Greatest American Holiday

(Continued from Page 1) side the city tavern where the diners had assembled, fired continual volleys. Following the dinner there was a parade of soldiers in the city.

Adams expressed his surprise that in the evening when he took a walk he found the whole city lighting up candles at the windows. He said he walked most of the evening and thought it was the most splendid illumination he ever saw, and considering the lateness of the design and suddenness of the execution he was amazed at the universal joy and alacrity that was discovered and the brilliancy and splendor of every part of this joyful exhibition.

The celebration of the Fourth of July gradually spread throughout the country and into the new states and territories as they were admitted to the Union or as they were created, until the day became a holiday in every state and territory.

Use of Fireworks
The use of fireworks in the celebration of the anniversary became general in the course of years. The day was filled with the noise of their explosions from early morning until late at night and many persons inexperienced in handling them were killed or injured.

The number became so great that early in the present century the Chicago Tribune began to collect the statistics every year and to demand that a safer way of celebration be devised. As the result of the early years of its campaign the loss of life fell from 466 in 1903 to 215 in 1909 but about 5,000 persons were injured by fireworks.

In 1903 Springfield, Mass., forbade the sale of fireworks and arranged a quiet and orderly observance of the day. As a result there were no fires and no injuries. In the intervening years many cities have followed the example of Springfield and have forbidden the sale of fireworks and such displays as have been allowed have been arranged by responsible organizations and in charge of men who understand the danger. Today fireworks can be purchased in only a handful of states.

Today, as in the past, the day is celebrated with oratory, picnicking, and massive fireworks.

This Fourth of July more than ever before Americans should take a few brief moments from their celebration to remember just what the day represents!

(Excerpt from The American Book of Days and Anniversaries and Holidays.)

Robbery

A few more minutes of searching went by, before the light in the bathroom suddenly went on and the bandits pulled the vanity drawers out and threw them on the floor. They then ransacked to front room, a guest room, and an extra bedroom before all became quiet.

After 10 minutes of silence, Mrs. Barbieri managed to crawl out of the bathroom and into the master bedroom where she tried to manipulate the telephone dial. Unknown to her, the phone lines had been cut outside of the home.

Unable to work the telephone, she did manage to break the adhesive tape on her ankles. In the kitchen, she tried to cut the tape on her wrists, to no avail.

Going to the front door, Mrs. Barbieri unlocked the bolt with her teeth and ran across the street for help. The entire ordeal lasted for 45 minutes to an hour.

The bandits, one described as a white male, five feet, eight inches, 170 pounds, and the other as a white male, about five feet, six inches tall, made their escape with $14,000 in jewelry and between $200 and $300 in cash.

Investigating the armed robbery, police found that several neighbors had observed suspicious activities that evening and in the days just prior to the incident. Woods detectives report the investigation is still under way.

Sports Center Planned

(Continued from Page 1) churches, civic groups and private clubs, a great deal of emphasis will be placed on affording the youngsters of the Grosse Pointe community an opportunity to participate in well organized and supervised activities during the long winter months, according to the Committee. It is their firm conviction that such activities are not only beneficial to Pointe youngsters but to the community as a whole, since it will keep the young people involved in very worthwhile endeavors right at an age when many of them might easily follow pursuits that are much less acceptable to their well being as well as to the community as a whole.

Drive Starts August 1
The community-wide fund raising campaign is expected to get underway officially August 1. The Steering Committee indicates that the objective and slogan will be "an every resident campaign" and they are sincerely hopeful that Pointe residents will agree with them that this is a very desperately needed facility and will respond accordingly. All contributions, they stress, are completely tax deductible since the Association is a non-profit corporation and qualifies as a charitable organization.

Upon completion of the Center, the entire operation is planned to be completely self-supporting and no additional donations required to maintain its operation, according to G.P.H.A. sources. It is a well known fact that practically all suburban communities in the Detroit area have such facilities and all operate to full capacity. In fact, the committee states, there is a tremendous shortage of available ice time and Pointe youngsters are forced to travel great distances in order to participate in indoor ice skating activities.

