TOP AFL-CIO LEADERS decided privately Wednesday to stay on President Nixon's Pay Board despite what they said were efforts by industry and public members to harass them into quitting and blame them for any failure of new wage controls. "There is no such thing as us walking off the board," said a source who attended a closed meeting of the labor federation's powerful executive council. "It's better to participate on the Pay Board rather than be on the outside looking in."

AMERICAN MOTORS COMPANY (AMC) Wednesday became the first automobile manufacturer to receive approval of the President's Price Commission to raise prices on its 1972 models. The commission ruled that AMC's application for a 2.5 percent average increase on its passenger cars and Jeep vehicles meets the general Phase 2 guidelines laid down last week.

AN ASSISTANT FROM THE WEATHERMAN and stinging steps by the federal government eased the air pollution crisis in Birmingham, Ala., Thursday. But new alerts were sounded for Pittsburgh and New York metropolitan areas as an enormous band of stagnant air stretched from New England to the Deep South. Acting for the first time under the emergency provisions of the Clean Air Act, the federal government sent out U. S. marshals in Birmingham with court orders directing 23 major industries to stop fouling the air. Before they could be served, southerly winds began breaking up the temperature inversion which bottled up the pollution and the orders were expected to be short lived.

Saturday, November 20
PRESIDENT NIXON asked hostile, snickering labor leaders Friday to support his new economic program. He warned them if they do not cooperate he will go ahead anyway to enforce his wage and price controls. In an almost unprecedented display of public contempt for a chief executive, the 2,000 delegates to the AFL-CIO convention in Bali Harbor, Fla., put the freeze on the man who froze their wages.

Sunday, November 21
PAY BOARD CHAIRMAN George H. Boldt rejected a Democratic charge Saturday that the board's approval of a guideline-busting wage increase for the nation's soft-coal miners threatened to torpedo President Nixon's post-freeze economic controls. While denying that the coal settlement would get a pattern for future permissible pay raises, Boldt told the House Senate Economic Committee that anything less than the board's virtual ban of retroactive wage boosts would be "inequitable and unfair."

Monday, November 22
PRESIDENT ANWAR SADAT told Egyptian troops for the second time in 24 hours, that he has despaired of Middle East peace efforts and that "our decision is to fight," the Middle East News Agency said Sunday night in Cairo. The agency said Sadat made the announcement during a visit to a frontline air force base.

Tuesday, November 23
THE SENATE PASSED a $27 billion tax cut bill Monday night after trying to it, over Republican protests, a Democratic-sponsored plan to finance presidential campaigns with tax funds. The vote on the bill was 64 to 30. The bill contains provisions asked by President Nixon as part of his economic policy designed to create jobs and boost industrial production. These provisions should increase consumer purchasing power by advancing the dates for tax cuts for individuals, and offer big incentives to business modernization.

Sharp Verbal Exchange Adds Spice to Special Woods Council Meeting

Mayor McLeod and Marvin Boutin Lock Horns Over Item On Agenda; Lake St. Clair Pollution Real Reason For Session

The Grosse Pointe Woods Special Council meeting on Monday, November 22, was short but NOT very sweet. Councilman Marvin Boutin and Mayor Kenneth McLeod locked horns in a verbal exchange that ended with Mr. Boutin exclaiming that "Grosse Pointe Woods is not a dictatorship... YET!"

The argument was sparked by Mayor McLeod's questioning of an agenda item, which he said he was not aware was to be discussed. He said he did not like items placed on the agenda of a Special Meeting, (these are usually called for a specific purpose), for fear it would appear as though the Council was attempting to "cover something up."

Mr. Boutin countered with, "I resent your inference that I was attempting to cover something up. I asked Chester Petersen to put the matter on the agenda. I saw no reason to call you, since Mr. Petersen knew about it. If you have to know everything that is on the agenda it's news to me."

Ask: Voting Privileges
The item was a proposed resolution regarding the voting privileges of the smaller cities at the National League of Cities Convention. The 48th session meets next week in Hawaii.

Mr. Boutin asked George Catlin, city attorney if he had indeed prepared such a resolution. Mr. Catlin explained that he was not clear just what Mr. Boutin wanted prior to this meeting. He said he

Men's Night In 'Village' December 6

Traditional Event Gives Men Chance to Make Their Christmas Shopping Enjoyable

The original Grosse Pointe Men's Night in The Village, the annual Christmas shopping night set apart for men and boys over 16, will be observed this year on Monday evening, December 6.

Strolling musicians will provide musical accompaniment as husbands, father, boyfriends and brothers shop for Christmas gifts, completely uninterrupted. No women or girls are allowed in the Village stores on Men's Night with the exception of sales personnel. Special assist help will be on hand to assist in selection, and all the stores are brimming with giftworthy items.

Giant spotlights will light the sky at both ends of the Village shopping area during Men's Night shopping hours of 7 to 10 o'clock. Kercheval avenue will be in its best holiday dress.

Men's Night in The Village as well as the tree-lighting ceremony which coincided with Santa's arrival in Grosse Pointe Village on Monday, November 26, was sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association.

Clarence F. Wascher, Jacobson's, who is president of the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association, stated that the association would like to give credit for much of the success of the tree lighting event to those people of the community who had an active part in it.

"Special recognition," said Mr. Wascher, "should go to the Grosse Pointe North High School Band and its director, Nathan Judson, and to the local Girl Scouts and their leaders." Heading the Girl Scout participation was Mrs. Murray Klimchuk.

"The 20-foot live tree, planted on the Kresse lawn area, is decorated with handmade ornaments, created by the Brownies of Grosse Pointe. All Brownies are represented in the ornaments on the tree, making this truly a community tree," said Mr. Wascher.

Arraign Fourth Accused Vandal In Farms Court

Three Youths, Girl Charged With Malicious Destruction of Store Windows; Five More Proprietors Report Damages
By James Njalm

The fourth teenager accused in the November 12 malicious destruction of store windows along Mack avenue, and also as a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages, was given a preliminary hearing in Farms Municipal Court on Wednesday, November 17, before Farms Judge Robert Pytel.

Appearing in court was Gloria Beth Pokone, 17, of 20884 Parkcrest, Harper Woods who entered a plea of innocent to both charges. She was released on personal bond of $1,000 to appear for examination before Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow. The hearing was scheduled for yesterday, November 24.

Also scheduled to appear in Woods court yesterday, on the same charges, were Donn W. Coppens of 19438 Woodside, and Douglas C. Louzon of 19145 Woodside, both of Harper Woods, and Ronald W. Miller of 18911 Edgfield, Detroit. All are 17 years old.

Louzon's wife, Rebecca Sue, 17, is scheduled for trial on a charge of minor in possession on Wednesday, December 1, along with her husband, and Coppens, Miller and Miss Pokone.

Just Turned 17
A sixth member of the group, charged only as a minor in possession, Elizabeth Ann Boik of 20277 Woodland, Harper Woods, whose age was mistakenly given as 17, in last week's issue of the NEWS, will be tried in Juvenile Court. She became 17 years old on Tuesday, November 23, but, according to Woods authorities, since she was still considered a juvenile at the time of her arrest, she will be given a hearing in that court. The date is pending.

The three youths and Miss Pokone, besides the possession charge, are formally accused in warrants approved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, of malicious destruction of property over $100, a felony under Michigan Law. Conviction on such a charge can mean up to four years in prison.

Coppens, Louzon and Miller were arraigned before Westland Municipal Judge Roy McGinty, in Westland, for their preliminary hearing on Saturday, November 13, the day after their arrests. All three were released on bonds of $1,500 each, pending the November 24 examination.

Damage Is Great
Woods Dist. Everett Plumb, who was assigned to the case, and who obtained the warrants against the youths and the girl, said that the four are accused of causing thousands of dollars in damages to windows of 40 stores, starting south of the Municipal Building, 2025 Mack avenue, to Moross road. The damage is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000, and possibly more.

GP Park Council to Study Recreational Suggestions

Recommendations by the Park Plan Commission, regarding proposed construction of a baseball diamond and football field at the Three Mile Drive Park were received by the Park Council on Monday, November 22, and were tabled for further study and advisement. The matter will be brought up again at the regular meeting of the council scheduled for January 10, for determination.

In the meantime, copies of the study, authorized by the council last July 12, and made by the Park's planning consultants, Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Incorporated, will be sent to residents who were for or against the proposed projects.

The Plan Commission held meetings on August 17 and September 21, in the council

SEMATA Gives First Report On Operation

Has Not Yet Had to Use Subsidy of $78,000 Provided by Pointes and St. Clair Shores
By Pepper Whitelaw

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMATA) which bought the Lake Shore Coach Lines from Walter Schweikart two months ago, with the help of the U.S. Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA), the five Pointes and St. Clair Shores, is working hard to improve the equipment and passenger service inherited from Lake Shore.

Dan Morrill, Lake Shore Division manager and acting operations manager of SEMATA, told the NEWS that ridership has been steadily increasing since the takeover in September and that the line is breaking even financially with revenues increasing each month. To date, the line has not needed the operating subsidy of $78,000 pledged by the five Pointes and St. Clair Shores. UMTA gave SEMATA $156,000 for the venture.

Elders Increase
Mr. Morrill anticipates increased ridership with the innovations SEMATA has instituted, from the gradual changeover in drivers' uniforms to new charcoal gray and the issuance of nameplates to drivers, to improving the equipment and extending the schedules.

Mr. Morrill said most of the staff's time has been spent improving old equipment and purchasing new. To date SEMATA has purchased 10 buses from DSR at $1700 each. He said these buses all passed police inspection requirements, and that all old buses have been brought up to A-1 operating condition as well.

Lake Shore had 32 buses in operation before the takeover. Today some 40 buses are running with seven in reserve to handle charter requests. Mr. Morrill said that there has been a significant increase in charter ridership due to the additional number of buses at the public's disposal and improved equipment.

Board Approves South High Bids

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education unanimously approved the awarding of bids for additions and alterations to South High School.

The general construction was issued to Matthew Lalewicz, Inc. at $1,834,778; Wilbur N. Williams, Inc. was awarded the bid on the mechanical work in the amount of $747; Conti Electric, Inc. will handle the electrical work for $447,075; Peninsular Slate will provide the science and classroom equipment, at $13,513 and $99,813 respectively and Classrooms, Inc. was awarded the contract for music equipment in the amount of $16,664.

The Board president and secretary were directed to enter into a written contract on behalf of the Board with Matthew Lalewicz, Inc., as general contractors in the amount of $3,158,843 with the other accepted bidders being designated as sub-contractors of the general contractor in accordance with bid specifications.

The NEWS contacted Ben Zenn, director of administrative services, and asked him if the bids came in as anticipated. He said "They were within the framework of our total budget, however, electrical and mechanical bids were higher than the architectural estimates. But by adjusting our budget internally we expect to live within the project's funds of $3.6 million."

He added that the general contractor is ready to be on the site upon receipt of the agreement. He added that work should begin within the next few weeks.

Residents Asked to Help Make State Pay Suit Costs

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, this week urged residents of the school district to support legislation to have all legal costs paid by the State of Michigan in the suit challenging the constitutionality of the local property tax as the basis for funding public education.

