

'VILLAGE' GETTING NEW LOOK

More Georgian Colonial For The Village?

Here is a front view of the proposed expanded Jacobson's store in The Village. The structure is estimated to cost well over two million dollars. See lead story on this page for details.

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 13
MAYOR GRIBBS ordered widespread cuts in city spending Wednesday that will bring layoffs of city workers and reductions in many city programs, including recreation, health, sanitation and cultural services. Gribbs ordered all city departments to cut their budgets from 15 to 50 percent in an effort to reduce an expected city budget deficit this year from $29.8 million to a "manageable" $22.4 million.

The Detroit mayor also announced Wednesday that he will withdraw another 70,000 troops from Vietnam over the next three months, leaving only 69,000 Americans there by May 1. The President said there would be further withdrawals after May, but Defense Secretary Melvin Laird said a small residual force will stay until U. S. prisoners of war are released.

Friday, January 14
PRESIDENT NIXON announced Thursday that he will withdraw another 70,000 troops from Vietnam over the next three months, leaving only 69,000 Americans there by May 1. The President said there would be further withdrawals after May, but Defense Secretary Melvin Laird said a small residual force will stay until U. S. prisoners of war are released.

THE FBI SWORE OUT A WARRANT Thursday for an AWOL army private who was once Abbie Hoffman's roommate, Ronald Kaufman, 32, alleging that he was involved in planting bombs in New York, Chicago, and San Francisco banks. The FBI found Kaufman's fingerprints on one of the exploded bombs and their handwriting experts say that it is Kaufman who wrote the note warning the government to release "all political prisoners."

Saturday, January 15
A U.S. CONGRESSMAN, Representative James H. Scheuer, D-NY, who showed interest in the problems of Soviet Jews while in Russia to study education, was ordered Friday to leave the country immediately. The Soviet government accused the American of improper activities as a member of an official foreign delegation, implying that Scheuer had urged Soviet citizens to emigrate and had distributed printed material. The congressman, in Leningrad when the order came, denied the charges but consented to leave the country.

Sunday, January 16
QUEEN MARGRETHE II, 31, was proclaimed ruler of Denmark Saturday in a public ceremony in front of the Christiansborg, the Danish seat of parliament. She succeeds her father, the sailing King Frederic IX, who had reigned for nearly 25 years as Denmark's democratic monarch and who died on Friday of a heart attack following pneumonia.

Monday, January 17
AGRICULTURE SECRETARY EARL L. BUTZ, under growing pressure from governors, big cities and Congress, announced Sunday an abrupt reversal of the federal food stamp policy and ordered full benefits restored to all eligible needy persons. This reversal aids two million or so recipients of food stamps who would have had benefits sharply reduced because their incomes were at the upper range of the government's poverty scale.

Tuesday, January 18
U. S. DISTRICT JUDGE Cornelia Kennedy decided Monday to drop crucial wiretap evidence in the Anchor Bar gambling case, in which 16 Detroit police officers and more than 100 Michigan residents were arrested and charged in a massive raid last May 6. In her decision, Judge Kennedy ruled that the authorities extended the time the wiretaps were used beyond the authorized period of one month to amass evidence.

City Drops Case Against Supervisors

Advisors to Recycling Group Were About to Appeal Decision on Noise Violation

The City of Grosse Pointe dropped its case against Jack Grenard and Jere Thomas, supervisors for the local recycling group, Earth Lovers, just as the matter was about to be appealed in Wayne County Circuit Court on Monday, January 17.

City of Grosse Pointe Municipal Judge Douglas L. Pateron found the two Pointers guilty in September of violating the city noise ordinance after the city had received numerous complaints from residents.

Helping Teenagers
Grenard and Thomas had been helping the teenagers with their recycling center at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on Maumee.

Defending Grenard and Thomas in their appeal was David Greenspan, Pointe attorney, who volunteered more than 160 hours of his time to the case.

Attorneys for the City and the Earth Lovers worked out an arrangement where the charges were dropped when the operation was discontinued at the Maumee location.

Bond Money Refunded
The more than $200 donated by Earth Lovers and members of the Unitarian Church for the appeal bond of Grenard and Thomas will now be donated to the recycling group.

Mr. Grenard said "The City of Grosse Pointe police handled themselves with restraint, showed great courtesy under trying conditions and should be commended for their professionalism in this case."

TWO METERS DAMAGED
Officers Ralph Moore and Steven Molitor of the Park Police Department discovered two damaged parking meters in the 15500 block of Mack Tuesday, January 11. An auto apparently drove over the curb, striking the meters. A report was submitted to the service department for repairs.

High Schools Grant Right To Smoke to 18-Year-Olds

Eighteen-year-olds at North and South High Schools have been granted permission by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to smoke on school property. The move by the Board was a result of recent state legislation granting 18-year-olds adult responsibilities. Special areas have been designated to students at both high schools for smoking. At South, 18-year-olds may smoke in a small fenced-in area next to the breezeway facing the gymnasium. North High 18-year-olds may smoke in a courtyard in back of the school. Both schools have provided barrels with sand for disposal of cigarettes.

Public Schools' Attorney, Rep. William Bryant, Jr., Speak About Legal Issues

Featured at Second of Series of Public Meetings of Community Forums on Education; More Sessions Slated

"Although not a legal issue, it is felt by many that the loss of fiscal self-determination will soon mean total loss of local control of the school system—a concern of wealthy and poor districts alike. We feel that this interest can best be protected by vigorously defending the lawsuit, leaving to the Legislature the question of reform of educational financing," Douglas West, Attorney for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, has said.

"Although we have no vested interest in preserving our present system as it stands today, we do have an interest in preserving the right to locally determine the level of educational spending and educational excellence for the students in our district," he said in discussing the property tax suit instituted against Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield Hills, and Dearborn by Governor William Milliken and Attorney General Frank Kelley.

Two Featured Speakers
Mr. West, who presented a "Summary of Pertinent Legal Issues Facing the Public Schools," was featured speaker, along with Representative William R. Bryant, Jr., in the second of a series of public meetings, Grosse Pointe Community Forums on Education, instituted recently by Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. West presented an overview of the legal issues in the four most widely-publicized issues confronting public education today: school financing, metropolitan desegregation, student rights, and teacher rights. In his remarks, entitled "One View from the Capitol on the State and Public Education," Representative Bryant amplified upon the four topics presented by Mr. West.

Mr. West described the property tax suit as "an attack" on the use of the locally voted and expended ad valorem property tax for the support of public education because districts with a comparatively higher state equalized valuation per pupil can afford to, and do, spend more for the education of their students than poorer districts, a situation termed as "unconstitutional disparity in educational opportunity."

"It is claimed that educational opportunity in Michigan is a result of the wealth of the district in which the student resides rather than the wealth of the state as a whole," he commented. Mr. West said that he hoped the court would permit locally determined levels of spending. He added that the Governor and Attorney General have requested that the ad valorem property tax as presently constituted be held unconstitutional—not just the equalization factor of the state aid act.

For those who may support Governor Milliken's proposal, there is serious question as to whether or not the 6 mill enrichment factor would be constitutional," he added.

Three Work Together
Regarding the present status of the suit, Mr. West said that the Ingham County Circuit Court has been directed to try the case and to make findings of fact within 90 days to be forwarded to the Michigan Supreme Court, together with the certified questions of law. The three school districts are presently working together to develop a defense to the suit and to evaluate the recent Texas case and its strength of appeal.

Representative Bryant said that he disagrees with Governor Milliken's approach to school financing for the upcoming 1972-73 fiscal year. He said that he feels the Legislature ought to try to solve the problem awaiting the court decision on the property tax suit and the outcome of the petition drive to limit the property tax. He indicated that he favors restructuring Michigan.

Earth Lovers Will Resume Collections

Group Based at Memorial Church Will Reopen Ecology Operation on February 18

The glass-collecting Earth Lovers plan to reopen their ecology operation Friday, February 18, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The announcement was made by two South High students, Mike Martin and Mike Read, leaders of Earth Lovers. Their operation closed earlier this month at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

The new group is a combination of Earth Lovers, who worked out of the Unitarian Church, and the Student Committee on Pollution Eradication (SCOPE). The groups merged last month.

Read, leader of SCOPE, is the new director of planning and finance for Earth Lovers. Mike Martin is director of operations.

With a group varying from 10 to 20 students, Earth Lovers recently raised more than $200 from service organizations and a bagel sale. The money will go for launching their operation.

After the first load of glass leaves for an Owens-Illinois Company plant in Charlotte, Mich., for recycling, Earth Lovers expects to be self-sustaining from sale of the glass.

The Earth Lovers' new operation will use large bins, a more efficient manner of collection than the barrels used previously, according to Gene Wigglesworth, science teacher and advisor to the Earth Lovers.

Pointers are asked to save their used bottles until Earth Lovers reopens next month.

Park Has Two Thefts in Hour

Two breakings and enterings of homes were reported to the Park Police Department within a one hour period Tuesday, January 11.

The first incident was reported by Susan C. James, 1094 Grayton, at 7:27 p.m., while the second occurrence was at 8 p.m., according to James H. Quello, 954 Berkshire.

Students' Request Produces Answer Of 1-Upmanship

Woods Council Agrees With Administrator Petersen's Suggestion to Combine Voter Registration With City Hall Tour

By Roger A. Waña
Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen is planning to go the students of Grosse Pointe North "one better." One item on the agenda at the Woods regular council meeting Monday, January 17, was a letter addressed to Mr. Petersen from the Student Association of GP North regarding the scheduling of two voter registration days at the school. Many of the students are or soon will be 18-years-old and able to vote.

The letter, signed by Steve Rabaut, student association president, Donald Dungan, student association sponsor, and G. Bruce Feighner, principal requested Mr. Petersen come to the school and register those students who are eligible to vote on one day in February and one in June.

Alternate Proposal
Mr. Petersen mentioned that taking clerks to the school would take them from their regular duties. So he suggested a proposal for Council consideration, going "the students one better."

He said municipal buses could be provided to take the students from school, to the council chambers, and back again. While at the chambers, the students would register to vote, receive some indoctrination on the use of the voting machine, and have a tour of the municipal facilities. Thus the students would have an impression of what their city government is like.

Council Enthusiastic
The council's reaction was enthusiastic. Councilman Marvin R. Boutin said, "We should do all we can to help register the 18-year-olds." He felt the demonstration regarding the use of the voting machine was a good idea, plus the use of municipal buses.

Councilman Benjamin W. Pinkos said the recommendation has the "whole-hearted" approval of the council, while councilman Rodger H. Graef felt it was very desirable to have the students come to city hall.

Mr. Petersen is planning to work out the details of dates and times with Mr. Feighner and the student association for the registration drive. Around 300 of the 18-20-year-olds have been registered so far in the Woods, according to Mr. Petersen.

Mayor Kenneth McLeod asked Mr. Petersen to "see that the students are taken care of." You can bet they will be.

Meeting Slated By School Board

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. on Monday, January 24, in the Board Room of the schools' Administration Building, 389 St. Clair avenue. The agenda will include a preliminary discussion on possible millage rates and/or amounts and approval of the month of January.

FLEC Assumes Operation Of Program for Students

William C. Porter, president of the Grosse Pointe Family Life Education Council announced that the FLEC's Board at its January meeting agreed to assume the operation of the student volunteer service program until the end of the academic year. An evaluation of the program will be made.

For the past eight years the Neighborhood Club has been sponsoring the student volunteer program, but insufficient funds has resulted in the Neighborhood Club withdrawing its support. FLEC Board of Directors is undertaking the operation because of the educational value and personal growth opportunities to the young people of the community both to the individual who is

City Studies Jacobson's Presentation

NBD and McCourt Building New Structures; All Go for Williamsburg Architecture

By Pepper Whitelaw
While many local shopping areas all over the country have gradually deteriorated and failed, giving way to the larger shopping complexes, Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach and the City Council have been working quietly and efficiently to maintain and upgrade The Village.

Local merchants have been more than cooperative. With each improvement The Village has taken on a more Early American look.

