HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, April 15
PRESIDENT NIXON ANNOUNCED Wednesday a broad relaxation of the embargo that has barred direct United States trade with Communist China for 21 years. The White House said Chou's remarks made it "an appropriate time" to announce Mr. Nixon's program.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT issued standards Wednesday to strengthen bumpers, beginning with 1973 model cars. The standards were relatively mild and generally in line with what the automobile industry had requested. Douglas Toms, director of the Highway Traffic Safety Administration, acknowledged that savings will be marginal for owners of cars involved in minor accidents.

Friday, April 16
THE GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT increased $2.5 billion in the first three months of the year, an annual growth rate of 12 percent, the Commerce Department reported Thursday. Officials hailed the news as solid evidence of recovery from last year's recession, but conceded that while the rate of increase was the steepest for a quarter in more than 12 years, it was "a little lower" than anticipated in President Nixon's economic recovery program.

Sunday, April 18
JOHN CARDINAL DEARDEN announced Saturday that some 56 of the 269 schools operated by the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit will close in June. An additional 31 schools will have to curtail enrollments and the outlook for 26 others is still uncertain. He added that more than 18,000 pupils will be forced to go to school elsewhere. A church spokesman said that each of the parishes hit by the closings already has been notified by the Archdiocese.

Saturday, April 17
PRESIDENT NIXON said Friday that the United States will maintain a military presence, including air power, in Vietnam "as long as one American prisoner" is in the hands of the North Vietnamese. The President said the United States will continue bombing missions until prisoners are released. He told a panel of newsmen at an American Society of Newspaper Editors meeting that "we have some cards to play and we intend to play them to the hilt."

Monday, April 19
A NATIONAL "DUMP NIXON" movement, launched Sunday by a bipartisan rally in the Rhode Island Statehouse, drew some 15,000 persons. Three prospective presidential candidates, Senator Edmund S. Muskie, D-Me., Senator Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Representative Paul N. McCloskey, R-Cal., pledged to fight President Nixon in the primaries if the President does not move further to end the war. The rally, protesting the Administration's foreign and domestic policies, was organized by former New York Democratic Representative Alard K. Lowenstein, the man credited with launching the movement that led to President Johnson's decision not to seek re-election in 1968. Similar rallies are planned later in other parts of the country.

Tuesday, April 20
DETROIT SCHOOL OFFICIALS are threatening to dismiss some 800 teachers and each aide unless Governor Milliken and the state Department of Education agree to restore $4.5 million in state money for poverty area schools. School officials received notification last week that Milliken's budget-tightening efforts would cost Detroit about half of the $9.4 million it has been promised in aid for special programs in its 81 poverty area schools.

To Observe Earth Day Throughout Pointe Tomorrow

Public, Private and Parochial Students Have Special Projects Underway; "Proper Picnic" Planned at University-Liggett

By Pepper Whitelaw
Governor William G. Milliken has proclaimed Sunday, April 18, through Saturday, April 24, as Earth Week II in Michigan. He urged all government, individuals and organizations interested in environmental quality and the health and welfare of the people of Michigan to observe the week with renewed interest, participation and effort, to develop attitudes of environmental responsibilities and to take active roles in supporting environmental improvements.

The idea for the establishment of a national observance of Earth Week was initiated last year by Senator Gaylord Nelson and a group of interested senators and representatives.

The Pointes have worked throughout this past year, teenagers and adults alike, toward improving our environment. Environmental Action Now (EAN) was organized, The Political Action and Environmental Center (PEAC), in Kercheval avenue, a bottle-drop station was opened, and elementary, middle and high schools formed ecological groups and conducted ecological programs, as did local units of government, civic, social organizations and church groups.

Students have been working extra hard this week on environmental projects and tomorrow, Thursday, April 22, "Earth Day" will be observed in The Pointe.

Sister Sean Martin of St. Paul's Upper School has conducted and is conducting a very ambitious program. She arranged for over 30 seventh graders to donate a day of their spring vacation to clean up the grounds of the school and church.

Students are conducting lake tests, checking the water for acidity, algae growth, temperature and microscopic life, then exposing it to various pollutants; raising bean seedlings and subjecting them to different types of air pollutants; and studying noise pollution in the school and various areas of the community with the use of tape recorders.

Other seventh graders have called government officials of the five Pointes to find out what type of sewage treatment we have and how efficient it is. Still others are photographing community areas to emphasize the need for better litter control.

Youngsters in the non-graded primary at St. Paul are working on art projects, and all have been given Environmental Quality lists to take home which outline how they and their families can help eliminate pollution. They also are planting seeds around their homes, contributing to the beautification of the community.

Over at University-Liggett School tomorrow, students will hear Dr. William B. Stapp, a dedicated conservationist, author and associate professor,

Woods Case Hearing Set Tomorrow

Residents Will Appear in Court to Voice Their Reasons for City's Continued Denial of Permit

By Greg Boyd
The City Council of Grosse Pointe Woods was notified at its regular meeting Monday, April 19, of a lawsuit being instituted against the City for the right to build a restaurant in Mack avenue between Lennon and Van Antwerp. Several weeks ago the Council denied issuance of a building permit.

The suit, which also names Woods Building Inspector Earl Wakely as a co-defendant, was filed by Foodmaker, Inc. and Frederick G. Scully, the owner of the property.

The suit is in the wake of several city council meetings in which residents turned out in force to complain about the proposed construction of a Jack-in-the-Box cafeteria style restaurant on the property. The builders of the restaurant had been trying to gain approval from the council and favor from the residents for over five months before breaking ground.

Hearing Is Tomorrow
In the court hearing, scheduled for Friday, April 23, at 2 p.m. in the Detroit City-County Building, the residents, represented by Attorney Arnold Kargenian, will be acting as an interested third party and will voice their reasons for demanding that the council deny a building permit.

In an answer to the company's lawsuit, Kargenian said that the burden is on the company attorney to prove that the council acted "arbitrarily and capriciously" in its denial, before the court can order the issuance of a permit.

Concessions Offered
In an earlier council meeting, after Foodmaker offered to make several concessions to the residents regarding

City Requests WCRC to Act

The City of Grosse Pointe Council at its regular meeting on Monday, April 19, unanimously voted to approve a resolution requesting and strongly urging the Wayne County Road Commission to schedule a major repairs to the curbs and sub-base and resurfacing of Jefferson avenue between Cadieux road and Fisher road in the City of Grosse Pointe, and that the cost of this project be fully borne by the Wayne County Road Commission.

City representatives and members of the Wayne County Road Commission recently made an inspection of this area which showed significant portions of the curb badly deteriorated and sizable amounts of street sub-base near the curb as just as deteriorated and the street badly in need of resurfacing.

No major repairs or resurfacing of Jefferson avenue have been done since 1951. This portion of Jefferson is designated as a county primary road and consequently the WCRC has for many years received gas and weight tax remissions from the state of Michigan on these roads.

The proposals of the Wayne County Road Commission for the 1971 calendar year include no construction work on this portion of Jefferson, consequently City solons are urging WCRC to begin work on this portion of Jefferson avenue no later than the calendar year 1972. Hopefully the City will have some word on this request within the next few months, according to City manager Thomas Kressbach.

Girl Accepts Ride; Result Is Nightmare

Wood Police Arrest Suspect in Less Than One Week After Alleged Incident

Because of the diligent and effective work of Woods detectives and the clear thinking of a North High co-ed, a man police suspect was trying to abduct the girl was arrested less than one week after the incident occurred.

Robert Michniak, 21955 Bay-side, St. Clair Shores, was arraigned and charged, with assault and battery Wednesday, April 14, after a comprehensive investigation by detectives working on amazingly accurate information given to them by the girl.

The incident occurred Wednesday, April 7, as the student was walking west on Vernier around 11:30 p.m. The girl told police that a maroon fastback Volkswagen driving east stopped across the street and the driver asked her if she wanted a ride.

Thought Was Teacher
Thinking the man, identified as Michniak, was a teacher from North, the girl accepted and gave him directions when she got in the car. When Michniak suddenly turned right on Helen and she realized something was wrong, the girl said, Michniak reached over and locked the passenger door, telling her not to get out and that he wasn't going to hurt her.

As the captive tried to get out of the car, Michniak reportedly pulled a steak knife out of his pocket and laid it beside him. When the frightened student asked him where he was going, he told her he was looking for some place "where no people are around."

Memorizes License
The girl was finally able to unlock the door, open it, and swing her legs out as the driver slowed down. Stopping the car, the accused reportedly grabbed her arm and told her he'd let go of her if she would promise that she would tell no one of the incident. The girl agreed and jumped out.

Memorial Center Drive Entering Second Phase

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1971 Annual Campaign for funds has received $49,349 from 2,878 families to date. The drive is now entering its second phase in the endeavor to raise the $90,000 needed for maintenance beginning the new fiscal year August 1. It is hoped that a successful announcement can be made on Memorial Day, May 30.

To this end follow-up letters have been mailed to families of the five Grosse Pointes not yet heard from. The follow-up is a simple reminder that while response to the campaign has been most heartening the drive is still a long way from its goal and all gifts will be appreciated in whatever amount citizens feel the civic and community center deserves and they can afford. All gifts are income tax deductible and the Center uses none of the citizens taxes and provides a multitude of services and activities all of which are self-supporting. Only maintenance of the beautiful grounds and buildings which were gifts to the community is required.

Many Grosse Pointers have been out of town during spring vacation and it is hoped with income tax out of the way many people will return to their desks and use the postage-free envelope to send in their gift—a true investment in Grosse Pointes' worth and future.

Solons Elect Butler Farms Mayor Anew

Has Been in Post Since 1966; Dingeman Is Mayor-Pro-Tem

Three councilmen who were returned to their council seats by Farms voters at an election held on April 5, and a newcomer, were administered oaths of office by City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., in the absence of City Clerk Carroll Lock. Following the swearing-in ceremony, the solons got down to the business of electing a mayor and mayor-pro-tem, as required by the Farms City Charter.

Elected to his third term as mayor and head of the city council was William G. Butler, and retained as mayor-pro-tem was James H. Dingeman. They will serve in their posts for two years.

Butler has been mayor since 1966, following the resignation of William Connolly, and Dingeman was elected mayor-pro-tem in 1969, to succeed the late William G. Kirby, who died in August of that year.

Receive Most Votes
Butler and Dingeman were included in Monday's swearing-in. They received the highest number of votes, respectively, after the April 5 ballots were counted. The mayor's compensation is $900 a year, and that of a councilman is $600.