Dr. Anderson said that the request for financial assistance from the State of Michigan in the property tax suit involving Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, and Bloomfield Hills had been initiated by Dr. Fred Thoren, Superintendent of Schools in Bloomfield Hills. House Concurrent Resolution 323, introduced November 11, has been referred to the House Policy Committee chaired by Representative Robert D. Mahoney. Vice-chairmen are Representatives James E. O'Neill, Jr. and Roy L. Spencer.

South's Band Makes Record

The popular South High School Stage Band recently produced a stereo record and is now making it available to the general public. The 12-inch long-playing album contains some of the favorites from the many appearances of the 17-piece group made during the winter and spring of 1971.

The record was pressed by RCA Victor and produced with the new dyna-flex technique. There are 12 tunes on the record. One composition is a modern-jazz-rock idea, which was written by one of the senior band members, Bill Zeidler.

The variety of music on the album is sure to please all those who enjoy the sounds of the "big bands." The album is being sold as a public relations gesture by the music department. It is available in the high school band room and at Fiscer's Cards, 17047 Kercheval; McCourt's Shoes, 16849 Kercheval, and The Straw Hat, 16125 Mack avenue.

Russell D. Reed, South's director of instrumental music, said this is a fine example of what high school students can do for their community and in extra curricular activities. (Continued on Page 8)

Park Recreation Plans

type, or passive recreation park (picnicking, etc.)

In its study, the consultants disclosed that a city the size of the Park should have 170 acres for recreational area, whereas, there are only 40 acres available.

City Manager Robert Stone said that under the present park pass system, whereby residents and vacant property owners are admitted to the Windmill Pointe and Three Mile Drive Parks only upon presentation of valid permits, the system would be eroded to a point where it would not be enforceable if spectator-type sports were permitted in either parks.

Organized football and baseball facilities at Three Mile would definitely change its present character. Since its development, the park has included open areas that are being enjoyed by many of the city's residents, the city manager pointed out. Although the attendance is not as it should be, it does provide quiet recreation for many citizens who are enthusiastic and very pleased with the type of development to date, he added. Stone stated that the construction of a Babe Ruth League diamond at the Three Mile Drive Park would be impossible because of the location of the parking lot. If the parking lot is not used, it would create a congestion on the neighborhood streets, and also permit the facility to be used by practically all persons in the Metropolitan Area, with very little control by the city council and Parks and Recreation Department.

The city manager recommended that the request for the construction of a Babe Ruth League diamond and football field be denied.

However, Stone did offer two recommendations, based on what the Plan Commission believes will expand facilities to be generally used, and they are:

1. A softball diamond be constructed with appropriate backstop, to be used informally by groups under the city's existing permit (park pass) system. However, it should not be the kind of diamond that could be taken over by organized teams, or reserved for their use.

2. An area should be set aside for touch football and similar field events. It, too, should be used by informal groups under the present park permit system. It could be superimposed over the outfield of the softball diamond.

The Plan Commission had also considered the location of baseball/football facilities at Windmill Pointe Park, Stone said, but the city consultants advised against this due to the limited land area available.

After some discussion at Monday night's meeting, the council voted to table the entire study for further consideration at its meeting on the second Monday in January.

Bus Report

anywhere from 5,500 to 6,000 on a weekday average. Today ridership is somewhere around 7,500, which is less than before Lake Shore's cutback of service last March, but Mr. Morrill added that he felt SEMTA was gradually winning back passengers that were lost in the past due to dissatisfaction with the service.

Fares on the line range from 40 cents (city limits to downtown) to 70 cents (to Crocker road).

Presently the schedule remains the same as in the past, but Mr. Morrill said plans are underway for increasing the express service on the Jefferson Beach route, altering the afternoon rush hour schedule from every 30 minutes to every 20 minutes, increasing the number of express trips on the Kercheval-Deanhurst route in the morning and afternoon rush hours and increasing local service in the peak morning hours from every 30 minutes to every 20 minutes.

Later Service Planned
SEMTA also plans on having late night service from downtown, leaving there at 8:45 p.m. on all three lines, and an additional late bus on the Kercheval-Deanhurst line at 9:45 daily.

Changes will become effective within the next week, according to Mr. Morrill.

Printed bus schedules are available on all buses or may be obtained by writing to SEMTA at 11840 Edlie, Detroit, 48214, or by calling 822-9516. To date more than 10,000 schedules have been distributed to riders.

Mr. Morrill said SEMTA will continue to improve the line to better service area residents. The takeover of Lake Shore is believed to be the first step in the eventual takeover of public transportation in the Southeastern Detroit area by SEMTA.

ruling. He explained that if the Mayor intended the motion to be a tabling one, that it was in order. Mayor McLeod then requested the matter be tabled. However, he had no second to the motion so it died for lack of support.

Mr. Boutin then reiterated his motion. It was passed by a vote of 6-1 with Mayor McLeod voting no.

Reason for Meeting
The real reason for last Monday night's session was to adopt a resolution regarding the pollution of Lake St. Clair by the Milk River drainage. At the regular meeting on Monday, November 15, a copy of the city of St. Clair Shores' resolution requesting the preparation of plans and specifications for utilizing the present right-of-way in order to give the Milk River Drainage adequate capacity to prevent the overflow of untreated sanitary effluents into Lake St. Clair was presented.

At that time, Councilman Kenneth Boerner expressed dissatisfaction over the fact that the City of Grosse Pointe Woods was not notified of the initial meeting of the Water Resources Commission. He added that at the second meeting, St. Clair Shores councilmen handed this resolution to Woods council members as they walked into the meeting and had not notified the Woods Council of its intent to present the petition at the WRC meeting.

Resolution Passed

On Monday, the Woods Council passed a resolution indicating that it had received information that the Water Resources Commission was concerned with the discharge of drainage district on reasonable into Lake St. Clair during wet weather and that if the water standards were upgraded by the state it is possible that the Milk River Drainage System may not meet its standards.

The Council petitioned the Milk River Drainage Board to conduct all necessary engineering studies to determine whether the system will meet the requirements of the WRC and, if such requirements are beyond the present capabilities of the system, make recommendations to the communities participating in the drainage district on reasonable courses of action, including cost estimates and suggested methods of financing any improvements. A copy of the resolution was sent to Harper Woods Council but pointedly not to the St. Clair Shores Council.

The Woods is vitally interested in the Milk River Drainage System because it finances about 60 percent of the costs. The remainder is shared by Harper Woods and a smaller portion by St. Clair Shores.

Charges Faced By Youngblood

Senator Charles N. Youngblood, Jr., Democratic Senator from the 2nd District (Grosse Pointe Shores and Grosse Pointe Woods) was indicted on Tuesday, November 23, by the Wayne County Grand Jury on charges of bribery, in connection with issuance of liquor licenses, Wayne County Probate Judge Frank Szymanski of 1010 Three Mile drive, was also indicted. Both men stood mute.

Both Youngblood and Szymanski admitted early Monday, that they had heard rumors about the investigation, but had no direct knowledge of it.

Youngblood said he had been visited earlier in the evening by a lieutenant from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department who asked him to appear voluntarily at 9 a.m., Tuesday, November 23, at the Wayne County Jail in connection with the investigation. Youngblood was indicted at that time.

The investigation was launched by Attorney General Frank Kelley's office six to eight months ago and has been conducted by members of the attorney general's organized crime division headed by Vincent Piersante, a former chief of detectives with the Detroit Police Department.

Thieves Steal Car Radiators

Two youths, one white and the other colored, are being sought by Farms and Detroit for questioning in the theft of six 1965 Ford car radiators, all reported taken on Tuesday, November 16.

Three of the radiators were taken from vehicles parked at the rear of the Farms branch store of Hughes, Hatcher, Sufirin, 18696 Mack avenue, and three were disclosed as being taken from autos parked in the St. John Hospital lot. The latter, although occurring in Detroit, were reported to Woods authorities, who in turn relayed the information to Detroit police.

Disclosing their losses to Farms police, were Pearl Leto of 4237 Yorkshire, Detroit; Arthur P. Kemsley of 25831 Forest Lake, Mt. Clemens; and Richard A. Laney of 4803 Radnor, Detroit.

Reporting thefts from the hospital lot, were: Robert Smylie of 17208 Waltham, Detroit; Frank Vesprini of 19638 Huntington, Harper Woods; and Wilbert Kenny, no address on the police report, but recorded as a security guard at the hospital.

All valued their losses at $65, except Laney, who said that it is estimated that it would cost about $125 to replace his radiator.

The thieves merely cut the metal holders and the water hoses to lift the radiators out of the front of the vehicles.

A witness to one of the thefts in the Farms said he saw two youths removing a radiator from an auto, and put it in their vehicle. He chased them in his car, north on Moross to Chandler drive, then to Cadieux in Detroit, and lost them, police said.

One youth was described as being colored, about 20 years old, five feet six inches tall, about 150 pounds, with an Afro-haircut and wearing a dark blue jacket.

His companion is said to be white, about 20 years old, six feet one-inch tall, with shoulder length hair and wearing a blue plaid jacket.

The pursuing witness told police that the pair got into a waiting car, containing two white youths. He was unable to describe the second pair.

Matches Found In City Garage

A Washington road resident called City police on Thursday, November 18, to report that on that date at approximately 12:15 p.m., she saw two teenagers loitering in her garage.

She described the duo as both being approximately 16 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighing a bout 135 pounds. One of the youths had brown shoulder length hair and was wearing a purple shirt and jeans. The other boy had long black hair and was wearing a jeans packet and jeans. Officers checked the area but could find no trace of the boys. They found 50 burnt matches on the floor

Fourth Vandal Arraigned Walk-A-Thon

(Continued from Page 1) day, November 19, that five more store owners called police since the story broke in last week's issue of the NEWS, disclosing pellet hole damages to windows, amounting to a total of $70. The officer said that all business places are being checked, and that possibly more damages might be uncovered.

"I want to make it clear that we have no way of knowing if the accused are responsible for the latest reported damages, or all of the others," Plumb said. "We do the J. C. Penney Department for the damage to windows at Store, 19251 Mack, where damage is estimated at more than $4,000.

Still Investigating
"The investigation in this matter is still being carried out, and it could be difficult to prove that these youngsters are at fault in destroying these windows. It is possible that some of the windows had been damaged previous to the November 12 incident," he added.

Also, he pointed out, a number of citizens in Detroit, Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores and possibly in the Farms, have complained to the authorities of their communities of pellets fired through windows of homes, stores and parked automobiles. Again, he pointed out further, if the accused are responsible for these vandalism, it is still to be determined.

Arrest of the six teenagers was credited to Woods Patrolman Donald Schmalz, who, with Auxiliary Patrolman Anthony Bucina, on the November 12 date, was counting the holes in the windows of Penney's, when a 1971 green Pontiac, reported to contain six occupants, was seen driving up and down Mack avenue, shooting at and damaging store windows since 8 p.m.

At 9:25 p.m., Schmalz, while on patrol was dispatched to check damage to a window of a Mack store, after which he returned to the station to pick up Bucinna to help in counting all the damages.

Bear the Shooting
As the officers were at Penney's, the car with the teenagers, passed by, and the policemen observed the three boys and three girls.

