ISRAEL HAS SAID the United States must pressure the Soviet Union and Egypt to remove missiles from the Suez Canal cease-fire zone or face the possibility of Israel military action against the installation. "We now demand the Americans take action," Premier Golda Meir said in a speech at a meeting of her Labor Party after Washington said it had evidence that Egypt breached the cease-fire with a missile buildup along the canal.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE announced proposed rate changes Friday which will increase most phone bills but reduce the cost of long-distance calls when dialed direct. The increase will bring in some $14.8 million for the company. The state Public Service Commission, which authorized the overall rate increase, will hold hearings in Lansing September 22 and September 23 to obtain testimony on specific types of rate increases proposed by the company.

DR. SALVADOR ALLENDE, the world's first freely elected Marxist president, promised Saturday that his would be a revolutionary government but one without a spirit of revenge. Allende's program calls for the nationalization of basic industries, including many heavily financed by U.S. companies. Allende, a 62-year-old Chilean Marxist who has been a doctrinaire political fixture for four decades, has fulfilled his presidential ambitions after three previously unsuccessful attempts.

ARAB GUERRILLAS BLEW UP a Pan American World Airways Boeing 747 jumbo jet after forcing it to land at Cairo airport early Monday and landing 171 persons aboard to safety. The plane cost $23 million to build. The 747 was one of three New York-bound jetliners hijacked by the guerrillas Sunday. An attempt to hijack a fourth was foiled in a bloody fight over England that left one hijacker dead. More than 600 persons were aboard the four planes.

THE NEW YORK DAILY NEWS reported in its Monday edition that Detroit Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy is the man most likely to succeed outgoing Howard R. Leary as New York City police commissioner. Murphy, a former New York deputy inspector and veteran of 13 years in the New York department, is New York Mayor John Lindsay's personal choice, the Daily News said. Lindsay denied this. Murphy said he had not been contacted by anyone about the post and would not comment about whether he would take the job if contacted.

ARAB AIR PIRATES released 118 women and children from two hijacked jetliners in Jordan Monday, laced the planes with explosives and threatened to blow them up unless ransom demands were met. Scores of Americans were among 184 hostages remaining aboard the jets. The Palestinian guerrillas increased their terms for freeing the passengers and crew members aboard the Trans World Airlines and Swissair planes and refused to release some Jewish women and children. They denied that the release of Sirhan B. Sirhan, convicted slayer of Senator Robert F. Kennedy, was one of their demands.

School Board To Present Videotapes

Pictures of Activities To Be Featured at Each Meeting of Trustees; First One Sept. 14

The first regular meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to be held during the 1970-71 year has been scheduled for 8 p.m. on Monday, September 14, in the auditorium of South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

"Because it is impossible for most people to make a personal visit to our schools, and because we want you to know about all the great things that are going on in our schools, this year a feature of each meeting will be a videotape presentation of school activities," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools said.

"On September 14, for example, we are featuring a 20-minute segment of summer school activities. Included is a section on the pre-school speech and language program conducted at Kerby School, shots from the computer mathematics program

Tickets Stolen At North High

James Cooper, assistant principal of Grosse Pointe North High, reported to Woods police Thursday, September 3, that a theft had occurred sometime between 2:15 and 2:45 p.m. at the school.

Stolen were ten books of athletic tickets. The books, costing $6 apiece, contained 27 tickets each. Two North High girls, who had been selling books in the hallway, report that, just before the theft, there had been a suspicious youth standing idly near the ticket stand.

Parks to Stay Open After Holiday If Weather Holds

All the Pointe municipal parks will remain open after Labor Day, September 7, with swimming scheduled as long as the weather permits, it was revealed by the respective city managers. The boating season will end, and all marinas will be closed on November 1.

Kiwanis Club Big Booster Of Youths in Community; Has Fine Service Record

Park Buses, Scholarships, Donations to Drug Alert Operation, Youth Service Division Among Numerous Contributions

By Pepper Whitelaw
Over the years the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club has concentrated its efforts on services for the youth of the community. One of its major projects has been providing buses to transport youngsters "free of charge" to and from the Woods Lake Front Park. The project was initiated some 17 years ago and has continued successfully ever since.

Its other projects include Operation Drug Alert, awarding of funds for scholarships, presentation of Christmas baskets to the needy, sponsorship of a Kiwanis Key Club at South High School, contributions to the Forney Clement Foundation, which assists children awaiting surgery at University Hospital in Ann Arbor and Mary Free Bed Hospital, Grand Rapids. It also has provided shelters and other equipment at Lake Front Park, helped with Little League baseball and Babe Ruth League baseball.

Annual Fireworks Show
One of its annual projects, initiated some 25 years ago by charter member Arnold Dising, is the fantastic fireworks display held at Parcels Field on the Fourth of July. The 1970 "better than ever" display provided Kiwanians with an all time record of contributions from local citizens.

Its current project is Kid's Day, an annual event, slated for Saturday, September 25 and September 26. During these two days Kiwanis Clubs across the nation offer the public an opportunity to donate to help Kiwanians in their children's work through donations. Kiwanis members in accepting donations will distribute "salted-in-the-shell" peanuts.

Invites Kids From Home
As a kick off for "Kid's Day" Pointe Kiwanians will entertain 60 children from the Protestant Children's Home in The Woods, on Tuesday, September 15, at Lake Front Park. Members will host the affair and serve the youngsters hot dogs, pop, baked beans, cake . . . all they can eat! The Kiwanians have also invited the youngsters to the Wayne County Sheriff's Circus on Sunday, September 27.

Woods' Mayor Kenneth McLeod has issued an official proclamation declaring the Kid's Day observance.

Rodger Graef, president of Kiwanis, and Donald White, chairman of the Kid's Day Committee, both have expressed sincere appreciation for the cooperation given them by officials and the general public.

The attendance for the entire season, from May 30 through September 7, reached approximately 928,256, it was disclosed, including guests of residents.

According to figures released by Park officials, the total number of persons using the recreational facilities at the Windmill Pointe and Three Mile Drive Parks, during the holiday weekend, was 7,243, of which 5,935 were at the Windmill Pointe Park, and 1,308 at Three Mile Drive Park.

Labor Day Busiest
On Saturday, 1,561 persons attended the Windmill Pointe Park; Sunday, the number was 1,534; and Labor Day, 2,840. At Three Mile Drive Park, the attendance on Saturday was 300; Sunday, 450; and Labor Day, 558.

At the City's Norbert P. Neff Memorial Park, the number using the facilities of this area on Saturday was 724; Sunday, 955, and Labor Day, 1,021, for a total of 2,700. The season's total was set at 118,541.

Contract Negotiations between the City of Grosse Pointe Woods and the Department of Public Safety Employees have reached an impasse and both sides have requested that a mediator be called in to intercede.

Earl Boonstra, an attorney and professional labor negotiator representing the city, said that Leon Cornfield, a mediator with the State Mediations Board, will probably announce a time for a meeting by sometime next week.

Representing the Public Safety employees are Chairman Steve Petrik, Charles Hamel, James Davidson and Donald Sun.

Anderson Outlines Major Objectives Of School System

Bulletin Issued to All Employees by Superintendent Asking Cooperation to Achieve 25 Goals of Improvement Program

In a bulletin to all employees of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, distributed in their mailboxes on Tuesday, first day of the 1970-71 year for teachers, Dr. Theos I. Anderson, superintendent, summarized his goals for the year.

"As we stand on the threshold of a new experience, I would like to enumerate what I believe to be the major educational objectives of the Grosse Pointe Public School System for 1970-71. I want every staff member—whether custodian, secretary, administrator, teacher, or librarian—not only to be aware of our goals, but to work together to achieve them," Superintendent Anderson wrote.

"I firmly believe that such guidelines are vital to an understanding of our total operation. Won't all of you join me in striving to improve our school system in 1970-71?" Dr. Anderson asked.

The goals are to:
1. Devise improved programs of communication with the various publics in our community. To encourage more dialogue about the schools and their problems with individuals and members of organizations.

2. Continue to encourage and coordinate effective curriculum development at the building-departmental level.

3. Continue to search for more effective methods of combating the substance abuse problem.

4. Expand research and development activities by conducting in-service workshops for staff, by providing guidance in the implementation and interpretation of educational assessment programs encouraged at the state and national levels, and to do additional study into the causes of social problems of community youth.

5. Develop plans for the implementation of new curricula outlined in staff-written papers in the second phase of the Professional Study Committee.

6. Continue to identify to employ, and to keep the best possible staff for the school system.

7. Seek to devise better techniques and instruments to be used in the evaluation of the staff.

8. Work with the staff to determine whether there are more efficient means to organize the teaching faculty for instructional purposes.

9. Study the current allocation of clerical help in all departments and schools and to seek to equalize imbalances.

10. Initiate a diagnostic screening clinic for all four-year-olds in the district to identify those with special educational needs.

11. Offer a new program of education for those four-year-olds identified as having a potential learning disability.

12. Redouble efforts at encouraging the Wayne County Intermediate School District to seek a permanent, more central location for the program for the trainable retarded.

13. Continue to cooperate with the staff and community agents to seek solutions to the drug problem.

14. Improve the data processing operation with the implementation of computer service.

15. Develop a proposal for the improvement of the South High (Continued on Page 2)

Over 13,000 Returning to Classrooms

System's Total Staff Reduced by Millage Defeats; Teacher Turn-over Greatly Cut

A number of changes greeted the more than 13,000 youngsters who return to classes in The Grosse Pointe Public School System Thursday morning, September 10. Some of the changes were easy to spot, while others took a bit of searching to be noticed.