GPFPOA Counters Charges Of Farms Officials Who Fired Probationary Officer

Association Claims Patrolman Was Dismissed Because of Request for Overtime Pay While Attending Training School and for Union Activities

By James J. Njalm
Members of the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Officers Association who have filed an unfair labor practice complaint with the Michigan Labor Employment Commission, accusing city officials of discharging a probationary patrolman because of union activities have asked that their side of the dispute be printed in the NEWS. The GPFPOA said that last week's story did not present a complete picture of the controversy.

The issue is centered around the dismissal of Patrolman Kenneth Pine who, the Association feels, was fired from his job because he petitioned the city for a claim payment for wages due him for attending a police basic training course.

Pine filed a request in February in which he asked $100 and 141 paid hours off to compensate for the 161 hours of overtime spent at the school.

Turns In Equipment
The dismissed patrolman, who was appointed to the force on April 20, 1970, charged through the Association's attorney, Winston L. Livingston, and through the GPFPOA that he was notified that he would be discharged one day before his probationary period ended because of his demands. On Monday, April 19, Pine turned in his badge and sidearm and other equipment.

A hearing on the complaint is scheduled in the office of the Commission, Room 1700, in the Cadillac Square Building, Cadillac Square and Woodward, Detroit, Tuesday, April 27, at 10 a.m.

City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., and Police Chief Robert Ferber denied that Pine had been fired because of his request for compensation. They claimed that a probationary patrolman can be dismissed for any reason, and that Pine's services were terminated because of unsatisfactory completion of his probationary period.

Request Denied
Ferber said he denied Pine's request on March 8, after reviewing the demand, based on a waiver signed by the officer at the time of his appointment, in which the patrolman understood that the training was required of all probationary officers, and that he would receive no compensation.

The members of the GPFPOA contend that their organization is the sole bargaining agent, recognized by the Farms city officials, and this is so stipulated in a contract with the city. The Association charges that the city, in requiring Pine to sign the waiver, bypassed the bargaining section of the contract, in that city officials negotiated with one of its members, rather than through the Association.

Detroit's internationally acclaimed pianist Joann Freeman will be featured when the Grosse Pointe Symphony presents its final concert of this, its 18th season, Sunday, May 2. The program will be given at 3:30 o'clock in the Performing Arts Center of Grosse Pointe North High School.

City and Park Ask for Study

The City of Grosse Pointe Council on Monday, April 19, voted unanimously to approve a resolution requesting that the Citizens Research Council of Michigan be requested to update its 1958 feasibility report on the consolidation of the cities of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Farms and Grosse Pointe Park or any two of the three cities involved.

Citizens Research Council is a private, non-profit corporation which has served the people of Michigan for some 50 years. It collects facts, makes recommendations, formulates conclusions and offers alternate solutions for better and unbiased city government.

The City also requested a study of the financial savings that could possibly be realized by consolidating the various services provided by the individual cities such as rubbish collection, sewer cleaning and general city maintenance.

The Park Council approved the resolution on January 25 of this year.

Man Nabbed for Malicious Destruction Is TB Carrier

A prisoner who was being held in the Park's local jail cell for questioning and investigation of malicious destruction of property climbed to the top of the cell and either fell or threw himself to the floor, inflicting serious injuries to his head.

The prisoner, a 38-year-old West Virginian, was conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital by Park firemen in the emergency ambulance. At the hospital, a number of stitches were required to close several gashes in his scalp.

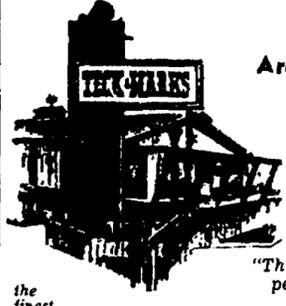

At the time of the man's arrest officers searched him and found a small container of medicine, the kind prescribed for persons with tuberculosis. At the hospital doctors, after tests, found the subject was a carrier of the infectious disease.

The discovery that the man has active TB was reported to the Wayne County Health Department. Health officials promptly ordered that he be transported to the Wayne County General Hospital for proper treatment, which is expected to continue for many months.

In addition, Health officials ordered that all firemen and policemen who had come in contact with the prisoner's blood, either by placing him on the stretcher, washing the stretcher sheets, or cleaning up the jail cell, take skin tests and x-rays periodically for the next six weeks. This is to determine if they had (Continued on Page 6)

Earth Day Observance

Following Dr. Stapo's keynote address there will be a panel discussion on "What Has or Is Being Done by Industry." Panelists include University Liggett parents Jack M. Cudlip, John W. Davis, Herbert Epstein, Jack A. Tompkins, James F. Premo and two students who were volunteer workers on the Hobart Street Project.

A picnic lunch emphasizing proper picnic techniques and clean-up is slated from 11:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Mark Carrier, Pointer and University of Detroit student, who was the force behind Grosse Pointe's Environmental Action Center, will then address the students.

Student workshops which include tree planting, writing letters to congressmen, building birdhouses and an outdoor cleanup, will conclude the day's activities.

The U-L Earth Day Program is under the direction of Mrs. Norman A. MacColl, chairman of the social service committee, and faculty members, Mrs. Carole Johnson and Duane Bondy.

Grosse Pointe Academy's Ecology Program has four aims: To provide an awareness of nature, to observe the role of man as part of nature, to observe how man depends on nature for survival and to examine man's uses of nature and what must be done to restore that which is used.

The Academy's program is a long-range science unit which began over a month ago. Seventh and eighth graders have been studying technology to observe man's dependence on it, and noted man's relationship to nature and the environment. They then prepared for a week-long live in, learn-in experience at Camp Ohivesa. This experience enabled them to have a closer look at nature away from the technology of the city.

It was a concentrated experience from which the students are currently drawing in preparation for a nature fair to be held within the next two weeks. These students will also provide assistance to the lower school and Montessori school in planting flowers and vegetables on the school site.

The sixth graders are currently working on a unit called "Life Through the Ages," where committees examine different eras and the development of life from the beginning to predictions for the future. Each presentation will show the forces of the time and its effect on life. In present time, pollution of resources due to technology is of prime concern. Alternatives for future solutions to the pollution problem will also be presented.

Academy fifth graders are concentrating on a water unit, "Uses and Pollution." They are also presently checking the Academy grounds for the best places and kinds of plants to plant. A speaker from a local garden club will address the youngsters and assist them in selecting the proper sites and plants. Tomorrow a formal ground breaking for the garden will be held.

A speaker from Consolidate Edison Company addressed the youngsters earlier in the week on what Edison is doing to control pollution.

Public School Projects Over at Trombly School, principal Frank J. Welcembach, told the NEWS that his students are concentrating their efforts on the earth around them. The school grounds have been levelled and seeded. Students will conduct cleanup campaigns in and around the school and there will be special "Earth Day" discussions and projects in all classrooms.

Other public elementary schools are conducting special Earth Day projects.

At Parcels Middle School social studies teacher Elaine K. Christensen's classes also have a continuing program. Students have painted flowers on all the trash cans in the building, and through a poster committee post new ecology posters every two weeks. They are currently framing a bulletin to send home to their parents explaining what the individual family can do to improve our environment. Each homeroom is serving as a bottle drop center, when enough bottles are collected they are then brought to one of our local drop off centers by students.

Other Middle Schools in the public school system have planned special discussions and programs for Thursday.

South High science teachers Clark Lawrence and Eugene Wigglesworth will use Thursday to have their students cleanup the school grounds. The school's ecology group, SCOPE, will have a formal tree planting ceremony after school replacing old trees and adding new ones.

North High School has programs planned in their science classes of special interest.

The whole of Pointe youth will observe "Earth Day" with the knowledge they have acquired through their intensive studies of the environment this past year.

Re-elected

Butler, Dingeman and Mast, by virtue of receiving the largest number of votes at the biennial spring election, will serve on the council for four years. Muirhead, who trailed fourth, will serve for two years.

Following the taking of the oaths, Mayor Butler proceeded with the appointment of a citizen representative and two council representatives, to both the General Employees Retirement System Commission and to the Policemen and Firemen Retirement System Commission, all to serve a one year term ending May 1972. The appointments were approved by the council.

The citizen representative for the General Employee Retirement System Commission is Jean F. Mesritz, and council representative, Mark C. Stevens and Muirhead, all re-appointed.

Citizen representative for the Policemen and Firemen Retirement System Commission is Earl I. Heenan, Jr., and council representatives are Stevens and Muirhead, all re-appointed.

The annual appointment of representatives to both commissions is required by City Charter.

Sleepy Driver Hits Light Pole

John Albert Verstraete, 6185 Lodewyck, Detroit, was charged with careless driving on Friday, April 18, after hitting an Edison pole at Notre Dame and Jefferson.

Verstraete and his passenger, Roberta Hlatky, 3876 Kensington, were traveling west on Jefferson when his car left the roadway, traveled 32 feet, hit the pole and dragged it some 47 feet after impact. Verstraete told officers Jim Cronin, Dave Teolis and Dale Van Dale that he had fallen asleep at the wheel.

(Continued from Page 1) As the driver pulled away, the victim turned around and tried to memorize the license plate number. Working on three letters and two numbers from the plate number, detectives investigated 100 possibilities and eventually narrowed it down to five cars.

In the meantime, the services of a Detroit police artist were obtained to draw a picture of the fugitive from a description to the man's dress, even down to the color of his socks, and distinctive characteristics of the interior of the car.

Detectives found the car belonging to Michniak and the features in plain view matched with the girl's account. Michniak, 26, denied having anything to do with the incident, but refused to submit to a lie detector test. After he was arrested and placed in a "line-up" the girl identified him immediately.

"This case illustrates a good object lesson," Woods Public Safety Director Donald Coats said. "This student was very fortunate that nothing serious happened to her. Students should never accept a ride with anyone unless they are absolutely sure they know the driver personally."

Miss Freeman, who began studying the piano in Detroit at the age of two, was a winner of a three-year fellowship at the Juilliard School of Music, where she subsequently took her Master's degree. She was also an honor graduate from Vassar at age 18, with a degree in Chemistry with premedical training.

Studied In New York
The accomplished artist studied in New York with Isidor Philipp, Carl Friedberg and Beveridge Webster at the Juilliard Graduate School, and later did postgraduate work with Friedberg.

In private life pianist Joann Freeman lives in Bloomfield Hills and is Mrs. Warren M. Shwayder, mother of four boys, Michael, Mark, Tor and Walter, all of whom are currently studying musical instruments with Detroit Symphony musicians.

Mr. Shwayder, professionally a Chemical Engineer, is also an accomplished pianist. Among the highlights in the Shwayder family are special occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries and holidays, at which they give their own concerts.

Pilots Own Plane
Besides her busy musical and family life, Miss Freeman is a licensed pilot who often flies to her own performances, piloting her own plane.