As the auto went by, Schmalz and Bucinna saw Miller in the front seat holding a pellet pistol, and Louzon in the rear seat, with an air said they heard the reports of the guns as they were being fired.

Schmalz jumped into his scout car and pursued the other vehicle and stopped the group at Mack and Moross.

Schmalz said that as he approached the teenagers' car, he detected a strong odor of beer, and saw several opened beer bottles and unopened beer cans. When the six presented identifications, the patrolman placed all under arrest as minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. He confiscated the beer and a half-full bottle of wine found in the vehicle.

Weapons Under Seat
Under the seats of the car, Schmalz found the pistol and rifle, which he also confiscated.

Plumb said that in obtaining the warrants, Miss Pokone was included in the malicious destruction charges, since she was the driver and knew that Miller and Louzon were shooting at the windows. She was also present, he said, when the pellets for the weapons were purchased. Under State Law, the detective said, she is equally guilty.

Coppens was charged along with the other three because he was the owner of the guns, the officer added.

These activities listed are among the many which will be restored or expanded at the middle and high schools. Other activities may be added to the lists at a later date.

Smith Earned $377.83
Top student money-earner was North High freshman Russ Smith, who walked 20 miles and chalked up $377.83. The top money earners at South High were Scott Ralph and Becky Beyer, both of whom walked 20 miles and garnered $350 each. All three students were presented with personal trophies.

Parcells Middle School students collected the most money as a middle school group with a total of $2,500. Monteith topped other elementary schools, collecting $380. Awards were presented to both schools. Patty Blaser accepted the trophy for Parcells and Donna Bruno accepted the trophy for Monteith.

Proves Real Friend
An interesting "aside" to Walk-A-Thon activities was an experience Florence Miller, North's assistant principal of pupil personnel, had that Sunday. She told a junior high school friend and former neighbor, Jimmy Haddad, (he attends South Junior High in St. Clair Shores), about the Walk-A-Thon and that she intended to walk. Jimmy asked if he could accompany her. So on Sunday they walked together some five miles. Upon completion of the walk Jimmy confided that he had obtained sponsors on his own and turned over some $48!

Now that most of the results are in and everything went smoothly, (with the exception of one broken toe at Popard), hard working committee members from North and South High Schools are being commended on their work before, during and after the Walk-A-Thon.

Many Helped Effort
They include Student Association presidents, Steve Rabaut of North High School and Mark Kennedy of South High; South High Dads' Club members, Ben Harvey, past-president and chairman of the Walk-A-Thon; and Robert Wehing, current president; South High Mothers' Club members, Mrs. Charles Beltz, president; Mrs. Albert C. Dickson, Jr. president-elect; and Mrs. Donald Briggs; North High Parents' Club members, Red Kavelage; Mrs. Charles Woodbury and Mrs. Thomas De Vries, president; and North High Athletic Boosters Club members, William Schleicher, Dave Marsteller and Paul Chapman, president.

Cigaret Blamed In Garage Fire

The City of Grosse Pointe Fire Department on Sunday, November 14, at 6:41 p.m., responded with all apparatus to 848 Neff, the William Hunt residence. The officers found rubbish and trash in the garage had caught fire. The resident was extinguishing the fire with a garden hose. Firemen extinguished the remaining fire. They removed all burned trash and materials from the garage, watered them down and put them in a metal container.

Firemen believe the fire was started by an improperly extinguished cigarette. The paint on the inside door of the garage was blistered but there was no significant damage.

Park Policemen, Woman Hurt in Detroit Accident

Two Park patrolmen and a woman motorist were hospitalized for injuries received following a collision of the woman's vehicle and the scout car in which the officers were transporting a mental patient, who was unhurt, to Wayne County General Hospital on Wednesday, November 17. The accident occurred at Alter and Mack in Detroit.
 Park Police Chief Gerard Kesteloot said that the officers, Patrolmen Lawrence Rice and Norman Gangola, were conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital and held for observation. The woman, Retha R. Simmons of 1460 Beaconsfield, was also taken to the same hospital. She was treated for a fractured right forearm, lacerations of the head, and minor injuries about the body.
 The chief said that Rice, who was kept at the hospital for possible internal injuries, and Gangola, for contusions and abrasions on the right side of the body and right leg, were released from Bon Secours on Sunday, November 21, and are recuperating at home. It is not known when they will be able to return to duty.
 Mrs. Simmons is still a patient at the hospital. Her release date was not disclosed, the chief said.
 Chief Kesteloot said that the full facts of the collision will not be known until Detroit authorities have completed their investigation. The scout car was a total loss. It was struck broadside by the woman's auto, which sustained extensive damage to the front end.
 According to information released by the chief, a cab driver brought a man into the station, complaining that the subject had refused to pay his fare. While in the station, the man refused to give his name, then went completely berserk. Officers in the station were required to use force to subdue and handcuff him.
 When the subject's violence subsided slightly, he was placed in a police car, with Rice and Gangola, to be taken to the county hospital for observation. Rice was driving.
 Rice drove north on Alter road, siren and flasher on, while Gangola kept the man under restraint. As the police vehicle approached Mack, the patrolman slowed as he entered the intersection because of the traffic. Mrs. Simmons, traveling west on the avenue, hit the scout car broadside.
 The identity of the mental patient was not discovered until he was at Bon Secours, Chief Kesteloot said. It was found that his doctor was on the staff at Cottage Hospital.
 At the request of the doctor, the man was transferred to Cottage, where he was admitted for treatment of his condition.
 Chief Kesteloot said that statements were taken from several witnesses to the collision, but a full determination of what had happened and who was at fault will not be known until Detroit authorities finish their investigation. He is still awaiting a report, the chief added.

Narcotics Net Youth 30 Days

John Rubino, 20 of 4628 Lakewood, Detroit, was sentenced to 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction on Sunday, November 21, for possession of narcotics. He had entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

According to a Park police report, Patrolmen Paul Kenefke and Thomas Hunke, while on patrol on Jefferson avenue at 1:05 a.m., observed Rubino in a car without lights, being pushed by another vehicle.

The officers stopped the youth and the other driver, to investigate the violation of no lights at night. In a search of Rubino's auto, Kenefke and Hunke found two marijuana cigarettes, and placed the youth under arrest. The other driver was not held.

Rubino was taken to the station where he was booked and charged and later Sunday morning, Judge Speer was called and the trial held.

Citation Won By Frank Adam

Frank Adam, Inc., Kercheval On-The-Hill, has been named one of the top 100 Lincoln Continental dealerships in the nation.

John Bernowsky, vice president and general manager, will attend a meeting of the exclusive "100 Club" in Las Vegas, November 2 to accept the 1971 model year award.

"We sold more than 61,000 Continentals — Lincolns and Mark IIIs—in the 1971 model year, an increase of nine percent over 1970," said Ben Bidwell, Ford vice-president and Lincoln-Mercury Division general manager. "This achievement is due in great measure to the outstanding marketing job done by members of the 100 Club."

"The luxury car business is highly specialized, demanding the best a dealer can offer in sales and service. The high degree of owner loyalty and the excellent reputation enjoyed by the Continentals are a tribute to the professional efforts of our 100 Club dealers."

Members of the 100 Club are responsible for one-third of all Lincoln Continentals delivered in this country, amounting to nearly $120,000,000 in retail sales.

Turkey Gets Leading Role In Kids' Holiday Stories

By Pepper Whitelaw

Thanksgiving... a day for church... family gatherings... lots of turkey and football viewing... somehow today the historical significance is lost to most adults. But, if they are fortunate enough to still have some elementary school youngsters in the family, they are reminded most happily of the first Thanksgiving and its significance.

Maire Elementary School youngsters have come up with some real historical goodies.

Rob Moffat, a third grade student in Mrs. Marsha Nelson's class writes...

Wons upon a time there were sum pilgrims, that bloo of cors, (off course), in the Mayflower. Tha were going to Verjinyu but tha could not figt ouf the wind. Then one day tha saw land tha sent sum men in two caenoes. Then tha saw a trekey run by. Evey body laft. Then tha went to land. Tha started to make huts. Before long all the huts were made. Then all the suden a very big terkey ran by. Then tha saw two indians with bow and arrows. The Indians kood not keech him. Then the pilgrims made frens with them. But tha wanted to selubrate. But tha did not hav eney food. Soon tha orginised a serch party to find that terkey. Tha wanted him becaus he was fulgron, (full grown), and fat. So tha went to get him. Soon tha came bac with him. Then tha had a fest. And then the pilgrims became famist (famish) throo out the world.

If the spelling on some of these offerings throws you a bit, I better explain that some of the youngsters are using the phonemic alphabet which is part of the Initial Teaching Alphabet (ITA) Program under which they study.

Eric Hoffman also a student of Mrs. Nelson, improvised a bit.

The first Thanksgiving turkey. He was small. He was fat and most of all he was afeard (afraid). Aferad he'd got shot and eaten on Thanksgiving Day. And he was rite. He did git shot. But it wasn't so bad, after all he never even had a mom and dad or any berthers or sisters.

Never thought about it that way, Eric!

Tom Nankervis a third grader in Mary Lou Hess' class keeps his history of the First Thanksgiving short and to the point.

There was a ship. It was cold the Mayflower. It came to a istind one day. The pilgrims met some indians. They said how. We have sean some kind of animil with fethers. It is brown. We cole it a turkey. Help os (us) kill it. So the pilgrims got thare guns and the indians got there bow and arrows. The indians shot the turkey and the pilgrims did with tere guns. Tha got the turkey. They ate it on Thanksgiving Day. They did it every year. Tha luvd haply ever after.

Liz Moore another of Mrs. Nelson's third graders, talks turkey!

Turkey, turkey don't rren away. You know it's Thanksgiving Day

We need you for our favorite dish

And we do not like fish! Now your on the plate!

You'll just have to wait Till I turn the oven on and let you bake

Then you'll be on the table... BUT not awake!

Jean Zerweck, fifth grader in Jean Snell's class has a modern approach to Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving is a time for thanks

With kids like me with little pranks.

We eat and eat and never stop. H.L.:y mom, get out the map. We thank God for the food we eat,

Yum, yum especially for the meat.

We thank him for our parents and all,

Even my friends who I go with to the Mall.

I thank him for my relatives. Who come on Thanksgiving with lots of kids.

I thank him for mashed potatoes and gravy,

When it is cooking I am so merry.

I even thank him for pumpkin pie.

Whitch I hate, oh my, oh my. With youngsters such as these, we certainly have lots for which to be thankful!

No more dirty work with a self-cleaning Gas range.

Just think of it. You'll never have to get down on your hands and knees to scrape and scrub the dirty, greasy insides of your oven again. Because today's modern Gas ranges have self-cleaning ovens. Forget about baked-on splatters. And rock-like spills. With a self-cleaning oven all you have to do is turn a knob and the messiest job in your home (oven cleaning) takes care of itself. Giving you time to take care of the more pleasant things in your life. But a self-cleaning oven is just one good feature in today's modern Gas range. With Gas you have the advantage of smokeless closed door broiling. Infinite heat control. And best of all, total economy. Because a modern Gas range uses less Gas to do the same job. And a Gas range costs about one-fourth as much to operate as an electric one. So before the holidays, stop by your dealer or any Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showroom, and buy a new Gas range with a full range of features. A new Gas range will save you Gas and money too. And remember—oven cleaning is no job for a lady.

