PRESIDENT NIXON, in a surprising delayed reaction, angrily denounced the behavior of some United Nations delegates after the U. S. defeat on the China issue Monday. The President, through his press secretary, said the "personal animosity" and "undisguised glee" of delegates on the winning side was a "shocking spectacle" and "unworthy" of the UN. He added that the affair "could very seriously impair support in the country and in the Congress for the United Nations."

WHITE HOUSE ADVISER Henry A. Kissinger said Wednesday President Nixon's trip to Peking will provide an opportunity "to make a new beginning" in relations with mainland China. The trip will take place early next year and a final date will be announced before December 1.

IN A HISTORIC DECISION Britain decided Thursday to join Europe. The House of Commons voted to make Britain the seventh nation in the European Common Market, a major step on the road to making a united Western Europe a new power.

IN A STUNNING SURPRISE, the Senate voted late Friday to kill the U.S. foreign aid program and shut off the defense-economic development and relief assistance which America has given to scores of nations since World War II.

STOKELY-VAN CAMP, INC. has begun recalling a shipment of more than 15,000 cans of green beans following the hospitalization of an eight-year-old Florida boy and his father for possible botulism poisoning, the Food and Drug Administration said Friday.

PRESIDENT NGUYEN VAN THIEU took the oath of office Sunday morning under cloudless skies and massive security precautions to start his second four-year term as president of South Vietnam. Thieu was sworn in by Supreme Court Chief Justice Tran Van Lanh on a huge special platform built in the heart of the city. Representatives of 30 countries attended the ceremony. U.S. Treasury Secretary John Connally represented President Nixon.

THE ADMINISTRATION took steps Saturday to salvage a stopgap foreign-aid program from the shambles made of the permanent program by the Senate's 41-27 vote Friday killing the $3.5 billion authorization bill.

Monday, November 1

SENATOR J. W. FULLBRIGHT said Sunday that he expects an interim program of foreign aid to be approved by the Senate, but that it will exclude funds "for the military domination of other countries." Fullbright did not state flatly that military aid to South Vietnam should be ruled out of such a program, but he said military assistance programs are "sticking points" that could preclude continuation of foreign aid.

A CYCLONE and 16-FOOT TIDAL WAVE have slammed into India's east coast, and political leaders estimated Monday that 15,000 to 20,000 lives were lost. The wave and 100-mile-an-hour winds hit Friday night but the devastation was so complete that word of its magnitude did not reach the outside world until Monday. The Indian government radio reported a million homes destroyed or damaged, leaving four million persons without shelter in the latest major natural disaster on the rim of the Bay of Bengal.

Woods Fight State Act on Arbitration

Council Against Any Extension of Law Affecting Police and Firemen's Wage Disputes

By Pepper Whitelaw

Members of the Woods Council on Monday, November 1, asked their city attorney, George Catlin, to formulate a resolution objecting to extension of House Bill 5087 which proposes a three-year extension (to June 30, 1975) of Act 312, Public Act of 1969, the Police and Fireman Compulsory Arbitration Act.

Under the present law the compulsory arbitration statute will automatically expire on June 30, 1972 unless the Legislature takes specific action to extend it. Passage of the bill has been recommended by the House Labor Committee.

Councilman Marvin Boutin moved that the Woods Council formally voice its objection to extension of the bill on the grounds that it usurped Home Rule.

Unfair to Taxpayers
Chester Petersen, city administrator, told the NEWS that an extension of this bill would deprive the taxpayers of a voice in expenditures of their monies.

Purification of Raw Water Involves Much Processing Before It Can Be Consumed

Farms Filtration Plant Superintendent Reveals Work That is Done, and Chemicals Used to Bring Clear Water Into the Home

By James J. Njalim

There are natural areas in Michigan, throughout the United States, and all over the world, where clear, pure water can be scooped up by hand, or with a drinking receptacle, for drinking. These blessed areas are so because there are no congestion of human population, or commercial enterprises, or what have you, present to contaminate this liquid so vital to all forms of life.

Away from civilization, where man-made contamination is absent, fresh, crystal clear, pure water, free of purifying chemicals, is sought for, and one must practically "search for and work" to obtain this liquid, without which life cannot be sustained. All forms of animal life, including man, can live for days without food, but for only a very short period without water, the prolonged absence of which can be fatal.

The trees, grass and all forms of vegetation need moisture to grow, and so do the tiniest living creatures on the face of the earth, to use an old cliché.

In the cities, towns and villages all over this planet we call Earth, where mankind has congregated in numbers, depending on the size of the community in which they live, man has erected water filtration plants, taking raw water from the seas, rivers, lakes and other sources, and treating this water with chemicals so that it can be consumed without harmful effects.

Today, when we are thirsty, or wish to bathe, or wash our clothes or dishes, or put water to its myriad uses in our homes, for example, we simply turn on the tap, and its there! The amount of raw water drawn from the waterways of the world, depends on the size of the community wherein filtration plants have been erected. Some cities, for example, Detroit, have a number of plants located throughout its city limits, from which it sells water to its local residents and to surrounding communities, large and small.

Some cities are independent of larger communities who service water plants and dispense this vital commodity to their neighbors. The Farms which owns its Water Filtration Plant, 29 Moross road, is one such city. It filters and purifies its own water, drawn from Lake St. Clair, and sells it to its local residents, and to the City, which in turn sells it to its citizens.

Highland Park has a powerful pump in the Farms' building, with a pipeline stretching 11 miles from this edifice to its own filtration plant located within its own confines. Highland Park and Hamtramck are completely engulfed within the boundaries of Detroit, the fifth largest city in the United States.

To get at least a smattering of an idea what is entailed in the purifying of water for human consumption, the NEWS approached Wendell Baker, superintendent of the Farms filtration plant, asking what process must be undergone for the purification of raw water before it is fit to use. This is what he had to say: "For decades three services have symbolized the technical advance of our civilization; the automobile, electricity and the tap water in the home. Need Additional Sponsors For Walk-A-Thon Sunday

By Pepper Whitelaw

Ready those walking shoes for Sunday, November 7, is the BIG day, the Grosse Pointe students' Walk-A-Thon! If you're not the walking type, then get that checkbook ready and sponsor one of the 2,000 students who are walking, or one of the civic leaders who are also participating. Proceeds from the Walk-A-Thon will be used to retain or restore many of the school activities which have been cut due to recent millage failures. The young people, sponsored by the Mothers Club and the Dads Club of South High and the Parents and Boosters Clubs at North, hope to raise $55,000.

Fund priorities will go to high school newspapers, year books, class sponsors, athletic coaches, modified intramural sports, book store manager, cheerleaders, dramatic programs and the National Honor Society. Money required to continue these activities alone tallies around $20,850. Hopefully, if the full $55,000 is raised, many school programs will be reinstated including at the senior high level, Varsity athletics ($8,600) intramural athletics (at a cost of $8,000), Co-op Programs and clubs such as Future Teachers, Forensic, Debate, Volunteer Service, Foreign Exchange, Devils Brigade, Theatre Guild, Valkyries, Key Club, French Club, Red Beret and Humanities (at a cost of $8,500). The total cost of these pro- (Continued on Page 2)

Sales Halted With Arrest of Seven Youths; Marijuana, Hashish and LSD Tablets Valued at More Than $2,000 Confiscated

Two teenage adults, including a Grosse Pointe North High Schools student, and five juveniles, the youngest 14 years old, were arrested on Friday, October 29, through the coordinated efforts of the Woods, Shores, and Harper Woods police, and agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. The crack-down climaxed two months of surveillance by the local and federal authorities and "buys" made by undercover government agents.

Woods Det. Thomas Podewick of the Youth Service Division, coordinator of the entire matter, said that separate arrests were made, all on the same day, and 12 pounds of marijuana, having a street sale value of $1,800; seven caches of hashish, worth a resale value of $15 each; and 85 LSD tablets, which sell for about one dollar each, were confiscated.

Arrested in Woods
The adults, Dennis E. Patten, 19, of 20801 Country Club, Harper Woods; and Glen H. Parker, 17, of 65 Moorland, the North High student, were arrested for preliminary examination before City Municipal Judge Douglas Paterson in Woods court, on a charge of sale and dispensing of narcotics. Both stood mute.

The pair will be tried under a Woods city ordinance on Wednesday, November 10, the date set by the judge. Patten and Parker were released on $2,500 bond each, pending the hearing.

Podewick said that charges of sale and dispensing of narcotics have also been filed against the juveniles; two of them 16 years old, two who are 15, and the 14-year-old, with Juvenile Court authorities. A hearing is pending.

Podewick said that the sales were made at North High School and information regarding this illegal trade was brought to the attention of the Youth Service Division on September 1. He said that he asked for and received the cooperation of officers from the Shores and Harper Woods departments, who assisted in the surveillances and the arrests. He also asked for assistance from the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, who also took part in the activities, including sending in undercover agents who purchased drugs from all seven of the accused teens.

The first purchase was made on September 27, the officer said, then succeeding buys were made over a period of time, until sufficient evidence was gathered and the arrests made. The detective said that more evidence is being accumulated and interviews are still in progress.

"The combined efforts of the officers of these departments made the arrests possible," the detective said. "This shows what can happen when law enforcement agencies work together. We are planning to continue our investigation and interviews until this matter is concluded. We expect to make more arrests, soon."

Unauthorized Use of Fire Hydrants Means Trouble

Farms firemen were forced to turn off several fire hydrants on Wednesday, October 27, reported to have been opened by malicious youths, who apparently did not realize that their actions were in violation of the law.

A witness called Farms authorities at 8:58 p.m., and disclosed that he saw three youths leave a house in Bournmouth and walk toward Chalfonte, and then to the corner of Roland and Bournmouth, where they turned on the hydrant. The witness said he could not discern what type of instrument was used in turning on the water.

In another, separate incident, which occurred at 9:17 p.m., police were called by an unidentified person, who said that hydrants were open and running in Provincial road, in front of numbers 344, 372 and 390. A fireman was dispatched to close off the water. During "Devils' Night", October 30, reports were received by the Pointe Police Departments, that hydrants had been opened and water was running onto the streets. Farms Fire Chief Michael Beaupre said that indiscriminate turning on of hydrants is a dangerous practice, especially now, at this time of the year, during the frost and impending cold weather, when water left in the hydrants freeze.

Use of Park for Driver Training Exchanged for Free Strip in On-The-Hill Area

At its regular meeting held on Monday, November 1, the Farms council approved a reciprocal lease, whereby it granted the Grosse Pointe Public School System, another five-year use of the Municipal Pier-Park parking lot area for driver training purposes. The current lease expired on June 14, of this year.

In exchange, the School System agreed to permit the Farms the right to use and occupy, for parking purposes, a strip of land at the rear of the Muir road property line, in the On-The-Hill municipal parking area. The strip is for free parking, and the lease on it also expired on June 14, of this year.

Good For Five Years

The leases confirms the understanding that both parties agree to extend the same terms for an additional five years, effective as of June 15, with the termination date set for June 14, 1976.

