

CRIME INCREASES IN POINTE

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 27
A STATE REPRESENTATIVE, Rep. Dennis O. Cawthorne, R-Manistee, said Wednesday that lobbyists for GM and Ford are still opposing Governor Milliken's transportation-transit program despite the auto makers' announced support for the program. Both corporations later said that they would only oppose the highway funds and gas tax monies used for a rail transit system, that they were not opposed to the monies being used for "certain highway related purposes, such as bus stations and exclusive bus lanes on highways."

Friday, January 28
THE PONTIAC STADIUM BUILDING AUTHORITY and the Lions announced Thursday the acceptance of preliminary design plans for the proposed $40.1 million stadium and said that they expected to break ground July 1 at M-59 and Opdyke road. Even with the Lions announcement, plans for the proposed domed riverfront stadium continue. Tiger owner John Fetzer has signed the lease for the Tigers to begin playing in the stadium once built, and the lease was made public Thursday by the Wayne County Stadium Authority, which handed it over to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for approval.

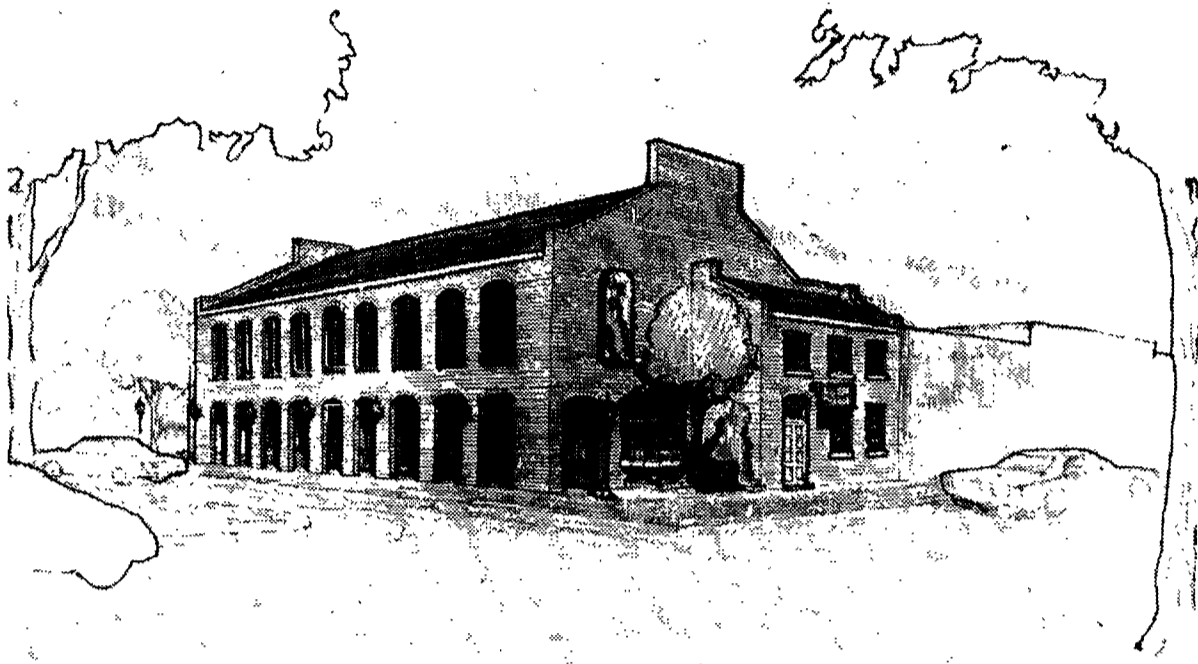

Saturday, January 29
EDITH IRVING, wife of author Clifford Irving, was identified Friday as the woman who opened a Swiss bank account in the name of H. R. Hughes and deposited $650,000 of McGraw-Hill checks intended for Howard Hughes. She was also revealed by sources in Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan's office as the woman who withdrew the money. The author Irving previously swore that he had "personally handed" the checks to Hughes and a trusted representative of the billionaire. The publisher, McGraw-Hill, commenting on the latest revelation, said "We are stunned at today's development."

Sunday, January 30
THE FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD) Saturday stopped action on dozens of pending and new FHA mortgages and suspended 16 Detroit area real estate firms and salesmen because of charges of "irregularities." HUD's Detroit area real estate director William Whitbeck confirmed Saturday. This move prevents the suspended firms, which have not been identified, from closing and FHA-insured mortgages until completion of investigation of charges against them by HUD and the FBI.

Monday, January 31
THIRTEEN CIVILIANS were shot and killed in Northern Ireland Sunday in gunfire that erupted when British paratroopers stormed a Roman Catholic protest rally in order to subdue rock-throwing youths. The death toll was Londonderry's worst in more than three years of strife pitting Roman Catholic militants against Protestants and the British soldiers sent to restore order. Northern Irish leaders called the shootings an "awful slaughter" and "mass murder."

Tuesday, February 1
LEGISLATION FOR A PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY May 9 passed the Michigan Senate Monday night 32 to 2, which points to probable prompt and favorable action in the House. The Senate approved a compromise primary plan that represented a victory both for Republican Governor Milliken and Democratic party leaders in that it combines Milliken's goal for direct popular balloting and the Democrat's aim of choosing an entire new slate of precinct delegates for each party.

Another Progressive Step For The Village

New Woods Law Attracts Other Cities

Request Copies of Ordinance Providing for Equitable Business Distribution

By Roger A. Waha
The reaction to the Woods' new ordinance, which provides for equitable distribution of the number and types of business, commercial, professional and service establishments within the city, seems to be on the positive side. The Woods council adopted the ordinance at the regular meeting Monday, January 17.

The cities of Grosse Pointe Park, Mt. Clemens, East Detroit, Algonac, and the Wayne County Planning Commission requested, for instance, copies of the ordinance last week.

Similar Problems
City Administrator Chester E. Petersen mentioned that these governmental agencies have "similar problems" to the Woods regarding the regulation of the number and types of businesses. Now these agencies will have a chance to study the ordinance. Nothing from merchants for or against the ordinance has been reported as yet, added Mr. Petersen.

The ordinance, which was drafted by Mr. Petersen and City Attorney George B. Catlin, also notes that the number and type of such establishments would be limited in relationship to the Woods' population in order to protect the peace, health, safety, general welfare and economic stability of the community and to further prevent adverse effects upon the community by any such operations.

At this time a number of businesses are restricted (Continued on Page 6)

State Education Board's Plans for Desegregation Awaited by Judge Roth

Representative William R. Bryant, Jr. Discusses Possibilities Existing to Provide Metropolitan Area Solution

Judge Steven Roth has found the Detroit Public Schools to be "de jure" segregated and has ordered the State Board of Education to submit, by February 4, a plan or plans for metropolitan desegregation, not just of Detroit but the Detroit metropolitan region.

The State Board will comply with that order and will do so by presenting to the Court a number of plans and at the same time will emphasize to the Court its belief that better quality education, not just school desegregation, is the sought-after goal for Detroit schools.

One plan which will probably be submitted to the Court would create a metropolitan school authority and would divide Detroit attendance zones or the district itself into about six areas and combine each area with a number of suburban schools. Bussing would be used within each area to cross-bus black and white students for purposes of desegregation within that area.

May Be Others
This is one form of forced cross-district bussing which may be proposed. There may well be others.

But if there is to be metropolitan desegregation of schools, must it be by forced cross-district bussing or forced district reorganization? Aside from the question of whether such a Court order could be enforced, is there no other way?

And, on the other hand, regardless of whether or not any order made by Judge Roth could be reversed on appeal, are there not ways and means of school desegregation which, perhaps now jarred awake by the actions of the Court to date, we in Detroit and the metropolitan area may recognize as proper and worthwhile measures to take.

McCourt's Building To Be Colonial

Ground Broken for Half Million Dollar Structure at Notre Dame and Kercheval

By Pepper Whitelaw
Ground was broken last week for the new, half-million dollar, Williamsburg Colonial McCourt Building, which will be located on the corner of Notre Dame and Kercheval, in The Village. Slated for completion in August, the building will add yet another Colonial touch to the area.

The National Bank of Detroit, which will locate on the site of the old Village Manor Restaurant in St. Clair avenue, will also be of Williamsburg design. The NBD building is expected to cost over a million dollars and will be completed in the winter of 1972. It was designed by architect C. E. Noetzel.

Jacobson's Proposal
Jacobson has proposed an expansion program, estimated at well over two-million dollars to the City Council. The building, designed by Arthur O. A. Schmidt A.I.A. Architect, will be of Georgian design.

The McCourt Building will be the first of the three to be completed. It will have two floors and over 11,000 square feet of floor space. The exterior will feature sand mold buckskin brick, brick arches, a recessed entry area at the corner of Kercheval and Notre Dame and a covered arcade. Ornamental lanterns will provide the exterior lighting.

Shoes and Travel
McCourt Shoes will occupy the first floor and Day Travel will occupy space on the first floor and private offices on the second floor. There will be approximately 4,000 square feet of office space on the second floor.

Mr. Bill McCourt said the Williamsburg theme will be carried throughout the interior of the building which will feature brick walls and fine wood paneling.

This will be the fourth move within The Village area for Mr. McCourt during his 25 years in business there. He began his career by leasing the shoe department of the original Peter Pan Store.

NEWSSTAND MISSING

The editor of the Grosse Pointe News reported to Farms police recently that the NEWS paper stand located on the sidewalk at 18640 Mack was missing. The theft had occurred between 6 p.m. Wednesday, December 29, and 9:30 a.m. Friday, December 31. The stand is green with white lettering "Grosse Pointe News."

Solons Discuss Parking Issue In Hill District

Complaint of Area Employees Supported by Survey Made by Police; Petition Denied Pending Further Study

By Kathy Duff

A "Parking Problem" took up most of the councilmen's time and energies at the regular meeting of the Grosse Pointe Farms solons on Monday evening, January 31. The problem, with which just about everyone can empathize, concerns the municipal parking area in the Kercheval-On-The-Hill business district.

Disgruntled Hill employees had submitted a petition to the City of Grosse Pointe Farms and the Farms police department on November 19, 1971, protesting the lack of all day parking and requesting an additional lane in the lot be converted from 2-hour meters to 10-hour meters.

Originated at NEWS

The petition had originated in the NEWS offices when several employees, notably accountant Jo Anne M. Eason, felt that the Hill customers would not be inconvenienced by the addition of 10-hour meters, often making it impossible for Hill employees to find a parking spot after lunch, Mrs. Eason had noted.

Accordingly, the Farms council had scheduled the January 31 regular meeting to recognize the petition signed by 53 persons and to study the employees' complaint.

Two Sides to Coin

However, the Farms council had to consider the other side of the coin, so to speak, meaning that they had to recognize the Hill areas as primarily a business center and that customer convenience was of paramount importance.

Representing the businessmen's interest in the availability of customer parking was Tony Morse, president of the "Hill Merchants Association" and owner of the Sign and the Mermaid gift shop and Gallery.

In prefacing his remarks to the council, Mr. Morse commented, "I have said this for years, that we have a parking problem in the Hill area."

However, Mr. Morse felt that the problem boiled down to a question of priorities, that it was not in the area's best interests "to sacrifice more customer parking to help the employees."

Mayor Agrees

Farms mayor William Butler, unofficially speaking for the council, agreed, saying, "I want you to know that we have the merchants in mind, in that you are faced with competing with large shopping areas such as Eastland." The Farms mayor recognized the necessity of the Hill shopping area continuing to rate high in customer service.

Prompted by the November petition signed by the 53 dissatisfied Hill employees, Farms Police Chief Robert

Police Say Drug Usage Causes Rise

All Five Municipalities Release Final Figures for 1971; Pair Steal 225 Bikes

By Roger A. Waha

The overall crime picture of the Pointe indicates a rise in the number of breaking and entering cases in 1971 as against 1970 according to final figures released by the respective police departments. Only the Woods shows a decrease in B&E's in 1971.

In other crime classifications for each city, there are rises and falls in offenses depending upon the classification and the city.

The Park reports 95 B&E's, including attempts, in 1971, as against 86 in 1970. Forty burglaries were reported in The City in 1971, while 32 were reported in 1970. During 1971, 126 reports of attempted breaking and entry were investigated in The Farms, as against 96 in 1970.

Twelve B&E's were reported in The Shores in 1971, while eight were reported in 1970. Seven of the 12 cases were closed and four of the eight were wrapped up. Meanwhile, The Woods reported 73 burglaries in 1971, including attempted forcible entry, as against 89 in 1970.

Blamed on Drugs
Park Police Chief Gerard J. Kesteloot and Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber both felt that the rise in B&E's and attempted B&E's were related to the increased use of drugs.

"Most of the burglaries that occurred here are drug-related," said Chief Kesteloot. He added that many of these people need the money to support their habit. "We can correlate up to 90 percent of larcenies and breaking and entering to drug-related crimes," stated Chief Ferber. He added that the young people must be reached regarding the evils of drug abuse so they can be more aware of the dangers.

Robberies Decrease
Three robberies were reported in The City in 1971 as against five in 1970. The Farms reports four robberies in 1971 as against nine in 1970. In The Park, 10 robberies were reported in 1971 as against eight in 1970. The Woods reports six in both 1970 and 1971.