Among the most obvious changes to spot are newcomers to the staff. Included this fall are two new Principals, Morris F. Hanzek and G. Bruce Feighner. Mr. Hanzek leads the reins at Parcels Middle School while Mr. Feighner will head the staff at North High. Both appointments were approved by the Board of Education during the summer.

"This year the public schools hired 48 professionals for staff replacements, the smallest number of new hires we have had in 20 years," Lawrence F. Kennedy, Assistant Superintendent-Personnel, said Tuesday. "Our normal 8-to-10 per cent turnover this year has diminished to less than 5 per cent and the number of teachers seeking employment has increased markedly this year," he said.

North High Has Most
The teaching staff at North High School will have 12 replacements this year, the most for any building in the system. Both South High and Ferry School, the system's largest elementary building, will each have five newcomers for the year. Brownell and Parcels Middle Schools will each have three new teachers while Barnes, Defer and Poupard Elementary Schools will each add two newcomers. Pierce Middle School will have one new professional staff member.

The school's Department of Pupil Personnel which services the entire district, will have six newcomers including a speech correctionist, a remedial reading teacher, two school social workers, a teacher of the emotionally disturbed, and one for pre-school education.

Five of the 15 buildings operated by the Grosse Pointe Public School System have no personnel changes involving newcomers from outside the system. They are Kerby, Mason, Maire, Monteth, Richard and Trombly. Total Staff of 969

For 1970-71 the school system's total staff numbers 969, a reduction of 29 over last year. Professional positions eliminated by millage defeats last year include three assistant principals, three counselors, and five teachers in the middle schools, a system-wide guidance coordinator, a curriculum assistant in the Department of Instruction, four elementary school art teachers, an elementary music teacher, one elementary foreign language position, three senior high school teachers, six nurses and a public librarian.

Most of the faces among the schools' staff are familiar ones, but this year some were in different locations. For example, Mrs. Eugene Miller, formerly Assistant Principal-Instruction at Pierce Middle School, was transferred to North High School where she fills the role of Assistant Principal-Pupil Services. Mrs. Miller's reassignment like others, was necessitated by curtailment of available funds.

Program Changes
Changes of a far-reaching nature are occurring in the instructional program of the schools. Officials of the Department of Instruction said that 1970-71 will mark the high point of an intensive program of curriculum improvement which began in 1967 when teachers and administrators began working on a long-range, three-phase project. Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, Assistant Superintendent-Instruction, termed curricular improvement a "never-ending challenge" which has become all the more demanding with the recent knowledge explosion and the availability of new methods of teaching and organizing for teaching.

For the first time in the history of the school district, youngsters beyond the eighth grade will be provided with "free" textbooks. A July ruling of the State Supreme Court climaxed a four-year battle between an Ann Arbor resident and the Ann Arbor Board of Ed. (Continued on Page 2)

Three Rape Cases Occur in GP City

Girl, 16, Attacked in Rivard Boulevard Vicinity; One Woman Victim Kidnapped

The City of Grosse Pointe police have been kept busy this week with rape, assault and kidnapping cases. The first report came from a 18-year-old girl who told officers she had been raped by some youths in a Rivard residence.

The girl told officers the boys picked her up to take her to a party. Later in the evening they grabbed her, threw her on the floor, covered her head with a pillow, held her on the ground, while one of the youths raped her.

She told police she kicked the boy, who finally released her. A short time later, when the youths left the room, the girl unlocked the door and fled to the home of a friend, since she could not reach her mother by telephone.

Will Sign Complaint
In talking with the girl's mother, officers were told she would sign a complaint against the youths involved in the incident.

Police were also told that the girl has since been receiving threatening phone calls.

A 38-year-old woman called City police on Wednesday, September 2, to report she had been kidnapped and raped on that date. She told officers she had accepted a ride while at the Zebra Room Lounge on Jefferson and Dickerson to Jefferson bar with a male patron. The man took her to Baby Grand Lounge at Charlevoix and Beaconsfield, where they stayed some 20 minutes.

Drives to Pointe
When they left the bar the man drove the woman to Woodland place, where he forced her to commit abnormal sex acts and raped her twice. The complainant had bruises on her lower lip, a bump on her head and bruised knees. She told officers she attempted to scream, but her assailant put his fingers in her mouth and threatened her with more bodily harm.

She was then driven back to the lounge by her attacker, from where she went to a friend's home and notified Detroit Police, who told her to make the report to City of Grosse Pointe police.

She described her assailant as having brown curly hair, hazel eyes and a southern accent. He was about 36 years of age, white, weighing about 150 pounds. She said she believed him to be a gardener or landscaper. (Continued on Page 2)

League of Women Voters Celebrating 50th Birthday

This year the League of Women Voters of the United States celebrates 50 years of service to the nation. As part of this celebration, the League has embarked on an $11 million campaign to prepare for even more significant responsibilities in citizen participation in government in the decade ahead.

The week of September 20-27 is League Week in Grosse Pointe. During that week the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters will be celebrating the national anniversary and will hold an open house tea on September 23, from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Hospitality Center on Kercheval avenue in the Village.

The purpose of League Week is to familiarize present and prospective members with the work of the local, state and national League of Women Voters. Anyone interested in learning about the League is invited to attend and, ask questions and meet the members.

The president of the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, Mrs. Robert Everett, and the members of the board of directors, as well as committee chairman, will be present to explain their role in the League. Many publications will be available that explain what the League is, how it works and how, through the League, you can become a better informed citizen.

location. Not until late August did the State Department of Education furnish guidelines for the implementation of the edict to local districts. It will cost the Pointe schools an estimated $212,000. Student and parent volunteers helped the staff of both high schools to comply with the mountain of clerical work that the change in procedure entailed.

Some Will Buy Own

In spite of the Supreme Court ruling there are indications that some students will furnish their own books. "Many students will find it advantageous to do so," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, said. "If they underline as they study or if they want to mark the books in any way, they will undoubtedly be farther ahead," he added.

School officials said that the system's revised discipline policy, adopted on June 1 and modified on August 24 by the Board of Education, would be in effect for the first time with the beginning of the 1970-71 year. It differs from past policies in its comprehensiveness. For the first time adequate provisions for excluding students have been outlined in writing as well as provisions for due process, and the authority of the staff. The document also makes a clear statement of the schools' intent to use all measures available to remedy disciplinary situations short of exclusion from school.

All Are Involved

Although the policy was developed by the administrative staff, the implementation of the new policy has begun with the involvement of students, teachers, and administrators in writing guidelines and standards of behavior at all levels of instruction throughout the system, from kindergarten through grade 12.

The schools' official enrollment projections for the coming year call for an increase of 300 students over the 1969-70 figures. A total of 5962 pupils are expected in the district's 10 elementary buildings, an increase of 73 over last year's total of 5889.

Projected enrollments for the system's three middle schools (grades 6, 7, and 8) are 2617, representing a decrease of 35 from last year's total of 2652.

Enrollment at North High School has been pegged at 2770, an increase of 110 over last year, while South's estimated total of 2280 represents a total of 152 over last year's 2128.

Official Count Sept. 25

Last year's total enrollment in the public schools amounted to 13,329 and is expected to number 13,629 in 1970-71. The schools' official membership count for the year, the one upon which financial assistance from the State of Michigan is based, is made on the fourth Friday of September.

In addition to the educational program offered to the more than 13,000 youngsters in kindergarten through the 12th grade, the public schools' Department of Community Services will again offer 80 courses to cater to all interests and ages. More than 5,000 residents are again expected to avail themselves of the opportunities offered in 1970-71.

And the Grosse Pointe Public Library, an integral division of the schools, will continue to serve the community with books as well as with a wide variety of supplemental services, such as the lending of records, tapes, and tools, and the readers' advisory service.

New Boiler at Richard

Two important maintenance projects were completed during the summer, one obvious and one not so obvious. By mid-September the new boiler replacing the original one placed at Richard School in 1930 will be installed. Another long overdue project has been the replacement of student lockers and the floor of the second floor of the main building at South High School. Last year the first floor was completed.

The Board of Education has a new look, too. Officers for the year are Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, president; Arnold P. Fuchs, vice-president; William J. Adams, secretary; and Lee H. Allen, treasurer. Other trustees include Alfred R. Giancy, Jr., Calvin J. Sandberg and newcomer Donald J. Semmler, elected June 8.

Meetings of the Board of Education will be held later than usual this year, but in the same location as last year. Scheduled for the second Monday of each month, the trustees' regular sessions will begin at 8 p.m. (instead of 7:30) in the auditorium of South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

scaper. He was wearing a blue-green denim uniform with the name Willie on the pocket. He was driving a '69 Chevrolet.

The woman was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment.

Attacker Hides in Car

A kidnapping and assault occurred on Friday, September 9. A 30-year-old St. Clair Shores woman was visiting a friend at Bon Secours Hospital. As she entered her car in the hospital lot, a man jumped from the back seat into the front seat. She described her assailant as a white male, weighing about 195 pounds, light brown hair, a moustache, and about 30 to 35 years of age.

He told her to drive to Maire School grounds, then proceeded to attack her. She jumped from the car but her attacker tackled her. She attempted to fight him off but was forcibly returned to the car.

He then ordered her to drive down Mack, east on Mack to Seven Mile to Van Dyke. Between Seven and Eight Mile a police car pulled them over for having a noisy muffler. The woman told officers she was too frightened to tell the police that she was being kidnapped. Her assailant was crouched in the back seat when the officers pulled the car over, and threatened to cut her throat if she gave him away.

Apparently seeing the police officers frightened the assailant, because when they reached Eight Mile he jumped from the car and fled.