Support Promised
During the past two years the Steering Committee has been engaged in contacting the various city councils as well as the Grosse Pointe Board of Education in an attempt to find land available within the Pointes for such a center. Unfortunately, states McLaren, such land was not found to be available. However, he continues, a majority of the local governmental bodies concurred overwhelmingly that such a facility is needed.

Libraries Feel Money Shortage

During the 1971-72 school year, the public libraries will be open only five days a week. From July 2 until September 4, Central Library will be open Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and closed Saturday.

The schedule from September 7, 1971 through May 31, 1972 calls for the Central Library to be open five days a week also, but which day of the week it will be closed has not yet been determined.

Branch libraries will remain on their present schedule, Monday through Thursday 12:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., closed Saturday.

Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries, reports that this reduction in service, mandated by a drastically slashed budget, is the first such cutback at the Central Library since the completion of the present facilities in January, 1953.

Defer Sentence Of Sex Offender

Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell accepted a plea of guilty from a 23-year-old married Farms resident, name still withheld because of the citizen's psychiatric condition, who was arrested by Farms police on June 10. The man was charged with indecent exposure and immoral conduct.

The accused man's trial was held on Wednesday, June 16. Judge Pytell deferred sentence until he receives a full psychiatric report on the man's mental condition.

The Farms authorities had received a number of complaints regarding the actions of a male answering the description of the suspect, all such actions taking place within the vicinity of Grosse Pointe South High School, between 8:15 a.m. and 8:30 a.m., almost daily since May 10.

Shortly after 12 p.m. of June 10, Det. Joseph Miller and Patrolman Earl Field, who is working the Plainclothes Detail, were cruising slowly south on Fisher, and were passing the off-street parking area, just as a 18-year-old girl was walking past a copper colored car.

The girl, walking on the sidewalk, which was slightly higher than parking area, looked down into the parked vehicle. Her frightened and startled expression alerted the officers.

Miller, sitting on the passenger side of the scout car, raised himself slightly and witnessed the man's actions. The suspect was taken completely by surprise when the policemen approached and placed him under arrest.

Will Homes Not Air Conditioned Be Out Of Date In Few Years?

by ROBERT A. "Doc" WILLIAMS

Remember in the 20's and 30's when quite a few theaters had signs outside during the summer proclaiming "20 degrees cooler inside." That was for most of us, our first taste of air conditioning. Since then a taste has become a big bite.

About 10 percent of the homes built in 1959 were completely air conditioned at the time of construction. The figure is even higher in 1964; and the trend toward air conditioning of the family home has become so strong that the FHA, in a directive to its field offices, stated "Within a few years, any house that is not air conditioned will probably be obsolete so FHA should start encouraging the inclusion of air conditioning."

We at Williams Refrigeration and Heating have found that quite a few Grosse Pointes want central air conditioning for their homes, but have held back for some reason or the other. Many have had a taste of air conditioning through one or several window units, but realize that just a few rooms isn't really air conditioning . . . it's more like room conditioning.

With Carrier central air conditioning, however, you get whole house air conditioning . . . cool, dehumidified air for every room in the house. And, it's now priced lower than ever. While other home products have gone up in price, Carrier central air conditioning has come down.

By buying a Carrier system from Williams you're assured of getting the right size equipment, and equipment that is custom-fitted to your home. We offer you a free survey of your home which carefully calculates just what size equipment you will need and what size distribution system is necessary.

This is obtained by analyzing the type of construction of your home, the amount of insulation, shading devices such as roof overhangs and similar factors. We obtain or make a floor plan. From this we calculate the amount of equipment needed on a room-by-room basis in order to plan the duct size and design necessary to supply each room with its proper quantity of conditioned air.

Sound complicated? It is; and that's why we're considered experts in air conditioning existing homes. You're assured of complete cooling comfort when you buy a quality system from Williams.

Why not call TU 6-4848 for that free survey of your home today? There's absolutely no obligation.

