HEADLINES of the WEEK

Thursday, February 3

MORE THAN 25,000 IRISH CATHOLIC DEMONSTRATORS stormed through the streets of Dublin Wednesday and burned the British embassy to the ground in a shower of molotov cocktails and flares. As the building collapsed, the crowd shouted "Down with the British," and hurled bricks and bottles to hinder the firemen from reaching the scene. The Irish Republic was marking a day of mourning for the 13 civilians killed Sunday in a clash with British paratroopers in Londonderry, Northern Ireland.

Friday, February 4

THE VIETNAMESE COMMUNISTS, stating that they would not accept President Nixon's latest peace proposal, presented a revised peace plan at the Paris talks Thursday. The Vietnam offered to hold direct political talks with the Saigon government if President Nguyen Van Thieu resigns and promised to have all U.S. prisoners of war released by the day all U.S. forces have been withdrawn from Vietnam. U.S. officials said that they would give the new proposals "careful study."

FHA-INSURED MORTGAGES on new homes in two metropolitan Detroit areas plagued by excessive noise from jet airplanes will no longer be approved by the federal government under new regulations. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), of which the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) is a part, is also considering banning FHA-insured home mortgages in other urban areas alongside expressways or near factories, due to noise pollution. The noise pollution blacklist extends to areas surrounding Metropolitan Airport and Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

THE UNITED STATES HAS AGREED to sell Israel 42 F-4 Phantom and 90 A-4 Skyhawk jets over the next two to three years, according to administration sources. By making a long-term 132-plane commitment, which had been sought by Israel for more than a year, the United States has abandoned the tactic of withholding modern arms as a way of exerting pressure on Israel to be more conciliatory in dealing with the Arabs. Washington analysts think that the Soviet Union will probably supply some additional military equipment to Egypt.

Monday, February 7

MORE THAN 20,000 IRISH DEMONSTRATORS launched the biggest civil rights march in Northern Ireland's history Sunday, but turned back 15 minutes later and called off the protest to avoid confrontation with an estimated 3,000 armed British troops guarding the town center. The march, led by Bernadette Devlin, was protesting the slaying of 13 civilians by British troops during a similar demonstration last month.

Tuesday, February 8

THE U.S. ASKED THE U.S. DISTRICT COURT in Washington Monday to throw out a Pay Board ruling that slashed by one-third the wage increases for 30,000 aerospace workers. The suit is the first legal challenge to a Pay Board decision cutting back a wage increase. The International Association of Machinists (IAM) said it would file a similar suit next week on behalf of 90,000 other aerospace workers covered by collective bargaining agreements rejected by the Pay Board.

South High Renovation Going Well

Underground and Basic Foundation Part of Project Called Ahead of Schedule

By Pepper Whitelaw

The South High School renovation program is generally ahead of schedule, according to Ben Zenn, director of administration services for the school system.

As of now, most of the completed work has been underground, such as basic foundation work, relocation of utility lines and general excavation. The masonry and steel work is scheduled to begin sometime in early spring, weather permitting.

Mr. Zenn said those involved directly with the project meet monthly to discuss progress and problems. In attendance at the last session were Edward Colbert, critical path expert; Jim Giacchino, project representative from Linn, Smith-Demiene and Adams, Inc.; Frank Richard and Al Sell, president and project representative respectively of Matthew Lalowicz-General Contractors; Mr. Zenn, and Tom LaJoy, superintendent of maintenance and grounds for the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Mr. Zenn said Gordon Wheaton, clerk of the work, is on the site full time.

Many Pointe Youngsters Caught in Raid on Party

A raid by Connor Station plainclothesmen led by Sergeant Gale Bogenn on the 15th Connor Bogenn, on a residence near the city limits of Grosse Pointe Park at 1 a.m., Saturday, February 5, resulted in the arrests of 42. Charged, forty-one were charged with loitering in a place where illegal activities were being conducted.

Another Pointer, a student at South High School, Ralph LaRose, was arrested for possession of suspected narcotics (later verified to be some three ounces of marijuana which were found on his person) and possession of a narcotic paraphernalia, which officers found in his boot.

Although LaRose's address was listed as 4138

School Administrators' Pay Raises to Be Based On Personal Performance

Trustees Vote Six to One for Adoption of Salary Increases; Objections Voiced by Semmler Draw Retort

By Pepper Whitelaw

"Them that works gets . . . them that don't . . . don't." That's what the trustees of the Board of Education approved by a vote of 6 to 1 (with Trustee Donald Semmler voting no) last Monday, February 7, at their regular meeting, by approving performance raises for administrators.

The gross amount of each administrator's 1970-71 salary will be the base amount for determining his 1971-72 total salary. This includes longevity, hours of credit, performance raises but not large school differentials.

For the 1971-72 school year, administrators whose service is considered satisfactory by the percentage by which the Consumer Price Index, as represented by the Metropolitan Detroit area, as determined by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the month of April 1972, exceeds such index for the month of April 1971. The maximum allowable cost of living increase will be four percent.

To Increase Next Year
The Board will allocate an amount of money, not less than two percent of the total salaries paid to administrators in 1970-71, which will be administered by the superintendent, for providing 1971-72 performance raises. These performance raises may range from zero to six percent increases.

For the school year 1972-73

Collection Will Be Taken at War Memorial from 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. February 17

Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council is staging an emergency blood collection in Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Ballroom Thursday, February 17, from 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. to meet the replacement needs caused by the recent flu epidemics and to replenish the Community Blood Bank maintained by the War Memorial for "free loan" to any Grosse Pointer in emergency need.

It will also be an open blood bank. Anyone can come in and donate a pint of blood and credit it to the organization or person of his or her choice.

To make this blood collection run smoothly, all citizens are urged to make an appointment in advance if possible by calling 881-7511. But, of course, walk-ins will be happily received and processed as rapidly as possible. People 18 to 65 may contribute in this meaningful (Continued on Page 2)

Pointes Prepare To Renew Battle To Protect Elms

Municipalities Getting Ready for Annual Application of Dormant Spray; All Will Use Methoxychlor

By Roger A. Waha

A hint that spring may be around the corner, (or at least a few blocks away), is the fact that Grosse Pointe city governments are now preparing for their annual spraying of trees to prevent Dutch Elm disease.

All of the communities will use methoxychlor and the ground spray method, although The Park hasn't reached a final decision between the ground spray and the aerial spray methods. However, the city is leaning towards the former method.

For the past three years The Park has used the aerial spray method via a helicopter. While this method is much faster than the ground spray method, (in ideal weather conditions a helicopter can do the job in around eight hours), there are some disadvantages.

Choppers Are Scarce
City Manager Robert A. Slone notes that it's extremely difficult to get contractors with helicopters to do this work. "And everything is concentrated on the flying and spraying ability of the pilot who must be proficient because of a high density area," he added.

Herbert L. Heger, director of public service, is currently obtaining bids for both spray methods for presentation at a future council meeting.

Methoxychlor costs about four times as much as the now outlawed DDT, according to Mr. Slone. However, it's less toxic than DDT so from the standpoint of environment, it's more desirable to use.

Mr. Slone said that The Park lost 118 trees in 1971 mainly to Dutch Elm disease, although the factors of "old age" and windstorm damage must also be considered. One hundred trees were lost in 1970, while 85 were lost in 1969. But in 1965, 160 trees were lost. So The Park is holding its own regarding the demise of trees.

Plant Other Varieties
The elm trees make the city," said Mr. Slone. But The Park isn't concentrating on planting only one type of tree. Other varieties, including maples and locusts, are being planted. One reason is (Continued on Page 2)

Woods Councilmen Reply To Hawaiian Trip Critics

By Roger A. Waha
Two Woods councilmen, Kenneth W. Boerner and Marvin R. Boutin, stated their views regarding recent criticism of six councilmen who attended the 48th Annual Congress of Cities Conference in Honolulu, Hawaii, from November 28 to December 3, 1971, at the regular council meeting Monday, February 7.

Both councilmen made reference to a letter sent by Mrs. A. J. Larkins, 494 Shoreham road, which questioned the spending of "her" tax money to send the councilmen to Hawaii, and "why so many of you thought it necessary to go." Mrs. Larkins' letter was on the agenda.

Reference also was made to a NEWS editorial, "Junket to Hawaii," published Thursday, January 20, which questioned the amount of councilmen attending at a cost of $1,197.72 each, (totaling $7,185.32 for all six), and the fact that the delegates had no voting power.

Mr. Boerner said, "I feel personally that I gained constructive knowledge at the convention. We as a group made ourselves heard." He stated that the councilmen had only "one free night there," and that their days were full in attending functions on the conference agenda.

"Councilman Boerner has hit it on the head," said Mr. Boutin, and added that the councilmen had little free time. "Some people think it's (Continued on Page 4)

Tell Lawyer To Intervene In Roth Case

Board of Education Grants Authority to Attorney to Enter Discussions

By Pepper Whitelaw

Trustees of the Board of Education on Monday, February 7, gave Board attorney Douglas West, (the law firm of Hill, Lewis, Adams, Goodrich and Tait), the authority to intervene in the proceedings before Judge Stephen Roth regarding the Detroit desegregation case.

With this right, West said, the system will be able to enter into discussions regarding the formulation of desegregation plans, raise legal questions as to whether the plan can be implemented with respect to the Grosse Pointe Public School System and generally be actively involved in the action. That is, if Judge Roth grants the system the right to intervene.

Some Groups Formed
Mr. West said that many schools were intervening on a collective basis, represented by one law firm, and that others will, or have filed as individual intervenors. He said that with a combined action some real conflicts of interest could arise when desegregation plans were discussed and that he felt this would not be to the Pointe's best interest.

He said the intervention request is set for a hearing on Monday, February 28, during which time the board, and the attorneys will study all seven plans currently being considered.

A question was raised from the floor by former trustee Arnold Fuchs as to who will instruct the attorneys if it becomes necessary for them to act "on the spot." He added however that he was pleased to see the board take this action.

Instruction Limited
President William Adams said that the only specific instructions given to the attorneys at this time were to attempt to intervene in the suit and represent the school district and that was as specific as the board could be at this time.

Alfred R. Glancy, vice-president, and Lee Allen, treasurer, both indicated that (Continued on Page 4)

Vandals Visit Library, School

Two buildings belonging to the Grosse Pointe School System suffered malicious damage in a two-day period last week.

Someone entered Grosse Pointe Central Library, 10 Kercheval, on the night of Tuesday, February 1. When the library's daytime engineer, Rodger Hyman, entered the building the next morning, he discovered a three foot by six foot plate glass door of a tool cabinet broken and pieces of the shattered glass over 10 feet away from the broken cabinet.

Upon further investigation, Mr. Hyman discovered a second glass door had been forced open in the main room of the library. On the floor of the processing room, he found a metal air vent down from the ceiling.

The second incident of malicious damage was at Kerby School, 285 Kerby.

An employee of the elementary school, Joseph Gianino, saw a fire on the edge of a rear door off the parking lot at 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, February 3.

The fire appeared to be deliberately set by wrapping an unknown substance in tin foil and lighting it.

A 14-year-old boy, noticed by the Farms police, was held by the Farms police in connection with the incident. He is a student at Brownell Junior High School. The door and doorframe were damaged in the short blaze.