GIRL ACCOSTED

A juvenile Lincoln road resident reported to Farms police on Tuesday, August 25, that she had been approached in front of her home by a white male, about 50 years of age, with curly hair and a moustache. He was driving a blue or turquoise automobile and attempted to coax the girl into his car for a ride.

Pointe Theater Opening Season

The Grosse Pointe Theatre has announced the start of its 1970-71 season with casting dates for the fall production of "The Apple Tree".

This 1966 Broadway musical hit is the work of composers Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, whose earlier "Fiddler on the Roof" remains one of the great success stories of all time. "The Apple Tree" is a lyrical treatment of man's whims and dreams from the Garden of Eden to the present day.

Directed by Miss Gigi Gaggini, of Beaconsfield avenue, the show will be presented in the Fries Auditorium November 12-15 and 18-21. Open casting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 16, and Friday, Sept. 18 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Assisting Miss Gaggini will be producer Mrs. B. Fred Guertler, of Meadow Lane, Mrs. Mary Robinson, of St. Clair Shores, as stage manager; and technical director Larry Marco, of E. Emory court.

Heading the show's musical staff is musical director Justin Parrott, of St. Clair Shores; Ed Dudeck, of Detroit, choreographer, and John Diebel, Loraine road, as choral director.

Grosse Pointe Theatre will present "Breath of Spring," directed by Mrs. John F. Diebel, in January; "A Man For All Seasons," directed by Dean Erskine, of St. Clair Shores at the end of March, and "Gypsy," directed by Mrs. Robert Binder, of Whittier road next June.

Unusual Courses Offered Adults

The University Center for Adult Education announces the opening of its Grosse Pointe campus for Fall of 1970. Ten courses of study will be offered at the War Memorial, Central Library and Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Among the offerings are "The Drug Scene II: A Search for Solutions," taught by Adolfo J. Brane, M.D., a clinical psychiatrist thoroughly involved with today's youth, and research psychologist, Donald F. Caldwell, Ph.D., who is studying the behavioral effects of drugs, and who will present fresh views relating to youthful drug experimenters and their interaction with parents and teachers.

Emphasis will be on seeking solutions to existing problems and methods of prevention. Focus of attention will revolve around the family unit and school, and to a lesser extent, the community.

Through an open exchange of ideas between members of the class, an attempt will be made to find ways to reveal the potential drug user, to clearly define the antecedent causes, and to examine possible life styles which will eliminate the need for drug use.

The course will not deal with opinions about drugs, nor will the technical description of drugs be presented. Fee for the six sessions, slated for October 7 through November 11 is $20. Classes meet on Wednesdays from 7 until 9:30 p.m.

"Conversations: A Salon," will offer students a rare opportunity to engage in dialogue with such prominent local people as Judge Horace Gilmore, Wayne Circuit Court; Bishop Thomas Gumbleton, vicar, Detroit Archdiocese; Willis Woods, director, The Detroit Institute of Arts; Mark Ethridge, editor, The Detroit Free Press; William R. Keast, president, Wayne State University and William Lucas, Sheriff Wayne County.

The class is limited to 25 students and is slated to begin on October 7 and run through November 11 for a fee of $15. The 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. sessions will meet at Central Library.

The group chased the pair into the garage. When Murphy and Lawson went back to the car they found the windshield of Murphy's car smashed.

Farms Girl Hurt In LS Accident

Farms police issued a traffic violation ticket to Raymond N. Freeman, 11, 21, of 34546 Jefferson, Mt. Clemens, on Monday, September 7, when his car collided with another at Lake Shore road and Lakecrest.

Freeman is charged with failure to stop within an assured clear distance and causing an accident. He ran into the rear of a vehicle driven by Valerie Vinci, 17, of 44 Lakecrest, who was stopped on Lake Shore for traffic to clear, so she could make a turn.

Damage to both cars, which had to be towed away to service stations, was estimated at approximately $1,010, according to an official report of the smash-up.

According to the investigating officers, Miss Vinci was stopped at Lakecrest, waiting to make a left turn, when Freeman, traveling at the legal of 35 miles an hour, came around the slight curve where the road divides, and slammed into the rear of the girl's auto.

Freeman claimed that as he came to the curve, he did not see the other vehicle, nor did he see the flashing turn signal on the girl's car.

Miss Vinci said that she suffered a whiplash, causing a stiffness in her neck. Freeman was not injured.

You probably have a savings account you can sell to us at a profit.

We can do more for you.

We're specialists in our field. Saving. And for 35 years we've been helping people put it away. What we've learned from our experience we'll share with you. Right now we're sharing the secrets of successful saving with about 210,000 savers. (We're Michigan's largest savings institution.)

Think First.

Money. More people are making more of it than ever before.

And having more trouble hanging on to some of it. That's understandable. Charge cards are more plentiful than ever before. These are unusual times.

That's why we're making an unusual suggestion.

What's a person to do?

If you've been saving money in a savings account you're a giant step ahead of most people. But maybe you're not doing as well for yourself as you could be.

Your present savings account may be earning a lower rate of interest than First Federal Savings can pay. Many places aren't legally allowed to pay as much as we pay. That's why you should sell us your account.

We'll transfer your current balance (plus any interest due you) to an insured First Federal account.

Then, when you collect interest next time, you'll collect more. In any type of account you select. (That's how we pay you.) We have certificates with various maturity dates and interest rates and regular passbook accounts. They all earn the highest interest rates available in Michigan (from 5% to 5 1/4% to 5 1/2% to 6%).

We can help you get in the saving habit, too. Show you how to force yourself if you need to. Save regularly if you want to. And help you start accounts for the here-and-now as well as the great-by-and-by.

It may mean you leave your charge cards home and learn to carry cash. And start to save up for things you want to buy. When you save, you earn interest rather than pay interest. Doesn't that sound nice for a change?

Here's what you should do.

Bring your present passbook to one of our 24 offices. Or mail it in. We'll take care of all the details of transfer. And in a few days, you'll have your First Federal Savings passbook. Complete with our higher rate of interest and special Daily Interest that's paid and compounded quarterly.

We've just made you a pretty good offer. Think about it. Think about your money.

We can do more for you if you'll think First.

D'you Know That?

by Paul Schweitzer

Did you ever hear of the mysterious lights called, "WILL O' THE WISP?"

There's never been a satisfactory explanation for the eerie lights, seen flickering over marshes and cemeteries at night.

Some experts say they're produced from the disintegration of dead Some believe they may be insects glowing in the dark, like fireflies others claim they're spontaneous ignition of marsh gases But no one knows for sure. Like anything else uncertain, they're the subject of many superstitions.

League of Women Voters

Pointe Public Library and Jacobson's In-The-Village, where information and literature can be obtained.

The Grosse Pointe League was formed in 1950 by citizens anxious to improve certain aspects of local government. A non-partisan organization, the League of Women Voters is dedicated to the principles of self-government established in the Constitution of the United States. The League works through its Voters Service and its study programs to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Like government, the League operates on three levels—national, state and local to discuss national, state and local issues. Committees studying assigned issues give reports and discussions follow. Interesting speakers often address the members. National, state and local publications are sent to all members to better inform them on many topics of interest.

Over the years the League has been a political innovator, a source of unbiased information, an educational institution and a recognized force in the making of public policy. Through the local Voters Service, the League sponsors pre-election forums that make it possible for local residents to both question and listen to candidates. Through this activity the entire community benefits.

The Grosse Pointe League currently has committees studying a variety of issues. The National Board requests that each local League this year study the U.S. Congress, Environmental Quality, Human Resources and Foreign Policy.

The State League study item (this year is Taxation and Education in Michigan. The local program will undertake the revising and up-dating of the publication "Know Your Grosse Pointe."

Persons interested in the League of Women Voters but unable to attend the open house on September 23 can call Mrs. Sterling Berry, Membership Chairman, at 884-9021 to obtain information about becoming a part of this organization.

Bad Driver Pays Heavy Penalties

Peter D. Redpath, 32, of 4707 John Lodge, Detroit, forfeited a bond of $100 for failing to appear in the Park Municipal Court last January 21, on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor and for driving while his license was expired.

He was picked up by Detroit police on suspicion of a law infraction, but was cleared. Nevertheless, his record was checked and it was discovered that he was being sought on a bench warrant signed by Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer on the outstanding charges, for which he was arrested on December 14, 1969. The wanted man was released to Park authorities.

Redpath had his day in court when he appeared before Judge Speer on August 31, at which time he found himself in deep trouble.

The accused entered a plea of guilty to drunk driving, for which he was assessed a fine of $100 and sentenced to the Wayne County Jail for 30 days, and if the fine is not paid, an additional 10 days will be tacked on to the first term. His operator's license was suspended for a period of 90 days.

The court was not finished; Redpath had the license charge against him. He pled guilty to this, and was fined $25 plus $5 court costs, or five more days in jail if this is not paid. To date, court records do not show whether Redpath has paid his fines and court costs.

Youth Division Leaders, School Officials Meet

By Pepper Whitelaw

The Youth Service Division staff has been hard at work during the past month organizing its department and fall educational programs.

Liaison officers John Kendall and Michael Ferrence, with YSD's detectives James Davison and Thomas Podeszwick and Woods City Administrator and YSD Coordinator Chester Petersen, met with Jerry Gerich, principal of South High School, Woods Director of Public Safety Donald Coats, Woods Captain Henry Marchand and Jim Cooper, assistant principal at North High School and John Thursby, assistant principal, South High School, to exchange ideas as to how the division can best serve the youth of the community.

Another purpose was to explain the operation of the division to the school administrators and explore areas of cooperation between the division and the two high schools. Both Kendall and Ferrence were pleased to have the opportunity to bridge the gap between the academic community and local police departments. Director Coats told the NEWS that he was confident that this new relationship between the schools and police departments would be most effective and meaningful.