For a FREE SURVEY of your home, or information about Carrier central air conditioning, call "Doc" Williams at Williams Refrigeration & Heating at TU 6-4848 — 14711 Harper Ave.

A young boy had his bicycle stolen from The Park. His mother took him into Detroit to purchase another one. After they had made their selection, she told her son to ride the bicycle to The Park Police Station and pick up a license. She then left in her car. The proud young owner of the new bike had just five minutes on the bike before he was jumped by three teenage boys who knocked him to the ground and made off with his cycle.

These are but two of the many stories of youngsters victimized by bold and quick bicycle thieves.

All Pointe police ask parents to remind youngsters to never leave their bikes unlocked and unattended, especially in busy shopping districts. They also suggest that you lock your bicycle to an immovable object such as a sign, porch railing or tree (often locked bikes get picked up, tossed in a car trunk and stolen).

Bicycle safety, or lack of it, has been the subject of many complaints to local police. No community makes more of an effort to apprise its youngsters of bicycle safety laws than The Pointes. Each of The Pointes has a safety officer who lectures in the schools on safe cycling practices.

According to Sgt. Blair, most of the children are well aware of safe cycling laws but many adults, who have recently taken up the use of bicycles, do not practice these same rules.

According to Sgt. Blair basically the rules for riding bicycles are the same as for operating a motor vehicle—stopping for traffic signals and stop signs, etc. Cyclists are required by law to travel as close to the right hand curb as possible. Sgt. Blair stresses that children under 12 years of age are prohibited by ordinance to ride in the street. Ordinances also prohibit the double rider unless a seat is provided as a tandem. He said many adults and youngsters violate these rules creating danger for both motorists and cyclists.

Many residents have complained about bike riders traveling at night without lights. (See this week's Letters-to-the-Editor column). According to city ordinances no bike riders are permitted to operate their vehicles at night unless they have a white light in the front and a reflector in the back of the bike. Traffic safety rules also suggest that riders wear white or other light colored clothing when riding at night.

Sgt. Blair asks citizens to assist the police in enforcing bike safety laws by reminding those violators they see that they are committing infractions. He added that the bicycle accident rate will rise unless local citizens cooperate.

Most local police stations have copies of bicycle safety laws just for the asking. Check with your station if you are not sure just what the rules are. It may save a life.

charging one dollar per house. They added that the numerals would help visitors to the homes at night, would facilitate delivery services to the residences and would even help in an emergency when an ambulance might be needed.

"Our purpose is to help the city as well as ourselves," the two stated to the council, "in a time when jobs are so difficult to find."

Members of the city council were gratified to see two of their young residents undertake a constructive and enterprising activity and voted unanimously to issue licenses to the pair to solicit.

As it turns out, the license fees have stifled their efforts. The cost of the filing and paperwork for each license is $20. That means forty houses to break even, not counting the paint and materials.

The boys say they may still go through with it, but they're not sure whether or not the demand in the city would be that great to invest the money in permits. So the situation looks as dark as ever and the search for employment still goes on.

Seek Molester Of Young Girls
A man who attempted to molest two young girls at Mack and Calvin, is being sought by Farms police, and anyone who may have information that would lead to the arrest of the suspect is asked to contact the Farms authorities either in person, or by phone, TUxedo 5-2100. The incident took place on Thursday, June 24, at about 8:12 p.m.
The suspect is described as being white, between 17 and 20 years old, about six feet tall, weighing about 130 pounds, thin build, medium complexion with a slight trace of acne on the face and has short unkempt hair. He was wearing a blue "T" shirt with a two-inch wide white stripe and blue, straight-legged jeans with holes at the knees. He was also wearing horn-rimmed clear glasses.
The girls, one 12 years old and the other 13 years old, were waiting for the suspect to leave a phone booth, and when he emerged, the 12-year-old went into the booth, apparently to make a call. It seemed that her call was incomplete and when she came out, the man, who was watching her, grabbed her about the waist. The girl screamed and demanded to be left alone. She broke free and she and her companion fled to Rand's Drug Store, 19404 Mack, where they informed Michael Rand of what had taken place.
Rand told the girls to walk home and he would keep an eye on them until they safely got there. He told police that the man was standing in front of his store, but when he returned, the suspect was gone.
The 13-year-old reported the incident to her father, who with his daughter and her friend, returned to the area. The suspect was standing at the corner of Mack and Calvin, and the girls pointed him out to the parent, who called to the man to remain where he was, that he wanted to talk to him.
The alleged molester ran east on Mack, across Kerby road, down Kerby road, and then through Kerby Field, the older girl's father in pursuit, but the man made good his escape.

