HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 4
THE 93rd CONGRESS convened yesterday, with indications that the majority of Democrats are preparing to ready renewed assaults on President Nixon's Indochina and domestic policies. Senate Democrats endorsed their leaders' call for an immediate end to the Vietnam War, and it was said that they are preparing an all-out drive to cut off war funds if the President's January 20 inaugural passes without a peace settlement. Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., tossed down the gauntlet at a closed door meeting of the Senate Democrats. He sounded what could be the theme for the year in an unusually strong speech charting a tough, independent stance for Congress on the Vietnam War and control over domestic spending.

Friday, January 5
RALPH B. GUY, JR., U.S. attorney, blamed the growth of the FHA real estate scandal in Detroit on the lack of concern by reputable real estate firms. He leveled his criticisms on the industry after announcing a federal grand jury indictment which charged real estate firms and 16 persons with conspiracy in FHA fraud. The indictment was announced as the biggest and most comprehensive grand jury action to date in the spreading scandal that is sweeping the nation. Guy said that the investigation by the grand jury is continuing and that there will be additional indictments in "the near future."

Saturday, January 6
PRESIDENT NIXON was reported to have told congressional leaders that the balance of the peace talks scheduled for Monday in Paris would be risky and that he was not optimistic about them. He made his remarks at a bipartisan group meeting with House and Senate members. After the talks, Press Secretary Ronald L. Zeigler informed the congressmen that it was not in the national interest to discuss the details of the negotiations. However, one senator revealed that the President did insist on four points, the return of POWs, a ceasefire, the right of the South Vietnamese to choose their own form of government and that the entire agreement must include Laos and Cambodia. Mr. Nixon said he was neither optimistic nor pessimistic, but the country will have to take a "wait and see" attitude.

Sunday, January 7
THE SOVIET UNION has perfected what is believed to be the first successful flight test of a big, improved missile with intercontinental range, according to U.S. intelligence sources. The sources said that the Russians' new missile is about as big as the giant Soviet SS9 and probably incorporates advances over that weapon.

Monday, January 8
SEVEN PERSONS died and 15 were wounded in a barrage of bullets and fire in New Orleans. Police gunned down one sniper, literally ripping him to shreds with machine gun fire from a Marine helicopter and from state and local police guns on the ground. The authorities said that one sniper was holed up in a stairwell of the downtown Howard Johnson Hotel, near the roof, shouting "Power to the people". Police said they were not sure, but they believe a third sniper is involved.

Tuesday, January 9
THE TALKS between Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho began on an icy note as the two resumed negotiations toward a peace settlement in Vietnam. Kissinger and Tho conferred for 4½ hours in a Communist-owned villa in suburban Gi-sur-Yvette.

Pointers Help Kick Off Mother's March

Detroit and Grosse Pointe were well-represented at the quarterly board meeting of the Metropolitan Chapter of the March of Dimes, (Wayne and Macomb Counties), when these Executive Committee members met with the 1973 National Poster Child, PAULA PFEIFER, (right), of Tulsa, Okla. Paula was in Detroit as the first stop in a 22-city nationwide tour to help kick off the annual January campaign, which will reach its climax with the Mother's March on January 31 to February 5. From left, board members include: JOHN MAY, director of Detroit's Parks and Recreation; GARI STROH, of the Stroh Brewery Co.; MRS. GORDIE HOWE; BOB KEISS, athletic director at DIT; HATTIE PFANNEN-SCHMIDT of Grosse Pointe; DR. PAUL ZAVELL, also of the Pointe; MRS. FRANK MARRA, and ROSS CORBIT, past president of Hiram Walker's. In front with Paula are local poster children, STEVE POWELL, 6, and JOANNE CARRON, 5.

Park Judge Speer Hears 280 Cases in 2 Months

Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer cleared a heavy docket during November, hearing 185 cases and issuing bench warrants for the arrest of 46 persons who failed to appear; and in December, he heard 95 cases on three court dates, and signed warrants for the apprehension of 47 accused citizens who failed to come before him in answer to summonses.

On Wednesday, January 3, Judge Speer started 1973 by hearing 30 cases and issuing 15 warrants against those who failed to appear. The following are the cases heard by the judge Wednesday: Lester Chambers of 3059 Anderson, accused of driving without a valid operator's li-

Pauline Masak Continues Service to Community Despite Her 'Retirement'

Recreation Director of Neighborhood Club for 39 Years Has Many Fond Memories; Is Now Enthusiastic Volunteer

By Kathy Duff
There's been a changing of the guard at the Neighborhood Club. Pauline Masak, the Club's recreation director for 39 years, recently announced her retirement. Twenty-six-year-old Marc Lonsek has assumed the post of the club's new recreation director.

"Retirement" for Miss Masak is a relative thing, however, as there is no way she can retire from an activity which has been her life for so long. And there's no way the Club can retire her, for a Neighborhood Club without Miss Masak takes some time to get used to. Upon her "retirement" she stressed that the Club could call her whenever they needed her, and they have on a few occasions!

Miss Masak was at the Neighborhood Club Monday, January 8. She took time to review some of the highlights of her 39 years of service with the organization.

Depths of Depression
Graduating in 1933 from the Michigan State Normal University, now Eastern Michigan University, she entered the job market in the depths of the Depression. As she had majored in physical education and had an interest in community organizations, she sent in her application to about 20 organizations. The Neighborhood Club, then headed by George Elworthy, invited her to Detroit for an interview. Miss Masak has been with us ever since. The Club's summer camp proved to be one of her favorite activities as a new staffer. Located on Lake Orr near Brighton, Mich., the camp hosted a gang of 25 Boy Scouts for the first two weeks of July, then was handed over to young girls for a second two-week camping session.

"I remember the nights we would have Ghost Walks. We would wait for a full moon, go hiking in the moonlight then return to the camp and tell ghost stories around a campfire. Then a counselor from Detroit would appear, covered with sheets and rattling chains. It was really fun, as the counselor would identify himself before the campers got very frightened."

Closed by State
The summer camp was discontinued in 1940 after a Michigan State bureau decided that the camp did not meet state health standards. However, Pointers who were small campers then remember the camp as they should, a camp with tents and outside cooking grills.

"It was a real pioneer camp," Miss Masak recalls with a definite sense of pride. The Club's former building located across the street in which is now Elworthy Park, fell to a similar fate as government and insurance officials. (Continued on Page 4)

Fatal Crash Reported on Lake Shore

Mount Clemens Driver Dies; Wife Seriously Injured

A Mount Clemens man was killed and his wife injured in an automobile accident on Lake Shore road Wednesday evening, January 3.

Harry Livingston Custred, 48, 22156 Fifteen Mile road, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. John Hospital. His wife, Margaret, 50, was transported to Bon Secours Hospital where she was reported in fair condition (as of Monday afternoon, January 8). Mrs. Custred is suffering from head and back injuries and a fractured right forearm.

Shores police reported that the 1971 Oldsmobile, driven by Mr. Custred, left the roadway on the right curb side, travelled along 37-foot and struck a tree at the left door area, caving in the left side and springing the car's right side to the extent that both doors had to be pried to release the occupants. The accident, which occurred in front of 910 Lake Shore, happened during wet road conditions.

No Witnesses
The accident report noted the vehicle was travelling north on Lake Shore. Skid marks on the grass indicated the vehicle left the road approximately 37-feet from the tree and was sliding sideways at the time. Mrs. Custred told police her husband complained of brake failure just before impact. There were no witnesses to the accident, police added.

A hearing was held Thursday morning, January 4, at the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office. At that time, police said, it was reported that Mr. Custred died from a broken neck.

Shores Public Safety Officers Harry Hamilton, Michael Kenyon and John Trevillian were assisted at the scene by firefighter Harry McCole, Woods Public Safety Officers Russell Allard, William Duster, Paul Crook, Patrick Fagan, Sergeant Thomas Kane and Farms officers, Sergeant Eugene Boylan and Patrolman Johannes Winter.

The accident was reported to Shores police by John William Corcoran, 917 Lake Shore. Police said no enforcement action was taken.

Open Campus Marks Schism Of High Schools

School Board Trustees Surprised to Learn of Student Disagreement Over Policy Contract Submitted for Approval

By Kathy Duff
The split between North High School and South High School student bodies was very evident at the last meeting of the Board of Education as the high schools' open campus policy became a subject of controversy.

The Monday night, January 8, meeting at North High School Auditorium was attended by a large group of North High students and one South High student, Jeff Jay, president of the South High Student Association.

At first it was business as usual, as the policy was in the form of a typed contract between the Board and the students, and in the hands of the trustees. The Monday night meeting was stated as the public hearing for the policy which was believed by the trustees to be the outcome of North and South working to evolve a workable open campus policy.

