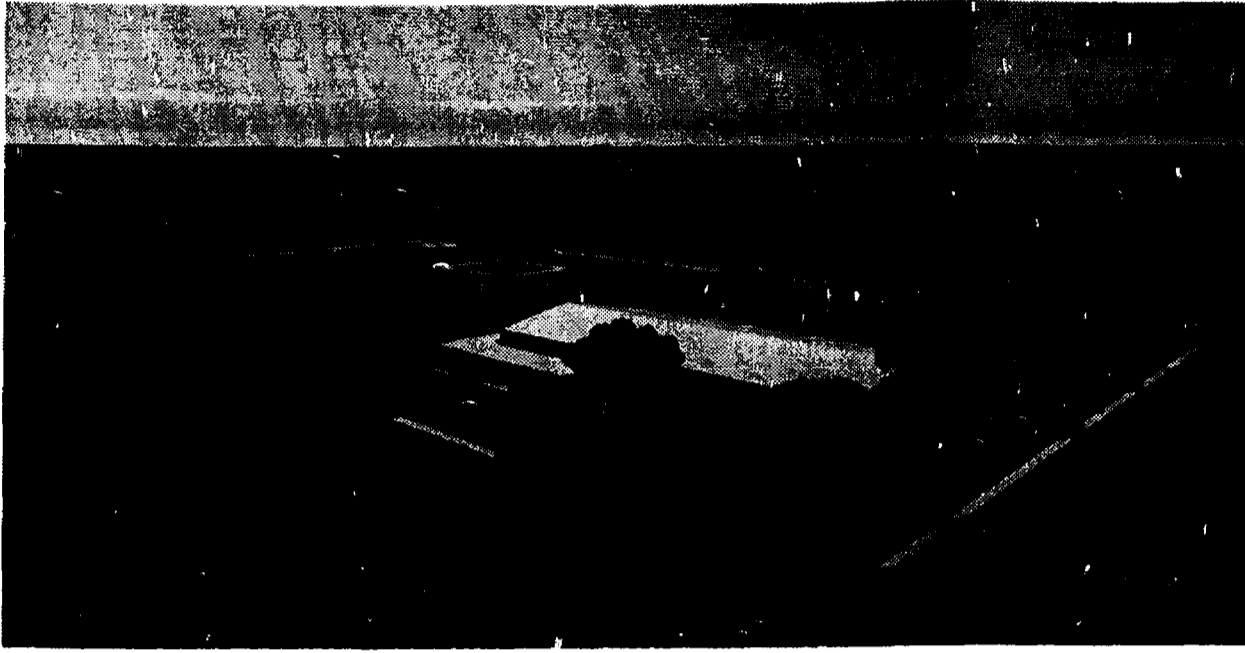

Sunday, August 30
RIOTING BROKE OUT Saturday among 7,000 persons at a Mexican-American anti-war rally in East Los Angeles. Demonstrators burned buildings, smashed store windows and injured police officers. Police used tear gas against demonstrators.

Monday, August 31
NORTH VIETNAMESE TROOPS attacked An Hoa Orphanage compound and hospital nurses' quarters and a nursery on Sunday. They began by hurling at least 50 mortar rounds at the compound from safe hill positions. They then moved into an unprotected garden on the orphanage grounds and threw hand grenades and plastic charges into wards where the 60 or so children were huddled in terror underneath their beds. The troops, dressed in North Vietnamese uniforms, fired their automatic weapons at everything that moved. They executed the Buddhist monk of the An Hoa Pagoda, stole all of the orphanage's money, and all of its chickens and pigs. The half-hour action left 12 persons dead and 45 wounded. Seven of those killed and two-thirds of the wounded were children. The others were nurses and staff workers.

Tuesday, September 1
THE SUPREME COURT set the stage Monday for a broad, definitive ruling on the steps school officials must take to accomplish racial desegregation. The justices set aside the first argument day of their 1970-71 term for the hearing and ordered the lawyers in the six cases to speed the filing of their briefs.

CITY CLERK GEORGE EDWARDS reversed his position on punch card voting for the city of Detroit Tuesday. Edwards, who originally pushed through punch card voting for the city, broke a tie vote as the city Election Commission voted two to one to abandon the system and return Detroit to voting by lever-actuated automatic machines.

Architect's Drawing of Proposed Sports Center

Further discussion of the request of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association to use a portion of the George Elworthy Field for the erection of this building is scheduled for the meeting of the Grosse Pointe City Council next week. If approval is granted the association is prepared to launch a drive to raise the money to finance the project.

Fish Rodeo Saturday for City, Farms

Resident Children under 17 Urged to Register at Their Park's Gatehouse or Checkroom

The Grosse Pointe City and Farms Fishing Rodeo will be held Saturday, September 5, at the Farms Pier. Entry blanks for children under 17 years of age can be obtained at their park's gatehouse or checkroom.

The events scheduled are fishing from 9 to 10:30 a.m., and the issuing of prizes for the Rodeo and pre-Rodeo at 11 a.m. Contestants arriving after 10:30 a.m. will be unable to receive refreshments or prizes.

Once the entry is returned, the contestant is also enrolled in the pre-Rodeo. Fish caught off their respective piers should be registered at the gatehouse or checkroom for a chance at additional prizes.

The pre-Rodeo contest runs through 6 p.m. Friday, September 4. So far Mike Kaufman of the City has caught a 22½-inch Northern Pike, Don Brower, a 19½-inch Catfish, and Mary Winkler, a 19-inch Sheephead. For the Farms, Larry Ahee caught a 24½-inch Channel Cat, Arthur Wormet, a 7-inch Bluegill, Tom Graves, a 14-inch Perch, and Clarice Weskel, a 23-inch Carp.

Important!

Early deadline. Since Monday, September 7 is LABOR DAY, the Grosse Pointe News Office will be closed. Therefore, we ask the cooperation of our advertisers, classified and display, and persons wishing to submit items for publication to bring these in by Thursday or Friday preceding the holiday, to assure that they will be received in time for the September 10 issue.

Farms Officials, Personnel Welcome New Police Chief

Robert K. Ferber, 32, assumed his duties as the Farms Police Department's new chief on Monday, August 31, on an optimistic note and expressed his delight in becoming the head of the force of a "community my wife and I liked from the moment we saw it." Ferber, who resigned as police chief in Oberlin, O., to take over the Farms position, is married to the former Mary Jackson of Dearborn. They are the parents of two daughters, Laurel, who is four years old; and Andrea, who is only 11 months old.

The new police chief is a 1961 graduate of Michigan State University, East Lansing, from where he received his bachelor degree in Police Administration. A short time later he was appointed to the Milwaukee

Strike Delays Completion of Improvement Project Involving Vernier Road

Negotiation Talks Broken Off; Strike May Last for Months; Original Work Crew Must Complete the Job

Road building along the stretch of Vernier Road, from Mack Avenue east to the Grosse Pointe Woods city limits ground to a halt, Tuesday, September 1, because of a strike by the operating engineer's union.

With only three days to complete the highway surfacing and two weeks to finish the job entirely, including replacing top soil along the side, the union contract has run out with members refusing to renew because of a wage dispute.

Asked about the chance of hiring another crew to finish the work, Dale Morris, project engineer for the Michigan Department of State Highways, said that this was impossible.

"We'll just have to wait for the crew strike to be settled before the street can be finished," Morris said.

Big Pay Boost Asked

The strike centers on a wage hike by the engineers who are asking for a contract giving them a hike of $3 per hour the first year.

The Michigan Road Builders Association, representing the Tony Angelo Cement and Construction Company, hired by the state for the roadwork, countered with an offer of 60 cents the first year, 70 cents the second, and 80 cents the third for a total of $2.10 by 1973.

Representatives in the dispute hesitated to speculate about the length of the strike, but Gary Bernier, Angelo Construction company engineer, said that if the strike lasts a month, it could go on till next Spring.

After two weeks of negotiations, talks between the union and Michigan Road Builders broke off Tuesday, September 1.

Jurisdiction Change

The widening and improving of the road is a result of a jurisdiction change from the Department of State Highways to the City of Grosse Pointe Woods. The Woods had agreed to accept the responsibility of Vernier only on the condition that the State make a minimum amount of improvements.

Several years ago, a $38,000 offer by the state for improvements was turned down by the Woods as not being sufficient. The dispute finally settled, the state has agreed to pay one-half of the total cost for the improvement of Vernier and other roads. The city is now investing $420,000 in the project.

With school starting next week, the city has expressed concern about the possible traffic congestion created by cars traveling to and from Grosse Pointe North High along Vernier.

Morris, however, has indicated to City Manager Chester Petersen that most of the barricades will have been removed by the time school is in session.

Petersen said that there will still be hindrances on Vernier, creating more traffic congestion than has been apparent in recent years, even though most of the area will be clear.

Million Goal Of Academy Fund Drive

Chairmen of Two Divisions of Campaign Announced by Miles M. O'Brien, General Chairman

Grosse Pointe Academy's Capital Fund Drive is slated to begin September 15 and culminate October 31, with a goal of one million dollars.

Miles M. O'Brien, general chairman of the drive, has announced today that his son, Miles M. O'Brien Jr., has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Patterns Gifts Division of the campaign.

Mr. O'Brien Jr. has long been active in Academy affairs serving on the Montessori Committee at the time of the school's reorganization, and subsequently on the Acquisitions Committee of Action Auction '70.

Mr. O'Brien is a member of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters and of the National Association of Security Dealers.

He lives in Hall place with his wife and two children. His five-year old daughter attends the Montessori Early School and is the fifth consecutive generation in her family to attend a Sacred Heart affiliated school.

Besides his activities with the Academy, Mr. O'Brien has been active in various political organizations and conducts Christian Formation classes for high school students through St. Paul's School.

Mrs. Leo J. Fitzpatrick, Jr. has accepted the chairmanship of the Alumnae Division in the Academy Fund Drive. She lives with her husband and four children in Touraine road.

All of the Fitzpatrick children attend the Academy and are the sixth generation of the family to attend Sacred Heart affiliated schools.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick has long been active in community affairs, including president of the Junior League of Detroit 1968-1970, member of the board of trustees of the Grosse Pointe Academy, area and district chairman for the United Foundation and member of the Women for the United Foundation (W.U.F.).

The Alumnae Division will be made up of 14 teams of workers who will be contacting alumnae of the Academy and its predecessor, the Convent of the Sacred Heart, during the period of the Fund Drive.

Valuable Radio Taken from Car

Mrs. Constantine Karacostas, 1239 Buckingham reported to Woods police that between 9:50 and 10:05 p.m., Tuesday, August 25, an AM-FM car radio worth $250 had been stolen from her car.

The theft occurred at the Howard Johnson's restaurant, 20460 Mack, where Mrs. Karacostas' daughter had parked the car.

South High School Plant Is Subject Of Detailed Study

Eleven Recommendations for Improvements Made in Report Submitted to Board of Education Concerning Renovation

The physical plant of Grosse Pointe South High School received its share of attention in the recently-released report of the evaluation team representing the North Central Association, school accrediting organization which visited Grosse Pointe in mid-April.

"There are some obvious needs for immediate improvement in this school facility," the report states. "It is hoped that an all-out effort will be made to convince the community of these new needs and both improved and new school facilities and be realized," the document continues.

Richard A. Lyden, Principal of Sylvania High School in Birmingham, was chairman of the Visitation Team composed of 37 impartial educators.

In a memorandum to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Principal Gerich wrote, "We shall find it very difficult to follow through on many recommendations in the report because they involve major modifications in our physical facilities. In this context, I should like to make a strong appeal to the Board for the immediate implementation of the master plan for the renovation of South High incorporated in the Linn Smith Associates' report."

"Such a plan is needed now if we are to avoid the fragmentary approaches of the past which were responses to the immediate press of enrollment or particular educational needs," he commented. "I do not imply that physical facilities alone assure educational excellence. However, I feel the staff has developed educational plans that are ahead of the potential of the present plant. I should like to urge the Board of Education to develop a specific plan of action for the renovation of the South physical facilities," he concluded.

Eleven Recommendations

Eleven recommendations for improving the physical plant are included in the report which the trustees of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education have been studying since August 24.

