WHOLESALE PRICES declined this month for the second time in more than two years, the Labor Department reported Wednesday, kindling hope that relief from inflation may be on the way. The wholesale price index declined .2 percent in November, pushed down by sharply lower prices for cattle and hogs.

PRESIDENT NIXON fired Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel Wednesday night because of a lack of "mutual confidence." Maryland Congressman Rogers C. B. Morton, the Republican national chairman, will be nominated for Hickel's post.

A BOLIVIAN free-lance painter disguised as a priest tried to kill Pope Paul VI with a nine-inch knife Friday minutes after the pontiff arrived in Manila on his Asian-Pacific tour, police said. The man, identified as Benjamin Mendoza Amor, 35, succeeded in striking the Pope's chest with his fist as the knife went astray.

NORTH VIETNAM Thursday warned that "provocative acts of aggression by the Nixon administration are a growing threat to the Paris peace talks. However, North Vietnam said it will continue "a policy of humanity" toward American prisoners.

Saturday, November 28
"CAPITOL" INTERNATIONAL AIRWAYS DC-8 bound for Cam Ranh Bay in Vietnam with 229 persons aboard, crashed and exploded in freezing rain Friday night at Anchorage International Airport. Lt. Eugene O'Brien of the Alaska State Police estimated 50 to 100 of those aboard the plane were killed. Other reports indicate about half of those aboard, all military personnel, escaped from the wreckage. Witnesses said the pilot was attempting to abort the takeoff, but was unable to stop and ran off the runway into gullied terrain, where the plane broke up, caught fire and exploded.

FBI DIRECTOR J. Edgar Hoover told senators Friday of a plot by an anti-war group to blow up underground utility lines in Washington and kidnap a White House aide or other high government official. "If successful, the plotters would demand an end to United States bombing operations in Southeast Asia and the release of all political prisoners as ransom," he said. Hoover, testifying before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, said "The scheme has just recently come to light and an intensive investigation is being conducted."

MANILA POLICE tightened security measures Saturday to prevent any more attempts on the life of Pope Paul. They were under sharp criticism for laxity at the airport when a man tried to stab the pontiff. The pope, underdressed by the assassination attempt, followed a rigorous schedule Friday that left him visibly tired and slurring his words. The 73-year-old pontiff was on the go for more than 33 hours with only brief naps.

LEONID I. BREZHNEV, first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party, denounced U. S. air raids over North Vietnam as "banditry" Sunday and described as "unprecedentedly brazen" the American officials who ordered them. In a speech televised nationally in the Soviet Union, Brezhnev said North Vietnam "can further fully rely on the Soviet Union's aid and support" for the war in Indochina.

SENATOR J. WILLIAM FULLBRIGHT, D-Ark., said Sunday that Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird misrepresented the facts about the raid near Hanoi to free American prisoners when he testified last week before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. "He misrepresented the facts, obviously he did, and they do it all the time," Fullbright said of Laird and the Pentagon. "Then as it was revealed by the press and others, they admitted there was some" (Continued on Page 23)

Rotarians Present Station Wagon to Foundation

Wider Road Planned to Enter Park

Will Take Bids to Improve Access to Recreation Area at Foot of Three Mile Drive

Park City Manager Robert Slone disclosed that bids have been advertised for the widening of the roadway at the Three Mile Drive Park, from the McMillan entrance located at Essex boulevard, to the parking area in the center of the park.

Bids for the project will be opened at 10 a.m. on Friday, December 11, in the Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson, and will be presented to the city council on Monday, December 14, for its approval on the awarding of the work to the successful bidder.

The city manager also announced that as part of the city's beautification program, there will be considerable tree and shrub trimming at both the Windmill Pointe Park and the Three Mile Drive Park, with the work to be done by Department of Public Works employees.

Many Tulips Planted
In the spring and summer, the public will be delighted by multi-colored imported Holland tulips, planted in the Jefferson Park between Pemberton and Lakepoint, in the Civic Center opposite the Municipal Building. The tulips, 200 of them, were planted by the women members of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club, spearheaded by Mrs. Albert Law of 898 Harcourt, with the permission of Park officials. The organization plans plantings of other flowers and (Continued on Page 2)

South High School Paper Receives National Award

The Tower, Grosse Pointe South High School's student newspaper, is one of six recipients from across the country of a 1970 Pacemaker award, the highest award in scholastic journalism. The Tower also won the award in 1967. The award was given by the American Newspaper Publishers Association at the National Scholastic Press Association convention in Chicago on Thanksgiving day. Receiving the award for South High were Pat Lock and David Dasef, co-editors of the Tower last year. Winning newspapers were selected by a panel of professional journalists from newspapers published during the second semester last year which received five of five marks of distinction in the

Educators Say Renovation Of South High School Can Boost Quality of Teaching

Relationship Between Building and Program Conducted Within It Cited by Superintendents and President of Board of Education

"Although citizens of Grosse Pointe are aware of the importance of education, they may not see clearly the relationship between the school building and the quality of the program which is conducted within it," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, said.

Dr. Anderson and Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, President of the Board of Education, revealed that "Programs in progress for change" the educational specifications for the proposed remodeling of South High School, had been prepared for distribution by staff members of the school's Department of Instruction and the administration of Grosse Pointe South High School.

"The educational specifications for the remodeling and renovation of Grosse Pointe South High School are based primarily on those prepared for the architect in the development of plans for the construction of North High School," Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, Assistant Superintendent-in-Instruction, commented.

Provided for Future
"In that document it was emphasized that the Board of Education wanted a building that looks forward to the generation ahead, a building that encompasses the best of traditional practices but provides some latitude for unpredictable educational change, a facility that takes into account what the community and the Board can reasonably be expected to support financially," Dr. Spagnoli added. "In essence, the Board is eager to have primary emphasis placed upon basic instructional areas. The building must provide first, emphasis upon adequate numbers and suitable

NSPA All-American Evaluation. The ANPA Judges, in awarding the Pacemaker to the Tower, said, "Contemporary editorial content, photographs are exceptional and imaginative. Good coverage of both school and community news."

The winning newspapers competed only against papers in their own publication class. Two newspapers were selected from each of three categories, divided according to frequency of publication and type of print reproduction. In addition to Dave Dasef and Pat Lock, members of the Pacemaker staff from Grosse Pointe include Steve Grady, Jim VanWingerden, page one; Pete Bird, Ted Swenczy, page two; Marilyn Peters, Kathy (Continued on Page 2) size rooms and areas for social studies, science, English, mathematics, foreign language, business and industrial education, followed closely by adequate provision for physical education, driver education, special education and the creative arts—music, art, and dramatics," Mrs. Thompson said.

Two-Phased Program
School officials revealed that the remodeled building will be planned to accommodate some 2,400 students (9th through 12th grade) with a possible expansion to 2,800 pupils. Essentially, the total project is developed in two phases with the first consisting of three major stages at a maximum cost of $3,600,000.

1. Eventual demolition of present inadequate facilities such as the Quonset hut and the rear Annex building.
2. Construction of a new addition to house classes contained (Continued on Page 4)

Armed Robber Holds Up Store

Farms Patrolmen Gordon Evans and Timothy Morrison, while on routine patrol at about 10 p.m., on Wednesday, November 25, were stopped by a Detroit police car crew on their way to answer a robbery alarm in the Farms.

The Detroit policemen said that an alarm was phoned in to their station by a woman clerk of Johnson Dairy Products, 18534 Mack avenue, who apparently was too excited and confused to call the Farms authorities. Evans and Morrison and the Detroit officers sped to the location of the hold-up.

The robbery victim told the patrolmen that a colored man entered the store at 9:45 p.m., and requested change for cigarettes. When she opened the cash register, the robber drew a small, black automatic from his pocket and announced a hold-up, she said.

The clerk said the man grabbed two $10 bills from her hand, then reached into the cash register and took three dollars in change and about $10 in singles, after which he ran out the front door and disappeared. The woman described the thief as being in his early 30s, about six feet tall, medium build, medium complexion, and wearing a light gray topcoat.

Men's Night In 'Village' December 7

Traditional Event Provides Males with Chance to Make Their Shopping Enjoyable

The original Grosse Pointe Men's Night in The Village, the annual Christmas shopping night set apart for men and boys, will be observed this year on Monday evening, December 7.

Strolling musicians will provide musical accompaniment as husbands, fathers, boyfriends, and brothers shop for Christmas gifts, completely uninterrupted. No women or girls are allowed in The Village stores on Men's Night with the exception of sales personnel. Special sales help will be on hand to assist in selection, and all the stores are brimming with giftworthy items.

Giant spotlights will light the sky at both ends of The Village shopping area during Men's Night shopping hours of 7 to 10 o'clock. Kercheval Avenue will be in its best holiday dress, as well as the tree-lighting ceremony which coincided with Santa's arrival in Grosse Pointe Village last Friday, is sponsored by Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association.

Kenneth C. Bichl, Wright Kay Company, president of Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association, stated that the Association would like to give credit for much of the success of the tree lighting event to those people of the community who had an active part in it. "Special recognition," said Mr. Bichl, "should go to the Grosse Pointe South High School band and its director, Russell D. Reed, and to the local Girl Scouts and their leaders." Heading the Girl Scout participation were Mrs. Thomas Coulter, Mrs. Donald Gilbert and Mrs. William Cox.

The new 20-foot live tree, planted on the Kresge lawn area, is decorated with handmade ornaments, created by the Girl Scouts of Grosse Pointe. Every troop is represented in the ornaments on the tree, making this truly a community tree.

DRIVING ILLEGALLY

H. B. Bel, 3730 Garland, Detroit, was arrested by Woods police Thursday, November 26, at 12:24 a.m. for driving with a suspended license. Stopped and questioned in front of the Toddle House, 20195 Mack, for driving with only one headlight burning, Bel was found to be wanted on three outstanding warrants in Detroit for $25 each. Bel was held on a $100 bond and issued two violations by Woods police.

Research on Dutch Elm Disease Gives Glimmer of Hope

National Non-Profit Institute Grants Produce Results That Indicate Possibility of Developing Disease-Resistant Trees

By Greg Boyd
The stately American elm that is pictured on the front page of every issue of the NEWS and shelters the NEWS building itself, and other elms like it, are becoming more and more of a rarity as the years go by.

Although the population of elm trees in the Pointe is much higher than in other suburbs, it has been slowly, but surely, declining ever since Dutch Elm disease was first detected in Michigan in the early 1950's. Any of the graceful, vase-shaped American elms that are ravaged by the disease and are cut down in the Pointe are not replaced by elms but by honey locusts, oaks, ashes and maples.

The reasons are obvious. Estimates for the cost of removing the elms range from $50 to $75 a tree for the cities. Private costs go as high as $400 for the homeowner. So, until a foolproof preventive spray that will have permanent effect on the trees is developed, the Grosse Pointes will continue to plant trees other than elms.

DDT Spray Banned
Because of the bad ecological side effects of DDT, a strong deterrent against the disease, the Pointes have been ordered to use a chemical known as Methoxychlor which, although not as strong as DDT, can be an adequate substitute if the spraying program is thorough. Some, however, contend that the absence of DDT is a definite setback in the fight against Dutch Elm disease. Park Director of Public Service, Herbert L. Herger, says that the cost of Methoxychlor is four times the cost of DDT and only one-third as effective.

To make up for the setback, the Park uses an aerial spray device with which the chemical is sprayed down on the trees from helicopters. Herger said the beetles causing the disease make their home in the crotches of new branches. Using this method once a year in above 40-degree weather and with less than a five-mile-per-hour (Continued on Page 2)

Offer Booklets On Bond Issue

Copies of a booklet, "Questions and Answers about the December 7 Bond Issue to Renovate Grosse Pointe South High School," are available to interested citizens in the Grosse Pointe Central Library and in the Park and Woods branches. The publication, which contains a sample ballot to be used in the forthcoming election proposed by the school trustees to modernize South High School, is part of the Board of Education's informational campaign to inform residents about the election.

More than 20,000 copies of the November issue of Education In Our Town, the school system's community newsletter, were mailed to residents of the district. Anyone who did not receive a copy of the newsletter, or who wishes an additional copy, may stop at the school's Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue. (Continued on Page 2)

Accidental Shotgun Blast Shatters Woman's Foot

A loaded 12-gauge shotgun, accidentally triggered, blew off the left foot of a Farms woman, in the second floor bedroom of her home on Thursday, November 26, according to information released by Farms police.

Victim of the mishap, Mrs. Judith Ann Wojik of 270 Ridgmont, was reported to be in good condition in St. John Hospital, where she was taken by farms firemen in the Department ambulance.

An official report disclosed that Patrolman Gordon Evans, dispatched to the home in Ridgmont, at about 6:13 p.m., talked to Mrs. Wojik's husband, Kenneth, 30, who called the authorities to report the accident. Evans said he arrived at the home and was led to the bedroom where he found Mrs. Wojik laying on the bed, her foot wrapped in a towel, and a single-shot shotgun on the floor at the foot of the bed. Det. Sgt. George Van Tien and Det. Joseph Miller, who were assigned to investigate the matter, said that Wojik disclosed that he and his wife had a minor disagreement, and that she had gone to the bedroom, while he remained downstairs. Wojik said he heard a shot, followed by a scream from his wife and he rushed upstairs to find Mrs. Wojik laying across the bed, her foot wrapped in a towel. Wojik said he called police immediately. The detectives said they questioned Mrs. Wojik at the hospital on Monday, November 30, and she related that when she (Continued on Page 4)

Ask Voters To Inspect South Annex

Sunday Tour Final Activity to Give Information on Bond Issue to Electors Before Balloting

By Pepper Whitelaw

Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson, president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, has extended an invitation to the entire community to visit the "B" Annex (formerly the Country Day School) from noon until 5 p.m. on Sunday, December 6.

Mrs. Thompson said that tours of the premises of the aging structure will be available. In addition, she said that staff members and members of the citizens' South High Study Committee will be available to discuss the needs of the school.

The tour of the "B" Annex, located at 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, Grosse Pointe Farms, is the final activity in a series of community-wide meetings held to inform citizens about the need to renovate South High School to improve instructional opportunity for youngsters who attend classes in grades 9 through 12 and to avoid overcrowding at North High School through re-districting of the attendance areas.

What Passage Would Do
School officials said that passage of the bond issue would result in the following:

1. Eventual demolition is slated for such inadequate school facilities as the Quonset hut and the rear Annex building (built in 1915).
2. Construction of a new addition encompassing the Wick Library is planned to house classes contained in the structures to be demolished and to permit departments now scattered to be brought together in adjacent rooms.

3. Remodeling of the main building will include enclosing the stairwells to conform to today's safety standards. Other changes will be mandated by an inspection by the State Fire Marshal. Space currently occupied by the science departments will be remodeled for general classrooms.