Would Affect Seniors
The proposal asks that high school seniors be allowed to leave campus whenever they are not scheduled for classes. Currently, all 18-year-olds are given this privilege as they are considered adults by the Board.

The policy would be a good deal for North students as all students at the school attend classes from 8:15 a.m. until mid-afternoon with a scheduled lunch period and scheduled study periods. It's a different story at South, however, as construction has forced students to attend classes in shifts, one class following another without a lunch break.

In introducing the proposal at the meeting, Dr. Theos I. Anderson said that he had met with students from both high schools and that, together, they had written the contract. He added his congratulations to the two student associations for presenting a "responsible" policy.

Board President William Huciteman echoed the superintendent's comments and added that it was the second time this school year that the students had conscientiously worked with the Board to produce a fair contract. He was referring to the new Attendance Policy presented and approved in November, 1972.

The Scene Changes
Up to that point, the meeting had all the excitement and controversy of a White House press conference. However, the minute the floor was opened for comments from the audience, Jeff Jay addressed the Board. "I want you to know that there is not total student agreement on the open campus policy," the South student leader commented as he mentioned a sizable group of students who did not support the proposed policy.

"We were going to remain silent and that would be our (Continued on Page 2)

Three Cities To Continue Subsidizing

Woods and St. Clair Shores Reverse Decision to Cancel; Others Follow

By Roger A. Waha
Three of the six involved communities have extended the present subsidy agreement with SEMTA, (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority), which expired on December 31, 1972. The extension is for a three-month period beginning January 1 to March 31, until monies are received from the State stemming from the passage of the estimated $83 million mass transportation package.

In action taken at regular council meetings Monday, January 8, The Woods voted 5-1 for the extension, while The Park voted 6-1. St. Clair Shores also okayed the agreement in recent action. The other three municipalities, The City, Farms and Shores, are scheduled to consider the extension at upcoming meetings.

For The Woods and St. Clair Shores, the "yes" vote showed a change of intention on the part of each city. Both councils had previously, via resolutions, said they definitely would not renew the contract. The Woods' resolution was unanimously passed on November 6, while the St. Clair Shores Council stated its feelings on October 2.

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, who represents his city on the SEMTA Advisory Board, felt a main reason for the council's altered view was the amended section of the proposed extension, i.e., SEMTA will use "its best efforts to obtain state or federal funds with which to cover such deficit" during at least part of the extension. This, he added, refers to reimbursement of possible February and March deficits to the city.

Some Words Added
Before the council approved the extension, a few words were added to a paragraph of this section on the recommendation of Woods City Attorney George Catlin. To the sentence, "Furthermore, the Authority will reimburse the Municipality for any monies paid to the Authority to cover deficits during the extended term at such time as said funds from the state or federal governments become available," was added, "and are approved for such purpose."

As under the previous agreement, the extension finds the six communities paying the same percentage of the $5,000 per month operating subsidy to SEMTA, if needed. The Woods pays 27 percent, St. Clair Shores, 25, The Park, 20, (and upon council approval of the extension), The Farms, 16, The City, eight, and The Shores, four.

Pair Arraigned in Farms Face Gun, Drug Charges

Two 19-year-old Harper Woods residents, both males, were arraigned before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell late Monday afternoon, January 8, on charges of carrying a pistol in a motor vehicle and possession of drug paraphernalia. The second charge was applied to only one of the accused.

Following the hearing at 5:30 p.m., Judge Pytell released the pair on $500 cash bond each, pending an examination set for Wednesday, January 17.

Accused in warrants obtained by Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiens, and approved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office on the gun charge, were: Kenneth D. VanHese of 20206 Anita, and Anthony A. Karam of 19989 Anita.

VanHese, owner of the vehicle, is also accused in a warrant for possession of implements designed for use of marijuana.

VanHese and Karam were arrested by Patrolmen Gerald Deburghgraeve and Gordon Evans at 4 a.m. on the Monday date, when the officers observed a car, owned by VanHese, make a right turn from east on Kercheval to south on Fisher road. The auto had a defective muffler and was making excessive noise.

The policemen said that as they were making a turn to pursue the youths, they observed the car slow down (Continued on Page 2)

Hospitals Set Flu Restrictions

Due to the current influenza epidemic, both St. John and Bon Secours Hospitals have restricted visiting to members of immediate families of patients in critical condition, to those who have undergone surgery in the past 12 hours, given birth in the past 12 hours and parents of children in pediatrics.

At present, Cottage Hospital has no restrictions on visitors because of the flu epidemic.

"If the situation indicates because we are short of help or have many patients with the flu coming in, we will then put on restrictions," said Ralph L. Wilgarde, Cottage administrator. "We give our employees flu shots every fall," he says, "and perhaps because of that they seem to have withstood the epidemic."

Pair Face Gun, Drug Charges in Farms

an item on the west side of Fisher between Kercheval and St. Paul. The officers said the car then took off.

Deburghraeve and Evans said they pulled up to where the object had been dropped off, and found that it was a black revolver in a brown leather holster. On retrieving the firearm, a two-inch barrel, .22 caliber Rohm, Model RG, six-shot, the patrolmen took up pursuit, and stopped the pair at Grosse Pointe boulevard and McKinley, and arrested them for carrying a concealed weapon.

VanHese, the officers said, produced a hand-written receipt, showing that he had purchased the revolver from a friend. The receipt was made out to VanHese, but gave his address as 595 Newport, Detroit.

The patrolmen searched the car, and found several tools under the front seat, and also two high-power, live .22 cartridges.

Deburghraeve and Evans said that in the trunk of the youth's car, which lid was open, they found a brown bag containing five smoking pipes and a cigaret pack containing suspected marijuana.

Also found in the trunk, the officers said, was an aspirin bottle, coated with a white powder and holding two green and white capsules, both of which had a white powder substance inside.

In searching VanHese, the policemen removed a yellow-handled screw driver from his pocket, and a .22 cartridge.

One of the officers searched the ground, and on the boulevard, five feet from Fisher, located two boxes of high-powered .22 bullets, believed to have been thrown from VanHese's car.

VanHese and Karam were taken to the station, and the weapon, shells and paraphernalia were tagged as evidence. The youths were detained in the local cell until their appearances before Judge Fytell.

Three Cities Back SEMTA

The maximum responsibility for the communities is $5,000 per month, totalling $15,000. But if state monies become available on February 1, (the day the state gasoline tax jumps from seven to nine cents a gallon), SEMTA will reimburse the communities for February and March deficits. The communities would then only be responsible for January deficits, according to Daniel D. Morrill, assistant operations manager.

At The Woods meeting, it was revealed the city's maximum bill for the three-month period would total $4,050 if worst came to worst. The Park's maximum bill would be $3,000.

Refund Contribution
The agreement also reaffirms SEMTA's intention to refund the original capital contribution given by the six communities, less pro rata depreciation, when Lake Shore was purchased by SEMTA on September 1, 1971. The communities contributed a total of $78,000 for the purchase of the bus line.

But as with the reimbursement of possible February and March deficits, this intended refund is subject to the availability of funds from the state, according to Mr. Morrill.

Of the $83 million package, around $21 million brought in by the gas tax increase will be used to assist financially troubled bus lines. Mr. Morrill estimates that a maximum of $10 to $12 million will go to the SEMTA region, (covering six counties, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne). He added half of that amount will be used for operating subsidies and half for improvements. He hoped SEMTA would receive, at the minimum, $4 million, and at maximum, $12 million, during 1973.

As for the Lake Shore line, Mr. Morrill expects an estimated $300,000 will be earmarked for the line to offset deficits, and for improvements, for a 12-month period. Major priorities for the line are to improve equipment and to have a reduced senior citizens' fare during off peak periods.

At the Woods meeting, Mr. Morrill appeared with attorney George McKean, who represented SEMTA. Mr. Morrill told the council the operational deficit for the Lake Shore line from July 1 to November 30, 1972, is around $13,000.

The operating losses incurred by the line during 1972 are not reimbursable to the communities, he added.

Woods Captain Says 'Thanks'

In a letter to Woods Mayor Kenneth McLeod and the council, Public Safety Department Captain Henry M. Marchand expressed his appreciation for permission to attend the 91st session of the F.B.I. National Academy, September 25-December 15, 1972.

The letter was on the council agenda at the regular meeting Monday, January 8. Captain Marchand said, "The knowledge and technical know-how that I have acquired in the past 12 weeks will be of great benefit to myself and the City of Grosse Pointe Woods."

"Your continued interest and concern are the major reasons for our Department becoming one of the finest in the nation."

The council expressed its congratulations to the captain for his graduation, and for representing the city at the session.

Blessings come in disguise — most of us get what we deserve without recognizing it.

Ask any number of people for a definition of Short Hair, chances are you'll get a number of answers, because length is a relative factor that connotes different meanings to different individuals.