Mr. Peterson said the meeting provided to all concerned a better understanding of the problems of the community and better methods to deal with these problems. "This increased cooperation between the communities and school authorities will be beneficial to the entire community at large," he concluded.

Jerry Gerich indicated his delight with having Kendall with him at South as school liaison officer and indicated that Kendall will serve as an adjunct counseling service to the students and parents, and that through the use of a man of Kendall's talents the school will be able to reach out in the total community and realize an entirely new dimension.

Mr. Gerich praised Kendall for his work to date which has included familiarizing himself with the total community and meeting members of the football squads and coaching staffs.

To Mr. Feighner the Youth Service Division ideas are familiar ones, since his last post was in Royal Oak, long known for its outstanding youth programs. He said, "I am familiar with this type of organization and know what a valuable contribution it can make to the total community."

"Mr. Ferrence's work as school liaison officer will be invaluable to both students, parents and school administrators. I am looking forward to a truly rewarding and productive relationship with the division."

The Board of Education and school administration have, according to Kendall and Ferrence, been most cooperative with the YSD. Recently, they appointed Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent of instruction as their representative on the division's board of managers, which assists in formulating YSD policy.

Stolen Car Used To Stage Holdup

A car stolen from Grosse Pointe on Thursday, September 3, was involved in a hold-up the same day in Detroit, police report.

The car, a 1963 Buick, was taken from behind the Paris Coiffure, 2091 Mack, sometime between 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Detective William Glazer, of the Detroit police 15th precinct, told Woods police that a car answering the same description was reportedly involved in a citizen hold-up.

Nancy Bionde, an employee of the Paris Coiffure, said that she had parked the car herself that morning and that the keys were not left in the vehicle.

However, she also reported to Woods patrolman Theodore the car keys and registration had been lost or stolen Saturday, August 29.

Threats Posted At Local Shops

A note was reported to have been pasted on the front window of "The Nude Shop," at 20745 Mack Ave., Thursday, September 3, containing threats of violence to members of left wing organizations.
 Checking the "Bottomless Pit," Woods police found that a duplicate note had been pasted on its window the same day.
 Robert Leon, proprietor of "The Nude Shop" said that no damage was done to the shop, and he had no idea who the suspects might be.
 It was alleged by an informed witness, however, that members of a local gang may be an enforcement unit of the State Craft Organization, purported to be a radical right wing club and that they may be involved in the threats.
 Woods police made it clear to both shops that because of the nature of the threatening messages, both businesses would be watched closely.

Pointers Finish Second In National Sail Races

By Greg Boyd

In an international regatta hosted by the Crescent Sail Yacht Club, Monday, August 24, to Thursday, August 27, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club held second place by a narrow half point margin. The Houston Yacht Club, from Houston, Texas, swept a field of eight for the championship.
 The North American Junior Sailing Championships saw the Grosse Pointe squad, skippered by John Harper, take a slim but positive lead over Houston and the rest of the field with half the races run after showing a weak performance in the first race.
 With a score of eight-and-one-quarter points awarded to the winner of each race, most of the crews were trailing the Grosse Pointers by less than ten points going into the fifth race and most were still within striking distance of the championship.

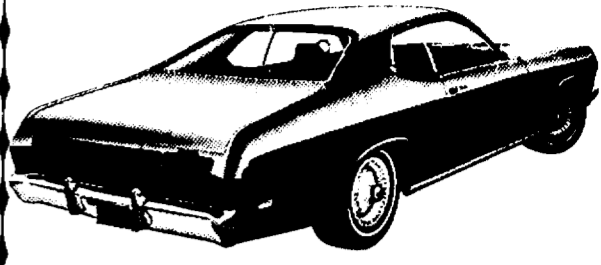

Dan Williams, skipper of the Houston crew, stayed hot on Grosse Pointe's heels, threatening the two-point lead with a score of 24 1/2 points, and the fifth race put Houston's sailors in front to stay, finishing with a 53 1/2-point total.
 New Jersey's representatives, from Shrewsbury Sailing and Yacht Club, were leading the pack with two second place finishes the first day and made a valiant effort to catch up after finishing last in the third race. With a first place performance in the seventh race on Thursday, the Ocean Port, New Jersey crew finished a narrow half-point behind Grosse Pointe with a score of 41 1/2.

The sailing crews had been in contention for the Herbert M. Sears Cup, which has been in competition for 15- to 18-year-old crews from all over North America for almost 50 years.
 Those sailing in the finals are survivors of regional and state-wide competition and are considered among the best this country has to offer.
 The Crescent Sail Yacht Club is proud that it was asked to be this year's host for the regatta and the GYPC is equally proud that its crew had qualified for the event.
 The boats, 19-foot Flying Scots, were supplied, with new sails and rigging, by other yacht clubs in the area.
 In addition to the Sears Cup, the winning crew members were presented with permanent trophies. Those accepting first place trophies were Houston's Dan Williams, Helmsman; Clark Thompson, Crewman; and Ed McFarlane, Crewman. Their sponsor was the Texas Yachting Association.
 Accepting the Judges Trophy, awarded to the runner-up Grosse Pointers, to be held for

Guidance Center Slates Session

A limited number of applications are still being accepted for the fall session of the Pre-School Child Study Service of the Northeast Guidance Center. Dr. William Rowell, director of the program, has announced orientation for the program is scheduled for September 15 and the nursery school sessions will begin on September 21.
 The 10-week program will again feature twice-weekly nursery school for children, once-weekly discussion meetings for mothers and three evening sessions for fathers.
 Dr. Rowell also reported that applications for the spring session—which will begin in March—are also being accepted by the Guidance Center.
 Now entering its fourth year, the Pre-School Child Study Service is designed to assist parents in understanding and dealing with normal problems of development which are presented by pre-school children as well as assisting the youngsters themselves with a nursery school experience.
 Applications for either the fall or spring programs may be obtained by calling the Center at 886-3566. Applications are restricted to the area served by the Center: eastside Detroit, Harper Woods and the five Grosse Pointes. Fees are adjusted on the ability of parents to pay.

Luggage Stolen In Woods Home

Jack Trentacosta, 20162 Fairway, told Woods patrolman Arthur Gekiere someone had used a pry bar to break into his home Wednesday, September 2, sometime between 7:30 and 11:15 p.m.
 Trentacosta reported that a three-piece set of luggage had been taken from a hidden door on the first floor, and, although he could find nothing else missing, the upstairs bedroom had been searched.

Aziz Art Exhibit Starts Saturday

The works of Philip Aziz, distinguished artist from London, Ontario, Canada, will be on display in the Library of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning with the Fall Art Festival this Saturday, September 12, when painters may meet the artist from 2 to 4 o'clock. The exhibit will remain up through September.

In the works of Philip Aziz one encounters a rare combination of great technical skill, intense religious feeling, keen independence of spirit and professional success. His meticulously painted works, vibrant with spiritual meaning, are far from the mainstream of purely experimental art. Yet his truth in his own vision has been rewarded with major commissions in his chosen field of liturgical genre art and portraiture.

Mr. Aziz was first brought to the attention of the American public on a national Pollution Control Foundation exhibit in the Gallery of Modern Art in New York. The exhibition featured his own famous series "Life Cycle of A Pine Tree" and "Life Cycle of Dandelion". So popular was the Aziz art that the show was extended to January 1969.

In November a committee of 50 art fanciers and collectors from the foundation viewed his art and arranged for a one man retrospective exhibition to open at the Gallery. (The Hon. Nelson Rockefeller was honorary chairman of the event in February 1968.) Again, due to popular demand, the show was extended through April.

Aziz art had appeared in several major exhibitions in Canada and Europe prior to his American debut in New York. In his New York one-man show he broke attendance records for the gallery. The New York show also opened with a gala benefit which several hundred people attended.

The Aziz show arrives in Detroit following a highly successful exhibition in Houston, Texas. Aziz art is owned by a number of museums and institutions and numerous private collectors.

His paintings have found their way into the collections of the Walter B. Fords, Wilkinsons, McElvynns, Donovans and other Pointers. A major painting was acquired by the Detroit Institute of Art recently.

In 1962 the newly opened Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. building acquired the "Four Seasons" panels by Aziz.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Public Schools
 Verriy interesting!
 It has now been more than two weeks since the news of our schools' achievement in the first state-wide educational assessment was made public, (and over three weeks since we received the information from the State Board of Education on August 17) and I am puzzled that I have had no citizen reaction. This is the time of year when it is virtually impossible not to be school minded—whether one has children or not.

I suspect that those in the community who have been the most critical of our efforts are surprised but silent because we have done so well, (even though we expressed reservations about the test used), and those who are "pro-school" may have expected such an excellent showing.
 While I'm on the topic of "assessment," (and I'm sure that I shall be on it for some time to come, in one way or another), let me comment upon the intra-family, (among educators, that is), squabble over "accountability." As we attempt to meet the public's demand for "accountability," we must answer an interesting philosophical question. Who sets the criteria for "accountability," and who does the judging?
 Parents are primed and waiting for school "accountability." In fact, a system that objectively assesses teaching performance, says Benjamin Rosner, dean of the City University of New York's division of teacher education, will restore what he terms "their waning faith in education."

"Objectively" is the key word, counters Albert Shanker, president of the United Federation of Teachers. Shanker insists that teachers should be rated only by other teachers, and if any other method is adopted, it will lead to a major point of conflict. He says a parent's subjective reaction to the failure of his child to learn at the "proper" pace does not constitute a fair test of accountability, but rather reduces the teacher to the status of a "hired factory hand" subject to dismissal on whims or unproved charges.
 So, from the preceding account, (and from the problem areas I cited last week in this column about the "assessment the United States), it appears that the evaluation of personnel, (certainly one fact of "accountability" that cannot be ignored), will not be any more easily accomplished than the "mere" assessment of educational achievement. Because of the complex problems that any kind of real evaluation entails, I feel certain that it will take a while before educators or laymen are satisfied—either with the process involved or with the final tabulation.