The first lease granting the use of the MO Pier-Park lot to the System, was concluded on July 2, 1956 and accepted on August 6, 1956, and was for a period ending June 14, 1961.

The second agreement was extended for another five-year period, ending June 14, 1971.

The Farms was granted its lease by the School System on July 23, 1956, and accepted on August 20, 1956, with the subsequent leases taking effect on same dates of those held by the Public Schools, with the same expiration time.

In the initial lease, the Farms agreed to develop and maintain two rows for free parking, to augment metered spaces in the municipal lot at the rear of the Hill Business District.

No Rent Involved

Under the terms of the leases, each party agrees not to charge rent or seek compensation for the use of either parcel.

The Farms uses the strip throughout the year, whereas, the School System uses the Pier-Park lot for its driver training program when the park is closed to recreational activities, during the fall, winter and spring months.

The hours and days may be further modified by agreement between City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., and Superintendent of Schools Theos I. Anderson.

Law Is Patient, Citizen Finds

The law, regardless how long it takes, eventually catches up with citizens who violate its concepts, as attested on Thursday, October 28, when Potoskey authorities informed Woods police of the arrest of a man wanted on traffic warrants issued in the Woods more than four years ago.

The Woods Public Safety Department received a phone call from Potoskey police in which it was disclosed that they had arrested Richard L. Hackett, 45, of Lincoln place, in their city, who has been sought by the Woods since June 15, 1968, on two traffic warrants.

Hackett, it was revealed was wanted for driving while his license was revoked, and speeding 43 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone, both tickets issued by Woods Patrolman Wayne Baum. Potoskey was informed that the warrants were still valid, and was requested to obtain bonds totaling $117 from the man, and to inform him that he must appear in Woods Municipal Court on November 10.

If necessary, Woods police said, an officer will be dispatched to Potoskey to bring Hackett before Judge Don Goodrow to answer to the charges.

Common sense and a sense of humor always pay dividends.

Walk-A-Thon This Sunday

(Continued from Page 1) grams in the high schools comes to $25,100. In the middle schools, a total of $9,000 is needed to reinstate more intramural programs, clubs, school assemblies, stage crew, concerts and Junior Red Cross, to name just a few. At the elementary level some money will be reserved to insure continuance of the Service Squads and Safety Patrols, which might otherwise suffer in the future. If you as an individual or your organization wishes to sponsor a walker this is all you have to do.

Pick up an application at the offices of any of the public schools. Fill it out in duplicate, one is for the walker, who carries it with him as he walks to be checked at points along the Walk-A-Thon route, and one for the sponsor. Walking begins anytime between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Sponsors then pledge to support a walker in amounts ranging from 10 cents to ??? a mile? Simple enough isn't it?

The route for Grosse Pointe North starters is from North High to Vernier road, to Lake Shore drive, to Moross road, to Kercheval, to Fisher, to the athletic field at South High. (The return route is the same).

South High walkers will begin at South's athletic field to Fisher road, to Kercheval avenue, to Moross road, to Lake Shore drive, to Vernier road, to North High. (The same return route).

All Pointe Police chiefs and the Harper Woods chief will be participating. In fact, the enthusiasm has reached such a pitch in the Woods that police personnel and city employees, more than 40 of them, are sponsoring their director of public safety Donald Coats, each pledging varying amounts (the last total, $15.25 a mile).

Loads of students, parents and civic officials will be walking. Why not join them or sponsor them? If you can't do either how about sending a donation to Grosse Pointe Student Walk-A-Thon, c/o National Bank of Detroit, 17449 East Jefferson, Grosse Pointe, 48230.

Purification of Raw Water

(Continued from Page 1) one of them — WATER — is actually taken for granted. The average citizen gives barely a thought to the miracle of clean water in his kitchen and bathroom, or the fact that anything would interrupt its flow.

"That situation is a measure of the success of the water works industry, which has developed the techniques and the organization to collect, purify and distribute water to more than 200 million people in the United States. Yet, all of this service is done so quietly that the public is hardly aware that the industry exists.

"The Farms has operated its own water treatment plant since 1930. As with most communities, our city was initially concerned with producing a desirable quality water supply system to serve its population. The purification of water is a complicated operation which involves two processes, chemical and physio-chemical treatment."

Baker stated that Lake St. Clair, from which in-take pipes draw in raw water with the aid of powerful machinery, is prone to bacterial contamination from both soil and man, with contamination greatly increased with sewage discharges. This bacteria must be completely removed, and pathogenic organism must be absent, before the water can be safely consumed.

Where small amounts require sterilization, heating to boiling temperature is sufficient, but when continuous treatment is necessary, as in our plant, the bacterial agent chlorine is used.

Feeding gaseous chlorine requires specially constructed equipment and, while the gas may be diffused into the water to be treated, the general practice is to feed an aqueous solution of it. This results in the full utilization of the gas and better control, Baker said.

The amount required for residual control for sterilization is in general dependent upon the amount of organic matter in the water because this must be oxidized before there can be a residual.

Lake St. Clair water contains suspended matter, much of which consists of minute particles, too tiny to settle rapidly. A chemical coagulant, aluminum sulfate, must be added to cause the finely divided and colloidal suspended materials to solidify into larger particles called floc, which settles rapidly.

A flocculent precipitate, which is produced, has an enormous surface area per unit of volume, Baker pointed out. This precipitate removes suspended and colloidal matter from the water by electro-physical attraction, adsorption, absorption and physical entanglement. The aluminum sulfate reacts with hydroxyl ions in the water to form a complex aluminum hydroxide, which with the help of suitable mild agitation, combine into visible clumps which settle by gravity.

"Taste, odor and some dissolved gases are removed from the water by adsorption on activated carbon," the superintendent said. "This material is added as a powder to the raw water and to the filter effluent and is removed from the filter bed during backwashing."

Baker said that an attempt has been made to enumerate the principal water treatment processes employed at the Farms plant, which are controlled by a staff of seven people, one superintendent, five operators, and a maintenance foreman. He disclosed that the entire

Arbitration

(Continued from Page 1) with the city, or chose to bypass the city in negotiations, they could do so. The issue then would be placed before a board consisting of one city representative, one union representative, (not necessarily a union member), and one non-partisan. Mr. Petersen pointed out that the arbitration group could conceivably end up with only one member from the taxpaying community involved, the city representative. He added that in such cases members of the group were often unfamiliar with the city's individual problems and finances. A resolution, similar to the one requested by Mr. Boutin and unanimously approved by the council, was passed overwhelmingly by the membership at the Municipal League's Annual Convention

Young Cyclist Struck by Car

William C. Smith, 9, of 453 Cloverly, while riding his bicycle on Thursday, October 28, turned to talk to a friend, also on a bike, and lost control and ran into the path of a car, westbound on Chalfonte, and was knocked to the pavement. Farms police said the boy went through the stop street at Manor intersection without stopping.

The driver of the vehicle that struck the lad, William R. Pruett, 48, of 459 Shelbourne, told investigating officers that he was traveling on Chalfonte when the boy somehow lost control and drove into the path of his auto. He was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting young William, the motorist said.

Another motorist, also driving west on Chalfonte, verified Pruett's statement as did a second witness to the mishap. Pruett said that as the boys entered the intersection, he blew his horn lightly and William and his friend turned toward the curb. Then the young cyclist looked over his shoulder, to the rear as though talking to his friend, and it was at this point that he seemed to lose control. Pruett and the witnesses said.

Young Smith complained of pain of the abdomen and leg and was taken to St. John Hospital for examination and treatment. The injuries proved to be of a minor nature and he was treated and released. Pruett was held blameless.

Senior Men Elect Officers

The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe has named Kryn J. Nagelkirk president. He succeeds the late Harold E. Gorry. Mr. Nagelkirk was Michigan manager of marketing services for the Shell Oil Company before his retirement.

Kenneth Cary was elected first vice-president replacing W. E. Sturgis, who has tendered his resignation. Elliott Shumaker is second vice-president.

Dr. Leland F. Carter was elected a director.

THEFT AND VANDALISM
John Thomas, 1428 Somerset, called City police on Saturday, October 23, to report that while his car was parked in the Bon Secours Hospital's parking lot from 10:15 p.m. to 10:26 a.m. someone smashed the lid of his trunk, broke the lock, entered the car and removed a hi-fi speaker from his '68 Oldsmobile.

Administrators of Schools Reveals Goals for 1971-72

The administrators of the school system have outlined by departments their goals for the 1971-72 school year.

The department of administrative services plans to continue to coordinate South High School renovation and construction project, supervise change in data processing methods, review and improve maintenance and operation procedures and refine budget preparation and purchasing procedures.

The department of business and finance will re-examine accounting and auditing procedures to improve efficiency and reporting, regularly evaluate general procedures and reorganize where needed and review and improve election practices.

The department of personnel plans to continue to identify and hire the best possible staff within financial limitations, assist in the supervision and evaluation of the teaching faculty, encourage supervisors to increase efforts to evaluate teaching faculty, seek effective implementation of contracts with all employee groups (a major responsibility of the Director of Employee Relations), determine the most effective use of non-professionals as replacements for teachers released for instructional tasks, and to evaluate substitute teacher services.

In the department of instruction plans are underway to improve and expand instructional programs with special emphasis on increased individualization, to implement the system-wide procedures for reporting to parents, to plan in-service training programs related to curriculum development and designed to solve existing problems at all levels, develop a proposal for expanding vocational education opportunities, assume coordination and general supervision of Community Services programs, continue research designed to evaluate and improve various instructional area, review the standardized testing program, implement the drug abuse programs based on local and national research, consider programs on hard drugs, and develop educational data processing, including a pilot of programmed budgeting.

The public libraries will continue to try to meet day-to-day needs of the reading community, emphasize development of life-long reading habits by youth, continue to try to meet specialized demands of area college students and work with the Friends of the Library and other community groups.

The department of pupil personnel will provide every handicapped child with necessary services, continue pre-school screening and developmental programs, and join school staff and community agencies in understanding and providing treatment for children with drug abuse problems.

The office of the superintendent will review the school system's internal communications and institute improvements, develop a year-long master plan for legislative action, expand local and state-wide contacts and avenues for implementation of accelerated legislative programs, and expand liaison with community groups concerned with increasing number of issues affecting local public education.

Jaycees Seat New Officers

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees recently installed new officers at their annual award dinner.

Newly elected officers include William Swasey, president; James Yeomans, external vice-president; Joseph Lanz, internal vice-president; James Piana, secretary; Kirt Leighton, treasurer.

Robert Smith, Paul Mumma and John Nickum were named to the Board of Directors.

New president Swasey is confident that the Grosse Pointe Jaycees will have their most productive year to date. Several new community projects are planned, including help for Center Pointe, and a Before The Emergency Program, where medical information is made available to the public.

The Jaycees are continuing their Veterans Assistance Program and will also continue their sponsorship of Junior Tennis, Junior Champ, and other youth related activities.

The Pointe Jaycees, organized in the fall of 1968, are a group of men between the ages of 21 and 36 whose main objective is to improve the community in which they live.