The first new construction permit was granted to the National Bank of Detroit, whose new complete banking facility currently under construction on the site of the old Village Manor Restaurant in St. Clair avenue is expected to be completed in late fall. Bank representatives redesigned their plans, even making a trip to Williamsburg, Va., for architectural ideas.

Recently, long-time Pointe merchant William McCourt was granted permission to build on the former Yaklin Shell Service site on the southwest corner of Notre Dame and Kercheval across from the proposed Jacobson expansion site. The McCourt building will also have a Williamsburg flavor, complete with a covered arcade type walkway. Construction is slated to begin this week on that building.

Now Jacobson's, which has been in the Village since 1943, when it took a year's lease on the old Tuttle and Clark Store, has stepped forward with an expansion proposal which, if approved by Council, would be yet another progressive step in the continuing upgrading of The Village area.

J. Russell Fowler, president of Jacobson's, who attended the regular meeting of the Grosse Pointe Council on Monday, reviewed some of the early beginnings of the store. He said the owners insisted on having an "out-clause" in the lease because two previous stores at that location had failed. "But after the year was up, we grew more confident, and now after several expansion programs and some 19 years later, we are more confident than ever that we can, through further expansion, to provide Pointers and the Pointe community with a store they can continue to be proud of."

Mayor John King explained that the Council members have been concerned about the future of The Village area for some time. He indicated that they did not want it to turn into another Jefferson avenue or another Gratiot avenue with old boarded up defunct buildings, nor did they want second and third rate stores with plastic fronts and neon signs. But they had been reluctant to expand parking facilities from the standpoint of taking additional homes in order to increase the amount of parking available in The Village area.

Mayor King said that some months ago the Council agreed that the store fronts in The Village should be based on a central theme and after making an appraisal of the entire Pointe area decided that the early American period should be used.

Mr. King said that Jacobson's, one of the City's leading merchants, has for some time indicated its desire to expand and improve its facilities in The Village, and that in recent years it has acquired the small stores between its present location on Kercheval and Notre Dame. Also, to help The Village it moved into one of the empty stores which was formerly Peter Pan, refurbished the store inside and out, and placed its fabric operation there.

Late this past summer and fall, representatives of Jacobson's and the City Council

Governor Sets Jaycee Week

Governor William Milliken has officially proclaimed January 16-22 as Michigan Jaycee Week.

The Jaycees offer leadership training through community development for young men between the ages of 18 and 35. The Jaycees are designed specifically to meet the needs of the young man seeking to make his place in community and business ranks.

In working towards these goals, every young man is offered the opportunities of a voice in community affairs, a practical leadership development course, the chance to try new ideas and improve old ones, and social contact with other young men.

Today, local Jaycee chapters are active in over 6,400 communities across America and in over 80 foreign countries.

In this area, the Grosse Pointe Jaycees will host their annual Distinguished Service Award-Bosses Night Banquet on Thursday, January 20, as the highlight of the week.

WCCC Extends Registration

Registration has been extended at Wayne County Community College to allow an anticipated record number of students to enroll.

Registration will continue at all WCCC centers during the first week of classes, January 17-21.

WCCC's night centers will enroll students January 17-20 during class hours. Night centers include Northwestern, Mackenzie, Central, Osborn, Western, Cody, Hamtramck, Ford, Ecorse, John Glenn, Grosse Pointe North, Kennedy, Riverside, Riverview, Romulus high schools.

Students may enroll January 17-21 at WCCC's day and day-night centers—Cathedral, 100 Belmont; Garfield Building, 4612 Woodward; Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers; Milton Middle School, 1771 Henry Ruff road, Inkster; Nativity, 9330 Shoemaker; St. Patrick's, 129 Superior, Wyandotte; and the Downtown YWCA, 2230 Witherell.

For further information students should call 832-5500.

Present Site Plans

(Continued from Page 1) son's made known to City officials their initial ideas and concepts for enlarging and improving its apparel store in The Village. They agreed that insofar as possible the exterior of the store would be finished in an early American theme. They indicated at that time their strong belief that the significant parking additions were necessary to insure the success of not only the Jacobson building improvements, but also to maintain the vitality of the Village shopping area for all of the merchants and help with home values in the surrounding area over the next several years.

According to Mayor King, the Jacobson management indicated its great desire to see this additional parking provided through the use of ramp parking rather than additional surface parking. Mayor King said Council members were also concerned about the need for additional parking, but have not wanted to create an asphalt jungle of surface parking.

Ask To See Picture
Since Jacobson's initial presentation, Council members requested that they refine their ideas into an architectural site plan for public review. The Council also asked City Planner Brandon Rogers and City Manager Kressbach to review the zoning ordinance to determine what changes would be necessary to meet the needs of Jacobson's, other Village merchants and the public.

As a result of these studies, representatives of Jacobson's were present Monday evening to offer their site plan, including their ideas for parking additions.

A Public Hearing was also held to amend the zoning ordinance which would be necessary if Jacobson's is to carry out its proposed development plans.

The amendments would permit erection of a parking ramp on a public parking district subject to numerous requirements and restrictions including a site plan review by the City Council; would limit the height of buildings in any business district to 35 feet or two and-a-half stories, whichever is lower. (Jacobson's proposal is a two story addition and a three level ramp, the top deck of which would be 18 feet above the ground); require a side-yard setback on corner stores (both the McCourt Building and Jacobson's proposal meet this requirement through their arcades).

City Is Realistic
Mayor King said that Grosse Pointe is generally a conservative community but that it is also a realistic one. He said that it is impossible to maintain a status quo . . . "you must either progress or you will regress," he said.

The presentation Monday night showed the enlargement of existing facilities which would permit Jacobson's to provide more variety in the selection of clothing for women, men and children. Mr. Fowler indicated that the local Jacobson's store is not up to the standards of other Jacobson specialty shops in the metropolitan area.

The plan includes an addition of some 30,000 square feet of floor space, including a basement and two levels. There will be an arcade on the Notre Dame side of the structure. Mr. Fowler said

Jacobson's has acquired three properties to the west which front on Kercheval and Notre Dame, all three of which will be demolished. The existing building would also be improved to fit into the Georgian Colonial theme with the center of the building being lower than the sides and the facade made less pretentious.

Stresses Parking
He indicated that in order to expand the store in this manner parking has to be considered and that the present facility which houses 114 cars is not sufficient. He said the company feels that ramp or vertical parking would complement the present area rather than detract from it. The new parking complex would house approximately 300 cars. He called the parking structure a "carriage house," similar to the carriage house behind the Governor's mansion in Williamsburg, Va.

The entrances and exit, according to Mr. Fowler, could be either on Notre Dame or St. Clair, depending on the advice of the City's Safety Department.

There would be open parking on the roof, a landscaped sideyard and an encircling brick wall. Mr. Fowler said even the delivery entrance would be an enclosed truck well and added that unsightly trash cans would also be eliminated since the expansion proposal would include the use of an internal compactor.

He added that colonial brick would be used throughout, the upper windows of the store would be full and wide, the roof partially pitched and the lower windows covered with copper hoods.

Decision Awaits Study
Council members discussed the matter and decided to take no immediate action on the expansion until a study was made by two experts Brandon Rogers, city planner, of Parking, Rogers and Associates and Reid, Cool and Michalski, traffic engineer consultants.

Mr. Rogers said the study would take anywhere from 30 and 45 days to be completed and would include three phases. The first phase would be a land use impact study by his firm and a traffic and parking survey by Reid, Cool and Michalski.

The second phase will be a financial feasibility study of a parking structure which would determine the type of financing most advantageous to the City. The final phase will be a final report which would be presented to the Council for approval.

Since the City owns the parking lot behind Jacobson's, the matter of financing the new parking addition will be one of major importance. However, Mr. Kressbach said monies used for the parking facility would be financed from parking revenues and not from general taxes.

Clare Wascher, manager of Jacobson's, told the NEWS that the expansion would be a positive asset and stimulus to area merchants and make The Village the type of area Pointers deserve.

The new leaf you turn is often the same one turned again.

Orchid Display Open to Public

An Orchid Display will be held at the Conner Park Florist, Inc., 9830 Conner, Detroit, on Saturday, January 22, 1-6 p.m., and Sunday, January 23, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A free safe boating course requisite for all skippers and prospective boat owners will be offered by members of U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-12 at Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road, on Monday evenings, February 7 through April 10 at 7:30 o'clock.

Those successfully completing the course and the Coast Guard examination at the conclusion will be awarded certificates of competency. This course is considered every bit as important as driver training to maintain safety on Lake St. Clair.

Pre-enrollment is preferably accepted now at the War Memorial Office or last minute registrations may come at 7 p.m. the night of the first class to matriculate. While there is no charge for the instruction, there is a $5 charge for materials including texts, rope, charts, etc.

The course will be conducted by Chief Training Officer Pimer of Birmingham with assistance of Commodore Robert Pierce and Vice Commodore George Pillsbury.

The first introductory session will be handled by Frank P. McBride, Jr., president of Grosse Pointe War Memorial, and George Davis.

"Maneuvering" will be lesson #2 in charge of Jerry Austerberry. "Weather" will be handled by Officer Oaks and "Use of the Marlinspike" by Bill Ward who will also cover "Aids to Navigation" with Isaac Selic. "Principles of Navigation" will be taught by Charles Austerberry with "Rules of the Road" covered by Bill Ward and "Lights and Signals" by Father Pat Lewis.

"Legal Responsibilities" will be covered by Judge Thornton; First Aid will be handled by Drs. O'Donnell and Biltrich.

"Fire Prevention" and "Safety" will be taught by Fire Chief Cushing and Chester Swallow.

Even the basics of "Scuba Diving" will be included by Kevin O'Donnell.

Group Training Court Watchers

The Equal Justice Council, directed by Erma Henderson, has established an office for recruiting and training volunteers to observe proceedings in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Orientation and training for court watchers is set for the second and fourth Saturdays of each month from 10 a.m. until noon, at 1308 Broadway, Detroit. The next session is set for this Saturday, January 22.

A group of court watchers will leave from The Pointe's Interfaith Center for Racial Justice, 19875 Mack avenue, at 9 a.m., on the second and fourth Saturdays.

Pointe retirees, students and housewives are urged to participate in this program. For additional information call the Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center, 881-9019.

Dogcatcher Nets Thank-You Note

The Farms dogcatcher, William Fowler, has several admirers in Kentucky, and Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber has a thank-you note on his desk to prove it.

Fowler was sent to the corner of Kercheval and Moran on Friday, January 7, on a "dog at large" call. Near the corner, he spotted a small brown male Chihuahua who gave him "quite a chase" until he finally caught him in the dog net.

Checking back at the station, Officer Fowler discovered that the dog had been missing for a week, and had been the star of a seven-day dog hunt on the part of his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Forcier, visiting from Kentucky.

The Farms contacted Henry Forcier, 464 Manor avenue, who had been entertaining his brother and sister-in-law for a week. He took the little Chihuahua to the veterinarian who treated the dog, missing a tooth and suffering from cut and bruised paws after the seven-day ordeal. The animal was then flown air freight to Kentucky to rejoin his owners.

The Earl Forciers of Madisonville, Ky., immediately sent a note to the Farms police to thank them for the return of their seven-year-old pet. "We thought that we would never see him again," they wrote.

The Farms dogcatcher, William Fowler, seemed happy to be written, instead of bitten, for a change.

TRICKY THIEF
An employe of a retail store at 18332 Mack, Gary Cronin, reported to Farms police that a customer had purposefully confused him as he was giving the man change, in order to take $39 and a book on Wednesday night, January 12. Mr. Cronin described the bamboozling bandit as a 40-year-old black man about five feet, eight inches tall, weighing about 145 pounds, and wearing a brown coat.

House Addition Denied by Farms

By Kathy Duff
The Farms council, in their regular meeting on Monday night, January 10, adjourned temporarily and convened as a Zoning Board of Appeals to hear Gilbert G. Kurop, 80 Meadow lane.