The answer to the philosophical question that I raised in the fourth paragraph is that an educator's true "accountability" to the public, (or "to the taxpayer"—if you prefer this word) goes far beyond what can be measured effectively by the Michigan State Department of Education, or by anyone else, for that matter. It exceeds the scrutiny of self-appointed financial experts who may understand figures but who do not comprehend the educational process. "Accountability" embraces even murkier areas of a school staff's responsibility over its charges. Examples are the areas of moral and spiritual values. In fact, the total picture is so complex that unfortunately few people will be able to understand the real meaning and full philosophical spectrum of "accountability."

To most people, even in a sophisticated and reasonably well-informed community like Grosse Pointe, "accountability" is today determined by the individuals of the school district on a subjective basis. If in their opinion, the schools "are doing a good job," they will generally be supportive.
 With the degree of local control which Grosse Pointers still exert over their schools, we attempt to carry out our citizens' individual wishes. However, this is not always easy. For example, there are citizens who urge stricter discipline and less freedom for students. At the same time others suggest offering more responsibility to students. We are well aware that there are two sides to every question—because we hear them both—often at the same time. In order to be responsive to these points of view—we must use our best judgment in these matters.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

"Arthur—Ambrosius—no man knows his name," says the introductory poem by Francis Brett Young, used by Rosemary Sutcliffe in her novel SWORD AT SUNSET. Heretofore historians have given Arthur, King of Britain, a conjectural line or two, labeling the concept of The Matter of Britain unworthy of exploration. Until recently this has left the field clear for the poets, myth-makers and romancers; a long line of them from the fifth century to 1970.

Modern archeological discoveries have refueled the imagination of novelists, and we have several recreations of the legend, placed in the more realistic setting of the dark ages, but still preserving the elements of classic tragedy and heroism. The latest of these is THE CRYSTAL CAVE, by Mary Stewart. This tale of Merlin seems the author's best novel to date. It is a fine, imaginative romance. Her use of ancient folklore and research into modern discoveries creates a believable and rich setting. It is fortunate for those who enjoy this type of fiction that science is no bar to new and fanciful treatment of legendary romance, but, rather, reinforces it.

In the 20th century we are not afraid to "pry too deeply, lest you should discover The bowser of Astolat a smoky hut Of mud and wattle—find the knightliest lover A braggart, and his Lily Maid a stult."

Lexicographers and historians have finally conceded that there was probably such a person as the Arthur of the myth, no doubt a war lord of the fifth century. Merlin has not been accepted as other than pure fiction, perhaps based on several legendary characters in one imaginary skin. Most of us prefer to think that if there were a warlord why not Arthur, Artos, or Ambrosius? If there were sages who advised kings and war lords, why not such a one as Merlin? Undoubtedly he would have done nothing to disturb the belief of the commonality that his doings were magical. Of course he would take great care to polish his public image, and was, no doubt, a legend in his own lifetime.

In THE SWORD AT SUNSET Rosemary Sutcliffe used a similar technique to that of Mary Stewart, but makes Artos of the dark ages the central figure. Although published in 1963, the novel stands up well in the light of the most recent archaeological finds. Readers who have missed it might enjoy it.

What do Grosse Pointe Hunt Clubbers do when the big horse show season is on the wane and there are all those lovely animals—the horses, not the people—standing around looking bored?

Why, have another horse show, of course!

Mrs. George G. Black and Mrs. Alger Shelden, Jr., are chairmen of the two-day Fall Sweepstakes Show to be run off September 19 and 20, Saturday and Sunday, at the Hunt Club grounds in Cook road.

Twenty-six classes are scheduled, including an intriguing something called "Never Trust Anyone Over 30," to be ridden in costume, with champagne and ribbons for the victors.

There'll also be equitation, green working hunter, handy hunter and classes for amateur owners over fences to mention a few.

"This will be a great little show for amateur owners and for riders with young horses," says Barbara Black. "We're calling it a Sweepstakes Show because we decided to take a percentage of the entry money and give it as prize money."

Mrs. Edward Henkel, Jr., will be ringmaster, Alger Shelden, Jr., will announce and Miss Peggy Flinn and Miss Sally Lenahan are heading up the ribbons and prizes department.

Miss Elizabeth Stoecker is coming from Chicago to judge.

Saturday night of Show weekend there'll be a Come As You Are barbecue at the Clubhouse—and with fashion editors saying that for casual occasions the really "in" people have been wearing body shirts with riding breeches and boots, (whether or not they ever put a leg over a horse), this should be a very "in" scene indeed.

From Turf To Tennis

Pointers whose athletic proclivities tend more to tennis than turf will be out and doing the weekend of September 19 and 20, too.

Tennis and Crumpets Tournament elimination matches are scheduled all over the East Side area where there'll be, we predict, much puffing and panting and midnight massaging of sore muscles on the part of participants in the Amateur and So-So, (C and B), divisions.

Good Player (A) division contestants should be in fine shape: After all, they're used to this sort of thing...

But T&C's really BIG day is the Saturday following the weekend eliminations. September 26 promises some super court action.

She has a little problem. Oh, her hair looks well enough when it's just been done. As long as there's no humidity. Or rain. Or stuff like that. But let any of these things happen and—plinkety, plink, here comes the kinks. What's a girl like this to do? Easy. A girl like this comes to us and gets her hair straightened all neat and silky and then icky-poo weather will hardly ever bother her at all. If you have a friend with the aforesaid problem, be nice. Tell her about us. And how we can straighten her out. Like that.

Dinners Precede Symphony

The latter group includes Mrs. Thomas V. LoCicero, Mrs. Frank A. Colombo, Mrs. Pierre V. Heffler, Mrs. Andrew L. Malott, (she's helping with reservations, too), Mrs. John W. Nelson, Mrs. Herman P. Sattler, Mrs. Rudy Speerschneider, Mrs.

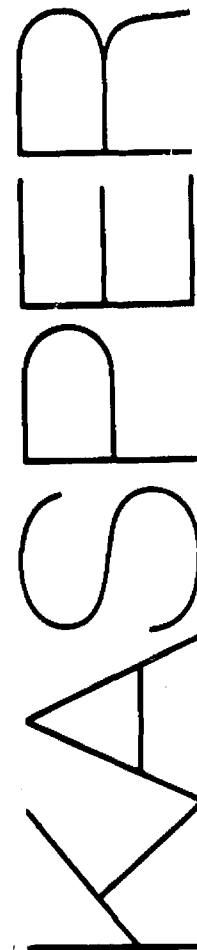

Thomas Schoenith, Mrs. Joseph J. Marshall and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley.

Mrs. Verne G. Istock is in charge of Top of the Flame hostesses who will include the Mesdames Frank W. Coolidge and Sterling S. Richhart.

Elly Bundesen, who has a flair for decorations and a flair for getting people to help her achieve theatrical effects—remember the giant harp-of-fresh-flowers in the Ford Auditorium lobby at the opening a few seasons ago?—will again have the cooperation of Mr. Speerschneider in transforming the Ford auditorium lobby into an enchanted opening night forest of towering trees embellished with 4,000 or more twinkling Italian lights. Last year's opening nighters oh'd and ah'd over this marvel; that's why Elly's doing a repeat.

Born in Argentina of German parents, Elly feels at home in a musical ambience. Her uncle directed a military band in Germany. Her mother was a professional-caliber pianist who elected to stay home and raise eight children.

David Clifford Claims A Bride

The Reverend Bert E. McCormick officiated at the Saturday, August 15 wedding of Carol Colbridge and David Lowell Clifford in first Presbyterian Church, New Castle, Pa. The four o'clock rites were followed by a reception at the New Castle Country Club.

The new Mrs. Clifford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Drexler Colbridge, of Chalk Hill, Pa. The Franklin King Cliffords, of Lakeland avenue, are the bridegroom's parents.

For her marriage the former Miss Colbridge selected a gown of imported sata pea featuring a portrait neckline, long Bishop sleeves, Empire bodice and a line skirt. Her Wateau back formed a semi-cage style Cathedral train.

Motifs of peau d'ange beaded in seed pearls accented her dress and her illusion veil fell to waist length from a sata pea Dior bow.

She was attended by Karen Wallis, of Chicago, as maid of honor and bridesmaids Mary Anne Erickson, of Cincinnati, the bridegroom's two sisters, Mrs. Richard Baer, of Durham, N.C., and Leslie Clifford, and Mrs. Richard Burkett, of New Castle.

Their floor length frocks were styled with A line white linen skirts and lime green dotted swiss Empire bodices trimmed with green and white braid at their waistlines. They wore bands of orange, yellow and white flowers in their hair and carried matching bouquets.

Best man was Richard Olsen Baer. Guests were seated by the bride's brother, Thomas Colbridge; William David, Samuel Chapin and David Maklan, all of Ann Arbor.

The mother of the bride chose a mint green silk worsted dress and coat ensemble while the bridegroom's mother selected a pale gold silk worsted ensemble. Both chose small white orchid corsages.

Club are David Dickinson, captain of the UVA Tennis Team, ranked second in the Westerns behind Clark Graebner; 19-year-old Charlie Owens, a member of the United States Junior Davis Cup Team, ranked 20th in the U.S.; Gene Scott, ranked five times in the U.S. Top Ten, member of the United States Davis Cup Team 1963-65, semi-finalist at Forest Hills in 1967, (he lost to winner John Newcombe); and Dick Williams, Middle Atlantic Tennis Champion in 1968, ranked in the Top Ten for men's doubles in 1963.