Dr. Wilson Pays Visit to North

The "open door" to Wayne County Community College is admitting both students eager to learn and citizens willing to participate, the College's new president, Dr. Reginald Wilson, concluded after a recent tour of the Grosse Pointe North Instructional Center.

Dr. Wilson has been personally visiting W.C.C.C. campuses throughout the country since his election a month ago. He was particularly impressed by the high quality of teaching at Grosse Pointe North and the mixed composition of the student body.

"I thought the caliber of all teaching was excellent," said Dr. Wilson, "and I was particularly struck by the French teacher who was obviously well-trained."

Dr. Wilson also visited astronomy and psychology classes and said he was gratified to find some black students attending. The Grosse Pointe North Center, which is in Grosse Pointe North High School, has a current enrollment of nearly 500 students—an increase of nearly 100 over the previous semester's. Like all W.C.C.C. centers, it admits students without educational restrictions.

In a later visit to the center's area citizens group, the Area Citizens Action Group #1, Dr. Wilson stressed the "valuable function" being performed by the ACAC. He was accompanied by Donald M.D. Thurber, W.C.C.C. Trustee, and John Grylls, ACAC member and delegate to the County-wide CAC.

"We are one of the few community colleges which receive community input on a structured basis," he said.

Dr. Wilson saw the role of area advisory groups as formulating policies on curriculum development, personnel, etc. and funneling them into administration where they would assist in the development of decisions and guidelines for the college.

He said a major emphasis of the college in the future would be on the establishment of "core centers" where vocational-technical programs requiring concentrations of equipment could be headquartered.

Dr. Wilson stressed, however, that he was committed to the policy of leasing diversified centers throughout the country. He said it would always be possible, as at Grosse Pointe North, for students to "literally attend school around the corner."

INTERESTING FACTS

Oddly enough, the famous Battle of Bunker Hill in the American Revolutionary War was NOT fought on Bunker Hill!

Why, then, was it called the Battle of Bunker Hill?

The commander of troops that day had orders to protect Bunker Hill but he chose to fight the actual battle on nearby Breed's Hill instead.

Thus, although the fighting took place on Breed's Hill, the event went down in history as the Battle of Bunker Hill.

And, here's another interesting fact . . . if you don't know carpet quality you should rely on a reputable retailer. We'll let you choose your color and texture, but we'll recommend the right carpet for your specific use. Isn't it assuring to know you are getting the best value for your dollar?

Band-Orchestra Parents At South to Hold Potluck

Some 600 reservations have already been made for the annual potluck dinner sponsored by the Band and Orchestra Parents Club of South High School on Monday, November 8, at 8:30 o'clock, in the gymnasium.

Director Russell Reed's stage band and the string quartet composed of Fenia Weiller, Cathy Lavins, Kevin Miller, Steven Eliason and Randy Barker will provide the entertainment.

A film of the Marching Band's performance at the 1971 Homecoming Game will be shown. It was produced by Dr. William Hoover, head of audio-visual department at South and Dale Pegg of television station WJBK.

Recipients of 1971 scholarships will also speak on their experiences at music camps. Goals of the parent club are to provide money for scholarships through member contributions, support activities of the band and orchestra and to plan three annual social events which include the potluck Monday, the Cabaret Party and the Outdoor Band Concert and Ice Cream Social.

Potluck chairman Mrs. Robert Weiller was ably assisted by the Mesdames R. J. Foresman, John Miller, Richard Kozlowski, Brendan Klein and Charles Boyce. Parent club officers for the 1971-72 school year are: Richard Kozlowski, president; Mrs. Robert Weiller, first-vice-president; Jesse Oseter, second-vice-president; Brendan Klein, treasurer, and Mrs. J. S. DeForest secretary.

There are 203 students in the combined bands and orchestras at South this year, an increase of 30 over last year. This increase comes at a time when the music curriculum throughout the school system has been severely affected by budget cutbacks. Many residents in the community are unaware of the fine contributions these music students make both scholastically and musically to the school and community.

Wins Honor

R. T. JOHNSTONE, of 107 Meadow Lane, has received one of the highest awards given to volunteers of the Boy Scouts of America.

He was presented with a Silver Antelope Medal in a ceremony at Cobo Hall, Saturday, October 30. The award was made in behalf of Scout Region 7, which includes Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. Mr. Johnstone and Charles E. Jolitz, formerly of Bloomfield Hills, were the only two Michigan men among seven receiving the regional Silver Antelope awards.

Mr. Johnstone, who received the Scout's Silver Beaver award in 1959, has served the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts as a member of the board of directors, and as president, vice-president and as finance committee chairman. He has also headed several other council committees.

Retired as senior vice-president of a large insurance firm, Mr. Johnstone is active in many civic affairs. He has served as vice-president of the United Foundation, and on the board of Cleary College, Northwood Institute, the Salvation Army, Detroit Convention Bureau, the Merrill-Palmer Institute, Society of Arts and Crafts, the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches, Hutter Hospital and the University of Wisconsin Alumni Association.

He has also been president of the Citizens Redevelopment Corporation, vice-president of United Community Services and on the boards of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, the United Negro College Fund, St. Peter's Home for Boys, the Michigan United Fund, Christ Episcopal Church of Grosse Pointe and several fraternal and business organizations.

Free Diabetes Tests Offered Here

Free diabetes detection tests will be offered at St. John, Bon Secours and Cottage Hospitals again this year. Sponsored by the Michigan Diabetes Association, these tests are a part of the National Diabetes Week Program in the search for the more than 100,000 "hidden" diabetics in Michigan.

The Diabetes Detection Clinic will be held in the Sisters' Dining Room on the ground floor of St. John's, Moross road at Mack, daily beginning Monday, November 15, through Friday, November 19, from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Reservations are not required.

The detection clinic at Bon Secours 468 Cadieux road, will be held in the Clinical Laboratory, daily beginning November 15 through November 19, from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Cottage Hospital's (159 Kercheval) Laboratory will examine persons from November 17 through 19, from 9 o'clock until 12 noon each day.

Persons planning to be tested are advised to have a meal rich in sugars and starches two hours before the test to insure accurate results and are asked to bring the name and address of their physician in case a follow up exam should be necessary.

According to James Aiuto, M.D., chairman of the Michigan Diabetes Association Diabetes Detection Committee and member of the Saint John Hospital medical staff, "those who are over forty, overweight and have a family history of diabetes are urged to take this test."

"A 'hidden' diabetic is a person who has this disease but is unaware of it," explained Dr. Aiuto. "The warning signs of diabetes," he continued, "are excessive thirst, excessive urination, loss of weight, itching, constant hunger; slow healing of cuts and scratches, and changes in vision. While most prevalent in persons over forty, diabetes may strike at any age."

James J. Humes, M.D., vice-president for medical affairs at Saint John, said, "there is as yet no cure for diabetes, but it can in most cases be effectively controlled. Diet, exercise, oral compounds, and when necessary, injections of insulin, are the methods used to control this disease."

"Neglect of diabetes," Dr. Humes continued, "may lead to increased risk of coronary artery disease, strokes, kidney disease, blindness, and gangrene." According to the Michigan Diabetes Association, diabetes is ranked as the fifth leading cause of death, the second leading cause of blindness, and is a contributing factor in up to one half of all heart attacks.

Cinema League Meets Nov. 11

The Alger House of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be the meeting place for the Cinema League on Thursday, November 11, at 8 o'clock. Miss Doris Bowlby will show her slides taken during the spring of 1971. Her presentation, with running commentary, is entitled Southern Europe by Rail and covers six and one half weeks of travel starting at Freiburg in the Black Forest and ending in Prague, Czechoslovakia. Other places Miss Bowlby visited included Italian Lakes Como and Maggiore, Rome, Rimini, Venice and Florence. In the German speaking areas she took pictures of Innsbruck, Oberammergau, Garmisch, Munich, Salzburg, Badgastein Spa and Ludwig the Great's Herrenchiemsee Castle.

The privilege of using the railroad pass ended at the border of the Communist controlled countries according to Miss Bowlby. She also rode the high speed Hydrofoil to Budapest, Hungary, and later visited Prague.

The coffee hour will be hosted by Mrs. Harold Jinks, Mrs. R. C. Stanley and Mrs. Germaine Mullen. President Harold E. Hammond extends an invitation to visitors who are interested in travel and color photography. Fifteen evenings of this type of entertainment make up the Cinema League's 1971-72 season.

Keep up with the Joneses and you'll let your budget down.

State Board of Education Replies to Roth's Ruling

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, said that the State Board of Education adopted a resolution on October 27 stating that it will not submit any school desegregation plan, ordered recently by Federal Judge Stephen Roth, which would "endanger the well-being and schooling of any child." Complete text of the resolution follows:

"WHEREAS, the Michigan State Board of Education is constitutionally responsible for the leadership and planning of public education in the State; and

"WHEREAS, the Michigan State Board of Education is constitutionally responsible for the leadership and planning of public education in the State; and

"WHEREAS, the Michigan State Board of Education is constitutionally responsible for the leadership and planning of public education in the State; and mandated by federal court order to prepare a plan or several plans that might effectively desegregate public schools in Detroit which the federal court has ruled are segregated in a de jure manner; and

"WHEREAS, it is our duty to offer quality equal educational opportunities to all Michigan children regardless of race, color or creed; therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, that the Michigan State Board of Education go on record as condemning all those who encourage parents to break the school laws by keeping children home from school and those who inflame fears by causing damage to the vehicles that transport children to school and home."

campaigns of terror, calm their fears and be assured that the State Board of Education will not submit any plans that would in their opinion endanger the well-being and schooling of any child; and be it further

"RESOLVED, that the Michigan State Board of Education go on record as condemning all those who encourage parents to break the school laws by keeping children home from school and those who inflame fears by causing damage to the vehicles that transport children to school and home."

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Public Schools

It takes strength of character to cope with the changes noted in education and on its peripheries these days. On all sides myths, "facts," and once strongly-held beliefs about education are being challenged vigorously, and some of them are actually being toppled.

Example #1: It used to be that graduation from college was practically an unconditional guarantee of a bright career. The nation-wide publicity that Carol Roberts, a 24-year-old former doctoral candidate at Harvard University has begun a new job as a cleaning woman, will quickly dispel the notion that a formal education represents "instant security."

Example #2: Two psychologists in California now offer empirical evidence, based on a survey of 15,000 athletes, that faith in the character-building value of competitive sports is not valid. Researchers Ogilvie and Tulko of San Diego State College claim that "athletic competition has no more beneficial effects than intense endeavor in any other field."

Example #3: The profit-and-loss incentive has actually reached the field of public education. Although the Superintendent of Schools in Gary, Indiana has called "encouraging" the overall results of the three-year performance contracting project conducted by Behavioral Research Laboratories at Bannear Elementary School, the firm has had to refund $75,000 to the board of education for student performance that did not rise to the national level.