Many citizenship and service awards were presented to students who have participated in volunteer programs for service organizations and in the elementary schools' tutoring programs.
Recognition was also given for excellence in football, basketball, swimming, tennis, baseball and track. Girl Athletic Association members also received awards.
Newly-elected class and student association officers for 1971-72 were installed. New SA officers include president, Mark Kennedy; Patty Hobin, secretary; and Lyn Dolson, treasurer. Jeff Montgomery, this year's SA president, received the Rotary Club's service award watch.

Offer Programs On Vital Issues
Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee, has scheduled a series of Sunday programs at 10:30 a.m. dealing with the vital issues of the day, according to Ruben van Leeuwen, church president.
On Sunday, July 4, the church will present a program based on current attitudes towards the Vietnam War. Featured will be a film, "You Don't Have To Buy War, Mrs. Smith," with Bess Meyerson Grant, and a talk by Mrs. Virginia Warner, "My Son Is A P.O.W." Sunday, July 11, will feature a program entitled: "Caution: Television May Be Hazardous To Your Health", a presentation by Raymond P. Unks, director of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice. The program will deal with television's effect on our culture, who owns commercial

Bicycle Thieves Caught in Woods
An alternate chase and lookout for two boys who were seen stealing bicycles in the Woods Sunday, June 20, finally snared a pair of suspects 20 minutes later.
Robert Nash, 17, 548 Beniteau, Detroit; and John Gregg, 17, 2508 Conner, Detroit, were picked up by Woods police about 8:30 p.m. after police received a report of two boys matching the description of the fugitives, walking south on Cook road.
The chase first began when Mrs. Doris Van Lerberghe, 760 Fairford, called police to report that her husband was chasing two boys who had taken bikes from the garage. A few minutes later Patrolman John Albrecht spotted the boys jumping the fence on Cook road, leaving the bicycles by the sidewalk, and running across the Protestant Children's Home property.
Police lost track of the boys until about 10 minutes later when Nash and Gregg were seen on Cook road. Both were taken into custody on suspicion of this crime and were released on $50 bond.

Portrait of the Suburban Child
(First of a Series)
"THE CHILD OF SUBURBIA" is likely to be a materialist and somewhat of a hypocrite. In addition, he tends to be a striver in school, a conformist, and above all a believer in being "nice" polite, clean and tidy. Besides dividing humanity into the black and the white, the Jew and the Christian, the rich and the poor, he also is apt to classify people as "smart" or "dumb", "clean" or "dirty", and "nice" or "not nice." What is more, he is often conspicuously self-centered.
In all these respects, the suburban child patterns his attitudes and goals chiefly after those of his parents. But he can never be sure that he won't fall short of their hopes for him... he is therefore likely to be an anxious child. Our study as well as other inquiries indicated clearly that to grow up in an American suburb today is not a wholly enviable lot.
There is a good deal of evidence to suggest that academic striving, conformism self-centeredness, the urge for cleanliness and order, and related traits have a bearing on how children feel about persons different from themselves.
From the short-changed children of suburbia.

Do you want to believe in God?

You can. Not just because of what someone says about God. But because of what you yourself can learn and prove about divine Love.

Like the woman who was instantly freed by an assailant one night — when she turned to God in prayer. Or the entertainer whose back was healed through prayer after he was told he couldn't walk without surgery.

These individuals found that divine Love meets even the most challenging human needs. . . that powerful spiritual laws are available for anyone to use.