4. Space for the vocal and instrumental classes will be constructed adjacent to the present Field Room.

5. Corridor construction joining the main building with the addition is planned to improve pedestrian circulation.

6. Site development will include additional parking spaces and access roads to improve vehicular circulation.

7. Some important projects are not part of the bond issue and will have to be done at a later date. These include renovation of the auditorium and remodeling of the Industrial Arts Building (including new construction around it).

The Alternative
If the $360,000 bond issue (reduced by approximately half from last year's request) is not approved, incoming 9th, 10th, and 11th grade students from the Kerby School attendance area will go to North High, all high school classes will be removed from the Annex buildings as soon as possible, the Quonset hut will be demolished, and the Board of Education will use bonding power for a limited program of renovation.

Although the exact cost of the renovation program to individual residents in the district will not be known until the bonds are sold, it has been estimated that it will cost less than $1 for each thousand dollars for the State Equalized Valuation of property in the school district for 20 years. For example, a resident with a home valued at $10,000 for tax purposes (about half the market value) would pay not more than $10 per year.

10 public elementary schools will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Monday, December 7. All qualified registered voters may ballot.

PAIR ARRESTED

A husband and wife were charged with shoplifting from Kay Baum's, 16822 Kercheval, on Friday, November 27, after being apprehended by a store employee just outside the store. The pair, Hugh Haller, 20, and Sandra Haller, 19, of 1424 Golden, Ann Arbor, left the store with some $44 in women's apparel. They were taken to the City station and released on $50 bond each. They were given a court date of January 26.

Woods Hit by Burglaries

and Patrolman William Duster, answering the call, found entry had been gained by breaking a side door window. A rear door was also left ajar.

Among the evidence left at the scene, a globe coin bank and a pair of rubber surgical gloves, smeared with blood, were found lying on the grounds outside of the home. Richards said neither the gloves nor a 12-inch screwdriver, also found outside the house, belonged to him. The bank was kept on a bedroom dresser. Police speculate that the burglar cut his hand on the broken glass when he broke in, and say they may be able to obtain the thief's blood type from the gloves.

Guns, Bullets Stolen
Items stolen include a ten-round, .22 caliber pistol valued at $90; a seven-round .45 caliber revolver valued at $70; a man's watch; four boxes of

.22 caliber bullets; and one clip of 45 caliber shells. All the items were taken from a dresser drawer in a bedroom.

Other evidence included six .44 caliber magnum shells left strewn on the dining room floor. In an apparently quick escape, the burglar also left a tape deck and a table model radio on the side door landing.

Neighbors told police they saw a light on in the house around 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, but thought Richard was back home at the time.

A Woods resident's home was burglarized in the early evening hours of Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26, while the family was absent from the home for less than four hours.

Albert Patrosso, 1647 Edmunton, told Woods police that because the family left the house early, no lights were left on in the house. When the family returned to the house at 8:10 p.m., a portable 19" TV set was missing from the stand, about five feet from the door where entrance was gained to the home. Police suspect that a rock might have been used to gain entry through the family room door.

Patrosso said it was obvious the burglar had been in every room of the house. A book of burned matches was left in each of five different rooms including the service hall, two bedrooms, the entry, living room and dining room.

FOOTBALL FAMILY

Catching 22 passes in five games, wide receiver Terry Fuller, 377 Hillcrest, plays Wayne State football with an eye towards the pro leagues. In his most recent game, junior Terry was responsible for 79 aerial yards alone. Terry is one of three brothers who play football. Joe also plays for Wayne State with younger brother Tom filling in as tackle for Grosse Pointe South's freshman team.

wind, most of the disease-causing beetles are eliminated.

Casualty Rate Grows
However, the inevitability of a Grosse Pointe without elms may be just a matter of time. Except for some odd years, generally the Pointes report that there is a slow increase in elm fatality rates, and the elm loss each year for most areas is in the triple-figure range. Discovering seven diseased elms in 1952, Park authorities have had to eliminate an increasing number almost every year with 100 elms destroyed in 1970. During the late sixties, the rate was kept in the 60 to 80 range.

William Miller, Regional Public Service Director in the Farms, reports that 128 elms were cut down in 1970, at least 56 of which had contracted Dutch Elm disease. In 1969, the Farms lost 197 trees, with 147 fatalities occurring in 1968. With diseased elms, first discovered in the Farms in 1954, increasing every year, Miller said he sees no ceiling on the death rate at the present time.

Decrease in Woods
Woods authorities report a decrease during the last three years, but the number of diseased elms still remain in the hundreds. Over the last three years, over 350 elms have been claimed by the beetles.

City Manager Tom Kressbach reports 40 to 60 trees have been lost on the average for the last five years on City property alone. The loss ratio for private trees has been variable.

This dismal report, however, has been inspired by one bright light on the horizon. The NEWS received a letter from a member of Elm Research Institute, a national non-profit organization, formed to coordinate research efforts through grants to universities, expressing concern about the fate of the Pointe's stately elms.

Mrs. Jean Pfister, 60 Colonial, said when she moved recently to The Pointe, she "had never seen so many streets lined with such magnificent elms as are found in Grosse Pointe!"

Many Grants Made
Mrs. Pfister is interested in making other Pointers aware of the fact that there is an organization working toward the solution of the problem, and many breakthroughs have already been made. Donating research grants totalling $175,000, ERI has given funds to such conservation orientated schools as Michigan State, the University of Wisconsin, Iowa State, Cornell, the University of Maine, and Syracuse University.

ERI has made the prediction that, if the research continues at the universities, a disease resistant elm will be developed by Arbor Day, 1972.

In addition to the grants, ERI sends out regular progress reports to its members, lists of new research grants, and suggestions and ideas to the private owner of an elm on how he can effectively combat the killer beetle.

Those Pointers interested in joining the Institute or obtaining specific and comprehensive material may write John P. Hansel, Executive Director, Elm Research Institute, 60 West Prospect Street, Waldwick, New Jersey 07463.

plants to help beautify the area, which is the entrance to the Park, from Detroit, at a later date.

Christmas decorations and lights will be in place by the end of this week, along the business sections of Kercheval and Jefferson, Slone said.

The decorations and lights are owned by the merchants, but will be installed by the employees of the city's electrical department. The Municipal Building and lawn will also be "dressed up" for the coming holiday.

In an added note, Slone revealed that with the expectation of the cold weather, which will have a great bearing on the skating program, there will be three rinks in the Three Mile Drive Park, and a large rink in the Windmill Pointe Park. Admission into the parks will be by passes only, the city manager pointed out.

Joanne Bokram Fund Announced

The first fund in the new Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment has been established to honor the memory of a local woman whose sudden death last April saddened many Pointers.

The Joanne P. Bokram Memorial Arts Fund will be used to strengthen and enrich the arts programs of Pointe Schools. Plans call for the use of income from the fund to bring outstanding persons in the field of literature, art, music or drama, to The Pointe to lecture or work with groups of students, particularly at the high school level.

These experts would bring to students a unique cultural exchange beyond the regular course of study, an enhancement of the curriculum which the school system itself can no longer afford.

It is felt that this is a particularly appropriate tribute to Mrs. Bokram, who is survived by her husband, William, and four children, Bruce 16, and Barbara 14, both students at North High School; Robert 10 and Susan 8; students at Barnes. Mrs. Bokram majored in speech and drama at Ohio Wesleyan University and was active in community and church drama, having twice directed the Tuxis Show at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

She was vice-president and board member of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony and held numerous active roles in the schools and in the community.

The Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment is a non-profit Michigan corporation, independent of the school system or any community organization. The idea for its establishment originated with Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education, of which Mrs. Bokram was secretary.

It is hoped that the foundation will be a continuing means for relatives and friends to make tributes and memorials to other persons and in other areas of academic endeavor.

Trustees of the foundation are William Bokram, Mrs. James Cameron, Mrs. Rex Ciavola, Mrs. Hugh Harness, and Donald McConachie.

Committee members of the Joanne Bokram Memorial Arts Fund include Mrs. Donald Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ciavola, Mrs. E. Dawson Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanpeter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harness, Mrs. H. Ross Hume, Charles Parcels, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. Marrion Scott, Mrs. H. Jack Siekmann, and Mrs. W. Pierce Smith.

Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent of instruction for the Grosse Pointe Public School System, is assisting the committee in establishing an advisory committee which would suggest guest artists.

The sum of $2,200, representing memorial contributions made at the time of Mrs. Bokram's death, has been placed in the fund. Further contributions, which are tax deductible, may be made payable to Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment, Joanne P. Bokram Memorial Arts Fund. They may be mailed to James Cameron, Detroit Bank and Trust, 211 West Fort Street, Detroit, 48231. For further information on the fund call 886-2854.

Renovation

in the structures that will be demolished and to permit presently scattered departments to be housed in adjacent rooms.

3. Remodeling of portions of the main building.

To Meet Regulations

The initial stage of renovation will include the meeting of current fire code regulations, construction of corridors joining together various areas of the school for improved traffic patterns, and necessary site development following the demolition of specified buildings.

"The balance of the project has been postponed for the future. Those plans will undoubtedly call for renovation and remodeling of areas for industrial arts, art, business education, department resource centers throughout the school, a suitable number of basic classrooms, and counseling and supervisory facilities. Studies must be developed for the renovation of the present auditorium as an instructional area for speech and drama. Productions will be staged in the Performing Arts Auditorium at North High School," Dr. Spagnoli said.

Could Start in Fall

If the vote taken on December 7 is affirmative, it is hoped that bonds can be issued between January 1 and March 31, 1971. Preliminary design work by the architect between December of 1970 and February of 1971 will result in preliminary drawings. Assuming approval of preliminary drawings in February, construction drawings would be completed in June of 1971. The job would be put out for bids in July or August of 1971, with new construction started in September of 1971. It is anticipated that new construction would be completed in time for occupancy in the fall of 1973.

Each of the district's 10 public elementary schools will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on election day. All qualified registered voters may cast ballots on December 7.

Drop Charge Against Man Accused in Death of Friend

A negligent homicide charge against Roger Malasky, 21, of Pemberton, Sterling Heights, accused in the death of a Harper Woods man, was dismissed by Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer on Wednesday, November 25. Motion for dismissal was made by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Dale Devlin because of lack of evidence.

Malasky was accused of causing the death of Robert C. Nash, 43, of 20645 Woodland, who was found dead beneath Malasky's Chevrolet Vanette at 3:33 a.m. on Saturday, November 14. Several police officers and firemen dispatched to the scene, physically lifted the vehicle in order to free and remove the body.

Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt said that because of the circumstances known at the time which was all that police had to go by prior to a report from the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office, a warrant charging Malasky with negligent homicide was approved by the Prosecutor's Office.

However, an autopsy disclosed that Nash died as a result of "asphyxia, due to obstruction of the airways by weight," which put a different light on the tragic matter, the sergeant said.

On Monday, November 16, Judge Speer changed Malasky's bond of $1,000 surety, which the accused man was unable to raise, and thereby was being held in default of bond, to $1,000 personal bond, which permitted Malasky to be released until his examination on November 25, and eventual dismissal of the charge.

Sgt. LaPratt said that it was learned in an investigation following the tragedy, that Malasky and Nash had been drinking in a local bar until official closing time on November 14. Both men appeared to be intoxicated, it was said.

Nash complained he could not find his car, a 1965 Mercury, and Malasky offered to help him look for it. While driving around, the pair found the "lost" auto in an alley in the 1400 block between Waburn and Maryland.

Patrolmen Timothy Mink and Andrew Meeker, dispatched to the alley, when complaints were received that two men were making too much noise, said they arrived to find Malasky behind the wheel of his vanette, the motor running and headlights on. The man behind the wheel was attempting to shift gear, and the vehicle was moving back and forth slightly, with the swaying of Malasky's body.

As they approached, the officers said, they saw the body of another man underneath the truck. They ordered the man behind the wheel to get out of the vehicle, and when they were unable to extricate the man beneath, the policemen called for assistance. The combined efforts of the policemen and firemen at the scene was sufficient to lift the truck, and Nash's body was removed. Nash was conveyed to Bon Secour's Hospital by Park Fire Department ambulance, and he was pronounced dead on arrival.

LaPratt said that Malasky had told Nash that he was having trouble with the shifting gear, and that Nash, a mechanic, had offered to check the malfunction and crawled under the truck. Somehow, a low section of the vehicle settled atop Nash's face, cutting off his air and he suffocated.

LaPratt said that Nash's death will be classified as a miscellaneous fatal accident, as opposed to a regular traffic fatality.

entered the bedroom, she was arranging her bed to lie down, when she kicked the gun, which was under the bed.

She went to the foot of the bed and reached for the weapon to put it in the closet, and as she pulled it toward her by the muzzle, the gun went off, the shot blowing off her foot.

Van Tiem and Miller said when they questioned Mrs. Wojcik on Monday, she appeared to be in good spirits.

REPORTS THEFT

Matthew J. Sullivan of North Brooke, Ill., informed Farms police on Saturday, November 28, that he was visiting the James Cameron of 265 Merriweather, and parked his station wagon in front of the residence during the visit. At 2:45 a.m., he discovered that someone had broken into the vehicle and had stolen the spare tire and wheel.

Students Form Action Group

The students who worked so diligently at Millikin headquarters during the recent election enjoyed political involvement so much they decided not to quit after the election was over.

These 200 high school and college students have formed a non-partisan organization called The Political and Environmental Action Center whose first major project is working for the December 7 bond issue which would provide funds for the renovation of South High School. Members will work with the Student Association at South High School and student groups at North High.

Its second project will be the establishment of a bottle drop at the organization's temporary headquarters at 17008 Kercheval.

Permanent advisors to PEAC include Mrs. Barbara Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weiss, Byron Bichoff and newly-elected state representative, William Bryant.

Student committee members are Lynn Gerow, Brian Peck, Frank Lelo, Mark Carrier, Jack Hendrie and Terri Albrecht.

Headquarters is open daily from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and from 12:30 to 5 p.m. Saturday hours are from 10 a.m. until 4 o'clock.

Interested high school or middle school students are invited to drop by headquarters and join the activity.

IT IS TIME TO MOVE TO A NEW FREEDOM . . .

The old negative freedoms—freedom from hunger, freedom from want and freedom from fear are no longer enough.

The new freedom has to mean freedom for the poor as well as the rich, freedom for Black as well as for White; and it has to mean not only freedom FROM but freedom TO. It means freedom to grow, freedom to choose, freedom to travel, freedom to create, freedom to work—and freedom to enjoy the fruits of our labors.

Let us recognize that rights have no meaning—freedom has no meaning without the opportunity to exercise those rights and to use those freedoms.