Established as a pianist of rare quality, taste and skill, she has received rave reviews since the beginning of her career. Detroit News Critic Josef Mossman has called her playing "crisp, brilliant and commanding."

The Christian Science Monitor reported of a concert Miss Freeman gave with Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops. "She astounded Symphony Hall patrons by raising the roof." A Washington Post critic commented, "Miss Freeman's most admirable gift is her forceful musical spirit. . . This was superb playing for which only the brightest compliments are fitting."

Orchestra Program
The orchestra program includes, in addition to the Mozart Piano Concerto, Slaxonic Dance No. 1 by Dvorak, Intermezzo from the Hary Janos Suite by Kodaly, Matinees Musicales by Britten, and Overture-Fantasy from Romeo and Juliet by Tchaikovsky.

Felix Resnick, of the Detroit Symphony, will conduct.

This is the final program in which concertmaster Harry Klein will appear, as he is joining the Philadelphia Orchestra next season.

The concert will be followed by a reception at which members of the Women's Committee for the Symphony will act as hostesses and the audience will have an opportunity to meet Miss Freeman, Mr. Resnick and members of the orchestra.

In last week's issue of the NEWS, Bremer and Ferber were quoted as praising the Association members for taking the matter before the MLEC, stating that this was the proper procedure in seeking a solution in the matter. The members were complimented for not going on strike to enforce their demands, to which the officers of the Association had this to say:

"We thank Mr. Bremer and Chief Ferber for their praise of our conduct, regarding the dismissal of Patrolman Pine. However, although we appreciate the compliment, we feel that the citizens of Grosse Pointe Farms are well aware of our feeling of responsibility to them and to our community. We will never, under any circumstances, withhold our services to them because of, we contend, an error by management."

The POA officials said that two other officers, Patrolmen Gerald Deburghraeve and Philip Miglio, neither of whom are probationaries, also filed for the time they had attended training school, but their requests were denied because they had signed waivers. The policemen filed a grievance with the Association.

At a formal meeting held with Chief Ferber, it was said, the chief stated that the city had a moral obligation to pay time — to all officers — and a figure of 80 hours was set for the three policemen. A week later, Chief Ferber rescinded this statement, stating that time cannot be given, and gave no reason, the Association charged, and a formal grievance was filed.

Two Withdraw Claims
Deburghraeve and Miglio for the present withdrew their claims, and Pine was warned by the chief that if he did not withdraw his claim, he would be fired.

The Association officers said that Pine, Livingston and Association representatives met with City Manager Bremer who, it was charged, asserted that the city is not required to pay Pine for his training time, and informed Pine that his services were terminated.

Pine, Livingston and POA representatives, on April 5, met with the police chief, who gave Pine his dismissal notice.

The attorney and the policemen in the office strongly assert that the chief said that Pine is "a damn good policeman," and that he would repeat this any where. This was later denied by the chief.

Under the contract with the Farms, the Association said, the city agreed that not only is the GPFPOA the sole and exclusive bargaining agent for the non-supervisory officers of the department, but also for probationary patrolmen, in any matter.

Further, it was stated, the city agreed under terms of the contract not to interfere with, discourage, restrain or coerce police officers because of their membership in the Association or any lawful activities in connection therewith.

The officials of the Association charged that there never was any question of Pine's ability as a police officer, and the notice to fire him was not issued until after Pine filed for the overtime.

Livingston said that this was the first case of its kind in Michigan. He charged that the Farms refused to compensate Pine because the officer signed the waiver, but it was his opinion that there can be no individual bargaining.

Tuxis Show Set April 29-May 1

The 1971 Tuxis Show, "Juris Prudence," is scheduled for production on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 29, 30, and May 1 at 8:15 o'clock, in Fries Auditorium.

Producer-Director Mrs. Don Cole (Berneil) is confident that this year's show will be one of the best that Tuxis has ever done.

"This is a new experience for me but it's very exciting and I think it will prove to be a rewarding and worthwhile venture for those involved as well as the audience."

This year the show will consist of several short plays and skits, both humorous and dramatic, focusing on the court system.

Act One includes such features as "Super Court," a comedy about a polyreligionist; "Anatomy of an American Tough Situation," a satire of Robert Traver's "Anatomy of a Murder"; "The Chicago Septet," a factual take-off on the Chicago Seven trial; and "The Nation," a play which should affect all Americans concerned with justice.

Acts Two and Three consist of a dramatic play entitled "The Case of Humanity vs. Pontius Pilate," which is described by Mrs. Cole as being "a reexamination of Pontius Pilate in his decision to crucify Jesus Christ and the effect that it holds for us today." The drama will feature a few selections from the hit rock-opera "Jesus Christ Superstar," to which a group of dancers will perform.

The show promises to have "something for everyone," according to stage manager Paul Calcaterra, whose persevering efforts in coordinating the cast and stage crew have resulted in an exceptionally entertaining evening of music, comedy, and drama for young and old alike.

Tickets for the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night performances are $1.50 and available at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, 882-5330, or by calling Mrs. David Howell, 881-5027.

Photography Workshop Set

The Workshop will take place out of doors and on location whenever possible.

Mr. Stross' students exhibit excited much attention and praise when on view at the War Memorial recently. In the forthcoming Workshop he will work with each individual in the context of each student's camera and equipment to obtain the best photographs possible.

Students are encouraged to bring all their own equipment and learn how to use it to the fullest advantage. The fee for the course is $18 for six weeks.

 traffic flow and building design, the city council turned down the request for a building permit after receiving petitions and hearing objections from Woods residents living nearby the proposed site.
 Foodmaker now says that the city "has a mandatory legal duty to issue a building permit and licenses where the applicant has complied with all the applicable ordinances and state laws."
 In an earlier letter to the council, attorney for the company Chester Kasiborski said that to withhold the right to build the structure for a legal use of the property while still imposing taxes on the land was "oppressive."

Articles Cited
 At the council meeting in which the solons voted down the request, residents showed the council several articles from a trade magazine stating that Jack-in-the-Box was having trouble with other municipalities around the country over building design and ecology, and that restaurants of a similar nature were having trouble implementing "financial discipline." The residents' contention was that there is a strong possibility that the restaurant may fail financially and have to sell out to a private operator who would have no obligation to the residents.

Other objections from the residents centered around a possible litter problem, the fact that Foodmaker has extended the hours during which the restaurant would be open three times since the building was first proposed, the extra traffic hazard to the local school children and the problem of crime prevention.

Police Head's Opinion
 Department of Public Safety Captain Henry Marchand had previously been asked to present a full report to the council asking for a judgment of the extra work load for his men.

"Due to the many police incidents that are directly generated by our restaurants that cater to the younger generation," Marchand stated, "our department spends two to three hours every night in preventive patrol and the policing of these eating establishments."
 "This daily policing amounts to several hundred man hours each year, man hours that seriously reduce the time available for the patrol and protection of the residential areas of the city."

"It only stands to reason that the more time an officer must spend on the special details, making out reports, and the necessary checking of the potential trouble spots on his beat, the less time the officer has to patrol the residential areas assigned to him."

"The addition of any business that tends to generate any appreciable amount of police activity will continue to reduce the already critical lack of time available for this patrol."

The residents have said that they would agree to the construction of the establishment if Foodmaker would agree not to sell the structure to any private party in the event that the business is not successful and if Foodmaker would hold monies in escrow to finance the demolition of the structure if it is not successful within five years.

Vandals Destroy Golf Club Tree

The motive for thievery is usually fairly apparent. Items are stolen for various reasons, some of which are the cash value of the goods, the purchase value in narcotics, or even the items themselves. Malicious destruction of property, however, profits no one and the motive explanation for the deeds remains in the realm of psychology.

No one profited and everyone lost when a 25-foot Pin Oak was senselessly cut down on the 10th fairway of the Lochmoor Club, 1018 Sunningdale.

Lochmoor officials reported the tree, 12 inches wide at its base, was destroyed some time between Monday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. and 7 the next morning. The tree-haters sawed the oak down at a mark three feet from the ground. The estimated value of the tree was $450.

Center Sponsors Bike Hike Rally

A car rally and bike hike is scheduled by Grosse Pointe War Memorial this Sunday afternoon, April 25, from noon to 8 p.m. The crowd—families, couples, dates and teens—will gather in the Center parking lot in their cars, bikes either in them or on them.

Participants should bring picnic lunches and liquid refreshments. The Center can arrange special bike or bike rack rentals as late as Saturday.

When the crowd gathers at the Center each carload will be given rally sheets to a mystery destination an hour distant, in Oakland County's hill and lake district.

These riders will take to their bikes and follow a treasure hunt circuit ending at a picnic shelter where prizes will be distributed, picnic lunches and refreshments devoured, games and a song fest enjoyed. Then the gang will head for home before sunset.

Registration covering rally sheets and prizes is $1 for individuals, $2 for whole families regardless of size.

City Firemen Douse Blaze

City of Grosse Pointe firemen worked for over an hour and 20 minutes on Sunday, April 18, extinguishing a fire that is suspected to have started from a short in the wiring of a vehicle parked in a three-car garage section of the Rivard and Jefferson terraces.

Firemen were swamped with telephone calls around 4:15 a.m. when a horn on one of the vehicles apparently shorted out and awakened terrace residences, who saw the blaze.

Arriving immediately at the scene, City firemen under the direction of Lieutenant Parnell D'Hooge discovered three cars and the three-car garage section all burning intensely.

The fire is believed to have started in the wiring system of a car belonging to the William Chesters, 279 Roosevelt, which was parked between the cars of Sarah Hepburn, 271 Roosevelt, and Charles Squiers, 17525 East Jefferson.

Fire Captain Robert Marshall told the NEWS that all three garage doors, the rafters and inner part of the roof were badly burned and charred and excessive damage sustained by all three vehicles.

He estimated the damage at anywhere between $5,000 and $10,000.

Luck sometimes works wonders and ability gets the credit.

BUICK BARGAIN DAYS ARE HERE

Buick Bargain Days are saving days.

A bargain price on a stripped-down car is no bargain. But a Buick or Opel at a bargain is something else again. Because we're not selling some special stripped-down model. We're selling Buicks and Opels, the same great cars we've sold all year.

With one difference. The deals have never been better. Which means that you can move out in a new Buick or Opel at a price that's hard to believe. When Buick talks about a bargain, we give you something to believe in.

Opel 1900 Sport Coupe. With a 1.9 liter engine that operates efficiently on low-lead or no-lead gasolines, hydraulic valve lifters for quiet engine operation, power front disc brakes and more.

LeSabre Custom. With AccuDrive, for exceptional handling even in extreme crosswinds, front power disc brakes, new evaporative emission control system and more.