Mr. Kurop wished to build a second story addition over his existing rear family room. It was not Mr. Kurop's first time before the Zoning Board of Appeals. Previously, he had been granted a zoning variance to build his rear family room since the room extended over the minimum backyard requirement of the Farms building code.

In regard to the second story addition, it had been the opinion of the Farms Director of Public Service, John A. Defoe, that "by adding a story, Mr. Kurop proposes to improve on a non-conforming use." For this reason, the building permit application had been denied by the department.

Mr. Kurop, accompanied by his lawyer, attended the Monday night meeting to plead his case.

He emphasized that the second story addition was in conformance with the Farms building zone, in that it was set back from the rear lot line the required number of feet. There was a balcony over the rear portion of the back porch which infringed upon the Farms building code.

Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman noted that the plans of the proposed second story showed a door which would have access to the balcony. This would also infringe upon the Farms zoning code by not allowing enough open space in the backyard.

A resident of 85 Handy place, Mrs. Walter L. Hallenbeck, whose property is directly behind Mr. Kurop's, was recognized by the council.

She said that she wished the Farms council would clear up once and for all Mr. Kurop's building plans since his various building proposals had remained unsettled for two years.

"Naturally we are not happy with the adding of the second floor, as it will change our view considerably," Mrs. Hallenbeck said, but she emphasized that she would not be selfish in the matter and would abide by the Farms council's decision.

She did note, however, that when she bought her house on Handy lane, the fact that it was in "an established neighborhood which would not change" had been emphasized.

The Farms council, even with Mr. Kurop's promise that the second story would be set back the proper distance and would not contain a door or balcony railing, voted not to grant a building permit.

The main factor in the Farms council's decision was that when they had granted Mr. Kurop a variance to build an over-size family room, one of the stipulations was that he could not add on the room.

The Farms council also cited the problem of granting ordinance variances. If they granted the variance to one resident, then they should grant similar variances to all Farms residents, which would ultimately undermine the building code.

Judge Paterson Clears Docket

The City of Grosse Pointe Municipal Court convened on Tuesday, January 11, with Judge Douglas L. Paterson presiding.

Russell Heckenberg, 20742 Christine drive, was charged with driving on a revoked operator's license. He pled guilty, was found guilty, fined $100 and $25 costs, made to spend three days in jail, placed on one year probation, and not permitted to drive for 30 days.

John Burnett, Detroit, was charged with careless driving. He stood mute, was found guilty, fined $100 or 30 days, placed on six months probation and not permitted to pleasure drive for 30 days.

Leo Atkinson, 1409 Kensington, was charged with careless driving resulting in an accident. He stood mute and was found guilty. His case was dismissed. He was also charged with driving on a suspended operator's license. He pled guilty, was found guilty, fined $100, placed on six months probation, no pleasure driving for 30 days and spent three days in jail.

Charlotte Dumouchelle, 456 Lakeland, was charged with failure to yield-the-right-of-way, resulting in an accident. The case was dismissed when the complainant refused to prosecute.

Gary St. John, 27801 Manhattan, St. Clair Shores, was charged with having defective equipment. He stood mute, was found guilty, fined $10 or five days.

St. John was also charged with license plate improperly displayed and not wearing glasses while driving, which was a license restriction. He pled not guilty to both and was found guilty. He was fined $10 or five days for the license plate offense and $15 and placed on one year probation for not wearing his glasses.

Thomas Ferrell, 20464 Webster, Harper Woods, was charged as a disorderly person. He stood mute and the plea was taken under advisement. He paid $25 in costs and was placed on six months probation.

Ella Yelder, 1364 Newport, Detroit, was charged with shoplifting. She pled not guilty and her case was adjourned until January 25.

Barbara Yelder, 3231 Fourth, Detroit, was charged with shoplifting. She failed to appear, bond was forfeited and a warrant issued.

Suzanne Hicks, 5773 Wayburn, Detroit, was charged under the failure to stop law, resulting in an accident. She stood mute and was found guilty. The $25 fine was suspended.

CAR RECOVERED

A '69 Pontiac taken from the War Memorial parking lot on Sunday night, January 9, was found a day later by Dearborn Heights Police. The vehicle belonged to John W. Lake, director of the War Memorial. Mr. Lake reported to Farms police that he had parked the car on the east side of the building and had left it locked.

Volunteers

ly 1,500 individuals are currently benefiting from volunteer services. Tutoring still comprises the main activity with about 275 students currently tutoring in the Grosse Pointe School system.

Students tutoring other students, has been found to be an effective tool in helping students improve in school. Student volunteers supplement the work of the teachers, but do not replace the teachers.

Besides the tutoring in the schools, volunteers participate in the program for retarded children, work as recreation aids for the Neighborhood Club, library aids, operate the gift cart at Jennings Hospital, assistant in the study hall at the Detroit Childrens Home, and work as Nursing Home Aids.

This program has been recognized nationally as an outstanding program by the Volunteer Action Center in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Louise Te-Walt, who has been coordinator of the volunteer program for the Neighborhood Club will continue as the coordinator. For additional information about the program, please contact the FLEC office, 885-3510.

Americans Most 'Talkative' In World Says Bell System

Americans have more telephones and use them more often than anyone else in the world, according to figures released today by Michigan Bell.

The United States, with 120.2 million phones in service as of January 1, 1971, had five times as many phones as second-place Japan, which reported 28.2 million. The United Kingdom was third with 15 million.

Details on the telephone service around the globe are reported in the latest edition of "The World's Telephones," a booklet published annually by AT&T's Long Lines department, the Bell System unit for interstate and international services.

Because a full year is needed to compile the data, the figures in the 28-page booklet reflect developments to January 1, 1971.

There were 779 local and long distance calls for each man, woman, and child in the United States in 1970. Canada, whose supremacy as the most talkative nation went unbroken from 1951 through 1967, ranked second with 739 conversations per person. Sweden was third and Iceland fourth.

There were 58.35 telephones per hundred Americans, but in Washington, D. C., the phones outnumbered the residents. The nation's capital could double as the world's telephone capital with 116.9 telephones for every hundred residents.

Southfield, Mich., closely followed Washington, D. C., where the phones outnumbered residents. There were 113.4 telephones for every hundred Southfield residents, making this the nation for telephone development.

The only other city above the hundred mark was Skokie, Ill., which had 100.1 telephones for every hundred residents. All other cities fell below this mark.

In the world rankings, Sweden placed second with 55.67 phones per hundred, and Switzerland was third with 48.28.

The number of telephones in the world climbed to 272.7 million, an increase from the previous year of 17.6 million—4.9 million of which were added in the U. S. (The Bell System announced recently it expected to reach a major milestone during the last week in December, 1971, when somewhere in this country the 100-millionth Bell telephone would be installed.)

The world's annual telephone increase of 6.9 percent is consistent with the rapid growth pattern set during the past decade.

The rate of overseas calling increased markedly. In 1970, there were more than 26 million calls between the USA and nations abroad, over seven times the number completed in 1960. The number of overseas calls, AT&T estimates, will reach 33 million this year, an increase of 27 percent over 1970.

Telephone circuits from the United States to the rest of the world were expanded by more than 500 percent in the past 10 years. Telephone users in all 50 states now have access to over 97 percent of the world's telephones.

Faculty Wives' Plea Approved

The Woods council, in the regular meeting Monday, January 17, unanimously approved a motion permitting the Grosse Pointe Faculty Wives to solicit some Woods merchants for items to be given as prizes for their dinner-dance.

Karen G. Leigh, co-chairman of the GP Faculty Wives, wrote a letter to Mayor Kenneth McLeod and the council requesting permission to seek prizes for the dance, which is set for Saturday, February 26, at the Allard House.

Similar Name Embarrasses Educator

Frederick Charles Baker, 37, of Birmingham, loves it here in The Pointe. He loves his job as assistant principal of Brownell Middle School. However, an unfortunate series of circumstances have made things a little difficult for Mr. Baker of late.

In a recent issue of the NEWS a story was published on the front page reporting that a Frederick Charles Baker, of Birmingham was picked up by Shores police for speeding and a hit and run property damage accident on Jefferson and Lakeland.

That Mr. Baker was NOT Brownell's assistant principal. Brownell's Mr. Baker has had 15 years experience in secondary teaching, administration and counseling. He came to The Pointe from Berkshire Junior High in Birmingham, where he served as assistant principal. He holds a BS degree from Defiance College in Ohio and an MA from Michigan State University. He doesn't however hold a ticket for speeding or hit and run property damage. Mr. Baker, how would it be if we called you F.C.?

Funeral services for Mr. Carpenter, 78, of 546 Lakeland avenue, were held on Wednesday, January 19, in the Verheyden Funeral Home and St. Paul On-the-Lake. He died on Monday, January 17, in Bon Secours Hospital.
A resident of The Pointe since 1924, he served on the City Council for 20 years. He served on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for 26 years, and was a member of the Airport Committee.

In early adulthood, he was a member of the Variety Boys Trio, the only local group to sing at the Michigan Theatre. He was a member of the Gabriel Richard Council of Knights of Columbus, and was past president of the Northeast Lions Club and the Grosse Pointe Optimists Club. He was a member of the Detroit Yacht Club for 30 years, serving as entertainment chairman in 1945 and 1946.

A native of Detroit, he is survived by his wife, Mabel; two daughters, Mrs. John Cushman and Mrs. William Dittmer; a son, John B.; and eight grandchildren.
Interment was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

ANNA C. HUGHES

Funeral services for Mrs. Hughes, 91, of 114 Meadow lane, were held on Thursday, January 13, in the Verheyden Funeral Home. She died on Tuesday, January 11, in the Georgian East Nursing Home.

Mrs. Hughes established the DAC News in 1916 with her late husband, Charles, and became editor and publisher upon his death in 1953. She managed the magazine until her retirement in 1962.

She enjoyed reading and writing light verse and once received first prizes in a Life Magazine contest.

Mrs. Hughes attended the Liggett School and was graduated from Vassar in 1903. She remained active in the Vassar club and was once president.

She and her husband were early supporters of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Mrs. Hughes was an accomplished pianist.

She is the wife of the late Charles A., and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James G. Crowley and Mrs. David C. Gillis; six grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Interment was in Eaton Rapids, Mich.

JOHN CYRIL LINSEMEYER

Mr. Linsenmeyer, 67, formerly of The Pointe and more recently of Reston, Va., died on Tuesday, December 28, in the Fairfax Hospital, Fairfax County, Va.

Mr. Linsenmeyer was an engineer and former president of American Blower Corporation, Dearborn, before moving to New York City in 1957. In New York, he was vice-president of American Standard Corporation. Upon retiring from American Standard Corporation in 1966 he served as director of Southern Gulf Public Utilities and president of Gulfspan, Inc., both of Miami, Fla. He moved to Reston, Va., in 1967.

He was a member of the Detroit Athletic Club and Detroit Yacht Club and in New York the Engineers Club, Metropolitan Club and University Club.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth; two sons, John, of Greenwich, Conn., and James of Laurel, Md.; and a sister, Mrs. Merko Sepic, of The Pointe.

Legal Issue Discussed by Local Experts

 gan public school finance along the Utah Program in an effort to keep as much local control of schools as possible.

Mr. Bryant added that as a spinoff of the various property tax suits across the nation, the United States Supreme Court may well have to make some decisions regarding fundamental obligations of government regarding the equality of fire and police protection.

Desegregation Case
 Mr. West reviewed the current status of the Detroit Desegregation Case presently before Judge Roth.

"The Court has issued a finding that all levels of government action and inaction resulted in Detroit being a de jure segregated school system. In this connection, Judge Roth admitted into evidence the transcription of the 1960 proceedings before the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission the 'Grosse Pointe Point System' established by state-licensed Grosse Pointe real estate brokers," Mr. West said. The Court has also received reports indicating lack of success of the "Magnet Plan" and also one proposed desegregation plan branded "inadequate." The NAACP has been authorized by the Judge to prepare and present its own Detroit Plan with the assistance of the Detroit school officials. The deadline for the State Board of Education to submit its Metropolitan Plan is February 3. Judge Roth has not as yet ruled on a motion that suburban school districts be made parties defendant.