Board OKays Pay Raise

Voices Objections

He said that his first objections were procedural ones involving the recommendation. "The administrators of the school system have elected to enter collective bargaining with the Grosse Pointe Administrators Association as their sole and exclusive bargaining representative. Preliminary bargaining produced a document some 40 pages in length which has been reduced somewhat in the last week or two. As I understand it this shortened contract will still cover vacation allowances, large school differentials, insurance, travel allowances, health program, professional activities allocation, the providing of legal counsel for administrators and contract duration.

Questions Procedure

Mr. Semmler said the recommendation before the board involved only salaries, insurance and travel allowances for this and next year, and that he seriously questioned the procedure of approving only a portion of the agreement at this time and leaving the balance to future negotiations. "The argument has been presented that the present school year is half over and the administrators are still on last year's pay schedule, I would like to remind you that this has only been brought to board attention within the last few weeks."

He added, "If we are going to have a Collective Bargaining Agreement, let's bargain a whole contract and vote on the entire contract at one time not piecemeal."

He also questioned approving a two-year pay schedule which would give administrators almost a 14 per cent increase in basic salaries, and added that approximately 88 per cent of the budget this year goes for salaries and fringe benefits.

Huetteman Takes Issue

Trustee William Huetteman sharply retorted that he did not have a prepared text as Mr. Semmler did, but that the issue had been discussed by the board for longer than two weeks. "I don't recall any negative reaction to these raises during those discussions. It has always been the dream of the school system to have a merit pay system in operation for their administrators, where those that do the most get the most." Mr. Huetteman then indicated that although the board approved the pay issue that evening that any member has the right and responsibility to vote against any other provisions which he believes are not in the best interests of the school system.

Warner Surprised

Trustee Robert Warner said that Mr. Semmler's nay vote came as a surprise to him since Mr. Semmler knew what the board's objective was in handling the

Prepare to Protect Elms

(Continued from Page 1) to avoid blight, he said, and also because the taller elms cause added maintenance.

Spraying begins around the middle of April in The Park. "It must be completed before the leaves form on the trees," stated Mr. Slone. A dormant spray will be used.

A total of 5,500 city and private trees are set for spraying. Mr. Slone said the city is offering the service of spraying the private trees.

Thomas Kressbach, city administrator of The City, reports that spraying bids will be taken to the council at the regular meeting Monday, February 28.

Takes About Week

The spraying begins in late March or early April before the foliage comes out, he said. If weather conditions are ideal, the spraying can be completed in one week.

Approximately 2,300 "street" trees in The City will "get the works." In addition, a special price is scheduled for those who sign up by Wednesday, March 15, for the spraying of private trees. This could include 400-500 trees, according to Mr. Kressbach.

Besides the "street" trees, the elms at Neff Park, Elworthy Field, and the Grosse Pointe Pumping Station will be sprayed. "We try to hit every elm tree," said Mr. Kressbach. He added that the ground spray method gives "good coverage," and that the men often spray early in the morning or at night when the wind has died down.

Woods Sprays in April

Trees on city property in the Woods will be sprayed after April 15, said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

Meanwhile Farms Pier attendant Gervase Fluery notified the Farms police, and officers Glanert and Kraiza were dispatched to the scene.

Two Men at Scene

When the police arrived, they found two men at the scene, James H. Dingeman, of 4 Radnor circle, and John Caldwell, of Lansing, Mich. The men had a short length of rope which they held as Officer Glanert descended over the outer harbor wall.

As soon as Officer Glanert's foot hit the ice, the ice broke, and he realized that it could not hold any weight. The policeman then handed his gun to patrolman Kranza before proceeding to enter the water.

When the Farms fire department arrived seconds later, a ladder was lowered into the water, and Officer Glanert moved from the rope to the ladder. In a short time, he had located the body of the Turos youth by searching the bottom of the lake.

Although the idea of the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council was conceived in 1948, it was organized and came into being in the 1950's, to act as a coordinating committee with the American Red Cross to bring the Bloodmobile to the community to assure everyone of sufficient quantities of blood, if and when needed.

At the present time, the membership numbers 27 and is comprised of churches, American Legion, Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Grosse Pointe Public Schools and some commercial establishments.

Small dues are collected biannually to cover correspondence, etc. and the Blood Bank has been fortunate enough to have a small surplus carried over through the years. Since it is a service organization, it wishes to donate its accumulated funds in the name of the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council to the Red Cross for its new building, and is happy that this donation coincides with the ground breaking for the new Red Cross facility and the annual Grosse Pointe War Memorial Bloodmobile.

Solons Reply to Critics

 a "junket" but I went down there to learn whatever I could." Mr. Boutin stressed the learning and application of newfound techniques to the community and its problems.
 "I'm not that naive that I know everything about everything," said Mr. Boutin. He emphasized the learning of new techniques towards better efficiencies in government.
 Mr. Boerner mentioned the interest and participation of the Woods councilmen at various conferences and meetings. "The Grosse Pointe Woods council takes considerable interest other than 'junkets.'" And Mr. Boutin made it clear that the council was "not a do-nothing council — we're doing it all the time."
 In short, both councilmen felt that they and their colleagues gained important knowledge from the conference to better serve Woods residents.
 The council also okayed sending a copy of an article from the Michigan Municipal League's monthly magazine to Mrs. Larkins who asked for "one good reason" in her letter why tax money was spent for the conference.

The article is entitled "Well Informed Officials Can Do a Better Job for Our Municipalities." It was written by Mayor Gordon R. Bryant of Harper Woods, who's president of the MML, according to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.
 The reason the delegates had no voting power is because full membership, with the right of one vote, requires that a city have a population of 30,000 or more, and none of the Pointes has the number of residents to qualify.
 This information was received from an official of the MML, an affiliate of the National League of Cities, which represents the Pointes and other communities.
 The MML official noted that as an affiliate and as a representative of the communities which do not meet the standards for membership in the NLC, the State group does the voting for its membership.
 Nonetheless, he pointed out, any member city can send a delegate to any NLC convention as an observer and to speak up on any issue, but the delegate has no voting power. The MML, as the representing agent, controls one vote.

Coats Stolen At Restaurant

Three coats were stolen from customers at the Original Pancake House, 20273 Mack, Sunday, February 6.
 Officer Jack Treppa of the Woods Police Department received reports from Carl and Delphine Page, 28108 Ruehle, St. Clair Shores, and Elizabeth Winning, 23001 Edgewood, St. Clair Shores, who all stated their coats were placed on the coat rack at approximately 12:30 p.m. and at 1:25 p.m. when they returned, their coats were gone.
 Mrs. Page's coat was a green and gold tapestry mid-coat with fur trim around the neck and at the bottom. It was valued at $150. Mr. Page's coat was a tan trench coat which had some glasses and cigars in a pocket. Its value is $85.
 The coat belonging to Mrs. Winning was a brown "Borganzza" full length coat, valued at $150. A pair of long brown ladies gloves were in a pocket, plus a girl's blue hat. The gloves were valued at $15, while the hat was valued at $5.

Schools Hope to Intervene

 the school system up to this time has been a respondent, not an activist in the suit and that until it became an intervenor no specific action or instructions could be considered.
 Robert Warner, trustee, reaffirmed his faith in the board attorneys and added that the board was not in a position to select one of the seven paths presently before Judge Roth since it has not been formally involved in the action.
 Nothing To Vote On
 William Heutteman said the board could not act on any specifics since there were no specifics on the table to vote aye or nay on until the law is set down. He added, "But, I can assure you as an attorney, familiar with lawyer-client relationships, that there is no disagreement on this board as far as its attitude on the desegregation issue is concerned."
 The trustees also unanimously approved a resolution supporting the Broomfield Amendment to the 1971 Higher Education Act, which has been passed by the United States House of Representatives and which would limit the power of the United States District Courts to implement orders of desegregation.

 Corporal Ballew has volunteered to extend his normal overseas tour of duty. He is the son of Colonel and Mrs. W. Ballew of Grosse Pointe Woods.

GOOD CENTS

During the January meeting of the Shores Village Council, a short discussion ensued concerning the responsibility of a government to follow its budget. The council had been conscientiously reviewing the village's bills and revenues, and Trustee Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., was prompted to comment that North High students were very surprised when he old them in a lecture, that "The Shores government actually sticks to the budget, in contrast to other governments."

School Trustee Thompson Won't Run Again in June

By Pepper Whitelaw
Barbara R. Thompson, secretary of the Board of Education, in a move that shocked and surprised board members and those in attendance at the meeting, Monday, February 7, announced that she will not run for re-election in June.

A dedicated member of the board for eight years, Mrs. Thompson has served as secretary for four of those years, as president for one, and has held many committee responsibilities during her tenure. She is the first legislative chairman the board ever had and has participated actively in school affairs throughout the state.

Mrs. Thompson said, "My second term of office will expire next summer as those schooled in Board of Education politics are well aware. Last June, I made the difficult decision not to seek re-election. No one reason I could give would have been sufficient to influence me to leave the service of the Grosse Pointe School District."

"Those of you who know me will also know that this is a personal decision. And I re-emphasize that it was reached last June, so that you may rest assured that I have not joined the prophets of doom who predict that public education will very shortly fall off the edge of the earth."

"I have not chosen to discuss my decision previously because I wanted this to be a productive year for me on behalf of the community, as it is indeed. But now the time has come for the people of the district to focus on a replacement."

"It is probably not ideal that the fates have decreed that there be little continuity on this board in recent years. I am the veteran trustee by a full four years."

"But despite this, and the fact that my interest has remained keen, I have had to be influenced by my feeling before I came to this office... that probably eight years is enough."

"So the community has work to do between now and the election June 12, for at the end of that month I shall be leaving with deep regret." William Adams, board president, expressed the board's regret at losing Mrs. Thompson's expertise and experience and added that she would be missed.

The 4 o'clock service will be held on Sunday, February 20, at St. Bartholomew's Church where Mr. Williams served as organist and choirmaster.

Thieves Visit Two Woods Homes Feb. 2

Two breaking and enterings were reported to the Woods Police Department Wednesday, February 2.

Sergeant Thomas Kane received a report from Edward Bartos, 19766 Edshire Lane, at 7:10 a.m. regarding the B&E. The culprits entered the house through a grade door and took a purse from atop a dishwasher to the garage. Several dollars and a ladies gold ring, value unknown, were taken from the purse.

The thieves also took an Osterizer blender valued at $49; a General Electric can opener-knife sharpener valued at $25; a Panasonic transistor radio with a black metal case valued at $60; a General Electric clock-radio with a white plastic case of unknown value, and an Underwood portable typewriter valued at $75.

A sleeping dog at the Bartos residence was apparently not awakened by the intrusion.

The second B&E was reported to officer Thomas Hunke at 4:52 p.m. by Howard Davenport, 19202 Raymond road. Entry was gained through a basement window sometime between 7:30 p.m. and 12 midnight Tuesday, February 1.

An "Olivetti" adding machine, valued at $90, was reported missing, and $250 was taken from Mrs. Davenport's purse. No other items were discovered missing at this time.

Officers checked houses in the area and discovered that a neighbor saw a suspicious car around 8 p.m., February 1. It was described as a late model, medium blue Ford which was occupied by one or more people.

The car went very slowly past the Davenport home, going south on Raymond. Then it turned left on Kingsville and went east to the fence. It backed up from there to Raymond, and pulled in front of the Davenport home and parked.