Both of the "B" annex buildings should be taken out of service and replaced because of their age, inefficiency, and the obvious inability to economically maintain them once again functional. Certain sections of the "B" annex are not being used now because problems arise in adhering to fire safety regulations. There is an obvious problem with climate controls, particularly ventilation and temperature control. The corridors are not wide enough to handle the traffic.

The Quonset hut, used for Driver Education, should be taken out of service and replaced. The building is unsightly and except for providing a place for auto bodies, is not functional. This building style was designed to serve a temporary purpose.

There are many rooms in the total facility that are very small. These small rooms and a rigid structural partitioning system limit the amount of flexibility in instructional organization. There is a need to have more flexibility by having lecture, seminar and independent guest areas.

Any information, which will be kept confidential, should be referred to the Park Police Department, Valley 2-7400.

Petrie said that the first incident took place on Jefferson on Tuesday, August 25, at 7:30 p.m., between Devonshire and Bedford, where the 15-year-old was straddling her bicycle, talking to a girl friend, also on a bike.

The victim and her friend said that the man appeared, seemingly out of nowhere, perhaps from behind some bushes, and approached rapidly. The girls said the man came into view so fast, they were not exactly sure from what direction he came.

As he was passing, the culprit placed his hand on the 15-year-old, after which he ran from the scene.

Second Approach

At 7:49 p.m., Petrie said, the same man approached two young girls, both sisters, 11 years old and 7 years old, who were standing on the corner of the 1000 block of Whittier.

The intruder asked the sisters if they would like to play hide-and-go-seek, but the girls refused to answer. Whereupon, the man told the older child that she was "it" and grabbed the younger girl and dragged her into a rear yard of a house on the block, where there was a child's play house.

Committee Report Made After Visit

Inadequacy of Physical Plant Mentioned in Document Lauding Well-Qualified Staff

Jerry J. Gerich, Principal of Grosse Pointe South High School, has revealed the details of the report of the re-evaluation visit of the North Central Association, April 14-16 of this year.

A theme that recurs throughout the 45-page document is that although the quality of teaching is high and that the staff is well-qualified, the teachers' efforts to improve the instructional program are hampered by the inadequacy of the physical plant.

The report was compiled by Richard A. Lyden, Principal of Wylie E. Groves High School in Birmingham, chairman of the re-evaluation visit. Mr. Lyden said that three general observations summarize the opinion of the total committee:

"1. An excellent relationship exists between the staff and administration of Grosse Pointe South High School. The staff participates positively, accepts and carries out group decisions, and there is evidence that all members of the staff contribute to the general counsel of the school."

"2. The relationship between the school and community is exemplary and this is a credit to the continuing efforts of the principal. The community is an excellent resource and much effort is made to use its people, life, and culture to enrich the curriculum."

"3. Planned change in the curriculum is taking place at a number of levels and in many different ways — beginning with the instructor and including students, building and system administrators, and the community. Changes in the strategies for teaching and learning were observed. The change included efforts in independent study, the inquiry approach, team planning and teaching and lab methods."

Faculty Made Study

Preparation for the mid-April visit was preceded by an intensive self-study by the faculty at South to assess its effectiveness, its problems, its potentialities for growth, and its stance toward improvement. Mr. Gerich said that the year's activity culminated with the visit of the Evaluation Team which reviewed South's self-study and checked the school against the criteria established by the North Central Association.

"The intent of every school self-study and evaluation is to stimulate the improvement of the school," Mr. Gerich said. "It is our task now to translate the words and observations in the report into action within the school. As we study the report this fall, definite and specific steps will be developed to implement the recommendations in the report," he added.

Staff Commended

"The committee wishes to staff, and particularly the steering committee, for the depth and quality of the self-study," Mr. Lyden said. "The observations in the 19 separate reports the opinions of the individual visitors." Each is based upon the observations of committee members after a thorough review of the self-study."

Birmingham Principal Lyden headed a team of 37 educators who visited South High School to evaluate the educational program following the intensive self-study by the staff. G. Bruce Feighner, recently appointed Principal of North High School, was a member of the team. He was responsible for the report on music, the subject he taught prior to assuming a series of administrative posts in Royal Oak. He was formerly principal of Dondero High School there.

19 Areas Covered

The detailed report covers the following 19 areas: administration-school plan; administration-staff; parent education; community and student information; driver education; English; extracurricular activities; foreign language; guidance program; home economics; industrial arts department; instructional materials center; mathematics; music; physical education department; program of studies; (Continued on Page 2)

Supreme Court Decision Subject of School Letter

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, outlined on Monday that a letter outlining the school's position on the recent textbook decision by the Michigan Supreme Court would either be mailed to parents or children in school or be given to students to take home after school begins.

He said that at the present time he is not recommending a deposit on books although this practice is being instituted in many districts. Dr. Anderson added that the school will modify the current requirements for physical examinations, although he said that a continuation of the policy is desirable.

Dr. Anderson said that the local public schools will charge a $1 fee for the rental of swim suits during 1970-71, which is permitted under the recently-developed guidelines written by the State Department of Education and based on an interpretation of the Supreme Court opinion by the Attorney General.

"Since the teaching staff will not be on duty until next Tuesday, it is impossible to determine minimum standards for some courses that in the past have used a wide variety of expensive materials," Dr. Anderson said. He added that such offerings included courses in sewing, art, shop, and photography.

The Superintendent of Schools said that each school system has the right to set the minimum of supplies to be allotted each student.

(Refer to Linn Smith, Demlene, Adams, Inc. feasibility study for the present site. It is a respectable far-sighted report which incorporates professional expertise and citizen in-put). Lack of adequate master planning explains the present hodge-podge of buildings.

5. There are several academic areas that operate in facilities that are considerably less than optimum, (Industrial Arts, Music, Humanities). Improvement of these areas would enhance the possibility of increased learning opportunities for students.

6. The total site (25.9 acres) is inadequate for this school's student population. This is a comparison to the average metropolitan school site of 30 acres.

7. The parking facilities are presently inadequate and should be improved. There are presently 255 on-site parking spaces. The number of parking spaces needed is considerably above this and adds to a confusion in traffic flow. Even though not observed, it is logical that this over-saturation of automobiles would result in a student safety hazard.

8. The present design and building arrangement affords a problem for student circulation patterns. Distances from one end of the facility to the other are great, and in many cases students have to go outside through parking areas to the annexes. This should be improved upon in future planning.

9. There is a need to get the departments together. They are spread throughout the buildings. This does not allow for normal exchange of ideas or systematic planning.

10. Storage space is at a minimum in the school plant and should be improved. This problem exists for both instructional and maintenance and service materials.

11. Furniture replacement should be continued under a planned replacement program. Laxity in this area can produce a school with a surplus of worn, obsolete furniture.

The North Central Association's report lists the following "commendable features about the physical plant of South High School:

1. The new Instructional Materials Center is very up-to-date, a functional addition. With the addition of carpeting for acoustical control, it would be much better.

2. The Physical Education area is a well planned and utilized area. The number of teaching stations made available is unusual.

3. The main building (1928) has been kept in a good state of repair and indicates a good maintenance program. The building reflects its age and instructional organization relative to that period.

4. The appearance of the main structure has character and charm and reflects a proud tradition in the style of a community such as Grosse Pointe-Cleminson Hall with its high ceilings and ornate decorations is indicative of this style.

5. The administration is commended for its plan for maximum usage of the present facilities.

6. The administration, staff, and community should be commended for recent efforts in working with architects to improve the school plant.

Following are comments about the various parts of the program: "The administration, staff, and community should be commended for recent efforts in working with architects to improve the school plant" . . . "The art program at Grosse Pointe South High School is a good program" . . . "The business education department is staffed with an enthusiastic, competent group of teachers" . . . "The staff of the Grosse Pointe South High School should be commended for a superior community relations efforts."

Other Praises Sung
Other comments are: "The driver education program as conducted by Grosse Pointe South High School has not been content to merely meet state level requirements" . . . "The English program at Grosse Pointe South High School is moving from a rigid English 1-2-3-4 organization to elective courses" . . . "The extra-class activities at Grosse Pointe South High School are doing a commendable task of meeting student needs" . . . "The members of the Grosse Pointe South foreign language department are to be complimented on their thorough self-evaluation of their program."

Also: "An excellent working relationship is evident among the members of the guidance team" . . . "Grosse Pointe South High School students are fortunate in having nine home economics courses from which to choose" . . . "Although the industrial arts facilities are poor, the teachers are doing an excellent job under the most adverse conditions" . . . "The instructional materials center of the Grosse Pointe South High School is an excellent, well-equipped facility" . . . "The mathematics department has an excellent program. The staff appears to be sincere in their own evaluation of class offerings" . . . "The music program fits into the general spirit of the school."

Programs Are Landed
And: "Due to the diversity of the (physical education) program, a student need not necessarily be an outstanding athlete in the more 'traditional sports' in order to succeed and enjoy the offerings of this program" . . . "Grosse Pointe South High School provides its students with a wide selection of subjects which are particularly well-gearred to the high academic aspirations of the majority of its students and community" . . . "The members of the science department are quite enthusiastic and feel strongly about instruction" . . . "The academic and experiential background of the members of the social studies faculty is definitely a strength" . . . "The Grosse Pointe school district should indeed be proud of South High School, in particular its staff and administration."

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, expressed satisfaction at the thoroughness of the report. Each of the individual sections consist of a general statement, a listing of "commendable features" observed, suggested "recommendations." He commended Principal Gerich, the Steering Committee, and the staff for their efforts.

Rossetti Takes On Drive Job

Grosse Pointe architect Louis A. Rossetti will serve in a leadership post with the building and transportation unit of the 1970 Torch Drive.

He has been appointed a division chairman for building trades and will direct campaign solicitations among architects, consulting engineers, and those in the building management and maintenance fields.

Rossetti is president of Rossetti Associates, incorporated last year. He formerly was vice president of architecture and design with Giffels & Rossetti Inc.

This year's Torch Drive is scheduled for Oct. 13 through Nov. 5 to benefit nearly 200 health and community services in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Its goal will be announced Sept. 10 after the United Foundation board of directors meets and reviews recommendations of the goal and allocations committee.

Major Detroit area buildings designed by Rossetti include the 22-story headquarters for Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield, the Federal-Mogul Corp. office complex in Southfield, and the medical science facility at Wayne State University.

He also designed the fine arts center at Nazareth College, Rochester, N.Y., judged an honor award winner by the Michigan Society of Architects, and was responsible for the plan and design of Oakland Community College.

Rossetti attended the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit, where he received his bachelor of science degree in architectural engineering.

He is a recipient of the Alpha Rho Chi honorary medal and a member of Tau Beta Pi, engineering honor society and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

He is a member of the American Institute of Architects and serves on its international relations and architecture for commerce and industry committees. He also serves as a design committee member of the Detroit chapter of AIA, the Governor's Committee on Aesthetics for Special Projects.

23 Traffic Cases Heard In Park Municipal Court

Municipal court convened Wednesday, August 26, for the City of Grosse Pointe Park with Judge William E. Speer presiding over 23 cases.

Ten of the cases heard were brought to court for speeding. Among them Ernest Schmatz, 983 Fisher, pled guilty to a charge of driving 10 over in a 25 mph zone. Found guilty, Schmatz was fined $20 plus $5 in court costs.

Gerald McCarroll, 1262 Kensington, pled guilty to speeding 35 in a 25 mph zone. Given the choice of either paying $15 and $5 court costs or spending five days in jail, McCarroll paid the fine.

Pleading guilty to speeding 10 over the 25 mph speed limit, Barbara Brandt, 528 St. Clair, was found guilty, fined $15 plus $5 court cost.

George Dally, 20697 Kingsville, Harper Woods, was charged with driving five over in a 25 mph zone. He was fined $10 plus $5 court costs after the court found him guilty on a guilty plea.

Martha Brown, 2910 Drexel, was found guilty and fined $30 for speeding 40 mph in a 30 mph zone. She had entered a guilty plea.

Mark Reppenhager, 1361 South Oxford, charged with the same offense, also pled guilty and was fined $30.

Charged with speeding five over in a 30 mph zone was Joseph Richardson, 1034 Shipperd Court in Detroit. After pleading guilty to the charge, he paid a fine of $20.

Court action for defacing a license and driving 35 in a 25 mph zone was brought against Vance Barnett, 4841 Iroquois, in Detroit. He pled guilty to both charges, was fined $30 for speeding and $20 for defacement of his license.

