HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

THE JORDANIAN ARMY claimed it drove invaders from Syria out of Jordan Wednesday, and the United States said it had received word that Syrian regulars were pulling out of the embattled Hashemite kingdom. The civil war went on, however, as the latest cease-fire agreement proclaimed by King Hussein earlier in the day collapsed when the leader of the guerrilla movement, Yasser Arafat, rejected it and vowed to fight on.

THE U.S. GOVERNMENT will try to evacuate about 200 Americans from Jordan Thursday, using two chartered commercial planes, the State Department said Wednesday. The planes, chartered from the Middle East Airlines Company, will fly to Amman, Jordan, from Beirut, Lebanon, if it appears evacuees can be moved safely to the airport and the planes can land and take off without difficulty.

Friday, September 25
KING HUSSEIN's prime minister quit and went into seclusion in Cairo on Thursday just as the Jordanian monarch's military forces appeared to be winning their week-long struggle with guerrilla insurgents. General Mohammed Daoud's resignation provoked the fall of the military government Hussein named last week. The King asked his ministers to stay on as caretakers until a new cabinet could be formed. Amman radio said, but the significance of Daoud's resignation was not immediately clear.

Saturday, September 26
THE PENTAGON SAID Friday that it has solid indications that the Soviet Union is building a permanent submarine base in Cuba. The White House said it would view a strategic installation there "with utmost seriousness."

BOTH KING HUSSEIN and Yasser Arafat, the Palestinian guerrilla chieftain, ordered a cease-fire Friday in the nine-day Jordanian civil war, but within hours the guerrillas and other Arab chiefs of state meeting in Cairo accused Hussein of breaking it.

Sunday, September 27
THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION on Campus Unrest appealed urgently to President Nixon Saturday to lead the way to a "national cease-fire" and rescue American society from the brink of what it called a "chasm so dangerous that it threatens the survival of the nation." "The division between established society and the new youth culture generates intensifying violence by both sides," the commission said.

Monday, September 28
PRESIDENT NIXON arrived in Italy Sunday night amid scattered leftist protests and declared that it remains America's policy to "maintain in the Mediterranean a sufficient force to avoid any war." He noted he would visit the U.S. Sixth Fleet, which he reinforced during the height of the Jordanian civil war last week, and said: "The Mediterranean is the cradle of many civilizations and we are determined that it shall not be the starting place of a great war in the future."

GIANT BRUSH FIRES blazed out of control in the hills outside San Diego and Los Angeles Sunday night. Some 50,000 residents fled from their homes in southern San Diego County and thousands more fled from canyon homes around Los Angeles. The San Diego County fire, the states largest ever, covered 150,000 acres and was spreading into open country southward toward the Mexican border. It left a path of devastation some 30 miles long and 10 miles wide.

Tuesday, September 29
PRESIDENT GAMAL ABDEL NASSER of Egypt, the unifying leader of a divided Arab world and the greatest figure in its modern history, died of a heart attack Monday at 52. His death raised the specter of chaos in an area already deep in crisis. Nasser was stricken at Cairo airport while saying goodbye to the ruler of Kuwait, Sheikh Sabah Al-Sabah, one of the Arab leaders who had attended the summit conference Nasser called to end the civil war in Jordan.

Vernier Road Project Near Completion

Engineers Strike Settled After Twenty Days; Road Surfacing Already Finished

By Greg Boyd
Residents driving along the stretch of Vernier road from Mack avenue east to the Grosse Pointe Woods city limits may have noticed workmen cleaning up the area and finishing the construction that was begun several months ago.

Work on the project had ground to a halt September 1 because of an operating engineers strike. With the contract expired, the engineers were asking for an increase in wages and benefits and walked off the Vernier road project with just over two weeks work necessary to complete the job.

Just prior to the walk-off, negotiations had been continuing for two weeks without results between the Michigan Road Builders Association, representing the construction company hired for the job, and the union.

At that time a company spokesman told the NEWS that if the strike lasted a month, it could have gone on until next spring. The strike actually lasted 20 days and the company expects the job to be done within a week.

With just the engineers union contract settled, trouble may still come from the laborers themselves who are now working without a contract. Gary Bernier, Angelo Construction company engineer, said he is optimistic that the work will be finished before the laborers take any decisive action.

Although the resurfacing of the road has been completed, shaping the slopes, raking the top soil, seeding and pavement markings still must be done before the road is open to traffic. (Continued on Page 2)

South High School Paper Ranks Among Nation's Top Scholastic Publications

The Tower Earns All-American Recognition by Judges in Annual Critical Evaluation Conducted by Press Association

Grosse Pointe South High School's student newspaper, The Tower, continued to rank among the nation's top publications as results of the annual critical evaluation were released by the National Scholastic Press Association.

The Tower earned All American recognition as judges compared issues published second semester with more than 1,600 newspapers from across the country.

The newspaper was evaluated in five areas and earned Marks of Distinction for superior achievement in all five. Four marks were required to become All American. Five qualified the paper for an additional evaluation to select the six Pacemaker newspapers in the country.

Outstanding Job
In evaluating content and coverage, the judge commented, "Staff does an outstanding job of covering student life and concerns—both in school itself and highly relevant 'outside' issues. Coverage extends far beyond scheduled events and 'back-grounding' is highly effective."

Concerning writing and editing the judge said, "News stories are crisp, specific and direct. Features are varied in approach and subject, but consistently well-written, thought-provoking and newsworthy."

The judge wrote, "One of the strongest areas of this excellent paper is editorial leadership. Responsible, logical editorials comment on a variety of tangible issues. Quality of writing is professional."

The fourth Mark of Distinction came in physical appearance, where the judge commented, "Bright, sparkling appearance captures reader's interest and this continues throughout. Variety and careful planning are two strengths here. An attractive, easy-to-read paper!"

Others on the editorial staff were Jamie Kirchner, cartoonist; Dennis Fedoruk, photography coordinator; Tim Kiska; John Lemmer; Sue Lardner; and Dennis Gabriel.

Sue Coleman and Debbie Cooper were business managers, with Carol Washer assigned to advertising, Mary Hughes to exchange, and Joann Wright to circulation.

Leaves Piled On Pavement Spell Danger

Constitute Treacherous Temptation to Fun-Loving Children and Careless Drivers

The days have arrived when leaves will be falling from the trees at an ever increasing rate until the branches are bare against the November sky.

There is an inherent danger surrounding this fact. Residents in the Grosse Pointe area will be collecting the leaves and piling them near the curb to be picked up by municipal employees.

Over the years there have been several additions but no master plan for long range development. The school is educationally fragmented especially in the science, music and art areas, and almost all spaces are below the accepted high school standards of today.