'The Drug Scene' Course Given Interesting Review

The University Center for Adult Education recently offered a course at the War Memorial on "The Drug Scene," taught by Adolf J. Brane, M.D., psychiatrist specializing in adolescents and Donald F. Caldwell-Ph.D., director of the division of psychobiology, LaFayette Clinic and associate professor of psychology at Wayne State University.

Among those participating in the sessions was Mrs. John Schonenberg, of McMillan road, member of the board of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women and delegate to the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council.

Mrs. Schonenberg presented her final notes on the course at a recent board meeting of the AAUW. Board members were so impressed with the findings that they asked the NEWS to make them available to our readers.

Some of the conclusions reached were that drug abuse is a symptom of deeper trouble, not the cause itself. The professors urged parents to discover or prevent the underlying problems rather than concentrating on drugs alone.

They found that one of the reasons young people use marijuana is they believe they need it to feel good. Many youngsters today are in deep depression, lack interest in the future and even feel that there is no future.

Young people need to be taught how to relax, not to want instant happiness, how to enjoy themselves without a crutch and abuse of the sacredness of the human body.

Young people must be taught responsibility early in life. (This is one of the best ways to increase their self-esteem.) Parents should help youngsters identify with someone who finds life meaningful.

Parents should never make a rule that they can't or won't enforce.

Communication between parent and child should be improved. (Even an argument is good because it is a form of communication.)

Parents should listen to what the youngsters have to say.

Children must be given guidelines and limitations, teenagers ask for and need them.

Teenagers find it ironic that adults who deplore drug usage down too many martinis, take tranquilizers, diet pills, (many physicians including Dr. Brane, question the effectiveness of diet pills) and smoke cigarettes. (Many youngsters make their contact with drugs through the family medicine cabinet.) They find this a great hypocrisy.

Many medical men are upset over the use of amphetamines. (Drug companies produce 80 doses of amphetamines for every man, woman and child in the United States every year.)

It was suggested that people write their congressmen urging more strict controls of amphetamines.

Television commercials contribute to the "cure all" myth of drug taking.

It was concluded that broad, far-reaching research and rehabilitation are the most important constructive steps that can be taken to ease the drug abuse problem.

The federal government has cut research on drug abuse to

Driver Accused Of Being Drunk

Kenneth J. Allen, 25, of 11125 Rossiter, Detroit, was arrested by Farms police on Monday, November 30, and charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Patrolmen Philip Miglio and Gerald Debrughaeve said they were on patrol on Lake Shore road at about 2 a.m., driving west, when they observed a car driven by Allen, traveling east on the road, near Warner. As the motorist approached the double drive, he appeared to have some difficulty in negotiating the curve.

The officers said that by the time they had turned to take up pursuit, Allen had entered a crossover in front of 131 Lake Shore and was heading west, and again had trouble at the curve, turning wide and then swerving toward the curb.

Allen then drove to the right lane between Sunset Lane and McKinley place, and narrowly missed a utility pole and twice almost hit the curb. He was forced to a halt at McKinley and ordered out of the car by the policemen, and arrested for drunk driving.

Allen had trouble getting out of the car, and his balance was unsteady, and his speech was slurred, the officers said. The driver admitted having a few beers at a Detroit bar.

He was taken to the Woods station for breathalyzer tests, which he failed, then returned to the Farms station where he was issued a violation ticket for drunk driving.

Judge Goodrow Clears Docket

Court was held for the City of Grosse Pointe Woods by presiding Judge Don J. Goodrow Tuesday, November 17. Twelve cases were heard including four for speeding.

Among those charged with speeding, Richard Robinson, 2012 Vernier, pled guilty, was found guilty and charged with a $25 fine.

Also, Arthur Baranowski, Jr., 14919 Saratoga, Detroit was found guilty of speeding after entering a guilty plea. Baranowski was fined $35 and ordered on probation for six months with no driving for 60 days.

Charged with driving 15 miles-per-hour over the posted 40 mph speed limit, Walter Pokladek, Jr., 17116 Vernicia, in E. Detroit, pled not guilty. The court found him guilty, however, and fined him $25 for the offense.

Theater North Doing Chiller

Theater North, of Grosse Pointe North High School, will present as its next production the suspense chiller, "Wait Until Dark," the thrilling story of a young blind girl who unwittingly becomes the owner of a doll filled with smuggled goods and her pursuit by three killers.

The drama, slated for Thursday, December 10, Friday, December 11, Saturday, December 12, features Claudia Schultz, who was Juliet in North's Shakespearean Festival production of "Romeo and Juliet" and who was featured in last year's comedy, "Desk Set." Claudia portrays Susy Hendrix, the blind girl.

Steve Vervacke, who plays the role of Mike Talman, comedian, most recently appeared as a leading actor and dancer in "An Evening of Comedy and Dance."

Seniors at SHS Criticize Plant

Joining the growing number of Pointe citizens unhappy with conditions at South High School three South High seniors have made statements to the NEWS.

Al Donnell writes, "The renovation of South High School is imperative. 'The Pit,' (normally called the annex) is literally falling apart. The fire escape from B31 threatens to pull from the wall when students are walking down it, the stairways are made of such dry wood that even a small fire could develop into a disaster in minutes. The renovation should start soon before the costs of such a project rises to the point where it becomes prohibitive to taxpayers."

Anne Henry indicated that the ventilation in the choir room is poor making it extremely difficult to achieve the proper breathing techniques required for proper singing. She points out that Leonard Ricinto, director of the choir, has no office, making private teacher-student conferences impossible. The orchestra room according to Anne should be located closer to the choir room to avoid choir members disturbing other classes while heading for the orchestra room. "Space is so limited in the choir room that there is barely enough room for the whole choir. We are currently using a closet as a practice room."

Bill Cartmill mentions the limited rehearsal and storage space in the bandroom. General storage for uniforms, sheet music and records according to Bill are seriously lacking. "As former band librarian I found that many thousands of dollars worth of sheet music are in danger of being damaged due to cramped storage quarters. The instrument storage area is greatly limited. Instruments are stored in the practice rooms creating still another problem when students are rehearsing. Difficulties with temperature control came to a head last year when some of the school's cellos were damaged by drastic temperature variations in the room. Musical instruments just can't stand constant fluctuating temperatures."

Speaking more generally, in order to achieve more unity and continuity in the music

For careless driving, James Evans, 20887 Lochmoor, Harper Woods was fined $35 after being found guilty. Evans had entered a guilty plea.

Douglas Wenner, 19990 Fleetwood, Harper Woods, said he was guilty of the charge of being a minor in possession of alcohol. The court agreed and issued a fine of $35.

Scott Spagnoli, one of Theater North's most talented performers, has another featured role in this production. Scott demonstrated his versatility through his wide range of roles in North's past productions of "The Crucible," "Desk Set," and "An Evening of Comedy and Dance." Scott portrays the psychotic killer, Harry Roat.

The set is once again designed by Dave Strang. Dave was graduated from North High School last year and was one of three students accepted at Eastern Michigan University under a major of stagecraft. This is the fifth set Dave has designed for Theater North.

Dan Wybo, stage manager, will have a crew of three helpers, Pat O'Brien, Marty Schnurr and Dan Dureer.

Curtain time is 8 o'clock. Season tickets are honored at this production or tickets at $1.50 per person may be purchased at the door

Joseph Labeau, 8489 Elmwood, Detroit, pled guilty to two separate charges of failure to remove refuse and driving under the influence of alcoholic liquor. Found guilty on both charges, Labeau was fined $15 for the first and $75 for the second.

Pleading guilty to drag racing, Gary Mues, 82 Dickinson, Mt. Clemens was found guilty and fined $25 for the offense.

In court Judge Goodrow adjourned five cases and five cases were dismissed. Nine warrants were issued for failure to answer the summons.

Cubs Compete In Space Derby

Thin green rockets with silver stripes, fat red ones, glazed golden ones—44 in all—competed in the Annual Cub Scout Space Derby at St. Paul's gym.

Each Cub and Webelo receives a kit, two weeks prior to this unique event. They have just enough time to put together and style a Zepplin-like space missile with rubber-band driven prop and wire holders to make it Zoom across a long, space line.

Cubs competed four at a time by winding the missiles up tight—150-200 winds—and then placing them on the wire at the starting point.

POW! The signal is given and ZOOM: the missiles take off.

Winners are selected from each group of four and then a final run-off is made to select the fastest one in the Pack.

The final race was no more than a roar and a flash with this year's winner Paul Kramer, the Web's champ. Cub Champ was Steve Mecke.

SEES RUNNING THIEF
Roland Likert of 290 Moran, disclosed to Farms police, that on Tuesday, November 10, he parked his station wagon in the drive in front of his house. He looked out the house window and saw a young man, with a tire and wheel under his arm, running to a car parked on the street, throw the tire in the back seat and drive away, going south on Moran. He checked his vehicle and found that the items had been taken from his car.

WCCC Faces Money Crisis

Wayne County Community College is facing a serious financial crisis, according to two of the school's top administrators.

Despite recently imposed operating economies, WCCC faces further cut-backs, according to Murray Jackson, President, and Bernard Klein, Vice-President for Administration, who predict continuing difficulties for the young institution unless the State legislature offers to help.

"We had only a month between the August millage vote and the fall opening of the college, so we had to make all our plans before we knew exactly how much money we would have. The millage defeat not only deprived us of all local tax revenue but because of a penalty rider in the state appropriation bill it also cost us half of our state support," Jackson said.

"So here we are with 15,000 students who need the college and 1,300 teachers who want to teach them, trying to get by on $270.00 per student in state funds, while the state-wide average for community colleges is $800.00.

"We are talking with leaders of the legislature, but so far there is nothing definite. We are trying to tell them that we have put two more years of education within the reach of thousands of persons, at absolutely minimum cost. We have brought new life and hope to the community, but we cannot run the college on love alone," Jackson concluded.

Klein, former city of Detroit Controller, who, according to Jackson, is "the most qualified man we could possibly find to manage the business and financial affairs of the college during a period of austerity," announced details of the retrenchment program, as approved by the WCCC Board of Trustees. "The cuts are designed not to weaken the college but to save it," Klein said in listing economies totaling more than half a million dollars. Included in the program were:

"The increase of tuition from nine to ten dollars a credit hour, effective this winter semester; the consolidating of learning centers; the closing of night learning center libraries; the reduction of part time counselors for the remainder of the school year; the assignment of teaching duties to qualified administrative personnel on a gratis basis; and increased cost controls at all levels.

"Even that saving will not be enough," Klein added. "We will need still more money if we are going to remain open to all the people of Wayne County. It is our hope that the state legislature will come to our aid, either by rescinding the penalty clause, or by appropriating supplemental funds for the college."

"Despite our problems," Jackson said, "classes for the Winter semester will start January 11. We expect a heavy enrollment.

Veterans Day Service Held

The Annual Veterans Day Service was held recently at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Woodward and Hancock, as a memorial to all who have given their lives in wars of the United States and as a tribute to all members of the United States Armed Forces and veterans.

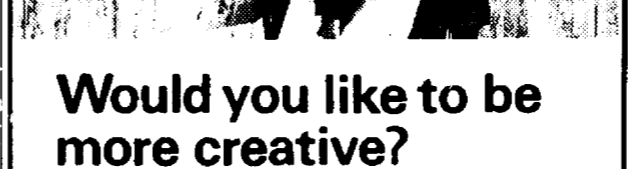

Bishop Archie H. Crowley officiated assisted by Dean Leslie G. Warren. Rear Admiral The Reverend Francis L. Garrett, D.D., U.S.N., Chief of Chaplains Navy Department, gave the sermon.

Prayers were read by Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant Chaplains of the Armed Forces. About 400 troops, 150 Gold Star Mothers, representatives from other mothers' and wives' organizations and several hundred veterans attended.

Eighteen National Colors and 18 Military Unit Colors were carried to the front of the nave and placed in standards during the service and were presented for the National Anthem and Taps at the conclusion of the Service.

The Recessional Hymn was the official Navy Hymn as sung at the United States Naval Academy in honor of the Navy Chief of Chaplains and all Navy personnel present.

Rear Admiral Leon J. Jacobi USNR Retired and Berrien Eaton, both Pointers attended.

Symposium Held At Bon Secours

Frank J. Ayd, Jr., M.D. was the featured speaker at the Fall Symposium at Bon Secours Hospital on Wednesday, November 11. His subject was "Adolescent Melancholia - Manifestations and Management."

Dr. Ayd is an internationally known psychiatrist who has been actively engaged in clinical practice and in research in mental disorders for many years. He did some of the pioneer work on Dilantin, a drug useful in the treatment of convulsive conditions and in cardiac disease.

Dr. Ayd, a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association and of the American Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine has been the recipient of several honorary degrees and awards. He has written extensively on psychiatric and sociologic and philosophic subjects.

The Fall Symposium at Bon Secours Hospital have been conducted annually since 1962. A subject of scientific and medical interest is presented to the Staff and Personnel of the Hospital and to Physicians of the Community. As part of the meeting there was a presentation of the Semmes Awards to the interns or residents who are adjudged the top ranking House Officers at the hospital. These awards are made possible by a donation of the Valerie and Prewitt Semmes Fund.

The Semmes Awards will be distributed on this occasion by Dr. Robert Griffin, president of the staff. The winner of the first award is Dr. Jasu Desai. The contest for the second award resulted in a tie between Dr. Archie Bedell and Dr. David Brian.

Pointer Breaks Football Marks

During this past football season, Pointer Terry Fuller, 377 Hillcrest, has proven to be one of Wayne State University's top receivers in recent memory, breaking a season record on total aerial yards and tying another school mark.

Terry, a 20-year-old junior aspiring toward a medical profession with a chance to join a pro ball club, made nine receptions in a game against Hillsdale and tied a school mark with his second 100-yard-plus receiving day of his career.

During the course of the season, Terry was the University's leading receiver with a total of 32 receptions which were good for 451 receiving yards for a school record. On the scoreboard, Terry accounted for 18 of the Wayne State Tartars' total season points.

TIRES DESTROYED

Lawrence DeBacker, 2134 Anita, called Woods police to report that vandals had deflated his tires sometime between 11:20 p.m. Tuesday, November 3, and 7:30 the next morning. Further inspection revealed that each tire had been punctured several times. DeBacker asked that his home be given special attention.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos L. Anderson
Superintendent of Public Schools
Last week I started on my second round of informal community-wide discussion meetings since the beginning of the school year. I am hoping to increase my understanding of the educational concerns of the people of our school district today.

Here's what I learned from the first round. Several meetings centered about the school district's role in curriculum development. At Defer, for example, most of the time was spent on that topic. Those in attendance seem aware that the knowledge explosion is creating serious problems in keeping the schools' curriculum up to date. There was great interest evidenced in academic content.