Francis Peck, 16841 East Jefferson, pled not guilty to a charge of speeding 10 over in a 25 mph zone. He was found guilty but the court suspended his sentence.

Also receiving a suspended sentence was Harry Reynolds, 643 Rivard, because of a good driving record. Ticketed for speeding 37 mph in a 25 zone, Reynolds entered a guilty plea.

In other action, the court signed a warrant for the arrest of James Lewis, 1485 St. Clair, in Detroit for not appearing in court on a charge of driving without an operator's license.

Lewis' bond of $50 was forfeited.

Thomas Wagner, 3827 Courtville, was issued two violations, and pled not guilty to both.

The court, finding him guilty for changing lanes without a signal and for failure to honor a stop sign at a later date, suspended sentence on the first charge.

For the latter charge, however, fines and costs totaled $30 for Wagner. The court also suspended his license for 30 days and placed Wagner under probation for a full year.

Thomas Higgins, 1375 Grayton, pled guilty to failing to stop at a stop street. The court placed him on a one year probation and suspended his license for 60 days after fining Higgins $10 plus $5 court costs.

Ralph Dockery, Jr., 2501 Eastlawn, ticketed for failure to signal, pled guilty and was fined $10.

Buster Ervin, 3041 Ellery, Detroit, also pled guilty to the same charge. The court found him guilty and fined him $20.

Ticketed for failure to use his signal light on April 14 of last year, Fred Karam, 31611 Fairfax, Livonia, pled guilty and was fined $15.

Stopped and charged with making an illegal left turn, Marlon Lazuka, 3636 Alter Road in Detroit, pled guilty. The court found him guilty and fined him $20.

Paying $15 and $5 court costs, Michael Scallen, 878 Neff road, was found guilty of making an illegal left turn. He had entered a guilty plea.

Entering a not guilty plea and found not guilty was Douglas Palazzolo, 1149 Lakepointe. He was charged with making a left turn in front of traffic.

John Reeve, 4124 Beaconsfield, Detroit, pled not guilty to careless driving, causing an accident and leaving the scene of the accident. The court found him not guilty in both cases. The slight damage in the accident was settled.

A not guilty plea was entered by Esther Conway, 3580 Gray, Detroit, for running a red light and causing an accident. Because of her good driving record and all parties involved receiving payment of damages, the court suspended sentence.

Grace Falk, 1136 Maryland, entered a not guilty plea to pulling into moving traffic and causing an accident. No witnesses appeared and the court found her not guilty.

Eight warrants were signed for those who failed to appear in court to answer to charges of moving violations.

Walter Seegers of 406 Barclay, informed Farms police on Sunday, August 30, that an unknown person fired a BB pellet through the thermopane window at the front of his house. He said that it would cost $100 to have the glass replaced.

Now that you've collected your interest, you could be losing money.

Think First.

It just happened. They added the interest to your savings account. But before you start feeling secure, read on. And find out how you might be shortchanging yourself.

The fact is that more people are earning more money than ever before. And are having more trouble holding on to some than ever before. You know how it feels. And we know how you feel. You want to save money but everything seems to be working against you. Regular monthly bills are bigger than ever. Charge cards are handier than ever. The trap seems deeper than ever.

How to make some extra money.

If you've been saving money in a passbook account, at least you've been saving. But you could be shortchanging yourself.

The simple fact is that many financial institutions are paying a lower rate than First Federal Savings is allowed to pay on regular passbook savings.

That's why we're offering to buy your passbook. Yes, buy.

We'll transfer your current balance (plus any interest due you) to an insured First Federal passbook account.

Then the next time you collect interest you'll collect more, depending on the type of account you select. And we have lots of them. Certificates with various maturity dates and interest rates. Regular passbook accounts. They all earn the highest interest rates available in Michigan (5%, 5 1/4%, 5 1/2% or 6%).

We're savings specialists. Thirty-five years of helping people put it away for rainy and sunny days, new homes, cars, college, braces, vacations, weddings.

Right now 210,000 savers (we're Michigan's largest savings institution) count on us for ideas and guidance.

We've learned a lot of secrets about saving money, over those 35 years, and we'll share our secrets with you.

You can learn how to force yourself to save. If it takes force. How to separate long-range savings from here-and-now needs.

And how to break the charge card habit. How to pay cash. How to save up for things you want to buy and earn interest rather than pay interest. Just come in and ask. And we'll tell you how all these things work. For you.

Here's what you should do.

Bring your present passbook to one of our 24 offices.

Or mail it to us. We'll take care of all the paper work to transfer the balance in your present account, plus any current interest due you, to a First Federal passbook.

And in a few days, you'll have that First Federal passbook. And the next time you collect interest you'll collect a profit.

A profit based on a higher rate. Combined with our special Daily Interest, paid and compounded quarterly.

You could earn more money than you can earn if you keep your present account. Keeping your present account could cost you money. Compared with a First Federal account.

And you don't need something else that costs money. You need something that saves money.

We can do more for you if you'll think First.

What is man?

Just brain, blood, flesh and bones? A material body?

Most of us would agree that there's a lot more to man than that.

The greatest teacher of all, Christ Jesus, said "It is the spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing."

He proved by his example and healing works that man's real nature is spiritual, not material.

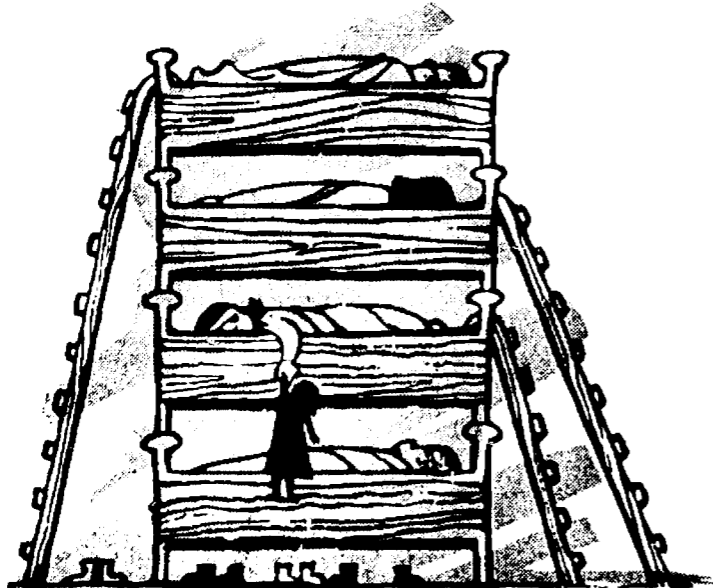

If you are interested in knowing more about your real nature, you will enjoy hearing the Bible Lesson on "Man" to be read this Sunday in our church.

19 Cases Heard by Judge Goodrow in Woods Court

Grosse Pointe Woods Judge Don Goodrow heard 19 cases when court convened Wednesday, August 26.

Kenneth Bartholomew, 21925 Fressard, St. Clair Shores, appeared in court on a charge of driving with an expired license. He pled guilty, was found guilty and fined $15.

For driving with no license in his possession, Edward Hill, 1704 Fields, Detroit, was found guilty and fined $25. He had entered a guilty plea.

Richard Paul, Jr., of 28212 Harmon, in St. Clair Shores pled guilty to driving with defective lights. He was found guilty and fined $10.

Found guilty of driving with a suspended license, Brian Barney, 1571 Yorktown, was given a $100 fine and jailed for six days. He was fined an additional $10 for driving an unregistered vehicle. Barney entered a guilty plea to both charges.

Dennis Ross, 1621 Oxford, appeared in court on a charge of speeding. The plea was guilty, he was found guilty and fined $25.

The court found John Ciarrano, 1993 Lennon, guilty of driving with defective lights and fined him $5. He had entered a plea of guilty.

To a charge of driving with a suspended license Joseph Mel drum, 1514 Dorthen, had entered a not guilty plea. The court found him guilty of the charge, gave him a five day jail sentence and fined him $100.

In court to answer a warrant for loitering, Mark Cruttenden, 2120 Garland, Sylvan Lake, entered a guilty plea and was found guilty. The court fined him $20 and placed him on probation for one year. On another charge of loitering, Cruttenden was found guilty and fined $15.

Franco Cardillo, 710 East Margaret, Detroit, was charged with making an improper left turn. Cardillo pled guilty, was found guilty and fined $10.

Charged with impaired driving was Steven Maynard, 1061 South Renaud. Maynard was fined $150 after being found guilty.

For failure to yield the right of way, Judith Kahrmanis, 19128 Morningdale, Detroit, was stopped and ticketed. At court, she pled guilty, was found guilty and fined $10.

The court found Michael Morgan, 10201 Jefferson, Detroit, guilty of driving with defective lights. He had entered a guilty plea and was fined $10.

Salvatore Mancuso, 21631 Edmonton, in St. Clair Shores was fined $15 for loitering. Mancuso had pled guilty.

Pamela Shaw pled guilty to a charge of speeding. The court found her guilty and she was fined $12.

For speeding, Thomas Washburn, of 87 South Ave., Mt. Clemens, was fined $15. The court found him guilty after he had entered a plea of guilty.

William Snehkamp, 548 Pear-tree, was charged with disobeying a stop sign. He pled guilty, was found guilty and fined $18.

Delbert Ellis, 6835 McClellan, Detroit, pled guilty of careless driving and was found guilty. He paid a fine of $25.

The court found Wilbur Labony, 1320 Lakepointe, guilty of failure to yield the right-of-way and causing an accident. He was fined $25.

Francis Szarynski, 120 West Montclair, Detroit, was fined $100 and sentenced to five days in the Wayne County jail for driving with a suspended license.

Twenty-five warrants were issued for failure to answer a summons and 13 cases were dismissed after hearings.

Police Chief

(Continued from Page 1) who has done a great job with the youth of Oberlin, is the type of man needed to solve major problems in youth orientation in the Pointe.

"My wife and I are extremely happy coming to the Farms," Chief Ferber said, "which we view as a wonderful community. Mary, especially, is happy to return to her home State, since her family is from Dearborn.

"We plan to move into a home at 325 McMillan road, sometime between September 15 and September 21. In the meantime, until the house in McMillan is vacated, we are staying with relatives in Dearborn.

"I have been very well received by the Farms officials and by the personnel of the department, for which I am grateful. I have much to learn about the operation of the department, since it is all new to me, but with the cooperation of Lt. Sylvester and the members of the force, which is already being extended, everything should work out fine."

As he becomes more familiar with the functions of the department, Ferber added, he might add some changes and impart new methods to what he has found to be a smooth working department.

The new police chief succeeds Jack F. Roh, who resigned in August 1969 after serving the community as the department head for three years. Roh died one month after leaving office.

Lt. Sylvester was acting chief until the arrival of Ferber.

Ask Cooperation Of Businessmen

Occupational education is an important facet of The Grosse Pointe Public School System's program, but in order for it to be successful cooperation from businessmen is vital.

As an illustration, a program in industrial technology currently being offered at North High School is in need of employers in the fields of drafting, wood processing, graphic arts, metals, electronics and all areas of industrial technology.

Students in this cooperative program attend classes in the mornings and spend their afternoons in jobs pertaining to their particular interest field. All of them are seniors and many of them have had work experience. All of them are taking training classes in occupational education in trades and industries.

Tony Spadafore, coordinator of the program, has spent most of his summer lining up jobs for his students and has succeeded in finding some of them employment with Mobil Oil. But Mr. Spadafore still needs employers who are willing to help train and employ his eager, young students.

Successful businessmen are also desperately needed to serve on the advisory board which meets five to six times yearly and appraises the faculty of the newest innovations in their fields and suggests possible in-school-training programs to the staff.

If you are looking for reliable, interested young people contact Mr. Spadafore at 886-8100 extension 53 until 4 o'clock weekdays or at 881-3604 after 4 o'clock or on weekends.

TIRE STOLEN

Mrs. Peter Dow, 284 Hillcrest, called Farms police on Tuesday, August 25, and reported the theft of a spare tire from her car which was parked at the rear of Krogers parking lot, on Kercheval on that date. Mrs. Dow told officers she had noticed a suspicious white male, in his late 20s near the vehicle when she left it. She described the youth as having light hair, weighing about 160 pounds, about five feet ten inches tall, wearing khaki pants and a sport shirt.