In recent years, two such cases have occurred in the Woods, police report. One happened in 1966, in which a 13-year-old was dragged for over 300 feet, and one last year.

Woods officials, this year, are making an appeal to Grosse Pointe residents to rake the leaves into a pile between the sidewalk and the curb and to keep the leaves out of the street.

Although there is no specific city ordinance in the Woods to prevent residents from using the street, Director Donald Coats told the NEWS that it would benefit citizens if they kept the leaves on the grass.

He said that, aside from the safety angle, it would keep the leaves from flowing into the gutters during heavy rain storms, thus allowing more effective drainage of rain water.

City Manager Chester Petersen reports that the leaves will be picked up on the same day that the rubbish is collected. Previously, the crews worked on different days and operated on a rotating cycle.

"Many times, the residents would finish raking their leaves immediately after the crews passed," Petersen said. "This way residents will know when to expect the collection."

Special Meeting Held to Discuss School Renovation

Interested Citizens Attend Session with Board of Education to Air Proposed Solutions to South High Problems

Interested citizens attended a special meeting of the Board of Education on Monday, September 28, to discuss the renovation of South High School.

Both those in attendance and trustees appeared to be in favor of tearing down the annex at South since it is considered an inadequate structure, however, found it difficult to agree as to how the board should proceed from there.

Among the many solutions offered the trustees were restricting and year-around utilization of the building. Board members were also asked to present a final proposal to what renovation will take place and methods of financing, for public reaction before finally voting its approval.

Jerry Gerich, South High principal, indicated that what he was seeking in the proposed renovation was a more flexible instructional facility.

Major Problems
Ben Zenn, director of administrative services, summarized what he considered the major problems with South. He said, "A great deal of tonight's discussion centered around the capacity of the school. I do not feel that in any of the studies capacity was the main concern. The main point in the renovation is to bring South up to adequate present day high school standards."

"The main building dates back to 1928. The B annex, built prior to 1928, and the drivers' education area, are poor facilities, poorly located. The site itself is tight and there are major traffic and parking problems."

Mr. Zenn continued, "The plant as a whole is a hodge-podge of buildings and facilities."

School Fragmented
Over the years there have been several additions but no master plan for long range development. The school is educationally fragmented especially in the science, music and art areas, and almost all spaces are below the accepted high school standards of today.

In recent years, two such cases have occurred in the Woods, police report. One happened in 1966, in which a 13-year-old was dragged for over 300 feet, and one last year.

Woods officials, this year, are making an appeal to Grosse Pointe residents to rake the leaves into a pile between the sidewalk and the curb and to keep the leaves out of the street.

Although there is no specific city ordinance in the Woods to prevent residents from using the street, Director Donald Coats told the NEWS that it would benefit citizens if they kept the leaves on the grass.

He said that, aside from the safety angle, it would keep the leaves from flowing into the gutters during heavy rain storms, thus allowing more effective drainage of rain water.

"Many times, the residents would finish raking their leaves immediately after the crews passed," Petersen said. "This way residents will know when to expect the collection."

Spend $5.92 Per Day on Each Pupil

Operating Budget of $14,355,297 Expended on 13,119 Students During 182-Day Year

"Many residents of the school district may be surprised to learn that it cost only $5.92 per day to educate a youngster in The Grosse Pointe Public School System in 1969-70, an amount which also includes the operation of the public libraries," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools said on Monday.

Dr. Anderson made the announcement in connection with the second issue of the school's newsletter, Education in Our Town, which has been mailed to more than 20,000 residents of the district.

The Superintendent said that the October issue, an annual report to the community, contains a breakdown on the operational costs of the school system for the 1969-70 year which ended June 30.

Instruction Big Item
The Superintendent of Schools said that the $5.92 daily cost is divided among a dozen accounts and shows that $4.26 of this amount was spent on instruction. He said that 4 cents of the total covered the cost of sending children to the Wayne County Regional Trainable Retarded Program, 2 cents covered student services, 5 cents were earmarked for capital outlay, and 21 cents went to fixed charges (such as insurance on buildings and equipment and employee fringe benefits).

A further breakdown of the $5.92 total shows that 17 cents went to maintain the buildings and grounds, 60 cents were allocated for operational expenses (including salaries of plant personnel), 3 cents were earmarked for transportation costs involved in taking special education students to out-of-district centers, 4 cents operated the nursing program, 6 cents went to support the program of school social workers, and 21 cents went for administrative costs.

How It's Figured
Dr. Anderson said that the $5.92 daily figure was computed by dividing the average pupil membership for the year (13,119) into the operating budget for $14,355,297, for a yearly cost of $1,077. This amount was divided by 182, the number of days of pupil attendance as required by state law.

"The October issue summarizes some of the past year's accomplishments, and includes financial data on the operation of the schools and the public libraries," Dr. Anderson said. He said that anyone who does not receive a copy of the newsletter by the 10th of the month, may stop at the school's Administration Building and get one.

Dr. Anderson said that one of his goals this year was to improve communications between the schools and the community and the newsletter is one way to achieve this end.

Driver Facing Double Trouble

When Gregory Kassab, of 40 Renaud, was stopped for running a red light by police, Thursday, September 24, he was found to have been driving without a license.

Kassab, 22, made a left turn from Mack onto Lochmoor, going through a red light. When he failed to produce a license, police arrested him, locked his car, and transported him to the station. Two violation tickets were issued to Kassab.

Delivery Truck Safe Removed

A small safe, bolted to the floor of a delivery truck, was reported to have been stolen within a 15-minute period Wednesday, September 23, Woods police disclosed.

Waymon Marshall, driver of the truck, told police that he had made a delivery at the Wrigley supermarket in the Seven-Mack shopping center and came out to find the safe gone from under the front seat.

The safe, needing two keys for opening, contained an unknown amount of money.

Dead Bandit, Woman Friend Accused in Spouses' Deaths

Howard Hartley Gates, 34, alias Robert Blanton, of 3235 South Church street, Spartansburg, S.C., who held up the Farms branch of the National Bank of Detroit on Thursday, September 17, and who was fatally wounded in a gun battle with Park police on the same day, was in the Detroit area in violation of bond provisions.

Gates had been released on bond pending trial in a Spartansburg court on a charge of murdering his wife, and had been forbidden to leave jurisdiction of the local authorities without permission, Park police said.

Two Park Bars Cited to MLCC

Two Park bars were cited to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission on Wednesday, September 23, for permitting patrons on the premises after closing hours, it was disclosed by Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt.

The first to be cited was the Merry-Go-Round Lounge, 15402 Mack avenue, when patrolling officers discovered the place was still open after closing hours and patrons still had not left after approximately 2:30 a.m.