At this time, the neighbor saw a black male walk up to the front door of the home and appear to ring the bell. When nobody came, he stood there for about three minutes. After that he walked at a normal pace to the car. He drove north on Raymond, at first slowly, before accelerating.

The circumstances that alter cases can never correct the defects in a weak character.

Can a child prove God's care for himself?

Yes, if he's learned that God, divine Love, is present to help him in everything he does.

Christian Science teaches children how to pray effectively for themselves, their families, and the world. This is why there are already three and four generations of Christian Scientists who have grown up relying fully on scientific prayer for healing.

Your children will be warmly received in our Sunday School. Bring them this week.

Pumper Fire Truck Arrives

By Kathy Duff
The Farms fire department is the proud owner of a new red and white pumper fire truck which has been on order from the Seagrave Company in Clintonville, Wis., for 18 months.

The truck was delivered last week, and since Tuesday, February 8, the Farms firemen have been "taking her for a spin," which is not to say they have been hot-rodging along Kerby and Grosse Pointe boulevard, rather they are familiarizing themselves with the fire truck's new equipment and power steering.

Before the new truck is put in service the firemen will have an "Intensive training program" to become adjusted to the new machine. "The men have already driven the truck around and the next step is practicing with water hydrants," Farms Fire Chief Michael Beaupre explained.

The new $36,700 truck can pump 1,250 gallons of water a minute, has a 350-horsepower diesel engine, and carries a 800-gallon reserve water tank, Chief Beaupre proudly informs a visitor.

The Farms old pumper truck had been in use since 1948, and provided a $2,000 trade-in towards the purchase of the new truck. The old truck had a 180-gallon reserve water tank, could pump only 1,000 gallon of water a minute, and had required several repairs in the last few years. The old pumper will be adopted by Southfield for use as a reserve pumper.

However, since the Farms fire department has only one pumper, one aerial ladder truck, one utility van, and one ambulance, it is necessary for all the equipment to be in top condition, Chief Beaupre pointed out.

The fire chief also mentioned that the Farms would have to look into the purchase of a new aerial ladder fire truck, since the present one has been in use since 1951.

But for now, the Farms fire department has its hands full breaking in the new custom-built Seagrave pumper truck. Chief Beaupre hopes to have the new truck in service by Friday, February 11, but asks Farms residents to come and see it in the station rather than summon a house call.

"We're all very proud of it," Chief Beaupre said. "It's liked by everybody."

More Building Done in Farms

John A. Defoe, Farms Director of Public Service, has submitted the building department report for 1971.

In contrast to 1970, there were no new business establishments built in the Farms during 1971. In 1970, both Jo Anne Fabrics and One Hour Martinizing Cleaners were built on Mack avenue, totaling $85,000 in building costs.

However, new residences showed an upswing, both in the number built and in the average cost of each dwelling. Seven houses were built in 1971, while only four new homes were built in 1970. The 1971 houses were built on the Farms streets of Chalfonte, Preston place, Fair Acres, Provincial, and Grosse Pointe boulevard.

There was also an increased number of business and home improvements, such as renovated interiors, additions, built-on family rooms, enclosed porches, and enlarged garages, in 1971. The Farms recorded 90 miscellaneous improvements in 1971, while recording only 74 for the year before.

Of the seven dwellings built in 1971, the combined value was $504,000, which averages out to $72,000 a home. This contrasts markedly to the $52,000 per house average of homes built in 1970. The 1970 homes were built on the Farms streets of Kercheval, Carmel lane, Allard, and Winthrop.

As for non-assessable building, 1971 totals $3,000,000, in contrast to the 1970 total of $30,000, even though each year only records one building project. The $3,000,000 represents South High's alterations and additions project, including the adding of classrooms onto the school's library structure. Last year's $30,000 project was building the Kerby Field shelter, located on the recreation field between Chalfonte and Mack.

VANDALS AT WORK

Farms Police Win Citation

Two members of the Farms police department, Philip Miglio and Johannes Winter, were recently cited by the Wayne County Circuit Court for their bravery when confronted with an armed suspect.

The incident had occurred on May 14, 1971, when Patrolmen Miglio and Winter were dispatched to a Farms street to quell a disorderly persons complaint. At the scene, as Patrolman Miglio exited the scout car, a drunken man pointed a loaded .45 automatic at the policeman.

Patrolman Miglio, recognizing that the man was in an unnatural state, informed Patrolman Winter not to shoot. The policemen then convinced the Farms resident to drop his gun.

The letter, from Judge Thomas J. Foley of Circuit Court, was addressed to Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber, and reads as follows:

"Recently this Court had occasion to handle a criminal matter wherein the facts reveal outstanding conduct and courage on the part of the two officers handling the actual arrest of a defendant.

"Officers Philip Miglio and Johannes Winter while facing a loaded revolver in the hands of a person under the influence of alcohol did disarm the defendant and make the arrest without harm to the defendant.

"The self-control and restraint exercised by the officers, who disregarded their own safety, should be highly commended.

"It is my purpose in writing that this outstanding police work be given due recognition, and that some permanent record of this achievement be made part of the officers' file."

The Farms officially recognized the bravery of the two policemen who risked their lives, by giving each man a departmental citation for valor and a day off.

Refreshments will be served in the Crystal Ballroom by Mrs. William T. Krebs, Mrs. Edwin G. McLean and Miss Ester Porter following the program.

He will discuss the use of modern fertilizers, insecticides, and fungicides in greenhouse plant production.

A question and answer period will follow the presentation.

The Park Police Department received a report Wednesday, February 2, from William Nichols, Jr., 1321 Yorkshire, that someone had taken a tape recorder, valued at $104, from his home. The theft apparently occurred on December 29 after a house party.

Youths Cause Crashes

The Farms police recorded three accidents in The Farms on Sunday, January 30. Two of the accidents were caused by youths unfamiliar with the handling of an automobile, and the third was caused by a youth failing to stop for a stop light.

The first accident was a result of David Wojciechowski, 18, 16282 Eastbourne, allowing a 15-year-old girl to drive his car even though she was not a licensed driver. As the girl was turning south onto Provencal from Kercheval, she lost control of the car and the vehicle jumped the curb and rammed into a pole. The time of the accident was set at 4:45 p.m.

Wojciechowski was transported to St. John Hospital by the Farms Fire Department ambulance. He was treated and released, and now faces a charge of allowing an unlicensed person to drive. His court date is Wednesday, February 23.

The girl, who was not hospitalized, has been charged with driving without a license and careless driving.

The second accident happened less than an hour after the Provencal crash. A father was allowing his 15-year-old daughter to drive with her learner's permit, and she misjudged the turn at Moross and Lakeshore and struck a vehicle waiting at the light, broadside.

The woman whose car was hit identified herself as Mrs. Hedwig Mierzwinski, 5014 Garvin, Detroit. Neither she nor her two children were injured in the accident.

No charges were pressed, since the 15 year old girl had a learner's permit and her father had a valid Michigan license.

A third accident occurred at the Mack and Moross intersection at 9:54 p.m. when Ronald M. Boehn, 17, 20020 Kingsville, Detroit, traveling east on Mack failed to stop for the red light. He was struck by Gary M. Strobl, 19, 22160 Mauer, St. Clair Shores, attempting to cross Mack travelling north on Moross.

No injuries resulted from the collision.

Hardly anyone can answer this question about the FBI:

Who was the FBI director BEFORE J. Edgar Hoover?

The answer is William J. Burns.

Incidentally, many people are surprised to learn that the FBI was not founded until 1908. Stanley W. Finch was its first director. He was succeeded by A. Bruce Bielaski in 1912. William J. Flynn took over in 1919 and Burns in 1921. Hoover was appointed FBI head in 1924 when he was only 29 years old.

And, here's another interesting fact . . . for warmth, for comfort and for beauty more and more people are using carpeting for kitchens, basements, etc. It's a great new decorator look. Come see our selection.

Higbie Realty Company Acquires Maxon Brothers

The acquisition of Maxon Brothers, Inc., real estate firm, by the Higbie Realty Company has been announced by Hugo S. Higbie of Provençal road, owner of the company.

Mr. Higbie entered the real estate business at the age of 21 in July 1948. He joined the firm of Sweeney & Moore, Inc. after his graduation from Williams College. He was with Sweeney & Moore as sales manager and officer until the year 1967—a firm that along with general brokerage was prominent in the development of many Grosse Pointe subdivisions such as Torrey, Fairholme, Renaud road, Waverly Preston place, Park lane, Tomman cour, Warner, Stephens road, and the property surrounding the Country Club of Detroit.

Mr. Higbie has always been very active in the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board—having served many years as treasurer and president. In 1967 he formed his own firm—the Higbie Realty Company located at 84 Kercheval.

On February 1, 1972 he purchased Maxon Brothers, Inc. and renamed the joined firms Higbie Maxon, Inc. For the present, they will occupy the two offices on either side of Kercheval avenue—83 and 84 with the anticipation at a future date to combine the new firm under one roof.

Paul and Richard L. Maxon started in business January 1, 1929, eight months before the great panic of that year. As home sales fell off to near zero, with the closing of the banks, the home rental business assumed boom proportions. Although commissions on rentals were very small, still the aggregate pulled the new firm through the lean years.

The firm started as a partnership located in the Hammond Building where the National Bank now stands. From there the fledgling firm moved into the vacant rectory of old Christ Church of which Dr. William D. Maxon, the father of the real estate Maxons, had been rector for 30 years until January 1, 1933.

When the partnership, now with two or three salesmen, moved to Grosse Pointe, about 1934, it was the only firm in Grosse Pointe properties that had its main office

Police Catch AWOL Marine

Harold Ray Bailey, 23800 Rein, East Detroit, an AWOL Marine, was picked up by City police officers Sergeant Duncan MacEachern and patrolman Dave Teolis, on Wednesday, February 2, at 3:30 a.m., when they saw Bailey lose control of his car as he made a left turn from westbound Kercheval onto northbound Cadieux.

Bailey's car left the roadway, skipped over the curb, veered back into the roadway, fishtailing all the way according to MacEachern and Teolis, who said driving conditions were icy and hazardous at the time, and that Bailey was traveling too fast.

Bailey was stopped at Cadieux north of Mack. He was unable to produce a driver's license or registration. A check through the LEIN machine revealed that Bailey's license had been suspended until March 8, 1972. He was issued two violations, one for careless driving, drinking involved, and one for driving on a suspended license.

He appeared before City Municipal Judge Douglas L. Paterson. Bailey pled guilty, was found guilty, of driving on a suspended license and fined $100. He pled not guilty to careless driving, was found guilty, fined $25, and sent to jail for three days.

City police were asked to detain Bailey until the Marine Corps could send a man to pick him up. He had been absent without leave for 42 days.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Pepper Whitelaw

The curtain's going up on Friday, February 18, at Players Playhouse on The Theatre Arts Club of Detroit's second performance of the season. Showtime is set for 1:30 o'clock. Pointers have been busy with scripts, sets, props, lighting, costuming, make-up, music and rehearsals.

Script chairman, Mrs. John H. Mueller, and her committee, Mrs. Edward W. Johnson, Mrs. Julian G. McIntosh, Mrs. Leslie C. Putnam and Mrs. Alex M. Stirling, are sure they have two real "winners" in the one-act plays they have selected.

AND music director, Mrs. Joseph N. Jennings promises a special treat featuring Mrs. A. W. Lung-erhausen, harpsichordist and Mrs. Edward Mahoney, violinist, who will play a sonata for the musical interlude.