Mr. West said the legal issues in the case are whether or not there was de jure segregation or segregation by governmental action and whether or not the Court has the power to desegregate one school system by the involvement of an adjoining school system when there is no provision of law authorizing this kind of interaction between districts. The Richmond, Va., decision has made a stronger case for this point.

Mr. West said that those conjecturing as to the course of action Judge Roth might follow are reminded of the October 4 court timetable: "It appears to us only a plan that encompasses all or part of the metropolitan district can guarantee the constitutional rights of all the people in that district."

"If a metro plan is ultimately implemented with respect to Detroit and suburbs, there have been several concepts suggested other than a massive single metropolitan district like that ordered in Richmond. These have included the creation of a number of metropolitan districts fanning out from central Detroit, the cross-district exchange of students, (the so-called busing-in but not out), and the Metropolitan Magnet or Super Magnet Plan," Mr. West explained.

Representative Bryant agreed with Mr. West that the recent Richmond decision, "has created a new ballgame." Although the Richmond decision went beyond county lines, the fact is that, contrary to Michigan, the county is the basic school unit in Virginia.

What Court Might Do
 Representative Bryant suggested that the Court might order the Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education to take action, since it has "some very interesting powers to do with consolidation and merger of school districts."

"For instance, on their own motion, they could employ a procedure by which less than 10 per cent of the population and less than 10 per cent of the property valuation area of the school district of the City of Detroit could be taken by them and attached to the Grosse Pointe district. The only appeal from that directly, as the statute says, is to the State Board. I suppose one could get into a court after that, but the State Board is given the discretion to uphold the decision on the part of the intermediate board or to reverse the decision of the intermediate board."

Student Rights
 "With the rise of such problems as long hair, Vietnam protests and underground newspapers, the somewhat absolute authority granted by the in loco parentis doctrine, (the school acting in the place of parents), is being sharply limited as the courts have responded to appeals taken by students and their parents claiming unreasonable infringement of the student's constitutional rights," Mr. West said.

Although recent cases have upheld students' fundamental rights, the cases have also held that the constitutional rights of students are not absolute because of the need for comprehensive authority in school officials to prescribe and control conduct within the schools and to prevent disruptions of the educational process.

Meeting Challenge
 "In trying to meet the challenge which this trend presented to The Grosse Pointe Public School System, comprehensive policies have been adopted by the Board of Education on the subjects of due process in suspension and expulsion, policies on distribution of literature, student organizations and student rights and responsibilities. Currently a policy on corporal punishment is receiving the finishing touches," Mr. West said.

Mr. Bryant said that a bill has been introduced by Democratic Representative Jackie Vaughn to establish a uniform set of rules which would be implemented in all the schools in the state.

"I think that is a too cumbersome method. It would be too strict and too lacking in flexibility to define legislatively what the process would be. I don't want to go further than we have to in defining minimal due process," he added.

Teacher Rights
 Attorney West said that the rights of teachers in the State of Michigan made significant gains in 1964 and 1965 with the enactment of the Public Employee Relations Act and the amendment to the Michigan Teacher Tenure Act extending it to all school districts.

"Prior to 1965 the Hutchison Act prohibited strikes by public employees and provided no formal legal basis for the recognition of teacher organizations as the sole bargaining agent for teachers. The Public Employee Relations Act modified after the federal statutes while still prohibiting strikes granted bargaining recognition and removed the provision of the Hutchison Act which made the awarding of pay raises in consequence of a strike. In addition, the courts have refused to grant injunctions against striking teachers unless irreparable harm could be demonstrated by the school board. As a practical matter, Michigan teachers enjoy basically the same position as private employees in terms of 'labor-management' relations," Mr. West said.

Tenure Act Amended
 Prior to 1964, the Michigan Teacher Tenure Act, (which was originally enacted in 1937), applied to only those school districts which adopted the act by majority vote. In 1964, however, the tenure act was amended to apply to all school districts in the state.

The act provides that once tenure has been attained after a two-year period of probation, discharge of the teacher may occur only when there is "just and reasonable cause."

"These two acts combined have placed boards of education and the administrative staffs in a distinctly different legal posture than a few years ago. With such problems as teacher layoffs, binding arbitration and agency shop, it is apparent that the subject is still in the process of emergence and development," Mr. West said. He added that he was not expressing any value judgment, but not the fact that the legal issues in this area, both of teachers and the schools, are many times what they were 10 years ago.

To Introduce Bill
 Representative Bryant commented that he plans to introduce a bill requiring teachers to choose between the tenure process and the grievance process. They would be able to choose that one which they felt would be the most protection to them but they would have to choose one or the other, without switching to the other one. If they choose the grievance process, tenure would not be able to pursue the grievance process.

Both speakers answered questions from the audience following their formal presentations.

Did you know the reason the military salute is like it is, is because of women!

Today's military salute originated in the tournaments of the Middle Ages when the knights used to acknowledge the Queen of Beauty—by shielding their eyes with their hands as they passed before her, as a token that the blinding rays of her beauty dazzled them.

Soon, that type of salute became the standard salute of soldiers everywhere, and that is why soldiers today raise their hand above their eyes when saluting.

And, here's another interesting fact . . . women are the best judges of color, styling and value . . . and we at Maliszewski Carpeting feel we can offer all three from our great selection of carpeting.

Indict Brothers On Tax Charges

Anthony Giacalone, 51, 701 Balfour, and his brother, Vito, have been indicted on income tax fraud and evasion charges carrying a maximum penalty of 13 years in prison and a $25,000 fine.

Federal Judge Philip Pratt released the indictments Tuesday, January 11. The indictments were returned Thursday, January 6.

Internal Revenue agents arrested Anthony Giacalone January 11 at a parking garage in downtown Detroit. He stood mute at his arraignment before Federal Magistrate Paul J. Komives, and was released on a $50,000 personal bond. No trial date has been set.

In U. S. Senate subcommittee testimony in 1963, both Giacalone were named as Mafia figures.

Appointments Made in Farms

The Farms council in their regular meeting on Monday night, January 10, made several important appointments.

A communication had been received from the Michigan Municipal League asking the Farms council to appoint a "Legislative Contact Man" for the 1972 Legislative Session.

The council reappointed Councilman Richard Hudson who has served as the contact man for the last few years.

It is Councilman Hudson's responsibility to keep the Farms council briefed on legislation pending in Lansing. To help him keep informed of upcoming legislation, he will be regularly sent special background material on the legislature as well as the Legislative Bulletin.

The term of a legislative contact man is one year.

The Farms council next appointed three Farms residents to serve on the Election Commission.

The official term of an election appointee is two years. However, the Farms council had failed to appoint the officials one year ago when the terms expired. As a result, the officials appointed Monday night have only a one-year term.

The council reappointed Gerald Kane and Alvin M. Gouin. Mrs. John Wood, of 109 Moran, was appointed on the recommendation of Councilman James Mast who cited her commendable past election work. If Mrs. Wood accepts the post, she will assume the position of the late James J. Meehan.

At the next meeting of the Farms council, scheduled for Monday, January 31, the council will appoint a third member of the Board of Review. Currently, John Griffin holds the position and will be contacted whether he wishes to be considered for another term.

Junket to Hawaii

A total of six Woods councilmen attended the 48th Annual Congress of Cities Conference in Honolulu, Hawaii, from November 28 to December 3, 1971.

The councilmen attending the conference included Mayor Pro Tem Marvin R. Boutin, Kenneth W. Boerner, George S. Freeman, Rodger H. Graef, Conrad A. Naegel, and Benjamin W. Pinkos.

It was reported in the September 23, 1971, edition of the NEWS that on Monday, September 13, the Woods council, by a 6-1 vote, approved the city's participation at this convention.

Of the Pointes, the Woods sent the only representatives to the conference. In the September 30, 1971, edition of the NEWS, it was reported that the Park, City, and Shores do not send representatives to any of the national conventions, while the Farms participates occasionally, sending only one delegate as an observer.

In the September 23 NEWS, Mayor McLeod said that under a policy established about four or five years ago, participation at these conventions means that any single councilman, or all the councilmen, are entitled to attend.

At the same time, two citizens expressed concern over this "policy," and the overall cost to the taxpayers. They also were concerned with the number of councilmen going to Honolulu.

The September 30 edition also reported that full membership, with the right of one vote, requires that a city have a population of 30,000 or more, and none of the Pointes has the number of residents to qualify, according to information received from an official of the Michigan Municipal League, which represents the Pointes and other State communities.

As an affiliate and as a representative of the communities which do not meet the standards for membership in the NLC, the State group does the voting for its membership, the MML official said.

However, he pointed out, any member city can send a delegate to any of the NLC conventions as an observer and to speak up on any issue, but the delegate has no voting power. The MML, as the representing agent, controls one vote.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Ogden Nash, Who might, at my attempts to eulogize, have said "Balderdash!"
Should have been listed in last week's necrology. But since I loved his writing so, in every way, cap-apie, And have, at times, tried feeble imitation, I wonder now what I shall do. (It was such fun To have the metric foot run on and on—and then let snap)
Thus allowing the reader to go on and on delightedly, not quite knowing what would happen next.
His rhymes could be real groaners—even puns. (Sometimes the kind one savors; sometimes the kind one shuns.)
Some have become a part of American folklore. They'll live forevermore.
Such as: "If called by a panther Don't anther."
"Candy Is dandy But liquor Is quicker."
"Pot Is not."
Nash was from Rye New York, and attended St. Georges School in Newport, R.I.
He had a brief shot at Harvard, taught for a time but found that carving lamb At St. Georges was too nerve-racking—he had to scam.
So on, finally, to Doubleday— Hurray!
Where he found his field—"the minor idiocies of humanity."
And the world gained a light-touch writer of our foibles, our vexations, our vanity.
BED RIDDANCE, cried Nash in one delightful collection.
Run, We suggest, if you don't like Ogenational punning and rhyming.
You might just fall over VERSUS, if you have poor timing.
For children, among others, he produced CRUISE OF THE AARDVARK.
For adults—a short and pithy quatrain called "The Shark."
In spite of protestations of ignorance of French, He always managed cleverly to fit in words, punsterish enough to make one blench.
A subtitle, for example: "I don't pretend to Moliere than thou."
Ouch! Ow- THERE'S ALWAYS ANOTHER WINDMILL—now there's a title
That should conjure up Don Quixote, Sancho Panza, Rosinante—quite a recital!
And others—I COULDN'T HELP LAUGHING and GOOD INTENTIONS,
Each and every one with acrobatic and highly original spelling inventions.
And so, at the passing of Ogden Nash We truly say, "Alash!"
We proudly remind you that on January 26 we shall be celebrating the nineteenth birthday of the Grosse Pointe Central Library. Yes indeed, on that date in 1953, Grosse Pointe finally had a new main library, which since that time has tried to serve its clientele to the best of its ability. We will begin to look forward to a fine 20th year celebration next year, if all goes well.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Point of View

By Janet Mueller

Now the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Souvenir Program Night is going to be Really Something this year . . .

Madika, that "genuine Damascus Import" belly dancer who'll be doing her thing at Pier One for the Program Night Afterglow, we've already told you about, (in last week's column)—but we DIDN'T mention that she'll be backed up by an authentic Bouzouki Band from Athens.

And we neglected to add that she'll have several of her fellow dancers join her in her intricate maneuvers.

The Souvenir Program Concert Saturday evening, January 29, at Ford Auditorium is Really Something in itself, featuring England's greatest pianist, Clifford Curzon, PLUS the Saint Clair String Quartet.

And the Program is Really Something, prepared under the aegis of general chairman Mrs. John Prost, of Pemberton road, and layout chairman Mrs. Robert Hermes, of Westchester road.