Under MLCC rules, such places must close at 2 p.m. and the sale of liquor after that time is prohibited.

Patrons were still on the premises of the Haesbrooks Bar, 15119 Charlevoix avenue, at about 2:40 a.m., on Wednesday, September 23, police charged.

Injuries Suffered in June Fatal to Robert G. Clark

Robert G. Clark, 17-year veteran of the Grosse Pointe Public School system died on Wednesday, September 23, in Sarasota General Hospital from injuries sustained when he was struck by a motorcycle on Monday, June 22.

Mr. Clark was struck by a cyclist as he attempted to cross Gratiot and Fournier on Detroit's eastside. The driver of the motorcycle was killed.

Mr. Clark sustained multiple lacerations, head injuries and a broken leg. He remained in a coma until his death on Wednesday.

He joined the school system as a math teacher at Parcels Junior High School and spent the last 13 years as a counselor at Brownell Middle School.

Accused of Spouses' Deaths

on September 17. He escaped with $1,056 placed in a brown paper bag by a bank employee who was forced to do so at gunpoint. The money was recovered later.
The teller and other bank workers gave police a good description of the bandit, and his car. The license plates were covered with cardboard, it was reported. A woman was seen behind the wheel of the getaway vehicle.
At 8:45 p.m. the same day, Gates, still wearing the same clothing and in the company of a woman, was seen walking on Charlevoix, at Lakepointe, by Park Sgt. Gordon Duncan. The sergeant, after verifying the description of the robber that had been received earlier over the teletype, called for assistance, and Warren and Furtaw were dispatched.

Furtaw, who was the first to get out of the scout car, approached Gates and the woman, and asked Gates to wait, that he wished to talk him, but was ignored. When Furtaw called out the second time, Gates turned, pulled an automatic out of his pocket and fired four times. One bullet hit Furtaw in the left arm. One shot barely missed Warren.
Furtaw, whose vision was obscured and who was taken by surprise, was felled by Gates' shot, but Warren pulled his service revolver and fired five times. Gates dropped with two bullets in the abdomen, and one each in the jaw, neck and head.
Duncan, who had driven by behind the other scout car, before the exchange of shot, shouted a warning to his colleagues when he saw Gates pulling a gun from his pocket. The sergeant leaped from his police vehicle, his gun drawn, but by the time he got out, the shooting was over.
Police units from Detroit raced to the scene when informed of the shoot-out. The gun battle occurred within Detroit's jurisdiction. City, Farms and Woods scout car crews also sped to the scene, to help if they were needed.
Following the shooting, Mrs. Parker escaped from the area. She returned later and was arrested by Detroit police and taken to Jefferson Station, Fifth Precinct, for questioning. Gates was tentatively identified at the time as Robert Blanton, first by Mrs. Parker, who told her questioners that she was Shirley Blanton, wife of the badly wounded man. She gave his name as Robert Blanton.
Detroit police said that Gates had no identification on his person, and had only the watch with the name of the Narcotics Bureau policeman's name inscribed on it.
The fingerprints of Gates and the woman brought out their true identities.
Park Police Chief Gerard Kesteloot said that he will recommend Department Citations for Duncan, Warren and Furtaw, for the manner in which they conducted themselves "in the highest tradition of police service". The recommendations will be made to the Park council.

Burglar Suspect Caught at Scene

A Royal Oak resident has been charged with an attempted breaking and entering of a Woods home and placed under a thousand dollar bond.

Patrick Hagerty, 1002 Woodward, in Royal Oak, was stopped, questioned and arrested after Woods police received a call from Mrs. Ralph MacLelland, 1384 N. Renaud.

At approximately 2 a.m., Thursday, September 24, the MacLellands had heard footsteps across the roof of the sunporch. Investigating, Ralph MacLelland told police he saw someone lifting the screen from a rear window. When he yelled, "What do you want," the prowler ran from the window.

When Cpl. Thomas Kerving answered the call, he shut his lights off before entering the immediate area. Spotting Hagerty, Kerving questioned him asked him where he lived. Hagerty responded, saying that he was lost. When questioned, he also told police that he had been in the backyard of MacLelland's house.

Hagerty was placed under arrest and transported to the station. Paint and mud samples were taken from his hands and shoes for evidence. Hagerty was released on bond.

Four Pointers Indicted In Bankruptcy Fraud Case

Four Pointers were among those persons under indictment in a $100,000 bankruptcy fraud case disclosed on Friday.

Jack W. Tocco, executive vice-president of the Hazel Park Racing Association and 14 others, many of whom are alleged to be Detroit racketeers, are charged with taking part in a scheme to "milk" the Palm Furniture Company of its assets in 1960 after obtaining merchandise on credit from wholesalers.

The State Racing Commissioner, Leo C. Shirley, asked Tocco on Monday to resign as vice-president and director of the Hazel Park Association but Tocco refused. The Hazel Park Board of directors supported Tocco's decision and said that Tocco "has fully explained his conduct in the matter. We are convinced when the facts are known he will be proven innocent."

Dominic (Fats) Corrado, who resigned as director of the Hazel Park track in July, 1969, was also named in the indictment.

Corrado had been indicted by a New York federal grand jury shortly before his Hazel Park resignation. He and others were charged there with racketeering in connection with loans from a union pension fund.

Tocco, 44, lives at 560 Middlesex; Corrado, 40, lives at 701 Middlesex.

The bankruptcy indictment was returned secretly to Chief Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman by the federal task force grand jury in Detroit.

It was made public by Ralph B. Guy, Jr., U.S. attorney in Detroit, and Neil J. Welch, Michigan head of the FBI after the defendants were arrested.

Welch indicated that eight of those named in the indictment have been identified at various times as "members of the Detroit-area organized crime syndicate."

Tocco and Corrado were named by the Department of Justice in the Congressional Record on August 12, 1969, as being among the "top nine Mafia leaders in Detroit."

Guy explained that the indictment was the result of "an extensive FBI investigation." He said evidence was further developed before the grand jury by the federal organized crime task force directed by James E. Ritchie, special assistant U.S. attorney general.

George G. Newman, special assistant to the task force, interrogated hundreds of furniture wholesalers and manufacturers before the grand jury.

Maximum penalty for conviction on the one-count indictment is five years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

The indictment charges three operators of Palm Furniture used "fraudulently prepared business statements" to obtain $100,000 in merchandise on credit from wholesalers in the summer of 1960.

Just three months later the company went bankrupt with only $6,000 left in assets. Some $80,000 in merchandise completely disappeared, according to the indictment.