Even if we were able to define Short Hair to everyone's satisfaction, it would be secondary, because what really matters is not how long or short an individual's hair is, but how well groomed it is.

Receive Two B-E Updates

The Woods Department of Public Safety received updates regarding missing items after two breaking and enterings.

John Hyde, 1822 Fleetwood, told police $24 was taken from church envelopes after a Sunday, December 24, burglary of his home.

Handiman Shop Lumber, 19650 Harper, was burglarized Monday, December 25, and $10 in change was reported missing. Further checking revealed a six and a half inch power saw, valued at $50, also was taken.

Schools

(Continued from Page 1) form of disagreement. We saw the proposed policy and realized that we would have to start from scratch," Jay said.

A rather bewildered Mr. Huettelman immediately said that it was the first indication given the Board that there was not total student agreement.

Surprise To North
The main backer of the open policy at North, Jim Kaloger, stood up and said that it was the first indication he had received that South was not in accord. He was clearly irritated, as were the other North students with South's sudden reversal.

The South student association president was called upon to explain the reasons why the students did not support the policy and why they remained silent.

"It's basically an open lunch hour," Jay explained, "and South does not have lunch hours as North has. The students at South feel that the policy does not go far enough in granting open campus privileges to all students."

Trustee William Adams suggested that the Board vote on the proposal only in regard to North High School as there seemed to be a lack of support at South.

Both Groups Agree
His suggestion met with approval from both the South and North students. For the North students, it meant that their proposal would not be stalled by South's indecision; for the South students, it meant that they could write their own proposal tailored to their particular requests.

It fell to the Board president, Mr. Huettelman, to represent the Board's policy of comparable programs and student behavior codes at both high schools. He recommended that the Board vote on the open campus proposal at the next meeting, Monday, January 22, as its passage would not prohibit later modifications proposed by South.

The trustees, led by a motion from Mrs. Joan Hanpeter, agreed to vote on the open campus policy at the next meeting.

Park Mayor Matthew Patterson was recently appointed a member of the Michigan Municipal League's Finance and Taxation Committee for 1972-73. The appointment, which was accepted by the mayor, was made by League President Thomas K. Eardley, Jr.

"I would like you to serve in this important position," Eardley stated, "because the Board of Trustees needs your assistance in the difficult and continuing task of developing League policy and in the review of proposed legislation affecting local government."

The function of this committee, which is under the chairmanship of Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara, is to make recommendations to the Board of Trustees in the areas indicated by the following statement of purpose, as established by the Board:

"To study state-municipal fiscal relationships, review proposals and legislation on fiscal matters affecting local units of government, and make recommendations to the Board of Trustees on policies which should guide the League in these matters. To serve as consultants to the staff on matters concerning relations with departments of the State government charged with fiscal functions."

Mayor Patterson said that he considered it an honor that he was picked to serve on the League's committee.

Still Serves Community

cials condemned the building in 1962.

"The walls were cracking and the insurance agents refused to renew our liability insurance," Miss Masak said. But anyone who ever took a dancing class or participated in a gym sports league can recall the walls vibrating from tap shoes or bouncing basketballs and can realize how Pointers just wore out the old brown brick building.

Miss Masak's tap dancing recitals at Christmas and in the spring would draw up to 500 interested parents and friends of the performers. One class had over 60 students.

grow from a small center to one which now organizes a plethora of activities, everything from a children's nursery school and summer play camp to a men's basketball league. She is particularly thrilled with the success of the Nursery School and summer day camp. Some children are registered for the school before they are born. The mother merely calls in if it is a boy or girl, as each class is limited to 10 boys and 10 girls. Not as spectacular, but still spectacular, is the registration for summer day camp.

"The parents begin to line up at 2 p.m. even though registration does not begin until 7 p.m. They bring their sandwich dinners to eat while they stand in line," Miss Masak remarked with a smile.

Miss Masak is very optimistic about the future of the Club. John Bruce has been director of the organization since 1971, after being a teacher in The Pointe.

She is particularly enthusiastic about Marc Lonesk joining the staff, as a full-time staffer among the roughly 100 part-time instructors who run the center's programs.

Temporary Quarters
Temporary quarters were maintained at 710 Notre Dame until December 1967, when the Neighborhood Club Teen Center was opened as a drop-in facility for teens on the property opposite the old building on Waterloo.

Miss Masak explained that construction of the present building was made possible by the sale of the Elworthy Field property to the Joy family, who in turn donated the land to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

Is Great Addition
"He is very enthusiastic about the Club and interested in the sports programs we can offer the students in this community. He certainly is a great addition."

This comment is characteristic of Miss Masak, her way of shifting the spotlight from herself to another involved person.

Pointers who have worked with her over the years refuse to permit this modesty. They can't say enough when asked about Miss Masak's contribution to the Club and the community.

Working as a volunteer at the Thrift Shop, Mrs. Bruce Chalmers, a past president of the Club, said she had worked with Miss Masak on many occasions over the years.

"Even my kids have worked with her in summer day camp, and she is just great with young people. Everything we have ever done with her has been just terrific," Mrs. Chalmers commented.

Miss Masak may be formally "retired," but the Neighborhood Club hasn't lost its staffer. It's gained a volunteer.

Owner of Bar Cited 4 Times

The new owner of Sid's Lounge, the former Merry-Go-Round Bar, 15402 Mack avenue, has been cited before the Liquor Control Commission for the fourth time in two weeks, according to Park Lt. Gordon Duncan.

The lieutenant said unauthorized persons were apprehended on the premises after hours four times in the two weeks, the latest being on Wednesday, December 27, and on Thursday, December 28.

On December 27, police found several patrons in the bar after 2:38 a.m., and the following day, at 2:35 a.m.

Under the State Liquor Control Law, selling stops at 2 a.m., and all customers must be out of such establishments before 2:30 a.m.

The only persons allowed to remain after that hour, within a reasonable time after closing, are the owners and cleaning crews.

The new owner of the bar is listed as being James J. Siterlet of Westland, who took possession of the establishment approximately one month ago.

"Without the support of the community, especially the women on the Club's board of trustees and those involved with the Thrift Shop, we could not have maintained our excellent program. The Board of Education has been so co-operative in lending school gyms for our enlarging basketball and gymnastic programs."

Through her long involvement with the Club, Miss Masak has a thorough knowledge of the history of The Pointe. She recalls how the Neighborhood Club, originally called a settlement house, was often questioned for its presence in an "affluent" community like The Pointe.

"I can remember when the lobby of the Club was crowded with people, Pointe residents, who were on welfare and were there with slips to secure food. (Mr. Elworthy was in charge of the welfare program.) Some residents even had to burn their furniture for fuel in the worst years of the Depression.

"Settlement houses in those days were a very important part of the community, as there was one in each neighborhood to offer recreational programs and provide counseling programs for any personal problems. There were 24 settlement houses in the Detroit area."

Squirrel Nest Plugs Chimney

A squirrel caused a smoke-filled home in The Woods Sunday, December 31. Eight firefighters responded to the first alarm in which there were no injuries.

Clarence Slocum, 1776 Littlestone road, told Corporal Peter Thomas he lit a fire in the fireplace, but the blaze failed to draw causing smoke to fill the house. Firefighters removed the log and doused it via the booster line.

Investigation revealed the cause of the mishap — the chimney was plugged-up with a squirrel's nest.

Entry Blanks Available For Miss GP Pageant

Young ladies who wish to compete in The Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant, sponsored by the Jaycees, can now obtain an official entry blank at Jacobson's In-The-Village, North High School, 707 Vernier road, or South High, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard, according to George A. Williamson, pageant publicity director.

The blanks may be picked up in Jacobson's "J" Shop and in the main office at both schools.

All entries, which must be received by Saturday, March 3, should be sent to Tom Andris, 715 Blairmoor court, Grosse Pointe 48236. The pageant will be held on May 23 in Muskegon.

Set to Arraign
Three Suspects

Three Detroit men charged with obtaining a controlled substance with a forged prescription were bound over for Wayne County Circuit Court arraignment Thursday, January 18, according to Woods police, after their examination Wednesday, January 3.

Charles Edward Wooten, 23, H. Daniel Luke, 23, and Timothy Eric Anderson, 20, were arrested on the premises of the A. J. Meyer Drug Store, 18876 Mack avenue, December 18.

Bond in the amount of $2,500, two sureties, was continued on Luke and Anderson. Wooten's $1,000 personal recognizance bond was cancelled and he's now held on $2,500 bond, two sureties, police said. The suspects are being held at the Wayne County Jail.

They were arrested by a detail of six officers under the direction of Sergeant John Hardy, Michigan Department of State Police, Intelligence Division. The detail included State Police and Royal Oak officers.

19 at North High.