Mrs. William Rice and Mrs. John Fieldew chaired the Pointe area sub-chairmanship this time around, while another Pointer, Mrs. Charles Roney, was in charge of patrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Endicott, (she's the Symphony Juniors' current president), of Blairmoor court, will be on hand for everything, from the 8:30 o'clock concert curtain through Madika's final gyrations.

The Donald Chamberlins, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Steinbach, the Rex Ciavolas, Dr. and Mrs. Ram B. Fahim, the Verne G. Istocks, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Kim Lie, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills and the Joseph Dillons are among other Pointe-based Symphony Junior couples who'll enjoy the full evening.

P.S. Madika isn't the ONLY Pier One attraction: There'll be a sumptuous Greek buffet, too. It never hurts to have "something else" to catch a husband's interest . . .

St. Michael's Mortgage Goes Up In Smoke

Now the annual parish meeting of St. Michael's Episcopal Church Sunday evening, January 9, was Really Something this year . . .

Highlight of the night was the burning of St. Michael's $120,000 mortgage, with the honor of presiding at the out-of-debt, up-in-smoke ceremony going to Mrs. Frederic B. Besimer, widow of St. Michael's first Senior Warden and late Chancellor of the Diocese of Michigan.

Judging from the smiles on the faces of MRS. WILLIAM ATKINS, MRS. THOMAS KOLOJESKI, MRS. ROGER FITCH and MRS. DOUGLAS COLLINSON, (left to right), as they stuff envelopes with flyers bidding the parishioners of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore and Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe, to participate in a "Day of Christian Witness" this Sunday, January 23, an observance of the Octave of Christian Unity common to the calendars of both Christian bodies, "Christian Witness" is a very happy phrase indeed. Monsignor Francis Canfield will come from St. Paul's to preach at Christ Church's morning services, while Christ Church Rector Arnold Fenton preaches at St. Paul's. In the evening there will be a potluck supper at St. Paul's School cafeteria followed by a talk at Christ Church by The Most Reverend G. Emmett Carter, D.D., Roman Catholic Bishop of London, Ont. Even the envelope-stuffing was an ecumenical affair, involving The Mesdames Atkins and Fitch, from Christ Church, and The Mesdames Kolojeski and Collinson, from St. Paul's.

'Let's Go To Paris' Next Tuesday Night

Pierre and Elfrieda Palmentier to Present Color-Sound Film Free of Charge; Program Sponsored by Pointe Alliance Francaise

The Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe will sponsor a color-sound movie, "Let's Go To Paris," in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium Tuesday evening, January 25, at 8 o'clock.

This informative and entertaining film was photographed by Pointer Pierre Palmentier and will be narrated in English by his wife, Elfrieda. It is open to the public and admission is free.

The opening sequences of "Let's Go To Paris" were shot aboard the world's longest ocean liner, "The France," on which the Palmentiers crossed to Europe. Then follows a grand tour of many of the historic, scenic and cultural highlights of Paris and its environs.

These include the Tuileries Gardens, designed by Lenotre and famous for their formal beauty, the Jeu de Paume which houses the famous Impressionist paintings, the Montmartre quarter with its well-known Sacre Coeur church and the Henri Matisse exhibition in the recently-renovated Grand Palais.

The Palmentiers also visited Fontainebleau, the Chateau de la Malmaison where Napoleon and Josephine spent the happiest period of their life together, Rambouillet, summer home of French presidents, and of course world-renowned Versailles, representing the French classic style at its height.

Other gardens on the Palmentier tour include Parc Monceau, Palais Royal and Luxembourg.

For bird-watchers there are views of the Sunday morning bird market, for art lovers views of the much-discussed Chagall ceiling at the Opera. Among cathedrals photographed are those at Sens, Chartres, Metz and Mantes-La-Jolie.

No wonder so many Pointers have come to feel that the next best thing to being there is to see a Palmentier travel film.

For several years the Palmentiers have been showing their delightful and high-quality "Let's Go" films free of charge to area residents. They were among the founders of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League and served as that organization's second and third presidents.

Mr. Palmentier, in addition to his camera hobby, plays flute and piccolo for the Grosse Pointe Symphony.

Mrs. Palmentier, who has received national awards for her salon photography, is also active with the Questers and the Deeplands Garden Club, of which she is immediate past president, and has been a Children's Hospital volunteer for 18 years.

Luncheon To Salute Volunteer Women

Television Personality Virginia Graham Will Headline This February's "Heart of Gold" Award Festivities

Coming to Detroit as headliner for the fifth annual Heart of Gold Award Council salute to outstanding women volunteers is Virginia Graham, versatile television personality who doubles as author, lecturer and summer theater actress.

The Council's recognition luncheon for Wayne-Oakland-Macomb volunteers who have made significant contributions to the community during the past year is scheduled for 11:45 o'clock Tuesday, February 8, in Cobo Hall.

Honored will be six to 12 women symbolizing those who work without pay in tri-county agencies and organizations.

Heart of Gold winners will be selected from 130 volunteers nominated for the award by community agencies, groups and individuals. Six community leaders are serving on the panel of judges that meets today, Thursday, January 20, in the Pontchartrain Hotel to choose the finalists.

Judges include Charles F. Adams, president of MacManus, John and Adams advertising agency; Charles T. Fisher, III, president of National Bank of Detroit; and Grant W. Howell, managing editor of the Daily Tribune, Royal Oak.

More are Alfred M. Pelham, former Detroit controller, Wayne County budget and finance director, Wayne State University administrator and interim Wayne County Community College president, now retired; Alan E. Schwartz, financier and partner in Honigman, Miller, Schwartz and Cohn, Detroit law firm; and Sister Anna Suttman, administrator of St. Joseph Hospital, Mt. Clemens.

Volunteers to be cited represent six major categories. These include unsung heroes and services related to youth, community groups, cultural and educational activities, senior citizens, health-related organizations and Inner City groups.

More than 2,000 tri-county residents are expected to attend the recognition luncheon planned by the Award Council, comprised of 42 leading women's organizations.

Council chairman is Mrs. Lee Hills. Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, of Cloverly road, is vice-chairman.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Mary Denzig, representing General Motors Girls' Club, structure; Mrs. Irving Burton, for the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts, chairman, and co-chairman, Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, Jr., of South Deaplans road, for the Detroit Historical Society, screening and judging; Mrs. Fran Harris, programs; Mrs. Wilber H. Mack, of Country Club lane, hostesses; and Mrs. John T. McMullen, decorations.

Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Mack and Mrs. McMullen are Council members-at-large. The luncheon headliner stars in the NBC "Virginia Graham Show" televised daily throughout the country. For seven years she guided "Girl Talk," acclaimed the most successful and longest-running of the syndicated five-days-a-week shows.

She has authored cook books, beauty books and an autobiography, played to capacity audiences in such summer theater productions as Neil

P.E.O. To Mark 103rd Birthday

Mrs. Robin Fleming, wife of the president of the University of Michigan, will address members of 23 Detroit-area P.E.O. chapters attending 103rd anniversary Founders' Day Luncheon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial this Saturday, January 22, at 12:15 o'clock.

The celebration is being sponsored by the Detroit P.E.O. Cooperative. Toastmistress Mrs. John Cotton will introduce Mrs. Fleming, herself a P.E.O. Mrs. Carl Greco, chairman of the Detroit Cooperative, will welcome guests.

Founders' Day chairman Mrs. Robert Brown will introduce honor guests and committees.

Other members of the Founders' luncheon committee are Mrs. Alfred Maxwell, general co-chairman, Mrs. Edward McLachlan, in charge of the program, Mrs. Robert Hedke, tickets, Mrs. Louis Gerhardt and Mrs. C. T. Bloom, hospitality, and Mrs. Franklin Dougherty and Mrs. Carlisle Rueger, publicity.

Mrs. Hale Thornberry will give the tribute to the Founders, a traditional part of the program. Music, also a tradition, will feature a solo by Mrs. Ellsworth Allison, of Fontana lane.

Invited guests include Michigan state officers, many of whom live in and around Detroit: Mrs. Merrill B. Dillon, president, of McKinley avenue; Mrs. F. B. Foust, vice-president, of Plymouth; Mrs. F. A. Samuelson, second vice-president, of Jackson; Mrs. R. T. Hatch, organizer, of Birmingham; Mrs. H. A. Bennett, recording secretary, of St. Joseph; Mrs. R. H. Bodin, corresponding secretary, of Detroit; and Mrs. S. M. Brandt, treasurer, of Ferndale. The P.E.O. Sisterhood, a philanthropic organization with interests directed to education for women, was founded as a college sorority at Iowa Wesleyan, Mount Pleasant, in 1869.

Today it is an international community organization with 4,400 chapters and approximately 176,000 members in the United States and Canada.

P.E.O. continues to provide philanthropic and educational opportunities to young women through the P.E.O. Educational Loan Fund, established in 1907, and the International Peace Scholarship, begun in 1949 for women from foreign countries.

The P.E.O. Sisterhood owns and operates Cottey College for Women in Nevada, Mo.

Detroit To Be Scene Of Cognac Festival

Gourmet Author James Beard Will Be Featured at Dinner Sponsored by Women's Association for Detroit Symphony Orchestra

From a little corner in France, near Bordeaux, the Cognac Festival comes to the Pontchartrain Hotel Friday, January 28, at 7 o'clock. Sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony the program features a complementary Cognac hour followed by a sumptuous six-course dinner.

Each course will be enhanced by the subtle addition of Cognac.

James Beard, internationally famous author and gourmet chef, will demonstrate the fine art of cooking with Cognac assisted by Detroit's own Duglass Duglass, executive chef of the Pontchartrain.

In addition to offering Detroiters a chance to explore the delights of creating gourmet delicacies with Cognac proceeds from the Festival benefit the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The Festival comes to Detroit through the courtesy of the French National Association of Cognac Producers. The Honorable Jacques Dircks-Dilly, Consul General of France, and Mme. Jacques Dircks-Dilly serve as the honorary chairmen.

Coordinating the Festival state-side are Mrs. William L. Mitchell, general chairman; Mrs. Walker Meldman and Mrs. Thomas Schoenith, area chairmen; Mrs. Earle MacPherson, decorations; Mrs. Joseph H. Spitzley, publicity; Mrs. Charles L. Wilson, Jr., reservations; and Mrs. John H. Ganschow, seating.

Among 94 nursing students who received their caps at a student-planned ceremony at Mercy College of Detroit January 15 was ROSEMARY EGER, daughter of the JOHN F. EGERs, of Nottingham road.

Power Squadron Honors Commanders

The Grosse Pointe Power Squadron honored its new COMMANDER and MRS. DONALD G. STRNAD, (left), and PAST COMMANDER and MRS. JOHN H. WOOD last Saturday night. The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club was the setting for the Power Squadron's Annual Commander's Ball. Over 300 people participated in the festivities.

Penny Program For Musicals

With hundreds of other music clubs throughout the United States Tuesday Musicals of Detroit will observe Founders Day this month at its fifth morning concert of the current season Tuesday, January 25. Organizations affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs are commemorating the National Federation's founding January 26, 1898, by asking individual members to contribute one cent for each of the Federation's 74 years of existence.

This fund will provide financial support for the NFMC's music scholarships, contest awards and many other projects and activities, according to Mrs. Berj Haidostian, president of Tuesday Musicals.

Providing music for the January 25 concert at 10:30 o'clock in the Detroit Institute of Arts Lecture hall will be Tuesday Musicals members Lueille Zocharski, Ella Villa, Margot Krumel, Joy Greenleaf, Betty Peterson, Josephine Howes, Virginia Person, Peruz Zerounian and Sally Alexander. The program has been planned by Estelle Truchinowicz.

Set Secretarial Courses At the Downtown YWCA

Women planning to re-enter the job market in 1972 will find the competition stiffer and the positions fewer than ever but for an investment of $35, the Downtown YWCA offers job hunters a chance to learn or brush up on their typing or shorthand skills.

Mildred Singleton, a nurse who needed to brush up on her typing, is enrolling in Mrs. Stanton's Typing II class for the second time.