Example #4: Plans to alter the effect of the "dollar gap" in financing public education are gaining momentum. Opposition organized against the property tax in millage elections across the country has given planners and economists additional evidence in their proposals to change methods of financing education. Although the court rulings in California and Minnesota, and the pending suit in Michigan (involving Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, and Bloomfield Hills) have been well-publicized, the issue is receiving increased attention across the nation. For example, a report of New York's Fleischmann Commission describes the property tax as "regressive," based on "inept, arbitrary and discriminatory assessment practices," with "its pinch frequently sharper on the poorer property owner than on the more wealthy." Worst of all, the study claims the tax is keyed to an "uneven distribution of amounts and types of property among school districts."

Example #5: Possession of a teaching certificate can no longer be regarded as the "insurance policy" it once was. With thousands of members of the class of 1971 with teaching credentials reported to be driving taxis or working in supermarkets, the chronic shortage of teachers that has plagued schools for 20 years appears to be over. In fact, shows that by 1980, unless the present trend is changed, this country will have 4.2 million newly-trained teachers to fill 2.4 million jobs. Factors causing this situation include expanded opportunities to become teachers, a drop in the birth rate, and financial difficulties that have reversed trends toward improved staffing which would have employed many of the surplus. Clearly, there is a need for redirection and re-evaluation by many of those considering a career in education. Those occupations projecting a shortage of workers by 1980 include chemists, counselors, dietitians, dentists, physicians, and physicists.

There is no doubt that we live in a fast-changing world.

Bloomfield Raps State's Lawsuit

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, revealed on Monday that Bloomfield Hills, one of the three defendants in the suit filed by Governor William Milliken and Attorney General Frank Kelley to declare unconstitutional the local property tax as the basis for funding public education, is seeking state assistance to finance its defense in the lawsuit.

Text of the October 29 letter from Dr. Fred D. Thorin, Superintendent of the Bloomfield Hills School District, to Charles Zellar, Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and to William Copeland, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee in Lansing, follows:

"On Friday, October 15, 1971 Governor Milliken and State Attorney General Kelley brought suit against Allison Green, State Treasurer, Bloomfield Hills School District, Dearborn City School District and the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. In this suit, the Executive Branch of our state government has charged that the system of financing the operation of school districts in Michigan contravenes the equal protection guarantees established in the constitutions of the United States and Michigan.

"As you well know, as a local school district, we are totally without authority to change the existing system of taxation. In view of the fact that the Governor and Attorney General choose to single out only three school districts in a matter which is of concern to every school district in our state, I believe that it is totally unfair to expect the local taxpayers from these three districts to fund this lawsuit. I therefore respectfully request an opportunity to meet with you within the next week along with the superintendent from Dearborn, Dr. Cole, and the superintendent from Grosse Pointe, Dr. Anderson. It would be my hope to discuss a plan whereby our districts would receive special financial assistance from the legislature to reimburse us for costs resulting from a lawsuit in which we are singled out to defend the laws that have been enacted by our State Legislature.

"Please be aware that I have addressed this same letter to Representative Copeland, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and sent a copy to those legislators from the three affected areas."

WIPED OUT

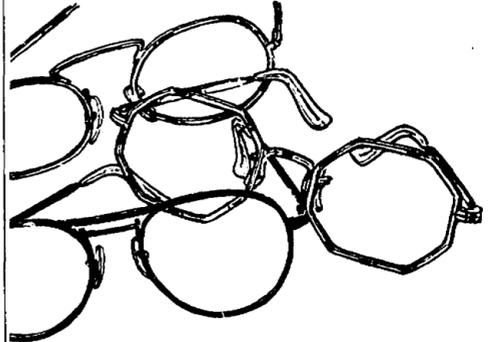

John G. McCandless, 892 Rivard, called City police on October 25, to report that someone had entered his car, which was parked in front of his Rivard home on September 7, and turned on the windshield wipers and motor, ruining the motor.

To make ends meet today people will have to learn to do more—more doing without.

Awards Given To Businesses

School Enjoys Nature Project

"The arrival of ducks at the Barnes School playground every fall was the beginning of the idea for nature study," Jack McMahon, Barnes Principal said recently.

He explained that children and teachers, observing and commenting about the ducks, were attracted to other natural phenomena nearby.

Mr. McMahon said that development of the area provided a place where children may observe, collect, and conduct experiments with plants and animals during all seasons. "This will help them gain an understanding and interest in natural functions and their relationship to the environment," he said.

It might seem that a "natural area" would not require any help from man, but sometimes it does. Conservation experts from the State of Michigan advised the Barnes group on some of the steps to be taken. After measuring the area and noting existing plant and animal life, long-range plans were made and drawn. With $150 donated by the PTA, the group purchased a nursery license and bought eight 3-foot evergreens and 40 wild flower plants. Purchased from the State of Michigan were 400 seedlings of pine trees and various shrubs.

Cedar chips serve as mulch on the ground and help aerate the soil. Logs scattered about serve as seats for children and as homes for insect and plant life. Children in various grades have planted small flower and vegetable gardens. The Barnes Principal said that work on the project has been underway for a year, with parents and teachers participating. Mrs. Ann Lockhart is the tireless chairman of the committee. In addition to Principal McMahon, other staff members on the committee are Mrs. Steve Loppicola, Irving Parsch, David King and Al Verstraete. Parents include Mrs. Murray Klimchuk and Mrs. James Pierce. Barnes pupils involved in the project are Marion Marks, Ann Rabindeau, Jim Arpin and John Peracchio.

Barnes School had a pumpkin sale the week of October 25 to help finance the project. On display in the gym at the same time were various ecology projects.

SOS Grid Team Winners Again

In an incredible blitz on Saturday, October 30, the Star of the Sea gridders scored 22 points before the St. Brendan team could get started. Despite playing without their fine tight end, Mike Smith, the Sailors' offense in a methodical, steady mixture of running and passing, took control early and scored the first four times the Sailors had the ball. Fred Hickey made a key play on an onside kick to spark the rout. The defense, with Scott Egnatios leading in tackles, held the doors shut until it was too late for the opposition. As yet, no one has managed to score against the first team defense all year. Final score was SOS 35—St. Brendan 12.

Mirielle Offers French Salons

One of Grosse Pointe's most charming young matrons, Mrs. Warren Wilkinson, (the dazzling Mirielle), will conduct for the first time evening salons in basic French conversation at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

These sessions will be held on Monday from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, November 9 through December 13. The fee is $15 for six weeks.

These French salons will accent progress in making oneself understood in the language and dwell only in small part on grammar. Every effort will be made to make the experience enjoyable with basic communication and understanding the goal.

One View From The Capitol

By Representative William R. Bryant, Jr.

Our daily newspapers can certainly be inaccurate, or worse. The Detroit Free Press and Detroit News last Friday each ran two articles concerning a concurrent resolution passed the day before by the Michigan House. The resolution had earlier passed the State Senate and was sponsored by Democrat State Senator Bowman of Roseville. One article in the Free Press was reasonably accurate but the other, an Associated Press release, was grossly inaccurate. Both articles in the News were wrong.

The A.P. wire story, printed by both papers said the resolution asked Congress to initiate an amendment to the Federal Constitution to stop forced busing, and then showed who voted for and against the resolution.

Well, I voted against that resolution and I am against forced busing across school boundaries and against forced moving of school boundaries for purposes of racial balance.

But let me tell you why I would believe it my duty to vote against that Bowman resolution. Solely because of one thing. That resolution didn't ask Congress to do anything. That resolution purported to be a resolution submitted under Article Five of the U. S. Constitution which says that on application of two-thirds of the states the Congress shall call a convention for the purpose of proposing amendments.

There has never been a constitutional convention since our constitution was adopted. No interpretation of the language has been made certain. It is my opinion and that of most if not all attorneys that any call for a constitutional convention would open up the whole constitution and allow wholesale amendments to be proposed.

I believe that would be highly undesirable. I think all my colleagues in the House agreed with me, and agreed that the resolution was dangerous and ill advised unless and until we could be assured that a constitutional convention could be called which would be limited in its scope.

But most of my colleagues so feared their constituents would not understand the issue involved, that most voted for the resolution. All we asked for was one week to hold a hearing, not on busing, but to get the best legal talent available to advise the House as to whether or not a convention could be called for a limited purpose only. That request was turned down by the House.

As it happens, my view opposing the Bowman resolution and also opposing forced cross-district busing is shared by the Detroit News editorial staff. Now if their reporters would only read their editorials. What a difference that would make.

If you do favor a constitutional amendment, I urge you to consider signing the petitions I have had printed and which are being circulated, urging Congress to propose such an amendment on their own, without a convention, and urging immediate action on a bill which was developed by me and others to stop any judge from ordering busing so long as any appeal is pending.

HIT-RUN DAMAGE
Robert Blackford of 27774 East Wick Square, Roseville, personally reported at the Farms station on Saturday, September 25, that while his car was parked on Fisher road, between Charlevolx and Beaupre, an unknown driver struck the right side of his vehicle, inflicting damage estimated at $100.

Killing time is just another form of success-suicide.

If you have problems to solve, remember that hard work is the best solvent of all.

Many a motorist has literally carved his own tombstone by trying to chisel in traffic.

Ancient World Movie Offered
"The Ancient World: Athens to Cairo", a brilliant new color motion picture, will be presented at Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesday, November 17 and Friday, November 19.
Gene Wiancko, nationally known motion picture producer whose films have won many awards, will narrate the film in person. Both shows will be preceded by elegant ethnic banquets served in the Crystal Ballroom above the theater and looking out on Lake St. Clair. The dinners will begin with fresh fruits served in Ouzo liqueur followed by moussaka, fig salad and honeyed baklava for dessert. Cost of the complete evening—dinner and show is $6.50 for either night. Admission to the travelogue is only $2.50.
Camera crews equipped with the finest modern color films roamed the Eastern Mediterranean area for many months. Cairo, Africa's largest city, and the rest of Egypt are fully represented; as are the awe-inspiring antiquities of Egypt. The temples of Luxor and Karnak, the Pyramids, the story of King Tut, and the story of Nasser's Egypt of today were filmed.

The gigantic rock-carved city of Petra, which can be reached only by trail and which was hidden and lost for many centuries, tells something of the story of the desert empire of Rome. The modern city of Beirut and her high-living citizens are contrasted with the ways of life of their ancestors, the Phoenicians. The route of the Crusaders is followed along the beautiful coastline of Turkey, through the amazing Crusader fortresses, to the historic city of Jerusalem.
In Greece, beautiful remnants of the classical age are well presented, as are the interesting ways of life of the people of Greece today. "The Ancient World: Athens to Cairo" then tells the story of the most charming of the Aegean Islands: Rhodes, Mykonos, and Hydra, which served as refuge for many of the defeated knights and armies of centuries past.
A political highlight of the motion picture is the story of Cyprus, filmed just days before the Cyprus government prohibited the filming of all military areas in Cyprus. The beautiful scenery on Cyprus seems to conflict with the harsh realities of the civil war on that troubled island. Mr. Wiancko obtained a personal film interview with President Makarios, and also portrays the actual battle lines between the Greek Cypriot and the Turkish Cypriot forces.
He found Greek villages in

The Winner?
A clear-cut victory for you if you bank at Michigan Bank!