The Jaycees report each participant must be between 18 and 28 years of age, a high school graduate as of September 1, and single.

Mr. Williamson said the pageant winner receives a $500 academic scholarship to the school of her choice from the Pointe "Young Men of Action." She also receives a $200 wardrobe, a $500 modeling scholarship from Patricia Stevens, plus other clothing, jewelry and trophies, he added.

The current Miss Grosse Pointe, Marsha Bogdanski, 19, will represent the area in the State pageant on June 23 in Muskegon.

Miss Bogdanski, a sophomore at Detroit's Society of Arts and Crafts College, was crowned "Miss GP" at the Jaycees Wives Appreciation Anniversary Dinner on November 18.

For further information on entries or the pageant, contact Mr. Andris at 886-2820.

Offer Doctors

Bon Secours Hospital is offering a 14-week course for medical and osteopathic physicians on recent advances in the diagnosis and treatment of selected diseases in clinical medicine.

William G. Fenner, M.D., heads the course with a faculty composed of guest lecturers from medical schools of Wayne State University, the University of Michigan and physicians of Bon Secours Hospital.

John R. Schneider, M.D., instructor, department of medicine at Wayne State University School of Medicine, begins the conference on Thursday, January 11, with recent developments in understanding the problems of anemia.

Participants in this course in continuing education for practicing physicians are eligible for credit by the American Academy of Family Practice. The one-and-one-half hour sessions begin at 7 a.m. every Thursday morning through April 12, 1973. Breakfast will be served at 7 a.m.

Coordinated by the medical education department at Bon Secours Hospital, the education series is supported by the James and Lynelle Holden Fund.

Sleepy Driver Given Assist

Shores police loaned a helping hand to a Detroit motorist, who apparently absorbed some "liquid refreshments," early Thursday morning, December 28.

While on patrol, Public Safety Officers John Trevillian and Michael Kenyon discovered a parked car on Moorland drive, off Lake Shore road, in a no parking zone. The vehicle had three flat tires, with all three being worn to the rim.

Paul Nicholas Khoury, 20, was discovered sleeping inside, with a strong odor of alcohol on his breath, police said. Khoury was not sure of his location, but added he was at a friend's house in St. Clair Shores to celebrate the holidays.

He requested assistance in going home so the officers took him to the station and called a cab. Ard Khoury was soon on his way.

The auto was left at Moorland because of its condition. Khoury was told to have it moved as soon as possible on the 28th, and he said he would. No charges were issued by police.

Judge Hears Many Cases

(Continued from Page 1) Warren Ramsey, Jr., of 3135 Marlborough, Detroit, pled not guilty to driving 60 mph in a 30-zone. The judge found him guilty of speeding 50 mph, and fined him $50, placing him on probation for six months, and suspended his license for 30 days. Paul Havel, II, of 2115 Alter road, Detroit, paid a fine of $25, after he pled guilty to driving 35 mph in a 25-zone. Roylee Buck of 1581 Garland, pled guilty to driving with an expired operator's license, for which he was fined $30. Alphonso Pelt of 2558 Conner, Detroit, pled guilty to a charge of driving while his license was suspended. He was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and spend three days in the Park jail, a mandatory sentence. Gary Wood, of 18648 Sherwood, Detroit, entered a plea of not guilty to speeding 40 mph in a 30-zone, and was found not guilty. Also found not guilty was Anne Hogan of 1083 Lakewood. Her plea was not guilty to a charge of driving through a red light. Wayne M. Irwin of 1235 Erie street, Windsor, accused of speeding 50 mph in a 30-zone, failed to appear. His bond of $25 was forfeited in lieu of a fine. Not so lucky was Charles N. Huber of 1385 Eastlawn, Detroit, charged with driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended. He had posted a bond of $50, which was forfeited, but the judge signed a bench warrant for his arrest. Carlos Fossati of 1175 Grayton, pled guilty to allowing an unlicensed driver to drive, and it cost him a fine of $10. Joseph Scilla of 3685 Wayburn, Detroit, pled guilty to failing to stop for a stop street, causing an accident. He was fined $10. Fred Archambreau of 23094 Francis, St. Clair Shores, pled guilty to two traffic violations, ignoring a red traffic light and driving with an expired license. He paid a fine of $25 for each offense. Patsy Wrobel of 304 Alter road, Detroit, pled not guilty to making a left turn in front of moving traffic. Since no witness appeared, she was found not guilty. Robert DeClercq of 1143 Buckingham, pled guilty to leaving the roadway and striking a fixed object. He was found guilty and given a suspended sentence. On a second charge, leaving the scene of an accident, he was found not guilty and the matter was dismissed. Emmet Baratta of 19885 Fairway drive pled not guilty to having no license on person and was found guilty, but was given a suspended sentence. However, he was found guilty of speeding 50 mph in a 30-zone, and this cost him a fine of $50. Paul Nyquist of 422 Moran road, pled guilty to speeding 40 mph in a 30-zone. His fine was $20. Marion Porter of 635 Neff road, entered a plea of not guilty to speeding 35 in a 25-zone and was found not guilty. Samuel Foadle of 601 Birch Tree, Rochester, failed to come to court to answer for driving while his license was suspended. His bond of $100 was ordered forfeited by the court and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. Billy Thomas of 574 Sheridan, accused of a similar offense, also failed to show up. His bond of $100 was forfeited, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. William Weber of 6014 Hereford, Detroit, paid a fine of $100 and was placed on probation for one year, and his license was suspended and is being held by the court for 90 days. He had pled guilty to reckless driving and speeding 80 miles an hour. Thomas Rigley of 1274 Audubon, accused of backing and causing an accident, pled not guilty and was found not guilty. Patricia Ann Rice of 294 Eastlawn, Detroit, charged with speeding 42 mph in 30-mile zone, entered a plea of guilty to the charge. She was placed on probation for six months and her license was ordered suspended for 30 days. Emory Ford, Jr., of 2 Woodland place, pled guilty to leaving the roadway and striking a fixed object. He was fined $25. Richard Kornieck of 1417 Beaconsfield, charged with driving a motor vehicle without lights, pled guilty. His fine was $5. Kenneth C. Wurm of 24551 Valley, East Detroit, pled guilty to speeding 40 mph in a 30-zone. He was fined $20 and placed on probation for one year. In addition, his license was suspended for 30 days and is being held by the court.

Outdoor School Head to Talk

Roger Sanborn, founder of Colorado Outdoor Education Center, will be the guest speaker at a luncheon sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Environmental Action Now Committee (EAN). In his lecture, "Stalking Education in the Wild," Mr. Sanborn will report on the experience of Colorado Outdoor Education Center in providing outdoor education programs to elementary and high school students. He will also discuss the value of such outdoor education experiences to urban area students. An informal question and answer period follows Mr. Sanborn's lecture. The special EAN program will be held at Parcels Middle School in Room 127 on Monday, January 15, at 11:30 a.m. Coffee and sandwiches will be available. The Colorado Outdoor Education Center has an interesting history. Begun in 1948 as a boys' summer camp, (with four young campers), by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sanborn, the Center now hosts 600 boys and girls every summer. The original 480-acre site has expanded to 5,000 acres of program instruction facilities and outdoor education areas. The original idea was to supplement the formal education of young people by experience in outdoor life and the natural environment. Boys and girls from 40 states and several foreign countries have attended the summer sessions. In 1966, year-round operation was undertaken, drawing students from the Colorado Springs school district for the pilot program in outdoor education. The program was designed so that children in the sixth grade spent one week during the fall or spring at the Center. During the week, teachers from the school system worked with the students in various course areas related to nature studies, ecology, and the appreciation of natural surroundings. In addition, the lessons of living together and functioning as responsible members

Skiers Enjoy Christmas Trip

By Jaye Rieser
The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ski Hi group returned Tuesday, January 2, from Vail, Colo., after another Christmas trip full of chills and thrills.

During the eight day trip, Mark Oetting gained a claim to fame by winning a bronze in The Nastar race on Golden Peak. Gretchen Schafer received the only injury, a bruise on her lower left leg. Our only other mishap was Don Ricca, who got stuck in the powder of the back bowls for a few hours one blizzardy afternoon.

Now for the chills. Wednesday, the first day we skied was beautiful. This glory, however, was short-lived. The following two days were filled with blizzards and winds that made even the most stoic of skiers retire to the warming comfort of hot chocolate.

The remaining two days were sunny and beautiful. A small thing like 10 degrees below zero did not stop us. In fact, Connie Bavinger even found it invigorating!

In conclusion, the skiers would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ciavola for being our kind chaperones, and for making the trip possible.

Forty skiers attended the outing.

Locate Stolen Car in Detroit

A 1970 Mustang, belonging to Dorothy Martin of Algonquin, Detroit, was stolen from the west lot of the Frank Adam Sales Agency, 130 Kercheval, sometime after 6:15 p.m. on Tuesday, December 26, it was reported to Farms police.