Assaults were down in The Shores and The Woods, up in The Park and The Farms, and the same in The City. All seven assault cases in The Shores were closed in 1971, while five of nine cases were wrapped up in 1970. No

Making Study Of Boundary

By Roger A. Waha

The City of Grosse Pointe Park continues to actively pursue the matter of the Wayburn boundary dispute. Herold Deason, an associate of City Attorney Richard D. Rohr, and councilman O. J. Williams, Jr., represented the Park at a meeting with the Detroit Corporation Counsel Tuesday, January 25. The meeting also included engineering representatives of the City of Detroit.

"We explored avenues of approach to the problem," said Mr. Deason, "and we cleared up areas where there might be legal problems involved." The Park is attempting to persuade Detroit to move the boundary.

"Detroit engineers are going to do more investigation on the actual location of the present boundary," he said. "In a sense it's out of our hands. It's up to Detroit to do its part."

Park representatives will meet with the counsel again after Detroit engineers complete their study. While no date of completion was set for the study, Mr. Deason said, "We'll do everything we can to make it as soon as possible."

Parents Present Son's Trombone to North High

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reed presented a newly reconditioned Conn 88-II trombone to the Grosse Pointe North High School instrumental music department at the recent midwinter concert of Bands and Orchestras.

The replated and engraved instrument was given in memory of their son, Daniel Murphy, 1959 Grosse Pointe High graduate, who was killed in a motor accident in the eastern part of the United States several years ago. Dan was a member of the University of Michigan Band in his college years.

School board secretary, Barbara Thompson accepted the instrument at the concert, January 26, and presented it to G. Bruce Feigh-ner, North High principal, who after a few words of thanks, then presented the trombone to Frank Krager, president of the Music Council of North High and student in the Symphony Band. Ron Dickerson will be the first student to use the instrument.

Nathan Judson, conductor of the bands and orchestra then read a message from Mr. and Mrs. Reed: "Our gift and our attendance here tonight should indicate to you our commitment to this memorial. We would wish to encourage young people in the enjoyment of instrumental music and in participating in North High's fine musical groups. We are fully aware

Reveal Shift In Bus Route

The Lake Shore Coach Lines, a division of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA), is currently effecting a service change on the Charlevoix bus route.

As reported in the January 27 edition of the NEWS, no buses will run on Brys drive. Instead, the Charlevoix bus will stay on Marter road all the way to Jefferson avenue. However, Brys drive residents will have access to the Kercheval-Deanhurst bus on Mack avenue and the newly-routed Charlevoix bus on Marter.

This route change brings bus service to many residents along Marter who had previously had no bus service, reports Mrs. Dolores Wolfe, assistant public relations officer, SEMTA. The new bus route connects with the Jefferson Beach line and provides another way to reach Lake Shore Village.

Says Youth Was Killed By Landlord

Florida Police Say Informer Has Told of Murder of Pointer Karl Fulmer

By Pepper Whitelaw

An 18-year-old Pointe youth, Karl Corrigan Fulmer, is believed to have been the victim of a vicious murder in Seminole County, Fla. in October.

The youth, who was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School last year, went to Florida in October and rented an apartment on Jackson street in Winterpark, owned by Louis Smith Gattis, a 24-year-old white male.

Fulmer applied for a job at Disney World and began work on October 26. Gattis reported the youth missing on November 22 to Orange County Sheriff's office's Sergeant Gene Blankenship. Blankenship questioned the landlord and a number of Fulmer's acquaintances.

Reveals Murder
During one of those interrogations police were told that Gattis murdered Fulmer because he had seen some merchandise in the Gattis apartment that had been stolen in breakings and entries in the area. The informer told Sgt. Blankenship where Fulmer's body could be found.

Some 30 deputies conducted an exhaustive search of the Wecki river which runs north of Orlando, where they found parts of the body and identifiable articles of clothing.

Gattis Charged
The investigation was turned over to the Seminole County Sheriff's Lieutenant L. J. Kriz who told the NEWS that Gattis has been charged with murder based on the testimony of the informer and other physical evidence.

Lt. Kriz indicated that The Pointe youth was murdered because of his knowledge of Gattis' illegal activities. It is

Open Classroom Enjoys Experience in Budgeting

By Pepper Whitelaw

"The school should be an integral part of the real world . . ." And that's just what it is in Mrs. Shirley LaJoy's Open Classroom at Defer Elementary School. There third and fourth graders have just completed a project where they experienced the meaning of economy first hand.

The project taught them to budget personal monies and operation of a retail grocery store.

Mrs. LaJoy and her students, equipped with $150.50 in play money, stretched their dollars further than any Pointe parent ever hoped to do.

They began by collecting soap and cereal boxes, canned goods containers, empty beverage bottles and cans, and as many varieties of containers as they could forage from mom's kitchen. This was the "stock," which they set up their supermarket.

Under the astute management of Bob Brabb and Ed Fish, (two food chain tycoons), the supermarket flourished. Each child made a purchase, rang the cost of that purchase on the cash register, then determined just what portion of his allotted money had to be kept in reserve for household expenses. (How many of us wish we could have had this early budget training?)

Scout Potluck Slated Feb. 5

The nine beautiful singing and dancing Goldiggers — formerly featured on "The Dean Martin" TV show, now stars of their own program, plus comedian Dave Madden — acid-tongued manager of "The Partridge Family" — headline entertainment at the 1972 Boy Scout Leaders' Recognition Potluck Dinner at Cobo Hall Saturday, February 5, at 6 o'clock.

The television stars will appear before a capacity crowd of 6,400 Scout Leaders and their wives who annually are honored for their services by the executive board of the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America at a dinner, called the "world's largest indoor picnic."

In addition to the Goldiggers and Madden, other entertainers for the evening include Gloria Brooks, who rules as Miss Black Michigan, impressionist Nip Nelson and the Warney Ruhl Orchestra.

James H. Dingeman, of Radnor circle, is chairman of this year's dinner. Mrs. William Klingbeil of Hawthorne road, is Council hostess.

Other committee chairmen include Mrs. Reuben Jensen, assistant Council hostess; Mrs. Carol Haddix and Mrs. Cyrilla Riley, food committee; Peter C. Darin, Jr., participation chairman; Donald F. Keck, program chairman; Irving Rose, assistant participation chairman; Ben L. Rouse, physical arrangements chairman; Gordon F. Goyette, Jr., coordinator; C. R. Shelton, publicity chairman; and Warren Zschoche, director of activities.

The potluck was inaugurated by Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America in 1958 as a thank-you to Scout Leaders. Approximately 1,800 attended the first dinner held in the Masonic Temple.

The dinner was moved to Cobo Hall in 1961 and has hosted a capacity audience of 6,400 ever since.

Under the direction of Mrs. Klingbeil and her committee individual menus have been planned for each of the tables. All food is prepared and brought to the hall by wives attending the dinner.

Three Cars In Collision

A three-car collision on the wet and slippery streets Friday night, January 7, injured two persons and caused $1,000 in vehicle damage.

Robert R. Gross, 51, of 228 Ridgmont road, was traveling west on Lake Shore drive and tried to turn left into the driveway of 32 Lake Shore. He was hit on his right side by Theodore Faur, 64, of 23142 Doremus, St. Clair Shores, who was traveling east of Lake Shore.

Unable to control his car, Mrs. Gross hit a car attempting to exit from the driveway of 32 Lake Shore drive, driven by Donna J. Curry, 29, of 6136 Horatio, Detroit.

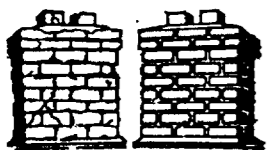

Two of the drivers needed medical attention. Mr. Gross was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for a cut above the left eye and a laceration of the right shin. Mr. Faur, suffering from a laceration of the lower lip, was taken to Cottage Hospital.

The three cars were towed to a service station at Mack and Moross.

Both Mr. Gross and Mr. Faur were charged with careless driving. Their court date is Wednesday, February 9.

Two Views On Mack Mishap

Farms Judge Robert H. Pytell might hear two different versions of an accident which occurred on Mack near Maison Saturday, January 15, when the Farms municipal court convenes on Wednesday, February 9.

Jacque Jay Ward, 3876 Harvard, Detroit, reported to the Farms police that he had been driving on Mack when he pulled alongside a '70 Pontiac to back up and park in a space behind the vehicle. As he was opening the Pontiac, the driver opened the door of the Pontiac, causing $100 in damage to the right side of his car.

Mr. Ward said that when he tried to speak with the driver, Elizabeth R. Rollins, 19927 Doyle, at the scene of the accident, she became abusive and was insistent that the accident was his fault.

Mr. Ward went to the Farms station at 5:15 to report the incident, and left the Farms police in charge of the matter.

The police then contacted Mrs. Rollins, who acknowledged that she had been in an accident, yet insisted that it was not her fault. She later reported that the door of her Pontiac had been open about six inches when Mr. Ward, driving very fast, had pulled up beside her car.

Mrs. Rollins has been charged with opening a driver's door and impeding traffic.

Delayed Stop Causes Crash

A rear end collision in front of 337 Fisher road at 3:30 p.m. Friday, January 21, involved a South High School student and a mother with her two children.

Mrs. C. A. Roehl, 12757 Hampshire, reported to the Farms police that the student, Arthur Louis Hummel, 1020 Three Mile drive, had failed to notice her stopping to allow cars to park on Fisher. She reported that she was suffering neck discomfort and had seen a doctor.

The student, Arthur Hummel, 17, admitted his fault in the accident, stating that he did not notice Mrs. Roehl stopping, and when he did it was too late to avoid a collision.

No driving violations were issued by the Farms police.

Local Crime

(Continued from Page 1) aggravated assault cases were reported in The Woods in 1971, while 11 cases were "on the books" in 1970.

The Park reported 23 assault cases in 1971 as against 18 in 1970. There were three aggravated assaults in The Woods in 1971, while two were reported in 1970. Fourteen cases were reported in The City in both 1971 and 1970.

Total Larcenies Up
Total larcenies were up in all The Pointes. Looking at stolen bikes specifically, a rise is seen in The Woods, 260 in 1971, 153 in 1970; The Park, 388 in 1971, 255 in 1970; The Shores, 22 in 1971, 19 in 1970, and The Farms, 307 in 1971, 178 in 1970.

The Farms' Police Department's 1971 annual report notes, "The increase in bicycle thefts can be directly attributed to drug abuse and addiction. In one arrest alone, in October of 1971, two persons arrested by the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Department accounted for 225 bicycles stolen in the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods in a six-week period of operation."

Park Lieutenant Henry Coonce strongly stated that all bike owners should license and lock their bicycles. Licensed bikes give the police the description and serial number which will aid in the return of the bike if it's stolen or misplaced. And when you lock your bicycle, you also help safeguard it.

PROPERTY MISSING

Mrs. Merwyn Rodger, 35 Lakeshore, reported to Farms police on Saturday, December 17, that she has noticed several valuable items missing from her house. She believes the items were taken while she and her husband were on a month's vacation from May 24 to June 24, 1971, possibly when their 27-year-old daughter had a large party during their absence. Mrs. Rodger estimates the loss at $847 which includes a black Exakta camera with special lens, a silk dress, a man's sportcoat, a silver cigarette box, and a bronze sculpture of a man and woman. The Farms police could find no signs of forcible entry.

Woods Okays Water Lateral

The Woods council, in their regular meeting on Monday, January 3, consented to St. Clair Shores using a section of Mack and 8 Mile road for the installation of a water lateral.

In the resolution prepared by Woods city attorney George Catlin, the land to be used is "north 10 feet of Mack and Eight Mile road as platted from the westerly line of Mack avenue extending 700 feet easterly."

The 24-inch water main will be constructed to reinforce the water system in the southeast portion of St. Clair Shores.

Since a portion of the project includes installation of a water main near the line between Wayne County and Macomb County, from east of Harper avenue to Marter road, a short section of the main, west of Mack, is in the Woods.

For the Woods resolution to be valid, the city of St. Clair Shores must agree to the installation, maintenance, and repair of the water lateral; may not at any time close the roads to public travel; and must release the Woods of all claims of liability resulting from the water lateral.

Farms Meters Are Damaged

It was a bad week for parking meters in The Farms.

A resident of Shoreham road was in the parking lot behind 83 Kercheval on Friday, January 7, when she noticed a parking meter down. She also noted a car which might have caused the damage leaving the scene.

She reported the incident to the Farms police who checked the license of the suspect car, and later contacted the owner of the car.

The owner, an elderly lady, admitted that she might be responsible for the damage since her car was dented where it might have hit the meter, and agreed to pay $125 damages to The Farms.

A second incident of damage to parking meters was far from accidental. Farms policeman William Fowler, whose duty it is to regularly inspect the Farms meters, noticed on Monday, January 10, that someone had cut four meters with pipe cutters.

Damaged were two 10-hour blue meters and two two-hour bronze-colored meters. Patrolman Fowler reported that the vandalism had occurred sometime over the weekend, costing The Farms $500.

Criticism is much easier for all of us to give than receive. The thing most needed this new year is faith in the future.

State Board's Desegregation Plans

(Continued from Page 1) ponent of a total plan. 3. Again and again one is forced back to the recognition that beyond the impacts, whatever they may be, of racial isolation in inner city schools, better education is possible, we are not innovating, we are not training teachers to educate these children, and educators are not doing all possible to give these kids quality education. Part is financing and we are in the middle of that muddle, but part is also the educational system itself.