You can learn more of these laws by reading this week's Bible Lesson.

Firemen Free Child from Pipe

Park firemen were recently called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Carrico, 1154 Beaconsfield, when the daughter of the couple, Jennifer, 2, got her right leg caught in the drain pipe in the backyard of the family property.

The firemen did everything they could, including greasing the inside of the soil pipe, which was sticking out of the ground. Somehow, the tot removed the pipe lid, and slid her leg down, up to the knee. As a last resort, the firefighters were forced to dig two feet into the ground until they came to an elbow in the pipe, which they broke loose. Then one fireman was able to reach through and free the child's foot.

All in a day's work for the members of the Fire Department.

Youth Charged As Hit-Runner

A 16-year-old juvenile was charged with leaving the scene of a property damage accident and driving without a valid license on Sunday, June 27, by Grosse Pointe City police.

On that date, at 5:15 p.m., the youth, according to three eye-witnesses, came around the corner on Lakeland near Mack at a high rate of speed and struck an unoccupied car parked at 861 Lakeland. The youth then fled the scene but only reached Mack avenue when the car, which was excessively damaged in the accident, stopped dead.

The car the youth hit belonged to Sara Gillette Hughes, of Ann Arbor. It also sustained excessive damage.

Police said skid marks were found some 133 feet prior to impact.

The youth will appear in Juvenile Court on these charges.

Things are seldom what they seem.

Big cars often pose as big cars, when they're really small cars.

For instance, notice how much bigger the big car seems than the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan. Then count the number of suitcases it can take on; only 12.

Now, notice how small the Squareback seems to be. Then count the number of suitcases it can take on; 16.

That's because the Squareback has 32.8 cubic feet of carrying space. Which is one and a half times as much as that of the largest sedan trunk.

Of course, if you really have a lot to carry you can always fold down the Squareback's rear seat. Then you'll have more than twice as much carrying space as the largest sedan trunk.

So which would you rather have—a sedan that looks like a big bully but really is a 12-suitcase weakling?

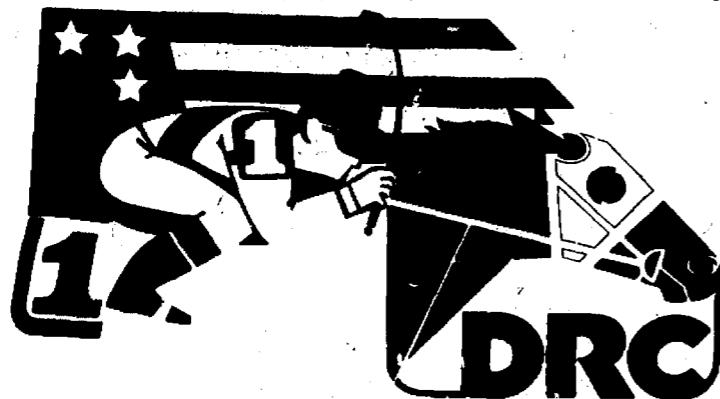

Or a little fella who's really a 16-suitcase giant?

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

It's the Age of Ecology, and among the more fascinating environmental facts-about-Grosse-Pointe to come our way is this: The City Park at the foot of Three Mile drive presently has a wider variety of wild birds than the entire White House grounds.

The Eco Club of Grosse Pointe Park thinks that's just grand.

The Eco Club is a group of young people in the Park area interested in ecology and nature. Specifically, right now, interested in those lovely wild birds at the foot of Three Mile drive.

So, to raise money to provide food and shelter for the ever-growing winged population, the Eco Club is sponsoring a Jumble Sale tomorrow, Friday, July 2, from noon until 5 o'clock at 865 Barrington road.

A lovely old Victorian silver teapot is one of the Sale wares. Available too will be old glass and china, old nautical prints, books, toys and household items and—remember, this is the ECO Club—exotic bulbs, flowers and seeds.