The show will open with "Overtones," a play by Alice Gerstenberg, that has an exciting story line . . . two women competing for the love of one man while in constant conflict with their alter egos. Mrs. Stirling is directing this one. Playing starring roles are Mesdames Paul M. Koch, James E. Tompkins, J. Charles Markley, Jr. and William Hawkins.

The afternoon will close on a note of intrigue with Jean Pierson Jenkins' play, "Out of Character," directed by Edwin H. Foersterling, and featuring Mrs. Henry R. Klein, Mrs. J. W. Mills, Mrs. Kenneth P. Locke and Mrs. John B. Hastings.

Miss Keller Bride Of Paul Merline

Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Reception Follows Evening Rites; Pair Will Make Their Home in St Clair Shores

Our Lady Queen of Peace Church was the setting for the wedding of Susan Elise Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keller of Huntington boulevard, and Paul D. Merline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Merline, of Bournemouth road.

The 8 o'clock rites Friday evening, January 28, at which Father Donald MacLennan presided were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

When the newlyweds left for a vacation in Jamaica, at Montego Bay, the bride was wearing a long-sleeved dress of red and blue polka-dotted polyester. They will be at home in St. Clair Shores after February 5.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of ivory silk organza and Alencon lace, fashioned with a long train. A matching Camelot cap caught her bouffant illusion veil.

She carried a cascade of baby's-breath, roses, purple statice and ivy, as did her attendants, honor maid Susan LaDuke, of Rochester, in a frock fashioned with a purple crepe bodice and multi-colored pink, gold and white chiffon-over-taffeta skirt, and bridesmaids Donna Louwers and Janet Reid, in similar gowns with hot pink crepe bodices.

Best man was Jay C. Kaiser. Ushering were John Moran, James Defever and the bride's brother, Tom Keller. Joseph Defever was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of emerald chiffon and pinned green orchids to her purse. The bridegroom's mother selected a long gown of gold silk and orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's cousin, Mrs. John Busch, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mrs. William Kalb, of Trumbull, Conn.

the National colors of Poland, amid handcarved heraldic crests of Polish cities. An evening of polkas and waltzes will be furnished by Stanley Adomus and his orchestra. The Polish Women's Alliance Group will perform traditional folk dances under the direction of Angeline Skorski and the Wawel Dancing Ensemble.

Assistance League Crystal Ball Feb. 19

Spring Flowers and Crystal Chandeliers Will Provide the Setting for Gala Affair at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will sparkle with crystal chandeliers on Saturday, February 19, when members of the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Clinic celebrate their Fifth Annual Crystal Ball.

The committees have been busy for many months in preparation for this black tie event and none more so than Mrs. Frank Germack, Jr., chairman of the decorations committee. Along with her co-chairman, Mrs. Charles Lamb, and their committee, they will transform the ballroom and foyer into a French country garden.

They enlisted the help of talented floral designer, Donald Jensen, who will deliver daffodils, iris and acacia by the truckload and lend his skill and artistry to the metamorphosis of the Yacht Club. A gazebo decorated with fresh spring flowers will grace the foyer and the grand staircase will be flanked with still more flowers carrying the blue yellow color theme into the ballroom. Illuminated topiary trees will grace the room and huge artificial daffodils will adorn the crystal chandeliers.

General chairmen of the event, Mrs. Roy Leinweber, and co-chairman, Mrs. Harry Redman, promise a really fun evening for all the Clinic's volunteers and their guests while, at the same time, raising funds for the Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Glancy Jr. will be on hand to greet guests at their beautiful Lakeshore road home where they will host a pre-Ball cocktail party for patrons ($100 a couple). League president, Barbara Boyce and her husband, Dr. Charles Boyce, will join the Glancys and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Maschmeyer for this 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock event, after which guests will go to the Yacht Club.

The cocktail hour will begin at 8 o'clock followed by dinner at 9 o'clock which will be strictly French gourmet. Dinner will be served at tables resplendent with French wrought iron candelabras entwined with fresh cut daffodils. Continuous music will be provided throughout the evening with two bands—the Jerry Fenby Five and vocalist Lyn Campbell and the Hank Warren Quartet.

Mrs. Robert Vallee is the arrangements chairman. Mrs. John Elias is keeping her party favors firmly under her "chapeau" until the night of February 19. Invitations have been sent by Mrs. Arthur Pfannschmidt and Mrs. Girard F. Smith while Mrs. William Johnson is being kept very busy taking care of the reservations.

Mrs. LeRoy Deola will be handling the acknowledgments and Mrs. John W. Fleck is in charge of the programs. Other chairmen are Miss Gertrude Draves, entertainment; Mrs. Mark Valente, reception; and Mrs. Joseph F. Dillon, publicity.

PAUL H. TOWNSEND, JR., of Lakeland avenue, has been elected to the board of trustees at Hutzel Hospital. MRS. JOHN N. FAILING, of Cloverly road, chairman of the board, and DR. ROBERT E. MACK, president, jointly made the announcement.

Data Available On 'Crib Death'

Each year approximately 10,000 apparently healthy, thriving children die from Sudden Infant Death Syndrome, more commonly called "crib death."

Although there is no way at present to either predict or prevent this Syndrome the needless guilt feelings suffered by virtually every family member of a SIDS victim can be alleviated by having proper information about the Syndrome made immediately available to them.

The National Foundation for Sudden Infant Death, Inc., 1501 Broadway, New York, New York 10036, was founded by parents who wanted to eliminate the tragic aftermath and often inhuman treatment experienced by families of SIDS victims. Through public education it is their hope that every parent unfortunate enough to lose a child to this Syndrome will be treated with dignity and know that he is in no way responsible for the child's death. At present the Foundation has 17 Chapters throughout the country. Many more are in formation. Mrs. Ronald Eschenburg, of Bedford road, is president of the Michigan Chapter.

Questers Meet Friday, Feb. 11

Early American lighting will be the subject of a talk given by Mrs. J. P. Stuart, of McMillan road, for the Grand Marais chapter of Questors, on Friday, Feb. 11, in the McKinley avenue home of Mrs. J. E. Schutte.

Members will bring examples from their own collections to illustrate Mrs. Stuart's talk.

Tomorrow is a reflection—a reflection of what you do today.

Vera Zorina Will Narrate

Stage, screen and concert star Vera Zorina heads a list of guests who will appear with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in Arthur Honegger's large-scale dramatic oratorio "Joan of Arc at the Stake." The work will comprise the entire Detroit Symphony program to be conducted by Sixten Ehrling, this Thursday and Saturday evening, February 10 and 12, at 8:30 in Ford Auditorium.

"Joan of Arc at the Stake" calls for a large assemblage of performers — narrators, vocal soloists, mixed chorus, children's choir and full orchestra. The Detroit Symphony has never before scheduled the work, which was written in 1935.

Vera Zorina will narrate the role of Joan of Arc. It is the same role that led to a career as a concert stage narrator for Miss Zorina. She was invited by the late conductor Artur Rodzinski to create the role for the American premiere of the work in 1946 and since then has been praised as the leading interpreter of the oratorio. The Detroit performances will be given in English. Other participants will include the Reverend James Dockery, S.J. in a narrator's role. Also vocal soloists Roberta Alexander, soprano; Trudie Stevenson, soprano; Rosemary Russell, contralto; Waldie Anderson, tenor; John Martins, tenor; and Daniel Berry, bass baritone. Also the University of Michigan Choir, Maynard Klein, director, in its first Detroit Symphony appearances, and the Boy Choir of Christ Church, Episcopal, Grosse Pointe, Edgar Billups, director.

Tickets are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office (961-0700), all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores.

Alliance Francaise Plans Luncheon at Little Club

The next event on the calendar of the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe will be a treat for French-speaking Pointers and local students of the language. M. Jean Beaulieu, French Cultural Attache in Chicago, will speak on Friday, February 18, in French at the Alliance's 12:30 o'clock luncheon at the Little Club. His subject will be "Woman in the Fables of LaFontaine".

Jean de LaFontaine was a seventeenth century French poet, author of comedies and opera books, who attained his greatest fame with his fabulous fables. This masterpiece, a collection of about 230 tales, earned the writer a place in his country's literary history next to Racine and Moliere.

M. Beaulieu, who will deliver the interesting and updated slant on LaFontaine, has had wide international experience as a teacher and in the service of his government. He taught philosophy in London, England, and Vienna, Austria; was guest lecturer at the University of Hamburg, Germany, and director of that city's French Institute.

M. Beaulieu was also with the Cultural Relations division of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. From 1968 to 1971 he was cultural advisor to the French embassy in Sofia, Bulgaria. He assumed his Chicago post in September of last year. While here he will be the house guest of Alliance president Warren S. Wilkinson.

Mrs. R. H. Axson, a member of the entertainment committee of the local Alliance, is chairman of the Little Club luncheon. Among the guests will be M. Jacques Dircks-Dilly, Consul General of France, and Mme. Dircks-Dilly.

DYC Officers' Ball Is A TV Super-Gala

Marriachis Play Until 4 in the Morning in Honor of New Commodore George Menendez, of Westchester Road

The 1972 Detroit Yacht Club Officers' Ball was a smashing success, with over 600 members and guests attending one of the most colorful, entertaining, "fun" parties in the Club's recent history.

The Ball took on an international flavor Saturday, January 22, when new Commodore George Menendez took over as head of the world's largest yacht club.

Commodore Menendez is the present Legal Advisor to the Consulate of Mexico, and in his honor the entire clubhouse was ablaze with lights, bunting, flowers, favors and ribbons, all coordinated in the national colors of Mexico: Green, white and red.

A huge lighted "M" was hoisted atop the flagpole in the center circle of the Club's entrance.

The decorations were selected and placed under the direction of entertainment chairman Edwin Joswick and Mrs. Joswick.

Other officers honored and installed were Vice-Commodore Charles M. Dawes, Rear Commodore Wayne Dupuis, Secretary Donald H. McIver, Treasurer Ernest R. Switzer, Fleet Surgeon Dr. Wilfred A. Huegli and Fleet Measurer Donald M. Pederson.

Fleet Captain John D. Fife was forced to miss the festivities because of illness.

Commodore Menendez squired his daughter, Mrs. Martin G. Chapin, III, who served as her father's official hostess. Diane Chapin looked magnificent in an Eloise Curtis for Happenstance figurehugging design, a silver-sequined gown reflecting the current entrance of China on the world political scene in its high mandarin collar and the colorful dragon woven in its bodice sequin pattern.

Vice-Commodore Dawes was proud to present his wife, Rosemary in coral chiffon with "dyed to match" slippers, while a sunshine yellow costume designed for her by the Boulevard Salon was the choice of Josephine Dupuis who stood with her Rear Commodore.

Among the many Pointers attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Breidan, Mr. and Mrs. John Marsh, Commodore and Mrs. Thomas Tompkins, Commodore Al Grundy and Mrs. John Trost, Mr. and Mrs. Denis DeSantis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fires, Mrs. John Theuerkorn, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Theuerkorn and Commodore and Mrs. William Cohan.

Club Director Herman Johnson and his petite wife, Ceil, were much in evidence during the festivities along with Director and Mrs. Walter Karal, Director and Mrs. Robert Wallace, Director and Mrs. Don Baker, Director and Mrs. Robert VanCleave, Director and Mrs. Robert A. Cousino, Director and Mrs. Richard Klatz and Director and Mrs. James G. Miller.