Adult Woodshop Class Offered

Woodshop classes are open for enrollments for those Grosse Pointe adults whose busy hands and active minds want to take advantage of the excellent facilities and instruction offered by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools Adult Education Program. Under the capable direction of Edwin McLean, adult woodworking students are able to bring their home projects into the school shop and apply the proper tool to the task at hand.

Mr. McLean has had excellent response from the many students who want to do anything from the most simple little spice box to the most difficult cabinet work; everything from furniture repair to furniture reproduction. Women as well as men often find this a good adult education class and are able to learn the use of woodwork tools, while completing an original project of value. One of the major aspects of this course is that of using tools safely. A thorough introduction to each of the many beautiful woodworking tools is afforded each student.

Interested persons are urged to call the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271 to make a reservation for the Woodshop class. This ten week class is held on Monday evenings at South High School (from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning October 12. The enrollment fee is $12.00.

Kiwanians Get Together

President Nixon reiterated his hope that the nation's voluntary organizations will help him solve some of the more pressing sociological problems of the day on a non-governmental basis, during a recent interview with Robert F. Weber, president of Kiwanis International, Grosse Pointe resident. The President noted the accomplishments to date of the National Center for Voluntary Action which is a group of organizations banded together, at his best, to accomplish as much of this problem solving as they can.

The President also commented on Kiwanis' nation-wide program of drug use and abuse education called "Operation Drug Alert" which seeks to unite entire communities in their efforts to combat today's drug problem; and he noted Kiwanis' experimental television series called "You and the Law" which is designed to let panels of college students and selected experts on law and justice explore publicly the many aspects of today's formal side of justice and changing code of morals.

Nixon, a former member of the Kiwanis Club of Whittier, California received Mr. Weber; Senator Gerald Ford, a member of the Kiwanis Club of Grand Rapids-Southkent, Michigan; and Kiwanis International Public Relations Committee Chairman Darrell Coover of Washington, in his office in the White House.

Weber presented the President with a bell-striking boat out of her wits, nevertheless, dashed into the yard and ran to the door of the play house, where she witnessed the man holding his hand over her sister's mouth, and just about to attack her.

Culprit Surprised
Surprised at seeing the older girl, the culprit released his victim and ran from the play house, muttering, "Don't tell your parents about this." The children ran home and informed their father and mother, who promptly reported the incident to the authorities.

"This man is potentially dangerous," Chief Gerard Kesteloot said. "The way he roughly handled that little girl, leaves no doubt in my mind that he is dangerous. I shudder to think what he might have done."

"I also shudder to think what could have happened if that child had screamed, or struggled to escape. This man might have killed her to keep her quiet."

"I sincerely hope that someone will recognize this man by the description given by the girls, and call our department. This man should not be allowed to roam the streets. Any information received will be kept in the strictest confidence. The name of the informant will not be revealed."

The description of the wanted man was broadcast to law enforcement agencies in the surrounding area.

JUVENILE SHOPLIFTER
An employee of Kay Baum's, 16822 Kercheval, called City police on Wednesday, August 26, to report she was holding a juvenile shoplifter, who had taken undergarments from the store. On arrival officers called the juvenile's parents. The merchandise was returned and the girl warned.

Church Plans "Youthquake"

The Youth of Grosse Pointe Baptist Church are planning a type of revolution called "YOUTHQUAKE." This revolution will be held September 11-13 at the church at 1805 East Eight Mile Road, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Mel Johnson from Minneapolis, Minn., will be the guest speaker for the week-end. He is an author of 25 books and booklets for youth and has a daily radio broadcast called TIPS FOR TEENS now heard on a special network of 77 stations throughout North America and select overseas stations.

Mel Johnson is known widely as a speaker at Conferences, Churches, Crusades and Clinics. His understanding and knowledge of the needs of young people combined with his sparkling wit, make him an effective speaker for all members of the family.

"Trusting Christ as Savior can make a revolutionary change in a person's life," says Rev. Bob Radcliffe, Minister of Christian Education and Youth at Grosse Pointe Baptist Church. "Youthquake" has been designed to share this type of revolution. The week-end meetings will include exciting youth sessions, a fabulous "EXPO '70" Youth Banquet, a Burger Bash, a Parent-Teen Seminar and a Youth Leaders' Seminar. Mr. Johnson will also be speaking at the regular Church Services on Sunday. Please call the church office if you desire further information. (881-3343).

Born in Indiana, Mrs. Youngblood is survived by her husband, Gene; two sons, John and Robert; two daughters, Barbara and Mrs. Dorothy Newlon and a brother Fred Gilbert.

Interment was in Mount Oliver Cemetery.

WALTER J. FETTER

Funeral services for Mr. Fetter, 80, of 618 Notre Dame, were held on Wednesday, August 19, at the Verheyden Funeral Home. He died in his home on Monday, August 17.

A retired conductor for Detroit Street Railway Company, Mr. Fetter is survived by four sons, Walter Jr., Francis, William and Albert; two daughters, Betty Fetter, Mrs. Jerry Gill; 13 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

PHILIP CHAPMAN GIBBS

Funeral services for Mr. Gibbs, 60, of 17430 Maumee avenue, will be held today, Thursday, September 3, at 11 o'clock, at Christ Church Grosse Pointe.

He died after a short illness at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital on Monday, August 31.

Born in Toledo, O., June 14, 1910, Mr. Gibbs spent his life in the Detroit area. He was graduated from Highland Park High School, Highland Park Junior College and The Detroit Business Institute.

He was a well-known musician, playing with Russ White, Seymour Simons, Gene Goldkett and the Max Gail orchestras.

At the time of his death Mr. Gibbs was a sales engineer with the William A. Dale, Inc.

He is survived by his wife, the former Constance Beery; two sons, Philip C. Jr. and James; two daughters, Mrs. John W. Henderson, Jr., and Patricia; his aunt, Mrs. George O. Paul, and five grandchildren.

Mr. Gibbs was in state at St. Margaret's Chapel, Christ Church-Grosse Pointe. Friends were to be received there on Wednesday, September 2, from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center, 1006 Eliot, Detroit.

STELLA ANGELE PRATT

Services for Mrs. Pratt, 76, of 1156 Maryland avenue, were held on Monday, August 31, in the Verheyden Funeral Home and from Assumption Greek Orthodox Church. She died on Thursday, August 27, in Belmont Nursing Home.

Born in Greece, Mrs. Pratt was the wife of the late Constantine. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Anthony Lingon, Mrs. Thomas Vassil; two sons, James and John; five grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Memorial tributes may be made to Assumption Greek Orthodox Church. Interment was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

MARGARET C. KRAMER

An Open Letter to the Patrons of the Village Manor

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

First let me express our regret at losing a fine and honorable competitor. We are sorry to see the Village Manor leave the Grosse Pointe scene and wish the Lehman's happiness in their retirement.

Secondly, we know that filling the void left by the closing of the Village Manor will not be an easy one.

Beginning with Tuesday, September 8, 1970, the day after Labor Day, the OLD PLACE will offer a dinner menu within the spirit and price concept of the Village Manor. This menu, in addition to our regular menu, will be offered Monday thru Friday from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m., after 7:30 our usual dinner menu will prevail.

In the near future the OLD PLACE will offer a Weight Watchers menu for lunch.

Hoping to be of service in this regard, I am,

Yours,

Whites Celebrate

LABOR DAY

When honoring the dignity of man's labor this Monday—stop to think that out of 3,000 employment opportunities presently available within the Pointe, above the level of Domestic, only about 1% or 30 are held by blacks instead of 25% or 750 people which would correspond to an equal proportion of the population—

And this folks, perpetuates the cry of white racism, from our black brothers—and aren't they right.

How to perk up a summer-weary lawn!

This is the time of year when most lawns need reviving. Best way we know is to feed with Scott's famous TURF BUILDER, the fertilizer that helps grass multiply itself. It goes right to work building thicker, greener, sturdier turf. Strengthens grass roots too, so your lawn will "winter" better. Clean. Lightweight. Easy to handle. Use it any time, any weather. Will not burn grass or harm grass seed.

Save $2 15,000 sq ft bag (60 lbs) 13.95 11.95
Save $1 10,000 sq ft bag (40 lbs) 9.95 8.95

Add the vigor of new life to your lawn

Not only is early fall the naturally right time to seed a lawn, but this fall you can save on WINDSOR, Scott's improved variety of Kentucky bluegrass. When fully developed, WINDSOR makes a magnificently green lawn that thrives in summer sun. It takes wear and tear and when damaged has the ability to repair itself. WINDSOR is ideal for seeding a new lawn or upgrading an older one. And it's available as all Windsor or a blend containing 35% Windsor.

Scott's 100th Anniversary Sale

Save $2 on Windsor 2,500 sq ft (3 lbs) 11.95 9.95
Save $1 on Blend 35 2,500 sq ft (4 lbs) 7.95 6.95

Come in for FREE grass clippings bag

Come in and pick up a GIANT HANDI-BAG with our compliments. It's ideal for picking up grass clippings, shrub cuttings, or garden debris. Disposable, free-standing and easy to use. Makes lawn work easier and a lot more enjoyable.

Save $5 on Scott's Spreader

We'll take $5 off the price of a Model 35 lawn spreader when you buy it with any other Scott's product. Scott's Model 35 is ruggedly built, yet it's lightweight and easy to handle. Rust-resistant finish. 18-inch spreading width. Alone $19.95, only 14.95 with any Scott's product.

Everyone Is Happy With Mr. Lemanske

The Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature for Youth has singled out Daniel Lemanske, for a special commendation in recognition of his outstanding service to the community by maintaining a consistently high standard of business ethics for refraining from the sale of immoral material in the content of magazines sold in his store, the Notre Dame Pharmacy.

The Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association joined in commending Mr. Lemanske for offering the community a news counter completely free of objectionable literature. They said Mr. Lemanske typified the citizenry needed to make the Pointe community a desirable place in which to live and raise young people.

Mrs. Lawrence E. Holmes, member of the Literature Council, said "what makes Mr. Lemanske outstanding is that he has contributed to the literature group for many years and practices his beliefs by not permitting any of the immoral publications in his store." Mr. Lemanske said, "I have sent so many back, so often, that they just don't include that type of publication in my order any more."

The Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature for Youth, Inc. is a non-denominational civic organization which seeks the voluntary cooperation of Pointe retail merchants in a policy whereby obscene magazines are neither displayed nor sold to children at any Pointe store.

Council members told the NEWS that they have received the unanimous cooperation of ALL Pointe merchants. These merchants display the official seal of the Council. This seal assures parents and citizens that the newstand is cooperating with the Council in keeping obscene literature off of their counters. The Council, however, does not request a store owner to refuse these magazines to adults.

The Literature Council, through its Speaker's Bureau, carries on a free program of community service. Council speakers work for a greater public awareness; that newstand smut is the direct source for mail-order pornography. By sending for items advertised in certain magazines a child can unknowingly place his name on the mailing list of pornography syndicates. Even though a child may send for a perfectly innocent item or give-away merchandise, the chances are very good he will also begin receiving offers of smut materials through the mail. It is almost impossible to get a child's name removed from a mailing list because such lists are traded and sold from one syndicate to another. According to Council members, because the syndicates have international agents, a child can receive offers of mail-order smut from European and South American sources as well.

It is the Literature Council's belief that by working together the parents, churches and retail merchants of our community can build and maintain Christian values. The Literature Council's Review Board, composed of delegates from both protestant and Catholic churches in the Pointe area, examines current magazines available in the community and classified those which are, in their opinion, unsuitable for children. Delegates are selected and approved by the pastors of each church.

The standards employed by the Review Board are the same as those used by the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and TV Council to evaluate television programs for children. Material is ruled objectionable if, in the opinion of the majority of members, it is found to be indecent or immoral in editorial matter, photography, advertising and material or captions.

Grounds for ruling material unsuitable for children include use of profanity, obscenity, or extreme vulgarity; attacks on marriage or the home; encouragement or promotion of disrespect of law; justification of murder or suicide; advertisement of licentious material or products; presentation of sex in an improper or suggestive manner; and presentation of sex crimes.

The Review Board then publishes a list of magazines reviewed and found objectionable and submits the list to each Pointe drugstore and supermarket. The owners or managers voluntarily withhold from the children, the magazines on the list.