Leah Ender is Eco Club president. Vice-president is Melissa Treusch, Linda Templeton is secretary and Amy Dunn is treasurer.

Trees To Paper To Trees

It's the Age of Ecology, and it's a Young Age. In April, Mrs. Mercedes Jacobs' Mason School fifth graders thought it would be interesting to learn how their government worked. So the boys and girls organized a Senate in their classroom.

Among their Senate Committees was one on Ecology.

And Senate Bill I stated that Room 219 would sponsor a paper drive to save trees.

The bill was introduced, passed and signed into law by Mason Principal William A. Mestdagh, and the children began collecting, tying and storing newspapers in their garages.

By May 22, they'd amassed four-and-a-half tons! And on Wednesday, June 16, they saw the cycle completed, from trees to paper to trees, as two sugar maples, purchased with paper drive proceeds, were planted at Mason in a special ceremony with the

Sunset At Zoo Draws Pointers

Many Pointers were among members of the Detroit Zoological Society who gathered Tuesday, June 22 at the Zoo for the Society's traditional, traditionally delightful Sunset at the Zoo party.

Supplementing live attractions were the two animated life-size lions that caused such a sensation earlier in the month at the circus debut party given by Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford, of Lakeshore road, for their daughter, Lynn.

Refreshments were served near the Penguinarium, and there was music, provided by Hank Warren's Orchestra.

The Society, committed to raising $50,000 to equip the Zoo's new Holden Memorial Animal Hospital, is currently engaged in a drive to recruit new members.

Enjoying a recent NOMADS flying club visit to Lake Tahoe were ORVIS and IVA LEIDY, of Notre Dame avenue.

Holes-on-one were scored recently by GORDON J. BIRGBAUER, of Sunningdale drive, who registered his ace at the Ponte Vedra Club, and RAY TANKERSLEY, of University place, who scored at the Gowanie Golf Club. Both have been entered in the Rusty Nail Hole-in-One Sweepstakes.

William Clay Fords Entertain Bridal Party at Luncheon Before Their Niece's 5:30 O'Clock Wedding in Christ Church

White and yellow daisies filled the Provencal road home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford, II, Saturday, as they entertained at a reception following the wedding of their daughter, Josephine Clay Ford, and John William Ingle, Jr.

Daisy arrangements were placed too in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, scene of the late afternoon rites, and both the bride and her attendants carried white and yellow daisy bouquets.

Miss Ford, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of embroidered white silk Swiss organza. An applied band of floral motifs circled her high neckline, short puff sleeves and modified Empire waist.

Her skirt's deep hem flounce was defined by a matching floral embroidery band, and her English illusion veil fell from a headdress of embroidered organza.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ingle, of Rochester, N.Y., asked Donald Schmidt, of Denver, Colo., to act as best man.

Ushers were Alfred Brush Ford, the bride's brother, Carl Hennrich, of Fort Belvoir, Va., and Thomas Farnham, John Hyndman, David and Peter Ingle and E. J. Middleton, all of Rochester.

The new Mrs. Ingle is a granddaughter of Frederick C. Ford and the late Mrs. Ford and the late Mrs. Edsel B. Ford and the late Mr. Ford. Mrs. Edsel Ford gave the Rehearsal Dinner at the Little Club.

The day of the ceremony the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Clay Ford, entertained in their Lakeshore road home at a luncheon for the bridal party and their young friends.

The former Miss Ford, who attended Briarcliff Junior College and the University of Denver, was presented to society at a ball given by her parents at the Little Club in June, 1968.

The bridegroom, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peterson and Mrs. Arthur H. Ingle and the late Mr. Ingle, attended the University of Denver.

D'you Know That?

Do you know how the story of George Washington cutting down the CHERRY TREE got started?

It first appeared in "Life of Washington," a biography written by Mason L. Weems; who referred to himself as the "former rector of Mt. Vernon Parish."

But "Parson" Weems was not above animating a report with a bit of fiction. In fact, even his claim to the position of "former Rector of Mt. Vernon Parish" has been disputed—the Parish has never been known to have existed.