It was reported that the vehicle had been left in the lot with the key in the ignition. The woman left the auto with the agency, to have it serviced. The car was discovered missing by an employee of the firm, when he went to the lot to drive it into the garage.

Farms Cpl. Otto Glanert, while taking a report of the theft heard over the police radio from his station, that a Detroit scout car crew was enroute to Lannoo and Canyon, to investigate an automobile over the curb at that location. The information was monitored in the station from a Detroit police call.

The Detroit officers, checking the license plates of the abandoned auto, broadcast the number, which was picked up over the monitor radio.

The found vehicle belonged to the woman, and police assumed that a person, or persons unknown, had taken it from the lot for a "joy ride." The car was intact.

One View From The Capitol
 By William E. Bryant, Jr.

The Michigan Supreme Court has finally handed down its lengthy opinion holding past school finance methods unconstitutional.

Three separate opinions were written, the majority one by Justice G. Mennen Williams. In a dissenting opinion Justice Brennan attacked the delay, the method of decision and the decision itself in scathing language.

Below, I will try to set out what I believe the Court has said and done, hopefully so it is understandable.

1. The question presented to us for decision was one of equal educational opportunity. Because uncontested proofs by the defense have disproven any inherent unequal opportunity and because that question is too broad and philosophical, we hereby change the question. The new question is one of financing only and is whether the state "maintains and supports" schools in compliance with equal protection of the laws requirements of our state constitution.

Court Findings
 We, the Court, find:

2. Substantial differences exist in property value per pupil, and these result in differences in available revenue per pupil which, (a) general state aid does not, and (b), local effort cannot, eliminate or even make minimal.

3. Education is a fundamental state interest and the legislature by the state constitution must "maintain and support" a school system in the least onerous and most equal manner possible, and there must be a compelling state interest to justify any substantial inequality.

4. The basic state aid formula must meet constitutional tests on its own regardless of other categorical funds for education.

Basis of Wealth
 5. The basic state aid formula classifies and determines aid on the basis of wealth and is, therefore, a constitutionally suspect method of classification.

6. Even if one admits the present method serves a compelling interest of local control, primarily by allowing districts to determine millage, it is obvious the interest can be served in a less onerous manner since the formula each year has further reduced the inequalities that exist and could do more.

7. Even if education were not, (a) a fundamental interest, and (b), funded by a law suspect because it classifies by wealth—the school finance system would still have to be "rational" to be constitutional.

8. The Court finds no rationality in double formula for aid to districts over a certain property value per pupil, and another for those under that value per pupil.

9. Therefore, although we concur in the defense contention there is no provable relationship between district wealth and achievement, the finance system with the 1970-71 state aid formulae was not constitutional because it did not "maintain and support" public schools in a rational, equal manner and did not minimize the onerous differences resulting from local variations in property valuation per pupil.

10. We do not rule any present law unconstitutional and no past judgment on the new state aid formula, but, if in order, we stand ready to test any new combined system of financing schools.

Garbled Portion
 My only comments on the opinion would be that the gut portion is garbled and nonsensical, resulting from, I suspect, the upsetting realization that all the opinion could really do was to attack use of a certain two step formula, when the formula had already been changed. I think what they are really saying is that what is held unconstitutional is using two formulae instead of one formula.

The two formulae method has been used to give lowest value districts the most money possible and still give higher value, mainly urban including Detroit, districts a fairly high level of aid. The 1972-73 formulae are shown in chart form.

Senator Bursely of Ann Arbor has introduced a state aid bill for next year which uses a single formula, a simple variation of the double ones used in the past. It would give every district a guarantee that each mill they levy, up to 20 mills, will yield at least $38 per pupil or $780 total.

Get Piggy Bank Money in B-E
 Five to $10 was taken from a piggy bank after a breaking and entering of a Woods home Friday, January 5.

Charles Fine, 1762 Bourne-mouth road, told Public Safety Officer Kenneth Metcalf that sometime between 5:45 p.m. and around 7:30 p.m., while he and his family were out, someone entered his home.

Police said two bedrooms were ransacked, and all that is apparently missing at this time is the money. The culprits entered through a side door by smashing a pane of glass.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Margaret Nicmetta

The ghostly vampire, a bloodsucking wraith, was supposedly the restless soul of a dead person who left its burial place at night to sip the blood of the young and healthy living, returning to its grave by day break. Friends and relatives were especially favored, causing them to become vampires—in their turn—at death. The legend maintains that a common method for destroying a vampire is to drive a stake through the heart of the corpse. Although belief in the myth is widespread over Asia and Europe, it is primarily a Slavic legend which still persists in isolated localities in Eastern Europe. In several places, where the belief still prevails, a careful examination is made of the body when someone dies lest he should have been killed by a vampire. If the condition of death is suspect, precaution is taken by driving the customary stake, cut from a green tree, through the heart of the corpse, burning the heart, and cutting off the head.

IN SEARCH OF DRACULA, A TRUE HISTORY OF DRACULA AND VAMPIRE LEGENDS, by Raymond T. McNally and Radu Florescu, traces the history of Dracula, the greatest vampire in literature, back to a real 15th century Romanian prince, Count Dracula. The hero of Bram Stoker's late 19th century novel, DRACULA, walked the streets of Victorian England by day, and drank the blood from the necks of Victorian ladies by night. The real Prince Dracula gained glory as a crusader against the Turks, and everlasting infamy as "the impaler" of foreigners and fellow countrymen. His ghastly atrocities and personal depravities were recorded by contemporaries ranging from refugee monks to Byzantine chroniclers.

This book, a gift from the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, traces the exploits of the bloody prince and the evolution of the vampire legend via Stoker's novel—into the vampire star of the cinema and late-night television.

The authors, both serious scholars who specialize in Eastern European history, have spent years researching their subject. They have traced Count Dracula's birthplace in Transylvania; his mountain retreat, Castle Dracula; his grave in the island monastery at Snagov, relating this knowledge to Stoker's DRACULA, and analyzing vampirism in all its forms.

The book, a New York Graphic Society publication, contains many photographs of scenery relating to Count Dracula's life. Woodcuts from 15th century Dracula stories are included plus illustration of vampires as envisioned by Goya, Dore, Cook and Klinger. "Scene with vampire," by Dore, created for Dante's DIVINE COMEDY is one sample. There are chapters on Dracula horror stories of the 15th century, including translations of German, Russian and Romanian vampire stories. While this type of folklore may appear to be pure invention or distorted details of actual happenings, the book claims official documentation concerning an authentic 17th century countess, Elizabeth Bathory, revealing her to have been living, particularly vicious vampire. There is an appended bibliography of vampire literature, and a filmography of Dracula-vampire films from 1896 to 1971. Scenes from films are included in the illustrations.

"For particular reasons which will someday be analyzed by sociologists," say the authors, "America, is at least for the present, in love with Dracula."

Pointe Symphony Ladies Keep Busy

General Meeting at Lochmoor Scheduled for Next Thursday; Museum Tour Planned in Early April

In her second year as chairman of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee, Mrs. J. Ross Bush hardly falls into a lame duck category. The Work Ethic remains Mrs. B's number one credo.

As a New Year's gift to fellow members, Dorothea mailed out one of her irregularly issued newsletters this week, packed with bulletins about their organization.

What every member is not aware of is that the chairman serves as an ex-officio member of each committee, conducts her own new-members' drive wherever she appears, keeps track of address changes, sells notepaper and recipe cards to swell the Symphony Benefit Fund, and just generally qualifies for the title of Mrs. Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Committee.

Two upcoming events have the major share of Mrs. Bush's attention these days.

The group's annual January meeting gets underway next Thursday at 11 o'clock, at Lochmoor Club. Following a business session, there will be cocktails and luncheon before the musical program that is always part and parcel of these Pointe Symphony Women's Committee gatherings.

Starring that afternoon are several outstanding members of Grosse Pointe North High School's Orchestra, their appearance arranged for by program chairmen Mrs. Felix Resnick and Mrs. Robert L. Kaiser.

Social co-chairmen Mrs. W. Gardner Strawbridge and Mrs. Richard F. Huegli have asked some assistance in the hostess department from Mrs. Wilfred J. Harrison, Mrs. R. Gerald Jordan and Mrs. J. Sidney Smith.

Members, as usual, are urged to bring friends—even their whole block club! (On that subject, Mrs. Bush points out in her newsletter that members have steered 31 new faces into the Symphony group's ranks since September.)

The Symphony Women embark April 4 on an expedition to the Art Institute for luncheon and a viewing of the Modern Masters Exhibit. Last year's tour was so successful there was a groundswell of interest in a second one.