Dedication Required
So a mandatory ingredient of any plan must be absolute dedication to implementation of the best programs available to educate all, and especially black, low socioeconomic level students.

As a part of this, Detroit should expand its promising program of new, more experimental junior high schools. Such schools have succeeded in drawing to themselves an integrated student body. It is living proof that if one provides excellence it will be recognized and sought out by students and parents.

4. Detroit must use positive: (a) open enrollment, (allowing any switch of schools that decreases segregation), (b) pairing of schools (pairing, for instance, two grade schools so each has all the children for half the grades), and (c) closing of old, segregated grade schools, all of which are valid means of intra-district desegregation, where these means are appropriate.

Centers Are Needed
5. On the larger scale Detroit should establish centers serving a number of high school zones, which centers could be focal points for special aids such as remedial reading and other intensive compensation programs, as well as school-community programs and adult education. These should be lo-ated to serve an integrated student, adult and community population. 6. Many schools in Detroit are over 50-years-old. Many of the schools are drab and dreary and expensive or impossible to maintain. A building program is a must for Detroit and also provides another tool for both desegregation and increased quality of education. By placement and design of new buildings Detroit will be able to help desegregation and make available new buildings designed to facilitate the use of advanced instruction methods and to install the up-to-date gadgetry of modern education.

Giant Step Possible

7. Lastly, as pertains to Detroit itself, the critical need for new buildings provides the further possibility of taking a giant step and creating large education complexes or education parks, bringing together into one campus grade, junior and senior highs in a manner which will make maximum use of facilities and specialized personnel and which schools will draw from a large multi-racial area within Detroit. The education park concept has been talked about more than used, but for instance such a complex adjacent to and working in close cooperation with Wayne State University or the University of Detroit would be of great educational benefit. Such a concept, as well as others mentioned, must also work in cooperation with private schools.

Metropolitan Aspects

8. Each metropolitan district would be requested to join what may be termed a "Super Magnet" coalition of schools, whereby districts in return for the right of their students to attend a specialty high school in another district would establish their own specialization and open a percentage or certain number of slots for students from other districts, with priority given to students whose presence decreases segregation in the receiving school. A Grosse Pointe student might attend Detroit performing arts high school and a Detroit student attend a Grosse Pointe high school with a sciences specialty or an Inkster student go to Dearborn for a business specialty and Dearborn to Highland Park for an automotive mechanics specialty.

Participation by district and student would be voluntary. The state could equalize any cost variation between sending and receiving district and could even provide economic incentive to receiving districts.

Vocational Centers

9. Establish area vocational education centers in outer-city Detroit, serving Detroit and enclave and suburban districts in a geographic area designed to draw an integrated student body. Again, if special schools offer quality vocational curricula, high school students won't care one bit what the racial mix is. Such a center exists outside Flint and can easily be done here.

10. The state has now adopted a mandatory special education concept, giving equal educational rights to physically and mentally handicapped young people. Special education centers should be established to serve various metropolitan areas with the best of professional assistance efficiently centralized in regional centers.

Keep Doors Open

11. Aside from Super Magnet exchanges of high school students seeking a specialty school, all districts should be encouraged to voluntarily open their doors to any student in any grade who would increase the racial mix at the receiving school. Again the state could encourage such receipt by making it economically advantageous.

As a part of such open policy we should particularly encourage receipt by that district which includes the premises on which a parent of the student is employed. This could ease transportation and the employment provides a logical tie of the family to the district receiving the student. The student would also be close by in case of illness or emergency.

12. High schools, and perhaps junior highs, would agree with another district to exchange students voluntarily one day per week for study of social studies, history and related subjects for which there is particular educational reason for such education to take place in a realistic, integrated social setting, thereby aiding both black and white by such setting and by the variety of input which would flow from the mix in student background and life experience. Grades could be alternated so each student would be in the exchange two years out of the grades 9-12.

Voluntary Exchange

13. Lower grades should be encouraged to adopt exchange programs of more limited nature, for example a day a month or a week a semester. Such exchange again would be voluntary and on parental approval. It would at least provide a stimulating integrated experience for young students and serve as a valuable early reminder that there is someone out there in the world who is nice and smarter than they and can run faster and looks different. Not a bad lesson for any age.

14. Finally, all area schools should be encouraged to pair up with a school in another district (grade school with grade school, junior with junior and senior with senior) with the pair adopting whatever programs they may choose. For example, paired high schools might install a tutoring exchange program, adopt a common community project, open enrollment totally between the two schools or combine basketball teams and challenge another pair of schools. The possibilities are unlimited for physical exchange of students, cooperative programs, social events, you name it.

To aid this pairing, especially, by suggesting programs and encouraging innovation; but also very importantly to assist, encourage and give some cohesiveness to all metropolitan programs there would be created an advisory council consisting of school board representatives from all participating schools. As a thought, I would call the group the METCO Council, for Metropolitan Cooperation Council.

Don't take things for granted—the other fellow doesn't. The right of way gives no one the right to be careless.

Bulb Blamed In Park Fire

The Park Fire Department received a call from Paul Gach of Three Mile drive, Tuesday, January 18, who reported a blaze in a bedroom of his home. The report was at 3:38 a.m.

No one was hurt in the fire which was probably caused by the heat from a floodlight bulb igniting some bedclothing, according to Fire Chief Henry De Clerck. The blaze was partially extinguished upon the department's arrival, with the firemen putting out the rest.

Building damage was estimated at around $3,000, while personal contents was around $1,000.

One Headlight Traps Quintet

Farms Patrolmen Timothy Morrison and Johannes Winter were on patrol early Wednesday morning, January 26, when they noticed a '65 Dodge with only one headlight working. What began as a routine stop, ended with the arrest of four youths for possession of marijuana or poss-session of narcotic paraphernalia. The Farms policemen spotted the vehicle as it was driving south on Moross, and stopped the car with five youths inside in front of 321 Moross.

As patrolman Morrison was speaking with the driver, Patrolman Winter looked through the right window and saw a half-empty bottle of wine in plain view on the floor of the rear seat. He also detected a strong odor of marijuana.

After being asked their ages, three of the five youths admitted to being under 18 years old, the legal age for possessing alcoholic beverages.

The police asked the five youths to get out of the car, and as one of the youths, Kenneth A. Gendreau, 17, 14200 Faircrest, Detroit, was leaving, he placed a plastic packet between the upper and lower seat.

The police retrieved the packet of suspected marijuana, and placed all five suspects under arrest and informed them of their rights.

At the Farms station, the police found two more packets of suspected marijuana in two of the girls' purses. The girls, Sandra J. Bossenberger, 18, 14638 Seymour, Detroit, and Shelly C. Croydon, 18, 14501 Cedar-grove, Detroit, were charged with possession of marijuana, as was the Gendreau youth who had previously attempted to hide the packet in the car.

The driver of the car, Gregory M. Bary, 17, 18942 Moross, Detroit, was charged with possession of narcotic paraphernalia after the police found a marijuana-type pipe in the glove compartment.

The four suspects were released on bond, pending their court date of Wednesday, February 23. The fifth youth, a 17 year old male, was released due to lack of incriminating evidence.

Royal Gambit Set for North

An exciting and fast-paced drama, "Royal Gambit," by German playwright Herman Gressieker will be the February production of Theatre North of the Grosse Pointe North High School Drama Department, under the direction of Gael Barr.

The performance will take place Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, February 23, 24, and 25 evening at 8:00 o'clock. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students if purchased in advance.

"Royal Gambit" stars Steve Strika as Henry VIII, Barbara Zech, Claudia Kaye, Claudia Schultz, Camille Janicki, Chris Matsos and Dawn Roberts as his six wives.

The production will feature an unusual platform setting designed and executed by students. Beautiful renaissance costumes and an unusual story with contemporary significance are other highlights of the production.

Buell Accepts Hospital Post

J. Lawrence Buell, Jr., of Vendome road, chairman of the Formsprag Co., Warren, was unanimously elected president of the Detroit-Macomb Hospitals Association's Board of Trustees at their January 27 meeting. Mr. Buell succeeds Mervyn G. Gaskin, president of the Board for the past 18 years.

The Board, which governs Detroit Memorial Hospital, 1420 St. Antoine Street, Detroit, and South Macomb Hospital, 11800 Twelve Mile road, Warren, also elected Elmer Bailey, vice-president; Emllyn Lloyd, treasurer and Melvin W. Scheets, secretary.

Mr. Buell is also director of the City National Bank, Detroit; Omni Spectra, Inc.; Digital Techniques Corp. and GSE, Inc. He is president of the Executive Board of the Employers Association of Detroit, chairman of the Board and president of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, director of Detroit Renaissance, past chairman of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, director of the Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Macomb Chapter-Michigan Society for Mental Health. He had served as vice president of the Detroit-Macomb Hospitals Association's Board since 1961.

Park Awards Trimming Bid

The Park Council, in the regular meeting Monday, January 24, unanimously passed a resolution awarding the city's annual tree trimming bid to Shock Brothers Tree Service Company, 15120 Charlevoix avenue. The vote was 6-0 with councilman Douglas G. Graham absent.

With the use of the bidder's dump for disposal, the cost is $4,170. The tree trimming is scheduled to begin shortly and it will take around two months to complete. No trimming can be done, however, if the weather is poor and the trees are laden with snow.

Approximately 160 trees will be trimmed, while six trees are set for removal, including stump grinding, said City Manager Robert A. Slone.

The trees are spread throughout the Park but concentrated trimming areas include Avondale avenue, Essex drive, Windmill Pointe Park, Three Mile Drive Park, Maumee avenue, Maryland avenue and Wayburn avenue, added Mr. Slone.

Classroom

(Continued from Page 1) marketing aspects of running a retail business by determining suitable discount prices on certain items. (High on the discount priority lists were peanut butter, soft drinks and candies). The student managers and their customers calculated appropriate reductions during their mathematics periods.

During art, language and reading sessions they created signs and advertisements for the supermarket. Through oral reports during sharing time, they discussed the reasoning behind their budgeting methods with other students. All oral reports indicated that the youngsters walked away from this experience with a healthy respect for moms' and dads' budgeting prowess.

According to Mrs. LaJoy, the biggest problem the youngsters faced in the supermarket was just how to keep within the budget of the President's fixed Wage-Price Freeze. (Here they got a healthy taste of current events as well).

Although the underlying concepts of the Open Classroom are not new concepts in elementary education, the methods of implementation are indeed new.

For the Open Classroom puts into operation the concepts that school learning should be patterned after the way children thrive and grow and that the quality of school life, or the learning process, is as important as the growth of knowledge.

Center Elects New Officers

At the January meeting of the Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center for Racial Justice new officers were elected. They include: president, Mrs. Horace D'Angelo, Jr., of Vernier road; vice-president, Mrs. Tom Hayden, of Severn road; secretary, Stanley Beattie, of University place and treasurer, Edward Hanpeter, of Berkshire road.

The Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center for Racial Justice is an organization of church members and church groups which seeks to create an atmosphere of understanding and concern for minority groups among Pointe citizens.

It seeks, through education, discussion and positive commitment to attain this atmosphere without crisis, and perhaps eliminate the possibility of a racial confrontation in the community before one occurs.

The Center is open Wednesday evenings from 7-9 for discussion and programs of interest to the Grosse Pointe community. Information on the on-going task forces you may wish to join will be available at that time.

Additional information on this group may be obtained by calling the Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center for Racial Justice at 881-9019.

PINTO BURNED

Roy Green, 947 Berkshire, contacted the Park Fire Department Wednesday, January 26, to report a fire in his 1971 Pinto. An electric light placed under the hood to keep the engine warm apparently ignited the combustible engine parts, according to Chief Henry De Clerck. These parts were burned along with the left front tire and dashboard area.

Plates Trap Detroit Man

Farms police on routine patrol Wednesday morning, January 26, noticed a '61 Ford with wired-on plates driving north on Meadow lane.

They stopped the car and the driver Edward Wade, 2935 Montclair, Detroit, could not produce a license or registration. A licensing suspicious, the Farms police checked the LEIN files for wanted persons, and discovered that the man was wanted by Detroit police for assault and battery. His license had expired December 6, 1970.

The Farms police turned the suspect over to the Detroit police department, Fifth precinct.

LONG GUNS STOLEN

The home of Joseph Spencer, 1170 Nottingham, was broken into Tuesday, January 25, according to the Park Police Department. Approximately four long guns and some miscellaneous clothing was stolen. The value of the missing items is around $722. There were no signs of forced entry.

Construction Area Has Rats

Rats, mingling with debris in a new construction area, have a Woods resident very concerned.

Officer William Lentz received a report Wednesday, January 26, from Mrs. Eugenia Morrison, 903 Hampton, who said the new home being built by Stieber Builders, Inc., 22125 Gratiot, has a lot of debris around it. The home is being built at 886 Hollywood avenue.

Mrs. Morrison's home is behind this new construction and she has previously complained about the debris. She reports that many rats are in evidence around the area.

The police contacted Harold Stieber and told him of the rat and debris complaints. It was requested, in the name of the building department, that this situation be taken care of as soon as possible. Mr. Stieber promised to do this.

Hill District Parking

Ferber had conducted a survey in January of the parking situation in the municipal lot behind the "On-the-Hill" area. The four-page analysis had been included in the councilmen's briefing materials for the Monday night meeting.