Make State Pay Suit Costs

Dr. Anderson said that the news media reported the statements made by the Judge from the bench a week ago Tuesday morning, without waiting for the revisions and the signing of the order which was entered Tuesday afternoon. The news stories have stated that the Judge remanded the case to the Circuit Court, which he did not do. The proceedings in the Federal Court are stayed, until the Courts of the State of Michigan have been afforded an opportunity to determine the issues presented, and the jurisdiction of the Federal Court is specifically retained pending the State Court's decision on the issues.

Dr. Anderson said that within the next month or two he expects many alternatives to the present method of financing public education will be advanced by legislators and educators.

Dr. Anderson said that although he favors local control and educational decision-making over a state program, there has been such widespread dissatisfaction expressed over the local property tax that he anticipated a difficult struggle to maintain the status quo.

Dr. Anderson said that local residents will have an opportunity to hear the latest on Governor Milliken's education reform program when Dr. James Phelps, education specialist in the Executive Office in Lansing, speaks at the Brownell PTA meeting. The address is slated for 8 p.m. on Tuesday, November 30, in the gymnasium of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte.

Dr. Anderson said that he is in receipt of a letter from the Executive Office acknowledging the system's willingness to host one of the Governor's upcoming public hearings on the property tax reduction. The letter states: "We are receiving a number of invitations and will have to delay final decisions for a short while. We will contact you as soon as our plans are definite."

John Richard Eidt of 785 University, entered a plea of not guilty to driving while under the influence of liquor, and driving while his operator's license was revoked. He was found guilty on both counts at a hearing held before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer on Wednesday, November 17.

Richard Gillespie of 12012 Wayburn, Detroit, entered a plea of guilty to speeding 35 mph in a 25-zone. His fine was $25.

Curtis Lauwers of 17915 Toeper, East Detroit, pled not guilty to speeding 60 mph in a 35-zone on June 14. He was found guilty and fined $45 and ordered to pay court costs of $5. In addition he was placed on probation for one year and his license was suspended for 60 days.

William Troup of 4150 Haverhill, Detroit, pled guilty to traveling 45 mph in a 35 mile zone and it cost him a fine of $15.

Dimitrios Karathanis of 5001 LaFontaine, Detroit, pled guilty to speeding 55 mph in a 30-zone. He paid a fine and court costs totaling $35, was placed on probation for six months and ordered to attend Traffic School in December.

Thomas Morrison of 534 Marquette, Detroit, entered a plea of guilty to traveling 35 mph in a 25-mile zone. His fine and court costs came to $23.

Helen Annis of 18672 Birchcrest, Detroit, pled guilty to careless driving and was fined $25.

GP Park Solons Modify School Busing Resolution

By JAMES J. NJAIM
A strongly worded resolution opposing the transporting of children to school districts other than their own in the Detroit Metropolitan area, was killed by the Park council on Monday, November 22, and another resolution approved in its stead.

The original resolution died because of lack of support. The vote was 2-2, with one councilman abstaining. Voting against were Mayor Matthew Patterson and Councilman George Verdonck; for, were Councilmen Charles Tompkins and O. J. Williams, Jr. Abstaining was Councilman Warren Cougar.

The deadlock, in all probability, was brought about by the absence from the meeting of Councilman Robert Hutton and Douglas Graham, who were out of town on personal matters.

The presented resolution completely opposed the order of U. S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth's ruling that the Michigan State Board of Education submit a plan for forced inter-district transporting of school children in the Metropolitan area, and urged the Park solons to give their support, and remit the document to Federal and State governments.

A substitute resolution, which all the councilmen at the meeting approved, proposed that the matter be left up to the citizens of the Park, and that the citizens express their own opinions in letters to be sent to their elected Federal and State officials.

This resolution calls on the residents of the city to express their thoughts, pro and con, and send them to the President of the United States, Governor Milliken, U.S. Senators Hart and Griffin, U.S. Representative Nedzi, State Senator Fitzgerald, State Representatives Bryant and Ryan, Judge Roth, Chairman Novak of the Michigan State Board of Education; and the Michigan Municipal League, of which the Park is a member, as are the other Pointes and Harper Woods and many communities throughout the State.

Charged as Bad Check Passer

Gerald W. Harvell, 34, of 11644 Indiana, Detroit, was arraigned before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Sunday, November 21, on a Woods warrant charging him with issuing a check without having an account or credit.

According to information released by Woods Det. Everett Plumb, Harvell purchased a 1971 red Dodge station wagon, valued at $4,279, from Pointe Dodge, Incorporated, 19391 Mack avenue, with a down payment of $823.90. The down payment was made with a check in the amount $823.90, signed by Harvell, and charged to the Michigan Bank, and $100 in cash.

The detective said that the "purchase" was made on August 20, and Harvell was not heard from until Ecorse police called Sunday, and advised him that the man was in custody. Harvell was picked up from the Ecorse police station and returned to the Woods.

Harvell was arraigned immediately before Judge Pytell for a preliminary hearing. The judge released the accused man on $1,500 personal bond, and set examination, to be held before Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow, for Wednesday, December 1.

Help Offered Drug Addicts

Kenneth G. Schooff, M.D., director of Lafayette Clinic Outpatient Department, announces the formation of a new treatment program for male heroin addicts ages 15-22 using a block agent—Cyclazocine. Heroin or any other opiate will have no effect on an individual taking cyclazocine.

Since cyclazocine is an experimental drug, all possible precautions are taken to assist each participant including temporary hospitalization.

The program will include patient selection, pre-hospital methadone withdrawal with group and family therapy, 4-8 week hospitalization, and discharge to a local out-patient service. During hospitalization patient will begin receiving cyclazocine as well as occupational therapy, recreational therapy and vocational or educational counseling.

Thirty patients are being selected from center city surrounding Lafayette Clinic and 30 from the Grosse Pointes and surrounding area. After hospitalization, patients will be out-patients from a Grosse Pointe area hospital.

Dr. Schooff, who heads the program, has considerable background in working with young heroin addicts. He had one of the first programs with adolescent heroin addicts at Lafayette Clinic and he is director of the methadone withdrawal program in Grosse Pointe.

The cyclazocine program is funded by a National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) grant and except for hospitalization there is no fee.

For additional information about possible participation in the cyclazocine program, call Mrs. Fran Jozefowicz or Mr. Odeasse Johnson at the Lafayette Clinic, 963-5400.

City Trimming, Planting In Street Tree Program

By Pepper Whitlaw
 For the past five years, the City of Grosse Pointe has carried out an extensive trimming program on City street trees located in the right-of-way. In an attempt to cut costs, the City's public work forces have done the cleanup work. To date some 1,683 trees have been trimmed under this program.

Thomas Kressbach, city manager, told the Council at its regular meeting on Monday, November 22, that it was important that the program be continued and that an appropriation for this purpose should be placed in the current budget.

He explained that City street trees in certain areas contained substantial dead wood, which constitute potential hazards and serve as breeding places for the Dutch Elm beetle.

He said that the entire city has been surveyed and blocks which needed trimming the most were selected. They include St. Clair, Mack to Jefferson (214 trees); Kercheval, Fisher to St. Clair (80 trees); and Chalfonte, Lincoln to Fisher (9 trees).

Kressbach recommended that a contract in the form of a purchase order be issued to Shock Brothers, Inc. in the amount of $3,636. The council unanimously approved the recommendation.

In keeping with the City philosophy that trees enhance the beauty and value of the community, Mr. Kressbach then recommended that a contract in the form of a purchase

Lincoln Road Home Entered

A stealthy burglar entered the home of Mrs. H. S. Gould, at 254 Lincoln road, on Friday, November 19, and removed Mrs. Gould's purse from the desk in the kitchen.

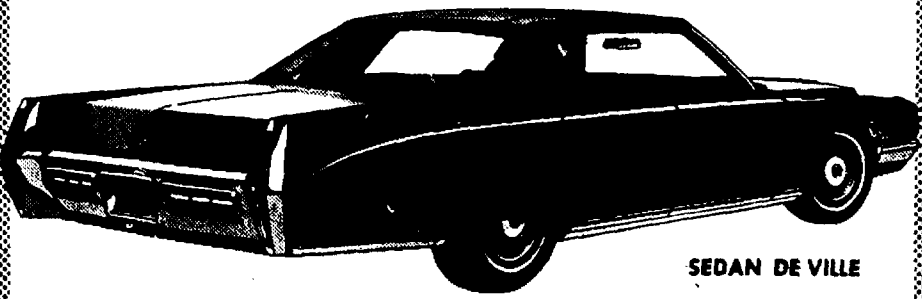

Mrs. Gould told officers that she heard noises around 1:30 a.m. and that Mr. Gould had gone downstairs to investigate but found no one.

When the Goulds awakened the following morning, they discovered the theft of the purse containing $20 in cash, credit cards and keys.

The burglar gained entry by forcing the rear window of the back porch then forcing the dutch door. A chair was found overturned in the kitchen.

Shores Girl Hit In LS Accident

Twelve-year-old Martee Held, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. Held of 30 Putnam, considers herself lucky that she was not killed when she was struck by an automobile on Lake Shore road, as she was running to catch a bus at 8:03 a.m. on Tuesday, November 16.

The girl was conveyed to Bon Secours Hospital by Shores Auxiliary Firemen Harold Micheaux and Harry McCalm, in the Shores ambulance, suffering from a severe gash on the side of the right leg, just above the knee, and minor scrapes and bruises about the face and legs. Patrolman Gary Mitchell administered first aid to the child before she was taken to the hospital.

The driver of the car, Max J. Lukaseder, 71, of 22421 Maple, St. Clair Shores, complained of heart pains, after hitting the girl, and was taken to Cottage Hospital by Patrolman Archie Grieve in a scout car, for examination and treatment of a possible heart attack. Lukaseder was held blameless in the accident.

The firefighters and the policemen at the scene, said it was necessary to jack up Lukaseder's auto to release Martee, who was pinned underneath the vehicle.

The girl told Mitchell and Grieve that the fault was hers, that she had stepped off the west curb, running east to catch a waiting bus, and did not see Lukaseder approaching.

Lukaseder, in a statement to police, said he was traveling about 30 miles an hour on the road, when the girl stepped off the curb in front of his car. Martee slipped and fell to the pavement and he tried to avoid hitting her, but was not quick enough, and his car struck and stopped over the child.

Martee was treated for her wounds at the hospital and released to her parents at 1:05 p.m., on the date of the mishap. She is at home recovering.

Grosse Pointe City Joins Street Lighting Costs Fight

By Pepper Whitehaw
Still another light appears in the forest. This time it is the City of Grosse Pointe Council which has unanimously approved participation in the joint administrative procedure against Detroit Edison before the Michigan Public Service Commission opposing the proposed 45 percent hike in street lighting rates.

To date the city of Grosse Pointe Farms, Grosse Pointe Park, Grosse Pointe Woods, Harper Woods, Livonia, Troy, Highland Park, Farmington, Royal Oak, Dearborn, Plymouth and Monroe have approved participation in this action.