The results are there in dollars and cents. Two savings accounts paying 4 1/2% interest, with identical deposits and withdrawals. Yet Michigan Bank paid $34.56 in interest for the three-month period, while XYZ Bank paid only $5.63.
The difference? Daily interest. It means a Michigan Bank regular passbook savings account never penalizes you for withdrawing before the end of the quarter. You earn interest from day in to day out.
And Michigan Bank is the only large Detroit area bank that pays 4 1/2% daily interest—the highest book interest allowed by Federal Regulations.
So why settle for a smaller return on your savings? Why be tied down by a quarterly interest account when you can get 4 1/2% daily interest? And since most Detroit banks only pay 4% daily interest, you would be losing money there, too. Be a winner. Switch your account to Michigan Bank today.

Forming Yoga, Karate Groups

New Yoga and Karate groups are forming at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Tae Kwan Do, the Korean name for Karate (the "Art of the Open Hand") will start a new term at the Center on November 12 and continue on Friday evenings from 7-9 o'clock through January 14, skipping of course, Christmas and New Year's Eve. Instructors for this Grosse Pointe Karate Club will be advanced belt holders from the Wayne University Karate Club who have been trained by Sang Kyu Shim who introduced Karate to this country from Korea after World War II.

Karate is a disciplined art of self defense, teaching one to make the most of the fulcrums and stresses of his own physique and play upon the weaknesses of an opponent. It requires concentration and dedication. Advancement is recognized by the awarding of different colored belts to go with the loose fitting uniform. The black belt is Karate's highest achievement.

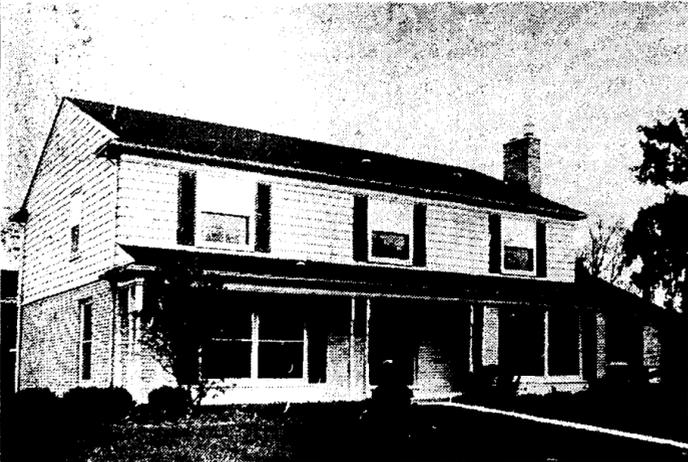

Yoga has become increasingly popular at the War Memorial. New terms will begin there on November 16 and 17 continuing through mid January though, of course skipping Christmas week. Norma Cheff is the SRF trained instructor for the 9:30-10:30 and 10:30 to 11:30 classes for women on Tuesdays. The evening classes are taught by Charles Friday on Wednesdays in two groups—one meeting from 7 to 8, the other from 8 to 9. Both welcome beginning and more advanced students of both sexes. All Yoga students are asked to wear loose exercise clothing and to bring with them to class small carpets to use as exercise mats.

Yoga relieves the mind and body of tensions and tones basic organs and muscles through exercise while the mind is relieved through concentration on postures and accompanying music. Thousands attest to its efficacy in relieving one from the "hecticity" of today's "rat race". Advance enrollment is advised for both Karate and Yoga. is $15 for eight weeks; Yoga is $20.

Give Youngsters Business Lesson

Second graders in Mrs. Mas-Ferry and their parents culminated a two-week unit on economic education last Friday that had all 900 kids at...

cussing with them what businesses they were in and how it operates. Represented were: hospital administration, nursing, bookkeeping, marina owner, banking, dentistry, butchering, various manufacturing, ophthalmology, architecture, designing, engineering, accounting, secretarial, teaching and various medical doctors. This was followed by the children forming a company of their own, (sort of a Jr. Jr. achievement operation), agreeing upon a product to sell, (peanuts), a name for the fledgling company, (The Great Gooler Company), and deciding what departments they would need to run an effective operation. They had departments of counters, packaging, labeling, stapling, advertising, accounting, sales and business. They of course, had to float a loan, (from the teacher), to buy the materials and when the production line began operating everyone had to become a quality control sampler and expert.

The Great Gooler Company sold over 200 pounds of its product and learned more about adding, subtracting, profit and loss and HARD work than could have been taught them from textbooks in six months. It was a great experience and the various stages the company experienced were put on a 45-minute video tape by Dr. William Hoover, Instructional Materials Specialist of the School System, for showing to parents

Her 'Talent' Will Take Her To Toronto

That Mona Lisa smile on the face of MRS. PAUL D. Mrs. Grubbs' name was one of two announced from the Ford Auditorium stage by Symphony President Robert B. Semple at a recent concert. Each lady was awarded a vacation, donated by the Moorman Travel Agency, for her total of new season tickets sold. MRS. STERLING S. SAN-

Parents Strike Out

A pox on the parents who not only condone one of the stupidest activities accompanying the annual Halloween celebration, but often cooperate in achieving the sickening results of this practice.

Just what fun a youngster can derive from this silly occupation remains a mystery to us. The conversion of a lovely neighborhood into a nauseous nightmare that offends the senses could bring satisfaction only to a warped perspective that calls for immediate corrective measures.

Littering has become a major problem. Our freeways are a disgrace; our shopping centers are inexcusably ugly because of the discards of insensitive morons; our beautiful residential streets are defaced by cans and bottles tossed from cars driven by idiots whose licenses should be revoked.

We threaten children and adults alike with dire punishment if caught throwing a gum or candy bar wrapping anywhere but into the containers provided for this purpose.

Will someone please offer a lucid explanation of what happens to so many parents when it comes to the asinine celebration of something called Devil's Night? We have heard a few offer the weak excuse that they went along with this sort of thing because they were afraid if they didn't the kids would resort to more vicious and destructive pursuits.

This is shabby and very cowardly thinking. There really is no legitimate argument for vandalism and destructive mischief. And there is no excuse for parents who, knowing their children have taken part in this senseless pastime, do not insist and make certain that, early the following morning, these youngsters shall be back on the street, cleaning up the mess they have created.

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the editor To The Editor: One night recently, my partner and I were working in Grosse Pointe Woods doing our normal patrol as Public Safety Officers on the midnight shift.

Our natural response on this type of a dispatch is to head toward the vicinity in case more police officers are needed. As we neared the accident scene we heard from the first arriving car, via police radio, that there were two victims pinned in the vehicle, and more police officers were needed.

Upon our arrival the first victim, the passenger, was being transported to the hospital in a Grosse Pointe Shores ambulance. The driver was still pinned in the vehicle and was unconscious at least, maybe already dead.

At this point those reading this article may wonder why the accident is brought up again, since it was documented in the October 21 issue of the Grosse Pointe News.

react to a responsibility at Lakeshore and Fisher Road where a minor accident occurred. (The accident car was involved and left the scene illegally.) Also, it is the understanding of the writer that intoxicants may have been involved. This is the main reason for this article.

When January 1, 1972 rolls around there will be many 18-year-old young adults entering drinking establishments, (legally), and drinking alcoholic beverages. It is logical to assume that most will not walk to these establishments. In this respect I have several questions.

What will be the result of this new legislation, you young people? Will you be wiser than the older generations, (of whom you have been so critical), who have constantly found it necessary to deprive their families of leadership because of an alcoholic-accident-caused death? Will you 18 and older 'young people' show us the greater sense of responsibility you claim for yourselves?

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard Since I'm just back from a trip to California, (San Francisco, Berkeley, Carmel and San Jose), visiting old friends and a son and daughter-in-law, you can hardly expect me to be too coherent. And yet - and yet, things pertaining to libraries and what they deal with and represent do appear in various forms. I even visited a branch library, mostly because the hostess had some overdue library books and wanted to return them - but quickly!

Are you familiar with P. G. Wodehouse - that loveable, slightly zany writer who shows us England, pastoral England, before the Fall? If you are one of his followers, as I am, you will be interested in an article I ran across in the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE written by Charles McCabe. It seems that "Pummie" turned 90 the other day, and so it is only right and just that we pause and reflect upon this author. He has written over 70 books, his first opus being written in 1902, and may very well be the only thing British that has not changed during this century. If I were to list his entire output, there would be no room for anything else in this column. His latest book is JEEVES AND THE TIE THAT BINDS. I'm sure you all know Jeeves, the famous butler, an unfappable tyrant, and his master, Bertie Wooster.

McCabe feels that Wodehouse's great charm as a writer is that he never let life touch him. His arcadian England is a vision peopled with those who play cricket, do not work, and get into frightful messes, frequently created by frightful aunts. Wodehouse is now an American citizen living with his wife in Long Island. He last visited Britain in 1939, when he received a degree from Oxford. Even then he felt that the old order was changing; old houses were being torn down, so that there was hardly a Jeeves left in the place!

About 1909, after five years of living in the United States, Wodehouse returned to England with the knowledge that the only thing an American wanted to know about England was the aristocracy. Thus, he wrote funny stories about docty noblemen of the kind who did exist in Edwardian days, but had pretty much died out by Armistice Day. Anyone who is a Wodehouse aficionado is one to the end of his days. He voraciously devours each tome that appears. Evelyn Waugh said about him: "Wodehouse has become not an author but a whole department of a rather delicate art... the master of the ultimate and lordly dead-

Band at South Makes Record The popular South High School Stage Band recently produced a stereo record and is now making it available to the general public. The 12-inch long playing album contains some of the favorites from the many appearances of the 17-piece group made during the winter and spring of 1971. The record was pressed by RCA Victor and produced with the new dyna-flex technique. There are 12 tunes on the record. One composition is a modern-jazz-rock idea, which was written by one of the senior band members, Bill Zeldner. The variety of music on the album is sure to please all those who enjoy the sounds of the "big bands." The album is being sold as a public relations gesture by the music department. It's available at the high school band room.

It was called the Art Calendar Contest, its theme was "Detroit in the Four Seasons," and over 200 Detroit Public High School students submitted pictures. Fourteen of the finest were selected by Sam Wagstaff, Mrs. Barnett Malbin and Jules Trattner for inclusion in the Detroit 1972 Calendar, printed by the Junior League of Detroit.

And here, courtesy of Sandy (Mrs. J. Lawrence, III) Buell, is what happened to some of the originals...

"Kennedy Square" by Kathleen Cook is the Detroit 1972 Calendar picture for June, and Punky (Mrs. A. David) Mikesell, of University place, fell in love with it.

"I love the gay, round faces—and did you know that there are at least six different ethnic faces in the picture?"

She calls the style "happy, primitive." When the Calendar pictures went on sale after the judging, Punky bought "Kennedy Square" for her library.

These are tears.