Complaints Supported
Most of the statistics in the police department's study supported the complaints of the Hill employees, in that the report concluded "A strict statistical interpretation of the survey would also indicate that a shortage of 10-hour parking does exist, in that, at no time during the survey did a shortage of 2-hour parking exist."

The report showed how it was almost impossible to find a parking space in the 10-hour meter area during the day, in that by 9:30 a.m. there is an average of only 10 all day parking spaces available (out of a possible 80), and by 3 p.m. there is an average of only three meters available.

Mr. Morse, countering this claim, pointed out that the survey was conducted in January, which is a quiet time for Hill shopping, in contrast to the busier month of December. "When we are busy, there is a (2-hour meter) parking problem," Mr. Morse emphasized.

The report also gave substantiation to many of the complaints the employees have on the usage of the "Free Lot," a parking lot located behind the municipal parking lot and having access to Ridge road.

One of the main protests is that Frank Adams Lincoln Mercury dealership often parks up to 12 unsold cars in the Free Lot, limiting the spaces for Hill employees. Farms Police Chief Ferber, asked by Mayor Butler if this was allowed, said that the cars were legally licensed so that no action could be taken.

Bus Riders Use It
Another bone of contention for Hill employees is that some persons park their cars in the Free Lot and then take the bus downtown to work.

The Farms police survey supports the claim that it is almost impossible to find a place in the Free Lot, in that an average of six parking spaces are available to Hill employees in the late morning and afternoon hours.

Chief Ferber had two recommendations for council and Hill merchants which could be considered as an alternative to increasing the number of 10-hour meters.

First, that the Farms could reopen the lease of the Free Lot with the Grosse Pointe School System to enable the city's installation of 10-hour meters in the no-longer Free Lot.

Would Discourage Some
The police chief pointed out that this measure would discourage the use of this area by persons taking the bus downtown and the merchants who use this area for unsold cars or commercial vehicles.

The second alternative was to increase the time rate charge for 10 hour parking meters in the municipal lot to equal the time rate charge of the 2-hour meters, so that the 10-hour meters would no longer be in demand for shoppers. At present, the 10-hour meters are the bargain of the parking lot, since they charge 1c for 12 minutes, while the 2-hour meters charge 1c for six minutes.

Mr. Morse was willing to agree to the metering of the Free Lot, and the addition of 10-hour meters. However, Farms Mayor Butler asked Mr. Morse to make a further study of the parking problem, by canvassing the area, and to report back to the council when he has more information.

Petition Denied
For the present, the petition signed by 53 persons, for an additional 10-hour parking lane at the rear of the municipal lot, stands denied by the Farms police department and the Farms council. So those of us who are employees on the Hill, will continue to paper our walls with parking tickets from the 2-hour meters, rather than brave February's arctic storms to feed our meters every two hours.

SHS Student Hit by Chair

A South High School student was injured in a cafeteria ruckus on Friday, January 21, when a classmate threw a chair and unintentionally hit him.
Alvin Gikkas, 1428 York-shire, was rushed to Bon Secours Hospital at 12:15 p.m. by the Farms Fire Department ambulance. There he was treated for a two-inch laceration in his head. When interviewed by the police, he was unable to identify who had thrown the chair.
Assistant Principal John Thurstby interviewed several students who had been present during the incident, and they identified Pingree McKay, 17, 1357 Beaconsfield, as the culprit. McKay later admitted throwing the chair, but said that he had not meant to hit anyone.
The incident was dismissed as disorderly conduct.

Mr. Brooks is a television spokesman, actor and for many years has conducted training classes for department stores and industry. He has also served on the staff of Hillsdale College. Mr.

Windows Shot With BB Gun

A resident contacted the Woods Police Department Tuesday, January 25, and reported that three of his windows were shot with a BB gun.

Officer Albert Abend received the report from Frank Fisher, 580 Lochmoor, about the damaged windows, whose total value is approximately $440. Two of the windows were valued at around $200 apiece, while a third window was valued at around $40.

Police are uncertain if a passing car did the damage or someone on foot. No projectiles were located at the scene.

Brooks is president of Arthur K. Brooks and Associates of Detroit, Brussels and Geneva.

He is currently a consultant in sales and management development, lecturing and conducting workshops and seminars for business, industry and service organizations. Among many other activities, Mr. Brooks is, for the sixth year, lecturing for the National Management Association. He was formerly the program director for the management consulting firm of Adams, Lafferty-Madden & Moody, and Program Consultant to the Dow Leadership Conference Center.

His class will meet on Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., starting on February 28, for an eight-week period.

For further information and class reservation, call the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271. This class is limited in enrollment.

SIGNS INSTALLED

Three parking signs were installed in the Woods in Kenmore drive Friday, January 21, from the alley to 1821 Kenmore. The signs read, "Two hour parking 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. except Sundays."

The American dream.

The average American wants a car that is well made. That's very economical to drive and service. That will start and go almost anywhere in any weather. A car with the best warranty he can find.

And high trade-in value. And a low price. The average American wants a lot. But he is definitely not dreaming.

St. John Hospital Clinic Slated to Help Smokers

St. John Hospital Guild has slated another Smoking Withdrawal Clinic because of the popularity of the first session held last month. Over 600 persons attended and an equal number had to be turned away due to space limitations.

The February clinic will be held in the chapel of St. John Hospital for five successive evenings beginning at 7:30 o'clock, Monday, February 21.

During the one-and-a-half hour sessions, participants will be instructed in the most effective methods of smoking withdrawal, will witness the negative effects of smoking as related to cancer, heart disease, and respiratory problems, and the positive aspects of non smoking.

John Burrows, M.D., director of Oncology at Saint John Hospital, will serve as general chairman of the clinic and will aid clinic participants with their individual smoking withdrawal problems.

Highlighting the program will be Arthur W. Weaver, M.D., noted crusader who has helped thousands quit smoking through these clinics, and radio and television presentations. Dr. Weaver, who is chief of Head and Neck Surgery at Veterans Hospital, will present the methods he has found to be most effective in smoking withdrawal.

Also appearing on the program will be Alfred Lui, M.D., assistant chief of Surgery at Wayne County General Hospital, together with other specialists in the psychological and physiological aspects of smoking.

The smoking clinics are part of a new community health information program sponsored by the Saint John Hospital Guild as a public service. To obtain free tickets and further information, all the Saint John Hospital Guild at 881-8200, ext. 474.

Blames Crash On Hit-Runner

A hit-and-run accident was reported to Farms police on Tuesday, January 25, by the vehicle's owner, Jeffrey A. Christian, 269 Kerby.

Mr. Christian, in his report to Farms police, said that his '71 Chevrolet Camero had been parked in front of 270 Kerby on the east side of the road, and that someone driving north had struck the left rear corner of the car and had immediately left the scene.

Evidence at the scene of the accident showed that the vehicle was a medium green metallic color and that the unidentified driver had applied the brakes and had swerved to the left in an attempt to avoid striking the parked vehicle.

The incident occurred at 8:15 p.m.

Man of Year

JOHN R. KENDALL, JR., the Youth Service Division's liaison officer to South High School, was presented with the Pointe Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award at the recent annual banquet.

Mr. Kendall was selected because of his outstanding service to the community and its youth. He is currently concluding studies in police administration at Wayne State University, and recently served on a panel at a national conference in New York.

He and his colleagues work daily among Pointe students in an unobtrusive manner, giving support where it is needed and waiting quietly in the background, ready to ward off any unwanted situations which may have detrimental effects on the students.

Mr. Kendall is married to the former Sharon Wise and has a one-month-old daughter, Kimberly Anne.

The recipient of the Distinguished Service Award must be between the ages of 21 and 36. He is selected each year from a senior selection committee, whose chairman this year was Farms' Mayor William G. Butler.

Barnes PTA Keeps Busy

A busy weekend is in store for the Barnes School P.T.A. The Grosse Pointe Paper Drive will be held at Barnes School Saturday, February 5, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. John Cobau is in charge. Fathers assisting Mr. Cobau are Richard White, John Marschner, Joseph Clemente, Al Bongiorno, George Bashara, Jr., William Heck and William Lefbom. Also lending a hand will be Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from troops at Barnes.

Barnes children and parents will enjoy an afternoon of fun at the Barnes School Annual Family Ice Skating Party slated for Sunday, February 6, from 2-5 p.m. at the Woods Lakefront Park. Coffee, hot chocolate, and doughnuts will be served. Chairman of the party is Mrs. Gene Fry. Co-chairman is Mrs. Gene Tennent.

Cottage Elects New Officers

John N. McNaughton, a vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit, was elected president of the Board of Trustees of Cottage Hospital at its recent annual meeting. He succeeds Robert A. Waters, who served as board president for five years.

"For Cottage Hospital, 1971 was the year of realization when the new wing was opened in November," Waters said.

"Gifts and pledges to the hospital's development fund now total $2,287,477 and more are expected," he announced.

The largest gift received in 1971, he said, was $105,000 from the Detroit and Wayne County Tuberculosis Foundation for the purchase of two X-ray machines.

Noting that the theme of the 1971 Annual Report is "Through New Doors," Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde traced the growth of facilities and improvements of the hospital since it opened in 1919.

"The sick have always found it reassuring to enter Cottage Hospital doors," Wilgarde said. "With the many modern improvements and facilities, they will continue to find reassurance here."

"The new doors open to Cottage Hospital friendliness which has characterized it through the years," he went on, "as well as to the highest quality hospital care available anywhere."

Officers elected to serve with Mr. McNaughton include Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips, first vice-president; Howard F. Smith, Jr., second vice president; Earl I. Heenan, Jr., treasurer; Cleveland Thurber, Jr., assistant treasurer; Mrs. Clarence E. Bessert, recording secretary; Mrs. Miles O'Brien, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards, Jr., corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Roy M. Tolleson, Jr., assistant corresponding secretary.

Re-elected to three-year terms on the Board of Trustees were William E. Buhle, Jr., Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl, Jr., W. Merritt Jones, Earl I. Heenan, Jr., Robert H. Kanzler, John N. McNaughton, Mrs. Lynn McNaughton, Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips, and B. Courtney Rankin.

MEETING CHANGED

Here's an amazing fact about the 10th President of the U.S., John Tyler.

He and his daughter spanned almost the entire life of this nation. Tyler was born in 1790 when George Washington was President and his youngest daughter, Pearl, did not die until 1917 when Harry Truman was President!

During his lifetime, Tyler held an unusual number of high jobs. Beside being President of the United States, he was in the U.S. House of Representatives, a U.S. Senator, and chancellor of William & Mary College and governor of Virginia.

Retired
 HILDEGARDE RIETHMEIER, R.N., has retired as afternoon supervisor at Cottage Hospital after serving on the hospital's nursing staff for the past 21 years.

A graduate of St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw, her native city, she took post graduate studies at Wayne State University, work in surgery at Mount Sinai Hospital in Cleveland, and seminars in operating room techniques at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston.

Before joining the staff at Cottage in December, 1951, Miss Riethmeier had been head nurse at Saginaw General and at Lutheran Hospital, Saginaw, operating room supervisor at Highland Park General Hospital, Highland Park, and on the staffs of Grace Hospital and Florence Crittenton General Hospital, Detroit.

Last week's NEWS erroneously published a picture of Mrs. Charles Mitasik, mother of three, who recently received her Master of Arts degree from Wayne State University, with Miss Riethmeier's retirement story.

Items Stolen In Parking Lot

Barbara Lindsley, of 405 Moran, called Farms police on Monday, January 3, to report that someone had stolen $245 worth of clothes from her car parked for 15 minutes in the parking lot behind 18870 Mack.

She recalled parking her car in the second row from the west wall, about 10 cars from the alley, and locking the car. A three-piece wool knit suit, a red midi coat, and a pair of children's ski pants, all encased in a plastic cleaning bag, were taken from the locked car. The car was locked on her return, and there were no signs of forced entry.

Lochmoor Has Tennis Party

Lochmoor Club held its first tennis party of the year at Lakeshore Tennis House on Saturday, January 29. The purpose of the evening, aside from fun, was to introduce the members to their new tennis pro, Fred Trappnell.

The mixed doubles tournament was conducted under the direction of Dr. Joseph Mikula and his committee, Mr. and Mrs. William Rouen, Mrs. F. Larry Kohle, Dr. Alex Domin, William James Gaspar, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Hendrie, Mrs. Timothy Brooks, Mrs. Joseph Mikula and Thomas Scott.

Play began for the enthusiastic group at 7 p.m., each player teaming up for five games with a new partner for each match. The accumulated individual points for each game determined the male and female winners and runners-up.

The lobby of the tennis house was transformed into a delightful party room where some played cards and munched Coney Islands and others kept an eye on the competition on the courts.

The eventual winners were: women's runners-up, a tie between Mrs. Donald Miller and Marilyn Stockwell; women's champion, Mrs. Joseph Fraunheim. Men's high scorer was Dr. Robert Everett and runner-up was William Tripp.

DAR Offering Schools Gift

Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, announced that he had received confirmation of the offer by Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Grosse Pointe Farms, to present to the individual Grosse Pointe Schools framed pictures of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The presentations will be made during the period 1972 to 1976 as the Cass Chapter's contribution to America's Bicentennial.

Dr. Anderson said that such details as selection of schools and a suitable time for the project for 1972 have yet to be worked out.