Further investigation revealed that the merchandise was hidden in two eastside warehouses, to defraud the bankruptcy receiver and trustees from claiming the assets, the indictment alleges.

This merchandise was then "sold, bartered and exchanged" below the wholesale price to twelve of the defendants, and three other defendants, employees of the store, also took part in the fraud.

It is further charged that all defendants were well aware of "the plans of the operators to cause Palm Furniture to be thrown into bankruptcy, and that they concealed, aided and abetted the concealment of the assets of the bankrupt business."

Founders of the Palm Furniture Company were identified in the indictment as Matthew (Mike the Enforcer) Rubino, Samuel (Sammy G.) Giordano and Eugene Ellsworth Ayotte. They were not named either as defendants or co-conspirators since they were previously tried in Federal Court in 1962 indictment on similar charges.

Rubino was found innocent

MINI-BIKE PARTS TAKEN
Sean Brophy, 785 Washington, called City police on Tuesday, September 22, to report the theft of parts of his mini-bike which was parked in his garage. The bike was last seen chain locked to an old radiator in the garage on Monday, September 21, at 6 p.m. Missing were the bike's engine, seat and throttle control.

due to insufficient evidence and Ayotte and Giordano were convicted.

Ayotte was sentenced in June, 1964, to serve five years in prison and Giordano received an 18-month sentence. Only Ayotte has served time in jail. Giordano has been at liberty on appeal.

The other two Pointers named in the indictment and charged with receiving Palm Furniture merchandise were Anthony (Tony Long) Cimini, 48, of 1211 Cadieux road, who was also named as one of the named in Federal Court to five years in prison in May of 1969 for his role in the theft of color television sets from a warehouse.

Cimini also was sentenced to two years in federal prison in January of 1969, for transportation.

Senior Citizens To Take Trips

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association in conjunction with the Neighborhood Club is initiating a new program of short, interesting excursions for Senior Citizens.

The first trip is scheduled for Tuesday, October 6, to Franklin Village and the Cider Mill. Charter busses will pick up the group at the War Memorial, at 11 o'clock for the trip to Franklin. Delicious box lunches prepared by the catering staff of the War Memorial will be served in the lovely Community Church on the Franklin Village Green.

There will be time to visit the attractive shops adjacent to the Green before a 10-minute ride to Franklin Cider Mill where the group will have a specially conducted tour and where they can do some antiquing across the way.

Cost is just $3.75 for transportation, lunch and tour. Paid reservations should be made to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial office as soon as possible.

Response to the Trips for Seniors program has been terrific and more trips are in the planning stage such as Cranbrook, Greenfield Village, the Art Institute, shows, etc. Let the Center know where you would like to go. (Incidentally, the Centers definition of "Senior" is very broad).

Always store oily dust cloths in airtight containers to prevent combustion and to save anything from being soiled by them.

U-L Students Start New Year

Some 800 University-Liggett Upper, Middle and Lower Schools students recently returned to the school's dual campus classrooms.

Headmaster Raymond Robbins addressed the three-school faculty in the University Campus auditorium and outlined changes that took place during the summer months. He announced the election of Mrs. H. Bradford Aarons as president of the Board of Trustees, along with the election of vice-presidents James M. Earl, Peter P. Thurber and Horace C. Ford, and treasurer John B. Watkins.

Mr. Robbins then named John R. Bowers, Stanley R. Day, W. Merritt Jones, Jr., R. Rust Muirhead, and Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips as newly elected members to the University-Liggett School Board of Trustees, and introduced new teaching and administrative staff members: Miss Doris Ranke will teach Upper School science; Scott Reiter, Upper School music; Eric Linder, Middle School English and history; Miss Nancy Chase, Lower School reading; and the Reverend Harry Cook, Religious Ideas in Western Literature in the Upper School.

Miss Carol Fenley and Miss Martha Barrett return to former teaching positions in the third grade. Mrs. Margaret M. Shea was introduced as special administrative assistant for development.

Because of the merger the University-Liggett curriculum study, which is an ongoing process, was given special emphasis this year with the result that there are many changes at all levels that greatly strengthen the school's academic, athletic, and extra-curriculum programs.

The purchase of books, audio-visual aids and other needed equipment implemented curriculum changes in all areas. Necessary changes were made in the physical plant in order to establish the Middle School and remodel it to accommodate boys; a separate Lower School that includes library and science facilities was created and a general refurbishing of the Upper School was completed.

Mr. Robbins stated, "While we return each year with renewed enthusiasm, we are particularly optimistic as we move into the 1970-71 school year because of the many significant changes."

Sept. 5th Business Week reported the granting of exclusive mineral rights, for 37,500 sq. kilometers of mineral rich Kataga Province, by the Congolese government to Japanese firms. Included in this area are copper fields with known reserves of 110 million tons of 2.1% copper ore and a 25 million tons lode of 5.1 to 8.4% quality. (By contrast ores in the Western U.S. average .5%).

I imagine, if there were real racial equality in this country how the situation would have been. Our business representatives would have been as black as Mobutu and as American as Uncle Sam. The Japanese wouldn't have had a chance.

Consider the depleted state of U.S. mineral resources and the fact that most untapped resources lie in non-white Asia, Africa and South America. It looks like one of the cost of continued racism in America will be a second class economy.

Four Warren youths, stopped by Shores police for driving with only one headlight, were found to be in possession of what appeared to be marijuana and drugs.

Janice Hladysz, 29527 Dover; James Harkness, 81048 Tecla; Paulette Brown, 13058 Champagne; and Richard Grenier, Jr., 29331 Wagner, were held and released on a $100 bond each.

will be responsible for training neighborhood solicitors, supplying campaign booklets, canisters and return envelopes.

By November 5, thousands of hours will have been spent on volunteer work, solicitors will have walked many hundreds of miles, and appeals will have been made to every home in Grosse Pointe.

In the past, Pointers have contributed significantly and the United Foundation will be looking to The Pointe again this year for substantial support in its effort to help the more than 200 organizations in its youth, research, and health programs.

Volunteers in Grosse Pointe, this year, will be trying to match or better last year's total donations of just under $75,000. This figure, when compared with last year's donations of $11,000 from Harper Woods and $8,000 from St. Clair Shores, show that Pointe donations are a major source of support for the agencies represented by the Foundation.

Being a non-profit organization, the Foundation works on a very tight budget, allowing itself only four cents from every dollar on which to finance its costs.

Organized 20 years ago, the Foundation is designed to meet all current basic needs of community services. The board of directors, volunteers themselves, make a review of the budget requests of each of the agencies and allocates the minimum dollar amount needed by each.