"Mrs. Stanton took so much time with me," explains Mildred. "I never realized there was so much to typing correctly—all those little rules like two spaces after a period."

"She was so patient and encouraging that I'm taking the course again, to learn more! I've been helping the secretaries at work—and doing better than them, sometimes!"

Classes are kept small and instruction is geared to the individual. The YWCA in Withcreek street, 961-9220, Registration Office, has further information. The YWCA is a Torch Drive Agency.

Concert Stars Met Baritone

Pro Musica Society will meet in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts Friday evening, January 21, at 8:30 o'clock to listen to the voice of baritone Theodore Lambrinos.

Of Greek parentage Mr. Lambrinos was born and raised in Brooklyn, N.Y. and began his professional singing career in off-Broadway musicals.

He toured North America with the famed Don Cossacks and had the distinction of being the only American singer to be engaged by them as a soloist.

Brilliant pianist and vocal coach Armen Boyajian guided Mr. Lambrinos to the Metropolitan Opera. In the 1964-65 season he won the Gladys Axman Taylor Award, Metropolitan Opera National Auditions, and was immediately engaged for the 1966-67 tour.

His schedule of roles included Marcello in "La Boheme," Germont in "La Traviata," Figaro in Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" and Tarquinius in Benjamin Britten's "Rape of Lucretia."

A contract from the parent Metropolitan Opera Company for 10 major roles came in 1967. Mr. Lambrinos made his debut there as Herald in "Lohengrin" in January, 1968.

Mr. Lambrinos, his attractive wife Patricia and their two small children, Theodore Demetrios and Kar: Alexandra, make their home in Weehawken, N.J.

There will be a reception honoring Mr. Lambrinos and his accompanist Mr. Boyajian in the Romanesque Room of the Arts Institute immediately following the concert.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening include Mrs. Edward Bauman, Dr. and Mrs. Gary Belian, Mrs. Carl Carlson, Mrs. John M. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. David A. Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. William Elms, Tracy Freeman, Mrs. Ivan Kirlin, Mrs. Royal Maas, Mrs. John Popplestone, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Sanford, Theodore Seemeyer, Mrs. M. ## Miss Molitor Wed To James Struthers

Mrs. Kenneth Pinkerton Comes From Oregon to Serve as Her Sister's Honor Matron at Evening Rites in Saint Ambrose Church

A gown of ivory satin peau, scoop-necked and trimmed with Alencon lace, was Susan Kay Molitor's choice for her wedding Friday evening, January 7, in Saint Ambrose Church to James Douglas Struthers.

Matching lace frosted with pearls edged her long illusion mantilla and she carried a cascade of red Sweetheart roses with glamelias.

The 6 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Ronald L. Heidelberg presided were followed by a dinner reception at the Gourmet House. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Molitor, of Westchester road, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Struthers, of Trenton.

carnations with accents of American Beauty roses and purple and white static.

Best man was Patrick Turner. Robert Glandon, Michael Milantoni and Michael Lafayette seated the guests.

Mrs. Molitor selected a floor length gown of navy, purple and gold metallic brocade for her daughter's wedding. Orchid and purple embroidery trimmed the bridegroom's mother's long gown of orchid knit. Both mothers chose corsages of Sweetheart roses and purple static.

The newlyweds will make their home in Southgate.

Out-of-town guests included Mary Jo Pulte, of Fort Myers, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pulte, of LaGrange, Ill.

St. Maron Service For Janet Ganem

Newlywed Fuad George Ganems, Vacating in Hawaii, Will Return to the Mainland to Make Home in California

A reception at the Pontchartrain Hotel followed the Sunday, January 16, wedding of Janet Marion Ganem, daughter of Mrs. Fadel Ganem, of Anita avenue, and the late Mr. Ganem, and Fuad George Ganem, son of Mrs. George Ganem, of Long Beach, Calif., and the late Mr. Ganem.

Presiding at the 4 o'clock rites in St. Maron Cathedral was the bridegroom's cousin, Monsignor Anthony Korkemaz, Vicar General of the Maronite Diocese, assisted by another cousin, Father Paul Korkemaz, of Troy, N.Y.

The newlyweds are vacationing in the Hawaiian Islands. They will make their home in Long Beach.

The bride chose a wedding gown of white French net completely overlaid with beaded ribbon scrolls. An organza band with a front bow defined her Empire waist and her modified A line skirt ended in a Chapel train.

A Venise lace-accented bonnet held her Cathedral length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of tea roses, baby mums, stephanotis and ivy.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Edward Michael, in a frock of gold beaded lace, carrying yellow roses and ivy, and a niece, Lisa Ann Saigh, in a dress with a lace bodice and gold velvet skirt, carrying a basket of Fuji mums, roses and ivy, as flower girl. George Ganem from Phoenix, Ariz., to act as his brother's best man. In the usher corps were Nicholas Ganem, another brother, also of Phoenix, the bridegroom's nephews, George Ganem and Nicholas Ganem, and the bride's brothers-in-law, Paul Saigh and Richard Fuher.

The bride's mother wore a blue-green crepe gown, the bridegroom's mother a costume of gold chiffon. Both selected cymbidium orchid corsages.

Antoine Mourad, the bride's cousin, from Beirut, Lebanon, attended the wedding.

Inside the Mothers Club

Jerry Gerich outlined the areas of greatest concern to him as principal of Grosse Pointe South High School during his informal talk at the South High Mothers Club Executive Board meeting January 2.

He touched on the following subjects:

Absenteeism, which ranges from 4 to 9 percent normally, is increased by seasonal illnesses such as flu and is compounded by a 1 to 5 percent rate of short absences for appointments and such. Dealing with this problem keeps one full time clerk, one para-professional and seven counselors busy. Mr. Gerich would like to enlist the aid of parents to combat this growing trend.

The use of non-certified personnel has not worked as well as was hoped in some cases.

Supervision in the cafeteria has been satisfactory but those employed in the study hall have been only 50 percent successful. The use of young men as building and ground monitors has been most disappointing, and replacements are having to be made due to dismissals.

The Girls' rest rooms continue to be problem areas, scenes of uncontrolled smoking and overcrowding during lunch periods. No student group is willing to take on this responsibility but it is hoped that new hall monitors, one of whom is a woman, may help. Eighteen-year-olds will be allowed to smoke in designated areas after January 4 according to the Board of Education. This will necessitate special I.D. cards but may ease the girls' rest room problem somewhat. If not, Mr. Gerich will ask for suggestions from the Mothers Club and the Dads Club.

Because public school funding is still uncertain the Superintendent of Schools has asked that there be a moratorium on scheduling for next year's classes. New plans will have to be made and may not be completed until May when a college-type enrollment using counselors and staff for several days may be the solution.

The parent volunteer program in which qualified adults lend a hand with class work has been most valuable to both students and teachers — for example, worthwhile projects have been made possible in German classes thanks to this additional aid.

Curriculum Advisory Committee

Mr. Gerich suggested that the appointment of a Curriculum Advisory committee would be most helpful, since he feels the need to involve more parents in policy decisions. This committee, he hopes, would consist of 12 couples representing a cross-section of the South High community, from all four grades and three Grosse Pointe areas. They would meet with Mr. Gerich and Miss Frances French, assistant principal, and work with the Student Advisory and Faculty Advisory committees.

The principal also wished particularly to commend Mrs. Benson McClure, counselor and faculty representative, for her work with the National Honor Society, a most constructive group engaged in public speaking and other services to the school and the community.

Mr. Gerich mentioned that motivation is still one of his greatest challenges, but concluded by stating that most students are fine young people, coming along in spite of numerous problems.

The business meeting was opened by Mrs. Charles Beltz, president. President-Elect Mrs. Albert Dickson reported cards had been sent to 200 students who had not yet turned in their Walk-A-Thon money. If collected, this could mean an increase of two to three thousand dollars in the total.

A letter was read from Miles McKee regarding the Alice Kelly McKee Scholarship Fund. Mr. McKee suggests an annual scholarship of $500 — until the fund is depleted — awarded to a graduating senior on the basis of present or potential ability. Both boys and girls are eligible as long as they plan to attend a Michigan school.

Mr. McKee also would like the award to be given each year at the graduation exercises by the principal of South High, and the donors be notified as to the recipient. The Mothers Club is to administer this Scholarship Fund and decide on the donee.

New Career Planning Test
Mrs. McClure read a cafeteria directive announcing a raise in lunch prices and reinstatement of the "special lunch." She also explained a new Career Planning Test to be given three times during the next six months by the American College Testing Program—February 26, April 22

Memorial Nursery Slates General Meeting Monday

The Memorial Nursery, Inc., will hold a general meeting for all members Monday evening, January 24, at 8 o'clock in the second floor lounge of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Dr. William J. Rowell, coordinator of Consultation and Education Services and chief psychologist at the Northeast Guidance Clinic, will speak on Development Aspects of Discipline.

and July 15. This three-part test will cost $6 and may be taken by any high school student.

Applications must be sent in a month in advance. Unfortunately, the closest place to take the test at the present time is Washtenaw Junior College, Ypsilanti.

Mrs. McClure reported that a group from the National Honor Society was very well received as speakers at one of the Neighborhood Discussion Groups. They have been invited to talk to the Mothers Club Executive Board at its February meeting.

Membership Chairman Mrs. Donald McCubrey placed the total of Mothers Club members at 879—as against 759 a year ago.

Family Spaghetti Supper
Mrs. James Connolly, chairman of the Family Spaghetti Supper, announced the supper date as Wednesday, February 2, from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock, and the price as $1.75 for adults and $1 for children.

ALL'S LOST
Don't burn the candle at both ends—A man who overdraws his account at the bank of health less his greatest asset.

She hopes 500 people will attend the dinner, an annual affair to raise funds for Mothers Club scholarships. The South High string ensemble will provide a musical background.

Mrs. Malcolm Denise, Board of Education representative, reported that the lease extension had been approved at the Farms Pier for Driver Education, and an understanding reached with Grosse Pointe Farms about parking space after South High construction. Three proposals, presented by a committee consisting of students from both high schools, administrators and Grosse Pointe Education Association representatives, were approved.

These related to recognition of student organizations, a policy for student publications and a Bill of Rights for students. Mrs. Beltz adjourned the meeting after a further discussion of the Parents' Curriculum Advisory committee. See you at the Spaghetti Supper February 2!

SPITZLEY, in charge of publicity for the Cognac Festival sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, watch as Fitchchartrain Hotel Executive Chef DUGLASS DUGLASS prepares his special Cognac Peach Melba. The dish is just one of many Cognac-laced gourmet courses to be served at the Festival dinner Friday, January 28, at the Pontchartrain, following a complimentary Cognac hour beginning at 7 o'clock. The dinner will be prepared under the direction of gourmet-author James Beard, assisted by Duglass Duglass. Tickets are $25. Proceeds benefit the Detroit Symphony.

Cellist Gendron With Symphony

French Cellist Maurice Gendron has a feature solo role at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Thursday and Saturday evening, January 20 and 22, performances in Ford Auditorium.

Under Sixten Ehrling's direction Gendron will be heard in Dmitri Shostakovich's Cello Concerto No. 1 written in 1959.

Detroit Symphony program cribes the composition as a "one-man show"—a tour de force for cello written purposefully to display the pyrotechnics of the great Soviet cellist Mstislav Rostropovich.

The work was first performed in Leningrad in 1959 with Rostropovich as soloist and is being presented for the first time on a Detroit Symphony program.

Ehrling also will conduct the Orchestra in performances of the Overture to "Prince Igor" by Alexander Borodin and the famous "Scheherazade" by Rimsky-Korsakov. Concert time is 8:30 o'clock, Ford Auditorium, all Hudson's and Grinnell's box offices. Tickets are available at both nights.

Schulte-Dorian Rites Are Read

Scene of the Saturday, December 18, wedding of Virginia Canto Dorian, of Roosevelt place, and Wilbert J. Schulte, of Beaconsfield avenue, was Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore. Monsignor Francis X. Canfield officiated.