Over the years the Literature Council has contributed funds for the purchase over 50 children's books for the Grosse Pointe Public Library. The selection of the books is always made by the Children's Librarian Staff.

Park Police Nab Burglar Suspect

Park police, dispatched to a Detroit gas station where a burglary was reported in progress, apprehended a suspect a short distance away, and released him to Detroit authorities for further investigation and questioning.

On Sunday, August 30, at 10:19 p.m. the police dispatcher heard over a radio which monitors Detroit police calls, that someone was attempting to break into a Standard Service Station, 15935 Mack Avenue, Detroit, just over the Park-Detroit city limits.

The desk officer dispatched Sgt. George Blair and Patrolmen Don DePlace, Ralph Moore and Steve Molitor to the scene to investigate, or to assist Detroit policemen, if necessary.

Blair and DePlace arrived at the gas station first, and saw a male figure running from the station and east in the alley behind the building. They checked the area, with Moore and Molitor.

In the 3500 block of Haverhill, Detroit, Moore and Molitor came upon a man laying face-up, on the front seat of an automobile. There was a bulge under the man's shirt, and assuming it might be a gun, the officers ordered the man out of the vehicle, their service revolvers aimed at the subject.

A search of the man's person revealed that the bulge was caused by a hack saw. A search of the car turned up other miscellaneous tools.

The man was held and released to Detroit policemen, who had been combing the area for the person who had escaped from the burglary scene.

Public Schools in Focus

One topic with which virtually everyone is in agreement is that "assessment" or "accountability" or "evaluation" (choose the word you want to use), in education is long overdue. Having just received our results of the first state-wide assessment Grosse Pointe has become "assessment conscious." This is as it should be. But I remind you that we are not alone.

The following pertinent excerpts are from the August 7 issue of Education Summary. I want to share them with readers of this paper because of their ramifications for education.

"FEEDING ANSWERS to students became an issue in the Dorsett Educational Systems, a private contractor, was to be paid in proportion to its success in improving reading and math ability. Investigation revealed that teachers were including exercises in their teaching materials similar to those on tests given to measure students' achievement gains. Dorsett claimed only about 6% of test questions were affected, but evaluators said early indications were that the figure would be substantially higher."

Performance contracting to get large-scale trial involving six firms under OEO sponsorship. "In the most wide-ranging attempt so far to introduce the concept of accountability into education, the Office of Economic Opportunity is financing a project in which six private companies will sign "produce or else" contracts with 18 school systems across the country. The $5.6-million, one-year trial, to begin this fall, aims at boosting the reading and math skills of an estimated 10,000 youngsters from low-income families, in grades one to three and seven to nine. "OEO claims that random selection of a variety of tests will prevent the kind of irregularities that have marred the widely publicized Texarkana project, in which Dorsett Educational Systems will be the contractor."

"The six private contractors will use an extensive assortment of educational hardware and teaching materials, plus special incentives for students and teachers. Students may get trading stamps or free time; teachers may get cash bonuses. "In addition, OEO will choose three other school systems, with a total of about 1,080 students to test the effects of the schools' own use of such incentives without contracting with outside companies. And still another 15,580 youngsters will be watched for comparison with those directly involved in the 21 projects."

Power Squadron Offering Course

The Grosse Pointe Power Squadron will hold its Fall Pilot-ting Class at Grosse Pointe High School North, Vernier road. The first class begins on Monday, September 14, at 7:30 p.m. in room 312.

The course is tuition free and approved and taught by members of the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron, who are trained and experienced in teaching safe boating. The men contribute their time and skill to promote safety afloat as a community service.

The course is open to adults and young adults. Necessary reference materials will be on sale at a nominal cost during the first three Monday night sessions.

Those attending the class are asked to enter the school from Vernier road on Grosse Pointe North drive, not from the Morningside drive entrance.

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Virginia Leonard

A very interesting article has appeared in the August 16 issue of the NEW YORK TIMES REVIEW Section, entitled: "In Publishing, the Word is Trouble." And "trouble" here is the same as it is in many places — rising costs, for, after all, book publishing is an industry. Costs rise, sales remain static; profits were generally down in 1969 and nothing so far in 1970 suggests that there will be any improvement. Publishing has its share of labor troubles and there is quite a turnover among editorial personnel. Conglomerates are swallowing up prestigious smaller publishing firms.

Productions costs have gone up about 50 percent in the last 10 years, which is in line with our general economy, granted, but some elements of the production process have actually doubled in cost. Then you also throw into the pot the tremendous advances some popular authors are getting. It is rumored that Philip Roth received $250,000 just for the hardcover rights to PORTNOY'S COMPLAINT, and you begin to see the picture.

Even marketing costs have hit all-time highs. Braziller figures it takes $20,000 annually to keep one book salesman in the field. At Doubleday, (which owns Literary Guild, Bargain Book Club, Mainstream Book Club, Cook Book Club), volume is running ahead of last year, but it is believed that this is attributable to intensive membership drives made the year before.

To compound the difficulties, there are slumping sales in profitable children's and textbook sectors — both of which have always been looked upon as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar. It is estimated that textbooks alone account for 35 percent of total publishing volume, and good children's books will continue to sell two to five thousand copies over a period of years. But so far this year sales in both categories have been down because of a cutback in Federal and local outlays for libraries and elementary and secondary schools. Student riots and vandalism, and closing of colleges have also contributed. One editor says: "With the advent of Federal funds for libraries in 1965, publishers started adding titles as if there were no tomorrow. As soon as one house put out a book on bowling, every house had to have a book on bowling. There were books on every esoteric subject, more books, bad books, than kids could possibly ever read. And libraries were buying everything. Now that the subsidy has been cut off, I understand some publishers have issued a moratorium on signing up new children's books."

So — perhaps in the long run we may come out ahead. We certainly hope so. George Braziller feels that it will force all publishers to take a long hard look at the way things have been operating, and re-analyze the relationship between the editor and the publisher.

I have not meant to play prophet of doom in this column. I have merely recorded for you some of the problems in the publishing world. Since we, the library, deal in books, we must be alert at all times to the changes that are taking place in this industry.

New Course Set At Bon Secours

Dr. Benjamin Hardy Sullivan, Jr., of the Gastroenterology Department of the Cleveland Clinic will come to Bon Secours Hospital to initiate a new course in Continuing Medical Education entitled "Gastroenterology Conferences" on Thursday, September 10. His subject will be "Peptic Esophagitis" — This makes the sixth year that these courses in Continuing Medical Education have been presented by the hospital. They are designed to keep physicians and surgeons of the Grosse Pointe area abreast of new developments in medicine. The Breakfast Meetings are held at 7 a.m. on Thursdays and are concluded at 8:30 a.m. to allow the participants to resume their busy schedules.

Dr. Sullivan is a nationally recognized authority on Endoscopy and Clinical Gastroenterology. He was formerly Chief of the Gastroenterology Service of Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. In addition to his duties at the Cleveland Clinic he carries on an active consultation and teaching program at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Cleveland.

The courses in Continuing Medical Education at Bon Secours Hospital are supported financially by the James and Lynelle Holden Fund. This activity was one in which Mr. and Mrs. Holden took a particular interest and pride.

Following Dr. Sullivan on the program will be September 17, Dr. E. Frederick Lang and Dr. Alfred M. Large on "The Massive GI Bleeder," September 24, Dr. Richard McCaughey "The Medical Approach To Peptic Ulcer Disease," October 1, Dr. Paul Rizzo "The Surgical Approach To Peptic Ulcer Disease," October 8 Dr. Keith S. Henley, "The Patient is Jaundiced. What Now?," October 15, Dr. Keith S. Henley, "Chronic Active Hepatitis," October 22, Dr. Irwin K. Rosenberg, "Portal Hypertension," October 29, Dr. William B. McIntyre, "Pancreatitis: Acute, Recurrent," November 5, Dr. Robert J. Priest "Inflammatory Bowel Disease," November 12, Dr. Joseph Ponka "Diverticulitis," November 19, Dr. Don Paul Jones of the University of Chicago on "GI Hormones" and on Tuesday, November 24, Dr. Alexander J. Wait of Wayne State University "The Premalignant Lesion."

On December 10 there will be a Panel on "The Acute Abdomen in the Older Patient." The members of the Panel will be: Dr. Robert Griffin, Moderator, Dr. James M. Kennary, Jr., Dr. Charles J. Holt, Jr., Dr. Donald N. Sweeney and Dr. Francis P. Shea.

Autumn is icumen in, down go skirt hems . . . but how far down? and what, when the cool breezes blow, will/cought we to look like?

Caucho or Garbo? Shrunken Sweater or Scarlet Pimpernel Cape? Time's running out, the days getting shorter . . . Now face it: Who WANTS to be caught in this year's snowstorm with last year's chapped knees?

So isn't it NICE of the Harper Hospital Auxiliary to have arranged such an early showing of Walton Pierce's Fashion Forecast, Fall '70-Winter '71!

Mrs. Frederick Watts, of South Oxford road, Mrs. Richard Martin, of Lochmoor boulevard, and Mrs. Edmund Brady, of Sunningdale drive, are chairmen of next Thursday's benefit for the Harper Webber Surgical Intensive Care Unit.

It's a cocktail-luncheon happening at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Mrs. Emmett McNamara, of Shoreham road, (TUxedo 4-4756 after 4 o'clock), is accepting reservations.

Committee members include the Mesdames George Cartmill, Z. Stephen Bohn, Harry Devereux, Edward Shumaker, Harry Walters, Lyle Waggoner, Kenneth Krabbenhoft, Harry Lange, David Ramsey, Robert Gerisch, Arthur Eisenbrey and Thomas Petz.

DBC Set Tomorrow For Mexican Fiesta

President John O. Peters, of Cranford Lane, Will be Received into National Confederation of Charros of Mexico

In honor of Mexico's Independence Day the Detroit Boat Club will hold its second Fiesta Mexicana Friday, September 4. Senor Jorge Aguilar, Mexican Consul to Detroit, is again serving as honorary chairman. He is however, ACTIVELY participating in the planning and arrangements being made by chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henkelman and their committee.

Elena Henkelman is a native of Mexico, and she and Senor Aguilar promise a really authentic Fiesta.

Together with Senor and Senora Aguilar Senor Ezequel Rodriguez, regional sales manager of Aeronaves de Mexico, will be an honored guest.

Senor Rodriguez will be accompanied by a group of Mexican hotel officials and their wives who will be visiting Detroit to inspect its facilities as a tourist and convention attraction. A special invitation to join the party has been extended to Mayor and Mrs. Roman Gribbs.

Through Senor Aguilar a special honor will be bestowed on Detroit Boat Club President John O. Peters, of Cranford lane.

He will be received into the National Confederation of Charros of Mexico, an ancient Mexican gentlemen's society. Senor Aguilar will present the symbolic gift of the society to Mr. Peters and the corresponding gift to Mrs. Peters.

Judge Gilmore is also a member of the board of the Institute for Court Management at the Denver Law Center.

Staying the EMORY M. FORDS, of Woodland place, recently was family friend MRS. SUE PUCK, on her way home to Arcadia, Calif., after visiting in Dayton, O.

A group of beautifully costumed Mexican dancers will perform authentic dances during the cocktail hour. Two strolling Mariachi Bands will entertain throughout the evening.

Decorations will feature the very lovely Consul flags, loaned for the evening by Senor Aguilar, and tables will be brightened with centerpieces of American and Mexican flags together with colorful Mexican paper flowers.

Senor Aguilar and the Henkelmans promise Mexican favors for all with a flight for two to Mexico the grand prize.

The menu will include authentic Mexican delicacies, some made from Mrs. Henkelman's personal recipes.

Serving with Senor Aguilar and the Henkelmans on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Droulet, Mr. and Mrs. Ross S. Campbell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Mellen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tomlinson, Jerry D. Bringard and Mary Westphal.

Miss Moore Says Vows On Saturday

Suzanne Carole Moore and Gregory Leonard Schroeder exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 29, at a 2 o'clock ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. A reception in the garden of the Sunningdale drive home of the bride's guardians, Mr. and Mrs. John Earl Brink, followed the rites.

Officiating at the service was The Reverend John Najdowski, pastor of St. Paul's Chapel in Big Rapids where the bride attended Ferris State College.