The review necessarily results in the elimination of old agencies that the board feels has lost in relative importance, or is able to finance sufficiently its own programs. New agencies, judged to be more important in the community sphere are then added to the list.

In effect, this keeps the whole set-up streamlined and relevant to the needs of the society the Foundation serves. Of course, many agencies and associations have remained on the list for many years and can expect to benefit from the donations for some time to come. Among them are organizations that specialize in heart disease and cancer research, and those dedicated to the handicapped and underprivileged.

But other agencies are comparatively new and people in poverty and youth programs who are potential beneficiaries of the government will receive aid from the Foundation.

Asked about prospects for this year's collection, Torch Drive section chairman, Mrs. Bernard J. Uhalik, 1638 Newcastle, said that generally she is very optimistic.

"Although an automotive strike may affect us somewhat in other areas," Mrs. Uhalik said, "I don't think donations from the Grosse Pointe area should drop because of this. Blue collar areas may feel the pinch a little bit."

The United Foundation, in urging everyone to "give once for all" also emphasizes the importance of "giving enough for all." In a booklet released to Torch Drive volunteers, the UF makes an illustration of what relatively small amounts can accomplish.

Ten dollars will buy five pairs of children's crutches; $30 buys five chest, abdomen or limb X-rays for crippled children; $75 buys a month of Girl Scout activities for 110 girls; $100 buys hot lunches for 20 nursery-school children for one month. The UF asks each contributor to relate the gift amount to an hour's pay per month.

Is there a principle for solving life's problems?

There is.

This Principle is called God. And His perfect laws are available for each of us to use in our lives.

In our Sunday School, children have fun learning how to solve problems of all kinds by turning intelligently to God as the Principle of perfection. And they find that this divine Principle is just as available and provable as the laws of mathematics.

Find Stolen Car Badly Damaged

Woods police found what proved to be a stolen car after answering a call reporting two boys leaving a damaged car and driving off in another one, Sunday, September 27.

Patrolman John Treppa, in a routine check, received reports clearing the car from being involved in a larceny. However, after numerous calls to the homeowner, it was found that the car was in fact a stolen automobile, and, although reported to the East Detroit police, the theft was not entered as inter-departmental information because a license number was not available.

Police, finding the car heavily damaged and with a leaking radiator, made several calls to the owner, Mrs. Marilyn Griffor, 17446 Lincoln, East Detroit, and finally spoke to Ronald 1971. Buick introduces a new set of values.

Value, not gimmicks or ornamentation, sells cars. More people have been coming to Buick each year for just that reason. Buick concentrates on value. And this year, Buick introduces a new set of values. Features that will help make your new Buick perform better, last longer and get you more of a return on your investment at trade-in time.

Only a Buick dealer can offer you our new set of values. So, test your values against our new ones. Then ask yourself this simple question. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

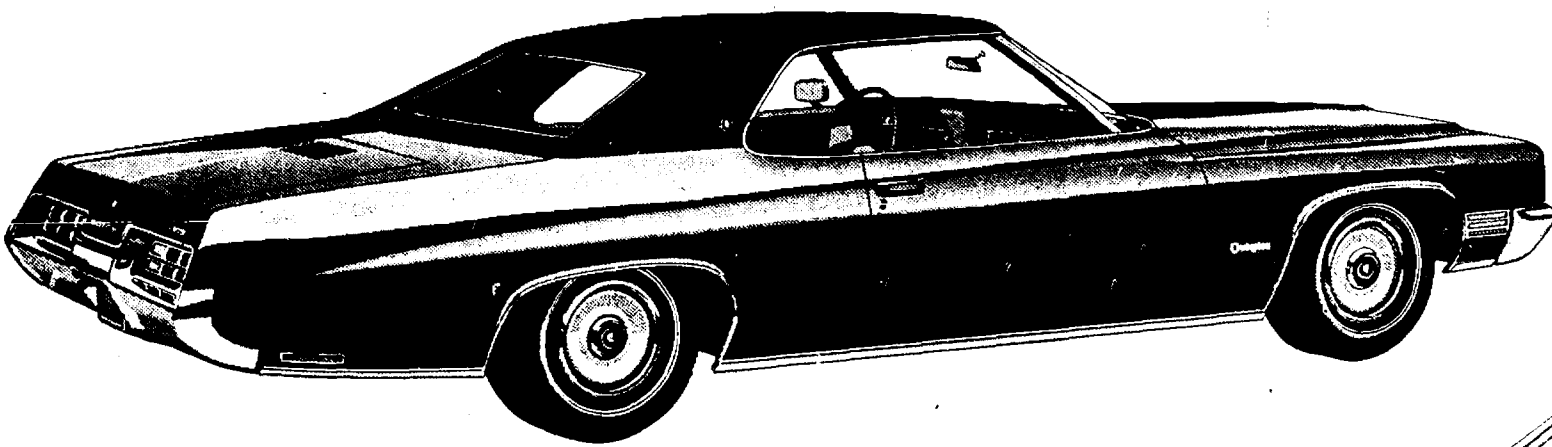

Something to believe in.

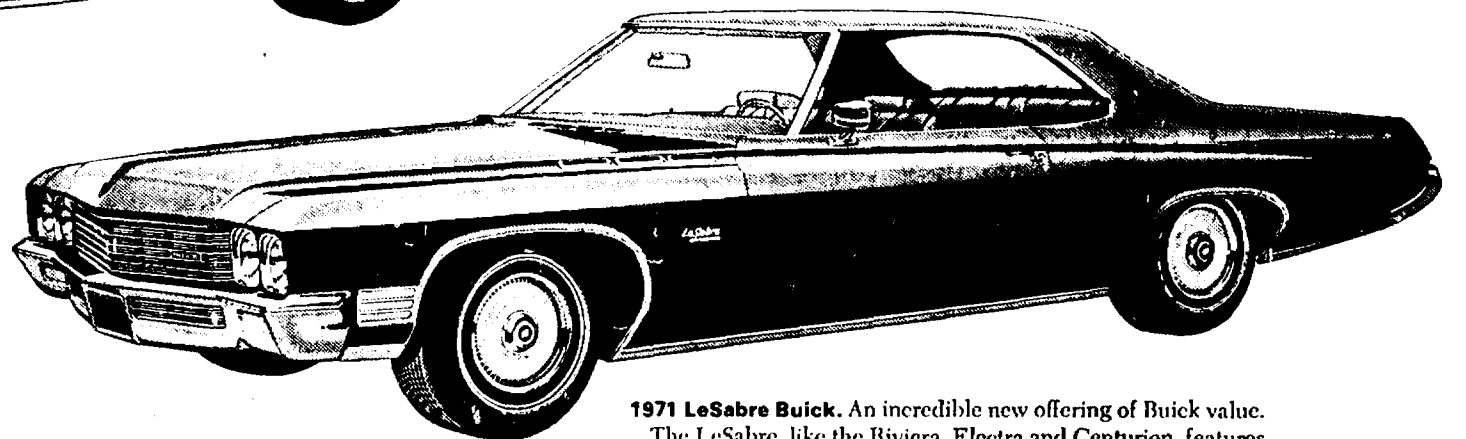

1971 Buick Riviera. A totally new design concept. And that's not all. Riviera offers MaxTrac, an exclusive power control system you can order with its own on-board computer. It helps get you securely over slick surfaces by reducing rear-wheel slipping. The new body features side-guard beams for protection, a bigger trunk, and a driver cockpit with a control center designed around the driver for new ease and convenience.