Memorial Center Teacher Has Photo Show at Bank

By Roger A. Waha

An idea which started six months ago has bloomed into a one-man exhibit, "Architecture and the Related Arts," for Detroit photographer Joseph P. Messana.

This specialized, high budgeted show features 76 photographic color prints of modern art and architecture created by noted artists and architects.

Sixty-two of the prints are displayed at the new Manufacturers Bank building, 411 West Lafayette, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and until 7:30 p.m. on Fridays. The other prints are featured in the Bank's two other downtown branches. Mr. Messana's show began Monday, January 17, and continues until Friday, February 4.

Ten years of travel across the United States, plus the shooting of around 3,000 pictures, is brought to a climax in the final selection of exhibited prints.

Mr. Messana photographed all the prints without pay as a free lancer. "I did it for the love of photography in an artistic way," he said. He brought his work to Manufacturer's public relations people who were excited about it. And they immediately gave his show a quick "ok."

Louis G. Redstone, who designed the new bank, was no stranger to Mr. Messana, whose work is seen in Mr. Redstone's book, "Art in Architecture." Mr. Redstone's belief is in working art with architecture, said Mr. Messana. "His theme carries through my show which is a natural for the bank," he added.

Mr. Messana, who has a huge collection of church photographs, has had a number of one-man shows featuring his church work. But "Architecture and the Related Arts" is his first show with a mixture of architecture and churches. He feels it's the most "exciting thing" he has done and is very pleased with the presentation. All the prints are hung like paintings in an art gallery and are numbered in the program.

Every piece of work in the show bears a "personal" touch. Mr. Messana had a close contact with the architect, or the owner of the house, before the building was photographed. Thus a personal rapport was constantly present during the shooting. All of the structures were lensed with a 35-mm. two and one-quarter square camera.

The presentation features exciting forms in architecture. Many types of buildings are presented including famous hotels, museums, college buildings, private residences, religious structures, restaurants, planetariums, monuments, and airports.

A Grosse Pointe home, the W. Hawkins Ferry House, is featured in the exhibit. Mr. Messana photographed a staircase detail of the home which was designed by Meathe, Kessler and Associates.

His latest pictures were taken of the Regency Hyatt House Hotel of architect John Portman in Atlanta, Ga., during November 1971. It's the only design of its kind in the world and shows an open court 23 stories high with hanging plants, tropical birds, and fountains. Mr. Portman is being considered to develop Detroit's waterfront.

In his work, Mr. Messana plus emphasis upon the structure rather than the human element. "I try to keep the human element out unless for purposes of scale," he said. "I try to bring the mood out of a building." He will watch a particular structure for days before shooting a picture, observing how the sun hits it, for example. "The kind of slurs me up and excites me," he said. Then Mr. Messana will shoot many pictures from various angles before selecting the ones he considers best.

"Everyone has a different way of looking at pictures. People can walk every day and not see beauty," he said. The important point is how to see and studying to see. "The eye must be trained to see beauty."

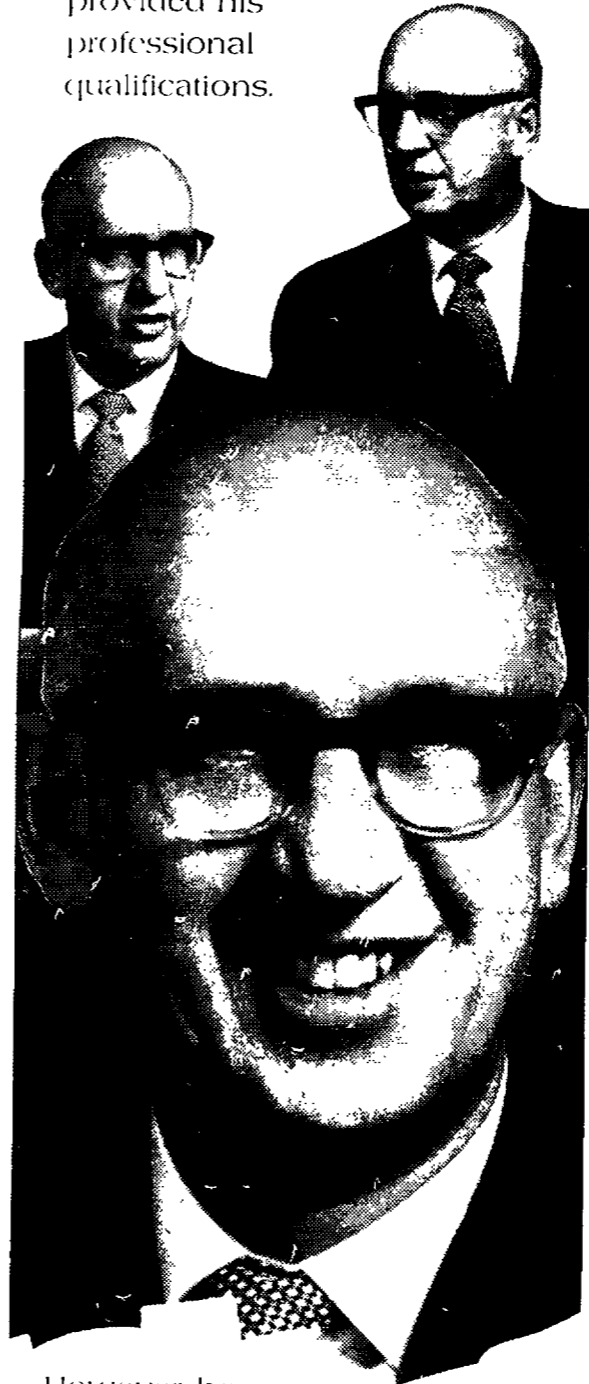

Mr. Messana shares his expertise with interested "camera bugs" in courses at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Last fall he taught "Around the World with Your Camera," and beginning Wednesday, January 26, he starts "Creativity with Your Camera."

While in high school, Mr. Messana wanted to become a fashion designer and had a flair for designing women's clothes. His interest in photography gradually came to the fore with his Argus C-3 camera. Ultimately, his flair for fashion was worked into his photography. "I had a feeling that needed developing," he said. So Mr. Messana took various art classes at night. "I developed a feeling for seeing artistic pictures through the classes. This was all funneled into a style of photography," he added.

Mr. Messana's shows and photographic credits are extremely varied. He had had one-man shows at the Flint, Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids museums, the J. L. Hudson Galleries, the Cleveland Art Institute, and the Joseph Horne Department Store Galleries in Pittsburgh, Pa. The "Artrain" sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts, which recently visited Detroit on a slide tour, featured 90 color slides by Mr. Messana.

Mr. Messana and his brother James, a sculptor, have a studio in their home at 5574 Lakewood avenue, Detroit.

Thomas L. Harris has been a funeral director since 1947. But the Harris tradition of fine service at moderate cost started in 1910 under his father and grandfather. Tom's education at Wheaton College and Wayne University provided his professional qualifications.

However, he considers his intensive apprenticeship in the family-operated business more important. "Our professional responsibility," Tom Harris says, "is knowing what must be done and doing it with finesse.

We try to carry out our duties with real concern for the family's needs."

Five Harris locations serve Metropolitan Detroit.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Three books, (and possibly more), appeared several years ago dealing with teaching problems in ghetto schools. Since I was asked to review these particular ones recently, I felt you might be interested in them also.

The first, which appeared in 1966 and is now also in paperback, is DEATH AT AN EARLY AGE by Jonathan Kozol. The author, a Rhodes scholar and a graduate of Harvard, related his experiences as a fourth-grade teacher in a nearly all-Negro classroom in Boston. This is a disturbing book—disturbing because it could be written about the conditions in the inner-city schools of almost any big city of the United States.

At the end of his first year he was fired. Why? Although his discipline was not always excellent, his methods of teaching not always the same as his colleagues, the act that caused his dismissal was the reading of one of Langston Hughes' poems: "Ballad of the Landlord." It had never been approved as a part of the curriculum, but it sparked an interest in the children and, without being asked, they memorized it.

The description of this school, as given by the author, takes one back to Dickens. It was dank, dirty and falling apart. The children had their hands whipped for the slightest infraction; a large window fell in, almost killing a child. (The window had been on the verge of falling in for a long time.) The same thing happened to a huge blackboard; it was temporarily repaired but finally abandoned. Mr. Kozol's classes were held in an auditorium which was shared with other classes, sewing groups, and band practices. His students could barely hear him, it was so very noisy.

The books for school use were inadequate, many of them antiquated, worn out, and when the classes used some of them they had to double up, sometimes 5-6 being forced to use the same copy. How could anyone learn under these conditions? After Mr. Kozol's dismissal, he spent the next year running a tutorial center in Roxbury since he was not allowed to work in Boston as a teacher. Then, finally he accepted a good position in the public schools of Newton where he worked with some fine teachers and a distinguished principal.

The last copyright date for the hardcover copy of THE WAY IT SPOZED TO BE by James Herndon was 1968, and I suspect that this is also in paperback by now. Here is another record of one year in a metropolitan ghetto school, (this time in California), which was 98 percent Negro, 99 percent "deprived," and 100 percent chaotic. While Mr. Herndon did write this book, it is almost written by the kids themselves as reporters. It is a sad book. It is a funny book. It is a tragic book.

Mr. Herndon taught English and social studies in classes of different abilities in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades, and was caught between the demands of a regimented, order-centered administration and the restless, unrestrained sensation-seeking kids who "couldn't take it." And chaos resulted.

Perhaps Mr. Herndon was too permissive but he tried to establish rapport — to teach them some things that they could understand but which were not in the curriculum. Above all, he tried to learn something about them and the the mto communicate. At the end of the year he was dismissed because of his lack of discipline, his lack of insistence on good study habits, etc. None of the things he accomplished on the plus side was taken into consideration.

The following year he worked in the post-office and later found a teaching position in a suburb filled mostly with Catholics and Jews. Here is his final paragraph: "What to do? You can read suggestions for change in a lot of recent books by serious and intelligent men, I suppose I could add mine. But frankly, I have almost no hope that there will be any significant change in the way we educate our children—for that, after all, would involve liberty, the last thing we may soon expect—and so I have thought merely to describe one time for you, parents, kids, readers, the way it is."

My space is running out, so hastily, I will tell you about the third book: 36 CHILDREN by Herbert Kohl, which is an account of the author's experiences with a 6th grade class in a Harlem school. A good 50 percent of it is composed of stories, poems, essays, short novels, and drawings done by the youngsters themselves. There is also a "follow-up" on how some of the children turned out in later years.

This is a simple and direct narrative, giving an honest and illuminating description of how a teacher works, showing how the good teacher must change, expand, grow as he and his children learn to respond with reciprocity so that each may understand the other. Mr. Kohl, like Mr. Herndon, did many verboten things, such as giving the children 10 minute periods when they could chat quietly among themselves. They were encouraged to write—anything; to draw, to develop any hidden talents they might have that would not fall within the curriculum. And Mr. Kohl printed many of the writings and drawings they produced.

Later, while he was abroad for a while, he kept up correspondence with some of his favorite and most interesting students. But he did feel concerned and a bit cynical about one girl with a high I.Q. who eventually entered Mount Holyoke College. His feeling was that by now she could belong no place — neither with her old Harlem friends nor her newly found ones, (mostly white, rich and much more sophisticated than she).

These books present many sobering thoughts. Their impact left me feeling: what can the solution be, and when, oh when, will it ever be worked out?

What's New on THE HILL

By Pat Rousseau

Traveling Alphabetically . . . on the Hill we were delighted to stop at The Bronze Door, 123 Kercheval. And who isn't? The Bronze Door is a famous and favorite restaurant. The interiors are elegant. The Bronze door in the foyer is from the Anderson mansion . . . truly a museum piece, circa 1480. The service and cuisine are superb . . . once again under the management of Bill Jatronson.

Visit . . . the new green room at Maurice Wood, 70 Kercheval, where so many charming decoratives are gathered boutique fashioning and displayed against an emerald green setting.

The Sign Of The Mermaid Gallery . . . invites you to meet Mimi d'N, internationally known fashion jewelry designer who will be personally showing her original creations, Thursday, February 10 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at 88 Kercheval. Her new collection will take you cruising and into summer with fashion flair.

Thoughtful, Useful Valentine . . . tuck a beautiful handkerchief in an expressive Valentine card. Find them at Virginia Williams, 79 Kercheval. Handkerchiefs come in hand-blocked Swiss prints and white embroidered lins. For a bon voyage there's a handkerchief applied with a suitcase, umbrella and package.

In The Nautical Fashion . . . red, white and blue with insignia is arriving daily in cruisewear for boys and girls. At Young Clothes, 110 Kercheval, there are also fresh bright slacks sets. A four-piece luscious peppermint pink set has a blazer, pants, skirt and top to change-about.

Follow The Sun . . . first stop . . . Picard-Norton, 92 Kercheval. See a great selection of double knit polyester slacks. There is also a handsome collection of sport coats.

Window Shopping . . . we were reminded by the display that Dunhill pipes and accessories are at the League Shop, 98 Kercheval.

Valen-timely Specials . . . at Trail Apothecary, 121 Kercheval are Mist of Arpege or Mist of My Sin for three dollars. Rochas and Dior also have specially priced packages. Nettie Rosenstein offers her fragrance collection of four scents including Odalisque.