Mrs. Walter F. Isley is master-minding the 1973 museum excursion, and she's issuing reminders that reservations should be in before March 9.

Buses will leave the Grosse Pointe War Memorial promptly at 11:30 o'clock, bound for the Institute.

Final event on the Symphony Women's spring season calendar is their annual meeting, scheduled for Thursday, June 6, at the Country Club of Detroit.

Birth Party Idea Postscript: One of the group's favorite fund-raising stratagems is its "Learn About Music" coloring books for sandboxes. Many a musician has absorbed the basics from these inexpensive gifts. Mrs. John W. Nelson has them.

Miss Fleming Wed To Christian Fenton

Guests are Piped into Marygrove College Madame Cadillac Ballroom for Reception Following Noon Rites

Ann Grace Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart Fleming, of Woods lane, became the bride of Christian A. Fenton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Fenton, of Harper Woods, at a noon service Saturday, January 6, in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Knox United Presbyterian Church Pastor George W. Woodcock presided at the rites, which were followed by a luncheon reception in Marygrove College's Madame Cadillac Ballroom.

The newlyweds, vacationing in the Bahamas, will return to make their home in Nefl road.

The bride's candlelight peau de soie gown featured a high-necked, long-sleeved Alencon lace bodice. Matching lace appliques accented her skirt, which ended in a Chapel train.

French lace edged her ivory illusion fingertip veil, and she carried an arrangement of white heather, baby's breath and gardenias.

Carrying nosegays of purple heather, baby carnations and baby's-breath were honor maid Barbara Jean Rettberg and bridesmaids Mrs. David N. Brown, of Dallas, Tex., the bridegroom's sister, Mary Pat Glasgow and Mrs. Joseph Abraham.

Their frocks of sky blue sheer wool jersey were styled with high collars and long, fitted sleeves.

Three-year-old Karen Eleanor Brown, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl.

Best man was Timothy Fritz, of Rockford, Ill. Ushering were Stewart W. Fleming, the bride's brother, Daniel Dyckstra, of Grand Rapids and David N. Brown and Gregg Wickstra, of St. Louis, Mo.

The bride's mother chose a gown featuring a beige silk skirt and muted brocade print bodice, cuffed and colored in beige silk. She pinned a single gardenia at the center of the collar.

The bridegroom's mother selected a pearl-trimmed green silk sheath, and pinned gardenias to her purse.

Royal Visitor

Back in 1967, when Gail Farrah was Gail Howard, she and her sister, Terry, set off for the Himalayas, to make a film on the culture and religions of Nepal.

Terry did the script, Gail the filming, and the result, an artistic and commercial success, was sold to network TV and shown twice nationwide.

In Nepal, the Howard sisters met H.R.H. Prince Basundhara Bir Bikram Shah, uncle of the king, whose friendship and assistance in recording festivals and native music proved invaluable.

Terry Howard is Mrs. William Decker, of New York, now Gail is Mrs. William J. Farrah, of South Renard road, whose houseguest over the holidays was none other than Basundhara Shah, (he made it clear that he preferred, as a private guest, NOT to be called "Your Royal Highness"), in America to formalize contracts with an American hotel chain.

The Farrahs did their best to make Basundhara Shah feel as welcome in The Pointe as he had made Gail and Terry feel in Nepal... and that turned out to be very easy, as Basundhara Shah wanted nothing more than to be accepted fully as a member of the Farrah family—right down to tackling kitchen duty!

He was very, very good at it.

The Rackham dinner, open to the public at $25 per couple, $12.50 per person, (reservations may be made by calling 577-3453 or 577-3468), is sponsored by the Center Associates, among whom are Pointers Louise Simone, Margot Kessler, Anne Crane...

Once again, Frank and Ann Mullen are opening their Berkshire road "Castle" for the Manhattanville Club of Detroit's Super Bowl Game extravaganza.

Everybody's happy. Dress is casual. There's always plenty to eat, and plenty to drink. The Mullens' drawbridge drops at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Pro Musica Program Set

Pro Musica Society will present duo-pianists Arthur Gold and Robert Fizdale Friday evening, January 19, in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Program time is 8:30 o'clock. Admission is by membership only.

Gold and Fizdale have appeared and reappeared with virtually every major orchestra and on practically every recital series in Europe and in North and South America.

Their massive repertory includes compositions of the old masters and specially-commissioned work by such contemporary composers as Poulenc, Milhaud, Rieti, Bowles, Rorem, Cage, Barber and Dave Brubeck.

The two men, constantly searching American and European music libraries for works that have been neglected, discovered two unpublished duo-piano concertos by Mendelssohn several years ago, in East Berlin.

In 1964 and '65 they played one of them, the E Major Concerto, with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra, in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The success of these performances led to its recording.

Gold and Fizdale are the only duo-piano team on the Columbia Masterworks roster.

Arthur Gold, born in Toronto, was a pupil of Josef and Rosina Lhevinne.

Robert Fizdale is a native of Chicago. Ernest Hutcheson was one of his most important teachers.

Gold and Fizdale's January 19 program will feature compositions by Mozart, Poulenc, Brahms and Debussy.

A reception for the artists will be held in the museum's Romanesque Room immediately following the concert.

Pointers assisting chairman of hosts and hostesses Mrs. Terry Bannan will include Mr. and Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, Mr. and Mrs. James Diamond, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Panerites, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Snow and Mrs. Robert Sucek.

Pro Musica Society has a new chairman of its social committee, Miss Margaret McEvoy, of Stratford avenue, Detroit, succeeds Mrs. Edward Roth.

Mrs. Roth, always an active member and important factor in Pro Musica affairs, will continue as a member of the Society's board of directors.

Hassig-Wightman Vows Exchanged

Bride's Cousins, Mary and Michael Murphy, Are Flower Girl and Ring Bearer; Bride's Sister is Honor Maid

A gown of white net over satin, trimmed with pearls and featuring a long train, was Mary-Anne Wightman's choice for her wedding Wednesday, December 27, in Saint Philomena Church, to William T. Hassig.

A matching pearl-studded Camelot cap caught her fingertip net veil, and she carried white roses and carnations, in a traditional bridal bouquet. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wightman, of Fisher road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hassig, of Stephens road.

A reception at Club Leo followed the 7 o'clock service, at which Father Thomas Puzio and Pastor Allan Harre, of Saint James Lutheran Church, presided.

The newlyweds are at home in Nottingham road.

Dianne Wightman was her sister's honor maid. Bridesmaids were Cynthia Hassig and Mrs. Peter Moscaluk, sisters of the bridegroom, Sue Wightman, another sister of the bride, and Jane Precob, of Troy, the bride's roommate at Michigan State University.

Their dark blue velvet frocks were silver-trimmed. The bridesmaids carried pale blue, the honor maid darker blue carnations.

The bridegroom asked Stephen Forsythe to act as best man. Ushering were Sam Barringer, Mark Hassig, the bridegroom's brother, Peter Moscaluk and Jon Rydholm. Flower girl was Mary Murphy, ring bearer Michael Murphy. They are the bride's cousins.

The mother of the bride wore a beige lace-trimmed shrimp chiffon costume, the bridegroom's mother a gown of pale blue chiffon. Both selected corsages of Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. William Hassig

MARY-ANNE WIGHTMAN became Mr. Hassig's bride Wednesday evening, December 27, in Saint Philomena Church. Their parents are the David Wightmans, of Fisher road, and the Walter Hassigs, of Stephens road.

Rites In December For Susan Matzka

Becomes Bride of Professional Singer Hal Harvey at Pre-Christmas Ceremony; Pair Touring Until March

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club followed the wedding of Susan Ann Matzka and Hal Harvey Friday evening, December 22, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

Father Ralph Barton presided at the 6 o'clock rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Matzka, of North Higbie place, the bridegroom the son of Mrs. Amy Henfer, of Kalispell, Mont.

For her wedding, the former Miss Matzka selected a gown of imported silk velvet, featuring a deep U neckline and Empire waist.

She wore an Alencon lace mantilla, and carried an arrangement of white and pale pink Sweetheart roses.

She was attended by honor matron Mrs. John Nickum and bridesmaids Mrs. Robert Barnes and Linda Howe, in pink taffeta frocks, their bouquets fashioned of miniature carnations and starflowers.

Richard Matzka, the bride's brother, was best man. Robert Barnes and John Nickum seated the guests.

The bridegroom is a professional singer, who has been traveling the country for eight years. The newlyweds vacationed in Canada and are on tour until March.

Confusing Tax Ruling

and deny substantially equal education opportunity to students in violation of the equal protection clauses of the Michigan and Federal Constitution.

"After an extremely compressed time frame within which we had to try the case, the findings of the Ingham County Circuit Court were transmitted to the Supreme Court, as well as our briefs. The case was argued before the Supreme Court on June 6, 1972, and as Justice Brennan pointed out in his dissenting opinion, by process of blind rotation he was assigned to prepare the opinion for the Court. He circulated his proposed opinion on July 27, 1972.