One day back in 1960, we remember seeing three of them. But not since. Mostly nice big smiles are what we see around our place. On our stylists. On our shampooists. On everyone from our receptionist to our maid. And on our clients, too. Who very much approve the careful way we cut and color and condition and comb and—oh well, everything! If you'd like a very happy hairdresser who specializes in clients of the same, see us. The only place we believe in tears is at the movies.

Goodwill Antiques Mart Is Scheduled

Personality of 24th Annual Exhibit-Sale to Remain Same, Although Setting is Changed to Detroit's Sentinel Center

Amid the splendor of Detroit's newest convention facility the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries will stage its 24th Annual Antiques Market and Sale. The show, to be held at the Sentinel Center in East Jefferson avenue at Chene street, Detroit, opens Friday, November 5, with an invitational preview.

Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 6 through 9, it will be open to the public at 11, remaining open until 9 each evening with the exception of Tuesday, when closing time is 8 o'clock.

Honorary chairmen are Governor and Mrs. William G. Milliken, Mayor and Mrs. Roman S. Gribbs, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Semon E. Knudsen.

Chairman of committees is Mrs. James E. Clark, Jr. Chairman of exhibitors is Mrs. Robert A. Radtke.

For the past 23 years the Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale has taken place at the Brush Street Goodwill Plant. Since the merger last year of Goodwill Industries and League for the Handicapped a continuing employment training program along with commercial contract work prevents the use of this building for show purposes.

Working closely with Detroit Renaissance the Junior Group was able to relocate the Market-Sale in a building with complete accessibility to the major freeways flowing into downtown Detroit.

Antiques, including American, English, French and Oriental furniture, prints, silver, china, glass, pewter and other accessory items will be offered for sale by 40 dealers from diverse sections of the country. The proposed floor plan places dealers in individual booths with sufficient room for shoppers. The entire show will be on one floor with 15,000 square feet of space for both booths and other features.

Interior decor of this huge area features a beamed ceiling with special acoustical treatment and rosewood-covered walls accented by scarlet carpeting and specially designed polished chrome chandeliers.

With these luxurious appointments the show will naturally gain much sophistication. Its traditional "personality", however, will not be lost.

The Goodwill Booth, a favorite of many shoppers, will offer items of quality collected by the Industries during the

Local 'Fiddler' Takes to Roof

What was Gordon Staples, Detroit Symphony Orchestra concertmaster, doing on the roof of Ford Auditorium, Stradivarius in hand — thank goodness it wasn't raining! — recently?

Well . . . Ginny (Mrs. William) Peattie talked him into it. Gordon, you see, has been chosen the honorary fiddler for the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's "Fiddler on the Roof" benefit at Northland Theater Friday evening, November 12.

An afterglow at Northland Inn will follow the premiere performance.

The Sixteen Ehrings and Mr. and Mrs. Staples will be on hand for the festivities in Southfield, and pre-performance parties include several in The Pointe, with Mrs. Charles Endicott, president of the Symphony Juniors, and Mrs. Ray Fahim among local hostesses.

Tickets for the benefit may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Walter Ebling, of Shady Hollow circle, Bloomfield Hills. Preceding the Fiddler benefit by two days is a Juniors' luncheon-meeting after which everyone will continue on to Ford Auditorium to hear Mrs. Robert Kaiser present the first of her pre-Open Rehearsal lectures, "A German Survey."

Then it's time for the Symphony's Open Rehearsal itself, of course.

Tickets for the event are available at $1 for students and Senior Citizens, $2 for everyone else, through Mrs. Volrad J. von Berg, of North Rosedale court. The lecture begins at 1 o'clock.

For her marriage the former Miss Lane selected an Empire gown of cancellight satin. Appliques of Duchesse lace embroidered with seed pearls accented her bodice and long puffed sleeves.

Her circular train was Cathedral length and a coronet of pearl-studded lace held her fingertip illusion veil. She carried an arrangement of white roses and baby's-breath.

Carrying nosegays of pink Sweetheart roses, baby's-breath, purple statice and pink starflowers were Patricia Anne Lane, who flew in from Honolulu where she is a student at the University of Hawali to serve as her sister's honor maid, and bridesmaids Stephanie Klein, of Ann Arbor, JoAnn Majester and Mrs. Chester Wojciechowski.

Miniature pink Sweetheart roses feathered their hair and they wore floor length frocks of shocking pink jersey accented with polished satin.

In a long pink velvet dress, a halo of pink flowers in her hair, carrying a basket of rose petals was flower girl Julie A. Anderman, the bride's niece.

Best man was John Frederick Ruff, of Ypsilanti, Michael J. Oliver, of Oxford, Steve Adams, of Ann Arbor, and William E. Anderman, III, the bride's brother, seated the guests.

Mrs. Lane chose a street length beige shantung dress and jacket ensemble, collared and hemmed with pastel mink. The bridegroom's mother wore a long-sleeved dress of mint green satin-ter, and Janice Jamerino, the bridegroom's sister.

Albert Kaspur Claims Bride

Claiming Judy Ann Laszczak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Laszczak, of Romeo, as his bride Thursday evening, October 28, was Albert Joseph Kaspur, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert J. Kaspur, of South Oxford road.

After the 7 o'clock rites in St. Maron Cathedral and a reception at Marchiori's the newlyweds left for a vacation on Mackinac Island. They will be making their home in Balfour road.

A lace bib accented the bride's white crepe gown and her net veil fell from a headpiece of pearl-beaded flowers. She carried an arrangement of yellow baby roses, miniature carnations, baby's-breath and ivy.

She was attended by Patricia Modrzejewski, in a green velvet frock, carrying a bouquet of orange and yellow mums with ivy. Best man was Gregory A. Wheeler. James and Joseph Laszczak, the bride's brothers, ushered.

Mr. Bryant's topic is "Crises in the Search for Equity." Following his speech there will be a question-and-answer period.

chosen for the Calendar's inside cover. The original was purchased by Peppy (Mrs. David C.) Mitchell for her husband. "Dave goes to the Eastern Market EVERY Saturday, so I had to get it for him."

October's "Urban Lines" by Paul Butcko and February's "Plant No. 1" by Shelly Dunn were bought by Bliss (Mrs. John H. W.) Clark for Jon's law office, because Bliss felt it would be "fun to have Detroit-oriented art there."

"Detroit Institute of Arts" by Cheryl Flowerday and "Grand Circus Park" by John Cianfarani have recently moved to Milwaukee with their owner Mary (Mrs. Glenn W.) Caan.

Bunny (Mrs. William J., II) Decker was looking for an appropriate picture for her son's room. And she wanted "good art."

When she saw Kurt Bergman's "Rain in Downtown Detroit," she knew that it was right: There were cars to please three-year-old Billy, it was Detroit, and it was good.

Bunny must have an eye for talent, for Kurt since has won several awards and decided to major in Art. "Rain in Downtown Detroit" is the Detroit 1972 Calendar cover. Bunny thinks the artist "has quite a future ahead of him."

Betty (Mrs. Foster H.) Barrows doesn't know what kind of future Robert E. Cole has. She does know that his "Park Scene" is "very happy, very peaceful."

Birds fly around, snow falls, and Betty loves "the aesthetic feeling of it . . . the nostalgic feeling. It takes me back to my childhood and makes me feel comfortable. I love it so!"

"Park Scene" is the Calendar picture for December.

Many pictures not chosen for the Calendar were nevertheless eagerly bought. Nancy (Mrs. Eugene J.) Kornmeier, III, wanted the "Hudson Flag." She gave it to her sister-in-law to hang in her office—said sister-in-law being a buyer for Hudson's.

"Skating on Belle Isle" was bought by Harriett (Mrs. William) Lafer, whose real coup was purchase of "The Old Stove." Harriett bought it for her godchild's fifth birthday; after all, his great-grandfather built the stove.

All agree that the art work submitted by these talented high school students expressed a pride and faith in Detroit.

The Calendar makes a striking Christmas gift. It's available at Mr. Sheridan Books, Hudson's, Hickey's, The Mole Hole, Sign of the Mermaid, Trail's, Virginia Williams, The Sphere, The Learning Tree and The Detroit Institute of Arts.

All profits realized from Calendar sales will be returned to the community through Junior League projects.

A New Kentucky Colonel

The English-Speaking Union had its own night at the Detroit Institute of Arts' newly-opened North Wing last week, and a beautiful black tie dinner night it was, with ESU Detroit Branch President Les Putnam, of Earl court, presiding and Leona Putnam, a Docent, leading one of the tours through the museum's newest galleries.

Hold Pettipointe Quester Meeting

One of the foremost authorities on historical Staffordshire china, Mrs. Peter Chandler, of Fraser, will be guest speaker at a coffee-meeting of the Pettipointe Chapter of Questers.

Mrs. Robert Berschback, of Handy road, is opening her home to members today, Thursday, November 4, and Mrs. Chandler will bring many choice pieces from her collection and tell the history of each.

In October the Chapter enjoyed a study paper on Iron-stone china given by Mrs. John Ryan at the Washington road home of Mrs. Richard Weinberg. Mrs. Ryan traced Ironstone's history from its Oriental origin through its arrival in America when the British colonists first came to this country.

She displayed pieces from her collection as did Mrs. Joseph James, Pettipointe's president.

Volunteers Needed For Artrain's Visit

Six Hundred Guides to Be Recruited; No Experience Necessary; Mrs. William D. Beach Heads Services Committee for Project

The Michigan Artrain will develop the theme "A Vision of Art" when it comes to Detroit November 19 through December 15 and January 10 to 27. It will be open to the public from 10 in the morning to 6 in the evening Thursdays through Sundays.

This five-car touring adventure of the arts, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. William Milliken, the Governor's wife, was developed by a special Artrain Advisory Council of the Michigan Council for the Arts.

The Council, an Agency of the State of Michigan funded in part by state appropriation, consists of a board of 15 non-salaried people appointed by the Governor and seeks to develop programs and projects in all the arts, making music, painting, literature, cinema, dance, sculpture, crafts and architecture available to all the people of Michigan.

Artrain is not meant to be a gallery. It takes on the more ambitious job of projecting a whole visual experience and incorporates original art, slide projections, sound, working artists and the design of the train cars themselves.

The train, which has been drawing 11,000 people per day in out-state locations, is expected to tour Michigan for the next several years. Over 100 communities already have requested Artrain visits. It was in Detroit briefly earlier in the fall, stopping for five days to honor the many local people who have assisted in its creation.

Mrs. William D. Beach, of Rivard boulevard, is Services chairman for Artrain's upcoming Detroit stop. Mrs. John MacKay, of East Jefferson avenue, is one of her assistants.

Their job is to recruit 600 volunteer guides to help with tours when Artrain is in Detroit. Each guide will be given a three-to-four hour shift plus a detailed description of what to say and do—no experience is necessary.

Prospective volunteers may contact Mrs. Beach at 882-6060 or Mrs. MacKay at 882-6206.

The Michigan Branch of the American Association of University Women is one of the groups sponsoring Artrain's Detroit visit. Mrs. Beach is the AAUW Grosse Pointe Branch's first vice-president.