One question that arose at Maire (and everywhere else, for that matter), is the prospect of state financing of education. You are aware, I am sure, that the State of Michigan has demonstrated little if any interest in the plight of the so-called "high valuation" districts in the last couple of years. No plan for financing education that has come out of Lansing would do anything for our district. While it is true that some residents might get a reduced property tax bill, an income tax levy would probably mean that, by and large, Grosse Pointers would be spending more for public education than they are now, with the increase not used locally. What about "local control" under such an arrangement? The answer seems obvious.

The drug problem and the possible severing of the Harper Woods portion from the school district were among the concerns expressed at Poupard. How do we allay fears regarding the latter issue—especially since it is such a perennially-nurtured rumor? Today's school system organizational pattern is not to make districts smaller. What more can be said?

Drugs were also on the minds of those who attended at Ferry and at Monteith. For the past two years the school system's Department of Instruction and Pupil Personnel have been working hard on this matter in cooperation with the appropriate community organizations.

Ferry area residents expressed a concern that also came from the representatives of Mason and Barnes: they applauded the current staff campaign to control rumors about the schools. Those in the audience urged others to get the facts before they talk knowledgeably about school matters.

At Mason (and at other schools as well) people wanted to know about the renewal of the 2.7 mill operating tax levy that expires this year. If Public Act 100 (which limits per pupil expenditures to $945 in 1971-72) is not modified, there will be no renewal of the 2.7 mills because the law will not permit it—even if the people of Grosse Pointe want to approve it. This will mean an automatic reduction in staff and program of 20-25% for next year.

Elementary PE Group Formed

How valuable is elementary physical education? Research indicates that learning motor skills and movement efficiency is most important in the elementary school years. After a child has reached 12 years of age he has already reached 90 percent of his motor skills level.

According to Dr. John Anderson, former director of Child Development at the University of Minnesota, by age 12 most children have developed 92 percent gross body coordination; 83 percent five eye-hand coordination; 86 percent aiming coordination via eye-hand coordination; 90 percent reaction time, and 85 percent serial speed, meaning successive movement.

Since these factors are in the process of great increase during the elementary school years this is a logical time for concentrated instruction in the development of motor skills to develop efficiently.

Currently here in The Pointe a Physical Education Elementary Committee has been organized with Bernard W. LeMieux, of Richard School as its chairman. The purpose of the committee is to bring together all the physical education teachers in The Pointe to discuss the programs, problems and new methods of improving physical education.

The objectives of the group are to present various programs and activities with meaning, not just a fun and games program, to add continuity to the program throughout the school system.

tem, to discuss new techniques and methods which will add new dimensions to the physical education program.

Committee members include Mr. LeMieux; Dennis Hawhee, Maire School; George Petrouleas, Defer School; Gene Pluhar, Kerby; Ervin Walter, Ferry; Elmer Lepp, Poupard; Patricia Mogk, Monteith; Louise Lockman, Barnes; Fred Michalik, Manson; and M. L. Bucherri, Trombly School.

WINDSHIELD BREAKAGE
Samuel Sperry, 1987 Manchester, reported to Woods police that on Wednesday, November 25, someone had used a sharp object to damage the front windshield of his car between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Damage was estimated at $90 to $100.

DRYER STOLEN
Silvius Ferrell, 1387 Torrey, told Woods police he discovered a gas dryer missing Saturday, November 21, from a house at 1024 Blairmoor Court, a home he had been renting for about two years. The dryer was valued at approximately $200.

Childish Vandals Sought by Police

Mrs. Marian Coyle, who with her husband and family had practically moved into their new home at 924 Grand Marais, notified Park police that the residence had been broken into and vandalized on Friday, November 20.

Det. Sgt. James LaPratt said that the culprits who broke into the house entered every room in the place. Evidence showed that what was done in the place indicated that the invaders were childish and immature.

He said that the intruders consumed several bottles of beer, taken from the refrigerator. To show how childish they are, the sergeant said, the burglars brought their own eggs, which they broke and smeared onto the carpeting in every room, and sprayed furniture polish on the walls of the first floor.

On the wall of the hallway on the second floor, one of the childish-minded intruders wrote a very obscene word, LaPratt said.

Mrs. Coyle told the officer that she had left the house at 2:45 p.m. on Thursday, November 19, after bringing some things from the Detroit residence they were leaving, and returned at 2 p.m. on Friday, to discover the house doors open.

"The vandalism done to the house indicated that the person, or persons responsible, are childish and immature," LaPratt said. "Only a person with the mind of a child, or having a low mentality, would pull something like this, which, without a doubt, is one of the most senseless I have ever seen."

"It has been reported that three young boys were seen standing in front of the house at about 3 p.m. on Thursday. Any person, or persons, who might have noticed these boys in front of the Coyle residence, or know their identity, should call the Police Department, Valley 2-7400. The witness' name will be held in the strictest confidence," the sergeant said.

Michigan Tops For Yule Trees

Christmas tree buyers in Michigan have the world's finest and freshest trees available at some of the most attractive prices, according to B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Michigan is the leading producer of plantation grown Christmas trees. More than five million Michigan evergreens will be harvested for sale in the 1970 season. Growing and marketing Michigan Christmas trees adds up to more than a $20 million annual business.

"Millions will be shipped out of state, some to as far away as California," Ball said. "But there will be plenty for sale at outlets in every city and hamlet in the state. And Michigan residents will generally have fresh cut trees and a variety of excellent quality to choose from."

Scotch pine is the most widely produced plantation tree; other Michigan species on the market will be spruces and firs.

"Michigan growers and scientists have worked together to develop finer trees throughout the years," Ball said. "Techniques developed in Michigan have been eagerly copied by producers in other states, as well as Canada."

A booklet, Buying your Christmas Tree, is available free at the office of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lewis Cass Bldg., Lansing, 48913. It has sketches of tree species as well as tips on selecting, caring for, and disposing of your Christmas tree.

Honored For Promoting Safety

Two local dealers were among 35 Detroit Metropolitan area car dealerships honored recently by Automobile Club of Michigan for outstanding contributions to traffic safety through support of driver education. Shown at the plaque presentation ceremony are (left to right): J. Thomas Smith, Auto Club president; Henry T. Ewald, Jr., president, Ted Ewald Chevrolet, Grosse Pointe, and John J. Cook, president, Cook Ford Detroit. Plaques were presented to 33 dealerships at the Detroit Automobile Dealers Association banquet in Cobo Hall for "continuous contributions to driver education." Dealers receiving plaques have provided driver education cars continuously for at least the past five years.

U-L Students Helping Others

University-Liggett students are realizing the true meaning of the holiday season by helping others.

Children in the lower school brought toys to be donated to Franklin-Wright Settlement, whose policies and services are rooted in the tradition of the settlement movement and in the specific problems and potential of the area it serves.

Franklin-Wright Settlements operate as a "supermarket" of services related to health, employment, leisure time needs, housing, family life and education. It provides a place where children, youth and adults can practice democracy through active participation in group programs, and where children and youth can play and plan together under trained and sympathetic leadership.

It provides individuals with guidance and counseling services to help them function better within their family and community.

It provides assistance to community organizations and other groups which try to improve the community, working with people, not for people, to make the community a better place in which to raise children.

The toys donated by Liggett youngsters were turned over to the Christmas Store at Franklin-Wright, where parents go with their youngsters and pay what they can for donated items. This, according to authorities at Franklin-Wright, eliminates the connotations of "charity" and allows the parents to maintain dignity and self-respect.

Middle school students at U-L, under the auspices of the School Social Services Committee headed by Nancy McCall, adopted eight families and provided, according to the families' needs, food, clothing, toys, etc.

Although the identities of the families were not revealed, Franklin-Wright gave the students case histories of the recipients. In this project the children earned the money needed for the gifts by contracting to work in their own homes and in the neighborhood by doing chores.

Bill Hindel, of the Upper School, directs another inner city program called Hobart Project which help needy families repair and fix up their homes. Still other programs currently in progress at U-L are tutoring and canned food drives.

St. Paul Plans Tree Lighting

All members of the community are invited to a Christmas tree dedication on the steps and front lawn of St. Paul's Church, at 5 o'clock, on Sunday, December 13, sponsored by The Teacher-Parent Guild of St. Paul's School.

Msgr. Frank McPhillips and Father Leonard Wallace will preside over the blessing and lighting of the Christmas tree.

Christmas caroling will follow with those present being led in song by a group of guitarists under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ann Ghesquiere.

CFE Criticizes Public Act 100

Grosse Pointers are being urged to write their state legislators seeking amendment of Michigan Public Act 100, in a drive spearheaded by Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education. The Act, which became law in July, places a limit of $945 on per pupil expenditures in all Michigan school districts, as opposed to the $1,125 which Grosse Pointe now spends. Retention of the law as it stands would mean a cut of 20 to 25 per cent in the staff and programs of Grosse Pointe schools, larger classes, and the severe restriction of course offerings as well as extra-curricular activities. CFE is asking that the law be amended to include a clause allowing those districts with per pupil expenditures in excess of $945 to maintain them. "While we support programs for educational reform, we do feel that individual school districts should be allowed to spend more money if they choose to do so," said Mrs. Edward C. Hampeter, president of Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education. "There are 36 school districts in the tri-county area that are adversely affected by this law," she added. "We hope that Grosse Pointers who have friends or other contacts in some of these areas will urge them to join us in our campaign." Grosse Pointe residents should write to Governor William Milliken, Senator George Fitzgerald, or State Representative William Bryant. Anyone wishing further information on the effects of Public Act 100 or the names of other legislators may call Mrs. W. Pierce Smith, 331-3387.

Trombly PTA Meets Tonight

The Trombly School PTA will meet today, Thursday, December 3, to hear about "Grosse Pointe Schools in the 70's." Featured speakers will be two parents who have studied local and state issues which have a profound effect on schools in the immediate future. They are Dr. Donald Briggs, who will speak about "The Bond Issue Election—December 7," and William R. Bryant, who will discuss "What Public Act 100 Means to Grosse Pointe." The program is slated to begin at 8:15, immediately following classroom visitation which begins at 7:45 o'clock. Following the program Mrs. Robert Black and Mrs. Milton Manley have arranged a social hour in the gym. They are assisted by Mrs. A. D. Shaalan, Mrs. Rollin Duensing, Mrs. Harold Clark, Mrs. Foster Redding and Mrs. Matthew Lumetta.

Driver Accused As Hit-Runner

A Detroit motorist who forced a woman driver to swerve her car over a curb and then side-swiped the vehicle, was arrested by Shores police on Wednesday, November 11, and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Farms police gave the man a violation ticket for leaving the scene of a property damage and injury accident.

Mrs. Joyia T. Sands of 18840 St. Paul, suffered an injury to her right knee. Her family doctor will treat the injured leg, she told Farms authorities.

Mrs. Sands said she was traveling west on Lake Shore road, and was near Edgemere, when another driver, later identified as Willie Williams of 18106 Mackay, Detroit, going east on the road, crossed the center line and headed toward her auto. The woman said that she veered to the right and her auto jumped the curb.

Williams' vehicle hit the left front fender of Mrs. Sands' car, then scraped the entire left side. Police officers at the scene found gold paint on Mrs. Sands' automobile, and a piece of chrome stripping caught on her fender.

William O. Brink of 33 Edgemere, heard the noise of the impact while walking his dog, but, he told police, he did not see the accident, nor did he witness the hit-run driver leaving the scene. He invited Mrs. Sands into his home to use the phone to call the authorities.

While Farms police were taking a report of the accident at the scene, a Shores patrol car pulled up. In the vehicle was Williams, who had been taken into custody by the Shores authorities alerted by a Farms radio broadcast. Williams, at the time he was stopped, claimed he did not remember hitting another vehicle.

Williams' auto is painted gold. The arresting officers found several broken pieces of chrome stripping had been torn from the car.

Scrapings of the gold paint from Mrs. Sands' car were placed in an envelope, and the chrome strippings gathered, all to be kept as evidence.

Williams is scheduled to appear in Farms Municipal Court on December 9.

Audubon Society Sets Field Trip

The Detroit Audubon Society will hold a field trip on Belle Isle on Saturday, December 5, at 9 a.m. The island is a good observation point for wintering ducks of many species.

DIRECTIONS: Take East Jefferson to the bridge and cross to the island. Meet at the Casino Parking Lot at 9 a.m.

Wear hiking clothes, including high necks and gloves—that wind off the river is cold. Wear boots or stout shoes and bring binoculars if possible. The marking on ducks at a distance can only be distinguished with binoculars, field glasses, or opera glasses.

Field trips are over by noon, and many people bring a sack lunch with thermos to eat in the car. The field trip will give you a good appetite.

Both members and non-members are welcome on Detroit Audubon field trips, including teenagers. Come and get acquainted with other Out-of-Doors people. Invite your friends. Arrive promptly, introduce yourself to the leader, and say hello to your neighbors on the walk.