The entire Ball was covered by closed-circuit color telecasting and video-tape, a "first" in the history of this affair.

Television authorization was granted to Club mem-

NORTHEAST GUIDANCE CENTER

The narrow sign on the two-toned cubed building reads "Northeast Guidance Center." The edifice on the southeast corner of Warren Avenue and Harvard has aroused the curiosity of some who wonder, "What do they do there?"

The Center on Warren is devoted to the mental and emotional health needs of the community it serves. It encompasses northeast Detroit, the Grosse Pointes, and Harper Woods. Vastly different programs provide service to the very poor as well as to the very rich. Service area of the Center is bounded by Gratiot and Conner, Eight Mile Road and Lake St. Clair. The Keating-Stark Branch located on East Jefferson near Dickerson, offers direct services to families and indirect services to agencies in that area.

Prevention of mental and emotional breakdown is the aim of the Center's indirect services to community leaders. Assistance is extended through consultation to school teachers and counselors, to nursery school staff members, to those who deal directly with children . . . the doctors, police, probation officers, for example. In-service education is available not only to teachers, but to college students majoring in social work and psychology.

Family counseling service answers a call for help when a third party may clarify a stress situation. Advocacy is for the child in particular. Turmoil is related not only within oneself, but with struggles with school, police and institutions which affect our lives so deeply. Families are helped in their endeavors to do a better job, to relate to their community and to the institutions of our society.

Contact is made with the Warren Center by a simple call to 886-3566; or to the Branch at 822-8440. Both day and night clinics are scheduled. Parent and child are seen by a professional staff member who interviews them. If necessary, other sources are researched. All information is confidential. Treatment is determined after consultation and testing. Each is different and requires its own special treatment.

Both Centers with competent staff provides individual psychotherapy or group therapy, and tutoring programs. Referrals may come from schools, doctors, parents or various community agencies. Those under 18 must eventually involve parents or guardians.

Fees are based on the family's ability to pay, taking into consideration the income, the family hardships. Fees may be discussed freely with the worker. No family is refused because of inability to pay.

The Director of the Northeast Guidance Center is Dr. Eli Z. Rubin. Dr. William J. Rowell is Coordinator of Consultation and Education, and Dr. Milan Marjarov is the Coordinator of Clinical Services. Mr. Wayne Plakmeyer is the Supervisor of the Keating-Stark Branch.

The Center provides comprehensive community health care for the eastside with continuity of care, integrating preventive, diagnostic treatment and aftercare.

reach out . . . reach out into the community

DRUG SCENE

"It frightens me . . ."

"I don't like it, but I don't know what to do about it!"

"How do you fight it?"

If you are a television watcher you've heard and seen this public service announcement about the drug problem. It reminds us that many citizens from divergent backgrounds are vitally concerned with the wide-spread use of drugs. The increase in drug use has touched every facet of our society, rich, middle-income and poor alike.

Northeast Guidance Center and the Keating-Stark Branch are professional facilities in the midst of eastside Detroit, providing drug counseling, treatment, and rehabilitation services. The Center has been cooperating with Marine Hospital out-patient drug treatment. Now the Center, through its Keating-Stark Branch, is assuming comprehensive service in a satellite program with the hospital. Overall planning involves the transfer of out-patient facilities to ten such satellite units in Wayne County, with Marine Hospital acting as medical monitor and handling in-patient care on the eastside. The goal is to divert to community control.

The mental health program at the Center offers service to users of marijuana, lsd and other drugs. In the new program for heroin addicts, treatment will include methadone as needed. There will be heavy emphasis on group treatment which has been so successful in encouraging some to use individual therapy. Family assistance, job counseling and rehabilitation are also program components.

The Branch which will house the stepped-up program is at the threshold of hiring staff. A professional service worker will supply direction. Three para-professionals and a practical nurse will complete the staff for the present, but more will be added as required. For the most part, these workers will be drawn from the Jefferson-Chalmers district.

Center Director Dr. Eli Rubin advises they are cognizant of the need to provide additional service for the increased demands prompted by drug abuse. The satellite operation is ostensibly for the entire northeast service area, but the target now is the community in the Jefferson-Chalmers vicinity.

Dedicated groups within the community are attempting to solve the drug problem, and they contribute significantly. Eventually, however, the various organizations realize the necessity for professional aid and direction. Backup service is furnished the Youth Service Division of the Grosse Pointe Police and for CENTER POINT, the crisis center in the Pointes. There is liaison with the new Balduck Park Community Service Organization crisis center called INSIGHT.

The root causes for use and addiction call for expertise and experience with emotional and mental health. Our local Centers, Northeast Guidance and Keating-Stark, answer with professional assistance.

KEATING-STARK BRANCH

Reaching out to meet the needs of residents on Detroit's east side is the Keating-Stark Branch of the Northeast Guidance Center. Located on East Jefferson near Dickerson, the Branch provides a wide range of other services. Problems may concern drugs, housing, learning, or family emergencies.

Specifically, in the past, priority was given to residents living in an area bounded by Clairpointe on the west to Eastlawn on the east, Jefferson on the north to the Detroit River on the south. There has been much activity here this year. Recent action has extended Branch services to include the Jefferson-Chalmers area to Alter Road. No longer is it exclusive to the Keating and Stark school boundaries.

Under the supervision of Wayne Plakmeyer, the Branch is a neighborhood center where individuals may simply want to talk with someone. The staff, familiar with the community, are available to listen. Group meetings for children and adults afford an opportunity for people to help each other. On the Staff are three para-professionals, a social worker, three consultants: a psychologist, a psychiatrist and group social worker. More staff will be added as needed as the drug program is transferred from the Mental Health and Drug Abuse Center (Marine Hospital).

The pulse of the community, its attitudes and conflicts are through the Citizens Advisory Board. This group consists of delegates from various organizations within the community, chosen by their members to serve on the Advisory Board. They study problems, program development, policies, personnel. After their review, recommendations come to the Guidance Center Board via the Advisory Board representative who attends the Board meetings. Center Board members who are residents of the Keating-Stark, Jefferson-Chalmers area are Mr. Bronson Gentry, Mrs. Frances Lawrence, and Mr. Charles E. Marrs.

A new family had moved into the neighborhood. This happened to be a family on welfare and their house was badly in need of repair. There was no money for a stove or refrigerator. The parents reached out for some help. The Branch went to bat for them and helped them make the necessary contacts from the agencies. This is just one way in which staff of both Warren and Keating-Stark branches can be helpful.

Each problem is reviewed carefully and appropriate assistance is offered. Branch Center's fees are based on ability to pay. No person is refused because of inability to pay.

A Keating-Stark picture story

BALDUCK INVOLVEMENT

When we talk of community involvement, outreach, concern, there is perhaps no better example than the Northeast Guidance Center's response to the Balduck Community Organization's cry for help.

Balduck Park, June, 1971. Headline news in all Detroit and suburban papers. High temperatures and restless kids proved too volatile a combination when drugs moved into the scene. Many arrests were made in spite of efforts by community youth and adults to calm the chaos.

Temperatures cooled and so did tempers, but Balduck neighborhood leaders wanted something to positively answer the needs of their restless youth. Area churches were the first to respond and in July a committee was formed.

From discussion and research came the plans for INSIGHT, to be a crisis intervention drop-in center with ancillary services to the youth community. By November Michael Hazelton and Mark Rjce were chosen to organize and train volunteer staff; within two months sixty high school age volunteers were meeting weekly, with a staff nucleus gathering almost daily to set their center's policy and projects.

The response of the community youth, who live in an area approximately bounded by Mack to Seven Mile to Harper to Six Mile, has been so encouraging that the Balduck Community Board of Directors, led by a very committed Brother Charles Daly of Bishop Gallagher High School, has taken forceful steps to assure that INSIGHT can become reality.

When the Northeast Guidance Center was asked to help the fledgling organization, its response was typically positive. In addition to providing occasional meeting space for the staff, whose present temporary location is the Zion Methodist Church on Chandler Park Dr., the Guidance Center has offered its full range of services on a referral basis.

Dr. William Rowell of the Guidance Center's staff has personally responded to the Balduck community's need for a youth center by accepting a position on INSIGHT'S board of directors. Dr. Rowell's board involvement will serve to further cement those ties between community youth, community guidance center and community adults.

INSIGHT is still a dream. A permanent location must be chosen for its center. Operating funds are desperately required. It is because INSIGHT can fulfill a definite community need that the Guidance Center is so committed to helping make INSIGHT the reality that will prevent a Balduck Park conflagration in 1972.

Balduck could be the Marakesh or Tijuana of Grosse Pointe to its youth in 1972, just as it was in 1971. Anyone interested in helping INSIGHT with time, talent and funding is invited to contact Brother Charles Daly at Bishop Gallagher.

And a woman who held a babe against her bosom said, Speak to us of Children.

*And he said:
Your children are not your children.
They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself.*

They come through you but not from you,

And though they are with you yet they belong not to you.

You may give them your love but not your thoughts,

For they have their own thoughts.

You may house their bodies but not their souls.

For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.

For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth.

The archer sees the mark upon the path of the infinite, and He bends you with His might that His arrows may go swift and far.

Let your bending in the archer's hand be for gladness;

For even as He loves the arrow that flies, so He loves also the bow that is stable.

It is my pleasure as President of the Board of Directors of the Northeast Guidance Center, to extend sincere thanks to members of the Center Board, to members of the Community Advisory Committee of our Keating-Stark Branch, to the Assistance League, and to the many individuals who have supported us.

Not long after the Center began in December 1963, a group of women committed to the goals of the Center, started the Assistance League. The purposes of this organization are "to further the interests of the Northeast Guidance Center by securing friends and financial support for it, to encourage both appreciation and enthusiasm for its value to the community which it serves, and to assist its Board of Directors..." True to this commitment, the Assistance League has been of ever-increasing importance.

We are fortunate to have on our Board of Directors dedicated citizens who represent varied segments of the community. They have a sincere interest in support services that help children and their families attain fuller, more satisfying lives. Our Board provides counsel and direction to our staff of mental health workers and professional personnel.

Individual support is of major importance. One of the necessary functions of our Board is to provide funds as a local base to those mental health dollars that come to us from the State. In order to obtain State funds sufficient to deliver a service of this magnitude to our area, we must produce these community-based funds. Your individual Annual General Membership in the Center is a significant way to help the development of adequate services to meet the needs for community mental health. We encourage your participation in the General Membership Drive each year. All community support of the Center is augmented by State funds which match our donations in the ratio of three to one.

For the first time, members of our State government are hearing from this community regarding mental health needs! The Northeast Guidance Center has been the moving force in the formation of a Legislative Committee for Mental Health in Wayne County. This unique committee consists of every mental health organization in Wayne County that is founded through the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board.

We are optimistic and enthusiastic as we progress steadily toward the full development of services necessary to a complete mental health complex for this community. We have conviction that the community recognizes the value of our services and will support the Northeast Guidance Center.

Dr. Eli Rubin, as exuberant director of the Northeast Guidance Center, has had over 20 years training and experience in the field of children's mental health. With degrees from Boston University and Harvard, he has taught at Wayne State University, Brown and Boston University. His various publications treat learning and behavioral treatises on children. He served 12 years at the Lafayette Clinic and four years as Chief Psychologist at the Pendleton Bradley Home in Rhode Island.