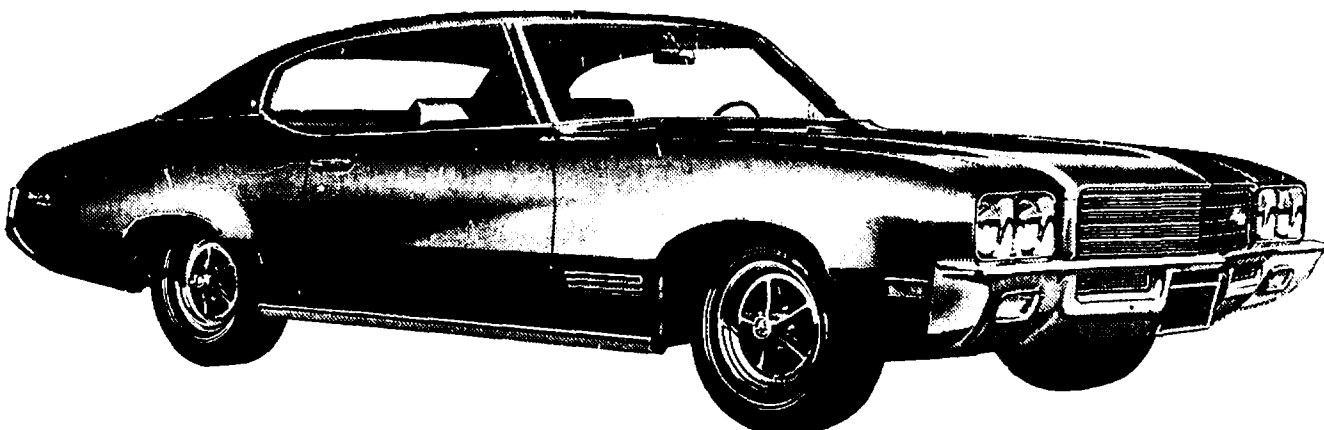

1971 Buick Electra 225. A new interpretation of quiet elegance. We've improved our Electra everywhere you look. There's more room in every direction, interiors that can be appreciated as much for their durability as for their beauty and comfort, even a new balanced braking system. A unique valve proportions braking force front to rear to help give you quick, smooth straight-line stops.

1971 Buick Centurion. This is our newest Buick, a city car with sleekness and grace as well as muscle. It features more nimble variable-ratio power steering, power front disc brakes, Full-Flo ventilation, and a vinyl roof on the Centurion Formal Coupe as standard equipment.

1971 LeSabre Buick. An incredible new offering of Buick value. The LeSabre, like the Riviera, Electra and Centurion, features AccuDrive, a new version of the directional stability system we pioneered. It will help give you smooth handling.

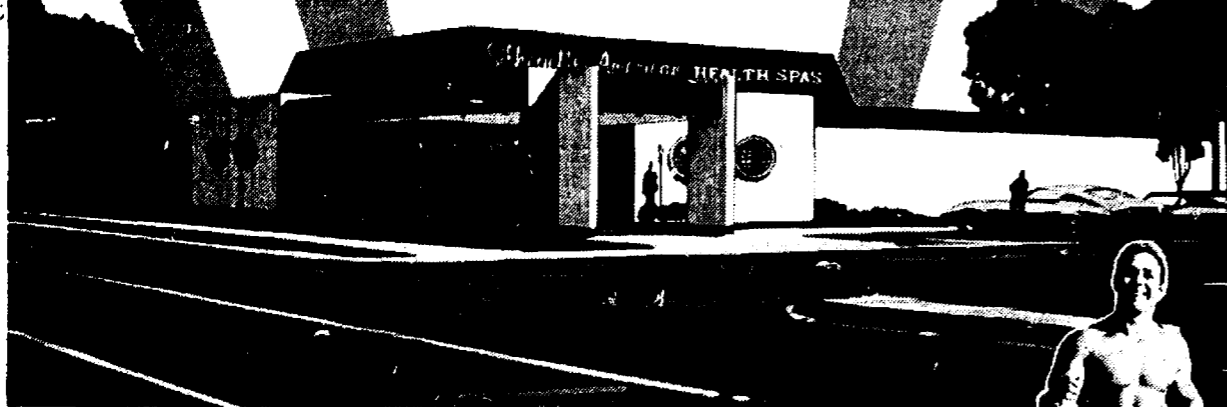

1971 Buick Skylark Custom. This is the car that has set the pace for value in its price class. Rocker panels that wash and dry themselves, big-Buick room and comfort inside, a cooling system that should never overheat, inner fenders that protect the outer fenders, and a modest price have put our Buick Skylark traditionally among the resale leaders in its class.

An Important Improvement. Every new Buick engine is now designed to run smoothly and efficiently, and with lower exhaust emissions, on no-lead and low-lead gasolines. And every Buick V-8 engine will have exclusive nickel-plated exhaust valves for smoother operation and longer valve life, and a new time-modulated carburetor choke to help give quicker warm-up and a more consistent fuel mixture.

School System To Conduct Polls

How do people learn about their schools? What is their opinion of the education that their children receive? What kinds of information do they want about the schools?

In an effort to answer these and other perplexing questions during 1970-71, The Grosse Pointe Public School System will conduct a series of community-wide polls using the telephone, random sampling techniques, and post card opinionnaires to determine the most effective means of communication with all segments of the school district.

The first of the series, a post card opinionnaire on various channels of communication by which people learn about public schools, will be mailed this week.

The schools' staff urges residents whose names may be chosen in the various random samples to cooperate by answering the questions asked and by returning cards or questionnaires promptly.

POOR JUDGMENT

High ideals are all right, but don't try to force all your acquaintances to accept them.