The newlyweds, vacationing in northern Michigan, will live in Midland while the bridegroom completes his studies at Northwood.

The former Miss Moore chose an Empire wedding gown of ivory organza accented with Venice lace and seed pearls. Matching lace and pearl motifs etched her Cathedral length mantilla and she carried white roses, baby's-breath and daisies.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Thomas Wiggins, as matron of honor and bridesmaids Joyce Wisner, Linda Gilme and Linda Millitello, all Alpha Xi Delta sorority sisters.

They wore white-trimmed cocoa brown frocks with white organdy picture hats and carried old-fashioned baskets filled with yellow and white daisies and baby's-breath.

Stephen Schroeder was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Schroeder, of North Oxford road.

In the usher corps were William Hoffsten, Salvatore Cipriano, Roger Bondahoom, Michael Vanden Bussche, Thomas Wiggins and Richard Theyerkorn.

Mrs. Brink wore a pale yellow silk A-line dress and jacket ensemble while the bridegroom's mother chose a dress of pale champagne linen with long sleeves of organdy latticework.

Each carried a single long-stemmed yellow rose, gift of the bride.

Mrs. Gregory Schroeder

Setting for the wedding of SUZANNE CAROLE MOORE and Mr. Schroeder, son of the E. A. Schroeders, of North Oxford road, Saturday, August 29, was Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. The John Earl Brinks, of Sunningdale drive, are the bride's guardians.

Plan Fox Creek Quester Meeting

The Fox Creek Chapter of Questers will convene next Thursday, September 10, a week later than the usually-scheduled meeting date at the home of Mrs. E. G. Evenden in Rivard boulevard. Mrs. Glenn Knudson will be co-hostess. A "Show and Tell" program is scheduled.

Presiding at this meeting for the first time will be the Chapter's newly-elected president Mrs. J. L. Thompson.

Other officers for the year are Mrs. Robert Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Evenden, secretary; Mrs. Stephen Gawurra, treasurer; and Mrs. Raymond Melinger, historian.

Heritage Week Committee chairman Mrs. Michael Brennan, by-laws chairman Mrs. Robert Priest, program chairman Mrs. Knudson and publicity chairman Mrs. Robert Waters complete the roster.

Mrs. Thompson has welcomed two new members for the coming year: Mrs. Arthur Batten and Mrs. Kenneth Smith.

The Fox Creek Chapter has donated two books to the Grosse Pointe Library. They are "Pottery and Porcelain 1700-1914" by Hillier and "The Treasury of New England Antiques" by Michael.

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Valere Huvaere, of Wayburn road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, KERIN ANNE, to David L. Kopec, son of the Leonard Kopecs, of Hazel Park.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Wayne State University where she affiliated with Sigma Kappa and Pi Lambda Theta. She is currently teaching in the Grosse Pointe School System.

Her fiance is also a Wayne State graduate. A December 26 wedding is planned.

Many self-made men get tied for life to tailor-made wives.

Miss Van Loon Wed In Toledo

Yvonne Diane Van Loon, daughter of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. John M. Van Loon, Jr., who now make their home in Toledo, O., was married Saturday, August 29, in Toledo's Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church to John C. Zelling, son of Mrs. Charles Zelling, of Toledo, and the late Mr. Zelling.

Attending the bride were her cousin, Mrs. John Oliver, of Norfolk, Va., as matron of honor, Sue Ewald, of New York and Toledo, as maid of honor, and bridesmaids Josephine Perry, of Norfolk, Patricia O'Reilly, of New York and Toledo, and Linda Petrie, of Toledo.

James Zelling was best man for his brother. Ushers were Michael Howe, the bride's cousin, Johnny Van Loon, her brother, Dan Carrol, of Kalamazoo, David Laney, of Toledo, and Fred Seney, of Dayton, O.

After a reception at the Toledo Edison Club the newlyweds are vacationing on the East Coast. They will make their home in Toledo.

Poole Conducts Final Concert

Valter Poole led his last concert with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Saturday evening, August 29, prior to his retirement as associate conductor of the Symphony. The concert was held on the Rackham Building steps as part of the Detroit Discovery Festival.

During intermission Councilman David Eberhard presented Poole with a resolution from Detroit's Common Council commending him for his many years of musical service to the Detroit community.

On behalf of the Orchestra's Board of Directors Symphony President Robert B. Semple presented Poole with an English lantern clock and praised him for his long association with the Orchestra both as a member and as its associate conductor.

Following the concert there was a farewell reception in the Sculpture Court of the Detroit Institute of Arts in honor of Poole and three other members of the Orchestra who retire this summer: John Van de Graaf, bass; Oscar LaGasse, tuba; and Mischa Kottler, piano.

Poole will take a sabbatical from Wayne State University, where he is a professor of music, to conduct the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra.

Poole joined the Symphony in 1927 as a violinist. He was named assistant conductor in 1944 and associate conductor in 1951. It is estimated that he has conducted more than 1,500 Detroit Symphony concerts.

During his 25 years as a conductor with the Symphony Poole has presented the Detroit premieres of many compositions which are now part of the standard symphonic repertoire. He has also helped launch the careers of many young musicians. Some of the world's most noteworthy concert artists have appeared under his baton.

Detroiters know Poole best perhaps as conductor of the free outdoor concerts performed at the State Fairgrounds and Belle Isle Park each summer. To Detroit-area school children Poole is a familiar figure, having led hundreds of performances for young people in his additional role as the Symphony's educational director.

Present Lamaze Method Classes

The fall series of Childbirth Preparation Classes in the Lamaze Method has been scheduled by the Childbirth Information Service, Inc., a non-profit organization.

The first series, to be held at Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, starts Monday, September 21, with a new series beginning each four weeks after that date.

Advance registration and doctor's permission are required.

Expectant couples receive thorough instruction in the physiology of pregnancy as well as training in breathing and relaxation techniques to be used in labor and delivery. Classes are taught by registered nurses who have used the Lamaze Method for their own birth experiences.

The fee for a series of seven two-hour classes is $20.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the Childbirth Information Service at 756-1217 or TU 1-8808.

Symphony Preludes Start September 30

Music Education Series Is Designed to Increase Audience's Understanding and Enjoyment of Detroit Orchestra's Concerts

"Familiarity breeds appreciation" could well be the slogan of the Detroit Symphony Preludes music-education series, sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony and the Junior Women, and scheduled to start on Wednesday, September 30, at 1 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

"Preludes" is also being co-sponsored by the Library and the Department of Community Services.

The aim of the course is to give a mini-preview, by means of discussion, theme sheets, recordings and piano, of many of the great classical orchestral selections to be played during the Detroit Symphony's 1970-71 season.

The series will include four lectures at the Library and attendance at two open rehearsals of the Orchestra in Ford Auditorium, these to be preceded by brief discussion periods in the building's lower level.

The instructor for the series is Pointer Mrs. Robert Kaiser, who taught a "Meet the Masters" course locally for several years and helped organize and was a lecturer for the Women's Association's music-study group that was a forerunner of the present "Detroit Symphony Preludes" set-up.

Mrs. Kaiser, an Eastman School of Music graduate, did advanced work at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, and the Cleveland Institute of Music. She taught piano and violin increase their understanding and enjoyment of music masterpieces.

Detroit Symphony Preludes dates and topics are as follows: September 30, "Beethoven — Man and Musician" (Library); October 21, "Concerto Contrasts" (Library); November 4, "Pieces in Sets," selections by Debussy, Elgar and Webern (Library); November 25, "Symphonic Survey," Mozart, Schumann, Harris (Library); October 7, Open Rehearsal — Pierre Hetu conducting (Ford Auditorium); November 18, Open Rehearsal — Henry Lewis conducting (Ford Auditorium).

The entire series is $10; individual open rehearsals, $2; students, $1; individual lectures, $2.

The same series of lectures also will be given during October and November at the Village Women's Club of Bloomfield by Mrs. Kasler. Attendance at open rehearsals will also be part of the North End Detroit Symphony Preludes package.

"Preludes" general chairman is Mrs. John E. Young, of Grayton road.

Miss Allen Married To Wallace Kanak

Hunt Club Reception Follows Late Afternoon Rites in Woods Presbyterian Church; Pair Vacationing in East

Alencon lace accented the bodice, hemline and train of the ivory silk organza gown chosen by Diane Elizabeth Allen for her Saturday, August 29, wedding to Wallace Goodrich Kanak. Her illusion veil fell from a lace-trimmed pearl-studded Camelot cap and she carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

She is the daughter of the James H. Allens, of Woods lane. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Kanak, of Birmingham, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Gerald Blevins officiated at the 4 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church which were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

The newlyweds are vacationing for 10 days in Rockport, Mass., and New York and will sleeves and flared skirts. They wore orange carnations in their hair and carried cascades of matching carnations, yellow daisies and greens.

The bridegroom asked Robert Reberger, of Rochester, to act as best man. In the usher corps were James H. and John B. Allen, the bride's brothers, Major John H. Holler, Jeffery Jacobson and Michael Kemp. Flower girl Tracey Holter, the bridegroom's niece, wore a long, lace-trimmed yellow voile dress and carried a basket of white and yellow flowers. Her brother Scott Holter was ring bearer.

The bride's mother chose a coral silk dress and jacket with bead accents and an Amazon lily corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a pink and white cotton brocade ensemble and a corsage of pale pink cymbidium orchids.

At home in Ann Arbor after a Bermuda vacation following their late summer wedding are MR. and MRS. GEORGE C. FREDERICKSON. Mr. Frederickson is the son of DR. and MRS. G. C. FREDERICKSON, of Oxford road.

If a ride is needed or more information wanted, call Chapplain Turner, Selfridge Air Force Base, 465-1241, Extension 2611.

Cinderella Ball Invitations Out

Mrs. Troy W. Maschmeyer opened her Renaud road home to members of the invitation committee Tuesday, August 25, for a luncheon and addressing party for invitations to the 1970 Cinderella Ball. This 19th annual Cinderella Ball will be held Saturday, October 3, at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel.

Mrs. Maschmeyer is chairman of the invitations committee and in 1963 served as general chairman of the Ball.

Pointe committee members attending included Mrs. William H. Bundesen, Mrs. LeRoy Deala, Mrs. John J. Egan, Mrs. Fred B. Hillger, Mrs. Arthur R. Pfannenschmidt, Mrs. Herman P. Sattler and Mrs. Rudy Speersneider.

The 1970 Cinderella Ball Chairman Mrs. John L. Denman, from Birmingham, and president of the Women's Committee of the Tuberculosis and Health Society Mrs. John H. Ganschow, of Huntington Woods, also were there.

Others present were Mrs. Richard C. Williams, Mrs. William L. Mitchell, Mrs. Robert E. Fife and Mrs. Jess P. Judd, the 1965 Cinderella Ball chairman.

Profits from the Ball, which is sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, are used to combat and control tuberculosis and respiratory diseases in the Detroit area.

Williams-Kreps Rites Revealed

Pontiac's First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the Saturday, August 29, wedding of Linda Sue Kreps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Kreps, of Pontiac, and William Michael Williams, son of Mrs. William J. Williams, of Bedford road, and the late Mr. Williams.

The 6:30 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Galan Hershey presided were followed by a reception in Community Activities Inc. Hall.

The newlyweds, vacationing on Anna Maria Island off the Florida coast, are returning to East Lansing where they will complete their senior year at Michigan State University.

Frosted lace accented the bodice, sleeves and Chapel train of the bride's A-line organza gown. Her silk illusion veil was caught by a lace Camelot cap and she carried two dozen white roses with pink starflowers.

Honor attendant Cynthia Leavy and bridesmaids Dinah Mazur and Kim Kreps, the bride's cousins, wore frocks featuring white lace bodices and pink organza A-line skirts and carried white baskets filled with daisies, pink and white carnations and baby's-breath.

Best man was Jack Fleury. Dave Peterson and Mark Macinski seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece pink knit suit while the bridegroom's mother selected a pale aqua ensemble. Both chose cymbidium orchid corsages.

Home again after a vacation in the Orient, visiting Japan, Thailand, Hong Kong and Hawaii, are MRS. F. J. TRAMPOSCH, of Devonshire road, and her daughter HELGA.