At the latest meeting of the Board of Directors, Dr. Rubin gave an enthusiastic report of the activities of the Center. "People need help NOW! Our priority is to see people," he emphasized. He stated that referrals are seasonal. They build from September, reaching the peak number of cases in March and April. People are seen usually within one week of their request presently.

Mental health services are varied and exhibit the wide range offered by the Center. One is cooperation with a new community group, The Baldock Park Community Service Organization. Parent discussion groups within the community have recently begun. Adult aftercare program is in the planning stage and is seen as essential. Currently there is an attempt to decentralize the aftercare facility of the Ypsilanti State Hospital.

"We must take care of those in this area," asserts Dr. Rubin, "Ypsilanti is too far away." An alternative location is still uncertain and must be decided by the State Department of Mental Health.

Drug Program plans are continuing for the Center to assume the methadone program from Marine Hospital. Eventually, 10 satellite units in Wayne County will provide out-patient facilities, with Marine handling the in-patient care and acting as medical monitor.

Negotiations continue with Cottage Hospital to coordinate with the Center to combine psychiatric services. Cottage's new wing provides some beds for in-patient treatment for those who can pay. The Center wants to provide for those unable to pay.

How do you reach out into the community you seek to serve? The Center has embarked on a program of consultation with community agencies... the schools, churches, police, welfare offices, hospitals. Institutional advocacy stresses the requirement to be more responsive to the needs within the area.

"Maybe we can help them do a better job... to be more effective in their own endeavors as a part of the community," says Dr. Rubin hopefully.

"Our advocacy is for the child in particular. Their turmoil is related not only within themselves, but with institutions which affect their lives so deeply," he continues.

"We know kids are experimenting with drugs. Generally they are unhappy at home or in school. We serve as a backup for the Youth Service Division of the Grosse Pointe Police and Center Point, the crisis center in the Pointes.

"Mental health includes a broad range of services. Our interest is that when people in the northeast area are having problems, they know where to turn. We want them to know who we are... that there is help available."

There Is An Answer

Growing Up

A long difficult process... Pressure at home Demands at school Family and friends to play with or fight with... A whole SELF to define.

Problems Arise

A child might daydream excessively have nightmares or temper tantrums, be moody uncontrollably aggressive or he might lie, cheat or steal.

What Can His Parents Do?

If discovered and treated in time these problems can be cured. Any child under 18 years of age living in the Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods, northeastern Detroit, is eligible to receive service at the Center.

The Procedure

The parent (or guardian) must call the Center and give a brief description of the problem. In an emergency situation, an appointment is arranged immediately. Otherwise, the appointment is made as soon as possible to talk over the problem with a staff member.

Then What Happens?

The child's parents must work closely with the Center. Parents are required to come to the first interview. A history of the child, his problem is obtained. The Center staff may give him a number of tests.

All pertinent material is discussed and evaluated. All information is reported to the parents along with recommendations. All information is confidential.

Treatment

If treatment is recommended, a qualified staff person is assigned, and appointments arranged. Therapy is different for each child and his unique problems.

The Fees

A moderate fee is charged. The amount is determined by family income and obligations. No child is turned away or refused treatment because of inability to pay. No family is refused help.

A Guide Through the Center

After a phone call to the Northeast Guidance Center to arrange an appointment, parent and child check in at the information desk.

Who Comes to the Center?

One of the most frequently asked questions is, "Who comes to the Center?" Generally, those who are interested in the kinds of problems dealt with at the Center. A caller might wonder if his problem is severe enough to be considered. Our response is, "When the problem is of concern to the parents or to the child, and your own efforts to resolve it have failed, a third person with a broad experience can sometimes be helpful in finding a solution." A typical case illustrates the point.

Mark's mother called the Center recently upon the advice of a friend who had taken her child, and felt the worker had been helpful. Mrs. Williams had been struggling for several weeks, wondering what to do. Mark's school advisor informed her that he was daydreaming, not paying attention, visiting with others, and not completing his work. Mrs. Williams was pleased to learn that she would be seen within a week. Once she made up her mind to seek counseling, she wanted to get on with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Mark were interviewed by the psychologist at the Center. They focused on the basic problem relatively quickly. They shared with the psychologist something of Mark's earlier history. They related their own experiences with the other children, and the current problem as they saw it. They came to realize that Mark's problem was not a severe one. They were caught up in a vicious cycle. Mark felt unloved, misbehaved, was punished, misbehaved again, received more punishment, etc.

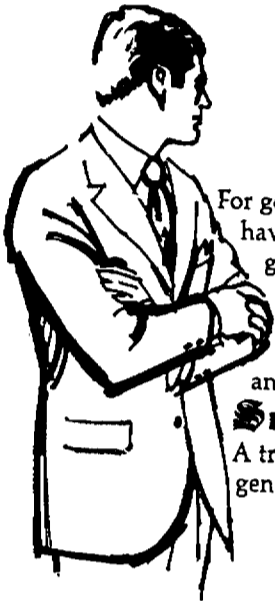

The first several interviews revealed that Mark was lonely and unhappy, like his mother. The father's work kept him away from home and family life. Resentments built up, yet it was impossible to express these feelings since the father was under considerable tension as well. They recognized that family security hinged on his job, and that he was undergoing a difficult time at work. It was obvious, however, that this tension was influencing parental response to each other as well as to Mark.

The Center worker helped them focus on the problem, relieve some of their tension. He assisted them in working out some solutions helpful to the family, and to the father himself who was feeling guilty about preoccupation with his work. They began to think of Mark's problem as a family one, needing all to work on it together. Father found short periods of time to do things with the family. Both parents made an effort to find things in Mark's behavior they could praise. They learned to tone down the punishment.

Within a few weeks Mark returned to his former self. He played with friends compatibly. He was happier and more enthusiastic about school. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, more pleased with themselves, came together around important issues in the family. They took pleasure in the fact that they were learning how to handle some of these problems themselves.

After five or six interviews, they talked of terminating their contact with the Center. They felt they were now on the right track. They knew they could come back if they had more difficulty. For now, they preferred to handle things themselves.

We Listen.
 In the next 12 months, 10 million Americans will buy a new car.

For most, that car—next to the house they buy—represents the biggest purchase of their life.

If you're one of those people—and you had difficulty answering any or all of the questions above—you're not alone. Most people can't. And for good reason. For years in this country, no one had to. Choice was limited; buying a car was easy. You bought a 2-door or a 4-door. And that was about it.

Today, with more than 40 different makes of domestic and imported cars on the market, with 400 different models and literally thousands of equipment combinations, buying a car can be pretty complicated.

Which is the reason Ford Motor Company has written a 144-page book called, "Car Buying Made Easier." And why over 175,000 people have written for it.

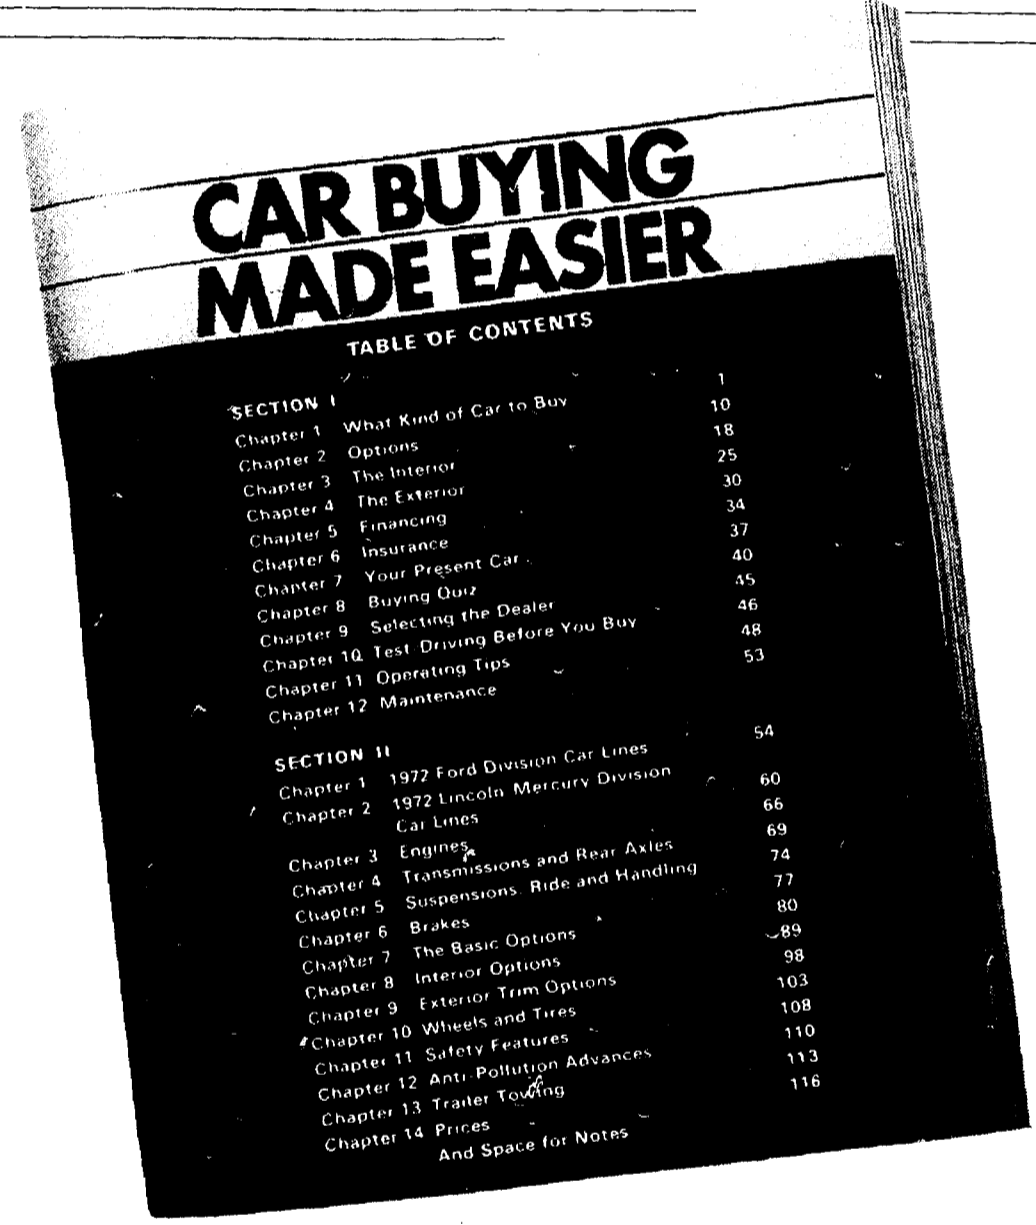

And if you plan to buy a new car in the year ahead, chances are you'll need it. Best of all, it's free.

Because we listen better, we think it's time you had more information to help you make the right car buying decision. If you agree, stay with us. The next few minutes may prove helpful.

THE BOOK NEEDED WRITING IS IT BIASED BECAUSE FORD WROTE IT?

To a degree—yes. As Ford Motor Company, we must confess a certain preference for our own products.

But to minimize the problem, we purposely divided the book into two sections. The first section of the book deals with cars in general, and the information it contains can be applied to Chevrolets, Plymouths and Cadillacs, as well as Lincolns, Mercurys and Fords. And it's as factual and informative as we could make it.