TELLS OF VANDALISM

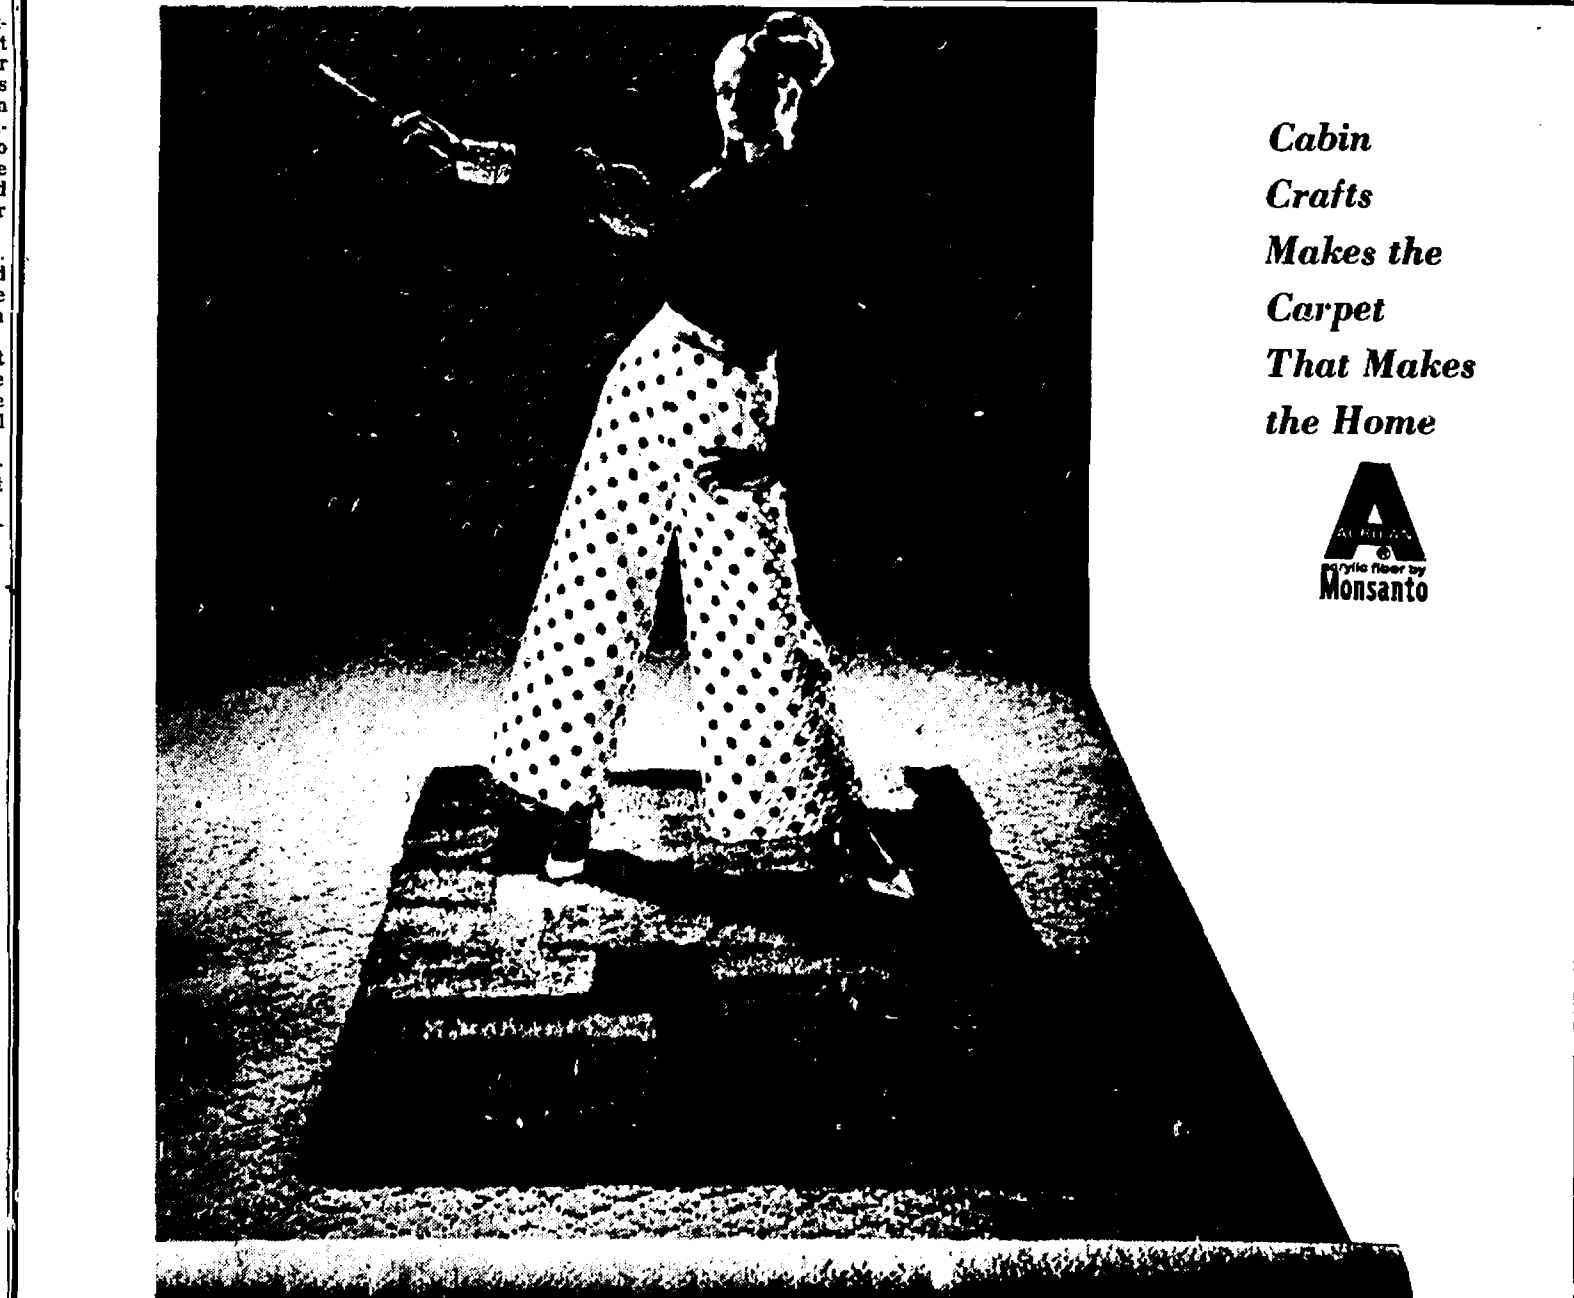

Nancy Lauricella of 301 Kerby road, informed Farms police that she parked the family car in the driveway alongside the house shortly after midnight on Saturday, November 28. She returned to the car at 11:15 a.m. to discover that someone had broken off the radio antenna.

This Tells The Story

The following letter was prepared by the President of the Board of Education to send to a few personal friends. We think it tells a story well, and asked permission to use it.

Grosse Pointe, Michigan
 December, 1970

Dear Friends:
 This could be called a philosophical letter having to do with the passage of time. In 1964, when my youngest child was in the fifth grade, serious discussion began on the need for renovation of "the" High School. If the bond issue to launch the renovation of South High is approved on December 7, that one-time fifth grader of ours will be packing her luggage for college by the time the builders begin their work.

Many of the people who are working on the South High referendum are parents of former students, or of those who will have been graduated before the project can ever be completed. They have seen the problems in the South High annexes and main building and, true to the Grosse Pointe tradition, are working for the benefit of other children, whether or not their own will be helped.

Perhaps you know of North High School mothers and fathers who are active volunteers for the bond issue. They, too, feel a dedication to all Grosse Pointe boys and girls; they value the unique educational opportunities available to their youngsters at North High School. If South cannot be renovated to adequately and safely house its share of the student population, a new district line will be drawn, another elementary attendance area (Kerby) will be sent into North High School. The result will be an overpopulated new school at the north area, an undersized old school at the south - badly badly crowded. This crowding will result when the Board of Education fulfills its promise to the community to remove all students from the annex building and the World War II Quonset hut.

The "annex" is the Old Grosse Pointe Country Day School which was bought when the girls' school became part of Grosse Pointe University School and moved to a new campus in 1954; one of the buildings dates back to 1902, the other to 1915. They were purchased because of adjacency to the South High School campus, a cramped site which is shared with the Central Grosse Pointe Public Library.

While the annex buildings and the Quonset proved invaluable during the period of rapid enrollment increases prior to the opening of North High School, the conscience of this community can no longer tolerate the housing of some 700 students in such facilities. These buildings, which were constructed for small classes of girls, meet the fire regulations of 1915. Fire code or other regulations are violated by every corridor, stairway, every lavatory, probably by the very walls. Classes are being held in rooms which were "off limits" to the private school girls of the 1940's! Metal fire escapes must supplement the narrow stairs and halls for normal ingress and egress to third floor classes. We have pushed our luck too long in using these buildings for students.

If the bond issue passes, South's staff will "make do" somehow, until the new construction and some interior renovation of the main building are accomplished. I hope you will want to take an active part in fixing up South High—that magnificent landmark dating from the 1920's—so that its students can have educational opportunity comparable to that at North. The bonding authority requested is for $3,600,000, something less than 1 mill. Only if this is accomplished can the enrollment at both high schools be kept at desirable figures.

Beyond a feeling of affection for your community, there may not be a blessed thing in this project for you other than property worth and long-range taxpayer economy. Are these not adequate reasons for you to help? Surely, the aging of our handsome old high school, if not reversed immediately, will be reflected in real estate values in the entire south end of the school district. And the resultant crowding of North High will compromise that institution's charm to family buyers, as well. Long-range economy for all of us who feel deeply about Grosse Pointe is best served by preserving all salvageable portions of South High—and without further delay which can only burden us with increasingly inflated costs.

If we can win this time, a good high school will await each child, wherever in Grosse Pointe he lives when the time comes. Many of us are working for the principle of adequate buildings and good education for all youngsters; for you, if there are children or grandchildren in the picture, it's a chance to take care of your own.

Sincerely
 Barbara R. Thompson

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

As you all well know, Christmas is breathing down our necks—and have you completed all your shopping? We guess not (and neither have I!) In looking over new titles added to our library collection during the past year, its has occurred to us that some of them might inspire you and give you new ideas for gifts. We hope so, at least.

Perhaps you are musical minded, or know someone in your gift-giving group who might appreciate some of our novel titles. We can suggest THE MODERN HARPISCORD (Zuckermann), or possibly THE ANDERSON TAPES (Sanders); even the CB RADIO OPERATOR'S GUIDE (Brown) has possibilities. In the raucous area, for either adult or child, there is TRUMPET AT THE GATE (Widger), and finally, OLD MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS (Clemencie).

Does your child have a pet? Does your household have a pet? Do you have a pet? If not, then this is the time to think about this sort of Christmas present. For something large, there is MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR HORSE (Dickerson); for something a bit smaller, we offer THE KILL DOG (George), or perhaps THE COMMON SENSE BOOK OF KITTEN AND CAT CARE (Miller). Even smaller and perhaps easier to take care of, would be A BIRD IN THE HOUSE (Laurence) or I KNOW WHY THE CAGED BIRD SINGS (Angelou). Getting back to larger and more unusual animals, would you consider THE STORK IS DEAD (Shedd), A HORSE AND TWO GOATS (Narayan) and THE SHORN LAMB (Call)? We also found the title, PECKED TO DEATH BY GOSLINGS (Trahey) rather interesting. Back once again to the smaller and more usual pets, we suggest KNOW HOW TO CLIP A POODLE (Whitney) and KNOW YOUR HAMSTER (Whitney). And the title to end all titles would probably be TEMPTATION IN A PRIVATE ZOO (Dekker).

If the lady of the household has been eyeing precious stones, metals, etc., there are a number of provocative books that are new and contain suggestions for you. THE GOLD AND SILVER HOOKS (Moore) should be tantalizing, or THE BRASS GO BETWEEN (Thomas). What of THE GOLD WAR (Well) or AMBER (Taber), not to mention THE CRYSTAL CAVE (Stewart) and COLLECTING COPPER AND BRASS WILLIS. And we certainly cannot omit THE CASE OF THE DIAMOND EYE (Walden), nor ANGELL PEARL AND LITTLE GOD (Graham). Since we've mentioned crystal, we might as well move on to the ceramics field and tell you of POTTERY AND PORCELAIN, 1700-1914 (Hillier), and then move further into the art of sewing with MARY MARTIN'S NEEDLEPOINT (Martin) and RAG TAPESTRIES AND WOOL MOSAICS (Wiseman).

When it comes to sporting equipment, we have several suggestions. SHUT UP AND EAT YOUR SNOWSHOES (Douglas) should certainly make you sit up and think. Then there are also HOW TO CHOOSE A SAILBOAT (Smith), THE BOAT THAT WOULDN'T FLOAT (Mowat) as well as TENNIS TO WIN (King). I'm sure you remember BALL FOUR (Bouton); then, in another area, we

High School And College Girls... have contributed to the success of the Marilyn Shoppes for over 35 years. Particularly true if she attended U. of M., home of the original store. When she went on to a career or to become a young homemaker, her love for the conservative casual look continued. Ten or fifteen years later she introduced her daughter to the "look" and thus the cycle goes on at this house of sportswear specialists. In Grosse Pointe at 76 Kercheval, also Ann Arbor and Birmingham... Marilyn's brother stores have been opened. These feature jeans, fashion pants, sweaters, shirts and belts. They cater to young men (of all ages) and also to the gals who prefer men's sizes and styles.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

It's not just going to LOOK like Christmas in Grosse Pointe tomorrow—it will SOUND like Christmas too, for the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Glee Club, formed in 1968, will be carolling loud and clear at the Whittier road home of Mr. and Mrs. Rene DeSeranno.

The DeSerannos' house is one of seven "on" the Juniors-sponsored 1970 Christmas Walk, Pointe portion, (the Walk in Birmingham-Bloomfield's set for the following Friday, December 11).

Tickets are available at Walk houses during Walk hours, 11 to 4 o'clock, or today, in advance, from Mrs. Henry N. Peabody, 885-2435.

The Juniors' Glee Club, the Choraliers, is under the direction of Mrs. Verne G. Istock, of Broadstone road, a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Music and a former choral director and teacher.

There are 21 singers from all parts of the metropolitan Detroit area, including Mrs. Carl E. Reichert, Mrs. Albert Trowell, Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. David W. Lindner.

They've performed at several of the Juniors' functions this year, will be performing for other area groups during the holiday season and could handle more concert dates: Mrs. Istock, 886-6042, is in charge of scheduling.

Besides the DeSerannos, the Lee Schoeniths, of Lakeshore road, the Troy Maschmeyers, of Renaud road, the John Eliases, of Renaud road, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vance, Jr., of South Deeplands road, the H. J. Siekmanns, of Vendome court, and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Domzalski, of Windmill Pointe drive, are opening their houses, all

Families To Tackle Project Tomorrow

Christmas Workshop Activities at Congregational Church Designed for Everyone From Three to 70; Evening Begins With Buffet

Families of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church really get into the Christmas spirit tomorrow evening, Friday, December 4, at their 13th Annual Christmas Workshop and Potluck Buffet.

Following 6 o'clock dinner featuring delicious-looking casseroles, salads and cakes, tables will be quickly cleared and rearranged, the room transformed into a busy workshop for Santa's helpers. Amid a fragrance of pine and cookies and the noise of hammers and scissors, everyone from three to 70 is busy working on a project.

Many traditional workshop items will be made again this year.

Mrs. George Helm will be helping arrange greens and candles into an Advent Wreath while in another corner of the room Mr. and Mrs. Robert Choate and Mr. and Mrs. William Brownell show children how to make a Nativity Creche and figures.

Decorating Christmas cookies is always a popular project, especially with the younger children.

Overseeing boys and girls as they change sugar cookies into sparkling stars and decorated trees—and then wiping off sticky fingers—will be Mrs. Frank Turpin, Mrs. Gerald Penirian and Mrs. Gerald Webster.

With the help of John Marschner, many of the boys will be making dowel trees while their sisters are working with Mrs. Robert Martin and Mrs. Daniel Moriarty, fashioning spool angels and wooden ornaments to hang on them.

An elegant Holiday Basket to hold greeting cards or greens is the goal of a group led by Mrs. Thomas Rockwell and Mrs. Jack Wheeler, one of many other scheduled activities.

A variety of easy projects in a "Christmas Corner" and "Christmas Fun Shop" will keep the youngest children busy.