Guy Lombardo, 'Skitch' Henderson Coming to Masonic Auditorium

Guy Lombardo, who brings his Royal Canadians to the Masonic Auditorium Saturday, November 13, at 8:30 p.m., is almost as well known as a sports enthusiast as he is for his "sweetest music this side of heaven."

Lombardo is well known in the sport of boat racing and is a member of the Unlimited Hydroplane Division of the American Powerboat Association. As a racing chairman for an occasional big event and full time racing buff, he is in frequent contact with drivers, builders and officials.

"I've lost several good friends in powerboat crashes in the last few years," Lombardo says sadly.

"There's no way to stop it. It's time to quit using exotic fuels and make hot rod modifications on the engines. These engines are powerful enough just the way the manufacturers built them."

The worst day ever for unlimited hydroplanes was June 19, 1966, when drivers Musson, Manchester and Wilson were killed on the Potomac River in Washington, D. C.

As Chairman of racing committee in Washington recently, Lombardo presented the President's Cup to the winner, Colonel Warner Gardiner. Two weeks later, Gardiner flipped in his Miss Eagle Electric during the running of the Gold Cup at Detroit and later died of his injuries.

Lombardo himself won the Gold Cup in 1946 and came out of retirement in 1952 to win the President's Cup and the Silver Cup. He insists unlimited hydroplanes are producing far more casualties than auto racing since big business began to dominate the sport and engine tinkering became common practice.

Tickets for the performance of Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians are available at the Masonic Auditorium Box Office, Grinnell's downtown and all J. L. Hudson ticket centers.

The "Skitch" Henderson Show comes to the Masonic Auditorium Sunday, November 21 at 3 p.m.

"Skitch" Henderson is a composer, conductor, pianist raconteur and one of the country's outstanding concert and television personalities. His colorful career ranges from piano stunts in what he affectionately calls "pubs" to guest direction of the New York Philharmonic.

Born in England but raised in Minnesota, Kansas and Oklahoma, he showed an early aptitude for the piano. After an interruption by World War II, he resumed his career as a rehearsal pianist and orchestrator in Hollywood. He was invited to take over the musical leadership of "The Bing Crosby Hour"; and, subsequently, joined forces with Frank Sinatra and Dorothy Kirsten for the famous "Lucky Strike" radio series.

At the completion of the radio cycle he was invited by National Broadcasting Company to join their New York staff. At the invitation of Arturo Toscanini, he made his conducting (Continued on Page 28)

Boyne Country Condominiums

Right in the heart of Mid-America's skiing, golf and recreation mecca—BOYNE COUNTRY. The Boynestadt condominium village is nestled at the foot of fabulous Boyne Mountain and overlooks world-renowned Boyne Mountain Lodge.

Jungfrau
Reminiscent of Switzerland's most dramatic and well-known mountain, the "Jungfrau" provides a towering accent to the Boynestadt village concept. The Jungfrau's five-storied reach assures a magnificent view of Boynestadt, Boyne Mountain, and surrounding terrain.

Arlberg
As vast as the Austrian Alpine Ski country after which it is named, the Arlberg apartment building houses the largest of all buildings in the Boynestadt Condominium village complex.

Mont Blanc
Recalling memories of Europe's highest mountain, the "Mont Blanc" building sets in quiet majesty in the Boynestadt complex. The two-storied Mont Blanc building houses 4 apartments keyed to discriminating tastes and offers broad vistas of the entire area.

4 seasons of recreation

Skier of all the famous Boyne Country areas—Boyne Mountain, Boyne Highlands, Thunder Mountain, and Walden Hills—begin November through April.

Ball at the magnificent 18-hole championship mountain course, 9-hole par 3 course within walking distance from the village, plus a golf training camp for youngsters—and only a short drive away, the challenging 18-hole, Boyne Highlands course. Already one of the top ten in the nation, designed by Robert Trent Jones plus the 9-hole par 3 Highlands course—72 holes of golf.

Boone Lake Rowing-Boating Club to serve golfers, swimmers, boaters and fishermen whose beautiful white beach and private club house with dining and locker room facilities offers the ultimate in lakeside fun. The prime sandy beach, much of which shelves out at a gentle slope as far as 300 yards before youngsters can get chin-deep, is the lake's chief allure. Water is crystal-clear and, because the half-mile wide lake is nestled like a jewel in a bowl of hills, waves are never so high that a fisherman would become endangered by high winds. It also has a good lee shore, regardless of wind direction, for water skiing at any time of the day.

Dear Lake has long been noted as a base and pits angling lake and abounds with bluegills, sunfish, and perch for the novice angler just learning to handle a fly rod. What's more, several small trout streams flow through the Dear Lake area just south of the lake and are readily accessible by good roads.

A fleet of rental boats and sailing craft will be available to guests—and a launching ramp will be provided for club members desiring to bring their own. A private road connects the Boyne County Four-Seasons Beach Club with Boynestadt just a mile away to the westward.

Boynestadt is only minutes of easy access to a resort complex which offers you 10,000 acres of pleasure—skiing, golf, salmon and trout fishing, sailing, motorboating, deer and small game hunting, swimming, waterskiing, horseback riding, retirement living, investment opportunities—all in one recreational administrative organization.

Purdy & Associates OFFERS THE FIRST OFFERINGS

HOW about four bedrooms with two and a half baths, family room and extra special basement? This one is in great shape and all our sales people think this is a sensational buy. Oh! this one is a colonial—center entrance. Just great.

THERE are a lot of people who are looking for a place to live with an investment attached or are looking for just that perfect investment. Here we have one. Located on one of Grosse Pointe's finest streets (Windmill Pointe Drive). We offer a perfectly wonderful flat in the Colonial design. There's an upstairs and down and it's beautifully constructed. We just can't say enough about this one. If it's living together with plenty of privacy—this is it.

NEW OFFERING on the Country Club Golf Course. A fabulous smaller three bedroom colonial of superior construction. It's a cute one—painted white.

OPEN SUNDAY 2:30 to 5:00 WHEN OUR STAFF first looked at 115 LAKESHORE DRIVE they just couldn't believe it. The view of the lake is just great and from most of the major rooms. There are two master bedrooms on the first floor and a fine guest room on the second floor. Also on the second floor you will find maid's quarters. Downstairs, there's a great living room and tremendous family room. We won't say more—just stop and see it on Sunday.

SHOWN BY APPOINTMENT A GREAT LITTLE HOUSE with plenty of living area for the newly weds or retirees. It's a colonial and one that's in great shape. There are three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths and a paneled library. All of the attached carpeting is included. THIS IS A GOOD ONE.

DO YOU LIKE ENGLISH TUDOR? This is truly the version with five bedrooms—three baths library and recreation room. The yard is extra special as is the house. Available for occupancy within a short period of time.

WE JUST can't make any more of the lake frontage so it's rather scarce. This home is located right on the water and it's in the Shores. The design is really Southern Colonial and the approach is so gracious—the pillars and all. Also this is a blend of the old and the new. The kitchen is very modern and the family room is almost brand new yet the library is done in that wonderfully old paneling. There are six bedrooms and a ball room—don't hesitate to call for more information.

GROSSE POINTE PARK—an unusual home. The design is Colonial with a circular drive for an approach. There are six bedrooms with an interesting arrangement since one bedroom and private baths has it's own elevator. Does this get you thinking? Oh! there are two extra rooms on the first floor and you should see the recreation room. It's an authentic English pub—a wonderful place to entertain—play poker, etc.

HIL MICOU BUILT THIS one and it truly is one of his finest. You won't believe the design—masterpiece of architecture. The driveway enters from the lake-shore but the entrance is on the rear of the house. All of the main rooms overlook the lake. There are other features like air-conditioning and beautiful gardens but the style and elegance are breathtaking.

CLOSE TO EVERYTHING—Schools, churches, transportation and shopping. Not a large home but not too small either. It has the French touch with perfectly beautiful gardens included. There are three bedrooms and two full baths on the second floor plus a powder room on the first floor. All attached carpeting, all draperies and curtains plus range and refrigerator are included. This won't last long at $42,500.

TWO HOUSES IN ONE AND DESIGNED THAT WAY. Located on semi-dead end street in the Farms. Overlooks the golf course. What can we say—it's super. This home offers the old and new—the modern and not so modern—just charm. We mean that. The house was designed for the large family. It has the formal area and the informal area for the children. If you have a medium to large sized family—call us on this one—it's a gem.

ANOTHER TRULY FAMILY HOME. Located on Renaud near the lake we offer a newer colonial with five bedrooms and four baths on the second floor plus maid's quarters on the first floor. There's also a library with fireplace and bar. This room is paneled. The family room is superior. It has a fireplace and bar and barbecue. Some of the other features include a recreation room, lovely yard, sprinkler system and circular drive.

ANOTHER AUTHENTIC TUDOR within a stone's throw of the Lake. It's located on a dead end street in the Shores—a perfect home for that fine family of yours. This one features five bedrooms plus a deluxe family room that was designed to bring the outdoors in.

YOU CAN BUY THIS for a fraction of the cost and it's a beauty. Located on Lakeshore Drive it overlooks the lake. It is in the modern vein with such things as convex and concave glass. There are four family bedrooms plus maids' rooms and a garage apartment for the gardener or other help. The grounds are beautiful—it's just indescribable.

VACANT FOR SALE Lakeshore Drive 150' frontage $75,000. Audubon 40' adj. to 1137 $15,000. Somerset 40' frontage $10,000. Berkshire 75' frontage $18,000. Lakeshore Drive 100' frontage $55,000.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe Woods MICHIGAN

PUBLIC INFORMATION BULLETIN NO. 1, 1971

SUBJECT: Proposed Electric Service Improvements in Grosse Pointe Woods Area Resulting from June 28, 1971 Service Interruptions

Recently officials from The Detroit Edison Company presented plans to officials of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods which outlined a 2.8 million dollar upgrading of that area's electrical system over the next five years.

The meeting was held as a result of a report issued by City Administrator Petersen to the Woods' City Council, expressing deep concern over last summer's power failure in that city.

Attending the meeting from the City of Grosse Pointe Woods were Mayor McLeod; Councilmen Boerner, Boutin, Freeman, Graef and Naegel; City Administrator Petersen; and City Attorney Catlin. Representing the Detroit Edison Company were Chester F. Ogden, Administrative Vice President; John R. Hamann, Vice President for Operations; M. William Heldman, Supervisor of Governmental Marketing; and James B. Oliver, Assistant Director of Systems Engineering Department.

In addition to outlining improvements projected for the area, the Edison officials gave a detailed account of the electric service interruption that occurred during the heat storm of last June 28th.

The improvements planned by the Edison Company include three new distribution circuits at Vernier Station to provide for electrical load growth in the area. Cables on eight of the circuits are being replaced to provide for higher ratings. Rearrangements within the station will increase the capacity by 20% to 36,000 kilowatts.

Mr. Ogden stated that these measures, together with a new substation in the area, will further improve electric service for the city. Ogden said that these changes are being implemented to prevent further occurrences of the type that caused a large circuit breaker to fail June 28, 1971 during the severe heat storm. This resulted in extensive fire damage to the Company's Vernier Substation at 1945 Vernier Road. Failures of this type are so rare, he said, that only four have occurred throughout the entire 7,600 square mile electric system during the sixty-eight-year history of the Company and no such occurrence has ever been experienced before at the Vernier Substation.