The ceremony was unique, with four generations participating.

The grandchildren of the bride and bridegroom led the procession. The two little girls, Heidi Strabel and Sherry Cross, walking with their brothers, John Strabel and Brian Cross, wore long-sleeved floor length holly green velvet frocks with Alencon lace bib collars.

They carried nosegays of pink Sweetheart roses and baby carnations.

The bride's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Strabel, the bridegroom's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cross, and the bride's son, James E. Dorian, IV, and his fiancée, Gretchen Greiner, were in the wedding party. Mrs. Strabel and Mr. Cross were matron of honor and best man.

The girls wore cranberry peau de soie stree length dresses.

The bride walked down the aisle on the arm of her blind father, Edwin C. Canto. She wore a Pierre Cardin original in soft pink wool.

The bride and the bridesmaids carried pink carnation leis sent from Hawaii.

Sacred Heart Carnival

The Fathers' Club of the all-girl student body at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Bloomfield Hills has scheduled its annual Winter Carnival for this Saturday, January 22, on the Academy campus in Kensington road.

Fort Pontchartrain DAR Will Meet Tomorrow

Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Friday, January 21, at the Women's City Club, with luncheon at noon. Preceding is a business session conducted by Mrs. George Killeen, regent.

Members of the Nominating committee for the coming year will be elected as will delegates and alternates for the forthcoming 81st Continental Congress, scheduled for April 17 through 21, in Washington, D.C.

The program, "Grandmother's Attic," features slides from DAR National Headquarters at Washington.

Attending from this area will be the Mesdames Harry E. Barnard, H. Sanborn Brown, Jr., Frank D. Prigell, Henry McCabe, John Lovelace, William M. Perrett, Glenn H. Friedt, John M. Jackson, Leonard L. Jensen, Cletus M. Laux, Wilfred C. Owens, Robert Hale Peterson, Bruce K. Reynolds, Floyd F. Smith, Marion M. Sheaffer, John P. Thomas, Ernest Boyd and Joseph Thomas and Miss Margaret Ann Thomas.

U. of D. High Mothers Plan Gala Nite

Before winter's blizzards began members of the University of Detroit High School Mothers' Club including, left to right, MRS. JOSEPH SHAHEEN, of Yorkshire road, MRS. WILLIAM SPEER, of Kensington road, MRS. WILLIAM HURLEY, of Lakeland avenue, and MRS. CHARLES KELLETT, of Devonshire road, began to think in terms of transforming the High School's gym into a turn-of-the-century garden for their 25th annual Gala Nite Dance, to be presented

Saturday, February 5. In a setting of park benches and topiary trees the Bill King Band will provide music for mothers, bands and their friends from 9 until 1 in the morning. Tickets at $4 per couple may be obtained at the School. All proceeds from this one-year fund-raising effort go to the University of Detroit High School Grant-in-Aid Fund, providing financial assistance toward tuition for as many needy students as possible.

Notre Dame High Band Mothers Sponsor Dance

The Notre Dame High School Band Mothers are sponsoring a Snowflake Dance Saturday, January 29, from 9 to 1 o'clock, at the School in Kelly road, Harper Woods, featuring music by "The Troubadours," roast beef, beer, set-ups, pretzels and potato chips for a donation of $8 per couple. Reservations may be obtained by contacting Irene Mack at 372-9300 or Connie Gola, 773-3085.

Company's spring visit here, meeting Goeran Gentele, the Met's next general manager, and Francis Robinson, assistant manager, at the 1972 Opera Luncheon in the Detroit Institute of Arts' Great Hall.

As always, the Grinnell Scholarship and Elizabeth Hodges Donovan Scholarship finalists will perform after the luncheon.

Members of The Pointe's Young Set and their parents are invited to look ahead to summer next Wednesday, January 26, when Mr. and Mrs. H. Bradford Aarons, owners and directors of Camp Bryn Afon in Rhineland, Wis., show their camp movie at 7:30 o'clock in the Lothrop road home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, III, whose daughter, Lisa, is a former Bryn Afon-ite. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Camp's winter office, 882-0196.

From Another Pointe of View

St. Michael's was founded as a mission of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, in 1947. It became an independent parish in January of 1952. The first unit of its three building programs was dedicated in 1951, the second in 1954, the final section in 1960.

An Episcopal church may not be consecrated until it is debt-free. Now St. Michael's is—and this Sunday, January 23, at 7 o'clock Bishop Richard Enrich will officiate at the Service of Consecration, to be followed by a reception in the Parish House.

The Rector, Wardens and Vestry extend a cordial invitation to all to participate in this important parish milestone.

P.S. Preparations are now underway for St. Michael's Silver Jubilee, which will take place next October.

Looking Ahead

Members of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be looking ahead next Wednesday, January 26, when they gather for their Fashionscope '72 Kick-Off Tea in the Vendome road home of Mrs. George Symons.

Members of the Detroit Women's Division for Project Hope are looking ahead today, over luncheon in the Versailles Room of the Pontchartrain Hotel, where Jeri Pierson's bringing them up to date on their Ports O' Call Ball, to be held April 28 at Raleigh House, and Esther Girardy's telling about a proposed trip to Natal, Brazil, to visit the SS. Hope.

They're getting a good bit of background data on their favorite project, too, from Dr. Marjorie Peebles Meyers who served on the hospital ship while it was stationed in Jamaica.

The Detroit Grand Opera Association will look ahead Monday, January 31, to the Metropolitan Opera

To Hold White Elephant Sale

The Richard School PTA will hold a White Elephant Sale on Saturday, January 22, from 10 o'clock until 3 o'clock, at the school. Mrs. Clarence Epler is chairman of the event. The sale is open to the public and will offer a wide variety of non-clothing items for sale, which include donations from over 350 families. Monies raised will be used to replenish and improve school equipment. In the past the PTA has been able to purchase new science, music and playground equipment through its Bake Sales and Ice Cream Socials. Hopefully, residents will be as supportive of the White Elephant Sale as they have been in other Richard PTA ventures.

Famed Chorale Here on Sunday

Prior to their appearance at the Country Club, Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association will present at 2 p.m. Sunday, January 23, the famous Interlochen Arts Academy Chorale in a special complimentary concert in Fries Crystal Ballroom, 32 Lake Shore road, open to the general public.

The concerts will feature 22 outstanding student singers from all over the United States under the direction of Dr. Jewell. Sponsoring and housing the Chorale for their overnight stay in Grosse Pointe will be Dr. and Mrs. Frank Parcells, Dr. and Mrs. Rodman E. Taber, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cousimano, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Froelich, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuhlman, Dr. and Mrs. Francis Garrett and Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Blain III.

7 Cases Heard By Judge Pytell

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Municipal Court convened on Wednesday, January 12, with Judge Robert H. Pytell presiding. The judge heard seven cases and issued six bench warrants.

Edward Thomas, 515 Parkview, Detroit, was charged with driving with an expired license. He pled guilty, and was found guilty, and was fined $10.

Joseph P. Gabriel, 23780 Raven, East Detroit, was charged with driving in an improper lane. He pled guilty, and was found guilty, and was fined $25 and placed on six months probation.

George D. Stainsby, 223 McKinley, was charged with failure to yield right of way at a stop sign. He pled not guilty, was found guilty, and was fined $10.

James B. Roach, 22812 St. Joan, St. Clair Shores, was charged with speeding. He pled guilty, was found guilty, and was charged $35.

James F. Donovan, 254 Ridgmont, was charged with reckless driving. He pled guilty, was found guilty, and was fined $100 and placed on six months probation.

Joseph H. Ryall, 1546 Shore Club drive, St. Clair Shores, was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He pled not guilty, and was placed on $150 bond pending a jury trial on Tuesday, February 29.

Scott Herman, 1011 Whittier, was charged with driving with improper plates. He pled guilty, was found guilty, and was fined $15.

Hockey Bruins Keeping Busy

The Grosse Pointe Bruins were victorious on two occasions in an invitational hockey tournament in St. Mary's, Ont.

On Saturday, January 15, the Bruins won 3-2 with Alau Taber and Joe Sehee scoring and Jim Morris assisting on both goals. The third goal was on a beautiful penalty shot by Bill Seaver. John Davies and Scott Seaver turned in strong performances, too.

On Sunday, January 16, it was a 6-1 victory for the Bruins. Taber scored first with Tom Hastings assisting. Sehee posted the next goal with Taber and Bill Seaver assisting. Matt Costello received a pass from Bill Seaver and shot it in for a goal. Taber then scored twice, once tipping in a slap shot by Joe Brykalski and the other after a pass from Brykalski. Brian Moody completed the scoring with Bill Seaver and Kevin Moore assisting. An excellent game also was turned in by Leo Fenn and Ben Amore. Bob Fredal played a strong game in goal.

In a league game Tuesday, January 4, the Bruins played a strong game against the Slasor hockey team but Slasor won, 2-1. The lone Bruin goal was by Taber after he received a pass out front from Costello. The Bruin defensemen, Moore, Matt Rossetti, and Hastings played very sturdy games.

At McCann Rink Friday, January 7, the Bruins defeated the Fifth Wheels in an exhibition game, 3-2. Morris scored early with Taber and Sehee assisting. Then Sehee made it two for the Bruins with Taber and Morris assisting. The Fifth Wheels scored twice and the score remained 2-2 until late in the third period when Brykalski broke the tie with his linemates, Costello and Bill Seaver, assisting.

On Sunday, January 9, the Bruins travelled to Riverside, Ont., to play the Riverside Squirrels. Riverside outshot the Bruins 30-9. Drew Mascarin played a magnificent game in goal. As a result of his great performance the Bruins lost by only one goal, 5-4. Taber scored the hat trick, twice on assisted goals, and once assisted by Moore and Sehee. Morris scored the other Bruin goal with Taber assisting.

In a league game Tuesday, January 11, the Bruins overpowered Northwest with an 8-1 victory. Taber and Moody each scored the hat trick. Costello and Morris scored the other two goals.

At St. Clair Beach, Ont., the Bruins played another fine Canadian team, the Windsor All Stars, with the game ending in a 1-1 tie. After receiving a pass from Bill Seaver, Costello shot the puck into the upper right hand corner of the net. Defensemen Brykalski, Hastings, Moore, and Rossetti, along with goalie Mascarin, turned in star performances.

In an exhibition game Thursday, January 13, the Bruins bested the Fraser Raiders, 4-0. Fredal was credited with the shutout. Taber scored first, assisted by Morris and Sehee. Costello shot in the second goal with Bill Seaver and Moody assisting. Morris then scored after a pass from Sehee. Taber completed the scoring after receiving a pass from Morris.

The Bruins are in third place in Tri-County play with an 8-4 record.

Proclaim Week For Achievers

Woods Mayor Kenneth M. Leod will sign the official proclamation, making the week of January 23-29 Junior Achievement Week in the city.

A letter written to the mayor by Mrs. Lenore Upton, director of public relations, Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, said the official document is ready for his signature. The items were part of the agenda at the regular council meeting Monday, January 17.

The JA movement is dedicated to giving young citizens, 15-18-year-olds, a working knowledge of the values, freedoms, and responsibilities of the American free enterprise system, according to the proclamation.

For over 50 years this youth-oriented organization has been accomplishing this goal through its "learn-by-doing" program, with the aid of volunteer advisors from business and industry, the proclamation continues.

This non-profit national organization has attained its highest membership in Southeastern Michigan, with thousands of high school students each year learning the value of initiative, ambition and the merits of their economic heritage, adds the proclamation.

Junior Achievement continues to train tomorrow's leaders by creating incentives and instilling pride in good citizenship and responsibility.

South JV Cagers 'Fast Break' to 5-1 Record

By Mark O'Keefe

Brilliant utilization of the fast break allowed South's JV's to net two 29 point victories the weekend of January 8-9. The wins came after South's only loss, 70-44, to Fordson, giving South a 5-1 season record.