Sounds like great play to us!

And after the Exhibition Matches comes the party, with everybody staying on at the Country Club, everybody gathering under a large orange-and-pink satin striped tent, everybody ready to "Join the Circus! Have a ball with T&C!"

Mrs. Hazen Pingree, who's in charge of decorations, plans to incorporate animals in her motif. And not just stuffed animals either. . . .

Mrs. Peter W. Stroh is general chairman of when-the-rackets-have-all-been-put-away festivities, starting right after the Exhibition Matches. That should be around 5:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles T. Cudlip, general chairman of the entire benefit, is busy at the moment working with a committee placing 650 players on Grosse Pointe courts according to ability. And keeping an eye on party preparations. . . .

Mrs. William C. Ford is honorary chairman of this year's Tournament. T&C has committed itself to raise $50,000 in the next five years to equip a cardiac operating room at the new Children's Hospital.

Christmas, Anyone?

Now don't panic—we have no intention of telling you "how many shopping days until . . ."—but we did think you might be interested in the fact that Planned Parenthood League's Christmas Mart dates this year are October 20 through 22.

And we thought we'd mention that Mrs. Peter Stalker, II, is opening her Lakeland avenue home next Tuesday for a Mart meeting at which Mrs. Robert P. Scherer, Jr., and Mrs. Henry Earle, III, Shop chairmen who've been busy during their summer travels recruiting stores and boutiques throughout the country, will describe some of their "finds."

And we know you'd like to know that several very popular shops Mart-goers have missed in the past few years are returning this year.

Mrs. J. Lawrence Buell, III, is chairman of the '70 Mart. Mrs. Stalker serves as co-chairman.

The ADOLPH JANSENS of Severn road were among the prize winners on a recent round-trip cruise to Bob-Lo.

Miss Gustafson Will Say Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Gustafson, of Redlands, Calif., formerly of Grosse Pointe, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Faye, to John Hoyt Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hill, of Franklin.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. She attended Hillsdale College and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Wayne State University. She is a staff writer for the State Journal.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Birmingham Seaholm High School and received his B.A. from the University of Michigan. He is a graduate student in geography at Western Michigan University.

DBC Women To Hold Angelic Fashion Fete

Angels will descend on Belle Isle when the Women's Committee of the Detroit Boat Club opens its social season next Wednesday, September 16. Its annual fall fashion show and luncheon is the first stellar event of the year.

Members and guests will gather for cocktails at 11:30 o'clock amidst life-sized and mite-sized heavenly bodies and an ambrosial cuisine will be served at 12:30 o'clock as the celestial melodies of the Phil Girard Trio float throughout the club.

Promptly at 2 o'clock Angel's of Mackinac Island will appear and interpret the Realm of Fashion with 45 ensembles, complete with accessories, ranging in styles from the junior petite to those for the more mature woman.

H. Mills, pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, Jackson, officiating at the rites.

A reception at the Clarklake summer home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Burdick, of Jackson, followed the ceremony for which the former Martha Anne Burdick selected a Juliet gown of lace and organza and a lace headpiece fashioned by family friend Elizabeth Monroe, of Miami, Fla.

Laura J. Burdick attended her sister. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Vorhees, of Hampton road, asked George Halikas to serve as best man.

Nuptials In August For Carolyn Becker

After Canadian Vacation Stephen Carrick Skinners Are At Home in Detroit; Bride's Sister Serves as Honor Matron

Officiating at the noon ceremony in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church at which Carolyn Marie Becker and Stephen Carrick Skinner exchanged marriage vows was The Reverend Gerald Blevins. A reception at Gourmet House followed the Saturday, August 15, rites.

The newlyweds vacationed in Canada and are now at home in Detroit.

For her marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Becker, of Berns court, selected a gown of pleated white chiffon accented at neckline, waist and cuffs with appliques of imported Swiss embroidery.

Her short illusion veil fell from a matching headband and she carried an arrangement of daisies and mixed white garden flowers.

She was attended by her sister Mrs. Robert Slameka as matron of honor and bridesmaids Laura Van Steenkiste, her cousin, and Diane West whose long-sleeved pleated purple frocks were complemented by multi-colored floral headpieces. They carried matching bouquets.

Greg Skinner acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. Lyman Baldrige, of Kalamazoo, and the late J. Keith Skinner.

Guests were seated by Michael Skinner, another brother, and Ray Wawro and ring bearer was the bridegroom's nephew Jeff Skinner.

Mrs. Becker chose a dress of lilac crepe for her daughter's wedding, the bridegroom's mother a pale blue linen ensemble. Both selected cymbidium orchid corsages.

Out-of-town guests included the Lauren Maloys, of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Fremont, O., the William Heermans, of Traverse City, Mrs. Viola Cascadian, of Hubbard Lake, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hiatt, Judy and Jim, of Kalamazoo, (Judy was vocalist at the wedding), Mrs. James Newell, of Midland, the Clifford Madisons, of Niles, O., the Bert Earls, of Kalamazoo, the Stanley Dillons, of Centerville, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grimms, of Portage, and the Robert Wolpes, of Shaker Heights, O.

Mrs. Norman G. Peslar

ROSALIE CATHERINE LEWIS, of Merriweather road, and Mr. Peslar were married in Old St. Mary's Church Saturday morning, August 29. The bride's parents are the Martin Prikaskys, of Redford Township. The bridegroom is the son of Frank P. Peslar, of Charlevoix avenue, and the late Ruby Peslar.

Rosalie Lewis Wed To Norman G. Peslar

A reception at Lochmoor Club followed the Saturday morning, August 29, wedding of Rosalie Catherine Lewis, of Merriweather road, and Norman George Peslar, son of Frank P. Peslar, of Charlevoix avenue, and the late Ruby Peslar.

The newlyweds will return from a vacation on Spain's Costa del Sol to make their home in The Pointe.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Martin Prikasky, of Redford Township, chose a wedding gown of ecru silk organza. Alencon lace studded with seed pearls accented her bodice with its lace-cuffed sheer organza sleeves.

A circlet of stephanotis and baby's breath caught her Chapel length illusion veil and she carried phalaenopsis orchids on her prayer book.

She was attended in Old St.

Mary's Church by honor maid Beverly Gotch and bridesmaid Barbara Good, the former in pink lilac organza, the latter in moss green, each carrying a basket filled with mixed summer flowers.

Drew Peslar was his brother's best man. Robert Czerwienski, Rand Shackleton and Gary Dillon ushered.

For the 11 o'clock rites and reception Mrs. Prikasky selected a street length dress of mint green silk and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

A GAS DRYER

GENTLY CARESSES PERMANENT PRESSES

It's love, pure and simple, the first time you use The Luv Machine, a Gas dryer. And why not? A Gas dryer is so good to clothes. Leaves them soft, fresh-smelling. In fact, a special setting gently careses permanent press things so they don't need any ironing. And there's the way a Gas dryer saves money. Dries five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. Does a load up to 10 minutes faster, besides. Buy a Gas dryer at your appliance dealer's or Michigan Consolidated showrooms. You'll luv everything about it.

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

GROSSE POINTE PARK

There's something about the Early American style of architecture that makes you feel comfortable. Even when only six years old as in this house, it seems sort of old shoe and carpet slippers. It has the same sincerity that accounts for the popularity of antique furniture, which of course looks appropriate in it. This lovely place is pleasantly and conveniently arranged. Included are 4 Bedrooms, 2½ Bathrooms, and a Family Room which faces the rear grounds. Construction: Brick and aluminum siding. Gas forced air heat. Ask us for a copy of our floor plan or for an appointment to enjoy an interior inspection.

We're devious. So is the old Law of Indirection. Service first, money second brings more money than money first. We think we've demonstrated this law in the field of residential real estate.

Plan Garden Center Horticulture Exhibit

Preparations for October House Tour Also Underway;
Workshop Next Wednesday to Feature
Television's Mr. Growit-All

Grosse Pointe Garden Center invites the public to visit its first Saturday afternoon Horticulture Show September 19 from 2 to 5 o'clock. This combined Horticulture, Bonsai and Trial Garden Exhibit, co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, will be staged in the War Memorial Fries Crystal Ballroom.

After viewing fruits, vegetables, flowers and Bonsai, visitors may stroll down to the waterfront Garden Center Trial Gardens where beds of pink, blue, white and yellow flowers are featured in three shades and three heights.

All the annuals planted there have been introduced in the past five years.

Next week marks another first for Garden Center. Gerald F. Baker, Jr. (Mr. Growit-All) is scheduled to speak at the Workshop Wednesday morning, September 16, at 10 o'clock in the Garden Center room. He'll be introduced by Mrs. Wesley R. Johnson, Workshop chairman.

Mr. Baker is a well-known landscape designer as well as America's first Master Gardener. An Mr. Growit-All he's the syndicated radio broadcaster who appears weekly on WXYZ's Morning Show, specializing in everyday gardening. He aims to educate the public in the use and care of chemicals.

People interested in hearing his talk for members of the Garden Center only may join at the lecture.

Mrs. C. Bayard Johnson is Garden Center who attended Center-sponsored classes. Their fashioned by members of the chairman of the Horticulture Show on the 19th. Everyone is welcome to exhibit.

Mrs. Harold R. Smith, in charge of judging, says that one perfect rose can win a blue ribbon, so people ought not to hesitate to participate. All entries must be in between 9:30 and 11 o'clock a.m.

Mrs. Harold W. Bailey, Mrs. Harley G. Higbie and Mrs. Monte J. Edelen are chairmen of Bonsai and will set up the display of these beautiful miniature Japanese trees, all results are spectacular. Another feature of the Show will be an exhibit of garden figures loaned by Grosse Pointe florists.