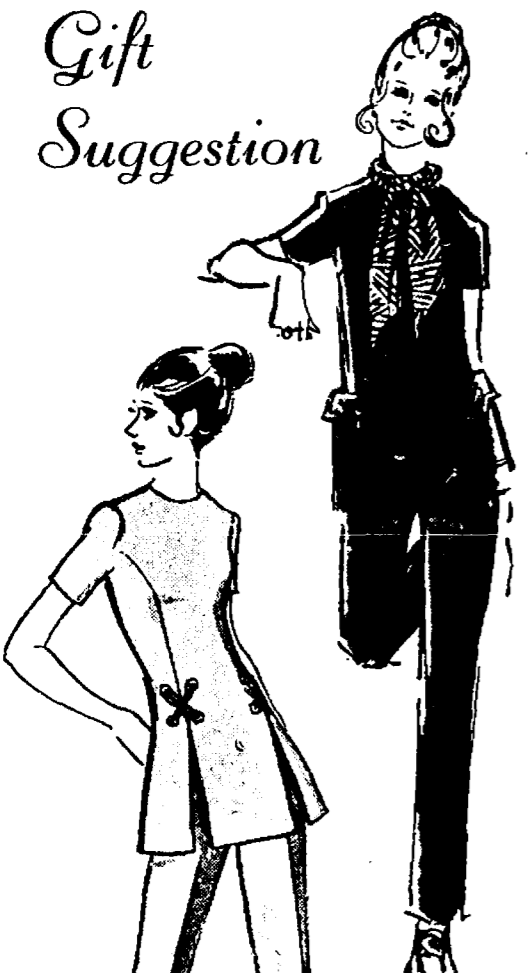

Mrs. Marschner is Workshop chairman this year. Mrs. Albert Dentz, co-chairman. Mrs. Donald Kalen, Mrs. Robert Cooper and Mrs. Gordon Young are handling reservations and tickets.

Mrs. Tom Williams is making the room decorations and Mrs. Theodore Potter the name tags, for everyone. The Church showcase, displaying all the workshop projects, was arranged by Mrs. Harold Westcott.

Mrs. Robert Lake and Mrs. Martin Hawley are in charge of dinner.

Other committee members include Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Billie and the Mesdames James Mackintosh, Bernice Bates, Louis Charvat, Robert Bogan, Kenneth Bergmann, George Drais, Richard Tice, Howard Wright, Roy Hutcheon, Kurt Tech, Dennis Kopp, David Olsen, Alan Wright, Richard Allor, Robert Kienle, Wayne Wiseman, John Horn and Dudley Arnold.

Beautification Concern of All

The second fall meeting of the Grosse Pointe Beautification Council was held at the Grosse Pointe Central Library November 19 at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Leland Carter, of Handy road, presided.

Guest speaker Mrs. Charles Dawood, of Berkshire road, discussed the K.B.D. (Keep Detroit Beautiful) Teens. She has received considerable recognition for her outstanding work in K.B.D.'s organization and direction.

The young adults, recruited and organized by blocks, pick up litter from their own areas and public parks and maintain lawns for the elderly and disabled. Mrs. Dawood was featured speaker at the National Clean

Up Congress, held in Washington, D.C., in February of this past year.

Beautification is not solely the concern of adults, as was witnessed by the appearance at the meeting of David McCoy and Ellen Cherutti, from Defer School, representing the recently-organized Environmental Patrol made up of fifth and sixth graders who are concerned with environmental pollution.

Louise Hassell was the delegate from S.C.O.P.E., the ecology club at Grosse Pointe South High School.

The next meeting of the Grosse Pointe Beautification Council is scheduled for January 21, at 9:30 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

Julie Feikens Will Be Bride

Mr. and Mrs. John Feikens, of Pemberton road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Julie Anne, to Eric VanderHaagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit VanderHaagen, of Dearborn. Julie attends Calvin College in Grand Rapids, where she is majoring in German. She plans to spend five weeks in Germany this winter. Her fiancé also attends Calvin, where he is studying Theology. An August wedding is planned.

LWV Considers Welfare Dec. 8

The League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe will hold a combined Unit Meeting next Tuesday evening, December 8, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Taylor Seebor in Merriweather road. Persons who are interested but not members of the League are welcome to attend. The subject to be discussed under the guidance of the Pointe LWV's Human Resources committee will be "Alternatives to Welfare." The League will endeavor to come to consensus on this question, which has been a study item this year.

Typical of the questions to be considered are: Do you believe that government shares a responsibility for meeting the basic needs of every person? In considering programs of income assistance, what levels of government, (i.e. local, state, federal), should be responsible for: Financing; Setting Standards; Administration?

Discussion of these consensus questions may prove profitable in finding other alternatives and in understanding those already proposed. The President's plan for welfare reform, "The Family Assistance Act of 1969," was adopted by the House but ran into an unexpected storm in the Senate. The subject is timely and controversial and promises an interesting and informative Unit Meeting.

Mrs. C. B. Conover, chairman of the Human Resources committee, will lead the discussion.

Martha Cook Brunch Dec. 12

Mrs. J. H. Wilberding, president of the Detroit Martha Cook Alumnae Association, has announced that members and friends of her group will gather Saturday, December 12, for their traditional Christmas brunch.

This year the women will meet at 11 o'clock at the Detroit Athletic Club to toast each other and enjoy a gourmet brunch at noon.

Special guests will include Mrs. Richard Duffel, the Building's Director, and Detroit area girls who are currently living in the Martha Cook Building on the University of Michigan campus.

Reservations for the Brunch at $6 per person should be mailed to Mrs. Russel H. Peebles, 1241 Bedford Road, Grosse Pointe, 48230, by December 7.

done up for the holidays, to Christmas Walk-ers in The Pointe this year.

Pointe Garden Center's 20th Anniversary

Mrs. Harley Higbie has been a busy lady these past weeks.

She has had birthday brunch acceptances from EVERY one of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's first officers and committee chairmen—except those who've deserted The Pointe for warmer climes.

Seated at the head table tomorrow at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be Mr. and Mrs. Vincent R. DePetris, Miss Marie Louise Anderson, the Center's first president, Mrs. L. Rothe Farr and Mrs. Sidney R. Miller, Jr., first vice-presidents, Miss Christine Edwards, recording secretary, Mrs. George Bethune Duffield, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Alfred D. LaFerte, assistant corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Emil Leidich, treasurer.

Way back in 1950 Mrs. Harold R. Smith and Mrs. Nell McMillan were among the Center's original committee chairmen, as was Mrs. Wood Williams who, with Miss Anderson, has served the Garden Center CONTINUOUSLY from then through now, succeeding Marie Louise as president.

Mrs. Williams will be among the most honored guests on Friday.

Also in seats-of-honor will be Mrs. Sidney T. Miller, Jr., and Mrs. Nils R. Johanson, daughters of the late Mrs. Russell Alger whose home is now the War Memorial. Both ladies have long been interested in the Garden Center.

And after the noon brunch everyone will adjourn to the downstairs Fries Auditorium for the annual Berry Memorial Lecture, this year featuring Mrs. Rolland L. Fifer, of Louisville, Ky., who will present "A Flowery Happening."

Sounds like a perfect day—the only big regret is that certain Garden Center President Mrs. James Lafer can't be there: That broken leg is STILL keeping her hospitalized.

Third Tree-Trimming for HOPE

The Symphonic Metamorphosis, those eight Detroit Symphony members who synthesize rock and classical idioms, and Grosse Pointe Theatre's own Accent '70 singers will fill the Fisher Building lobby with music this Sunday afternoon as HOPE Ship League members and friends gather to trim a very special tree with very special ornaments.

Each ornament's "priced" at $2.50, $5 or $10. Admission to the 4 to 8 o'clock party's via "purchase" of one of the ornaments, each representing a donation to the Hospital Ship HOPE.

Santa's promised to put in a personal appearance and his elves will be ubiquitous, darting here, there and everywhere with trays of aperitifs and canapes.

Co-chairmen for the League's third annual Tree-Trimming party are Mr. and Mrs. John D. Droste, of Neff road. Rita Flaherty, of Prestwick road, is the group's social affairs co-chairman and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bailey, of Fisher road, are its President Couple.

Other Pointers serving on the party committee are the Wayne Boldens, the Richard Flynns, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gildner, Jr., Carol Roller, the James S. Sanfords, the Donald G. Schumers, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Williams, Jr.,

Goodwill Ladies Will Trim Tree

Members of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries will decorate a topiary tree Wednesday, December 9, at 1:30 o'clock, in the Goodwill Building, Brush Street, Detroit, with donations of money to provide special services to the handicapped employees of the League for the Handicapped—Goodwill Industries.

A sandwich luncheon will be followed by a concert featuring the Denby High School Singing Ensemble, Phyllis Isaacson, director, Margaret Todd, accompanist.

The 1970 symbol for the traditional party is the ancient Rose of Sharon around which Anne Campbell Stark has woven this poem:

The Rose of Charity
The Rose is welcomed when in June
Its petals open to the sun,
But underneath a winter moon
Its beauty blesses everyone.
For those who cannot see the gold
Sheen of the sunlight on a Rose;
For those who cannot walk or hold
In shattered hands a flower that glows,
We ask donations. On our tree
Your name will gleam when next we meet,
And the bright Rose of Charity
Will substitute Hope for De-feat!

The Women's Association has for many years highlighted its Christmas meeting by assembling a Pantry Shower to provide supplementary diet items the Richard Rabbideaus, the J. Robert Princes and the Donald McCubbreys.

Still more are Mrs. and Mrs. Emery Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kaess, the Lee Terrills, the Ronald Samuels, the David Tylers, Mr. and Mrs. James Tompkins, the Samuel Ulmers, the John B. McKernans, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert J. Waitkus, Margot Kahl, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stark Langs, the Nicholas D. Lindhelms and the William T. Mardens.

Upcomings

Entertaining tonight at cocktails and buffet preceding Tom Morrow's talk and film on the Apollo moonshots for the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe, (he's appearing at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial), are Mr. and Mrs. Frank William Donovan, of East Jefferson avenue.

Yves Laulan, director of Economic Affairs, Eivind Berdal, Senior Political Briefing Officer, and Anthony King-Harman, Planning and Policy Staff, North Atlantic Treaty Organization, will be guests of honor at a dinner in Mr. and Mrs. Gilder D. Jackson's Rivard boulevard home next Thursday, December 10. The gentlemen are coming to Detroit to speak that day at a luncheon meeting of the Detroit Area Council on World Affairs, in the Engineering Society of Detroit, at which Mr. Jackson, dean of Academic Affairs, Lawrence Institute of Technology, and member of the Council's board of directors, will act as presiding officer.

St. Michael's Rites For Nancy Kiswiney

Speaks Vow to Daniel William Shimer at Noon Service Saturday; Newlyweds Are Vacationing in Hawaii for Three Weeks

A home in Warren awaits Mr. and Mrs. Daniel William Shimer, vacationing for three weeks in Hawaii after their Saturday, November 28, wedding in St. Michael's Episcopal Church.

The noon rites were followed by a reception and luncheon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House.

Mrs. Shimer is the former Nancy Jean Kiswiney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kiswiney, of South Oxford road. The William Shimers, of Madera, Calif., are the bridegroom's parents.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of ivory antique satin. Alencon lace studded with seed pearls accented her lantern sleeves and round yoke and a full Chapel train fell from her waist.

Her bouffant illusion veil fell from a matching cap and she carried an arrangement of baby roses with stephanotis.

Xmas Cocktails For Colony Club

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutton, of Devonshire road, are hosting Colony Town Club of Detroit's annual Christmas cocktail party this Sunday, December 6.

Among those on hand for the festivities will be Pointers Dr. and Mrs. Walter Bernard, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Ewing, the Stanley Morgans, Miss Margaret Nest, the William Posts, the Hugh Purdys and the Lloyd Yobes.

Others who plan to attend the party are the Karl Behrs, Mrs. Russel Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harms, Mr. and Mrs. James Vernon Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Ira Downer and the McDames Roger Walker and Osborne Brines.

Loye And Jeffrey Hargis Share A Birthday Party

Loye Hargis was born November 29, 1895, in O'Dell, Neb. — and Jeffrey Hargis turned three years old November 24, 1970 (that's the Tuesday before last), but neither grandfather nor grandson minded "sharing" a family birthday celebration.

Loye and his wife Marguerite, of Hampton road, went "across the border" into St. Clair Shores for the festivities at the home of their son (Jeffrey's father), and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hargis, in Downing street.

There too — naturally — were Jeffrey's brothers and sister, David, Susan and Steve Hargis. And the John Easons were on hand to wish her father a "Happy 75th," and nephew Jeff a "Happy third birthday!"

It was decided to hold the party on the 24th, although it was for both of them. Loye can anticipate easier than Jeff can wait.

MICHELE ARENE, daughter of MR. and MRS. ALEXANDRE J. ARENE, of McMillan road, has been named to the Dean's List for high academic achievement at Barat College, Lake Forest, Ill. Michele is a senior majoring in English at the liberal arts college for women.

Folks who beat around the bush take the road to nowhere.

Mrs. Daniel W. Shimer

Married Saturday, November 28, at a noon ceremony in St. Michael's Episcopal Church to Mr. Shimer, son of the William Shimers, of Madera, Calif., was NANCY JEAN KISWINEY, daughter of the Sam Kiswineys, of South Oxford road.

Ski and Skate Outings Slated

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Youth Council and the War Memorial Ski Hi Club were delighted with the season's first snowfall. Both groups have plans to enjoy the winter season. Youth Council members and their guests are invited to sign up for this 8 to 10 o'clock event for just $1. Warren Trafton, Jr., director of the Junior Youth Council, is in charge of the evening's activities.

Members of the Ski Hi group, and their parents, who have signed up for the Christmas vacation in Colorado are invited to the Fries Crystal ballroom to receive final details of the trip and to meet Mr. and Mrs. Frank McBride, Jr., who will chaperone, on Sunday, December 13, at 2 o'clock.

Although the trip is full at the moment, wait lists will be accepted with deposits.

The group leaves Saturday, December 26, returning Sunday, January 2. Round trip charter

The chapter has a patchwork quilt theme. Each member is requested to bring a small piece of material to go into the cover. The Chapter Yearbook will be sent to Quilter National Headquarters for consideration as "Book of the Year."

Yearbooks are to be judged and awards presented at the 21st annual meeting of Quilters in Oakland, Calif. May 2, 3 and 4, 1971.

Books will be judged on attractiveness of their covers and the ingenuity used in making them interesting.

Members also have been requested to bring an article for a "Silent Auction" to the December 10 meeting.

The afternoon ceremony in Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church at which Kathryn Hookanson spoke her marriage vows to Gil Lewis Turchin was followed by a reception and dinner in the Kensington road home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lundquist Hookanson.