Christ Church Rites For Susan B. Sides

Home in Miami Awaits Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Larry Milton Morphis, Jr., After San Francisco Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. W. Randolph Sides, Jr., entertained at a reception in their Lincoln road home following the Saturday, August 29, wedding of their daughter, Susan Brett Sides, and Larry Milton Morphis, Jr. The Reverend Arnold Fenton officiated at the 4:30 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

The newlyweds will make their home in Miami. They are vacationing in San Francisco.

Appliques of peau d'ange lace and tiny pearl clusters accented the bodice, wedding ring neckline and tightly cuffed lantern sleeves of the bride's ivory silk organza over taffeta gown.

Three bands of matching lace trimmed her A line skirt and a deep lace band bordered her Chapel train. Her full length illusion veil fell from a cap of heirloom lace which had been worn by her maternal grandmother and her mother and she carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Honor maid Judy Riethmiller, of Alexandria, Va., wore a pale green silk worsted frock. Bridesmaids, in identical frocks of pale blue silk worsted, were Mrs. J. B. Shoemaker, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., and Janet Morrison.

They carried bouquets of yellow shasta chrysanthemums and ivy with velvet ribbons matching their gowns and wore velvet bows centered with fresh chrysanthemums in their hair.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry M. Morphis, of Nashville, Tenn., asked William T. Girard, of Whites Creek, Tenn., to act as best man. The bride's brother, W. Randolph Sides, III, and Steve Levine seated the guests.

The mother of the bride wore organza print coat in shades of blue, coral and orange. The

Slate Goodwill Ladies Meeting

A 40th year of service to handicapped persons will be launched by the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries Wednesday, September 16.

Westchester road resident Mrs. Bernard M. Segner, president will officiate at the business meeting starting at 12:30 o'clock in the Goodwill Building, Brush street at East Grand boulevard. Preceding the meeting a complimentary sandwich luncheon will be served at 11:30 and a board of directors meeting held at 10:30 o'clock.

Russell Albrecht, executive director of the League for the Handicapped Goodwill Industries, will be the afternoon speaker. "Rehabilitation in 1970" will be his subject as he discusses plans and programs for the organization.

Last spring's merging of Detroit's two largest agencies providing training and employment for handicapped persons is expected to result in making opportunities for more diversified rehabilitation services available to a larger number of people than the totals of the agencies operating separately.

Mrs. P. S. Garypie, program chairman, will introduce Mr. Albrecht.

The Women's Association was organized in 1931 by the late Mrs. Grace B. Taylor, its declared purpose to provide personal services to the employees of Goodwill Industries and to assist in publicizing the organization which at that time had been operating only 10 years locally.

Currently its membership of 450 individuals, 66 church groups and 16 clubs continues to work toward these goals.

Recreation activities and supplementary medical assistance have been two of the Women's Association's continuing projects.

From Another Pointe of View

Pity poor Dick Law . . . now wait, hold on, just a minute there . . .

POOR Dick Law?
 Why, "poor" Dick Law has a girl in every port!
 And no sense starting in again with "Pity poor Lyn Law . . ."

She's the girl.

Lyn, who teaches third grade, stayed behind in Rhode Island until June 17, the day school ended.

Then off she flew, with a friend whose husband also serves aboard the ship, across the Atlantic . . .

When Dick's ship docked in Copenhagen, Denmark, his girl was there waiting for him.

Same thing in Hamburg, Germany.
Same thing in Edinburgh, Scotland.
Waste NO port on either Lyn or Dick Law . . .

In each port they had five or six days together. "It was," says Lyn, "wonderful!" Then, at the beginning of August, Lyn took to the skies again, re-crossing the Atlantic.

She spent most of last month here in The Pointe, visiting her parents, the Charles E. Cummiskeys, of Lincoln road.

And checking in of course with Dick's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Albert D. Law, of Harcourt road.

Last Monday she headed back to Rhode Island. Time to get ready for school . . .

And Dick.
It would never do for him to come into port and not find his girl waiting for him.

Rain Or Shine, It's Barbecue Time

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church's traditional steak barbecue moves into its second decade this year with the 11th annual event planned for next Wednesday, September 9, from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock at the Church—rain or shine.

Charcoal-grilled-to-order steaks are the main feature, of course, but not the only one: They'll be accompanied by corn-on-the-cob, fresh tomato slices, French bread and homemade pies . . .

And an accordion will provide the background dinner music.

The Young Marrieds of the Church sponsor the barbecue in connection with the Women's Association's Church Fair. Co-chairmen this year are Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Dangleis and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Rasmussen assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Erik Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Trafton, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. James Ketzler.

Presiding at the tea table at this strictly social occasion will be the new board members of the ECW and YEW.

James Batten Weds In Ohio

James Carver Batten claimed Diana Kay Sisson as his bride Saturday, August 29, at a 4:30 o'clock ceremony in First United Methodist Church, Lancaster, O. Her cousin The Reverend Alfred T. Bamsey, of Troy, officiated at the double ring rites which were followed by a reception in the Church Lounge.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Sisson, of Lancaster, entertained later at a buffet supper in their home.

The newlyweds will reside in Pittsburgh, Pa., while the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Batten, of Hillcrest road, attends Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

For her wedding the former Miss Sisson selected a gown of dotted swiss accented with Venice lace. Her Chapel length illusion veil fell from a matching lace headpiece and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white and yellow daisies and baby's breath tied with white ribbon streamers and centered with a yellow daisy corsage.

Honor attendant Linda Van Reeth, of New Concord, O., and bridesmaids Susan Rosenberg, of Dayton, O., and Nanci Greenberg wore floor length frocks of pale blue dotted swiss featuring blue satin back bows and streamers.

Best man was R. James Swarts, of Sturgis. The bridegroom's brothers Fred W. and J. William Batten and the bride's brother Donald W. Sisson seated the guests.

The bridegroom was graduated magna cum laude from Alma College in June, receiving his Bachelor's degree in History. The bride who received her Bachelor's degree in Sociology from Ohio University, Athens, in June, will work full time in Pittsburgh and attend the Seminary on a part-time basis.

AAUW Is Collecting Used Books For Sale

Donors May Arrange For Pick-Up At Their Doors; Progress and Pricing Sessions Now In Progress For October Event

Regular book pricing sessions are being held by the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women in preparation of their Eighth Annual Used Book Sale.

A little mark-up on each book enables the University Women to give financial assistance to women for post-graduate study and research.

The sale is slated to open to the public Tuesday, October 13, and continue through Friday, October 16. For the fourth consecutive year it will take place at the Unitarian Church Annex in Maumee avenue.

"We need paperbacks, children's books, fiction, non-fiction, texts, cookbooks, reference volumes . . . everything!" says Mrs. Leo P. Harwick, of University place, general chairman of the sale.

AAUW members will collect books from donors' doors. The numbers to call for pick-up are 884-6113, 886-1891 or 777-2856.

Pointers already at work collecting and sorting include Mrs. John MacKay, Mrs. Charles S. Strood, Mrs. David C. Neal, Mrs. Norman W. Gehlhar, Mrs. Edward R. Hahn, Mrs. Robert P. Bogan, Mrs. Russell Sears, Mrs. John Moran, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Fred E. Rector and Mrs. Arthur T. Bersey.

Mr. Schmuckel Will Take Bride

Mr. and Mrs. George Dossin, of St. Clair Shores, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Gloria Jean, to Donald Schmuckel, son of Mrs. Henry Schmuckel, of McKinley avenue, and Henry Schmuckel, of St. Clair Shores. A winter wedding is planned.

Houses Entered; Nothing Missing

Two Park homes were forcibly entered on Saturday, August 29, but in each case the burglars left the premises empty-handed, it was disclosed by Det. Charles Petrie.

The first reported break-in was received from Mrs. Mary Calvert of 1380 Wayburn, who told police that no one was home between 4 p.m. and 10:30 p.m., at which time she returned. She apparently frightened away the intruder in her house, she said.

Mrs. Calvert said that as she walked through the front door, she stopped momentarily, sensing something was wrong. She said she heard someone running out of the rear door. She had no change to even glimpse who the unknown was, she added.

The woman found the door leading from the basement open, and discovered the basement window casement broken, the burglar's apparent entry. Mrs. Calvert called police, who on investigating, disclosed that the intruder had only searched the master bedroom before he became frightened by the arrival of the lady of the house.

Mrs. Calvert took inventory and determined that nothing seemed to be missing.

The second incident was also reported by a woman. Mrs. Janice Lindley of 859 Barrington, notified the authorities that her home had been entered sometime between August 11 and August 29, while the family was out of town.

The burglar, or burglars forced their way into the residence by breaking glass of the rear door.

The entire house was ransacked, but according to Mrs. Lindley, nothing appeared to have been taken.

Trash Problem Has Humorous Side

Playful neighbors of the Dr. H. Miles Snyder family, of 548 Anita in the Woods, went to considerable trouble to have some fun. With the Snyders vacationing in Europe, they pooled their rubbish bags and piled them up in front of the Snyder home. The above picture, captioned "Boy, did you miss a good party . . . at your house", is being presented to the Snyders.

Hear Four Cases In City Court

The City of Grosse Pointe Municipal Court convened on Tuesday, August 25, with Judge Douglas L. Paterson presiding. Four cases were heard.

Virginia Dorian, 275 Roosevelt, was charged with harboring a nuisance dog. She pled not guilty and was found not guilty. Case was dismissed.

Joseph Mollahan, 1356 Roslyn, was charged with failure to yield the right of way. He pled not guilty, was found not guilty. His case was dismissed.

Paul Brusati, was charged with driving through a red light resulting in an accident. He pled guilty, was found guilty, fined $10, and placed on six months probation — no driving without permission of the court.

Cinema League Slates Session

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will open its fall season on Thursday, September 10, at 8 o'clock in Fries Auditorium.

David G. Brown will show two short films featuring underwater photography. The first, "Florida Underwater Diving Adventure," filmed in the Pennekamp Underwater National Park, off Key Carso, the second a travelogue of Bermuda.

Bob Headley will present two fascinating films. One captures the drama and beauty of the world of insects, entitled "Adventures in a Vacant Lot," the other, "By the Shores of Gitchecumee," an exciting fall color tour of the mountains, forests, lakes and rivers of Northern Michigan.

Schools Answer Textbook Query

In answer to recent queries made to officials at both North and South High Schools, students who wish to supply their own textbooks may do so—in spite of the Supreme Court.

"Many students will find it advantageous to do so," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, said on Monday. "If they underline as they study or if they want to mark the books in any way, they will undoubtedly be farther ahead," he added.

Principals of both high schools have asked all students to register and have all their materials ready for use prior to the beginning of classes in The Grosse Pointe Public School System, set for Thursday, September 10.

State Fair's Patrons Eat More Than Most Anybody

What recipe includes 300,000 hot dogs, more than a million soft drinks, and 144,000 hamburgers?

It's part of the recipe for fun at the Michigan State Fair. That's how many hot dogs, hamburgers, and soft drinks were served at the 1969 fair. With attendance going up every year, E. J. (Jeff) Keirns, State Fair general manager, expects this year's fair crowds to consume even more food and drink.

The 1970 State Fair runs from Friday, August 28, through Monday, September 7, in Detroit.

The fair last year had 85 ice cream, popcorn, beverage, and snack stands in addition to 65 food concessions. The statistics on what they served are awesome.

For example, 25,000 pounds of sugar were used, 18,000 heads of lettuce cut up for salads and sandwich fixings, and 70,000 lemons squeezed for lemonade. A total 78,000 caramel apples were sold and 20 cases of condensed milk used for caramel corn. Also in the sweets line, 420 cases of pie-filling were used in 12,600 donuts.

More than 300,000 snow cones were sold, and if the weather is warm, more than that will be consumed at this year's fair.

And think of having to peel 154,000 potatoes for French fries, or shuck 36,000 ears of corn, burgers?

Sandwiches other than hot dogs and hamburgers also were popular: 15,000 roast beef, 10,000 knackwurst, 31,000 sausage. To insure good food, the State Fair requires definite standards of high quality and to keep things healthy, a battery of inspectors from the food inspection division of the Department of Agriculture keep almost a round-the-clock vigil, checking each stand many times daily for purity of food and for proper food handling and sanitation.