"It was not until December 12, 1972, that Justice Williams circulated his proposed decision to the other members of the court, and on December 26 it was signed by three other members of the court without their ever having been a meeting of the members of the court for discussion of Williams' proposed opinion. I quote from one portion of Justice Brennan's remarks, which somewhat express our feelings. He said:

"But I am told that speed is now essential. Time is of the essence. The same justices who purposefully permitted this case to hang fire for five months with my completed opinion, unanswered, on their desks, have now decided that time is of the essence. It is, of course, true that one member of their majority is leaving in a few days. That could account for the hurry."

"As mentioned before, the legal issue around which the Michigan Supreme Court directed the case to be tried was whether or not the system of financing public education in Michigan resulted in disparities of revenue produced per student, and thus denied the student equal educational opportunity. With the assistance of the staff of the defendant school districts, and the assistance of Dr. Leonard Jensen of our school system, we were able to demonstrate that there is no significant relationship between the revenue per student produced within a school district and the academic achievement attained by its students. Thus, as candidly admitted by Justice Williams in his opinion, ours was the first property tax case in which there was un rebutted evidence presented . . . which destroys plaintiffs' assumption that the quality of a child's education is a function of the wealth of the school district in which he resides."

Thus faced with evidence which compelled a result not wanted by a majority of the members of the Supreme Court, their simple solution was to change the very certified question upon which they directed that the case be tried. Therefore, instead of resolving the case upon the issue of whether or not children are denied equal educational opportunity, Justice Williams searched and found another section of the Michigan Constitution which reads:

"The Legislature shall maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools as defined by law . . ." (Art. 8, Sec. 2).

"The court therefore changed the legal issue to one of whether or not there is equality in the financial support and maintenance of the schools. This, of course, was not the law suit which Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield Hills and Dearborn were called upon to defend.

"The Supreme Court on its own initiative, therefore, held that because this clause of the Michigan Constitution requires equal financial support and maintenance of the schools, the present system which permits disparities in expenditures among school districts, does not comply with the Constitutional mandate. Consequently, after the reimbursement by the State of approximately $150,000 to the school districts for their legal expenses, the Supreme Court changed the ground rules to make relevant only statistical financial information which could have been stipulated to in the first instance.

"The decision of the court has left us with the problem of trying to determine what its effect will be on Grosse Pointe. The court limited its decision solely to the system of financing public education as it existed during the 1970-71 school year. Although the basic structure of financing education is still the same, the specific enactments of the Legislature for the 1972-73 school year have been changed, and therefore the court's decision does not effect the current school year. The court indicated, however, that it will stand ready to review a new system of financing education enacted by the Legislature.

"The opinion is unclear as to the type of support and maintenance of school financing which the court might approve as constitutional and the members of the Michigan Legislature will have difficulty in making this determination. We have already consulted with several of our state representatives and we will do what we can to assist in clarifying the situation.

"The two basic approaches to school system finance reform are 'Power Equalizing' and 'Equal Dollars.' 'Power Equalizing' would involve a state aid formula by which all school districts are given exactly the same number of dollars per student for each mill of property tax levied. Disparities in the number of dollars produced per student as among school districts would then be a function of the willingness of the local electorate to vote for millage.

"The other approach, sometimes known as the 'Equal Dollar Per Scholar' approach, requires that the same number of dollars must be spent on all students—no more, no less. Local enrichment would be impermissible.

"There are portions of the court's opinion which seem to endorse both of these concepts and it is frankly impossible to predict what it was that Justice Williams had in mind. It is our opinion that it is essential that the court members must be given an opportunity to review, discuss and clarify the decision, even if the basic rationale and holding of the court remains unchanged.

"Two new justices have taken seats on the Supreme Court bench, replacing one justice who voted with the majority and one justice who voted with the minority. It is therefore possible that the court, with its new makeup, could hold in a different way.

"Consequently, we recommend that we be authorized to petition the court for a re-hearing of its decision."

Set Pre-Trial For Suspect

A pre-trial conference has been scheduled for Thursday, January 18, for a 19-year-old Roseville youth, who's charged with the breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling, according to Shores police. Kenneth Atchinson appeared before Wayne County Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald for his arraignment Thursday, January 4.

Police also said Atchinson's $1,000 personal recognizance bond was cancelled and he was put on a $300 cash bond. He is allegedly involved in the burglary of the William M. Schmidt residence, 35 Clairview road, on September 2. Atchinson was recently arrested by Shores police after he voluntarily turned himself in to the department.

Another youth accused in the case, Randy Wassman, 19, of Detroit, was arrested in September on a similar charge. He was recently placed under the youthful offender act, police added.

South Blitzes Mt. Clemens

By Mark O'Keefe

The Grosse Pointe South Blue Devils stunned Mount Clemens with a 52 point second half, and soared to a 75-54 victory Saturday, January 6.

Mike Stavale played a strong game, scoring 10 points in the first quarter and totaling 21 for the night. After trailing by eight points at the start of the second period, Mount Clemens put forth a respectable performance and led, 24-23, at halftime.

South played as well as they have all year in the second half. Their continued harassment of Mount Clemens ball handlers prevented them from forming anything resembling a comeback. Luring the second half, South allowed four consecutive points on only one occasion.

Jim Bird and Dave Gaitley, South's intimidating one-two punch, came alive during the second half when they combined for 23 points. Bird scored 15 in the game and Gaitley netted 10. With Pete Grambo temporarily sidelined, Stu Cammett saw extra action and scored six of his eight points in the final minute of play.

In the next two months, South has two games to play against Fordson and single contests against Ann Arbor and Highland Park. All three of these teams are among the 10 best in the State and should give the Devils ample opportunity to prove themselves.

South entered Tuesday's game, (January 9), against Notre Dame with a 5-1 record. The Fordson Tractors provide the opposition for the Devils tomorrow, Friday, January 12. The game, which will be played at South, begins at 8 p.m.

Burglar Robs Farms Home

Mr. and Mrs. John C. De-Brabander of 463 Kerby road, did not know their home had been forcibly entered, and did not discover they had been burglarized until they were ready to retire for the night. They found the intruder, or intruders, had entered the house through their bedroom.

DeBrabander told Farms authorities that he, his wife and mother had left the house at about 1:30 p.m., on Friday, January 5, and returned home at about 10:30 p.m., at which time they sat in the living room and looked at television.

DeBrabander said that the family went to the second floor bedrooms to retire, and he found the storm door off of his room had been pried open.

Investigating officers said that entry into the house had been gained by the thief, who climbed to the second floor sun porch, by breaking the glass of the door leading into the bedroom and unlocking the door.

DeBrabander said that all that he could determine to be missing at this time is his mother's gold watch chain, valued at about $60; and from his bedroom, a black tin can containing $30 in assorted coins, and $110 in currency. He told police that the first floor of the house did not appear to have been touched, and everything seemed to be in its place. He explained that was the reason the family was not aware that their residence had been entered.

Trying to Help Ends Up Badly

Tyrone R. Ballou, 20, of 1424 Bedford, did not have an operator's license to show Farms police when they stopped him on Tuesday, December 26, but his passenger did, and the passenger ended up in trouble when he offered his license for viewing to the officers.

Patrolmen Gerald Deburghraeve and Thomas Kelly said they were on patrol on Mack avenue at 1:55 a.m. when they observed a 1968 Triumph blocking traffic at the Moross intersection.

The officers stopped the driver, Ballou, before he got very far, and requested his operator's license, which the young man was unable to produce.

However, his passenger, Daniel A. VanHamme, 23, of 1432 Bedford, informed Deburghraeve and Kelly that he had a valid license and produced it. The policemen took it and called their station for a routine check on the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN), on Ballou and VanHamme.

The return reply from the Secretary of State's office in Lansing, showed Ballou was clear, but that VanHamme was wanted on two traffic warrants by St. Clair Shores authorities, and was also wanted for violation of probation by Detroit police.

Ballou and VanHamme were taken to the station where the former was issued a violation ticket for having no operator's license on his person, and Van Hamme was retained in custody and later released to St. Clair Shores police on their warrants.

Van Hamme's troubles did not end there. Detroit police placed a hold on him for the probation violation. The offense for which he was placed on probation was not disclosed.

MRS. JOHN V. DEEVER, OF BERKSHIRE ROAD

By Janet Mueller
Her aunts lived in Potsdam, in an apartment in a building built by Frederick the Great, residence quarters for his civil servants and court officials, opposite the Garrison Church where the bells played a chorale to mark every quarter-hour.

The child Kirsten loved to visit there. It was a city where time's layers lay lightly, where, if you half-closed your eyes, you could see crinolined ladies parading under parasols, where yesterday was close, and possible.