Officiating at the 4:30 o'clock rite Friday, November 27, was Dr. Harry Meserve.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Turchin, of Linden, N.J.

Pearl beading accented the neck. Empire waist and sleeves of the bride's white velvet street length gown. She fashioned it herself from an Yves St Laurent pattern.

A shoulder length bouffant veil fell from her pearl-accented velvet headpiece and she carried a Colonial arrangement of white Sweetheart roses, baby's-breath and stephanotis, and her great-grandmother's handkerchief.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Scott Cameron, of Norfolk, Va., whose purple velvet street length dress was sleeveless. Her Colonial bouquet featured pink carnations, sweet-heart roses and baby's-breath.

Rene Sacasas, of Alexandria, Va., was best man. He is the bridegroom's college friend and former roommate, and currently attends Georgetown University Graduate School.

The newlyweds are returning to Washington, D.C. and will make their home in Alexandria.

Gerds-Axsom Rites Celebrated Nov. 28

Newlyweds Will Vacation in France During Christmas Holidays; Candlelight Rites Followed by Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Reception

The Vincennes place home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Axsom, was the setting for the Saturday, November 28, wedding of Susan Christine Axsom and Gary William Gerds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn E. Gerds, of Moorland drive.

Pastor Constantine Truedl officiated at the 6:30 o'clock double ring rites. A reception and dinner at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the candlelight service.

The newlyweds will make their home in Lansing and plan a two-week trip to France during the Christmas holidays.

Re-embroidered Alencon lace appliques on English net formed the mock bolero of the bride's formal ivory gown. Matching beaded lace motifs were scattered over her skirt which, like her bodice, was accented with silk-faced satin.

A lace headpiece caught her floor length silk illusion veil and she carried gardenias with red garnet roses.

Honor maid Cynthia Wang, of San Francisco, wore a floor length pale blue crocheted frock and bridesmaid Christine Finerty, of Coral Gables, Fla., chose a floor length dress of teal blue chiffon. Both carried daisy chrysanthemum nosegays.

Allyn E. Gerds, Jr., served as his brother's best man and Richard Axsom ushered.

A long gown of silver and gold brocade with a mink boa collar was Mrs. Axsom's choice for her daughter's wedding and the reception. She selected a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother's floor length gown of gold silk featured a beaded collar and cuffs. Her wrist corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Finerty, of Coral Gables, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Finerty, of Wappinger Falls, N.Y., Mrs. Len Uffend, of Hollywood, Fla., and Robert Schott, of New York.

Holiday Lunch Slated at DBC

The Detroit Boat Club will sparkle with Yuletide spirit when its Women's committee welcomes members and guests at a Christmas luncheon next Wednesday, December 9, at high noon.

With the Hanging of the Greens set for this weekend, the club will be aglow in its most festive array: Cascades of mistletoe and holly and clusters of tiny lights decorating wall scones and a stately pine, brilliant with shocking pink bows, spotlighting the foyer.

Luncheon guests will hear the Bell Ringers of Birmingham's First Methodist Church, under the direction of Rodney Peterson. They will present a repertoire of folk, sacred and classical music.

The bells used by this all-women's group, organized in 1960, were a memorial gift of Mrs. Ada McCurry, of Birmingham. Thirty-seven were imported from Holland; the remainder are products of England's White Chapel Foundry, which cast the American Liberty Bell and Big Ben.

As members of the American Guild of English Hand-bell Ringers, this group has participated in regional festivals. Their philanthropic endeavors include entertaining in hospital and retirement homes.

Mrs. Jack Mills, chairman of the party, is being assisted by the Mesdames J. Ross Bush, Philip C. Dickinson, Kurt R. Keydel, Kenneth P. Licke, Earl G. Meyer, James S. Owens, Richard S. Shannon, Lawrence K. Sweet and Joseph P. Wright.

Organize Arnold Home Auxiliary

The Arnold Home Auxiliary was formally organized Friday, November 20, at a tea in the Home's Caulkins Building.

Despite inclement weather there was an excellent turnout, many guests coming from Grosse Pointe and other eastern suburbs.

After a greeting from Miss Gertrude H. Rasleigh, executive director of the Home, followed by an extremely interesting talk by Dr. Leon Lucas, the Home's consultant in social service, the meeting was called to order by temporary chairman Mrs. Byron W. Trerice.

The by-laws were accepted and Mrs. Trerice was elected president.

Mrs. Raymond Wilson will serve as first vice-president, Mrs. Henry J. Phelps as second vice-president, Richard G. Lowe as third vice-president, Mrs. Gerald Agranove as treasurer and Mrs. James F. Cramer as secretary.

A considerable number of members were welcomed to the new Auxiliary, men as well as women. The charter membership is being held open until December 31 so that all those who are interested in the Arnold Home and its work for the aged may have the opportunity to join as charter members throughout 1970.

Mr. Lowe, third vice-president, will assume particular responsibility for the evening meetings which will be specially designed for the convenience and interest of male members as well as women who are engaged in other activities during the day.

Challenging programs are being planned. The Auxiliary's first project will be the raising of funds to equip the Home's X-Ray Department.

Anyone interested in assisting the work of the Arnold Home Auxiliary is invited to call KE 1-4001. Ask for Miss Florence K. Theiler.

Mrs. Richard M. Kehoe

Setting for the noon rites Saturday, November 28, at which ELISABETH SMITH PFEFFER, daughter of Mrs. George Edwin Pfeffer, of Linville road, and the late Mr. Pfeffer, and Mr. Kehoe, son of the Edward James Kehoes, of Carleton, Mich., were married was Our Lady Queen of Peace Church.

Miss Pfeffer Says Vows To Mr. Kehoe

J. Henry Smith Gives His Granddaughter in Marriage at Noon Ceremony Saturday in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church

The wedding of Elisabeth Smith Pfeffer and Richard Mark Kehoe in Our Lady Queen of Peace Church Saturday, November 28, with the Reverend Richard Dorr officiating, was followed by a reception at Richard Hall.

For the rites the bride, daughter of Mrs. George Edwin Pfeffer, of Linville road, and the late Mr. Pfeffer, chose a Princess gown of peau de soie styled with Bishop sleeves, a sweeping train and a Venise lace-trimmed camisole yoke.

A Camelot cap of matching lace caught her illusion veil.

J. Henry Smith gave his granddaughter in marriage. She was attended by her cousin, Joan Blake, as maid of honor and bridesmaids Angela Fether, of Marina del Rey, Calif., Mrs. Walter A. Honecker, Karen Meyer, Victoria Oliver and Kathleen Kehoe, the bridegroom's sister.

Venise lace accented the necks and cuffs of their emerald green frocks and they carried Colonial bouquets of bronze and yellow mums with gold streamers and baby's-breath.

Flower girl Joanna Murray, the bride's cousin, carried a basket filled with matching flowers.

Edward Patrick Kehoe was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Kehoe, of Carleton, Mich.

Seating the guests were Walter A. Honecker, Paul Merz, of Temperance, Mich., Lawrence Dunn, the bridegroom's cousin, and George E. Pfeffer, Jr., and Charles A. Pfeiffer, brothers of the bride.

For the noon rites and the reception Mrs. Pfeffer selected a blue crepe dress and a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage. A green cymbidium orchid complimented the bridegroom's mother's lime green costume with its bead-trimmed yoke.

After a vacation in Toronto the newlyweds will be at home in Valley Green Apartments, Southgate.

ANDREW STEPHEN MILHALIK, JR., of Beaupre avenue, a student at Purdue University has been cited as one of the outstanding bandmen there. He plays the cornet-French horn.

Center Planning Christmas Fete

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial has planned a special Christmas party for the young and young in heart Sunday, December 20, in Fries Auditorium, turned into a veritable fairyland by Helen Blair and her staff with a beautifully decorated Christmas tree in the ballroom.

The party begins with a live musical production of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" presented through the Youth Theater of the Detroit Institute of Arts and featuring the Ken and Kay Rockefeller's Traveling Playhouse from New York. Tickets for the show are $2.50.

Following the play in the auditorium party-goers move upstairs to the ballroom where the War Memorial's Youth Council will be waiting to distribute candy canes, cocoa and cookies to guests and introduce them to the guest of honor—Santa Claus. Drunk Motorist Gets Jail Term

Robert E. Strother, 29, whose last known address was given as 8724 Michigan avenue, Detroit, was sentenced to 15 days in the Detroit House of Correction on Sunday, November 22, by Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell.

Strother was arrested by Farms police and charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and driving while his operator's license was suspended.

The arresting officers, Patrolmen Kenneth Pine and Philip Miglio, stated in their report that they were on routine patrol at 1:10 a.m. Sunday, and were at Ridge and Moross roads, when they observed Strother turning north onto Moross from Country Club drive.

The police said that after making the turn, Strother ran over the east curb of Moross, and proceeded at a high rate of speed in the northbound lane of the road, crossing over the center line on three occasions.

When vehicular traffic approached on southbound Moross, the patrolmen stated, Strother would overcorrect his steering and headback to the east curb and then back to the center line. They stopped the motorist at the Moross-Chalfonte intersection and placed him under arrest for drunk driving. Strother was unable to produce a driver's license at the time.

He was taken to the Woods station, where he failed two breathalyzer tests, then returned to the Farms station. By this time, a report had been received from Lansing that Strother's license had been suspended because he had failed to comply with the State's Financial Responsibility Law.

The man was ticketed for drunk driving and for driving while his license was suspended, and held until his hearing and sentence later that morning.

FRANK DECK STOLEN

Evidence obtained from the theft, occurring Thursday, November 19, included a brick left in the car and partial fingerprint.

Symphony Gets Matching Grant

A $100,000 matching grant awarded to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra by the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C., will be used to involve the Symphony further in the Detroit community, with emphasis on inner city programs as well as expanded Symphony services throughout the State of Michigan.

The National Endowment announced November 23 that grants totaling $1,820,000 were being made available to 40 orchestras in 26 states, including Detroit.

In November, 1969, the Detroit Symphony was awarded a $50,000 grant by the National Endowment in support of a two-week inner city music project carried out this past spring. The newest grant represents in part an expansion of that program.

The various Detroit Symphony programs that will be aided by the new grant are as follows: Inner City School Concerts. The Symphony will continue its annual two-week program of school visits and increase the number of concerts from 22 to 30. Pierre Hetu, associate conductor of the Symphony, and Paul Freeman, conductor-in-residence, each will conduct the Orchestra in these programs in May and June, 1971.

The new matching grant program also calls for a "Project Involvement" committee of citizens to assist the Symphony in many of the educational-promotional aspects of presenting its expanded programs in inner city schools and for the State Fairgrounds programs.

This is an outgrowth of a committee formed a year ago to help with the Symphony's spring 1970 in-school concerts. The National Endowment for the Arts is a federal government agency created by Congress in 1965 to encourage and assist the arts in America.

Michigan State Fairgrounds Concerts. These traditional free summer programs, which have been made possible for many years by such sponsors as the Detroit Edison Company, the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industries and the State Fair Authority, will be presented in a revised format designed to appeal to larger audiences. A greater variety in programming and in guest-artist participation is also planned. The series still will require corporate sponsors as well, however.

Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra. Introduced just this year as a new dimension of the Detroit Symphony's educational programs, the Youth Orchestra will continue as an official training ground for talented young Metropolitan-area musicians.

Outstate programs. While the Symphony has already launched its most ambitious program of outstate concerts this year, through grant support for staff assistance it can now also investigate more completely and formulate a greater participation in a service role to communities throughout the State.

The new matching grant program also calls for a "Project Involvement" committee of citizens to assist the Symphony in many of the educational-promotional aspects of presenting its expanded programs in inner city schools and for the State Fairgrounds programs.

This is an outgrowth of a committee formed a year ago to help with the Symphony's spring 1970 in-school concerts. The National Endowment for the Arts is a federal government agency created by Congress in 1965 to encourage and assist the arts in America.

In her mother's wedding gown of candlelight satin and Alencon lace and her sister's lace-trimmed full length illusion veil, Karen Marie Kroha spoke her marriage vows to Dr. Thomas J. Veyser Saturday, November 28.

The 11 o'clock rites in St. Ambrose Church at which Father Martin Sobieski presided were followed by a reception at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The newlyweds will live in Lexington, Ky., and plan a vacation in Jamaica during the Christmas holidays.

Kristine Ann Kroha was her twin sister's honor attendant. They are the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Kroha, of Middlesex boulevard.

The honor maid and bridesmaids Judy Lawrence and Patricia Riley wore floor length frocks of aqua blue and celer green brocade trimmed with aqua sequins and beading at their necks and waists.

They carried bouquets of pink Sweetheart roses and pink carnations. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Dorothy Veyser, of the River House, Detroit, and Dr. H. J. Veyser, of Ubyly, Mich., asked Michael Coleman to act as best man.

Ushering were the bride's brothers, Lawrence A. Kroha, Jr., and Richard F. Kroha, and Dr. Thomas J. Veyser.

Mrs. Kroha chose a bead-trimmed celer green crepe costume for her daughter's wedding and the reception. The bridegroom's mother's coat and dress ensemble was fashioned of pink silk.

SAM STANLEY, of Cadieux road, a senior at the Taft School, Watertown, Conn., is participating in Taft's Independent Studies Program, grinding a 16-inch telescope mirror with another student. Over the summer Sam designed and constructed the machine now being used to grind the mirror. The method being used involves taking two flat pieces of Pyrex, one smaller than the other, placing some abrasive between the two pieces of glass and rotating them with a grinding machine to produce the mirror's parabolic surface. The work is tedious, since it involves changing the abrasive every hour. Sam intends to use the mirror for a telescope of his own. Taft students working on I.S.P. live in a separate dormitory and have numerous privileges allowing them to allocate their time as they see fit.

Field Day For Fashion

This fall promises to provide the '70's woman a field day in thinking fashion for herself—maybe for the first time in apparel history.

"The season will be one of fashion choice," says Mabel Westerberg, Senior Vice President and Fashion Coordinator of Queen's-Way to Fashion, Inc. "There will be no one look; one length; one way to dress. No conformity enforced. Various hemline lengths from moderate mini to maxi will be emphasized in coordinates. Accessories including long scarves, belts, jewelry, stockings and shoes will add the spice."

Mrs. Westerberg notes that the long overdue evolution will simply mean an addition to the fashion fare, offering a new dimension in sophisticated drama and individuality.

The Fashion Coordinator offers the following guidelines in mid dress:

- Shoes and opaque stockings must match for a monotone look.
- The top of boots worn with a mid must not show.
- Proper proportion of mid to height is essential. For shorter women, the mid should be no longer than the top of the calf—never in the middle of the calf, which cuts the leg line.
- The mid look should be accompanied by longer earrings, larger rings, chains and ropes and longish sweaters for an unbroken streamline appearance.