For the first time this fall a visit to the Trial Gardens on the lakefront will be included in the Show and visitors are invited to enjoy a cup of punch on the terrace overlooking the gardens. Mrs. Mark C. Stevens and Mrs. Charles A. Parcels, Jr., are chairmen of hospitality.

Mrs. David N. Viger is chairman of Trial Gardens this year, assisted by Mr. Byron B. Phillips, Mrs. John D. Benfield, Mrs. Stanley F. Dolegas, Mrs. Herbert D. Schmitz and Mrs. Wood Williams.

Seven garden clubs were responsible for Trial Garden planting and maintenance this summer. Judging is the monthly responsibility of eight other clubs.

There's no way to measure the hours of work that have gone into the beautiful gardens on display.

The Show almost marks the end of summer and it is hoped that many Pointers will see this year's magnificent flowers.

Just yesterday the initial planning session for the Garden Center's one big annual fundraising event, its House Tour, set for October 17 and 18, was held at Helen Howard's home in Merriweather road.

Mrs. Howard, as general chairman, has a most enthusiastic committee and will soon announce the six fascinating homes to be shown.

Think of us as a modern day Venice with one lovely canal and a great big lake.

Water, water everywhere
Ah, Venice. Its great buildings, great charm and great canals make it a great place to visit. Period.
So now we bring you another community of great buildings, great charm, one great little canal and a great big lake. Lake St. Clair. We call our community the Shore Club, and it's a great place to live as well as to visit

And, ah, just like Venice, there is water, water everywhere. As far as the eye can see. Plus a lovely tree-lined boulevard that leads you past a private club with swimming pool and past great buildings.
The great buildings
We wanted great buildings for the Shore Club. Bold, modern, imaginative buildings, that wouldn't look as though they were stamped out of a pattern. We got them. They were designed by the brilliant architects Homer & Rogers—Ashley & Myer of Cambridge, Massachusetts. The result: Sensational. Dramatic Sky Houses. A towering high rise. Exciting townhouses.

The great little canal
Our little canal is perhaps not as magnificent as some in Venice. Neither does it come up to your front door. Nor, for that matter, do gondolas ply its waters. But our little canal is navigable and has great charm, great character and great townhouses.
The great lake
We think of the Shore Club as a community for people who love the water, who love to look out on it, and who like to make waves on it. A place for people who are looking for the uncommon things in life and are not afraid to go after them.

Hence, we bring you an uncommon community. And a great lake.
The uncommon community we can take credit for, the great lake we cannot. But we can take credit for a ten-acre yacht harbor reserved for Shore Club residents. A modern yacht harbor no more than, say, fifty or sixty gondola lengths from your door. One that makes a great lake your lake.
The great opening
It seems only right that in the face of all this greatness we ignore the common approach and, instead of a grand opening, have a great opening. So we are.
And we particularly want you to see our just-completed Sky Houses. We call them Sky Houses, not apartments, simply because they are just that. Because we've taken a number of private homes, each with a circular staircase, and put them together in a building with an elevator, dividing one from another with a solid, noise-deceiving layer of masonry.
J. L. Hudson's has done a truly remarkable job of furnishing our model and we think you'll also be impressed by interiors that are actually spacious, by terraces that are not postage stamps, and convenient underground parking.
The great details
There are three-bedroom 2½ bath and two-bedroom 2½ and 1½ bath Sky Houses. Rentals begin at $320. Model hours are daily and Sunday noon to 5:30. Closed Tuesday. Phone 773-7090 for rental information.
Better yet, come see our uncommon community for yourself. Enter the Shore Club on Jefferson Ave. just south of Nine Mile Road, in St. Clair Shores. And start making waves.

Mr. Anzinger who maintains studios at Harvard Road and E. Warren is rapidly gaining a national reputation through his illustrative work with Michigan Life Insurance Company of Royal Oak.

In addition his photos have been placed in private collections locally as well as in the Grosse Pointe Woods office of the Manufacturers National Bank, states Mr. Joyner.

New Apartment Has Topping-Out

A topping-out ceremony celebrating the completion of the concrete construction of the 27-story Sky Tower Apartments, located on the 46 acre Shore Club property, at E. Jefferson and Nine Mile Road, was held two weeks ahead of schedule.

The tallest building in Macomb County, the Sky Tower will contain 96 apartments, four to a floor. One, two, and three-bedroom units are available. Rentals will range from $270 to $495 per month. The top two floors will be occupied with two-story penthouses. The first two floors of the structure will be rented to service businesses, for the convenience of residents of the Sky Tower and the adjoining 51-family Sky Houses.

Occupants of the Sky Houses, each of which is actually a two-story home in a six-story elevator-equipped building, can shop at the stores in the Sky Tower without going out of doors, by means of covered passageways between the two buildings. A covered parking deck which can be reached directly from the lobby is available to Sky Tower tenants. An underground garage in the Sky Houses provides convenient storage for its tenants' cars.

A model Sky Tower apartment, furnished by the J. L. Hudson Company's Studio of Interior Decorating, will be completed by the middle of November.

Apartments in the Sky Tower of the Shore Club command an exciting view of Lake St. Clair and Macomb County, as well as of Belle Isle and downtown Detroit. Tenants will have the use of the ten-acre yacht harbor on the property, as well as of the Shore Club's community club house and outdoor swimming pool.

Seek Resistant Species of Elms

A collection of elm trees from all over the world is the basis of Michigan State University research aimed at finding species of elms which are resistant to Dutch elm disease.

Over 600 seed lots were obtained in the summer of 1968 from such areas as Asia, Russia, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Japan, Pakistan, India, Holland and Italy. MSU forestry research workers, headed by Dr. J. W. Wright, planted the seed lots as soon as they arrived on campus.

This spring—two years after planting—the 30,000 individual elm trees of 10 different species were inoculated with Dutch elm disease. Initial indications of which elm tree strains carry some resistance to the disease will be available in 1971, according to Gary Long, assistant to Dr. Wright.

In about five years MSU researchers hope to have resistant trees they can recommend for planting.

"Even then we won't be able to give 100 percent assurance that the trees won't catch Dutch elm disease and die," says Long. "Mostly it's just increasing the odds in favor of survival."

"If we were to shoot for a variety that was 100 percent resistant, we would probably have to do 40 years' worth of research."

The secret of success is in doing what you can do well. Education pays—but you can't collect without hard work.

Pointe's Woman Judge Honored

President Nixon has nominated Pointer and Wayne Circuit Judge Cornelia G. Kennedy, to be the first woman federal judge in Michigan's history.

Her nomination was sent to the U.S. Senate on Wednesday, September 2, for confirmation. Judge Kennedy would succeed the late Federal Judge Thaddeus M. Machrowicz on the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan and would serve in Detroit.

Michigan Senator Robert P. Griffin submitted Judge Kennedy's name to the President after Judge Machrowicz' death last spring.

Judge Kennedy attended Redford High School and was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School with the degree of law clerk.

She served as a law clerk to a U.S. Court of Appeals Judge in Washington before returning to Detroit and practicing law for 19 years. She was elected to the Wayne Circuit bench in 1966.

Judge Kennedy is the wife of Detroit advertising executive Charles S. Kennedy. They live in Sunningdale drive and have a son, Charles, seven, who attends Mason Elementary School. She is 46 years old. Judge Kennedy is considered a legal scholar by her colleagues and a moderate in her application of the law.

If her nomination is confirmed by the Senate, she will sit on the seven-member bench whose jurisdiction generally covers broader legal actions than the court she would leave.

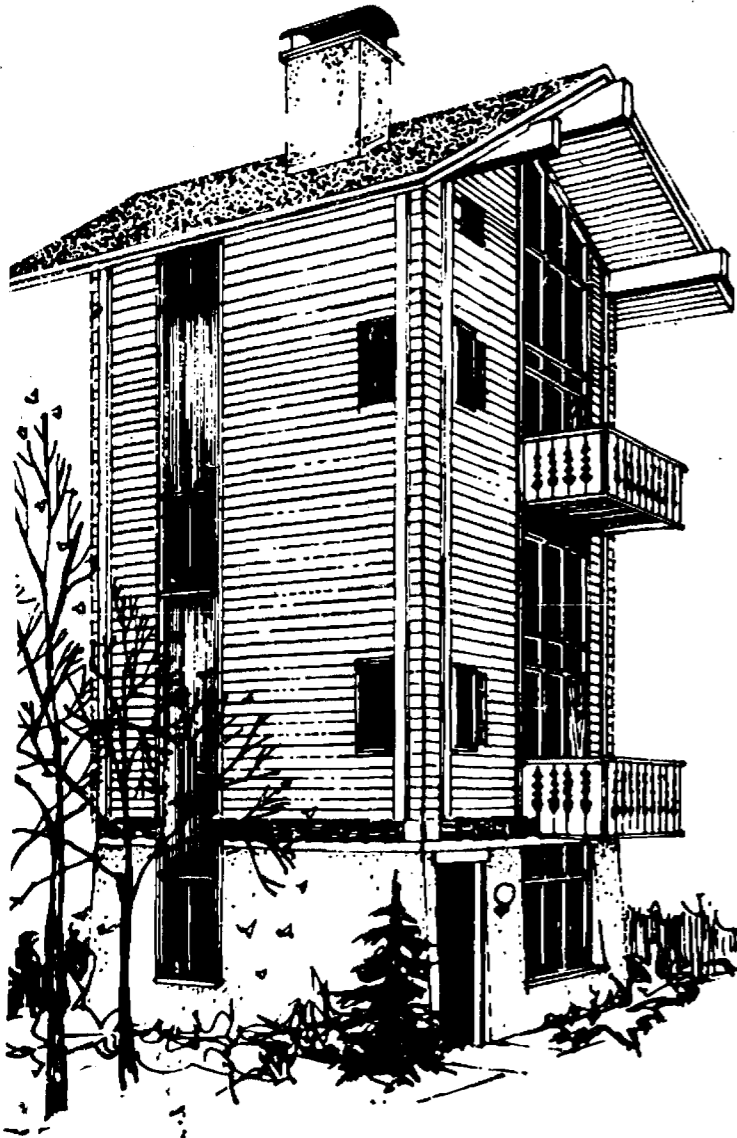

With the Senate confirmation, Judge Kennedy would be the fourth woman to occupy a federal judicial post in the country. The new post pays $40,000 a year and is for life.