Skylark Custom. With Buick's exclusive nickel-plated engine exhaust valves for smoother operation on today's cleaner fuels, Comfort-Flo ventilation system and more.

Your Buick-Opel dealer will give you better reasons to buy a new car now than anybody else.

The business of auto safety.

Auto safety is everyone's concern. But it's our business. And we think the attention that's being paid to auto safety now is a good thing. Because it will result in better driving for everyone. And, frankly, better driving for everyone means better business for us. We say Buick is something to believe in. That's why we're trying to make it easy to be safe by putting in safety features that work by themselves. You don't have to do anything to make them work. Like side guard beams. And the energy absorbing steering column. And the cargo guard between the trunk and back seat. They start "working" even before you get in the car. But two safety features, two of the most vital, are worthless unless you do something first. Seat and shoulder belts.

Unfastened they do nothing. And you've seen enough statistics to know what a difference they can make. So use them. But that's not all you can do. Because the most effective safety feature of all can't be added to our cars or anybody else's. That feature is you. And the way you drive. Which should be defensively. And rested. And sober. We're all in this together. And together we can solve the auto safety problem once and for all. And the time is now.

D'you Know That? By Paul Schweitzer

Most everyone is familiar with the "POSTMAN'S MOTO", but not many know of its origin. Do you know who wrote it?

"Neither sleet nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night shall stay these men from their appointed rounds"...

Did you know that this is a writing over 2000 years old? It's a quote from a history of wars between Greece and Persia written by Herodotus in the 4th Century B.C.

Today postmen carry the mails - but when you consider the safety of our streets - the valor of these men has little changed.

become infected with the TB virus.

Required to take the tests and x-rays are five firemen and six police officers.

The man was arrested at 10:09 p.m. on Tuesday, April 13, on complaint of Ken Lambert of 15021 East Jefferson, who phoned the authorities to complain that someone was smashing the glass of the door leading to his upstairs apartment. On arrival, police found the suspect still kicking at the door glass and arrested him.

The arresting officers said that when they searched the prisoner, they not only found the medicine, but also a bus ticket which showed that he had recently arrived in the Detroit area from West Virginia.

Police Lt. Henry Coonce said that the charge against the ailing man, a misdemeanor, will be dropped because of the fact that the man will be kept at Wayne County General Hospital for many months, undergoing treatment.

Woods Slates Bicycle Talks

The weather is warming and bicyclists are beginning to be seen on the streets of The Pointe. In a continuing effort to keep the accident rate in which bicycles are involved to a minimum, Woods police officers will again be making their rounds of the Woods Middle Schools for the annual bike inspection.

Each school will receive a talk in a general assembly by the officers, led by Patrolman Stephen Petrik, before the all-day inspection for one class at a time.

Included on the check list will be spokes, tires, hand grips and handle bars, pedals, brakes and the bike chain.

Children will also be instructed as to the city ordinances requiring all children under 12 to ride their bikes on the sidewalk and not on any street or alley; the consent of parents for those between 12 and 15 years old to ride in the street; and a free permit from the police department for those under 17 to ride after dark.

Woods officials are seriously concerned over the safety of bicycle riders this summer, especially the young ones. It is reported that 90 percent of bicycle accidents involve children under the age of 12 years.

Woods police will be giving their instructions and tips at Ferry School Friday, April 23; Monteith School Tuesday, April 27; and Mason School Friday, April 30. Schedules have yet to be set for Barnes School and Our Lady Star of the Sea School later in the month or early in May.

There will be a bonus in store for those bicyclists taking part in the inspection. Prizes including items such as horns, seats and new lights, all contributed by the Grosse Pointe Woods Lions Club, will be awarded.

Church to Hear Ecology Talks

Eugene Wigglesworth, natural science teacher at South High School and member of the Sierra Club, will speak on Sunday evening, April 25, at 8 o'clock, on aspects of ecology relevant to The Pointe area.

Dick Jackson, president of the St. Clair Shores Anti-Pollution League, also will be there to tell of his group's activities.

Coffee will be served after the meeting. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Camera Club Meets Tuesday

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet on Tuesday, April 27, at 8 o'clock, at the War Memorial.

There will be a demonstration on "How to Color Monochrome Prints" by Hal Packer.

Visitors are welcome.

School Board Names Auditors

In addition to approving the monthly accounts payable, at a special meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, on Monday, April 19, the trustees reappointed Arthur Young and Company to make the annual audit of the school system's financial records for 1971-72. Trustee Donald J. Semmler abstained.

The Board of Education also set 8 p.m. on Monday, May 24, as the time and date for opening bids for the sale of bonds on the $3,600,000 renovation program for South High School. The 20-year bond issue will be advertised in the Bond Buyer, the Michigan Investor and in the Grosse Pointe News.

Because the stage in the auditorium of South High School will be used to store library materials during the forthcoming renovation program, regular meetings of the Board of Education will no longer be held there.

Meetings scheduled for 8 p.m., May 10 and June 7, will take place in the auditorium of Parcels Middle School. Date of the final regular meeting of the year, normally scheduled for the second Monday in June, has been advanced a week because it conflicts with the date of the school trusteeship election.

It is expected that architectural plans for the South High renovation will be presented to the trustees for their approval at the May 10 meeting.

Antiques Show Begins Friday

A maple dropleaf table, a pair of brass candlesticks, or a five-football flaxing wheel, are but a few of the true early American antiques to be found at the Grosse Pointe Rotary Foundation's 16th Annual Antiques Show, set for Friday, April 23 through Sunday, April 25, at the War Memorial Center.

Two additional rooms of the old Alger House have been added to the Fries Auditorium of Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center to make this year's antiques show bigger and better than ever before, according to an announcement from Robert C. Harrison, Rotary Club president, and Richard M. Marr, antiques show chairman.

Proceeds of the annual Grosse Pointe Rotary Antiques Show Sale will enable Grosse Pointe Rotary Foundation to continue its support of many educational and benevolent projects.

Hours of the three-day Grosse Pointe Rotary Antiques Show are from 1 to 10 p.m. The public is invited.

Youth, Resident Both Surprised

Julie Willette, 670 Cook road, received an unexpected surprise Sunday, March 18, when she went out of the house to close the garage door for the night.

Stepping outside just before 8 p.m., she saw a figure standing in the garage entrance with a flashlight in his hand. The beam of the light, she told Woods police later, was pointed directly at a bicycle near the back of the garage.

Finding that he was discovered, the youth, described as a white male, about five feet, nine inches tall, with long hair and wearing a black leather jacket and a large black hat, bolted through the back yard.

Scuba Classes Starting May 3

Scuba enthusiasts have another chance to join a class sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Department of Community Services. Doug Ladore comes from across the Canadian border on Monday evenings to conduct these exciting classes. Sessions begin May 3. Certification by the National Association of Skin Diving Schools (NASDS) is only one of the benefits of the class.

Mr. Ladore and his professional staff from the Windsor based Argonauts Scuba Diving School, bring the highest level of authority and expertise to the six-week course which meets weekly for three-hour sessions. Every aspect of the sport is carefully and deliberately taught so that there can be full enjoyment with maximum safety.

This particular class is special in that it is being offered to swimmers as young as 14 years of age. The basic fee is $40 with additional costs for gear and texts.

Those who are interested should call the Department at 885-3808 or 885-7271 as soon as possible so that a reservation can be made and proper registration forms can be mailed. Advance registration for the Monday evening class, which will be held at Brownell Middle School, is necessary.

Plan every move — keep your thinking well ahead of your work.

North Students Will Compete

Four Grosse Pointe North High School students were nominated by adjudicators at the recent State Solo and Ensemble Festival as sufficiently outstanding to participate in the Ninth State-Wide Musical Talent Screening held at Interlochen. Approximately 80 students were chosen from the entire state to compete for ten positions on the program of the Youth Arts Festival set for Saturday, May 22, at Interlochen.

Grosse Pointe's four entrants are Ramon Lawrence, cello; Gail Van Gorp, flute; Frank Krager and Paul Sikorski, percussion.

Three other students were selected to perform in the All-Michigan Honors Band or Orchestra on the same program. They are Pam Harris, violin, and Lois Nyquist, clarinet, for the All-Michigan Honors Orchestra. Robert Englehart, clarinet, was chosen to perform in the All-Michigan Honors Band.

Wayne State University to Honor Dr. Seegers

Dr. Walter H. Seegers, chairman of Physiology and Pharmacology at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, will be awarded the Alumni Faculty Service Award at the annual WSU Alumni Reunion Saturday, April 24, in the Community Arts Building on campus.

Dr. Seegers, of 406 Barclay road, Grosse Pointe Farms, is world famous for his work in blood research. He also is the senior faculty member at the WSU School of Medicine.

Wayne State Alumni each year honors a faculty member whose professional or civic effort has brought a greater appreciation of the University's place in the community.

In his more than 30 years of research on blood clotting, Dr. Seegers has introduced substances which work as clotting agents for hemophilia patients and he has worked out a theory of blood coagulation mechanisms.

He has also done research on isolation of enzymes related to blood coagulation and pioneered research into clinical states called Disseminated Intravascular Coagulation.

Nearly 20 years ago, Dr. Seegers organized the first symposium on blood. The symposium now brings the most distinguished scientists in blood research to the Wayne State campus each year.

He has written more than 300 professional articles and six books. His work has won him numerous awards and honors in the United States and abroad, including an honorary membership on the medical faculty of the University of Chile.

Dr. Seegers was born in Westgate, Iowa, in 1910 and he received his B.A., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Iowa. He joined the Wayne State faculty in 1945 and has held the position of professor of Physiology and chairman of the departments of Physiology and Pharmacology since 1948.

Ticket information about the reunion may be obtained from the Wayne State Alumni House, 441 W. Ferry, Detroit, Mich. 48202, or by calling 577-2306.

Series Focuses On Bonhoeffer

"Stations on the Road to Freedom" is the title of a prose-poem written by Dietrich Bonhoeffer while he was imprisoned just before he was executed by the Nazis. This title is also the subject for a new series of lectures-discussions by Dr. Theodore A. Gill scheduled for May.

The lecture series, titled "Stations on the Road to Freedom: The Bonhoeffer Story," will consist of four presentations, to be given in The Pointe on Sunday evenings May 2, 9, 16 and 23, at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Specific topics taken from the four sections of Bonhoeffer's prose-poem are: May 2, Discipline: Getting Ready in the Twentieth Century; May 9, Action: Double Agent for the Resistance; May 16, Suffering: The Prison Life and Letters; and May 23, Death: Legacy for Us.