Participation in this joint action involves each of the local units agreeing to share in all costs, which include engaging of special legal counsel, (the law firm of Bodman, Longley, Bogle, Armstrong and Dahling have already been engaged) accountants (Larkin, Chapki and Company), and expert witnesses.

Proportioned costs will be determined by the ratio of the city's Detroit Edison street lighting charges for the year ended June 30, 1971.

The other communities involved have agreed to the proportioned costs with a limit of $3,000, however the City Council members' resolution set the limit at $1,000.

This adjustment was made following a lengthy discussion during which the possibility was raised of the City having to pay the maximum $3,000 if the costs for the larger cities exceed that figure. If Edison is permitted to raise the cost of street lighting in the City it would mean a $23,826 increase.

Richard Rohr, attorney for the City of Grosse Pointe Park, informed Council members on Monday evening that to date over $40,000 in pledges have been received for this joint action.

The City of Grosse Pointe Shores will act on a participation resolution later this week.

Offering Series Of Discussions

"The struggle for womanhood in a day of sexual and cultural revolution" is the basis for the first of four Advent discussions at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Tuesday, November 30, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Margaret Maxey, Assistant Professor in the Department of Religious Studies at the University of Detroit will keynote the evening.

Sister Maxey, the dynamic professor of Christian Ethics, received her Ph.D. at Union Theological Seminary in New York, two Masters Degrees, one in Systematic Theology from the University of San Francisco, the other in Medieval Philosophy from St. Louis University.

As the author of a recent article, "Eve and Mary", a theological alternative to women's liberation, Dr. Maxey will speak on the issues the new world puts before women, the meaning of the women's liberation movement, and the pitfalls and struggles of modern women in attaining personhood. She makes it clear that she is not a spokesman for the Roman Catholic Church.

A dinner will precede her talk and discussion. The public is most welcome.

Theft Reported To City Police

Mrs. E. D. Barrett, Jr., 460 Lincoln, called City police on Monday, November 22, to report the theft of a Black and Decker electric drill, an antique pocket watch, valued at $175, and a gold charm bracelet named at $200.

Cyanide Blamed For Dog's Death

Snoopy, a four-year-old Yorkshire Terrier, pet of the Walter Howell family, 35 Radnor circle, died on Sunday, November 21, of cyanide poisoning, according to a post mortem at the A. M. Harvey Animal Hospital in Mack avenue. The post mortem determined that the little animal was poisoned on Friday, November 19. The owners said that their pet was off their property for about 10 minutes, leaving at 7 a.m. Friday. They said they became concerned when an hour later the tiny dog began to vomit.

As Snoopy's condition worsened, the Howells took him to the veterinarian Saturday morning. For a time it was hoped the pet would recover, but he died the next day.

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said that cyanide is an illegal poison, which cannot even be used in the elimination of rats. If the dog had bitten any one after it had taken the deadly poison, that person could have died, the chief pointed out.

Any one having information regarding where the cyanide could have been placed, or purchased, should contact the Farms authorities at Tuxedo 5-2100, or the Howells, at 882-9628.

let with 10 charms, valued at $200. Mrs. Barrett told police that she moved to this address in August and that during the month of September the doors were often left open to accommodate workmen. She believes the theft occurred at that time.

THE STORY OF STROH'S ICE CREAM PARLOUR
It all started with a feeling, a feeling that would come when we passed by the glow of some old brass counter, or caught the aroma of old polished walnut.
Then it came to us; wouldn't it be wonderful if people could enjoy our real old-fashioned ice cream in a real old-fashioned ice cream parlour?
We know at once what we'd been longing for. A place of our own, where Stroh's Old-Fashioned Ice Cream would really be at home. With this in mind we set out to build an old-fashioned ice cream parlour, like those where you could hear the clink of Dutch chocolate smothered laughter, and peaceful conversations mixed with vanilla fragrances, ginger beer and sarsaparilla.
We had the finest product, and felt it should be dispensed in the proper atmosphere. We acquired a replica of a genuine 1930 popcorn machine to further enhance our new establishment. . . . but the true test of pure enjoyment is Stroh's old-fashioned ice cream. We think you'll be pleased to know—if your taste hasn't already told you so—that Stroh's ice cream contains 40% more sweet cream than the Government requires.
Also, every flavor of ice cream that Stroh's makes is made from a natural flavor. For instance, we use real vanilla extract, not fake synthetic vanilla and real fruit, not artificial flavoring.
We use only Bendorp cocoa, imported from Holland, to make Stroh's chocolate ice cream. As a matter of fact, we've been buying our cocoa from the Bendorp people for over 25 years, and we wouldn't think of using anything else.
Now we ask you, friends, is this not the perfect place to enjoy Stroh's Old-Fashioned Ice Cream? We think there are still some people around who know and appreciate the difference.

STIFFEL OLD LAMPS FOR SALE

In a real sense, the lamp in the center is several hundred years old. It was inspired by the stately church candlesticks created in Spain and Italy during the early Renaissance. Finished in distressed old brass, it is 37 1/2 inches tall and costs about $95. A perfect example of the way Stiffel makes an old lamp young again.

At left, a classical Georgian urn in black enamel. This Stiffel is 39 1/2 inches tall, costs about $99.50, and has the detail and craftsmanship needed to support the longevity of its design.

In the late Renaissance period, Italian artisans were creating oil lamps such as the one to your right. Using bright old brass finish and electricity, Stiffel artisans have updated this classic. The finished piece stands 30 inches high and costs about $99.50.

To know more about the Stiffel collection, stop by Draper's. You don't even have to hurry. Our lamps will be in style whenever you get around to coming in.

Did you ever stop to think of the oddities connected with the names of some of the states of the U.S.?

For instance, Rhode Island is NOT an island. Part of Virginia is actually farther west than the whole state of West Virginia.

Wyoming is named after the Wyoming Valley of Pennsylvania, and yet the Wyoming Valley of Pennsylvania has nothing to do with the state of Wyoming.

And, part of North Carolina is farther south than parts of South Carolina.

Bruins' League Record Now 2-2

The Bruins lost their first league hockey game to Hussey's Hawks on Tuesday, November 9. The Hawks came to avenge an earlier beating by the Bruins and reversed the score by winning 6-2. Bill Seaver and Jim Morris scored the Bruins goals with Alan Taber assisting on both goals.

The Bruin slump continued two days later when they played the very powerful Port Huron team in Port Huron. Alan Taber assisted by Jim Morris posted the lone Bruin goal. The final score was Port 6, Bruins 1.

The Bruins bounced back on Saturday, November 13, with a fine 3-1 victory over the Windsor All-Stars who had previously beaten the Bruins. Joe Brykalski scored first on a fine shot from the point after receiving Alan Taber's face-off. Alan Taber and Jim Morris scored the other two goals with assists by Bill Seaver and Matt Rossetti. Drew Mascarin played an outstanding game in goal with fine defensive help from Kevin Moore.

Rob Fredal posted another shutout on Sunday November 14, as the Bruins beat Warren 4-0. The Bruins outshot Warren 31-10. Two goals were posted by Alan Taber, once after a pass from Leo Fenn, and the other assisted by Matt Rossetti. Bill Seaver scored with Ben Amore assisting him. The final was put in by Joe Sehee on a pass from Matt Costello.

In a league game on Tuesday, November 16, the Bruins fell to the powerful Slator team 8-2 for their worst loss of the season. Alan Taber scored both Bruin goals. This loss gives the Bruins a 2-2 record in Tri-County League play.

The Bruins clashed with the Grosse Pointe Cobras this past Wednesday and posted a 3-2 win. Jim Morris scored on a power play with Bill Seaver assisting. John Davies put in the second goal with Bill Seaver assisting again. Joe Sehee scored the final Bruin goal. Scott Seaver and Brian Moody did some excellent backchecking.

The Bruins battled Livonia, on Sunday, November 21, to a 1-1 tie. Bill Seaver scored on a fine pass from John Davies. Tom Hastings played a strong game on defense.

The Bruins overall record now stands at 18 wins, 6 losses, and 5 ties.

NHS Gridders Capture Honors

By David Moxley
Grosse Pointe North High School's football squad displayed its superiority in the Bi-County League this season, as attested by the announcement of the league's 1971 selections.

The Norsemen captured six of the 24 first team selections. Five of North's players were selected on offense and one on defense.

Named to the All-Bi-County Offensive Team were Joe Puleo, quarterback; Duane Johnson, back; on the line, Mike Moran was named as a tackle, and John Moxley as guard. Moran was also named to the All-League defensive team, in which he was awarded a line position.

On the second team offense, Greg Cook was named as wide receiver and Clark Balas as end. Dave Martin and Dean Shier were selected as linebackers on the defensive second team. Their teammates, Marty Schnurr and Randy Villareal clinched the second team defensive back positions.

Honorable mentions were given to offensive tackle Jack Reimelt and defensive end Mark Fragel.

Duane Johnson was the League's Most Valuable Player. Duane rushed for a total of 1,014 yards and had a 5.3 rushing average. He accounted for nearly half of the team's total rushing mark which was 2,213 yards. He scored 20 of the team's 33 touchdowns.

Quarterback Puleo also played a significant role in North's success. Puleo had a rushing average of 6.9 yards and scored seven touchdowns.

All the players agreed however that the team's success was largely due to team unity.

Middle line backer Dean Shier said, "Basically most of us worked together for four years and we also had a lot of leadership from seniors."

Puleo agreed, remarking "Team unity was strong; everyone was pulling together."

Marty Schnurr thought some of the credit should go to the left side of the offensive line and to defensive linebackers. A system of team awards also played a major role in motivating the boys. After each game, the best players were named as defensive or offensive champions. The player who wasn't on either the first or second team, but showed the most hustle in practices, was named scout of the week. Other clubs such as the Big Lick Club, reserved for hard hitters, and the Viking Club, for players who put forth the most effort, were also established.

Phil Wenzell, "Old Man" to his teammates, was named defensive champion against Port Huron because of his prowess at defensive corner back. Randy Villareal was named defensive champ against Lanse Creuse and Clintondale. Puleo and Johnson dominated as offensive champions for most of the season.

The Norsemen were ranked as one of the state's top football teams by the Detroit News for four weeks and were ranked number one team in the Metro-East area for a month.

Coach John Krucki, asked to what he attributed the team success, answered succinctly, "We had good football players."

Cox Split End For Nebraska

By Lynda Krymaki

Wood Cox, son of the William S. Cox's of North Renaud road, has been making his appearance every Saturday as a starting split end for the University of Nebraska football team.

Cox, a 1968 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, attended the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N.M. before transferring to Nebraska. He caught 110 passes in two seasons at the Institute.

After deciding the military life wasn't for him, Cox accepted the Nebraska Cornhuskers' offer to play half-back. He only played halfback for two days before switching to split end.

Cox, 5'9" and 170 pounds, is one of the smallest players on the team, a trait that has held him back in football before. Only a few small Michigan colleges showed any interest in him after high school.

He told newspapermen in Nebraska that he decided to go to Nebraska because the team had a starting split end who was smaller than himself. "The fact that he was playing and doing a good job helped influence me to go where the coaches were open-minded enough to let you play."