Deer Lake has long been noted as a bass and pike angling lake and abounds with bluegills, sunfish, and perch for the neophyte angler just learning to handle a fly rod. What's more, several small trout streams flow through the Deer Lake area just south of the lake and are readily accessible by good roads.

A fleet of rental boats and sailing craft will be available to guests—and a launching ramp will be provided for club members desiring to bring their own. A private road connects the Boyne County Four-Seasons Beach Club with Boynestadt just a mile away to the eastward.

Boynestadt is only minutes of easy access to a resort complex which offers you 10,000 acres of pleasure—skiing, golf, salmon and trout fishing, sailing, motorboating, deer and small game hunting, swimming, waterskiing, horseback riding, retirement living, investment opportunities—all in one recreational administrative organization.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. STEPHEN M. SWEENEY, OF WELLINGTON PLACE

By Janet Mueller

"Good grief!" said Bob Sweeney, 19, a sophomore at the University of Michigan, when he heard his mother was about to be interviewed for a Pointer of Interest profile. "They've hit the bottom of the barrel!"

Just about the reaction Gloria Sweeney expected... "I read," explains Gloria, "the 'Pointer of Interest' every week. I read about people who 'decapitate their living room walls, crochet their underwear...'"

"It was fascinating!" Gloria, wearing her Libyan wedding necklace, ("It's copper - if it were the 'real thing' it would be gold; these necklaces are the Libyan women's dowries"), recalls. Fascinating... and primitive.

"Well, you've finally gotten around to the Erma Bombeck of Grosse Pointe. I'll be very pleased if I can raise three children and survive."

How To Make Friends Gloria, you've just made a friend of every lady who's reading this article over her third cup of morning coffee--not because she can't face Thursday without the good old Grosse Pointe NEWS, but because reading ANYTHING beats the I-should-have-done-it-yesterday job of sewing name tags into the children's school sweaters.

"I'm a watcher, watcher, watcher in a world of doer, doer, doer."

"My sister painted every picture in this house. My brother's an auto designer. He loves junk!"

Gloria's brother's "junk" (a chic-er term for it could be "examples of pop culture"... if Gloria's were a Chic Term Family...), including salvage from a dismantled gas station, made marvelous party decor in the Sweeney's basement recently.

Wedding Dinner Scene That basement's seen a lot of "happenings." It's where Gloria seated the 100 guests at her daughter's at-home wedding three years ago.

"A wedding dinner in a basement!" she says, the "ye-e-eeh!" implicit in her voice. "My first daughter, and I dreamed of church, a long white gown..."

"Well, nothing we do is usual. Sue wore a sari, at the request of the bridegroom... She and Jack (Shipley) were married over there, (gesture toward one corner of the living room), by a judge... The music during the ceremony was medieval, played on a harpsichord... and after-ward Zsigli Bella and his Gypsies entertained--I'm Hungarian--and everyone went down stairs for dinner: There was no place else to put them!"

"Oh, yes... They gave me one month to get everything, ready!"

Gloria got... So far the Shipleys' life together has been about as run-of-the-mill as their wedding.

Peace Corps Volunteers Sue was 19, the same age as her mother, when she married. She completed her junior year at the University of Michigan (Jack had already finished his masters); then it was off to Libya, after a four-month crash course in Arabic, as Peace Corps volunteers.

is no academic slouch either. He's a pretty good sportsman too, the only one in the family.

Rotten in All Sports

"I," admits his mother, "am rotten in every sport--and I get seasick!"

Thirteen-year-old Sandi is the family poet, very profound, very serious. The Sweeneys' Yorkshire terrier carries her name. Sandi's Candy, the dog's called, because it came, six years ago, as Sandi's dog, although now it obviously considers Gloria its mother.

And why not? Gloria's nursed Sandi's Candy through asthma attacks, a broken leg... The dog doesn't like to let her out of its sight.

Trust Gloria Sweeney to wind up being owned by a hypochondriac Yorkie.

Her husband's a successful attorney, her children bright, her brother and sister artists... Where, wonders Gloria, was I when all the talent was being handed out?

Proud of Her Cooking

There IS one department in which she'll take a back seat to nobody. "Cooking is my forte," she says proudly. "The only thing I'm good at. And I AM good at it."

"I cook Hungarian, Russian... It takes a long time and lots of pots and pans if you really do it right."

But even this can backfire. The Sweeney children turn their noses up at the mere suggestion of a package cake. And once Gloria tried a prepared piecrust mix...

"What," said Bob, balancing a piece of the offending pastry on the tip of his fork, regarding it with loathing, "have you done?"

When Gloria was a little girl her parents gave her tap-dance lessons. "They may have thought," she muses, "that they had a potential second Shirley Temple on their hands."

Four years of music lessons resulted in Gloria's being able to play three pieces.

Then, at 19, she married Steve. They met as students at the University of Detroit, but after the wedding Gloria faced facts: There was no way both she and her husband could continue school.

Law Degree at Last Seven years and two children later, Steve picked up his Law degree.

Gloria never minded staying home--"The children are the important thing to me; the time we have together is so short. I can't begrudge spending it with them..."--and she took her mother responsibilities seriously.

"If I was Room Mother for one, I was Room Mother for the others... Three years Room Mother for each child... I was so fair it was ridiculous!"

"Finally I said to myself, 'Gloria, when are YOU ever going to get educated?' So last year I went back to school..."

"I took the Wayne State University Extension course in Adolescent Psychology at the War Memorial--and by cracky, I got a B!"

"Of course my kids get all A's... There goes the egg again..."

Before attempting a college course Gloria checked herself in an Are You Reaching Your Potential? test series.

Turns out, tap-dance and piano lesson fiascos to the contrary, she ought to have been a musical performer.

Interest Never Waned

Which is not as unlikely as it seems. Through all the at-home years Gloria's maintained an interest in music.

Music is in fact a Sweeney family motif, with Bob, who taught himself the recorder and guitar, and Sue particularly interested in the Medieval period.

Gloria's a member of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee and of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. She'll be giving the Detroit Symphony Women's Grosse Pointe New Members' Tea at her Wellington place home October 20.

She became involved with the Detroit Symphony through the Meadow Brook Music Festival. The Sweeneys were living in Bloomfield Hills then, (they moved to The Pointe four years ago)...

"When Meadow Brook was just starting, someone found my name--I seem to be on all sorts of 'lists.' I've collected 20 years for the United Foundation... Every year I say 'This is the last time' and next year there I am again--and I agreed to make 100 Festival phone calls."

"I think Meadow Brook is the greatest thing ever to happen in the Detroit area! We lived close in those first years, and we'd bring picnics, we had season tickets... Now we go downtown to the Symphony; living on this side of town, we seldom get out to Meadow Brook..."

Finds Advantages Here But "this side of town" has its musical advantages too. This is the side of town where Ruth (Mrs. Robert) Kaiser began her fascinating Music Education Series.

"Meet the Masters" blossomed into "Symphony Kaleidoscope" and this year "Detroit Symphony Preludes" under the aegis of the Women's and Junior Women's Associations for the Detroit Symphony, co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Public Library and the Department of Community Services, starts its season at the Library September 30, with a program on Beethoven.

The series, designed to increase Detroit Symphony concert-goers' understanding and appreciation of music being performed, offers four lecture sessions at the Library, all at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoons, plus two Open Rehearsals at Ford Auditorium for a $10 season ticket.

General "Preludes" chairman is Mrs. John Young, of Grayton road. Treasurer Mrs. Thomas I. Young, 882-9127, has information on how to obtain series and individual tickets.

Ruth Kaiser continues as instructor and this year she'll be conducting an identical class in the North End of town, Gloria's old stamping ground, at the Village Women's Club, Bloomfield.

Listeners and Learns Gloria's listened and learned at "Meet the Masters" and "Symphony Kaleidoscope."

She'll be listening and learning at "Detroit Symphony Preludes" too.

"Ruth," Gloria says, "seems so quiet and shy when you first meet her. And then she lights up like a Christmas tree when she begins talking about music; she makes music so interesting!"

"I love it when she gives us background on the composers. Some of them led really wild lives!"

Besides "Beethoven - Musician and Musician" Ruth will present programs on "Concerto Contrasts" October 21, "Pieces in Sets" featuring selections from the works of Debussy, Elgar and Weber November 4, and "Symphonic Survey" concentrating on Mozart, Schumann and Harris November 25. The Open Rehearsals are scheduled October 7, Pierre Hetsu conducting, and November 18, Henry Lewis conducting.

Since joining Ruth's classes Gloria's done more than just listen and learn. She has been and is working actively to promote them, handling publicity last year, serving on this year's "Preludes" committee.

She's happy to help out on the committee... "But don't ever make me president!"

Who ever heard of a president who keeps important notes on the backs of two-year-old Christmas cards?

Why, I thought I was the only person in the world who does that...