The demand for electricity is increasing in Grosse Pointe Woods at the rate of about 8% per year. To meet the needs here and elsewhere on the system Edison has underway one of the largest utility construction programs in the nation. During the next five years $2.8 billion will be needed for new power facilities in the entire Detroit Edison Service area.

Expressing their greatest concern over the subsequent lack of power at the Milk River Pumping Station during the power failure and fearful that if a heavy rainstorm had ensued thousands of homes in their city could have been flooded, the Woods' officials were advised by Mr. Hamann of the Detroit Edison Company that the electrical service to that particular storm water pumping station was temporarily discontinued in order to afford a greater degree of safety for the workmen involved in the repair of the damage at the Vernier Road substation. He further stated that the proper electrical power was available at all times to operate the pumping station if conditions had required its operation.

The Edison Company expressed hopes that such a massive power failure will be avoided in the future by the projected improvement program currently under way for the area and pledged their renewed cooperation to constantly keep the Woods' officials advised of the progress of such improvements as well as keeping the City properly advised concerning any future electrical system interruptions.

Pointers of Interest

By Janet Mueller

It's Christmas Fair Day all day today at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church in Lakeshore road, where doors opened at 10 o'clock this morning on a bounty of handmade and homemade beauties—but don't let those words fool you: At THIS FAIR, handmade and homemade are synonyms for well-made—created during the past year by the Women of the Church, working together.

And that, the working together, is a good part of what this biggest-of-The-Pointe's Church-Christmas-Fairs is all about.

It takes a trio to co-chairman it, three women who, working together for two years, (Memorial Church presents its Fair every other year alternating with Christ Church; workshops don't start on one Fair until the other is completed, but chairmen must be lined up before the workshops can begin, a good working organization depends on good pre-organization), are ultimately responsible for making everything come together.

They've done their job.

She Had Reservations
A job Laura Rea had reservations, at first, about tackling.

"When I was asked to be the chairman—and I'm sure they asked a good many others before they got to me—I felt at first that I was too old, that I had done enough," Mrs. Rea admits.

Then she got on the phone, to her daughter Mary (Mrs. Jeremy) Webster and her daughter-in-law Mary Mrs. Thatcher W., Jr.) Rea.

"I said I would take it . . . providing I could find two young women to act as co-chairmen."

For one, she found she'd grown her own. Mary Webster agreed to work with her mother.

For the other, enter Jeanne (Mrs. Carl E. Jr.) Reichert, a good friend of Laura's daughter-in-law, Mary Rea. "She (Jeanne Reichert) is an adopted daughter of mine," says Laura Rea.

The Caravan Moves
Mrs. Rea took up the reins. The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church 1971 committee caravan began to move forward.

The late Thatcher Rea used to say of his wife: "Committees are her hobbies." Past-president of Planned Parenthood, Detroit, and of the Detroit Metropolitan YWCA, she's currently a member of the Women's Activities Committee at the Detroit Institute of Arts and of the District Nursing Society, and president of the Women's Historical Society, a 95-year-old study club.

She's a patron of the arts and of the symphony. She's an indefatigable, enthusiastic traveler, a woman who's journeyed around the world, visited Scandinavia, Russia, the Orient (twice), who's been through Europe, the Caribbean, who's seen India, toured the Greek Isles.

She wouldn't miss a summer at Castle Park, Michigan.

Seven Grandchildren
Mary Webster and Thatcher, Jr., are her only children. Between them, they've given Laura Rea seven grandchildren, five boys and two girls. Three of the boys are Websters.

Jeremy D. Webster, M.D., is a urologist. The Webster boys are David, 12, John, 10, and Stephen, who will be eight on Thanksgiving.

The Websters are a water family, delighted with their new sailboat, (they've had others, but this one is a beauty!) which arrived in mid-August. They plan to cruise the Great Lakes aboard it next summer, and may even do some cruising off the coast of Maine.

Mary and Jerry were in Maine last summer, sailed there, and loved it.

They both skin dive and Jerry takes underwater movies. The Caribbean is their special place, the sea they keep returning to, the waters in which they've swum, sailed and dove since before the boys were born.

Now they're introducing their sons to the area. "Last year we took the boys to the Virgin Islands. We're talking about taking them to Grand Cayman."

The boys are willing. They all swim, of course, David plays tennis and the entire Webster family skis.

Her Moral Support
Then there's hunting . . . The Websters have two German shortbairs, both females, (Mary must have SOME moral support in her all-male menage), who particularly enjoy that.

Mary Webster's gone the Cub 500 Den Mother route. She joys needlepoint, loves to settle down with a good book and is currently taking guitar lessons.

She's a long-time member, past-chairman, of the Junior League Glee Club and serves on Planned Parenthood's associate board. "I've worked on the (Planned Parenthood) Christmas Maris and White Elephant Sales. In the past, I've been very active in Planned Parenthood clinics. I plan to return to that . . ."

After the 1971 Memorial Church Fair.

They're Mirror Images
In some ways, Jeanne Reichert and Mary Webster are mirror images.

Jeanne, too, is married to an M.D. Dr. Reichert is an orthopedic surgeon. The Reicherts, too, have three children, a trio of girls: Carla, 14, Lisa, 11, and seven-year-old Paula.

Jeanne's gone the Brownie leader route.

The Reichert dog, a Norwegian Elkhound named Toby, is a boy, (Carl must have SOME moral support in his all-female menage).

Jeanne sings with the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Choraleers, the group that's scheduled to appear with the Symphony February 19 in Ford Auditorium, when Alex Karras narrates "Peter and the Wolf."

Music is a Reichert family thing. Carla is an excellent flautist, Lisa plays the piano and Paula has just begun keyboard lessons. Jeanne and Carl ski, and plan to take the children to Snowmass soon, but tennis is Jeanne's particular sport: She plays four times a week. Minimum.

She does a bit of painting too, enjoys sewing and reading and is co-chairman of next month's Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Christmas Walk.

Both from East

The Reicherts are transplanted Easterners. Carl is from Philadelphia, Jeanne from Lancaster—"the garden spot of the world, in the heart of the Pennsylvania Dutch country."

They love the east, returning every summer to vacation on Long Beach Island 30 miles north of Atlantic City, but they love Michigan too. They came here when Carl was in the service.

After he finished his tour of duty at Fort Wayne Carl took his residency here. Jeanne, once a nurse, decided wife and mother was the career for her.

The Reicherts moved from the Northwest Side to Grosse Pointe five years ago, and promptly joined Memorial Church. Jeanne and Carl served as TUXIS, (Memorial Church Teen Group), advisors for three years.

They're All Happy
It was a happy service, for both of them. Just as the Memorial Church Fair co-chairmanship is a happy service for Jeanne . . .

And for Mary Webster . . . And for Laura Rea . . .

Laura's the one who found the 1971 Fair theme, "Star of Hope," in a poem by Lucy Schulte:

"God, light the Star of Hope again and place it as a symbol in the sky. God, let the torn earth's labored pain bring forth the answer to the people's cry: Peace, peace on earth, Goodwill, goodwill in men."

In her 40 years on the YWCA Board Laura's found countless themes for devotionals, clipped and collected them as she came across them and filed them in her book of thoughts, her personal treasure chest of "things that have appealed to me."

Form Her Portrait
Those notebooks form a Portrait of The Lady.

She took on all the administrative details of the Fair while Jeanne and Mary split the 29 handicraft booths down the middle, each agreeing to be responsible for, to find chairmen for, to check that everything was going well for, her half.

"Getting chairmen is the most difficult thing," they agree. Once that's over, once a good organization has been set up, set in motion, momentum takes over . . . and surprise—"It hasn't been as bad as people said it would be," Jeanne Reichert admits.

It has been a Big Job.

Everything at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Fair has been handmade or homemade or collected by the Women of the Church, working together.

Many Work in Church
Many of them worked together at the Church, where Tuesday has been Workshop Day, where, in one room on any given Tuesday, you might have found a group engaged in hand-setting exquisite one-of-a-kind pieces of jewelry, in another room another group creating "Nature's Treasures," everything from a garden in a teacup to owl-magnets, all fashioned of natural substances, woods and dried flowers, shells and stones.

Tuesday by Tuesday the piles of finished pieces, stained glass sun-catchers, doll houses, tin mobiles, children's clothes, Christmas centerpieces, "Potpourri's" potpourri, grew.

Knitters knitted, decoupage decoupage, needlepointers stitched, artists painted, crafters crafted, at home and at the Church, on Tuesday and every other day of the week.

debut with the NBC Symphony. This led to his being engaged by the New York Philharmonic and because of the success of these performances, Mr. Henderson has had his foot in the best of both musical worlds—symphonic and variety.

In 1952, NBC devised a new entertainment format called the "Tonight Show". Henderson was chosen as music director as well as talent coordinator and at the same time assumed the position of general music director of the NBC Network.

He recently enjoyed a stunning success with his ballet "Curacao" for the Boston Ballet Company. His definitive recording of "Porgy and Bess" for the RCA Company brought both Miss Leontyne Price and Mr. Henderson the highest awards bestowed by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS).

Tickets for the "Sketch" Henderson Show, Sunday, November 21, at 3 p.m. are available at the Masonic Auditorium Box Office, Grinnell's downtown and all J. L. Hudson ticket centers.

This time . . . THIS TIME, Carolyn Hubbard Lucas, the delightful doyenne of Huron City, the charming chatelaine of that charming home in East Jefferson avenue overlooking Lake St. Clair, has surpassed herself . . . It's not often that we devote a whole column to one poem—although we've often included Mrs. Lucas's poems IN a column—but it's not often that Mrs. Lucas is feeling . . .

SLIGHTLY NOSTALGIC

History's pages show different stages
And so it goes from age to ages.
For instance: Women's varied range
Of styles has passed through quite a change—
If she were young in nineteen-hundred
About her lovely "limbs" we wondered,
Of if she wore a "peek-a-boo,"
As she was wont in nineteen-ten,
Or smart split skirt like nineteen-ten,
Or peplums that came in again.
What women wear or do not wear
Is news—here, there and everywhere.
Our fun and pastimes change by name
Yet pleasure always is the same
And nineteen-thirteen's "flappers" sweet
Had nothing to do with Charlie's feet,
Nor Mr. Chaplin's pantomime
With technicolor in thirty-nine.
Our speech has changed in form and hue
For nineteen-twenty said, "Skidoo!"
And nineteen-forty, "Pitch the woo!"
But if you live 'til eighty-two,
Neither will register with you.
Remember back in nineteen-ten?
"Oh, queen, you said a mouthful!" then.
Later you knew—and gave him credit
When someone muttered, "Man, you said it!"
And all our planned economy
Is still unsettled as can be
For, in two thousand, will they know
What was an "income bungalow?"
And in the year two thousand-three
What will the word for "sitter" be?