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos L. Anderson, Superintendent of Public Schools

Regardless of the difficulty in defining the terms "educational excellence" or "quality education," youngsters in at least three school systems in Michigan are today receiving a high quality education. How do we know that this is a true statement? Governor Milliken and Attorney General Kelley have told the taxpayers of Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, and Bloomfield Hills that their public school systems are good. So good, in fact, that they challenge each of the three districts to defend the status quo in educational financing with a well-fought legal case with "clear-cut issues and well-defined results." Reason for the choice of the three suburban systems as defendants in the suit to outlaw as unconstitutional the financing of Michigan public schools through the local property tax has been explained by education specialist Eugene Krasicky, an assistant attorney general specifically named in the suit as representative of Milliken and Kelley. Mr. Krasicky is quoted in the DETROIT FREE PRESS on October 16 as stating: "They're in the top percentile as far as the quality of education kids are receiving is concerned. The people in these communities value their schools and are willing to support them. We want them to vigorously defend against the suit; we want a true adversary proceeding."

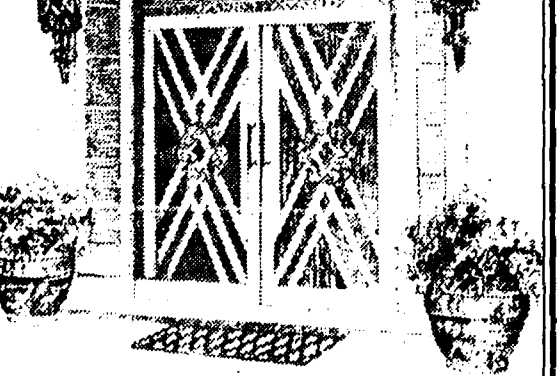

Thus, we have added a new yardstick for measuring educational excellence — the lawsuit. (Because we are sued so often these days that we refer to the suit described above as "the lawsuit of October 15," keeping track of all suits by the date.) We add this new yardstick to the usual criteria — statewide assessment of basic skills in which our public school youngsters in grades 4 and 7 average beyond the 95th percentile, our fine showing of National Merit Semifinalists and winners of Letters of Commendation, and our high school dropout rate which is one of the lowest in Michigan. Incidentally, because of the expense of research and litigation which the case entails, the school districts involved seek to have all legal costs paid by the state. Passage of House Concurrent Resolution 322, (now in House Policy Committee chaired by Representative Robert D. Mahoney), and Senate Concurrent Resolution 384, (in Senate Appropriations Committee chaired by Senator Charles O. Zoller), would permit the State of Michigan to pay all legal expenses for the defense. The "well-fought" case could cost EACH of the three school districts at least $50,000. Because of the way it was reported in the press, many readers are under the impression that we lost the first round in our battle with Governor Milliken and Attorney General Kelley. Our attorneys inform us that the Federal Court decided to ABSTAIN from ruling on the issues presented until Michigan courts have an opportunity to rule first.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: I would like to thank publicly all the members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police and Fire Departments who answered my call for assistance November 1. Fortunately, the difficulty was a minor one, but it was most reassuring to find that such concerned and prompt response was available. I surely appreciate their assistance. Mrs. Robert A. Shover 1354 Hampton Road

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Among homes to be featured in Grosse Pointe this year on the annual Christmas Walk sponsored by the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra is Don and Judy Jensen's jewel box in Rivard boulevard.

It's small . . . but then, so are most homes occupied by local young marrieds. What sets it apart is a marvelous versatility and scope, in the design of wallpapers and fabrics, the selection of antiques and accessory pieces.

It's perfection plus excitement, a home reflecting the adventurous spirit and sense of imagination of its young owners.

Don Jensen attended Detroit College of Business and majored in Accounting. He worked for a bank until last year when, on the spur of the moment—he and Judy were redeeming their Welcome Wagon coupon at a local florist—he decided enough is enough, as far as accounting was concerned: What he really WANTED to do was be a florist.

And he was GOING to do what he really WANTED to do.

"The Arrangement" in Fisher road is his business now, and business has been booming ever since "The Arrangement" opened. Don and Judy do some interior decorating, too, mostly requests from friends who've seen the Jensen home.

It's that kind of a home.

Of course, Don Jensen didn't plunge from accounting into a florist shop without water wings. He knew a bit about what he was doing: He'd worked for a florist while attending high school and college.

And he was born into a talented family, father an ecclesiastical artist who has done murals in some of Detroit's most beautiful churches, (Visitation and St. Scholastica, to name two), and is one of the city's finest cabinet makers, mother a specialist in fresh flower pictures and oil paintings.

You can just picture Don, his three brothers and one sister, sitting at their parents' knees, being instructed in arts and crafts . . . Scratch THAT picture!

Mr. Jensen, according to Don, was always shushing his kids out of the way. It's hard for a working artist to concentrate with five children at his knee.

But perhaps, in the long run, he did them a favor: The Jensen offspring were intrigued rather than bored by their father's work, and absorbed a good deal through silent watching.

Now Don's brothers have diverse jobs, one a sales representative for large printing machines, one a union executive with Chrysler, one an executive with I.B.M., but they're equally talented as builders, electricians and cabinet makers.

Traditional Project Evening for the Whole Family to Usher in Holiday Season; Mrs. Robert Martin Is Chairman

As the smell of freshly-cut pine boughs and Christmas cookies intermingles with the laughter and chatter of over 200 people cutting, gluing, painting, frosting and decorating, the 14th Annual Christmas Workshop and Family Potluck Buffet will get underway at Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Friday, December 3.

Festivities begin at 6 o'clock when the long buffet table is filled with many favorite casseroles and salads.

Following dinner, tables are quickly cleared and rearranged into work areas where everyone in the family, from toddler to grandma, begins work on a decoration for Christmas.

Mrs. Bernice Bates will be helping those who want to make Stained Glass Ornaments for their trees while in another area of the room smartly dressed Toy Soldier Ornaments are being made out of clothespins under the direction of Mrs. John Marschner.

Still another type of ornament for the tree is a Colorful Dangle, painted and covered with sparkle, to be fashioned at Mrs. Robert Travillian's table.

Fresh greens and candles will be arranged into Advent Wreaths as Mrs. George Helm and Mrs. John Winters give helpful hints to those who have not made this traditional decoration in previous years.

The Funky and the Shag Layered Scissor Cut

Bart Edmond Intercoiffure Salons Say, "It's the Cut that Counts."

"Your hair is shaped so evenly and left so flexible it can be combed into a totally new hairstyle without sitting under a hot hair dryer. With our exclusive 'CAPILUSTRO' technique there is no setting with rollers, no pins and very little and sometimes no back combing."

"The new Funky and Shag cut can be given to any length of hair — to mini, midi, maxi, because it is graduated into more layers. Despite this the hair will retain an over all look of length and the length can be extended to 14 to 20 inches.

"It has been a long time since we saw so much enthusiasm. This fantastic haircut will give a whole new appreciation of what cutting mastery is all about. The youth are attracted to the new long cut. They don't want their hair piled high on top of their head. They want it loose in casual styles."

Splendor Of France To Glow In Pointe

Crystal Chandeliers Will Swing Over Dancers' Heads at Fontbonne Auxiliary's 18th Annual White Christmas Ball

The splendor of 16th century France will be recaptured at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Saturday, December 11, when the Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital presents its 18th Annual White Christmas Ball.

Twenty-eight crystal chandeliers will highlight the French Renaissance period decor, which also features 150 poinsettias, 700 feet of silver foil, bushels of fruit, garlands and bolt on bolt of scarlet ribbon.

The menu, strolling musicians, and costumed doormen will continue the French theme.

Music for the ball will be provided by Jimmy Clark and his orchestra. The strolling musicians will entertain during cocktail and dinner hours.

Party proceeds are to aid in establishment of a Coronary Artery Surgery Program at Saint John Hospital.

When implemented, the Program will offer great benefits to the community by reducing the crippling and often fatal results of coronary artery disease.

The Hospital has a target date of mid-1972 for initiating the Program. It requires funds totaling approximately $400,000.

A goal of $35,000 has been set by Ball general chairman

Mrs. Charles Dawood and her committee, which includes Mrs. Richard Shaia as co-chairman. Mrs. Roland Rinke is advisory chairman; Mrs. James J. Humes and Mrs. James W. Welcome Extended To South High Tea

Mrs. Thomas Munson is Chairman of Next Wednesday's Party, the School's Mothers Club's Holiday Gift to the Community

What comes right after Thanksgiving? Why — Christmas, of course! The Grosse Pointe South High School Mothers' Club will open seasonal festivities with its annual tea scheduled for next Wednesday, December 1, at 3 o'clock in the Performing Arts Center at Grosse Pointe North High School.

This event has become a traditional early Christmas gift from the Mothers Club to the community.

Mrs. Thomas Munson, this year's chairman, and her committee have been busy preparing a very special welcome to the holidays.

They have taken time out from their hectic fall activities to plan an afternoon of music and art and a chance to see new places, greet old friends and find new faces.

The music will be provided by Grosse Pointe South High's a capella choir under the direction of Leonard Riccinto.

The art will be an exhibit of student work. Miss Julia

Set Valparaiso Guild Program

To celebrate the Advent of Christmas the East Chapter of Valparaiso University Guild will meet for tea and a musicale at Christ Iroquois Church Monday, December 6, at noon. The Reverend E. H. Hartman, pastor of Christ Iroquois, will conduct a Christmas devotional service and Merlyn Harppler, music director of the church, will present a program of Christmas music.

Mrs. J. O. Ortwein, of Lewiston road, program chairman, has announced that tea will be served before the ladies retire into the Sanctuary for devotions and the musicale.

Mrs. Hugh Stone, of Doyle place east, and her committee will have a selection of home-baked Christmas cookies for sale at the meeting. They will be attractively packaged for gift-giving.

Hostesses are Guild members from St. Mark's and Christ Churches with Mrs. Lester Cushnack and Mr.

Louis Koch, of Audubon road, serving as co-chairman.

All interested ladies are invited to join the chapter for this afternoon of devotion and fellowship in preparation for Christmas.

Scandinavian Symphony To Launch New Season

The Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra will present its first concert of the season Saturday, December 4, at 8:20 o'clock in Henry Ford High School Auditorium, featuring the "Trembita" Ukrainian Chorus conducted by Dr. Bohdan Kushnir, associate professor of music at Wayne State University, in a scene from a 19th century dramatic play depicting a Ukrainian Christmas Party.

The major orchestral work will be Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5 in E Minor. For some Orchestra members this work should evoke fond memories, as this Symphony was on the Orchestra's repertoire during its tour of the Scandinavian countries in 1950.

The Orchestra also will perform "Overture to the Bartered Bride" by Smetana. Conductor again this season is William Savola.

An innovation will be observance of the "Lucia Tradition," the Festival of Lights celebrated annually in Sweden in the early part of December.

Main figure in this beautiful pageant is "Lucia," who appears bearing a crown of lighted candles and attended by several "Star Boys."

Together they sing the Lucia ballad, as the Queen of Lights arrives in the dark cold north, bringing warmth and illumination.

Refreshments will be served following the performance.

ANNE HENRY, of University place, is a member of the Western Michigan University Choir which appeared in concert at WSU's Kanley Memorial Chapel last Sunday.