Very In . . . the I Love Stroh's watch with the smiling face. It's very specially priced eight ninety-five with an ice cream purchase at Stroh's Ice Cream Parlor, 74 Kercheval.

Tony Morse . . . is back from New York with a pre-view spring collection of colorful decoratives to brighten your glassed-in family room and porch.

Seems Like Old Times . . . the Bronze Door is open and under the capable management of Bill Jatronson. Joe Wagstaff is back entertaining at the piano bar Tuesday through Saturday evenings . . . 123 Kercheval . . . 886-1932.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Public Schools

All the school districts in the state of Michigan are virtually at a standstill to do meaningful planning for the coming year, and Grosse Pointe is no exception. All plans for 1972-73 and beyond must await far-reaching decisions in four areas over which we have virtually no control: (1) school desegregation; (2) outcome of the property tax suit; (3) state financial aid; and (4) final version of proposed amendments to the Michigan Constitution concerning education.

School Desegregation
 Although Attorney General Frank J. Kelley stated recently that "there never will be massive cross-district busing in Michigan," (although he has conceded there might be "one way busing out of Detroit"), current rumors and details of proposals "leaked" to the papers recently seem to contradict his statements.

Those of you who heard the January 27 local address by Miss Marilyn Jean Kelly, trustee of the State Board of Education, have a better idea of the scope and function of the eight trustees at the state level, as well as some unofficial remarks concerning the issue of the day, cross-district busing.

"Integrated education is real and imminent in the foreseeable future," she said. "If you think it won't happen, you're only fooling yourselves," she added.

She said that the State Board of Education did not ask to become involved in the issue, but has been ordered by Judge Roth to devise a Metropolitan Plan. Miss Kelly stated that nobody knows what Judge Roth will do with the various plans submitted to him by the State Board and by others involved in the issue.

Miss Kelly remarked that if the entire Tri-County were to be integrated equally, 20 per cent of the student population of each of the present 85 public school districts would be black. She cited research which purports to show that when the racial mix of a district is 30 per cent or less, blacks have made undeniable gains in educational attainment and the white students have shown no decrease in achievement.

Property Tax Suit
 If you heard Governor Milliken in his Detroit "Town Hall" appearance on January 26, you will recall that he said he expects the State Supreme Court to rule in his favor in the suit filed jointly by him and Attorney General Kelley that it is discriminatory and unconstitutional to base public school financing on widely divergent local property taxes.

The coalition of forces most actively engaged in the attack on the local property tax includes liberal civil rights groups and conservative homeowners' associations. (Incidentally, there are reports that many in the latter group are beginning to have second thoughts — considering the inevitable consequence when financing leaves the local district.) Even so, the momentum already gained may well force not only a total restructuring of educational financing throughout the United States, but will also bring about a profound change in educational philosophy and program across the land.

State Aid

It is highly possible that in the not-too-distant future public education will be fully funded by the state. Recently the State Board of Education received a report regarding similarities and differences in the allocation of funds under three proposed plans for full state funding of K-12 education. One is the plan of the State Board of Education, the second is that of Governor Milliken, and the third was developed by a committee under auspices of the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

At the State Board's January 11-12 meeting, the trustees requested that representatives of the three plans convene to develop a plan incorporating the best features of each plan, and present one plan rather than three for consideration. The trustees of the State Board directed that at an appropriate time the Superintendent arrange a meeting of the Board, parties representing the three plans and appropriate legislators from both the House and Senate to discuss a single plan, and to consider calling a statewide meeting regarding the proposal.

Constitutional Amendments
 Governor Milliken's widely-publicized proposed amendment to the Michigan Constitution would, among other things, limit the local property tax as a source of educational revenue.

A recent critique of the plan by the Democratic Party cited six specific objections to the Governor's proposals. These are (1) his primary reliance for financing education on the flat-rate income tax; (2) lack of assurance that his specific tax and educational proposals will be adopted, even if the amendment is enacted; (3) no assurance that local control will be maintained; (4) apparent lack of concern for the fact that some children require more educational resources than others; (5) optional millage for local enrichment may mean no enrichment at all for many districts; and (6) lack of convincing evidence that the new taxes Governor Milliken proposes will be sufficient to cover the cost of his program.

Whether the final version of the Democratic Party's plan will change these points remains to be seen. In addition, the Democrats are said to be searching for a means of having the state assume the $30 to $40 million operating deficit of the Detroit schools and 68 financially distressed outstate districts. Constitutional language absolutely forbidding future deficits is said to be under consideration.

We understand that behind the scenes in Lansing the Democrats are attempting to effect a compromise, fearing that if the public is faced with two, all-encompassing changes in wording and philosophy, that both proposed amendments will lose.

Letters to the Editor

January 31, was assigned I collected THREE contributions. I had never done anything like this before but with my husband and baby walking with me for moral support, I set out Friday evening. It was extremely cold that night but I'm afraid some of the people were colder. I can't tell you how many rude individuals looked at me, then waved me away without so much as opening their door. There were countless others who told me they gave at the office. Since when does March of Dimes solicit there? I also had one person tell me he had never heard of the organization and therefore wouldn't donate. When I hear my friends from other areas tell of 100% participation I cringe. Thank God for those three great contributors. Two of them even invited me to come in and warm up. They contributed not only to March of Dimes but to my mental health.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

There's a pair of extra-special parties coming up soon, the first guaranteed to chase away the mid-February blues, the second a perfect cure for the mid-March "blahs," (face it: For those of us who stay in town this time of year, February-March is blues-blahs time).

First off, we'll tell you about the first one, the Scarab Club of Detroit's first Scarab Ball in 20 years.

In the past the Scarab Ball was renowned for its daring costumes and beautiful decor. This year it's to be revived in all its former splendor, with a Mari Gras atmosphere prevailing.

Scarab members and their guests will dine on traditional New Orleans French cuisine and dance to Basin Street music until . . . well, the festivities BEGIN at 9 o'clock—but who knows when Scarab Balls end?

The decorations committee is at work right now designing and painting murals for the Club's main gallery. After all, Saturday, February 19, isn't all THAT far away . . .

FASH/BASH II

Neither, when you come right down to it, is Monday, March 20 . . .

That's the date the Junior Council of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts has chosen for FASH/BASH II, the extravaganza that was such a success last year it HAD to be repeated.

This year's FASH/BASH will be held at the Pontchartrain Hotel, and will feature dancing, fashions modeled by celebrities, free carnival snacks and more fun than TWO barrels of monkeys.

It's a benefit for the museum's marvelous Youthatre, the professional stage program that's inspired 250,000 local youngsters.

General Gruenther Coming

A Very Distinguished Person, General Alfred M. Gruenther, Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, 1953-56, comes to town next week.

Honorary chairman of the English-Speaking Union of the United States, chairman from 1966 through 1968, he will be the Detroit Branch E-SU's guest, detailing "Some of Our Problems in An Uneasy World" at a dinner meeting Wednesday, February 9, at the Detroit Boat Club.

Miss Hugli Wed To Mr. Paulson

Jean E. Hugli and Mrs. John B. Sparks Serve as Their Sister's Honor Maid and Matron at Afternoon Rites in Christ Church

A reception at the Country Inn, Harwichport, Mass. followed the wedding of Suzanne Cordier Hugli and John Beverley Paulson, Saturday, January 22, in Christ Church, Harwichport.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Charles Hugli, Jr., of Three Mile drive and Brewster, Mass. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Clifford Paulson, of Washington, D.C. and Brewster.

The newlyweds are vacationing in St. Thomas, in the Virgin Islands and will make their home in Waltham, Mass.

For the 12:30 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Walter Hurley presided, the bride chose a gown of imported ivory satin, accented with Alencon lace trimmed in seed pearls and fashioned with a mandarin neck, Empire waist and long sleeves. Her lace trimmed skirt ended in a full Chapel train.

A tiny crown of matching lace held her short illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, pink sweetheart roses and ivy.

She was attended by her sisters, Jean E. Hugli, as maid of honor and Mrs. John B. Sparks, of Wilmington, Del., as matron of honor, and bridesmaids Faythe Condit, of Brewster; Sara E. Couzens, of Walton, Mass.; Martha W. Gordon, of Mount Vernon, N.J.; and Mrs. Howard R. Graham, of Tuxedo Park, N.Y.

Their deep pink silk frocks featured long sleeves and ruffles at the bodice and over the shoulder to the Empire waist, the ruffles formed an apron affect over their A-line skirts. The maid and matron of honor wore identical gowns in American Beauty red. They carried multi-colored pink carnations and ivy.

Thomas L. Paulson, of Lexington, Mass., brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and another brother, William Paulson, of Washington, D.C., was among the usher corps which included Thomas Hammatt, David Harwood, Howard R. Graham and Roy E. Jones, III.

Mrs. Hugli chose an American Beauty red short silk dress with a jewel neckline and pleated ruffles at the hemline for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a short dress of pale gray satin trimmed with tiny jeweled buttons.

BOB TRUBA, son of DR. and MRS. PAUL K. TRUBA, of Cloverly road, a member of the Ferris State College's new ski club, finished fourth in the slalom event in the recent Timberlee Classic.

Sigma Kappa Alumnae Plan a Rummage Sale

All Sigma Kappa Alumnae from Grosse Pointe, Detroit and Macomb County are urged to attend the regular monthly meeting Wednesday, February 9, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albert Dentz in Hollywood avenue.

Co-hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Theo. Binkowski and Mrs. Richard Thompson.

Attendance at this meeting is important because it is the last meeting before the annual Sigma Kappa Rummage Sale, to be held this year March 25.

Proceeds help support the American Farm School at Thessaloniki, Greece, where the Michigan Sigma Kappa Chapters are sponsoring a girl this year, the Marine Sea Coast Mission at Bar Harbor, Me., and the Senior Center in East Grand Boulevard where Sigma Kappa sponsors camperships for many senior citizens and provides favors for the annual Christmas party.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Donald Littlefield, 527-3138, or Mrs. Melvin Pavelek, 751-3657.

Set St. James Guild Session

"Bring and Brag" will be the program theme for a meeting of the Women's Guild of St. James Lutheran Church next Wednesday morning, February 9, at 9:30 o'clock. Members are asked to bring collector's items and unusual or nostalgic objects.

Mrs. Carl Carlson is in charge of the program. Mrs. William Sonik and Mrs. Roland Blank head the food committee.

St. Joseph's Home Sets Luncheon, Card Party

Slate Scandinavian Symphony Program Saturday, February 12

The Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra will present its second concert of the season Saturday, February 12, at 8:20 o'clock at Henry Ford High School Auditorium.

Pianist David Albee is the featured soloist. Mr. Albee has performed with the Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra on two previous occasions.

Born and raised in Detroit, during his high school years he played with the Scandinavian Orchestra in the horn section. His father, Pete Albee, has been principal violist of the Orchestra for over twenty years.

David Albee has appeared as soloist with several major orchestras including the Detroit Symphony. He has also toured from coast to coast with the Fine Arts Trio of Drake University where, since 1963, he has been assistant professor of Piano.

The orchestra's conductor, William Savola, is presently marking his fourth season with the organization. Refreshments, as usual, will be available after the concert.

A reception in the Lakeland avenue home of her mother, Mrs. Swetland Whitney, followed the Saturday, January 29, marriage of Jane Monroe Whitney and Alexander Patton Gage.

Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, was the setting for the 4 o'clock rites for which the bride who is also the daughter of Charles R. Whitney, of St. Clair avenue, selected the wedding gown first worn by her sister, Mrs. Niles W. Wheeler.

Fashioned of taffeta with a small train, the dress featured lace sleeves and a lace yoke.

Lace edged the former Miss Whitney's heirloom mantilla and she carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Wheeler and Tracy McGregor Whitney, in floor length Empire frocks of purple matte satin banded with white satin, attended their sister. They wore white satin bows in their hair and carried white, rose-centered bouquets of violets.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. James Blean, of Trombley road, and Henry Thurston Gage, of University place, asked his brother, Montgomery Gage, to act as best man.

Miss Keeler Wed To Paul Merline

Newlyweds Are Vacationing in Jamaica, at Montego Bay; Will Be at Home in St. Clair Shores After February 5

Our Lady Queen of Peace Church was the setting for the wedding of Susan Elise Keeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keeler, of Huntington boulevard, and Paul D. Merline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Merline, of Bournemouth road.

The 8 o'clock rites Friday evening, January 28, at which Father Donald MacLennan presided were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

When the newlyweds left for a vacation in Jamaica, at Montego Bay, the bride was wearing a long-sleeved dress of red and blue polka-dotted polyester. They will be at home in St. Clair Shores after February 5.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of ivory silk organza and Alencon lace, fashioned with a long train. A matching Camelot cap caught her bouffant illusion veil.

She carried a cascade of baby's-breath, roses, purple statice and ivy, as did her attendants, honor maid Susan LaDuke, of Rochester, in a frock fashioned with a purple crepe bodice and multi-colored pink, gold and white chiffon-over-taffeta skirt, and bridesmaids Donna Louwers and Janet Reid, in similar gowns with hot pink crepe bodices.

Best man was Jay C. Kaiser, Ushering were John Moran, James Defever and the bride's brother, Tom Keeler. Joseph Defever was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of emerald chiffon and pinned green orchids to her purse. The bridegroom's mother selected a long gown of gold silk and gold orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's cousin, Mrs. John Busch, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mrs. William Kalb, of Trumbull, Conn.