Report Vandals Active in Woods

Woods police received several reports of malicious destruction of property over the Halloween weekend, mostly concerning window breakage.

Vandals broke into a Lochmoor Club facility, located at 1018 Sunningdale, and caused general destruction and damage estimated at $150.

Sometime late Saturday night, Peter Behr, Lochmoor Club manager reported, vandals broke into the halfway house located on the golf course and shattered two flood lights, one mirror in washroom, slashed and pushed out screens on the sun porch, and damaged several chairs. Officials found other chairs strewn about and in general disorder.

Raymond Haggart, 1467 Brys, reported to police that while his car was parked on Charlevoix near Anita, someone had broken the window on the driver's side and the left rear side window. A small hole was found in the rear window and police speculate that it may have been caused by a pellet gun. Occurring sometime after 5 p.m. Saturday, October 31, the damage was estimated at $60.

While answering the Haggart call, police found that a car owned by Mrs. Abbie Monteith, 1470 Anita, also had a rear window broken valued at $30. Making inquiries, police found that the incident must have occurred after 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

A further check of the area revealed that the door window of a car owned by Mary Graupp, 1467 Aline, was also broken by vandals.

On Friday, October 30, it was reported that a BB gun was used to break a picture window, measuring five by eight feet in the home of Robert A. Martin, 1411 Hawthorne. Police received the names of two witnesses who had seen the incident.

Two youths were turned over to the police who were seen to be part of a group that reportedly had broken a gas light, valued at $150 in front of the home of Patricia Dinverno, 1489 Roslyn. Apprehended Friday, October 30 around 9 p.m., the youths denied breaking the window but admitted that they were part of the group responsible for the breakage.

Police told the NEWS that damage to residential property was minimal when compared with Halloween weekends over the past several years.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Public Schools

Will the student population of North High School be increased during the construction period if the bond issue is approved on December 7?

No. All students in present South High School attendance areas will continue to go to South even though conditions would be temporarily difficult during the construction period.

Why has the Board of Education agreed unanimously that the "B" Annex (formerly the Country Day School) cannot be retained as a high school classroom facility?

Among the reasons for the decision are these:

1. The biology laboratories are totally inadequate for experimental work.
2. Heating and ventilation and safety features are obsolete.

Academic departments are housed in fragmented fashion throughout the plant.

Students have to use outside fire escapes for ingress and egress to classes.

Most classrooms are too small for high school use.

Therefore, the removal of students from the "B" Annex building, constructed in 1907 and 1915, has a high priority in the overall master plan to improve the physical plant of Grosse Pointe South High School to be voted on December 7.

Where will the Adult Education classes, many of which are currently housed in the "B" Annex, be housed?

The Adult Education classes will continue to be housed in the present building until a later date when another location will be found. At this point, there are no plans to move Adult Education classes out of the "B" Annex.

What other improvements are planned if the bond issue passes?

There is much to be done elsewhere on the physical plant at South High School. Not only are the biology classrooms inadequate in the Annex, but the laboratories in the main building also have numerous shortcomings which the bond issue proposes to rectify. The music department is housed in inadequate facilities, too. And the main building does not meet current safety regulations.

The meeting and questions at Richard and Trombley were general discussions of a number of questions. The renovation of South High School was discussed. People asked when the middle school program would be restored to its former status. At Kerby (where the audience numbered 95), the questions ranged over all the big issues confronting the public schools today.

Court in Farms Held by Pytell

Gary L. Friedly of 654 Kolb, Allen Park, entered a plea of not guilty at his arraignment before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Wednesday, November 4. Friedly was accused of driving left of the center line. His trial date was set for Wednesday, November 25.

Laird J. Ahearn of 432 Elmwood, Clawson, was found guilty of driving a motor vehicle without an operator's license on his person. He was sentenced to one year probation, and must attend a Driver Safety School within 30 days. In addition, he was ordered to pay a fine of $150.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. ROLAND RINKE, OF BARCLAY ROAD

By Janet Mueller

The name of the house is Longleat. Its owner is the Sixth Marquis of Bath. It was built in 1586 in Wiltshire, England, and a ghost—wife of the original owner, discovered by said owner, (returning home unexpectedly early), with the gardener, (who like the estate stayed put), and promptly dispatched—rooms the East Wing.

How would you like to spend a Merrie Olde English Christmas there?

Ah-h-h-h . . . the ghost . . . She's been committed for 400 years to Wiltshire, and that East Wing. It's unlikely she'll attempt a trans-Atlantic crossing now.

But the spirit of Longleat will rise in The Pointe Saturday evening, December 12, and guests at the 1970 White Christmas Ball, sponsored by the Fontbonne Auxiliary of St. John Hospital, will pass through the doors of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club . . . into a 16th century English manor, wreathed, garlanded, red-ribbed, cloistered arches twined with ever-green ropes: Longleat wearing its holiday dress.

The Ball Chairman The name of the lady is Janice Rinke. She'll be wearing her holiday dress too December 12, in Longleat-in-The Pointe.

Janice is chairman of the White Christmas Ball.

And if that famous ghost SHOULD decide to take a trip and put in an appearance at Longleat-on-the-shores-of-Lake St. Clair while the Ball's in progress, Janice Rinke will cope.

She's used to it. Janice has been in an earthquake.

That was a few years back, in Mexico, where the Rinkes and three other couples had rented a villa, complete with swimming pool, high in the hills overlooking Acapulco Bay (on one side) and the ocean (on the other).

Rumble and Tinkle As Janice stood alone on the balcony late one night, overlooking Acapulco Bay (on one side) and the ocean (on the other), there came a rumble, all the glass in the house began to tinkle . . .

"They said it was a tremor." BUT . . . Then there was the time, first and only time, she tried out a trampoline, fell off and broke both her arms.

What do you do for nine weeks with both your arms in casts? "Absolutely nothing!"

That includes NOT opening doors or reading newspapers (the casts spread her fingers apart so she couldn't grasp anything). NO spur-of-the-moment mobility (first you have to be dressed, then driven . . .)

It happened at her brother's house in Birmingham, at the party following the christening of little Amy Skillman, fifth and final of Mr. and Mrs. Philip burgers. It is now under new management which is promoting Michele's Lounge as a family style place . . . 885-4641.

Antiquing . . . at Ports of Call, 23220 Mack Avenue, you'll find beautiful antique pendulum wall clocks from Germany in working order. They are made of mellow wood. Some are decoratively carved. You'll also discover a charming antique jewelry collection.

The Snoozer . . . invites you to "come in and snooze round" among the antiques, imports, Victorian and Christmas arrangements. For a shining Christmas memory, how about a piece of gleaming old cut crystal from a brand new selection at 15309 Mack at Beaconsfield . . . 884-4421.

Beauty Mecca . . . The Grosse Pointe Colosseum has become a tradition among the beautiful ladies of our community. They throng to 20335 Mack and Eight Mile where beauty expert Miss Lucy, trained in Belgium, pampers you with pedicures and manicures and a staff of stylists adds glamor with flattering hair fashions. Call 881-7252 or 881-7490 for an appointment.

The Creative Crafts Corner . . . is a new boutique created at Mr. Eric Salon, 32225 Jefferson at Masonic. If you are Christmas shopping for special hand-made gifts, you'll find it. Hand knitted ponchos, afghans, sweaters, plus hand-crafted bisque, decoupage and original paintings are attractively displayed.

Grew Up Here

The young Skillmans grew up in Grosse Pointe. Janice and her brother were graduated from Grosse Pointe High. She was a member of the Grosse Pointe Simians, famous for their theatrical entertainments, and one year traveled to New York with a Chet Sampson group. During her Girl Scout years, (daughter Beth's a Scout now), Janice won quite a few awards for her collection of dolls from all over the world. She still has it.

In high school her brother had his own musical group: Phil Skillman, JR's Musical Maniacs.

"My father insisted he make that JUNIOR enormous!" Phil, now with New York Life Insurance, is a member of the Grunvons. They'll be singing at the White Christmas Ball.

That's something new this year: "We have never had entertainment before."

Band Keeps Promise Before his death this summer, Janice's father had promised to play for the party. His orchestra, with another pianist, is still set to perform.

Roland's from Centerline. He's the oldest of six children and his family maintains a two-home vacation complex at Sand Point, near Caswell, which is where "Miss Tiger" comes from: The stray cat was taken care of in turn by each Rinke group up-for-a-few-weeks one summer, and Roland and Janice, Mike, Beth and Kevin were the last ones up.

"We couldn't just leave her." That wouldn't be AT ALL a Rinke thing to do.

Hunting, skiing, biking, boating, golf, snowmobiling . . . Name a sport and at least one Rinke's sure to be an enthusiast.

How about going down the Rio Grande on barges? Technically, that's much too tame to be termed a "sport" . . . but it was fun, riding right along through the heart of San Antonio.

Reunion at Ranch Janice's sister's husband's relatives have a 27,000-acre ranch in Uvalde, Tex., and they loaned it for a family reunion, (the Rinkes and Skillmans THRIVE on family reunions).

Everybody shot jack rabbits, and rode horses, and went down into Mexico for shopping and looking around, and Mrs. Regan Houston, executive director of the Women's Pavilion at San Antonio's HemisFair, delighted the Rinke children with her scale model of the fair in miniature.

There've been other wonderful vacations, too. "We've won a few trips through the Auto Dealers."

This summer, Janice and Roland spent a week in Europe, going up the Rhine. Four years ago they were off to Hawaii, arranged for Mike and Beth to meet them in San Francisco on the way back and motored in quartet down the spectacular California coast to Los Angeles, where they visited Disneyland.

Custom car designer George Harris provided a special treat for the children, a personal tour through Universal City including a personal inspection of the Batmobile and Munster Coach.

Convention-Goers Conventions have taken Janice and Roland to the Greenbrier and last June, via boat caravan up Lake Huron, to Mackinac Island.

Janice Rinke has collected for years for the United Foundation.

She's a past president of Michigan's Barry College Alumnae Association, (she also went to U. of D.), served as general Grosse Pointe co-chairman of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra 1968 Christmas Walk, is a member of Our Lady Star of the Sea Altar Society and current secretary of the Grosse Pointe PIME Mission Guild.

She's shepherded Cub Scouts through the submarine anchor sold behind the Naval Armory, sold tickets for school plays, who, where and whatnot

The White Christmas Ball . . . has, over the years, earned its reputation as a "fun" evening . . . a party that's looked forward to, an event truly enjoyed . . . but let's not forget that it's fun WITH A PURPOSE . . . This year's Ball proceeds will assist in the expansion and re-location of St. John Hospital's Intensive Care Unit . . . and we thought you'd like to know a little about that Unit, just where the money's going, how it will be used . . .

Background . . . Historically, hospitals mixed and provided approximately the same level of care to all patients, regardless of their condition. Following the Second World War, great strides were made in medical science and health care which made it possible to provide specialized care for patients with severe life-threatening conditions. This culminated in the 60's with the creation of Intensive Care Units and similar highly specialized services . . . Such a Unit was established at St. John Hospital in 1966, with the assistance of the Fontbonne Auxiliary which raised funds for it through the White Christmas Ball. This Unit currently is staffed and equipped for the care of up to eight patients . . .

Purpose . . . The Intensive Care Unit's purpose is to reduce morbidity and mortality of critically and seriously ill patients by the provision of highly specialized, care which cannot be offered in a normal nursing unit . . .

Patients . . . The patients accepted in the Unit are those who can benefit from its specialized service, not those who are considered terminal . . . It is a place to go to recover, not to die. Its patients are in critical or serious condition with unstable vital signs. Among them are serious emergencies, post-operative patients with complications or potential for developing them . . . and all these who cannot be cared for safely in a regular nursing area . . .

Space . . . The Unit is a modified ward design where all patients can be visually observed from a central nursing station. Seven beds are located in the main area, an eighth in an isolation room . . .

Equipment . . . Among the Unit's monitoring and life-support apparatus are cardiac monitors, infusion pumps, an artificial kidney, a temperature control blanket . . . This equipment is added to and up-dated monthly . . .

Staff . . . There is an average of at least one nurse for every two patients in the Unit. All nurses are specially trained in Intensive Care technique and operation of the equipment contained in the Unit . . .

Reason For Expansion . . . With St. John's ever-increasing inpatient and emergency load, the need for additional beds in this Unit has become serious. In order to insure that all patients able to benefit from the Unit's services can be accommodated without delay, the capacity has to be expanded by at least 50 percent . . . and with the increased use of monitoring and life-support equipment, increased floor space per bed is necessary . . .

Description of New Unit . . . The new Unit will contain 13 beds, two in isolation rooms, the remainder in the main section. Floor space will be increased from 44 to 100 square feet per bed . . . To afford patients greater privacy and to preserve their dignity, sliding doorwalls will be located between each bed, with curtains which can be pulled across the cubicles formed by the doorwalls . . . In the isolation rooms, provision for the treatment of burn patients is being designed . . . Finally, to reduce the risk of infection, a specialized air conditioner system will be included to eliminate most airborne microorganisms . . .

Location . . . The new Unit will be located on the Hospital's first floor, in a wing formerly occupied by Medical Records. A vastly improved waiting area, for family members who sometimes stay for extended periods of time, is included in plans for the improved facility . . .

Completion Date . . . Construction is scheduled to begin shortly after the first of the year, with occupancy hoped for by the fall of 1971 . . .

And all this is why . . . Janice Rinke's "wonderful committee" is working so very hard for the 1970 White Christmas Ball . . . Besides the fun—and it IS fun—of the evening itself, there's the Purpose Behind The Party: To make St. John Hospital's Intensive Care Unit one of the most modern and technically advanced facilities of its type in the country. We can't think of a better reason to have a Ball . . .

chaperoned school dances thought up projects for Girl Scouts and Brownies, been a Room Mother, worked for school fairs, modelled at benefits.

She and Roland belong to Merry-Go-Rounders, bowl at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, were chairman of GYPC's Millionaire's Party and have worked on other Yacht Club parties.

Loves Dancing, Music She loves dancing and music and was in a GYPC Review a few years back.

This is her ninth White Christmas Ball. She was hostess chairman one year, invitations chairman another, addressed envelopes, helped with decorations . . .

Ball co-chairman last year, she moved up automatically into the general chairmanship.

It's a good arrangement: One year to learn, one to do. Betty (Mrs. Charles) Dawood is Janice's current understudy co-chairman.

Lee (Mrs. Vollrad) von Berg is in charge of the decorations. Warren Winstanley and Chaney Miller are executing them, bringing Longleat to Grosse Pointe.

And the ghost? There's been no definite plan to transport her, but . . . who knows?

If she SHOULD show up at Longleat-in-The-Pointe Saturday evening, December 12, Janice Rinke will cope. She's good at it.