Evening Wedding For Kathleen Barton

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick Thompson, Jr., Are Vacationing in Acapulco After Rites and Dinner Reception at NYC

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting Friday, November 19, for the wedding of Kathleen Ann Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barton, of Stanhope avenue, and Joseph Patrick Thompson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick Thompson, of Radnor circle.

The Right Reverend Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided at the evening rites which were followed by a reception at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The former Miss Barton selected an ivory satin gown designed with an Empire waist and box-pleated skirt flowing into a full Chapel train. Her bodice, with its mandarin neckline and long tapered sleeves ending in scalloped ruffles, was fashioned of re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed with clusters of pearls and crystals.

A dome-shaped pillbox of matching lace held her bouffant imported silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

Thomas Biasell To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merritt Galloway, of Bad Axe, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Pamela, to Thomas Paul Biasell, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Robert Biasell, of Balfour road. A June wedding is planned.

The bride-elect was graduated from Michigan State University where she is presently pursuing graduate studies. Her fiancé, a Grosse Pointe High School and University of Detroit graduate, is an engineer with the City of Sterling Heights.

Kathleen Thompson, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Asmus, Mrs. Michael J. Bradley, Dorothy Dratschmidt and Mrs. Garrett A. Talocco.

Their floor length Empire dresses of olive green chiffon featured satin collars and cuffs. Each carried a cascade of yellow roses and ivy.

Acting as best man for his brother was R. Rickerd Thompson. Thomas Schulte served as lector.

Ushers were James Lazar, Joseph Pilat, Richard Sirvaitis and Joseph Valle, Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Barton chose a mint green and gold brocade floor length dress with a mandarin neckline, accented down the front and around the hemline with gold braid and iridescent crystal beading. She pinned a green orchid to her evening bag.

The mother of the bridegroom selected a floor length gown of multi-colored chiffon over a mauve underskirt, its fabric enhanced by an overall design of gold embroidery. She pinned a cyprididun to the gown.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco the couple will make their home in Chicago.

Mr. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick Thompson, of Radnor circle, claimed KATHLEEN ANN BARTON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barton, of Stanhope avenue, as his bride Friday, November 19, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

Elizabeth Cass DAR Will Hear Attorney

The Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will present Paul Shawen, well-known attorney from the Toledo area, at a noon luncheon meeting at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Monday, December 6.

Mr. Shawen, a graduate of Ohio State University, has had a very successful career in insurance as well as law.

As a concerned citizen he will speak on "Declining American Civilization: Our Obligation to Reverse."

Anyone interested in membership in the chapter is invited to contact regent Mrs. Cyrus Weatherby at 882-7578. Guests and members should also call Mrs. Weatherby to reserve a place at the December 6 meeting.

Cellist Starker With Symphony

World-famous cello virtuoso Janos Starker makes his first appearance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in Ford Auditorium this Friday and Saturday evening, November 26 and 27, at 8:30 o'clock. Conductor will be Pierre Hetu, the Orchestra's Associate Conductor.

The program features Starker's performance of the Dvorak B-minor Cello Concerto. Hetu will also lead the Orchestra in Cherubini's Overture to "Medea," Varese's "Ionisation" and Schoenberg's tone-poem "Transfigured Night."

Widely hailed as the "heir of Casals" and a frequent and popular recitalist and recording artist, Janos Starker first appeared with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Meadow Brook in July of 1970, when he gave the United States premiere of Miklos Rosza's Cello Concerto.

He is on the faculty at Indiana University and is the inventor of an improved cello bridge — with conical holes drilled in it—which can make a $200 instrument sound like one worth $1,500.

Tickets for the concerts are available at all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores and at the Ford Auditorium Box Office, 961-0700.

November Busy Month At Local Nursery School

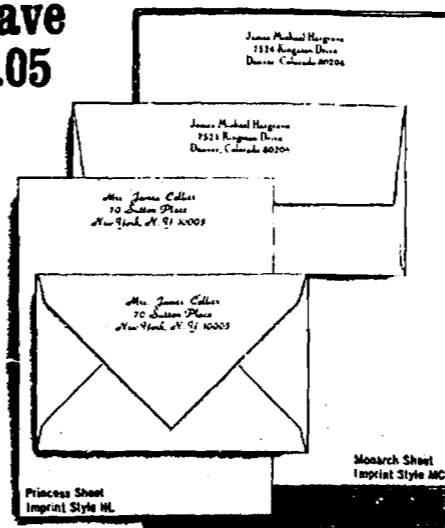

November was a busy month for the mothers and pre-school children of the St. Clair Shores Nursery School.

First off, the mothers profited from a fall workshop held at Ottawa School November 6. Then the three-year-olds enjoyed a November field trip to a fire station, and, again for the mothers, an interesting forum at the November membership meeting featured Marianne Lynch, with the Grosse Pointe Psychology Center, who spoke on Child Psychology.

Some people bring a sack lunch to eat in the field.

The 1972 edition of The Social Secretary, since 1917 the Blue Book of Detroit and Michigan Society, has just been released by the publishers.

This is the first year in its 55-year history of continual publication that this time-honored source book has been published in November.

The advance in the publication date, the publishers said, enables subscribers to update their Christmas, reception and debutante party mailing and invitations lists.

Slightly larger than the 1971 edition, The Social Secretary for 1972 includes 3,487 families.

Judy comes from a talented family, too. Her father is a piano technician and a violinist, which helps explain her love for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. She's a member of the Junior Women's Association for the Symphony.

A graduate in Psychology, she has been a Special Education teacher. This year, for the first time, she has a class of 34 normal first graders, and she's absolutely delighted with their delight in learning.

Don and Judy say their house has been furnished from garage and house sales, antique auctions, trips and "a little mother and a little father." They term their decor Early Attic.

'Kaleidoscope' Stars Shankar

Ravi Shankar, India's most famous musician, will introduce to Detroit his own Concerto for Sitar and Orchestra when he appears with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Ford Auditorium Friday evening, December 3, at 8 o'clock.

As featured guest in the first of three Kaleidoscope concerts planned for the 1971-72 Symphony season Shankar also will present a group of solos, traditional Indian ragas, with tabla (double drum) accompaniment by Alla Rakha, supported on tamboura (string drone) by Kamala Chakravarty.

The conductor of this concert, which juxtaposes 20th-century music from east and west, will be Paul Freeman, the Orchestra's conductor-in-residence.

Ravi Shankar is well-known to western audiences, both as a performer and a composer. He has toured widely and provided the scores for "Father Panjali" and several other Indian films seen here.

He has inspired many western musicians, from Yehudi Menuhin to John Coltrane to George Harrison.

The "western" part of the concert begins with the Overture from Ulysses Kay's "Theatre Set" and will include Leonard Bernstein's "Jeremiah" Symphony with mezzo-soprano Theresa Treadway-Carroll and an ultra-modern piece by Charles Shere, "From Calling and Singing," which requires the help of the Wayne State University Women's Chorus and two assisting conductors, Jerome Rosen and Felix Resnick.

Future concerts in the Kaleidoscope series will highlight the Detroit Symphony's own rock group, the Metamorphosis, on January 15, in a program conducted by Sixten Ehrling, and music of Japanese performers and composers February 18, conducted by Pierre Hetu.

All concerts begin at 8 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Tickets are available at all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores and from the Ford Auditorium Box Office, 961-0700. Students may obtain tickets at half price.

Driver Charged On Two Counts

A 45-year-old Detroit man, Thomas Fultz, Jr., was charged with careless driving and drunken driving following an accident on Saturday November 20, at Cadieux and Jefferson.

On that date, Fultz was traveling east on Jefferson when he made a left turn onto Cadieux in front of Johnnie Corbin, Jr. of Highland Park, hitting the Corbin vehicle.

When City patrolmen James Cronin, Dennis Van Dale, Sergeant Duncan MacEachern, City and Park firemen and Park police arrived at the scene, they found Fultz wedged between the floor and the dashboard, unconscious. He was rushed to Bon Secours Hospital where he was treated and later released. Corbin was not injured. Both vehicles sustained major damage and had to be towed from the scene.

Fultz returned to the station that same evening. He was asked if he would submit to a breathalyzer test and he agreed. He was taken to the City of Grosse Pointe Woods station and tested. He registered .15 and was subsequently charged under the drunken motor law.

He was given a court notice to appear Tuesday, December 7, in Municipal Court.

Detroit to Host Gold Cup Race

The American Power Boat Association (APBA), Gold Cup Race for unlimited hydroplanes will be held in Detroit on June 25, 1972, returning this crown jewel of boat races to Detroit after a three year absence.

Paul Ketterman and John Dubrovich, commodore and vice-commodore respectively of the Spirit of Detroit Association, hand carried Detroit's sealed bid for the coveted race to the Annual Meeting of the American Power Boat Association in Seattle this week, to compete against bids from other boat racing centers.

Detroit's successful bids was $42,500, topping the $35,000 bids of Seattle and Madison and the $33,800 Tri-Cities bid.

The Gold Cup Race, which annually draws crowds of as many as 500,000, is the biggest boat racing event in the world. It is to hydroplane racing what the World Series is to baseball. The most recent Gold Cup Race on the Detroit River was in 1968.

Ketterman and Dubrovich carried with them the blessing of Mayor Gribbs, the city fathers, and community and civic leaders as they traveled to Seattle to place the Spirit of Detroit Association's bid for the 1972 Gold Cup Race.

Boat owners, sponsors, and members of the American Power Boat Association, convened in Seattle for the annual conclave, at which the location of next year's Gold Cup Race was one of the major decisions.

Detroit was host to the Gold Cup Race from 1946 through 1950, and in 1956, 1963, 1964, 1966, and 1968. Seattle, Wash.; San Diego, Cal.; Las Vegas and Reno Nev.; and Madison, Ind. have all had the race one or more times.

Money could do more for folks if they expected it to do less.

Painted crosswalks may soon give way to thermoplastic-marked crosswalks in Detroit according to Alger F. Malo, director of the City's Department of Streets and Traffic.

Installations already have been made at the Harper-Whittier, McNichols-Dequindre, and Fort-Clark intersections, three of nine test sites.

"The results of initial tests indicate that thermoplastic markings are easier to see, more durable, and possibly more economical at certain locations than paint markings," Malo said.

"In addition," he said, "traffic safety is greatly enhanced because traffic interference time during marking operations is cut considerably."

Thermoplastic crosswalk markings dry in two to ten minutes and last for three years. Paint markings dry in 15 to 45 minutes and last for six months.

Hot, extruded thermoplastic is a mixture of resins, pigments, glass beads, and fillers.

Salvation Army To Light Tree

The Christmas season for the Salvation Army begins on Friday, November 26, at noon. This is the start of The Salvation Army's Christmas Appeal, and the first bulb on the Tree of Lights will be turned on by His Honor, Mayor Roman S. Gribbs.

This year's chairman of the Salvation Army Christmas Committee is Francis E. Cogdill of Chrysler Corporation. Mr. Cogdill is the introductory speaker, and the Tree of Lights Kickoff will again be sponsored by the Standard Federal Savings & Loan Association. Walter J. L. Ray, Standard Federal chairman, will present the Army with a $1,000 check.