SECTION I
 How to buy the right car—even if it isn't one of ours.

Section I of "Car Buying Made Easier" is devoted to helping you determine the right car for you. It discusses everything from how to buy the right size and type of car, to how to select the right options. There are even chapters on insurance and financing. It covers subjects like these:

- Compacts vs. subcompacts—what are the real differences?
- How to buy only as much engine as you really need. (The range includes everything from 50 cu. in. "four's" to 500 cu. in. V-8's.)
- What you should know about axle ratios. (The right one can improve gas mileage.)
- How to decide on the right options. (Air conditioning can add a significant amount to the value of your car when you go to trade.)

that will test your car buying ability. A passing grade means more than a good mark—it means you're a smarter car buyer.

SECTION II
 A guide to 1972 Ford Motor Company cars.

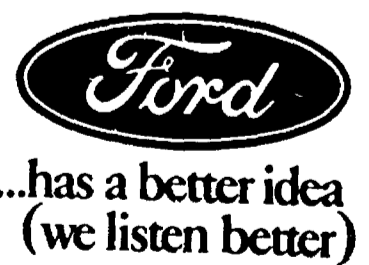

Section II is the "biased" part. It's devoted exclusively to Ford, Lincoln and Mercury automobiles. We wrote it because, frankly, we want your business—and we figure a little information might just do the trick. Hence, Section II is filled with detailed product information about every 1972 Ford, Lincoln and Mercury car.

- Here are just a few examples:
- All full- and intermediate-sized 1972 Fords, Lincolns and Mercurys carry a special energy-absorbing frame that is designed to reduce the shock of a head-on collision.
 - Most "automatic"-equipped Ford Motor Company cars feature improved transmission cooling.
 - Power disc brakes are now available on most Ford Motor Company cars.
 - Continental Mark IV, T-Birds, Torinos and Montegos feature new suspensions that improve ride and handling ability.
 - Air conditioning units on many Ford Motor Company cars run quieter because of a new vibration dampener on the compressor.
 - Long wearing radial-ply tires are available on many models.

You'll find complete details on these and other facts written in plain, simple English. There's also a page on prices. So that after you've put everything together, you'll have some idea about what it costs. The final section of the book will probably intrigue you. It's made up of blank space, so that you can compare Ford facts and specifications with those of General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors.

WE HAVE CONFIDENCE IN OUR PRODUCTS.
 We believe that if you become a smarter car buyer, we'll get our share of the business—and then some.

Do write for the book. While you're at it, let us know what's on your mind. Tell us how we can better serve you as a company.
 We listen. And we listen better.

The Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center extends special thanks to THE GROSSE POINTE NEWS

Assistance League Fun and Funds

For those eager to know what spring and summer fashions will be, on March 15 the League will sponsor a Walton-Pierce Fashion Show and Luncheon at the Detroit Athletic Club. MARIA VALENTE (MRS. MARK, JR.) is general chairman. Stunning feature of the show will be some of the Helga Regency collection which is to appear in the April issue of Town and Country magazine.

To help bring a more crystal-clear future to families with emotional and mental problems, this action oriented committee is finalizing plans for the black tie Crystal Ball to be held on February 19 at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Left to right, BEV LEINWEBER (MRS. ROY) is chairman; BARBARA BOYCE (MRS. CHARLES) is League President; CHARLOTTE MASCHMEYER (MRS. TROY W.) has accepted Honorary Chairman, and CHRISTINA REDMAN (MRS. HARRY) will assist as co-chairman. The evening will begin with a cocktail party in the Lakeshore Road home of MR. & MRS. ALFRED GLANCY, JR., for ($100) Ball Patrons.

A first time venture for the League, their Christmas Mini-Mart was profitable fruit for the Northeast Guidance Center. The miniature shopping arena was stocked with some 400 items, mostly handmade by members. Chairman JUDIE BEACH (MRS. WILLIAM), far right, displays one booth with assistants BETTY WALKER (MRS. LEE), BETH HARRISON (MRS. J.), and SHIRLEY CARR (MRS. RICHARD).

"Tennis and Games Night" offered a unique twist in fund raising. The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's new tennis house provided enthusiasts with bright indoor courts on a frigid January night. Card games in the clubhouse kept non-tennis buffs busy, and all enjoyed a late evening buffet. In tennis attire above were LUCY SCHEER (MRS. ALAN), BEVERLY LANGS (MRS. RICHARD), JOANNE HORNER (MRS. CHARLES), and VIRGINIA VALLEE (MRS. ROBERT), co-chairman, next to ANN DISSER (MRS. MICHAEL) Chairman.

Members of the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center are not just "club women!" Their purpose is to be informed and in turn keep the community informed concerning the problems of emotionally disturbed children, families and adults. Raising funds necessary for Center programs designed to promote mental health services is a vital function. Those who give, also receive for their effort, the reward and satisfaction of having helped those whose world is out of focus. In joining with others in a program relevant to the community, warm personal relationships are developed while participating in fund-raising functions and activities.

The need is now! Active members of The Assistance League are required to attend a minimum of two general meetings and actively work in at least two projects a year. Associate members are entitled to all privileges of the organization except voting, but are not required to work unless they choose to do so.

What could be more worthwhile? The Northeast Guidance Center is the major community mental health agency for the Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods, and Northeast Detroit, providing direct treatment services to children and their families, as well as consultation services to schools and agencies.

For information regarding the Assistance League, contact Mrs. Charles R. Boyce, President, at 499-0472.

Undercoating can cause rust.
Ziebart prevents it.

Undercoating dries out, cracks, and actually traps water against your car's chassis. This can cause rust.

That's why undercoating has been discontinued on most government fleets.

By contrast, both the Ziebart rustproofing sealant and patented application process have been qualified for use on major federal, municipal and corporate fleets.

So give your car the kind of protection that the big fleets get. Not undercoating. Ziebarting! It takes one day. And it's guaranteed. For 5 years or 50,000 miles.

Extraordinary car.

The 1972 Buick Riviera is no ordinary car.

It's the result of an idea that has appealed to man down through the ages. To set aside the preconceived and common. To begin free and fresh. To go far beyond the ordinary.

In Buick's case: to create an extraordinary car.

Riviera.

It's not a copy of any other car, anywhere. And it looks

it. As distinctively advanced outside as it is inside, where you sit in cockpit-luxury surrounded by your controls.