The MacMillan Press has just published Dr. Gill's book on Bonhoeffer entitled "Memo for a Movie: A Short Life of Dietrich Bonhoeffer." The movie version of the book should be in production within the course of the current year.

The series, however, is not biographical, but rather uses the life of Bonhoeffer as a frame within which to set a discussion of 20th Century Christian thought and expression.

Dr. Gill is the former president of San Francisco Theological Seminary in California and was formerly executive secretary of the Joint Commission on Higher Education for the World Council of Churches.

Currently he is Dean of the Detroit Center for Christian Studies, executive secretary of the Society for the Arts, Religion and Contemporary Culture, Inc., in New York City and serves also as editor-in-chief of the Master Sermons Service, a magazine which he began since coming to Detroit.

A distinguished theologian and preacher he stands at the forefront of Christian thinkers in our time. The public is cordially invited to attend his series of lectures. A small registration fee will be accepted at the first lecture.

She pulled her over at 70 Lake Shore. She had to be helped from the vehicle. A bottle of whiskey was found on the floor in the rear of the car. She was charged with reckless driving (drinking) and released on $25 bond pending her court appearance on Tuesday, April 27.

Goodwill Needs Usable Discards

Spring cleaning and Income Taxes seem to arrive about the same time each year. It's also a good time to think of helping the handicapped at the Goodwill Industries division of League For The Handicapped — Goodwill Industries, according to Russell G. Albrecht, executive director.

During the winter months collections of materials are usually well below the amount necessary to provide full employment and training opportunities for the men and women in the Goodwill rehabilitation program.

Weather conditions this past winter were especially severe, and as a consequence of the reduced supply of materials most of the Goodwill program has operated on a short-hour work week since the first of the year. Spring cleaning season makes it possible to replenish the stock of usable discards.

"We are especially in need of clothing, wood furniture and small appliances," Albrecht said. "We do want to stress the words usable and repairable, though, as items which cannot be repaired or used actually create a hardship for us."

Most items needed at Goodwill may be deposited in one of the more than 100 collection centers located on neighborhood shopping centers and supermarket parking lots.

There are certain tax advantages too, for the contributor of above average materials. Such gifts may be claimed as charitable deductions on income tax statements.

Goodwill Industries is a division of the United Rehabilitation Centers of League For The Handicapped — Goodwill Industries. The combined agencies annually serve some 5,000 handicapped clients each year. League-Goodwill is a Torch Drive Service.

U-L Boy Wins Leading Role

Ted Moniak, a 5th grader at University-Liggett School is set to play a leading role in Meadow Brook Theatre's next production, the Broadway and Hollywood hit, "A Thousand Clowns."

Ted was chosen by Meadow Brook Artistic Director Terence Kilburn to play the part of a precocious, wise-cracking eleven-year-old after dozens of boys from all over the metropolitan area had auditioned.

"This is really great," exclaims Ted, who has made special arrangements with his teachers at University-Liggett in order to attend the grueling, five-hour rehearsals.

"I've never met so many wonderful, nice people or had so much fun as I have here."

Ted is no stranger to show business. He played roles with Detroit's Group Theatre and his voice is known to thousands as a newsboy on a Detroit radio commercial.

"Ted is perfect for the role," says director Kilburn. "His whole approach is almost unbelievably professional for his age. He's alert and constantly suggesting ways to improve his performance. I cannot recall having seen a more impressive child actor."

Kilburn should know. He was one of the top child actors of all time, starring as Tiny Tim in the original Hollywood version of "A Christmas Carol" and later as the supporting lead in "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

"I would say," adds Kilburn, "that Ted definitely has a future in the theater."

"I know this is a great thrill for Teddy," says his mother, Mrs. Norma Moniak. "And quite frankly, it is for me, too. We're all very happy with Teddy's work both in school and in his extra-curricular activities."

"After all, how many young boys have a chance like this to work with professional actors and directors? It's a dream-come-true for Teddy."

Opening night at Meadow Brook is slated for Thursday, April 29. The play will run through Sunday, May 16. The cast and crew will then move to the Detroit Institute of Arts for a four day run, Wednesday, May 19, through Sunday, May 23.

For further information phone 377-2000.

New EAN Officers Take The Helm

The Environmental Action Now (EAN) executive board has elected Reverend Perry Porter of Grosse Pointe Christ Church as its first president. Other officers elected at their organization meeting held recently at the War Memorial were Mark Carrier, University of Detroit student, vice-president; Mary Lou Rybinski, North High School student, secretary and Mrs. Earl I. Heenan, Jr., who represents the Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs, as treasurer.

The other Executive Board members elected by a representative group of ecology-minded Grosse Pointers are Mrs. Gerald Warren, Al Glancy, Jr., Chester Petersen, William Huetteleman, and Brandon Rogers.

The organizational meeting of EAN was held a week after the organization was created by an assembly of some 150 Pointe citizens who acted upon recommendations made by an ad hoc committee established by the Grosse Pointe Beautification Council and the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council.

A constitution was adopted which, in part states:

"The objectives of this organization shall be to provide individuals and organizations a central authority which will support, encourage, supplement, and coordinate the efforts of those presently engaged in constructive ecological activity, and to also provide information, develop dialogue, and initiate services and action leading to improving the quality of our environment. Although the "ready for business" sign cannot yet be displayed, checks from the Environmental Center, the Rotary Club, the Beautification Council, and one Garden Club have been sent or pledged to the program. Board members will be working in the weeks to come toward implementing the dictates of the newly adopted constitution and the needs of the community.

Burglars Steal Beer Store Safe

After breaking into the Woods Beer Store, 20787 Mack, burglars made off with a 300 pound safe containing almost $1,000 in cash sometime during the night hours between Sunday, April 11, and Monday, April 12.

Woods police were first alerted to the burglary when Gary Lokus, 20, of 1992 Hawthorne, noticed that a wooden panel had been cut out of the overhead door at the rear of the building. Lokus had been walking the watchdog from Mack-Hawthorne Service down the alley behind the building just before 8 a.m. Monday.

Two Woods scout cars answered his call while the Shores sent one car in case the culprits were still inside.

Police found that the only thing missing was the safe that had been near the front of the building. The cash register containing $14 remained intact except for a set of keys belonging to a van truck used by the business. The keys were found in the truck's ignition.

Judging from the marks left on the floor of the building and the garage, Woods detectives ascertained that the thieves had apparently tried to use the store van to steal the safe.

When they found they couldn't start the vehicle, they dumped the safe off the truck and rolled it over to the back of the garage where they loaded it onto their own truck.

Terry Hogan picked up a loose puck at center ice and stick-handled between the defense for the score. The Mavericks evened the game temporarily until the Johnston-Hogan-Kydd line laid siege to the Maverick goal with a volley of shots until Jeff Johnston finally knocked in the winning goal while Jeff Kydd picked up the assist.

The airtight defense of Steve Olson, Dave Carron and Kevin Moore, backed up by flawless play of Goaler Cab Morris, held the lead for the balance of the game and a very big victory.

Two Policemen Win Promotion

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber announced the promotion of two officers, one to the rank of lieutenant, and the other to the newly created rank of corporal, effective as of Saturday, April 17.

Raised from sergeant to lieutenant was Ignatius Backman, Jr., and from patrolman to corporal, Otto B. Glanert. Both won their promotions through competitive examinations.

Backman succeeds Lt. Vernon Sylvester who retired on Friday, April 16, after 25 years with the Police Department, the last 15 of which he was second in command of the force. Since the resignation of Chief Jack F. Roh in July 1969, and until Chief Ferber came to the department in October 1970, Sylvester was the acting chief.

At its regular meeting held on Monday, April 19, the Farms council on recommendation of City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., approved a resolution, to be properly worded and framed, commending Sylvester for his service to the community.

Backman, 46, a life-long resident of the Farms, was appointed to the Farms force on January 1, 1947. He was elevated to the rank of sergeant on November 19, 1956.

He was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School in 1942. In March 1943, he enlisted in the United States Army, serving with the Combat Engineers Corps in Europe. He was honorably discharged in November 1945, with the rank of sergeant.

Backman is married to the former Patricia Sheehan of Detroit. They are the parents of nine children, Mrs. Michael (Susan) Kenyon, 22, of the Farms; Karen 19; Allen, 17; Timothy, 16; Barbara, 13; Michael, 10; Julie, 9; Andy, 8; and David, who is five years old.

Glanert, 37, was born and raised in the Pointe, and is a graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School.

He enlisted in the United States Army in 1954, and received his Basic Training at Camp Chafee, Ark., after which he was assigned to duty at Fort Jay in New York; he was reassigned for a year of duty in Germany with the 750th Tank Battalion, Fifth Infantry Division. He was honorably discharged with the rank of corporal in 1958.

He was appointed as a probationary patrolman in the Farms Department in June 1957. He is the holder of several departmental citations.

He is married to the former Elizabeth T. Turkal of Detroit. They have four children, Michael 12; Christopher, 10; Jacqueline, 8; and Patrick 5. The family now resides in St. Clair Shores.

Glanert plans to attend Macomb County Community College beginning with the fall semester this September.

UNDAUNTED THIEF

Prints Uncover Twin's Identity

A Detroit man, arrested by Park police and charged with a traffic violation on Tuesday, April 13, was found to be wanted on a warrant from the Wayne County Friend of the Court. The warrant charges the man with non-support.

The arresting officer, Patrolman Timothy Mink, said that he stopped a motorist for a traffic violation at Mack and Harvard at 9:35 a.m. and the man was unable to produce an operator's license. However the driver identified himself as Joseph E. Kratz, 44, of 1052 Drexel, the policeman stated.

Kratz was taken to the station for a clearance on his license. The information returned from the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing, over the teletype, revealed that Kratz's first name and initial were John E.

Fingerprints, checked by officers of the Detective Bureau, positively identified the man as John E. Kratz, 44, of the Detroit address.

Faced with this evidence, Kratz confessed that he gave the first name and initial of his twin brother, who resides with him, in an effort to get out of trouble.

A check of records showed that John E. was arrears in the amount of $7,000 for child support, and a warrant was issued for his arrest by the Friend of the Court.

Kratz was released to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, but not before he posted bond of $100 to guarantee his appearance in the Park Municipal Court on Wednesday, May 5, for not having a valid license on his person.

Youth Accused Of Vandalism

Farms police arrested Gregory D. Lousell, 17, of 1012 Three Mile drive, on Saturday, April 17, and charged him with malicious destruction of property. He is accused of racing a borrowed car over the greens of the Country Club of Detroit, 120 Country Club drive, causing considerable damage to the grounds and the auto.