List Presidents Of School PTAs

Thomas E. Candler, president of the Grosse Pointe PTA Council, has announced the names of the Presidents of the district's local PTA units for 1970-71. Those elected to head their respective organizations are:

Braille Classes Starting Sept. 17

An excellent opportunity for Grosse Pointe woman who have wanted to devote some time to a really worthy project is the transcription of reading materials into Braille books for the blind.

Free instruction will be given at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center every Thursday morning at 10 o'clock beginning September 17.

The instructor, Mrs. John McNamara, of Touraine road, has had five years experience in teaching this subject. She will be assisted by Miss Eva Carabel and Mrs. Ross Taylor who have worked with the class for the past three years.

Although there is no charge for the instruction materials required for the course will cost about $10. These materials must be ordered in advance so they will be on hand when the course begins. For that reason early class reservations are essential. At the completion of the course all students will be given a manuscript to transcribe into Braille. These are sent to the Library of Congress which issues Certified Braille Transcriber certificates to those who attain an acceptable level of proficiency.

According to those who do it Braille transcription is not difficult to learn and can be readily mastered by any sighted person who will work diligently. More information if desired may be obtained by calling TUXedo 1-9566.

If the speeder could see himself as others see him, many accidents could be avoided.

The theory that all's well that ends well may be all right, but why not start right?

Woods Pistol Range Rated Big Asset by Policemen

By Gregg Boyd

What is strangely enough not considered an absolutely essential element for some other police departments, is a matter of extreme necessity with the Grosse Pointe Woods Police. Pinpoint accuracy with a revolver is considered such a valuable asset to members of the force that in 1961 a firing range was designed and outfitted by the city.

Located in the basement of the city hall at 20025 Mack, the pistol and rifle range is something with which many police departments are not equipped.

"We think this firing range represents one of the best in the country," Woods Sergeant Thomas Kane said.

The room, about 25 yards long, is specially constructed with a steel wall made of super steel designed to stop .38 caliber shells traveling at 1,600 feet per second.

Members of the force are required to fire a minimum of seventy rounds a month to keep up their proficiency and accuracy sheets with a possible score of 700 points are recorded for each man. Looking through the score book brings to mind high series' scores achieved by professional bowlers: 621, 589, 642, 512, 670.

Pistol shooting can be highly inaccurate unless the policeman is aware of the firing positions that are most reliable. Each position is a compromising value of stability, convenience, and availability.

The officers are required to be just as adept with either hand in the event that one arm is rendered powerless. Barricades are used for hand support to represent firing in an alley or against a brick wall. Police also fire from the hip, on the draw, in kneeling and prone positions.

The firing range is designed to simulate almost every conceivable situation. Police even go as far as turning out the lights. A flashlight is the only aid the shooter is allowed, and that must be held at arm's length to throw off any offensive move by the "fugitive."

The target, a silhouette, is flashed at three second intervals which the officer must "hit" from seven, 15, and 25 yards. In another test, the shooter must score accurately by firing six shots, unloading, reloading, and firing six more shots all within 25 seconds. Firing the pistol at arm's length, with smoke clouding the view and speed an all important factor, accuracy can be a demanding proposition.

On one of his shots, this writer missed the target completely from 15 yards. However, members of the force seemed to have developed an amazing ability to score consistently in the high brackets.

Sergeant Kane considers shooting proficiency extremely important for every officer, even though many veterans go through 20 years on the force without once firing their gun in the line of duty.

As a general rule, police may draw and fire only to protect their own lives, the lives of other citizens, or to prevent the escape of a felon.

Woods police consider it their responsibility to be ready for any eventuality, no matter how slim.

Corrado Appeal Turned Down

Dominic P. (Fats) Corrado, 701 Middlesex, has been denied an appeal by three Sixth U.S. Court of Appeals judges, in which the reputed crime syndicate leader sought to avoid testifying before the federal grand jury investigating organized crime in Detroit.

Corrado argued that he might have to give testimony that could incriminate him in a pending prosecution in New York where he is charged with conspiring to get kickbacks on a loan from a Teamster Union pension fund.

James Ritchie, head of the federal task force investigating organized crime, has said that the Detroit probe does not concern that charge.

Chief Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman, in Detroit, already had rejected Corrado's petition.

AIR GUN STOLEN

Bob Prater, 5237 Chatsworth, Detroit, called Farms police on Tuesday, August 25, to report the theft of an air gun with a half-inch socket, silver handle and black band, from the service station at 16820 Kercheval. The air gun was valued at $180.

Judge Pytell Clears Docket

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Municipal Court convened on Wednesday, August 26, with Judge Robert H. Pytell presiding.

Five persons were arraigned, 22 bench warrants issued and 16 cases heard.

Three persons were arraigned for speeding. They included Maxwell A. Todd, 2036 Manchester, who entered a plea of not guilty and was given a September 9 trial date; Donald F. Cole, 500 Washington, who pleaded not guilty, and was given a September 9 trial date, and Albert C. Prast, 11 Williston, who stood mute and was given a September 9 trial date.

Nicholas Kappaz, 740 North Oxford, was charged with assault. He pled not guilty, posted $1,000 personal bond, and given a November 25 court date.

Hugh Tucker, 6131 St. Jean, Detroit, was charged with driving on a suspended license. He stood mute and will go to trial September 19.

Lloyd C. Martin, 1257 Wayburu, was charged with driving without his operator's license on his person. He pled guilty, was found guilty and fined $50.

Kenneth R. Helton, Jr., 2349

Green, Detroit, was charged under the drunken motor law. He pled guilty, was found guilty, fined $150, five days in DeHoCo, and no driving for 90 days.

Raymond C. Keene, 16955 Common, Roseville, was charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to drive. He pled guilty, was found guilty, and fined $50 or three days in jail.

Gail L. Fisher, Roseville, was charged with driver's license never acquired. She pled guilty, was found guilty, and fined $50 or three days in jail.

Susan H. Papacharahambous, 168 Fisher, was charged with making an improper turn. She pled not guilty. Her case was dismissed.

Edith D. Thompson, 16899 Village Lane, was charged with failure to yield the right of way. She pled guilty, was found guilty and fined $20.

Terry Kelly, 152 Kerby, was charged with having no operator's license on his person and no license plate on cycle. He was fined $25 on each charge, probation, and Drivers' School training.

Richard Kelly, 152 Kerby, was charged as a disorderly person, and placed on nine months probation.

William G. Demorest, 839 Sunningdale, was charged with failure to yield the right of way resulting in an accident. He pled not guilty, his case was dismissed.

Ronald B. Downie, 1110 Stafford, Detroit, was charged with improper lane usage. He pled not guilty, case was dismissed.

John Leidy, 860 Lincoln, was charged as a disorderly person. He stood mute—case dismissed.

Biley Barber, 712 Beniteau, Detroit, was charged as a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages. He pled not guilty, was found guilty and fined $50 or three days in DeHoCo.

Jean Lackey, 376 Chalfonte, was charged with a parking violation. She pled not guilty; case was dismissed.

Thomas Higgins, 1375 Grayton, was charged as a disorderly person. He pled not guilty, was found guilty and fined $60, placed on one year probation (must appear monthly in court.)

Larry Farley, 8294 Linda, Warren, was charged with reckless driving and carrying a concealed weapon. He pled guilty on both counts, was fined $75 on the first and $50 on the second charge.

Youths Charged With Gas Theft

Charged with larceny from an auto on Tuesday, August 25, are Michael Coats, 21667 Lochmoor and Kenneth Condit, 1856 Prestwick, both 17.

Seen leaving the parking lot of Grosse Pointe North High late Tuesday without their car lights on, the boys were stopped by Woods' patrolman Donald Sabel.

While standing next to the car, Sabel spotted a five-gallon gas can and a ten-foot section of hose on the floor of the car. After a check of the drivers-education cars, Sabel also found that a gas cap had been taken from one of the cars and was left on the ground where spilled gasoline was in evidence.

Big Salmon Runs Giving High Fevers to Fishermen

Although the Chinese calendar lists 1970 as the "Year of the Dog," Michigan fishermen will find this is definitely the year of the salmon.

mon were planted in Great Lakes tributaries four years ago, more than one million adult coho and chinook will be available for catching in Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron.

approximately three-quarters of these adult salmon will become prized trophies or sumptuous meals before coho and chinook runs are completed.

Half the problem has been solved as all but one Lake Huron tributary has been chemically treated to rid lamprey from the lake. Only the Au Sable River should be a major producer of lamprey; it will be treated in 1971.

about 50 percent of the adult coho population in the lake, left anglers with poor to fair sport fishing.

Among more liberalized rules approved by the Natural Resources Commission is the raising of the legal size of salmon fishing hooks for inland waters to three-quarters of an inch, that measuring between the point of the hook and shank.

Salmon still may only be taken by conventional hook and line fishing. Anglers who foul-hook salmon under this type of fishing may again keep these fish as part of the daily creel limit of five.

Youth Charged As Flag Defiler

A 19-year-old Pointe youth, Dennis Nicolai, 1432 Bedford, has been charged by Detroit Police of "publicly mutilating, defiling and trampling upon the flag of the United States of America, in that he used such flag for a blanket and then rolled and sat upon it."

He alleges that several minutes later a police car, (Tactical Mobile Unit), of the City of Detroit, which had been traveling on the opposite side of Mack avenue within the limits of the City of Detroit, made a U-turn and crossed over to the other side of Mack, nearest him and within the boundary line of Grosse Pointe Park, which runs down the middle of Mack avenue, adjacent to his home and property.

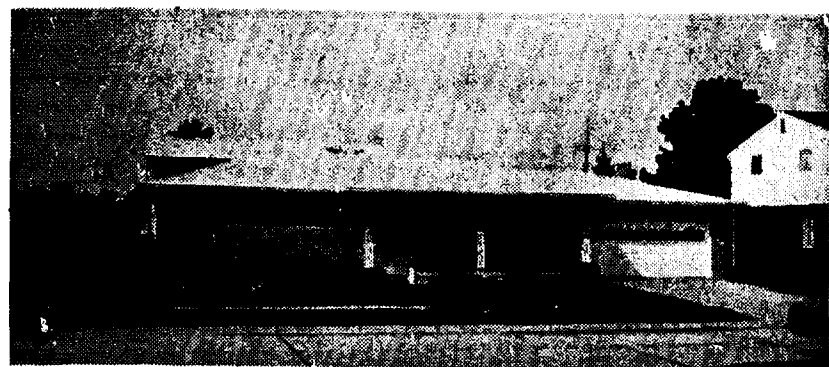

The incident occurred on June 29, in the late afternoon when according to Nicolai, he was resting on the grass of his parents' property near the side of his house.

Three Detroit Police officers, according to Nicolai then jumped out of the car and told him he was going to jail for destroying the American flag. They took him to Connors Precinct station, stripped him down to his underwear and search him again.

He contends that he had been lying on his back for a short time when a car containing several of his acquaintances stopped at the curb of the street, which was Mack avenue. They got out and placed something resembling a flag over him. He says he remained prone at all times and did not speak with his acquaintances.

Nicolai was released within the hour with no charges or complaints registered against him by the Detroit police officers who arrested him. The Detroit police kept his alleged flag which they seized at the time of his arrest in The Park.

On July 9, Nicolai was served with a warrant from the City of Grosse Pointe Park police which informed him that the Detroit Police had asked that a warrant be issued for his arrest. Nicolai was taken to The Park station, formally booked for defacing the American flag and placed in jail overnight. The next day he appeared in Park Municipal Court, stood mute on the charge and was released on $500 personal bond. His court date was set for August 26, but since has been postponed because attorneys for Nicolai have entered a motion to quash the complaint. This motion will be heard in Park Municipal Court before Judge William Speer on September 23.

THESE TREES

We all want them, but they sometimes make it hard for the guy taking the picture.

This lovely Ranch House contains 2 Bedrooms and 2 Bathrooms plus a Library which can serve as a third Bedroom. There is a full Dining room and a large Family room facing the gardens. Excellent traffic pattern. Ask for a copy of our floor plan. There is a Recreation room with bar in the basement. This house was built in 1955; in excellent condition. Very well equipped: Kitchen built-ins, electric garage door openers, etc. Gas forced air heat with electric air cleaner. Well worth a visit. May we arrange it?

BUSINESS IS PEOPLE

Especially a service business. Along with the people listed below, we offer to Grosse Pointe sellers and buyers: experience, reliability, knowledge, and courteous ethical behavior.