The child Kirsten played in Sans Souci. She fell asleep at night between the minutes between one chorale and the next. Her own home was in the north. Her father was employed by the city of Altona, (later incorporated into the larger municipality of Hamburg, but maintaining a distinct, unique Altona identity), as town planner.

He was an architect, and author of books on architecture. He was very well-known, highly thought of in his field.

Had Several Worlds
He had been born in Potsdam, in 1876, into one world. He lived through several.

Her mother, half-Danish, was a translator. Among her books is a German rendition of Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tales.

The child Kirsten was born into a family of achievers: Urbane, intellectual and artistic.

She thrived. She wouldn't have had it any other way. Her mother had, as ladies did when her mother was growing up, learned piano. The idea was: One must be able to accompany oneself while singing.

Pretty idea, Pretty picture—the young woman perched daintily on the piano bench, playing and singing prettily. Pretty dumb.

"My mother," says Kirsten Deaver, "was a very modern woman. She decided this sort of musical education, (the pretty, petty sort), was NOT for her children."

"She found a harpsichordist, a graduate of the rhythmic school. Part of the training was to recognize intervals before we could read notes, learned rhythmic patterns."

Germany Way Ahead
"All this is very 'modern'"

Well . . . what do CHILDREN know?
"My preference," Kirsten believes now, "was simply for wind instruments." Hearing Altona's baroque organ crystallized that preference.

Kirsten Deaver is a graduate of the Berliner Kirchenmusikschule, Spandau, where she majored in Organ. She was a student there when the Spandauer Kantorei was formed. She was a member of that world-famous choral group. (It gave a memorable concert in The Pointe some years ago; The Pointe's own Malcolm Johns was largely responsible for getting the group over to this country.)

Were Bombed Out
Kirsten was in Breslau when the end of World War

II caught up with her. She got out in time, "with most of my music intact," and joined her mother in the country, near the North Sea. "We had been bombed out of Hamburg."

She was an organist in the country for a while. As soon as she could get back to the city, she did.

She gave music lessons. She became part of a young, vital, intellectual set. She married an artist, a painter. They spent four months in Paris. They met Picasso.

They were part of "THE" people. They had their pictures in the paper. Life was very beautiful, very exciting, and when their application for immigrants' visas to the United States came through, they thought, "Why not?"

Kirsten's father paid their basic passage, and a friend, a director of the Hamburg-American Line, saw to it that that "basic passage" was first class.

They arrived in New York in 1952, in style. With all of $200.

Not So Innocent
But they weren't exactly wide-eyed innocents. There's a strong practical streak in Kirsten Deaver. She'd arranged to have New York papers sent to her in Germany, studied them, checked over prices for apartments, food, et al. She'd talked to people from The States, people who'd lived in The States.

She had a pretty darn good idea of what it would cost to live on Manhattan Island. She was willing to do what was necessary to maintain herself there.

No boondocks for Kirsten and her husband: New York was what they both wanted. While he painted, she clerked, waited on tables, "did the things that immigrants do" and got her bearings. After a few months, she found a nice, nicely-priced, seven-room apartment.

She learned to manage her life so that she could live, well, could spend four months in Mexico with her child in 1957, (the earthquake year, remember?—Kirsten was in it), after her divorce, could do very nicely by herself, thank you very much.

Intentions Wrecked
She had no intention of ever marrying again. She came back from Mexico and met John Deaver. Kirsten has five children now.

Catinka is 22, a painter, student at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. She has, to Kirsten's delight, moved from "all rock" to an appreciation for and enjoyment of classical music.

Catinka's not a musician herself. "Mummy," she's been known to ask, "what ever happened to M Y music?"

"Well," Kirsten explains, "when you were of an age to begin, I began with all the babbles . . ."

Carolyn, 14, a Grosse Pointe South High School student, plays the violin that has been handed down in Kirsten's father's family for two centuries.

Winston, 13, plays absolutely nothing! Kirsten would love to have him on an instrument, "just to learn the discipline," but Winston is far too busy with his pencil, creating a world of psychedelic cars: Colors, images and symbols that owe something to Peter Max, something to a commercial automobile design studio, but are, essentially—Winston!

Charlotte, 11, is in the process of switching from piano to flute.

MOUSSAKA

Contributed by Charlie, Peter and Carolyn Huebner's Mom (Mrs. Julius John) for the Mairie Elementary School P.T.A. cookbook, "Mairie Moms' Cookbook"

- 1 large eggplant, pared, cut into 1/2-inch slices
- 1/4 cup margarine
- 1 lb. hamburger—or
- 1 lb. stewing beef cut into small pieces
- 1 pt. sour cream
- 1 Parmesan cheese
- 2 8-oz. cans tomato sauce
- 1/2 tbs. salt
- 1 pkg. onion soup mix
- 2 beaten eggs
- 1 Tbs. flour

Coat eggplant with flour. In large skillet melt margarine and brown eggplant on both sides. Set aside. In same pan, brown meat; stir in tomato sauce and salt and simmer for a couple of minutes. Mix onion soup with sour cream. Then beat in 1 Tbs. flour; stir in eggs until smooth.

In two-quart casserole place 1/2 eggplant, cover with 1/2 meat mixture, then 1/2 sour cream mixture. Repeat. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake at 375 degrees for 30-40 minutes.

Lucas, (named after Lucas Cranach, one of Kirsten's favorite painters), Alexander, ("after 'The Great,' naturally!"), 9, is a passionate Lego manipulator, designer of intricate, imaginative environments.

Reversed Mystique
Their father, a third-generation Californian who turned his back on citrus farming in Escondido, turned his back on the Pacific and reversed the classic American east-to-west mystique, is a research economist with Ford.

Up until three years ago, he was with Chase Manhattan in New York. The Deavers lived in Montclair, N.J.

Montclair, N.J., wasn't exactly what Kirsten had in mind when she emigrated to the United States.

But then: Neither were four babies in five years. "Probably in desperation," she took up the recorder again, under Bernard Krainis, America's foremost recorder player. She returned to it as a hobby.

The Hobby Phase couldn't last long. Kirsten had concentrated extensively in Germany with many ensembles as accompanist and soloist. She was a professional. The professionalism had to come through.

She became a founding member, later president of the North Jersey Chapter of the American Recorder Society.

United Top Trio
In the summer of 1966, she helped organize the Saratoga Springs Recorder Workshop, uniting the three most famous recorder players of the Western hemisphere: Frans Bruggen, from Holland, Hans-Martin Linde, from Switzerland, and Bernard Schweizer, of the United States.

She taught recorder as a member of the faculty at Fairleigh-Dickinson University's Teaneck, N.J., campus. Kirsten Deaver's particular choice and specialty is with music of the Baroque and Renaissance periods.

Hans-Martin Linde, whose mission has been to see that the recorder is accepted as a serious instrument, has authored a teaching method for alto recorder. Kirsten has translated it. Schott Publications will soon be bringing out her English version.

A little over three years ago, John Deaver left Chase Manhattan for Ford, and the family moved from Montclair to The Pointe.

Detroit wasn't exactly what Kirsten had in mind when she emigrated to the United States.

Not Just Vacation
She refuses to give up the East. The Deavers return to their cottage in Maine every summer. It's not just a vacation: It's a psychological necessity.

For the past two years, Kirsten Deaver has been in charge of the Music Education Program for adult students in the Waldorf Teacher Training Institute of Mercy College.

In September, she was appointed director of the Music Department of the Detroit Waldorf School in Indian Village.

Housed in the "old Liggett" building, Detroit Waldorf is dedicated to educating the whole child, in all phases of life, in relation to the world around him. It is racially in-

Adults Offered Class in Batik

Batik, the ancient art of fabric decoration, is a new offering in the Adult Education program of the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Public School System.

In this unique art, the designed area is covered with hot wax and the fabric is then dyed. This process can be repeated several times to achieve a multi-colored design. When the wax is removed, an unusual texture is achieved, which makes Batik so different from other fabric-printing methods.

Batik is a very versatile medium. It can be put to a number of useful and artistic uses, from pillow cases to bedsheets, draperies, dresses and wall-hangings, and the colors are brilliant and non-fading.

The instructor is Mrs. Jyoti Thak'ore who majored in art at Sir J. J. School of Art, Bombay, India. Mrs. Thak'ore has worked as a professional artist since 1960, holding four one-man shows in Bombay, and has held private classes for Painting and Batik in Bombay for six years. Since coming to the United States in 1970, Mrs. Thak'ore has been giving private lessons in Batik and Creative Painting.

This class is scheduled to begin on Monday, January 22, for a 10 week period from 7 to 9 p.m., and is limited to an enrollment of 16 students. For a class reservation, call the department at 885-3808 or 883-0271.