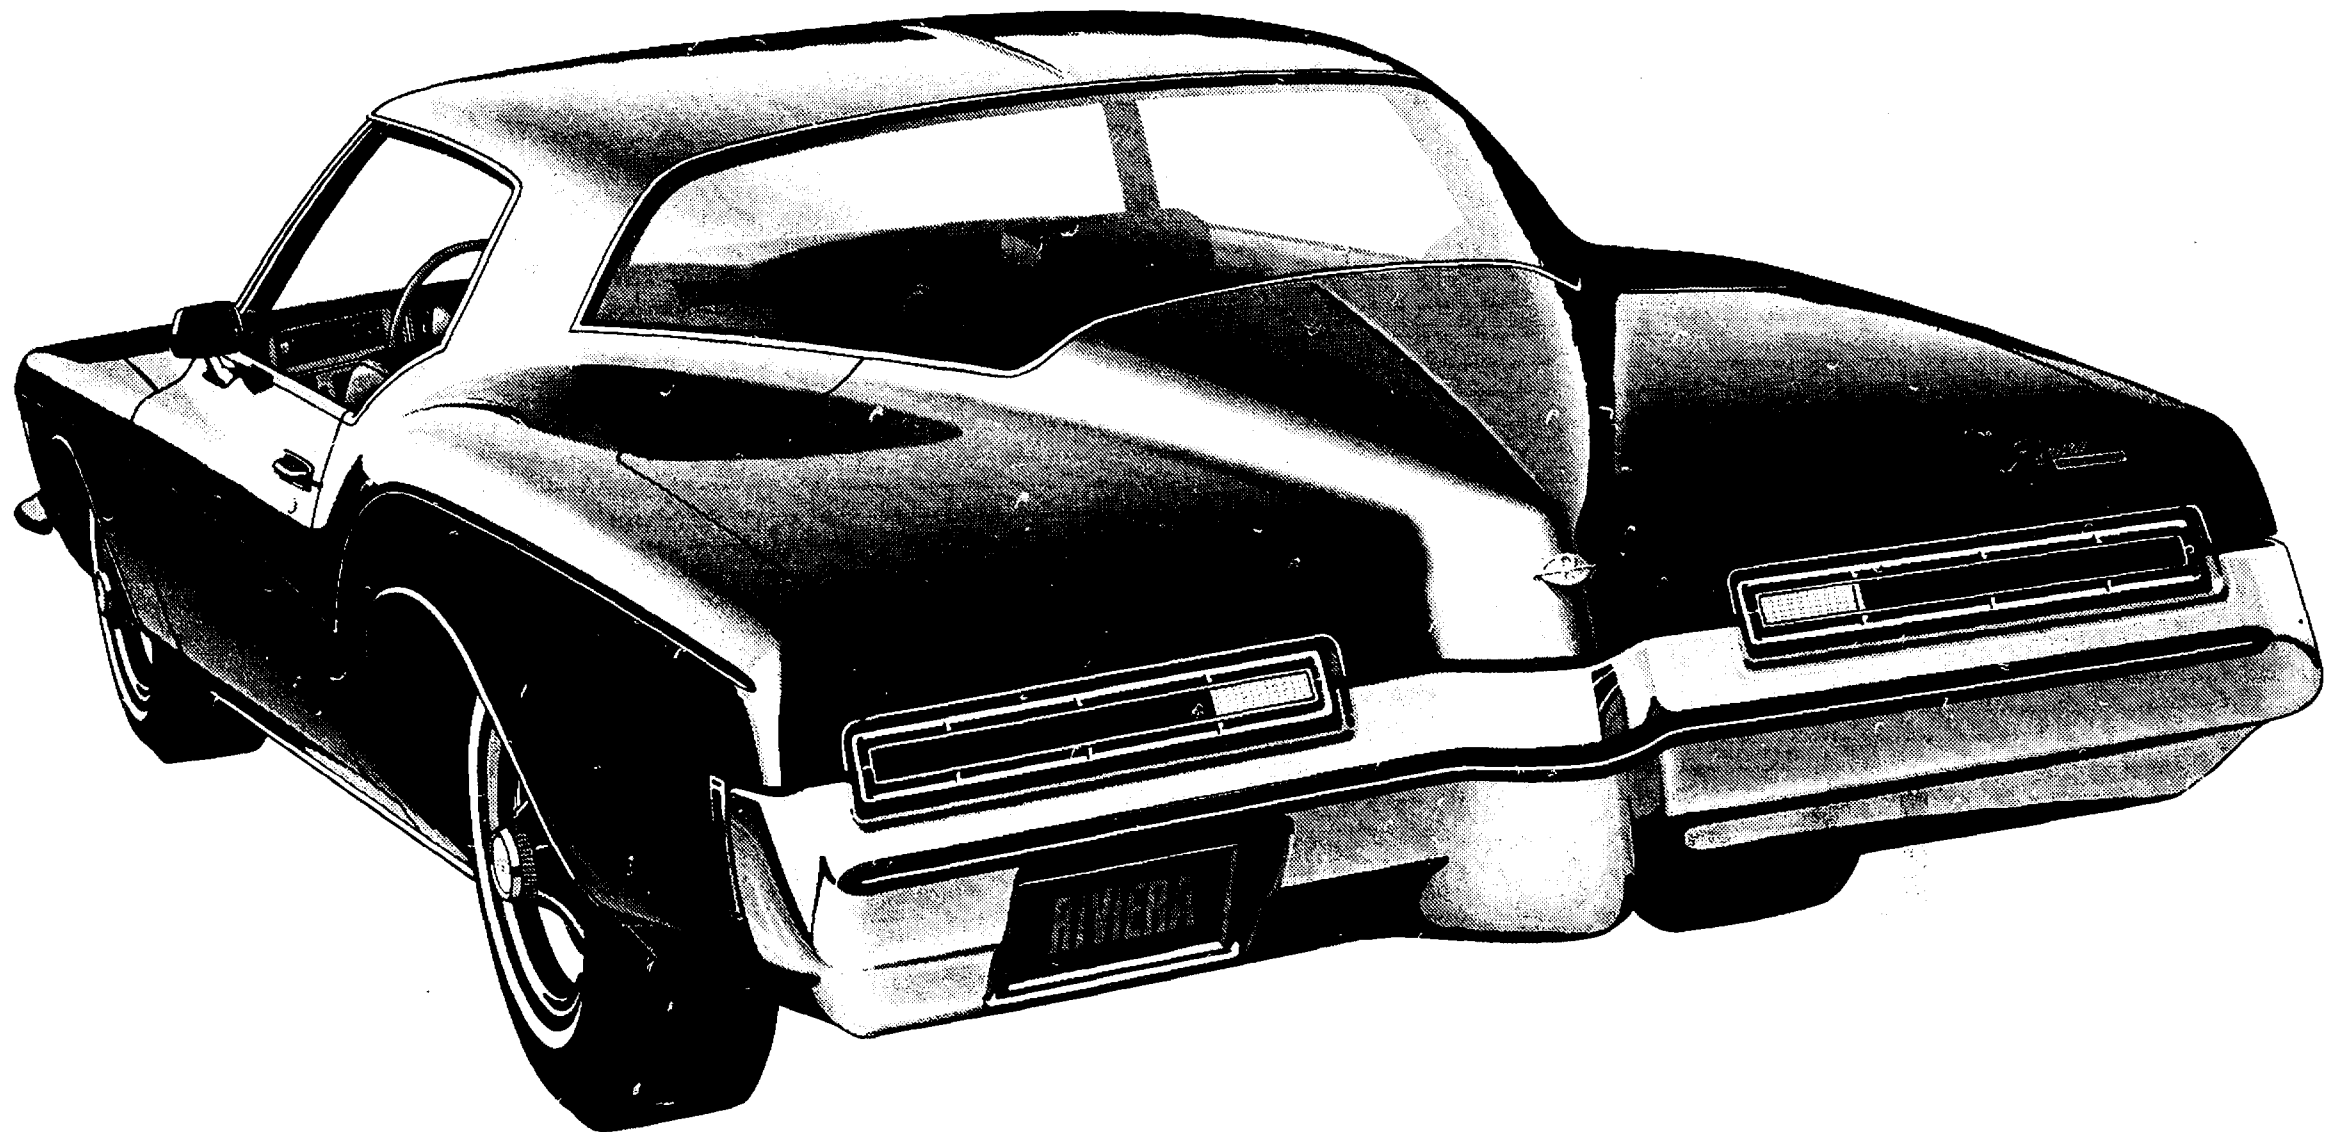

The ride and handling are those of one of the world's great personal cars. With Buick's AccuDrive to help keep you smooth and straight on rough roads, in heavy cross winds.

Front power disc brakes. Variable ratio power steering. A 455-cubic-inch V8 engine. Turbo Hydra-matic transmission. All standard.

You've never test-driven anything like a 1972 Buick Riviera. Which is why you should do it soon.

It's a copy of nothing. Nothing extraordinary would be.

1972 Buick Riviera. Something to believe in.

The Keating-Stark Branch . . . Pulse of the Community

★ Parent Group Conferences

ANN SMITH, receptionist, takes calls and makes appointments. She is also a community health worker who consults with girls in their early teens.

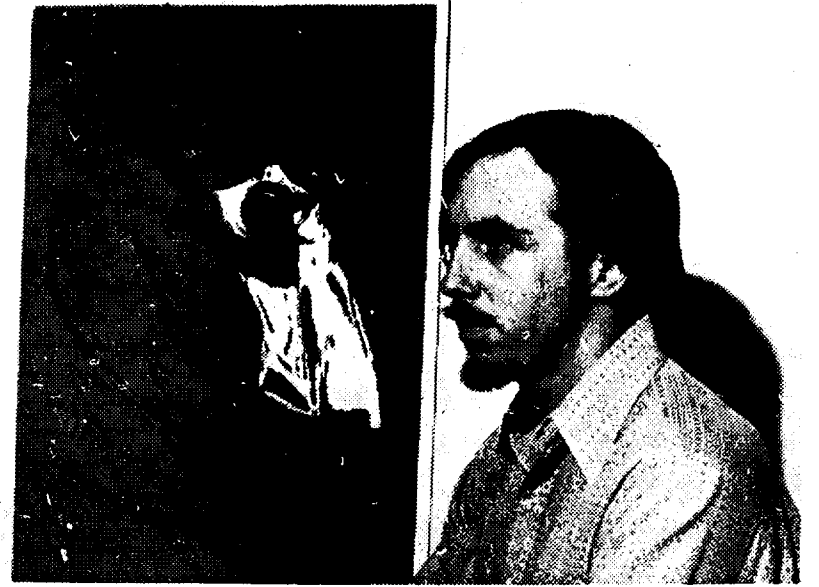

"Say, do you know what Johnny did last night . . .!" When parents get together, conversation usually gravitates to discussion of offspring. Encouraging this function in a relaxed atmosphere, Keating-Stark Branch and the Northeast Guidance Center have embarked on planned weekly Parent Discussion Groups. Dr. Eli Rubin, conducts conversations regarding problems in the school, in the home, and in the community.

According to Dr. Rubin, "Schools bring out problems. They may have existed previously, but were not apparent. Stress situations may develop. Some can't take pressure. The class room needs conformity. The lad who is quiet does not get attention. Sometimes he needs it the most!"

Parents may be confused by a child's reaction to the school situation. They are manifested at home in his relations to other members of the family, or to parental authority. It helps if Mom and Dad can communicate with others who may have an identical problem. Reassurance and solutions can come when parents know they are not alone and that consultation is available. It is an educational function rather than therapy, on the spot in the neighborhood.

Notice was sent through area schools to parents, inviting those with children with learning or behavioral problems to attend the 8 week program. Response has been very good and parents enter into lively exchange of ideas. Three more groups are to be run within the community in other neighborhoods. The aim is to deal with people and their requirements, not to be bound within Center or Branch headquarters.

★ Getting Acquainted

Dr. William J. Rowell, Coordinator of Consultation and Education for Northeast Guidance Center has spearheaded the gigantic task of Center/Keating-Stark and some 45 different agencies on the northeast side of metropolitan Detroit. The program involves visiting these agencies which have an impact on the community, the schools, churches, regional school boards, hospitals, welfare office, etc. Research is concerned with how these groups see themselves within the community, then they are apprised of how the Guidance Center may assist them.

Dr. Rowell asserts, "Promotion of mental health in the community is toward prevention rather than rehabilitation . . . total rather than individual. All institutions influential in the community must be dealt with. Our objective is to raise the level of mental health within the community, then to help the individual in this program. We should not be possessive of our information, but we should make use of our knowledge of how people feel and react."

Usually, the Guidance Center is the last to hear about a crisis situation. First it may be encountered by police, by a school psychologist, or by a clergyman. Very few of these who need help are not bad enough for institutionalizing.

Most problems with children are not noticed until they enter school. Some may have them at 3 or 4 years of age. Current study is under way in connection with provision of a program working with kindergarten and nursery school. This interaction with parents and teachers would help them to know their own skills and their relationship to the child.

"We can no longer pretend that the problems lie just within the individual. Social pressures can lead to more stress. Troubles may be economic or ethnic," states Dr. Rowell. "We must anticipate advocacy roles. There are other segments of the community, not just the individual, which need our help."

Concentration in this initial phase of the reach out project is in the corridor bounded by Connor to Alter road, from the river to north of the expressway. Progress in this effort cannot be assessed in one year, because there are complexities of working with the community as a whole. These agencies are now aware of the facilities and services of the Northeast Guidance Center. For example, a welfare department office has requested that their staff have more training in child development.

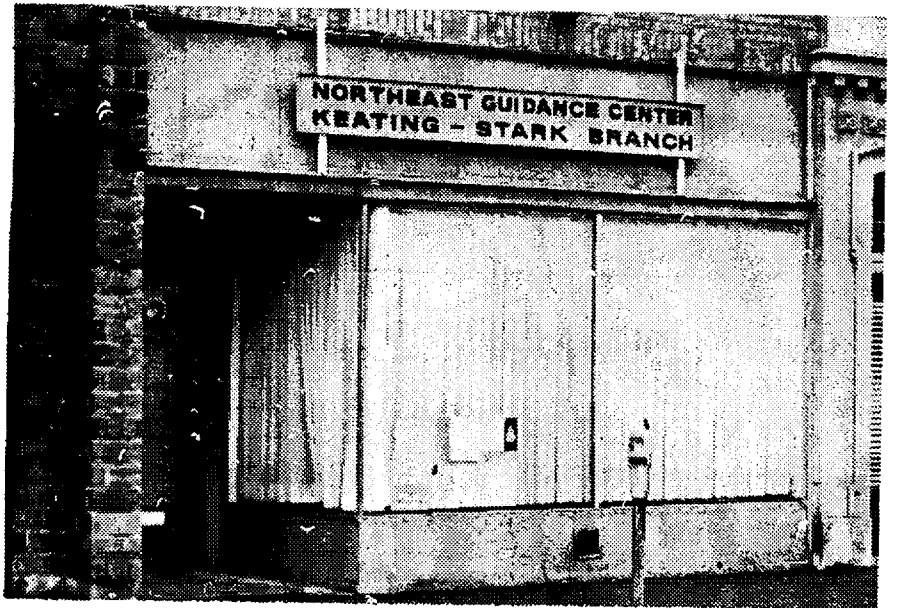

Dr. Rowell is interested in their (the agency's) definition of the problem. The Center's response to sources of stress can be productive. Visits to agencies accomplish three things: 1) Data is gathered, 2) determination of how Center programs may fit situation, 3) a pilot program may be instituted.

Dr. Rowell relates, "They define their roles. Most agencies have a traditional role, but they are not sure they are meeting the needs. We can't do everything we'd like to do. We have only so much staff available. We'd like to mobilize resources in the community by calling their attention to needs perhaps not apparent."

Planning today will evolve around needs and specific programs may be forthcoming. The Center staff is trying to determine what these essentials are and respond accordingly.

VIETA HILL, staff tutor at the Keating-Stark Branch, is conducting a reading class to help elementary students sharpen their reading skills.

A neighborhood center, the Keating-Stark Branch is located on East Jefferson near Dickerson.

JOAN PEARL and RON BAUMAN, student social workers from Wayne State University, select material to be used in group program dealing with children's problems.