A report submitted by Farms Patrolman Vincent Peters disclosed that he received a radio run at 1:11 a.m. to go to the CCD, on complaint of an unknown citizen. On arrival, the officer said, he searched the area and could find no one.

Approximately 10 minutes later, Peters was dispatched again to the club grounds, and this time he saw a car racing on the greens and fairways. The patrolman entered the course through the main service drive, and the other vehicle exited at Provencal road, where the car, driven by Lousell, was stopped by Shores policemen, Sgt. William Marshall and Patrolmen Harry Hamilton and John Trevillian.

The Shores officers assisted Peters in taking Lousell and six other boys in the car, all 17 years old, to the Farms station. The passengers were released without charge after questioning, but Lousell was charged with malicious destruction. The youth admitted driving the car.

Peters said that the vehicle, a 1971 Ford Pinto registered to Delphine Petz of 160 Touraine, was in a barely driveable condition.

The Farms patrolman said that in checking over the area of the CCD, he found that the 15th green had been damaged, as was also the bank of the 15th green at the rough, the 13th fairway, the 4th and 16th greens, and the fairway at the "T."

Officials of the club estimated damage to the grounds at about $500. The car was released to the owner who was notified of the damage to the vehicle, the amount not known.

Religion in Arts Festival Slated

The Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church will hold its fifth annual Religion in the Arts Festival Sunday, April 25, through Sunday, May 2. Subjects in previous years were Religious Paintings, Photography, Stained Glass and Bells and the Carillon.

The subject of this year's eight-day festival will be Symbolism in Religious Art and Architecture.

The Reverend Dr. Allan A. Zaun will deliver two sermons on the general theme of "Symbols of the Christian Faith." His subject April 25 will be "The Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit."

Following the service all in church will be invited to get acquainted "coffee hour" and to take either of two tours to examine the many symbols in wood, stone and pictures in the Sanctuary. Each of Christ's disciples has carried his own special symbol through centuries of art.

There will be displays and exhibits in the Church gymnasium throughout the Festival.

Wednesday evening, April 28, at 5:45 p.m. there will be a tour of the Sanctuary, followed at 6:30 p.m. by a dinner. Principal speaker will be Willis Woods, director of the Detroit Institute of Arts. His subject "Religious Symbolism in Art." His talk will be illustrated by slides. Reservations for the dinner and lecture on Wednesday night there will be a tour of the Church edifice other than the Sanctuary. The Parish House, Memorial Chapel and the Guild Rooms are rich with examples of religious symbolism.

Dr. Zaun's May 2 sermon will dwell on symbolism of "The Apostles and the Church." Following this service young guides will conduct a final tour of all parts of the Church except the Sanctuary. The exhibit in the gymnasium will also be open.

Under the direction of co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Paul Aird, 30 men and women serving on seven committees, have been working since last November to make this year's Festival a success.

This year for the first time the Sunday School will participate by making banners and embroidery showing symbols. And young people will serve as guides.

The Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church is located in East Jefferson avenue at Burns drive. It is suggested that visitors who plan to attend the Festival services or tour the Sanctuary bring opera or field glasses for a clearer view of some of the most interesting symbols.

LOIS HOOGSTRA, daughter of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM HOOGSTRA, of Anita avenue, is a new member of Sorosites social sorority at Hope College, where she is a freshman majoring in Art. Lois was graduated in 1970 from Grosse Pointe North High School.

Music Students Earn Honors

Grosse Pointe North High School musicians achieved an outstanding record, Saturday, March 27, at State Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association sponsored the festival, which was held at Flint Northwestern High School (where GPN students performed), Kellogg Community College, Battle Creek, and at Mount Pleasant High School. Participants performance either as soloists with piano accompaniment or in ensembles ranging in size from duets to octets.

Solo events are further divided into Proficiency levels. Proficiency sections of the State Solo and Ensemble Festival offer a further challenge to the high school instrumentalist. The three sections (I, II and III) are usually completed in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades, respectively. Completion of Proficiency III by a 12th grade student represents the highest level of individual accomplishment in the Solo and Ensemble Festival. A score of 85 (100 possible) is passing.

Proficiency III scores were given Ramon Lawrence, cello, 89; Gail Van Gorp, flute, 96; Paul Sikorski, percussion, 93; Lois Nyquist, clarinet, 92; Robert Engelhart, clarinet, 92; and Pamela Harris, violin, 90.

Proficiency II ratings went to Frank Krager, snare drum, 98; Frank Krager, marimba, 94; Richard Cochell, trombone, 88; Karen Near, snare drum, 81 and Elizabeth Ankeny, flute, 77.

Proficiency I scores were given Jill Munger, flute, 97; Michael Shannon, trumpet, 91; Nancy Sulfridge, clarinet, 90; Robert Ambrose, trombone, 90; Thomas Rener, tuba, 89; Clifford Carbury, contrabass clarinet, 86; Gregory Near, euphonium, 85; William Bentzen, clarinet, 85; Gail Schwinke, violin, 84; Susan Walker, clarinet, 83 and Karen Minturn, clarinet, 74.

North ensembles were also top-rated. Division I ratings were awarded to Stephen Shepherd, Nancy Sulfridge and William Bentzen, for their clarinet trio and the percussion sextet of Paul Sikorski, David Brown, David Wallace, Karen Near, Robert Engelhart, Thomas Rener, conducted by the composer, Frank Krager.

Also awarded a division I rating was the brass sextet, Michael Shannon and Ramon Lawrence, trumpets, Kathleen Wood, French horn, Richard Cochell, trombone, Robert Ambrose, euphonium and Donald Morath, tuba.

Woods Solons Clear Agenda

The Grosse Pointe Woods City Council received several communications at its regular council meeting Monday, April 19, asking for proclamations, authorization and acceptance of a resolution.

Grosse Pointe Post 303 of the American Legion was granted permission to sell poppies in the Woods Thursday, May 27, 1971, to commemorate veterans of the armed services.

The Woods solons declared Sunday, May 2, as Youth Baseball Day in the Woods in conjunction of the opening day festivities and parade of the Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League.

The council also agreed to proclaim the week beginning May 16 as National Insurance Women's Week in the Woods. The council was petitioned by a representative of the Insurance Women of Metropolitan Detroit, Inc.

The council accepted a resolution from the Township of Van Buren declaring that an act requiring binding arbitration in dispute between a municipality and its fire and police services has brought "financial chaos upon local government."

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools

On Monday, April 12, Governor Milliken sent to all legislators a statement entitled "Excellence in Education—Equity in Taxation" which has been widely publicized in the metropolitan area press in the last two weeks. What does the message mean to Grosse Pointe?

We shall not know exactly what the local impact will be—since the enabling legislation has yet to be written. Within the next two weeks approximately six to 10 bills designed to implement his message will be prepared. At the same time that the Republicans are working out a program, the Democrats will surely offer plans, as will other civic and education municipal groups.

In his statement, the Governor urges interested citizens to react to his proposal and to submit recommendations to him by July 1 for consideration along with his efforts. I feel certain that our staff and our community will wish to make suggestions. Therefore, during the upcoming weeks I shall comment on the potential local impact of the most important of the bills that will appear and indicate areas of concern by the staff and trustees.

Following is a summary of Governor Milliken's proposals:

1. A constitutional amendment to virtually eliminate the reliance upon property taxes as of the end of this year—as a source of school operating revenue and a compensating heavier reliance on other more equitable tax sources. The same amendment would reduce constitutional limits on property taxes so that the resultant relief could not be lost through increases in other property taxes.
2. A plan to raise substantially the amount of money available for education, while at the same time making sure that all spending for education is subjected to strict standards of accountability.
3. Provision for enabling local districts to enrich their programs beyond the level of state support.
4. A constitutional amendment to increase the accountability of the State Board of Education by changing it from an elective to an appointive body.
5. A plan to assure that all school districts cover the full range of kindergarten through twelfth grade.
6. Further consolidation of intermediate districts, with attendant increase of responsibility.
7. Additional funds for compensatory education based on the results of assessment of basic skills, which will implement the concept of accountability.
8. Continuation and improvement of education assessment, with the State Department of Education working closely with local districts for such improvement.
9. A timetable for adoption of a revenue distribution plan, which will include maximum opportunity for citizen involvement in planning.
10. Encouragement of the extended school year concept to make better use of teachers and facilities.
11. A teacher certification process that relies more heavily upon successful teaching.
12. Expansion of neighborhood education authorities to meet specific local needs.
13. Improved leadership and direction of vocational education.
14. More effective local control—with school boards and administrators, free of millage battles, able to devote their full attention to education.
15. Appointment of a Commission on Higher Education to begin immediately to plan for upgrading of educational opportunity in colleges and universities, as well as to produce a plan for effective coordination of all higher education institutions and programs.

Garden Council Plants Maples

The planting of varied species of trees along the shore and in the islands dividing Lake Shore road has become an annual tradition with the Grosse Pointe Garden Council, comprised of 17 Garden Clubs, all of which contribute toward the beautification of the road.

The Council on Thursday, April 15, added three Crimson King Norway Maples along the center strip. This species is noted for its rich, purplish-red uniform coloring throughout the season, and will add to the beauty of Lake Shore.

There are 130 trees growing along the shore and center strips, purchased and planted by the GPGC since 1964, with the cost of labor paid for by the Farms.

When the trees are in full foliage, motorists, pedestrians and residents living in Lake Shore road, are treated to the full visual beauty of hawthorns, maples (emerald Queens), locusts, Kwanzan Cherries and crabapples. Lake Shore is a county road and is maintained by the Wayne County Road Commission. Plantings are done with the consent of the Commission.

In March, Max Hilton, landscape architect for the Commission, spoke to the members of the Garden Council concerning future plantings. He disclosed that maintenance of the area and the salt splashed from the pavement by passing cars during the winter months are the main problems in plant survival.

Hilton pointed out that a more mature tree, although it would cost more, would stand a better chance of surviving the rigors of winter and salt.

Tomorrow, April 23, is Arbor Day. It is hoped that others in the Pointe community will follow the example of the GPGC and plant a new tree or shrub. It is important, not only for beautification but also because trees and shrubs manufacture oxygen for people to breathe.

Also, in compliance with Earth Week, April 18 through 24, many Garden Club members will be displaying bumper stickers purchased from the Ecology Center at Ann Arbor, bearing the legends "Give Earth a Chance," "Support Your Local Planet" or "The Pollution You Breathe May Be Your Own."

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

If there is one thing that our patrons do not tire of, it is the gothic novel. TIME magazine recently wrote an article about this, which I would like to share with you since we deal so immediately with this sort of book.