Famed Organist To Give Recital

The brilliant American organist, Ray Ferguson, who will give a recital at the Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church on October 11, at 7:30 p.m., is a native of Poplar Bluff, Mo., and did his undergraduate study with Virginia Denyer Reese in Oklahoma, following which he was the recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship from 1954-55 and a renewal of this scholarship from 1955-56.

During this period he was a student of Helmut Walcha, famous blind organist, at the Staatliche Hochschule fuer Musik in Frankfurt/Main, Germany, and studied conducting with Kurt Thomas, now Cantor of the Thomas Kirche in Leipzig, a position once held by Johann Sebastian Bach. During his stay in Europe, Mr. Ferguson played a series of recitals in six West German cities, served as assistant organist at two Frankfurt churches, and was selected to serve as substitute organist for his distinguished teacher at the Dreikoenigs Kirche.

Upon his return to the United States, Mr. Ferguson did graduate study with Arthur Poister at Syracuse University, from which he holds the Master of Music degree. At present he is Director of Music at the Bushnell Congregational Church in Detroit, and a member of the organ faculty at Wayne State University. Mr. Ferguson was the consultant and designer of the new Tellers Organ at Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church.

Mr. Ferguson has played recitals in cities from coast to coast in this country and Canada and was the winner of the national competition in organ-playing at the American Guild of Organists' national convention in Houston in June, 1958.

Librarian's Life Far From Dull

By Pepper Whittell
"Could you please tell me what that thing women in Libya wear over their heads is called . . . you know, so only the left eye shows?"
Now if you are a librarian at one of the Grosse Pointe Libraries this is not an unusual request. As a matter of fact, we here at the NEWS have used the services of these talented people over and over again, from asking origins of certain holidays, to the spelling of foreign words to "this thing so only the left eye shows" (which incidentally is a barracan).

Our librarians have to be part mind readers, part professors, part comedians and have plenty of good old common sense besides in order to translate some of the patrons' request.

For example, if someone asked you for Spigel's book, "My Sweetheart," would you know they meant Segal's book, "Love Story?" (Anyways the sentiments are the same!) Or how about "Atlas Shrunk?" . . . he may have shrunk, but he also shrugged.

Or how about some of these student requests . . . "Homer's Idiot" . . . "The Scarlet Pumpernickle" (this from a well-bread child?) . . . "The Age of Asparagus?"

Then there's the youngster who wanted a book on stimulated pearls and the would-be-magician who was looking for a book on magic so he could be a miniature magician . . . If you ever thought librarians lead dull lives, forget it; they have a ball!

Figures may not lie, but some get snarled up in statistics.

MATTER OF TIME
Today when a man graduates from the school of experience his diploma is usually a social security check.

UNLESS WORRY
Forethought would be a much greater asset if a lot less of it was devoted to posing problems that never arise.

People who invent excuses are infringing on an age-old patient.

Business is business for those who mind their own business.

STATUE STOLEN
Mrs. Joseph Dodge, 375 Washington, called City police on Wednesday, September 23, to report the theft of a statue of St. Christopher, with a seashell base, from her back yard sometime between Sunday, September 20, and that date. The statue was three to four feet high.

The names by which we MEASURE TIME are, for the most part, of Latin origin. Curiously, the days of the week are the exception. They come to us from Teutonic words.

Saturday, Sunday, and Monday are linked with heavenly bodies . . . Saturday with SATURN, Sunday with SUN, and Monday with MOON.

The other four days are named after Scandinavian gods . . . Tuesday after the War-god—TIV, Wednesday after the god of Storm—WODEN, Thursday and Friday after the god of Thunder—THOR and his wife—FRIGGA, herself the goddess of Love.

Each day is a little life—a little space of time. You can have a happier time of it by consulting with SCHWEITZER on your really needs and wants. Ford's acceptance of the campaign post was announced by another Pointer, Cleveland Thurber, Jr., of Edgemere road, advance gifts committee vice chairman for the men's group.

Thurber, who is senior vice president of Detroit Bank & Trust Co., said:

"I am delighted Mr. Ford again will serve on this important assignment. He has been instrumental in building the committee's record of successes, and we know we can count on him this year."

The UF advance gifts committee solicits gifts from select individuals and foundations prior to the official opening of the Torch Drive.

This year's campaign is set for October 13 through November 5 to raise operating funds for nearly 200 health and community services.

Ford is president of Gentrex Inc., an export and foreign investments firm in the Ford Building.

He is a board member of Leader Dogs for the Blind, a Torch Drive service; Jennings Hospital, and University-Liggett School.

Ford and his wife, Mary Lou, have a son, John B. Ford, IV. The advance gifts committee raised $1,124,788 of last year's $30.6 million Torch Drive total.

The 1970 campaign goal will be announced early in September after the UF board of directors reviews recommendations of the goal and allocations committee.

South High's Blue Devils Blank Livonia Churchill

Through rain and mud, Saturday, September 26, the Grosse Pointe South High School Blue Devils crushed an improved Livonia Churchill team 19-0, after suffering an opening loss to Ann Arbor, 33-0, two weeks ago. The Devils seem to be following the same game pattern as they used last year—lose to Ann Arbor badly, then come on strong for the rest of the season. The Devils will have to be strong for the rest of the season if they hope to repeat as the Border Cities League champions this year. Head Coach Russ Hepner feels the BCL is the strongest it has ever been. Royal Oak and Wyandotte are the two squads South graders will be fearing most. "Both teams are very physical and have lots of lettermen returning," commented Hepner. The Devils will get a shot at Wyandotte as they come to Grosse Pointe Saturday, October 3. The Bears are still simmering about the two narrow defeats the Devils have handed them the last couple of seasons, 14-13 and 7-6. Marking the beginning of the BCL season for both squads, it will be one of the most important games of the year for the two teams. The Devils will have to play solid football, and look as sharp as they did against Livonia Churchill. South's offense seemed to come alive in the Churchill contest, with Mark Saber scoring once and George "The Tank" Massu scoring twice on runs of nine and seven yards. The Blue Devil's defense aided the offense all afternoon, giving them good field position most of the game. South's scoring parade started with a swing pass to Saber who scampered 75 yards for the touchdown. Saber was sprung by some excellent blocks up field. Jack Gardner's point after the touchdown was blocked by the unusually tall Livonia line. Massu accounted for Grosse Pointe next two scores with bulldozing runs through the slot in the third and fourth quarters. After Massu's first score, the Devils went for a two point conversion and missed, as Bailey's

Suczek Returns To Teach Guitar

Folk Guitar instruction with Alexander Suczek resumes at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Monday, October 12, at which time Mr. Suczek returns from Europe with a new repertoire of music. As most Pointers know, Mr. Suczek is a guitarist and troubadour of note — the founder of the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival and a charter member of the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Society. A Harvard graduate, music is his avocation and he has taught literally thousands of Grosse Pointers to accompany themselves and others on the guitar. On Monday evenings, October 12-December 14, there will be a beginning Folk Guitar group from 7-9 o'clock. Lessons involve group playing and singing from special instruction sheets worked out by Mr. Suczek. No music or theory or reading of music is involved. Basic chords, strum and sell known folk songs are learned. The course is open to both teen agers and adults. Of course, a guitar is requisite and advance registration is advised as the course is always full. At 8 o'clock, also on Monday nights October 12-December 14, Mr. Suczek will teach a more advanced Folk Guitar class for which course 1 is requisite. Here students will learn elaborations and combinations of strums and barred chords as well as complex progressions. A more sophisticated and extensive repertoire of songs in many languages will be learned too. Each course is offered for $17 for 10 weeks.