'Our Saviour' Deborah Circle Plans A Party

The Deborah Circle of Our Saviour Lutheran Church, Dickerson and Elmdale in Detroit, presents its annual valentine card party Monday, February 14, at 8 o'clock. Prizes and refreshments will be featured. Tickets will be available at the door.

St. Olaf Choir Concert

The world-famous St. Olaf Choir is coming to Detroit for a one-night concert at Ford Auditorium Saturday, February 5, at 8:30 o'clock, arranged and sponsored by the South Macomb Branch of the YMCA. The concert is designed to provide a rare experience for Detroit-area music lovers and to raise funds for the relief of East Pakistani refugees. All proceeds will be donated to Church World Service and Catholic Relief Services.

It is astounding how much fog can settle on a narrow mind.

Raggedy Ann Doll Finds A Home

Mrs. Robert C. Everett entertained members of the Village Garden Club at her home in Woodland Shores drive last Friday, January 28.

A report was given on the December meeting held at the home of Mrs. Carroll M. Boutell, including news of the delivery of Christmas gifts to residents of the Franklin Medical Home in East Grand boulevard. The Club assigns each member the name of an individual resident of the Home, who is remembered not only at Christmas time but also on birthdays and other occasions. The relationship becomes more personal year by year.

This year one sprightly lady requested a Raggedy Ann doll. So Mrs. Herman Scarney searched far and wide for just the right one and wrapping it beautifully with a small Raggedy Ann perched on the outside.

This inspired the suggestion that perhaps next year a prize should be given for the most imaginative Christmas wrapping.

Betty Boutell's neighbors could have been the judges this year, as they watched the beautiful packages being loaded into cars for delivery and speculated that Santa Claus had indeed come early to Tonnancour place.

Miss Mihalik Wed To J. W. Huebscher

Newlywed John Wood Huebschers, vacationing in the Caribbean Islands, will return to make home on Lake Minnetonka

Judith Carol Mihalik became the bride of John Wood Huebscher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huebscher, of Edina, Minn., on the wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Mihalik, of Beaupre avenue, Saturday, January 22, in St. Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

Father Daniel Callinan, long time friend, came from Minneapolis to perform the 12 o'clock rites, which were followed by a luncheon reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Art Quattro and his trio provided the music.

For her marriage, the former Miss Mihalik chose a gown of imported French silk, with shirred bodice and long full sleeves gathered at the wrist. Her illusion veil was elbow length and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with ribbon streamers. Of special significance was the bride's wedding ring which once belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother.

Her honor attendant, Jane Corrigan, of Minneapolis, wore a floor length gown of delphinium blue silk and carried a Colonial bouquet of white baby mums with accents of blue.

Walter Schultz, of Minneapolis, served as best man. Ushering were Kent Bank, Michael Callinan, James Campbell and Jon Nelson, of Minneapolis, and A. Stephen Mihalik, Jr., brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of coral crepe with a lace bodice and long tapering sleeves. The bridegroom's mother selected a gown with multi-colored flowers on the bodice and a flowing crepe skirt. Both mothers pinned cymbidium orchids to their purses.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, from Thornton, Pa.; the bride's brother Charles Mihalik, of Willingboro, N. J.; the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Orso and their children, Jay and Chris, of Jackson, N. J.; the bride's aunt, Betty Mohler, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scull, the bride's aunt and uncle.

Upon their return from the Caribbean Islands of Barbados and Jamaica, the newlyweds will make their home on Lake Minnetonka, in Minneapolis.

GRANT COLLINS, of Bishop road, JAMES HOOPER, of Stephens road, and DONALD HIRT, of Balfour road, currently attending Western Michigan University, asked a group of friends to drop by for cocktails Saturday, January 15, at their campus suite.

Mrs. John Wood Huebscher

JUDITH CAROL MIHALIK, daughter of the Andrew S. Mihaliks, of Beaupre avenue, and Mr. Huebscher, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huebscher, of Edina, Minn., were married Saturday, January 22, in St. Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

Gericault Art Exhibit Opens

Sixth Concert For Musicale

Unusual instrumental music has been included in the program planned for the sixth morning concert of Tuesday Musicale of Detroit next week, February 8, at 10:30 o'clock in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Hanna Lahti is general program chairman.

Lucille Zocharski, chairman of this concert, has arranged for Tuesday Musicale members to hear first a sonata for trombone and piano by McKay, played by Pointers Bettejane Crossen, trombone, and Janet Young, piano.

Next a sonata by Corelli will be performed by Margot Krumel on the viola and Josephine Howes on the piano. Following this Arlene Hendrie will play piano compositions by Bach, Brahms and Kennan.

Phyllis Gaide, soprano, will sing two arias by Gounod accompanied by Ida Mucciante on the piano.

The program concludes with a trio for piano, violin, and horn by Brahms, presented by Sara Ladd on the piano, Betty Peterson on the violin and Ernestine Barnes on the French horn.

As usual all performers are members of Tuesday Musicale, the oldest and largest music club in Michigan. Its current president is Mrs. Berj Haidostian.

Current philanthropic activities of Tuesday Musicale include the concert presented by members January 30 at Dearborn Heights Convalescent Home. Mrs. Charles Bishop and Mrs. D. D. Frankenstein, co-chairmen of philanthropic activities for Tuesday Musicale, have organized metropolitan Detroit into four areas of responsibility.

East is the province of Pointer Mrs. John Deaver; central of Mrs. Frankenstein; west-northwest of Mrs. C. L. Waterhouse; and downriver of Mrs. Harry W. Taylor.

These leaders organize concerts to be presented in hospitals and convalescent homes in their localities.

Navy Fireman LOUIS R. GONIEA, husband of the former ROSEMARY A. VAN ASSCHE, of Bishop road, is currently aboard the amphibious attack cargo ship U.S.S. El Paso cruising off the Maine coast in a two-week Navy exercise.

Around-The-World Dinner Scheduled

International Institute Friends Sponsoring Special Gourmet Evening; Delicacies from Four Corners of Globe to Be Featured

Something of interest will be happening Monday night, February 7, at the International Institute. The "Friends of the International Institute" are sponsoring a gourmet dinner which should be an Epicurian delight.

Chairmen for the event Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Buzel, Mr. and Mrs. Walker L. Cisler and Judge and Mrs. Wade H.

McCree, Jr., have extended invitations to all members, friends and a large list of persons known to enjoy good food.

Preparations for the dinner were a joint effort of a committee organized by Roy E. Calcagno, chairman of fundraising for the "Friends."

The committee is headed for the "Friends," by Mrs. Walton Lewis, Mrs. Agnes Meldman and Mrs. Frederick Schumann; for the Hall of Nations (a Council of Nationalities Committee), by Mrs. Merle Bowyer, George Charbonneau and Mrs. John Van de Water.

The International Institute is not only a service agency for the many foreign-born who have come and are still coming to the metropolitan Detroit area, but also a focal point for cultural experiences that make the institution uniquely attractive both to ethnic groups and native Americans.

It proves, through its existence, that ethnic uniqueness may be a source of enrichment and closeness between people, rather than a separation.

Supervisory consultant for the evening's menu is Rolf Olofsson, of Windmill Pointe Drive, Maitre D' at the Caucus Club, a native of Sweden.

Mr. Olofsson is particularly enthusiastic over the fact that the menu is being prepared at net cost by the Nationality Groups, members of the Institute who are always ready to volunteer their services. It is a most extensive menu, since the committee has tried for as wide an ethnic participation as possible.

Starting with Spanish Gaspacho, Scandinavian Fish, Greek Kebob, vegetables, breads of all nations and Peking Duck, the dinner covers the gourmet potential of the entire globe.

All the Nationalities are preparing the appetizer and sweet table that will end the gala meal.

Mr. Olofsson has carefully selected the proper wines to accompany each item on the menu.

The committee is particularly pleased to have received the cooperation of Detroit's Chadsey High School through the courtesy of Sally Klein and George Marchand, who in consultation with Mr. Olofsson will provide the service — and one mystery dinner item of their own preparation.

Institute personnel are closely involved in the carrying out of many details of this International gourmet dinner. Judith Brown is attending to all food preparations. Walter Holderbaum is in charge of all building arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cushner, Jr., have worked out all details for the musical entertainment.

Auxiliary Will Aid Institute Patients

Mrs. T. R. Buttrick Is President of Newly-Formed Volunteer Group Which Introduced Itself to Press and Public Last Friday

The newly-formed Auxiliary of the Rehabilitation Institute held a membership meeting and special luncheon for the press Friday, January 21, in the trustees' Dining Room on the hospital's eighth floor.

Highlight of the gathering was a report from the Volunteer Services committee on progress of patient programs instituted by the Auxiliary and by volunteers.

Officers of the Auxiliary include Mrs. T. R. Buttrick, president; Mrs. H. Lynn Pierson, vice-president; Mrs. William Peattie, vice-president; Mrs. Martin Bruton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Willard Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert D. Thomas, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Smith, treasurer; and Mrs. Donald Gilbert, assistant treasurer.

Auxiliary board members, in addition to officers, include Mrs. Boyer Candler, Mrs. Bruce Chalmers, Mrs. Frank Cullis, Mrs. Malcolm Dade, Mrs. E. James Gamble, Mrs. James A. Humphreys, Jr., Mrs. Robert Lambrecht, Mrs. Allen Merrill and Mrs. Ledyard Mitchell.

More are Mrs. Russell Nalle, Mrs. Courtney Rankin, Mrs. Joseph N. Schaefer, Mrs. Robert Clarke, Mrs. Stanley Smith, Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, Jr., Mrs. Gerald Warren and Mrs. Renville Wheat.

The Rehabilitation Institute is a private non-profit hospital of physical medicine and rehabilitation in the Detroit Medical Center.

To Select Miss Michigan Teen

Miss Michigan Teen-Ager will be chosen at the state finals to be held in Detroit at the Detroit Hilton on April 21 and 22. Girls 13-17 are eligible to enter if they are U.S. Citizens and residents of Michigan. There is no entrance fee, and there is no bathing suit or talent competition involved. Girls are judged for their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance. Civic, political, and educational leaders recognize this outstanding program as very worthwhile for teen-age young ladies throughout the country.

Winners from each state will receive a scholarship, as will the first runner-up and second runner-up from each state. The theme of the National Finals is "What's Right About America" and winners from each state will be asked to write a 100-word theme on the subject as part of the judging at the National Finals. Each state winner will also receive expenses to the National Finals in Atlanta at the Atlanta Memorial Arts Center on August 26, which includes a four-day tour, plane fare round trip, food, and lodging.

State winners will return to their respective states to represent their state in civic events such as parades and celebrations throughout the coming year. Applications may be obtained by writing the Official Certification Headquarters, 126 Bunn Drive, Rockton, Ill. 61072. Deadline for applications will be approximately March 1. Interested girls should write now for applications to be certified.

Peace Lutheran Guild Plans Valentine Party

A valentine luncheon and card party has been planned for Wednesday, February 9, by the Women's Guild of Peace Lutheran Church, East Warren avenue at Balfour road.

This will be the Guild's last social event before six weeks "quiet time" during Lent. Luncheon will be served at noon followed by the card party.

Groups of four wanting to reserve their own tables are requested to make reservations with Mrs. Robert Raynal, 881-5816, or Mrs. Roy Moore, 886-3152. Tickets will be available at the door. Donation is $1.75.

Free baby-sitting will be available.

It's faith that eases folks over the obstacles and pitfalls on the highway of life.

MSU Alumni Planning 'Cupid Capers'

It's that time of year again: Time for the Michigan State University East Side Alumni Club's annual Valentine dinner dance, and this year's setting for "Cupid Capers" will be the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. Date is Friday, February 11. Hours are 7 to 1 in the morning. Pictured above planning the festivities are, (left to right), PAUL and GLORIA CALCATTERRA, co-chairmen, GLADYS WHEELER, CAROL BARTOS, MARGARET GRAHAM and DENISE and PETE HOFFMAN. Further information may be obtained by calling 886-8307.

Good Citizens Tea Planned By DAR

Elizabeth Cass Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Grosse Pointe Farms, will hold its "Good Citizens Tea" at 1:30 p.m. Monday, February 7, at the War Memorial.

Both Pointe High Schools, Warren, Hamtramck and Harper Woods are ending girls and their mothers to the presentation. This award is given for dependability, service, leadership and patriotism, qualities that the DAR specifies as evidence of good citizenship.

The 10 to be honored include Lynn Howell, Grosse Pointe North; Krista Zerneulen, Grosse Pointe South; Barbara Lince, Harper Woods; Nancy Ann DeRoo, Bishop Gallagher; Mary Ann Cipkowski, Regina; Sherrie Maynard, Lincoln High, Warren; Debra Olinck, Warren High; Emily Crandall, Hamtramck; Nancy Kuzdal, St. Florian, Hamtramck and Mary Ann Zajac, St. Ladislaus, Hamtramck.

made by Mrs. Leo Hardwick, Good Citizens Chairman and a member of the State Good Citizens Committee. She will be assisted by Elizabeth Cass, regent, Mrs. Cyrus Weatherby; vice regent, Mrs. William Sam-pich, and Mrs. Gordon Ripley, Chaplain.

The film, Williamsburg—The Making of a Patriot will be shown.