While this sort of suspenseful romance has experienced popularity especially during the past 10 years, one can also go back as far as JANE EYRE, WUTHERING HEIGHTS and a bit more recently, REBECCA. Actually, according to this article, the breakthrough book was Victoria Holt's MISTRESS OF MELLYN, published in 1960, selling a million copies.

This particular title reflects many of the attributes which belong to the formula for the gothic novel. One must have a young gentleman in reduced circumstances, who comes to a large mansion, (in most cases she is a governess). Cornwall seems to be a popular spot for the locale.

In MISTRESS OF MELLYN we find our female protagonist falling in love with the hero, whose wife's death has been both scandalous and mysterious. Martha, (the heroine), is shy but proud, and, to a certain extent, attractive. The hero is a true descendant of Mr. Rochester, a weary, arduous fellow.

And there must always be a castle, or the equivalent thereof. It is always vast, forbidding, holding secrets, walled-in rooms, secret chambers. The locale of Cornwall is fine, but one can also use Wales, Scotland, Ireland, as well as Greece, Austria and Lebanon; Victoria Holt will soon be using Australia for her setting. Phyllis Whitney claims that islands are ideal and cities are harder.

In examining some of the authors of these romances, one finds that most of them had lonely, sequestered childhoods which led to much fantasy. Mary Stewart is a vicar's daughter from Durham who sat down in 1950 with WUTHERING HEIGHTS in her head and some paper at her side, and began writing novels.

Phyllis Whitney was writing at an early age. She spent her childhood in Japanese and Philippine hotels. She claims she has no hobbies, hates housework, and prefers to spend her days in front of the typewriter.

Elizabeth Goudge has led a quiet life. The only child of a parson, she spent her youth in two English cathedral towns: Wells and Ely. She now lives happily in a tiny 17th century house in the Thames Valley, never married, and her recent CHILD FROM THE SEA is her 25th novel. At the age of 70, she claims it will be her last.

The only gothic author with a pseudonym is Victoria Holt; she is a London widow named Eleanor Hibbert. A most prolific writer, (with more than 100 books to her credit), she also writes under the name of Jean Plaidy. Nora Lofts lives in a Manderly-size house in Bury Saint Edmunds, is a grandmother at 66, and has had two happy marriages.

None of these authors seems to be prodigious, preferring working to spending. One almost gets the impression that their world of fantasy is quite sufficient for them.

The authors I've mentioned have become authors to reckon with; their books have usually been best sellers, and I'm sure that the paperback issues netted them a pretty penny. Another to be considered is Catherine Gaskin, and two still in the running are Jill Tattersall and Jane Aiken Hodge.

"According to Doubleday and Fawcett, the principal publishers, the readership for such romances consists mostly of women looking for non-electronic escape; teenagers, housewives, travelers and other solitary people. Literary reviews are rare and have little influence. What sells is the author's name on the jacket and the illustration showing a girl and a castle."

I'm sure you've all read some of these gothic romances, but here is a list of few of the most popular, just to refresh your memory and what your appetites: MARY STEWART'S CRYSTAL CAVE, IVY TREE, MOON-SPINNERS, AIRS ABOVE THE GROUND; Phyllis Whitney's WINTER PEOPLE, Jill Tattersall's LADY INGRAM'S ROOM, Victoria Holt's SHIVERING SANDS. There are others, to be sure — just come in and ask our librarians about them.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I wish to protest the boxed message of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council appearing in the NEWS on March 18. The message was headlined in large print "Whitney Young Killed by CIA," however the small print below went on to say that this is a rumor spreading in the black community.

The headline of course was a lie. The small print message should be proved, and the so-called black community defined as to area. What super method does this Pointe Council have that is so speedy in collecting this information?

Whitney Young was just buried and the message had to be on hand at the NEWS sooner than soon if they follow the rules as we must.

Their publicity is like an egg. Sometimes it is wholesome, sometimes it stinks and this is one of the latter times.

There are many who are trying to take steps forward in human relations but this type of propaganda takes us two steps backward for every step forward. What we need is fewer critics and more good examples.

The ending to the ad said, "Begin Today,"... I say, "Let's begin as of yesterday and really try to get some harmony going."

Sincerely,
 E. I. Herrick

Miles Replaces Odetta at Pops

The young American tenor John Miles will replace folk-singer Odetta as featured soloist at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's May 12 Cabaret "Pops" Concert.

Odetta had been scheduled to appear at the Cabaret Pops performances on May 12 and 13 but has cancelled both Detroit appearances as well as orchestral engagements elsewhere including dates with the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Miles, a winner of the National Negro Musicians Award and of several major competitions, makes his Detroit Symphony debut May 12 in a program entitled "America the Beautiful," conducted by Richard Hymn.

Miles will be heard in a group of spirituals as well as classical works.

Because of Odetta's withdrawal the Detroit Symphony has relinquished its own plans for a May 13 Cabaret Pops concert in order to participate in a special performance of "Jesus Christ Superstar" at Cobo Arena that same night.

April Unit Meetings of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe will consider the report of a League committee appointed to study the United States Congress.

Christ Church Boys To Sing

The Detroit Symphony conducted by Sixten Ehrling presents its last subscription concert of the season this Thursday and Saturday, April 22 and 24, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

The program includes Mozart's Symphony No. 40 in G minor, K. 550 and Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana" (Songs of Beuren) with soprano Sandra Darling, tenor Anastasios Vrenios, baritone Morley

Meredith, the Rackham Symphony Choir and the Boy Choir of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

Sandra Darling, who will be making her Detroit Symphony debut, has a wide range of solo engagements to her credit. She has appeared with the New York City Opera, the Santa Fe Opera Company and the Metropolitan Opera Studio.

Miss Darling is equally at home in light operatic roles, oratorios and works for symphony performance.

Anastasios Vrenios, also appearing with the Symphony for the first time, has sung with the Boston Symphony, the New Philharmonia of London and the Philadelphia Lyric Opera. He has recorded Meyerbeer's "Les Huguenots" with Joan Sutherland for London Records.

He has also toured with the American National Opera Company and has appeared at the Festival of Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy.

Morley Meredith last appeared with the Symphony in April, 1965. He is a leading baritone with the Metropolitan Opera and has appeared on the Broadway stage, most recently in a musical comedy opposite film star Maureen O'Hara.

He has frequently performed with the New York Philharmonic, the New York City Opera and the American Opera Society.

Tickets for these concerts at $6, $4.75, $4 and $3.50, ($3 and $2.50 Thursday only), are available at the Ford Auditorium Box Office, all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores.

VIEW OF A LOVELY HOUSE

From its seawall across a wide expanse of beautifully landscaped grounds (258'x400')

And the house affords a lovely view of the lake from its 2 story Living Room (23'3" x 40'), from its Dining Room (18'x28') its Solarium (21'x40') and Library (17'x26'). Constructed of solid masonry, this is an exquisite authentic English Manor designed and supervised by J. Ivan Dize, famous registered architect. It is in the pink of condition. Second floor accommodations include 4 main Bedrooms with 4 tiled Bathrooms, a Sitting Room with fireplace and a beautiful lake view plus a servants wing containing 4 Bedrooms with 2 1/2 Bathrooms. Ask for a copy of our floor plan. The third floor contains 2 more family Bedrooms each with its own Bath Room. Everything in this superb residence is the utmost in quality: paneling, fixtures, floors, windows, plumbing etc. There is a large conservatory with well-equipped accessory building. Beyond the seawall there is a breakwater and harbor equipped with electric hoist. The house is so located on the grounds that 100'x400 ft. could be sold off separately. We're a bit tired of the threadbare clause "gracious living" but that is what this house has to offer and at its best. Let us arrange an appointment. You'll like what you see.

At a candlelight services before members of their immediate families Saturday, April 17, in Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, Martha Trawick Court, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Court, of Barrington road, and William Francis Covill, Jr., exchanged marriage vows.

Yellow and muted orange flowers trimmed the bride's white silk Empire gown. Her bouquet of Sweetheart roses was ivy-accented.

She was attended by Marsha Werts, who wore a pale yellow silk frock and carried muted orange gerbers.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Reuben Hendrickson, of Gladwin, and William Covill, of Rochester, a s'ked Sheridan Roberts, of Royal Oak, to act as best man.

A reception at the bride's parents' home followed the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home in Birmingham.

Margery R. Dykema Concert Is May 2

Love for Great Music, a Great Cause and a Great Lady will bring scores of Grosse Pointers to the Detroit Institute of Arts Lecture Hall Sunday afternoon, May 2.

The Great Music will be provided by brilliant young violinist Richard Luby, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Luby, of East Jefferson avenue, who is coming in from New York where he is a teaching fellow at Juilliard.

The Great Cause is the Detroit Community Music School, whose board of trustees is sponsoring the concert to raise scholarship funds for gifted young musicians.

The Great Lady is the late Mrs. Raymond K. Dykema, the School's guiding spirit for 40 years, for whom this special program—the Margery R. Dykema Memorial Concert—is named.

Following the 3 o'clock concert sponsors and patrons are invited to an afterglow at the School in East Kirby street near the Art Institute.

Mr. Luby is donating his talents for the concert, making it a sort of "family project." His father is vice-president of the Community Music School's board and his mother serves on the advisory board. A former protégé of Mischa Mischakoff, Richard was graduated from Curtis Institute of Music and Juilliard, performed throughout Europe while studying in Paris on a Fulbright grant and has appeared with major orchestras as members of the Detroit Symphony—in the United States.

Mrs. Nathan B. Goodnow, a past-president of the Community Music School's board, is chairman of the concert. She and her husband plan a dinner party in their Handy road home following the afterglow.

Another post-concert dinner will be hosted by the Wendell C. Goddard, of Provençal road. Mr. Goddard is the current board president.

Mrs. William Y. Gard, of Dean lane, is afterglow chairman, with Mrs. Clayton C. Purdy, Jr. of Deming lane, as ticket chairman, and Mrs. William Later, of Hamilton court, in charge of mailings.

Pointers on the committee include Mrs. Sixten Ehrling, Mrs. William Dahling, Mrs. Goddard, Mrs. Charles Wright, III, Mrs. James E. Watkins, Mrs. Carl Grawn, Miss Anna Husband (the School's director), Mrs. Arnold Lungershausen, Mrs. Alfred Moran and Mrs. Richard Anslow.

Their efforts are in tribute to the late Margery Russell Dykema whose Detroit Community Music School involvement began at its roots: The music instruction started in 1926 at Tau Beta Settlement in Hamtramck.

Largely through Mrs. Dykema's energies and those of Mrs. Edsel B. Ford (honorary chairman of the School's board), the program spread to other neighborhood centers and finally was consolidated into one school. After its incorporation as Detroit Music Settlement School in 1961 Mrs. Dykema served as first president.