Bad passing by South early in the game allowed Fordson to utilize the fast break and take a 29-7 first quarter lead. Fordson's attack was led by a 6'6" junior who scored 22 points. Bob Heidt was high man for South with 10 while Pete Grambo and Stu Cammet had nine each. Grosse Pointe's usually strong rebounding game was not in evidence as Grambo, who had 10, was the only Devil with over five rebounds.

South then clobbered the Monroe Trojans, 67-38, with a consistent offense and a superb defense.

The JV's used the fast break to perfection, scoring on 10 layups in the game. Monroe managed only 38 shots and 10 field goals in the game while South sank 28 of 76 shots from the floor.

Good rebounding from the entire squad helped South control the game. Jim Scala's eight rebounds was the top individual effort. Heidt led all scorers with 12 points while Grambo and Cammet managed 10 apiece.

Mount Clemens played a passing game, dribbling as little as possible, but a sharp defense aided by accurate shooting got South another 29-point victory.

A 33-13 halftime lead did not get South overconfident. They continued their aggressive play all the way to the final buzzer when Bart Dickson's long shot made the score 73-44.

Heidt's 17 points again led all scorers and gave him 67 points for the season. Grambo scored 10 to retain his position as top scorer on the team with 73 points. Cammet is third with 66.

Grambo led the rebounders with 10, while Fred Kreiger and Scala each pulled down five.

Over the season South's strong points have been the fast break and rebounding. Scott Solomon, Terry Corbett, Kevin McDonald, Heidt, and Steve Morrison have good speed which has helped on the fast break.

Scala and Grambo, both 6'5", along with Cammet and Kreiger, both 6'2" and Dickson, Tony Copty, and John Schultes at 6'1", have given South a good rebounding team. Other six footers are Stu Theide, Tripp Mitchell, and Tom Murphy.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Public Schools Schools—54.73. Allen Park — Allen Park Schools—53.28.

In light of the recent considerable publicity given to the whole question of using the local property tax as the basis for financing public education, it seems appropriate to examine the millage rates—both the total used for municipal purposes and the amount allocated to the operation of the public schools and libraries.

Recent data compiled by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation shows the following total millage rates for our district: Grosse Pointe City, 60.18; Grosse Pointe Farms, 52.95; Grosse Pointe Park, 55.20; Grosse Pointe Shores, 53.95; Grosse Pointe Woods, 53.70; and the Harper Woods section, 57.16.

Of these varying amounts, 28.60 mills, ($28.60 in tax for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation), raises funds to operate our 15 public schools and three public libraries, and 2.65 mills pay debt retirement costs.

Under the direction of Nathan C. Judson, instrumental music director, the Symphony Orchestra will present "Russian Sailors' Dance," "Giere-Isaac; "Fugue in G Minor" (The Lesser), J. S. Bach-Demarest; "Catskill Legend," Paul Wheat and "Dance of the Tumblers," Rimsky-Korsakoff-Stone.

Toy for Mayor Bears Message

At the outset of the regular meeting of the Farms council on Monday night, January 10, Farms Mayor William Butler gave a toy dump truck to Farms city manager Andrew Bremer.

However, all was not fun and games, since the toy truck had been given to the mayor by a Farms resident along with detailed hand-drawn diagrams of a snow removal plan.

Mayor Butler surrendered the truck to City Manager Bremer "with great reluctance," and the city manager promised that the right persons would be shown the snow truck and diagrams.

All the councilmen, with the exception of Mark C. Stevens who is currently at the South Pole, chuckled over the resourcefulness of the unidentified Farms resident.

Residents Irked By Bus Exhausts

The odor of spewing exhaust fumes from parked buses has got Mrs. James Ellis, 1961 Roslyn road, up in arms.

Mrs. Ellis has called the Woods Police Department previously regarding the buses and the odor they leave while standing in an alley on Roslyn near Mack. Officer Albert Abend answered her latest call Monday, January 10.

Officers Abend told Mrs. Ellis that the police would again contact the SEMTA Dispatch regarding the problem of the illegally parked buses standing with their motors running, emitting excessive exhaust.

Sergeant Stephen Petrik was requested to call the dispatch and inform them again of the continual complaints being received by the police. He contacted the SEMTA Dispatch and warned them of the complaint.

GROSSE POINTE FARMS JUNIOR MISS SUSAN NOUSE, OF BELANGER ROAD.

By Pepper Whitelaw

It is impossible to type her. She won't let you. She refuses to fit into any of the usual categories in which people often place teenagers.

Susan Nouse is 17-years-old, with blue eyes, long shining blond hair, a winning smile and a mind that is never idle. "There are too many 'fun' things to do and too much to learn to be idle."

She comes from a family that's rarely idle. Her father, Dale, is assistant director of public relations for Blue Cross. In his spare time he plays the banjo — and he just bought a guitar.

Sue's mother, once a top notch copywriter, now devotes her time and talents to the family.

Better Than Teddy Brother Todd, ("We have a special relationship... He's better than my Teddy Bear"), is 22-years-old, works for the Detroit Free Press AND, according to Sue, plays the guitar and sings like a pro.

Sister Muff is 21-years-old. Muff student-taught at Brownell Middle School last fall. She is attending Western Michigan University and will receive her degree in April.

"It was Muff who convinced me to enter the Grosse Pointe Farms Junior Miss Contest, sponsored by the Farms Boat Club last July. Muff entered three years before and enjoyed participating so much that she wanted me to share the experience."

So after talking with Muff, and since she had a fairly free summer — she wasn't taking any summer school classes as she had for the past few years, or planning a vacation — Sue decided to enter.

"I thought it would be a wonderful opportunity to meet new people and get to know some of the adults in the area."

Shocked the Judges She really shocked the judges when during the personal interview she asked THEM why they wanted to be judges! She was really interested in knowing... and when Sue is interested in knowing something, she comes right out and asks. Doesn't everybody?

"I was really shocked when I won. You see, I don't set myself up for an all-out win. I just stay loose and have fun. I guess that's a negative approach... but I don't really believe it. I just plunge in and enjoy the experience. Then if I do win, it's kind of a bonus."

Sue's talent presentation was unusual — but who would expect the usual from Sue? She did illustrations while her brother played the guitar and sang "I'm In Love With a Big Blue Frog." Her composure AND her obvious enjoyment of the moment, sold her.

Picked To Go On On December 11 Sue was selected to compete for the title of Michigan's Junior Miss in the regional judging held in Livonia. The region takes have been looking for Helen White's mountains and seascapes... the artist, formerly of Grosse Pointe, lives in Miami and is co-owner of the Grove Group Gallery at 3350 Mary Street in lovely Coconut Grove.

Harvey's Compleat Traveler... has a brand new shipment of south into spring white leather, black patent and navy handbags. Also new are linen, canvas, and straw Aigner handbags trimmed with red onion leather.

Belts... beads... bags... at the Mole Hole are worth seeing, Macrame shoulder bags are practical for all ages and priced nicely from ten to twelve dollars.

simple and direct, "Everybody assumes if you're 16 you want to drive. I just didn't want to. Besides, walking and riding my bicycle are great exercise."

Sue has some other definite ideas.

She Looks Ahead On leaving South: "I will be sorry to leave but I've spent my entire life in The Pointe, (she was born in Bon Secours Hospital and attended Kerby Elementary School and Brownell Middle School), and although I get enough media so I'm not completely insular, I'm sure getting out into the college world will be a real awakening for me."

On children: "I hope my future work will involve children. They're so charming and loving... they're really something. I think my generation is the last to have a rose-colored childhood. Today's children are really mini-adults."

On the immediate future: "I've traveled so little. I've never seen a mountain or an ocean. So I plan to travel. I want to go camping in Colorado next summer... backpacking... tents... the whole bit... or maybe get a job for part of the summer as a camp counselor teaching arts and crafts."

Her Eyes On Africa On the distant future: "More travel. I have been in love with Africa since I wrote a paper on it in the sixth grade. Then 'Born Free' cinched it. There are so many fantastic changes going on there. I've just got to see it."

On organized religion: "I guess this is one of my negative views. I think organized religion can cause prejudice. I think a universal church would be ideal. I suppose I'm more in tune with the Unitarian Church... I think Dr. Harry Meserve is great. He talks about people and things we can understand. His church is people-oriented."

On gift-giving: "I like to make my own gifts. This year I made ashtrays, cracked bottles and special stationery for Muff with her favorite quotations and illustrations on it."

On receiving gifts: "I especially like the original poems I received from my friends this Christmas. They showed real thought and effort and gave our friendship a special meaning."

On Christmas: "Our Christmas is a big family day. I guess we celebrate it in an unusual way. We use it as a day to thank each other for all good experiences during the past year and just to be together. We don't attach a great deal of religious significance to the day."

On her own philosophy: "The really difficult times are as important as the good times. They kind of round things out. I don't believe in denying your emotions. They are part of you: Why not accept, understand, appreciate and live with them?"

Now you try to type her. We dare you.

"Throughout most of my... childhood and adolescence," reminisces Julie Harris in her recently published book, JULIE HARRIS TALKS TO YOUNG ACTORS, with Barry Tarshis, "I was the classic wallflower: skinny, awkward, self-conscious about my teeth braces, shy with boys, quarrelsome with my parents"...

One of America's... First Ladies of the Theater now, the once-upon-a-time "skinny, awkward" daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Harris, Jr., of Ellair place, lays it on the line for aspiring thespians, describing the frustrations as well as the joys of her profession, providing practical pointers from How To Survive Auditions to Learning Lines...

Item: "If I were starting out now, I would begin keeping a notebook, the way many writers do. In it I would make notes of people I'd seen on the street who looked interesting, of how people walk and sit, of mannerisms and speech characteristics"...

Item: "You WILL be disappointed. You WILL of it: doing what is required of you regardless of your problems and fears. And with discipline comes courage—the courage to extend yourself, to subdue with your own resources your personal demons. Discipline and courage. No great actor has been without them"...

Item: "With few exceptions, sickly people do not become successful actors"...

Item: "You WILL be disappointed. You WILL be discouraged. You WILL go through periods of doubt and depression. You WILL be tempted to quit. But if you are strong enough and determined enough and if you work hard enough to develop your talent, you have a good chance of making it"...

Item: "I reject the idea of absolutes with acting. I disagree with those who insist that inner technique is useless to an actor, that an actor is a mechanic, a performer. And I disagree with those who are so inward, so psychologically oriented that they never get around to the business of acting, which is to get onstage and give the audience their money's worth"...

And so on... and so on, item after item... Besides being a fascinating book, this is such a quotable one!... It's interesting to note, too, that although Julie Harris describes her childhood-adolescence relationship with her parents as "quarrelsome," she's obviously always liked them, (a refreshing point of view, that, in these days of "My mother made me what I am today—ugh!")...

Miss Harris... remembers her mother forever telling her about the plays she saw and loved when she was in her early 20's, working as a nurse in New York City... and proudly reveals that her father preceded her on the New York stage, playing Agamemnon as a Yale freshman in a spoof of Euripides' "Iphigenia in Aulis" that had a Christmas vacation run at a place called The Little Theatre...

Could be... you knew that already, but we didn't, and we admit to finding personal glimpses of neighbors irresistible...

PILFERINGS Alec McCowen, who played the title role in "Hadrian VII" on Broadway, was emoting one night in a London play when he noticed that a woman in the first row had placed her handbag and umbrella on the stage. "It was ghastly," McCowen said later. "I couldn't stop looking at them." So rather than break the rhythm of his performance, McCowen began to tidy the bed-sitting-room set as though this were part of the regular stage business, and he handed the handbag and umbrella back to the amazed woman. —Garden City, N.Y., "Newsday"

A famous movie hero entered a hospital for a checkup, and was fawned upon and babied by every nurse in the institution. One particularly attentive nurse was at his side, it seemed, every time he stirred. When he finally indicated that he would like to be alone for just a little while, she told him, "Now, if you want anything at all, you need only pull this cord." He gave her his best smile, then said, "Thank you, my dear. And what is the cord attached to?" She smiled back and answered, "Me." —Bennett Cerf