Last year, 502 schools in Michigan participated. One girl is chosen to represent the state, and is presented with further awards at Michigan State DAR Conference in March. Fifty girls from each state then compete for the title of "Good Citizen" of the year at National DAR Congress in Washington, D.C. during the month of April.

Reservations for the Tea may be made by calling Mrs. Ward Simonson, 824-1849, or Mrs. Cyrus Weatherby, 822-7579.

Lincoln Work Slated Sunday

Mrs. Martin Luther King is making a special appearance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to narrate Aaron Copland's "A Lincoln Portrait." She will be featured at a popular priced Kresge family concert, supported by a grant from The Kresge Foundation, this Sunday, February 6, at 3:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Paul Freeman, conductor-in-residence of the Symphony, will conduct. In addition to the Copland "Lincoln Portrait" the program includes Rossini's "William Tell" Overture, Ravel's Daphnis and Chloe Suite No. 2, George Walker's "Lament for Strings" and Copland's "El Salon Mexico." Tickets at $1.50, $2 and $2.50 are available at Ford Auditorium, 961-0700, all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores.

Woman Alive Program At Downtown YWCA

In its never-ending effort to combat housewife routine the YWCA has a new weapon. The traditional "Ladies Day Out" program has been more appropriately renamed "Woman Alive."

It offers metropolitan area mothers a chance to leave housework behind and child care to a nursery every Tuesday. The package program keeps women on the run — from Yoga to Swimming to Slim and Trim classes.

For those desiring less physical activities there are classes in all types of Sewing and Needlecraft and a Great Books Discussion group.

Classes began last week at the Downtown YWCA in Witherell street. Late entrants are welcome anytime. A one-day visit costs $1.50. More information may be obtained through the Registration Office, 961-9220. The YWCA is a Torch Drive Agency.

Pointe Blues Capture Two

The Grosse Pointe Blues, the traveling "A" team for the Bantam Division of the Tri-County Hockey League, captured its Thursday, January 27 night league game by a score of 3-1 over the Northwest team. A tune-up game earlier in the week against E. C. White was also taken by the Blues 7-1.

The opening score of the Blues' league game came with just two seconds to play in the first period. It was scored by David Austin with an assist by Mike Sandmair.

The Blues struck again twice in the second period with goals by Dennis Austin, assisted by Tom McCubbin, and Chad Morris, assisted by Tom Stewart. The lone Northwest goal came early in the third period on a tally by Mark Manke.

Coach Fred McGregor's Blues prepared for their league game by whipping E. C. White. The White team opened the scoring with just 16 seconds remaining in the first period. They were then stopped cold as the Blues took complete charge of the game. Two goals were scored by Peter Poirier and Chad Morris. Single tallies were marked by Dennis Austin, Mike Sandmair and Mark Santi.

Girl Scouts Set Banquet

The Annual Dads and Daughters Banquet for the junior Girl Scouts of Ferry, Mason and Parcels schools and their fathers, is slated for Thursday, February 3, at 6:30 o'clock, at the Memorial Center.

The party decorations and skits will follow a nature theme. Troops and leaders participating include Mrs. Richard Wuerker and Mrs. Richard Stahl, leaders of Troop 1584 of Ferry School, whose girls will use water pollution as the focal point of their presentation; Mrs. Charles Sweet and Mrs. John Cross, leaders of Troop 321, Mason School, whose scouts will perform an Indian Legend, "Summer Maker"; Mrs. Robert Martin and Mrs. Thomas Dwyer and their girls from Parcels' School Troop 886, who have made modgepodge stones for their guests and who will appear as littlebugs in their skit.

Guests for the evening will be John D. Rohrer, principal, Ferry School; William Mestdagh, principal, Mason School; and Mrs. Priscilla Hoehle, field advisor, Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit. Mrs. Thomas Rochford, local district chairman will also attend.

Games and gifts will round out the evening.

South Cagers Defeat North

By Mark O'Keefe

South's 55-40 upset over North Saturday, January 29, upped their record to 6-5 with three wins in four games.

Fordson faces South Friday, February 4, at 8:30 p.m. Sporting an overall 9-1 record, Fordson is 5-1 in Border Cities League action. South lost to Fordson, 67-53, earlier this year, but they should look better this time with their improved defense.

Highland Park played an even game with South until the final four minutes when the Parkers explosive offense took the lead for keeps. They eventually won, 68-60.

South played well against the fourth best team in the state but couldn't overcome the Parkers' tremendous height advantage. After trailing 31-27 at half time, the Devils managed to hold the lead several times during the second half.

Jim Bird was high scorer for South with 16 points. He also grabbed nine rebounds, tops in the game.

Port Huron proved to be pushovers for South as the Devils soared to a 102-61 win. Jim O'Conner's two free throws in the final minute of play put South over 100 points, and attained a standing ovation.

Bird, with 26 points, paced the attack, while all 13 of the Devils figured in the scoring. It took a real team effort for South to score in triple figures. Several players got in foul trouble by harrassing Port Huron players to prevent them from eating up time.

South totally outclassed Port Huron in this game by controlling the backboards and allowing very few turnovers.

Then South went on to rout Royal Oak Dondero, 67-48, raising their BCL record to 2-4.

A zone defense by Royal Oak forced South to move the ball in slowly, and slackened the pace of the game. South's defense was consistent enough to prevent Dondero from coming back to win late in the game, as they did earlier this year.

South's high scorers were George Heidt with 18 points and Pete Farnar with 14.

Grosse Pointe North's previously undefeated team was held to 20 points per half by South's binding zone defense before a crowd of over 2,000.

Farnar's defensive tactics intimidated North in the 55-40 victory. Bird's 12 rebounds were high for South. South's guards Dave Gaitley and Heidt outplayed North's guards and contributed to the win. Steve Kennel's 14 points were high in the game, while Gaitley added 13.

South allowed only five points in the third quarter and outscored North in each of the first three quarters. During the final period,

Bruin Squirts Very Active

The Grosse Pointe Bruins Squirt Travel Team has played 10 games in the past two weeks to bring the games total to 69.

In a league game January 18 the Bruins defeated the Shamrocks 5-0. Drew Mascarin received the shutout. Three goals were posted by Alan Taber and two by Matt Costello. Brian Moody and Matt Rossetti were awarded two assists and one each went to Jim Morris, Joe Sehee, and Joe Brykalski.

The Bruins then faced the always strong Little Caesar's hockey team and were victorious 3-2. Scoring the three Bruin goals were Costello, Morris, and Taber. Moody, Rossetti, Bill Seaver, and Sehee each received one assist.

The Bruins hosted Jackson, Mich. January 22, and romped to an 11-0 win. Leo Fenn led the scoring with three goals and one assist. Taber posted two goals and two assists. Seaver and Rossetti each had two goals and one assist.

North could score only 15 points to South's 14, which was insufficient for a win. It took an outstanding South defense to succumb North's high scoring team.

The victory raised South's record to 2-1 over North.

Progress in this world is made by trial and error—don't expect to follow a blueprint.

assist. Morris scored one goal and was awarded three assists. Sehee had a goal and an assist. Costello and Kevin Moore were credited with two assists and Brykalski and Moody one assist. Mascarin posted another shutout.

The Bruins met Leamington, Ont., January 23, and skated very well posting a 7-3 victory. The line of Costello, John Davies, and Bill Seaver were powerful. Costello scored twice and assisted twice. Davis and Seaver each had one goal and two assists. Fenn, Sehee, and Taber each had one goal. One assist was recorded by Brykalski, Morris, Scott Seaver, and Taber.

The Bruins outshot the Sabors in a league game January 25, 23-15, but only came up with a 4-4 tie. Taber was top scorer with two goals and two assists. Morris and Sehee each had one goal and Rossetti had an assist.

In a very important exhibition game January 27 the Bruins faced Hussey's Hawks and came up with a 4-0 win. Drew Mascarin posted his third shutout in two weeks. Jim Morris scored the hat trick and Davis had the other goal. Moody had two assists and one each were awarded to Ben Amore, Costello, Rossetti, and Sehee.

Rob Fredal played a magnificent game in goal when the Bruins met the Trenton A Travel team. Trenton outshot the Bruins 32-13 but were only victorious 2-1 because of Fredal's fine game. The lone Bruin goal was by Morris after receiving a pass from Taber. Kevin Moore played a strong game on defense.

In a non-league game with the Farmington Flyers, the Bruins again came up with a tie but outshooting the Flyers 24-12. Costello scored first after receiving a pass from Bill Seaver. Sehee scored next with Morris and Taber assisting. Seaver completed the scoring with Costello assisting. The final score 3-3.

Last week Riverside, Ont. again hosted the Bruins and they were victorious 4-2. The Bruin scoring was all by the Morris, Sehee, Taber line. Morris and Taber with one goal and one assist each and Sehee with two assists.

Game 69 was a 9-1 rout of the St. Clair Shores B Travel team. Goals were posted by Taber, Costello, Morris, Davies and Moody. Receiving assists were Sehee, Seaver, Davis, Moody, Morris and Taber.

The services of defenseman Tom Hastings have been missed by the Bruins these past two weeks.

The Bruin record to date stands at 41 wins, 18 losses, and 10 ties.

is imagination a liability?

Could be . . . because some folks say our line is all way-out, arty. They don't see the "Spicecrafts" for the Brave New Worlds. Sure, we make the beaunts in the area rug field, but we make all the carpet basics, too. Remember: it took our trail-blazing kind of imagination to produce the first 100% tufted nylon and Acrilan® tufted carpets in the industry. Church Takes 16-Year-Olds

Sixteen is now the "age of majority" for Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church members. At a general meeting Sunday, January 30, members voted to amend the church's by-laws to lower the age from 18 to 16. The newly-enfranchised teens now can join the church as regular members, vote, and hold office—but only if the church's board of trustees approves them as members.

A proposed amendment to take this power away from the church board was defeated by a narrow margin. The board currently can say yes or no to any prospective member. The church also liberalized its waiting period during which a new member cannot vote or run for office. The previous 90-day wait was dropped to 40 days.

A number of... letters providing a uniquely colorful and detailed description of the American soldier's life in France and Germany at the end of World War I have been donated to Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., and will be placed on permanent loan at the George C. Marshall Research Library...

The letters... were written between May and December, 1918, by Captain Lewis Coleman Gordon, of St. Louis, Mo... Born in Salem, Va., Captain Gordon was a student at Washington and Lee from 1904 until 1907... His father, Dr. Edward Clifford Gordon, was treasurer, secretary and proctor of the institution while Robert E. Lee was its president following the Civil War...

The donation... was made by The Pointe's own Mrs. Alfred Taylor, Captain Gordon's niece, whose husband is also a graduate of Washington and Lee...

These Gordon Letters... provide an historically valuable documentation of the day-to-day activities of the American soldier in the last months of the war and immediately after the Armistice, during the first months of Allied occupation... most are addressed to Captain Gordon's wife, some to his father—and one to his future wife...

One written December 26, 1918... in Dungenheim, Germany, is remarkable for a prediction it contains of World War II: "It is difficult to eradicate the product of generations of education and blood. There is ample material for another German army over here..."

"Unless a peace... is concluded that will effect a vital change in German government, education, economy and philosophy for two or three generations, I fear that she will reach out again for her place in the sun... Tell all my sisters-in-law and friends to raise their boys to be soldiers. America may need them some day..."

In another passage... in the same letter, Captain Gordon describes the German reaction to Allied occupation by analogy: "Can you imagine that the German army has captured the Mississippi Valley? Hosts of German soldiers and officers come to St. Louis and demand that each home yield its guest chamber and all spare space to them. A German officer is in your best room... He is an unwelcome intruder at your fireside during the Christmas season—when you want none but your children and family and grandchildren about..."

"How would you... like that? Then you can imagine how I have often felt that my presence in this little German home must be annoying and, really, obnoxious—especially as it was the entry into the War of a huge American army that turned the tide and accomplished the defeat of the Germans. Now we have come into their very homes to insure that defeat. Do you not wonder that they hate us?..."

Captain Gordon... acted as his own censor, occasionally writing of "the battle of..." The multi-page letter written to his future wife, in which he alludes to his intent to propose marriage to her, has a small rectangle cut neatly from every page, where an inscription on the letterhead could have given away his unit's location...

Captain Gordon... arrived in France with the 4th U.S. Engineers early in May, 1918. His unit arrived in Dungenheim, "Kingdom of Prussia," where he was stationed during the Occupation, on December 15, after a 260-kilometer march...

A career officer... he retired from the Army with the rank of colonel in 1946. At that time he was commanding officer of the Reserve Officer Training Corps unit at the Michigan School of Engineering... Colonel Gordon died in 1951...

In 1969... the Colonel Lewis Coleman Gordon honor scholarship fund was created at Washington and Lee through a bequest from the estate of his widow, who died in 1967... The Gordon Scholarship is held this academic year by Bryan E. McNeill, a sophomore from New Orleans and Dean's List scholar...

PILFERINGS Buffy Sainte-Marie, a full-blooded Cree Indian, fights for her people with her voice, her personality and her money. She's got plenty of each, for she's one of the most successful folk singers in the business. "I wanted to be a blonde," she recalls. "My ambition was first to be a cheerleader and then an airline stewardess—like the average girl. Then I realized that as the average girl I was a failure. So I decided to be myself."