Today the School has more than 300 students from the entire metropolitan area and such outlying communities as Flint and Ann Arbor, and its name has been changed to Detroit Community Music School.

But growth has not changed the school's purpose: To provide outstanding musical instruction to all qualified students, regardless of their ability to pay. Fees are arranged on a sliding scale, with many students on scholarships.

Thus the School relies heavily on private donations for its existence.

Thus the great music for the Great Cause. Tickets for the Dykema Memorial Concert are available from committee members, at the school or at the door.

Sponsor tickets are $25 per couple, patron tickets $15 per couple. General admission is $4, student tickets, $2.

Cabin Crafts Makes the Carpet That Makes the Home is good taste a dangerous thing?

Maybe so . . . because some folks have our line pegged as purely decorative, not down-to-earth. They don't see the fact for the frou-frou. The fact is . . . Cabin Crafts stresses Beauty and the Basics. We have Wild Ones . . . and Safe Ones. Sensationals . . . and Staples like "National Velvet." Dartmouth Club Dinner Slated

Dr. John G. Kemeny, teaching president of 201-year-old Dartmouth College, will address the annual dinner of the Dartmouth Club of Detroit next Tuesday, April 27, in Southfield.

It will be President Kemeny's first appearance before Michigan alumni since his inauguration in March, 1970, as 13th head of the Ivy League institution.

The 7 o'clock dinner, preceded by a social hour, will be held at the Raleigh House. Nearly 300 Dartmouth alumni live in the Detroit area while nearly 80 young men from Michigan are among the 3,200 current undergraduates and 60 graduate students at Dartmouth.

Other dinner speakers will include Walter Maischoss '59, president of the Dartmouth Club of Detroit.

A duplicate of the Dartmouth system was recently installed at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., to provide the same computational services to the 4,200 midshipmen there.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. MARTIN J. FOLEY, OF RENAUD ROAD

By Janet Mueller

The Foleys' house is full. There are children (eight and dogs (two)) There are bronzes and bibelots and (and lately) beanbags, button boxes, yarn dolls and clusters, leather "hippie" bracelets, neckbands, fringed purses, belts and hair ornaments, candles, fringed flowers-and-candles, "Friarpower" pillows, felt roosters with clothespin mouths for holding notes-memos-laundry lists . . .

And that's not the half of it.

Bernadine Foley is chairman of the 1971 Austin Fiesta Handicraft and Boutique Booths.

For a year now, every Wednesday, ladies have driven up to the Foleys' house, arriving g, sandwich-in-hand, (Bernie's good for coffee), to WORK.

They came in mid-morning. They were gone by mid-afternoon.

Time to Go

Mothers must be home when the children come home from school.

They tidied up before they left, beautifully, leaving Bernie's house clean and calm and all-in-order.

And fuller. Today's Exodus. Today things go out, to the Austin Prep. School Gym, which will, this evening, be awash in bringer-inners, setter-uppers, decorators and displayers.

"Jamboree," Austin Fiesta 1971, opens tomorrow evening, Friday, April 23, at 7, continuing until 11; reopens Saturday, April 24, running from noon to 11; and concludes Sunday, April 25, when hours will be 1 to 8 o'clock.

Monday, the Foleys' house is their own again. Still, of course, full.

Six Girls, Two Boys

All the children are still home.

There's Mary Christine, just turned 20, a sculptress like her mother and a student at Arts and Crafts.

There's Sue, 19 next month, in the Elementary Teaching Intern Program at Macomb.

There's Martin, III, 16, the one (for now) at Austin. Like his father, young Martin's a farmer at heart.

There's Lou Anné, 15, at Star of the Sea High School, and Star of the Sea grade school students Kathy, 14, Mike—"my philosopher"—12 and 10-year-old Jill.

There's the Jeni, six, who goes to Barnes kindergarten.

A while ago, Bernie did a sculpture of the whole family. All 10 of them. The original stands on the Foleys' living room mantel, and there are eight more in the basement, one for each of the children when they marry and make their own homes.

You Never Know . . . It's a beautifully composed piece. With the merest suggestion of space to the right side . . .

"I left room, here, just in case I had another one."

There was a Minor Movement for including the dogs, Freckles (big) and Cricket (little—compared to Freckles). Bernie vetoed that.

Put in the dogs . . . Then what's to be done about the horses?

The day after school's out, it's Exodus. The Foleys move en masse out of Renaud road and up to the shores of Lake Huron, settling in for the season at their big old house near Lexington.

It's a barefoot, wet-bathing, suits-are-quite-all-right kind of place.

A Foley Kind of Place.

Their farm's right down the road, and that makes everything perfect.

The Compleat Farmer

The epitome of the successful businessman in the city, Mr. Foley becomes The Compleat Farmer back on the land.

As a matter of fact: The whole family turns pioneer! The year before last a Lexington neighbor, looking out a window, caught eight Foleys at work in the field throwing seed by hand, sowing timothy in the pasture for their seven horses.

"It's been," said the neighbor, "a hundred years since anyone's been seen around here planting like that!"

Bernie and her husband grew up on Detroit's East Side. "We were neighbors, but we didn't get together until I went away to school."

She's a Registered Nurse, graduate of Providence Hospital School of Nursing, and worked for an eye doctor before she was married.

She's an accomplished sculptress but was, admittedly, a little late in discovering her talent.

"I was having children one right after the other. I decided to try something . . . I had no formal training until three years ago, when I went to a studio . . ."

Art Runs In Family

The latent artist had begun to blossom well before that. She really couldn't help herself.

Art runs in Bernie's family. Her brother, Father William Davidson, originated the National Religious Art Show, designed to spotlight works of GOOD art with religious motifs.

He and Bernie, visiting another brother who works for Chrysler in England, spent hours on their knees in cathedrals and crypts, taking rubbings from tombstones.

Bernie's framed and hung two of those rubbings, one in the (Renaud road) living room and one in the dining room.

She's made a life-size statue of St. Anastasia for her brother's church in Troy.

Kaleidoscope Gallery

Her home is her gallery, a kaleidoscope of media (Bernie's worked in alabaster, quarried near Lexington . . . in clay . . . in bronze . . .)

and subjects (a young, strong St. Francis, kneeling to pick up a wounded bird . . . a pair of slim, soaring, elongated bronzes, earmarked for the Austin "Jamboree" — "I've given statues for three years now").

And her children's gallery. Art continues to run in Bernadine Davidson Foley's family.

"When the children were young, and I was working downstairs, in my messy basement, or at the kitchen table, it would have been impossible, too much trouble, to keep them away.

"So I'd just give them things and let them work too . . ."

In another manifestation, Bernie's bookkeeper for her husband. She's co-chairman of a Star of the Sea Altar Society Circle, a member of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts and St. John Hospital Fontbonne Auxiliary.

Decoupage, Anyone? She's taking up decoupage, studying under Louise Hoyt. She sings. She plays the piano. She sews. "With six girls, you really have to."

The girls, those who are old enough, sew too.

And, although Jeni will be going to Star of the Sea next year, Bernie is helping put together a Fine Arts Program at Barnes. "We'll start this spring."

She is NOT superwoman. It's just that ladies with full houses tend to lead full lives.

"When do I get an idea (for a piece of sculpture)? About 5:30 in the morning, when I first wake up. Same thing with housework . . . I decide early if I'm going to tackle a project, or I won't do it at all."

Wait until the house wakes up—and there's too much being going on to think about beginning.

Fiesta Veteran

Bernie's served on an Austin Fiesta committee every year since young Martin's been at the School. Last year, she was one of the general chairmen.

This year's general chairmen are Norma (Mrs. Richard R.) Burnham, Rita (Mrs. S. M.) Vermillion and Julie (Mrs. George A.) Seibert.

And there are chairmen for each of the many booths and departments, from New Articles to Lolly-Pop Trees, Kittens to Soda Bar to Baked Goods . . .

And volunteer corps under each chairman, women who've signed up to serve Saturday's special spaghetti dinner, Sunday's family-style roast beef plate; men who've agreed to supervise games.

The Fiesta is a joint project of Austin Mothers' and Dads' Clubs. It's admission-free, open to all.

"These," says Bernie Foley, rummaging through boxes and bags in her "messy" basement, finding a group of little-girl purses that turn, turned inside out, into doll cradles, complete with dolls—"These are terrific! I DID want you to see these!"—and, in passing, passing by shell-and-rock tabletop sculptures, a collection of yardstick covers, "Raggedy Ann" and "Mickey Mouse" bulletin board-wall hanging-wastebasket sets, "are things I enjoy doing."

Bouquets All Around

"It hasn't been hard . . . Mary Ann Dype (Boutique and Handicraft co-chairman) has been really fabulous! So has Laura Ling (the other co-chairman).

"So have all the lovely ladies who come on Wednesdays . . . and the women who couldn't come out but called to say they'd work at home."

Jamboree's Boutique and Handicraft Booths are already in the black, thanks to a Christmas Sale. "We made over $700."

The Sale was held at the Foleys' where, for once, things went out instead of coming in. Today's Second Fiesta Exodus.

But don't FOR ONE MINUTE imagine Bernie Foley as mistress, tonight, of an empty house.

There are children (eight) and dogs (two).

You could cart off every last bronze, remove every single bibelot . . .

Bernie'd make some more. You could take out the furniture . . .

"AFS ON Stage"

About the American Field Service Benefit Luncheon featuring "AFS On Stage," talented students from many countries who are living and studying this year in Michigan under AFS exchange program auspices . . .

It's planned for Tuesday, May 4, in the Armenian Cultural Center, Southfield. It's sponsored by AFS' Detroit Metropolitan Board which numbers among its active members Mrs. J. V. Jenks, of University place, district representatives, and Mrs. Tom Killefer, of Provenal road, district coordinator.

This year there are 34 AFS'ers representing 23 countries in 23 metropolitan area schools. At Grosse Pointe North High is Enrique Munoz, from Argentina, residing with the Glenn E. Moore family; at Grosse Pointe South, Joy Fish, from South Africa, with the Kenneth L. McCoy family.

University-Liggett School is sponsoring Matilde Jaramillo, from Colombia, member of the Frederick Keydel family, and Rosaline Baume, from France, with the Frederick Schelter family.

Matilde will team up for the talent show with Selma Gedikli, from Turkey, Dannielle Poeck, from Luxembourg, and Gillian Hicks, from England, to sing the AFS song "Ready To Go Home," using the tune "Jet Plane."

Rosaline will join Trui Calliauw, from Belgium, and Phillipa Coates from New Zealand, for a rendition of "Little Drummer Boy." She and Phillipa also will be featured in a dialogue, "Year in the USA."