Detroiters will raise their voices in a Christmas Carol sing-along. Bob Reynolds, WJR sportscaster, and other Detroit notables will be on hand for the traditional beginning of the Salvation Army's Christmas Appeal.

To make it a happier Christmas for more than 60,000 individuals in the metropolitan area, the goal this year is $100,000. Many events are planned to spread Christmas cheer: Golden Agers' parties; hot, full-course meals for homeless men; thousands of dinner to needy families; hospitals and rest homes visited; top shops for children; and many other thoughtful services.

Everyone is cordially invited to come down and join in the ceremonies at the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights.

None are so blind as the folks who take too many eye-openers.

Boyne Country Condominiums

Right in the heart of Mid-America's skiing, golf and recreation mecca—BOYNE COUNTRY. The Boynestadt condominium village is nestled at the foot of fabulous Boyne Mountain and overlooks world-renowned Boyne Mountain Lodge.

Jungfrau

Reminiscent of Switzerland's most dramatic and well-known mountain, the "Jungfrau" provides a towering accent to the Boynestadt village concept. The Jungfrau's five-storied reach assures a magnificent view of Boynestadt, Boyne Mountain, and surrounding terrain.

Boynestadt

Arlberg

As vast as the Austrian Alpine Ski country after which it is named, the Arlberg apartment building houses 12 apartments and is the largest of all buildings in the Boynestadt Condominium village complex.

Mont Blanc

Recalling memories of Europe's highest mountain, the "Mont Blanc" building sets in quiet majesty in the Boynestadt complex. The two-storied Mont Blanc building houses 4 apartments keyed to discriminating tastes and offers broad vistas of the entire area.

4 seasons of recreation

Skiing at all of the famous Boyne Country areas—Boyne Mountain, Boyne Highlands, Thunder Mountain, and Weldon Hills—from November through April.

Ball at the magnificent 18-hole championship mountain course, 9-hole par 3 course within walking distance from the village, plus a golf training camp for youngsters—and only a short drive away, the challenging 18-hole, Boyne Highlands course, (formerly one of the top ten in the nation), designed by Robert Trent Jones plus the 9-hole par 3 Highlands course—72 holes of golf.

Blue Lake Pass-Sassara Beach Club to serve golfers, swimmers, boaters and fishermen whose beautiful white beach and private club house with dining and locker room facilities offers the ultimate in lakeside fun. The prime sandy beach, much of which shelves out at a gentle slope for as far as 300 yards before youngsters can get chin-deep, is the lake's chief allure. Water is crystal-clear and, because the half-mile wide lake is nestled like a jewel in a bowl of hills, waves are never so high that a fisherman would become endangered by high winds. It also has a good "ice" shore, regardless of wind direction, for water skiing at any time of the day.

Deer Lake has long been noted as a bass and pike fishing lake and abounds with bluegills, sunfish, and perch for the neophyte angler just learning to handle a fly rod. What's more, several small trout streams flow through the Deer Lake area just south of the lake and are readily accessible by good roads.

A fleet of rental boats and sailing craft will be available to guests—and a launching ramp will be provided for club members desiring to bring their own. A private road connects the Boyne Country Four-Seasons Beach Club with Boynestadt just a mile away to the westward.

Boynestadt is only minutes of easy access to a resort complex which offers you 10,000 acres of pleasure—skiing, golf, salmon and trout fishing, sailing, motorboating, deer and small game hunting, swimming, waterskiing, horseback riding, retirement living, investment opportunities—all in one recreational administrative organization

LOUISE SHE, OF THE CHILDREN'S HOME OF DETROIT

By Lynda Kryvnski

Louise She boasts she is a Jack-of-all-Trades. Her claim to this title stems from the variety of jobs and responsibilities she has held throughout her career in social work, a job that has almost recently brought her to Grosse Pointe and a position on the staff of the Children's Home of Detroit in Cook road.

Technically speaking, Miss She is a woman without a country. She came to the United States for the fourth time in February, 1971, to work and live at the Children's Home and to earn her United States citizenship.

Miss She was a native of Nationalist China when she first came to the U. S. on a United Nations Fellowship in 1948.

She was to study Child Welfare Administration. She was one of four women selected on the basis of a competitive exam taken in the capital of Nationalist China, then Nanking, to receive the Fellowship.

As is the custom of the United Nations, the government of China signed a contract with the U. S. State Department agreeing that all the fellows would be returned to China.

Communists Take Over "Oh my goodness," she says as she recalls the incident, "you can't imagine what trouble there was when the Communists took over the government at Nanking while I was still here in the U. S."

"There were many midnight long-distance phone calls to China when I tried to get permission to stay here."

"Of course, I didn't want to go back to Communist China—that was not my country. But everyone, including the U. N., wanted all the fellows to go back—as soon as possible. They couldn't get us on a plane soon enough—Christmas or no Christmas."

"All the government at Nanking would tell me that they were withdrawing, so they also gave me the easiest answer—No, you cannot stay in the U. S."

The story ends well, though, as Miss She says jokingly. "Literally speaking, I slid down the plane before take-off."

Gets Student Visa After that she went through many diplomatic channels and obtained a student visa to remain here. In 1949 she entered the Merrill-Palmer Institute.

Louise She is a very small woman but her smallness does not stop her from being very forceful and very scientifically methodical.

Her office at the Children's Home is almost bare, with only a very neat desk, two chairs and a small children's playtable in the corner. There is a bulletin board that remains unhung and is only sparsely covered with notes. There are no curtains on the windows.

But then Miss She doesn't seem the type to care about physical surroundings. She is in every way a scholar.

Under a co-op plan, Miss She was able to transfer from Merrill-Palmer to the University of Michigan.

Within these two schools, she studied under some of the leading authorities on child development in the U. S., including Dr. Leeland Stott and Miss Marian Breckenridge at Merrill-Palmer, and Professor Willard C. Olson, later Dean of Education at the University of Michigan.

Worked in Summer It is here that her ties to the Children's Home began. She worked at the Home while a student at Michigan in the summer of 1949-50. Afterwards she kept in touch, first with Herbert J. Shanks and Mrs. Shanks and later with Clinton Justice, the present executive director of the Home.

It was Mr. Justice who asked her to come to the Home and work while she earned her U. S. citizenship. Her Masters thesis, "Self Regulation in Relation to Security," was selected by Dean Olson for presentation to the fact-finding committee of the White House Conference on Child Welfare.

After receiving her Masters degree from the University of Michigan in 1950 she returned to Hong Kong.

After World War II Hong Kong's population jumped from 600,000 to four million—mostly Chinese refugees. The influx of population created many new social problems for the colony, and the British government, wanting to create a new department of Social Welfare, asked the University of Hong Kong to start a program to train social workers to staff this new department.

Widely Advertised The University advertised

the Social Studies lectureship in the world's leading newspapers. The new course would follow the English system with a certificate course in Social Studies for undergraduates and a diploma course in Social Studies for graduates.

After scrupulous interviewing by the Director of Social Welfare, the Magistrate of Juvenile Court of Hong Kong, two professors and the Dean of the Faculty of the University, Miss She was awarded the position of Lecturer in Social Study and Supervisor of Practical Work.

This is where Miss She's claim to the title Jack of all Trades has most of its basis.

Many Obstacles "Let me make it very clear," she says, "that I had many things going against me for that appointment—the British had a custom that only British could be 'heads' of anything important in Hong Kong. There I was: I was not British, I was no man, I had American degrees and I was new to Hong Kong—but they had nobody else from Britain to appoint, so they appointed me."

As Lecturer in Social Study, Miss She was the first and only member of the staff teaching Social Work subjects from 1951 to 1959. In 1959 a second post was established and an Assistant Lecturer appointed.

Filled Many Shoes Miss She didn't just teach the courses. She prepared time-tables, planned the curriculum, was a student advisor, was the office correspondent on behalf of the chairman of the Board of Social Studies, (who was chairman in name only—Miss She did all the work)

She prepared budget requests on behalf of the department, was responsible for a United Nations donation of $2,000 worth of books for the library, wrote employment references, (a task she still does today while working at the Children's Home), wrote annual reports, delivered speeches at local high schools to enlist new students.

The list could go on forever.

Help Was Unknown "I had absolutely no help from anyone with that job."

"All the responsibilities were a stringent test of how I could endure cut-throat competition and difficult pressures."

The British system of higher education allows teachers much time for study and long leaves. On leave, Miss She was able to travel around the world three times as well as to represent the University as a member of the Hong Kong delegation at International Conferences and Congresses, including the International Congress and Conferences for Social Welfare in Washington and Manila in 1966 and 1970.

Studied in London In 1959-60 she left her post at the University of Hong Kong and went to the London School of Economics and Political Science to study Social Welfare Administration. She wanted further study for herself.

She took a summer course in 1960 at the University of Michigan's School of Social Work because "I consider U. S. education of higher value."

And in 1961-62 she was a visiting scholar at the Columbia University School of Social Work.

In 1967 the Hong Kong government finally established the Department of Social Work and Miss She was appointed acting head of the department eight times in a three-year span, 1967-69.

"Again, I could only be 'acting head' because only the British could be 'heads'."

Now She's Back Home

And now she's come back to the Children's Home of Detroit. "It's like coming home... so close to my University of Michigan."

"And I love the children and this Home just as I did in 1949. Of course there are different children now, but it still remains the same."

Jack-of-all-Trades has found a place in a country that will soon be her own.

You know, of course... that Brooke Janis, former rider with the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, now on the staff of a new magazine, "On The Sound," has a long by-line interview in the November issue with William Steinkraus, captain of the United States Equestrian Team...

... in her interview... Mr. Steinkraus told Brooke the German team was formidable competition for the Olympics in Munich next summer: "I'd call them the favogites, with the British the second choice. The Canadians, the French, the Italians and ourselves should all be nipping at their heels..."

... well, now: That's interesting... and it's interesting, too, to find out what Brooke herself's been up to lately... You know, of course, that graduation from Grosse Pointe University School was followed by graduation from Briarcliff College...

... but did you know... that she left "Life," with Mr. Rowan, a year ago, to help found "On The Sound," a high-quality regional magazine aimed at the five million residents who rim Long Island and Block Island Sounds...

... Brooke's recent article... was a "natural" for someone who's been "crazy over horses ever since she was a little girl..."

You know, of course... that the 22nd annual Detroit Public Library Staff Memorial and Fellowship Award, carrying with it a $2,000 cash grant and two months' leave with pay, was presented at a special program at the Main Library Friday evening, November 12...

... and you know, of course... that Miss Young is a nationally-recognized authority on children's literature, a lecturer, writer, conductor of seminars, compiler of numerous reading lists such as the annual "Books to Own: Recent Books and Old Favorites for Every Child's Bookshelf"...

... AND that she's served... the American Library Association as council member, president of its Children's Services Division, editor of "Top of the News" and chairman of the Newberry Caldecott committee...

... AND that she was one... of the first library storytellers to appear on local educational TV, and was seen recently as co-host of "Stories Worldwide" on Channel 7...

... so we don't have to tell you... how this lady, unfliningly kind, cordial and enthusiastic, ready to pluck a title out of her amazing memory for children's books of the past or to select with unerring good judgment the best from the multitude of children's books of the present, is living proof of the maxim that only busy people know how to be busier...