His wife, Marlene, is a former English teacher with a master's degree, also from M.S.U. They are expecting their first child in October. Thirty applicants applied for the position, nine were interviewed and Mr. Maniere was selected.

WHAT IS TRUE SATISFACTION?

Today people look for satisfaction in nice positions, things, or personal relationships. But do these provide lasting satisfaction?

Many are finding real peace, joy, and fulfillment in doing good—in expressing God's ever-present goodness.

You can hear more about how to find this lasting satisfaction in a coming free public lecture by Mrs. Catherine H. Anwander, a teacher and practitioner of Christian Science from Santiago, Chile.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Things will be happening, plans are afoot... Consider this trio of up-comings — Planned Parenthood Christmas Mart, University-Liggett Lecture Series, Junior Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale—and mark your calendars accordingly.

Autumn's always such a beautifully busy season.

The Christmas Mart

It's to be presented October 20 through 22, Tuesday evening through all day Wednesday until 5 o'clock Thursday, at the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit's Civic Center.

This year's collection of "one-of-a-kind" specialty shops numbers 28 in all including Planned Parenthood League's own Mistletoe Madness where you'll find, among the velvet patchwork evening bags, handkerchiefs and hand-fashioned Christmas ornaments a group of charming little stepladders, hand-painted by Mrs. Raymond R. White, Jr., of Lincoln road.

At least... you'll find them if you come early. If we were to hazard a guess on how fast they'll go, we'd opt for sometime before noon Wednesday.

But the "professional" shops don't run out. And they're so many—all under one roof—and their merchandise is so unique that the Christmas Mart's been THE place to find gifts for those "impossibles" on your (mine, everyone's) holiday list for 11 years now.

Need something for one of the Beautiful People? The "in" thong sandals come from Palm Beach's Kornhauser Shoes—and Kornhauser's coming, first-time, to the Mart this year.

Wondering what to do about Aunt Lydia, who has NO hobbies, NO interests and spends half her life in bed? Dorcas Hardin, of Washington, D.C., is noted for lavish lingerie and leisure fashions—and Dorcas Hardin's coming back to the Mart this year.

Portraits, people and pets... hunting gear, fishing gear, men's haberdashery... antiques... prints and sculpture... children's clothes... candies and candles... personalized stationery, "Lilly's" and silk flowers... Why, WE're getting carried away just thinking about the possibilities for our own "impossibles!"

For the first time there'll be a Pointe-to-Mart shuttle service, Wednesday only, with busses leaving the Country Club every two hours from 9 to 5, returning every two hours from noon to 6. Mrs. Gilbert Hudson, of Beverly road, is handling bus reservations.

Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman, of Lakeshore road, serves as honorary Mart chairman. Mrs. J. Lawrence

Former Pointer LINDA LAURITSEN, daughter of MR. and MRS. R. M. LAURITSEN, of Larchmont, N.Y., and granddaughter of MRS. B. H. STICKNEY and the late DR. Mrs. Joy Wed To Mr. Pierce

Frank E. Pierce, Jr., and his bride, the former Mrs. Richard Joy, Jr., who moved from The Pointe a few years ago, making her permanent residence her home in Harbor Springs, are at home there following their marriage Saturday, September 26, in Harbor Springs' St. James Episcopal Church. Only their children, the bride's sons Richard Joy, III, and James F. Joy and their wives and the bridegroom's sons Frank Pierce, III, of New York, and Heber C. Pierce, of Chicago, with their wives, were present at the ceremony. The former Mrs. Joy's daughter, Mrs. Robert Ginter, was unable to come from California.

After the ceremony there were toasts at the bridegroom's Harbor Springs home. He and the former Mary Reynolds, (who's always called "Sue"), of Toledo, have been friends for half-a-century. Mr. Pierce and the late Mr. Joy were at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and in the Navy together.

The Joys moved to Harbor Springs about the same time Mr. Pierce, formerly of Chicago, and the late Mary Jeanne Curtis Pierce made it their year-around home.

The newlyweds will take a wedding trip later. "It's too nice in Michigan to go away now," the bridegroom explains.

John Martens Claims A Bride

John E. Martens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Martens, of Beaconsfield avenue, claimed Barbara Lee Taggett, daughter of the Douglas Taggetts, of Portage, as his bride Saturday, September 26, at a 7 o'clock double ring candlelight service in Portage United Methodist Church.

A reception in the Church Fellowship Hall followed the rites at which The Reverend Paul Alberry presided.

An overlay of embroidered roses on organza accented the former Miss Taggett's white taffeta wedding gown. Her train was secured by a rose trimmed with seed pearls and her headpiece of rosebuds, orange blossoms and pearls caught an illusion veil.

She carried a lace-covered Bible with roses and stephanotis.

Velvet ribbon defined the Empire waists of her attendants' floor length A line green and yellow brocade frocks. They wore matching headpieces and carried arrangements of yellow Fuji mums.

Honor maid was Libby Taggett, of Kalamazoo, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were her sorority sisters Rosemarie Alexander, of Fenville, and Carla Motz, of St. John. Mrs. Robert Taggett, of Kalamazoo, and the bridegroom's sisters Mary Martens and Suzanne Martens, of Grand Rapids.

The bridegroom asked John Kellogg to serve as best man. His brother Jay B. Martens, Robert Taggett, the bride's brother, John Lappenga, of Holland, Joe Dahm, of Grand Rapids, and Scott Ritchie seated the guests.

Pearl beading accented the bride's mother's lime green silk-worsted ensemble. The bridegroom's mother wore a yellow dacron costume trimmed with lace and seed pearls. Both selected cymbidium orchid corsages.

The newlyweds are vacationing in Montreal. They will reside in Lincoln Park.

CLARENCE E. BESSERT, of Chalifonte avenue, has accepted a volunteer role with Albion College as the class representative for his Class of 1932.
